POWER BY-LAW IS READY

$950,000 Loan Item Has Third Reading; Ratification Nov. 2

$950,000 loan by-law — to extend and renew Westmount's electric light and power system — received third reading Monday at a regular meeting of the municipal council and November 2 has been set for a ratification session required by law.

Referendum on the borrowing of this large amount may be necessary if it is requested of council by ratepayers at this November meeting.

According to General Manager Hughes electric appliances in the municipality have increased the demand for power so that in some cases the supply is almost exhausted.

He said new lines and constant supervision of old lines were needed, especially during heavy-load periods of the winter, to prevent breakdowns.

Mr. Hughes said the loan would not necessarily be spent within a specified time, but would be at the disposal of the council, for such expansion as may be necessary. He said the city was working on a 20-year plan.

Westmount city officials have described the new by-law as an "important planning phase in the city's services to its citizens, whose electrical requirements in modern times are mounting in proportion to the convenience and comfort they seek."

Mr. Hughes said the city did not anticipate selling bonds this year or in 1954 to raise the loan, which will be provided for through an amendment to by-law 585, adopted in January, 1952.

Among the larger items on the expansion program are: Rebuilding the Glen switchboard, the King George substation, and changes in the city's powerhouses and cable systems.

The by-law provides that any individual amount earmarked for these projects, if not used in full, should be available for other projects covered by the by-law.

The by-law covers the following improvements: Transfers from overhead lines to underground service; additions to underground duct system; additions to electric distribution services; additional light standards, cables and supply transformers; additional distribution transformers; new meters; feeder circuits and changes in powerhouse and substantions — $133,000.

Street lighting on St. Catherine street and street lighting circuits on or under Western avenue — $13,100.

Discounts, debenture issue expenses and contingencies — $3,900.

Elevent new circuits; forced air cooling; four additional feeder cubicles at Olivier sub-station, rebuilding Glen switchboard; the projected building of King George Park substation — $755,000.

Sewer Charge To Westmount Is $100,000

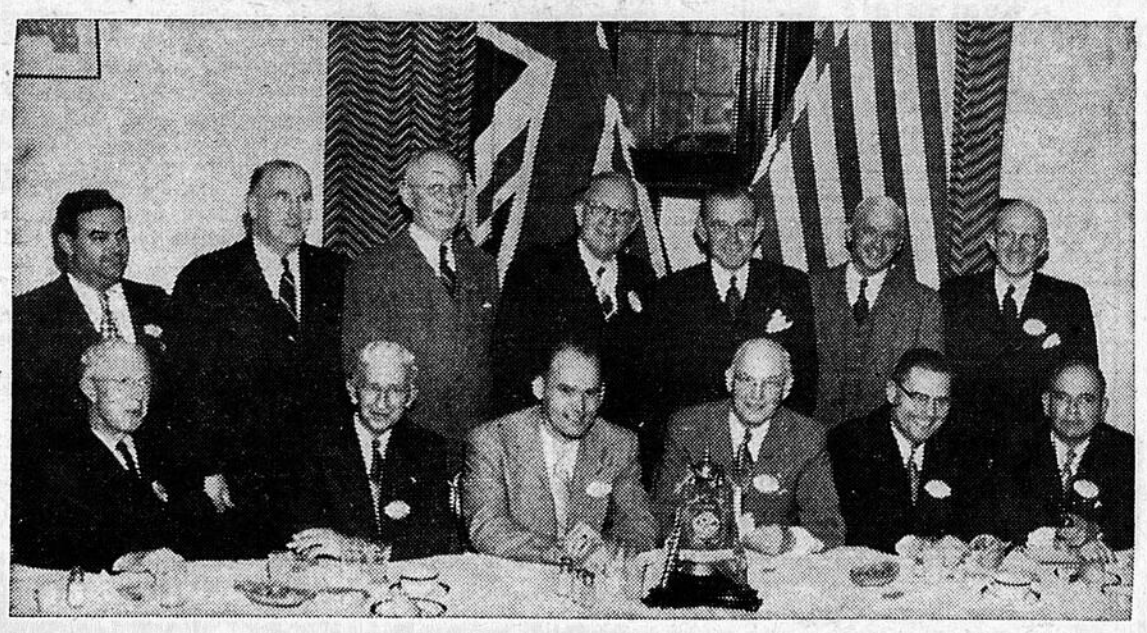

Westmount's share of the new Meuilleur-Atlantic tributary sewer, being constructed across the northern section of Montreal, may run well in advance of $100,000.

This figure has been obtained from city officials here, who are keeping a close check on the situation.

While only 56 acres of Westmount are in an area to considered liable for the cost of the gigantic $6,500,000 project, this sector is on the northern slope of the mountain and taking topography into consideration makes it liable on a basis of run-off.

The formula for finding out who pays what in a deal of this kind is complicated, but Westmount is stuck for 1.31 per cent of the total.

Fortunately for this city most of its sewers run into the St. Pierre collector which was built during depression days when such work could be done more reasonably, and this bill has been paid some time ago.

Jarman, Newman and Everson Speak At Rotary Anniversary

Past, present and future were the topics discussed by three members of the Westmount Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon held Wednesday at Victoria Hall. On the occasion of the 23rd birthday of the club, Percy E. Jarman, Link Newman and Ewart Everson were speakers.

Percy Delgado was chairman and the three speakers described stages through which Westmount Rotary passed, is passing, and will pass.

Mr. Jarman, president in 1933-34, stressed the point that the club has been successful from the very start, carrying out the aims of Rotary in a creditable manner.

There are still four of the original 32 members active, he said, and many of the original activities are still going on. He spoke of Unity Boys Club, on which Rotary had done a 'marvellous' job, and the Weredale Boys Camp, another project of Westmount Rotary.

He concluded by saying that it is "often a good thing to look back —we benefit by the experience, and gain inspiration for the future."

Link Newman followed, speaking of the present. He said members should take a look at Rotary in general and see what they can do to improve the club. Rotary, he said, is a privilege, and a challenge, while its fellowship is an opportunity for service.

The worth of a club is measured by the number of members in service, he said, and the small jobs where the individual puts himself into work instead of the club as a whole are best.

Ewart Everson concluded the program, speaking of the future. Rotary, he said, should not rest on its laurels, but look for the needs of the community and take care of them. The club as a whole should be active and work for these things, doing what they want and working on the best projects.

Has Anyone Seen Peter The Budgie?

If a queer-looking bird stops you in Westmount and says "Hello" don't let him out of your sight.

"Hello" is about the only thing that Peter, a three-month old budgie bird that flew away from its home at 58 Bruce avenue and doesn't know its way back, can say. As a matter of fact, he's been known to repeat it several dozen times.

Although flying is quite a common occurance these days, Peter's master and friend, 13-year old Johnny Clark, is worried sick. The green and blue budgie flew off to converse with a couple of female sparrows, while John was cleaning his cage.

When last seen by a search party organized by Johnny's friends, Peter was flapping towards Greene avenue yelling at the top of his voice.

Hallowell Lights Cost Is $9,300

Westmount Council has authorized the installation of traffic lights at St. Catherine and Hallowell streets.

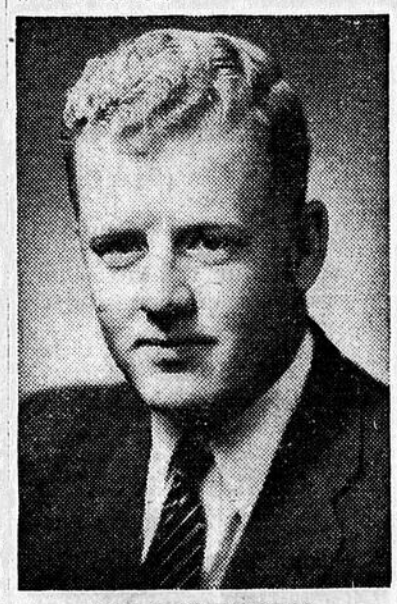

Cost of this installation, part of the current drive in the municipality to improve traffic conditions generally, has been set at $9,300.

Local P. C. Body Annual Meeting Monday Night

The St-Antoine-Westmount Progressive Conservative Association will hold its annual meeting on Monday evening at 8.15 p.m. at Westmount Junior High School on Academy Road.

Egan Chambers, the party's candidate in the recent Federal election will be the principal speaker. Mr. Chambers will be remembered for his aggressive campaign which resulted in a considerable reduction of the majority of Mr. Abbott from that of the previous election. It is expected that Mr. Chambers will deal with aspects of his election campaign and with the Conservative Party's plans for the future in the riding.

In announcing the meeting, Peter F. Kerrigan, president of the association, stated that the public is invited and that refreshments will be served.

EGAN CHAMBERS

Abbott, Marler, Pitts Are Heard

"Definition of 'dumping in the Federal Customs Act may be altered in the near future, Hon. Douglas Abbott, finance minister, has declared for the record.

A good many complaints about dumping have been made, Mr. Abbott said, and not always about textiles.

Also speaking at the opening meeting of the 1953-54 season were George C. Marler, leader of the Liberal opposition in the last House and Gordon MacL. Pitts, vice-chairman of the city's executive committee.

The three outlined the functions of government on the federal, provincial and municipal levels and then answered abut eight questions each.

In reply to a questionner who claimed "dumping" of textiles was causing hardship and unemployment, particularly in Ontario and Quebec. Mr. Abbott said "It may be that the definition of dumping requires some revision.'

"It is a very tricky question," he declared.

On Federal grants to universities, Mr. Marler said he couldn't see why Quebec Universities couldn't receive the Federal money under a arrangement similar to the one in which the Federal Government gives the province $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 annually for health services.

Replying to another question, Mr. Pitts said the city has "no immediate plans to build" an east-west expressway along the waterfront to east traffic congestion. Planning in any event would have to await more definite word on the effects of the St. Lawrence Seaway in the area.

Mr. Pitts told another questionner that there is "little likelihood of the present city sales tax being lifted.

Mr. Marler, on the question of tax fields, said he was not "firmly convinced" that the present tax agreements between Ottawa and provinces other than Quebec constituted "the only desirable pattern."

But he took the Provincial Government to task for maintaining a "purely negative attitude," and not offering counter-proposals to the federal plan which might result in agreement.

Anne Senecal, 9, Hit By U.S. Auto Here

Anne Senecal, nine years of age, suffered bruises to the forehead and a sprained left ankle when she was struck by a car at Sherbrooke and Lansdowne, this week.

According to the driver, Mrs. Sue M. Bonner, Ridgeway, Pa., the child, who lives at 3475 Lansd owne Avenue, ran in front of the car from the sidewalk.

Senior High Current Events Club Unique Model Of Student Interest

As a general rule, student organizations are small and uninteresting; they appeal only to a limited number and usually fade out of the scene after a turnover in membership.

The Westmount Senior High Current Events Club could easily be rated as the prime exception to this rule. It was founded in 1948 with J. K. Snyder, a teacher at the school, as advisor, and has gained in popularity ever since. At present, over 100 students attend each meeting, and this represents about one-third of total enrollment.

One of the more amazing items about this club, which meets every Tuesday from 12:30-1:15, is that it has retained its popularity despite a completely new membership every two years.

Their program consists of outside speakers, debates, round table discussions, panels, films and trips. As might be expected, the latter are one of the more popular features. Every year a group of 100 students from grade 10 visits the Parliament Buildings in Ottawa, while another group of 40 from grade 11 tour the United Nations in New York.

Surplus of funds have gone to supply classrooms with miniature flags of the countries in the UN, besides giving each class a free subscription to the magazine "World Affairs".

Executive of the Current Events Club is partly from grade 10 and partly from grade 11, and attendance at the noontime meetings is purely voluntary.

Advisor Snyder along with the planning committee has already arranged for an interesting program during the remainder of the year. Among others, it will include a panel of seven members who will discuss the various phases and functions of the United Nations, a debate with the subject "Resolved that the modern girl does not measure up to her grandmother", A. W. D. Swan, Westmount alderman, will speak on the how the city is run, Juan Sheridan star lineman with the Montreal Alouettes, will talk on rugby and the German consul will also give a topical lecture.

In the past, the club has heard many interesting and famous speakers, among them professors, editors, business executives, clergymen, medical men, campus leaders and many sports personalities.

Biggest excitement now is being caused by the forthcoming New York trip for which 40 pupils are preparing. They will leave Nov. 5 for their tour of the UN, another step in the development of this successful and interesting venture.

Opening the program of seven students speaking on the United Nations, Ilene Riddell informed the 106 members present at Westmount High School Current events Club Wednesday, of functions and origin of the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Sally Wolfe next spoke to the club, telling about the Security Council. The Economic and Social Council was the organ of the United Nations on which Ruth Morgernstern volunteered information.

Carol Cracower, the treasurer of Current Events Club, then spoke on the Trusteeship Council while George Schafer gave a most interesting talk on the International Court of Justice.

Gordie Wasserman spoke next on the Secretariat while John Seely, President of Westmount High School's Students Council, gave an excellent general summary of the United Nations and its various organs. The program was of especial interest to those members of the club who are planning to take the coming trip to New York and the United Nations on Nov. 5.

President of the club Margery Klein informed the members that club pins have arrived and reminded to get them either Friday afternoon or Monday. The president also told the club that next week's program would be a debate. The topic is:: "Resolved that the modern girl does not measure up to her grandmother." A dramatic meeting is antipicated.

Outstanding Talk On Gilbert Given By Prof. Speirs To St. James Group

Combined operations of Gilbert and Sullivan are now a part of Anglo-Saxon heritage, Robert A. Speirs, headmaster of Selwyn House School told members of the St. James Literary Society Tuesday.

A former president of the society and a local resident, Prof. Speirs spoke on 'Gilbert — Source of Innocent Merriment".

In part, he said:

"The combined operations of Gilbert and Sullivan are now part and parcel of our Anglo-Saxon heritage, as the current movie on the lives and works of these eminent Victorians amply demonstrates. And yet how paradoxical it is that neither believed that his excursion into the realm of comic opera provided his major contribution to the world. The sentimentalist in Gilbert never yielded to the humorist without a painful wrench, and the creative impulse in Sullivan turned with regret from the rarefield atmosphere of oratorios and grand opera — and yet today their serious works are almost forgotten, whilst the scintillating world of topsyturvydom lives on as a flashing mirror of the foibles and humbugs and hypocrisies which Gilbert so brilliantly satirised, whilst Sullivan's delightful music still lilts its fancy-free steps into the heart of our world."

"Gilbert is a difficult man to place in the hierarchy of English Literature. In many respects he was a crotchety genius to whom Meredith's words "His foe was folly and his weapon wit" apply to perfection. His gift for madrig melody was outstanding and ma of his songs have a haunti poignancy. His ingenious pet has a whimsicality of imagina unequalled in his field, and so times his prose dialogue is as ruscating in its sparkle as songs. He had an amazing voca lary of pungent English, and ma of his sayings are now house words."

"Behind the joyous abandon the operas, however, one feel sense of mission characteristi Gilbert's age — but he never all the prophet, the censor or the former to obtrude too consp ously upon the stage. The delic music of Sullivan generally ened the blows of satire which bert aimed at so many of the E lish institutions and customs. the characters we laugh at most are those whose faults lin in our own hearts — we see o selves and our age in the lookin glass, albeit in grotesque cari ture and pantomime.'

"The operatic marriage of G bert and Sullivan — not unpunc ated by domestic disagreements a thunder-and-lightning variety gave to the world not only a n dimension in the sphere of co opera, but also a priceless poss sion of happy rollicking fun spi with a jester's satire. And, year year, a fresh flock of enthusia devotees are proving that time not dimmed nor repetition sta the allure and popularity of w Gilbert's typical understatem termed 'his light frippery a amusing nonsense'."

Donald H. Forsyth Buried On Tuesday

Final tribute was paid Tuesday to Donald Henry Forsyth, 4735 Grosvenor avenue, who died Saturday at the Montreal General Hospital. He was 51.

Secretary to the president of the Provincial Transport Company, Mr. Forsyth was born in Stafford, Eng., and came to Canada at the age of 12. He took his first job two years later as a clerk and then stenographer with the CPR. Leeds Nelson Heads Roslyn H. and S. Ass'n

First meeting of the Roslyn Home and School Association for the season will be held Monday, at 8.30 p.m. in the new gymnasium-auditorium. This will also be the first public meeting held in the new modern wing, completed in September of this year at the rear of the original school.

Primary purpose of Home and School is to provide a closer liaison between parents, teachers and pupils. The main speaker at this open meeting will be G. H. Penrose, principal of the school, who will tell parents of the background of the school and the philosophy behind the teaching methods used there. Before the address an opportunity will be given to meet the teachers, and visit the classrooms. At later meetings the parents will have an opportunity to see the work being done in school. Boys of the senior class will usher at all meetings.

Attendance at these meetings during the past few years has averaged more than 500 parents, which indicates strong interest when one considers the school enrollment of only 900 pupils. The association is contacting parents of all pupils enrolled for the first time to have them attend in order that interest may be maintained at a high level.

In addition to the meetings, Roslyn Home and School Association has been active in organizing and sponsoring extra-mural activities which further help in the proper development of the children and which provide them with recreation during out-of-school hours. Most active amongst these are classes in ballet dancing, figure skating and sewing. All of these activities are under the supervision of highly qualified instructors and great interest has been shown as demonstrated by the fact that there are over 200 girls enrolled in the Ballet classes, over 100 girls in the figure skating and we expect over 50 in the sewing classes, which is a new project this year.

The association also sponsors skates and ski boots swaps and other worth while activities.

The officers for the 1953-54 season are: president, Mr. Leeds Nelson; vice-presidents, Mrs. George Maughan, Mrs. H. W. Gall, Mr. M. H. Blakely; treasurer, Mr. T. A. C. Sinclair; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. Y. Soper; recording secretary, Mrs. W. P. Carr; teacher representatives, G. H. Penrose, principal, Miss Dorothy Stark, Mr. Geoffrey Merrill; executive committee, Mrs. F. T. Denis, Mrs. J. E. Birks, Mrs. B. W. Robinson, Mrs. W. R. Abbott, Mrs. L. V. Damant, Dr. G. W. Halpenny, Mr. Howard Lauer.

Daniel Johnson Says Government To Aid Training

Support of the government in a training program for the Corporation of Watchmakers-Jewellers was promised by Daniel Johnson, local resident who is MLA for Bagot, at the final banquet of the Corporation's two-day meeting.

Johnson said training centers for watchmakers and jewellers could be set up along the lines of those established for the building, printing and agricultural trades, but the Corporation would have to outline methods of procedure it wished to follow and supply competent men to teach trainees.

The Corporation spent the Thanksgiving weekend discussing problems connected with the entry into the profession and the training of watchmakers and jewellers.

During the year in which the Corporation has been in existence membership has grown to nearly 700. Its object is to raise standard, to elevate what is sometimes considered a trade to a profession.

It came a step closer at the congress, as a resolution was adopted to recommend to the executive body of the Corporation to establish by-laws to close the Corporation and also to render obligatory an examination on the Island of Montreal.

"It would raise the standard and protect competent watchmakers-jewellers and the public from unqualified and unscrupulous merchants," an official said.

Pat Baker, President

At a special election meeting held last week, Pat Baker was elected President of the newly-formed Youth Club and June Craig was elected Vice-President and Secretary. Members of the Committee include: Winnifred McDonald, Hugh Laws, Geraldine Giblin, Douglas Mariasine, David Gray and Kenneth Knowles.

The newly-elected Executives Pat Baker and June Craig have been members of the Unity Boys' Club since its inception in 1944 and at the present time are Junior Leaders in the Club, the former as a Basketball Coach and the latter as an Art Instructor.

H. K. Crabtree Again Heads L.C.C. As Achievements Told At Session

Academic achievements of Lower Canada College, Royal avenue, were to the forefront Friday at the annual meeting of the educational institution when H. K. Crabtree was reelected chairman of the corporation and of the Board of Governors.

H. K. Crabtree, who was re-elected chairman of the corporation and of the board of governors cited statistics which showed that 31 out of 39 candidates received the McGill junior certificate on the basis of June examinations — almost 80 per cent of the class passing. Five out of eight candidates gained the senior McGill school certificate.

Enrolment High

D. S. Penton, headmaster, stated that the enrolment at the college was 391. Full use was being made he said, of all the available facilities. The high academic results obtained by students in the graduating class last session was very gratifying and represented consistent effort throughout the year. One member of the class, he noted, obtained a scholarship to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

G. A. Ross, Jr., honorary treasurer, reported that the budget had been balanced during the year ending June 30, 1952, and that there was a small surplus of income over expenditure.

Position Strong

In his review of the position of the college, Mr. Crabtree stated that successive boards of governors had been able to build up a reserve "which could be used as a cushion against years less favorable when deficit financing may be necessary." The net reserve, he said, was slightly below $100,000.

A number of improvements had been made in the building during the year under review. Mr. Crabtree lauded members of the staff and particularly Mr. Penton for their loyal efforts to the school.

"Our headmaster," he said, "is doing an admirable job not only of building up a school spirit which we like to feel is traditional at this school but also in reminding the boys of that tradition and keeping ever before them the memory of our founder . . . Our headmaster has gathered a most loyal staff around him and we are most grateful to them."

The effort of the Old Boys' Association, notably in establishing the Fosbery Scholarship, not only commemorated the founder but also inaugurated a system of annual giving which would be of notable assistance to the college.

Officers Elected

A. M. Minnion was re-elected vice-chairman and R. H. Stevenson was re-elected secretary. J. A. Fraser was named treasurer.

Re-elected as members of the board were T. T. Arnold, Rt. Rev. John Dixon, T. R. Durley, R. J. Gill, Dr. F. C. James, F. J. Kelland, D. R. McRobie, H. K. McLean, James Muir, G. A. Ross, Jr., and V. E. Traversy.

Pioneer Of Smelting Industry William S. Rugh, 87, Dies Here

Final tribute was paid Monday to William Stewart Rugh, retired vice-president in charge of sales for the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. here, who died at his residence 611 Roslyn avenue Oct. 16. He was 87.

He was born Oct. 30, 1865 in Greensburg, Pa. and received his early education in Pittsburg. He graduated from the Iron City College, a business school, in 1881, and at 16 obtained his first job as telegraph operator with the American Telegraph Union Co. in Duke Center, Pa.

For the next nine years his successive connections with railroads, first as telegraph dispatcher and finally as auditor, gave him a valuable foundation for his ultimate work with the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada.

During this period he read law extensively in his leisure time and for a while considered it as a profession. In March, 1890 he decided to visit England. Friends there influenced him to go to South America, where much British money was being invested in railroads. He sailed May 28, 1890 and arrived in Buenos Aires June 27. He found employment immediately with the British Railroad Co. and a year later he joined the Cordoba Central Railroad as travelling auditor.

Mr. Rugh visited Lima, Peru, and other west coast cities, returning to the United States via Panama. He went to San Francisco and as auditor for the Southern Pacific R.R., Western Division, he took the opportunity to visit the new cities of Portland, Oregon, Seattle and Tacoma, Wash.

The following year, 1893, he was offered a position with the Missouri Kansas and Texas Trust Co., in Kansas City Mo. Two years later when the firm transferred its Surety Co., to a separate company to be known as the National Surety Co., he was appointed secretary and held this post until 1896.

In 1895 he married Miss Antoinette Caroline Cole of Kansas City.

The rapid development taking place in the west greatly attracted him and was a factor which decided his resignation from the National Surety Co. He moved to Spokane, Wash. where his brother-in-law, W. T. Stoll, an attorney, introduced him to the possibilities of mining investments in British Columbia and the Coeur d'Alene. He soon became associated with British interests in the Rossland gold mining camp and was accountant for the Le Roi Mine, an outstanding gold property, from 1893 to 1911. With the sudden closing of the Le Roi Mine in 1911, he took his family to Vancouver and remainded there until 1913. In the fall of that year he returned to the Kootenays as manager for the Giant Powder Co. in Nelson B.C.

In 1915, J. J. Warren, president of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., persuaded him to go east to open the sales department of the company in Toronto, as manager.

Came Here 1919

In 1919, at the close of The First World War, the C. M. and S. Co., moved the head sales office to Montreal. The expansion and successful achievement of Smelters sales was a tribute to Mr. Rugh's astute judgement and management.

At the outbreak of the Second World War, Mr. Rugh's position as vice-president in charge of sales brought further responsibility.

In June, 1940, he was appointed liaison officer by the minister of supply, non-ferrous metals control, Rugby, England, to act on their behalf for the duration of the war with Canadian non-ferrous metal producers.

After 32 years service with the C. M. and S. Co., he retired in 1947 at 82 years of age.

A keen lover of sport, he enjoyed playing golf until shortly before his final illness. Tennis, curling and fishing were other of his favorites. He had many friends in the mining world and among his business associates in Montreal.

He was a director of the Dominion Rubber Co., The Roirdin Sales Corporation. The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., and until his retirement, a director of Henry Gardner and Co., London, Eng.

He was a member of St. Paul's Lodge, St. James' Club, serving as chairman in 1940-41, the Royal Montreal Golf Club, and supported St. Matthias Church.

His wife, the former Antoinette Caroline Cole, died in 1937. He is survived by a daughter, Helen.

Interment was in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Financial Paper Lauds Abbott For Canada's Finance Handling

Praise was recently given Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, MP, for Westmount-St. Antoine, by the Canadian Journal of Commerce for good handling of the largest financing operation of the government since the war years.

In an article on the $700 million refunding issues for which subscription books open Oct. 19, which is expected to solve all the cash problems of the government for the current fiscal year ending March 31, they said:

"On Nov. 1, a total of $500 million two-per cent bonds are maturing, and on March 1, 1954, $670 million of the Second Victory Loan of 1942, a three per cent bond. This makes a total of $1,170 million. But meanwhile, the Canada Savings bond campaign is going on and financial observers predict that it will yield the government in the neighborhood of half a billion dollars net. This means, the government may raise some $1,200 million by mid-November, enough to take care of the maturity next March.

"The new issue consists of two maturities. A 2¼ per cent bond maturing July 1, 1955 (1¾ years) is offered at 98 at a yield of 3.45 per cent. A 3 per cent bond maturing May 1, 1958 (4½ years) is offered at 97.15 to yield 4.65 per cent. In payment for the latter issue, second Victory Loan bonds will be accepted at a price of 101.50. This conversion will do away already with a goodly part of this victory loan due next March only.

Has Free Hand

"Finance Minister Abbott is free to allot the cash subscriptions for either of the two issues as well as the conversion offerings as he sees fit.

"The government should have quite a cash surplus on hand till next March because budgetary revenues and expenditures are currently resulting in a surplus of about a quarter billion dollars. If the economy should need a boost during the winter months, Mr. Abbott can deposit his surplus cash with the chartered banks, increasing their resources. If not, he can park them in the Bank of Canada.

"However this may be, Mr. Abbott is once again ahead of the game. One can easily think of quite a few Secretaries of the Treasury and Finance Ministers who will look with envy at the shape of public finances in Canada."

Stay In Office Defeats Parties Editor Declares

The Liberal Party will one day disintegrate, George V. Ferguson, Editor-in-chief of the Montreal Star, told members of the Young Men's Section of the Montreal Board of Trade.

"The day is bound to come when the Liberals, well worn in office will begin to make the blunders which in the past it has been the privilege of the Conservatives to make," Mr. Ferguson predicted.

He added: "I don't know when that will happen, nor what issue will cause the break — yet it is the nature of the things that a political party long in power should eventually fall apart."

The speaker told of the apathy of the public for their government.

"Canadians," Mr. Ferguson pointed out, "are notoriously uninterested in their own constitution." "They pay attention to their constitution because they have to, not because they want to, and Canadians, as political animals, will eventually do the same thing about their own political constitution."

Mr. Ferguson stressed that neither the Canadian liberal or the Canadian Conservative is a "textbook liberal or conservative. "He is a queer mixture of the issues, the campaigns, the beliefs, the prejudices which he has inherited from his political forefathers, combined with the new facts and the new ideas which impose themselves on him from day to day and demand solution."

Hallowe'en Party At 'Y' Oct. 31

Other attractions include the "Haunted House", fortune telling, shadow play, movies and refreshments. All children between five and twelve years of age are invited.

The party is sponsored as a service project of the Westmount Boys and Girls Hi-Y Clubs, and will be held in the evening.

A Wise Decision

Cabinet Denationalization Benefits Both Taxpayers, Government

Prime Minister St. Laurent and his cabinet colleagues deserve credit for a wise decision to sell to private industry state-owned enterprises developed with taxpayers' money to meet urgent defence needs. This move holds promise that the Canadian Government, like the Governments of U.K. and U.S., sees the necessity of reducing area of subsidized state competition with private industry.

Security needs and taxpayers' involuntary investment are alike protected in Government move by expressed determination to ensure that aircraft and other plants disposed of are maintained in state of preparedness for 10-year period to switch to defence production and that properties will not be disposed of "for firesale prices."

The effect of Ottawa's 'de-nationalization' move will be threefold. Government expenditures will be reduced. Taxpayers will no longer have to foot the bill for losses on state-enterprises sold. Capital investment will be encouraged.

The fact that the United Kingdom Government, in trimming unnecessary overhead, has found it possible to disband Crown Film Unit and to dispense with services of a host of 'information officers' and 'editors' in government departments, suggests a promising avenue for further moves along the lines being followed in respect of defence industries.

American Claims Often Resemble Russian Ridiculousness

Cartoonists selling to U.S. periodicals have a continuing reliable joke about the Russians' claims to having invented most everything and been first or best in the triumphs of civilization through the years. Occasionally U.S. publications run articles on the same amusing subject.

Canadian readers enjoy all this, but their amusement is even greater than that of readers in the U.S. because of having also as a subject of mirth the cartoons and articles in U.S. publications about the triumphs of the U.S.

According to the Saturday Evening Post, for instance, nobody but the Wrights had much to do with inventing the airplane and interminable instalments about one of the first hundred or so people to fly the Atlantic, one Lindbergh or something, had trouble remembering Alcock and Brown, who flew the Atlantic (in case you came in late) from Newfoundland to Ireland in 1919 — eight years before Lindbergh. Truly we love our neighbors, but let them look to their motes.

Steadfastness

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor

(Rector of Trinity Memorial Church)

I have a profound respect for my Jewish neighbours. During their High Holidays I went along Sherbrooke Street and found store after store shut, and taking the loss in order that the religious obligations might be observed. There was no appeal or requirement that every one else should close up shop. The proprietors locked the door and forgot their losses.

It is that attitude of attending to their religious duties in spite of the loss that has maintained the Jewish community as a race apart. True, that has not added to their popularity, but even loss of popularity has not deterred them. There is no other race that has been cut off from its homeland century after century; that has been subjected to persecution and indignity, and yet has maintained its religious, cultural and national identity. They are an extraordinary race. But I have not set out to write these words in order to flatter my fellow-citizens, but rather to suggest that we may learn something from them.

The Jews make sacrifices. They build their Synagogue-schools where they teach the next generation the riches of their inheritance. Learning Hebrew does not add to their material wealth, but they know that it adds to their spiritual well-being. If we put as much time and energy on our religious education our Protestant community would be much more closely knit together than it is.

Every racial and cultural community faces two alternatives. It can treasure and study its inheritance. For example, we can take time off from the study of science and economics, and the reading of thrillers, and devote the time to the history and literature of the men and women who have made our race what it is. I admit that the first attempt is hard work, but one grows into and profits immensely from it, in the way of an uplifted morale if nothing else. We have our problems today, but so had our ancestors in the first Elizabethan Age; but they won through, and using the same courage we can win through too.

The other alternative is to adopt the Henry Ford attitude that "History is the bunk;" forget all the past and devote ourselves to the profit of the moment. Then suddeenly cut off from our cultural roots we find ourselves absorbed in such other communities as have maintained their strength.

And if your are interested in maintaining your community, you can only do it by standing fast by the religion which has inspired the community in the past.

Calvary United

Christian Science

"Probation after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science churches on Sunday.

This Lesson-Sermon teaches that death should not be regarded as the gateway to a better life, since the only escape from error is through reformation, which is required here or hereafter.

The Golden Text is from Isaihh: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined."

Bible citations include the following from I Corinthians: "For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord."

Correlative passages from the denominational text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "We know that all will be changed 'in the twinkling of an eye,' when the last trump shall sound; but this last call of wisdom cannot come till mortals have already yielded to each leeser call in the growth of Christian character. Mortals need not fancy that belief in the experience of death will awaken them to glorified being. As death findeth mortal man, so shall he be after death, until probation and growth shall effect the needed change.' "

Queen Elizabeth Hospital Drive Is Over The Top

Final results in the Queen Elizabeth Hospital campaign to raise $105,500 show that a total of $113,200, including pledges, was obtained, H. K. Crabtree, general chairman, announced today.

The campaign books were kept open for further subscriptions when the drive ended Sept. 19, as the objective had not been attained.

Mr. Crabtree thanked the public and the voluntary canvassers for their splendid efforts and pointed out that the goal having been reached and exceeded would be a great moral and physical support to the hospital and lend it fresh encouragement to carry on its great humanitarian work.

He had a special word of praise for the territorial and special names divisions, headed by H. B. Fewkes and T. H. Cummings, respectively, both of which well exceeded their objective.

Campaign officials said that Westmount had made a very good showing indeed, registering 107 per cent of its objective. The division chairman here was Robert A. Spiers.

Lorne Webster acted as chairman for Westmount north; S. B. Kimber for Westmount southeast, and Robert Hunter and John Ferguson were co-chairmen for southwest Westmount.

L. B. Unwin, hospital president, expressed thanks on behalf of the board of management to all who had in any way contributed to the success of the campaign. Fried Toast Shares Spotlight With Practical Meat Stretcher

This time of year almost everyone likes a bowl of chili con carne, and from the recent food conference came a simplified recipe for this popular dish. To makeit, you just melt 2 tablespoons shortening in a skillet and brown 1 pound ground beef, 1 small chopped onion and 2 cloves finely chopped garlic. Then stir in 2 cans condensed tomato soup, ⅓ cup water, 2½ cups kidney beans and 2 tablespoons chili powder. Cover and cook slowly for an hour, stirring occasionally. Season with ½ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon paprika. Serves six.

One-Side Pan-Fried Toast

Evenly butter one side of a piece of bread — white or dark, depending on preference. Place buttered side down on a hot, ungreased skillet over a medium flame. Remove in approximately one minute, or when edges start turning brown. Serve immediately. It's excellent right out of the pan, or topped off with peanut butter, jelly, or a cream-style cheese. Superb as an "extra" at breakfast, and perfect for a bedtime snack.

Here's a simple but delicious dessert which has just come to my attention and won whoopees from my family.

Marshmallow Fruit Dream

1 cup fruit juice — orange, apricot, pineapple, or grape
Juice 1 lemon (use as part of the 1 cup juice)
30 marshmallows
Nuts
Coconut or cherries
½ pint whipped cream

Put fruit juices and marshmallows in double boiler until marshmallows are melted. Cool. Add whipped cream. When serving, top with nuts and either coconut or cherries.

Can. Hadassah Completing Plans For Biennial Convention In Mtl.

HADASSAH CONVENTION: Active in the coming 15th National Biennial Convention of the Hadassah Organization in Canada to be held in Montreal from October 30 to November 2 are, left to right: Mrs. Wm. Riven, Regional Chairman of Canadian Hadassah; Mrs. A. Raginsky, Hon. President, National Chairman, Publicity and Speakers' Bureau; and Mrs. Corna Windgate, widow of Colonel Windgate, who was Leader of Commandos in the second World War.

Issues affecting the structure and tasks of Hadassah and the ational projects such as Youth Aliyah, Hadassim, and Nahalal will be the centre of attention of over 500 delegates who will meet in Montreal at the 15th National Biennial Convention of the Hadassah Organization of Canada for four days commencing Friday morning October 30, and continuing until Monday evening, November 2. Almost 15,000 members participating in 278 chapters in every province in Canada — and for the first time in Newfoundland—will be represented at this week-end of deliberation.

Mrs. I. M. (Rebecca) Sieff of London, England, World President of the Women's International Zionist Organization, will be one of the prominent speakers who will address the opening session at the Sharaton Mount Royal Hotel on Saturday evening, October 31. Long a champion of women's rights, well-known for her patronage of hospitals in England and for her war efforts, Mrs. Sieff is one of England's most influential Jewish leaders. As World President of WIZO her name and her activities on behalf of Israel are familiar to tens of thousands of Jewish women in 58 countries throughout the world. She is coming to the convention directly from Israel.

Another international personality who will speak at one of the sessions will be Mrs. Lorna Wingate, who will report on the work of the Youth Aliyah — a project in which Canadian Hadassah has always been keenly interested. Mrs. Wingate is the widow of the late and legendary figure of Major Charles Wingate who was in charge of the British commando forces in Palestine.

Mrs. M. Warburg, leading British woman scientist and outstanding in Hadassah work in England, will lead a panel discussion on World Jewish Child's Day.

A traditional Sabbath Dinner for out-of-town guests will be held Friday evening at the Zionist Headquarters, with the Montreal members of the National Executive as hostesses. Sabbath services will be conducted in all synagogues, with sermons dedicated to Hadassah.

Youth Aliyah, according to Mrs. D. P. Gotlieb, national president of Canadian Hadassah, will receive high priority at the convention deliberations.A grand total of nearly $4,000,000 will have been contributed to Youth Aliyah by Canadian Hadassah by the time the sessions get under way. Organized in 1933 to rescue Jewish children from Germany to Israel, over 75,000 waifs of insecure Jewish communities in Europe, Africa, and the Moslem Middle East have been brought to safety and productive careers in Israel.

New departures in the field of adult education for the Jewish community of Canada are also slated for consideration at the convention. An educational seminar to be conducted Saturday afternoon in the form of an "Oneg Shabbat" will train convention delegates in the use of educational and cultural materials available from Israel. "A serious program of self-study, to which 15,000 Canadian wives and mothers are committed, will fire the interest of those families, representing more than one-third of the Canadian Jewish community" commented Mrs. D. P. Gotlieb.

The Canadian Hadassah Scholarship Scheme, which is expected to be ratified by the convention, will make possible a student exchange whereby the mutual interests of Canada and Israel will be furthered. Plans call for undergraduate science students at the Weizmann Institute of Science, Hebrew University, and at Canadian Universities to exchange places for one year, gaining the advantages of work in areas that are the particular specialties of each country.

Canadian Hadassah recently presented a fully-equipped science and biology laboratory to the Hebrew University in Jerusalem as a memorial to the memory of Israel's first President, the scientist-statesman Dr. Chaim Weizmann.

The 500 expected delegates will also have the opportunity of greeting Israel's first Minister Extraordinary and Envoy Plenipotentiary to Canada, His Excellency Michael S. Comay who will be one of the speakers at the opening session.

One of the innovations of the Convention program will be the series of open workshops on fund-raising which will be conducted Sunday afternoon and Monday morning under expert leadership.

The Convention Committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Agnes Godel of Montreal, is sparing neither effort nor time to make the 15th biennial convention the most outstanding in the 36 years history of Canadian Hadassah.

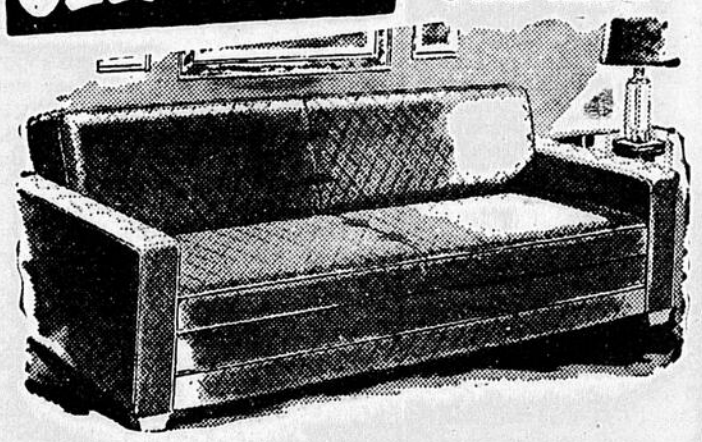

Women's Auxiliary

A general meeting of the Womens Auxiliary of Shaar Hashomayim will be held on Wednesday, November 11 at 1:30 p.m. in the Community Hall. A playlet to observe Jewish Book Month will be resented by the members of the auxiliary.

Mizrachi Women Of Canada Build Social Service Centre In Haifa

Mizrachi Women's Organization of Canada, whose 4,000 members make it the largest religious Jewish group of women in the country, has just received title for the construction, together with the Mizrachi Women of America, of a Social Service Centre in Haifa. When completed, the building will contain a nursery for very young children, kindergarten for the five-year olds, dormitories, a fully-equipped kitchen, dining room, cafeteria, lecture hall, roof garden for outdoor athletic activity, and an infirmary with all the facilities for the care of any sick youngsters. Canadian Mizrachi members have undertaken to raise $150,000 towards this project, some of which has already been transmitted to Israel

Although great strides have been taken to absorb youthful newcomers to the Holy Land, Canadian visitors returning from Israel warn against the creation of a sense of complacency which would be at odds with the urgency of life in Israel today. Thousands of children are experiencing their first years in Israel without adequate emotional, physical, or spiritual security — a condition which may seriously affect the country's future. The responsibility of providing these youngsters with child-care or social service facilities rests with the Jewish communities in Canada and the United States.

The Mizrachi Women's Organization of Canada has accepted this challenge, and although it is already providing large-scale child-care facilities in kindergartens in Mossad Aliyah near Jerusalem, it has nevertheless undertaken its most recent project of the Social Service Centre in Haifa. As the leading component of the religious-Zionist movement in this country, the Mizrachi Women's Organization will continue its work for child-restoration and youth aliyah, social service, and vocational educational programs for the older teen-age graduates of its elementary and high schools in Israel.

Mrs. Hyman Bessin of Ottawa, National President of the Organization, is assisted by Mrs. O. Hochman, Hon. President, Mrs. H. Herson and Mrs. J. Chananie, hon. vice-presidents, and the following vice-presidents: Mrs. M. Stern (Montreal) Mrs. A. Brunberg (Ottawa) Mrs. T. Mintz, Toronto, Mrs. Wm. Schechter, Mrs. M. Wigdor and Mrs. I. Lieff (all of Montreal). Other officers are Mrs. L. Goldfield (honorary treasurer) Mrs. J. Richler, (treasurer,) Mrs. B. Lechter, (financial secretary) Mrs. R. Zabitsky, (corresponding secretary) Mrs. M. Garmaise (Montreal) and Mrs. M. Loeb (Ottawa) chairmen of the cultural committee); Mrs. J. Blanshay, chairman of the membership committee; Mrs. S. Cohen, chairman of the ways and means committee; and Mrs. I. Lieff, chairman J.N.F. committee. Mrs. M. Star (recording secretary) Mrs. T. Goldfarb (Halifax) and Mrs. F. Slutsky (Edmonton) are Regional Chairmen. Mrs. M. Zbar (Ottawa) Mrs. R. Stern (Toronto) and Mrs. S. Lazar (Montreal) are the Advisory Committee.

Spice-Up Pot Roast For Sunday's Dinner

Pot roast can be a wonderful dish. One of the very best cooks I ever knew made it with the liquor from a bottle of sweet pickles and made the gravy (to go over noodles) with pan drippings and sour cream.

There are many variations of liquid used, from wine or wine vinegar, to fruit juices. Here is one new suggestion:

Pot Roast with Dried Fruit
(6 to 8 servings)

One 3 to 5-pound beef pot roast (chuck or rump), 2 tablespoons fat, 2 cups water, 3 tablespoons mixed pickling spices, ½ cup dried apricots, ½ cup dried prunes, 1 teaspoon sugar.

Brown the meat in hot fat in a heavy kettle. Add water and spices. Cook tightly and simmer 3 to 3½ hours or until fork tender. During last hour of cooking add apricots, prunes and sugar.

HOME AFTER 21 YEARS

After a long and distinguished career of surveying and oceanographical research, in the course of which she made the deepest-ever recorded sounding of 5,940 fathoms, H.M. Survey Ship "Challenger" is expected to arrive in Portsmouth (September 30th) to become a "Reserve" ship. Many previously undiscovered features have been brought to light by "Challenger," and the geology of rocks beneath the sea surface have been investigated. The eighth ship in the Royal Navy to bear the name, "Challenger" was built at Chatham in 1931. Since 1932 and throughout the war, she has been continuously employed in surveying and oceanographical duties in all parts of the world, from Labrador to the Far East.

direct from Hollywood

By JACK HIRSHBERG

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 21 — Last week, if you were rash enough to read these lines, you know we discussed the rigours of moving and the thrill (?) of re-discovering in the back of some bookshelf or on the top shelf of a closet some trinket you haven't seen in years.

Among my discoveries, along with sundry Boy Scout paraphernalia, back issues of Chums Weekly and two old hockey pucks, was the autograph album a since-forgotten donor contributed to my 13th birthday.

That was the year I began writing professionally (for 20 cents an inch in The Gazette and one penny a line in the Monitor). Somehow, the search for news and the hunt of autographs seemed at that tender age to go hand-in-glove. Any autograph worth having would normally provide a story, too.

Today the autographs remain but the stories are long faded away. Yet the signatures in themselves etch a hazy picture of the era. It was the uneasy time before Adolf Hitler came to power, yet his shadow was even then darkening Germany. I don't have Hitler's autograph but I do have R. B. Bennetts, and I recall that all I had to do to get it was to wander into his office at the Parliament Buildings in Ottawa and ask the Prime Minister to sign my book. I don't think any dictator would have been that accessible.

Then there's the signature of Slapsy Maxie Rosenbloom. "To my friend, Jack Hirshberg" is the way he wrote it — yet he had never met me before I knocked upon his hotel room door. He was World Light Heavyweight Champion in 1932 and in Montreal for a scrap refereed by Jack Dempsey at the baseball park.

I have Dempsey's autograph, too—acquired the same afternoon. I recall asking him to sign twice, and he did. I traded the extra signature for Joan Crawford's!

Today Rosenbloom and Dempsey live not far from my place out here in the land of smog. Maxie is still active as a nightclub entertainer and Dempsey has his hand in real estate.

Another sports figure who inscribed his name upon my book was William T. Tilden II, probably the greatest tennis star America ever produced. He visited us at Westmount High School, lectured on the game, and later submitted to the autograph hounds. I remember asking him to sign a tennis ball but he refused, claiming he ruined too many good pens that way.

Nobody dreamed in 1932 that Big Bill Tilden would die dead broke just 20 years later after a series of arrests and a prison term on conviction of morals offences. And how could I know two decades ago that I would ultimately write the story of his sad demise?

Yes, time changes many things. "All the best and sincere thanks book. I knocked on the great baritone's door in the Mt. Royal Hotel one rainy afternoon in the long-ago when Robeson was regarded as a great artist and a great man. The years have marred his reputation as both and he is now little more than a stooge of Moscow.

There's a photo in my booklet, too — a shapely foot attached to a luscious blonde peeking out from behind an ostrich feather fan. Aside from the ostrich plume the lady is devoid of covering, and up her leg she has inscribed a greeting to me. This photo once hung upon my bedroom wall but my mother made me take it down. Of course, the subject is Sally Rand.

I've met Sally many times through the years but our initial meeting occurred backstage at Loew's in Montreal when I was still a broth of a lad. I interviewed her for the papers and she took me next door to Murray's and bought me a dish of apple pie and ice cream, one of the thrills of my young life. It's a tribute to her charm and business acumen that Sally still dances today for big money—and a tribute to her graciousness that she still sends Christmas cards to her apple pie guest every year.

Other signatures, too, dot the pages of my album. There are Rudy Vallee, probably the most conceited actor I've ever met (and that is quite some distinction); and H. V. Kaltenborn, with whom I sat in a radio studio in New York September 6, 1939, keeping pace with the bulletins as war broke out in Europe; and Douglas Clarke, conductor of the short-lived Montreal Orchestra; and Allan Roy Dafoe, the kindly doctor to whom the Dionne quints owe their lives; and Eddy Duchin, whose wondrous fingers produced some of the finest dance music these ears have known; and Harry Blackstone, the master magician; and E. W. Beatty, the late President of the Canadian Pacific Railroad; and George Washington Stephens, the President of the Saar Government Commission in post-World War I days.

Of all the dedications in my book perhaps Mr. Stephens' offers the most inspiring advice. He wrote:

Spell Failure with four letters—Fear; Success with nine — Sacrifice; Wretchedness with four — Envy; Happiness with four — Work; Disaster with eight — Jealousy; Poverty with four — Self.

Mr. Stephens' has, I understand, since passed on, but his kindly words still live.

INDUSTRY HONORED WITH NEW STAMP

The Canadian primary textile industry will be honored by the issue of a new 50-cent postage stamp, Post Office authorities have announced.

A. L. Pollock, of Toronto, designed the stamp, which will be the same size and color (green) as the current 50-cent "Oil industry" stamp which it will replace.

The new stamp will be issued on November 2, 1953 and first day covers will be handled by the Post Office in Ottawa only.

The textile industry stamp will display on the left a bobbin from which threads unwind to appear at the right as a draped fabric.

Eustace Tait To Play Organ Recital Sunday

Organist and choir director of St. Matthias Church, Eustace Tait, A.C.C.O., will give a 45-minute recital Sunday at the church at Cote St. Antoine road and Metcalfe avenue, Westmount.

The program will include: Improvisation (Gaudeamus) by Alec Rowley; Water Music Suite by G. F. Handel; Benediction by S. Kark-Elert; Choral Preludes (Sleepers Awake and God's Time is Best) by J. S. Bach and two excerpts from Sonata on Ninety Fourth Psalm by Julius Reubke.

The sole rookie with Toronto is Bob Bailey a forward the Leafs bought from Cleveland during the summer. He stands 5'11," weighs 155 pounds and was born at Kenora Ont. A rugged individual he established a reputation as one of the toughest players in the American League. In 54 games last season he scored 11 times and assisted on 35 others for 46 points.

REMEMBER WHEN: A remembrance of the flag-raising ceremony at the Proctor-Westmount game in 1951 that saw the Doug Smaill Memorial Trophy presented for competition for the first time. It was also the first year that Westmount travelled to the Andover school to play. The two teams are lined up at either side, while captains Charlie Baillie (63) of Westmount and C. Philip Brown (82) of Proctor look on. In this, the third game of the series, Westmount completely routed the Proctor team which had shut them out 11-0 the year before. Monday's game at the Athletic Grounds will mark the fifth played, and the tilt starts at 10 a.m. Admission is free, and all are urged to attend.

Goodwill Theme Topmost In Proctor Game Monday

By MARTY GOODMAN

Westmount High School will carry a 3-1 lead into Monday's annual game with Proctor Academy, but no matter what the outcome of this fifth engagement is, the general feeling on both sides is that the chance for these Canadian and American boys and girls to have a good time together is worth more than the score.

Proctor, of Andover, New Hampshire, arrive at 3:30 this afternoon with a full complement of players, trainers, and coaches. Altogether 39 are making the trip, 35 players, two trainers and two coaches.

Word from the American school is that they are determined to give Westmount the football they donated last year, suitably inscribed for the losing team, and which they carted back with them at the halt of festivities.

Win Year Too Late

In turn, Proctor are very much desirous of capturing the Doug Smaill Memorial Trophy, donated by the Westmount Old Boys, and now up for its third year in competition. It entered the scene a year after Proctor garnered its only win of the series.

Game time is Monday at 10 a.m. at the Westmount Athletic Grounds. A half holiday will be in effect for all Westmount schools, so that students can get out to watch the match.

American First Half

Coach Ron Sharp of the Westmount gridders has made his choice and the first half of the game will be played under American rules, the second half under our high school code. Miller, Ulley and McGillis will again take care of the refereeing chores.

Walter Smaill, father of the illustrious Doug, will kick off for the third straight year, and the former hockey and grid star has been getting better every year.

The Proctor team is coached by Stephen Wright, now in his third year as mentor. Camp is his assistant. So far a decided trend has been noticed about the visitor's squad — every third year they reach their peak.

Third Year Crest

At the outset of the matches, they came close and almost won. The next year they shared their sigle victory, and the following game were at their worst. This is a third year, and if recent history means anything, they should be in top condition and form.

The American flag Proctor presented to Westmount in 1951 will be flying alongside the Union Jack on the WAG flagpost, and many city dignitaries are expected to take part in the opening ceremonies. In the past, many varied and illustrious luminaries have attended the exhibitions.

School for 108

Proctor is a school for 108 boys and offers a type of program which combines many of the advantages of the progressive methods with the standards of work and industry which have been traditional in this old New England school. Each boy is studied as an individual and his work is planned accordingly. Ages range from 14-19.

The Westmount cause, which looked slightly less than bleak only a few short weeks ago, has brightened considerably as a result of the improved performance put on by the senior team, but there is still no reason to believe that it will be a one-sided effort either way. Ron Sharp expects a close game, and as in recent games will bank heavily on his defence. Proctor is always in good shape and well-coached, and a good

crashing the time barrier

In 1901, two women teachers published correspondence revealing that by some strange alchemy, they had walked back through time to Versaille's Trianon Gardens in the days of Marie Antoinette. Readers scoffed, but the Journal of the Society for Psychic Research now reveals new evidence to throw a baffling light on the business.

An Architect named Antoine Richard submitted plans in 1774 for some new buildings in the Gardens, but they were rejected. Now unearthed, the plans couldn't have been known to the two teachers. Yet their letters describe in detail what the plans proposed.

Going back in time is a favourite device of more than one writer. John Balderston has Peter Standish, hero of "Berkeley Square", go back to the England of 1786. Standish didn't care for 18th Century table manners but did approve of its ale.

In the latter respect, he wasn't alone. John Molson who started his Brewery that same year had learned the ale brewing trade in England. He felt sure that anything as good as the ale he could make would create a demand for itself elsewhere.

John Molson was right. What existed only in his mind 167 years ago has since grown far beyond anything he might have imagined. Today that ancient formula, applied with the most modern methods, has made Molson's Ale the largest selling ale in Canada. Nothing baffling about that to those who say "Make Mine Molson's".

Barbs, Scottish To See Action; Beavers Beaten

Both Westmount rugger teams will see action this coming weekend as the Scottish pay a return visit to Ottawa Saturday and the Barbarians meet McGill for a second time at Molson Stadium.

Scottish humbled the Bytown Beavers 22-6 in last weekend's tilt, but the game was a lot better and closer than that Westmount got a lot of chances and capitalized on each, and seemingly picked up every break in the game. They will not be travelling to the capital city in any state of overconfidence, then, but well-groomed to meet the Beaver Threat.

Both Teams Better

St. Leo's Lions of the senior league are the only other undefeated team in the five leagues.

SIDELIGHTS on Sports

by MARTY GOODMAN

Montreal high schools are supposedly famous, or notorious, for their spirit and fire. This reputation has been obtained through loud displays at the High School Football and Hockey Carnivals and other such events, but in the main it is really a carry over from another period of high school days. It is the opinion of practically everyone that school spirit is waning, and does not begin to approach that of five and ten years ago. Crowds at school events have lessened, though total registration has increased.

There still remains, however, a small spark of school pride in most, a will for the teams to win, even if it is only so razzing another student may be an active rather than passive action. At Westmount Senior High, a good deal of the lack of support for the senior team may be attributed to the drop this year from the ranks of senior A competition to that of senior B. There can be no argument of the validity of this move, and circumstances also proved that a team dropping down from senior A did not necessarily have to be the class of the league in senior B.

The registration at westmount still remains far below that of many of the other senior B schools, but when through unfortunate sets of circumstances the team was even more weakened, what had seemed like a sure title turned rapidly into anther losing season. With the drop in hope for the team, there was a parallel drop in attendance and spirit.

Chance Still Remains for Title

Now, however, things have taken another turn. It is still too early to count coach Ron Sharp's crew out. Two wins in their final two games will assure them of a second place and a chance to challenge for the title.

It is a common error to give up the ship too early in the fight. Victory can never be won by surrender, but that Westmount still has not learned the capabilities of their coach is the big error. Ron is most-respected of the high school mentors. The contenders he has made out of teams that started with nothing make him look like a miracle worker in many other high schools. It has always been the same story, in football and basketball — Westmount's push-over squads end up as the toughest to beat.

This time don't count him out before it is definitely final. And even if the seniors are eliminated by an early loss, remember that they came close and were a credit to the school, and still remain a threat to others seeking the championship.

Let's not give up the ship before we have to.

Over-confidence Downfall

The high school sports scene brings up another two items this week. The combined Westmount effort to enter a junior team looked like a sound proposition at the beginning of the year, and under the coaching of Ross Firth the team won three straight. Then, as their coach had often cautioned them, over-confidence set in, and Loyola knocked all title hopes flying.

The Loyola express now has four straight wins, and is an example of the football supremacy on display by the west-end school now that Eddie Meagher's coaching system has had time to get settled. His secret of success are the five bantam teams playing in the intramural league there. These boys are given a firm grounding in the fundamentals of the game, and the all-star team that is chosen annually from this loop has shown itself to be at least 20 points better than any city bantam team.

The next year the all-stars and some of their fellows graduate to junior ranks, where the emphasis on good fundamentals is continued. By the time they get to senior, they are ready to start on other phases of the game, while their counterparts are usually left way behind.

At the present time Loyola has three teams in operation — the juniors, unbeaten, the seniors, unbeaten, and the college team, also unbeaten. You can't do much better than that, no matter how hard you try.

The credit for this marvellously clean slate must go to Eddie Meagher, who has built up this system in his short time with the College. A dedicated young man, his brother Johnny is also in the field of physical education, acting as assistant coach at McGill University.

Leave Game at Parties

Since its instigation five years ago, the Westmount-Proctor exhibition has drawn more attention than any other game. And this is not surprising, for it is always a bigger thing to meet someone new than someone old.

The top brass on both sides share similar ideas about this game — the chance for the young folks of two countries to get together is worth more than winning, and Lyle Farrell, Headmaster of Proctor Academy, fully expects to "leave the best part of the football game around Westmount in parties on Saturday night and Sunday."

One of the more interesting items about the visitors is the three year rise and fall they seem to have. Every third year the team is at its peak, and this is a third year.

Early reports will probably make Jim Patrick the most popular teacher at Westmount, with the visitors at least. Seems he is in charge of billeting for the trip, and according to reports the great majority of the Proctor group will be well satisfied with the arrangements.

BUT WHO'LL WATCH THE GAME? It should be easy to come out and watch a football game when you have people like this parading their talents in front of you; the only problem is, who is going to watch the game? The lasses preparing to give with a Westmount locomotive will be trying doubly hard this week when they perform at the game today against Rosemount High School, at the Athletic Grounds against Proctor Monday, and finally against Montreal West next week. These Westmount High School cheerleaderettes are, from l. to r.: Heather Swift, Ann Clayton, Sue Christmas, Carol Alexander and Joan Fish. Incidentally, they perform even better when given a lot of support, as does the football team.

Bantams Hit By Different Type Athletic Injury

During each football season, coaches stress that their most anxious moments come long round about the middle half of the schedule, for at that time they are usually still in the thick of the title race and only injuries can slow down their championship squad.

Hugh Stratton, mentor of the bantam entry from Westmount Junior High School, is only slightly different from his colleagues in this respect. While his team is not sure to repeat on the championship they won the last two years, they still are very much in contention.

Not Common Ailment

Earlier this week he lost one of his players. Not through the usual type of injury one would expect, however. Coach Stratton's boys feel that a shoulder separation, torn ligaments, or other similar ailments are much too common.

Jim McGivern, the stricken player, is out with chicken pox.

McGivern had been doing very well so far. He had displayed a lot of fight and drive, and will naturally be missed. His loss would be tempered slightly, though if it had come through natural athletic injury causes. But for a man to be out because of chicken pox - that is almost an affront to the game of football.

Seniors Meet Rosemount To Start Full Schedule

A full schedule is in store for Westmount High School's senior B team, highlighted by the annual Proctor game Monday. But more important are the two regular league games today and Thursday against Rosemount and Mount Royal High Schools respectively.

Game time is 3.45 at WAG.

For while the Proctor game will draw the bulk of the attention during the coming week, coach Ron Sharp's crew have completed a startling reversal of form and now are in a good position to end up a contender for the senior B crown that Lower Canada College wears so prouduly

Score in Four

Last week's 15-6 win against Strathcona saw the locals display an amazing offensive, one that was not even considered buried deep down in the team. Nevertheless, Westmount ran the ball across Strathcona's line four plays after gaining possession, a feat almost miraculous from some points of view.

No one will claim that this is a great team that Sharp has molded from nothing into 3-1 contenders, but certainly none has had more drive or will to win.

Rosemount — Winless

Rosemount should not pose too much trouble for the locals. They are winless in three starts, but it is always the teams with nothing to lose that upset the applecart. Mount Royal are a different problem, with a 2-1 mark. They beat Rosemount 11-0, lost to Cardinal Newman 5-0, and downed Montreal West 11-6. The only available comparison is Cardinal Newman who beat Westmount 10-1, and at present are also rolling along near the top.

LCC downed the Cardinal 16-10 to provide Westmount with their big chance. Due to the many teams, they will not meet LCC, and so will be in a position to chollenge if they end up in second place.

Complete Five Passes

The team is in good shape for the coming week, though Don Ferrier is still not back on offensive duties. John Fuller has been doing a fine job of running the squad, though and completed five of eight passes against ing has been one of the standout features of the Westmount game.

He threw two touchdown passes against Strathfona, but both were called back for holding. Mentor Sharp wili stress this point so that they'll all count from here on in.

Coach Dan Tinning, who has taken over from Kev Kennedy, announced that the squad will be trimmed to playing size after this week's game. He did not say who will be cut.

Westmount Stars Royal Pharmacy In One-All Draw

Westmount Stars, league champions for the past two seasons, were held to a 1-1 draw by Royal Pharmacy in the opening game of the St. Laurent Intermediate Hockey League last Saturday.

The Stars opened the scoring at the thirty-five second mark of the first period with Stan Simmons scoring on passes from Bud Selby and Tom Quirk. The champions held the slim edge until 11.08 of the final frame when Richard Goulet scored unassisted on a fine effort. Neither team showed too much in the way of attack although the Stars had numerous scoring chances throughout the encounter. Jim Beasant, Ron Brambell and Stu McCowan all had opportunities to put the game on ice but just couldn't dent the twine behind young Hughes in the Pharmacy nets.

Lost to the team this season will be All-Stars Phil Martin, Mickey Bourassa and Harry Wolfe, who are all out of town. A sad note is the absence of Jim Cotter from the lineup. Jim, who has been with the team for four seasons, is in the hospital a victim of Polio.

Loyola Drops Juniors From Unbeaten Ranks

The big thud heard Tuesday was the dropping of an over-confident Westmount junior squad 22-0 by Loyola's title-bound express. The combined team from the Senior and Junior High Schools entered the game with a 3-0 record figuring this was enough to win on, but forgot that their hosts boasted the same mark and a lot more players of top quality besides.

Westmount's slim chance now of capturing the junior title lie in the last game of the season, when Loyola will hook up with West Hill. Both are unbeaten, and off their present showings should remain that way.

Need West Hill Win

If the West Hill crew manages a win, they will end up in first place with Westmount and Loyola in second, According to the rulings of the school league, the locals can then challenge but Loyola, their conquerers, would not be able to.

This is all assuming that coach Ross Frith's crew stay unbeaten in their two remaining games. They meet a much-improved Lachine squad, also with one loss, on Wednesday, and close out the season against McGee. The Lachinetilt will take place at the Athletic Grounds.

Not Enough Depth

Tuesday's game at Loyola showed the locals had a lot less depth than previously figured. The major league Loyla farm system has dn wonders for their football, and they capitalized on every Westmount mistake. An intercepted pass or unrecovered fumble almost invariably meant a Loyola major.

Westmount also suffered from an inability to cross their own 50 yard line. They made nice gains out of the shadow of their own goalposts, but found it well nigh impossible to cross center field, and it's hard to score when you dont.

5-0 at Half

The count read only 5-0 at the half, but the Loyola superiority was marked from the beginning. They majored three times on passes and ran the ball across on end sweeps once. Their pass defence was impregnable and tackling sure and vicious. The only Westmount drives that produced any long runs started at the 10 and went to the 30. There everything ended.

Paul Hamilton was the only shining light for the locals. He played a full game and made about 80 per cent of the tackles. He played heads up ball, but it was for a vain cause.

Mett Hudson Height

Saturday morning the juniors will meet a team from Hudson Heights in an exhibition match at either the Athletic Grounds or Westmount Park. Game time is 10:30 a.m., and the visitors have a good team that swamped a re-inforced bantam team.

home grounds. Both teams have improved since then, and the Barbarians boast one of the strongest forward packs they have ever had.

Pat Garbutt, the pack leader, is one of the best players in Canada now, and was a former captain of Knox in England. In addition, the backs are fast and the whole team is looking for a repeat performance.

Probable Line-up

The probable line-up for the Barbarians will be forwards, first row - Chuck Bethel, Brian McPhillips, Al Goodings; second row - Vince Gagnon, Bill Adams; lock forward - Pat Garbutt; wings - Tom Tynan, Barry Ward; scrum half - Dave Logan; three quarter line - Joe Smyth, Alec Rudnick, acting captain for this game, Alan "Taffy" Morgan, Blair Taylor, Malcolm Hughes.

Scottish piled up their largest score of the young season against Ottawa Saturday, and had an 11-0 lead at half.

Mair Counts Two

Ian Mair scored the first two tries, both unconverted. Jim Nairn got a converted try to build up the half time lead.

After the break, George Ewan scored an unconverted try, captain Ron Ruthvin another unconverted try, and Doug Lambert one that was converted while Ottawa only managed two unconverted tries.

A game scheduled Sunday against the Barbarians was not played because of trouble getting grounds.

Bantams Hit...

Hope to Challenge

In the meantime, the bantams are fighting to keep their second place position and hope that league--leading Mount Royal High School, still undefeated, are upset before the end of the season so they will be able to challenge for the title.

Next game is scheduled for Tuesday when the locals take on Cardinal Newman High School at the Athletic Grounds in a battle for second place. Both have identical records, and it could be that the Cardinal also has title aspirations.

Souquet Returns

In the meantime Stratton is pleased with the fact that Peter Souquet is recovered and will be back for full-time duty. The bantam star suffered two broken bones in his feet and was only good for defensive purposes in the last tilt. His full time work will be well used.

Bruce Hutchison will be switched from wingback to take up McGivern's right half spot, while Gerry Matbutchi, an 80 pound speedball, has been added to the roaster at wingback.

Goodwill...

knowledge of fundamentals very often makes up for any lack in ability.

No Serious Injuries

There are no new serious injuries in the local camp at the present time, but the Westies are still suffering from some previous. In addition, Sharp has to contend with any that may come up in today's game with Rosemount, and also has to worry about a team for Thursday's game with Mount Royal.
