Encompas'd in an Angel's Frame A Favorite Song in the LORD OF THE MANOR

Composed by

W. Jackson

Price 6^d

Printed for W. GAWLER, Paradise Row, LAMBETH.

Andante
Affettuoso

compas'd in an An-gel's frame, an An-gel's vir-tues lay, Too soon did Heav'n af-tert the claim, And call'd its own a-way, and call'd . . . its own a . . . way:

An-nas worth my An-na's charms must ne-ver more re-turn, must ne-ver more re--turn; What now shall fill those wid-dow'd arms, Ah! me, Ah! me,

Ah! me, my An-na's Urn.

For the German Flute.

Andante
Affettuoso
