Many Pay Respects At Funeral On Sunday In Ormstown For The Late Preston Hooker

The late Preston Hooker

One of the largest funerals in the history of Ormstown was that held for the late Preston Hooker. Mr. Hooker was 65 years old. His death occurred as a result of the collision of two cars on Highway 2 last Thursday, April 9th.

Preston Hooker was one of Canada's leading swine breeders. He was Vice-President of the Ormstown Livestock Breeders' Association and since 1950 was also a Director of the association. He was noted as an outstanding judge of swine and his name is a byword at livestock shows from Halifax to Winnipeg where he has judged at all the major exhibitions. He has held the Todd Trophy and Brethor Trophy on several occasions and his stock won the grand championship for years. He was past president of the Swine Breeders' Association of Canada.

In the days of silver fox fur business both Preston and Alan were leading breeders of the silver and muted fox.

Preston Hooker was a trustee of Ormstown Presbyterian Church where he and his family attended almost every Sunday. He was a devoted husband and father and his love of children was evident in his everyday life. Many a small child has been made happy by his thoughtfulness.

One of the joys of Preston's early life was sports. He was a great hockey fan and while he never played that game very much he was well-known for his weight lifting, caber throwing, wrestling, boxing, and tug-of-war.

He married Lillias Greig in October 1923. She bore him three children, Ronald who died in infancy, Donald of Ormstown and Heather (Mrs. Dale Morrison). He leaves to mourn his loss in addition to his son and daughter, five grandchildren, three brothers, Earle, Nelson and Alan all of Ormstown and one sister Mrs. Angus MacNaughton.

Tone Of Annual Meeting Barrie Memorial Hospital Points Up Need Of Expansion

The Annual General Meeting of The Barrie Memorial Hospital was held on Wednesday, April 8th, at 8 P.M. in the Board Room of the hospital.

Chairman Norman H. Simms opened the meeting with references to the passing of two men formerly associated with the hospital; Mr. James Barrington who had been an active governor from 1948 to 1954, and Mr. Wm. Carr who had been the auditor for the hospital from 1939 to 1960 inclusive . Both these men had rendered valuable service, said the chairman.

Following the adoption of the Minutes of the last annual meeting, the chairman proceeded to give a summation of the activities of the hospital in 1963. The various reports follow.

REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN — 1963

We have had another busy year as you will learn from the reports that will follow. Not only were we short of standard ward beds but private and semi-private accommodation was frequently not available and, because of the increased occupancy, we were unable to carry out the usual programme of repainting part of the hospital each year.

In an effort to relieve the 2nd floor, (Surgical and Obstetrical), the children's ward was moved, as of July 1st, into one of the 2 private rooms on the 3rd floor. This move was not altogether satisfactory but it did provide 3 more adult beds on the 2nd floor. On the other hand, we lost a private room and can now only accommodate three children instead of four so the change gave us a net increase of only one bed.

It will be difficult to handle more patients but we anticipate an increase of about 300 adult days which will bring the total up to 17,000 in 1964. This will mean an occupancy rate of 83%; we surely will be crowded at times.

It should be explained that while a large hospital may be able to operate at 90% occupancy, or even at 95% for a period, a 56 bed hospital runs into difficulties when occupancy rises above 75%. A 5% to 10% leeway in a five hundred bed hospital provides 25 to 50 beds to take care of the usual fluctuations whereas 17% of 56 leaves only 9 beds. While the doctors can schedule their elective treatment cases, emergencies and obstetrical cases must be provided for on short notice. Even 9 beds may seem to be ample but when you consider that our obstetrical patients have fluctuated from zero to 15 you will understand our difficulties.

Expansion

Last year I mentioned that the Board had engaged Messrs. Agnew, Peckham and Associates to make a survey of your hospital and to suggest a long term plan. Their report was received and studied by the Governors and adopted as a basis of our submission to the Government.

Mr. Kennedy arranged for an interview with the Honourable Dr. Couturier, Minister of Health, in Quebec City on December 4th. Unfortunately circumstances beyond his control prevented the Minister from receiving the delegation from your hospital. We did however explain our needs and provided further information to his secretary, Mr. Dussault; we are still waiting to hear from the Minister. In the meantime we are continuing to study our building requirements. Dr. Ronaldo Belanger is Chairman of the Medical Staff Committee. A committee of nurses has also been formed.

Campaign for Funds

We are also planning for the fund raising campaign that will be necessary. We now have in hand or due to us about $150,000. and by the time we start to build, I expect this sum will have increased to $200,000. We will be entitled to a substantial amount from the statutory grants now provided by law, but must hope for generous help from the Government of Quebec, from citizens of the area served by the "Barrie" and from friends outside the area. Our present hospital is free of debt because about $500,000 was voluntarily donated to us but we must again ask many of the same donors, and many new donors, to subscribe generously. Unfortunately, some will lack the means to give and some will not give according to their means, so we must ask for much higher amounts from those able and willing to support the hospital. A number of friends have already indicated their desire to make liberal donations provided payments can be spread over 3 to 5 years. Your Governors have created an Expansion Fund account and advance gifts, large and small, will be placed in this account. By spreading the payments over several years it will make the giving that much easier. For example, a $1,000. donation spread over five years means an outlay of only, $200. a year, or $100. a year would equal a donation of $500. in five years; all gifts will be eligible for income tax deduction. Those living on a fixed income and who may not wish to reduce their capital could also help by providing in their will that a certain sum of money be paid to the Barrie Memorial Hospital at Ormstown, P.Q. If we knew, in advance, of such bequests it would help us with our financing. As of March 31st the amount in this fund was $3,490.00.

We have another possible source of financial help; I am referring to the Centennial of Confederation Act. Under this Act the Federal Government will make a grant of $1.00 per person providing the Provinces make a matching grant. This money is to help to defray the cost of projects of a memorial nature that are completed by 1967. The project must be lasting and useful, and an extension to a hospital would seem to fulfill these requirements. We have written to the Honourable Provincial Secretary and hope to have a decision at an early date.

Cuisenaire Workshop Being Held In Chateauguay Valley

On Saturday, April 11th, at Valleyfield, some thirty teachers from seven schools in the Chateauguay Valley went back to school themselves to learn about the teaching of Arithmetic. Mrs. Freda Hurrell of Baie d'Urfe, a specialist in Cuisenaire and an instructress at one of the Workshops held in July of last summer at Lennoxville, illustrated the advantages of the Cuisenaire system by teaching Mrs. Garneau's grade 1 group for a half-hour period. This class, to which Mrs. J. Garneau has taught Cuisenaire arithmetic since September, seemed quite at ease with arithmetical aspects in division, substraction, multiplication and fractions, problems which often give pupils in higher grades considerable difficulty.

After the Grade 1 children were dismissed the teachers had coffee and doughnuts, then they were given the Cuisenaire rods and Mrs. Hurrell set about teacher instruction.

There are four more workshops scheduled — three at Huntingdon and one at Ormstown. The session at Huntingdon on Saturday, April 25th, will involve a demonstration of Cuisenaire at both the Grade 1 and Grade 2 levels of instructions. Mrs Prinle will demonstrate with her Grade 1 class and Miss MacIntosh with her Grade 2 class.

The schools from which teachers have registered for the Workshop are Huntingdon, Valleyfield, Ormstown, Howick, Hemmingford, Beauharnois and Dundee. At present two of these schools — Huntingdon and Valleyfield — are teaching Cuisenaire. It is believed that some other schools in the Chateauguay Valley will be instituting this new method of teaching arithmetic next September. The current series of workshops subsidy from the Chateau-subsidy fro mthe Chateauguay Valley Teachers' Association and by a $2.00 registration fee which each attending teachers pays. The Workshops has been organized primarily through the efforts of Miss A. MacIntosh who also sits on the Provincial Regional Cuisenaire Committee.

Judgment Rendered In Favor of Fry-Cadbury Milk Producers Board

February 12, 1964, the Fry-Cadbury Milk Producers, represented by Messrs. Elie Leblanc, president, André Billette, vice-president, Siméon Chabot, treasurer, Sylvio St-Michel, secretary, Maurice Caza, Fernand Leduc and Gérard Brisson, directors appeared before the Marke' Board for an arbitration against the Fry-Cadbury Co., represented by Messrs. Hancock, Rust and their legal advisor.

The dispute had to do with the price paid for milk. The judgment favored the Milk Producers, there was an increase of .25 cents per hundred pounds bringing the price to $3.20; for surplus milk the price will be from $2.95 to $3.05.

It is too bad that the judgment was not rendered earlier in the winter; it could have affected in the prices paid by other competitors. We take this opportunity to advise farmers that it would be wise for them to join a strong dairy syndicate.

Chateauguay Valley Historical Society To Hold Third Annual Meeting April 23rd

The Chateauguay Valley Historical Society is holding its annual general meeting at 8.00 p.m., April 23rd, 1964 at the Clubhouse of the Woodlands Recreation Association, Lake St. Louis Rd., Ville de Lery, Quebec.

Since its initial success last October 19th in celebrating the 150th Anniversary of the Battle of the Chateauguay at Allans' Corners, the society has expanded considerably in both size and ambition. As its new executive prepares to take office for the coming year the society has many interesting projects and lectures in mind.

The speaker for this first meeting in 1964 will be Mr. Eric McLean of the Montreal Star, who has recently made news by his interest in restoring buildings in Montreal. His topic for the evening will be "Old Montreal". All interested are cordially invited to attend this meeting which promises to be the first of several informative gatherings planned for this year.

Young Musicians To Be Featured Friday Evening at H.H.S

An open meeting of the Huntingdon High School Home and School Association will be held in the school auditorium this Friday April 17 at 8:15 p.m.

This is to be Music Appreciation Night and is an effort to encourage and further the musical education of children in the area.

Grade 6A choir will be in attendance as well as the senior members of the combined Ormstown and Huntingdon High School Band. Piano, vocal and instrumental solos will be rendered and a display by the Huntingdon High School Majorettes will be seen.

Do not miss this coming event. Encourage our young people to continue their music studies. There will ne admission charge.

Mgr. David's Brother Dies

The Gleaner learned with regret this morning (Wednesday) of the death in Montreal of Ovide David, brother of Mgr. J. A. David, of St. Joseph's Parish, Huntingdon. Mr. David, who was 72 years of age had been a locomotive engineer for the Canadian National Railway for 42 years.

He leaves to mourn his loss six children, five of whom are married. Jacques, the youngest is chaplain at Richard Secondary School in Verdun. Mr. David's wife and six other children predeceased him. He also leaves three brothers and two sisters.

The body is resting at the Bourgie Funeral Home, 4505 Notre Dame St. W., in Montreal. The funeral will be held at 9 a.m. on Saturday, April 18 in Ste. Clothilde Church, corner of Notre Dame and Cote St. Paul.

The Gleaner joins the entire community in extending sincere condolences to the bereaved family.

44 H. H. S. Students To Take Part In Operation Scholarship

The following are the names of the pupils from Grades 7 to 11 at Huntingdon High School who have earned the right to take part in Operation Scholarship. These youngsters have received 80% or better in the Easter report or stood first, second or third in their class. On April 18th these students will be going to see Romeo and Juliet at La Place des Arts in Montreal. A bus will leave at 6 p.m. that evening.

The pupils eligible for Operation Scholarship are: Judy Lynn Fiset, Anne Fraser, Gail Middlemiss, Brian Mennie, Deborah Gaw, Karl Domingue, Cheryl Park, Pat MacNaughton, Lois Ann McCoy, Henney Rozema, Jessie Fraser, Carolyn Brooks, Anthony Anderson, Wendy Lee Fiset, Nina Caldwell, Gary Blake, Bonnie Grant, Bonnie Cunningham, Jack Smellie, Pearl Stewart, Glen Wallace, Martha Chodat, Barbara Beal, Marilyn Leggett, Sheila Fraser, Rita Leslie, David Fraser, Glen Blachford, Gordon Elder, Robbie Bonenberg, Craig Laberge, Judy Johnson, Donna Hayter, Mary Greenbank, Sherry Lou Fiset, Joanne Arnold, Kathryn Duke, Barbara Fraser, Kathleen Fraser, Florence Stote, Gary Blackford, Wayne Rutherford, Donald Frier and Jensen Grey.

Four Howick Area Residents Observe April 10th Birthdays

(By Mrs. Crawford)

Friday, April 10 was Birthday Day around Howick as four interesting people took one more move forward.

Miss Margaret Morison, the only lady, and senior member of the quartet, 81 years of age, was born at Fertile Creek and graduated as a teacher from McGill Normal School. A few years later she returned home to take her place on the farm and care for her parents.

Living quietly on the farm meant more time for reading, good books are a treasured part of her life. Along with the usual work around a farm house, there was the pleasant hobby — which, also involves lots of hard work — of growing flowers and beautiful house plants. They fill the windows and each plant is handled lovingly.

To the community there was something special to give — the reciting of poetry and presentation of monologues. This talent was featured on many social occasions, and if you haven't heard "Maggie Morison" present, A "Pleasant Half Hour on the Beach", or recite Les Vieux Temps and other Drummond selections you have missed something.

Frank Sutherland and Jas. B. Elliot may wish to be coy about ages, but we know, give or take a few years, they will soon be staring 70 in the face. Jas. B. isn't in the public eye much but we can remember when he went overseas in World War I and one day later on rode a "cow catcher" at a C.N.R. crossing! He's the answer to a convener's prayer when it comes to collecting for the Red Cross and other worthy causes, and he is also a parish valuator. Well informed on many subjects he can hold his own in any discussion.

Frank Sutherland was brought up in Prince Edward Island, but has travelled around a bit. For several years he was busy as a fox rancher but later and until recently he has been a house painter, exterior and interior. During World War II he worked at this trade in Newfoundland and other places.

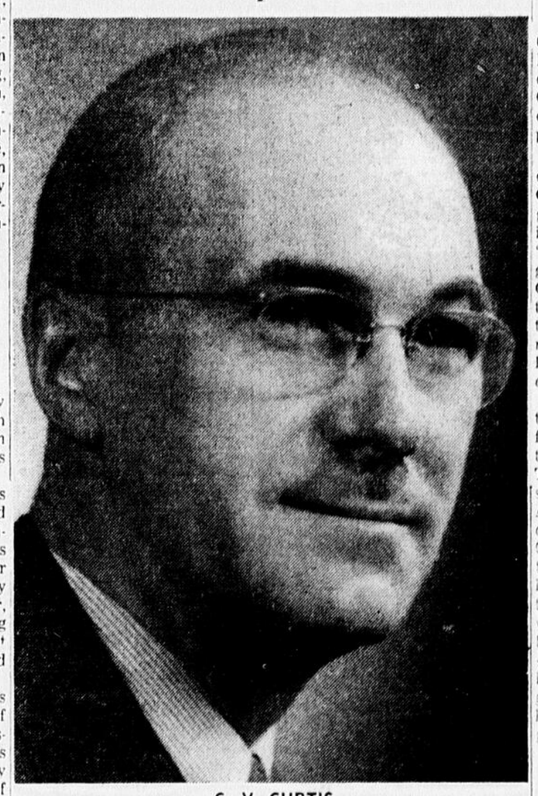
Due to a faulty valve in his make-up he has spent most of the past two years in the hospital or resting at home. This has given him an opportunity to wear an accumulation of fancy gift pyjamas.

Yesterday friends called to chat and as usual went away feeling cherrier than when they arrived.

Frank is a colourful character with a gift for telling an entertaining story. As such, he must have made life bearable for many housewives faced with the inevitable confusion of interior decorating.

Last but not least, our young friend Ian Watson, first member of Parliament from Howick had a birthday too. We understand the door mat usually flew back behind him as he raced to catch the morning bus during college days, but he made the grade, and time will tell what he makes of his opportunities. Our best wishes go to him for a good life and a sucessful career. There may be others in Howick with the same birthday, so best wishes to all for many more happy anniversaries.

C. V. Curtis To Retire As Business Manager Of Barrie Memorial Hospital



C. V. CURTIS

At the conclusion of his report given before the Annual General Meeting of The Barrie Memorial Hospital, held on Wednesday evening last, Mr. C. V. Curtis announced his retirement from the post of Business Manager which he has held since July 1st, 1953. His resignation had been previously submitted to the Board of Governors and received by them with deep regret. The resignation will take effect upon the appointment of a successor, but not later than July 1st. of this year.

However, it has been agreed between the Board and Mr. Curtis that, after that date, he will undertake the direction and follow-up of the pending financial campaign which is so essential to the proposed expansion of the hospital.

Before coming to The Barrie, Mr. Curtis was a well known Montreal Public Relations and Business Counsellor and represented that vocation in the Rotary Club of Montreal for many years, resigning his membership only upon leaving for Ormstown.

At that time he was also President of the Community Council of Notre Dame de Grace which represented over 115,000 people through 78 organizations combining in the public interest. Mr. Curtis had just been re-elected for a second term when the opportunity came to move from the city to the country, a move he had long been contemplating.

Of his excellent service to the Barrie Memorial during the intervening years, due comment will be made at a more appropriate time. Suffice it to say now that there are many, besides his hospital associates, with whom he had come into contact who will miss him greatly from his accustomed position.

Gordon Green Elected Pres. Of Ormstown Lions Club

A regular meeting of the Ormstown Lions Club was held at the Ormstown Hotel on March 7th. Lion President Cliff Moore occupied the chair and 21 members were present.

Mr. John Sancton, President of the Monitor Publishing Company of Montreal, was the guest speaker and he gave an interesting talk entitled "View of French Fact by English Speaking Resident of Quebec". He covered many of the questions under discussion today in a very capable manner. He was introduced by Lion B. McGerrigle and thanked by Lion Wm. Greig Sr.

At the business meeting of the club a letter was read from the Lions Club of Montreal in connection with the T.V. Auction Sale which was so successfully held last year. After some discussion it was decided that the Ormstown Club would not participate this year as it was felt that local merchants had more than done their share last year and that it would not be fair to call on their generous support again. Lion Andy Kelen gave his personal autobiography tracing his life from his birth in Budapest to the present day in Ormstown. The Financial Statement was read by Lion Merv. Barrington. He reported that club finances were in fairly healthy condition at the present time but charitable commitments would deplete these quite rapidly. Lion B. McGerrigle reported on the activities of the skating rink for the past season. A successful season was enjoyed with many youngests taking part in various skating and hockey activities. The Music Festival Committee reported that plans were well under way for the Music Festival and that a larger entry than in former years was expected this year.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President Lion Gordon Green; Vice-Pres., Lion W. Harkness and Wm. Greig Jr. and Serge Damour; Secretary Lion Frank Anderson: Treasure Lion Mervyn Barrington: Tail Twister Lion Gerry Beaudin: Lion Tamer Pierre Dorais. The following are the Directors for the year: Lions Eldas Primeau: Merrill Barrington: Ken Aldridge: Romeo Brunet: Another successful meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem

Four Sites Being Considered For Proposed Regional School

Huntingdon Town Council met for an adjourned meeting on Monday evening, in the County Building. All members were present and the spectators' gallery was filled to capacity. Main topic of discussion centred on four proposed sites for the new 30-plus classroom school to be erected in Huntingdon by the Catholic Regional School Commission. Messrs. Georges Allard, President of the Regional School Commission; Louis Derome, Engineer; Raphael Barrette, Secretary-Treasurer and Commissioners Adrien Miron, Raoul David and Alloma Caza attended on behalf of the School Commission.

Four sites are being considered for the new school complex: one on Route 52, offered by Mr. Raoul David; one north of the C.N.R. N.Y.C. raidroad tracks, between Lake and Bouchette Sts., owned by Mr. A. C. H. Picard; one north of St. Joseph's Church, extending to the Ridge Road and Cemetery St., owned by Mr. Malcolm Arnold; one owned by Messrs. Godfroy and Alfred Leduc, extending from Fairview Rd. to the Chateauguay River (front of Fair Grounds).

The delegation waited on the council to learn what proportion of costs the town is willing to assume to service the respective sites; how soon the services would be available. Mr. Allard stated he was hopeful that the town would pay all costs for water and sewer services, but Mayor Lefebvre stated the town would only be prepared to undertake 50%. The arrangement ap-

Howick Scout And Cub News

Sunday morning about 50 boys from the Howick Scout Troops and Cub Packs attended Howick United Church for their Annual Scout Church Parade.

They looked smart in their trim uniforms as they paraded, led by flag-bearers Roy Younie Jr., Keith Wright and Donald Chisholm.

Roy Younie, S. Gebbie and L. Gruer took part as readers and the offering was taken by Alex Templeton, Austin McKell, Dick Angell and Albert Plaizier.

The group listened attentively as Student Minister G. H. Lavery B.A. preached on the theme. "Our Duty to God," in accord with the first part of the Scout Code.

The prophet Amos was willing at the risk of his life, to prophesy the downfall of his people, because they had forgotten God.

Leaders of the Scouts were F. Leblanc, R. Angell,. Bert Champ and Cubmaster L. Eldridge and assistants M. Fingland and I. Knox.

On Saturday afternoon ten junior Scouts enjoyed visiting Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chisholm's sugar camp.

They were joined by ten more Scouts from Chateauguay and all had a grand time gathering sap and watching, also, the complete operation of syrup making. They learned a bit about tractors and the Chateauguay boys waited after 4.30 to watch the cows being milked — something new to them.

Scout Leaders Roy Angell, Fred Leblanc and Bert Champ were in charge. Several Scouts cycled to the party, and on the way one boy was nipped by a dog. He was taken to the Medical Centre and received treatment.

The Scouts extended a hearty vote of thanks to the Chisholm family for their kind hospitality.

Howick

Well-Known Citizens Mourned

Two well-known citizens of Howick are at rest after weary months of illness. Their suffering was made easier by the kindly care they received at the Barrie Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. R. Moore lived with and assisted her sister at the Preston Home. The ladies who live there loved her for her kindness and cheerful manner. The funeral service was held at the McGerrigle Funeral Parlours on Monday morning, April 13th, with burial at Morrisburg, Ont.

Mr. Jos. Desgroseilliers, known to scores of people as "Joe, the Barber," worked at his shop in Howick for 50 years. His funeral service was held Saturday, April 11th, at the parish church, with burial in that cemetery.

We'll miss these good people and our sympathy is extended to their families and relatives.

The community was saddened, too, by the accidental death of Mr. Preston Hooker of Ormstown, well-known to many people in this district as a farmer of note and a director of Ormstown Exhibition.

Public Speaking Finals

A county report of the finals of the Public Speaking Contest, sponsored by the Chateauguay-Huntingdon Women's Institutes will be found in another column. About 25 attended from the Howick School district and they were impressed by what they heard. Congratulations to Gary and Diane Allen who placed second and third.

W.I. Meeting

Howick W.I. met for the Annual Quilting Party, Pot Luck Dinner and meeting at Mrs. Peter Peddie's home on Tuesday, April 7th. Twenty ladies were there and they had a jolly time. Quilts were set up about 10 a.m. and before the afternoon ended two quilts were finished. One was for the Red Cross.

The Pot Luck Dinner is always a big secret. As usual everything was delicious and as varied as if it had been carefully planned. Fish and meat casseroles, sausage rolls, baked beans, salads, pies, etc. One special treat was served. English Trifle, Mrs. J. J. Peddie's part in the program was to give a demonstration, so this elegant desert, in a cut glass bowl received many compliments for the maker.

The Roll Call was "Something I learned recently." The President thought she had learned a lot about W.I. since taking that office. The Secretary learned that we have a good president. Comforting remarks for any who are afraid to try a new office, as we know we have a good president.

Public speaking prizes were discussed and for the present they will be discontinued. Interesting conveners' reports were read. Mrs. Steeves read an amusing letter, supposedly from a country cousin, telling about a new bathroom. We take our modern conviences for granted and everyone had a hearty laugh when they heard what could be done with a modern bathroom set.

$20.00 was donated to Save the Children Fund. The treasurer reported a balance of $80.38 on hand.

The Secretary and Convener of Publicity had visited the Town Hall and discussed with the Secretary of the Village and Parish, what the W.I. might do to support the work the councils do to keep the community tidy and beautiful. A letter to this effect was given to the secretary and read at the council meeting. This is being done in view of the Centennial year, 1967 and more news will be heard as time goes on.

The annual meeting will be held on Friday, May 1st, at Ormstown.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Curling Season Ends

Final games were played at the curling club during last week. Prizes were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. H. Welburn for mixed curling among club members. 48 rinks played. Coffee was served following the games.

Saturday night play on this bonspiel continued with a grand crowd out to watch.

Home-made doughnuts and coffee were a special treat that night with the usual sandwiches, etc.

The finals were played on Tuesday night and the prizes were presented at the closing supper.

Cecil Younie skipped the winning high rink with Ken Roy as runner-up.

Peter Peddie skipped the Consolation winners with Bill Smith as runner-up. The rinks were: Ruth Jones, Ross Brown, Brenda Black, Cecil Younie (Skip).

Norma Robertson, Malcolm Reddick, Agnes Brown, Ken. Roy (Skip).

Consolation — Jeannette Logan, Rodney Reddick, Beverly Smith, Peter Peddie (Skip).

Runners-up — Mrs. Marcel Lemieux, Marcel Lemieux, Mabel Smith, Bill Smith (Skip).

Film Sparks Discussion

A film, The Visitor, was used at Howick United Church on Sunday evening to spark a discussion period that proved to be most worthwhile. It was preceded by a short worship service led by Student-Minister G. H. Lavery.

Group findings were reported which led to further interesting discussion. The feeling was expressed that more meetings of this nature should be held. It was promoted by the Christian Education Committee. About 60 people attended, many coming from Ormstown. light refreshments were served.

Personals

Mrs. Raymond Anderson spent several days recently at her son-in-law and daughter's home, Mr. and Mrs. Mason, Ormstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hills, Loraine and Colin, from Toronto, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Stonehouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Turner and Christina, attended the 25th Wedding Anniversary of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner at Verdun on Saturday evening.

Mr. Aubrey Messenger, Montreal, visited Miss Margaret Morison on Saturday.

Mr. H. Brady spent the week-end at Megantic, Que. In places the ground was covered with two feet of snow.

A History Of The Curates Of St. Joseph's Parish, Huntingdon

It is very hard to know exactly names of the curates of this parish because of the lack of documents and because of the circumstances of beginning of the parish. We know that in the southern counties of our diocese, Godmanchester, Hinchinbrooke and H'ford, the first Catholic mission was Hinchinbrooke; the next St. Regis. Father McMahon (John) started it. He was sent there by Mgr. Lartigue. It so happened though, that North of the Chateauguay River, in the Seigniory of Beauharnois, at the Portage Rapids Canadians and Irishmen grouped around the mill. Father McMahon visited them. Then they asked for a school-chapel, which was granted by the Mgr. of Montreal. When Father McMahon left for the mission of Percé, Father James Moore continued the work in both places. In 1840, Mgr. Bourget, in an episcopal visit, created the Parish of Saint Patrick of Hinchinbrooke and blessed the mission of Saint Malachie in Ormstown, which included both sides of the Chateauguay River up to a little beyond the village of Huntingdon, part in Godmanchester and part in Hinchinbrooke.

The first priest ever to occupy the presbytery at Saint Malachie in Ormstown was Father Keirnan, who created the mission of Saint Joseph of Huntingdon in 1848. Father Doyle replaced him, and was granted by his bishop the permission to leave the Portage and to stay in Huntingdon. These last two priests, who were directly involved in Huntingdon, have been briefly studied as pastors of the Saint Joseph Parish. Before starting the list of curates, it seems timely to say a word about the first two.

Further Donations To Easter Seals Campaign

Mr. Richard Tinker, chairman of the Easter Seals Campaign for funds in this community, has advised The Gleaner that the total receipts to date amount to $1587.50. This is just $12.50 short of the $1600 objective. Mr. Tinker reports that returns are still coming in and the success of the campaign reflects credit on the citizens of this area.

Donations in addition to those published last week follow.

$10.00 — Aylmer J. Brown, R. L. Tinker, Cleyn & Tinker Ltd., Model Dye Works Ltd.

$5.00 — The Huntingdon Gleaner Inc., W. D. Brown, Mrs. Ann Rich, Dr. H. E. Purcell, Mrs. Lena Shearer, Dr. F. G. McCrimmon, F. Sherrington, Dr. K. G. Cameron.

Mrs. W. Kerr Entertains Ormstown W.I.

The April meeting of Ormstown W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Wallace Kerr on April 7th, with an attendance of 18 members and four visitors. The President, Mrs. Ward Rember took charge of the meeting.

The minutes were read by the Secretary and approved. The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. F. Martin in the absence of Mrs. J. McCaffrey. It was moved and seconded that a new record book be procured for the minutes. The Secretary was advised to write to the Salvation Army to ask when they could send a truck for a pick-up. Anyone wishing to send articles may leave them at the home of Mrs. John McKell.

A letter was read by Mrs. Smallman in regard to the W.I. pins. A resolution moved by Mrs. Parkinson and seconed by Mrs. Moe was passed to be sent to Chat-Huntingdon for further consideration.

A discussion was held concerning the Christmas stockings and the requirements for same that is to be sent to Korea.

A request for donations of small articles towards defraying expenses of the F.W.I.C. being held in Wolfville, N.S. on June 22nd, was read. Any such donations are to be brought to the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. C. Moe on April 28th. The final planning for the W.I. Convention dinner which is being held in the Presbyterian Church Hall was conducted by Mrs. Frank Martin.

Two conveners reported Education — Waterloo Fund Drive team accepts Toronto Challenge. Citizenship — The Montreal Council of Women Panel Discusses Immigrants Problems.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was an interesting and informative address given by Dr. John Whitehead V.S. entitled "The high cost of living."

Delicious refreshments were served at the close by the hostesses Mrs. W. Kerr, Mrs. W. Rember and Mrs. F. Kilgour.

Obituary

The Late Nicol Hugh McNicol

Nicol Hugh McNicol of Dundee, Que., passed away April 6th, at Montreal at the age of 69. He had been in failing health for some time. He was born February 14th, 1895, the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Allan McNicol. He married Alice Pearl Clark of Kilbain on June 14, 1916. He lived all his life in the vicinity of Dundee. He loved music and in former years was a member of the choir of Zion United Church. As a young man he was a Sunday School Teacher. His home was often a gathering place for the young people of the community.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife Pearl, three daughters, Elsie (Mrs. Carl Stark) of Westville, N.Y., Violet (Mrs. Hugh Ferguson) of Dundee; Esther (Mrs. Gordon McIntyre) of Athelstan; two sons, Harold of Cornwall, Ont. and Calvin in the Navy, presently stationed in British Columbia, twenty grandchildren and two-great-grandchildren, also several nieces and nephews.

His body was in repose at the Kelly Funeral Home, Huntingdon until April 9, when the funeral service was held in Zion United Church, Dundee. Rev. Howard Fraser, a family friend of Chateauguay, Que. conducted the services.

Pallbearers were Messrs. Roy, Earl and Cameron McNicol, Rowat McGibbon, Gordon Fraser and James Arnold. Burial was in the family plot in Dundee.

HUNTINGDON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Students of Huntingdon High, who have an artistic touch, are invited to submit a cover for the Year Book to Gary Blake in Room C before April 17. All designs must be in small size manilla paper and include the school crest, the year, the words Huntingdon High School and the title "Red and Black". The covers must be done in crayons or colored pencils and entries will be judged for the originality of the layout.

Congratulations are extended to Toni Cyngot, who received second prize in her class in the Women's Institute Public Speaking Contest at Franklin on April 10.

High School Students who qualify for "Operation Scholarship" this term will leave the High School Saturday, April 6, at 6 P.M. for Place des arts, Montreal. There they will attend the ballet "Romeo and Juliet".

Friday, April 17th, A Musical Appreciation concert will be held in the gymnasium at 8 o'clock. All are welcome to attend.

In the House System the Gold House is still in the lead with 1885 points, the Black House follows with 1801 and the Red House trails with 1768.

The Junior Red Cross is holding a clothes drive this coming Saturday, April 18. The clothing must be clean and in good condition. Garments may be brought to the High School gymnasium between the hours of 2 and 4 P.M., where they will be gratefully received.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Brown, Ormstown, Feted On 40th. Wedding Anniversary

(by Bernice Cullen)

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Brown tendered them an anniversary dinner at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rodger, in Orsmtown last Thursday. Thirty-one guests sat down to a beautifully appointed table, centered with a two-tier wedding cake and bouquets of red and white carnations, a gift from their grandchildren. A corsage for Mrs. Brown and a boutionniere for Mr. Brown were pinned on by their granddaughters, Miss Jane Brooks and Miss Cynthia Pollard.

Mr. Duncan Brown married the former Ellen Sommerville forty years ago, and the bridesmaid (Mrs. Russel Marshall) was present to wish them many more year of happiness. Since Mr. Brown's groomsman passed away a number of years ago, Mr. G. Edwards of Otterburn Park acted in that capacity at the celebrations on Thursday.

During the afternoon the nieces and nephews were invited to tea and those from out-of-town attending were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cameron of Alexandria, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. George Poscoe of Brownsburg. Several gifts were presented to the happy couple from their family.

The Browns have five children, Margaret of Ste. Anne de Bellevue (Mrs. Morrison Brooks) Roberta of Granby (Mrs. Alan Pollard), Jean of Ormstown (Mrs. James Rodger) Carlyle and Argyle of Ormstown. Six grandchildren complete the immediate family. They are Cynthia and Stephen Pollard of Granby, Jane, Duncan and Michael Brooks of Ste. Anne de Bellevue and Christopher Brown of Ormstown.

Mrs. Brown has one brother H. Sommerville of Williamstown, Ont., and two sisters, Anna (Mrs. G. Elliott of Ormstown) and Barbara (Mrs. Wallace Kerr of Ormstown).

Mr. Brown has one brother and three sisters, William of Ormstown, Miss Isabel Brown of Montreal, Miss Catherine Brown of Ormstown and Mrs. Howard McOuat of St. Andrew's East.

Although not able to be present Mrs. B. Lissemore of Toronto, who as Eleanor Kerr was flower girl for her aunt, sent a beautiful bouquet of roses.

Out-of-town guests included, Mr. Henry Sommerville of Williamstown, Ont, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Pollard and family of Granby, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and family of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Mr. and Mrs. Howad McOuat and Robert of St. Andrew's East, Mr. G. Edwards of Otterburn Park, Miss I. Brown of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cameron of Alexandria, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. G. Poscoe of Brownsburg.

Cards of Thanks

I would like to express my sincere thanks to all my relatives, friends and neighbours for expressions of sympathy received during my recent bereavement of my husband.

Mrs. Narcisse Brunet.

The family of the late Thomas A. Duncan wish to show their appreciation for the many acts of kindness and for sympathy cards, also to the Department of Customs and Immigration Service, Huntingdon, Quebec and to the friends and neighbors for flowers sent at the time of our bereavement.

Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan,
Janet and John Sickles,
Doris and Clarence Ducan.

I take this opportunity to thank all the friends, relatives and neighbours who were so kind as to remember me in so many ways during my recent illness. The Elgin Ladies Aid for the nice box of fruit etc. also to Dr. McCrimmon for his kind and prompt attention when called. Thanks again to all.

Mrs. H. R. Wilson.

We wish to thank all the kind friends who assisted me when I was taken ill and who have sent flowers, cards and frequently telephoned. Their kindnesses have been very much appreciated.

Betty and George Upton.

We would like to express our sincere thanks to all our relatives, friends and neighbours for the beautiful floral tributes, Mass cards, messages of sympathy and acts of kindness received during our sad bereavement in a loss of a dearly loved husband and father.

Mrs. Romain Priest and family.

Four Sites Being...

The general feeling of the council appeared to be that a trunk sewer to service the Picard site (running along the Ridge Road) would involve exorbitant costs, especially when the town is faced with the problem of financing a sewage disposal plant that will cost up to half a million dollars. If the Leduc site is chosen, the town would assume no responsibility whatsoever for damages caused by flooding. The Reginal School Commission representatives had previously acquainted themselves with the Picard and Arnold sites, but requested that written information be supplied with regard to the David and Leduc lots. Mr. Allard requested that such information be given before April 30.

It was decided to hold an adjourned meeting on April 22. This will give the council time to study the costs for each site and provide an opportunity to anybody to submit plans for other sites if such are obtainable. The delegation thanked the council for their cooperation and before departing, the council assured the visitors that the requested information would be in their hands without delay.

A regular council meeting followed. No bills were presented as all had been attended to the previous Monday at the regular meeting.

The secretary-treasurer was instructed to advise Mr. Allan Tallon to appear before the council to discuss water supply to his home.

The town foreman is to be instructed to have the Christmas tree light wires tightened where necessary.

A letter was read from Mr. J. Benoit, on behalf of H. W. Lea, consulting engineers, recommending that activated silican be added to raw water at the filter plant. He also suggested that alum should be put into the water before the addition of the silican. Mr. Benoit stated he would instruct plant operators on the proper use of the chemicals.

Alderman McGerrigle suggested moving children's swings from their present location in Prince Arthur Square to the park, but the other aldermen did not agree. It was decided, however, to purchase a lot of land from Chas. Reid for a West End playground, if the same terms and conditions prevail that were offered some months ago.

It was moved by Alderman McGerrigle, seconded by Alderman Laplante, that the town purchase a lot adjacent to the filter plant from Mr. Latreille for the sum of $500 cash and $500 per year for four years at 5% interest. The lot measures 100 ft. in width and extends from the street to the river. It will be used for new filtering beds.

Mr. Roch Trepanier appeared before the council to inquire about the building permit he requested for a garage and residence on the northwest corner of Cemetery St., the garage to face on the Ridge Road. He was advised that a reply would be given at the next adjourned meeting.

It was pointed out to the council that additional revenue could be had for the town if out-of-town contractors were obliged to pay business taxes in the same proportion as Valleyfield, Ormstown, Chateauguay and other nearby centres. Further study will be made.

The secretary-treasurer was authorized to write Mr. Benoit, engineer, to find out the possibilities of acquiring sewer and water service on lots near the river, owned by Builders' Supply and Feeds Ltd.

A letter is to be sent to a resident of Garden City informing him that a vacant building he owns must be removed within a certain time. Also that scrap cars on his property must be disposed of.

A town employee, Patrick Barr, has been supplied with brooms, shovels and a wheelbarrow and in future his job will be to sweep refuse on streets into piles and these will be picked up by a town truck.

The secretary-treasurer was instructed to write inquiring for the procedure to be used in obtaining trees free of charge for beautifying a section of town.

Meeting adjourned to April 22nd.

Mrs. J. M. Brown Gives Vivid Account Of Life In Nepal to Wesley - Knox U.C.W.

The regular monthly meeting of Wesley-Knox United Church Women was held at the home of Mrs. Fergus Moore on April 9th. In the unavoidable absence, through sickness, of the Recording Secretary Mrs. Norris Sample, the President appointed Mrs. W. Potter to act in her place. The meeting opened with the repeating, in unison, of 'The Purpose'. Devotions were taken by the President, Mrs. James Curran and Mrs. Emmett Cleland accompanied the singing of the hymn, 'Jesus keep me near the Cross'.

Mrs. K. Sample led in prayer. This was a well-attended meeting, about twenty ladies altogether being present and a cordial welcome was extended to the visitors by the President. Reports from the various committees were read and on behalf of the Spring Tea Committee, Mrs. J. McAllister read out the the suggested menu for this event which received formal approval from all the members present.

A letter from the Hemmingford U.C.W. was read, inviting all members to attend their Workshop which will be held on April 25th, in the Church Hall. All members are urged to attend. The next meeting will be held May 14th at the home of Mrs. W. Potter. The Reverend Gordon Ficko closed the business meeting with a short prayer, and the President then introduced the guest speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. J. Melville Brown, Regional Vice-President.

Her most interesting and inspiring talk dealt with the country of Nepal. The customs and habits of the people, their welfare and health, the missionary work which is done there, all were discussed in detail and, with the help of slides and a record player, Mrs. Brown gave the ladies a vivid and impressive account of life in this small country. It was quite evident that much time and thought had gone into the preparation of this talk which made a deep impression on all present.

Mrs. Brown answered members' questions and explained various points in the U.C.W. programme.

Mrs. A. L. Stewart, on behalf of all present, sincerely thanked Mrs. Brown for her excellent talk.

Tea was served by the hostess assisted by co-hostesses, Mrs. W. Robinson and Mrs. W. Hamill.

LADIES OF STE. ANNE HOLD APRIL MEETING HERE

The Ladies of St. Anne held their 4th regular meeting of the year on April 8 at the Parish Hall with a good attendance. Mgr. David was absent due to another important meeting. The meeting opened with a recital of St. Anne's Chaplet and a hymn to St. Anne.

The secretary's report was moved by Mrs. George Riel and seconded by Mrs. S. Daigneault. The treasurer's report was read and approved by Mrs. Romeo Daigle and seconded by Mrs. Alarie.

Mrs. Daigle gave her report of the sewing sessions for the past month. These are held every Thursday in the Parochial Hall and everyone is welcome to come and give a helping hand. All the needy children are looking for something new for their spring wardrobe. Do try to come some Thursday afternoon.

The president then started reading the rules of the sodality of St. Anne which everyone discussed and found most interesting. This study will continue at future meetings. All members are requested to make a special effort to attend the May 13 meeting and to bring the Rule Book and a member with them. Several other matters were discussed and the meeting closed with prayer.

A Cure For Juvenile Delinquency

(by Bernice Cullen)

It has been brought to our attention that a large western city has Never in its long history had a Chinese delinquent in its courts.

A check of Toronto, Montreal, San Francisco, Chicago and New York revealed the same thing. Never has a Chinese youth been brought to court on narcotics charges, theft, or molestation.

A New York Chinese official was asked if he could give the reason (as if this must be explained) "My people are taught that they must never do anything which will disgrace their parents. They must at all times respect their home and elders and all their actions are based on these teachings."

Does this not prove that the HOME and home alone is the place to teach our youth, respect, honesty and all the fundamentals of proper behaviour?

Huntingdon Curling Club Holds Final Bonspiel of Season

On Friday night and on Saturday a final mixed bonspiel was held to officially close the 1963-1964 curling season. Some 12 rinks participated and a good time was had by all. Thanks are again due to Donnie Heath who, for the most part, was responsible for an enjoyable week-end of curling. At six o'clock a committee of lady curlers served a meal to all participants. Following the final games at 9 p.m. on Saturday, the President presented souvenir trophies to the winners of A, B and C. competitions.

The winners were as follows: — "A" Competition — Mrs. Marion Abraham, Wm. Graham, Miss Mary Pringle, McKie Cluff (Skip).

"B" Competition — Mrs. Gloria Brown, Frank Bleakney, Mrs. Lillian McLean, George Collum (Skip).

"C" Competition — Miss Susan Faille, Gordon Smaill, Mrs. Mary Elliott, Doug. McGerrigle, Jr. (Skip).

On Saturday two rinks from the Huntingdon Club participated in the Pointe Claire Mixed Bonspiel. The teams were Mrs. Ruby Martin, G. W. Thompson, Mrs. Lucy Thompson, E. C. Martin (Skip). and Miss Marilyn Brown, Grant Whyte, Mrs. Grant Whyte, George P. Elder (Skip).

CROSSROAD'S IS AMA ZING!!

Right under our noses at Moira, N.Y., is the most "amazing" motel-restaurant in the country, says the N.Y. Times, and most everyone agrees.

The Montrealer, Canada's smart magazine will tell about this magnificent dining spot in its May issue.

Food here is prepared by the former chef to the Duke of Windsor and gourmet dinners are only $2.75 served in an Alice in Wonderland atmosphere.

The big news is that appearing nitely is one of the country's finest bands. Huey Underwood and his Nat King Cole band. Underwood is the great Duke Ellington sax ace. This band will give a "Carnegie Hall" jazz concert Sunday afternoon from 2 till 5 Canadian Money is at par. Moira is located just 10 miles west of Malone on Rte. 11.

G. PRESTON HOOKER DIES IN TRAGIC ACCIDENT

A tragic accident which took the life of one of Ormstown's leading citizens and seriously injured another took place at St. Zotique on Thursday, April 9th. Messrs. Preston and Alan Hooker (brothers) were on Highway No. 2, en route to a woodlot in Ontario to complete the week's business transactions when they were suddenly met headon colliding with another car. Details are vague on the exact nature of the collision.

It is known that two men in the other car, Messrs. McRae and MacDonald were admitted to a Cornwall Hospital with minor injuries. They have since been released.

The fate of the Hooker brothers was not so fortunate. They were taken to the Montreal Neurological Hospital, where Mr. Preston Hooker died within a few minutes. Mr. Alan Hooker was seriously injured having suffered a fractured skull and chest injuries. At the time of writing he is in satisfactory condition. He has not been able to give any account of what happened.

Dundee

On Saturday Miss Faye Ferguson attended the District Rally of the future Homemakers of America held in the Central School at Lowville, N.Y. Theme for the day's activities was "Launching good citizenship through project 'Hope'." Dr. Frederick Reid, former doctor on the hospital ship "Hope" gave a talk and showed a movie about the work of this ship in Peru. At the present time this ship is working in Ecuador and next October will go to West Africa.

Also on Saturday Mr. Donald Ferguson attended the district meeting of the Yorker Club, which is an historical club. This was held in the Firemen and Policeman's hall at Upper Canada Village. Later they toured the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardiner arrived home last week after spending several weeks in Florida.

VARIETY CONCERT SUCCESSFUL EVENT AT DUNDEE

Saturday evening, April 11, the U.C.W. of Zion United Church, Dundee, sponsored a most successful Variety Concert in the Church Hall. A one-act play by the Huntingdon Legion entitled "Cousin Martha" was much enjoyed. Three young pianists, Gail Watterson, Wendy Sutton and Janice Fraser rendered solos, while Bill Fraser was soloist for two vocal selections. Ann Fraser, Karen Elder, Ann Platt and Edith MacDonald, The Beatlettes, delighted their audience with a Beatle song. A men's group sang some of the oldtime favorites and the Hi-C youngsters performed with songs and jokes, calling on two mountain boys to sing and play.

Last, but not least, was a humorous old time one-act play "Just Like A Woman". Charles Fraser amused the audience as Joshua Smith, Mrs. A. H. Fraser as his wife, Stanley Staveley as Bartholomew, their son, Mrs. Lloyd Martin as Polly Pepper, Mrs. Clarence Platt as Doris Duncan and and Lisle Watterson as John Hazenstab, three neighbours.

Refreshments were served after the entertainment.

Letter To The Editor

Huntingdon, Que.
April 14th, 1964.

Sir:

A Bargain for the Town of Huntingdon.

Monday, April 13th, a Council meeting was held in Huntingdon. One of the items discussed was the selection of a site for the construction of a regional school. The Mayor quite evidently wanted to choose the site himself, to which the Commissioners were opposed. Why was the Mayor so interested in the land of a private owner? Would his own lots sell more easily?

A bargain for the Town would be the following: 50% of the drains would be paid by the Regional School Commission and the balance by the Town thus making a good place for a development. Here is the location: Dalhousie, Bouchette and Lake Streets up to the Front Ridge.

Mr. Benoit, engineer, declared in 1955 before Mr. McWhinnie and myself that the costs of these works would be around $250,000. He could have been wrong because he has proved in the past that he can make an error. This development would offer around 1000 lots to the public, industrial development, etc. in the Town of Huntingdon.

Devoted to all,
Archille Picard.

DECES DU FRERE DE MGR DAVID, M. OVIDE DAVID

Tous les paroissiens et amis de Mgr David seront peinés d'apprendre la mort survenue ce matin, de M. Ovide David 72 ans, frère de Mgr David, curé de la paroisse. Le défunt a été à l'emploi du Canadian National pendant 42 ans, comme ingénieur de locomotive.

Il laisse six enfants dont cinq mariés et Jacques le plus jeune, prêtre-aumônier à l'école secondaire Richard à Verdun. Son épouse et six autres enfants l'ont précédé dans la tombe. Il laisse trois frères et deux soeurs.

Les funérailles auront lieu, à 9 heures à l'église Ste-Clothilde, coin Notre-Dame et Côte St-Paul, Montréal. Le corps est exposé chez Bourgie, 4505, rue Notre-Dame ouest.

La direction et le personnel du Gleaner profitent de l'occasion pour offrir leurs sympathies les plus vives à Mgr David et aux membres de sa famille.

Réunion du Conseil

Une réunion de conseil municipal de Franklin a eu lieu le 6 avril en présence de tous les membres, sauf les cons. Brooks, Brault et Lussier, et sous la présidence du Maire Marc A. Barrette.

Les minutes ont été approuvées telles que lues.

Le secrétaire fut autorisé à contacter les partis concernés en ce qui a trait à la branche du Brandy Brook pour les aviser de faire couper la broussaille des deux côtés de ce procès-verbal sur fin qu'on puisse nettoyer ce une distance de 15 pieds, a-procès-verbal. Les travaux devront être faits pour le 11 mai 1964.

Le contribuable Ross Dunn se présenta devant le conseil pour demander la permission de couper 9 arbres du côté sud de la route 52, à l'est de sa demeure. Il fut proposé et secondé que la permission soit accordée.

Les Dames de Ste-Anne ont tenu leur 4ème réunion de l'année le 8 avril à la Salle Paroissiale en présence de plusieurs membres. Mgr David avait dû s'absenter pour une réunion importante. La réunion débuta par la récitation du chapelet de Ste-Anne et un chant à Ste-Anne.

Le rapport de la secrétaire fut proposé par Mme Georges Riel et secondé par Mme S. Daigneault. Le rapport de la trésorière fut lu et approuvé par Mme Roméo Daigle, secondé par Mme Alarie.

Mme Daigle fit son rapport sur les séances de couture pour le mois passé. Ils ont lieu tous les jeudis à la Salle Paroissiale et toutes sont invitées à venir donner un coup de main. Tous les enfants déshérités aimeraient quelque-chose de neuf dans leur linge de printemps. Tâchez vraiment de venir un bon jeudi après-midi.

La présidente commença alors la lecture des règlements de la sodalité de Ste-Anne; tout le monde en discuta et la chose s'avéra très intéressante. Cette étude se continuera dans les prochaines réunions. On demande à toutes les membres de s'efforcer d'être présentes à la réunion du 13 mai et d'amener le Livre des Règlements et une autre membre avec elles. Plusieurs autres questions ont été discutées et la réunion se termina par la prière.

Lettre à l'Editeur

Une aubaine pour la ville de Huntingdon

Huntingdon, Qué.
14 avril, 1964

Lundi, le 13 avril 1964, avait lieu une réunion du Conseil de ville. L'un des items à l'agenda se rapportait au choix d'un terrain pour la construction de l'école régionale. Monsieur le Maire était tellement bien ouvert au problème, qu'il voulait choisir lui-même le terrain approprié, ce à quoi les commissaires se sont opposés. Pourquoi Monsieur le Maire était-il si intéressé au terrain d'un particulier? Est-ce que ces terrains à lui pourraient se vendre plus facilement?

Une aubaine pour la ville est la suivante:

Cinquante pour cent du renvoi d'eau serait payé par la Commission scolaire régionale le reste par la ville, ce qui donnerait un beau site de développement. Voici la situation: les rues Dalhousie, Bouchette et Lake au Front Ridge.

M. Benoit ingénieur déclarait en 1955 devant M. McWhinnie et moi-même que le coût de ces travaux seraient de $250,000 environ; il a pu faire erreur car il a déjà prouvé qu'il pouvait se tromper! Ce développement offrirait à peu près 1,000 lots au public. Développement industriel etc., dans la ville de Huntingdon.

Devoué à tous,
Archile Picard.

REMERCIEMENTS

Mme Narcisse Brunet remercie très sincèrement toutes les personnes qui ont bien voulu lui témoigner des marques de sympathie à l'occasion du décès de M. Alfred Laviolette, soit par cartes, offrandes de messes ou assistance aux funérailles.

L. A. Sanderson Speaks To H'don W.I. About Chartered Banks

Huntingdon W.I. met on Tues., April 7th at the home of Mrs. Ottney with an attendance of 21 members and guests. In the absence of the Pres., who is sick, the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Middlemiss. Roll Call "Something I read about another W.I." Members regretted to learn that Mrs. Bernhardt was in the hospital also Miss Mildred Scott and Mrs. Blachford. Since the meeting Miss Scott has died.

A cheque for $3.50 was received from Salada Co. for symbols received. Members are requested to continue collecting the symbols. An assortment of knitted goods for Christmas stockings were handed in. The May meeting will be the dead line for receiving gifts for the stocking and it is hoped all members will help in this worthy project. Mrs. Bernhardt was appointed official delegate to the County Convention in Ormstown, May 1st. Articles for sale or plants etc. or something for food table are requested.

Mrs. Wood introduced Mr. L. Sandrson, manager of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce Branch in Huningdon. He certainly had an interested audience when he gave a most informative talk on many phases of the business of chartered banks.

It is 146 years since Canada's first permanent bank opened its doors. Today there are nine chartered banks employing 68,883 people of whom 15,617 are employed by Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. Banking business has so increased and covers so many types of businesses that bank staffs are steadily increasing. There are splendid opportunities for advancement for the employees. In January 1964, 17 new chartered bank branches were opened. Each of these needed a manager and complete staff. 59% of the 68,883 employees in the nine chartered banks are women. Many of these leave to be married, nevertheless they have the same opportunities for advancment as the male employees. There are women personnel supervisors, accountants assistant branch managers, and even branch managers.

A number of banks have courses in banking techniques and methods. Salaries are good, and so called fringe benefits are unexcelled. Many more interesting facts were given and the ladies wished they could take a job in a bank, for such jobs sounded tempting. Mrs. Carl Anderson thanked Mr. Sanderson for his splendid talk.

Conveners Report:

Turnips contain Vitamin C. and other nutrients. Ontario produces millions of bushels of yellow turnips and they are inexpensive. A one-pound turnip, when diced and cooked yields 2 - 2½ cups. They should be cooked in a small amount of boiling salted water in uncovered saucepan. Hints were also given on preparation of pineapple.

Agriculture:

Soon be time to plant glad. bulbs. If bulbs were not sprayed when stored in fall that can still be done. Those which have already sprouted should be separated and put in a cool place. Discard any bulbs showing brown spots or any other signs of disease.

Education:

Report and criticism by Mrs. Thérèse Casgrain of Bill 16. Niss Turner also read a letter from the Huntingdon W.I. Scrap Book. This was received from the late Mrs. Laura Rose Stephen on the 25th anniversary of our branch. Mrs. Stephen was the first President of W.I. 41 years ago.

Publicity:

A.C.W.W. notes from Scottish Home and Country.

Cards were signed by all present and sent to sick members.

Meeting closed by all repeating the Mizpah. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Foreign Students Entertained By Dewittville W.I.

Several invited guests attended the April meeting of the Dewittville W.I. at the home of Mrs. N. McLean last Thursday evening. Among those present were two McGill students, Mrs. Melanga of Southern Rhodesia, who is presently taking a postgraduate nursing course and Miss Tan of the Philippines, engaged in the study of organic chemistry. Mrs. Neils Jorgensen of Montreal, whose daughter Sally spends many vacations at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Bulow, was also present and kindly provided transportation for the guests from McGill. Last June a group of international students were entertained by the Dewittville W.I. and this venture proved so successful, it was decided at that time to continue these visits from time to time as part of our Citizenship Program. From this experience we discovered that many foreign students who come to study in Canada never have an opportunity to visit in a Canadian home. It was felt, therefore, here was an excellent opportunity of fostering better international relations in extending the hospitality of our homes to these young people. Following the regular business meeting Mrs. Melanga and Miss Tan mingled with those present and the resulting exchange of ideas and information once again proved of mutual benefit.

The president, Mrs. Gerald Moore, called the meeting to order and all joined in repeating the Mary Stuart collect and singing the Ode. The minutes of the last general meeting were read and approved followed by the treasurer's report. The roll call was answered by naming a world leader you admire and the country he or she represents.

Articles for Christmas Stockings were brought in by the members. Others who were unable to be present and who wish to give donations to this project are asked to leave these at the home of Mrs. N. McLean. Packing of the stockings will take place later this month by a special committee headed by Mrs. P. Prakke. Used books in good condition are also being collected for shipment to the West Indies and these are to be left at the home of Mrs. A. MacIntosh.

The Skating Rink Committee was authorized to order paint for the rink boards and cabin. Several members offered their assistance in carrying out this work. The "Facts, Fingers and Funds" course is to be held at Macdonald College May 25 to 28 inclusive. Mrs. R. Ruddock will attend this course from the Dewittville Branch.

An invitation was read from the Ormstown Branch to be present at the next meeting on April 28th, 3 to 5 P.M. All those interested in attending are asked to get in touch with Mrs. C. Bryson before April 24th. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Monique when the guest speaker will be Mr. Colin J. Campbell, well-known notary.

Brief reports from conveners were given. Agriculture: Mrs. C. Sherry advised that maple syrup can now be frozen successfully.

Citizenship: Mrs. P. Prakke commented on a recent article which reminded that Canadians should endeavour to learn about Indians, Eskimos and other ethnic groups in order to promote better relations. Education, Mrs. R. Ruddock reported some members had assisted with the judging of Public Speaking in Huntingdon High Schol recently. Members were pleased to learn that Susan MacIntosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. MacIntosh of Dewittville would represent Grades 4 and 5 at the W.I. Public Speaking finals to be held at Franklin on April 10.

Home Economics, Mrs. N. Beattie announced the results attained by recent tests made by the C.A.C. on various sheets. Helpful hints to bear in mind when purchasing as well as recommendations on the care of same were also of particular interest to all homemakers. Welfare and Health, Mrs. F. Kyle commented on electric tooth brushes. Considerable care should be exercised in their use as many may not be well insulated. Publicity — Ethel Chapman in a recent article in the Farmer's Advocate entitled "How To Work With Others" had some valuable advice for Institutes. "When the doctor at Bethany in Ontario County decided to move to the city a delegation from the W.I. called on the township council and asked them to try to get another doctor for the community. As a result the council put advertisements for a doctor in two medical journals. This is typical of the way many institutes are getting things done by working with public authorities or with other organizations.

Where institutes some years ago used to provide such things as street lights and school pianos, asking already overworked women to work still harder to raise the necessary funds, they are now more likely to meet with the town council or the school board and persuade them to provide what is needed putting the financial responsibilities where it belongs, on the shoulders of all the tax-payers. It is quite possible that the council and the school board perfer to have things done this way too.

Some institutes have found that working with other groups can do considerable to create a good feeling in the community, to give a warmth to a social undertaking. It does seem that an organization that has learned to work with others may be doing something for its community above and beyond the project in hand.

Mrs. N. Beattie introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. James Manning of Franklin, who by means of beautiful color slides and commentary transported her audience on a wonderful world tour. The members of the Dewittville W.I. and their guests were very grateful to this charming lady for sharing her pleasant journey with us. Mrs. Manning was thanked by Mrs. G. Moore.

Seasonal treat of maple syrup, pancakes, Canadian cheese and assorted biscuits were provided by Mrs. N. McLean and Mrs. A. MacIntosh and a social hour followed.

Valleyfield

VALLEYFIELD — The Canadian Legion Valleyfield Branch 62 held a mixed Curling Bonspiel for members and friends, on April 5th, at the Moco Curling Club, with 28 rinks participating. Sports officer, J. R. Bell, was in charge assisted by his committee: W. Amos. R. Perrier and E. Leblanc.

The winners of the Sam Butt Trophy were: A. Winter, skip, Mrs. Calvert, J. L. Bray and a Cyr.

Second Prize winners were G. Leduc, skip, E. Dugal, M. Martin and Mrs. Martin.

Third Prize went to C. Hartley, skip, R. Swartz, D. Brisson and Mrs. Brisson.

The prizes were presented at the Legion Hall, followed by supper and a social evening. Door prizes were donated by Mr. Dion of Le Fricot restaurant; M. A. Latulippe (Valleyfield Valet Service) Amos and Leduc, and Mrs. Soly, who donated a pair of ladies Curling Slacks.

Prizes for the winning teams were donated by Mr. S. H. Chambers (Montreal Cottons Ltd.); Dick Tremaine (Duplan of Canada); Roland Tessier; Vachon Bakeries; Dave Watson, District Commander; A. H. Besner; Labrosse Pharmacy; Mr. and Mrs. A. Pickup of Cornwall; A Harbour Shell Service Station, and Pare and Vincent.

Mr. Sam Butt addressed the gathering and outlined the history of the Curling Trophy. Mr. Larry Soly, President of the Legion, thanked everyone who contributed their time and efforts toward the Bonspiel.

It might be of interest to the members that a mixed bowling tournament will be held on Saturday evening, May 2nd, at 7 p.m. All interested are requested to sign their names at the hall, as soon as possible.

The Valleyfield Ladies Bridge Marathon 10th round: A. Johnson, L. Smith, 29080; M. Johnson, E. McFarlane, 26460; M. Millar, J. McDonald, 24140; H. Montgomery, M. Robb, 22780; M. MacLean, H. Clarke, 22710; M. LaVine, M. Graeber, 22600; D. Thomson, B. Wylie, 19470; D. Bell, M. Hargrave, 18820.

Thousand", then, "Reverence My Sanctuary, the Presence of God, then, constitutes the Sanctuary". One reflected on the many arduous endeavours put forth toward the building of these Sacred Walls and the rewarding experience which must now be felt by those whose efforts have now been crowned with success.

The Presiding Minister was Rev. R. Douglas Smith, B.A., B.D., D.D: Chairman of the Montreal Presbytery of the United Church of Canada, assisted by, Rev. N.M. Slaughter, M.A., Minister of Erskine and American United Church Mtl.; Rev. J.R. Watson, B. Comm, B.A., B.D., Secretary of the Montreal Presbytery; Rev. K.G. MacMillan, B.A., B.D., D.D. Superintendent of Home Missions Montreal-Ottawa Presbytery; Rev. R.W. Barker, M.A., S.T.B., Th. D., Minister of Greenfield Park United Church; Rev. J.E. Munson, B.A., B.D. Minister of St. Lambert United Church; Rev. D.A. McCuaig, B.A., B.D., Minister Emeritus; Mr. Harvey Lee, Chairman of the Finance and Extension Committee, Montreal Presbytery; Mr. Norman Johnston, Student Minister, Laprairie Charge. It was regretted that due to ill-health, the supervising minister, Rev. T.W. Tyson, M.A. B Th., was unable to take part in the service. A speedy return to health was wished for Rev. Tyson.

The form of service was as follows: The Assembling of the People and The Call To Silence, The Knocking. The Entrance Into The Church. Processional Hymn, "Praise My Soul, The King of Heaven", which was followed by The Ceremony Of The Keys. Participating were: The Architect, Mr. McKay, who called upon the Builder, Mr. Lacroix, to bring forward the keys. Mr. G. Lacroix then presented the keys to the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Mr. K. Duncan. Mr. Duncan then presented the keys to Mr. Dennis Thacker, Chairman of the Committee of Stewards. Mr. Harold Lawton, The Clerk of Session accepted the keys from Mr. Thacker and presented them to Rev. Douglas Smith that he may place them on the Communion Table as a symbol of dedication of the Building to the Glory of Almighty God. Rev. Smith placed the keys on the Table saying, "Blessed be His Glorious Name forever: and let the whole earth be filled with His Glory". Student Minister Norman Johnston then led in Prayer. The Choir sang an Anthem — "We would be Building", which was well rendered, and following this the Ministers read a portion of the Scriptures, 1. Concerning Prayer; 2. Concerning the Word of God and the Preaching of the Gospel; 3. Concerning Baptism; 4. Concerning Confirmation; 5. Concerning Matrimony; 6. Concerning the Burial of the Dead; 7. Concerning the Lord's Supper. The assembly then joined in singing the Hymn, "Now Thank We All Our God" and this was followed by the Dedication Ceremony which was conducted by Rev. R. Douglas Smith. Again the congregation joined in singing "Christ is Made The Sure Foundation" and Rev. Smith performed the Act of Consecration.

Following the presentation of the Thank-Offering, the Junior Choir blended their young voices in singing "The Lord's My Shepherd". Rev. N.M. Slaughter gave the Sermon and spoke on the founding of the early Christian Church and referred to the loyal stewardship of Aquilla and Priscilla, who expounded the way of God more perfectly to Apollos. Rev. Slaughter's message was a challenge to all striving christians that they not be forgetful to entertain strangers: to welcome those who would enter God's House and to extend a hand of friendship, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Christ Jesus. The service ended with the singing of the Hymn, "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee"

Rev. Smith then pronounced the Benediction, which was followed by Choral Threefold Amen, Silent Meditation and the Organ Postlude.

Mrs. R. Gore officiated at the Organ. A social period was enjoyed by all when refreshments were served in the dowwnstairs Hall and friends were afforded the opportunity of extending congratulations to the members of Candiac United Church and also the pleasure of meeting again, Ministers, who had at one time served on this charge.

This long to be remembered occasion was truly uplifting and was an incentive for all on this three point charge to strive to cultivate a spirit of greater love and unity, so that we may work together as members of that one great family looking forward to the day when the Church militant of earth becomes the Church triumphant of Heaven.

THIS and THAT in TOWN

● The community was both shocked and grieved to hear of the tragedies that befell the Hooker families in Ormstown last Thursday. The death of Mr. Preston Hooker has removed one of our finer citizens. At time of writing his brother, Mr. Allan Hooker, is reported to be resting more comfortably. The Gleaner joins in extending heartfelt sympathy to the Hookers in the death of Preston and sincere wishes that Allan will make a complete and speedy recovery.

● The Seaway is now open and ships are once more plying the St. Lawrence. The delays at Valleyfield when the lift bridge rises again pose a problem for commuters and others crossing the bridge. Some delays seem unnecessarily long (up to 25 minutes). Such was the case last Thursday between 10 a.m. and 10.25 when Messrs. Allan and Preston Hooker were delayed directly behind a Gleaner car. Shortly after, when the Hookers were travelling west and the Gleaner car east, the Hooker accident occurred.

● Next week will be a busy one for all interested in music. The Chateauguay Valley Music Festival opens Monday and a record attendance is anticipated. The Festival continues through until Saturday evening. If you can't attend every evening, please lend your support to the Ormstown Lions and encourage the contestants as much as possible.

● A new regional Catholic school will be built in Huntingdon. It will consist of at least 30 classrooms and in all probability, more. The site has not been chosen, but some authorities are optimistic that the school will open in September. If so, it calls for some fast work. In any event, it will mean at least forty teachers will become residents of Ourtown. This may create a housing problem temporarily but it will add to the business outlook and general economy. Four sites are being contemplated, two of which seem quite reasonable from a geographic point, but there are problems with water and sewage (with at least three sites). BUT: a school complex on the south side of the river would probably cause more problems than one would care to visualize and they wouldn't all be water and sewage problems.

● Now a little question that doesn't require an honest answer: did you lose any money when Les Canadiens bowed out of the hockey world this year?

● And we're especially pleased to have Sidney Smith, Gleaner News Editor, back at his desk, even if only on a part-time basis. Sid is improving steadily and expects to be back, better than ever, in the very near future.

● We thought the syrup season would continue a little longer, but Jon Proudfoot informed us this a.m. that Rod Arthur is starting to remove his sap buckets. If this veteran maple syrup producer believes the season is past, we certainly think so too.

● Garth Stephen had his outboard speeding between the two bridges over the week-end. He reports the river is quite high. Water skiing enthusiasts looking for a good outfit can find one at Richer's in Valleyfield: 14½-ft. fiberglas with 40 hp Scott, equipped, that formerly belonged to your reporter. It's good and can be had at a fair price.

● We understand a 90-year-old hale and hearty Ormstownian was seen on several occasions this past winter, skating at the Ormstown Arena. Huntingdon's record is held by an octogenarian. Congratulations to both gentlemen, one is only as old as he feels.

● A short note from an old friend in Malone (Mrs. Gladys Hogle) tells us that hairdressers in this area displayed keen interest in a fashion and hair style show last year in Malone. This year the event will be held at The Elks Club in Malone on April 29 at eight p.m.

● A long time ago now there used to be a sign in an Air Force hangar saying 'If you don't hear a new rumour by 10 a.m. every day, start one.' Well, the world is full of rumors, but we just wouldn't want to be the joker who started the one about Mr. Nikita Khrushchev being dead. The Premier of the U.S.S.R. remains very much alive.

● Did you know that Messrs. Fred Moore and John Nussey now pick up milk and deliver it to Guaranteed Pure Milk Co. in Montreal in bulk? Stainless steel tanks are the answer: direct from the farmer to the plant. More about this new method next week.

● And don't forget 'Theatre Night'. See elsewhere.

● Read each and every advt. in The Gleaner: merchants who advertise are progressive and are the right ones to deal with. Help yourself by supporting home-town stores.

● For weeks the public has been hearing how seals are skinned alive for their pelts by professional hunters. We've read that the defenceless creatures emit sounds like a child crying, before and during their torture. This inhuman butchery has probably been going on for years without the public knowing about it, but why hasn't anything been done to stop it now that the public is fully aware of the practice?

● We're living in the 20th century... this killing is not for food, it's for money. We're Canadians, not barbarians. We've elected men to government who are supposed to be sitting in Ottawa to represent us, the public: is there one among us who would condone this cruelty to animals? We think not. Certainly not the women who buy fur coats made from seal skins, or their husbands who probably pay for them.

● There are rumors of elections, both Federal and Provincial. No election is brought about by a single issue, but present parliamentarians surely must have enough time on their hands even during sessions to ponder the creulty they are condoning by not enforcing laws (or not introducing new ones for that matter) to halt this crime. Why the delay? We constantly hear and read about windbags sounding off, threatening, promising, recriminating, blathering, reopening old wounds and creating new ones... why, when all this is going on, can't some one of our politicians prepare a short speech that would make the others realize how ashamed Canadians are that this slaughter hasn't been stopped? None of us would hear of a cat, dog or any animal being skinned alive. None of us would stand by and see somebody take a bird apart bit by bit. Most of us feel foolish if we see a cat eating a bird or a mouse. Yet we're allowing human beings to skin helpless seals alive. If we aren't doing it directly, we are indirectly by not raising our voices to our members.

SPRING THAW CLOSES DOWN QUEBEC ROADS

QUEBEC — The Ministry of roads announced yesterday that all highways in Quebec will be closed to heavy traffic from midnight, April 15.

All general and special permits granted by the Department of Transport and Communications will be suspended after that date, the Ministry said.

The closing of the highways to heavy traffic is to prevent permanent damage to roads during the period of the spring thaw no date for the lifting of the ban was given.

Caughnawaga Seeks Entry In Lacrosse

Caughnawaga Indians will apply for entry into the newly formed Quebec Senior Lacrosse League at the loop's next organization meeting.

Should the Indians enter, it will bring to four the amount of teams in the league. At the moment Drummondville, Rosemount and Ville St.Pierre are entered.

Caughnawaga has had a lacrosse team playing exhibition games for several years. Last season they played a home and home series with the powerful Toronto Mimico Junior squad as well as exhibitions in Syracuse, N.Y.

Dave and Earl Lafleur along with Joe Siki (Two Rivers) are behind the organization of the Indians team, and have expressed hope that the club will be able to play Saturdays and Sundays should they enter the loop.

Paul Sauve arena will be the scene of most of the games with doubleheaders planned for Sunday afternoon. Leo Martineau, the man responsible for starting the lacrosse revival has stressed that the league is open for applications from any interested district.

Farming Changes

Many farmers are being "squeezed" out of agriculture because "agriculture is going through a period of intense revolution," an agricultural extension specialist said recently at Macdonald College.

Walker Riley said it is our duty to make the results of research and successful practice known as quickly as possible."

Not only farmers need to be informed on agricultural research but also city dwellers, many of whom "long to be farmers" the Macdonald specialist said.

The college's extension division has initiated a weekly column of agricultural views and information under the masthead "Country Notebook".

Mr. Riley said the response "has been very encouraging. Several Quebec weeklies and one daily newspaper are carrying it."

He said in one of his notebook contributions his assistant at the college, a Chinese student, left for Formosa four weeks ago to study plant breeding.

Editor's Note — Mr. Riley's column appears in this newspaper every week. If you have not been following it, why not do so.

For most of us this business of working out income tax returns is a pretty painful business in more ways than one. Eventually, however, by sticking precisely to the rules laid down on the streamlined forms we eventually come through (subject to official revision of arithmetic).

This year, however, the Federal T1 Short form offers a strange example of Page Three not knowing precisely what page Four says. A man with a taxable income of $3,000, for instance, will pay $439 in taxes if he decides to follow the table offered on Page Four. If he follows the scale on Page Three, he'll pay only $420. On the other hand, if he makes $4,000 and follows the Page Three formula he will pay $610. But if he uses the Page Four table, the bite is $597.

Maybe there's a reason for it all. Beyond poor co-ordination, we mean. Meanwhile the wise taxpayer should compare tables with an eagle eye to his own advantage, and the despair of the junior assessors who have to sort these things out. — The Montreal Star.

Mrs.S. Ruddock Speaks At Special Service At Rockburn

A special evening service was held recently in the Rockburn Presbyterian Church under the leadership of the Evening Dept. of the W.M.S. with Mrs. Walter Welburn, Mrs. Kyle Blair and Mrs. Ronald Williams taking various parts.

Mrs. Stanley Ruddock of Huntingdon was the guest speaker and gave a most inspiring Easter message.

Mrs. Walter Currie was soloist and sang "In The Garden" with Mr. H. Clarke as organist.

Dahlia's Whatnots

MRS. W. R. PERRY

The way that similar ideas emanate from various sources suggests the question, whether in the end life's total experience may be seen as a pattern planned by a great Designer. On a Thursday I wrote about the cutting down of our large old elm tree and quoted Eleanor Zimmerman's poem lamenting how some other elm had met the same fate.

On Friday I heard Ted Miller's radio reading of poetry in which he also quoted E. Zimmerman's poem about the end of yet another tree, but this was a neighbor's which caused too, dense shade. However the fall of this third tree proved beneficent to the poetess for a shoot from its trunk had grown into Eleanor's garden, a cause of rejoicing. In a month or more of continued shocking news I had one pleasing surprise. I had been given the impression that the former Secretary of the United Nations, Dag Hamarshjold, was an atheist. Many of his Swedish fellow countrymen are said to be unbelieving, and the suicide statistics are high. Recently I hear that his diary shows him to have been a Christian of unusual spiritual experience. After the plane crash in which he died, a copy of "The Imitation of Christ" was found in his hand. Incidentally, a respected citizen of Havelock, now dead for some years, bore the name of what I first took to be Camp, but which I now guess was Kemp, shortened from Thomas a Kempis, the name of the saintly, author of the "Imitation". I am also guessing that one Havelock clergyman was acquainted with the book.

The two primary elements of water and fire have often been in conflict, from the boiling dry of the tea-kettle to a long list of dire disasters. But human beings tragedy mounts, when they combine to distress as in the case of the fire on the Laconia in the Atlantic. I think sailors, miners, and firemen are three classes of workers that should be very well paid, indeed.

The press brings us tales of the strenuous firefighting by urban firemen but in the rural scene there are examples of similar fine work by "heroes unsung", and unpaid. The neighborly helpfulness of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sutton and family on the Hill has been highlighted on two occasions when the head of the house played a leading part in saving a neighbor's home from being burned down.

I ran across an unusual use of the pronoun, myself, in a short magazine story called myself and poetry. Starting with the sentence, myself, when I was young, was addicted to poetry, the authoress went on to tell of her two attempts as a quite young schoolgirl. The first was given by the proud mother to the minister when he called, to obtain his opinion. But his analysis was so critical of the verses, which were really good, that the poor child snatched it from his hand and ran sobbing from the room. It had been a school exercise on a day in May, and was repeated the next spring, the young writer's product being of even a finer calibre. The mother this time sent it to the local editor, but when it appeared months later, no name was attached. The authoress concluded by saying that the spring flowers she had written about had been so frostbitten by harsh treatment that she gave up writing poetry.

Teatime Topics

Keeping up with the Joneses is becoming much more subtle every year.

At one time, a television antenna on your roof or a second car parked outside your single-car garage showed your social status. But these have become commonplace.

The latest indicators of your social status and sophistication are serving trays of foreign cheeses at parties, studying French at least one evening a week, having broadloom in the bathroom and mink as the lining instead of the exterior of a woman's coat, to name but a few.

One of the newest North American status symbols is an indoor fountain.

In Toronto, some families are spending as much as $600-$2000 for elaborate indoor rock gardens, complete with waterfalls. But many, especially apartment dwellers, settle for a $50 coffee table model.

Although the indoor fountain dates back to the gracious living of flourishing Athens, today's models are much easier to install and operate than those used by the Grecks. No plumbing is needed. A recirculating water pump is operated by electricity and the same water can be used as long as six months

Idea From Europe

Many Toronto couples installed fountains in their homes following trips to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. G.R. Davey got the idea in Spain where they met. "We have a sentimental attachment to them and love the sound of falling water," said Mrs. Davey. "We would have one in every room if we could."

The Davey's fountain is a table model with a yellow-green clear bowl into which the water is spurted from a frosted fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Miller have an indoor fountain with an adjustable spray volume and colored lights that turn the water red, blue, green and white.

For a party, Mrs. Miller puts a little cologne in the water. She has also found her fountain makes an attractive centrepiece for her dining-room table.

Trickle Relaxing

Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Ecclestone find the gentle sound of falling water peaceful and relaxing.

"The other day my husband and I were baby-sitting our infant grandson," said Mrs. Ecclestone. "I went out of the room for a few minutes and when I came back, the baby, my husband and our poodle were all sound asleep."

Most fountains come in plexiglass, ceramic, copper, bronze, or fibre-glass but marble statues can also be attached to a base with a water-pumping device.

Harry Stein, who started importing fountains from Europe, Japan and the United States four years ago, said initially most of his business came from hotels, restaurants, banks and insurance companies. But last year, he installed nearly 100 fountains in private homes.

Mr. Stein said there is also considerable interest in renting fountains for parties. This costs from $15. a day for a small waterfall to $50 a day for an elaborate spray.

DISNEY'S EMPIRE SIX AND A HALF MILLION DOLLARS

"Yes, it has been a good year," said Roy Disney with characteristic understatement.

Roy is "the other Disney" — the older brother who produces the revenue to bring Walt's dreams to reality. The success of this partnership is shown in Walt Disney Productions' annual report.

From 1953 to 1964, gross income increased to almost $82,-000,000 from $8,000,000. Profits last year were at a record high of $6,574,000.

As president and financial mind of the Disney empire, Roy leaves the spotlight to Walt. But in a rare interview he discussed the partnership.

"He's a grand guy", said Roy of Walt. "It has always been a job keeping up with him. He gets the ideas, then I have to look at them from a practical, prosaic view.

"Sometimes I've had to say no, and he'll accept it if he knows that my decision didn't come from lack of vision. There have been times when I just couldn't get the money.

"He's not a bad guy to work with. He knows what he wants and he'll listen to you — if you know what you're talking about. But if you're just shooting off your mouth, he won't hear a thing."

Roy nine years older than Walt, joined his brother's infant cartoon business in 1923.

"My job is to help Walt do the things he wants to do," said Roy. "I deal with the banks and give Walt a free hand. The trouble with a lot of other movie companies is that the banks make decisions on the pictures."

Has the studio ever been in real trouble?

"We've always been pretty stretched out", he said. "Maybe that's why we've done so well — we always owed so much money. Only in the last three years have we been able to breathe more easily...

"Product has always been our strength," Roy said. "It is the floor of our operation. The new money we got goes into the new product. If the time ever came when we got in financial trouble, all we would have to do is shut down new production and let the money roll in from what we've already made."

Tighter Safety Measures Urged On School Buses

QUEBEC — The Quebec School Transport Association has called upon the Provincial government to subject owners of school buses to the same regulations as those governing public services.

The association, in a brief submitted Tuesday, March 10th, to the Minister of Transportation and Communications, urged the government department to make an inquiry into school transport and set up a system of rates safety and efficiency in this field.

Gerard Cournoyer, Minister of Transportation and Communications, said he agreed with the need for such a system of regulations.

Top Quality Steers

OTTAWA — Top quality steers can be produced in 17 months using only a small amount of grain and a single winter feeding period.

Use of good quality roughage and pasture is the key to this method of beef production which gives comparatively quick returns with a minimum expenditure for feed and management, says W. A. Jordan of the Animal Research Institute in Ottawa.

Of 20 shorthorn steers finished in this manner at the Central Experimental Farm, 11 graded red. The rest graded blue.

Spring-born calves were started to be fed at an average weight of 40 pounds. They were then fed a ration of good roughage which was supplemented by two pounds of meal per head daily. Average daily gain per animal during the winter was one pound.

By spring the animals averaged 606 pounds in weight. As yearlings, they were turned out on a four-year-old stand of a grass-legume mixture. The stand, which produced well, had been renovated from an old natural pasture.

No grain was fed to the steers while they were on pasture. They gained 1.6 pounds daily and, when marketed in mid-October, weighed an average of 870 pounds each.

The production method had one disappointing feature: cold carcasses dressed out at only 51.2 per cent. But, says Mr. Jordan, this is not uncommon with pasture-finished steers.

Thrown into the gutter or a waste basket before it was read, did you?

But waste baskets and gutters are constantly being filled with unopened expensive direct advertising, sales ammunition shot into the air.

A newspaper always commands an audience with prospective customers. It is never thrown aside without first being read from "kiver to kiver". Then it is borrowed by the neighbors.

That's why intelligent, attractive newspaper advertising is accepted as the most effective form of advertising your business.

An advertisement in The Gleaner will reach over 90 per cent of the buyers in the local trade territory. The cost is very small, and besides, we do the mailing and pay the postage.

Editorial Notes...

Integration of the Canadian Armed Forces

IN a move to cut the expenditures for defence and such, Defence Minister Hellyer has introduced a White Paper outlining the various means by which he proposes to bring this about. The plan is a ten-year plan. It will involve many changes in the present set-up and all are designed to reduce the cost of defence.

We are in perfect agreement with lowering the cost of maintaining our armed forces and of the equipment provided and used. We have often been of the opinion that much waste has been in evidence in many ways in all branches of the forces. There has been far more stock piling of equipment in all directions than should have been done, except perhaps in war time. Sudden and immense losses in war time operations make it imperative that there be adequate supplies on hand to fill the breaches. In peace time, however, this is not so necessary and much of the supplies can be kept to the immediate necessities. This is especially so in the matter of clothing and other items of a like nature. All such can be made to last much longer under peace time conditions.

However, with one part of the plan, we are a little at a loss to know just how it will work. This is where it is proposed to integrate all branches of the armed forces as one overall unit. This is to be done even to the point of all members wearing the same type of uniform. There is no doubt that this will cut down the cost of clothing for members and make it easier insofar as the make-up is concerned. It has been said that the new type uniform will be very attractive, of lighter material, yet warm and suitable for all weather.

The point is we have been used to seeing sailors in their navy blue uniforms and the able seamen in their bell bottom pants and the wide white collars and round hats; the officers in the navy blue uniforms and gold braid. etc. We recognize the airmen in their blue-grey uniforms and their flying insignia and we know very well the men of the army in their khaki dress,and on special occasions in the regimental dress uniforms. Many of these are quite smart and outstanding. We also recognize the men of the Scottish regiments in the kilts and plaids, etc.

By dressing them all in one uniform, they will soon lose their various identities — especially the sailors and those with Scottish dress. In parades these groups have stood out apart from others in accordance with the importance of their places in past history. The Navy is the Senior of the forces at the present time — this proud place will lose its identity as will the members of that force. Definitely its place is distinctive of the sea, while the army men are of the land and the airforce personnel of the air. In modern warfare all forces must work together — this is very much so as to air and land forces and air and sea forces. However, it is not too often that the men of the airforce personnel of the air. In modern Navy are seen taking part in land fighting. Certainly the Navy has a far different job today than it had in earlier years — but mainly it still has to do mostly with the sea. We feel therefore that the integration of the Navy as a part of one whole force will help to kill its traditions that have been built up over the years. The Navy did a wonderful job in the last war in conveying men and supplies to the scene of the combat and there is no doubt that the war would never have been won without this great contribution. There were few stirring battles as were the great part of the earlier Navy, but there were engagements nevertheless. The Navy played a great part in the D-Day landings which finally decided the war. The Airforce did a great job also and its bombings had a great effect in shortening the war. It also was a great help to both the Navy and the Army in acting as a cover and opening up an attack. While we can never shut out the history of these forces, the integration will in time cause the various identities to be forgottan and with this the great traditions will also be forgotten.

Today we speak of great regiments and of great warships and of great Airforce squadrons. These identities it would seem will also be lost. How will we speak of this integrated force? How will we seggregate this group and that group? When a man joins the forces will he have the same opportunity of choice, or will he be placed into and moved around in all forces according to his ability. What status will officers of this integrated force have,will they be in charge of so many men and no matter what part of the force they may be designated? It is said that there will be new brigades and these will be re-equipped and re-trained for a wide range of deployment. There will be a special brigade for special service in Canada.

It would seem that this will be a first in any country of the world, for in most cases the various branches in other countries do have distinctive uniforms and are still known as separate groups. Thus it will be a tremendous change from heretofore.

What will be the overall designation of this integrated force — it must be given an overall name which will not imply any special group within the force. For instance "militia" gives the immediate impression — army. "Armed Forces" is indicative of all groups, but is a common expression in any country and certainly not distinctive. Certainly some designation will have to be found in order that a man may know to what he belongs. He could say he is a member of the "Canadian Integrated Forces", but that would not mean much. What will the shoulder arm badge carry — just "Canada"? What about all the cap insignias and badges, etc. as worn at present. There are many details which will have to be worked out before this integration is a proven success.

Will There Be Two Liberal Parties?

FOR some time now there has been a move on foot to make the Quebec Provincial Liberal Party entirely separate from the Federal Liberal Party. In a sense this has always been so, as the Provincial body has had its own officers and held its own conventions and conducted its own election campaigns. However, both Provincial and Federal groups have lent each other aid and the Provincial group has done much in the case of Federal elections to aid Federal candidates to be elected. Federal members have aided in Provincial elections by supporting various candidates and so forth and so on. For that matter, we believe this condition is maintained in any province. However, as Quebec has a much larger representation than most provinces, it has been wooed Federally with the idea of their number helping to make the overall majority for the Party.

The present suggestions for separation therefore would seem to hint that all is not well between the Provincial and Federal groups. There have been some outspoken views from Quebec that the Quebec Federation should break away completely from the national party. It is hard to understand just what the implications would be if this actually goes into effect. It has to be remembered that as we now stand, Quebec has to be represented in Ottawa by a large number of members. It is essential to Quebec that it be well represented in any party that is in power at Ottawa. Therefore, it would seem that only by unity can Quebec achieve its aims, unless it is decided to contract out entirely from the Confederation of Canada. If that took place, then of course the Federal election would not have any significance for the Province of Quebec.

It would be wise for any political party to weigh very seriously, just what would be involved if Quebec were to go off on its own. Only before Confederation has Quebec been on its own. It is probably only since that time that this Province has been able to achieve its present status. This has been done by working together with the rest of Canada and sharing in all the advances that have been made. This has been done politically and economically, by uniting efforts, working together and developing together. Quebec is not a part cut off from the rest of Canada, all things are integrated with it and flow through it. It is this that has helped to make it grow economically. It has unbounded power resources and has attracted industries over the years due in part, at least, to this quality. But there are many other reasons why industry has settled here.

Separate paths can only lead to destruction. Having tasted of many social measures that are available on a joint basis, the people of Quebec will demand that they are treated on a continued basis. It is possible that if a separate path is pursued that such things would have to be eliminated, or a very high rate of taxation would have to be imposed. Such taxation would be the means of driving out the industry which helps to make the economy of this Province.

It would therefore seem that any political group which keeps pressing for separation of this and that, is driving toward that ultimate. It would seem that there is more to be gained by uniting efforts and working together than by trying to go the road alone and without help. Difficulties are never so formidable that they cannot be overcome by finding a remedy. Everyone has them at some time and sometimes they do seem insurmountable. Compromise is a large commodity in such cases and oftentimes a difficulty is ironed out by compromise. There is a very true saying that "Unity is Strength." If we divide ourselves from the group we may fall. This philosophy stands for most everything — one can do so much, but many can do so much more. It is therefore to be hoped that members of the Liberal Party in Quebec weigh this matter very thoroughly before condoning the wishes of the few. The advantages must be considered with the disadvantages and how these may affect the overall of the strength of the organization in all ways and at all times.

We notice that a new publication has made its appearance in the first issue of the "Quarterly Grit" containing provocative commentary on the State of Affairs within the Liberal Party. Three aims are outlined 1. Define Liberalism for the Public; 2. Revive the old Party of Reform; 3. Head off Merger with the Democratic Left. This is being published in Toronto and described as "An outspoken journal of Liberal opinion." It is the official publication of the St. Patrick's Liberal Association and it says it is published by an active group of Liberals who believe that the Public deserves a clear presentation of what the Liberal Party stands for.

Well there you have it — so think it over.

SUGAR AND SPICE

Holiday In The Kitchen

By BILL SMILEY

I'm going to punch right on the nose the next person, be it man, woman, child or nice old lady whose bones are as brittle as soda crackers who asks me, "Did you have a nice Easter holiday?"

Bill Smiley

Some school teachers have a nice Easter holiday, and good luck to them. But English teachers are not among them.

English teachers have the same sort of holiday a bus driver would have if he were given a week off and told he was to drive a bus from Halifax to Vancouver in the next seven days.

When the holidays began, I had examination papers to mark which represented a total of about 480 student writing hours. (They could have produced the works of Shakespeare in the same time.) This, in turn means that I have about 100 hours of marking time.

No complaints. It's part of the job. But things were a little more complicated this year. The women of the house came down with 'flu, just as the "holidays" began.

The result was that, instead of sitting quietly in my study, and having countless cups of tea and coffee, innumerable beers and sandwiches brought me, to keep me going, I found myself trotting up and downstairs about six hours of each day, bearing up tempting little things on trays, bearing down dirty dishes. While my pillars of papers sat and gathered dust.

Results of turning the old man loose with the grub for a few days was interesting. My wife has almost decided to become a permanent invalid. My kids realize that their father has another brilliant, unsuspected dimension.

The Old Lady was feeling horrible with the flu, but there didn't seem much wrong with her appetite. She gained about eight pounds. Of course, she's not used to my lunches. Instead of the soup-and-sandwich routine she's accustomed to, they consisted of something like this: glass of sherry; grilled sausage with butter-fried mushrooms and cheese omelette; tossed salad; blueberry pie and ice cream; coffee; brandy; cherry centred chocolates.

The kids were a bit shaken by some of my casseroles. Perhaps the most successful was the lasagna. Basis, a can of lasagna — egg noodles in tomato and meat sauce. Simmer in oven for ten minutes. Add layer of mushrooms, layer of strong cheese, layer of thin-sliced salami, layer of onion rings, layer of mild cheese. Bake in oven Sprinkle with paprika, parsley, chives, cinnnamon, nutmeg, wild oats, or anything else that will sprinkle. Serve with hot, crusty rolls, and stand back.

The reasons there are no great women chefs? They've no imagination. My wife hacks up some lettuce, tomato and celery, and calls it a salad. If she's feeling particularly exotic, she might throw in some some sliced green pepper. My salads, besides these basics, contained great chunks of cheese, all colors; whole green onions, peeled grapes, shredded lemon, raw carrots, quartered dill pickle, jelly beans left behind by the Easter bunny. The whole doused in a dressing made of four raw eggs mixed with tartar sauce, ketchup, mayonnaise, mustard and vinegar.

I have only two things to say about the grand culinary adventure: (a) the food budget is shot for the next six weeks; (b) where can I buy a good, second-hand, automatic dishwasher?

D.S.T. To Be In Effect

At an adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon Town Council on Wednesday evening last, legal advice was read from J.P. Cossette to the effect that nothing could be done towards repealing Daylight Saving Time until the end of one year from the date of passing thereof. D.S.T. will come into effect on Sat., April 29 at 12 midnight and will continue until Sat., Sept. 30 unless unexpected developments occur.

Additional Courses at O.H.S.

Following the April meeting of the Ormstown School Board it was announced that plans have been made to expand the woodworking course slightly following the success of the experimental course this year and also to provide equivalent courses in Household Science — beginning next September. In addition bookkeeping will be introduced in Grades eight and nine.

B.M.H. Campaign Launched

The Barrie Memorial Hospital $10,000 subscription campaign got off to an excellent start last evening. Eighty people attended the meeting and with men like Doctors Stalker and Quintin heading the Barrie Memorial Hospital Board and ably assisted by Messrs. Geo. Baird, R.E. Walsh, H.B. Patton and others the hospital cannot help but become a successful reality.

Fire Destroys Home in Elgin

The "Old Shearer place" well-known by residents of Athelstan and Glenelm, was completely destroyed by fire early Friday evening. The stone house had been occupied by the Howard King family for the past nineteen years. Fire originated in the chimney and sparks flew over the shed connected to the house. In no time all was on fire.

Motor Boat Makes Local History.

The name Galipeau has been long and favourably known in Huntingdon. The Galipeau's have always been known to be mechanically minded and industrous men. These commendable family traits are now being exemplified by the sons of the late Moses Galipeau. John made an outboard motor boat during the winter months and he and his brother Leo have been enjoying trips through the rapids during the high water season. They have established an historical record, for to the best of our knowledge this is the first motor boat ever to traverse the rapids without hindrances to overcome by man power. The boat has been plying up and down the Chateauguay River from the mill dam to near Athelstan and also on the Hinchinbrooke River to Athelstan.

Report From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) The proposed Canada Pension Plan and the whole question of shared-cost programs broached at the Dominion-provincial conference at Quebec continued to have repercussions in Ottawa last week.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker accused the minority Liberal government of leading Canada towards "the piece meal dismemberment of the basic principles of Confederation."

Criticism centered on the involved situation surrounding the Canada Pension Plan and government plans to let provinces contract out of federal-provincial shared-cost programs, taking on the full cost burden in return for added taxing powers.

Prime Minister Pearson felt that although the mixture of federal and provincial retirement pension plans would not measure up to universal application of the federal proposal, it was better than nothing.

He told the Commons that the government's goal would nonetheless be achieved if all Canadians were covered by comparable pension plans allowing portability from one province to another.

Charges Failure

Mr. Diefenbaker called the conference an "abject failure." He said the government's plans for contracting out of shared-cost programs "will mean in time the de-confederation of our nation."

New Democratic Leader T.C. Douglas also had criticism of the trend. It could lead to "balkanization" of Canada, he said.

He said the smaller provinces couldn't hope to finance such programs as hospital insurance with the same taxing power which could be transferred to larger provinces opting out of the program.

"Don't lose sight of the smaller provinces in your desire to appease the very legitimate aspirations of the two larger provinces," he said.

Quebec already has said it will have its own portable pension plan and Ontario was interpreted in many quarters as having decided to do the same thing.

Press Plan

Mr. Pearson said that even with a series of provincial plans, the federal government could still go ahead.

While the main debates during the week droned on with passage of government estimates, there were significant sidelights.

A long-sought "peace pact" on the great lakes raised doubts about whether its price might not be too high.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that Leonard J. McLachlin should be the "last person in the world" to be allowed to become president of the Seafarers International Union. Mr. McLachlin would replace the deposed Hal C. Banks if the union's constitution is allowed to come back into force by the maritime trustees who now rule the union.

The SIU's executive vice-president was described by the opposition leader as a "hoodlum" and said the government was putting the former Banks aide through the "political dry cleaners."

Would Split Union

Labor Minister MacEachen told the commons that a new plan is under study to divide seamen on the great lakes into separate unions for deck officers and men.

It would leave only two unions instead of five: The SIU, the Canadian Maritime Union, the Canadian Merchant Service Guild, the National Association of Marine Engineers and the Marine Section of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General workers.

A backwash from a battle royal in the previous week came up in the house with debate on a bill to abolish the Senate.

Shouts of "old people's home" and a stream of other interjections punctuated the debate on the private bill introduced by Stanley Knowles (NDP-Winnipeg North Centre).

The performance lasted for one hour in the Commons and was observed from the galleries by many of the senators who picked that day to adjourn until April 20 unless something urgent was passed by the Commons and needed their attention.

The bill had been introduced after Senator Gratan O'Leary, president of the Ottawa Journal, had refused the necessary unanimous consent in the previous week to waive Senate rules and give three readings at one sitting to estimates enabling a loan to the empty Unemployment Insurance fund.

Forced Delay

His action had forced a one-day delay in the mailing of a large number of the cheques.

Debate on the measure to abolish the 102-member upper house was limited to one hour and since it was not approved in that time, was shelved indefinitely.

One of its critics, Marcel Lambert (PC-Edmonton West) called the bill a publicity stunt born in a fit of pique.

The annual report of the CNR was tabled in the Commons during the week. It showed a record $800,000,000 in gross revenues in 1963, its biggest year since it was established in 1923.

The money was earned from operation of the railway, highway, hotel and communications sectors of the publicly owned business.

Although it was what president Donald Gordon described as an "exceptional year" the company had a deficit of $43,013,517, about $5,000,000 less than the previous year.

The seventh deficit in a row was caused by debt charges. Actually there was a net income of $21,190,774 on the year's operations before charges on the huge railway debt were added.

"COUNTRY NOTEBOOK"

BY WALKER RILEY

"Country Notebook" by Mr. Walker Riley, Agricultural Extension Specialist with Macdonald College, appears in The Gleaner with this edition. The column will be a weekly feature which we trust will be of interest to all in the Chateauguay Valley.

The other day, I found myself in the middle of a discussion on grinding hay. A feed mill operator was trying to convince one of his customers that he was wasting time, energy and money putting hay through a hammermill. The customer was just as sure that hay ground finely mixed with the dairy ration would save on concentrates. I couldn't give an answer then, but I have been digging up information since. This is what I find.

When hay is ground, cows eat more, but less of it is digested. It may result in increased milk production if they are on all-roughage diet, but the butterfat test goes down. On complete rations, grinding makes little difference to milk flow.

In practice, it seems to me that a few hundred pounds of ground hay isn't going to make much difference one way or another. But certainly, it won't replace grain pound for pound. And no one is likely to put a whole mow of hay through the hammermill at present machinery and power costs.

But perhaps the day of automation is ahead. We may be feeding our cows little wafers of ground hay complete with added concentrates, molases, minerals and everything else. It sounds almost like a breakfast cereal.

Do you grow a few raspberries and find the weeds discouraging? "Simazine" controls weeds well in raspberries if the soil is moist at the time of application and free of established weeds. It kills weeds as they emerge, and two applications can keep the planting clean for the entire season. Apply 1 to 2 pounds of the active ingredient per acre in about 30 gallons of water. Direct the spray at the bases of the canes. Uniform coverage of the soil is essential. Cultivate just before the second application.

"To control couchgrass and other grasses, use dalapon at 1 pound of product per 15 gallons of water but no more than 3 pounds of the product should be applied per acre of area treated each season. Apply it in the spring when the grass is growing vigorously. Spray only the grassed areas and keep the spray off the raspberry foliage and young canes."

This is some of the very useful information given in a new bulletin "Growing Red Raspberries in Eastern Canada". If you would like a copy, we would be pleased to send you one, or write directly to the Information Branch, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

The recommended varieties are listed in a separate leaflet. Latham is still the standard for a late Crop, and Trent for early season in Quebec. Tweed and Newbury are listed for special areas, and Comet, Willamette and Carnival for trial only.

It seems to me that berries could be an excellent sideline on a farm. It would give the

A Letter of Facts By A Reader

ON a Chateauguay Page in this edition you will find a Letter to the Editor from a reader in Chateauguay Heights, which puts forward a good many points that should interest everyone in this Chateauguay Valley.

It points out that while we feel we are progressive and that we have progressed over the past years, in actuality we have been sliding backward. While the case presents the situation as the reader sees it in the Chateauguay area, it applies equally well to all parts of the Chateauguay Valley.

As we pointed out in our recent editorial in this column, we are in the forgotten area. As pointed out in "This and That" column last week, there may be some work done on our No. 4 Highway, but it does not look as if we shall have a real first class highway in time for the 1967 World Fair in Montreal. The letter referred to, points out that many conditions contribute to our area being passed up, when it could be developed. No one thought too much about losing the train service, it was considered outdated. Yet our transportation services have not improved so very much, we have only a bus service to Montreal — there is nothing in any other direction except a local to Valleyfield. It could have been possible to operate a what is known as "Day Liner" on the railway tracks, which would have served us to the States and to other points along the line to Montreal and to that city. There are still a large number of people commuting to these various points and some of them would appreciate a more liberal service. This, of course, is more especially the case in the Chateauguay area.

There is no doubt that poor transit service does mitigate against location of industry and people in any given area. This does not only mean wheeled transportation, but it means the condition of the roads or highways over which one must travel. If these are in poor condition and prone to frequent accidents, then the area is avoided and some other route is taken in preference. Both Highway No. 4 and Highway No. 3 are direct routes to the United States from Montreal. It is therefore that both should be kept in good repair at all times and that they should be made as safe as possible by being widened, straightened and so forth. No. 3 is better than No. 4 for a greater distance of its length, but it fails as it nears the border and reverts from a highway to by-lane in comparison. Highway No. 4 reverts far earlier in its mileage. It is high time as the letter says that someone woke up and began doing a little shouting. Yes only by bringing pressure to bear in the right places will we be able to get things done. For too long now this area has been neglected while other parts are getting all they want.

More complaint of the nature of this letter may succeed in arousing a sufficient number of people to realising that it is time that something was done to get things done in this area. It affects a very large area too, and an important one at that. If various organizations such as Town and Municipal Councils, Chambers of Commerce, and others, were to make their voices heard in the right places, it is quite possible that we could get what is required. We could do with more transportation facilities and no doubt they could be provided in one way or another. With the 1967 World Fair coming up, no doubt there will be even greater demand — both for wheeled transportation and good highways to travel on.

Now is the time to get started however — not 1967.

DOROTHY DAVIDSON

The distance between Dalhousie, a hill station situated high in the Himalays, to Lahore in Pakistan, is approximately a hundred and fifty miles. For the first part, the road snakes down through to cool shadows of the mountains, but when it reaches Pathankot at the bottom, it streaks across the broad plains of the Punjab in a straight line that glitters like brass under the hot sun. By car and under ordinary conditions, the trip can be made in four to five hours. There was a time, however, when it took us the better part of two days to reach our bungalow in Lahore. The religious conflict between Moslems and Hindus, more terrible than the present upheaval currently reported in the news, was the reason.

It all began the late summer of 1947. In August, India became independent, and, at the same time, the new country of Pakistan was born. Partition and the decision as to where the frontiers were to be drawn were the sparks that kindled the age-old hatred between the rival religions into a flame that blazed across the entire Asian subcontinent. There followed weeks of wholesale atrocities. Thousands were killed and tens of thousands became homeless. Gangs of marauders fell upon whole communities — Moslem and Hindu — as they scurried for asylum within their respective boundaries and murdered them along the way. The struggle was severest along the proposed frontiers and the roads from Dalhousie to Lahore skirted the new boundary between Pakistan in the west and India in the east.

The previous May, the Davidsons had left the heat of Lahore and travelled the road to spend the summer at Dalhousie where the head of the family had been appointed O.C. the military hospital there. Early in October, orders were received to the effect that British forces were to leave the two countries and families began to make preparations for the return to England. Like others, temporarily stationed in summer quarters and separated from their home bases. We were faced with a dilemma. The only access to Lahore was by the road which nobody was anxious to travel and to add to the complications was the fact that until his relief arrived to assume command of the hospital, our good man had no choice but to remain at Dalhousie. And time was fleeting. Orders read that we should be prepared to leave Lahore by the end of October.

It was Army Headquarters in Delhi that finally came to the rescue by sending an infantry detachment and seven, three-ton army trucks to escort the families to Lahore. It was decided that the children would remain with their father until such time as the new commanding officer arrived and they could make the trip in safety, and that mother would proceed ahead in the Lahore-bound convoy to pack and close the bungalow.

Early on a frosty morning, we said good-by to the family. The bearer, carrying the one piece of luggage we were allowed, accompanied us down the hill where we joined the band of fifty-odd travellers assembling on the square. A young lieutenant, in charge of the convoy, briefed the company. Nobody was to board a lorry until his or her name had been checked with a sergeant who would allocate spaces in the trucks. We were now under Army command and until the assignment was completed, we were expected to obey orders. Had we brought our lunches as instructed? We would camp for the night at Batala and could expect to arrive in Lahore at 1500 hours the next day. Any questions? He was a true product of Sandhurst and we half expected him to bark, "Company, forward march!" Bless the Army, its manual of rules and regulations, its organization and the efficiency with which it operates! An emergency such as this was no more than a routine mission to be executed smoothly, hitchless. It was reassuring to know.

The big, canvas-topped vehicles were drawn up and ready to roll. There were two trucks of armed troops — one at the van, the other at the rear, a supply truck was in the center of the train and interspersed between, were the lorries into which the passengers now clambered. Chains rattled, tailboards clanked shut and the convoy moved off the square to begin the six-thousand-foot descent to Pathankot.

Feeling somewhat like a fish out of water, we had been assigned to a truck with thirteen Protestant missionaries (men and women). We sat on hard benches, seven aside, with the luggage stacked on the floor between us. Jostling and swaying the fifty miles of switchbacks and hairpin curves, our companions ate oranges and deplored the circumstances that had disrupted their work. They were a lugubrious lot. At noon, the convoy halted by the side of the road where we ate our sandwiches and drank tea provided by the Army. It was getting warm.

Throughout the afternoon, we pressed southward and at four-thirty rolled into Batala and stopped at the Salvation Army Mission where a recreation building had been commandeered for the night. The soldiers on the supply van swung into action. A field kitchen was installed on the lawn of the compound and soon, there was the smell of cooking. Before long, the signal was given to queue up and receive eating utensils and a generous helping of K rations: bully beef, baked beans, bread and butter, jam and tea. Everybody — men, women, children and troops sat on the grass and ate in the gathering darkness. The vehicles were lined in a semi-circle, their headlights lighting up the tight, little band and when a soldier produced a harmonica and the company joined in a sing-song, it brought to mind tales of the old west and the caravans of covered wagons camped along the trail for the night.

The evening ended with the issuing of blankets and an assigning to quarters in the recreation building. Women and children slept on the floor in the dining room while the men were segregated in the lounge. Sleep came late and was intermittent. Sentries crunched the gravel walk outside; the missionaries snored; one lady snuffled with a head cold, another coughed and a child cried fitfully. Thoughts rolled in our head like marbles and long before dawn, the floor had become a stone slab. All in all, it was a rough night especially for bones!

Breakfast was served at six o'clock and by seven, the convoy was on the move again. Yesterday, there was no sign of the evil times, but today, it was to be a different story. No sooner had we left Batala than we ran into bands of refugees, ragged and emaciated, straggling along the road carrying their possessions on their heads. Bullocks strained at carts that creaked under loads of household goods on which rode the old and the sick. Time and again, the convoy ground to a stop

Centenary of The Parish of St. Joseph of Huntingdon

Monsignor Joseph Arsene David
9th Pastor — 1954

Joseph Arsene David is of St. Antoine Abbé where he first saw the light of day on the 15th of May, 1888, son of Arsene, Grand Trunk Foreman, and of Demerise Gamache. He attended the primary school of Ormstown while his father was employed there but very soon went to St. Remi, where the young Joseph pursued his commercial course at the college of Les Clercs Saint-Viateur. He went later to Bourget College Rigaud to finish his classical studies in June 1908. He studied theology at Montreal, at the Seminary of St. Boniface, Man., and at Valleyfield. He was ordained priest at the Valleyfield Seminary by Mgr. Emard, Jan. 6, 1912 and was a professor there till 1922, as well as chaplain for the poor Clares from 1914-1922. He was then named Curate at Vaudreuil, 1922-24, with studies of philosophy in Montreal and assistant at Dorion. He was called by Mgr. Rouleau to be pastor of St. Agnes de Dundee 1924-35 where he built Catholic schools, formed school boards and built a church. Mgr. Langlois named him pastor of Hemmingford in 1935. He repaired the church and the presbytery with limited finances. In 1937 he left for Dorion, where he remained till 1951. During his administration he built a church Sainte Trinité de Dorion, founded the parish of Saint Jean Baptiste and endowed it with a church and presbytery and both were under his guidance till 1951, when the parish of St. Polycarpe was confided to him. He repaired the church and had it redecorated, and he was named Honorary Canon of the Cathedral of Valleyfield November 12, 1952. At the death of Canon A. Pigeon, he was named pastor of Huntingdon, April 9, 1954.

The arrival of Rev. Canon David opened the annals of the contemporary history of the parish. It isn't a question of judging his work, not yet completed. A simple list of facts suffices to review the work accomplished to date. Let us recall that the fabrique upon his arrival consented to a loan of land to complete the construction of Notre Dame School, that a subscription was made in 1956 in favor of the Grand Seminary of St. Boniface, that a beautiful presbytery adjoining the church has been constructed; the interior of the church and the paintings were washed by a specialist in this line from Montreal, who also gilded the altars. Much work has been done in the basement in anticipation of a new floor and new pews in the church.

In 1956 the work of the subsription to the Bishopric of Valleyfield was carried out. In November of the same year Rev. Canon David was promoted to the dignity of Roman Prelate by His Holiness, the Pope. This elevation was the occasion of splendid feasts in Huntingdon as well as Roman and diocesan honors to a few parishioners: the medal Bene Merenti, de Rome, to Mr. Noel Foisy, and the medal of diocesan merit to Messrs Francois Cleyn, Norbert Barnabé and Marcel Benoit.

The 6th of January 1962 was the 50th anniversary of the Ordination of the Pastor, marked by great feasting in May.

There are presently nearly 1,400 children in the Catholic schools of Huntingdon. They are foreseeing a regional school in the near future. All this gives us to understand that our Pastor and his assistant have little time to be lonesome. The field of the Saviour is immense and requires active workers, zealous and solid. May the Master of the Harvest give them to St. Joseph of Huntingdon.

Rigaud, October 24, 1963.

Finances

Plant Fund revenue, that is income not applicable to expenses under the Hospital Insurance Plan, amounted to $31,339.99 an increase of $5,831.28 as you will see from the statements which you have before you. After deducting expenses not payable under the Plan the net income was $21,211.40. This does not include interest now amounting to $996.81 on bank loans which we contend should be paid as an expense under the Plan.

Our 1963 gross expenses under the Hospital Insurance Plan amounted to:

In-patients	$384,128.
Out-patients	6,227.
Total	390,355.
Less offsetting income	36,693.
Net cost of in-patient care	$353,662. or $21.18 per day compared to $19.33 in 1962, an increase of $1.85. We ended 1963 with a deficit of $13,984.10 which we expect to recover when our figures have been verified.

Why are costs rising? The main reasons are the increase in patient days, requiring more staff and the 40 hour week. A few statistics will help to explain this to you.

Patient Days	1960	1963	Decrease	Increase
Adults & Children	12058	16696	4638	38%
New born	1694	2088	394	23%
Number employees	57	79	22	40%
Average number of employees per adults and Children days	1.73	1.72
Gross Expenses
Payroll	$150,697.	$239,962	$ 89,265.	59%
Cost per patient day	12.50	14.37	1.87	15%
Other direct patient care cost	76,870.	109,796.	32,926.	43%
Cost per patient day	6.38	6.58	.20	3%
Administration, plant Operation & Depreciation	31,197.	34,370.	2,173.	10%
Cost per patient day	2.58	2.05	-.53	-20%
Total Gross Cost of
Patient care	$258,764.	$384,128.	$125,364.	48%
Cost per patient day	21.46	23.00	1.54	7.2%

NOTE: The Hospital Insurance Plan was introduced in Quebec as of January 1, 1961.
The Nursing and office staff went on a 40 hour week in April 1961, and other members of the staff on a 44 hour week. As of March 1, 1964 all employees are on a 40 hour week.

You will see from the figures that the number of patient days and the number of employees increased considerably yet the average number of employees per patient day remained almost unchanged notwithstanding the reduced work week. The gross cost of patient care has increased by only 7.2% since 1963.

Annual Budget

The preparation of the annual budget, and the seemingly inevitable appeal, continues to be expensive because of the time required) and frustrating, because no matter how conscientiously it is prepared, it apparently will be changed.

For 1964 we estimated our gross expenses at $428,696., a large increase but required to cover pay increases and the additional staff required to keep up the standard of patient care. The service approved of only $399,747. a reduction of $28,949. We will again have a deficit at the end of the year.

So many factors enter the operation of a hospital that an exact comparison of costs is impossible. The length of stay, type of illness or injury and the treatment required, percentage of maternity patients, and many other factors have a bearing upon costs. However in comparison with other hospitals, I am convinced that our costs are low. If I am not correct then we should have been told if other hospitals, that are truly comparable, are operating for less so that we could find out how to reduce our costs.

There is a grave danger of hospitals being run to meet the ideas of the "Plan" officials, and patients put in a secondary place or lost sight of completely. I feel sure that the citizens of this area and friends from outside the area who subscribed about $500,000. so that they could have a good hospital, want the patients to be the first consideration, even if all costs are not fully reimbursed. We should not be critical of the desire of the officials to keep costs to a minimum but we must be practical.

Later I intend to ask for your opinion on this line of thought because if we are concerned with present costs we should be alarmed at the probable cost of providing hospital care in the future.

Costs in the Future

The cost of providing hospital care paid for by way of taxation, will continue to rise; in fact unless the present trend is changed, the amount of tax money required will probably double within the next ten years, and double again within the following 10 years. The increase in costs, beyond the control of hospital management, will result from:

Economic conditions
The changing role of hospitals
Social requirements.

Let us examine these factors:

Economic Conditions:

Prior to the introduction of Government sponsored hospital care, salaries and wages were low compared to the general levels. Hospitals were having staffing problems but they managed to keep going because there were always some people willing to work for charitable instituations at lower pay scales. However when the Government stepped in, the "Charity" appeal stepped out and employees quickly called for increased remuneration and improved working conditions, such as the 40 hour week and fringe benefits. Pay scales have been increased so that hospital employees are now better paid, though not yet on a level compared with industry, but hospitals have to function 24 hours a day and seven days a week and hospital work is unattractive to many. There is a paradox here; the public would be horrified if the sick and injured were left to attend to themselves over the week-end, yet few persons now want to work on Saturdays or Sundays.

There is a serious shortage of paramedical staff, (Nurses, orderlies and technicians), a condition which will only be remedied by offering pay scales that will make hospital work attractive.

It is interesting to note that the wage scale of members of the Montreal School Caretakers Association now starts at $350. a month, rising to a maximum of $450. plus fringe benefits, whereas the basic salary of nurses, the caretakers of the sick and injured, is $325, rising to $370. If the above rates for school caretakers are justified then we must expect to pay even higher rates for the paramedical staff or face an ever increasing shortage of trained personnel.

Let us face up to the fact that, with inflation now running at a rate of 2% a year, and the still necessary increase in pay scales, economic conditions will increase costs by at least 60% within the next decade without any increase in hospital use. You will have noted that the 1964 Federal Budget provides for an increase of 9% for hospital costs and in Ontario 1962 costs were 13.8% higher than in 1961. Some of the increase is for additional services but much is due to increase in basic costs.

The Changing Role of Hospitals

Hospitals are no longer places for congregating only the sick; they are also places for congregating expensive equipment and highly trained personnel available to serve the sick and injured around the clock, seven days a week.

Hospitals, in the future, will become "Health Centres". These will be complex organizations providing total health care for all age groups. The acute general hospital service will be supplemented by provision for;

Long stay sub-acute patients,
Rehabilitation,
Psychiatric care and,
Health Clinics.

"The Health Centre", in addition to providing for the in-patient, will also provide for the needs of those who do not require hospitalization. Doctors, probably part of a group practice, will provide service day and night. Specialists, as required by the area served, and Dentistry will also be provided.

These "Health Centres", depending upon population density and road conditions, will serve a wide area. Instead of the doctor going to the patient, the patient will go to the doctor, at the "Health Centre", where the necessary scientific equipment will be available. With the ease of travel, such an arrangement will not mean a hardship for most patients and as one writer has said:

> "It would be odd if the public did not go where medical hardware and highly trained personnel are congregated, when it needs access to those resources. Modern medicine has, in the hospital, much more complicated gear and expensive personnel than can be found lying around a patient's home or in a doctor's office."

How much this new concept of medical care will increase hospital use, and taxes, is difficult to estimate. The spectacular advances in medicine have resulted in more conditions being cured or at least helped to the extent that life is prolonged, even if not always too useful nor perhaps in some cases even desired. As medical knowledge increases, more and better trained, and higher paid, personnel will be required to administer the complicated and comprehensive treatment and procedures. With greater emphasis being placed on preventative medicine, probably more patients will be hospitalized earlier thus preventing more serious conditions from developing and thereby reducing the number of long-stay cases. It can be expected that hospital use will increase for some years and then level off, subject to population increase and change in social conditions.

It should be mentioned here that, through the close co-operation with the group practice of the Ormstown Medical Centre, we already have a large part of the "Health Centre" of the future.

Social Requirements

Changing social conditions will greatly increase hospital use. There was a time when only the very sick were hospitalized, but with more wives working and families living in smaller houses and apartments, it is becoming almost impossible to keep the sick or injured at home, nor is there room for an ailing parent. It will soon be no longer a question, according to Ray E. Brown, Professor of Hospital Administration, Duke University, of

> "How sick is sick enough to require hospital care, but rather, what level of sickness makes it more convenient to go to a hospital than to stay at home".

It will be difficult to criticise this attitude on the part of the public. As the cost is being paid by taxes to which all have contributed, many people even now feel that they should not be denied the use of something that is free or, if not free, at least already paid for. If each person paid his own bill out of his own private funds it would be difficult to show a moral reason why he should not use all the hospital care that he could purchase. In this sense it really is not hospital utilization that is open to criticism but rather tax utilization.

Further, apart from convenience, the hospital is regarded as a lifesaving mechanism, and the place to be if you are sick or injured. This situation exists now and will increase, so that doctors will be forced to hospitalize more patients or have the patients, and relatives, feel that they had been denied the optimum of medical care. Doctors will be unable to resist this ever increasing demand.

Also as more people are living longer hospital use will increase. It has been estimated, in the U.S.A., that the aged account for about 9% of the population but they comprise about 40% of the chronically ill, many of whom require treatment, from time-to-time, in acute general hospitals such as the "Barrie". If the aged are to have the full benefit of modern medical knowledge what is the alternative to increased hospital use? Society would not have it otherwise but must be prepared to pay the bill.

These social conditions will certainly increase the costs to be paid for by taxes under the present system of hospital insurance, slowly at first because accommodation will be lacking, but the public will quickly demand that it be made available. The per capita cost of providing hospital care for all will certainly soar unless the brakes are applied in some manner.

A Deterrent is Necessary

The principle of providing any service to any person without a direct charge is all wrong. Insurance experience confirms that loss cost is reduced, to a point, in proportion to the amount of the loss that is actually paid for by the owner. However with such a large part of the population living up to, or beyond actual earnings, the Government was almost forced to adopt some means to ease the burden imposed on hospitals by those unable or unwilling to provide for their own financial needs.

Patients, or those responsible for them, should have a direct interest in the cost of hospital use without incurring too great a financial burden. A deterrent could be provided by:

1) Making the first two days of hospital stay, a direct charge to the patient.
2) A direct charge of $10.00 a day for the next five days.
3) A further charge of $2.00 or possibly $3.00 a day until the patient has been discharged.

These charges should not mean much of a hardship for the patient, with some exceptions. Some relief will have to be provided for persons of limited income and perhaps a limit, based upon a percentage of income, per family per year.

No change, in the present system of reimbursing the hospitals, would be required. Accounts would be rendered by the hospital but, because of the exceptions that will be necessary, accounts unpaid, after say 30 days, or for which an exemption is claimed, would be sent to the Government Agency which would then undertake the collection or write off the amount for the excepted cases. Amounts collected by the hospital would be transferred monthly to the Government.

Some such deterrent plan must be adopted or the public must face much higher taxes to pay for hospital care, the building of many more hospitals and the training of the personnel that will be required. Further any deterrent plan should be uninsurable or the purpose will be largely defeated.

Gifts and Donations

Enough about the future. 1963 was another big year for the Women's Auxiliary of your hospital. As you will have learned from the annual financial report their donations, including those from the Howick-Aubrey-Riverfield Branch, amounted to $4,696.70 for which we are extremely grateful.

We also received donations from the Nurses for which we are truly thankful. Their contribution to our needs amounted to $385.11, a large sum from a small number.

We again received a number of donations and gifts from friends for which we are very thankful. Mr. James T. Stewart of Howick died on November 4th, 1963, and we have been advised that after specific bequests have been paid the balance of his estate is to go to the "Barrie". It was not my good fortune to have known Mr. Stewart very well; he had been generous to the hospital during his lifetime and his willingness to help others, even after death, surely indicates the fine character of the man. I would also apply these same remarks to all others who have made provision in their wills for amounts, large or small, that are to be paid to help your hospital.

To The Staff

The Executive Director, Mrs. Fearn, has had another busy year; staffing problems were a little easier in 1963 but as the percentage of occupancy increased, other problems mounted. Her experience and advice has been of great help and for which I am most thankful. Mrs. Lawrence was again of great assistance.

Mr. Curtis and the office staff, which was increased during the year from three to four, also had a busy year, as did the kitchen, housekeeping, laundry and maintenance staff.

Dr. M. R. Stalker, the Medical Director, has helped your hospital and Governors in too many ways to mention. For this help I am most grateful.

To all of the doctors on the medical staff, I again offer my sincere thanks for their skillful work and co-operation in making 1963 another successful year. I also thank all employees for their good work in 1963. To the Governors I express my sincere thanks for their help, so willingly given during the year, and to the Press, my sincere appreciation of the help to "The Barrie" in 1963.

Respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Mr. Chairman, Governors, Members:

Nineteen sixty-three follows the now old familiar pattern. Your hospital continues its upward trend in all departments. The statistics of patient care have been printed and will be published along with the reports you will hear this evening. It is interesting to note that 38% of our adult and children admissions were emergencies, 19% of our adult admission were Obstetrical patients, this leaves only 43% to cover all elective medical and surgical cases.

Maintaining standards in any hospital is always a problem, this problem becomes much greater in a small active hospital such as ours. The accepted occupancy rate for a hospital under 100 beds is 75%, our rate has increased to 82.4%, even with this higher than normal rate, we have been able to maintain an exceptionally low average stay per patient of 7.74 days. This achievement has been possible through the fine co-operation of the medical staff.

The lack of a separte Obstetrical Department is one of our biggest problems. At the present time we have five beds set aside for maternity patients, on many occasions during the past year we have had as many as fifteen patients in this department, in order to care for these patients we have been forced to deprive the Surgical department of much needed beds.

I would also like to call your attention to the Central Sterilizing department, this unit was exceptionally well designed. It served our earlier needs, in a very adequate fashion, however the demands being made upon it now are much too heavy for the present space and equipment.

We have outgrown many of our service areas, particularly in the Operating Theatres and Medical Records, another example is our lack of a proper Admitting office.

The lack of treatment rooms on each floor is becoming more obvious, we are using costly space and staff in the Operating Theatres to do work that could be done less expensively on the ward if proper space existed. In the Recovery room we have increased our facilities to care for four patients instead of the three originally planned, this has been accomplished by using specially designed stretchers instead of the conventional hospital beds. But this is barely adequate in view of the fact we have substantially increased the use of the Operating Theatres.

An acute Intensive Care unit would add greatly to our efficiency. Patients requiring constant observation and skilled nursing care could be cared for in this one unit. It has been proven that this type of unit provides excellent care for the patient and makes more efficient use of the highly trained nursing staff.

As an accredited hospital it is necessary that we continue to furnish our patients with the highest quality of medical, surgical and nursing care. We should look to the future.

In the planning stages of any new hospital building or extension, consideration should be given to the requirements of the patients, and to provide adequate facilities for the staff who will directly or indirectly be caring for these patients. It is the architect's responsibility to design a building which will meet our needs but it is our responsibility to inform the architect of these needs. These requirements must be on paper to be used as a guide and a record, this can only be accomplished by setting up active committees composed of key personnel of every department. It must be remembered that medical science moves ahead so quickly that in the three or more years of planning and building, a hospital can to a certain extent be out of date, the day it opens its doors.

The problem of maintaining adequate staff in a hospital is always present, however it is encouraging to note that during 1963 the situation has again improved, our personnel turn over was greatly decreased. We believe that more satisfactory working conditions together with salary revisions has brought about this healthy condition.

During the past year, our Disaster Plan which was originally designed in 1955 to meet a particular situation was revised and brought up to date to cover the present day needs. These revisions were thoroughly discussed at a meeting of the medical and hospital staffs, together with representatives from neighbouring hospitals and local Service organizations.

In the very near future we look forward to accreditation examination, this event occurs once every three years. Accreditation is the mark of hospital proficiency. It is not granted indiscriminately, but is given only to those hospitals which merit it by their day to day efforts. We look forward to this visit from a representative of the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation.

During the past few months we have welcomed to our volunteer staff, a group of young ladies known as the "Candy-stripers". These Ormstown High school girls are members of the Junior Red Cross. When they come on duty each day at 4:30 P.M., dressed in their attractive red and white striped uniforms, they are a joy to patients and staff. Several of these young ladies have expressed interest in nursing as a profession, and we look forward to the day when we welcome them to our staff as full fledged R.N.'s, but in the meantime we wish to express our sincere gratitude to them for the services they give so willingly and efficiently.

It is indeed a pleasure to express our deep appreciation to the Ladies' Auxiliary for their unfailing and steadfast support which they give to the hospital year after year. Apart from the generous financial contributions, and the bursaries awarded student nurses, another valuable service is rendered by the sewing groups. We are indeed grateful.

Mr. Chairman, I say "Thank you" to you, the Board of Governors, the Medical staff and the entire hospital staff for the support and co-operation given to me during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. M. FEARN, Executive Director.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL DIRECTOR

This is the twenty-fifth annual report of your hospital. It would seem fitting that some effort should be made at this time to record some of the major developments of that quarter century. So much water has gone over the dam that it is difficult to do this briefly.

A hospital is a most unusual organization, this having developed throughout many centuries. We started the Barrie Memorial from zero in experience about hospital service and had to depend upon the advice of our many friends. While these were numerous I would especially wish to record the assistance of Mrs. Wright, Superintendent of the Brome, Mississquoi Hospital and the late Dr. A. T. Bazin of the Montreal General Hospital.

The responsibilities of a hospital are serious. They involve the care of the lives of many seriously ill and injured people, yet the first responsibility rests with a lay Board of Governors. We have been most fortunate in that dedicated men and women from the whole area have given voluntarily of their abilities and time. Two of the original Governors, Mr. Andrew Allen and Mr. Earle Ness have served continuously throughout this period. In the evolution of the policies of a new organization and its multiple problems large responsibility rests upon the Chairman. We have been most fortunate in having three outstanding men. Each has made his contribution. I wish once again to record the unusual contribution of the late R. E. Walsh. The site of this institution was his doing. It should be considered his monument. He had another vision, much ahead of his time, about the need for care of the aged. He left the nucleus of this in the creation of "The Walsh Haven Home Corporation." I have confidence that ultimately it will become what he visualized.

The next fact that should be recorded and closely allied to the Board of Governors is the contribution of this rather wide but thinly populated bilingual and bicultural community. I doubt if there is any similar community in the wide world that has so supported a similar project. The late Miss Margaret Barrie stated in her will that it was to serve all citizens regardless of race or creed. It was inevitable that in its early years the leadership and support would be largely Anglo-Saxon. Over these comparatively few

McCormick $264.29.

On motion of Coun. John Rodger seconded by Coun. Wilfrid Bryson the following changes of ownership were made on the Valuation Roll: Adelard Leduc to Pierre Gagnier P. 645: Armand Dumont to André Dumont 1129-1243: Marcel Schink to Ludovic Lussier P. 1100: George E. Tate to Robert Y Grant No. 159: Robert Y Grant to James McGerrigle No. 159: Wilfrid Leduc to Rodolphe Charland Nos. 224-225: Howard Geddes to Marcel Miljour P.699. Frederick A. Wilson to Roy J. Blair nos. 1273-74-75 P.991 David Albert McCartney to James Albert McCartney No. 606: Délia Parent to Fernand Prevost P.632: Roger Simard to Gratien St-Yves No. 1080-2.

On motion of Coun. Douglas Sproule seconded by Coun. James Smith the Mayor was authorized to sign Welfare papers for the children of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Lefebvre.

On motion of Coun. Gilles Gagnon seconded by Coun. Gérald Dagenais the Mayor was authorized to sign Welfare papers for the children of Mr. André and Mrs. Jeannine Hébert.

Coun. Wilfrid Bryson gave Notice of Motion that at the next or subsequent meeting of Council, he would propose a By-Law governing the Morgan Water Course and its Branches in the 1st and 2nd range of Ormstown.

The secretary was instructed to write the owner of a property on Borden Street, re the condition of the house and advise the said owner that unless action was taken to rectify this matter, within 30 days, the Council would be obliged to act under the provisions of Art. 421 of the Quebec Municipal Code.

On motion of Coun. Douglas Sproule seconded by Coun. Gérald Dagenais the Council of the Municipality of St. Malachie d'Ormstown, homologated the Act of Agreement concerning the Billette Branch of the Grande Discharge.

On motion of Coun. Douglas Sproule seconded by Coun. Gerald Dagenais the Council of the Municipality of St. Malachie d'Ormstown homologated the Act of Agreement concerning the Brière Branch of the Grande Discharge.

On motion of Coun. Gilles Gagnon seconded by Coun. Douglas Sproule, commencing May 5th and until further notice, the regular meeting of Council will be held the Tuesday following the first Monday of the month at 8 p.m.

On motion of Coun. Gilles Gagnon seconded by Coun. Gérald Dagenais the meeting adjourned at 2.35 p.m.

Mr. Georges Kennedy M.P.P. County of Chateauguay, met with the Councils of the Village & Parish and held an informal meeting with a large number of taxpayers, who were present to meet with the Provincial Member of Parliament after the regular Council Meeting had adjourned.

Barrie Memorial Hospital

years, it has been interesting to observe the evolution of our two founding races in this hospital. Our medical and nursing staff is approximately equal. Two languages are used interchangeably. We have no intolerance. We have a unity which ultimately should be attained throughout our Province.

Administration

I should like to record something about the evolution of administration. In large hospitals the chain of responsible command is from a trained medical executive director to nursing supervisor on one side, business and maintenance management on the other, with a medical director as liaison of professional duties. This is difficult in a small institution. Some compromise in necessary. This was discovered very early in our development. An important link between Board of Governors and the professional care of the patients by medical and nursing staff was necessary. Dr. T. J. Quintin was created Medical Superintendent as head of administration which he carried out voluntarily in an excellent manner. It has been my lot to carry on that duty until fairly recently. With growth and added duties these responsibilities needed to change. The new Quebec Hospital Act has recognized this need. The medical staff is now represented on the Board of Governors. In hospitals of this size and type it has been found best to have a trained nurse with special experience in administration and understanding of the multitude of professional problems to be the Executive Director and the Head of Administration, with Business Management and Maintenance as a sub head and a Medical Director as liaison and spokesman for the medical staff. This has so developed in your hospital. Mrs. Marjorie Fearn is your efficient and experienced Executive Director. The post of Medical Superintendent has changed to Medical Director. The post of Business Manager and Supervisor of Maintenance and Public Relations was created some eleven years ago and has been filled to great advantage by Mr. Victor Curtis.

I now wish to comment briefly about the changing pattern of medical service, the contribution your hospital is making and the challenge of the present and the future. This is the age of science and the progress that medical science has made in the century has been most remarkable. I wish that time and space would permit me to list the vast improvements that I have seen in four decades of practice. That must wait for another sermon. The sum total is that the span of life has increased by more than twenty-five years. Suffering and early death have greatly diminished. It is, however, not all on the credit side of the ledger. Individuals now live to suffer and die of heart and blood vessel disease, malignancy and degenerative diseases. These often require much scientific and professional care that is often prolonged.

One extremely important effect of this age of science is its effect upon the medical, nursing and paramedical professions. The demand for the benefits of medical science and hospital care has been excessive. It is said that fifty years ago one went to hospital to die and there was considerable truth in that statement as the mortality rates were very high. Nevertheless it prevented a large number from going to hospital. Today it is the citizens' right and democratic privilege to enter hospital in order to prevent disease. This fact alone has created a great shortage of hospital beds.

Fifty years ago a physician was trained for practice in four to five years. Today a large percentage train twelve years or more. The two factors, that of increased demand and length of training, has resulted in a great shortage of medical personnel. It is inevitable that it has increased costs by much more than our average inflation.

Now I wish to endeavour to clarify a very important factor. It is one in which your hospital has made a most valuable contribution for this area. Fifty years ago at least ninety percent of all medical doctors were family doctors. Today that percentage is below fifty and this in spite of a vastly increased demand for services. The result throughout the civilized world is that the individual and the family cannot easily obtain the services of a family doctor. The so-called image of the doctor, the respect which he commanded has greatly depreciated. This because it was the family doctor of the past who created this image in spite of the fact that he had little to offer. Today it is this same well trained general physician who should interpret modern medical science to our citizens but he is not available. Why this paradox? It is not difficult to answer. There are many factors but the paramount one is the great attraction of science. Our young graduates wish to be good. They are willing to serve twelve or more years in order to become good doctors and the result is that they are trained in a specialized field. In order to practice he or she must have the equipment and the associate specialists that are found within a hospital.

The real fact that I want the members of this hospital to appreciate is this, because of your hospital which started twenty-five years ago, because of another community hospital in Huntingdon, because of the teamwork leadership of the associated group practice this whole area has available physicians and continuous "round the clock" medical and hospital service. I hope that these explanations may in some small way be compensation for the great support that the citizens of this area have given. The return is more than that of words. There are few individuals and few families who have not benefitted by the general medical care and medical science that has developed around your hospital.

I must report two more developments. Interne service and accreditation. At the end of World War II a soldier in uniform walked into the Medical Centre. It was Dr. Charlie Hyndman. He asked "Could I work here?" He started the next day, even before he was demobilized, as a part time interne and assistant. He later became an active member of your staff. Ambition led him to train in Radiology and for some years he has been Chief Radiologist of a large University Hospital in Edmonton. As our first interne he demonstrated the contribution such a service could make. He likewise proved to us the value of finding future personnel for your hospital and for our group practice. In the intervening years a large number of excellent young physicians have been here in this capacity. Their later careers have been interesting to watch. The great majority have been most successful. This service is difficult to maintain because of shortage of available personnel. For many years we had an admirable rotation from the Royal Victoria Hospital and for the same reason of shortage of personnel it has been discontinued. We are still hopeful for the future. I now wish to record those who are presently on your staff who were former internes. Drs. Andrew Kelen, Merrill Stalker, Jos. Johnson and J. A. McCallum. During 1964 a former student interne, Dr. Gordon Thompson, will be joining the staff. Of all the many factors upon which the future of your hospital depends this is the most important. If your hospital is to have a reputation its staff members should have integrity, ability, training and teamwork compatibility.

I need report little about accreditation. Your hospital received this first in 1952. It is important in all hospitals but extremely so in one of this size. It is a means by which we voluntarily maintain our standards. It like-wise would be difficult to maintain without our interne and resident service.

So much for history I would now wish to speak of the present and the immediate future. Certain definite principles are involved. This community cannot have the benefits of the scientific achievements previously mentioned without scientifically specialist trained physicians. Secondly, these physicians must continue to work together as a team and they must continue to give "around the clock" available, continuous, individual and family medicine. This community cannot obtain these physicians without your hospital and cannot continue to obtain this type of highly trained personnel unless your hospital continues to be progressive and fully accredited. This is likewise true of nurses, technicians and paramedical staff. Finally, in order to obtain this type of personnel we must be in a professional, economic and technical position to compete with the large medical centres.

What then of the immediate future? We should take a lesson from progressive industry. In this competitive world it changes its equipment long before it is obsolete. Similarly in medical and hospital care, if we are to maintain standards and give the best care to our patients, we must keep our means of service up to date. With the advent of government into hospital insurance there is a great danger that our standards can be lowered. This is partly due to lack of enthusiasm of local citizens. May this not happen here. Government only assists with capital expenditure yet controls expansion. It is therefore a paradox that while the Board of Governors are responsible for standards they are unable to maintain these standards because of outdated equipment.

A few words about the Agnew Survey plan. It is extremely conservative. To enlarge from 55 beds to 83 active beds with a possible 15 long stay beds is much more conservative than our change from 15 beds in the first hospital to 55 beds here. It will be expensive partly because of lack of planning for expansion in this building.

Mr. Chairman and Members, can we get on with our work? We must go on and progress or we will go backward. Can we not take the responsibility of completing the final architectural details while waiting for government approval? Can we not at least plan for a financial campaign even if this approval is held up? Surely government cannot but approve of such local responsibility.

Respectfully submitted,
M. R. STALKER, M.D., Medical Director.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

I do not have statistics to give you such as you have just heard from the previous reports, yet, like the others, I can say that 1963 was a very successful year for the Medical Board.

First, let me give you some of the highlights of our group activities in 1963. There were twelve business meetings held, and these come on the Third Tuesday in each month.

The first meeting was one in which the Board of Governors was invited to have dinner with Dr. Agnew of Agnew, Peckham and Associates of Toronto, who had drawn up the survey report on our hospital expansion. This was a very important meeting because it gave direction to our thinking in 1963 and allowed us to dream of the future. Actually, it was more than a dream because it started us on a little preliminary expanding. In 1963, as stated by Mrs. Fearn, we decided to put the paediatric department on the third floor in order to attempt to meet the requirements of the increasing number of obstetrical patients coming in. Also the recovery room was recognized in order to give better service for post-operative care. These things were accomplished with the help of our Board.

Besides our business meetings we had, in 1963, ten scientific meetings and, as was customary, a Clinical Day at which twenty-three doctors were present.

I would like to make a personal comment at this point. Apart from being on the medical staff of The Barrie, I am a visiting doctor to another hospital as well and have opportunity to make comparison with others, and when I tell you that the average attendance at the medical meetings of The Barrie is twelve out of fifteen, you will understand that this is most unusual.

Secondly, I would like to remark on what Dr. M. R. Stalker has said with regard to the way in which the two cultures of this Province work together within this hospital, and I would emphasize that there has never been any place for discrimination within these walls, and one proof of this is that I am French-Canadian and also President of the Medical Board of the hospital.

As President of the Medical Board, I would like to make another remark. A few years ago we were moving from what we know as "The Old Barrie" into this new hospital, and we were apprehensive of all the problems confronting us. History is now repeating itself, and we find it necessary to provide more and even better accommodation.

I am sure that we do give the best medical and nursing care in the region. Figures are available to prove this because they compare favorably with those in larger centres. Just look at the figures: maternal deaths in 1963 were nil; and our figures for newborn and neonatal deaths are very low.

We have been dreaming of a larger hospital to provide even better service, and this dream will become a reality, I am sure. It is a big job we are tackling but we have the personnel to make sure of the success of the enterprise.

May I take the opportunity at this annual meeting to pay tribute to everyone who works for this hospital from the most humble employee, including the new "Candy Stripers", the nursing staff, administration, executive, and board of governors. Dr. Stalker mentioned the achievements of past and present chairmen of the board. I think this hospital is continuing to do a magnificent job under its present chairman, its medical director and executive director.

Respectfully submitted.
RONALDO BELANGER, M.D.

Accounts Receivable:

Accounts Receivable presented little collection difficulty during the year under review, due to the now generally known policy that a deposit is expected from all who seek preferred accommodation and who have no insurance to cover this cost. Our greatest difficulty arises from those who believe they are insured for preferred accommodation yet who, for one reason or another, are turned down by the insuring company. Since this cannot be definitely ascertained before the patient leaves the hospital, a delay in receiving payment is inevitable.

In the years following the introduction of provincial hospital insurance, considerable delay and difficulty was experienced in realising on hospital coverage carried outside Canada. Following a policy laid down by the Board that all persons from outside our country should pay in advance week by week and collect the insurance themselves, the situation improved greatly.

Memberships:

You will note from the financial statement that memberships again were profitable to the hospital, the difference between receipts and discounts being considerable. Much of this may be traced to that fact that many members did not use preferred accommodation, mostly because it was not available at the time they needed it. And in many other cases, the profitable situation was due to the member patient having other insurance which completely covered the cost of the preferred accommodation taken. Annual Memberships now stand at 210. Life Memberships at 461.

Apart from the financial benefit which might accrue both to the hospital and its members, the tie created between them by that same membership is extremely valuable from a public relations point of view.

Operation and Maintenance

The cost of operation of the physical plant rose very slightly in 1963 as compared with the previous year, and the cost of maintenance was considerably lower due to several factors; the first being, as the Chairman has already stated, that no painting of patient rooms was done because none of the rooms could be vacated long enough; and, secondly, in 1962 several major repairs were undertaken for which there was no corresponding expense in 1963. Considerable credit also must go to Mr. Archie Hughes who, in 1963, completed his first year as Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds. Through his efforts economies were effected, and the whole property benefited by his work and supervision.

During the latter part of 1963, approval was given by the Board to the installation of filtration and water softening plants which had long been under consideration. Competent engineering counsel was engaged and, through them, quotations were obtained and installation begun. This was completed only in March of this year, but the results already obtained justify the expenditure.

Constituent Rents

The Chairman has spoken of the impending and essential campaign for funds which must be undertaken. Also, he has hinted strongly that you could help the hospital greatly by making provision in your will for funds to come to the hospital from your estate. I want to recommend a plan by which you can benefit both the hospital and yourself while you are still living.

This plan is known in legal parlance as "Constituent Rent". I perfer to call it a "Guaranteed Income Plan" for this is exactly what it is.

If you desire to help the hospital generously, yet you require a good return on your capital while you live, you turn over to the hospital any amount you please in cash or negotiable securities and receive for the rest of your life a guaranteed high rate of interest thereon. This applies to a married couple as well as that the survivor continues to draw the income during his or her life-time.

A Personal Note

And now, having reached the conclusion of this brief report, I would like to introduce a more personal note.

The report just presented marks the tenth time I have stood before you in these annual meetings. It also marks the last time I shall appear before you in my present capacity.

This will come as no surprise to most of you. Even before my letter to the Board at its last meeting resigning as Business Manager, or "Controller" as the Quebec Hospital Insurance Service so generously calls it, the Board of management had opportunity to consider it. So that, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, or in any event not later than July 1st. of this year which marks the anniversary of my coming to "The Barrie" eleven years ago, I shall relinquish my present responsibility. And, frankly, I am looking forward to it.

However, it has been agreed between the Board and myself that I shall give the necessary time, on a free-lance basis, to the management and follow-up of the pending financial campaign, the success of which is vital to the proposed expansion.

I could, perhaps, let you suffer while I took considerable of your time in reviewing some of the difficulties that have presented themselves during my association with this hospital, but this would merely bore you, and life is too short for that. Suffice it to say, therefore, that I shall be content in the thought of, perhaps, having made some contribution to a really worthy enterprise, and that in the course of attempting to do this, I have met some very fine people amongst whom I number those before me and those with whom I have been associated as fellow workers. And my interest in the continued upward progress of "The Barrie" will be maintained even after my business associated has ceased.

Respectfully submitted,
C. V. CURTIS

REPORTS

Following the presentation of these reports, the Chairman, in the unavoidable absence of the Treasurer, Mr. E. Sault, gave a resumé of the audited financial statement. This was adopted unanimously by the members present.

In commenting on the financial statement, the Chairman gave a comparison of costs with other hospitals which tended to prove that The Barrie was a low cost hospital, particularly considering that it was run solely for the benefit of the patients and in accordance with our standards as an accredited hospital. But, said he, the Quebec Hospital Insurance Service has been continuously critical of our costs, without justification, and we have not yet been reimbursed for the balance of our 1962 deficit.

Continuing, the Chairman said that, regardless of who pays, the governors are by law solely responsible for the the right to decide if expenses are reasonable and in keeping with our needs.

Concluding, the Chairman asked for expressions of opinions on this point from the members present, for, said he, if we are not fully reimbursed by the Service, the unpaid balance will have to come out of our Plant Fund, and I do not see how we can reduce our standard of care.

Unanimously the members agreed that, if the Government did not approve all our costs, we must continue to provide satisfactory service and pay for it. Otherwise we would be failing in our duty to the patients.

Nominations were called for governors to fill the five vacancies created by expiring terms. Of the five whose terms were expiring, G. D'Aoust and D. J. McEwen did not seek re-election and Dr. Rolando Belanger and Bruno Beaulieu were elected in their places. A. A. Allen, N. Simms and F. Stevenson were re-elected for a further three year term.

In the Annual Board Meeting which followed the annual general meeting, Norman H. Simms was re-elected Chairman, and Mrs. John Davidson was elected Secretary.

Council Meeting

Ormstown Village Council

Regular session of the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Village of Ormstown was held in the Town Hall Monday, April 6th. at 7.30 P.M. at which session were present Mayor A. A. Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC (CP) — Relations between the Quebec and Federal Liberal Parties appeared to reach the crisis stage during the week in Quebec City.

The threads of the situation were many and varied, but woven together created a tapestry showing a widening rift between the two groups.

One of the main threads, it was believed, was Premier Lesage's threat of double taxation when he brings down his budget. He was generally believed preparing to deliver it this Friday, but put it off until a later, unspecified date.

There were reports that the minority Liberal Government in Ottawa is worried over the political effect if Mr. Lesage goes ahead with double taxation and puts the blame on Ottawa.

The Federal Liberals hold 49 Quebec's 75 seats and like any minority government must have the possibility of snap elections constantly on its mind.

Mr. Lesage met for 90 minutes with J.W. Pickersgill, the Federal Transport Minister during the week. The Premier said they discussed "matters of common interest."

But it was considered likely Mr. Pickersgill wanted to discuss the double taxation possibility and perhaps offer a solution to the issue.

Mr. Lesage brought up, the possibility after the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Conference, saying double taxation may be necessary since Ottawa hadn't turned over any additional taxation powers to the province.

At the same time, the Liberal Members of the Legislature met in caucus. It is believed, the discussion centered around taxes and the possibility of a final rupture between the Federal and Provincial wings of the party.

Sections within the Quebec Liberal Federation have been pressing for such a break for at least a year, saying that Quebec and Ottawa's interest are often different and that one political party can't represent both sides of an issue.

Rumors ran rife late in the week when the General Council of the Quebec Liberal Federation held a snap meeting in Quebec with only 24 hours notice. About 50 of the 142 members showed up.

Again, it is believed the political ramificatons of double taxaton and the possbility of a split were discussed. But a four paragraph communique after the meeting made no mention of this.

It merely expressed support for Mr. Lesage's stand at the conference on the matter of pensions, tax-sharing and the Federal Government's pair of plans to aid education.

Two federal members of parliament said they abstained from voting on the education issue.

Mr. Lesage said the plans one to provide interest-free loans to university students, the other to extend family allowances to students aged 16 and 17 — are unconstitutional.

Prime Minister Pearson says they aren't and the two federal members — Marcel Prud'homme of Montreal-St. Denis and Rosaire Gendron of Rivière-du-Loup — were caught between two fires.

BELL LINES

Marcel Boileau,

your telephone manager

The thunder roared, the lightning flashed,
The whole earth was shaken;
The little pig tucked down his head,
And ran to save his bacon.

So maybe the rain IS coming down in sheets. Lightning flashing. Thunder booming. Pigs running all over the place.

No matter how wretched the weather, you can keep on using your telephone.

To assure storm-proof dependability, most telephone cables are filled with pressurized dry air. If a cable springs a leak, the force of the escaping dry air holds out moisture and keeps phones working. An alarm automatically tells repairmen the location of the break, and the leak is usually repaired before trouble develops.

So go ahead and use your phone when the sky opens and the rain comes down! (And have YOUR bacon delivered).

THOSE SCRIBBLINGS you make during a phone call can tell something about you, according to psychologists. If you doodle animals or birds, you are affectionate and understanding, they say. Arrows mean your goals are high. Checkerboards and squares show logic and emotional stability, while boats indicate energy and a wish for freedom. Flowers and trees loneliness, circles give away a daydreamer.

Artwork aside, we know of one sure indication of a person who looks to the future and plans accordingly. He keeps a personal list of frequently-called telephone numbers.

An excited woman called police to report an auto accident.
Asked where it happened, she said, "I don't have time to talk now. I'll tell you when you get here."
Then she hung up!

Sound funny to you? Does to us too, but things like this DO happen! If you ever have to make an emergency call, maybe this little story will help you remember to stay on the line until you've given all the details.

youngsters a chance to earn more for themselves during the holiday, too.

If you are on organic soil, this release from Canada Department of Agriculture stations at St. Jean will interest you. They found that the wireworm population was high in grass fields, in Southwest Quebec last fall, which could mean trouble ahead for vegetable growers.

Early June and the fall are the critical periods. Both Departments of Agriculture publish plant protection guides for vegetable crops.

Although this release didn't mention it, wireworms can cause havoc in grain and corn fields, too, especially those ploughed out of sod. Treating seed with an insecticide such as aldrin is cheap insurance.

Lacolle

LACOLLE — The Inductran Service of Rev. Mr. Boomhower to the pastorate of Lacolle and Clarenceville took place at Clarenceville, on Friday evening. Several visiting clergy were in attendance as well as quite a large joint congregation. Refreshments and a social hour followed the ceremony.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Edwin Lemere and family in the sudden death of Mrs. Lemere.

Miss Gladys Lawrence of Lennoxville, and Mr. Don Parsons of Cookshire, were week-enders at the Don Robinson home.

Mr. Douglas Edwards expects o be home this week-end after spending some weeks at the General Hospital, Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Robinson, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Stewart at Hemmingford.

Mr. H. Oasting returned on Saturday, after spending two months in Scarboro, Ont.

The Lacolle Ladies held their annual Ladies Bonspiel for the Fournier Trophy, March 30th, until April 4th, which was a great success. A St. Lambert rink skipped by Mrs. Marge Lefebvre won the Fournier Trophy with runner-up being an Ormstown team skipped by Mrs. Alice McMahon. Winner of the consolation was a team skipped by Mrs. Gladys Barshal of Lachine, with runner-up a team from Howick skipped by Mrs. Gertrude Craig.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, Ann and Kenneth, spent the week-end in Ile Perrot, with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright.

Some damage was done to the Protestant Manse sometime Sunday night. The television acrial was knocked down, windows broken and a light fixture broken. The Provincial Police are investigating.

Franklin Centre

FRANKLIN CENTRE — School opened on Monday after a 10 day holiday and is now on the last stretch of this school year, only 11 weeks more at the most. The public Speaking Contest finals were held at the Franklin Intermediate School, on Friday night, with a good attendance.

while the soldiers jumped out to break up a hodgepodge of animals blocking the road, or to right a cart upended by its burden.

On we crawled threading our way through a maze of uprooted humanity, passing a freight train packed with refugees who crowded the doors and swarmed over the roofs, and when we rumbled through the smouldering ruins of yesterday's village, there suddenly was no life at all except for one naked child struggling with the broken pump handle at a well.

The plains simmered under a merciless sun and now, there was a smell of death in the air. Here and there, lang-dead buffalo lay in the fields, their bloated carcasses a feast for vultures and kite hawks. Piles of loose earth that covered the slain bodies of Hindus and Moslems lined the sides of the road for miles. Makeshifty mounds hastily constructed, they were easily disposed of by jackals during the night. Apathetically, the people trudged along, their faces blank, indifferent to the roadside graves, not caring a damn for what fanatic fools had done. And who could blame them? In an over-populated country, human life can be cheap.

It was a hot, tired, sick-at-heart lot of travelers who finally reached Lahore, grateful to the men who had escorted them to safety. Speaking for ourself, we are glad the chances of travelling the road again are remote. Perhaps it's superstitious fantasy, but we believe the sights we saw still linger along the miles and like ghosts they would come back to haunt us should we return.

HOWICK High School HIGHLIGHTS

by Carol Carson

Four students from this school took part in the Women's Institute Public Speaking Finals at Franklin Centre last Friday evening. Our representatives were Janice McFarlane, Diane Allen, Carolyn Templeton, and Gary Allen. We congratulate all who took part and offer special congratulations to Gary Allen, who placed second in his division and Diane Allen, who came third in her class.

The Junior Girls' Basketball team won the Championship for the Chateauguay Valley on Saturday. Six games were played. Ormstown played Gault for the first game with Ormstown winning. In the second game, Howick won with a score of 18-7 against Chateauguay. Next, Ormstown won against Beauharnois. Then Chateauguay and Gault played with Chateauguay winning. In the 5th game Howick beat Ormstown to win the championship, and in the last game, Beauharnois beat Chateauguay to win the consolation.

Kilbain

KILBAIN — The news of the sudden death of Mr. William McCartney came as a shock to many. He was buried Sunday afternoon in the Gore Protestant Cemetery. Our sympathy goes out to his wife and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Long and family, Mr. and Mrs. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Harold McNicol of Cornwall, were among those at the largely attended funeral for Mr. Cartney.

Mrs. Hugh McNicol returned to Cornwall with Mr. and Mrs. McNicol Sunday evening.

The weather is just grand. Syrup making is about over.

Sorry to hear that Mr. Aldridge Saumier of Kensington was taken to the Huntingdon County Hospital last week suffering from a heart attack. A speedy recovery is hoped for.

Powerscourt

The Late Miss Bertha Ewing

POWERSCOURT — The residents of this district were sorry to learn of the death of Miss Bertha Ewing, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Ewing. She died suddenly in Montreal Royal Victoria Hospital, and was buried in Montreal. Born and brought up in Powerscourt, Miss Ewing spent her life as a successful teacher in various parts of Canada. She retired some years ago and she and a faithful companion, Miss Butler, travelled extensively together. Although she has not lived in Powerscourt for a number of years she always retained her interest in Powerscourt Church and was a consistent giver to its funds.

Besides her dear friend she leaves to mourn her death a sister Edith and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Suter, in Florida and Mrs. Carl Ewing, a sister-in-law.

Mrs. Chas. Perkins of Hatley, was a Monday overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Mat. Wallace. She spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wood and left with Mr. and Mrs. Carman Perkins for Dunnville, Ont., to visit with her son, Garth Perkins and family.

Mrs. Grenville Sparrow of Charteris, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Atcheson. Sorry to report Mrs. Atcheson is not as well as her friends would wish.

Mr. Ronald Wood who was confined to bed at home for ten days entered Huntingdon County Hospital on Saturday. A speedy recovery is wished for all our sick folks.

Saturday callers on relatives in this community were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Wood and two children all of St. Bruno.

Robins are here and frogs are croaking, so the end of the splendid sugar season is in sight. It was a cherry sight Saturday to see some lovely crocuses growing. Spring must really be here for we saw a party of 16 enjoying a picnic meal while basking in Sunday's glorious sunshine.

Control Scab and Mites during the delayed dormant stage with this proven combination spray:

CYPREX® and OIL

Critical tests have proven that Cyprex is the most effective fungicide you can use to create a successful delayed dormant spray in combination with oil. Here are details.

1. Delayed-dormant-stage spraying has been the objective in many fruit growing areas. Until recently, it was not practical because effective fungicides proved incompatible with oil.

2. The discovery of 70-second (or winter-summer) oil to kill red mite eggs and the perfection of Cyprex as a fungicide for scab control has yielded the most effective combination ever tested.

3. Field tests have shown this combination is most successful in preventing leaf injury on the Red Delicious variety — is also the most effective for primary scab control — and results in an excellent fruit finish. If a phosphate insecticide is added use the flowable or E.C. formulation.

4. On the basis of all tests to date, Cyprex is judged the best fungicide, either in combination with, or following, oil.

5. Ask your fungicide dealer, or write directly to Cyanamid, for complete details on the Cyprex-Delayed-Dormant tests — and for the best mixture of oil-Cyprex for your orchards.

6. And remember: Cyprex comes from Cyanamid.

For further information on any Cyanamid Product write: Cyanamid of Canada Limited, Montreal 2, Quebec.

Former Ste. Agnes Resident Renewing Old Acquaintances

On Tuesday afternoon of last week Mrs. Steve Smythe of Massena, N.Y., accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Hennie McCaffrey of Willowdale, Ont. called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Quenneville, and also at the Vernon Elder home.

Mrs. McCaffrey, who resides with her daughter, Frances, in Willowdale, Ont., is spending some time in Massena with Vivian and her husband. Hennie is just as chipper as ever and enjoys talking over the old days when she and her family lived in Ste. Agnes.

Vivion's family of four boys and two girls have pretty well grown up and are all away from home except Stephanie, who is 13 years old and is in 8th grade at St. Mary's Parochial School in Massena. She has been taking music lessons for quite some time and felt honoured recently when the Sisters asked her to assist as organist at St. Mary's. She plays for the Girls' Choir and also at low mass on Sunday mornings.

Pat, the elder daughter, is married to Bill Creighton. The couple, who reside on the Malone-Fort Covington highway, on the Creighton family homestead has two children, William who is six years old and Kathryn, who is three years old.

Vivian and Steve's four sons, Terry, Brian, Bruce and Neil are all six-footers. Terry the eldest, is in Los Angeles, Cal., where he is assosciated with an Insurance Company involved with the research of land titles.

Terry is engaged to be married the middle part of August. His fiancée, who works as a legal secretary in Los Angeles, hails from Port Arthur, Ont. "We're so pleased he's marrying a girl from Canada. I guess my love and respect for Canadians have gotten through to him over the years."

Brian is with the 82nd Airborne Paratroopers at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Bruce has just been separated from the U.S. Airforce after four years of service, much of this time being spent in Anchorage, Alaska. He is now in the employ of an insurance company in Los Angeles Cal.

Neil, the youngest of the four boys, is with the U.S. Airforce. He has just returned from an Airforce Base in Fairbanks, Alaska and is now stationed at Travis Airforce Base in San Francisco.

Jimmy McCaffrey, who had been living in California, returned to Toronto about a year ago, and has since been Jimmy, who lost his wife in a tragic accident some time ago, has three children. Timmy who is 15 years old, Colleen, 13, and Tracy 6. They all attend school in Toronto.

Mrs. McCaffrey hopes to get around to renew many old acquaintances before returning to Willowdale.

Work Begun On Sidewalk In Ste. Agnes

STE-AGNES — Remember last fall when it was reported that plans were in the offing for a sidewalk for Ste. Agnes. Well, this Monday morning work actually began on this project to make the plans a reality.

It is expected that the walk will be 3½ feet wide and will extend from the Roman Catholic School to the railroad crossing. Who knows, maybe by next spring the Town Fathers will see it in their hearts, (and their budget) to make the walk the length of the village.

Suffers Burn

Mrs. John Leslie is gradually recovering from a severe burn to her right hand, caused when a pan of hot grease with which she was working upset accidentally. Although the hand still looks very sore, Mrs. Leslie says it's well on its way to recovery. She has been under Dr. Cameron's care.

Concert A Success

Concerning Saturday evening's concert, everyone seems to be in complete accord — it was a success, from whatever standpoint one would care to consider it. While we are extremely grateful to Huntingdon Legion Players for their well-portrayed half-hour comedy, it is also gratifying to know that we do have sufficient local talent, ready, willing and able from which to draw to enable us to present an evening's entertainment on our own.

Welcome Home

May we, through this medium, add our own word of 'Welcome Home' to our good friends, Earl and Mary Gardiner, who, last week returned from the sunny south after spending the past three months in and around Bradenton, Florida. It's good to have you back again!

Personals

Mrs. Olive Arnold has been spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Arnold in Kars, Ont. Clarence and his wife are the proud parents of a new baby daughter, a happy addition to their family of three girls.

Mrs. Hattie McPherson is visiting her daughter Belle and her family in Fort Covington, N.Y., for a few days. Mrs. McPherson has not been feeling quite as fit as usual and it was felt that a change might help to improve her condition.

Mrs. Beatrice Creighton of Fort Covington, N.Y. called at the Elder home on Sunday afternoon. The middle of February, Mrs. Creighton suffered a 'strep' infection in the blood stream, which, in turn localized in the right knee. She was confined to bed for some time and under Dr. Gorman's care. Only gradually did the swelling in the knee go down.

Next thing to automatic transmission

There's so much footwork involved in driving most lawn and garden tractors it's more like walking than riding. Constantly using the brakes, clutch, and gear-shift not only wears them out, but you, too! That's why there's an exclusive Independent Ground-Speed Control on the new 8 h.p. John Deere 110 Lawn and Garden Tractor.

With a John Deere, you normally use the gear-shift and clutch only twice. Once to put it in gear when you start. Once to take it out when you stop. In between, the ground-speed control takes over. In high gear you can vary your speed from 3 to 6½ mph without touching the throttle and maintain full power to your mower. Perfect for tough grass, making sharp turns, or edging up close. Ideal in the winter, too, with a snow thrower.

Ground-speed control is just one reason why owners of John Deere Lawn and Garden Tractors have time to enjoy weekend retirement away from yard work.

Chateauguay Resident's Letter Points Out Shortcomings And Urges Action

Chateauguay Heights, P.Q.
Editor
The Gleaner
Huntingdon
Sir:

Many businessmen and other sincere people in the Chateauguay area are trying their best to devise ways to increase the popularity and prosperity of the area. 7,000 new homes were built in the suburbs around Montreal last winter and very few of these were built in Chateauguay.

I have conducted a survey among real estate and mortgage men interested in Montreal suburban homes and asked their opinion. Their first answer was roads.

ROADS: these men usually have to buy and pay for repairs on their own cars. They do not like to smash their cars over bad roads to visit houses. Mortgage men see no reason why a car has to be smashed merely to inspect a house, and they feel also prospective house buyers may also feel the same way. Real estate men will not waste their time showing a house reached over a bad road if they have an alternative house, say in Pointe Claire over a good road.

It should be obvious of course that the pot-holed condition of the short road, the Caughnawaga road, has just about entirely killed off any new construction in Chateauguay North, Station, Heights and that part of the Basin.

Some Montrealers expressed sympathy for us having elected a member on the wrong side of the fence politically, and could hardly believe it when I said we had elected members on the right side both with the previous and current government.

When you consider that this is the main number three highway, it of course is even harder to understand.

MERCIER BRIDGE literally ten years out of action for repairs and improvements is something of a record in any league, and completion date not even in sight yet. The only thing that does seem certain is that while the "improvements" might have been adequate when started 10 years ago, it is fairly obvious to any Montrealer that even when completed, the bridge will have one extra lane each way, and will still be jammed at peak hours. Remember that the entire St. Lawrence Seaway has been built and in operation for many years now, and the Mercier bridge is still dawdling in its original one lane capacity even yet.

It is essential that pressure be brought to bear on the government to announce the start of a new bridge or tunnel to serve this area. Surely some political figures here should be smart enough to realize that the election promise of improvements to the old Mercier bridge has been worn more than threadbare after the use of the same promise during so many elections and still no improvement to the bridge carrying capacity of thirty years ago.

I suggest that some of you drive to Pointe Claire or any of the other suburbs around Montreal and see the literally hundreds of millions of dollars being spent and that have been spent elsewhere and then jam back over the Mercier and bump home over the pot holes leading into Chateauguay and you will realize why 7,000 houses were sold elsewhere last winter.

TRAINS in this age of heavy traffic downtown, and high parking charges and high bus fares, many people prefer to go to work by train, and of course the new subway lines will also attract people to other locations as well. When the NYC removed their last passenger train from here, they claimed that it cost them over $3.00 per mile to operate a diesel and 4 cars on this run.

Now it is an accepted fact in railroading that the new air conditioned high speed self propelled BUDD cars can be operated at 53c a mile or about one fifth the price. With a steady shuttle service of this type of high speed train, not only commuters but also business executives would be able to get to and from industrial plants in Chateauguay-Beauharnois - Valleyfield - Huntingdon, etc., with speed and ease.

Many people wonder why the NYC took the passenger trains off this route, and the real answar may surprise many of you. There were 22 different municipalities directly served by this NYC passenger service and several large meetings were held by the Board of Transport Commissioners in Valleyfield and Montreal, to deal with the NYC and also with the CPR and the CNR to Pointe Claire, etc.

The Pointe Claire people banded together, hired lawyers and accountants and sent strong delegations to show the Board that they were interested in trains and wanted to keep the service. You can see the result of this in the growth that has taken place on that north shore.

Our shore by contrast, from 22 municipalities, sent exactly one mayor and one alderman and three spectators for a grand total of exactly five persons from the entire NYC area to protest the removal of the last passenger train from here.

It is hardly surprising therefore that the Board ruled that the people on this shore were not interested in having the train continue so they allowed it to stop and as the Pointe Claire shore had showed real interest they have kept their train service and we have lost ours.

If each of the 22 towns concerned had contributed even $100 to a fund they would have had $2,200 to hire lawyers, etc. Surely Surely $100 is not too much for Valleyfield, Beauharnois, Chateauguay or Huntingdon to pay to obtain train service.

If a few of those interested citizens who work so long and hard at election time had taken a few hours off to attend board meetings the show of strength produced might have also influenced the Board to rule otherwise.

Even today, it would be possible to obtain passenger train service to this area if suitable railway committees were formed in each municipality and demanded passenger train service in a voice loud enough to be heard.

In other words, we can get passenger train service here, merely by asking for it, if we ask loud enough.

Because, remember, if the NYC does not want to operate this line with passenger train service, the CPR could easily use it for both freight and passenger if so ordered by the Board of Transpart, and they could do it far cheaper than does the NYC, and they would help bring new industries into this area to build their own freight traffic as well.

This area would grow far faster under the CPR interested in Montreal prosperity than with the NYC which frankly admits its most profitable asset is its New York City real estate holdings.

TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY is a major super highway, by-passing all towns, etc., and linking Montreal and Toronto and is now obviously being built on the Pointe Claire shore. It is certainly obvious to any stranger, if not to us apparently, the contrast between this highway and the patched up, pot-

Attend Minor Sports Association Father and Son Banquet

The Chateauguay Minor Sports Association closed out their hockey season with a giant Father and Son Banquet this past Saturday, April 11. 600 fathers with their sons were in attendance. Twenty-two trophies were awarded to the different league playoff and Chatauguay Champions.

New York Rangers star Donnie Marshall, as the guest of honour, signed autographs and also answered an avalanche of questions pertaining to hockey.

The buffet dinner was the best meal that has been served at any of the three previous banquets. Horace Mead, Jean Bedard, Larry Toope and the sports directors of the different associations deserve a vote of thanks for the fine climax to a most succesful season.

4th Company Girl Guides Enjoy Laurentian Week-end

By M. McCutcheon

Captain Mavis Holmes, fifteen girl guides of the 4th Company, Chateauguay and Mrs. Toop enjoyed a wonderful Laurentian weekend recently. Leaving Friday evening, April 3rd by chartered bus, the girls returned Sunday evening from Christeville where they stayed at a ski-tow chalet.

Some of the girls, ranging in age from 11-14 years old, had never been away from home over night, but they carried out their duties as well as any experienced camper could have. (I quote Captain Holmes who is justly proud of her company). They hiked, romped in the snow and held a pyjama party at which the occupants of each room put on a play.

Sunday morning religious services were held in the Roman Catholic Faith and the Protestant Faith with Senior Patrol Leader Frances Kelly conducting the service for Catholic Guides and Captain Holmes taking the Protestant service.

Interest was so high in this weekend trip that the girls earned the necessary funds by baby-sitting, running errands, etc. The Guides who enjoyed the weekend outing were: Brenda Toop, Frances Kelly, Alice Frost and Donna Wiltshire, all Patrol Leaders, and Colleen Bell, Suzanne Cadieux, Leslie Stanton, Peggy Walker, Lynn Richards, Colleen Smith, Bernice Toop, Pamela Hanely, Marlene Boland, Sharon Garet and Louise Prenovost. Captain Holmes says they conducted themselves admirably and that she experienced no trouble whatever with them.

She would like to mention that her Company averages almost 100 per cent attendance at every meeting and that most of the work is done by her Patrol Leaders which is contrary to general opinion and articles recently written in other papers about Guides losing interest when they reach the age of fourteen. The girls are as keen now as the day they joined and hope to become leaders some day.

In the words of Captain Holmes "If we don't try to put 20-year-old heads on 14 year-old shoulders, the Guide Movement will be as successful in the future as it has been in the past."

A Resume Of The March Meetings Of The Town Of Chateauguay Centre Council

Town of Chateauguay Centre Council met on March 3, with Couns. Chevrefils, Colpron, Gilbert, Bourcier and Reid in attendance and Mayor Sutterlin presiding.

The minutes of the regular February meeting were approved as read.

Revenue accounts paid were in the amount of $40,541.85; capital accounts paid amounted to $16,285.98 and salaries paid totalled $16,959.03.

It was decided to pay the Town of Chateauguay the amount of $17,058.86 for water used in 1963 and at the same time to inform them that this payment is made with the reserve that this town does not agree with the surcharges of $0.15 and $0.30 instead of the previously agreed $0.10 per 1,000 gallons. The secretary was also authorized to make monthly payments of $1,800. in 1964 to the Town of Chateauguay for the said water consumption even if final adjustments have to be made at the end of 1964 or at the time the meter is read.

A subdivision plan in favor of Riverdrive Housing was accepted concerning lots 248-361, 248-362 and 348-363; another in favor of Parkview Construction Ltd. and Unique Dev. Corp., concerning lots 119-108, 119-232, P-119 and P-115, and also one in favor of Parkview Construction Ltd., concerning lots 115-291 and 115-352, all in the Parish of St. Joachim in Chateauguay.

The Town of Chateauguay Centre has decided to buy from Cortina Dev. Inc. Cortina Gardens Inc, Dupont Dev. Corp. or any other owner for the amount of $1.00 or any other consideration lots 60, 63, 104, 108, 153, 154 and 155 in the Parish of St. Joachim in Chat.; also from Parkview Construction Ltd. and on the same conditions, lots 119-108-1, 119-370, 119-232-2, 119-100, 115-266 and 115-353, in the Parish of St. Joachim in Chateauguay. The Mayor and the secretary-treasurer were authorized to sign the necessary documents and to stipulate any condition in the interest of the Town towards these transactions.

The following names were suggested for these streets: Paul VI to 220-13, 16 and 17; Leonard to 146-165, 166 and 167; Morin to 162 and 164.

The Council agreed.

The sum of $1,000. was granted for the construction of a stone wall on lands 121 and 122 to prevent the flooding of Champlain St. at this time of year.

The Quebec Municipal Affairs Board was requested to authorize the Town of Chateauguay Centre to take out temporary loans at the National Canadian Bank in Chateauguay Centre until the issuing of a debenture for the following by-laws which were approved and for which the Town cannot provide enough money at the moment: By-law 365-$134,000.; By-law 394 — $54,000.; By-law 395 — $45,000.

The secretary is authorized to take out a loan of $150,000 for the Capital Account at the Canadian National Bank in Chateauguay Centre until the issuing of bonds.

A letter was received from Mr. Armand Poupart Jr. stating he has been authorized to prepare a by-law amending the present by-law concerning taxes and licenses on the following cigarette machines, soft drink machines, peanut, chewing gum and candy machines and tube and bulb testing machines. The authorization was confirmed, and a notice of motion was given in order to amend By-law 199 in order to change the charges on the said machines.

It was reported that plans for the proposed amalgamation of the Town of Chateauguay and the Town of Chateauguay Centre will be ready very soon.

Notice of motion was given that the Town will introduce at a subsequent meeting a by-law proposing the purchase of a building on Maple St. to be used as a Mu-

Stephen Reiffenstein Tells Of His Skiing Experiences In British Columbia

STEPHEN REIFFENSTEIN

On March 26 Stephen Reiffenstein of Carlyle Ave., Chateauguay Heights left by train from Montreal West Station for a skiing expedition in the Canadian Rockies. He was one of a group of 43 boys, all members of the Ski Hawks Club, to have this wonderful opportunity. The chaperone was Mr. Gordon Lorimer. Stephen's account of the trip follows.

"It wasn't the best of days for boarding "The Canadian" but even with the cold rain and the confusion of 43 boys Mr. Lorimer managed to get us aboard safely. The train left the station at 2:18 sharp. Confusion reigned as the boys settled into their berths, return tickets collected, etc. Our first meal was dinner at 5 o'clock but some of us ended up eating at 8 because of the crowd. After dark all 43 of us managed to crowd into the dome car to watch the lights of the villages as we sped by. Bedtime was not definite on the train as no cur few was laid down but our chaperone asked us to be quieter at 9:30. Most of us ended up in our berths at 11:30.

The next day started with a BANG when the porter banged the sides of our berth at 6:30. After breakfast things slowed down a bit and we resorted to playing crib bage and chess. Bedtime that night was the same as the night before and the following day was similar to the day before.

However, things began to brighten up as we first viewed the Rockies. No one can describe the beauty of these great Canadian mountains. We arrived at Field, B.C. in the afternoon with just enough time to get organized and up to Cathedral Mountain Chalet where we spent the night before our long, strenuous journey of 13 miles to Yoho Valley.

In the morning we were surprised to note the little fact that we were to be towed nine of these miles behind ski-doos. This is similar to skijoring but much faster and more rugged as we had a minimum of 35 pounds on our backs. However, a few of the less fortunate ones were compelled to ski the whole way due to the lack of ski-doos. Finally all 43 of us ended up at Hans' cabin (Hans Moser of Austria, trainer) safe but tired at 8 p.m.

Then the fun began. The meals were terrific, thanks to Cookie — the nights were cold in our tents in the wilderness — the skiing, fantastic!! The first day all four groups set out for a day's climbing and skiing at Mount Kerr. We climbed for three and a half hours and had a fifteen minute downhill run.

No one who has only skied in our Laurentians has REALLY skied until he has skied in the rugged Rockies. It was amusing to see some of our better skiers completely prang in the deep powder-snow on the ungroomed hills that are at least three times as high as St.Sauveur.

During our six-day stay we skied at Mount President, Mount, Vice-President, Emerald Pass, Twin Falls and Mount McArthur.

A great deal of the credit for the success and enjoyment of the trip should be given to the best guides in the 'West' and also to "Rugged" Mr. Lorimer, our chaperone, who managed to last through six days with 43 energetic boys.

The party arrived in Montreal at 8:30 p.m., Monday, April 6 with only one casualty. Everyone was tired and run down, but the only comment made was, "Boy, it was worth it!!"

Service of Dedication And Consecration At Candiac United Church

On Sunday, April 12th at 3.30 p.m. the members of Candiac United Church and friends and members of sister churches assembled in their new Church to participate in the Service of Dedication and Consecration of the Building. This was indeed an auspicious and memorable occasion combined with Christian friendship and fellowship which gladdened the hearts of everyone gathered there to Praise God and to rejoice with the Candiac members in their accomplishment of the project which was but a vision just a year ago.

Before the moving Ceremony commenced, there was time for reflection while seated in the beautiful new Sanctuary. One was inspired to thoughts such as these, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings O Lord of Hosts", "A Day In Thy Courts is better Than a

Hope you all enjoyed the wonderful weekend weather. Let's hope that it is here to stay. I saw a robin over the weekend and his song was a delightful sound. The brave little crocuses have also burst forth and no doubt many a homeowner who planted these bulbs last fall is thrilled to see them in bloom. The young lads in the area are busy with their marble games and all the young lassies are skipping with glee. Really it makes one feel that it is wonderful to be alive and well.

Moving day is fast approaching. No doubt we'll be seeing many new faces in the area. In Chateau Estates new homes are still being erected and the ones that were begun during the winter are now almost finished. The field where our children flew their kite last year is no more. Instead there is a row of new homes under construction and no doubt in a few short years this project will cover the entire field.

A hearty welcome to all the newcomers. Don't let the mud get you down. I know it's discouraging to move into a new home when the grounds are still covered with mud, but, just persevere as all of us old-timers did, and before long you too will have lovely lawns. Our first summer here just after we had our lawn seeded some cows got loose and left their footprints in our lawn. Naturally the children were thrilled to have cows around but it wasn't such an easy task for Father who had to patch up the lawn. The cows are now a thing of the past and their pasture land is now Chateau Estates. Time marches on.

Women's Auxiliary

Don't forget, ladies, Monday, April 20 is the date for the next meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Lachine General Hospital. Meeting time is 8 p.m. at the Parish Hall. All newcomers to the district are most welcome to attend.

Dates to Remember

Tuesday, April 21 the P.T.A. meeting at St. Jude School The children have been busily rehearsing for the special treat the teachers have planned for the parents. If any of you saw two young ladies last week dragging a toboggan and snowshoes to school and wondered where they were heading — now you know. They are to be used as props in one of the plays to be presented.

Tuesday, April 28 when a Koffee Klach will be held in aid of the 9th Chateauguay Brownie Pack. Watch next week's Coming Events column for full particulars.

Clinic Day

The first Tuesday of every month a Clinic is held in the basement of St. Joachim Church from 1 to 3 p.m. Mothers who have just moved in might make a note of this. Your child can receive, free of charge, Polio vaccine, his vaccination or booster shots. The church is located near the Chateauguay Bridge and the entrance is at the side door.

Supper Party

Carol Spenard was the hostess at a delightful supper party given by her mother in honour of Carols 10th birthday on Saturday, April 11. The girls sat down to a turkey supper, following which Carol blew out all the candles and then her guests sang Happy Birthday. The girls enjoyed an evening of games and dancing. Carol's guests included her brother Nipper, cousins, Monica and Anne Imrie, Joanne Boudreault, Pierrette Sauvé, Lynn Fabio, Sylvia Brown, Anne and Margaret Kavannagh Maureen Louthood, and last but not least Mary Francis Boudreault who assisted Mrs Spenard.

Weekend guests

Mrs. Betty Rivest and two children Jeannette and Jean Paul were weekend guests at the Moody's on Ethier Street

Well we couldn't complain about the weather this weekend, it was beautiful. People were out raking their lawns and I noticed one man putting up the swings for his children if that's not a sign of spring, I don't know what is.

Rollie Randle had a terrifying experience the other day. It seems he let Helen off at the Shopping Centre and continued on to Towers with his mother and the two children. On his way back just as he came around the curve towards the Shopping Centre, the steering wheel broke and he couldn't steer one way or the other. It was a lucky thing that he had just rounded the curve and had slowed down, otherwise it might have been quite serious, especially if the car had made for the middle of the highway instead of towards the ditch, as it did. I'm sure Rollie must have been weak after that episode.

Marion Lange was an hour late getting home from work the other night, due to a five car accident on Highway 4. One of the cars was a total wreck. You hear people saying "Oh, we are just going out for a pleasure drive." What pleasure is there in it with all these maniacs on the road today.

Birthday greetings to Audrey Foster, April 8th, Pat O'Brien 14 years old on April 10th Mr. Gordon Foster on April 12th and Mr. Gordon Lange's mother who celebrates her birthday on April 20th. Hope you all had a very happy day.

Mrs. Lange Sr. spent a week with her son Gordon and daughter-in-law and I'm sure the children were happy to have their granny with them.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Randle attended the Annual Family Supper for the Montreal Association for the Blind on Tuesday, April 7th and had a nice time. The supper consisted of turkey, ham, tossed salad, potato croquettes, cranberry sauce rolls and butter. For dessert there was ice cream, date squares, fancy cakes and candies for the children. Following the supper, blind entertainers put on a wonderful show for them and according to Helen, it was really fantastic. I guess you have to see it for yourself to appreciate how remarkable these people are.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Willard had Mr. Willard's mother and father, brother Clive and his other brother Father Neil in for supper last Sunday night. It had been some time since they had seen them.

We would like to welcome another new family to Crown Homes.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Langlois and their three children, Kerry, Terry and Danny have moved to Maisonneuve St., from Cote St. Paul and we are glad to have them with us. Kerry and Terry are year-old twins and the cutest little things. Mrs. Langlois says they are a handful and I'm sure they must be regarding work, but she certainly has something to be proud of.

Little Gino Norelli is making his first communion next Sunday and Mrs. Morelli is having friends and relatives in after for a little celebration. There will be 48 people in all, so let's hope it is a nice day and the guests can spend some of the time on the verandah and the lawn.

Well folks with the nicer weather here now, maybe you will have a little more news for me. Don't forget to call me at 692-0955.

I'm writing this on Monday morning, in between dashes up and downstairs to attend to my washing chores. What a perfect day this is; quite worth-while waiting for!

to sing.
From crocus blooms to sky.
New leaves play rustling
games of tag.
When breezes scamper by.
The sun pours down its golden warmth:
The sky is freshly blue.
And, like the world at Springtime,
Our hearts are singing too.

The 97th Convocation of the Presbyterian College, Montreal is to be held on Tuesday, April 19th, 8.15 p.m. in the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, on Sherbrooke St. W. The speaker will be Dr. Wilder Penfield. All are welcome.

St. George's Anglican Church News

The next meeting of the group study "Journey in Faith" will be held on Thursday, April 16th, at 8 p.m., in the Walsh Memorial Room. In observance of the Patronal Festival of St. George's Church, there will be an Explained Eucharist (Holy Communion) in the church in the evening at 7.30, Thursday, April 23rd, St. George's Day.

HOBBY SHOW.

The Men's Club is sponsoring a boy's and girl's Hobby Craft Contest to take place on Saturday May 30th, in the Church Hall. Entries will include sewing, baking, needlework embroidery, woodwork, stamp and coin collections, art, photography, rock and bottle cap collections. There will be more about this later.

CAMP FARTHING information folders and registration forms are now available at the church.

The Altar Guild Tea and Home Bake Sale held last Saturday, April 11th, was quite a success. During the afternoon a presentation was made to a W.A. member, Mrs. Joyce Driscoll of St. Francis Blvd. The Driscolls are moving to Ontario some time this week, and we are indeed sorry to see them go, nevertheless we wish them the best of luck and happiness in their new surroundings.

The next meeting for the Handicraft Group is Tuesday. April 21st. An appeal for plastic detergent bottles and Javex bottles; if you have any of these lying around and would like to get rid of them, we can use them for making toys. Just give me a call and I'll pick them up.

Maple Home and School

Don't forget the meeting Wednesday, April 15th. You will be greatly enlightened by our speaker, Mr. Carpenter, who plans to explain to all, the various functions of our School Board. Elections will be held after the talk. Please make an effort to support the Home and School Association; they are working for your children and you, too.

Social News

We have a visitor in our midst from Owen Sound, Ont Mrs. Houldsworth, Sr., is here for a short stay with her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. R. Houldsworth of St. Francis, and then plans to head for her summer home in the Thousand Islands, Ont. (One of my old stamping grounds) It was nice to talk about the old home town of Brockville with Mrs. Houldsworth. Hope you enjoy Chateauguay and have a very pleasant visit!

Mr. Art. Walker Sr., is going for a trip to England today Wednesday 15th. Bon Voyage to you, Mr. W! I have no other social news, because you readers are not calling me.

Tenors and Basses: Last week in this column an appeal was made for the Church Choirs and I'm repeating it again this week. Where are all the singers? The "Red Carpet" treatment is awaiting you at both Maplewood and St. George's Churches any Thursday at 8 p.m. You will really enjoy the music and the fellowship, too, so do come along and make yourself known.

Vetville News

Just a little this week. The Stag party held last Friday was very well attended. Invited guests from Branch 108 of the Legion, and all who were there had a very enjoyable evening.

I have heard that there has been a street named for Major Mitchell here in the Town of Chateauguay, but more about that next week.

Gardeners

Don't let this 70 degree temperature fool you, and put out your plants too soon. We still have a lot of chilly rather coming our way. I have just seen one of my neighbors planting seedlings at the back, and I greatly fear they will be ruined. Flats in the basement and house plants are still the best way to do gardening at this time of the year.

That's all for now. The "schmaltzy" part of the column is at the beginning, just in case you missed it!

Second Campaign of Combined Health Appeal and Red Cross now underway in Candiac

The Second Campaign of Combined Health Appeal and Red Cross was opened with great ceremony on Sunday April 5th, at the Francois Xavier School in Laprairie and has now been underway for 2 weeks. Mrs. N. Leach is the capable Chairman for Candiac Area. Having successfully undertaken this office last year, Mrs. Leach has again planned her programme for the project and has 60 volunteer canvassers collecting for this worthy cause. Please help make this Campaign a success by donating when these canvassers call at your home. The Campaign ends on April 20th.

Get Well Wishes

The friends and neighbours of Mr. Hart, residing in Delson Gardens, send along their best wishes for a speedy recovery to health and strength. Mr. Hart is presently hospitalized and it is hoped that it will not be too long before he is able to return home.

Mr. Harold Ball, Sr., is also hospitalized and good wishes are being sent along to him from the members of St. Andrew's Church, Delson, and community friends.

Obituary

Deepest Sympathy has been extended to the family of the late Mr. A. Buttle of Cote Ste. Catherine, who was fatably injured in a car accident on April 6th. Rev. W. Best, D.D. conducted the funeral service which was held in St. Andrew's United Church, on Tuesday, April 7th. Burial took place in Delson cemetery.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. Nesbitt called for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Mitchell, son Gordon and his friend Andy Marleau, visited at 150 St. Louis.

Nanny Buckley was out on the week-end to visit Lynda and Janice Golden and according to Lynda she sure can curl hair.

Return from Cruise

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stapleton have returned after a wonderfully relaxed vacation, which they took by driving to Miami, Florida, and there they boarded the S.S. Ariadne for a seven day cruise to Nassau in the Bahamas and Jamaica. While docked in Kingston, they took the conducted tours from the ship and saw where the rum is made and bottled also had a sample. Went to a nightclub under the stars, where the acts included the ever popular Limbo dancers, went swimming and sightseeing. Also while in Jamaica they called at Ocho Rios (translated means Eight Rivers). They also enjoyed the beaches and swimming of Nassau. On shipboard they had lessons to learn the cha, cha., and also enjoyed the various shipboard games. Audrey said the meals and service were really wonderful and would recommend this trip to anyone who would like a real carefree holiday. On their way to Miami they dropped in to say hello to the Golden's and Bob and Lorne had a game of golf. So glad you had a wonderful time Bob and Audrey and perhaps some of your friends and neighbours may take your advice and take one of the trips.

Spring is Here

Skipping ropes—all lengths are out and all sorts of skipping games come into being. Tops are spinning on cement walks, bicycles are back, along with tricycles, scooters, wagons and roller skates. The playground was well used on the week-end. The hockey rink is down and soon St. Denis square will be clear again. I know its spring for two reasons. The back door was very busy on Sunday. "Mrs. Mitchell, he won't let me have a turn," or "he threw a stone at me," or "she's got two handles on the swing around and I can't get one." Well after those things were ironed out (I hope) I had three very thirsty little boys knock on the door. "Aunty Mitchell do you have anything to drink?" not having any koolaide mixed I gave them each a glass of water and some cookies. Upon asking their names, there was one I couldn't seem to get, so my good friend Gary said, "call him Kip for short cause you don't understand him." But I'm glad to say now I know who Kip is.

Get well wishes to Lola Cherrier, who had a needle given by the doctor for a throat infection and she never even cried. Get better soon dear.

Soccer Players Needed

West End intends to enter the Chateauguay Soccer League this year. The schedule starts May 15 to June 15 and then August 15 to October 15.

The next League meeting will be held on April 21 at 7 p.m. in the basement of St. Joachim Church in the Village, which you are invited to attend, or contact Jack Cushing OX2-9471. In order to enter we must have at least 6 men, who know soccer. Three men are needed for coaches and three for referees. Their refereeing will be done in West End.

We have many former soccer players in our development so please offer your services so that our boys can learn the game properly, you will find it enjoyable also.

Enjoyable Tour

Last Wednesday evening ladies of West End, Vetville, Primeau St. and Village went by bus to the Steinberg Warehouse, Packing and Packaging Plant in Montreal East. Combining fun, interest, education and congeniality it proved a most enjoyable outing. Sincere thanks to the lady in charge of Public Relations and Miss Ital our guide and Mr. Auger and driver, who so kindly let all the girls off at their homes on our return. It was good not to have to walk home after our walking tour. Also thanks to Mrs. Manks of Vetville.

Have
applied for your Social Insurance Number?

Your government is issuing Social Insurance Number Cards in place of the unemployment insurance numbers that most employed people have had until now. The new numbers will help government to use modern office methods for greater efficiency in handling unemployment insurance, and also other social benefits such as proposed pension plans.

For these reasons, you are invited to apply for a Social Insurance Number, even if you are not a contributor to the unemployment insurance plan.

If you haven't yet applied, here's what you do.

IF YOU ARE AN EMPLOYEE your employer will give you an application form. Fill it out and return to your employer promptly.

IF YOU ARE UNEMPLOYED and drawing benefit you will complete an application form when you report to the Unemployment Insurance Commission in person or by mail.

IF YOU ARE AN EMPLOYER registered with the Commission, you will receive application forms automatically. The most dangerous part of an automobile

...IS THE DRIVER. Today's modern automobiles are soundly engineered, safe, and remarkably reliable. Modern roads, too, are designed to present the minimum of hazards. Driving only becomes dangerous when fallible human beings come into the picture and, through their human failings, cause accidents.

In a determined effort to cut down the nation's accident toll, the automobile insurance business has dedicated itself to the promotion of highway safety programs and driver training education.

As a part of this extensive program of safety promotion, which includes several nation-wide projects, All Canada Insurance Federation sponsors the Alfred Campbell Memorial Awards, presented annually to Junior Chambers of Commerce conducting the best year-round safety program in their communities throughout Canada.

NITRO NEWS

(Mrs. E. St. Onge)

Last fall I put out an SOS for a home for two kittens which had decided to stay here. A one-time resident of Nitro, now living in Chateauguay, phoned to ask if I would keep the white one and she would come and get it for the children for Christmas. That was fine, but I still had the Tabby. I had one cat and that was one too many for my husband! However, wonders never cease and soon Tabby was following him around just like a pup and of all things she was even coaxed upstairs to lie on the bed with him. So Tabby became our cat. In due time she disappeared for a couple of days and I wondered where she was but she came back and soon coming events began to cast their shadows before them! Last Sunday morning she was very insistent that my husband find her and here she was with a pure white kitten. Needless to say, that one is going to be mine! Soon after another white one, with the tiniest daub of grey on its head and then a beautiful dark and light grey tabby made up her family. These two are spoken for and going to an old friend in Howick. The children are interested in seeing the kittens and watching their progress, so Tabby has many visitors. Even Fluff, my pet, sits and looks at them and never touches them and that is something for a Tom.

We had a happy weekend as Lawrence was home again. This time from Jersey City, N.J. Sunday afternoon he walked in with a beautiful plant for me and I knew he had been to see the Mooijeking family. A "Four Seasons" with four huge blooms. The choir girls and I took it to church on Sunday evening and it certainly made a dash of color on the altar table.

Sunday evening we were pleased to welcome Rev. Mr. Morris the new pastor of St. Mark's Anglican Church in Valleyfield ror his first service with us. I had seven choir girls in fine voice and they with the 'Old Faithfuls' were a good congregation. I was so glad to have the girls say to me after that they hoped Mr. Morris would come back often as he preached in words they could understand.

Last Tuesday evening The Danny Shannon Revue with one or two friends were at the Pre-Liberation Camp again with another show for the men. In the past too many people had been gaining admittance by simply saying they were with Mrs. Shannon's show so this time Mr. Lalonde issued passes. Therefore there weren't so many "outsiders" to keep an eye on.

I waited here on Little Kent for Louise Girouard to come from Montreal with her aunt and five of her dancing pupils as she wasn't too sure of the right road. We also picked up our drummer, Mr. Robert Guerin so was a bit later than usual. Messrs. Jacques Maher, pianist, Jean Guy Morin, guitarist, Robert Guerin, drummer and at the Camp Jean Guy with his guitar and this time a new arrival, Stanley, with sax, made up a fine orchestra this month.

Mrs. Shannon was M.C. most of the evening but was helped out very ably later on by Mr. Jimmy King. Louise's five little girls who are called The Pony Tails were so proud as this was the first time they had danced in public. All the usual groups were there also "Lolieta From Mexico" dancer, acrobat and female impersonator who received rafter high applause. This was the first time Mr. King had been with our group and he was really appreciated. There was a playoff hockey game that night so we had competition but most of the men were watching our show although they had one eye on the T.V. Before the show was over we were being asked the usual question as to when we would be back again.

Saturday evening found many of the same group at the Teenagers' Dance held at Tougas and Nicholson Hall. The proceeds of this dance were to go towards equipment for the young amateurs but there was such a poor attendence that nothing can be bought. Too bad when so much time and preparation is spent that those who were clamoring for a dance a few months ago just weren't there!

St. Andrew's Notes

On Sunday morning, in a Ceremony of Dedication to Mission, four of the mid-week Christian Education groups of St. Andrew's United Church shared some of the highlights of their Mission Study projects and presented the groups' contributions to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund. This was a good opportunity to experience the wholeness of congregational fellowship and to enlarge the vision shared with the younger members in this Dedication Ceremony.

Anyone wishing to use weekly offering envelopes, may obtain a year's supply from Mr. J. C. Parker at 692-2622, who has replaced Mr. Neil Klop as Envelop Steward. Mr. Klop is thanked for his excellent service to the church in this important office since February, 1962.

The Presbytery Christian Education Institute held at St. Andrew's on Thursday evening last was well attended. Some 75 persons present found the two-hour program on "Operation New Curriculum" most helpful. The United Church Women are thanked for serving refreshments at the conclusion of the evening.

The monthly meeting of the United Church Women will be held on Wednesday, April 22nd at 8.15 p.m. in the Memorial Hall. The program, presently being formulated will be announced later.

Members of the session paid a visit to Mr. James Lang of Salaberry Blvd. on his 80th birthday and presented him with a birthday card for the happy occasion. Our congratulations are added to those of the session. Many happy returns, Mr Lang

Sweet Sixteen Party

Mrs Percy Scott of Taylor Avenue, the Station entertained on Saturday evening, April 11th for her daughter Sandra who was observing her sixteenth birthday The guests, schoolmates and friends of Sandra's, also included her grandmother from Montreal and her aunt and uncle from the Gardens A special surprise was a beautifully decorated "Sweet Sixteen" birthday cake complete with candles made by Mrs Betty Thomson, a friend and neighbour of Mr. and Mrs. Scott. We add our good wishes.

News Round-Up

Birthday greetings to the Yarnell twins, Shirley and Sandra and Valerie Smith — all of Stanton Avenue — all had birthdays on Sunday, April 12th

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr Jim Holmes of the Davidson Nursing Home formerly a resident of Desrochers St, the Station who will observe his 80th birthday on Saturday, April 18th.

Mrs. Harry Harding has returned to her home on Trudeau Avenue from Toronto where she has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Eunice Young for the past two weeks. Mrs. Young who is secretary to the Rev. Dr. Hill of St. George's Church On The Hill in Toronto is leaving with a group for a two-week tour of the West Indies which is being sponsored by the Anglican Church. (Presumably a Mission Survey).

Happy birthday wishes to Donna Lee Williams of Oliver Avenue who had her special day on Sunday, April 12th.

Mary Schurman of Watt Avenue turned ten on Tuesday, April 14th and I hope she had a happy day.

LEGION NEWS in CHATEAUGUAY

Branch 108 held their monthly general meeting, Tues., April 7th, and notwithstanding a televised playoff hockey game, there was a fair turnout of members.

An invitation was extended from the Vetville Men's Club to attend a Vimy Night stag at the Vetville Hall Fri., April 10th.

There has been a slight shuffling of chairmanships. Tony Croft took over the Youth Track and Field, and relinquished Entertainment Chairmanship which was taken over by Geo. Johnston. Cde George reports that he already has the nucleus of a hardworking committee.

Cde Tony Croft (Track and Field) reports meetings with Protestant and Catholic School Boards. He was advised to hold in obeyance any building of a track until the outcome is known of the amalgamation of the two Chateauguays.

Tony is also keeping in close touch with Cde Geo Clark of St. Lambert and he reports that necessary forms for youth enrolment will be forthcoming.

The Thursday afternoon Group of happily unemployed, had another enjoyable luncheon at the Riverview Chinese Restaurant April 2nd, to which the wives were invited. Perhaps the members regard two or three luncheons a year as payoff tribute for being out every Thursday afternoon.

Members will notice that an operation has been performed on the door dividing the back room and the kitchen. This is another example of the handy work of Cde Bill Smith. During the "operation" it was noticed that he had three supervisors and two inspectors, moreover the Thursday gang wondered why these odd jobs couldn't be performed on a day other than Thursday.

Competitions

The (Fives and threes) Domino playoffs are moving along and most contestants are now in the third round, however a few have not yet played their first round. Will these players please make arrangements to catch up with the field?

Monthly Draw

The monthly draw for the Building Fund was drawn by our Hon. Pres. John Ross and the winning ticket belonged to Mr. R. Harrison.

New Members

Mary C. Bishop, Immediate Past President Edmonton Women's Branch, mentioned in the April Legionary that some where in Canada there are 50,000 ex-service women, who are regarded by some Legion Branches as not eligible for membership. This is not the case in the Chateauguay Legion Branch. We already have lady members and would heartily welcome any ex-service women in the Chateauguay area.

Please leave any news for this column with the bar steward.

Chateauguay Residents Letter

holed Highway 3 and 4 that go slap bang through the center of every town in the area except Howick and Valleyfield. Couple this with the Mercier Bridge fiasco and you see why new plants will be built along the TRANS-CANADA on the Pointe Claire side. The pattern for best plant location is now very clear to strangers.

AIRPORT. Top business executives having to travel between major cities use airplanes frequently. They land at Dorval and they like to have a fast traffic-free drive to their Montreal office where possible.

It is hard to believe they would recommend that they should land at Dorval, then sit in a traffic jam at the MERCIER BRIDGE; remember we have no train service. Then bounce and smash over our local roads, run the very real risk of a heavy fine from local police in any small town they pass through, and eventually worn out and exhausted, arrive at the new plant location out here.

It is hardly likely they will be tempted to locate their plant here under these conditions. Far better to go a few miles out the TRANS-CANADA highway where even company trucks can reach the plant at an average speed of close to a mile a minute, and without products damaged by bad roads to get there.

We have several good locations for an airport on the shore, that could be readily linked to downtown Montreal by high speed trains over one railroad or the other.

Land is so cheap in these areas now that the government could obtain several times the land area they have in Dorval at a modest cost, and it is certain that Montreal is going to need another airport very shortly due to traffic congestion at Dorval and due to increased size of the planes.

The logical place for the new airport would be slap bang in the middle of the SEAWAY GOLDEN TRIANGLE, now wouldn't it?

But we will never get it if we do not ask for it. And if we do not get it, then someone else will get it and we can go back to sleep again quietly once more.

CONCLUSION. These are some of the major reasons why this area suffers from lack of interest, by new home buyers. It is an area where transportation to and from Montreal is definitely poor by comparison with the naturally more popular areas.

Until the various municipalities will go to the members of parliament concerned and demand an improvement in these conditions, we are going to wallow contentedly along behind the other areas.

But of course as long as there remains such a friendly association between various local figures and the elected members, it is not practical to embarrass the member by asking him to obtain more than mere minimum improvements.

But Point Claire does not seem to have suffered from that complex does it? Just imagine, once with less population than we had, now they get not one but two super divided highways and by-passes for every town involved.

We have basically the same old roads we have had since Confederation, only the pot holes are new. Only the pot holes are bigger and better.

Until our transportation chaos is solved, it does not matter much to the stranger if Chateauguay is one town or ten, and until it is solved, it is not going to do much good to drive a business executive past a bunch of empty fields and point with pride to the new industrial park that is not there.

What we need is to have pressure put so strongly on the governments concerned that we will have better transportation here. Until we get that done, anything else we do is just donating our time for nothing.

Yours truly,
Chateauguay Resident

Chateauguay Police News

Town of Chateauguay

Additional honours were accorded the Police Force of the Town of Chateauguay over the last week-end, when the Chief of Police, Roma Gervais, attended a meeting in Quebec City at the Chateau Frontenac to receive a certificate of honour issued at Ottawa, April 11th, 1964, by the Canadian certificate reads in part.

"Pour avoir réussi, grâce à un effort collectif, à éviter tant accident mortel de circulation pendant l'année 1963" signed by John Atkinson, President W. Bryce, Director of Administration.

The Town of Chateauguay Centre had just one fatal accident on Nov. 30th, 1963, reports chief Rene Spenard, and so narrowly missed receiving a citation. However this is a great improvement on past records which averaged 9 fatal road accidents per year.

Your neighbours profit from using ATRAZINE* (Geigy)
Shouldn't You?

"We now harvest more corn with less time in the fields!"
says Elmer McFaul, Townline Farms, Hillier, Ontario

"Spraying with Atrazine is a regular part of our corn management," Mr. McFaul says. "This year we sprayed over 200 acres. Since using Atrazine we have harvested bigger crops with less labour."

Atrazine treatment is normal routine with successful corn growers. Your neighbours, who have used Atrazine, will tell you they wouldn't grow corn without it.

One application of Atrazine controls weeds all season long including those in the rows which can't be reached by cultivation. Start using Atrazine this year . . . discover how profitable corn production can be.

Ask your farm supply dealer for an instructional leaflet on the new, more concentrated formula, Atrazine 65W. Place your order now and get your sprayer ready on time.

A full report will be found elsewhere in this Gleaner on the Father and Son banquet, organized by the Chateauguay Minor Sports Association, held at St. Jean Baptiste Church last Saturday to mark the close of the hockey season. Some 500 fathers and sons sat down to an excellent cold plate meal, served cafeteria style, including Seigniory Parkers Mac McConnell and Leslie, Ken Perry, Norman and Steve, Doug Wilson of Northern and Grant, and Danny Boyle and his father. The youngsters were thrilled to have Donnie Marshall of New York Rangers as guest of honour and plied him with searching questions on hockey lore.

Awards were made to winning teams in the league, unfortunately not including Seigniory Park. Crests were awarded to all players. These are now in Mac McConnell's possession, and will be distributed via the coaches this week.

At all times I do enjoy writing this column for The Gleaner, but there are few things I like better than to do so while reclining on a deck chair in the garden in the sun, with a cold drink in one hand and a pencil in the other, as I am happily now doing for the first time in 1964. It gives that extra condiment of enjoyment to see neighbours and my wife hard at work on their lawns while I sip and write.

There was a disappointing turnout at last Wednesday's monthly Home Owners meeting. I know attendance is expected to fall off in summer months — that is why no monthly meetings are scheduled for June, July or August — but summer isn't here yet. Treasurer Gerry Flynn reported that some 79% of Seigniory Park are now members of the Association, in good standing. The standing of a certain percentage of members is not very good, but that condition is expected to be remedied in the very near future. Linn Dulledge suggested to the meeting that permission be sought from the Town to erect white-painted stone barriers at certain street corners within Seigniory Park, to prevent trucks and automobiles from cutting corners, with consequent damage to the paved shoulders. Linn had a one-man war with the Town last summer on this project. He would place his stones in position one night and the Police would move them the next morning. This game was repeated several times, with the Police emerging the winners on points when they removed the stones in the trunk of their car. The issue here is between maintaining our roads in good order on the one hand, versus a possible traffic hazard on the other.

This past weekend was the first real opportunity of the year for Seigniory Parkers to make a start to clearing away the debris of winter from their gardens and ditches. There are sounds of concern heard about the beautification of Seigniory Park — the entrepreneur should do this, the big department store should do that, and the Town should do the other. I quite agree, but let it not be forgotten that we each have a responsibility as individuals for presenting a fair front. Besides, cleaning ditches can be fun, particularly if you play your cards properly, claim urgent pressing affairs elsewhere, and get the wife to do the work. The most interesting item to appear from our ditch was a complete set of clothes, red pants, T-shirts, vest and shoes, for a tiny baby. Or were they left for us on purpose?!

Opinions are sharply divided as to how and when the water gathered in our Park will disappear. Some say it is no worse than last year and will shortly disappear by evaporation and seepage. Others, of whom I am one, say No, there is five times as much water this year than there was last and it will still be there next August unless we get a sump pump on the job, and or a very deep ditch. One way or another, something must be done quickly, as the stagnant water is dangerous, unhealthy and an eyesore.

Pat Bedard reports that all sorts of bric-a-brac were left behind, mostly by the children, at last week's sugaring-off party. This is now in Pat's possession, awaiting reclamation.

Next Sunday's Art Exhibit and Floral Display, organized by Home Owners Association's Activities Committee Chairman Pat Bedard, promises to be a grand affair at the Clubhouse. Mayor Joe Laberge has consented to open the exhibit which will be open to the public at large from 1 to 5 p.m. It is reported that full honours will be done by the press, radio and television. In artist-instructor Keith Strike's absence on Fantastick business, Martha tells me that they have had a difficult job in restricting the number of exhibits to 100. So difficult indeed that a later exhibition is contemplated for those who didn't quite make it this time. There will be eight categories, split between the under and over 7-year-olds, in black and white, colour, abstract, and special assignment. Judges will be Mr. K.A. Keipert, Mrs. Shepherd and Mrs. Mosher.

Several Beauharnois Streets To Be Repaired

A municipal council meeting of the City of Beauharnois was held March 25, with Mayor P. Boyer presiding; the roll was accepted for repairs on Tisseur, Pierre, Jean Luc, Florent, Boyer, Morell, Ste. Catherine, Dunant and Chemin St. Louis Streets, in view of By-law 251, for a total amount of $31,465.89.

A letter from the juvenile Police Club was read asking for a grant to allow them to take care of children during the holiday season in order to prevent juvenile delinquency. This letter was forwarded to the Recreation Committee.

A letter from Chief of Police Joseph Robert was read stating that the Pizzeria amusement hall had been frequented by teens aged between 12 and 18 years of age and that many complaints about it had been received. This place was closed recently.

A letter from Mr. Fernand Lebeau was read offering his services to the City of Beauharnois for the sweeping of chimneys.. This letter was filed since Mr. René Laurin has always given satisfaction to the citizens of Beauharnois with his work.

The Minister of Public Works wrote advising the City of Beauharnois to join the Good Roads Association and mentioning that the next congress will be held October 19 to 22 at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel in Montreal. It was moved and seconded that the offer to join the Association be accepted. The annual fee is $50.00

It was moved and seconded that the following building permit be given: Mr. Gérald Laurin, repairs. On the other hand a building permit for a garage approximately 50 X 150 was refused because it did not comply with the construction and zoning By-law.

The town clerk then proceeded with the opening of tenders for the repairing of a filter at the filter plant: Roy & Briere Enrg. $309.; Beauharnois Plumbing Reg'd $275.; Richelieu Shopping Centre $497.74. It was moved and seconded that the tender ot Beauharnois Plumbing Reg'd $275. be accepted.

Social Events

The dance held at St. Willibrord's last week-end was apparently not as well attended as the previous one. "The Ants" of whom I have heard several good comments, provided the music and most people had a good time.

Teen Town Social Club which has been keeping low these days will be back in operation possibly on April 24. At a meeting held last Sunday, it was discovered that several items which were hampering the undertaking of activities could now be set aside and not be the cause of inactivity. The committee members, thus relieved, are planning to continue activities. Dances will be held every two weeks and other events will also be held. Those of you who find the absence of dances in the summer make for boring times will be happy to hear (if everything goes well) that activities will be provided this summer. That's all I can say right now except that those who were asking about Teen Town won't have to ask any more. You'll be hearing plenty in the future.

Students of C.H.S. who have no definite plans for noon hour tomorrow, Thursday, can go to see a motion picture at Maplewood Presbyterian Church at 11.30 a.m. entitled "Teenage Rock."

Last Friday and Saturday evenings a Fashion Show was held at St. George's Church to raise funds for the Sunday School. Included among the models were some of Chateauguay's 'prettiest' males Good work, boys, and I hope you didn't blush to excess.

June Exams

June exams in Grades X and XI at C.H.S. this year will begin on June 12, a Friday and continue until June 26, which is a holiday. Students of these grades will find themselves with a few afternoons and possibly whole days off. A word of caution. Let these "free periods" be "touch up" periods. Study should have started already for these exams if one expects to pass. Believe me and others who speak with the pains of experience.

Next week when this column comes out exams will be less than seven weeks away. Almost eight months have passed this school year so seven weeks is not much.

Use Caution

For those who are still hunting and hiking in the woods across the highway, beware of fire. The weather this time of year together with open dry fields could cause chaos if someone carelessly dropped a butt or wasn't careful about a cook fire.

nicipal Garage for the Town of Chateauguay Centre. The notice of motion followed the reading of a letter from Mr. Alcide Sambo offering the Town the said building for $30,000.

The Town acknowledged receipt of a letter from Mr. Maurice Trudeau C.R. advising them that his clients contest the legality of a permit for the construction of a swimming pool in West End and that they are particularly opposed to the construction of the said swimming pool on David St. After a discussion on the subject, the Town engineer was requested to consult with the Town's legal advisor Mr. Armand Poupart Jr.

Requests for grants were made by the following organizations which were forwarded to the Finance Committee: St. Vincent de Paul of Caughnawaga, Federated Charities for Beauharnois and Chateauguay Counties, Canadian Cancer Society, and Scouting Develops Citizens of Chateauguay.

The Council adjourned to meet on March 10 at 8 p.m.

March 10 — Adjourned Meeting

An adjourned meeting was held March 10 with Couns. Chevrefils, M. Reid, Bourcier and Colpron in attendance. In the absence of Mayor Sutterlin Coun. Colpron presided.

By-law 399 concerning the use and occupation of buildings in the Town of Chateauguay Centre and prepared by Mr. Armand Poupart Jr. was adopted.

Mr. Garnier was present and asked the members why the minutes of the meetings for the past month and a half were not published in the newspapers. The secretary explained that he thought this point was very important and that he wanted to have instructions from the Council before going ahead with it.

Mr. Alonzo Belliveau, former Councillor for the Town of Chateauguay Centre, informed the Council that when he was a member of the Council he had asked legal advise from Mr. Armand Poupart Jr. concerning the construction of playgrounds under the Quebec Hydro lines on lots 58 and 65. He added that he had never received an answer.

After an explanation from the secretary-treasurer, it was decided to return to Ivanhoe Corp. the amount of $200. which had been overpaid in their tax account for 1962.

The secretary-treasurer was authorized to buy 2 bookcases for the assistant-secretary's office.

Mr. Gerard Sambault, who has the contract for garbage collection submitted a detailed report of all the places where his services are needed. According to this report the Town of Chateauguay Centre should pay Mr. Sambault the amount of $20,809. for collecting garbage in 1963. This item was forwarded to the next committee meeting.

March 17 — Adjourned Meeting

A second adjourned meeting was held March 17 with all members present and Mayor Richard Sutterlin presiding.

The following notices of motion were given: By-law providing for the buying of equipment and laying out of streets and a parking lot for the Town Hall; annexation of lots 1,2,32 and part of an old street bearing no number in the Parish of St. Isidore to the Town of Chateauguay Centre; By-law to amend Zonage By-law 212 on lots 97-41,42, 43, 40, 36 and 37, so that these lots will be included in "Zone B" where the construction of commercial places is permitted; By-law to amend zonage By-law 212, so that the building of duplex homes will be permitted on Primeau St. on the following lots — P-226-239, 82½ by 50 ft.; 226-238, 77 by 50 ft.; P-226-224, 50 by 100 ft.; 226-145 and 146; P-226-163, 50 by 100 ft.; 226-180, 181, 206, 207; P-226-224, 50 by 100 ft; P-226-241, 75 by 50 ft.; P-226-242, 75 by 50 ft.; 226-148, 149, 177, 178, 209, 210.

The following By-laws were approved:

By-law 400: providing for the making of surface drains on Laramée St. and to a loan of $24,500. to do this work.

By-law 401: providing for the making of a cement curb and to the paving of Laramée St., and to a loan of $29,000. to do this work.

An electors meeting to approve or disapprove By-laws 400 and 401 was set for March 26 between 7 and 8 p.m.

The secretary was instructed to return the deposits to the two lowest tenders for By-law 365 (chalets, bathing pools and laying out of a park) to Gilles Faubert and Jean Bédard Ltée as the Town does not plan to go ahead with these works at the moment.

Along with the instructions received from the Minister of the Municipal Affairs, the contracts for By-laws 352, 357, 361 and 362 were given to the lowest tenders. They are: for By-law 352, Maurice Lavigne Exc. $12,285.; for By-law 357, Valrive Construction Ltd. $16,439.; for By-law 361, P. Baillargeon Ltd. $33,559.50; for By-law 362, P. Baillargeon Ltd. $44,180. Each tender was asked to present a deposit of 10% of the total amount of the contract. The deposit cheques of the other tenders were returned.

A subdivision plan in favor of Mr. Emery Martineau was accepted concerning lot 106 in St. Joachim Parish, Chateauguay.

A construction permit for a gas station on lot 99 was given to Mr. Joseph Ulric Lefebvre, provided that all the plans are accepted by the Public Works Dept. and that Mr. Lefebvre will not take any legal action against the Town of Chateauguay Centre if there is a delay in obtaining the permit.

Mr. Eddie Peltzer was in attendance and asked Mr. Marcotte if any new development had occurred re the West End swimming pool. Mr. Marcotte said he was waiting for Mr. Armand Poupart Jr. to give him legal advice on this matter.

Electors' Meeting

An electors' meeting of homeowners in the Town of Chateauguay Centre was held March 26 between 7 and 8 p.m. Mr. Rolland Colpron presided over the meeting which was to decide on By-laws 400 and 401.

By-law 400: By-law providing for the making of surface drains on Laramée St. and for a loan of $24,500. to this work.

By-law 401: By-law providing for the making of a cement curb and the paving on Laramée St. and to a loan of $29,000.

The Assistant-Secretary Treasurer for the Town acted as secretary of the meeting. He read By-law 593 of the Cities and Towns Act and also By-laws 400 and 401. No qualified elector having asked for a referendum during the two hours of the meeting, the president of the meeting declared the said By-laws unanimously accepted by the electors concerned according to law.

ARMY & NAVY NEWS IN CHATEAUGUAY

Chateauguay Plaza Unit 353

A good time was had by all at the St. Patrick's Day Dance and there is promise of more of the same at the next dance which is hoped will be held in the not too distant future.

A belated anniversary wish to Mr. and Mrs. George Oliver of Salaberry South who celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary on the night of the dance. We thought it was a nice gesture on the part of Mr. Robert Bonville to donate his prize of a bottle of champagne to the celebrating couple. Our thanks to Mrs. George Caron and Mr. Roland Lussier who gave their time to do the work necessary to make this dance a success. Mr. Earl Saucier of Sports Equipment in the Shopping Center gave a beautiful lawn chair as a door prize which was won by one of our newest members, Norman Hawkins

It is announced with pleasure that some new members were welcomed to the Unit this past month. They were Mr. Paul Samson, Mr. Robert Moreau and Mr. Arthur Amyot.

Comrades Leonard Rinder and Armand Turgeon have been appointed as Credential Committee Men. Those appointments were made at a membership meeting held on March 26th.

Hints of Humour

How could anyone injure his thumb doing the limbo? Well, just ask Don Moore because he managed it at the St. Patrick's Day Dance. Someone should teach him a little about anatomy!

Comrade T. Collins has expressed his thanks for the help given him and his family to get a fresh start following the fire at their home. Everyone hopes they will have smooth sailing in the future.

Rev. A. Burns, S. J. Chaplain of Caughnawaga, expresses gratitude for the assistance to the needy and extends blessings on undertakings of the Unit in the future.

The 1964 membership cards are now in the office and all members are requested to drop in and sign them as they pick them up.

Any members who are moving are requested to call the office and give their new address for the mailing list.

Les vicaires de St-Joseph de Huntingdon

Il est très difficile de connaitre exactement les vicaires de cette paroisse à cause de documents qui manquent et des circonstances de son origine. On sait que dans les cantons du sud qui sont de notre diocèse: Godmanchester, Hinchinbrook, Hemmingford, la première mission catholique fut celle de Hinchinbrook, après celle de St-Régis. C'est M. l'abbé Mc-Mahon (John) qui la commença, envoyé là par Mgr Lartigue. Or il arriva que, au nord de la rivière Châteauguay, dans la seigneurie de Beauharnois, aux rapides du Portage, des Canadiens et des Irlandais firent groupe auprès d'un moulin. M. l'abbé McMahon les visita. Ils voulurent avoir une chapelle-école que Mgr de Montréal leur accorda. Quand M. l'abbé McMahon partit pour la mission de Percé, M. l'abbé James Moore continua son ministère aux deux endroits. En 1840, Mgr Bourget, en visite épiscopale, créa la paroisse de Saint-Patrice de Hinchinbrook et bénit la mission de Saint-Malachie d'Ormstown à laquelle il attacha les deux rives de la rivière Châteauguay jusqu'après le village de Huntingdon, partie dans Hinchinbrook et partie dans Godmanchester.

Le premier prêtre qui habita le presbytère de St-Malachie d'Ormstown fut l'abbé Keirnan qui fonda la mission de St-Joseph de H'don en 1848. Son successeur M. l'abbé Doyle le remplace et obtient la permission de son évêque de quitter le Portage et d'habiter Huntingdon. Ces deux derniers abbés, directement intéressés à Huntingdon, ont été étudiés brièvement dans les curés de St-Joseph de Huntingdon. Avant de commencer la liste des vicaires, il me semble opportun de dire un mot des deux premiers.

LITURGIE — Deux mille ans nous séparent de cette parole que le Christ a adressée à ses premiers fidèles. Aujourd'hui, par l'intermédiaire du prêtre, le Seigneur s'adresse à nouveau à nous. Un vrai message: quelque chose qui nous est annoncé à tous et doit changer notre vie. Changer notre vie. Le premier changement est celui de notre attitude. Nous devons comprendre que maintenant nous avons un rôle liturgique à jouer: l'assemblée dont nous faisons partie devient active. Le troupeau ne suit plus, il vit. Mais sa vie n'est pas celle du pasteur, celle du berger. Aurons-nous le courage de prendre la place que la liturgie nous offre et faire l'effort pour entendre la voix du Pasteur?

LITURGY — The sacred Council has seen fit to decree as follows: "By a tradition handed down from the apostles which took its origin from the very day of Christ's resurrection, the Church celebrates the paschal mystery every eighth day, with good reason this, then, bears the name of the Lord's day or Sunday. For on this day Christ's faithful should come together into one place so that, by hearing the word of God and taking part in the Eucharist, they may call to mind the passion, the resurrection and the glorification of the Lord Jesus, and may thank God who "has forgotten them again, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, unto a living hope (I Pet. 1:3)". Hence the Lord's day is the original feast day, and it should be proposed to the piety of the faithful and taught to them so that it may become in fact a day of joy and of freedom from work.

Le 12 février 1964, les Producteurs de lait à la Cie Fry-Cadbury, représentés par Messieurs Elie Leblanc Président, André Billette vice-président, Siméon Chabot trésorier, Sylvio St-Michel secrétaire, Maurice Caza, Fernand Leduc, et Gérard Brisson directeurs se présentaient pour l'arbitrage à la Régie des Marchés, contre la Compagnie Fry-Cadbury représentée par Messieurs Hancock, Rust et leur aviseur légal.

Le litige portait sur le prix du lait, et l'Office des Producteurs a eu gain de cause en obtenant .25 sous le cent livres d'augmentation soit $3.20, pour ce qui est des surplus nous seront payés au prix de $2.95 et $3.05.

Il est dommage que la sentence soit rendue à un temps aussi avancé dans la période de l'hiver, ce qui aurait peut-être influencé les prix des autres compétiteurs; nous profitons de la circonstance pour dire aux cultivateurs qu'ils auraient intérêt à se grouper en un syndicat laitier d'envergure imposante.

"Impression et consentement"

En examinant ce qui se passe dans notre milieu on constate qu'il y a manifestation des complexes du surmoi. On les divise en cinq catégories: Impression et consentement, fonction et personne, idéal et religion, certitude et vérité, loi et amour. Aujourd'hui on va s'entretenir sur l'impression et le consentement qui jouent un rôle important chez nos gens. Voici, il y a ceux qui parlent toujours et ceux qui ne parlent jamais. C'est au fond le même complexe qui agit dans les deux cas: l'impulsivité ou la peur. La conscience personnelle se construit en dominant l'impression immédiate, de sorte que écouter les autres ou prendre la parole deviennent des actes de réflexion et de prudence.

Il s'agit de maitriser des silences et des réponses toutes faites et de passer à une attitude réfléchie: prêter attention aux autres, rechercher avec eux, oser dire ce que nous pensons et être résolus à nous engager. Revenons au cas de Pierre. Pierre éprouve une révolte contre ses parents et contre sa religion, et en même temps, une attirance pour tout ce que ses parents et sa religion condamnent. Il lui semble qu'il serait libre s'il rejetait son passé. Cette attitude d'adolescent peut se prolonger toute sa vie. De nombreux écrivains, pour ne parler que d'eux, restent fixés à l'attitude de révolte du stade de l'adolescence. Ils se fixent à ce qui ne devrait être qu'un passage comme l'enfance.

Pour accéder à la conscience de soi, à une religion d'adulte, il faut voir clair et reconnaitre en soi-même l'existence d'une infinité de possibilités mauvaises ou bonnes. Voir clair en soi, ce n'est pas consentir à ce qu'on voit. Eprouver toutes les tendances, mêmes les plus criminelles, ce n'est pas les accueillir. Voir le monde, notre temps, notre mouvement, notre Eglise, tel que cela est, et non tel que nous voudrions que cela soit, c'est le propre d'une conscience personnelle.

L'éloge que la Sainte Ecriture fait de l'homme juste, est l'éloge de la conscience de soi: pouvoir faire le mal et ne pas le faire, c'est-à-dire voir en soi-même et chez les autres toutes les possibilités de tentation, et choisir librement ce que Dieu veut. Côtoyer le vice sans y prendre part. Marcher au sommet d'une cime entre deux abimes, c'est le risque du chrétien, vrai, intérieur, conscient de soi et qui vit sa foi en homme libre.

Une fois arrivé à la conscience de soi, Pierre ne subira ni la contrainte de ses parents ni l'emprise de ses camarades. Sa religion deviendra une religion personnelle, basée sur son propre consentement, une religion voulue du dedans.

L'accès à la conscience de soi exige le courage de voir sans ornières, de juger sans parti pris et d'agir en pleine liberté. La lucidité est particulièrement nécessaire dans le choix de la vocation. Les faillites des mariages d'amour proviennent précisément de la confusion entre l'emballement et l'amour. Le oui que réclame la célébration du mariage est un acte de la conscience de soi. C'est aussi un tel oui que demandent les voeux religieux. L'impression sensible se transforme en amour grâce au consentement de la personne." (extrait de Bienheureuses Difficultés, F Boillart).

On demanda au secrétaire-trésorier d'écrire aux propriétaires de bâtisses considérées comme détériorées et d'aviser ces propriétaires que s'ils ne font rien pour réparer ou enlever ces bâtisses dans les prochains trente jours, le Conseil de la Municipalité du Village d'Ormstown prendra les mesures nécessaires à l'article 421 du Code Municipal de la Province de Québec.

Le Conseil approuva l'érection d'un mât de drapeau en métal en face de l'Hôtel de Ville.

Le cons. Irénée D'Aoust fut nommé en charge des employés de la ville, jusqu'à la prochaine réunion du Conseil, en mai.

Notes Sociales

Un shower mixte a eu lieu le 3 avril à l'Hôtel La Villa de Ste-Barbe. Plus de 25 personnes étaient réunies pour fêter Madeleine Demers et Jean-Guy Lessard dont le mariage aura lieu ce mois-ci. Il y eu du plaisir pour tous et le goûter fut servi. Madeleine et Jean-Guy profitent de l'occasion pour remercier parents et amis pour leur présence et leur cadeau.

Quatre emplacements sont étudiés pour l'érection de l'école régionale projetée

Une réunion ajournée du conseil de la ville de Hunting don a eu lieu lundi soir en l'édifice du comté. Tous les membres étaient présents et la galerie était remplie à capacité. Le principal sujet de discussion se fit autour des quatre endroits proposés pour l'érection de la nouvelle école régionale de plus d'une trentaine de classes qui serait construite à Huntingdon par la Commission Scolaire Régionale Catholique. MM Georges, Allard, président de la Commission Scolaire Régionale, Louis Derome, ingénieur, Raphael Barrette, secrétaire-trésorier, et les commissaires Adrien Miron, Raoul David et Aldoma Caza représentaient la Commission Scolaire.

Quatre emplacements sont étudiés pour l'emplacement de la nouvelle école: un sur la route 52, offert par M. Raoul David; un au nord de la voie ferrée du C.N.R., entre les rues Bouchette et Lake, propriété de M. A.C.H. Picard; un au nord de l'église St-Joseph, s'étendant jusqu'à Ridge Rd. et la rue du Cimetière, propriété de M. Malcolm Arnold, et un dernier appartenant à MM. Godfroy et Alfred Leduc, partant de Fairview Rd. et allant jusqu'à la rivière Châteauguay ,en face du terrain d'exposition).

La délégation se présenta devant le conseil pour savoir quelle proportion des frais la ville serait prête à assumer pour le service aux différents endroits. M. Allard mentionna qu'il espérait que la ville assumerait tous les frais pour les services d'eau et d'égoûts, mais le maire Lefebvre déclara que la ville n'était prête à payer que la moitié des frais pour ces services. Le compromis sembla acceptable à la délégation.

Le conseil en général sembla être d'avis qu'un conduit d'égoûts pour desservir l'emplacement Picard (suivant Ridge Rd.) impliquerait des frais exhorbitants, surtout quand la ville doit faire face au problème du financement d'une usine d'épuration d'eaux-vannes d'un demi-million de dollars. D'autre part si l'emplacement Leduc est choisi, la ville n'assumera d'aucune façon la responsabilité pour les dommages causés par les innondations. Les représentants de la Commission Scolaire Régionale avaient pu se renseigner sur les emplacements Picard et Arnold auparavant, mais demandèrent que des informations par écrit leur soient données en ce qui concerne les lots David et Leduc. M. Allard demanda que ces renseignements soient remis avant le 30 avril.

On décida qu'un ajournement du conseil aurait lieu le 22 avril. Ceci donnera le temps au conseil d'étudier les frais impliqués dans chaque emplacement et permettra à tout le monde de soumettre des plans d'autres endroits, s'ils sont disponibles. La délégation remercia les membres du conseil pour leur coopération et avant de partir, ils reçurent l'assurance des membres que les renseignements demandés leur seront remis sans délai.

La réunion habituelle du conseil se poursuivit. Aucun compte ne fut présenté puisque cet item avait été réglé lors de la première réunion du mois.

Le contre-maitre de la ville reçut des instructions pour faire solidifier les lumières de Noel dans les rues là où c'est nécessaire.

On lut une lettre de M. J. Benoit, de la part de H.W. Lea, ingénieur conseil, recommandant que du silicate activé soit ajouté à l'eau pure à l'usine de filtration. Il suggéra aussi que de l'alum soit ajouté à l'eau avant l'addition du silicate. M. Benoit mentionna enfin qu'il donnerait des instructions aux préposés de l'usine sur l'emploi de ces matières chimiques.

Le conseiller McGerrigle suggéra le déménagement des balançoires d'enfants de leur emplacement actuel dans le carré Prince Arthur au parc mais les autres conseillers s'y opposèrent. On décida cependant d'acheter un morceau de terrain de Chas. Reid pour l'aménagement d'un parc pour le quartier ouest, si les mêmes offres d'il y a quelques mois tiennent toujours.

Proposé par l'échevin Mc Gerrigle secondé par l'échevin Laplante que la ville achète un lot adjacent à celui de l'usine de filtration de M. Latreille pour la somme de $500. comptant et $500. par année pendant quatre ans à 5% d'intérêt. Le lot mesure 100 pi. de largeur et s'étend de la rue à la rivière. Il sera utilisé pour l'aménagement de nouveaux lits de filtration.

M. Roch Trépanier s'adressa au conseil pour s'informer du sort du permis de construction qu'il avait demandé pour un garage et une résidence sur le coin nord-ouest de la rue Cimetière, le garage devant faire face au Ridge Rd. On lui répondit qu'il aurait une réponse à la prochaine assemblée ajournée.

On fit remarquer aux membres du conseil que la ville pourrait se créer des revenus additionnels si les contracteurs de l'extérieur étaient obligés de payer des taxes d'affaires dans la même proportion qu'à Valleyfield, Ormstown, Châteauguay et les autres centres voisins. Cette possibilité sera étudiée plus à fond.

Une lettre sera envoyée à un résidant de Garden City l'informant qu'une bâtisse vacante lui appartenant devra être enlevée dans un certain délai. Il devra aussi re défaire des automobiles endommagées qui se trouvent sur sa propriété.

On a donné à un employé de la ville, Patrick Barr, des balais, des pelles et une brouette, et à partir de maintenant son travail consistera à balayer en tas les déchets dans les rues; ceux-ci seront ensuite ramassés dans un camion.

M. G. Preston Hooker perd la vie dans un accident tragique

Un accident tragique, au cours duquel un des citoyens les plus en vue d'Ormstown a perdu la vie, est survenu jeudi le 9 mai à St-Zotique. MM. Preston et Alan Hooker (frères) circulaient sur la route No. 2 quand ils vinrent soudainement en collision face à face avec une autre automobile; ils se rendaient tous deux à un boisé en Ontario pour terminer leurs affaires de la semaine. On ne dispose que de détails assez vagues quant à la collision elle-même. On sait cependant que deux occupants de l'autre véhicule, MM. McRae et MacDonald ont été admis à l'hôpital de Cornwall pour des blessures mineures. Ils ont quitté l'hôpital depuis. Les frères Hooker n'ont pas eu la même chance. Ils ont été conduits à l'Institut Neurologique de Montréal, où M. Preston Hooker est mort quelques minutes après son arrivée. M. Alan Hooker a été gravement blessé; il souffre d'une fracture du crâne et de blessures à la poitrine. Au moment d'aller sous presses, son état est considéré comme satisfaisant. Il n'a pu cependant donner aucun détail sur ce qui est arrivé.

News from Ormstown

COVERING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE "LITTLE ROYAL" EXHIBITION CENTRE

ORMSTOWN — Mrs. Hilton Nussey of Kemptville, Ont. and Miss Olive Greig of Montreal spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greig and attended the funeral of the late Preston Hooker.

Miss Joan Barrington of Hudson, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Claude Des Paroise of Malone N.Y., Joyce Des Parois of Albany, N.Y. and Mr. George Barrington of Montreal were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Barrington and attended the funeral of the late Preston Hooker.

Mr. James Gillilan and daughter Jane of Fulton, N.Y., Messrs. George, Ed. and Sam Hooker of Toronto and Mrs. Gordon Pinel of Toronto, Mrs. Carol Kilgour of Harvey Station, N.B., also attended the funeral services of the late Mr. Hooker.

Mr. Robert Greig and Mrs. Jean Lahaye of Augusta, Maine and Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Foote of Malone, N.Y., attended the funeral of their cousin the late P. Hooker and were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Barrington.

F/L Gordon Helm of London, Ont., was a guest last Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ovans.

Mr. Merrill Winter is presently visiting his brother Robert and family in Edmonton, Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewton Wright of Cardinal, Ont., were visitors on Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ovans.

Miss Annemarie Crete and Master Richard Crete spent four days last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Cullen.

Grass Fire

A grass fire got out of control last Saturday threatening the buildings of the Lawrence home on Jamestown Road. Thanks to the quick work of the Ormstown Fire Brigade no damage was done. Now is the time to clean up and burn the winter's accumulation or rubbish and dead grass, but CAUTION is the watchword, a grass fire spreads so quickly.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McNeil and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Henderson attended the funeral of Mr. Harry Harvey in East Dunham on Friday. They also called on Miss Floris Henderson in Bedford.

Miss Heather Wallace had the misfortune to sprain her ankle while playing basketball at Gault Institute in Valleyfield on Saturday.

Maple Leaf Grange

Owing to the inclemency of the weather a smaller number than usual met at Kensington for the regular meeting of M.L.G.

The Service and Hospitality Committee under the chairmanship of Sis. Hattie Shearer, conducted the baking contest. This year a "Yeast Coffee Cake" was the entry. Four entries were judged by Mrs. C. Dahms and Mrs. R. Greenbank and the prize winners were 1st, Sis. Evelyn Donnelly; 2nd, Sis. Norma Crawford; 3rd, Sis. Margaret Wilson; 4th, Sis. Harriet French. Suitable prizes and gifts were awarded the contestants and judges.

Notice was given that our next meeting will be April 20th, when the Toastmasters Club of Valleyfield will present the program. Let's hope for a good night and a large attendance.

Neighbor nights coming up in April are Brighton to Brushton, April 22nd and Brushton to Burke, April 29.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Extra Fine Quality

This has been a splendid maple syrup season. The sap proved to be of good quality and some of the clearest and finest quality syrup in many years has been produced.

Curling Season Ends

The curling rink at Riverfield was a busy place on Friday evening when some fifty children and an equal number of adults enjoyed some curling games and a grand feed of taffy on snow. The taffy was delicious and much appreciated by all but there was an extra "pull" back to the ice for the younger fry as it was their last chance of the season.

Saturday evening another three rounds of curling were enjoyed before the switch was pulled and a very busy season brought to an end. The official closing will be held on April 23rd, when the prize won during the season will be distributed.

Two teams of curlers motored to Lancaster on Friday to participate in the twenty-four hour bonspiel held there.

Public Speaking Finals

Several members of the W.I. and some parents' attended the finals in the Public Speaking held in Franklin School on Friday evening. Congratulations to Diane Allen who placed third and to Gary Allen who came second in their respective classes.

The judge, Mr. Brash, gave the contestants high praise for the quality of their speeches, the originality of their material and their ability to not only arouse the interest of the listeners but to maintain that interest throughout the speech. This was the twenty-fifth year of this worth-while contest sponsored by the Women's Institute and a marked improvement has been noted in the speeches during this time.

Mrs. Gordon Easton spent the week-end in Montreal and attended a tea on Saturday afternoon in honour of Miss Barbara Easton, whose marriage is taking place in the near future. Miss Ruth Easton was the hostess.

Mr. Wilbert Gruer returned Monday from Brampton, Ont., where he had spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Green and family. He visited with his mother, Mrs. Annie Gruer, in the Peel Memorial Hospital, where she is showing some improvement.

Mrs. J. J. Craig returned to her own home last week after spending the winter months with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Orr. Miss Esther Craig, who spent the winter in Montreal, has returned home to stay with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher and Kenny of Montreal were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Orr on Friday and called on other friends in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Orr and Berta visited with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moore and family in Huntingdon on Sunday.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Kees were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Orr and family of Ste. Agathe.

Mr. Andrew MacFarlane, who was a patient in the Barrie Memorial Hospital, for a few days, has returned home.

Mr. Aubrin Reddick is undergoing tests at the present time in the Montreal General Hospital. We hope he will not have to undergo surgery and that treatment will soon restore him to his usual health.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Templeton and Judy and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Templeton spent Sunday in St. Johns.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Robertson are spending ten days in Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tanner and family.

Several of the vacant houses in the neighbourhood have been rented recently so we hope to have some new families in our midst before long.

Ormstown High School Notes

by Linda French

O.H.S. is once again in the midst of exams and we all have our fingers crossed Good luck!

This past Saturday our Junior Girls went to a Basketball Tournament in Valleyfield. There were teams from Beauharnois, Howick, Chateauguay, Gault and Ormstown. Our girls won their first two games against Gault and Beauharnois, but lost their third against Howick 17-10. This gave the girls a second place. Howick placed first and I understand were given a beautiful trophy. Heather Wallace hurt her leg quite badly and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Friday night the finals of the W.I. Public Speaking Contest were held in Franklin. O.H.S. was able to get a first, second and a third. Donna Marshall placed 1st. in her age group, Edward Sancton placed second in his and Bogdan Krawchenko third in his. Congratulations!

On Saturday, Andrew Sancton ventured to Montreal for the semi-finals of the Lions Club Public Speaking Contest. We are proud to report that Andy qualified to continue in the competition and he will speak later on in the month.

The interhouse curling is over and it was a gruelling battle right to the end. As we entered the last game of the series, three houses were tied for first place with three wins each. But two of the houses lost their last game and so there were no ties. The final tally said that Ellice was first; Durham, second; Salaberry, third; Munro, fourth.
