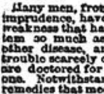
ERRORS OF YOUTH.



SUFFERERS FROM
Nervous Debility,
Youthful Indiscretions,
EARLY DECAY.
Be Your Own Physician!

Many men, from the effects of youthful imprudence, have brought about a state of weakness that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever being suspected, they are doctored for everything but the right one. Notwithstanding the many valuable remedies that medical science has produced for the relief of this class of patients, none of the ordinary modes of treatment effect a cure. During our extensive college and hospital practice we have experimented with and discovered new and concentrated remedies. The accompanying prescription is offered as a certain and speedy cure, as hundreds of cases in our practice have been restored to perfect health by its use after all other remedies failed. Perfectly pure ingredients must be used in the preparation of this prescription.

R—Erythroxylon coca, 1-2 drachm.
Jerubebin, 1-2 drachm.
Helonias Dioica, 1-2 drachm.
Gelsemin, 8 grains.
Ext. ignatiæ amaræ (alcoholic), 2 grains
Ext. leptandra, 2 scruples.
Glycerine, q. s. Mix.

Make 60 pills. Take 1 pill at 3 p. m., and another on going to bed. In some cases it will be necessary for the patient to take two pills at bedtime, making the number three a day. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, and especially in those cases resulting from imprudence. The recuperative powers of this restorative are truly astonishing, and its use continued for a short time changes the languid, debilitated, nerveless condition to one of renewed life and vigor.

As we are constantly in receipt of letters of inquiry relative to this remedy, we would say to those who would prefer to obtain it of us, by remitting $1 a securely sealed package containing 60 pills, carefully compounded, will be sent by return mail from our private laboratory, or we will furnish 6 packages, which will cure most cases, for $5. A COSTLY LESSON.

A FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLAR BLAZE

At Cote St. Antoine this Morning—An Insufficient Supply of Water—The Steamers' Good Work.

A fifty thousand dollar blaze this morning taught the young town of Cote St. Antoine a pretty sharp lesson upon the water-works question, and pointed out the necessity of prompt action respecting those improvements for which a loan was voted last week. Four buildings, situated on the principal business part of the town, were completely destroyed, two dwelling houses gutted, a third flooded out and a store seriously damaged. Such was the fire's work this forenoon at the western suburb. The fire was discovered at 7.30 this morning by A. A. Porry in the stable in rear of the block that stood on the north-western corner of Greene avenue and St. Catherine street, and he at once gave the alarm by telephone to the city fire department. There was a considerable quantity of hay and straw about the stable and it was soon in a blaze, the flames spreading to the building in front occupied by R. D. Anglin, green grocer, and fanned by the southwestern breeze it soon spread itself

THROUGH THIS WHOLE BLOCK OF BUILDINGS.

The corner building, of three stories and of cut stone, was occupied by Walter Paul's branch grocery. Adjoining was a brick-cased building, occupied by J. W. Paul's feed store and W. H. Chapman's branch drug store, and next this was a large stone block, whose ground floor was occupied by R. D. Anglin, green grocer, 150 and 152 Green avenue, and J. Smith's butcher shop. A. A. Perry, manager of Walter Paul's store, lived above the store, and Mr. Anglin over his own place, while the other tenements in the block were occupied by J. J. Howey, J. F. Black, F. B. Smith, and Mr. Scott. It was 7.30 when the alarm was given, but nearly an hour elapsed before a stream was turned upon the blaze. Five reels came up, 1, 5, 9, 10 and 12, chemical No. 5 and Merryweather No. 4 and steamer No. 1, also No. 4 salvage. The reels were of no use, as the pressure was not sufficient, and the engines had to do the work, No. 4 going to the hydrant at the corner of Dorchester street and Green avenue and No. 1 to the corner of Sherbrooke and Rosemount avenue, so that a mile of hose was laid. There was a small quantity of oil stored in the rear of the grocery, and although this was about the first to catch it was one of the last buildings to burn out.

THE FLAMES SPREAD SO RAPIDLY

through the block that the residents had but little time to remove stock or furniture, and some of the families escaped with but little more than the clothing being worn. Mrs. Steele, an invalid confined to her bed, was carried down the narrow stairway with considerable difficulty, and a mother and a very young child were also removed in the same way. The wind drove the flames across the street to the wooden building occupied by Alex. Sigouin, plumber, 157 Green avenue. This, with the corner block, was completely destroyed. The small wooden building next Sigouin's, on the corner, and occupied by H. F. Jackson, druggist, was saved by being plentifully showered. From Mr. Sigouin's the fire found a footing on the roof of the block of buildings up the avenue, the first three being owned by Mr. John Philips, the first, 161 Green avenue, being his residence. It made its way through the roof and before it was got under control it had gutted two of the houses, the third being greatly damaged by

SMOKE AND WATER.

At eleven o'clock the fire was under control, the corner block being pretty well burnt out and nothing left of the plumber's establishment but a few blazing posts. The buildings on the corner were owned by Mr. DeBellefeuille and the wooden building occupied by Sigouin, as well as Jackson's drug store, belonged to Mr. F. W. Evans, of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company. This company had $3000 insurance on Mr. Walter Paul's stock, which is about a total loss, $3200 on Mr. Evans' buildings, one of which is destroyed and the other damaged, and $1000 on Mr. A. Sigouin's stock. The Citizens' Company have $200 on Mr. Paul's fixtures, and the Queen's $500 on Miss Baillie's furniture, and $2000 on the first of John Phillips' dwellings. Mr. Chapman had $1000 insurance on his stock, and Mr. Jackson $2000 on his stock and fixtures, which are considerably damaged.

Not Dead Yet.

"The Conservative party is not dead," are the words used by Mr. Tarte in concluding an article on the result of the Montmorency election. "The struggle which ended last evening is one of the most stubborn which we have seen. Mr. Laurier, seconded by the entire organization of the Liberal party led the fray. Sir Adolphe Caron headed the Conservative forces. Our opponents ignored the other Ministers and aimed all their blows at the Minister of Militia. Sir Adolphe went body and soul into the fray. We are happy to congratulate him as well as all who assisted us either by word or deed in winning the day. The Conservative party is not dead."

Various Appointments.

Mr. George Kernick having been appointed Clerk of the Court of Review, the position of Deputy Prothonotary has become vacant, and Mr. P. M. Sauvalle has been selected as occupant of that position. The vacant position of Deputy Sheriff will not be filled, the Government considering that one Deputy Sheriff is sufficient. The rumor that L'Electeur office would be closed is unfounded. It is stated that Mr. Longpré may have to retire shortly owing to ill health. He will be succeeded by Mr. Turcotte.

Political Picnic.

Premier Mercier, accompanied by Messrs. Robidoux and Boyer, his two colleagues, and other friends, left by the seven o'clock train this morning for Rigaud, in the county of Vaudreuil, to attend a political picnic organized by the Nationalists of that county. It is stated that this picnic is organized in view of a new election which will have to be held, as Dr. Lalonde intends resigning, his return being contested. He will run for the Upper House and Mr. de La Durantaye for the Quebec House.

Saved Her Life.

Constable Alfred McKeown yesterday morning saved the life of a woman employed as a cook on the steamer "Prince of Wales." The tide had moved the boat away from the wharf, thus making the support of the gangplank insecure, and as she crossed it slid into the water, taking the woman along. She lost her satchel, parasol and purse, but, thanks to McKeown's prompt action, was taken out little the worse for her involuntary bath.

A Discovery.

L'Electeur finds a similarity between the execution of Major Panitza at Sofia, in Bulgaria, and Louis Riel, at Regina. Both, it says, have disgraced the century, and it remarks that Ferdinand de Cobourg has played an odious part in executing a prisoner and a brave officer for a political offence.

The Diamond Market.

The Epoch, of New York, publishes an interview with a representative of Tiffany & Co., in course of which it is stated that "there has been a marked advance in the price of diamonds in the last four months. Diamonds in the rough have, during that time, advanced 40 to 50 per cent. The London syndicate, which is said to include the Rothschilds, has control of almost all the diamond mines, but if every one would do as Tiffany & Co. do, that is, refrain from buying, it could not possibly keep prices up. We have not advanced the price of our diamonds, because we have not been in the market for them since the recent rise, so that any one coming to us now gets the advantage of the old price." The representative said that diamonds and rubies were still the favorite precious stones with ladies, and more especially rubies. In the last few years emeralds had been becoming quite popular, and they were selling a good many of them. One of the hard and fast rules in the Tiffany establishment is that no box bearing the name of the firm shall be taken from the building except with an article which had been sold by them, and for which they were responsible. Therefore, when any one receives a Tiffany box she may be sure she is getting a Tiffany gift.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED PEOPLE HOMELESS.

An Entire Town Destroyed—Details from Wallace, Idaho.

SPOKANE FALLS, Washn., July 28.—An official of the Union Pacific Railroad Company has received a despatch that the entire town of Wallace, Idaho, was destroyed by fire last night, with the exception of the depots of the Union Pacific and the Northern Pacific Railroads. The fire started in the Central Hotel and burned north and east over the entire business part of the town. The following leading business houses have been burned: Holly, Mason, Marks & Co., the Post-Office building, the Heller House, White and Bender's general store, McElroy & Vedder, Nab & Rivers, the Telephone Exchange, Joseph Carlso, J. C. McCudy, the Carter House, Club Theatre, a score of saloons, restaurants, offices, etc. Fifteen hundred people are homeless. The town of Wallace is situated one hundred miles south-east of Spokane Falls, and was, probably, the most flourishing mining town in the North-West.

COMMERCIAL.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT, July 28.

Cargoes off coast, wheat strong; corn nil. Cargoes on passage and for shipment, wheat strong, corn turn dearer. French country markets firm. Liverpool wheat spot, firm; corn in strong demand and considerable business done. Liverpool standard California wheat 7s 5½d to 7s 2½d. Liverpool mixed maize 4s ½d. Canadian peas 5s 7d. Indian shipments of wheat to the United Kingdom, 80,000 quarters, to the Continent, nil. Mark Lane English and foreign wheat turn dearer. Do American and Danubian maize strong. Do English and American flour, firm. Danubian maize, ex-ship, 19s 6d; prompt, 18s 3d. Do. American mixed maize, ex-ship, 19s. Minneapolis straight flour 25s. The Liverpool public cable says: Wheat firm, demand poor, holders offer sparingly. Corn strong, demand fair.

LOCAL GRAIN.—Owing to the continued strong advices from abroad and the steady advance in prices in the West there is a decidedly better feeling in this market, and no doubt considerable business would be done if the offerings were larger, but as they are small of both wheat and peas few sales have been effected consequently prices are nominally unchanged. The Chicago wheat market opened stronger and ⅜c higher at 94⅛c September and later jumped 1c to 95⅛c. Corn opened up strong and excited at an advance of 2⅛c at 45⅛c September. The stock of grain in store shows a decrease of 49,057 bushels wheat, 54,660 corn, 16,765 oats and an increase of 11,054 peas as compared with week ago, and a decrease of 336,710 bushels wheat, an increase of 32,381 corn, 91,036 peas, and 58,469 oats as compared with the same week last year. We quote: Wheat, No. 1 hard Manitoba, $1 19 to $1 20; No. 2 hard, $1 17 to $1 18; corn, duty paid 53 to 55c; oats, 42 to 43c; do, L.C., 40 to 41c; peas, 76 to 78c per 66 pounds afloat; barley, 45 to 50c; rye, 54c.

FLOUR.—There has been a firmer tone to the flour market during the past few days and prices have an upward tendency which is no doubt due to the strong western wheat markets and the more favorable advices from abroad. The demand from local buyers has improved some and a more active business has been transacted in small lots, but we do not hear of any large transactions. The stock of low grade flour held here is large and until such is worked off to some extent the prospects for an advance in prices is poor. At present Montreal is the cheapest flour market, prices being below those of any other market. The stock of flour shows a decrease of 3119 barrels compared with a week ago and a decrease of 5284 barrels, as compared with the same date last year. We quote: Patent winter, $5 15 to 5 25; do. spring, $5 25 to 5 50; straight roller, $4 75 to 4 90; extra, $4 35 to 4 50; superfine, $3 25 to 3 75; city strong bakers, $5 15 to 5 25; strong bakers $5 15 to 5 25; strong bakers' bags, $2 30 to 2 40; superfine bags, $1 50 to $2; extra bags, $2 to 2 10. Oatmeal, per bag, standard, $2 25 to 2 30; granulated, $2 50; oats, $2 50.

LOCAL PROVISIONS.—There has been no change in the local provision market, business having continued fair under a good demand from local and country buyers for small lots. The feeling is firm and prices are unchanged. We quote: Canadian short cut pork, $17 50 to $18 per barrel; Armour's and Morgan's short cut, $16 50 to $17; do. mess, $16; Canadian lard, $1 65 to 1 70 per pail; Ham 13 to 13½c; bacon, 10c to 12c, and tallow, 4½ to 5c.

EGGS.—Since our last the tone of the egg market has continued strong, and we have to note a further advance of ½c per dozen. The receipts have been fair, for which the demand is good, and the market has ruled active, with a good business doing at 15 to 16c per dozen.

ASHES.—In ashes business has continued quiet on account of the small receipts, and the market has ruled quiet but firm with no change in prices. We quote first pots $4 10 and second do $3 65 per 100 lbs.

BEANS.—Late advices from the country on the bean crop have not been so favorable as those received a week ago, in fact, in some sections they say the prospects are poor, in consequence of which the tone of the market is firm and prices are sustained. The demand continues fair for small lots at $1.60 to $1.85 and old stock at $1.50 to 1.60.

HOPS.—On spot business in hops has been quiet and of a small jobbing character. Latest advices from Ontario on the growing crop are favorable and a fair yield is expected. Owing to the continued strong advices from the foreign and American markets the tone of the market here is firm and prices are well maintained. We quote: Choice Canadian, 17 to 19c per lb, fair to good, 13 to 16c, and old stock, 5 to 10c.

BUTTER.—The situation of the butter market was unchanged. The demand was slow from both local and export buyers and business rules dull and of a small jobbing character. The receipts have been liberal, in consequence of which stocks have accumulated to some extent and prices are easy. Sales of some small lots of creamery are reported at 16 to 17c, and Townships at 13c. Messrs. Hodgson Bros., of Liverpool, write as follows: "This article remains unchanged, stale lots being almost unsaleable, and offered at 30s to 40s. Choice fresh landed parcels meet with a quiet demand at 70s. to 75s. per cwt. We quote Irish butter; Cork, firsts, 73s; seconds, 69s; thirds, 64s.; fourths, 50s per cwt." We quote: Creamery, 16 to 18c; Townships choice to finest, 15 to 16c; fair to good, 13 to 14c; Morrisburg and Brockville, good to finest, 14 to 15c; Western choice to finest, 12 to 14c.

CHEESE.—The steady tone already noted to the cheese market continues, which is due, no doubt, to stronger advices from abroad and the country. The indications are that prices have touched bottom for the present. On spot business has been quiet, and we do not hear of any large sales. The Liverpool public cable was strong and 1s 6d higher at 42s 6d. At Ogdensburg on Saturday twenty-nine hundred and fifty offered. Sales were: 330 at 7¾c, 1177 at 8 1-16c, 270 at 8⅛c, 733 at 8 3-16c. Market brisk, seventeen buyers present. At Canton twenty-four hundred cheese sold to-day at 8⅛c, and 2000 at 7¾ to 8c. At London twenty-seven factories offered 5735 boxes of July. Sales: 1160 at 8⅜c, 3475 at 8⅛c, 250 at 8⅜c, and 270 white at 8⅜c. A large attendance of both buyers and sellers. Market brisk. Messrs. Hodgson Bros. of Liverpool, write as follows: "There is little or no alteration to report this week; we have had a steady consumptive demand, though it has not been equal to the quantity that has arrived, consequently stocks are accumulating somewhat; last week's values have been pretty well sustained. We quote, today, finest colored at 43s per cwt., and finest white, 42s 6d per cwt. The demand for qualities just below choice has continued good at 34s to 39s, while low grades from 10s up to 25s have only been in small request."

JOTTINGS FROM QUEBEC.

"L'ELECTEUR'S" ERROR IN COUNTING.

Comments on the Montmorency Election—Accident to Mgr. Paquet—Contested Seats.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

QUEBEC, July 28.—L'Electeur declares that Mr. Prevost was Mr. Laurier's candidate in Montmorency, and not that of the Nationalists. The paper also says the Conservative victory in Montmorency was that of Sir A. P. Caron's faction over that of Sir Hector Langevin. The same paper admits it made a mistake when it predicted a sure majority of one hundred and thirty-eight, and very probably two hundred, for Mr Prevost. It says something happened after its forecast had been published.

Mgr. Paquet broke one of his arms at St. Joachim yesterday while playing baseball.

The preliminary enquiry into the Pelletier kidnapping case is now over. Judge Murray will again return to Ste. Anne to hear the pleas of the prisoners next Thursday.

Sir A. P. Caron was the recipient of a demonstration on Saturday afternoon as he was leaving for River du Loup. A large number of his friends met him at Levis, where bouquets were presented him, as well as Mr. Desjardins. Sir Adolphe, after expressing his thanks, said that the victory in Montmorency was that of the National Policy.

Le Canadien says that several Liberals of Ste. Anne, county Kamouraska, will be arrested at the demand of Conservatives who accused the former of misdemeanors, which will bring them into prison for several years.

Hon. Mr. Turcotte ridicules the idea that there are difficulties concerning the selection of an English-speaking minister. The Cabinet, he says, met in Montreal for routine business only.

The advices from the scene of the wreck of the Dominion line steamship "Idaho" on Anticosti are rather more assuring. The cattle were all got ashore at Shallop creek on Saturday afternoon and are in charge of cattlemen. The Department of Marine and Fisheries are sending fishery cruisers to protect the ship from possible pillage by vessels that navigate the waters in the vicinity of the wreck.

Saturday Owen Murphy, M. P. P. for Quebec West, was served with papers contesting his seat in the Legislature. M. A. Hearn is the petitioner in the case and Mr. P. B. Casgrain, M. P., appears for him. The contestant claims the seat and asks that Mr. Murphy be unseated and disqualified. The petitioner also complains of legal irregularities on the part of the returning officer, who counted one of the polls where no certificate of the vote was lodged in the ballot box, and that poll giving Mr. Murphy a majority. The elections in Champlain county and Three Rivers will also be contested. A telegram from Richmond states the election of Mr. Bedard for Richmond is to be contested. Hon. Henry Aylmer, the defeated Liberal candidate, is the petitioner.

MR. WIMAN'S REASONS

Why Canada Should Have a Representative at Washington.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, Ont., July 28.—The Globe to-day publishes a letter from Erastus Wiman, in which he argues strongly in favor of Canada sending a representative to Washington to coöperate with the British Minister. Mr. Wiman says: "The suggestion that Canada should have at Washington a representative is every day more and more necessary. The tremendous significance of the agricultural sections of the McKinley bill to Canada illustrate what are the possibilities for an active, intelligent agent of the Dominion in that place. For instance, the whole movement, as against barley, might have been shaped and modified had there been a proper representation at the early inception of the bill. As it is, it is left to drift along without any organization, and the politically controlled interests, which the brewers represent, are in no way centralized or made effective. One circumstance will emphasize better than anything the possibilities for the usefulness of an agent. It so happened that, in the discussion of the new tariff in the Committee of Ways and Means when lumber was reached, Mr. McKinley expressed a willingness to put it on the free list provided the Canadian Government would consent to the abolition of the export duty on logs. A friend of Canada, who was at that time in Washington, took the trouble to telegraph a long message to Sir John Macdonald, requesting an assent to that proposition, but no answer was received. Had there been an active, energetic agent with whom communication could have been had, as between the Ways and Means Committee and the Government of Canada, and who could have insisted upon an answer, free lumber would have been afforded to Canada."

TORONTO TOPICS.

Toronto's Belt Line—The "Globe" on the Montmorency Contest.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, July 28.—The Ontario Government have granted permission to the Belt Line Railway, a new enterprise, being built in a half-circle round this city, to skirt Mount Pleasant Cemetery, one of the principal burying-places in the city. The cemetery people will take the matter into the Courts.

The Globe, referring to the Montmorency election, says: The election of Mr. Desjardins in Montmorency means the loss of a seat to the Opposition and the gain of one by the Government. This fact there is no gainsaying. It may be well to point out, however, that the position of the Liberal candidate in the constituency was misrepresented in an important matter. It was said that Mr. Turcotte had been thrust aside by Mr. Laurier because he was a Liberal, and Mr. Prevost placed in the field because he was a Nationalist. The fact is, Mr. Prevost is, and always has been, a Liberal of the old school. He is the brother-in-law of Mr. Turcotte, and was selected with the cordial approval of Mr. Turcotte; because it was thought he was the stronger man of the two. The ministerial press is sure to say that the farmers of Montmorency have no faith in unrestricted reciprocity. It is tolerably clear, however, that the arguments to which they succumbed were not related in any way to the trade question.

Mr. Barnett A. Elzas, of London, England, has succeeded Rabbi Phillips at the Richmond synagogue in this city.

A little boy, named Taylor, of Detroit, about eight years of age, visiting at his grandfather's near Barnsdale, below St. Catharines, was playing with a little girl, the nine-year-old daughter of W. J. White, when he became possessed of a loaded gun, which in some manner went off, the charge taking effect in the girl's neck, causing her death almost immediately. Eddie, the boy, is too young to realize the gravity of his action.

AUTOMATIC brakes and couplers are to be introduced on all railways in the United States under Government control, should the bill now before Congress to that effect be passed. Why not, in the cause of humanity, extend the operation of the bill to all and every railway whatsoever?

IT is very refreshing these warm days to come across a paragraph in Mr. Pacaud's paper, L'Electeur, recommending a certain candidate "because he will vote in Parliament to re-establish honesty in administration and to put an end to all those extravagances and scandals that every session brings to light." As we read this a pleasing refrigeration seems to diffuse itself through the atmosphere, suggesting the invisible presence of some very cool object. It was a cool ten thousand if we remember rightly that Mr. Pacaud took from Mr. Whelan.

MANITOBA Icelanders have decided to hold a grand demonstration at Winnipeg on August 2nd, in honor of the one thousandth and first anniversary of the settlement of Iceland. This celebration will be remarkable from the fact that it has taken these people a thousand years to find out that they settled in the wrong place. A celebration in honor of their settlement in Canada will be in order by-and-bye.

SALVADOR has a population of 651,130, while Gautemala numbers 1,225,000. The conditions of the conflict in which they are engaged are, therefore, very unequal. The worst of this war is, apart from its folly and ferocity, that it destroys the hope of uniting the Central American republics in one federation. Indeed the pretext for the war was that Gautemala was endeavoring to coerce Salvador into surrendering her legislative independence, because Gautemala took the lead in the movement for establishing the United States of Central America. The fear that the neighboring republics will be drawn into the fray appears well founded, as the people seem to like nothing better than fighting.

THE American orator who claimed in a 4th of July speech at Honolulu that the control of the Pacific Ocean would be divided between the United States and the Australian republic, that is to be, forgot something. He forgot the share this Dominion is taking and must take in any such control. There is, it will be readily admitted, a community of blood, language, religion and civilization between the United States, Canada and Australia, which must tend to unite them in any contest with Asiatic powers for the control of the Pacific. The contention that China, Japan, Russia and the European powers will be excluded, not so much by force as by the laws of ethnology, has good reason on its side. In reality it means that the colonists of Great Britain will be stronger on the ocean where East and West meet than any of the nations. If so, the Pacific will earn a new title to its designation, for the colonists of England are men who preserve the peace.

A NATIONAL bankruptcy bill has passed the House of Representatives at Washington and will probably become law. In its general features it resembles the Dominion Bankruptcy Act passed during Mr. Mackenzie's time. Under its provisions any person may become a voluntary bankrupt who owes debts to the amount of five hundred dollars. This, however, does not apply to national banks or municipal corporations. The same amount is the minimum for involuntary bankruptcy, and the additional exceptions are farmers, charitable or religious societies or wage workers. The bill was prepared by the president of the association for the enactment of a national bankruptcy law, and is presumed to be satisfactory to the business sentiment of the country. November 1st next is the time fixed for it to go into operation, but if it pleases the agricultural class as little as the like legislation pleased the farmers of Canada, it will not remain long on the statute book.

IT is not astonishing that the French press should wax indignant over the terms of the settlement made by Great Britain and Germany concerning Africa. As the French editors interpret those terms, it appears that the whole of Africa, from the Niger to Zanzibar, will belong to England. This will cut the French off from pursuing their trans-Saharan conquests from Algiers and Tunis in the direction of Senegal and the Congo for the purpose of uniting those possessions. The Egyptian Soudan also falls to England, which is another cause of bitter objection in France, as it would seriously affect French interests in Egypt. This is, perhaps, the most important point in the agreement, and the one wherein Lord Salisbury has scored his greatest diplomatic success. To render British interests dominant and permanent in Egypt it was necessary to have the consent and good will of Germany and Italy. These secured, England would calmly ignore the objections of the French. By granting Germany and Italy all they could possibly claim with show of reason, these objects were secured. As was anticipated, France protests against the agreement, but too late. When her statesmen undertook to thwart English policy in Africa at the bidding of Russia, they invited just such a diplomatic reprisal as Lord Salisbury has inflicted on them. The wedge of British power has thus been driven through the heart of Africa. It includes the entire basin of the Upper Nile, amounting to one-sixth of the total area of the continent. Only a faint idea of what this may mean in the future of Africa can as yet be formed, but it is clear that the most desirable region and the natural highway of the interior trade of equatorial Africa now belong to England. Quite possibly France will meet the new arrangement by declaring her "sphere of influence," which may include the greater portion of north-western Africa. To this England would not be likely to object, since her grand purpose has been gained with reference to Egypt, Zanzibar and the Upper Nile.

IF all the alleged facts contained in Senator Hoar's report on the relations between the United States and Canada are as accurate as the statements concerning military and naval works in British Columbia, their usefulness will be very doubtful. Referring to the report that such works were to be constructed at points in British Columbia, the Victoria Colonist says there is not the faintest indication of anything of the kind. As a matter of fact, both the Imperial and Dominion Governments are very careful not to spend one single dollar in the province more than is absolutely necessary. They maintain the different services at the smallest possible expense, and as to beginning work that would cost millions to complete, there is no sign that either Government has any such intention. If, as the Hoar report says, Puget Sound and many California ports are entirely at the mercy of the British fleet, the ports of British Columbia are equally defenceless against an American or Russian fleet. When the British fleet is in British Columbian waters the coast of the province is well protected, but when it is away it has no defence. Whether it is wise, as the Colonist observes, to have the dockyard at Esquimalt and the coaling station at Nanaimo and Departure Bay—positions of first class importance to England in the Pacific—in this defenceless condition, is a question for British statesmen to decide. It thus appears that the warlike provisions of the United States and Canada on the Pacific coast are in the same neglected condition that they always were.

CITY AND COUNTRY.

A fact of great importance brought out by the census just taken in the United States is the coincidence of decrease of the rural population in many sections of the country, and the great increase in the population of the cities. It has also been shown that while, as a general thing, the productiveness of farm lands in some states has doubled and their value trebled in ten years, the number of people living on them has decreased. Another fact ascertained is that farm holdings are constantly increasing in size in the middle and western states. Concerning these changes it is stated by an Indiana paper that there are scores of farmers who each own a section and more of highly cultivated land, which formerly supported a colony, but is now cultivated by a single family with hired help. Improved farming machinery, stumpless fields and better drainage, railroads and convenience to markets, reduce expenses and increase production. Thus the number of great farms is ever increasing. Considered in the light of these facts, the concentration of population in cities appears to be a normal movement. The old system of farm life has passed and is passing away all over the continent. In farming, as in manufacturing, capital and machinery are replacing the old laborious methods. Another peculiarity noted in the change that has come over American farm life is the number of men who have made fortunes in cities and who carry on farming as a delightful recreation. Men who left the farm for the city in their youth, return to it in their maturity, and find in raising grain, fruits, horses and cattle, just the sort of relief from the cares of city life which they need. Young men and young women desert the country for the city because their fathers, and especially their mothers, lead a life of drudgery and privation that no mechanic in the city would undergo. To them the prosy, stunted, isolated life of the farm on the old plan is no longer endurable. And no city workingman will go on a farm unless he can carry city comforts with him. Those who have made money and can have a farm home as well as a city home are increasing in number. It is therefore probable that the future will witness a general extension of this two-fold way of living made attainable through the increasing facilities of railway transportation. Another indication of this evolutionary process is to be seen in the efforts made by societies of workingmen in some of the larger cities to secure tracts of land in the country for summer homes for their families. Thus spreading far around the cities there is growing up a new sort of half city, half country population, which combines in its existence the advantages of both city and country. Thus it would appear that the inward tide towards the cities has its compensations, and the facts here noted may furnish a happy key to the social problems which now loom portentously, in the imagination of many, over the great cities of these latter days.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Amusements on That Day Condemned by "La Semaine Religieuse."

The observance of the Sabbath is made the subject of special attention by La Semaine Religieuse, the official organ of Mgr. Fabre. It says: "The religious observance of Sunday is not a subject upon which opinions can be divided; to be guided in this matter the faithful have but to follow the clearly-defined and precise rules of the Church. By natural right, we are bound to give up a certain amount of our time to the public worship of God; one day per week, such was the limit fixed at the beginning; in the ancient law that day was known as the Sabbath; the Church has chosen the first and has given it the name of Sunday or the Lord's Day." The faithful are then told that on that day they must attend religious services and abstain from all servile works. Then as to recreation it remarks: "But as to this excess, which is none the less to be condemned, and which is much to be feared, since it is the very destruction of the Sabbath, never can we permit on such a day the organization of pleasure excursions, entertainments more or less moral, circuses, balls, in fact all those things invented by the love of the filthy lucre or by the demon of dissipation; in the midst of a rambling crowd the children elude the surveillance of the parents, and intemperance has full sway; and, unfortunately, the father, along with his son, often spends a week's salary in an hour. All this is opposed to the Catholic instinct of the observance of the Sabbath." In short, the organ condemns amusements of all kinds on Sundays.

A Series of Small Fires.

A number of small fires kept the men going more or less all day yesterday and Saturday night. It began on Saturday evening, when some rubbish got on fire on Hermine street, followed by a false alarm from box 74. A smoking chimney in Vitre street, and another in St. Charles Borromee street about two a. m. opened the series of runs on Sunday, and were followed by the burning of some sheds belonging to Daniel Supple, a carter, of 176 Murray street, at five in the morning and a blaze in C. Smith's restaurant at 107 Windsor street, which did considerable damage.

Wish to Take Advantage of the Good Weather.

The proprietors of Notre Dame street west are petitioning the city, notwithstanding the fact that the money under the expropriation proceedings will not be paid into court until August 22, that the property taken may be sold and pulled down forthwith in order that the good weather may be taken advantage of by them for rebuilding.

EUROPEAN POLITICS.

LONDON, July 27.—The Standard's correspondent at Sofia says: "The English ambassador, W. A. White, arrived at Constantinople at an opportune moment to stiffen the Porte's resolution to resist the demand of the Russia note. If Turkey had yielded to Russia's menace a continuance of peace would have been impossible.

BERLIN, July 27.—The North German Gazette says: The journey of Emperor William to Russia has given rise to baseless rumors. Nothing more is expected from the meeting with the Czar than that a friendly interchange of ideas may do away with existing difficulties and secure peaceable relations between Germany and Russia.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—The schooner "Dashing Wave" arrived here to-day from Sand Point, Alaska, bringing news of the sealing fleet. The vessels have all done well, having caught from 600 to 1200 seals each. The rendezvous for the fleet this year was at Konishi Island instead of Sandy Point. The sealers, seventeen in number, have left for Behring Sea. The British schooner "Lily" did not appear and fears are entertained for her safety. The revenue cutter "Richard Rush" arrived at Sandy Point on July 10 and left two days later for Ounalaska.

REVOLT IN ARGENTINE.

The Government Overthrown and a Provisional One Set Up—Fighting and Killing Going On.

BUENOS AYRES, July 26.—Noon—A revolution broke out here this morning. The troops in the garrison rebelled, and firing is now going on. All the shops are closed, and fighting is now taking place in the streets. Senor Garcia, Minister of Finance, is held a prisoner by the revolutionists.

1.50 p. m.—Desperate fighting is now going on. Many have been killed on both sides. The insurgents are advancing towards the Plaza de la Victoria, where the palace and the town hall are. The President has escaped to Rosario.

The losses on both sides were heavy. Many buildings were destroyed. The navy remains neutral.

1.30 p. m.—Another battalion of troops with arms and baggage has joined the insurgents. The populace support the revolution, which has extended to the provinces. The authorities are negotiating with the insurgents.

FURTHER DETAILS OF THE REVOLT.

LONDON, July 28.—A despatch to the Times from Buenos Ayres says: "Early on Saturday, the artillery, joined by some civilians, took the first steps to overthrow the Government. The troops and the police participated. Firing was opened at Palermo and soon extended to the Plaza Lavalle. The infantry and artillery with mitrailleuses kept up a heavy firing all the morning. The police fired at and dispersed a crowd around the Government house, but the people kept firing from houses. A determined group of forty men stood pluckily to their arms in front of the Government house, while the roar of the artillery and the roll of the musketry came nearer and nearer. A policeman in mere wantonness split an Englishman's head open with his sabre and a by-stander shot the policeman down. Then, after noon, the revolutionary government issued its first decree. This ordered the mobilization of the National Guard and appointed Nicolas Lenalez chief of police. At five o'clock on Saturday afternoon two attacks were made by the Government troops on citizen battalions. The troops were repulsed both times. Policemen and artillerymen are lying dead in heaps. The chief of police, Captain De Nila, is wounded. The Minister of War is reported killed. Sharp fighting continues around the artillery barracks." Here the cable despatch to the Times abruptly closes.

CENTRAL AMERICA'S TROUBLES.

Contradictory Reports — Dissatisfaction Among Guatemalan Soldiers.

RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N. Y., July 27.—A cypher despatch received here to-day by an official of the Guatemalan Government says Guatemala accepts the war provoked by San Salvador, and will continue it until San Salvador elects a legitimate president in place of Ezeta. The battle fought on July 23, the despatch recites, resulted in the rout of the San Salvadorians, but as Salvador commands the cable to Central America, the Government only allows despatches favorable to itself to be sent abroad. The telegram further asserts that the arms taken from the steamer "Colima" were taken with the consent of the Pacific Mail agent and the American minister, by virtue of article seventeen of the Pacific mail contract. Honduras, the despatch says, will remain neutral for the present, but may join with Guatemala if events require her. Guatemala has forty thousand men under arms, and Honduras six thousand, while San Salvador has only about ten thousand.

GUATEMALAN FORCES.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 27.—The Spanish minister here says two Spanish war ships have been ordered to Central America. A large amount of counterfeit silver is in circulation here. Several revolutionary bands are marauding near the Mexican frontier in Guatemalan territory. Both Guatemala and San Salvador are trying to mass troops with the utmost haste, but Guatemala finds difficulty in the dissatisfaction of her soldiers. Guatemalan despatches claim that the Guatemalan forces so greatly outnumber the Salvadorians that in the present week the tables will be turned.

COMMUNICATION UNRELIABLE.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—A telegram has been received at the State department from United States Minister Misener at Guatemala, saying that consternation prevails at that place over rumors that the Government troops had been defeated in an engagement with the Salvadorian army. The minister's telegram gives evidence that he has not received the department's instructions in regard to the case of the steamship "Colima," and steps will be taken to discover the cause of the delay.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 27. — Senor Romero, Mexican minister at Washington, passed through here yesterday, en route to the City of Mexico. Senor Romero said the Central American war is a very bad thing, and the rupture had progressed to where arbitration was absolutely out of the question.

SERIOUS FIRE AT COTE ST. ANTOINE.

The Fire Spreads to Several Stores Before the Arrival of the City Apparatus.

A serious fire took place at Cote St. Antoine this morning. About half-past seven smoke was noticed issuing from the stable in rear of R. D. Anglin's butcher and green grocery store, 150 and 152 Green avenue, near the corner of St. Catherine street. An alarm was at once sent to the city, but by the time the apparatus arrived Anglin's store was in flames and the fire had spread to Walter Paul's branch grocery, 3019, 3021, 3023 St. Catherine street. The apparatus sent from the city included two steam engines and four reels, and soon after their arrival several good streams of water were playing on the flames. The fire had such a start, however, that by nine o'clock it had spread to W. H. Chapman's drug store. The flames were blown right across Greene avenue and set fire to the wooden building occupied as a hardware store.

By ten o'clock John Hall's feed store, adjoining Walter Paul's grocery, had been destroyed, and the fire had spread northwards from Anglin's store to John Smith's butcher shop, which was also totally destroyed. Across Greene avenue Alexander Sigouins hardware store was completely destroyed, and the flames had spread westwards to a tenement house, in which the only occupant was Mr. John Phillips. At the time of writing this house was still burning, but the fire was apparently under control. The loss up to the present, 11 a. m., is estimated, at $40,000.

DEMOLITION.

A CYCLONE IN NEW ENGLAND.

South Lawrence Suffers Heavily in Life and Property—Eight Persons Killed—Details of the Disaster.

LAWRENCE, Mass., July 26.—A cyclone, the first of any considerable importance within memory in New England, and one equalling in destructive power those so frequently reported from Western communities, visited the suburb of South Lawrence this forenoon at about 9.15 o'clock, and in fifteen minutes had killed eight persons, seriously injured from fifteen to twenty, slightly injured at least twenty more, cut a swath through a thickly populated section twenty-six feet wide and a mile long, rendered five hundred people homeless, destroyed or greatly damaged from seventy-five to one hundred buildings, mostly dwelling houses, levelled a beautiful square of over five hundred trees, and entailed a property loss now estimated at $100,000, all of which was uninsured against damage by wind and storm. South Lawrence is that section of the city

LYING SOUTH OF THE MERRIMAC RIVER.

At this point the main line of the Boston & Maine railroad takes a sharp turn to the eastward, and following the Merrimac crosses the river at Bradford. A railroad bridge connects the suburb with the city proper and with the railroad lines north. The point is a busy railroad junction, and in the vicinity were many wooden houses occupied by well-to-do mechanics, and amongst these the air fiend spent its fury. The northern boundary of the belt of destruction is but three streets south of the lofty mills with their busy throngs of thousands of workers, showing how narrow was the escape from more appalling loss of life and property. It was a veritable dog day. The air was hot and humid. Dark clouds scurried westerly through the heavens with intermittent rain. Suddenly the wind veered to the west, an inky black, cone-like cloud seemed to drop from the cumulous mass hanging to the southwest and move rapidly with awful aspect toward the city. It was accompanied by torrents of rain. In an instant the crash came. Buildings

WERE CRUSHED LIKE EGG-SHELLS.

Some were lifted from their foundations and dashed to pieces. Others were tipped over or blown from their position and more or less damaged. The air was filled with flying debris. Most of those who met death in the wreck were killed instantly, but many lay unconscious or groaning in the ruins of their homes. The survivors were too much terrified to know where or when the cyclone ended its course, but the train of ruin in the path showed that it touched the earth at or near the cricket grounds, crossed Emmett street, Broadway, the railroad and Parkers street, entered Springfield street at its southwest end, traversed its entire length, demolished everything in its course, including one house in Foster street and two on South Union street, where they cross Springfield street, passed from Springfield street into Union square, levelling over five hundred trees, and into the town of Andover, where it spent its fury on trees and fences. The work of devastation began at the cricket grounds, on the southwest, with the uprooting of a number of magnificent trees. On Emmett street the wind lifted a story and a half house, belonging to Thomas Evans, bodily, and slapped it into the roadway a complete wreck. Mr. Evans, his wife and his baby were in the house at the time, but escaped without great injury. The house, No. 19 Emmett street, occupied by a family named Daly, was lifted from its foundation and dashed down. No. 6 was partly moved from its foundation. In the rear of No. 6 was a story and a half house occupied by James Lyons and family. Hearing the approach of the storm, Lyons rushed into the house, seized his baby from his wife's arms and fled to the street. Both man and child escaped, but the dead body of Mrs. Lyons was subsequently taken from the ruins of her dwelling. On Saunders' court near by, St. Patrick's Church hall, a wooden structure, was

CARRIED FIFTEEN FEET

from its foundation and a few windows were broken. At the foot of Saunders street, the house in which Michael Higgins, a section hand, was standing, was taken up bodily and carried under the overhead railroad bridge crossing Salem street, where Higgins fell out and was instantly killed. The railing on this bridge was taken off as though cut with a knife. The granite sheds near the bridge were demolished. The house of Wm. F. Cutler, foreman of the Boston and Maine Car shops, was next demolished. F. S. Carr, chief clerk in the car shops, was an eye-witness of the storm at this point. He says there was a sudden rumbling sound and darkness. Timbers and trees flew by the car shops at a terrible rate. When these had passed he and other occupants of the shops saw that the Cutler residence was in ruins and summoning help they began at once to search the ruins. Miss Flossie Cutler was found in the cellar with a sprained ankle. Mrs. Cutler was found in the ruins slightly hurt. Little Helen Cutler was crossing the Salem street bridge at the time within a stone's throw of her home, and was buried and ruins. She was found by men from the carshop on their way to the ruins and dug out, but has since died from concussion of the brain. The cyclone now entered Springfield street, where the greatest devastation was wrought. Following is a summary of the damage on this and other streets: Nos. 1, 2, 16 and 18 were demolished; No. 23, occupied by Hugh A. Merriman, boss painter in the Pemberton mills, was totally wrecked. Mr. Merriman, his wife and six children, were taken from the ruins all badly shaken up, cut and bruised. Hugh Merriman, eight years old, had his shoulder dislocated. No. 27 was smashed in. No. 31, occupied by Jeremiah O'Connell, was completely demolished. When the building fell, Mr. O'Connell, his wife and daughter, Mamie, were carried down with it. Mr. O'Connell was the first to be extricated, suffering severe internal injuries. His wife and daughter were removed from the ruins after over two hours' hard work, but both were dead. Mamie's neck was dislocated. Little Hannah Beaty, who lived in an upper tenement,

BENEATH A PILE OF LUMBER

WAS ALSO KILLED HERE.

No. 37, John Lynch's store, was demolished and the house wrecked. No. 36, John Costello's; 32, Raymond and Archibald McCauley; 34, A. Patterson, were damaged. No. 53, occupied by six families, were badly wrecked. Maria Quinn, the twelve year old daughter of Patrick Quinn, was severely injured and is dying. The following were badly damaged; No. 47, barber shop; 53, three tenement houses; No. 59, occupied by three families, Mrs. Jas. Brennan being severely injured; 64, Louis Benoit; 63 to 69, a four tenement block; 77, a tenement owned by Mrs. Kate Flynn and occupied by four families was destroyed. Patrick Ryan was injured in the head. Mrs. Flynn was taken out with a broken collar bone and her face badly mutilated. Nos. 82 to 101, connecting cottages, were partly unroofed; No. 99, Mr. Gray, and 101, Jos. McDade, were badly wrecked; Nos. 88, 90, four tenements, were lifted from their foundations and

TWISTED OUT OF PLACE.

The eight-year-old son of Thomas Mack, in one of the four tenements, was in one of the outhouses. The cyclone carried the outhouse into the air, turned it upside down and landed it forty feet away with the boy inside uninjured. No. 105, J. P. Furnside, was smashed in and Mrs. Furnside badly injured. Nos. 107 and 109, tenanted by Michael Birmingham, owned by Dr. R. M. Birmingham, were lifted from their foundations, turned completely over and wrecked. On Portland street Carroll and Casey's lumber yard was blown to atoms. The gate keeper at the crossing was lifted from his cabin and carried some distance. He was for some time unconscious and delirious. No. 16, occupied below by Wm. Collins, was lifted from its foundation and the upper part came crashing through the ceiling of the lower one where sat Mrs. Collins and three little children. For a moment heartrending shrieks came from the heap of rubbish, then all was still. Mrs. Collins was taken out dead and so were the children. It was a pitiable sight. The father was too excited to speak, and

TOO HEART BROKEN TO CRY.

The wind continued in the direction of Springfield street northeastward through Union square, breaking and twisting trees in every conceivable shape. Large oaks and elms were mere pipe stems in the path of the destroyer. It is believed that from 500 to 1000 trees were destroyed in and about the park. On Cranshaw Square the house occupied by Walter F. Rushford was shaken, the windows [illegible] and everything inside thrown [illegible] over one house was unroofed and a plank forty feet long was landed in Sultan's mill yard, having been carried from Lawrence. The occupants of most of the ruined houses were hard working laborers, whose houses were the fruit of a lifetime of toil. The engineer of the 8.30 express from Boston saw the cyclone as he was nearing South Lawrence, and with great forethought stopped the train and thus probably saved the lives of the passengers. A slight fire broke out in one of the demolished houses, but was quickly put out.

NAMES OF THE KILLED.

Following is the list of the dead, seven of whom were killed instantly and one died in the afternoon:

Michael Higgins, aged 35; Mrs. Mary O'Connell, aged 34; Miss Mary O'Connell, aged 17; Miss Elizabeth Collins, Annie Collins, aged 6; Hannah Beatty, aged 9; Mrs. Mary Lyons, Helen Cutler, blown from the railroad bridge, died in the afternoon. A. Hart is at the hospital and it is thought he will die. Three injured were carried to the hospital while the others were cared for by friends, their injuries being slight.

AN ONTARIO STORM.

ROSEMONT, Ont., July 26.—A severe thunder storm passed over this town about one o'clock yesterday, accompanied by hail, and for a radius of about two miles grain, fruit trees and vegetables were badly damaged. The windows of the west side of the streets were completely broken by the hail stones.

EMBRO, Ont., July 26.—One of the worst hail storms ever seen in this district took place yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. Shortly after noon the clouds began to gather, indicating an approaching storm, which burst in all its fury over a tract of country about two miles in width and several miles in length. Immense oat fields, with which this locality abounds, are literally stripped, and other grains in like manner. Garden stuff was cut down by the wholesale, hundreds of lights of glass were smashed and trees were blown down by the force of the storm which only lasted a few minutes. But so terrible was the downfall of hail that it could be scooped up by the waggon load, and was so thick on the ground that to-day it could be gathered in quantities. The loss sustained by the farming community is very great and will be seriously felt by them.

Coroner's Inquests.

On Saturday Coroner Jones held an inquest on the body of an unknown child, about eleven years old, which had been found in the river dead. A verdict of "Found drowned without marks of violence" was returned. In another inquest on the body of Mary Morey, wife of Martin Evans, a verdict of "Lesion of the heart from the excessive use of intoxicating liquor" was returned. The Coroner also commenced an inquest on the body of Samuel Faille, who died at Notre Dame Hospital on Friday from the injuries received two weeks ago by being struck by a carter named Perrault. Nothing was done beyond the viewing of the body, but Drs. Brosseau and Harwood were instructed to hold an autopsy and report this evening.

Account Taxed.

Mr. Riddell's account of $1225 as liquidator to the firm of F. Stafford has been taxed by the court at $1077.24. Costs of application were allowed in addition.

BEHRING SEA FEEDING GROUNDS.

A Discovery Which Explains Why Canadians Insist on Sealing Rights Now.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28.—A curious point is suggested by Captain Bonnet, who during the Cleveland Administration was at the head of the Revenue Marine service of the United States, which may have had some bearing upon one of Mr. Blaine's unanswered conundrums. Captain Bonnet suggests that the explanation of the condition of things, which seems to puzzle Mr. Blaine, may be in the fact that it is only since 1886 that an official knowledge has been obtained of the habits of the seals in Behring Sea to make their capture in transit to the islands from their feeding grounds so profitable an undertaking as it is now. It is only within the last six years that it has been discovered that there are certain shoals, about sixty miles from land, to which the seals resort in vast numbers at the close of the breeding season, and gorge themselves to satiety on the fish which exist there in inexhaustible quantities. Their capture here is an easy matter; in fact, they are frequently taken by hand as they lie asleep on the surface of the water. Vessels sometimes spread out gill nets and gather them in by the thousand. Before this peculiarity in the habits of the seal was discovered, Capt. Bonnet says, it was not a particularly profitable thing to devote a voyage entirely to seal fishing. The industry is now so enormously profitable that the profits of one trip will fit out five or six vessels for the next trip. This, perhaps, explains the Canadian anxiety to have the open sea fisheries continued.

REMARKS ON NATIONAL PRIDE.

KINGSTON, Ont., July 28.—Rev. Principal Grant preached to a large congregation in St. Andrew's Church last evening. The text was taken from Ezekiel, xvi, 49. The reverend gentleman pointed out that the sins laid to the charge of Sodom were "Pride, fulness of bread and abundance of idleness," etc. He said: "We are apt to be proud about things over which we have had no control in creating, but which were solely the gifts of God. A nation that allowed this arrogance of spirit to take possession of it was doomed." He was reminded of the words recently reported as uttered by an American governor on the subject of the Behring Sea difficulties. These were in effect: "We admit that we have transgressed international law; that we have inflicted loss and inconvenience on private individuals without sufficient provocation. We admit this, but we will not suffer England to speak to us in the threatening tone she has adopted. Henceforth our action on the Behring Sea will be even more high-handed than it was formerly." Those were the words of a bully; happily, in this case, of an individual bully. He (the speaker) knew that there were far too many Christian men and women in the United States to justify the thought that this sentiment was a national sentiment.

SIR DONALD IN LONDON.

[From the Canadian Gazette

Sir Donald A. Smith was on Monday entertained by the Lord Mayor at the Mansion House, when a large and representative company was invited to meet the hon. gentleman. There was some speech-making at the close of the dinner. The Lord Mayor proposed the health of the guest of the evening in a highly complimentary speech, which was heartily received, and to which Sir Donald suitably replied. Mr. Tritton, late President of the London Chamber of Commerce, gave "The Dominion of Canada," to which Sir Charles Tupper responded. In the course of his speech the High Commissioner dwelt upon the progress the Dominion had made, and pointed out that Confederation and its sequel, the Canadian Pacific Railway, had virtually given to her the position of a nation, indissolubly connected, as he hoped and expected, with the British Crown. For the success of this great enterprise too much credit could not be given to their guest of that evening. Not only had Sir Donald Smith, by his public-spirited action as a philanthropist and as a friend to the arts and sciences, earned the regard and confidence of all Canadians, but seeing the great political importance of the Canadian Pacific Railway to the Empire, he was also entitled to, and had happily received, the respect and good-will of the people of this country.

MARGARET'S CHOICE;

OR,

SAVED FROM A CRIME.

There are other streets and places that hold their own with Spartan fortitude, and do not even recognize the existence of the invaders, nor the proximity of the seat of temptation—the gaudy Paradise, where the tree of knowledge is always dropping bitter apples, and where the serpent lurks, in the guise of drink, to give the sons of Adam and the daughters of Eve a relish for the Dead Sea fruit. There are streets and places where the passer-by may catch a glimpse of a happy circle gathered round the fire, and see the blessed instinct of home in every face—so near that the subdued sound of the multitude may be heard, and yet, in effect and influence, as far away as if the length and breadth of a whole city stood between them.

It was so at Delfa-terrace—a row of cozy, old-fashioned houses, with roomy apartments, rather low in the ceiling, perhaps, somewhat cumbersome as to furniture, and tinged with a suggestion of gloom that no amount of gilding and paint will banish from the walls that were built before the House of Hanover brought its prolific glory and good examples to the English Court. More than one of the old Stuart adherents had lived in faded splendor in that quiet terrace by the riverside, and it never lost a certain caste—a solid, antique stateliness which kept it distinct from the square, narrow wedges of thin-walled red brick and plaster of Paris that grew up around it.

Laurence Drayton always lodged here when he was in London. A bachelor existence in furnished apartments is never a very pleasant experience; but he had been exceptionally fortunate in his choice.

"You will find Mrs. Lucas a nice person," he said to Julia, as he knocked at the door. "She is given perhaps, a little too much to chintz and brocade, and her tapestries are more remarkable for dinginess than beauty; but she is not an antimacassar landlady, and I cannot be sufficiently grateful to her on that account alone."

"What is an antimacassar landlady, Laurence?"

"Happy girl, not to know! I will enlighten you by and by. Tell Mrs. Lucas I wish to speak with her," he said, as the servant opened the door, and stood staring in wonder at the unwonted apparition of a young and beautiful lady in company with the most correct of bachelors and the perfection of men, "and let us have some tea with dinner. I have heard you say you like tea with dinner, Julia."

Miss Temple assented. It was thoughtful of him to remember that; but then, Laurence was always thoughtful where she was concerned. He took her into the drawing-room—a large apartment, with two deep, straight-barred iron stoves, in each of which a bright fire was burning. There were no folding-doors. Those wretched barbarisms, that look bare and miserable in summer, and cold and comfortless in winter, were not permitted to spoil the effect of a noble stretch of carpet, in a large, well-furnished chamber.

On one of the tables, opposite the fire, in the back of the apartment, there was a small dinner service, in genuine old china—such a service as a connoisseur would never have devoted to a less noble purpose than the post of honor in some priceless collection of bric-à-brac. But Mr. Drayton, though he spent some of his money that way, was an utilitarian; and if he had a taste for simple fare, he liked it served on dishes worth more than their weight in silver. He travelled frequently, and he travelled well; but he never travelled without bringing back a small trunk, especially constructed for the purpose, filled with gems of art, picked up in unaccountable places. The dealers in vertu detested him, and more than one distinguished antiquarian had cherished a pagan wish that it were lawful to waylay the too successful hunter of artistic rarities, and leave his undiscovered remains in some ghastly corner by the riverside.

A small bookcase stood in a remote corner, rich, small as it was, in the creative beauty of many a generation, selected with the careful instinct that picked only the nuggets of pure literary gold from the cumbrous mountains of dross heaped up by the advertising publishers. "Tristram Shandy" found a place there, and "Tom Jones" had been elected to an honorary membership, after grave discussion; the "Tale of a Tub" was in a remote corner. But, except for these, the ugly cynicism of Swift, the prurience of Fielding, and the maudlin, thinly veiled lasciviousness of Sterne, found no place by the side of Irving and Hawthorne, William Hazlitt and Charles Lamb, Addison, Macaulay, Steele, Thackeray, and Dickens, who laid such a loving hand on the great human heart. There were these and the rest of the noble list of men, who have done more in ten years for the education of the soul than any scheme of scholastic education will arrive at in a century.

There was a harmonium in rosewood, and a magnificent piano of fine and powerful tone. It had cost nearly two hundred pounds; but there are some instruments—a dozen or so might be found throughout the civilized world—that are simply priceless. They thrill under the touch with a sympathy of music that was never put into them by the mechanical hand which joined them together wire by wire, like those strange old violins that scarcely deviate a hair's breadth in shape, or a breath in weight, from the commonest ear-torturing fiddle ever picked up for three-and-sixpence at a second-hand broker's, and yet give out melody of so marvellous a quality as to surprise the players, let the players be never so skilful.

The bookcase and these instruments, the old Chelsea china, curious bronzes, and costly oddities in bric-a-brac, were the artistic additions made by Laurence to the solid, comfortable furniture of his apartments. Mrs. Lucas was not an antimacassar landlady, as he had said. There were no weak, painted chairs for flimsy squares or circles of knitting or crochet to cover; no crazy sofas in dilapidated cotton rep, with eruptions of stuffing, to be hidden by impossible poppies in braid-work, or extraordinary birds in Berlin wool; all was old-fashioned, solid, substantial, and unpretending, and where the elegance of art was wanted to relieve the eye, Mr. Drayton came to the rescue.

Mrs. Lucas came up from the house-keeper's room on receipt of the journalist's message. She had been not a little startled by the intelligence conveyed to her by the servant-girl. The good lady looked upon Laurence as her own property. He gave so little trouble, and his habits were so irreproachable, that the thought of losing him filled her with a pang of unspeakable dismay. He had brought home a beautiful young lady, whom he called by her Christian name, and for whose sake he had ordered tea with dinner. It would only be in accordance with the usual perfidy of men if he had taken to himself a wife without her knowledge, and her first intimation of the fact was to be an intoduction.

"And only a few days ago he made terms with me for a yearly tenancy," thought good Mrs. Lucas. "And I lowered his rent in consideration of being able to depend upon him as a regular."

She was a gentlewoman in her way. The house was her own, and she had a decent income left to her by the departed Lucas, who had been something in Mark-lane. Care had not drawn many lines in her comely face, and there was scarcely a thread of silver in her hair. There was nothing of the usual type of landlady about her—no petty meannesses detrimental to her lodgers' edibles and drinkables, no inquisitive prying into letters or unlocked drawers. She did not measure her coals by the [illegible], nor her gas by the burners. Her moderate but sufficient charge for rent included fire and light, and all the mysterious [illegible] that are apt to figure as items on the [illegible] bill, and cause disaffection in the mind of the victim.

Laurence left Julia looking through a large square volume of engravings while he withdrew to the other end of the drawing-room and explained his difficulty to Mrs. Lucas.

"This young lady will be in London for a few days, and I should like you to arrange for her here," he said. "My room would be the most comfortable, perhaps, and you can make me up a bed anywhere."

Mrs. Lucas had no idea of making up a bed for her favorite lodger anywhere. A single glance at Miss Temple's pure, sweet face touched her matronly heart.

"I shall most probably be absent during the time of her stay," he added; "and I should be glad to know she was in your care, meanwhile."

"Yes, sir! I can arrange without the least trouble," said Mrs. Lucas, considerably relieved to find that she was required on no business of a more serious nature.

Then Laurence introduced Julia to her and feminine freemasonry did more in two minutes between them than half an hour's explanation on his part would have done.

VICTORIOUS SAN SALVADORIANS.

Three Battles Won in Succession—The Revolution in Guatemala Described.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The Herald's special from La Libertad, San Salvador, dated July 27, says: Two victories for the San Salvadorians have been fully confirmed, one at Chingo, in the Guatemalan department of Santa Rosa, and the other at Atescatempo, in the department of Jutiapa. Great consternation prevails in Guatemala over the news of these two disasters to her army. A fresh revolutionary outbreak has been initiated in San Marcas, on the Mexican frontier, led by General Daniel Marroquin, who had been declared a traitor by President Barrillas two years ago, and who is said to be working in the interests of the exiled general, Martin Barundia, and the latter himself is quite close to the Mexico-Guatemala boundary with arms and troops.

FOLLOWING UP THEIR VICTORIES.

Another Herald's special from La Libertad, San Salvador, says: It is reported here from unofficial sources that the Salvadorian troops had made an advance from Atescatempo on to Jutiapa and again met the Guatemalan army with the usual disastrous results to the latter, which had been again badly defeated and was in full retreat, followed by the victorious Salvadorians. The Guatemalan authorities have interdicted all war news passing over their land wires via Mexico, whether favorable or not to Guatemalan interests. The Mexican minister in Guatemala has protested against the interruption of international telegrams as a violation of Mexico-Guatemala telegraph convention of 1888.

TROUBLE AMONG THE GUATEMALANS.

The Herald's special from City of Mexico, via El Paso, July 27, says: Confirmation despatches have been received here, via Vera Cruz and La Libertad, Salvador, of the revolution in Guatemala. An uprising took place in the Department of Chiquimula on Friday last. The military were called out and ordered to fire on the mob. The soldiers, who numbered four hundred, refused to kill their friends and relatives, and threw down their arms. Many of the soldiers have joined the revolutionists, and a general uprising against President Barrillas' Government seems imminent. The western part of the Republic, in the vicinity of Quezaltenango, appears to be loyal to Barrillas, as he is from that part of the country. Private despatches received here to-day from Guatemala fully confirm the victories of Gen. Ezeta over the Guatemalans.

KATERIE TEGAKWITHA.

Steps Being Taken to Secure the Canonization of an Indian Girl.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 28.—A large number of Catholics of this city and vicinity will go to Laprairie, Canada, on Wednesday to witness the ceremony of blessing a granite monument, which has been placed over the grave of Katerie Tegakwitha, a saintly Indian girl of the Mohawk nation. Bishop McMelvey, of this diocese, will officiate, and Archbishop Fabre and many Canadian church dignitaries will attend. There will be three sermons, one in French, one in English and one in Iroquois, the latter to be preached by Father Burton, an Oblat. Katerie Tegakwitha was born in Ossernenon (Auersville, N. Y.) in 1656. She was baptized at Caughnawaga (Fonda, N. Y.) in 1676, she having been converted to Christianity by the Jesuit missionaries, who then had stations along the line of New York State from the Hudson to Lake Erie. Persecutions, after her conversion, compelled her to go to the south bank of the St. Lawrence, where a village of converts had been planted by the missionaries. She died April 7, 1696, at the age of forty. She was buried where she spent the last years of her life. The grave has been a place of devotion ever since among the French and Indians, and she has had the reputation of a saint. About a year ago, a heavy granite monument was placed over her grave by her devout admirers in Albany. The last plenary council of Baltimore solicited the Pope to permit the cause of the Indian girl's canonization to be introduced, but, according to the rules of the congregation of Peter, as she died in Canada the matter must be taken up there. The present movement is a step in that direction. The Rev. Clarence A. Walworth, of St. Mary's church, this city, is especially interested in the canonization of Katerie, and a member of his family has written a life of the Indian girl.

WHITE CAP OUTRAGES.

A Man Beaten and Hanged—Arrests of the Parties Implicated.

WHEELING, W. Va., July 28.—White caps went to the house of James Anderson in Tyler county, a few nights ago, and took Anderson and his wife into the woods, where they gave the man a terrible beating with hickory switches. They afterward hanged him by the neck until he was nearly dead, when they let him down. The woman was roughly handled but was not whipped. Before releasing the victims the white caps threatened to murder the couple if they gave any information. Anderson's story is that one of the white caps, Lafe Bolden, went to Anderson's house some time before the whipping, and tried to assault Anderson's wife, but Anderson arrived in time to thwart him. Bolden escaped, and the whipping was done by friends of his to keep Anderson from having him arrested. On information furnished by Anderson, the grand jury found indictments against a dozen citizens of Tyler County, and on Saturday, S. H. Dean, Wesley and Henry Clegg and Lafayette Baldwin surrendered themselves and were admitted to bail. Other arrests will follow.

A NEW COLLEGE OF MUSIC.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

HALIFAX, N. S., July 28.—The Lakeside property in Dartmouth, across Halifax harbor from this city, is about to pass into the hands of a company for the establishment of a college of music. The institution will be affiliated with the Royal College of Music, the London Royal Academy and the Guildhall School. The music pupils will complete with a three years' course in London or at one of the great foreign schools.

The Catholics of Dartmouth have begun the erection of a $30,000 brick church.

The Prince Decides a Social Question.

LONDON, July 28.—The Prince of Wales has written a letter through Colonel Knollys to the Reverend Preston, vicar of Holy Trinity at Rumcorn, in reply to a communication received from the vicar. The Prince's letter is dated from Marlborough House, July 22, and says that it is quite correct that, upon being consulted as to the precedence of the Church over diplomatic dignitaries, his Royal Highness had expressed an opinion that, as a matter of courtesy, the name of Cardinal Manning should rank immediately after his own.

London Bobbies Still Grumbling.

LONDON, July 28.—The trouble with the police department does not by any means appear to be at an end; in fact, the action of the corporation of the city of London in increasing on Saturday the wages of the city police by four shillings a day has added fuel to the smouldering fire of discontent. The metropolitan police compare their condition with that of their more fortunate associates in the pay of the corporation, and the more they make notes the more they grumble.

Bold Robbery of a Mail Car.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 28.—While the Iron Mountain train was standing at Texarkana on Saturday night, and the mail route agent was eating his supper, the mail was broken open and robbed. One of the through pouches from St. Louis to Laredo, Tex., was taken, also a large number of way letters. Searching parties are scouring the country, but there is no clue to the robbers.

Some Montreal Sketches Probable.

LONDON, July 28.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught are about publishing a book describing their recent sojourn in India on their trip around the world. The descriptions are mainly by the Duke, the Duchess, who is quite a clever artist, contributing the illustrations.

A Murderer's Confession.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 28.—Charles Price surrendered himself to the police last night, stating that he had quarrelled with John McAllister, and that he had driven the point of a coal pick into McAllister's brain. He then tied the body in a coal shute, and after a few hours gave himself up to the police.

The Revolver Went Off.

WINDSOR MILLS, Que., July 28.—Yesterday afternoon while a boy, named Mills, was showing a revolver to his sister, saying how easily it worked, the weapon went off, dangerously wounding the girl. She was taken to the General Hospital at Montreal this morning.

SUMMER PASTIMES.

SATURDAY'S LACROSSE MATCHES.

Games at the Printers' Picnic—The Young Men's Society at Highgate Springs—Other Events.

There was plenty of lacrosse on Saturday among the junior stick handlers, and some good and exciting playing in the five matches that were disposed of. VALOIS REGATTA.

A Pleasant Afternoon and an Enjoyable Programme.

The flags fluttered gaily at Valois on Saturday. The judges at the time of giving the prizes had not decided whether it was a light wind or a heavy wind, and consequently had not determined which skiff to adjudge the prize in the sailing race. Those on shore thought it was a very pleasant breeze, but those who got out into the bay in their frail craft thought it was coming it just a little bit too strong. The dark clouds, which had been threatening all the morning, rolled off like a stage curtain, and the whole brilliant scene was bathed in a flood of sunlight. The events were on the whole well contested, and in the end very few of the beautiful prizes remained at Valois. The Lake St. Louis boys from Lachine came down in force and carried all before them, and the explanation given of this was that systematic practice prevails more at Lachine than at Valois, and that the result on Saturday was simply another example of the old copy book aphorism "Practice makes perfect." The course was well marked out, but owing to the strong breeze from the shore was very difficult to maintain, the inside boat having a CONSIDERABLE ADVANTAGE OVER THE OTHERS.

In the single scull race there were four starters, and up to the turn the race belonged to any one of them, but on the return, Elliott quickened his stroke and came in an easy first. In the tandem canoe race Messrs. Duggan and Sherwood again proved the superiority of their black leaded canoe, and paddled in first, being, however, closely followed by Girdwood and McKendrick. In the single scull race for boys under fifteen years, the judges could not swallow the "fifteen" year old young gentleman who came in first. They suggested he must have forgotten a few years, and disqualified him, leaving the prize to a little fifteen year older who had rowed well and got heartily cheered. Great fun was caused by the canoe paddle race, stern foremost. A straight course seemed out of the question. The canoes went round and round until the poor paddlers could scarcely realize where they were. Mr. Low of Valois managed dexterously to reach the winning point long before the other three competitors. In the four paddle canoe race, Duggan's red canoe was swamped on the return, leaving the four paddlers disporting themselves in the water, which they evidently keenly enjoyed, and leaving an easy victory to Stewart's crew.

THE SWIMMING RACE

called forth a great deal of interest, and Benedict's style of swimming called forth much comment, not only on account of his powerful stroke, but the extraordinary long time he remained under water. Although heavily handicapped he soon outdistanced all his competitors, and coming in first is now the champion 250 yards swimmer of the Dominion, and perhaps of America. The boys' tub race caused great amusement, many of the youngsters receiving their annual bath and floundering like young porpoises in the water. The greatest fun, however, was caused by an improvised item, not on the programme. The judges' barge was connected with the shore by means of a number of pontoons. At the close of the swimming there was a rush on to one of these with the result that it capsized and gave a number of gentlemen an unexpected ducking. As there was no danger, the water only being a few feet deep, the spectators roared again. Professor Ducharme went up to his neck and was hauled out smiling cheerfully. A young, well-known lawyer, clutching his umbrella convulsively, and wet from head to toe, looked so unutterably miserable that the hard-hearted spectators

ROARED AGAIN AND AGAIN;

the five or six half drowned individuals went off and were seen later wandering in the village in suits of clothes several sizes too large for them. Much to the disgust of the Valois residents, the Lachine braves paddled their war canoe first; the Valois boat was too heavy; the crew were not in training like the Lachine boys, and they were badly steered. They, however, took their defeat as brave men should. The prizes were distributed in the evening and a most successful bonnet hop given in the finest boat house on the Lake. The officers were Mr. James Paton, president; Mr. G. G. Ross, first vice-president; Mr. E. N. Scott, hon. treasurer; the judges being Messrs. A. W. Morris, B. Tooke, G. W. Eadie, G. A. Greene, G. Boulter, J. Douglas and M. J. Brennan. The time-keepers were Messrs. Taylor and Thorn, and the starters Messrs. Fletcher and Gibson. The following is the epitome of the results:

St. Ann's T. A. & B. S. and the Irish Catholic Pilgrimage to Ste. Anne de Beaupre.

A special general meeting of the St. Ann's T. A. & B. Society was held in their hall, Ottawa street, yesterday afternoon, Rev. Father Strubbe, C. S. S. R., president, in the chair, when the society unanimously resolved to forego their excursion, which had been arranged to take place on Saturday, August 23, per the steamer "Three Rivers," to Lake St. Peter, in order that the Redemptorist Fathers, of St. Ann's Church, might be enabled to have the steamer on that day for the annual Irish Catholic pilgrimage to Ste. Anne de Beaupré. The pilgrimage, which was to have taken place on Saturday last, but had to be postponed, owing to the steamer not being available on account of the accident to the "Quebec," which it has replaced on the regular line between Montreal and Quebec, will therefore take place either on the 22nd or 23rd August. The precise date will be fixed in a day or two, when notice of it will be given through the press.

A Poor Opinion of the Electors of Montmorency.

L'Electeur on the eve of the voting in Montmorency predicted that Mr. Prevost would be elected by 200. It thus explains the defeat: "We are beaten in Montmorency, but our opponents will admit with us that the anticipated result which we published yesterday was, at the time, correct. It was decreed during Thursday evening that, as the future of the Minister of Militia was in the balance and it being absolutely necessary that Sir Hector must be lowered, the county must be purchased even at the rate of $1000 to $1500 per parish if necessary." The journal adds that in spite of this result the district of Quebec remains faithful to the national cause. It even goes so far as to state that the Conservatives could not carry a single county in that district.

Its Wonderful Credit.

Under the heading of "An Event" La Minerve this morning says: "We are informed that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has succeeded in negotiating a loan of $5,000,000 for the construction of steamers on its Indian route, to ply between this continent and China and Japan. The company itself negotiated this loan without the intervention of any bank or broker. It was anxious to risk its luck and it has succeeded admirably well. In these days the full amount required was covered at the minimum rate fixed by the company. No better proof can be asked of the wonderful credit of this great and unexcelled institution."

P. Q. R. A.

To the Editor of the STAR:

SIR,—Referring to an item in Saturday's issue of your paper, re my resignation as secretary of the Province of Quebec Rifle Association, I would like to state that my resignation was not withdrawn at the instance of some friends, but because the Prince of Wales Rifle Association had kindly passed a resolution giving up the ranges to the Province of Quebec Rifle Association for the 9th of August, the cancelling of the P. Q. R. A.'s right to the ranges for this date being the primary cause of my resignation.

W. M. BLAIKLOCK, Major,
Secretary P. Q. R. A.

Canadians and Royalty.

Sir Charles Tupper and his granddaughter, Miss Cameron, were present at the garden party given by the Prince of Wales at Marlborough House, on Monday, July the 14th, "to meet Her Majesty the Queen." Lady Tupper was unfortunately prevented by indisposition from attending. Sir John and Lady Thompson and Miss Carling were also among the guests, and were presented by Sir Charles Tupper to the Prince of Wales.

St. Ann's Day.

At St. Ann's Church yesterday morning the feast of the patroness of the church was celebrated with great splendor. The shrine, as well as the grand altar, was beautifully decorated, while the music was of a high order. At the evening service the congregation listened to an eloquent sermon on the virtues and glories of the good St. Ann, by the Right Rev. Dr. McGovern, Bishop of Pittsburg, Pa.

She Preferred Kingston.

Another woman has been sent to the Kingston penitentiary at her own request, and on the ground of alleged ill-treatment at the female gaol. This time it was Lizzie Hayes, found guilty of stealing a lot of wearing apparel from Mrs. McGrath, who boarded in the house where Lizzie worked.

The steamer "City of Berlin," from Liverpool; "Normannida," from Hamburg, have reached New York.

THE WATER RATE.

PAYMENTS BEING FREELY MADE.

The Opinion of the City Treasurer as to the Mode of Levying This Assessment—Committee to Investigate.

Citizens are paying up their water rates this year, and until August 10, the last day for discount, there will be a constantly increasing stream of people hurrying into the long room to pay their rates into the city coffer. This has naturally re-awakened the demand for an enquiry as to the assessment and collection of this rate, which was fully set forth and discussed in the columns of the STAR last January, and which resulted in the matter being referred to the Finance Committee for investigation and report. This committee only held two special meetings upon the subject and then let it drop like a hot brick. Ald. Clendinneng has now picked it up again and has got a joint committee, composed of members of the Water and Finance Committees, appointed to specially investigate the matter and prepare a report. They will examine into the various modes of assessment and collection in the principal cities on this continent, particulars of which were duly published in the STAR, showing the water tax in Montreal to be very considerably in excess of that in the other cities, in several cases being more than double. The present mode of collection, which is strongly objected to by the poorer class of tenants, as placing a burden upon their backs to pay a large sum at once, is not very profitable to the city. The sum uncollected at the end of last year out of a total collectable amount of $576,000 was $86,000, or fifteen per cent. Of course a considerable amount of this is collected. Indeed, in 1883 the loss was under four per cent.; in 1885 it had risen to five per cent; in 1886 (the smallpox year) to eight per cent. It is now about seven or eight per cent. As has been pointed out already, in many large cities this loss is avoided by placing the tax upon the real estate owners, and this will form one of the subjects to deliberate upon. It is very difficult to ascertain the opinion of the city fathers upon the subject. They feel themselves to be in a tight box as regards their constituents, as Ald. Shorey tersely remarked: "The proprietors think so very differently to the tenants on the subject and an alderman represents them both." The opinions of the present aldermen on the question have already been published. Many of them are proprietors and look on it purely from that point of view, while others have not studied the subject at all or have only glanced at it in a very superficial manner. The opinion of Mr. Robb, the City Treasurer, who has made a special study of the subject, is however of considerable value. He says: "I never had but one opinion on this subject, and in 1877 I wrote a report for the Council, in which I took the ground that inasmuch as property was relieved from the cost of fire insurance to an extent equal perhaps to the water rate chargeable on the buildings, that it might very justly have been made a charge on real estate from the beginning, but that inasmuch as it is an article of supply for which we do not exact payment when the houses are empty, the same exemptions should be extended to landlords in cases of the vacancy of their premises. The result would be that the working classes would pay for their water in the monthly instalments of their rents, which would come easier on them, and the landlords would only lose in very exceptional cases of partial occupancy, but even that is susceptible of arrangement. As a matter of internal economy it would reduce the expenses of the cost of collection and percentage of loss."

FOR THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE

THE TALK ON 'CHANGE.

The Election of the Board of Trade's Harbor Commissioner.

A general meeting of the Montreal Board of Trade has been called for Monday next at noon to elect the Board's representative on the Board of Harbor Commissioners. The retiring Commissioner is Mr. Hugh McLennan, who has held the position since 1873. The charter of the Board of Trade was amended that year, prior to that date, the President of the Board of Trade being ex-officio the representative on the Harbor Board. Considerable interest has been manifested on 'Change lately in the election of Mr. McLennan's successor. Grain men are generally anxious that Mr. McLennan should be re-lected as a representative of the inland forwarding trade. Several other names have been mentioned in connection with the position, notably those of Mr. Robert Archer, Vice-President of the Board of Trade; Mr. Robert Reford and Mr. J. P. Cleghorn, the President. The position is regarded among business men as a very honorable one, and it has very acceptable perquisites, including a fee of five dollars for each sitting.

THE WRECK ON ANTICOSTI.

A Schooner Engaged in the Work of Salvage Ashore.

The work of saving the cargo of the wrecked steamship "Idaho" is proving a very difficult task. There has been such a heavy swell on that it has been almost impossible to get the wrecking vessels alongside. The schooner "Snow Queen" was kept alongside long enough to get 3000 boxes of cheese on board, but then drifted among the reefs and began pounding her bottom out. The whole of the cheese was consequently thrown over in the hope of saving the schooner, but at latest accounts she was still aground. Fifty-eight head of the cattle of the wrecked steamer's cargo were lost in endeavoring to land them. The steamship and cargo have alike been abandoned to the underwriters, and the agents of the latter have taken charge of the wreck and the cargo landed on Anticosti.

Ordered to Leave the Church.

There was quite a sensation at St. Constant yesterday, caused by Abbé Bedard requesting several well known and respectable persons to leave the church. It appears the rev. gentleman has been suffering from erysipelas and would not allow any of the windows to be opened, and consequently the air in the church got terribly close and hot, so much so that several of the congregation got up and stood by the door. In the course of his sermon Father Bedard stopped and requested those standing at the door to be seated. As, however, they failed to comply, he ordered them out of the church, and stopped speaking until they had gone, whereupon he congratulated those present upon being the good and obedient members of his flock. The reverend gentleman, notwithstanding the heat, preached for an hour and a half.

The Darling Estate.

The commissioners in expropriation for the opening of St. Catherine street from Desery street to the eastern city limits, sat this morning for the first time to hear evidence. Evidence as to the value of the Darling estate, situate between Davidson and Darling streets, was heard, the price asked being 30 cents a foot. There are 46,500 feet and the amount is $13,950.

The Normal School on Logan's Park.

A deputation of aldermen from the Finance Committee will wait to-morrow afternoon upon Mr. Mercier to see if any terms of agreement can be arranged whereby the Normal School on Logan's Park, which is in a dangerous condition, can be put down and re-erected elsewhere, so that the space thus cleared could be thrown into the park.

Still Seized in the City.

Mr. J. A. Watkins, of the Inland Revenue Department, seized the contents of an illicit whiskey still with a capacity of about a hundred gallons a day, at 287 Charles Borromee street, on Saturday morning, and to-day Mr. Jno. S. Hall, Q. C., applied for a warrant for the proprietor.

All About a Rooster.

Nothing more than a rooster, a common, everyday sultan of the hencoop, caused an action which occupied the attention of Judge Desnoyers almost the entire morning. The complainant was Thomas Nelson, the defendant Charles Irving, both residents of Cote St. Antoine, and neighbors at that. The first charged the latter with threatening to assault, and from the cross-examination by Mr. Tyrrell for the defence, the following story of the difficulty was told. Mr. Irving's rooster encroached upon Mr. Nelson's property. Last Sunday Mr. Nelson went to smoke a cigarette in Mr. Irving's garden and the latter offered to kill the bird, which was duly executed the next day. The day after, however, all the chickens, as if to revenge the death of their lord and master, made a concerted attack on the plants in Mr. Nelson's garden, and to save trouble Mr. Irving meted out the same dire punishment to them. This sacrifice, however, had not the desired effect, and when Mr. Nelson again visited Mr. Irving's property he was ordered off, and on refusing to go Mr. Irving raised his stick at him, for which action, after much legal sparring, he was fined a dollar and costs.

DETERMINED TO DROWN.

A. Lagacy Throws Himself into the Canal But is Rescued.

An ill-looking, ill-smelling, dilapidated piece of humanity, in the shape of a man named A. Lagacy, was brought before Judge Desnoyers this morning on a charge of attempted suicide. Yesterday, as two brothers named McCool and a friend were rowing in the canal they saw Lagacy throw himself into the water, and rowing hurriedly to the spot, were able to get hold of him when he came up for the third time. He fought like a madman against being rescued, and when he was at last got safely into the boat it was found that he had a rope tied round his neck, and to the ends of it, hanging down by his sides, two large bricks were fastened. The only explanation he would give was that he tried to escape the Chief of Police, who had been after him for a week. This is the man's second attempt. He was committed to the Queen's Bench. The two McCools saved another life shortly before this; that of a girl who had accidentally fallen into the water.

NOTRE DAME STREET BUILDINGS

To be Pulled Down at Once—Sale of Building Materials.

The proprietors on Notre Dame street between Dupre Lane and St. Henri street petitioned the city this morning that the property belonging to them, expropriated for the widening of that street, might be sold without delay with the same legal effect as if the deposit required by law had been made in Court, the signatories being H. Shorey, Robert Miller, J. H. Wilson, estate H. B. Smith, estate Biron, Isaac H. Stearns, and estate Rodier. The City Attorney, Mr. Ethier, has accordingly arranged that the material of these properties shall be sold by Mr. Potter on Friday morning. Mr. Ethier says the other proprietors who wish to rebuild during the fine weather can have a sale at once by signing a similar request, a copy of which is at Mr. Potter's office, or at the City Attorney's office.

Cote St. Antoine Fire.

Mr. F. L. De Bellefeuille, advocate, proprietor of the three buildings on the western side of Green avenue that were destroyed by the fire, estimates his loss at $25,000. On the corner block occupied by Walter Paul he had $3000 insurance with the North British and Mercantile Company; on the next building, represented by Nos. 146, 148, 150 and 152 Green avenue, he had an insurance of $3500 with the Glasgow and London, and on the adjoining stone block $8000 with the same company. The total loss is placed at $60,000.

"This fire," remarked a resident of the town, "ought to convince our people of the absolute and immediate necessity of securing means for fighting a fire. Had an engine been promptly on hand this blaze might have been confined to one building and probably extinguished before much damage had been done."

"Do you think the town can provide this as well as the city could?" was asked.

"No, I do not, and the best thing that can happen to Cote St. Antoine is annexation to Montreal."

A Brother's Plucky Deed.

As Judge Davidson's pretty yacht, the "Circe," having on board, besides the judge and his sons, Mr. Donald Macmaster, Q. C., and Mr. R. D. McGibbon, Q. C., was returning on Saturday night to Dorval from the bonnet hop after the Valois regatta, one of the little boys in walking along the bowsprit to shorten sail, slipped and fell into the water. His brother, Mr. Peers Davidson, without a moment's hesitation jumped in, and swimming to his brother supported him until assistance came. The "Circe" had considerable weigh on her and it was some time before she could be brought round and the youngster and his plucky brother taken on board, happily none the worse for their accident.

Sent to Court of Queen's Bench.

Henry Lamere and James Golvigan were remanded to the Court of Queen's Bench for robbery this morning. The first-named stole clothing and goods to the value of about seventy dollars from a contractor named Goulet, of Vinet street, and sold them for about fifteen to a saloon-keeper in the East End, and the other stole jewellery and clothing, valued at a considerable amount, from Mr. Archibald McGoun's house and tried to sell them at Moss' pawnshop, from where word was sent to the police. The first was taken by Detective Trempe, the second by Detective Giadu.

A Monster Steamship to Replace the "Idaho."

The loss of the Dominion line chartered steamship "Idaho" has resulted in the addition to the Montreal fleet of a larger vessel than has ever yet been on this route. She is the steamship "Knight Companion," of 6000 tons, which has been chartered by the Dominion Line from one of the Indian Ocean lines to take the place of the "Idaho." She will leave Bristol on her first trip to this port on the ninth of August.

Stole Flowers from Phillips Square.

Jules Marrotte, a little French boy, tearful and trembling, acknowledged having stolen flowers from Phillips square yesterday, but, at the request of the watchman, Judge Desnoyers let him off with a caution.

The Mayor's Health.

Mayor Grenier on Saturday and yesterday, walked with his nurse from his house into Viger gardens, where, he remained for a short time. He will probably leave town at the end of this week.

A Disturber of the Peace.

The offerring of the teachers and officers of the Green Mission School, Neath, with which the bride has been long connected, is a handsomely-bound copy of the Bible, together with photographs of the mission room and the children cared for in the institution.

Messrs. Charles Lambert & Co., of Port Tennant Copper Works, Swansea, have sent a large silver punch bowl on an ebony stand.

One of the latest presents to arrive was that of the officers of the advanced column of the Emin Pasha Relief Expedition, a beautiful ebony and silver portrait screen—which has been erroneously described as an overmantel—upon an easel of the same materials. In the centre of the frame is a striking portrait of Mr. Stanley, the portraits of his officers—Lieut. Stairs, Capt. Wilson, Surgeon Parker and Mr. Mountenoy Jephson — being arranged around that of their chief. Mr. Stanley's portrait is surmounted by the royal crown, the letters V. R., and the flags of England and Egypt, and there is also an appropriate inscription.

In the large drawing room at 2 Richmond Terrace, where the presents were on view, the caskets, medals, and other souvenirs which have at various times been given to Mr. Stanley by municipalities and other public bodies, found place side by side with the marriage gifts. Among these articles the magnificent ebony and ivory casket presented to Mr. Stanley by the King of the Belgians was the centre of attraction.

FRANK HAYNER DISAPPEARS.

Charged With Committing a Number of Forgeries in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 28.—A sensational story is brought out by the disappearance to-day of Frank Hayner, an employé of Charles Peckham & Co., insurance adjusters. It is reported that prior to leaving the city Hayner committed a number of forgeries, Peckham & Co. being the victims. Hayner arrived in Chicago about eighteen months ago penniless, hungry, and dilapidated. He had known Mr. Peckham years ago in Brooklyn, from which city both men came and where Hayner is respectably connected. He was supplied with both money and work by his former townsman, and until a few months ago conducted himself as a model of business, energy and rectitude. The alias of "Wilson," by which he was frequently addressed by strangers, was to the majority of Hayner's acquaintances a source of mystery, but Montrealers will recollect his connection with the Bonaventure station robbery, at which time, as Frank Wilson, he acted as a private detective. When Hayner left Montreal he went to England with the John L. Sullivan slugging party as assistant treasurer. In London and Paris he spent all of his money and returned to Boston. When the big Sullivan benefit was given in Boston it is charged that, with others, Frank Hayner, treasurer, stole the proceeds. From this time the adventurous youth's career is lost until he arrived at Mr. Peckham's office in the dead of winter without an overcoat, his shoes and elbows worn out and his face pinched with cold and want. Where he is now is a mystery.

WHEAT, CORN AND OATS HIGHER.

Shorts and Unfavorable Weather Reports Run Up the Price.

CHICAGO, July 28.—The endeavors of the shorts to cover and additional reports of dry weather had the effect this morning of causing a higher and excited opening in wheat, corn and oats. Wheat started in with a rush at a range of 95¾ to 96; and, on a heavy demand from the shorts, held steadily at the higher point until 10.45, when it was quoted 95⅛. Corn, acting under the same conditions, started in almost two cents higher than Saturday's close at 45½ to 46, and soon advanced to 47½ under sharp buying. Fifteen minutes after the opening it dropped to 46⅜. Oats were also higher, September being 33. At 10.45 the price had advanced to 33¼.

A RECOUNT IN MONTMORENCY.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

QUEBEC, July 28.—By the report of the returning officers, Mr. Desjardin's majority in Montmorency is reduced to 31. A recount will be asked for.

Three Sunday Drownings.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 28.—John S. Tyson, a well known lawyer, was drowned yesterday near Magnolia while fishing. William H. Mumford, of the firm of Mumford & Emmart, furnishing goods, was drowned by the capsizing of a sail boat.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Lena Jennings, a handsome girl, twenty years of age, was drowned yesterday in the D'Esplaines river at Willow Springs, a picnic grove near this city. There was much excitement among the two thousand or more picnickers gathered along the banks of the river, but no attempts were made to rescue the drowning girl until it was too late.

Halifax Wants the Grenadiers.

HALIFAX, July 28.—There is excitement and indignation here over the coming to this garrison of the Seventeenth Leicestershire Regiment. The cause is the bad blood that has existed for over a quarter of a century between the people of Halifax and the regiment in question, owing to the mutiny and riots of thirty years ago. It is said that a petition will be presented to the military authorities asking that the exiled Grenadier Guards be sent here in place of the Seventeenth. Should the Seventeenth come there is almost sure to be an outbreak of the old hostilities.

The Effect on Securities.

LONDON, July 28, 2 p. m.—A feeling of depression prevails on the Stock Exchange. Argentine and Uruguayan securities are practically unsaleable and have declined from four to nine per cent.

THE BIG CANOE MEET.

ILE CADIEUX IN HOLIDAY ATTIRE.

A Quiet Sunday in Camp—The Number of Tents and Occupants Increasing—A Great Many Visit the Camp.

[BY OUR CANOEING CORRESPONDENT.]

LAKE OF TWO MOUNTAINS, July 27.—The quietness that reigned in camp last night was the cause of many prayers of thankfulness on the part of old A. C. A. campers; prayers that the absence of the fog horn and discordant cow bell, usually in the hands or mouths of unrighteous and untrained musicians, and found at every meet, would be conspicuous. Special arrangements have been made with the man who deals out the weather to furnish us for the next fourteen days, with the sun, not overly hot, and just enough wind clouds to make sailing interesting. He made a good commencement to-day. Old Sol rose above the horizon of the Lake in all his majestic glory, brightening an almost cloudless sky. Not a sound could be heard save the rustling of the leaves, fanned by a gentle breeze, carrying on its wings the faint tinkling of cow bells in the distance. This silence does not last long. Head after head appears from the many tents, followed by about five yawns to the head, then the rest of the body comes forth and all stand waiting for some one to take the first dip. A plunge and a howl in the distance is a signal, and soon the calm water on every side of the island is being churned into foam. When the breakfast bell rings, the boys lose no time on the quarter mile between the main camp and the mess tent and sit down to a well spread board. At eleven o'clock all assembled at headquarters for divine service. The rich and the poor, the small and great, the shaved and the unshaved were there and listened to an eloquent discourse from Rev. J. Edgar Hill, of Como, who told his listeners the story of the prodigal son. He was listened to with wrapt attention throughout. A large number visited the camp during the day, and were welcomed

W. J. WHITE, Vice-Commodore.

W. J. READ, Rear Commodore.

by our popular commodore, Mr. White, and shadowed by the purser, Mr. Whitlaw. The following were the visitors: Rev. J. Edgar Hill, Como; Mrs. A. W. Morris, Dorval; J. Arthur Barry, Ste. Anne; D. Kinghorn, Montreal; S. Jackson, C. E. Heward, W. A. Cameron, R. S. Kinghorn, Charles A. Smart, A. E. McWood, Sydney P. Heward, H. S. Shaw, A. E. Macnaughton, Lachine; James Barclay, Como; T. H. Dawes, Ste. Anne; Charles H. Cunningham, W. H. Benyon, Miss Benyon, Montreal. For the benefit of those who think this camp is got up specially for their entertainment it might be said that the rule regarding visitors is being strictly enforced. Visitors must be introduced by members in camp. When they have registered, visitors' badges will be given them which entitle them to camp on the Island two days. If longer than that they will be required to pay all association dues. Now note, any one found without one of these badges will be dealt with as the occasion requires; in other words he will have to evaporate and that quickly. The big war canoe, loaded with braves from Lachine, put in here in the afternoon. They call it "Nahotasaliwake," the Indian for—"well, I was caught myself and I don't mind giving a pointer"—it is the Indian for "none of your business." The clubs represented in camp so far are: St. Anne, St. Louis, Ottawa, Galt, and Pointe Claire, and among those registered so far are: Chas. M. Whitlaw, Ste. Anne; W. J. White, Smeaton White, John H. Garth, F. W. Stewart, T. C. Howard, W. E. Christie, J. H. Stewart, Duncan McIntosh, R. C. Nelles, A. W. Morris, H. M. Molson, Wm. A. Mason, Lake St. Louis; Hugh C. McLean, Pointe Claire and Toronto; Harry F. McKendrick, Galt and Ubique; George Barry, G. A. Kohl, Ste. Anne; A. Adamson, H. Adamson, Ottawa; J. Lay, Shinnesock Yacht Club. Commodore White and Purser Whitlaw have been working in camp night and day for the past week, and the result of their work can be seen in the almost perfected arrangements for the comforts of the canoeists. Landing stages have been built for small and large canoes, the barber's shop elegantly fitted up and stocked with the latest washes and powders of the day, and lastly the mess tent, where so many horny-handed paddlers and general camp followers lose their appetite, has a beautiful polished floor, and everything clean, tidy and cool, and the meals always ready in time. It is expected that by to-morrow the A. C. A. steamer will be running regularly between Ste. Anne de Bellevue and the camp.

DESPERATE FIGHTING.

One Thousand Government Troops Said to be Killed in Argentine.

BUENOS AYRES, July 28.—The revolutionary movement continues to spread. The fighting between the Government troops and the revolutionists yesterday was desperate. The Government forces were defeated, and one thousand of them were killed or wounded. The navy has joined the revolutionary movement. Insurgent artillery bombarded the Government House and the barracks yesterday. A twenty-four hours' truce has been arranged between the opposing forces. The triumph of the revolutionists appears to be assured.

FEELING IN NEW YORK.

[Special to the STAR.]

NEW YORK, July 28.—The financial community centring around Wall Street was considerably affected to-day by the news of the revolution in the Argentine Republic. Many bankers expressed the opinion that if the revolution continued the market would feel it considerably. More gold, they said, will probably be shipped from this city to London this week to bolster up English enterprises in Argentine, especially if the Bank of England raises its discount rate.

Will Wanamaker Get Mad?

NEWPORT, R. I., July 28.—A few days ago Postmaster Brown received instructions from the United States Postmaster-General, John Wanamaker, to add two letter carriers to the force in order, it is said, that some Philadelphia cottagers might receive the Philadelphia papers earlier. Postmaster Brown had not been consulted and did not approve of the expense. He disregarded the order and wrote Mr. Wanamaker that the change was unnecessary and would not be made. He added that if Mr. Wanamaker did not approve this course he could appoint a new postmaster.

TWO PROPOSITIONS

Relating Directly to Canada Under Consideration at Washington.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28.—Since the publication of the Behring Sea correspondence, the administration has been seriously considering whether terms could not be arrived at with Great Britain by prohibiting the transportation of merchandise through the United States from Canada in bond, and thus stopping a very large and profitable trade and seriously disarranging a great many lines of commerce. It will be remembered that, during the excitement attending the seizure of American fishing vessels on the Atlantic coast by the Dominion's vessels in 1888, President Cleveland sent a message to Congress calling its attention to the bonding privilege, and asking authority to be allowed to suspend these privileges if, in his judgment, such a thing should be deemed advisable. A very heated partisan debate followed the presentation of this message, but the President was finally given the authority, which, however, was never put in force. The Harrison Cabinet has seriously considered the matter, but, as yet, has arrived at no decision, as it is a very complex subject; and, while the abrogation of the bonding privilege may cause considerable inconvenience to the Dominion, it would undoubtedly affect the people of the entire American North west as well as those of New England. In this connection another matter has been suggested to the President and is now under consideration. By the treaty of 1817, neither the United States nor the British Government are allowed to maintain more than four small armed vessels on the great lakes, and no other vessels of war are to be built or armed there. It was this last-named treaty stipulation which prevented the contract for the practice vessel for the naval cadets being awarded to Representative Wheeler, to be built at his ship yards, Bay City, Mich. The treaty can be abrogated at any time by giving six months' notice on either side. It has been suggested to the President that now would be a good time to give this notice, so that the United States could be in a position to maintain a more formidable naval force on the lakes. This matter, like the other one, is now being considered and the two propositions show how serious the administration regards the entire Canadian question.

A COOL PROPOSAL.

A Russian Tailor of this City Offers His Wife a Divorce.

Russian Jewish circles are agitated over the cold-blooded attempt of one of its members to get rid of his lawful wife and children for the purpose of taking to himself a girl he met here. The man arrived here three years ago from Russia and opened a tailor shop, subsequently falling in love with one of his female employees. Imagining he could not be happy without her, he wrote his better half in Russia suggesting that, under the circumstances, if it made no particular difference to her, he would send her a divorce, or that if she felt like coming over here she might get one for herself, according to the Jewish law. The wife preferred the latter course and arrived here yesterday with her two children, but expressed her most emphatic disapproval of the divorce scheme, swearing at the same time vengeance on the girl who had alienated her husband's affection. According to the latest report, everything is in a turmoil at the tailor's house, though some of the shining lights of the synagogue are doing their best to pour oil on the troubled waters.

The Government's Decision on Plan Number Six.

The long expected order-in-council regarding the plan proposed by the Harbor Commissioners and the city for improving the harbor and preventing floods, was received at the Harbor Commissioner's office to-day, and will be discussed by the Board at the regular weekly meeting to-morrow afternoon. Several documents explanatory of the order have not yet been received and are expected by the late mail or to-morrow. The main point in the order is understood to be the prohibition of the construction of the guard wall, as proposed in plan No. 6.

FINANCIAL.

There were no new features to the stock market this morning, business being quiet and confined principally to a few of the leading stocks. The strong feeling that characterized the market during the past week, still continues, and values in some cases are higher, while others are firmly held. Montreal was strong and made a further advance of 1½ per cent., it selling at 228¼ to 229, closing at the latter figure bid, 230 asked. Commerce was firm and dealt in at 128⅜. In the general list, Gas was stronger and moved up ¼, it changing hands at 208⅞, closing at 208½ bid, 210 asked. A small lot of New Gas was placed at 190. Street Railway Rights sold at $38 to $38.25. Canadian Pacific was weaker in sympathy with easier advices from London, and it declined ⅜, closing at 79⅞ bid and asked. In London it opened ⅛ lower at 83⅛, but towards the close improved ¼ to 83⅞.

The rest of the list showed no change.

OTTAWA NOTES.

Customs Changes—An Official Analysis of Butter.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, July 28.—An order-in-council has been passed authorizing the following changes in the customs districts: Preston, Waterloo County, has been created an outport of customs, under the port of Galt; Magog has been named an outport, under Stanstead, and Port Credit an outport under the port of Toronto.

The Inland Revenue Department has issued a bulletin dealing with the analysis of butter. Among the one hundred and fifty samples examined there are thirty-three, to the quality of which, exception has been taken on account of rancidity, or of a deficiency in butter fat. The latter defect is, in other words, an excessive percentage of water and salt. With reference to the former constitutent, it varies from 19, 70 to 3. 84 per cent. The general average is 8.97. Montreal, in this respect, has an average percentage of 10.16.
