Strike stalls bus service

MONTREAL (CP) — Most bus transport in Quebec province was tied up today as the majority of 1,000 employees of Provincial Transport Enterprises remained on strike.

Voyageur Provincial bus lines, one of six companies which form Provincial Transport Enterprises. A company spokesman said the Voyageur Provincial drivers earned an average of $7,800 to $8,000 a year before the strike, on the basis of a 35-hour work week.

Voyageur Provincial is seeking union permission for its buses to leave the garage and has said it will apply for an injunction ordering release of the buses if union co-operation is not forthcoming.

Normal passenger load of long-distance companies in the Provincial Transport group is more than 60,000 a day. Bus lines serving points south of Quebec City and running into New Brunswick and lines running to Ontario points are unaffected.

Ten unions are involved in dealings with Provincial Transport. A spokesman for the Confederation of National Trade Unions, with which the unions are affiliated, said the striking unions are asking wage parity with employees of the Montreal Transportation Commission.

News in brief 50 killed

At least 50 persons were killed in weekend accidents across Canada, 44 in traffic. A survey by The Canadian Press from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday night, local times, also showed three persons died in fires, two men were accidentally shot in separate incidents, and another was pinned beneath the car he was working on.

Birth control?

TORONTO (CP) — The next generation of Canadians may have to enforce birth control by compulsory sterilization, Hugh Keenleyside, chairman of the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority, warned Sunday night.

As old as any

SASKATOON (CP) — Evidence of prehistoric man, believed as old as any in North America, was uncovered during the weekend by crews working in a sandpit.

Out in force

Vietnam war protesters were out in force during the weekend and most of the demonstrations were peaceful.

In Toronto Saturday, 34 persons were arrested — 28 men, four women and two juveniles — but in other cities across Canada things were relatively quiet.

Charges in the Toronto demonstration ranged from causing a disturbance and assaulting police officers to public mischief.

Give arms

LONDON (CP) — Maj.-Gen. H. T. Alexander, Britain's observer in Nigeria, said today the French "are thought to be providing the Biafrans with arms" for their struggle against federal military forces in the African country.

Alexander told a news conference he himself came upon a French rocket that had been fired.

Back to farm

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons is to return to farm legislation today, but only if it completes the final round of debate on measures to raise Canada's postal rates.

Claude-by-clause study of the bill increasing first- and second-class mail rates was completed Friday and now requires only third and final reading before going to the Senate.

Third reading normally is routine.

MLA bolts UN party

QUEBEC (CP) — Dr. Gaston Tremblay, member of the legislative assembly for Montmorency, quit the Union Nationale party Sunday, charging the party "deceived, disappointed and betrayed" some of its supporters.

Dr. Tremblay announced his television program called Conference of Leo Tremblay. Leo Tremblay, no relation to Dr. Tremblay, describes himself as a founder of La Phalange—a right-wing separatist party founded about nine years ago—and as leader of the Christian Nationalist party.

He said in an interview the objective of the new political group is to provoke a general election as soon as possible over the issues of disorder and religion in the schools.

Both the Tremblays opposed the Union Nationale bill last year that established non-denominational junior colleges in Quebec that in effect take the place of private Roman Catholic classical colleges.

Four people killed in accidents on ET routes

Four people were killed and at least one seriously injured in traffic accidents over the weekend on ET highways.

The accident occurred about one mile from Sherbrooke's limits. Denis was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Yvan Blouin.

He said in a statement Sunday that when he first was elected to the legislature in 1966 he was convinced the Union Nationale would "restore order to education and stop this tide of technocracy which was in the process of depreciating the legislature."

Cosmonaut Beregovoy still rides space ship, as sister craft returns to earth

MOSCOW (AP) — The unmanned Soviet space ship Soyuz 2 landed in the Soviet Union today after three days in space, Tass announced, but cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy continued in orbit in the sister ship Soyuz 3.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said Soyuz 2's "program for checking its system and for joint manoeuvring and approach of the spaceships Soyuz 2 and Soyuz 3 was fully carried out."

visual observation of the cloud cover of the earth's surface and observation of the starry sky.

"It was parachuted down with the use of a soft-landing system at the last stage."

Beregovoy had followed the unmanned ship in tandem around the earth for two days and during this period had manoeuvred his Soyuz 3 so as to approach the pilotless sister ship.

Meanwhile, Beregovoy was reported to have completed his 33rd orbit of the earth, and "all the systems of the ship continue to function normally," Tass said.

"In the 33rd orbit of the earth, he discovered three forest fires and saw clearly thunderstorm phenomena in the area of the equator..."

The announcement did not give the location of the landing. Earlier today, a Soviet scientist said the purpose of Beregovoy's flight is to develop docking systems, essential for Russia's announced program of eventually constructing huge orbiting platforms in space to serve as launch pads for rockets to the moon and planets.

If any attempt was made to link up the manned and unmanned ships, something the Russians have not done, it was not announced.

"Beregovoy feels well," the Soviet news agency continued. "The cosmonaut continued the planned scientific experiments:

OBEDYERS EARTH COMMAND Tass said a retro engine was switched on aboard Soyuz 2 on command from earth and 26 minutes later, the spaceship "entered the dense layers of the atmosphere, made a controlled descent with aerodynamic quality and landed."

The statement by Boris Petrov of the Soviet Academy of Scientists was made in Pravda.

mastery of English, he must be willing to be transferred out of Quebec and he must function in the same way as his English-speaking colleagues—that is, he must think and react in English.

The commission is said to conclude in its third report, dealing with the "economic aspects of the two cultures", that the fault lies "on the one hand in the training and attitudes of French-speaking people, and on the other hand in the policies and practices of English-speaking companies."

La Presse published a reply saying it obtained the documents "in the normal performance of our mission to inform the public," and decided to publish them "because it is our opinion that they belong to the people."

Based on a current survey was the finding that the French-Canadian has to sacrifice part of his identity to succeed in the business world of English-speaking Canada.

Another finding was that French-Canadian industry does not measure up to other industry in terms of productivity, markets or wages.

This and other disclosures of the commission's findings, made in a week's series of articles in La Presse, provoked "distress-

'Go home' young Czechs yell begged the marching students: "Don't create a grave provocation... go home, you will create a dangerous situation."

The demonstrators stopped for a moment's silence when they reached the old town square where a statue of John Hus, the reformer burnt at the stake, stands.

Tense officials were worried that the demonstration might bring Soviet troops, now on the outskirts of the city, back into the centre of town.

On Sunday, the officials voted to make Czechoslovakia into a federation of Czech and Slovak states, still united under the Prague government but less tightly controlled.

Over loudspeakers, police begged the marching students: "Don't create a grave provocation... go home, you will create a dangerous situation."

With lowered flags, they sang a verse of a Czechoslovak national song before continuing the march across the Vltava River toward the castle.

London police control huge crowd

LONDON (CP) — Police Sunday contained and controlled the largest demonstrations against the Vietnam war ever held here.

Police estimated about 30,000 persons marched through London, all but a few hundred peacefully. Some 7,000 demonstrated in Grosvenor Square, site of the American Embassy, and 200 to 300 extremists broke away for a flying wedge attack on the big white building.

out using nightsticks, penning them into the southwest corner of the square and stopping any attempt to break out. Gradually the young demonstrators ran out of steam and drifted away. London was quiet again by 9 p.m.

Copper thieves take truck, too

Sherbrooke municipal policemen are searching for a gang of thieves who broke into the warehouses of Codere Ltee, 34 Grandes Fourches Street North, Sherbrooke, and stole 35 cases of copper wire, altogether worth $4,375.

The crime was committed late Friday night or Saturday morning. The truck was parked in the company yard.

Casualty figures were low. Five policemen and about 40 demonstrators received medical treatment, although hundreds more had minor cuts and bruises.

Quebec's pioneer separatists dissolve; welcomed by Rene be made more dynamic by the combination of our impatiences," Mr. Levesque said.

MONTREAL (CP) — Quebec's pioneer separatist party dissolved during the weekend and Rene Levesque, leader of the new Parti Quebecois, immediately welcomed the members into his fold.

d'Allemagne said maintaining two separatist parties is a waste of money, energy and work. Moreover, two parties would not inspire confidence in the people. They would ask why they should vote for those who could not get along even among themselves.

Mr. Levesque said Sunday the projected addition of former members of the Rassemblement pour l'Independance nationale to his party will build a "strong and efficient" separatist party.

Le Parti Quebecois already is the result of one fusion—the former Ralliement Nationale, led by Gilles Gogroire, and the Mouvement Souverainete-association, led by Mr. Levesque, a former provincial Liberal welfare minister.

Mr. Bourgault said former RIN members within le Parti Quebecois should be willing to ignore even the questions of their differences regarding language and education policies.

The RIN, which claims about 13,000 members, voted to dissolve Saturday at its annual conference, for the purpose of uniting with le Parti Quebecois, now two weeks old.

The new separatist party advocates a sovereign Quebec within a Canadian economic union. It claims about 20,000 members.

The differences are largely connected with the school question. Mr. Levesque would guarantee English-language education rights while the RIN supported a unilingual French-language policy.

"If regroupment takes place as delegates at the weekend RIN conference wished it to... I believe was are moving quickly towards a strong and efficient party, a party that will BACK HIS PROPOSAL RIN leader Pierre Bourgault, backed by his executive council, proposed dissolution to members gathered for the weekend convention, and it was approved by a vote of 227-50.

No conditions were laid down, however, by the RIN for fusion with le Parti Quebecois.

To give French courses

The Commission Scolaire Regionale de l'Estrie is organizing French language courses for new Canadians who plan to live in the Province of Quebec.

Marcel Bureau, director of the Saint Jean Baptiste Society, Sherbrooke Branch, wrote Jean-Louis Dupont, president of the school commission, congratulating Mr. Dupont and his colleagues for their initiative.

Mr. Bureau expressed a hope that a large number of new Canadians would take the course because French is the language of the majority in La Belle Province.

JMC concerts begin November 5th

The 1968-69 Jeunesse Musicale of Canada concert season opens November fifth and the seventh with one of Canada's most promising young singers, Jacqueline Martel, a soprano lirico-coloratura and Dorothy Weldon, a harpist and permanent member of the Montreal Symphony Orchestra, performing.

The JMC, whose performances are of a very high standard, are accompanied by commentaries and this year, two of the five concerts, will be presented with audio-visual techniques.

The concerts take place in the St. Charles Auditorium, for the primary students, and at the Grande Salle of the University of Sherbrooke, for secondary and university students, as well as for adults.

The admission fee is $2.00 for primary students, $3.00 for other students and $5 for adults. The membership card includes all five concerts and the regular six issues of the JMC Chronicle.

There is a one dollar reduction on every concert held at the JMC Orford Camp. Membership campaigning will take place in every school, institution and university.

Campaigns will begin on Oct. 21 and run until Nov. 5, the date on which the first concert of the year will be held.

Anyone wishing to get tickets for this concert should phone Skinner and Nadeau at 562-3420.

The second concert of the year will be held on Nov. 16 and will feature singers, Renee Claude and Stephane Venne. The concert will be held at the Grande Salle of the University of Sherbrooke at 8:30 p.m.

The third concert, to be held on Dec. 5 and 7, will feature the well-known duo pianists, Darko Lukic and Jurica Mural of Yugoslavia.

The two from Zagreb, Yugoslavia, have formed a team in view of presenting less well-known works for two pianos.

The fourth concert of the season will be held on Jan. 28 and 30, and will feature an unusual combination of instruments in a program of original works and transcriptions. Performing will be the Pierre Bourque Saxophone Quartet of Canada.

The last concert, scheduled for Feb. 25 and 27 is one of France's greatest chamber orchestras, the Kuentz Chamber Orchestra from Paris. The group is well known to JMC audiences from previous tours and recordings.

Action Set steams in
It was a cool scene Friday

Under the white-hot glare from studio lights, the long and lanky lead singer of the Mersey's, his guitar riding chest-high, hunched over the mike and wailed:
"Come on baby light my fire, come on baby light my fire, try to set the night on F-I-R-E-U-H"
It was a cool scene Friday night as hip and beautiful Sherbrooke area teenyboppers turned onto the sounds during a dance party at the CKTS auditorium, co-hosted by CKTS disc-jockey Rod Olson and Ked Rodgers of CBC Radio's Action Set, a teen program broadcast two to coast Saturday mornings.
On stage, the intense, moppopped drummer launched into an electrifying session, drumsticks blurring in the harsh light and the staccato sounds bouncing against the walls.

Then the shrill whine of the lead guitar kicked in, followed by the heavy throbbing of the base and the melodious drone from the organ.
The teens who had been chatting in little knots around the auditorium, started to dig the rock group and were soon grooving on the floor.
Earlier Ken and Rod talked with the boppers as they strolled around the auditorium, the black microphone cord snaking along behind them.
Portions of the dance party were recorded live and will be heard on Action Set this Saturday.
The acid-rock sounds of the Mersey's were counterbalanced by Sing Out Sherbrooke, a group of young songsters influenced by the international Up With People movement.

Swaying in unison, the clear-voiced young people sang out for freedom while the teens listened quietly.
Moments later, the air was filled with excited yelps and giggles as the teens leapt up to snag tasty candy bars which rained down upon them courtesy of Lowney's.
Throughout the evening CKTS Program Director Beryl Dewar, plugged into a set of earphones, kept tab on events.
Peter Lacombe, Action Set producer, said the CBC crew moves on to Peterboro, Ontario, in two weeks time, followed by one night gigs in Sault Ste. Marie and Brandon, Manitoba.
Crowd estimates Friday ranged from 400 to 600.
As the dorrouse in Alice in Wonderland intones, everyone should feed his head.

Domtar negotiations delayed

Negotiations in the Domtar Pulp and Kraft Paper Co. Ltd. employees strike did not continue this morning, but negotiators will be called together by the Quebec labor department.

The wife of Windsor Mayor Lewis Craig said today that the mayor is in Quebec City to confer with Mr. Mirault.

Nominations in EAST ANGUS (Staff) — Citizens here will go to the polls Tuesday to elect a mayor and two aldermen.

Incumbent Mayor Herve Maltais is opposed by Arthur Bibeau, veteran alderman of number three seat, Centre Ward, who vacated his position to enter the mayoralty race. Jean-Guy Tetreault and Roland will contest the number three seat.
Robert Fournier was automatically re-elected in seat number four. Mr. Fournier was unopposed.
Incumbent alderman Simon Lagueux and Leo Biousseau will contest seat number six in the South Ward.

WATERVILLE
Nominated and elected by acclamation to the town council of Waterville are:
Reginald Cote, mayor, re-elected for the third term; seat no. 1, Jean Marc Roy, re-elected for the second term; seat no. 2, Paul Bessette replacing Clayton Bernard whose term had expired; seat no. 3, Samuel Hopper, second term; seat no. 4, Dennis Steer, second term; seat no. 5, Armand Brun, replacing Pierre Comtois whose term of office had been expired; seat no. 6, Real Quirion, re-elected for second term.
Nominations took place Friday from noon until 2 p.m. Jules Gervais was president of elections.

Most Economical
Railroads are the most economical means of transportation in both manpower and fuel consumption. All other forms of transport in the United States use almost 10 times as much fuel as railroads, yet railroads produce more than half the total gross ton-miles of transportation, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Glittering hospital ball financial, social success

The spectacular Annual Charity Ball of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary was held Saturday evening at the Le Baron Motor Hotel.
The ball was attended by several doctors and members of the hospital's executive and their wives.
Dinner was served at 9 p.m. and the large ball followed, with music for dancing provided by Les Beaulieu's Orchestra.
The ladies' auxiliary presented a cheque to the hospital during the evening.
The highlight of the ball was the spectacular gowns worn by the women attending.
Mrs. William McCoy, accompanied by her husband, was gowning in a printed hot pink chiffon creation designed by Irene Wilson of Montreal.

Mrs. McCoy, who with her husband was a guest of the auxiliary, wore matching shoes and accessories.
Mrs. John MacLeod, president of the auxiliary, wore a pale blue brocade gown with a tiara and assorted accessories. She was accompanied by her husband, Dr. MacLeod.
The wife of the executive director of the Sherbrooke Hospital, Mrs. Donald Fish, wore an aqua brocade gown with a black panel and silver accessories.
Mrs. Evans Joslin was attired in cafe au lait lace, matching accessories and a mink wrap.
Mrs. J. Buckland wore a light blue chiffon gown with gold accessories.
Mrs. A. A. Dougan, wife of the Sherbrooke Hospital's Medical Director, Dr. Dougan, wore a white gown accented by a shocking pink sash.
Miss Jean MacMillan, director of nursing at the hospital, was attired in a Kennedy pink peau de soie gown with silver accessories.

Mrs. Gordon Sangster was dressed in a black floral skirt with a black bodice.
Mrs. Arthur Eke of North Hatley was attired in a green print on black gown with black accessories.

Unrevealed warning in federal budget speech

One of the grim aspects of the latest federal budget is what it left unsaid.

The Finance Minister hopefully predicted that the nation's accounts would be balanced in the 1969-70 fiscal year after an unexpected deficit of $675,000,000 for the current period.

But to accomplish this the gross national product must show an increase of somewhere in the vicinity of eight per cent.

However, despite a rosy picture painted in the White Paper preceding the budget, there may be grave doubts that the expansion will be anywhere near this figure.

Unemployment currently is at a comparatively high rate of five per cent of the work force and it is possible to envisage it becoming even higher in the months ahead.

Many industries, especially those engaged in the export market, are finding sales increasingly difficult and probably many of them will be forced to cut back their work force.

Increase in the workless figure would have a dual effect on the government's financial picture.

A curtailment of business activity would cause a sharp slump in revenues from individual and corporate income taxes and from the sales tax, while the costs of many welfare programs would expand.

And the federal treasury is in no position to absorb the impact of lower revenues and higher costs.

Our dog hates postmen. She was once bitten by a bluejay, and all postmen carry bills, don't they?

The moon much closer

If the moon looks a little bigger in the sky than it used to, credit an active imagination — and Apollo 7.

That silvery ball is still riding serenely some 240,000 miles from the earth as it has since the first man-creature gazed up in wonder at it. Yet in a very real sense, the moon is much, much closer than it has ever been.

In terms of rocket power, "hardware" and know-how, it is literally but a couple more hops, a skip and one big jump away.

The skip could take place before the end of this year if, as tentatively scheduled, Apollo 8 is looped around the moon and back, like some cosmic boom-crang.

Then, after more earth-orbit missions and barring unforeseen technical trouble, or a tragedy like the launch pad fire that claimed the lives of three astronauts, at this time next year the first man may have set foot on the moon — and breathes there a man with soul so hardened to space spectaculars that he cannot be impressed by this event?

The successful mission of Apollo 7 can hardly be called a "hop," however.

It was the all-important first manned flight of the moon capsule, which had been redesigned after the fire, as well as the essential proving out of the systems and procedures that must be perfected for the actual moon voyage.

And it was a blazing success, as bright as the foreball it traced across the sky during re-entry.

The difference between a bookkeeper and a certified public accountant is several thousand dollars a year.

Trudeau stimulates Quebec thinking

OTTAWA OFFBEAT

By RICHARD JACKSON

OTTAWA — Did you ever see a politician stimulate so much re-thinking of political positions as Prime Minister Trudeau has in Quebec?

First the Union Nationale inched back closer to the Confederation line, with its new leader Jean-Jacques Bertrand showing the way.

Then Jean Lesage's Liberals converting the UN's inches into feet and yards took longer strides in the return to federalism.

And who knows that Rene Levesque, recovering from his flirtation with separatism, may not be next.

Odd thing is that the cause of it all, the new go-go prime minister has been saying and doing the same thing for six years, making the Quebec case for what since last spring he has been calling the "One Canada."

Not so oddly, few people in either French or English Canada were listening to him — certainly paying precious little attention anyway — until he made his run and won power as the leader of all the Canadians.

Much has been said and written about Pierre Elliott Trudeau's political preachments and positions — and not all of it favorable or flattering — in his pre-Ottawa years.

Strangely though, until recently the public spotlight always seemed to veer away from what now emerges as his most important words of all — his spelling out in the plainest language possible, his position on separatism.

LAI D IT ON THE LINE

His words, which must give comfort to all Canadians now that he is in supreme authority, are found in his essay, "New Treason of the Intellectuals," carried in the Cite Libre six years ago.

Some of the prime minister's writing in that publication, usually regarded as anything but a conformist magazine pleading the cause of the federal establishment, have come under critical examination.

But not this essay in which his intellectual contempt for the advocates of separatism comes on so clear and strong. It could be entitled "Separatism Is for Losers," and in part this is what he wrote:

"In truth, the very concept must be surmounted, and those who proclaim it for the nation of French Canada are not only reactionary, they are preposterous.

"French Canadians could no more constitute a perfect society than could the five million Sikhs of the Punjab.

"We are not well enough educated, not rich enough, nor, above all, numerous enough to man and finance a government possessing all the necessary means for both war and peace.

"The fixed per capita cost would ruin us."

He had an answer then for the sophistry of Rene Levesque, long before that semi-separatist presented it.

It was as if, back in 1962, Pierre Elliott Trudeau had peered into the future to forecast Levesque's formula for separatism involving withdrawal from Confederation by Quebec followed by a return to the federal fold on the province's own special terms.

DECADES OF DOING WITHOUT

Trudeau's answer — in — advance to that:

"Such abstraction covers a multitude of sins. It is a serious thing to ask French Canadians to embark on several decades of privation and sac-rific, just so they can indulge themselves in the luxury of choosing freely — a destiny more or less identical to the one they have rejected.

"But the ultimate tragedy would be in not realizing that French Canada is too culturally anemic, too economically destitute, too intellectually retarded, too spiritually paralyzed, to be able to survive more than a couple of decades of stagnation, emptying herself of all her vitality into nothing but a cesspit, the mirror of her nationalistic vanity and "dignity."

And for those who since have contended that separatism would release a great store of pent up, hoarded national initiative guaranteeing an independent Quebec's progress and prosperity, Pierre Trudeau, anticipating just such an argument, replied:

"Those who expect to release energies by independence are playing the sorcerer's apprentice.

"They are resolving not one single problem by the exercise or reason: and in stirring up collective passions, they are engaging an unpredictable, uncontrollable and ineffective mechanism."

Finally, flatly he declared that Quebec already had all the powers required to make French Canada "a political society affording due respect for nationalist aspirations and at the same time giving unprecedented scope for human potential in the broadest sense."

Isn't it astounding — or perhaps only to be expected — how so many Canadians, French and English, now see it and play it this way?

What a powerhouse this "Potent Pierre."

"The Just society — Just a little tighter for Just a little longer . . ."

Stunning upset

The question is, can he do it like Harry

WASHINGTON (CP-AP)

One of the big questions being asked as the United States presidential election campaign draws to a close is whether Hubert H. Humphrey can pull off the same stunning upset as Harry S. Truman did in 1948.

There are similarities in the two elections.

Truman, Democratic party presidential candidate, was substantially behind Republican Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York in public-opinion polls and most authorities said Dewey would win.

But on election day it was shown that the polls and experts had missed something. Truman was elected.

This year Humphrey goes into the Nov. 5 elections as a distinct underdog. Public opinion polls put Republican Richard Nixon substantially ahead of him.

Can Democrat Humphrey pull off another stunning upset? The U.S. vice-president says he can. But changing voting patterns indicate that this will be difficult.

Predicting the outcome of U.S. elections is particularly hard because presidential candidates are not chosen by popular vote, as in many countries.

VOTE FOR COLLEGE
Voters in each state vote for delegates on the Electoral College. The college in turn elects the president.

Each state has the same number of Electoral College members as it has senators and members of the House of Representatives.

The candidate receiving the majority of votes in one state receives all the Electoral College votes for that state.

Thus, presidential candidates seek to win the states with the most college votes, such as New York. A total of 270 of these votes is needed.

In this election Democrats are hoping that Humphrey will benefit, as Truman did, where strong candidates for Congress or state governor can pull in votes for the presidential candidate.

Truman received this kind of assistance in Illinois where Adlai E. Stevenson, later a presidential candidate himself, was running for governor and Paul Douglas was running for the Senate. Truman won the state's important block of 28 electoral votes by a narrow margin.

But 1968 has not the earmarks of a Democratic year in Congress. Republicans are not expected to lose many, if any, of the Senate and House seats they now hold. In 1948, Democrats picked up nine Senate seats and 74 House seats.

Humphrey is not even sure of winning his home state of Minnesota which he helped deliver to Truman 20 years ago.

The eight states Truman carried in the South 20 years ago gave him 99 electoral votes, providing the margin of his 303-189 win over Dewey. The then Democratic governor, Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, collected 39 as a Dixiecrat presidential candidate.

There are clear signs that third-party candidate George C. Wallace won't stop where Thurmond, now a Republican senator, did 20 years ago. Thurmond won only Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

Wallace is strongly in the running with Nixon for the Southern states that Truman carried, including Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Humphrey is reported to be running third in some of these states and it would be a tremendous upset for him to carry all of them.

Because he had a relatively strong Southern base, Truman won in 1948 by carrying only five of the nine largest industrial states—California, Illinois, Ohio, Texas and Massachusetts.

CAN'T AFFORD LOSSES

Without a secure Dixie base, with little hope for Illinois where Nixon counts himself strongest, and facing a stiff challenge in Texas, Humphrey can hardly afford to duplicate Truman's losses in New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New Jersey.

If the Democratic candidates of 20 years ago were not all happy about being on the ticket with Truman, there was not such a broad and deep-seated party division over major policies as now plagues Humphrey.

Humphrey's task is further complicated by the absence of some built-in Truman assets. Truman had been president nearly four years and the country knew much about him and how he would act—even if it didn't always like what he did.

Humphrey has been out of the main political spotlight for four years. He must generally defend the record of another man, without having had much influence on how that record was made.

Truman had his domestic troubles, but they do not compare with the dissension over the Vietnam war which has proved a troublesome program for Humphrey and violence in the streets which has become an issue with the voters.

Bygone days

Barring big upset

Confident Nixon has quietly been formulating his policy

TEN YEARS AGO
H. G. Soper, of the Canadian Ingersoll - Rand Company Ltd., addressed members of the Sherbrooke Kiwanis Club yesterday in a talk entitled "The Story of Science."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
Jacques Beaucage, Eastern Townships representative for the National Film Board, was the guest speaker at the regular weekly dinner meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the New Sherbrooke Hotel last night.

"Canada is the only with a National Film Board. Film libraries are being organized across Canada," Mr. Beaucage said. The Sherbrooke Film Council was organized in 1950.

The speaker was introduced by president Gilbert Rheume and thanked by Guy Blanchette.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Members of the local Rotary Club were entertained at their regular meeting last night by two color sound films—"Canada's Tackle Busters," and Land of the Ski-Hawks."

The films were shown through the courtesy of the public relations department of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Past President Henry Welsh addressed the members briefly on the object of Rotary.

The PRAYER FOR TODAY FROM THE UPPER ROOM

Messengers . . . went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him. And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem. (Luke 9:52-53)

PRAYER: Increase our faith and our love, O Lord, that we may never abandon the journey on which Thou hast set our feet. Strengthen us that we may prove faithful. Amen.

AKRON, Ohio (CP)—In a sense, the presidency of Republican Richard M. Nixon has already begun.

Barring the biggest political upset in 20 years, he will be sworn in Jan. 20 next with much of his administration already in motion.

For months he and a vast body of experts have been quietly formulating economic and domestic policy. An emissary was even dispatched to Europe for consultations on his behalf with heads of state.

Perhaps more than any previous candidate, even the late John F. Kennedy, he has groomed himself for the office he confidently expects to win.

But for all this, on the public platform he has the air of a man on a tightrope.

"If the election was held today," to use the phrase of the pollsters, Nixon would be a shoo-in. But "tomorrow" is Nov. 5 and Nixon knows that even with his hefty lead a false step could be disastrous.

Travelling the slick, sanitized Nixon campaign trail for a few days, one tends to put credence in rumors that members of the family and every staffer have been warned to think twice before any public comment—and then say nothing.

These fail-safe tactics have left his campaign style flat and unemotional. Criticism that he does not come to grips with major issues is well founded. But apparently it is not doing Nixon any harm.

Perhaps it is the calibre of his opposition that makes it possible for Nixon to get away with it. Democrat Hubert Humphrey is no more a spellbinder than is Nixon. Third-party candidate George C. Wallace, a fiery right-winger, is the only one who really generates any heat among followers. Nixon now is content to take the word of the pollsters that Wallace's campaign has peaked at about 20 per cent of the vote and will fall back before election day.

While Humphrey agonizes over Vietnam, Nixon takes the comfortable holier-than-thou attitude that he will not say anything that would jeopardize the Paris peace talks.

What he has said indicated he is closer to the hawkish bent of the Johnson administration than is Humphrey, still struggling inconclusively to be his "own man" on the war issue.

Humphrey, in a manner some call panicky, has tried every tactic to flush Nixon out into the open for a television debate or to take a firm, detailed stand on various other policy issues. Nixon won't bite.

But as the campaign heads into the home stretch there is some disquiet, even in the Nixon camp, on whether his indecisive style will sustain his lead through election day.

Perhaps sensing this, Nixon has promised a whirlwind finish. But many feel he still is committed to the tactics that have served him well so far and that, although he may step up his well-greased machine, the output will be more in additional miles travelled and speeches made than in actual substance.

On the road, his campaign bears the stamp of money, planning and efficiency. It doesn't need dangerous controversy.

Despite an exhausting schedule and an entourage that includes three aircraft loads of staff, family and press, "the candidate," as his staff invariably calls him, is never more than 15 minutes off schedule.

Here and at an earlier noon-time rally in Moline, Ill., recently, the setting could have been a Hollywood backdrop to a Doris Day movie—balloons and bunting and bands and everything nice.

Princesse rescues woman

BOLTON CENTRE — (Staff) — Mrs. Vera Meilleur of Bolton Centre owes her life to her German Shepherd dog, Princesse.

At 2 a.m. Thursday morning, while Mrs. Meilleur slept in her Bolton Centre home, a fire broke out in the downstairs section of the house.

She was alone in the house at the time.

Alone, that is, except for Princesse who smelled the smoke and woke its mistress by whining and barking.

Mrs. Meilleur woke up and fled the house, able to retrieve only her purse from the house before she ran outside.

The 100-year-old house was razed to the ground in a matter of minutes.

All the merchants of Mansonville have come to the aid of Mrs. Meilleur.

COWANSVILLE, QUE.

from 8 P.M. until closing

TICKET $4.00

$1000 grows to $2500

with Canada Savings Bonds

$250 for each $100. That's what you can get with this year's Canada Savings Bonds. Here's how.

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 5.75%; the second, 6.50%; the next three, 6.75% each, and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $95.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons uncashed until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totalling an additional $54.50 on each $100 Bond.

At maturity, therefore, you can get back total interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment. This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $50 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are cashable any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.

Buy yours today!

Pretty wedding is held in Rosebridge for Watson - Simpson exchange of vows

GASPE — Linda Jean Simpson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Simpson, of Gaspé, recently became the bride of Gordon Roy Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Watson, of Windsor, at St. Matthew's United Church in Rosebridge.

Rev. Stuart Clark officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white floor-length gown of daron matelasse crepe and carried a bouquet of stephanotis featuring an orchid. Her veil was held in place by a headpiece of stephanotis.

Beverly Schurman, Montreal, was maid-of-honor wearing an Empire-style floor-length gown of golf satin. Two of the bride's sisters, Judy and Shelley Simpson were bridesmaids wearing green Empire-style floor-length gowns of lace over satin. They carried bouquets of yellow and bronze mums.

The bride's two youngest sisters, Sherry and Lori, were flower girls, wearing street-length gowns identical to the bridesmaids. They carried small baskets of yellow mums.

Ronald Watson, of Montreal, the groom's brother was best man. Ushers were Michael Simpson, brother of the bride and Steven Lacheur, the bride's cousin.

The bride's mother wore a brown street-length dress of wool net with brown accessories.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the Murdochville Legion Hall and was cattered to by Felix Stanley.

The table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake made and decorated by Scottie Gerrie.

After the buffet supper, dancing was enjoyed by the guests and later that evening the bride and groom left for their honeymoon.

Guests attended from Windsor, Montreal, Rosebridge, Murdochville, Gaspé, York, Mr. and Mrs. Watson have taken up residence on Second Avenue, Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sangster of Quebec Street had as their guests their son and daughter-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Graydon L. Sangster of Calgary, Alta. Capt. Sangster has recently returned from a six months' tour of duty with the UN Forces in Cyprus. Capt. and Mrs. Sangster are now residing at 6 Mons Avenue, Currie Barracks, Calgary, Alta.

Pourers at a tea given by Mrs. A. G. Sangster for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Graydon L. Sangster at her home on Quebec Street were Mrs. F. J. Sangster, Mrs. H. E. Grundy, Mrs. J. G. Armitage, Miss Margaret Haight, Mrs. W. H. Griffith and Mrs. Vincent Dawson.

Servers were Mrs. L. G. Osgood, Mrs. John Davey, Mrs. Kenneth Giff, Mrs. Diman Lynn, Mrs. Dean R. Bishop, Mrs. V. W. Newton and Mrs. C. P. Buckland.

Celebrate 40th wedding anniversary with party

DANVILLE — About 175 relatives and friends gathered at Mar-Lodge here recently to honor Mr. and Mrs. Andrew LeRoux on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Organized by their four children, Guy, John, Joyce and Robert, the couple was surprised upon arriving at the restaurant to find a large crowd there and to be greeted by two of their grandchildren, Cindy LeRoux, who presented a corsage of American Beauty roses to her grandmother and Jimmy LeRoux, who presented a boutonniere to his grandfather.

The guest book was passed around by the oldest LeRoux granddaughter, Laurie LeRoux.

During the evening the guests of honor received a telephone call from Mr. LeRoux's only absent cousin, Mrs. Jennie LeRoux Smith of Ogallala, Neb.

Music for dancing was provided by Bruce Kerr on his electric organ.

The anniversary cake was decorated by William Broscomb, a friend of the family. Master of ceremonies was the couple's youngest son, Robert Laurie, Cindy and Bonnie LeRoux presented the cards and gifts to their grandparents.

Mrs. LeRoux received a leather handbag and Mr. LeRoux was given a leather billfold, both of which contained money.

The Shipton Women's Institute, of which Mrs. LeRoux is a member, gave her a ruby-toned glass basket.

Anne Marie Leonard, Malton, Ont., who has played solo piano accordion at the Toronto to Royal York Hotel, also performed at the soiree.

Among those from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. George Heath and son, Stephen, Camp Petawawa; Mr. and Mrs. Robert LeRoux, Brampton; Mrs. H. V. Risch and son, Robert, and Beatrice George, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kerr, Downsview; Jean Kerr, of Cooksville, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. George Leonard and three children, Malton; Mrs. R. Hampton, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vale and two sons, Beaconsfield; Mrs. Gladys George, Dorval; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gonnert, Chateaugay; Mrs. M. Godbout, Arvida; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marvell, Ken Marvell and Judy Bourner, Pierrefonds; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Broscomb, Ste. Therese; Ubald Picard, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Perreault, Verdun; and Mr. and Mrs. George Connolly, Drummondville.

Also present were Mrs. LeRoux's sister and brothers, Mrs. Harry Evans and Mrs. Allan George, Elmer and Roland Coyle; Mr. LeRoux's two sisters, Mrs. Elmer Coyle and Mrs. Ernest Frost.

Tea held at St. Pat's successful

St. Patrick's Church Hall was recently the scene of a successful Chicken Salad Tea, sponsored by Our Lady of Good Counsel Parish Council of the Catholic Women's League under the general convenship of Mrs. P. J. McKenna.

The many guests were received by president, Mrs. M. Cloutier and vice-president, Miss P. Tuite while Mrs. A. Leveque and Mrs. M. Ferguson were in charge of ticket sales.

Autumn colors and flowers were carried out in the decorations.

The tea table, which was presided over by Mrs. S. W. Broderick, Miss Eva McConnell, Mrs. A. L. Vallee and Mrs. James Wark was centered with an arrangement of lavender and rose asters and petunias in a crystal bowl, flanked by harmonizing candles in matching holders.

The gift table was convened by Mrs. E. J. Wolfe, Mrs. C. Steele and Mrs. Y. McKenna. The food booth was supervised by Mrs. S. Veilleux, who was assisted by Mrs. B. W. Murray, Mrs. G. McDonough, Mrs. N. Fletcher and Miss M. McDonald.

Mrs. R. Blouin conducted a raffle on an afghan which had been made and donated by Mrs. G. McDonough and which was later drawn and won by Mrs. J. Murphy.

Hostesses of the function and several members of the council staffed the salad bar and attended to the many details of food preparation behind the scenes, with students of Marymount and St. Patrick's High School serving as waitresses.

30th anniversary couple entertained

LISGAR — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Healy of Cleveland with their children Heather and Alan were entertained here on the occasion of their 30th wedding anniversary at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Gunter.

Following a dinner the couple were surprised to have a number of visitors calling at the Gunter home to fete the couple.

Supper was served to the guests which included the traditional anniversary cake made by Mrs. Robert Healy, daughter-in-law of the couple, and decorated by Mildred Lemoine, Mrs. Healy's sister.

The family presented Mrs. Healy with a pearl pin and Mr. Healy with a sterling silver tie bar.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Brighten, Joan, Susie and Bob Brighten, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Desmarais and family, Drummondville; Mildred Lemoine, Montreal; Peggy Sterling, Lennoxville; Francis Healy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Healy of Cleveland and their two daughters; Mrs. H. A. Barrie, Melbourne; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pope and Lisa of Lisgar.

Kinnear's Mills couple feted for 25th wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rothey of Kinnear's Mills, who will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary, Nov. 20, were recently feted with a surprise anniversary party at Nick Dean's Barn in Huntingville by their family.

Upon their arrival, Mrs. Rothey who was wearing a light blue and silver crepe dress, was presented with a corsage of deep red Forever Yours roses. Mr. Rothey received a white carnation boutonniere.

They were joined by their former attendants, Mrs. Curtis Robichaud sister of the bride, who was in a turquoise lace over taffeta ensemble, and was given a corsage of miniature yellow carnations. Lyman Rothey, brother of the groom, received a white carnation boutonniere.

Also present were the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nutbrown. Mrs. Nutbrown was wearing a brown lace over taffeta dress and was given a corsage of tangerine carnations. Mrs. Ben Rothey, mother of the groom, was unable to attend.

John Robinson, son-in-law of the guests of honor and Sandra Rothey, a niece, were in charge of the guest book.

At midnight a delicious lunch was served by the members of the Milby Women's Institute. The head table was centered with a three-tier anniversary cake decorated in white and silver and topped with lilies-of-the-valley, silver bells and a 25.

After an evening of dancing and visiting, the guests of honor were presented with a purse of money and many cards.

Out-of-town guests were from Montreal, Vermont, Massachusetts, Thetford Mines, St. Antoine de Pointbriand, Lemesurier, Inverness, Kinnear's Mills, Leeds, Ste. Agathe, Broughton, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville and other points.

William Joseph Parnell marries Mildred Mills in Lennoxville

The marriage of Mildred Ellen Mills, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Mills, Danville, to William Johnson Parnell, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lester Parnell, of Lennoxville, Que., took place recently at the Lennoxville United Church.

Rev. A. B. Lovelace officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Frederick Fox played the wedding music and Oh Perfect Love during the signing of the register. Yellow train was trimmed with matching lace and nylon bows. Her shoulder-length veil was four tiers of tulle illusion held by tiny leaves and seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink sensation roses, yellow miniature carnations with pink fleck, baby's breath and leather fern. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace and matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Ruby Thompson, as matron-of-honor for her sister, was in a full-length princess short circle veil was accented with petals of matching color to her gown. She carried a colonial bouquet of white miniature carnations, baby's breath and leather fern.

Bridesmaids were Pamela Goodenough, in celery green, and Pauline Goodenough, in aquamarine blue. Miss Joyce Robinson, niece of the groom, as junior bridesmaid was in camellia pink. Their dresses, headpieces and bouquets were identical to the matron-of-honor's. All attendants wore drop pearl necklaces as a gift of the bride.

Herbert Parnell was best man for his brother. The ushers were Moynan Robinson, James Thompson and Lloyd Rowe.

The bride's mother received guests in a marine blue Italian linen dress and jacket ensemble with white and navy accessories. Her corsage was of deep red roses.

The groom's mother chose a green knit two-piece suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

A QUEEN'S OFF FOR NEW YORK FOR THE LAST TIME —The Cunard liner Queen Elizabeth sails from Southampton, England, Wednesday on her last transatlantic voyage to New York. The 83,000-ton liner, with more than 800 passengers on board, was making her last westward trip in the transatlantic service before being retired to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for use as a hotel and convention center. QUEBEC SCENE

Only Indians earn less

MONTREAL (CP) — La Presse says only the Italians and Indians in Canada earn less than French-Canadians.

The newspaper says the conclusion was reached in the third report of the royal commission on bilingualism and biculturalism, which deals with the "economic aspects of the two cultures."

The La Presse article, last in a series of five stories on the yet-unpublished report, says the royal commission established that in Canada as a whole French-Canadians earn an average of 20 per cent less than English-Canadians.

The situation was worse in Quebec province, where French-Canadians earned an average of 35 per cent less than English-Canadians.

In every province, rich or poor, French-Canadians earned less than the provincial average.

French-Canadian in Prince Edward Island, but in each case his wage level was 13 per cent below the provincial average.

The commission found that the average level of education of French-Canadians was lower than that of any other ethnic group except Italians.

A higher education, however, did not bring as much additional money to French-Canadians as to members of other ethnic groups.

The average increase in annual income produced by a university degree was $4,171 for Jewish Canadians, $4,007 for Canadians of British origin, $3,695 for those of Italian origin and $3,290 for French-Canadians.

RELIGION A FACTOR

The commission found that religion also appeared to be an important factor in income levels, with Roman Catholics in both language groups earning less on the average than non-Catholics.

English-speaking Catholics earned an average of $4,885 in 1961 and French-speaking Catholics $3,990. This compared with $6,462 for Jews and $6,362 for other non-Catholics.

In reference to immigration, the commission established that Canada had received 14 times as many English-speaking immigrants as French-speaking immigrants since 1946, and there were generally more specialists among the English-speaking group.

Thus, French-Canadians could not count on reinforcement by numerous and competent immigrants.

The commission concluded that the gap between the English and French language groups, wider today than 30 years ago, will continue to widen as the Canadian economy develops.

Party dissolves

MONTREAL (CP) — Quebec's pioneer separatist party, the eight-year-old Rassemblement pour l'indépendance nationale, dissolved Saturday night and its former members were urged to join Rene Levesque's newly-formed Parti quebecois.

Meeting in suburban Jacques Cartier, they voted 227 to 50 to dissolve the party headed by Pierre Bourgault.

Blames prison

QUEBEC (CP) — An inquiry into the administration of justice in Quebec Friday blamed inadequate prison facilities and complexity between a security personnel and prisoners for a recent rash of prison escapes in this province.

A Royal commission, formed in 1967 under Yves Prevost, a Quebec City lawyer, said the number of prison escapes could easily increase. And if they remained at their present level, it was not because of adequate security measures but because prisoners were afraid of being recaptured.

The report claims that armed men could enter the Montreal court house and free 50 prisoners before the alarm could be sounded.

Time to regroup

MONTREAL (CP) — It is time to regroup small business enterprises into larger and more powerful economic forces in Quebec, Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand said today.

Mr. Bertrand said some of "the country's most prestigious financial firms" are established in Montreal, providing considerable prosperity to the metropolitan area and the rest of Quebec.

In a speech at the official opening of the 32-storey Banque Canadienne Nationale Building, he said he realizes small enterprises still play "an extremely important role" in North America. But he said the current trend is toward larger financial structures.

Strong Quebec

QUEBEC (CP) — Hoping to build "a strong Quebec in a united Canada," Yves Gabias, minister of financial institutions, Friday elaborated on a bill that would give the province greater powers over immigration.

During second reading of the bill, Mr. Gabias said Quebec especially seeks the power to select immigrants needed by the province and Quebec officials would discuss the matter with federal Immigration Minister MacEachern.

Lots of land

ROUYN, Que. (CP) — The Quebec government's appropriation of 4,000 lots of land recently was necessary to ensure reforestation, Claude Gosselin, Quebec minister of lands and forests, said Saturday.

In a speech to the annual meeting of the Association of Foresters of Western Quebec, Mr. Gosselin said the government took over the land in northwestern sections to prevent repetition of past problems.

Sherbrooke man gets five months for breaking and entering, theft

Armand Lacroix, 39, of Sherbrooke, but who claims to have no official residence, was sentenced to five months in jail Friday in Court of Sessions by Judge Roland Dugre who found the accused guilty of breaking and entering with theft.

Lacroix, who used the phrase, "I don't remember" to answer many of Crown Prosecutor Stanley Steinman's questions, was accused of breaking into Harvey Parsons' clothing store in Scotstown.

He stole 33 suits, 32 pairs of pants, 11 windbreakers, 30 raincoats, 50 shirts, 21 sweaters, three vests, three pairs of boots, three underwear shirts and one pair of gloves, altogether worth $2,000.

The theft occurred three years ago. Mr. Steinman offered the stenographer's notes of the preliminary hearing as the Crown's proof.

Lacroix then stepped into the witness box to testify on his own behalf.

He was questioned by his lawyer, Jean-Claude Boutin. Lacroix explained he lent his car to a man named Pat Paradis who wanted the car to drive a woman home.

The next morning, police found the car behind a garage situated a few yards from the accused's residence. It was loaded with the stolen goods.

The accused pleaded ignorance of the theft and said he didn't see the car that morning.

Under Mr. Steinman's persistent cross-examination, Lacroix became confused, made excuses about things he said and often claimed he couldn't remember what had happened that night or who he was with. Judge Dugre told the Prosecutor he had heard enough after Lacroix was obviously beating around the bush and asked the defence lawyer, "Are you satisfied?"

Joseph Israel Lehoux, 62, Sanford, Me., pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving. He was fined $100 and court costs or 30 days in jail and was forbidden to drive in Canada for six months.

Rene Turner, alias M. Caya, 23, of Drummondville, pleaded guilty to being in possession of a stolen roll of copper wire worth $200.

His lawyer, Laurent Dube, informed the Court his client was married, had children and had never appeared in a courtroom before.

Judge Dugre suspended the accused's sentence and ordered him to post a $100 bond to keep the peace for two years.

Sagueneens dump Beavers twice over the weekend, 3-2 and 5-4

Failing to capitalize on their advantages and erratic shooting cost the Sherbrooke Beavers another close decision last evening when they came out on the short end of a 3-2 count with Chicoutimi in a regular Quebec Senior Hockey League fixture at the Sports Palace before 2,572 fans.

The win, which was the second for Phil Watson's crew over the Beavers, moved them into sole possession of first place in the senior loop with 10 points, two more than St. Hyacinthe.

In the other tilt on the agenda Sunday the Gauls of St. Hyacinthe rallied after down 3-0 to the Victoriaville Tigers to post a 7-3 victory. The win moves Pit Girouard's Squad into second spot just behind the pace setting Sagueneens. Granby and the Nationals were idle.

The Beavers travel to Victoriaville tomorrow evening and return home Thursday to clash with the Gauls of St. Hyacinthe. Chicoutimi pays a visit to St. Hyacinthe tomorrow evening.

Coach Bruce Cline tried several new units shifting his players around but it didn't matter much what he did, nothing drastic happened. The Beavers were lucky they weren't beaten by a higher score.

The Beavers missed enough good scoring opportunities with their extremely poor shooting. They couldn't get the puck in the net and when they did it was in the gloved hand of Claude Cyr.

When they had Cyr, be at in the net, their shots would either go over the net or miss the open side. Their shooting is certainly something to be desired and a big item which must be straightened out if they hope to win a hockey

The game was a good one to watch as there was plenty of action and a lot of close work around the nets. The defenses on both sides played well, especially when their teams were short-handed.

The Sags took a 1-0 lead in

The Beavers got another break when Vandal got tagged but their shots went over or were wide. They were hitting the goal posts as well. Nothing was working for the Cline crew.

Claude Cyr robbed young Luc Tessier twice in the final period when he worked right in on top of him. He made two great saves to ease the situation when his mates got caught out of position. In the last minute of play Coach Cline yanked his goalie but time ran out before anything happened.

Jacques Monette, who suffered a shoulder injury, was on the bench while Bob Eastman was missing owing to his work and won't be around until after the holidays.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

The opening frame when Sherbrooke, with the man advantage, got caught up ice. Rollie Leclerc and Rod Gaudreault broke away with the latter rifling a hard low shot into the net.

M. Morrisette made it 2-0 before Rene Pepin potted Sherbrooke's first tally. Norm Sarabourn evened the count and for a few minutes it looked as though the Beavers would win a game. In the final frame Morrisette came up with his second tally of the night and that was the big one.

Bruins stop Habs 4-2 to end seven game winning streak, Hawks lose Boston's revived Bruins pranced to a second-place tie with Chicago Black Hawks in National Hockey League standings Sunday night while Toronto's battering Maple Leafs ground past New York Rangers into fourth place.

The Bruins ended a scoring drought of 116 minutes, 57 seconds, to hand league-leading Montreal Canadiens their first loss in seven starts, 4-2.

Fred Stanfield counted the first of two Boston goals on a power play in the first period. His second counter, his fourth of the season, came in the second period while 14,642 Boston fans applauded.

Boston nailed down the decision with goals by Phil Esposito and Eddie Shack within 37 seconds of the second period. Montreal scorers were Jacques Lemaire and Ralph Backstrom.

The Rangers jumped in front of Toronto with two quick goals in the first six minutes by Rod Gilbert and Vic Hadfield, the latter a 55-foot slap shot. Then the 17,250 spectators saw five straight goals by Toronto before Jean Ratelle counted for Rangers in the third period.

The Leafs tied it up midway through the initial period on goals by Jim Dorey and Floyd Smith and went ahead in the second when Tim Horton and Murray Oliver scored. Bob Pulford also counted for the Leafs in the last period.

Ottawa gambles, then must scramble for tie with Als

OTTAWA — (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders lost a crucial third-down gamble in the last quarter that cost them three points and then had to scramble to gain a 19-19 draw with last-place Montreal Alouettes in an Eastern Football Conference game here Saturday.

The tie, along with Toronto's win over Hamilton Sunday, left Riders and Argonauts locked in a first-place tie. Each has 13 points.

Riders and Argos meet next Sunday in the last game of the regular season for both clubs. Because Riders won their first two games against Toronto this year, they need only a tie to get first place and a by into the eastern finals.

The Rider gamble that failed led to Dave Ray's fourth field goal of the game. The Montreal defensive halfback also converted Montreal's only touchdown, scored by Peter Dalla Riva on a 30-yard pass from quarterback Carroll Williams.

Fullback Bo Scott ran 30 yards for Ottawa's first touchdown and quarterback Russ Jackson scored the other on a 15-yard run on a broken-pass play.

Halfback Don Sutherland rounded out the Ottawa scoring, kicking two converts, two singles and a 46-yard field goal.

A crowd of 17,747—the smallest of the season at Lansdowne Park—watched the game. A front-row spectator was Governor-General Michener.

MISSED CHANCES
 Both clubs had chances to break the tie in the final minutes of the game.
 Ray attempted his fifth field goal with only seconds on the clock from the 40-yard line. It went wide and Sutherland was able to bring the ball out to the Ottawa two as the game ended.

Earlier, Ottawa flanker Whit Tucker drifted into the clear deep in the Montreal end but dropped a Jackson pass.

Riders outshined Alouettes 207 yards to 140 and Jackson outpassed Williams, gaining 178 yards on nine completions of 18 attempts. Williams completed 13 of his 24 throws for 161 yards.

Ottawa got 17 first downs to Montreal's 13.

Scott with 97 yards on 14 carries was Ottawa's best on the ground. End Margene Adkins was Ottawa's top receiver, catching three passes for 101 yards.

Ed Tomlin gleaned 53 yards in 11 cracks at the Ottawa line and Dave Lewis was Montreal's top receiver with three catches for 59 yards.

Other Detroit goals were by Garry Unger and Frank Mahovlich as 12,943 fans watched. Scorers for the Hawks were Bobby and Dennis Hull and Stan Mikita.

Seals dominated the game at Oakland but were held off by Philadelphia goalie Doug Favell until Joe Szura sent a soft six-foot shot into the net for the tie.

A mere 1,892 were on hand to watch Philadelphia defenceman Ed Van Impe count in the first period. Oakland's Carol Vadnais blasted a 50-footer two minutes later and Oakland's Jim Johnson scored in the last minute of the second period.

GOING NOWHERE — Sir George Williams quarterback Allan Raphael, (17) is stopped here by Bishop's linebacker

Gaiters wallop Sir George 48-6, Ken Chipman standout

Bishop's University Gaiters unleashed all the power of their revamped offence Saturday as they walloped the Sir George Williams University Georgians 48-6 in their last home game of the 1968 CCIFC season.

The touchdown parade for the Gaiters went on for just about the full 60 minutes of the contest while the Georgians, making their league debut this year, got on the scoreboard only on the last play of the game.

The first indication of the deluge to follow came with three minutes left in the opening quarter when halfback Ken Chipman grabbed a sideline pass from Gaiter quarterback Bill Macdonald, shifted into high gear and outraced three Sir George defenders to the goal line more than 50 yards away.

The next play confirmed that Bishop's had the midas touch for the afternoon, when Bill Macdonald bobbled the snap for the convert, picked it up and ran across for the two point conversion.

The second quarter saw Macdonald toss a perfect pass to flanker Les Black in the end zone for a touchdown which was nullified by a holding penalty at the line. He lead another march downfield which he capped by scoring from three yards out.

The next time Bishop's got the ball, Chipman carried 30 yards to the Sir George 29 and Macdonald repeated the same play to Black as before for a major which stood up and put the Gaiters into a 22-0 lead. Before the end of the half, rookie halfback Larry Smith added another by catching a Macdonald pass in the end zone.

The half was just underway when a Sir George player fumbled a punt in his own end zone and Louis Raymond was the spot to recover the ball along for six points. Charles MacLean converted to make it 35-0.

Tom Allen later intercepted a pass off Sir George signal caller Allan Raphael and Macdonald led another drive which ended when he called a bootled from the four and strolled over the goal line untouched.

In the final quarter, with Bishop's ahead 41-0, Larry Smith danced 12 yards through the line for their final Gaiter touchdown. John Cassels, who is better known locally as president of the Dramatics Society, added the crowning touch by wandering onto the field to send the convert through the uprights.

Sir George, which to that point had mounted only one drive which appeared at all dangerous, then strove mightily to avoid the humiliation of a shutout and came through with a score on the last play of the contest when Raphael passed to Bruce Berry for six points.

The win leaves Bishop's in sole possession of second place in the Eastern section of the CCIFC with a 4-1 win lost record. Any first place hopes were dashed when the Loyola Warriors made their season record 5-0 as they rolled over Macdonald College 46-0.

The yardstick story shows the Gaiters with 386 total yards for the game against the Georgians with 23 first downs.

Bill Macdonald, who called a flawless game, completed seven passes in eight attempts good for 202 yards, while Larry Smith added to his league - leading rushing total with 178 yards carried in 20 attempts.

If the day belonged to anyone, however, it was team captain Ken Chipman. He galloped 41 yards and caught three passes for 116 yards. One of those was good for a touchdown, and the others all came during key situations.

The Gaiters wind up the season in Montreal next Saturday when they day play the University of Montreal Carabins in the Metropolis, but after this weekend, a winning season is assured and the nucleus for a top contender has been formed.

Ellyson re-elected president

Provincial League awards new franchise to Trois-Rivieres

The Provincial Baseball League has granted Trois-Rivieres a franchise for the 1969 campaign following the league's annual meeting held on the weekend at Lac Beauport, outside of Quebec City.

Yvon Ellyson was re-elected president of the league. The addition of Trois-Rivieres brings the circuit to eight teams.

Grand'mere, who also showed interest in entering a team in the Ellyson circuit couldn't obtain a franchise simply because of the difficulties in construction of a stadium and suitable facilities for the '69 season.

Representatives of Grand'mere told the league officials, though, that they would ask for the franchise next year. Everything should be ready by the opening of the 1970 Provincial League season.

There still remains several points yet to be straightened out before Trois-Rivieres is ready to begin building a team for the coming season.

DRAFT
Each of the present teams in the league will be allowed to protect 12 players in lieu of the upcoming draft session.

Following the first round of the draft each of the existing teams will then be able to protect two more players. Trois-Rivieres as a result will wind up with 14 players, receiving two players from each of the seven other teams in the Provincial Baseball League.

The 1968 schedule of the Provincial League begins one week later than last year. The league opening is June 1 and the season will run for 12 weeks.

If Trois-Rivieres arranges all their problems in time for the opening of the season, then each team will play 70 games instead of 60, the number of games

SALARY CONTROL

The league's constitution limits its salary expenditure to $1,875 per week per team. This season, though, teams are allowed to have 16 players on the payroll, two more than last year.

The protective list for each team has been increased from 20 to 25 players but the player eligibility clauses of the constitution will remain the same as last year.

ALL-STAR GAME

For the All-Star game this year the league will be divided into two sections, east and west, with the game to be played in the Capital City on July 14. (In case of rain the game will be played the week following, July 21).

This year's team will be selected by the managers of each section. In previous years the league president and the league statistician would get together and choose the team.

The re-election of Yvon Ellyson as league president represents the Sherbrooke baseball enthusiast's fifth consecutive year as head of the Provincial Baseball League. Vice-presidents re-elected were Claude Dumont of Drummondville and Richard Drouin of Plessisville with Paul Molloy third vice.

The league statistician will be named later.

Andre Charpentier was re-elected secretary - treasurer of the league while the post of legal advisor was returned to last year's judicial ruling expert, Raymond Drouin.

TIGHT FINISH — Melody Smoky, (2), is seen as he noses out The Great Spencer, (4), at the wire to win the main event Sunday afternoon at the Sherbrooke Track. Rebel Land Mite (5), and Gordon Ibafe, (3), are right in the thick of the finish.

Melody Smoky cops main dash Sunday, Hero Pick takes trot, drivers fined Melody Smoky, with Guy Juras in the sulky, emerged the winner in the main dash on Sunday afternoon's card at the Sherbrooke Race Track. He was timed in 2:11.2 for the mile event.

Sam Fabi with Shawnee Wann got away fast and rounded the field to take the pole position ahead of the seven-horse field. Melody Smoky was caught on the outside and fell back while Ralph Babbitt with Gordon Ibafe was in third spot on the rail.

After the half Shawnee Wann still held on but after hitting the three-quarter The Great Spencer moved up and when the field hit the last turn into the stretch he was still leading. Melody Smoky was trailing with Rebel Land Mite trying to overtake the early leaders.

Guy Juras came up with a drive on the outside to pass the Great Spencer and beat Rebel Land Mite to the wire. Gordon Ibafe was fourth under the wire with Fabi's Shawnee Wann fifth. Martyn G. Herbert and Earl Adio both broke stride and weren't in the battle at any time during the mile.

The combination of Charming Alan and Grace's Dudley paid their backers $63 in the first dash. In the fourth it was Tiffany Miss and Centaur and $120.80 was shelled out.

In the seventh Rene Masse with Lu's Gi finished a strong first but he interfered with Adio Sierra on the first turn. He swerved into him forcing him to pull up or go down. The judges maintained the objection setting him back to eighth and moving the other horses up one position. The combination of Peaney Patch and Flying Choice paid $66.

Denis Pelletier with Strong Pick was fined for causing interference with Sweet Mar Mic in the third race. In the eighth Jean-Paul Courchesne with Hero Pick was fined for backing up the field after the quarter. He went 32.2 seconds and then backed up to 36 for the second quarter for a mark of 1:08 to half which was much too slow.

In the main dash Saturday evening in the ninth Andre Rouleau got Benoit Beaudoin's Baby Sandwich fast from the gate but it was Gilles Juras with Duke Crain who emerged the winner in a photo-finish with Baby Sandwich.

The field went to the quarter in 32.1 and the half in 1:05.1 and came home in 1:04.2 for the fastest mile of the evening in 2:09.3. Gisele Deguise's Patsy Winner, one of the favorites, finished fourth while Claude Grenier teamed Beatie Mir down the stretch for a third-place finish.

The times during the rest of the evening were high owing to the cold and windy weather. The wind played a big part in the outcome of the late dashes on the card and it was colder.

The biggest payoff for a win bet was in the fourth when Andre Rouleau with Babe Express finished ahead of the three top favorites. He paid $33.10, $8.90 and $3.40 across the board. The rest of the prices were along the usual figures.

In the tenth Lady Belle Worthy and Shifty formed the winning combination and $12.30 was collected. The fans, which numbered 754, shelled $34,104.

through mutual windows during the evening which was considered fair owing to the weather.

Canada played once at the Olympics, in final event

O Canada was the anthem they saved until the end of the Olympic Games at Mexico City.

When athletes win Olympic events, their national flags are raised and their anthems played as they receive their gold medals.

It happened only once for Canadians in the 1968 Olympics, on the last day of the games Sunday, when equestrian jumping team won the Prix des Nations.

Three horsemen, Jim Elder, 34, of Aurora, Ont., Tom Gayford, 39, of Gormley, Ont., and Jim Day, 22, of King City, Ont., thus joined the select company of Canadian athletes who have won Olympic gold medals. They are the first equestrians in that company.

One other big cause for satisfaction was the swimming team — the best Canada has sent to the Olympics in half a century.

Canadians collected three silver medals and a bronze in swimming, and one would have to go back to 1912, when George Hodgson of Montreal won three gold medals, to find a better record.

It took a world record of one minute 6.2 seconds by Kaye Halle of the U.S. to beat Elaine Tanner in the 100-metre backstroke.

WON TWO SILVERS
The 17-year-old Vancouver native was the first Canadian ever to win a medal in Olympic women's swimming, and she added another silver in the 200-metre backstroke.

Ralph Hutton, 20, from Ocean Falls, B.C., won the silver medal in the 400-metre freestyle.

Canada came third in the women's 400-metre freestyle relay. This accomplishment brought bronze medals to Angela Coughlan, 16, of Burlington, Ont., Marilyn Corson, 18, of Parry Sound, Ont., Miss Tanner, and Marion Lay, 19, of Vancouver.

Nobody did a faster leg in the freestyle relay than Miss Lay's anchor leg of 59.5 seconds.

In the 100-metre freestyle, the fastest swimming race, Miss Lay finished fourth.

Altogether, the swimming team collected 41 of the 57 points gathered by Canada in the unofficial team standings. These are compiled on a 10-5-4-3-2-1 basis for the first six places in each event. On this basis, Canada ended in a tie for 19th spot among more than 100 countries participating in the Games.

PLACED HIGH TWICE
Hutton, in addition to winning the silver medal in the men's 400-metre freestyle, finished fourth in the 200-metre freestyle and fifth in the 1,500-metre freestyle.

The team of George Smith of Edmonton, Ron Jacks of Vancouver, Sandy Gilchrist of Ocean Falls, B.C., and Hutton came fourth in the 800-metre freestyle relay.

Jim Shaw of Toronto grabbed fifth place in the men's 100-metre backstroke.

Smith and Gilchrist were fifth and sixth, respectively, in the men's 200-metre individual medley, and Gilchrist was fifth in the 400-metre individual medley.

Miss Coughlan, who was ill during most of the two-week Olympic period and lost about 15 pounds, came sixth in the 800-metre freestyle, longest race for women and a new event on the Olympic program.

Beverley Boys of Pickering, Ont., earned fourth spot in the women's platform diving event.

Canadian swimmers reached the finals in 15 of the 29 races.

ADDED 11 POINTS
The equestrian team accounted for 11 points, including 10 for the gold medal in stadium jumping. Elder finished sixth in the individual Grand Prix event.

Canadian yachtsmen finished in the first six in two classes in the Olympic regatta at Acapulco.

ROWERS WERE TROUNCED
Of the Canadian oarsmen, only Roger Jackson of Toronto, in the single sculls, reached the semi-finals, and there he was trounced.

The best showing came in the Dragon class, in which Steve Tupper of Vancouver guided his boat into fourth place.

Stan Leibel of Toronto and his crew were sixth in the 5.5-metre class.

In the Flying Dutchman class, brothers Roger and Stewart Green of Toronto ended up in seventh position out of 30 boats.

One Canadian marksman broke into the top six in a shooting event. That was Gerry Ouellette of Windsor, Ont., a former Olympic gold medalist, sixth in Olympic gold medalist sixth in the small-bore, three-position competition.

Abby Hoffman of Toronto was seventh in the women's 800 metres.

Andy Boychuk of Oshawa, Ont., ran 26 miles 385 yards to a 10th-place finish in the marathon, out of a field of 82 starters.

Introductory Yoga classes to be held at YM-YWCA

If control of the mind and body sounds like a fantastic but fascinating idea to you, enroll in the Sherbrooke YM-YWCA Yoga.

Beginning Thursday night at 7:00 Yoga will be taught in the Montreal Street "Y" building bilingually to adults by Nicole Wright - Giard, a trained Yoga enthusiast and University of Sherbrooke student in the Education Faculty.

Yoga, which originates from India, aims to achieve control of the mind and body through exercises. The "Y" course will concentrate on the first step, control of the body. Control of the mind is only sought after long training and involves meditation and philosophy.

Some of Yoga's 20 basic postures and their variations will be taught during the Y's 7 to 8 p.m. weekly course. Even the simplest exercise is practiced to perfection. Concentrating deeply, the student does each exercise very slowly, aware of each movement and contortion.

Those interested in enrolling in Introductory Yoga should contact the "Y" at 569-7488 or 300 Montreal Street, Sherbrooke. Registration will be open this week and next. The course is free of charge to "Y" members or $5 for non-Y members. Participants should wear flexible clothing such as tights and a blouse or skirt, or a gym suit, and bring a towel.

MONT SUTTON INC.

will hold a St. John Ambulance First Aid Course at the Mont Sutton Chalet on Saturday and Sunday, November 2nd and 3rd, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Persons wishing to become members of the Mont Sutton Ski Patrol must take this course to qualify as Ski Patrollers.

Enrolment — Tel. Montreal CR. 7-2634 or write 6000 Boyer, Montreal, L. P. Guay.
