EIGHTY-NINTH YEAR — HUNTINGDON, QUE., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11th, 1952 — TWELVE PAGES

Attendance at Ormstown Exhibition Down

Good Weather Most of Time—Excellent All Around Show

It was Fair time in the Beauharnois District last week and in consequence there was not much done outside visiting the Ormstown Exhibition. As one approached the grounds they were greeted by the mooing of the cows, the bah of the sheep and the cackle of the poultry. Nor was this all - - - the barkers on the midway could be heard enticing the people to try this and try that. Yes, truly the spirit of the fair was abroad and for the most part the weather was ideal. It rained a few days previous and on the day of opening and again on Friday evening, but for that it was ideal weather.

It may be that these fine days kept a few farmers away so that they might catch up with their work that had been delayed on account of wet weather. The attendance figures were down from last year when the totals were checked. However the grandstand was fairly well filled each afternoon for the racing events and there were a number of people strolling around in various parts of the grounds.

The Ormstown High School had several floats entered for the parade on Wednesday night, the opening of the exhibition, and these were paraded into the arena to the delight of the audience. Mr. Donald E. Black, M.P., President of the Exhibition, gave the opening address and declared the exhibition open.

There was plenty to see according to what each individual would be interested in. A stroll through the barns revealed a wonderful entry of poultry; in fact, so far as numbers were concerned, one of the best. Hardly a cage was empty and some very fine specimens of birds could be seen. Judging by the number of first prize cards, they were every bit as good as they looked. There was quite a large entry of Canadian Cattle and the prizes for these were divided between L. A. Sylvestre, Clairvaux Bagot, Que.; R. Desautels and Son, St. Charles River; Ernest Sylvestre, St. Hyacinthe, Que.; Napoleon Sansoucy, St. Ours, Que., and Hectance Charpentier, Clairvaux Bagot, Que. There were no local entries in this section of cattle. All awards for Dual-Purpose Shorthorns went to Sylvan Brae Farm at Howick. Only outside breeders featured in the sheep awards with Slack Brothers, Skinner and Son, Lloyd Ayre, Dougall A. Cumming, W. E. Burton and R. B. Glaspell taking the ribbons. Competition in the swine showed Hooker Brothers of Ormstown, Que., among the prominent winners together with Preston Hooker of Ormstown. The other cattle classes have been given a separate listing in another story in this issue.

The Berhard and Barry Midway made its first visit to Ormstown this year and this company certainly had a very fine midway. There were a large number of rides for adults as well as children and a new list of sideshows. Judging by the number of people carrying prizes, we would judge the midway was well patronized. We believe this midway was an improvement over other years and certainly it was an improvement having it all together, instead of having the roadway running through the centre. The smell of hamburgs, onions and hotdogs as one approached the midway was a sure means to finding it, even if it did not have the grand entrance that it did.

The horse show was crowded on most evenings and the fans were treated to a first class show that was well worth seeing. There were large entries in all classes which made competition very keen for all comers. Miss Viola Lallemand was the winner of the Shawinigan Water and Power Co. trophy for the Best Lady Driver and several other local winners will be noticed in the list of prize winners. One interesting item was a very small Shetland foal which could do tricks and was put through its paces to the delight of the audience. The show was not without its accidents, although we did not get the details. But apparently one of the riders and one at least of the horses suffered injuries during one of the jumping events. An accident also occurred during one of the driving events, when a wheel came off one of the vehicles, the driver was thrown out and the horse ran away.

During the Saturday evening show several presentations of trophies took place. Among those making presentations were: Members of the Kiwanis Club of Montreal; Mr. K. Pope, Bank of Montreal, Huntingdon; Mr. Evans of the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Mr. Douglas Ness and others.

A clown amused the people during the day and evening, especially while the hurdles and other jumping equipment was either being removed or rearranged. During Wednesday evening and Thursday evening the band of the Quebec 22nd Regiment provided music in the arena, but was unable to stay for a full commitment due to prior arrangements. This music was certainly a treat and there is need for something like this at the exhibition.

We felt a certain amount of safety at Ormstown Exhibition, for with all this talk about surprise air attacks over Canada from Russia, one never knows. But as we made the rounds we noticed four anti-aircraft guns on the grounds and should there have been an air attack, we felt we could at least get behind the guns.

The races drew their quota of fans, but on Saturday they were disappointed. The rain on Friday night plus some cars that were stuck in the mud, ruined the track for Saturday's schedule. But those races that were run off proved quite exciting and thrilling. Several local horses were featured in this daily event.

Among the distinguished visitors to the exhibition on Friday, was Mr. George Lepalme, the Leader of the Liberal Party in Quebec. He was noticed being escorted about the grounds by President of the Exhibition, Mr. Donald E. Black, Federal Liberal M.P. for this constituency. Together with them was Mr. Myles Tillotson, the Provincial Liberal candidate for Huntingdon constituency. No doubt this was a wonderful place to become acquainted with the people in view of the coming election.

A fire occurred during the exhibition when a car on the parking lot caught fire during the owner's absence. The police at the spot noticed the fire in the car, but due to the car being locked, were unable to get at it. When the owner was located, it was too late to save the vehicle. Meanwhile, the police with the aid of a tractor, moved several other cars near the burning one and thus saved them from a similar fate. The ground on the parking lot was quite soft and thus the tractor was kept handy to pull out cars that were mired from time to time. We understand the car was a total loss and no insurance was carried. It was not possible to obtain the owner's name and it is believed the car bore a U.S. registration.

From information received, it would appear that less people from across the border attended the exhibition this year. At the 1951 exhibition a sum of $1,400 was taken in U.S. currency, while only $1,005 was taken in this currency at the gate this year. The Textile strike in Valleyfield is believed to have made a difference to the gate receipts this year as the total admissions were down. In 1951, 20,829 paid admissions, while only 18,971 paid admissions in 1952. This was a decrease of 1,858 paid admissions.

The dining hall did a land office business on all days of the fair — this is one place that is well patronized for the people do get real hungry.

The exhibition generally was one of the largest put on to date. All exhibits all throughout were higher in number, while the quality was of the best. The officials are to be congratulated on a fine show.

Cattle Entries at Ormstown Exhibition Show Excellence

All Classes Well Represented in Three Main Breeds

All things considered the cattle show of 1952 Ormstown Exhibition was, from a livestock angle, a most successful event. Personally we believe, with several others, that the judging of each breed on one day only is probably better than spreading such judgings over two-day periods. On the other hand, however, there are quite a few people who like to see Holsteins as well as Ayrshires and Jerseys being judged in the one ring at the same time and vice versa. As it was the Ayrshires and Jerseys were judged on Thursday, the Holsteins, together with the French Canadians, Dual-Purpose Shorthorns and the Boys' and Girls' Calves on the Friday.

Anyway, there were disappointingly small crowds in attendance on either day. Also in that respect, we might well say that too many of our smaller, non-exhibiting breeders are apparently uninterested in seeing and giving their moral support, so to speak, to the exhibits of their more exhibition-minded fellow breeders. It might well be said that they are unmindful of that those exhibitors are not only advertising their own herds but also their breeds and district as a whole. It might also be said that it might be quite a different picture insofar as the reputation of this district as a livestock centre, if these advertising-minded breed patriots were to drop out of the show ring either at Ormstown or the other major shows which follow same.

Moreover, it might be said that the present lack of interest in the cattle-breeding classes is a reflection on the unselfish, public-spirited efforts of President Donald Black, M.P., Vice-President Douglas A. Ness, Secretary - Manager Carlyle Dickson and their fellow directors and committee members.

Good Cattle Show

Despite the lack of moral support by many of their fellow breeders, and consequent slim attendances, the cattle exhibitors at the 1952 Ormstown Exhibition are generally, to be congratulated on the excellence of their exhibits. In fact it might be claimed that, taken as a whole, the quality and condition of the animals exhibited were quite on a par with those of other years. Altogether there was a total entry of 401 head in the individual classes of the cattle division. A breakdown in that respect being as follows: Ayrshires, 129 head; Holsteins, 95 head; Jerseys, 87 head; French Canadians, 77; Dual-Purpose Shorthorns, 13 head. In addition there were 57 entries in the Boys' and Girls' Calf Club sections — 28 Holsteins; 22 Ayrshires and 7 Jerseys.

The Ayrshires:

It was announced last week in the Gleaner that George and Mrs. Templeton of Carnell, Kilmarnock, were wending their way by air to attend Ormstown Exhibition - - - after George had judged Ayrshires at the Australian Royal Show; after the "Twa" Templetons had together visited Ayrshire herds in Australia, New Zealand, British Columbia and Alberta. And, so it was that they arrived in time to see the Ayrshire judging at Ormstown. Outstanding breeder and judge as he is, George Templeton seldom voices an opinion about other men's "beasts". However he did say to this writer that he could be quoted as being eminently impressed with the Ayrshire show at Ormstown.

John J. McCaig, Chief Inspector of the Advanced Registry for Dairy Bulls (all bulls except the Holsteins) as also an official Type Classifier for Ayrshires stated "Not for a great many years past has there been such an all-round evenness of quality in the entire Ayrshire section: with in each instance, really outstanding tops."

The Ayrshires were judged by William Gibson, for long manager of Alta Crest Farms of Spencer, Mass., and now owner of one of these farms. Moreover, a native of Ayrshire, Scotland, he made his debut in this district as an Ayrshire herdsman and owned a herd for a time at Glenelm before going to Alta Crest. When at Alta Crest and since then, he purchased, year by year, a large number of Ayrshires in Canada.

Sixteen Ayrshire breeders, all except three of them from the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club area, between them exhibited the 129 Ayrshires that were entered in the individual classes. The three exceptions all being from Lachute.

As at the 1951 Royal Winter Fair, Cherry Bank Golden Anchor not only won his class but also the senior and grand male championships for P. D. McArthur and Son, Howick. As most everyone knows, this bull is by Cherry Bank Winter Royal and from Cherry Bank Miss Buttercup 3rd.

Second prize aged bull, reserve senior and reserve grand champion male was Carnell Lawrence for J. P. Bradley and Son, Lachute, Que. This bull was bred by George Templeton and imported a few years ago by R. R. Ness and Sons.

The junior champion male was the first prize bull calf, Burnside Tradition, by Rottenrow Tradition (imp.) for R. R. Ness and Sons. That firm also won the senior yearling bull class on Burnside Request by Rottenrow Remarkable, (imp.)

The first prize two-year-old bull was Burnside Milky Way (imported-in-dam) for J. M. Wallace and Son, Athelstan.

R. R. Ness and Sons won first in the aged cow in milk class, the senior and grand female championships on Burnside Floradora by Burnside Future Hope.

The reserve senior and reserve grand female championships were won by P. D. McArthur and Son on Poplar Alley Blossom Baroness. Prior to that she had won first in the dry aged cow class. She was sired by Glengarry Baron Flash.

The junior and reserve junior female championships went to R. R. Ness and Sons. Their junior champion, Burnside Full Fashion 4th by Burnside Future Hope, was first senior yearling; the reserve junior was Burnside Amelia by Burnside Aristocrat, which won first in the class of 21 senior heifer calves.

Junior yearling — R. R. Ness and Sons, on Burnside Friendship.

Two-year-old in milk — J. Grant Whyte, Huntingdon, on Elm Nanor Dixie Ann.

Three to five, dry — J. P. Bradley and Son on Brookview Vera.

Three to four, in milk — R. R. Ness and Sons on Burnside Future Blossom 2nd.

First prize winners in the group classes were as follows:

R. R. Ness and Sons — graded herd, dairy herd, junior get of sire.

The Jerseys:

Eleven Jersey breeders jointly combined to bring forward the 87 Jersey animals entered at Ormstown this year, ten of these breeders being from the Chateauguay Jersey Cattle Club area. The outside exception was P. Veillon, Sweetsburg, Que., with 22 head entered in the individual classes. However when one recalls that it is but a few years ago since the local club was formed, the 10 local breeders concerned are to be commended on the number shown by them this year. Likewise on their high quality exhibit. Even although the Veillon herd carried off 13 first prizes, seven firsts remained in the district.

The Jersey classes were placed by Norman Bagg, Edgley, Ont., a member of an old time, Ontario Jersey family.

P. A. Veillon won first on his bull calf Brampton Radiant Radar, as also the junior and grand championships on same. His second prize bull calf, Wendybrook V. Pan, also won the reserve junior and reserve grand championships.

HAS PURCHASED WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKay, of Hemmingford, has purchased a weekly newspaper in Dresden, Ontario. The name of Huntly's newspaper is the "Dresden Times".

Huntly left Ottawa on June 1st to take over the job of publisher and editor of the "Times". His wife, formerly Ruth Harris of Toronto, will be advertising manager.

After receiving his high-schooling in Hemmingford, Quebec, Huntly went to work for the Montreal Gazette as a financial reporter. A year and a half later he joined the RCAF and eventually won his Commission and his navigator wing.

When retired from the RCAF, Huntly joined the New York Wall Street Journal staff as a financial journalist and at the same time attended night-school to prepare for University entrance. His stay with the Journal lasted only a year, at the end of which time he commenced full time studies at McGill University. Five years later, with a Master of Arts Degree in Sociology to his credit, Huntly joined a government team carrying out sociological research during the summer months of 1950 at Petawawa military camp. In the fall of that year after the research team had completed its findings, Huntly took a position with the Economics and Research Branch of the Department of Labour, Ottawa.

Early in August of 1951, Huntly married Ruth Harris, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Harris of Toronto. Huntly leaves the Head Office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, where he was head of the Labour Market Information Section, to go to Dresden as the Times publisher and editor.

Kent Rowley Under Arrest At Valleyfield

VALLEYFIELD—R. Kent Rowley, ousted leftwing leader of the AFL United Textile Workers of America, was under arrest on charges of "vagrancy" and "resisting police force".

Rowley and ex-union official Charles Lipton, 35, were arrested Friday night when police broke up a gathering of about 1,000 persons whom Rowley was scheduled to address.

A combined squad of local and Provincial Police entered a union hall still retained by the ousted executive and ordered the rally closed. They seized a loudspeaker that was to have carried Rowley's speech, plus an assortment of sticks, blackjacks and knives from the union offices.

It was reported that police planned to padlock the union office.

Rowley, the former Canadian director of the UTWA and 11 other officers were fired recently by the union's international executive for alleged Communist sympathies and mismanagement of the strike of 6,000 textile workers at plants here and in Montreal.

Covering the Exhibits in The Industrial Building At Ormstown Exhibition

Large Exhibits of Agricultural Machinery and Equipment on Display

The 1952 Ormsown Exhibition was held June 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th and once again proved its right to be ranked as one of the top displays of this type in Eastern Canada. Since the merits of the many fine cattle will be described elsewhere, we will only deal with the farm and industrial exhibits here.

The Industrial Arts display of the Huntingdon and Howick High Schools attracted much attention. The various lamps, wall brackets, ashtrays and trays clearly demonstrated the skill of the boys of grades 6, 7, 8, and 9, who made them. A wall bracket made by a Grade Six student of Huntingdon High School and representing a pulley and two wooden water buckets caught our eye, as did a finely tooled leather belt and several hand-hammered copper ashtrays. The work of the girls of these High Schools was sohwn in the Howick-Huntingdon Home Economics exhibit. This featured dresses, aprons and fancy work done by the students of these Schools. However, this display might have been more effective if the names and grades of the students had been attached to each article since this would have made it easier to decide the relative merits of the work.

Not to be outdone by the other High Schools of this district, the Ormstown High School display represented a model school room. A teacher's desk, students' desks, blackboards, maps, chemical equipment, in fact, everything depicting all the various courses taught at the High School were found here. The dissected frog, preserved pigeon, plants and fish, examples of the work required of Biology classes attracted marked attention.

The Art and Photography classes seem to have improved over previous years, both in the number of entries and the quality. Feminine visitors, who know more about these things than we do, assured us that the exhibits of rugs, blankets, quilts, fancy work, etc., were very good and gave a clear picture of the work done in rural homes. However, it was the display of baking, preseved fruits, maple syrup and candy that made our mouth water. Although these entries were not too numerous, the golden rolls, bread and delicious cakes, must have made the Judge's task a pleasant one.

The Floral exhibits, naturally, were not too numerous, for the present season does not find too many flowers in bloom. However, the house plants were well represented, and judging by the many Begonia entries, this colorful plant remains a favorite.

The Chateauguay and Huntingdon Women's Institute booth, featured a citizenship display and the sale of home cooking had many patrons. The miscellaneous class, in which were found all articles of handicraft that could not be properly placed in the other classes, contained many unusal items. A bun-cushion, an unusual type of cushion which resembled a varied-colored pan of buns, caused much comment. The Anti-Tuberculosis X-Ray Clinic was on hand, and noting the steady stream of people taking advantage of the opportunity to obtain free chest X-rays, we realized again what a worthwhile public service this is.

The Canadian Army's display of clothing and equipment which is used by Canadian soldiers in Artic regions, brought just a touch of winter to the summer's heat. This display included special saws used to cut ice, skis, boots, heavily padded gloves, special glasses designed to prevent snow-blindness and other items. These articles did much to make one understand the conditions under which the Canadian soldier must work, and may some day have to fight, in the far north. Also included were several Anti-Aircraft guns.

The displays of farm machinery were many and varied, and, as usual, attracted the rapt attention of the agriculturist. Among the many tractors, hay rakes combines, etc., that caught our eye were a Ferguson hydraulic hay rake demonstrated by Mr. Bruce Ness of Howick, and a "Drive-O-Matic" variable speed combine exhibited by the Cockshutt Company on behalf of their local dealers, Mr. J. H. Willams, Ormstown; Frank J. O'Connor, Huntingdon; Aime S. Quenneville, St. Anicet and J. Roland Daignault of St. Chrysostome. Other firms exhibiting farm machinery were: Mr. George Renaud, Huntingdon, Surge milkers; the De-Laval Company; the W. C. Wood Company Ltd.; the John Deere Company; Case farm machinery, Mr. F. C. Moore, Huntingdon agent; International Harvester, a combined display for W. G. McArthur, Howick, L. G. Simpson, Hemmingford, A. A. McCormick, Ormstown, Leo Dorais, Valleyfield and A. Demers, St. Chrysostome, all local dealers; the Massey-Harris Company and Ferrano Ltd. In conjunction with the displays of farm machinery were the cars and trucks exhibited by Empire Garage, M. Noel Foisey, Huntingdon, Ford and Monarch; Riverside Motors, Mr. J. M. Smellie, Pontiac and Buick; Huntingdon Motors, Mr. J. Smythe, Chevrolet and Oldsmobile and Garage Leduc, Huntingdon, dealers in Austin cars and trucks.

Pioneer Feeds, Shur-Gain and Oglivie Flour Mills presented displays of grain and other feeds, as well as showing some of their cake-mixes and other products of interest to the housewife. Also of interest to the housewife were the many displays of electrical goods, modern kitchens, etc. Marchand Freres, Valleyfield and Huntingdon dealers for Moffat, Philco and Nothern Electric; Mr. Irenee D'Aoust, Ormstown, Mr. B. L. McGerrigle, Ormstown and Mr. S. J. Currie, Huntingdon, local dealers for General Electric and Westinghouse; Electrical Home, Valleyfield dealers for International Harvester electrical goods, all were represented with large displays.

The Shawinigan Water and Power Company's exhibit this year featured pictures showing the work of Shawinigan Water and Power and its subsidiary Companies. Among the interesting pictures we noted were those showing the St. Maurice River Development, the Grandmere Development, and, Tapping a Carbide Furnace at the Plants of Shawinigan Chemicals Ltd.

Two other exhibits, not mentioned above, but of interest were those of Canadian Tire Corporation, Mr. A. J. Hickey, Valleyfield dealer and Small Brothers display of syrup evaporators, Mr. Clarence Blair of Franklin Centre, local dealer.

All of these numerous exhibits combined with the excellent midway attractions of Bernard and Barry, helped to make the Ormstown Exhibition, once again an outstanding success.

THE BEAUTIFUL ENGLISH RIVER

Here we have a view of the English river as it flows under a no longer used bridge on the Covey Hill-Hemmingford road. The four young men seen fishing, or had we better say going through the formalities of fishing, were week-ending at Covey Hill. The tranquil English river with its crystal clear water provides scenic beauty and good drainage for the farms between the U.S.-Canada Boundary line and where it empties into the Chateauguay River between Howick and Ste. Martine.

Ormstown Exhibition Concludes for Another Year

AFTER months of preparation and planning, Ormstown Exhibition had a successful four nights and three days and now fades into the background for another year.

It is unfortunate, but it seems that less people take an interest in this exhibition every year. It is an agricultural exhibition and a good one, but it does not seem that as many agriculturalists as should, take an interest. We believe there could be a great many exhibitors in all departments and in view of this Beauharnois District being such a dairying section, there should be many more exhibits from this section alone. We have tried to impress this upon the farmers in this area and to urge that more show their stock, even if they are not prize winners. Much can be learned from an exhibition of this kind and much good can come from it in many ways.

One noticeable feature was the much larger entry in the poultry exhibits. In recent years many more farmers have taken an interest in poultry and especially in turkeys. Handled right, this side of farming can be made to be quite profitable. In all livestock departments there were a larger number of entries and the horses had to be stabled in the cattle barns. Outstanding exhibits will be noted in the news articles on the exhibition.

The Horse Show continues to attract considerable entries, but there is still complaint that it carries along too late in the evening. There was much speeding up in between events this year which helped. Possibly due to a lowered attendance, the arena was not as well filled as has been the case, or perhaps the larger midway attracted more followers. We were of the opinion that the Horse Show was very good this year. There is also the fact that too few attend the cattle judging in the arena and it is felt that more people should watch this important work.

Some people attending thought there should be more attractions during the afternoon in front of the grandstand. There are those who are interested in racing and there are those who would like to see something else, but there is only the racing to be seen. Even a good ball tournament would help the interest and perhaps races and sports for the children with an inter-school meet as the main event. Several times we heard the remark that people wished some seats were provided around the grounds so that older persons could rest awhile. Certainly something will have to be done to improve the parking lot if people are to park their vehicles in the grounds. It so often happens that wet weather prevails either before or during the exhibition, that the ground is soft and cars are stuck in the mud. It would seem that it might be well to have gravel spread on the car park and rolled down to form a hard surface. This would of course cost money, but would be more satisfactory to the patrons who are needed to boost up the gate receipts.

These are matters which could be given consideration from now until the next exhibition. Meanwhile, Ormstown Exhibition made another mark in a successful run of shows during its lifetime.

Political Pot Just Simmering

SINCE the announcement by Premier Duplessis last week, of the date of the Provincial Election, the political scene has begun to show more action. No particular action has taken place locally, but provincially there have been some verbal combats. Both Premier Duplessis and Mr. George Lapalme, the Liberal Leader, have had a few things to say about each other, but neither have actually come out with what their platforms will be. It seems to be evident that the government will seek re-election on its past record, while the Liberal Party will ask the voters to consider the treatment they have received while pointing out that the Liberal Party is responsible for much claimed by the government.

The Liberal Leader claims that the Union Nationale Party is a one-man party. He means by this that no one in the party can do anything without first consulting Mr. Duplessis. Mr. Lapalme feels that each member of the party should have the confidence and ability to act on his own behalf and in the best interests of the party as a whole and the people in general. Certainly Mr. Duplessis has great control over his followers for none are allowed to do or say anything unless he gives the word. His weekly press conferences are an evidence of this. The press has to wait for mostly everything until Mr. Duplessis says such and such a thing can be released. One sees very little of an individual member having made a statement of his own on any issue, local or provincial. This causes the Liberal Party to speak of dictatorship and there is no doubt we shall hear more of it during the campaign.

Claims are made that the present prosperity of Quebec is entirely due to Union Nationale effort. This the Liberals flatly deny and they talk of high expenditures due to the fact that contracts are given to friends of the Union Nationale Party without having been tendered upon. Judging from all this simmering, it would seem that this will form the basis of the campaign when it really gets into high gear. We believe we can look for some hot contests before the election is over.

Benefit of Clergy

STUDENTS of history will recall that, at one time, members of the clergy, on proof of their status, could have their cases transferred to ecclesiastical courts, when criminal charges were made against them. The benefit was extended to all who could read, since, in the Middle Ages, only the clergy could. But then all the habitual offenders gradually began to learn the test verse of the Bible by heart, and characters much less reputable than unfrocked ministers began claiming benefit of clergy as a matter of course. The custom was finally abolished as ridiculous in 1827.

Tenderness towards Dr. James Endicott may be dictated by a hazy racial memory of "benefit of clergy." The fact that he was once an ordained minister of a Christian church may also be a reason why his communistic propaganda receives more serious attention than similar outpourings from a lay source. The reasoning seems to be that, since ministers are not supposed to lie, and Endicott has been a minister, therefore he must be telling what he believes to be the truth. Truth, however, from the Marxian point of view, is whatever benefits the cause of communism, and there is really no ground for debate between Endicott and his opponents, since it is only by pure coincidence that the truth of a matter as seen by the civilized world would be the same as the truth handed down from Moscow.

Benefit of clergy gave no immunity for crimes, but usually resulted in saving the life of anyone who could read his "neck-verse." It did not always apply. Guy Fawkes and his companions, or some of them, were literate, yet this did not avert the axe. A bill is still in existence for 23 shillings and ninepence, for setting up the iron spikes on which the heads of those traitors were impaled. The amount seems reasonable, but of course the purchasing power of money was greater in those days.

Health Made Easy

IF the month of June ever undertakes an advertising campaign, it is safe to bet that some genius in the agency's "creative department" will come up with the slogan "Health In June Through Gardening." June is the month of home gardeners. They get started late in May, but it is in June they reach their peak. Later the hotter weather tends to slow activity and dull enthusiasm, but in June they are out in force every day they don't have to attend a wedding. Many may be nature-lovers at heart, but it is health rather than horticulture that attracts most of them. What better way to get a bit of exercise? And you don't even have the trouble of driving out to the golf club!

June gardening is welcomed by health-loving menfolk. Wives vote for it too. For one thing it is nice to have the house looking pretty and the flower-beds tidy and blooming. It is also important to have a few inches removed from hubby's waistline before seams have to be let out or gussets employed. The family doctor is cheered at the prospect. Beaten down by six months of midnight calls for coughs, sore throats and other winter ailments, he sighs with crossed fingers at the idea of his patients healing themselves with sunshine and mild exercise.

Most cheerful of all, perhaps, are the garden-tool people who gain satisfaction from having presented long-suffering mankind with sprinklers that not only avoid the tedium of standing with a hose, but "walk" around the lawn themselves on a prescribed course and shut themselves off automatically at the end of the operation, motorized lawn-mowers to save the strain of pushing (the big ones can also be hitched up to pull the roller), electric hedge-shears that make an afternoon's trimming job as simple and speedy as a morning's shave. They have also provided one-wheeled miniature mowers for trimming lawn edges to avoid the tiresome business of hand-snipping, and if you insist on using snippers, they have them equipped with three-foot handles to prevent unnecessary weariness from stooping. The chemists, of course, have made weed-removal by hand a subject of horticultural history books.

A novelty in this district, possibly in the province, has been the erection this week of an iron baker's oven. It was manufactured in Toronto and uses less fuel and bakes better than the ordinary brick oven. It is a most ingenious structure.

March 14

Of the eclipse of the moon on Sunday evening only occasional glimpses were obtained here, the sky being clouded.

Eggs are down to 15 cents in all the stores.

March 28

The belfry on the Jubilee school house having been completed, the new bell will be hung, and the scholars have a little inaugural of it, all by themselves on Saturday. Its cheery tones will be welcome.

Mr. Ness ships today a second lot of horses for Glasgow by way of Boston. Of the 16 he sends, 4 were bought in this vicinity.

Auction sales are numerous in this section, and good prices are being realized. One of the most successful sales which has taken place for some years, and conducted by auctioneer Philps, was on the farm of Walter Spencer. Cows sold from $32 to $55. 22 cows brought $893., averaging $40.60 per head. Two year old heifers brought from $33 to $37 per head. Oats sold for 70 cents for 49 lbs. Machinery and implements brought high figures.

April 11

Ormstown—The end of last week turned out favourable for sugar making. Syrup sells 60c to 65c per imperial gallon, oats 45c to 50c, flour $2 per 100 lbs., eggs 12c and butter 19c per pound.

April 25

Yesterday M. Tailfer of Valleyfield, bought a 3-year-old improved Berkshire hog from James Gillies and Son, Elgin, that weighed 710 lbs.

May 2

Tuesday night the Central hotel had a narrow escape from fire. One of the guests sleeping on the second story was awakened by smoke in his room and gave the alarm. The fire was traced to the barrom and was put out with a few pails of water. Had it not been discovered so promptly the entire building would have gone. Origin supposed to be a cigar thrown on some waste. The loss, about $75, was covered by insurance.

The levelling and enclosing of the east half of Prince Arthur Square is an improvement the council deserves credit for. In the course of time the village will have a pleasant little park.

The following are excerpts from a Council meeting:

On Tuesday afternoon an adjourned meeting of the council was held to confer with Mr. Tache, engineer of the Stadaconna Light and Water Company of Montreal, with regard to waterworks and other improvements for the village. His proposal is to take the water from the Chateauguay opposite Harry Stone's house and raise it by a pump to a water tower, to be built in the knoll between the Chambers farm and the Somerville place. The pump will be worked by electricity to be supplied from the nearest available waterpower, making a great saving both in machinery and operating over a steam engine. From the water tower, which will be high enough to give the needed head, the pipes to the village would be supplied. The pressure to be maintained would be from 70 to 80 lbs., and the tower would hold enough to supply the village in the event of the pump being temporarily disabled. If all the houses on the lines of pipes were to take water the cost would be $5 to $10 per family per year; if optional $7 to $16. The rate would be governed by the valuation of the house. The result of putting in water with a proper supply of hydrants would be a reduction of 90 cents the $100 on fire insurance per year.

The connections between the street mains and the houses could be made by the proprietors themselves, or the company would do it at a cost not to exceed 15 cents a foot. The company would put in sufficient pipes to drain all the village above the dam on being paid $500 for 25 years. There was a difficulty owing to the levels of draining the village below the dam. Using the electricity for pumping water the company could give electric light more cheaply than any other company. For $400 a year from the council to light the streets, the company would supply lights to residents at from $7 to $15 a year. To sum up the proposal of the company was that the council pay them yearly for

	Compulsory	Not compulsory
Water	$500	$800
Electric	400	600
Sewage	500	500
	1400	1900

As he understood the council now paid $400 a year for lighting the village, if it made it obligatory on all proprietors to take water and light it would have only to raise $1,000 more. The villagers would save double that amount on fire insurance. He estimates the water works would cost the company approximately $45,000 to $50,000. The company would insert a promise in the contract allowing the village to buy the whole on paying a sum equal to 5½% out of its income. If accepted at once the company would guarantee to complete the whole by the 1st of November. The councillors after discussing the matter, agreed to circulate a petition to see how many of the ratepayers would accept the offer, and to meet Mr. Tache with a view of coming to a settlement on the evening of the 22nd.

Weekly Review

Taxes, Taxes, Taxes

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

One of my first assignments as a reporter on the old Toronto Globe, before the First World War, was a meeting of the Single Tax Association. It was held in a small back room and the Association appeared to be on its last legs, for there were only half a dozen members present and those were in a state of advanced pessimism about the world in general. When I returned to the office I told the editor I had nothing to report, and I asked him what Single Tax was. He was indignant and said, "Have you never read Henry George?" I admitted my ignorance and said I had no desire to read him if he was responsible for those cranks. At which my editor fell silent. I later discovered that he was himself a Single-Taxer.

Since then I have learned something about Henry George's theory of taxation and, although I do not agree with it, I think his idea of reducing taxes to a minimum was a good one. Sydney Smith thought so over a hundred years ago when he wrote: "Taxes on everything that enters the mouth, or covers the back, or is placed under foot. The schoolboy whips his taxed top, the beardless youth manages his taxed horse, with a taxed bridle on a taxed road; the dying Englishman, pouring his medicine, which has paid seven per cent. into a spoon that has paid fifteen per cent, and flings himself back on a chintz bed, which has paid twenty-two per cent, and expires in the arms of an apothecary who has paid a licence of a hundred pounds for the privilege of putting him to death."

But when Sydney Smith wrote that there was no income tax, except as a temporary levy in time of war, and since then the number and variety of taxes, licences, etc., etc., have multiplied out of all counting. Indeed, taxation has developed into a vast governmental enterprise. In Canada there is a regular scramble for taxes, with federal provincial and municipal governments competing with each other for the privilege of taking more and more money out of the people's pockets. And they tell us it is all for our own good—they call it "welfare." Our Finance Minister told us quite frankly that we had too much money and he was budgeting to tax away our surplus into the federal treasury. He got our surplus all right and left us with a deficit.

To those of us who are not economists, the theory that the people have too much money seems rather odd in view of the incessant demands for higher wages by labor unions on the ground that their members have not enough money to live on. They claim, of course, that they are not getting a faire share of the profits from their labor. Their employers, on the other hand, complain that the government is filching their profits and working capital by excessive taxation. In its efforts to reconcile these conflicting claims, the government is distributing money in the form of bonuses, subsidies and large spending, and thus putting the money back into circulation which it took out of circulation by anti-inflation taxes. This homeopathic treatment of trying to cure inflation by counter-inflation has only aggravated the disease.

According to official statistics, federal, provincial and municipal governments collected from the Canadian people six billion dollars last year in taxes. The total earnings of the people for that period was $17.2 billion, and the six billion dollars extracted from that sum meant that the governments of Canada took 35 cents out of every dollar earned, or more than one dollar in every three. Those governments spent a total of $4.9 billion and their combined surpluses amounted to over a billion dollars. These figures suggest that the high cost of government in Canada has something to do with the high cost of living, and that high taxes themselves are inflationary. The recent removal of credit restrictions seems to me to be an admission by the government that it has taken too much money out of people's pockets by taxation.

Valleyfield

Bible Society Meeting

VALLEYFIELD — The Valleyfield three Protestant Churches held a meeting on Sunday evening, June 1st in the United Church Hall.

The Rev. D. G. Gault opened the meeting Mr. Gamble of the Presbyterian Church read the scripture and offered a prayer. Rev. Mr. New introduced the speaker the Rev. De Courcy H. Rayner secretary of the Montreal District Bible Society.

The Annual meeting and election of officers followed. Mr. H. Isherwood was elected President to succeed Mrs. George Spence who was given a vote of thanks for so ably filling the office of President for the past four years. Mr. Duncan Ross was elected Vice-President and Mr. Wm. Shannon re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.

The collection was then taken.

Mr. Rayner showed two films in color. One of the British Columbia Coast and one of the Gaspé Coast showing the work of the Colporteur does in selling Bibles and doing a little missionary work as he travels from place to place. His work is not easy as one can see by these pictures yet he feels rewarded when a great number are helped by his visits.

These pictures were splendid and although there was not a large attendance those who did attend throughly enjoyed this very interesting programme.

The meeting closed with the singing of the hymn "Abide With Me."

Miss Ruth Cordy left by plane Sunday morning the 8th to attend the Librarian's Convention at Banff. She will then visit her brother Gilbert and his family at the Coast and will be gone about three weeks.

Miss Blanche Edgar of Montreal, was the week-end guest of her sister, Mrs. Peter Stanger.

Mrs. A. D. Cuthbert of Montreal, was the guest of the Misses Jane and Anne Wilson last week-end.

The thirty-fifth Annual Conference of the Chemical Institute of Canada was held at the Mount Royal Hotel, June 2-4.

Those attending from Valleyfield were Mr. and Mrs. George S. Grant, Mr. W. R. Dickie, Mr. Jas. J. Haffey, Mrs. D. D. McPee, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Cordy.

Mrs. Gladys Read and her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd White were in Montreal on Saturday to attend the wedding of Miss Patricia Jessie Eakin to Mr. Allan Read Leishman which took place in Dominion-Douglas United Church.

DEATH AT SAWMILL

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. -(CP)- On his first day back at work after serving as a crown witness in an assize court case here, 45-year-old Jimmy Ware, father of six, was killed at Ferguson Lake. Well-known as a trapper and guide, he lost his life when the roof of a sawmill collapsed and pinned him against a saw carriage.

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA (CP) — Official Ottawa has shed its mourning period for the late King George VI and has begun mapping plans for Canada's participation in the coronation of Queen Elizabeth next year.

But parliament Hill still was in a sombre mood, maintained by the tabling in the Commons of a massive combines commission report. The report named the Rubber Association of Canada and 19 rubber companies as alleged members of six price-fixing combines operating in more than 90 per cent of Canada's $250,000,000 rubber industry.

On tabling the 700-page, 300,000 word document, Justice Minister Garson immediately sought legal advice as to whether the evidence produced by Combines Commissioner T. D. MacDonald warrants prosecution. A decision is not expected for several weeks.

Seven other undisclosed industries have come under Mr. MacDonald's scrutiny and reports on these are expected this summer before the combines commission is reshuffled to make way for a new three-man agency to sit in judgment on Mr. MacDonald's investigations.

The commissioner's report named all major rubber manufacturers in Canada, located in Ontario and Quebec and some of them controlled by United States and United Kingdom capital. It alleged that combines existed among manufacturers of mechanical rubber goods, tires and tubes, accessories and repair materials, heels and soles, rubber footwear and vulcanized rubber clothing.

Cost-of-Living Down

The Bureau of Statistics came up with heartening news. The cost-of-living index plunged two points during April. The decline was attributed to a decrease in price of most major consumer goods. For the first time since last July the Canadian index was lower than the United States index, on a basis of price change.

The index dropped to 186.7 from 188.7 during March. It is based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100. The United States index was 187.7.

The drop was the fourth in a row, the index sliding from its peak of 191.5 last December by 4.8 points.

The recession was due to lower prices for butter, lard, shortening, beef, bacon, veal and oranges. Other price drops were seen in furnishings, electrical goods, footwear, men's wear, cleaning supplies, automobile tires, soap, tobacco products, magazines, barbers' fees and street-car fares.

C.N.R. Recapitalization

A plan to reduce by half the multi-million dollar debt of the government - owned Canadian National Railways system was introduced in the House by Transport Minister Chevrier.

All sides of the Commons lent their support to the complex recapitalization plan based principally on recommendations made by the Turgeon commission. Mr. Chevrier said Donald Gordon, C.N.R. president, would say whether the plan will make it possible for the railway to operate at a profit.

Under the plan the C.N.R. will be relieved of capital and interest payments on $736,385,000 owing the government. In return it gives the government an equal amount of four-per-cent preferred stock shares but interest on these will be paid only in years when the line shows a profit.

The railway will be freed from interest payments for 10 years and principal payments for 20 years on another $100,000,000 of debt owing the government, in return for more proferred stock. The government will build a special account for improvement and additions to the C.N.R. by buying preferred C.N.R. stock of a value up to three percent of the line's gross revenues in any one year.

This will leave the line with a $650,000,000 debt held by the public and, as suggested by J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Toronto Greenwood), opposition financial critic, the government would be a C.N.R. "proprietor" rather than a creditor.

Floor Price Extended

Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced a two-month extension in the current floor price for beef and also indicated that Canada's meat shipments to the United Kingdom may almost double original estimates.

The floor price — 25 cents a pound for good steers at Toronto and Montreal — had originally been scheduled for review before June 1 and possibly changed July 1. However, Mr. Gardiner said that developments in the marketing of cattle and sale of meat have been so favorable that it was decided to keep the support price firm until Sept. 1. The floor varies regionally.

Heavier Canadian meat shipments to Britain were predicted on diversions of New Zealand meat from the U.K. to the United States market. Mr. Gardiner said New Zealand has indicated she will have about 80,000,000 pounds of beef available for the U.S. market instead of the original estimate of 50,000,000. Under the tripartite Canada-U.K. - New Zealand barter deal, Canada will ship fresh beef to the U.K. to replace frozen beef which New Zealand will sell to the U.S., turning over the proceeds to Canada. Profits on U.S. sales will be divided between Canada and New Zealand.

Defence Production

Opposition members took another jab at the government's $3,500,000,000 arms program. Production Minister Howe said the program has cleared the tooling-up stage and assembly lines will soon start putting out planes, guns and ships. Opening a debate on defence production estimates, Mr. Howe disclosed that F-86E Sabre jet production has doubled over original planning and will double again before the end of the year.

But the opposition didn't agree the program was as successful as the production minister made out. Howard Green (PC-Vancouver Quadra) said defence production called for long-range planning and not just a three-year plan. He believed more orders should be placed in the United Kingdom.

What boosts a man's stock with people like these?

HIS BOSS

Invariably, employers like the kind of man who readily accepts responsibility. And they know that this attitude is suggested by a man's ownership of life insurance. So life insurance can be a "plus" to a man in any line of work.

HIS BANKER

Because bankers and others who lend money render such useful service, their opinion of a man is important. To them, ownership of adequate life insurance is often an important factor in establishing satisfactory credit.

HIS WIFE

Many a man is rated "the best husband in the world" by his wife. But if he owns life insurance which provides his family with financial security—he enjoys extra laurels because of his concern for their future.

HIS FRIENDS AND NEIGHBOURS

When they know that a man owns life insurance, they know he's trying to achieve financial independence for his family and, perhaps, for his own later years. And because he's doing his share in this way, they regard him with respect.

Today, millions of Canadians are providing security for themselves and their families—and enjoying greater prestige—through owning life insurance!

AT YOUR SERVICE! More than 50 Canadian, British and United States life insurance companies compete actively to offer you the best possible life insurance service. No one dared to meet our CHALLENGE!

★ On June 4th we ran an advertisement in this paper offering to match our new and far more powerful Ferguson Twenty-85 against any other tractor in this area. We stated that the Ferguson Twenty-85 with Ferguson System Implements meets more of the needs of more farmers...more of the time... than any other equipment. We challenged other dealers to match Ferguson performance on a group of basic farm jobs.

Is no one going to accept our challenge ?

We don't like to accept victory by default. But, unless one of our competitors sees fit to accept our challenge, we're forced to believe that they agree with us... that they admit the Ferguson Twenty-85 is a better tractor... that Ferguson System Implements are better implements!

The whole purpose of this challenge was to give farmers in this community a chance to make a real comparison of the many tractors and implements sold locally. We felt that farmers had a right to expect dealers to prove claims made for their equipment.

Remember, we welcome the competition of any other make or model tractor you may be considering that meets your farming requirements and that fits your budget.

Ask the dealers of these tractors if they are willing to match their equipment against a Ferguson Twenty-85 with Ferguson System Implements. If they are, let us know. If not, you can be surer than ever, that the new and far more powerful Ferguson Twenty-85 . . . and Ferguson System Implements . . . are "right" for you!

Regardless of what happens, we're ready to put on a special "Showdown" Demonstration for you--right on our own farm. ★

A demonstration of the 20 - 85 Ferguson Tractor and Implements will be held on the farm of R. Bruce Ness & Sons, Howick on Wednesday, June 18 - 1952 at 1.30 p.m.

Tom Gard's Note Book

I came across rather a unique cupboard in a small house where space for storage was at a premium. Orange crates had been nailed together into a single unit. The sides were sheeted with quarter-inch plywood and top of the same material to keep out dust and dirt. The cabinet was raised from the floor by two boards one inch thick and four inches wide. A strip of inch material down the side provided space on which to hinge the door. The complete assembly was painted white with green handle. The finish was so good that the cabinet might easily take a prominent place in the kitchen.

PLYWOOD AND PIPES

When I commented on the cabinet, the owner suggested we make a second visit, so he took me to a friend who had been a prisoner of war. This new citizen had taken old water pipes and a piece of ¾" plywood to form a table. To join the pipes where necessary he had secured the help of the blacksmith, by spot-welding for strength. This also did away with "T" joints. Looking under the table top I noticed he had turned the ends of the pipes forming an "L" for support. The blacksmith had also drilled two holes in each piece, providing an opening for strong screw nails. The table was sufficiently strong to carry the man's weight. A coat of white enamel improved the general appearance.

FLOWER POT HANGER

It seems to be still true that necessity is the mother of invention. I suppose that most of us has a little inventive ability, even for just simple things. Take for instance the man who happened to like flowers in the home. Near a sunny kitchen window I noticed rather a fine flower pot hanger. On examination it proved to be very simply constructed. Four pieces of lath about eighteen inches long were fastened together permitting an overlap of about three inches at the corners. A loop of wire provided the actual support. I was more than interested in the rim of a tin can, used to hold the flower pot. This was fastened with two small screws, permitting the pot to pass through and rest on the ring. The wooden portion was painted white, the ring and screw nail heads were painted green. The good finish provided a grand surface for the paint or enamel.

SPRINKLERS

A plumber down the street hit on a good idea for sprinkling his lawn and flower beds. It was a time-saver and permitted him to water where necessary without holding the hose. His working material was old pieces of water pipe and some couplings. On one he used a seven foot pipe and the nozzle from a watering can. A "T" joint provided the opening for the hose, and bending the pipe to the right angle spreading the water over a good area, or directly down on the flower bed. His second sprinkler was simply an upright pipe with "T" at the top, and this he stuck in the ground wherever necessary. Occasionally during his evening meal he would slip out and move the sprinkler. What could be easier!

HANDY TIPS . . .

At this time reports on the campaign and summer plans will be discussed. It is hoped that every member will make an attempt to be present.

Goodfellow presided at the piano and Anne was ushered into the Hall to the strains of "The Wedding March". The Hall was tastefully decorated with a profusion of spring flowers. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage of tulips and lily of the valley, and was the recipient of a tea set of bone china in Rosebud pattern. OBITUARY

The Late Fred Brown

On Saturday, June 7th, 1952, news came of the passing of Fred Brown. He had been a patient at the Barrie Memorial Hospital from the previous Saturday, where medical skill and attentive nursing failed to prolong his life.

Mr. Brown was born at Harley, Shropshire, England, where he later married Miss Annie Edwards. They moved to Canada and settled in Verdun, where they operated a store for eighteen years. For many years Mr. and Mrs. Brown spent their holidays at Ormstown and three years ago they completed their home and retired. While his health permitted, Mr. Brown was a faithful member of the Ormstown Presbyterian Church choir and his keen sense of humor was enjoyed by all with whom he came in contact.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his widow; one son, Fred, of Longueuil; one sister, Mrs. Gilhooly, of Montreal; three brothers, Harry and Walter, of Toronto, and George in England.

Funeral services were held at the McGerrigle Funeral Home on Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. A. McMillan and Rev. W. T. Payne.

Among those who attended the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown, Jr., of Longueuil; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Gilhooly, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Farncombe of Terrebonne Heights.

Master Kenneth Rember Celebrates

On Thursday, May 29th, Mrs. Ivan Rember was hostess at a birthday party in honour of Kenneth's 2nd birthday, when more than 25 adults and children were present. Some of the kiddies enjoyed a play period with their toys on the lawn, others liked the sandbox, while still others preferred the swing. Picture-taking time, usually termed as "only a click of the camera" proved to be no easy task with about 15 children ranging from one to five years of age. Kenneth received many gifts and cards from his little friends with their good wishes and, with the help of his little sister, Glenna, unwrapped each parcel in turn. Lunch was served about 5 o'clock. Suitable arrangements had been made for young and old; the little ones having theirs at a low picnic table. A birthday cake decorated in green and white with candles and "Happy Birthday, Kenneth" added to the celebration and was passed around to all. 6.30 p.m. was time for home and with it went many a sleepy head after a very pleasant and full afternoon.

Miss Marian Abraham Honoured

On Saturday evening, June 7, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hooker, Miss Dorothy Hooker entertained at a "bathroom shower" in honour of Miss Marian Abraham of Montreal. The living-room was tastefully decorated with peonies and snowball. A watering can of pink and white hung above the bride's chair from which came showers of streamers.

Having come to the Hooker home for only a few minutes, Marian was completely taken by surprise on entering the living-room to hear the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mrs. Merrill Tannahill, and to find many of her friends, relatives and neighbours-to-be awaiting her. She was then escorted to the guest chair and presented with a beautiful corsage of double petunias. She then proceeded to open the bathroom gifts and passed them around for all to admire. Marian then very graciously thanked everyone for their thoughtfulness and asked all to visit her and Royce in their new home. Several games were enjoyed and Mrs. Wallace Younie favoured all with a few piano selections.

Dainty refreshments were served by Dorothy and her mother, Mrs. E. J. Hooker, assisted by Miss Rosslyn Abraham and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Tannahill.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the doctors and nurses of the Barrie Memorial Hospital for their care and kindness, to friends and neighbors for flowers, cards, letters and visits.

Mrs. Jerry Murphy.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the doctors and nurses of the Barrie Memorial Hospital for their excellent care during my stay there; also for flowers, gifts, cards and visits from friends, relatives, members of Hemmingford O.E.S., W.M.S. and W.A. All these kindnesses are deeply appreciated.

Mrs. Walter Sample.

To the Community:

At such a time as this I feel very keenly the inability of mere words to express to my friends throughout the Community my most sincere thanks for their help in such a tangible way in this our time of sorrow. I would like very much to be able to thank each one of you personally but as this knowledge has been withheld from me, I hope and trust that this letter of thanks may truly express to each and everyone my most sincere thankfulness for such generous help.

With a truly thankful heart,

Phyllis Upton.

I wish to extend my thanks to all my friends and neighbours for all their gifts and cards and pleasant visits during my stay in the Ormstown Barrie Memorial Hospital.

Walter J. Walsh.

Hemmingford

HEMMINGFORD—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Morgan of Merrickville, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. A. Lavigne of Montreal, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pelletier and family.

Sunday callers of Mrs. Jessie Cookman included Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Armstrong and two children, George and John of Lachute, Mrs. George Cottingham of Ormstown, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Akester, Audrey, Luena and Kenna of Bronx Park, Ville LaSalle, Mrs. J. Braithwaite of Leask, Sask., and Mrs. Harry Van Vliet of Lacolle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Marshall and daughter, Karen of Ottawa, spent the holiday week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hadley and family. Mrs. Stephen Hadley, who has spent the past two months in Ottawa with her daughter returned to her home here.

On Friday evening, June 6th, the stated meeting of Victory Chapter No. 34, O.E.S. was held in the United Church Hall, when Mrs. Bessie McFarlane, Worthy Grand Matron and Mr. Alvin Williams, Worthy Grand Patron, made their official visits to the Chapter. They were given a cordial welcome by the Worthy Matron, Miss Ethel Williams. Several Past Grand Matrons and Past Grand Patrons and present Grand Officers were also welcomed. The initiation ceremony was exemplified when two members joined the order. Gifts were presented to the Worthy Grand Matron and Worthy Grand Patron by the Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron for which they both thanked the officers and members for their thoughtfulness. Brief addresses by the Grand Officers were enjoyed. After the meeting salads, rolls, cake, ice cream and coffee were served by the members and a social time enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barr and small son John, spent the week-end visiting in the Eastern Townships.

Master Scott McNaughton, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross McNaughton narrowly escaped serious injury when he fell off the cement landing at Mr. James Akester's home on Saturday afternoon. He was taken to Dr. Abran and later to Ormstown Medical Centre where it was necessary to have stitches to close an eye wound. It is hoped he will soon recover from his accident.

Several events of importance took place during May. The 25th, an autobus brought the members of the Valleyfield Choral and band. They came to honor Rev. Father Langlois, who was their first Conductor and who is also President of their Alumni. Their choral sang the Regina Mundi Mass admirably well. Rev. Father J. Laframboise's sermon on "Help for Vocations", touched the hearts and purses of all. It rained, so the musicians who were expected to go to another place, remained and gave a fine concert, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

During May, the "Athletic Association" began organizing for their summer activities. Lights are being installed on Langlois Academy grounds, so that ball games may be played at night. It is gratifying to see young and, even old sport lovers helping out, digging holes, erecting a restaurant, etc. They expect to celebrate the 1st of July in a special manner.

The final and most impressive event of the month was the pastoral visit on May 31 of Most Reverend R. Langlois, Bishop of Valleyfield, who administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to 116 little boys and girls and two adults, and gave an inspiring talk on the Sacrament of Confirmation.

On Sunday, His Lordship celebrated the 7.30 o'clock Mass, at which he preached and again at the 10 o'clock Mass. The Langlois Academy girls sang. The church beautifully decorated with lilacs and tulips, was filled to capacity for the Confirmation service on Saturday, and for both Masses on Sunday.

At 2.30 Sunday afternoon, he left on his return trip to Valleyfield. A great many gathered at the church for his departure.

This being Most Reverend R. Langlois' 50th anniversary to the priesthood and he has visited us during the last 25 years, it was decided to honor him in a special way and it was that all farmers cease work in order to be present and all Catholic places of business, namely stores, hotel-restaurants, beauty parlors, garages, bakeries, etc., close their doors on Saturday afternoon to honor their Bishop and jubilarian.

Dr. and Mrs. R. Perries, Alban, Denis and Jean Paul, Rosemount, were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. Choquette. The two latter boys were confirmed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gagnier have moved into their newly constructed home on North St. Their many friends wish them well in their new home.

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. Walter de Moulpied by her many friends and neighbors on the occasion of her 92nd birthday, June 10th.

Mrs. Angus Quenneville and Mr. John Smith, Montreal, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. Stringer.

Mrs. C. Laplante and Miss R. Laplante, Beauharnois were week-end guests of Mrs. C. Laplante, Sr.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. B. Ouellette and young son, on the death of her husband on June 4th. The funeral service was held on June 7th, 1952.

A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mrs. W. C. Collings on Tuesday, when Mrs. Margaret Lindsay entertained the Bridge Club. Mrs. W. J. Currie won the first prize with Mrs. M. McCrea taking home the "travelling prize."

Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Shannon, St. Johns, Que., and Miss C. Caza, Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ryan, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Peacock visited Mr. and Mrs. I. Robinson in Champlain, N.Y., on Sunday.

Mrs. Mabel Keddy visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Glass at the Physicians' Hospital on Sunday. Mrs. Glass' friends wish her a speedy recovery.

W. I. News

The Hemmingford branch of the W.I. met at the home of Mrs. T. R. Cleland. 22 members and some visitors enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon. Mrs. Ernest Moore, the president, was in the chair.

The business consisted of plans for a course in painting in the fall. This course will be open to anyone in the community. Miss Campbell, instructor for the Q.W.I. will give it. A school fair is being planned and a concert is to be held on the evening of June 20th.

Mrs. L'Espérance and Mrs. E. Merlin reported on the Q.W.I. short course at Macdonald College, which they attended. This course was outstanding. New ideas for work and for leadership training were brought to the branch.

The roll call brought some worthwhile answers. It was "How I can be a better member for the W.I." Mrs. Walter Keddy and Mrs. T. R. Cleland had a period of recreation for all. Games which called for thought and action formed part of the program.

Mrs. Harold Palmer commented on "Salad Week". She urged those assembled to serve more raw fruits and vegetables. This habit would promote health and also mean better markets for produce.

A good representation of the 48 certificates were presented at the meeting. Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. Bourdon, Mrs. C. B. Edwards and Mrs. H. Palmer.

WASTE NOT—WANT NOT

Every thrifty homemaker practises the old saying "Waste Not—Want Not" for she can't afford to waste anything. Generally, when food is wasted, it is not actually thrown away in heaps, it is dribbled away in dibs and dabs. Vegetable water goes down the sink, milk sours, bread goes stale and so on. The most logical person to concentrate on not wasting food is Mother but it should be a matter for each member of the family to think about. Everyone can do his or her part to assist.

There are many distractions to keep you from paying attention to your cooking. The phone rings or the baby cries and when you get back there is that peculiar odour—scorched food. When leaving a room, turn the stove down to low or turn it off completely or with certain foods, use a double boiler. It takes longer but it is safer in the long run. If the deed has been done and the food is scorched, put the part that doesn't stick into a clean pan immediately. Do not stir the scorched part or the burnt taste will spread. Once the food is in a clean pan, the next step depends on the type of food. If it is a vegetable, add more water and continue cooking. Incidentally, the home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture suggest that if the burnt taste still persists when the food is to be served, add a little cheese or onion juice to vegetables, a little catsup or Worcestershire sauce to eggs or a little chocolate or lemon flavor to milk products. These added flavours help to hide the burnt taste.

Improper cooking methods cause waste so often in the kitchen and all too often no one realizes it. For instance, in meat cookery, it has been proven that meat cooked in a very hot oven may shrink in weight as much as half. If it is properly cooked in a slow oven, it should shrink only about one-eighth of its weight. The motto is "Cook Meat Slowly". Vegetables which are overcooked as well as being unpalatable, have lost some of their nutritive value. Cook them as short a time as possible in as little water as possible.

Always use tested recipes and standard measuring cups and spoons when cooking. If improper utensils are used, the results are wasteful and costly.

Plan shopping so that there is no waste. Do you buy too many vegetables or do you have cheese go dry because it couldn't be used? When shopping, always have a grocery list. It may be a mental or a written one but base it on your meal plans. Learn how all the grade marks and the information on the label can help you to become an efficient shopper, not one who just picks up something here and there whether it is needed or not. When groceries are brought into the home, be sure to store each type of food in the place it will keep best. Some foods such as lettuce, butter, eggs and so on need refrigeration. Clean the lettuce and wrap it or place it in a vegetable crisper. Do not put it in the refrigerator—paper, string and all. Other foods such as cereals, nuts, raisins should be kept in closed containers, not just left in boxes which will probably break. Not only does proper storage keep food shelves in neater condition; it also emphasizes the home economists' point for the day: "Avoid Waste".

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL—Most people lock their doors when they set out on vacation. It's an elementary safety precaution. But windows, they tell me, are easy to "jimmy", and doors can be opened even when locked. That's why it seems to me that the best of all ways to protect your valuables is to keep them in a Safety Deposit Box at the BANK OF MONTREAL. It costs so little — less than two cents a day — and it saves so much worry and trouble. Another safety measure I've found while on holiday is B of M Travellers Cheques. They're extra-safe, so simple to cash . . . and only you can cash your cheques. And, by the way—why not start a B of M Sunshine Account for your vacation next year? I've found it the easiest way there is to pay for a better holiday every year. You just put away a definite part of every pay-cheque—get used to living on a little less—and are you glad when holidays come 'round again, and you can at last afford that dream-trip! Why not open your Sunshine Account today?

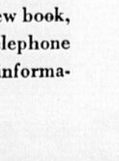

For Desserts with old-fashioned, home-made goodness that husbands and kiddies rave about—here's a tip I know you'll appreciate. Scoot to your grocer's and pick up some of those marvelous JELL-O PUDDINGS. So quick — so easy — so economical . . . and above all so downright delicious. There are four Jell-O Pudding flavours and three Jell-O Tapioca Pudding flavours. They're all delicious, prepared by the easy package directions and served just plain. But now and then I like to vary them—perhaps by folding diced, fluffy marshmallows into the puddings while they're still warm — or by sprinkling chopped-up nuts on top. Jell-O Puddings cost you only about 3c a serving to prepare—yet they make wonderfully nourishing, milk-rich desserts.

What A Relief! I feel like a new woman since I made my new "foot friend" . . . BLUE-JAY Corn and Callus Plasters with Phenylium. What's Phenylium? It's the most effective medication ever invented for corns and calluses . . . a real boon-'n'-blessing to us folks with unhappy feet. It took ten years of scientific research by Blue-Jay to develop Phenylium . . . and now they've perfected it to the point where it works 33% faster and is effective in 95% of the cases tested. So if corns and calluses are making you grumpy and blue . . . just buy Blue-Jay Corn Plasters with Phenylium and you'll feel "like new"!

One Thing I Never Forget to take to the cottage with me . . . a summer's supply of SAL HEPATICA. Many's the bright summer day Sal Hepatica has "saved" for me! One glass of sparkling, pleasant-tasting Sal Hepatica before breakfast chases away that sluggish feeling—puts me in a real holiday mood. Have a headache?—feel "lower than a bug's ear"? . . . Sal Hepatica has been a faithful family laxative for over 60 years. You can use it safely merely as a refresher in the morning—or at night—when your system feels the need of a good cleansing. Be sure all your vacation days will be bright and shining—take Sal Hepatica to the cottage with you!

For some weeks past we have been publishing in each edition of the Gleaner pictures of well known roads, buildings and scenes around this district for our readers to identify. This photo quiz is published with the idea of helping to educate the residents of this district in the knowledge of the district in which they live.

In last week's edition the top picture was of Montreal Cottons Textile Mill in Valleyfield, Que. In the lower photo is another view of a heavily travelled highway, the Montreal-Malone, No. 4. This picture was taken as the road enters the village of Dewittville, Que.

In this week's Quiz the top picture shows another heavily travelled highway in the district of Beauharnois. To what place does this road lead, Valleyfield, Huntingdon, Beauharnois or Chateauguay, Que? The lower picture shows a school of learning which burned to the ground several years ago. This school was very well known and even though it no longer stands it should not be difficult for our readers to identify. Name this school and tell where it is, in Valleyfield, Huntingdon, Chateauguay or Beauharnois?

Truman Says Forces Have Control of Air in Korea

Koje Prison Camp Under Strict Control — Prisoners A Lot Quieter

President Truman in a major policy address at Springfield, Mo., on Saturday declared the United States air force in Korea "can bomb the enemy at will, almost anywhere in his territory."

With this reply to Senator Robert Taft and other critics of U.S. government air policy, Truman linked the declaration that "short-sighted politicians" were playing with fire by slashing defence appropriations while Russia may be plotting "new Koreas in other parts of the globe."

Addressing the convention of the U.S. Army 35th division, with which he served in the first World War, Truman emphasized "the cold fact that we are still in danger from Russia." But he denied charges that the air force in Korea was at the mercy of Russian-made planes. He said the United States now has 91 air force wings in operation and will have 95 in two months, and 143 in two or three years. The army had been doubled in size in the last two years and is being re-equipped with the finest modern weapons. The navy not only has twice as many ships in full operation now as before Korea, but ships and weapons are improving all the time.

Truman made these points after speaking bitterly of "loose talk lately to the effect that our defence program has been a failure." He said much of this talk "is politically inspired — the kind of talk you would expect in an election year."

Campaign at Koje

British infantrymen drove Communist prisoners of war back from a barbed wire fence with tear gas Saturday as United Nations officers continued their campaign to break up the tough Red prisoners into smaller groups in the big compounds on Koje island off Korea.

The tear gas was used when prisoners refused to retreat from the vicinity of engineers, who were digging for a suspected escape tunnel. In this incident no one was reported hurt in the prison pen, housing 2,500 North Korean officers and 650 non-commissioned officers.

The notorious Compound 76 had been singled out as the first to be dispersed when the segregation of prisoners really gets under way. This is the compound where prisoners seized Brig.Gen. Grancis Dodd and held him hostage recently. Since then Dodd has been reduced to rank of colonel, and the new Koje prison camp commandant, Brig. Gen. H. L. Boatner, tough Marine officer, will use battletested troops for the separation process when they are moved to new compounds.

The British troops who went into action at the camp alternate with a company from the 1st battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment in guard duties along with other Commonwealth and American troops.

After a week of stern discipline the Koje prisoners were a lot quieter. Although the Koje camp at present has 17 compounds, most of them holding between 4,000 and 6,000 prisoners.

German Tension

East Germany's Communist boss has called for top-speed rearmament of his Soviet satellite state, already well along in whipping together a powerful war machine. Walter Ulbricht, Moscow's most trusted German agent who is deputy prime minister of East Germany, said that armed defence must be rushed to prevent the west's "enslavement of all Germany."

Ulbricht's new call to arms has two aims — to convince the occupants of the Russian-controlled East German state that re-arming is necessary, and to frighten those in West Germany from going through with proposals to join their western neighbors in a joint European defence set-up. While West Germany debates ratification of the new treaties with the Allies, East Germany has a head start in re-arming. The Communists there are expected to have at least 180,000 men under arms by the end of 1953.

Zarubin to Washington

A surprise change in Soviet ambassadors to the United States stirred speculation, but veteran diplomats at Washington do not expect any lessening of Russian opposition to major American policies. To succeed Alexander Panyushkin, ambassador for four years, Moscow named Georgi Zarubin, now ambassador in London. Zarubin was ambassador to Canada at the time when a spy ring centred in the Soviet embassy in Ottawa was disclosed in 1946.

While the Canadian investigators of the spy ring said Zarubin himself was not implicated then, Moscow's nomination of Zarubin put the American government on the spot. The White House and the state department must approve Zarubin's assignment to Washington before it becomes effective. Pondering the significance of the change, Washington experts noted that the outgoing ambassador was an expert on the Far East, whereas Zarubin primarily is expert on European problems and issues.

Jewish-Arab Flare-up

The Palestine mixed armistice commission at Amman, Jordan, was considering an alarming increase of border incidents between Palestine and Jordan. There were six deaths in three days, in incidents along frontier lines between the Jewish and Arab territories. Jordan officials accused the Israeli of touching the incidents off to force territorial concessions.

Moral Re-Armament

Delegates of the World Assembly for World Re-armament at Mackinac Island, Mich., were told by a German spokesman that hope for a united Europe lies in Franco-German unity. Heinrich Hellwege, representing West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenaur, said he would do everything he could to bring trust and understanding between Germany and France.

A French delegate, Col. Bruno de Mallery, declared: "We will never build anything for the future on a basis of hatred and rancor. Frontiers today pass through the human heart. There is no doubt at all that M. R. A. will succeed in uniting Western Europe."

WEDDING

FRASER-ROSS

A very quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. McHardy, Hunter St., Huntingdon, on Saturday, June 7th, 1952, when Miss Marjorie Jean Ross, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ross of Athelstan, Que., and neice of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Stevens, Dundee, Que., became the bride of John Gordon Fraser, son of the late John J. Fraser, and Mrs. Fraser, Dundee, Que. The Rev. A. E. Hagar officiated.

Recordings of "Sanctus", Shuberts "Ave Maria" and the "Lord's Prayer" were played before the ceremony and later the "Wedding March" and "Because." Baskets of pink carnations and pink and white snapdragons against the bank of ferns were used as decorations.

Miss Christina Ross, sister of the Bride, was Maid of honor and Miss Janet Maver was junior bridesmaid. Mr. Harold Fraser acted as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Gordon McHardy, wore a Periwinkle blue lace street-length frock with fitted bodice and picture skirt and a juliette cap of pale pink velvet forget-me-nots and shoulder-length veil of pink tulle illusion dotted with pink forget-me-nots with pale pink accessories. She carried a nosegay of pink rose-buds and lilly-of-the-valley.

The Maid of honor and the junior bridesmaid wore white organdy street-length frocks with forget-me-not blue sashes over a forget-me-not blue slip, with juliette caps of blue velvet forget-me-not and blue accessories. They carried nosegays of pink rose-buds and white carnations.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. R. G. Steven, wore a rose crepe gown trimmed with lace, white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli. The groom's mother, Mrs. J. J. Fraser, wore a navy blue crepe dress of triple sheer, navy hat, and white accessries. She wore a corsage of red sweet-heart roses.

A buffet luncheon was given following the ceremony by Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Steven at St. Francis Rod and Gun Club, Port Lewis for about 100 guests. Pink and white sweet peas, pink and white snapdragons and snow balls were used as decorations.

Following the buffet luncheon the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Ocean Park, Maine and Boston, Mass.

The bride wore a grey faille suit with fitted jacket and full skirt, a pink and navy hat and navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations for travelling.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser will reside in Dundee, Que., on their return.

Ontario Holstein Sale:

The annual sale of purebred Holsteins from the Provincial Hospitals, throughout the Province of Ontario, was held at Langstaff, Ont., on May 27. The 71 head offered realized $24,515.00 for a general average of $345.00 as compared with the average of a year ago of $445.00. Forty-two bred-heifers averaged $404.00; 27 open yearling heifers $263.00 and 2 bulls $202.00 each. The highest prices paid for bred heifers were respectively $525.00; $500.00 and $480.00. Prices of $450.00 each were paid for 3 others; while 2 others sold for $460.00 each and 1 sold at $475.00.

More About Foot and Mouth

According to the Scottish Farmer of May 24 the Foot and Mouth disease "Standstill Order" which had operated in Scotland since 5th of May ended at midnight 21st May. "But" says the report, "There is still some concern over the possibility of fresh outbreaks occurring. There have been further outbreaks this week, and the disease is still spreading in several south of England counties".

According to that report, Scottish slaughterings as between April 26 and May 20 included 1,228 cattle, 3,370 sheep, 82 pigs. Included in these slaughterings were 160 cattle and 1,104 sheep in the Isle of Mull but the largest number of cattle slaughterings were in the Wigton district of Southern Scotland—429 cattle, 531 sheep, 13 pigs. Other slaughterings were as follows: Midlothian—104 cattle, 480 sheep; Clackmannan and Stirling—131 cattle, 131 sheep, 37 swine; Aberdeenshire—28 cattle, 4 sheep.

However, startling and all as the foregoing totals are, the total number of cattle slaughtered in Britain since November 14, 1951, is: cattle 19,519, sheep 12,973, pigs 7,426, goats 20. It would also appear that in addition to the Isle of Mull slaughterings quoted above, more than 1,000 Blackface ewes and lambs have been slaughtered on that Island.

There have also been outbreaks on the Channel Islands of Guernsey and Jersey.

Research Work:

As will be noted later, while Great Britain has followed its usual drastic slaughter policy, it would appear that considerable research work is being carried on at Pirbright Research Station of the United Kingdom Ministry of Agriculture.

Virus Disease:

It might also be of interest to mention that according to the Scottish Farmer there are several strains of the virus of Foot and Mount disease. Also that, under natural condition, cattle do not contract the disease through the feet but through the mucous membranes. Like influenza in human beings and "Leaf Roll' in potatoes, says the Scottish Farmer, the disease is a virus one. Not only so, but it may be caused by different strains of virus within the Foot and Mouth disease range. Some strains spread much more rapidly than others. It would seem that the strain now affecting the continent of Europe, where 300,000 farms have recently become affected in the Western countries alone, is of this rapid-spreading type. The present outbreak in Great Britain is without doubt associated with that on the continent.

As its name indicates the disease affects the feet and mouths of cattle, sheep, swine and goats. Painful blisters appear, the animal slobbers at the mouth. The disease is spread by the secretions and excretions of the animals that are affected, even before the visible symptoms appear. It is capable of surviving outside the animal for quite long periods. It may be transmitted on the feathers and feet of birds. It may be transported on straw, hay or animal feeding stuffs.

Vaccines:

Several vaccines have been tried-out, particularly in Mexico where over 15 million cattle were vaccinated against the "A" type, but, says a report, this vaccination would have been useless against the "O" type should it have occurred. In that respect also, the British Minister of Agriculture reported in the House of Commons: "The principal drawbacks of an immunization policy are that no known vaccine protects against all the types of Foot and Mouth disease virus to which our livestock are exposed and that the protection against particular types is of relatively short duration. It would, therefore, be impracticable to keep all ,or even most, of the susceptible animals in this Country in a satisfactory state of immunity. On the other hand, the immunization of animals after an outbreak has occurred is not effective in preventing the spread of disease because it takes two or three weeks after inoculation before an immunity is produced. Moreover, the presence of immunized animals among our live stock would tend to perpetuate the disease, since an immunized animal may become affected and while showing little or no sign of illness may be capable of passing on infection to other animals. Consequently an immunization policy would lead to Foot and Mouth disease becoming established in this country and is incombatible with the policy of stamping out infection by slaughter which, I am satisfied is the cheapest and most effective in the circumstances of this country and which has the support of the leaders of the agricultural industry. Research into Foot and Mouth disease, including the use of vaccines is however, given the fullest backing by my Department". (End of quotation).

The Minister was also reported as having stated that research on Foot and Mouth disease was being carried out at the Foot and Mouth Research Institute at Pirbright; that £93,540 had been provided for grants to this Institute in his departments estimates for the current financial year; and that, with the approval of the Treasury, considerably increased funds were being made available.

Lucky Break:

In view of the foregoing, and despite the serious repercussions which followed the Saskatchewan outbreaks, it might be said that Canada had a lucky break in that these outbreaks occurred in a district in which the herds are small and greater distances apart than they are in Quebec and Ontario. Touch wood! but the picture might have been different if the disease had appeared in one or another of the great dairy cattle districts of Quebec or Ontario, particularly so in, say the Howick-Huntingdon district of Quebec, or Oxford County of Ontario.

Some time later the company wrote to the banker:

Covering The SPORTS

by Don Hutton

BLUE SUNDAY

The sun shone sporadically Sunday, but it didn't shine for our Royals Baseball Club.

They entertained the Chateaugay team and apparently gave them a Royal welcome, for the visitors immediately made themselves at home, at the Fair Grounds ball diamond and hammered the locals' pitching here and there.

When the dust of battle had cleared away, the final count was 15 to 5 in favor of Chateaugay.

But the Royals were badly handicapped, their coach, Spencer Gavin, was forced to miss the game due to illness in the family and five of the regular players were unable to attend. Don't be misled by the lopsided score, it was lucky the Royals could round up enough of the younger fry to fill out the team.

Capable players are available and ready to play but seem to feel that there is a lack of interest in their efforts, a lot more local support would increase the boys' morale. A scoreboard at the ball park and a set of uniforms would be steps in the right direction too. Perhaps the beverage distributors could take care of these latter items, they do it elsewhere, why not in Huntingdon?

From here, it would seem to be a good move if the local industries and business men could contribute few dollars for the development of the younger generation of athletes. They would be helping to build better citizens and better teams at the same time. For such a small investment of time and money, the returns would be great. One has only to look at the results obtained by the Police Juvenile Clubs of Montreal and other centres to realize how much they have lessened juvenile deliquency, when a youngster is actively engaged in sport, he hasn't the time or inclination to go out looking for trouble.

SOFTBALL

The Girls edition of the Royals is off on the trial of another championship and, from all appearances, have a good chance of bringing home the silverware again this season.

The Royalettes have two practice sessions behind them and plan to be out on the Fair Grounds diamond every Tuesday and Thursday evening until the season officially opens early in July.

About fifteen candidates are trying out for positions on the team. With most of last year's stars and several promising rookies showing good early season form, one can see there is going to be some friendly rivalry among them to secure a regular spot in the line up.

The postponed benefit drawing was held by the Lee's Corners Softball Team on June 8th.

1st Prize, a man's wallet drawn by Shirley Cosgrove and won by Marcus Walsh: 2nd Prize $5.00 in Merchandise, donated by Adelard Brisebois, drawn by Tony Rawavine, and won by Donald McRae.

The Huntingdon "West" softball club journeyed to Lee's Corners last Thursday for an exhibition game which was won by the home team 8-6.

BASEBALL IN MALONE

The Malone baseball team, managed by the firey Dutch Proechel, will open the season Sunday night at Baker Field Malone at 8.30 under the lights against the fast Camp Drum team of Watertown. Proechel has lined up some of the finest college players in the nation.

Sunday night's game against the army team from Watertown will give him a chance to look over his pitching staff and get set for the Northern League opener the 22nd. Camp Drum will come to Malone with a hard hitting club. On the club are several New York Yankee players who have been drafted. Among them are Emile Tellinger, Dick Russell and Bob Holcombe. Undoubtedly Mike Laffredo of the New York Giants will be on the mound. Also on the Camp Drum team are three ex Negro American League players — Stan Lucas, Frank Staley and Bob McDonald.

Any one wearing a beard will be admitted free. A beard growing contest is on in Malone and Massena for the Sesqui-centennial — so all the bewhiskered boys will have a special seat in the bleachers. Huntingdon and area residents are invited.

Approximately 1,500 fans are expected to be on hand Sunday night and an equal number will be on hand next Wednesday night to see the Lyon Mt. Miners play Malone at Baker Field under the lights. In the fast Northern League this year is Farnham, Que. (formerly of the Provincial League), St. Albans and Burlington, Vt., Plattsburg, Gabriels and Malone.

The Holsteins:

Hermas (Gus) Lajoie, Secretary of the Quebec Holstein Breeders' Association, gave high commendation to the Holstein exhibit; particularly as regards the quality of same and their fitting and handling. The judge was Professor Alex R. Ness, Chief Animal Husbandry Department, Macdonald College, and he made the usual good job he always does, be he judging Ayrshires, Jerseys or Holsteins.

The only outside the district exhibitor was Mrs. B. M. Hallward, North Hatley, Que., the others were all from the Huntingdon-Ormstown Holstein Club area, there being 9 exhibitors from Ormstown, 3 from Howick, 2 from Huntingdon, and 1 each from Athelstan, Riverfield, and St. Louis, in addition to Mrs. Hallward.

Through a technicality because the transfer of same had not been processed when the entry was made the first prize junior yearling bull, which was also junior champion male, was entered in the name of Raymondale Farms. However, that bull, Raymondale Beaudax by Montvic Rag Apple Pabst, is owned and was shown by J. J. Murphy, Huntingdon.

The reserve junior champion and first prize junior bull calf, Duke Raymondale Lauriston, was shown by W. S. Cullen, Glen Averst Count Abbey, was first senior yearling bull for R. W. Whiteford, Ormstown.

W. K. McRae and Son, Howick, won first in the 2-year-old bull class and the senior and grand male championships on Rockwood Canary Rocket.

The first prize aged bull, Cloverside Rag Apple Successor, was reserve senior and reserve grand champion for Douglas Glover, Ormstown.

J. J. Murphy won first in the junior heifer calf class on Southview Canary A., while the first award in the senior heifer class went to Derryvalle Rag Apple Jane for Donald P. Hooker, Ormstown. The latter also won first in the senior yearling heifer class and the junior female championship on Derryvale Helena.

First in the junior yearling heifer class and the reserve junior female championship went to J. R. MacDonald and Sons, Huntingdon.

Donald Hamilton, Athelstan, had the first two-year-old, dry, in Perfection Clover Posch, while Mrs. Hallward won first in the 2-year-old in milk, on Frittenden Regal Spot. She also won first in the 3-year-old dry, on Frittenden Regal Lorraine. The similar honour in the 3-year-old in milk class went to J. J. Murphy on Southview Korndyke Jane.

The first prize aged, dry cow was Pabst Rag Apple May for Douglas Glover.

First prize aged cow, in milk, senior and grand champion female was Garrymede Connie Pabst for W. K. MacRae and Son. The reserves in both instances went to J. J. Murphy on Southview Francy Babs, which was second in her class to the grand champion.

W. K. MacRae was first on graded herd and junior get of sire, while first on dairy herd and senior get of sire went to J. J. Murphy. First on progeny of dam went to Mrs. Hallward.

Dual-Purpose Shorthorns:

Sylvan Brae Farms, Howick, was the only exhibitor of Dual-Purpose Shorthorns but the animals exhibited are of a very high order indeed, inasmuch as several of them have previously won high honours at the Royal Winter Fair. However, Professor J. H. Hamilton, Macdonald College, meticuously and efficiently placed these animals in their various classes. The junior champion bull was Sylvan Brae Cavalier M., while Cossar Cornerstone was grand champion male.

Canadian Cattle

The Canadian, or French Canadian cattle were judged by J. P. Fleury, Chief of Production Service in Quebec for the Department of Agriculture of Canada.

Juniors at Ormstown

As in former years the Boys' and Girls' Calf Club, or rather, as now officially, the 4H Club, exhibits were of a very high order indeed, both as regards the animals themselves and the performance of their owners.

These classes were judged by Jim Moore, Assistant Secretary of the Canadian Council on Boys' and Girls' Club Work.

The Holstein Section was the largest with 12 entries in the junior calf section and 16 were in the senior calf section. The entries were equally from the Ormstown and Huntingdon Holstein Calf Clubs — 14 from each.

The first prize winner in the Junior Holstein calf class was shown by Raymond Lalonde, of Ormstown, with the calf of Claire Legault in second place. The first prize winner in the senior calf class, as also the champion of the Holstein section, was shown by Lyndon Hooker, Ormstown. The second prize winner in the senior class as also the reserve champion was shown by Darwin Legault, of Huntingdon.

Altogether 22 Ayrshire calves were paraded - - - 6 juniors and 16 seniors. Fifteen of the entrants belong to the Howick Calf Club, including two from Aubrey and two from St. Chrysostome; 7 belong to the Huntingdon Calf Club.

The winner in the junior class was the calf of Billy Ness, Howick, with second prize going to Patricia Irving, Laguerre (of the Huntingdon Club).

John Nolan, Huntingdon, showed the first prize senior calf which also won the championship of the Ayrshire section. Second in the senior calf class, as also the reserve championship, went to the entry of Roland Vaillancourt, St. Chrysostome.

Only one class of Jersey calves was shown, with seven entries in same. The winner of first prize and the champion ribbon was the calf of Jean McEwen, Ormstown. Second and reserve champion was the calf of Guy Daoust, Huntingdon.

Dundee W.I. Hears Several Interesting Addresses

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. E. J. Cameron and Mrs. Franklin Cameron were joint hostesses to an an almost full membership of the W.I. and to several guests.

One of the highlights of the afternoon was a talk given by Mrs. Duncan Brown of Ormstown. Mrs. Brown is a member of the Cerebral Palsy Association in Montreal and she spoke on the subject, "When a Child has Cerebral Palsy.". She spoke from first hand knowledge for she told of the wonderful way her 14-year-old son had benefitted from treatment received for 8 years. From not being able to walk at all at 6 years old he is now able to walk by holding on a person's arm. The right arm is useless, but, nevertheless he has learned to use a typewriter with his left and had typed out all his mother's prepared talk.

Mrs. Brown said, "Cerebral Palsy, or cerebral spastic paralysis, is becoming one of the greatest causes of crippling among children. Surveys in several States indicate that each year seven infants with cerebral palsy are born per hundred thousand of the population.

Cerebral Palsy is a disability of the nerves and muscles caused by damage to certain centres of the brain that govern muscle control. When the centers of learning and intelligence escape this damage, the afflicted person will have all of his native intelligence, even though his strange facial contortions, speech impediment and difficulty in writing might make him appear to the uninformed person as a mental defective.

In general, there are two main types of Cerebral Palsy, which roughly account for about 85 per cent of the children afflicted with this disability. These two are (1) spasticity and (2) athetosis.

In spasticity, the muscles are tense and contracted. The limbs have a tendency to react much too strongly to stimuli. This condition exists because the centers in the brain which would, in the average individual, ration out the exact amount of energy required to meet a certain stimulus, have been damaged in a greater or lesser degree.

The athetosis, which is slightly more numerous than the first, is a condition recognized chiefly by involuntary and unorganized muscular movement. Although spascicity and athetosis are mixed in varying degrees, much of what appears to be spascicity in the athetoid may be the extreme tension resulting from his desperate efforts to control his unvoluntary movements, as a normal person tenses his muscles when he is trying to write or thread a needle on a jiggly vehicle. The nature of disability depends on the part of the brain damaged. Whereas spasticity is caused by damage to the motor area of the cortex of the brain, athetosis is usually caused farther down, in the basal gangali or the brain stem.

The remaining 15 per cent of the cases are made up of three types (1) ataxia, (2) tremor and (3) rigidity. The first of these ataxia, means that the afflicted person has trouble with his balance and orientation in space because of damage to the brain centers which normally give this sort of control, the victim walks uncertainly, staggers, has difficulty in climbing stairs. The last two varieties, tremor and rigidity—are rather extensive brain damage, and children suffering from them frequently have suffered damage to the learning centers as well. In tremor, the trembling of the extremities is quite regular, in which it differs from athetosis. Rigidity is not the same as the spastic muscles. It is a condition some doctors have referred to as "lead pipe rigidity", because the muscles feel somewhat like soft lead.

In its exact sense, the term "palsy" means anything interfering with proper control of muscles. Thus cerebral palsy arises in the brain, and spinal palsy in the cord.

Without minimizing the seriousness of the problems presented by these children, we should nevertheless realize that the situation of many of them is by no means hopeless.

A child with cerebral palsy creates problems in the family which sometimes are acute in nature. Acceptance of the child by the parent and determination to make the best of the situation will be helped along not only by advice from experts but by mere association with other parents and a chance to talk over problems. Recognizing the fact that a program of parent education in cerebral palsy is probably more easily planned than carried out.

Such a course of training would bring to the parent an understanding of the causes of cerebral palsy, the varying manifestations of the affliction, and the differentiation of function between the physician, the therapy technician, the teacher and the parent.

With proper treatment and training children suffering from C. P. often can and do improve physically.

The fundamentals of treatment are the therapies, including physiotherapy, occupational therapy, and speech therapy because these children do not have the normal patterns of arms, legs or tongue. These patterns have to be developed by training.

The Physical therapists are skilled in many physial measures to bring about perfection of function. Massage, relaxation and many other methods are used as indicated in the particular child.

Occupational therapy is very valuable in combining the newly acquired motions into useful activities for self-help and skill.

Speech therapy is necessary in a large percent of the cases, and the various techniques in this field must again be determined by the type of C. P. and the resulting type of speech loss. There cannot be one speech method useful for all cerebral palsied.

Functional therapy is training by the use of apparatus such as chair, table and standing tables.

Braces play an important part in the C. P. There again it must be emphasized that they are not a method of cure, but an aid to the total treatment picture. If for example, a given child's legs cross when he attempts to walk, he cannot practice and hence can't learn. But if a brace can be applied which will keep his legs from crossing, he can then practice, which he desperately needs and can eventually learn.

In Montreal there are at present about 200 cases receiving skilled help and treatment, out of a probable 2,000 while another 5,000 victims in the rest of the province are not getting any worth while help."

Another interesting item on the program was a number of short papers on Mental Health. This group reading was led by Mrs. Gregor Leslie, who commented on the fact that a large percentage of hospital beds are occupied by the mentally ill. Mrs. Lester Fraser read about the mental health of children. Tension in the home affects the child and he may face a difficult situation that he does not know how to cope with, so he strikes out blindly. A creative child is thin-skinned and his feelings easily hurt. Sometimes there is a poor relationship between mother and child. The child can't manage his feelings all alone so he creates an imaginary companion who assumes responsibility and bears the brunt of any misdemeanors. Facial tics, temper, nightmares are all caused by some emotional upset.

Mrs. A. H. Fraser read about Teen-Age Gangs. These gangs are usually formed by boys who are discontented in their own homes. Benng a gang member gives a boy a feeling of importance, security, of being wanted.

Mrs. Wm. MacPherson said that the ghost of middle-age was "time on one's hand." Women who have no special hobby or work to do try different methods of combatting this ghost. Some try eating more but they only gain in weight, others run to lectures. One should prepare early for middle age. There needs to be courage, foresight and a blueprint.

Mrs. H. A. Cameron told about mental illness being very common, the No. 1 problem. However, the cure lies in one's self. One of the best helps for one's problems is to talk it over with someone else, not keep it to one's self as so many try to do. There are many things one can do about conditions and the best place to begin is at home.

Mrs. Lester Fraser won the household hint prize by giving a recipe for a window cleaner. Save left-over tea and to one pint add 1 teaspoonful of glycerin. This is also supposed to help keep flies away.

Conveners' reports were as follows: It was suggested that something be done another year about getting children to help destroy the numerous caterpillar nests. A child's garden education should begin with the home garden. Women should be represented on F.A.O. In half of the states in the United States it is compulsory for white bread to be "Enriched" by the addition of three of the B vitamins and iron to the flour or bread. However the nutritional disturbances caused by the lack of these vitamins are not prevalent in Canada and leads to the conclusion that the introduction of bread "Enriched" to U.S. standards would have very little nutritional advantage to offer Canadians.

The C.A.C. urges Canadians to eat more eggs and cheese. Also the C.A.C. has been asked to try to get meat companies to change the appearance of the sliced bacon wrappers as customers can't determine the amount of fat contained within the red and white wrappers.

Ideas for thrift are asked for at the office in Macdonald College.

Members are asked to pay 20c each to help defray the cost of the coming Triennial Conference at Toronto.

A short sing-song brought the afternoon's program to a close. A delicious supper was served by the hostesses and a social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. Basil Hewson of Vankleek Hill, Ont., attended the Fraser-Ross wedding on Saturday and is staying for a week with her mother, Mrs. Cora Fraser and her brother, Harold.

Miss Doris Fraser is teaching at the Cottage School for Girls at Mt. Bruno during the summer months.

Mrs. Lester Fraser recently attended the Convocation exercises at the Montreal General Hospital, when her sister, Miss Pearl Burbank, graduated.

Huntingdon

TOWN NEWS

Huntingdon Citizens' Band held a regular practice session in the Masonic Temple, Lorne Avenue, Monday evening. Attendance was excellent. Most of the two-hour period was devoted to the new marches to be played at the Annual Quebec Festival of Bands, being held this year in Valleyfield on July 6th.

Bandmaster D. Moore announced that he had received an invitation for the unit to take part in the annual St. Jean Baptiste Parade in Montreal. He also explained that an immediate decision was necessary as the parade will be held on the 24th inst. As this date falls on a Tuesday, there was considerable discussion with regard to accepting the engagement, as it would be a working day for nearly all. Moreover, the memory of this long march from Pie IX at Sherbrooke straight up to Atwater is still fresh in the minds of some — one even complained he could still feel the blisters on his feet.

Mr. Moore, however, reminded the members that eleven new uniforms have been ordered and the Band is in debt several hundreds of dollars; also, besides helping out financially, he stated that the out-of-town publicity would be of benefit. When the matter came to a vote, all agreed the invitation should be accepted and each promised to do his utmost to attend.

Members of the band feel they owe an apology to residents of the community who have supported the band so admirably. The members are keenly aware that they should be playing in different sections of the town each week and that the public should have the opportunity to hear the band more often. However, as mentioned above, the costs incurred are greater than had been anticipated, and in order to keep going without launching a monetary appeal, the band is forced to accept outside paying events. This, of course, means extra practicing and less time to play at home. It is hoped that the band can meet an extra night next week and play on the streets. In the near future, a series of band concerts in the park will start.

All money derived from outside appearances is banked in a general fund. Each member takes part at his own cost with regard to transportation and other costs involved in a day's outing. It is hoped that when the readers of this column understand the difficulties involved, they will understand the necessity of accepting out-of-town engagements.

GEESE ON FARM FOR 60 YEARS

For as many years as Mr. and Mrs. William Irwin have lived on the Flynn Sideroad the farm has been known to a great many people as the farm where the geese are seen close to the road. Yes, Mr. Irwin says he has had geese every year for at least 60 years of his life. The Irwins now have the habit of rearing two or three dozen goslings each summer and they inform the Gleaner that each Christmas they can expect upwards of a hundred calls for geese. They sell what geese they have to folks who have been buying each year with marked regularity. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin stated to the Gleaner that the goslings have to be fed for the first month of their life and after that they feed on grass until about two months before being killed and dressed for the Christmas trade. During the latter two months, when being fattened, they eat a good quart and a half of mixed grain per day per goose.
