SHERBROOKE QUEBEC, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 1966

Sixty-ninth Year

Schools shut, roads blocked

March quickly turns lionlike in Townships

March may have crept in like a lamb, but lionlike weather came close behind as high overnight winds and a heavy snowfall beat the Townships, shutting down nine schools, paralyzing traffic, and knocking out power lines and postal delivery.

Cookshire High, Pope Memorial High at Bury, Beebe Elementary, Sunnyside High at Rock Island, Coaticook High, Knowlton High, Sawyerville High, Compton-Waterville Intermediate and Mansonville Intermediate all closed doors to students this morning due to treacherous driving conditions and blocked roads.

The Eaton Corner bus managed to bring students to Sawyerville High School this morning but turned back as other buses could not get through. By 9:30 a.m. all buses had been contacted by the principal not to head for school except one which covers the High Forest area. This bus had left for school and had not yet been located to turn back.

Other schools open reported some buses arriving late: the Hatley bus to North Hatley High School, Lennoxville High School buses covering the Waterville area or travelling Moulton Hill in Lennoxville shortened routes to avoid clogged roads, the Third Range bus to Sherbrooke Protestant schools, the Pinnacle bus to Asbestos-Danville-Shipton High School, one of the Melbourne Range buses to St. Francis High School, Richmond.

BLACKOUT

Power in Sherbrooke's West and Central Wards blacked out for about two hours last night at 3 a.m. when gusting winds cut three primary circuit wires. Lines broke at Laurier, Talbot and Ball Streets and were repaired within about two hours.

Police throughout the Townships reported roads very slippery and covered with drifting snow in many spots. Four minor accidents resulted in Sherbrooke overnight, municipal police reported.

EVERYTHING BAD

"Everything you could find bad on the roads this morning, we have it," a provincial roads department Sherbrooke official noted. Routes are very bad everywhere. Most main arteries are passable except Route 28 between Megantic and Stornaway which was blocked this morning.

Plows and graders were having a tough time clearing the sticky snow in 40 degree temperatures, he noted. At East Angus even the plow operator

Civil service talks said normally slow

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean Lesage said Tuesday night in the Quebec legislature contract negotiations between the government and civil servants are inevitably slow and impractical.

Mr. Lesage made the statement in commenting on a strike vote Monday night of the Syndicat des Fonctionnaires Provinciaux du Québec (CNTU), (the Union of Provincial Civil Servants of Quebec).

The union received permission from its 30,000 members to take any steps needed, including a strike, to hasten contract negotiations which have been going on for more than six months.

Last Friday the union rejected the government's latest offer and decided to hold a province-wide referendum.

Venus landing lauded sans news by Red press

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press today hailed the landing of a one-ton Russian satellite on Venus but shed no light on what data it and its partner sent back to earth.

Tass news agency said Venus III "reached" the surface of Venus Tuesday carrying scientific instruments and a pennant bearing the Soviet hammer and sickle.

Tass did not say whether Venus III crashed - landed nor did it claim that it had made a soft landing, as did last month's Luna IX which sent pictures back to earth from the moon's surface.

Venus III was one of two space vehicles launched 3½ months ago. The other, Venus II, was reported to have passed by the cloud-shrouded planet Sunday at a distance of 14,900 miles, then continued into orbit around the sun.

The Russians gave no indication whether they are maintaining radio communications with Venus II.

LOSE RADIO CONTACT

Radio contact with Venus III was lost as it approached the clouds and heat of Venus. Tass said contact was lost during "the last stage" of the flight but did not say why.

Venus III was the first man-made object to land on one of the planets. It weighed 2,116

2,116 pounds and was launched Nov. 16. Its course was altered once, on Dec. 26, Tass said.

Venus II, sent up four days earlier, weighed 2,125 pounds. The only American Venus probe so far, Mariner II, weighed 443 pounds. It passed 21,648 miles from Venus Dec. 14, 1962.

Mariner II found the surface day.

temperature of Venus to be 800 degrees, too hot for human life to exist.

Soviet astronomer Alexander Mikhailov said, however, there are indications the high temperatures measured on Venus do not apply to its surface but to its atmosphere, Tass reported to exist.

Ghana tosses out Red foreigners

ACCRA (CP) — A forced exodus of foreign Communist advisers from Ghana was under way today. Plane loads of Russians were being expelled and similar treatment was expected for Chinese advisers to ousted Kwame Nkrumah's government.

Eleven or more of the Soviet advisers were reported killed in the revolution last Thursday.

Two Ghana Airways turbojets left today with 130 Soviet citizens—technical assistance personnel and their families. Some Russians and Chinese had preceded them in the last few days, but this was the first large group since Nkrumah was overthrown.

An airport attendant said those who left today arrived in five buses under army guard. Troops surrounded the terminal building while they went through customs and immigration. Soviet Ambassador G. N. Rodionov saw them off.

A spokesman for the Soviet embassy said there were "less than 1,000" Soviet technical assistance personnel in Ghana including Soviet peace corps teachers. Other diplomatic sources put the number at 250.

Meanwhile, Gen. Joseph Ankrah, head of Ghana's week-old military regime, has banned all political parties and warned that parties, the order banned rallies, processions, propaganda

Pearson denies knowledge of planned US Quebec probe

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson said Tuesday to the best of his knowledge there had been no communication between the U.S. and Canadian governments on a proposed American-sponsored investigation into revolutionary trouble spots in Canada.

The queries were sparked by newspaper reports that American University in Washington had considered making a study of Quebec separatism for the U.S. defence department.

Dr. William Lybrand, deputy director of the special operations research office at American University, said U.S. and Canadian authorities on French-Canadian affairs met last spring to discuss such an investigation.

The U.S. defence department cancelled the study before it got under way. The department finances Dr. Lybrand's department primarily to study revolutionary potential in other countries for consideration of U.S. military policy.

Dr. Lybrand said the meeting to discuss the project involved Canadian scholars but he would not name them. One Washington report said the U.S. quashed the Quebec study for fear of Canadian reaction.

Gold bullion is intercepted by two at airport

WINNIPEG (CP) — Two men working under the camouflage of stolen uniforms and a forged order slip intercepted a mint-bound gold shipment at Winnipeg International Airport Tuesday night and drove away with bullion valued at $208,000.

The getaway truck — also stolen — was found abandoned and empty.

The 12 boxes of gold were being flown, via Winnipeg, from Red Lake in Northwestern Ontario to the Royal Canadian Mint in Ottawa. The bullion was whisked away minutes after arriving here aboard a TransAir DC3.

The thieves wore stolen Air Canada coveralls, carried a stolen Air Canada order form and got away in a truck stolen from the same airline.

"The gold shipment was turned over to the pair after signatures were received and that was when the gold was last seen," TransAir said in a statement issued.

WAS NO DELAY

The robbery occurred at approximately 10 p.m. CST, minutes after the Transair plane had landed carrying 28 passengers and the gold shipment.

The stolen document carried what TransAir freight personnel took to be authorization for the transfer of the gold to Air Canada for an Ottawa-bound flight.

A TransAir official said the theft appeared to have been planned to the last detail. "This wasn't done by the same guys who knock over the corner drug store," he added.

An RCMP spokesman said the gold was in 12 wooden boxes bound by metal straps.

The abandoned truck was found in the city of St. James, the greater Winnipeg community in which the airport is located, but St. James police would give no details of its recovery.

Initial descriptions said the two robbers were 20 to 25 years old. One man was described as heavy set with a ruddy complexion and the other as slim.

As soon as the theft was discovered police departments set up roadblocks throughout the greater Winnipeg area. RCMP began a watch of border points.

Commons' zip slows

OTTAWA (CP) — The zip became a saunter at times Tuesday but the Commons rolled with comparative speed through spending estimates of the finance, trade and industry departments.

The feat kept MPs busy until slightly after midnight and the two extra hours were the first major overtime the House has put in since the session began Jan. 18.

Parliament agreed earlier Tuesday to try to get the finance, trade, industry, agriculture and mines estimates out of the way before Thursday to allow those ministers to go to Washington.

"We had no light or heat until about 1 in the morning," Mrs. Mackenzie said, "and the roads were completely blocked until this morning."

Mackenzie left the Marsh home about 10:45 this morning to continue his homeward trip, but an hour later, his wife reported he still hadn't arrived.

She speculated that either he took a route again, or else took a long route home to take advantage of the best roads.

West Ward work cost is $27,000

Paving and repaving of streets and construction of sidewalks in the West ward are recommended in a five-year public works plan for the city. The plans for the West ward would cost $27,000.

The report drawn up by city services director Charles Langlois suggests that the cost be paid for by the ratepayers and the city jointly. However, the taxpayers are to pay directly the lion's share of many of the proposed projects, that is new paving and new sidewalks.

In the West ward of the city along Perry Street from McManamy to King George 800 feet of sidewalk would be laid at a cost of $4,000 of which the city would pay $700.

The Board of Trustees will serve for two years until January 31, 1968, and these are: Henri Gagnon, Mr. Justice William Mitchell, and L. M. Watson. The advisory board is made up of E. Grigsby and Ken Stew.

Art Wright, the president of the combined YW-YMCA boards, in his yearly message said 1965 was a year of reorganization, renovation and planning.

Last year also marked the beginning of a difficult transitional period for both the YM and YW in Sherbrooke. In February, the program for men and boys was transferred from the YMCA building on Dufferin Street to the YWCA MacKinnon Memorial building on Montreal Street.

Mr. Wright continued: "although we experienced many problems and difficulties through the year, we may well be proud of some of our achievements. A half dozen of these projects completed, were: the successful operation of a month long summer day camp for boys and girls at Shore Acres; the implementation of "Y" oriented swimming, gym and leaders program for boys and girls; the inception of men's and ladies' health program with Sauna bath facilities; the provision of facilities for a "Teen Lounge, the creation of an increasingly favourable public image of the "Y" in the community; a growing membership totalling approximately 938 persons at the end of the year."

Mr. Wright expressed his thanks to all the boards of trustees and directors and Bert Greene, the executive director, for their loyal support and cheerful performance of their various duties.

Bert Greene, the executive director, in his report said that we are living in a new generation that is looking for positive expression. "We are living in a 'go' generation and we must give the teenager what he wants," said Mr. Greene.

Ken Stew, the chairman of the department of Health and Physical Education in his report said: "The year 1965 saw the beginning of the new health and physical recreation programs instituted. Classes for Business Men were kept busy Monday, Wednesday and Friday at noon with calisthenics, volleyball, sauna, swim and lunch.

These classes were usually full. Girls and boys gym classes were run from 4 p.m. daily except Sunday. Floor hockey held sway on Monday and Friday nights from 5 to 6 p.m. Prep and junior boys took to the floor on Monday while the midlets played on Fridays. Ladies day health classes on Tuesdays were well attended with afternoon sessions at 2 p.m. and evening sessions at 7 p.m.

The directors of the day camp, Mr. Gregg Tribble and Mrs. B. MacAuley reported that the summer camp ran for four weeks this year, every day from Monday to Friday inclusive during July. Two buses left the "Y" each day at 9:15 a.m. returning at 4 p.m. The "Shore Acres" camp maintained by the Y's Men's club was the camp site used.

Campers last season were 251 boys and 344 girls with 19 leaders, for a total of 614.

The camper days last season were: boys 5,020, girls 6,680 and leaders 380, totalling 12,280 days.

The above figures also included "The Summer fun club" run during the month of August using the "Y" building, Montreal Street as its centre.

Deplore fountain choice over welfare building

The president of the administrative council of Caritas, Sherbrooke Jean V. Jutras said last night that it was deplorable that the city and provincial government had chosen an illuminated fountain as Sherbrooke's centennial project rather than the more worthy project urged by Caritas of a social welfare building.

Mr. Jutras said that the commissioning of the fountain was certainly a more worthy project. The Social Welfare building project in question was suggested by the Caritas association in 1964 and the estimated cost was between $200,000 and $300,000.

The building was to be for the purpose of combining all the area's welfare activities under one roof, said Jacques Johnson, secretary for Caritas, Sherbrooke. This would include Red Cross, the Cancer Society, the Association for the Blind, the Community Chest and five others, he said.

A resolution was put forth last night by Gaetan Beauchemin, director of Centre d'Action Familiale de Sherbrooke asking that the society continue its attempt to obtain this building.

Pierre Laplante, of the Montreal Social Welfare Society spoke at length on the need to erase poverty in the province.

"We must invest more rationally and humanely in our community resources," he said. Mr. Jutras declared, "The municipal and federal and provincial governments have talked at length in recent months about improving living conditions in our country and then such a project as our fountain building is accepted over a project such as the social welfare building."

Says US economic guidelines causing 'alarming' situation

OTTAWA — (CP) — A statement by Trade Minister Wilfrid D. Gauthier said that U.S. foreign investment guidelines have made no impact to date in Canada was challenged in the House of Commons Tuesday by Maurice Alard (Ind. PC - Sherbrooke) who declared that while the effects might not have been felt yet, Parliament had not been given sufficient details of effects to come in the future.

The situation was alarming, he said, and the government was doing "very little."

The guidelines will lead to a decrease in economic growth, exports and per capita income and will increase unemployment, poverty and misery, the Sherbrooke MP continued.

He maintained the government should act speedily on many fronts, but it was too timid to complain to the U.S.

During the debate Mr. Winters said a cabinet delegation intends to have a "searching" discussion of the guidelines when it visits Washington later this week.

A survey of businessmen has indicated the guidelines have made no impact to date in Canada, he said during debate on trade and commerce estimates.

"Of course, there's always the shadow of guidelines hanging over us,"

Big business in Canada could handle itself in the face of possible effects. The "imminent danger" was for small business. Mr. Winters said his department is trying to work out programs to indicate to small business how it should react to any effects.

John A. Irvine (PC-London) earlier suggested that Canada should seek exemption from the guidelines, set down this year by President Johnson.

The guidelines urged U.S. business to restrain foreign investment as a way of helping decrease the imbalance of payments in the U.S.

Licence bureau open late

The Sherbrooke office of the Quebec Motor Bureau will be open tonight until 9 p.m. to cope with the influx of people expected, who have not yet procured their 1966 car licence plates.

Antonio Pinard of the Sherbrooke office said this morning that his department was quite busy yesterday. This morning he said there was no lineup because of the storm that swept the Eastern Townships.

There will be no extension of the February 28 deadline for obtaining the 1966 licence plates said Transport Minister Claire Kirkland-Casgrain in Quebec yesterday.

The transport minister said that of the 1,700,000 motorized vehicles in Quebec only 25,000 have not yet been equipped with new plates.

It is not known how many people have not obtained their plates here in Sherbrooke.

In past years the government has always extended the deadline but Mrs. Kirkland-Casgrain said that police have been ordered to make sure that vehicles bearing the old plates stay off the highways.

In default of payment he is liable to one month in prison. His driving permit was not suspended when it was learned that he needed it to travel to his work in another town. This was his first offence.

A Sherbrooke man of 20, was sentenced to a fine of $100 and court costs and warned that he could be sentenced to a term in prison when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his permit was under suspension.

Raymond Breton of RR 5, Sherbrooke had his driving permit suspended for a two-year period. Judge Pelouquin said that if his permit had been suspended for two years there must have been a very good reason.

Breton replied that he only took out his car because he was late for his bus and had to get to work on time.

Judge Pelouquin warned him that except for a plea from his mother who said that he was the wage earner in the family, he would have been sentenced to a term in prison this time. The offence occurred on February 22, in Ascel Township.

The charge against a Danville man was dismissed when Judge Roger Bouchard decided to give him the benefit of the doubt involving a charge of indecent exposure.

This was decided following information provided by the defense lawyer in the case.

A 17-year-old East Angus youth was sentenced to the maximum fine of $25 in Social Welfare Court yesterday when he was found guilty of five charges involving the theft of a police car. The youth admitted to have been drinking at the time and had taken a dare. He admitted to taking the police car without permission, to driving while his faculties were impaired by alcohol; hit and run; to driving without a permit and to being in illegal possession of a policeman's nightstick.

A Magog youth of 17, received a suspended sentence when he was found guilty on a charge of indecent assault. He had admitted attacking several girls in the town.

Medical and psychiatric examinations were ordered by the crown, said Gerard Bessette Social Welfare Court clerk yesterday morning.

Judge Roger Bouchard decided on a suspended sentence when it was learned that the youth, a brilliant student, was in his last year of study on a classics course at a Magog School.

There were a total of 20 complaints before the Magog police detective bureau and ten of these were brought up in court yesterday. The youth was found to be guilty of all ten, according to Mr. Bessette.

Galt Home preservation succeeds

The decision of the Quebec Historical Sites and Monuments Commission to declare the A. T. Galt home on Moore street an historical site represents an important step forward in the campaign of the Eastern Townships Historical Society to preserve this property.

Rockmount, as the Galt home was called, played an important role in the early social and political life of Sherbrooke being the residence of a man who represented Sherbrooke constituency in the Legislative Assembly for Canada and in the House of Commons after confederation for nearly a quarter of a century of combined service.

Undoubtedly many of those unofficial parleys which prepared the way for Canadian confederation were held in this stately home and its preservation is of more than local significance.

For many years the historical value of the structure was ignored by most Sherbrooke residents, many of whom appeared completely unaware of the existence of the Galt family itself until the campaign for its preservation was launched by the Historical Society.

Thanks also should be presented to the federal and provincial governments for their co-operation in the efforts to restore and preserve the building and to the present owners of the property, the Dominican Sisters, who so readily agreed to assure the safety of Rockmount until a definite program can be prepared for its restoration.

The success which has met the campaign of the Society to preserve the Galt home should provide encouragement for other historical groups throughout the Eastern Townships who are seeking to conserve other links with the early days of the Eastern Townships.

Did anyone ever figure out how many checkbooks it takes to fill one trading stamp book?

A worthy candidate for the Senate

With one exception, the last list of senatorial appointments announced by the Pearson government followed the age-old tradition of using the Senate as a final plum for old and true party warriors, regardless of almost any other consideration.

In this respect, the appointments were disappointing.

However, there is still opportunity for the government to reward community merit in an appropriate manner.

Still to be filled is the senatorial vacancy left by the death of the late Charles B. Howard of Sherbrooke.

If the government seeks to give the Eastern Townships the representation in the Senate it should have, and if it is willing to make a choice along other than old-time political lines, then we suggest that Mayor Edward J. Struthers of Stanstead is eminently worthy of consideration.

Few men in the English-speaking communities of Quebec have done as much valuable work at the local level as Mr. Struthers.

Historian and administrator, Mr. Struthers efforts have benefitted not only the immediate area in which he lives, but the whole of the Eastern Townships, and in some important measure, the English-speaking population in general of Quebec.

A veteran of the First World War, and active in the Canadian Legion at both the local and national levels Mr. Struthers is at once a champion of the rights of Quebec's English minority, and of French Canada's legitimate aspirations. Both in his personal and his public life, Mr. Struthers has striven, with considerable success, for the kind of mutual understanding and cooperation between the two founding cultures upon which true unity can be built.

Since his retirement from Canadian Customs, Mr. Struthers has taken an active part in both provincial and federal politics, and has submitted a private bill on the bilingualism and biculturalism problem.

Mr. Struthers, as all who live in the Townships know, has woven shining strands of enduring value into the fabric of Townships life.

He would be last to seek honors for this, but honor nevertheless is due him.

Smiling faces at the family dinner table make the best seasoning for the food.

Motorists ignore deadline warning

There will be the inevitable rash of complaints against the refusal of the provincial authorities to extend the deadline for obtaining 1966 automobile license plates. Over the years Quebec car owners have become accustomed to last-minute postponements of the deadline but this year the tolerance has been ended.

Actually no criticism can be offered against the provincial authorities for tightening up.

The law is clear and the ministries involved have given motorists plenty of warning.

Advertising and publicity campaigns to sell the car owners the idea of getting their plates early and avoid the rush proved almost too successful causing line-ups in early December when the 1966 plates went on sale that resembled the last-minute rush of previous years.

But still there was the minority who refused to purchase their licenses until the eve of the deadline.

And their demands could not be met although the permit offices were kept open until 9 p.m. for a week before the time limit passed.

New and distinct Canadian seen

LONDON (CP)—Lovat Dickson, author, publisher and styled Canadian exile, sees a new type of Canadian emerging from regional and racial differences—"someone distinct from the Americans and very distinct now from the British."

This composite man, whom Dickson visualized after a two-month "renewal" tour of Canada, is "someone square, reliable, solid, shy, inarticulate, someone in the last analysis very obstinate and difficult to move."

And he sees a new and distinctive type developing in the West—the westerner who is going to play a decisive part in the building work that still has to be done on the Canadian nation.

Dickson's views, outlined in a two-part series published in The Times recently, are those of an eminent literary figure who has lived here for the last 35 years, but was born in Australia and raised in Canada and still considers himself a Canadian. Now 63 and a director of the Macmillan publishing firm, Dickson's last major job in Canada was as a lecturer in English at the University of Alberta in 1927-29.

With thoughts of his ancestors having settled in the rich Minas basin of Nova Scotia 200 years before, Dickson made his cross-country Canadian journey with grim concern whether Canada would be able to survive the quarrel between English and French and between regions. He concludes "the Canadian is changes—Quebec makes that there to stay."

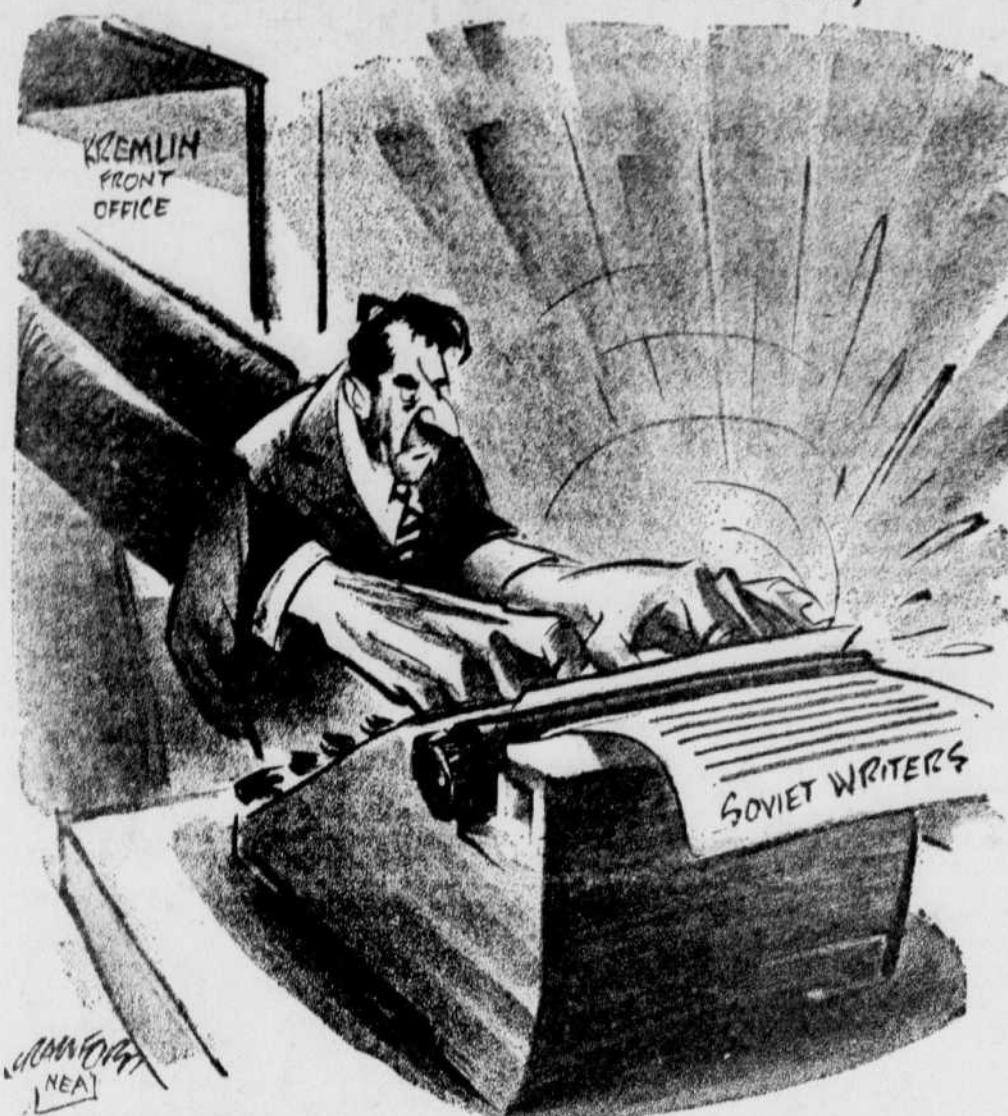

All the noises that might be taken "to indicate the impending dissolution of Canada might instead be the sounds of a people in a new unity."

The PRAYER FOR TODAY FROM The Upper Room.

"Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?" (Matthew 6:26, RSV).

PRAYER: Our gracious Father, we have often been grossly indifferent to the saving of souls. Forgive us for this great neglect. Give us the passion of Jesus, who went out of His way to save even one soul. In His name. Amen.

"Now Is the Time for All Good Men To Come to the Aid of Their Country—"

The readers say:

Political graft cowardly, degrading

Sir:—

That mythical labour of "Hercules" when he was assigned to the cleaning of the "Augean Stables", and he discovered that, as fast as he managed to remove one shovelful of refuse, that two more mysteriously appeared in its stead, seems quite "apropos" of our French-National situation, both at the Provincial and the National level, in their current avowed endeavour to attain to their idea of the millennium.

In the past few years, scandal has succeeded malfeasance in political office, confusion, obstruction, obfuscation, and deception has been the stock in trade of their agitators, and leaders. Actions of plain stupidity have been the medium by which dissension has been expressed.

They have managed to keep the Nation in a state of ineffectuality which has no previous parallel in its history, and have presented to the North American Continent and World, a public image, which, to say the least has been very harmful, and to themselves can become eventually suicidal.

The latest in the line of succession, has been a very questionable purchase by the Quebec Liquor Board of properties in the City of Ville LaSalle for some two million dollars, which ten days previously could have been purchased for less than one million.

A striking comment on the procedure has been the radically different attitude of two responsible Cabinet Ministers, the Hon. Rene Levesque, and Justice Minister Claude Wagner have taken in the matter.

The former stated, "Speaking as a Montrealese and Welfare Minister representing the poor people, the only way that I can qualify the matter is, as a disgusting example of racketeering in public funds in land speculation."

The latter, when approached by the press, refused to comment in the matter, and when asked if an enquiry or investigation was contemplated he said "certainly not."

Since man commenced to live in settled communities, and under organized codes of law, political grafting procedures, whereby a public official would purchase with public funds, and under government authorization, lands, materials, properties, or services, at a price well above the current level, while the seller agrees to remit the difference, and the extortionate price to the Government agent as his commission, has been like the harlot's trade, which is said to be the oldest profession; the oldest pseudo civilized procedure, whereby the masses have been victimized by the few, and the weak have been exploited by the strong.

It also has the advantage of being a criminal procedure, which is as nearly foolproof as any such activity can be said to be, for all that the participants have to do to prevent conviction under our form of law, whereby guilt must be established by direct evidence, is to deny any wrong doing, and refuse to talk. The only way that guilt can be established is for one of the principals to weaken and confess.

Since the beginnings of time, churches, temples, cathedrals, have been built, innumerable wars have been conducted, and a very great part of all public works have been of this order.

It is as cowardly, degraded, and insidious a criminal act as can well be conceived, for the participants must of necessity lead a life of continual hypocrisy, in that they must apparently subscribe to conventional religion, and a social system while deliberately betraying it. They must "run with the hares and hunt with the hounds. The ordinary bank robber or other offender may be a very misguided individual, but at least, he stakes his life and liberty in the pursuit of his illegal activities.

He is not as a termite, boring from within to destroy the whole structure, or as the maggots which spring to life, and swarm in the decaying cadaver.

Premier Lesage is undoubtedly a thoroughly experienced politician, who knows most of the answers, whatever his comment might be for the moment. As a knight in shining armour, and wearing a mantle of rectitude, he appeared on the scene, a few short years ago, and assumed the leadership of the French-Canadian Nation on the make. He had a goodly supply of brooms, and a part of his mission was to clean up the mess of corruption and bigotry which had been bequeathed to him by his predecessor.

He succeeded to an eminent degree, as evidenced by many reforms, and changes, which made for better government, but it would seem that his brooms are becoming worn out with use, or he has become fatigued, for unquestionably he cannot have become contaminated by assassination.

Graft and political corruption is not unique to the Province of Quebec by any means. Such conditions have existed at all times and in all nations; but the remainder of the nation differ, in that there is at least a modicum of public opinion, which recognizes a certain idealism in public administration, and demand a certain rectitude in public officials.

Premier Lesage, while fully understanding the facts of life has handed over to an appointed Royal Commission the investigation of the incident, and permitted them six months to arrive at a decision concerning that and all recent purchases of a similar nature by Quebec Liquor Commission.

A short time ago a similar investigation was made by an appointed Commission concerning a sale of land to a Protestant School Board on the Island of Montreal, by a Federal Member of Parliament at what was termed a very excessive profit. No evidence of wrong doing was forthcoming. The Member of Parliament, however, did not see fit to run for office in the federal election which shortly followed.

It would seem that an investigation conducted by Premier Lesage personally, with the authority and teeth of the Attorney-General's department in the office would be more apt to arrive at the truth of the matter, and would redound much more to his political acumen and credit, and would insure proper action, on behalf of the general public and the administration.

L. A. Parmelee, Montreal.

TODAY IN HISTORY

The former Spanish island of Puerto Rico became a territory of the United States 49 years ago today—in 1917—when the Jones Act reformed the "organic law" under which the U.S. had ruled since the Spanish-American war. Poverty and lack of autonomy chafed many Puerto Ricans through the following years until the island elected its own governor for the first time in 1948. Nationalist extremists reached world headlines with assassination attempts in 1950 and 1954, but the United Nations judged Puerto Rico completely self-governing and not a colonial territory in 1953.

1836—Texas declared independence from Mexico.

1877—Belleville, Ont., was incorporated.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1916—British troops at Ypres recaptured the "International Trench"; the Russian advance in the Caucasus captured Bitlis.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1941—a large Canadian troop contingent reached Britain; British shipping losses for the week were 30 vessels totaling 150,700 tons; Turkey imposed special restrictions on ships passing through the Dardanelles.

RICHMOND — A joint installation of officers for 1956 for the Canadian Legion Branch 15, and the Ladies' Auxiliary took place in the Legion Hall. The installation team comprised Comrade J. Gilbert, first vice-president, and Miss L. Currie, third vice-president, of the Provincial Command; Cliff MacDonald, district commander of this region, and M. Miller of the Drummondville branch.

Morris C. Barrie, president of the branch, acted as chairman. After the sergeant-at-arms and the color bearers had advanced with the colors and had duly deposited on the right and left of the gathering, the minutes were read by the secretary, Comrade C. E. Nixon. The president then vacated the chair and the installation of the new officers then proceeded.

There are 56 other members eligible for these ribbons but they were not able to be present.

What about Red China?

US doesn't know and can't find out

By GORDON DONALDSON

WASHINGTON — (TNS) — The vital question in the Vietnam debate is not whether President Johnson should pour in more troops or bomb Hanoi but what is China going to do?

Washington doesn't know and lacks the means to find out. For 16 years the U.S. has studiously avoided any contact with Peking and relied on second-hand accounts of developments there, including the highly-colored fantasies of Chiang Kai-Shek's Formosan regime. American reporters were barred from visiting China.

The U.S. maintains a large listening-post in Hong Kong and a staff of China experts who pore through everything said or written by the Chinese leaders.

Pilotless reconnaissance aircraft and the U-2 are flown over South China to report on troop concentrations — Peking claims to have shot down several — spy satellites fly overhead and Chinese nuclear tests are well "bugged" from afar.

Yet there is no finger on the pulse of Peking and U.S. statements about China's intentions are speculation, wishful thinking, or what officials in Saigon call "wags" (wild-eyed guesses).

Last week General Maxwell Taylor, the President's special adviser on Vietnam was asked about the danger of a military confrontation with China. He replied: "One can never rule out the possibility. But I would list the probability quite low in terms of percentage."

This sounds too much like General Douglas MacArthur when asked if the Chinese would enter the Korean war. "I'd say there's very little chance of that happening."

MacArthur learned by his mistake. After Korea he said any American who wanted another land war in Asia should have his head examined.

CAN BE WON

Yet the U.S. is now plunging into another land war and in Vietnam planning to double its troop strength there to 400,000 by summer. The big bomber enthusiasts here still say the war can be won painlessly by all-out bombing of North Vietnam and army's new air cavalrymen claim swarms of helicopters can settle the Viet Cong.

But the Honolulu declaration made it clear the U.S. will try to take and hold large areas of the country now controlled by the Viet Cong. No aerial gimmicks can accomplish this, only masses of men and an occupation of the recaptured areas.

Defense Secretary McNamara, who predicted in 1964 that the boys would be home by Christmas 1965, has learned, too. He now talks of a long war with victory at the end.

Yet if his estimates of the rate of infiltration of North Vietnames guerrillas and regulars — up to 4,500 a month — are at all accurate, the U.S. and South Vietnamese will need over one million men to beat them.

TEN-TO-ONE

This is open-ended war fought on the enemy's terms. For all the fearsome panoply of American weapons and gadgets, guerrilla war experts still say it will take 10 Americans and/or South Vietnamese to defeat one guerrilla.

North Vietnam has plenty of manpower left and behind North Vietnam stand the limitless hordes of China.

Will China join in? China is already the main enemy, supplying and controlling its puppet Hanoi which in turn directs the Viet Cong.

At the same time China is not directly involved and can be "contained" and kept out if the U.S. shows sufficient determination. (The last two sentences are contradictory but no more so than most American statements about Vietnam.)

The U.S. information agencies have seized on every Chinese weapon captured in South Vietnam as proof that Peking is the power behind the Viet Cong (although for years the V.C. fought mainly with captured or purchased U.S. weapons).

Discuss jerseys at barn meeting

KNOWLTON — One of the most successful barn meetings in years was held Feb. 26 at the spacious herd barn of member and Director Hans Steingruber in East Farnham.

More than 60 of the area Jersey breeders with herds of pure bred Jerseys numbering nearly 2,000 head gathered for an afternoon of encouraging information and discussions regarding the Jersey breed.

The guest speaker was C. Bernier, one of Quebec's top specialist in Lead Feeding, and area sales manager of feeds with Robin Hood.

His message stressed the value of better feed management now producing remarkable results in leading Jersey herds. Mr. Bernier's suggestions were different yet they seemed sensible and worthwhile to the producers of milk present.

Wilfred Hadlock of Frelighsburg, a former president of the club, reported on the recent showing of Jerseys at Salon d'Agriculture held at the Show Mart in Montreal. The total combined live weight of the eight milking cows shown was under 8,000 pounds yet the average milk production of each of these cows during the past year was more than 11,000 pounds. Jersey milk has a higher non-fat solids content than that of other breeds, and is being offered currently by leading Montreal dairies. L. V. Parent, the Quebec Jersey Fieldman came over from Lennoxville and advised club members of needs for Jersey cattle by dairy farmers in other parts of the province. Jersey milk and Jersey cows are increasing in popularity in the Province of Quebec.

L. K. Eden, proprietor of Gardo Products, producers of cattle medicines of Waterloo, addressed the meeting briefly, and as former owner of a large and successful Jersey herd, his endorsement of Mr. Bernier's statements carried much weight.

Among those in attendance were Pierre Veillon and William Gilmore of Wendbrook Farms, Sweetsburg which has the largest herd of pure-bred Jerseys in Canada. It was noted that the Knowlton Club has one of the largest membership in the dominion. Meetings are conducted in both French and English.

This barn meeting was well planned and carried through by the executive, headed by President Willie Steiner of Cowansville, Vice-President Claude Duquay of Dunham, Secretary A. C. Webster of West Brome, as well as Randolph Dustin, Wilfred Hadlock, Hans Steingruber and Wells Martin, all prominent dairy farmers in the area.

Space age leaves mark on boys, scouts told at special banquet

SUTTON — (Special) — On Hall catered by Rebekah Chapter of Sutton Valley Lodge, IOOF.

There were two highlights of the banquet. The past chairman and former secretary - treasurer of the Boy Scout Group Committee, George Dyer, was awarded a silver thank-you badge for his many years of faithful service, by the District Commissioner, George Laver. And the guest speaker George Laver spoke on the Space Age Boy.

Starting from the beginning of Scouts of the present-day period, Mr. Laver emphasized the difference in the boy in the beginning of Scouts to the boy that we deal with today. His outlook and knowledge is based on the space age. We, therefore, have to gear scouting to this era he noted. Mr. Laver gave examples and anecdotes of his experiences and moment he finds no time for them. Mechanics is a special hobby. He also enjoys cabinet making and wood-working. As a youth the pastor loved cars and anything mechanical. He spent all his time and money building a hot rod. Presently, Mr. Ramsay belongs to the Kiwanis Club of Waterloo and the ministerial association. He is otherwise very busy with his parish works.

Scout leader says:

Father-son sharing needed

WATERLOO — (Special) — Harry Redmill, assistant commissioner, was guest speaker at the annual scout father and son banquet in Waterloo last Friday. About 50 people attended, including three guests. A film was also shown. The theme of Mr. Redmill's speech was father-son participation in the scouting movement. He said fathers should take a more active interest in their sons as a scout or a cub, and in the work he is doing. It is not enough, said Mr. Redmill, to just send the boy down to the scout hall. Russell Bockus, secretary of the group committee, was master of ceremonies. During the evening he read names of charter members who started the movement in Waterloo in 1939. During the banquet, one minute of silence was held for the showing of the film The Comtois, who was a patron of the Scout movement. Guests included charter member Frank Bockus, Kiwanis president Bill Johnston and parade to St. Luke's Church.

felt a calling for the ministry and decided to continue his education in that vocation.

He met his wife, Juanita, when she was training as a nurse in Oshawa, where they both lived and where Mr. Ramsay attended college. They were married in 1963 in his last year of college.

Mr. Ramsay was born in Toronto in 1937. After completing his elementary school in grade nine, he went to a technical school where he specialized in machine shop practice. He graduated in 1957 with a secondary school diploma.

UNIT III LENNOXVILLE U.C.W.

The February meeting of Unit three of the Lennoxville United Church Women was held in the ladies parlor Douglas Hall, Queen Street, with the leader Mrs. A. Richard Tolhurst presiding.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Stanley Hamilton and an article entitled "The Larger Hospitality" was read. The roll call was answered by 24 members and one visitor. Six visits were made to sick and shut-ins.

Mrs. Kenneth J. McLeod, corresponding secretary, read a letter of thanks from a recently bereaved member and family and gave a report of the presbyterial luncheon, held Feb. 10.

Mrs. James Green, card convener, stated that she now had a new supply of cards for sale.

Mrs. Tolhurst asked for volunteers to help to make cancer dressings. The 1966 proposed budget for the United Church Women was read by the treasurer.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Hector I. McLeod introduced Mrs. Thomas Cadman, of Sherbrooke, who, by way of colored slides, took the members on a tour of Japan, India, Bangkok, and China, which she and her husband had taken last year.

Mrs. Cadman gave an interesting commentary on each place visited. She was assisted by Mrs. Arthur B. Lovelace.

Rev. A. B. Lovelace also joined the members to enjoy the slides.

Mrs. Cadman was thanked by Mrs. Douglas Haddock.

Later refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. W. R. Burchmore, Mrs. Murray S. King, Mrs. James Green and Mrs. Gregory Bird.

Coffee was poured by Mrs. Richard Cook and Mrs. Philip Walton at a lace covered table with an attractive Valentine motif, flanked by red tapers.

Polly's pointers

DEAR POLLY -- My Pointer is on how to lose weight and enjoy it. I was so overweight my boy friend teased me and called me Fatty, which I hated. I ate all the time. Before Christmas I found something rather expensive that I wanted to give my parents as a gift. I had been using most of my school lunch money for sweets and other fattening foods. I saved that money as well as what I made baby sitting and doing other odd jobs. The money began to accumulate and meanwhile I lost about 15 pounds. As I worked harder to earn more money I got plenty of exercise which helped me to lose more weight. I went down from 160 to 140 pounds. So, girls, if you are overweight and want to get your parents a gift for some special occasion do as I did and you will be most pleased. -- MISS S. W.I.

P.S. I got my boy friend back, too.

DEAR POLLY -- I want to tell the other mothers about an experiment we tried in our home recently and with great success. For one son's fourth birthday his 5-year-old brother gave him as a gift his snowsuit from last year as well as pajamas and a sweater he had outgrown. Before he wrapped his gifts I mended and pressed them carefully, changed the buttons for others of a different color and "big brother" put pennies in some of the pockets and candy in others. He gift-wrapped them all by himself. The younger lad is now wearing these gifts with great pride rather than thinking of them as hand-me-downs. -- M. B.

Hair stylist shares secrets of wig care

The woman who prefers not to admit her age winces when a specialist on hairpieces and wigs suggests she "compare her hairpieces with her dentures and consider them an essential part of herself."

With such a gambit, Michael of Vienna piques a potential customer's interest in wigs and what he says about them.

FLIP-STYLE GLASSES

Have you seen the latest? Believe me, you've got to see it to believe it. Paris has designed sun-optics (glasses) for the girl with a short temper. Instead of flipping her lid, she merely flips her lens. All the better to see you with, my dear!

Although only a few thousand women who read this column might make their way to Michael's shop on fashionable 57th Street just off Fifth Avenue in New York, he generously shares some of his secrets on selection and care of wigs.

Michael has been in the hairstyling business 35 years and boasts of trophies naming him world champion in the field.

Michael also cautions a new wig owner not to wash her hairpiece in soap and water. There are special wig care preparations on the market and these should be used when the wig is not cleaned professionally. He urges a woman not to leave her "head" to be cleaned in a beauty salon that doesn't insist on measuring her real head for the correct size every time.

Michael's theory is that a woman who buys a wig should wear it every day for 10 days to two weeks before she actually can appreciate what she has. Also, the final styling should follow this exposure.

A woman should also protect her investment in a good wig, he says, by insisting on a proper fit.

"Many women," he explains, "don't wear their wigs because they never feel comfortable in them." A wig should fit closely to the head but not be held to it by tight elastic. Too tight elastic causes a whacking headache. The cap of a good wig, he explains, is truly fitted to each woman's head.

MISS PHYLLIS BACON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manfred Bacon, of Marlinton, Beebe, and MR. ARTHUR H. LUCAS, Jr., of

Winooski, Vt., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Lucas, Sr., of Derby, whose engagement is announced. Miss Bacon is a graduate of the Sherbrooke Hospital and Mr. Lucas graduated from Derby Academy in June 1961. He entered the United States navy in July '61 serving until July '65. A July wedding is planned.

'CoolRise', revolutionary method of refrigerator bread making

Developed by one of the large flour mills, a new method of bread-making was introduced recently in Montreal to food editors.

The revolutionary method is called "CoolRise," because a refrigerator replaces the old-fashioned method of letting yeast doughs rise in a warm place over a period of several hours. The secret being the controlled rising in the 'frig', it also makes it possible to complete the preparation of the dough in one operation, requiring less than an hour.

The panned loaves are then refrigerated for two or up to 24 hours. When fresh, hot bread is desired, a loaf may be taken from the 'frig', let stand 10 minutes, while the oven is heating, and baked immediately.

Home economists Vivian Merrill and Cecile Hamel, of Roblin Hood, demonstrated the complete preparation of the basic new "CoolRise" method, explaining the several differences in it—such as eliminating the scalding of milk and adding an important beating step to facilitate mixing and stimulate the formation of gluten, (the elastic-like substance which forms the supporting framework of bread).

Various flours may be used instead of white flour; other ingredients such as fruits, nuts, cheeses and herbs, added for variety. Rolls may also be made with this method.

COOLRISE WHITE BREAD (2 loaves)

Important: Work area (eg. kitchen) should be warm — at least 75°F.

2 teaspoons sugar

1/2 cup warm water (105°-115°F.)

2 pkgs. active dry yeast

Shape each portion into a loaf using the "Rolled Dough" Method.

Place in greased 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch bread pans. Correct pan size is important for best results.

Brush surface of dough with oil. Cover pan loosely with oil.

Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel.

Let rest for 20 minutes on board. Punch down.

Divide dough into 2 equal portions.

Shape each portion into a loaf using the "Rolled Dough" Method.

Place in greased 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch bread pans. Correct pan size is important for best results.

Brush surface of dough with oil. Cover pan loosely with oil.

buying a wig, Michael says, is not to insist it be cut to a short length before wearing it several times. Unlike our own hair, a wig does not "grow". If you don't like it short, you are stuck with it. Start too, with a conservative color close to your own hair. A brunette wig may not be bleached because this eventually can cause the wig to fall apart after several cleanings. But a blond wig can be tinted to a darker color.

Michael also cautions a new wig owner not to wash her hairpiece in soap and water. There are special wig care preparations on the market and these should be used when the wig is not cleaned professionally. He urges a woman not to leave her "head" to be cleaned in a beauty salon that doesn't insist on measuring her real head for the correct size every time.

Another error to avoid when

5 1/2-6 1/2 cups flour (regular or instant blending)

1 1/2 cup warm milk (105°-115°F.)

2 tablespoons sugar

1 tablespoon salt

3 tablespoons shortening or margarine

Cooking oil

Dissolve 2 teaspoons sugar in 1/2 cup warm water in large warm bowl. Sprinkle yeast into water mixture. Let stand 10 minutes. Then stir well.

Spoon (or pour) flour into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour onto wax paper.

Add (stir in) warm milk, sugar, salt and shortening to dissolve yeast. 2 cups flour.

Beat mixture with rotary beater until smooth (about 1 minute).

Add 1 cup more flour. Beat vigorously with short wooden spoon until smooth and elastic (150 strokes). Scrape sides of bowl occasionally.

Stir in 2 1/2 to 3 cups of remaining flour gradually. Use enough flour to make a soft dough which leaves sides of bowl, adding more if necessary. Turn out onto floured board. Round up into a ball.

Knead 5 to 10 minutes or until dough becomes smooth, elastic and no longer sticky.

Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel.

Let rest for 20 minutes on board. Punch down.

Divide dough into 2 equal portions.

Shape each portion into a loaf using the "Rolled Dough" Method.

Place in greased 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch bread pans. Correct pan size is important for best results.

Brush surface of dough with oil. Cover pan loosely with oil.

Complete as basic recipe directs. (Shape into loaves or buns. Bake buns at 420°F. 15 to 20 minutes.)

CHEESE BREAD

1 recipe (2 loaves) CoolRise White Bread.

1 1/2 cups grated sharp Cheddar Cheese

2 teaspoon caraway seeds (optional)

Prepare CoolRise white bread as directed except stir cheese and caraway seeds into dough after beating 150 strokes.

Complete as basic recipe directs. (Shape into pan loaves as recipe directs or into round loaves and place in greased 8-inch pie pans.)

ROLLED DOUGH METHOD

Step 1—Place dough, smooth-side down, on lightly floured board. With rolling pin, roll into an 8x12-inch rectangle of uniform thickness. Roll out all bubbles in outer edges of dough.

Step 2—Roll dough toward you beginning with upper 8-inch edge. Seal dough with heel of hand or thumbs after each complete turn. The final seal should be well sealed.

Step 3—Seal ends of loaf by pressing firmly with side of hand to make a thin, sealed strip. Be careful not to tear the dough.

Step 4—Fold sealed ends neatly under loaf.

Step 5—Place shaped loaf, seam-side down, in center of greased 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch bread pan.

Step 6—Let loaves rise and bake according to recipe directions for beautiful bread every time.

Correct pan size is important for best results.

Questions

readers ask

Q—What foods will be on the plentiful list in March? I always try to use the plentiful foods in my family meals because they are better buys.

A—If your family likes peanuts, then March is the happy season for them. There's a record-breaking peanut crop. Peanuts, remember, are a good source of protein and can be used in meat-restricted lenten diets. Other items on the list of plentiful foods include rice, eggs, potatoes and fresh oranges.

Golden wedding celebrated by well-known Richmond couple

RICHMOND — An event of unusual interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Romeo A. Marcotte, College Street, when their family honored them at a delightfully arranged dinner party to mark their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday evening, Feb. 12.

It was a great surprise when their nine children, with their wives, husbands and several grandchildren, arrived. This is only the second time in years that all of the family have met together.

The highlight of the occasion was the presence of their youngest daughter, Berthe, Mother Superior Marie Adeline of the Congregation of the Little Sisters of the Assumption, Montreal, this was her second visit to her home in twenty years. The rooms were tastefully decorated with baskets of flowers, many being gifts to the celebrants.

At 7 p.m. a family dinner was served. The guests of honor were seated at the table with their nine children, Gilles, Real, Jean, Jacques, Paul, Rita, Monique, Rejeane, Bertha, Mother Superior and their families, also Miss Edith McCourt, a close friend of the family.

The long table, attractive with gold 50 numerals and white lighted tapers in crystal holders, was centred with the anniversary cake, iced in white and decorated with gold roses, topped with a large gold 50. Tulips and daffodils completed the arrangement.

During the dinner their son, Gilles, proposed a toast to his parents to which Mr. Marcotte responded.

Mr. Marcotte made a few humorous remarks causing much laughter and related some interesting and amusing incidents that took place in the Marcotte family in the past 50 years.

Following the dinner the guests sang the Anniversary Waltz Song. Fifty red American Beauty roses were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Marcotte from their family.

A number of telephone calls, telegrams, cards and remembrances were received by the honored couple.

United Church at Kinnear's Mills gives resume of year's activities

KINNEAR'S MILLS — An active year is reported by Kinnear's Mills United Church. During the past year there were some 49 worship services one of these being the C.G.I.T. Vesper Service and another the one hundred and eleventh anniversary service.

The Lord's Supper was shared on four occasions. Three infants were baptised and there was one funeral service. The session met five times in different homes. Wilbert Wallace was elected an elder.

The C.G.I.T. is continuing strongly and has 14 members. They participated in the World Day of Prayer service. The mother and daughter banquet was once again held in May.

A Hallowe'en party was held in the community hall to which all the other children in the community and some adults were invited. The last activity of the year was the vesper service conducted by the group on Dec. 26.

The church school opened with 20 pupils enrolled and five teachers.

The Church played host to the Kinnear's Mills. The United Church Young People's gatherings last summer. The group continues to meet every third week during the winter at the United Church in Thetford Mines.

Three members were added to the Nursery Roll and there were two promotions. Each child received a birthday card. The U.C.W. treasurer's report showed a good year financially. After all expenses were paid there was a balance of $347.59. Their allocation of $189 was met. They also contributed $220 to the church treasury, made donations to the Beau Home and St. John's Hall and distributed gifts to elderly people and shut-ins at Christmas.

The Secretary's report for the United Church Women also showed they had a busy year. They observed the World Day of Prayer, helped with the food for the mother and daughter banquet, held their annual supper in July, with a sale of fancy work.

The group catered to a wedding reception and to a 60th wedding anniversary celebration. A Christmas party was held for the Sunday School and other younger children. They donated candy and apples for the community Christmas tree. Twelve regular meetings were held during the year.

No major work was done on the church property in 1965 but the board of trustees recommended the following be done in 1966: Prompt attention in care of church door, placing of bookshelves with sliding panels at rear of sanctuary, investigation of possibility in installing an oil furnace in church basement.

Miss Black, on behalf of the members, thanked Mrs. Baird and Mrs. Carstonin for coming to Bedford and making possible such a successful afternoon.

The hall was filled. The whole afternoon was well arranged and reflected much credit on Ann Gilman, chairman of the arrangement committee, and the members of her committee.

Hull after his 50th tonight

Should surpass record this weekend
all teams in action, Punch Imlach loses Gary Smith, calls Gamble up

Bobby Hull will be shooting end. Tonight he'll be facing one of the NHL's stingiest behinders in young Roger Crozier and a Red Wing defence that has survived crippling injuries to become one of the more solid defensive units in the league.

Hull, the Black Hawks' Bomber who has 14 games remaining in which to score two goals to shatter the single-season scoring record of 50 he shares with ex-Montrealers Maurice Richard and Bernie Gorman, faces Geoffrion, faces Detroit Red Wings.

Leafs meet the fast-skating Canadiens in a game that saw Imlach leaving through Toronto's farm system for netminders.

Boston Bruins and New York Rangers, in a game of also-rans, play at New York.

COULD BEAT RECORD
Hull has shown little pressure as he first approached the 50-goal plateau and his present goal-scoring clip should see him surpass the record by this week.

Tonight he'll be facing one of the NHL's stingiest behinders in young Roger Crozier and a Red Wing defence that has survived crippling injuries to become one of the more solid defensive units in the league.

Toronto, meanwhile, saw their goalie problems compounded by the loss Tuesday of Terry Sawchuk who aggravated a leg injury that previously sidelined him two weeks ago.

Sawchuk was rushed into fill the vacancy created by a re-injury of 41-year-old Johnny Bower's ribs. Bower who returned to action only last week, was sidelined again after being crashed to the ice in a game at New York.

Sawchuk practised with the club Monday but Tuesday his ice sheet, re-injuring a charley horse, he suffered two weeks ago.

Leafs No. 1 farmhand, Gary Smith of Rochester Americans, is also disabled with a groin injury. They also have Al Smith in reserve, but Imlach is reluctant to go with the 19-year-old junior up from Toronto Mariboros of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

Leafs and Canadiens play again in Montreal Thursday and Chicago are in Toronto Saturday so the Leaf coach is looking to someone with professional experience.

He's got Bruce Gamble at Tulsa in the Central Pro League. Then there's the Leaf netminder at Victoria in the Western loop but Imlach was not too clear on who that is.

He okayed a trade involving Victoria's Al Millar and Don Head of Portland Buckaroos—both seasoned professional goalies—but hasn't been notified of any progress in negotiations between the two clubs.

Canada's National team holds workout on scene of 1966 World Hockey Championships at Ljubljana LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (CP) — Canada's youthful national hockey team had its first workout Tuesday at the venue for the 1966 world championships under the watchful eye of Rev. David Bauer, who calls himself associate coach.

The 10-day tournament starts Thursday with the Canadians decided underdogs especially after their none-too-good record on a brief European warmup tour.

The national squad won but two of five exhibition games, losing twice to Czechoslovakia 4-0 and 4-3 and 2-1 to the United States. The Canadians defeated an RCAF team in West Germany 14-2 and a Yugoslav squad 7-1.

Father Bauer, who officially is an adviser to the Canadian team, said of his squad: "Of course we hope to do as well as last year, when we finished fourth, or even better."

"But I would say the United States squad is four times as good as last year. The Swedes are rebuilding and have a lot of young players, but they couldn't have more than we have. Our average age is only 22."

Father Bauer, who coached the national team to a fourth place finish in the 1964 Olympics, is helping player-coach Jackie McLeod.

"I guess you might call me associate coach," Father Bauer said. "Jackie is the team coach, but when he is playing I sit in for him."

Canada goes into the tournament without Gary Dineen, one of the stars of the 1965 world championships at Tampere, Finland.

"We promised him a year off to help him with his studies at the University of British Columbia," Father Bauer said.

Mathews, two of baseball's premier sluggers, have checked into spring training bases for their 15th major league fling.

Mathews can't wait to start swinging. Mantle will have to wait until after the All-Star game.

Atlanta Braves welcomed Mathews at their West Palm Beach, Fla., camp Tuesday and the 34-year-old third baseman promised to be in playing shape before the end of the week.

"I just need to run for a few days and get tuned up a little bit, and I'll be ready to go," said the left-handed power hitter, who stands sixth on the all-time home run list with a total of 477.

Mantle, seven days younger than Mathews and four homers behind the Braves' veteran, arrived at New York Yankees' base at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., signed his fourth consecutive $100,000 contract and then cast a shadow over the homecoming party.

MAY NOT START
"I don't know if I can start the season," he said, explaining that his recent operation was more intricate than had been believed.

Mantle said surgery on his right shoulder Jan. 25 at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., involved inflamed tendons as well as the removal of a bone chip.

"It'll take longer to get in shape than if it were just a bone chip," the injury-plagued star continued. "But, if I hadn't had the operation, I could not have played."

While Mantle's extended absence dampened Yankee prospects for a comeback from last year's sixth-place finish in the American League, the champion Minnesota Twins were heartened by the apparent resurgence of second baseman Bernie Allen.

Allen, who lost his regular job two years ago when sidelined by knee troubles, has been the early surprise of the Twins camp. He credits a winter conditioning program for strengthening the knee, which was operated on last year.

ing a move to adjourn the trial until July 1.

3. Willard Stafford, special counsel for the state, said in his opening statement that the Braves were moved from Milwaukee to Atlanta because "some young men borrowed too much money and had to make money in a hurry to stay in baseball."

Following Stafford's opening remarks, Jinkinson stepped forward to present the defence's opening statement and immediately said that the relief sought by the state in the suit "cannot but lead to the destruction and utter ruin of baseball."

He said the state had not admitted it "but the state here attacks the entire structure of organized baseball."

The state "admits a frontal attack on baseball would be self-defeating and so creates the double illusion of attacking baseball while promising to obey all of baseball's rules if they are admitted to baseball."

1. The opposing forces completed the numbering of 188 exhibits and agreed that the closely guarded salary secrets of league clubs could be kept from public view.

2. Judge Elmer Roller denied a series of motions offered by counsel for the National League and its member teams, including a move to adjourn the trial until July 1.

Beavers and Gauls post wins

Knock over Tigers 4-1 for 2-0 lead in series while Gauls post 5-2 win to tie, meet again tomorrow

It was a goalie's battle last evening in Victoriaville between Beavers Serge Aubry and Tigers Claude Cyr but in Drummondville it was a different story. Andy Payette, the Gauls' lanky netminder, held the upper hand while Andre Gagnon of Drummondville assumed the role of "Santa Claus" by giving away three goals.

The Beavers posted a 4-1 victory over the Tigers to take a 2-0 lead in the Quebec Senior Hockey League Series "B" while the Gauls took over to post a 5-2 win over Drummondville and stalemate Series "A" at one game each. They will meet again tomorrow evening on the sites of the opening tilts.

Serge Aubry and Claude Cyr staged a wonderful battle during the first two periods at the Beliveau Centre in Victoriaville. The teams battled all out but the goalies were at their best kicking aside the various drives.

Rene Pepin got the jump on Cyr just from the opening face off when he drove a hard sizer into the meshings for the Beavers' opening tally. It was the only goal of the frame although they both had good opportunities. Each goalie handled the same amount of shots, twelve. Only one penalty was called.

In the middle session Georges Guibault and Claude Carlin extended the lead to put the Beavers out in front 3-0. Again it was the goalies who stood out with the big saves as both clubs were going all out and Aubry and Cyr came up with the same amount of stops, 16.

Sherbrooke took three penalties plus a misconduct to Rejean Richer when he fired the puck at a linesman. During this period the Tigers just couldn't get a solid attack going and lost wonderful chances of potting some goals.

In the third frame Aubry was just outstanding as he was called upon to make a total of 14 saves while Cyr had only five to handle. The Beavers moved ahead on Gilles Carlier's tally but a minute later Andre Drolet got the Tigers only tally.

The Tigers bombarded Aubry from all angles as his mates were floundering around and it was his great work which held the Tigers to a lone tally. He pulled off some great saves during the frame and robbed the Tigers of sure goals.

Gauls dominate
St. Hyacinthe came out fighting in Drummondville last evening and although the Rockets were dishing it out they took everything tossed at them to emerged with the win thanks to Andre Gagnon, who was in a giving mood last night.

Gagnon had a poor night as he let three goals get by him and this was the verdict. He got caught twice on shots from behind the net when he helped the puck in and once on a floater shot by Guy Black from right wing.

The Rockets, on the whole, had a bad evening and the some 2,000 fans on hand had only the hard-hitting to holler about. The Gauls went to the fore in the first on goals by Houston, with two, and Black. This was enough to decide the

Allan Stanley pondering over future

MONTREAL (CP) — Allan Stanley, 40, veteran of 18 seasons in the National Hockey League, is pondering what future an expanded NHL may mean for him.

The 190-pound defenceman, who went unprotected by the Toronto Maple Leafs at the beginning of the current season, said Tuesday he feels he is good for another five years in the NHL, providing "all circumstances are favorable."

Stanley said he would like to stay with Toronto for whom he has played the past seven seasons. He said he will never go back to New York Rangers who traded him to Chicago Black Hawks in 1955 after he had played for New York for seven seasons.

He was sent down to Vancouver of the Western Hockey League for the 1953-1954 season after five years with the Rangers but came back to play two more seasons for New York.

"I would never go back to New York," he said. "I couldn't measure up to the publicity and they (the fans) got on me. It was so bad Frank Boucher wouldn't play me at home, just in road games."

Leafs coach Punch Imlach said Stanley "never makes little mistakes. Either he's right or he's wrong. Most of the time he's right. He's an amazing man."

QUEBEC — (CP) — Justice Minister Wagner said in the legislature Tuesday three Canadian provinces are crime centres and that coast-to-coast crime is organized by seven groups made up of persons whose names are known.

Mr. Wagner asked that a federal royal commission on crime be created. This was the first time he made the request in the legislature, although he has mentioned it before elsewhere.

The justice minister made his statements on crime in reply to a question by Maurice Bellemare (UN—Champlain).

"Organized crime... recognizes no frontiers. Organized crime operates from one province to another in Canada, particularly in Ontario, in British Columbia and in Quebec, with secondary ramifications in the country's central provinces," Mr. Wagner said.

"There is no province, and crown prosecutors know it well, which is proof against the underworld's influence."

"We know, for example, that six or seven clans dominate the hierarchy of crime from one ocean to the other in Canada. We know the names, we know the complex interplay of their criminal activities."

"But, there is a wide gap between knowing and finding the proofs which link, through middle men, the big wheels on the executive and the lower levels," the justice minister said.

He said that only a federal royal commission would be of any use and that Quebec would give such a commission its full support.

Yves Gahies (UN—Trois Rivières) interjected that Mr. Wagner had earlier accused the federal spokesman he met at a federal-provincial conference on crime last year of being "spineless" (pates molles).

Mr. Wagner ignored the interruption and went on to explain why he wanted a federal commission.

"Once before such a commission, the individuals would reply to all the questions posed and could not seek refuge behind a constitutional amendment as they do in the United States, for example, where they obtain a certain immunity because of the fifth amendment to the constitution."

However, Mr. Lamontagne said unless there is a radical change in the budgetary situation there inevitably will be an increase in the tax rate in the fiscal year 1967-68.

He said that the government will buy most of its insurance policies by calling for tenders, eliminating payment of commissions to brokers, Premier Jean Lesage said Monday in the Legislative Assembly.

He said he has ordered Charles Faure, controller of government insurance, to call for public tenders for all policies costing more than $1,000 a year.

Individual insurance risks should all be covered by one policy, whenever possible, he said, for greater efficiency and economy.

Recommendations urging these changes in the buying of insurance were contained in a report prepared by Roger A. Camarata, superintendent of insurance.

The Doctor Says

IT PAYS TO KNOW ABOUT BLOOD'S MARVELOUS WORK
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Blood has been called the fluid tissue. The more we study it the more its marvelous functions are appreciated. Carrying oxygen to our tissues via the red cells was the first of its important functions to be discovered.

These same cells, with an assist from the plasma, also carry tissue wastes to the lungs, kidneys and skin to be eliminated in exhaled air, urine and sweat.

The white blood cells form an essential part of the body's defense system through their power to engulf invading bacteria. The platelets, smaller and more numerous than the white cells, are necessary to the clotting process.

The plasma or fluid part of the blood contains the nutrients which are the products of digestion—the amino acids derived from proteins, the glucose or blood sugar from complex sugars and starches, the lipides derived from fats and all the vitamins and minerals required in the process of metabolism. In addition the plasma contains hormones derived from the glands of internal secretion, protective antibodies against the germs of disease and, less fortunately, the antibodies involved in allergies.

Blood and plasma transfusions have saved millions of lives but blood can also be deadly because blood from a donor of the wrong ABO blood group can kill. Nine blood group systems are now recognized. The best known of these are the ABO and Rh groupings.

Knowing the blood type of a donor's blood may tell us at once that it is not acceptable for a given recipient, but it is not a reliable indication of acceptability. In addition to getting blood from a donor of the right ABO type it is necessary to test the blood by crossing the mixture under the microscope. If the two bloods are incompatible there will be a clumping of red cells.

The severe reaction (chills and cold sweats) that occurs in the recipient when such a donor's blood is used is due to the rapid destruction of the red cells that follows such clumping. Such incompatibility is often due to different blood types in one of the other groupings. In some cases finding a compatible donor is a difficult problem. This is one reason for the maintenance of a large stock of banked blood in large hospitals.
