PLANT LIFE IN THE TOWNSHIPS.

INTERESTING PAPER GIVEN BY REV. MR. ENGLAND AT MARGOGG.

As mentioned in the Record, Rev. Mr. England spoke on "Plant Life in the Eastern Townships," at the entertainment on Thursday. He said in part as follows:

"At first glance it might seem that the vegetable world is an indeterminate mass, but as the animal world is found to be in families, tribes and definite species, so the vegetable world is in regularly defined families and sub-divisions. It is often a puzzle to many to know how without any diagram or pictures these many plants may be determined; that is, how their proper botanical places and names may be found. This was not so difficult as it first appeared. The opening of the leaf will place the plant into one of two great divisions and then the flower with its number of parts was the next thing to observe and so on the plant is traced to its position in the great order of vegetation. A perfect specimen has root, stem, leaves, with flower and fruit. Many of species are too large to preserve, but of the bark of large species when it has any marked characteristics may be preserved, as in the striped maple and paper birch. In very many plants the flower and fruit are present at the same time. In many, as in the oak, apple, etc., the flowers must be gathered in the spring, the leaves in summer, and the fruit in autumn. To press the specimens ordinary smooth paper is sufficient to put the plants in and under a pressure of about fifty pounds, they will keep smooth. Care must be taken to dry the paper thoroughly about a stove so that it will absorb the moisture from the plant quickly. By chanking the papers frequently, drying is so rapid that the greenness and color of the flowers are far more likely to be preserved. Then they are ready for mounting. Among many interesting specimens shown were the Procera, one of the little fly catchers of the Eastern Townships. It is found in bogs. The leaf is hairy, each leaf being tipped with wax to which flies stick and the little leaf begins to shut up like a hand, holding its victim. The Pitcher Plant is also a fly catcher. It constantly holds water and the stiff hairs of the leaf proper point downward with the water preventing any living creature from crawling out. The variegated Anemone was shown and many of our beautiful Orchids and other plants showing peculiarities not often noticed.

Examples of coal formation in the intensive. An immense bog with many feet of vegetable matter in the early ages when the earth's crust was often fluctuating would be submerged by the sea. The sea would wash the mud and pack the vegetable material in more or less thin strata. Excluded from the air it would be preserved. Heat and pressure of material above would tend to mineralize the coal. In our North West, soft coal beds on the level plain graduate into anthracite as the mountains with their bent and once heated rocks are reached. The heat from the earth, then not so cooled as now, and the dense moisture in the atmosphere, with volcanic gases for food would cause great and rapid growth. Coal beds are found from the thickness of ordinary paste board to many feet in thickness. As the North and South Poles cooling first were the first points on the earth to permit of vegetable growth it is not strange that coal is found in these regions. Mr. England then asked what is the use of plant study.

"Like all worthy studies, the mind developed, observation is trained, and the unity of nature is seen. The food plants have the best and most effective medicinal qualities and like bees must be studied for their pecuniary value. The Creator, His power and wisdom, His ideas of beauty, are declared in this Bible of nature. Many of the poets and other writers of the highest order have received their inspiration from these beauties in nature. Beauty, mystery and wisdom were all brought out in Tennyson's short lines.

During the session of the Anglican Synod in Montreal, last week, a portrait of the late Strachan Bethune, K.C., was unveiled with appropriate ceremony. The late Dr. Bethune, who was born in 1821, had served for more than 60 years at the Bar, was an honorary D.C.L. of Bishop's College, and Chancellor of the Synod, under Bishop Fulford. Dr. Bethune was a relative of Mrs. C. H. Bowen, of Sherbrooke.

SPECIAL MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL.

A special meeting of the City Council was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the contracts for the Drop Off Power development.

This matter came up before the Council some time ago and the contract was awarded. It was afterwards found that before passing the resolution awarding the contract, it was necessary to have a by-law passed. The by-law was consequently framed and was sustained by the people at a week ago yesterday.

In order to make matters legal the Council yesterday repeated their action of a previous meeting.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY.

Today, the 14th of February is St. Valentine's Day, and though the old world grows every year more prosaic and practical, the observance of the day has never quite died out, and in fact, in recent years, there has been a distinct revival of the pretty, innocent customs. For the past week valentines in great variety have been displayed in the book stores, and have been passing through the mails, and although the post card valentines have largely taken the place of the pretty lace paper missives with embossed cupids, flowers, hearts and darts, the latter are still chosen by very young people. There are better and better in delicately tinted costumes and powdered hair, and little lads and lasses are pictured with appropriate greetings for their chosen friends.

The origin of St. Valentine's Day is lost in the mists of antiquity. It antedates the Roman Empire and was observed in North Western Europe previous to the introduction of Christianity, when nature worship was the only religion our ancestors knew. None of the legends of the good saints who bore the name of Valentine, associates any of them with the customs of the day.

It was probable that the custom was due to the season, not to the saint. However that may be, St. Valentine's Day has still its place in the hearts of young and old, and will be still remembered till time is no more.

Business Men's Luncheon at Chateau Frontenac to-morrow noon. Don't miss it.

BOARD OF CONTROL AND COUNCIL CLASH.

Two Bodies at Variance With Each Other in Montreal.

THE DIFFICULTY AROSE OVER AWARD OF CONTRACT FOR FIRE AND POLICE DEPARTMENTS.

Montreal, Feb. 14. —(Special)—For the first time since going into effect of the act dealing with relative powers of the Board of Control and the City Council, the latter availed itself of its prerogative to offer amendment to recommendation made by the Board.

The two-thirds majority required for such an action was barely secured.

This action will likely have a sequel in the Civil Courts, where the whole proceedings will be threshed out anew.

The case over which dispute took place was that dealing with supplying of footwear to the police and fire departments.

The Controllers recommended that the contract should be awarded to William West at $3.15 per pair. The Aldermen, on the other hand, decided that the tender of Mr. Pierre Robitaille should be accepted provided that the latter should consent to supply the goods at the same figure as that quoted by West.

Mr. Robitaille's original offer was $3.18.

PREPARING FOR THE CORONATION.

BUSINESS MEN ARE PREPARING FOR INFLUX OF OVER 2,000,000 PEOPLE.

London, Feb. 14.—Since the beginning of the winter the chief functionaries of the British Court have been busily absorbed with preparations for the coronation of George V., which will surpass in pageantry and in historical interest all former coronations of the character. While the ceremony of crowning the King and Queen in Westminster Abbey on June 22nd will be almost identical in form with that which has followed in the investiture of British sovereigns since William IV. and Queen Adelaide, the auxiliary functions are expected to exceed in pageantry and magnificence anything that the nation has witnessed in the past. These will include the progress of the court through London on the day after the coronation and a visit to the Guildhall, with a reception of the King and Queen by the city authorities there, a great naval review, a gala performance at the opera with minor celebrations, and pageants, among which will be a "festival of empire" at the Crystal Palace.

Business and transportation companies count on an influx of something approaching 2,000,000 visitors to London during the coronation season. A considerable proportion of these will be foreigners, Americans and colonials probably predominating. Hotels are receiving many orders for accommodations, but expect to be able to cope with the invasion. The best places are being reserved for regular patrons, and managers say that prices for the coronation week will not be more than double the regular rates for the best hotels. Boarding house keepers are likely to be less reasonable in charges to visitors who have not made arrangements for accommodations in advance.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

NO CHANGE IN CONDITION OF EGG MARKET.

Montreal, Feb. 14.—There is no change in the condition of the market for eggs. Supplies coming forward are much larger than a year ago at this period, for which there is a good consumptive demand, and the undertone of the market is steady. We quote: Strictly new laid, 30c to 34c; Selected cold storage stock 28c; No. 1 stock, 25c; and No. 2 stock, 20c to 23c per dozen.

FAIR TRADE IN BEANS.

Montreal, Feb. 14.—A fair jobbing trade is passing in beans, but the demand for car lots is quiet as buyers are fairly well supplied. Three-pound pickers sold at $1.50 per bushel, and in car lots, $1.70 to $1.80 per bushel ex track.

POTATO MARKET STRONGER.
Montreal, Feb. 14.—Owing to the continued light receipts of Green Mountain potatoes a stronger feeling has developed in the market again, and prices have advanced with sales of car lots at 97½c to $1 per bag, and jobbing lots at $1.15 to $1.20 per bag.

DRESSED POULTRY QUIET.

Montreal, Feb. 14.—The market for dressed poultry was quiet, as buyers generally had ample supplies on hand to fill requirements. The feeling is steady, as stocks on spot in first hands have been well cleaned up and receipts are small. We quote: Turkeys, choice, per lb. 13c; T. turkeys, good, per lb. 12c; Geese, per lb. 12c to 15c; Chickens, per lb. 11c to 13c; Fowls, per lb. 9c to 12c; Ducks, per lb. 16c to 18c.

PROVISION MARKET

MARKET WAS STEADY.

Montreal, Feb. 14.—The tone of the market for all lines remains steady, owing to the fact that supplies are not excessive and there is no pressure on the part of packers to force sales. A fair trade continues to be done, both for local consumption, and for shipment to country points. Abattoir fresh-killed dressed hogs are selling at $10.75 to $11, and country dressed at $9 to $10 per 100 pounds.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK MARKET.

TRADE SLOW OWING TO HIGH PRICES.

COINAGE DESIGNS

An Interesting History of the Variations in Images and Descriptions

The new British coinage is to maintain the present designs, with only the alterations rendered necessary by the new accession, but much historical interest clusters round the variations to which our coinage has from time to time been subjected.

The image will, as heretofore, consist of a bust portraying, with more or less accuracy, the features of the reigning monarch, and still more with the claims of the individual monarchs. Prior to 1715 the Stuarts were content with claiming, in Latin abbreviations, to be "By the grace of God Kings of Great Britain, France, and Ireland." The first addition to this being the letters "F.D." which, while they denote "Fidei Defensor," as granted to Henry VIII. by Pope Leo X., were not used on the coinage until the year above named.

The accession of George I. brought about very considerable variations in the design, adding the motto "Hanoveria" to the new accession of British dignities. Thus we have introduced Latin abbreviations asserting his claim to be "Duke of Brunswick, Lüneburg, Arch-Treasurer and Elector of the Holy Roman Empire," in addition to those mentioned above. The abandonment by Great Britain to be a ruling Continental power has been followed by the disappearance of all these, as well as of the title "King of France." It was not, however, until the year 1818 that the "Lilies of France" disappeared from our coinage, after adorning it for upwards of four hundred years.

From the earliest periods there has appeared upon the reverse of the copper or bronze coins a figure with a greater or less resemblance to the ideal of personification of "Britannia." The first known of such figures is found on the coins struck by the Emperor Hadrian about the year A.D. 122. Subsequent Roman-British coins display a similar figure with a shield, much as at present, but holding Roman symbols in place of the trident. The present figure dates from the time of Charles II. and is believed to have followed the design of the royal favorite "La Belle Stuart" (the Francis Stuart, the Duchess of Richmond, immortalized by Lely's famous painting). At first we have Britannia, bareheaded, facing to the left, holding a spear in her left hand. In the time of George III. (1797) she bears a trident, and a three-masted ship is seen in the distance on the ocean, by which she is surrounded. With George IV. she appears helmeted, facing to the right, her right arm resting on the shield, but the ship and sea have disappeared. On the bronze coinage of 1860 the ocean reappears with a ship, but on this occasion sailing away from her, and in addition to this a lighthouse is introduced behind Britannia, whose right arm entwines the trident, supporting, rather than grasping, it. The authorized new designs are the same as those of the late reign. From these the ship and light house have both been eliminated.

The only exception to being a Britannia-bearing coin, amongst those of the bronze coinage, was the half-farthing. The reverse of this coin had across the centre in plain print the words "Half-Farthing," surrounded by a crown, the date being immediately underneath, while below that again was a spray of "rose, shamrock and thistle." These small coins, pretty in design, were issued as late as 1842, but are now extinct, except as curios.

Letters to the Editor

"THE ONE MAN WHO CAN SAVE HIS COUNTRY."

Editor Record.

Sir:—The Star for once is right, and he is likely to do it. If it has its way it would make Sir Wilfred take as short a turn as a jack rabbit with a puppy after it. That is not the way statesmen do that reach the place he has, or as the Star says he has. A man's past acts is the criterion by which he is judged. If he is the man that the Star represents him to be, and occupies the place it claims he does, it is because the country has found him a wise statesman in the past, and they should pause and think that it is barely possible that it is Sir Wilfred that is right now and they who are wrong.

The "reciprocity treaty" was abrogated by the U. S. A. I think in 1866 Sir John A. and party afterwards attempted to get it renewed, but in vain, then the cry went out by the Mail and Gazette and leaders of the Conservative party that if we could not have reciprocity of products we should have reciprocity of tariffs. The Liberal party attempted later on to get reciprocity but was repulsed at Washington. The U. S. has learned that their policy is the father of monopolies and high prices for the consumer, and it seems that their president is disposed to listen to others than the money kings, and to other places with our government take a rail off the tariff fence that crosses this continent. It has been wished for by the reasonable men of both parties alike in this country in the past and now seems to be opposed by the Conservative party for political reasons only, I believe, and by Liberals who know no better than to take stock in such contemptible drivel as lately appeared in the Star entitled, "Sir Wilfred Laurier, the one man who can save Canada."

I do not know who was responsible for the Star's production, but ever it was must have had great faith in the gullibility of the public or they never would have had it published. The country cannot afford to follow the Star this time. A good paper gone wrong for once.

Yours truly,

A Good Conservative Who Retains His Original Principles.

THE RECIPROCITY MATTER

Editor of Record:

Sir:—
"Put no trust in Princes,"
"Is a saying old and true;"
"Put no hope in Governments,"
"Translateth it anew."
"All books of law and 'Golden Rules'"
"Are fashioned to betray."
"The survival of strongest"
"Is the logic of to-day."

Unquestionably the present tariff has served a useful purpose but new occasions tract new duties and it is only bigotry, maudlin sentimentalism or timidity that shrinks in fear of the reciprocity proposals. Let us for once at any rate accept things as they really are and not as we would like or imagine them to be, living as we are in close proximity to a powerful, well-armed neighbor with capital invested in our country as well as his own, with a perfectly trained fighting machine, that can protect his interest, any direction to a neighborly feeling in finance, also in war, successful in both these important ventures to an extent unheard of in the history of the world. To think that a mere tariff wall, built by ballot box stuffing, defended by maudlin editorialism, could for any length of time resist the material strength of financial skill to open a breach is unbelievable except to a born fool or a daff philosopher. Uncle Sam looking north sees a vast Dominion in the process of exploitation, its people meek, tractable and laborious, geographically easy of access, to him it is a mine to be worked and why not are his dollars not as clean as those of the Semite Kings that Great Britain holds us in bond to-day. No altruism, no cheap patriotism, or Imperial drum-beating can resist the steady, certain remorseless advance of entrenched vested interests, that inscribes on its banner the motto: "Business is business." You shall want me I shall, so like the Greeks of old they come with gifts. Yes, real solid gifts, and no juggling with figures or statistical lies can alter the hard frozen fact that Canada as a community gets the best of the bargain, and in spite of the fearsome cries of the manufacturers of certain industries, the workmen will find employment on either side of the line at comparatively the usual wage. The farmer will be the greatest gainer, the lumberman also will profit and it will certainly reduce the cost of living and increase the comfort of the industrial working class. Its political significance of course is tremendous as it is the marked point on which the United States and Canada commence a merger that can only end in the greater force absorbing the lesser force. This end may not be desirable to many, but gold is a fierce resolute, and I for one cannot see what the working class, or for the matter of that the business class have to fear from the ultimate and inevitable end. It of course places Great Britain in a curious position, as with a free trade government she cannot condemn our action in any tariff change we make on the same lines as herself advocates. Our right to make the change is unassailable, otherwise we remain a satrapy to Britain, under tribute to the bondholders. "Bonds really mean bondage" and no liberty loving people could endure any dictatorial interference with our tariff, under any pretext, however cloaked the official coercion may be. The fact that a good deal of clerical opposition is being exerted should not pass unnoticed. It is safe to infer from this that the ghastly humiliation of clerical authority in temporal matters will receive a check. It is an advance in our Dominion's life that will make for broader and freer scope, and will destroy a deal of the false idealisms of narrow-minded bigots, whose mind never seem to get beyond their city limits. Enjoying life with a closer touch with our cousins south will make us brighter and better citizens.

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE.

Editor Record.

Dear Sir:—I intended to have brought before the annual meeting of the Protestant Hospital, yesterday, the noble work the Daughters of the Empire are undertaking in the city, by raising a fund to employ a trained nurse, whose duty it will be to visit the sick poor in their homes and give them a certain amount of care free of charge, there are no doubt always many such cases where they are not able to leave their homes, or ill enough to require Hospital treatment, whom a nurse could visit on her daily rounds and render material aid to, and thus relieve suffering and assist to a more speedy recovery. I am sure the work of these ladies would have received the hearty endorsement of the meeting as I trust it will the citizens generally.

Wishing them God speed in this work, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
WM. FARWELL,
President Protestant Hospital,
Sherbrooke, Feb. 14, 1911.

CURED OF CONSTIPATION

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N.S., writes: "For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same helpless condition. I feared that nothing would ever free me from the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box.

This Home-Made Cough Syrup will Surprise You
Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly, and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes sixteen ounces—a family supply. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16 oz. bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it. Braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end coughs.

You probably know the medicinal value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis, and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualic acid and the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

TEACHER'S WORK RECOGNIZED.

SUTTON MOUNTAIN POST OFFICE.
Sutton, Feb. 14.—(Special)—The date for the opening of the new post office on Sutton Mountain between Abercorn and Glen Sutton, has not yet been decided on. There seems to be a feeling by many residents of the section to be benefited that the office should be located quite a bit east of the Cota place. The argument, which seems to be reasonable, is to the effect that there are more families settled near each other some half a mile or more east of the Cota place, which is on the extreme top of the mountain. It is claimed by several that if the office was located as far east as Mr. A. M. Noyes' and the James place, it would be close to several families, while those from Mr. H. J. Ingalls' and at the Jericho Corner could be reached by the box system, making it much more convenient for them all than to have to go up to the Cota place. It is understood that the boxes would be granted free by the P. O. Department if proper applications were made. It seems as though this box system would simplify matters and make better for all parties concerned. It is intimated that Mr. Alson M. Noyes would undertake to carry the mails if established there, and that he would undertake to deliver the mail at the boxes placed for those whom the box system would benefit. Mr. Noyes would make a reliable mail carrier, as would Mr. Jones, just across the street from Noyes'. The matter has been placed before Mr. Vilas, M.L.A., also before Hon. Sydney A. Fisher, and it is hoped the matter will soon be settled to the satisfaction of all concerned, and that these people will soon be receiving a three-times-a-week mail.

MASQUERADE AT EAST ANGUS.
East Angus, Feb. 13.—(Special)—East Angus, which is beautifully situated on the St. Francis River, has developed into a great sporting centre as well as a flourishing milling town. Mr. Little arranged for the carnival, which proved to be the greatest success of its kind ever held in East Angus. There is nothing too great for Mr. Little to undertake. The prizes were beautiful, selected by Mrs. Little and Miss Cook, who certainly displayed good taste. The judges were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bothwell, Mrs. and Miss Cook, Mr. Ring and Mayor Cooper. #### BEAUBETTE—BOURQUE.

This morning in the chapel of the parish church of St. Jean Baptiste, a very quiet, but pretty wedding took place, when Miss Louise Bourque, daughter of Mr. G. N. Bourque, of East Sherbrooke, was united in marriage to Mr. Adolphe Beaubette of this city. The ceremony was performed by the parish priest, Rev. J. Laporte, and the organ was presided over by Prof. Oscar Cartier. Gounod's "Ave Maria" was beautifully sung by Miss Claudia Beauchêne, who also rendered another appropriate solo.

The bride, who wore a smart tailor-made costume of dark blue broadcloth trimmed with military braid, blue chiffon waist and large hat of golden brown and black, with willow plumes, carried a bouquet of white roses. She was accompanied to the altar by her father, Mr. Bourque, and the groom was supported by his brother-in-law, Mr. J. A. Gaudette, of Lake Mégantic. Miss Goerette Bourque wore a gown of chamois colored cloth with coat, with touches of black velvet, and a hat to correspond trimmed with violets. Her large muffs were also adorned with a knot of violets. Only the family and one or two intimate friends were present.

After the service the bridal party went to the house of Mr. Bourque, on Bridge Street, where the wedding breakfast was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Beaubette left by the B. & M. for Boston, New York and Atlantic City.

On their return they will take up their abode in Sherbrooke.

The bride was the recipient of a variety of pretty wedding presents from her numerous friends.

HOW TO IDENTIFY HIM

It was on account of his splendid work in South Africa that Lord Selborne, who recently celebrated his fifty-first birthday, earned the title of "Peacemaker." He is the man who has proved his worth in various offices, notably as Under-Secretary for the Colonies and as First Lord of the Admiralty. His motto is "Go through life relying on yourself alone." The most useless being he knew, he recently told the boys of his old school in Temple Grove, Eastbourne, was the man who always attributed his misfortune to somebody else. Talking of his school days, he said that he remembered that in his first term a large and perfectly confidential allowed him to pick it up by the tail. Of course, the animal at once turned and fastened on his right thumb. And if anyone wants to identify me," says his lordship, "they can do so by the old Temple Grove rat."

LARGE PROFITS FROM APPLES.
Reading, Pa., Feb. 14.—At a farmers institute, held at Mt. Aetna, Dr. J. H. Dunk, of Boyertown, said that no other business paid so well as apple culture. He said that apples yield larger dividends than any stock can be purchased, not excepting Standard Oil.

THE INDIAN AS A STUDENT

Average Attendance is Higher in Unorganized Northwest

In the report which has just been issued by the Department of Indian Affairs, the statistics of attendance at Indian schools show that enrolled Indian pupils in the Western provinces attend school more steadily than do enrolled Indian pupils in the Eastern provinces. Ontario has 2,965 pupils enrolled, British Columbia 1,985, and Manitoba, Northwest provinces, etc., have 4,149. Ontario, it will be noted, has an average attendance of enrolled Indian pupils of 52.57 per cent., while British Columbia has 63.37 per cent. But Saskatchewan maintains an average attendance of 80.81 per cent. of her enrolment of 1,251, and Manitoba's average is 59.41 per cent. of 1,759 enrolled pupils. The unorganized notchers in this respect, for with an enrolment of 162 Indian pupils in five schools—three of which are boarding schools—the average attendance is 56.42 per cent. Probably the boarding and industrial schools are responsible for the better average, for in Ontario there are nine of these schools and 78 day schools. Alberta maintains a high average attendance of 76.97 per cent., with 338 pupils enrolled. In New Brunswick there are nine day schools, and the average attendance of 222 Indian pupils was 60.81 per cent. Prince Edward Island has a solitary day school with 42 pupils enrolled, and average attendance was 18, or 42.86 per cent. The total enrolment in Indian schools for the year was 10,625, and the percentage of average attendance 62.36 per cent. for all Canada.

A FRANK TESTIMONIAL

Mr. Elisee Dupuis, of St. Paul de la Croix, was suffering from weakness, ST. MICHEL'S WINE cured him and he acknowledges its value.

Mr. Elisee Dupuis' trade is a hard one, that of sawyer; he had used his strength unsparingly and, human endurance having its limits,—he began to grow weak until finally the day came when he realized that he must find a remedy for his enfeebled condition. Mr. Elisee Dupuis has the courage of his convictions. This may be seen by the following letter:

MESSRS. BOIVIN, WILSON & CO., Montreal.

Gentlemen:—Many people hesitate at the idea of seeing their photographs or testimony published in the newspapers. For my part, I am not of these. When one obtains relief from his sufferings through another's help, it seems to me only just to give credit to whom it is due and show gratitude for the good that has been done.

It is for this reason, gentlemen, that I take pleasure in thanking you for the marvelous results procured by means of your ST. MICHEL'S WINE, which I used for weakness, from which I suffered for many years. In my trade we are much more exposed than in many others. We over-exert ourselves, with the results you know and we often become extremely weak. I have been through the mill and if to-day I am enjoying good health, it is due in great part to the restorative properties of ST. MICHEL'S WINE. Since I have been taking this treatment I can attend to my work without fear of feeling weak as I used to formerly. I heartily urge my co-workers to follow my example, because I am certain that ST. MICHEL'S WINE will be worth its weight in gold to them. Once more, thank you a thousand times, thank you.

Very truly yours,

ELISÉE DUPUIS,

St. Paul de la Croix.

P.S.—You will find enclosed my photograph which I had taken after being restored to health. One dozen and a half bottles were sufficient to make me strong again.

E. D.

Thousands of persons have thus felt the benevolent action of ST. MICHEL'S WINE. We are receiving new testimonials daily which we will be able to publish with the permission of our correspondents.

A Mighty Ruler, He

Who wisely rules himself.

Curious what a scrap you have now and then (maybe two or three "nows" and several "thens") with what the old Scotchman called the "deevlish part" of your make-up.

It's safe to say "you" and not miss the mark, for we all belong to the same lodge, and it seems to be a part of some great plan to try us out and see if we can thus earn the right to rule greater things.

Most every day some one of the many "warriors of the enemy" comes across your pathway and puts up a scrap to see if he can rule.

You must be well trained and alert or he will make you bend the knee or, perhaps, break a leg or permanently cripple you.

There are several of these "enemies" which can be named over, but for the purpose of this article let us speak of the narcotics, the family which includes morphine, whiskey, coffee, cocaine, tea, tobacco, etc., all the same family, each member having a different degree of strength.

Now, coffee is perhaps one of the most plausible and deceitful of them all.

It has many friends, but coolly and cunningly knives them, and they don't know where the blow comes from.

Many and many a poor, nervous wreck, with weak heart, suffers by day and lies sleepless at night without suspecting that his "dear old friend," Mr. Coffee, is quietly pushing him along towards the silent city. No, Coffee don't hurt everyone by any manner of means, but it does pick out the highly organized individuals and wrecks them by the score.

Perhaps the victim realizes it, but has fallen time and again in the battle and been whipped so often that he has given up and bowed the head to the chain of his master.

"I simply cannot give up my coffee," is the wail, and so day by day he grovels and the master stretches him a few turns tighter on the rack of suffering.

Make sure of one thing. Once you become conscious of the fact that a fight is on, suffering follows steadily until you are able to rule.

Then comes the reward—comfort, health and happiness for the victor.

It is good work to stand right up and smash away with a "mailed fist" but it's much more comfortable to whip Mr. Coffee by throwing him "right over the side of the mountain" and give his place to Postum.

A steaming, fragrant cup of this famous beverage has the clear seal-brown color which changes to a rich golden brown under cream.

Ofttimes, the victory of one's better self over a known enemy is followed quickly by remarkable changes—peaceful sleep, balanced nerves, stronger heart, and all the joy which comes after the removal of a drug and its replacement with natural food elements which old Dame Nature is only too glad to seize upon for the building material so badly needed and so long denied.

Well, here's best wishes to you, reader. Hope you don't get "licked" too often, it's weakening.

INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, SOURNESS, GAS AND STOMACH-HEADACHE GO

A Little Diapiesin Relieves bad Stomachs in five minutes

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you have Gas and Eructate, sour, undigested food or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is Indigestion.

A full case of Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or Indigestion in five minutes. Diapiesin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Biliousness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for Indigestion or dyspepsia or any other Stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Trouble and Indigestion.

BROWN'S HILL.

Never in the history of Brown's Hill, so far as the writer knows, has the community received such a shock as on Tuesday evening, February 7th, the sad news was flashed along the wire that Alfred Wilder Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilder Brown, had passed away. Al (for by that abbreviated name he was known by all) had been toiling at Smith's Mills for some weeks and completed his work there the last week in January.

The following Tuesday he was taken with chills and a physician being summoned pronounced it pneumonia. On the following Monday he was believed to be recovering but that evening had a weak spell. On Tuesday he rallied somewhat but about 3.30 p.m. had another weak attack in which he passed away quite suddenly. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, father and mother; one brother, Charles; three sisters, Mrs. H. Ayer, of Ayer's Cliff; Mrs. Rowell, of Fairlee, Vt., and Mrs. C. Rutter, of Beebe, and a host of friends. A notable feature is the fact that Mrs. Brown was never married, just five years ago she was taken ill and died five years from the night of her reception. The deep and sincere sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved ones who suffer so keenly the loss of a kind and loving husband, an obedient son and a thoughtful brother, who was called away at the early age of twenty-seven years. The funeral on Thursday was conducted by the Rev. J. F. Hutchinson, and attended by a large number of sorrowing friends. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers and with its precious contents was placed in the cemetery near the old home. Brown's Hill has lost one of its finest young men. Any man might be proud of the many words of commendation which have been said of Mr. Brown. He will be missed by everyone, but what is our loss is his gain.

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

SPEAKS IN GLOWING TERMS OF THE MAGNIFICENT WELCOME

ACCORDED THE ROYAL VISITORS.

The Duke of Connaught, who recently reached England on his return from South Africa, where he opened the first Parliament of the South African Commonwealth, has been interviewed with regard to his trip. His Royal Highness spoke in glowing terms of the magnificent welcome accorded to the Royal visitors, and when asked for an expression of his views which might be used for publication he said:

"You are authorized to state that we are much pleased with the reception accorded us in South Africa. The enthusiastic character of the reception was by no means restricted to the towns where the great majority of the populace is of British descent."

The Duke added that in the course of his long journey he always endeavored to see and talk to representatives of all shades of political feeling, and of all the principal sections of the populace. His Royal Highness has therefore had, considering the short time he spent in the country, what was probably an unequalled opportunity of judging of matters concerning the welfare of South Africa.

Speaking of the prospects of the country under the Union, His Royal Highness said: "From the knowledge I have obtained as the result of the opportunities I have mentioned, I consider that the Union is solidly based, and that its establishment holds out great promise for the prosperity of the land comprised within the four amalgamated Colonies. That there should have been sacrifices of local interests was inevitable, and with these I expressed sympathy on various public occasions; but I trust that what the Union has taken away with one hand it may repay abundantly with the other. That the Union should be established without a number of minor dissensions and without political strife was unlikely but it is remarkable how far the Union has already become a reality and not a name only. This is in a large measure due to the action of the members of the Houses of Parliament who have dealt with many important matters, particularly the education question, in a way calculated to placate both great political parties."

THE DUTCH AND ENGLISH.

The Duke laid especial emphasis on this matter, and made more than one reference to it in the course of conversation. Dealing next with the relations between the Dutch and English, His Royal Highness said: "The two races whose interests were for generations opposed have settled down with the firm intention of working together. It is impossible that there should never be questions in which the line of cleavage of opinion lies between these two races, but with the mutual respect which exists between the English and Dutch there is no reason why racial disagreements should not steadily diminish until the two great racial descriptions are merged in the appellation of South African."

With regard to the tour itself, though their Royal Highnesses were much tired with the hard work they had gone through during the five weeks of receptions, official functions, and travel preceding their embarkation at Durban, they soon threw off their fatigue after a few days at sea, and are in the best possible health. The Duke added that the Balmoral Castle had a perfect journey home, and their Royal Highnesses were able to take the opportunity of paying a flying visit to Sierra Leone, which came as a pleasant surprise to the colony, and as an agreeable and interesting incident of the journey.

The Duke also made reference to his visits to Tenerife and Las Palmas. Unfortunately the heavy swell prevented the party from landing at Santa Cruz, where a cordial reception had been prepared, but at the latter place it was impossible to visit the town and neighborhood. Before leaving Las Palmas the Duke telegraphed to King Alfonso to say how they had appreciated the welcome given to them in these two beautiful islands, and he received a reply expressing the King of Spain's pleasure at their having been able to make the visit.

THE PERSONAL LINK.

Commenting on the above interview, the Chronicle says: "One characteristic by which the reign of George V. seems likely to stand out in our history is already making itself felt. It may be described as an accentuation of the personal link of the Empire, and the return of the Duke of Connaught from South Africa naturally calls attention to the subject. The Duke's visit has been an unqualified success in itself, and it received additional significance from the hint which His Royal Highness might give that the King himself might at some future date visit the Union. The announcement of His Majesty's intended visit to India, which was made during the Duke's tour, emphasized the point still further. King George clearly means that the personal link shall be seen and felt throughout his Dominions."

"The Crown is a connecting link, even at home. In the fiercest political struggles the rival parties have a meeting point in loyalty to the Throne. The phrase, 'His Majesty's Opposition' was invented as a parallel to 'His Majesty's Government' in order to emphasize the fact that both parties have a common desire to serve the State and its Head. In relation to the Empire at large, the Crown is not merely a link; it is the one link. Allegiance to the same Sovereign is the only common point between the infinitely varying forms of government, of institutions, of races, of conditions that exist within the British Empire. Throughout its vast extent, and under all its diversities of administration, every act of government is done under the authority and in the name of the Crown. The authority is often more of a constitutional form or a legal fiction than a vital fact; the name is the essence of the Imperial connection. If a statesman in some self-governing Dominion were asked how it was governed, he would reply, 'We govern ourselves.' Those Dominions are integral parts of the Empire less in virtue of the shadowy and theoretical right of the Imperial Parliament to legislate for them, than in virtue of common allegiance to the same Sovereign. In all of them it is 'King's Ministers' who rule. The note of King George's reign to which we have referred is the idea of giving personal expression of this legal doctrine. The link is to be visualized by physical contact."

"The personal factor will obviously count for something in such a development, and it is from this point of view that the Duke of Connaught deserves the real gratitude of the public for the very successful manner in which he has discharged his mission to South Africa."

"The remark made by the Duke about the future of South Africa, in the interview above mentioned, is full of good sense and of good omen. He is convinced that the Union is 'solidly based'; he is struck by the conciliatory attitude adopted in the Union Parliament on the education question; he is not so sanguine as to suppose that racial lines of cleavage have disappeared, or will immediately disappear; but he sees no reason why, as time goes on, distinctions of 'British' and 'Dutch' should not become merged in the common appellation of 'South African.' It is at the birth of the South African nation that His Royal Highness has been assisting; and, without exaggerating the importance of his visit, we may yet reasonably believe that it has conducted somewhat towards the growth of the South African spirit. His presence in each of the provinces in turn, after the national ceremonial at Cape Town, must have served to emphasize the idea of interdependence. If this be so, the Duke must feel it to be the best reward of his arduous labors that they are likely to contribute to the realization of his hopes, in conforming the 'solid basis' of the Union of South Africa."

having been made for that purpose. It was also proposed that an appeal be made for funds to cover cost of same. This, however, was not done as the financial conditions generally were such it was not considered an opportune time. The matter, therefore, stands in about the same position. The Board hope to be able to take up the work the coming year, and carry through the scheme, in part at least.

"The Board have been advised that the late Major George Williamson, of Kingsbury, one of the Governors who died in January last, made the Hospital his residuary legatee; the estate has not been settled, therefore it is not known just what the bequest will amount to, but it will probably be a considerable sum. While there are no stipulations or restrictions in the will, the Governors are of the opinion that a considerable portion should be set aside as an "Endowment Fund," using the balance with the "Building Fund" now in hand towards the contemplated improvements.

"The Ladies' Committee continues one of the strong and reliable aids to the Hospital, being unremitting in their efforts. Owing to the unfavorable weather during Fair week, their net receipts for the year were not as large as usual, the total being $906.05. Out of this they expended for Hospital linen, rugs, silver, etc. $874.45, and have now on hand $625.10.

"The two lady Governors, Mrs. Tuck and Mrs. E. C. Fraser continue their deep interest in the work, showing the wisdom of their appointment on the Board. The Medical Board and attending staff throughout this district maintain their high record for skill and successful treatment of medical and surgical cases.

"In May last Miss McCadyen resigned her position as Lady Superintendent to become the wife of Mr. T. M. Craig. The Governors regret her retirement but wish her much happiness in her new sphere of life. Miss Carolyn A. Hornby, the Assistant Superintendent, was appointed to fill the vacancy for one year and is doing excellent work.

"The Governors desire to record their sincere thanks to all those who have responded so liberally to their appeals. A list of donations and subscriptions in cash and supplies is appended to this report. Thanks are also due the staff of nurses all of whom have been untiring in their attentions to those under their care. To Mr. Andrew McCaw, the new Hon. Secretary is due in a large measure the large increase in the financial assistance reported. He has given a great deal of time and work to it and the results are most satisfactory.

"This report would not be complete without recording our thanks to Chief Davidson and his staff, who have in so many ways assisted our Institution."

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM FARWELL, President

CAROLYN A. HORNBY

REPORT OF MEDICAL BOARD.
To the President and Governors of the Sherbrooke Protestant Hospital
Gentlemen:—

"In submitting the medical report of the Hospital for the year 1910, I beg to state that 424 cases were admitted during the year and that there were remaining over from 1909 in the hospital 17 patients, making a total of 441 patients treated during the year 1910. Of this number 236 were males and 205 females. There were 351 Protestants, 65 Roman Catholics and 5 Jews.

There were treated in the Hospital 327 medical cases, of this number there were 25 cases of typhoid fever, all of a very severe type, and of this number there were only four deaths, two of which occurred a few hours after admission.

There were 297 surgical cases and 248 operations were performed with satisfactory results.

There were 52 operations for appendicitis performed, with only two deaths.

Of the 441 patients treated there were 38 deaths. Of this number 13 patients died within 24 hours of admission, many of them being cases of severe injury. Three other patients died within 48 hours of admission and another accident case died on the third day after admission. Five other patients died 6 days after admission and 6 others were hopelessly incurable upon admission.

The large proportion of major operations done successfully illustrates the generally accepted fact that the public is recognizing more clearly the superiority of the skillful work done in our hospital.

The accommodation of the hospital has been far too limited at times for the number of patients. A greater number of patients have been treated during 1909 & 1910 than in any previous years and there is urgent necessity for immediately enlarging the hospital. A larger, more suitable and modern building is an absolute necessity. The need of more accommodation for private patients is constantly evident from the fact that many patients have had to be refused admission at times and have had either to wait for a private ward or go to another hospital, and occasionally a number of patients have been compelled to go in a public ward because no private ward was available when they came to the hospital.

During the past week we have had eleven patients crowded into a ward that was originally constructed for six patients.

A maternity ward is also an absolute necessity and we trust the Governors will see fit at an early date to erect a new and modern building and have it equipped in a thorough-up-to-date manner.

Respectfully submitted,

G. L. HUME, M. D., Secy. Medical Board.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Lherbrooke, Feb. 13, 1911.

To the President, Vice-President and Governors of the Sherbrooke Protestant Hospital.

Gentlemen:—"On behalf of the Executive Committee, I beg leave to submit the following report, which will give you an idea of some of the things that we have accomplished during the year.

"One of the first things that we did was to have the old rattle trap fire escape, which in case of fire would have been little or no use and very dangerous, removed, and replaced by a new and up-to-date one. Furthermore we found the electric wiring all through the building very defective, in bad shape, and in some cases dangerous. This has had a general overhauling, and put into good shape.

"Later on, we found that the electric bells were getting out of order every little while, and as we considered it quite serious when the patient rang the bell for a nurse, and the bell did not work, we immediately let the contract for new wiring of all the bells, and also had the annunciators on each floor moved to more convenient places. The work is being done and should be completed right away. We have had meetings at the Hospital quite a number of times, and have had various matters under consideration, from time to time, which we hardly think worth mentioning here.

"Of course you gentlemen all know that Miss Hornby has been without an assistant superintendent since she took charge in June last, and perhaps the Executive Committee are more or less to blame that they did not deal with the matter more promptly. At the same time, Miss Hornby was instructed to be on the lookout for a suitable person, but apparently she was unable to find one. However, since the last Board meeting of the Governors every effort is being made to secure a suitable person, and no doubt one will be found in the very near future.

"We have also taken considerable pains to ascertain from patients and their friends, if they were satisfied with the treatment received from the Superintendent and nurses, and we have yet to find one who has anything but a kind word to say for all. In fact, one lady whose husband was ill in the hospital last fall, was so pleased with the kindness and consideration shown her that she forwarded her cheque for $25 as a present to the Institution. This certainly speaks well for the Superintendent and the nurses, and we have no hesitation in saying that in our opinion when Miss Hornby has a competent Assistant Superintendent, and receives the support from the Executive Committee, which she deserves that she will be able to carry out the work with credit to herself and to the hospital.

"We would strongly urge the advisability of having a member of the Medical Board on the Executive Committee, he to be named of course by the Medical Board. By this means the doctors will be in close touch with all matters considered by the Executive, and the Executive will have the benefit of the doctors' suggestions and advice. We believe that the very best results can be obtained by the doctors and the management working harmoniously together. We further urge that one of the rules should be strictly adhered to in future, namely, that visiting Governors be named monthly, and that they visit the hospital regularly in order to become more familiar with the workings and requirements of the Institution. We would further recommend that the number of Governors be increased. This will increase the revenue and should create more interest in the Institution.

"We consider it one of the duties of the doctors before bringing patients to the Hospital, if there is any question as to their ability to pay to say as far as possible to find some persons in the vicinity who will be come responsible to the hospital for their account. We believe also in such cases that the Hospital should have reference over the doctors as far as their accounts against the patients are concerned.

"Now that the hospital has been so generously remembered by a number of good friends, and there are sufficient funds in sight, we would advise that one of the long talked of wings be built at once, under the most advisable plan, and that the old building be properly and thoroughly remodelled, and the whole be done with a view of adding another wing in the future should the requirements demand it, and the balance of the funds should be placed at interest, and if possible only the earnings be used by the hospital from time to time.

The whole respectfully submitted,
W. R. WEBSTER
Chairman.

EMPEROR WILLIAM IS IN POOR HEALTH

ONE REPORT IS TO EFFECT THAT HE WILL UNDERGO AN OPERATION.

Berlin, Feb. 13.—Alarming reports as to the health of Emperor William were circulated here. One was to the effect that he is soon to undergo an operation.

In connection with this, it is said that the real reason for the recall of Crown Prince Frederick William from his Oriental trip was the decision of the Emperor to prepare his eldest son at once for the duties of State.

Encouraging reports of the Emperor's condition still come from the attending physicians, who state that he is suffering from a slight attack of influenza. But it is believed that this has resulted in a recurrence of the affection of the ear which has troubled the Kaiser for many years.

No official statement has ever been issued explaining the recall of the Crown Prince, it having been at various times attributed to the prevalence of bubonic plague in the far east and jealousy on the part of the Crown Princess because of attentions which her husband has paid to beautiful women on the journey.

NORTH HATLEY AND GOOD ROADS.

WORK OF LAYING MACADAM ROADS WILL COMMENCE IN SPRING.

North Hatley, Feb. 14.—(Special)—The Council has determined to put in macadamized roads during the coming spring and summer.

They have petitioned the Government for the bonus offered to assist in any such undertaking and word has been received stating that their petition had been granted and that the Government had decided to send an overseer. Men are now busy drawing stones to be used in this work. A stone crusher and engine are expected to be sent here the first of April by the Government. North Hatley has the distinction of being the first town to apply for this grant.

SEND TROOP OF CAVALRY.

Washington, Feb. 14.—To reassure the residents of Calexico, Cal., Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood ordered Brigadier General Bliss to keep a troop of cavalry at that town, pending a renewal of fighting in the Mexicali, situated across the border from Calexico.

HATLEY.

The usual weekly prayer service in connection with the Methodist Church was conducted on Thursday evening, by Rev. Robt. Goudie, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L.H. Parker.

Mrs. M. W. LeBaron was at home to her friends on the afternoon of Friday.

The third of the series of euchre parties, which are being given by Hatley Cadet Band, passed off with their usual success on Friday evening, February 10. Nineteen tables were again filled, and the even sum of $20 added to the Treasury.

Sylvan rink has been cleared of its burden of snow, and a merry party of young folk enjoyed skimming over its glassy surface on Saturday evening by the moon's pale light.

Mr. Perry, Sr., who is not in very robust health, had a recent recurrence of an attack of illness.

Arrivals and departures: Miss Alice Webster, of Coaticook, week-end guest of relatives here, taking in the party on Friday evening and attending the rink on Saturday evening; Mr. C. C. Poole and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Etta Poole, and Master Adelbert, visited at the home of Mrs. Poole's father; Mr. John Perkins, at North Hatley on Sunday; Mr. Arthur Whitcomb, at Coaticook, recently.

A letter just received from Capt. K. E. Kennedy, of Sherbrooke, who is attending the military college at Kingston, Ont., states that he is getting on finely and hopes to be able to qualify as Captain before his return. Owing to a lack of room in the barracks, he is enjoying the hospitality of Col. Gordon of that city.

It is stated that Mr. C. Knapp is about to purchase the "Cook place"

SCOTSTOWN.

Arrivals and departures include: Mr. A. K. McKay of the Weedon Copper Mines, home over Sunday; Rev. S. Clark to Montreal, to attend the Provincial Sunday School Convention there; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Murray to Gould.
