He expected to take-off, he said, here Saturday for Washington and following a visit there he will go to New York and then sail for home.

ANOTHER CLASH BETWEEN CHINA AND JAPS SEEN

Activities of Independent Chinese General Brings Sharp Protest from Japanese Military Attache.

Tokyo, July 14.—A direct clash between followers of General Feng Yu Hsiang and forces of General Nobuyoshi Muto, commander-in-chief of the Japanese army in Manchuria, is likely today as a result of the former's recapture of Tolunooer, Dolon Nor, a town in Chahar province just across the border from Jehol province.

General Feng is engaged in a campaign to regain Jehol and China's "lost provinces" from Japan and Manchukuo. The Chinese Nationalist Government at Nanking has indicated no force will be used against him, although his drive is opposed as conflicting with peace negotiations with Japan.

Reports reaching Changchun said Manchukuo forces had killed more than 300 of the enemy near Tolunooer last Tuesday before they were compelled to fall back to Weichang. The Japanese military attache at Peiping vigorously protested against the campaign of General Feng. The attache warned that the Japanese army might be compelled to take drastic action for which, he declared, the Chinese would be responsible.

DEFENCE GIVES STATEMENT IN BANK SHOOTING

Although Admitting Shooting of Canadian Banker in Mexico, Young Britisher Denies Premeditation.

Mexico City, July 14.—A Mexican court today had before it a 10,000 word statement of defence presented by C. F. Whalley, thirty-five-year-old British charged with the murder of James Burton Emery, general manager of the Bank of Montreal in Mexico who hails from Lunenburg, N.S.

Whalley, charged with slaying the Canadian banker on Tuesday night by firing five bullets into his body while he conferred with assistants, was arraigned here yesterday.

The accused did not plead as Mexican legal procedure differs from that in Canada. He presented his lengthy statement to Judge Antonio Fernandez Vera. In it he admitted slaying Emery, a man widely known in eastern and western Canadian banking circles.

He denied, however, the crime was premeditated declaring he had gone to the bank for the sole purpose of securing a letter of recommendation but that he lost his reason when he saw Emery who he believed responsible for the loss of his position with the bank while on a holiday in Canada and England.

In his statement Whalley declared he had arrived in Mexico City a day previous to the slaying and had secured an agency to sell British machinery here, had sent clothes out to be cleaned, had purchased lottery tickets and had secured a cheap room at a lodging house, all of which he contended showed that he had not retained a sane purpose of killing Emery in the sole purpose of loss of his position.

He outlined in his statement how he worked in the National Bank of England at Butley, until 1917 when he was old enough to enlist for service in the war. He joined the Royal Air Force and remained in service until 1919. In the next year he was offered and accepted a position with the Bank of Montreal in Montreal, remaining there until 1927 when he was transferred here.

Whalley branded as a "lie" a statement published locally that he had enjoyed himself during the war by shooting wounded prisoners. His statement said his record was clear and that he had been honorably discharged from the air force with a bonus.

He had never before had any serious difficulty with the Canadian bank head.

UNEMPLOYMENT NO PROBLEM IN FIJI ISLANDS

Governor of British Possession in Pacific Praises Results of Imperial Conference Agreements.

Quebec, July 14.—Budget deficits and unemployment provide no problems for the administrators of the far-away Fiji Islands, British possessions in the South Pacific Ocean, according to Sir Murchison Fletcher, K.C.M.G., C.B.E., governor of the islands, who is on a brief visit here en route from London to the Islands. These problems do not exist in that happy land, he declares.

Discussing the Imperial Conference agreements made at Ottawa last summer, Sir Murchison said: "Canada was exceedingly kind to us at the time of the last Imperial economic conference in Ottawa when we were at a low ebb from the point of view and as a result have been doing our best to reciprocate with the Dominion. I should think that both sections of the British Empire concerned have benefited considerably as a result of the Conference."

"We are now purchasing practically all of our timber in Canada and, while we were gradually buying less and less in recent years we used to purchase our complete lumber requirements before, I nevertheless attribute this change and improvement—largely to the Ottawa Conference," stated the distinguished visitor who added that it was hoped to increase the Islands' fruit business, especially that of pineapples and bananas, with the Dominion in the future as the result of the preferential conditions which both countries obtained from the Conference.

Canada, always a good customer for Fiji sugar, the Islands' principal commodity, is importing the product in ever-increasing quantities, according to Sir Murchison, who pointed out that copra, the second main item exported, was sold mostly to Europe. He expressed the opinion that the business relations between the Dominion and the Fiji Islands would continue to improve steadily in the future and that the possibilities for trade between both units of the Empire appeared much brighter since the holding of last year's Economic Conference in this country.

"Our last budget was brought down with a comfortable surplus and it was not found necessary to increase the taxation on the Islands by a single cent," declared the Fiji Governor who said that, generally speaking, business was quite good in the territory under his jurisdiction and that unemployment was practically unknown on the Islands.

TOWNSHIPS RECEIVED VISIT FROM ITALIAN FLOTILLA THIS MORNING

As the Italian Minister of Air first stepped on Canadian soil he was greeted by Dr. Lino Balbo, a nephew, who had waited here for his distinguished uncle, Premier Tilley, Mayor of Montreal, Dr. MacLaren read a message of welcome and congratulation from Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister.

Driving into the centre of the town for his public reception, he received greetings from the province and Dominion. Dr. MacLaren read a message of welcome and congratulation from Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister.

After delivering his address in English, Premier Tilley pleased the airman by repeating it in Italian. The crowd gave General Balbo an ovation when his turn to speak came. His remarks were translated by Louis Petrucci, Italian Consul-General for Canada. The General expressed appreciation for the reception and paid tribute to Benito Mussolini. Three cheers resounded as the speaker concluded and the small group of Italian airmen responded with the Fascist cheer and salute.

Other speakers were Lieutenant-Governor H. H. McLean, Mayor Normandy, Dr. Webster and Brigadier J. H. L. Parsons, officer commanding military district No. 7, who represented the Department of National Defence.

General Balbo declined all invitations for the night, planning to rest after doing the preparatory work necessary for the next hop. All the fliers were ordered to bed early.

FLAMES WIPED OUT LARGE PORTION OF MINING TOWN

Sixteen Business Houses, Eight Residences and Liquor Store Destroyed in $150,000 Fire at Cumberland, B.C.

Cumberland, B. C., July 14.—Residents of this coal-mining town of 2,500 population rested today after a six-hour fire against a fire which started in the King George Hotel and wiped out the greater part of the business section before it was brought under control last night. Damage was estimated at $150,000.

Sixteen business houses, including two more hotels, the government liquor store and the Royal Bank of Canada building, and eight residences were destroyed by the flames, and communication with the outside was cut off as telephone and telegraph lines went down. Firemen, aided by a brigade from Courtenay and every able-bodied citizen, eventually succeeded in saving the town.

SEVENTY LIVES LOST WHEN RIVER LAUNCH FOUNDERED

Overcrowded Vessel Was Conveying Group of Locomotive Shop Workers and Their Families on Excursion Up Volga River.

Yaroslavl, U.S.S.R., July 14.—Seventy persons drowned when an overcrowded river launch, taking a group of locomotive shop workers and their families on an excursion up the Volga River on July 9th, capsized three miles from here, it was revealed today.

The little craft had a capacity of one hundred and twenty-five passengers, but twice that number were jammed into it. The others were saved.

The public prosecutor is taking steps to punish those responsible for the overcrowding.

Yaroslavl, a city located on the Volga, is one hundred and seventy-three miles northwest of Moscow.

PARIS GAILY CELEBRATES GREAT NATIONAL HOLIDAY

People Danced in Streets, Drank Beer and Shot Off Fireworks in Traditional Bastille Day Celebration.

Paris, July 14.—A hundred bombing and pursuit planes, dipping low over Paris in a huge parade of France's military and air strength, signaled the official opening today of the great national fête of Bastille Day as President Lebrun reviewed the army in front of the Invalides Soldiers' Home.

Frenchmen, meanwhile, danced in the streets, drank beer, and shot off fireworks in the traditional revelry marking the holiday which will last until Monday morning.

Festivities centred as usual around the Place de la Bastille, where the holiday was cradled. Today was the 144th anniversary of the taking of the former prison there on July 14, 1789, as a climax to events that led up to the French revolution.

YACHT DESTROYED BY FIRE AT LACHINE LAST NIGHT

Two Members of Crew Who Were Aboard Made Their Way to Shore in Dinghy After Ineffectual Attempts to Fight Fire.

Montreal, July 14.—Producing a spectacle for thousands of people who lined the shore line, the yacht Jeana was burned to the waterline at Lachine last night. The blaze is believed to have been caused by the backfiring of the engines which were being tried out in preparation for a cruise today.

Two members of the crew who were aboard made their way to shore in a dinghy after ineffectual attempts to fight the fire. Firemen rushed to the scene and after getting a stream of water trained on the flames were able to prevent an explosion in the yacht's gasoline tanks. The craft was owned by G. S. Westgate.

QUOTATIONS EASED TODAY ON WALL STREET 'CHANGE

New York, July 14.—The stock market found higher levels difficult to negotiate in the early trading today, and after an attempt to firm quotations eased in moderate volume. "Wet" issues and other specialties lost much of their earlier advances of one to more than three points. Rails were slightly reactionary.

American Telephone, Union Pacific and Columbia Carbon lost around three points each. Shares of major fractions to more than a point included American Can, Sears Roebuck, Johns-Manville, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, Case and United Aircraft. International Silver lost much of an initial rise of seven points. Stocks steady to slightly higher included General Electric, Westinghouse, United States Smelting, American Commercial Alcohol and Goodyear. Call money renewed at one per cent.

Selling subsided shortly after the turn of the second hour and by noon a number of issues had again turned upward. International Silver was up eight points. International Telephone rose a point, while Packard worked a sizeable fraction higher in heavy trading.

DOMINIONS FAVOR WORLD SCHEME FOR RAISING COMMODITY PRICES

Continued from Page 1. The short and sharp battle between Senator Joseph Connolly, of the Irish Free State, and Chairman Colijn raised a passing cheer even from a patient public. Soviet Russia renewed her bid to a world of staid, thrifty, a billion dollars' worth of orders—if only the proper credits were forthcoming.

Into a debate that loitered over great public works' proposals as a solution for unemployment, Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, threw an emphatic British "No." The discussion arose on an earlier resolution from the French delegation.

The United Kingdom, he added, had spent £100,000,000 and found that for every million spent she had employed only 2,000 men directly and 2,000 more indirectly. Public works were very expensive. Great Britain thought they were an unduly expensive way of dealing with the problem. The United Kingdom, Mr. Runciman said firmly, had no intention of repeating the experiment no matter what was done elsewhere.

QUEBEC RELIEF WORKS PROGRAMME MEETS WITH APPROVAL AT OTTAWA

Continued from Page 1. direct relief money. So great has this been, in fact, that in some parts of Montreal the belief of these public funds has been that direct relief was merely another name for Santa Claus. In one Montreal case, where $50,000 in direct relief money was going in part to buy tennis equipment, and when the shocked Federal investigators enquired into this expenditure with a view to ascertaining a reason, they were told that it was better that people should play tennis than roam the streets.

This merely is an incident in the story of Montreal direct relief and is given to illustrate a state of mind that exists, and under which confusion has arisen as between public funds handled in trust and one's own personal money.

The fact that the amount for direct relief has almost doubled in Montreal, when it should have dropped sharply, tells its own story to the federal and provincial authorities, and these two, after all, pay two-thirds of the money.

Bulman, but the grown-ups were highly pleased when the Cowansville Band made such a fine appearance marching up the street in their PLATFORM OF REDUCED TAXATION DOWN BY THE SEA.

Nova Scotia enters the throes of a summer election for its Local Legislature, Angus McDonald leading the Opposition to the Harrington administration on a platform of over-spending. Yet, Angus weakens his partisans by boasting that some of the new fad-and-fancy legislation, which costs a lot of money, was due to the urge of the Opposition members. He lacks the insight to know that when the bell rings the candidate must be consistent. No longer is it a recommendation to the people to claim that they were behind any legislation which takes money out of the Public Treasury, and thus adds to the taxes of the people.

For forty-three years after Confederation in 1867 Nova Scotia remained solidly Liberal, but when Premier Murray resigned in 1923, after a reign of nearly thirty years, the Conservatives were successful in 1925 and came into power with a majority of thirty-four in a House of forty members, for only three of the decimated Liberal party were able to hang on to their seats. They lost much of this superiority in 1928, when there were twenty-three Conservatives and twenty Liberals elected.

Never before has there been an election held in the province in August, the early spring or late fall months having been favoured.

In Nova Scotia they still make a distinction between Conservatives and Liberal-Conservatives, the latter being a somewhat simplotion effort to steal the clothes of the Liberals which has been long since abandoned by the public at large.

Did the Opposition confine themselves to but one plank of their platform, over-spending and high taxation, they can sweep the province; provided they specify how, where and when they will cut down costs and expenses of carrying on the government. Declamation and vituperation will not register unless it is backed by promises of specific performance.

Allowances, grants and freak labour laws offer a weak appeal, for an aroused electorate quickly reduces such measures to the added cost of government and to additional taxation.

Any candidate who goes into his riding and boasts of the moneys he has persuaded the government to spend in his particular county will find himself a has-been, for an aroused public demands Economy in capital letters, plus a convincing exclamation point.

There may be many local issues but the proof of Economy and the lowering of taxation will be the primary thought behind the X on the ballot.

WHY PERSECUTE THE FARMERS?

The prosecution of a farmer in St. Hyacinthe for cutting up his home-grown tobacco is just another of the ill-advised things which officials too often do. It is carrying out the letter of the law rather than interpreting the spirit of honest trade. To take away his tobacco, instead of just collecting the inland revenue tax, shows a spirit of vengeance. Parochial politicians and vindictive minds are prone to do the wrong thing at a time when the utmost consideration should be accorded to the farmer. They met the first brunt of the depression with courage.

To endeavour to exclude a farmer from the right to sell his own products, whether from dairying or market gardening, in any town or village where he may find a demand, is a wicked thing to do, either now or at any time.

The urbanite should never invite reprisals from the rural dweller. We are all in accord with the axiomatic principle that upon the country's prosperity depend the city's busy days.

The response of the officers will be "It is the law." But Charles Dickens said "The law is an ass." Such persecutions are asinine.

COUNTING THE HERDS, THE DROVES AND THE FLOCKS.

When one talks of mixed farming it is well to know the number and value of the chief items of value in the horses, herds, flocks and pens on the farms in the nearby counties around the district.

In the biblical days when wealth was measured by the number of domestic animals on the farm the farmers like Laban and Jacob were counted rich did they possess great herds of cattle and flocks of sheep.

Yet there are more animals in the eight counties aroundabout Sherbrooke than there ever were in the lands flowing with milk and honey.

The number of bee hives in Quebec province are statistically stated from the census reports as 64,542, though the busy census enumerator failed to count or to estimate the number of bees in each hive. He was not as stinging in his work as was William the Conqueror when he made up the Doomsday Book for the purpose of finding out what and how much he could tax each bailiwick to the limit. This Doomsday Book is to the agriculturist of Britain what DeBret's peageage is to the social butterfly who flits around London.

For the edification of our readers we pass on a few pages of information gathered at a tremendous expense by the Bureau of Statistics, and published just to show how the census enumerator was as busy as a bee in finding out the limits to which taxation could be applied before the rebellious zone was reached.

We start with Brome County—

Richmond, 8,822 hogs, 111,598 poultry. Shefford, 21,298 hogs, 168,448 poultry. Sherbrooke, 3,932 hogs, 36,047 poultry. Stanstead, 10,687 hogs, 102,999 poultry. Wolfe, 9,245 hogs, 79,240 poultry.

There you are mes amis, les cultivateurs. Your wealth has been found out and recited. But let your tax collector call around to count them and they will all be on "the back forty," behind the bush where Nix Dean feeds his herd of Golden Guernseys. Now let us chew the cud of reflection, since we have counted our flocks.

The thought occurs that if they would limit the wheat acreage to send up the price of grain, and Providence does not proclaim a famine, then will those who know not farming wish to count the eggs and the bees, and interdict the old bull.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

"Why did you leave the farm?" I asked the young graduate at Convocation. "Because my calf became Dad's cow, and my lamb was the family sheep," was the studied reply. Every worker should be rewarded, and the early expense of raising a family is but one of life's luxuries, from which no return is looked for.

DEATHS REPORTED

FRANCIS J. A. BENNETT, BROOKBURY Brookbury, July 14.—Friends from far and near wended their way to the quiet little United Church of Brookbury on Wednesday afternoon, July 5, to pay final tribute to a worthy and beloved citizen in the person of Francis J. A. Bennett.

The funeral, one of the largest ever held in this vicinity, was a truly representative one, comprising people of all races and creeds, for the deceased was a man who was esteemed by the entire community. His friends were typical of the man who in his lifetime was broad in his views and friendly towards all classes. The passing away of Mr. Bennett, after an illness of only ten days' duration, leaves a place which will be hard to fill.

Rev. R. S. Smith, officiated by the Rev. E. M. Wilson, of Sawyerville, conducted the service and spoke feelingly from the text, "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Rev. Mr. Wilson, a former pastor, said he felt very proud to have so highly of the qualities and character of the deceased. He made special reference to the simplicity of the life of the deceased and his staunch adherence to the church in which he worshipped, and which he loved with an unflinching faith.

Mr. Smith referred to the comfort of visiting at the bedside of one whose faith was so real, and how his first impression of the deceased was that "There was a true Christian."

A large choir augmented by members from the Bury church, with Mrs. M. T. Stokes as organist, sang favorite hymns of the deceased, "Give Me the Wings of Faith to Rise," "Servant of God, Well Done" and "There is No Night in Heaven." The choir also sang the anthem, "Coming Home at Twilight," and a duet, "O House of Many Mansions," was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Jas. Whitehead and Mrs. E. A. Stokes.

The bearers were Frederick, Guy and Leon Bennett and Raymond Downes, nephews, and Milton Coates and Clarence Mayne. Maurice T. Stokes conducted the funeral. Interment was in Brookbury Cemetery.

The floral tributes were beautiful, being silent tokens of love and sympathy from true friends. They included flowers from St. John's Guild, the Ladies Aid, Women's Institute, Y.P.B., W.C.T.U., and relatives.

Francis J. A. Bennett was born on May 11, 1860. He was the third son of the late Joseph Bennett and his wife, Mary Butler Bennett, and was a lifelong resident of Bury. On October 26, 1887, he was married to Luella J. Downes, who passed away on October 21, 1900. Of this marriage there were three children, Harry L., of South Paris, Me., Leslie E., of Verdun, and Carroll R., of Bury, all of whom survive. On December 10, 1902, Mr. Bennett was married to Minnie M. Colley.

He leaves to mourn his loss his widow, three sons, one sister, Mrs. Henry Card, of Kelowna, B.C., two brothers, Augustus, of Orleans, Vt., and William, of Bishopston, nine grandchildren, one great-grandchild, a number of nieces and nephews, and a host of friends, by whom he will be sadly missed.

The Brookbury United Church has suffered a keen loss by the death of Mr. Bennett, who for many years a trustee, and a member of the quarterly board, as well as an ardent worker in the Sunday School.

MRS. CATHERINE PEPIN, GOULD Gould July 14.—The very sudden death of Mrs. Catherine F. Pepin, of Red Mountain on Wednesday morning, June 21st, was a great shock to the whole community where she was highly respected by all.

A very pleasant evening was spent, and the bride and groom were the recipients of many gifts, including bouquets of roses and other cut flowers, accompanied by the singing of songs by their friends for their continued happiness and success in years to come. Later refreshments were served, and before dispersing the guests again united in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Oakley many happy returns.

MARRIAGES BARNES—WILLEY Tibbits Hill, July 14.—A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon, June 28, when Hazel Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Willey, of South Bolton, was married to Charles Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Barnes. The marriage took place in the living-room at the home of the groom's parents under an arch of wedding bells.

Rev. H. P. Mount, of Foster, officiated. The dining-room was decorated in pink and the living-room in blue with potted plants and flowers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pale blue crepe with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of June lilies and ferns. The bridesmaid, Miss Pauline Barnes, sister of the groom, was dressed in pale pink crepe with hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Robert Willey, brother of the groom, acted as bestman.

A buffet luncheon was served following the ceremony and later Mr. and Mrs. Barnes left on a short motor trip, the bride travelling in an American beauty rose crepe dress with hat to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will reside on Bridge street, Knowlton.

Out-of-town guests included Rev. H. P. and Mrs. Mount, of Foster; Mr. and Mrs. E. Willey, Miss Carol Willey, Messrs. Robert, Cecil and Douglas Willey, Mr. and Mrs. A. God. She was always a kind and thoughtful person thinking more of others than herself. The family will be sorely missed by the one family alone, for to many she was a source of encouragement.

The funeral was held in Chalmers United Church at Gould on Saturday, June 24th at two p.m., Rev. J. A. Payton officiating and was largely attended by all who came to pay their last tribute of respect to the departed.

Mr. Payton's subject was, "Death in the Midst of Usefulness" and the text was Acts 9:36. In conclusion he said that such a kind and useful life cannot die but must continue in the service of the One who tried to serve so well on earth.

Mrs. A. A. MacAulay acted as organist, and the choir led in the singing of the following hymns, "Now The Laborer's Task is O'er," "Peace Perfect Peace" and "Forever Will on Tuesday morning she was taken ill, her doctor was called and found her condition very serious from cerebral hemorrhage or apoplexy. PLEASANT PLACES TO DRIVE AND DINE

COMFORT AND CHARM AROUND IN HISTORIC OLD QUEBEC PROVINCE

Ancient Province Preserves Ways of Old Regime, Yet Stands in Forefront of Modern Progress and Development—No More Interesting Section in North America for Vacationist.

There is no finer playground in North America than historic, hospitable Province of Quebec, and the best time to skim along the scenic highways of the Province in your car is during the summer months. You motor to the leafy slopes of Mount Royal, or to the Ancient Capital on its rock, or to picturesque Sherbrooke at the junction of the Magog and St. Francis Rivers.

From any of these centers, if you care to leave your car, Canada's famous railways or bus systems will take you far afield into the rugged Laurentians with their countless summer resorts, into the lovely lake and hill region of the Eastern Townships, into the rich St. Lawrence Valley, or to picturesque Sorel and Three Rivers. Graceful ships will carry you up the boiling rapids of Lachine, or down the broad, slow St. Lawrence to the dark, cliff-lined Saguenay.

If you prefer to motor all the way, there is a gorgeous triangle route along highway number one connecting Montreal, Sherbrooke and Quebec. There is a stupendous marine drive along the south shore of the St. Lawrence to Gaspé, around that rocky, sea-beaten peninsula, and back again through the leisurely valley of Matapédia. There are smooth, sweeping highways to take you into the heart of the Laurentians, to Lake Saint John in the north, to St. Anne de Beaupré and its miraculous shrine, to that remote, peaceful old Norman Quebec which the natives call "En Bas du Fleuve."

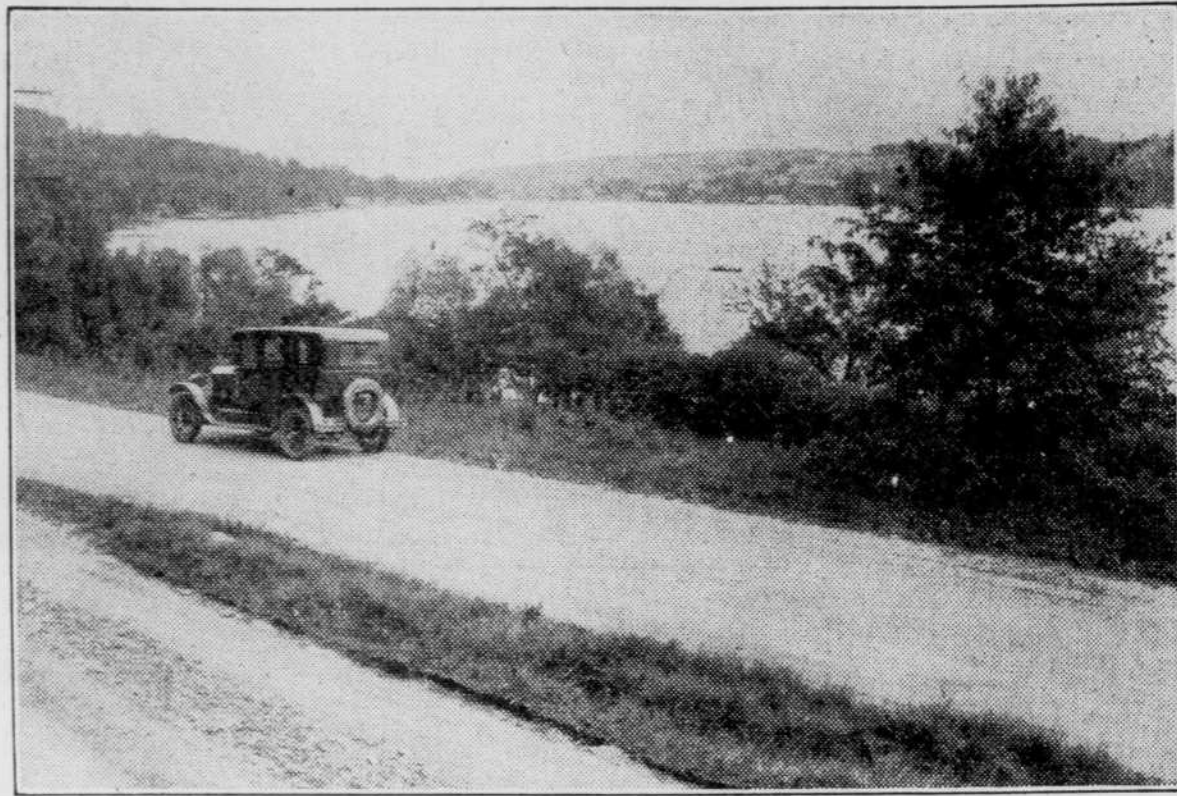

In Quebec in summertime you will not only find everything you can find anywhere else, but a great deal which exists only in Quebec.

Steep-roofed, steeple-crowned villages nestle beside lakes and rivers, scarcely changed from the days when they were planned there by haughty Seigneurs, patient missionaries, daring voyageurs and humble habitants.

You will see vine-covered moss-grown mills which ground the crops of a vanished regime; squat, blackened stone ovens where the bread of generations was baked; creaking old windlasses which still lift buckets of sparkling water from deep, rock-lined wells; and great copper soap-kettles beside ancestral doorsteps.

Quebec has for you citadels, forts, ramparts, bastions, battlefields, ancient forest trails, walled cities, cannon of brass and iron, old muskets—looms and spinning-wheels worked by the patient feet of dark-eyed women whose great-great-grandmothers inherited them from their great-great-grandmothers. You will meet a people which still wears homespun, still uses vast, sturdy webs of home-grown linen. Two-wheeled ox-carts creak across the fields, driven by blue-smocked peasants.

But, in contrast, chic hotels offer you every convenience of modern civilization, service truly courteous and hospitable, and cooking you will remember. Shops as fashionable as those of London, Paris or New York, fleet airways, a far-flung chain of radio stations, up-to-the-minute theatres and lively night-clubs will give you modernity if you want it.

Along the shores of Lake Massawippi, looking towards North Hatley. The excellent condition of the roads through this region is well illustrated in this photograph.

Come to Quebec Province for your holidays this year. Your money goes further here.

Once you have visited us, you will come again and again. For in Quebec Province you can rest, but you will never be bored.

The Call of Gaspé!

It was somewhere on the coast of the Bay of Gaspé that Jacques Cartier, driven by a fierce storm, took refuge in the year 1534. His hardy companions felled several trees and erected a huge cross, bearing in a shield the glorious fleur de lys with the inscription: "Vive le Roi!" Thus was it on Gaspé soil that the discoverer of Canada took possession of the land for "Christ and the King".

The people, now living in the Peninsula, are the descendants of the early traders and fishermen who, shortly after the discovery, came over from France. Acadians, exiled from their country by the British, as well as the English Loyalists, self-exiled from the United States at the time of the American Revolution, also came to Gaspé as to a haven. Others, from the British Isles as well as from islands of Jersey and Guernsey, came in the course of time, attracted by the great fishing opportunities.

Both the French and English languages are spoken in the Peninsula—French almost exclusively along the North Shore, although the English language will be found predominant along the Baie des Chaleurs.

The people of Gaspé have remained unspoiled by the encroachments of modern civilization.

Among these exceedingly hospitable fishermen and agriculturists, who have so faithfully preserved the habits of their forefathers, the tourists will spend many undimmed moments, in quaint and different environments, enjoying at the same time the homely philosophy of the people and the magnificent scenery of the country.

The numerous towns and villages have kept much of their primitive aspect. Along the road, are yet to be seen the old family well with its inspiring oaken bucket and the typical outdoor bread-oven. Occasionally, the motorist meets or passes a team of oxen, lumbering along without any thought of speed limits or traffic cops.

And Gaspé is the country of contrasts.

Here, a luxurious beach, justifying by its swanky magnificence the name "Riviera of the New World"—sometimes applied to the south shore of Gaspé! And, there, only a few miles away, lies a typical fisherman hamlet, recalling some picturesque village of Brittany. And, everywhere, glorious colorings, gorgeous sunsets and a delightful sea breeze! It is interesting to note that hay fever, the bane of so many summer resorts is unknown along the Gaspé coast lines.

The man of modest means may afford the trip to Gaspé quite as easily as the wealthy. You may indeed, all along the route obtain accommodations at prices that will surprise you most agreeably.

The roads are good and kept in perfect condition.

To hunters and fishermen, Gaspé offers, of course, opportunities never to be forgotten.

To the business man, Gaspé is an interesting subject for survey; the country is exceedingly rich in natural resources, which are still dormant and unexploited.

The Perce Rock, the "piece de resistance" of the Peninsula, is one of the most wonderful sights of the whole continent.

Gaspé may be visited by automobile, by railroad or by boat.

You may obtain information, literature, and road maps from the Provincial Tourist Bureau, Parliament Building, Quebec, or apply to the Sherbrooke Auto Club, 54 King Street West, Sherbrooke, Quebec.

This office is open at all times. You will find there competent information and courteous attention.

The Provincial Road Map distributed free by the Provincial Tourist Bureau, will be found of great practical value to the Quebecker who plans to visit his province, whether his plans take him to the Laurentians, to the Eastern Townships or to Gaspé. This map is really the indispensable "vade mecum" of the motorist, touring the province.

TRY THIS MODERN SAFE WAY:

1. Sprinkle the tiny Lux diamonds into lukewarm water... you get instant suds. The improved Lux is 8 times finer—dissolves twice as fast. But of course the same pure Lux, just quicker, easier to use than ever.

2. Pop undies into your Lux suds—rinse—they're fresh and sweet again, free from perspiration odour. Avoid cake-soap rubbing and ordinary flakes containing harmful alkali. You're safe with Lux!

Warm weather warning!

Active Summer days threaten daintiness—LUX undies daily!

WARM weather increases the risk of offending! Underthings absorb perspiration, and the odour is noticed so quickly. Don't take chances—Lux underthings after each wearing. Takes 4 minutes or less! Lux takes away perspiration odour... saves colours.

KAYSER GIRLS REGAIN LADIES' CIRCUIT LEAD

Katadotis Squad Edged Out Eleven to Nine Victory Over Canadian Silk Products Last Evening to Register Fourth Consecutive Victory Against No Defeats.

Sherbrooke Cottons, Marcoux and Canadian Silk Products will have to engineer other plans if they wish to prevent the Kayser girls from regaining the Ladies' Softball League pennant race a runaway affair.

Smart hitting in the pinches was responsible for Kayser's fourth straight victory. With mates on bases, the Frontenac street girls nearly always supplied the necessary punch to produce sufficient runs after the fixture had turned out to be anybody's game until the sixth inning.

It was a member of the losing team, however, who captured the batting honors. Fleurette Beaulieu kept Silks in the running with two homers, one in the fourth and another in the sixth, but the circuit smashes were made with the base paths empty.

Silks' fourth defeat against one victory was Rejane Drapeau's home run in the sixth frame after Grace Sheldon had opened the inning by hitting a single. Three runs crossed the plate in this chapter to raise a barrier which the Silks found impossible to surmount.

ONE CANADIAN LEFT IN QUEST OF GOLF TITLE

Kenny Black, Twenty-Year-Old British Columbia Champion, Bracketed in Canadian Amateur Golf Semi-Final with Three United States Contenders.

Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club, Vancouver, July 14.—On the broad and capable shoulders of Vancouver, favorite golfer Kenny Black remains the sole surviving wearer of the Maple Leaf in the annual race for Canada's amateur crown.

The twenty-year-old British Columbian champion meets Harry Givan, of Seattle, in one semi-final bracket here today, while the highly-rated Frank Dolp, of Portland, engages another Seattle ace, "Scotty" Campbell, in a match that holds promise of inspiring play.

For three consecutive days of match play, Black hurged par over his home course to reach the fourth of the Dominion's premier golf classic. Yesterday he was sensational as he defeated the Portland star, Dr. Cliff Baker, by five and three.

Son of David Black, four times winner of the Canadian professional title and professional at this club, Kenny has displayed an intimate and valuable knowledge of the championship course. He is favored to defeat Givan today and gain the final.

Last of the eastern contingent, Jack Cameron, Toronto veteran, succumbed yesterday to the brilliant game Dolp played. As a result of Cameron's five and four defeat, the west wrestled the championship for the first time since the inauguration of the event thirty-eight years ago.

Another veteran, Cecil Coville, of Vancouver, fell before another American contender, Albert Campbell, Pacific Northwest champion. Coville put up unexpectedly strong opposition to the Seattle player, losing by three and two.

In the hardest fought battle of the day, Givan qualified to oppose Black in one-half of the semi-final bracket by knocking Don Gowan by one up. Gowan had previously eliminated the titleholder, Gordon Taylor, of Montreal.

MIXED FOURSOME AT THE COUNTRY CLUB TOMORROW. A mixed foursome, one of the more popular items of the Sherbrooke Country Club schedule, will be the week-end attraction over the Prospect street course tomorrow afternoon.

Tomorrow's event is the second mixed foursome of the season, and judging from the large entry list for the first competition of this kind tomorrow's play should attract a formidable turnout.

Any player who has not yet entered his or her name on the list provided at the club house may telephone either Mrs. Gordon Miller or Philip Robins before noon tomorrow.

SENATORS HOLD LEADERSHIP BY SMALL MARGIN

Washington's Third Defeat in Four Days and New York's Victory Over St. Louis Reduced Senators' Lead to Single Game—Giants and Cubs Keep Pace in National League.

New York, July 14.—The Washington Senators, despite the remarkable record they made in a couple of weeks on the road, have lost in an increasingly difficult task to shake off the New York Yankees since the clubs returned to the familiar home grounds.

The Yanks have been winning games in their best style since they got back to the Bronx, while the Senators have slipped a couple of times. As a result, only one game today separated the two rivals in the two-club race for the American League lead.

By running roughshod over the last-place St. Louis Browns for a twelve to one victory, the Yanks sliced the Senators' lead in half yesterday as the Washington pitchers failed to stop Chicago's sluggers and the White Sox slammed their way to a nine to six decision.

Vernon "Lefty" Gomez was the big factor in the Yankees victory. He provided pitching of the sort the world's champions were getting earlier in the season, granting only five hits and not allowing a runner to reach third. Bump Hadley and Hank McDonald contributed nine walks, the Yanks bunched an equal number of hits with them and Bill Dickey came through with his ninth homer of the season at a timely moment.

The Senators kept pace with Chicago for seven innings, but the Hose kept their twenty-hit attack going and scored three more runs to give Washington its third defeat in four days. Luke Appling's single with loaded sacks brought in the winning pair of runs in the eighth frame.

The Cleveland Indians continued to show improved punch and edged out the Philadelphia Athletics by six to five as O'Dell Hall fabricated a tremendous homer with one out in the eighth chucker for the deciding tally. Detroit turned back the Boston Red Sox by three to two in their third straight mound battle when Fred Marberry got the better of Henry Johnson.

The St. Louis Cardinals coasted further down in the National League standing when Carl Hubbell's southpaw fling and a ninth inning homer by Johnny Vergez gave the New York Giants a three to two victory over the Cards and Tex Carleton, Pittsburgh's Pirates, manhandled down the Boston Braves for the second time by eight to three and moved into third place, a half-game ahead of the Cards.

The Bucs put together five hits with two of Boston's seven errors to score five runs in the eighth inning and win the game. The Chicago Cubs held their place, three games behind the Giants and one ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers for the third time by four to one. Good pitching by Lon Warneke in the tight places and snappy fielding gave the Cubs the victory, their eighth in a row.

The Phillies and the Cincinnati Reds again exchanged places at the foot of the ladder, the Reds going into last place as Philadelphia pulled out to three and a half games ahead of the Reds. Remains of Calixa Lavallee, Composer of Music of "O Canada," Who Died Forty-Two Years Ago in Boston, Returned to His Native Land.

Montreal, July 14.—Canada today honors one of her foremost musicians, Calixa Lavallee, composer of the music of "O Canada," who spent his life in the United States and died forty-two years ago.

Like many another genius, Lavallee received somewhat scant recognition from his own countrymen during his lifetime, but nothing has been spared to pay honor to his remains which were removed from a Boston cemetery and brought here for burial today in an imposing speech.

During the night the body lay in state in Notre Dame Church and today it will be taken to Cote Des Neiges cemetery on the wooded slopes of Mount Royal whose rugged bulk looked down on the beginnings of Canada.

The strains of the national anthem played by massed bands rang out last night as the body was carried to the old church at the head of a long procession. In the church again the organ played "O Canada" and later the funeral march Lavallee composed as a tribute to Pope Pius the Ninth.

Although born in Canada and the composer of this country's national song, it was in the United States Lavallee found recognition for his work in the world of music, became director of the grand opera house in New York and musical director of Holy Cross Cathedral at Boston.

Leaders of church and state and heads of patriotic and benevolent associations united today with thousands of citizens in following the remains to their new grave in Canadian soil.

QUEBEC SINGLES CHAMPION ELIMINATED. Ottawa, July 14.—George Leclerc, Ottawa men's singles champion, whose bid for the Quebec title was thwarted in the quarter-final bracket by Marcel Rainville last week, caused an upset in the Eastern Canada tennis tournament yesterday by eliminating Laird Watt, present Quebec title holder. Leclerc defeated the tall, bespectacled Montrealer in straight sets by scores of 9-7, 6-3.

WENT FOR A MUCH LONGER SWIM THAN HE EXPECTED. Newton, N.J., July 14.—Don't leave a red necktie on the bank when you go swimming. Harold Rodder, a postal clerk, did and he still regretted it today. Rodder carried his clothes in a quiet, peaceful pasture near Slater farm pond and went for a swim—a much longer swim than he anticipated.

Red Necktie on the Shore Attracted Bull to Scene. A bull wandered to the water's edge, its eye attracted by the red tie. After tearing Rodder's clothes to shreds, the animal sat down by the stream. Rodder shivered in the water for hours until the bull, tired, strolled away.

1932 Olympiad at Los Angeles, said yesterday, after attending the meeting of the committee in Vienna. A strong attitude was taken by all other countries participating in the committee meetings and both the German Government and the German Olympic Committee have given assurance that Jews will have perfect freedom and facilities to compete at Berlin in 1936.

Mr. Garland, who is a prominent realtor in Los Angeles, commenting on news of the intended separation of Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford and consequent sale of their magnificent estate, "Pickfair," expressed the deepest regret. "They were a wonderful couple, the most popular in Hollywood. Olympic athletes all over the world will be sorry to hear the news, as Douglas and Mary entertained all the contestants at Los Angeles in 1932 in the most wonderful manner at Pickfair."
