LONDONDERRY SITUATION IS GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE SO BELFAST REPORTS STATE

Feared Derry May Speedily Become Mere Incident in a Much Larger Setting—Five Killed By Machine Gun Fire—Scenes of Terrible Description—Clash With Soldiers

London, June 24.—The position at Londonderry is going from bad to worse, according to the Belfast correspondent of the London Times who adds:

"The gravest aspect of the position is that Derry may speedily become a mere incident in a much larger setting. For three days rumors have stated that Sinn Feiners from the North West were concentrating for an attack upon the city—and it is not improbable."

"For the first time very large bodies of lawless elements in the city possess deadly weapons and plenty of ammunition; for the first time the whole city is involved and not merely a restricted area where the factions live; for the first time the principal victims have been inoffensive people who have been shot down not for political or sectarian reasons, but in wantonness. The lawless element over a wide area is being drawn into the conflict while those who have been held aloof from any battles are gradually but surely coming to the conclusion that they must take up weapons."

"The proceedings at Derry possess every element of civil war without any interference worthy of the name from the forces which the Government is supposed to control. The descent of Sinn Feiners en masse from the countryside, answered or preceded by a large movement in Ulster either of which seems possible at any time, will immediately precipitate matters in such a way that the military forces may be engulfed."

"Unionists are said to be pouring into the city bent on vengeance, but there is also an exodus of people from the city by road and train. It is reported that artillery has arrived."

In another despatch the Belfast correspondent of the London Times says it is stated on good authority that as soon as the necessary reinforcements have arrived Londonderry will be surrounded and disarmed. A destroyer entered Lough Foyle yesterday afternoon and took up a position off the city. Newly arrived troops were welcomed enthusiastically by the population.

The hospitals in Londonderry are filled with wounded, mainly sniping casualties. The newspaper staffs are besieged most of the day in their offices. Movement is comparatively safe in or two districts, but many of the residents in the worst area have had to leave their homes at the mercy of the mobs, and there has been some looting.

Machine-Gun Fire

Londonderry, June 23.—(By the Associated Press).—Five Sinn Feiners were killed by machine-gun fire employed to cover the removal of several Protestants from Barrack Street to-night, according to a military statement.

There is a lull now (10:3 p.m.) in the fighting.

Scenes of the most terrible description were enacted here last night and today. Many streets were swept by a murderous fire for sixteen hours continuously. One man was killed and ten dangerously wounded in one section of the city. Several bodies are reported to be lying in Bishop Street. Among the wounded was a young girl and those who suffered slight injuries cannot be estimated. Sniping was indulged in on a large scale and there was indiscriminate firing on rifles and revolvers all over the city. The principal conflict took place in Bishop Street, where there was a large concentration of Sinn Feiners in the neighborhood of St. Columba's Catholic College and Nazareth Home. Sand bags were thrown up from which a strong fire was directed, at the Unionists in Barrack Street.

There was a vigorous exchange of fire and many casualties resulted on both sides.

Meanwhile trouble had broken out on an extensive scale in the region of Long Tower Street and Bishop's Gate, where there were fierce and prolonged exchanges.

Sinn Feiners occupying positions on roofs sniped isolated Unionists. The soldiers and police were on duty but were unable to intervene effectively.

The police in Bishop Street barracks, within the battle zone were virtually besieged. Many passers-by were wounded, and it is reported some were killed, but it is absolutely impossible to get correct details. A constable named McKenna was killed at the corner of Henric Street, a few yards from his own door. A bullet struck his breast and he collapsed. A priest was summoned and while he administered the last rites firing was suspended.

Among today's casualties was an elderly man named Whiteside, who was accompanied by his son and daughter. They were passing through Bishop Street and all of them were shot.

During the course of the night there was savage fighting in the westerly districts; the rival factions were entrenched in Cross Street and Bond Street, both of which were barricaded.

Snipers were busy until one o'clock this afternoon and contingents of troops had to be moved into various streets, which until then were impassable to citizens. The streets had the appearance of a battleground. Sandbags were thrown up, with sleepy soldiers almost in a state of exhaustion after the night's vigil.

It is expected that troops are coming by road but no reinforcements have yet arrived.

There is fighting in the outlying districts from which Unionists are pouring into the city.

Another Night of Terror

The fighting in Londonderry was still on at 8 o'clock to-night, according to a Central News despatch from that city. Machine-guns were in action. The city, said the correspondent, was evidently in for another night of terror.

Three more deaths were reported. A despatch from Strabane says that hundreds of refugees from Derry are arriving in the counties of Tyrone and Donegal. Unionists hold the road from Carrigish to Derry and are strongly entrenched in Prepen Wood.

There is a movement in other northern towns, says the despatch, to join in if the Derry riots continue.

Clash With Soldiers

Soldiers and Sinn Feiners in Londonderry fought from 11 o'clock Wednesday night to mid-night with a result yet unknown, according to a Belfast despatch to the Press Association. An armored car with machine-guns, supported by infantry, attacked a party of Sinn Feiners who had been firing along Bishop Street. Each burst of fire was followed by a brief silence, but was renewed repeatedly, until mid-night when it ceased.

The casualties are believed to have been numerous.

To Avoid Strike

Dublin, June 23.—A high Government official said to-night that the Government greatly desired to avoid a railway strike, and would do nothing to provoke it. It must be insisted, however, that soldiers and police be carried, and it could not admit the men's right to refuse any form of strike.

Train Held Up

Cork, June 23.—A mail train from Cork to Dublin was held up at Blaney to-night. It was in charge of two guards, who had taken the places of two men dismissed for refusing to operate trains carrying police. When the train reached the Blaney station, a band of men seized the guards and thrust them into an automobile which sped away. The train was then side-tracked. The passengers returned to Cork by another train.

Conferred with Premier

London, June 23.—Viscount French the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland; Gen. Sir Nevil Macready, Military Commander-in-Chief, and Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary for War, visited Premier Lloyd George this morning. Another interview between the Premier and General Macready, probably will take place later.

The Irish Office has issued a denial that the railway trouble at Cloughjordan was created by the Irish Government with a view of

TORONTO STREET RAILWAY STRIKE

Men Confident They Will Win Out—Business is Considerably Disorganized

Toronto, Ont., June 23.—Nothing developed in connection with the street railway strike here today to indicate that any negotiations looking toward a settlement of the trouble were in sight. The Toronto Railway Company remains seemingly firm in its decision not to offer the strikers an advance in their wages, and the strikers profess confidence that they will eventually win out. In the meantime many thousands of people are being inconvenienced and business, to some extent, is being disorganized by reason of the strike.

MUTUAL BOYCOTT

AUSTRIA vs. HUNGARY

Food Train Held Up At Borders and River Communication Cut Off

Vienna, June 23.—In retaliation for the international transport boycott against Hungary, started on Monday, Hungary has begun an energetic counter-boycott against Austria whose workmen are taking as aggressive part in the action instituted by the international organization in protest against the alleged Hungarian persecution of the working elements. Freight and passenger service in the railways and communication by river has been cut off by Hungary since yesterday noon. Food barges on the way up the Danube from countries to the east were stopped in Hungarian waters.

In pursuance of the international boycott, traffic in the direction of Hungary remains totally suspended. The Eastern R. R. engineers refused today to take out three trains from Vienna for Hungary, although they were loaded with passengers ready for the trip.

It is reported that Hungary has proposed that the leaders of the boycott in Amsterdam meet Hungarian representatives in Vienna to discuss the calling off of the interdiction.

5,000 ENGLISH DRAPERS TOURING CAN. AND U.S.

The Mayor Receives Them in Montreal—Pleased With Business Conditions Here

Montreal, June 23.—A party representing 5,000 drapers of England, who are studying trade conditions in Canada and the States were received at the station here tonight by Mayor Martin on behalf of the City. Fred Longley, who spoke for the party, stated that they had found business conditions very good both in Canada and the United States and that he looked for a continuance of high prices in England whatever might happen here.

The party is visiting this continent in a semi-official capacity, representing the Drapers' Board of Trade, an organization which is often called into consultation on commercial matters by the British Government. They have completed a trip through the States as far as San Francisco and Los Angeles and through Western Canada.

1,500 Soldiers in Derry.

London, June 23.—The Attorney-General for Ireland, Denis Henry, announced in the House of Commons today that five hundred troops arrived in Londonderry yesterday, and that there were now 1,500 soldiers and 150 police in the city, which has forty thousand inhabitants.

Manifesto Issued.

Dublin, June 23.—The Irish Council of Railwaysmen today issued a manifesto asking men not to indulge in precipitate action, which would only transfer the responsibility from the British Government to Ireland. The Council offers co-operation in the attempt to bring the present turmoil, both industrially and politically, to a speedy conclusion.

The Council expresses agreement with the Labor Party's advice to the men not to strike but await individual dismissal.

The principal embarrassment to the Government has been a refusal to carry soldiers and police, if armed, on the trains. There has been no effort to put munitions on the trains in any quantity, as there are ample transport facilities by motor lorries.

TAMMANY LEADER PRIVILY INDICTED

Damage Case Growing Out of War Contracts Gets Chas. Murphy in Wrong

New York, June 23.—Charles F. Murphy, Tammany leader, was one of the six men secretly indicted yesterday by the extraordinary grand jury, which has been investigating alleged attempts of Mr. Murphy to intimidate Louis N. Hartog, a manufacturer, into returning $125,000 which he invested with Hartog's company during the war.

With Mr. Murphy were indicted Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith; John A. McCarthy, former business partner of John Murphy, brother of Charles F. Murphy; Arthur J. Baldwin, a lawyer; Ernest B. Walden, vice-president of the Corn Products Co.; and the Corn Products Co. itself.

The indictments, it was learned today, charged that the defendants conspired to coerce Hartog to settle a suit for $10,000,000 damages which he brought against Murphy after the latter is alleged to have withdrawn his support from Hartog's company. Bail for each defendant was fixed at $1,000.

Hartog was head of a company which manufactured product of glucose as the chief ingredient. He got a $7,000,000 order from the British Government during the war, but found difficulty in obtaining the necessary glucose. Thereupon, it is alleged, he expanded his company and when he obtained Murphy's support no longer had difficulty in getting glucose from the Corn Products Company.

After Hartog and Murphy are alleged to have had a falling out, Murphy sued Hartog to recover his $125,000 investment and Hartog then sued Murphy, the Corn Products Company and Baldwin and McCarthy to recover $10,000,000 profit which he said he lost as a result of Murphy withdrawing his support. He claimed he could not get glucose from the Corn Products Company.

At the time these court actions were pending, Smith summoned Hartog to his office. Hartog claimed Smith summoned him to force him to pay Murphy his $125,000, but Smith asserted he had issued the summons at a time when he was engaged in prosecuting sugar profiteers. Hartog's brother was fined $5,000 in Federal Court for profiteering, but Hartog himself was given a clean bill by Mr. Smith. It was charged at the time that Mr. Smith wrongfully used the process of a grand jury subpoena to intimidate Hartog.

A NEW ANGLE ON THE SUGAR TRADE

Despot Grocers Say They Will Refuse to Handle the Commodity Unless!

Windsor, Ont., June 2.—Claiming that the margin of profit allowed by the Dominion Board of Commerce on the sale of sugar, is so small that it does not cover the expense of wrapping and delivery, grocers in the border cities at a special meeting to be held here may refuse to handle the commodity unless the present restrictions are removed or are modified to allow a margin of profit that will at least permit them to handle without actual loss to themselves. If such a step is taken it is believed that border citizens will demand government dispensaries be established to distribute sugar.

SENATE CARRIES BLONDIN BILL

Measure Amending the Postal Act Put Through Without Amendments

Ottawa, Ont., June 23.—Hon. Pierre Blondin's bill amending the Postal Act was carried in the Senate today without amendments. Senator Power, during the debate, paid a compliment to the Postmaster-General when he said that his explanation of the bill had been clear, proved his contentions and showed the necessity of reforms.

The Senate also dealt with the Inland Revenue Act, Immigration Act and the amendments to the Criminal Code. This latter measure has been a contentious one between the Senate and Commons and threatens again this year to necessitate a conference.

Hon. Mr. Blondin said that the postal post system more than paid its way, but the newspaper postage rate caused a loss of over $5,000,000 annually. The immense deficit in the Post Office Department was due to the rural mail routes. They were now being conducted at a large loss and no new routes were being organized nor would be until better conditions prevailed.

The Postmaster-General refused to continue the franking privileges for Provincial legislators claiming that they amounted to an immense sum and there was no reason why the Federal Government should shoulder the expense of Provincial administration. The bill passed through committee and received its third reading.

Changes in the Inland Revenue Act were necessitated by the introduction of prohibition it was claimed by Sir James Loughheed. Canada's increasing tobacco production and trade also required amendments to the present act.

For two years, there has been conflict of opinion between the Senate and Commons on certain amendments to the Criminal Code. Last year the Senate struck out certain sections which dealt with the protection of girls and also with the use of hotels for immoral purposes. A conference between the two Houses failed to bring about an agreement.

Today, the clauses requiring permits to carry fire-arms were adopted in the Senate without amendment but the clause for protection of girls under 18 was amended and clause six which refers to the use of hotels by unmarried couples was struck out. The bill was still in committee when the Committee rose and the remaining clauses will be discussed when the Senate meets tomorrow at 2 o'clock.

ASQUITH FOR ECONOMY IN ARMY ESTIMATES

Declares No Legal Right For British Footing in Mesopotamia

London, June 23.—(Can. Ass'd Press).—The army estimates coming up again in the House of Commons today gave the Commons an opportunity of discussing at length British policy and operations abroad. Special attention being directed to proceedings and expenditure in Mesopotamia.

Former Premier Asquith led the attack by moving a resolution in the vote. He declared there was no legal right for a British footing in Mesopotamia and urged the withdrawal of troops.

Premier Lloyd George defended the vote, pointing out that Britain had responsibility for establishing order and good government in Mesopotamia and were they to withdraw now they would later have to reconquer the country. The motion was defeated.

Ministers stated in reply to questions that a bill regulating hours of employment would be brought in and the anti-dumping bill would be proceeded with.

NEW SALES TAX A STAGGERER TO C. P. R.

Railway Joins Deputation To Ottawa to Protest Against Recent Ruling

Montreal, June 23.—A deputation representing several hundred millions of invested capital will leave Montreal for Ottawa tomorrow to voice a protest against the recent changed ruling of the Government with regard to the sale tax. A few days ago notice was received from the Government that all public services and corporations buying direct from the manufacturers or importers would have to pay the full two per cent. sales tax. For the Canadian Pacific Railway alone this means a charge of at least a million dollars a year.

The deputation is scheduled to meet Sir Henry Drayton at 2:00 p.m. tomorrow.

WIRELESS STRIKE OFF.

London, June 23.—The strike of wireless operators which threatened to bring shipping activities to a virtual standstill, has been called off. This action was taken as a consequence of meetings of the Association of Wireless Telegraphists held today at London, Liverpool and other ports. The wireless leaders declare they have secured guarantees of fair treatment.

WILSON URGES GREATER SPEED

Has Required Railroad Labor Board To Expedite Wage Decision

Washington, D.C., June 23.—The railroad labor board at Chicago has been urged by President Wilson to expedite its wage decision.

The President's message resulted from the general unrest among railroad workers, over the wage question and the walk-out of yardmen and other employees at Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities. Its text was not made public, but unofficially, it was described as being of a "forceful character."

Soon after the White House announcement of the President's action, W. N. Doak, Vice-President of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, issued a warning that unless there was a settlement of the now year-old wage controversy by the end of this week, the situation probably would be much worse than at present.

Doing Everything Possible

Chicago, Ill., June 23.—Everything possible is being done to expedite the decision on wage demands of railroad employees, the railroad labor board said today. The Board had not received President Wilson's message, requiring an immediate decision, late today, but after reading press despatches from Washington, Geo. Whanger, public representative on the Board and the Chairman of its publicity committee, announced no statement would be made as it might be construed as an apology for delay, and that the Board had no apologies to make.

The present railroad strike had no connection with the delay in reaching a decision, the Board's publicity department said today, but apparently was prompted by an internal fight for control of the railroad unions.

The latest strike which had largely been confined to the East, has spread to several Middle Western towns to-night.

MARRIAGE FOLLOWS COURTSHIP BY MAIL

A Scotch Lassie Sent Her Photo and Canadian Farmer Proposed by Letter

Fredericton, N.B., June 23.—Elmer Fleming, aged 46, a prosperous farmer of Millville, York County, and Miss Mina Watson, aged 23, of Edinburgh, Scotland, were married here yesterday afternoon at the Grand Hotel, following a courtship by mail, which opened when Mr. Fleming's nephew returned from overseas service with the Canadian forces and told his uncle of the young Scotch woman, who would make for him a happy bride.

The bride and groom met for the first time at Millville Station, about forty miles from Fredericton, when she arrived there Monday from Scotland, having disembarked from her steamer on Saturday at Quebec. She had previously sent her photograph to her prospective husband after they had carried on correspondence for a short time. The correspondence opened about a year ago. Four months ago Mr. Fleming proposed and she accepted.

INTER-STATE COMMISSION SAYS "COAL FIRST"

Orders Preference to Movements of Bituminous Coal On and After Today

Montreal, June 23.—Information reached this city tonight that the Inter-State Commerce Commission of the United States has issued an order to all railroads to give preference to movements of bituminous coal on and after June 24th, tomorrow. There is, therefore, a fair prospect that the threatened serious situation to local industries, due to the coal shortage, may be averted.

The points covered by the order of the Commission are in the Eastern States, by way of which coal reaches Canada, so that relief should be felt shortly.

The coal fields of Nova Scotia, up the river to Montreal, great as they are in potential output, are not adding the situation here appreciably. The Nova Scotia coal is being sold for bunker coal and there is also a scarcity of bottoms to bring the coal from Nova Scotia up the river to Montreal.

QUEBEC, JUNE 24, 1920.

ST. JEAN BAPTISTE DAY.

Upon this, another St. Jean Baptiste Day, the Chronicle cordially wishes its French-Canadian fellow citizens a pleasant and successful festival. They are fortunate in the period of the year in which the anniversary of their patron Saint falls: the month of June when the skies generally smile, while the heat of the sun has not yet become too oppressive, so that every kind of out-door amusement and demonstration can be carried out with few attendant discomforts.

As usual an elaborate and distinctive programme of events is being prepared to mark the holiday, which is one of the red letter days of the year for all French-Canadians. While those of other racial origins cannot enter into their rejoicing actively, they can nevertheless give voice to their friendly sympathy and understanding of the sentiments that such an anniversary evokes.

It is only by attuning ourselves thus to the sentiments and aspirations, each of the other, that we can ever attain to that national unity in diversity by which the Canada of the future must be built up and, if rightly used, such festivals can effectively promote better understanding between the various elements of our population. For all these reasons we are glad to pay our homage to the anniversary of French Canada's chosen Saint.

THE LIBERATION OF THE CZECHS.

As shedding further light upon those very interesting people, the Czechoslovaks—several thousands of whom are now in our midst—a historic retrospect of their past, by way of sequel to the article recently published by the Chronicle upon the traditional friendship between Great Britain and Bohemia, may be appreciated by our readers.

It should be borne in mind that, once the late war was ended, several new States emerged in place of the disappearing Austro-Hungarian monarchy; notably the Czechoslovakian Republic, German Austria and the Magyar State. Other provinces of the dismembered empire joined themselves to Italy, to Poland and to the Yugo-Slavic State.

Of the former Austrian Province named above, the Czechoslovakian territory was the richest, by which fact it earns the title of "Pearl of the Hapsburg Crown". This title was very appropriate if it is recognized that of all Austrian industries, eighty percent were concentrated in Bohemia. Thus having enormous mineral resources and an agriculture capable of completely satisfying the demands of the population it is really an extremely rich country.

Since the sixteenth century the Czechish territory has been inhabited by the people of the same name who are of Slavic origin. In order to defend their national life against the armed invasion of the Germans, the Czechs and Slovaks have been obliged to fight from the very beginnings of their existence. Thus the greatest Czechish historian, Palacky, has very aptly declared that the whole history of the Czechoslovaks has been merely one bitter struggle against the Germans.

However, in spite of these incessant conflicts the Czechoslovakian people had already attained to a high degree of culture, by the Middle Ages. It was at Prague, in 1584, that the first University of Central Europe was founded in the reign of the Czechish King Charles IV. His capital of Prague became the intellectual center of Europe, and this University was then attended by eight thousand students of all nations.

In the fifteenth century the national movement known under the name of Hussite spread that of the Czechs throughout the entire world but, in the period following upon that of the Hussite, the cultural development of the Czechoslovakian nation had to suffer much from the influence of the Germans generally and, in particular, from the Hapsburg dynasty which was hated by the people. In 1526 the Czechish States consented to a union with the Germans and the Magyars from which the Austro-Hungarian empire was formed.

The Czechoslovaks were then deprived of their independence. The Hapsburgs, instead of respecting the autonomous rights of the nation sought to crush them and it was under this foreign domination that the heavy period of national oppression began. It was continued for centuries. After the battle of the White Mountain where, in 1620, the people endeavored to remove the yoke of the Hapsburgs, they were deprived of the last vestiges of autonomous power. The cruel regime which continued, provoked a permanent resistance by means of which the national spirit of the people was revived.

The soul of the people re-awakened by the tireless efforts of their intellectual leaders, made increasing demands for national liberation until, at the outbreak of the late war, the Czechoslovakian people—who are highly cultured—recognized clearly that the moment to free themselves completely from the Hapsburgs had arrived. They sympathized openly with the Allies, remembering that in 1870, the Czechish Parliament had protested against the Prussian annexation of Alsace-Lorraine by the mouth of Palacky. Opposed to the war, after the defeat of the Austrian army in 1918, they drove out the Hapsburgs and finally recovered their independence.

Prior to this successful revolt, the Czechoslovaks were compelled to serve in the ranks of the Austrian army but took advantage of every opportunity to point that of the Allies by permitting themselves to be captured or by deserting. Very soon, in Russia, in France and in Italy there were very considerable bodies of Czechoslovakian volunteers only asking to fight against the Central Powers for the liberation of their country. This movement was directed by the National Czechoslovakian Council presided over by Professor Masaryk of the University of Prague until finally volunteer regiments were formed in all allied countries to go to the front.

Great enthusiasm was displayed by the Czechoslovaks in the United States and Canada, these last mobilizing at Winnipeg.

As the greater part of its forces were directed by America against Russia it was possible there to organize a whole Czechoslovakian army consisting of ninety thousand volunteers formed in three divisions. These men fought for three years beside the Russian army and earned repeated citations in the official communications from the Russian General Staff. After the signing of the humiliating peace at Brest-Litovsk by the Bolsheviks the above army was forced to leave the Russian front and the National Council decided to transport it into France by way of Siberia. An order of Trotsky, however, inspired by Mirbach, German Ambassador at Moscow, demanded the disarmament of the Czechoslovaks, thus provoking an armed conflict with the Bolshevik troops.

The lines of the former were now spread out over a distance of five thousand miles but, after a struggle lasting six weeks the whole vast region of the Volga as far as the Pacific Ocean was in their hands. Russian reinforcements arrived at the front and the Czechoslovaks retired, in to their hands being entrusted the guarding of the Trans-Siberian Railway from Omsk to Vladivostok, and thanks to them the feeding of the population was performed without hindrance.

In the summer of 1919, the Supreme Council at Paris decided to repatriate them by sea, whereupon they embarked at Vladivostok for their own country, one party by the Suez Canal, another by the Panama Canal, while the remainder are proceeding across Canada; the brigade now at Valcartier being only the advance guard of three transports from Siberia, nine thousand men in all.

THE LAW OF THE AIR.

It is a remarkable indication of the essential imperfection of human nature that every fresh invention or scientific discovery should necessitate the framing of new laws to protect society against injuries arising from their improper use. When the motor car came, it brought a whole series of new regulations with it and the aeroplane, as it becomes perfected, is now being subjected to similar legislation.

Thus there is something almost unreal in learning that at Bournemouth Police Court in England, a week or so ago, Reginald Edmund Tollerfield, an air pilot, employed by the Bournemouth Aviation Company, was fined $250, for flying at a dangerously low altitude and for trick flying over Bournemouth on May 9, contrary to the Air Navigation Regulations, 1919. The evidence of two Royal Air Force officers was that the defendant executed two Immelmann turns at an altitude of 500ft. to 600ft. Had the engine failed he would have had nowhere to land without danger to the public.

The defence was that the Immelmann turn was not trick-flying, but merely a quick way of turning. The defendant stated that he did two Immelmann turns over the sea, and during his flight he was never under 1,500 feet.

This was the first prosecution of the kind in England if not in the world.

Press Comment.

GRATEFUL BUT MISTAKEN.
(Vancouver Province)

Yesterday a member of the Canadian Parliament thanked God that there were no moving picture houses in his constituency. This suggests the answer which Samuel Johnson sent to the printer of his dictionary: "Tell Dr Johnson," said the printer, "that this is the last proof and I thank God for it." "Tell your master," was the reply, "that Dr. Johnson is pleased to learn that he has grace enough to thank God for something."

But we observe that while Mr. Casgrain's constituency lies north of the St. Lawrence below Quebec, reaching pretty well down to the mouth of the river, his own postoffice address is in the City of Montreal. He dwells several hundreds miles from most of his Charlevoix constituents, but not many yards from the theatres. It is possible that his Montmorency electors, for instance, those living so near as Ste. Anne de Beaupre, may sometimes go to the movies in Quebec City. Young people farther down the river may cross over to Rimouski or Fraserville to see the pictures.

Mr. Casgrain may not be in sympathy with these desires. He never lived in the country. He was born, brought up and highly educated in Montreal. He is a member of an aristocratic family of professional people, married into one of the wealthiest families of his race, a member of one of the leading firms of corporation lawyers in Canada. He has the capacity and the opportunity of enjoying the best musical and dramatic productions rendered in Canada and so may fail to appreciate the simpler enjoyment which his rustic constituents would derive from the agonies and final felicity of the movie heroine, the perils and conquests of the hero, the brilliant but ultimately unsuccessful machinations of the villain.

WHAT FOR?

(Literary Digest)

Just why America should be feverishly building huge battle-ships and battle-cruisers at a rate that will soon make us the strongest naval power on earth is a question that is interesting Great Britain, Japan, and some people in our own land. The launching of the "Tennessee," the world's largest battle-ship, has renewed the talk about this matter. Twelve dreadnoughts and six great battle-cruisers with electrically driven engines, and mounting in all 152 16-inch rifles and 24 14-inch rifles, soon are to be constructed. The cruisers will be 874 feet long, and will have a speed of 37 miles per hour. The displacement of the "Iowa" and "Massachusetts," two of the new battle-ships, will be 43,200 tons, as against the "Tennessee's" 32,000, and they will be two knots faster than this ship. In other words, the new "Massachusetts" will be about four times as large as the "Massachusetts" of Spanish-Far fame. To round out the navy's stupendous programme, a proportionate number of scout-cruisers, destroyers, and submarines are being built.

THE HARDING NOMINATION.

(New York Times)

The nomination of Harding, for whose counterpart we must go back to Franklin Pierce if we would seek a President who measures down to his political stature is the fine and perfect flower of the cowardice and imbecility of the Senatorial cabal that charged itself with the management of the Republican Convention, against whose control Governor Beckman so vehemently protested. Rejecting Leonard Wood, probably the strongest candidate with the people the party could have chosen, because they knew he would never be dictated to by them. They favored Governor Lowden until Borah served upon them his notice of a veto of that nomination. Borah was commanding and truculent because he knew that he had to deal with a group of white-livered and incompetent politicians.

Correspondence.

AN ANSWER TO

MR. BICKERDIKE.

Etchemin, P.Q., June 21, 1920.

To Editor of The Chronicle.

Dear Sir,—What form of sentimentality can have inspired Mr. Bickerdike to appeal to the women of Canada to save the life of the torturer and murderer of the little Gagnon child. When one thinks of the fegish ingenuity in finding new torments for that poor girl, and the hopelessness of the child herself, with not a soul to turn to in her agony and despair, one wonders how there could be any pity for the author of it, especially on the grounds of her womanhood.

I cannot believe there will be a woman found in the entire country to back Mr. Bickerdike's efforts to save the horrible creature, to corrupt others with whom she comes in contact. She is a traitor to her sex, and as such can have no claim on our pity, seeing it is a quality of which she is utterly devoid.

Persian Dervishes Demand Alms as a Right, and Simple People Readily Give Up.

A feature of the Persian life which illustrates the simple and superstitious nature of the people of the mid-east is their tolerance of the dervishes. These weird, gypsy-like beggars infest the cities and annoy the village folk in passing from one place to another, according to their vows of itinerancy.

These are not the whirling dervishes of circus fame. Whirling would be too energetic a form of worship for the members of this most ancient leisure class. Their greatest exertion consists of walking slowly and blowing a horn to announce their presence.

The dervish of Persia is known by his begging bowl, conical cap, animal skin cape and club. The weapon, which is usually a stick driven through with nails, is carried conspicuously. In fact, it seems unpleasantly ready for use when its owner calmly demands tribute. It is true that there is small danger of its use, even if alms are refused, but a refusal, however polite and apologetic, is sure to arouse the wrath of the dervish. His vocabulary may be unintelligible, but the meaning of his threats and prophecies is usually understood. Fellow citizens of the dervish tribe prefer to make a gift at any cost in order to avoid having the wrath of heaven called down upon them in the mastery

BILLS RELATING TO PENSIONS AND RE-ESTABLISHMENT WERE PASSED IN THE COMMONS

Considerable Debate On the Senate Amendment To the Civil Service Bill Cancelling Certain Religious Holidays—
Catholic Members Resent Infringement

Ottawa, Ont., June 23.—Four bills to give legislative effect to the recommendation of the Special Committee on Pensions and re-establishment went through the House today. Major criticism was devoted to the bill amending the Pensioning Act. Captain Power of Quebec South had a couple of amendments to propose in one case, he wished to prevent a pension from being subject to review; in the other, he wished to strike a sub-section from the bill. The sub-section provided for a reduction from a widow's pension in the event of her having a son living at home capable of contributing to her income. Both amendments were lost. The other bills, based upon the special committee's report dealt with State insurance for returned soldiers, with militia and mounted police pensions.

There was some considerable discussion about the enfranchisement and education of Indians and subsequently on amendments made by the Senate to the Civil Service bill. With an amendment made by the Senate to take its own employees from the control of the Civil Service Commission, the House did not concur; another Senate amendment cancelling certain religious holidays was held over.

This amendment reduced the number of public holidays to nine and thereby abolished half a dozen holidays observed at present only because they are holy days of the Roman Catholic Church. Arthur Trahan (Nicolet) and Mr. Cannon pointed out that this placed Catholics in the Civil Service in the position of being compelled to disobey the commands of their Church. H. A. Mackie (Edmonton) said that while it was actually possible for Catholics to attend mass on holy days before going to work, he disapproved of the amendment because it would create a feeling by giving Catholics the idea that the Government was trying to make war on their belief.

J. W. Edwards (Frontenac) said he was in a position of disagreeing with the Government on both the Civil Service and the Pensioning bills. He said that the Senate employees out of the Civil Service Commission may be a very useful experiment.

On the second amendment, he urged that sympathetic attention should be given to the claims of the Catholics and no attempt should be made to make them work on holy days if it was a violation of their religion.

Dr. Beaud said the Senate amendment in regard to religious holidays was more serious than at first sight appeared. If the amendment were passed, it would place Catholics in the position of either disobeying their church or of disobeying the law of the country.

Sir Robert Borden said he was sure no member would wish to interfere with the religious scruples of anyone in the country. But he thought the position had been exaggerated. It did not follow that the Senate amendment were concurred in, anyone who wished to fulfill a religious obligation would be denied that right. He failed to see why, after attendance at church on a religious holiday, it would not be possible to go to the office.

Thomas Vien (Loburniere) intervened that the rule of the Church was the same for religious holidays as for Sunday.

Sir Robert finally agreed to let the amendment stand for the time being to see if there were any likelihood of the bill failing to become law should the House decline to concur in the Senate agreement. He understood that the amendment passed the Senate with little objection and that the Senate was not likely to withdraw its amendment. Under these circumstances with thousands of civil servants looking forward to the bill being passed, the Government had imposed on it a serious responsibility. Further consideration would, however, be given to the situation.

The House of Commons adopted two motions for production of papers at 10-days sitting. A. R. MacMaster carried his motion for the production of all correspondence touching the issue of permits for the export of sugar, and Dr. A. W. Chisholm was granted an order for the production of correspondence with the Department of Public Works during the last three years referring to improvement to the harbor of Grand Etang, N. S.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, tabled details of the inside civil service in Ottawa.

there was every kind of Indian from the aborigine to the well-educated in modern science. Discrimination was certainly necessary.

Mr. MacKenzie-King thought the Government was coercing the Indians into enfranchisement. Hon. Arthur Meighen replied that this was the only way of compelling some educated Indians to pay their debts. Many Indians had asked for it themselves.

"This is the only way; therefore you had better vote for the bill," replied the Minister of the Interior. The enfranchisement clause them carried.

The bill was reported. Third reading was withheld in order to allow Hon. Jacques Bureau, absent from the House to speak on the bill. In committee the House then considered further the bill to give effect to the report of the Special Committee on Pensions.

C. G. Power, (Quebec) contended that the Government should have given a widow mother the same pension as a wife. He would also give a pension to a wife or mother despite any personal income. He moved an amendment to prevent the pension being subject to review.

G. D. Nicholson, (Algoma East) objected to inspectors going round and prying into the affairs of widows to find out if they had any independent income so as to reduce their pensions. He thought if a woman had lost her husband, she was entitled to her full pension.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie said that the unauthorized use of military badges had been prohibited by order-in-council under a penalty of a fine of $500 and imprisonment for six months. The penal clauses of this order-in-council had, however, lapsed with the time past no penalty had been in effect. Amendments to the criminal code passed by the House at this session provided for penalties which would be in force as soon as they were finally assented to.

Joseph Archambault, Chambly-Vercheres, asked whether it was true that the employees of the Printing Bureau had been forced to work for some time past no penalty had been in effect. Amendments to the criminal code passed by the House at this session provided for penalties which would be in force as soon as they were finally assented to.

Senate amendment to the bill respecting maple products were given second reading without discussion. Third reading was given to the bill amending the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Act and the Militia Pension Act. It was explained that these amendments were introduced to conform with recommendations made by the committee on pensions. The amendment to the Militia Pension Act provided for the repeal of a section which stated that no widow or child should receive, at one and the same time, a pension under that act, and one under any other law of Canada or the United Kingdom. The amendment to the Mounted Police Act provided for a repeal of a section in that act which states that mounted policemen, who were entitled to pensions resulting from service overseas, and also as members of the police force should draw only the larger of the two.

The House went into committee on the bill to amend the Indian Act. F. B. Stacey, (Fraser Valley, B.C.), said the bill provided briefly for compulsory education and the enfranchisement of certain Indians. He claimed Canada had not made any adequate provision for giving to Indians full and adequate citizenship. The Indian was an under-rated and misjudged man, but there were certain obvious defects in his mentality; and it was incumbent upon Canada to help him to enjoy and realize the responsibilities and privileges of Canadian citizenship. Mr. Stacey sketched the history of the settlement of British Columbia.

Replying to Hon. W. L. MacKenzie-King, Hon. Arthur Meighen said it was proposed to compel the Indians to send their children to the nearest available school. This step was taken to prevent Indian children from being sent to another Province.

W. A. Boys, (Simcoe South) Chairman of the Indian Committee explained the clause which provides for a board composed of two members of the Indian Department and a member of the band to which the man to be enfranchised belonged. Being appointed at the instance of the Attorney-General. There was no intention, said Mr. Boys, to indulge in wholesale enfranchisement of the Indian, but it was important that Indians who were earning from $5 to $15 a day and were qualified for citizenship, should accept the responsibilities of citizenship. Why should an Indian who was earning such a wage not be compelled to meet his debts. An Indian who was enfranchised, did not have to vote unless he wished to, but the policy of the Indian Department was to develop and educate the Indian so that he would not forever remain a ward of the country.

J. A. Robb, (Chaudiere-Huntingdon) expressed doubts as to whether the Indian had anything to gain by the amendment. He was afraid the Government was introducing a bill which would enable, possibly not this, but some Government to take away his rights. It might even permit speculators to get hold of the Indian lands.

Mr. MacKenzie-King read a memorial prepared by representatives of the Allied Tribes of British Columbia, objecting that the Parliament of Canada had no legitimate right to compulsory enfranchise the Indians, thereby breaking up the tribes, destroying their disputes and preventing their moving for their rights as a class or tribe.

Mr. King suggested that the legislation be deferred until next session. John Harold, (Brant) said that the Indian Committee had found it absolutely necessary to provide for the intelligent and discriminating handling of Indians. On 1,625 reserves throughout Canada.

DJEMAL PASHA IN SWITZERLAND

Turkish Multi-Millionaire Is Wanted For Death of 7,000
Families By Arabs

Geneva, Switzerland, June 23.—In one of the most luxurious hotels in Lausanne is now living the Turkish multi-millionaire named General Ahmed Djemal Pasha, former Turkish minister under the Young Turk regime at Constantinople and former commander of the fourth Turkish army in Syria.

He is the first upon the black list of the first upon the black list of extradition and punishment sought by the Tribunal de Geneve, of the deaths of 7,000 Arabians, Syrian and Armenian families whom he is alleged to have ordered to be massacred or deported into the desert where they died of hunger and thirst in the war. He has been sentenced to death after a hearing in Turkey.

Djemal Pasha who called himself the "Hero of Islam" admits, according to the newspaper, that he was "only directly responsible for about 200 deaths of heretics." By tyranny, it is charged, he obtained his vast wealth in Turkish gold all ways refusing bank notes. Once a week his wife or one of the members of his family travelled to Constantinople from Djemal's headquarters in Syria under military escort with small boxes of gold which were forwarded subsequently to Switzerland and Holland.

It was Djemal and David Pasho, who were at Paris in July, 1914, and, forcing the war, bought the German warships, Goeben and Breslau, for their government by orders from Constantinople.

Djemal who has only a temporary permission to sojourn in Switzerland was recently requested by the Swiss government to leave this country, but he managed to procure a medical certificate proving that travelling would be prejudicial to his health and remains at Lausanne.

ASK RECOGNITION OF THE SOVIETS

Resolution Passed At British Labor Party—Caused Disorder at Afternoon Session

Scarborough, England, June 23.—The 20th annual conference of the Labor Party this evening adopted a resolution demanding recognition of the Soviet Government of Russia. An amendment proposed by Ernest Bevin, of the Dock-Workers' Union favored the creation of a permanent labor commission for an investigation of conditions on the continent. The resolution and the amendment were adopted after the conference had been addressed by Lieut.-Colonel L'Estrange Malone, Member of Parliament for Leyton, and Mr. Bevin.

The afternoon session broke up in disorder shortly after the resolution had been submitted by the Executive Committee, recommending the recognition of the Soviet Government in Russia.

Lieut.-Colonel L'Estrange Malone, Liberal member of Parliament for Leyton, attempted to speak on the resolution, but his credentials were demanded and eventually he was ruled to be out of order. Ernest Bevin, of the Dock Workers' Union, then endeavored to speak, but the confusion became so great that the conference broke up. Another resolution declared that the peace treaty grossly violated, not only the object for which the Allies entered the war but also the terms under which the armistice was concluded.

It demanded the immediate revision of the treaty. The resolution also "viewed with great concern" the economic and social conditions in Central Europe, and in conclusion asked the Premier to receive a deputation of the Labor Party to discuss the subject.

Winnipeg, Man., June 23.—Dominion convention of Railway Shopmen and Carmen of Division No. 4, it is understood, will be held in Winnipeg for discussion of the coming year's policy and the schedule being negotiated by the Dominion Railway Board at Montreal. The division constitutes the whole of Canada and embraces 35,000 employees.

CANAL TRAFFIC.
Ottawa, June 23.—(By Canadian Press).—The transportation division of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics publishes the following on the traffic which during May passed through the Canadian canals, all of which were open for the full month. The total number of vessels that passed through all canals was 3,258, with a net tonnage of 1,333,527 tons and carrying cargoes of 1,264,303 tons. Compared with May, 1919, there was a total decrease in cargoes of 1,013,339 tons. The total decrease in net tonnage of vessels passed through was 530,883 tons. A portion of the decrease was due to later opening of the Sault Ste. Marie, St. Lawrence and Ottawa Canals.

WILL VENTILATE SHOE TRADE CASE

Manufacturers May Open Up Stores in Montreal As Done in Boston

Montreal, Que., June 23.—At a dinner tonight at the Windsor Hotel here attended by about 85 members of the Montreal branch of the National Shoe Retailers' Association, Joseph Daoust, of the Daoust-Lalonde Manufacturing Company, stated that conditions obtaining in the shoe trade would be fully ventilated at the coming convention of shoemakers to be held here next month. Unless some change were brought about, he said, in the relations between manufacturers and retailers the former might open stores here, as has been done in Boston, in which shoes would be sold at manufacturers' prices, this being due to the cancellation of orders leaving the manufacturer with the goods on his hands.

It was stated tonight that Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec Province, would be a guest at the convention dinner on July 14 and that Sir George Foster, Federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, had been invited to attend.

"LITTLE BOY" WAS A RINGER

Owners and Trainers Have Disappeared and Nobody Cares to Claim Colt

Ottawa, Ont., June 23.—That "Little Boy", winner of the fourth race on Monday, was a "ringer" has been established by the stewards at the Connaught Park race meeting. Messrs. Francis Nelson and H. B. Conkling, "Little Boy", the "mystery horse", is now under lock and key in care of the officials of the Connaught Park Jockey Club. A few policemen were put in charge of the horse today and he was removed from the Serran barn, where he had been given care and attention since the judges seized him Tuesday.

His alleged owners and trainers have disappeared, there is no one caring to claim the unknown colt, and he will probably remain the property of the Connaught Park Jockey Club.

The case is an extraordinary one and while the men who engineered the coup made good their winnings in the mutuels and outside books, they have lost their horse, which is evidently a very valuable one. E. S. Moore, the alleged owner of Little Boy, has dropped out of sight, and trainer Doyle will be denied henceforth all the privileges of the Connaught Park course.

Investigation has developed that the horse in question was run as a "ringer" in Kentucky in the race wherein he finished fifth to Opportunity.

Halifax—Was Remanded

Halifax, N.S., June 23.—(Can. Press).—"Captain D. C. M. Coughdon" who arrived here this afternoon from Montreal in charge of detective Kennedy, pleaded guilty to a charge of theft of $1,000 worth of jewelry from the wife of Captain George Cooper, a visitor to Halifax, in the police court this evening. He elected to be tried summarily. He was remanded until Friday for sentence.

Asked by the magistrate if he had anything to say, "Coughdon" replied that he would endeavor to make restitution for what he had done insofar as he was able, and that he was sorry.

He admitted that "Coughdon" was not his real name. He said he was 29 years of age, that his home was in Australia some distance east of Sydney, and that he was a civil engineer. He told the magistrate that he had served with the Australians at Gallipoli, in Mesopotamia and in France, and that he had been wounded and gassed, being invalided home in 1918.

Other charges against him were not pressed.

The preacher of the occasion will be the Rev. Abbe Curotte.

EXECUTION HAS BEEN POSTPONED

July 13th Date Set—New Evidence Submitted to Department of Justice

The execution of Nick Debeka and George Morhari the two men who had been convicted of the murder of Mike Kostinien at Kenogami last summer, will not take place tomorrow morning owing to orders having been received from Ottawa postponing the execution of the sentence till July 13th.

Mr. M. A. Lemieux advocate who defended the men, on being advised at the end of last week by the Minister of Justice that the law must take its course, immediately left for Ottawa, and it is believed submitted fresh evidence in connection with the case, which no doubt caused the Department of Justice to change the date set for execution, with a view to investigating the matter further.

The executioner, Ellis, had arrived, the gallows had been erected and all arrangements were pretty well complete for the carrying out of the death sentence, which has now been postponed.

It is stated that the Hon. Judge Pelletier will again inform the Minister of Justice at Ottawa that the verdict of the jury at the trial was accompanied by a recommendation to mercy, which His Lordship in view of the verdict of murder could not take into consideration when passing sentence but could submit it to the Department of Justice, which gives due consideration to all convictions on this charge.

WANTS GREATER
CO-OPERATION

High School Old Boys Association Held Annual Meeting Last Night.

Owing principally to a large number of members residing at present in the country the attendance at the Annual Meeting of the Old Boys' Association of the High School of Quebec, was not large, nevertheless those who did attend displayed every interest in the proceedings, and laid the foundations for the current year's work, which should result in the Association's leading aim being accomplished by the time the next annual meeting is held.

Mr. Edward C. Joseph, who presided, called upon Mr. J. A. S. Lower, Secretary, to read on behalf of the Committee the Annual Report, which stated:

"The total membership now stands at 128 (83 members living in town and 45 out of town Members).

"The Treasurer's Financial Statement shows the Association to have a small balance on hand out of ordinary revenue.

"During the past year most of the efforts of the Association were directed towards increasing the membership. Six different circulars were printed and some 3,000 copies mailed and circulated, with the above membership as a result.

"Thanks principally to the energy of some of the Directors the sum of approximately $45,000 has been subscribed to the Endowment Fund, the collection of which is one of the leading aims of the Association at the present time. This sum was collected nearly altogether in the City of Quebec, and includes monies collected by a sub-committee of the Association formed for that purpose.

While acknowledging the good work done by a few members, during the past year the Officers found themselves considerably handicapped by the lack of interest shown by the members in general, so that the work of organization fell on the shoulders of a few, thus making it a heavy task indeed of the interesting undertaking it should have been. "The retiring officers respectfully request and urge a more general and hearty spirit of co-operation and help towards the incoming committee whom they will shortly elect. The fate of the Association, in future years depends altogether on its carrying on now during its period of organization, and it is those who are present tonight and those who will be elected who will decide that fate, by their activity or the contrary, during the coming year."

Mr. E. R. S. Young, Treasurer, read his report which showed that the balance in hand last year was $116.90; received during the year, $296.34; and expenditure $172.92; leaving a balance on hand of $240.42. An amendment to the by-laws was carried, which will permit boys in the Fifth or highest form of the School to become members of the Association, and whilst still at school they will be exempt from paying fees.

The election of officers for the ensuing year also took place, with the following result:

President, Mr. Edward C. Joseph, (re-elected).

Pres., Mr. A. C. M. Thomson, Secretary, Mr. J. A. S. Lower, (re-elected).

Treasurer, Mr. E. R. S. Young, (re-elected).

Committee, Messrs. A. J. Elliot, G. S. Ahern, A. H. Cook, K. C. D. Lazarevitch, George Love, Rex Meredith, A. D. Scott, Arthur Veasey, J. Laird. Auditors, Messrs. A. B. Whitehead and A. D. Scott.

It was the opinion of the meeting that it was the duty of the members of the Association to co-operate as much as possible with the members of the Executive elected last evening, which possibly through reason over which many of the members had no control was lacking during the past year. An earnest endeavor will be made to have a bigger attendance at future meetings, the small number attending in the past, as was explained, was not in any way due to lack of interest in the Old School, as all the members were anxious that the aims of the Association should be supported.

Twelve new members were elected at the meeting.

FIRE LAST NIGHT
ON PALACE HILL

New Dispensary For Venereal Diseases Visited by Blaze After Eleven O'Clock

A double alarm from Box 11 called out several sections of the Quebec Fire Department shortly after eleven o'clock last night to combat a blaze which had broken out in the building at the corner of Palace Hill and Charlevoix street, which is being renovated to be opened up as a dispensary for the treatment of venereal diseases.

The blaze broke out in one of the upper storeys of the building and had gained considerable headway when the firemen arrived. The fire, however, was promptly mastered. The damage is not very serious.

A large crowd was attracted to the fire for the report had got around that it was the Victoria Hotel that was afire.

BIG BOOM FOR

Lumber Company Will Boom Off River Near Car Ferry Wharf for Pulpwood

It was learned last night that there will shortly be considerable activity on the river front in the vicinity of Cap Blanc, owing to the fact that a large South Shore lumber concern has reached an arrangement with the Canadian National Railways to boom off the river inside the Car Ferry Wharf for the storage of pulpwood.

The company, it is learned has already begun to erect an office on the wharf and when the project is running full swing some 60 cars of pulpwood will be unloaded there daily for shipment.

None of the officials of the C.N.R. could be reached last night to have the above information verified.

KENNEL SHOW
GOT UNDER WAY

First Annual Exhibition Of the Quebec Kennel Club Started at Exhibition Grounds

The first annual exhibition of the Quebec Kennel Club commenced yesterday at the Exhibition Grounds, and many classes were judged in the afternoon and evening. There are nearly two hundred dogs quartered in the hall where the show is going on, and the event proved to be a great success.

A feature of the showing yesterday was the good appearance local dogs cut. They captured a number of prizes, and people remarked that they did not know there were so many good show dogs in the city of Quebec.

Yesterday afternoon and evening the St. Bernards, Great Danes, Deerhounds, Greyhounds, English Foxhounds, Irish Setters, English Setters, Alsatians, Terriers, and Cocker Spaniels were judged.

Albert E. Hittich of Deerfield, Ill., is the judge, and he had a hard time yesterday in picking the winners in the various classes.

The show got off to a flying start, and there is little doubt that this morning and afternoon, when the remainder of the animals will be judged, a big crowd will be on hand to witness it. There were a great many present last evening, but a much larger crowd should be present, if the exhibition is to prove popular at all.

SHIPPING IS HELD UP ON CLYDE

Serious Shortage of Raw Materials—Cause of Considerable Unemployment

Glasgow, June 23.—Coincident with a period of unexampled briskness, so far as orders are concerned, the Clyde shipyards and engineering shops are experiencing a considerable amount of unemployment. The explanation is to be found in the serious shortage of raw materials. The various yards all have an exceptional amount of work on hand, and although inquiries for new tonnage are not particularly pressing now, the orders on hand already are sufficient to keep the majority of the yards working at full pressure for the next two or three years. Indeed, according to one important shipbuilder, the iron builders are faced with the possibility of having to refuse orders owing to inability to undertake delivery within a reasonable time.

SUGAR BURLARS.

Fredericton, N.B., June 23.—Five bags of granulated sugar, valued at more than $100.00, were stolen from one of the local warehouses of A. F. Randolph & Sons, last night, by thieves, who drove up to the building, loaded the booty into a rubber tired carriage, and drove away unmolested.

FEMALE FRANCHISE.

Wetaskiwin, Alta., June 23.—A motion that the women of Canada generally be given the franchise was passed unanimously at the convention of the Strathcona United Farmers of Alberta and the United Farm-Women's Association of Alberta, now in session here.

A copy of the resolution will be forwarded to the Federal Government at Ottawa, together with a request for immediate action.

A DECLINE IN FLOUR.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 23.—A lower wheat market the first few days this week was responsible for a decline of 20 to 30 cents a barrel in the price of flour here today. At the mill where the quotation for family patents was down 20 cts., flour dropped to $14. a barrel and $14.55 was the price obtained by the mill that sold flour at a 30 cent reduction.

THE SOVEREIGNTY OF ALAND ISLANDS

London (June 23).—The London Times announces it has reason to believe that representations have been addressed to the Swedish and Finnish Governments on behalf of the Allied and Associated Powers to the effect that Sweden and Finland the sovereignty of the Aland Islands to the League of Nations.

STRIKE UNSUCCESSFUL

Houston, Tex., June 22.—Not more than fifty or sixty switchmen are on strike here, according to A. J. Goggin, chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of the Southern Pacific Lines. Leaders in the strike movement which developed suddenly late yesterday, claimed a much larger number of men were out, but gave no figures.

GERMAN EMPRESS
OUT OF DANGER
Doorn, Holland, June 23.—The condition of the former German Empress was so improved this morning that her eldest son, former Crown Prince Frederick William, will probably return to Wieringen this afternoon. He was called here a day or two ago on account of what was considered the very serious illness of his mother.

Race for Honor of Defending America Cup

Newport, R.I., June 23.—The sloop Resolute added the seventh win to her string of victories in the America's Cup defense elimination series today, defeating the Vanitie by one minute, seven seconds, corrected time.
Today's race, the tenth of the series, was over a 20-mile course with windward and leeward legs.
The Resolute made a slow getaway as she jibed for a new start, the Vanitie going to port and her rival to starboard. The beat to windward was a hard battle, the Resolute winning a few seconds. On the return the Vanitie faltered and led the Resolute by one second at the finish, losing the race on the time allowance of one minute, eight seconds.
On the run to the finish, spinners were not used by either boat as both ran to leeward.

ANY CLUB MAY WIN IN NATIONALOnly Small Margin Between Leading and Last Clubs In National League

New York, June 23.—After a storm period of insurrections, revolutions and asserted disorders, the major leagues are approaching normal conditions as the eight big-time clubs pull up at the one-third mark.
Last week was the most stable of the season.
The return of Big Jim Vaughn to the Cubs caused the only change in the front lines. Helped by the big southpaw, the Bruins pushed the Cards out of third place.
Otherwise, it was a quiet week. The American League remained stationary with the Indians, the Yanks, the White Sox and the Red Sox among the select folks and the average passengers of the National League stayed put.
The Reds held the lead by winning three out of four games and the Robins, who won only one out of four, remained in second place only by the kindness of the Cards, who dropped three out of seven games. The Cubs won three games and made them good for a rise.
Tris Speaker kept his Indians in the lead by winning three out of five games and the Yanks kept right at their heels with four wins out of seven starts. The Browns made a clean sweep of the week, but could not make the elevator work.
With one-third of the season about gone, the American League seems more inclined to settle down than the older circuit.
The race seems to be a duel between Cleveland and the Yanks in the American, but any club in the National League has a chance to jump into a winning streak and climb to the top.
The leading Reds and the trailing Phils are separated by only 173 points, while in the American League the Indians have a lead of 379 points over the cellar-holding Athletics.
Both Leagues are using the stick with good effect, but the epidemic of slugging which marked the early season has been stopped.

Sporting Notes

The dog show got off to a flying start yesterday at the Exhibition Grounds.
Babe Ruth scored his twentieth home run of the season yesterday.
Quebec is going to be practically sportsless this week-end. There are no ball games scheduled, and only the lacrosse match on Sunday afternoon at the Falls.
Ed McDermott, manager of Charlie White, stated last night that he had heard from the manager of Eugene Demere, who states that his man will not meet White before July 15th. In the meantime he has matched White with Young Green in Montreal and Ted Joyce in Toronto.
Wimbledon, June 23.—The sensation of the day's play in the British tennis championship tournament today was furnished by the defeat of Andre Gobert, the French crack, by Zeno Shimidzu, Japanese. Shimidzu won by 6-4, 10-8, 4-6, 2-6, 6-4.
Further surprise was caused by the result of the two next matches (J. J. Scheurle, Holland, beat Nicholas Mitsu, Rumania, 6-5, 6-1, 6-6, 6-3. The winner also is considered Holland's third best player, showed a great improvement on his Wimbledon form last year. A Drew, a Lancashire player, beat Max De-cugik, one of France's best tennis stars, 6-4, 9-7, 6-8, 6-3.
William T. Tilden, Philadelphia, scored an easy victory over S. Franklin, a Surrey County player of about scratch form. The score was 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.
The Australian, Stanley N. Doubt, won from Samuel Hardy, Chicago, Captain of the United States team, when the latter defaulted the match with the score standing at 3 sets each. The score was 2-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-8.
Still another sensation marked today's play when Wm. H. Laurents, considered after Gobert, France's greatest player, went down to defeat at the hands of a compatriot, I. Brugnion. The score was 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.
Axel Graven, California, beat Erik Tegner, Denmark, 5-7, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 7-5.
The veteran English player, Major G. Ritchie, beat Paul Deboran, Belgium, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.
In the first round of the championship doubles, the United States pair, Johnston and Tilden, defeated the English pair, M. Blythman and I. Brugnion. The score was 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.
Charles Winslow, former champion of South Africa, and winner of the Olympic tennis tournament at Stockholm in 1912. The score was 6-4, 6-1, 6-3.
Only a few points separate Buffalo and Baltimore in the International League, with Toronto a close third. The Buffalo Bisons lost to Reading yesterday, while both Toronto and Baltimore broke even in double headers with Syracuse and Akron respectively.

'Kenora' A Summer's Idyll

Regatta Day - Kenora

There are some places which never lose their charm as holiday resorts, and which as the seasons pass attract visitors as a magnet does the needle. Such may be claimed for Kenora and the Lake of the Woods. This lovely spot is within easy access to all, situated as it is on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the beautiful Province of Ontario.
The Lake of the Woods is a perfect earthly Paradise, thronged in its thousands of islands, most of which are owned by private Canadian citizens who spend their summers there leading the simple life.
A splendid way to see the beauties of the Lake of the Woods is to make a stay at Kenora, and from there hire a motor launch and go sailing among the islands. The Lake is studded over by a perfect archipelago, the islands numbering several thousand, some mere islets of jagged rock, others being several miles in extent on which are built pretty bungalows and camps.
Most of the islands are thickly timbered, the trees growing to the water's edge, and in the early summer months water lilies, both golden yellow and pure white are found everywhere. Blueberries and other wild fruit also grow abundantly on most of the islands, hundreds of pounds being picked by the Indians and shipped to the different cities for consumption.
Kenora itself is a pretty little town built on the lake front, commanding a splendid view of the lake. It has a large number of stores, a Public Library, and is lit by electricity. The Tourist Hotel, in the Main Street, gives tourists every comfort.
There are camps on several of the larger islands run by the Y.M.C.A. and the M.I.A. of Winnipeg, where the tourist can have accommodation at reasonable rates, while on Coney Island there is a fine sandy bathing beach, and pavilion for dancing.

Kenora, Ont. - Out for a Spin

Happiness seems to be the dominant note at Kenora and its vicinity, everywhere one meets parties of young people on pleasure boat, bathing, or picnicking, and the stillness of the air is broken only by merry laughter, or the song of the birds.
The district is much frequented by artists, photographers, and sportsmen, each finding a wide field for his particular bent. The lake is a perfect angler's Paradise, many a trout being landed before break of day to provide breakfast for the campers. Here too in their season are to be found moose and bear, as well as other big game.
A short distance out of Kenora is Indian Reserve, which is a never failing source of interest to tourists who wish to see the Red Men in their native woods.

A few miles out of Kenora are the little towns of Norman and Keewatin, both of which are within walking distance, the road winding on the hillside affords an uninterrupted view of the lake, every bend opening up new beauty spots.
Who can ever forget the glorious moonlight on the Lake, the intense stillness broken only by the dip of an oar or the throbs of a motor boat, when the shadows deepen on the islands, and "when the moon sees her unwrinkled face reflected" in the blue water? Kenora is radiant of romance, is indeed like a town of perfect music where there is no discordant note, and where as each evening closes one can say, we have come to the end of a perfect day.

CLOSING LETTERS BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

(By Canadian Press)

New York, June 23.—Lacking guidance from any constructive quarter, today's session of the Stock Exchange was dull and superficial from their opening to the apathetic close. The ticker was motionless for long intervals and many issues which usually contribute to the day's business were relegated to obscurity.

Financial, industrial and related considerations seemed to play no part in the day's operations and pools evidently found it unprofitable to continue their recent tactics in selected specialties.

Steels, equipments, oils and several of the food issues furnished the only noteworthy movements, notably Crucible, American Car, Baldwin, Mexican Petroleum, Sugar and Corn Products.

These and kindred stocks finished at variable advances. Sales amounted to 300,000 shares.

The money market reflected the general inertia, call loans repeating their recent low and high quotations of eight to eleven percent on reduced borrowings. From 8 1/2 to 9 percent was again bid for time funds but offerings were negligible.

Apathy extended to foreign exchange or the international money market. The London rate reacted moderately as the buying power diminished, with concurrent easement of French and Italian quotations.

Reports and other advices dealing with the railroad labor situation, were confusing, but indicated for the most part that the strike is on the wane at this and adjacent centers.

These disturbances, however, have again crippled production at Eastern steel and iron mills, according to trade authorities. Losses of large fractions to a point were made by bonds of leading railway systems but Liberty issues and the foreign group were steady to firm.

Total sales (par value) aggregated $12,400,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

DAILY GOSSIP ON THE LEADING STOCKS

(By Canadian Press)

Yesterday's New York Financial Bulletin was as follows: The stock market is expected to continue to move along the same lines as during the past few days. It is a waiting affair, with professional controlling. Sentiment is mixed on the immediate outlook and a trading position is favored in active channels, which expect irregularity with bullish operations confined to specialties.

Merrill, Lynch & Co. say: "We favor Industrial Alcohol, Vanadium, Haskill and Cuba Cane as stocks most attractive around these figures."

In the opinion of the Wall Street Journal, the Street was full of all sorts of disquieting rumors and it was on these that the professionals sold stocks; nevertheless, the net results of the day were on the declining side for the same reason that the professionals decided to stay short overnight.

Clark, Childs & Co. say: "There might be surprises favorable or otherwise, that would get the market out of its rut, but most of the well-known considerations seem to have been duly appraised as to their speculative value in the establishment of our purely professional market on an even keel."

C. I. Hudson & Co. say: "We do not look for much easy money until well after the first of July, when the millions of semi-annual interests and dividends have to be cared for."

Regular dividend on Nova Scotia Steel declared.

A Boston banker after a careful study of the financial situation, says: "Ignoring temporary professional fluctuations, I am the biggest kind of a bull and I believe that a real improvement in prices and greatly increased activity will start in some time next month. I expect a decision giving increased freight rates by July 15th and by the time money should be in much better supply. We will also know Harding's opponent, and we will start in to discount a Republican administration. Present forced depression in business may continue for two or three months, but we have discounted and the big fellows have been in the market. The market is now in the discard and every little professional setback like that of yesterday afternoon gives an opportunity to pick up stocks."

Ex-dividend yesterday in Montreal: Laurentide, 1 1/2 per cent.

MORE COTTON TO BE CULTIVATED

Threat of Shortage of Raw Material Gives Scope For International Federation

(Charles W. Macara, Bart., in a comprehensive survey of the work of the International Cotton Federation during the last 16 years, published in the Textile Recorder, says in part:

"There can be no question that principal among the tasks of the federation is that of meeting the threat of a shortage of the raw material. I believe that with proper organization the difficulty may be overcome, but foresight and energy must be shown by those in control of the measures which are taken."

I have often pointed out that there is support for a hopeful view in the history of the American cotton growing industry itself. For it shows that a great yield of cotton, a plant which is said not to be indigenous to the United States, may be secured by good methods of cultivation in those parts of the world where the climate is suitable.

In the first ten years after taking up cotton growing, about 140 years ago, Americans managed to obtain a crop of 100,000 bales of 500 lbs. and is certainly worthy of note that the British Cotton Growing Association achieved a similar result in the same space of time. It took the United States planters from 35 to 40 years to reach a crop of 1,000,000 bales and from 70 to 80 to reach a crop of 4,000,000 bales.

We have seen that in India a much more rapid expansion of this was experienced, and but for the war India would today have been in a much better position than she is.

Inasmuch as fertile lands, suitable for cotton growing, are available in various parts of the world, an extension of the sources of the raw material, given proper organization and enterprise, should be possible. One word of warning I would add here, is that steps should be taken to have as many areas of cultivation as possible, and these widely distributed on the earth's surface, so that the industry may not be dependent upon the yield in any particular quarter of the globe.

Next in importance to the extension of the area of cultivation, comes the question of better methods in growing the plant. In the cases of Egypt and India, one has seen how the application of scientific methods has brought abundant benefit, and on many American plantations the adoption of up-to-date methods has had wonderfully good results. The International Cotton Federation will find ample scope for further improvements along this line.

Sessue Hayakawa in Fascinating Picture At The Empire Theatre Today

Sessue Hayakawa, famous Japanese actor, appears in his most fascinating role in "The Devil's Claim" being presented at the Empire Theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday. Colleen Moore and Rhea Mitchell are seen as his leading women and both have difficult though pleasing roles.
The Devil's Claim is a new departure in Hayakawa productions and his many admirers here will be undoubtedly pleased with his superb work. Seventh episode of the million dollar animal serial "The Lost City" of the African jungles in addition to a comedy will also be shown.

Sessue Hayakawa

"In Old Kentucky" at the Victoria; Change of Serial and Comedy Today

Owing to the fact that it has been impossible to accommodate the crowds wanting to see "In Old Kenucky" at the Victoria, the management has decided to continue the run of the picture for the entire week. Today the 7th episode of the "Silent Avenger" will also be shown as well as a new Big V Comedy featuring Joe Rock.

Big Social Drama "The Climbers," Starts at the Classic Today

"The Climbers" possibly the greatest social drama ever produced, starts a 3 days engagement at the Classic today.
It depicts in a wonderful portrayal the full scale of human emotions from the lowest to the highest and is not only timely but highly entertaining. Tragic, pathetic and strongly appealing it brings one to fairly live the drama with the stage characters so wonderful is the impersonation. It is not the usual social play but one which everyone will appreciate and enjoy.

The eighth episode of the wonder serial "Trilled by Three" a splendid two reel comedy and also the Pathe Cior Review complete a superb bill.

Norma Talmadge Today at the Auditorium in Strong Play

"De Luxe Annie," the thrilling story that the Saturday Evening Post printed as a two part tale and which won such a tremendous success in picture form with Norma Talmadge appears at the Auditorium, today, tomorrow and Saturday at popular prices.

This picture is one of the most popular productions in which dainty Norma Talmadge has been featured. It is a crook play that is different, but the unexpected psychological twist makes it even more engrossing.

The bill at the Auditorium for the week-end also includes a Pollard comedy and other attractions well worth seeing.

Performances are given at 2 and 3:30 in the matinee and in the evening at 7:30 and 9 o'clock. Matinee admission is 15 cents and the evening price is 25 cents. Tax included.

GEN. WRANGLER'S WAGES SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN

Washington, June 23. — General Wrangler's anti-Bolshevik troops have defeated reinforcements sent to the aid of the red forces according to a report from the American high commissioner in the Crimea and Southern Russia received today by the State Department. General Wrangler took approximately six thousand prisoners and considerable military supplies.

Many of the Bolshevik prisoners joined Wrangler's forces and entered the fight against their former comrades.

ANOTHER VERSION OF THE CAPE

By Gertrude Beresford.

The popularity of the cape and the wrappy coat continues unabated, for they are such useful articles of dress.
In this model the decorations are made entirely of the fabric—a russetcolored duvetyne. The upper part shows a very clever use of pintucks—set at right angles to each other. Down the sides are numerous little tabs of the material daintily picot-edged. The collar is of double thicknesses of the cloth joined together so that it falls quite gracefully about the neck.
The hat of russet straw is faced with cream satin embroidered with bronze silks.

FOR A CLEAN HOUSE.

By Loretto C. Lynch.

An Acknowledged Expert on All Matters Pertaining to Domestic Science.

Some folks make such hard work of keeping the home clean while others seem to maintain a similar degree of cleanness with little effort.
Women who give too much time to cleaning frequently do so because of lack of knowledge or lack of system or lack of the proper equipment.

Fresh air, sunshine and pure water are nature's great aids to cleanness. And too often are these overlooked by the anxious cleaner.
We all recall homes that are well scrubbed, yet they lack that fresh sweet odor which fresh air and sunshine alone give.

To devote a particular space in the home to the keeping of the cleaning equipment approaches the ideal in household efficiency. If a whole cupboard can be spared so much the better. Cleaning equipment should be itself cleaned before being stored away.

The careless practice of throwing a dirty old rag used in cleaning into a dark closet until it is again wanted is indeed to be deplored.
Rags should not be used. But old clothes, properly hemmed to prevent fraying should be washed with soap, boiled and dried before being stored away.

A fussy housewife will stich the word "Floor," "Polishing" and so on upon the various cloths used in cleaning. Besides nature's aids to cleanness in the way of fresh air, sunshine and pure water, there are certain others. Some act chemically, while other act mechanically, removing ground in soil by the friction they afford.

Soap is merely alkali in a convenient form. Water decomposes the soap and the alkali thus set free attacks any dirt with which it may come in contact, making it soluble in water. It is more economical to buy a good all-purpose soap in quantity and let it dry out.
Hard soap "wastes" less rapidly in the water.

Next to soap the average housewife is next best acquainted, perhaps, with washing soda. This is also called sal-soda. It is comparatively cheap and has a way all its own of eating up grease and fatty matter. Care must be attended upon its use, for it acts severely upon the skin and is apt to give one sore hands.

To use washing soda properly dissolve one pound of it in a saucepan containing one quart of warm water. When cool, pour into jars or bottles and label "Sal-Soda Solution." One tablespoon of this solution is usually all that is needed to help clean a greasy pot. As much as a quarter of a cupful is added to a large dishpan full of water.

Aluminum pots, pans or other utensils should never be washed in water containing sal-soda. But the soda blackens aluminum. But the solution is excellent for grease and hard to clean things in general, and every housewife should have sal-soda solution on hand.

If you have hardwood floors you will want a mop and some floor oil among your equipment. Be sure you clean the mop and the outside of the bottle before storing it away.

Whitening should be used more generally than it is. Purchase ten-cents worth of whitening at the drug store. Put it into a crock or wide mouthed jar and label. A little whitening wet to a paste with cold water and applied to window glass or silver, may be, when dry, rubbed off with crushed newspaper or a soft cloth. A final polish to either glass or silver may be given with chamois skin. The latter should itself be washed and dried before being stored.

FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN SAYS TOUGAS

Ten Years of Indigestion Overcome And He Gains Twelve Pounds Taking Tanlac

"I have not only gained twelve pounds in weight by taking Tanlac, but am now free of a case of indigestion which has troubled me for ten years," recently declared Hector Tougas, who resides at 152 Chapleau, Montreal.

"Hardly a day used to pass without my suffering the worst kind of distress and pain on account of this stomach trouble," continued Mr. Tougas. "I was afraid to eat any breakfast because the way I suffered afterwards unfitted me for work, and the little I did eat at the other two meals would sour on my stomach and cause gas that bloated me up until I fairly had to fight for breath and my heart would palpitate frightfully. This palpitation was so bad at night that I couldn't sleep and would get up in the morning, tired and worn out. I was always having headaches and my nerves were so bad that I couldn't stand the slightest unusual noise. I became so weak and run-down, finally that I was often unable to put in a full day's work and had to go home."
"But I'm like a new man since I started taking Tanlac. Why, I now have such an appetite that I am hungry all the time and my digestion is so good that I can eat anything, even roast pork, which is a thing I haven't dared to touch for years. Now that the gas has stopped forming I don't have any more trouble with my heart and I'm glad to say that headaches are a thing of the past. My nerves are now as steady as steel and I sleep fine every night. It is a pleasure to recommend such a grand medicine as Tanlac and I hope all who may be suffering as I did will give it a trial, for I am sure it will do them good."

Tanlac is sold in Quebec by Jolicoeur's pharmacy; and by Martel and Dion; and in Levis by Maurice Dion; under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.
