Award scholarship Westmount student

President James S. Coles of Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, announced Thursday that a Westmount student at the college had been selected to receive one of the first grants from the newly-established George B. Knox Scholarship Fund.

The student is John E. Craig '62, son of Mrs. Carleton Craig of 344 Metcalfe avenue in Westmount. He is on the Dean's List at the college.

The Knox Scholarship Fund was created with a gift to Bowdoin by Mr. and Mrs. George B. Knox of Los Angeles, California. Mr. Knox is a Bowdoin College overseer and a 1929 graduate. Preference in awarding the scholarship usually goes to those students whose homes are on the Pacific coast.

Craig is a history major and is secretary of White Key, the Bowdoin interfraternity athletic council. He has won letters in cross country and numerals in track. He is a member of Theta Delta Chi Fraternity.

Puzzle Pete is inundated with replies

After puzzling readers for more than 18 months, the Puzzle Pete Cashword competition has now ended.

Replies by the sack-load poured into our Cashword Editor in answer to last week's puzzle, which was worth $400.

Results of the competition are published this week, but due to the time it will take to read all the solutions, the names of the winners will not be announced until next week's edition of The Examiner.

Between you and me

Flag waving goes on

By Margaret Aitken

Between now and the next election you will be hearing a lot about whether or not Canada should have a distinctive flag with or without the Union Jack.

On our Order Paper there are two Notices of Motions, and two Bills on this subject. They range over a wide variety of ways to solve the problem.

Bill C-25, presented by Maurice Allard, MP, for Sherbrooke, calls upon the Canada Council to prepare, after competition, a design for a distinctive national flag, without the emblem or emblems of any other country.

M. Allard also called upon the Canada Council to select a distinctive national anthem.

The last time a call went out for submission of flag designs, 2,408 flowed into the Government. They were tucked away somewhere in the files of the Secretary of State.

Bill C-31, presented by Samuel Boulanger, MP, for Drummond-Arthabaska, calls upon the Governor-in-Council (meaning the Cabinet) to choose a flag and report a design to be approved by the House of Commons and the Senate.

A distinctive flag

L. J. Pigeon, MP for Joliette-L'Assomption-Montcalm, has a Notice of Motion on the Order Paper requesting that a special committee be set up to consider ways and means of giving Canada a distinctive flag and an official national anthem.

Actually, in 1945, the then Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, put through an Order in-Council declaring the Red Ensign a distinctive Canadian flag.

But perhaps the most involved flag motion has come from Laurier Reguier, MP for St. Boniface in Manitoba. He suggests we should ask the people of Canada to decide on the flag, through a plebiscite.

No self-respecting pollster would tolerate the way in which Mr. Reguier worded his question. It was just about as slanted as that time-worn question: "Have you stopped beating your wife?"

Mr. Reguier's idea was to put his question on the next election ballot.

"Are you in favor of a flag for Canada which would not include the emblem of any other country?"

Those in favor

Presumably the voter would have to mark an 'X' beside yes or no. That would not tell the story at all because there are many thousands of Canadians who do "favor a flag for Canada," but with the Union Jack in it. They would have no place to put their 'X' on Mr. Reguier's ballot.

In a recent House of Commons debate on a flag, H. C. McQuillan, an MP from British Columbia, suggested the question should be reversed to: "Are you in favor of a flag for Canada which would include the Union Jack?"

If it was put that way, where would the anti-Union Jackers be?

Mr. McQuillan had another interesting observation. He said many people seemed to want a maple leaf in our flag, but that maple trees only grow in about five percent of Canadian land area. Many children have never seen a maple leaf.

"If we are going to have a tree on our flag," Mr. McQuillan continued, "why not the spruce, because the spruce grows in every Canadian province."

And so the debate goes on while 2,409 flag designs languish somewhere in our dark archives.

This week in Westmount

Parents attending the Roslyn School Home and School meeting next Thursday evening, March 22, will enjoy a special treat. Hand made items sewn by 58 girls from Grades two to six and ranging in ages seven to 11 years will be exhibited in the school halls for the express purpose of being admired and inspected by visitors. The sewing project sponsored by the Roslyn Home and School Association is under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth MacLagan this year, who took over the classes which were in progress for eight years under Mrs. Young.

"Stuffed toys, puppets, oven mitts, pot holders, nighties, aprons, hot water bottles, and many other things will be on display," commented Mrs. MacLagan. Apart from spending Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons with this sewing group, Mrs. MacLagan teaches home industry and sewing at Russel School in the Town of Mount Royal.

Tons of snowflakes as large as full blown white feathers covering many square miles during the last few days have caused persons owning cottages in the Laurentians to plan trips to check up on roof and water pipe conditions this coming weekend. This will undoubtedly bring about accidents of different kinds, including walking on ice on the lake which is slowly giving way.

What should you do if someone falls through ice that is thawing?

Here are some helpful hints: Don't try to pull the person out with your hands. You may break through also. DO get a pole, ladder, long board or similar object and crawl on the ice until you are close to the victim. Lie prone and inch forward. This distributes your weight over a larger section. Extend the pole or board so that the victim can grab it. Pull him slowly forward, breaking ice if necessary, until he reaches a firm spot. Help him out when you can do so without breaking through.

When artist Ruth Tomlinson recently visited her brother C. Leslie Tomlinson, Edgemoor road, she showed some colored transparencies taken in London of the Garter Ceremony. The Most Noble Order of the Garter, which was founded by King Edward III in 1348, is if not the oldest, surely one of the most honorable in the world. The number of Knights Companion of this Order is limited to twenty-six, as a result of which only the most illustrious gain admittance; and the selection is at the discretion of the Sovereign of the Order, who is always the reigning monarch. Once a year the whole company of knights, after banqueting with their sovereign in historic St. George's Hall, walk in state to the fifteenth-century chapel of St. George, where they give thanks for the foundation and perserva-INSPECTOR PRESENTED: Westmount Police Chief Ed Harper, left, and Alderman C. H. Drury, Westmount police commissioner, flank Inspector O. J. Arsenaault, who retired from active duty on the force after 30 years' service. He was clerk to the municipal court as well as inspector of police. On his retirement he was presented with the tape recorder seen in the picture. The machine was donated by the Westmount police and fire departments.

Lengthy explanation postpones verdict

Westmount municipal court Wednesday saw only a flurry of cases, mostly parking and other minor traffic offenses.

Mrs. R. Sikes pleaded not guilty to having parked near Victoria Hall for more than four hours. In a lengthy appeal, she said the ticket, which was given her apparently shortly after 2 p.m., was under "at least a couple of inches of snow."

She added it had been "physically impossible" for her to have been at Victoria Hall before 10:30 a.m. of the day in question, which was Monday.

Her case was remanded until investigation of the incident.

E. A. Dale appeared and was fined for going through a red light on Feb. 21. He pleaded not guilty, and said in his defence that the light had just turned amber when he entered the intersection — the corner of Greene and Mount Pleasant. Judge Alexander M. Stalker found that from the evidence produced, burden of the doubt lay with Mr. Dale. He was fined five dollars.

Emile LeBlanc was remanded over to a later date on a charge of driving without a licence, and on another charge of driving in the wrong lanes.

He said on the licence charge that he had applied for a licence — but that no word had as yet been received from Quebec. He has to apply to the capital because of his age. Mr. LeBlanc is 70 years old.

Severe cuts in ski mishap

Per Hall, 46 Summit Circle, Westmount, was one of eight persons injured when a ski tow cable snapped at St. Sauveur earlier this week. He was reported in good condition in the Montreal Neurological Institute today.

He received what doctors called a "rather nasty blow" to the head when he was struck by the cable and T-bar. He suffered severe cuts and bruises. It appeared unlikely there were any fractures. The other seven who were injured apparently received lesser injuries.

Cancer Operations

Three tell their tales without any vocal cords

In one of the most quietly dramatic presentations given before the Westmount Rotary Club in recent months, three former cancer patients and their doctor told how the disease and its effects had been overcome.

The three men are Gordon McSweeney of 6955 Fielding avenue, N.D.G., J. H. Harold, Q.C., of 5613 Queen Mary Road, Hampstead, and Ronald Clayton, of 790 Melrose avenue, Verdun.

Each one of them spoke — in spite of the fact that one had recovered from vocal cord cancer no less than six times, one had no vocal cords, and the third had part of one left.

The message given by their doctor, Arnold Grossman, FRCS, was simple in regard to cancer: "Don't procrastinate." He is an assistant otolaryngologist at the Montreal General Hospital.

"I wish to emphasize," Doctor Grossman said, "that there is as yet no cure for cancer. However, never before in history have we ever been closer to one. The tremendous funds being poured forth from every source, the research work which is being put into it seven days a week right around the clock is bringing us closer every day.

Mr. McSweeney, he said, had one vocal cord left because he had had an appointment made for him by his wife. She had noticed his voice going hoarse — and he said there was nothing wrong.

He went into the hospital Friday, was operated on Monday, and "would not have been gracing this dinner table today if there had waited much longer."

The point of the entire panel was to emphasize the importance of facing up to the fact of cancer, doing something about it, and learning to live with the effects of it in a healthy manner.

Mr. Clayton was described by the doctor as being like no other case in the world, and worthy of the George Medal for bravery.

"He has faced cancer not once, gentlemen, nor twice, which alone would place him in ranks of the unusual, but no less than six times."

"He didn't run away from the disease. He wasn't happy about it — he was scared stiff, and with good reason for being so. But he faced up to it, and he is alive today."

The first question asked of the men was how they managed to speak without vocal cords. Mr. Harold answered this one.

"We learned to use new muscles, to take air into our stomachs, to bounce air into our mouths, and to control the flow and use of that air. You are trained to do that."

Chamber of Commerce bids for freedom By Pierre Berton

I HAVE BEEN READING, with considerable enjoyment and many a chuckle, a trade union pamphlet titled Operation Freedom, which is hot off the presses. The sponsor is the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, a trade union for businessmen, which has launched an all-out campaign to make Canadians "fall in love again with freedom and to become aware of the dangers which threaten to destroy the freedoms we now enjoy." The Chamber's intent, I gather, is to get those Reds out of government and return to the good, old untrammelled days when every man was free to do exactly what he liked as long as he was boss.

There hasn't been such a campaign since those immediate post-war years when the business world mounted an all-out attack against that wicked thing known as "planning," which was also supposed to curtail freedom. Tycoons who wouldn't think of putting up a head office without hiring an architect to plan it, and insurance executives whose advertisements stressed the idea of personal planning for the future, made speeches belaboring the idea of a government planning as a step to totalitarianism. Since then, however, "planning" has become an okay word and, since E. P. Taylor himself last year openly suggested more government planning, there has had to be a shift in semantics.

The Chamber has now discovered that the country is on the brink of dictatorship what with all this social welfare legislation and those nasty laws that restrict an individual's freedom to make all the money he wants. So it has sounded the clarion and every freedom-loving Canadian is being asked to help the Chamber's members to get their freedom back again. ("Communist cells, Communist newspapers and Communist agents are working harder than ever...")

Anyone who bats the word "freedom" about, as if it were a ping-pong ball, is on marshy ground, since its definition has grown slightly fuzzy over the years. The "Free World," which is a favorite Chamber of Commerce phrase, has sometimes included such admirable exponents of individual liberties as Senors Peron, Batista and Trujillo and it still numbers in its ranks those well-known Jeffersonian democrats, the Generalissimos Franco, Salazar and Chiang Kai-shek. Everybody on our side is officially Free, including those that are in jail.

Freedom from taxes

The Chamber, however, has tried to explain what it means by freedom.

"As governments expand their operations in the field of social welfare, as the tax burden becomes more crushing, and as more and more Canadians look to government for assistance in a variety of ways, the will to resist such government largesse becomes weaker and weaker. Legislation which controls and restricts the freedom of the individual meets with less and less resistance."

In short, the chamber wants freedom from taxes, freedom from the necessity of paying pensions, relief, family and mothers' allowances and, no doubt, freedom from national health insurance. It wants to get back to the free, old days when a handout was a handout and not a human right, and it made you feel good all unsafe. All these traditional freedoms have been swept away by what the Chamber calls "government interference."

"The Chamber's concern is that any loss of freedom is a personal loss to each and every Canadian, and the cumulative effect will be a less-prosperous and less-free Canada," according to a recent News Letter. This old, plaintive cry has been heard in the land ever since that terrible day when the graduated income tax became a reality and condemned us all to serfdom.

Freedom from worry

But the Chamber is worried because so many people don't seem to understand that they are slaves.

Old people, for instance, who used to feel shackled in the prison of the Workhouse, keep insisting that the old age pension actually allows them freedom to rent a small room of their own and even to eat the occasional square meal and go for a nice streetcar ride.

Those families who have been financially broken by unexpected medical bills have difficulty understanding that a system of national health insurance would somehow make them less free. They appear convinced that it would, instead, give them that Fifth Freedom which Norman Rockwell didn't get around to painting — Freedom From Worry.

Industrial workers, who no longer find themselves chained to machines from dawn to dusk, continue to feel freer as the work week decreases and some even have achieved the same freedom to visit Florida that is enjoyed by the Chamber's members.

WE SAY YOU SAY

Make up your mind, Mayor Drapeau

ON which side of the fence is Jean Drapeau trying to take a stand?

Montreal's move for power to retain all municipal sales tax proceeds collected within its territory is still hanging in the balance.

Spokesmen for 13 of the 14 suburban municipalities which stand to lose an estimated $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 a year are emphatically opposing the bill being debated in Quebec City.

And in the meantime, Drapeau has the nerve to stand up and say that the two per cent sales tax is a "subvention" or a "gift."

Webster's dictionary describes a gift as anything which is "voluntarily transferred by one person to another, without compensation."

On the other hand "subvention" is explained as money granted as by a government in support of a study, institution, or undertaking — a subsidy.

Come, come, Mr. Drapeau. Which word are you going to use?

It's about time Westmount, and the other municipalities on this island, built up an attack to give Drapeau a severe wrap on the knuckles, and put him in his place.

Montreal should be made to relinquish its right to impose the tax in the suburbs, and keep it only in the city proper.

Are Westmounters going to sit back and say "thank you" to Mayor Drapeau for his "gift" or use a strong expletive.

Letter requests pedestrian lights

How many more traffic accidents must occur at the intersection of Sherbrooke and Victoria before we come to our senses and realize how vital it is that pedestrian lights be installed in this area?

With vehicular traffic (particularly buses), proceeding in a myriad of directions at Sherbrooke and Victoria, the average pedestrian needs eyes on the back of his head and a pair of fast feet in order to cross safely from one corner to another. Please note I have only mentioned the average pedestrian, how elderly people manage to cross this intersection is beyond me. For some it is a case of sheer luck, for others it is a tragedy as was the case of an elderly woman just a few days ago.

My suggestion for the solution of this problem is the immediate installation of pedestrian lights (the type of lights that "freeze" vehicular traffic at all four corners), thereby giving the pedestrian the complete right-of-way during the "Walk" signal. This particular system of "freezing traffic" is in operation and is successful in other cities in Canada and the United States, and I see no reason why it cannot be put to use in the City of Westmount.

BY THE WAY

TO compensate us for the retiring habits of the Loch Ness Monster there is a report that an extinct bird has been seen in Australia. It is the noisy scrub-bird or atrichornis clamosa. Ornithologists were puzzled by its habit of flying sideways, until Feltz discovered that it does this to cool its ears, like the nospaca of Venezuela, which has the longest nose in the bird-world. It lays its green eggs on cows' backs and lives on scrub-flies. No wonder.

I only want to help

HARDLY had an expert announced that mice are far more intelligent than people think, when a Norfolk farmer, who had trouble with his car, discovered that mice had filled the air intake of the engine with acorns, thus reducing its speed. Why not have specially trained police mice and stockpiles of acorns at every car park to discourage speed maniacs?

I SAY

Then there's the one about the extra on the television set who was required to go out and put ketchup on a "shooting victim". But he found to his horror he was on camera — caught in the act. "Wow!" his friend exclaimed later. "What did you do?" "What could I do?" the extra said. "I ate him!"

Traveller's photography to be seen at Unity Club

by MAURICE MARIASINE

Geoffrey Knowles, a volunteer worker at the Unity Boys' Club, has returned from a trip abroad and plans to give an account of his experiences to members of Unity's travel club.

The inaugural meeting takes place at the club on Friday, March 16 at 7:00 p.m.

Mr. Knowles will also show films of some of the countries he visited and discussions will follow.

The following members have enrolled in the Travel Club:

Bruce Norris, Robert Vaux, Geraldine Galley, Sharon Crothers, Cheryl Hogan, John Walker, Sylvia McManus, John Galley, Lise Boulanger, Ann Marie Williams, Marlene Doherty, Susan Warren, Marie Gallant, Robert Johnston, Gordon Norris.

A newcomer, Lori Rider, has volunteered her services to instruct a group of boys and girls in first aid. The class will be for the junior age category and will take place every Tuesday evening. Those interested are asked to register with Mr. McCormack.

House league

The tenth annual spring basketball house league will get underway as soon as teams are formed. Four captains have been appointed. They are: Keith Gavin, Kenneth Annable, Richard Cessford and John McDonough. It is expected that the league will start April 1.

As has been the custom for the last several years, the club will hold a St. Patrick's Day dance. The date set is Friday, March 16, time is 8:30 p.m.

Special plans for the evening are being completed by Chuck Tyler, and his committee.

The ladies' auxiliary of the club will hold their annual military whist next Monday starting at 8:00 p.m. Prizes are available.

There's still room for a few more boys to take part in Friday night's physical fitness classes. The classes start at 7:00 p.m. and are open to any boy eight years of age and over.

Unity's athletes are getting in condition for the annual track and field meet which takes place at the Westmount Athletic Grounds on Saturday, May 26.

Choral group to present concert of 'Springsong '62'

On Saturday, March 17 the McGill Choral Society will present its seventeenth annual spring concert, "Springsong '62", in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium (475 Pine Avenue West) at 8:15 p.m.

Under the direction of Gifford Mitchell and accompanied by William Stevens, the society will sing, for St. Patrick's Day, a group of old Irish ballads entitled 'Erin Go Bragh' (Ireland Forever); Charles Stanford's stirring 'Songs of the Set', in which the soloist will be the distinguished Canadian baritone, Jan Simons, and several negro spirituals and songs from Broadway.

The society's select 'choir within a choir', the Martlets, will also perform two groups of folk-songs, and highlighting the evening will be a 'sing along' session, when the audience will be invited to join the society in several Irish 'old-favorites'.

Tickets, at $1.50 (or $1.00, for groups of 15 or more), are now available at the Students' Union box office, 690 Sherbrooke west (Avenue 8-2062), and at the International Music Store, can be obtained at the door, or direct from Ian Rayside, at 468 Strathcona avenue (WE. 7-2404).

since 1945, is also conductor of the Montreal Elgar Choir, and William Stevens, who has accompanied the society for the last six years, recently returned from a highly successful debut at New York's Carnegie Hall. Jan Simons, guest artist for "Springsong '62", has already established a considerable reputation on both sides of the Atlantic, with recitals throughout Canada as well as at London's Wigmore Hall.

Apart from its twice-yearly concerts in the city, the society has produced four records and made numerous broadcasts, as well as performing in Ottawa and on the Lakeshore. An audience of over 2,000 gathered to hear the society's "Sing at Christmas" concert last December, and there is every sign that "Springsong '62" will keep up the high standard that an increasing number of Montrealers have come to expect from the McGill Choral Society.

Largest club

The choral society is the largest active voluntary club on McGill campus, with (at full strength) nearly 250 members, drawn from all faculties and forming a representative cross-section of the many nationalities at the university.

Orange coats and cameras unique here

Years ago, the latest thing in police work was a two-way radio car. Through those years, police departments have added many things now considered indispensable.

Perhaps the most forward-looking police department around our town is the Westmount Police. In addition to being all the things a policeman has to be anyway, such as midwife, traffic director, investigator, athlete, counsellor for young people and marriages, and father confessor, Westmount Police have added two more things: quick-change artist and photographer.

Most spectacular of the two is the force's adoption of "screaming orange" slickers. This came about because of the constant injuries and narrow escapes suffered by police officers directing traffic during times when light conditions are at a minimum.

Motorists brought into court on charges of hitting policemen with their cars constantly pleaded that they couldn't see the officers, even on bright days. Hockey night got to be a nightmare for the traffic directors. Compensation was being paid heavily. Families got to be worried.

The situation has come to an end with the action of Westmount city manager's approval on trial of the coats. They are black on one side for routine duty and luminous orange on the other for fog, dusk and night duty. Injuries have already dropped to nil.

Each cruiser is now equipped with a flash camera so that on the spot shots of vital details of accidents, fires, and other events can be got by attending officers.

"Not only is a picture worth a thousand words," said Chief Edward C. Harper of the Westmount Police, "but an immediate photo can capture vital details that would otherwise be lost or become the subject of long and costly litigation."

The photography was started in the fall.

School will supply favors for all.
Each class has planned and is constructing a booth for the Carnival.

Chamber of . . .

has launched this vaet campaign to teach us that we are moving "toward a rigid system of government ownership and control which deprives individual Canadians of the full benefits of a free economy." Schools, newspapers, radio and TV stations have already been bombed by the toesin warnings, symbolized by a drawing of a bird in a cage to underline the slogan that "Canadians aren't canaries." Indeed, we are told, that to put Operation Freedom across, the organization has signed up every one of its 2,700 company members and 850 local boards of trade, using all means of communication from bulletin board to television.
Which serves to show, if nothing else, that the once-abused idea of Planning is back again in style.

Mechanics' Institute shows membership increase

Norman English, executive vice-president of Vapor Heating Limited, was elected president of the Mechanics' Institute at the annual meeting held on Monday.

Mr. English succeeds E. A. Thorne, who retires after holding the office for seven consecutive years and who remains on the General Committee as past president.

In his annual report to the members of the Institute, Mr. Thorne stressed the increased activity in every department. Capacity audiences had attended the film showings and increased interest was noted in the music appreciation concerts and medical forums. These programs are held weekly during the winter season and are open to the public free-of-charge.

Mr. Thorne expressed gratitude to the Quebec Division of the Canadian Medical Association which had been responsible for arranging the medical symposium. Acknowledgment was made of the grant of $1,000 received from the Government of the Province of Quebec for the work of the library.

Membership increase

The Librarian, Miss Sybil Grimson, reported there were now 55,298 books in the library. There had been a gratifying increase of 8.4% in membership from all parts of the city and suburbs.

The books in the circulating library include the current best sellers in fiction and non-fiction, as well as books on a great variety of subjects. The theme for Canadian Library Week is "Reading is the Key" and a glance at the titles most frequently circulated shows that it is the key to knowledge.

Local boast bilingual school

The Alumni Association of the Pointe-aux-Trembles School (L'Institut Francais Evangelique) is about to launch a campaign to raise $250,000, described as a "Loan of Honor Fund."

Many prominent Westmount residents are members of the honorary campaign committee. They include George W. Bourke, 774 Lansdowne avenue; H. Roy Crabtree, 615 Belmont; Mrs. Norman Holland, 3749 The Boulevard; Arthur C. Jensen, 703 Grosvenor avenue; W. E. McLaughlin, 67 Sunny-side; and Arthur H. Webster, 621 Victoria avenue.

The association, now in its 75th year, seeks to help an increasing number of promising and deserving students on graduation. Funds which have been available for this purpose are now exhausted. School officials say eight to 10 students will be forced to finish their education before graduation unless help is available.

The school is a bilingual non-sectarian school operated under the auspices of the United Church of Canada's Board of Home Missions.

Enrolment in the school was once exclusively French Protestant. Today it is mixed, and co-educational, and admits those of all faiths, including Anglicans, Presbyterians, Baptists, Pentecostals, United Church members and some Roman Catholics.

The school serves especially frontier areas and remote villages where French Protestants find it difficult to discover a school where both French and English are taught equally.

but also to adventure and escape. The reference and reading rooms were used for study by over 12,000 people during the year.

In addition to the president, officers elected for the ensuing year were E. S. Booth, vice-president; W. A. Eversfield, treasurer and R. T. James, secretary.

Elected to the General Committee of Management for a two-year term were Dr. A. A. Bramley-Moore, R. B. Caldwell, J. H. McCulloch, R. S. Robson and W. J. Sheridan. Also serving on this committee are O. S. Brooks, J. McN. Charlebois, J. W. Duffie, Melvin Geddes, Norman Gregory and past president, E. A. Thorne.

JEPILO CAMP FOR BOYS

ON THE SHORES OF ENCHANTING LAKE NOMINGUE, in LABELLE COUNTY, about 150 miles north of Montreal. An ideal site, at the foot of the camp, a sandy 1000 foot beach, in the back and all around it a mountain at the disposal of campers for excursions and camping. A 600 acre domain planned and organized for the pleasure, welfare and security of young campers. Jepilo includes: a main building, planned especially for JEPILO, including quarters, for management and senior personnel, a large hall capable of seating 500 persons used as a chapel and movie hall, a large recreation hall for rainy days, and a library for the campers. A wing houses the kitchens and a modern and attractive cafeteria. All around the main building, not tents but well built and heated huts used as living quarters by campers in groups of 10. A clean and well organized infirmary.

JEPILO'S management has taken steps to have competent and qualified personnel. In charge of the camp, Arthur Shedy, B.E.P., professor in charge of athletics at the University of Ottawa.

In charge of each particular activity, a physical education trained specialist.

For each 10 campers grouped by age, a monitor selected among University students for his moral value and leader's qualities, on duty 24 hours a day.

For Roman Catholic campers, a priest resides at the camp. For English speaking campers, a professor of French and vice versa. A registered nurse residing at the camp, looks after the infirmary. Two doctors are available on request and for emergency.

FOOD A well trained chef: a cafeteria with varied and appetizing menus: pasteurized milk in quantity at all meals.

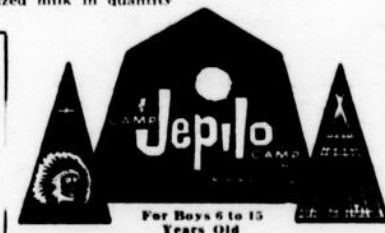

LIFE AT CAMP

Under the leadership of monitors and senior leaders as well as specialists, campers participate daily in various activities. They thus learn to enjoy nature, to familiarize themselves with different artistic activities and to practice a variety of sports.

WA presents cheque to Verdun Hospital

A cheque for $4,000 was presented to the hospital at the annual meeting of the 2 year old Auxiliary by the President, Mrs. E. R. Alexander 716 Upper Roslyn avenue. This brings the total donation during 1961 to $6,700, which will be used for hospital furnishing and clothing. Over 200 volunteers operate a snack bar and clothing shop, do typing and driving, and sponsor forgotten patients, and at Christmas time distributed more than 4,000 gifts to patients, through the committee headed by Mrs. S. A. MacSween, 6216 Monkland avenue.

Officers elected for 1962 are:

Honorary president, Mrs. Alexander Hutchison, 4294 Montrose avenue; president, Mrs. E. R. Alexander, 716 Upper Roslyn avenue; vice-presidents, Mrs. E. D. Gordon, 4321 Montrose avenue, Mrs. Henry Lewin, 5007 Grosvenor; treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Clark, 477 Lansdowne; recording secretary, Mrs. L. F. McRobie, 3832 Marlowe; corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. C. Darling, 68 Aberdeen.

In Greek mythology, Astraea, goddess of justice, fled from earth when men grew wicked.

PRESENTING CHEQUE: Mrs. H. P. Davidson, president of The Montreal Children's Hospital Women's Auxiliary is shown presenting cheque for $24,000 to Dr. R. F. Ingram, executive director

Personal*

The PRAF Study Group met recently at the home of Mrs. J. H. Thomson. Mrs. Frank D. Lindsay presided at the tea table. Others present were: Mrs. J. W. Elcome, Mrs. R. P. I. Morton, Miss Amy Riel, Mrs. Campbell W. Thompson and Mrs. Robert B. Tudor.

Guests who will be attending the concert of "The Alumni Singers of Bishop's University" under the direction of Malcolm Smith, B.A., M.Mus., given by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital will be: Prof. and Mrs. Douglas Burns Clarke, Mrs. J. London, Mrs. A. W. Gordon, Mrs. E. D. Johnson, Mrs. J. W. Wightman and Mrs. P. Pugsley.

Mrs. A. W. Myers, president of The Women's Auxiliary of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital of Montreal will preside at the monthly meeting to be held in the Auditorium of the Nurses' Residence, Northcliffe avenue, on Wednesday, March 21 at 2 p.m.

Tea convener, Mrs. L. M. Pethick will be assisted at the tea table by Mrs. Ward Brown and Mrs. A. W. LeMesurier.

*Heather Ladies
plan bonspiel*

The Heather Ladies' Curling Club will entertain at luncheon and curling and afternoon tea at an All Day Friendly Bonspiel on March 21. The following twenty rinks have been invited to participate, St. Saveur, Bel-Aire, Chanteclere, Rosemere, Lachute, St. Johns, Vankleek Hill, Ormstown, Montebello, Hawkesbury, Montreal West, Royal Montreal, Ste. Anne's, Caledonia, Pte. Claire, Town of Mt. Royal, Baie d'Urfé, St. Lambert, Glenmore and Hudson.

The President, Mrs. G. L. Knox will receive the guests, Mrs. H. A. Dale will be in charge of curling. The conveners will be Mrs.

Mtl. Children Hospital receives $24,000 from WA

Mrs. H. P. Davidson, 528a Grosvenor avenue, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Montreal Children's Hospital presented the hospital with cheques for $23,000, plus a $1,000 contribution to the de Belle Memorial Fund. Presentation was made at the group's annual meeting held recently.

The total included $15,000, presented to Dr. Robert F. Ingram, executive director of the hospital, to be used at his discretion for equipment, and any special purpose where other monies are not available; $4,000 to Dr. Alan Ross, physician-in-chief, to be used by the department of medicine; and $4,000 to Dr. David R. Murphy, surgeon-in-chief, to be used by the department of surgery.

Contribution to the Belle Memorial Fund, is to be used for the new biochemical medical genetics laboratory.

Mrs. Davidson reported supplementary financial support has been given towards the staff of the cloakroom in the out-patient department and to the taxi fund.

Money was raised at various projects. The Nearly New Shop, the Tiny Tim Toy Shop and the Snack Bar raised $25,500; The Tiny Tim Christmas Fund Appeal brought $4,775 to the auxiliary. (The auxiliary does the office work for this appeal, sponsored by CFCF radio and Channel 12 television, and receives 15 per cent of the proceeds). Last year's spring rummage sales realized $292.

The auxiliary provides volunteer services in any area where needed. Of the 239 active members, 90 per cent are giving at least one-half day per week to hospital work or auxiliary projects. Many of the 139 sustaining members are continuing to give their active volunteer work, it was reported.

H. H. Remine and Mrs. E. G. W. Allwood. Afternoon tea will be poured by two Honorary Members, Mrs. R. W. Johnston and Mrs. A. Wood.

The Nearly New Shop, Tiny Tim Toy Shop and Snack Bar occupied the time of the majority, Mrs. Davidson said. However, 32 members were directly connected with hospital work in various clinics, wards, offices and with the Visitors' Aide Group.

The Hospital Needs and Sewing Groups made 80 pairs of new drapes for the wards, in addition to baby jackets and nightgowns, she said. Several outside groups, the Cygnet Club, Mu Sigma Kappa Sewing Group and the Fashion Arts Academy continue to sew for the hospital with material provided by the Auxiliary.

The Hospital Tours Committee conducted 19 tours during the year when 174 adults and 391 children toured the building. In the past four years since they were started, almost 2,000 people have been personally conducted through the hospital by members of the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Davidson pointed out.

Mrs. J. L. McLellan, chairman of the Snack Bar, reported

Dear Abby...

He causes knitted brows!

By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The boy behind me in Freshman English brings a knitting bag to school and knits in class! He appears to be normal in every respect, but how can this be? At first everyone giggled and made remarks, but now nobody pays any attention to it. He is very good-looking, clean-cut and polite, but a little on the effeminate side. I would really like to get to know him better but my dorm sisters tell me there must be something wrong with him. Can a boy be normal and knit in public?

ON THE LEVEL

DEAR ON: He certainly can. And any male who knits in public is obviously masculine enough to defend himself.

DEAR ABBY: My problems are my two sons, 8 and 11. I can't take them anywhere because of the way they act. They are forever fighting with each other. I've had friends and relatives tell me please if I come over to leave the boys home. My neighbors chase them out of their yards and don't want their children playing with mine. My boys are human, Abby, and it hurts me to see them treated this way. Sometimes I feel like knocking their heads off but I have never hit them and it's too late to start now. What should I do?

MRS. Z.

DEAR MRS. Z.: Unfortunately, your sons are paying the price for what you failed to teach them years ago. Help them by explaining that unless they control their tempers and learn to get along with each other (and others) they will have no friends and will never be welcome anywhere. Keep them apart until they learn you mean business. And keep them home until they shape up.

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and my boy friend is 21. We have gone together two years and had planned our wedding for March 25th. Last Saturday "we" (it was his idea) decided to postpone it indefinitely. He says "we don't have enough money." We both have good jobs and I intended to continue working after our marriage. He says he still loves me and there is nobody else, but he thinks we should both date others to "be sure". I have "been sure" for over a year. I can't understand the sudden change. All the plans have been made and I am deeply hurt. What do you think?

CONFUSED AND HURT

DEAR CONFUSED: I think you are lucky. Your boy friend obviously is not ready for marriage. What a break to find it out BEFORE the wedding! Date others. You might meet someone who is better suited to you. Or, in the meantime, this one might grow up.

Coming Events

CONCERT: The WA of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital will present a concert featuring "The Alumni Singers of Bishop's University" in the auditorium of the nurses residence, 2085 Northcliffe avenue on Tuesday, March 20 at 8 p.m. Convener Mrs. Claude Thompson. Tickets available by calling 482-2109 or RE. 3-8766.

SPRING FLING: The Intermediate Genesians are holding a dance, the third annual "Spring Fling" on Saturday, March 17 at 8:30 p.m. in Victoria Hall. Music by John Brennan. Also on that date a St. Patrick's party for the Mi-G group of the Genesians at 2 p.m. at 1018 Mount Royal Place. Young people aged 12 to 15 are invited to attend.

STAG DANCE: Cum Laude Chapter Number 548 B'nai B'rith Business and Professional Girls' group will hold "The Queen Esther Ball" in honor of "Purim" on Sunday, March 18, 8:30 p.m. at the Windsor Hotel. Dancing to Lenny Rubin and his orchestra. Door prizes, refreshments. Social chairman Miss Shirley Feldman.

FASHION SHOW: The Karnak Ladies' Club is sponsoring a Fashion Show on March 22 at 3 p.m. and at 8 p.m. Proceeds from the show will be used in aid of the club's work for the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children. For further information and tickets call Mrs. W. E. Montgomery, RE. 8-4430.

SPRING BRIDGE: The Westmount Women's Club is holding its Annual Spring Bridge in Victoria Hall, Friday, March 16, at 1 p.m. Convener Mrs. W. D. Lambie and ticket convener, Mrs. H. M. Soden.

A Firm Foundation

Just stand like a tree
 With your face to the sun,
 As noble, and strong as the tree,
 Brave the winds
 Beat the storms,
 When fear stabs your soul,
 Do not flee.
 The strong winds may blow
 And the storms linger late,
 Like a tree in the strength
 Of your power,
 You may bend, but not break,
 With your roots grounded safe,
 A conquerer, — never to cower.

CASHWORD

Clues to Cashword Explained

ACROSS

1. PARADOX is better. Regardless of evidence, some people may belittle a PARADOX, for the apparent contradiction may make them unwilling to accept it as true. PARAGON is uncertain; anything exemplary may be accepted by everyone.

3. FALL, yes. Students who FALL in their grades may expect to be lectured, for their earlier higher marks will have proved they can do better. Students who FAIL may be considered incapable of improvement.

6. BET is wanted. An impetuous person may get himself into a ridiculous BET, as when he may rashly accept such a challenge without thought. Even a deliberate individual can get into a PET, or fit of temper, if provoked. NET and SET are remote.

7. COFFEE is favored. A man who ships COFFEE is likely to be doing it in connection with a business transaction involving a large amount of the commodity and he would want to insure it against loss. A COFFER, or chest, may contain little of value to justify the expense of insurance.

8. MITTEN, yes. When a lost MITTEN is found, it may have a bedraggled look, as when it may have been kicked around on the ground. A KITTEN is likely to wash itself clean if it becomes dirty.

11. ROSE is the choice. The color of a ROSE may persuade one to buy it if one considers the shade especially beautiful. Style, size and price may have more to do with choosing a ROBE than color. ROPE is remote.

15. SLENDER, to be sure. A man may tell a story that is SLENDER, as to offer a weak justification for his misdeed. SLANDER is not favored; one would have to know more about the situation to decide that the blame could be shifted to an innocent individual.

17. GRIP is selected. A man may lose his GRIP under pressure, for the forces working against him may be too great to withstand. If he keeps his GRIP, he might keep his GRIN, for he could enjoy the challenge. If a man has GRIT, it is likely to be exhibited rather than lost under pressure.

20. SHELTER is best. On a summer's day, a SHELTER may prove uncomfortable, for it may cut off any stray breeze and become stifling. "May" is weak with SWELTER; sultry heat would certainly be uncomfortable. A SMELTER, or smelting establishment, may be uncomfortably warm winter or summer.

21. SLY is preferred. It may be difficult to establish mutual understanding with a person who is SLY, for he may judge others by himself and mistrust any friendly advances. A SHY individual may not be able to make any overtures, but may welcome friendly advances.

DOWN

1. PACKETS is chosen. A man who PACKETS a fragile ornament carelessly may run the risk of having it break, for it would be wrapped for the purpose of moving it elsewhere and could be jarred in transit. A man who POKETS it carelessly may just be taking it from one room to another.

2. REFUTES is better. Parents may be upset if a boy REFUTES correction, for such arguments could result in endless wrangling. If he REFUSES correction, as to persist in misbehavior, they are more likely to become desperate than merely upset.

3. FETTERING is preferred. A dancer may worry if he finds an injury FETTERING, or restraining; it could keep him from performing. FESTERING is less likely; a very minor injury could become inflamed without affecting his performance.

5. LIEN is to the point. It is while a circus is on the road that the owner will have a chance to collect enough revenue to get rid of a LIEN. He might have trouble getting rid of a LION in winter quarters as well if nobody wants the animal.

10. HATLESS is favored because a flash fire would give the owner of a house little time to get out and he is not likely to stop for his hat. One would have to know more about the cause of the fire to determine that the owner is HAPLESS, or unlucky; it may have been due to negligence rather than misfortune.

13. HINGED is better. A door may stick if it hasn't been HINGED properly, for if out of line, this could allow the door to catch at some point as it closes. If it hasn't been HANGED properly, as to be properly fitted, it may not close at all.

14. KIN is selected. Loud KIN may be disliked by a conservative person, for she may consider them a social liability. She may admire a loud pin on someone else, but choose something quieter for herself. Loud is redundant with DIN.

16. REEL is wanted. A REEL may worry a woman who is preparing to receive guests, for such an attack of giddiness could be a symptom of illness. A REEK, or vapor, could merely indicate that a certain food is being prepared. REED and REEF are remote.

18. RUNS, to be sure. RUNS, or ravel in her hose, may drive a woman to exasperation, as when they may happen far more frequently than she likes. RUES, or dis-appointments, may sadden rather than exasperate her. RUGS is vague. RUMS is remote.

SERVING IN SO MANY WAYS

The Red Cross Looks to You

The humanitarian achievements of the Red Cross depend on your generosity. Your dollars provide and carry on the essential Red Cross services and programmes in your community. This year—think of the many ways the Red Cross serves you and your neighbour—then plan your donation or pledge to the best of your means. A generous donation will do so much for so many in 1962.

Red Cross Needs Your Help Now

MRS. HAROLD H. CUMMINGS, co-chairman of Patrons for the Israeli Fantasy Ball to be held on March 31, in the Grand Salon of the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, sponsored by Montreal Women's ORT.

Local woman elected head of Red Cross fund drive

Mrs. B. D. Russell, 50 Forden Crescent, Westmount has accepted to be president of the Red Cross fund drive in her community and is appealing for canvassers. "I know that the work of the Red Cross is well known in our community," says Mrs. Russell, "and I know that people want to help by contributing money to the financial campaign. But we need people to collect this money from door to door or otherwise contributions will never reach the Red Cross." Mrs. Russell said that the work of the Red Cross is not confined to one service but to many humanitarian endeavors which, in case of emergency, can reach across the street, across the community, or across the world.

"We have sent medical teams to Morocco as well as to the Congo during the past two years," said Mrs. Russell, "and our international help has been made possible through special funds which are by now almost completely exhausted. Only 4% of the money subscribed in Canada was used to support the Red Cross international services."

Mrs. Russell explained that the blood service is the most costly of them all but perhaps one of the most indispensable. "Hospitals require more blood than ever," she said. "Last year the Red Cross supplied 145,000 pints of blood to hospitals of Western Quebec. This is an increase of 37%, but our campaign objective has been raised from $670,000 to $1,017,000, which represents an increase of about 24%."

"We need more blood because the new hospitalization plan makes surgery available to everyone, because blood is used more and more for surgery, because the population is growing fast and, also, because the Red Cross has undertaken to supply blood not only in Western Quebec but to the entire province."

Mrs. Russell said that money raised during the fund drive will be used to maintain and expand other services: Disaster Services, Red Cross Corps, Nursing Services, Outpost Stations, Water Safety, Veterans Services, Junior Red Cross, Women's work.

Anyone interested in helping Mrs. Russell during the fund drive, which will be held from March 24 to April 7, should contact the Red Cross at WE. 7-7761. The name, address and telephone number of the volunteer will be relayed to Mrs. Russell.

INTRODUCING the new O'Keefe label. Nobody, but nobody, changed our mild, natural flavour.

Leopard cubs and trainer

Sport show opens today

Three baby leopards from Granby Zoo will be making a trip to Montreal for the opening of the Montreal Sportsman's and Motor Boat Show today.

The cubs are the six months old children of Diane, named for the famous hurricane which was raging when the leopard was acquired by the Zoo. Mother will accompany the kittens for their stay at the Montreal Show Mart.

Display attractions

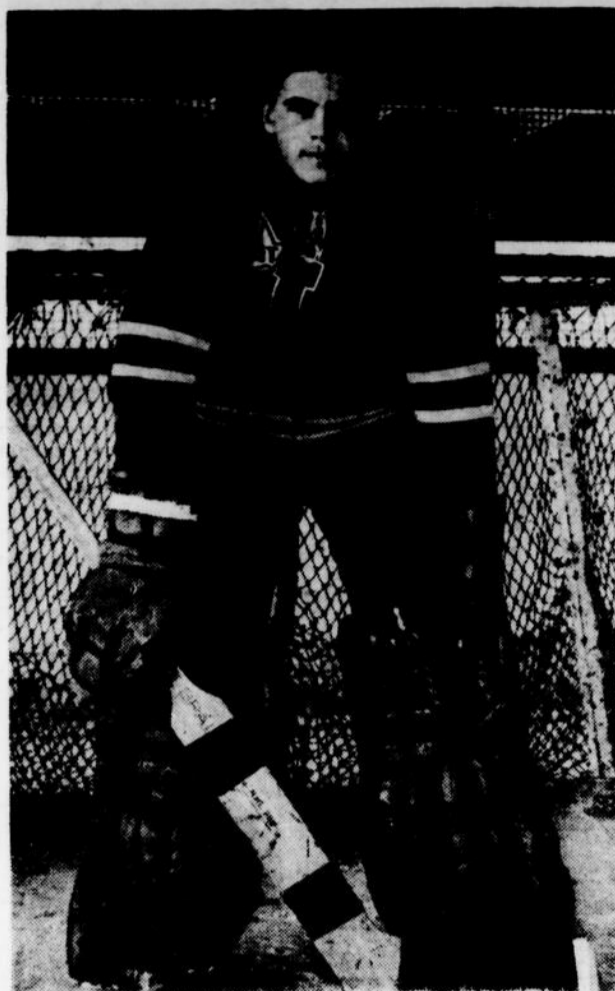

Diversified displays of boats, motorboats, hunting and fishing and camping equipment, aquariums, a fishing pond and stage acts will be amongst the attractions to be seen during the 10 day period. Net proceeds derived from the eighteenth annual show will be used to intensify this year's programme of Conservation through Education, which is the theme of the co-sponsors, the Quebec Federation of Fish and Game Associations and the Montreal Anglers & Hunters Inc.

Fishing contests

The Quebec fly and bait casting and spinning championships will again be decided at the show on Saturday, March 24, at 9:00 a.m.

A rare pair of storks will also be here in time for the opening. Another attraction from the Granby Zoo, the birds were a gift to that institution from a zoo at Basle, Switzerland. They have never before been shown in Montreal.

Other exotic birds to be seen during the Show's 10-day run include flamingoes, crested cranes, parrots, and peacocks of unusual hue, says Gilles Charbonneau, managing director of the Granby Zoo.

Peter Rassenti named St. Leo's top athlete

The Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Lapointe Trophy, given annually to the top athlete at St. Leo's Academy, 360 Clarke avenue, Westmount, was awarded this year to 16-year-old Peter Rassenti, a fourth year high student.

Peter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Rassenti, 4570 Tremholme avenue, N.D.G., has recently completed a fine season as goaler with the St. Leo's senior hockey squad, in the Greater Montreal Interscholastic Hockey League.

He is also the school's senior tennis champion. His title winning feat is all the more remarkable, considering that last year was his first season at the sport, for which he quickly showed plenty of natural talent.

Away from school, he is well known in local hockey circles.

N.D.G.

Monarchs

Peter had a successful season as net-minder of the powerful N.D.G. Monarchs outfit in the Metropolitan Juvenile Special league, leading the goalers averages for many weeks. His contribution to the Monarchs winning ways, giving them the top stop in the regular league standings, did not go unnoticed by his teammates. The team have now fought their way into the playoff final in the league, where they will meet the winners of a deciding game on Sunday between St. Laurent Jets and Mount Royal.

The likeable young sportsman hopes to go on with his hockey into higher and more senior leagues.

Perfect score in crib game

E. K. Cameron of Notre Dame de Grace, and a member of the Westmount Police Association won the Molson's Cribbage Trophy last week. He had a score of 917 for seven games — what it known in the world of cribbage a perfect score.

The games were held as the latest of what has become an annual event by the Westmount Police, at the Sergeant's Mess of the Royal Montreal Regiment.

Termites make City history

Bulldogs win overtime thriller

History was made in the Westmount Municipal Hockey Termite Leagues this week when Regals and Bulldogs met in a sudden death elimination playoff game at the Artificial Ice Rink.

At the end of the regular three periods, the game was scoreless, and officials decreed that overtime would be played.

From then in, the game took four overtime sessions before Bulldogs were able to drag themselves wearily into the semi-finals.

First marker

At the end of the second extra period, the scoresheet was still unmarked, but three minutes later Henry Cooper put Regals in the lead on a pass from David Tunis.

Bulldogs, true to their name, came straight back to enforce the tie again on a goal from Terry Stubbs, set up by Howard Goldman.

The fourth overtime period loomed, and officials decided to make it a sudden death affair, with the first team to score being declared winner.

Long shot

In the fourth minute, John Courtwright scored on a long shot, to put Bulldogs into the semi-finals. In this sphere, the tired outfit were eliminated 4-1 by the Rams.

In the other semi-final, Wings and Beavers played a scoreless draw after three overtime periods. They meet again this afternoon, at 5 p.m., to establish a winner to enter the final series against the Rams.

The first game of the final, to be played on a best two of three game series, will be played Saturday morning, starting at 9 a.m.

Guards lead

In the Pee Wee league, Broncs advanced to the playoff finals by eliminating Vics 3-1, to meet Guards, who had drawn a bye.

With the first game of the best of three final series played, Guards lead 1-0, after coming from behind to edge out Broncs 3-2. Tim Gasgrain netted twice, while Billy McJanet closed out the scoring for the winners. John Churcher and Paul Boucher scored for the Broncs.

The Midget finals will be decided on a two game, total point series between Spartans and Badgers. The first game will be played on Monday, March 19, at 7:30 p.m., and the second on Thursday, March 22, at 7:30 p.m.

Irish hold rugger dance

Montreal Irish Rugger Club, true to the shamrock as ever, will hold their St. Patrick's Eve Dance tomorrow night at the Officers Mess of the Maisonneuve Regiment, 175 Craig street west.

A spokesman for the Club's entertainment committee announced this week that "the cultural event of the Irish year approacheth, preceded by three flights round the world, the Quebec Carnival, and Pancake Tuesday."

"Last year's event was a trifle crowded," he went on, "something on the lines of the Montreal Traffic court, so come early. On the next day, skiers will see the hills in matching green and white at the same time. A rare event."

Admission to the dance is $1.50, and refreshments will be available. The festivities are scheduled to start at 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Skiers plan to help Heart Fund

Monday night, March 19, will be Heart Fund night on the ski runs of the O'Connell-Mont Gabriel ski resort in the Laurentians.

The moment the lights go on at 6:30 until the end of skiing the gross proceeds will go toward the funds being raised by the Quebec Heart Foundation whose goal this year is $265,000 minimum to finance medical research and an educational programme in the field of cardiovascular diseases. It is hoped that the public will take this opportunity to help the fund through enjoying some extra outdoor sport.
