Mayor J. S. Cameron Reports On City's Achievements During Past Year

Police Officer, Cab Driver Nab Would-Be Thief

Cheque And Gift Follow Capture

A taxi driver and a Westmount Police lieutenant teamed up this week to capture one of two burglary suspects, and seize a car with $1,000 in loot at Greene and Western avenues.

The taxi driver was presented a cheque this week by the Westmount Police Force for his efforts in capturing the burglar and was also presented with a gift by Doug Mitchell, proprietor of Mitchell Electric Appliances.

As a result of the capture, Joseph Beausejour of no fixed address, was charged before Municipal Judge A. E. Laverty, with being in possession of burglar tools and was remanded.

Beausejour refused to identify the man who was with him and who disappeared down a lane off Greene avenue.

The team that captured Beausejour was Michael Marzic, 29, of 5961 d'Aragon street, and Lt. Roy Williams. Marzic spotted two men acting suspiciously outside Mitchell Electric Appliances, 1216 Greene avenue, and notified Lt. Williams, whom he had seen in a prowler car nearby.

They converged on the store as the burglar alarm was ringing and Marzic drove his taxi into the sidewalk to bar Beausejour's path. Lt. Williams joined him a few seconds later and took Beausejour prisoner, but another man escaped.

The two windows of the Mitchell store had been smashed and a pair of small radios taken, but police say the rest of the goods found in the car—with six exceptions—had been gathered elsewhere. The exceptions were half a dozen watches, which later proved to have been stolen from a window shattered earlier at a jewelry shop operated by N. Ohman, 1216 Greene avenue.

Watch-Night Service To Be Presented New Year's

Westmount Baptist Congregation will hold their Annual Watch-Night Service on New Year's Eve. A program of pictures, singing and sketches will be presented by the Young People at 9.15 p.m. At 10 p.m. refreshments will be served to all present. A play entitled "Vision Through A Window" will be staged by a cast of young men and women. The "Watch-Night Service" will begin under the direction of Dr. J. A. Johnston. These gatherings are open to people of all denominations or of no denomination.

Michael Marzic third from the right grins happily as he receives gifts from Chief Robert Byford and Doug Mitchell for his help in capturing a would-be burglar. Marzic teamed up with Lt. Roy Williams to capture Joseph Beausejour who was attempting to enter Mitchell

Progress Seen In '52 'Review' Of Westmount

A year of considerable achievement was shown in a New Years' report to the Examiner from Mayor J. S. Cameron, who concludes his last year in office as chief magistrate.

He expressed his gratitude to the citizens of Westmount for their support and co-operation during 1952 and extends to all residents "best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year."

Mayor Cameron outlined the main projects of the past 12 months. Included in these were: the replacement of Wood avenue steps between Holton avenue and Delavigne road; moving poles and hydrants from the gutter to the back of the sidewalk on St. Catherine Street; a start in the erection of a new incinerator building and new equipment for garbage disposal.

Also a main point on this year's program was the completion of alterations on both the police and fire stations, including a new roadway and driveway to the buildings.

New dressing rooms were built in Victoria Hall, ski-facilities were improved on Summit Park, new trees were planted on Sherbrooke street, Street lights on St. Catherine street were modernized, and Western avenue was resurfaced with an armoured coat.

Traffic Changes Made

Concerning traffic, Mayor Cameron pointed out that an amendment to the traffic by-law was made imposing parking restrictions on several main streets and an increase of fines was put into effect for traffic offences.

The City of Westmount purchased mechanical office equipment this year, in what is the first stage in a move to mechanize the City's bookkeeping system. The equipment purchased during 1952 has already mechanized the tax bills department.

Also purchased by the City is a Junior Sicard Snowblower, a sidewalk tractor and plow, a highway patrol grader, four street orderlies (rubbage carts), mechanical road sweeper, seven power driven Rotar brooms and seven trucks for snow removal.

Real Estate Sales In Westmount Remain High

Despite an overall decrease in real estate sales for suburban municipalities during the first eight months of this year, Westmount sales remained comparatively high, a report from the Montreal Real Estate Board shows.

The first eight months of 1952 show Westmount had a $7,312,415 turnover in 308 sales. During the month of October, the last month tabulated, the City had 36 sales, totalling $793,497.

Charles Benedict's Poems To Be Featured

Westmounter's Work Will Run In Examiner

Starting with this New Year's issue, The Examiner will run a poem weekly from the book of poems written by the late Charles Benedict entitled "Westmount in Song and Story". Mr. Benedict, who resided on Arlington avenue, was for many years a well-known bank manager here.

PREFACE

FOREST - Farm - Orchard - Village - Town - City, these are the steps that in less than one hundred years have brought Westmount to its present pitch of perfection, and the end is not yet. For the first sixty years of this period, progress was slow, even in 1888, sixty-five years ago, the street cars stopped at Atwater avenue, and the toll-gate at Greene avenue was a sort of Ultima Thule, beyond which lay farms and orchards, and a few scattered houses. Then Time evolved the village of Cote St. Antoine, commemorated today in the Cote St. Antoine Road, originally an Indian trail. Later on when the village had grown to be a

Winter Comes To Westmount

*The North-West winds sweep over Westmount Park
In blasts that fling the flakes of whirling snow
Straight in our faces, while the trees stand stark,
Their topmost branches swaying to and fro.
The park lamps, shining with a frosty glow,
Direct us to the path amidst the trees,
Across the rustic bridge. Beyond we know
A welcome waits us, sheltered from the breeze,
In Westmount's Library, where we can take our ease.*

*Then, if we are not studiously inclined,
The greenhouses provide a place to rest,
'Midst palms, ferns, tinkling fountains, we will find
In all the colours of the rainbow dress'd
Rare specimens of plants to interest
And charm the eye, from tropic forests brought.

town, it changed its name to Westmount, and now as the City of Westmount, it stands as a model to Montreal and all surrounding districts, as an ideal realized by one happy community and as a standard of what a municipality can achieve by disinterested devotion on the part of its citizens to the common weal.

It has been said "happy is the country that has no history" for History is made up of the crimes and blunders of previous generations. Westmount has pursued the even tenor of its way ever striving to improve itself during the last sixty-five years, and attracting to itself in increasing numbers the

NDG, Town Of Mount Royal Lead In "Real Estate Race"

Despite an overall drop in real estate sales on the island and in the suburban districts the district of Notre Dame de Grace maintained its consistent big turnover during the month of October and the first eight months of year.

Figures released by the Montreal Real Estate Board show NDG sales at the 141 figure for a total of $2,368,060.

The figure is more significant when it is considered that the monthly sales on the island dropped from 1951's figure of $16,971,761 to this month's $15,385,905.

The Mount Royal ward, always another big ward, continued to remain in the top two positions by recording a $1,968,194 figure in 61 sales.

In the 10-month period from January to October, however, NDG ceded its first place to Mount Royal.

Mount Royal recorded a $26,897,657 total in 590 sales as compared to Notre Dame de Grace's 1,276 sales for a total of $21,368,482.

Decline In 1952
 Overall sales in 1952 also showed a decline over the same period last year.

Total sales from January to October were listed at 10,349 as compared to last year's 12,957 and the cash turnover was $148,562,862 as compared to $173,964,049.

In the suburban field Town of Mount Royal and the Town of St. Laurent held top spots during October.

Mount Royal negotiated 56 transactions for a value of $1,160,766 as compared to St. Laurent's $1,147,566 in 105 sales.

Cote St. Luc had 10 sales for a value of $191,276, Hampstead showed a turnover of 13 sales for $295,631 and Westmount reported 36 sales for a value of $793,497.

October suburban sales also were down in the year.

Figures for 1951 showed a turnover of $9,535,685 in 961 sales as compared to this year's sales of 745 units for a value of $8,149,925.

Town of Mount Royal, with a turnover of $8,906,143 topped Town of St. Laurent by less than $100,000 in the ten-month period.

Mount Royal tabulated $8,906,143 in 433 sales and St. Laurent showed 6-2 sales for a value of $8,905,665.

Westmount showed a $7,312,415 turnover in 308 sales during the same period and the Parish of St. Laurent had a better than $3,000,000 turnover.

Rough Road Ahead Seen For Welfare Agencies In City

As 1952 draws to a close, Welfare Federation of Montreal prepares for its 32nd calendar year of existence.

C. H. Young, executive director of Welfare Federation, points out that many developments for the better have taken place in the welfare picture in Montreal since the days when a group of agencies banded together in 1922 under the name "Federated Charities", with Huntly R. Drummond as its first chairman of the board of directors. Its second chairman was Sir Edward Beatty. Latest in the series of 18 chairmen of the board are H. P. Thornhill, immediate past chairman and D. A. Hanson, present chairman.

Mr. Young said that the rapid growth of the city and the consequent compounding of welfare problems, has outstripped the growth of welfare resources. "Certainly the cost of welfare work has risen beyond the increase in annual contributions to the organization", the executive director said. He said Welfare Federation now has well over a score of agencies with more than three score service units financed largely by the annual campaigns of Red Feather.

"The general trend in social welfare is for the state to take over clearly defined categories of assistance such as relief for needy mothers, for the blind, for the aged and similar categories, freeing the privately contributed welfare dollar for constructive and preventive work in the fields of family welfare, child care, health and recreation.

"But in Montreal the picture is complicated by the fact that the city has no direct-relief programme and leaves such matters to welfare federations and other non-governmental charitable organizations. This means a double load for the federations. In the case of the Red Feather services the double load is further increased by the fact that many cases not falling under Catholic or Jewish categories are classed as non-sectarian and hence are cared for by Welfare Federation in addition to its other load of non-denominational work in many areas," said Mr. Young.

Punchy Still Missing From Holiday Lark

An Elm avenue resident always stays away from home when there is cause to celebrate. This being The Christmas-New Year's season, he's been away on a three-week lark and checking police records in an attempt to locate him has been futile.

But although "Punchy", as our wire-haired friend is called, will spend the rest of his days in the doghouse when he's found, at least he doesn't have a wife to explain things to.

For fortunately, Punchy is a black and white terrier who is fond of strolling away on the odd moment when he's off the leash. His excuse: "We'll he's only a year and a half, and transportation being so bad, he always finds it difficult to find his way home."

Take Thanksgiving Day for instance, Punchy wandered away from his 380 Elm avenue home and was located hours later struggling through Verdun traffic.

Although he won't have to talk "fast" to a wife, Punchy will have to prepare some answers for his guardian, eight-year-old Lynette Sergeant who is very upset about his absence.

Thief Loses His "Grip"

A butter-fingered thief who let a television set slip from his fingers while burglarizing the Edwards Electrical company, 5362 Sherbrooke street, west, received the scare of his life by his clumsiness.

The thief, who was in the process of carting the TV set down a short flight of stairs, got excited and allowed the set to slip from his grasp.

It bounded down the stairs, crashed through the store front window, landing on the street outside. When this happened there was a loud bang, somewhat like a miniature block-buster bomb going off. The thief fled, as a resident, who lives above the store, ran down stairs to investigate. He discovered the vacuum tube in the TV set had exploded when it struck the street.

The U.S. produces more than $1,000,000,000 worth of pig iron annually, a greater value than any other single manufactured product.

Early American Indians used 144 drugs for specific conditions and 59 of these are included in modern pharmacopoeia.

 To most people dust is something to get rid of as quickly as possible. But one large industrial concern carefully saves all its dust and makes $11,000 a year by doing so.
 Because 14-karat gold is used extensively in the Sheaffer Pen Company plant at Malton, Ontario — for pen points, trim, and solid gold pen and pencil sets — an elaborate housecleaning set-up has been devised to recover gold filings that disappear during grinding and polishing.
 All dust from the daily vacuumings of floors, carpets, walls and machines is carefully collected and placed in a special furnace to burn off the dust and salvage the gold. As much as $60 worth of gold has been recovered from one pound of dirt.

A Prosperous New Year!

Canada Is Fortunate, But That Wish Is Hollow Irony To Millions

We wish all our readers a happy and prosperous New Year. Being residents of Canada, we can extend that with a reasonable expectation that it will be fulfilled. In most countries of the world today, for the majority of its citizens, such a wish has the hollow ring of irony. The best they can look forward to is something a little better than their present lot. But for Canadians, fortunate of the fortunate, the prospect, barring war, is for an ever extending base of prosperity as our great natural resources are developed. It is inevitable that we shall have some difficulties, some dislocations, some growing pains, as our future unfolds itself; but the most pessimistic long-term appraisal of our prospects can discover little but pleasant vistas.

In reflecting our good fortune, however, we should remember that it is the chances of fate and the fortunes of war that have placed us where we are and given us what we have while denying these advantages to others. The Lord has been good to us. Let us be thankful.

Action Needed

Making British Pound Convertible Immediately a Solution

Reports from Commonwealth Conference in London tell the same old story—that the "proper" conditions must be created before the pound can be made convertible; that such action is a "long-term objective," which must be approached "gradually."

This is rather like an alcoholic announcing that he wants to quit drinking; but cannot do so till conditions are exactly right. Alcoholics are not cured in this way, and neither are currencies.

There is only one way a man can quit drinking, and that is to quit immediately. There is only one way the pound can be made convertible, and that is to make it convertible immediately.

The New — Accepted

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
Trinity Memorial Church

When God says — "Behold, I make all things new," — we might think that that is the end of the matter, but that is far from the truth. There are two sides to a transaction. When the two parties are equal either may initiate the transaction. When they are very unequal — as in the case of God and man — the initiative lies with the Greater. In short, it is God who acts and gives; it is man who receives. But he is still free to reject, and he is even free to accept and do nothing further. But, in any case, God's giving is not completed till man does something about it.

That is the position in which we find ourselves this New Year's Eve. God has acted, He has come out of the shadows and has come forward into the centre of the stage. He always has been the chief Actor, but now He has made Himself known. The question is whether the other actors recognize the facts, or whether they will go on as though God had never spoken at all.

So when we think of God as coming in Human Nature and changing the course of history we need to think also how we are responding to what He has done. Most of us make some resolutions for New Year's Day. We realize that we have not done too well in the past year and we know that in part it is our own fault; and very often we know just what the fault is. So we say we will do better. Sometimes the lesson of Christmas has gone home and we make our resolutions seriously and carry them out. Literally we turn over a new leaf and make a fair copy of it; but, too often the resolution is only a joke — and a very poor one at that — and the copy is blotted before the leaf is well turned.

The toper will make his resolutions to sobriety between drinks and hiccough over them; the crook will make his between two shady deals and think how clever he has been. And all the while power to lead a new life lies at their hand if they would only exercise their wills and take hold of it.

Reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle.

—Washington.

Calvary United

The church is planning a special series of Sunday evening sermons for the month of January.

The minister, the Rev. Walter J. Spence, B.A., will give this series of dramatic sermons on "Old Books Live Again." The first in this series will be given on next Sunday evening, Jan. 4 at 7.30 p.m. The title is "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" by Jerome K. Jerone.

At the morning service at 11 a.m. the New Year Communion will be held. During the first week of January all the regular week-day activities will commence in full force, for the work of the season.

Christian Science

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 4th.

This Lesson-Sermon reaffirms that God is omnipotent Love, the source of all good and the only source of good; from which it follows that a man's health, happiness and usefulness will be in proportion to his intelligent reliance upon God's unfailing provision.

The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth, for I am God, and there is none else."

Bible citations include the following from John: "O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me."

Correlative passages from the denominational text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "If we wish to follow Christ, Truth, it must be in the way of God's appointing. Jesus said, 'He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also.' He, who would reach the source and find the divine remedy for every ill, must not try to climb the hill of Science by some other road. All nature teaches God's love to man, but man cannot love God supremely and set his whole affections on spiritual things, while loving the material or trusting in it more than in the spiritual."

What we have in us of the image of God is the love of truth and justice.—Demosthenes.

*Are Counselors
Competent To Help
Mend Marriages?*

The marriage counselor service has its share of quacks and flagrant phonies. But there are many counselors who are well qualified to help. Even they can't solve your problems for you, but they can show you how to solve them yourself.

An article in the January issue of Cosmopolitan magazine which discusses the value of seeking advice from a marriage counselor, says there are an amazing number of false notions about marriage counseling. The most common of these, the author states, is the idea that a marriage counselor will tell you what to do. He won't — if he's good. This actually infuriates some people who want him to blame or condone their actions, take sides, or issue a directive. Occasionally they insist on a moral judgment, and he refers them to a clergyman.

A marriage counselor, he explains, helps you to stand back from the situation and take a good look. With your efforts, he helps you make an adjustment. He never makes it for you. A good marriage counselor will not, as some people fear, try to make your marriage conform to his or to society's idea of a proper marriage.

The most important step is to select a reliable counselor. The article recommends that you obtain this information from people of good standing in your community — lawyers, doctors and professors or contact the Family Welfare. Most dependable counselors will have some ties with a recognized organization or institution. Beware of exorbitant fees and a series of "courses" on marriage. After you have selected a reliable counselor and explained your problem, you can count on his encouragement and understanding. He may give you reading material or other information. The aim is to help you understand yourself, how you got into the situation and what alternatives there are for solving it.

INCENTIVE MANAGEMENT, by James F. Lincoln. Publishers, The Lincoln Electric Company, Cleveland, 17, Ohio.

Here is an answer by a great American to the world's unrest. A philosophy of human relations in business and industry that has already started the Second Industrial Revolution.

Here is an answer by a great American to the world's unrest. A philosophy of human relations in business and industry that has already started the Second Industrial Revolution.

One of the favorite sayings of the author is The Actual Is Limited—The Possible Is Immense.

This important volume discusses an age-old problem and approaches it with obvious facts. Their application to industry, however, is believed to be new. At least, there has been no application of incentive management as herein outlined in any industry known to this reviewer.

The author—a modern Lincoln—has been the executive head of a manufacturing company for the last thirty-eight years. The company has grown from bankruptcy to the leader in its field during his term as president. The discussion is not theoretical but is based on the actual records of a going concern.

Mr. Lincoln finds it hard to understand why companies having labor troubles have not adopted incentive management, and wonders how long it will be before the world will have the benefit of such natural and obvious co-operation in industry.

The author claims that through this philosophy workers and managers in business and industry can develop themselves as skilful individuals and work together cooperatively to the benefit of everyone rather than at cross-purposes to everyone's disadvantage.

Some of the chapters are: The New Age In Industry, It Is Industry's Responsibility To Eliminate Jobs, There Is No Limit To The Possible Standard of Living, Piece-work In Industry, How To Instal The Incentive System, Why Incentive Systems Fail, Security,

How Big Is Too Big? The Place of The Union, How To Finance The Company.

The Lincoln Electric manufactures arc welding equipment and arc welding electrodes and is in competition with the largest electrical manufacturers in the United States. Abroad, they are in competition with the largest electrical manufacturers in all foreign countries. It sells more than half of all arc welding machines used in the United States and as an average nearly half of all arc welding electrodes.

Lengthy and impressive charts and supporting data are given to show these relative results of Lincoln Electric Company's operations under incentive management compared to that of other industry, "which is now struggling under government-sponsored, individual civil war, known as 'collective bargaining'."

Cheers For Santa At Optimist Ladies Auxiliary Party

The Women's Auxiliary of the Optimist Club of Montreal entertained more than 100 boys at a Christmas party in the Pt. St. Charles clubhouse, corner Grand Trunk avenue and Shearer street. Here Santa's presence brings shouts of glee from young admirers.

Gifts, Movies, Feature Party Held By Auxiliary For 100 Boys

Point St. Charles Club house was a gay scene of excitement and happy laughter when more than 100 boys were guests of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Optimist Club of Montreal at a Christmas party. Optimist Club members helped Santa distribute gifts to Junior Optimists, who are all residents of the district. Then the Boys' Work chairman, Mrs. Hugh A. Croche-tiere, and her committee served refreshments to the high-spirited youngsters.

This was followed by movies, a sing-song and a skit put on by the Junior Optimist boys. A highlight of the party was the exhibition of handicraft articles made by members of the boy's club. On display was woodwork of all sizes and shapes, stuffed toys, paintings, all kinds of carved objects, from shelves to totem poles, and other articles with a distinctly Indian influence. What couldn't be displayed was shown in photographs in bulletin displays.

Victory Lodge 254 Elects Officers: Reports On Year

The annual meeting of Victory Lodge 254, Ladies Orange Benevolent Association, was held on December 22 in Rialto Hall. Following the reading of reports showing splendid progress during 1952, M. W. Sister Ethel Erskine, Grand Mistress of British America, conducted election and installation of officers. All officers were re-elected as follows:

Sheila Campbell, Worthy Mistress; Matilda Adams, Deputy Mistress; Elizabeth Adams, Recording Secretary; Mary Walker, Financial Secretary; Janet Govan, Treasurer; Nellie Chisamore, Chaplain; Cecilia Clarke, Junior Deputy Mistress; Edith Wake, Director of Ceremonies.

M. W. Sister Ethel Erskine conveyed season's greetings from Grand Lodge. Other visitors were R. W. Sister Winnifred Roberts, R. W. Sister Elvina Stevens, F. W. Sister Frances Burness, R. W. Sister Sadie Hannam, R. W. Sister Catherine Ryder and R. W. Sister Lucy Lundy.

Following the meeting refreshments were served and the ticket was drawn on a beautifully clothed doll donated by Sister Matilda Adams and hand clothed by Sister Edith Wake. The winner was Lois Bidewell of Christophe Colombe Street.

Needs Time To Solve His Little Problems

When Junior first tries to master the art of tying shoelaces and buttoning buttons, it's a good idea to show him how and then leave him to work out the problem for himself. He'll never learn to show initiative and resourcefulness if someone continually takes over each time he strikes a snag. It does more for his independence and personal pride to let him discover how to do simple things.

Lecture To Help Adults Understand Teenage Problems

"The Adolescent and His Family" is the topic of the talk being given by Dr. John Moore, School of Social Work, McGill University, on Tuesday, January 6, at 8:45 p.m. in the Social Hall of Youth House.

This will be the first in a series of lectures sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the B'nai Brith Youth Organization, and entitled "You and Your Teenager." In this series, parents of girls and boys of high school age will have an opportunity to add up their experiences and perhaps see the problems of the new generation (and their own) in a different

President's Greeting Urges Living Up To N.C.W. Motto

In her New Year's Greetings to the women of Canada, Mrs. A. Turner Bone, President of the National Council of Women of Canada reminds recipients that "True happiness is that elusive state of mind which is attained by carrying out the Golden Rule — do unto others as ye would be done by — which is the Council's motto. "Have we all attained?" she queries.

"Service projects, chosen for the Council work this year," she continues, "have within them through 'doing unto others' the germs of happiness for all.

"In your own community, have you surveyed the services for children? Are they adequate?"

"And for New Canadians, have you truly made a friend of any single one? Invited her to your home? Introduced her to a church?"

"Regarding the problems facing older workers — both men and women. Have you done anything about acquainting business concerns of the necessity of overcoming these problems? Have you surveyed the services for elderly people in your city? Are they meeting the needs?"

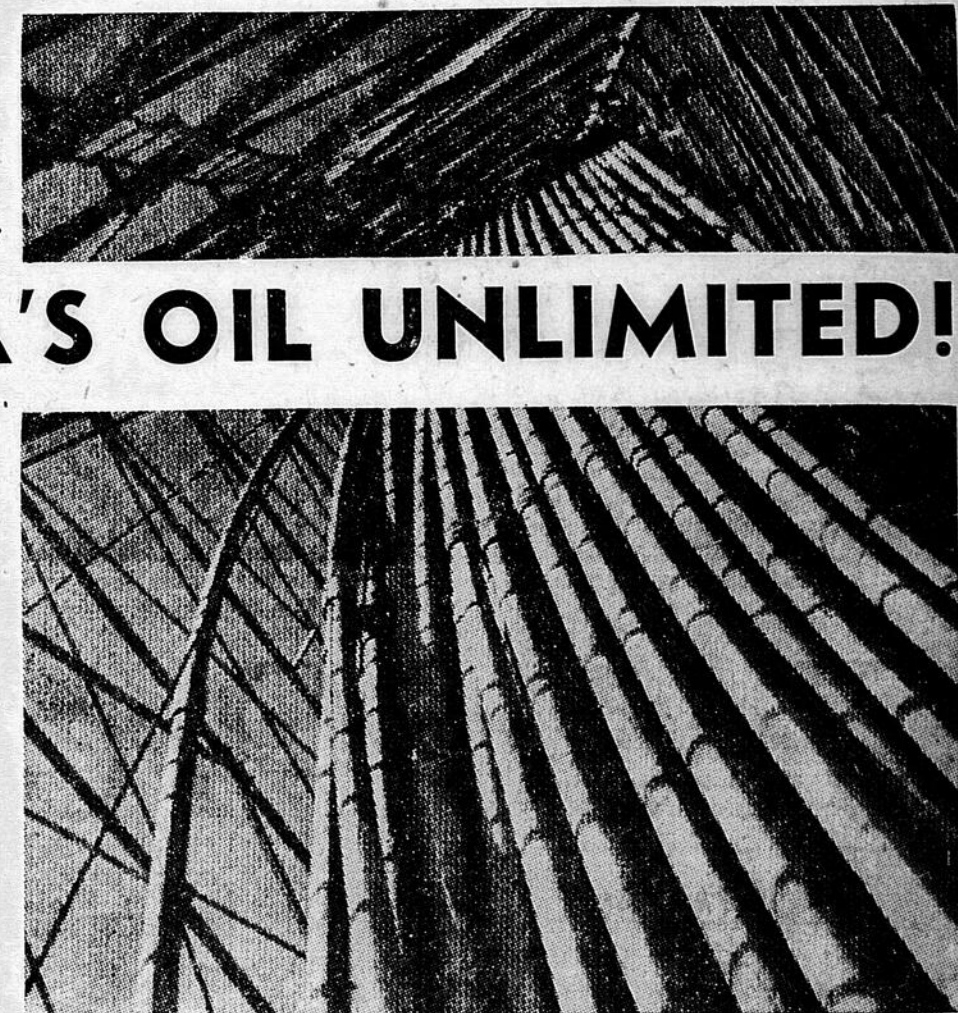

"Answer these questions in the affirmative and happiness in good measure will be yours. Service to your fellow man brings happiness. I wish you all a Happy New Year."

CANADA'S OIL UNLIMITED!

by Matthew Halton

The gripping, sensational story of oil discovery and development in Western Canada. Told by Matthew Halton who, while taking a sabbatical leave from his duties in London, returned for a look at his native land, and particularly his native province, Alberta. He found great things afoot in all the provinces he visited, but none more arresting in their import than the developments following the discovery of oil in Alberta. What it means, and could mean, as seen through the eyes of an expatriate Canadian, is vividly revealed in Halton's dramatic style, long familiar to Star Weekly readers.

The whole Canadian plain is built on sedimentary rock which is potentially oil-rich. That is why geologists believe it has almost no limit. Above, drill tubing in a derrick.

Let's Eat By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

"I take off my high bonnet to the clever woman who gave the name 'à la mode' to apple pie topped with ice cream!" exclaimed the chef. "This name is what you call a natural. It means in the latest fashion; and everybody likes to be in style."

"At first, chef, only apple pie was served à la mode. Then ice cream was tried on mince, raspgreat luxury at the turn of the century.

BEST IN 1952. Rotogravure cameramen have sent in their

the continent, to the Isthmus of Panama with a digression to the de luxe yachting at Newport.

NATURE'S WONDERS. These, notably, are two Alpine

PIONEER THRILLS. Among those depicted are the hunting of buffalo, lassoing grizzlies, and voyageurs forcing a big freight canoe up foaming rapids.

THE QUEEN'S POTTERY. A Somerset woman, adding her effort to Britain's feverish preparations for the big event,

ART REPRODUCTIONS. These are color prints of notable

Decoratively Speaking

While The Cold Wind Blows
By Frances James

Now that the snow is flying thick and fast it's hard to recall those sweltering hot days of the past summer. Then we craved a breath of cool air and a refreshing breeze. Then too, we tried to simplify our homes to give them a spacious, airy, cool appearance. Some homemakers remove half the pictures in the living room, roll up rugs and put away extra cushions and ornaments during hot weather.

When it is cold and stormy outside we want a warm, cosy atmosphere to come home to. More pictures, more ornaments, thick warm carpets and bright cheery colours and designs all help. Heavy draperies in warm colours give a cosy warmth to a room and will more completely cut out the snowy winter scene. If your decorating budget will stretch to a second set of slip covers, they too can give a warmth for winter use while your present set perhaps are simple, light and cool for summer seasons.

With all the changes from summer to winter, it is important to have the right background. We have discovered that a rich textured wallpaper is one of the best backgrounds. In the summer when the rooms are stripped of all non-essentials, the walls will not appear to be bare if the background has a rich texture with soft, lilted high-lights. With a wallpaper as background in your living room, all pictures can be removed and due to the interest in the texture the room will not look bare. With a plain wall it is always necessary to use some pictures and have more interest in accents.

Textured wallpapers can add that much needed touch of warmth to your winter decor. A textured paper gives a lived in, homey, warmth and vitality. As a background for pictures a textured wallpaper is ideal. A hard glare from a plain wall will detract from that prized picture. Have you ever noticed the walls in our Canadian art galleries? They are a rough textured finish which seems best as background for treasured works of art.

If you are contemplating some decorative changes this spring consider the advisability of a textured wallpaper as background for your family living room. It will highlight your simple summer arrangement and enhance the warmth of your winter furnishings.

O. Henry Stories To Be Shown At Westmount

"O. Henry's Full House" commences Sunday at the Westmount Theatre. It is the Twentieth Century-Fox compilation of a handful of the most famous stories of America's master of the short story.

Included in "O. Henry's Full House" are "The Gift of the Magi," the haunting tale of a newlywed couple who gave up their prized possessions to be able to buy one another Christmas presents, in which Jeanne Crain and Farley Granger, costar in a sequence directed by Henry King from a screen play by Walter Bullock, and "The Ransom of Red Chief," describing in hilarious fashion the adventures of a pair of slick New York confidence men who make the mistake of kidnapping a Southern farm boy. Fred Allen, making a rare screen appearance, and Oscar Levant, in an unusual non-musical appearance, combine sardonic forces for this witty comedy interlude with a typically ironic O. Henry twist at the end. Howard Hawks directed.

Added Attraction

"When I Grow Up," starring Bobby Driscoll, Martha Scott, Robert Preston and Charley Grapewin, in a heart-warming story of family life as seen through the eyes of a growing American boy, is the second feature on the Westmount bill.

"Mother Goose" Ends Run On Saturday

Saturday is the last day residents will have an opportunity of seeing a splendid pantomime production of "Mother Goose," which opened Dec. 26 at Her Majesty's Theatre. Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, it is a show well worth seeing.

"Mother Goose" is played by Eric Christmas, and, following tradition, the role of Colin, the principal boy is filled by a girl who not only looks attractive, but sings well. She is Olga Romanik, who played singing leads in the famous "Theatre Under the Stars" in Vancouver. Her dark European beauty and warm soprano voice are assuredly winning her quick popularity, and the several musical numbers which she renders add much to the show.

Equally as attractive is Doris Swan, a pretty blonde of vivacious personality, who has starred in many musical comedies during the past two summers. She plays the part of Jill, and her young soprano voice is heard in several numbers. Ben Lennick has established a reputation as the Demon Discorde, and no character in the pantomime is hated more by the young folk, not even the hard-hearted squire, whose threat to turn Mother Goose out of her cottage brought about the appearance of Fairy Goodheart and the wonderful golden eggs which Priscilla the Goose lays.

John Madison, leading British actor and stage director, who directed the staging of the fabulous Grandstand show at the Canadian National Exhibition this year, plays the part of the Squire. Jack Northmore, who has played comedy roles in many musicals, also makes a big contribution to the show, in which many beloved characters in fairyland and nursery rhyme appear.

The ballet and chorus is something special for a pantomime, with Betty Oliphant, ballet mistress of the Canadian National Ballet, directing a score of graceful girls, as well as a half a dozen children.

Main Characters Of "Mother Goose"

Here are the Principal Boy and the Principal Girl of "Mother Goose", Eric Christmas' new revised version of the famous pantomime which opened yesterday at Her Majesty's Theatre. They are Olga Romanik, who plays Colin, and Dora Swain, who is Jill. The pantomime is giving matinee and evening performances every day this week to enthusiastic audiences.

SPORTS

at St. Leo's

The most cheerful time of the year is the New Year's season, when people forget their trial and tribulations long enough to indulge in the spirit of the occasion. Old scores are forgotten and frowns are replaced by smiles as people go about shaking each other's hand and wishing each other the compliments of the season. Teachers extend the front of their hand to the pupils, instead of the usual back of the hand and even coaches manage to growl a little less ferociously after defeat.

This is brought about by everybody equipping themselves to the maximum with that intangible commodity known as spirit and it is this same commodity, that has inspired a St. Leo's team, to hold its own with the big guns of inter-scholastic sport. Down through the years, the Academy teams have thrived on spirit and on this alone, have scored some glorious upsets in sport, against much superior odds to establish themselves as the mighty mites of school sports.

In some instances it was some obscure members of a team that would supply all the fighting spirit so necessary to a little St. Leo's team but in most cases it would be about a half a dozen of the better players on a team, that would ignite a spark that would inflame a whole team with the desire to win. The past year has seen this spirit let down by a good number of the senior boys in the school, who took the short cut to sports oblivion, by making the mistake of taking themselves more serious, then their obligations to their team and their school.

The spirit on this year's senior hockey team, has improved over last year's outfit, but to what extent remains to be seen. One thing is sure, unless some sacrifices are made by a lot of the boys in improving their skating and shooting, coach Andy McGillis is in for some rough sailing when he hits the inter-school schedule early in January.

SPORT SHORTS:

Success Story

In 1930 and 1940, Robert (Tubby) O'Connell was one of the big wheels in sport at St. Leo's. Tubby was captain of the Academy junior hockey team, that swept through to two successive city hockey titles and in 1939 personally accounted for no less than 29 goals. Made his debut in 1939 on the Academy's senior football team, when only 13 years of age and also participated in boxing.

Soon after the outset of World War II, went overseas with the R.C.A.F. and after a few years active service was promoted to the rank of Flt. Lieut. Word was received the other day from Rome, to the effect that he was ordained to the Holy Priesthood on December 20th, as a member of the Congregation of Holy Cross, and so it is now The Reverend Robert Pellier O'Connell.

Another former well-known St. Leo's Athlete, in the person of Jack Martin has joined the Congregation of Holy Cross and is at present in the novitiate at Bennington, Vermont. Jack was always the number one choice for captain on any team he played on and was outstanding in both hockey and football and also had an unbeaten record as a boxer at the Academy.

It was athletes like the above two, that did so much to build up such a fine spirit in the school, just a few short years ago.

1948 West Hill Montreal High Gridders To Meet

West end pigskin enthusiasts will have two New Year's Day contests to view this year. In addition to the fourth annual Montreal West Garbage Bowl classic, which is described elsewhere in this section, a revenge game between the 1948 West Hill and Montreal High School aggregations will be reeled off at Tremholme Park. Game time has been announced as 1:15. The ex-high school grid luminaries vow that they'll play the game regardless of weather conditions.

Long-remembered high school football fans will remember that it was the Montreal High and West Hill teams which clashed in the city championship tussle that season. The Montrealers won out by a slim 9-6 count but West Hill players and supporters have been maintaining ever since that they had the better club and deserved the win.

The Red Raiders point to the fact that time ran out on them. After a downfield march, the West Hillians failed to go over from the four-yard line on the last play of the game.

So on Thursday of this week they'll get another crack at the Blue and White from University street.

West End Grads Cagers On Top With Two Wins

In their first Montreal Basketball League Intermediate "A" game of the season, the West End Grads Club defeated the Windsor Aces 83-44 on the Mont St. Louis court and added another scalp to their belts running over the R.C.A.F. Flyers from St. Johns to the tune of 68-51 on the Westmount Junior High School floor. The hard driving Grads will take on the R.C.A.F. St. Hubert Flyers on Monday evening, January 5th, on the Westmount Junior High School floor, at 8 p.m.

Gerry Rowntree with 22 and Denis Skinner with 19 were the big guns for the Grads against the Aces, closely followed by John Field and Don Goldberg with 14 and 13 points respectively. Mort Newman with 10 and Phil Hollinger with 9 were tops for the outclassed Aces.

The Grads encountered stiffer opposition with the boys from St.

George Economides, Verdun Bulldogs; Blair Douglas, McGill; John Harris, NDG Maple Leafs; Jack Stryde, NDG Maple Leafs, and John Harvey, NDG Maple Leafs.

Montreal High: Don Walsh, Denver; Reg. Whitehouse, Saskatchewan Rough Riders; Jim Miller, McGill; Des Yearwood, Verdun Bulldogs; John Kochen, NDG Juniors; Ed. Lozinski, Verdun Bulldogs; George Klein, McGill; Lionel Quinn, Verdun Bulldogs.

Johns. At half time the score was 26-14 for the home squad and the lead was only increased by five during the second half, as the Grads pulled out a 68-51 victory.

Vern Cassis was the chief thorn in the sides of the Grads as the 6'4" center pulled down innumerable rebounds from both backboards. However, his work was nullified by some adept basket potting by John Field who came through with 27 hard earned points. Jack Stryde was next in line, posting 16 for the winners. Vern Cassis with 11, Joe Gagnon and Jim McDougall with 10 each, led the Flyers.

West End Grads (83): Field 14, Rowntree 22, McKeen 3, Ambrose 2, Harris 1, Stryde 3, McLeod 4, Skinner 19, Goldberg 13, Carmichael 2.

Teen-Age Dance

Tickets for the Teen-Age Dance to be held January 16 at the Westmount Athletic Grounds are now on sale and have been going very well to date. The Silver Tones seven-piece orchestra will make the music, so bring along your gal or beau and have some fun dancing to Dave Saul and his boys.

Tickets may be purchased from the following boys and girls:— Andy Bleau, Jim Beasant, David Gray, Grant Gill, Dave Donohue, Peter Grant, Lillian Gallery, Sandra Bennett, Caroline Alexander, Lynda Brooks, Caroline Smart and Margaret Smart.

Sandwiches will be served and it is requested that you get your tickets now and avoid the rush at the door. All teen-agers of Westmount are welcome.

Hockey

The weather has once again stepped in and made it miserable for the Parks Department to make ice on our Westmount rinks. All rinks were flooded on Sunday night, but of course the snow had to come along on Monday. This just means that they will all have to be cleared again before another flood can be made. Our rinks are all made on soft surfaces and consequently take more floodings to obtain a level sheet of ice.

However, our hockey teams are ready to go and as soon as the ice is ready the schedules will get under way.

We take this opportunity to wish everyone a very Happy New Year.

Last Biggest Beef of 1952 — A lady calls on Friday, Dec. 26, after a very mild and wet 25th and crankily complains about the terrible condition of the rinks in Westmount.

Loyola Announces Withdrawal From College Football

There'll be no Loyola Warriors to root for next autumn when pigskin time rolls around. The west end college has decided to withdraw from intercollegiate football after three seasons of American - brand competition against teams from south of the border.

The local Jesuit institution, with a comparatively microscopic enrolment of some 400 students, has found that they just can't hurdle the obstacles that have barred their way to making the autumn pastime the highlight of their athletic year.

Financially, things were in the red ink stage this past season. Attendance at the Loyolian's home game was not sufficient to meet the increased expenses of travelling to and from games in the United States.

But there was more than that behind the decision. The Loyolians had little success in the wins and losses column until this year when they split 3-3 with the help of a couple of wins over Canadian teams. But competing with Yankee institutions whose enrolments were about the 1000 mark proved a little more than the plucky and spirited Warriors could handle.
