

PROGRESS MADE TODAY IN ARRANGING AGENDA Great Britain Has Subordinated Herself To World Court

Third Session Of Conference Will Be On Thursday

Meeting, Which Will Be Open To Press, Will Appoint Committee To Consider, in Order Named, French Global Tonnage Proposal, French-Italian Naval Parity and British Plan of Limitation by Categories.

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, Jan. 28.—The third full session of the Five Power Naval Conference was called today to meet on Thursday at 10 a.m. in the old drawing room of Queen Anne at St. James' Palace.

The call for the session was issued after another meeting of the National delegations, at which further progress was made in arranging the agenda of the conference, a matter which has occupied the delegates during the first full week of Conference life.

The session on Thursday, which will be open to the press, will appoint a committee to consider, in the order named, the French global tonnage proposal, French-Italian naval parity, and the British plan of limitation by categories.

Delegates Appeared Satisfied Over Progress Made

The delegation chiefs attending the "Big Five" meeting today appeared satisfied as the left that they had already gone far toward clearing away obstacles to real progress.

The order in which the three items mentioned should be discussed was the subject of debate of two long sessions of the "Big Five". It was understood that in agreeing to place the Italian parity proposal on the agenda, the word "parity" was not used, its diplomatic equivalent being employed instead.

Decided to Admit Press Representatives to Meeting

A committee of two members from each national delegation will be appointed on Thursday to begin immediate study of the three proposals named. Thereafter there will be further discussion of the agenda, with the hope of completing the remainder soon.

The delegation heads decided in principle to admit press representatives at Thursday's plenary discussion, but the subject was to be further discussed in the meantime.

Following the meeting today it was stated the Italian delegation had made reservations to decisions reached by the heads of the National delegations. The exact nature of the reservations was not stated.

QUESTION OF CRUISERS TO BE ON STAGE EARLY

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Questions raised by the United States will come early into the orbit of the Five Power Naval Conference when its working sessions reach actual problems. To avoid difficulties the delegates have decided to take questions in alphabetical order, and the United States is regarded as America.

Though the conference is still on the effect of the decision is to give the outsiders of its actual agenda, priority to the American questions. The British, French, Italian and Japanese questions come in that order.

Thus, unless change is made, the question of cruisers will be on the stage early. The United States wants its parity agreement with Britain on cruisers made effective and this will necessitate either the scrapping of some British cruisers or the completion of the present American building programme of 15 cruisers.

CANADIAN DELEGATE IS PLEASED OVER HEADWAY THAT HAS BEEN MADE

LONDON, Jan. 28. (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—"I am very much pleased," said Col. the Hon. J. L. Ralston, Canadian Minister of National Defense and Canadian delegate to the Five Power Naval Conference, when the Canadian Press asked him today how he regarded the progress of the conference. "Progress seemed to be evident as a result of the informal conversations."

ITALY MADE RESERVATIONS TO DECISIONS REACHED TODAY

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, Jan. 28.—Italy made reservations to decisions reached today at the meeting of the heads of the delegations to the London five power naval conference. It was learned shortly after the meeting adjourned. The exact nature of the reservations was not disclosed.

STANDING OF PARTIES WAS NOT CHANGED

Standing in House of Commons Will Not Be Affected by Results of Elections in Bagot and Chateauguay Counties.

(By Canadian Press) OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—The election by acclamation of Liberals in the constituencies of Bagot and Chateauguay-Huntingdon will make no change in the standing of parties in the House of Commons. Both seats were held by Liberals since the last general election.

The party standing in the House of Commons at present is as follows: Liberals, 117; Conservatives, 89; United Farmers of Alberta, 11; Progressives, 12; Liberal-Progressives, 9; Labor, 3; Independent, 2.

This does not include the Speaker. Also there is a vacancy in the constituency of Brandon, where Hon. A. C. Carver, newly-appointed Minister of Railways, is seeking election. If Mr. Carver should be elected, the party standing will be unchanged, with all seats filled. The strength of the House of Commons, including the Speaker, is 245.

Both the vacancies in Quebec, which are filled by acclamations, occurred as the result of the death of sitting members. In the case of Chateauguay-Huntingdon, the vacancy was caused by the death of Hon. James A. Robb, for many years a member of the Cabinet, and until late in 1929, Minister of Finance. The Bagot vacancy was caused by the death of G. D. Morin.

Brandon became vacant through the resignation of Hon. Robert Forke, formerly Minister of Immigration, to enter the Senate.

At the outset of his address the Japanese Minister to Canada paid a glowing tribute to the work of the Hon. Herbert Marler as Canada's Minister to Japan, saying, "It is a great compliment paid to my country by Canada that a gentleman of his ability and experience, coupled with the charming personality of Mrs. Marler, has been chosen as the first Canadian Minister to Japan."

Speaking of the relations existing between Canada and Japan, the envoy said: "The friendly relations between Canada and Japan are no new development. They are founded in the first place upon the traditional goodwill between the United Kingdom and Japan, which naturally reflects upon the relations between Canada and Japan. Secondly, our

North Hatley Man A Victim Of Accident

T. H. ANDREWS BROUGHT TO HOSPITAL SUFFERING FROM SERIOUS WOUND AS A RESULT OF RIFLE ACCIDENT. FULLY DISCHARGED.

(Special to the Record) NORTH HATLEY, Jan. 28.—Mr. T. H. Andrews, forty-five years old, well known auctioneer of this place, is at present in the Sherbrooke Hospital suffering from a severe wound in the left cheek caused by a bullet from a heavy calibre rifle.

Mr. Andrews was in the workshop near his home yesterday, when, seeing a rat, he reached for his rifle which was on a bench nearby. It is thought that the trigger must have caught on some projection for the weapon discharged and the bullet entered the left cheek. For some hours Mr. Andrews lay unconscious. When he regained consciousness he attempted to reach the house, but, feeling that he could not make it, he went into the stable, where he fell unconscious to the floor. Again he came to and tried to negotiate the few yards leading to his house. This time he was successful.

Mrs. Andrews, who had thought that her husband was at his office downtown, opened the door and helped her husband reach a chair, after which Dr. R. J. Spier was summoned. The medical man rendered first aid and had the injured man removed to the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Subdivision Of Counties Into Electoral Sections To Be Started This Week

Does Not Seem to Be Any Intention of Increasing Number of Rural Seats—Certainly Not as Far as Montreal Is Concerned—Will Take Much Hard Work to Convince Government—Government Ridicules Rumor That Matter Being Handled With View to Coming Elections.

QUEBEC, Jan. 28.—Present indications around the Government halls of Quebec are that the Assembly will proceed this week with the project of dividing some of the rural electoral divisions, and that there will be a series of speeches when the motion of Hon. Hector LaFerte, Minister of Colonization and Fisheries, for the appointment of a committee is brought forward.

The committee is to be composed of the Minister himself also C. Olliver, M.L.A. for Bromes; Gustave Delisle, M.L.A. for Chicoutimi; Leon Casrain, M.L.A. for Temiscouata; Cephas Bastien, M.L.A. for Berthier; Camilien Houde, Opposition leader, and Alderic Blain, Conservative M.L.A. for Dorion-Montreal.

No Increase in Urban Seats

As far as plans have been formulated up to last night, there is no intention of increasing the number of urban seats, and certainly not as far as the Island of Montreal is concerned, and those who favor the extension of the Government plan so as to give increased representation to Montreal will have hard work to convince the Government on that point.

The Government point of view is that rural members are of great direct value to their constituencies, especially now when agriculture is going through a period of reorganization. It is said, for instance, that the presence of a legislator among the farmers will mean a great deal in helping to put in reforms, since the personal influence of the member in urging the advisability of Government measures is very great upon his constituents. Some of the counties cover such a vast area that it is impossible for a man to visit all of the parishes each year, whereas the Government would like to have him preach the gospel of betterment and encouragement several times a year in each parish, and in this way help to dispel the cloud of discouragement.

Election Rumor Ridiculed

The charge that the Government is endeavoring in its redistribution of rural seats to better its position when the general elections—come about, possibly next May or early in June, is laughed at by the wise men of the Liberal organization. If it was a matter of helping the Liberal party in Montreal, it is explained, the Government, by giving several additional seats on the island, could help itself politically by such a rearrangement as might prove disastrous to Conservative hopes in some instances.

There are one or two seats in Montreal now held by Conservatives that it is felt in high Liberal circles here could be swapped among Liberal portions of the population, though, of course, with a population that constantly moves about as do the citizens of Montreal, a redistribution in this sense is always problematical, and certainly much more so than a rural redistribution. It is also claimed as regards Montreal that it is possible by a redistribution to "hive" the Conservatives, to use the classical expression of Sir John Macdonald. However, the Government does not seem much concerned with the matter one way or another, apparently not worrying whether it gains or loses a seat on the island, and it is to be noted, incidentally, that there is no Montreal Island Liberal member on the speaker's list.

New Business Block in Ayer's Cliff. Another very fine business building and home combined has recently been completed on Pleasant street and is now being occupied by the owner, Mr. Ralph Amy, and Mrs. Amy. For several years past, Mr. Amy has been engaged in the garage business, which he carried on at the rear of his former property, but the steady increase in the trade overtaxed the space, and so in the early summer of 1929 ground was broken on the adjoining lot and the foundation laid for the modern up-to-date garage. The building is 42 by 47, brick-cased with buff brick and is surrounded by drives of cement, varying from twenty-five to forty feet in width according to entrance curves. On the south side a covered garage stand projects, and in front two double gasoline pumps form a division of the double drive, over which a porte-cochere forms protection from the weather as the motorist stops for garage supplies. On the south side one finds the

The two rooms, dining and living room, are separated only by an arch and are easily converted into one large room when company demands. The hall, kitchen and bathroom floors are of polished marble and were laid by the J. S. Mitchell Corporation, as was also the tiled wainscoting, Cornacines and convenience mark the kitchen, space being well utilized for set tubs, china and food cupboard, closets for brooms, brushes, mops, ironing board, telephone booth, and one corner is cleverly converted into a breakfast nook. The sun parlor with many windows for air and sunshine, also embraces the restful view of green fields and wooded hills; a deep balcony runs off this room. The walls in hall and sun room are of a cracker finish, the living and dining room are of California stucco and this irregular plaster effect in light buff makes an admirable background for the few fine pictures on its walls. The lighting fixtures of cut crystal are in keeping with the house furnishings of mahogany, curving, Oriental rugs, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Amy plan to add to this already attractive property by planting this coming spring shrubs and an abundance of flowering perennials and annuals on the land surrounding the building.

"Skinny! I Gained 11 Lbs. in 8 Weeks and Boy Friend"

"After trying several tonics I tried Ironated Yeast. In 8 weeks gained 11 lbs., my complexion, round limbs; lost of all a boy friend."—S. M. Sallins.

Men and women are amazed at gain of 5 to 12 lbs. in 2 weeks. Ugly hollow cheeks. Boyish round out. Sallow muddy skin. Nervous color like magpie. Nourishment, indigestion, complete disappearance. Good sleep. New pep from very first day. Two great tonics in one—special weight-building Malt Yeast and strengthening Ironated Yeast. Far stronger than unmedicated yeast. Results in 1/2 time. No paste taste, no gas. Don't go round "skinny", ugly, unattractive. Get Ironated Yeast from drug-grocery, or mail direct. Get your share back from manufacturer if not delighted with results.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in a bank of homes, because it gives more prompt relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle. Into a 16 oz. bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make 16 ounces. This saves two-thirds of the usual amount spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it. You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membrane. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germinladen phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active germicidal, and a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles. Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Hood and Sons, Ayer's Cliff, left his team of horses unattended at the Union Grains, while purchasing feed, on Friday p.m., and the whistle of a passing train started them into action. They made good time down Pleasant street, scattering cream cans, (which were fortunately empty). The hydrant in front of the Rider property removed the sled box and shortly afterwards they were somewhat checked by running into a large pine trunk near Mr. Amy's garage, damaging the harnesses. Fortunately Mr. Amy was near to secure them and no further damage was done.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or hard and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful three times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Grogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to take, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or ear noises should give this prescription a trial.

OBSTRUCTIVE HEPATIC JAUNDICE

Obstructive hepatic jaundice is much more serious than the simple catarrhal jaundice, and the skin and mucous membranes may range in color from a bright lemon or orange to a greenish black. In the latter case it is called black jaundice. The jaundice is chronic; the patient frequently has sweats, suffers from boils and has itching of the skin. Because of the absence of bile pigments from the feces their usual color is changed and they appear a chalky gray. Both the urine and perspiration show quantities of bile. The urine may vary from yellow to green in color, and enough bile may be in sweat to discolor the clothing. In jaundice of this type practically no bile is making its way into the intestines.

In order to produce a cure it is necessary to find out what is causing the stoppage. Among other causes may be gall stones, since jaundice is usually present in cases of gall stones. When a large stone slips in to the duct from the gall bladder, it may cause the just to dam up. A chronic inflammation of the duct may also cause it to swell and thus obstruct passage of bile.

The presence of growths in the abdomen will sometimes stop the flow. Even during pregnancy jaundice may be noticed. In long standing constipation where there is impacted material in the hepatic flexure of the colon, sometimes there is enough pressure to produce jaundice. If the colon is propped, the liver and ducts escape this pressure, but some jaundice may be caused anyway, since the body re-absorbs bile from the intestinal walls when the emptying of the colon is greatly delayed by obstruction.

Sometimes kinks or adhesions of the gall ducts will also produce this type of jaundice.

A very careful diagnosis is necessary in each case to discover the exact cause before one can determine on the best method of correcting it. The dietetic method proves very successful in handling most cases of jaundice, and often the little trouble can be cleared up with no other measures. However, the right type of abdominal massage is often of great value, especially in cases of kinks, adhesions or pressures from obstructions. Usually a two weeks' grapefruit fast is advisable in beginning the treatment. If the two weeks' fast does not bring about a recovery, I usually advise a change to the buttermilk fast as this will generally be found helpful in aiding the stored up bile to be removed. In addition to the dietetic regime, other treatment should be introduced, as indicated by the answers.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Pneumonia
Question—J. G. asks: "What are the symptoms, cause and effect of pneumonia? Does it leave the health wrecked? Can a person have pneumonia more than once?"

Answer—Pneumonia is a very serious disorder, and usually follows a heavy congestion of the lungs, such as would be caused by influenza or a deep cold. There is usually an expectoration of a large amount of purulent mucus, and some temperature, although most of the time this is not very high. One can have pneumonia several times during one's lifetime, but each attack causes a more injury to the system and a scarring of lung tissue from which one perhaps never wholly recovers.

Lead Poisoning
Question—L. P. asks: "When a person uses large amounts of white lead in his employment, is there any special danger in drinking quantities of milk as a preventive against lead poisoning? Does milk counteract the lead in any way?"

Answer—You should endeavor to avoid the white lead touching your skin if possible so that you will not absorb so much of it. Drinking large quantities of milk, or a milk diet, is sometimes used for the treatment of lead poisoning—the principal help being in the large amount of liquid producing elimination.

Asthma
Question—Mrs. L. H. writes, "Please tell me what you think of osteopathic treatment for a boy six years old who is troubled with asthma?"

Answer—Osteopathic treatments would be of great help to the boy but he should also have a correct diet and certain breathing exercises. In this way he can be entirely cured. If you will send me your name and address I will forward the diet instructions necessary to the treatment of asthma. For additional help, have the boy take the osteopathic treatments.

BURY

Meeting of Bury Anglican Vestry. The annual vestry meeting of St. Paul's Church was held on Monday evening, January 20th, with Rev. C. T. Lewis, rector, in the chair. Mr. Williams, vestry clerk, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were confirmed. The financial statement was presented by the auditor which showed that after paying all indebtedness, including budget in full, there remained a balance. Financial reports were also received from the St. Paul's Guild showing that on rectory repairs, improvements to church grounds, various missionary fields in Canada and in foreign lands, Mrs. Hunt reported that $27.32 had been contributed by the Junior branch of the W.A. for missionary work.

Both retiring wardens were re-elected, Mr. J. H. Saunders, rector's warden and Mr. F. W. Barter, people's warden. Mr. W. J. Williams was elected auditor.

Hearty votes of thanks were given to St. Paul's Guild, the W.A., the choir, Sunday school teachers, decorating committee, the wardens and Mr. W. J. Williams, auditor.

A full discussion took place in regard to what material should be used when funds are forthcoming to recover the church roof in the place of the cedar shingles needing repair.

Before closing the meeting a very complimentary and eulogistic motion on behalf of the rector was put to the vestry by the people's warden and carried unanimously. The meeting closed with prayer and the benediction.

Modern Mothers treat colds externally

INTERNAL medicines so often upset children's delicate stomachs. That is why mothers of today treat their children's colds externally—with Vicks VapoRub—the modern vaporizing ointment. There is nothing to swallow; you simply rub it on.

This method of treating colds originated with Vicks. Today, the whole trend of modern medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Farmer Brown's Boy Hears a Thump

By Thornton W. Burgess

It startles one sometimes to see how big a little thing can be. —Timmy the Flying Squirrel.

It was only a few days before Farmer Brown's Boy discovered that some one was still taking corn in the corncrib. But though he thought and thought and thought, he couldn't imagine who it could be.

"It can't be, yet it is," said Farmer Brown's Boy. "Every day I find signs that prove to me that corn is being taken. Now it is a few scattered grains; now it is a bare corncrib. I have set traps, but haven't caught anybody. Somebody is too smart for me. I really don't mind the small amount of corn taken, but I do mind being fooled. I don't like to think that I am not smart enough to find out who is doing it."

So Farmer Brown's Boy took to visiting the corncrib at all hours of the day. Of course, he didn't learn anything, for Timmy the Flying Squirrel was now making his visits only at night and leaving long before daylight. So all this watching on the part of Farmer Brown's Boy was useless. He studied the ground all around the corncrib for signs, but he found none. He knew that Chatterer the Red Squirrel was over there every morning, but he was sure that Chatterer never did get inside. He wished that snow would come. You know, snow has a way of telling stories. He was sure that if snow came he would be able to find tracks, a mouse or he might suspect, unless or he might miss the living in the corncrib all the time.

Then one evening it happened that he was standing near the corncrib just before dusk. He had paused there just for a moment. Suddenly he heard a light, soft thump. He picked up his ears. It was a very light thump, but it was a familiar thump. He had heard that kind of thump before. You know, Farmer Brown's Boy is wise in the ways of the little people of the Green Forest.

"That thump was on the roof of the corncrib," said Farmer Brown's Boy. "Somebody landed there." He stepped back and looked hastily, but no one was to be seen. He hadn't really expected that any one would be seen. There was a twinkle in the eyes of Farmer Brown's Boy, however. "That was a Flying Squirrel, or else I miss my guess," said he. "That was Timmy the Flying Squirrel. He jumped from that tree. He is the one who has been taking my corn! I wonder that I didn't think of him before." Of course, this was guesswork on the part of Farmer Brown's Boy, but it was very good guessing. He didn't in the least doubt that he was right. But to make sure, he was on the watch early the next night. When the Black Shadows first began to creep out from the Purple Hills, Farmer Brown's Boy stationed himself where he could watch. Gradually the dusk grew deeper. It was getting so dark now that it was difficult for him to see. He had just about given up hope when he caught sight of a little dark spot coming down from high up in a tree near the corncrib. Almost at once there was a soft thump, and he saw a little form disappear over the edge of the roof. He smiled happily. It was a great satisfaction to have solved the great mystery. TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS LOSS DURING NIGHT

One Residence Destroyed and Another Slightly Damaged in Fires in Different Parts of City.

Damage to the extent of two thousand dollars was done by two fires during the night, the total destruction of a small house on St. Michael Street accounting for the greater part of this amount.

Shortly before four o'clock, Joseph Legendre and his family, living on St. Michael street, were awakened by an explosion, which proved to be the oil stove in the living room. The flames spread in safety, but the two-story wooden structure with such rapidity that before help could be summoned the house was a mass of flames.

On arrival, the firemen were considerably handicapped, as the outbreak was a considerable distance from a hydrant.

An action in which two local residents, Joseph H. Manseau and Emile Montour et al, are concerned, opened this afternoon in the Superior Court presided over by Mr. Justice Joseph Archambault.

Manseau claims that Emile Montour and others, used two lots owned by him in East Sherbrooke as a public pathway and refused to obey his demand that the practice be discontinued. He asks the Court for a judgment for $200 as damages to the property, as well as an order prohibiting the trespassing in question.

Montour, on his part, alleges that he never trespassed on the property of the plaintiff and that therefore he is not liable for any damages caused. He claims, moreover, that for years a pathway across the land has been used without the objection of Manseau.

was strong, especially among the uneducated. An interesting little story told of Mere Bolduc and the goblin was connected with the popular superstition regarding knots in a horse's mane.

The big, black, bridled horse of unknown origin who assisted in the building of a church which story was told as happening at L'Islet and also at Sorel.

Dealing with the subject of the loup-garou, a thrilling story was told of fifteen white horses. Another well known French legend given was the story of Pipette.

The rhythm of the folk songs was explained by the fact that they were composed to be sung while the habitant was working. Among others read were "Malbourk" and "Shepherdess, Whence Comest Thou?" Perhaps one of the most delightful features of the address were the verses read by Dr. Call of his own composition. In tendering a vote of thanks to Prof. Call, the members of the W.I. expressed a hope that they might look forward to another address from him in the future.

A business meeting was held before the address. The report of the short course banquet was given by the conveners, Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. McClary. While this was not as much of a financial success as former banquets, still a pleasant and profitable evening was spent. A hearty vote of thanks was given the conveners and committee for their capable management.

Various Christmas committees gave their reports. Mrs. W. T. Pearson reported gifts of books to three sisters in members and candy to six other shut-ins. Mrs. A. F. Browns reported twenty-eight young men and boys from overseas were invited to attend a community Christmas tree, where each received a small gift. Candy and nuts were furnished for the community. Mrs. Ashe reported on the suitable gifts given to several families. A number of strangers in the community were also remembered.

The roll call for the day, "A Scotch Joke," brought forth many good ones. The practical idea as given by Mrs. J. A. Woodward will be of aid when blocking fowl. Refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. D. Lang, Mrs. A. F. Browns and Mrs. W. T. Pearson, assisted by Miss Simms, brought this very pleasant afternoon to a close.

Mr. Townsend in his long connection with the Lowell fire fighting force had a varied experience and saw the department develop from a small force of men and equipment to its present man-power and modern motor apparatus.

YOUNG MEN'S GROUP MET LAST EVENING

Last night the Young Men's gym class met after the workout on the floor to consider the invitation to the Y.W.C.A. members. Owing to the girls having a basketball game with an out-of-town team on Feb. 4th, it was agreed that a change should be made to Feb. 6th, and the secretary was instructed to write the Y.W.C.A. inviting the girls' group for that evening. After both the physical classes moving pictures were shown through the courtesy of the Canadian National Railway.

LOCAL MAN WAS ARRESTED

Alexandre Pelletier, of this city, was arrested yesterday on a charge of false pretences in connection with the sale of a motor car to J. Eugene Ladouceur, and Leo Ladouceur, also of Sherbrooke. DECREASE IN REVENUES AT LOCAL PORT Customs and Excise Taxes Collected Total $1,512,437.37 in 1929 Against $1,564,408.10 for 1928—Large Drop in Sales Tax Revenues.

A decrease of $51,970.73 in total collections featured the report of the customs district of Sherbrooke made public by the local branch of the department of National Revenue this morning.

Total collections from all sources amounted to $1,512,437.37 in 1929 as compared with the sum of $1,564,408.10 for 1928. Revenue at the Sherbrooke port is divided into four sections, import duties, excise taxes, excise duties and sundry collections, the first providing over two-thirds of the total collected.

Excise taxes, comprising mainly sales tax collections, showed a heavy decrease of $91,794.29, falling from $497,574.43 in 1928 to $405,680.14 in 1929, a large part of which drop was accounted for by the reduction of the sales tax effective April 1st 1929.

Excise duties, being the taxes levied by the government on the manufacture of spirituous liquors and tobacco products, were more than cut in half, dropping $6,359.03 from $12,417.70 in 1928 to $6,058.67 in 1929.

A small drop was also noticed in sundry collections, the amount declining from $2,382.26 to $1,566.73 in the course of the year.

NOT KNOWN IF PLANT WILL BE REBUILT

Mr. H. L. Call, Manager of Snag Proof Overall Company's Branch at North Hatley, Which Was Destroyed by Fire Sunday, Says Future Plans Not Decided—Loss in Vicinity of $45,000.

(Special to the Record) NORTH HATLEY, Jan. 28. — It is not known yet whether the plant of the Snag Proof Overall Company, which was destroyed by fire here on Sunday afternoon last, will be rebuilt or not. Such was the information given out this morning by Mr. H. L. Call, the local manager, who stated that the president of the concern, Mr. J. H. Turner, of Beebe, who is at present spending the winter in Florida, was notified yesterday of the loss and that word was expected from him shortly as to the future plans of the company in this place.

Two officials of the parent company at Beebe, Messrs. Irvine Corey and R. Woodard, were in town yesterday, and a check up of the loss was made. Mr. Call stated that at the time of the fire there was nearly $30,000 worth of cloth and finished goods in the factory, and that the total loss sustained is in the neighborhood of $45,000.

The loss of the industry, even if it turns out to be only temporary, is a serious blow to the town, as it was practically the sole manufacturing plant operating here during the winter months. Thirty hands were employed at the time of the fire.

Rio Rita, which opened a four days' engagement at the Premier Theatre yesterday, is a screen production which can be highly recommended. Two popular stars, Bette Daniels and John Boler, take the leading parts, and are ably assisted by a large cast. Miss Daniels and Mr. Boler have very pleasing voices, and are heard in a number of delightful songs.

There is a very interesting love story to Rio Rita, which is blended with adventure and comedy. The scenes throughout the picture are very pretty, as are also the costumes.

The first dressmaking class at the MacKinnon Memorial Building will be held on Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The course will consist of eight lessons, the first of which will be devoted to learning the different stitches used, care and running of sewing machine, etc.

AUTOMOBILE SHOWS

Once again the automobile shows are here, and, according to the reports from Montreal, where the greatest exposition in the history of the metropolis has just concluded, they should dispel the remark once commonly heard, "They can't improve cars from now on."

Automobiles have been improved in appearance and as to works every year, and they will undoubtedly continue to exhibit improvements from year to year, but it is stated that the 1930 improvements are unusually irresistible to the automobile-conscious.

The development of the color schemes in the automotive industry has shown the influence of real artists. This year there is apparent a more thoughtful attention to the relation of the secondary tones to the main motif, with more simplicity in color combinations, while the laboratories, faced with the problem of producing color finishes that will not fade in sun or rain, have made remarkable progress in this direction during the past year.

The automobile shows have more than a passing interest for even the average person. The automotive industry is among the leaders on this continent, and a great many people today are interested in motor cars.

PREFERS CANADA

Canada is attracting the attention of quite a number of foreign investors. One of these, an American, who declares he has more money invested in the Dominion than in his own country, gives the following reasons why he prefers to place his money in this country:

1. Canada, with two railroad systems, has a settled policy. In the United States, government bureaucrats play with vast private railroad investments like children with mud-pies.

2. The frailties of human nature make impossible a perfect solution of the liquor problem. Likewise our modern industrial life demands alcohol for industrial fabrics.

In the United States, criminals handle the liquor business, at a terrific expense to the law-abiding taxpayer. In Canada, the Government, like England's, is discouraging the use of liquor by making it expensive.

3. Canada has a fine branch banking system that can provide a little prairie town with safe and inexpensive banking service. This system can check the unwise expansion of credit that produces panics.

In the United States we are drifting into a maze of unit banks, chain banks and branch banks suggestive of a cross-word puzzle. The control of credit is scattered and mobilization ineffective.

4. The Senate of Canada, the judiciary, and the criminal procedure are superior to those of Canada's southern neighbor.

A LITTLE GOOD NEWS

Of late Canadians have had little cause to be pleased over the news emanating from Washington, where the tariff schedule has been the outstanding item under consideration. However, yesterday proved to be an exception to the general rule. Notwithstanding strong opposition on the part of Senator Couzens, of Michigan, the United States Senate decided to allow citizens residing along the Canadian border and tourists to Canada to continue to take home with them one hundred dollars' worth of purchases duty free, provided they do not avail themselves of the privilege more than once within thirty days.

When the matter was discussed, the U. S. Senate finance committee, a high tariff body, oddly enough proposed to raise the exemption to two hundred dollars, but Senator Couzens demanded that all exemption should be wiped out. Neither proposal met with favor in the United States Senate, the regulation in the tariff law remaining as it has been for some time, with the thirty day proviso suggested by Senator Tydings, of Maryland, added.

Senator Couzens, failing in his effort to have the entire exemption clause stricken from the tariff regulations, asked that the privilege be denied unless visitors to this country remain out of the United States more than three days, claiming that merchants along the Canadian and Mexican borders were losing large amounts through the practice of border residents making purchases across the boundaries, but this suggestion also was turned down.

The regulation allowing Americans to take home with them one hundred dollars' worth of goods duty free is a great convenience to the many tourists that every year visit this country, and advantageous to the Canadian merchants.

WHOM WOULD YOU INVITE?

Here is a proposition worth thinking about. Our civilization—Western civilization—is a pretty muddled affair.

And we're pretty muddled. We simply don't know the kind of world in which we shall have to live out the rest of our lives.

Books are not wholly satisfactory guides. There are so many of them. Their contents are contradictory. One day we read a book that leaves us with the feeling that our civilization is doomed, that the war was the death rattle in its throat. The next day we read a book that tells us we are on the eve of a gloriously new era. Which are we to believe? How can we tell the true prophet from the false? If you can decide, you have me bested.

There is one way I think we might get a fairly accurate sense of where we're headed. Suppose we could bring together the clearest minds

In all the fields of thought and action in which the future of our civilization will be determined—the best biologist, the best psychologist, the best economist, the best business man, the best labor leader, the best statesman, the best educator, the best religious leader, and so on. Suppose we could get such a group together in some quiet place—say Jekyll Island—for a month or two. Suppose we could spend that month or two just talking with these high priests of modern knowledge. Might we not get, as we could get in no other way, a real picture of what we may expect for the next fifty years?

You may say we can read the books these men are writing. But most of us are busy men. We're lucky if we get to read one such book a week—or a month. And most of us haven't the background that would enable us to see the interrelations of this run of fifty-two books we might, if lucky, read in a year. When these experts disagree in their books, we have no way of knowing what they might say to each other face to face in defending their positions. Lots of their differences might be ironed out in the give-and-take of discussion. But if we could eavesdrop them in their talk we might find a way out of the middle we're in.

Suppose I had plenty of money and should offer to finance such a party of experts and take them as house guests to some such place as Jekyll Island for a month or two.

Whom would you invite to the party? If you will write me your list of the twenty-five or fifty or one hundred men from whom you think you could best learn the future of Western civilization, I will present in this column, at some later time, my own list, and a study of the lists you present.—Cpt. 1930.

PRESS COMMENT

ONE HAPPY COUNTRY. (Brandon Expositor)

There are no taxes in Andorra, the little Republic in the Pyrenees, between France and Spain. As autos are also prohibited, there is not even a tax on pedestrians in the negotiation of kangaroo jumps.

TONE DOWN THE LOUDSPEAKER.

Carlyle, driven to extremities by noises in the streets of Chelsea, built for himself a room within a room in which he made a valiant but vain attempt to escape from the cries of peddlers and the din of traffic outside. That was many years before the transmission of sounds through the ether became a practical and popular system. Had he had his neighbor's radio to contend with he might have found his task more difficult, for music transmitted through the air can penetrate the thickest of walls.

Radio is unquestionably a boon to men and women of domestic tastes. But with it there is a responsibility, for its possessor has a duty to see that his neighbors' rights, privileges and wishes are respected. Too often failure to consider the effect of unwanted radio programmes upon others has planted the seeds of hostility in those whose sympathies were not altogether against it.

So objectionable has the unwanted loudspeaker become in Holland that the authorities in Amsterdam have forbidden people to use radio to any extent where it becomes disagreeable to neighbors. To make the ban effective police are authorized to enter dwellings and take action against offenders. No one under such a restriction is likely to continue the loudspeaker full blast with windows open or doors ajar.

Such a move will be welcomed by even the most ardent of radio enthusiasts. There is a legitimate use for radio, which has conferred incalculable benefits upon its listeners, but it should be restricted to this use, leaving free the person who wants to read a book or allow his thoughts to wander, unhampered by sounds and noises which he does not want to hear and which a little thoughtfulness can easily control.

Social Afternoon Spent In the afternoon Mrs. J. V. Ames entertained at a delightful tea at her residence on Queen Street in honor of the Grand Chapter officers from out-of-town.

The tea was largely attended and the social afternoon most enjoyable. The tea table was unusually lovely, the flowers being daffodils and tulips, in mauve and yellow with tapers to match, and the ices and sweets also carried out the same color scheme. Mrs. W. G. Cross poured coffee and Mrs. A. E. Tomkins cut the ices. Mrs. Z. Griffith was in charge of the tea room, with Miss Margaret Cross, Miss Irene Wright and Miss Dorothy Casadon assisting.

During the afternoon delightful musical numbers were rendered by a trio composed of Miss Janelle, pianist, Mr. Asselin, cello, and Mr. Jutras, violin, the latter also playing some very lovely solos.

The next event was supper, which was served at Trinity United Church Hall, and attended by about one hundred guests. This was quite an unofficial affair, no toasts or business being transacted.

There was a large attendance of members at the regular meeting of the Sherbrooke Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. W. Bailey, Winter St., yesterday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. S. A. Jones, in the chair. After the devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Dr. G. Elsey Read, plans were made for an entertainment to be held in the Cambridge School on February 7th, when the prizes offered in the school for the best papers on "hygiene," will be distributed. The sum of five dollars was voted to the Child Welfare Club, by the mission part of the meeting was in charge of the superintendent of Missions, and interesting extracts were read regarding the work in Japan.

The annual meeting of the Sherbrooke Hospital Alumnae Association was held at the home of Mrs. Gordon MacKay with a good attendance of members. The annual meeting of the St. Patrick Mission Circle was held in the Church hall last evening with a good attendance. Much interest was shown in the reports of the work of the past year given by the secretary and treasurer. The financial report, while not showing as large a balance as statements of previous years, was quite satisfactory. During the year donations were made to the Sisters of Service for their work in the west and also to the Sisters of the Atonement for the same purpose, while two children were supported in an orphanage in India and a Catechist in Africa. Donations were also made to the Redemptionist missions and to the Ursuline Sisters in China. Miss Agatha Murphy, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the report of that committee and the slate was unanimously adopted and the nominees declared elected to office as follows: President, Mrs. Albert Giroux; vice-president, Miss Marguerite Miron; junior vice-president, Miss Helen Slattery (re-elected); treasurer, Miss Ruberta Tobin; secretary, Miss Geraldine Hebert (re-elected); and assistant secretary, Miss Margaret Fitzgerald. A vote of thanks was passed for the efficient and loyal work of the nominating committee, presented by the efficient and loyal work of the nominating committee, presented by the efficient and loyal work of the nominating committee.

The bearers were Messrs. W. McKeen, A. Richard, T. M. Hawkins, A. B. Conway and J. Fitzgerald.

HAVE LIFE LINE ABOARD HULK OF STRANDED SHIP

Crew of British Frigate, Which Ran on Reef Near Biarritz During Night and Broke in Two, Being Rescued Under Difficult Conditions.

(Associated Press Cable.) BORDEAUX, France, Jan. 28.—After many hours of heroic rescue work, a life saving crew from St. Jean de Luz got a line aboard the hulk of the British frigate Knebworth, which ran on a reef near Biarritz during the night and broke in two.

Several members of the crew were brought ashore by the breech-buoy, and the life savers were getting them off this afternoon at the rate of one every fifteen minutes under difficult conditions. In all the crew consisted of twenty-one men and two women, who had taken refuge in the forward part of the ship. One sailor was swept overboard and drowned when the freighter struck the reef.

HYDRO COMPANY IS SEEKING MORE POWER IN MATTER OF EXPROPRIATION OF LANDS. QUEBEC, Jan. 28.—Extended powers for the Beauharnois Light, Heat and Power Company in the matter of expropriation of lands necessary for building its canal from Lake St. Francis to Lake St. Louis on the St. Lawrence River are provided for in a measure before the Legislature. Under the statute passed in 1928 the company was empowered to expropriate such lands as may be necessary, not exceeding in all six arpents in extent. This is changed in the present bill to 21 arpents in width.

The present plans of the company, as explained to the Legislature two years ago, call for a present development of 500,000 horsepower, half of which, under the contract with the Quebec Government, may be sold to the province of Ontario, and arrangements for the sale of which have already been announced by the company. It has been made no secret, however, that the ultimate purpose of the project is to develop 2,000,000 horsepower and, in view of recent events

BISHOP'S SHUT OUT IRISH IN JUNIOR GAME

College Lads Won Hard-Fought Contest Last Night—Carson Was Outstanding, Scoring Both Tallies Chalked Up by Victors.

The Bishop's Juniors defeated the Irish Canadians in a fast and sensational tilt in the College rink last night in a regular feature of the Sherbrooke Junior Hockey League by a count of two to nothing. Play throughout was speedy, and it looked like anybody's game till the middle of the third period, when Carson's second counter gave the Collegians a lead they proved good enough to clinch the decision.

The puck-chasers of both teams showed brilliant form, and the shooting and combination plays were pretty to watch. The Sherbrooke aggregation played great hockey, but they were forced to play outside the defence and Price, on guard at the Bishop's stronghold, batted the disc in all directions, foiling the finest efforts of the White and Green. With their chances of victory slipping rapidly, the Irish staged a rally in the closing moments of play sending five men up the ice in a desperate attempt to register. However, a series of offside, coupled with the defensive tactics of Hall, kept them from scoring, and left the Collegians two up at the end of the game.

Carson, at centre, was outstanding for the Purple and White. He did some pretty stickhandling and checking, and bagged both counters for his team; while the defensive pair, Soles and McArthur, gave Price good protection. Parsons was best for the Irish, with Gavvin and Moran also showing up well.

The game opened up fast with both teams flashing a lot of pretty rushes. Parsons did great things for the Sherbrooke squad and might have got into the scoring column with a little luck. The period ended scoreless. The second stanza was equally fast, with both goalies having some close shaves. After ten minutes Carson stick-handled from centre ice, and drawing Bushy out of his goal, tallied on a well placed shot. A few minutes later, Price just managed to prevent Sherbrooke evening up the count by falling on the rubber in a scramble, and this session closed with the score one to nothing for the Collegians.

Bishop's dominated the play for the first part of the final period and Carson banged in another goal, when he got uncovered in front of the net to shoot in Brough's rebound. The Irish started a four men attack which was temporarily checked when Hall and Moran each drew penalties. With a few minutes left to play, the Sherbrooke boys bombarded Price from close in, but failed to dent the twice leaving, the final score Bishop's 2, Irish 0.

The line-up: Bishop's: Price, Soles, McArthur, Carson, Brough, Hall, Crowell, Stevenson, Martin, Hodgins. Irish: Bushy, Chartier, Gavvin, Parsons, Turgeon, Moran, Lemare.

LEAGUE STANDING
By virtue of the victory Bishop's are now at the top of the local league. The league standing to date is as follows:

Teams	P.	W.	L.	D.	P.
Bishop's	2	2	0	1	5
Irish Canadians	4	1	1	2	4
Lennoxville	1	0	1	0	2

BOSTON MAY SET ANOTHER NEW N.H.L. RECORD

Bruins May Count Up Enough Goals Against Pittsburgh Tonight to Give Them High Scoring Record of National League—Maroons and Canadiens to Clash—Two Other Games Scheduled.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The Boston Bruins already have made one new National Hockey League record this season and they are hot on the trail of a few more. A second is due to go soon, perhaps tonight, and at the rate they are travelling the Bruins won't leave one of the old marks by the end of the season.

Boston now needs only eight goals to equal the league's high scoring mark of 116 tallies which Canadiens of Montreal made two seasons ago. And it is quite possible for the Bruins to get those eight counters against Pittsburgh. They have taken eight times in one game already and may repeat against the league's weakest team.

Bound to Get Scoring Record
At any rate the scoring mark is due to go before the Bruins play all of the sixteen games that remain. In twenty-eight games so far, Boston has averaged close to four goals a game, and if they carry on at the same pace they will score approximately 159 times, not only beating the present mark but averaging far better than any club since the National League advanced from the four club class in 1924.

They can do as much in the matter of games won and lost. Ottawa's great Senators, who won the titles in 1925-26 and 1926-27, have the best previous marks with twenty-four victories and four ties in the thirty-six game schedule of the first season and thirty victories and four ties in forty-four contests for the second. On a percentage basis, counting the ties as half games, Ottawa had marks of .723 and .727. This year Boston has been going at a .837 clip, which would carry them to the end of the season with thirty-eight victories and but six defeats.

Pirates Doing Poorly
On the other hand, Pittsburgh may do as poorly as Boston can do well. The Pirates have made but ten points in 26 games and have had 110 goals scored against them. The worst records so far, both made by Chicago, were a 17 point total and 134 opponents' goals. At the rate the Pirates are going they will equal the first and beat the second. Unless they improve their average, 196 goals will be tallied against the Pirates. So far an average of 4.23 counters have gone past the Pittsburgh goalie, some three-tenths of a goal worse than Boston's average for its first year in the league.

The only losing record the Pirates cannot beat is that of Chicago's failure to score last season when the Black Hawks scored but thirty-four in forty-four games.

Four Games Tonight
These possibilities bring about the only interest in tonight's Boston-Pittsburgh game, which is overshadowed by three more important contests of the schedule. At Montreal, the two local teams, the Maroons and Canadiens, stage their fourth intra-city battle with the count standing three to nothing in favor of the section-leading Maroons.

Ottawa, tied with Canadiens for second place in the Canadian division, plays at home against the Chicago Black Hawks, second place contenders in the American group, who are only a point behind the New York Rangers. The Rangers engaged in another intra-city battle against the Americans, their third battle after each has won a game.
