RUSSIANS DESTROY THEIR OWN CRAFT

Torpedo Boat Destroyer Runs Blockade and Reaches Che Foo.

WITH DESPATCHES FOR CZAR

The Russians Then Blew Up the Vessel—The Story of the Captain.

Che Foo, November 16.—The Russians have blown up the torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny, which arrived in port this morning, presumably with despatches from General Stoessel, the commander of the Port Arthur garrison to the Czar.

The torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny was of 240 tons displacement, was 200 feet long and had a speed of 26 knots. Her armament consisted of one 12-pounder and three 3-pounders, and she had two torpedo tubes. She was launched in 1901.

London, November 16.—According to a despatch received here from Che Foo (by a news agency), Commander Plen, of the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny, which reached that port this morning from Port Arthur, confirmed the reports that Lieutenant-General Stoessel (commander of the Russian military forces at the fortress) is wounded, but says General Fock is quite well. The commander added that there was sufficient supplies of food, ammunition and coal at Port Arthur to last a year.

ARRIVAL OF THE RASTOROPNY.

Che Foo, November 16.—(8.30 a.m.)—The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny, put into this harbour this morning. Firing was heard half an hour before she entered the harbour. A snowstorm and a high wind prevailed at the time, and it is believed the Russian vessel, under cover of the storm, attempted to escape from Port Arthur. The captain of the Chinese cruiser Haiyung was the first person to go on board the Ratstoropny. He held a brief conference with her commander, after which the Rastoropny came further into the stream and anchored in the same spot that the destroyer Ryeschitelni did last August before she was cut out by the Japanese.

THE CAPTAIN INTERVIEWED.

The commander of the Rastoropny in an interview on his adventurous voyage said:

"I left Port Arthur at midnight in a blinding snow storm. The boat was navigated through all the dangers of floating mines without a mishap. On reaching the open sea we saw a Japanese cruiser and some torpedo boats in the distance, but we were steaming rapidly through the storm with lights extinguished and passed them unnoticed. We reached Che Foo without any mishap of any kind."

The commander of the torpedo boat destroyer was optimistic with reference to Port Arthur. He declared that all the forts remained in Russian hands and that the garrison was confident and in good spirits. The former Russian Governor of Port Dalny, M. Sakharoff, died recently at Port Arthur of enteric fever.

ANOTHER FOOTBALL TRIP TO EUROPE IS TALKED ABOUT

McClure, Ex-President of Britannias, Who Managed Last Trip, Is Talking About It—Dr. Jack and Others Approached.

Another football trip to Europe is being talked off. Ex-President McClure, of the Britannias, who was the business manager of the last trip, has mooted the matter.

Dr. Clifford Jack and other well-known players, who went on the last trip, have been approached.

A meeting of those interested in Association football will be held to-night at the Savoy Hotel to meet Mr. G. A. Parker, of London, Eng., and discuss the proposed tour in Canada of the Corinthian Football Club.

A few of those prominent in this branch of sport in Montreal met Mr. Parker yesterday and talked the matter over, and decided upon this meeting, at which Mr. Calder, of the Montreal Football Association, and representatives from the city clubs, will go thoroughly into the matter. All those interested in Association football, and who are willing to lend their enthusiasm toward making this tour a success—not only the tour, but at the same time the game in Montreal—are invited to be present.

Morgan Cast Off a Vanderbilt Winner

Horse "Swapped" by Financier Because He Was Broken Down, Makes a Sensation at the New York Show, and Well Earns Blue Ribbon—Judges "Booed" for Neglecting British Entry.

New York, November 16.—In the show ring, as on the turf, it sometimes happens that a cast off from one man's stable, falling into the right hands, turns out to be a winner. This was exemplified in a striking manner, when Alfred G. Vanderbilt carried off the blue ribbon in the most important harness class on the programme with a brown high stepper that drew the brougham of J. P. Morgan until the financier considered him to be worn out and traded him in part payment for a fresh horse.

The exchange was made with W. H. Catlin, vice-president of the Westchester Horse Show Association, and proprietor of Roxton Farm, near Port Chester. When the horse passed into Mr. Catlin's hands he was thin, sore and apparently broken down. But a long run to grass and a course of treatment in expert hands revived him, and at the beginning of last summer Mr. Catlin began to suspect that he had a future blue ribbon winner in the second hand "swapper" from Mr. Morgan's city stable.

Mating him with a brown mare bought "in the rough" for $500 from the Fiss, Doerr & Carroll Horse Company, in the Bull's Head Market, Mr. Catlin exhibited the cast-off at Newport in September, entering the pair as Harmony and Portia. They won the blue ribbon in double harness, and Harmony in single harness, was second to Mrs. J. B. M. Grosvenor's famous champion, Rosebery, that had been carrying all before him through the summer circuit.

During the Newport show Alfred G. Vanderbilt purchased the pair from Mr. Catlin at a long price.

ALL GUESSED WRONG.

It was noised about at Newport that Harmony was really the old time show horse High Tide, first exhibited by the late C. F. Bates at the Garden in 1897, and sold by him two years later to Mr. Morgan. Joseph E. Widener and other horse show habitues, who should know High Tide, refuted this rumour, but Mr. Vanderbilt evidently believed it, as he changed the horse's name from Harmony to High Tide, and so entered him at the Garden.

Nine out of ten horsemen who saw him win supposed he was the old Bates horse, but in this they were mistaken. G. C. Pratt, who trained and drove High Tide when owned by Mr. Bates, stated positively that Mr. Vanderbilt's winner was not that horse.

"I know, because High Tide had only two white feet, while this horse has three," he said.

Harry Williams, M. H. Tichenor and several other well known horsemen corroborated Mr. Pratt, as did Mr. Catlin also. When Mr. Bates won with High Tide in 1899 he described the horse as a bay, 15.3 hands high. Harmony is unmistakably known, and he is 16.1 hands high.

The class in which he won was characterized by Aurel Raytont as the strongest class for heavy weight carriage horses that he had ever seen at the Garden or elsewhere. Among the beaten horses were Mrs. Grosvenor's famous champion, Rosebery, who was not going quite right behind; Livingston L. Biddle's Hampton, another well known winner; William Carr's imported English hackney Belfast, John Arthur's King Edward, the Standard Coach Horse Company's Standard Hercules, Ben Weaver's Cadillac, Mr. Vanderbilt's Portia, and the Union Coach Horse Company's Atlas, all horses of extremely high class. Rosebery was placed second, Portia third and Cadillac fourth.

IS A SPLENDID HORSE.

The winner is a typical heavy harness horse, full bodied, close coupled and of fare substance, finish and quality for a big one. M. H. Tichenor called him the best big horse he ever saw. His victory puts him in line for the heavy-weight championship of the show.

It was a great day for Mr. Vanderbilt, who has heretofore been conspicuous at the Horse Show chiefly through his persistent but unsuccessful efforts to win. With High Tide and Portia he won the blue ribbon in the class for carriage pairs at the evening show, and in the afternoon he drove his Venture coach and road four to victory in what was pronounced by all experts to be the strongest competition of its kind ever seen in a horse show in this country. Seven four-in-hands were shown.

To the disappointment of a host of Englishmen who attended in a body last night, the English horses fared badly, and Queen Frederica, bred by King Edward, received only a third prize. The English exhibitors won their first blue ribbon in the class of hackneys, mares, three-year-olds, when Robert Whitworth, of Halifax, England, took first prize with a chestnut hackney.

Eben E. Jordan, of the Plymouth hackney stud, was the most successful exhibitor in the morning. In the seven hackney classes in which he had entered he carried off five blue ribbons, one red ribbon and one yellow ribbon.

Mrs. J. B. M. Grosvenor's horse Rosebery was given the blue ribbon over Alfred G. Vanderbilt's horse, High Tide, in the class for horses, carriages and appointments. On Monday Rosebery was beaten by High Tide in the class for carriage horses alone, but yesterday the addition of an excellent equipment and perfect appointment won the honours for Mrs. Grosvenor.

One of the most attractive exhibits of the day was that of the ponies. In this class the blue ribbon went to Francis Roche's entry, while third honours went to Anna Held for her pony Jill.

The evening brought another large assembly of fashionable persons to the Horse Show at Madison Square Garden. The reserved seats and the boxes were nearly all occupied, and an ever moving mass of humanity crowded the promenade.

There were society people present from many cities. Among those present were Mrs. George Law, of Paris, and Mme. Waddington, widow of the former French ambassador to the Court of St. James.

In the thoroughbred qualified hunters' class, Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, jr., won another blue ribbon with her hunter, Tamor. This horse performed well enough in the morning to get his first blue ribbon, beating some of the best hunters in the show.

The class of horses qualified to become hunters saw the defeat again of the English entries. The last class, that of pairs of horses driven to phaetons proved the most exciting of the night. In this class the entry of Miss Ross, of England, was considered, and, when finally the judges gave the blue ribbon to Eben D. Jordan, of Boston, the crowd in the boxes and on the promenade followed the English custom and "booed" loudly.

COMMENT

And now Brantford wants to introduce its rough and ready business methods into senior hockey, just as if there wasn't enough trouble and enough buying and selling of players without them.

When professionals fall out, amateurs reap their dues.

There is a fight in Pittsburg hockey circles and Arthur Sixsmith has started a new team in opposition to the Pittsburg team that is in the professional league.

The recent dog show, held at the Crystal Palace in England, must be recorded as the greatest the world has ever seen. There were no less than 3,000 entries; $34,000 was the amount expended in prize money, besides which there were 600 specials, contributed not only by the individuals, but by the leading kennel clubs throughout the world. Not only was the entry a record one in point of numbers, but in quality the zenith was obtained. Both the King and Queen made entries — the very cream of the Royal kennels. His Majesty was represented by the Clumber spaniel Sandringham Lucy, and Queen Alexandra by the Russian wolfhound, Sandringham Moscow, and a Samoyede, named Jacko. Their Majesties evinced a very keen interest in the show. Their dogs were treated in the ordinary way, and were not accorded any special privileges, remaining in the building over night just like plain dogs. In England a King's dog is judged on merit, as it seems, for His Majesty's Clumber could not get any higher than third.

Golf is becoming like racing in one way—It is no longer necessary to conduct business under your own name. There are several players in Greater New York, including some in Brooklyn, who golf under assumed names. The practice is commonest among professional men, who fancy their clients will think they are devoting too much time to the links if their names are often seen in newspaper reports. It got so, too, that some of them were frequently telephoned to while absorbed on the greens. The idea has been practiced more or less in Canada for some years past.

The Canadian Amateur Athletic Union will soon reap the fruits of their amicable understanding with the Ontario Hockey Association. For one thing the latter organization will tabulate its players. Following is the proposal:

1. Each club shall furnish the secretary, at least one week before the date set for the opening game in the series in which it is competing, a full list of its playing members, together with such other information concerning them as may be required for their registration.

2. The secretary shall forward to each club blank forms for such registration with the notice calling the annual meeting.

3. The secretary shall keep a record in proper form alphabetically, and under the title of each club of the players, so registered, and when once registered no player shall be transferred to any other club without the consent of the executive committee.

4. The secretary shall number each player consecutively, and shall forward to him a registration ticket, containing his name, number and club, good for one year from date punched in ticket.

More Honours for Sullivan.

James E. Sullivan, of New York, Chief of the Department of Physical Culture and Secretary Treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, and well known here in connection with athletics, has been awarded a commemorative medal by the International Olympic Committee, which is the highest athletic honour ever awarded a man in America with one exception. The medal was awarded for Chief Sullivan's efforts in promoting amateur athletics.

In a letter received by Mr. Sullivan Wednesday from Baron de Coubertin, of Paris, France, President of the international committee, Mr. Sullivan was informed of the honour that the committee had awarded him. But one other American has ever been honoured with this medal, the late President McKinley, when the committee decided to grant to the United States the third Olympiad in 1900.

TEXT OF LETTER.

The communication sent Mr. Sullivan by Baron de Coubertin notifying him of the honour is as follows:

Comite International Olympique.
Paris, Oct. 19, 1904.

Dear Mr. Sullivan: On behalf of the International Olympic Committee I beg to send you our warmest congratulations and thanks for the wonderful work you have succeeded in carrying out the organization of the third Olympiad.

As a token of our gratitude I have the pleasure to state that the medal commemorating the revival of the Olympic games will be awarded to you on the occasion of the International Congress, to be held in Brussels in June, 1905, under the presidency of His Majesty, the King of the Belgians.

The value of the souvenir comes from the fact that only a very few copies have been given away since ten years, their Majesties the Emperor of Germany and the King of Spain, and their Royal Highnesses, the Crown Prince of Greece, the Crown Prince of Sweden and Norway and the Prince of Wales being among those who said they were glad to receive it. President McKinley also received it after the vote making the third Olympiad an American one.

We expect you to present a short but substantial report on the St. Louis games to the Brussels Congress.

Thanking you for the numerous documents and the medals you sent us, and congratulating you once more, I am, dear Mr. Sullivan, very truly yours,

BARON PIERRE DECOUBERTIN,
President of the International Olympic Committee.

Mr. Sullivan is one of the best authorities on athletics in America. He was one of the reorganizers of the A. A. U. in 1886 and in 1900 was assistant director of the Paris Exposition athletic meeting. He is as well known in Europe as in America and his decisions carry great weight.

N. B. S.—It is James J. Corbett you are thinking of. His second wife is known as Vera. His first was a school teacher, who is also said to be married again. He is supposed to have worked in a bank at one time.

Entries for the amateur boxing championship which commences in Toronto to-morrow have closed. There are no less than four in any of the eight classes. The draw will be made to-day. The preliminaries will be boxed to-morrow, the semi-finals Friday, and the final events on Saturday night. Among the entries are the following: — Bantam, 105 pounds, Bert Starks, Montreal. Feather, 112 pounds, Bert Starks, Montreal.

LACROSSE

Toronto Will Retain Rosedale.

Toronto, November 16.—The officers of the Toronto Lacrosse and Athletic Association have had an offer made to them for the Rosedale grounds. The offer came from Dr. W. G. Good, secretary of the athletic association of Toronto University, who asked if the Rosedale grounds were for sale, and at first he was told that they were, but will be notified that the directors of the club have since decided to retain the grounds. The offer made for the grounds was, no doubt, for the University Athletic Association, as there is no doubt that the present 'Varsity grounds on Bloor street will before long be used for building on, and 'Varsity will be left without any place to play their matches and derive a revenue from. The Rosedale grounds are equal to any in Canada, and as the practices of the university team can be held on the campus adjoining the gymnasium, Rosedale would be an ideal spot for the University asociation to take over, if it is attainable.

ODDS AND ENDS

The St. Lambert Boating Club.

The closing of the season for the St. Lambert Boating Club was effected last Friday evening by a ball, which was fairly well attended. There were quite a large number from the city present.

Members of the Montreal Curling Club will meet Monday night to elect skips for the coming season.

The semi-annual meeting of the M.A.A.A. will be held Monday night at the Gym.

There will be a special meeting of the directors of the National A.A.A. the first Monday in December.

Contrary to reports, the Crystal rink will be open this winter as usual.

The rink has been renovated and made comfortable for the many patrons.

The band will be in attendance Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, and hockey practice hours will be same as last season.

The following is the result of the turkey shoot, which took place last night at the Victoria Rifles Armoury:

First Class—J. Drysdale, 23; Robert Cairns, 20, second.

Second Class—Private Thomas, 20; Private Donavin, 16, second.

Third Class—Private J. F. Kay, 17; Private Lavin, 13, second.

There was a large attendance, and the winners were the recipients of many congratulations. The turkey was presented by Lieut.-Col. Wilson, Major Starke and Capt. Gunn.

THIRTY-TWO NEW TROTTERS ENTER 2:10 LIST IN 1904

Harness Racing Campaign Which Has Just Ended Brought Out Best Lot of Horses Yet Seen in the Grand Circuit.

When the harness racing season of 1904 had reached the middle stage, horsemen generally were of the opinion that the trotters campaigning in the Grand Circuit did not class with those of recent years. "Rather a poor lot of horses out this year," was a comment frequently heard among turfmen at the Grand Circuit meetings. Certain it is that until late in the season the trotters of 1904 appeared to be an ordinary lot, while the completed records of the campaign show they were decidedly the best ever seen in the Grand Circuit.

In the last few weeks of the campaign sensational performances came thick and fast, many horses that had trotted indifferently at the early meetings racing brilliantly at the close. Though the average time made at three of the first four meetings in the Grand Circuit was slower than 2.10, that of the last five meetings was fast enough to bring the speed average for the season down to 2.09¾, a new low water mark in harness racing.

Perhaps the best evidence of progress afforded by the statistics of the campaign just ended is the number of trotters that entered the 2.10 list in 1904. There were twenty-six additions to this list last year, while the largest number of additions in any one year previous to 1904 was twenty-nine. During the campaign now closed no less than thirty-two newcomers entered the list, making a total of 222 horses that have trotted in 2.10 or better since Jay-Eye-See first set the example twenty years ago last last August.

The overshadowing supremacy of the Wilkes tribe of trotters is exemplified by the newcomers in the 2.10 list, nineteen of which are descended in a direct male line from George Wilkes, and nearly all of which carry the blood of the old time champion of trotting stallions through either sire or dam, or both. Only three of the thirty-two 2.10 trotters of 1904 are of the Electioneer family. The small family of Director makes a remarkable showing by comparison with some tribes which outnumber it twenty to one. Director and his two sons, Prodigal, 2.05¾, and Direct, 2.05½, having four new 2.10 trotters to their credit. Here is the list for 1904:

SKATING CHAMPIONSHIPS WILL BE HELD HERE NEXT WINTER

The M. A. A. A. Rink Committee Held Its Preliminary Meeting at the Gymnasium Last Night—Letter of Farewell to Lord Minto.

There is every possibility that Montreal will have skating championships again this winter, and that they will be held on the M. A. A. A. Rink. They will, as usual, be combined Canadian and United States championships. Mr. Louis Rubenstein, hon. secretary of the Amateur Skating Association of Canada, made this announcement last night after the first meeting of the committee of the Montreal Toboggan and Skating Club. Those present were: President, Mr. Leslie H. Boyd; 1st vice-president, Mr. Jno. Davidson; 2nd vice-president, Mr. E. J. Christmas; treasurer, Mr. E. Herbert Brown; hon. secretary, Mr. W. E. Findlay. Committee, Messrs. R. C. Irwin, Arthur J. Lee, A. A. Leithhead, W. A. S. Ayerst, Jas. Drury, Geo. Moffat.

It was decided to run the rink on the same number of lights and at the same price, and everything looked most same price, and everything looks most favourable towards a prosperous and enjoyable season.

It was stated in the course of the meeting that the Canadian Skating Association had sent a letter of farewell to His Excellency Lord Minto, thanking him for the great interest he had taken in the sport during his stay in Canada.

QUEEN'S AND M'GILL OUGHT TO BE PRETTY WELL MATCHED

The McGill Football Team.

Saturday's match in Ottawa promises to be the most interesting of the Inter-collegiate series. Both McGill and Queen's are confident of winning. McGill is neglecting nothing which will give her any greater chance of success. Though the team is having no regular practices this week, the men are out every evening to exercise. Signals and special points of the play are studied and practised.

The team will be practically the same as in the line-up against Montreal last Saturday. Trenholme will probably take a place on the half-back line. Malcolm is getting his shoulder, which was injured in the match against Toronto on the fifth, into good shape again. Zimmerman is now none the worse of the injury he received in his collision with Alec Christmas on Saturday.

Sophs. and Juniors will play to-morrow on McGill campus to settle the inter-year championship.

Trenholme will be able to play for McGill against Queen's.

The Queen's Football Team.

Kingston, Ont., November 16.—Queen's Rugby team that will meet McGill in Ottawa on Saturday afternoon for the senior inter-collegiate championship will be the same as has played in all this season's matches. Baillie, who had his leg injured last Saturday, will be quite able to take his place. The team will go to the Capital on Friday so as to be rested for the next day's contest. It is not taking much work this week, as all the players are in pretty good condition. There was no practice on Monday, and only a light one on Tuesday. A practice match may be arranged for to-morrow with the Royal Military College fourteen, who meet McMaster here on Saturday for the Intermediate Championship. At Queen's, the opinion is expressed that the Presbyterian representatives will defeat McGill provided their back division plays as well as it did in the last two contests with 'Varsity. It is recognized that McGill backs are a little better both in catching and kicking, but are no faster and no better tacklers. Queen's scrimmage and wings are looked upon as being a little better than those of McGill.

Snowshoe Club was held at the club room, 2440 St. Catherine street, when considerable business was transacted. Mr. Frank Goodwyn was unanimously elected to the office of second vice-president, and a large number of new applicants for membership have been passed, and President "Dave" Taylor is quite confident the membership of the club will have doubled 'ere long. The opening social will be held December 1, in Conservatory Hall.

Walsh and Weller are still wrangling over a match, which is to take the place of the Weller-Allan match which has been postponed.

HOCKEY

A New Hockey Club.

At a meeting of some boys interested in hockey, it was decided to form a hockey club to be known as the Drummond Hockey Club. Mr. Homer A. Fenton was elected president. It is hoped that a large number of good players will turn out and make this one of the best boys' hockey teams in the city. All contributions towards renting a rink will be thankfully received by Homer A. Fenton, 25 McGill College avenue.

Mr. Fenton is an active member of the Y.M.C.A. and is an associate member of the O.A.B. of Detroit, Mich. He is also president of the new Strathcona Club for Boys.

The C. P. R. Club.

The second annual meeting of the C.P.R. A. A. A. Hockey Club was held in their rooms, Delorimier avenue, when it was decided to make application to the Commercial League as well as the Metropolitan League. After reading the report of the treasurer for the past season, which was satisfactory, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mr. Brumbau.
Vice-President—Mr. Foley.
Treasurer—Mr. Geo. Hunt.
Secretary—J. Kilcullen, 987 Notre Dame street.

A meeting of the Argyle Hockey Club has been called for Wednesday evening, November 16th, at 8 p.m., at 1091 Notre Dame street.

All players and those wishing to join are kindly requested to attend.

Closing Races at Aqueduct.

New York, November 16.—The Metropolitan racing season came to a close at Aqueduct yesterday, and a good crowd was in attendance. Three favourites won.

The Roslyn handicap resulted in an easy victory for the favourite, Orthodox, who was coupled with Dick Bernard in the betting. Seymour made the pace to the stretch, where Martin sent Orthodox to the front and won by one and one-half lengths from Occantide, who was a neck ahead of Little Em.

In the first race, Collector Jessup fell, Jockey Odom, who had the mount, was unhurt, Pasadena, who finished second, was disqualified for crowding. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs—Rapid Water, 126, Martin, 5 to 1, won; Old England, 114, Crimmins, 5 to 1, second; Missing Link, 98, Schilling, 12 to 1, third. Time, 1.21 4-5.

Second race, selling, 1 5-16 miles—Go Between, 100, Crimmins, 4 to 5, won; The Southerner, 103, Travers, 3 to 1, second; Aurumaster, 100, Schilling, 4 to 1, third. Time, 2.17 2-5.

Third race, selling, 5 furlongs—Fancy Dress, 93, Crimmins, 5 to 2, won; Dansense, 107, Burns, 4 to 1, second; Lizzie, 99, Travers, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1.03.

Fourth race, Roslyn handicap, mile—Orthodox, 115, Martin, 11 to 10, won; Occantide, 106, Shaw, 7 to 1, second; Little Em, 104, Crimmins, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1.40 2-5.

Fifth race, selling, mile—Akela, 103, Burns, 13 to 5, won; Kickshaw, 98, Crimmins, even, second; Prince Ching, 108, Collins, 20 to 1, third. Time, 1.41.

Sixth race, 6 furlongs—Red Fox, 107, Shaw, 7 to 1, won; Uncas, 110, Burns, 2 to 1, second; Applaud, 110, Redfern, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1.16 2-5.

Bookmaker Beat Vice-President.

Toronto, November 16.—Although it has been kept quiet for some time, the cause of Mr. H. Davies tendering his resignation as vice-president of the Ontario Jockey Club leaked out to-day.

The trouble arose at the autumn meeting when Mr. Davies took exception to one of the gentlemen who was working in one of the books in the ring and had him stopped at his work. After some influence was brought to bear on the matter the layer of odds was permitted to go on again, and shortly after that Mr. Davies handed in his resignation to the club, but up to the present time it has not been accepted.

Central Canada Meet.

Ottawa, Ont., November 16.—The initial steps in the making of this winter's meet of the Central Canada Racing Association the finest ever held in Canada were taken at a meeting of the association yesterday. The dates selected are Saturday, February 4, to Saturday, February 11, giving seven days of solid racing. A sub-committee was appointed to draft a programme of races for the meet, and especial efforts will be made to have the card unusually attractive. In addition to the class races for large purses, there will be three stake races, viz.: One for slow class pacers, one for slow class trotters and a five mile, each stake to be $1,000. Last winter, for the first time, the association offered two stakes of $1,000 each, which proved a complete success. They are being repeated, with the addition of a five-mile stake for a similar amount, $1,000. Altogether there will be some $8,000 hung up in purses. The programme giving all particulars will be completed and published shortly, and the club would be pleased to receive any suggestions from horse men previous to the completion of the programme. The annual meeting of the Central Canada Racing Association takes place on the first Monday in December.

St. Lambert Curling Club.

There was a meeting held in the committee room of the boathouse at St. Lambert, on Saturday evening for the purpose of forming a curling club. Some 25 gentlemen were present.

CHESS GAME OVER FIFTEEN HUNDRED MILES OF WIRE

To-morrow, Thanksgiving Day, the much talked about telegraph match will be played between the Montreal Chess Club and the All Winnipeg teams. The Montreal end will be conducted from the club rooms, 55 University street and the Winnipeg end from the rooms of the St. Andrew's Society, Imperial Bank Building, the scene of the last Canadian championship tourney. A wire will connect the two rooms direct so that the 1500 miles between the opposing teams will be bridged as effectively as though they were in adjacent rooms.

There will be ten players a side. The The Montreal team will probably consist of Messrs. Kurrie, Sawyer, Jacobs, Short, Falconer, McArthur, Anstey, Clement, Cameron and D. C. Robertson.

The hours of play will be from 1.30 to 7 p.m. and 8 to 12.30. A match of this kind is always most interesting and visitors will be welcome during the day. Montreal has a strong team ready and are confident of scoring to the good this year.

CANADIAN AMATEUR HOCKEY LEAGUE CLUBS TO PLAY IN THE ARENA

The Terms Will Be the Same as Last Year—All Applications in and Virtually Accepted.

It is understood that the Canadian Amateur Hockey League Clubs have made arrangements to play in the Arena again.

A prominent officer of the League said to-day: "We will play in the Arena again next season. The applications of all the clubs are in, and we have been informally given to understand that they have been accepted. The terms will be the same as last year we understand, unless out of the goodness of our heart the Directors might decide to give us better ones.

At the annual meeting of the directors of the Montreal Arena Company, held last night, a change was made in the by-laws reducing the directorate from nine to seven members. The election resulted as follows:—Ed. Sheppard, president; Ald. F. E. Nelson, vice-president; Geo. W. Gardner, auditor; F. H. Wilson, James Simpson, C. M. Cameron, A. G. B. Claxton, director, W. A. Northey, secretary.

HOUNDS HAVE SPECIAL THANKSGIVINGS RUN

Dr. Charles McEachran, Master of the Montreal Hounds, announces a special Thanksgiving run for to-morrow.

The run will start from Longue Pointe, and the hounds will meet at the head of the Asylum lane at eleven o'clock.

The real season has been finished for some time, but the weather is so tempting that the special run was decided upon.

LIMIT OF ENDURANCE ALMOST REACHED

Nevertheless Gen. Stoessel Will Not Think of Surrender.

HE IS NOW IN HOSPITAL

A Terrific Assault Made Recently by the Japanese Vividly Described.

Tokio, November 16.—The Russians in Port Arthur have commenced a general withdrawal from the city, retiring to Liao-Tishan, whither they have removed their provisions, thus confirming statements made by Russian prisoners, that Gen. Stoessel will make his final stand at Liao-Tishan. One Sunday night, the garison of the Sunghshu fort made a sortie and delivered a strong assault against the Japanese position opposite, but the Russians were repulsed with heavy losses. The Japanese are reported to have shown conspicuous bravery.

GENERAL NOGI IS ILL.

St. Petersburg, November 16.—A despatch to the Birshewyja Vladomosti from Chefoo says that General Nogi, in command of the Japanese army which is besieging Port Arthur is reported to be dangerously ill.

FROM SCENE OF FIGHTING.

Headquarters of the Third Japanese Army, before Port Arthur, November 15, via Fusan.—It is reported that a wound received by General Stoessel has necessitated his confinement in a hospital, that he refused to relinquish the command of the garrison, and that he has issued orders to the troops to die at their posts rather than surrender.

It is said that the spirit of the Russia troops has been dampened by continuous work, the lack of supplies and the hopelessness of their ability to make any successful defence of the fortress. It is said further that many of the Russian soldiers are ready to surrender, but that they are kept at their posts by officers who threaten them with revolvers, and that several soldiers who were suspected of a desire to desert have been shot as a warning to others. The Japanese now believe that the garrison has almost reached the limit of human endurance.

Spies and Russians, who have surrendered, report that rations in Port Arthur have been reduced. The wounded found by the Japanese are emaciated.

The capture of the eastern fortified ridge will mean the surrender of the fortress in a couple of weeks, unless the garrison there retires to isolated forts. This seems improbable, however, and cold weather and the lack of food and ammunition renders desperate resistance unlikely.

TERRIFIC BOMBARDMENT.

London, November 16.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent with the Japanese army before Port Arthur, describing the attack of the Japanese on the eastern fortified ridges on October 30, says: "The terrific and continuous bombardment, night and day, from October 27 to October 30, culminated in wonderful practice, quite beyond criticism. With appalling rapidity countless bursting shells mingled their smoke into a dense, oscillating mass of vapor, laden with earth and gleaming with flashes of fire, the climax being reached at 1 o'clock with a tremendous fire of shrapnel across the broken breastworks of the fortresses. Suddenly every gun ceased fire, and the Japanese infantry rushed out from their parallels 'ere the hills had ceased reverberating with the thunder of the cannonade, from seven separate quarters against the Rihlung, Kekwan and Panlung fortified ridges. The attack was simultaneously developed. Without a single premonitory feint, fully 4,000 troops dashed out pell-mell with fixed bayonets, waving standards and rending the air with shouts of "Banzai."

The correspondent details how the various Japanese attacks were checked by the big moats and the terrible Russian fire which rapidly depleted their ranks, notwithstanding a clever covering fire of Japanese artillery, and says: "It was most remarkable, even incredible, but fully substantiating surmises of their ability to withstand the fire of the heaviest Japanese ordnance, how the Russians, despite the previous bombardment, replied from their fortress guns, although 1,800 five hundred pound shells had been fired that day, not counting thousands of smaller projectiles. It is estimated that the day's bombardment cost the Japanese $20,000, representing nearly 20 per cent. of the total cost since the opening days of the siege in August. Before half an hour had elapsed, and after losing six hundred men, the Japanese abandoned the attack against the South Kekwan fort.

"By 4 o'clock the Japanese fire had diminished in intensity and the assaults ceased shortly before sunset, when fire broke out in the new town of Port Arthur, and at nightfall the Japanese opened a shrapnel fire on the eastern ridge to cover the retirement of their isolated assailants, whose situation was critical between the east and the south Kekwan forts. The total Japanese casualties exceed 2,000.

"Although the assaults failed to capture the main objective, they absolutely unmasked the Eastern Russian forts, and their strength. Their casualties are relatively small for, although seven regiments were engaged not half the troops issued from the parallels owing to the attacks being so skilfully manipulated and finally ceasing without supports being utilized. For strength the Russian position was unassailable, and it would have been useless to endanger double the force and incur double the casualties list in the same assault.

RECOVERED THE LOST GROUND.

"After dusk the Russians sortied and recovered the ground lost between the east and the south Kekwan forts. They recovered the 'P' fort, at 10 o'clock in the evening, by General Ishinoye gallantly restorming the hill, and, despite 250 casualties, expelled the Russians by sheer dash and courage. Indeed, his personality won the hill for the Japanese.

"After having captured the Caponiers (covered galleries) of the east Kekwan fort the Japanese engaged in a bloody fight in the underground passages, slowly winning the vitals of the fort inch by inch, despite the bombs and mountain guns of the Russians lodging in the casemates.

"On November 6 the central and front sections of the Caponiers were gained. The work, however, is progressing slowly owing to the nature of the ground."

The Daily Telegraph's Che Foo correspondent gives rumours of renewed Japanese attacks on Port Arthur by 15,000 troops between November 2 and November 6, with 12,000 casualties.

THE LATEST FROM MANCHURIA.

Chunchanoutun, Manchuria, November 16.—General Kuropatkin's headquarters.—A Japanese advance is daily expected. Large masses of their troops are moving eastward, and the Russians are expecting them to strike at their left flank.

An attack upon the fortified village of Erhowumiulo, not far from Sinchintzi, and fronting the right flank of the 17th corps, was carried out brilliantly during the night of November 10 by the second brigade of the Thirty-fifth infantry division. The village had been captured the same morning by the Japanese. The Japanese were completely surprised, mostly sitting in the streets and huts eating their supper. Not a shot was fired. The Japanese fled before the bayonets. The Russians, however, were compelled later to abandon Endowumiulu, as the retirement of the third division exposed them to a flank attack.

St. Petersburg, November 16.—An order of the day to the Manchurian army announces that from September 9 to October 24, 828 wounded officers and 28,409 wounded men, and 208 officers and 3,827 men sick were taken to Mukden.

JAPANESE RESUMED ATTACK ON PORT ARTHUR ON NOVEMBER 7.

Special Cable from a Montreal Star Correspondent.

Headquarters of the Japanese Third Army before Port Arthur, Liuhiatun, November 7, via Fusan, November 15.—The Japanese to-day renewed their assaults on the Eprung forts, East Keekwan, and 203 Meter Hill. They have retained the Keekwan moat, the capture of which as described in a former despatch, in spite of desperate counter attacks by the Russians. The position is rendered especially perilous by the fact that the guns of the enemy on Fodaishan (Signal Hill) enfilade the Eastern Moat and both sides of the moat in which the Russian field guns were placed. The Japanese hold two sections of a subterranean gallery connected with the fort and also the greater part of the North Moat. Russian prisoners report that the rations of the garrison were recently reduced and that the supply of horse meat is almost exhausted.

Russians and Finns Disagree.

Special Cable from a Montreal Star Correspondent.

Helsingfors, November 11, via Stockholm, November 15.—There is an open rupture between the Russian and Finnish members of the committee appointed to investigate the charges against the financial methods of the Provincial Boards of Finland, which are controlled by the Russian Governors, Vice-Governors and their secretaries. The committee began its enquiries in the province of Nyland, where it discovered peculations that appeared to involve Kalgorodoff and his chief secretary, Col. Reinboot. On the Russians refusing to continue the investigation, the Finns protested to the Procurator, who ordered the enquiry to proceed. Then Governor Kalgorodoff locked up official records. His action was approved by the Governor-General, Prince Obolensky. The Finnish committee men, who are furists of reputation, have appealed to the St. Petersburg Government.

The New Military Council.

Ottawa, November 16.—Sir Frederick Borden has given his assent to the regulations and approved the personnel of the new military council. The Cabinet it is understood, will sanction his report in this respect at its next meeting. The military council will be constituted as follows:

Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia; General Lake, Chief of Staff; Col. Pinault, Deputy Minister; Mr. Borden, accountant; Col. MacDonald, Quarter-Master General; Col. Vidal, Adjutant-General; Col. Cotton, Master of Ordnance; Lord Aylmer, the present Adjutant-General, becomes Inspector-General and will report to the council. The regulations governing the council are similar to those in force in Britain and have already been published.

The Doctor's Verdict: Death in Thirty Days.

The Doctors Told Mr. Frank Kellar, of Rock Island Ill., He Was in Last Stages of Bright's Disease and Could Not Possibly Live a Month Longer. But

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

Completely Cured Him in Sixty Days.

MR. FRANK KELLAR.

Such a thing as a cure of Bright's Disease or Diabetes was practically unknown until Warner discovered his celebrated "Safe Cure" thirty-five years ago. Since then hundreds of thousands of cases have been cured, and are living testimonials to the success of this wonderful medicine in curing all manner of kidney troubles.

"I was in the last stages of Bright's Disease," says Mr. Kellar, "suffering intense agony, and was bloated beyond any semblance of my former self. Doctors said they could do nothing for me, my kidneys were in terrible shape, and I'd die in a month. But on the advice of a friend I began taking Warner's Safe Cure. I felt better from the first, and am rejoiced to tell you that in two months I was completely cured, and for over a year now have had no recurrence of the trouble. My general health was never better. I owe my life to our great medicine, and in justice to my fellow-beings, want every man, woman and child to know that they can be healed." 711 12th St., Rock Island, Ill., Aug. 12, '04.

The subtle and treacherous nature of kidney disease is such that nine victims out of ten do not realize they are afflicted until the last stages have been reached. Dull, grinding pains in the back, side or head, rheumatic twinges and swellings, loss of energy and appetite, sleeplessness, inflammation of the urinary organs, painful and too frequent passing of the water, female troubles, all indicate that your kidneys have been badly affected for months. If there is any doubt in your mind about your condition

MAKE THIS UNFAILING TEST AT HOME: Pour a little morning urine in a bottle or glass and let it stand 24 hours. If a sediment forms, or it's cloudy, or contains floating particles, your kidneys are in serious shape, and need immediate treatment with Warner's Safe Cure, which destroys the disease germs, strengthens the weakened and enfeebled organs, and gives new life and activity to every part of the body. Price $1 a bottle, at all druggists, or direct.

WARNER'S SAFE PILLS MOVE THE BOWELS GENTLY, AND AID A SPEEDY CURE.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE.

To convince every sufferer from diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, that Warner's Safe Cure will cure them, a trial bottle will be sent absolutely free, post-paid to any address. Also free doctor's advice, and a medical booklet which tells all about these diseases, with a prescription for each, and contains many of the thousands of testimonials received daily from grateful patients who have been cured by Safe Cure. All you have to do is write Warner's Safe Cure Co., 14 Lombard St., Toronto, Ont., and mention name of this paper. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed by the publisher.

THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOUR.

Several Disputes Come Before the Convention for Settlement.

San Francisco, Cal., November 16.—The convention of the American Federation of Labour yesterday voted against a proposition to make the two Saturdays falling during the fortnight session half holidays. The report of the executive council cited a long list of disputes relative to trade jurisdiction and the merits of the contentions were gone into.

Some of the principal contentions referred to were those between the Longshoremen's and Seamen's Unions, which the executive council at its recent meeting recommended and discussed in a special conference in this city during the present session, and the dispute between the Brewery Workers and the International Association of Firemen and Engineers, which the council recommended be submitted to a special committee of two members from each union involved and a like number of representatives from the American Federation of Labour. It was pointed out that most of the trouble between these organizations arose from the brewery workers' fears that by complying with the demands of the engineers and firemen the life of the brewery workers' union was threatened. The ultimatum of the council was that unless the latter organization recognized the provisions of the constitution of the American Federation of Labour and allowed engine-firemen employed in breweries to come under the jurisdiction of their respective organizations before the end of the present session no attention would be paid to the brewers' petitions to place firms on the unfair list, that the firms so listed by the brewers would not be recognized as such by the American Federation of Labour, and that the brewers' label would not be considered by the Federation.

Another central labour body, which came in for the censure of the executive council was that at New Orleans. The latter organization boycotted a union labour paper because of an expression of opinion. This was styled by the council a violation of a free press and a fundamental principle of unionism, and the New Orleans body was given 30 days in which to remove the boycott or the alternative of having its charter revoked.

Unions everywhere were cautioned to be more conservative in their actions relative to placing firms on the unfair list. It was recommended that such cases be referred to the Federation, which would then thoroughly investigate the boycott.

The situation in Colorado was referred to as "shocking," and determination was expressed to aid the Western Federation of Miners, both morally and financially. In efforts to have the matter brought before the highest court in the land for final adjustment and adjudication. The report concluded by urging all union men to work persistently to the end that an anti-injunction bill, eight-hour law, and measures to regulate convict labour and enforce Chinese exclusion, might be passed by Congress.

At the afternoon session Michael Davitt made a short speech expressing his sympathy with organized labour, and was loudly applauded.

THE DEATH OF EARL OF NORTHBROOK.

London, November 16.—Thomas George Baring, Earl of Northbrook, is dead. He was born in 1826.

Thomas George Baring was the first Earl of Northbrook, a title which was created in 1876, the late occupant having borne the name of Baron Northbrook. He was the eldest son of the first Baron of Northwick, who occupied the posts of Lord of the Treasury, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and First Lord of the Admiralty, and he followed his father in taking up a governmental career. The Earl of Northwick served his administrative apprenticeship in the Board of Trade, Home, India and Admiralty offices, and later became a Lord of the Admiralty (1857-58), Under Secretary for India (1859-61), for War (1861-64), Home Department (1864-66), and for War (1868-72). In 1872 he was appointed Viceroy of India, and held the post till 1876. He was also First Lord of the Admiralty from 1880 to 1885. Baring is also the family name of Baron Ashburton, Earl Cromer, and Baron Revelstoke. The family has done Britain sterling service in a financial sense. The present Earl of Northbrook is the late Viscount Baring, who was born December 6, 1850.

PARLIAMENT WILL MEET IN JANUARY.

Ottawa, November 16.—There is a well defined impression in the city that Parliament will be called in session by the middle of January, and that the meeting of the House will be briefer than for many a day. A light bill of fare is anticipated.

SUCCESSFUL MUSICALE.—A successful musicale given by the Montreal Conservatory of Music, of which Mr. C. E. Seifert is director, took place in the lecture hall of the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening last. The programme included pianoforte selections from Miss Belle Bryson, and Miss M. McLaren, and violin and violoncello numbers from Miss Dolly Lucas and Miss Alfrieda Scarff respectively.

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM.

This is a condition or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes for they are almost numberless, its symptoms are much the same; the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is increased vitality—vigour—

VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY

to throw off these morbid feelings, and experience proves that as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of the celebrated life-reviving tonic than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the printed directions accompanying it, will the shattered health be restored,

THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE LIGHTED UP AFRESH,

and a new existence imparted in place of what had so lately seemed worn-out, "used up," and valueless. This wonderful restorative is purely vegetable and innocuous as agreeable to the taste as suitable for all constitutions and conditions in either sex; and it is difficult to imagine a case of disease or derangement, whose main features are those of debility, that will not be speedily and permanently benefited by this never-failing reparative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion everything that had preceded it for this wide-spread and numerous class of human ailments.

THERAPION is sold by the principal Chemists throughout the world. Price in England, 2/9 and 4/6. Purchasers should see that the word 'THERAPION' appears on British Government Stamp in white letters on a red ground; affixed to every package by order of His Majesty's Hon. HERRINGS ACROSS THE TRAIL.

Nothing is more touching than the violent efforts of the Ross press in Ontario to awaken a belated interest in Government ownership, in municipal autonomy, in compulsory voting, in the wickedness of wearing the bodies of dear dead birds in a fair lady's hat, in any old question, so that the people will forget the unsavory record of the Ross Government, and the Liberal delegates to the coming convention will grow too confused by this multiplicity of new issues to ask ex-Vice-President Ross, of the Dominion Alliance for the Suppression of the Liquor Traffic, just what he intends to do about his pledges to the temperance workers.

It would be undoubtedly awkward for the Ross combination if the Liberal convention should take up the temperance question seriously as the foremost issue. Ross has been already crowded into so tight a corner on this subject that there is now no room left to dodge. On that matter alone, he would have to confess judgment.

So the Ross press are eagerly assuring the Ross party that the issues really before them at this coming convention have nothing whatever to do with Sullivanism or with that outworn temperance question. Temperance is a matter of morals and not of politics at all. If they want to see ex-Vice-President Ross about temperance, they should meet him in the blue ribbon lodge room. But at this great Liberal convention, they must discuss such great Liberal principles as Government ownership and municipal autonomy.

It is true that the Liberal party was not saying much about this historic Liberal doctrine of Government ownership during the late Federal campaign, for then the Conservative party had the effrontery to propose to apply it practically to the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme. But, now that "the boys" are all right on that score, what is wanted is a ringing declaration from a mighty Liberal host in favour of this newly resuscitated principle of Government ownership. It can do no particular harm, as there is nothing to the fore to which it can be applied, but it will do great good—to the party—if it distracts attention from Sullivan and the temperance question.

As for municipal autonomy, the municipalities have never had to fight so hard for their commonest rights as they have since Liberal rule became general. The municipal league for self-defence is a child of Liberal-created conditions. But that has only made the cry for municipal autonomy more popular. And what Ross wants most of all is a popular cry. He can "forget some things" if he gets in again. But just now the great need is to make the people "forget some things." So the Ross press are whooping it up for everything they think the people want, and which their leaders can discuss without the embarrassment of past broken pledges.

PUBLIC OPINION.

It is often said that nothing will remove the evils of our political condition save the creation of a higher public opinion. To this indeed everyone assents; but how the higher public opinion is to be created is a point on which little that is definite is ever said. The mice long ago concluded that, if the cat could be belled, they would live in much greater security, all that was wanted was a commission that would undertake to bell the cat. It is said, and we doubt not with truth, that the author of the proposition declined to be of the party.

Perhaps, however, the case in which we are concerned is not quite so hopeless. We are not asked to "bell" some power with which we are absolutely unable to cope; the problem is for each man to "bell" himself. Public opinion is simply the aggregate of individual opinions. If there was in a given country a strong and effective demand for good government there would be good government. In any free country the powers that be know when the people are in earnest. They know just how deep and how strong the demand for good government is. They are not much imposed upon by fine phrases whether written or spoken; they gauge public opinion by the actions and inner sentiments of the representative people with whom they come into contact, and with whom they have dealings. They judge also by the reports they receive from their agents throughout the country, and putting all their sources of information together they are able to brand public virtue almost as accurately as an expert would brank flour, pork, or lumber. What people say is not public opinion, it is what they ask for and what they do, what they reveal of themselves—that gives its true measure and stamp.

This brings the thing home to individuals. It is you and you and you, and we, and everybody else, who help to make public opinion—the real public opinion that the astute politician takes account of. The man who wants a better public opinion should begin with himself, and ask what he has done or is doing to promote absolutely honest methods in politics.

Of course such a man would not sell his vote in any vulgar fashion, but does he aim at any private object in giving it? Does he consider that he has laid the man he has voted for under any kind of an obligation to do this or that for him? If so the less that man talks about a higher public opinion the better. Public opinion is already quite as high as his private opinion, possibly a shade higher. The whole root of corruption lies in the thought that the man who receives your vote incurs an obligation to you. The true conception of a representative's office is that he is chosen for his fitness to discharge an important public function. Dismiss that idea and choose a man simply to vote for a party and, incidentally, to draw a salary; then make him your debtor because you voted for him rather than for some one else, and what is the use in talking about public opinion after that? The relations between representative and voter are immoral from the start.

These things do not receive enough consideration from the average well-meaning elector. Too many read the papers and talk politics—that is discuss the chances of parties—and vote without ever reflecting seriously on the structure of our political system and the demands which it makes on the citizen who would discharge his public duties aright. There are multitudes who could help to create a strong and upright public opinion but who do little or nothing in the matter simply for want of thought. They do not think sufficiently to see that certain things that are commonly done are wrong and wholly inconsistent with our political ideals. They do not think sufficiently to avoid doing these things occasionally themselves. We believe that the materials for a much better public opinion than we now have are at hand and only need a little earnest thought to quicken them into life.

What a day may bring forth in China is a matter of grave and somewhat disquieting doubt. The result of the Boxer war was to plunge the country into debt, and make a heavy increase in taxation necessary. The thought that the extra taxation is going to pay indemnities to the European nations is not calculated to increase the patience of the people under their burdens. An officer of the American Bible Society stationed at Peking writes that a second Boxer outbreak is inevitable. The general symptoms, he says, resemble those of 1900. It is known that several secret societies have united to form one great society, whose plans can only be guessed at. The officials are helpless because many of their subordinates belong to the organization. The Chinese Government, no doubt, wishes to preserve peace, but its own influence with the people has been undermined by the recent disturbances, and the arrangements made with the foreigners. The result is that China today resembles some vast explosive mass. When or how the jar may come that will cause the loosely-held elements to fly asunder no one can tell. With the Russo-Japanese was still in progress, it would make a horrible complication were such a convulsion to occur.

President Roosevelt did not fire back any Latin at William II. in reply to his telegram of congratulation. He simply used common English. It is a good thing William's whole telegram was not Latin of the same quality as the sentence he expressed in that language, or there would have been a painful uncertainty as to exactly what his Imperial Majesty meant. Various authorities have tried their hands at translating the Latin, but without much success. One has it "May your good administration be happy and fortunate for the American people." This is impossible. The word "bonum" standing alone might mean good in general, but could not possibly mean anything so definite as "good administration." An attempt made by the New York Times is yet more hopeless. It is: "May thine be what is good, happy and prosperous to the American people." There is absolutely no meaning in this, nor does it fit the Latin. The whole telegram read: "Sincerest congratulations. May heaven give you prosperity. Tanta quod bonum felix, faustumque sit populo Americano." The only way to make any sense of it is to make "bonum" a noun and understand "tuum bonum" as meaning "Your success." "Your good luck." We may then render it, "May your success be happy and auspicious for the American people." If it does not mean this, then William's Latin is bad; and if it does, it is still awkward, inasmuch as it breaks up the old Latin religious formula "bonum felix, fortunatum, faustumque sit," quoted by Cicero in his work on "Divination," by detaching "bonum" for use as a noun. William would really have done better not to have aired his classical scholarship on this occasion. If Roosevelt could have ventured on it, a few words in Choctaw would not have been a bad Roland for his Oliver.

A BIT OF DAILY COMMENT.

Prince Mirsky's administration of the Interior Department in Russia continues to justify the expectations of people acquainted with Mirsky's progressive spirit. His tolerant action in regard to a student demonstration recently was so unusual that the students, shorn of opposition, had nothing to demonstrate about, and their noisy hosts melted away in surprise. But it is the freedom accorded to Russian journals that the new regime is most remarkable. Official censorship has at last allowed a Moscow journal to express its opinions frankly and even give counsel to Russians in general through its columns. A counsel of the Presidents of the Zemstvos has been called by Prince Mirsky to take and give counsel concerning Russian affairs. As the Zemstvo is the ancient organ of what public opinion Russia had in the past, this move is one of real import. Repression of thought, even when unfavourable to deeply-rooted bureaucracy, would seem no longer to be the order of the day. The Czar is said to approve of Mirsky's action. Perhaps he is actually glad to have a man as broad-minded behind whom he may entrench himself and find strength for his own timorous desires of reform. Not the war with Japan alone has been rousing Russian officialdom. The assassination of Von Plehve, the late Minister of the Interior, and one of the most autocratic and narrow of Russian officials, is said to have left a profound impression in court circles.

In this conection it is interesting to note that Madame Breshkofskaya, a Russian noblewoman who was for twenty-five years a Siberian exile, is now visiting the United States. She is travelling for mental diversion and rest, preparatory to a continuation of her life-long fight for liberty for the masses. "An earnest and consecrated protest of the common people, led by the intellectuals, against cruelty and wrong," she describes the work of her socialistic party. It was the Fighting League of this organization that was responsible for the death of von Plehve.

MGR. SBARETTI AT STE. THERESE.

Ste. Therese, Que., November 16.—The national celebration of the Seminary was held yesterday, and Monseignor Sbaretti was present and took part in the services. The Apostolic Delegate, on his arrival, was presented with addresses by the cure and the Mayor and a banquet was held at Seminary, at which a number of distinguished clerical guests, including Mgr. Emard, Prior Brosseau, of the Dominicans, and Provincial Tourangeau, of the Oblats, were present. During the day Mgr. Sbaretti paid an official visit to the school and the convent of the congregation.

That Witness "Pass."

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir,—Is it possible that the Witness has no explanation to offer of the fact that free transportation, in the shape of a Witness pass, was sent to a party in Toronto in order that he might come down and vote for Mr. Lyall in the St. Antoine division?

Had Mr. Lyall been elected the Witness would have been compelled to explain before the courts its apparently bare faced violation of the election laws.

Does the paper think because it is not summoned before the courts that it can, by maintaining a deep silence, lead the public to forget this extraordinary incident of the late elections?

If so the paper is greatly mistaken. Such a course will give the public additional assurance that notwithstanding its claims to be the embodiment of political and every other virtue, the Witness is anything but that. Let the paper come out into the open. A poor excuse is better than none.

Bio-Tableaux at Windsor Hall.

With this evening's presentation of the London Bioscope Company's entertainment at the Windsor Hall, Montrealers will have an opportunity of witnessing one of those performances representing scenes and conditions familiar to our own people and times. Those who paid a visit to the Windsor Hall when the entertainment was last here need not hesitate to go again. The programme is entirely new and contains what are claimed to be the most sensational and realistic Bioscope productions ever exhibited to a Montreal audience. There will be pathetic and sensational sketches and a large number of coloured films of the great Drury Lane pantomime, "Sleeping Beauty." What is described as the most thrilling subject yet secured on the Bioscope is entitled "Man the Life-Boat." This picture will show every phase of the work of life-boat men.

It is announced in a despatch from Rome that the Marquis des Monstick, formerly M. G. Caldwell, and the founder of the Catholic University at Washington, has renounced the Catholic faith. The news has caused a good deal of surprise in Washington University circles.

All this enthusiasm for Government ownership among the Ontario Libs shows a very genuine desire to make the people forget all about Ross's promises to the temperance workers.

The German Kaiser.

He wrote a poem once which he submitted to a great literary man.

"This verse, Your Majesty," said the critic, "seems to require alteration in certain respects."

The author took the manuscript and conned it thoughtfully.

"Why," he cried, as one seeing a sudden light, "I have actually not signed the poem! Give me a pen."

There have been times when the Kaiser has had to talk like a father to his offspring. This is a delicious story of one wigging he administered to them.

"Never forget," he said as they stood to attention before him, "that you are Hohenzollerns and sons of the German Kaiser. But you," he added, turning upon one not particularized, "you remember that I have my eye on you."—London Mail.

DEATHS REPORTED

Oakland, Cal.—Mrs. Leda Kirkham Yarde-Buller, known as Lady Yarde-Buller, is dead, aged 74 years. She was the daughter of General Kirkham, and inherited part of his fortune. Her complications with her husband several years ago made here a figure of international interest. She was declared mentally incompetent a few years ago, and was confined in a sanotarium.

Schenectady, N.Y.—The Rev. Philip B. Pendleton, D.D., for the past twenty years the rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, in this city, died suddenly as the result of an attack of cerebral hemorrhage at the parish house. He was one of the best known clergymen in the Albany diocese, and was the author of several historical essays on the work of the Episcopal Church.

Ridgetown, Ont.—Rev. Robert Stevenson, a retired Presbyterian clergyman, died suddenly at his residence, death being due to paralysis. He was born in Scotland in 1822, and had this year completed the fiftieth year of his ministry in Canada. Renfrew was among the places at which he had held charges.

Winnipeg, Man.—Nils Berg, foreman for Underson & Limberg, contractors at Wetaskiwin, was found dead. It is supposed he fell from the hotel window while asleep and received fatal injuries.

St. Thomas, Ont.—Daniel Gorman, of Port Stanley, the oldest resident in the County of Elgin, died yesterday in his 109th year. Death was caused by cancer.

Ottawa.—Andrew J. Doyle, aged 87 years, dropped dead on King Edward avenue. Death was caused by heart failure.

Guelph, Ont.—Miss Harrison, who was run over on Saturday by a runaway horse, died in the General Hospital.

Quebec.—Napoleon Lortie, of Beauport, has been found dead in his room, death being due to syncope.

Varennes.—Dieudonne Blain was killed while engaged in raising a barn on the farm of his father.

A Schooner Ashore.

Sydney, N.S., November 16.—Schooner Volunteer, Harbour Grace, for Sydney, in ballast, was driven ashore by the storm which swept the coast last Monday night, on Lingan Bar, five miles outside, the harbour entrance. A north-easterly gale of 72 miles velocity prevailed, and huge seas threw the vessel high upon a sand-bar. The Volunteer is 83 tons register, owned by Munn and Co., Harbour Grace, Nfld., and commanded by Captain Yetman. The vessel will probably be floated if favourable weather conditions obtain.

WHERE THE MONEY MAY BE SECURED

City Clerk Prepares Report Regarding New Sources of Revenue.

A SURPRISING LIST

Household Furniture, Wages, Bank Dividends and Many Others Included in the Number.

If a report, prepared by the City Clerk, showing how new taxes may be put into operation, is accepted by the Finance Committee, citizens in the future, among many things, will have to pay taxes on household furniture, wages, bank dividends, dividends in large business houses, taxes on industrial establishments, stock operations, etc.

The reason for the above suggestions being made by the City Clerk is that several weeks ago the Finance Committee decided that extra revenue was needed in order to properly take care of the roads, etc., and civic officials were asked to show how more money might be got.

CITY CLERK'S REPORT.

The following is the report of the City Clerk as to the proposed new taxes:

1. Raising the real estate tax by 25 cents, and it would still be quite lower than that of other American cities having the same importance as Montreal.

2. Increase of the business tax, which is a tax which can be easily levied and collected.

3. Taxing not only real estate, but also personal property and goods, with the exception of labourers' tools and household furniture, up to a certain amount, as everywhere in the United States, and even in Toronto.

4. Taxing the income, wages and salaries, above a certain amount, of all persons residing or carrying on business or working in the city and not paying any real estate or business tax, as in almost every city of the United States. This tax would affect a large number of persons who have a large salary or income and do not pay any tax to the city.

5. Levying of a tax on bank dividends, and also on dividends of large companies or corporations carrying on business in Montreal.

6. Imposing a special tax on certain branches of industry and industrial establishments, the noise and smoke from which are a nuisance to the neighbourhood, as in certain cities of the United States.

7. Taxing stock operations.

8. Levying of a tax on mortgages, as in the United States, and in Toronto.

There is no doubt that our system of taxation is the most simple and the most easy to put into operation.

Many people complain, in the United States, of the inconvenience caused by the tax on income, and on personal property and goods.

If the business tax could be increased, and if a reasonable income tax could be levied, so as to reach a large number of persons who profit by the advantages which the city affords, without contributing to its revenue, I think this would be the most practical mode of taxation and the most likely to meet the approval of the Legislature.

There are some persons who claim that the real estate tax might be increased by 25 cents, and the business tax by 2 1-2 cents, and that this would be sufficient.

There are also indirect means of relieving the city, such as compelling real estate owners to pay, as everywhere else, the entire cost of sidewalks, and a portion of the cost of pavements.

When the amount paid for interest on the debt, is taken into account, one must come to the conclusion that no city, in America, having the same population as Montreal, and even less, has so little money available for its administration and for the most urgent works.

It is even astonishing that the Aldermen should be able to carry out so many improvements with such limited sources of revenue.

"I must say," said a member of the City Council to-day, after reading the above comforting list, "that if all these taxes are approved, citizens will be up in arms. The only thing not taxed in the list is air; I am surprised it should have been forgotten."

"90 YEARS WITHOUT SLUMBERING"

As Longfellow puts it in his poem of old colonial days—"The Clock on the Stairs"—

"My grandfather's clock was too large for the shelf.
Ninety years without slumbering.
Tick—Tick—Tick—Tick."

Ninety years—truly a long period of ceaseless activity.

History will repeat itself in some of those delightful specimens of "Grandfather Clocks" that we are now showing.

Think of one for Christmas!

One does not usually buy such a clock "on the spur of the moment"—but just look around your home and see if there is not some nook or cranny in the hall, dining-room or "on the landing," that would be beautified and hallowed by its presence this Christmas.

Such a clock makes a Christmas gift that can be enjoyed by an entire household.

Some of them are quite reasonable in price, too—

One—of quaint Dutch design, 8-day, striking the hour and half-hour $23.00

Another—suggestive of Colonial times, 8-day, hour and half-hour strike $50.00

Others, again, run higher, striking the hours, half-hours and quarter-hours, on tubes, gongs and bells, in the St. Michael, Westminster and Whittington chimes, of such liquid and musical tones that one is reconciled to "the flight of time" just to hear them strike. These cost from $200 to $500 each.

Burdock Blood Bitters

Mrs. Frank Hutt, Morrisburg, Ont., was one of those troubled with this most common of stomach troubles. She writes:—"After being treated by three doctors, and using many advertised medicines, for a severe attack of Dyspepsia, and receiving no benefit, I gave up all hope of ever being cured. Hearing Burdock Blood Bitters so highly spoken of, I decided to get a bottle, and give it a trial. Before I had taken it I began to feel better, and by the time I had taken the second one I was completely cured. I cannot recommend Burdock Blood Bitters too highly, and would advise all sufferers from dyspepsia to give it a trial."

The State Concert Last Night---
Ottawa's Farewell to Their Excellencies

Special Staff Correspondence of the Star.

Ottawa, November 16.—Last night's State concert can be safely described as the most magnificent function of this kind which has ever taken place in Canada. If Ottawa had sought far and wide it could have chanced upon no more appropriate way of bidding farewell to a Governor-General and his wife whose efforts to advance the national arts of Canada have been by no means the least appreciated of their manifold activities.

Never in Canada has an audience more representative of the highest culture and intellect of the Dominion participated in any public ceremony. The auditorium of the Russel Theatre was ablaze with uniforms and robes, and resplendent with the glitter of orders and decorations. Lord Minto and his official household occupied the boxes of honour, across the house were the Premier and half-a-dozen Cabinet Ministers in their gold embroidered uniforms, Monsignor Sbaretti and the Archbishop of Ottawa, in the purple and ermine of the church. Principal Peterson and one or two Doctors of Law in scholastic crimson and black, judges and State officials, officers of a dozen regiments, and a sprinkling of bombes rit costumes, whose meaning was only apparent to those familiar with Ottawa—all these lent the pomp and circumstance of a State function to an occasion which, without them, would still have been noteworthy.

But the feature of the concert was not the audience, nor the soloists, nor even the orchestra, what signalized it and made it of particular value was the fact that it afforded opportunity for the production of the most interesting musical composition which has ever come from the pen of a Canadian composer.

Mr. Charles A. E. Harriss, principal of the McGill Conservatorium, paid in the name of Canada the highest tribute the art of Canada could have offered when he wrote and produced his "Pan" as an evidence of the gratitude musicians of the Dominion ever feel for the interest Lord and Lady Minto have displayed in their profession.

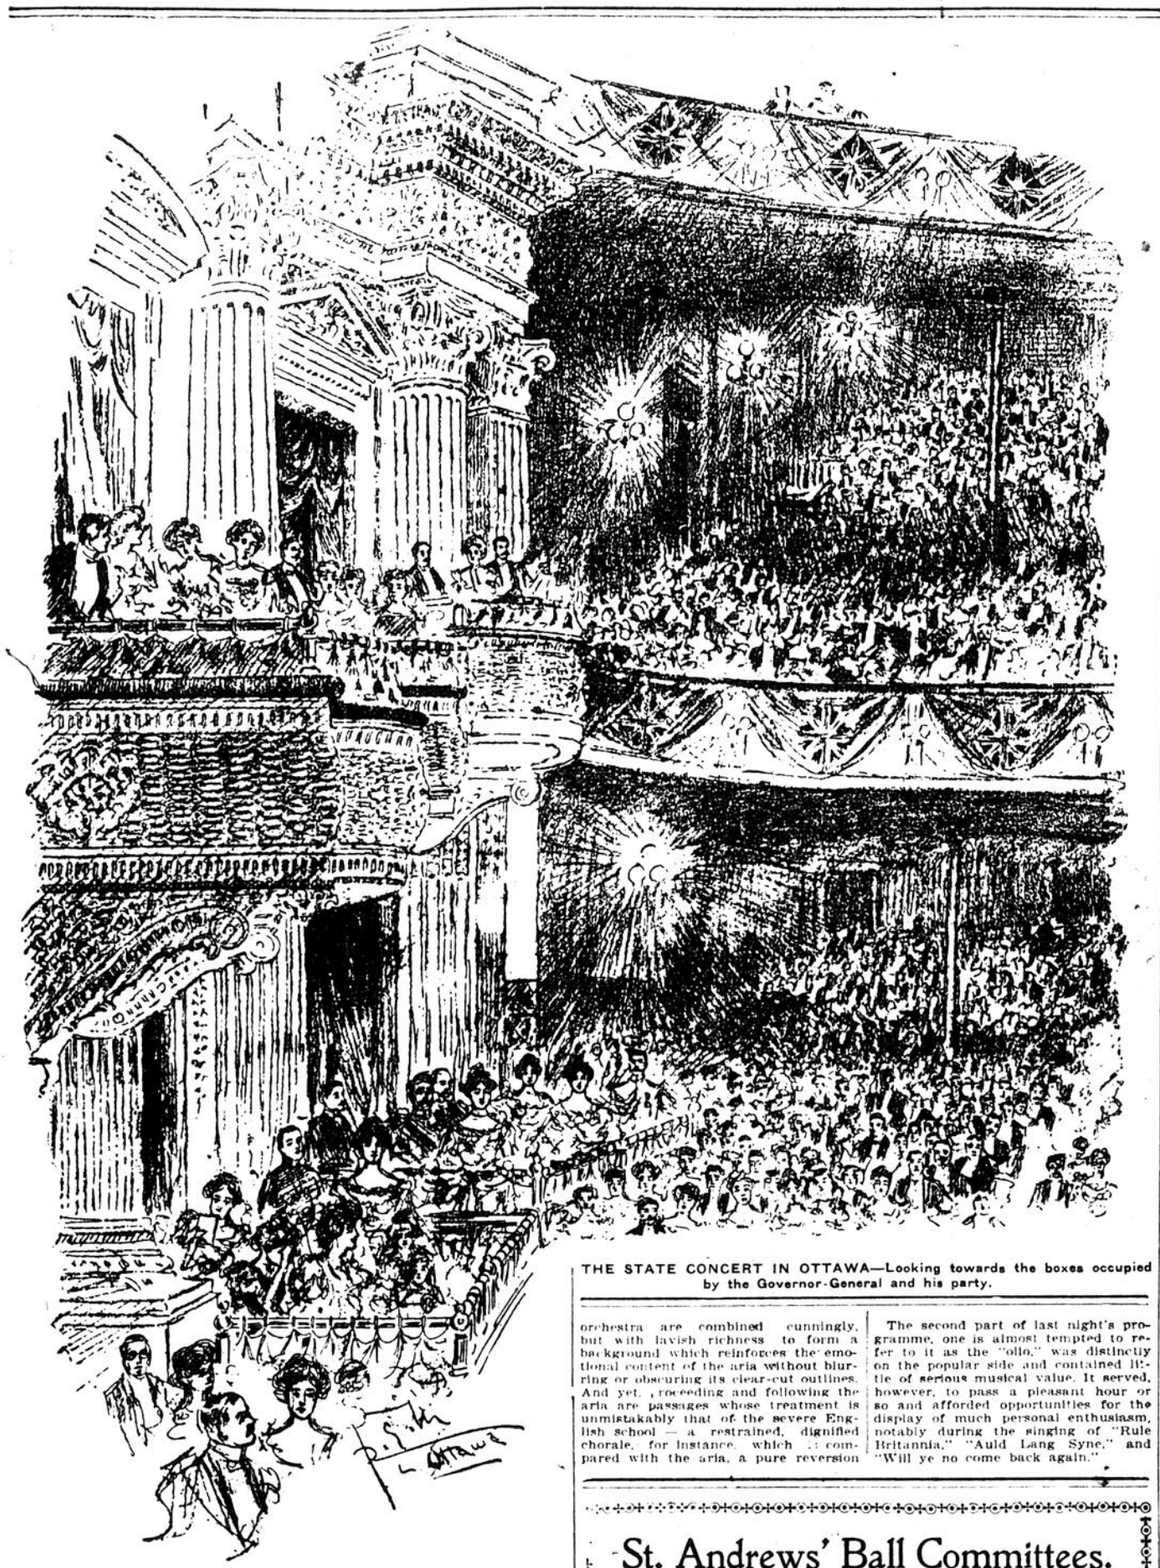
For "Pan" is, without doubt, a composition which shows the inspiration and fire of genius. It is so much more than an "occasional" work that it added dignity to rather than received dignity from the occasion which called it into being.

For its presentation Mr. Harriss had secured the services of the chorus which has long been directed by Mr. Horace Reyner, and the Symphony Orchestra, under Professor Goulet. These were supplemented by three well known singers from New York and half a dozen of the best instrumental soloists that could be procured in the American metropolis. Both chorus and orchestra have been in rehearsal many weeks and their efforts were creditable in a high degree.

Before entering upon any detailed criticism of the production, it ought in all fairness to be stated that to sing "Pan" adequately requires practically accepted the honour and responsibilities of the principalship of the McGill Conservatorium of Music, which carries with it tacit acceptance as head of the musical world of Canada. Whether or not the choice of Mr. Harriss for the position was influenced by the fact that he is the only one of all the Canadian musicians to have achieved any continued and recognized success through his serious compositions, the interest in his latest work was legitimately heightened by the circumstance.

"Pan" is not larger in conception or more pretentious in treatment than some of the compositions that preceded it, notably the "Coronation Mass," nor is it more melodious than parts of "Torquil." Theoretically it is bold and attractive, the motives being well chosen and skilfully developed, for "Pan" is a new departure for Mr. Harriss, in that it is more on the borderline between the conventional cantata form of the traditional English school and the symphonic poems of continental composers. To a certain extent it retains the characteristics of both schools and yet can be convincingly classed with neither; its leit-motif, Pan's magnificent aria, is pure tone-colouring, fervid, brilliant, emotional. It suggests Brahms and Strauss without being in the least reminiscent of either of them; all the colours of the orchestra are combined cunningly, but with lavish richness to form a background which reinforces the emotional content of the aria without blurring or obscuring its clear-cut outlines. And yet, proceeding and following the aria are passages whose treatment is unmistakably that of the severe English school — a restrained, dignified chorale, for instance, which, compared with the aria, a pure reversion to training, if not to type, and a finale which is massively Handelian and magnificently convincing.

From a musical standpoint, this is one of the most interesting in connection with the composition,—whether the severely critical judges who will ultimately pass upon the merits of "Pan," for its translation to a larger musical sphere than we can furnish here is only a matter of time, are going to accept without protest or at least question, the expedient of combining musical forms which heretofore have been kept apart. "Pan" is distinctly a new departure, an excursion, if not into untrodden fields at least by unconventional paths, and the greater the obvious charm of such a new departure the more certain it is to draw the fire of the phalanx of the comfortably conventional. That "Pan" has gained in charm and effectiveness by the method of treatment, Mr. Harriss has chosen and yet has preserved its integrity and consistency unimpaired, no one who heard it last night can question. And after all, the Higher musical critics formulate, but do not set the standards by which the right of compositions to exist are determined. The final judgment inheres in the musical public, not in the writers on music.



THE STATE CONCERT IN OTTAWA—Looking towards the boxes occupied by the Governor-General and his party.

The second part of last night's programme, one is almost tempted to refer to it as the "olio," was distinctly on the popular side and contained little of serious musical value. It served, however, to pass a pleasant hour or so and afforded opportunities for the display of much personal enthusiasm, notably during the singing of "Rule Britannia," "Auld Lang Syne," and "Will ye no come back again."

An Interesting Lecture.

Last evening an audience that completely filled Dionne's Hall listened to a most interesting lecture from Prof. Elliot, on the subject of "Success." The speaker said that he hoped that the desire for success was a part of the very nature of every member of the audience. In order to succeed the speaker showed the necessity for a most thorough qualification of natural choice of life work, concentration and consecration to the sphere of service chosen by the individual. The necessity for hard and patient toil, as also for an elevated moral character were strongly emphasized. The lecture was interspersed with the humorous to such an extent as to hold the attention of the audience throughout. At the conclusion brief speeches of appreciation were made by Mr. W. J. Burrell, Mr. J. B. Musgrove and Mr Hutchinson. The minister of the church, Rev. W. H. Stevens, presided and presented the lecturer with the thanks of the society for his presence and able lecture. During the evening a duet was rendered by the Misses Wilson and a chorus by the church choir.

Hub Colliery Reduces Output.

Special to the Montreal Star,

Glace Bay, N.S., November 16.—The Hub Colliery has closed down the main portion of its operations for the winter until navigation re-opens in the spring. Work in this pit will be confined to driving the deeps or removing pillars. The colliery was re-opened last season and employs over five hundred men. About half this number will be required to conduct mining operations for the winter

A Murder Trial at Sherbrooke.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Sherbrooke, November 16. — In the Court of King's Bench to-day was begun the trial of Napoleon Fouquet, of La Patrie, charged with the murder of his child. Fouquet has been in gaol awaiting his trial over a year. The charge is substance, is that on the 11th October, 1903, Fouquet caused the death of his two-year-old step-daughter by striking her and dropping her on the floor. The mother was away at the time. Fouquet had been drinking.

THE QUESTION OF "SPECIFIC" CHARGES

More Discussion at City Hall Regarding Police Investigation.

A SPECIAL COMMISSION

Chairman St. Denis in Favour of That Method of Sifting Alleged Scandal.

The [illegible] in the Star last night that the city attorney was asked to [illegible] statement from the Police Committee [illegible] be held [illegible] speech [illegible] this morning [illegible] at the meeting of the City Hall [illegible] today.

The Law Department holds that while writing to the Police Committee, showing specific charges were needed under circumstances, it was also pointed out, however, that the Police Committee, as a body, had perfect right to conduct what is termed an administrative investigation. The Law Department cannot understand why this was left out of the report of the Police Committee to the City Council.

The attorney of the Law Department points to the following clause in his opinion to the Police Committee, which [illegible] to conduct [illegible] investigation, and easily be held:

Nevertheless, your committee can make enquiries touching the administration of the Police Department by having what is termed an administrative enquiry, as a matter can be held at any time by a committee, judge or jury, at which the committee can collect all facts deemed necessary to enlighten the aldermen if the police are doing their duty to the city."

Despite the above opinion, the following was the text of the report of the Police Committee to the City Council, as to it being impossible to hold an investigation:

In accordance with the instructions of the City Council the Police Committee begs to report that, following the city attorney's advice in the matter, your committee, in view of Article 532 of the City Charter, cannot hold, nor would it be justified in asking for powers to hold an investigation into the Police Department without there being substantial and specific charges preferred."

Speaking of the troubles of his department to-day, Ald. St. Denis, chairman of the Police Committee, said, personally, his hands were clean in regard to the police scandals, and that at the meeting of the Police Committee to-day he would favour going to Council, and asking the appointment of a special commission to investigate into all police matters.

HARBOUR SHOULD BE EQUIPPED WITH FIRE TUGS.

The necessity of the harbour of Montreal being equipped with fire tugs came up at the meeting of the Harbour Board to-day. A report from Mr. John Kennedy, chief engineer, was read, respecting a fire which occurred on the Victoria Pier on Friday last.

It appears that in this instance a quantity of sulphur lying out of doors caught fire in some manner, and between the Commissioners rug St. Peter, which has a pump on board, and the city fire department, the blaze was extinguished.

The Commissioners were of the opinion that the city should have a sufficient number of fire tugs to protect properly upon the harbour front.

It was pointed out that this was not the duty of the Harbour Board. In such cities as New York, Buffalo and Detroit the fire boats formed a portion of the fire department, and the Commissioners did not consider that they were called upon to build and operate them in the city of Montreal, but at the same time there was a very urgent demand for appliances of this character.

It was decided that a conference should take place between the Mayor and the chairman upon the subject.

HEALTH OFFICER SAYS NO EPIDEMIC OF DIPHTHERIA.

"It is too bad," said the medical health officer to-day, "that certain reports are abroad to the effect that there is an epidemic of diphtheria in the city. There is no epidemic at all. During the past six weeks there have been about fifty cases. This is only 8 cases in a week nothing unusual at this season of the year. Last week there were only two deaths from the disease. It is not true also that the civic hospital on Moreau street is being used to treat diphtheria patients. It is a pity public alarm should be aroused by such sensational stories.

MAXIEME LEBEAU FOUND DEAD IN HOUSE TO-DAY.

Maxieme Lebeau, 42 years of age, was found dead at 58 Mitchison street to-day. The cause of death is not known, and it will be necessary for the Coroner to investigate the case. He ordered the body to be taken to the morgue, where a post-mortem examination will be made this afternoon by the medical experts, connected with the Coroner's Court.

MR. JAS. CRATHERN ON FINANCE COMMITTEE.

At the meeting of the Harbour Commissioners to-day, the name of Mr. James Crathern was added to the Finance Committee, the most important committee of the Board.

MUCH MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH

Inquest Held on Body of James Lassell at Morgue To-day.

WARNING TO THE JURYMEN

Coroner McMahon Says if Any Fail to Turn Up They Will Be Severely Punished.

There is still a good deal of mystery surrounding the death of James Lassell, who was a boilermaker in White's shop, on Peel street. He was found lying in a mangled condition, at the corner of St. James and Aqueduct streets, on the evening of November 7, and was removed to the General Hospital, where he died on Monday without having regained consciousness.

Coroner McMahon held an inquest over the body this morning, and after hearing several witnesses he found there was so much mystery attached to the case that he decided to adjourn the enquiry until next Tuesday morning, and in the meantime, every effort will eb made to find out how the man came by his death.

A. Harrison, of 112 Versailles street, said he found the deceased lying beside the tracks near Aqueduct street, on St. James street. Blood was pouring from wounds in his head. He was unconscious, and his clothing was covered with mud. He had the appearance of being dragged a considerable distance, as his hat was found at Versailles street, near the tracks.

The other witnesses called could throw no additional light on the case, and the coroner in announcing his decision to adjourn, warned the jurymen that if any of them failed to put in an appearance on Tuesday morning, at the morgue, they would be fined $40 or sent to gaol for two months.

COOKE-BLACKLEY TRIAL IS FIXED FOR FRIDAY.

Mr. William Blackley, the Toronto merchant, charged with libelling, Mr. J. P. Cooke when the latter was Crown Prosecutor, arrived in Montreal to-day and was at the Court of King's Bench ready for the trial.

The Glascoul murder trial is still in progress, however, and the libel case could not be commenced. Mr. Crankshaw, for Mr. Blackley, asked that a day be fixed for the trial, and that it should be thoroughly understood that on that day nothing should stop the procedure.

A juryman pointed out that the petit jury had already served the fourteen days, but His Lordship Mr. Justice Hall said that sorry though he was to detain them the Cooke-Blackley case must proceed and that it would be called on Friday morning.

EAST END ABATTOIR BOUGHT OUT BY UNITED STATES FIRM.

The East End Abattoir has changed hands. Messrs. D. E. Martin & Co., of Baltimore and Philadelphia, have bought out the controlling interest held by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. and the minor shareholders. The price has not been disclosed, but Mr. H. F. Cook, who is the representative here of the purchasers, had charge of the transfer, and the work of extension will commence as early as possible so as to increase the capacity of the concern. Messrs. Martin are manufacturers of the by-products of an abattoir, and have hitherto drawn largely on the Eastern abattoir for their branch manufactory on the canal bank near the Western Abattoir.

THE PREMIER AND LADY LAURIER ARRIVED IN CITY TO-DAY.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier arrived in town to-day, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Cawthra Mulock, on their way to Quebec, to take leave of their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess of Minto. Senator and Mrs. Casgrain entertained them at luncheon at the St. James Club. The other guests were Mr. C. M. Hays and Mr. Frank Morse.

HIS EXCELLENCY WILL SEND TWO MARCONI MESSAGES.

His Excellency Lord Minto, when he departs from Canada, will send two Marconi messages of farewell, one from Fame Point and one from Cape Race.

It is understood that one message will be addressed to the Premier and the other will be in the nature of a general farewell to the people of Canada.

JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH ON M.A.A.A. GROUNDS TO-MORROW.

As stated before in the Star, the match for the semi-finals in the Junior championship of the Quebec Rugby Union will be played off on the M. A. A. A. grounds to-morrow afternoon.

The time set is 2.15 p. m.

M. A. A. A. membership cards and Grand Trunk membership cards will be honoured.

THE WEATHER.

The Next Twenty-four Hours.

Fine to-day and on Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Thirty-two more shopping days then Christmas.

ABOUT WATCH VARIATIONS

It is a well known horological fact that watches when dirty are more easily affected by temperature variations than when clean and freshly oiled.

Your watch may have kept accurate time all summer. The approach of winter with its temperature extremes may cause it to vary. If it has not been cleaned within a year the cause may be easily explained.

Our watch repairers clean, watches from $1.00 upwards according to style of watch.

AN ELECTION INDECENCY.

Following the defeat of Messrs Borden and O'Mullin in Halifax, postcards, a fac-simile of which appears above, were extensively circulated in Halifax and other points in Nova Scotia by the jubilant Liberals. "Such an indecent proceeding," a Halifax correspondent points out, "is in keeping with the coarse abuse heaped upon Mr. Borden by the Chronicle, Mr. Fielding's local organ. So much bitterness was engendered under the auspices of this newspaper that the crowning act—the circulation of the post-cards—was a climax in consonance with the general tenor of the campaign. The reflecting Liberals of Nova Scotia are not taking any pleasure out of the methods of the Fielding-Murray henchmen of the baser sort who had charge of the Halifax campaign."

The Thanksgiving Turkey.

What Christmas would prove to the average child without Santa Claus, Thanksgiving would be without a turkey. The festive fowl which on so many occasions has been "butchered to make a Roman holiday," with the cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie has come to be associated with the day. A turkey famine would prove a terrible disaster, yet that is just what Montreal is threatened with.

The turkey, the barnyard naturalists state, is a most delicate fowl. It can not stand cold, wet weather. On account of the cold spring of last year, many of the more youthful turkeys succumbed. This latter has resulted in an increase in price until the best authorities now state the Thanksgiving turkey, if of the choicest variety, will cost anything from 18 to 22 cents.

Fowls of inferior quality may, of course, be had at a lower price, but turkeys of all descriptions will be from two to five cents higher than last year.

There are other contributory causes. The 12,000 turkeys which go to supply the tables of Montrealers on Thanksgiving Day are collected from throughout the country. Many of them come from the Eastern provinces, and here a new influence is at work. The turkey crop, which, in the United States this year, has been sparse, has induced the trade to send out agents all along the border who have paid the Canadian farmer all manner of fancy prices. The best turkeys have brought as high as twenty cents, while lower grades have ranged from 15 cents up. As a result the American will pay anything up to 30 cents per pound.

The Canadian trade who have formerly drawn largely from this section of the country have been compelled to draw largely upon the back regions.

Only the other day in Pembroke some fifteen tons of turkey sold at prices ranging from 14 to 19 cents. This will mean on the Montreal market about 16 to 20 cents.

However, with the help of more stuffing and lots of pie, the youthful Montrealers may yet hope to be reduced to that state of bliss which elicited the remark last Thanksgiving Day from one of them. "Carry I upstairs, don't bend I."

COMMISSIONERS TO-DAY THREATENED TO RESIGN SEATS

The controversy over the harbour shed plans is developing.

After the meeting of the Harbour Commissioners to-day there was talk of resignations among the members, provided the Dominion Government, as represented by the Department of Public Works insists upon a revision of the plans now under way, and the adoption of the one story, in place of the two story, as approved by the Commissioners and also by the Government previous to the granting of the contract to Messrs. Peter Lyall and ons.

For its attitude, the shipping interest came in for a deal of criticism by the Commissioners. The members, with perhaps one exception, resent the manner in which the Shipping Interest have become associated with these new plans over the heads, it is alleged, of the Harbour Commissioners.

The discussion opened with the secretary reading a communication from the Department of Marine and Fisheries, in which it was stated that according to information at hand the plans as formulated by Mr. John Kennedy, chief engineer of the Trust, and which are now under way, are not adapted to the requirements of the port. Accompanying this letter was a mass of correspondence on the subject, including a long document from Mr. Percial St. George, in which that gentleman pointed out what he considered to be the lame points of the two-story plan.

These documents were not read, but were ordered to be printed for the use of the members of the Board. There was a further communication, in which it was intimated that Mr. Raymond Prefontaine, Minister of Public Works, will meet the Harbour Commissioners and discuss the subject, he being accompanied upon this occasion by Col. Anderson, chief engineer of the department, who, it appears, also disapproves of the Kennedy plan.

One of the commissioners in the midst of the discussion intimated that the shipping interest had gone to Mr. St. George, without the knowledge of the Commissioners, and had asked him to prepare plans.

Mr. Reford, who sits on the Board as a representative of the shipping interest, denied the allegation, stating most positively that the idea of a new plan for a one story shed did not originate with the shipping men.

"Did the idea originate with Mr. St. George?"

Mr. Reford did not know.

Mr. Doran — "The shipping men have taken it upon themselves to communicate with the department, over the head of the Commissioner. The shipping men walk around with a new scheme up their sleeves and the Commissioners are among the last to hear of it."

In Commissioner Doran's opinion the shipping men were consulting only their own interests, and not the interests of Montreal as the national port of the Dominion, when they favoured a wharf with a roof on it, in place of a two story shed.

"Here," he said, "is a port with all the natural advantages. Here is a hillside sloping down to the river and the shipping men do not know enough to take advantage of it. Why, even a farmer has sufficient foresight to take advantage of a hillside, so that he may have a two storey barn with a minimum of labour. Here the streets slope down toward the river, and the logical way of gaining entrance to the second storey of the sheds is by beginning up in the city a bit and bringing the roadway over Commissioners street, all at a grade which would be only nominal.

NOT COMPETENT TO JUDGE.

"I do not consider the shipping interest competent to judge of the traffic of the port. There are railway facilities to consider, and there are other interests, which the shipping men do not take into consideration at all.

"The only errors which have been made in the present plans are errors which have arisen by endeavouring to conciliate all interests, and now Mr. Kennedy is the target for a dissatisfied faction."

As Senator Mackay was ill, and both the Mayor and Mr. Bickerdike are absent, it was thought best to defer further consideration of the new plans until a later date.

After the meeting a model of the two-story sheds was brought into the board room and inspected by the members of the Commission. They all expressed admiration for the general arrangement, and Mr. Reford expressed the intention of bringing some of the shipping men down to see it.

St. Lawrence Division.

Largely signed requisitions have been presented to Mr. John J. Ryan, manager of the Union Brewery, asking him to come forward as an independent candidate for St. Lawrence division in the forthcoming provincial elections. Mr. Ryan is an old and well known resident of St. Lawrence division.

EDUCATIONAL WORK IN THE PROVINCE

Important Changes Contemplated Regarding Training in Agriculture.

SIR WM. MACDONALD'S PLANS

Prof. Robertson May Resign Commissionership of Agriculture to Take Up Other Work.

There is some reason to believe, according to a special despatch from Ottawa, that Prof. Robertson has resigned, or is about to resign, his position as Dominion Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying.

For some time past Prof. Robertson has been identified with the establishment of schools for the instruction in manual training, other schools for the encouragement of nature study, and consolidated rural schools. For a great deal of this work Sir William Macdonald has generously provided the funds, and it is now believed that the Montreal philanthropist has larger schemes of educational development on hand.

According to report Sir William has purchased several acres of land at Ste. Anne's, near Montreal, upon which he intends to erect an institution for scientific training in all branches of agriculture, similar to that which the Ontario Government maintains at Guelph, but on a larger scale.

Corroboration of the report that Prof. Robertson has resigned cannot be had, seeing that the professor himself is away in the Maritime Provinces, and Hon. Sydney Fisher for the present maintains a strict reticence as to the probable departmental changes. It is believed, however, that if Prof. Robertson is giving up his present position, it is to associate himself more closely with the educational work which has been inaugurated with Sir William Macdonald's assistance.

In the event of his resigning his present position the office might be abolished as unnecessary, seeing that several divisions have been created since Prof. Robertson first took charge.

Sir William Macdonald, when seen to-day by a representative of the Star, said it was true that Prof. Robertson was at present away from home. He would, however, be back in Ottawa at the beginning of the week, and would be better able to speak for himself. Sir William said he could not speak for the professor as it might do that gentleman a great injustice. He had no knowledge of his present intentions. Mr. Macdonald talked about the farm at St. Anne's.

The property now belonged to him and he did not think it was of any great public interest what use he would make of it. Sir William appeared to be in the best of good spirits, and expressed regret at not being able to give more definite plans at present regarding the project.

BEST METHODS AND MEDIUMS.

The Metropolitan Furniture Co. Has Found Publicity Pays.

"Yes, we do a large business," said Mr. T. A. Emmans, manager of the Metropolitan House Furnishing Co. "We have been 22 years building up our business. Now it occupies the whole of this building and part of the next one.

"It does not seem to make much difference which particular line we advertise, we find that publicity will create a demand for it. In the one item of wringers alone, we have sold over 100,000 of the Eclipse brand. To sell goods one must resort to good methods of publicity, which means selecting the best medium, and that means the best newspapers."

"We have not less than 5,000 customers upon our books, a great many of whom we secured through our advertising in the Star, which has the largest circulation amongst the English speaking people of this community."

"In fact, we use only one other English paper and one French paper."

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY CASE HAS BEEN POSTPONED UNTIL FRIDAY.

The case against Bissonnette and others, charged with conspiracy to cause corrupt acts to be committed, in connection with the recent election in St. Antoine division, came before the court in enquete this morning. There were still some of those named in the warrant who had not been arrested. The array of counsel was somewhat formidable, and for three-quarters of an hour the question of whether the case should be proceeded with now or an adjournment be decided upon was before the court. The counsel argued it out in both languages. It finally got down to a question of when, and in the end the court (Judge Desnoyers) announced that the case would be taken up at two o'clock on Friday afternoon.

SIR P. GIROUARD IN SOUTH AFRICA

St. James's Gazette Exonerates Him From Blame Re Railway Failures.

IN THE TRANSVAAL COLONY

Alfred Baldwin, M.P., Warns Britain Preference Campaign Is in Critical Stage.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, November 16. — The St. James's Gazette, referring to Lord Milner's congratulation of the Transvaal on the rapid strides made towards an adequate railway system, says: "Sir Percy Girouard, that admirable expert, is not to be blamed for the comparative failure up to the present. Running on an ordinary line in time of peace did not fall into his particular province, and his successor, doubtless a more practical though more prosaic business man, will work effectually upon the foundation already laid to bring the railway to the pitch of perfection necessary to the proper opening up of the country."

NEED FOR ACTION.

Mr. Alfred Baldwin, M.P., speaking at Worcester, said that it was impossible to continue in the same old groove because things in the Colonies were shaping themselves very quickly, and if they did not take care they would be left behind. Canada had already given a reduction in tariffs, which had resulted in great advantage to the trade of the country, but America was only too anxious to bring about a reciprocity treaty with Canada, and the day that was done would seal the fate of Canada, for commercial union would inevitably lead to political union.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT BROCKVILLE

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., November 16.—The most disastrous fire in Brockville in many years occurred early this morning, reducing to ashes the large Wringer Works associated with the James Smart Manufacturing Company, also a portion of the Gardiner Tool Works operated by the same company. The blaze had its origin in the adjoining sheds of the Central Canada Coal Company and is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The flames had nearly an hour's start before the brigade was called out, and fanned by a stiff northwest wind they were beyond control when the water was turned on.

The fire spread to the Wringer Works, and that building was soon doomed, owing to the inflamable material in the stock.

The flames then jumped across the street to the tool works and for an hour or more it looked as if the entire plant of the company, together with a large portion of the residential portion of the town, would be wiped out. The works are built on the river front, and fortunately the wind carried the sparks into the water.

By strenuous efforts the firemen saved the major portion of the tool works, though much valuable machinery in detached parts was destroyed.

The Coal Company's sheds are a complete loss, and many boat-houses and skiffs went up in smoke. The loss is roughly placed at $20,000, on which there is $15,000 insurance.

FEDERAL BY-ELECTION MAY TAKE PLACE IN STANSTEAD COUNTY.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ayer's Cliff, November 16.—The rumour is current and every indication points to the early resignation of Mr. H. Lovell, member-elect for the county of Stanstead. It is said that Mr. Gillman ex-M.L.A., is to receive a judgeship and that Mr. Lovell will take a seat in the Legislature.

Mr. E. Goff Penny, of Georgeville, it is said, will be the nominee of the Liberal party in the event of another Federal contest, and Hon. M. F. Hackett it is thought will again go into the fight in the interests of the Liberal-Conservative party.

Mr. H. Lovell, M.P., who was in town yesterday, it is said, verified these statements, saying that there would undoubtedly be a by-election in the county.

MR. S. CARMICHAEL TENDERED NOMINATION IN ST. ANTOINE.

The Conservatives of St. Antoine division to-day offered the candidacy for the Provincial Legislature to Mr. Saumarez Carmichael, past president of the Junior Conservative Club.

Mr. Carmichael expressed his reluctance to accept the candidacy in opposition to the expression of opinion in the manifesto of Mr. Flynn.

He expressed his appreciation of the honour done him, and his conviction that the men who had elected Ald. Ames by such a triumphant majority a few days ago, could elect him if they so desired. He could not at the moment, however, consent to become a candidate, and it was decided to adjourn and consult with some of the party leaders outside the division.

Mr. Eugene Lafleur, K.C., was yesterday chosen as the Liberal candidate in St. Antoine's, and has accepted the candidacy. He has already set to work to organize his committees, and prepare for the election on November 25th.

FUNERAL OF LATE DR. MACCALLUM.

The funeral of the late Dr. MacCallum, who was one of the oldest physicians in the city, took place from the family residence this morning, 344 Dorchester street. Prior to the time at which the cortege moved to the Bonaventure station, a short service was held in the house, being conducted by the Rev. Dr. Barclay, of St. Paul's Church. The attendance at the funeral was large, including, as it did, many of the most prominent physicians in the city. Interment took place at Odelltown this afternoon.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES.—The Congregational churches of the city will hold a united service in Bethlehem Church, at which the Rev. H. Pedley will deliver a sermon entitled, "Lest We Forget."

Why should you send your money abroad when you can secure a policy in The National Life of Canada for less, and have the full reserve invested in Government and Municipal Debentures in Canada? Send for rates. Head office, Temple Building, Toronto, Ont.

STOCK MARKET DULL AND EASIER

Reactions Were of Small Extent and Undertone Remains Bullish.

SELLING OF DOMINION IRON

It Was the Feature of the Forenoon Dealings—Pacific Down a Point But Rallied Partially.

The trading element in the stock market would doubtless be quite willing to see the range of prices react somewhat further from the top level attained during the bullish excitement at the close of last week's market, but so far the reactionary tendency has been of extremely moderate extent. Sentiment seems to be very largely committed to the bull side of the market, and although some stocks look high enough to conservative eyes, there is a feeling that in other directions the market is capable of some further advancement.

SELLING OF DOMINION IRON.

There was a fair volume of liquidation in Dominion Iron common which carried the price further back to 17¾, after opening at 18, but the preferred stocks and the bonds were firm. The common, it will be remembered, rose to 19⅝ on Saturday last. The preferred sold to-day at 47½ to 48¾, and the bonds at 77½ to 77¼. The highest for the preferred on the recent upward movement was 49 and 78 for the bonds.

Canadian Pacific, which touched a fresh high level yesterday at 133 to 132⅞, opened down a point to-day at 132, but later recovered ½. This change was rather striking in view of the fact that trading in Wall Street opened at 132⅞, and declined to 132⅛ by very easy stages. The rights touched a new high level at 6⅛ for a small lot, the ruling price being 5⅞ to 6.

TRACTIONS WERE DULL.

The development of an easier tone in Wall Street doubtless helped to make some portions of the local list quiet, such as in Twin City and Detroit United. Twins were unchanged at 106¾, and Detroit United was fractionally lower at 76½ to 76⅞. Toledo Electric relapsed into quietness again and sold at 23½. Local tractions were dull at 214½ for Montreal Street and 107 for Toronto, both showing fractional losses.

In such industrial issues as Nova Scotia Steel, Dominion Coal and Mackay preferred, there was a little business with but slight accompanying price changes. Scotia ranged between 67¼ and 67½, but the preferred was a full point higher at 109. The bonds sold at 107¾ compared with 106 a few days ago. Mackay was firmer and dull at 74. Montreal Power opened at 84, and after selling at 83⅞, recovered to 84. Ogilvie Mills preferred was inactive at 130 bid and 135 asked.

DECLINE AND RALLY IN WALL STREET.

New York, November 16.—Uneasiness in London over international relations was reflected in sharp opening declines in the stock market here to-day in all of the internationals. Losses ran to a large fraction in Atchison, Kansas and Texas, Norfolk and Western, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, U. S. Steel and Amalgamated Copper. The offsetting gains were principally among industrials and specialties.

Noon.—A rally carried Rock Island, Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio, Amalgamated Copper, Sugar and Realty back to last night's level, or a fraction above. The demand died out at the rally, and the market became dull and irregular, some stocks receding to the lowest. Some of the active speculative bonds reacted, but investment issues were firm.

HOLIDAY TONE IN TORONTO MARKET.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, November 16.—The Toronto market was quiet to-day, with something of a holiday tone. Opening prices showed a generally slight decline, with dealings in small lots, and neither selling pressure nor buying demand of any extent. General Electric showed firmness early, advancing ⅞ to 173⅛. Toronto Electric Railway opened lower at 152½. C.P.R. rights were in some demand at 5⅞ to 6, with the stock quiet and lower, following New York. Steel and Coal opened at a small decline, Coal ⅜ lower, at 63⅛, and Nova Scotia Steel ⅜ lower, at 67⅜. Dominion Steel early sold at 18¼ and 18. Tractions were quiet. Forenoon transactions were:

Mackay com.—16 at 33½; pref., 14 at 74.

Toronto Electric Light—125 at 152½.

Bell Telephone—50 at 162 to 162¼.

Money and Exchange Rates.

Call money continues quiet and unchanged at 5 per cent.

Banking exchanges to-day reported by the Montreal Clearing House were $4,785,719.

New York—Noon—Money on call steady at 2½ per cent.; prime mercantile paper, 4 to 4½ per cent. Exchanges, $407,999,846.

London.—Spanish fours, 87¼. Bar silver quiet, 26 13-16d per ounce. Money, 1½ to 2 per cent. Discount rates, short bills, 3 per cent.; three months' bills, 2 15-16 to 3 per cent.

An Irregular Wheat Market.

From the Special Correspondent of The Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, November 16.—Wheat was unsettled and irregular. December sold from 111 1-4 to 110 3-8 and up to 112 1-4. May from 111 3-4 to 110 7-8 to 112 3-8. They closed yesterday at 111 and 111 1-2 respectively. The feature of the day was the heavy covering of short contracts early by Armour, in order to secure the profits within easy reach. His purchases were around two million bushels at a time when the entire trade seemed to be on the selling side. The weather in Argentine was reported as excellent for the crops and the weekly routine statistics were rather bearish.

THE DESTRUCTION OF RUSSIAN TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER.

Che Foo, November 16.—7 p.m.—The Russians, with the exception of one man, left the destroyer Rastoropny during the afternoon. This last man lit fuses and blew up the vessel.

There were three dull explosions, which were scarcely discernible a hundred yards from the place where they occurred. Almost simultaneously the Rastoropny sank.

A battle spar marks her grave. It is impossible to-night to secure an explanation of the action of the Russians, but it is believed that they were determined not to allow a repetition of the Ryeshitelni incident.

Since the upward trend of stock prices commenced, eighteen of the leading local active issues have had an average rise from the low point of the year of 16 points, but they still average 32 points below the highest point at which they stood in 1901-02. In only two instances, that of Canadian Pacific and Ogilvie preferred has their present price approached anything like near to the value which ruled when the speculative boom was at its height.

Gross earnings of Duluth South Shore for the first week of November show increases over the same week in the two previous years, viz., $10,642 and $8,697 respectively. Since July 1st, however, the aggregate makes an unfavourable comparison, as follows:

	1904.	1903.	1902.
First week Nov.	$ 58,027	$ 47,385	$ 49,330
Since July 1st	199,038	1,063,616	1,080,813

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has declared a dividend of $7 a share, payable December 17. This dividend declaration makes a total dividend for this year of 36 per cent., compared with 44 per cent. in 1903.

Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway maintains its volume of gross traffic for the first week of November. Since July 1st there has been substantial gains in the aggregate. The figures are:

	1904.	1903.	1902.
First week Nov.	$ 219,221	$ 196,989	$ 169,943
Since July 1st	3,148,453	2,919,750	2,839,584

The gross traffic earnings of Twin City Rapid Transit for the first week of November show a gain of $3,615 over the same week in 1903, and from January to date, the aggregate gain exceeds $194,498. The figures are:

	1904.	1903.	Inc.
First week Nov.	$ 81,702	$ 78,087	$ 3,615
From Jan. 1.	3,623,839	3,429,441	194,498

The Sao Paulo Co. is issuing 5,000 shares common stock, offered at par to shareholders of record Nov. 21st next, on the basis of one new share for each fourteen held.

London is a believer in Canadian Pacific, says a New York item. As a 6 per cent. dividend payer it certainly is not high in comparison with other stocks of similar class. Europe is not enjoying monetary ease just now, hence the foreign operations in American stocks are limited. Canada is, however, very prosperous, and the Canadians have shown before what they can do in the line of speculation when the buying fever is on. The traders in Montreal & Toronto are inclined to follow the London sentiment, and are therefore playing Canadian Pacific for a rise.

Money on call in Wall Street yesterday loaned at 3 per cent., the highest rate attained since January 16 of this year.

Speyer & Company, of New York, have purchased $25,000,000 of the $163,000,000 4 per cent. refunding bonds authorized by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway last March. James Speyer will shortly become a director and member of the finance committee of the Rock Island Company, of New Jersey. Funds for the sale of the bonds will provide for the company's requirements until the summer of 1906.

A representative of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York, states that applications for the new Japanese 6 per cent. bonds, of which $30,000,000 were taken by local bankers, have been coming in satisfactorily, but they expect much better results when the interior is heard from.

BUTTER SITUATION IN GREAT BRITAIN.

Dowdall Bros. write from Manchester under date of November 5 regarding the butter market, as follows: "The price of Danish butter approximates closer to choicest Irish creameries. The latter have risen, Danish has fallen. Quite contrary to general expectation, the official rate of Danish is lowered three kroner. Supplies are increasing, and the Germans demand less. Danish methods are frequently mysterious, but whilst so many tied orders at open price are forwarded direct, it will enable the Danes to manipulate prices in their own interest. Forecasts from Scandinavia should be carefully scrutinized and discounted. Danish and Swedish shipments at sea now crossing, 21,938 casks, or 991 more than last week. The proper place to fix the price is on the open landed market, where butters from all countries come into open competition. Excellent supplies of choicest Canadians and splendid creameries have held Danish in check. The Danish quotation this week is 10s cheaper than the same week last year. High figures for fixed c.i.f. engagements for New Zealand and Australian butter for several winters past have lost importers money. The tendency of keen buyers is to wait arrivals in London on consignment or otherwise, and to run the ordinary market risk. Landed buyers last season gained an average of 10s per cwt. over contracting c.i.f. operators. The agricultural returns just issued show an increase in milch cows of 2,640 in Ireland over the previous year and of 90,... in Great Britain. It is interesting to note that whilst in Ireland there are more cattle than people, in England the proportion is one beast to six persons. The increase in cattle in Ireland corresponds with the increase in pastures and the decrease of arable land."

WHEAT MARKETS STRONGER TO-DAY.

Liverpool Was Easier—Local Market for Oats Was Active and Prices Were Firm.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, November 16.—Wheat quiet and dull, with little doing. Some demand for spot stuff by exporters; little offering. November, 95⅜c; December, 94c; May, 98⅞c. Cash prices: No. 1 northern, 97½c; No. 2 do., 92¼c; No. 3 do., 86½c; No. 4 extra, 77½c; No. 4, 76¼c; No. 5, 66¼c; feed, 59c. Receipts of wheat, 355; last year, Sunday.

Fine weather in England; forecast, cloudy. Fine in France; forecast, fine.

The Liverpool wheat market closed easier to-day, December being 1⅝c down at 7s 2d, March closing ⅝c down at 7s 4d, and May ½c down at 7s 3¾d. No. 1 northern Manitoba was steady at 7s 8⅛d and ½d to 7s 9d. Antwerp was steady at 18¾ for Walla Walla. Paris was 10 up, November closing at 23.80, and March and June at 25.35.

Chicago was firmer at noon, December wheat being ¾c up at $1.11¾; December corn was ¾c up at 50¾c; December oats, ½c up at 28⅞c.

Duluth was ⅛c up at noon at $1.14⅝. Minneapolis was ½c up on December at $1.12¾, and ⅝c up on May at $1.14½.

Winnipeg was ⅛c up on November at 95⅜c, and ¼c up on December at 94⅜c, and steady on May at 99⅛c.

LOCAL MARKET.—There was a much more active demand for oats this morning, and several sales, aggregating 7,000 to 10,000 bushels, were sold to outside points. These oats will not come into the city, but were they to do so they would have had to sell at about 41c in store. A round lot of No. 2 oats, consisting of about 10,000 bushels, was sold at 39¾c in store, but this would not be a fair price for local trade. The general view of the price of No. 2 is 40½c, store, No. 3 being about a cent less. Demand was good again to-day, and the market was rather firmer again.

Corn is very firm. Demand is active and to-day 63c per bushel in store was paid for a considerable quantity of No. 3 mixed.

Peas were held at 67c per bushel, high freights, for No. 2, for Portland and West St. John, while No. 2 rye was quoted at 75 to 76c west.

Buckwheat was quoted at 58½c in store, and at 56¼c bid, low freights to New York, while bids for Portland and West St. John were 54½c.

FLOUR.—It was stated to-day that not in ten years have the export and domestic markets been so near each other as at the present. This augurs well for the trade. Official quotations are: Manitoba strong bakers, $5.50, and patents, $5.10 per barrel, in bags; Ontario straight rollers, in bags, $2.55 to $2.60, in barrels, $5.40 to $5.50, and winter wheat patents, in barrels, $5.70 to $5.80.

OYSTERS AND SALT FISH IN DEMAND.

The demand for fresh fish continues good. Frozen stock, such as dore or pickerel, pike, western halibut and salmon, and also herring, are commencing to arrive, but there will not be a very active demand for it before real cold weather sets in, which will likely not be for another week or two. Recent heavy storms along the Atlantic coast have made it next to impossible for dealers to receive full supplies of fresh fish, but as a large proportion of the local stock comes from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, the scarcity in the American markets will not be severely felt.

Merchants are now buying their supplies of salt fish, and the market is brisk, as it usually is at this time of year. Cod fish of all kinds is advancing in price, as the scarcity is beginning to be felt. Skinless cod is very firm, and the chances are that it will advance further, while green cod shows a similar tendency.

Demand for haddies and kippered herring is brisk. Large bloaters are hard to get, in fact, there are none, and dealers have to depend upon the medium sizes, usually known as St. John bloaters.

There is a brisk demand both for bulk oysters and for shells, the latter of which are moving freely. Dealers are making an effort to secure their stocks of shell oysters at once, as the season is near an end, and it will not be safe to ship after the cold weather sets in.

Leonard Bros.' circular quotes the market as follows.

FRESH FISH.—Frozen Gaspe salmon, 15c; fresh B.C. salmon, 14c; halibut, fresh, 11c per lb.; fresh steak cod, 6c; fresh market cod, 4c; do express haddock, 4 1-2 to 5c; lake trout and white fish, 8c per lb.; fresh frozen pickerel or dore, 7 1-2c; dressed bull heads, 8c lb.; dressed perch, 8c; mackerel, 10c lb.

SALT FISH.—Loch Fyne herrings, $1 per keg; No. 1 salt mackerel, in 20-lb. kits, $2; new salt herrings, Labrador, bbls., $5.50; do half bbls., $3.25; pails of 20 lbs., 80c each; green cod, No. 1, $6.75 per 200 lbs.; No. 2, $5.50 per 100 lbs.; pickled sea trout, $9 per bbl., $5.50 per half bbl.

SMOKED FISH.—Haddies, 7 to 7 1-2c per lb.; kippered herrings, $1 per box; smoked herrings, in bundles of 5 boxes, at 15c per box; bloaters, $1.00 to $1.25.

PREPARED FISH.—Boneless cod, in bricks, 6c per lb.; boneless fish, in bricks, 5 1-2c; boneless fish, loose, in 25-lb. boxes, 4 1-2c; skinless cod, in cases, new pack, $5 per case.

OYSTERS.—Standards are quoted at $1.40 per gal.; selects, $1.60.

FRUIT TRADE FAIR APPLES AT LIVERPOOL.

Cables received this morning on the state of the apple market in Liverpool were not very encouraging. Prices are lower, though the quantity offering is not overly large, being about 27,000 barrels. Baldwins were quoted at 9s 9d to 11s 9d per bbl., Greenings at 10s to 12s; Spies, 13s to 15s; Russets, 12s to 13s, and Kings, 15s to 17s.

The demand for fruit in the local market has been fair during the past week, but there has been nothing approaching activity. Dealers are not complaining, but they would like to find trade brisker. This will not likely take place, however, till towards Christmas.

Messrs. Hart & Tuckwell's circular quotes the market as follows:

NEW LEMONS—Extra fancy, 300 size, $3.50; fancy, $3.25.

PEARS—Fancy winter Nelles, per box, $3.25.

BANANAS—Jamaica, $1.50.

CRANBERRIES.—Finest dark berries, $8; dark do., $7.50; 25 qt. boxes, $2.25; 32 qt. boxes, $2.75.

COCOANUTS.—New stock, per bag, $3.75.

SWEET POTATOES.—Double head Jerseys, $4.50; Cloth Tops, $2.75.

GRAPES—Tone is firm; good coloured stock, $5.50; finest heavy weight, long keepers, $7.

ORANGES—Floridas, 150 size, $4.50; do 176 size, $4.25; Jamaicas, 150 size, $2.75; do 176, 200, 216 size, $2.50; do barrels, $4.25.

POULTRY WAS IN GOOD DEMAND TO-DAY.

Supplies Continue Very Light and Prices are Firm—Other Lines are Steady.

Prescott, Ont., November 16.—The first annual turkey fair, under the management of the Board of Trade, held here yesterday, was a pronounced success. Three Canadian and seven American buyers were present. Ten tons of turkeys were sold at from 15 to 19 cents, ruling price, 16 cents per pound. From present indications, it is expected that the horse and cattle fair advertised for December 6th will be also a great success.

Crysler, November 16.—The cheese boarded was 1000 boxes, all white. All sold on board at 10c. It has been a very successful board for the season of 1904. Resolutions were adopted for the next season to register all cheese on board and not to sell off the board without permission of the president. The board is also to meet as usual on Saturday at 2 p.m., the first meeting to be called by the president and to notify all buyers of meeting.

Campbellford, Ont., November 16.—At the cheese board meeting, 700 boxes were boarded. Bird bought 264 at 10⅛c, and Magrath 150 at 10 1-16c; balance unsold. This is the last meeting of the board for this season.

POULTRY.—The market holds about steady under a good demand. Commission men have received very little stock so far, and many of them have not handled anything at all as yet. Although turkeys are quoted as selling at 14 to 16c. This price would seem to be very low, when it is considered that very few country points quote less than that much being paid to farmers. It is only when odd lots can be picked up at 12c or 12½c, that they can be sold at 14 to 16c. There is no question that turkeys will be very dear by Christmas. Ducks are apparently more scarce than turkeys, as practically none have been received here, so far. They would probably bring the same price as turkeys. A case of mixed chickens sold here yesterday at 9 to 10c per lb., but chickens alone would be worth 11 to 12c. Fowl are quoted at 8 to 9c, and geese at 7½ to 8½c. The above prices are for good stock, but should any one wish for choice stock he would probably have to concede a premium on these figures all the way around. Fowl are fairly plentiful, but all other stock seems to be very scarce. Possibly the high price of eggs may tend to influence farmers to hold on to their young stock.

The above telegram shows how dear turkeys are at outside towns.

CHEESE.—Shipments of cheese from the port of Montreal last week amounted to 104,919 boxes, or 54,023 more than those of the corresponding week of last year. Total shipments since the first of the season amounted to 2,015,736 boxes, or 275,772 less than those for the corresponding period of last year.

Shipments via Portland last week amounted to 3,737 boxes, those since the first of the season being 42,489 boxes, or 13,620 less than for the corresponding period of last year.

The market was steady this morning. The outlook is firm, and a letter from the west speaks of an exporter having bought a large quantity of the cheese remaining in one section at 10c. Quotations here are 9⅞⅞ to 10c for Quebecs, and 10¼c for Ontarios, recent receipts.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade to-day were 10,366 boxes.

BUTTER—Shipments of butter from the port of Montreal last week amounted to 12,169 packages, or 6,563 more than for the corresponding week of last year. Total shipments since the first of the season amounted to 478,294 packages, or 145,240 more than those for the corresponding period of last year.

The market continues very firm, and holders of finest creameries are asking 20½c for them, 20¼c having been bid and refused this morning. We quote 20¼ to 20½c for choicest makes, and 20c for fine, medium to good being 19 to 19¾c.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade to-day were 1,616 packages.

BEANS.—The local demand is good, and the market is about steady at $1.30 to $1.35 per bushel for primes, according to quantity.

HOPS.—The market holds firm at 30 to 35c for good to choice Canadians.

general opinion of business men is that EDMONTON will in a very few years be a busy MANUFACTURING CITY, one is that the coal supply in and around EDMONTON is practically inexhaustible, and can be mined at an extremely low figure, thus ensuring unlimited power at a minimum cost.

WHY

not invest in this progressive city. Lots are at present selling at from $100 to $250, on terms to suit every one.

TWO CONVENTIONS HELD AT LACHUTE.

Lachute, November 16.—The conventions of the two political parties were held here yesterday to choose candidates to represent Argenteuil in the Provincial Legislature. The Conservatives decided to put Mr. Delaronde, of Andrews in the field, he asked a day to decide.

The Liberals nominated Hon. W. A. Weir, K.C., who with others spoke. Rev. Ernest Thomas, Methodist minister in Lachute, who declared himself a supporter of the Liberal principles of the English school, asked Mr. Weir whether the recent letter of Premier Parent, insisting on Mr. Rainville's cadidature, represented the Government; if so, said the speaker, down with such a Government, for the letter is the worst blow delivered for a decade against public morals and representative institutions.

The protest was warmly applauded, and Mr. Weir disclaimed any responsibility for the letter of Mr. Parent. As to Mr. Rainville's legislative programme Mr. Weir declared that he had always opposed it at every step, and would continue to do so.

CONSERVATIVES OF BEAUHARNOIS NAME A CANDIDATE.

Valleyfield, November 16. — Beauharnois is to have a contest. The Conservatives decided at a convention yesterday afternoon to contest the county. Mr. Arthur Plante, who was chosen at the August convention, has the full and hearty support of the party as a Conservative, and is opposed to the Parent administration. The feeling seems to be that Mr. Flynn and the signatory parties to the recent convention exceeded their powers in deciding just what each county should do. Mr. Plante and Mr. Bergeron, M.P.-elect, explained the situation, and declared that the course to be pursued depended upon the delegates. These would hardly wait for the conclusion of the speakers, so emphatic were they that Mr. Plante should be their candidate. They were told that they could have no help from outside, and that there was nothing ready but the voters' lists. By unanimous voice they resolved that there should be a contest on party lines. Mr. Plante is hard at work.

The Polling in Mackenzie.

Winnipeg, November 16. — With twenty polls out of fifty heard from in Mackenzie constituency, Cash, Liberal, leads by 829, the vote being: Cash, 1,148; Patrick, 318; Gabora, 3. The latter is a Galician.

THE NORTH SEA OUTRAGE.

"Vice-Admiral" Carr of Fishing Fleet Tells His Story.

Hull, England, November 16. — In connection with the enquiry into the North Sea outrage yesterday "Vice-Admiral" Carr, of the fishing fleet, said the only warship he had seen on the trip in question, besides the Russians, was the British cruiser stationed off Hull. Carr said that the first Russian division passed close to the trawlers without firing, and that the second division did the damage. The warships were so close that Carr could see men passing the open portholes of the Russian ships. He kept sending up green rockets as sign of a fishing fleet. As they burst they lighted up the trawlers so that their numbers could be seen. About one vessel, which came up on his port quarter, Carr was very uncertain. It might have been, he admitted, another trawler, but he at first thought it was one of the Russian warships.

Answering the Russian Consul, Carr maintained that the Russians did not signal to the trawlers to stop, and stoutly declared that there could not have been a strange vessel among the fishing fleet.

The general tenor of the evidence given by skippers of the trawlers was that they knew nothing of Japanese boats being near, and they mistook the Russians for British, and that when they were hit they hurriedly got away.

Dr. Herbert Woodhouse will represent the Russian Embassy at the enquiry.

Dr. Woodhouse holds a merely watching brief. Neither he nor the Russian Consul here is in possession of any evidence tending to prove that Japanese torpedo boats were in the neighbourhood of Dogger Bank, or that Japan exercised any influence upon the fishing fleet.

Both Admiral Bridge and Mr. Aspinwall, who are conducting the enquiry on the most impartial lines, indicated by questions that a trawler, which separated from the fishing fleet, might possibly have been taken for a torpedo boat by the Russians.

A suggestion by the Russian Consul that the shelling was due to the trawlers failing to stop when blank shots were fired and the fact that the lights were extinguished on at least one trawler is considered here ... in some degree explain, though not to excuse, the attack by the Russians.

What is a Short Circuit?

City folks have a good idea of the effect of a short circuit. They know that if on an electric car the motor is short circuited the car stops—sometimes with an explosion. A short circuit happens when the electricity, by means of some conductor, is allowed to reach its natural magnet, the earth; immediately it rushes through its outlet and in its great excess of energy burns and melts the fuses leading to the motor—lucky if it does not burn out the motor itself.

ARE YOU SHORT CIRCUITED?

Is Your System Short Circuited? Have you, by the traditional burning of the candle at both ends, exhausted your vital energy and find yourself like a burnt-out motor—no longer responsive to the calls of will—find nerves and muscles and will-power lacking, or working out of harmony—a state which quickly brings with it disease?

You need electricity and re-galvanizing, and the way to achieve this is by the wearing of

DR. McDONALD'S ELECTRIC BELT.

The finest Electric Belt in the world is what I offer you. My improved Belt is superior to any other made. It is not charged in corroding vinegar. It gives a stronger current of electricity than is possible with any "vinegar belt." It is guaranteed for three years. One does for eight persons.

THE STEAMSHIP SERVICE TO MEXICO.

Alexander Wier, of Glasgow, Arrives in Ottawa to Complete the Arrangements.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, November 16. — Mr. Charles E. Harvey, of Glasgow, Scotland, has arrived here as the representative of Alex. Weir and Company, for the purpose of completing the negotiations for establishing a steamship service between Canada and Mexico, on the Pacific coast. Each government has agreed to pay $50,000 a year for a monthly service and both governments have agreed to give the contract to Weir and Company. Only minor details remain to be arranged.

OTTAWA CASE HEARD IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, November 16.—The first case taken in the Supreme Court yesterday was Ahern vs. Booth, an appeal from the Court of Appeal for Ontario in favour of the defendant Booth. The plaintiff, Ahern, is patentee from the crown of lands adjoining the little Chaudiere Falls with the riparian rights in the same and the beach and deep water lot adjoining to the boundary line between Ontario and Quebec. His property forms a valuable water power capable of being used for electrical or manufacturing purposes. The defendant has erected a crib work pier or dam of irregular shape on Crown lands which, the appellant alleges, obstructs the free flow of water over the fall and reducing the water power. When this structure was begun plaintiff obtained an interim injunction to prevent defendant from completing it, which was abandoned in defendant undertaking to remove obstruction if judgment went against him. The trial judge held that damage was proved and gave judgment for defendant which the court of appeal affirmed. Aylesworth, K.C., and Perkins appeared for appellant; Shepley, K.C., and J. Christie for respondent.

Approaching Sale of a Railway.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, November 16.—The rumours which have been in circulation of late with regard to the acquisition of the Ottawa and New York Railway by the New York Central, seem to be well-founded. Mr. H. W. Gays, manager of the railway is in New York, in connection with the matter, and a definite announcement is looked for when he returns. The road has been on the market a long time.

An Assignment at Quebec.

Quebec, November 16.—Mr. Thomas Migner, boot and shoe manufacturer, of this city, has consented to assign for the benefit of his creditors, and Mr. George Darveau has been appointed provisional guardian.

SALVATION ARMY SAYS FAREWELL

To Commander Booth-Tucker at New York.

New York, November 16.—A farewell reception to Commander Booth-Tucker, of the Salvation Army, was tendered here last night at the Grand Central Palace. The great hall was crowded. In an address Commander Booth-Tucker said in part:

"The eight and a half happy years which I have spent in the United States have not spoiled me. I came well saved and I leave better saved.

"When I came here $20,000 was annually sent to America, now $900,000 are annually spent in America by the Army, this money having been raised not from the millionaires, although the wealthy have contributed one-ninth of the amount, but the other eight-ninths have been raised by the people. This marks a new era in the history of philanthropy.

"I am sorry to go and yet it is satisfactory in going to know I feel that America has a mission to the world. I go forth as an American missionary. American missionaries are the best in the world. There is only one fault with them. There are not enough of them."

At the conclusion of the Commander's address, the following letter from President Roosevelt was read:

"My Dear Mr. Booth-Tucker:

"On the eve of your departure from this country, let me join with your many other well-wishers in bidding you God-speed and wishing for you a safe voyage and speedy return.

"Faithfully, yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Letters from the governors of nearly all the States were also read, and one from General William Booth.

At the conclusion of the programme in the hall, a torchlight procession escorted the Commander to the national headquarters.

A Suicide Near Kingston.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ont., November 16.—John Way, of Demorestville, hanged himself in the woods with a piece of wire fencing. A neighbour saw Way standing with his back towards him. He hailed him but getting no reply went up to find him dead. Way was aged 65, and was the head of a large family. He was a farm labourer and having quarrelled with his wife over moving, he drew his wages, began drinking and terminated by committing suicide.

Ogdensburg, N.Y.—Dr. Robert Morris, the oldest physician in northern New York, if not in the State, and one of Ogdensburg's most highly-respected citizens, is dead. He had reached the age of 96 years. Robert Morris was born in Glasgow, Scotland. He later settled in Hammond, N.Y., and graduated from the Albany Medical College in 1846. He practised four years in Hammond, and in 1850 came to Ogdensburg. He served through the civil war as surgeon of the 21st New York Infantry.

MR. JOHN MORLEY IN NEW YORK

He Spoke at Dinner of Chamber of Commerce Last Night.

ANGLO-AMERICAN UNITY

Mr. Morley Declares That England and United States Have Common Interests.

New York, November 16.—The 136th annual dinner of the New York Chamber of Commerce was held last night at Delmonico's. The hall was decorated with the flags of many nations. The speakers of the evening were Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the United States Treasury; Right Hon. John Morley, M.P.; Richard Olney, and Sir James Kitson, M.P. President Morris Jessup presided.

Preceding the dinner, invocation was offered by Right Rev. David H. Greer, coadjutor bishop of the Episcopal Church. After the healths of President Roosevelt and King Edward had been drunk, President Jessup read a letter from President Roosevelt, expressing regret at his inability to be present.

Following an address by Secretary Shaw, Mr. Morley was introduced. He declared that the thing that interested him most during his visit had been the presidential campaign. He said that he was as enthusiastic as any one in Chicago on election night, making the tour of the election booths and listening to the returns.

"I confess it greatly impressed my imagination," said Mr. Morley, speaking of watching the returns come in from all over the country, in a newspaper office, and stirred me to think that in this vast country, within a few hours the voice of the people, right or wrong, would be so emphatically and unmistakably ascertained.

AMERICAN PROSPERITY.

"Frankly, I rejoice to hear from the Secretary of the Treasury that your hopes are buoyant and you are prosperous. Why that is a thing that struck me most in my rapid transit through important trade centres in this country—the enormous and unbounded strength of your material resources and being a good natured people, let me say that I have seen nothing—don't hoot me out of the room—I have seen nothing, no evidence during this run through some of the centres of the country, to make me believe that you would not have been just as great, just as mighty—I mean in industrial competition—just as prosperous, just as strong as you are today, if you had taken that worn out shibboleth, as I am told—'No tariff excepting for purposes of revenue.'

"Well, if that is all the tendency that comes of testifying, I do not think I need have taken the trouble to have testified, because I gather that a good many of you, at all events, have some doubts as to that matter. And now, this is the last remark I will make you on that very delicate ground, which is less delicate that I thought it would be—(laughter)—though it may be that I am so stupid or so stubborn, or so much of a doctrinaire—a name I am well acquainted with—as to doubt whether you would not have been just as well off if you had taken that formula."

TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT.

Towards the end of his address, Mr. Morley said: "It would be most unbecoming of me, I repeat, to say a word as to the personality of your President. I will say this, in passing, that it is very gratifying to me to find that a man may write a book about Oliver Cromwell and yet be thought a very good man to whom to trust the destinies of a nation.

"I rejoice to think, and I do think, that in the great questions and emergencies that may arise, Great Britain and the United States will both, by interests, by sentiments, be found side by side.

"I believe from the bottom of my heart that for the progress of the world, for the civilization of mankind, we will fight side by side for those ideals and those questions which are common to us and common to you."

RICHARD OLNEY.

Richard Olney spoke briefly. He said in part:—"It is almost superfluous to presume that law is the very life blood of commerce. Law furnishes the rule by which commerce is regulated. Commerce grows only in the atmosphere of peace, and the American people have always given all efforts for arbitral treaties between the United States and foreign countries their strong approval.

"The basis of all true arbitration is the confidence of the parties in each other's honesty of purpose and fairness of dealing. You cannot inflict a deadlier wound upon the cause of peace through international arbitration than to shake that confidence. To consent to arbitration only in form, making it a sort of tails I win and heads you lose affair, is unworthy of a self-respecting people, and is as base in policy as it is indefensible in morals."

Letters of regret were read from Lord Rosebery and Joseph Chamberlain.

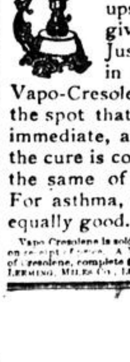
DOCK LABOURERS STRIKE AT HAVRE.

Havre, November 16. — The dock labourers yesterday decided to strike. During the afternoon the labourers visited several steamers, not including trans-Atlantic liners, and stopped men who were engaged in loading. The carters having struck, the previous day, freight is being moved under police protection. The gendarmerie have been reinforced, but no serious accidents so far have occurred.

Hon. James Sutherland.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, November 16.—Hon. James Sutherland arrived in the city last evening somewhat unexpectedly. Though improved, the Minister is not in the best of health and will take a further rest before returning to duty. He may accompany Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier to California.



That Whoop! Have you had it in your house? It's cough and cough and cough, and then that terrible whoop! Don't upset the stomach more by giving nauseous medicine. Just let the child breathe in the soothing vapor of Vapo-Cresolene. It goes right to the spot that's diseased. Relief is immediate, and in a very few days the cure is complete. You can't say the same of any other treatment. For asthma, catarrh, and colds it's equally good.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists, or sent express prepaid on receipt of price. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit including a bottle of Cresolene, complete $1.50. Send for free illustrated booklet. Leeming, Miles Co., Ltd., Agents, 288 St. James St., Montreal.

LATER NAVIGATION IN ST. LAWRENCE

Ice Breaking Experiment Topic of Much Discussion.

THE MANY ADVANTAGES

Later Voyages in the Autumn and Earlier Trips to Port in Spring.

The announcement in the Star that in all probability a trial will be made of December navigation in the St Lawrence, between Sydney, N.S., and Montreal, has evoked wide discussion in shipping circles.

"This is a matter of great importance to Montreal and to Canada," remarked Mr. Robert Reford this morning. "A demonstration that an ice breaker is capable of freeing the channel between Montreal and Quebec late in November, or early in December, would, I think, mean eventually a lengthening of the shipping season. By this I do not mean to say that navigation throughout the cold months of the year is practical, but I do think that present conditions can, by means of ice breakers, be greatly improved.

Asked how ship owners and underwriters in England would view such a project, Mr. Reford said: "The change would have to be brought about gradually. The vessels in the coal trade between Montreal and the Maritime Province ports would naturally be the first to take advantage of it. Later on, when those interested in shipping abroad come to realize that they can just as well have a sailing from Montreal on the first of December as on the 20th of November, I do not see any good reason why a change cannot be effected. If all goes well I should imagine that this change might take place in a year or two, but first the British underwriters must be convinced that there is no more risk in vessel navigating the St. Lawrence at a later date than they have heretofore been accustomed to.

YIELDS MANY ADVANTAGES.

"The advantages of earlier navigation in the spring of the year by means of breaking up the ice at Cap Rouge must not be overlooked. Time and again our steamers have been detained at Quebec in the spring owing to the Cap Rouge ice when the entire river was otherwise free."

On the floor of the Montreal Board of Trade the question was very thoroughly discussed. Many, including some of the shipping agents, were inclined to think that the Government would have its trouble for its pains, and that the net results would amount to nothing, so far as regards late November and early December navigation.

One of their chief reasons for disapproving of the idea was the fact that the canals cannot be kept open ordinarily after the 25th of November, and that there would be a lack of paying cargo at hand with which to load the ships.

POSITION OF PORTLAND.

"Here is Portland crying for cargo and that with the advantage of freight rates equal to our own. How then can we expect to load vessels here later than we do now," said the manager of one of the big ocean freight lines. The gentleman agreed, however, that the opening of navigation in the spring, perhaps fifteen days earlier than is usual, would be a great advantage.

Speaking of the closing of the St. Lawrence canals a manager of inland craft stated that one season the canals were all closed, owing to ice, by the 22nd of November, and that it was necessary for them to figure on leaving Montreal for winter quarters not later than November 25th in any year.

Last year a steamer of the Montreal Transportation Company left Oswego, coal laden, for Montreal, on November 24, and got as far as Lachine. It was found impossible to move her down further, however, owing to the thick ice, and there she had to remain until released in the spring.

SHIPMENTS OF WHEAT CONTINUE UP TO THE AVERAGE.

The shipments of wheat from Manitoba and the Northwest Territories continue to be well abreast of those recorded for the same period last year. The wheat marketed from September 1 to November, the last date for which the C. P. R. has any present record, is announced to be 14,469,000 bushels, which is within 1,000 bushels of the same date last year. The wheat loaded aggregates 10,658 cars this year. The receipts at Fort William are reported to be 8,074,000 bushels, in comparison with 7,484,000 during the same period in 1903. The shipments of Fort William are 5,483,000 bushels as compared with 5,315,900 last year.

Hebrew Conservative Club.

The Montreal Hebrew Conservative Club will in future hold its regular meeting on Sunday afternoon, instead of Thursday. The next meeting will be held on Sunday next, at 2 p.m., in the Empire Hall, when the association will proceed to the election of a patron and other necessary officers. It has also been decided to hold a debate every second meeting. At the last meeting the honorary president, Mr. A. Blumenthal, announced that as soon as permanent quarters were secured the services of a competent instructor in elocution would be engaged. Messrs. Bernard Wener, M. Levitt, Dr. Bachrack, A. Blumenthal, S. Rese and M. Harris were appointed a special committee to make arrangements for holding a ball the proceeds of which will be devoted to the naturalization fund.

THE FAST PACE

that we lead in this present generation, wears out many a heart in comparatively short time. Horses that we use for racing purposes we treat with care and concern, machinery and other mechanical devices that we use continually we oil and keep in good condition, but the heart that must pump a whole lifetime, we neglect, overwork and misuse and only give it thought when it becomes weak and irregular and can no longer properly distribute our blood to all parts of our body. If you are living a fast life—dissipating or working hard, you must give your heart some nutriment so that it can stand the strain, is the best heart food. It will make your heart strong and healthy. It builds up the walls and tissues of the heart and enables it to distribute pure, clear blood to all parts of the body.

Mrs. J. Calcott, Strathroy, Ont. says "I have used Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure with the best possible results. Before I secured it I suffered greatly with chronic Heart disease and from nervousness and sleeplessness which it had induced. This remedy gave relief in 3 minutes and has brought back my usual health. —1

THE NEW FRENCH LECTURES AT LAVAL.

Mr. Alphonse Leger, the newly appointed professor of French Literature at Laval, opened his programme for 1904-1905 Monday evening by explaining the details of the course he is offering.

There was a large attendance and Mr. Leger launched out under very favourable auspices.

The following is a summary of the conditions under which the professor will conduct his class: Regular lectures will be delivered every Monday evening at 8 o'clock, when set work will also be corrected in turn. Work will be set once a month or oftener, to be brought in within three weeks for correction and criticism. The persons attending the lectures will be divided into three classes, students, properly so-called, who have been specially registered for the course, including ladies as well as gentlemen; members of the University staff or other educational bodies, admitted free of charge on tickets, specially issued to them, and all other persons who have paid their fees of 25c per lesson, or $3.00 for the session.

Every person in attendance must be registered and will be struck off the list of membership if he fails to do the work assigned to him or is irregular in his attendance.

The session will cover a period of about five months, from November 14 to April 17, including Christmas holidays and Easter.

A supplementary course to be given to registered students and others specially invited will be given on Friday evenings at 8 o'clock. At these meetings the work will principally be restricted to a critical study of the orthography, history and development of the French language.

Certificates and diplomas will be publicly awarded at the end of each course after a careful examination.

IN AND AROUND THE CITY.

SOCIAL. — The members of St. Patrick's parish will give a grand social in the Armoury Hall, November 22, 23 and 24, for the benefit of the new parochial school.

A RETREAT.—A retreat for the English-speaking people of Maisonneuve and Hochelaga will be given at the Chapel of the Redemptorists, 98 Notre Dame street, commencing on Sunday, 20th inst., at 3 p.m. Rev. Father McPhail will preach the sermons.

C. O. O. F.—The members of the dian Order of Oddfellows, Montreal, held their annual Union Meeting last Friday evening, in their handsome lodge room in the Inglis Building. The D. D. G. M. Bro. F. Goodwyn, several weeks previous to the meeting issued a circular inviting all to be present and requesting each brother to secure a candidate for initiation. At the meeting there was a large class of supplor candidates duly initiated into the mysteres of Oddfellowship. The Grand Master, Bro. C. A. Lamb, D. G. M., Bro. Young and Grand Auditor Bro. Mussen, were duly received and the honours of the order given them. The banquet was an excellent one, Bro. Goodwyn presiding.

VICTORIA CHURCH Y.P.M.S.—The opening social of the Young People's Missionary Society lately organized in connection with Victoria Church, was a complete success in every particular. A very interesting programme had been prepared, consisting of songs, solos, duetts and recitations, with an intermission for refreshments, which had been kindly provided, by friends of the society in the church and Sabbath school. Among those who took part in the programme were: Mrs. Papps, and Miss Eva Rolston, piano solos; Miss McMahon and Mr. Mattice, duet; Miss Gertie Wilson, and Rev. J. Myles Cromble, solos Miss Nellie McIntosh, Miss Lonergan, Miss Ida Vivian and Mr. North recitations. The officers and committee of the Y.P.M.S. for the present year are: Miss Helen Locke, president; Mr. Samuel H. Elliott, vice-president; Miss F. N. Elliott, secretary; Miss Ada Rogers, Mr. W. Lloyd, joint treasurers; Miss Eva Rolston, organist. Committee, Misses Minerva Jones, Priscilla Arthur, Nellie Pearcey, Violet Foster, Emma Halliday, Mabel Locke, and Messrs. Delmar Jones, Stanley Locke, and Gordon Rolston.

Irish Shipping Industry.

The great shipbuilding industry of Belfast, which a short time ago was in a rather bad way, appears to be getting all right again. According to Lloyd's Register, ship building returns for the last quarter, which have just been issued, there are eighteen steamers with a gross tonnage of 163,010 under construction in Belfast, as against eighteen with a gross tonnage of 163,095 a year ago. The figures are most remarkably alike.

Entered Action for $15,000.

Dame M. A. Belanger, whose husband, a milkman, was killed by a street car on St. Denis street last summer, has entered in her own name and that of her children, an action for $15,000 against the Montreal Street Railway.

Had His Leg Fractured.

Last night Oscar Vanier, 31 years of age, living at 417 Seigneurs street, had his right leg fractured while at work on the Donnadson line wharf by a heavy piece of iron falling on him. He was taken to the General Hospital.

PEARL FISHERIES OF AUSTRALIA

Mr. Jas. Venner Tells of Strange and Exciting Calling.

PILOT FISH AND THE SHARK

Fights Between Rival Crews Often Lead to Bitter and Fatal Encounters.

Mr. James Venner, an Englishman, who has passed a number of years in Australia engaged in the pearl fisheries for which the west coast of the island continent is famous, is now in Montreal.

Mr. Venner left Australia some five or six months ago and has spent the balance of the time travelling in the United States and Canada. He spoke quite freely of the industry in which he amassed a competence, and he described it as an exciting and adventurous life which has gradually been rendered common place and uneventful by the introduction of modern methods.

"The practice of dredging for pearls instead of the old plan of diving for them has rendered the business quite uneventful except for the quarrels which occasionally spring up among the fishers.

"Some fifteen years ago when I left the fisheries off the coast of Queensland and went to the west coast of Australia," he said, "I made direct for Useless Bay, the best known port of the coast for pearling. I had two Malay and five Papuan divers, and there were only some half dozen other boats in the bay.

"The divers would go down two at a time. They dive, of course, in the ordinary method except that unlike the divers in the pearl fisheries of India and Ceylon, they do not hold a heavy stone in their hands to sink them. They dive head first, having first smeared their bodies with oil and stay under for an almost incredible time. They dislodge the pearl oysters with their feet and hands and bring them to the surface where they are received aboard the sloop. My men used to work in two shifts, the remaining three men stripping the oysters on the day they were not diving. One of the three was, however, always on the watch for the pilot fish that gave warning of the sharks when one was sighted, the men were immediately summoned on board. They would, however, arm themselves with their long knives and go overboard quite fearlessly again.

"Two of the Papuans, in the five years in which I worked those fisheries, were killed, largely through their own carelessness. The others I'm afraid have also since succumbed, but not through sea sharks. They made high wages and spent their money freely and rum has carried them all off.

"Fierce fighting used to be indulged the kedge ropes of two boats would the kedke ropes of two boats would get tangled and one would cut the other's line, that was often a signal for a bloody encounter and often several lives would be lost.

"Dredging for pearls is found to be more effective in six or eight fathoms of water, however, and it has gradually supplanted the former method. It is some years since I left the business, but I believe the syndicates which still carry it on find it very profitable."

Mr. Venner leaves for New York today, and will shortly proceed to London, which he will in future make his home.

MARKING THE GRAVES OF THE DEAD HEROES.

Her Excellency Lady Minto, on the eve of her departure has deemed it fit that those, who have so generously subscribed to the Canadian South African Memorial Fund, should learn how far the work has proceeded, and the condition in which the work undertaken by the association stands.

The following details may therefore be acceptable to those who are interested in the attempt to mark in a suitable manner the last resting place of those brave Canadians who gave their lives for the Empire during the South African war.

The number of Canadians who fell during the war was 246. Of this number 11 were buried at sea or drowned and their bodies not recovered, and 5 are buried in England. While it was found that relatives or comrades in arms had already provided lasting memorials in 12 cases, 25 graves still remain unidentified, but it is expected that these will be located shortly and as soon as this is done memorials will be sent from Canada to mark the same.

After deducting these numbers there remained 193 graves to be marked and memorials were accordingly dispatched to South Africa for this purpose, the last instalment reaching that country in April, 1904. A telegram has now been received from South Africa, stating that all memorials for the above graves will be in position over the graves for which they are intended by November 15th, 1904.

The accounts of the fund stand at present as follows: The amount of subscriptions collected plus the interest of the same up to date is about $13,000. The balance on hand after paying all claims is now about $5,100. Further expenditure will be incurred in fencing in the graves on the open veldt, and the balance will probably be diverted to the erection of a central Canadian memorial bearing the names of all Canadians who fell during the war, which it is proposed to erect later on in Pretoria.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT FROM ANTIQUARIANS TO JUDGE BABY.

Judge Sicotte presided at the monthly meeting of the Montreal Antiquarian Society held at the Chateau de Ramezay last night, and there were also present Messrs. C. T. Hart, T. E. Trembley, Geo. Durnford, Pemberton Smith, S. M. Baylis, J. Anselm Roy, C. A. Harwood, C. E. G. Lesage, J. A. Dumas, and Ernest Marceau.

The chairman said he did not think they ought to proceed with the regular business, as their president, Mr. Justice Baby, was absent and they all knew the sad circumstances which kept him away. He moved the following resolution:

"The officers and members of this society have learned with deep regret of the decease of Madame Baby, the wife of our distinguished president, who, by her virtues and qualities, and whose devotion to our institution, was equalled only by that of our president, whom she so ably seconded as a member of the ladies' branch; had won our admiration and esteem. Furthermore we pray Mr. Justice Baby to accept an expression of our deep sympathy in his great loss, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to him."

Mr. C. T. Hart seconded, and the resolution was carried, the meeting then adjourning as a further tribute of respect to the deceased lady.

MISS A. McDONALD.

Montreal Young Lady Finds the Key to Enjoyment in Life After Years of Distress.

Sound Digestion Opens the Door to a New Bright Outlook and Makes Life Worth Living—St. James Wafers Restored Her Stomach to a Healthy State, and from that Centre Life and Strength Radiated.

Once upon a time, so runs the old story, the members of the body rebelled against the stomach. "Why should we be always engaged in attending to the wants of the stomach," said the members of the body, "when he does nothing but take his rest and enjoy himself?" So they refused their assistance to the stomach. In consequence, the whole body quickly became weakened. The hands, feet, mouth and eyes when too late repented their folly and realized that the stomach merits every attention.

Now here is a modern instance, showing how the stomach responds when it gets the help it needs. Miss A. McDonald, 351 St. Andre street, Montreal, writes on the 2nd of June, 1904:

"For about two years my stomach was in a bad state. I was bilious, constipated, had belching of wind and my rest was broken at night. I was much worse after a severe cold I had last winter.

"Besides the stomach trouble, I had pain in the small of the back, was pale and weak and had no appetite.

"Hearing of the benefits got from St. James Wafers by people who suffered as I did, I started taking them about three months ago.

"I felt relieved after I had taken the first box of St. James Wafers. I have taken eight boxes and shall soon stop taking them, for I feel that I am cured.

'As a cure for stomach trouble and as a strength-builder they are unequalled. St. James Wafers have enabled me to look on the bright side of things, and I can eat without fear.

"I don't have to stay in bed as I used to do very often before St. James Wafers made such a happy change."

MISS A. McDONALD.

—A. McDonald.

To-day begin taking St. James Wafers.

If you suffer at all from stomach trouble you want to know what is the best possible remedy. It must be a remedy that will relieve by going to the very root of the evil and removing the cause. It must be a remedy that does not contain any dangerous or harmful substances.

The cause of the trouble is the failure of the stomach to do its work. The blood is the life and the stomach's work is to make blood. Health is impossible unless the stomach is doing this work.

St. James Wafers—the ideal stomach and nerve remedy—are indisputably the best, pleasantest and most efficacious means of strengthening the stomach to perform its vital functions. Miss McDonald's experience is only one of many wonderfully happy results which have followed the regular use of St. James Wafers. These cures are permanent, because the stomach has received such help that it can do its work naturally.

There is no alcohol in St. James Wafers, and no danger in taking them. They are in the form of small round tablets, easy to take, convenient to carry. All dealers sell them at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50; or you can send cash remittance and they will be forwarded direct by the sole Canadian agents—

Academy of Music.

The musical comedy entitled "Me, Him and I," will be at the Academy of Music next week. It is Hurtig & Seamon's largest company, and organized to exploit those comedians, Bickel, Watson and Wrothe. The scenes are laid in the far West, Act I being at Seattle; Act. II on board a boat en route for the Klondike, and Act III at the Frozen Dog Tavern in Dawson City. Of course it is a satire, but much of the Western atmosphere is truthfully depicted and gives an idea of the high jinks indulged in by the gold seekers, especially when a tenderfoot strikes the town. The miners are willing to pay well for music and dancing and meet their match in a theatrical company who go out to seek their fortune where customs are rough, but money plentiful. The production is new and reported to be rich and expensive, the costumes especially being very beautiful. Fifty people are used in the performance.

The Francais.

Next week at the Francais will witness an entire change of bill. The new Russo-Jap musical melange "The Japskys," in preparation for many weeks, will form the feature of the entertainment. It is an interesting musical satire on current affairs in the East. A company of 50 people has been engaged. Clara Bareaux, dramatic soprano, has the leading role; Gracia Marquette, a handsome woman, will essay, for the first time, a male part, the Jap captain, Nogo. Rebecca Moses is a fun making part and is particularly prominent in the hands of soubrette, Libbie Arnold Blondell. Dan A. Anderson, the King; Leonard Howard, an Irishman with a "vitch" on the end of his name; Mark Bennett and Sam Shannon, as the two Hebrews in Corea. There is an abundance of catchy character songs, marches and ballets interspersed. The olio is strong. It includes Johnson, Davenport and Lovella, "The Students and the Rube," Miss Libbie Blondell comedienne; Bennett & Rich, singers and dancers; the 3 Polos, European acrobats, and the Majestic Four, comedy instrumentalists. Matinees are given daily.

Theatre Royal.

"The Factory Girl," which will be the attraction at the Theatre Royal on Thanksgiving Day, is a comedy drama that has met with great success and is now in its eighty-fourth week on the road. The tour which began in New York at Proctor's, 58th street Theatre, in September of 1903, embraces almost every city in the United States, from Eastport, Maine, to San Diego, California. The organization numbers twenty-five people, including the principal members of the original cast. The scenic equipment is said to be complete in every detail, and a real electric dynamo, a huge steel press, and a number of other mechanical devices are features of the production.

The Second Symphony.

The vocal soloist for the second Symphony concert at the Academy, on November 25th, will be Mr. Ellsworth Duquette, the well known basso.

November Term Opened.

The November term of the Court of King's Bench, appeal side, was opened yesterday, Chief Justice Sir Alexandre Lacoste presiding. The other judges present were, Messrs. Justices Blanchet, Bosse, Ouimet and Trenholme. The number of appeals before the court is only thirteen, the smallest number on the roll for many terms.

UNVEILING OF MEMORIAL TABLETS OF PIONEER MASTERS OF HIGH SCHOOL MADE OCCASION OF REPRESENTATIVE GATHERING

Those who have served the public for a long series of years usually gain in the end a reputation, in keeping with their characters.

That was in a great degree true of the five gentlemen, whose memory was signalized by the unveiling of five mural tablets at the High School last evening.

When the large audience convened in the Assembly Hall, the tablets were found mounted upon a wooden frame in front of the platform, and covered with a large Union Jack. After the ceremony of unveiling, the tablets were removed to their permanent position in the corridors of the institution, where they were subsequently viewed by the audience.

Dean Evans, the chairman of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners, presided at the meeting, and the opening hymn was sung by a selected choir of the pupils of the High School.

Dr. Barclay then offered a rarely beautiful prayer, in which he thanked God for those who, in their day, had borne witness to what was true and good. "We bless Thee," he said, "for our fellowship with the living, and with the dead. We thank Thee for those who have passed from the world, leaving behind them a trail of light, that they have left the marks of their footprints as a guide to those that follow after them. We thank Thee that being dead they yet speak. We thank Thee, that they are not forgotten in the land in which they lived; that their voices are still heard; that in our private and public lives we may be stimulated by their example. We thank Thee more especially for those men, whom we are here to recognize, for the sustained zeal, untiring devotion, which led to the establishment of this institution. We thank Thee for those whom they have equipped for life and who have served their country with benefit to themselves and others."

LETTERS OF REGRET.

Mr. Welling Dixon, M.A., was then called upon to read several letters of regret, including, among others, communications from Mayor Laporte, Messrs. Geo. W. Parmalee, Dr. Hill, of the Congregational College, Rev. Hugh Pedley and Dr. George Murray.

The latter, who is about the only one among the early masters of the High School now living, wrote, as was natural, with some feeling, recounting some reminiscences of his connection with the institution. Three of the five masters who were to be honoured had been his respected colleagues and intimate friends, for twenty-seven years. He had followed them to their graves in sorrow. Dr. Murray went on to mention the pleasure he had experienced in teaching the young people at the High School, and alluded to the fact that many of his former pupils, meeting him now, assured him of the gratitude they entertained for the pains he had taken to inculcate in them a love of the classics. The doctor concluded by expressing the fear that an acquaintance with the great classical masters was not given a sufficiently prominent place in modern systems of education.

DEAN EVANS' ADDRESS.

Dean Evans, in addressing the audience, said that they had assembled there to do honour to men great and good who had, in their day and generation, carried on with conspicuous success the process of educating the young, and who, having done their part, had now passed away. These men had indeed passed from view, but they had not passed out of the lives of those upon whose characters they had left so beneficial a mark, or from those hearts which still cherished their memory with keen love and remembrance. He did not need to remind them that there was a peculiar kind of affection, which was not to be obtained in any other way, that existed between an earnest pupil and a painstaking teacher. There was not one present who had not felt that affection. It was the affection in the breast of the pupil for a teacher who had to exercise over him necessary discipline, but who did it in a way that made the pupil recognize that the discipline was necessary to his highest welfare. Dr. Evans, continuing, said that he had only enjoyed the acquaintance of one of the masters, being honoured that evening, but was sure that the men who knew them best appreciated them most highly. A great many men lived, and nothing remained except the simple slab which marked their last resting place. Others lived always, in the influence which they exerted in the lives of others. What was now being done was proper, and becoming, placing, as it did, before future generations names that should be honoured—names that would be to future generations an inspiration for all that was true and pure and faithful.

MEMORIAL ADDRESS.

Rev. Elson I. Rexford, the principal of the Diocesan Theological College, delivered the memorial address, which was in the main a recital of facts connected with the history of the High School, and in relation to the lives of the five masters whose memory was being honoured that evening. Dr. Rexford regarded it an honour to stand there, to bear witness to those who had built up the Montreal High School, and to give a statement of facts, many of which had died out of the minds of most of those now living. He wanted to tell something of the lives of men who had done pioneer work educationally, in the city of Montreal. Three of the five men were known to him personally. The annals of the High School covered practically the whole of the nineteenth century. Dr. Rexford then continued in appropriate words of eulogy to amplify the historical facts that were given in the Star last night. In closing the recital of facts, Dr. Rexford said that his sources of information were of the most trustworthy character. He had had occasion during the past few years to communicate with old boys of the institution, who had supplied him with reminiscences regarding their connection with the High School. The testimony he was giving was based upon such first-hand information—a testimony from pupils as to the profit they had derived from their various instructors; testimony which, in almost every instance, had borne assurance to the power of a straightforward teacher in a large institution such as the High School.

Mr. Clarence I. de Sola, an old boy of the High School, said that an eminent statesman had said that a great man was one who had affected the mind of his generation. If that definition of greatness were to be accepted, then it might be said that the masters of the High School to whom the tablets had been erected were truly great men. They had affected to no inconsiderable extent, the minds of their generation—affected them by the breadth of their culture, and by the rectitude of their lives. Referring to Messrs. Howe and Rodger, whom he had known personally, Mr. de Sola said that he could speak of them with especial feeling. Dr. Howe was a man of broad sympathies, undoubted culture, and dignified courtesy—a gentleman in the very highest sense, who had endeared himself to all who came within the range of his influence. David Rodger, besides being an exceptionally able instructor, was a man of inflexible integrity. What wonder then that under the direction of such men the High School became, not only an excellent school of instruction in book learning, but a school whose moral atmosphere benefited all who attended it. It was distinguished not only by its moral tone but by its traditions. All boys could not be children of genius, but unless they were straightforward they were false to the principles which had been inculcated by their masters.

TRIBUTE FROM OLD SCHOLAR.

Mr. W. D. Lighthall, another old scholar, said that when he attended the High School, nearly a quarter of a century ago, it was housed in what is now known as the Fraser Institute. The boys of that day are very proud of their school because it was run on the lines of the old English Grammar Schools. When it was transferred to the Protestant School Board, the boys looked upon the Board with a great deal of scorn, they felt that they belonged to McGill. Continuing, Mr. Lighthall said, that possibly the most distinguished graduate of the High School was a boy who was in attendance at the same time as himself, Huntley McKay, who had subsequently become governor of British East Africa. Mr. Lighthall spoke in the most appreciative manner of Dr. Howe and Mr. Rodger, with whom he coupled the name of Dr. Murray, who, though still actively at work, was no longer connected with the High School.

Mr. James Rodger, who recently donated $1,000 to the High School, thanked the old boys for the honour that had been done his father and also for the very appreciative fashion in which his father's name had been mentioned by the various speakers.

Dr. Kelly, who has been connected with the teaching staff for the longest period, having joined the institution in 1871, referred to the fact that few familiar faces were now to be seen, of those who had been associated with him in teaching at the outset. Dr. Johnston, who was present on the platform, was about the only one.

Dr. Barclay, who spoke for the Protestant Board of School Commissioners, referred to the fact that the Montreal High School had been established along the lines of the Edinburgh High School. He had been a director of the latter when he was in Edinburgh, and it was an interesting coincidence that he was now a member of the Board of Commissioners having charge of the former, now that he was in Montreal.

The various tablets are the work of the following: The Howe tablet by R. Hemsley; the Gibson and Rodger tablets by Edwin Cox; the Simpson and Skakel tablets by Walker & Campbell.

The bride left later for Halifax, to remain until the ship goes South, returning to St. John's for the winter months.

Mr. Goldmark's Recitals.

Mr. Ruben Goldmark, whose lecture recitals are the musical and social event of the week, comes to us with a wide and well-established reputation. These lectures have been delivered before large and fashionable audiences in many cities of the United States, and have everywhere given great pleasure to the most cultivated and discriminating audiences.

Mr. Goldmark tells in vivid and dramatic style the stories of these great dogmas, introducing the music intertwined therewith, and so elucidating it in its full beauty and significance are felt not only by the trained musician, but also by the man or woman who is merely fond of music.

By his sympathetic touch upon the keys he imparts to the piano something of the singing quality of that king of instruments the violin.

Yellow Tickets Will Not Go.

Don't attempt hereafter to put a yellow ticket in the box outside of the hours specified, for the Montreal Street Railway has given its conductors most positive orders to refuse the same, and in order to admit of no avoidance of the rule two fare boxes will hereafter be provided. One of these is to be utilized by the conductor in yellow ticket hours, while the remaining box will be used at other times in the day. If a yellow ticket is found in the blue ticket box, there will be trouble for the unfortunate conductor in whose possession it has been.

YOU CAN'T BUY A GOLD DOLLAR WITH A SIXPENCE.

A GOOD shoe must have three costly qualities. These are Style,—Comfort,—and Wear.
No shoe sold at $3.00 can have more than two of these three requirements.
No shoe sold at $2.50, or under, can have more than one of them.
Because, each one of these three costs good money to produce, independent of the others.
You can get more wear from a $2.00 Brogan than from a $5.00 Shoe, but, you get nothing else from it.
You can sometimes get almost as much style and finish in a $2.50 shoe, as in the average $3.50 shoe, but it will wear like cardboard, and only by accident can you ever be properly fitted in its limited range of shapes, sizes, and widths.
It is poor economy to buy cheap shoes, unless they be Brogans.
Because it costs as much to finish a $2.50 shoe as a good one, and this leaves little for material and workmanship.
When you are tempted to buy a $2.50 shoe, by its window appearance, reflect that only about 60 cents in that shoe can be Leather.
What sort of leather will 60 cents buy?
The soles alone of a Slater Shoe cost almost 60 cents.
And the extra labor put into the hidden parts of Slater Shoes cost as much as all the labor put into superficial $2.50 shoes.
No good thing can be purchased at a poor price except by chance.
And 99 times out of 100 the chance is against you.
Every genuine Slater Shoe is stamped on the lining with the valuation of its Makers—either $3.50 or $5.00—and the slate-frame trade-mark.
That valuation is a direct guarantee from Maker to Wearer, of full value up to the price stamped.

THE GRAFTERS

By Francis Lynde

"This is no time to quarrel," he said. "The thing to be done is to stop this train without getting ourselves ripped open by that fellow behind the headlight yonder. The stop-signals prove that Hawk and the others are doing their best, but we must do ours. What do you say, Halkett?"

"There is only one thing," replied the superintendent; "we've got to make the Irishman run ahead fast enough and far enough to give us room to stop or take a siding."

The governor planned it in a few curt sentences. Was there a weapon to be had? Danforth, the private secretary, roused from his nap in the wicker chair, was able to produce a serviceable revolver. Two minutes later, the sleep still tingling in his nerves to augment another tingling less pleasurable, the secretary had spanned the terrible gap separating the car from the engine and was making his way over the coal, fluttering his handkerchief in token of his peaceful intentions.

He was charged with a message to Callahan, mandatory in its first form, and bribe-promising in its second; and he was covered from the forward vestibule of the private car by the revolver in the hands of a resolute and determined state executive.

"One of them's comin' ahead over the coal," warned James Shovel; and Callahan found his hammer.

"Run ahead an' take a siding, is ut?" he shouted, glaring down on the messenger. "I have me ordhers fr'm besther men than thim that sint you. Go back an' tell thim so."

"You'll be paid if you do, and you'll be shot if you don't," yelled the secretary, persuasively.

"Tell the boss he can't shoot two av us, to wanst; an' the wan that's left 'll slap on the air," was Callahan's answer, and he slacked off a little to bring the following train within easy striking distance.

Danforth went painfully and carefully back with this defiance, and while he was bridging the nerve-trying gap, another station with the stop-board down and red lights frantically swinging was passed with a roar and a whistle shriek.

"Fwhat are they doing now?" called Callahan to his fireman.

"They've gone inside again," was the reply.

"Go back an' thry the tank," was the command; and Jimmy Shovel climbed over the coal and let himself down feet foremost into the manhole. When he slid back to the footplate his legs were wet to the mid shin.

"It's only up to there," he reported, measuring with his hand.

Callahan looked at his watch. There was yet a full hour's run ahead of him, and there was no more than a scant foot of water in the tank with which to make it.

Thereafter he forgot the Naught-seven, and whatever menace it held for him, and was concerned chiefly with the thing mechanical. Would the water last him through? He had once made one hundred and seventy miles on a special run with the 1010 without refilling his tank; but that was with the light engine alone. Now he had the private car behind him, and it seemed at times to pull with all the drag of a heavy train.

But one expedient remained, and that carried with it the risk of his life. An engine, not overburdened, uses less water proportionately to miles run as the speed is increased. He could outpace the safe-guarding mail, save water and take the chance of being shot in the back from the forward vestibule of the Naught-seven when he had gained lead enough to make a main-line stop safe for the men behind him.

Callahan thought once of the child mothered by the Sisters of Loretto in the convent at the capital, shut his eyes to that and to all things extraneous, and sent the 1010 about her business. At the first reversed curve he hung out of his window for a backward look. Tischer's headlight had disappeared and his protection was gone.

On the rear platform of the private car four men watched the threatening second section fade into the night.

"Our man has thought better of it," said the governor, making the increased speed and the disappearance of the menacing headlight.

Guilford's sigh of relief was almost a groan.

"My God!" he said; "it makes me cold to think what might happen if he should pull us over into the other State!"

But Halkett was still smarting from the indignities put upon him, and his comment was a vindictive threat.

"I'll send that damned Irishman over the road for this, if it is the last thing I ever do!" he declared; and he confirmed it with an oath.

But Callahan was getting his punishment as he went along. He had scarcely settled the 1010 into her gait for the final run against the failing water supply when another station came in sight. It was a small cattle town, and in addition to the swinging red lights and a huge bonfire to illuminate the yards, the obstructionists had torn down the loading corral and were piling the lumber on the track.

Once again Callahan's nerve flickered, and he shut off the steam. But before it was too late he reflected that the barrier was meant only to scare him into stopping. One minute later the air was full of flying splinters, and that danger was passed. But one of the broken planks came through the cab window, missing the engineer by no more than a hand's-breadth. And the shower of splinters, sucked in by the whirl of the train, broke glass in the private car and sprinkled the quartet on the platform with split kindling and wreckage.

"What was that?" gasped the receiver.

Halkett pointed to the bonfire, receding like a fading star in the rear-ward distance.

"Our friends are beginning to throw stones, since clods won't stop him," he said.

Bucks shook his head.

"If that is the case, we'll have to be doing something on our own account. The next obstruction may derail us."

Halkett stepped into the car and pulled the cord of the automatic car.

"No good," he muttered. "The Irishman cut our tank before he started. Help me set the hand brakes, a couple of you."

Danforth and the governor took hold of the brake wheel with him, and for a minute or two the terrible speed slackened a little. Then some part of the disused handgear gave way under the three-man strain and that hope was gone.

"There's one thing left," said the superintendent, indomitable to the last. "Well uncouple and let him drop us behind."

The space in the forward vestibule was narrow and cramped, and with the strain of the dragging car to make the pin stick, it took two of them lying flat, waiting for the back-surging moment and wiggling it for slack, to pull it. The coupling dropped out of the hook and the engine shot ahead to the length of the safety chains; thus far, but no farther.

Halkett stood up.

"It's up to you, Danforth," he said, raising his voice to be heard above the pounding roar of the wheels. "You're the youngest and lightest: get down on the 1010's brake-beam and unhook those chains."

The secretary looked once into the trap with the dodging jaws and the backward-flying bottom and declined the honour.

"I can't, get down there," he cried. "And I shouldn't know what to do if I could."

Once more the superintendent exhibited his nerve. He had nothing at stake save a desire to defeat Callahan; but he had the persistent courage of the bull-terrier. With Bucks and the secretary to steady him he lowered himself in the gap till he could stand upon the brake-beam of the 1010's tender and grope with one free hand for the hook of the nearest safety-chain. Death nipped at him every time the engine gave or took up the slack of the loose coupling, but he dodged and hung on until he had satisfied himself.

"It's no good," he announced, when they had dragged him by main strength back to a footing in the narrow vestibule. "The hooks are bent into the links. We're due to go wherever that damned Irishman is taking us."

Shovel was firing, and the trailing smoke and cinders quickly made the forward vestibule untenable. When they were driven in, Bucks and the receiver went through to the rear platform, where they were presently joined by Halkett and Danforth.

"I've been trying the air again," said the superintendent, "but it's no go. What's next?"

The governor gave the word.

"Wait," he said; and the four of them clung to the hand-rails, swaying an' bending to the bounding lurches of the flying car.

Dr. Radway,—Having been discouraged for the last four months with BLOTCHES and PIMPLES, I resolved, at all events, to try it, and took two teaspoonfuls three times a day as directed. It is not quite one month since I commenced its use. To-day there is not a Blotch, Spot, Blemish, or defection of any kind on my person.—S. T.

CONSUMPTION
With the aid of proper living, Angier's Emulsion will cure consumption in the earlier stages, and give the greatest possible relief in the later stages. It relieves the expectoration, removes the pain from the chest, reduces the fever, makes breathing easy, allays the night-sweats and checks the diarrhoea. It induces an increase of body weight and strength.

Special Notice.
Wormwith Styles.
Be sure to see the latest styles of Wormwith Pianos. The designs are elegant and the veneers superb. In tone and touch they are difficult to equal, and the prices are very reasonable. We have sold them for fifteen years and know them to be very excellent instruments. C. W. Lindsay, Limited, 2366 St. Catherine street; East End Branch 1622 St. Catherine street.

A Light Sentence for Manslaughter.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Sherbrooke, November 16. — Napoleon St. Hilaire, found guilty of manslaughter, in Court of King's Bench, yesterday, was sentenced to forty days in gaol. The jury was out twenty hours. Over a year ago at D'Israeli, St. Hilaire shot one Boulanger, in the leg, cutting an artery, and he bled to death. The extenuating circumstances were that Boulanger was intoxicated and a dangerous man, that he had attacked St. Hilaire, and, when shot, was outside his store hurling rocks through the window. St. Hilaire had the reputation of being a quiet and respectable citizen.

MORE RUMOURS OF CABINET CHANGES

Followed Announcement of the Resignation of General Andre.

NO CONFIRMATION GIVEN

Appointment of Mr. Berteaux to War Office Breaks Tradition re Military Chief.

Paris, November 16. — Following the announcement of the resignation of Gen. Andre, Minister of War, and the nomination of Mr. Henry Maurice Berteaux to succeed him, reports were circulated last night that MM. Pelletan, Rouvier and Marcujouls are also likely to resign the portfolios of the ministries of Marine, Finance and Public Works respectively, but they were not confirmed. Conservative opinion is that the Cabinet will be strengthened by the removal of the chief sources of the present discord and weakness.

The choice of M. Berteaux to be Minister of War evokes no enthusiasm, as he is not a soldier, and his selection breaks the recent tradition regarding the choice of a military head of the war administration.

This change in the ministry is the culmination of a fierce assault upon the administration of the War office, and the Chamber of Deputies was the scene of frequent wild disorders, including the recent personal assault upon General Andre. A succession of duels evinced the bitterness which was felt. General Andre decided to resign yesterday morning, and immediately despatched a letter to Premier Combes asserting that the attacks against the War Office were merely a device of enemies of the Government to undermine the Republic.

The opposition to the ministry hailed the resignation of General Andre as a great victory, which will speedily lead to the fall of the entire ministry.

Felt Weak and Nervous.

Had Faint and Dizzy Spells.

These symptoms arise from a weak condition of the heart and nerves. Wherever there are sickly people with weak hearts and deranged nerves, will be found an effectual remedy.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Through the medium of the nervous system, they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body.

They restore enfeebled, enervated, exhausted, devitalized, or overworked men and women to perfect constitutional power.

Miss Maggie L. Cleveland, Bayswater, N.S., tells how she was cured in the following words:—

"I was sick for the past year, and became thoroughly run down. I had faint and dizzy spells, and felt weak and nervous all the time. I tried numerous remedies, but could get no help. I then read in the paper about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and got a box of them. Before I had used one-half the box I began to get better, so got another one, and by the time the two were finished I was as well as ever."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or THE T. MILBURN CO., LIMITED, TORONTO, ONT.

FRIDAY BARGAINS

Two days' business in one day and that day Friday—is the reason for this liberal inspiration of bargains—the greatest we have ever known. Thousands will benefit by them, why not you:

Maker's Samples of Ladies' Dress Skirts

$4.50 LADIES' DRESS SKIRTS for $1.98
$5.50 LADIES' DRESS SKIRTS for $2.45

These handsome skirts are unprecedented values at the prices asked. Every one of them is being sold at less than half price. The fact that they were a manufacturer's samples, made to take orders from, means that they are perfect in style, material, fit and finish as samples are usually made with greater care than ordinary goods.

The material from which these skirts were made, comprise Serge, Etamines, Cheviots, Camel's Hair and Venetian Cloth, also tweeds and fancy materials in light and dark shades. They are thoroughly well tailored, seams are bound and carefully finished, any tasteful dresser would be pleased to include one of these exquisite skirts in her wardrobe. These beautiful dress skirts will be displayed in two groups on separate tables in the mantle salon where ladies may revel in the pleasures of choosing.

A MESSAGE FROM STOESSEL.

It is rumoured that the destroyer Rastoropny, brought a despatch from General Stoessel, asking the St. Petersburg authorities for instructions as to whether he would continue to hold out, awaiting relief, or make immediate arrangement with the Japanese for surrender upon the most advantageous terms possible. This rumour cannot be confirmed, but it is obvious that only despatches of the highest importance would impel General Stoessel to risk the loss of a warship, by sending her out upon such a mission, in face of the rigid blockade maintained off Port Arthur by the Japanese fleet.

There is reason to believe that Japanese cruisers have been watching the port, although a steamer which has just arrived saw no Japanese war vessel.

The rastoropny brought a number of copies of the Novakrai, a Port Arthur newspaper. In one of the issues it is stated that while a Japanese destroyer was laying mines on November 11, she was surprised by the battleship Retvizan and sunk.

ADVICES REACH THE EMPEROR.

St. Petersburg, November 16.—Advices from Lieut.-General Stoessel (commander of the Russian military forces at Port Arthur), and Rear-Admiral Wirr (in command of the Port Arthur squadron), brought by the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny to Che Foo, have reached the Emperor, but have not yet been made public. The great importance of the information is apparent from the fact that the torpedo boat destroyer was deliberately sacrificed in order to get the communications from the beleaguered garrison. The only word which has reached the Admiralty is a telegram from the captain of the Rastoropny announcing his arrival with official despatch. An attempt of the Japanese to repeat the Ryeshiteint incident in Chinese waters is confirmed.

SECOND DIVISION OF BALTIC SQUADRON STARTS.

Libau, Russia, November 16. — The second division of the Russian Second Pacific Squadron sailed yesterday. It consists of the cruisers Oleg and Izumrud, the auxiliary cruisers Kuban, Terek and Orel; the cruisers Rion and Dnieper (formerly the St. Petersburg and Smolensk) and the torpedo boat destroyers Liany, Rezity, Gromki, Grozny and Prozorliv. The division is expected to overtake Rear Admiral Voelkersam's division by way of the Suez canal.

FREE PASSAGE FOR RUSSIANS.

Suez, Egypt, November 16.—The Governor has asked the Consuls to inform shipping agents that during the passage through the canal of the ships of the Russian Second Pacific Squadron all vessels proceeding northwards will be stopped, allowing the Russian warships free passage, and that all vessels must stringently be ordered to refrain from throwing anything into the canal while the warships are passing and from engaging in demonstrations of any sort.

To Safely Guard the Czar.

New York, November 16.—A London despatch to the Times quotes the London Times Russian correspondents as saying that extraordinary precautions have been taken to insure the safety of the train by which the Czar is travelling to review the divisions of troops marked for service in the Far East. Between St. Petersburg and Grodno alone 20,000 infantry lined both sides of the line over which the Imperial train had to pass. Many thousands more soldiers patrolled the line southward through Poland. Every culvert was guarded by sentries with fixed bayonets. Every pensant track crossing the line was guarded by sentries standing back to back on either side of the railway. The heights above all the railroad cuttings were patrolled by infantry, as also was the entire route in the open. Many places men were stationed only 15 yards from each other. The bridges were especially guarded. Bridges and boats containing infantry guards were placed under the general bridges.

A Bright Array.

Practically endless are the tempting offerings now ready at the dry goods store of Messrs. James A. Ogilvy & Sons, St. Catherine street west, cor. Mountain street.

Their announcement on page 5 of this issue of the Star gives a Friday Bargain List seldom equalled. Early shoppers will get best assortment and best values.

Special Notice.

Another Triumph for Bell Pianos.

The Hamilton Conservatory of Music adopts them. Eight fine art Bell Pianos were delivered recently to the Hamilton Conservatory of Music. Messrs. Willis & Co., 2470 St. Catherine street, are agents for Central Canada for the Bell Organs and Pianos, and Bell Piano Player. Call and see them at Willis & Co.'s, Empire Building, 2470 St. Catherine street (near Mountain street).

Who Will Win the Piano ?

The show window of Leach's Piano Rooms, 2440 St. Catherine street, contains the beautiful new Upright Piano which will be the first prize at the St. Andrew's Bazaar, Windsor Hall, November 26, 28, 29 and 30th, the ownership of the piano will be decided or evening November 30th.

LAING'S RETAIL STORES.

WINDOW SHADES

Our Window Shades are different from those you see in the other stores. The reason is plain. We are much larger buyers and importers of laces and trimmings than any other firm in Canada. Our Window Shade Cloth is made in our own factory, and sold direct from maker to user at one small profit. Call and see how far a little money will go in furnishing your home with Window Shades. Our prices range from 70c to $5 each for the best Window Shades; 22c to 65c each for the ordinary Stock Shades.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SAILORS' INSTITUTE

Mr. George E. Drummond Praises the Men of the Sea.

A LARGE ATTENDANCE

The Final Concert of the Year Followed and Was a Great Success.

The Montreal Sailors' Institute held its annual meeting last evening, thus signalizing the approaching close of the season of navigation.

Mr. Charles Alexander, who for many years has taken a keen interest in the affairs of this Institute, introduced the chairman of the evening, Mr. George E. Drummond, president of the Montreal Board of Trade.

Mr. Drummond, in his address, referred to the fact that the equipment of a national port, such as Montreal, would not be complete without a Sailors' Institute. If it was well to provide accommodation for the vessels coming to port, it was equally well to provide accommodation for the seamen who manned these vessels. The Sailors' Institute, in its scope for good, useful work, must, therefore, commend itself to the hearty support of every thinking citizen, and, most of all, to the business men of the community; to the men, for instance, who composed the Board of Trade, and whose widening commercial interests would more and more depend not only upon the efficiency of the vessels engaged in the ocean service, but also upon the efficiency of the seamen who manned them from the masters to the stokers.

The more Canadian business men sought foreign markets, and the more they travelled, the more they would appreciate the sailors and the institutions that, like the Montreal Sailors' Institute, made for their well-being and uplifting.

Speaking to the sailors, Mr. Drummond said:—"Your coming is welcomed each spring, and your going at the close of each season is, as we know to-night, a matter of sincere regret. Your services to trade and commerce may be repaid; your services to the Empire, in the larger and wider sense, often, perhaps, unconsciously rendered, can neither be estimated nor repaid. This Sailors' Institute here affords, at least, the medium by which we Canadians can acknowledge, in some small measure, our obligation to you."

GROWTH OF INSTITUTE.

Referring to the growth of the Institute, Mr. Drummond said:—"There was one man of the earlier years, whose genial face and brave heart I will never forget. I refer to the late Mr. John Ritchie, the sailors' friend. It seems most fitting that his grandson should to-day so ably fill the office of manager of this institute." Mr. Drummond continued, reviewing the work of the year, the general objects of the Institute, and its deserving nature. He referred to the fact that there would be a deficit this year, and remarked that personally, he would do everything he could to assist the work.

On the platform with Mr. Drummond were:—Messrs. George Hodge, William Nivin, C. S. J. Phillips, J. M. M. Duff, F. B. McNamee, A. F. C. Ross, J. C. Holden, W. I. Gear, E. H. Copland, Lansing Lewis, Chas. Alexander, Hon. J. K. Ward, C. T. Williams, Captains Webb, Christie, Jones, Roberts, Lindsay, Bates, Fraser and Murray.

The programme was rendered by sailors from the ships in port assisted by Miss Bertha Ferguson, soprano; Miss Lilly Grant, Scotch dancer; Mr. J. L. Woods, humorist, and Mr. Fred. Barquelay, in Scotch song and story.

The following sailors participated:—Messrs. Fred. Tyrer, David Allen, SS. Pretorian; Mr. James Avery, steamship Lake Manitoba; Messrs. Albert Bunting, James Herring, R.M.S. Tunisian, and Mr. Henry Campbell, steamship Melville.

ROYAL ARCANUM HOLD RECEPTION AT WINDSOR HALL.

The reception given, last evening, in Windsor Hall, by the Royal Arcanum Grand Council of Quebec, to Mr. A. S. Robinson, Supreme Regent of the Order, of St. Louis, Mo., took the form of a concert at which the Supreme Regent delivered an address.

Mr. Will H. Whyte, Grand Regent of Qeubec, presided, and in a brief opening address extended a fraternal welcome to the visitor. In speaking of the remarkable growth of the Order in Canada, Mr. Whyte pointed out that it now had a membership of 6,898, there being 105 uncils and three Grand Councils in Canada.

Mr. Robinson addressed the audience upon the benefits of fraternal organizations. The purpose of the organization was to protect the home; to make provision for the widow and the orphan when the bread-winner had been taken away. It was, therefore, an order that had a claim upon the sympathies of the women of the land. The order had been in existence twenty-seven years and during that period it had paid to the beneficiaries of its deceased members the sum of $80,156,484. Mr. Robinson also spoke of the broadening influence exercised by fraternal organizations. They all stood for home protection and good citizenship.

The musical portion of the evening's entertainment was excellent, and thoroughly enjoyed by the audience that filled the hall. The vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. J. E. Warner, Miss Bessie Kellert, Messrs. Sydney Dugan and J. Leslie Tedford.

Master Willie Eckstein's fine execution of Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccoso" and Chopin's "Polonaise in C sharp minor" as well as Mons. Albert Cumberland's violin selections, were very enthusiastically received. It would be no exaggeration to say that his selections were the feature of the evening and that his technique and interpretation held the audience spellbound. His runs were marvels of execution and his shading and tone-colouring amazingly consistent and appropriate. Each of his numbers was vociferously encored, even the Chopin polonaise, which was the last number of the programme, being so enthusiastically received that scarcely a person in the hall left their seat until the phenomenal boy player had responded.

Thanksgiving Services.

GRACE CHURCH.—There will be a special Thanksgiving service at Grace Church, Wellington street, to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock. Holy Communion, with sermon, by Archdeacon Ker, D.D.

AMERICAN PRESBYTERIAN.—A Thanksgiving service will be held in the American Presbyterian Church to-morrow, at 11 o'clock. The service will be chiefly one of praise under the direction of Mr. Edwin Broome, organist. Dr. Johnston will give a brief address on "Causes for Canada's Thanksgiving."

ST. JUDE'S CHURCH.—St. Jude's Church Thanksgiving supper will be held on Thursday, 17th instant, at 8 p.m.

ST. GILES PRESBYTERIAN.—To-night a special Thanksgiving service will be held. According to the instructions from the General Assembly, a collection will be taken in the interest of the Pointe aux Trembles schools. During the summer these schools were repaired and enlarged to the cost of about $60,000.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.—Thanksgiving day service will be held on Thursday, at 11 a.m. Dr. Barclay will officiate. Collection for the poor.

STANLEY ST. CHURCH.—Thanksgiving service at 11 a.m. Offering for Session Fund. Strangers cordially invited.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH.—On Thanksgiving day a celebration of Holy Communion will take place at 8 and 10 and 11 o'clock. Morning prayer at 11 o'clock. Preacher Very Rev. the Dean. Communion and other offertories for the poor.

PRICE OF BREAD HAS NOT BEEN INCREASED YET.

From enquiries made it appears there is no foundation for the statements that English bakers have increased the price of bread. On the contrary the price remains at the same figure at which it has existed for some months, and there is no indication at present of any advance being made. Amongst the bakers who contribute to this statement are Messrs. Alex. Watt, A. & L. Strachan, Archibald Smith, and Wiley.

It is a fact, however, as already stated in the Star, that the French Master Bakers' Association has sent up the prices, and the new scale will make the cost of a loaf 8 and 9 cents, these being the rates charged for some time by the English section of the trade.

Several prominent gentlemen associated with charitable works in the city, when interviewed on the subject, agreed that the action of the East End bakers could not have been taken at a more inopportune time. One of the gentlemen said it was a matter of common knowledge that trade was now in a bad state, and with the approaching winter and the closing of navigation there is every probability of some hundreds of men with large families to support being turned out of employment. Coupled with the scarcity of work and the high price of bread, the poor people have still to face big rents and high prices of coal, excessive water bills, which as yet thousands have been unable to pay, and other drawbacks, the outlook is decidedly gloomy all round.

THIEVES CAUGHT IN GIVING FEAST.

Quebec, November 16.—Etienne Cote, Philippe Morin, and Antoine Breton were yesterday sentenced to three months each in gaol for theft from the store of Mr. Lavoie, a grocer. The three young men raided Mr. Lavoie's store on the 5th inst., and were caught by detectives while entertaining some friends to the fruits of their theft. When brought into court all three pleaded guilty and sentence was imposed.

IN AND AROUND THE CITY.

WOMEN'S ART ASSOCIATION.—Beginning in the month of February, 1905, an exhibition and sale of handicrafts will be held by the above association.

C. O. F.—Court Hochelaga, No. 284, holds its annual euchre and dance in Inglis Hall to-night. Everything has been arranged to make this a grand success. Euchre will be played from 8.30 till about 11 p. m.

BROWNIE SOCIAL CLUB.—The members of the above club will hold a dance in Stanley Hall Thanksgiving Night. This is the second of the series of dances which they are going to carry out through the winter.

FOOT WAS CRUSHED.—While at work in the Canadian Pacific Railway shops at Maisonneuve, yesterday afternoon, Medric Mireau had his foot severely crushed, as a result of a large piece of iron falling on it. He was taken to the General Hospital in the ambulance.

LEAVING FOR TORONTO.—The Rev. Augustus A. Bryant, formerly of London, England, who for the past eighteen months has been at the Church of the Advent, Westmount, will leave Montreal on December 1, to take up work at Grace Church, Toronto.

PHYSICAL CULTURE SOCIETY.—An adjourned meeting of the Organization Committee of the Physical Culture Society, of Montreal, was held last night, at the residence of Mr. J. L. Disney, 49 Shuter street, Mr. William W. Robertson, president of the society, presiding. As the secretary has not yet received from Mr. Bernarr Macfadden the names that were submitted to him when he lectured in Windsor Hall, it was decided to defer the calling of a general meeting until the list is received.

ANNUAL BAZAAR.—The annual bazaar of the Ladies' Guild of the Church of the Advent will be held in the Victoria Hall, Westmount, on the evening of the 23rd, and afternoon and evening of the 24th inst. It is hoped that the public will give their liberal patronage to the bazaar so as to make it a success, because much time and labour has been spent on the arrangements. Among the features will be the Maypole Dance, the Witch's Cave and the Art Gallery, and the following is a list of the booths, with the ladies in charge: Fancy Work, Mrs. Hemsley; Baby, Mrs. Read; Art, Mrs. Fowler; Paper, Mrs. Pyke; Bag and Apron, Mrs. Moody; Housekeepers', Mrs. Kelley; Sunday School, Mrs. Rogers; Candy, Mrs. Black; Doll, Miss Richeby; Flower, Miss Borthwick; Tea Room, Mrs. Donell and Mrs. Spence.

PUTTING IT STRONG.

But Doesn't It Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspeptics is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extreme, or else deluging the already overburdened stomach with "bitters," "after-dinner pills" etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight, temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is a rest. Now, how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained.

This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy, but its success and popularity leaves no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from Dyspepsia, according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food, and use the tablets before and after each meal, and the result will be that the food will be digested, no matter how bad the Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food, even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1-500 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperature of 98 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak, yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished, and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made, because the much-abused stomach will be given, to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of all the many remedies advertised to cure Dyspepsia, none of them have given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in the hard times is the fact that they are the cheapest and give the most good for the least money. 273 3 eod

SONS OF ENGLAND CELEBRATE THEIR 9TH ANNIVERSARY.

The Westmount Sons of England celebrated their ninth anniversary by holding a past presidents' night at the Victoria Hall last evening.

The room was very tastefully decorated with palms and bunting.

There was a representative gathering of past presidents and members of the order, and after a lodge was held, during which the past presidents performed the ceremony of initiating four candidates into the mysteries of the degree, a supper was served, the social committee providing a musical programme.

The president's chair was occupied by Bro. J. M. Henderson, P.P., and he was supported by Bro. E. K. Watson, first past president of the Lodge; Bro. Morton, Bro. H. Goodier (Primrose), P.P., and Bro. Jos. Horsfall, P.P. (Lincoln). The vice-president's chair was filled by Bro. Thos. Harling, P.P., and the past president's by Bro. W. H. Huntley, Supreme President.

Bro. W. S. Davis, chairman of the social committee, made a short address, reviewing the past history of the Westmount Lodge, and paying a high tribute to the past presidents. He spoke particularly of President Johnson's successful administration, through which the membership of the lodge had increased materially. After singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," three hearty cheers were given for Mr. Johnston, who briefly replied.

There was a good attendance, and the evening was most enjoyable.

MR. W. D. LIGHTHALL MAKES A STATEMENT TO THE ELECTORS.

Mr. W. D. Lighthall has issued the following statement:

"The object sought by my candidature in St. Antoine Division was effective protection of municipal and public rights, the work in which I have been engaged for a considerable time. It is obvious that schemes against those rights cannot be greatly checked without effective free opposition. In the absence of a Conservative opposition, it could not be expected of the ordinary Liberal candidate, as all who are acquainted with the workings of the so-called "discipline" of parties know. Having long proved that I was untrammeled and not afraid of friend or foe in the prosecution of my course, many people came to me and offered me the support of groups and individuals, some of them offering strong and valuable aid, and under these circumstances I was persuaded at last to become a candidate. I did not desire to publish the names until necessary, perhaps embarassing some of them. The acceptance by Mr. Eugene Lafleur has placed a new face on the matter and gives promise of better things, implying as it does, if he succeeds in election, the entry into the Legislature of a man of high character and legal skill, representing the better element of the Liberal party, and who may therefore be looked to to accomplish something equivalent to the work I had in view. Mr. Lafleur's acceptance was not expected. If the Conservatives can bring forward as good a man and afford some chance of a real opposition, it would be a still more healthy condition. I think my candidature has had the effect of strengthening the hands of the better element, and I am not willing to needlessly hurt any good man or movement, hence I have retired.

"W. D. LIGHTHALL."

COUNTERFEIT MONEY FOUND ON M'SHANE.

When Daniel McShane was sentenced yesterday by Mr. Recorder Poirier to pay a fine of $1 or spend three days in gaol, it was found that he had several pieces of counterfeit money in his pocket. He said that he had just arrived in this country and the money had been taken in change. An enquiry will be made as to the truth of McShane's statement.

To-morrow being Thanksgiving Day, the Italian Warehouse will be Closed the entire day. To-night the Stores will be Open until 10 o'clock

A GLENGARRY LADY'S EXPERIENCE.

WHAT MRS. McCRIMMON SAYS OF DR. PITTS PEARL PILLS.

Their action is so different from anything else I have ever used, so mild and gentle, I never thought they would cure my chronic constipation.

Soon after the birth of my second child, ten years ago, constipation became troublesome. I tried many remedies (all highly recommended), also consulted several prominent physicians, some of which gave me temporary relief, but the old complaint always returned worse than before. I finally got so bad I could not relish any food. I had headache, bloating, bearing down pains, backache, easily tired, never felt rested in fact, could not sleep well. I had given up all hope of ever enjoying health again. Finally a friend of ours came out from the Old Country. After telling her my trouble and all the remedies I had tried without getting any relief, she said: "Why don't you try DR. PITT'S PEARL PILLS?" I had never heard of them. She said they were well known in the Old Country as a safe and sure cure for trouble such as I had. I decided to try them, but when I asked the different dealers in Marlinstown, Alexandria and other places for DR. PITT'S PEARL PILLS, they did not have them. When tried Montreal with no better success. Every place we enquired at had something better to sell, all of which I refused to buy. I was determined to buy these PILLS and no other. My friend finally sent to the Old Country and got five boxes for me. I am unable to describe the joy DR. PITT'S PEARL PILLS have brought to myself and home. The very first dose gave me relief. As I continued to use them, I continued to improve in health. To-day I am as fresh and healthy as I was at eighteen. I am glad to hear they. Pills can now be obtained from all the first-class dealers, and can only say to those who suffer as I did, "Try DR. PITT'S PEARL PILLS." I would not be without them for the world.

The Pills are sold at 25c per box, 5 boxes $1, by dealers, or sent by mail.

The Big Store will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, but the hum of business will sound with renewed vigor in its many departments on Friday. Special precautions have been taken to make the special bargains more numerous and attractive than ever, and shoppers will find much to repay them for their visit. It is difficult to particularize amongst such plenty, but certainly the Special Sale of Ladies' Skirts cannot be too much emphasized. It consists of the pick of a manufacturer's samples at absolutely inadequate prices, constituting a money-saving opportunity in which every lady should attempt to participate.

Whiskey Habit

Government Printing Office.

Washington, D.C., April 18, 1904.

The Orrine Co., Inc., Washington, D.C.

Gentlemen—My attention was recently called to one of the employes of this office who had, through habits of intoxicating drink, become so inefficient as to be on the verge of dismissal in six weeks the appetite entirely disappeared, and to "Orrine" belongs the credit for this excellent result. It is a pleasure to me to acknowledge the value of a remedy which brings results so beneficial. Yours very truly,

F. W. PALMER, Public Printer.
