"OTTER" COMMANDER SAYS HE OWES LIFE TO DEED OF O'HARA

"It Was Only By Your Son Sacrificing His Life That I Am Alive Today," Writes Lt. Mossman to Parents Of Westmount Boy Who Gave Place in Lifeboat So Craft Could Return to Burning Ship for Commander

"It was only by your son sacrificing his life that I am alive today," wrote Lt. Dennis S. Mossman, R.C.N.R., to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. O'Hara of 10 Springfield avenue with regard to the death of their son, Ordinary Seaman W. Ian O'Hara, as the result of fire breaking out aboard the H.M.C.S. Otter and sending her to the bottom of a raging Atlantic off the coast of Halifax March 26.

Commanding officer on the Otter, Lt. Mossman was saved when O'Hara volunteered to leave the port lifeboat and go on a life raft so that the former craft could return to the burning ship and rescue Mossman.

Following is Lt. Mossman's letter describing young O'Hara's heroic act:

H.M.C. Dockyard,
 Halifax, N.S., 8th April 1941
 "Mr. W. W. O'Hara,
 10 Springfield Ave.,
 Montreal, P.Q.

Dear Mr. O'Hara:
 Referring to your letter of 29th March regarding the loss of your son in H.M.C.S. "OTTER", the following is for your information:
 Fire broke out in the Engine Room of my ship at about quarter to nine on the morning of 26th March. It was known that your son, along with other members of the crew, were busily engaged in rigging fire hoses and trying to fight this fire until orders were given to abandon ship. Your son left the ship in the port lifeboat, and as the boat was leaving the ship's side they all started to sing "Roll out the Barrel" and "There'll Always be an England."

"After being away from the ship some distance, your son saw I was left behind on board the ship. During this time the wind had changed and the sea was confused. I should say the boat was one mile from the ship at the time and your son volunteered to go on the life raft, so the boat could return safely to the ship and rescue me. He told the Officer in charge of the boat to go close enough to the raft so he could jump and at the same time Able Seaman T. Guilford, who was a pal of your son, volunteered to go along with his pal to the raft. When the lifeboat was close enough to the raft, your son jumped from the boat to the raft, followed by Able Seaman

Colombian Envoy Here Addresses Rotary Club

The history of Pan Americanism and a hope that Canada would take a more active part in the union were presented to Rotary Club of Westmount members yesterday by Edmundo de Holte-Castello, Colombian consul-general here and guest speaker at the club's weekly luncheon in Victoria Hall.

Introduced by Rotarian Cecil Medlar, Mr. de Holte-Castello, in discussing the possibility of Canada's entrance into the P.A. Union, said the matter was broached at the Washington convention in 1940 by Lopez de Mecca, Colombian Minister of Foreign Affairs. "And the subject undoubtedly will be an important point when Union members gather next in Bogota in 1942," he added.

Described by Mr. Medlar as perhaps the youngest consul-general to Canada from any country, Mr. de Holte-Castello is a graduate of Cambridge University and has held many important diplomatic posts in his short but spectacular career. He also has been knighted and has held office in various orders both in his own country and abroad.

In describing Pan Americanism, the speaker extolled the efforts of Simon Bolivar from Colombia, liberator of a century ago, who set the foundation of Pan Americanism in 1828. "Out of that," he said, "developed the first Pan American congress in Washington in 1889. Now we have one of the strongest inter-

R.M.R. TO HOLD SPECIAL EVENT AT LOCAL PARK
 Will Stage First Drumhead Service Since Its Inauguration Sunday At Westmount

The 2nd Battalion, Royal Montreal Regiment, M.G., will hold the first drumhead service since its inauguration, at Westmount Park this Sunday, it was announced.

The Battalion will commence the parade to the park from the Regimental armory at 2 P.M., and will be under the command of Lt.-Col. J. E. McKenna. En route they will be joined by the Westmount Air Cadets under Squadron Leader Lisley.

At the conclusion the battalion will parade east on Sherbrooke St. to the R.C.A.F. building at the intersection of Metcalfe street, where the salute will be taken by District Officer Commanding, Brig.-Gen. E. de B. Panet, C.M.G., DSO.

MRS. WORFOLK RESIGNS POST

Leaves Ranks of W.V.R.C. Which She Helped Found - Was Quartermaster With Rank of Captain

Mrs. Estelle Jean Worfolk, Quartermaster and one of the Women's Volunteer Reserve Corps' founders, has resigned from that body with intentions to devote more of her time to the many other associations and patriotic organizations with which she is connected. It was announced.

Mrs. Worfolk, who held the rank of Captain, also was editor of the W.V.R.C. newspaper and only recently was re-elected to the board of directors by a large majority.

JOHN H. MOLSON RESIGNS ARMY FOR NAVY POST

Lt.-Colonel Commanding Black Watch 3rd Battalion Accepted by R.C.-N.V.R. As Lieutenant

A veteran of the Great War and officer commanding the 3rd Battalion of the Black Watch (R.H.R.) of Canada (Reserve Army), Lt.-Colonel John H. Molson has resigned his commission and been accepted by the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve with the rank of Lieutenant.

A resident of Westmount, living at 634 Clarke avenue, Lt. Molson will be on loan from the R.C.N.V.R. to the Royal Navy and will go overseas in the near future.

He has been with the Black Watch for many years, serving overseas in the Great War with the 13th Royal Highlanders of Canada and thereafter continuously with the Black Watch of Canada from 1929 until 1937 when he retired to the reserve after acting as second-in-command of the regiment's 1st Battalion.

Following outbreak of the present war, Lt. Molson returned to the army and was appointed second-in-command of the second battalion, later taking over command of the 3rd Battalion.

The 45-year-old member of a distinguished Montreal family always has been keenly interested in yachting and it is understood his knowledge of the sea and desire to see active service again were instrumental in making him decide to leave the army.

Vice-president of Molson's Brewery Limited, Lt. Molson also is a member of the board of Shawbridge Boys' Farm; president of the Last Post Fund's Dominion Council; vice-president of the St. John Ambulance Association, and a member of the Canada Red Cross Society's advisory board.

He also has been active in charitable work, serving as chairman of the special names division in the 1938 Federated Charities campaign and in others previously.

Lt. Molson is married and has four children, William Markland, 19; Mary, 6; David, 12, and Peter, 5.

Westmount Fliers Earn Their Wings

Westmounters included in the second group of airmen to receive their Royal Canadian Air Force wings at the No. 9 Service Flying Training School near Summerside, P.E.I., recently, were Pete Kerland, I. M. McTobin and E. H. Hodgson.

In a brief address during the ceremony held on the airfield, Wing Commander E. G. Fullerton, officer commanding the school, told the airmen their success depended on themselves and warned them not to think their training as fliers was over.

Following his address, Wing Cmdr. Fullerton took the salute at the march past.

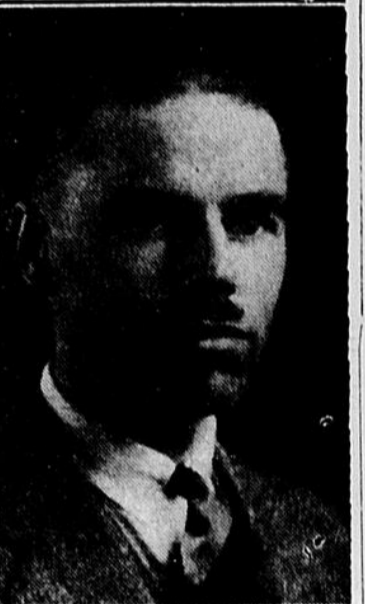

Light Globes Are Targets For Sniper

Puzzling Westmount police for the last week or so, the mysterious case of "Who punctured the light globes with an air rifle" is virtually cleared up and apprehension of the culprit is expected momentarily.

The marksman with a unique idea of a target has been costing the City of Westmount a goodly amount of money the past ten days with his sniping activities on Belvedere, Upper Landsdowne and Edgchill thoroughfares where he has "brought down" 11 street light globes, valued at $10 each.

Re-Appoints Entire Slate For Another Session In Office

BACK IN OFFICE

Eric Ohman, re-appointed, along with the entire slate of 1940 officers, for his second term as president of the Business Association of Westmount, the elections taking place at the Association's annual meeting Tuesday night in Victoria Hall.

Eric Ohman Returns as President at Annual Meeting Held Tuesday In Victoria Hall

Following the example set by the Westmount City Council, the Business Association of Westmount decided, in view of wartime conditions, to re-elect its entire 1940 slate of officers for another term at the Association's annual meeting held Tuesday night in Victoria Hall.

Thus Eric Ohman, elected president last year to replace W. Gordon Kenwood, retains his office along with Charles Watson, first vice-president; Lorne A. Parker, second vice-president; G. Labrosse, third vice-president; J. M. Kennedy, secretary.

Committee chairmen appointed for another year include: Attendance, R. Hill, N. S. Mitchell and A. Goodman; civic improvement, Lewis Sherwin; finance, W. K. Newcomb; entertainment, Don Ross; ladies, Miss Lefrance and Miss Hebert; membership, A. Smithers, F. Griffiths and F. L. Sorenson, Jr.

The officers were installed at the meeting.

The various reports were presented, indicating a vigorous and successful program during the past year, highlighted by a large-scale War Stamp Auction Sale at Victoria Hall which the Association plans duplicating in the fall, this time in co-operation with the Rotary Club of Westmount, the Westmount Women's Club and the Westmount Municipal Association.

It was intended to hold the second Auction this spring but the Association decided against it in view of the many other campaigns to be carried out during the spring and summer.

Proprietor of the long-established jewelry firm on Greene avenue, President Ohman said the Association's aim would remain unchanged — to improve business in Westmount — while the organization would continue to do its utmost in supporting and organizing campaigns for war funds.

Although the "citizens' open meeting held in Victoria Hall, May 15 last year, was so great a success, the president said it would not be held this year because of general conditions.

As has been noted in the past, the majority of members benefited greatly this past year by their connection with the Association, their business increasing as a result of the contacts made with their fellow-members.

Following his installation in office, President Ohman pledged his fullest support to the association.

JOE JACOBSON REPORTED SAFE ON OTHER SIDE

Westmount High Graduate Arrives in England with R.C.A.F. — Is Sgt.-Observer

Sgt. Observer Joe Jacobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Jacobson of Grosvenor avenue, Westmount, has arrived safely in England, according to a cable received yesterday.

Jacobson is well-known in Westmount as one of the best athletes ever to come under instructor George Smith's wing at Westmount High, while he continued to star in athletics throughout his four-year course at McGill University whence he graduated two years ago.

After starting on the High school's football, hockey and basketball teams, Jacobson entered McGill and drew attention in his Freshman year as being a particularly outstanding hockey and football prospect.

And throughout the next three years he fulfilled grid coach Doug Kerr's and hockey mentor Hugh Farquharson's expectations, being an outstanding outside wing on the football field and centreman on the hockey rink.

Jacobson enlisted with the Royal Canadian Air Force and received his training in western Canada, being included in the first large draft of men trained under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan in Canada, to arrive in the Old Country.

His arrival was unreported, however, until he cabled his parents.

Flt.-Lt. Christie Acts for Canada

Flight-Lieutenant G. P. "Pat" Christie, D.F.C. with Bar, R.A.F. of Westmount, and Arthur Dawe, of Montreal, represented Canada at the dedication ceremonies of the new Vultee Aircraft plant at Nashville, Tennessee, on the week-end, according to word received here.

Thousands attended the ceremonies at the new plant, the Tennessee division of the American Aviation Corporation, which will build bombers for Britain and the United States.

MOTHER'S DAY

Sunday we observe Mother's Day which is, next to Christmas and Easter, the most important red letter day on the year's calendar. Nothing is more vital to the healthy and happy development of children than their mother's time and care; and most successful men and women in the world today credit the maxims learned at their mother's knee for their attainments.

AUTOS LEAD WHEAT

Prairie farmers will blink when they note that automobiles and parts have shot ahead of wheat in the value of exports from Canada during the first quarter of the year.

For the first quarter, newsprint led the exports with $30,898,378 compared to $27,012,093 for the same period a year ago.

Automobiles and parts came next with a value of $24,312,187 compared to $6,840,242 a year ago.

Wheat was third with a value of $21,624,648 compared to $23,166,647.

The fact that the automotive factories of Canada could respond so readily to the demand for mechanized equipment shows the importance of the industry to the Dominion.

ambulances and other motorized vehicles. As it is, the industry is continuing to supply the British forces with first class equipment, much of which has already proved its worth in the field of actual battle.

FASTER EDUCATION

In time of war, industry adopts every possible method to speed up its production. Shortcuts which would never be thought of in normal times are resorted to in order to get materials off the line with the greatest possible rapidity and in the greatest possible volume.

Education in Canada is apparently to borrow a page from industry's book. This is the inference to be drawn from proposals made by the National War Services Department, that technical education be speeded up and graduates, particularly in engineering, be turned out at a faster rate.

There is serious need for men with engineering training in Canada today. There are thousands of technical jobs connected with our war effort that must be filled. The normal rate of turning out students in these lines cannot keep up to the demand.

Any confirmation this may require comes from no less an authority than Mr. William S. Knudsen, who has followed up the survey revelations by adding that when the United States hits its stride it will have a greater productive capacity than "any two countries in Europe you can mention."

These facts spotlight the oft-repeated statement that time is on Britain's side. The Battle of the Atlantic must be won by Germany, and the English Channel crossed, before American output reaches the decisive stage.

The author agrees with Kierkegaard who said the modern world is afflicted with a mortal disease, a sickness unto death. Various remedies for the ills of society have been proposed, but according to Dr. Reiser's analysis the troubles of the modern world are at bottom a result of the failure of philosophy.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Writers in the current issue of The People's Year Book, issued by the Co-operative Wholesale Society, Manchester, G.B., stress the great role which co-operators are playing in the struggle to win the war, and also point to the vast changes which are coming and the tasks which lie ahead for the movement throughout the world.

"Driven by war pressures, evolution is gathering speed," writes W. J. Sharkey, President of the National Co-operative Men's Guild, in one of the feature contributions to the annual. "A new social structure is being fashioned. The process is taking place so rapidly that, without straining the term, it may be described as a revolution."

He stressed the necessity that in the future there should be "the freest possible exchange of goods and services" between nations and "ability to obtain raw materials."

Other writers, including prominent economists, also dwell upon the great changes now taking place in Britain.

From 60 to 70 per cent of all dividends paid by U.S. corporations goes to persons with incomes of $50,000 or over, according to an estimate quoted by Senator O'Mahoney, chairman of the U.S. Senate.

Having never been in New York before, Lord Halifax made the most of his recent three-day visit. He said, "The only time I wasted was when I was in bed."

CHRIST SCIENCE LECTURE HEARD

Peter B. Higgins, Seattle, Addresses Meeting At Westmount Hall

Contending that today it is a matter of common knowledge that Christian Science gives to those who study and apply it, health of body, peace of mind and an ever-expanding hope, Peter B. Higgins, C.S.B., Seattle, Wash., delivered a lecture on "Christian Science: How to Apply It" at Westmount Hall on Monday evening.

Continuing the preacher declared, "Christ Jesus made clear the basis of the application of Truth to the needs of humanity, when, in his Sermon on the Mount, he said, 'Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.'"

He set forth the grand results of this correct application when, at the end of this discourse, he said, "Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock; and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."

That rock is Christ, Truth. That is the rock on which the teaching of Christian Science is built. That is the foundation of its practice, the basis of its practical application to your needs and to mine."

Despair vs. Hope Drawing on Quebec geography to emphasize his contention, Mr. Higgins said, "In the Gulf of St. Lawrence, on the Gaspé Peninsula, there stands a cape which in earlier days was known as Cap Desespoir - Cape Despair. Today, as for many decades past, it has an effective lighthouse, whose kindly light gleams across the water for many miles. Now it is known as Cap d'Espoir - the Cape of Hope. Many people have at some time come to the place where they have almost despaired of finding the solution of life's problems. In their extremity they have been led to investigate Christian Science. With the coming of the light of Truth, this proves to be the turning point in their lives. Their 'point of despair' becomes their 'point of hope.' The despair of recovery - hopelessness as to being able to meet life's difficulties - gives place to confidence in the fact that divine Love solves every problem, heals every ill. They awaken to the fact that God is with them. This is their demonstration, their proof of 'Immanuel.'"

In conclusion the preacher stated "all that is good will come to you as you allow yourselves to be led lovingly by the hand of Truth in the way of wisdom. This is the result of the practical application of Christian Science."

Bradner Company Moves Into Larger Premises

The Bradner Fur Company which announces its removal to new and larger premises at 4945 Sherbrooke West, at the corner of Claremont, was formerly located a half block west of its new location.

Due to greatly increasing business, Mr. J. H. Bradner, the proprietor, realized that more space was needed both for his showroom where repairs and remodeling of furs is carried out.

When he opened his doors for business in the old store over seven years ago, Mr. Bradner then considered that the premises provided ample space but has since had to revise his opinion.

Features of the new store are the attractive showroom, the large, bright workroom and the new storage vaults which are the most modern available. Everything has been done to ensure convenience and service for the customers.

Founder of the first fur store west of Guy street, Joseph Henry Bradner today heads Bradner Fur Company.

Mr. Bradner was born in Gloucestershire, Eng., in 1881, of English and Irish parents, and received his education there. He came to Canada 45 years ago, first settling in Amherst, Nova Scotia.

It was in Amherst that he decided to make the fur business his life's work and he entered the then well-known firm of Dunlap and Cooke which was later taken over by Holt Renfrew.

In 1909 he came to Montreal and joined the staff of Gneidinger and Sons, on St. Peter street, serving in the employ of that company for some years.

In the year 1906 Mr. Bradner decided to go into business for himself and opened a store on St. Antoine street at the corner of St. Martin. As business districts in Montreal changed with the growth of the city, Bradner's changed with them, moving to locations on St. Paul street and later on St. Denis.

Mr. Bradner soon realized the potential success of a fur store in Westmount and in 1915 he became connected with the Bradner Company, 4160 St. Catherine street, west.

This enterprise proved a complete success. So large did its clientele become that in 1934 Mr. Bradner foresaw the need of opening a second store in the west end and the site he now occupies at the corner of Sherbrooke street and Claremont Avenue is the result of that program of expansion.

He now devotes his time exclusively to the latter store, business there having grown to an extent that requires his undivided attention.

A recognized authority on the fur trade, Mr. Bradner was selected to give a radio address on this most famous of Canadian industries over the Little Forum of the Air some years ago.

J. H. BRADNER

years ago he went out west to organize church work on the Prairies; with Milestone, Sask., as a centre and with voluntary assistants, he ministered to a sparsely settled district comprising several hundred square miles. His venture was so successful, that he was asked to organize similar work in British Columbia; and he also received urgent invitations to go to the United States and to Australia with the same object in view. During the past winter he has been in charge of St. Chad's College, Regina, and his Bishop showed appreciation of his valuable services by making him a Canon of the Diocese.

POSTMEN'S A. A. DONATES $300 FOR SOLDIERS

Proceeds of Annual Dance Given to Help Canadian Troops Serving Overseas

West-end postmen, members of the Athletic Association in that district, remitted a cheque for $300 to be devoted to the comforts of soldiers in the Canadian forces overseas, on the occasion of the recent annual dance held in Columbus Hall, Mountain St., it is stated by the secretary J. O. Grenier.

On behalf of the association, Mr. Grenier also expressed his thanks to residents of the district who collaborated to make a success of the event.

Five attendance prizes were distributed amongst the assistants, consisting of "war certificates", which were drawn as follows:

1st. prize, No. 2497C, G. Nadeau, 525 Durocher St.; 2nd prize, No. 4349B, Miss J. Verdon, 29 Windsor, Westmount; 3rd prize, No. 1151A, Miss Helen Martin, 795 St. Martin St.; 4th prize, No. 4567, M. Mich. Geoffroid, 3669 Clarke St.; 5th prize, No. 4906C, Miss R. Millette, 6314 Chateaubriand St.

ANNUAL REPORT OF RED CROSS SHOWS SURPLUS

Revenue of Quebec Division for 1940 is $1,492,414 — Expenditure $1,137,075

A detailed report of the revenue and expenditures of the Quebec Provincial Division, the Canadian Red Cross Society for the year 1940 has been released by officials of the society in order to show the public how the money, contributed by the people of the province, was spent during the past year.

The report shows that the total revenue of the Quebec Provincial Division during 1940 was $1,492,414 and expenditure $1,137,075.

Two of the largest expenditures included a grant of $397,576 to the national office of the Canadian Red Cross Society and a grant of $420,000 to Red Cross House, Montreal. In the latter grant $355,136 was spent on the purchase of merchandise which was put into production for war-time activities, while $33,868 was spent on premises facilities and operating expenses and $1,000 on miscellaneous operations. A grant of $8,794 was made to the Junior Red Cross and all other grants totalled $2,437.

Peace-time Services

Expenditure on peace-time services during 1940 totalled more than $81,000. These included $31,250 on emergency services; $26,775 on veterans' and soldiers' assistance; $16,897 on public health services, which includes the mobile medical-dental clinic; $4,758 on home nursing classes and $1,328 on outpost nursing.

Specified donations expended during the year totalled $124,003 and was spent chiefly for the purchase of Red Cross ambulances and blankets, all of which were shipped overseas.

Slightly over $15,216 was spent during 1940 on the expenses of branches of the Quebec Provincial Division. These expenses included rent for some of the workrooms, cartage on goods, light and heat, telephone, sundry materials and petty cash.

With approximately 175 branches throughout the province the breakdown of this expenditure indicates that the average monthly expense of operating each branch is less than $7.50.

Administration expenses for the Quebec Provincial Division during 1940 included $18,361 for salaries, $17,663 for expenses and $8,000 for equipment. Campaign expenses for the 1940 appeal totalled $31,394.

Officials of the Quebec Provincial Division point out that as public funds are being administered, the Division's books are open at all times for public examination.

Salvage Drive Enters Fourth Successful Week

Canada's National Salvage Campaign now enters its fourth week. It does so with one of the largest single unified voluntary organizations ever active in Canadian history. From coast to coast, Canadians in an astonishing variety of occupations are giving their time and effort to make successful the vast drive to conserve essential materials necessary for war industry.

"The speed with which our organization has been set up, and the intensity with which it is attacking waste on the Canadian home front," says William Knightley, campaign supervisor, "is one of the amazing things of this war. The response has been most encouraging. I am sure we are going all out on this important contribution to ultimate victory."

There are the municipal officers who are giving material support to the drive by donating civic collection equipment and by making public sheds and yards available for salvage depots, and who are giving moral public support in the form of advice and leadership. There are many service clubs, like the Kiwanis, the Lions, the Rotarians. There are all the women's organizations in the Local Council of Women, the I.O.D.E., the Red Cross, the Catholic Women's Guild and several Jewish philanthropies. The Salvation Army is organized for salvage in many cities and small towns.

The Chambers of Commerce and the Junior Boards of Trade are giving active support. Even Canadian young people—the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, and groups in many rural schools—are in the line of battle on waste.

Nor does the roll-call stop here. Numerous industries and busi-

Air Force Veterans To Stage "Wings and Swings"

Officers and men of No. 1 Wireless School of the Royal Canadian Air Force, members of the Women's League of Health and Beauty and cadets of the Westmount Schools, and of the Jean de Brebeuf and Chomedey Schools, will stage "Wings and Swings" a demonstration of drill manoeuvres and other impressive ceremonies, under Vice-Regal patronage, and sponsored by the Air Force Veterans Association in conjunction with the Women's League of Health and Beauty, at the Forum, on Tuesday, May 20, in aid of the Air Force Benevolent Fund.

Under the title of "Wings and Swings" the program will include an extensive exhibition of drill manoeuvres and physical fitness displays supplemented by special band numbers to be given by the famous Royal Canadian Air Force Central Band who will come from Ottawa, Chief of Air Staff, Air Vice Marshall L. S. Bredner, D. S.C. will take the salute from the Canadian, Australian and New Zealand detachments and the newly organized school cadets. And members of the Women's League of Health and Beauty will stage their annual demonstration of drill and general efficiency under the Leadership of Honor Davy.

Swastika Is Indian; Disappears Fast In U.S.

The swastika is an ancient Indian symbol and in the Southwest once was common. In Raton the last trace of swastikas, used in form names, has been erased. The Swastika Hotel has changed its name to the Yucca; the coal camp to Brilliant and the trade name for a coal likewise was changed. The City Council has changed Swastika Avenue to Brilliant avenue.

Salvage Drive Enters Fourth Successful Week

nesses are behind the drive. The junk dealers are organized into the Institute of Secondary Materials, especially for the war effort, and besides giving freely of their time and experience to make the campaign a success, they have made arrangements to keep the prices of salvaged materials at a fair level. Movie houses are holding children's matinees, in which the price of admission is a bundle of rags or a discarded aluminum pot or pan, and are later donating the materials thus collected to the nearest salvage group. Other patriotic business houses are donating newspaper space to local committees which are advertising to make thorough jobs of scrap collection in their areas.

"It is literally a phenomenon in organization," concluded Mr. Knightley. "And it has come into being practically overnight. If our efforts match the efforts of the British drive, it will all have been very worthwhile."

During the past 16 months the British have saved enough waste paper to fill 40 cargo ships. The paper was valued at $35,600,000. More than 250,000 tons of metals have been contributed from homes, thousands of tons have been rescued from scrap heaps, and other thousands of tons have come from industry in the form of obsolete machinery. The total amount of all the iron and steel salvaged in Britain is the equivalent of 16,000 tanks.

"What the citizens in arms in embattled Britain have done," concluded Mr. Knightley, "surely we Canadians can do. We have the organization. We have the opportunity. All we need now is the vision and the willingness to stick to it. I am sure we have those things, too!"

ANNUAL REVUE GETS UNDERWAY

Ninth Annual St. Stephen's Church Show Opened Last Night Before Appreciative Audience

With Christopher Ellis, well-known radio personality, as master of ceremonies, the ninth annual St. Stephen's Church revue opened last night in the Parish Hall, Weredale Park, and will continue tonight and tomorrow evening.

Featuring the s.o.w. are the tap dancing of Pat Meaney, Spanish taps by Madeline Willis and bright chorus routines by the ensemble.

Leading female roles in the various skits are shared by Gertrude Parsons and Joan Withers, while male leads are taken by Arthur LeRiche, Charles Langston and Bill Taylor.

Muriel Sykes is featured in marimba solos, while Angus Sweeting, the producer, is seen in "Music Hall Memories." The entire show moves to the rhythms supplied by Frank Cobbett at the piano.

A near-capacity crowd enjoyed opening night and good audiences are expected for the remaining performances.

Seaweed Appears On Wartime List Of Special Menus

Seaweed soups, stems of sea-tangle and sea moss jelly, washed down with carrageen may not seem an intelligible menu to the average man, but they are an example of what Scotland and Wales can turn out in an emergency.

Londoners got a taste of these "delicacies" at an exhibition of Scottish and Welsh dishes suited to wartime menus. The tasters politely praised the strange wartime food but confessed that roast beef and mutton were more to their liking.

Success of the dishes, made from dulse, an edible seaweed, depends on the cooking and flavoring. Sioakan, one of the favorites, has to be washed, steeped, stewed in milk and deprived of its bitterness with judicious pinches of bicarbonate of soda. Then pepper, vinegar and lemon juice are added according to taste.

Mariners Warned Of Drifting Mines

The Navy warned mariners yesterday to look out for drifting mines after one was discovered in the Atlantic about 190 miles north of Haiti and 500 miles east of Florida.

The mine, which may have washed across the ocean from Europe, presumably is still afloat. It was discovered recently by a merchant vessel which apparently lacked guns to destroy it. The Navy did not identify the ship.

A general warning from the Hydrographic Office said mines "have been reported in many widely separated localities."

Southern Railroad Shop Battalion

Under direction of the War Department and in co-operation with the Military Railway Service, the Norfolk & Western Railway is selecting 20 men from its shop forces to serve as reserve officers in a railway shop battalion unit, which, in time of war, would be responsible for maintaining and repairing railway equipment.

The shop battalion will be officered by employees from the road's supervisory, special apprentice, shop inspection, and mechanical forces.

Seven employees so far have successfully qualified as reserve officers under regular Army standards.

N. S. Canteen Fund Aided By Speirs-Miller Recital

The Nova Scotia Canteen Fund which is out to build a Canteen and Recreation Hut at the Dockyard in Halifax for the Navy Boys, should receive a great boost Saturday evening when the Betty Speirs-Peter Miller Dance Show will be presented at Victoria Hall.

The advance sale and reservations indicate a capacity house while another pleasant item of news is that spontaneous donations continue to reach "Halifax Canteen Fund" R.N. Headquarters, Mountain Street, Montreal from well-wishers unable to attend on Saturday evening. The Naval boys will be represented by the R.N.V.R. Band which will be heard during the evening, and of course their celebrated mascots, the two beautiful Newfoundland dogs will be there to grace the proceedings.

The entertainment will be up to the usual Speirs-Miller calibre with many spectacular features. The baby classes will offer "Basket of Roses", in which the talented tots will have full scope. Special scenery has been built for this. The Business Girls will be seen in a High-Kicking Routine and a Military Precision Tap number. Exhibition Ballroom Dancing will feature Peter Miller, Alla Shishkina, Helen Lytelia and Jack Hymander. Miss Shishkina, who returned from Europe last fall, has made a great impression here with her smooth style, while Miss Lytelia and Jack Hymander, a talented young couple from Sudbury, Ont., have made many new friends with their clever work.

Presentation Made To Calvary Pastor

The congregation and friends of Calvary United Church met in the Church Parlors last night to say farewell to Rev. and Mrs. Colin R. Rudd, and bid them God-speed in their new field of labor. Rev. C. R. Rudd has accepted a call to become the pastor of Knox United Church, Cornwall, Ontario, and is to be formally inducted into the new pastorate on Friday, May 16th.

During the social period, T. Haugland presented a purse to the Rev. and Mrs. Rudd with the good wishes of their many friends, and the sincere hope that they will find joy and happiness in their new work.

Next Sunday Rev. C. R. Rudd will preach his two last sermons in Calvary, in the morning the theme will be "The Guiding Voice," in keeping with the celebration of Mother's Day, and the evening sermon will be "The Reward and the Work."

INTERESTING TALK HEARD BY W. C. T. U. AT WEREDALE HOUSE

The members of the Madison W.C.T.U. held a meeting recently at Weredale House, when Miss Ruth Baxter, missionary on furlough from the Sudan Interior Mission, spoke on her work at the Katsina Laper Settlement in Northern Nigeria.

Miss Baxter's chief work at the settlement was to teach leper children to read, the Bible being her only text book. She also related how, after she had been rescued at sea, her name was called out and her Bible handed to her. This Bible had been picked up by another ship after having been blown from the missionary's cabin when the bomb struck, and was the sole possession Miss Baxter had salvaged.

140 boys of Weredale House were present at this meeting, and proved to be an appreciative audience. Many of the boys were recipients of prizes won for various activities undertaken at the Home. Under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Merritt and Mrs. F. Orr, 62 boys competed in the National Temperance Sunday Lessons, and to reward their success, books were presented on behalf of the Hochelaga County W.C.T.U., to help equip the Home's new camp library.

V. F. McAdam, on behalf of the board and the boys, gave an address of welcome, and Mrs. Ford Crawford, president of the Union, presided.

Euphonium solos were rendered by Morley Calvert, accompanied by Gordon Hamilton, members of the Salvation Army Citadel Young People's Band, and Master Brian Sawers recited. Miss Gladys Flumerfelt played piano selections.

League To Take Part In "Wings And Swing" Soon

Demonstration to Be Held in Forum to Aid Air Force Benevolent Fund

A program of physical fitness and drill manoeuvres will be staged under the direction of Leader Honor Davey, by the Women's League of Health and Beauty, as a part of the "Wings and Swing" demonstration to be sponsored by the Air Force Veterans Association in aid of the Air Force Benevolent Fund, in the Forum, on Tuesday, May 20.

The League, whose primary purpose is that of keeping the women and girls of today in a fit physical condition so that they may take their place in any of the women's auxiliary services should they be called upon to do so at short notice, was founded in England in 1930 by the late Mrs. Bagot-Stack. Since then the movement has grown by leaps and bounds until now the membership totals some 200,000 throughout the Empire with centres in the principal cities of England, Scotland and Ireland, as well as in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India and South Africa. The exercises originated by the late Mrs. Bagot-Stack, who travelled to all parts of the Empire in the interests of the league, are approved by the medical profession and were designed only after careful study.

The Canadian League was founded in Toronto in 1935 and the Montreal Branch was started two years later under the leadership of Honor Davey. Miss Davey, who is responsible for the training of the members of the Montreal Branch of the League, who will present "Stretch and Swing" as their contribution to the demonstration at the Forum on May 20, has acted as league instructor in Australia, South Africa and many of the principal centres in England.

Queen Elizabeth, when Duchess of York, took an active interest in the work of the league in England, and was a regular attendant at the mass demonstration held annually at Wembley before the war.

The members of the league will present a series of drills, manoeuvres and tableaux, using the flying services as their theme.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. McKergow announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. William Edward Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Henderson. The marriage will take place early in June.

The engagement is announced of Isobel, second daughter of Mrs. J. B. Charlton, to Staff Sergeant Ernest J. Wood, R.C.A.F.C. (A-F), son of Mr. S. Wood and the late Mrs. Wood. The wedding will take place early in June.

WEDDINGS

Kirsch-Gartley
The marriage of Alice Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gartley, of Belleville, N.B., to Dr. Edward Kirsch, son of Dr. and Mrs. Simon Kirsch, of Westmount, took place recently in New York, following which the couple left for Washington, D.C., to spend their honeymoon. They will reside in New York.

The bridegroom is a graduate in medicine of McGill University in the class of '37, and is at present a resident on the staff of the Montefiore Hospital in New York City. The bride was attached to the Montreal General Hospital before going to New York, where she was also on the staff of the Montefiore Hospital.

DAUGHTERS OF NILE

Hold An Attractive Display of Bedspreads

More than 150 guests attended the silver "Come and Go" tea and display of bedspreads, held by the Daughters of the Nile at the home of Mrs. J. H. Condon, 4573 Sherbrooke street west, on Saturday afternoon.

These attractively colored appliqued bedspreads were made for the little patients at the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children, and the characters from quaint nursery rhymes and fairy tales were portrayed in the designs. The most spectacular spread was the one with a "Mother Goose" design, and other outstanding picture-quilts had as decoration "Pinnocchio," "The Dwarfs," "Hallowe'en," "Jack and Jill," "Hey Diddle Diddle, the Cat and the Fiddle," "Red Riding Hood," etc. An amusing quilt was that depicting Jack Spratt and his wife, "G-G-Ghosts" was also well portrayed.

One of the most important objectives of Oasis Temple No. 46, Daughters of the Nile, is to assist the Shriners in their work for the crippled children in their hospital, their principal interest being in the orthopaedic work there.

ANDREW'S-FORSYTH

The marriage of Miss Annabel Suzanne Forsyth, daughter of Mr. Lionel A. Forsyth, K.C., and Mrs. Forsyth, to Lieutenant Arthur Edward Andrews, Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, son of Mr. R. G. Andrews, and the late Mrs. Andrews, of Kingston, Ont., will take place on Saturday afternoon, May 10, at half-past three o'clock, in St. Matthias' Church. Following the ceremony, the reception will be held in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

McRae-Crittenden

The marriage of Margaret Olive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Crittenden and the late Mrs. Crittenden, of Rivers, Man., to Corporal Lorne William McRae, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McRae, of Westmount, took place recently in Winnipeg. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Grecian gown of chiffon, with a chapel veil of bridal net held by a heart-shaped halo of forget-me-nots. Her shower bouquet was of American beauty roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Catherine Crittenden, wore sapphire blue tulle and her bouquet was of butterfly roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Corporal Arthur Mattinson, R.C.A.F., of Montreal.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Orth.

For travelling, the bride wore dusty pink triple crepe with matching hat and fur-trimmed coat. Her corsage was of Johanna Hill roses.

Corporal and Mrs. McRae will reside at Rivers.

Many Variations Seen In Shirtwaist Dresses

Variations of the shirtwaist dress take a wider range of expression this year than in previous seasons, for the basically wearable silhouettes are given a more dressy impression through the use of novelty pockets, jeweled in a good selection of fabrics. Prints in the large-former spaced design in crepes, sportswear-type novelty rayons in the linen-like and crash constructions, striped, checked and plain fabrics as well as heavy sheer pastels color rayons to give variation and new appeal to the shirtwaist classics.

And it's not only the shirtwaist dress but the shirtwaists that are musts in every wardrobe whether for town or country.

To Make Good Custards, Use Your Double Boiler

Many successful-enough cooks are as fearful of custards as they would be of a tight rope. "Too risky for me," they say, and stay close to less challenging recipes. In making custards the secret is to use a double boiler, or "bain marie," so that the inner container never really "bubbles." The inner container should be kept at about a temperature of 170 degrees F. and the mixture will then thicken smoothly. Following this rule, a plain so-called "boiled" custard is very simple.

BOILED CUSTARD
2 cups milk
dash of salt
1/4 to 1/2 cup sugar
1 medium-sized bay leaf
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Combine milk, salt and sugar, add bay leaf and heat over hot water. Add the hot mixture gradually to the slightly beaten eggs, and continue cooking over hot water, stirring constantly. 3 to 4 minutes or until mixture thickens slightly and will coat a metal spoon. Serve on Cessert soufflés or gelatins. Approximate yield: 4 portions.

BAKED CUSTARD
2 cups milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
dash of salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Heat milk but do not boil. Add gradually to slightly beaten eggs, stirring constantly. Add salt and 1/4 cup sugar; pour into buttered pie plate or cake pan. Place in shallow dish of hot water, bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 40 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Remove from oven, sprinkle with remaining sugar and cinnamon. Approximate yield: 4 portions.

STRAWBERRY CUSTARD
1/2 cup strawberries, washed and hulled
1/3 cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
1/4 teaspoon lemon juice

Crush strawberries with sugar and combine with the beaten egg yolks. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Add lemon juice. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold into strawberry mixture. Serve chilled. Approximate yield: 4 portions.

CHOCOLATE CUSTARD PIE
2 eggs
1 cup condensed milk
2 cups water

1/4 teaspoon salt
1 (5c) chocolate bar, grated
1 unbacked pastry shell
1 tablespoon sugar
dash of vanilla

Separate one egg, retaining white for meringue, and beat yolk with remaining whole egg. Add milk, water and salt and pour into pastry shell. Sprinkle chocolate over top. Place in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 20 minutes or until custard is nearly set and knife inserted in center comes out almost clean. Remove from oven and let cool. When it is cold, beat remaining egg white, sprinkle with sugar and beat until stiff enough to stand in peaks. Add vanilla. Spread meringue thinly on pie, sealing the custard in so that it will not be heated. Place again in moderate oven for 15 minutes or until meringue is lightly browned. Let cool before serving. Approximate yield: one 9-inch pie.

CHEESE CUSTARD
1 egg, slightly beaten
dash of salt
dash of marjoram
dash of thyme
1 cup of milk
1 cup of fresh white bread crumbs
1 cup grated cheese

To the slightly beaten egg add salt, herbs and milk and blend. Spread bread crumbs and cheese in alternate layers in a heavy buttered casserole and pour milk and egg mixture over them. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean except for melted cheese. Serve at once. Approximate yield: 4 portions.

When Custard Curdles. If boiled custard shows signs of curdling, remove from heat at once and cool quickly by placing pan in ice water to stop further cooking. To improve the texture pour the custard into a bottle, cork it and shake well.

Red Shoes New Heels Are Novel

Shoe authorities declare that modified heels for the first time in years will stand on a 50-50 footing with heels of the "spike" class. Best of all there is novelty but not nonsense in the styling of the new heels. Many are slightly squared, as are numerous toe designs, thus lending a swank tailored effect. Others are slightly scooped out in front, or have an exaggerated slant at the back in imitation of western boot heels. Chiefly, however, they stand out for their so-frequent adoption of a covering or color in contrast to the shoe itself.

WELL KNOWN DISEASE TO APPEAR SHORTLY

Doreen O'Brien, well known in Montreal as a diseuse, will give her final appearance this season at Victoria Hall on Tuesday, May 20, at 8.15 p.m.

Miss O'Brien, famous for her one-woman costume plays and sketches of the Tudor period, will present a varied program of some of the more popular sketches of her repertoire, including modern characterizations as well as historical drama.

Doreen O'Brien has appeared before many Montreal clubs and societies, and when in England acted at the Arts Theatre in London. She writes her own plays and designs her own costumes, bringing to her art an unusual and original touch; whether as an imperious Tudor Queen or as a modern Lancashire woman, she brings out the fine points of stage characterization.

Her coming performance will be divided into two parts, the first half of the program to concern itself with modern sketches and the second half with historical drama. Following the program, a dance will be held.

Carrots, Not Candy For Kids, M.P. Urges

Boys may be running into the corner shop for a pennyworth of carrots instead of candy, if a suggestion by Colonel Carver, British M. P., is followed up.

In view of the shortage of candy and fruit he will ask the parliamentary secretary to the ministry of food "if he is aware that in the last war shops were encouraged to sell carrots singly to children, and that this was done with great benefit to their health?"

Coed's Illusions Are Shattered

Professor George Haskell popped this question to University of Iowa coeds in his class the other day: "How much would you require a prospective husband to be earning before marrying him?"

Eighty-five per cent, demanded $2,500 a year. "Well," Professor Haskell said, "less than 15 per cent. of the income receivers in the nation earn more than $2,500 a year. So about 85 per cent. of you can expect to be old maids."

Surprise Dessert

"The Philadelphia Story" Featured At Westmount

If you want to laugh long, loud and often, take a tip and don't fail to see Cary Grant, Katherine Hepburn and James Stewart in "The Philadelphia Story," the comedy of the year, which opened yesterday at the Westmount United Theatre playing until Saturday night. It presents a dazzling new Hepburn as a comedienne of the first water, with "versatile" Grant and Stewart as her gay companions in a picture that is fresher, wittier and brighter than any of recent memory.

From the moment Grant pushes Miss Hepburn in the face and walks out to become her ex-husband, the film moves with fast paced, breezy action, punctuated at intervals with surprise laughs, because this is a picture that follows none of the familiar formulas.

Philadelphia Setting

The setting is a Philadelphia home of the socially elite, and Miss Hepburn plays a girl of high ideals who has no tolerance for human frailties, particularly in a husband. That's why she gets rid of Grant. He has a few faults. When Miss Hepburn picks a second husband, she chooses a stalwart man if the people, played to the hilt by John Howard. Grant realizing that she is making a mistake, causes a sensation by returning for the wedding. He reports for keyhole magazine, and Ruth Hussey, Stewart's girl friend. They proceed to make Miss Hepburn's life miser ble, but she fights back until her own foot slips and she sees the light. It would be giving away a novel and clever plot to reveal which boy gets the girl.

Cast Carefully Chosen

There is no one top performance. The stars are perfectly cast and uniformly excellent, as are the featured players. Roland Young gives his usual fine performance as Miss Hepburn's slightly daffy uncle. John Halliday and Mary Nash are fine as her parents and little Virginia Weidner shares the laughs as the younger sister, who hears, sees and says everything she shouldn't. Adapted from Philip Barry's New York stage hit, in which Miss Hepburn starred for fifty-two weeks on Broadway, the picture was brilliantly directed by George Cukor, who has a rare touch for comedy tempo. It was produced by Joseph Mankiewicz.

Little Players In Morning Show

On Saturday morning May 10, "The Little Players of the Air" will present their last performance of the current season at the Monkland theatre. A musical comedy "Nellie Kelly" will open the morning's entertainment. This offering features some delightful new song hits, plenty of rollicking fun, and unfolds a charming

MANY THRILLS IN 'HIGH SIERRA' AT YORK UNITED

Lupino And Bogart Co-Star In Outstanding Warner Bros. Production

One of the year's most outstanding productions, "High Sierra," co-starring Humphrey Bogart and Ida Lupino which is now playing at the York United Theatre until Saturday night, was written by W. Burnett who authored "Little Caesar." "High Sierra" was produced by Warner Bros., the same company which presented the earlier film.

Raoul Walsh, the picture's director, is noted for the deft balance between romance and hard, blunt "punch" that he delivered in many hit pictures, since his initial success with "What Price Glory." Another guarantee of "High Sierra" being top-drawer entertainment is the fact that Mark Hellinger acted as associate producer of the film.

Headed by Bogart and Miss Lupino, the cast of "High Sierra" also includes such notable names as Alan Curtis, Henry Hull, Henry Travers, Barton MacLane, Arthur Kennedy (remember him as Cagney's brother in "City For Conquest") and Joan Leslie, 16-year-old making her film debut, and hailed by preview audiences as a sensational discovery. A small wire-haired terrier called "Pard" is also said to walk off with more than his share of the picture's honors.

Sensational Tale

"High Sierra" tells the story of Roy Earl, termed by the authors as "the last of the Dillinger gang." It is the sensational tale of a man who is overtaken by his inexorable doom just as he finds happiness for the first time in his sordid life. When Roy Earl is released from prison on a pardon, he dreams of going to live on a farm. But first he must repay his gangster boss for winning him the pardon. This job takes him to California, and a mountain camp in the 'High Sierras, where he is to hide out until the time is ripe for him to pull the "caper" that will pay for his freedom. There is a desert resort at the foot of the mountains, and a hotel safe, laden with the jewels of wealthy patrons. It's just the sort of job that Roy Earl is best at and all he has to do is lay low until he gets the o.k. from the hotel clerk, who is also "in" on the job.

Thrilling Climax

There's a girl at the mountain camp, a girl to whom life has shown only the seamy side. And there's a dog, a little mutt of uncertain ancestry. Both immediately attach themselves to Earl and against his better judgment he takes them both along when he goes after the jewels. Although he makes a clean getaway, the clerk is caught, and squeals. It's pretty easy for the police to get on the trail of a man who's traveling with a girl and a dog. But before they catch him, Earl barricades himself in the rocky heights of High Sierra, thereby providing one of the most thrilling film climaxes of all time.

story. The title role will be played by Catherine Parker. Other parts will be played by Patsy May Morrice, Ella Leahy, Danny Bradley, Billy Long, Joyce Stevens, Clare Gill, Jimmie Danant, Tommy Dannachy, Rene and Arnold Monahan, Buddy Guilfoyle, and many others.

"Robin Hood" will be presented by a group of 30 boys. Robin will be played by Edward McKee. While Kenny Overall will portray the heroine Maid Marian. Jolly Friar Tuck, Will Scarlet, Alan-a-Dale and all the merry men of Sherwood forest will be played by a group of boys. The curtain will rise at 10.15.

"What's the date?" asked the beautiful but dumb one starting a letter. "That newspaper you've got there will tell you." She looked at the paper and said, "No, this isn't any good." "Why not?" "It's yesterday's."

New Features And Rides At Belmont

During the past few years Belmont Park, under the brilliant and vigilant guidance of Rex D. Billings its managing director, has steadily grown in public favour due to the several new rides introduced each season coupled with the many improvements and extra picnic facilities offered patrons of Montreal's only outdoor amusement centre and one of the finest on the North American Continent. Preparations for the re-opening of Belmont Park for its preview of old favourites and new rides are progressing very rapidly. This preview will be held on Saturday and Sunday (May 10th and 11th) after which the park will be closed to the public for a few days prior to its official opening for the season on Saturday May 17th. Among the new rides that will surely prove popular are the Rolloplane, which provides new and different thrills and the Kiddies' Auto Speedway, consisting of gasoline propelled cars, controlled by patrons and operated on a banked track. Among the old favourites will be the Flying Scooters, the Magic Carpet, The Seaside Railway, the Merry Go-Round and others to numerous to mention. The opening Free Outdoor attraction, commencing Saturday May 17th will feature Miss Bee Kyle, America's Professional High Diving Champion whose daring stunts are climaxed by a dive from a 110 foot tower into a 5 foot tank of water, that's set afire just before she makes her breath-taking dive. Belmont Park is one hundred percent Canadian-owned enterprise. Its board of directors comprises such leading citizens as Louis M. Lymburner, President; Lt-Col J. Romeo Gauvreau, 1st Vice-President; Hector H. Racine, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. Grace Elliot Trudeau and Mr. Louis St. Arnaud, directors and Maurice A. Lamarre Sec-Treasurer and Business promotion manager. Mr. Billings announces that Mr. Dumont who for years has been associated with the Park has been promoted to the post of office Manager.

"VIRGINIA" IS FEATURE PLAY AT MONKLAND

Once in a long while a picture comes along so completely satisfying that one feels like getting up and cheering. Such a picture arrived yesterday at the Monkland United Theatre. We're referring to Paramount's "Virginia," done in Technicolor, and it is not to be facetious that this reviewer calls it one of the brightest feathers in the cap of the current motion picture season.

Presenting Madeleine Carroll and Fred MacMurray as a starring team for the third time, Paramount has brought them to us in an original story of modern Virginia. It tells of a woman who chooses a life of reality on her plantation, with its genuineness and homespun realities and unselfish consideration for other people's needs, rather than the life of meaningless gaiety she would lead married to a rich, handsome Northerner. The film is alive with powerful drama, and yet, in proper places, it is touched with bright comedy.

Miss Carroll as Charlotte Duntery, the Virginia-born girl who has lived most of her life in the North returning home unaware of the obligations to her Southern heritage, and MacMurray as Stonewall Elliott who awakens in her the slumbering love for the South, are both splendid in their roles. As Norman Williams the rich, gay Northerner, Stirling Hayden, tall and handsome screen newcomer, who forms the third point in the romantic triangle, turns in an extremely impressive performance.

Unusually fine performances are also given by the rest of the brilliant cast. Helen Broderick, adorable Carolyn Lee, Marie Wilson, Tom Rutherford, Paul Hurst and Louise Beavers.

The story concerns the last member of a proud, old Virginia family, Charlotte Duntery, played by Miss Carroll, who returns to her home from up North, where she has spent most of her life, to sell the home and plantation. She has no thought of the great traditions they represent. Northerners have been buying up "places" in the South. Stonewall Elliott, (Fred MacMurray) who lives with his small daughter on the plantation owned by his family for generations, next to Charlotte's place, is opposed to her selling to the Yankees, and offers to help her work the plantation. They fall in love with each other, but complications follow when "Stoney's" estranged wife writes she is returning home from the Riviera. Norman Williams (Sterling Hayden), one of the wealthy, playboy Northerners, almost gets Charlotte on the rebound. But when "Stoney's" wife returns home—in

POWERFUL BRITISH DRAMA AT SNOWDON

A slice of life from South Wales telling of a gripping drama of a derelict mining village, is the theme of "The Proud Valley," a British production, which presents a story packed with emotional incident, including vivid scenes of a tragic mine disaster.

Paul Robeson is the star and his stirring personality and magnificent voice have rarely been used to greater purpose.

Robeson is ideally cast as a huge but simple-minded Negro tramp to whom the local inhabitants give a job in the local mine. He first enters the film as a street-singer looking for work, but his superb voice captures the admiration of the community choir and before long he is leading them in preparation for the Eisteddfod Festival. Then comes a terrific explosion which results in the death of the choir-leader to whom he has become devoted. The climax is highly dramatic.

Simon Lack and Janet Johnson have the romantic leads in this vivid British production.

A new kind of newspaper story, one that hints at the temptations which beset the metropolitan press under the thumb of crooked politics, "Behind The Press," is the other attraction which is being offered by the Snowdon, along with "The Proud Valley." A good cast features Lloyd Nolan, Doris Davenport, Frank Albertson and Robert Armstrong.

The Paramount and Fox News reels and other short subjects are included.

You'll thrill to the magnificent Singing Star in this rugged BRITISH drama!

PAUL ROBESON in 'The PROUD VALLEY'. SONG HITS: "Deep River", "All Through the Night", "Land of My Fathers", "Ebenezer", "Ton-Y-Bole".

DOUBLEHEADER IS PLAYED ON ATWATER PARK DIAMOND; ACES, BEAVERS GAIN WINS

Former Score 13-7 Victory Over Hurricanes in Bantam Tussle, While Beavers Take Midget Fixture 10-3 Margin Over All Stars — Johnny Pierson Hurls Well for Beavers, Tossing Four-Hitter

BY JIMMY MCCORMICK

The Westmount Municipal Baseball League got off to a fine start on Tuesday afternoon with a double-header at Atwater Park. In the opening game, Bantam Aces took a surprise decision over the Hurricanes by a 13-7 score, while in the night-cap the Beavers Midgets defeated the All Stars 10-3.

The Bantam game was cut to five innings in order to finish within the time limit. The Hurricane's hurlers' failure to find the plate proved their undoing as the Aces only managed to collect five hits off pitchers Jack McKissock and Basil Boxer, but eight walks and two errors enabled the Aces to count thirteen runs.

The Aces showed some smart fielding in the first inning of the game, manufacturing a rapid-fire double-play. Fred Jones walked to lead off for the Hurricanes. Roy Howard then smacked a hot grounder down to Bob Berry who came up with it, tossed the ball over to Bob Grant forcing Jones at second. Grant then relayed the ball over to Chippindale at first to complete the double-killing. This seemed to take the heart out of the Hurricanes for they never threatened after this point.

Warren Chippindale with two for two including a double, the only extra base-hit of the game was the batting star for the winners. Hugh Cameron catcher for the Aces showed a fine effort behind the plate.

The Hurricanes appeared fairly strong except for a catcher and a pitcher who can get them over the plate.

The Midget section affair was a real good game, with Johnny Pierson's pitching making the difference between the two teams. Pierson allowed but four hits in the seven innings and used a knee-high pitch to great advantage, whiffing ten men.

Ian Fraser and Pierson got two hits apiece for the winners, one of Fraser's was a double.

Leonard Brooke of the All Stars took the batting honours however, getting to Pierson for three of his team's four hits.

The Beavers jumped into a five run lead in the first inning, on two walks and three singles, adding two runs in the fourth and sixth and a singleton in the fifth. The All Stars picked up one run in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings but could never get a full fledged rally going.

Tennis Courts Are Ready For Play

With the announcement that all the public courts will be open this week, the tennis players will be out in full force. The Western Avenue and King George Park Courts have been open since Monday. Tennis players are reminded once more that adults twenty-one years of age and over are not required to obtain tennis tickets but will be allowed playing privileges on presentation of their National Registration Card. Scholars and students must obtain their tennis tickets at the Greenhouse as in other years.

CYCLONES WIN THREE IN ROW TO GAIN LEAD

Top Pee Wee Softball with Victories Over Bruins, Red Wings and Spitfires

The Cyclones headed by Brian Tiffin and George Taylor have proved the surprise team of the Pee Wee Softball League. The Cyclones have run their win streak up to three straight beating the Bruins 12-6, Red Wings 18-7 and the Spitfires 34-11. Mickey McGlanders hurled two of the wins while Marshall got credit for the other.

In the Bruins game Herbert Lafontaine and Gerald Marshall got three hits apiece to pace the winning Cyclones. John Drury Taylor, rf. ... 2 1 0 0 0

The Red Wings were feeble at the plate against the Cyclones getting but four hits, half of them going to Hennessey, John Gutelius and Dave Bussiere each got three for five in this game, while McGlanders banged out two singles in his four official trips to the plate.

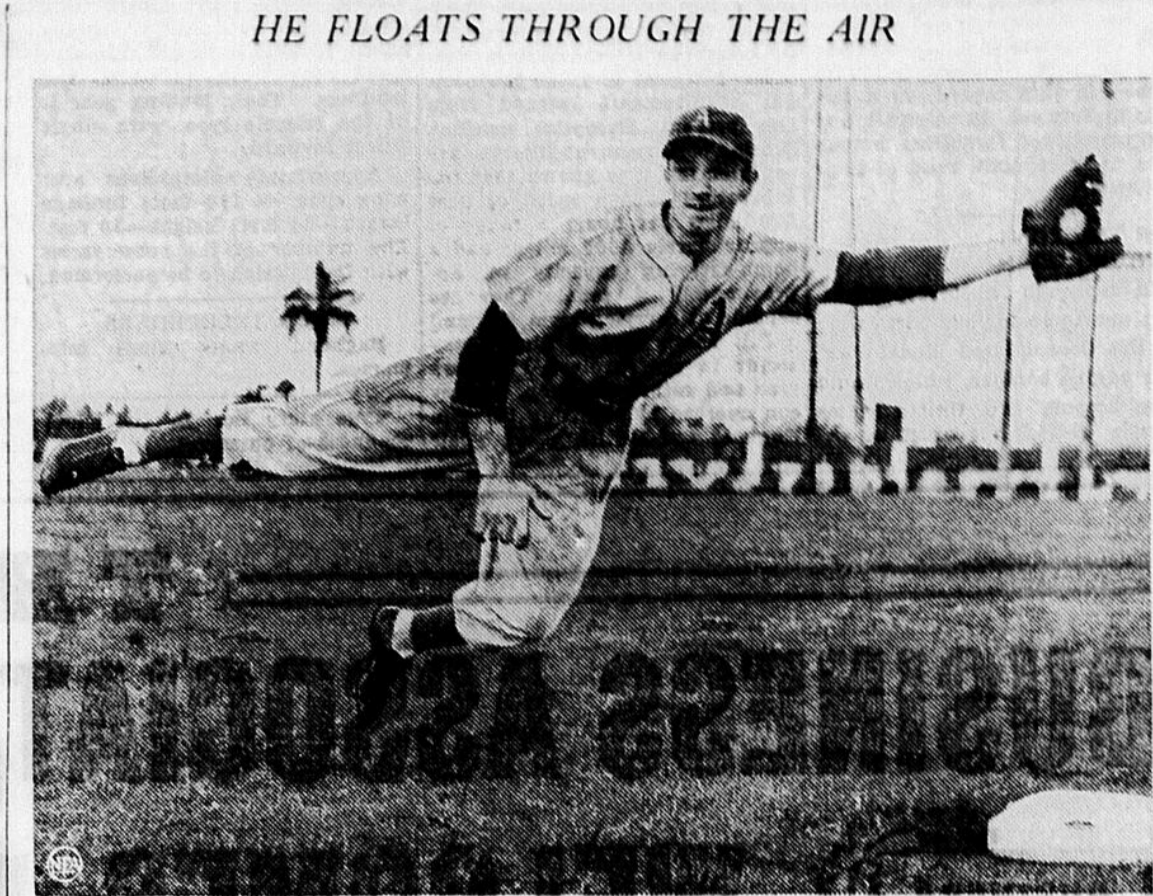

The Spitfire-Cyclones game was a walkaway for the league leaders, the Cyclones hit pitchers Ronnie George and Cam McFadden at will. Gerald Marshall was the big gun for the winners smacking out five hits including a home-run. Brian Tiffin picked up four hits, while John Gutelius, Dave Skinner, and John Waterson each got three.

Ronnie George of the Spitfires had a perfect day at the plate getting three for three. Cam McFadden was a standout defensively for the losers.

The Panthers picked up a win from the Bruins by default and meet the Cyclones in a crucial game this week.

WAR COST War and rearmament cost Japan $1,762,500,000 last year.

Third baseman Pete Suder is an agile young man as any one can see, but Pete's ability to cover the hot corner with the best of them isn't expected to give Connie Mack's Athletics anything better than last place in the American League again this season. The experts are dubbing it the "same old Philadelphia story; A's to finish last again."

ROYALS TO FACE ORIOLES ON WEEK-END

Sukeforth's Hustlers Meet Baltimore Here in I. L. Doubleheader Sunday—Local Club Proving Popular With Fans

Clyde Sukeforth's young and hustling Royals, in second place in the International League as the week started, will play the Baltimore Orioles in a doubleheader at the Stadium in Montreal Sunday.

The first game will start at 2 o'clock. Fans have been highly pleased with the way the Royals have performed in their first several games at home. They have been favorably impressed by such outstanding youngsters as Ed Head and Chet Kehn, right-handed pitchers, and shortstop Claude Corbett.

Herman Franks is another player who has captured the fancy of the fans. Franks has been loaned to the Royals from Brooklyn, and it is possible he may be returned to the major league on short notice. It was only with this understanding that the Royals were able to obtain his services. The same is true in the case of Charley Gilbert.

Franks, at the start of the week, owned a batting average of .360. Two other players, Roy Hughes and Woody Jensen, have been hitting hard and timely. Hughes belonged to Montreal last season but was out almost all season because of a dislocated shoulder.

He has come back in grand style, and is playing the most aggressive type of baseball. His average on Tuesday morning was .343, with nine runs batted in. Jensen, with a .319 average, was leading the club in runs driven in, with ten, and Sunday he had the honor of hitting the first Montreal home run at the Stadium this year.

Chet Kehn is bound to be a popular favorite. This 19-year-old kid has won two victories in games he started and has saved two other games. He has the poise and confidence of a veteran star, despite the fact he has been in professional baseball less than two years. Furthermore, Chet got three hits in his first seven trips to the plate this season, including a smash off the scoreboard at the Stadium Saturday.

In Ed Head, who won the Montreal opener, the Royals seem to have acquired one of the most courageous athletes of all time. Head is the boy who was a south-paw pitcher until his left arm was broken three times. Then he became a right-hander. Now he is one of the fastest pitchers in the league.

Royals play Syracuse Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. and Baltimore's twin bill Sunday starting at 2 p.m. Job Seeds, Ben Sankey, Tom Hafey, Gene Corbett and other favorites are with Tommy Thomas' 1941 club of Orioles.

MUTUAL HEADACHE When Frankie Frisch, Pirate manager, was nearing the end as leader of St. Louis Cards, he called Sam Bredon's home to moan about his pitching. Sam wasn't home so Mrs. Bredon went to the phone. Mrs. B. listened sympathetically to Frankie's moaning and then said: "Frank, I know you've got your troubles but how would you like to be the wife of a club president who has a pitching staff like that?"

Stengel Tells Batters To Relax At Plate

It was about an hour before game time and the Boston Bees were moving back and forth between the bench and the batting cage. As there was a still in the air, those who were not hitting or shagging were sitting on the top of the dugout, in the sun. Henry Majeski was there, studying the grain of the wood in his bat. Casey Stengel came in at the tunnel that leads to the clubhouse and went over to where Majeski was sitting.

"I'm depending on you to hit one for me today, boy," said the manager of the Bees. "You can get that ball a ride. I know, because I've seen you do it. Go out there and show me something."

"I haven't hit a ball good all spring," said the young third baseman. "I can't even get hold of one in batting practice. I'm doing something wrong."

"Maybe you're too tight up there," suggested Stengel. "When you get that bat in your hands, relax. Try walking up there as if you didn't care whether you hit or not, and you'll be loose. You can't snap that bat around quick when your arms are stiff. Don't tighten up until the instant before you wrestle the ball. That's why a wrestler can't quick. His muscles are too tight."

"I can't hit anything good in batting practice either," said Eddie Miller. "There's the toughest bunch of practice pitchers on this club I ever looked at. Some days I can't drive a ball out of the infield. They're all 20-gauge winners when they're throwing into that case. I can't get a loud foul off of that Strincovich. I don't see how they can hit him in a game, but they seem to. Barnicle and his underhand stuff is mean to look at, too. Most of the regular pitchers can throw good batting practice, but they seldom do. Farrell ought to be good, because he can get the ball over."

Brooklyn Seeks Nominal Charge On Free Passes

City Council took cognizance of the Brooklyn Dodgers' 50 cent service charge on passes—a matter of public concern in this big town ever since the baseball season opened.

Councilman John P. Nugent introduced an amendment to the city's administrative code providing that it shall be unlawful to charge more than 25 cents on a pass to an outdoor sports exhibition unless the ticket carries a rain check stub. A penalty of a $1,000 fine or a year in prison, or both, was included.

The bill was referred to the Committee on General Welfare. Both the Yankees and Giants have a 25 cent charge on passes.

SENIOR LOOP TO COMPLETE FINAL PLANS

Softball League Will Meet Tomorrow Night At Westmount Park — 5 Teams Lined Up

The Westmount Municipal Senior Softball League will hold a meeting tomorrow evening at the Recreation Supervisor's office in the Greenhouse back of Victoria Hall.

With five teams definitely lining up for the season play all that has to be settled is the league nights. In other years the loop operated on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, but this year the army drill may cut into the Monday games.

Art Mann's team has finally got itself a name, they will be known as the Dodgers. The Dodgers have two or three exhibition games under their belts and should be ready for the league opener on May 16th. New players lined up with the team are Poe Wee Reid, Edward Reid and Johnnie Chender.

Normie Harris has signed up Cliff McClay to do some hurling for the Swans. McClay is about due for another good year out here. Rollie Loftus has also signified his intentions of playing with the Swans when he has time available.

The Royals still look like the team, mostly veterans but with any kind of pitching they should be hard to beat.

The Air Force are an unknown quantity but a strong team from the "boys in blue" would be just what the league needs.

Two new machines that have been mentioned recently as being highly successful against German night raiders are the Defiant and the Bristol (twin-engine) Beaufighter, and they probably had a lot to do with shooting down the record bag of 16 German machines in one night this week.

Another craft, the Douglas D.B.7, or Douglas Boston, has also been mentioned as suitable for a night fighter, but whether it has already been used in night operations or not this writer does not know. However, it has many qualifications for the job, according to Sir Archibald Sinclair. The first tri-cycle aircraft to go into service with the R.A.F., it has two Pratt and Whitney Twin Wasps of 1,950 h.p. each, giving a speed in the neighbourhood of 350 m.p.h., which is considered good for a light bomber. "In fact," says Flight, "if the advantages accruing from the ease of landing a tri-cycle machine allied with this maximum speed are considered, it appears that the Boston would make a first-class night fighter."

Messerschmitt "110's" have been used by the enemy as night fighters against our new bombers raiding Berlin, Bremen, Hamburg, etc., but so far they have not achieved any striking successes.

OLD BUSH FLYING DAYS ARE PASSING

With the report that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company now has control of Canadian Airways, Yukon Southern, Quebec Airways and Dominion Skyways and is planning to take over three more air lines, another chapter of Canadian aviation history is being written.

The old rough and ready bush flying days and ways will soon be but a memory. The early bush operators, often working on a shoestring capital, were instrumental in opening up hitherto unexplored areas.

Prospectors were flown in (that is, you'll remember, how Gilbert La Bine went to Great Bear Lake where he found the Eldorado silver and radium ores). In the wake of the prospector, when sufficient deposits of minerals were found, came the mine operators and tons of heavy machinery, men and supplies of all kinds, to go by air. When roads and railways took over the traffic, the bush flyers pioneered somewhere beyond "the end of steel" again, or if the population of the new settlements justified it, carried freight, passengers and mail. It was money — and to lose it also, for with inadequate mail contracts, too many airlines operating from the same points, higher gasoline taxes, etc. the bush operators had plenty of grief. They made good in the face of many difficulties, for their radio could not keep in touch with planes as it does today, there were no official weather reports, machines were slower, engines less reliable, and fuels and oils for Arctic flying had not reached the fine pitch of perfection of today's products.

The new set-up will make the Canadian Pacific Railway Company the second largest airline operator in the Dominion. The lines which, it is rumored, may soon come under its control are Mackenzie Air Services, Starratt Airways and Wings Limited.

THE NORWEGIAN FLYERS IN CANADA

After training progressively on Fairchild M-62s, Curtiss P-36s and Douglas attack bombers, at the island airport, Toronto, numbers of the Royal Norwegian Air Force are now in England going "all out" after the Germans on still faster Spitfires and Curtiss P-40's.

And in Canada today there is a Norwegian Air Force in training larger than the one that tried to fight off the German sky raiders during their country's invasion. Part of it, the Royal Norwegian Naval Air Force, has been flying Northrop patrol bombers during the winter months at Jericho Beach, Vancouver.

Many of the Norwegian boys arrived in the Dominion only after long and arduous journeys in fishing craft, whalers and so on, coming through mine fields and under the noses of U-boats and the German air patrols. Their camp, "Little Norway," is a cheerful place, with frame buildings painted white, trimmed with red. Crisp curtains hang at the windows, and inside the huts winter scenes of blue and white hang upon the walls of their dining rooms, while in the officers' mess, over the door that opens upon the lake, hangs the Coat of Arms of Norway, with its braids of gold and its background of velvet.

The Norwegians themselves finance this training program, with the income from Norway's mercantile fleet, which the Germans couldn't seize, and which is still sailing the seas under British charter.

FIRE FIGHTING SCHOOL AT TRENTON

A news dispatch from the R.C.A.F. says that "Smoke-eaters" of civil life, wearing a lighter shade of blue in acknowledgement of their war effort, are being accorded due recognition in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Flying Officer W. A. McCallum, former instructor to the Toronto Fire Department, has been placed in charge of the training at Trenton.

The "fire department" of the R.C.A.F. operates on the "ounce of prevention" theory, and as a result is striving continually to eliminate all possible sources of fires. Every unit in the gigantic air training plan has its specialized fire section, manned by personnel recruited from experienced city fire fighters, highly trained for any emergency, and particularly prepared for combatting gasoline fires. Nothing is left to chance in this regard, as a terrific investment in aircraft and equipment, not forgetting human lives, is in constant need of their vigilance.

HAS TRICYCLE LANDING GEAR

In reply to a correspondent, here are some further particulars on the Consolidated Model "32," four engine bomber, which would have become the United States Army's "B-24," but which on being handed over to Britain was renamed the Liberator.

These large bombers are similar to the Consolidated prototype Model "32," first flown late in 1939, which marked Consolidated's return to the landplane field. These planes have incorporated in them the latest military features designed to meet the combat requirements learned from the present European conflict. While performance figures are confidential, it is known that the Liberators have a speed of over 300 miles per hour; a range of approximately 3000 miles; and a bomb-carrying capacity of approximately 4 tons. They are capable of carrying from England a full bomb load to almost any sector in the involved European area and return non-stop, or they can operate by shuttling between England and British bases. Their speed, and defense and attack armament give them adequate protection from all angles. The planes are full cantilever, 4-engine, all-metal, high-wing monoplane, with high aspect ratio wings and retractable landing gear. Fowler flaps aid this high speed aircraft in take-offs and landings. Their landing gear is of the tricycle type, with single wheel forward.

Approximate dimensions are: wing span — 110 feet; fuselage length—64 feet; height—19 feet. The number of the crew varies with the mission to be performed.

Australian RAF To Enroll Women

The Australian Air Ministry announced recently that a women's auxiliary corps for the Royal Australian Air Force is to be formed, the British Broadcasting Corporation said in its news summary.

Women between 18 and 40 years will be enrolled and used as wireless and teleprinter operators and for administrative, code and domestic duties.

MAY MAKE SCARFS

India is considering a plan of manufacturing nearly 12,000 Indian silk scarfs for shipment to Palestine each year.

Florida Short For Vegetables

Fresh garden vegetables, grown in Florida's rich everglades region, may now take a short cut to northern markets. With the completion at long last of Florida's "miracle highway," which has been officially under construction for 10 years, the steamship facilities of Miami and Port Everglades are now easily available to the Lake Okeechobee region and tourists will find a new highway upon which to roll across the State and around the largest fresh water lake in any one State.

The road includes 54.4 miles of construction made at a cost of $1,519,416. Over this new stretch Miami is brought to within 82 miles of South Bay, in the midst of the great winter vegetable growing region. In addition to the short cut for tourists, vegetable shippers will profit greatly by the route and its short cut to the outlet steamship lines by which commodities may be shipped more reasonably to northern centers.

THE BUSINESS ASSOCIATION of WESTMOUNT WELCOMES NEWCOMERS TO THE CITY

During the past week, several hundreds of families have taken up their residence here in Westmount; to these newcomers, the members of the Business Association listed in this advertisement, extend cordial greetings.

These new residents will find Westmount the ideal place in which to live. As a residential city, Westmount is without equal anywhere in eastern Canada. Spacious parks and playgrounds, a well-stocked library, railway facilities, transportation to and from all parts of the island, efficient police and fire forces, are just a few of the features that make this locality desirable. But perhaps the fact that will appeal most forcibly to newcomers is this: — every conceivable commodity needed for the maintenance of the home — and, yes, a business too — can be purchased right here in Westmount. Local business dealers can supply practically every needed article at prices that compare favourably with those quoted elsewhere. Courtesy, service and quality merchandise are highlights of your local merchants' policy.

The Business Association of Westmount represents a sincere effort on the part of local business men and women to be worthy of increased patronage from Westmount residents. The Association is a non-profit group, operated solely for the benefit of the community in general, and to promote better business conditions within the limits of the City of Westmount. Newcomers, as well as established residents, will find that it pays to "Shop in Westmount First."
