The War Today

Record's Conference Highlights

By PETER EDSON
Special to The Record

San Francisco, April 26.—Hardest thing to find in San Francisco on the eve of the United Nations Conference opening was a delegation which didn't have any Dumbarton Oaks amendments to propose.

Foreign Minister Eelco van Kleffens started off by saying the Netherlands would offer seven amendments.

Just to show you can beat the Dutch, Foreign Minister Ezekiel Padilla said Mexico would offer 28 amendments.

Then Foreign Minister Georges Bidault reminded that the French Provisional Government would have nine.

Without any help from the other Americans, U.S. delegate Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg has been able to think up nine of his own. So with 53 proposed amendments from the first four corners it looked as though the California sunshine which greeted early arrivals would in time be blanketed by something more than fog rolling in from the Pacific.

The days will be warm, but the mere prospect of 45 nations, each offering half a dozen or more amendments, is enough to give every delegate a pair of fresh blankets heavy enough to sleep under every night.

Everything's Perfect—But

None of these amendments is a criticism of Dumbarton Oaks proposals, you understand. Dumbarton Oaks is perfect—greatest thing in history—hope of the future—just what the world has been waiting for—but . . .

As Foreign Minister van Kleffens said, "If the Netherlands delegation should criticize, we do it only to improve—we are not worried about mere words . . . We are not legalistic minded, but we shall propose amendments."

The fog blanket of amendments threatening to darken the San Francisco skies will be only slightly less confusing than the millions of words to be written and broadcast by the 1,200 newsmen and women on hand for the proceedings.

The experting that goes on in hotel corridors doesn't just suffocate you, it drowns you. Real foreign correspondents who have made a lifetime busi-

Soviet Troops Reach Centre Of Berlin

Noose Is Tightened About Doomed City

Possibly Half Million German Troops Caught in Bomb-Wrecked Berlin as Stalin Announces Encirclement of City by Two Soviet Armies—Propaganda Minister Goebbels May Be Snared in Trap.

London, April 26.—(P)—A Reuters news agency dispatch from Moscow today declared Soviet troops had reached the centre of Berlin.

London, April 26.—(P)—Victorious Red Army troops surged across the Elbe River today toward an imminent union with American armies as other Soviet forces tightened a steel noose around doomed Berlin, battling to the city's flaming heart through fanatical opposition.

In the hour-glass waist of dying Germany, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's 1st Ukrainian Army swarmed over the historic Elbe barrier in a momentous advance that toppled the west bank fortress city of Riesa, 76 miles south of the capital and 22 miles from Allied-reported American positions on the Mulde River—only 18 miles from American bridgeheads on the Mulde as reported by the Germans.

Possibly 500,000 German troops were caught in bomb-wrecked Berlin as Premier Stalin announces encirclement of the city by two mighty Soviet armies. The Hamburg Radio, main Nazi station still operating, began every newscast with the slogan, "The Fuehrer is in Berlin!" There was a possibility that the Soviet trap also had snared Propaganda Minister Goebbels.

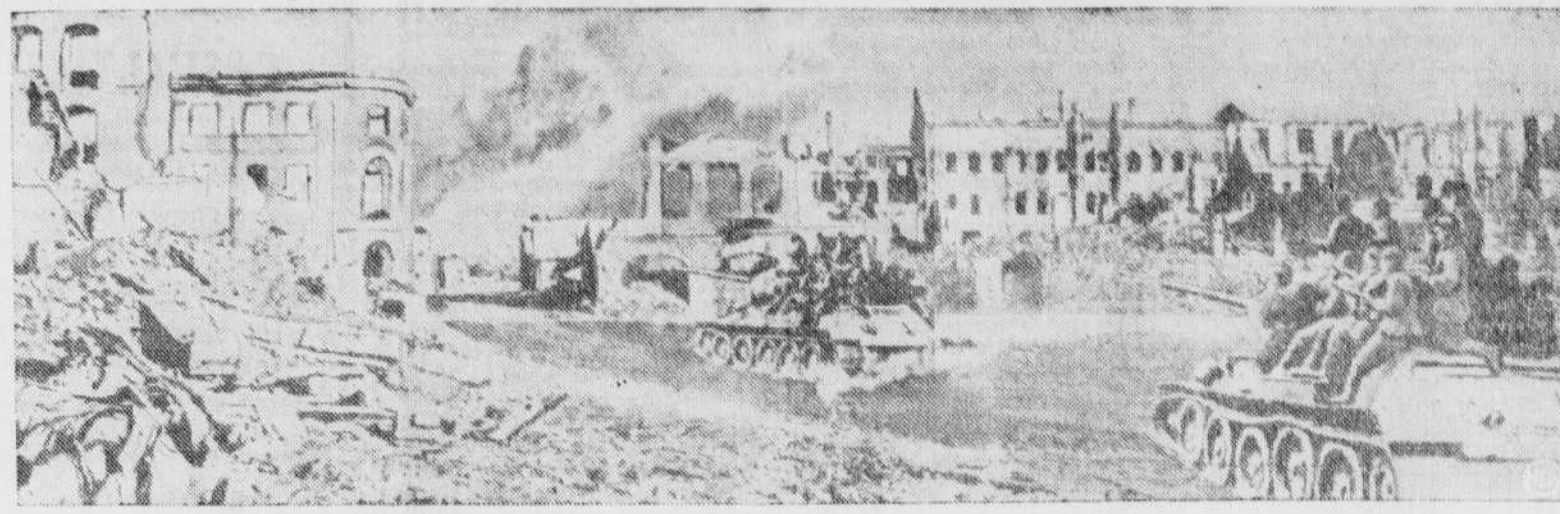

Berlin's water, gas and good stores were running low, Moscow dispatches said, but the Germans fought bitterly in subways and on rubble-strewn streets, under a rain of bombs and shells that plastered rail stations and Spree River bridges.

While German loud-speaker trucks goaded the defenders on, the city's airports were reported filled with planes evacuating high Nazi officials.

Moscow communique said 6,000 German officers and men were killed in yesterday's battles.

While Marshal Konev's forces by German claim reached the Elbe on a 24-mile front between Riesa and Rognau, Marshal Alexander M. Vasilievsky's 3rd White Russian Army seized the East Prussian post of Pillau and cleared the last German hold-out troops from the East Prussian mainland.

To the south, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 2nd Ukrainian Army fought in the outskirts of Bruenn (Brno), Czechoslovak arsenal city, one of Hitler's last war production centres.

RUSSIANS IN BERLIN — Here is the first picture of Soviet forces in Berlin. Russian tanks speed past the ruins as battle smoke hangs low over the German city.

$203,179,900 SUBSCRIBED TO DATE IN LOAN

Still Lagging Somewhat Behind Seventh Loan Which at This Stage Had Cumulative Total of $216,038,550—$60,328,150 Pledged on Third Day.

Ottawa, April 26.—(P)—Canada's Eight Victory Loan has run up a total of $203,179,900 in the first three days of canvassing, with Wednesday's total amounting to $60,328,150, National Loan Headquarters announced today.

This loan still lags a little behind the Seventh Loan which at this stage had a cumulative total of $216,038,550 and a third-day total of $70,508,450.

Today's compilation of individual sales reached $11,679,650, compared with $35,627,800 for the corresponding day of the Seventh Loan.

Third day of the campaign brought news of more objectives already reached in the drive for $1,350,000,000, half of which is allotted to commercial and fraternal and other "special name" organizations. Victory flags indicating objectives reached went up at many points and at some, including the services, new and higher objectives were set.

Brighton, Ont., reached its objective of $135,000 and promptly set a new goal of $200,000. Western Air command of the R.C.A.F. reported a west coast air base had reached 244 per cent. Eleven stations in that command, more than at the same stage in the last campaign.

The Air Force overseas has gone over the top with $4,846,500 or 114 per cent of its quota.

The overall army total reached $12,920,550 at the end of the second day's canvassing, 63 per cent of its $20,500,000 quota. Overseas army personnel have already signed up for 70 per cent of their $9,000,000 objective and troops in the western hemisphere have invested almost $500,000 more than at the same stage in the last campaign.

Alberta troops continued to lead all Canada with 81 per cent of their quota reached and sales still strong. M.D. 6 including Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island was in second place and was the first army district to reach more than $1,000,000 in this campaign.

The Royal Canadian Navy's west coast command became the first home unit of any armed service to reach its objective.

MANY CANADIAN PRISONERS ARE BEING RESCUED

Latest Reports Tell of Liberation of Another Group of P.O.W.'s From German Camps and Freeing of Group of Civilian Internees in Philippines.

Ottawa, April 26.—(P)—The long months and years of watchful waiting behind the barbed-wire compounds of the enemy is fast ending for many Canadian service prisoners and civilian internees of this war.

Their individual vigils of hope are being realized as the Allied armies mount the final assault on Hitler's German domain and Pacific forces sweep back the once-threatening tide of the Japanese.

Announcements last night told of the liberation of another group of Canadian prisoners from German prison camps and the freeing of a group of civilian internees in the Philippines. Of the latter, 50 were Canadians—mostly members of religious orders working in the Pacific islands—and 18 were non-Canadians who had relatives or employers in Canada.

Defence Headquarters said that so many Canadian prisoners-of-war are being released in the Allied advance through Germany that in some cases there was delay in getting official word back to Canada. It is added, however, that information on prisoners-of-war was being held back as long as possible to next-of-kin.

Coinciding with this announcement the Wartime Information Board was able to disclose that 630 Canadians, including 533 army personnel and 97 R.C.A.F. men are among the 30,000 British Commonwealth prisoners freed so far in Western Germany, and more are being liberated every day.

The Board said that on the Eastern Front a total of 3,662 British Commonwealth prisoners—some of them Canadians—have been liberated by the Russian advance. Of this number, 2,932 have sailed from Odessa for home.

Headquarters pointed out the difficulties and delay in getting official information on release of prisoners, especially in areas where an engagement is going on. But it emphasized that all information about such releases, whether of an official nature or not, is being wired to next-of-kin within a matter of hours after it is received at Defence Headquarters.

U.S. 3rd Army Tanks Rolling Towards Hitler's Hide-Out

Paris, April 26.—(P)—U.S. 3rd Army tanks rolled down the Danube Valley today on the fringe of Hitler's Alpine redoubt to within eleven miles of Austria and 100 of a junction with Russians west of St. Polten which would trisect German armies and encircle Czechoslovakia.

The massive three-army assault in the south carried within 45 miles of Munich, threatened wide encirclement, and 72 of the Fuehrer's ruined roost at Berchtesgaden.

In the north, the British 2nd Army fought savagely-resisting Germans through the stone forests which were Bremen, second port of Germany.

Other troops under Lt.-Gen. Dempsey had smashed northward eight miles midway between Bremen and Hamburg, and advanced from fallen Zeven to occupy Seelingen.

Men of the 1st Canadian Army were within artillery range of the former giant U-boat pen of Emden, while other Canadians closed on the important road centre of Oldenburg.

At Tittling, the 11th Armored Division of the 3rd Army was within 11 miles of Passau, Danubian gateway to Austria.

The 3rd Army, like the French 1st and U.S. 7th, had crossed the Danube on a wide front.

Patton was posing a double-barrelled threat to the southern redoubt and to all German and Hungarian forces fighting in Czechoslovakia—dubbed by Bismarck the key to control of Europe.

His 71st Division crossed the Danube twice between Subbach and Regensburg (83,000) against light resistance. The 6th Division crossed the storied river between half-cleared Regensburg and Kelheim, 11 miles to the southwest. The 11th Armored Division advanced six miles to reach Zeven, closest to Austria and a junction with the Russians which would encircle Czechoslovakia. It cut the last direct route to the Southern Redoubt.

Word of this plan ended hopes of some delegates that Russia might not raise the troublesome three-vote issue.

Foreign Commissar Molotov notified the chief delegates of the forty-five other United Nations here, after yesterday's first meeting, that the proposal would be presented to the organization session of the Steering Committee today.

The specific proposal is that the Members Of Conference Are Architects Of Better World Says U.S. President Truman

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

San Francisco, April 26.—(P)—Hopes of a war-scarred world centred today on the United Nations Conference on international organization which is now in being.

It came into operation yesterday in the colorful surroundings of a flag-draped opera stage as State Secretary Stettinius signified with three sharp raps of a gavel that the men of 46 nations and many languages and creeds now were in formal session.

From President Truman in Washington the delegates heard a welcoming radio message which gave them a new statement of their solemn assignment:

"You members of this conference are to be the architects of a better world. In your hands rests our future. By your labors we shall know if suffering humanity is to achieve a just and lasting peace."

It was an English-language show, as international custom prescribes that the host—in this case the United States—must assume responsibility for the opening.

Today the heads of the various delegations, including Prime Minister Mackenzie King, met, as a steering committee, to draft a report for presentation and action at the plenary session of all delegates at 3:30 p.m. P.D.T. (6:30 p.m. E.D.T.).

It will cover credentials, organization of the conference, election of officers.

After considering the report, the plenary session will be opened for the addresses by delegation leaders. Probably the chiefs of the four sponsoring delegations—Britain, the United States, Russia and China—will start off.

Other delegations will be called in alphabetical order.

Not all chiefs of delegations will talk today, but they will have opportunities at later sessions. At these they will express their views as the Dumbarton Oaks plan for an international organization is put to last summer by representatives of the "Big Three"—comes under examination for elaboration and amendment, acceptance or rejection.

Importance was attached to President Truman's statement, that the task of the conference is not to settle specific questions of boundaries, territories, citizenship or reparations, but the "establishment of a world organization for the enforcement of peace." The alternative to the latter, said the President, was "continuation of international chaos."

He stressed the importance of their task, as did Mr. Stettinius in his brief address of welcome.

"We must prevent," said Mr. Truman, "if human mind, heart and hope can prevent it, the repetition of the disaster from which the entire world will suffer for years to come."

Foreign Commissar Molotov, who heads the Russian contingent, continued to attract the greatest attention. The Russians occupied the same row of seats last night as the United Kingdom delegation led by Foreign Secretary Eden. Next to Mr. Molotov was his interpreter who translated the speeches of Mr. Truman and Mr. Stettinius. The Foreign Commissar appeared to nod approval at the more striking passages.

Problems created by the Russians are engendering considerable speculation—probably Russia's plan to seek separate votes for White Russia and the Ukraine, and her stand on the Polish situation.

Perhaps it was these problems that Mr. Truman had in mind when he said that "all progress begins with differences of opinion and moves on."

Enemy Casualties On Okinawa Heavy

By The Canadian Press

American Troops have denied the stubborn Japanese Southern Okinawa defence wall after seven days of fierce fighting. Frontline dispatches today indicated they had smashed the enemy's outer defences and were well into the secondary line.

Bitter, sometimes suicidal, resistance cost Japan nearly 19 times as many troops killed as the invaders lost in ground fighting. Admiral Nimitz' communique said today.

The toughest current battle of the Philippines raged today at Baguio in Northern Luzon. Meantime, a 16-mile advance by the U.S. 24th Division brought the American drive on Mindanao Island nearer its decisive stage.

Americans pushing along a high-way from the northwest were within 2,000 yards of the centre of Baguio, the Philippine summer capital and long a Japanese headquarters. The enemy held stubbornly to the wrecked town.

The 16-mile jump on Mindanao Island put the invaders within 57 road miles of Davao. Their forward elements reached hill country, where Nipponese resistance was expected to stiffen.

WAR BULLETINS

Arneburg, Germany — Red Army shells now are falling occasionally a mile or two east of the Elbe River in the area of Arneburg, 48 miles north-west of Berlin, where the west bank is held by U.S. Army troops awaiting a juncture.

With the U. S. 3rd Army — The 11th Armored Division, in a six-mile advance, today reached Tittling, 11 miles north from the Austrian border.

London — A German naval flotilla on Lake Constance has surrendered to Swiss authorities and will "remain in Swiss ports until the entire Lake Constance shore has been occupied by the Allies," the Swiss radio announced today.

INVEST IN THE BEST — CANADA'S 8th VICTORY LOAN

GENERAL WOOD SITUATION IS VERY CRITICAL

In reporting to the annual meeting of shareholders of Brompton Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, Vice-President R. W. Steele made the following statement:

That operations continue at full capacity, with the exception of the Bromptonville mill, which is still operating at the rate of four days per week by reason of the shortage of wood. The general wood situation continues to be critical, with large quantities being exported to the United States. It is hoped, however, that sufficient wood can be obtained to maintain full operations at the East Angus mills during the present year.

In dealing with the Red Rock Division, Mr. Steele reported that construction was proceeding satisfactorily, and it was noted that this mill would come into operation during the latter part of this year.

The operation of the Red Rock mill would cause some temporary dislocation of production at East Angus and Bromptonville, and as a result, it was expected that earnings ward as the differences are adjusted through reason and mutual understanding.

Mr. King and the Canadian delegates came to the conference hall in the city's war memorial opera house in a Canadian Army car sent from Vancouver with other vehicles for their convenience. Other delegations were driven up in United States Army cars and limousines.

All were in their seats for the opening as requested to permit the closely-timed delivery of President Truman's address. The solemnity of the occasion was emphasized as both Mr. Truman and State Secretary Stettinius closed their speeches with notes at prayer.

The operations at the Nipigon mill continue on a profitable basis. Mr. Steele also reported that the Board had under consideration substantial improvements to the East Angus and Bromptonville properties, which are considered necessary to place the company in the most favorable position to take full advantage of postwar opportunities. Such rehabilitation will, in all probability, be carried out during the three or four years immediately succeeding the termination of war.

Mr. Steele reported that financing for the Red Rock mill had been arranged in an amount of 3 1/2 millions, against secured term notes carrying an interest rate of 3 1/2 percent per annum.

At the meeting, Dr. C. W. Colby was elected a director to fill a vacancy on the Board.

GREAT SUCCESS IS SCORED BY SEMINARY PLAY

The play presented at St. Charles Seminary last night, in honor of the Seminary's Superior, Rev. Canon M. Couture, was a great success. Its director, Rev. Father Leonard St. Laurent, spared no effort and the array of costumes, stage-settings, and the excellent acting by pupils contributed greatly towards the success of the presentation.

The play, in three acts, drew the applause of all present, the chief roles being taken by Bertrand Gagnon, Germain Dandaneau, Jean-Denis Lemay, Gerald Laliberte, Gilles Bergeron and Vianney Dionne, all of whom gave excellent performances.

The play concerns two middle-aged Italians, Andrea Morghese and Igo Sparaduzzi, who hate each other, and as the result of the criminal actions of Igo, both lose all trace of their young sons. Twenty years later, they meet in Venice. Sparaduzzi having in the meantime gained power and carrying on as a despised and hated tyrant. The noble Morghese then organizes, with the aid of other Venetian nobles, a rebellion to overthrow the tyrant. A young noble, Captain Speranza, comes to their support.

The third act of the play shows Sparaduzzi having Morghese in his clutches as well as his supporting nobles, but unable to seize the young captain, Speranza, who had been saved by Michele, an old miller who knows the past history of both Morghese and Sparaduzzi.

Speranza eventually finds out who his father is and both are united, while another character who has in the meantime entered the scene, Fiammette, by name, discovers that his father is the tyrant Sparaduzzi, whom he had previously tried to kill, but failed, suffering wounds in the attempt. The shock of this on top of his injuries, is too much and he dies with the full knowledge of his father's identity.

The cast included: (In Gondolier de la Mort) Germain Dandaneau; Capt. Speranza (Padoue's envoy) Jean-Denis Lemay; Andrea Morghese and Igo Sparaduzzi, (patricians) Bertrand Gagnon and Gerald Laliberte; Zaccaria le Smyrniote, Gilles Bergeron; Cocaroni, Vianney Dionne; Bambino, Paul Letendre; Andrea Morghese (page) Conrad Lizee; Del Nuova-Croce, Arthur Sidelau; San Hieronimo, Leo Jencas; Ascanio Parmezza, Joseph Bolduc; Carlotta, Eugene Cauchon; Batista, Camille Messana; Reginaldo, Nicolas Beaulieu; Shires, Robert Lamoureux and Georges Brabant; gondoliers, Georges Brault, Ch. ONE MILLIONTH TELEPHONE HAS BEEN INSTALLED

Somewhere in Quebec or Ontario, perhaps in Sherbrooke a Bell Telephone installer has just completed the company's one-millionth telephone, but according to A. J. Whelan, local manager, there will be no celebration of that rather epoch-making event.

"Naturally," said Mr. Whelan, to the Record today, "we are going to be very modest about that millionth telephone. We are much too conscious of the fact that a great many applicants for telephones all over our territory have had to go on a waiting list. Some of them have been waiting for months. While I believe most applicants appreciate the reasons for delay—the unprecedented demands of war for telephone material of all kinds—nevertheless, we realize that there has been widespread inconvenience which we have tried in every way to keep to a minimum."

"In Sherbrooke we have 957 applications for service which we have been unable to fill. Some of these applicants have been waiting for months. Those now applying will have to wait many months more, the Bell manager said.

"Since 1939, 1971 telephones have been added to the local system, making a total of 7674 at the end of 1944. Lines to the central office and equipment there have been used up.

"For the past few years, nearly all new telephone equipment has been going overseas. Despite an intensive programme of salvage, reconditioning, and substitution, we have been unable to provide nearly enough new facilities to meet the wartime demand, Mr. Whelan pointed out.

"Although we are making as many advance preparations as possible, he continued, it will be some time after materials become available once more before everyone who wants a telephone will see it in his home.

"Telephone manufacturing plants must be reconverted to large-scale peacetime production, and, even after new equipment and material comes rolling off the assembly line, it must be installed in central offices and in conduit beneath the city streets. All of this work will take time."

"For the most part, facilities now become available only when someone moves away or gives up his service for some other reason. First call on these facilities goes to business or persons whose use of the telephone is essential to the war effort or public health and safety.

"Occasionally, the essential requirements do not use all the equipment available. In these circumstances, we are able to fill a small number of those applications which have been waiting longest.

"One thing I can promise," Manager Whelan concluded, "we shall continue efforts to make all telephone facilities obtainable serve as many applicants as possible. Not a moment will be lost when equipment is again available, in wiping out the waiting list and getting back once more to the old condition of making installation within only a few hours of the application for service."

capital is opposing the Red attack, he adds grimly: "But the Red Army cannot be kept from crushing the city. Many men around me have Berlin addresses and scores to settle."

That means a partial pay-off for the atrocities which the Germans have committed on Russian soil. The Russians have long lists of Germans who are guilty of war crimes. These lists have been carefully built up from the testimony of eye-witnesses over the years of fighting. We may be sure the Germans who have participated in atrocities will suffer the full penalty—and quickly.

VOTERS SHOULD KEEP RECEIPTS FOR CHECK-UP

A warning to residents not to throw away the receipts given them by enumerators taking the census of eligible voters for the Federal election on June 11th was issued today by Returning Officer Leonidas Bachand.

"Some people are throwing away these receipts," he said, "whereas they should be kept in order that they may check the voters' list to see whether their names appear. This receipt, if returned to my office in time, will be the means of rectifying any error in omitting a voter's name."

"Enumeration is proceeding satisfactorily and the lists are coming in gradually and the preliminary lists will be mailed to electors on or before May 15th.

"Revision will take place on the 28th, 29th and 30th of May and the new lists will be posted at each of the polling divisions," he said.

The city has been divided into three sections for revision purposes, with revising officers appointed to each section.

PRISONER OF WAR TAG DAY TO BE HELD

Sherbrooke citizens will be asked to contribute to a very worthy cause tomorrow and Saturday when a prisoners of war tag day will be held. All should give generously to this appeal as the funds will be used for hospital care, food and clothing for prisoners still in enemy hands.

The citation covering the award of the Military Medal to Sgt. Browning runs as follows:

"On September 13, 1944, the 7th Battery of a Royal Canadian Artillery field regiment was occupying a position just south of San Maria di Scacciano. Sgt. Browning was in charge of No. 2 gun of 'B' troop. Several thousand rounds of high explosive shells and cartridges had previously been dumped on the position to take care of the heavy fire plan to be engaged in support of our infantry attack on the strong enemy positions guarding the entrance to the Lombardy Plains.

"At about 10 p.m. the position came under heavy enemy shelling. A large calibre enemy shell hit an ammunition dump near the gun pit of Sgt. Browning and ignited the cordite filled cartridges. The situation was highly precarious but Sgt. Browning alone and with complete disregard for the danger from burning explosives and from enemy shells, isolated the blast.

"By his bravery and devotion to duty Sgt. Browning prevented the detonation of the piled ammunition, thus averting heavy casualties to the gun crews and equipment."

Opening Gun In Federal Election Campaign Will Be Fired Tonight

The opening gun in the federal election campaign insofar as Sherbrooke County is concerned should be fired this evening at the Liberal headquarters on Alexander Street when the annual meeting of the Sherbrooke County Liberal Association will be held. Following the election of officers it is expected that delegates to the convention for the selection of a candidate will be named and the date of the convention fixed.

Considerable uncertainty pervades the whole political picture locally, with the riding lacking representation since Maurice Giquette resigned last fall to make an unsuccessful bid for honors in the Provincial field. Several names have been advanced as probable choices of the Liberals, but in no case has any of the prospective candidates a strong organized movement behind him. Thus there is a strong possibility that some dark horse may be trotted out and win the confidence of the delegates.

The Progressive Conservatives have as yet made no move toward the selection of a standard bearer and the field is wide open for contenders.

The only definite announcement so far is that of Joseph Labrecque, a former Mayor of Sherbrooke, who has announced his intention of running as a supporter of Hon. P. J. A. Carlin, a former Liberal cabinet minister who broke with his colleagues on the compulsory military service issue. Mr. Carlin announced last night that he would head a new movement, designed to foster the feeling of goodwill among the various elements in Canada, although in its preliminary stages it would confine itself essentially to the Province of Quebec.

The entry of Mr. Carlin into the battle further enlivens the Donnybrook that is in prospect for the Canadian electors, and his announcement follows closely upon the heels of a statement by Mayor Camille Houde of Montreal that he, too, intends to launch a new party in the field.

The Quebec electors will certainly have a wide choice of candidates on June 11 if present plans of the various groups mature. It is expected the Liberals will contest virtually every riding, with the Progressive Conservatives also appearing in a large number. Then, in addition to the Carlin and Houde entries, there will be a variety of secondary groups, such as the C. C. F., Social Credit, Bloc Populaire, Independents and here and there the old Labor-Progressive supporter.

Outside of Sherbrooke County, things are also humming, with the Conservatives having selected John T. Harte, K.C. and the Liberals are meeting at Ayer's Cliff Thursday afternoon in an effort to patch up the rather tumbledown fences in that county. The convention will be under the presidency of Hon. Joseph Jean and Hon. D. C. Abbott. It is taken for granted that the Bloc Populaire representative will be in the field again.

In Richmond-Wolfe, J. P. Mullins, the retiring Liberal member has already been placed in nomination and in Brome-Missisquoi Col. Maurice Hallé will again contest the Liberal cause.

SGT. H. BROWNING DR. J. H. TURNER IS DECORATED FOR GALLANTRY GUEST SPEAKER AT Y'S MEN CLUB

The Department of National Defence today released citations covering seventy-four awards for gallantry in action, won by members of the Canadian Army serving Overseas in the Italian theatre of war.

The list of awards was previously announced, and included Sergeant Henry Humes Browning, M. M., 28, of Granby.

The list included the award of the Bar to the Distinguished Service Order to three lieutenants—colonels: seven awards of the Distinguished Service Order; the award of the Bar to the Military Cross to an infantry captain; sixteen awards of the Military Cross; five awards of the Distinguished Conduct Medal; the award of the Bar to the Military Medal to an Infantry Corps corporal; and the award of the Military Medal to forty-one other ranks.

John Irving McCabe Is Appointed To An Important Provincial Post

The appointment of John Irving McCabe, of St. Johns, Que., as special officer of the Quebec Department of Trade and Commerce will be received with satisfaction by his many friends throughout the Eastern Townships, where he is widely and favorably known.

Announcement of Mr. McCabe's appointment was made by Hon. Paul Beaulieu, Provincial Minister of Trade and Commerce. Mr. McCabe will be attached to the Montreal office of the Department and his work will be to get in touch especially with English-speaking capital which is planning on industrial expansion.

Mr. McCabe is a native of the Eastern Townships, having been born at Stanbury. He is the son of the late John McCabe and of Mrs. McCabe, who resides at St. Johns. His grandfather, John McCabe, was one of the early settlers in Missisquoi.

Educated at Cowansville, Mr. McCabe entered the service of the old Eastern Townships Bank at Coaticook in 1902. He was appointed manager at Scottstown in 1913, later at Clarenceville, Marlboro, Windsor Mills and St. Johns. Several years ago he retired after a most successful banking career.

Mr. McCabe's only son, Russell I. McCabe, resides on Victoria Street, Sherbrooke, and his daughter, Mrs. K. C. Stewart, lives at Arvida. Mr. William McCabe, Laurier Avenue, Sherbrooke, is a brother.

Mr. Beaulieu, since his appointment as Minister of Trade and Commerce on August 30 last, has been building up his department with a view to meeting after-war problems, notably in the matter of encouraging the establishment of factories in the province of Quebec. The appointment of Mr. McCabe is in line with the policy of expansion of his department.

DEATH REMOVES SYDNEY BAYLES AT WINTER PARK

Word was received here today that A. Sydney Bayles passed away on April 24 at Winter Park, Fla., where since leaving Sherbrooke two years ago, he and his wife had made their home.

Hosts of friends throughout the Eastern Townships will be shocked to hear of Mr. Bayles' death, as for many years past he and his wife, the former Miss Elizabeth Sanborn, of Sherbrooke, have contributed richly to the cultural life of the community.

In Sherbrooke their gift shop was a real asset to the city, while their "Blue Tea Room" on the Georgeville road was the mecca towards which many visitors from all parts of the country invariably made their way.

Mr. Bayles had not been in good health for a few weeks and at the time of his passing was a patient in the Winter Park Hospital.

Mr. Tom Gignilliat, her brother, is presently with Mrs. Bayles. The funeral is taking place today in Baltimore, Md.

THE SAN FRANCISCO PARLEY

Representatives of all the members of the United Nations have opened in San Francisco conferences that may well decide the future of the world for many generations to come. During their deliberations the delegates to the United Nations Security Conference will endeavor to solve many of the critical problems which are bound to arise when the task of unscrambling the mess left by the Germans in occupied countries is undertaken. And in addition they will seek to develop the framework of a permanent peace organization which was started at the Dumbarton Oaks Conference.

The conference will be faced with the clash of idealism and reality. There are many proposals for creating a perfect world after the war—a world in which every person and every nation will receive their just deserts, in which the smaller powers will receive the kindest consideration from their larger neighbors. There is envisioned a world of peace and a respect for the rights of all. The picture painted by these idealists is a beautiful one.

But there are certain grim realities which must be faced, the greatest of which is that nations, like individuals, are far from perfect and that they differ in outlook and opinions between one another. Thus there are bound to be sharp differences of viewpoint when the many problems come up for review and to ensure the success of the conference, those present must realize that the idealists plan for the future world must be tempered by an appreciation that certain grim and often unpopular facts exist. To ignore them will be to build up a structure of false hopes which is likely to collapse under the slightest stress. To deal with them and incorporate them into the foundation of the new peace structure should permit the practical approach to the many problems which are involved in the erection of a useful peace edifice.

Upon the result of their deliberations rest the future comfort and development of the world. The delegates require the greatest of sincerity and goodwill and for Divine guidance upon their activities the prayers of the world go forth in the hope that there may emerge a stronger basis for a real Christian civilization, designed to promote the happiness and advancement of man rather than death and destruction.

IRON ORE IN POST-WAR CANADA

With export trade admittedly an essential factor in the maintenance of the industrial structure Canada has built up during the war, the question at once arises as to what conditions will exist in the possible post-war markets. But it seems almost certain that Canada's natural resources are to play an important part in the global reconstruction, which task is expected to provide the world with plenty of work for many years to come. Steel and concrete will perhaps be the materials most widely sought in the work of rebuilding Europe's wrecked cities, the bridges, viaducts and blasted factories.

It is in this connection that the mining leaders of the Dominion predict that their industry has an important place and they continue that iron ore is perhaps the most essential raw material that Canada possesses and it is interesting to learn that immense deposits of this mineral are being developed in Ungava and Labrador. This ore is described as being of high grade and in quantities available that should accommodate demands for 150 years. Some authorities venture the opinion that these discoveries will become the world's most important sources of iron ore in the years ahead.

Of course it can be claimed that the region is remote, being three hundred miles from the railway, but the building of power plants and other services would soon bring these fields into active production. This would attract the necessary transportation and the mere opening up of these untouched regions would provide much work.

Many countries, which used to import most of their steel and iron goods, have manufactured their own during recent years, and hope to resume these operations when peace enables them to do so. But few of them have their own resources of iron ore. American producers of iron ore fear their sources of supply will be depleted within twenty years. Canada's developments along this line are therefore of the first consideration to this country's future economy. Iron ore is a valuable asset, and Canada is uncovering deposits of it which should make her the world's largest producer in the days to come.

MORE CARE NEEDED

For many years the Sherbrooke civic administration has been held up as one of the most efficient in the Dominion and proof of this view is given by the strong financial position of the City as reflected in the annual financial statements and in the splendid price received for municipal bond issues.

And to a great extent this tradition has been carried on by the present Council, although during the past few months there has been a tendency in certain quarters to involve the city in business deals without a detailed study of all the factors in the case and often without consultation of the ratepayers who must ultimately bear the burden for these mistakes.

For instance, since December 1944, three major projects have been advanced, any one of which should require lengthy study, but seem to have been disposed of by the whim of some individual alderman or by a small group of Council members. The reorganization of the Police and Fire Departments was a case in point. The command of the two services was divided on the assurance of the Committee chairman that no increased cost would be involved while the efficiency of the services would increase. To date there has been no real test, fortunately, of the efficiency angle of the changes, but an increase in cost became apparent almost at once through the increase in staffs and changes in quarters.

Then, a move was made to install a new fire alarm system without the preparation of complete plans and specifications, which was followed by the necessity of the Council making several quick about faces before they finally decided to go about things in the right way. In the meantime, everybody concerned had been put to considerable expense and inconvenience.

The latest episode involves the sale of a certain piece of city-owned land in a deal of doubtful legality, this action being taken despite requests for delay by other interested parties and despite warnings that the city might become involved in expensive litigation. All of which subsequently came to pass.

In none of these cases is the idea advanced that any member of the Council is personally benefiting from the deals, but rather the view is frequently expressed by the man-on-the-street that more care should be taken in the transaction of public business, as a few major errors through lack of proper study and appreciation of all the factors involved in these transactions may cause a greater loss to the city than the efficient management of other departments can save. All that is required to avoid most of the pitfalls is a commonsense approach to the issues and the consultation with the appropriate authorities.

WHY TOKYO BURNS

The present war, as did its predecessor, has produced many interesting stories of research work but few come up in novelty to that which resulted in the evolution of jellied gasoline. This, in canisters, has been dropped in tens of thousands of tons on Tokyo and other cities. An explosive spreads the burning gasoline many yards in every direction. The development of this incendiary came only after months of experiment at unlimited cost. The big industrial and university research men of the United States went to work on it, to get something better than magnesium bombs, which can be extinguished by organized effort. The magnesium bomb only causes fire where it hits; the jellied gasoline spreads and it is a hotter fire.

The United States engineers built a town in Utah of the exact construction which would be found in Japan. They also duplicated German towns in construction. After trial and error—the British found fault with the first product—they discovered the ultimate in power of fire destruction. That is what Tokyo is now getting and there has been nothing like it in war use. Jellied gas bombs are so made that when dropped from a certain height they will not penetrate to the basement floor, but explode on the first or second storey of an industrial plant or warehouse. That quality makes them harder than ever for a fire force to combat. In fact, from all accounts, they cannot be combated by any known means once the fire takes hold. The fire can only be held by demolishing buildings in its path and stopping further spread.

BRITISH CONQUER A WONDER CITY

New York Herald Tribune
The ancient Burmese city, Pagan, southwest of Mandalay, fell to British and Indian troops. It has long been known throughout the world for possessing the largest concentration of pagodas—some 5,000 in various states of preservation.

Pagan was founded in 847 and was capital of the empire for four hundred years. One of its kings, Anawrahta, conquered the Thakons in Upper Burma and admired their pagodas, of which Pagan had none at the time. So he invoked the principal of exacting reparations in kind. He carried home nearly the whole Thakon population and had them build for them pagodas like theirs. The city was sacked by Kublai Khan's warriors in 1287 and many of its pagodas were destroyed. Pagan never regained its splendor.

HIS OWN BRIDGES

Winnipeg Tribune
The contention that life is never dull in Manitoba is amply sustained by a story in the Altona Echo. It seems that a citizen in Haskett just had to get to Winkler in a hurry. Unusual spring had done more than its usual damage to the roads, making them impassable. Undaunted by washouts and other hurdles the citizen loaded a truck full of planks, rounded up a seven-man crew and set forth.

Between Haskett and Winkler seven bridges were built by the wayfarers. But they got through to Winkler and went about their business. In the meantime other residents of the district eyed the road and decided that the municipality had kindly constructed seven bridges to allow them to get to town, which they did forthwith.

However, our citizen had finished his business in Winkler by this time and started off for home. He and his crew picked up their bridges along the way. What he didn't know was that he was effectively marooning in town all those who had followed him in.

SCOTTISH HOME RULE

Edinburgh Scotsman
The movement for Scottish Home Rule is at a low ebb among Scots in London and other parts of England. Among Scots who have made England more or less their adopted country, and yet maintain the strongest ties with their native land, there is a strong tendency to depreciate the movement for a separatist policy not only on patriotic grounds, but from the standpoint that it has menacing economic potentialities for Scotland. There are political trends, however, that the issue may develop.

PLAN LIMIT

Glasgow Herald
There is a limit to what can be achieved by planning. There are also limits to what can be achieved by direction from the top. Government will be incapable of adjusting the economic balance by its own efforts. The enterprise and energy which are clearly required must come from other sources; in short, from industry and from the community. The more vigorously they are applied the sooner the Board of Trade's administrative organizations in the various regions will be reduced to a care and maintenance basis, and the less will be the need for regulation.

HAVE A SMILE

Ronnie's mother was firm in her refusal. "No," she said, "you can't have five helpings of pudding. Two are enough for a little boy."

Ronnie's instant reply was a flood of tears. "Not until a full hour had passed did he stop bawling. 'Are you going to be good now?' asked his mother. 'I'm tired of hearing that noise. It hasn't been a bit of use, has it?'"

Ronnie's expression grew sour once more. "I haven't finished anyway," he piped in defiant tones. "I'm only resting."

Jack: "So your father objected at first because he didn't want to lose you?"

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority

7 IS MADE WITHOUT THE ACE OF TRUMP

Another old-trump who has passed away is Conrad Winfield Liggett, Jr., who was in my estimation one of the nicest partners at bridge. While his name is not so universally known as that of Work and Whitehead, nevertheless, many of the bridge books published during Liggett's day were ghost-written by him.

After receiving his medical discharge from the navy, he devoted most of his time to bridge and he was known as being a specialist in no trump.

However, I will never forget today's hand. Liggett was one of the few men who ever made a contract of seven spades when his opponents held the ace of trump.

You will notice there was not much approach bidding in those days, but Liggett reasoned that if his partner could jump to six spades, he must have that missing ace, so he went to seven spades.

He won the opening lead with the ace of clubs. Most players would have simply spread the hand and concede to down one. But Liggett played a small spade from dummy, put on the Liggett and thus seven odd was ten spot, and West played the eight made against the ace of trumps.

Perils Of Young Marriages

Premature Nuptials Cause Philandering
In Late Marital Life

One of the reasons why I am always urging boys and girls not to rush into premature marriage is because when they do so they cut themselves out of the playtime of life, and it seems a law of nature that that is something we must have, and that if we don't take it early we are apt to take it late, which brings on disastrous results. For the things we may do innocently and harmlessly in our teens are tragedies when we do them at middle age.

DOROTHY DIX

Bobby and Susie, suffering from an acute attack of calf love, are sure they will want to do nothing the balance of their lives except to hold each other's hands, and that they will desire no other excitement or amusement except just being together. So they get married, and to their great amazement soon discover that they are fed up to the teeth with each other and bored stiff sitting at home counting their ration points, and that they desire to go places and do things, just as the other youngsters are doing.

HIGH DIVORCE RATE

Statistics show that divorce is far more common among young couples than it is among their elders, and the explanation of that is that the boys and girls entered into a relationship for which they were not ready, and took upon themselves responsibilities for which they were not fitted. They hadn't had their playtime.

And we might well pity them instead of blame them, for under Heaven there is no more pathetic figure than the child wife who is tied down with babies and cooking and washing and trying to make one dollar do the work of five, when her feet are aching to dance and she is longing to be out enjoying herself with girls of her own age; unless it is the boy husband who is crushed under the burden of a family he has taken on his shoulders before they are strong enough to bear the load, and who feels that he is a prisoner because he has to stay at home of evenings and wash the dishes, when he wants to be out with the boys.

Among the endless letters that I get from unhappily married couples there is scarcely a one that doesn't begin "we married too young." They had missed their playtime and they had gone through life dissatisfied and bitter, regretting the fun they had never had and that they still craved.

It may seem frivolous to say that the very best preparation that men and women can have for marriage is to have had a wide acquaintance among the opposite sex and plenty of good times before marriage. But it is true. It makes them practically temptation-proof, because they have done their ample eating when they were young enough for it not to give them a permanent indigestion.

There are exceptions, of course, to all rules, but, nine times out of ten, the elderly philanderers are the men who married their first sweethearts in their teens, and it is the women who went from the schoolroom to the altar who, at middle age, have crushes on movie actors, whom they have never seen in the flesh, and get themselves into scandals. The women who had a gay girlhood, with lots of dates and flattery and love-making, settle down and concentrate on their families. It is the women who had a dreary girlhood who are so pleasure-mad that they let their children run wild while they go to cocktail parties and night clubs.

So have your playtime, boys and girls, before you settle down into marriage. You will regret it the balance of your life if you don't.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

President Of Thetford Red Cross Expresses Society's Appreciation

Thetford Mines, April 26.—The Thetford Mines Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society is just finishing its Campaign for funds, and to say that the Citizens of Megantic County have been a wonderful help in their response is a modest tribute. In 1939, the objective was small, as the need had only begun, but in each succeeding year, it became greater; this year being the highest ever.

"We have always obtained our objective, and we are happy to say that this year we were well ahead having $17,000, as our goal, and obtaining over $18,000," states W. K. MacLeod, president. "This is nothing short of being marvellous, and you can all feel happy in having contributed so much to such a great cause. This achievement is a great incentive, particularly to those ladies of the Red Cross Branches who so diligently and faithfully work throughout the year providing supplies, and to those who helped so considerably during the Campaign."

"In thanking you," Mr. MacLeod continues, "let it be known that the Red Cross is your organization, and anything it does, is to your credit."

Until EAST MEETS WEST

Allied pincers have yet to close on German soil before the British, Canadian, American and Russian armies meet in a power drive for unconditional surrender. That is why Canada's Eighth Victory Loan is more important than any loan yet. Even though the target is in sight, even though the Victory we've waited for through six embattled years is on the horizon, the way ahead still calls for the utmost effort of our fighting lads overseas and ourselves at home.

In the light of this, what one of us at home can ignore this opportunity to buy Victory Bonds . . . to buy them without stint . . . to buy them out of savings as well as income? Only in this way can we give our armies, in overpowering measure, the shells, the guns and the striking power to stage a mighty and crushing drive on Victory. All-out Victory demands all-out effort.

Are You a Sufferer From Rheumatic Pains?

These pains come from an inflammation in the muscles and are generally caused by a deposit of poison in the blood called uric acid which produces the irritating and painful effect that causes many days and nights heavy with pain.

During the past 60 years Canadian people have found that by purifying the blood stream, Burdock Blood Bitters aids them to enjoy freer body movement with less rheumatic pain, as B. B. B. helps to tone up the system and clear up the uric acid in the blood, and probably help fortify the system against future attacks.

It isn't just another piece of Bunting...

It isn't just another piece of bunting . . . it is the Emblem of Canadians' Will for Victory and the determination that inspires them to raise the money for the "tools to finish the job."

The Huns have never seen this "V" Flag, and wouldn't know what it stands for anyway; but the winning of it, by millions of wage and salary earners who buy Victory Bonds, proclaims that they are united in their Will for Victory.

No bugle will herald its raising at sunrise or its lowering at sunset . . . but it is a Symbol of Victory just the same.

Canada's "V" Flag is recognition of the special effort that workers have put into their Payroll Savings Campaign. It means that employees have reached and passed their official objective, and that at least 9 out of every 10 employees are buying Eighth Victory Loan Bonds. That is why thousands of firms from coast to coast so proudly display it, and that is why their employees will win it again in the Eighth Victory Loan.

It isn't just another piece of bunting . . . it is a Symbol of Victory. So, remember this when you buy Victory Bonds . . . and remember also that you are keeping faith with those who fight for us.

SHERBROOKE HIGH SCHOOL WINS BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Wooton Stars As S.H.S. Downs Stanstead 32-28 In Overtime

Fighting an uphill battle all the way, Coach Earl Bascom's Sherbrooke High School cagers last night edged out a 32-28 overtime triumph over Stanstead College in the deciding game of the best-of-three final of the league playoffs to capture the Eastern Townships Basketball Association championship.

Played at the MacKinnon Memorial before a record crowd, the game saw Amby Wooton, assistant coach at the High School, pull the bacon out of the fire for his teammates and set them on the road to victory.

Wooton played an outstanding game for S.H.S. and his total of 13 points contributed in no small way to the School's recovery from a 21-13 deficit, which existed at half time, to the 32-28 overtime victory.

Stanstead Coach Errol Amaron gambled on the game and lost out, but only after his men had put up a great fight. From the very start of the game, Amaron forced the High School to play Stanstead's way and set a pace which gave them a

Rand Girls Blast "Y" 19-8 To Win First Game Of Cage Final

Highly superior shooting and close checking on the part of the Rand girls last night spelled the doom of the Y.W.C.A. cagerettes as the Rand swept to a 19-8 triumph in the first game of the best-of-three final series of the E.T. Girls' Basketball League playoffs.

The game was played as part of a doubleheader at the MacKinnon Memorial. The second game of the series will be played at the MacKinnon on Friday night.

Deciding the issue in the first half, the Rand girls raced through the "Y" opposition like wildfire to chalk up a commanding 10-0 lead by halftime.

In the second half, the "Y" made an attempt at a comeback but were still trailing 12-6 going into the final quarter.

Here again, shooting superiority decided the issue and the Rand banged home seven points to the "Y's" two to win out by a final score of 19-8.

Paced by Shirley Ward, who collected a total of six points, the Rand had little difficulty in disposing of their opponents who seemed unable to get going.

Close checking on the part of both teams was in evidence but the "Y" shooting was way off and this made the difference. Should the "Y" girls brush up on their shots, the final score of Friday's game may tell a different story.

Doreen Ross, playing at centre for the Rand, turned in an outstanding game, collecting four points for the winners and setting up about 75 per cent of the Rand plays.
Marg Earnshaw picked up two field goals for a total of four points while Jean Beattie scored three and Muriel Mandigo accounted for two.
Alice Hutchison was the star of the "Y" team, gaining five of the squad's eight points. Rose Fountain was also outstanding, turning in a highly efficient game at guard.

Passeau Hurls 4-0 Shutout Against Cincinnati And Smashes Out Homer

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer
Cholly Grimm strummed a happy tune on his banjo today with his Chicago Cubs in second place and winning form by Claude Passeau and Paul Derringer easing his pitching worries.

When Passeau popped up in spring training at French Lick, Ind., with a sore arm that the docs said was caused by "a calcified area from a chipped elbow bone," the Cubs' hopes took a nose dive. The towering right-hander had the best record on the club last year with a 15-9 mark and had to pass up the honor of working opening day.

Derringer tossed the first one, won it, and came back with a second straight victory four days later. Passeau relieved Hank Wyse Friday against Pittsburgh but worked only one-third inning so Grimm waited until yesterday's first starting effort, a 4-0 shutout of Cincinnati, before counting on him too heavily.

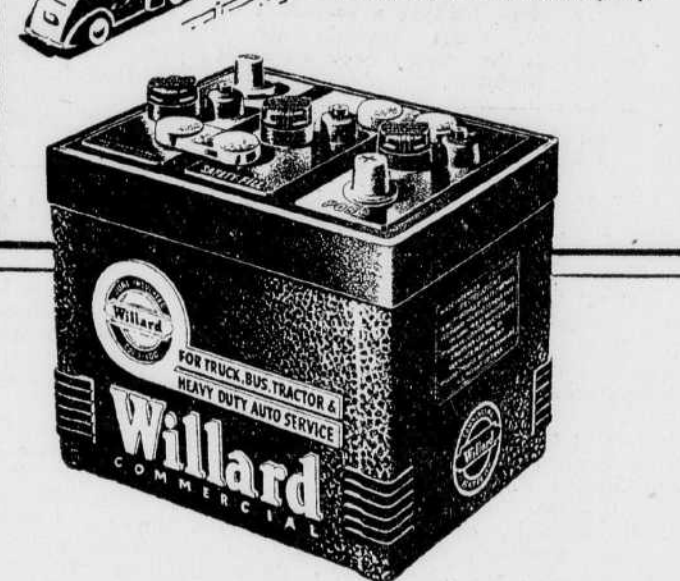

Cincinnati hit safely only five times, all singles, off the 36-year-oldster from Lucedale, Miss., as Bucky Walters suffered his first setback. Passeau didn't confine his efforts to pitching, hitting his first home run since 1942 in the third inning and driving in a second tally in the seventh with a single to centre.

All other Big League games were postponed.

Major Donald MacCallum Appointed To Direct Rehabilitation Service

It was learned today that Major Donald C. MacCallum, M.E.I.C., formerly of North Hatley, a veteran of the Italian campaign, recently discharged from the army because of wounds, has been appointed to direct the rehabilitation and personnel services of the Engineering Institute of Canada. The appointment was announced by E. P. Fetherstonhaugh, president, after a regional meeting of the council of the institute, held in Montreal.

With over 1,200 members serving in the active forces and a larger number employed in war industry, the council feels that the rehabilitation of those members into peacetime pursuits is one of the most important problems to which the institute should turn its attention. A recent survey shows that both engineers and their employers expect the institute to perform this type of service. Because of its background of more than twenty-five years' experience in the placement of technical personnel, and its prominent position in Canadian affairs, it is felt that the Engineering Institute can do helpful work in this special field.

The expanded activities of the institute in this field will be directed by an advisory committee headed by Maj.-Gen. Howard Kennedy, M.E.I.C., of Montreal, and upon which there are representatives of all services, and industry and government. Major MacCallum received his early education in Montreal at Lowry's Canada College and Westmount High School, entering McGill on a C.P.R. scholarship and graduating in mechanical engineering in 1938. At McGill he was president of the Engineering Undergraduate Society, permanent president of his class, a member of the Students Executive Council, the Scarlet Key Society, the Marlet Society and honorary society Phi Epsilon Alpha.

During vacations and after graduation he was employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway Angus Shops, the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Trail, B.C., and the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Company at Sherbrooke. In July 1940 he enlisted with the 27th Canadian Armored Regiment (Sherbrooke Fusiliers) and served as lieutenant and captain for three years, in Canada, Newfoundland and England. After a short experience in Africa he transferred to the 12th Canadian Armored Regiment (Three Rivers) in Italy where he served as captain and major. He was wounded by shell fire in June 1944, at Lake Trasimeno near Florence. He was hospitalized in Italy, England and Canada being discharged in Montreal last March.

Major MacCallum will be located at headquarters of the Institute in Montreal.

YOUNG FARMERS ORGANIZE CLUB IN SAWYERVILLE

Sawyerville, April 26.—The organization of the Sawyer Boys and Girls Club was concluded at a meeting held on April 20. Twenty-five years or more ago Sawyer had probably the first club ever to be organized in the Province. Many of the good herds at present in the district can be traced to the excellent stock club members had at that time.

The Club consists of some twenty-five members and the executive in charge are President, Gleason Lake; Vice-President, Roland Silverton; and Secretary, Miss Truth Hamilton. The general organization is under the direction of R. M. Elliott, County Agriculturist, and G. Marcoux, representing the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

FARNHAM C.P.R. DIVISION WELL OVER OBJECTIVE

Quebec district, in the Canadian Pacific's Eastern rail lines is making good its threat to "show the way" in the C. P. Employees' Eighth Victory Loan drive. Already several individual loan quotas throughout the district have been generously oversubscribed. The Quebec district's campaign drive is under the general chairmanship of R. W. Scott, general superintendent of the district.

Farnham division, under superintendent G. N. Curley, chairman of the division's loan committee, is well over its $200,000 minimum quota, and the total reportedly continues to grow.

B. A. Neale, manager of the famed Chateau Frontenac, scene of two historic "Quebec Conferences," has announced that Eighth Victory Loan subscriptions totalling $33,000 have put the Chateau's personnel considerably beyond their minimum goal, with canvassers still actively engaged.

Smiths Falls division, winner of the Cotterell Shield for over-subscription during the Seventh Loan drive, has at this time attained more than 60 per cent of its minimum objective, while the Laurentian division and Montreal Terminals, of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company are progressing rapidly in their respective Eighth Loan efforts.
