PAYMASTER HAMEL IS NOW ON HIS WAY BACK TO MONTREAL

Chief of Detectives Carpenter Cables That He Left for Halifax This Morning With His Prisoner—The Story of the Case.

"Left for Halifax" reads a cable message received by Detective Sergt. Charpentier this forenoon from Chief Carpenter, and, taken in conjunction with a previous communication, it may be taken as indication that ex-City Paymaster Hamel is at length on his way back to answer a charge of obtaining $9,999 by means of a forged cheque.

It will be remembered that immediately after being served with notice of dismissal, and before the fact could become generally known, Hamel called, as he had often done before, in the usual course of business, at the Bank of Montreal, and, presenting a cheque purporting to be signed in the ordinary way by City Treasurer Robb, obtained possession of the money, and lost no time in getting across the United States border.

From the States the absconding paymaster was traced to Cuba, where he has until now been able to remain owing to the difficulties attending his being sent back, in absence of an extradition treaty.

CERTAIN STREETS WILL BE CLOSED

City Council Agrees to This to Enlarge C.P.R. Eastern Freight Sheds

The City Council yesterday afternoon, by a vote of 21 to 12, agreed to the request of the Canadian Pacific Railway to close portions of Beaudry, Barclay and Montcalm streets, below Notre Dame street. The object of the company in having these streets closed is to extend its facilities for handling freight in the neighborhood of Place Viger station.

The affair has been before the Council for nearly two years, and one cause of the opposition is the fact that the company has not bought all the property in the area of these streets, and in consequence the interested proprietors are complaining that they have not been treated fairly by the company.

Several amendments were introduced by Ald. Leroy, and a number of attempts were made to shelve the matter until the next meeting, but in the end the report of the special expropriation committee was carried. The vote was as follows:

Yeas—Valliéres, Lariviere, St. Denis, Robertson, Levy, Dagenais, Sadler, Ekers, Gallery, Ames, Bumbray, Ricard, Walsh, Nelson, Sauvageau, O. Lapointe, Stearns, Payette, Lemay, Poquin, Duquette—21.

Nays—Clearihue, Lavallee, Robillard, Turner, Wilson, Chausse, L. A. Lapointe, Couture, Bastien, Marchand, Leclaire, Proulx—12.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe, who vigorously fought the passing of the report, raised a point of order to the effect that in altering any plans of the City Surveyor a two-thirds vote of the council, or 25, was necessary. In the present instance such alterations were to be made in the closing of several streets, and he argued the motion had not been carried, as it only got 21 votes.

Mayor Laporte did not decide the point, and it will be sent to the city attorneys for an opinion.

The Agreement.

The company agrees, among other things, to provide a private roadway, if called on to do so by the Road Committee, along its property, for the benefit of the Montreal Brewing Company. It also agrees to pay the sum of $10,000 for the connection of a 24-inch water main, interrupted on Notre Dame street, by the erection of the overhead bridge at the Place Viger. The company is also to hold the city free of any action of damage taken by proprietors in consequence of the closing of the aforesaid streets. The company is also to cede land to the city for the opening of a street extending from Panet to Beaudry, and the company is to open for traffic St. Hubert street at the point where it crosses the company's tracks.

The city agrees to lease the street for a term of nine years on the understanding that either party shall apply to the Provincial Legislature for authority to perfect a definite arrangement whereby the company is to be allowed to occupy the said streets for a period of 99 years.

SHIPMENTS OF B TTER AND CHEESE FALL OFF

The value of the shipments of butter and cheese from the port of Montreal during the past season totals $25,000,000 according to a statement made to The Herald to-day by Mr. R. M. Ballantyne, managing director of the Lovell & Christmas Co.

Of this total the value of the cheese shipments which includes the amount in store in Montreal amounted to $18,500,000, while the shipments of butter, including $140,000 consumed in the city, aggregated $6,500,000.

The total shipments, it was pointed out, will show a falling off of close to $2,000,000. This falling off was caused partly by the unsettled condition of the markets in England, and more especially by the falling off in the make throughout the country, due to the cold weather setting in much earlier than usual. The opinion of those connected with the trade is that the season will be two weeks shorter than usual.

BOTH PARTIES CLAIM VICTORY

Presidential Elections Taking Place in the States To-Day.

New York, November 8.—Throughout the entire east ideal weather prevails to-day. From Maine down the coast line and back into the interior it is sunny and crisp and as a result an extremely heavy vote is being polled. This is particularly true in the rural districts, where a long spell of dry weather has put the roads in excellent condition and enabled the voters to reach the polls with ease. In fact up to noon to-day reports indicate that the good weather extends over the entire country and leads the experts at headquarters to predict that the vote cast will be the heaviest in many elections.

In New York State the weather conditions and the earnest efforts of both parties to get the voters out early are having a decided effect and from many places up state it was reported that a third of the vote had been cast by 9 o'clock. An unusually heavy vote was reported in every city and town heard from during the morning. Workers for the Republicans and Democrats were active in getting out the vote, but no trouble was reported and little was anticipated.

In this city perfect weather brought out a fairly large early vote, and the voting continued heavy during the morning. At Tammany Hall it was estimated that the vote in the city during the morning was being cast at the rate of 100,000 an hour. Although a number of arrests were made on charges of illegal registration and a fight occurred in one polling place, the morning voting in general in Greater New York was quietly done.

Both parties claim the success of their respective candidates. The pivotal state is New York, which has thirty-nine votes in the electoral college.

EXPLOSION, BUT NO REASON ASSIGNED

Coroner and Jury Could Not Discover Cause of Gas Works Disaster

From the facts broughtout this morning at the inquest held on the body of Foreman John Douglas, who was killed by an explosion at the Gas Works on the evening of Friday, October 29, it seems that there is a mystery surrounding the event, as no reason can be found to account for the explosion.

After listening for over an hour to the evidence of the superintendent and employes at the works, Coroner MacMahon presented the case to the jury and a verdict of accidental death was brought in. The verdict rendered that Douglas met his death from an explosion in the Gas Works, the causes of which could not be determined.

W. Skinner, superintendent of the works, described the scene of the fatality as he had found it ten minutes after the explosion. The trouble must have originated in the meter room, as it was there that Douglas was found lying on the floor in front of a meter dial. Three walls of the room were blown out and the roof was gone, and yet the meters and governors were intact.

Ten minutes before the occurrence the plant had been reported to be working satisfactorily by Douglas, young Skinner, the son fo the superintendent, and Eakin, the electrician. Asked if the ventilators had been open at the time the witness was unable to state, but he described the facilities afforded for ventilating the room, which consisted in five hundred holes in the ceiling communicating with four ventilators in the roof. When the explosion occurred, the brick wall of the meter room had fallen outward, crushing a wooden shed nearby, and injuring several workmen inside.

A verdict of accidental death was brought in by the jury, exonerating all parties.

G. T. P. Company Has Secured Valuable Option in B. C.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—It is understood that an option was secured on the payment of $5,000 on the charter of the Pacific Northern & Omineca Railway from Kitimaat to Hazelton. The agreement calls for the closing of the option on or before Jan. 1, 1905, at a figure of $60,000. The option on the charter of this railway was taken subsequent to the return of Mr. C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, from his tour of the British Columbia coast. By personal investigation, Mr. Hays is said to have confirmed the reports of his surveyors and engineers that it would be impossible to use Skeen river as a medium of transportation for railway construction, material and supplies when the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific is commenced in British Columbia. It therefore became necessary to run a railway from some point on the Pacific coast right into the heart of that section of British Columbia which would be traversed by the new transcontinental line. It was then the Pacific Northern & Omineca charter was found and tied up pending the result of the Dominion election.

When construction is commenced west of the Rockies it is said the line from Kitimaat to Hazelton will be the distributing point. This line is about 135 miles in length and covers over a quarter of the distance between the coast and Rocky Mountains. This report, which is believed to be true, although those interested in the Pacific Northern & Omineca will not say definitely it is correct, tends to set at rest any misgivings which may have existed with reference to the Grand Trunk Pacific beginning work at the Pacific end of the line.

CONSERVATIVES DENOUNCE PARTY

Old-Time Conservatives in Quebec Resent "Funk" Tactics

PREMIER DEFENDS COURSE

If There is No Opposition the Parent Government Will Conduct Affairs Along Lines of Banking Institution.

Quebec, Nov. 8.—(Special. The Conservative manifesto issued yesterday, has fallen flat in this city and district. The verdict is that the Conservative party have proved themselves cowards in face of their recent defeat and the knowledge that the Parent Government is so firmly entrenched in the confidence of the electors from one end of the Province to the other, that there is no chance for their success. Hon. E. J. Flynn is well aware that he could not be re-elected in the county of Quebec and the same can be said of Hon. L. P. Pelletier in the county of Dorchester. The older generations of the Conservative party who remember the smallness of the Liberal majority in the Legislature under the leadership of Sir H. G. Joly, previous to 1878, are disgusted with the present leaders of their party who so cowardly accept defeat in advance.

The only excuse the Conservatives advance in Quebec for their action in allowing the local elections to go by default is the scarcity of money, having spent every dollar they could lay their hands on in the Federal elections.

In the meantime Hon. S. N. Parent and the members of his Government are not at all concerned at the backdown policy of the Conservatives. They say the affairs of the province will be carefully looked after without their assistance, while a large sum of money will be saved. Hon. S. N. Parent, will simply conduct his Government in line with a banking institution to the satisfaction of the electors who have every confidence in his business ability and personal integrity.

Premier Explains Course.

Hon. Mr. Parent characterizes the decision of the Provincial Opposition in declining to fight in the present contest as childish in the extreme. The reasons advanced by Hon. E. J. Flynn in his extraordinary manifesto do not hold good when closely examined. Speaking to The Herald correspondent, the Premier continued: "In the first place the statement that the Opposition was taken by surprise will deceive no one. A vigilant Opposition is never taken by surprise. The Legislature has seen four sessions, and in the usual course of events would have terminated after the winter session in April or May next, and the elections would have been held in May or June, an undesirable time for the farmers as I many others. The probability of dissolution has been frequently hinted in the Conservative press.

"The real explanation is found in the fact that the Conservatives recognized they had no chance of success. The Government's record this term has been good, and not easily changed. We have pursued a more liberal policy than ever with regard to education, agriculture and colonization, while at the same time reducing the public debt. This policy has been generally approved all over the province. We have sought to give the people a safe and honest administration of affairs. The Opposition is afraid to face us before the electorate.

The campaign, it is true, is not an extended one, but considering that the province has just come through a Federal contest, a protracted campaign is not desirable in the interests of trade and business. Both parties have their organizations in the Federal contests in good working shape. That was thought it desirable to have the election over before winter set in."

Hon. Mr. Parent said further that he did not lack precedents. Sir John Macdonald rarely allowed the life of a Parliament to expire. He advised dissolution always after either three or four sessions of Parliament. Moreover, the provincial administration had been virtually challenged by the Opposition to meet them before the electorate after the by-elections in Portneuf and Maskinonge, which resulted in the election of Conservatives, that party proclaiming that there was a revulsion of feeling against the Government, which would certainly be defeated if it appealed to the country. Consequently, the opportunity was now afforded the Opposition to make good the challenge.

ITALIAN GOVERNMENT CARRIED THE COUNTRY

All the Cabinet Ministers Were Returned—Extremists Lost Twenty Seats.

Rome, November 8. Definite returns show that all the members of the cabinet have been re-elected. Former Premier Rudini, Baron Sonnino, leader of the constitutional opposition, and Signori Prinetti, the former foreign minister, and Ferri, the Socialits leader, have also been re-elected.

The Government has ben victorious over the extremists who lost 20 seats. Turin, Naples, Palmero and almost all the large towns joined Milan and Genoa in defeating the extremists, as a manifestation against the general strike. This was the predominant note in the elections.

Signor Nasi, former Minister of Public Instruction, and a fugitive from justice accused of speculation, was re-elected unanimously by his fellow townsmen at Trapani.

Signor Palizzolo, who is considered to be the head of the Mafia secret society, was defeated at Palmero.

LARGER EARNINGS BUT MUCH LARGER EXPENSES

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The operations of the Intercolonial last year were expensive and difficult owing to the severity of the weather. The working expenses were $7,239,982 against $6,196,653 for the previous year. The receipts last year amounted to $6,339,290 against $6,324,323 in 1902-3. The operations for 1903-4 resulted in a deficit of $900,750 against a surplus of $127,673 for the previous year.

MR. EMMERSON'S FINE MAJORITY

Dorchester, N.B., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The official majority of Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, is 1,046. The totals were:—Emmerson, 4,693; Powell, 3,647.

JAPS OFFER TERMS OF SURRENDER

To Port Arthur's Defenders But Not Through Official Channels

THE SIEGE IS NEARLY OVER

Defenders Have Abandoned the Town and Taken Refuge on Liao Tishan Peninsula—Town is in Ruins.

Che Foo, November 8.—The Japanese besieging Port Arthur, ignoring Lieut.-General Stoessel, the commander of the Russians military forces there, have offered terms of surrender to the Russian soldiers, according to advices leaving Port Dalny yesterday. In the meanwhile the ceaseless activity of picks and spades, gradually advancing the trenches, spells inexorable fate to the watching Russians.

A Russian prisoner captured October 26 said the soldiers composing the garrison of Port Arthur, in want and dispirited, saw the hopelessness of the struggle. Despairing of relief, with food scarce, and medicine and hospital supplies insufficient, it was admitted by the Russians that a Japanese victory was ultimately inevitable. The soldiers, according to the prisoner, see no reason to prolong the resistance which brings glory to their officers, but chiefly hardship and death to them. Upon hearing the prisoner's story General Nogi drafted a letter to be circulated among the soldiers themselves, the prisoner having promised to deliver it in mercy to his comrades. The letter related General Kuropatkin's retreats and his inability to make an impression on the army of Field Marshal Oyama, to say nothing of breaking through his forces and relieving Port Arthur. The letter also pointed out that the second Russian Pacific squadron has just started on its slow voyage. Continuing, it called attention to the resistless advance of the Japanese trenches, making it a matter of weeks when the Japanese would walk into the main Russian strongholds.

In conclusion the letter offered humane treatment to all who surrender, saying it was in the interests of humanity to prevent further useless slaughter.

Several copies of the letter, written in Russian, were given to the prisoner, who regained the Russian lines unobserved by his officers. That night the Russian returned saying his comrades would answer within a few days. He said the temper of the men seemed to show that, while they were mutinous towards fate, they also did not like the idea of an unofficial surrender. The letter did much, however, to dispel among the Russian troops the impression fostered by their officers that a massacre would follow a Japanese victory. The company to which the prisoner belonged originally numbered 800 and now totals 50 men.

Have Abandoned Town.

Paris, November, 8.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Petit Parisien says that, according to a despatch from Kiaochau, the Russians have completely abandoned the town of Port Arthur, which is a heap of ruins, and taken refuge on the Liao Tishan peninsula, which is strongly fortified. The recent fighting was so fierce that General Stoessel, who was wounded, has only three or four thousand men available. It is realized now in St. Petersburg that the fortress may fall any day.

Japanese Vessel Destroyed.

Shanghai, November 8.—It is reported in British naval circles that a Japanese man-of-war has been sunk by a mine off Port Arthur.

A Battle is Imminent.

Mukden, via Pekin, November 8.—Artillery firing was continuous all along the lines on Monday and intermittent this morning. A battle might commence at any hour. It will be a question of many days if not weeks to decide the position, which is the most interesting since the commencement of the war. Each side is waiting for the other to attack.

MARRIAGE LICENSE IS VALID IN PROVINCE ONLY

Toronto, November 8.—The provincial registrar has given a ruling that marriage licenses issued in Ontario are not valid in other provinces. Three months ago a young man took out a license in Toronto and went down to Montreal to be married. This was accepted by the minister who officiated at the marriage in question. Later, proof of the marriage was required in England, in connection with business relating to an estate, and it was then found that the registrar had refused to acord it, on the ground that the Lieut.-Governor of Ontario could authorize the issue of no license other than for his own province. The principals brought the matter to the atention of the provincial secretary's department and they were advised as to the best course to pursue.

ONE STOREY SHEDS.

The Harbor Board, at its meeting to-morrow morning, will take up the proposal made by Hon. R. Prefontaine, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, to change the plan for two-storey sheds in the harbor front to one-storey sheds. It is expected the Harbor Board will pass the new plans without delay, as the contractors, the Shipping Federation and the Department of Marine and Fisheries have expressed their approval of them.

BABE FORGOTTEN BY HIS MOTHER

She Had Thirteen to Look After and She Lost One of Them.

BUT HE HAD A HAPPY TIME

For the C.P.R. Officials Kept Him Amused Till the Anxious Mother Arrived to Meet Reproachful Look.

Up to this morning the officials of the C.P.R. had been under the impression that the lost articles collected on their trains at one time or another included everything that it was possible for passengers to lose, from a set of false teeth sunk in an apple to a set of regimental colors. The record was broken, however, this morning and the limit reached when a sturdy little baby boy of about two years of age was found to have been forgotten by his mother in the excitement of getting off the train to change cars at Montreal Junction.

It appears that the youngster belonged to a family of thirteen children, and that the whole brood, under the mother's wing, were travelling down towards Quebec. A change of cars had to be made at Montreal Junction, and in the bustle consequent upon getting her numerous progeny off the train, the mother overlooked her youngest son and heir, and the omission was not noticed until a count of heads was made, and when, with a cry of horror, she noticed that she was one short. By this time the train had pulled out, and when Windsor station was reached the youthful citizen was gathered up among the lost baggage and brought to the station agent's office, where he was well taken care of until his distracted mother, who took the next train to town, gathered him to her bosom. Mr. Millar, the station agent, vouches for the fact that when the baby saw his mother coming he gave her a most indignant look, as if to say, "You're a nice kind of a mother to go and forget a chap like that, ain't you?"

BACK FROM AUSTRALIA.

Mr. D. A. Budge Will be Tendered a Reception by the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. D. A. Budge, secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, returns from Australia this evening. A reception will be tendered Mr. and Mrs. Budge at the Association Building by the board of directors and members on Saturday afternoon next, to which members and friends of the association are cordially invited.

Mr. Budge will speak on Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Association Hall on the Association Movement in Australia, New Zealand and the Canadian Northwest. The meeting will be open to the public, and both ladies and gentlemen are invited.

PREMIER ROSS WILL APPEAL TO PEOPLE ON PROHIBITION PLANK

His Proposal Will be Absolutely New, Involving Total Prohibition Only Where Municipalities Demand It—Licensed Victuallers Will Fight.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—(Special)—Premier Ross is now the cynosure of all eyes in this Province. Whether he can make any more on the political board that has not already been guessed is a matter of conjecture. That the move will be along temperance lines however, scarcely any one doubts. The present high license system with its attendant local option privilege no longer satisfies the prohibitionists who have for years been "cornering" the Premier into promises of prohibition. That he cannot any longer escape prohibition legislature, or a promise of such, is the strongest ray of hope at present in aggressive temperance circles.

It is recalled that a caucus last session a temperance legislation proposal was submitted to Liberal members. A chief feature of this was Government control of the traffic and the abolition of the bar. It was thought for some time that this was the course mapped out by Premier Ross for an appeal to the Provincial electorate. According to late information, however, this proposal has been abandoned and something new, decidedly new, has been drafted. This is no less than a prohibitory measure covering every constituency in the Province, with the condition attached that any municipality desiring the license system may have it. It will be seen that this is the reverse of the present situation. Now it is, 'the liquor is here, but if you don't want it don't take it.' The new order would be—"the liquor is not here, but if you want it ask for it."

It is expected that the prohibition proposal as above outlined will be submitted to the members of the Government early this wek.

The licensed victuallers executive yesterday declared that in the event of Premier Ross announcing a policy of prohibition, they would raise a fund of $225,000 to fight him, distributed as follows, among the 3000 license houses of the province cities, $100,000; towns $75,000; rural municipalities $50,000.

NEW CHAIR OF FINE ARTS AT LAVAL

The First Professor is Mr. J. B. Legace, the French-Canadian Artist

The Board of Directors of Laval University have established another chair to be known as the chair of history of the fine arts.

Mr. J. B. Legace, a prominent French-Canadian artist, will be the first professor to occupy the new chair. Professor Legace is a graduate of St. Mary's College and for the past few years has delivered different series of lectures at the different colleges in the city.

The new professor will deliver his first lecture at Laval on Thursday. The lectures will be open to the public.

UNDER SEALED ORDERS.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 8.—Both warships, the Gratton and the Flora, which left recently, are said to be sailing under sealed orders, and speculation is rife whether they are going to Asiatic waters. The Grafton has taken on all the ammunition available for her 9.2 guns, and the magazines of both ships are well stocked.

"NOT GUILTY" WAS BOYER'S GLAD NEWS

Jury Acquit Him of Stabbing Restaurant Keeper in a Fight.

In the Court of King's Bench yesterday afternoon the trial opened of Noe Boyer, charged with having on September 8 stabbed Louis Leclerc, restaurant keeper, 95 1-2 St. Paul street.

Testifying on his own behalf, accused explained the stabbing as purely accidental. He had a knife in his hand when a disturbance arose, and before he had time to drop it Mr. Leclerc caught him in his arms, and in the course of the struggle the knife entered the latter's stomach.

Other witnesses were examind who gave more or less clear versions of how the stabbing took place, and this forenoon the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty, and the prisoner was discharged.

CANNOT OBTAIN REDUCED RATES

Underwriters and Board of Trade Will Drop Their Negotiations

The negotiations between the Board of Trade and the Canada Fire Underwriters opened at the request of the Board of Trade in order to see if a reduction in fire rates could not be secured, will be dropped.

The members of the council of the Board of Trade, as a result of the first meeting, have decided that it will not be impossible for the presen at least to secure any reduction and are now willing to grant that in the discussions the representatives of the underwriters had much the better of the argument.

A prominent members of the Board of Trade stated to The Herald to-day the underwriters had decided they must make up for their losses and the only way they could hope to do so was by keeping the increased rates in force.

Through The Herald's Sieve.

AS THE CONS. are not going to contest the Provincial elections, an official appeal will probably be made to the Hon. Jim Cochrane to manufacture some excitement.

THE LAURIER majority grows while you sleep.

MR. FLYNN, the Con. Quebec leader, has forgotten more about masterly retreats than Kuropatkin ever knew.

AND DOUBTLESS R. L. Borden is embarrassed because he doesn't know which one of the seats to accept out of the dozen or so his loyal followers have not offered him.

STRANGELY ENOUGH, the campaign has passed without anybody remarking that A. B. Aylesworth's initials stand for Alaska Boundary Award.

ELECTIONS are on in Rome to-day, and our sympathies are all with the party that has the word "Adequate" in its platform.

Buster.

Halifax, Nov. 5th.

Dear Sieve,—

How in the world are you going to get along without your friend Gourley?

Spring Garden Road.

Don't know exactly, but in the meantime we are trying as hard as possible to bear up under the blow. Life is full of these crushing disappointments.

IF THIS Lib. majority keeps growing at its present gait, Parliament will have to put in some camp stools.

THE Hon. Sam Hughes says he will retire in favor of Mr. Borden, and as we need a warrior in the House, we see nothing but for Ald. Ames to fall in with the Herald's exclusive suggestion, and resign in the interests of the Hon. Buster Gourley.

ABOUT the most interesting reading we can think of would be a brief article by the Hon. Dave Russell on the following subject: "My Interesting Experience With Non-Explosive Bombshells."

The Diagnosis.

(Chicago News.)

Many a young man who imagines he is love-sick is only bilious.

Mistook the Man.

(Halifax Recorder.)

A citizen going along the street this morning, declared he could tell a Liberal or a Conservative by looking at him. He picked out a Liberal, and was asked to show a Conservative.

He hesitated, but walked up to a man and said, "You are a Conservative."

"You're a liar," instantly retorted the man, "I've been sick; that's what makes me look like this."

THERE is comfort for everybody in the results. In Toronto the Conservatives get their comfort in bunches of five, while in Nova Scotia the Liberals take theirs in carloads of eighteen.

MANY LESSONS are being drawn from the election results, but you don't have to dig down very far to find out what a Laurier majority of seventy means.

ESTIMATES of the Laurier majority vary between 67 and 76. But anyone can see that the same numbers are used in both cases.

THE VIRTUOUS STAR calls on the Witness to explain a little election affair the Witness is involved in. While the Witness is thinking up something, what's the matter with the Star printing a confession by its Campaign liar?

THE GAZOOT points with pride to the fact that Mr. Borden spoke in 25 places in Ontario and 18 of them went Conservative. He also spoke in Quebec and Nova Scotia.

IN ARRANGING the desk room in Parliament we hereby notify the authorities not to make the fatal mistake of seating Rodolphe Forget and Ald. Ames so that they can touch elbows.

The Money Value.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says that the Baltic fleet is worth the following sums:

Seven battleships, $6,500,000	$45,500,000
Two armored cruisers, $5,000,000	10,000,000
Six protected cruisers, $2,500,000	15,000,000
Twelve destroyers, $250,000	3,000,000
Nine auxiliary cruisers, $1,000,000	9,000,000
Two repair ships, $500,000	1,000,000
Three colliers, $500,000	1,500,000
Hospital ship	750,000
Total	$85,750,000

The dispatch fails to state what the Admirals are worth, but making an off-hand guess we should say about 7 cents.

THERE is an article in a N.Y. paper on "How to make successful bets." It should be read with a great deal of interest in the Star office.

A MANITOBA FARMER has lost a $1,000 bill. No wonder Manitoba went Liberal when the farmers are able to carry those things around.

CAMPAIGN POETRY.

The Canadian campaign poets will turn green with envy when they read of the soul stirring poems that rang through Newfoundland in the campaign just over. Ink was not shed in vain as it was here in 1900. For what said the poet laureate of St. Lawrence division at that time:

"O! Eker's beer will raise good cheer
And make us win the fight."

And in 1904 the words were:

"The Libs, the Libs, give us a pain,
So vote, O, vote for Cammy Lane."

Canada figured as the deep-dyed villain in Newfoundland, and the Liberal Bond Government's slogan was "No Confederation."

The last few days the contest developed a fervid appeal, the sacred muse of poetry being invoked in the interests of Sir Robert Bond, Premier, and leader of the Liberal party.

Here is a sample:

Voters! ye, whose fathers ble
Voters! ye, whom Bennett led,
Hearken to the fight ahead,
Aand to glorious victory.

Polling day heaves in sight,
Up, true men, and do the right,
For your country bravely fight,
Fight for Bond and victory.

Comes the day and comes the hour
See advance Canadian power,
See their front of battle low'r;
Morine and chams and slavery.

Who so base as be a slave,
Who would be a traitor knave,
Who would for taxation crave,
Let him turn and flee.

Bond in his manifesto gave the word of command to the Liberal Anti-Confederates to fire a British broadside into the Confederate ship manned by Goodridge, Morine, etc.

Sir Robert's voice is heard with joy,
As halting the command!
Fix bayonets, charge!
Like mountain streams
Rush on those fiery bands.

This is the Tory column now
And faint their volleys grow,
Yet mustering all the strength they have
They make a sorry show!

On Polling Day! on Polling Day!
Hark to that fierce huzzah:
Revenge! remember Reidism,
Don't yield to Can-a-da!

Poetry won the day. With sweet music in their ears the voters arose and gave Bond a regular Laurier majority.

IN THE FALL of Port Arthur we have a thrilling continued story which always has another instalment no matter how near we appear to be approaching to the last chapter.

A Romance of the Days When the Lord Redeemed the Children of Israel From the Bondage of Egypt.

WHAT THE CLERGY SAY OF IT.

RT. REV. M. EDWARD FAWCETT, Ph.D., Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Quincy, Quincy, Ill.

THE YOKE is an excellent story. The author has skilfully pictured the intrigues and political discussions of the Egypt of the Exodus, making the great plagues the dramatic turning points of a tale which draws to a climax at the overwhelming of the Egyptian army at the Red Sea. It is a pleasure to commend so interesting and so clean a novel.

Will be Begun Soon as a Serial in The Herald.

N. S. PREMIER MAY APPEAL TO PEOPLE

Federal Elections Robbed Him of Five Strong Supporters

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 8.—The Liberal triumph in Nova Scotia is not without its disadvantages to the reigning party in this province. Thursday's elections have taken away from Premier Murray five of his strongest supporters and the flower of the local Legislature, Messrs. Maclean, of Lunenburg; Laurence, of Colchester; Macdonald, of Pictou; Finlayson, of Richmond, and Mackenzie, of Cape Breton. Another loss and a serious one in the person of Attorney-General Longley, who is slated for a Supreme Court judgeship, is likely to come at an early date. It is true, there are promising men in sight to fill the places of the gentlemen named, but the equals of Longley, Laurence, Macdonald and Maclean are not to be picked up every day. The latter three will be a valuable acquisition to the House of Commons both as regards debating powers and general administrative and legislative ability. Hon. F. A. Laurence, Speaker of two Parliaments in Nova Scotia, is one of the strongest men Nova Scotia has given to public life. The dressing he gave to "Gen." Gourley on nomination day was one of the finest pieces of political play a Nova Scotia audience has heard for many a day. Mr. E. M. Macdonald, of Pictou, was pitted, as a boy fresh from college, against such a gladiator as Sir Hibbert Tupper, and he has kept at the fight until now he has redeemed "Stonewall Pictou," which has been Conservative for thirty-one years.

Premier Murray will feel the loss of these young men, but he is an exceedingly shrewd political manager, and is practically without opposition. There is a suspicion that instead of holding bye-elections so near the close of the term he will follow the example of Premier Parent and hold a general election before the end of the year.

A reconstruction of the Government following the retirement of Mr. Longley will probably first be made. Hon. W. T. Pipes, of Amherst; once Premier, is mentioned as Attorney-General. In event of bye-elections being held, Dr. Kendall, ex-M.P., will run for Cape Breton.

WILL INVITE LLOYDS.

Halifax, November 8.—The Board of Trade passed a resolution that Lloyds be invited to send a committee to Canada to examine our ports and that the City Council be asked to defray the expenses of the committee's visit to Nova Scotia. This is in consequence of discrimination in the matter of marine risks against Nova Scotia ports which the board holds Lloyds persists in doing and in regard to which many protests have been made in the past.

CANADIAN AGENT'S REPORT.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The Canadian agent at Cape Town, Mr. Jardine, reports a drought in the farming area of four hundred by a thousand miles northeast of Cape Town, and an increase of 50 per cent. of the land miles. He emphasizes the demand for Canadian food stuffs.

Agent Ross, of Australia, reports backward crops there and gives a good report of the sale of Canadian products.

AT THE THEATRES.

The "Prince of Pilsen" arrived in Montreal last evening for a return visit and is staying at the sign of His Majesty's. The unusual success of this musical comedy at the Victoria Street playhouse last winter was far too good to be repeated. There are changes in the personnel, but there are enough familiar faces to identify the cast as a legitimate successor of the pioneers who introduced the show a year ago. The Cincinnati brewer is different, but he carries along all the mannerisms and fun-making of his predecessor, and in addition a brand new humorous song, called "Imagination," which, by the way, made a decided hit. The fascinating American widow of uncertain age, but certain intentions toward the opposite sex, who charmed Montreal, or at least a large part of it, a year ago, has been replaced by one equally as captivating, Miss Trixie Friganza, no less. Miss Friganza was not exactly received with open arms at the outset, but she won her way, and in the "Song of the Cities" she scored a decided success. And the Prince was new, and Lord Shrimpton was different, and the brewer had a new daughter, but Ivan Anderson was there, and Stella Martine and Jeanette Gageard, and better still, Miss Almyra Forrest. The chorus was much the same, but its work showed a distinct advance both in "nerve" and execution.

The phenomenal success of the play during the past three seasons, has depended mainly in the catchiness of the music, and the excellence of the book, two requisites which musical comedies frequently lack. Of the nineteen numbers, "The Tale of the Sea Shell," "The Message of the Violet," "Song on the Cities," "Heidelburg" and "Imagination," were the most popular, and recalls were frequent. In fact it may be said that on these the enduring popularity of the production rests. The scenes are laid in the Hotel International at Nice, and accordingly there is much scope for scenic display. Mr. Arthur Donaldson, who plays the title role, possesses a voice of excellent quality, which was heard to especial advantage in the "Tale of the Sea Shell." Miss Friganza's portrayal of the coquettish Mrs. Crocker, was equally as good as that seen here last year, and in point of fine dresses leads her by a few points. Mr. Jess Dandy is an indefatigable fun maker, but strange to state, he was least effective in the terribly boisterous fountain scene. Exception may be taken to Mr. Ames' work as Lord Shrimpton, which was not up to the possibilities by any means One of the hits of the evening was the pose of the Montreal girl in the "Song of the Cities." It was a gem.

This week's offering, which comes here under the same direction as the grand opera of last week, presents a wide contrast, but is also in its class, a good few notches above its rivals.

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

To dramatize a novel without ruining it or diluting its plot is no very easy task, yet that is what Winston Churchill has done in the translation of his own popular novel, "The Crisis" from cold print to the living stage. Such an amount of danger lurks in the attempt that authors—even those few who are possessed of a dramatic sense—have hesitated before risking their productions before the footlights. Wax figures and automaton characters are sometimes concealed in a look. It is not so on the stage.

Sometimes the dramatization is better, more lifelike, than the novel whence it is taken, but such an occurrence is rare. Yet it can be said with a certain amount of justice that this holds true of "The Crisis" which made its apearance on the Academy boards last night. There is a fitting Southern atmosphere about the piece, with all the quaintness that attaches to the dress and customs of the early sixties. What is even more remarkable is that the plot does not show signs of being cut down. The plot is nothing more than a love romance built about the civil war. Its climax is the drawing together in love of the Northern and the Southern maiden.

Miss Nannette Comstock appeared as Virginia Carvel, and the charm and grace she so well displayed cannot be too highly commended. Her interpretation of the Southern heroine was natural as well as fascinating. The play is well staged, the company strong and the scenery suitable to the requirements of the piece.

THEATRE FRANCAIS.

"The Thoroughbreds," which appear at the Francais this week, are not by any means strangers to this city, for they have been seen here many times before, and last night the audience renewed acquaintance with a good many of the same faces, listened to a good many of the same jokes, heard the smash of the slap-stick and the splash of the seltzer bottle and saw the Thoroughbreds frisking around like a lot of two-year-olds. In the opening skit, "Looking for a Duke," they put on a few rather good musical hits and appeared to far better advantage than in what is supposed to be a farce, called "The Thoroughbreds," which closes the performance and which no one would miss were it left out. The olio, however, is somewhat above the average, particularly in certain numbers. Willis Weston gives some clever imitations of popular actors, and he scored a hit. "The Unique Trio," Tim Healy and the Clausen siters, did some rattling good dancing, while "The Four Thoroughbreds," Coyne, Ardell, Lawrence and Edwards, were responsible for a really funny skit called "The Mysterious Venus." Mlle. La Toska, as a contortionist, is the nearest aprpoach to an eel that has yet been seen here; the Dancing Mitchells do a number of good turns, and Washburn and Flynn are seen in an act which was more appreciated than it deserved to be.

THEATRE DES NOUVEAUTES.

The Theatre des Nouveautes continues this week its researches into the history of social conditions in France. The post-revolutionary period has given place to that of the Second Empire, and the flourishing of the "bourgeois class" which astonished, amused, and has never assimilated French literature. "La Famille Benoiton," though an early product of the pen of Victorien Sardou, shows all his extraordinary genius for dramatic mechanism. The piece is not without its value as a criticism of our own locality and period, for divested of its local color it remains a scathing and trenchant attack upon the aims and ideals of a society dominated by the love of wealth.

The performance at the Nouveautes was, as always, in the highest degree artistic. The chief opportunities fall to the men of the cast, notably MM. Lombard, Bruneton and Lefrancais. Mme. Varennes was at her best, and the remainder of the cast was entirely satisfactory.

INFLUENCE OF CROMWELL AND PURITAN PARTY

Rev. Dr. W. J. Dawson, a Well-known English Divine, Delivers Lecture in Emmanuel Church.

Rev. W. J. Dawson, D.D., the well known minister of Highbury Congregational Church, London, lectured to a good audience last evening in Emmanuel Church Hall on "Cromwell and the Puritans." Dr. Dawson has been making a lecturing tour of United States cities. He arived in Montreal yesterday morning as the guest of Rev. Dr. Creelman.

The lecturer dealt more closely with that period of English history affected by Oliver Cromwell and the Puritan party and while he exhibited himself a thorough Puritan when criticising other caleses in the state yet he treated his subject in a way that was at once ineresting and instructive. One deduced from the lecture that the Puritans had laid the real foundation of England's greatness by compelling a tolerance of religion. His criticism of the forces that had to be levelled to bring this about was trenchant and powerful.

Dr. Dawson showed the master hand of Cromwell in guiding the affairs of England towards a solution of the problem of Government composed of monarchy and democracy. That result he argued, was a chieved by the genius of the Puritan leader, a man fitted for the times because of his strong personality and his capacity for leadership. He raised the people of England from slavery to freedom, and taught them the value of self-government as opposed to aristocratic.

Dr. Dawson will lecture upon a broader subject this evening, "Savonarola." It is on this that his greater fame as a litterature and historical critic depends, and Emmanuel Church ought to be well filled.

Regarding the lecturer himself he is a man but fifty years of age, the son of a Wesleyan Minister. He entered that university himself, but in the year 1892 went over to the Congregational Church. This is his second visit to Ancoats, having in 1891 been sent to the United States as delegate from the Wesleyan Methodist Church.

EPIDEMIC OF SORE SHROAT

More cases of throat trouble are reported every day. But with Nerviline on hand it is easy to cure quickly. Mr. R. McKenzie, of St. George, writes: "I had a very sore throat and my chest was full of cold and soreness. Every cough hurt me. I was cured quickly by rubbing my chest and throat vigorously with Nerviline, which I also used as a gargle. For emergent sickness I consider Nerviline the best remedy. For twenty years we have used it in our house." Under manufacturer's guarantee of satisfaction, all dealers sell Polson's Nerviline in large 25c bottles.

CITY CAN PROHIBIT TRADING STAMPS

Judge Doherty This Morning Found By-law Was Within the Law

Mr. Justice Doherty this morning handed down a judgment in the famous trading stamp case declaring the city by-law prohibiting the use of trading stamps to be perfectly legal.

The judgment is the culmination of long efforts on the part of the city to put an end to the operation of the trading stamp companies, which were fought to a finish by the latter. The by-law prohibiting the trading stamp business was passed on May 25 last, and ever since then its legality has been disputed before the courts. An interlocutory injunction forbidding the enforcement of this by-law was taken out, and since then the company has bene making every effort to have this injunction declared permanent. It was contended that the by-law was ultra vires of both the city and the Provincial Legislature, that it was an unjust piece of legislation injuriously affecting trade, etc.

In his decision Mr. Justice Doherty finds that the Provincial Legislature had power to legislate in the matter, and could therefore authorize the city to pass a by-law in exactly the terms adopted by the city. He finds that the city by-law therefore is "ultra vires," and regularly adopted by the City Council, and therefore must hold good in law.

He says: "The City Council having obtained the right to pass such a by-law, not by its charter, but by a special act; a month's notice is not necessary; in any event the rule of Council in this regard was suspended by a unanimous vote; further this by-law was merely an amendment of another by-law analagous to this, and upon the same subject."

The result is, of course, that the city's contentions are upheld, and costs of action will be paid by the company.

City Attorney L. J. Ethier, K.C., appeared for the corporation, and Senator Dandurand for Mr. Wilder and the Trading Stamp Co.

GRENADIER GUARDS SHEW YET HIGHER STANDARD

The band of the Grenadier Guards gave further proof of its quality yesterday before large houses at the Arena. In the evening, apparently by request, there was repeated that terrific concatenation of picturesque noises, the "1812" Overture, which took the place on the programme of the overture to "Das Rheingold." The pieces de resistance were two, the "Walkure" fantasia, and the selection from Saint-Saens' "Samson et Dalile." The enunciation of the themes of the former was done with extraordinary strength, clarity and beauty, and the moment's taste that was vouchsafed of the marvellous "Ride of the Valkyries," made one wish that that excerpt could be done in its entirety. The string accompaniment, in imitation of the sweep of storm-wind, was perfectly rendered, and the rhythmic pounding of the great theme beneath it received full value. In the Saint-Saens number, there was a quantity of solo-work of the greatest beauty, especially by the horns, clarionet and cornet. The Garde Republicaine would, doubtless, have made it more French and less sentimental, but could hardly have effected greater sweetness. The encore number, "The Lost Chord," which was heard as a programme number on Saturday, is perhaps the finest example of great solo cornet-playing combined with perfect scoring of the accompaniment that we have ever heard. It does not occur to one for a minute to complain that Sullivan's composition is hackneyed and that cornet settings of songs are vulgar. The First Hungarian Rhapsody of Liszt was a triumph of ensemble, of shading, and of dexterous conducting through the mazes of a bewildering "tempo rubato."

Last night's audience was one of the most fashionable the Arena can gather together. Half the boxes were occupied, all by well-known leaders of fashion. The audience was demonstrative in its approval, and several times demanded double encores.

The band returns to-morrow for farewell concerts, at 4.30 and 8.15, the occasion being the King's Birthday.

RECITAL BY MR. ILLSLEY.

Mr. P. J. Illsley, whose organ recitals at St. George's Church are one of the chief elements of the musical season, announces the first recital of the fifth series, to take place on Thursday, at 8.15.

The programme, annotated in Mr. Illsley's usual highly suggestive style contains several numbers of great interest. Sir Edward Elgar contributes two pieces, both of which were done here somewhat inadequately by the Black Watch Band, and which are representative of that composer's most popular style—the "Salut d' Amour" and the "Pomp and Circumstance" march. H. A. Wheeldon, a member of the younger school of British composers, for information concerning which we are accustomed to look to Mr. Illsley, contributes a "Contemplation," in E flat; and Faulkes is represented by the "Legende and Finale." Lemare's "Cantique d'Amour," and a number of standard selections complete the programme. Master Laurence Lister will sing, and there will be a silver collection.

LIBERAL NOMINATIONS ARE EXCITING MUCH INTEREST

Provincial Elections Far From Dull in Spite of Conservative Abstention—St. Louis Convention To-day—St. Lawrence Chooses Its Man To-morrow—Mr. Monet Wanted.

The Conservative party having disappeared from view, interest in the provincial elections is now centered round the constituencies in which the Liberal nomination is a matter of doubt. The chief among these are St. Lawrence and St. Antoine. An interesting situation also arises in Napierville, where the sitting member will not be re-elected by the Liberals, and the choice of his successor will be left to an unrestricted convention.

In St. Antoine nothing has yet been done towards securing a successor to Mr. Hutchinson, whose retirement is universally regretted. Mr. Peter Lyall and Mr. McDermott, chief chairman of the Liberal party in the division, have decided to leave the calling of the convention to Mr. Hutchinson, and as that gentleman only returned to town this morning nothing has yet been done. Although there is considerable competition for the honor, it is of an eminently peaceful character.

ST. LAWRENCE CONVENTION.

The regular nominating convention for St. Lawrence Division will be held to-morrow night at the Monument National, at 8 o'clock. This was decided upon at a large meeting of the electors of St. Lawrence convened by Mr. Robert Bickerdike, M.P., last Saturday afternoon, and whoever may be chosen at the convention will undoubtedly be the regularly accredited candidate of the Liberal party for the Province of Quebec.

Some confusion has been caused by the peculiar course adopted by Mr. Jas. Cochrane, the late M.P.P. for St. Lawrence.

Mr. Cochrane attended the meeting on Saturday afternoon, in fact presided over it, and raised no objection to the calling of the convention. He, however, proceeded to call a meeting on his own account, which was held last night at the Empire Hall, when those present tendered him the nomination.

ST. LOUIS DIVISION.

In St. Louis division there is being held this afternoon at St. Joseph's Hall an open convention of Liberals, under the auspices of the two Liberal clubs of the Division. This meeting was called by a section of the St. Lawrence (Federal) Liberals, who attended Mr. Bickerdike's meeting on Saturday afternoon. It is to consider the nomination of a candidate for St. Louis, and the name of Mr Godfroy Langlois, will certainly be submitted. Hon. H. B. Rainville, speaker of the late Assembly, will be proposed as the candidate endorsed by Premier Parent. Mr. Langlois friends claim, however, that this endorsation is only conditional upon Mr. Rainville's securing the requisite support among the Liberal electors, and further that at the time when it was extended (it took the form of a telegram on Saturday) there was reason to believe that there would be a Conservative candidate in the field, and that therefore the strictest rules of party discipline would apply. Senator Dandurand will preside at the meeting, and unless something very unforseen happens it seems likely that whoever is named will be the Government candidate.

Hon. Lomer Gouin was at the Government offices this morning. He declined to discuss the status of the various candidates, and said that any differences that might arise would be settled by Premier Parent. Mr. Gouin added that he expected no opposition in his own division.

Mr. Gouin said Hon. Dr. Guerin would certainly be the Government candidate in St. Ann's, and if Ald. Walsh ran it would be as an Opposition candidate. He had not been very long in the Liberal fold, and if he liked to go back to his old love, the Liberal party would be glad to meet him in open combat.

WANT MR. MONET.

A largely signed requisition has been presented to Mr. Dominique Monet, by the people of Napierville, asking him to accept the Provincial nomination. Mr. Monet has promised to give his reply at the Liberal convention, which will be held next Monday.

The sitting member is Mr. Doris, elected as a Liberal, but who has for some time ceased to be in harmony with the Liberal party in that district.

MR. LAFORTUNE TO RUN.

Mr. D. A. Lafortune, announces that he will offer himself as Liberal candidate in Jacques Cartier. He states he will oppose any other candidate unless a Conservative should chance to be put in the field.

MR. COCHRANE'S MEETING.

Some one hundred and fifty citizens of St. Lawrence division obeyed Mr. James Cochrane's summons to meet last night at Empire Hall.

Amongst the electors present were Messrs. Arthur Delisle, Cyrille Laurin, F. B. McNamee, John Scanlan, John O'Leary, Jas. Griffin, F. R. Grothe, T. J. Finn, A. H. Griffin, Jas. Baxter, jr., John Rowan, Jas. Walker, H. Pringle, J. W. White, John T. Whelan, Dr. Globensky, R. A. Foster, Alfred Wiltshire, B. Mercier, H. W. Prendergast, L. Fortier, Ald. Deserres, and J. M. Wilson.

Mr. Cochrane opened with a short speech. "True," he said, "there have differences between myself and a member of the Federal House, but that has nothing to do with the election, being merely a private matter between him and myself."

Mr. Cochrane concluded by saying that if nominated his health would permit him to accept.

Hon. Dr. Guerin and Mr. Laurin were then appointed joint chairmen.

Mr. Cochrane was nominated by Dr. Julias Bachrack, seconded by Mr. H. W. Raphael. The nomination was made unanimous.

WOULD ACT INDEPENDENTLY.

Mr. Cochrane thanked the meeting, and declared he would, if elected, in the future as in the past act independently.

"While giving the Parent Government an honest support for all good measures, I will remain independent—no man in the House votes as independently as I do—and if anything is brought up in the House detrimental to the interests of Montreal, it will have my opposition." (Applause.)

"If there has been any trouble in the ward, it is not my fault—the people must have the right to nominate their own candidate. I understand there is to be another Liberal convention on Wednesday evening. What for? If there is any opposition to me, I am sure the people who called that meeting got an invitation to this. Anyway, you have chosen me unanimously. I accept the nomination, and to-morrow we will start work."

The meeting then adjourned.

CHIEF LEGAULT'S RESIGNATION WAS ACCEPTED; INVESTIGATION ORDERED

Council Was Unanimous in Wishing to Get Rid of the Chief—Different Views as to the Method of the Inquiry.

The City Council yesterday afternoon accepted the resignation of Chief Legault from the command of the police force, and the Police Committee was instructed to confer with the city attorneys on the best way to hold an investigation into the charges of blackmail laid against him.

After the reading of the Mayor's letter advising prompt action, Ald. Couture asked the chairman of the Police Committee to give some explanation of the present occurrence.

Ald. St. Denis remarked that beyond the official papers there was little to say. He then moved, seconded by Ald. Stearns, that the resignation of Chief Legault be accepted.

There was a cry of "Hear! hear" from every part of the chamber, and it looked as if the incident were ended, when Ald. J. T. Marchand rose and made an interesting speech. "Chief Legault," said Ald. Marchand, "has spoken as if a conspiracy had been formed against him. If there was a conspiracy, there must be conspirators, and I must be one of them. When I became a member of the Police Committee last spring, I was told that the police practised blackmail and divided up the proceeds among themselves. Seeing that this was the reputation of the department, I went and saw Chief Carpenter, who said he had heard these stories, but had no proof. It was decided to put Detective Guerin on the case, and in July he secured evidence that money was distributed among certain officers.

"When I came back from Europe I waited for an opportunity, and then handed the evidence to Recorder Poirier. As had been remarked in court by Mr. Wilson, only the edge of the veil had been lifted. It is my intention to tear it off and see what is behind, but to do that, a thorough investigation is necessary, with the Recorders at the head of it."

Ald. Couture made an amendment that the Council should not accept Chief Legault's resignation until an investigation was held. Ald. Payette agreed with this view.

Ald. St. Denis said that the last investigation had cost $2,000 and was useless. He did not want any more of them.

DIRTIEST ON RECORD.

Ald. Gallery—"This is a very peculiar case and the dirtiest that has been before the Council. If it is proved, every member of the Council should take a hand in the affair. It is a disgrace that any official who has a salary of $3,500 a year, should accept $20 a week from women of ill-fame We should do all we can to make an example. Send Legault across the river for five years, if nothing else."

Ald. Chausse wanted the investigation left in the hands of the Police Committee.

Ald. Sadler—"I expect that the Police Committee will do its duty in this case, because there is something behind all this which they know of. If half of what was stated in court is true, Legault should not be allowed to resign, but be dismissed."

Ald. Lavallee then made another amendment to dismiss Chief Legault.

Ald. Clearihue—"I cannot vote to accept the Chief's letter of resignation as it stands. Legault says that he has done his duty honorably. If you accept the resignation, you accept this statement with it. If Legault is not guilty of these charges, the Council should come to his rescue. But if he has done wrong, he should be dismissed."

Ald. Sadler remarked that it would be as well to suspend the Chief and investigate.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe rose to a point of order and inquired if Chief Legault had been suspended.

Mayor Laporte replied that he had, and that Sub-Chief Campeau had taken charge of the department temporarily.

Ald. Payette wanted a royal commission to probe the matter to the bottom.

Mayor Laporte made a long speech in which he urged the acceptance of the resignation, so that a new chief might be apointed without delay. There was too much risk of having the force disorganized.

Finally a motion to the following effect was carried.

"That the resignation of Chief Legault be accepted and that the Police Committee receive instructions to consult the City Attorneys as to the best means to make an investigation into the accusations brought before the Recorder's Court against Chief Legault and other officers, or on anything else, conected with the general administration of the department, and that the committee report to the Council for the meeting next Monday."

Ald. Lavallee remarked that the committee should lose no time in examining candidates for the position of chief.

CONSPIRACY CASES WERE POSTPONED

To Give the Police Time to Serve the Remaining Warrant

Six men from St. Antoine Division were arraigned before Judge Desnoyers this morning charged by Mr. E. Howard, advocate, with conspiracy to procure personation and other electoral frauds in St. Antoine. The case is being pushed by Ald. Ames, M.P., who attended court this morning accompanied by his solicitors, Messrs. Duclos, K.C., and Marechal, K.C. The prisoners were represented by Messrs. Desaulniers and Decarie.

The case was not proceeded with, however, as only six out of the ten for whom warrants were issued, had been arested.

The men who appeared were George Bissonette, H. Levesque, L. S. F. Aubertin, J. Hurtubise, A. Beauvais and L. O. St. Jacques.

In order to give the detectives an opportunity to arrest the other four Judge Desnoyers enlarged the hearing until Wednesday, Nov. 16th next, at eleven o'clock, liberating the prisoners on bail, each one having to put up a personal bond of $800, and two sureties of $400, or $1600 each.

A plea was then put in to have the money taken from the prisoners refunded, and Sub-Chief Charpentier produced a valise with a number of large envelopes full of money, including the $595 taken from Bissonette. Aubertin, being the head of a household was allowed his money—$30—back, but the rest had to wait.

Similar charges against T. Beaudoin M. Campeau, A. Barli, J. E. Beauregard, A. Beauchemin, J. E. Thibault and N. Seguin, of Maisonneuve will be heard this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The case against J. E. Merizzi was dropped this morning.

MR. H. C. WAIDE TELLS OF HIS HEART TROUBLE.

Suffered for Three Years—St. James Wafers Cured After Everything Else Had Failed.

Dursley, Scotland, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Mr. H. C. Waide, of this town, has had an experience which should be of value to those who have trouble with their hearts. He says.

"For three years I had what I supposed at first to be the symptoms of heart disease. The action of the heart was very irregular and seemed at times suspended.

"Consultations with physicians and the use of various medicines proved of no effect.

"Then a friend recommended St. James Wafers, and I finally tried them, with the result that they effected a complete cure."

Irregularity of the heart's action is often due to stomach trouble, for which St. James Wafers are the ideal remedy.

LATE CITY HAPPENINGS

Xavier Belhumeur, a laborer, aged seventy-five years, fell dead of heart disease last evening about seven o'clock, at the corner of Amherst and Cherrier Streets.

Robert Latimer, the young man who was badly scalded two weeks ago by falling into a vat of boiling water at Carsley's establishment, died this morning at the Royal Victoria Hospital. An inquest will be held tomorrow afternoon at the hospital by Deputy Coronor Biron.

James Laffell, a moulder, aged about thirty-five, was struck by an engine last night at the Grand Trunk Railway crossing at Aqueduct Street, sustaining severe internal injuries and cuts on the head. He was taken to the General Hospital in an unconscious condition. The case is considered to be critical.

A case of suicide was reported last night to the coroner, which is supposed to have had its origin in a love affair. Henri Normandin, of St. Constant, a farmer, twenty-two years of age, committed suicide by hanging himself in his father's barn. Normandin disappeared from his father's house yesterday morning and early in the afternoon his body was found hanging in the barn. Coroner Macmahon went to St. Constant last night and pronounced the case one of suicide.

The Doctor's Verdict: Death in Thirty Days

The Doctors Told Mr. Frank Kellar, of Rock Island, Ill., He Was in Last Stages of Bright's Disease and Could Not Possibly Live a Month Longer. But

Warner's Safe Cure

Completely Cured Him in Sixty Days

MR. FRANK KELLAR.

Such a thing as a cure of Bright's Disease or Diabetes was practically unknown until Warner discovered his celebrated "Safe Cure" thirty-five years ago. Since then hundreds of thousands of cases have been cured and are living testimonials to the success of this wonderful medicine in curing all manner of kidney troubles.

"I was in the last stages of Bright's Disease," says Mr. Kellar, "suffering intense agony, and was bloated beyond any semblance of my former self. Doctors said they could do nothing for me, my kidneys were in terrible shape, and I'd die in a month. But on the advice of a friend I began taking Warner's Safe Cure. I felt better from the first, and am rejoiced to tell you that in two months I was completely cured, and for over a year now have had no recurrence of the trouble. My general health was never better. I owe my life to your great medicine, and in justice to my fellow beings, want every man, woman and child to know they can be healed." 711 12th St., Rock Island, Ill., Aug. 12, '04.

The subtle and treacherous nature of kidney disease is such that nine victims out of ten do not realize they are afflicted until the last stages have been reached. Dull, grinding pains in the back, side or head; rheumatic twinges and swellings; loss of energy and appetite; sleeplessness, inflammation of the urinary organs; painful and too frequent passing of the water; female troubles, all indicate that your kidneys have been badly affected for months. If there is any doubt in your mind about your condition

MAKE THIS UNFAILING TEST AT HOME: Pour a little morning urine in a bottle or glass and let it stand 24 hours. If a sediment forms, or it's cloudy or contains floating particles, your kidneys are in serious shape and need immediate treatment with Warner's Safe Cure, which destroys the disease germs, strengthens the weakened and enfeebled organs and gives new life and activity to every part of the body. Price $1 a bottle, at all druggists, or direct.

WARNER'S SAFE PILLS MOVE THE BOWELS GENTLY AND AID A SPEEDY CURE.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE

To convince every sufferer from diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, that Warner's Safe Cure will cure them, a trial bottle will be sent absolutely free, postpaid to any address. Also free doctor's advice, and a medical booklet which tells all about these diseases, with a prescription for each, and contains many of the thousands of testimonials received daily from grateful patients who have been cured by Safe Cure. All you have to do is write Warner's Safe Cure Co., 44 Lombard St., Toronto, Ont., and mention name of this paper. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed by the publisher.

Westmount Ratepayers Will Be Asked to Provide Own Lighting

At the meeting of the Westmount Town Council last evening, the new by-law proposing that the municipality take over and operate the electric lighting, etc., of the town, passed its third reading. The matter will be presented to the ratepayers for their sanction on December 3.

There was practically unanimity in the Council regarding the advisability of the scheme. The discussion was not directed to the altering of the plan submitted, but rather to the choosing of a date for the ballot. Councillor Galbraith and several other members urging prompt action.

The contract existing with the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Company expires in December, 1906. If the citizens sanction the new measure, Westmount will instal an electric plant sufficiently large to supply the town with light and power. A garbage incinerator is also to be put in, which will aid in supplying the power to run the plant.

The expense of installing the plant will be met by a loan of $225,000 raised by debentures payable in forty years and bearing interest at four per cent. per annum. The debentures will be for $1,000 each.

In moving the second reading of the by-law, Councillor Plow said that complaints from the citizens and Council about the price of light had been received with bad grace by the company at present contracting, and it had been the duty of the Council to look for a remedy. At present, about fifty Canadian towns had municipally-owned electric plants, and of these all yet heard from were running them at a profit. Westmount consumed an unusually large amount of power, so that complete success was to be looked for.

Councillor Plow produced a pamphlet issued anonymously to "The citizens of Westmount," apparently with a view to discourage the idea of municipal ownership. Mayor Cross remarked, "The author thought it would be more influential without his name attached."

In giving his opinion of the measure, Mayor Cross remarked that while personally he would like to see a healthy private competition, yet, that not being probable, the Council must act on the petition sent them by the best citizens of the town, and put in their own plant immediately. Another point was that Westmount could not hope to be permitted to dump its garbage in adjacent municipalities. The town was obliged to make provision for that, and it would be a useful adjunct to the new electric plant, as the incineration of garbage would provide power enough to light the town. The Mayor cited as an example of the position of the town under the existing regime the fact that the price of lights one year had been known to be over double what it was for the same lights in a previous year.

Councillor Lee drew attention to the fact that the town was now paying enough for light to defray the interest on the money required to build an electric plant.

Councillor Galbraith could not see that the matter needed discussion. If the town could save twenty-five per cent. on the price of their light annually, they could save enough to wipe out the whole debt in forty years.

Councillor MacLagan dealt with the garbage question, pointing to the eminent success attained by incinerators in England and elsewhere.

The measure passed its third reading by the unanimous vote of Council, and will be presented to the ratepayers on December 3.

It was moved by Councillor Lee, on behalf of the Roads Committee, that the town borrow the sum of $100,000 at four per cent., repayable in fourteen years, to build new sidewalks and pay off the debt of $20,000 already borrowed for the purpose. The motion carried.

Councillor Galbraith moved, with Councillor Knox as seconder, that a resolution of sympathy at the death of D. J. Decarie, late Mayor of Notre Dame de Graces, be passed, and that a copy be sent to the family and to the secretary of Notre Dame de Graces.

SIR JAMES KITSON WELL SATISFIED

Distinguished Steel Manufacturer Thinks Elections Will Steady Trade.

Sir James Kitson, Bart, with his son and two daughters, arrived in Montreal yesterday from Ottawa and left by the two o'clock train in the afternoon for Quebec, whence he will proceed to New York, en route for England.

Sir James is one of the distinguished iron and steel manufacturers of the day. He has been attending the meetings of the Iron and Steel Institute at New York, afterwards visiting Pittsburg, as a guest of the American convention of Steel Trusts in the United States. He himself is a past president of the Iron and Steel Institute.

Talking to a representative of The Herald he said: "I'm finished with the steel business and am now on my way home, but I want to see Quebec first. I have enjoyed my visit immensely. I like very much what I have seen of Canada. It is a great country."

Sir James is an ardent politician, and of Liberal views. He is president of the National Liberal Federation of England. Regarding the general election in Canada he said that the result would be received with great satisfaction by business men in the Old Country. It would steady business dealings. He thought that Canadians could now look forward to a long term of great prosperity.

WHAT PREMIER BALFOUR SAID UPON THE ANGLO-RUSSIAN DIFFICULTY

Extracts From the Speech in Which He Announced What Points at Issue Would be Settled by International Enquiry.

From the full text of the speech of Premier Balfour as to Anglo-Russian relations relative to the North Sea outrage, made at Southampton on Oct. 28, we extract the following:

I think your chairman has struck the right note. It is by no will of mine that this great assembly coincides with a moment of national difficulty. Long ago it was arranged that the representatives of Conservative opinion throughout the country should meet here to-day. Since the arrangements were made which have brought together within these walls the great gathering I am now addressing there have been events which have stirred to their depths the feeling of every inhabitant of the United Kingdom, of every subject of his Majesty beyond the seas—(cheers)—of all the great English-speaking people of the world, and I think I may add the general sentiment of civilized Europe. (Cheers.) In such circumstances as these I should certainly be doing violence to my own sentiment of what is appropriate, and I think I should be doing violence to your own sentiments of what is appropriate, if I dragged into the larger issues thus suddenly opened up any question, however important it might be, which dealt with any subject on which Britons of all political creeds, however varied their opinions on other subjects, are not in hearty agreement. (Hear, hear.)

THE RUSSIAN ADMIRAL.

After alluding to the support given to the Government by the leaders of the Opposition, and public opinion in the United Kingdom and the Empire, Mr. Balfour, in dealing with the insinuation of the Russian admiral that he had really seen and been attacked by torpedo boats, said:

I should like to ask something about these torpedo boats that made a sudden attack. The Russian fleet was thirty miles out of its course—(cheers)—when it went to the Dogger Bank. It had every reason to know that, because every seaman does know that on the Dogger Bank you would in all probability find a large fleet of vessels engaged in the peaceable pursuit of trawling. I may be permitted—every seaman knows it—(cheers)—to emphasize that general statement by reading one or two sentences which I have had translated from the Russian official sailing directions. In page thirteen of these directions you will find these words: "The inexhaustible quantity of fish, especially cod, on the Dogger Bank, attracts hundreds of fishing boats, which render navigation difficult, especially by night"—(laughter)—and you will find on page 242 a sentence which runs as follows, or part of which, the material part of which, runs as follows: "The Dogger Bank, which is always crowded with fishing boats." (Laughter.) The Russian admiral went thirty miles out of his course to a spot which he knew was crowded with fishing boats, and there he found lying in wait among those fishing boats two torpedo craft. Why were these—why did the commanders of these two torpedo craft choose that particular station for preparing their attack on the Russian fleet? Why did they choose a station which from the nature of the case involved publicity? The very fact that the Dogger Bank is crowded with fishermen — and fishermen of all nationalities—would make such an operation absurd on the face of it, and if these mysterious craft wanted, as I presume they did, to conceal their very existence from the public eye, would they have gone over the whole North Sea and chosen alone among all the spots open to them that one where publicity was inevitable and certain? And in the second place, if they had wanted to lie in wait for the Russian fleet, by what extraordinary powers of prevision did they foresee that the Russian fleet would come thirty miles out of their ordinary course? (Loud cheers.) I think myself justified — indeed more than justified—in expressing publicly my disbelief in the existence of these phantom Japanese ships, not merely because, in the opinion of the experts whom I have had the opportunity of consulting, the nearest Japanese ship of war happens to be 14,000 miles away, but because, as I have said, if two Japanese torpedo craft are really hunting the North Sea, or were hunting it until one of them was sunk, they must have a base, and unless the suggestion is that the base is France or Holland or other countries bordering on the North Sea, I presume it is believed by the admiral—not, I am convinced, for a moment, by the Russian Government—but it is evidently believed by the admiral that we have been giving them, contrary to our duty, our plain duty as neutrals, that we have been providing them with a base. It is pure fancy. (Cheers.) Now, in an island like Britain, where every craft that comes to our shores is scanned, her character interpreted, her neutrality known, in a country where all that is public property and where with all our merits we are not good at keeping a secret—(laughter) — is it conceivable by the most hostile witness that we should, for I do not know how many days, weeks, or months have been harboring Japanese sailors and Japanese ships of war without knowing it ourselves, without the Russians knowing it, or without its being dreamt of in any part of the civilized world? I enter my most emphatic protest, as a member of the Government which is responsible in these matters, against an allegation which affects, I think, our honor as neutrals. (Cheers.)

NEUTRAL RIGHTS.

Another difficulty was this, that the Russian admiral, if the accounts of his views which have apeared in many sources of information be at all correct, has a theory of the rights and duties of a belligerent Fleet as against neutrals which really makes the high seas a place of public danger. Now we who, as your chairman has reminded us, are the guardians, or are among other great nations the first of the guardians of the maritime laws which ought to bind civilized countries, must be the first to admit that there are circumstances in the theatre of war in which it is inevitable that neutrals should be put to inconvenience, or, if they be rash, even in danger. I do not say in the China Seas, for instance, that it is possible for the Japanese or the Russian Fleets to treat the ordinary commerce of the world as if war was not going on. Let us grant that, with the proviso that such powers must be exercised with the utmost discretion, and that reckless or indifferent cruelty ought to be avoided by every man who either has the interests of civilization or the interests of his own country at heart. But while we have to admit that there may be circumstances in certain theatres of war-like operations where the neutral must be cautious in his movements, are we to allow, can the civilized world allow for a moment, that all channels of commerce from St. Petersburg to Vladivostock, that all the oceans, the Pacific Ocean and the Atlantic Ocean, all the narrow ways of commerce like the English Channel or the Red Sea, that in all these, situated thousands of miles from the theatre of military operations, an admiral is justified and is to pass unscathed, unchallenged, unpunished—who uses his suposed rights as a belligerent to the danger of the peaceful neutral carrying on his ordinary avocations? ("No, no.")

I am glad to think that on these views the Russian Government agrees with us, and that they take a view on the question which I am sure commends itself to other civilizations. They have given or are giving orders which shall prevent any recurrence of the tragedy which has filled our hearts with sorrow, and I think the hearts of most of those who have heard of it abroad with something approaching indignation. (Hear, hear). I have nearly done, because I have surveyed the case from the beginning to the end, and I have shown you what it is that the Government think we ought to obtain, and I have indicated to you that what they think they ought to obtain we believe that we have obtained. (Cheers).

THE AGREEMENT.

The Russian Ambassador authorizes a statement to the following effect. The Russian Government on hearing of the North Sea incident at once expressed its profound regrets, and the Rusian Emperor telegraphed to the King in the same sense. The Russian Government also promised the most liberal compensation. The Russian Government have now ordered the detention at Vigo of that part of the Fleet which was concerned in the incident—in order that the naval authorities may ascertain what officers were responsible for it. These officers and any material witnesses will not proceed with the Fleet on its voyage to the Far East. An inquiry will be instituted into the facts, and we and the Russian Government are agreed on an International Commission of the kind provided for by The Hague Convention—I should say that that has nothing to do with arbitration, that it is the constitution of an International Commission to find out facts—and any person found guilty by this tribunal will be tried and punished adequately. (Cheers.) The Russian Government undertake that precaution will be taken to guard against the recurrence of such incidents. Special instructions for this object will be issued.

TRIBUTE TO RUSSIA.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, I think we must admit that the Russian Government have shown an enlightened desire that truth and justice in this matter shall prevail. Only a few hours ago I should myself have taken a very gloomy view of a peaceful solution of this question. I think the Emperor of Russia has shown himself an enlightened judge of what is right in this matter as between nation and nation. (Cheers). We, after all have asked nothing of others that I believe we should not gladly have granted had we been in their place. We have shown no desire, and I do not think such desire was present in the heart of any man, to take advantage of what might perhaps be though Russia's difficulties to enforce our demands. We have appealed simply to justice, to equity, to the principles which ought to govern good relations between nation and nation, and we have not appealed in vain. (Cheers).

TORONTO'S FINEST RESIDENCE.

Undoubtedly the finest residence in Ontario is that of Mr. Cawthra Mulock, son of Sir William Mulock, who some time ago inherited the vast sum of three million dollars from the late Mrs. Cawthra. The house is a veritable castle of stone on Jarvis street, and is sumptuously furnished with works of art. The latest addition is an art piano by Heintzman & Co., somewhat similar to that recently sold to Mayor Laporte by C. W. Lindsay, Limited, sole agents here.—Adv.

MR. J. PLOUFFE NEW MAYOR OF ST. LOUIS

Mr. Jos. Plouffe was to-day elected mayor of the Town of St. Louis, by acclamation, to succeed Mayor Gelinas, who had resigned.

The nominations were held at Town Hall from 10 to 11 o'clock and it was only in the last few minutes that Mr. Plouffe's friends deposited the necessary nomination papers. At 11 o'clock the secretary-treasurer declared Mr. Plouffe elected by acclamation.

The new mayor, who is a resident of West Ward, No. 1, has for a number of years past been prominently identified with municipal matters in the town, and for a number of terms represented the West Ward in the Council. He was placed in nomination by a number of the leading property holders of the town, including ex-Mayor Gelinas. He will preside at his first meeting of the Council next Monday night.

PROVINCES LOST APPEAL.

Privy Council Has Announced Decision Regarding Representation Appeal.

London, November 8.—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has dismissed the application of the Attorney-General of the province of Prince Edward Island v. the Attorney General for the province of New Brunswick v. the Attorney-General for the Dominion of Canada. These were appeals from decisions of the Supreme Court of Canada on special cases submitted for the opinion of that tribunal by the Governor-General in council on the subject of the representation of the province of Prince Edward Island of New Brunswick in the House of Commons of Canada, which representation by a recent act was proposed to be reduced, and were heard on July 21 last.

"Eat Plenty of Fruit."

That's what the Doctors say when one is constipated. Because fruit acts on the liver, causing it to excrete bile which aids digestion and increases the peristaltic action of the bowels, thus prevents constipation. But eating fresh fruit alone, won't CURE. The laxative principle is too weak and in too small quantity.

Fruit-a-tives or Fruit Liver Tablets are the tonic and laxative virtues of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, many times intensified—by our secret process of combining the juices—and made into tablets.

"Fruit-a-tives" act gently and naturally—tone up the liver—greatly increase the flow of bile—effectively cure Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache and Constipation—build up and strengthen the whole system.

PE-RU-NA IS A HOUSEHOLD REMEDY OF SUPERIOR VALUE SAYS DR. McLEWIN.

The Doctor's Wife Gives Her Personal Experience with Peruna.

DR. E. W. McLEWIN, 67 Cobourg St., Ottawa, Can., writes: "I have had ample opportunity to observe the curative value of Peruna, especially in chronic cases of catarrh of the head, respiratory organs or the stomach. Catarrh is as a rule simply a prolonged cold which affects the mucous membrane lining the lungs or any organ affected, Peruna is an effective remedy as it acts on the vasa-motor system of nerves with benefit. It increases the tone of the blood vessels and causes them to act in their normal healthy condition. I have been much pleased with the cures that have come under my notice, and am satisfied that you have placed a remedy before the suffering which is at once valuable, reliable and destined to become very popular with the great masses of people who have small means and want to secure a remedy which they can depend on. I therefore consider it a household remedy of superior value."—Ernest W. McLewin.

Mrs. McLewin Also Adds Hr Exprience With Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Dr. E. W. McLewin, 67 Cobourg St., Ottawa, Ontario, writes:

"Peruna gives quick relief in cases of protracted colds whether it settles in the head or on the lungs. I was for several years particularly susceptible to colds, sometimes my head was stopped up, affected my hearing, causing bad breath and frequent headache, or it would go on the lungs, causing inflammation and soreness, which caused me much suffering and anxiety.

"I never found a remedy which would break up a cold as effectively as Peruna. Within a few days I noticed a change and was usually well within a week or ten days. Three times within the last two years I have had reason to be thankful to Peruna. I now find that if I take a couple of doses when I have been exposed to inclement weather it prevents my catching cold.

"I therefore value Peruna very highly and am glad to endorse it."—Mrs. Dr. E. W. McLewin.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results fro mthe use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Clean, Mucous Membranes.

Anyone who has taken Peruna has clean mucous membranes.

Anyone who has clean mucous membranes is not liable to catch cold, cannot have catarrh and need not fear catching the grip or having malaria or contracting any contagious disease.

As the skin protects the outside of the body so the mucous membrane protects the cavities of the body, that is to say, if it is a clean and healthy mucous mebrane.

A congested or catarrhal mucous membrane, a mucous membrane dotted with little ulcers or spotted with canker sores will not protect the body.

Such people always have colds, are sure to have the grip and would acquire any contagious disease that is going in spite of all antiseptics and precautions.

Peruna makes dirty mucous membrane clean.

Peruna makes diseased mucous membranes well.

This not only rids the patient of catarrh but fortifies the body against the reverses of all climates, epidemics and contagious diseases.

Medical Examiner U. S. Treasury.

Dr. Llewellyn Jordan, Medical Examiner of the U. S. Treasury Department, graduate of Columbia College, and who served three years at West Point, has the following to say of Peruna:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from your wonderful remedy. One short month has brought forth a vast change and I now consider myself a well man after months of suffering. Fellow sufferers, Peruna will cure you."—Dr. Llewellyn Jordan.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BABY.

A large number of well-known figures in the legal and political world attended the funeral of Mrs. Baby, which took place yesterday morning from her late residence to St. James Cathedral, where the body was received by Mgr. Racicot and mass celebrated by Canon Martin. The coffin was smothered in flowers, the testimonials of deceased's relatives and friends.

The chief mourners were:—Hon. Justice Baby, Messrs. Rene, Henri, Arthur, Charles and Lucien Baby, Patrick Guy, A. E. G. Austin, nephews; Louis Selby, C. D. Selby, Charles Lamothe, Hon. Judge Bossy, of Quebec; Simeon Lesage, of Quebec; Charles de Lanaudiere, Hertel Larocque, Rocquebrune Larocque, Rene Larocque, Jules Laframboise, Edouard Laframboise, Hon. MRS. MACKAY'S FUNERAL.

The funeral took place yesterday of Mrs. Stephen Mackay, mother of Dr. Mackay, who is identified with the curative treatment of chronic drunks here and at Quebec. Mrs. Mackay, who was eighty-six years of age, has been affected with heart trouble, so that while in a measure, death came with some suddenness, her demise was not altogether unexpected.

The funeral took place from the house at 1130 St. Denis Street, to St. Jean Baptiste Church, where requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Auclair, assisted by the deacon and sub-deacon. Amongst the chief mourners present were: Dr. John Mackay, Dr. William Mackay, sons; Mr. Ernest Mackay, Mr. Stephen Mackay, Mr. A. Dansereau, son-in-law. The interment took place at St. Eustche.

Kingston, Ont.—Mr. A. J. Small, Toronto, lessee of the Kingston Opera House, has made an offer of $20,000 for it.

Toronto—The body of the man killed by a street car at London on Friday night has been identified as that of a carpenter named John MacDonald.

Quebec.—The ministers in all the Protestant churches on Sunday evening protested against the Grenadier Guards' band giving Sunday concerts.

Ottawa.—A preliminary report by Dr. R. W. Ells, of the Geological Survey, on the Quilchesma coal basin, Nicola Valley, B.C., is another evidence of the wonderful extent of the mineral resources of the Pacific province.

Peterboro—The Town Council will submit a by-law at the municipal election in January as to whether or not Peterboro shall seek incorporation as a city. The town's population is now 14,300.

Kingston, Ont.—President George C. Sawyer, of the Thousand Islands Park Association, will petition Congress for an appropriation to clear the St. Lawrence river channel to allow larger boats to land at the park.

Ottawa.—The details of the purchase by expropriation of the property of Mr. James A. Smart, at Lansdowne Park, have been concluded and a check for $11,500 has been made out by the city treasurer for Mr. Smart.

North Sydney, N.S.—The steamer Murin, bound from New York to the Bay of Islands, Nfld., for a cargo of coper ore, put into port yesterday for repairs. During the gale her smokestack was blown off and several of her boats smashed.

Newboro, Ont.—F. Spicer and D. McCaskill are supposed to have been drowned while crossing Newboro Lake. Their boat was found capsized. A number of citizens are out grappling for the bodies, but so far have not been successful.

Guelph, Ont.—Rev. J. Weeks, brother of Rev. W. W. Weeks, of Toronto, and for ten years pastor of Trinity Baptist Church here, tendered his resignation to his congregation on Sunday. Mr. Weeks has resigned to take a charge in Nova Scotia.

Ottawa.—Mayor Ellis has sent to the City Council an elaborate communication recommending that steps be taken by the city with a view to acquiring the Ottawa Street Railway. It was referred to a special committee to report.

Fredericton, N.B.—Rev. W. C. Gaynor, president of New Brunswick Historical Society, has received a parchment representing that he has been elected a corresponding member of the Wisconsin Historical Society. This is a famous organization and one which has done much valuable work.

Ottawa.—Messrs. F. B. Wade, Robert Reid, and W. Young, commissioners for the construction of the national transcontinental railway, have arrived from Winnipeg. They have established a district office in Winnipeg, from which point operations east and west will be directed.

Halifax, N.S.—A circular was read in the Catholic churches from Archbishop O'Brien, in which his Grace directed that in this diocese on and after Jan. 1 choirs at high mass, vespers, and benediction of the blessed sacrament shall be composed exclusively of men or boys.

Guelph, Ont.—Frank Swartzenberg, of Buffalo, who was run over on Friday by a C.P.R. train at Guelph Junction while coming to visit his mother, who is ill, died at the General Hospital. An operation had been performed for the amputation of his left arm and foot, and he succumbed shortly after. An inquest will probably be held in Halton County, where the accident occurred.

EWAN HOLME PLAYS THE GERHARD HEINTZMAN PIANO.

Mr. Ewan Holme, the celebrated English pianiste with the Grenadier Guards band, uses the Gerhard Heintzman piano, the instrument used at the Arena, and is from the warerooms of J. W. Shaw & Co., 2274 St. Catherine street, the sole agency for Gerhard-Heintzman pianos in Montreal.—Adv.

CITY DEATH RATE.

For the first time in many months infantile diseases takes second place in the list of causes of mortality in Montreal. Last week there were only eleven deaths under that head, while consumption claimed twelve victims. This is a contrast from the hot summer months, when in one week no less than 131 children succumbed.

There were ninety-two deaths in the city last week, of which seventy-five were Catholics, fifteen Protestants, and two Jews. The other causes of mortality were as follows:—Pneumonia, seven; broncho-pneumonia, six; bronchitis, five; pulmonary congestion, three; diphtheria, three; typhoid and measles, one each.

There were sixty-four births registered at the City Hall last week, twenty-seven males and thirty-seven females.

PRESENTATION TO QUEEN'S.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Grant Hall at Queen's University was presented to the University last evening. Rev. James Wallace, M.A., of Lindsay, related the history of the hall and Mr. W. H. Lovell, vice-president of the Alma Mater Society, handed the building over to Chancellor Fleming, C.M.G. Then addresses were made by Mr. Fred. Hamilton, B.A., of Ottawa, representing the family of the late Principal Grant; Hon. W. Harty, representing the subscribers, and Principal Gordon, for the University. Prof. John McNaughton delivered the inaugural lecture. The Queen's Aulmni Conference will be in session in the hall all week.

WAR SHIP BUILDER SEES REFORM AHEAD

Mr. Vikers Declares Future Batteries Will be 12-Inch and 9.2-Inch.

London, Nov. 8.—Mr. Albert Vickers, of Vickers' Sons & Mason, made an important announcement about naval batteries at the Mayoral banquet at Barrow-in-Furness.

"I am convinced," he said, "that the time has come when only two calibres of guns, 12-inch and 9.2-inch, will be used together with quick firing guns for repelling destroyer and torpedo boat attacks.

"What I should like to see and what I think I shall see in the near future is a battleship with, say, a dozen 12-inch guns using armor piercing capped shot, strongly protected by thick armor plate and with a good twenty knot speed."

Dorchester, N.B.—Mr. Elijah, Ayer, a wel lknown citizen, died recently. He had reached the age of sixty-eight years. In court circles he was a familiar figure, having served in the capacity of court crier and constable for a number of years. He leves a widow, four daughters and three sons.

NO ARGUMENT NEEDED.

Every Sufferer from Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches do Not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucus membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of the stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucus membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Red Gum, Blood Root and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N.Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers, and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist, and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask, and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved, until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long-looked for catarrh cure.

A STATE RAILWAY AN IMPOSSIBILITY

Canada Holds the Key of This Problem of Mutual Fiscal Policy.

"Canada is the one colony that holds the key to the solution of the problem of a fiscal policy for the whole Empire. Once Canada and the Mother Country have agreed on the basis of an arrangement, it will be very easy to come to an agreement with the other colonies.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier is pre-eminently the man who can plead the cause of the colonies in the negotiations with the Mother Country.

"It has now reached the point that England must come to one of two things. Either there must be absolute free trade or there must be a fiscal policy for the Mother Country and all parts of the Empire."

The above statements were included in an interesting interview accorded The Herald by Mr. H. Bisseker, chairman of the Amalgamated Conservative Association of Birmingham, England, who is at the Windsor Hotel, after completing a tour of all the colonies of the Empire in order to study the possibilities of a preferential trade policy within the Empire from the colonies' standpoint.

"And after my trip," added Mr. Bisseker, "including, as it did, an opportunity of conferring with the leading men of the various colonies, I must confess that I am most heartily in favor of Premier Laurier's attitude in this all-important issue.

"But one thing England must realize is that an agreement should be made with Canada in the near future. Your country is certainly going ahead by leaps and bounds and with the Government's policy of immigration Canada is getting the pick of the world. No colony gives the promise of rapid advancement that Canada does, and if England does not take advantage of the present opportunity to make an arrangement, Canada may later on say it is too late, that she is well able now to look after her own interests.

"During your Federal election I was very much interested in seeing how the people would take to the project of a state-owned railway. Australia's experience with a state-owned railway has shown that such a project is an impossibility."

THE HERALD

Established 1808.

AN EXCELLENT RECORD.

The one good reason Mr. Flynn has for not fighting the Parent Government is not mentioned in his manifesto. The record of that government, like the record of the Marchand governorship which preceded it, is too good to be effectively challenged. Neither Mr. Parent in the brief statement he made at Quebec nor Mr. Gouin in his address to the electors of St. James last night, had any difficulty in establishing that fact. The lines laid down by Mr. Marchand before the elections of 1897 have been strictly adhered to, and by that strict adherence the Government has won the confidence of the people.

Up to the time Mr. Marchand took office, the tendency was to spend and spend and spend, careless about the continued growth of the public debt, careless into what difficulties, both economic and political, the Province might be led. Mr. Marchand boldly delivered his opinion that to protect both the credit and the autonomy of the Province debt increase must cease. It did cease. Expenditure has been met by income, with almost every year a handsome sum to the good, something that was previously unheard of. Business methods were applied to the due collection of revenue and watchful care exercised over all expenditure. The results have been the best that could be wished. And what has been done is only the measure of what has been resisted, for the Government has been under almost constant pressure to authorize expenditures looking towards development of the outer areas of the Province, expenditures which would be amply justified if there was the money to spare, but which had to be denied while the finances of the Province continue as they have been.

Nevertheless, much has been done, large sums have been expended, but always out of income. Hundreds of parishes have been raised in what was a wilderness, roads have been constructed, bridges built, railways assisted. But always the equilibrium of the finances has been maintained. More money has been spent upon education than ever before, more upon agricultural development. Public buildings of the first necessity, like the addition to the Montreal Court House, have been supplied. The Government's record has been good, good beyond the possibility of successful attack, and Mr. Flynn and his counsellors know it.

The one weak spot in the Legislature lies ouside what has hitherto been considered the province of the Executive Government and the official Opposition, that is to say, the field of private legislature. That is the one reproach, and in Montreal the Liberal party at all events is addressing itself to having the reproach removed.

MUST NOT EVEN VOTE.

It seems that not alone are Conservative members of the Legislature and would-be Conservative candidates to abstain from the present electoral contest, but that electors who rank themselves as Conservatives are to stay away from the polls in case there should be a contest of any kind. Orders to this effect have been issued by Le Journal, and as Mr. Flynn's manifesto only repeated after three days what Le Journal said the first day, we may assume that Le Journal's interpretation of its own plan of campaign is the correct one. That paper bases its defence of the Flynn tactics upon the action of those Italian Catholics who, at the request of the Pope, have repeatedly refrained from taking part in the Government of Italy either by offering for office or by voting for those who do offer. "Neither electors nor elected, proclaims Le Journal.

Yesterday's announcement was startling enough, marking as it did, the voluntary extinction of the Conservative party as a Parliamentary agency, but this mandate to a section of the electors to stay away from the polls is something for which even those who sympathize with Mr. Flynn in his predicament will hardly be prepared. As it is there is said to be a good deal of disappointment over what has been done. Mr. Leblanc, for example, thinks he could again be elected in Laval, where he has carried on his organization from year to year. He does not like to quit, very sagely inquiring where he is to be when the party returns to a normal frame of mind. He can see the logic of the determination so far as it affects those who had neglected their organization, or who had hoped for a miracle at the Federal elections. He can even, no doubt, understand that Mr. Flynn should be glad to quit in this way, for he knows that in Nicolet, Mr. Flynn's own constituency, it happened the other day that Mr. Flynn could get a hearing only when Mr. Rodolphe Lemieux pleaded with the audience to wait and hear him. But for a man like Mr. Leblanc, who hoes his own row, to be thus called on to retire to some peaceful retreat must be bitterness indeed; so bitter, in fact, that he is reported as changing his mind about four times a day as to whether he will be a candidate or not. Our Conservative friends must make allowances for men of spirit like Mr. Leblanc. Now that they have their orders to stay away from the polls they will understand how he feels about it.

KING AND LORD MAYOR.

To-morrow is the sixty-third birthday of King Edward and the 550th anniversary of Lord Mayor's day; the first Lord Mayor, with the title of "right honorable," dating from 1354, while the first "Mayor" of London, Henry Fitz Alwyn, was appointed over seven hundred years since, holding the office for twenty-six years.

It is doubtless largely owing to the fact that London has for generations identified the 9th November with the annual inauguration of its Lord Mayor that the King has chosen another date for the official celebration of his birthday. When he was Prince of Wales the coincidence of the two celebrations contributed to make the day a more general holiday, and one greatly looked forward to by the young folk. During the day they revelled in the quaint symbolical processions which paraded the streets of the ancient city, and then escorted the Lord Mayor to the West End to receive the approbation of the King through the Lord Chief Justice of the time, while in the evening hundreds of thousands of sightseers closed their holiday making by witnessing the elaborate illuminations of the clubs and the great houses in the fashionable thoroughfares, which were put up in honor of the birthday of the then Prince of Wales.

In later years another obstacle has sprung up to prevent the celebration of the two events together. On the night of November 9th, at the great banquet given by the Lord Mayor to celebrate his inauguration, it has become customary for all the leading men of the nation to be his guests in the Guildhall, and for the Premier or Foreign Minister of the day to review the passing events in the world as they may particularly affect the external affairs of those great trading and commercial interests of whom the Lord Mayor may be said to be the type.

Strictly party politics are tabooed at the Guildhall, but here on Lord Mayor's night many a speech has been made which has marked an epoch in the affairs of the British Empire. Palmerston, Derby, Disraeli, Gladstone, Rosebery and Salisbury have, at various times, addressed weighty words to an expectant world at the 9th November Guildhall banquet.

It is held in the middle of the Parliamentary recess, and the very date adds to its importance, as does the location of its utterance and the character of the audience.

Illness will, it is feared, prevent the attendance of Mr. Balfour to-morrow evening, but it is not unfitting that the City Fathers should hear directly from the lips of Lord Lansdowne, as Foreign Secretary, what his impressions are of the present trend of international relations.

Lord Lansdowne belongs to the type of statesmen the value of whose utterances depend quite as much upon what they omit as upon what they say. In 1877 Mr. Disraeli chose the Guildhall speech as the medium for warning Russia that though Britain, and particularly "city men," hated war, the means and the men would be found to carry it on through "more than one or two or three campaigns." It was here that Lord Salisbury, in 1899, rallied his countrymen upon their pessimism and challenged Europe to interfere during the dark days of the Boer war.

Lord Lansdowne will have as difficult a tactical task to perform as any of his predecessors to-morrow evening. A large section of the community accuses the Cabinet of lack of backbone in its negotiations with Russia; the finances of the nation have not recovered from the strain of the South African war; trade is stagnant while the national expenditure is growing out of proportion to the income. Already one triple alliance is strained by the differences between Austria and Italy, while the obligations of the Franco-Russian alliance are being subjected to strain by the scarce concealed efforts of the Emperor William to displace Paris in council at St. Petersburg and in influence at the Vatican, as at Constantinople.

Great statesmen find their opportunities in the times of great crises. As a rule the result of their successes is never apparent in their own day and generation; but such men reap their reward in a conflict of wits out of which they themselves surely know whether they have come out victor and how far they may have aided in promoting the welfare of the nation or the cause they strove to serve.

Many eyes will be turned towards that representative gathering of all that passes for "great" in the Empire at home and over sea when it rises to greet the man to whose charge is committed a trust the anxieties and responsibilities of which we can only in some sense appreciate when there is a scent of battle in the air.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

How deeply Montreal people resent the action of the Legislature in passing private bills which put this city and its public wealth at the disposition of the light and traction monopolists was well shown at the convention which Mr. Rainville had called for last night to offer him the nomination for St. Louis. The South St. Louis Liberal Club, which was counted upon to do him this honor in a perfunctory way, refused, so far as it could give expression to its wishes, to nominate him at all. Mr. Rainville offered himself the nomination, backed it up with a telegram from Mr. Parent, and the President of the club saved the situation for him by refusing, time after time, to put any question whatever to a vote of the members present, who were evidently prepared to censure Mr. Rainville and nominate someone else.

It is very natural to account for Mr. Parent's telegram to one who has held the high place of Speaker of the Assembly, but in Montreal it is not as Speaker that Mr. Rainville is best known, but as head of the lobby which delivered Montreal into the hands of the monopolists. The disposition in St. Louis is to send to Mr. Parent's aid a good Liberal who is neither a director of the Power Company nor willing to do the work of that company in thwarting the purposes and progress of Montreal.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Flynn won't win.

In fact nobody ever dreamt that Flynn could win.

Worse and worse. Le Journal says Conservatives mustn't even vote.

The Parent Government is safe. Now let us take precautions against the work of the Private Bills Committee.

One can understand Mr. Flynn's not wanting to go back to Quebec with such a helpless lot as were there with him last time.

Hon. P. E. Leblanc's indignation is not half so strong as Mr. Flynn's, but that is only because Mr. Leblanc thinks he can carry Laval.

Heretofore, it has been a question which of the Oppositionists would put Mr. Flynn out of his place as leader. Now he has dished them all, and himself too.

Mr. Rainville is beginning to learn what his electors think of him and his monopolist friends. At a snap convention called by himself the chairman didn't dare put his name to a vote.

Since neither Government nor official Opposition find it their duty to stand between the Private Bills Committee and their victims, Montreal, as one of the latter, must just take the matter in hand for herself.

The Provincial Conservatives may claim that they were unprepared for a general election, but Mr. Parent very aptly points out that when they won Portneuf and Maskinonge, in bye-elections, they announced that the tide had turned against the Parent Government and that they were prepared at a general election to take full advantage of the fact

If Mr. Brodeur's bill relating to tobacco combines had the effect of making him some powerful enemies in Montreal, it appears to have had compensating results in Hamilton, where the redemption of West Hamilton by the Liberals is credited to the attitude of the Tuckett Tobacco Company and its employes towards the Government. The Company felt that the anti-trust legislation had helped it, and acted accordingly.

Mr. Borden in the House

Everyone who has seen the Canadian House at work or at play hopes Mr. R. L. Borden is not lost from it. The Federal House without Mr. Borden controlling the Opposition would be as uncomfortable as the Quebec House with no Opposition at all. The business of law-making at Ottawa has always been conducted with a certain amount of dignity. Since his election as leader of the Opposition, Mr. Borden has contributed almost as much toward the maintenance of dignity in debate as Sir Wilfrid Laurier. A firm restraining hand is needed over each side of the House. In Parliament speech is free. A member has the protection of the statutes in anything he chooses to say. There are rules at the Speaker's command which provide no member can say to another what one gentleman should not say to another. But the English language is more comprehensive than the rules, and experience has shown that a member can change the proceedings of the House from dignified debate into a beargarden performance and still keep reasonably within the letter of the law.

It is unfortunately true that there are a good many members on both sides of the Chamber who are unable to distinguish between personalities and argument. Mr. Borden in the last four years has done as much as the Prime Minister or the Speaker to place a check on unruly tongues. The Conservative party has not elected a man who has the same capacity for keeping passion and feeling under control as Mr. Borden. Therefore it is to be hoped that soon after the new Parliament of the Dominion of Canada hears the Speaker's gavel fall the old leader of the Opposition will be found in his place facing the Prime Minister.

Mr. Borden has been in his place in the Chamber most of the time the House has been in session for the past four years. But, when he was not, every one knew it. Every m[illegible] the Opposition side was a leader in himself. Business halted and mud-slinging began. At the rate of twenty-eight dollars a minute the time of the House was wasted in personalities, while measures devised for the good of the country marked time on the order paper and waited for business to be resumed.

It is to Mr. Borden's credit that he maintained control and imposed restraint when his followers were impatient of it. Once they broke away from him in a big block and followed Mr. W. F. Maclean on a socialistic proposal for one joyous resolution. But this was an exception which soon gave way to the rule of obedience.

With Mr. Foster in the House, a brilliant element of recklessness has entered the debating arena. Mr. Foster is a man who has never been known to bow to rule or convention when he had a brilliantly wicked, witty thing on the end of his sharp tongue. Decencies have been nothing to him if he could make an opponent squirm. Canada needs an antidote for Mr. Foster in Parliament.

Will Mr. Borden accept one of the seats his followers are willing to give him? The Prime Minister has stated that the Government would offer no opposition to his return. In fact, it would be necessary for the Government to be a party to this transaction. A vacancy cannot be created for Mr. Borden without Government assistance. A member of Parliament cannot resign except to the Speaker. There is no Speaker now, and will not be until Parliament assembles and elects one. The only way in which a member can make way for Mr. Borden is by accepting an office of emolument under the Crown. It is not the custom of a Government to appoint Opposition members to such places. It would not do so without good reason. If a Conservative constituency should be vacated by death or by the resignation of a member of the Opposition after the Speaker has been elected, the Government need not bring on an election in it. However, if the gallant Colonel Hughes or the cautious Mr. Kidd wishes to give way to their leader, the Government will undoubtedly retire him to private life by appointing him to a country post-office from which he can resign when the duties become too arduous. The election in Carleton or Victoria, whichever it may be, will be brought on promptly, and no Government candidate will be put up in opposition to Mr. Borden.

However, if the leader of the Opposition consults his personal interests he will remain in private life. There is little prospect that he will be called on to form a Government for ten or twelve years at last. A majority of seventy is not to be wiped out in the term of one Parliament and possibly not in two. In the next ten years Mr. Borden can, at the practice of law, amass a competence for his declining years. If he remains in Opposition he sacrifices this for the remote possibility of a premiership ten years hence. Ten years is a long time when a man has reached the age of fifty. In this case the reward is not certain when the time has been served.

If Mr. Borden accepts one of the proffered seats, it will be at the sacrifice of personal interests. He will be doing a service to the Government by accepting, for the Government wants its acts scanned and criticized in a fair and honorable manner. It is felt that Mr. Borden is the man to organize and lead the critics.

If Mr. Borden does come back, it is probable he will alter Opposition methods. Some lessons have been taught the opponents of the Government on Thursday last. The people have emphatically stated that they do not want the good measures of the Government condemned with the weak. In the past it has been the practice to denounce everything the Government proposed. It would take a more brilliant man than Mr. Borden to convince the people that everything the Government offers is radically wrong. Hereafter there is likely to be more criticism and less condemnation than there has been in the past.

If Mr. Borden does not let pride or self-interest stand in his way but accepts the proffer of his followers and the offer of the Government, he will be doing Parliament a service.

The Fight for the Trams

The Baillie mixed a little ex-Scotch mist with his Highland dew, and stroked his scrawny red beard reminiscently. "Oh, no, we didn't municipalize our trams without a fight—a good fight, too. But perhaps we didn't have as great difficulties to overcome as some other cities. Unlike some English and most American cities, Glasgow had never permitted a private company to secure control of her streets. As early as 1861 the enterprising George Francis Train undertook to get parliamentary authority to establish a tramway system in Glasgow. The City Council, however, checkmated this movement by securing the passage of a bill giving the city power to lay tram lines. As the city seemed in no hurry to utilize this power, two other companies some years later again sought power to invade the streets. Again the city was aroused; it would not relinquish its control of the streets, but it compromised matters with the companies. The city would construct and own the tram lines, while the companies were to unite and operate the lines on a lease. Under this agreement the city required the company to pay the annual interest charge on the full amount of the city's investment; a yearly sum for a sinking fund large enough to clear the entire cost of the line in twenty-two years; a renewal fund of four per cent. on cost of lines for repair and renewal purposes; and in addition a yearly rental of $750 per street mile. The city stipulated also that fares should not exceed one penny per mile; and that at a time when fares everywhere else were upward of twopence a mile. Certain runs, considerably over a mile, were fixed at 1d., while morning and evening cars for workmen had to be run at half fares. The first line was opened in 1872, and the lease was to run for twenty-two years.

"A company of local capitalists bought out the syndicate that had accepted these onerous conditions, by paying a premium of $750,000. The new company experienced hard times for two or three years, but in 1875 it began to pay dividends. After 1880 it was able to meet its obligations to the city, write off a due proportion of the premium charge, and still pay on an average 10 per cent. annually.

The Start.

"As 1894 drew round, the tram question came up for consideration again. A majority of the City Council favored a renewal of the lease, the company being willing to accept heavier city obligations and concede more favorable terms to passengers. But among the citizens a demand for municipal operation began to make itself felt; the success of the city as a common carrier on the harbor had opened our eyes to the possibilities of publicly-operated social services. So a movement to municipalize the tramway system was inaugurated by the Citizens' League, backed by the local Trades and Labor Council and other societies. Even the Landlords' Association joined the movement in the hope that the city would apply the profits of tramway operation to a reduction of the rates.

"A majority of the Council, as I said, favored the company, but an election had to be held before the Council could deal officially with the question of the renewal of the lease. Only one-third of the members of our Council are elected at a time. Under the circumstances we could not definitely commit a majority of city fathers to our policy; but we could make a demonstration of public opinion. The Citizens' League selected its candidates: the company soon had its supporters in the field. On every hand we encountered the opposition of the company; its influence and resources surprised us. We made some investigations at the Register's Office in Edinburgh, and were no longer surprised. The majority of city counsellors, ministers of all denominations, editors and proprietors of newspapers, prominent citizens—everybody who might be supposed to possess political or social influence held shares in the company. We placarded the city with lists of prominent shareholders.

A Hot Fight.

"Nowadays Glasgow civic elections are as tame as a mother's meeting. But that contest waxed interesting. The gentleman who in the ordinary course of events would have succeeded to the Lord Provost's chair was a partizan of the company; in fact, the leader of its forces. Against all precedent the Citizens' League nominated a candidate in opposition to him; and against him and his followers the Trades Council organized a merciless campaign of heckling. In the hands of the imperturbable Scot, especially if he happens to be deadly in earnest, the heckling system becomes an instrument of torture. In that contest it was employed without stint, without pity and without remorse. On one occasion the company's candidate for Lord Provost was subjected to such a fusilade of questions that, angered and chagrined by the determined opposition which threatened to thwart his cherished ambition, he dropped in a dead faint on the platform. A wild Highlander in the audience cried out: 'A sign from heaven.' And from that moment, when the champion of vested interests, overcome by the violence of his emotions, fell before the people's volley of interrogation points, the city of Glasgow has been governed by the people, for the people. The candidates of the League were returned by sweeping majorities.

"But we didn't rest satisfied. When the time for dealing with the tram question came round, we held a two days' monster demonstration on Glasgow Green. Most of the authorities on civic problems in the Kingdom—Sidney Webb, John Burns, Charles Booth, Rowntree of York—were brought to Glasgow, and given an opportunity to address meetings on the Green and in other parts of the town. And when finally the matter came up in Council, half the city camped round the City Chambers to see that the city fathers voted right. They voted right, you can well believe. Glasgowegians are hospitable enough to strangers, but among ourselves we are the most unruly and disorderly people in the Kingdom.

"The city offered to take over the company's operating plant — stables, cars, horses, etc.—at a fair valuation, providing the company would promise not to engage in the operation of omnibus lines. The company refused to make such a promise. So the city decided to create its own plant. As there was little time to determine the best methods of mechanical traction, the Tramway Committee made arrangements to begin with horse haulage, and upon the expiration of the lease was in a position to give immediately a cheaper and better service than the company had been giving us. The company, left with an extensive stud on its hands, started an omnibus service in opposition to the city, but it didn't pay and was soon abandoned.

"The city's operation of the trams has been attended with great success. Arrangements were at once made for the electrification of the whole system, and this work has long since been accomplished. The track mileage has been extended from 30 to 137. The fares have been greatly reduced, and the average distances greatly increased. The number of passengers carried have increased from 54,000,000 to 180,000,000 per annum. The average distance for 1d. fares has been extended from 1.12 to 2.29 miles. The company issued no ½d. fares. The city carries passengers a trifle over half a mile for ½d., and expects shortly to extend the distance for ½d. fares to a mile. At present the maximum fare is 3½d., good for 8.23 miles; it is proposed to make the maximum 2d., with transfer privileges. The city received from the company a net annual revenue averaging £2,766 per annum during its twenty-two years' lease; the corporation last year derived a net revenue from the trams of £15,000; and the tramway department, it may be mentioned, maintains the streets on which tracks are laid to eighteen inches beyond the outer rails. In addition the corporation has reduced the hours of labor of its employes at least 25 per cent., and has also raised wages practically to the same extent.

"Moreover, while extending and transforming the system, the tramway's department has been repaying its debts and making very full provision for depreciation. Indeed, during the last eight years, the department has been able out of revenue alone to renew the whole of the track and to write down the disused horse traction to scrap value.

"Perhaps, to one accustomed to American cities, our track mileage may seem rather insignificant. But Glasgow is one of the most compact cities in the world. Scotch towns have not yet overcome the tendency to congestion originally imposed upon them by the presence of plundering Highlanders on the one hand and marauding bands of lawless borderers on the other. The bulk of the patronage of our trams comes from passengers riding less than half a mile—from ha'penny fares."

—Colin MacKay.

TAKING THE PLACE OF Custom Footwear

Custom made boots and shoes, hitherto regarded as superior to ready-made, are giving place to the new and remarkable development in footwear.

WHAT THE MINISTER SAYS

Is Most Convincing.

"I thought I would write you what Pyramid Pile Cure has done for me. I had a most aggravated case of bleeding piles; indeed I dreaded when I had to go to stool. One fifty cent box cured me. I feel like a new man. I have recommended it to others as being the most wonderful remedy known. It is indeed a great blessing to suffering humanity. You are at liberty to use this for all it is worth, and I hope it may do good." Rev. W. E. Carr, 355 No. Holbrook St., Danville, Va.

Clergymen (like all professional men who lead sedentary lives) are especially addicted to piles, in various forms, and are continually on the lookout for a remedy which will give relief, with little or no iden of obtaining a cure.

Recognizing this fact, Rev. Mr. Carr consents to the use of his name in order that other sufferers may know there is a cure called Pyramid Pile Cure, which is sold by druggists everywhere for the low price of fifty cents a package, and which will bring about, for every one afflicted with piles, the same beneficial results as in his own case. Be careful to accept no substitutes, and remember that there is no remedy "just as good."

A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and will be sent free for the asking. All sufferers are advised to write for it, as it contains valuable information on the subject of piles.

PROVINCIAL LIBERALS ACCLAIM HON. MR. SIFTON

Winnipeg, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Hon. Clifford and Mrs. Sifton returned to Winnipeg on Saturday evening from Brandon. There was a large gathering of citizens at the station, and loud cheers for the Minister and his wife were given. Mr. Sifton was driven straight to St. Boniface where a banquet to Mr. J. Cyr, the successful candidate in Provencher, was in progress. Here Mr. Sifton was given one of the finest receptions ever witnessed in the town. He was carried from the entrance to the end of the hall and placed in the seat of honor, the cheering lasting fully five minutes. The gathering was largely French-Canadian. In a happy speech Mr. Sifton said he was sure Sir Wilfrid would receive the news that Provencher had been redeemed from the Conservatives with much pleasure.

T. A. Burrow, Liberal, will probably be elected by acclamation for Dauphin, Mr. Glen Campbell, Conservative, having intimated his intention of retiring. The Liberals, however, are prepared for a contest in case a dark horse may be nominated.

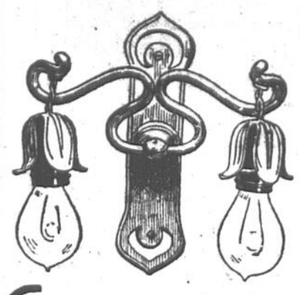

HOCHELAGA LIBERALS WANT MR. J. L. DECARIE

Mr. Jeremie L. Decarie has been requested by a large number of the electors of Hochelaga to be Liberal candidate for the county at the Provincial elections. For a number of years past the county was represented by Mr. Decarie's father, who died a short time ago. Mr. Jeremie Decarie is well-known in local political circles, and in 1900, as the Liberal candidate in Jacques Cartier, gave Mr. Monk a close call. He resides at Notre Dame de Grace, which is situated in the county of Hochelaga.

BE READY FOR CROUP

And Protect Your Children by Keeping in the House

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine

The Thoroughly Tested and Reliable Family Medicine.

To overcome croup you must act quickly.

There is usually no time allowed for sending for doctors or medicines.

The hollow, croupy cough at midnight may be your first warning, and this will strike terror to your heart if you are not prepared to fight this disease.

It may be of little use to know that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a positive cure for croup if it is not to be obtained at the critical time.

Most persons who have tested this treatment for croup keep a bottle at hand, so that by promp action they can prevent the disease from reaching a serious stage.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is composed of simple ingredients of unquestioned curative power, is pleasant to the taste, well liked by children, and can be used with perfect safety by old and young, so long as directions are followed.

MRS. GEORGE BROWN, 71 Harbord Street, Toronto, writes:

"Our children have been very subject to croup, and we have found that Turpentine has always brought quick relief. By using it at the first sign of trouble the disease is checked at once. We always keep this remedy in the house, and, in fact, feel that we could not do without it. We also use it for coughs and colds with excellent results, and recommend it to our friends."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60 cents, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous recipe book author, are on every box.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

C. C. RICHARDS & CO.:

Dear Sirs,—A few days ago I was taken with a severe pain and contraction of the cords of my leg, and had to be taken home in a rig. I could not sleep for pain, and was unable to put my foot to the floor. A friend told me of your MINARD'S LINIMENT, and one hour from the first application I was able to walk, and the pain entirely disappeared.

You can use my name as freely as you like, as I consider it the best remedy I have ever used.

CHRISTOPHER GERRY.

FIRE AT ST. LAMBERT.

About 6.30 p.m., on Saturday evening, an alarm of fire was given at St. Lambert, which proved to be only too true and the pretty and comfortable residence of Mr. James Wright, architect, and president of the Liberal Association, was discovered to be on fire. The local fire brigade was quickly on the ground, and through mismanagement, were a long time getting their hose laid, in the meantime, through the assistance of friends, many valuable things were removed to places of safety. But for the work of the young men of the town, who nobly assisted the fire brigade, the whole structure would have gone, as it is, very considerable damage was done by water and smoke. The house had just been thoroughly renovated. The loss is covered by insurance. Mr. Wright and his family came into the city for the night, as it was impossible to remain in their own house.

ST. LAMBERT LITERARY SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the St. Lambert Literary Society, was held last week at the residence of Mr. Bragg, Victoria Avenue. The following were elected as office bearers for the season: President, Mr. H. Bragg; vice-president Mr. J. T. R. Hicks; secretary-treasurer; Mr. C. Smiley, (re-elected); executive committee, Messrs. R. Ward, B.A., and Dixon, programme committee; Mrs. B. Burland, the Misses F. Kydd, McKenzie and Copeland and Rev. Mr. Armstrong. Eighteen members were elected and the following programme arranged for:

November 8th—"Our Magazine," conducted by Mr. Hicks.

November 22nd—"The St. Louis Purchase Exhibition," with lantern slides, Mr. H. Bragg.

December 20th—"Mock Trial."

ELECTION WILL BE PROTESTED

The Argenteuil Liberals Will Challenge Mr. Perley's Return in the Courts

Lachute, Nov. 8.—(Special)—The Liberal electoral organization of Argenteuil met on Saturday night, in large numbers, to consider the provincial situation. Hon. Mr. Weir, who had been called by telephone, arrived on the evening train, and was given a rousing reception. The meeting decided to forego the usual plan of electing delegates from each polling place, as the time is too short to hold the local meetings for such purposes. It was deemed better to call a mass meeting of the Liberals of the country for Nov. 15, when the choice of a candidate will be made.

The meeting was unanimously of the opinion that, owing to the debauching of the constituency by Mr. Perley, M. P., a contest of his election in the courts was imperatively required.

SPLENDID RECORD OF TAYLOR CHURCH

The Last of the Debt Was Wiped Off on Saturday Afternoon.

There was great rejoicing at Taylor Presbyterian Church in the East End of the city Sunday when the pastor announced to the congregation that "this was the first time that they had ever met in this church when they could say that it was absolutely their own." On Saturday he had lifted the remaining $2,000, and had brought back the mortgage, and that now not one single dollar of debt rested upon their beautiful church. Mr. Reid was inducted into Taylor Church during the summer of 1898. Since that time the church has risen from being a small, struggling one to being one of the largest, if not the largest Presbyterian church in this presbytery. During that time perhaps htere is no church in Canada that can show an equal record of development. It has quadrupled in almost every department in 6 years. The total moneys raised in 1897 was $2,500; in 1904, $9,118. In the early part of 1898 Taylor Church had a roll of 270 members; at the present moment it has a membership roll, after it has been purged to the lowest point, of almost 800.

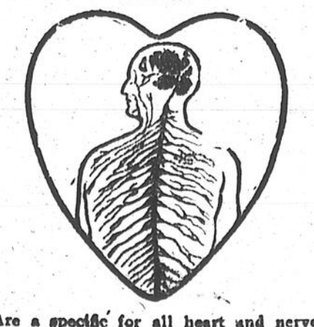

For missions nothing was raised six years ago; last year over $1,000 was contributed for missionary work. The Sunday school has grown from about 250 to about 600. During Mr. Reid's pastorate of six years he has received into the church (the large majority on profession of faith) 740 new communicants. When Mr. Reid took charge there was a debt of $15,000 resting upon the church. This has been entirely wiped out in five years. The people have shown great liberality in the matter.

The branch of church workers deserving the greatest amount of credit is the Ladies' Aid Society. This society has worked with tremendous enthusiasm and self-sacrifice, and every year have handed over somewhere between $500 and $1,000 to help to lift the burden off the church. This year, however, they reached a climax. On Friday evening of last week, when their last "sale of work" closed, and the proceeds were totalled up, it was found that they had on hand the handsome sum of $1,038.40.

Two Sundays ago the annual collections were taken, and the amount was $1,830, making a total of $2,868.40 that has been raised in Taylor Church during the last three weeks. This was for the purpose of meeting a debt of $2,050. As a result of this effort the debt has been completely wiped off, and there is a balance in the treasury of $811.

The church is a handsome structure, which cost $37,000, and seats 900 in the church proper. When the large doors are thrown open and the adjoining school room thrown in with the church, 1,500 can be seated. The only difficulty with the church is that it is too small for the congregations that gather in it every Sunday evening. Last winter, on nearly every Sabbath night, from fifty to one hundred and fifty chairs had to be brought in to accommodate the listeners. Mr. Reid draws his congregation not only from the East End, but from the north end, from Westmount, from Point St. Charles, from the centre of the city, from Longue Pointe, and from Longueuil and Montreal South. He now visits annually over 600 families. It is a great source of gratification to both pastor and people that the burden is now gone forever.

MILBURN'S Heart and Nerve Pills.

Are a specific for all heart and nerve troubles. Here are some of the symptoms. Any one of them should be a warning for you to attend to it immediately. Don't delay. Serious breakdown of the system may follow, if you do: Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Dizziness, Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Rush of Blood to the Head Smothering and Sinking Spells, Pain and Weak Spells, Spasm or Pain through the Heart; Cold, Clammy Hands and Feet. There may be many minor symptoms of heart and nerve trouble, but these are the chief ones.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will dispel all these symptoms from the system.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25.

WEAK SPELLS CURED.

Mrs. L. Dorey, Hemford, N.S., writes us as follows:—"I was troubled with dizziness, weak spells and fluttering of the heart. I procured a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and they did me so much good that I got two more boxes, and after finishing them I was completely cured. I must say that I cannot recommend them too highly.

LADY CURZON SAW HOARY PHANTOMS

Worried During Illness by Sombre Pictures of Departed Worthies.

London, Nov. 8.—Interest in the progress toward recovery made by Lady Curzon the last week is increased by her removal from Walmer Castle to the home of a friend in its vicinity. The "American Vicereine" insisted on being taken from her historic abode, although she still lwas so weak she had to be carried on a stretcher. Society wonders at the young matron's eagerness to forsake the castle, though at the risk of her life, and at the complaisance of the great London physicians in attendance on her who authorized the move, as well as at Lord Curzon's permission thereof. It is because few persons in England are aware of the strong vein of superstition or something closely akin to it, that runs through her. Lady Curzon demanded that she be taken out of the gloomy pile as soon as medical men could be induced to give their approval, because she was haunted by knowledge of the strange fatality attending residence in the official home of the Lord Warden, and the fear grew that her own end might come within those massive walls.

HAUNTED BY CASTLE GHOSTS.

She lay through long weeks in the state chamber of Walmer fighting off death for the sake of her two beautiful little girls and her brilliant young husband. Convalescence found her a prey to dark thoughts. She admitted to the Viceroy that as she lay helpless in the great four-poster hung with the armorial bearings of his lordship's line, memories of a former Lord Warden, W. H. Smith; of Wellington, Lord Salisbury, and other statesmen of the realm who died either in the castle or when connected with it by rank or duty, flocked to her bedside and oppressed her beyond power of expression. Although seemingly impatient of the weakness to which prolonged illness had reduced her, she did not conceal that she shared horror of Walmer with Lady Wolseley, who detested the castle so deeply that she point blank refused to live in it, though her course resulted in the resignation of her gallant husband from the wardenship.

"I must go away as soon as I can be moved," said Lady Curzon pathetically. "Take me away while there yet is time. Don't let me stay to suffer as I have through these centuries of imprisonment."

YIELDS TO HER WISH.

Lord Curzon is an ambitious man, but his charming American wife is dearer to him than the highest grade of the British peerage. Though departure from Walmer meant the abrupt termination of all his politic hopes, still he would grant her request. Preparations for her removal were begun immediately, and when the physicians heard Lady Curzon's reasons and in conversation with her realized how deep an impression the thoughts had made on her weakened constitution they approved the step heartily.

In fact it was the well-nigh disastrous consequence of their first mutual hesitation that impelled them to let her be taken away. This discountenanced the project at first, and Lady Curzon brooded over her fears so terribly that just when she was supposed to be mending she collapsed again, and her danger from the second attack was greater than that hinging on the first. Nothing more was needed to convince the physicians. They ascertained her dread of the castle growing, so as soon as she rallied from the relapse the move was made.

NEVER LIKED WALMER.

Lady Curzon disliked Walmer before ever she entered it. It was only considerateness for her husband that led her to try to overcome her prejudice. So intense had her horror of the place become by the time Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter and Miss Nannie Leiter, of Chicago, her mother and sister, arrived in this country, after a long journey following receipt of a despatch announcing the grave nature of her malady, she was determined no member of her family should enter the castle. She insisted that Mrs. and Miss Leiter take a suite in the Royal Hotel, near Walmer, which, when they understood her motive, they unwillingly consented to do.

Mrs. Leiter and her daughter found the hotel less convenient than they had expected their rooms at Walmer would be, but Lord Curzon and his aide de camp, Captain Colin Campbell, did everything possible under the circumstances to insure their comfort. The captain, whose engagement to Miss Leiter has been reported, was a daily visitor in the Royal and sent thither hourly bulletins of Lady Curzon's condition. Mrs. Leiter's absence from Walmer led to the rumor she, too, was superstitious and feared to establish herself in a castle fraught with such dire consequences to former tenants. Close friends say her apprehensiveness was only a reflection of Lady Curzon's, and that she regretted deeply the necessity for humoring the patient to the point of remaining away from a beloved daughter in time of illness.

OBITUARY

Winnipeg.—Mrs. Jos. Hogg, wife of Rev. Jos. Hogg, former pastor of St. Andrew's Church, is dead.

Quebec.—Louis Gingras, a resident of St. Raymond, was found dead at his home. Dr. Jolicoeur, city and district coroner, will hold an inquest.

St. Johnsville, N.Y.—Edward Knight, aged fifty, editor and proprietor of the St. Johnsville, N.Y., Enterprise, dropped dead of apoplexy in his office here.

Ottawa.—Death came suddenly to William Spears, an aged farmer of Russell county. Deceased was in his seventy-fifth year, and his death came as a sad shock to his family.

Ottawa.—After an illness of five weeks, Severe Desjardins, of 643 St. Patrick Street, passed away. The late Mr. Desjardins was seventy-five years of age. For some time past he had been employed as a carpenter in the Government service.

Toronto.—The death occurred at the residence of his brother-in-law, George W. Watts, 6 Beaumont Road, of John W. Lester, formerly of London, Ont. Deceased was a native of Toronto, but was engaged in business in London, the Old Country and in New York. He was forty-seven years of age and is survived by a widow and five children, residing in England.

Woodstock, Ont. — George Gordon Fraser, better known to the citizens of Woodstock as Piper Fraser, died at his home on Dundas street west. He was ill for about two months, his health seeming to break down all at once. He was one of the most picturesque figures in the city when on special occasions he would don his full regimentals and parade the streets with his beloved pipes.

Port Huron, Mich.—The body of William Harper, eighty years old, was found floating in Black river. The old man disappeared on Oct. 20. Harper's widow, seventy-eight years of age, is in the City Hospital, a hopeless paralytic, with her mind almost gone. The old man was a veteran of four of Great Britain's wars, having fought under the Union Jack in the Sepoy mutiny, the Crimea and twice on the South African veldt.

Kingston, Ont.—The death occurred at 81 Colborne Street, of Agnes Rannie, wife of William Massie. The deceased was born in Aberdeenshire, Scot., eighty-nine years ago. She was married to William Massie in 1838, and two years later they came to Canada, taking up their residence in this vicinity, and have resided here the greater part of their lives. They lived for a short time at Seymour, Ont. Her husband, who is ninety-three years of age, survives.

TORONTO BROKER ASSIGNS.

J. Lorne Campbell Failed With Indebtedness of $56,378.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—J. Lorne Campbell, stock broker, Jordan Street, made an assignment on Saturday to E. R. C. Clarkson. Mr. Campbell's assignment was announced on the Toronto Exchange Saturday morning. He had been one of the permanent members of the Exchange for several years past, having been a member since 1890, and at one time president. The financial difficulty of the concern dates back for several months, a series of misfortunes having contributed to the climax. Defalcations of a partner, losses through a Chicago correspondent and the slump in securities values, each depleted the resources Mr. Campbell had at his command.

A BATCH OF PIANO BARGAINS.

All the above on easy terms of payment. C. W. Lindsay, Limited, 2366 St. Catherine Street. —Adv.

IRON BRIDGE COLLAPSED.

Seven Freight Cars Went Through—No One Was Injured.

Halifax, N.S. Nov. 8—(Special.)—A railway calamity was very narrowly averted this morning. The large iron bridge spanning the East River, between Stellarton and New Glasgow, collapsed while a freight train was passing over it. The train was a heavy one and seven cars of the freight and the tender went into the river. The engine remained on the track. All the hands escaped.

The letter of Miss Merkley, whose picture is printed above, proves beyond question that thousands of cases of inflammation of the ovaries and womb are annually cured by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gradual loss of strength and nerve force told me something was radically wrong with me. I had severe shooting pains through the pelvic organs, cramps and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said that I had ovarian trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation. I strongly objected to this and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found that my judgment was correct, and that all the good things said about this medicine were true, and day by day I felt less pain and increased appetite. The ulceration soon healed, and the other complications disappeared, and in eleven weeks I was once more strong and vigorous and perfectly well.

"My heartiest thanks are sent to you for the great good you have done me."—Sincerely yours, MISS MARGARET MERKLEY, 275 Third St., Milwaukee, Wis.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Doctors Said That

Lumps and External Swellings Would Turn to Running Sores.

Mrs. Jacob Kaehler, Zurich, Ont., says that

Burdock Blood Bitters

Saved Her from Many Years of Suffering.

She writes:—"Now imagine how joyous and great was my surprise when a friend of mine told me that Burdock Blood Bitters would cure me, so that the lumps and external swellings, which the doctors told me would turn to running sores, would disappear. I took her advice, and can say that I have no doubt but that Burdock Blood Bitters has saved me from years of suffering. It is with the greatest of pleasure and with a thankful heart that I give this testimonial, knowing that Burdock Blood Bitters has done so much for me, and you are at perfect liberty to use this for the benefit of others similarly afflicted."

Burdock Blood Bitters is the best blood medicine on the market to-day, and is composed entirely of roots, herbs, barks and berries.

THEIR EXCELLENCIES' FORMAL FAREWELL TO OTTAWA SOCIETY

State Ball at Rideau Hall Was a Most Brilliant Function—Many Guests Present From Montreal and Other Outside Centres.

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—(Special)—The state ball given at Rideau Hall last night by his Excellency the Governor-General, was one of the most brilliant social functions which the annals of the Capital afford. Being the last public entertainment of the present regime, there were many guests from Quebec, Toronto, Kingston, London, Montreal, and other places, all gathered to say farewell to one of the most popular families that have yet reigned at Government House. Very early in the evening the guests assembled in the ball room, being received upon their arrival by Captain Bell, aide-de-camp in waiting. Promptly at a quarter to ten their Excellencies entered, preceded by the honorary aides-de-camp and the officers of the household staff in brilliant uniforms, and followed by their charming older daughters, the Ladies Eileen and Ruby Elliott. Through an aisle, formed by ribbons held in place by soldiers in red coats and busbies, they advanced to their places on the dias. There an interesting ceremony took place, notable as being performed for the first time in Canada, except by the Duke of York while here—that is the investiture of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, the honors recently conferred upon Sir George Drummond, of Montreal. Major Maude read the warrant authorizing his Excellency to make the investiture; then Sir George, preceded by Captain Bell, who bore the insignia of the order upon a crimson cushion, and attended by Sir James Grant and Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, advanced to the foot of the throne, and, kneeling upon one knee, received the tap of the sword upon his shoulders, and arose a knight.

With similar ceremony Mr. Pottinger and Mons. Boucher received the insignia and order of Companion of St. Michael and St. George, and then after a few moments spent in congratulation of the honored guests, the quadrille d'honneur was danced.

In this Lord Minto danced with Lady Laurier, and her Excellency with Sir Wilfrid, the Lady Eileen with Hon. Sidney Fisher, and Lady Ruby with Captain Claude Bell, the others being Lady Allan and General Lake, Mrs. Lake and the Hon. A. G. Blair, Mrs. W. C. Edwards and Senator Casgrain, Madame Lavergne and Sir James Grant.

The dancing became general until supper time. The ball room presented a magnificent scene of splendor, the smart gowns of the ladies and the brilliant uniforms of the officers intermingling with the sombre evening dress of the men. The reception rooms, halls and corridors were decorated with a profusion of palms and ferns, and with huge clusters of fragrant pinks and carnations, side by side with sheaves of magnificent chrysanthemums. The conservatories were also in fine condition and much admired.

Refreshments were served during the evening from a buffet decorated with roses and greening, and about midnight their Excellencies led the way into the racquet court, where supper was served at small tables beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums in all the pale shades. The verandahs were also closed in and furnished with cafe tables, each decorated with a cluster of 'mums, and the same magnificent blossoms decorated the buffet.

The consols-general of Austria-Hungary, Russia, Denmark, France and Italy were present from Montreal, the last named being accompanied by his wife, the Countess Mazzo, who wore a handsome gown of white duchesse satin, with panels and corsage decoration of applique brown velvet and accordion pleated chiffon, over hung with tiny brown chiffon roses. On her corsage she wore diamond ornaments and a Turkish order, whose English name signifies the Order of Graciousness, a large medallion of green and red enamel, studded with diamonds and rubies.

Her Excellency was exquisitely gowned, as is her wont, wearing an elegant creation of pale green satin, with chiffon frills and an overdress of sheerest silk net, hand-embroidered in silver and edged with a flounce of ecru lace. The decolletage was thickly encrusted with silver and finished with lace. She wore a beautiful diamond tiara and pearl and diamond necklace, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The Ladies Eileen and Ruby Elliot were gowned alike in white shirred chiffon over white satin, the full skirts having rows of puffings, and the bodices embroidered in gold and pink chiffon. They wore violets and pink roses in the corsage, and carried pink roses and maiden hair.

Lady Drummond (Montreal) wore a handsome gown of white net, hand-sewn with golden spangles, over white accordion-pleated chiffon, the end of the train and the decolletage being bordered with purest orange velvet roses. She wore a handsome diamond necklace.

Lady Allan (Montreal) wore a cream lace gown, the skirt having panels heavily embroidered in gold, and the corsage encrusted in gold paillettes and relieved by soft touches of lace.

Mrs. W. C. Edwards wore a rich gown of Renaissance lace over white accordion-pleated chiffon, and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Colin Campbell's gown was of pale blue liberty satin, the corsage embroidered with lace and sequins and the skirt of cream lace over blue chiffon, showing between the panels of green satin, embroidered in sequins. She wore a diamond tiara and collar and diamond-studded combs in her coiffure.

Mrs. Baumgarten wore an elegant gown of pink chiffon over pink, with trimmings of fedora lace and chiffon flowers. She wore handsome diamonds and carried lilies of the valley and violets.

Lady Laurier wore an exquisite gown of white panne velvet, heavily encrusted with real lace and with lace touches on the bodice, a diamond tiara and pearl necklace.

Mme. Casgrain wore an elegant white net gown with elaborate applications of lace and a pearl necklace.

Mrs. Cawthra Mulock (Toronto) wore a rich gown of real lace, with magnificent diamond ornaments, including an immense corsage spray of roses and foliage, and three large pins, a pearl necklace and pearl coiffure ornamente.

Lady Cartwright, being ill, was unable to be present. Miss Cartwright was gowned in yellow chiffon with ruffles of accordion-pleated yellow chiffon, and Miss Nellie Cartwright wore a lovely gown of pale blue silk, with a garniture of passementerie and green panne velvet.

Mrs. Robert Cartwright wore a black jetted net gown over black silk.

Mrs. Fielding wore a gown of rich Irish lace over white panne velvet. Miss Edith Fielding, her debutante daughter, wore white pointe d'esprit veiling, pink silk, trimmed with shirred pink ribbon, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Florence Fielding's gown was of white satin and chiffon, with garniture of Irish lace.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick wore a handsome costume of heliotrope brocade, embroidered heavily in a trailing design in silver sequins, the decolletage outlined in cream Russian lace.

Miss Fitzpatrick's gown was of white spangled chiffon, trimmed with lace and ruffles. Miss Mary Fitzpatrick was in pale blue chiffon velvet, accordion-pleated and embroidered with pearls.

Miss Borden wore a handsome gown in 1830 design, shell pink silk and chiffon, trimmed with ecru lace. Miss Maud Borden was in white chiffon, with an overdress of rich white lace with chiffon trimmings.

Mrs. A. G. Blair was gowned in gray brocade, with bertha of Duchesse lace.

Miss Marjory Blair wore a dainty gown of cream silk, with panels of white and gold embroidery; red and white roses.

Mrs. W. L. Scott wore a dainty gown of pink silk voile and chiffon, appliqued with lace.

Mrs. D'Arcy Scott was gowned in white chiffon and black lace.

Miss Fiset (Rimouski) was in white lace over white silk with a bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Plunket Magann (Toronto) wore a smart white satin gown in 1830 style, with bertha of Limerick lace, and touches of pink roses.

Mrs. Maude wore an exquisite gown of white net over cloth of gold, with pink ruffle and rosebuds, lace and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Vidal was in a Paris gown of pale blue crepe de chine with coral ornaments.

Mrs. Joseph Pope wore a handsome black gown appliqued on white silk net, trimmed with sequinned velvet and pink roses.

Mme. Lavergne (Montreal) wore a rich dress of black lace with a bertha of Irish point.

Miss Gabrille Lavigne (Montreal) wore a handsome Parisian gown of white chiffon, hand embroidered and hand painted in a design of rosebuds and trimmed with bruches of pale blue panne.

Miss Jeanne Taschereau (Montreal) wore a rich gown of yellow lace, made over yellow satin and finished with a deep girdle of orange panne velour. Mrs. Kohl was in black silk point d'esprit over white satin, with lace flounces and berthe.

Mrs. Kohl was in black net over white satin with low berthe and flounces. Mrs. Reynold Birkett was in white satin embroidered in black with sequin.

Miss Tudor Montezamburt wore a black dotted net over black taffeta, and Miss Geraldine Chapleau was in renaisance lace with touches of orange panne.

Miss Hanson (Montreal) was in white crepe de chene with touches of real lace. Miss Morice (Montreal) was in white chiffon embroidered in silk and blue, over white silk.

Mrs. M. P. Davis wore an elegant gawn of black brussells net, embroidered in irridescent sequin and diamond ornaments.

Miss Ethel Jones was in white liberty satin with trimmings of old Limerick lace and wore a geranium wreath in her coiffure.

Mrs. Irwin's gown of black Chantilly lace was finished with a garniture of irredescent beads and her ornaments were diamonds.

Miss Gladys Irwin wore a white lace robe embroidered in sequins and relieved by clusters of pale blue forget-me-nots.

WORN WITH A FANCY WAISTCOAT

While the Directoire period is dominating the fashions for the more elaborate gowns, it leaves its traces very distinctly upon the knock-around suits as well. There are smart models showing those fascinating waistcoats, or vests, as they term them in England; and, happy thought! they are fashioned entirely separate from the coat, just as a man's is, the flase back and sides, and the fancy front, the little pockets, and all, true to the masculine model. There is simply no end to the clever conceits that can be worked out in this idea, and it is already quite a fad to have a perfect repertoire of waistcoats or vests to wear with the tailor-made gown.

For the Cook.

TO MAKE QUICK YEAST.

Boil a dozen large potatoes in four quarts of water until thoroughly done; mash until free from lumps; then add two tablespoonfuls each of salt and sugar, and half a teacupful of flour, dissolved in cold water. When lukewarm, add a dissolved yeast cake. Stir well together, and set in a warm place to rise. On baking day, put in sponge by using one quart of warm water and one pint of yeast, and under favorable circumstances the bread will be ready to mix in the course of two hours. Mix well, but do not make the dough too solid with flour; let it rise up once again, then form into loaves without kneading; let stand in the baking tins until rounded full, then place in a well-heated oven, and bake according to the size of the loaves, from half to three-fourths of an hour.

CUBAN COFFEE.

The Cubans make the morning coffee very strong and black, but they serve it with as much cream as coffee in the cup. The best coffee is made in the French manner by dipping, and as no expert coffee-maker ever decants her coffee, the pot should be a pretty one. French or American brown ware is always good, and nickel plate need not be despised. Make the filter out of coarse white flannel, and have a fresh one very frequently. Sew into a pointed bag, long enough to reach half way down the pot. The coffee—best in the market, of course—should be ground fine, almost pulverized. Fill the pot with boiling water to heat it, pour it out, and fit in the flannel bag of coffee. By the way, the bag should be wrung out of hot water before the coffee is put in. Now pour slowly through the coffee the required quantity of boiling water. Cover, and let the pot stand on the side of the stove for ten minutes. Remove the coffee bag, and send the coffee to the table. If there is any danger of the coffee cooling while it stands, place the pot in a dish of hot water.

The Mystery of a Hansom Cab

BY FERGUS HUME.

CHAPTER XXVIII.—(Continued.)

So, from all appearence, everything is ended; not so, for before dying Rosanna sends for Brian Fitzgerald at his club, and reveals to him a secret which he locks up in his own heart. The writer of this letter has a theory—a fanciful one, if you will—that the secret told to Brian Fitzgerald contains the mystery of Oliver Whyte's death. Now then, have I not found out a good deal without you, and do you still decline to reveal the rest? I do not say you know who killed Whyte, but I do say you know sufficient to lead the detection of the murderer. If you tell me, so much the better, both for your own sense of justice and for your peace of mind; if you do not—well, I shall find out without you. I have taken, and still take, a great interest in this strange case, and I have sworn to bring the murderer to justice; so I make this last apeal to you to tell me what you know. If you refuse, I will set to work to find out all about Rosanna Moore prior to her departure from Australia in 1858, and I am certain sooner or later to discover the secret which led to Whyte's murder. If there is any strong reason why it should be kept silent, I perhaps, will come round to your view, and let the matter drop; but if I have to find it out myself, the murderer of Olive Whyte need expect no mercy at my hands. So think over what I have said; if I do not hear from you within the next wek, I shall regard your decision as final, and pursue the search myself.

"I am sure, my dear Fitzgerald, you will find this letter too long, in spite of the interesting story it contains, so I will have pity on you, and draw to a close. Remember me to Miss Frettlby and to her father. With kind regards to yourself, I remain, yours very truly,

"DUNCAN CALTON."

When Fitzgerald had finished the last of the closely-written sheets, he let the letter fall from his hands, and, leaning back in his chair, stared blankly into the dawning light outside. He rose after a few moments, and, pouring himself out a glass of brandy, drank it quickly. Then mechanically lighting a cigar, he stepped out of the door into the fresh beauty of the dawn. There was a soft crimson glow in the east, which announced the approach of the sun, and he could hear the chirping of the awakening birds in the trees. But Brian did not see the marvellous breaking of the dawn. He stood staring at the red light flaring in the east, and thinking of Calton's letter.

"I can do no more," he said, bitterly, ining his head against the wall of house. "There is only one way of stopping Calton, and that is by telling him all. My poor Madge! My poor Madge!"

A soft wind arose and rustled among the trees, and there appeared great shafts of crimson light in the east; then, with a sudden blaze, the sun peered over the brim of the wide plain. The warm yellow rays touched lightly the comely head of the weary man, and, turning round he held up his arms to the great luminary, as though he were a fire-worshipper.

"I accept the omen of the dawn," he cried, "for her life and for mine."

CHAPTER XXIX.

His resolution taken, Brian did not let the grass grow under his feet, but rode over in the afternoon to tell Madge of his intended departure.

The servant told him she was in the garden, so he went there, and, guided by the sound of merry voices, and the laughter of pretty women, soon found his way to the lawn-tennis ground. Madge and her guests were there, seated under the shade of a great witch elm, and watching, with great interest, a single-handed match being played between Rolleston and Peterson, both of whom were capital players. Mr. Frettlby was not present. He was inside writing letters, and talking with old Mr. Valpy, and Brian gave a sigh of relief as he noted his absence. Madge caught sight of him as he came down the garden path, and flew quickly towards him with outstretched hands, as he took his hat off.

SPORTING COMMENT

In the Q.R.F.U. race, Montreal got away to a splendid start and to the half galloped neck and neck with Ottawa College. At that point the latter weakened and Montreal drew ahead, but at the three-quarters, College pulled up on even terms, and down the home stretch the pair thundered together, but in the last stride Montreal faltered and College flashed under the wire first.

* * *

Many a similar race has Montreal run. It has got away to an encouraging start, but has finished exhausted and beaten. Just why this should be so will furnish food for a year's reflection, but unless Montreal changes its ways the end of the next football season will see similar conditions.

In so far as speed, strength and general knowledge of the game are concerned, Montreal players are in no whit inferior to those of Ottawa College, but they lack the ability to apply their knowledge properly. They have every facility to practice and train and apparently they utilize the facilities afforded them. But they do not derive substantial nor permanent benefit from the means provided them for fitting themselves for a season's strenuous games. Physically, they become fit enough, but physical condition is but one essential of the many necessary to the success of a football team.

The Montreal athletes require to learn a system. Rev. Father Fallon and Tom Clancy after him, gave Ottawa College a system, the groundwork of which was "Play together, boys, and play hard." The scrimmage was taught to perform its duties promptly and smoothly and similarly were the other departments of the College team taught, but though each was instructed in the niceties of its particular branch of employment, they were all drilled in team or cohesive play. The team was made into a machine.

* * *

The Rough Riders have learned much from Ottawa College and they have a system—a well-defined plan of attack and a clean-cut plan of defence. When they are in good physical condition they are hard to beat.

* * *

Montreal should start training a couple of weeks earlier than has been their custom and should acquire thoroughly understood methods of offence and defence. When they have acquired these, they will win the championship, though not without some trouble.

Father Fallon was never a football player, yet he was the greatest football coach Canada has ever known. Why? Because, being a clever man, he recognized that a well-drilled team of athletes could accomplish much better results than an indifferently-drilled team of athletes, no matter how superior the latter might be in the matter of individual prowess.

* * *

First thing the Hamilton Tigers know some of those Toronto teams will be issuing an injunction to restrain them from scoring so many points. Fancy 75 points in one game and 40 in another.

* * *

The Grand Trunk Juniors appear to have good grounds to protest their match with the alleged Quebec Juniors in Quebec Saturday afternoon. They were beaten by a score of 16 to 0, but before they commenced playing they notified the officials that they would protest the game on the ground that intermediate players were on the Quebec team.

Here are a few facts that will probably cause the Quebec Union to hand out a swift jolt to the enterprising pigskin-chasers of the Ancient Capital. On Oct. 15 last, the Montreal intermediates played a scheduled match with Quebec, in Quebec, and won by 17 points to 6. The next Saturday the Quebecs were scheduled to play Montreal II. in this city, but defaulted, apparently being afraid of defeat.

The Grand Trunks made the long journey to Quebec to play a team of juniors, but when they went on the field they found on the line-up opposed to them, Gale, Eberhard, Rivard, Siefert, Blair, R. Power, J. Power, and Chambers, eight men who had previously played against the Montreal intermediates.

* * *

There is more than a mere suspicion that the Quebecs acted in an unsportsmanlike manner. They forfeited an intermediate match apparently in order that they might avail themselves of players, who otherwise would not be available. Quebec's action is shady, very shady.

* * *

McGill and Montreal will battle for the city championship next Saturday, and if the Collegians do not win they will surprise their many admirers. They have all kinds of speed and stamina and will play a style of game quite new to the Montreals, who will find that mere weight and strength will avail them little against speed and science. It will be one of the greatest football contests of years, and will furnish excitement of every variety known to habitues of the gridiron.

* * *

A very nice match would be one between the Shamrocks and Westmounts, and a move is on foot to arrange it. The Westmounts would be able to show what they could do when pitted against a team of about their own weight, and the Shamrocks would be able to show what they could do when opposed to a light but experienced fourteen. It would be sharp, scientific and spectacular football from the drop of the hat.

* * *

The Shamrocks have won prominence on the gridiron for the first time, and it's safe betting that nearly every Irishman in the city will know the difference between a touch-down and a touch-in-goal by this time next year. The Shamrock Lacrosse Club has a large and faithful band of followers, who will now give their attention in the fall to football.

* * *

The Ottawa papers have been braying about the love, pure, sweet and undefiled love, that exists between Ottawa College and the Rough Riders. Yet who will say that the match between these two teams next Saturday for the championship of Ottawa will have any of the characteristics of a love-feast?

Annual Meeting of Canadian Branch of Royal Caledonia Curling Club

Col. Stevenson Elected President — Gratifying Reports Presented.

Satisfactory reports were read at the annual meeting of the Canadian branch of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club, held at the Thistle Club; St. Monique street, last night. Reference was sympathetically made to the death of Mr. James Thaw, of Hoboken, N.J., a curler well known in Montreal. It was decided to present an address of farewell to Lord Minto, whose departure from Canada is regretted by curlers, he being an enthusiastic lover of the game. Col. Stevenson presided.

The following officers were elected:—
President—Lieut.-Col. Stevenson.
First vice-president—R. W. Tyre.
Second vice-president—Lieut.-Col. A. P. Sherwood, Ottawa.
Auditor—A. F. Riddell.
Secretary—Wm. D. Aird.
Executive committee—G. H. Cornell, David Guthrie.

Mr. Wm. D. Aird, secretary-treasurer of the branch, read reports of great interest, to curlers. In the course of them, he said:—

"Gentlemen,—I have much pleasure in presenting to you the report of the Canadian Branch for the season of 1903-04. As you are all aware, the season was an ideal one for curling, which started in the last week in November, and continued without a break in the weather till the first week in March. The members of the different clubs had as much curling as they cared to go in for. The matches under the supervision of this branch were all played off in good season, which included the unfinished matches for the district medals of the previous year, and besides these an additional competition for first year green curlers of the Montreal, Thistle, Caledonia, Heather, St. Lawrence and Lachine clubs. In the contest for the Gordon international medal, played for this year in Montreal on Caledonia ice, we had to lower our besoms to our American cousins. They deserve great credit for defeating our rinks, and we are not surprised at their joy for a win away from home. It is not out of place to mention in passing the creditable showing made by the ladies' curling clubs during the season. In their big bonspiel, the play was of a high order. We congratulate the Lachine Ladies' Club, as winners of several prizes, and the St. Lawrence Ladies' Club on the good fight put up by them. We do this most heartily, as they both are members of this branch. You all know of the departure from Canada of His Excellency Lord Minto, some day during this month. Your executive at a meeting held in October, were of the opinion that it would be proper to present His Excellency with an address from this branch of the R.C.C. Club, if same would be acceptable to him. Through our president, a favorable reply was received, and you will hear the address read at a later date. We all, no doubt, hope that our next Governor-General, Earl Grey, will take as much interest in curling as Lord Minto and our previous governor-generals have done since Lord Dufferin was with us."

Lieut.-Col. Stevenson, who was Re-elected President of the Canadian Branch of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club last night.

Mr. Aird gave a complete history of the important curling events of last season. The winners of the various competitions were as follows:

Victoria Jubilee Trophy and Souvenir Prize.—Finals, Caledonia 3 won vs. Ottawa 28.

Governor-General's prize—Ottawa, 41, won vs. Quebec 23.

District medals, 1902—1903—Ormstown, Quebec, Carleton Place, Almonte, Pakenham.

District medals, 1903—1904—Thistle, Pembroke, Montreal, St. Lawrence, Ottawa, Arnprior, Valleyfield, Governor-Generals.

Local medals.—Lachine Ladies' Curling Club, 71, won vs. St. Lawrence Ladies' Curling Club, 36. Thistle Club, St. John, N.B., also awarded a medal.

The parent club has awarded to this district for this season, eight district and five local medals. The following clubs are eligible to compete:—Alexandria, Almonte, Caledonia, Rideau, Sherbrooke, and Victoria.

Gordon international medal, Canada vs. United States, won by United States by 39 to 34.

M.A.A.A. trophy—1903, Heather, 1904 Montreal.

Gold Nugget prize—Final, Angus 13, won vs. Springle 5.

In his report as treasurer, Mr. Aird stated:—

Gentlemen.—Our membership is now 26 clubs with 1,503 members (this includes 2 ladies' clubs with 67 members). Last season we had the same number of clubs with 1,413 members. The receipts for dues and annuals amount to $253.20, as compared with $230.57 the previous year. The Ladies' Club pay in to the branch the same amount for dues as the parent club charges us. And the Thistle Club of St. John N.B., for this year paid the same way. One club is in arrears for two years. The expenses were $202.49 as compared with $182.98 the previous year. The net assets are $204.29 as compared with $228.58 the previous year, and outstanding dues of the club not paid of $15.30, audited and verified statement herewith respectfully submitted."

officers elected at the meeting were: Rev. Canon Ellegood, honorary president; Mr. Barlow, president; Mr. C. V. Fosbury, treasurer; Allan Glover, vice-captain; F. Edgar, captain. There was a finance committee appointed, the following boys being elected, Homer A. Fenton, J. Storey, Frank Edgar, Allan Glover and M. Hamilton. Contributions towards renting the rink would gratefully be received by any of the above boys, or may be sent to Homer A. Fenton, 25 McGill College Avenue.

Russell Bowie Again Elected Captain of Victoria Hockey Club

Annual Meeting Held Last Night Was Largely Attended.

The twenty-eighth meeting of the Victoria Hockey Club, held last night at the Windsor Hotel, was attended by a gratifyingly large number of members. The enthusiasm manifested was such as to please those who have the best interests of the club at heart and augured favorably for the success of the Vics during the coming season. The reports presented were of a satisfactory nature, the club being strong financially, and numerically.

Mr. F. M. McRoble, the retiring president, was made a life member, in recognition of his valuable services on behalf of the club.

Russell Bowie was again elected captain and in a neat speech of acknowledgement, he stated that he proposed to play the game of his life and he wanted the other players to enter upon the season of 1904-05 in the same spirit.

Secretary ockerby read the following report:

"On behalf of your Executive, I have much pleasure in presenting to you the twenty-eighth annual report of the Victoria Hockey Club. We again stand second in the C.A.H.L., when by right we should have been first, but owing to the resignation of the Ottawa Hockey Club from the C.A.H.L., our players were caught napping by the Quebec H. C. in our final match, and we were defeated after a hard struggle by a team which was in better condition than we were.

"Our Seniors played eleven matches during the season, with the following results:

St. George's, lost	11-9
Shamrock, won	18-2
Quebec, won	12-5
Ottawa, lost	10-6
Montreal, won	7-6
Ottawa, not finished	4-1
Shamrock, won	16-2
Quebec, lost	9-7
Wanderers, draw	8-8
Crescents, lost	6-4

"The following players played on the senior team:—Messrs. J. Nichol, O. Davison, R. Magor, P. Molson, W. Bellingham, R. Bowie (capt.), B. Russell, C. Howard, W. Ewing, F. Patrick, and T. Benson.

"Our intermediate team was not very successful, owing to the seniors drawing so many players that the team was composed principally of juniors, who will make a much better showing during the coming season.

"Our juniors were very successful in winning both sections of the Junior League in Montreal, and only lost in Ottawa, being defeated by the Victorias of Ottawa, a team which had already won the Ottawa City championship and were better than most intermediate teams.

"The following new members were elected during the season:—Messrs. T. W. Benson, G. Davison, Geo. W. Bancroft, D. Campbell, C. A. Lockerby, F. J. Eveleigh, H. Lucas, H. O. Kingston, B. Simpson, A. B. Callaghan and R. Mc[illegible]um.

"The finances of the club are in a very satisfactory condition.

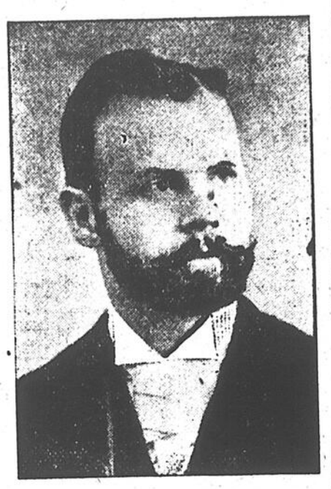

"At the end of the season we gave a dinner and presented souvenirs to the players.

"J. M. G. Lockerby, hon. Sec.-Treas."

The officers were elected as follows:
Hon patron—Mr. H. Wilson.
Hon. president—Mr. F. M. McRoble.
Hon vice-president—Mr. Geo. Cheese.
President—Mr. J. M. G. Lockerby.
Vice-president—Dr. E. J. Stuart.
Captain—Mr. R. Bowie.
Hon. sec.-treasurer—A. Chevalier.
Committee—Messrs. B. Russell, R. Bowie, P. C. Howard, M. Grant.

Brief speeches were made by Messrs. B. Kyle, F. M. McRoble, J. M. G. Lockerby, Russell Bowie, Blair Russell and Mike Grant.

Amongst those present were:—Messrs. F. M. McRoble, Stuart, Eveleigh, C. A. Lockerby, J. M. G. Lockerby, Mike Grant, Blair Russell, Percy Molson, Russell Bowie, Geo. Cheese, D. Browne, R. Magor, N. Fry, L. Johnston, A. Chevalier, Dacer, B. Kyle, A. Forman, G. Bancroft, J. Nichol, Warrington, Ruben Levin.

Mr. W. D. Aird, the Popular and Energetic Secretary-Treasurer of the Canadian Branch of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club.

Montreal and McGill to Play at M.A.A.A. Grounds Saturday Next

To Play Quebec Rules One Half and I.C.R.F.U. Rules the Other.

What promises to be a very lively game will take place Saturday, Nov. 12th, at 2.30, on the M.A.A.A. grounds, between McGill University team and the Montreal. The McGill team have a good record this year and will give Montreal all they can do to win. The Montreal team practice to-night and Thursday, and the team will probably be the same as played Rough Riders last Saturday.

The game will be played one-half Canadian Rugby and the other Intercollegiate, so the public will have a good opportunity to judge the different styles of play.

The McGill wings are a fast, aggressive bunch, and the Montreal stalwarts will have their work cut out to hold them; but if the Montreal wings will only learn to block they should be able to hold their lighter opponents.

Billy and Alex. Christmas and J. Craig are working well together and should be more at home next Saturday.

Several old McGill men figure on Montreal, the two Molsons and McDonald. The scrims are about even in weight, and should be fairly even.

BROCKVILLE BOYS WERE ABUSED AT KINGSTON

Aged Hen Fruit and Vegetables Pelted at Them—Police Protection Had to be Invoked.

Kingston, Nov. 8.—A crowd of boys gave Brockville Rugby team a hot reception on its return from the Royal Military College grounds on Saturday afternoon. At Tete de Ponte Barracks the van containing the visitors was met with a fusillade of bad eggs, vegetables and other missiles, and it had to turn into the barracks square to await police protection, which, luckily, arrived. The visitors were then able to proceed to the hotel unmolested. Kingston's youthful Rugby followers were roused to a frenzy by the brutal treatment the Limestones received in Brockville a week ago; in fact, for years past Kingston's Rugby teams have been disgracefully used in the Eastern town. This is the first time Brockville has been ill-used in Kingston. Three weeks ago, when they played here, they came and went without anyone thinking of raising a hand against them. This time they simply met with a righteous indignation, which may induce them to treat Kingston teams with less brutality when they visit Brockville hereafter. The Limestones were not implicated in the affair, as they were playing Gananoque at the athletic grounds.

DEATH OF ROMANCER.

Mr. Luther Reinhardt is being extended generous sympathy by horsemen who were sorry to learn that his thoroughbred, Romancer, was burned to death Saturday night. Romancer was valued at $3,000, and not so long since was prominent on the racetrack.

Gananoque Now Hands Out Hot Roast to the Kingston Limestones

Reports That Visiting Teams Were Badly Treated in Kingston.

A member of the Gananoque football club in a letter to the sporting editor of The Herald registers the following vigorous protest against the treatment accorded the Gananoque boys by the Kingston Limestones last Saturday:

"Gananoque, Nov. 8.—Feeling runs high in Gananoque at present on account of the way the boys were used in the game with the Limestones in Kingston on Saturday last. All the boys asked for a neutral referee, and a fair show, knowing full well that it would be a rough game as the Limestones had to win to prevent a three-cornered tie. So in order to get a competent referee, they left it to the union to decide, naming Wilkinson, of Brockville, as an example and they feel strongly the decision of the O.R.F.U. executive in appointing Marty Walsh, of Queen's, a Kingston player and a Limestone man last year.

"Visiting teams always get neutral officials in their games with Gananoque because they have no referee here, and when Gananoque go away for out of town games they have to put up with a local referee, as was the case on Saturday. They don't consider this quite fair, but are quite satisfied to accept neutral men for all their games. A more incompetent man was never placed in charge of a game than Mr. Walsh. He was utterly unfit to fulfill the duties assigned him. The worst kind of tripping, fighting and scrapping was indulged in by the Limestones without as much as a warning, instead of a game of football it was a free fight, in which the Limestones being much the heavier team and on their home grounds nearly killed their opponents.

"Limestones won the toss and decided to kick with the wind, which was blowing strongly straight down the field and it soon became apparent that the Limestones intended to win at all costs. Forward passing, a play that is never tolerated on a football field, was indulged in to a marked degree by the Kingston halves, some of them being of the most barefaced description, but anything went, and any time the conflicting sides got in a mix-up with the ball, the Gananoque players received blows in the face, and were kneed, and otherwise mauled.

"Moore, Gananoque's centre half, was made the target for many of these blows, he having his face pounded to a pulp, and Gananoque fans standing on the side lines declare positively that they saw Limestone players smash Moore in the face while he was lying helpless on the ground, pinned down with the ball; an assertion which he and the players back up. "Chaucer" Elliott was also allowed to coach the Limestones, while the game was proceeding, making thirteen Kingston men within the lines. Gananoque's captain and manager frequently remonstrated with the referee about the wretched state of affairs, but could get no satisfaction, and after thirty minutes massacre, with the wind against them, the score stood twenty-seven to nothing in favor of the Limestones, fifteen points which were practically gifts from Mr. Walsh. During half time the boys had a heated discussion on the way the things were going, and those in charge of the team, declared if there was not an improvement, they would have to leave the field.

"Gananoque now having the wind in their favor, started in at a pretty fast clip and Limestones rather than run any chance of losing the game became more abusive than ever. Five minutes after play had started Bearence secured the ball and started up the field, four Gananoque men attempted to tackle him, but were tripped, knocked out and interfered with, while the man with the ball trotted in behind the goal at his leisure. Craig, Limestone's full back, when he saw the injustice of this play, left the field in disgust.

"Manager McKenzie, and Captain Mooney, of Gananoque, declared to Mr. Walsh that there was no use in going on with the game unless he promised to do better, and not receiving a satisfactory answer, they called the team off the field. It was fortunate that a car was waiting, with two policemen in charge or they would have been mobbed, a couple were ill-used as it was. William Varney, and other decent sports, and all Queen's students, who witnessed the game, said it was a disgrace to the city. This game not being played to a finish, was over before the Brockville-R.M.C. II., game, so the crowd hurried away to lay for Brockville. According to Brockville's story they left the R.M.C. campus in an open rig for their hotel, and were met by a hale of stones, mud and lumps of coal, in the hands of Limestones supporters, forcing them to return to the military college for shelter. The Cadets took them in and telephoned for police, who arrived in fifteen minutes and escorted them safely to their hotel, after reading the Riot Act. However, this concerns Brockville, and no doubt they will speak for themselves.

"It is still fresh in the minds of the Rugby public, how the Cadets opened this season with their first game on Limestones grounds, and how the Limestones supporters followed the young soldiers back to their college, pelting them with stones and mud. We venture to say if Gananoque or R.M.C. used a visiting team the way the Limestones used Gananoque last Saturday, they would be branded as a disgrace to the town nd would loose the support of every citizen, and no doubt Brockville would do the same.

"The report sent from Kingston that Gananoque were playing men from Cornwall and Ottawa, is all nonsense. Gananoque, along with the R.M.C., play the cleanest kind of Rugby and every man is a straight amateur and local man. We are playing Rugby for the fun of it, and the union are strongly blamed for not placing more competent ment in such an important game."

STATISTICS OF THE Q.R.F.U. SEASON JUST CLOSED.

Alf. Smith, captain of the Rough Riders, made more touchdowns during the past season than any other player in the Quebec Rugby Football Union. He scored five.

Arthur Moore, of the Rough Riders, is second in the list, he scoring four.

Walter Molson and Jimmie Craig of Montreal, and Baillie, of the Westmounts, each made three touchdowns.

Hal Walters and Dinny O'Brien, of Ottawa College, and Ferguson, of the Rough Riders, each made two touchdowns. O'Brien's performance is remarkable in that he was College's full back. Ferguson enjoys the distinction of kicking the only drop goal recorded in the Q.R.F.U., this fall. It happened last Saturday but being a free kick counted but two points.

Hammy Gordon, Billy Murphy, Lesser and P. Molson, of Montreal, Boucher, Filion, Brennan, McDonald, Shea and Kearns, of Ottawa College, Shewan, Edwards and Shearer, of Westmounts, and Shillington, Rankin, Pulford and Morley Walters, of the Rough Riders, each scored one touchdown.

The Rough Riders scored the greatest number of touchdowns, fifteen, of which seven were converted.

Montreal and Ottawa College each scored ten touchdowns and each converted two.

The Westmounts scored but six touchdowns but converted four, making the best average in the matter of kicking goals.

In all, forty-one touchdowns were scored, of which fifteen or about a third, were converted. In other words, the Rough Riders lost sixteen points, Montreal sixteen points, College sixteen points and Westmount, four points, through inability to kick goals.

Smith scored the most touchdowns in one game, three, when Rough Riders played Westmount in Ottawa. The players who scored two touchdowns in one game were Baillie, of Westmount; Hal Walters, of Ottawa College; Alf. Smith, of Rough Riders and Moore, of the Rough Riders.

The Rough Riders scored the most points, ninety-one, and had sixty-three points scored against them.

Ottawa College scored seventy-four points and had thirty-two scored against them.

Montreal scored sixty-one points and had fifty-five points scored against them.

The Westmounts scored thirty-six points and had 113 points scored against them.

MAT AND RING.

TREMBLAY IN DEMAND.

Alexander Swanson, the champion Swedish lightweight wrestler, would like to get on a match with Tremblay, the Canadian champion. Swanson has been beating all comers around New York, and within the past month has won over six matches without losing a fall to his opponents. For more than a year Swanson has been endeavoring to get on a match with George Bothner for a side bet of $1,000, but Bothner has always succeeded in sidestepping the amtch. In his match with Frank Idone, the Italian champion, last week, Swanson scored a new record when he threw his opponent the first fall in less than forty-five seconds. Besides being strong, Swanson is very scientific and fast.

EDEBORG AND MAUPAS.

H. H. Ebeborg, the champion wrestler of Denmark, and one of the greatest European wrestlers who ever visited this country, will soon pay a visit to Montreal for the purpose of meeting the best local heavyweight wrestlers. Ernest Roeber, the former Graeco-Roman champion, who is looking after the interest of Edeborg, believes that the latter can defeat any wrestler in the world, and when the former champion arrives in Montreal he will be prepared to back Edeborg against Maupas, or any of the other crack wrestlers who are willing to take a crack at the new comer. Roeber is confident that Edeborg can throw Maupas twice in one hour, and if Maupas does not want to make a straight bet two in three match, he will agree to throw him twice in one hour. Although Edeborg has been in this country only two weeks, he has created considerable talk, and the crack wrestlers are anxious to see him in action.

BURROWS AND TREMBLAY.

It should be a good wrestling match Thursday night at Sohmer Park between Eugene Tremblay and Tom Burrows, the world's champion club swinger. Tremblay is conceding weight to Burrows, and will have the time of his life to overcome the handicap. Both men are very strong and their battle should be well worth seeing.

McBRIDE CHALLENGES HAWKEY.

Kingston, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Daniel McBride, of Niagara Falls, writing from Toronto, challenges Mr. Hawkey to a wrestling contest for $100 or more a side, the latter part of December, either in Kingston or Niagara Falls.

SPORTING NOTES

The Lachine Snowshoe Club will hold their twenty-second annual meeting at the club-room, St. Charles Street, Lachine, to-morrow night, at 8 o'clock.

The special committee appointed to revise the constitution of the S.A.A.A. met last night, and after discussing several important matters adjourned until Wednesday night.

Arrangements have been completed for the grand tombola to be held Nov. 23, under the auspices of the West End A. A. A., at the club-rooms, and tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from members of the club. Members are requested to report sales of tickets by Nov. 18 to the treasurer at the Roffey Herald Agency, 544 St. Antoine Street.

The Montreal Bicycle Club will give a big stag euchre at the Gymnasium, Wednesday night. Some of the prizes are: Carved meerschaum pipe, value $25; dress suit case, satchel, two boxes cigars, M.A.A.A. pins, fancy vest, pair military hair brushes, dressing case. The committee are sparing no pains to make a success of the affair, and a good turn-out is hoped for.

The third annual concert and ball under the auspices of the United Shoe Machinery Company of Canada Hockey Club will be held in Drummond Hall on Friday, the 11th inst. A first-class programme of talent has been procured and a most enjoyable time is expected. A special feature on the programme is Master Earl J. O'Connor, champion boy bag-puncher of America. The concert commences at 8 p.m. sharp.

Ross is the best goal-kicker in the Quebec Union and is on a par with Flceson, in so far as punting ability is concerned.

Of the Quebec Union full backs, O'Brien, of College, got two touchdowns and Rankin, of Rough Riders, got one touchdown during the past season.

There doesn't seem to be a drop-kicker of the Eddie Gleeson type in the O.R.F.U.

The Rough Riders scored the most points in any one game, 31 against Westmounts in Ottawa.

The Montreals were the only team to be shut out, College doing the trick, 11 to 0, on the M.A.A.A. grounds on Oct. 29.

The College scored 44 points from touchdowns out of 74, and the Rough Riders 74 points from touchdowns, out of 91.

Outside of their touchdowns, College scored 30 points, made principally through strong punting.

Not a player was seriously injured in the Quebec Union this fall.

The past season witnessed the return of several old-timers to the game—Joe Boyle and Morley Walters, of the Rough Riders, and Mike Shea and Jimmy Murphy, of Ottawa College.

Not a drop-goal from the field was kicked this year in the senior Q.R.F.U. series.

The scores of the Western American Colleges Saturday were as follows:—Chicago, 68, Texas 0; Michigan 36, Drake 4; Minnesota 69, Lawrence 0; Illinois 46, O. S. U. 0; Nebraska 17, Iowa 6; Northwestern 97, Oshkosh 0; Wisconsin 36, Beloit 0.

Syracuse scored 144 points to Manhattan's 0 at Syracuse.

Hamilton is making the biggest scores ever recorded in the Ontario Union.

Toronto 'Varsity players pick McGill to win the Intercollegiate championship.

'Varsity has not won a game this season. Last year the Toronto boys won the championship.

Three important games are scheduled for next Saturday—Varsity at Queens; Rough Riders vs. Ottawa College, and Montreal vs. McGill.

McGill players rely on their speed and punting and tackling abilities to win games for them.

Eddie Murphy, of the Rough Riders, kicked more goals but also missed more than any other player in the Quebec Union this year.

The Montreal Juniors should win the Junior O.R.F.U. championship. It would be quite a feather in their cap, since the seniors and intermediates fell down in their series.

Eckersall made a 100-yard run for a touchdown for Chicago against Texas Saturday.

Burlington, Iowa, Nov. 8.—The game Saturday between the Keokuk, Y.M.C.A. team and the Elliott's Business College was one of the fiercest ever played here. King of Keokuk was knocked senseless by a kick in his spine and was in delirium for two hours. Crimmins was kicked in the back of the head and badly injured. Jamieson, of Burlington, had his ankle fractured, and Wilson had his nose broken. The game resulted 11 to 0 in favor of Keokuk.

A meeting of the Ontario Union Executive will be held to-night in Toronto to arrange for the semi-final and final games in the junior and senior series, and to straighten out a couple of the junior group ties. Dundas and Guelph and London and Petrolea are even up for the honors in their respective districts.

Hamilton intends to challenge Ottawa College for the Canadian championship, provided that they win the O.R.F.U. championship. They are already practising a scrimmage with this end in view, and will be prepared to play under Quebec Union rules.—Mail and Empire.

Another series will be required to settle the championship in District No. 1 of the senior O.R.F.U. series, as a result of the Argonauts' victory over Peterboro on Saturday at Rosedale. The three teams in the group are now tied, each having won two and lost two games. Next Saturday the Argonauts and Torontos will probably be ordered to play off, the winner to meet Peterboro on neutral grounds. Hamilton, champions in the other district, have asked to come in, but it is not likely that the other teams will give a ready acquiescence to the request. The O.R.F.U. will meet to-night to arrange the play-off.

COLLEGE AND ROUGH RIDERS.

In the last three years, Ottawa College and the Rough Riders have met five times and the city team has emerged with three wins to its credit.

In 1902, the two teams played off for the Dominion championship, the Rough Riders winning by five points to nothing.

Last year the Rough Riders won twice, seven to one and thirteen to twelve. This year College won twice, fourteen to seven and ten to seven.

In the five games, the Rough Riders scored thirty-nine points and the College thirty-seven. The figures show that the teams have been evenly matched and that they have fought close battles.

Stocks and Money.

NOVA SCOTIA STEEL, TORONTO RY. AND DOM. STEEL WERE LOCAL FEATURES

With the Wall Street wires silent the Street experienced quite a lull to-day, although the local market itself showed a moderate amount of life.

There was some talk over the U. S. elections and the general view was that the Republicans had a sure thing. Indeed an offer of 3 to 1 was actually refused to-day and this pretty well represented the feeling.

Again the Steel issues came in for a very fair amount of attention, but the prices changes were not sufficient to arouse any particular comment. Steel common ranged around 16¼ to 16½, the preferred sold at 46 and $23,000 bonds around 77½ to 77¾. As noted yesterday, there seems to be comparatively little Steel stock floating around and it appears to be in the hands of those who are content to wait still longer for the realization of their old hopes.

Canadian Pacific, according to one cable, was quoted in London at 132⅞, and it sold here at 129 to 129¼. In the absence of the N. Y. market, however, the trading was necessarily limited.

Toronto Street Railway was on the strong side and also Nova Scotia Steel, the latter opening at 65¼ and moving to 66¼, with a later sale at 66⅛.

There was quite a lot of Molsons Bank stock picked up around 219.

FORET'S CABLE.

L. J. Forget & Co.'s London cable quoted Grand Trunk first at 105½, second at 93¾, third at 45⅜, Canadian Pacific at 132⅞, Hudson Bay at 47¾ Anaconda at 5⅝.

OUR STEEL BOUNTIES.

During the twelve months ending June 30, bounties on pig iron and steel ingots amounted to $880,549, which is $521,255 less than the amount paid during the previous year. Of the $1,401,804 paid in bounties in 1903 the Dominion Steel & Iron Co. received $960,979, and the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Co. received $132,860.

DOMINION COAL OIL.

A member of the local Stock Exchange today received the following anonymous communication, which was subsequently tacked up on the exchange blackboard: "It is rumored that oil has been discovered in the Dominion Coal Company's properties at Sydney, but it is being kept secret, the stock being in the meantime quietly bought by interested parties at a low figure. Mum's the word."

PAYNE MINE CLOSED.

An Ottawa despatch says: Local stockholders in the Payne Mine have learned with regret that operations at the mine have been suspended, with no prospects of their resumption for a long time. The cause of the closing down is the neglect of development work, so that the present ore reserve is exhausted. Before mining operations can be resumed a tunnel 3,500 or 4,000 feet long must be made, and this will take many months, as every foot will have to be dri'led. The mill adjacent to the mine has been a success, but this also has been closed. Several thousand shares of Payne stock are held in Ottawa and Toronto.

An increase of 4 per cent in gross and of nearly 9 per cent. in net for September, and of 4 per cent. in gross and 8½ per cent. in net is for the three months in the records of the Union Pacific statement this month.

NEW JAP LOAN.

It is expected that Japanese success at Port Arthur will be followed by an announcement of a new Japanese loan to be taken jointly by New York and London. It is thought that the amount will be about $50,000,000, bearing interest at 6 per cent. and offered on a 7 per cent. basis.

Country Produce.

Eggs—The demand is fairly good for straight gathered stock, but owing to small arrivals the volume of business passing is not large; however, a few small lots changed hands to-day at 21c to 21½c, and in some instances as high as 22c was paid for really good stock. There were sales of really good cold starage eggs at 19c to 19½c, and No. 2 do. or pickled were placed at 17½c to 18c per dozen. The demand for selected eggs in a jobbing way was fair at 24c, and Montreal limed at 20c per dozen.

Beans—In a jobbing way sales of choice primes were made at $1.40, and seconds, at $1.30 per bushel.

Honey — Extracted white clover honey, 7¾c to 8c per 10-lb. tin, and 7c to 7¾c in 60-lb. tins; buckwheat honey, 6c to 7c, and white clover comb, 9¾c.

Maple Product—Syrup, in 15-gallon casks, 5¼c to 5½c per lb., in tins, 55c to 60c per wine measure, and 70c to 75c for imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8c to 10c per lb.

Potatoes—A fair trade was done in potatoes, and the market is moderately active at about steady prices. Car lots of fair to good stock are quoted at 43c to 50c per bag, and choice at 60c to 62c.

Hops—There was no change in hops, and the market remains quiet. We quote: Choice Canadians, 33c to 35c, and fair to good at 28c to 31c per lb.

TELLS OF BENEFIT DERIVED FROM DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Yellow Grass, Assa., N.W.T., Nov. 7.—(Special)—"I think I should let the public know the benefit I derive from Dodd's Kidney Pills." The speaker was Mr. John White, well known here, and he voices the sentiments of many a man on those western prairies who has been relieved of his pains and misery by the great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

"I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for years," Mr. White continued. "I tried doctors and medicines but never got anything to do me much good till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. What they did for me was wonderful.

"I also know the Harris family and I saw their little girl, Edith, who was cured of Dropsy by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I know that to be true. I tell you I feel like recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills even stronger than I talk."

There is no Kidney Disease that Dodd's Kidney Pills cannot cure.

Rise in Price of Stock Exchange Seats

In sympathy with the advance in security values prices of seats on the several stock exchanges of the United States have also risen, until now they are but slightly under the highest level ever attained. In New York, the most recent sale of a seat was made at $51,000, the high record price being $84,000 established last year. In October, 1903, a seat on the New York Exchange sold as low as $51,000. In 1899, or only five years ago, seats sold at $20,000. In Boston, there has been no recent transfer of a Stock Exchange privilege, but it is understood that negotiations are now pending for one seat, the bid being $18,000, and the present owner holding out for $20,000. The high record is $25,000, sales of this figure being made in 1899 and 1900. A seat on the Philadelphia Exchange was made quite recently at $8,500, the highest point this year, and an advance of $2,000 over the previous sale, that to Charles G. Gates.

The Advance in U.S. Iron Prices

In the spring of last year, iron rose in New York to $24.25 per ton, almost the high record price of the period. It began to fall in April, and by November had fallen to $15.50. It held this figure, with some irregularity, until last summer, when the price fell step by step to $14.75, with some sales at $14.50. Not until the third week of October did recovery begin. It has since been rapid enough to bring back the price to the $15.50 of a year ago. Last Thursday the Iron Age made this remark:

"Reports from all consuming centres indicate a scramble for pig iron.

"This situation has excited general interest, especially in view of the Steel Corporation's showing, that on September 30 orders on hand for finished products were low ebb of the company's history. To get the trade view, an independent iron merchant was asked this week to explain the situation. He said:

"Buyers of iron are like sheep. It is a tough job to get them over a stone wall until one suddenly makes the jump. Then it is easy. In a quiet way, there is more genuine inquiry for iron and a little more movement now, but there is no wild scramble to get back over the stone wall. Buyers are not holding back, however, and that is the good sign.

"Until the mills are operating at full capacity—a condition that has not been reported for many months by at least 40 per cent. of them—there could hardly be a 'unaway market.' Prices in some grades of iron have advanced from $2 to $2.50 a ton, mainly as a result of labor troubles in the South and the scarcity there of foundry iron. Improvements effected by the railroads during the past three or four years went a long way towards creating and maintaining the prosperous condition of the steel and iron trade. That demand can hardly reach the same magnitude again."

Wide, Active Market is the Prospect

The prospects are for an active and irregular market, with possibly wide fluctuations. Higher prices may prevail before the top is reached, but values are already on a high level and the temptation to take profits is increasing. A number of large traders have sold out and become bears for the time being; hence a division of opinion occurs which works for irregularity and more active trading. Should the election give larger success to the Republicans than anticipated the upward course of the market may be renewed, if the event is not sufficiently discounted. On the other hand, should expectations in this respect not be realized, the effect will probably be detrimental. Unfavorable bank statements and somewhat firmer money rates have been looked for, especially as the Government may reduce its deposits in the banks, but not much disturbance is likely from this source, as funds withdrawn for crop purposes will soon be returning. The January disbursements and investment demands are not far away, and these must exert a supporting effect.—Henry Clews.

Cattle in Torotno

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 8.—70 loads in today, including 1,000 cattle, 2,650 sheep and lambs, 500 hogs and 54 calves.

Export cattle, choice, 4 1-2 to $4.85; export cattle, medium, $3.85 to $4.50; export bulls, $3.40 to $4; export cows, $3.00 to $3.50.

Butchers', cattle, choice, $4.25 to $4.50; butchers' cattle, medium, $3.00 to $3.50; butchers' cattle, common, $2.25 to $3.00.

Feeders, short keep, $3.50 to $3.75; feeders, medium, $2.75 to $3.25. Stockers, $2.50 to $3.50; milk cows, each, $30 to $55. Export ewes, $3.40 to $3.50; steady, Bucks, $2.50 to $2.75, steady. Bulls, $2 to $3 dollars each, steady. lambs, $4 to $4.50; steady. Calves, $2 to $10 each, or $3.50 to $5.25 per pound. All sold, trade good, prospects strong. Hogs, singers, $4.80, fats and lights, $4.60 off cars. There are scarcely any export cattle on the market. All kinds of good cattle selling well.

Cheese and Butter

Cheese—To-day most of the offers that were cabled across were on the basis of 10c for fresh receipts, any section, and to-morrow or next day should make it clear how the Englishmen view this price. At the wharf 2,000 boxes of Quebecs were sold at 9¾c, which is a rise of ⅜c on last Monday.

Butter — Finest salted Townships creamery rules around 20c, and it is a difficult matter to realize a price above that figure in a general way on spot. At the wharf this morning 250 packages of Quebec creamery sold at 19½c to 19¾c, which is an advance of ½c per pound on last Monday.

FLOUR PRICES.

The Ogilvie Flour Mills Company quotes the following prices:

Royal Household	$5.80
Glenora patent	5.50
Bran, per ton	19.00
Shorts, per ton	21.00

Market Reports.

THE IMPORTATION OF MANITOBA WHEAT INTO THE STATES AND ITS SIGNIFICANCE

The recent bonding of one of the Pillsbury-Washburn mills for the grinding of Manitoba wheat under Government inspection, for use in the export flour trade, is not regarded by Canadian grain men as indicative of any change in the grain trade situation of North America. The movement is not new, as many people have imagined, and it has not yet reached very large proportions. The trade returns for the fiscal year 1904 showed only 6,852 bushels of wheat in all by the United States, though in 1903 they reached as considerable a figure as 1,077,424 bushels. The view taken of the movement here, however, is that it simply verifies the prediction made three years ago by our Northwestern farmers, that Manitoba hard wheat is indispensable alike to the Minneapolis miller and to the English consumer; indeed, this is only one of the many cases in which the prophecies of the Canadian West, though disregarded in England and the Eastern provinces, have eventually been fulfilled.

In his report on the crop of 1901, the chief grain inspector of Minnesota commented on the small quantity of United States wheat that graded No. 1 hard, in comparison with the large proportion of grain inspected at Winnipeg that conformed to the highest standards. Then followed the bonding of the Washburn-Crosby mill in the autumn of 1902 to grind the Manitoba wheat; but still the East showed little interest in the subject. This year the high prices prevailing in the United States, due partly to natural causes and partly to manipulation by the speculators, have furnished an additional reason for the buying of Canadian grain; for Winnipeg prices, though responding in some degree to the fluctuations of the Chicago markets, are always somewhat lower, owing to the influence of cash transactions in a prairie province.

The superior grades of Manitoba wheat assure for the grain of that province a constant demand, and hence it is immaterial to Canadian farmers in what market the 60,000,000-bushel crop of our Northwest, representing our exportable surplus, is sold, so long as they can get Liverpool prices for it.

Whatever amount the United States may eventually import from Canada will doubtless always release an equal quantity of home-grown wheat for export; for none of the grain authorities in the Dominion has any expectation of the republic's ever proving unable to furnish its own food supply. They do expect, however, that the extension of mixed farming, and the increased consumption of bread in the United States, will gradually reduce the wheat exports of your country, while at the same time the development of Western Canada will go on so rapidly that the Dominion will, before any very distant date, entirely supply the British market.

The strides that Canada is making towards the goal of her ambition may be seen by a comparison of the different grain centres of the continent. During the year ending August 31, 1904, Winnipeg maintained the standing gained in 1903, and stood second only to Minneapolis as a grain market. At Minneapolis there were inspected 14,749 carloads of winter wheat and 78,375 of spring wheat, of which only 91 cars graded No. 1 hard.

Winnipeg received 38,473 cars of spring wheat containing from 1,000 to 1,200 bushels each, and of these 557 were No. 1 hard; 31,171 cars of spring, and 765 of winter were brought to Duluth, 65 being passed as No. 1 hard and 155 as "special." At Chicago and various country points in Illinois 22,217 cars were received. Of these 4,473 contained spring wheat, of which the highest grade was 40 cars of No. 1 Northern.

Grain, Flour, Hay

Grain—There is little or no export business possible in either wheat or oats. Business on spot in oats for local consumption was quiet, sales being confined chiefly to car lots, owing to the fact that large buyers are pretty well filled up for the present. No. 2 white oats at 38½c to 38¾, and No. 3 at 37½c to 37¾c, ex store. For export, No. 2 white oats, at 37c to 37½c; No. 2 peas, 75c to 76c; No. 2 barley, at 54½c to 55c; No. 3 extra at 53½c to 54c, and No. 3 at 52½c to 53c, afloat.

There was no new feature in the local flour situation to note, except that a fair number of enquiries were received from foreign sources for Manitoba spring wheat grades. Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.80; strong bakers', $5.50; winter wheat patents, $5.70 to $5.80; straight rollers, $5.40 to $5.50; and in bags, $2.55 to $2.65.

Feed—A fair volume of business continues to be done in mill feed, and the undertone to the market is steady. Manitoba bran, in bags, $17 to $18; shorts, $21 per ton; Ontario bran, in bulk, $17 to $18; shorts, $19 to $20; and mouillie, $24 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

Meal—There was no change in the market for rolled oats, for which the demand is fair, and sales were made at $2.25 to $2.27½ per bag, and $4.65 to $4.75 per barrel. Cornmeal remains quiet and unchanged at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

Hay—The tone of the market for baled hay is firm, under a good steady demand from local buyers. No. 1, $8.50 to$9.; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; clover, mixed, $6.50 to $7; and pure clover, $6 to $6.50 per ton, in car lots.

Hogs and Provisions

Although cable advices from the leading foreign markets have been weaker, and noted a decline of from 1s to 3s in prices for Canadian bacon, this fact has not had any depression upon the local market for live hogs, which sold to-day at $5.25 for selected lots; $5 for mixed lots, and $4.50 to $4.75 for heavy fat, per 100 lbs. The market for dressed hogs was fairly active to-day, under a good demand from butchers for small lots, and sales of fresh-killed abattoir stock were made at $7.25 to $7.50, and country dressed at $6.75 to $7 per 100 lbs. The trade in hams, bacon and lard was fairly good, and values show no important change.

A Liberal Worker

MR. J. H. DUNN.

One of the younger Liberals who played a no small part in the recent campaign was Mr. J. H. Dunn, a member of the Montreal Stock Exchange. Although not occupying any official position in the local organization, Mr. Dunn made himself invaluable to both Senator Dandurand and Hon. Mr. Prefontaine, the local leaders, and he worked untiringly to promote the interests of the party. Mr. Dunn's characteristic enthusiasm was prominent in his work and he imbued others with a degree of optimism that prepared them on election day to look for the Laurier Government's return to power with an even larger majority, in the fact of the many predictions to the contrary. Few people in fact sized up the situation, two weeks before the election, better than Mr. Dunn.

Cattle Markets

The offerings of live stock at the east-end abattoir market were 900 cattle, 800 sheep, 700 lambs, 50 calves, and 150 hogs. The trade in cattle was brisk, there being a good demand from butchers, and although supplies were fairly large the undertone was firmer, but prices showed no actual advance. Sales of fairly choice beeves were made at 4½c; good at 4c to 4½c; fair at 3½c to 4c; common at 2½c to 3½c; and inferior at 2c to 2¼c per lb. The supply of sheep and lambs was large, for which the demand was active. Sheep were steady, selling at 3½c for export stock and at 2¾c to 3¼c for butchers', while lambs were stronger and higher figures were realized, sales being made at 4¼c to 4¾c per lb. The demand for calves was fair at prices ranging from 2c to 5c per lb. Live hogs met with a fair sale at prices running from 4½c to 5¼c per lb., as to quality.

London November 7.—Since this day week a further decline of ¼c per lb. has taken place in prices for American cattle, and sales of choice were made to-day at 11¾c, while on the other hand the tone of the market for Canadian cattle has been stronger, and prices compared with a week ago show an advance of ½c per lb., choice selling at 11½c. The market for sheep has also been strong and the prices are 1½c per lb. higher than a week ago, at 12½c, while lambs sold at 16½c per lb.
