WMA adopts new by-laws; to incorporate

Quick cops start heart on MTC bus

A 59-year-old St. Joseph boulevard man was alive in intensive care at the Montreal General Hospital this week, thanks to the quick action and hard, knowledgeable work of two Westmount constables last Saturday.

The man, whose wife said he had "never been sick a day in his life," suffered a cardiac arrest on an MTC bus which had just turned down Victoria avenue from Sherbrooke street.

PSOs John Brighten and Vern Wooley were on patrol up the hill on Victoria in their "Hallowe'en" emergency wagon when the radio call came. On the scene in moments, they used oxygen and external heart massage and when an ambulance and doctor arrived 15 minutes later, had managed to get the victim's heart to respond.

Hydro relotted

A redivision of the site of the Hydro-Quebec substation, abuilding between St. Antoine and Selby streets west of Greene, was made by city council Tuesday night. It was made into two lots, one of which goes to Dawson college for the site of the staircase leading down from Selby to the Main entrance.

Picture taker

A camera and photo gear valued at $700 was reported last Thursday morning stolen from 345 Victoria avenue.

Sees car break doesn't report it

This is the sort of thing which would drive big, strong policemen to tears, if they had a tendency to cry.

Investigating the theft of a duffle bag containing $150 worth of personal articles from a car in the Tupper parking lot, they came across a woman who said, sure, she saw a couple of youths forcing a window of the victimized car.

She didn't bother to call the police.

Kids steal milk tickets try sale back to milkman

Somehow the old dodge of stealing money and milk tickets from bottles on doorsteps-of which there have been few complaints in Westmount in a long time—seemed to have been done with more finesse in the past.

Or, blame it on the youthfulness of the latest culprits who got themselves caught red-handed, by a milkman, last Saturday afternoon.

Complaints came in to police from 4444 Sherbrooke, 399 Clarke,

The 62-year-old Westmount Municipal association made a move toward incorporation, adopted new by-laws, and elected 48-year-old shipping executive James Lewis Thom its new president at tandem special general and annual meetings in Victoria Hall Tuesday evening.

The two-and-three-quarter-hour session with a slim turnout of only 131 persons, also reported a surplus for the year of $6—"Not everyone can show a surplus these days, even $6!" quipped outgoing president V. Geoffrey Hobbes—added St. Antoine Street Activist Fred Leclaire to the official slate for the executive, and heard a suggestion that de Maisonneuve boulevard be closed to "internal combustion engine vehicles."

The entire city council of mayor and six aldermen and the city's general manager were interspersed in traditional fashion with association officers, coming, going, and remaining, at the 14-place head table.

The newly decorated main concert hall's stage was banked with an impressive array of flowers arranged by the conservatory staff. The flowers were noted; the new paint job covering a decade's stains and grime, particularly on the ceiling, was not. It was completed last week as a compromise between an intention to do a major overhaul and a stringent city budget, to which reference was made during the evening, particularly in Mayor Peter M. McEntyre's "state of the city" address.

Mayor McEntyre reviewed recent municipal developments, dwelling at length on low-cost housing plans, and then make some observations on the Montreal Urban Community.

The objectives of Council, he said, will be "to enhance the interests of Westmount residents while playing an effective role within the new regional government." He did not know what impact the Community would have locally, expressing some concern, but suggested citizens should be looking at the long term effects.

He urged the WMA to "start planning now" for the changes to take place in Westmount's government under Cities and Towns Act changes.

There was no dissent for any of the formal business, differences appearing only after His Worship invited questions, all but one of which he fielded himself. He called on General Manager Norman Dawe to affirm that pollution figures, from the city's two recording stations operated in conjunction with Montreal, were available to interested persons at city hall.

Blood pressures were raised only near the 11:15 pm termination (the meeting began 15 minutes late, at 8:30) when newly-elected Mr. Leclaire bluntly threw in a resolution which, when finally framed, proposed that "the city take proper action to relinquish their expropriation powers on lower Westmount." The resolution had some vehement supporters and equally adamant opponents who felt that matters of this sort should not be presented abruptly without prior consideration by the executive. The motion was clearly defeated in the only contested vote of the night.

After which coffee and sandwiches were served.

RMR second in Militia competition

The Royal Montreal Regiment, Westmount, came second — behind the Canadian Grenadier Guards — in a 14-unit Militia competition held at Camp Farnham.

The competition for the Western Quebec District trophy was won by the CGG in 1966 and 1967. It was not held last year.

This year the competition moved away from a Montreal-based armory and included such field subjects as map using, communications, fieldcraft, obstacle courses and the practical aspect of military skills taught at the local armory and during weekend exercises throughout the year.

The point-spread between the winner and runners-up was not disclosed, but the RMR came close behind the winner, and was followed by the Regiment de Maisonneuve.

The other Westmount-based Reserve units — 15 Independent Signals Squadron and 3 Field Engineer Regiment — did not field teams in the competition.

Fence OKd

Robert G. Ross, who owns a property at 17 Grove park, was granted a permit by city council Tuesday to instal a wire link fence and hedge along the Mountain avenue frontage, nine feet over the building line, to provide privacy for the rear of his shallow lot.

Bike tags Saturdays

Hey, kids! And Moms and Dads!

If you haven't got your bicycle licensed yet, get over to the police station on Stanton street Saturday morning, preferably this week or next, between 8 am and 4 pm.

The men in blue will check your bike before giving you your 1970 permit.

NEXT WEEK'S WEATHER

By ERIC NEAL

May 22 to 31

Mainly sunny everywhere. Heat fogs morning and evening are normal fare for this pleasant but changeable week, and a showery evening can follow a sultry afternoon. Thunder probable.

Northern and Gulf counties will have a little freezing drizzle and a few snowflakes. Nights can be cold so delicate plants will need protection in some districts.

Sunny and humid with stifling afternoons in the middle of the week. Heat lightning and no rain some evenings. Heavy dews probable. Tornadoes around Lake Champlain. Cloudburst rains and thunder for Ottawa, Montreal and Sherbrooke regions possible during the weekend.

The Kairos Folksingers pay a return visit to St. Andrew's Church at 11 am this Sunday with a new service on the theme "Live Love."

The 40 young people in the group come from a number of local and Lakeshore churches, and are based at St. Andrew's. Under the direction of Ron Anderson, the singers are presenting services every Sunday and have travelled to Cornwall, Ottawa, Sherbrooke, Charlottetown and Saint John. Older people as well as the younger generation have been attracted by these services and are invited to meet the singers following the St. Andrew's morning service.

This Sunday evening a music workshop will be conducted at St. Andrew's by Dr. Alexander Peloquin, outstanding American musician. Invited are all singers who wish to take part in the Monday and Wednesday evening services at the Montreal-Ottawa Conference of the United Church at Macdonald College.

Last Sunday, the following children were baptized at St. Andrew's: Nicholas Maitland, son of Mr. and Mrs. S.M. Horn, and Christine Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.G. Woods.

Good Earth' at Dominion

Dr. Douglas Smith will preach Sunday in Dominion-Douglas United Church on "The Good Earth." He will deal with the Christian attitude toward the world of nature and also the problem of pollution.

Mastering circumstances lecture topic

How submission to the control of God makes men masters rather than the victims of circumstances will be set forth in a free public lecture on Christian Science to be given by Charles W. Ferris, CSB, of Minneapolis on Tuesday evening at 8:15 in the Oval Room of the Ritz Carlton Hotel. Mr. Ferris is an authorized teacher and public practitioner of Christian Science, as well as being a member of the denomination's international board of lectureship.

The natural and official curiosity, considering the hour, of a Westmount Police patrol on Sherbrooke street at 4:14 am last Friday led to the arrest of two Verdun 19-year-olds and the restoring to the University of Montreal of a variety of electronic sound gear bearing the university's identification marks.

The pair, Gilles Roy and Pierre Delorme, were disembarking from a taxi just east of Lansdowne avenue and police say each was carrying a bag in which the record changers, headphones, stereo units and speakers were stowed.

The equipment was later reported stolen earlier in the night. The duo was turned over to Montreal Police.

Baker to appear in Desbarats show

The controversial Milton-Park development in Montreal will be the topic of the final CBMT presentation of Versus next week, hosted by Peter Desbarats. "Witnesses" will include Joseph Baker of McGill's School of Architecture, who resides at 1087 Greene avenue. The program is scheduled for Tuesday, May 26, at 7:30 pm.

Mr. Baker last week became a Fellow of the Royal Society of Architects.

That is, the publisher says...

The joys and challenges of publishing The Examiner each week are many and varied. (We eschew saying "trials and tribulations," recognizing that no one is particularly interested in our troubles specially if they have their own.)

Kind interest shown in our operation indicates that Westmounters have mostly come to regard this as their community newspaper, which, of course is the object of the exercise.

So possessive have many become that the problems of delivery in recent months, brought on by the postal unrest and deterioration of mail service, have made for the most frequent phone calls being impassioned pleas: "Where's my paper?" Folks really care. Last Thursday night, our paper came off the press and was refused acceptance by the post office. The result was, in fact, the best delivery to Westmount readers since January, thanks to an eager group of McGill Entrepreneurial Agencies and other students, and considerable cost. Most were delivered Friday, the balance Saturday—which is a lot more than can be said for the post office recently.

A little aside regarding the post office. For over a year we have been providing a sorted bag for each of Westmount's 32 postal walks, and since the Lapalme ruckus these bags have gone direct to the Westmount postal station in the wee hours Friday morning. Even so, the carriers or the system or both have managed to deprive Westmounters of their local newspaper, often well into the following week.

What Mr. Kierans and Mr. Drury, on down to the postie on the walk, don't seem to appreciate is that the abject failure to manage the post office and its labor relations does damage to everyone; in the case of a newspaper, or magazine, it is not just the publisher who suffers: it is every subscriber who has bought and paid for something which the government has failed to deliver efficiently and promptly.

This week every Westmount Examiner subscriber should have his or her paper Friday, thanks to our employing double the number of students and a lighter paper. And the paper is lighter, again thanks to the postal chaos which has caused advertisers to hold back their normal promotion.

Enough of the postal bit-everyone has his own particular problems over mail and ours are probably their least. All we'll add is that with slowed business and the problems of collections, Ottawa is courting economic losses to the country many times the cost of acceding to postal workers' demands.

This week marks another "first" for your local newspaper. Early in the new year we commenced our own typesetting, electronically and photographically, in our own office here in Westmount. The process has been stepped up each week. Last week 15 of our 16 pages were home produced and, with this issue, the job is entirely locally produced. Presswork continues to be done in the same LaSalle plant which prints Le Devoir.

Grade 7 group refutes board

Sir: The report in the Westmount Examiner, May 14, that the grade sevens would remain in the high school in the coming year is erroneous as far as the committee studying the proposal is concerned.

The proposal has been studied by a group of parents and areport will be presented within a few days to the executives of the Home and School associations of Roslyn and Westmount Park schools and thence to the parents of both schools.

Should the parents support this proposal, then it will be taken to the School Commissioners of Westmount with the request that they present it to the PSBGM for consideration.

The present postal situation

Spring reached its peak in Ottawa these past few days with the blooming of the tulips on Parliament hill. This ought to be a time of happiness and peace—a trouble-free occasion—but it clearly is not either here or in the United States.

Their troubles may be deep-rooted and hence more difficult to resolve but that should not be an occasion for smugness, least of all by Montrealers, who have experienced their share of troubles and disputes in recent years.

At the moment there is the threat of a postal strike looming on the horizon. Such a threat should not be treated lightly. From all reports (telegrams, letters, phone calls) I receive, the matter is being considered very seriously by Canadians generally and Montrealers in particular.

As my readers are aware, I have been involved in the recent postal negotiations as the official employer of the letter carriers and postal clerks.

Unenviable Position

I found myself in this unenviable position in 1968, too, when the postal employees participated in a legal strike.

The outcome of the nation-wide strike authorization ballot is unknown at the time of writing.

If the employees vote in favor of a strike this does not mean that a strike will ensue, contrary to what the various news media may have us believe. All a yes-vote does is in effect give the Council of Postal Unions a mandate to return to the negotiating table and present its position from, presumably, an even greater position of strength.

The Council of Postal Unions undertook, before breaking off negotiations last week, to return to the negotiating table. In fact to demonstrate that negotiations would be continued following the vote, several sub-committees were set up by the main negotiating committee to study further the conciliation board

our M.P.Q.

Hon. Kevin Drummond

says...

Lands and Forests gets a "Coureur des Bois" from Westmount...

Joking aside, I consider it a great honor and it is with pleasure that I have accepted the offer of the prime minister to manage the lands and forests department.

With responsibility over 350,000 square miles of forest land which contribute over 25 percent of the Quebec gross national product, the department will undoubtedly play a dominant role in the growth of our economy during the next few years.

Helps create jobs

A dynamic and responsible management of our forest resources will assuredly help the government to create the jobs which are so necessary for the well being of the province.

It is with these objectives in mind that I welcome the challenge of seeing that the transformation of the department into an efficient development-oriented machine continues. In the weeks to come I will describe in some detail the work of the department.

Within the department are five branches: A) Planning; B) territorial domain; C) woods and forests; D) conservation and E) territorial divisions.

I might start by describing the activities of the planning branch. This group formulates departmental policies and establishes programs designed to attain an optimum use of our land and forest resources. The branch has the particular responsibility of preparing a master plan which will guarantee that both the industry and the population have an adequate supply of raw materials and forest land.

There are four services within the planning branch:

The regional planning service, whose main task is the preparation of resource management plans. In this capacity, the service is engaged in planning operations in the various regions of the province.

The economic studies service, which conducts the research necessary to support various regional and provincial plans and is also called upon to undertake special studies with regard to the establishment of new industries. In the near future this service will also be responsible for the implementation of planning, programming and budgeting system at the departmental level. I might add that the department is relatively advanced in the development of this technique.

Research co-ordinated

The research service co-ordinates all research conducted in the realm of forestry within the province. This, of course, is in addition to carrying out its own projects such as the creation and management of experimental forests.

The technical training service supervises the management and training activities at the Duchesnay Forest Ranger School about which I will write more later.

I hope that this has given you a rough idea of the scope of the activities of our planning branch and to a certain extent the department as a whole.

"$81,000 will be spent by the City of Westmount in the near future in carrying out public works projects and making improvements in the present electric light system. The City Council, with His Worship Mayor Jenkins in the chair, met Tuesday night and authorized these expenditures.

"Included in the public works program are the paving of various streets, the laying of sidewalk on York avenue, the erection of a flood-lighting system in the tennis courts located in Westmount Park, the rounding off of corners at various street intersections, and the laying of underground cable for new light standards on various streets."

"Organizers of Unit 201, National War Finance Committee, extend to the citizens of the Westmount District warm appreciation of their splendid showing in the 8th Victory Loan Campaign. The net result of the campaign in Westmount has been that all records have been shattered both from a standpoint of total dollar volume and number of applications received as the district reached 145 per cent of its objective."

In the wake of V-E Day celebrations, Westmount was also preparing for the 1945 Federal Election with four candidates running including Hon. Douglas C. Abbott, Minister of National Defence for Naval Affairs, Liberal; Dr. J. Cyril Flanagan, C.C.F., Maj.-Gen. C. Basil Price, Progressive Conservative, and Charles Wisdom, Independent.

"Activities of the Westmount Municipal Association during the past year have ranged from handling complaints from citizens and acting as an "ombudsman" between them and the city to recommending changes to the zoning by-laws, retiring WMA President Robert L. Hunter said in his report to the 58th annual meeting.

"Elected president of the WMA for 1965-66 was Charles Aspler. Other officers chosen were Mrs. Phyllis Lee Peterson, C.M. Russel and R.H. Stevenson."

report of Judge Rene Lippe. It had been apparent some time ago that the two fundamental and divisive issues in the negotiations were rates of pay and "job security" related to proposed technological changes in the post office.

The conciliation board report, published recently, confirmed this when the Chairman Lippe and his two board members failed to reach any agreement on the first item and the second was declared to be beyond their terms of reference.

Assuming that negotiations have resumed, let me try to set forth briefly the government's position on these two questions, rates of pay and job security.

Third more in benefits

Letter carriers and postal clerks are currently paid $2.99 and $3.14 per hour respectively. This wage level is considered comparable to that of a person doing similar work in the private sector. On top of this there are the normal benefits accruing to anyone employed in the federal public service. Indeed, it is estimated that these additional benefits to all postal employees amount to the equivalent of some $56,900,000 per year--or approximately 33 percent of the cost of the straighttime payroll.

The government's proposed increase of 46 cents per hour over a period of three years (or an increase of about 5 percent per year) was considerably at variance with the Council of Postal Union's proposed increase of 45 cents per hour over one year. The three members of the conciliation board were unable to make an unanimous recommendation on the rates of pay.

Judge Lippe proposed a 50-cent-per-hour increase over a 30-month period; Mr. Keith Campbell, employer representative, proposed a 41-cent-per-hour increase over the same period, and Mr. William Walsh, employee representative, proposed a 60-cent increase over a two-year period.

In order to give an idea of the cost of the proposals I should mention that the average cost per year of these respective proposals would be $20,000,000, (Lippe), $16,000,000, (Campbell), and $25,500,000 (Walsh).

These figures show that the seeming small differences in cents per hour have serious financial consequences when a group as large as the postal service is involved and, when applied to the whole public service, the effect is about ten-fold.

On the question of job security, the government has tried to allay all the fears raised by the spectre of technological change in the post office. It has proposed that

New president is shipping man

The new president of the Westmount Municipal Association is American born, Oct. 23, 1921, in Paterson, N.J., of a Canadian father and American mother. But he moved to Montreal a month later where he was educated at West Hill High School and Sir George Williams University.

James Lewis Thom, who lives at 467 Mount Stephen avenue with his wife, the former Eugenia McCaw and two sons, James Colin and Eugene Graeme, is a director and executive vice-president of the Montreal Shipping Company Limited.

He is a member of the executive council of the Shipping Federation of Canada, director of the Maritime Employers Association, member of the Canadian Economic Policy Committee and the Private Planning Association, Montreal; an associate of the Institute of within 90 days of the signing of a new contract a special joint union-employer committee be established for the express purpose of studying and making recommendations to improve methods for lessening the impact of any future technological change in the postal service. The Council of Postal Unions rejected this proposal and is proposing instead a contract provision which would not allow any layoffs but secure reductions in the number of employees either by attrition or by reassignment.

No 1969 layoffs

As a matter of fact this has been the experience of the post office department. In 1969, some 1,500 postal jobs became redundant as a result of the new five-day mail delivery policy. However, not one postal employee lost employment because of this major operational change. Furthermore a check of postal records over the past 25 years failed to turn up one case where a permanent employee in the Council of Postal Unions was laid off as a result of technological or operational change.

The crux of the matter is, should the federal government as the employer be precluded from releasing anyone from his job, notwithstanding technological change? The Public Service Employment Act does permit the government to lay off its employees but only after stringent criteria have been met. By proposing to set up a committee to review the impact of technological change on an employee's position, the government is effectively reinforcing these criteria. The record attests the government's responsibility to its employees to date.

There is no reason to believe that events and changes in the future will cause that sense of responsibility to be weakened.

Chartered Shipbrokers of London and past director, 1964-67, of the Canadian Export Association.

In community affairs, he moves up to his new office from vice-president of the WMA. He is past president of the Mariners House of Montreal and of the Montreal Sailors' Institute, and is a former director of the Montreal Boys Association.

$1 1/4 million paid by city in April

Over one and quarter million dollars was paid out by the City of Westmount last month in payrolls and other accounts.

Ald. G. Ian Craig, finance commissioner, told Tuesday evening's mid-month meeting of city council that there were no extraordinary items in the $993,652.11 of accounts payable nor in the $290,981.18 of payrolls, which compared closely with those of April 1969.

Rotarians see film on Bermuda

The Westmount Travel Bureau through the courtesy of Bert Love and Air Canada were credited with entertaining members of the Rotary Club of Westmount yesterday through the showing of an excellent travel film depicting the beauties of Bermuda. The film uncovered spots most loved by travellers in this gem of the sea, covering golfing, swimming, water-skiing etc., with excellent photography.

Members were reminded that there would be no noon luncheon next week because of ladies night to be held next Wednesday at 6.30 p.m. at Auberge St. Gabriel in Old Montreal.

Past President Phil Everson occupied the chair and Roy McKelvie introduced visitors several from the Montreal Club, prominent among whom was Jack Rudel, a frequent visitor of late. Birthday carnations were awarded to Dave Youngson, Dave Campbell and Ron MacKay.

Norman Bell reported that the Bicycle Safety Program would be run off on Saturday, May 30, from 9am to 2pm.

Jack Burrows reminded members that there would be no speaker at the June 3 meeting because of the planned golf tournament to be held at Whitlock. Blair Jardine was welcomed back by the chair after a short absence, while Mike Tansey was reported as being still hospitalized at the Montreal General.

Driver, 17, arrested after crash

A 17-year-old juvenile from Montreal was arrested and charged with failing to stop at a stop sign Tuesday evening last week following a collision at Montrose and Argyle avenue in which $1,200 damage was suffered by his 1965 Chevelle and a 1969 Dodge taxi, also driven by a Montrealer, Noel Lawrence, 27. No one was injured.

The Chevelle was proceeding west on Montrose and the crash occurred with the taxi northbound on Argyle, for which there is a "Slow" sign at the intersection. The Chevelle ended up on the lawn of 4351 Montrose and the taxi on another lawn opposite, with $500 and $700 damage, respectively.

Australian girl turns to theatre in spare time

By MARGOT ANDREWS

The Reddy Memorial Hospital in Westmount provides its nursing staff with a good range of experience but is still small enough to be personal.

That's what Patricia Meharry thinks, anyway.

A slim, young, friendly girl of 5'8" with hazel-green eyes, freckles and caramel-colored hair, Patricia comes from Australia and made a few comparisons, between working here and at home, for The Examiner the other day.

"Lots of Australians travel and they know they are going to be away a long time you know, because it's so far away, so they work. Besides, you make friends if you stay in a place for awhile. I like working at the Reddy. There are not continuous emergencies so you have more free time but as a general rule Canadian nursing has more paperwork and not so much bedside nursing as Australian."

Patricia finds lots of things to do here, too. She likes the Atwater library and attended pre-ski gym classes in Westmount High School run by the Canadian Youth Hostels.

"Compared with schools at home, Westmount High is very well equipped and I was struck by the large amount of indoor recreation space. Most of our recreation takes place outside because our climate is so different."

By nature a music-lover, Patricia finds she is turning to theatre here. She has joined the theatre club of Jiri of the Performing Arts and is enthusiastic about learning to be an appreciative member of the audience and leave her prejudices behind when she goes to see a play.

What makes it tick

"I want to find out what makes

tel. 937-1855

theatre tick - what makes a good performance as opposed to a bad. And as theatre becomes more and more weird it seems to me you really do have to become educated to enjoy it, don't you?"

Patricia would like a better understanding of American style humor. Being Australian she has been more exposed to the British. Sometimes she finds Canadians hard to distinguish from Americans but Westmount reminds her of Dalkeith Midlands of Perth.

"Dalkeith is along the Swan river where there were early farms and now is a university. I like walking by the same sort of cul-de sacs, crescents and gardens here."

306 Wing marks end of season

The RCAF Association 306 Wing has announced their last social event of the season will take place tomorrow night at their quarters, Sherbrooke street and Metcalfe avenue, and feature the Musicaires, a smooth group who have played for them before. There will be door prizes and refreshments.

Other coming events are: in conjunction with the Montreal Rotary Club members will go to Ayer's Cliff on May 29, 30 and 31 to help prepare the summer camp for the Mackay Center for Deaf and Crippled Children; presentation of the Harold "Buck" Feldman Memorial trophy donated by 306 Wing to be presented by Chairman Harold Slee on behalf of the president and members at the graduation ceremonies of the College of St. Jean on Saturday, May 30, and a golf tournament to be held Saturday, June 20, at Alburg, Vt.

It was also announced there is still much work to be done on the association building and that work nights are Tuesdays from 7:30. Members are asked to bring along hammers and saws if possible.

The position of secretary manager is declared open for application. Enquiries regarding this position should be directed to the president at the May meeting.

St. Faith's tea is set

The annual spring tea of the Montreal Branch of St. Faith's Guild will be held next Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ross Clarkson, 524 Mount Pleasant avenue.

Toronto alumnae study artists

Sarah Gersovitz, noted Montreal artist and print maker, will discuss "The Trials, Tribulations and Triumphs of the Contemporary (Canadian) Artist" at the annual meeting and dinner of the University of Toronto Alumni, Montreal Alumnae Branch, next Wednesday at the University Women's Club. Those unable to attend the dinner may join the meeting in the lounge at 8:15 pm. All former students of the University are welcome.

Mayor:

Get proud for 'Canada Week'

Mayor Peter M. McEntyre Tuesday night invited Westmounters to celebrate May 25 to 31 as Canada Week, "to proudly bear the name: Canadian, the name that is rightfully ours."

The proclamation was similar to that issued in many municipalities across Canada, "the homeland of all Canadians . . . a land of peace and prosperity with a future few other countries can equal."

Penfield essays issued

Canadian book publishers McClelland and Stewart have announced the publication of a second book of essays from the pen of the famous neurosurgeon, Dr. Wilder Penfield, 4302 Montrose avenue.

Called Second Thoughts, the book probes science, the arts and the spirit and subjects range from popular philosophy to biographical tribute and education.

Dr. Penfield believes that the search for truth, intellectual honesty and independence need not be divorced from courtesy, altruism, moral values and allegiance to ideals. He believes they provide valuable guidelines to life in an electronic age where maladjustment and violence, encouraged by battered and twisted laws and codes of behavior, are becoming pervasive.

Dr. Penfield was one of the founders and first director of the Vanier Institute of the Family, the Montreal Neurological Institute and has been honorary consultant to both the latter and the Montreal Neurological Hospital since his retirement in 1960.

B-E haul nil

Nothing appeared to be missing from 526 Victoria avenue in a breaking and entry over the long holiday weekend, discovered Monday evening. Entry was gained by an unlocked outer rear door and removal of a pane from the inner door.

Scouts, Guides camp at weekend

Boys at Sutton Girls at Pike River

Westmount District troops held a Scout Camporee Victoria Day weekend at Tamarack Farm at Sutton. All five Westmount troops attended and, in spite of inclement weather, the more than 60 boys and leaders who participated had an enjoyable and instructive camping experience.

The girls were: Beverley Adam, Cynthia Fagan, Judy Juneau, Heather Kent and Lynn Moore. Miss Noela Carr of the 1st Company organized and was in command of the camp, which was held at the Provincial Pike River Campsite from Saturday to Monday. In spite of rain, the Guides had a thoroughly good time, participating in fire-lighting, cooking, boating and many other activities.

Miss Carr is an Australian Guide leader who has been attached to the local Viewmount Division for the past year. Her staff at camp included Miss Margaret Windeler, Viewmount's camp secretary; Miss Valerie Dumphrey, a Guider from N.D.G.; Miss Leona Dalqueen, a Guider from St. Lambert, and Miss Mary Crutchfield.

Monday's program was a series of Gilwell games. Each patrol visited numerous stations where they performed various Scouting skills including tracking, pioneering, orienteering, first aid, axmanship, nature lure and cliff scaling.

Monday evening saw the return to Montreal of 60 very tired but happy Westmount Scouts.

The attendance by troop was: Second Westmount, 21; St.

Fire chief's car burns

Think Westmount's firemen are fast responding to a call?

You should have seen them the other morning when the word "Fire!" was shouted from their own parking lot behind the Stanton street Public Safety Department.

It so happened that the smoke-eaters on duty were engaged in some training, but suddenly departmental brass was aware of their "finest" moving at twice the speed seen in most any other known emergency-toward their respective cars.

They were gallantly led by Platoon Chief William Black, who promptly gave a live demonstration to his men of how to cut out with a knife the burning and smouldering upholstery of the front seat of a car: his car, a vintage but well-beloved Pontiac.

Best brains of the brigade surmise that the misfortune was caused by a careless motorist or pepedestrian tossing a burning cigaret butt from Thornhill avenue, which nearly overhangs the lot, into the open window of Black's beauty.

St. George's students make university

The principal of St. George's School, Robert Leicester, is proud of the college prospects of the graduation class.

The picture is not yet complete, for Canadian admissions customarily are made over the summer, but American colleges admit students in May for the following September.

Ten students from St. George's have been accepted by 20 American colleges or universities. In some instances, two or three students were accepted by the same institution. In addition, there have early acceptances in several Canadian universities. In a number of cases, financial help is also being given.

For some of the colleges, Mr. Leicester points out, the desire for a student body of diverse geographic origin make Canadian candidates attractive. But basically admission to American universities is gained by a combination of school record, aptitude and achievement tests of the College Entrance Examination Board, interviews, and the principals' recommendation. For some of the small but distinguished colleges, the ratio of applications to admissions can be as high as eight or 10 to one.

There were three acceptances of St. George's students at each of the following: Colgate University, Hamilton, New York; Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, and the University of Rochester, Rochester, New York. Two were accepted at the State University of New York at Stony Brook, Long Island. And one each at the following: Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio; Clarkson Institute of Technology, Potsdam, New York; Colby College, Waterville, Maine; Jackson College (Tufts University) Medford, Massachusetts; Kirkland college (Hamilton College,) Clinton, New York; Lasell Junior college Auburndale, Massachusetts; Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania; Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont; Northeastern University, Boston, Middlebury, Vermont; Northeastern University, Boston, Massachusetts; Pembroke College (Brown University), Providence, Rhode Island; Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, New York; Saint Lawrence University, Canton, New York; Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, New York; Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts, Union College, Schenectady, New York and Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, New York.

Students have also been admitted to Bishop's University, the University of New Brunswick, McGill and Sir George Williams under the early admission plan.

Woman is injured in Boulevard crash

Mrs. E. Gottlieb, 28, of Chomedey, was taken to the Montreal General Hospital for treatment of undetermined injuries early Monday afternoon when the 1968 Pontiac driven by Norbert Gottlieb, 32, also of Chomedey, was in collision with a 1970 Ford sedan.

Mrs. L. Pinkham, 44, of Valois, was driving the Ford west on The Boulevard and making a lefthand turn south on Victoria when the two vehicles met. The Gottlieb car was proceeding east on The Boulevard.

Estimates of damage ran to $300 to the Ford and $700 to the Pontiac
