Grant to Be Made For School Library Needs

New Committee Formed to Discuss Ways and Means of Raising Additional Funds

The Huntingdon Home and School Association held a regular meeting at the school on Wednesday evening with a fair number present. Several matters of interest were discussed. A letter from the school board intimated that it was willing to allow the use of a classroom for the painting class providing a fee was paid for janitor service, etc. The Association agreed to pay the required fee, but it was decided to make use of the school.

It was decided to sponsor a puppet show as an aid to raising funds toward the school library project and it is hoped that the public will support this to the full. A date has not yet been set, but it is planned to be held in February and an advertisement will appear in this newspaper to acquaint the public of the facts and particulars. Tickets will also go on sale in due course.

A further report was made on the progress of the library classes. A letter received from Mr. Somerville, M.L.A., to the effect that a grant of $680 would be made toward the project. It had been hoped that this amount would have been larger in view of what is planned to be done, but the meeting decided to form another committee as a way and means toward raising additional funds to get the work started. Named to the committee were the following: Mr. L. Levine, Mr. S. Smith, Mrs. F. G. McCrimmon, Rev. R. D. MacLean and Mr. H. S. Cook, with power to add to the number if needed.

It was felt that a campaign should be started to raise subscriptions toward the project from among the people of the school district. Some people have already offered subscriptions toward a fund and it is hoped that there will be many more. In the meantime, if there are any who would like to contribute, they could send same to either Mr. L. Levine or to Rev. R. D. MacLean. All such help will be gratefully received and acknowledged. It is hoped that the school library in the course of time will be one that all will be proud of. Properly equipped, this is one place in the school which can do much toward the pupils' education. In the past it has been badly neglected and it was therefore one place where the Home and School Association thought it could be of great help. Mr. Cook, the principal, is keenly interested in having the library properly equipped and his suggestions are being closely followed. The help of the public is sought to further the progress already made and to bring about a speedier renovation of this important room in the school. Once the committee gets working, more will be known of what can be done and what is required.

Miss Audrey Clark, one of the guidance counsellors for the Montreal Schools, was the guest speaker of the evening. Mrs. S. Robb induced the speaker and Mrs. W. E. Bernhardt thanked her. The title of Miss Clark's address was "Discipline For To-day's Youth." Discipline, Miss Clark said, had many meanings and was not just a case of meaning to administer punishment or correction to the misbehaved. Her talk dealt mainly with the discipline of children, but she believed in looking at all sides of the question to find out where the real trouble is. Children have their ways of showing their feelings, even in the very young, and this should all be considered. Sometimes when children make themselves a nuisance among a group, it is better to separate this child from the group until it has learned not to act in such manner. Such methods oftentimes have a greater effect than more severe forms of punishment. It is better to show a child that does not want to be punished, why it should, than to promise all kinds of things if it does. Eating is good for the child and therefore it should be taught in this way. Never threaten a child by telling him that a policeman will come and get him or her, or that Daddy will give him a thrashing when he gets home. This serves to put fear in the child's mind of the persons referred to and associates them with something bad. Never banish a child to a dark room as a punishment. This also creates a fear that grows upon the child and well into adulthood.

All through her talk Miss Clark laid stress on corrective measures which taught the child why he must obey, not by means of threats or promises which would never be carried out. Never promise a child anything that cannot be carried out. Such creates a feeling of mistrust in the course of time and leads to a loss of confidence of the child in the parent.

A question period followed Miss Clark's address and she answered several queries from the audience. Miss Clark said she liked to hear of the problems of others and how they were solved, as by this means she could learn how to cope with them.

It was a very interesting talk, perhaps one of the most interesting yet given to the Association. Miss Clark has an easy manner and clear enunciation which makes her very easy to listen to. The next regular meeting will be held in February.

Licensing Gone Crazy

Pretty soon a handy man won't be able to paint a kitchen or fix a leaky tap, fears The Financial Post, if this business of provincial licensing of various trades continues to spread. "It is taking work away from many who need work and adding greatly to the cost of maintaining property. In far too many cases the device is used simply as a means of restricting competition, of reserving plums for local favorites. If he has to call in an expensive licensed professional every time a window sill needs a lick of paint or a tap starts leaking, pretty soon the average man won't be able to afford a home at all. As a matter of fact, many of us are approaching that point right now."

Lose House By Fire At Gore, Friday

Thursday night, January 15, at about 8:30 p.m. fire was discovered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bouchard, on The Gore.

Fire started upstairs around the stovepipes and at the time Mr. and Mrs. Bouchard were not at home. Some of the children were going to bed and noticed the fire, one of them running to Mr. Aimé St. Onge's farm nearby where the parents were visiting.

Neighbours quickly arrived and saved most of the contents of the home. The house in itself was a total loss and was only partly covered by insurance. The barns were saved through the co-operation of the neighbours.

RECEIVES PROMOTION

LESTER MCGILLIS

Appointment of Lester McGillis, manager of purchasing, as an assistant vice-president and manager of the purchasing department of The Shawinigan Water and Power Company is announced by J. A. Fuller, president.

As assistant vice-president and head of the department, Mr. McGillis succeeds George Campbell, who has retired.

A 1924 graduate of McGill University in electrical engineering, Mr. McGillis began his career the same year at Timmins, Ont., in the electrical division of the Hollinger gold mines. The following year he went to Brazil as an electrical inspector with the Rio de Janeiro Tramway, Light and Power Company, a subsidiary of Brazilian Traction, and later joined another subsidiary as resident operating engineer of the Ilha dos Pombos hydro-electric development on the Paraíba River.

In 1928 he returned to Canada and became superintendent of the North Shore Power Company at Three Rivers, and two years later, transferred to the parent Shawinigan Water and Power Company as assistant divisional manager of the Commercial and Distribution Department at Three Rivers and, at the same time, superintendent of the Three Rivers Traction Company, where he remained until 1935.

The next ten years Mr. McGillis spent at Valleyfield as division manager, after which he was transferred to Shawinigan's Montreal office as manager of the Industrial Development Department. He was appointed manager of purchasing in 1950.

Results of Various Elections For Municipal Councils

Mr. George H. Sutton was elected Mayor of Dundee Municipal Council, following an election held in Dundee on Monday. Two candidates were in the running for the office, the other being Mr. H. A. Cameron. Both of these men have had municipal council experience, Mr. Sutton being on the council and holding Seat No. 5 and Mr. H. A. Cameron having Seat No. 2 and whose term had expired. Mr. Sutton resigned his seat to run for Mayor. Mr. Cameron had been a member of the council since 1929. Mr. Sutton was appointed by the council in May 1943 to replace Mr. Gordon Davidson in Seat No. 5.

The former Mayor, Mr. Antoine Dupuis, whose term of office expired did not run. There is an agreement in the municipality whereby for two years there shall be a French-speaking Mayor and for the next two years there shall be an English-speaking Mayor. Under this agreement this particular office can only be held for two years and therefore at this particular time only English-speaking candidates could run for office.

Nominations were held on January 14th and there were three seats besides that of Mayor which had to be filled. These resulted as follows: Alex Demers, Seat No. 4, re-elected by acclamation; William Fleming, Seat No. 2, and Roma Allen, Seat No. 6, elected by acclamation. Due to the resignation of Mr. Sutton, Seat No. 5 will be vacant. The Dundee Council now stands as follows: George H. Sutton, Mayor; Stewart McGibbon, Seat No. 1; Wm. Fleming, Seat No. 2; Ernest Therrien, Seat No. 3; Alex Demers, Seat No. 4; Vacant, Seat No. 5 and Roma Allen, Seat No. 6.

The results of the election are as follows:
George H. Sutton ..... 129
H. A. Cameron ..... 76
Majority for Sutton ..... 53
207 ratepayers voted; 2 ballots were spoiled.

ACCLAMATION IN ELGIN
R. A. Donnelly, W. T. Steele and A. MacFarlane of Elgin were re-elected by acclamation. The 1953 Elgin Council is now as follows: Mayor, A. W. Elder; Councilors: D. L. Brown, seat no. 1; W. F. Cairns, seat no. 2; R. MacFarlane, seat no. 3; R. A. Donnelly, seat no. 4; W. T. Steele, seat no. 5; A. MacFarlane, seat no. 6.

Posthumous Award of Medals To Sgt. Winston R. Cooper

Special Ceremony Held at U.S. Consulate General, Montreal — Presentation Made to Parents

Korean War Medals awarded posthumously to Sgt. Winston R. Cooper were presented to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cooper, of Montreal in a ceremony held at the U.S. Consulate General in Montreal on January 13th.

The soldier, Winston R. Cooper of Huntingdon, was a former student of Huntingdon Academy and McGill University and a World War II Veteran of the Canadian Army, died when assaulting enemy positions on September 3, 1952, after having served in Korea since the end of 1950, when he enlisted in the U.S. Army as a volunteer.

He was awarded the Purple Heart Medal, the Korean Service Medal and the United Nations Star. The presentation was made on behalf of the President of the United States by Richard P. Butrick, U.S. Consul General in Montreal.

In his letter, President Truman praised the high courage and devotion to duty exhibited by Sgt. Cooper during the Korean fighting. He also described the Canadian-born soldier as a hero, who died so that freedom might live. The letter was read to the parents and relatives of the soldier by Mr. Butrick.

Sgt. Cooper joined the Canadian Grenadier Guards World War II as a volunteer and became an officer after graduating from the Sandhurst Military Academy in Britain with top honors. He served two years overseas and participated in the fighting in Northern France and Germany.

After his discharge from the Canadian Army in 1946, Sgt. Cooper returned to England for nearly two years and later took a course of arts at McGill University. At the outbreak of the Korean War, he enlisted in the U.S. Army as a private.

In Korea, Sgt. Cooper served with the 7th Cavalry Regiment and with the 14th Infantry Division. He was 31 years old and due to become an officer after his return from Korea.

In accepting his son's medals, Mr. Cooper said that the medals of Canadian and American youths in Korea for the cause of world freedom will not be in vain and help to bring victory over Communism.

Attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cooper and the soldier's three sisters, Mrs. Roland Boire, Janet, Mrs. Lillian Jackson, and Miss Margie Cooper. Sgt. Cooper's two brothers are serving in the Canadian Armed Forces while the third lives in Vancouver.

Others present were: U.S. Consuls Albert E. Clatsburg, Jr., Albert W. Scott, Andrew E. Haney, and vice consuls, Miss Louise Shaffner and Mrs. Louise O. De Courcy O'Grady.

Local Ladies Doing Great Work For Red Cross

Need More Workers to Replace Those Unable To Carry on Service

Mrs. Louis Roy, Convener of the Work Committee of the Local Branch of the Canadian Red Cross for this society have been doing an excellent job. Many more workers are needed for this field of work and anyone having time to do knitting or sewing is asked to contact Mrs. Roy.

Two of the most faithful of the workers for the past number of years are Mrs. Ruby Murray and Miss Elsie Elder, Mrs. Edith Thomas and Mrs. Wm. Jamieson have also given many faithful years of service. Mrs. E. M. Wood, Mrs. A. A. Lunan and Mrs. Mary Sellar who are not able to carry on their good work any longer were at one time workers on this committee. Mrs. Gayle of Elgin had also done much work for the Red Cross and Mrs. William Crawford, Glenelm, with the help of the Ladies of Elgin Presbyterian Church, has also turned in many articles. In 1952 this work committee turned in 330 pieces of sewing and 150 pieces of knitting. The sewing consisted of baby blankets, night gowns, baby shirts, boys' underwear, children's overalls, blouses and skirts for girls, pyjamas, and baby night gowns. The knitting consists of socks, baby sets, sweaters for children sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10 and service-men's socks. One pair of socks is considered to be one article, one baby set consisting of bonnet, sweater and booties, is also considered one article. Included in the 330 pieces of sewing were several baby diapers and 8 quilts for both double and single beds. This is just an example of one year's work done by this committee. With a great number of equally enthusiastic workers this committee could turn out double or maybe even triple this amount of work.

The Local Branch of the Red Cross have a service which is very

Trial For Week-end Open Nights

Merchants Decide to Ask For Trial Period

The Huntingdon Merchants' Association held a meeting on Thursday and new officers were elected for the ensuing year. Mr. E. Lalande was elected President, Mr. E. Lefebvre, Vice-President and Mr. J. McCoy, Secretary-Treasurer. Forming the Board of Directors are: R. Villeneuve, P. Lefebvre and D. McGerrigle.

It is the intention to pay more attention to the matters affecting the various businesses in Huntingdon and to make recommendations from time to time on these matters.

One important matter discussed was that of doing with changing the open nights to Friday and Saturday in place of Wednesday and Saturday. A majority was in favor of having a trial period of the Friday and Saturday open nights and this recommendation will be made to the Town Council at the next regular meeting. It will be necessary to have a bylaw regulating this change and it will depend upon the coming in of such as to when the change will take effect. The trial period will probably run for about three months.

Further Irregularities Shown in Auditor-General's Report to Parliament

Find $80,560 Worth of Gasoline Pumped Into Fuel Oil Tanks at Churchill

Further evidence of laxity in accounting on the part of the armed forces is revealed in the annual report of Auditor General Watson Sellar, tabled in the Commons the past week by Finance Minister Abbott.

Mr. Sellar points out that accounts of stores held by the services do not automatically disclose losses which may occur from time to time.

He pointed out that a loss of $80,560 was sustained from gasoline which had been shipped to Churchill being pumped into storage tanks which already held fuel oil. This was one type of loss which would not automatically turn up in Army accounting.

Mr. Sellar's report set forth that prior to disclosures of thefts at Petawawa Military Camp and other establishments, an audit of military accounts had shown that thefts and similar irregularities were not reflected in official records.

Eight Systems
Mr. Sellar said that surveys made of accounting systems — there were at least eight — indicated that no sustained effort had been made to achieve uniformity in systems within the services. The result was that mandatory directives were specialized particularly with respect to the Army.

Mr. Sellar noted these other "special problems":
1. No clear distinction had been drawn between stores procured for stocking and those for normal peace time needs.

2. The usage was to regard stores as service property with responsibility for accounting and custody vested in the forces. "The consequence is that no civilian authority answerable to Parliament exercises direct control over procurement."

3. Practices governing service promotions were not such as to safeguard against officers with insufficient accounting experience being placed in accounting control of large inventories.

4. Service discipline being what it was, the staffs did not enjoy the same freedom of comment as their counterparts in civilian departments.
5. Where supervisory posts were held by officers and NCO's in major depots, the promotion prospects of civilians were limited and it was a problem to secure and retain suitable civilians.

6. Where a demand was made on a service to organize an operation such as Korea, experienced personnel were drawn from stores' work to result in understaffing or the influx of inexperienced personnel to such a degree that general efficiency was not maintained.

7. Mr. Sellar said that on February 11, 1952, the Defence Department was told that action should be taken on the state of the Army pay accounts.

"The department has acted but the basic problem remains—that of adjusting an accounting system designed after the recent war for a permanent force smaller than it now is, to a widely-scattered and relatively large number of accounts."

The auditor general also charged in his report that real estate records "have long been imperfectly maintained" by different departments of government. He adds, however, that the introduction of grants to municipalities has somewhat improved the situation regarding real estate records.

Dieppe Vet Granted Last Minute Reprieve -- Will Serve Life Term

Aldie Martin, 31-year-old veteran of the Dieppe Raid in the Second World War who was to have been hanged on Friday morning for the murder of his grandmother, had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment the day previous.

Martin was arrested the morning after his grandmother, Mrs. Anthea Allen, 76, her husband, 66, and a neighbor, Narcisse Cusson, 72, were found bludgeoned to death on a farm at Anderson's Corner July 30 1951.

He was subsequently tried for the murder of his grandmother and sentenced to be hanged. The Court of Appeals unanimously rejected an appeal entered on his behalf.

In an appeal for commutation to the minister of justice last week, his two lawyers, Paul Abut and Jean Paul Guibault, said that Martin's personality had been changed completely by his experiences in the Dieppe raid.

They said that Martin became subject to fits of moodiness and irascibility after a goitre operation. They added he often took his friends to be enemies and threatened them with violence. The lawyers pointed out that Martin was on leave from a hospital at the time of the triple slaying.

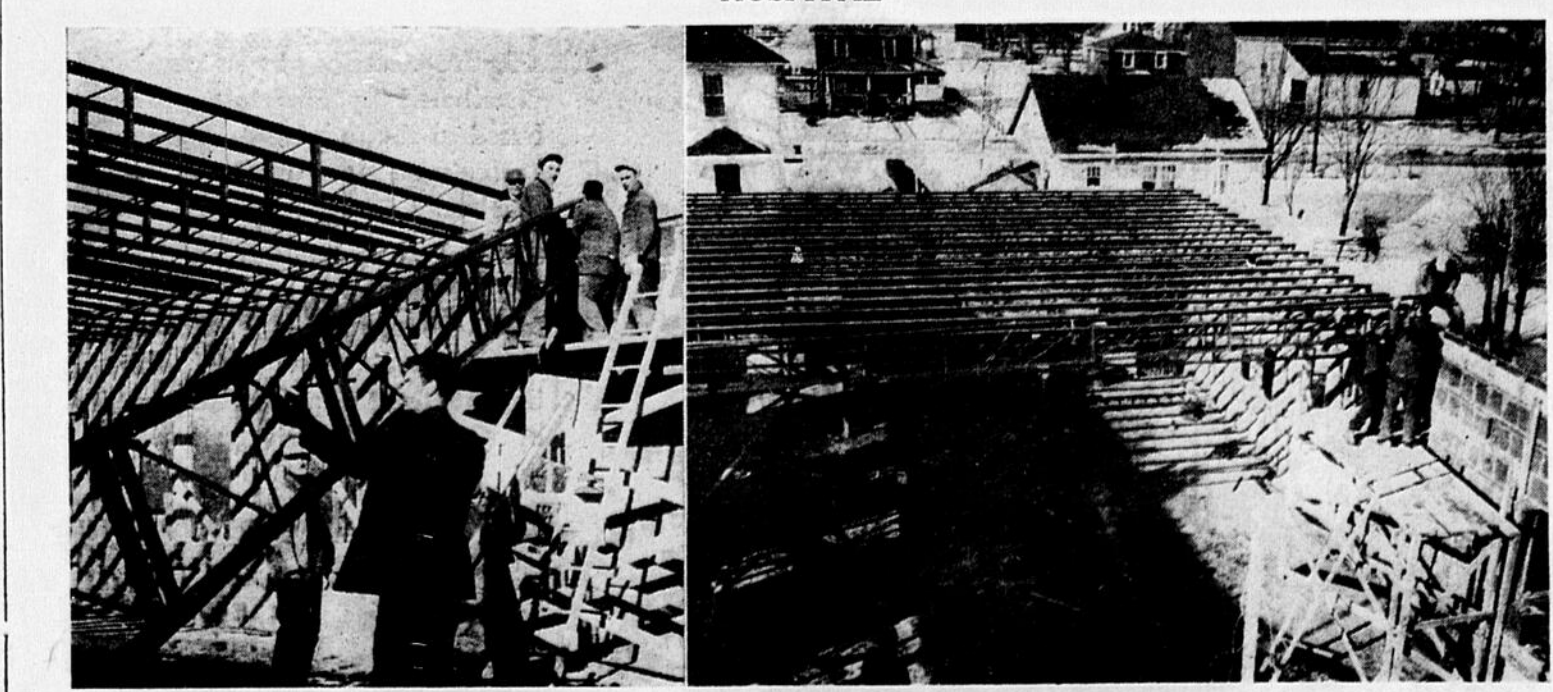

Abut and Martin received a telegram from Ottawa at noon yesterday announcing that the request for commutation had been granted. Martin was transferred on Friday from the death cells at Montreal Jail to St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary where he will spend the rest of his life.

Fort Barley A New Variety

A new feed barley variety, named Fort, was released to farmers in eastern Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces in the spring of 1952. The variety was grown on fifty eastern farms during the past summer. Each grower was asked what he thought of the variety. The opinion was almost unanimous that the variety stands up better than others and that it is ideal for combining. It may not yield any more than O.A.C. 21 or Montcalm but it is easier to handle.

There will be certified seed available for sowing this coming spring. Growers in the area for which the variety is recommended, that is, eastern Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes, who wish to purchase seed should enquire of the Cereal Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

How to Buy a House --- With No Regrets

Easy-payment mortgages have brought home ownership within the reach of most, but buying a house is still the most important financial deal of a lifetime.

Some buyers are careful about all the legal details of the purchase. Many others, unaware of the pitfalls and charmed by the dream house they are acquiring, sign papers they shouldn't sign, fail to check important essentials in advance, and live to regret it all later.

The important rules in buying a house are: (1) Get an experienced real estate lawyer before you look at property; (2) Don't sign anything until your lawyer approves; (3) Don't let the agent hurry you.

A common mistake of house buyers is to sign an "offer", usually to buy at a price under the quoted one. By doing so you may actually contract to buy the house, in which event you find you have signed away all your bargaining power and can withdraw only if the seller cannot produce a clear title. A lawyer, consulted in advance, would have saved you such embarrassment.

Be sure of your boundaries. That group of fruit trees you think you're buying may turn out to belong to the man next door.

Know your zoning laws. Don't discover too late that you can't build a garage because zoning regulations forbid it so close to the property line. Don't assume that you are buying the screens, storm windows, a ton of coal in the cellar or even the kitchen stove, along with the house. Make sure. Otherwise, you may find that such property moves out with the previous owner.

Set a date for taking possession so that the seller cannot refuse to move out until he finds another place to live. When buying a two-family house, don't count on the tenant's rent until you check on how much of it has been paid in advance to the current owner.

If there's a chance that terms are in your prospective house, get a warranty that there are none. With this, as with everything else, be sure your protection is in writing. Verbal agreements are meaningless in court.

A good lawyer will look after such details. Many buyers who only hire a lawyer to close the deal could save much expense and trouble, for an extra $25 or $50 fee, by getting legal advice before the purchase. And never let the broker's or owner's lawyer handle your side of the transaction.

Certainly the vast majority of real estate agents are honest. But for your own protection remember, however, that the agent represents the seller, not the buyer, and is in business to make a quick sale, collect his commission and move on.

Howick High School Notes

A correction: the skating rink is in charge of Mr. Donald Kerr, who is responsible for its maintenance. The Howick rink is in splendid condition and the pupils make daily use of it. It is affording them much enjoyment.

The Hockey Team has had some excellent practices and is preparing for the first game of the season of the C.V. High School League, which is to be played at Howick on Friday, January 16, when the boys will meet the Gault Institute team.

The Book Shop is open every day for a short period during the noon hour, when exercise books and general school supplies are obtainable. The Student Council hope for patronage.

Mrs. Bert Peddie, Miss Margaret Greer and Mrs. Walter Brown were joint hostesses at a very enjoyable miscellaneous shower on Saturday evening, January 10th, at the home of Mrs. Brown, in honor of Miss Beryl McGerrigle, whose marriage takes place in the near future.

When the bride-elect arrived she was very much taken by surprise to find her many friends there. She was escorted to a beautifully decorated chair surrounded with gifts, which she opened and passed around for everyone to admire. Beryl very graciously thanked everyone for the lovely gifts, and expressed the wish that they would all go to visit her. Games were played and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Miss Ethel Stevenson, and Mrs. Edith Orr, and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Waldie was born at Athelstan, Que., seventy-nine years ago, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waldie. In June 1909, he was united in marriage to Mabel Busby of Glenelg, Que., who predeceased him four years ago. Mr. Waldie left the home farm in Athelstan twenty-seven years ago to live in Huntingdon. He ran a fruit farm here for a few years then later joined the North American Life Assurance Company and acted as their agent here until a few years ago.

He leaves to mourn his loss three daughters, Viola (Mrs. Shepherd), Woodlands, Que., Aileen and Ethel (Mrs. Nelson White), Huntingdon, three grand-children, Mrs. Van Ert, Plattsburg, N.Y., and Sandra and Wanda White, Huntingdon, also several nieces and nephews.

How to Stay Alive on The Highway

In one out of every two fatal highway accidents in 1951 the driver was exceeding the speed limit.

"Most of today's motorists learned to drive in low-powered cars in sluggish city traffic," claims a magazine article on high-speed driving. Suddenly they find themselves on long tempting stretches of four-lane highways with speed limits of 50 or 60 miles an hour. Figuring they can "get away with" ten or 15 miles above the limit, their desire to floor the accelerator is irresistible.

Driving at 60, you invite an inner tension you may never have known you had. If this continues unreleased it may break out in "driver's panic", a phenomenon capable of freezing your normal responses. Panic caused by dangerous speeds is the basic reason for hundreds of accidents written off as "reckless driving", "fatigue", wrong side of parkway", or "fell asleep at the wheel".

Physical effects of driving at high speeds can be equally disastrous. At 60 miles an hour or more, your vision is narrowed, your sense of timing blurred. Maneuvers which are easy at moderate speeds are now complicated. Estimating the speed of other cars is difficult. The time during which you can see and act upon any highway situation ahead of you is sharply reduced.

Those who drive on modern super-highways could heed the safety injunctions set forth in this article: When overtaking a car, assume it is going at least ten miles an hour slower than you are. (If it's a truck, make the "ten" read "twenty").

When passing a car, assume it is going at least ten miles an hour faster than it seems to be. Passing a car going 35 miles an hour is the same as passing a string of 18 cars parked bumper to bumper.

When stopping beside a highway at night, pull well off the pavement and douse your taillights. If you leave your taillights on, another driver, tense with his speed, may think you are on the road and drive right into you. That happened recently, on Connecticut's Merritt Parkway, killing an entire family of four.

Slow down before entering a curve: when past the curve's center, feed the engine gas. In case of a blowout, do not touch the brake until you have the swerve under control. Never back up on a high-speed highway, never slow down to read a signpost, and never shift gears while making a turn off the highway. Finally, remember that when driving under 50 your chance of staying out of an accident is five times as good as when exceeding 50.

Watch Your Weight And Live Longer

Over two million Canadians are reducing their life expectancy by over-eating, and overweight persons are currently our primary public-health problem.

That overweight is a major factor in many of the diseases that cause death after 45 is shown conclusively by life-insurance statistics. Heart disease, whatever its specific cause, is always aggravated by obesity. A recent study of the health of Army officers revealed a greater incidence of high blood pressure among overweight individuals.

Contrary to popular belief, overweight afflicts all economic groups about equally, not primarily those of high income. Physical examinations of 5,000 employees of an industrial firm disclosed that overweight among executives and non-executives was about the same—one out of four. Today, because of generally improved living standards, the workman is as likely to "dig his grave with his teeth" as the executive.

The great majority of overweight persons acquire their excess pounds simply by overeating. On proper diets such individuals can bring their weight back to normal and maintain it so.

A warning is issued, however, that "no easy way to reduce is safe; no safe way to reduce is easy."

Diets should never omit essential food elements or decrease calories to the point where weight loss is too rapid. Special cooking is not needed. Unbalanced diets recommended by food faddists lack nutritional essentials and may seriously impair health. Drugs, too, should be avoided.

Consult your doctor on any weight-reducing plan, the article counsels. Only a physician has the knowledge and skill to evaluate both the physical and emotional status of the individual, as well as his degree of overweight.

"If the eye will not straighten with the use of glasses, the operation can be done any time after one year of age, and most certainly should be done before school age is reached," writes Dr. Morgan in the latest issue of Health, magazine of the Health League of Canada. "If the eyes are straightened early in life and used together, there is a much better chance of developing good vision in both eyes."

The operation to straighten a turned eye is a delicate one, he adds; but it is not hard on the child. It is done under general anaesthetic and with modern methods there is little danger connected with it. The patient is usually allowed to go home the second day following the operation and without a dressing on either eye.

"The sooner a child uses his eyes together, the more chance there is of developing good vision," adds the eye specialist. "If treatment for crossed eyes has not been started until the child is four or five years old, good results are more difficult to attain."

The FUTURE

Hydro-electric power generated and distributed by Shawinigan has contributed to the industrial, commercial and agricultural growth of the Province of Quebec.

Shawinigan's development has directly and indirectly created jobs and wages for Quebec workers; its power helps to turn Quebec's raw materials into tangible benefits for the public; its development of Quebec's natural resources helps attract to the Province a wide variety of manufacturing and business firms; and its history shows the friendly and beneficial co-operation which can exist in our way of life between government, management and labour.

This, then, is Shawinigan's agenda for the future—as a citizen of Quebec—to continue contributing to the welfare of the Province and its people as actively as it has done in the past.

The Huntingdon Scout Troop

THE Boy Scout movement in Huntingdon has had varying periods of success over the years. There have been times when it was very much in evidence and when it had extremely good support. Such a movement requires a continual stream of membership among the young boys of the community. For instance it is necessary to have a number of younger boys start out as cubs and then graduate into the Scout Troop. In the past this has not worked out and as a consequence the older boys have left the Scouts, the membership has decreased and interest declined. For a few years it lapsed altogether and there was no activity whatever.

For well over a year now, the movement has received impetus, not only in Huntingdon, but in all parts of the Beauharnois District. In Huntingdon as elsewhere, a Group Committee composed of local citizens has taken over the job of keeping this movement alive and trying to interest the boys in the ideals of Scouting. This work has proceeded quietly and without much fanfare, it was reported on Friday evening that there are now about forty-five boys interested in the movement here. At the moment Mr. W. Atkinson and Const. Anderson of the R.C.M.P., are taking the boys in the scout work and making considerable success of the undertaking. Unfortunately the cubs have no permanent Cubmaster and are seeking the services of someone willing to undertake this task. However, with the help of faithful workers, the movement is definitely going ahead.

On Friday night of this week, the Scout Commissioners for the district will be present and talk with the boys. It is also hoped at this time to distribute the badges which the boys have earned and many of whom will become second class scouts. It would be a nice gesture on the part of the parents of these boys if they would visit the school when the boys have their meetings and see for themselves just what is being done. Friday night would be a very good time and the committee extends a welcome invitation to all who may care to be present.

As in all such movements, cost is something which has to be considered. There are certain obligations that must be met and these require cash to cover them. Fees are paid by the boys, but this does not begin to meet the requirements, a number of people have made donations and it is hoped that more will be forthcoming. To further enable funds to be raised, an entertainment is being held and it is hoped that full support will be given to this endeavor. If there is anyone who feels he or she can help this effort by a donation, same can be sent to Mr. J. R. Fox, Treasurer, Huntingdon. Assistance of this nature can do much to help along the movement in Huntingdon and keep these boys working under a plan which will ultimately build them into first class citizens of the future. Surely this is a worthwhile movement to support when it can mean so much. It means much to our own local youth to keep up the interest.

Re-Equipping The Huntingdon School Library

AT the instigation of an address made by Dr. H. S. Cook, Principal of Huntingdon High School, at a meeting of the Huntingdon Home and School Association, last fall, the Association was able to start a project to help the school. Dr. Cook was appalled at the condition of the school library and he made it the subject of his address to the meeting. He pointed out the great necessity of having a well equipped library both as to books and facilities. He urged the Association to do something about the matter and the members agreed that they would do whatever possible.

Work has been slowly proceeding on this matter and the books contained in the original library have been gone over by a committee as well as a qualified school librarian. The result was that practically all the books were found to be unfit for such a library. Another committee was formed to make estimates as to what would be needed to refit the library to make it a truly useful unit to the school. Their estimate which included books was $4,500. Assistance was asked of the Provincial Education authorities through the local member, Mr. H. A. D. Somerville, and a grant of $680, has been promised. This means that much more must be raised if the library is going to be what it should. At the last meeting of the Association a committee was named as a Ways and Means Committee to try and find a way of raising more money and getting started on the project. A number of persons have signified a willingness to contribute cash toward the project and the committee hopes that there will be many more of the same mind. There have been offers of books, but the committee would rather that people making such offers would agree to paying the purchase price of a book chosen by the Principal or librarian. In this way only those books really suitable would be placed in the library. The average price of books is based at $2.50. Books donated in this way would be so designated on the bookplate inside the book. Contributions are needed for furnishings and to pay for work that has to be done in lighting and renovating. The school is an important institution and any help that can be given toward making it more useful is something worth consideration. The Home and School Association has sponsored several forms of raising money and is continuing to do so. Such items will be used to increase the funds and help in the library project. It is felt that with the help of the friends of the school municipality that sufficient funds should be raised to go ahead with the project very soon. Thus if there are any persons who feel they can help, the Association hopes they will come forward and state to what extent they can do so. This can be done through either Dr. Cook or Rev. R. D. MacLean, the President.

It might be pointed out here that the School Board is busily engaged with several other projects to improve facilities at the school and thus has its hands full. The Home and School Association therefore feels it is doing a worthwhile service for the school, the board and the public and one which merits support from all interested in the progress of the school.

School Relationship In The Community

A program is being worked out at Huntingdon High School whereby a closer tie with the industries here may be of mutual advantage. We have no vocational guidance teachers in our school and the students have had very little contact with the various industries in the town to learn much of their workings. Yet, in the course of the studies taken at the school, several of the industries have a link-up. For instance in the teaching of household science, textiles form a part of the study as the girls are taught how to choose cloth of various fabrics and textures, etc. Thus it is in other studies and especially science, that some of the industries could provide first hand information on the subject taken.

It is the intention to try and have the students at the school visit the various plants in town and if possible have the workings of these plants explained to them. A visit is being made this week to Leach Textiles Ltd., and a report of this will appear in the next issue of this newspaper. It is hoped that other visits will be made from time to time to other plants and public utilities.

This idea is extremely good in many ways. Every child is not academically fitted to higher learning, yet this same child may make a very good mechanic or tradesman. Having the students visit around the various plants can be the means of their forming in their own minds a liking for one or other of the various types of industry. In this way the school is doing a service not only to the student, but to the industry itself. When the time comes a student may decide that he or she would like to work at one of these places and therefore becomes a candidate for employment. Such a person forms a greater attachment for a job than those who are just pushed into it.

We feel sure that the school will receive the co-operation of all officials of industry in Huntingdon and nearby points and that they will strive to enlighten the visitors as to the workings of their establishments. Suitable arrangements can be made as to size of groups, time of visit and so forth, in advance of the tour. In this way the visitors will be able to receive the proper instruction and understand the various functions of manufacture and production.

Apart from the knowledge to be gained on the part of students, we believe much better relationship will be built up in the community as between school and industry.

Random Glimpses of The Past Taken from Gleaner Files

January 18
The following is taken from a report appearing in the Huntingdon Gleaner, January 11, 1906.

"The dedication ceremony of the new St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held on Thursday, January 18, 1906. This church, which took 20 months to construct, covers a large area, measuring 67 by 104 feet. The church proper is square, 67 x 67, the peak of its roof rises to the height of 50 feet and the spire 70. The walls are of limestone and exceedingly solid. The ceiling of the auditorium rises to a glass dome, 28 feet from the floor. Although there is an excellent basement in the church, it is used only for the furnaces, an annex 37 x 35 feet, being built alongside the church which contains numerous rooms for social gatherings and the Sunday School. There is a kitchen, a dining room, a ladies' parlor, a number of smaller rooms, and a hall that seats 200 which is divided from the church by sliding doors, so that when required it can be made one with it, when 600 people can be seated. At the rear of the church is the shed, which is of novel design, 100 x 20 feet, and giving accommodation to 40 horses. No feature of the church draws the same attention as the organ, which stands 15 feet high and fills the width of the above 16 feet. It contains 700 pipes; of these, 39 are in front of the auditorium, the rest reaching to the ceiling. Its cost was $2,150 and comes from the factory of Casavant Brothers, St. Hyacinthe.

At a congregational meeting held, Mr. Philips gave a general report of the accounts as follows:

The Reservoir of Talent

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Winston Churchill, after the air battle over London, spoke of the "Reservoir of Talent" that is in peace as well as in war it is to the devoted efforts and talents of the few that mankind owes its greatest debt for preservation and progress. Examples of this are set forth in a recent book, "The Estate of Man," by Michael Roberts, an English poet and mathematician, who died before his work was published.

In a chapter on "The Reservoir of Talent," the author begins by pointing out that between 1900 and 1940, through the efforts and ingenuity of a few hundred men, the efficiency of the steam-turbine was more than doubled, with the result that more than a million tons of coal are saved every year in electrical energy. A few hundred engineers and scientists have increased the per acre yield of grain, discovered strains that will grow in climates that were formerly unsuitable and have virtually doubled the world's cultivable land. Industrial chemists, by the invention of synthetic rubber and indigo, have set free millions of acres for the cultivation of other crops.

"It is not the workers' who, in the past hundred years, have made possible the rise in the standard of living and the great extension of the world's habitable areas," says Mr. Roberts, "but a tiny group of engineers, scientists and explorers; and it is to that group we must look forward to any improvement in the future." "If the great mass of people continue to insist on their right to work less and consume more, they must be prepared to give every opportunity to the small group on whose efforts they are wholly dependent for the achievement of their aims."

Mr. Roberts says there is already a shortage of talent in Britain, where the industrial machine that has been built up calls for increased numbers of highly-skilled technicians, and the standards of health and welfare demand an increased proportion of dentists, doctors and trained nurses. The same applies to the upper ranks of the civil service. But there are not enough talented people to go round, and "there is no substitute of intelligence," the standard of efficiency must be lowered. "Before we plan any further development of social services we need to ask ourselves what our resources are, instead of planning the future with the reckless abandon of a child spending his birthday present ten times over," says Mr. Roberts.

But the real problem, he insists, is in the field of industry and economics. After the war Britain decided that the development of a large part of her industry was to be planned and not left to the hazards of free enterprise. In some matters, such as land conservation, Mr. Roberts admits that may have been all to the good, but there was a considerable price to pay. Not the least part of that price was the decline in individual talent and initiative. "Under free enterprise," he says, "the individual used his native wit to the best of his ability, and the level of prices showed the direction in which further effort would be profitable. Substitute fixed prices, subsidies, quotas and rationed consumption for the give and take of a free market, and you need a small army of highly intelligent, highly-trained mathematicians, mass observers, agricultural experts and dietitians to discover what on earth the real position is."

Covey Hill

COVEY HILL — When the road running west over our "big Hill" was made last year the gloomy prophecy was heard that its smooth finishing coat would almost inevitably cause disaster in winter weather. There is reason for thankfulness that so far trucks and cars making the descent have avoided any accident, a fact due, no doubt, to caution, as well as expertness in driving and also to timely sanding by Messrs. Sutton.

Mr. Harold Curran has returned home from the Barrie Memorial Hospital where he underwent a successful operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. E. R. Lowden entered the Montreal General Hospital last Thursday and her friends are hoping she may benefit by the treatment undertaken.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sutton, Wayne, Shirley and Patricia were recent visitors in Malone.

Mrs. Harrison Rennie and son Robert are spending some time with relatives in Peru, N.Y., the latter being employed in Plattsburg.

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA (CP)—Debate on the controversial Currie Report cracked and roared across the floor of the House of Commons last week in a major political battle that raised side issues of sharp political importance.

The debate was on a government motion to set up a committee on defence expenditures and have it deal with the Currie Report, which charged a breakdown in administration of the Army Works Branch and an indifference to administration among defence "higher-ups."

In set speeches and heated exchanges across the floor, these points were made:

1. Defence Minister Claxton said there will be no scapegoats for the findings of the report by George S. Currie, Montreal accountant. He accepted responsibility for the situation that was being rectified as fast as possible.
2. John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) charged the government is using the RCMP as a political pouter in investigating how an advertisement copy of the report reached M. J. Coldwell, CCP leader.
3. Stanley Knowles (CCP-Winnipeg North Centre) accused the government of improperly threatening Mr. Coldwell in its efforts to get from him the name of the person who gave him the advance copy of the report.
4. Carl Nickle (PC-Calgary West) said that E. W. George (L-Westmorland), a lieutenant-colonel commanding a New Brunswick armored unit, drew parliamentary army pay in 1951 for more days than there are in the calendar. Lt.-Col. George, who was not in the commons at the time, said in an interview he is "in the clear" on such charges and that he will make a statement in parliament in due course.

No Scapegoats
Mr. Claxton, making the government's main rebuttal, said shortages of skilled personnel were largely responsible for the situation. Wrongdoing in the armed services comparatively was no more widespread than in any large civilian undertaking.

The loss at Camp Petawawa through thefts and fraud amounted to $50,000. Most of the stolen items had been recovered. Mr. Currie had not uncovered those irregularities and he had not been able to find others in a coast-to-coast study.

The defence minister referred to the check made by his department of the report before it was tabled in the Commons. The fact was brought to light originally by differences between the tabled report and the advance copy received by the CCP.

Mr. Claxton said he had proposed that a draft copy of the Currie report be checked by his department for accuracy of facts. Mr. Currie had agreed after initial disapproval to do so. "I did not want errors in fact... which would discredit the report and make it more difficult to implement recommendations," said Mr. Claxton.

No Horses on Payroll
Prime Minister St. Laurent told the house of one statement in the report he said was wrong. He contradicted the statement that there were horses on the army payroll at Camp Petawawa under the guise of non-existent laborers. A sergeant there had hired a number of horses on his own account for army work, then hired separately a number of laborers and put them on the payroll as if they owned the horses. The laborers turned over half their pay to the sergeant to meet the cost of the horses.

The advance copy of the report which went to the CCP figured prominently in the debate when Prime Minister St. Laurent termed the copy "stolen goods" and said the RCMP is trying to find out who stole it.

Mr. Diefenbaker charged the government with using the RCMP as "political police." He rejected Liberal suggestions that the inquiry was in the national interest.

"The only security the government could possibly find in danger was its own reputation and its own security," he said.

"Parliament dare not allow its national police force to be used in any way that may be considered a political one or have a political purpose in mind."

Mr. Knowles contended the police inquiry was a "red herring" to draw public attention away from government embarrassment over "being caught in the act" of "improperly pressuring" the Currie firm into giving an advance copy of the report to the defence department for preliminary checking.

The CCP member said the government had improperly threatened CCP leader Mr. Coldwell in trying to get from him, while he was in hospital, the name of the person who gave the CCP its advance copy.

He said a letter from Mr. Claxton to Mr. Coldwell contained a "veiled threat" that unless Mr. Coldwell gave the information the RCMP would be put to work to dig it out. The CCP leader refused.

"The government has no right to question Mr. Coldwell as to how he got it," said Mr. Knowles.

"Stolen Copy"
"Later Mr. St. Laurent said 'no one is entitled, because of his privileges as a member of parliament, to have in his possession a thing that has been stolen and that he knows was stolen.'"

This brought both Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Knowles to their feet to protest what they interpreted as a slur on the absent Mr. Coldwell. Mr. Diefenbaker said he had heard no statement to match it in 13 years in the commons and said it was "a sorry day for parliament."

Mr. St. Laurent explained he did not intend to say that Mr. Coldwell knew the advance copy was stolen. "I intended to suggest that circumstances were such that he might very well have known."

Mr. Diefenbaker, arguing for a wider inquiry than the defence expenditures committee could make, said the Canadian people want assurance that extravagance and waste will be purged. Instead, the government proposed to send the report to the committee which, with its big Liberal majority, would "varnish" it. This was like reviewing the findings of a judge to make them more palatable.

LOCAL LEAGUE HOCKEY

The Huntingdon Bombers played against Howick at the Ormstown Arena on Wednesday, January 14th and the score was 4 to 1 in favour of Huntingdon. The score was no indication of the play however, as Howick has a young and aggressive team. Both teams were inclined to rough it up during the first two periods, but they got down to playing real fast hockey in the last period. In the first period penalties were handed out to B. Tennant, G. Moore, B. Ness, DeB and Kavanaugh; in the second period to G. Moore, Ness and Brisobis; in the third period to Oumet and MacFae. Huntingdon scored once in the first period, twice in the second and once in the third. Howick made a lone tally in the third to break their ice. On Friday evening, January 9th, Valleyfield Saive played Huntingdon Bombers at St. Joseph's School in Huntingdon. It was fast, clean hockey all the way and Valleyfield defeated the Bombers by a score of 6 to 1. This was the Bombers' first defeat since they organized a season. They played a good game but were outclassed. Only one penalty was handed out and this went to J. Boyd. Huntingdon made its one and only marker in the first period and Valleyfield scored twice. Two more in each of the second and third periods were scored by Valleyfield to bring their total to six. Lee's Corners Organizes The boys at Lee's Corners have organized a hockey team and on Thursday evening, January 8th they played an exhibition game with Cazaville. They were defeated to the tune of 10 to 3, but Ken Walsh in goal played a fine game. Even though ten times the net bulged, he is credited with saving a large number of the shots that were put at him. In the first period, O'Connor collected two goals for the losers and Maurice Caza gained 7 points for Cazaville. It is understood that Lees is getting some new players on the line-up and with these will be able to strengthen their team considerably. The boys are full of eagerness and no doubt we shall be hearing more from them as the season progresses. The Huntingdon Bombers played against Howick at the Ormstown Arena on Wednesday, January 14th and the score was 4 to 1 in favour of Huntingdon. The score was no indication of the play however, as Howick has a young and aggressive team. Both teams were inclined to rough it up during the first two periods, but they got down to playing real fast hockey in the last period. In the first period penalties were handed out to B. Tennant, G. Moore, B. Ness, DeB and Kavanaugh; in the second period to G. Moore, Ness and Brisobis; in the third period to Oumet and MacFae. Huntingdon scored once in the first period, twice in the second and once in the third. Howick made a lone tally in the third to break their ice. By Frank Napier

DR. ROLAND NADEAU

Without fanfare, or in fact, any special announcement to that effect, Dr. Roland Nadeau quietly moved into Huntingdon and assumed his important duties as the official representative of the Health of Animals Division, Production Service, Department of Agriculture of Canada, for the Counties of Huntingdon, Chateaugay and Beauharnois. In that respect he was filling the vacancy created through the untimely death of Dr. J. A. Boyer, who had previously filled that position for a considerable number of years.

Officially, Dr. Nadeau is classified as a Sub-District Veterinarian, the three counties concerned constituting one of the sub-divisions of the Montreal (Province of Quebec) Branch of the Health of Animals Division. He is therefore also one

MAX FACTOR
MAKE-UP
Smith Pharmacy

of the six Port of Entry Veterinary Inspectors located in the Province of Quebec.

HUNTINGDON AREA
Needless to say, the Huntingdon Sub-division is one of the most important of such Sub-Divisions in Quebec Province. For instance, in the three counties concerned there are 3,291 herds, comprising 65,882 head of cattle, which are under the supervision of the Huntingdon office. A partial break-down in that respect indicates as follows:

Restricted Area Testing Plan:
Chateaugay 1,168 herds, 23,033 cattle.
Huntingdon 1,259 herds, 23,893 cattle.
Beauharnois 719 herds, 12,631 cattle.

T.B. Accredited Herd Plan:
(The three counties combined)
145 herds, 6,325 cattle.

DOCTOR NADEAU:
A farmer's son, Dr. Nadeau was born and reared in Beauce County, Que. After his regular schooling he took his High School course at Beauveille Commercial College, and from there, he entered the College of Veterinary Medicine at Oka, from whence he graduated in 1936 with the degree of D.M.V. (In English, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine). In 1936 he joined the Health of Animals Division service and was assigned to the Montreal Branch of same, in which Branch he served until his appointment in June 1952 as a Sub-Division Veterinarian for the Huntingdon Area.

SIZEABLE CHORE
While the testing and supervision of some of 3,291 herds of cattle is a sizeable chore in itself, that does not by any means embrace all Doctor Nadeau's duties, the others being many and varied. For instance, he has to issue export certificates with respect to the health status of the animals so involved—including T.B. and Bangs and such other diseases as the importing state or country may stipulate. In many instances the blood samples are drawn by an accredited veterinarian and the samples are either tested at Hull, Macdonald College or Quebec. However, the necessary certification must be made by Dr. Nadeau. Similarly all certificates with respect to the export of hay and straw must be issued by him.

Huntingdon

He also has to inspect and certify all imports of animals and animal by-products which enter this district. Even unto the lowly pigeon and canary.

CAPABLE ASSISTANT
As regards the office end of his work, Dr. Nadeau is capably assisted by Miss Rita Kerby who has been a member of the Health of Animals Branch Secretariat Staff for some five years or so.

TODDREST HOLSTEINS
While on the Health of Animals Division Work in this district, we may well refer to the Toddrest Holstein Herd of W. J. Todd, Connaught Road, Huntingdon.

In December last that herd received its annual T.B. Accredited Herd test and the certificate concerning same was renewed. That means that the Toddrest herd has now been fully accredited since 1922. In the last test 63 head of Holsteins were involved.

Incidentally, W. J. Todd is the third generation of Todd's of Toddrest Farm. That farm was originally settled by John Todd who was succeeded by his son, Charles Todd, who died some three years ago. In turn Charles Todd was succeeded by W. J. Todd, although the latter actually carried on the farm several years before his father's death.

DAIRY FARMER'S MEETING
Last Sunday noon, Gilbert MacMillan boarded a T.C.A. Plane at Dorval Airport, his destination being Vancouver, B.C. He was accompanied by his daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Cameron Farquhar and Miss Garen Farquhar, both of Fort Covington, N.Y.

Mr. MacMillan's mission is to preside at the annual meetings of Dairy Farmers of Canada, of which he is president. In that respect also, he is the senior representative of Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association to Dairy Farmers' and therefore, in turn, one of the representatives of the Purebred Dairy Cattle Associations on the Board of Directors of Dairy Farmers of Canada. On his way back to Dorval Airport, he will stop off at Calgary and Regina where he will attend meetings of Alberta and Saskatchewan Dairy Producers Associations, respectively.

John K. Dickson, Balsam Lodge Farm, Ormstown, also left Dorval Airport on Saturday, via T.C.A. for Vancouver. P. D. McArthur, Cherry Bank Farm, Howick was also scheduled to fly to Vancouver by the same route on either Saturday or Sunday.

Mr. Dickson and Mr. McArthur are also proceeding to Vancouver and Victoria to attend the Dairy Farmers' and Confederation meetings, of which organizations they are directors as representing the Montreal Milk Producer's Association.

"Death Dust" Bomb May Be the Next

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Could it be that the atomic scientists will turn next to a "death dust" bomb, now in work on the hydrogen bomb appears to be in the home stretch?

President Truman, in his "State-of-the-Union" message, made clear the H-bomb effort is well in hand and he said "we have no reason to think that the stage we have now reached in the release of atomic energy will be the last."

"We are being hurried forward... from one discovery to another," he said.

Fearsome Device
The "death dust" bomb is a fearsome device — which scientists say is theoretically possible — in which the tremendous explosion of a hydrogen bomb would also be used for this purpose.

Converting a material wrapped around the bomb itself into a radioactive poison that would then be carried by the wind over an extensive area of the bomb's blast. Ordinary cobalt has been mentioned as a possibility for such a wrapper material.

Truman made no reference to such a weapon in his message. But his words about the H-bomb would seem to indicate that scientists may even now be thinking of bizarre variations of the awesome weapon.

The poison dust from a hydrogen-cobalt bomb would be deadly to men if they inhaled or swallowed enough of it. And, many among the living might suffer genetic effects, possibly affecting their ability to reproduce, or resulting in defective offspring.

Carry Thousands of Miles
One speculation has been that it might be possible to explode such a hydrogen-cobalt bomb far from an objective and have the resultant poison dust carried great distances, perhaps several thousand miles, before falling on enemy country.

Scientists grant that they don't know under what conditions, including weather, such bombs would be most effective, but they are generally agreed that such a deadly device is possible.

Palatable nutritious silage can be chopped forages easier to unload, spread and compact than the pressed or baled silage. However, experimental results at the Experimental Farms clearly show that silage losses are greater for uncut silages. In addition, uncut silages are more difficult to remove from the silo for feeding than the chopped forages.

BRONCHIAL COUGH
Are you kept awake by a nerve-racking bronchial cough? Is phlegm so tightly packed in your bronchial tubes, no amount of coughing seems able to dislodge it? Templeton's RAZ-MAR capsules are especially made to loosen phlegm, so it comes away easily and you are relieved of coughing and wheezing. Get RAZ-MAR for quick relief. 65c, $1.35 at druggists. 8-56

Cheese to Britain Under New Purchase Offer

A spokesman for the British food ministry at London confirmed that the United Kingdom has agreed to purchase $1,500,000 worth of Canadian cheese. The British spokesman said that as far as is known negotiations are not complete as to price. Details are being arranged by the British purchasing agency in Canada.

The amount involved will have little effect on the British ration. The shipment named is only about two per cent of annual consumption in Britain. The British cheese ration now is one ounce weekly but will be raised to 1 1/2 ounces starting Jan. 25. Expensive varieties, such as Danish blue, gorgonzola and camembert, if there is any, is sold off the ration.

Turns Sod For New City Hall at Ceremony

One of Huntingdon's native sons now living in New Westminster, B.C., took part in an impressive ceremony there recently. Mr. Frank Cameron is the name of the man and he was born in Huntingdon and educated at Huntingdon Academy. His brother, Gordon Cameron is living at Ormstown and a nephew, Clifford Cameron resides in Huntingdon.

Mr. Frank Cameron took part in turning the sod for a new city hall at New Westminster and a picture of him doing this appears in a newspaper from that city. Mr. Cameron moved to New Westminster in 1898 and operated a transfer company. He remembers the first city hall which was destroyed by fire. The site for the new building was originally intended for the B.C. Parliament buildings, when New Westminster was once the capital of British Columbia.

Agricultural Public Relations Need Bolstering

Public Relations is a new-fangled term grown suddenly tall lately to describe a situation as old as creation: man's relationship to man. As a lucrative sideline to some advertising agencies it has been as effective as a bucket brigade fighting a four-alarm fire. Agricultural public relations certainly need some bolstering. Farmers are sensitive about the unjust criticism from their city cousins, but you can't win over the consuming public on the subject of high food prices by a detailed explanation of how little the farmer gets. Farmers can, and should, join forces with their critics in deflecting attention toward the real culprits, if culprits there be. Closer rapport between country and town should be a real part of a farm organization's program. — Grange Newsletter.

Key Man in Averagetown, Canada

If you live in an average Canadian community, you can easily see that it's changing.

Everywhere, you look, new construction tells a story of progress. Here, perhaps, is a handsome new store. There, a new bridge, office building, power plant, highway, housing project — or some other vital development that makes life better for all.

But do you know that many of these developments are made possible by a certain Key Man? And can you guess who he is? He's the typical life insurance policyholder — representing millions of Canadians.

How can he do all this just by owning life insurance? The life insurance policyholder is a helpful citizen in another way. For the money he puts aside for the future helps safeguard his family from ever becoming a financial burden to others.

All in all, he's an asset to his community and the nation!

of criminal statistics year after year hardly presents a satisfying picture.

"This not necessarily unalterable tendency would seem to point out immediately that more thought, time and effort than ever before must be given to preventative measures if the condition, which in this report shows only a part of the overall criminal propensity in Canada, is to be checked."

The increasing problem of law enforcement was an "unpleasant reminder" that prevention and even cure were falling short of the cause.

The 136.9 percent increase in drunken and impaired driving (Ontario and Quebec figures excluded) was due, reported the Commissioner, to the change in the Criminal Code making it unlawful to drive a car when liquor or drugs are a detectable factor.

More Smuggling
The sharp increase in smuggling, the Commissioner stated flatly, was due to the "wide disparity in prices in Canada and the United States," making cigarettes the favorite commodity of the fast-dollar border-jumper.

There was a 400 percent increase in the number of cigarettes seized, 67,570 cartons or a million-plus individual smokes.

Despite the loss, reported the Commissioner, "smugglers continue to gamble for the large potential profits" in the "smugs" traffic, which, for a time, was confined to the Quebec-Vermont border, but now was extending to other points along the international boundary.

There were 982 smuggled cars seized, 41 of them stolen in the United States and brought to Canada by five men currently facing 75 charges under the Criminal Code and the Customs Act.

Rum, whiskey and beer smuggling and bootlegging was an expanding enterprise, and 163 stills were raided, one of them with a 500-gallon weekly capacity.

Commissioner Nicholson reported seven individual cases of crime detection during the year, none of them startling; all going to underline that police work almost all the time, is a matter of hard slugging rather than stimulating excitement.

Unromantic Staff
His seven cases made plain that crime detection is much more of the unromantic and dull stuff of research, and much less of the imaginative rough, tough, sin and gin flavor than readers of Raymond Chandler, Mickey Spillane or even dreamed.

Scattered through the report are odd bits of information:

Marihuana, the smoking of "reefers," is not a teen-age problem in Canada.

Heroin (Diacetylmorphine) sells in Eastern Canadian cities at $3 per grain capsule, on the West Coast at $6, and for $13 in oil-rich Edmonton.

The narcotic traffic is becoming so slick that one operator could import as much as a kilogram (32 ounces) of heroin simply by telephoning his accommodating source of supply in a large American city.

This supply line was chopped in a team-play between the RCMP and the FBI.

Commissioner Nicholson was properly vague about the work of the Special Branch (the anti-subversive bureau) and the Emergency Planning Branch.

"The activities of these branches," he reported briefly, "have kept pace with the developments in their respective fields of security both nationally and internationally, and the results of their work have been encouraging."

Strength of the uniformed force stood at 4517 officers and men, up 458; that of the civilian staff at 1,124, up 198.

Blind Seek to Unify Abbreviated Braille

TORONTO, (CP)—Officials of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind are seeking adoption of a uniform system of abbreviated Braille in Canada and the United States.

THE LATE MRS. C. W. POTTER

Mary Idella Blair, wife of the late Charles W. Potter passed away at her home, Hemmingford, Que., on Monday evening, Jan. 5, 1953, at the age of 76 years.

She was born at Covey Hill, Que., on Sept. 16, 1876 and always resided in the community.

On Oct. 19, 1898, she was united in marriage to Charles W. Potter.

Funeral services were held from the Wesley United Church, Covey, on Thursday afternoon by the Rev. Wm. Holmes. The choir sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "Jesus, Savior Pilot Me," and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," all favorites of the deceased.

The pallbearers were Chas. Edwards, James Curran, Fergus Moore, James McAllister, Davison Pratt and Merrill Colgan.

Braille while in Canada have been advocating the abbreviated form. This form makes reading by touch easier, faster, more enjoyable, and permits a greater amount of printing on a page.

The committee has circulated a questionnaire to hundreds of Braille readers in both countries in an effort to obtain opinions on simplifying the six-dot writing that renders the alphabet, punctuation marks and the arabic numerals readable to trained fingers.

Mr. Beath said many more meetings will be necessary before all parties are satisfied with the changes in the symbols and that all findings must be submitted to Britain for final approval.

One of these cherished mementoes was received by Hartland Rowell, president of Branch 108 and will occupy an honoured place in the Club Rooms at Chateauguay Basin.
