SEVEN SOUTHERN STATES SWEEP BY TORNADOES

Rioting In Berlin—Urges A New Control Of Call Loans

Storms Claimed A Heavy Toll In Southern States

Thirty-Four Persons Known to Have Been Killed, Scores Are Missing and Approximately a Hundred Seriously Injured—Death List Expected to Be Swelled by Complete Check of Missing and Outcome of Serious Injuries to a Dozen Others.

(Associated Press Despatch) THIRTY-FOUR persons were known to have been killed, scores are missing, and approximately a hundred injured in a series of tornadoes and storms that struck seven southern states yesterday and Wednesday.

The death list was expected to be swelled by a complete check of the missing and the outcome of serious injuries to a dozen others.

State	Dead	Injured
Virginia	17	37
Arkansas	5	30
Tennessee	2	5
Maryland	2	4
Florida	1	12

School Building Collapsed

The most violent of the high winds struck at Rye Cove, in the mountainous section of Western Virginia, where thirteen children and a teacher were killed in the collapse of a school building where two hundred children were at their classes. Thirty-seven others were taken to hospitals with broken arms, legs and other injuries, while a small hope held for the recovery of at least seven. Five children were missing, and because of the large area served by the school a complete check was not immediately possible.

One child also was killed when a school at Woodville, Virginia, was destroyed, and two negroes lost their lives when their cabin was struck at La Grange, Va. An unknown number of persons were injured at Woodville.

Heavy Property Damage

Two persons were killed and five injured at Embreeville, Tenn., by the high winds that also caused considerable property damage, while one was killed and twelve injured by a "small water" that destroyed several houses on the outskirts of Jacksonville, Florida.

Two were killed and four injured when a house at Laytonville, Maryland, collapsed late last night during a heavy wind storm.

In Baldwin county, in Southern Alabama, one person was killed and seven injured by a terrific wind storm.

A youth living near Slaughter, Ky., was killed by lightning that accompanied a small tornado which injured five persons in Pulaski county.

Wednesday's tornadoes in Arkansas took toll of five lives and thirty injured at Wheatley, in the eastern section of the state, and at Fort Smith in the western area.

LONDON, May 3.—Third reading was given in the House of Commons today to a bill which permits the sale in Britain, during the close season here, of frozen trout from Canada and Newfoundland. Hitherto such sale was prohibited.

THE WEATHER

MOSTLY FAIR AND COOL

Strong winds and gales have prevailed on the Great Lakes. The weather is fair in most districts of the West and comparatively cool in Manitoba and Northern Saskatchewan.

Forecast: Strong westerly winds or moderate gales; cloudy with probably scattered showers; cooler tonight, Saturday; fresh west to north-west winds; mostly fair and cool.

Northern New England: Fair and cooler tonight and Saturday; strong westerly winds, decreasing.

WOULD MAKE NO STATEMENT ON FREIGHT RATES

Report that American Railways Contemplated Reduction of Rates on Grain Did Not Bring Forth Comment

OTTAWA, Ont., May 3.—"I would not like to comment specifically on this matter until I have examined it and had an opportunity to see how it works out," declared Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, here today when invited to comment upon the report that American railways contemplated reduction of freight rates on grain from Buffalo to United States Atlantic ports.

Sir Henry added that there would be no doubt, as E. W. Peatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, had indicated, that should this reduction become effective, steps would be taken to protect the interests of Canada and Canadian producers by the railway companies.

Declares A Vast "Invisible" Banking System Responsible For Widespread Speculation

Is Made Up of Large Corporations and Investment Trusts Which Place Their Excess Funds on Call Market—L. P. Ayres, Cleveland Banker, States Call Market Control Should Be Either Legislative or Voluntary, But There Should Be Some New Definite Control.

(Associated Press Despatch) WASHINGTON, May 3.—A vast "invisible" banking system in this country is responsible for the current widespread speculation and the credit inflation, Leonard P. Ayres, Cleveland banker, asserted yesterday at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

This "invisible" system—not the Federal Reserve Board or a natural speculative proclivity on the part of the American public—was to be held to account for it, he declared, and one major way to reach a solution of the serious situation created was to establish a new control over the call loan market of the New York Stock Exchange.

As described by Mr. Ayres, this "invisible" banking system was made up of large corporations and investment trusts which placed their excess funds on the call market. Free from restrictions, he said, it had grown to be a very important factor in the past three years.

Operating with this freedom from any real control, he asserted, this system had played a big part in producing the serious impairment of the country's credit situation. Now was the time to establish some control, he avowed, and the best way to do it was to fix a new regulation on the call loan market where the system's funds went.

Address Stirred Bankers and Industrial Leaders

That call market control, he declared, should be either legislative or voluntary, but there had to be some new definite control.

Mr. Ayres' address stirred the two thousand odd business bankers and industrial leaders gathered here for the chamber meeting, which closes tomorrow. As vice-president of the Cleveland Trust Company, his declaration on the current money situation here has been watched with interest throughout the banking and brokerage fields.

The marked interest displayed in the talk he gave to them, which he illustrated with several charts, was also a sort of climactic expression.

MEETING WAS NOT REGARDED WITH MUCH HOPE

Air of Frank Pessimism Permeated Quarters of Reparations Conference Today—Subject of Conversations Yesterday Kept Secret.

PARIS, May 3.—An air of frank pessimism permeated quarters of the Reparations Conference today, with few holding real hope that a settlement would evolve from eleventh hour conversations between Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, German spokesman, and creditor representatives.

Subject of the conversations yesterday and last night were kept in deepest secrecy. Conversations between the German and creditor nations delegates continued today, with their motive a search for some way to obtain some ready money for the allies and still not to commit Germany irrevocably for fifty odd years.

A provisional settlement for ten or twelve years was understood to have entered this discussion but known antipathy of the allied delegates to this kind of agreement, which would not permit of appreciable commercialization of the reparations debt, made it seem unlikely the success might attend that pact.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 3.—One man was injured seriously and half a dozen buildings were damaged late last night by a bomb which exploded in front of a lunch room at Sixth and Wylie avenues, in the "Hill District." Police who investigated said they knew of no reason for the bombing.

Sutton Case Included Post Office Dispute In House Yesterday

Post Office Estimates and Resolution Preliminary to Bill for Readjustment of Salaries of Certain Postal Employees in Western Canada Dismissed During Winnipeg Strike of 1919 Will Be Under Discussion in Commons Today.

(Canadian Press Despatch) OTTAWA, Ont., May 3.—Today in the House of Commons post office estimates and a resolution preliminary to a bill for the readjustment of salaries of certain postal employees in Western Canada dismissed during the Winnipeg strike of 1919 will be under discussion. Public Works estimates may also be taken up later in the day.

Yesterday, in the House post office estimates were under consideration in committee of supply all afternoon and evening. No items were passed.

In the Senate yesterday second reading was given to the C. N. R. branch line bills and the measures were referred to the railway committee of the Senate. The bill for the acquisition by the C.N.R. of the Quebec, Montreal and Southern Railways also received second reading and was referred to the railway committee. A measure to amend the criminal code as regards the use of force to prevent escape by flight was discussed on second reading and discussion adjourned until the opinion of the Justice Department could be obtained as to the effect of the measure.

The Senate adjourned until Tuesday next.

OPPOSITION CONTINUES ATTACK ON POSTMASTER

OTTAWA, May 3.—Consideration of the postal estimates was resumed in Committee of Supply in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

Hon. G. B. Jones (Conservative, Royal), said that he would deal with the case of the postmaster, Mr. Norton, N.E., on which the Postmaster-General, Hon. P. J. Venier, had spoken yesterday. The Postmaster-General had said that this matter had not been drawn to his attention before 1928, but before he would prove that Mr. Jones said, he would prove that Mr. Venier was familiar with it since 1924, at which time he was Premier of New Brunswick.

Contrasts Actions of Murphy and Venier.

In March 1924, Alan Price, then postmaster, was dismissed by Order-in-Council. Subsequently, several letters had passed between Hon. Chas. Murphy, then Postmaster-General, and the defeated Liberal candidate in New Brunswick. In one of these letters, it was stated that W. A. Reynolds was being recommended for the position by Mr. Venier. Yet, Mr. Jones said, the Postmaster-General now tried to deny any knowledge of the matter before 1928.

There were ten applicants for the position, several of whom were returned soldiers. Mr. Jones read several communications in connection with the matter before 1928.

CAHAN'S VIEWS ON WATERWAYS ARE DISCUSSED

Oscar E. Fleming, K.C., President Canadian Deep Waterways and Power Association, Maintained that C. H. Cahan, M.P., Was Speaking as a Representative of St. James Street, Montreal, Which is Not the Whole of Canada.

WINDSOR, Ont., May 3.—Canada does not begin and end in St. James Street, Montreal, which is a good thing for this Dominion," said Oscar E. Fleming, K.C., Windsor, president of the Canadian Deep Waterways and Power Association, yesterday, in referring to a speech made by C. H. Cahan, M.P., St. Lawrence-St. George, at Washington, on Wednesday.

"Mr. Cahan talks like a representative of St. James Street," said Mr. Fleming, "no intelligent Canadian is fearful of Canada losing any of her sovereign rights on the St. Lawrence canal system. A complete answer to Mr. Cahan's statement may be found in the fact that Canada has already spent, and is committed to spend $120,000,000 to complete the larger Welland Canal to be opened next year. This unit is of small value without the larger development of the Deep Waterways system to the sea."

Continuing, Mr. Fleming pointed out that the industrial development of Canada made the lakes to ocean canal project imperative. At the present time there was a depth of fourteen feet which had served water transportation for the last fifty years. Under the new project there would be a depth of twenty-seven feet.

"To my mind Canadian opinion on the economic features of the St. Lawrence route is on all fours with that held in the United States," said Mr. Fleming. "The results of concentrated, intelligent Canadian study of this great economic problem is contained in the report made by the Canadian National Advisory Committee in 1928 and may be summed up in the words 'we concur in the findings of the joint board of engineers that the project is feasible.'"

LONDON, May 3.—The Express today says that Marquis Titchfield, heir of the Duke of Portland, authorized it to state that the famous Portland Vase which failed of sale in public auction yesterday would be returned to the British Museum on deposit and would not be offered for sale again.

Their decision carried with it an agreement to refrain from appointment of a naval sub-committee to work on the problem in the light of Ambassador Gibson's recent proposals.

ROADS WILL BE OPEN SOON FOR HEAVY TRAFFIC

To Aid People Moving, Roads Department Officials Have Permitted Three-Ton Loads to Pass Over Roads that Are Classified as Closed to Heavy Traffic.

QUEBEC, May 3.—Officials of the Roads Department are not insensible to the difficulties that beset those who are in the throes of removals and since yesterday have permitted three ton loads to pass over the roads that are closed to heavy traffic. The law stipulates that a truck passing over such roads must not exceed in weight one ton 2,000 pounds, load included, but, thanks to the fairly good condition of the majority of the roads, the total weight has been increased temporarily to 6,000 pounds.

Expectations are high at the department that all roads in the province will soon be open to traffic without restriction. On Saturday the Montreal-Quebec highway will be open to all kinds of traffic over its entire distance.

Value Of 1928 Farm Products In Canada Totalled $1,730,394,000, A Decrease Of $50,000,000

Lower Price Obtained For Last Season's Grain Crop Responsible for Falling-Off of Agricultural Wealth—Ontario Leads With More Than $500,000,000, According to Official Statistics of Department of Agriculture.

(Canadian Press Despatch) OTTAWA, May 3.—Products to the value of $1,730,394,000 were taken from the farms of Canada during the year 1928, and of this amount Ontario alone was responsible for more than $500,000,000, according to official statistics of the Department of Agriculture. Owing to the lower price obtained for last season's grain crop as compared with the previous year, however, the gross agricultural wealth of the country showed a decrease of $50,000,000. There was also a reduction in the value of the tobacco crop.

Ontario heads the list of the provinces in value of production, Saskatchewan being second and Quebec third. Ontario is first in farm animals, dairy products, fruit and vegetables, poultry and eggs, tobacco, clover and grass seeds, honey and wax, and in Saskatchewan leading in field crops; Quebec in maple products and Prince Edward Island in fur farming. The production by provinces in 1928 in order of value was:

Ontario, $500,821,000; Saskatchewan, $292,008,000; Quebec, $277,050,000; Alberta, $244,028,000; Manitoba, $138,887,000; British Columbia, $50,715,000; Nova Scotia, $40,162,000; New Brunswick, $34,507,000; Prince Edward Island, $21,750,000. Increased revenue is shown in the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Manitoba and British Columbia, but decreases in the other provinces.

The following is the value of production in agricultural classes in the provinces:

Field crops—Saskatchewan, $384,867,000; Ontario, $242,768,000; Alberta, $209,288,000; Quebec, $150,938,000; Manitoba, $118,492,000; Nova Scotia, $18,824,000; British Columbia, $18,465,000; New Brunswick, $18,275,000; Prince Edward Island, $12,444,000.

Farm animals: Ontario, $75,908,000; Quebec, $37,319,000; Alberta, $29,822,000; Saskatchewan, $23,890,000; Manitoba, $14,172,000; British Columbia, $7,029,000; Nova Scotia, $4,615,000; New Brunswick, $3,778,000; Prince Edward Island, $2,858,000.

Dairy products: Ontario, $102,000,000; Quebec, $78,000,000; Saskatchewan, $18,000,000; Alberta, $12,500,000; Manitoba, $11,000,000; Nova Scotia, $10,500,000; New Brunswick, $8,500,000; British Columbia, $8,000,000; Prince Edward Island, $3,000,000.

Fruit and vegetables: Ontario, $19,658,000; Quebec, $16,180,000; British Columbia, $8,865,000; Nova Scotia, $3,695,000; Saskatchewan, $2,934,000; Alberta, $1,858,000; Manitoba, $1,567,000; New Brunswick, $1,567,000; Prince Edward Island, $1,567,000.

LIBERALS ANNOUNCE PLATFORM

In Addition to Traditional Doctrines on Free Trade and Taxation of Land Values, Lloyd George Pledges End of Unemployment Problem—600,000 Will Be Employed in First Year in Reorganization Work—Promises Big Financial Gain—Scheme Will Not Add One Penny to National or Local Taxation.

(By George Hamblen, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 3.—Over the length and breadth of the country Liberals are battling for a return to power. With Lloyd George at their head, they are waging such a merry fight as has not been seen for years. From Land's End to John O'Groats, Sir Herbert Samuel leads a motor parade. From constituency to constituency, Mr. Lloyd George dashes with the vigor of a Gladstone in Midlothian. It is not that the Liberals expect to have the largest party in the next parliament. But Lloyd George has made it quite clear that he expects to hold the balance of power. And there are those who think that in the uncertainties which would follow a close run between Conservatives and Labor, Mr. Lloyd George might again be summoned to form a Government.

Liberals urge their traditional doctrines on free trade, taxation of land values, state purchase of coal mining royalties and so forth, but it is the Lloyd George unemployment pledge which holds the floor.

Conservatives and Labor attack it and challenge it. Some of the old

Ten Killed And Many Injured In Berlin During Disturbances Led By Communists—Arrests Numerous

Not Until Daybreak Did Police Find that Communists Had Abandoned Their Barricades—Found Streets in Ruins, Paving Blocks Torn Up, Trees Uprooted, Windows Smashed and Stores Looted for More Than a Mile—Police Refused to Penetrate into Ruins Until Population Had Gone to Work.

(Associated Press Despatch) BERLIN, May 3.—Berlin emerged today from its second night of Communist rioting with ten persons dead and at least a hundred and thirty more or less seriously injured. Many hundreds were under arrest, with property damage considerable. Last night's total was three dead and twenty injured.

It was not until daybreak that police, armed with hand grenades, tear bombs machine guns, and protected by armored cars, found that the Communists had abandoned the barricades they had built on the Hermann Strasse, Neukolln, southeastern Berlin.

They found the street, in ruins as they entered it this morning. Materials which were to have been used for a subway extension had been worked into the barricades. Paving blocks were torn up, trees uprooted and windows smashed, stores looted for more than a mile.

Thorough Search Was Made.

Police refused to penetrate far into the area until after the population had gone to work. As persons emerged from the barricaded district they had to throw up their hands and submit to search for weapons and questioning, many being hurried off under arrest. A house to house search for instigators of the rioters was taken.

Police today supposed the Communist organ Die Rote Fahne, which was charged with having aided in inciting the Communists. Both the Socialist Party and the trade unions this morning issued press appeals to workers to not heed the Communist agitation.

"The Berlin, dead and injured," said the appeal, "are merely material for agitation for Communists and nothing more. Workers, don't let yourselves be used by the bankrupt Communist Party and their Moscow wire pullers. In the last analysis only the sworn enemies of the Republic and the proletarians will profit."

Reinforcements Ordered Out.

When the police realized soon after midnight that the demonstrators, continuing the disorders which began on the eve of the International Labor Day on May 1st, meant to offer stubborn resistance and would not content themselves with temporary blocking of traffic. The police chief ordered out reinforcements.

Armored cars carried 300 officers armed with carbines and hand grenades. All shopkeepers were requested to lower wooden or metal curtains to protect their store fronts and the people were ordered not to show their faces at windows on possible penalty of being shot.

The whole district took on the appearance of a war zone as normal traffic through the suburbs to the south of the capital came to a stop and the opposing forces prepared for combat. Desultory firing began last evening. The rioters seized on road materials and anything else that came to hand to erect high barriers across

Stevens and Dunning Agree On Principle For Reorganization Of Government Marine Capital

Minister of Railways Supports Demand of Vancouver Member for Common Sense Valuation of Shipping Fleet—Functions of Canadian National Steamships Reviewed.

(Canadian Press Despatch) OTTAWA, May 3.—Adopting the annual report of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine yesterday, the Parliamentary Committee on Railways and shipping canvassed the whole of the Government's shipping activities. A suggestion by Hon. H. H. Stevens (Conservative, Vancouver Centre), that Sir Henry Thornton, president of the company, address himself to the task of reconstructing the finances of the C.G.M.M., with a view to eliminating the dead-weight losses incurred year after year, met with Sir Henry's approval. He was giving that matter his consideration, he said. Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways, asked if Mr. Stevens would support such a project if it were brought down by the Government next year and Mr. Stevens replied in the affirmative.

The commercial value of the Hudson Bay route was discussed; but Sir Henry was opposed to Mr. Stevens' suggestion that the smaller boats of the company be put on that route in the beginning in order to demonstrate its feasibility. Mr. Dunning felt that in order to give the route a real "try-out" it would have to be done with vessels better equipped than the Government steamers. He was confident, however, that when everything was ready, a proper trial would be given.

Wheat Difficulties At Canadian Ports.

To Col. Thomas Cantley (Conservative, Pictou), Sir Henry said there was no doubt that one of the difficulties facing the shipping of wheat through Canadian ports was due to the greater number of vessels calling at New York and other large ports. The C.G.M.M. could not remedy this, for its activities in this connection were but a drop in the bucket. The outstanding fact was that the steamers carried $112,000,000 of export trade in package freight and lumber. The South American trade was very satisfactory. Practically all cargoes were being loaded both ways, most of the southbound comprising grain and flax. The reason for the decrease in revenues on that service was that in spite of the greater tonnage, freight rates were lower with consequent decreased revenues. Asked if the C.G.M.M. could compete with private companies, Sir Henry replied that with the present ships this could not be well done. The vessels were not built for that purpose with vessels better equipped than

The hockey section of the Celanese Sports Club under the management of Mr. C. I. Haney had a busy and successful season, which very suitably was brought to a close on Friday evening of last week by a dinner party in the "Manoir" Drummondville, which was well attended, the tickets being nearly almost entirely sold out, on Wednesday evening. The president of the club, Mr. R. H. Spelling, presented individual silver cups neatly inscribed, produced in workshops of Henry Birk, Montreal, to each member of the winning team.

Led by Mrs. Wenck, the Ladies' Aid Society, last Saturday, on behalf of the United Church opened shop on the market place, at six o'clock in the morning and sold a wonderful variety of useful garments. Mrs. Wenck and her assistants, Mrs. Lillico and Mrs. C. Langreves deserve great credit for this work which brought to church uses the sum of forty-six dollars.

Messrs. Fred Robins, N.P., and Pinard, with Messdames Robins and Pinard went to St. Perpetue last Monday to pay their last respects to an old friend who had passed away. Their cars left standing in a convenient place in the evening when wanted for the return home were unmovable as some wandering rascal had stolen the keys, the lamps, and done other damage, so that other cars had to go out specially from Drummondville to relieve the party of mourners.

The Football Club of the Celanese plant went under last Saturday in the match, on the Aetna grounds, with the club from Windsor Mills. Owing to bad weather the local team had not much practice so far and many members were new to one another, consequently really good co-operation was hardly to be expected.

At the Celanese Club dance last Saturday in the "Manoir" Drummond, one hundred and one persons enjoyed themselves. The "Moonlight Serenaders" supplied the music.

ANNUAL REPORT WAS PRESENTED

BY E. W. BEATTY

Company's Revenue Returns Are Gratifying — Officers Are Elected, With Sir Charles Gordon Joining Executive.

MONTREAL, May 3. — With the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in a condition designated as "eminently satisfactory," and reflective of improved conditions throughout Canada, and the company started on a programme of additional railway mileage to meet growth in the west, President E. W. Beatty, at the forty-eighth annual general meeting on Wednesday announced a note of warning against tendencies towards "Whittling" at freight rates on an uneconomic basis. It could not be denied that the railways make a pronounced contribution to Canadian development and this can be done only when revenues are such as to permit the obtaining of new capital, he said. Following along this line, Mr. Beatty characterized as "surprising" the theory of Frederick Palmer in his report on the terminal situation in Montreal, in which report Mr. Palmer declared that the position of both the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Canadian National Railway was the same as regards the obtaining of capital. Mr. Beatty commented:

"It is difficult to characterize such a contention in moderate language, as anyone having even an elementary knowledge of the railway situation in Canada cannot but realize the fallacy of such a proposition."

By unanimous vote the shareholders re-elected the four directors whose term of office expired, as follows: E. W. Beatty, W. A. Blair, Hon. F. L. Esbique, K.C., and Rt. Hon. Lord Shaughnessy, K.C. The motion was moved by Sir Herbert S. Holt.

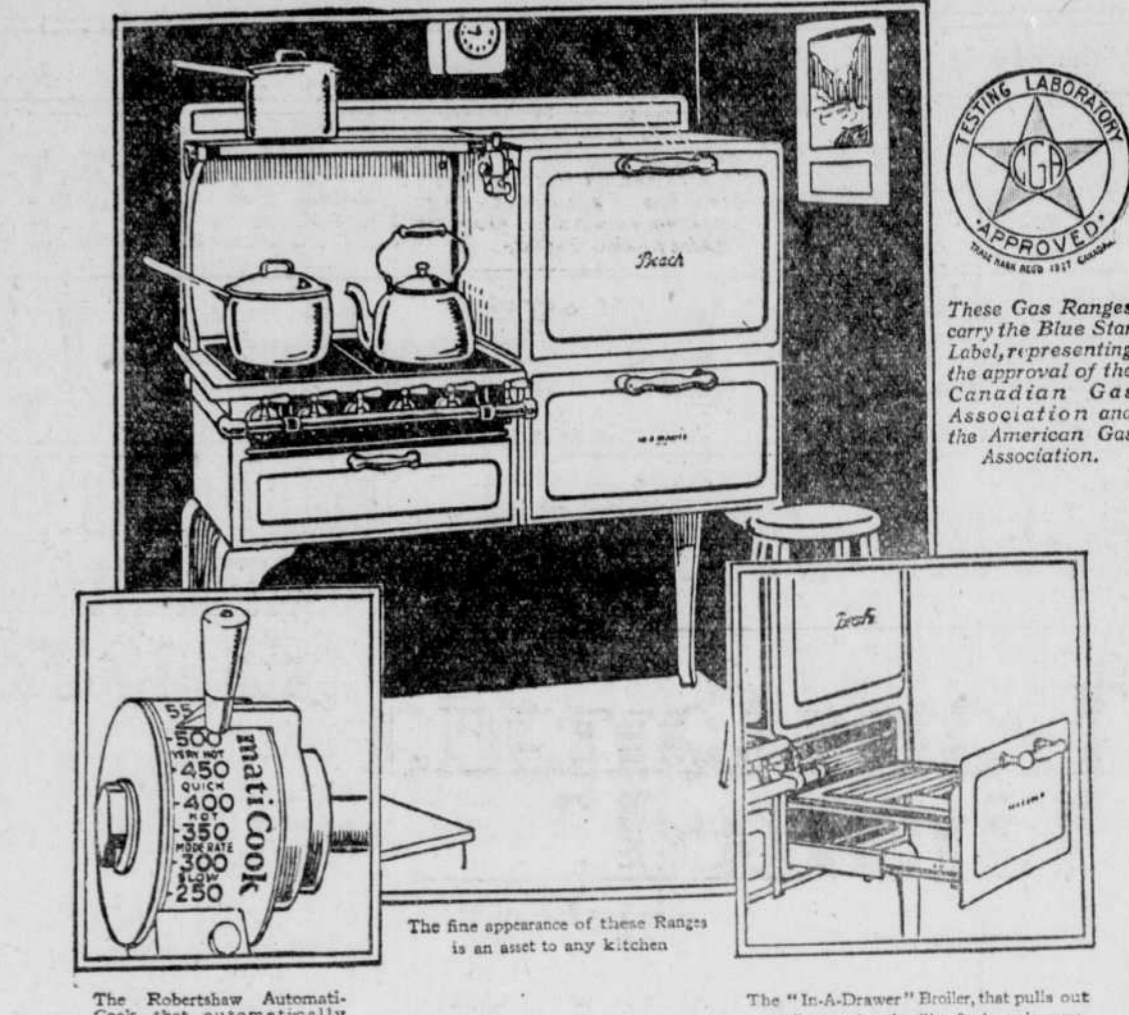

Sir Charles Gordon was selected by the Board of Directors at a meeting subsequent to the shareholders' meeting to become a member of the executive committee. At this meeting of the directors Mr. Beatty was re-elected chairman of the board and president of the company, Grant Hall re-elected vice-president, and the following elected to the executive committee: E. W. Beatty, Grant Hall, Sir Herbert S. Holt, Hon. Frederick L. Beique, K.C.; W. N. Tiley, K.C., and Sir Charles Gordon, G.B.E. Sir Charles Gordon replaced on the committee the late Sir Vincent Meredith, Bart. Upon the death of Fred W. Molson last winter, Senator Beique was named to the executive committee.

Ernest Alexander, secretary of the company, moved the resolutions requiring the approval of the shareholders. The first one was to ratify the purchase by the company, in conjunction with the Canadian National Railway, of Alberta, owned and operated railways. They are the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway Company, the Central Canada Express Company, the Alberta and Great Watways Railway Company and the Pembina Valley Railway. The resolution was moved by William C. Finely and seconded by William McMaster.

On motion of W. B. Blackader, seconded by W. Leggat, the meeting approved of the issue of debentures for the western branch lines extension programme.

The resolution to approve of the expenditure of two first class coal vessels for handling the increasing traffic between Vancouver and Victoria, at an approximate cost of $210,000 each, was moved by George E. Fraser and A. R. M. Pilmoss. Approval was given to the project of erecting a hotel in London, England.

VEGETABLE BROTH AND ORANGE DIETS

An exclusive diet of the citrus fruit juices is helpful in the cure of many diseases, but occasionally proves irritating to the stomach of a patient and in this case can be preceded by a few days of vegetable broth diet, using only strained soups made of various non-starchy vegetables, using any which are pleasant to the patient except onions, cabbage and garlic.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Environment

Question:—F. S. G. asks: "Will you tell me if a child can inherit the love of liquor? It is claimed excessive drinking is a disease, therefore, that it is in the blood and can be inherited. It seems plausible to me that a child born of parents that drink, would in the right circumstances and environment, overcome what tendency lay latent in him."

Sauer Kraut Juice

Question:—N. E. B. asks: "Do you consider sauer kraut juice a good tonic for a man of sixty-five? If so, when do you suggest drinking it?"

Answer:—The tonic effect of sauer kraut juice probably depends upon the laxative effect of the salt and lactic acid. The food value is the same as that of cabbage. It is best to use sauer kraut juice between meals or just before retiring.

Shingles

Question:—Mrs. O. M. H. asks: "What is the cause of shingles and are they curable? When shingles run around the body until both ends meet, does it cause death?"

Answer:—Herpes Zoster, known by the common name of "shingles" is caused by an acidosis which affects only one side of the nervous system and the irritated patches on the skin appear over the nerve of the trunk on one side, usually on the upper back. This disorder will not cause death but, of course, may be associated with some other trouble, either functional or organic, from which death may ensue.

The Old Order Changes

By David Lyall.

"It might be quite a good thing if you put that in the papers, Mr. Freeland. I suppose you are aware that that action of yours has been rather freely and widely commented on?"

"I'm perfectly aware of that, but I'll write to no newspapers, thank you, all the same. I'll leave my life to speak for me. It is open to a man to make mistakes. He's only reprehensible when he either refuses to see them, or takes no pains to atone for them. I'll say good night here, Mr. Caulfield, as this is your road and the other's mine."

Caulfield stood still, however, as if somewhat loath to go. "I'd like to thresh some of your arguments out with you, Mr. Freeland. It might be beneficial for us both."

"Well, I'm not minding," assented Freeland with his slow smile. "I've learned my lessons in a hard school, but I've got them, Mr. Caulfield."

"Apparently, what is troubling me is whether it will be a good thing for the town to have an avowed socialist in the Mayor's chair."

"If they don't like my views, they haven't got very long to 'thole' them," said Freeland with a short laugh. "But you've got hold of the wrong word, Mr. Caulfield. I'm only socialist as far as trying to get better conditions for everybody. I don't belong to the divide-and-divide-again brigade that spouts at the Basin."

"I don't see much difference, I'm afraid," observed Caulfield dryly. "And what about your daughter marrying one of the idle rich, who have ground the faces of the poor? You're in rather an anomalous position, judged from the ordinary man's standpoint."

"I'm not responsible for my future son-in-law. He's very well able to conduct his own affairs," observed Freeland with a tranquil and rather tender smile.

"That may be, but you're sanctioning his conduct of them when you give your daughter to him."

"My daughter's twenty-six and a half years old, Mr. Caulfield, and perfectly able to manage her own affairs. But don't be too sure about Major Manning. It's just possible that he may give a lead to the county yet. Good night, and thank you for your support tonight. I'll try to deserve it, and we'll have plenty of time to thresh out these vexed questions between now and a twelvemonth come November. Even a Mayor with a socialistic leanings doesn't get his own way in a Corporation of eighteen members."

With which parting shot, delivered with a laugh, Freeland departed, leaving Mr. Caulfield to puff up the hill to his red brick mansion, slightly confused in his mind and appreciative of troubled times ahead for the Corporation as well as the legions of Basingford.

Freeland found Harriet alone in the dining-room, busy over a very dainty part of Mary's trousseau. These few weeks of happy anticipation of what she regarded as the greatest and most benign event in her family life had given Mrs. Freeland a kind of bloom. She had been very pretty in her youth, with very regular features, and a beautiful, clear, soft color. As she looked up to greet her spouse, her smile was radiant as a girl's and he did not fail to notice it.

"You're looking fine, Harriet," he said on the spur of the moment.

Several short boxing bouts concluded the evening's entertainment, with Lieutenant J. P. Hume acting as referee. The first bout between Private Jones and Private Johnston, of "C" Company, was declared a draw. The bout between Private Perrin of "B" Company, and Private Knowlton, of "A" Company, was full of thrills and heated moments and resulted in a win for the elusive "B" Company pugilist.

OMEGA-ALPHA CLUB FORMED AT RICHMOND

Richmond, it is felt, is richer, and the members of the Omega-Alpha Club of Sherbrooke happier, because of a visit paid last night by the members of Omega-Alpha Club to Richmond, where a new club was organized. This is the first of this type of club formed outside the city, but it is fully expected that others will be organized in the immediate future.

Some twenty-one members of the local club made the trip. They were received very heartily by the Richmond Club, and after a short business session all arrangements were made for the initiation and organization of the club, after which refreshments were served and the return trip made to Sherbrooke.

WEATHER HINDERED CEMENTERY CLEAN-UP

A fall of snow on Monday evening, together with a high cold wind on Tuesday caused the postponement of the annual clean-up this week in Malvern Cemetery. Several workers gathered, but found it impossible to carry out the work as it should be done, and arrangement were made to have the clean-up next Monday. Should the weather not permit the "bee" will take place on Tuesday.

MOVE TO CUT DOWN FIRE WASTE It is estimated that loss by fire is costing this country, directly and indirectly, the immense sum of $100,000,000 a year. With a view to cutting down this enormous loss, the members of the executive of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce have been giving serious consideration to the formulating of a national policy which in operation would assist in the conserving of life and property, and at the last meeting of the national executive at Hamilton the following plan was drawn up:

(1) To suggest to the member Boards and Chambers that a fire prevention committee be set up locally, the members of which be chosen from the organization's membership and from such other local Associations as are deemed advisable.

(2) To conduct annually under the auspices of the local Boards and Chambers an inter-town and inter-city fire waste contest, whose object would be the stimulating of public support in fire prevention efforts, and to reduce the wastage caused by conflagration.

(3) To donate a silver shield to the winning town or city in each category which shows (a) the highest reduction in fire loss, (b) the greatest amount of fire prevention educational activity and (c) the most permanent structural and protective improvement.

(4) To set up a Canadian Fire Waste Council which would function voluntarily and which would exist for the purpose of assisting the local town and city committees across the Dominion in their fire prevention efforts, and which would co-operate with other agencies on major fire waste problems.

The plan appears to be a feasible one. Canada's annual fire loss is far too high, and any move that will reduce it should receive the whole-hearted support of all Canadians.

SWINDLING THE PREACHER A Chicago Theological Seminary has just completed a survey or questionnaire investigating the amount to which preachers are swindled. Its results show that the clergyman who escapes being swindled in the course of his ministry is an exception.

The city pastor seems to be more worldly-wise than his country cousin. Ministers were asked five questions:

1. Have you ever been swindled by professional crooks? 2. If so, how, in your present opinion, could the swindle have been prevented? 3. Do you believe in punishing such crooks? 4. How may they be detected? 5. Have you any counsel to pass on to other ministers?

Almost all of the preachers said they had been swindled at various times in amounts ranging from a five-dollar bill given to a stranger with a plausible heart-rending tale, afterwards found to be false, to thousands of dollars, lifetime savings, usually in oil and mining stocks.

Build a reputation for investigating. Don't rely too much on your own judgment. Send the applicant for aid to the proper charitable organization. Consult a lawyer on important business dealings.

Don't give your card to strangers or letters of recommendation to men, organizations or plans with which you are not fully conversant. You may be an innocent aid to a swindler.

And last, study people. One point that Dr. Davis makes should be stressed. Use charitable organizations. A great deal has been said about their coldness and heartlessness, but much of it is due to the fact that they investigate every case they help and are much better prepared to investigate it than you are.

Don't let your sympathies run away with your judgment. The minister sitting alone at home, or in his office is usually more easily approached than a business man who is safeguarded by his staff.

The preacher should remember that giving financial assistance to an unworthy man or a fraud is the most efficient way to harm him, and his financial help should be given only to those who actually need it.

THE NEW JEFFERSONIANISM (By Glenn Frank) Thomas Jefferson will always be remembered as the opposite of Alexander Hamilton.

Hamilton believed in centralizing everything he could lay his hands on in a strong national government. Jefferson believed in decentralizing everything possible into the hands of the local governmental units.

Jefferson's theory of government, pushed to the extreme, would have the national government do as little as possible.

For a good while, Jeffersonianism held the center of the stage as the popular doctrine of democracy and decent-realization.

Lately, Jeffersonianism, as a political theory has been having hard sledding; the affairs of the post-war world have been going Hamilton's way.

That is to say, the world of late has been looking for strong central governments, even where it has not gone all the way to dictatorships. Humanity is afflicted with a growing disillusionment with politics.

And yet, just when Jeffersonianism seems most dead, I am not sure but that it is more alive than ever, but it is a new sort of Jeffersonianism.

The old Jeffersonianism was marked by a passion to decentralize things out of a large political unit into smaller political units.

The new Jeffersonianism is marked by a passion to decentralize things out of politics altogether into the occupational groups of society, so that, as far as the things decentralized go, we may have government by those who know instead of government by those who are adept at getting elected.

And may I register a guess? The next creative movement in politics will grow out of a realistic facing of the fact that modern technical civilization cannot be managed, save in the matter of a kind of exalted police oversight, by politicians, in the accepted sense of the politician.

A new Jeffersonianism will arise that will relate to a new theory of government this decentralizing things out of the hands of the politicians into the hands of men who know from first-hand contact.

Unless this new Jeffersonianism arises, we may see more and more things slip out of the control of politics into nothing more constructive than a weak government in the midst of an anarchy of private interests.—Cpt. 1929.

LIFE'S SECRET WAS REVEALED ON DEATH BED Upon Being Admitted to Hospital "Peter Stratford," Former Hollywood Player and Government Employee in Washington, Revealed that "He" Was a Woman—Had Been "Married" for Several Years.

OAKLAND, Calif., May 3.—Death came to a hospital here yesterday and betrayed Peter Stratford's long guarded secret. Stratford, dying of tuberculosis, revealed "he" was a woman.

The former Hollywood actor and government employee in Washington was "married" for nearly ten years. An ambulance brought Stratford from a hotel at Niles where "he" had lived with "Mrs. Stratford" for the last two years. Stratford had been employed as a bookkeeper by a nursery there. He told hospital attendants "he" had been unable to work for nearly a month.

When stewards removed their patient from the ambulance they heard "him" murmur: "Don't put me in the men's ward—I'm a woman." Physicians found this was true.

Before dying the patient told how "he" and his "wife" had worked as a theatrical team in Hollywood. They came to Niles, Stratford related, where they lived for two years.

Heavy work as freight mover in the government supply department at Washington during the war broke down "his" health and "Mrs. Stratford" came west with her "husband" to nurse "him" the patient said.

BOY SCOUT NEWS "The case is really no different when you buy a share of the stock of an industrial corporation that does not use the proceeds to build a new factory, nor buy new machinery, nor increase its equipment for production, but instead uses it to build up a corporate surplus and itself makes a loan on the New York time-loan market. There you are really making a deposit with the company which, in return, is making a loan and it, too, is in the invisible banking system. This banking system is quite different from the regular, legal, organized banking system. It is quite untroubled by state laws. It is never bothered by these recurrent visits of the bank examiner. It does not have to report the details of its operations to the Federal Reserve System.

"It does not care what the reserves are. It has no obligation, either legal or implied, for the safeguarding of the credit system, and yet it is in the banking business. Is Undermining Federal Reserve System

"What has been the effect of this inflation on security prices? Out of my investigation of the present credit situation, I have come to the conclusion that there is going on in this country a very serious degree of a new kind of credit use inflation; one that is rapidly impairing the usefulness of our commercial banking system, because it is resulting in taking corporation money out of the banks and banking it in the loan market; one that is rapidly undermining our Federal Reserve system, because all of this is outside of the control of the reserve system.

"I do not believe it is of value or valid to blame this on the speculative proclivities of the American people. I do not think it is helpful for us to say that it is the result of anything the Federal Reserve system has done, that it should not have done or has refrained from doing. I do not think this is primarily a matter, the responsibility of which is to be laid at the door of the Federal Reserve system. It is due to a progressive expansion of credit in this country, uncontrolled by bank reserves and the major factor in this escaping of credit use from bank reserve control is to be found in the bankers' loan market in New York City.

"The commercial banks cannot control this situation. They have an obligation concerning it, and that obligation is to come to the rescue of the call loan market once a month; and that they do; and once a quarter they come to the rescue of the 11 a.m. market in very great degree. But while they rescue it each month they cannot control it.

"They cannot control it, because it is located outside and does not consist of bank loans, and so, gentlemen, insofar as the major part of this extremely puzzling credit situation is concerned, the solution is to be found not by new legislation that might be enacted by Congress concerning the reserve system, but by exhortation on the part of any one of the banks to try to control this situation, but rather it is going to be found in the place from which it comes, and that is by some form of control, legislative, voluntary, or a combination of both, or some other kind of control in the call loan market of the New York Stock Exchange."

Suggested Suspension of Immigration Representative Johnson spoke as a delegate from Hoquiam, Washington, in taking the floor during a debate on a proposed resolution by the chamber favoring repeal of the national origins clause of the immigration bill. He posed the resolution as did Elton H. Hooker, of New York, while others spoke in favor of it.

"In my opinion, gentlemen," Mr. Johnson said, "this matter is marching along so fast that this chamber, in its desire to point the way, might just as well take a bold step and advocate a suspension of immigration from all countries, with the exception of certain close family relatives, wives, children, fathers and mothers. I think this is an estimable step. Here you say you favor repeal of the national origins clause and a continuation of the two per cent clause?"

"I beg to assure you that, in my opinion, after having been pretty well around the United States and after having been in a position where I receive an enormous, unbiased mail that the movement is ers, brokers' loans for the account of others. "Why should we call that a banking system? It is true these are not bank loans, and they do not require nor are they controlled by bank reserves. From an economic point of view they are like a personal loan that you might make to me or a might make to you, which certainly do not affect the bank reserves and are not controlled by them. "But a bank does more than merely make loans. It takes deposits. This is what the invisible banking system is doing. It has entered into the banking business. It is taking deposits and making loans. "When you buy a share of stock in an investment trust and the investment trust puts that money on deposit, you are making a deposit. "What you are really doing is saying to the investment trust: 'Gentlemen, here is some of my money that I want you to take and operate with because I have faith that you will be able to use it more effectively than I should, and investment trusts take it and put it on the call loan market awaiting the time when they can buy securities at lower prices. "I believe in this way you have made a deposit and the investment trusts are in the banking business. They have made a loan, and your deposit is not merely a time deposit. I think in many instances it is a deposit in eternity.

Has No Obligation "The case is really no different when you buy a share of the stock of an industrial corporation that does not use the proceeds to build a new factory, nor buy new machinery, nor increase its equipment for production, but instead uses it to build up a corporate surplus and itself makes a loan on the New York time-loan market. But while they rescue it each month they cannot control it.

"They cannot control it, because it is located outside and does not consist of bank loans, and so, gentlemen, insofar as the major part of this extremely puzzling credit situation is concerned, the solution is to be found not by new legislation that might be enacted by Congress concerning the reserve system, but by exhortation on the part of any one of the banks to try to control this situation, but rather it is going to be found in the place from which it comes, and that is by some form of control, legislative, voluntary, or a combination of both, or some other kind of control in the call loan market of the New York Stock Exchange."

Suggested Suspension of Immigration Representative Johnson spoke as a delegate from Hoquiam, Washington, in taking the floor during a debate on a proposed resolution by the chamber favoring repeal of the national origins clause of the immigration bill. He posed the resolution as did Elton H. Hooker, of New York, while others spoke in favor of it.

"In my opinion, gentlemen," Mr. Johnson said, "this matter is marching along so fast that this chamber, in its desire to point the way, might just as well take a bold step and advocate a suspension of immigration from all countries, with the exception of certain close family relatives, wives, children, fathers and mothers. I think this is an estimable step. Here you say you favor repeal of the national origins clause and a continuation of the two per cent clause?"

"I beg to assure you that, in my opinion, after having been pretty well around the United States and after having been in a position where I receive an enormous, unbiased mail that the movement is for a complete restriction of immigration." Mr. Johnson recited previous statements that execution of the national origins clause would produce continual racial, religious and social disturbances. He agreed that it would, and he said that the more disturbances of that kind there were the more the movement for complete restriction would grow. "The only demand for immigrants," he concluded, "is a demand for serf labor and servants."

Hon. H. H. Stevens (Conservative, Vancouver South), asked if, having in mind a desire to find new markets and to extend existing ones, it would not be better to direct the efforts of the C.G.M.M. towards the development of new markets. Sir Henry replied that he was being done, citing the South American trade. On work of that nature a profitable return could not well be expected.

Navigation on Hudson Bay. With regard to Hudson Bay, Mr. Stevens asked if it would not be a good policy to devote some of the slower ships of the C.G.M.M. to that route.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways, replied that the Government was anxious to give the Hudson Bay route a fairer chance than it could have with the type of ships suggested. As far as the feasibility of the route was concerned, this had been demonstrated by the development of the route, cited how one ship, not belonging to the C.G.M.M., had loaded 3,000,000 feet of lumber at Vancouver, had come via the Panama Canal, and discharged its cargo at Churchill. An analysis of the costs showed that it was cheaper to transport the lumber in that way than to bring it in by rail from Vancouver to Churchill, even if the rail had been laid to Churchill.

When the ports were ready to ship grain there would be means found to carry it, said Mr. Dunning. The situation was unique. Most ports had grown, like topsy, but this one had been made.

Malcolm McLean (Liberal, Melfort) suggested that when the route started all the advantageous elements should be employed, for those elements that were not beneficial would soon chop up as experience became wiser.

Reduction of C.G.M.M. Capital. Mr. Stevens asked if there was any reason why the financial structure of the C.G.M.M. should not be reconstructed. The balance sheet carried on an absurdly fictitious value of the properties. Sir Henry replied that what was true of the railways was measurably true of the merchant marine. The management were now discussing the situation to see what could be done with it. There could be no argument at that point. The company ought to be put on a sound basis financially.

The ships were built originally, pursued Mr. Stevens, at a rate from $67.50 a ton to over $400, when at the present day the same ships could be built for $45 a ton. He thought it would be wise to eliminate this "terrible deadweight loss" that was being carried from year to year.

Mr. Dunning asked if the Government came next with a financial reconstruction of the C.G.M.M. would Mr. Stevens support it. Mr. Stevens replied in the affirmative.

We Indians Trade. Leslie G. Bell (Conservative, St. Antoine), asked what advantage was derived from the West Indies fruit company, inasmuch as the United Fruit Company, which was now bringing West Indies products to Canadian ports, would enjoy the same benefits. Sir Henry replied that arrangements had been entered into with the Jamaica Banana Producers' Association to export bananas to Canada, and an agreement had been made with the selling agency in this country to market that produce. It was confidently hoped that this method would operate to the advantage of both the country and the steamship service.

LIBERALS GIVE OUT PLATFORM (Continued from page 1) guard Liberals throw cold water over it. Mr. Lloyd George repeats and reaffirms it, with what ultimate result only the ballot will show.

Will Reduce Employment Figures "The work put in hand," so pledges Mr. Lloyd George, "will reduce the terrible figures of the workless in the course of a single year to normal proportions and will when completed, enrich the nation and equip it for competing successfully with all its rivals in the business of the world. These plans will not add one penny to national or local taxation."

Will Work on Six Lines Under the Liberal plan work would begin at once on six lines: 1. Roads and bridges, ie, national trunk roads; ring roads round towns; avenue roads to new suburbs; by-passes to relieve congested traffic; improvement of rural roads; reconstruction of bridges. 2. Rapid building of houses to rent at small rates. 3. Extension of telephone service. 4. Electrical development. 5. Land drainage on a large scale. 6. London passenger transport.

In the first six schemes, so the Lloyd George Liberals declare, they will find direct work for more than 600,000 of the employed in the first year.

Will Raise $500,000,000 Roads and bridges are the largest scheme in the proposals for financing. They propose to capitalize part of the road fund which is now bringing in an annual income of $125,000,000. They will raise a road fund loan of probably $500,000,000. Sinking fund and interest charges are to be met from road fund income which is increasing at the rate of $10,000,000 a year. Interest and sinking fund charges of the proposed loan, so the Liberals contend, will absorb only a small part of the road fund income and the remainder will be left for use on current road work.

Financial Gain Big Liberals estimate that of their six main lines of employment only one, that of drainage, will require contributions from the national exchequer. And against this expenditure they set these "items of financial gain": 1. Recayment to the treasury in two years of $155,000,000 owing by the unemployment insurance fund. 2. Restoration to work and wages involved in the scheme would increase the national revenue, on the existing basis of taxation, by $50,000,000 a year. 3. Economy of unproductive expenditure particularly on unnecessary armaments. 4. Swollen land values due the public construction of new roads and town planning, would be automatically appropriated by the state and municipalities and would thus provide a substantial margin for the relief of rates and taxes.

"In view of these facts," comments an official outline of the scheme, "we are entitled to say and do say with complete confidence, that the Liberal plan for conquering unemployment will not add one penny to the national or local taxation."

RIGHT IN HER LINE "So Miss Philem has captured a rich husband." "Yes. It takes a maniacist to

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY RE CALCIUM SALTS

New Method of Making One of Calcium Salts Reduces Cost of Manufacture from $10 a Pound to Fifty Cents.

(By Howard B. Blakeley, Associated Press Science Editor.)
COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 3.—Discovery by the United States department of agriculture of a means to make one of the calcium salts, reducing the cost of manufacture from $150, a pound to fifty cents was disclosed by the American Chemical Society convention yesterday.

Calcium salts are among the essential remedies in medicine and are used as ingredients of many industries. In some forms they are common place and cheap. But one of them, taken from gluconic acid, has never been available because of the great expense of making this acid. The department now has found how to produce the acid cheaply. The discoveries were made by Horace T. Herrick and Orville E. May, of the farm waste section of the bureau of chemistry and soils.

The nearly developed salt, Mr. Herrick said, is the only one which cannot cause abscess when injected into the veins. Injection of calcium salts is not an unusual medical remedy, but with those now available caution is necessary to keep the salt from contact with bodily tissues where they induce abscesses.

The cheap method of making the acid was stumbled upon while the chemists were searching for a new way to produce tartaric acid. They were looking for this acid in molds which are nothing more than the common molds that form on the surface of spoiled foods. They examined 150 different moulds without finding tartaric acid, but in number 150 unexpectedly obtained the gluconic acid.

ATHLETICS WON AT EXPENSE OF BOSTON RED SOX

Philadelphia Team Trowned Hub Nine 5 to 1—Rain, Hail and High Water Stopped Remaining Games in Big Leagues Yesterday.

NEW YORK, May 3. (By Wm. J. Chipman, Associated Press Sports Writer).—Rain, hail and high water so swept the big league trail yesterday that only one game survived to its normal finish, and if the Boston Red Sox had gained their wish, this one also might have been tossed overboard. There was insufficient rain at Fenway Park to save the Hub from the American League, who won by a score of 5 to 1 to make it three out of four in the series.

Connie Mack surprised the railbirds by tossing Bob Grove back at the Red Sox after having withdrawn the tall southpaw from the 24 to 6 massacre of the previous day as the Athletic scores mounted beyond the danger of overhauling. It was supposed that the American League dean was saving his great pitcher for a tougher spot, but back came Grove to win his second victory in two days and his third of the season.

As the Browns lay idle in Cleveland, the victory of the Mackmen cut half a game from the St. Louis lead. Herb Pennock made his second start of the season at the Yankee Stadium, but hostilities were drowned out after the first half of the third inning when the Harlem leaped over its banks to greet the athletes. The Senators picked up one run against Pennock in the first on Gehrig's error and there the scoring stopped for both teams.

Sad Sam Jones pitched the two rounds for Washington. Detroit and Chicago also found rain, snow and other unnecessary inconveniences scattered over the premises of Charles Comiskey.

The only attempt to unlimber a bat in the National League yesterday occurred at Ebbets Field, where the Giants pounded out two runs behind Larry Benton in the opener, only to have rain descend at the end of the third. The default to the weather left the Giants with only one even break against the so-called effete east in the first round of an intra-sectional effort, and the western club headed for the Polo Grounds in great gloom. The Phillies, the Braves and the Dodgers look like nothing but ready cash to the hungry westerners, groggy from weeks of warfare against one another.

THREE SOCCER GAMES CALLED FOR TOMORROW

Quebec Central Meets Magog in Local Game, Drummondville to Play at Windsor, and Asbestos Will Journey to Beebe.

The Eastern Townships Football League schedule calls for three matches to be played in various parts of the district tomorrow afternoon. Only one Sherbrooke team will appear in action, Quebec Central being at home to Magog. Quebec Central won their game last week from Asbestos, while Magog have not as yet played. This will be the first football game in Sherbrooke this year.

Windsor will play their return game with Celanese tomorrow, with great hopes of victory, having defeated the boys from the silk mill in Drummondville last week.

The third game of the day will be staged at Beebe, when the quarries are to receive their conquerors, the Asbestos miners. In this game, the newcomers to the league, Asbestos, are to meet one of the original teams in the circuit.

The following players have been picked by the Quebec Central management to represent them against Magog tomorrow: H. Stoyles, B. Grime, W. Pearce, H. Loach, L. Miller, A. McIlroy, E. Grime, J. Milnes, C. Hammond, J. Pentland, J. McNally, R. Foley and C. Stocks.

ASBESTOS VERSUS Q. C. R.
ASBESTOS, Que., May 3.—The above match was held on the Asbestos Amateur Athletic Association grounds near the manufacturing plant on Saturday April 27th. The ground was in good condition and everything was laid out in expectancy of the great event—the A. A. A.'s debut into its first league match. All the football officers were present including the cheer leader F. G. Attwood. The Association was represented by Messrs Gardner and Sherry and Rock.

The play opened in good style, the toss being won by J. McKennie, captain of the A. A. A.'s team. Mr. Sherry, President of the Association, kicked off at 3.30 p.m., sharp and lively play ensued. The teams appeared to be evenly matched as no score was registered in the first half of the play. In the second half the Q. C. R. took the offensive and kept the ball continually round the home team's goal. Much credit is due to the goalie, Merrill Mills, who played a splendid game considering it is only his second year at football. The Q. C. R. scored four goals in the second half by playing a clean scheme of combination.

The game throughout was splendid and sportsmanlike, the referee from Sherbrooke, Mr. Rice, gave no favours either way. In spite of this defeat, the Asbestos footballers are very optimistic and hope to do much better in their stand against Beebe next week.

COTE TO MEET TAILLEFER IN FEATURE BOUT

Local Fighter Once Again Headliner of Boxing Card to Be Offered Fans Tomorrow Night.

Kid Cote will once more appear in the "headliner" on a local boxing bill tomorrow night, when he meets Rene Taillefer, of Montreal, in the feature bout of the evening. Cote is well known to all fight followers in Sherbrooke and his work needs no review. Taillefer is a newcomer to the ranks of professional fighters, but has a splendid record in amateur circles in Montreal.

In the semi-final George King, of Eustis, will meet Jack Rued, of Sherbrooke. The Eustis boy has a splendid record and has always proved popular with the Sherbrooke fans.

Three very interesting preliminaries are also billed, Jack Petrolle tackling Jack Marras, of Shawinigan; Fredie Frenette being matched with Young Gariepy, of Montreal; while two local lads are drawn for the opener in the persons of Billy James and Eagle Bourque.

BOUNTS LAST NIGHT
The fights last night resulted as follows:
London—Phil Scott, England, outpointed Ludwig Haymann, Germany, 15 rounds.
Gary, Ind.—Marshal Leach, Gary, knocked out Jack Herman, Cleveland, 2 rounds.
Davenport, Ia.—Jack McCarthy, Chicago, outpointed Howard McLain, Louisville, 10 rounds; Al Kline, Cleveland, outpointed Jack Denny, Chicago, 10 rounds.

night by flood waters of Lake St. Clair, between Riverside and Jeanette's creek. The Canadian National Railway, whose lines run close to the lake front, have a squad of men patrolling the tracks, between Riverside and Bell River.

The lake burst through its banks at several points, and it is estimated that more than one thousand acres are under water. In Riverside alone seven hundred acres are flooded, and further up the lake front, Bell Beach and the St. Clair country club were entirely surrounded with water.

At Riverside three large summer cottages, their foundations undermined, fell down and police believed that several others have been badly damaged. It is thought that the worst of the flood is over, the wind having shifted to the southeast and from some points receding water is reported.
