ST. MATTHIAS' TRIBUTE TO SERVICEMEN

The names of nearly 400 members of St. Matthias' Church who served or gave their lives during World Wars I and II are inscribed on a bronze war memorial which was unveiled at a ceremony in the church on Sunday morning. Those taking part in the ceremony were: left to right; L. St. J. Haskell, Church Warden; W. C. Kenneth C. MacLure, A.F.C., Major W. S. Tyndale, and Lieutenant W. L. W. Taylor, members of the guard of honor; Right Reverend John Dixon, Bishop of Montreal, who made the dedication; R. W. Louthood, Major-General C. B. Price, C.B., D.S.O., D.C.M., V.D., who unveiled the plaque; Reverend Canon Gilbert Oliver, Rector of the Church; Lieutenant J. M. Richardson, R.C.N.(R); Major John Coupland, Flying Officer Hugh Fraser, members of the guard of honor; P. L. Hall, D.S.O., M.C., Chairman of the War Memorial Committee, and Ken G. Many Paraplegics Not Hospitalized

After World War I 50 per cent of those who received injuries that would now put them in the class of paraplegics died, while after World War II 80 per cent are living and this, according to Dr. G. Gingras, is enough to prove that terrific strides have been made in the study of paraplegia. Dr. Gingras made this statement while speaking to the members of the Rotary Club of Westmount at their weekly luncheon meeting held Wednesday in Victoria Hall.

Treatment should begin as soon as possible, the speaker contended. There are a great many paraplegics in Montreal hospitals, he said, and he offered the suggestion that they should all be grouped together in one hospital so that they could receive the specialized treatment necessary, such as physiotherapy and occupational therapy. He said that if they remain in an ordinary hospital too long, they tend to get "hospitalitis", that is, they are content to do nothing but lie in bed when they should be learning to equip themselves to do work, the way veterans have been rehabilitated from the Ste. Annes', where he is in charge of the Physical Education Department.

He advocated that their re-education should be paid for by the government, if necessary, because, he said, they would soon pay for their treatment after they started to work, simply by paying their income tax.

Dr. Gingras stated that there are 600 paraplegics in the Province of Quebec and that there are now four centres established across the country, one in Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver and of course Montreal (Ste. Anne's), to handle Canada's paraplegics.

One hundred and fifty civilians have passed through Ste. Anne's Military Hospital and are now working, he said.

He concluded by making the plea that if any rehabilitation officer came to a business office to arrange for a job for a paraplegic, he be given a chance to prove his value.

Dr. Gingras graduated from the medical school of the University of Montreal in 1942 and is now the only specialist of his type in Eastern Canada. He supervised a film on paraplegia which has been shown all over Europe and he is now in charge of the Physical Education Department of Ste. Anne's.

Fire Prevention Films Are Shown By Chief W. Cobb

An educational series of movies on Fire Prevention were shown at the Town Hall, Greenfield Park, on January 12th, through courtesy of Chief W. Cobb of the City of Westmount Fire Department, accompanied by Ivor Davies and J. N. Crotty of the LaSalle Builders Supply Limited, Montreal.

Alderman A. G. Cobb, Chairman of Greenfield Park Fire and Police Department opened the meeting by informing the audience of the films to be shown and the benefit to be gained by putting into practice the story behind them.

The first film was introduced by Ivor Davies, and was entitled "I Don't Smoke". Other films were on the "Care of Hose", "How

Inaugural Ceremony Traditional

While eight of Westmount's former mayors looked down on the scene through the eyes of the artists who painted them, R. P. Adams stepped down as Mayor of the municipality and James S. Cameron took the oath of office, on Wednesday night in the Council chamber of the Westmount City Hall.

It was an impressive sight and the ritual was strictly according to the line of tradition. Those former Chief Magistrates like A. C. Hutchison who held office from 1884 to 1886, and whose portrait hangs just inside the door on the right hand side, must have looked on with approval.

(Others whose portraits line the walls are John K. Ward, Mayor from 1875 to 1883, (Westmount was called the Village of Cote St. Antoine then); William Rutherford, 1911 to 1912; John McKergow, 1913 to 1918; P. W. McLagan, 1919 to 1926, who was painted by Horne Russell, one of Canada's most outstanding artists; Walter A. Merrill, K.C., 1939 to 1944; John Jenkins, 1932 to 1938; and George Hogg, 1927 to 1932.)

At this, the inaugural meeting of the new Council which like all other Council meetings, was open to the public but was better attended, the first item on the agenda was the reading and confirmation of the minutes of the last meeting. These were read by the Secretary, C. W. Houston, who also acted as returning officer, giving the report on the election.

The actual changing of officials followed as the new Mayor took his oath and the Aldermen did the same. R. P. Adams then made a few remarks and transferred the gold chain of office to Mr. Cameron. At this point, Mr. Adams who had been sitting in the Chief Magistrate's chair moved over to his right to allow Mr. Cameron to take his place. Mr. Cameron then made his inaugural address and officially became Mayor of the City of Westmount.

Aldermen taking office were Roy Campbell, Reginald H. Dean, W. Alan Kennedy, J. S. B. Pemberton, and Real Panet-Raymond.

401 Squad'n H.Q. Made Focal Point

Formation of a special R.C.A.F. radar and communications unit in Montreal was announced Tuesday by Defence Minister Brooke Claxton at a press conference in the headquarters building of No. 401 City of Westmount Fighter Squadron. This unit is the first of a series of technical training units planned to provide Canada with a reserve of trained radar and communications technicians.

It will be known as No. 1 Radar and Communications Unit, R.C.A.F. (Auxiliary) and will be under the command of Squadron Leader K. R. Patrick, O.B.E. The operational headquarters and training laboratory facilities will be at No. 401 Squadron headquarters, 4450 Sherbrooke Street West.

Thus Westmount becomes the focal point for the whole unit which has a radar station at St. Johns, Quebec, affiliated with Dawson College of McGill University; general radar and communications facilities at St. Hubert and another laboratory at the St. Joseph Boulevard headquarters of No. 438 Auxiliary Squadron.

Members Will Serve On Part-Time Basis

As in the case of auxiliary flying squadrons, the members of the new unit will serve on a part-time basis, and the first group of experienced professional men will act as instructors to recruits lacking experience.

The strength of the unit at the present time is approximately 178 officers and men, of whom many have had R.C.A.F. experience. The unit is now open for recruits.

In making the announcement, Defence Minister Claxton said the unit would be duplicated in other areas where there are existing auxiliary flying squadrons. The object of their formation is to give the country a well balanced radar and communications force which can be put on a war-footing with the least possible delay.

Instruction Given In Two Languages

The Minister asked for civilian co-operation because it was essential to any such program, and stated that the interest shown in the new auxiliary unit augured well for the future. It will not be an English or a French unit, he continued, but bilingual. Instructions will be given in both languages.

Municipal Ass'n Spring Meeting May Be Aired

The spring meeting of the Westmount Municipal Association will be held May 3, it was announced Monday night. Pretentious plans have been made or are being made to make this meeting of special interest to members.

The meeting will take the form of a "Town Meeting" and four speakers will divide into two camps, two for the affirmative and two for the negative, and discuss some controversial subject, pertinent to the welfare of this city. After the discussion, members will be allowed to question each speaker. Although final arrangements have not yet been made, it is planned to have the meeting broadcast.

A resume of last year's activities was given at Monday night's meeting and the program for 1949 was outlined. Presiding over the meeting was Rene B. Perrault, president. The membership committee pointed out that anyone who is a tenant, property owner, resident or in any way connected with business life in Westmount, may join the association.

The new board of directors and committee members were announced and they are as follows:

Education and library committee: J. H. Vale, chairman, and H. L. Blanchford, F. H. Clements, D. M. Farish, F. E. H. Gates and D. J. Glen, members; health and welfare, Dr. Gordon A. Copping, chairman, and C. N. Bissett, Stuart A. Cobbett, J. S. Fry and W. J. Hyde, members; housing and zoning, H. V. Roper, chairman, and D. G.

PRESENTATION MADE TO REV. C. E. COMBE

The congregation of St. Jude's Anglican Church tendered a surprise dinner last week to Rev. C. E. Combe, who resides on Selby street, Westmount, in honor of his 25th anniversary as Rector of the Church.

One hundred and fifty people attended and they presented him with the deed to a lot of land in the Laurentians. Mr. Combe is very interested in painting and the site of the lot was chosen for its scenic beauty.

Scouts & Cubs

By REG. GROOME

A competition for the balance of the season (until June) has been announced by the Western Area Badge Committee. The object of the competition is to promote and encourage interest in 1st Class tests and badges and to improve the general proficiency of boys in Scouting. The competition will be decided on the basis of points, which will be awarded for 1st class tests and proficiency badges passed. The basis of the ratings for these points, that is, the actual number of points for badges and tests may be obtained by asking your Scoutmaster.

A Pennant will be awarded monthly to the Scout unit obtaining the highest percentage of badge points per boy during the preceding month. The pennant is to be transferred monthly and will become the permanent possession of the unit winning it three times (not necessarily consecutively) during the course of the season, from September 1st to May 31st. Points will be awarded on all tests and badges recorded as passed at Bishop Street HQ. No points will be awarded during June, July and August. The total number of points won by each unit will be divided by the total number of boys in each unit according to the last census or official record of strength as shown on Bishop Street records. Thus, each unit will have an equal chance at winning. So, come on, fellows, GET BUSY!

Trinity Memorial

With 31 cubs present, Sixer Teddy Roberts of the Sand Six led the Grand Howl of Trinity Pack at this week's meeting. A visitor arrived in the person of Mr. W. H. Barry, Commissioner of Western Area. This is the first time he has visited Trinity Pack. Mr. Barry invested K. D. Bedford, Cubmaster, as District Cubmaster in charge of Section A, Western Area. Also J. C. Armstrong, Bagheera, was invested as an Assistant Cubmaster. Of course, the Pack welcomed Mr. Barry with the Grand Howl.

Instruction period followed, and Bagheera ran off a "Walk the Ball" Relay which proved to be more difficult than many Cubs thought it would be. A part of the Jungle Story was told and the Pack formed their council circle for the Cub Silence, Prayer, Announcements and the Grand Howl. The Pack hockey practices will commence this Tuesday and every Tuesday thereafter, weather permitting, at five o'clock, under the direction of Mr. F. H. Newman. If, by chance, any cub who wishes to play has not returned his slip to Akela or Mr. Newman, be sure to bring it to Pack meeting next Monday. There will be no games played as a league, but if as much fun is had this year as last, it will be well worth the effort.

The Red Six and, actually, it was Ronald Leadbetter, brought in 48 coat hangers, the only ones to come in at this meeting. Ron has done a good job on the hangers, and more of the boys should follow his lead. Gordon Smith, as a member of last season's six competition winning six, was given the Trophy to hold for a period of six weeks. Six Competition of the evening was won by the Gold Six, and Second Bruce McLean was presented with the pennant as Sixer Roy Smith was absent. Sand six took second place and Blue followed in third place. Sorry to hear that Kenmore Gray and Graham Martin are both on the sick list.

B. C. Gardner Is Named Governor Of McGill U.

It was announced recently that B. C. Gardner, M.C., president of the Bank of Montreal, has been elected "a Trustee Member of the Royal Institution for the Advancement of Learning and a Governor of McGill College and University."

Mr. Gardner will take the place made vacant by the death of George W. Spinney whom he succeeded as president of the Bank of Montreal last February.

A past president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, Mr. Gardner is an executive member of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, as well as a past president of the Canadian Legion's Arthur Currie Branch. He resides at 6 Murray Avenue.

BERTIE C. GARDNER

Born in Bristol, England, in 1884, he served with Stuckey's Banking Company in his native city, entering the service of the Bank of British North America, at Montreal, five years later. After spending a short time at the head office here, he was transferred to British Columbia. While in that province he held the posts of manager at Trail and Rissland, became assistant manager at Vancouver and later assistant inspector at Winnipeg.

Serving with a commission in the 79th Winnipeg Regiment, Cameron Highlanders of Canada, during World War I, he was wounded twice and awarded the M.C. for "conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an attack on the enemy trenches at Avion."

He returned in 1919 as second-in-command of the regiment, and peace found him the assistant manager of the Bank of Montreal, St. John's, Newfoundland, branch. He spent 10 years there, becoming manager of the bank and was then transferred to Saint John, N.B., as branch manager.

He became general manager of the bank in December, 1942; vice-president in 1944, and successively executive vice-president and president.

Ordnance Depot . . . From a broadcast by Mrs. Eve Brewster, former Tokyo resident: "And what are these post-war Japanese businessmen like? Well, as a matter of fact, their very normal going around kit is usually a large lounge suit coat, shorts, socks, and most important of all, sock suspenders, topped off with a rather too small Trilby hat. And by their sides you will see the obedient Japanese woman, tiny and most colourful in their contrasting kimonas and obis. An obi, by the way, is the Madame Butterfly sash. I learnt with interest that the colouring of the kimona means a lot and that the older a woman is the smaller and quieter must be the pattern of her kimona."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

It helps a columnist along when he finds the stuff that he writes is read, and particularly that it is appreciated. It would appear to be partially true of this column. It seems that EL. 1106 is often called by a reader to get more information on the item which interests him or her most. Don't you hesitate. Better still, drop in personally to the Y (Victoria Hall is opposite the building) and have a chat with the Program Secretary.

The Bridge Club topped the eight-table mark, and as there was a number of new faces (many due to this column) everyone is wondering just which room we will occupy when the whole group turns up. There will be room for you whether you are learning the game, can instruct, or just like to make new friends around a bridge table.

A Sunday Evening Fireside has been discussed and the members feel there is a need for one, so, on January 30 at 8.45 p.m. (come in later if your church service is not over by then) the first firefighting ceremony will take place. More about it next week.

The Chess Club is receiving a little attention from other sources for it looks as though this is the only one in existence in Westmount — we could be wrong — but if you are interested in the game come in tonight at 7.30 p.m. If you have your own equipment you won't miss a game — there are a few sets in the Club, but we don't know just how many will be there attending.

Maluczynski's rendering of Chopin and the critics comments on Maluczynski were much discussed by members of the Music Appreciation Group who attended the recital at His Majesty's. There were pros and cons but the majority enjoyed the evening. The films on the String Choir and the Woodwind Choir proved to be of interest, and the records covering "2,000 Years of Music" were instructional and entertaining, at the meeting on January 20th. Next week's meeting will be on Wednesday at 8.30 when an evening of Tchaikovsky is being arranged.

Members and their friends are thoroughly enjoying the Friday Social Dances from 9.30 to midnight. Here the new member can meet with others from the different individual activities and so widen his scope of friends. Here they gather to dance to the music of today's popular orchestras under the direction of one of the members. The increasing numbers attending and the increase in requests for fast or slow records has led to the suggestion that two dances be operated together, with fast music in one room and slower music in another, with each dancer having his or her choice of style throughout the evening. This will be tried on an experimental basis on Friday, January 28. If you are interested, come on out.

The Young Men's Clubs are growing for new members have attended both of them. Why don't you meet the fellows; the under 21's on Wednesday, and the over 21's on Tuesday, Feb. 1.

The Badminton Club still functions on Wednesday at 7.30 in the Senior High School, and on Fridays in the Y gym at 8.30. Cec Woods is willing to help you learn the game. Ask for him tonight at the Y.

There is a swimming pool in the building and various times for both young men and young women, as well as a general mixed swim on Fridays at 9.30 p.m. Drop in tonight!

If you know of any young person over 18, tell them about the items which you have read here — they may be interested too.

BOY'S DIVISION

The film at 1.15 p.m., Saturday, Boys and Girls in the Westmount area are invited to attend. Younger children should be accompanied by parents.

Serial — Commencing this Saturday morning at 9.30 a.m., the serial "Jungle Menace" will be shown to boy members of the Y.M.C.A. All boys in the membership are invited to be present, so as not to miss the first of this thrilling serial.

Chess — The Westmount Y.M.C.A. is organizing a Chess Club for city-wide competition. This Club is open to boys under 18 yrs. of age. Both those who know how to play Chess and those who would like to learn are welcome to attend. Application may be made in the Boys' Division Office. The Chess Club meets regularly at 3 o'clock on each Saturday in the Board Room of the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Trianglettes — Miss Florence Greene, City-wide Girls' Work Secretary of the Montreal Y.M.C.A., spoke to the members of the Girls' Trianglette Club last Wednesday evening. Miss Greene discussed with the Girls various ways in which their program could be improved. The Trianglettes is a Girls' Service Club in the Y. M. C. A., which, unfortunately, has been handicapped by a lack of being able to have a lady advisor. The Y.M.C.A. would appreciate it if an older lady interested in leading a Girls' Club would like to volunteer her services, so that the Club might carry on its worthwhile program.

Westmount Hi-Y Club has made formal application to the National Council of Y.M.C.A.'s for the renewal of its Charter. The Charter is a formal recognition of the Club's participation in the World-wide fellowship of the Y.M.C.A.

Boxing — Boys' Boxing Club will meet this Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. under the leadership of Mr. Scott Goodnoh.

G. T. Tower Is Legion Pres.

G. T. Tower was recently installed as president of the Westmount Branch (Quebec No. 39) of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League.

Other officers installed at the same ceremony were S. C. Bell, First Vice-President; A. MacGregor, Second Vice-President; F. C. Forton, Treasurer and W. J. White, Secretary.

Current Events Club

Arguments Gain Weight As Officer Joins Debate

Under the attentive eye of the Westmount Police Department, the battle of Ireland was fought all over again at the meeting of the Westmount High School Current Events Club last week. The program was a debate, "Resolved that Ireland Should be United," with Grade XII students taking on Grades X and XI.

Just as the meeting was getting under way, Special Constable T. J. Dunbar of the Westmount Police Force, a native of Ireland, arrived. He listened keenly to the proceedings and at the conclusion of the debate was prevailed on for a speech. He pointed that the true colour of Ireland was really not green, but blue, and in closing stated it behooved all Irishmen to be broadminded.

In favour of Irish union were Don Savage and George Bissett of Grades X and XI respectively. Against union were Grade XII's Ken Parrott and Terry Seaman. The latter two, as representatives of Ulster, whose colour is orange, sported orange ties and other decorations of the same colour. After much fiery eloquence on the part of both sides, the audience awarded the decision to the affirmative, much to the interest of one of the audience, the school caretaker, whose pleasure at the decision was obvious from the fact that his name is Mr. Green.

The affirmative side argued that the South, along with about half the North, wanted union, but the Protestants controlled the Ulster parliament, which does not want union. Bitterness between the two countries, they said, would evaporate if they were united. Both the national feeling for the name "Irish", and the fact that Ireland is an island, mitigated for union. The North, being a manufacturing district, has to import agricultural products and pay duty. Likewise, the South has to buy manufactured articles, since it is agricultural. Ireland was comparable to Canada, which has overcome difficulties in language

Y Sends Special Invitations to Saturday Dance

A number of special invitations have been issued to friends of members of teenagers to attend this Saturday's YMCA Dance. Featured on this Saturday's program is dancing to the music of Rhandy Whinfield and his Orchestra. Prizes for Spot Dances and Jitter-Bug Contests will be awarded. Dancing commences at 9 o'clock.

The Teenagers is operated by a committee of boys and girls eighteen years of age and under, who are interested in providing a worthwhile program on Saturday evening for other fellows and girls in the Westmount area. The regular executive meetings are presided over by a president, and the club has its own officers, elected out of its membership.

ROSLYN H-S MEETING TO BE HELD MONDAY

The classrooms will be open for inspection of the children's work at the close of the meeting.

Prominent in local athletic circles during his early years, he played lacrosse in the 1890's with the Gordons who represented the east-end of Montreal in the Junior League.

Survivors are his widow, formerly Margaret E. Phillips, and one daughter, Mrs. W. L. Clough, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Interment took place in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Y.M.C.A.

World Service In Action

SOUTH AFRICA

The Y.M.C.A. has quite a long history in South Africa. For most of that history, however, it confined its attention to work among Europeans, and it was only in four towns, Capetown, Pietermaritzburg, Johannesburg and Durban, that it came to be established on a permanent basis.

The Second World War may be said to have initiated a new phase in its history. Fortunately it was prepared to meet the challenge which the war presented. Less than six months before the war began, the South African National Council of Y.M.C.A.'s which had been allowed to lapse into inactivity, was resuscitated. When, therefore, South Africa became a participant in the war, and started recruiting an army, there was in existence a Y.M.C.A. organization on a national basis, which was able to undertake the provision of such services as the Y.M.C.A. has in similar circumstances shown itself so well fitted to render.

When the South African troops moved outside the Union to East Africa, North Africa, and Italy, the Y.M.C.A. co-operated with Toc H in a semi-military unit, the Union Defence Force Institutes, in ministering to their needs. Its work in this co-operative venture, and its work on its own account in South Africa itself, attained considerable magnitude, and came to constitute a very substantial achievement.

Discussion At "Y" Shows Need Of Sunday Fireside

The Young Adult Section of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. held a program "Open Forum" on Sunday. The results of this frank discussion of the activities should be evident in the future programs. One of the outstanding ideas presented was that of a Sunday Evening Fireside and the enthusiasm with which it was received indicated a great need in this area. The first of these Firesides will take place on Sunday, January 30th, at 8.45 p.m.

Ernie Hall, a resident of Westmount YMCA, ably guided the steering committee in laying plans for the Open Forum and capably chaired the meeting. The guest speaker was Ron MacLaren, chairman of the YMCA City-wide Young Adult Committee, who informed the group of the work being done in other parts of the city. Margaret Irwin took the theme of service in the opening devotional period, stressing the place of God in our service to others.

The Forum itself was opened with reports from six of the members covering the activities in which they were participating. Alf Smeiszko told how the Bridge Club had grown from one table to eight. Anne MacFeeley mentioned the enthusiasm of these taking dance instruction, and the difficulties which the music appreciation group had passed before it had been able to set a regular program. The Young Men's Fellowship Club, its purpose, growth and activities, were outlined by Jim Kennedy who also put in a plug for the citizenship committee's work on the city wide basis.

Along with the dance instruction the group have regular dances on Friday evenings and Bob Morrow told how this group had grown and is continuing to grow through its appeal to the newcomer to the area. The YEBA Club, which, according to its president, Gordon

Garden League Receives Award

The Community Garden League of Greater Montreal, which includes the West End Horticultural Society, has been awarded the Certificate of the National Garden Institute for outstanding service and leadership in the field of community gardening, it has been announced.

In its report for 1948, the West End Horticultural Society states it enjoyed its most successful year, with a substantial increase in membership. The Gladiolus Section of the Fall Flower and Vegetable Show proved so successful, the report continues, that additional classes are planned for this year.

The report adds that, due to unforeseen difficulties, no planting could be done for the Memorial Rose Garden during 1948.

Discussion

Cummins, graduated from the Boys Department, is continuing its work for and with young men. Finally Walter Ramshaw told how the enthusiasts of Chess had played occasionally in the lobby and were now meeting regularly on Friday evenings for games and instruction.

The resulting discussions brought out the need for a Sunday Evening Fireside, for midweek outdoor activities such as sleigh-rides, skating, and skiing parties; they informed new members about the full scope of the local Y program; and stressed the need for contacting those who have recently arrived in the city. Those present had found it a good place to make friends and were sure that others would find the same thing.

To finish the evening and afford an opportunity for individual discussions, refreshments were prepared by a committee of young ladies under the chairmanship of Isabel MacLean.

N.S.F.—CAN'T WED SAYS MILFORD-HAVEN

The Marquis of Milford-Haven, 29-year-old cousin of the King, who hit the tabloids in the company of actress Peggy Maley and Ambassador's daughter Sharon Douglas while in the U.S., representing a heating firm, is shown arriving in London, on his return from the United States. The marquis denied all rumors that he was engaged, saying he could not afford to marry.

Burn Your Money — — It's No Good

By Harry Kushner

PHILOSOPHERS are a wonderful breed. They have always had a solution to the problems of the world. And now a philosopher, down in Australia, has a solution to the problem which gives the world its greatest trouble—the problem of money.

"The trouble with money," says the eminent philosopher, "is that it has lost all value." He is not referring to the high cost of living, for that is a commonplace subject on which a philosopher will not deign to philosophize. What the great Australian thinker means is that we treat money too lightly—we receive it without enough appreciation, and toss it away too carelessly. (That's what he says, anyways.)

What to do about it? Here are the philosopher's own words: "We must turn the clock back several thousand years and start over again. In those ancient days there was no such thing as money. The people merely traded something they owned—a cow or a spear—for something they wanted—perhaps a dog or a plot of land. This practice was found inconvenient, so money was invented to represent the actual article. But now, money has proven itself unsatisfactory, so we must go back to trading."

Well, we're always willing to go along with a new idea. Or should we say an old idea? No matter, let's go along with it, anyway, and see what happens.

Now, I need some cigarettes, so I'll trade in this horrible necktie that Aunt Martha gave me for Christmas. Boy, a package of cigarettes, please. Thanks, here's a tie for you, and keep the change . . . I wonder why he looked at me like that?

Next, a shoe shine. That's fine, young man, a very nice polish. You want 15 cents? Don't be silly. Here are eight cigarettes, and three cigarettes for your tip. Humm . . . Not many cigarettes left, but I have a lot more ties. This is a pretty good idea.

What shall we trade for groceries? You want my overcoat? Very well, take it, and I'll take these parcels . . .

The Stuff's Passé

What's that? The overcoat only pays for the tomato juice. I see. Well, how about a nice hat? And a pair of brightly polished shoes? And I'll run home and get some more clothes. Gosh, food certainly is expensive. It's a good thing we've stopped using money.

Who is that knocking at the door? Oh, it's the landlord. You want the rent money? Ha, ha, ha, fooled you this month. You'll have to take something else instead of money; we're not using that old-fashioned green stuff any longer. Wait, not the furniture! Don't take that . . . don't . . . Golly, now I have nothing left to trade.

Oh, well, this is payday. I'll be able to buy more clothes and furniture, and go on trading. Here comes the boss, now. Wonder why he's carrying that big bundle of newspapers? It's my pay? You've adopted the trade system? But . . . but . . . but do you know a good street corner? . . . Get your paper, read all about it, only five cents!

Am I discouraged? Am I going to give up trading? Not at all. I'm taking my typewriter to that shop across the street, right now, to trade it. What am I going to trade it for? For money, pal—that's a pawnshop!

Liberals Hit For "Flirting With Socialism" By L. Seton

Federal and Provincial Liberals were both accused of "flirting with socialist policy" by Leonard A. Seton in a radio address to Quebec voters on Monday night. Mr. Seton was the defeated National Union candidate in the Westmount-St. George constituency in the Provincial elections held last summer.

Mr. Seton referred to the overall Liberal defeat as the "greatest ever suffered by a major political party in the Province of Quebec."

"A further matter of interest to an English-speaking audience was the fact that this great victory of the National Union Party over the forces of centralization and socialism was achieved by the joint efforts of both the English and French-speaking citizens of the Province. Of the eight members of the Legislative Assembly whose mother tongue is English, no less than five are members of the National Union party, one is an Independent, and only two call themselves Liberals," he said.

"It must never be forgotten," he continued, "that the Socialists and the Communists voted for the Liberal candidates wherever they had no candidate of their own particular shade of Red."

"The people of Quebec now see clearly, however, that the Liberal Party is no longer a true political party, with consistent principles and policies, but a political machine, solely designed for the purpose of securing and retaining political office. It is now held together by the power it holds in Ottawa," he said.

Mr. Seton went on to attack the C.C.F. party, which he called the "National Socialist Party of Canada, for it openly stands for a centralized socialism on a national basis." He told his radio audience that this party "is a particularly insidious menace to our fundamental freedoms, and our Christian way of life."

He said, "it presents itself in many innocent and attractive disguises. It promises spurious security for all men and claims for itself a monopoly of virtue and humanitarianism. It is high time that the veil of alleged respectability was rent asunder and this movement exposed for what it really represents."

Arguments

and religion, also, the debaters said.

It was pointed out that the border counties were against partition. Sir Basil Brooke, premier of Northern Ireland, refuses to hold a plebiscite, because he is afraid that the majority in the north will want union.

The negative side, with oranges dangling from their lapels, stated, between sucks on orange-coloured candy suckers, that Ireland is composed of two countries, one Protestant and one Catholic, and that they would quarrel if united. The South has no use for North's products. Northern Ireland has the aid of Britain's army and navy for her defence, and these would be lost by union with the South. The Bank of Northern Ireland is affiliated with the Bank of England, one of the most stable in the world. There would be dissension over many questions — the voting age limit and taxes, among other things. Most of the Southern Irish had nothing to do with Britain, but the North had been settled by loyal Scottish Presbyterians. The North would always be outnumbered in a united Irish Parliament. Lastly it was argued, Eire was a central point for spy operations for the Germans during the war.

The Current Events Club, at its next meeting, January 26, will hear Mr. Christopher Ellis on the subject, "The Greatest Man Alive".

Giant Seaweed Being Developed

New discoveries made by scientists working on seaweed research in Scotland are giving a lead to the world. On their progress will depend the success of an industry now in its infancy. When developed this can earn an annual revenue of $60 million.

Scientists are aiming at acclimatizing a new kind of seaweed in the waters around the shores of Scotland. It is a giant sea kelp, a native of the Pacific, where its huge fronds measuring up to 100 yards in length trail on the surface. Scotland requires this weed in large quantities to supply a new chemical industry. It will be more economical to gather than the plans now used, owing to the fact that it floats and so can be harvested with ease.

McGill To Produce Arne Ballad Opera This Year

Dean Clarke Named to Conduct Celebrated Composer's Work

By FRANCES GOLTMAN

McGill University's musical performance this year will be something out of the ordinary, a Ballad Opera entitled "Love In A Village" by Dr. Thomas Arne, the English composer and contemporary of George Frederick Handel. Arne is the celebrated composer of "Rule Britannia". It will take place in Moyse Hall of the University Wednesday to Saturday inclusive of next week.

The music should prove highly enjoyable since "Love In A Village" includes a sparkling classical overture, eighteen songs for soloists or chorus and a dance. The libretto is by Isaac Bickstaff. Montrealers should support this fine musical effort by members of its own great University and Canadians will be interested to know that this is the first performance of the Arne Opera in Canada, perhaps the first on this continent. "Love In A Village" had its premiere at the Covent Garden Theatre in 1762.

An unusual feature is the fact that the whole opera has been orchestrated by three students of the Music Faculty, Octavia Wilson, Carl Little and Julius Vineberg and is thought to be the first time in Canadian history that students have accomplished such a feat. Several faculties and departments are assisting with the production of this jolly rustic Ballad Opera.

Clarke to Conduct

Dean Douglas Clarke will conduct and his excellent musicianship ensures the listeners of a very successful venture. Recently we attended the private recital by Madame Ria Lenssens, a beautiful and accomplished singer, who is a real asset to the Conservatorium staff. Dean Clarke was at the piano and his exquisite and artistic accompaniments will long remain in the memory of those who were privileged to be present.

The singers and chorus are all members of McGill University and those in the cast include: Shirley Sproule, June Wilson, Rosieanna Pawluk, Jean Aulenbach, Jack Waud, Ferguson MacKenzie, Jean-Paul Filion, Austin Caverhill, Douglas Campbell and Archie Etienne. The costumes have been specially designed by Professor Arthur Lismer (who is also head of the Art Gallery) and the scenery and stage setting of Moyse Hall were designed by Professors Bland and Spence-Sales of the McGill School of Architecture and constructed by the students of that department.

"MINISTERS BENT ON LEVELLING DOWN — NOT UP"

"For long, Mr. Speaker, I had hoped that the Labour Party would be the best instrument for raising the standard of life, both materially and spiritually, of the poorer classes of the community. But I see that ministers are bent on levelling down, not levelling up"—this disillusioned comment was made by Ivor Thomas, M.P., former Colonial Under-Secretary and Deputy Minister of Civil Aviation in the British Labour government.

In his speech of resignation from the Labour Party, the 42-year old Welsh scholar told the House of Commons that "most Socialist M.P.'s would be horrified if they could see the type of society they are unconsciously creating . . . Hard work, thrift and honesty no longer pay. The paths of duty today lead but to the tax-gatherer's office. The incentive of financial independence, which has been the mainspring of our economic life for centuries, has disappeared, and nothing has taken its place."

Mr. Thomas' speech was not, however, altogether negative. He urged the House to "aim not at the concentration of all power in the hands of the State but the widest possible diffusion of power," and he asked the House "is not this a far nobler ideal than the great Leviathan that the Government are creating? Does it not correspond more closely with human nature . . ."

The ex-Labourite made an interesting analysis of some of the basic defects of his erstwhile party: "The chief problem of the labour leaders at all levels of leadership, from the shop steward to the prime minister, is the man just behind them who wants their job."

"Probably honourable members realize the truth of what I am saying. And the problem of the Labour party as a whole is that the Communist party wants its job."

THEY LIKE CANADA MUCH BETTER

What's wrong with our way of life? There are quite a few people among us who are ready to stand up and answer. They want something different, something on the pattern of the systems of Europe. Mightn't it be wise to reflect on the voiceless argument that seems to reflect on their plans?

Since the war just a little more than a quarter of a million Europeans—the very people who were enjoying the benefits of communism or socialism that our friends would like to secure for us, have left these benefits to come to Canada where they are not. A quarter of a million people present quite an argument and more than half of them are from socialized Britain. — J.L.R.

Westmount Baptist

"Queens—Three". There are realms of life and experience in which, by the Grace of God, great souls reign. This will be the theme of the morning sermon in Westmount Baptist Church. The glory of Christianity is that men and women of positive faith and true devotion may go through situations sometimes desperate and triumph because Christ is in them, Christ is with them and Christ is for them.

Westmount Sunday School has its regular session at 9.45. A bus, beginning its journey from Montreal West, brings members of the School and the Church to the services.

"As the Sound of Many Waters". This will be the title of Dr. J. A. Johnston's evening address. The only portrait we have of Christ is a Word Portrait. In this graphic description of our Lord the author not only describes his appearance but he lays particular emphasis upon the quality of his voice. Horatius Bonner has enshrined in one of his great hymns effects that result from hearing the Voice of Jesus. Westmount Choir makes fine contribution to the services.

The Mid-week Fellowship, for prayer, discussion and meditation, takes place each Wednesday at 8 p.m. This gathering is of most vital importance in the life of the congregation. This meeting, like all others, is open to all who desire to attend. The Young People's Union meets each Thursday evening and is attended by a splendid group of young men and women. The programme has vital relation to life and to practical Christian living. Problems are freely discussed and the Young People, by this means, find answers that make life intelligible and challenging.

Christian Science

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 86:15. "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, longsuffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:—

"Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, if ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." (John 8: 31 and 32.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science & Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—

"Truth brings the elements of liberty. On its banner is the Soul-inspired motto, 'Slavery is abolished.' The power of God brings deliverance to the captive. No power can withstand divine Love. What is this supposed power, which opposes itself to God? Whence cometh it? What is it that binds man with iron shackles to sin, sickness, and death? What ever enslaves man is opposed to the divine government. Truth makes man free." (Page 224.)

"It may be an odd question," began the citizen.

"They're all odd questions," replied the internal revenue adviser, "so go ahead."

"Can I put under charity," explained the troubled man, "the difference between the list price and what I paid for my car?"

Church of the Advent

Next Sunday is being observed as Missionary Sunday throughout the Canadian Church. At the Church of the Advent, Solemn Evensong, at which there will be no sermon, will be followed by a lantern lecture in the Parish Hall, when Mr. Fraser Berry will show colored slides of missionary work in Western Canada.

These slides were made from pictures taken by Mr. Berry, when working with the Fellowship of the West in his summer holidays. The evening will close with a social and light refreshments.

Stanley Presbyterian

Rev. J. D. Wilkie will conduct both services of Worship on Sunday.

The annual meeting of the Congregation will be held on Wednesday, at 8 p.m., at which the reports of the various organizations will be presented, and plans made for the carrying on of the full life and work of the Congregation.

Besides the regular election of Officers, the Congregation will be called upon to choose additional persons to serve on the Kirk-Session.

BOOK REVIEW

By H. S. ROSS K.C.

"CANADA TAX ACTS CONSOLIDATED", Edited by H. H. Stikeman; Richard de Boo Limited, Publishers, Toronto.

This edition of Stikeman's Income Tax and E. P. T. Consolidation incorporates the 1948 Amendments and now contains a complete reproduction of the Income War Tax Act and Excess Profits Tax Act in their successive forms from 1927 to date. This volume is designed as a permanent record and all previous editions of Stikeman's Income Tax and E. P. T. Consolidation should be destroyed.

This volume contains the full text of all amendments from the official consolidation of 1927 up to, and including those passed during the Fourth Session of the 20th Parliament ended 30th June, 1947, together with the official text of all relevant international tax treaties and reciprocal agreements, tables of tax deductions and a comprehensive analysis of all forms to be filed by every class of tax payer during the preceding five years, the whole fully annotated, keyed and cross-referenced to a comprehensive index as well as to other related sections of the law, departmental regulations and orders-in-council.

This useful volume was compiled and edited by H. Heward Stikeman. B.A., B.C.L., of the Quebec Bar, sometime Assistant Deputy Minister of National Revenue for Taxation (Legal). The Income War Tax is being replaced as of January 1, 1949, by a new income tax and the excess profits tax act, 1940, is due to disappear from Canada's tax structure at the same time. Subsequent editions of the Consolidation will not contain either Statute. It is suggested, therefore, that this volume be retained as a reference in connection with assessments made with respect to fiscal periods preceding 1949.

Mr. Stikeman is the editor of the Canada Tax Cases (Annotated) and the Dominion of Canada Taxation Service, and those who read this volume will be fortunate to have the benefit of his extensive knowledge of this subject and the benefit of his direction throughout this work.

The editor is a member of the firm of Foster, Hannen, Watt & Stikeman, 507 Place d'Armes, Montreal.

Potter's Club Is Now Located At 433 Lansdowne, Westmount

With a larger kiln and more students and members, the need for larger quarters for The Potters' Club recently became apparent. At this point one of the pupils offered to rent the group a large, airy basement at 433 Lansdowne Ave., Westmount. This seemed to solve the problem and work is being done now to convert it into a well-equipped pottery studio. It is due to open officially on Monday Jan. 31st at 8 o'clock. Once again classes will be offered for both beginners and more advanced pupils, and members look forward to increasing opportunities for working together in the new location.

The Potters' Club owes its existence in part at least to The Federation of Canadian Artists in whose studio a small pottery class was conducted for several years by Miss Eleanor Perry. The members found stimulation in group work although the studio was not, and could not be equipped with the kiln, wheel and work benches needed for ceramic work. Several of the members of that group felt strongly that Montreal should have a pottery centre where studio facilities could be made available to as many interested people as possible. In the fall of 1947 a small group started The Potters' Club under the direction of Eileen Reid, who had been conducting classes in her own Westmount studio for several seasons. Original members were Alice Sharp, Lois Naylor, Marjorie Bourke and Grace Campbell of Westmount; Ethel Sewell, Sidney Rigby and John Byers of N.D.G., Verdun and Town of Mount Royal respectively; and Marcelle Pocher, a talented refugee now living in Montreal.

After much searching The Potters' Club found a home in an apartment basement on Shuter Street on January 1st, 1948. A month's hard work on the part of club members transformed it into a pottery studio with kiln, electric wheel, wedging table etc. It was then possible to begin two elementary classes under the leadership of Grace Campbell and Eileen Reid, and these were carried on through the spring. New members were added to the club including Jean Hawthorne and Rachel Smart of the Westmount Junior High Staff and Betty Skolnik and Ruth Cohen, lately from Toronto.

By the end of the summer there was a waiting list for membership in pottery classes and last fall, three were offered for beginners and one for advanced pupils. These were led by Grace Campbell, Jean Hawthorne, Rachel Smart and Eileen Reid. In addition to classes studio facilities were offered at a monthly rate, to potters, who wanted a place to work once a week.

Now, in the new studio to be opened at 433 Lansdowne Avenue, the club are confident that they will go on to still greater success.

Gerry's CHATTER COLUMN

Home Decoration

Some time ago, while down town shopping in one of our large department stores, I met a friend who seemed to be having a hard time finding just what she wanted, which was a smart modern looking covering for the kitchen floor. After spending considerable time in a number of stores, handling floor coverings, and in each case ran up against the same old obstacle . . . beautiful looking designs in dummy form but no actual material. Right away I asked her why she went to all the trouble of travelling so far out of her way when a 'phone call to Frank Round & Son, 5336 Sherbrooke St. W., DEXter 4529-0751 would solve her trouble. On my way home, my friend stopped in at FRANK ROUND & SON and when the salesman took her into the stock room, she was really amazed at the wonderful variety of inlaid linoleum, Marboleums, Canadian and American pattern linoleum and Asphalt tiles (which, by the way, are wonderful for basement playrooms) and what was more satisfying to her still, was the rapid service in installing the material. A few days later she telephoned me to say how thrilled she was with the way this work had been done for her. There had been little or no upset in her regular routine and Frank Round & Son's experts in this work had really done a good job. She was also surprised when she found out the number of other services they render; like cleaning upholstered furniture and wall to wall carpets in your home, clean, repair and mothproof rugs, and I'm sure you will agree with me that this is a wonderful service to have by simply 'phoning' DEXter 4529, and FRANK ROUND will be at your home before you can say "Jack Robinson".

'Now Is the Time'

Well, ladies, this week I seem to be chatting about nothing else but bargains and sales, and indeed I am only too happy to be able to pass this welcome news on to you. FLOMEN & LUSSIER INC., 1178 Sherbrooke St. W., never have sales as their coats are made to order so their made up stock is always very small. But they too have good news for the ladies, in offering substantial reductions on all coats bought this month. When speaking to Mr. Flomen last week he showed me some new mink skins that had just arrived, and, as he said, "Now is the time to take advantage of buying that new mink coat". If you could have seen those superb skins like precious gems waiting to be styled into one of the Flomen & Lussier creations, I know you would say, 'NOW IS THE TIME'. The ladies who invested in one of the sling capes that I chatted about some time ago, certainly have had the proper weather to wear them. Maybe you have had a "yen" for a jet black Caracul sling cape. These also have been reduced and have been especially bred and selected for their sleek, silken suppleness, their exquisitely etched moire patterns; these pelts are distinctive for their feeling of well-bred elegance . . . their affinity for soft, fluid, dressmaker detailing and draping . . . their rich black color . . . in fact they are the perfect complement to the well dressed woman whose impeccable taste is reflected in everything she wears. I know you will be satisfied at FLOMEN & LUSSIER INC., 1178 Sherbrooke St., corner of Stanley.

Clothes with ties or sashes should be turned inside out before placing in the washing machine. This will keep the ends from becoming tangled.

A Needle's Eye

Have you ever spent exasperated minutes trying to thread a needle? I know I have and would finally have to put my "specs" on before succeeding with the operation. At last the Thread-a-Matic has arrived, and trust the C.S.L. Gift Shop, 1480 Sherbrooke St. W., to be the first to introduce it. This little gadget is designed to thread all standard sewing needles of sizes and types, and is so easily operated that the most near sighted person would have no difficulty in threading a needle. It is $3.95 . . . For those who are planning on a vacation up North, one necessary article of clothing is a warm sport shirt, like the Canadian made Veyella sport shirts that The Shop is featuring; they have long sleeves with a wide cuff, and full action back, the pattern is plaid in green, beige or blue, for $15.50 . . . this is a blouse that will look smart with a skirt as well as with slacks . . . and talking about blouses, be sure and see the English pin stripe 100% wool, with the new permanent starched round collar and cuffs, priced from $21.50 to $25.00. This is a classic blouse that will give you that dressed up feeling when worn with the new style skirts. Dinner sets are not articles that we buy every day, but there comes a time when some one is looking for dishes, and if YOU are that some one, maybe the 74 pc. porcelain hand painted dinner set trimmed with soft coloured old fashioned flowers is what you have in mind, the set is $75.00. Don't you like the small size coffee cups? Just right for black coffee. Here is a chance to start a collection, or to whisper a hint to the family. I was looking at some beauties for $4.00 each. A bridge prize suggestion, a miniature cream and sugar set for $1.25 the set.

Xavier Guild Hears Address On Catholic Welfare Bureau

The Reverend Patrick J. Ambrose, B.A., M.A., Director of the Catholic Welfare Bureau of Catholic Charities was guest speaker at the January meeting of the Xavier Apostolate Guild, held on Monday at 2.30 p.m. in Congress Hall.

Father Ambrose stated that the Catholic Welfare Bureau gave assistance in domestic problems, and social, physical, material and spiritual matters. Being organized with professionally trained staff, he noted that the Bureau is excellently equipped to deal with the requirements of the people. Advice and help in many problems can be had by all, regardless of circumstance; the word charity, as applied to the Catholic Charities

Forecast: Snow . . .

Now, Mr. Weatherman, please send us mountains and mountains of snow, or I shall never be able to face "Jack" Krefting, of Norway Sports, 1545 Mountain St., opposite Holt Renfrew, again. Jack has been here for two years and yet has to see one of our good old fashioned winters with plenty of snow. His shop is truly Norwegian with the hand knit sweaters for children and adults from Norway. The children "kid" outfits for $40.00 are so unusual, the after ski boots of reindeer fur are just the thing to wear around the "shack". Norway Sports has received a new shipment from Norway of beautiful hand woven table runners and wall carpets from $80.00 to $125.00. Jack was telling me in his native Oslo how the tourists clamour for the Norwegian dolls dressed in country costumes, and he has many of these very dolls in his shop. They are not the type for children to play with, but are very decorative, especially the skiing dolls. Anyone who has worn a nylon ski jacket knows the comfort of them. Norway Sports has them for $17.00 and the Olympic blue pullover sweaters have been reduced from $18.00 to $12.00. The next BIG NEWS is, of course, the NORWEGIAN SKI SCHOOL which is held at the Park Slide on Mt. Royal. As Emile Allais says in his Ski-Technique book which, by the way, is what all ski minded folk are reading, and which can be bought here for $5.50. "No one would think of jumping into deep water who did not know how to swim, so also no one should attempt the deep snow without proper instruction". Three well known Norwegian Pros. are instructing adults and youngsters in groups or in private lessons. The cost is 5 lessons for $8.50 for ¼ hr., or 10 lessons for $15.00. Apply at NORWAY SPORTS, 1545 MOUNTAIN ST., MA. 2533.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Homoeopathic Hospital of Montreal held its annual meeting in the A. R. Griffith Memorial Hall, Wednesday. Mrs. E. D. Johnson presided, and reports were submitted by the officers and conveners of committees.

Mrs. H. R. Griffith, chairman of the nominations committee, presented the slate of officers for the coming year and this was unanimously elected by the members as follows:-

Honorary Patroness — Her Excellency, Viscountess Alexander of Tunis, Honorary Presidents: Mrs. A. R. Griffith and Mrs. J. F. Walsh; President, Mrs. Maurice Stoker; 1st Vice President, Mrs. C. N. Knowles; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. L. R. Jefferson; 3rd Vice President, Mrs. J. F. Bryant; Secretary, Mrs. W. J. Pirrie; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Alex Smith; Treasurer, Mrs. D. S. Rattray; and Past President, Mrs. E. D. Johnson.

The secretary, Mrs. C. N. Knowles, reported on the activities of the year, including the dance held in February, convened by Mrs. Maurice Stoker, and the spring bridge, convened by Mrs. L. R. Jefferson. The major event, the Christmas bazaar, was convened by Mrs. Sydney P. Hill and Mrs. Henry Matthews.

Mrs. Wallace R. Henry, the Corresponding Secretary, reported that the Endowment Fund of the Woman's Auxiliary now stands at $5,000. An additional $1,000 bond is being purchased from this year's funds.

Financial Statement

The treasurer, Mrs. J. F. Bryant, read a detailed financial statement which showed the major items paid out of the funds this year to be $2,118.00 for seven bedpan sterilizers installed in the hospital, $1,000 to increase the Endowment Fund, $120.00 to the Social Service Department and $50.00 to the student nurses.

Mrs. George S. Morgan, convener of the Woman's Auxiliary Birthday Club, reported that the year had been a busy one for doctors, nurses and staff with 877 babies born during the 12 month period. This year 733 visits to mothers with new babies were made, 724 babies enrolled, and $910.00 collected in fees. Since the Birthday Club was started almost three years ago approximately 1,800 babies have been enrolled.

Attractive Nursery

With the funds available from the $1.00 membership fees collected, this year the Nursery has been completely renovated. The Club supplied all new cribs in pink with mattresses and covers. Long overdue electrical improvements in the Nursery were taken care of and one workroom wall tiled. Sterilizers and diapers were also supplied.

During the year the two incubators which were previously supplied by the Club have been in almost constant use and have more than proved their value.

Mrs. Morgan thanked the hospital staff which continued to give an excellent support, also Mrs. A. W. Guest, the printer, Mr. H. L. Greaves, convener of Visiting Committees, and the many faithful workers who are the backbone of the Birthday Club.

The purchasing convener of the Auxiliary, Mrs. C. R. North, reported the most important purchase of the year to be the installation of bedpan sterilizers. Other purchases included curtains and a lamp shade for the public waiting room, and a bolt of curtain material to use for bed screens, etc.

Mrs. T. Gordon Quackenbush was made a life member during the year in appreciation and recognition of the long period of enthusiastic help given by her whilst an active worker in the auxiliary. The membership list now stands as follows:- 4 life members, 134 active members, 10 associate members and 5 out-of-

Four Classics, Two Modern Plays In Drama Festival

The general high quality and variety of the plays to be presented in this year's Western Quebec Regional Drama Festival was emphasized recently by Charles Rittenhouse, vice-chairman in charge of the Festival in announcing the list of entries for the week of February 21 in the Sun Life Auditorium.

He pointed out that among the entries were four classics, two notable modern plays — "The Linden Tree" by J. B. Priestly, and "Altitude 3200" by Julien Luchaire — as well as three Canadian plays including a new one by H. J. Ward of Montreal.

Not only did the plays to be put on at the Festival cover an extremely wide range of theatre fare, but the drama groups presenting them represented many different cultures — French, English Protestant, English Catholic, Hebrew and Negro.

Priestly's Linden Tree, for instance, directed by Herbert Whitaker, was to be put on by the Trinity Players while a French group, Les Jeunes Comediens planned to present "Altitude 3200" under the direction of Yvette Robineau.

A special arrangement of Racine's "Phedre" was to be the offering of another group, the Conservatoire Lasalle and the Hebrew drama "The Dybbuk" by F. Ansky had been the choice of the Y.M.H.A. Little Theatre.

The Catholic Teachers Drama Guild also were scheduled to enter a new play by H. J. Word.

"Les Femmes Savantes" had been chosen by the group known as Cours Francois Rozet. The Negro Theatre Guild with Joan Dunbar acting as director planned to put on O'Neill's "Emperor Jones" while Les Comediens Unis had selected "Sherry 1939" by Ernest Pallascio-Morin of Montreal.

Faded floral draperies were given new life by a housewife who went over each faded part with crayon matching the original color. Then she pressed the crayon-printed cloth between two pieces of paper and the draperies were ready to hang.

AT THE SNOWDON SATURDAY

Nino Martini, famous operatic star and lovely Patricia Roc in a scene from the delightfully gay musical "One Night With You" which will be shown for the first time in Montreal at the Snowdon Theatre starting Saturdays

Powerful Drama and Hilarious Comedy at Seville Starting Sat.

If you ever had a good time hating anyone, you can't afford to miss "Another Part of the Forest" which opens Saturday at the Seville Theatre.

Here are a whole flock of people you can hate to your heart's delight. But while you're hating them you will be kept on the edge of your seat by this exciting post-Civil War story enacted in an uncompromising, straight-forward manner.

Lillian Hellman first created the Hubbard family for the Broadway play and subsequent picture. "The Little Foxes." "Another Part of the Forest" brings you the same selfish, bickering family one generation earlier. However, the family characteristics still prevail. And they are made to stand out vividly by one of the finest collections of individual portrayals ever assembled in a single production.

Fredric March, in his first screen appearance since winning the Academy Award for the best performance of the year in "The Best Years of Our Lives," again will be a foremost contender for an award for his flawless acting in this film. Playing the role of the father, March really is superb. Dan Duryea, Edmond O'Brien and Ann Blyth, playing March's children, also are outstanding individually and collectively. Each is a distinct personality and each has his or her own method of achieving their common aim — making life miserable for the others.

March's wife, and one of the few kindly persons in the entire cast, is played to the hilt by his wife in real life, Florence Eldridge.

John Dall, in the role of a former Confederate officer with whom Ann is in love, does very well in carrying out his half of the romance. Dona Drake is exceptionally good in her role of a cancan dancing soubrette in a local tavern. And Betsy Blair adds a genuine highlight to the picture with her topnotch performance as a destitute southern belle.

Second Feature

The added attraction will be "A Foreign Affair," rich with wit and originality and starring Jean Arthur, Marlene Dietrich and John Lund.

The comedy is a sly combination of humor and love, in an extremely interesting setting — post-war Berlin. Backgrounds were actually shot in Berlin and they give the film not only pictorial authenticity, but atmospheric as well.

Jean Arthur, who returns to the screen after a four year absence, portrays a straight-faced Congresswoman one of a committee come to Berlin to investigate morale among the G.I.s of the American Occupation force. Her transition into a happily romantic woman-in-love is accomplished in a way which substantiates Miss Arthur's reputation as one of America's cleverest comediennees.

Miss Dietrich never looked more glamorous or sang more appealingly than as the night club entertainer, suspected of being a Nazi collaborator, who enjoys the protection of the American officer Miss Arthur is determined to expose.

As the officer loved by both women, John Lund fulfills the promise of his earlier pictures — "To Each His Own" and "Perils of Pauline." In neither film did he have the opportunity he has in this one, and Lund really takes advantage of it, emerging as a top-ranking star.

BALANCED LIVING

Mental health experts say that mental upsets often follow serious bodily illness. They suggest that in order to help maintain good mental health it is advisable to sidestep needless worry and fatigue. It is best to use leisure time to advantage and to keep physical health at its peak if proper emotional stability is to be maintained.

Two Grand Films Begin at the Monkland Starting on Saturday

Columbia's hilarious new comedy, "The Mating of Millie," opens Saturday at the Monkland Theatre.

Co-starring Glenn Ford, young America's delight, and Evelyn Keys (Julie Benson of "The Jolson Story"), "The Mating of Millie" is the story of a girl who needs a husband quickly (for the strangest reason!) and a guy who doesn't object to marriage (as long as it doesn't happen to him!). Eventually the two protagonists get together, but not without a hard-fought tussle which had yesterday's audience in a continual state of mild hysterics.

The screenplay was written by Louella MacFarlane and St. Clair McKelway.

Ron Randall and Willard Parker are importantly featured as Millie's unsuccessful swains, and while they lose out on the screen, these two handsome actors made a decided conquest in the hearts of many women in the audience.

A blond, freckle-faced youngster, Jimmy Hunt, plays the role of the orphan boy and nearly steals every scene he's in. Mabel Paige, Virginia Hunter and Virginia Brissac are also seen in key parts.

Second Feature

"Key Largo", Warner Bros' newest dramatic masterpiece, is keyed to excitement.

This filmization of Maxwell Anderson's celebrated stage play, is top-league fare all the way down. Five stars, Humphrey Bogart, Edward G. Robinson, Lauren Bacall, Lionel Barrymore and Claire Trevor, top the cast, which gives off sparks by itself.

Skirts will be draped at unpredictable points, the Tina Leser collection strongly hints. Drapery at the hemline will be used as effectively as it is to soften an off-shoulder neckline.

Children's Play Scores Success

Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, directors of Montreal's talented juveniles, the Children's Theatre, presented their 41st, major production at Victoria Hall on Saturday to a large audience who laughed and cried with the little Princess, Sara Crewe, throughout the entire three acts.

Corinne Copnick was in the title role and her portrayal of the little girl was delightful.

Barbara Campbell as the cruel head of the boarding school, Miss Minchin, is a young lady who shows ability as a character actress. Ethel Pinsky as Lottie was picturesque and pleasing, and Helen Tager, as Becky the Cockney maid, is another young actress who shows promise in character work.

Muriel Haltrecht, Merle Newman, Jacqueline Dushkes, Phyllis Rubin, Sheila Udashkin, Sandra Poslums, Eric Herman, Merle Newman and Helen Feldman all acquitted themselves creditably, and Rhoda Jacobson was splendid in the comedy scenes as Ermenegarde.

Bernard McMurray, Bonar Stuart and Richard Easton handled the roles of the three men in their usual excellent manner.

The large group of girls who were the pupils of Miss Minchin's boarding school all fitted beautifully into the picture, and all players helped to make this production another great success in the records of the Children's Theatre. The next play entitled "The Indian Captive" is under rehearsal and comes to Victoria Hall March 12th.

George Gahan's Record Rendez-Vous

Seems to me that the coming year is going to be the do or die year for the platter industry. Here are my reasons:

No. 1, television.

In the larger cities of the U. S., where television is well known, youngsters have dropped platters like hot potatoes as soon as TV entered the picture. These youngsters will be the record buyers of tomorrow, and if they get out of the record buying habit now, they are not likely to return very easily.

No. 2, long-playing records.

It had been hoped that LP records would be some kind of saviour but things don't seem to look so rosy now. Columbia holds all the patents on manufacturing 33 1/3 discs for home use. But now Victor is preparing to introduce an LP record of their own to revolve at 45 revolutions per minute. Decca, Capital, and Mercury are also said to be thinking of releasing LP records of their own, all at different speeds. Should this happen there would of course be a terrific mixup. A record collector wishing to play records from all these companies would require a turntable with about five different speeds and pick-ups. The cost of such a machine can only be imagined.

No. 3, lack of good material.

Really good tunes have been few and far between in the last few years, and while revivals and corn tunes are proving quite popular nowadays, their popularity cannot last forever.

Unless Tin Pan Alley or Hollywood produces some really good material soon, the listeners are going to throw up their hands in despair and turn to television for their entertainment. Well, as I said, 1949 is going to be the deciding year for the platter industry, and unless the brains of these industries put their heads together and think of something fast, it is going to be a bad one.

Raymond Burr, importantly cast in Paramount's "Bride of Vengeance", his fifteenth picture in two years, was born in New Westminster, British Columbia.

AT THE WESTMOUNT, SUNDAY!

George Murphy, Margaret O'Brien and Broadway's musical comedy star Betty Garrett, as they appear on the screen in "Big City" the comedy-drama with music which opens Sunday at the Westmount Theatre.

M.R.T. Play Best From Rattigan's Prolific Pen

"The Winslow Boy", which opens at MRT Playhouse on Thursday, has been described as the best play to come from Terence Rattigan. To quote Howard Barnes of the New York Herald Tribune: "With unerring craftsmanship the author has transmuted the records into a challenging and memorable piece of theatre which speaks a common and abiding language in its declaration of personal liberty. He has not forgotten his gift of wit. "The Winslow Boy" is uncommonly entertaining as well as moving."

Seen in the Montreal Repertory Theatre's production will be Alfred Gallagher as the father, Richard Kronold as the barrister, Gillian Hessey-White as Catherine, Reta Wheatley as the mother, Eric Donkin as "The Winslow Boy", Ronnie, Tim Stapleton as Desmond, Dave Hutchison as John, Paul Almond as Dickie, Winifred Dennis as Violet, and Margery Jackson as Miss Barnes.

The production is under the direction of Myron Galloway.

During the play the Bunny Hug dance routine will be performed by the brother and sister. This was taught by George Carden.

The play will be run from January 27th to February 5th, at 1550 Guy St. Those attending the production are reminded that late-comers will not be seated until after the first scene. The curtain goes up at 8.45 p.m. sharp.

A GLANCE AT THE PRODUCT

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 20 —Not long ago a picture pundit asked what right I had to set myself up as a critic.

Had I spent years studying the drama?

No.

Was I a connoisseur of art or the theatre?

No.

Well, then, what the heck were my qualifications for the job?

I had the answer to that one, Neighbours.

"Listen, Mr. Ego", I replied, "I'm just one of the crowd. I've been looking at movies for years, and reserve the right to say what I feel about them. They're aimed at the masses and I'm one of the masses. Moreover, rubbing shoulders with my fellow men in the

With this unacademic background in mind, you may be interested in these few words about current and forthcoming movies at which I have had an advance peek in Hollywood. I'm looking at them from the viewpoint of the average movie-goer, the

The Big Show of Laughs

LAST SHOWING TODAY: "Wallflower" and "Are You With It".

First Showing Of British Film At Snowdon, Sat.

A gay, sparkling musical comedy full of laughs, pretty music and lovely scenery is just what the producers ordered when they found that British pictures were getting too heavily dramatic.

The result is the new film which will be shown for the first time in Montreal when it opens at the Snowdon Theatre this Saturday. "One Night With You" has all those ingredients plus Patricia Roc, Nino Martini, Bonar Colleano, Hugh Wakefield, Guy Middleton, Stanley Holloway and a host of other well-known performers who, help to make it a most interesting motion picture.

Set in Italy, the story concerns an English girl and an Italian film star who are both stranded without their money or baggage on a lonely Italian railway station. How they get in and out of trouble and fall in love makes tuneful and humorous screen entertainment.

A special featurette has been selected as an added attraction on this program, having its Canadian premiere at the Snowdon. Entitled "Steps of The Ballet" it explains fully the preparations for a new ballet, showing scenes behind the curtain; painting scenery; making costumes; creating dance steps; finally the curtain rises and a beautiful ballet is presented.

"Street With No Name" Action-Hit At Westmount

"The House on 92nd Street", high-lighted the war-time activities of the FBI in defeating the efforts of foreign espionage agents in this country.

Now, in "The Street With No Name", which starts Sunday at the Westmount Theatre, the true story of the FBI's post-war battle against the threat of a new empire of crime in the making. The picture, based on actual case histories from the files of the FBI, unfolds a story that could happen in any city where, with the breakdown of law and order, the FBI steps in.

"The Street With No Name" was photographed in the exciting on-the-spot technique and with the life-size impact of "House on 92nd Street," "Boomerang!" and "Call Northside 777."

BIG HITS AT MONKLAND SATURDAY

Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall appear opposite each other in Warner Bros. drama, "Key Largo", dynamite-packed tale of mobsters, hurricanes and romance starting Saturday at the Monkland Theatre. Edward G. Robinson, Lionel Barrymore and Claire Trevor share stellar honors. Plus the hilarious comedy of three minds with but a single thought. Glenn Ford, Evelyn Keyes and Ron Randell are all anxious to find a husband for Miss Keyes in Columbia's hilarious new comedy, "The Mating of Millie." Willard Parker also is in the Casey Robinson production.

"Bill And Coo", Sensation Of The Year, at Avenue Saturday

The story behind 'Bill and Coo', the first all bird full length picture, in Trucolor, which will have it's Montreal Premiere at the Avenue Theatre starting Saturday, begins with a comedian named Ken Murray. He'd won a host of friends during his long residence in Hollywood; in fact his ardent supporters were legion in number — until he began to talk about a new idea. He wanted to make a feature starring birds. Everyone scoffed at the suggestion. It was unheard of in the film industry, Murray was told over and over. It was ridiculous. It was insane. It might make a short, maybe, but a full length film, never! Even intimate friends laughed derisively when the sub-chose the sensational laughing killer of "Kiss of Death", Richard Widmark. Mark Stevens, was cast in the role of Eugene Cordell, the FBI agent who risks his life in a dangerous attempt to secure evidence against the gangsters by joining their ranks.

Added Feature

Laughs, tears, romance and song are all present in the exhilarating parade of talent offered in "Big City", the supporting attraction with little Margaret O'Brien heading a cast which includes not only a group of Hollywood's best-known players, but also the Broadway musical-comedy star, Betty Garrett, and world-renowned Lotte Lehmann of Metropolitan Opera fame.

Others who add to the entertainment of this happy offering are Robert Preston as a clergyman, George Murphy as a policeman, Karin Booth as a romantic schoolma'am, Edward Arnold as a judge and freckled Butch Jenkins, whose no-punches-pulled scrap with Miss O'Brien is one of the ject was mentioned and agreed that Ken was going to the birds!

It all sprang from one of the vaudeville acts in Ken's long-running revue, "Blackouts," performed by George Burton and his group of highly trained birds. Audiences acclaimed them on the stage, so why, reasoned Ken, was it impossible for the birds to repeat their amazing feats on the screen?

When he said as much to Herbert J. Yates, Ken almost keeled over when Yates immediately agreed with him.

Ken put up the $250,000 for production costs — hardly birdseed in any language — and acted as narrator, as well as producer.

Second Feature

Once in a while an unpublicized motion picture comes along and proves to be so intensely interesting that it captures the imaginations of all audiences. Just such a film is "Code Of Scotland Yard," the added attraction also being shown for the first time in Montreal, which stars Oscar Homolka, Derek Farr and Muriel Pavlow.

The story is laid in London and revolves about a kindly old antique dealer named Heiss, played by Homolka, who is secretly the "fence" for a suave and clever robber, Corder-Morris.

The characterizations are finely drawn with Oscar Homolka giving a distinguished portrayal of the man with a past. Muriel Pavlow playing Margaret, and Derek Farr, seen as her fiance, give outstanding performances. Kenneth Griffith is seen as the relentless blackmailer while Manning Whiley capably enacts Morris.

MORE SUNDAY GAMES FOR ALOUETTES

Alouettes succeeded in scheduling 4 Sunday home games for the 1949 season, at the recent schedule conclave, in place of the two to which they were restricted in 1948. However, the Als failed to see the adoption of the proposal that a League president, to rule for five years, not connected with any of the circuit's five teams, be elected. Instead, Dr. J. J. O'Connor, of the Toronto Argos, was named proxy with a one-year term.

HANDKERCHIEF MORE EFFICIENT THAN HORN

A proposal that we hope will go through is the abolition of the referee's horn, with the dropping of a handkerchief replacing it as a signal for a foul. All American games now use the handkerchief method, and it seems to be a good deal more satisfactory. In the first place, any leather-lunged bleacher addict can buy an imitation of one of these horns, and in a tight spot, can cause a good deal of healthy confusion by giving this instrument a little toot. Then the blending of various voices in a crowd can produce a horn-like effect that is liable to leave both players and officials baffled. An example is the celebrated Pete Karpuk case in the Dominion final last November. Mr. Karpuk says he heard a horn, but the officials claim there was no horn blown.

RICHARD HITS SELECT 200 CIRCLE

With their stunning 7-1 victory over Chicago's goal-happy Black Hawks last Saturday night, the Montreal Canadiens showed once and for all that they are still a factor to be reckoned with in the stretch run of the N.H.L. this season. Even more welcome to Montreal's fans was the indication that Maurice Richard, big-time hockey's most prolific scorer since the days of Nels Stewart, had finally found the range again. The Rocket shot a hat trick against the hapless Hawks, his first three-in-one effort of the season. It was a great night for the dark-haired Frenchman, for the three goals brought Richard's lifetime N.H.L. total to an even 200.

When the crippled Canadiens, who are still holding on with as many games won as lost, get back to full strength, they should start to move up, and the result would seem to be a six-team battle for those four playoff positions, with New York Rangers and Hawks pointed to as the teams likely to be excluded from the charmed circle.

CLEVELAND INDIANS STILL STRENGTHENING

The unpredictable Bill Veeck, still not satisfied with the team that gave Cleveland the World Series title last fall, seems to have done it again, as he has talked the Chicago White Sox into giving him Mike Tresh, the Windy City team's A-1 backstop in a straight cash deal.

Long one of baseball's steadiest and best receivers, Tresh will be only a substitute catcher with the champions, for Jim Hegan, baseball's best behind the plate, is the Indians' No. 1 miltman.

So the irrepressible Veeck has strengthened his only weak spot, lack of a first class spare catcher. Now he has one who could be playing first string on almost any other major league team. Perhaps Veeck will pass Tresh off in another deal. With the Cleveland owner in a sweeping mood, there is no telling what may happen before the start of another season.

THE IDEA IS TO KEEP PITCHING

"In looking over Cy Young's pitching record, Henry Him mell noted that the great hurler won 511 of 906 games, a record that has never been equalled," writes William Feather, the Cleveland publisher.

"What impressed Henry was that Young won just a few more than half his games. This fact led him to conclude that to be an outstanding success in any endeavour it isn't necessary to be right all the time. If you're right more than half the time you may win a medal or make a million dollars. The idea is to keep pitching."

Both Himmel and Feather seemed to have missed the point. Cy Young wasn't famous because he won more than half the games he pitched; countless big league pitchers have achieved that fact during their careers. But no pitcher ever won 511 games, before or since the Cyclone. That is why Young is famous — for winning 511 games. "Keep pitching" was Cy's motto. He often worked with but one day's rest, and occasionally pitched both ends of a double-header.

Parks Department Plans Ski Classes

The Westmount Parks Department in conjunction with the Canadian Ski Alliance will be running ski classes at King George Park. With the aid of John F. Lewis, Education Committee, Laurentian Zone and President of the Westmount Ski Club and Vic Allen, the coach of the McGill Ski Team and a Physical Education student at McGill, the Westmount school should be a great success. Roy Norman and Horace Rothfoll, McGill, will also be assisting.

If the weather permits, classes should start Monday, 24th of January, at King George Park for all wishing to learn or perfect their form on the hickories.

It is anticipated that adult classes will be in the evening and Juniors will be from 4-6.

Phone the Parks Department DE. 9351 and register as soon as possible so that classes can be lined up. There will be no charge for lessons.

R.M.R. Regiment to Hold Boxing Show

The Royal Montreal Regiment (MG) will hold another of their usual action packed boxing shows, Monday, January 31.

Started only two years ago, the R.M.R. is the youngest club in the A.A.U. of C. Since the early days, Solly Green the regiment's coach and boxing instructor, has been constantly on the lookout to produce the best in amateur boxing.

Last year, with the help of Captain Jerry Mahoney, their chairman, four R.M.R. boys were entered in the Golden Gloves, out of which rose a finalist, Corporal Reg. Middleton, who will be one of the star attractions on the night.

MILLAND A VILLAIN

After years as a romantic fellow on the screen, Ray Milland has switched to villainy in earnest. He follows up his murderous role in "So Evil My Love" with a chore as a devilish bad man in Paramount's "Alias Nick Beal."

Police and Fire Edge Alouettes 3-2 In Opener

In the opening game of the Westmount Municipal Intermediate League, the Police and Fire defeated the Alouettes 3-2. Daken banged in the winning goal. In another Intermediate game, the Royals defeated Panthers 4-2, Heward Reid being the star with 3 goals. Hutchison and Higgins fired the other Royal counters. On Jan. 15th the Alouettes trounced the Air Force 6-3; Frank Reid scored two goals, with Bill Telfer, Bob Grant, Strahan and Miller the other Alouette scorers. McGowan with two goals led the Air Force attack, Sheppard notching the other counter.

In another bang-up game which took place on Jan. 17th, Logue MacDonald's Royals won out 5-4 over the Alouettes. For the Royals Ed McCrory scored what proved to be the winning goal. The other Royal scorers were Noel Romney 2, Ed McCrory 2 and Kirk Morrison 1. Miller led the Alouettes with 2 goals. Strahan and Frank Boright banged in one apiece.

Staynor Stars, icing a strong team defeated a depleted Air Force team 12-0. Guy Bunier and Al Turner led the attack with three goals apiece; P. Lamosney and J. Garland notched two apiece, Bud Selby and Stu McCowan got the other markers. In a game that took place on Jan. 18th., the Aces had an easy time with the Panthers knocking them off 6-0. Jack McKissock and Bill Jamieson banged in two goals each, W. Layton and D. Barnard were the other scorers.

St. Leo Bantams Top Tornadoes

The Bantams started their schedule last week when St. Leo's defeated Tornadoes in a hard-fought game 1-0. Tommy St. James scored the lone goal for St. Leo's.

On January 14th, St. Leo's managed to get their second win of the Season when they knocked off the YMCA 4-1. Tommy St. James again led the St. Leo's attack with two goals; D. Orr and A. Lebreche scored the other St. Leo goals. Jimmy Sherlock slapped in the only 'Y' counter.

The Tornadoes came back with a win when they defeated the Cougars 3-1 in another Bantam contest. Laurie Bennett, Jimmy Beasant and Bud Agnew scored the Tornado goals, Darrell Kirouac notched the Cougar counter.

On January 17th, Tornadoes shut out Cardinals 4-0. Willis Beaton scored 2 goals, Noel Isene and Edward Matsubuchi banged in the other Tornado counters.

Marvin Greenbaum Paces Locals To Hard-Fought Win

By JIM AMBROSE

It was Louis Greenbaum's high spirited underdog Westmount Warriors that galloped to the biggest upset registered in the Junior League this year. Playing hard, aggressive, as well as smart ball, the Warriors clamped a 50-45 score on Frank Ulley's group, and moved into an undisputed lead of the League. Playing on the Nationale spacious gym, stalled the Warriors during the opening minutes of the first half, out after finding the range not even the power-packed Nationale quintet could stop the rampaging Warriors.

Playing the game that pleased so many Canadian convert fans last year, Marvin Greenbaum played a spectacular game with his offensive work at piling up 12 points, and defensively snaring rebounds off his own backboard. Marvin's amazing performance was just a shade ahead of the scoring spree displayed by reliable Gerry Rountree who collected 14 points, and brought his average pointage per game to 14.4. Bill Dickie, Lionel Whitman and Alex Stanton showed good form in aiding the Warriors to this important win.

At the moment of the opening whistle, Nationale carried the play to Warriors' doorstep, only to be unlucky in potting those points, and suddenly became lax. Here at this stage of a nip and tuck battle, the Warriors began to display their future form, and quickly piled up a 10-2 score and set the pace for a tough battle to come. Nationale retaliated quickly and got within 2 points of this one-sided lead, only to have Marvin Greenbaum start his spree, notching 6 points, setting the Warriors on 'easy street' for a few seconds. Nationale's double "B" club of Belanger and Bertrand stormed back in revenge against Warriors and again cut that lead to a few points. With baskets being matched 'tit for tat', Greenbaum notched the final two points for half time for Warriors and with the seconds dwindling down to a sparse few, Bertrand, of Nationale, deadlocked the half time score at 29-29.

Shifty Bill Dickie proved to be the hero for the Warriors in the second canto, when he was substituted for Gord Raza, and in the space of ten seconds had swished 4 points which sent the Warriors into a lead they never relinquished for the remainder of the game. The Warriors displayed effective ball-handling and perfect shooting in carrying the play to the fast-tiring Nationale five, who found trouble in keeping with the fast pace set by Warriors.

However, Nationale was not to give up because of such a deficit. Showing a sudden flare of spirit, Frank Ulley's tall five finally brought the score from 45-35 to 45-44, only to have fate thwart their rally, as the Warriors, again led by "Mert" Greenbaum and Bill Dickie, jacked the score up to 50 points, as Belanger sunk a free ticket to wind the scoring up at 50-45.

As said before, Marvin Greenbaum played a spectacular game, going both ways, and was followed closely by Gerry Rountree, Lionel Whitman, Bill Dickie, and Alex Stanton, who all contributed to the Warriors' brilliant win. For Nationale it was the two "Bs", Belanger and Bertrand, who gathered 14 and 16 points respectively, and displayed the best all-round play for the losers.

Last Tuesday, coach Lou Ziger had his charges out for a practice in preparation for their game tonight against North Branch Y at Westmount Senior High School, on Cote St. Antoine Road. It is the hope of coach Ziger and owner Louis Greenbaum that more support will be given such a fine club, of definitely championship material. With the Warriors upholding the true legend of winning teams from the West end of Montreal, it should hardly be necessary to ask more support, and it is your cheers and interest which will send the Warriors on to the Provincial and perhaps the Dominion Championship. Game time for tonight is 8 o'clock, at Westmount Senior High School.

Warriors:—Raza 3, Stanton, Greenbaum 12, Whitman 6, Kirschner 1, Dickie 12, Heaney, Goyer 2, Binmore.

Nationale:—Hermant 6, Bertrand 16, Belanger 14, Wilkins 4, Page 5, Belliveau, Gagnon.

PUTTERS CLUB

Another 'Beetles Night' supplied a hilarious evening for the active Putters Club, and there was a great turnout.

Next Monday in the same Oak Room of the Victoria Hall, there will be a games evening with many new games and equipment, with an evening of cards planned for the following week.

Many of the members are now turning out weekly, so if you want to renew those summer acquaintances, drop in Monday nights at 8.00 p.m. at the Victoria Hall.

Queen's Rovers Down Roslyn Raiders 5-0

The Pee Wee 'B' section got under way with two games. At Queen's, the Queen's 'Rovers' icing a strong squad, defeated Roslyn 'Raiders' 5-0. Screwtun led the Queen's attack with 2 goals and 1 assist. Doug Wright, Murry and Hamilton scored the other Queen's markers.

Over at Roslyn, King's 'B' knocked off Roslyn 'All Stars' 6-0. Dean was the outstanding player with 4 goals and 2 assists. Smith also played a great game, getting 2 goals.

ST. LEO'S SPORTS

By Dave McVey

Neil Walsh, starry defenceman and spark-plug of St. Leo's hockey squad, paced his team to a 5-1 victory over St. Thomas Aquinas in their opening game of the Interscholastic Senior B Hockey League. Walsh opened the scoring for the Academites in the first period with a screaming shot from the blue line on a pass from Ray Losito. After this the St. Thomas crew came surging back to tie the score at one-all at which it remained till the end of the period.

Coach Andy McGillis' well balanced outfit looked much superior to their opponents in the second period as they jumped into a 3 point lead. Walsh picked up his second goal of the game. Then hard driving Harry Wolfe came through with an unassisted tally followed by Frank Britt's goal from a face-off beside the net.

The third stanza did not show much action the only goal being scored when Walsh completed his 'Hat Trick', Ray Losito gaining credit for the assist. Foy, Losito, Wolfe and Britt were the pick of the forwards while Vaughan McVey and Neil Walsh played well on the defence. Bernie 'Legs' Dubreuil played his usual outstanding game in nets.

SHORT SPORTS

The Senior B Hockey team will meet St. Willibrord's at 11:00 out at Lachine Arena this Saturday morning. . . . The Junior squad has not shown any signs of a championship team but are improving in great style. . . . Jack Belanger who has shown true form on the defence for the Juniors will probably move up to the Senior Circuit. . . . The Pee Wee hockey league has been organized by Andy McGillis and will start their schedule in the near future. . . . The Academy has produced nine hockey teams this year which shows a great amount of enthusiasm amongst the student body. . . . The school's weekly boxing classes are still going strong and most of the boys have shown great progress. Kevin McAssey, well-known boxer around St. Leo's, has shown superb condition throughout his training. Kevin has shown great zeal since he started boxing. He has worked very hard in this sport and the results are evident.

The Academy Bantam Club, have forged out in front in the Westmount Bantam Q.A.H. section. Led by Tommie St. James they have annexed their first two league games and look to have a good chance to repeat their 1948 march to the Westmount Bantam title.

The Juniors have gone into a bad slump and their dismal performances in the last few games has confirmed early season suspicion that this squad lacks scoring punch. This team has failed to produce a single player with a good shot and unless they show more effort to develop some scoring punch, they are liable to establish a record for St. Leo's teams being shutout.

The six Pee Wee teams swung into action this week in the West-

Panthers Tie YMCA Juveniles

In the games that took place on Jan. 14th., the Panthers and the Y.M.C.A. played to a 4-4 tie. Rolland Lockett of the Y tied the game up with less than a minute left to play he also notched another counter, D. Taillon and T. Cavanagh sank the other Y goals. John Ferrabee was the star of the Panthers with two goals, Bob Forrest and C. Burton scored the other goals for the Panthers.

In the other game Tornados swamped Weredale Fliers 6-0. Jim Cotter scored two goals and set up two others to lead the Tornados offensive, D. Rolf, Macdonald, Gilmore and M. Cyboulak banged in a goal each.

On Jan. 18th., two more games took place in the Juvenile league. Panthers defeated Tornados 3-1 and Y.M.C.A. knocked off Weredale Fliers 5-1. M. Burris, Wolfe and Jack Gill knocked in the Panthers goals, Hugh McDonald scored the lone Tornadoe goal. For the 'Y' the goals were well divided, with H. Williams, B. Scullion, B. Hickey and D. Tallon and S. Bianchi getting a goal each. D. Barrie scored the only Weredale marker.

N.H.L. Notes

Only change in the standings from a week ago was the third position. Montreal Canadiens passed Chicago Black Hawks during the past week and Canadiens are now in the third slot with 34 points, one more than the Hawks. Detroit remains on top of the heap with 43 points, five more than the second-place Boston Bruins. Toronto Maple Leafs are in fifth place with 32 points while New York Rangers bring up the rear with 30 points.

Maurice Richard of Canadiens scored his 200th N. H. L. goal on January 15 which was the big news in the scoring records. Doug Bentley and Roy Conacher of Chicago are still deadlocked for first place among the loop's premier scorers with 43 points apiece. Conacher and Bentley each have 16 goals and 27 assists. Billy Reay, Montreal's smooth centre-ice performer moved into second place among the scorers with 16 goals and 17 assists for 33 points. Jim Conacher of Chicago and Sid Abel of Detroit are next with 32 points. Grant Warwick of Boston is next with 31 points and one point back is Joe Carveth of Canadiens with an even 30.

Chuck Rayner of Rangers registered his fourth shutout of the season on January 16 as Rangers whitewashed Toronto Maple Leafs 4-0. Rayner now shares with Bill Durnan and Turk Broda the honor of most shutouts among the goalies. The three ace netminders have four shutouts apiece. Durnan has the least goals scored against him. In 34 games he has allowed 77 goals to get by him for an average of 2.26 goals-against per game. Harry Lumley of Detroit is next with 92 goals-against in 36 games for a 2.55 average.

Bill Ezinicki, bellicose Toronto winger is the "bad boy" of the league with 95 minutes in penalties.

mount Pee Wee League. These youngsters have been handicapped for action on account of mild weather and it is a little too early to get a line on the future St. Leo's stars. Games in this league will be played on Westmount Park, Roslyn, Queen's and St. Leo's rinks.

It is interesting to note in the local press that indoor skating rinks are sprouting like mushrooms throughout Ontario communities. Most of these new arenas are artificial ice rinks and are located in many instances in towns or small cities half the size of Westmount.

TALL TALES

I don't think that I am violating any confidence, when I say that women are getting taller. Nor is this merely a fly-by-night venture on the part of a few individualists. Scientists tell us that the thing has been sneaking up on us over a period of years. Now we have to face it!

"Because you're tall", say the fashion experts, "you can WEAR your clothes. That's nice to know. — Rather tough on the short gals, though, especially in winter.

What the fashion experts mean, however, is that if by an odd coincidence, a woman over 5'7" happens to find a dress that fits her AND covers her knees, she doesn't look too badly. In comparison, that is, with the women who don't come out of the thing quite so well.

One must admit that since the "New Look" came into its own, things haven't been at their worst. But a few years back, the tall women were saying nasty things about the fashion experts. In those days, when a tall woman entered a dress shop and asked for something in size 14, the salesgirl would sneer "Sarong?"

After much wrangling, the customer was persuaded to wade into a size 18.

"It's really a nice length, dearie"—this from the salesgirl. "Now turn around."

"Turn around?" the customer would echo. "I have turned around four times, and the dress hasn't moved!" — That's the mixed-up sort of thing that was happening to tall girls in those days.

If this generation of women is taller than the last, Mr. Scientist, something should be done about the men. If anything, they're getting shorter!

There was a time when a man, taking his cue from Shakespeare, described his girlfriend's stature as "Just as high as my heart". — The standard reply today is "Oh, she's just a head taller than I, when I'm wearing my built-up shoes."

It's on the dance floor, however, that a tall woman is really at an advantage. With her chin resting comfortably atop her escort's head, she can, without any effort at all, carry on an animated conversation with the other tall women in her vicinity. And if the escort shows any curiosity as to what's going on, the girl has simply to smile sweetly, and say, "But, darling, it was over your head!"

In the field of sport, it's the tall girl that gets the attention from the spectators. Because if you're more than 5'8", the chances are the audience can't see anyone else! And imagine the furor you could cause on a tennis court, if you learned to nonchalantly leap over the net to congratulate your opponents. Let the short kids walk around the net. YOU'RE different!

Mrs. R. Schwartz, who is reputed to be the world's tallest woman (6'9" without stockings), says "I'm GLAD that I'm tall. When I was two years old, everyone looked down on me. But now I'm the type that people look up to." You see, it's all in the way you look at it!

citizen who plunks his cash down at the box-office and expects something in return.

"Joan of Arc" is not the great picture it should have been. Indeed, it's a boring, overly decorative movie that almost never tugs at the heart strings. Walter Wanger and Ingrid Bergman have come up with a dud.

There's a saying that anything beautifully packaged will sell, and for that reason some people will pay to see "Joan of Arc". The package is impressive but the product is inferior. Scenically and technically it is superb, but it simply does not click as a human document. Joan was really worthy of better treatment than this.

Olivia De Havilland may win her second Oscar for "The Snakepit", and the film may bring another statuette to 20th Century-Fox. The actress's performance as the asylum inmate has seldom been surpassed, and the film will indeed be worthwhile if it brings reform to state and provincially operated mental institutions.

There are those who will condemn "The Snakepit" as a melancholy movie. But must the screen always produce just a silly giggle? I found the picture honest and un-theatrical, vivid and vital. It vindicates your faith in Hollywood.

If you prefer the lighter side, see "Words and Music", Metro's film biography of Rodgers and Hart. Leo, the Lion, has graced it with Judy Garland, Mickey Rooney, Gene Kelly, June Allyson and others on the contract list, and you can enjoy it even with your eyes closed, so wonderful is the score.

I'd pay my buck again just to hear Lena Horne chant "Where or When" and see Gene Kelly terp through "Slaughter On Tenth Avenue". Mel Torme sounds like a dying oyster and could have been left out. But "Words and Music" is happy stuff.

If you like westerns and railroad stories, "Whispering Smith" should please. It has Alan Ladd and Robert Preston, plus a Technicolored plot based on the old novel by Frank H. Spearman.

Ladd plays a railway detective back in the two-gun days, and Preston is the heel. He's a wrecking boss who appropriates most of the freight for his own. To make things worse, Ladd falls in love with Preston's wife, Brenda Marshall, and it takes nine reels to iron out the complications.

"Whispering Smith" will put little burden on your intelligence, but if you're in an escapist mood I'd suggest you climb aboard the caboose and ride along with Ladd and company.

Let me recommend "The Boy With Green Hair" as a courageous and unorthodox picture with a message. The message, which has been assailed as communistic, is merely that peace on earth, goodwill toward all men, is preferable to a useless war. Seems to me I read the same message somewhere in the Bible.

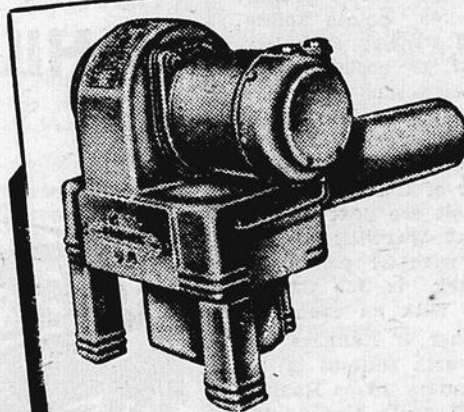

"The Boy With Green Hair" is admirably played by Dean Stockwell. His crime is being different. Pat O'Brien plays his adopted grandpa and even breaks into song twice. The realistic fantasy has plenty of laughs despite its serious undertone. It is an incentive to thought, and as such it proves a picture of some importance.

It is also mighty entertaining.
