BRITISH DOCKERS STRIKE SPREADING

World News In Brief

Chatham, England—(Reuters)—Five 11-year-old boys were brought into court Tuesday charged with blackmailing a 10-year-old boy for smoking.

The boys extracted £20 from the lad over a period of months. They used the money to hire taxis to take them out to play and take them home again, to buy air pistols and jacknives, to buy cigars and to pay for lemonade and candy for their friends.

Three of the boys were put on probation and two granted conditional discharges. All were ordered to repay the money.

Granville, Mass.— (AP) — Two Massachusetts national guard airmen were killed Tuesday night when their jet plane crashed in flames.

John Collier, an eyewitness, said the plane roared over his house in flames with the pilot apparently veering the plane intentionally into woods to avoid hitting homes. Bodies of the two airmen were found early today.

The plane crashed in the woods two miles from the centre of the town. It plowed a furrow 125 feet long and about 12 feet deep and set about two acres of woodland ablaze. The fire was quickly extinguished.

Quebec—(CP)—Delard Marcel Bergeron, who skipped $5,000 bail in Montreal two years ago, and his brother Ulysse, have been arrested here and charged with fraud, provincial police reported Tuesday.

The men, both from Val d'Or in the northern Quebec gold-mining district, pleaded not guilty when arraigned on charges of fraud and conspiracy to defraud.

Adelard, sought by provincial police since he forfeited $5,000 bail on a charge of selling an imitation gold brick in Montreal in 1952, was arrested Oct. 8. His brother was arrested Friday.

Hattiesburg, Miss.—(AP)—O. L. Pearce, 35-year-old soil conservation worker, Tuesday killed his wife, his three small children and his brother and then committed suicide.

Perry county sheriff Dee Hammett identified Pearce's victims as Mrs. Avis Pearce, 32, Charles, 6, Elaine, 4, Frieda, 3, and Lorenzo Pearce, 49.

Neighbors said Pearce had been worried for a long time over finances.

Man Admits Axe Slaying Of Spouse

Notre Dame des Laurentides, Que. — (CP) — The axe-slashed body of a 44-year-old housewife, mother of five girls, was found in her blood-soaked bed by police today. Police said her unemployed husband notified them of the slaying and they quoted him as saying "I've just killed my wife."

Police identified the woman as Mrs. Gerard Bedard. Her body was taken to the nearby Beauport morgue while her husband was placed in cells at provincial police headquarters in Quebec City.

Police said the slaying apparently occurred during the night while the woman and her daughters were sleeping in their grey frame home in this mountainous district, 10 miles north of Quebec City.

Headquarters said a constable dozing in the little white-painted station was suddenly awakened about 3:20 a.m. EST by insistent knocking.

The constable peered through the frost-covered glass of the door pane and saw a man. Police said when the door was opened the man said: "I've come to give myself up, I've just killed my wife."

Police headquarters sent a squad out to the suburban area. The man was brought to Quebec and was held as a material witness pending a coroner's inquest.

In Quebec no charges are laid in cases of violent deaths until a coroner's inquest has been held.

Police said "the woman's assailant must have gone wild." One axe-blow struck the woman in the centre of the head and split it in two.

All Power Taken From Erie Mayor

Erie, Pa. — (AP) — City council Tuesday stripped Mayor Thomas W. Flatley of all his powers and District Attorney Damian McLaughlin said nine new charges will be filed against the mayor.

Flatley already is charged with accepting bribes. Police said members of a gambling syndicate which netted $20,000,000 a year gave Flatley protection money. McLaughlin said Flatley will be charged with violation of his oath of office, two counts of conspiracy and six more counts of accepting bribes.

Flatley will continue on the city payroll pending final disposition of the charges.

Flatley was arrested Saturday, along with two policemen and 14 other men.

One of the policemen, Chief Inspector Jack Martin, will testify for the state when the cases come to trial, the Erie county prosecutor said.

Shipping Paralysis Threatens To Seriously Undermine Food Supplies For Entire Island.

London — (AP) — Striking dockers walked off the liners Queen Elizabeth and America at Southampton today, spreading the shipping paralysis that now threatens this island nation's food supplies.

Approximately 39,000 men — half of Britain's waterfront working force — are out at London, Liverpool, Birkenhead, Hull and Southampton. Some union leaders striving to get the men back to work say the strike is being fomented by Communists.

Prime Minister Churchill's cabinet was expected to decide later today whether to use troops to unload ships — particularly those with cargoes of meat, butter, eggs and fruit — if the men don't return to work by Saturday. Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton already has pledged the government to "any steps which may become necessary to protect the national interest."

The strike picture by ports:

London—26,000 men out, including 4,500 tug and barge workers. Complete paralysis of the port.

Liverpool—8,,000 out and 5,000 working.

Birkenhead—Entire force of 2,000 out.

Hull — 2,000 out.

Southampton — Situation still fluid but nearly 1,000 men either refused to report to work this morning or walked off ships being worked.

A snap meeting called by unofficial leaders this morning spread the strike to Southampton after dockers there voted overwhelmingly at a meeting Tuesday night to stay on the job.

About 700 workmen met near the Dock Labor Board office and a self-appointed leader shouted "All who want to go out step over to the left." When about two-thirds of those present complied, the leader shouted, "Right, we are on strike. Another meeting here tomorrow morning."

Shopkeepers predict severe food shortages, especially of meat, butter and eggs, unless the 17-day-old walkout is ended by Saturday. The stoppage also is holding up $200,000,000 worth of experts and imports and poses a serious threat to Britain's whole economy.

Leaders of the trade union congress, the parent body of the unions involved, denounced the strike as "useless sacrifice."

The Communist Daily Worker meanwhile taunted in a front-page editorial:

"If the right wing leaders of the Trades Union Congress ever supported a British strike, the average British trade unionist would have a fit. Nevertheless, the condemnation of the dockers' strike by the general purposes committee of the Trades Union Congress is a more than usually stupid and crude stab in the back."

Arthur Deakin, chief of the Transport and General Workers Union to which most of the dockers belong, has denounced the walkout as "a Communist conspiracy."

Flood Area Relief Fund Is Growing

Toronto— (CP) —Contributions from across Canada that promise relief for Ontario's flood victims were steadily mounting today as the big task of rehabilitation started to take shape.

Already the Ontario Hurricane Relief Fund—now in its third day—is well into its second million. Tuesday's donations—biggest of which was $150,000 from the Canadian Disaster Relief Fund—brought the total to nearly $1,300,000. The objective is $10,000,000.

But the grim work of crews looking for bodies of flood victims continued on the western outskirts of Toronto and northward along the course of the now-serene Humber river.

The death toll of 78 may grow as tons of silt and debris are cleared from along the river valley.

Besides the 78 known dead, seven persons are listed as missing and presumed drowned and five listed as missing.

Federal, provincial and municipal governments were planning aids to rehabilitation and relief as hundreds returned to their dank, muddied homes and ruined contents from which they fled in a few terror-filled hours last Friday night and Saturday morning.

Immediate financial aid will go to all flood victims who are in acute need, directors of the fund said. Widows, orphans, people in hospital and those who have lost all personal possessions will receive first consideration.

"There will be no red tape—their needs will be filled now," said Col. Eric Phillips, fund chairman.

Seek Link In Two Toronto DP Slayings

Toronto. —(CP)— A 27-year-old woman was strangled Tuesday night as she walked home with food for supper.

The nude body of Mrs. Olga Zacharko was found in a dimly-lit laneway in west-central Toronto a few doors from her home. Clothes were scattered around the area and a bag of groceries lay smashed on the street.

It was the second mysterious strangling here in a month and police started looking for a possible link between Mrs. Zacharko's death and the murder of Mrs. Marie Lypoweckyj. The 46-year-old Mrs. Lypoweckyj was throttled and left nude in a narrow alleyway in the same general area Sept. 24.

Both women were Ukrainian immigrants who came to Canada as displaced persons. Both attacks were made at night in dark lanes. Both were stripped and their clothing strewn about.

Mrs. Zacharko, wife of a Polish immigrant, was found 2½ hours after she went to a neighborhood grocery store to shop. Her body was discovered by the owner of another store about 20 feet from the end of the lane.

Police said she apparently was killed after being chased along Phoebe street, a dimly-lit thoroughfare near Queen street. One of her shoes was found in the lane. The other was on the street, not far from the bag of groceries.

The murder was committed

Freedom Of Germany Under Study

Paris—(AP)—With progress reported between France and Germany toward settlement of the troublesome Saar question, the foreign ministers of the United States and Britain gathered here today for four-power talks on near-independence for West Germany.

The conference is one of a series here this week looking toward West German rearmament and sovereignty.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met for almost eight hours Tuesday on the Saar and a variety of economic topics. Mendes-France has said an agreement on the industrial-rich Saar must be reached before the French National Assembly will approve the rearmament of West Germany within the Western defence alliance.

The French and German leaders are reported nearing agreement on a plan to place the Saar under the authority of the projected West European union as far as its foreign affairs are concerned.

John Foster Dulles of the U.S. and Britain's Anthony Eden were to join the French and German statesmen later today for conferences designed to bring an end to a decade of military occupa-

Honored By Queen

Eden Receives Coveted Order Of The Garter

London— (AP) —Anthony Eden knelt before young Queen Elizabeth, felt the light tap of a sword upon both shoulders and heard her say "Arise, Sir Anthony." Thus did Britain's Foreign Secretary today become a Knight of the Garter.

The honor—a signal sign of the sovereign's personal approval—came at a time of triumph for Eden in his conduct of foreign affairs.

The debonair 57-year-old Foreign Secretary now joins Prime Minister Churchill, among others, as a member of one of the world's oldest orders of chivalry.

The private audience in Buckingham Palace lasted only 15 minutes. The ceremony followed the form that dates back unchanged to days when knights wore armor.

Announcement of Eden's knighting came as a surprise. He is only the seventh commoner to receive the honor since 1700.

This was the highest honor Eden could receive from his sovereign and still remain in the House of Commons. A peerage is out of the question for him since he is regarded as the ultimate successor to Churchill's mantle.

Eden left later in the day for talks in Paris on the London agreement to rearm Western Germany. That agreement, resulting from the recent nine-power conference here, is regarded as one of Eden's peak achievements in diplomacy.

Eden has been Foreign Secretary three times—first from 1935 to 1938; through the Second World War from 1940 to 1945; and again since 1951.

He has been twice married, first to Miss Beatrice Helen Beckett. He obtained a divorce in 1950 on the grounds of his wife's desertion, and married Miss Clarissa Spencer Churchill, the Prime Minister's niece, in 1952.

He had two sons by his first marriage. The elder, Simon, was killed on active service with the RAF in 1945. The other, Nicholas, became aide-de-camp to Governor-General Massey of Canada in 1952.

Since Eden took charge of the foreign office when the Conservative government returned to power in October, 1951, he has played a leading role in international affairs, ranging from the Geneva conference which ended the Indochina war to last month's London conference and Tuesday's Anglo-Egyptian agreement on the evacuation of the Suez canal zone.

His knighthood is expected to touch off a new round of speculation on when he will take over the premiership from Churchill, now only a few weeks away from his 80th birthday.

Churchill gave no clue to his retirement plans when he addressed the recent Conservative party annual conference. Instead, he declared there is still plenty of work for Eden and he to do together.

Today's ceremony took place in one of the state rooms of Buckingham Palace overlooking the royal gardens.

Both Labor and Conservative members cheered when news of the knighthood reached the Houses of Parliament. The cabinet was in session while Eden was at the palace, but its attention was focused not on a foreign problem but a domestic one—Britain's spreading dock strike.

Aged Graft Charges Are Given Airing

By JAMES DEVLIN

New York—(AP)—Senator Irving M. Ives, Republican candidate for governor of New York state, says a shipping firm once headed by his opponent, Averell Harriman, paid $250,000 to a crooked judge to obtain pier leases in New York harbor back in the 1920s.

Harriman, Democratic-Liberal party nominee, denies emphatically that he paid or knew of anybody making improper payments in connection with a pier lease or any other matter.

The raising of the scandal—which first broke in 1930—held the spotlight today in the bitter state campaign for the Nov. 2 elections.

The story about leases for two Tammany-controlled piers (Tammany Hall was the old headquarters of New York City Democrats) was told by Ives in a radio and television speech Tuesday night.

Republican and Democratic leaders now face the question—was Ives' speech a bombshell or a dud?

Harriman, former diplomat and secretary of commerce under Roosevelt and Truman, accused Ives of a "baseless" attack in a "desperate effort to bolster a faltering campaign," and said he believes the people will resent it.

Ives' speech received unusual attention because of a double-action buildup. First he cut short his campaign tour and made a mysterious midnight drive from Albany to New York with word that an important announcement would be made at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Then the announcement said he would reveal in detail on television an radio a "shocking and startling" situation involving Harriman.

Ives and Harriman are battling to succeed retiring Governor Thomas E. Dewey for one of the most influential state posts in U.S. politics.

Ives told a TV-radio audience on a state-wide network that the United American line, headed by Harriman as board chairman, paid the $250,000 to Kings county (Brooklyn) Judge W. Bernard Vause in the mid-1920s.

The case was widely reported in the press in 1930. Headlines of newspapers of that era were flashed on the TV screen as Ives spoke.

Ives said the shipping line obtained leases on two city-owned piers through payments to Vause.

For four years, he said, the "secret seemed to be safe" and "everything was happy until the spring of 1930 when the scandal broke loose."

Harriman, apparently having the newspaper polls in mind, told reporters an hour after the Ives telecast:

"Tonight's papers quote my opponent as saying 'I never fight so hard as when my back is to the wall.' What he meant was that he plays fair only when he is ahead."

Wild Scenes Mark Trieste Treaty Vote

By ALLEN JACKS

Rome —(AP)—A violent, free-for-all Italian Chamber of Deputies brawl ended at dawn today with a vote of confidence in the government's handling of the Trieste settlement with Yugoslavia.

Angry, exhausted deputies voted 295 to 265. Six deputies and five ushers were injured in fist fighting that twice broke up the 14-hour session.

Prime Minister Mario Scelba had demanded that the name-calling, fist-swinging session continue until the vote was taken, in order to strengthen Italy's position at the Paris big-power conference.

Within minutes after the marathon session ended, Italy's politically minded press launched an equally violent word battle against what most papers termed "scandalous" and "deplorable" conduct in the chamber.

Communist and pro-Communist newspapers blamed Scelba's Christian Democrat party for touching off the uproarious battle. Independent papers and those of Scelba's Centrist coalition blamed the Communists.

Some avoided assessing blame, and simply demanded a halt to parliamentary brawls. Said Catholic Action's Il Quotidiano: "Stern measures should be taken. Aggression such as are permitted deputies would land any other citizen in court."

Record Sum Received At Oil Auction

Edmonton — (CP) — Alberta's third sale this year of petroleum and natural gas leases and reservation rights is expected to top $10,000,000 at its conclusion today.

Sale of leases on proven oil-bearing land and of exploratory reservation rights Tuesday night put more than $9,000,000 into provincial coffers. The opening of tenders ends today with bids on leases for 24 tracts of semi-proven land in southern Alberta.

The year's receipts from leases and rights now is about $57,000,000 compared with the previous record of $35,400,611 set in 1950.

Since the Leduc oil discovery in 1947, Alberta has gleaned about $170,000,000 from leases and reservation rights sales and a total of $292,000,000 from all oil sources. This is about $35,000,000 more than Albertans have paid in municipal school and hospital taxes in the seven-year period.

Texaco Exploration Ltd. paid Tuesday's top price—$1,353,000—for leasing a proven half-section in the Sturgeon lake area 200 miles northwest of Edmonton. The company also bought the lease on a neighboring quarter-section for $1,153,000.

The rapidly-developing Pembina fields 65 miles southwest of Edmonton proved the biggest money-makers, eight half-sections and 14 quarter-sections bring $3,739,592.

The crown leases provide 21 years' exploration and possible development. Reservation rights are granted on a four-month basis and may be renewed for a small fee after one year.

Financial Aid Rushing To Parents Of N.B. Quads

Bathurst, N.B.—(CP)—The parents of Bathurst's two-day-old Doucet quadruplets are getting help in their determination to make financial ends meet.

The Bathurst Town Council Tuesday night decided to provide a tax-exempt lot on which the family may build, and also give each infant a $100 government savings bond.

Earlier, Sacred Heart University here offered to educate the newly-arrived boy in high school and through to a bachelor of arts degree. A milk company volunteered to supply him and his three sisters with its product. A neighbor offered to let the enlarged family move into a six-room house at small rental.

About a month will pass, however, before the youngest children of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Doucet will be permitted to leave the hospital where they were born Monday night. The family, including a 14-months-old girl, has been living at the modest home of Doucet's parents.

Late Tuesday the quads were reported still progressing favorably in their incubators. The boy, born first, weighed four pounds and four ounces. The girl tipped the scales at four pounds, two ounces each. Their 98-pound mother was also doing well. The French-speaking parents also speak good English.

They indicated they would oppose any suggestion that the babies be raised anywhere but with them.

"I want my babies with me," said Mrs. Doucet, who is 26. "We can feed them and dress them."

"We'll bring them up," agreed her truck-driving husband, 42, who earns $50 a week.

The slightly-built Mr. Doucet has been on vacation for the last two weeks. When he reported back for work Tuesday, his employer gave him another week off with pay, along with cigars to distribute.

He and his wife had planned to build a bungalow and not long ago he bought the bricks. These plans were changed by the four newcomers.

"It would be too small," the father said.

His 42nd birthday Monday coincided with arrival of the quads.

"Quite a birthday gift," he understated. "I haven't been able to think of four names for them. I haven't been able to think of even one name. I guess I drank 40 or 45 cups of coffee yesterday."

Egyptian Crowds Cheer Signing Of Suez Treaty

By ROBERT HEWETT

Cairo—(AP)—Crowds cheering Prime Minister Gamal Abdel Nasser gathered at Egypt's parliament building today to celebrate the signing of the treaty ending British occupation of the Suez canal zone.

Nasser, the young soldier who led the bloodless coup that dethroned ex-king Farouk two years ago, signed the long-sought evacuation treaty Tuesday night. Anthony Nutting, 34-year-old British minister of state, headed the British delegation.

Government-sponsored youth rally groups and delegations of trade unions paraded to the parliament building and Nasser's office, while overhead roared jet fighters, bombers and training planes of the Egyptian air force.

Despite the military government's proclamation of a national holiday there was a curious lack of spontaneous jubilation in the first hours of the celebration. The government radio said police would escort demonstrations to prevent "subversive elements" from stirring up trouble.

Extra police were on duty in strategic parts of the city to guard against possible anti-government outbreaks by the fanatical Moslem Brotherhood. This powerful religious-political organization has bitterly attacked Nasser for agreeing to the possible return of British forces during the initial seven-year period.

Meanwhile the forgotten man of Egypt's leadership—President Mohammed Naguib—drew what some observers called a most genuine, spontaneous, demonstration when he drove to his presidential office this morning. Crowds marching in pro-Nasser demonstrations broke into cheers and ran after his car.

Naguib, forced into the powerless post of president in a fight with the revolution council last spring, was not at the signing ceremony.

Under the treaty, the 83,000 British troops now in the canal zone will be evacuated within 20 months, but British civilian technicians will maintain a few selected installations for seven more years.

Britain also has the right to return to the bases within the seven-year period if an outside power attacks Turkey or an Arab state. The two countries will decide during the seventh year whether they want to extend the treaty.

Daddy Ringtail

Pelican Feathers

By WESLEY DAVIS

The Featherman jumped in the air and bumped his heels together three times with a noise of "Click! Click! Click!" He did it to show how happy he was. "Daddy Ringtail," said the Featherman, when he had finished with the jumping and bumping of heels together, "do you think the pelican will give me a pelican feather?"

Daddy Ringtail smiled. He knew that the Featherman could think of nothing but feathers, feathers, and more feathers. The Featherman likes to have feathers to feather his nest. And of all kinds of feathers in the world, a pelican feather was the one that the Featherman had never found to do any feathering with.

"Daddy Ringtail," the Featherman said again, "do you think the pelican will give me a pelican feather?"

"Well," Daddy Ringtail said, "I don't know him very well, because he has just come to live in the Great Forest, but if you walk along by the Whispering River until you find him. . ."

"Oh me!" said the Featherman. "Oh my! I don't know what a pelican looks like."

"Come on then," Daddy Ringtail said. "I'll help you find him."

The Featherman jumped up and down again three times, being careful to bump his heels together three times, of course, and then he hurried along with Daddy Ringtail down to the Whispering River.

The pelican was standing with his feet in the water, the way that pelicans often do. He had plenty of pelican feathers, all right, because a pelican is what he was. He even had a pelican feather that he wasn't using.

But would he give it to the Featherman? No, no, and a hundred times no. "I don't give feathers to people for nothing," the pelican said. He wasn't very friendly about it.

This made the Featherman very unhappy. So very unhappy he wasn't about to jump in the air any more and jump his heels together three times. But the pelican said he would give the Featherman a feather to see him do his jumping and bumping.

It was all very fair the way they traded, and everyone wants to be fair. Oh, but a happy day now to you at your house!

Turbulent Scenes Marked Meeting Of City Aldermen And Proprietors

Under the auspices of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce, members of the City Council and Sherbrooke ratepayers met last night in the City Hall to clarify the two loan by-laws which will be voted on next week. All the members of the Council were present together with about 50 citizens.

One of the rules laid down by the Chamber of Commerce was that all questions addressed to the Council must be submitted in writing. The purpose of this was to avoid confusion.

The first hour of the meeting was marred by continuous interruptions from certain members of the audience who claimed that the meeting was being run on a dictatorial basis. After the third question certain members stood up and declared that the answers given were not satisfactory and then proceeded to walk out. They walked to the back of the hall and stayed there. The first half of the meeting was continually interrupted by the exits and entrances of this group.

Before questions were answered Guy Blanchette, chairman of the meeting, called upon Alderman Felix Thibault to give some explanations on the public works by-law.

The first question asked was whether the taxes would be raised as a result of the by-laws?

The Council were asked why they did not attend the last meeting of the League of Proprietors?

Alderman Cadorette claimed that the reason for this was the lack of an invitation. This brought protest from certain members of the audience. At this point they said they would not tolerate any more and a group of some twenty started to leave. They got as far as the back of the room and remained there, perhaps out of curiosity.

The question was asked whether the city was obliged to install sewers and water lines after they had been requested by a property owner? Another question along the same lines was whether the city was obliged to supply these services after they had granted a building permit?

Alderman Carrier Fortin replied that they were not obligated in this way but that a good administration would consider such a fact an obligation, as they are the ones that can install such services. He said, however, that a City is obliged to install electricity. He also spoke of law suits which may result from the city's failure to install these services. They have no money for such expenditures, therefore what can they do?

Initial Meeting Held By Circo Service Group

A regular meeting of the Circo Long Service Association was held at the Belleview Club with 68 members present.

As this was the first meeting of the season the business session presided over by President Bob Cote was quite short. A number of guests were introduced and welcomed by Vice-President James Udall and Vice-President Joseph Cayer.

Several members were observing anniversaries for company service and gold medallions in recognition of their service were presented by G. H. Logie, manager of industrial relations, who acted in the absence of G. M. Young, works manager.

Those receiving presentations were F. Lord, Harold McCullough, Fenton Lothrop, and Henry Woollerton, each with 30 years of service and Joe Fournier with 35 years. Two lady members, Miss Helen MacGregor and Miss Vina Miltimore, were also observing anniversaries.

Two new members, Armand Robitaille and Ray Fearon, each with 25 years of service were inducted into the association through the presentation of gold medallions.

Following the presentations two extremely interesting colour movies on fishing and car racing were shown, through the courtesy of Codere Limited and the Perfect Circle Piston Ring Co., after which the meeting was adjourned for refreshments and a social hour.

Bishop's Group Is Sponsoring Handicraft Show

The Treasure Van is coming to Sherbrooke.

The World University Service committee of Bishop's University is sponsoring the International Exhibition and Sale of Handicrafts from India which will open on Monday, October 25. in the Champlain Room of the New Sherbrooke and continue through Tuesday, October 26.

Featuring a glorified bazaar of jewelry, scarves, ivory, brass work and bangles from India, Greece and the Manitoulin Islands in Canada, the exhibition will be opened at 3 p.m. Monday afternoon by Mayor Emile Levesque.

Prices on the sale are very reasonable, and some of the items offered cannot be bought in stores anywhere on this continent. From India there is ivory, woodwork, shells, silver filagree, embroidered bags, scarves, semi-precious jewellry; from Greece pottery and metal goods; and from the Manitoulin Island, Sweetgrass, birchbark and porcupine quill articles.

Proceeds of the sale are used to provide money for the World University Service for use in its international education program which includes seminars, scholarships, and technical aid to deserving universities. It serves a two-fold purpose of providing a market for the work of craftsmen who depend on selling their crafts for their livelihood, and of bringing before the public the beauty of the arts and crafts of different peoples.

The core of the Treasure Van is a display of the "Dolls of the World"—national dolls received from individual kings, queens and dignitaries in more than twenty countries throughout the world.

Gilbert Rheaume Heads St. Justine Hospital Drive

Gilbert Rheaume, manager of the Bank of Montreal in Sherbrooke, has been named general director of the Eastern Townships district in the 1954 St. Justine's Hospital Building Fund Campaign which will be conducted from November 15 to 30.

For the St. Justine's campaign the district has been divided into three sections:

The central, or Sherbrooke, section, made up of the counties of Compton, Richmond, Stanstead and Sherbrooke. Patients from this area last year were given 1,723 days at St. Justine's hospital — or an average of five children all year long. The campaign objective for the section is $90,800. Actually this section is being asked to establish three beds at the new St. Justine's Hospital for it has been estimated that it costs a total of $25,000 per bed to build the new institution.

The eastern, or Thetford, section includes the counties of Frontenac, Megantic and Wolfe. Last year little patients from this area received 1,487 days of treatment at St. Justine's, or an average of four beds occupied all year long. This section's objective is $38,000.

The third section is the Granby, or western, area which is made up of the counties of Arthabaska, Brome, Drummond and Shefford. Patients from this section took up six beds all last year — a total of 2,071 patient days during 1953. The section's objective has been fixed at $68,500.

As the campaign chairman, Brig. J. Guy Gauvreau, has emphasized time and again, it is important that every district support St. Justine's most generously because it is a children's general hospital which serves the whole province. It is a children's medical centre which provides study, research and training which benefit every district of Quebec.

Importance Of Self-Help In Social Service Work Stressed To Rotarians

The biggest job in the world is helping people, Miss Bessie French told Sherbrooke Rotarians last night.

"It takes common sense, dedication, willing hands and most of all self help." But "it is a challenge which when met is most rewarding," she added.

Miss French, trained social worker at the St. Colomba House Social Settlement in Montreal, addressing Rotarians at their regular dinner meeting in the New Sherbrooke Hotel, told of "self help" — one of the key words in the social welfare movement. "Self help" she explained — the aim of the social service — is to help the person or the family "help itself."

It is generally recognized that all those concerned in human welfare, in it's broadest sense, can more completely reach their goal by "getting together," Miss French declared as she told of the recent Toronto Convention of Social Workers. "This convention" she explained, "is designed for a general exchange of information" about how to administer help to the needy. Forty-eight countries were represented at the convention.

The goal is to "bolster and support" the home and family so that it can turn out "responsible citizens," a goal which is sometimes hard to come by. Miss French said, "Not only must the worker find out if the family will be helped but also how they feel about being helped." One of the most effective ways of helping children is to do so through the parents. The children then get the "My dad and mum gave me this" feeling.

An individual must be able to assess values. Miss French recalled one family whom the welfare movement had been supporting for some time. They suddenly bought a television set. The husband had sacrificed his insurance and everything he had to buy his wife the only thing she longed for.

Someone once said "To be a man is to be responsible." Said Miss French: "It is to feel ashamed at the sight of distress even if it doesn't seem to be of our own making."

Several representatives from local welfare groups were present at last night's meeting including Miss Alma Harton, Service Familieul de Sherbrooke; Miss Laura Germain Victorian Order of Nurses; Miss A. Walsh, Catholic Women's League; Mrs. H. E. Loughheed, I.O.D.E., and H. G. Boudreau, City of Sherbrooke.

Nelson Lothrop, chairman of the youth committee, spoke on next Saturday's project to supply shoes and rubbers to needy children. Between 130 and 150 children will receive shoes and rubbers as a gift from the Sherbrooke Rotary Club Saturday. Families will be called for by car.

Several visiting Rotarians were present including E. R. Blue, Niagara Falls; E. B. Amas, Idaho, and E. L. Donaldson, Ottawa.

No Increase In Objective For Community Chest

Although costs of services, supplies, and equipment have risen during the past year, the objective of the Red Feather Campaign is the same as 1953. Of course, the participating organization, the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., the Boy Scouts, the Sherbrooke Library and the Lennoxville Library are all anxious to be of greater service to the community than they were last year, and the expansion of services requires additional funds.

None the less, they can continue to serve if the objective of $21,000 is fully reached.

If the people of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville contribute in excess of this amount, services can be expanded all along the line. . .and there are many ways apparent in which this could be done to the betterment of all.

A strong request is being made of the citizens that they get solidly behind the Campaign and put it well over the top. . . Everyone benefis. . . Everyone should help.

Fight On Cancer Is Reviewed In Movies Showing

The Canadian Cancer Society presented a program of educational films on cancer to a large and interested audience in the City Hall auditorium on Monday evening.

In the absence of Douglas Howard Q.C., president of the Sherbrooke Branch, Guy Blanchette explained the purpose of the presentation and introduced Mrs. L. B. Spearman of Montreal, supervisor of Cancer Dressings Service.

In her remarks, Mrs. Spearman spoke of the service rendered through the local branch in supplying free dressings to cancer patients in the city and surrounding districts and stated that much benefit had been derived through the showing of the cancer films, in educating the public to be on guard for danger signals which might develop into cancer if not checked in time.

Mrs. Spearman also mentioned that all officers and members of the groups working through the Sherbrooke Branch are giving their services voluntarily and that dressings are available to all cancer patients either through their physicians or through the Cancer Clinic.

Two films in French and two in English were then shown, after which Dr. Jacques Olivier, head of the Anti-Cancer Clinic at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, spoke briefly on the work of the Clinic in furnishing free medical services to patients, and pointed out that, through surgery, X-Ray and radium treatment many cases could be arrested or cured. He stressed the point that an early diagnosis is of vital importance, and urged regular medical check-ups as a means of detecting and combatting this disease.

Informative pamphlets were distributed by Miss Bessie Milford, convener; Mrs. W. Coupland, co-convener and Mrs. A. D. Echenberg, assistant secretary of the local Women's Committee.

Lennoxville W. I. Conveners Report Committee Work

The Lennoxville Women's Institute met in the club room with Mrs. G. Cascadden, the president, presiding and opening the meeting with the Salute to the Flag and club women's creed. There was a good attendance of members and visitors. This being citizenship day, the roll call was answered by naming a United Nations country.

Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown gave a detailed report of the Social evening held recently by the branch to commemorate the fortieth anniversary of its founding. Mrs. E. L. Atto and Mrs. Reed, a former member, of Sherbrooke, two charter members, were present, also twelve former members were welcome guests.

All enjoyed a cafeteria supper and a pleasant social time followed. The center of attraction was a beautiful basket of flowers from Vaudry's greenhouse, with the compliments for the occasion. Mrs. Nutbrown thanked the various committees for the success of this event.

Correspondence included cards from various former members who were unable to attend, expressing their congratulations.

Convener's reports included: Agriculture, Mrs. L. B. Pierce, reporting on a new succesful school fair and discussing various points; Education, Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown drew attention to an article regarding professional status for teachers; Home Economics, Mrs. C. G. Skinner read a short article on silver dip cleaners and on crumbing bread, which were of interest.

For Citizenship, Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie drew attention to time and dates of various broadcasts on Mental Health and Citizens' forum and urged the sale of Christmas cards for funds for the United Nations' Children's Fund, as children from 56 nations benefit from this fund by which they are provided with food, medical care, iron lungs, etc.

Reporting on Welfare and Health, Mrs. J. Kenneth stated members from this branch are assisting at the Sherbrooke Cancer dressing station during the month and clean white or pastel used cotton is still needed. One donation was received from Mrs. E. Smith. The Ways and Means committee reported plans to cater for a turkey banquet this week.

Four delegates were named to attend the quarterly county meeting to be held at the Assembly Hall at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm on November

Four Lucky - $$ In Sherbrooke Area

We feel in the mood to offer a few hints again today. This time we have a lot of Sherbrooke Dollars to tell you about. There has been a Lucky Dollar spent in Woolworth's, one in Pariseau's Restaurant and one in the C.P.R. Station. One other we thought would really have a chance to float around was S/N 8563512, for we spent that in a Veteran's Taxi nearly two weeks ago. Guess no one has looked at his taxi change lately.

Other Lucky Dollars have been spent in towns around here. At present, we have dollars planted in Magog, North Hatley, Bury, and Sutton. There are a few others out, but we think these are enough clues. One more Lucky Dollar goes out today. We haven't decided yet where it will be spent, but we will try to pick some popular place either in Sherbrooke, or in the districts nearby. That's not a very broad hint, is it? We think you have had enough for today.

The Disappearing Boundary

"If there is a war there will be no Canadian border, no United States' border — we will be all one nation." The words are those of Frank Pace, Jr., former U.S. Army Secretary, who addressed the Canadian Industrial Preparedness Association in Toronto a few days ago.

It has been realized, vaguely, for a long time that the border must become a thing of the past should a crisis calling for all-out co-ordination ever arise. Still, the thought, put badly, remains a little startling.

Yet the boundary, so far as it implies a barrier, has been disappearing by degrees day after day, year after year. Planes, radio, television know no boundary. Books, magazines, films pour across the line.

Travel between the two countries is increasing. Americans find little difference in English-speaking Canada; English-speaking Canadians do not take long to feel at home when visiting northern parts of the Union.

The old loyalties, we are glad to say, still have a strong hold. A sense of history is always with us. We are proud to think that Canada, as Canada, has a worth-while contribution to make. We do not crave to become part of the United States.

But we are all Americans, in the larger sense, and there might be much worse fates.

Short Words

It has been known for a long time that it is a good thing, when one has a choice, to use short words.

Take that great man in the Old Land, the one who led the John Bull clan through the last war and looks like Puck at times. He likes short words. Take his praise of the R.A.F. when he spoke for all the rest who "owed so much to so few." His style, when he is on his feet, is terse and clear. The thought is plain.

Tall Abe, too, clung to short words, words with a tang. The use he made of them is known to hosts.

It is not too hard to put some thoughts in words of one sound. The cave men did it in the dim past of the race: In a small way, we have done it here. Give it a try.

But take care. Some brief words are not quite safe. They may mean fight; worse, may "lead but to the grave," like the paths of which Tom Gray wrote or was it Tom Wolfe?

If you must use this kind make sure, first, that he is not too large and does not sport a gun.

Juveniles' Sentence

When Joe Cooper, a Louisiana boy, tried to defend his mongrel dog the other day by pointing a shotgun at a school principal and a truant officer he was committed to a reformatory. His pet had been locked up and Joe didn't think it fair. He was hustled off so fast, said his mother, that "they didn't even give me time to kiss him goodbye."

The ten-year-old lad happens to be fatherless. His mother lives on a $55-a-month welfare payment. When the story of Joe's plight got around, Monroe, La., city officials were swamped with telegrams and telephone calls from across the nation.

Now, City Judge Howell Heard, who sent Joe to the Louisiana Training Institute, admits that he might have acted too hastily. Whether he would ever have reached this conclusion had other people not become concerned is a matter of doubt.

But other people did become concerned; people from many parts of the United States. Which is a good sign.

Only last spring a 13-year-old boy was sentenced in a Montreal juvenile court to two years. Some visiting members of parliament found him a few weeks later in a training school attached to St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary. His crime, according to one M.P.'s information, had been that of throwing an empty tomato can at a man who was attacking his mother. The can cut the assailant's forehead.

Officials of the penitentiary pointed out that the lad was not incarcerated with hardened criminals but only with first offenders. One added: "He is better off eating regularly, sleeping well and learning a trade than he would be running the streets."

What his mother thought of this view was not reported.

A few years ago in Westmount a 10-year-old youngster was sentenced to five years at Shawbridge because he had stolen a small bicycle valued at twenty dollars. His mother was a widow, a boarding house keeper. The lad was given a maximum sentence though he had no previous record and was only nine-and-a-half years old at the time of the theft.

These are but isolated instances. Most judges who handle the cases of juveniles probably do so only after more heart-searching than usual. Many a judge has helped to put a lad back on the right path and social workers have added their efforts time after time.

Exceptions, however, still occur. They will occur less frequently as people nowadays are more easily aroused. Juveniles cannot be allowed to run wild, it is true, but a reformatory term carries a stigma which may last for a long time. The suspicion that the children of the well-to-do and those of the poor might be accorded differing treatment is one which could do Justice no little harm in the public mind.

Mirror Of Opinion

JUST TWO BITS

Toronto Globe and Mail

If a person buys an eating apple in a fruit store he is likely to pay five cents for it — perhaps even ten cents. The price gives farmer and storekeeper a modest margin over expenses and if it is a first-rate apple everybody is satisfied.

But the apple sale on Toronto streets today is immeasurably more important. In fact, it is not really an apple investment so much as an investment in citizenship. It will have 10,000 dealers, all of them Boy Scouts, Cubs and Rovers, all of them giving their time throughout the day. They have 3,000 bushels of apples to sell, all bought at current market prices. With these the 10,000 young salesmen will man the street and canvass homes, factories and offices.

Last year they averaged between nine and ten cents per apple — not appreciably more than the same apple would have brought over the store counter. Yet the Scouts' apples help to finance a great and growing movement, teaching handicrafts, thrift, conservation, patriotism, health rules, chivalry, independence, pride of citizenship and a host of other qualities.

All this costs money. Large numbers of men and women give both money and time to the work; they know its immense value—many by earlier personal experience as Scouting members. The sale of apples gives the public an enjoyable way to share in this work.

This year, in their twenty-third annual Apple Day, the Scouts hope to average between twenty and twenty-five cents per apple. If they can do so they will gain their campaign objective of $36,000, surely a modest sum for a city this size. If for a twenty-five-cent coin, just two bits, one can not only enjoy a good apple but help give year-long healthy recreation to 14,000 boys and thereby help turn out 14,000 good citizens, there must be thousands of people who would be glad of the chance. It is that easy and that real. Today's the day.

BANS LIQUOR IN WHITE HOUSE

(Chatham News)

President Eisenhower has, it is announced, banned the serving of alcoholic beverages in the White House.

He has also issued a directive to the United States Defence Department forbidding the sale of liquor by the bottle in military camps.

So widespread is the sale of liquor throughout the United States and Canada, that even those people who deplore its incidental results have been inclined to shrug their shoulders helplessly when restrictive action was suggested.

In such an atmosphere of acceptance, the President's action comes as startling and a bit refreshing, as indicating that he has the courage of his convictions.

It may be interesting to recall that the White House went dry following 1876 when Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes, wife of the president, sternly refused to permit intoxicants to be served there.

The incident created a lot of controversy, in the course of which the president's wife was derisively dubbed "Lemonade Lucy" but Mrs. Hayes stuck to her guns, as her strong-willed husband had a habit of doing when anyone tried to high pressure him.

Oil, Timber Royalties Not Main Income For Blackfeet

By DON HANRIGHT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Calgary—(CP)—The Blood Indians, members of the once-warlike Blackfoot confederacy, now are a prosperous, peaceful tribe—Canada's richest Indians.

They live on Canada's largest Indian reserve, 353,000 acres of prairie and foothills stretching between Cardston and Lethbridge, 40 miles northeast.

The government - held income they have earned through the reserve's natural resources has given them a bank balance of nearly $700,000 and individual incomes large enough to provide modern bungalows and automobiles two residential schools and a 50-bed reserve hospital.

They number about 2,000, and the tribal council they elect metes out roughly $10 a month to each tribesman. They have turned much of their money into farming and ranching improvements.

Last year, these Blackfeet earned $347,000 from agricultural leases issued to white farmers, $11,000 from grazing leases, $67,500 from petroleum leases and another $10,000 from royalties on gravel and coal.

The money is held in revenue and capital accounts at Ottawa, earning five-per-cent interest. All leases and rights on their territories are handled by the federal government's Indian affairs branch.

However, that is only what the tribe makes. The outside incomes of its members last year exceeded a total of $1,000,000. The average income — excluding what comes from the council — was $450.

An estimated $322,500 was netted from wheat sales, $10,000 from rye, $11,000 from barley, $20,000 from hay and green feed and $102,500 from livestock sales.

Under their ranching program, the Blood Indian council each year selects 10 applicants to launch into cattle ranching. After each puts up 10 tons of hay for winter feed, he is advanced five cows by the band, on the understanding that the advance will be repaid with five steer calves in three years.

Others continue wheat farming. Of the 70,000 acres being farmed, a 37,000-acre section on the north end of the reserve is sown to wheat each year, making it what is believed the Commonwealth's largest wheat field.

The federal government's financial responsibilities to the Bloods — as to several other of Alberta's 71 tribes — have been limited to partial provision of schools and teachers and a small percentage of the health and welfare cost.

The Blackfoot confederacy, of which the Bloods are the main group, is believed to be an offshoot of the far-flung Algonquin race. They tallied roughly 7,000 when allied 150 years ago with the Sarcees and the "Gros Ventres."

The traditional tribal rites of those days have not been forgotten.

Each summer the tribe, along with other Blackfeet from Alberta and Montana, flock to Belly Buttes on the western side of the reserve where, before dawn on the "eighth sun of the berries ripe moon," they begin an eight-hour prance to honor the supernatural influence of "Aekotose" —The mythical triune godhead of the sun, moon and morning star.

The "sacred" buffalo tongue of which the ancient chief partook during the complex ceremony has since been replaced by the cooked tongues of cattle.

Chief Shot-On-Both-Sides has been a principal figure in the sun dance since 1913, when he first served on the Blood's tribal council.

A member of the Occult Horn Society, the 82-year-old chief now guards the tribe's treasured collection of battle relics. These include the wristlets of the "black seizers," the horn headdress, the buffalo-head teepee, the weasel-tail robe, the long-time-medicine-pipe, the sun-lodge hide and other articles including an ancient sword and a medicine drum.

The Bloods have also become famous for their Kainai chieftainship, an honorary tribal fellowship that includes the Duke of Windsor, Governor-General Vincent Massey, Earl Alexander, Agriculture Minister Gardiner, Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland, Premier Manning of Alberta, and even Hollywood cowboy Rod Cameron.

"Kainai," is the tribe's Indian name, but it has no connection with their common name of Bloods.

What Other Papers Say

"I SCREAM"

Edinburgh Scotsman

There will be general sympathy for the ice-cream traders who have sent a telegram to the Prime Minister urging the Government to extend the period of Summer Time by at least a month. They believe that this would "ameliorate the disastrous effect of the abnormal weather conditions prevailing during recent months" on their business. But would it? Perhaps there is some confusion here between Summer Time and summertime. Britain, as everyone knows, now has two seasons — the cold and wet, and the cool and wet. Summer is just a sentimental linguistic survival which, owing to the prevalence of incurable optimism, has had a new lease on life on some recent days, when an almost forgotten color was observed in the sky, and the hitherto putative warmth of the sun could actually be felt — if one were out of the wind.

It is difficult to see what the ice-cream traders have in mind in asking the Government to extend Summer, which ended on October 2. It is a notorious fact that the Government have no control over the weather or the seasons. They have some control over the clock-time at which darkness falls, but when the time to put back the clock comes, we may expect to be in a state of transition from this season — the cool and wet — to the other one — the cool and wet. Perhaps the ice-cream merchants have somehow convinced themselves that October is going to be a sort of inter-seasonal "mensis nullus," a sunny month. As the director of the Meterological Office has given one to understand that practically nothing is abnormal in the matter of weather, this must be counted among the possibilities. But the surest hope for ice-cream merchants lies in persuading the public to eat ice-cream all the year round, as they have already to some extent done.

BLESSED SLEEP

(Fort William Times-Journal)

This man Eustache Burnett, of Hose, England, of whom it is claimed he has not slept for 46 years, stretches credulity. Nevertheless the doctors in his locality call him the "walking miracle" and recently he spent some time in hospital under observation. Three nurses watched him like a cat watches a mouse for a period of a week and declared he did not so much as drowse, not even after a double sleeping draught.

Then the sleepless wonder told doctors that he laughed when people said they were tired because they were late going to bed the night before. In his book, sleep is only a habit which one can manage to do without.

Anyone who has had but two or three hours sleep per night for two or three days in a row, and has experienced the penalty of shakiness and lethargy in working hours afterwards, will shake his head in disbelief. The person who suggests that sleep is an unnatural thing for man is looked upon with some suspicion.

There is another aspect of this sleep question. Were it possible to follow the example of the sleepless Englishman what an appalling life could result! Then there would be no blessed interim relief from sieges of mental grief and the man with business worries would never have the respite which sleep gives him. There would be no glad awakening to a new day, but rather a never-ending parade of existence, which under most circumstances could prove to be nothing but monotony.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

TOURNEY COMES UP WITH OLD HAND

The approach of the Metropolitan Championships, scheduled to be held in New York this weekend, reminds me of an amusing hand from last year's tournament. One of the players found himself so marked with a particular card that he might just as well have taken it out of his hand and put it face up on the table.

The bidding was quite normal, and West opened the six of spades. East won with the king of spades and promptly led the six of hearts. South won and returned the seven of diamonds, putting up dummy's king, and East won with the ace of diamonds. East cashed the ace of spades and returned the six of hearts.

Now, you might think that South would have to stop to agonize over the second round of the trump suit. Should he finesse, or should he put up the king of trumps in the hope of dropping the queen?

Actually, South had no problem at all. He knew where the queen of trumps was just as surely as though he had the queen of trumps because he had so obviously avoided leading a third round of spades. South therefore finessed quickly and confidently on the second round of trumps, making his contract with no further difficulty.

Here is declarer's full line of reasoning: If East started with only two small trumps he would have some reason to hope that his partner could overruff the dummy on a third round of spades. Therefore East would lead a third spade if he had only two small trumps.

If East has the queen of trumps, however, he knows that his partner cannot overruff dummy's ten. (If West happens to hold the jack of hearts, it doesn't matter what East does, since the queen of hearts will then surely provide the setting trick.)

East will carefully avoid leading a third round of spades since he will not want to make it clear to declarer that West cannot overruff the dummy.

It was therefore clear that East had the queen of trumps.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Diamond	Pass	1 Spade	Pass
2 Clubs	Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-7-3, Hearts 8-2, Diamonds A-J-6-2, Clubs J-5-4. What do you do?

A—Bid three diamonds. A mere "preference bid" of two diamonds would not express the strength of your hand. The jump from two clubs to three diamonds is not a force but merely shows a sound raise. You are interested in a game if your partner can find any further bids.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-7-3, Hearts, A-J-6, Diamonds 8-6-2, Clubs J-5-4. What do you do?

Bank Of Montreal Plans Authorized Capital Increase

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Announcement was made yesterday by Gordon R. Ball, president of the Bank of Montreal, that B of M shareholders will be asked at their annual meeting in December to enact a by-law increasing the bank's authorized capital from $50 millions to $75 millions. The new figure will be the largest in Canadian banking history.

The proposal to increase the authorized capital — the first since 1928 — follows the offer to shareholders last August to subscribe to 900,000 additional shares of the bank's capital stock at $30 per share, on the basis of one new share for each four shares held. The offer remains open until November 26 next.

Upon completion of the new isue, the bank's paid-up capital will be increased by $9 millions to $45 millions and its rest account by $18 millions to $90 millions, making an aggregate of shareholders' funds, exclusive of undivided profits, amounting to $135 millions, which — like the new authorized capital figure — is the largest of any of the chartered banks.

Arthur C. Jensen, general manager, in announcing the bank's fourth quarterly dividend of 30 cents for the fiscal year to October 30, plus an extra dividend of 20 cents per share, for shareholders at the close of business on that record date, reminded subscribers to the new stock that each share, whether fully or partly paid, will rank in respect of these two dividends in the proportion in which it stands paid up on the dividend record date of October 30.

The regular dividend, due for payment on December 1 next, is the 366th in the history of the bank. For 126 years the bank has paid dividends without a single break. The B of M's record of dividend payments is without peer among the chartered Banks of this country.

The extra dividend of 20 cents, payable December 15, represents the eighth annual distribution of this kind since the war and brings payments to shareholders for the current fiscal year to $1.40 per share — the same as in 1953.

In line with the bank's long-standing custom, the first Monday in December has been announced for the holding of its 137th annual meeting.

Slight Damage In Blaze At Magog

Magog, Oct. 20.—Magog's first fire of the month occurred yesterday at the shoemaker shop of Rosaire Pomerleau at the corner of Main and Sherbrooke Streets. Sees Possibility Of Co-existence

Ottawa. —(CP)— Lord Swinton, British secretary of state for Commonwealth relations, said Tuesday he believes peaceful co-existence with the Communists is possible.

"I don't at all despair of peace," he told the Canadian Club. "I don't think we are going to convert the Communists to our way of life but that doesn't mean two political systems can't exist together in the same world . . . .

"You don't lift one Iron Curtain by erecting another . . .

"Whatever political system he may live under, there must be in every sane man a passionate longing for peace. I think we can carry on a basis of live and let live and perhaps out of that something better will come. But we won't achieve something better by weakness or appeasement."

Among Lord Swinton's audience were Prime Minister St. Laurent, Progressive Conservative Leader Drew, Trade Minister Howe and State Secretary Pinard.

Killer Overlooks Two Vital Clues

Middlesboro, Ky.—(AP)The identity of a bullet-riddled body found Tuesday in a lover's lane rests on two clues apparently overlooked by the killer.

One was an affectionate note; the other a laundry mark in the slain man's shirt and trousers. They were stamped "Fox."

The victim, in his late 20s or early 30s, had been shot six times —once in the head, three times in the chest, and twice in the back. Two bullet holes in the ground beside the man's head led police to believe the gunman fired twice at his victim after he fell.

The note crammed into a watch pocket started out "Hi, honey, I love you," and was signed Harriett and Ronnie Jr. Since the contents indicated the note was from the man's wife, police theorized his name also may have been Ronnie.

ATTENTION — YOUNG QUEBEC MEN

Do YOU often wish you had a more interesting job, with more money in your pay envelope every week? Maybe you say you wish you had the chance! Then will you read this with care — we want to tell you how hundreds of other young men have already done it — now YOU can do it, too. They read an advertisement very much like this one. They learned that we have been training young men in Radio and Television for over 25 years — that we specialize in a very practical training course that you study AT HOME, IN SPARE TIME. When they were ready, they did not have to hunt for a job, we have a special department which has been very successful in placing our students in good positions. IF YOU would like to be trained as a Radio and T.V. Service Expert, to be a Wireless Operator, or to go further and be a Radio-TV Technician, think this over carefully and then write us for full information. The price of your Course is moderate, and you can pay for it in easy payments. We have day and night courses in our Montreal School, besides the Home Study Course that you work on at home. So write us, won't you — tell us your age and the number of years you had at High School. We promise you your lessons will be interesting, easy to grasp, and profitable.

OBITUARIES

HAROLD JAMES MITCHELL OF BOLTON CENTRE

Bolton Centre, Oct. 20 — The death occurred on October 5, at the Sherbrooke Hospital, of a highly respected and esteemed citizen of this place in the person of Harold James Mitchell, after a long and lingering illness.

The deceased was born at Bolton Glen, May 24, 1899, the eldest son of John Mitchell and Ada Coons, who predeceased him five years ago. He was united in marriage to Myrtle Westover of Millington on January 9, 1924.

Prayers were said at the house by Rev. John Stark, of Austin, thence to the United Church at Bolton Centre. Mrs. John Cameron presided at the organ and the choir sang the hymns, "Just as I am," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "Face to Face," all favorites of Mr. Mitchell.

He leaves to mourn, his wife; three daughters, Blanche, Mrs. Lonnie Davis, Eunice, Mrs. Kathan Peasley, and Frances; two sons, Darrell and Romulis all of Bolton Centre; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Darrell Mitchell, and two sons-in-law, Lonnie Davis and Kathan Peasley. He also leaves four brothers and three sisters, Raymond and Tommy Mitchell, of Montreal, Carl Mitchell, of South Bolton, and Elwin, of Knowlton, Ives, Mrs. Bates, of Cherry River, Florence, Mrs. Adea Paquette, of Foster, and Jessie, Mrs. Wilfred Whitcher, of St. Elie d'Orford. Seven grandchildren, his mother-in-law, Mrs. A. Westover, of Millington, several nephews and nieces and a host of friends.

Bearers were Samuel Cousens, Graydon True, George Davis, Donald Cousens, Murray Cameron and Earle Paige.

Interment took place in the local cemetery. The many floral offerings and the crowded church showed the esteem in which Mr. Mitchell was held.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were Mrs. R. Bareaurd, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ducharme, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Belanger, of Granby; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Neilley, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Westover, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cooper, of Waterloo; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Whitcher and two children, of St. Elie d'Orford; Mr. and Mrs. Deal Gothry and son, of Lennoxville; Mr. and Mrs. Euclid Meunier, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Tetrault, Miss Geraldine Tetrault, of Austin; Mrs. Ivis Bates and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Archie McKelvey, Mr. Dannie McKelvey, of Cherry River; Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Westover, Mrs. A. Bolton Centre, Oct. 20 — There passed away on August 16 at her home here Louisa Rousseau, wife of Louis Gauvin, in her 53rd year.

Mrs. Gauvin was born at Knowlton. Later she married Louis Gauvin and came to this municipality and remained here.

Early in the spring Mrs. Gauvin was admitted to the Sweetsburg Hospital and later was transferred to the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. Everything in the way of medical care was given her to no avail and she expressed the wish to be brought to her home, where she was tenderly cared for by her family, assisted by Mrs. W. R. Peasley, R. N.

The service took place at the Catholic Church in South Bolton, with burial in the Wheeler Cemetery in Knowlton.

The bearers were her four sons.

MRS. FRANK DOONAN, OF WEST SHEFFORD

West Shefford, Oct. 20 — On Friday evening, October 8th, Mrs. Frank Doonan passed away in her ninety-first year at the home of her son, Ernest, and Mrs. Doonan, with whom she has lived since injuring her hip on March 16th last.

Born at West Shefford on July 8th, 1864, Mary Ellen, only daughter of the late John Enright and his wife, Catherine, spent practically all her life in this locality. In 1886 she married Mr. Francis H. Doonan, who died in 1916. Their family comprised a daughter Katie, Mrs. Charles Welcome, of Worcester, Mass., and a son Ernest, of Shefford.

Older Sheffordians will remember Mrs. Doonan as a competent seamstress and the qualities that contributed to her outstanding success in this venture she carried over into the business of living, thereby achieving unusual success.

Representatives of the Southern Canada Power Company, of which Mr. Ernest Doonan is a member, joined with relatives and the many friends of the family in the parish church of St. Francis Zavier on Monday morning to pay tribute to a lady who lived quietly and effectively.

Shower Held By Helping Circle At Rock Island

Rock Island, Oct. 20 — The Helping Circle of Stanstead South church met in the church hall on Wednesday evening, October 13, with Mrs. Fred Putney and Miss Ruth Wing, the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Thomas McCune.

Mrs. C. R. Darby opened the meeting with Scripture reading and a poem and prayer in keeping with the Canadian Thanksgiving Day observed the preceding Monday.

The roll call was answered by thirty-one members and friends and routine reports were given, with the secretary reading a thank-you note from a friend.

The president, Mrs. George Hatch, thanked all those who had helped and supported the very successful turkey supper of October 7, including the six menfolk who assisted at the church the evening of the supper, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Watson and those who helped with the advance sale of tickets.

The Christmas sale and supper held in November came in for discussion, but it was decided to ask the Ladies' Aid society to set the date for the project, with more definite plans to be made at the next meeting.

Mrs. Bruce Lafoe was named to be in charge of the usual Christmas gift remembrance to the service boys from Stanstead South who are in the armed forces.

A donation was made to the Women's Missionary society, to help them in meeting their allocation. The meeting adjourned to meet again on October 27 at the home of Mrs. Golda Standish, Rock Island, with Mrs. Byron Ellis the co-hostess; the time being changed from 8 P. M. to 7:45, because of the advanced time on the American side of the Border.

The members of the Circle were pleased to have with them again Mrs. Raymond Grow and Mrs. Frank Anderson. Both ladies were ill and have been unable to attend the sessions this fall.

Mrs. Merton Davis, of Rock Island, was guest of honor, when she was tendered a pink and blue shower. She was assisted in opening the prettily wrapped parcels by her friend, Mrs. Reginald Martin, of West Park, and was delighted with the gifts of blankets, knitted articles, shawl and other useful articles.

After all had been passed around and admired, Mrs. Davis expressed with deep feeling her appreciation.

At tables, attractive with white linen covers and centered with autumn daisies and candles in glass holders, refreshments were served by the hostesses.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

The home of Mrs. Harry Kelly in Derby Line was the scene of a very delightful event on Wednesday, October 13, when Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Avis Muir, Mrs. Francis Molony, Miss Evelyn Kezar, Miss Jean McIntosh and Miss Violet Pope were co-hostesses at a shower in honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Mary Quillinan, of West Park.

The honored guest had been invited with a few others to the Kelly home "for a game of cards", and upon arriving was pleasantly surprised to find thirty co-workers of the office and shipping room staff of the Union Twist Drill Co.

Escorted to a chair attractively in shades of aqua green and yellow, the bride elect was presented with the "shower" of wrapped and beribboned gifts. She was assisted in opening these by her mother, Mrs. M. B. Quillinan. The lovely and useful miscellaneous articles for her new home were passed around, after which Miss Quillinan thanked her friends for their thoughtfulness.

Refreshments were served at a table attractive with a white linen cloth and centered with a flower arrangement. The ir... cut of the bride's cake, deco... in aqua and white, was made by the bride-to-be.

New Pastor Is Welcomed By Sutton Baptists

Sutton, Oct. 20 — On Saturday, October 9th, Mr. Roger Birgé, the new pastor of Olivet Baptist Church, arrived with his bride at Quebec City, where they were met by Rev. Dixon Burns, superintendent of the Baptist Home Mission board.

After a short call on Rev. Mr. Miller at the Baptist parsonage in Quebec, with Mr. Burns they proceeded by train to Montreal, where they were met by Mr. and Mrs. Orton Baker, who had driven in from Sutton.

They arrived in time for the Sunday morning service at Olivet Baptist Church, conducted by Mr. Burns, who introduced Mr. and Mrs. Birgé to the congregation and gave them an official welcome into the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec. In response, the newcomers expressed their pleasure at arriving in Canada and in Sutton to take charge of the church here.

After an inspirational Thanksgiving address by Mr. Burns, the Birges inspected their new home at the Baptist parsonage, then with Mr. Burns returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Rumsby, where they were guests for the week-end.

In the afternoon Mr. Harold Woodard motored the Home Mission superintendent and the Birges to Mansonville, where Mr. Birge will serve as pastor of the Baptist church affiliated with Sutton. Owing to the sudden illness of Mr. Burns, Mr. Birge himself took charge of the service while Mr. Woodard and Mrs. Birge returned to Sutton with Mr. Burns.

Although too ill to attend the evening service at Olivet Baptist Church, which was conducted by Mr. Birge, Mr. Burns sufficiently recovered to be able to return to his home in Toronto on Tuesday.

Though fatigued by a rough Atlantic crossing, Mr. and Mrs. Birge have immediately accepted their new responsibilities in connection with the church and with their pleasing personalities should prove worth-while residents of the town. 'It is their first time in Canada, but as with many New Canadians, they seem able to quickly adopt themselves to the new way of life while at the same time enriching it from the storehouse of European culture. All wish them success and happiness in this new land of their adoption.

INTERESTING LECTURE

On Monday evening, October 11th, Rev. Orville Getty, a Baptist missionary on furlough from India, was guest speaker at a meeting at the Baptist church hall held under the auspices of the Women's Baptist Mission Circle, with Miss Hazel E. R. Bates, the president, presiding.

Mr. Getty proved an exceptionally interesting speaker, comparing the native Christian "jewels" with lovely gems shown him by an old merchant and showing the wonderful change wrought by transformation from Hinduism to Christianity. He contrasted the cleanliness of the Christian homes with the filth of the heathen ones and the ability of Christians to stand up beneath catastrophes which bowed down their pagan neighbors.

He wove into his address humorous incidents and bits of instructive information and after concluding his lecture, displayed a collection of Indian curios and projected on the screen scenes of the hill country adjacent to his mission field.

Mrs. Birge read the Scripture selection and Mr. Birge closed with the benediction, after which the ladies served refreshments to the large number of guests present. There was a generous missionary thank offering.

Full House Greets Variety Program Sponsored By O. E. S. At Waterloo

Waterloo, Oct. 20 — A very successful variety concert was staged at the Waterloo High School on Wednesday night when a full house witnessed a well balanced and well rendered two hour show.

Sponsored by the Order of the Eastern Star, Clayton Bowker Worthy Patron, welcomed all the guests and expressed hope that they would enjoy the performances of the artists.

Clarence Johnson opened the proceedings with a fine monologue, which was very well done. A one act comedy completely took the audience by storm.

Entitled "The Loose Brick in the Chimney" the play was a riot from beginning to end. Al Williams, as Mr. Lem Wilvey, the superintendent of the County Poor Farm, was excellent in his hard hearted role, while Al Grainger as Arthur Langham, the owner of Fiddler's Farm, was exceptionally well cast.

Mr. Leslie Durrell was at his very best in the role of Ben Bishop, the operator of Fiddler's Farm, and his antics kept the amused audience in a constant state of laughter. The three inmates of the poor farm were Mrs. Vic Beale as Mrs. Ray, whose part was handled in a masterful fashion, Mrs. A. Williams, who as Mrs. Crosby was characterized perfectly, and Mrs. Alan McKergow, as Mrs. Bagg, who led the fun parade with a fine part handled perfectly. This all added up to forty minutes of fun, laughter and some really fine acting.

During intermission an afghan was drawn and won by young Neil Racicot, of South Stukely. Mrs. Althea Lowry led off the second half with a monologue, which was done in a humorous and easy manner.

The minstrel show, which was the last item on the program, proved to be a crowd pleaser as well, with Henry Bird, as interlocutor and George Young and Grayson Cousens as the active end men. Their patter was good, well timed and took well.

The chorus was compiled of the following gentlemen: George Racicot, Horace Whitehead, Gordon Cousens, Vic Beale, George Williams, Guy Cousens, Ray Duboyce, Curtis Frost, Roger McKergow. The songs sung by the group were, Camptown Races, Dixie, Voice in the Old Village Choir with Guy Cousens taking the solo part. Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground, Carry Me Back to Old Virginny and Old Kentucky Home. One quartette was sung by Henry Bird, George Young, Gordon Cousens and Roger McKergow entitled Old Folks at Home, and Guy Cousens sang Home on the Range, assisted by the chorus.

The entire evening was a success from every angle — and the troup will now travel to Knowlton.

PRECIOUS PEBBLE

BACK IN 1825 the Danish scientist Oersted produced the first pebble of metallic aluminum. Half a century passed before a technique was discovered for turning out the metal in quantity.

Modern processing of bauxite ore to make low-cost aluminum uses fantastic quantities of power. That is why Canada is one of the world's major aluminum suppliers. In Quebec province, smelters at Arvida, Shawinigan Falls, Isle Maligne and Beauharnois last year used nearly one-fifth of the country's total electrical output. And in British Columbia new sources of water power are feeding the pot lines of the new smelter at Kitimat. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Metropolitan Life celebrates a

CANADIAN JUBILEE

60th Anniversary — of Metropolitan's Canadian Organization

In 1894 — the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company launched a programme of expansion in Canada and opened its first office in Montreal. Previously, Metropolitan field men had been serving Canadians for 22 years — since 1872, five years after Confederation.

30th Anniversary — of the Opening of the Canadian Head Office at Ottawa

In 1924 — the Metropolitan opened its Canadian Head Office in Ottawa, the administrative centre for the Company's business in this country. Staffed originally by 400 clerks who, in a long-planned operation, moved overnight from the Home Office in New York, the Head Office today employs some 1,100 Canadians. In the handsome building which has become a landmark in our capital city they serve the needs of Canadian policyholders.

1st Appointment — of a Canadian as Vice-President and General Manager for Canada

In 1954 — another important step was taken as Mr. Brooke Claxton, with a long record of close association with the Life insurance business, and of public service, became the first Canadian to head up Metropolitan's Canada-wide organization. As Vice-President and General Manager, Mr. Claxton directs a staff of more than 3,300 Metropolitan people in Canada from coast to coast.

METROPOLITAN'S PLACE IN CANADA TODAY

- 2,700,000 Canadians insured with Metropolitan — nearly one-fifth of the population — and about half of all life insurance policyholders in Canada.
- Over $3 billions of insurance in force in Canada.
- Largest single holder of the senior securities issued to finance these great new Canadian developments: Iron ore in Labrador — Aluminum in Kitimat.
- Over $700,000,000 invested in Canada.
- The total amount the Metropolitan has paid to Canadians since it entered Canada, plus the amount now invested in Canada, exceeds the total premiums received from Canadians by more than $433,000,000.

The Metropolitan like all Canadians has faith in the future of Canada. Since 1872 it has shown that faith by the share it has taken in the progress and development of our nation.

In your community there is a well trained, experienced Metropolitan field man to give service which is as local as Main Street — as close as your phone

He is one of 1,600 such field men in Canada working through the 90 Metropolitan service centres in district or detached offices.

Kid Gavilan Rated Solid Favorite To Retain His Title

Says He'll Knock Out Johnny Saxton Tonight; $80,000 Gate Expected For Bout; Fight To Be Broadcast And TV

By JACK HAND

Philadelphia — (AP) — After two postponements due to hand trouble and case of mumps, Kid Gavilan finally is ready to defend his world welterweight title against New York's Johnny Saxton tonight at Convention Hall.

The sleek Cuban remains a strong 19-to-10 favorite in the 15-round match, despite the usual rumors that he will have trouble making the 147-pound class limit.

Every time Gavilan goes to the post as a welter, you hear he may not make it. But he hasn't missed yet.

The fighters weigh in at noon today at the offices of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission. The bout starts at 10 p.m. EST. It will be televised but the Philadelphia area will be blacked out. There will be a radio broadcast only in Philadelphia.

Expect $80,000 Gate

Promoter Herman Taylor talks of a gate of 11,000 and $80,000 with an advance sale of about $30,000. The advance sale just about matches the total paid back in refunds after the fight was postponed, July 14 and Sept. 1. More conservative estimates hint the crowd may be no more than 8,500 and the gate about $60,000. The TV rights will bring another $40,000.

Gavilan hasn't fought since April 2 when he failed in his bid for Bobo Olson's middleweight crown. He used his right hand sparingly in that bout and later claimed he had injured the hand in a Feb. 23 tune-up match with Johnny Cunningham at Miami.

The Saxton match was set back first in July when Gavilan, trouping with a song-and-dance unit, reported his hand still in a cast. The September show was postponed on the eve of the fight when the doctors discovered the Keed had the mumps.

Never Knocked Out

Saxton, 24-year-old Negro Golden Glove grad from New York, never has been knocked out in 47 fights as a pro since 1949. He has 43-2-2 record, losing only to Gil Turner and Del Flanagan last year.

The bout presents one unique angle. Saxton, convicted of 12 traffic violations in New York as a "scofflaw" is booked to start serving a 15-day jail sentence the day after the fight, champ or no champ.

Gavilan gets 40 per cent and Saxton 20 per cent of the gate and TV, according to the contracts.

Shoemaker Setting Merry Pace At Tanforan Meeting

San Bruno, Calif. — (AP) — Willie Shoemaker, who's ridden three or more winners on 16 days of the 32-day-old Tanforan meeting, needs only three more for a lifetime total of 2,000.

Shoemaker, in only his sixth year as a jockey, brought two home Tuesday, boosting his total to 80 for the meeting and 333 for 1954.

'The Robe' Gone After Wind Storm

Vancouver. — (CP) — Soggy Empire Stadium, which Pacific National Exhibition officials say will have to be dug up after the football season due to drainage problems, lost its winter overcoat Tuesday.

The covering, known as "the robe" to Western Interprovincial Football Union spectators in this part of Canada, is 70,000-square feet of plastic. It cost an estimated $1,200.

Sometime during the early morning hours approoximately 24,000 square feet of it blew away in a wind storm.

Alvin Dark Signs Two Year Contract

New York. — (AP) — Alvin Dark, the quiet, take-charge guy who kept the New York Giants on the hustle to the National League pennant and their smashing world series victory, today signed another two-year contract.

There was no indication how much money was provided in the contract, mailed in by Dark from his Lake Charles, La., home, but Eddie Brannick, club secretary, said the brilliant shortstop was "very satisfied."

Mays And Minoso Top Sluggers

New York — (AP) — Outfielders Willie Mays of New York Giants and Orestes (Minnie) Minoso of Chicago White Sox, both righthanded batters, Tuesday were crowned the major league slugging kings for 1954.

Mays topped the National League with .667 slugging average. Minoso, in his fourth season in the majors, was the American League leader with .535.

Statistics compiled by The Associated Press revealed that Mays accumulated 377 total bases in 565 at bats. Slugging averages are computed by dividing a player's number of times at bat into his total bases.

Mays, who also led his league in batting, delivered 195 hits, including 33 doubles, 13 triples, most in the league, and 41 home runs.

Minoso, runnerup to Cleveland's Bobby Avila in the American League batting race, produced 304 total bases in 568 trips. He collected 29 doubles, 18 triples, most in the league and 19 homers among 182 hits.

KULLMAN TO JOIN SASKATOON

Saskatoon — (CP) — Saskatoon Quakers of the Western Hockey League have announced that Eddie Kullman, right winger with New York Rangers of the National Hockey League for a number of years will join the Quakers today.

NEW PLAN ON FOOT TO SALVAGE BASEBALL IN CITY

Effort To Keep Pro Baseball In Sherbrooke To Be Presented To Fans; Shares To Be Sold To Public

A movement is on foot in the City to try and save professional baseball and all those interested are asked to drop in Sherbrooke Indians' baseball office for details.

Manager Odie Fortier stated that he had received several requests from interested fans who are interested in keeping baseball alive in the City and after contacting numerous other fans with the new plan it was decided to ask the general public for their support on the project.

The main idea is to form a body to supply the necessary funds to operate the team and to arrive at this point, following several discussions, it was decided to sell a hundred shares at a $100 each. This plan was in effect a few years back and proved successful. The shares can be bought by several fans grouped together with the share registered under one name.

A group of baseball fans from Newport, Vt., have offered to buy twenty shares leaving only eighty to be disposed of in Sherbrooke. Several fans, who have not the means to purchase a share, or part thereof, enquired regarding giving a donation. A list of these names would be published in both papers and later on in order to recompense them for their efforts a drawing of season tickets would take place.

The advance sale of season tickets would also be a great determining factor in helping the new executive to make a decision regarding the future. This would have a great bearing on the movement and the sooner the fans can get their requests in the better it would be. The fans can purchase general admission tickets as well as reserve seats. A season ticket would make a nice Christmas gift for a baseball fan and at the same time it would help to keep professional baseball alive in Sherbrooke.

Sherbrooke has lost it's hockey team will the baseball club follow suit? This question will be answered only by the support given to the new project by the general public. So drop in and get the details before it is too late.

New York Rangers Head Home With Best Early-Season Record In Years; Take On Bruins In Home Opener

New York Rangers, who always start the National Hockey League season on the road, return to Madison Square Garden tonight with their best opening-road-trip record in five years.

Not since 1946-47 have Rangers come home from their first road swing with four points. On the basis of two wins in four games so far, coach Frank Boucher figures his club is 20 per cent better than last year.

Boucher says Rangers should finish third this year — they're currently tied with Boston Bruins, whom they meet tonight, for that position — and apparently much of his figuring centres around Danny Lewicki.

RALEIGH ENTHUSIASTIC

Lewicki, 23-year-old winger who was a glamor kid and problem child that never stuck in the NHL with Toronto Maple Leafs, scored the winning goals in the Ranger victories over Toronto and Chicago Black Hawks. Team captain Bones Raleigh says Lewicki is one of the reasons he thinks this is the best Ranger team he's played on.

Another reason for Rangers' improvement is rookie Larry Popein, promising centre of a new kid line with Andy Bathgate and Ron Murphy. Both Popein and Bathmgate are up from Vancouver Canucks of the Western League.

Boston, tied with Rangers, is looking to the Leo Labine-Don McKenney-Fleming Mackell line for its scoring punch in New York tonight. Labine and McKenney have scored eight of Boston's nine goals thus far.

The rest of the league is idle tonight, but Toronto meets the front-running Canadiens at Montreal and Boston is at Detroit to meet second-place Red Wings Thursday.

The Leafs put the emphasis on defence in preparation for their Montreal encounter, mindful that Boston's late third-period goal for a 1-1 tie Sunday came from a face-off in Leafs' end.

Dusty Rhodes And Company Set Major League Record For Giants With Ten Pinch-Hit Homers For Past Season

New York — (AP) — Dusty Rhodes and company, otherwise known as Leo Durocher's powerful bench, set a major league record for the New York Giants in 1954 while leading both circuits with 10 pinch-hit home runs.

The Giants' output broke the mark jointly held by the 1932 Brooklyn Dodgers and the 1953 New York, Yankees. Each club had seven.

Actually, Rhodes had to take a back seat to his roommate Bobby Hofman in the pinch-hit category. Dusty, the surprise star of the world series, connected twice during the regular season while Hofman hit three circuits as a substitute batter to share individual honors with Joe Frazier of the St. Louis Cardinals.

51 ALTOGETHER

The other Giant players to turn the trick were Bill Taylor (twice), Monte Irvin, Whitey Lockman and Hoot Evers, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today.

Overall, there were 30 pinch-hit homers in the National League and 21 in the American, with every club except Cincinnati slamming at least one.

Others with a pair of pinch-hit blows were George Shuba of Brooklyn, Preston Ward and Sid Gordon of Pittsburgh and Joe Collins of the Yankees.

Lockman and Bill Skowron of the Yankees were the only major leaguers to wallop pinch-hit homers with the bases filled.

Robin Roberts, the major leagues' gopher ball leader with 35, also gave up the most to pinch-hitters-three.

Richmond Darts Clubs Post Wins

Richmond. — Two games were played in the Richmond Darts Circuit and results of both games were the same, 30-10, for the home teams.

RDC motored to Asbestos and Legion played in Valcourt and these victories moved the Richmond teams up in the standings. In Valcourt, the Earl "Pop" Copping-Eddie Knowles team paced their club to victory as they won five straight rounds. Four other teams had a 4-5 score while three had 3-5. The best teams for Valcourt had 3-5 scores and only two of the teams accomplished this and had to play-off between themselves. The Paul Belair-Vic Pratte team won over R. Martin and G. Racicot but lost to the powerful team of Copping and Knowles.

In Asbestos, RDC won easily over the Miners and there were three five-round winners on the Richmond roster. Two teams had won four out of five while Asbestos had one 4-5 winner and one 3-5 score. The five-round winners on the Richmond squad were Bob and Connie Pariseau; Denis Boisvert and Willie Roux and Fred Roberts and Gerard Girard. For Asbestos, E. Demers and A. Boisvert won four rounds out of five.

The schedule moves back to Richmond Friday with Asbestos meeting RDC and the Legion-Valcourt game, also scheduled for Friday, will be played Monday night.

Illinois Racing Board To Enforce New Ruling Regarding Tracks And Employees; All To Be Fingerprinted

Chicago — (AP) — The Illinois racing board decided Tuesday to require fingerprinting of all persons licensed to participate in horse racing at Illinois tracks and their employees.

Board chairman Paul Serdar said it was adopted in the hope of barring hoodlums and racketeers from the rich racing business and pari-mutuel betting operations.

Serdar made the announcement after the board considered accusations that mobsters have been active as owners of stock in tracks and of thoroughbred horses which were raced under faked ownership of "stooges."

The fingerprinting regulation, Serdar said, may become legally effective within 10 days after formal notification of persons affected. However, as a practical matter, the fingerprinting cannot be undertaken until next year season is nearly over and preparations must be made to invoke the new rule.

Persons affected are track and horse owners, trainers, stable foremen, grooms, valets and veterinarians.

Canadian-Made Fabrics

Three ways in which they contribute to the Canadian fashion scene, were featured in "The Canadian Fabric Festival" during the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

An estimated 25,000 spectators saw the 28 half-hour performances of the fabric-fashion show.

Feature fabrics from each of the 10 Canadian textile mills were modelled in high-style, custom-designed garments; in garments made from 25-cent commercial patterns; and in garments made by leading manufacturers for sale through retail outlets.

High-style garments were created on stage by Tibor de Nagay, formerly of Paris and now a member of the Association of Canadian Couturiers. His creations, shown above, reflecting a strong French influence, were draped and pinned on stage while the home sewer was shown what could be done with the same fabric and a Simplicity pattern. A manufactured garment was also modelled in each mill's feature fabric.

During each mill's three-part portion of the show a display form draped with that mill's fabric was on stage.

Canadian textile mills taking part in the show were: Barrymore Cloth Co. Ltd., Toronto; Paton Manufacturing Co. Ltd., Sherbrooke, Que.; Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd., Hespeler, Ont.; Bruck Mills Ltd., Cowansville, Que.; Domil Ltd., Sherbrooke, Que.; The Slingsby Manufacturing Co. Ltd., Brantford, Ont.; Duplan of Canada Ltd., Montmagny, Que.; West Coast Woollen Mills Ltd., Vancouver, B. C.; Associated Textiles of Canada Ltd., Louiseville, Que.; Ayers Ltd., Lachute, Que.

What every wife should know ...about husbanding

A husband, says the dictionary, is a man married to a woman. A second definition states that to husband is 'to manage thriftily'.

How to manage a husband and how to manage a budget are two things every wife needs to know if she wants a happy home.

"We're careful with money in our family but we can't seem to build up our savings," says one wife. "There are so many things to save for—a home of our own—the children's education—the days when we are old. Sure—we want to save—but how?"

Thrift helps, of course—but it's not the total answer to building up savings. A regular, systematic savings plan is needed too.

Hundreds of thousands of Canadian families have adopted the Canada Savings Bonds way to build up a worthwhile reserve for the important things ahead.

If you need the money in the meantime your Canada Savings Bonds are immediately cashable at full face value —at any bank—at any time.
