

HURLED TO INSTANT DEATH IN AUTO RUN

First Day's Racing of Canadian Automobile Club in Montreal Marked by Two Victims to Speed.

MACHINE PLUNGED THROUGH A FENCE

(Special to the Chronicle)

Montreal, July 9.—A double fatality occurred in the running of the fifth event on the programme of the first day's racing of the Automobile Club of Canada this afternoon. Rushing through the back stretch at a rate of close to a mile a minute, a sixty horse power Stearns car plunged right through the outer fence and hurled C. K. Batchelder, driver, and James T. Twohey, passenger, to almost instant death. Batchelder was driving the car, and Twohey occupied the seat to his left, and was acting as his mechanic. Batchelder died while being carried to the ambulance, while Twohey passed away a few minutes after being removed to the Royal Victoria Hospital. Batchelder's body presented a gruesome sight, as he was impaled by a huge splinter of the fence, through which the car dashed madly. The moment the car struck the two men were hurled from their seats high in the air, and fell almost directly below the spot where the car left the track. A burst tire is thought to have led to the momentary loss of control which was met with such horrible results.

The eighth lap of the race, which was for gasoline stock cars for 10 miles, and which drew the largest field of the afternoon, six cars, had been completed by the leader in the race when Batchelder in his 60 horse-power car was speeding through the back stretch. At the far turn he apparently lost control of his machine, and the few persons who were stand-

TROOPS PATROL SCENE OF STRIKE

United Mine Workers Claim that Sensational Reports of Outrages by Strikers are Unfounded

Gloucester, N.S., July 9.—Reports from different collieries of the Dominion Coal Company show on the whole over 200 more miners working to-day than yesterday. The mines in operation are Nos. 1, 4, 5, 8, 12 and 14. About 500 men are at work at No. 1, and the same at No. 5. The presence of the troops had a quietening effect this morning. The soldiers were under arms early and squads were on duty at the gates and entrances of the collieries, but the strikers made no attempt to molest the men going to work, and there was no clash between the strikers and the soldiers all day. It is now felt that the strike will be a waiting one. The U. M. W. have appointed 500 special policemen and they are attempting to accomplish by moral suasion that which they failed to do by physical force. Sensational reports that have gone abroad are unfounded. No one has been seriously injured and no property has been destroyed. Reports of dynamiting are absolutely false, while arrests made in the whole area do not exceed fifty. None of these are under arrest for charges of a graver nature than common assault or obstructing workmen going to and from work. Col. Drury, commanding at Halifax, arrived at Sydney to-day and is in conference with Mayor Douglas.

Asked to-day as to his opinion how long the strike would last, Mr. Bousfield, International Board member of the U. M. W., said that the strike would last just as long as the Dominion Coal Company, by their action, would make it last, and that it would be called off just as soon as the Dominion Coal Company was prepared to do so. He said that the miners of Cape Breton through their representative organization, the U. M. W., "We want the law upheld in every respect," said he. "We have done our best to keep the peace so far and have succeeded admirably. I have heard of a number of assaults being committed on persons and property, but I can assure you no responsible member of our organization was in any way implicated or would countenance such action. We will continue the same tactics, and I hope to have the pleasure of informing you before the week ends that every colliery of the Coal Company is closed up."

Mr. Moffatt, the Grand Secretary of the P. W. A., stated that on hearing of the arrival of the troops and being assured of protection, fifteen foreigners immediately went to work in Dominion No. 1, and we expect 76 extra men to start work at Caledonia to-day. The soldiers presence has imbued our men with confidence that their lives, homes and property will be protected and during the next few days I look for such a large return of the men to work as will smash the strike to pieces."

SUFFRAGETTES CAUGHT BRITISH PREMIER WOULD NOT TALK

But After Presenting Petition, They Came Back and Wound Up by Getting Arrested

London, July 9.—Four suffragettes, who, under the leadership of Mrs. Despard, have been waiting patiently for the past few days in the vicinity of Parliament, waylaid Premier Asquith in Downing street this afternoon and tried to push through the police cordon that was drawn around the Premier's residence. The women shouted: "Petition, petition: will you grant us a hearing?"

The Premier turned on the steps of his home, saying: "I will take the petition." He descended and having accepted the petition, entered his without listening to any explanation. The deputation withdrew, but, on returning later, were arrested and charged at the Police Court with disorderly conduct. They were remanded until Monday.

EMPEROR WOULD NOT TALK

Avoided All Reference to Present Day Problems at Celebration of Paltava.

Poltava, July 9.—The hopes of those who were expecting an important political announcement to-day in connection with the celebration of the second centennial of the battle of Paltava were disappointed. Emperor Nicholas this evening spent two hours among 3,200 peasant delegates who had assembled here from Central Russia, informally conversing about their needs, but as in his responses to two addresses presented to him during the day, he avoided all reference to present problems in Russia and kept the historical importance of the celebration always to the fore.

The day passed without incident. The most significant feature of the festival was the spirit of loyalty exhibited toward the Emperor in the heart of Russia.

Almost equally important was the rebuff administered to the reactionary organizations, whose leaders had hoped to turn the celebration into a demonstration for the abolition of the Duma. The Emperor barely noticed these delegates who had assembled with banners on the battlefield and at the Church, and patiently avoided passing before the deputation which aligned itself with the troops at Parade.

To-morrow will be purely a military day, with a parade after which the Emperor will leave for St. Petersburg for a few hours leave at Kiev, the cradle of the Russian empire.

TWICE HANGED FOR ONE CRIME

Bungling Work of Georgia Sheriff Makes Victim Suffer Intense Pangs.

Nashville, Ga., July 9.—With blood flowing from his mouth and begging piteously for water, Marshall Lewis, colored, was led back to the scaffold to-day to be hanged a second time after the Sheriff had attempted to execute him. The drop of six feet stretched the cotton rope so that the man's feet touched the earth. He was cut down, and with the aid of one man mounted the scaffold a second time, talking coherently. The second attempt proved unsuccessful in breaking the condemned man's neck, death resulting fifteen minutes from strangulation. Lewis shot and killed Clifford Rutherford, assistant postmaster at Lennox, Ga., April 12th. He confessed his guilt.

SPANIARDS FIGHT IN MOROCCO

Tribesmen Are Making Things Decidedly Unpleasant—Forty Killed or Wounded.

Melilla, Morocco, July 9.—Heavy fighting between the Spanish troops and the tribesmen of the regions adjacent to this town, occurred to-day. The natives having killed four Spanish workmen of the Riff Mining Company. General Marina, the governor of Melilla, sent out a force to punish them. The enemy made a long and stubborn resistance. The Spanish artillery demolished several small villages with shell fire and the infantry stormed a fort which the tribesmen had made their headquarters. The enemy lost 900 men, and the Spanish force returned, a muster showed that forty had been killed or wounded.

The situation is extremely threatening. General Marina is entreaching the approaches to the city and has telegraphed to Madrid for reinforcements.

CHAMBERLAIN CONGRATULATES

Cherbourg, July 9.—The message of congratulation that was sent to Mr. Joseph Chamberlain to-day, his 73rd birthday, by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association read:—"Mr. Jos. Chamberlain, Albert Hall, London, England:—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association extend to Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, on the 73rd anniversary of his birthday their heartfelt good wishes, and trust that restored health will soon permit him to play an active part in Imperial affairs. R. Robinson, President."

BURGLAR DREW HIS OWN MORAL

No Business to Interfere With Him in the Pursuit of His Business.

New York, July 9.—Frank Schmidt, alias Fredetick Schleimer, the wounded burglar with a prison record behind him, who admits he killed Mrs. Sophie Staber in her bedroom early yesterday morning when he was caught robbing the Staber house at Flatbush, L.I., gave the District Attorney to-day his version of the moral to be drawn from the murder.

"Mr. Staber and his son are the ones to be blamed for the killing," he said. "They were fools to try and stop such men as us when all we wanted was to make a get away. If we had been left alone there wouldn't have been no shooting. If Mr. Staber will take a gun I will gladly stand up in front of him and let him shoot till I drop dead. That's how much I regret this affair."

Schmidt, who was very weak from loss of blood when captured, was operated on last night and is now in no danger. His pal, Carlo Giro, alias Metzler, who was silent at first, made a full confession to-day in which he tried to lay all the blame on his mate, Schmidt, escaped from Sing Sing, where he was serving 3 years for counterfeiting, in 1906, while repairing the prison wall and has been at large until yesterday's tragedy.

In a visit to-day to the rooms which the burglars had occupied the police discovered what they say might be a clue to the murder of Samuel Bersin, a painter, whose dismembered body wrapped in oilcloth was found in an East Side street a month ago. The police found in the rooms a piece of black oilcloth which they say is of identical quality, color and make as that in which Bersin's body was wrapped. Also they found a long rope of the same texture as that with which Bersin's body was tied. Inspector McCarty went over to Brooklyn tonight to question the prisoners about the Bersin murder.

PEACH BASKET HAT FATAL

Stirred Up Reckless Revolver Handler to Emulate the Late William Tell.

New York, July 9.—"If you put that peach basket hat on I'll shoot it off just like Wm. Tell," said John Clark to his first cousin, Mrs. Mary Foreman, 33 years old, after she returned from a shopping expedition, and proudly exhibited a new head piece. Mrs. Foreman took the dare, thinking the revolver in Clark's hand was unloaded. Perching the hat on her head, she shouted: "Now shoot it off."

Clark raised his arm, levelled the gun and pulled the trigger. Mrs. Foreman fell to the floor. A bullet had penetrated the left side of the nose, bore downward and lodged, apparently against a gland of the throat. She was taken to the hospital in a critical condition.

Clark, who is 27 years old, was grief-stricken, and said that he did not know the revolver was loaded.

AMBULANCE RUN

Shortly after the C.P.R. steamer Empress of Britain moored yesterday afternoon, the city ambulance was summoned to convey a member of the crew to the hospital. The crowd about the dock witnessed a man being carried ashore with his throat banded, and in answer to the query of a Chronicle reporter, Dr. Gale, the ship surgeon, said that the man had met with an accident and had hurt his neck. The name of the victim is Thomas Cassidy, and he was taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital for treatment.

KODAK ORTHOCHROMATIC FILM

Kodak film has the orthochromatic quality (the quality which renders true color values—does not show blue as white nor red and yellow as black) in a far greater degree than any other film. Kodak film does not curl, and is remarkable for its non-halation properties.

We have made glass plates for almost thirty years; we have made films for twenty-five years; we have made transparent films for twenty years; we have made orthochromatic films for nearly seven years; we have made non-curling film for six years. To say nothing of our superior facilities and factories, we have a manufacturing experience that money cannot buy.

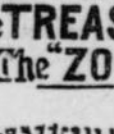

The picture depends upon the film far more than upon lens or upon camera. Load your camera with Kodak N. C. Film, the dependable film, the film which is not an experiment.

WORKSHOPS.

La Patrie in its issue of Wednesday last published the following special despatch from its correspondent in Levis: "The Great Northern Railway Company is negotiating with the authorities of the town of Joliette for the removal of its workshops to that place where it is offered, amongst other advantages, an exemption from taxation for twenty years. This declaration was made by one of the superior officers of the company." We are not disposed to attach much credence to this report, considering it rather curious that it should have emanated from Levis, and not from more likely sources, and fancy it is only a part of a big game of bluff which is being played for some time; nevertheless, it may have some foundation, as ever since the destruction of its workshops here the company has been somewhat in the position of Captain Marryat's "Japhet in search of a Father," or we might perhaps say of Noah's dove, wandering about seeking a place to rest in and finding none.

There has been so much written and said about these legendary workshops that there is little use in saying anything now. The company was morally, if not legally bound to the city of Quebec to establish its workshops here, and it is not too much to say that the aid extended to it by the Corporation on this understanding was given at a very critical stage of its fortunes. Some little time ago there was talk of its building in Limoilou, which was used as an argument for the annexation of that stirring little community, but of late we have heard nothing about the matter, and it seemed to have been dropped altogether till the appearance of the report in La Patrie. If there is any foundation for this, it would seem that the Railway Company has found reason to despair of settling down at Limoilou, and is now looking for a resting place "anywhere, anywhere out of the," not "world," but Quebec, where it ought properly to come.

And talking of workshops, that reminds us of another proposed railway workshop establishment, as part payment for the Champlain market site. At the beginning of the spring it was urged with a great show of reason that no time should be lost by the City Council in coming to an agreement with the Commissioners of the National Transcontinental Railway with regard to this site in order that operations on the terminals might be commenced without delay. It was pointed out that the work on the Eastern section of the Transcontinental was being pushed with great rapidity, and that if work was not commenced on the terminals here without delay they would not be ready for the road when it reached Quebec. The argument was a specious one, and the Chronicle supported it at the time so far as to urge on the Finance Committee and the City Council the propriety of meeting the railway commissioners as soon as possible and coming to an arrangement, if possible, as to the terms on which the market site was to be handed over to them, but, as our readers are well aware, the negotiations fell through owing to the insistence by the Commissioners on the acceptance of their ridiculously low offer, and their refusal to submit to anything else. It looks now as if this plea of urgency was in reality another piece of bluff to hurry the Corporation into granting too favorable terms, for since the Council showed some backbone nothing has been heard about the terminals or the necessity of commencing work on them without delay, although we are now far on in July.

THE MOUNTAIN FORESTS

So much depends upon the conservation of the forests on the Eastern slopes of the Rockies that the Federal Government would be well advised to constitute all those wooded lands as a great forest reserve. This was the recommendation of the Select Standing Committee on Forests, Waterways and Waterpower received just at the close of the session of Parliament. The report declared that the territory in question was at one time heavily wooded, but of recent years there had been a good deal of devastation by fire. The need for preserving this great forest is two-fold. First, it regulates the flow of the rivers upon which Alberta depends for domestic, municipal and irrigation purposes. At present there is water enough to irrigate only two per cent of the irrigable land, while if the forests were conserved at least sixteen per cent could soon be supplied with water.

Then, also, the coal mines of Alberta cannot be worked economically unless there is a plentiful supply of good timber for mining purposes. "It is safe to say," adds the report, "that unless very decisive measures are taken the supply of timber for mining purposes will very soon disappear." The recommendation of the Committee is worth quoting: "Your Committee begs to recommend that immediate action be taken to enlarge the boundaries of the National Parks or Forest Reserves, and that a single continuous forest reserve be created from the international boundary line to the northern watershed of the Peace River, embracing the land upon the east slope of the mountains. It is recommended that a competent warden, with an efficient staff, be placed in charge of the reserve, above indicated, and that stringent regulations be provided for the purpose of preventing the destruction of timber."

A NAVAL MILITIA.

An Ontario conferee makes a very good suggestion that the Dominion should take a leaf out of our neighbor's book, and establish a system of naval militia in the Canadian towns and cities on the great lakes, as part of our contribution to Imperial defence. "One course," it says, "which Canada can take with perfect propriety is to emulate the American example in the matter of a naval militia. The offer of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club to undertake the raising of such a corps should be established. The American naval militia, while its existence on the lakes unquestionably affects the international situation, makes the United States more powerful, and causes the presence of the gunboats, probably is intended primarily for use on the ocean. It rendered useful assistance to the national navy in the war with Spain; and there is no reason why a Canadian naval militia on the lakes should not be an asset to the Empire on salt water. But in any case its presence on our side of the boundary would be an offset to the immense addition to the strength of the United States which is conferred by the organization of its naval militia upon the part of our boundary which heretofore has been free from menace."

The American gunboats are in the lakes and will stay there. They are likely, if anything, to be increased in number and in strength. Our own course is perplexing, but in one respect we shall not go wrong; we must have a naval militia of our own. As for the rest, it is hard to withstand the force of the reasoning which bids us take the ground that there are armed vessels enough upon the Lakes, and decline to allow any more warships to use our canals. An honest situation always is preferable to a dishonest situation; and the present situation is dishonest all round. The Americans pretend to keep the agreement, and steadily accumulate a war fleet. We allow one of the very few elements of military strength we possess to disappear.

ORGANIZE FOR DEFENCE.

The permanent defence of the United Kingdom by the United Kingdom alone is an impossible problem. Canada is incapable, single-handed, of defending itself. It is the same with Australia and so with South Africa. The individual, commercial and territorial interests of each are greater than its people can protect unaided. The safety of each of the British communities lies in its alliance with all the others for the common welfare. In the past thirty years the situation has wholly changed. Previous to that we Britishers had "the outer world" pretty well to ourselves. Of late the earth has so contracted that at every point the Empire finds itself in contact with the expanding activities of other nations. If Anglo-Saxon civilization and British ideals of liberty and free government are to continue to spread over the earth's surface we of this generation must face our responsibilities. We must be true to the noble traditions which are ours and to the splendid heritage handed down to us by our forefathers.

Before the National Defence Association Mr. L. S. Amery spoke of the Empire as a single indissoluble whole which makes the command of the sea a question of life and death for us all. The wide seas are our internal lines of communication, and they must be kept open if the Empire is to be held together. Mr. Amery thinks that, to be as secure in the Pacific as in the Atlantic, we shall require not only to shelter, coal and repair our ships in Australian and Canadian waters, but also to build and man them locally.

This programme does not leave out of account the possibility, or, rather, the probability that, if the Empire is attacked, the blow will be delivered in European waters. If the Empire is to be successfully defended every part of it must take its share of the burden according to its particular ability, and the forces of all must be effectively co-ordinated. Along with these preparations should go a thorough industrial development of the Empire as a whole. The defensive power of a nation depends largely upon its economic strength.

In this connection it has been pointed out that every man put on the land in Canada or Australia is a solid contribution to the problem of Imperial defence, and also a contribution towards its solution. When the fifty-five millions who comprise the white population of the Empire have grown to 100,000,000 the burden of safeguarding themselves will be better distributed and less difficult to bear. Mr. Haldane speaks with definite assurance when he says that if the whole Empire is in earnest, and organizes properly, no Foreign General Staff will risk conflict with a Confederacy possessing such mighty resources.

The War Secretary thinks that, given efficient co-ordination of all available forces, and a decent management of our foreign affairs, we shall have a reserve strength equal to any emergency likely to befall us. But the paramount duty is to organize. To that end, as Sir Edward Hutton has said, we must have clear thinking, a clear conception of what we want, and concrete action when we have arrived at a definite decision—Ex.

MARRIAGE IN ARRAN.

How Weddings Are Conducted in Out-of-the-Way Ireland.

The Isles of Arran are among the least known and most interesting corners of Ireland. The people, mostly fisher folk, are poor and ignorant, yet they speak the ancient tongue of their land with such purity and perfection that scholars from the great universities go to learn from them. An illiterate lad of 14 was recently the quite competent instructor in Gaelic of a distinguished German professor.

A recent sojourner in one of the isles discovered that there were upon it but three wedding rings; but no prospective bridegroom was ever discouraged because he could not buy a ring. He need simply go to the nearest of the three happy matrons who were ring wearers and borrow her ring.

Pulled proudly from her work worn finger, it went into his pocket until the ceremony; afterward the new bride wore it until the end of the honeymoon, when she returned it to the owner.

An Arran bride, however, knows little of honeymoons. It is common, the day after the wedding, to see her staggering up the beach under a creel of fish so heavy that a man of a race less hardy might hesitate to lift it. Negotiations for a marriage are made with a girl's father and a dowry is expected. Business-like as this sounds, Arran lovers can be impetuous. Late one evening it occurred to a certain young man that he would like to marry a certain colleen, and to do so the next day. He hastily gathered a few cousins and at midnight they knocked at her father's door. Every one was abed, but the old man flung on something and opened; the rest of the family, hurriedly dressed, presently joined him.

The matter was arranged and early the next morning the priest was sent for, but there had been a storm and the sea was rough. He was delayed but the festivities were not. Into the midst of the convivial crowd came a messenger announcing that his reverence's boat was in sight; they decided to wait till he landed. Word came that he had landed; they waited for him to climb the path. He did so, but still they lingered, and only an imperative message that he was actually waiting in the chapel broke up the antenuptial jubilation. Then the groom raced ahead, the bride followed gallantly but a few yards behind, the relatives ran after in a go-as-you-please procession, and all were soundly rated for their tardiness before the ruffled priest would proceed to solemnize the marriage with the borrowed ring.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER
DURING HOT WEATHER.

More children die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum, and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give prompt relief, the delay may prove fatal to the child. Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there are children during the hot weather months. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent deadly summer complaints, or cure them if they come unexpectedly. Mrs. O. Moreau, St. Tite, Que., says: "My baby suffered from a severe attack of cholera infantum, but after giving him Baby's Own Tablets the trouble disappeared, and he regained health splendidly." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OTTAWA NOTES

Ottawa, July 8.—Mr. F. C. O'Hara, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, left to-day for Montreal, whence he sails by the Virginian on an inspection of trade agencies in Great Britain. During his absence Mr. T. J. Code will be the acting Deputy Minister of the Department.

Joseph M. Mussen, of Cayuga, has been appointed trade agent at Leeds, England, in place of J. B. Jackson, transferred to Shanghai. The position carries with it a salary of $3,000 per year.

Catarrrhal Asthma, a remedy now being used that destroys the microbe and cures permanently.

That germs cause these diseases is beyond dispute—and this conclusion renders obsolete the practice of treating asthma, catarrh and bronchitis by stomach drugging, sprays, snuffs, etc. Such treatments are an utter failure because they cannot penetrate the delicate air cells of the lungs or permeate the air passages of the nose and the bronchial tubes where the germs of catarrh have their stronghold. Catarrhazone is the only certain remedy. It is inhaled by the mouth and after spreading through all the respiratory organs is exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrhazone kills the germs, heals the inflamed tissues, clears the head and throat in two minutes and cures in a few hours. Nothing so effective pleasant and simple as Catarrhazone. The dollar outfit of Catarrhazone invariably cures Catarrh, Throat Irritation and Chest Weakness. Smaller trial size 50c. All dealers or The Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Ontario.

WOODEN-LEGGED POLICEMAN.

Still Doing Duty, Though He Lost a Limb in an Accident.

London, July 9.—Mr. George Chort is naturally proud of the fact that he is the only policeman in London, probably in the world, who has a wooden leg. He lost his left leg as the result of being knocked down by an engine while on night duty. That was as long ago as 1877.

Mr. Short told a "Lloyd's News" representative that Saturday was the thirty-second anniversary of the affair and said that it was a very memorable anniversary with him, because the accident might have been a great deal worse. As it is he has lived to serve the S.E. and Chatham Railway ever since, and he hoped to continue to do so for many years to come, for though Mr. Short is fifty-six years of age he is hale, hearty, and active. Ever since he recovered from his accident he has been stationed at the main gate of the Bricklayers' Arms goods depot. For twenty years, at least he has not known what it is to be ill. "I don't look very bad, do I?" he says, and, indeed, he looks the picture of health. A ruddy face, fringed with a short grey beard, surmounts a sturdy figure. The Old Kent road must be a very healthy place to live in; as healthy as the county from which it takes its name. And Mr. Short is a man of Kent, having been born in Maidstone in 1853.

In the intervals of checking the waggons and carts that pass through the gate he tells you that he believes in early rising, good food, and plenty of work, and not worrying, and that, if you want to know, is how he manages to keep young. He has never smoked, but he takes a glass occasionally, and his friends say he can sell a good story. Anyhow, he enjoys life thoroughly. He was married in 1877, and has a family of four, the youngest of whom is twenty-two years old. Mr. Short is a constant reader of "Lloyd's News," and the waggons carrying the paper on which "Lloyd's News" is printed are among the most familiar of those that he sees passing through the gates.

FINDS IN EGYPT.

Ancient Palace Discovered by British Archaeologist.

Prof. Flinders Petrie recently gave an account of the work of the British School of Archaeology during the past season at Thebes and Memphis. The great result of this year at Memphis has been the discovery of the palace of King Apries—the Pharaoh Hophra of the Bible—who was contemporary with Jeremiah. Hitherto no palace has been known in Egypt beyond the tower at Medinet Habu and some portions of rather earlier date. The palace now discovered is of impressive scale, about 400 feet long, and half as wide. The Middle Court is well over a hundred feet square, and the painted stone columns in it were more than 40 feet high. The stone-lined halls, of which seven remain, were over 40 feet long and half as wide. The brick walls were about 15 feet thick. A still larger court extended on the north side, in which lie capitals of columns which must have been about 50 feet high. The approach to the palace led up through a large mass of buildings to a platform at a height of about 60 feet above the plain. In the ruins scarce armour, hitherto rarely found in Egypt, was discovered. Good bronze figures of gods were also found. What Prof. Petrie described as the one supreme piece was the fitting of a palanquin of solid silver, a pound in weight, decorated with a bust of Hathor with a gold face, of the finest workmanship of the time of Apries. The great gateway and the immense walls descending deep into the mound indicated that there lay there the ruins of successive palaces built one over the other, and Prof. Petrie prophesied that in six or eight years, if the school received sufficient financial support, they might dig down to the earliest records of the Egyptian Kingdom. The temple of Merenptah occupied a large part of the work, some of the columns and bases showing that Pharaoh was appropriating older work. The temple of Ptah and the desert village or region were also explored during the season.

Prepare For Lumbago!

If You Have "Nerviline" Handy One Rubbing Will Cure the Pain.

THOUSANDS USE "NERVILINE"

The "strike" of lumbago is like a bolt of lightning—you never know when it is coming or where it is going to strike. Probably the one certain thing about lumbago is the fact that it can be cured by Nerviline—the only liniment that penetrates deeply enough to reach the congested chords and muscles.

"Years ago I strained my back and suffered considerably with weakness over the spine," writes Darius P. Miller, a well-known farmer, residing near Kingsville. "Then lumbago attacked me. I was unable to move or turn. Liniments, poultices and hot applications failed to bring the desired relief, and I was in despair of ever getting really well again. I at last decided to test 'Nerviline.' I got five bottles from the drug store and had it rubbed on three times a day. The stiffness and pain left my back quickly, and by continuing Nerviline I was completely cured of lumbago."

This is similar testimony to that of nearly five thousand Canadians who have written unstinted words of praise to the manufacturers of Nerviline. For the cure of lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia and rheumatism there is no liniment with one-fifth the pain-relieving power of Nerviline. Refuse any substitute. Large 25c. bottles of Nerviline, or five for $1.00, at all dealers, or The Catarthozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

At first, I took five tablets a day, but now I take only one tablet every two days. I am now entirely well, and thanks to "Fruit-a-tives," I give you permission to publish this testimonial.

SHAKESPEARE'S LAW.

No ordinary reader of Shakespeare's works can fail to be struck by the copious and ever-recurring legal phraseology with which they are filled. Not only are law terms frequently employed with an almost professional correctness to give color and intensity to his sentences, but whole scenes are taken up with allusions to or discussions on purely legal matters, as in "The Merchant of Venice," "Henry V.," and the grave scene in "Hamlet," not to mention other plays. So profound indeed is the knowledge displayed all through that no less an authority on the subject than Lord Campbell has told us that "to Shakespeare's law, lavishly as he propounds it, there can neither be murmur nor bill of exceptions nor writ of error." To this marked feature of the works more than any other one might perhaps with justice attribute the very origin of the whole Baconian theory. The point is naturally of extreme importance in the eyes of those whose only knowledge of the literature of the period is confined to Shakespeare's writings. But that importance shrinks rapidly to insignificance after a course of reading through the general dramatic literature of the time, in which, as a matter of fact, legal similes and allusions are found to occur with about the same frequency as in Shakespeare's works. So strong indeed is the legal coloring of all stage writing at the time that one is forced to believe that law talk must have been more common among laymen in those days and especially among laymen of a play-going disposition than it has ever been during any period since. There are indications besides that some critics were getting tired of all this legal jargon, Dekker, for instance, who writes:—

"There is another ordinary at which your London usurer, your stale bachelor and your thrifty attorney do resort—the price, threepence; the rooms as full of company as a jail. If they chance to discourse it is of nothing but statutes, bonds, recognizances, fines, recoveries, audits, rents, subsidies, surretles inclosures liveries indictments, outlawries, feoffments, judgments, commissions, bankrupts, amercements and of such horrible matter."—Gull's Horn Booby, 1609.

MONTENEGRO DANCES.

The Kolo Is a Feature of All Great National Festivals.

The national dance of Montenegro is the "kolo," somewhat similar to the "hora" of Bulgaria. Both sexes take part, crossing hands and forming an unjoined circle. The music they supply themselves, each end of the horn alternately singing a verse in honor of the prince and his warlike deeds. The "kolo" is always danced at any great national festival, and the effect of the sonorous voices and swaying ring is very fine. Then there is another dance performed by four or five, usually youths, to the accompaniment of a fiddle, the leader setting a lot of intricate quick steps which the rest imitate at once. It is really a sort of jig and makes the spectator's head swim if he watches it for long.

I never saw any dances in northern Albania, though certain Slav artists love to depict wonderful sword dances, with beautiful maidens swaying gracefully after the style of nautch girls. A casual observer who has seen the Albanians come into Montenegrin markets or to their great weekly gathering in the bazaar of Scutari could never picture these stern, lean men dancing or at play. They never smile, and they look the life they lead, each clan ever ready for war with its neighbor and absolutely pitiless in the vendetta. The red Indian is not more stoical in his bearing than the northern Albanian clansman.

HEROIC RESCUE BY IRISH BOY

Saves Man After Life and Death Struggle in Sea.

Dublin, July 9.—A particular courageous rescue from drowning near Carrickfergus by Robert Rice, a sixteen year old Belfast lad, was reported on Saturday.

Master Rice, who holds the certificate and medalion of the Royal Life Saving Society, was cycling to Whitehead on Friday, when his attention was attracted by the peculiar movements of a man in a small boat a full quarter of a mile off the landing. So eccentric was the person's behaviour that the cyclist dismounted to more closely observe him.

Suddenly the awkward boatman lost an oar, and leaning over the side to pick it up fell into the water. Throwing his bicycle to the side of the road, Rice ran across the field that intervened between the road and the shore, and seeing that the man was clinging to the side of the boat, he quickly stripped off his clothing and swam out to him.

Nearing his object the swimmer could see that the person was on the verge of complete exhaustion, and, indeed, no sooner did he reach within arm's length than the helpless man clutched wildly at his rescuer, gripping Rice around the shoulders.

What was a real life and death struggle now began, but the lucky lad's life-saving knowledge stood him in good stead, and releasing himself quickly Rice dragged his burden some fifty yards by the third method of rescue (arms under).

After his quarter mile swim, the work was terribly laborious, but the plucky rescuer managed to pull his man to the shore by alternate use of the first and third methods.

A crowd had collected by this time, and several cyclists assisted to resuscitate the unconscious man, while Rice quietly dressed himself, and refusing to disclose his name.

LINGERING WEAKNESS FOLLOWING DISEASE

Can be Banished by the Wonderful Tonic Powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

How often is it that the victims of disease—fevers, measles, in grippé or any other contagious troubles are weak and ailing, even after the disease itself has disappeared. They do not pick up strength as they ought; remain listless, tired and discouraged. The reason for this is that the blood has been impoverished by the ravages of the disease through which the victim has passed. Strength will not return until the blood is enriched. The blood can be enriched by no other medicine as quickly and as surely as by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People—to enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves is the whole duty of these pills—thousands have found them beneficial in bringing strength after disease had left them weak and run down. Among those who owe good health to these Pills is Miss Laura Hisco, New Ross, N.B., who says:—"Following an attack of measles I was left greatly run down and suffered from a bad cough. I was advised to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and procured half a dozen boxes. Before they were all gone I had regained my strength; my cough had disappeared and I was once more enjoying perfect health."

The experience of Miss Hisco is that of many others. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, rich, red blood. This new blood strengthens the nerves and banishes such ailments as rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, dyspepsia, etc., and brings the glow of health to pale cheeks. The Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BELGIANS WON THIRD VICTORY

Defeated Jesus College Crew by Bare Length in Race for Grand Challenge.

In the final for the Grand Challenge Cup for eights in the Henley regatta, the Belgians made their third successive win of the trophy—they were not allowed to compete last year because of the Olympic regatta.

This year they defeated Jesus College by a bare length. Time, 7:08.

STORY OF RACE.

Shortly after the race, when Temple Island was reached, the Belgians led by half a length. This lead was maintained for some distance, and at the mile the Belgians led by three-quarters of a length.

DIAMOND FINAL.

In the final for the Diamond Sculls, Stuart beat Lucas. Stuart led at the start, and at Temple Island was in front by a length, continuing to increase his lead gradually. At the mile he led by two lengths, when Lucas stopped rowing. Stuart paddled home time, 8:31.

BELGIAN STYLE.

The style of the Belgian crew, which set England topsy-turvy four years ago on the occasion of the first win by an eighth from outside of England, has been the subject of much controversy. Joe Wright, of the Argonauts, probably hits it on the head when he says that the Nautique de Gand eight was one that would likely win with any kind of style.

The main feature of their work is their tremendous leg drive, but unless they had the men to do the driving, doubtless their peculiar style would avail them but little.

QUESTION OF SLIDING.

The old controversy as to the respective merits of the English style of the short slide and the call upon the backs of the crew to furnish the power, and the Canadian way of a maximum slide and a minimum of back work, seems to have been successfully solved by the Belgians, who have adopted a medium slide throwing the weight on the leg drive.

After all is said and done results speak loudest, and perhaps the best explanation is that the Belgians have a great crew.

CORNWALL RELIES ON HOME BREWS

Hence the Popularity of National Game in the Factory Town.

Sporting writers of many city dailies have been discussing ways and means of maintaining or rather restoring interest in lacrosse, but if they would only turn their eyes on this little town on the banks of the St. Lawrence they can find the best, if not the only remedy. What has kept the Cornwall lacrosse team always at or near the top of the big senior league for a quarter of a century? What has enabled the local club to survive the exodus of practically a whole senior team one season after another, lured away by the promise of big money in Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and other places? What has given Cornwall a beautiful athletic field and grand stand equalled only by three or four to be found in Montreal and Toronto?

The answer is simple, says a Cornwall writer. Instead of depending upon imported stars, with reputations more or less deserved, who have no local friends, Cornwall has played homebrews, and the result is families of lacrosse players from generation to generation. Like the Lallys, Brodericks, Degans, Cummins, etc., whose names have become famous for years, and are famous even now among the ten-year-old teams of the local schools of the various other "kill" teams, who are sons, nephews or perhaps brothers of men who have played the game and upheld the fair name of Cornwall in the past. In Cornwall and the immediate vicinity are two intermediate leagues, the most distant being at Wales, eleven miles away. Anyone who saw the match last Saturday between Grant's Corners and the Internationals of Cornwall would have seen twenty-four fine lacrosse players putting up a fine systematic game.

Another thing that has helped the game here is that it has been boomed at home and abroad in the press as the one game that is better than all others.

The talk of doubling the schedule would find little favor in Cornwall, as none of the local players depend entirely on their lacrosse salaries for a living. Nearly all of them work at least full five days a week, and Cornwall will have to grow some before it can stand for mid-week games. From this standpoint the double schedule and mid-week games would suit very few except the out and out pros, who are living entirely on their ability to play lacrosse.

RESULTS AT SHEEPSHEAD.

Sheepshead Bay, N.Y., July 9—Alfred Noble, carrying top weight, 125 pounds, quoted at 1 to 4 in the betting, easily won the feature event, one mile, fourth on the card at Sheepshead Bay to-day. The field he met was only ordinary and no liberties were taken with the winner. The favorite was sent to the front early by Dugan and won, hard held, by two and a half lengths.

BOOMING THE NATIONAL GAME

Popular City Alderman Offers Handsome Trophy for the Junior League.

While other cities seem afraid that the national game of lacrosse may soon become as extinct as the dodo, young Quebec still clings to the strenuous game, and this year has one of the strongest junior leagues which it has ever had. The hope of the game, is of course, in the youth of the country, and the Ancient Capital has nothing to bemoan in this respect, for it is raising a crop of players, whose names in the near future may be breathed with the same admiration that the heroes of by-gone days are mentioned.

Promotion of sport in Quebec is at all times a difficult matter, but there are a few who still believe in a sound mind in a healthy body, and are ready at all times to encourage all movement for the promotion of athletics among the young people of the city. Among those no one is more enthusiastic than Ald. Lockwell, who in all matters of Canadian pastimes has ever taken a leading part. His latest offering to the promotion of sport in Quebec is the "Lockwell Cup," to be emblematic of the junior lacrosse championship of Quebec. The trophy is a magnificent one, and one which might well be competed for by senior teams instead of juniors. It has been on view for some time in the window of Faguy, Lepinay & Frere, and it has awakened the admiration of all who have seen it.

The cup has been handed over by Ald. Lockwell to three trustees, Messrs. C. Faguy, A. J. Bussieres, Sporting Editor of the Soleil, and C. Mills Teakle, Sporting Editor of the Chronicle. These gentlemen held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the Victoria Hotel, when rules regulating the possession of the cup were drawn up. It was decided by the trustees that the cup, to become the absolute possession of any club, must be won three times, not necessarily in succession. Should the league dissolve without finishing the season, it will revert to the donor. The winner of the league series will be required to demonstrate to the trustees that they played on another team during the season and otherwise conformed to the rules of the league which governs them.

SOMETHING ABOUT HANS HOLMER

Winner of Two Recent Marathons, who will be Central Figure of Today's Race.

This afternoon Quebec will be afforded an opportunity of proving whether it has the sporting spirit strong enough to patronize the best that is going. Four men, three of them of almost world-wide fame, will run twenty miles on the Q.A.A. grounds. Holmer, of Quebec, is familiar with everybody, Orpheus and Cibot, the Frenchmen are names which have figured in newspaper accounts of long distance races in all sections of the world, while Beaudet, a newcomer, is highly thought of by his friends. The race will start at three o'clock and should attract one of the greatest gatherings of the season.

The central figure in to-day's race will undoubtedly be Hans Holmer, whose recent win of two big Marathons, has placed him at the flood-tide of popularity in Quebec, and a few notes of his racing career may not be without interest. Hans Holmer was born in London, in January, 1887. His father was of Danish descent and his mother was an English woman. At the age of fifteen years he emigrated to New York, after which he visited several parts of the United States till 1903, when he joined the R.C.R. Regiment at Quebec.

In that winter Holmer took up snowshoeing and engaged in several races. In 1904 he followed the sport up and entered a race with Champion Abelson, of Leeds, and was beaten by only five yards.

In that spring he entered a quarter-mile foot race on the path and was an easy winner.

When the Canadian authorities took over the military affairs at Halifax, Holmer was transferred from Quebec to Halifax, where he remained until March 17th, 1907, when he joined the Permanent Army Service Corps, from which he lately got his discharge.

It was really in the spring of 1907 that Holmer made his appearance in the running game in Halifax. He ran the quarter-mile and one mile events in the 66th Rifle and Drum sports at the Armories. Later he went to Picton and won the mile event in 4:52, the fastest time ever made on that track.

On the 12th of July Holmer was sent to Westville, where he captured the mile race in 4:52, and the half-mile event in 2:11, both being easy for the Crescent man.

At the electric light sports on the Wanderers' grounds that year Holmer won the mile race in 4:58, the time being slow, as he was not passed. He lost, however, to Ross, in the half-mile race, recognizing that he was not in the class with the speedy Wanderers' men. Holmer took second place.

In the Labor Day sports Holmer entered three races, the quarter, half, and mile. In the quarter he was beaten by T. Ead. In the half mile he had an easy win in 2:09, and led in the one mile event in 4:52.

At the M.P.A.A.A. championships in 1907 he won the mile event in 4:38-3-5, and had been pushed forward to have given the record of 4:34, being held by McIntosh, a far.

At Stellarton, in the fall, Holmer won the mile in 4:58, and the half mile in 2:20, the track being rough and heavy. He was defeated in the quarter mile event by Patterson of Westville.

On Thanksgiving Day Holmer was first in the Evening Mail ten-mile road race, defeating over sixty of the best men in the Maritime Provinces. Holmer's time was 59:25-2-5.

In the Star race at Montreal Holmer came in sixth in the fifteen-mile road race, and was only one minute behind the famous Longboat. Holmer's time was 1:27:55.

At the annual road race held by the D. B. C. A. that fall, Holmer came in a winner, clipping several seconds off the records. His time was 32:12.

Holmer was then sent to St. John, where he won the annual Marathon road race in 36:31-1-5.

Holmer was in the pink of condition when he entered the Olympic trial race on Wednesday, May 20th, 1908, and covered the distance in 1:27-2-5, and a winner, 30 seconds ahead of Wolfe, the second man.

The next running done by the Maritime Province champion was the Olympic trials at Toronto, where, by the fault of purchasing new shoes, which hurt his feet, he abandoned the race.

At the Wanderers' electric light sports last summer Holmer had his heart set on the Maritime Province one mile record, which he managed to break, while being closely pressed by Pryor of the Wanderers. Holmer's time was 4:27—a new record.

At the C.A.A.U. championships Holmer defeated Skene of Toronto, and won the Canadian championship. It was a wonderful race, which looked to be Skene's to within 100 yards of the finish, where Holmer overhauled the Upper Canadian and won in 4:36. Holmer also won the mile event in the M. P.A.A.A. championships, but not in the time made at the electric light sports, at which he established the record.

Holmer now turned his attention to long-distance running, and prepared for the Evening Mail's ten-mile race on the 17th of October. He had little difficulty in winning this race against a field of starters, which numbered over 60, and broke the record made by him last year. His time was 57 flat.

The following Saturday Holmer, who was one of the Halifax team at Montreal, took second place in the Montreal Star's 15-mile race, being defeated by Longboat by only 70 yards. Holmer's time was 1:26-2-5.

His last race for the season, and the most important race in which he had entered, and where he was pitted against the strongest runners in Canada, was the Thanksgiving Day road race at Hamilton, Ont. Holmer competed to victory in this race in as expert a manner as in any of the long-distance races in which he won. His time in the biggest of all races was 1:51:16.

A GREAT MATCH.

A game which will undoubtedly have a deciding effect upon the championship of the Junior Lacrosse League will be played to-morrow afternoon on the Q.A.A. grounds. The Frontenac team, which has so far not been defeated, will be lined up against the Shamrocks, one of the teams which expect to be able to pull out ahead of them. The game promises to supply all kinds of excitement, and will surely draw one of the greatest crowds of the present season. The Shamrocks have been practising steadily for this game, and the twelve which will turn out to meet the championship aspirants will be one which will give them a lot of trouble to beat. The game will be a fast and exciting one, and upon its result will to a large extent depend the possession of the Lockwell Cup and the championship for the season.

A RARE CHANCE

To buy a magnificent building lot in the central part of the city. Suitable for building two houses or a factory. The property has just been vacated by Mr. McKnight, who has occupied it for the past twenty years as a coach factory. This property faces Cook street, and is almost opposite St. Andrew's Church. There are no houses opposite. It would, moreover, be suitable for a fire station should the Corporation find it necessary to remove the stables from their present position. The ground contains a superficies of about 6,000 feet. The frontage is wide, and it runs to over 1,000 feet in depth. It has to be sold at once for close estate. If not otherwise disposed of it will be offered by auction. Such a splendid city site is a bargain that should not be allowed to slip through your fingers.

On Thursday morning a sad and fatal accident occurred in the parish her, but too late, as she was badly burned and died during the afternoon from her burns. In attempting

GERMAN TRADE.
A league has been formed in Germany with the object of making strong representations to their government, of having the prohibition duties set aside, which now exist in Germany and Canada to the detriment of mutual commerce.

With the prospect of having an enormous surplus quantity of Canadian grain to dispose of during the coming winter, the present is an opportune time for securing the abolition of the German Surtax and rendering the continental market more accessible.
The exports from the United States to Germany are enormous and there is no reason why a share of this trade should not be secured for our western farmers.

The following figures give one an ness that could be done with Ger-

MINISTER WATCHED IMMIGRANTS LAND

Hon. Sydney Fisher Paid Visit to Empress and Also was Down to Quarantine.

Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, in whose department the immigration business of the country is centred, has been in town for a couple of days past looking over the arrangements for receiving and examining the new-comers to the Dominion. Yesterday he was an interested spectator at the landing of the passengers of the C.P.R. steamship Empress of Britain and was one of the first to board that vessel when she moored at her dock.

On Thursday, Hon. Mr. Fisher made a minute inspection of the Gros Ile quarantine service, which place he visited in company with Major Davidson,

TRADES CONGRESS.
Mr. Arcand, of Montreal, general organizer of the Carpenters of America, attended the meeting of the Trades Council of Quebec last evening, when some 200 or more delegates, representing organized labor of Quebec, were enthused by his eloquent discourse on matters in connection with the necessity of organizing of trade.

IN THEIR NEW QUARTERS.
The Parisian Corset Manufacturing Company has its factory again in all but full operation after the late disastrous fire in St. Roch, which laid their former premises in ruins. It is just a month ago today since the conflagration occurred, and Quebec may be well proud of the business energy and enterprise of the manager of the Company, Mr. E. Ernest Ross, in providing employment so expeditiously for the hundreds of men and women who were engaged by the firm at the time of the fire. The new premises of the company comprise the upper story of the spacious building of the Royal Paper Box Company, with comfortable office accommodation on the ground floor and ample storage rooms in the basement. It will take some time to fill the orders which have been accumulating during the month, but no effort is being neglected to have everything in working order to meet every demand and to return to the routine of a prosperous and well conducted business.

As it was in the old building, there was hardly space in which to overtake the demands of an increasing trade; and there is every prospect that a large and improved factory will have to be erected on the site adjacent to the Paper Box Factory at the corner of Colombe Street and Boulevard Langelier. In the near future to meet the necessities of the firm, and its growing trade, the company's trade connections extends all over Canada, from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island. The very latest and up-to-date machine has already been located in the temporary premises, and it is worthy of note that some of the machinery was ordered even while the embers of the old building were still aglow. So keenly alive to the necessity of business activity was Mr. Ross, in face of the calamity which made a ruin to his factory, that present temporary accommodation was arranged for through the kindly co-operation of The Royal Paper Box Company, the day after the fire, with little or no interruption to the business of the firm, beyond what could not be avoided. Mr. Ross has many friends in the business community of our city, whose faith in his enterprise as a business man has only been emphasized by the seeming misfortune which lately befell his company; and now that temporary inconveniences are in a fair way of being overcome, many of these friends are inclined to think that the Parisian Corset Company, of which he is head has only been feigning heir to a blessing in disguise, as so many of our developing manufacturing concerns have from time to time, while encountering seeming disaster. When once Mr. Ross has overtaken the many orders that have been filled in the office of his company since the fire, he himself may perhaps be inclined to think very much the same about the difficulties which have beset him of late. His many employees will at least hardly be other than grateful to him for his zeal in providing them with employment again, as soon as ever the circumstances of the case could possibly permit. The Chronicle joins with those who wish well to the Parisian Corset Mfg. Company and its manager, Mr. Ross, with its own heartiest congratulations.

CARTER WINS HIS CASE.

Recorder Dery rendered judgment yesterday morning in the case of the city of Quebec against Narcisse Angers, a carter at the Levis ferry, who was accused of leaving his cab during the hours in which carters are prohibited from leaving their vehicles. A few months ago a by-law was passed concerning carters, and one of the clauses of the by-law enacts that the Chief of Police can regulate the hours during which carters should remain in their vehicles. The carter contested the action, on the ground that the Chief of Police had no discretion in fixing hours in which carters should be on their vehicles. The Recorder decided that the clause referred to was ultra vires, and dismissed the action against the defendant.

We make Sunshine Furnace fire-pot in two sections—so constructed with fins that they throw off every unit of heat, so constructed with straight walls that it is impossible for ashes to gather and intercept the heat, so con-can expand independent of the lower, thus making it impos-

Expenditure of a Quarter of a Million Dollars in Quebec City

TELEPHONE PLANT UNSURPASSED ANYWHERE

Few people not actually engaged in the telephone service, understand or appreciate what it means to change the central office equipment of a telephone exchange. The service on the old switchboard is not only an expensive article but is a most complicated piece of delicate mechanism. There are millions of connections to be made between small conducting wires, with the manifold parts of the switch every one of which must be perfect in order to insure that each shall properly perform its distinct function. Not only is the designing of such a switchboard an engineering accomplishment of the highest order, the result of years of study and experiment, but mechanically it is a specimen of the best handicraft of the age. Before a new telephone switchboard can be installed in an exchange, room must be provided for it as well as a room for the extensive machinery to operate it, without interference with the existing board and other extensive apparatus. This generally requires, as it did in Quebec, the erection of a new and enlarged building, of the most substantial construction. When the new switchboard is put into operation the old board and all its equipment which cost many thousands of dollars is of necessity discarded practically so much junk, scarcely worth the cost of dismantling. Such is the case in Quebec, the switchboard which is now being discarded having been in use about ten years, reasonably good service, though it had been superseded in the advancement of the telephone art by a board of improved design. This improvement in apparatus which by no means seems to have reached its finish, forms one of the serious problems in financing a telephone system. The people will have no less than the latest and best. The Bell Telephone Co., has aimed to keep abreast of all improvements, but the discarding of enormously expensive plant before it has completed its full term of service is an important consideration, as witness the expenditure just completed of a quarter of a million, to effect what will generally appear to the subscriber to be a tri-improvement, and perhaps because aptly improvement, and perhaps because tently demanded by the Company's patrons. At any rate Quebec is about to enter upon a new era in this service which so well marks the progress of the age. It is pleasing to note the enterprise which Quebec has personal inspection, which will prove most interesting and instructive. With regard to the building, it will suffice to say that the whole ground floor 60x90 feet will be devoted to the General offices, Local Manager, Superintendent of Service, Contract Department, Cashier, Clerks, waiting room and booths for the use of the public. The spacious in dimensions attractive finish and complete in equipment it is in every respect creditable, and convenient both for the staff and the public.

The Eastern section of the first floor will be laid out in rooms for the accommodation of the operators and will consist of a large sitting room furnished with chairs, lounges, tables, etc., and fitted with a small kitchen which will be in charge of an attendant from whom the operators may obtain coffee or other special refreshment off duty. There will be a waiting room for the chiefs and supervisors, lavatories, a bath room and a large locker room. In the locker room will be a clothes drying apparatus by means of which wet wraps may be dried before being placed in the lockers. The lockers will be expanded metal each large enough to accommodate the wraps and other belongings of two operators. The feature of this which will most interest

We have faith in the future of Quebec. That the Company shares this faith is amply evidenced in the provisions they have made in their recent enormous investment. We look forward with confidence, and with our fellow citizens, the Bell Telephone is prepared to do well the part which involves upon it, in aiding to build here a great city.

operation of Subscribers in carrying out the instructions which we give above.

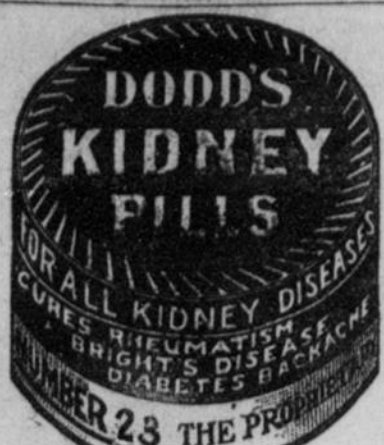

Mr. Bucton, the Postmaster-General who has a keen sense of humor, sent to open a new post office in Potteries only if the mayor of the place in question, a veteran nonsmoker, would smoke a cigar on occasion. The mayor, however, recoiled with horror from the proposition.

MARRIED THE WRONG MAN.

The Young Woman Only Wanted a License—A Friend Accompanied Her to the Office of Justice of Peace to Get the Document, and the Magistrate Married Them.
Married without their knowledge, and against their inclination, a young man and a young woman presented a picture of dismay in the office of Justice of the Peace Fithian, at Camden, N.Y., last week. "Oh dear! Oh dear!" exclaimed the bride in broken English. "I wanted a license to marry another man."

The Justice said the couple indicated to him that they wanted to be married. The man said he was I. Zion, of Atlantic City. The woman said she was Rosa Cabeasero, of Philadelphia. After filing up the return of the marriage Justice Fithian married the couple. When he handed the certificate of marriage to the man the latter gave him a dollar. The Justice said that he did not do business for that fee, and informed him that his price was $5.
The bride hereupon astonished Fithian by informing him that they did not want to get married, but that Zion had simply accompanied her to procure a license for her to marry another man.

"Well, I can't help that. You people are married now," said the Justice.

The Mother's Duty

Mother, when your son enters upon the stage of manhood; when your daughter arrives at that age when nature accomplishes the mysterious transformation expected, yet so dreaded, you must watch with a jealous eye this transition from childhood to puberty. For, that tired feeling, that tendency to melancholy, that sense of fatigue on the least exertion, that capricious appetite and foul breath, that whitish color of the lips, tongue and gums and those dark rings around the eyes are all as many signs of anemia, a disease which counts its victims by thousands at this ungrateful age of puberty, and which does not spare even people of maturer years.

It is the restorative which enriches the blood and purifies it thus strengthening the nerves and muscles, and making of puny children strong, healthy and vigorous youths.

VIN ST-MICHEL is taken in doses of a wine glass full before each meal and oftener when required.

ANCIENT FLEET FOR SALE

Turkey's Wonderful Collection of Obsolete War Vessels, Pioneer of Submarines.

The wave of reform which has swept over Constantinople has nowhere produced greater bustle and commotion than in the naval department. Heroic efforts are being made to evolve some sort of fleet from the collection of venerable derelicts which compose the present Turkish navy.

It was resolved to class as effective all those warships which have undergone renovation in comparatively recent years—namely, within the last decade. Practically all the others are condemned to the scrap-heap, and the local newspapers publish announcements that over sixty battleships, cruisers, monitors, gunboats, and torpedo vessels are to be sold by auction.

Some of these discarded veterans are interesting specimens of the earliest types of ironclad. Practically all date their birth from towards the middle of last century. Among other oddities to be disposed of is one of the oldest submarines extant. It has been peacefully reposing under a shed in the Golden Horn for the last quarter of a century, literally dropping to pieces from rust and neglect. It never saw active service, and only made one trial trip after its purchase by the Turkish Government.

On that occasion it dived prematurely in the Golden Horn and stuck in the mud in a shallow part of that harbor. The crew was rescued after some hours' imprisonment, but apparently could never be persuaded to make another attempt.

Barring some torpedo craft and two comparatively modern cruisers, the vessels retained on the active list are very few degrees superior to those which are to be sold. The flagship, the battleship Messoudieh, was sister-ship to the old Suebir, which was withdrawn as obsolete from the British Navy about the eighties. At considerable cost she was hatched up and renovated in Genoa four or five years ago, and when landed over was able to steam a little over ten miles an hour.

The only other battleship is the Assari-Tewfik, an obsolete coast defence vessel which underwent so-called renovation in German hands in 1906. On her outward voyage from Kiel her commander esteemed himself fortunate when able to knock six knots out of her, and her condition has not improved after months of idleness.

THE WEIGHT OF TOUCH.

A wonderful instrument is that which has recently been invented for the purpose of measuring the sense of touch. The device consists of a series of little disks, suspended by fine, delicate threads from wooden handles, the last being stuck into holes around a block. The lightest disk is taken out and brought into contact with the skin of the subject, the latter having closed his eyes. If nothing is felt a heavier disk is employed, and so on till the pressure becomes noticeable. Through the medium of these disks it has been found that the sense of touch is acute on the forehead and temple. A touch of a disk weighing 1,100 of a grain was observable on the temple, one weighing 5-100 on the nose or chin, and one weighing 9-100 on the inside of a finger.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. A PERFECT GENTLEMAN.

A young man went to Texas and turned cowboy. He rapidly caught the spirit of the country and as rapidly shook off the outward semblance of tender-footed Eastern habit. Rough-bearded, leather-clad, sombrero as wild as the wildest. Yet within his bosom still burned the flame of culture and refinement. One day he was riding with a stranger across the prairie. Turning his head suddenly (he was slightly ahead), he saw his companion make a suspicious motion toward his hip-pocket. Without hesitation he drew his revolver and shot him. The stranger dropped like a log. The cowboy dismounted and looked at the body of his victim. "I wonder if he was really going to shoot me?" he soliloquized. "I'll see." Turning the body over, he discovered a flask of whiskey protruding from the pocket. "Poor fellow!" said he, in a tone of regret. "I've made a mistake. I've killed an innocent man, and a gentleman at that. He was going to invite me to have a drink. Well," he sighed, drawing his sleeve across his mouth, "the last wishes of the deceased shall be respected."

MILLIONS WASTED IN FRENCH NAVY

Ships Without Guns, and Guns Without Ammunition—Models Never Tested.

Paris, July 9.—The report of the commission appointed to inquire into the condition of the French Navy indicates that there is an entire absence of organization in the Navy Department.

It is stated that ships are ordered before the plans are completed, with the result that frequent modifications not only completely alter the type of the vessel, but entail delay and greatly enhance the cost. The six battle-ships of the Danton type will cost 50 per cent. more than the original estimates submitted to Parliament.

In the last ten years France has spent over £120,000,000, and Germany rather less, with this difference, however, that the two countries have exactly changed their places as naval powers. France, which a decade ago held the second position, having now sunk to fourth, while Germany, which was then fourth, is now second.

For the sum expended in France on building five battleships Germany obtained six and Great Britain six and a half. With regard to submarines, though France led the way in constructing these vessels, she is now surpassed for the simple reason that she has not enough men in her arsenals to execute the orders given.

Equally serious are the revelations concerning guns, munitions, and stores. The six battleships of the Danton type are to be completed in 1911, but their guns and munitions will not be ready till 1914 or 1915. The astounding statement is made that certain of these guns have been ordered without models ever being tested.

The defects of the existing guns have caused so many accidents that firing practice has had to be abandoned by the Mediterranean Squadron. Certain big guns would probably be worn out after firing a hundred rounds—that is to say, possibly before the termination of an important engagement.

As to ammunition, it is shown that large stocks of shells of a type which was condemned three and a half years ago have since been manufactured and are still being manufactured last year. It appears that nothing whatever has been done to give effect to the reforms in this department ordered both by the Chamber and the Senate after the Jena disaster.

Ships are short both of guns and of ammunition; obsolete guns have not been replaced, while others of the latest pattern could not fire a shot, having no shells.

There is no adequate provision for repairing and refitting ships in time of war, and there is not a single graving dock which would take the Dantons now building.

Parliament passed a bill eight years ago providing for the construction of new docks with facilities for coaling and repairing, but the construction has discovered that all the credits voted for that purpose have been spent in other directions, chiefly in the colonies.

The remedy suggested for the state of affairs revealed by the report is the complete reorganization of the Navy Department.

TO RUN TO HUDSON BAY.

While the C.P.R. and Grand Trunk Pacific Companies are still engaged in spying out the land in the Peace River Valley, and while the Hudson Bay Railway seems to be hanging fire, the Department of Railways and Canals has just had laid before it a survey plan and plans for a railway through Canada's Northland which will rank with any of the big Canadian railways in importance. These plans have been filed by a company known as the Hudson Bay & Pacific Railway Co., backed by powerful financial interests in Great Britain.

This company represents one of the strongest aggregations of capital that has ever applied for a railway charter in Canada. Its capital is $50,000,000, all of which, it is claimed, is subscribed, while a lot of it has been paid up. The company has had two surveys made of its two proposed lines—one to go to Prince Albert from Hudson Bay across the country just to the south of Lake Athabasca, and thence through the wonderful Peace River Region to Port Simpson, on the Pacific coast, via the Yellowhead Pass.

The company's representatives have laid before the Department plans and soundings of the harbor at Fort Churchill, which is to be the Hudson Bay terminus, and have exhibited contracts already made by which the White Star steamship line will start an up-to-date service between Fort Churchill and Europe as soon as the railway is in operation to Fort Churchill.

CHICAGO IN BAD WAY.

Chicago, Ill., July 7.—Mordecai Brown and Ed. Reulbach, the Cubs' star pitchers, will not join the champions during their present series with Philadelphia, and it will be longer before Reulbach will be able to take his turn on the slab. Brown's wife showed little or no change in her condition yesterday, and the three-fingered pitcher asserted that he would not join the team until his wife is entirely out of danger. Reulbach, who was taken seriously ill with pneumonia poisoning last Monday, was able to sit up yesterday for the first time.

If you become involved in the troubles of other people, you run the risk of losing all your sense—and some of your dollars.

Receipt That Cures Weak Men—Free

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So, I have determined to send a copy of the prescription, free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor—failure ever put together. I think I owe it to my fellow-men to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man, anywhere, who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drug-giving himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what, I believe, is the quickest-acting, restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so, cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4434 Luck Bldg., Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid receipt, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, free of charge.

The Reason Why This Trademark and This Razor Are "Known The World Over"

The chief reason is that the "GILLETTE" meets the requirements of every shaver the world over for a quick—simple—easy—comfortable shave.

The best proof that the "GILLETTE" is the highest type of perfection in razors is, that the men of all civilized lands now demand the "GILLETTE" Razor and the "New Process" Blades.

The men of Canada are especially well pleased with the "GILLETTE," and take not a little pride in the fact that it is made by Canadians in the Canadian factory at Montreal.

You can examine the "Gillette" at your Jewellers or Druggists—at Cutlery or Hardware dealers—or at any Sporting Goods or Departmental Store. Standard sets $5—for sale everywhere.

ST. MICHAEL'S
CHURCH, BERGERVILLEReception to Mrs. Forsyth, by Rector and Congregation on Her Retirement as Organist.

This pretty hall, decorated with so much taste, was crowded on Thursday night when a reception was given to Mrs. Forsyth by the rector and congregation on her retiring from being organist at St. Michael's Church. After the singing of a hymn and a short prayer, the rector, Canon Von Hiltz made some most touching remarks, alluding to Mrs. Forsyth's long and faithful services to the church and parish and then read the following address:

Dear Mrs. Forsyth.—Your retirement from the active discharge of your duties as voluntary organist of St. Michael's Church—an office which you have held for over thirty years—cannot be allowed to take place without some expression, on the part of the congregation, of their warm appreciation of your long, faithful and loving services.

We all know that your labors have been an offering to the honor and glory of God, and that your reward here has consisted in the reflection that your work has been the best you could give towards enhancing the beauty of His worship; but the fact only supplies additional ground for recognition. And as a token of our desire to acknowledge in some small measure the value entertained for your long services, and our kindly feelings towards yourself, we beg your acceptance of this purse of gold, to be applied, according to the wishes of the subscribers, to some object or objects personal to yourself.

Signed on behalf of the congregation. A. A. Von Hiltz, Rector; W. A. Bignell and James Treggeth, Church Wardens.

Mrs. Forsyth was evidently overcome on listening to the words of the Rector and the address, but replied as follows:

Canon Von Hiltz and Friends.—I feel so completely overwhelmed with the great kindness of all my friends here this evening that I am quite unable to express all I really feel. It is all so perfectly unexpected as I never for a moment dreamt of any acknowledgement for my poor services to our dear church and was never more astonished when in a very kind note from our Rector I had the first hint. I consider that I simply did my duty, nothing more. Our duty is not always our pleasure, but in this case I can truly say that to me, it was my pleasure and my privilege. I felt really very sorry to give up the organ but in my old age I thought it better to do so, and feel happy now that it has fallen into such able hands. Mrs. George Denner having most kindly undertaken it and I feel sure that the members of the choir will be as kind to her as they always were to me by attending the practices as well as the services.

Now, once more let me thank you, all from the depths of my heart for your loving kindness and true generosity.

A purse was then handed to Mrs. Forsyth by little Miss Treggeth, daughter of one church warden and a large and lovely bouquet by Master Bignell, youngest son of the other church warden. The Rector called on Canon Scott who made some very happy remarks and read a short, but beautiful, poem which he had just composed:

To Mrs. Forsyth:—
The years of every true life spent
In quiet service of the Lord,
Are full of joy and calm content,
And are themselves their own reward.

When year by year in cold and heat
Each Sunday found you in your place,
You counted it an offering meet
To him who gave you of His grace.

But now that time has laid his hand
Upon your hands and bid them rest,
We trust that you will understand
The gratitude by us expressed.

Take then this little pledge of love
From those who hold you very dear;
God pour His sunshine from above
And grant you long continuance here.

The Very Rev. the Dean was called to say a few words which he delivered in his usual genial style, stating the great pleasure it gave him to be present on this occasion, as he knew as we all did, that playing the organ and other parish duties had always been labors of love with Mrs. Forsyth. Mr. Alfred Wheeler, being the oldest member of St. Michael's present was requested by the Rector to give a short address, and replied as follows:

Dear Friends.—We meet to night to do honor to the lady who has gratuitously presided over the organ and the choir of St. Michael's Church for many years—one is unable to say more than to echo the remarks of previous speakers who have spoken of the subject so well. We are all of us, groping for the heavenly harmonies, but we can never forget the harmonies we have heard in St. Michael's. But I have something more to say of the lady whom we have met to speak of to-night.

Wherever there was sorrow, need, sickness, bereavement, or any other adversity, around us, there was Mrs. Forsyth to be always found. She was there to succour and to sympathize.

Professor Dr. Drummond in his book says that human sympathy and love are the greatest things in the world and Barrie and Crockett have echoed his words. But the Rev. Dr. took extreme care to explain himself. Human love, he said, is not the love of a man for his wife or of a mother for her children—Love is the love of man to man—of brother to brother and of sister to sister. And so the whole wide world is bound as with gold chains to the fact of the Throne. Love will one day disentangle that mass of human perplexities and frictions, and will form those great chords of love and duty which bind the whole universe together. Some years ago I wrote some few lines in the birthday book of a lady in this neighborhood. They seem to me to be appropriate here:—

Thou would'st he loved? Then let Thine heart
From its present pathway part not.
Be everything which now thou art;
Be nothing that thou art not.
And so thy life, thy gentle ways,
Thy grace, thy goodness, which is beauty,
Shall be an endless theme of praise,
And to love a simple duty.

—Alfred Wheeler.

Refreshments were then the order of the day, and a bountiful supply of cakes, ices, tea and coffee, sandwiches, etc., etc., were forthcoming, supplied by ladies of the parish. All were pleased and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Duets and solos were sung. Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. J. Ross, Miss Atkinson and Mrs. Geo. Penny and Master Bignell being among the performers who assisted in making the entertainment a most successful event.

A FREE TRIP TO NIAGARA FALLS
To make our tobacco brand Reveal popular we have decided to have a competition among lovers of smoking and chewing tobacco. Our "Reveal" brand is the ideal of all lovers of the weed and consequently we cannot make a better offer in acknowledgement of the encouragement we received for that tobacco, which is now so popular, than to offer the pleasantest trip to Niagara Falls, by way of the Thousand Islands. The conditions to be fulfilled are most simple. The amount for the expenses of the trip will be given to the party who, on the first of September, will return the largest number of our tin contained in each package of the famous Reveal tobacco.

SPLendid BILL AT THE NICKEL.

Another interesting and entertaining programme is afforded the patrons of the Nickel, in the change of bill which took place there yesterday. The different views are all of a high order, one of the features of the programme being the pictorial representation of Shakespeare's famous comedy of "As You Like It." This is an especially strong picture, and the artists portraying the roles are splendid actors. The other pictures are equally entertaining, and pleasing to the titles being "Saved by a Wait," a pathetic film, a mirthful comedy entitled "Protector of Animals," and a splendid Selig film, entitled "A Country Girl's Peril." Miss Jackson is singing a pleasing illustrated song called "Whistle and I Will Wait For You." While Mr. Edwards' vocal number is "Just What the Good Book Taught."
