Free dental care for Quebec children

- To cost $8 million
- Children under eight

QUEBEC (CP) — A program of free dental treatment for all children in Quebec under eight years old will go into effect May 1, Claude Forget, minister of social affairs, announced today.

The plan, expected to cost the province $8 million in its first year of operation, will cover about 600,000 Quebec children.

Mr. Forget told a news conference an agreement permitting the plan to go ahead was signed last week with the Association of Dental Surgeons of Quebec.

A similar agreement was signed last September with the Association of Oral Surgeons of Quebec, but the free dental care program could not be started until the dentists had also come to terms with the government.

"This is the first stage of the establishment of a complete program of dental health," Mr. Forget said, adding that extension of coverage to school age children and others would not be possible before a number of problems are overcome.

Extension of the plan to complete coverage would put "very, very considerable pressure on existing resources."

Limiting the initial coverage of the plan to children under eight years old "can be attributed to our wish to begin dental education and prevention as early as possible," Mr. Forget said.

The new plan will not require any increases in provincial medical health insurance contributions.

"UNDER-PRIVILEGED"

At the moment, Mr. Forget said, Quebec is "more or less under-privileged" in relation to other provinces in the ratio of dentists to population and also in the number of available dental hygienists.

However, he said later, a dental course at Laval University established three years ago will graduate its first dentists next year and dental hygiene courses at the province's junior colleges are being expanded.

The new dental care plan will cover all dental work on children in dentists offices or in hospitals including education in oral hygiene and use of preventive measures such as cleaning teeth and coating them with fluoride.

The social affairs minister said he hopes the new program will encourage dentists to set up practice in regions of the province which now have too few dentists or none at all.

"One of the aspects of the plan will be to favor the establishment of dentists in relatively under-privileged areas because it will be relatively easier under the plan to assure a minimum of revenue for dental care done on children under eight years old."

ONE SERVING 2,000

In 1971, the Montreal area averaged one dentist for every 2,000 residents while in some areas of the province such as the North Shore of the St. Lawrence River only one dentist served a population of 10,000 people.

Under the dental plan a dentist would receive $105.50 for a series of four visits by a child that included a complete examination, x-rays, tooth cleaning and filling of cavities.

Mr. Forget also told a news conference he intends to introduce legislation to encourage fluoridation of municipal water supplies but he could not give details of what the legislation would contain.

Similar legislation was introduced in 1972 but it got nowhere because there was stiff opposition from some elements in the province.

Meighen new PC national president

MICHAEL MEIGHEN

OTTAWA (CP) — A united, election-hungry Progressive Conservative party ended its general meeting Tuesday with one last standing ovation for Leader Robert Stanfield and a long round of cheers for Michael Meighen, the new national president.

Mr. Meighen, a 34-year-old lawyer from Montreal, toppled incumbent Don Matthews from the presidency in a hotly-contested campaign that reached every delegate.

Mr. Matthews, a construction company owner from London, Ont., campaigned on the theme of "we've only just begun" and asked for a chance to finish the work started when he was first elected in 1971.

Mr. Meighen, on the other hand, campaigned as "the right man, the right time" under the tacit approval of an outwardly-neutral Mr. Stanfield.

While that approval remained tacit throughout the three-day convention, it was fairly clear that Mr. Stanfield favored Mr. Meighen, a grandson of former prime minister Arthur Meighen.

Many of Mr. Stanfield's original supporters in the Conservative caucus worked actively in the Meighen campaign.

An important plank in Mr. Meighen's platform was his plan to rebuild the party in Quebec, where the Conservatives hold only three Commons seats.

Fluently-bilingual, Mr. Meighen pledged to show that Quebec is eager to do its part for the Conservatives, both now and in the next campaign.

Despite the heat generated by the presidential race, it provoked no apparent divisions in the party. The consensus appeared to be "let's get on with the job and dump Trudeau," as a candidate for the national executive put it.

Mr. Stanfield had two formal sessions before the assembled delegates. In one, a bipartisan Sunday night, he faced an audience of friendly questioners and was applauded on every answer.

Monday was the big night for the Conservative leader, however. In his keynote address he issued the call to battle, rousing loud applause with his declarations against the "coalition coalition" of the Liberals and the New Democrats.

Earlier, through manoeuvres in a meeting on constitutional amendments, the party had found itself voting on a leadership review—a process that resulted in an overwhelming, although expected, vote of confidence in Mr. Stanfield.

Mr. Stanfield and the caucus, as well as party officials, used the convention as a foundation for the next election campaign, sending the fired-up delegates home to spread confidence and election fever.

Although widely billed as a policy meeting, there are likely to be few major changes in Conservative policy.

Lalonde says cost too high Opposition presses for income plan

OTTAWA (CP) — The three opposition parties ganged up on the government Tuesday in support of a guaranteed annual income, but Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde said it would be too expensive.

Mr. Lalonde lit into a Social Credit proposal for cradle-to-grave payments to all Canadians.

Rene Matte (SC—Champlain) had said the proposal would cost only a few billion dollars more than current social programs. Mr. Lalonde told the Commons. But the minister worked out the cost at $26 to $27 billion.

That represented 125 per cent of current federal spending and would double all federal taxes, he added.

The debate was on Mr. Matte's motion which said the "House regrets that the government has taken no concrete steps to ensure the establishment of a guaranteed minimum annual income to overcome poverty in Canada and enable each Canadian citizen to cope with problems of rising prices and to fight inflation efficiently."

Conservative and NDP spokesmen rallied to the motion, which was introduced as a debating point and did not come to a vote.

SUGGESTS SCALE

Mr. Matte suggested each person receive $300 a year up to age 18 and $1,500 a year from 18 to 60. Individuals over 60 would receive $250 and their spouses an additional $200.

Special payments were proposed for special cases such as invalids and widows.

Mr. Lalonde denied that he opposes the guaranteed annual income idea. It already existed for old people in the form of old age pensions.

The government has tied these and other social programs to the cost of living. Mr. Lalonde said—a step provincial governments would do well to follow.

"This is insanity to talk about my dating you. We live more than a tank full of gas from each other."

MPs lament cost of living spiral

By DOUG SMALL

OTTAWA (CP) — Consider these four comments on the cost of living:

"I wouldn't want to raise another family under the conditions of today."

"I'm never sure in the supermarket whether I'll have enough to pay the cashier."

"I must admit that we win a bit when the kids tuck into a third helping of roast beef."

"At the end of the month, I have nothing left over."

Average consumers scraping by on minimum wages? No. The comments are those of four MPs, one from each of the parties represented in the Commons, and all earning at least $18,000 a year with another $8,000 in tax-free expenses. Among them they have a total of 37 children.

Liberal Joe Guay from the Winnipeg-area riding of St. Boniface is the father of seven. Only two children are at home, but he says it's "much tougher to raise a family now than it was eight or 10 years ago."

Newfoundland Conservative James McGrath (St. John's East) says he now takes $50 with him on his six or seven trips a month to the supermarket, compared with $30 a year ago. But he says he always is left wondering whether he'll have enough to pay the bill when he shops for his family of "nine if you include the dog."

MAKES SACRIFICES

New Democrat food critic Terry Grier (Toronto-Lake-shore) says his family of five has cut back on "some quality food purchases." While he, like Mr. McGrath, says he probably is in better shape than a lot of consumers, he admits that his family has had to make some sacrifices. Adrien Lambert (SC—Bellechasse), a farmer and father of 21, says the nine members of his family still at home go through $160 worth of groceries every week, up from $125 a week a year ago.

"To be honest, my salary is enough to provide a reasonable life with my family," Mr. Lambert says. "But there is never anything left over."

The four MPs represent the major regions—the Atlantic, Quebec, Ontario and the West. All say they have felt the 17-per cent rise in living costs during the last year.

Mr. Guay argues that Canadian living conditions remain "better than those anywhere else in the world," but admits that $10 buys only half a bag of groceries in Winnipeg.

Mr. McGrath, his party's food critic, says his monthly grocery bill has risen by $100 during the last year.

NEVER ENOUGH

After deductions, he says, he takes home $1,000 a month.

"And there's never enough—I don't know how we do it."

Mr. Grier, who spends about $50 a week on food and household items, says his family has been affected in little ways.

"We used to go through 22 quarts of milk a week, a lot of it chocolate milk."

Now his children use chocolate mix and milk powder for their favorite drink.

His party says the food prices review board should be given the power to roll back price increases.

Mr. Lambert says it's all a matter of corporate profit.

"Consumers are exploited; farmers are exploited."

It was time to give the food prices review board enough power to keep prices down.

"All the board does now is watch prices rise, and the consumer gets no good from it all."

Beef policy causes commotion

Government action intended to help beef producers during bad times resulted Tuesday in an uproar in the beef industry, a call for an emergency debate in the Commons and the suspension of livestock trading in Calgary.

And the return to producers, at some points, had not increased, despite the federal subsidy intended to help them.

A spokesman for the Winnipeg Public Stockyards said the federal subsidy program has created so much confusion that packing housing are bidding down the price of steers by up to $7 a hundred-weight—same as the amount of the subsidy—to protect themselves.

Beef prices in Calgary dropped by about $5 Tuesday, causing the livestock exchange to suspend trading until the situation is sorted out.

In Ottawa, Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan hinted that the government might raise the subsidy to beef farmers to $9 from the current $7.

He told reporters the government is looking at all aspects of the four-day-old program in an effort to make it work smoothly.

One way or the other, he said, the government is determined to "get the confusion out of the market."

The government implemented the subsidy to help domestic cattlemen through a period of depressed beef prices, driven down from record levels by volumes of cheaper U.S. beef.

PACKERS MUST PAY

The subsidy is supposed to be paid to beef producers such as ranchers by processors and packers. They must give the producer the going prices for his beef, plus the subsidy which is equal to seven cents a pound on the four top grades of beef.

But, said Arthur E. Jans, manager of Canada Packers in Calgary, packers are reluctant to buy beef under these conditions because of "the danger of losing a bundle."

"The situation is too confusing at this point," In Alberta, Agriculture Minister Hugh Horner said federal intervention in the livestock prices "broke the market completely" and was not helping beef producers to the extent intended.

In Swift Current, Sask., Don Perrin, secretary-manager of the Saskatchewan Stock Growers Association, said consumers may get a slight reduction in prices from the subsidy but will have to pay out "huge sums in tax money."

In Ottawa, rancher Bert Hargrave, Conservative member for Medicine Hat, said cattlemen who sold Monday lost between four and five cents a pound.

The New Democrat farm critic, Alf Gleave, urged an emergency debate but the request was ruled out of order.

Rising world prices help

Sugar-beet farmers off to best year

By JOSEPH MA

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., (CP) — Sugar-beet farmers in southern Alberta are heading for one of their best years as a result of the rising world price for sugar.

Most of the sugar consumed in Alberta and Saskatchewan comes from sugar beets grown on 40,000 acres in the Lethbridge area.

One of two remaining sugar-beet operations in Canada, it produces 600,000 tons of beets which yield 150 million pounds of sugar each year.

The other sugar-beet operation, much smaller, is in the Winnipeg area.

"If the present prices continue, you will receive for the 1973 crop the highest return per ton of beets ever received by Alberta growers," Lalovee Jensen of Magrath, president of the Alberta Sugar Beet Growers Association, told the association's annual meeting.

But Mr. Jensen, also president of the Canadian Sugar Beet Growers Association, said in an interview that Alberta's sugar-beet farmers deserve higher returns.

STUCK WITH CROP Sugar is subject to wide price fluctuations but Alberta growers stuck with the crop when the going was tough.

Sugar beets were once grown in southern Ontario, Mr. Jensen said, but "Ontario sugar beet producers once thought that they would rather grow corn than beets because it was easier."

"Today, even though corn prices are at record levels, the old Ontario growers realize that they made a mistake and have asked the Canadian sugar beet producers to help them get a sugar factory back into their growing area."

All the beets produced in southern Alberta are processed and sold by Canadian Sugar Factories Ltd. of Lethbridge, a subsidiary of B.C. Sugar Co.

Dwight Purdy, general manager of the factory, said sugar in Canada was about 22 cents a pound in January, 1974, up from an average of 15 cents in 1973.

But sugar was 21 cents a pound 10 years ago, and once dropped to nine cents a pound in the 1960s.

IMPORT CAVE Mr. Purdy and Mr. Jensen both emphasize that the prices of beet sugar follow world prices, as most Canadians eat imported cane sugar.

"Beet sugar only accounts for 10 per cent of the total sugar consumed in Canada," Mr. Purdy said.

About 1,000 farmers are growing sugar beets in southern Alberta. During the harvest season each fall, seasonal labor, mostly Indians, is hired. The factory and the growers hired 2,200 laborers last year.

The payments farmers receive for their beets vary with the prices of sugar sold by the factory, Mr. Purdy said.

Farmers receive 63 per cent, and the factory 37 per cent, from the sale of the sugar.

BEAT WORLD PRICE

Beet sugar is sold at slightly less than the current Canadian prices of cane sugar, plus differentials in freight costs, to make it competitive, Mr. Purdy said.

The association has asked that a new floor price of $25 a ton for sugar beets be established to ensure producers an adequate return should world prices fall drastically.

Actually, at current prices, sugar beets bring about $50 a ton, Mr. Jensen said, "but we have to have protection should things turn in the other direction."

The floor price has been $16, but world prices have been fluctuating so much that the federal government has not decided on a new price.

Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Continued profit-taking Tuesday sent prices on the Toronto stock market down sharply for the third straight day. Mining shares moved against the trend, with golds recording their best gains in more than a week.

Trading was moderate.

The industrial index, considered the main indicator of market trend, was off 2.18 to 222.78, bringing its total loss for the last three sessions to about five points.

The index had a two-point drop Monday following news that the Arab oil embargo to the U.S. will be lifted. Analysts said markets had risen for weeks in anticipation of the lifting, and the formal announcement provided a cue to take profits.

Toronto's gold index rose 23.9 to 553.90 in response to higher prices for the metal. The base metal index was up .87 to 106.24 while western oils dropped 4.41 to 264.15.

TARA GAINS

Cominco said it is still compiling results for its $25-a-share offer for the outstanding stock of Tara Exploration. Tara was up 3½ to $27, and Cominco was off ½ to $32½.

Mattagami Lake Mines said because of rapidly rising costs, it is increasing the estimated cost of expanding its electrolytic zinc plant at Valleyfield, Que., to more than $45 million, compared with an earlier estimate of $30 million. The stock was off 1½ to $32½.

Federal Pioneer reported higher 1973 earnings, and the class A stock was up ½ to $23½.

Among gold shares, Campbell Red Lake rose 1½ to $85, Sigma 1½ to $37, Camflo 1½ to $20½ and Pamour 1½ to $15½.

In industrials, ITT fell 8½ to $24½, Falconbridge Nickel 2½ to $61½, Aquitaine 1½ to $30, Andres Wines 1½ to $19½ and General Motors 1½ to $50½.

New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined broadly for the second straight session Tuesday as the profit taking set off by the end of the Arab oil embargo continued.

The Dow Jones average closed at 867.57, down 6.65 adding to Monday's loss of 13.61 points.

Losers overwhelmed gainers by nearly 3-to-1 on the New York Stock Exchange. Volume was a sluggish 12.80 million shares.

Analysts said the market apparently had digested fully the news of the embargo's end in advance as it rallied over the past several weeks. After a siege of profit taking in the wake of the formal announcement Monday, stock prices appeared to be seeking a new direction.

Brokers also linked some of Tuesday's decline to concern among investors over the recent upturn in short-term interest rates.

Twentieth-Century Fox was the most-active issue, climbing ½ to $9½.

Gold silver issues gained sharply. Homestake Mining rose 3 to $89½, International Mining 1½ to $19½, Rosario Resources 2½ to $53½ and Newmont Mining 1½ to $32.

Giant Yellowknife Mines, the American Stock Exchange volume leader, climbed 1 to $22½.

National Industries, which reported a large gain in 1973 operating earnings, gained ¾ to $5. The declines extended to most airline, auto, steel, retailing, and electronics issues. Oils were notable losers, with Exxon off 1½ to $84½, Standard Oil of Indiana 1½ to $94½ and Standard of California ¾ to $30½.

Seaboard World Airways, which reported lower 1973 earnings and a January loss, slipped ¾ to $4½.

Motorcycle gang war saved two criminals

SHERBROOKE (CC) — The Gitan and Atoime motorcycle gangs may not know it, but they did two fellow criminals a good deed Friday evening.

Police continue to hunt two men who fired at least two shots in the direction of Sherbrooke police in the north ward that night.

A police net, which was slowly closing in on the two men near the King street west shopping centre, had to be called off when the Atoime-Gitan warfare erupted.

According to a police spokesman, two municipal policemen noticed a suspicious car parked in the shopping centre. As the two policemen approached, the car sped off, finally being trapped after a wild chase on a dead-end part of Fraser street.

The two men jumped from their car and escaped on foot, directing at least two shots in the direction of police. The area was cordoned off and a search began when the violent and bloody battle between Sherbrooke's rival motorcycle gangs started.

Police are continuing their investigation into the north ward incident. They believe that the two men may have been preparing a robbery.

RRHS presents comedy

RICHMOND — Rehearsals are now in full swing for "Cyrano de Bergerac," a romantic comedy written by Edmond Rostand, being presented by Richmond Regional High School. The production, under the direction of Robert McGee, will be presented on March 28, 29 and 30 at 8 p.m.

Students, teachers and various members of the community have been busily pooling their talents in order to create the atmosphere and setting appropriate to a 17th century version of the eternal triangle.

The principal characters, Cyrano — the tragic lover with the face of a clown; Christian — Cyrano's handsome rival; and Roxanne — the fair lady who receives the love of both men, are portrayed by Philip Sonneveld, Randal Goodfellow and Chantall Martel respectively.

They, along with the rest of the cast, have been working since January to produce a never-to-be-forgotten evening of entertainment. Come out and support them; it will be worth your while!

...City beat...

Sherbrooke council was told Monday night that it is nearly impossible to permit parking during non-rush hour periods on certain city streets. Council was contemplating to allow the Elks Club members to park in no parking areas along Montreal street outside of peak hours.

Debate arose when certain councillors mentioned that cities such as Montreal and Quebec ban parking during peak periods but allow it during hours when traffic is less dense.

However, council was informed that there are not enough city policemen to make sure that such regulations governing parking hours on certain streets could be adhered to. City technical director-general Frank Mascolo told council that already certain policemen have to be paid overtime to direct traffic at busy intersections during rush hours.

There are not enough constables to see that no cars are left in the no parking zones which might have special parking privileges outside of rush hour periods. Mr. Mascolo added that if cars were left in those zones during peak periods traffic would be even more congested than it presently is.

Council, therefore, decided to deny the Elks Club request. Moreover, it also put a halt to further demands from persons affected by similar situations.

Council suggested that the Elks Club negotiate with officials of Plymouth Church for the use of its parking lot.

HANDICAPPED MAKE REQUEST

Council responded to a request from local handicapped persons to help remove architectural barriers which prevent the handicapped in wheelchairs from moving around the city. The request was submitted by the Sherbrooke Regional Welfare Council.

The Council asked that ramps be placed on city sidewalks at intersections to allow persons in wheelchairs to move up onto the sidewalk. They also asked the city to install ramps at municipal buildings.

Council decided they could do nothing with existing sidewalks and buildings — the cost would be too high. However, council agreed to heed the request in future sidewalks and buildings. In addition, when an old sidewalk is repaired, the ramp will be installed where possible.

BUDGET APPROPRIATIONS

Council made the necessary budget appropriations to grant the Sherbrooke Minor Soccer Association $1,600 for the coming season. The money will be used for paying game officials and to organize a tournament.

The city had, at first, refused the grant request from minor soccer officials. However, after it granted money to the local minor hockey association to pay game officials, the city was forced to do the same for soccer.

The grant will come from funds which were originally designated for the operation and repair of the Mont Bellview municipal ski centre.

INTERSECTION DISCUSSED

Council also spent considerable time discussing the Galt Boulevard University intersection. It approved a plan calling for another separation barrier at the intersection and the type of traffic lights to be installed.

It also decided to ban a left turn from Ypres street onto Galt when the lights are finally installed. Due to unfavorable delivery dates for traffic lights, city officials estimate it will be another 18 months before lights are installed.

MAPS OVERPRINTED

One of the interesting foul-ups which the city had to contend with Monday was street maps. At present there are two maps of Sherbrooke available. One is given free while the other, which is more complex and offers tourist information, costs $1.

The city agreed to allow a private printer, Raymond Gaudet, the exclusive right to prepare and print the $1 maps. However, when the city gave Mr. Gaudet the exclusive right more than a year ago, it agreed only to purchase as many maps as it deemed necessary.

Somewhere between 2-3,000 maps have been sold to date. However, Mr. Gaudet printed 22,000 and has been left with more than 18,000 on hand.

He has offered to sell them to the city for $0.67 1/2 each. Council decided to negotiate a global price for that is left. They did not agree to buy the maps but only to determine a price.

Mayor Marc Bureau described the maps as "the most beautiful in Quebec." City public relations official Andre Collard recommended the city purchase the maps and sell them at a reduced price throughout the city.

Some councillors, however, only want to purchase the maps as needed, in lots of 3,000. No decision will be taken until city officials return to council chambers with a new price for total purchase.

TWO BYLAWS PASSED

Council passed two bylaws at Monday's regular meeting. The first concerned zoning regulations in the city's industrial park. The second was for the issue of bonds to finance $2,043,750 worth of municipal public works projects and purchases.

The industrial park bylaw is designed to safeguard the beauty and land values of properties in the industrial site. It allows areas for the construction of office buildings, clean industries and other types of industries. It also outlines noise control and building and parking specifications.

The second bylaw was passed to finance mostly water and sewage public works projects which are to be undertaken this summer. However, some of the funds will be used to finance fire hydrant installations and traffic lights.

Other arraignments to come Prosecution awaits coroner's inquest

SHERBROOKE (CC) — A Crown prosecutor said yesterday he is awaiting a coroner's inquest before charging five more motorcycle gang members in connection with the weekend's bloody battle — but the coroner claims he hasn't been asked to hold one.

Michel Cote, prosecutor in charge of the legal proceeding following the weekend battle between the Gitan and Atoime motorcycle gangs which left two dead and six seriously injured, said yesterday that there will be no more arraignments until after the coroner's inquest.

Two Atoime gang members, Rejean Gilbert, 21, of Sherbrooke, and Jean Noel Roy, 20, of Coaticook, as well as Gitan member Charles Filteau, 20, of Sherbrooke, were arraigned in St. Francis District Court of Queen's Bench on attempted murder charges Tuesday.

Police continue to hold five other members in the Winter street jail on a coroner's warrant issued by St. Francis District Coroner Dr. Louis Gagnon. The warrant is renewable and is valid for eight days.

Dr. Gagnon, when informed that the prosecutor claimed to be awaiting the results of a coroner's inquest, said that he had not been asked to hold one.

A day earlier the coroner claimed that he didn't believe an inquest was needed if the crown had enough evidence to proceed to arraignment.

"But if he (Mr. Cote) wants an inquest, then we will have one," Dr. Gagnon said. "I haven't been asked for one yet."

"I have no idea when it will be held," he added. "It is up to the prosecutor to organize it. I will wait until he contacts me."

Police detectives, along with court officials, worked throughout the day Tuesday preparing evidence to be presented at a preliminary bail hearing for the three already charged. The bail hearing has been set by Judge Thomas Toth for Thursday morning.

A senior police detective admitted yesterday that a move will be made to prevent the three from being allowed free on bail pending trial.

Prosecutor Cote was non-committal, saying that the Crown will present its case on Thursday.

No other arrests have yet been made, according to a police spokesman, although the investigation is continuing.

PQ answers critics on Sherbrooke's new city charter

SHERBROOKE (MI) — Local population to live in a true Parti Quebecois executive democracy," stated Huguette O'Neil and Jean-Jacques Lafontaine, presidents of the St. Francois and Sherbrooke executives, respectively.

Their discussion centered primarily on their recommendation that the council be comprised of a mayor and 10 city councillors, each representing a separate segment of Sherbrooke's population.

The city's proposal calls for the 10 councillors to be elected from the North, East and West wards on the basis of the three most preferable candidates in each ward, plus one candidate from the central ward.

Citing improved relations between councillors and their constituents, less costly campaigns when played before 4,000 rather than 12,000 voters, and the improved chances of electing the best candidate when there are no slates, the executive committees supported their contention that all councillors should represent separate wards.

Against a city councillor's objection that such wards would create municipal fiefs, the executives replied that the wards would do just the opposite; that is, guarantee against the creation of special interest bases for councillors.

The county executive committees remarked also that representing small constituencies does not imply that councillors are unable to work for the city's general good, as some critics suggest.

Pleads guilty to assault

Jean Jacques Grenier, Frost Village, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault on the person of Jacques Briand in South Stukely, March 3.

According to Grenier, the ruckus started when Mr. Briand allegedly pushed him and he said he retaliated hitting the victim two or three times.

Under questioning by Crown prosecutor Claude Noisieux it was proven Mr. Briand was the owner of the "Ti Canoe" Hotel. Mr. Noisieux then cited Mr. Briand suffered a fractured nose and lacerations.

Mr. Noisieux suggested a minimum fine of $100 and costs, plus a jail term, probation for one year with an order not to enter any hotels in South Stukely during the same period.

Judge Genest sentenced Grenier to four weekends in jail, and agreed to the other requests of the crown. In default of payment of the fine Grenier will spend an additional 30 days behind bars. He was granted one month to acquit the fine.

The crown produced one witness in the preliminary hearing of Ronald Frank, Montreal. Frank, a former bank employee, was sent to the next term of the local assizes on counts of fraud and breaking and entering; both at the Cowansville branch of the Bank of Montreal.

Defence attorney Jacques Meunier told the court his client had nothing to say, nor any witnesses to be heard, during voluntary statement.

Wilfrid "Babou" Gagnon, Granby, was sent to the next term of the local assizes following preliminary hearing on

WINDSOR-BROMPTON SCHOOL MAINTAINED

The St. Francis Protestant School Board is considering the feasibility of maintaining operation of the Windsor-Brompton School during 1974-75.

Although the board had previously declared its intentions of closing the school because of limited enrolment and high costs, the Mission d'Esprit Saint approached the board with an offer to share operating costs. At present, negotiations are still underway. Wendell Sparkes, director-general of the board, expects a final decision next week.

The Windsor-Brompton School serves francophone Protestants. Next year's registrations in the school are forecast at only 29.

SPECIAL EDUCATION IN DRUMMONDVILLE

The St. Francis Protestant School Board has expressed concern that it will be unable to offer special education classes in its Drummondville school, Wendell Sparkes, the board's director-general, said recently that the board had awaited confirmation for its 1973-74 special education program until October or November 1973.

He hoped that the government would reach a decision by May for next year, noting that all students presently in the school will be of elementary school age, and hence likely to return, next year.

CENSUS BY ST. FRANCIS BOARD

The St. Francis Protestant School Board is gearing up for its annual efforts toward enumeration of a census for next year's operation. The count will be utilized for purposes of taxation and elections of school commissioners. Three of the board's nine commissioners will be up for re-election this year.

ST. FRANCIS DELEGATION TO ETRSB

The delegation of powers to the Eastern Townships Regional School Board by the St. Francis Protestant School Board has encountered a snag. Wendell Sparkes, director-general of both boards, recently told The Record that government officials had rejected the resolution on grounds that it was technically unclear. The resolution was similar to those passed in previous years, Mr. Sparkes declared.

TRAVEL EXHIBITION AT GRANBY CEGEP

Four undergraduates in tourist technology, at the College de Sherbrooke Granby campus, in concert with a local travel agency, will present a travel exhibition for the population of Granby.

To be held March 24 in the Grand-Bien Motel, in Granby, the seminar will group airline representatives prepared to answer questions and give film presentations, between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

From 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., lectures will be given on Russia, Mexico and Tunisia, and the atmosphere of several countries will be created. Entrance is free.

Yogi-master lectures

SHERBROOKE (MI) — Sri Chinmoy, a yogi-master from India, will conduct a meditation and answer questions in the auditorium of the University of Sherbrooke education building on Thursday, March 21 at 12:30 p.m.

Sri Chinmoy, who holds weekly meditations in the chapel of the United Nations building in New York, has twice had audiences with Pope Paul, as well as U Thant and the late Pablo Casals.

A prolific writer, he is the author of many books, poetry, short stories, plays and essays on various aspects of spiritual philosophy and life. He has also composed hundreds of moving spiritual songs.

Cautious of the mind's foils, Sri Chinmoy remarks: "All negative things first attack the mind. The heart is much purer. Even if you have fear or jealousy in the heart, the good qualities of the heart — affection, love, devotion, surrender — come forward."

A believer in the sameness of all beings' goals, he contends that there are many roads to the goal and that each individual must select the road he follows.

"It is up to you to select the road and then walk along the road, but not to change the road every day. If you change the road every day, then you will never reach the Goal," he declares.

There will be no admission fee for persons attending the presentation.

Twin blows

The twin blows, from the United States and Britain, dealt recently to the European Economic Community had such a devastating effect that one wonders how much will be left of Atlantic unity. The British speech from the throne that confirmed Prime Minister Wilson's pre-election resolution to move towards the EEC door marked "Exit Only" was fully expected. Not expected was the compound blow dealt the Community by President Nixon.

In the ensuing mess, any hopes that Mr. Wilson's socialist friends in Europe may yet deflect the Labor government from its purpose have all but vanished. The new Labor foreign secretary, James Callaghan, is known for his strong anti-EEC prejudices, which will be further confirmed by similar prejudices held by his closest European friend, Helmut Schmidt, Chancellor Brandt's finance minister.

Dr. Schmidt has never approved of what he considers an excessive kow-towing to the French on the part of his colleague the German foreign minister, Walter Scheel. He must feel particularly bitter about Dr. Scheel's latest initiative that has caused Mr. Nixon to announce that all work on the long-planned declaration of co-operation between the United States and the EEC is to be discontinued.

Dr. Scheel was not present at the energy conference in Washington where in his absence Dr. Schmidt led the German delegation and lined up all the Europeans and Japanese on the side of the United States against France. Whereupon Dr. Scheel tried to soothe France's hurt feelings and shepherded the EEC members into accepting a joint instrument of co-operation between the EEC and the 20 Arab states.

The co-operation was to be in "all domains," but the domains were carefully spelled out and dealt solely with economics and never with politics. This, Dr. Scheel believed, would satisfy the French, keep the Community intact and not offend State Secretary Kissinger.

Instead, the "go-it-alone" European declaration has aroused an Achillean wrath within the breasts of both Mr. Nixon and Dr. Kissinger, a wrath magnified by Sunday's failure of the Egyptians to sway the Arab states into resuming oil shipments to the United States. Dr. Kissinger has always maintained that a united stand alone can make an impression on the Middle East oil producers.

The moment the Arabs perceive a break in the consumers' front their attitudes will harden. Dr. Scheel's attempt to appease the French by appealing the Arabs was a flagrant breach of the united stand — as indeed would have been obvious to anybody but Dr. Scheel. Hence Mr. Nixon's complaint to Mr. Brandt.

The shambles is complete. The two-pillar structure of Atlantic unity, once envisaged by John Kennedy, has been shattered, probably beyond repair. The extent of the devastation can only be gauged by the high hopes that existed as late as December for a new Atlantic charter to be proclaimed on NATO's 25th anniversary next month.

It was to be a charter that would enunciate the principles of the alliance in a way that would fit modern realities as well as appeal to the younger generation that has not known the acute menace to our way of life extant at the time the alliance came into being. Uncounted diplomat-hours have been expended on the drafting of this charter. One wonders what impact it will make, even if the divergencies are patched up and it is proclaimed after all.

Dr. Kissinger, who has said he has bigger problems with America's friends than with her enemies, sees all his patient work in the Middle East founder on the shoals of Dr. Scheel's meddling, and on France's hollow concept of self-assertiveness. The Syrians have not arrived in Washington to negotiate with Israel as promised, and the prospects of the Middle East peace conference in Geneva are receding beyond the horizon.

Instead, following the visit to Damascus of the Soviet foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, the Syrians have deployed a thousand tanks on the Golan Heights.

Portuguese colony
scene of ugly war

A mini-revolt erupted in Portugal's army last week after the firing of a general who maintains there is no military solution to uprisings in Portugal's African possessions. An AP correspondent who visited one of these possessions brought out this report.

By LARRY HEINZERLING
BISSAU, Portuguese Guinea (AP) — Portuguese officials still joke about letters they receive here congratulating them on Portuguese Guinea's "independence."

The letters from well-wishers in North America apparently were prompted by the announced creation of the independent state of "Guinea-Bissau" by Soviet-backed rebels fighting black Africa's hottest guerrilla war.

But most of Portuguese Guinea, first occupied by the Portuguese more than 500 years ago, remains under the administrative and military control of Lisbon.

The confusion arises because of conflicting claims in a strident propaganda war between the Portuguese and the insurgents who have been fighting a hit-and-run war of independence for 11 years.

The rebels are led by the African Party for the Independence of Guinea and Cape Verde Islands (PAIGC), which operates from a string of supply bases along the open frontiers with neighboring Senegal and the independent Republic of Guinea.

The claim control of two-thirds of Portuguese Guinea's 14,000 square miles and about half the population.

Typically, both sides reject the other's figures on population, which the Portuguese claim is about 500,000 and the rebels say is close to 800,000.

TOWNS PROTECTED

The rebels acknowledge that Portugal controls the major towns and villages, which are protected by a network of military garrisons.

Last September, the PAIGC announced the creation of the independent state of "Guinea-Bissau," which it said was carved out of "liberated areas" of Portuguese Guinea.

The United Nations General Assembly and more than 70 countries, mostly from the Communist bloc and Africa, have recognized the rebel government.

"No one controls the sparsely populated areas," said one Portuguese official in Bissau.

The rebels acknowledge as much by not naming a permanent site for an administrative capital—which would become an immediate bombing target—in the liberated areas they claim to control.

The rebels cannot use the Portuguese-built roads in the areas they claim, cannot land planes, have no motor vehicles and do not build permanent structures.

"Land is not important in this subversive war," an officer in Bissau said. "The people are important."

The Portuguese in recent years have been assiduously courting Portuguese Guinea's 30 or so tribes.

In a shift of policy in 1968 aimed at fighting the rebels on their own ground, Gen. Antonio de Spínola, the former governor and military commander of the region, ordered a two-pronged program of reform and security.

FIRED FOR VIEWS

Gen Spínola was fired from his military post in Lisbon last week because he said the Lisbon government could not end the uprisings in its African territories through military means.

Portugal's army began building schools, hospitals and roads and pumping funds into rural development in a campaign aimed at showing the benefits of Portuguese rule.

The other half of the program was to provide security from rebel attack through a strategic hamlet program. Populations were resettled where they could be protected by Portuguese regular forces and village self-defence units.

To give the population it controlled more freedom to voice complaints and express its needs, Spínola pushed for the creation of an all-black legislative assembly, called the People's Congress.

The legislature has limited powers and Lisbon still has the last word on virtually everything.

The PAIGC claims the reforms would not have been introduced were it not for the rebel movement.

Mantle of Louis XIV

Sir: Robert Bourassa puts on the mantle of Louis XIV and proclaims "le jour de gloire est arrivé."

Just recently he was elected to office by Canadians who wanted to protect their heritage of freedom from destruction at the hands of chauvinistic separatists.

Our Canadian Constitution guarantees the right of all citizens to the use of French and English. Parents possess the inalienable right to choose either language, or indeed both, for the education of their children.

It is only because of the machinations of certain anti-Canadian elements in our society as well as the urgings during meetings with representatives from Gaullist France that they have arrogated to themselves power parallel to that of the Federal Government.

The added threat of coercion by using our own tax money to blackmail business into using only French as the language of work is shocking to say the least.

Pierre Trudeau posed here in Montreal as the defender of Canada and now turns his back on his electors and says that Quebec politicians may create a separatist, unilingual ghetto and be financially helped by the rest of Canada!

This country, notre beau pays, cannot long endure part free and part subjected to cultural genocide. If Canadians do not stand up now in our beautiful province we shall be stricken with the curse of Europe — provincial chauvinism. Do we really want to suffer the fate of Ulster or become another Belgium?

Non, mes amis, nos droits sont à nous. If our MLA's try to sell us out in Quebec City, they should be recalled by the electorate.

Further, court action should be considered against Bourassa by all free-minded citizens; ceux qui parlent français autant que ceux qui parlent anglais.

Trudeau's cynical game of bilingualism in Ottawa and unilingualism in Quebec is most reprehensible and calls for impeachment.

It is also important to remember the belief of other democratic people — "No taxation without representation."

As long as Canada and freedom exist so will the French language in our land but to try to force Canadians into a Ghetto français will only bring on the demise of the country we love so well.

World's food supply at lowest level

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world's cupboard is nearly bare. Known grain reserves are down to less than two months' supply, lowest on record.

With the buffer against hunger so thin, a major crop failure this summer would spark an accelerated surge in food prices around the world.

In the opinion of many analysts, the situation might lead to global food panic.

The U.S. agriculture department predicts record world crops in the months ahead, and some easing of the shortage. But the forecast is highly uncertain.

President Nixon and other officials publicly talk of the food problem and the energy crisis as twins. Food is the other crisis.

The Nixon administration is uncertain how to deal with it. Congress is divided. For the immediate future, only good weather and good luck can help.

Symptoms of the situation are widespread. Grocery prices in the U.S. went up 14.5 per cent last year. The agriculture department predicts they will rise another eight to 15 per cent this year. Senator George McGovern (Dem. S.D.) foresees a 30-percent increase.

TIGHTENED BELTS

Faced with higher prices, Americans trimmed their grocery buying more sharply last year than at any time in the previous 40 years. They tightened their belts and ate less meat, fish and poultry.

Wheat prices rose from less than $1.50 a bushel before the 1972 Russian wheat sale to $2.50 last July and up to $6 recently. Farm income hit a record $26 billion last year, and farmers continued bidding up the price of crop land and new farm machinery.

In the commodity markets, grain futures gyrated wildly. Overseas, famine claimed the lives of thousands in central Africa. Grain shortages loom in India, where U.S. Ambassador Patrick Moynihan is predicting famine within the coming months.

Official estimates suggest this summer's crops will more than feed the world's expanding and increasingly affluent population, leaving enough to begin restocking severely depleted food reserves.

BASED ON ASSUMPTIONS

But these estimates are based on a number of assumptions that might prove faulty. "The range of uncertainties can hardly be minimized," concedes one government statistical report. "Admittedly, there are great uncertainties," says the president's international economic report.

What the government economists assume, in making their forecast of bounty, is that farmers will plant as much as they say, that the world's weather will be normal, that a developing fertilizer shortage will not cut deeply into crop yields and that mechanized farmers will get enough fuel.

At least one of these assumptions may already be invalid. One non-government agricultural economist, who asked not to be named, said he saw first-hand evidence on a recent Asian trip that lack of fertilizer is affecting rice crops.

Odds favor Nixon: Jimmy the Greek

WASHINGTON — Jimmy the Greek Snyder, the famous Las Vegas odds-maker, is giving odds that President Nixon will not be impeached by the House of Representatives.

The Greek has never called a presidential election wrong since the Truman-Dewey upset in 1948. Because of his uncanny accuracy, we published Jimmy's political odds exclusively throughout the 1972 campaign.

Early in February, the Greek wrote a personal letter to each member of the House of Representatives. He enclosed a confidential poll card and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. By this week, he had received a phenomenal 70.4 per cent response.

Of those representatives who responded, 91 checked the box indicating they were "against" impeachment of the President. Sixty-four favored impeachment. Twenty-four "leaned toward" impeachment; 23 "leaned against." Seventy-five marked the "undecided" box.

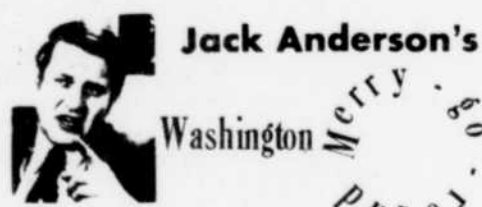

In addition to the poll cards, Jimmy received personal letters from 28 representatives who explained they had not made up their minds on the impeachment question because they had not heard the evidence. The Greek dropped these into the "undecided" column, bringing that total to 103.

Using these figures and a dash of black magic, Jimmy has painstakingly calculated his odds, which were figured two days before the most recent Watergate indictments were handed down. Says the Greek: "I personally figured the odds are now 50 to 1 that Nixon will not be impeached by the House."

Jimmy then took his figures to his own computer expert, who put the odds at 100 to 1 against impeachment. The odds against both impeachment and conviction, says the Greek, are a prohibitive 1000 to 1 against.

Footnote: Jimmy hastens to emphasize that his odds reflect the political situation as it existed in early March. Any new indictments or Watergate exposes, he says, could drastically alter the figures.

Waiting Counterfeits: Federal investigators have picked up reports that counterfeiters are licking their lips over the prospect of reproducing phony gas ration coupons.

Three counterfeiters in the New York area alone, according to the confidential reports, are anticipating a big business in counterfeit coupons.

One of the three firms originally selected by the federal government to print 1.1 billion gas rationing coupons lost six bins of securities three years ago to Mafia stock thieves. Ever since this horrendous heist, millions worth of spurious stocks, bonds and other securities have been appearing all over the world.

The company whose securities were raided, Jeffries Banknote of Los Angeles, has now lost the contract to print gas coupons. It's not that the government fears its coupons will be carted off by the bin load, for the company's security is tighter now. But the Jeffries presses can't handle the special coupon work.

The Federal Energy Office had hoped that the Bureau of Engraving, which has had only one substantial loss in some 25 years, could print all 4.8 billion coupons, a three-month supply.

But the Bureau of Engraving could handle only 3.7 billion of the coupons in time. The three private printers, therefore, were approached.

Jeffries dropped out a few weeks ago. The second company, American Banknote, once temporarily lost $500,000 in Bank of Mexico notes to thieves and was robbed of $250,000 from its English plant. But for almost 10 years its permanent losses in the United States have totaled less than $10,000. U.S. Banknote, the third company, has had virtually no losses.

Several shipments of bank notes have been diverted or plundered, however, after they left the safety of the banknote firms themselves. These stolen securities subsequently have been sold or used as collateral by organized crime.

Federal agents, meanwhile, are working out techniques to try to forestall similar thefts of gas coupons.

Footnote: To keep tabs on the problem, Senate Investigations Chairman Henry Jackson, D-Wash., has assigned his Mafia specialist, Philip Manuel, to quietly check out the plants and their delivery systems. The Nixon Administration still hopes, meanwhile, that rationing won't be necessary.

Smuggled Antiquities: The Smithsonian Institution, which has scolded art dealers for plundering antiquities from foreign lands, is about to acquire a barn load of looted treasures itself.

The Smithsonian's aristocratic Secretary S. Dillon Ripley has been preaching to the museum world against "illicit, international traffic in antiquities." Dealers, he declared, are "the pimps of the profession."

One dealer, for instance, was caught with a tribal African god to the outrage of the tribe from whom it was stolen. And the Metropolitan Museum in New York was exposed as the owner of a "hot" Greek urn smuggled from Italy to the United States.

While holding himself above such dirty dealings, however, Ripley has been salivating over the fabulous collection of Joseph Hirshhorn, the tough old stock market operator. His treasures, which include hundreds of antiquities from abroad, will soon be turned over to the Smithsonian.

In the Hirshhorn Collection are stone sculptures torn from a Mayan temple, plus Turkish, Italian and Nigerian treasures. All these lands have strict laws against removal of their relics.

A Smithsonian spokesman assured us that the Hirshhorn trustees will comb through every antiquity and return any which were clearly ripped off from foreign lands. The search will begin when the collection is turned over to the Smithsonian.

May we help you?

Getting the greatest value for your food dollar does not mean simply saving dollars and cents, but also assuring yourself at all times of a healthful diet that's within your budget.

Assisting you in this task is our constant aim. And to accomplish this in the field of nutrition, we are availing ourselves of the resources of a number of dietitians who share the same idea with us, which is helping to instruct consumers about the importance of a sound diet and the nutritional value of the foods offered to them.

Mrs. Louise Lambert-Lagacé, a dietitian and the author of 2 volumes entitled LA BOÎTE À LUNCH (THE LUNCH-BOX) and LA DIÉTÉTIQUE DANS LA VIE QUOTIDIENNE (DIETETICS IN EVERYDAY LIFE), has considerably helped us in planning the role we can play as a part of the food industry. Mrs. Lambert-Lagacé, who has worked for several years in the field of nutrition, offers us her advice in a manner at once simple, easy and fascinating.

In her book, LA DIÉTÉTIQUE DANS LA VIE QUOTIDIENNE (DIETETICS IN EVERYDAY LIFE), Mrs. Lambert-Lagacé writes:

"An individual's instinct and tastes in food are not sufficient to answer the body's needs.

The body has very exacting requirements and, in order to meet them, a thorough understanding of foods is an absolute necessity. To enjoy good health, the human body must receive some forty nutritive substances which are found in basic foods.

Each group of foods contributes in its own way to providing the system with the nutritive substances essential to its well-being.

Dairy products supply proteins, riboflavin (vitamin B₂) and calcium; fruits and vegetables provide vitamins A and C and a number of mineral salts; bread and whole-grain cereals give B-complex vitamins and a little iron, while meat, poultry and fish are recognized as being very high in proteins, iron and niacin.

That is why it is necessary to have a varied diet, consisting of a number of foods to satisfy the demands of a good diet. This is not done according to the spirit of the moment... Man must learn to understand the foods which are useful to him; intelligence must be combined with instinct to ensure a wise choice of foods."

Homosexual university?

Pink and blue shower

FOSTER — Miss Shirley Smith entertained at a pink and blue shower on Saturday afternoon March 2nd in honor of Mrs. Stewart Williams of Farnham.

The guest of honor was taken completely by surprise to find twenty relatives and friends present. She was presented with a gaily decorated crib, full of attractive parcels.

Heather was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Asa Squires, and nieces Misses Donna and Laura Sylvain in opening the gifts for which she sincerely thanked everyone.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Baxter Williams, including a shower cake.

Among those present were Mrs. Asa Squires, South Stukely; Mrs. J. Vallancourt and Judy; Mrs. David Tibbitts, Misses Donna and Laura Sylvain, Waterloo; Mrs. Heman Salisbury and Mrs. Allen Perkins, Cowansville; Mrs. Ross Boyd, Fulford; Miss Sharon Graves, Knowlton; Mrs. Stanley Whitehead, Saxby's Corner; Mrs. F. Baillargeon, Montreal; Mrs. Doig and daughter Sophie, Mrs. Larry Graves, Miss Mary Blanchard, Mrs. Douglas Graves, Mrs. Lena Sidorchuk, Mrs. Baxter Williams and Mrs. Maurice Williams.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a homosexual. I've been hearing some talk about a new school, soon to be opened, called Lavender University. It is, of course, for homosexuals only, both male and female, and I think it's a fantastic idea. Unfortunately, there are very few places besides gay bars where lonesome homosexuals can meet one another.

Will you please get some information on Lavender U. and give me some facts? Thank you very much. And thank you, too, for your enlightened approach to those of us who are "different."

— Bay Area Admirer

Dear Bay: "Lavender U." is scheduled to open in San Francisco later this year. The school will offer no degrees and will have no campus. The fees will be established by the faculty. Many classes will be held in the homes of the instructors until they are able to construct or buy a building.

The courses they plan to offer are Greek literature, metaphysics, photography, opera appreciation, modern dance, jewelry-making, and hiking.

One of the problems the innovators anticipate is that some heterosexuals might try to enroll. They say they want only homosexuals, but there is no way to make a person prove he is gay. I hope they don't spend too much time worrying about this "obstacle" since I seriously doubt that a school of this type would attract many straights.

Dear Ann Landers: Whenever we meet another couple for cocktails, and the check arrives, my husband manages to leaf through his wallet just long enough so that the other fellow pays it.

This embarrasses me to death. How can I get this clip artist to pay our way? Please suggest something subtle. — Married To A Sponge

Dear Married: Sorry, but a guy whose hide is as thick as your husband's wouldn't respond to anything subtle. You'll have to hit him with a sledge hammer. Suggested line when the check appears: "Oh, no — THIS time my husband is going to be the host. We were YOUR guests last time." Keep track and make the sponge alternate, whether he likes it or not.

Dear Ann Landers: My boyfriend and I are both 17. We've been hassling about drugs and I need somebody on my side.

I tried grass a year ago. It was fun but I got mixed up a lot and forgot things, especially what time it was. My parents raised hell with me when I came in past curfew one night and I decided to knock it off.

Now my boyfriend is into acid and insists there is nothing wrong with it. He claims "recent studies" have turned up no evidence that LSD is damaging to the chromosomes. He keeps bugging me to try it.

I've heard that kids have died from bad trips. Let's have some facts. — N.N.P.

Dear N.: Your boyfriend is wrong. There is still some questions about chromosomal damage from LSD (and also pot). The dangerous aspects of dropping acid are the depressions following the euphoria and the hallucinations which sometimes return after several months.

Many acid freaks have jumped off rooftops (thought they could fly), and walked into traffic and in front of trains (believing they were indestructible). LSD is dynamite. It can blow your mind. Leave it alone.

Joan Fielden Hints to the homemakers

Vegetables are a sure fire way to brighten up winter meals. Their colour, flavour and low cost certainly make them appealing. A few interesting vegetable combinations to whet even the fussiest palate are:

WINTER VEGETABLE SKILLET

Serves 6
(This is a pleasing combination of turnip, celery, and parsley garnish, and it's made on top of the stove, or in an electric frying pan.)

1 1/2 tablespoons butter or margarine
5 stalks celery, sliced (save tops for a green salad)
1-10/16 ounce can chicken gravy or use beef broth
1 medium turnip, cubed
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
chopped parsley for garnish

- Cook celery until tender-crisp in hot butter (5 minutes).
- Add next 4 ingredients, bring to a boil.
- Cover and simmer 30-minutes or until turnip pieces are fork tender (not mushy).
- Reserve liquid for cooking other vegetables or thicken and serve as a sauce or gravy.
- Serve vegetables hot, sprinkle with parsley.

BAKED BUTTERNUT SQUASH

Serves 8

(Looks great—tastes delicious, costs pennies—Bake in oven)

2 butternut squash OR 4 pounds squash
1/2 cup corn
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup chopped peanuts

- Cut squash into lengthwise pieces—discard seed—slice at 1-inch intervals.
- Arrange skin side down in large oven casserole or roasting pan.
- In a small saucepan blend together next 3 ingredients, heat until butter is melted.
- Brush over squash and bake in 375°F. oven 35-40 minutes brushing occasionally with remaining syrup mixture.
- Sprinkle with peanuts and bake 10-minutes longer.

NOTE:
QUESTION:
What is so special about Wheat Germ?

ANSWER:
It's a good nutritious food. It will NOT PERFORM PHYSICAL MIRACLES. Wheat germ is an important source of thiamine, iron, phosphorus, magnesium, Vitamin E and protein and it contains NO cholesterol.

QUESTION:
Should I take iron pills to increase my iron intake?

ANSWER:
Only if your doctor prescribes them. It is wiser to eat foods containing iron regularly and never self medicate.

Stanstead County mayors meet

STANSTEAD (IH) — Ernest Cloutier was re-elected by the Stanstead County municipal mayors to continue as their warden for another term. The vote took place at a very busy session of the quarterly meeting of the county council held at the registry building in Stanstead on Wednesday afternoon, March 13.

The audited financial report of the County for 1973 was adopted as prepared. The budget for the ensuing year was also adopted. A slight increase in tax factors for the year was noted.

The annual grants were authorized as follows: Stanstead County Agriculture Society, (Ayer's Cliff Fair Board) $1,500; Young Farmers, $250; and $150 to each the English School Fair, The Ploughmen's Association of the County and Forestry Association.

It was noted the 1974 Forestry Association convention will be held in Magog in 1974.

There was considerable time given to the discussion and explanation of total professional valuation of Municipal properties in the County. The warden, Mr. Cloutier, and secretary, Jean Paul Asselin, were authorized to sign a contract with the Morin and Tessier firm of Sherbrooke after another meeting with them and in preparation of the grand roll.

In compliance with the municipal commission request, the entire County will be given a revision in 1974. Each municipality must pay its own evaluation costs. However, some of the municipalities, such as Stanstead Plain, already have the Morin and Tessier valuations.

In a report from Morin and Tessier it was interesting to note that in this one county in 1973, 364 building permits were issued. Of the 20 municipalities there are six who do not issue permits. Also in the County are 860 farms, 2,754 residences, 3,149 cottages, 2,566 vacant lands and 150 industries plus commercial establishments. In 1973 there were 1,320 ownerships exchange.

The total valuation on the municipal properties was $37,453,393 with a real value of $66,583,422.

The mayors said that in the evaluation of the County properties they prefer the card system which will list the value of the buildings separately, the house, barn, sheds and the value of the land. Each valuator will be assisted by the municipal secretary.

A copy of the Union of County Councils is to be duplicated and a copy sent to each of the County mayors. A representative from the Union will be invited to speak at the June County meeting.

Steps are to be taken by the County Council to have improvements made to the Hatley North Road that connects with Route 5.

A notice of motion was made at the December 1973 meeting to seek to have a term of municipal mayors and councillors be four years in place of the present two and to change on a rotation basis. There was no report on this at the March meeting but is anticipated a reply by June.

A committee on building bylaw submitted a report to the County Council that would affect the local areas in regards to building and zoning bylaws. It was resolved to accept the recommendations of the committee.

Council meetings

Mansonville

MANSONVILLE (MB) — The regular monthly meeting of the town council, presided over by Mayor Bruce Armstrong, was held at the beginning of March at which time a motion was moved and a committee was set up with members Howard Jewett, Porter Knowlton, Royal Lamothe and the Mayor to contact MNA Glen Brown on the subject of the water works, the possibility of grants for paving and for summer road improvement, and the purchasing of stop signs for the municipality to be placed at various intersections and country roads leading on to highways and main thoroughfares.

Following the Feb. meeting, the mayor called all the storekeepers together at a meeting in his office, and with their cooperation, drew up new store opening and closing hours for the Mansonville groceries and meat outlets, giving more leisure time to the storekeepers.

The following hours went in to effect on March 4, 1974: Mon. from 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Tues., Wed. and Thurs. from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Fri. from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Sat. from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The stores will also be closed on the days of all statutory holidays and it was agreed that a notice to this effect will be posted one week in advance, in each establishment.

The Mayor who is the Pres. of the Evaluation Committee of the County Council, reported that he attended the County Council meeting held in Knowlton March 13 where he made his report and his recommendations following the discussions previously held on Bill 33, the Evaluations Act.

Paper drive Saturday

MANSONVILLE (MB) — Instructions for Sat., March 23 pickup for the School paper drive: Please tie separately, in bundles, newspapers, magazines, newspapers, and flattened out cardboard boxes (newspapers may be put into cardboard boxes). These instructions are for easier handling by volunteer drivers, who will not go to the door for the bundles.

Please place your bundles at the same spot outdoors and the same hour as you usually place your garbage. Do not put papers into plastic bags.

If it is raining hard enough on March 23 to make the paper soggy before pickup time, then the pickup will be postponed for another day.

Mayor to attend talks

MANSONVILLE — It has been announced that Mayor Bruce Armstrong, for the Township of Potton, will attend the forthcoming national Conference of Mayors and Municipal Officials from March 25 to the 28 inclusive, at the Canadian Emergency Measures College, Arnprior, Ont.

The four-day Conference of Mayors and Municipal officials is held twice yearly to assist municipalities with problems and responsibilities during disasters.

Attended by approximately 50 municipal representatives from all Canadian provinces, the Conference examines an extensive range of federal, provincial and municipal civil emergency preparedness planning and operational activities. It is designed to ensure that municipal authorities are aware of the vital factors and requirements in disaster planning, organization and operations.

During the forthcoming Conference, presentations will be made by the National Coordinator, Canada Emergency Measures Organization, senior officials of several federal departments and the instructional staff of the College.

The subjects to be discussed and studied include: the threats to Canada; responsibilities of federal, provincial and municipal governments in civil preparedness planning; effects of nuclear weapons; and introductions to emergency services such as health, welfare, manpower, emergency supply planning and agriculture, as well as the role of the Canadian Forces.

Demonstrations of the concepts of operations in areas damaged by nuclear attack, subjected to radioactive fallout or being used to receive evacuees and injured persons from other areas will also be presented. The increased concern for more extensive and effective response in peacetime disasters both natural and man-made and the roles of the Mayor and other authorities will be subject to special attention.

Members of the Conference will spend two days in group discussions and exercises on matters related to disaster management techniques under both peacetime and nuclear emergency conditions.

The Canadian Emergency Measures College, located immediately south-west of Arnprior, conducts a wide range of federal departmental planning and disaster management courses. In addition to the Conference of Mayors, federal departments and agencies with emergency preparedness planning responsibilities train senior officials in their specific subject areas related to crisis planning, assigned roles and operations before, during and after emergencies.

World Day of Prayer

SOUTH DURHAM — The World Day of Prayer service was held in the St. James Anglican Church on Friday, March 1, at 2 p.m. with an attendance of approximately thirty-five persons. The Roman Catholic Church and the United Church as well as the Anglican Church were well represented.

Mrs. Joyce Gunter was the accompanist at the organ for the singing of the hymns Blest be the Tie that Binds, In Christ there is no East or West, O God of Love, O King of Peace, and provided special music for the prelude.

The Theme was "Make us Builders of Peace". Miss Muriel Watt gave the message based upon the theme. She used Jesus' words as he wept over the city of Jerusalem, "If you only knew today what is needed for peace!" to bring out the meaning of the theme. Peace can only be brought about by people working together in harmony, by people working together for what is best for each other and for the community.

Scripture passages were read by Mrs. Margaret Coote and Mrs. Muriel Duffy.

The voices were read by Mrs. Muriel Duffy, Mrs. Freda Coote, Mrs. Doris Coote, Mrs. Erma Johnston, Mrs. Evelyn Richmond, and Miss Muriel Watt.

The collection was taken by Mrs. Elsie Stanhope and Mrs. Freda Coote. This will be forwarded to the Women's Interchurch Council of Canada.

ISLAND BROOK — The World Day of Prayer was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Burns with an attendance of eleven and Mrs. Franklin Kerr in charge of the service.

The theme being Make us Builders of Peace.

Mrs. Kenneth Morrow acted as organist, also all the scripture readings. Each lady had a part in each section of the service.

Mrs. Earl Dawson and Mrs. Robert Burns sang a Solo, then Mrs. Burns gave the message which was an interesting experience while she was away.

Mrs. Dawson read a letter from Africa acknowledging the parcel the U.C.W. had sent a year ago, telling many interesting things in the work, also had an additional prayer remembering those who used to be with us and Mary Seale who is in a home in Cookshire.

The offering was taken up by Mrs. G. Spaulding and the service closed with the benediction.

Knowlton Lions Minor Hockey Association winds up its season

By STEPHEN MORSON
Record Correspondent

KNOWLTON — The Knowlton Lions Minor Hockey Association would up their season for the winter '73-74 with the usual award presentation ceremony in the cafeteria of the Knowlton School. This was preceded by the showing of a National Hockey Stanley Cup Play-Off film and then mountains of hot dogs and hamburgers and soft drinks served up by the parents to over 300 children.

In this league there are four divisions, under the names of Atomus, Mosquitos, Pee Wee, and Bantam. This year the introduction of the Atom division was a new venture, aimed at the small fry, with the object of teaching them to skate and to introduce them into the art of hockey, with John Streeter and Dave Crandall as their coaches.

The coaches for the other divisions were Maurice Russell for the North Stars, Gib Rotherham for the Kings, Clive Matheis for the Blues, Keith Mizener for the Flyers, Grant Payne for the Bruins, Ken Lenz for the Black Hawks, Tom Eldridge for the Red Wings, Barry Ladd for the Rangers, Danny Dancose for the Canadians, Frank Johnston-Main for the Maple Leafs, Garry Paige for the Sabres, Jim McWilliams for the Penguins, Claude Bourgeois for the Seals, and Clair Goyette for the Canucks.

The Atom division is made up of two teams, the Islanders and The Flames, and all the small fry were presented trophies: Marshall Bruns, Bryan Whelan, Jocelyn Lequin, Ricky Paige, Michael Langlet, Darren Walters, Greg Matheis, Stephen Auger, Mark Chapman, Kevin Bailey, Donald Balch, Daniel Brown, and Tony Sissons, Grant Streeter, Douglas Charby, Anthony Barnes, Jeffrey White, Ronald Charby, Ralph Pearson, Serge Desgens, Jeffrey Grenier, Martin Fournier and Robbie MacFarlane.

Mosquito award division presentations were as follows: recipient, Clive Matheis — given by Carl Wilson and presented by Keith Mizener.

Individual championship trophies, recipients were all team members, given by Clairiol Inc., and presented by Clive Matheis their coach.

The most valuable player awards went to Danny Grenier, Blair Goyette, Donald Proteau, and Craig Hadlock, given by Clairiol Inc., and presented by Clive Matheis, Gib Rotherham, Maurice Russell, and Keith Mizener.

The most improved player Awards went to Kevin Paige, Johnny Benoit, Gilles Lequin, and George Royea, given by Clairiol Inc., and presented by Clive Matheis, Gib Rotherham, Maurice Russell, and Keith Mizener.

The goaler award went to Sydney Brouillette given by the Crandall family and presented by Norman Crandall.

Pee Wee division awards: Presentation of championship trophy, received by Coach Grant Payne, given by Carl Wilson and presented by Frank Main.

Individual championship trophies were given to all members of the team given by Clairiol and presented by their coach Grant Payne.

Most valuable player awards went to Ricky Grenier, Jean Marc Proulx, Steve Soles, Dale Coderre, Mike Brown and Guy St. Francois, all given by Clairiol Inc., and presented by their coaches, Barry Ladd, Ken Lenz, Grant Payne, Tom Eldridge, Danny Dancose, and Frank Main.

The most improved player awards went to Ricky Douce, Mike Mullarkey, Kevin Williams, Teddy Charby, Tony Dudley, and Mario Gailloux, all given by Clairiol Inc., and all presented by their coaches.

The goaler award went to Daniel McCutcheon, given by the Crandall family and presented by Norman Crandall.

Bantam division awards: Presentation of Championship Trophy to Clair Goyette, coach for the team, Canucks, given by Carl Wilson and presented by Frank Main.

Individual championship trophies went to all members of the team, given by Clairiol Inc., and presented by their coach Clair Goyette.

Most valuable player award went to Mike Holmes, Clarence Dudley, Mike Benoit, and Brian Irwin, given by Clairiol Inc., and presented by Gary Paige, Clair Goyette, Jim McWilliams, and Claude Bourgeois.

Most improved player awards went to Alan Foster, Ricky Hoglund, Ricky Lacroix, and Danny Marsh, given by Clairiol Inc., and presented by their coaches.

The goaler award went to Michael Royea, given by the Crandall family and presented by Norman Crandall.

Mr. Keith Mizener as M.C. for this event, expressed the thanks of the league to Carl Wilson, Clairiol, and the Crandall family for the gifts of the awards, to all the coaches, referees, parents, to the co-ordinators, Mr. Clair Goyette, Mr. Frank Main, and Mr. Ken Lenz.

He also expressed thanks to the school board for the use of the cafeteria, to all the ladies who had cooked up all the hot dogs and hamburgers, to the Knowlton Lions Club for the supplying of equipment, to the Knowlton Athletic association for the supplying of the food, and to the NHL for the fil.

Without the untiring aid and countless donated hours of the coaches, referees, co-ordinators, and all the adults who work every winter for these boys, in order that they might play organized hockey, a great and sincere vote of thanks and appreciation to these men is due, for without their efforts some 300-400 children would have no organized hockey at all, and Knowlton is indeed indebted to them.

Three WHL cities pitch for new NHL franchises

NEW YORK (CP) — Groups representing three Western Hockey League cities—Seattle, San Diego and Denver—made formal presentations Tuesday in their bid for franchises in the National Hockey League.

The NHL will expand to 18 teams next season. Franchises have been awarded already to Kansas City and Washington. After an interim year, the NHL plans to expand to 20 teams in 1976. At least one of the 1976-77 teams will come from the WHL.

NHL president Clarence Campbell said the three WHL groups were heard at length by the NHL's expansion committee and consideration of the applications will continue for some weeks.

However, the three WHL clubs "have problems in every one of the situations which will require a very careful consideration by the league."

AVOIDS DETAILS

"I can't be any more specific about that because I'd be discussing their private problems which have to be resolved by them, not us," Campbell said.

The formal portion of the NHL's board of governors meeting ended Monday with a disclosure by Campbell that the long-standing lawsuits brought by the WHA against the NHL are far from settled because two former New York clubs in the WHA—the Raiders and Golden Blades—have refused to be any part of the over-all settlement signed last Feb. 19 in Philadelphia.

Committee meetings took over Tuesday's windup of league business. The next formal NHL meetings are in June but there may be meetings before then, Campbell said.

The Totems, which are 53-percent owned by Vancouver Canucks of the NHL, produced a model of the Seattle Centre Coliseum, with plans calling for a seating capacity of 15,000 by 1976.

Robert Breitbard, president and majority owner of the Gulls, represented the San Diego club, along with arena owner Peter Graham of Vancouver. Graham said the San Diego Sports Arena, which seats 13,031, could be expanded to 14,029 for the NHL.

COMMITTED TO WHL

In explaining the NHL commitment to the WHL, Campbell said: "We entered into an agreement with the Western Hockey League in 1972, at which time we agreed that in any future expansion we would give priority to applicants who were members of the WHL to the extent of one-half of the franchises that would be awarded at any time."

Asked if that leaves the WHL with only one of three franchises, Campbell said:

"No, they must be afforded priority with respect to at least one, but since all three of the applicants we have at the present time are WHL members, they all qualify."

"Any one of them could be the one that's entitled to be in. There's no limitation, of course, the other way around."

Baseball roundup

Gaylord Perry is happy to have brother Jim as a fellow member of the Cleveland pitching staff, but he has no intention of relinquishing his status as the Indians' top gun.

"Brother or no brother, Jim will have to fight me for No. 1," Gaylord said after the Indians acquired Jim from the Detroit Tigers Tuesday in a three-way deal that also involved New York Yankees.

The Tigers sent Jim Perry to Cleveland and pitcher Ed Farmer to New York. The Indians shipped outfielder Walt Williams and rookie pitcher Rich Sawyer to New York while the Yankees dealt catcher Jerry Moses to Detroit.

In other spring training swaps, Chicago Cubs traded catcher Ken Rudolph to San Francisco Giants for rookie pitcher Willie Prall and Cincinnati Reds purchased first baseman-outfielder Terry Crowley from the Texas Rangers.

The three-way trade put the Perry brothers—both former Cy Young Award winners—on the same team for the first time since Jim, 37, was a junior and Gaylord, 35, was a freshman in high school at Williamston, N.C.

NEED OLD GUYS
"We won the state championship then," Gaylord recalled. "Jim has always been dedicated. When a team gets in a slump it needs an experienced pitcher, and Jim will help. They need old guys like us to stabilize this staff."

For the trivia buffs, five more victories will make the Perrys the winningest brother combination in major league history. Christy and Henry Mathewson won 373 games in the early part of the century—373 for Christy and 0 for Henry.

Meanwhile, Dave Duncan, who will be catching the Perry boys, celebrated by driving in four runs with a homer and double in the Indians' 8-6 exhibition victory over Oakland Athletics. Cleveland pounded Rolfe Fingers for six runs in the sixth inning and two in the seventh, offsetting Oakland homers by Vic Davalillo, Pat Bourque and Bert Campaneris.

Two-run homers by Richie Zisk and Willie Stargell powered Pittsburgh Pirates past Montreal Expos 4-1. In a rematch of last fall's National League playoff rivals, New York Mets trounced Cincinnati Reds 7-1 as rookie Bennie Ayala drove in three runs and Ted Martinez hit a two-run homer.

New York Yankees pounded Luke Walker for three runs in the sixth inning and two in the ninth and beat their former manager Ralph Houk and his Detroit Tigers 6-2. Minnesota Twins lost for the 12th time in 13 spring games, bowing to the Atlanta Braves 3-1 on rookie pitcher Jamie Easterly's three-run double.

Jim Barr hurled five shutout innings in San Francisco Giants' 8-3 triumph over the San Diego Padres and Houston's Dave Roberts blanked Kansas City Royals for six in the Astros' 4-1 victory.

Rookie Mike Reinbach's RBI double and a sacrifice fly by designated hitter Tommy Davis accounted for two eighth-inning runs that lifted Baltimore Orioles past Texas Rangers 6-5.

St. Louis Cardinals used four unearned runs and Reggie Smith's homer to edge Philadelphia Phillies 6-5. Ron Santo drove in two runs with a pair of doubles to lead Chicago White Sox over Boston Red Sox 8-4 and five California pitchers limited Cleveland Cubs to five hits and the Angels won 5-1.

MARSHALL REPORTS
In other training camp news, relief pitcher Mike Marshall, former Expo, delayed by studies for his doctorate in physiology at Michigan State University, joined Los Angeles Dodgers and promptly proclaimed himself "ready to pitch."

"I've been working out all winter at Michigan State's indoor arena," he said. "I've been throwing 120 pitches every three days, my routine since 1966."

Oakland hired Maury Wills, who owns the major league mark of 104 stolen bases in a season, to tutor newly signed track star Herb Washington. Wills will work with Washington, the A's new pinch running specialist, for six days starting Saturday.

Bassett says Toros to stay in Toronto

NEW YORK (CP) — Owner John F. Bassett says he's 99 per cent sure his Toros of the World Hockey Association will remain in Toronto, and not move to New York next season.

But he's not sure they'll make the playoffs with 10 games left in the regular schedule.

"I don't know about the playoffs," he said while in New York for the two-day World Football League draft ending Tuesday. Bassett also is the owner of the WFL's Toronto Northmen franchise.

"It looks very tight now. I certainly have some concern whether we're going to make the playoffs or not now."

The Toros have dropped their last three games, including two at home, and after Monday's 115 loss to Jersey, had only a one-point hold on second place in the WHA's East Division. Only three points separated second and fifth places in the division.

Bassett, who is looking for a playoff site because the team will have to vacate Varsity Arena after the regular season, says he is trying to rent Maple Leaf Gardens for playoff games.

WON'T MOVE
Asked about rumors the Toronto team will move to New York, Bassett said:

"No, we're not going to move to New York. I'm very confident that we'll be able to work out our problems in Toronto and that we'll be able to sign the players

North Stars keep plugging Islanders in spoiler role, stop Blues

New York Islanders' hopes of making a playoff berth this season in the National Hockey League have long gone, but they made things painful Tuesday for one of the clubs still in contention.

The Islanders hammered St. Louis Blues 5-1 to snap New York's 10-game losing streak and dimmed St. Louis chances of catching Atlanta Flames, who occupy the fourth and final playoff position in the West Division. The Flames, idle Tuesday, remained five points ahead of the Blues.

In other games, Minnesota North Stars fanned their hopes for the post-season series by defeating California Golden Seals 6-3 and Toronto Maple Leafs, fourth in the East, remained a respectable distance ahead of Buffalo Sabres by settling for a 1-1 tie with Los Angeles Kings.

Gerry Hart and Tom Miller scored their first goals of the season for the Islanders and rookie defenceman Denis Potvin had a goal and two assists.

ARBOUR PLEASED

The enthusiasm of coach Al Arbour's players hasn't dimmed, apparently.

"They aren't quitting," said Arbour after New York's triumph. "It's hard for them to get up when there's no place to go this late in the season," Arbour said. "But they really hustled tonight and their attitude is great."

The Islanders' defence, led by the spirited play of Potvin, held the Blues to just two shots in the first period. Centre Garry Unger had them both.

Arbour had stressed hustle to his players throughout the long losing skid. "I've been telling them all along, when you hustle the other team's defence is going to make mistakes."

One of the St. Louis mistakes resulted in Gary Howatt's goal, which made the score 5-1 with 36 seconds left to play. Howatt sneaked behind the defence, took passes from Bob Nystrom and Jean Potvin, broke in and beat Wayne Stephenson for his sixth goal of the season.

"We've been playing good hockey for the last two weeks, but we just haven't been getting the breaks," said Potvin—still nursing a broken bone in his left foot.

California 3 at Minnesota 6
Alain Langlais, playing in his seventh NHL game, scored twice to lead Minnesota past California. Dennis Hextall scored once and set up three goals, including Bill Goldsworthy's 42nd of the season. Hextall's three assists gave him 54 for the season, a club record.

J. P. Parise and Buster Harvey were the other Minnesota marksmen. Walt McKechnie scored twice for the Seals, and Stan Gilbertson had the other goal.

Toronto 1 at Los Angeles 1
Frank St. Marseille's goal after 45 seconds of the third period lifted Los Angeles into their tie with Toronto.

Supplies; Ken Grahame and Claude Coursol. Front row are runners-up from Lennoxville — Mike Mooney, Pete Cross, Bill Rourke and Bob Stafford.

Crusaders march to second place tie

Cleveland Crusaders marched into a tie for second place in the East Division of the World Hockey Association Tuesday by defeating Chicago 7-4 to snap the Cougars' winning streak at six games.

In the only other game, Vancouver Blazers, out of playoff range, upset Minnesota Fighting Saints 5-4.

In tonight's action, New Jersey

Knights travel to Los Angeles to play the Sharks; Edmonton Oilers oppose New England Whalers; and Houston Aeros play the Crusaders at Cleveland.

The Crusaders' triumph put them on even footing with Toronto Toros in the points column, but Cleveland has one game in hand. The result prevented the Cougars from moving into a tie for fourth place with Quebec

Nordiques.

Ron Ward's second goal of the game late in the third period put Cleveland in front 5-4. Doug Brindley broke the Cougars' back with a shot into an empty Chicago net at 19:12 and he added another goal ten seconds later.

Minnesota 4 at Vancouver 5
Despite the heroics of Mike Walton of the Saints, Vancouver emerged victorious before 9,575 fans through Danny Lawson's goal at 18:35 of the final period.

Minnesota trailed 4-2 entering the third period, but Walton narrowed the gap to 4-3 at 11:06 while his own team was short-handed. Bob MacMillan tied the score at 16:31.

Walton's goal, his 52nd of the season, established two WHA records. It was the 17th consecutive game in which Walton has earned at least one point and it was his eighth shorthanded goal of the season.

Gaudar knocks WFL

TORONTO (CP) — The World Football League draft of professional players is "a form of implicit tampering," Jake Gaudar, commissioner of the Canadian Football League, said Tuesday.

"What is important is what happens from now on," said Gaudar. "Are they going to make subtle or unsavory approaches to these players?"

Seventy-nine of the players drafted by the WFL at its meetings in New York Monday and Tuesday belonged to Canadian teams.

"When you look at the drafting of these CFL players it is not essentially different from the system that we have now," said Gaudar. "CFL clubs can, and do, have National Football League players on their negotiation lists, in the hope that these players get their release. Then the clubs would have Canadian rights. But we don't tamper."

WHA, said he didn't believe the WHA would return to New York for at least another year.

Bassett said he hasn't given up on Maple Leaf Gardens as the future home of the Toros.

Bassett also scotched reports that he had secretly signed Ken Dryden, former Montreal Canadiens goalie, to a contract.

Foreman, Norton ready

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — World heavyweight boxing champion George Foreman and challenger Ken Norton were pronounced fit Tuesday for their March 26 title fight.

"I am fit and ready to whip Foreman," said the 28-year-old Norton. "I'm sure of a victory because I have confidence in myself and I am mentally prepared."

The challenger weighed 217 pounds and said he could easily reduce to 210, his fighting weight, in time for the fight.

Both Norton and Foreman have said that they feel fine in the tropical climate of this South American capital.

"I feel calm and cool," said Foreman at the medical checkup. Foreman, who the doctors said was in "perfect" shape, was not weighed and returned to training Tuesday afternoon.

SIGNS AUTOGRAPHS
The 25-year-old champion walked around the new domed Caracas Poliedro Stadium, shaking hands and signing autographs. More than 3,000 boxing fans were on hand for Foreman's sparring sessions.

"Norton, Norton, where are you?" asked Foreman as he danced inside the ring. "Come on, Norton, I am waiting for you."

The challenger had already left.

Headed by Jim Colley, a Regional Information Service for the public-at-large, to ask such questions as: Who is entitled to free legal services and what to do to get them, questions on drug abuse, family counseling and many other subjects that people are at a loss as to how to go about obtaining the help required in these matters, has been in operation for some months now in Cowansville. Mr. Colley has contacted the Mayor regarding space being made available in the town of Mansonville to serve this area one day a week, possibly starting in September, due to the fact that to call Cowansville from here would mean a long-distance charge. Mr. Colley said that he received 186 calls for information (presumably he meant from this area).

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gardner and daughter, Lori, Grand Isle, Vt., spent the long weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gardner, and Sunday caller at the same home was their son, Erwin, of Morrisville, Vt.

Mr. Sargent said that if a veteran will fill out a form, they can receive more money and invite any and all veterans to phone him 292-5646, and he will see that they get a form and they can ask any pertinent questions in this connection, and he will be happy to help in any way he can; he also said that the Legion representative in Ottawa will back the claims as well, and that the Federal Government is leaning more towards leniency in these matters. As an interesting note, Mr. Sargent said that several Montreal branches donated cheques amounting to some $10,000 for the March of Dimes Campaign for the Crippled Children.

The Ladies Guild of the Church of Good Shepherd, Glen Sutton, held their monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Donald Leavitt on March 7 with six members present.
