ABC-TV and Sir Winston's Memoirs:

Program will set up most complete visual record of modern history ever attempted

A weekly, 30-minute television series based on six volumes of Sir Winston Churchill's memoirs, covering world history from 1919 onward, will be brought to the American television audience next fall by the ABC Television Network, it was announced by Thomas W. Moore, ABC-TV Vice President in Charge of Programming. The show, which will probably be seen locally on channel 8, Mt. Washington.

In addition, cameramen will be dispatched to the far corners of the earth to record interviews with the major personalities of our time, interviews that will give eyewitness accounts of the historical events depicted in the program.

Among the world leaders to be interviewed for the ABC-TV series will be President

Dwight Eisenhower, Harry Truman, the Duke of Windsor, Sir Anthony Eden, Viscount Montgomery, Bernard Baruch and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as well as German, Italian, Japanese and Russian leaders.

Each Churchill program will be devoted to an episode in history in which Sir Winston played a part and will feature his written words, his voice and Sir Winston himself. They will be based upon Sir Winston's writings and personal opinions of world leaders and world events starting in 1919.

Le Vien, an award-winning film journalist, acquired the motion picture and television rights to Sir Winston's volumes during a recent visit to Sir Winston in London after three years of negotiations.

Mr. Le Vien was an officer on Gen. Eisenhower's staff during World War II and it was at this time that he first met Sir Winston. He has participated in many of the events described in the Churchill books.

After the war, Mr. Le Vien became Editor-in-Chief and Executive Vice President of Warner Brothers Pathe News. He has served as a writer, cameraman, director and producer of documentary films. He is now Director of Special Productions at Hearst Metrotone News.

MacMurray, Adams in American Cowboy

Fred MacMurray, Edie Adams, Carol Burnett, Wally Cox and Hans Conried have signed to star in Max Liebman's premiere special of the season, "The American Cowboy," Wednesday, Feb. 10 (10:00 - 11:00 p.m., EST), on the CBS Television Network. This is the first of a series of specials which Max Liebman characterizes as "comic portraits of American life."

Max Liebman, well remembered for such productions as "The Broadway Revue" and "Your Show of Shows," is one of television's pioneers in the field of special presentations. According to the producer, "The American Cowboy" will be presented in the form of a revue which humorously will explain the evolution of the cowboy and frontier living.

The program was acquired by ABC-TV from Screen Gems and Jack Le Vien, who own the world television rights to the Churchill work. The production will be handled by ABC in association with Mr. Le Vien. A representative of the British Broadcasting Corporation has arrived in New York to offer the cooperation of the BBC.

The program will be based on the six Churchill volumes, "The Gathering Storm," "Their Finest Hour," "The Grand Alliance," "The Hinge of Fate," "Closing the Ring" and "Triumph and Tragedy."

"This program will constitute the most complete visual record of modern history ever attempted," said Mr. Moore. "Historical footage will be gathered from every major country in the world."

HELPING HAND — Sue Ane Langdon joined the cast of "Bachelor Father" as Bentley's secretary, Kitty. The attractive secretary is as much of a problem as a help to Bentley (John Forsythe) in the situation comedy series, telecast Thursday nights on NBC-TV.

CONTEST WINNER: Betty Anderson (Elinor Donahue) prepares to board an airplane for Hollywood after having been selected as the girl most closely resembling movie star Donna Stuart, in "Betty's Double" on "Father Knows Best" MONDAY, JAN. 4 (CBS Television Network, 8:30-9:30 P.M., EST). Miss Donahue plays both roles. These shows are seen Sunday's, 7-7:30 p.m. on channel 6.

Eva Marie Saint expected to portray evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson

"Aimee," a dramatization based on the life of Aimee Semple McPherson, the late American evangelist, will be colorcast over the NBC-TV Network in February or March on the Ford Motor Company's Tuesday night "Startime" series, executive producer Hubbell Robinson announced today.

Mr. Robinson also said that he expects to sign Academy Award-winner Eva Marie Saint for the title role. Preliminary discussions have already been held between Miss Saint and Hubbell Robinson Productions, Inc.

On May 18, 1926, the kidnaping of Aimee Semple McPherson in California became front-page news across the country. Her sudden, mysterious reappearance led the district attorney of Los Angeles to launch an investigation.

He branded the kidnaping a hoax, precipitating a nationwide controversy with Mrs. McPherson's many supporters. Even after all charges against her had been dropped, Mrs. McPherson carried her case to enthusiastic audiences here and abroad. She died in 1944.

Miss Saint - star of television, Broadway and numerous motion pictures, including "Waterfront" and, most recently, "North by Northwest" - leaves in late March for Israel for a film role in "Exodus." In 1953, she received a Theatre World award for her portrayal in the stage play, "The Trip to Bountiful."

Noted screen writer Luther Davis has been signed to write the teleplay for "Aimee," which will be presented with the full co-operation of Roberta Semple McPherson (Mrs. Harry Salter), daughter of the famed revivalist. Mr. Davis will complete the teleplay following his current assignment at 20th Century-Fox, where he is writing the screen play for "The Mike Romanoff Story."

"Aimee" will be presented via video tape from Hollywood.

Ellington, Fitzgerald, Rubenstein, Sinatra, Darin take top 'Grammies'

Duke Ellington took top honors when he received three "Grammy" awards (for his recording of "Anatomy of a Murder") on the "National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences Awards Show" which was colorcast on the NBC-TV Network's "Sunday Showcase" (8-9 p.m. EST).

Frank Sinatra, Ella Fitzgerald, Arthur Rubenstein and Bobby Darin each won awards in two categories for their recordings.

A total of 37 awards of the record industry's highest honors was presented on the colorcast. Shelley Berman, Nat "King" Cole, Bobby Darin, Jimmy Driftwood, Ellington, Miss Fitzgerald, Jonah Jones, the Kingston Trio and the Mormon Tabernacle Choir also re-created their full-hour show.

Triple honors went to Ellington and his album, "Anatomy of a Murder," for "Best Performance by a Jazz Band," "Best Musical Composition" (Ellington wrote the score), and "Best Background Score from a Motion Picture or Television."

Sinatra took awards with "Come Dance with Me" which was cited as "Best Album of the Year" and "Best Male Vocal Performance."

Darin's "Mack the Knife" was named as "Best Record of the Year" while the young vocalist was named "Best New Artist of the Year."

Miss Fitzgerald led all female recording artists. Her single recording of "But Not for Me" was honored as "Best Female Vocal Performance" and her album of "Ella Swings Lightly" won as "Best Solo Jazz Performance."

Pianist Rubenstein won awards with his album "Beethoven Sonatas No. 21 in C, Op. 53 ('Waldstein') and No. 18 in E. Flat, Op. 31, No. 3." The recording was cited as "Best Chamber Music," performance and "Best Classical Performance" by an Instrumental Soloist with Full Orchestral Accompaniment.

Because of a tie in the balloting conducted among the Academy members, two awards were given for "Best Broadway Show Album." The honors were shared by "Gypsy" and "Redhead."

The additional NARAS "Grammy" awards follow:

Best Song of the Year—"The Battle of New Orleans," Jimmy Driftwood; Best performance by an Orchestra—"Like Young," David Rose and his orchestra with Andre Previn; Best Performance by a Chorus—"Battle Hymn of the Republic," Mormon Tabernacle Choir; Best Jazz Performance by an Orchestra—"I Dig Chicks," Jonah Jones and quartet; Best Classical Performance by an Orchestra—"Debussy: Images for Orchestra," Boston Symphony Orchestra (Charles Munch, conductor); Best Classical Performance, Concerto or Instrumental Soloist (with Full Orchestral Accompaniment)—"Rachmaninoff Piano Concerto No. 3," Van Cliburn, pianist; Kiril Kondrashin conducting the Symphony of the Air.

SISTER TRIO: These three lovely girls, Marie, Lee and Olive (reading down), are the singing Van Dora Sisters who add a touch of glamour and song to the CBC-TV Network shows on which they appear as guest performers throughout the season.
