MOTORISTS WHO VIOLATE TRAFFIC REGULATIONS RISK STRINGENT PENALTY

Recorder Hale Sets Precedent by Cancelling Driving Licence of Man Caught Speeding at 70 m.p.h. Along Sherbrooke Street—Court Shows Offenders Little Sympathy

Westmount's determined effort to reduce the number of street accidents occurring within the boundaries of the municipality was clearly demonstrated in the Recorder's Court on Saturday when for the first time a motorist apprehended on a charge of speeding had his driver's licence cancelled.

Leopold Cardinal, of Howick, Que., was ordered to forfeit his permit and pay the minimum fine of $10 and costs when he appeared before Recorder C. A. Hale on a charge of driving his car at 70 miles per hour along Sherbrooke street at 2.30 a.m. on Friday. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Judge Hale's cancellation of his licence set a precedent here as at no other time has a driving permit been taken from a motorist for speeding. It showed clearly the definite stand that Westmount has adopted in regard to violators of traffic regulations. In future motorists passing through this city will obey traffic laws or risk severe punishment.

Under the Province of Quebec Motor Vehicles Act, a motorist driving over 10 miles an hour in excess of the legal speed limit runs the risk of losing his licence and of paying the maximum fine of $100 and costs.

Following instructions issued some months ago to apprehend all motorists who in any way failed to abide by traffic regulations, Westmount Police have conducted what is virtually a campaign to reduce to the minimum street accidents here.

Besides speeding all motorists who fail to obey stop signs or automatic traffic control lights; park in no-parking areas; stop on the left-hand side of the street; or in any way ignore traffic regulations are being penalized.

Cyclists have also been closely watched and compelled to abide by the same regulations governing motorists.

ACCIDENT CAUSES BUT SLIGHT DAMAGE

Fenders on both machines were dented when an automobile driven by John Paterson, 73 York avenue, and a truck driven by S. Reid, 7477 Bloomfield avenue, collided at the intersection of Upper Belmont and Sunnyside, at 4.20 p.m. on Friday.

Paterson told police that the engine of his car stalled as he was going west on Sunnyside and was crossing Upper Roslyn. The side of his car was struck by the truck which was about to make a turn from Sunnyside onto Upper Roslyn.

MAN CHARGED WITH CASHING FALSE CHECKS

Charged with cashing two cheques totalling $46.35, Jack Ellwell, who gave his address as 66 Bruce avenue, chose trial by jury when he appeared before Judge Archambault on Wednesday. He will appear for preliminary hearing on October 10.

WESTMOUNT ASSOCIATION WILL ANNOUNCE PLANS AT VICTORIA HALL MEETING

Monday Night's Session Adjourned In Order to Give Members Further Time to Study Situation — W. R. Bulloch, M.L.A., Expected to Announce Plans Shortly — Little Definite News Available

The Westmount Conservative Association will in all probability name a candidate for the Westmount-St. George division in the forthcoming Provincial elections at an executive meeting in Victoria Hall this evening, it was learned from a reliable source yesterday.

A meeting of the association in Victoria Hall Monday night was adjourned shortly after it opened as the members felt that all matters pertaining to the selection of a candidate should be tabled until they had a clearer understanding of the platform to be adopted by Premier Duplessis.

Thus far officials of the association have refused to give any indication as to who will carry the Conservative banner in Westmount—St. George.

Questioned yesterday W. R. Bulloch, M.L.A., who has represented Westmount at Quebec since the last Provincial election, said that he was not yet in a position to make an official statement. It is considered probable that he will make his plans known before the end of the week, however.

Liberal party organizers have given no indication as to whether they intend to run a candidate in this division or not. Certain quarters hold that the Liberals intend making a strong bid in all seats where they are conceded the remotest possibility of success, but such reports can be classed only as conjecture.

FOSSILS CLUB OPENED SEASON MONDAY NIGHT

New Executive Took Charge at Meeting — President Leonard Martin Presided

The Fossils Club of Westmount opened the 1939-40 season on Monday night at the club rooms at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. The new executive took charge and President Leonard Martin was in the chair. A large number of members were on hand to greet the new officers.

A gift of two row-boats and twenty-five pairs of blankets had been made to Camp Lewis, and a donation had been given to the Y.M.C.A. for part memberships for underprivileged boys.

The entertainment chairman, John Rice, announced that the annual Formal Dance would be held in the Mount Royal Hotel on Saturday, November 18th. The club is departing from the usual procedure and will inaugurate a dinner dance, commencing at 8.30.

A vote to fill a vacancy on the executive board was held and Arthur H. Mann was elected. As guest of honour, the chairman introduced Don Tillman who was a contestant in the Annual Kinsmen's Club Roller Derby, and who was sponsored by the Fossils Club. Don placed second in his class.

Urge Co-Operation During Fire Prevention Week

During Fire Prevention Week, commencing Sunday, the Westmount Fire Department will sponsor a wide program to acquaint residents, especially school children, with precautions that should be taken to eliminate, as far as possible, unnecessary outbreaks.

Home inspection blanks for school children will be distributed to schools of the municipality. They stress the importance of keeping cellars clear of rubbish and kindling; of removing rubbish from yards; and of seeing that chimneys are in good repair. Pupils will also be told to learn the location of the fire alarm box nearest their home.

Forms for pupils to fill out will determine if proper precautionary measures are taken in their homes. They will answer questions as to the manner in which garbage is disposed of; the condition of chimneys, pipes, electrical wiring, etc.

The co-operation of residents in making Fire Prevention Week a success is sought by the Fire Department. Fire losses could be greatly reduced, it is pointed out, if residents will maintain their homes in as fire-proof a condition as possible.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS

Beery is Grandfather of Triplets in Current Film

Wallace Beery recently became the grandfather of triplets and three Los Angeles families were 175 richer as a result.

The script of "Sergeant Madden" now showing at the Monkland United Theatre, called for only one baby to be born to Laraine Johnson, Beery's adopted daughter, and Alan Curtis, his son. But because babies can work only thirty seconds at a time before the camera for a total of twenty minutes, and because they cannot be on the set more than two hours, three children had to be obtained to alternate in the hospital sequence.

In the script the baby is a boy. But he was impersonated in turn by eleven-day-old Jerold Clifford Lyons, by ten-day-old Bernice Alexander and by twenty-six-day-old Denise McAnani.

The three youngsters had been obtained by the routine procedure followed when a baby is needed for a film scene.

Miss Mary McDonald, principal of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer school, telephoned to local hospitals to ask for as many young children as possible. Parents were asked if they would like to earn the money.

Upon their consent being given, a doctor certified 48 hours in advance of the scene being shot that the babies were in perfect physical condition to "work." The studio took the responsibility for their safe-keeping. Cribs were set up in specially heated dressing rooms, and a nurse and guardian (in this case grandmothers) stood by for each child.

The Hollywood Hospital and Rice Maternity Hospital supplied the children, who, amazingly enough, made no sound during the entire proceedings, but slept through it all except when drops of castor oil were placed in their eyes before and after being in front of the camera.

"The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle"

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in a scene from the film "The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle" opening Sunday at the Snowdon United Theatre for a three day engagement.

THRILLING SPINE-CHILLER!

Robert Young and Florence Rice in a scene from the exciting film "Miracles For Sale" which opens at the Westmount United Theatre Sunday.

"Dead Pan" Champ Gets Dose Of Own Medicine

Ned Sparks, motion picture's greatest "sour-puss," has finally met up with somebody who can outface him!

Among the kids who appeared with him in the new Bing Crosby picture, "The Star Maker," which opens on Saturday at the York United Theatre, was one whose lean, cadaverous face, covered with red freckles, hides behind a parakeet nose and a patch of red hair.

Everything that happened got the same sour, "so what" expression from him.

After working with the youngsters for a couple of days, Sparks tossed in the towel. "He's got me licked," admitted the champion of all the dead panners. "I can't look at him. It looks as though I'll have to swallow a dose of my own medicine."

The opening major production will be the amusing English comedy "George and Margaret" which will be given at Victoria Hall from October 17 to 21. Victoria Hall has been equipped with new, comfortable padded seats.

"The Star Maker," which is being hailed as the singing cavalcade of show business, was suggested by incidents in the career of the famous showman Gus Edwards. The featured cast of the picture includes, in addition to Crosby and Sparks, Louise Campbell, and Linda Ware, sensational fourteen-year-old singing discovery. Walter Damrosch, "grand old-man" of American music, makes his motion picture debut in this picture.

"The Star Maker was directed by Roy Del Ruth and produced by Charles R. Rogers." The screen play was written by Frank Butler, Don Hartman and Arthur Caesar, adapted from the original story by Arthur Caesar and William A. Pearce.

A five-place Stinson cabin monoplane, the ship is painted a bright red and on its sides are inscribed the Chinese characters, "Tung Kuo Shun Chien Chun"—"Spirit of New China."

France is doubling its shipments of wines and liquors to the United States.

SONGS! ROMANCE! COMEDY

Bing Crosby, Baby Sandy and Mischa Auer in a scene from the film "East Side Of Heaven" opening Sunday at the Monkland United Theatre.

"BACHELOR MOTHER"

David Niven and Ginger Rogers in a scene from the film "Bachelor Mother" which is now playing at the York United Theatre until Friday.

PREAMBLE

One of the minor tragedies of this columnar profession is that deadlines have a most impolite habit of popping up and smacking you flush in the face. In such circumstances the fog-headed typesetter has no recourse except to stick paper in typewriter, start banging the keys—and woe befall his faithful readers.

Your correspondent is the victim of such circumstance this very minute, blessed only with the small mercy that his faithful readers—both of them—have left town for the week and will not see this tragic effort. The clock on the wall has the jitters, and Honest Harry Houghton, handsome dean of the press gang, has left his bottle—soda pop—long enough to chastise us cruelly with the reminder that he dislikes paying linotypers when there's nothing to linotype.

In fact, the situation is desperate—and, as usual, there's no idea in sight. When such conditions prevail, there is no alternative but to cast ourselves a lifeline and plug in the ticker-tape.

Quick, Napoleon—some news!

DAY'S DAY

Notes to this desk from the city by the Golden Gate indicate that Dennis Day, former CBS sustaining vocalist, has been signed as tenor for the Jack Benny show, though as yet there has been no announcement of his appointment. . . . Day's parents know him as Gene McNulty. . . . Wags along the local air-traffic are describing Hitler as a "High Prussia Salesman" . . . With the local symphony season fast approaching, the Montreal Orchestra has scheduled a special broadcast by its younger brother, the McGill Conservatorium Orchestra, through CFCF prior to "Information Please" Tuesday night. . . . Biggest radio news of the week is announcement from Manhattan that all major American networks have adopted self-censorship regulations with regard to the handling of war news.

Blessed with assurance from the White House that the federal government has no intention of molesting broadcasters, the industry has agreed to return to normal schedules and confine sensation to regular dramatic periods. . . .

SWAT

Grantland Rice, Lowell Thomas, Edwin C. Hill, Gabriel Heatter, Stan Lomax, Red Barber, and Bob Eison are scheduled to relay play-by-play accounts of games played in the 1939 World Series through CBM and affiliated stations of MBS and CBC daily at 1.15. Cincinnati Reds and New York's tireless Yankees meet in the classic of swat, currently in progress in Manhattan.

LINES O' TYPE

Canada's national network is planning several actuality broadcasts from camp and barracks across the country, according to information in the mail. First of the series, titled "The Navy Sings," comes from Halifax Wednesday next at 10 p.m. . . . Rumors circulated these past few days to the effect that the Ministry of Transport was to take over com-who sang locally with Huntley on the Normandie Roof, is currently one of NBC's brightest television stars in Manhattan. . . .

FINALE

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who last year refused all figures for air rights to the Judge Hardy tales, have now placed the series on the selling block for $12,500 per show with the original film cast. . . . Thus far, no takers! . . . Orson Welles presents Paulette Goddard as the heroine of "Algiers" via CKAC Sunday eve at 8. . . . Tuesday eve at 8.30 Christopher Morley, newspaper man, Rhodes Schollar and author, joins John Flynn, John Kieran and Franklin P. Adams in the lineup of "Information Please" . . . President Roosevelt speaks on "Mobilization for Human Needs" through CFCF Monday at 10.30 p.m., and "Columbus," Eugene Zador's latest opera, will receive its world premiere from the Radio City Music Hall through the same station Sunday at noon. . . . And so the dial spins. Adios. . . .

Actor-Director Reunion Solves Two Problems

Twenty years ago Director W. S. Van Dyke II and Edgar Kennedy shared the same Hollywood apartment. Their reunions are productive of hilarious reminiscences of earlier days and both agree that they see too little of one another.

When Kennedy dropped in to visit Van Dyke one afternoon the director not only was glad to see an old friend but had a casting problem solved because Kennedy was just the type he sought to play the role of Lieutenant Miller, an honest if slightly bewildered cop in "It's a Wonderful World," current attraction on the Snowdon United screen.

Kennedy is teamed with Nat Pendleton as a pair of human bloodhounds hot on the trail of a murder suspect. They finally solve the crime, but not until the real murderer confesses, much to their surprise.

Sonja Henie Has Skating Partner

For the first time on the screen Sonja Henie has a skating partner on the ice, in Irving Berlin's "Second Fiddle," 20th Century-Fox production now playing at the Westmount United Theatre.

The partner is Stewart Reburn, personable Canadian ice champion, who last year toured the nation with Miss Henie in a triumphal round of personal appearances. Born in Toronto, Reburn participated in amateur theatricals there for years and has made many radio appearances in addition to gaining his skating prowess.

"Second Fiddle" co-stars Miss Henie with Tyrone Power, features Rudy Vallee and Edna May Oliver and six new songs by Irving Berlin and is hailed as the for one show.

Two prominent designers will share honors in the preparation of Joan Bennett's wardrobe in Harry Edington's "Green Hell." Richard Newman is responsible for the star's sport clothes and Irene for her more formal attire.

ARTURO, THE MAGNIFICENT

Toscanini—known to his musicians as Arturo, the Magnificent, inaugurates his third season with the N.B.C. Symphony October 14 at 10 p.m., featuring works of Schubert, Strauss, Haydn and Respighi. . . . The British Postal Censorship Board has worked itself into a lather over amateur musical manuscripts mailed to New York publishers by aspiring young British composers. Strange, unmusical markings found on many manuscripts received since outbreak of hostilities indicate that they have been suspected of containing messages in code intended for foreign agents! . . . Incidentally, publishers along Tin Pan Alley stand to lose over $2,000,000 outstanding to dealers in Europe's warring nations. . . . Phyllis Creore, comely lass

WESTMOUNT DEFEATS MONTREAL HIGH BY SCORE OF 30-0

FIVE TOUCHDOWNS, CONVERTS AND A SAFETY TOUCH GAVE DISTRICT SQUAD HIGH TOTAL

Game Played Monday Afternoon — Local "B" Gridders Went On Scoring Spree — Ralston, Larsen, Walker and Heron Starred for Winners — Cagney and Biega Were Outstanding for Montreal High

Chalking up a 30-0 victory, Westmount High School's senior "B" football team met little resistance from Montreal High Monday afternoon. The local boys hung up five touchdowns, three converts, and a safety touch.

Westmount, displaying exceptional power and team work, made long gains around the Montreal High ends to romp over for majors with obvious ease. Ralston, Larsen, Walker and Heron all were responsible for the greater part of the Westmount tally, while Alec Riddell in the backfield threw effective forward passes for frequent gains, and converted one of the touchdowns via the aerial route.

Cagney and Biega were the best of the Montreal High Squad.

LOCAL GRID SQUAD DOWNS VERDUN 17-11

Senior Inter-Scholastic Football Game Played Here on Friday

The powerful Westmount senior entry in the inter-scholastic football league downed Verdun High School 17-11 in a scheduled game at the home field on Friday afternoon.

The Purple and White squad managed to hold the lead from the start of the conflict. Although younger and lighter than the Verdun boys, the local lads displayed a variety of attack that resulted in their victory. With the exception of a drive in the final quarter, Verdun never menaced the lead of the Westmount squad.

Westmount scored its first try, a 30-yard forward from quarterback Strachan to Leith, who gathered it in behind the Verdun line, before play had progressed five minutes. Anderson took the ball over on a short plunge from five yards out, which was converted via the forward pass route, a few minutes later.

Working to perfection, Westmount interference enabled Wilson and Dickie to make long gains in backfield running. Verdun was being steadily bottled up until a smashing 40-yard thrust through centre in the second frame by backfielder McKeown, who went over the line for a touchdown on the next play, marked the first Verdun threat.

For the best part of the second half the two teams battled evenly until Dud Champion climaxed a Westmount drive to bore through from a yard out for a major, converted by Hanson. Verdun made a last effort to surmount the 12-point deficit and resorted to an aerial attack that was finally repelled when Lockwood threw a long forward to McKeown behind the goal line, which although dropped was ruled complete as over-anxious Westmount defenders interfered with the receiver.

The west end team stiffened from that point and nullified the Verdun offensive with good blocking tactics along the line, while advancing the ball on their own plays with effective interference now the keystone of school football strategy.

The teams:

Verdun	Westmt High
Harrison	fly wing L. Dickie
Lockwood	half Champion
Hamburgh	half Anderson
McKeown	half Wilson
Bowchan	quarter Strachan
Dalgleish	snap Law
Durrant	middle Newman
Law	middle Brophy
Cameron	inside Kenwood
Luggan	inside Hendry
Maskell	outside Hanson
McAskill	outside Hill
Verdun subs:	Tuttill, Gilbert, Wells, Gill, Williamson, Anderson.
Westmount subs:	Fraser, Lognon, Fisher, Campbell.

PIGSKIN PARADE

The Story of Football Told by A. Krenz and Jerry Brondfield

Season of 1895 marked end of playing career of Frank Hinkey, Yale end who was first man to make All-America four straight years. Although weighing only 145 pounds, Hinkey was said by contemporaries to be surest and hardest tackler in football.

Further Restriction

Yale in 1895 was first to use direct pass from center to kicker, eliminating long relay from quarterback.

Piling after ball carrier was downed was forbidden in 1896. Mass play was further restricted with rule requiring at least five men on scrimmage line when ball was snapped. No offensive player could take more than step without coming to stop before ball was in play.

Helmets made appearance in 1896. Players scoffed at them at first.

Conquers Paralysis and Becomes Swim Champ

A "hopeless cripple" from infancy today, a 13-year-old champion, one of the Nation's finest swimmers.

That's the miracle story of Nancy Merki, who lowers national and Olympic marks nearly every time she leaps into a tank.

With legs twisted and seemingly useless from the paralysis attack, Nancy was told four years ago she probably would never walk again. A rigorous course of treatment — flexing of muscles, massaging of joints, easy exercises, and some swimming later, when the sinews were loosened — the doctors told her parents, and Nancy might be able to get around a bit.

Then Nancy couldn't even swim. In a few months it began to look as though she would prove the doctors wrong.

Moving forward to July, 1939— Nancy entered the National A. A. U. women's tournament at Des Moines, competing with the Nation's swiftest swimming company.

She won the 800-meter free style race in American record time, took the 400-meter free style even in near-record time, won second in the mile, and shared second in the 400-meter relay.

It added to 13 points, making Miss Merki the youngest high scorer in history of this blue-ribbon competition.

This month at San Francisco Nancy entered the Far Western A. A. U. meet. She bettered the 400-meter Olympic record without being crowded, and won the 200-meter free style race handily.

That is the performance to date of the girl who couldn't walk and hadn't learned to swim in 1935.

Nancy came home from school complaining of a throbbing headache. Two days later physicians delivered the "hopeless cripple" verdict. They added, without much conviction, massaging and exercise would do some good.

Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Merki, saw to it the massaging was done, and that Nancy exercised. In April, 1935, they took her to a swimming instructor.

He taught her the rudiments of swimming, and showed her how to hang onto the edge of the tank and kick her crippled and almost useless legs.

Unwittingly Nancy built up a champion's co-ordination. Soon she was swimming a little — a body's length, two, three, across the tank, the length of it. One day she climbed from the pool to find the miracle had happened: her legs were no longer knobby and bent. The trembling and numbness were gone.

ST. LEO'S DOWN CATHOLIC HIGH 17-0 IN OPENING MATCH AT WESTMOUNT ATHLETIC GROUNDS

Green Helmets Made Auspicious Start in Inter-scholastic League — Eleven of Last Year's Players Missing From Team — Is Again Coached by Andy McGillis — Both Sides Displayed Prowess

St. Leo's gridders successfully opened their interscholastic schedule by defeating Catholic High by 3 touchdowns (2 converted) to zero Tuesday afternoon at the Athletic Grounds. It was an auspicious start for the Green Helmets and must be heartening for their coach Andy McGillis who had to mold a team out of almost entirely new material, having lost 11 of last year's team through graduation.

The score of 17-0 does not reflect the closeness of the game as up to half-time, it was a ding-dong struggle. But once the St. Leo's gridders got acclimated to inter-scholastic action, their play began to pay dividends. John O'Connell was outstanding for the winners. His forward passes which resulted in two touchdowns, his effective plunging and his timely kicking was the spearhead of the St. Leo's attack. Vic Lattimer alternated in the kicking chores and brilliantly seconded his team-mate's efforts. The back field showed promise with Jim O'Reilly and Charlie Cicci prominent. The line did credit to the St. Leo's tradition.

Gilmore was easily the best of the Catholic High players and time and again reeled off gains of 15 to 20 yards. Both sides showed adeptness at the new interference rules but need much seasoning yet.

Towards the end of the 2nd quarter, a forward pass from O'Connell to O'Reilly brought the pigskin within striking distance of the Catholic High line and Jimmy Lellig went over for a major score on the next play. This was unconverted. Again in the 3rd quarter, O'Connell, on sequence play, threw a forward to the ever-ready O'Reilly and he easily outdistanced tacklers to go over for another major score which was converted by O'Connell. Again O'Connell, shortly before final whistle, carried the ball through centre for some 30 yards and followed up, on the next play, by carrying it over for a converted touchdown.

Wadey and Whelan of St. Leo's showed promise in effective tackling.

The St. Leo's Bantams won an exhibition game against Catholic High some days previously by the score of 23 to 0. This team definitely shows promise and exhibited ability in running interference.

The Seniors meet Loyola at the W.A.A. grounds on Friday next (6th) in their 2nd Interscholastic fixture.

With letter to shareholders enclosing quarterly dividend cheques, President A. G. Partridge stated:

"At the end of this period, the sales of your Company show an increase over the previous year although due to varying conditions the net earnings while exceeding all dividend requirements are down in comparison with the same period of last year.

"Registrations of new motor vehicles, passenger cars and trucks in Canada for 1939, show a reduction between 15 per cent and 20 per cent as compared to 1938. At present war conditions are affecting our export markets and the Company, in common with most industries, is facing new problems due to exchange restrictions and increased cost of many commodities which must be purchased outside of the Dominion."

Y CRAFT CLUB ANTICIPATES BUSY SEASON

Shop Will be Open Every Afternoon and on Friday Evenings

The Craft Club at Westmount "Y" got off to an excellent start last Friday. With over forty boys out, and several members of the Hi-Y Club interested it is clear that the Crafts shop will have to be open more often. As a result, next week, starting Tuesday, the Crafts shop will be open every afternoon at 3.45 p.m., as well as Friday evenings at seven o'clock.

The chief interest among the boys appears to be leatherwork. In this craft they have been making purses, key cases, book marks, comb cases, wallets, pocket books, Indian moccasins, and many other useful articles. Much interest has also been shown in cord belts. These require a great deal of work but are really fine articles when finished. Besides these crafts, there is a fretwork, carpentry, basketry, and corkwork. Metal work will be started in the near future.

It is apparent that more interest is being shown in crafts at Westmount Y.M.C.A. than ever before. With Wallace Beaton, Gordon Mackey, and Ross Seaman at the head, the club is looking forward to a very successful season.

Mr. Sheean is the author of "Personal History," a best-selling autobiography published in 1935. His most recent book is "Not Peace but a Sword." He is also the author of "A Day of Battle," "San Felice," and other books, and he has been a frequent contributor to magazines and periodicals.
