ELECTIONS IN UNITED STATES

Three Thousand Deputies Watching New York Polling Booths.

MANY ARRESTS WERE MADE

Voting in Eastern and Middle States Was Generally Heavy—Opposing Forecasts.

New York, November 8.—Almost perfect weather conditions prevailed in the Greater New York and early indications pointed to a heavy vote in to-day's election. From the moment the polls opened at 6 o'clock, the booths in many election districts were filled and lines of men stood awaiting their turn to deposit a ballot. While perfect order prevailed in most sections of the city, trouble began in some quarters, almost at the start and arrests for alleged illegal voting began almost simultaneously with the opening of the polls. In some cases the arrests were accompanied by disorderly demonstrations and at least two persons, a policeman and a citizen, were injured before voting had been in progress 20 minutes.

3,000 DEPUTIES ON DUTY.

The first surprise of the day was sprung by State Superintendent of Elections Morgan when he distributed nearly three thousand deputies representing his office through the election districts of the greater city. It had been expected that the 800 deputies that the Superintendent of Elections is authorized to appoint would be reinforced to-day by about two hundred men, including a large number of secret service men, whose whole attention would be directed toward the holders of alleged illegal naturalization papers. It developed to-day, however, that Mr. Morgan had found that under a section of the metropolitan election district law the State Superintendent or any of his deputies is empowered to call on any person to assist him in the performance of his duty. This law removed practically all restrictions regarding the appointment of deputies, and two thousand additional men were sworn. The men selected for this work are volunteers, and they went on duty at the opening of the polls to remain until the votes are counted.

MANY ARRESTS MADE.

In the districts in the lower part of the city the early morning balloting was very heavy. Nearly one-third of the normal vote had been cast during the first two hours and the leaders predicted a record vote before the polls close at 5 o'clock. Further up town the early hours passed quietly, but the voters began to turn out in good volume during the forenoon. Magistrates were sitting in all sections of the city to give an immediate hearing to men on charges of illegal voting and the prisoners were arraigned as soon as they reached the station houses. Many of them were successful in proving their right to cast their ballot and were promptly released. At the west 47th street station fourteen arrests in election cases were made before 8 o'clock, but the deputies were not able to present sufficient evidence to hold any of them, and the prisoners were discharged.

BOTH CLAIM EMPIRE STATE.

Both parties claim the Empire State. The Democrats pin their faith to a statement by Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, that the vote for Parker in the Greater New York would be the greatest ever cast for a Democratic candidate, while the Republican view was expressed by Governor Odell, who said Parker's plurality in the city would have to be better than 140,000 if he was to carry the state. Two years ago, Coler, the Democratic candidate for Governor, had 122,600 plurality over Odell in the city, but was defeated, Odell having 130,800 plurality in the rest of the state.

D. Cady Herrick, the Democratic nominee for governor, made a statement yesterday in which he said: "Making very liberal discount upon the rosy views that are always presented to a candidate, I fairly believe that the Republican majority north of the Bronx will be much less than it was two years ago."

Frank W. Higgins, Republican candidate for governor, said: "I believe Roosevelt will carry the state by over 100,000, and that the Republican state ticket will be elected."

THE LATEST BETTING.

The betting on the Presidential result was livelier last night than at any other time during the campaign. It is estimated that nearly $250,000 were wagered on the Broad street curb and in the various hotels. The ruling odds were six to one on Roosevelt on the general result; two to one that Roosevelt will carry New York State, and two to one that Herrick will defeat Higgins for the Governorship. One bet on the President was of $5,000 to $800. One man offered $50,000 or any part of it at odds of five to one on Roosevelt without takers. The heaviest State bet was $10,000 to $8,500 on Herrick. Another Herrick bet was $10,000 to $6,000. A Wall Street house offered to bet $5,000 even that Roosevelt will carry New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana and West Virginia, but there were no takers.

Several private wagers are said to have been made against Parker at odds of seven to one, but no such bets were openly announced. One better placed $3,000 against $6,000 that Parker will carry New York State.

A Wall Street firm put up $2,000 at odds of $2 to $1, that the President will carry New York, and announced that it had $10,000 to place at the same odds.

On national and state issues it is estimated that $2,000,000 has been wagered in New York City.

PROHIBITIONISTS OPTIMISTIC.

Chicago, November 8.—Optimism over election prospects prevails in the councils of the Prohibition party. Oliver W. Stewart, chairman of the Prohibition National Committee, says he is confident Silas C. Swallow will receive 300,000 of the votes cast to-day, which is an advance of 90,000 over the ballot given John G. Woolley in 1900.

Alonzo E. Wilson, chairman of the State Committee, expressed his belief that Arthur Gourley would receive enough Prohibition votes to send him to the House of Representatives from the sixth district, and is also hopeful that several Prohibition members of the legislature will be chosen in Chicago and down-state districts.

CLAIM DOUGLAS FOR GOVERNOR.

Boston, Mass., November 8.—Indications of the polling of an unusually large vote throughout Massachusetts appeared in the early part of election morning. The weather was a trifle colder. In Boston and the suburbs early reports told of a heavy polling. Democratic leaders entered upon today's election conceding the State for President Roosevelt by perhaps 80,000, but claimed the election of William L. Douglas for Governor. Predictions were made that the vote in Massachusetts would reach 425,000. Democrats estimated that Douglas would carry the city of Boston by over 20,000, and Judge Parker by about 18,000.

CRUSH AT POLLING BOOTHS.

New Haven, Conn., November 8.—Crisp clear weather was reported from all parts of Connecticut. In this city scores of voters were on hand to cast their ballots when the polls opened. In Hartford the crush of voters at the opening of voting places was unprecedented; in one ward 100 men being in line before daylight.

REPUBLICANS CLAIM MAINE.

Portland, Me., November 8.—Maine voters were called upon to-day to ballot only for Presidential electors, but the prevalence of desirable weather, it was estimated, would bring about a large vote. The State is claimed by the Republicans by about 25,000 for Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

APATHY IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, November 8.—With clear and cool weather in this city there was no apparent rush to get to the polls, and little attempt was made to bring out the full vote by either the Republicans or Democrats. There is not the semblance of a contest in Philadelphia, which doubtless accounts for the apathy shown by the two big parties.

CLAIM INDIANA BY 30,000.

Indianapolis, Ind., November 8.—Election day in Indiana opened with fine weather. Both parties have made elaborate arrangements to get out the full vote. Republican managers are claiming the State by 30,000 with a gain of two Congressmen and a safe majority in the Legislature.

MANY ISSUES IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, November 8.—With an overcast sky and a mild temperature, indications early in the day pointed to a heavy vote. There are local questions in addition to the National and State tickets which will be voted upon regardless of party faith. One of these is a proposed constitutional amendment that would enable the Legislature to grant the city a new charter.

HEAVY VOTE IN CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, Ohio, November 8.—The vote in this city was very heavy during the early hours of the day, probably owing to the new Ohio law closing the polls at 4 o'clock.

CANDIDATES FOR CHIEF OF POLICE TELL OF REFORMS THEY WOULD INAUGURATE IF ELECTED TO POSITION

The theme of conversation at the City Hall to-day was who would be appointed the new chief of police of the city.

Already quite a number of applicants are being spoken of and some of them have given out plans of what reforms they would inaugurate in the event of appointment.

At the present time the most likely candidate is thought to be Sub-Chief Campeau. Since the resignation of Mr. Legault, Mr. Campeau is occupying the position of chief.

"I think," said Mr. Campeau to-day, "that after serving the city for twenty-nine years, and during this long period never having a breath of scandal against my name, that I have considerable claim to the position. I can say that I have the respect of the entire police force, both of the constables and the men. It has frequently been the custom at the City Hall to promote employes who have proved they had the interests of the city at heart. That I would like to put the whole police force on a footing that it would have the esteem and respect of citizens is proven by the way I have risen from the ranks. If I was competent to be appointed sub-chief I should be competent to fill the position of chief.

REFORMS IN DEPARTMENT.

"In regard to reforms in the Police Department they naturally are numerous, and it would be my endeavour to gradually raise the entire personnel of the force. I have said that I have the confidence of the entire force, and this would greatly aid me in my endeavours to effect moral and other reforms. A reform I desire to see effected is the more perfect supervision of the men on duty by the police captains and the lieutenants. At the present time I do not think captains and inspectors have sufficient watch over the men. I would have captains and lieutenants visit their respective districts more frequently and keep an eye on the men who are on duty.

"As to the enforcing of the civic by-laws, I think nothing should be left undone to raise the moral tone of the city. Having been connected with police work for so many years I know this could only be done with the most careful thought and with the entire cooperation of the whole force. There are many other reforms I should like to see effected, which, at the present time, would scarcely be wise to make public."

STATEMENT OF INSPECTOR LAMOUCHE.

"It may be," said Inspector Lemouche, "that I shall be a candidate for the position of chief of police, but this will only happen if I find the City Council does not desire to appoint sub-chief Campeau. As Mr. Campeau is my superior in office, and as he has had such a fine record as an officer it is only just he should get the place.

"In the event of my being appointed chief, however, I would endeavour to effect many reforms.

"In the first place I would like to see more educated men on the force. A police in with some education can serve the city much better than a man who has practically none at all. In order to get a better class of constables, it might be necessary to raise the salary of policemen. It would be a very wise move on the City's part to do this.

"I would also centralize matters so that the most perfect reports would be received every morning from the different police stations. By such a method as this the Central station would be able to keep in touch with all that was transpiring at the different stations.

"I would also see that the various constables were provided with pocket maps of the entire city, by these they would be able to understand their duties better and instruct strangers when they desired information.

"A school for the training of policemen in their duties should also be established. This I am sure would be a great help and would make the men efficient in their duties.

In regard to the civic by-laws pro-

The Mongolian, with Mr. Hannah on board, will sail from New York for Bermuda on Thursday of this week, and after taking on the seamen will proceed at once to Liverpool.

The Copeland-Chatterson Co., of Toronto, Commence Suits for Infringement of Patents.

In connection with the notice of suits for infringement of patents, which have been brought by the Copeland-Chatterson Co. Ltd., of Toronto, against certain Montreal firms, the plaintiffs state that they are compelled to have recourse to the courts to establish their rights in the various patents under which their systems are manufactured, on account of their persistent refusal to refrain from manufacturing and selling supplies to the Copeland-Chatterson consumers. The company (plaintiffs) state that they have spent years in the study of methods for the improvement and reduction of labour, in office work, and in the perfecting of their systems and devices. With what success this has been done is best attested by the thousands of houses who have adopted and are using them.

The firm expresses regret at the necessity of implicating the users of the infringing goods with the manufacturers in the suits brought which, however, seems necessary in order to correct the rather prevalent idea in the mind of the public that the manufacturer only is responsible and liable, whereas the user of an infringement is jointly and individually responsible and liable for all damages which may be sustained.

The Copeland-Chatterson Co. are now in possession of judgments granted them by the Exchequer Court of Canada brought against Toronto firms, and since the preparation of the present suits was begun, an important decision has been handed down in the Supreme Court in the United States, sustaining the claims of the owners of the patents in all points against infringements of the same patents on which the present suits are being brought.

LIEUT.-COL. STEVENSON AGAIN PRESIDENT OF CANADIAN BRANCH

Curlers Elected Officers Last Night, and Mr. W. D. Aird Presented an Exhaustive Report.

A meeting of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club was held at the Thistle Club, St. Monique street, Lieut.-Col. Stevenson in the chair. There was a sad note in the meeting, a letter read to those present conveying the news of the death in Hoboken, N.J., of Mr. James Thaw, with whom many of those present had been acquainted. Mr. Thaw had come to Montreal last winter as skip of the New York rink which had participated in the international contest for the Gordon medal. By his genuinity and cordial good fellowship he had become a friend of all with whom he came in contact and the news of his demise was received last night with deep regret. A resolution of condolence was passed.

The meeting passed off without unwonted incident. The election resulted in the following gentlemen being returned to office:

President—Lieut.-Col. Stevenson.
First vice-president—R. W. Tyre.
Second vice-president—Lieut.-Col. A. P. Sherwood, Ottawa.
Auditor—A. F. Riddell.
Secretary—Wm. D. Aird.
Executive committee—G. H. Cornell, David Guthrie.

The farewell address which is to be presented to the Governor-General was passed.

Among those present were Lieut.-Col. Stevenson, R. W. Tyre, David Guthrie, J. A. Currie, Geo. Brush, John Robertson, D. J. Rattray, D. Anderson, D. Kinghorn, Dr. J. C. Cameron, Wm. McNally, Lieut.-Colonel Gardner, A. Lockerby, Dr. Finnie, W. Wilson, H. M. Watson.

Mr. W. D. Aird, as usual, made a most exhaustive report of the doings of the past year. In his secretary's report, he said amongst other things:

Gentlemen,—I have much pleasure in presenting to you the report of the Canadian Branch for the season of 1903-04. As you are all aware, the season was an ideal one for curling, which started in the last week in November, and continued without a break in the weather till the first week in March. The members of the different clubs had as much curling as they cared to go in for. The matches under the supervision of this branch were all played off in good season, which included the unfinished matches for the district medals of the previous year, and besides these an additional competition for first year green curlers of the Montreal, Thistle, Caledonia, Heather, St. Lawrence and Lachine clubs. In the contest for the Gordon International medal, played for this year in Montreal on Caledonia ice, we had to lower our besoms to our American cousins. They deserve great credit for defeating our rinks, and we are not surprised at their jov for a win away from home. It is not out of place to mention in passing the creditable showing made by the ladies' curling clubs during the season. In their big bonspiel the play was of a high order. We congratulate the Lachine Ladies' Club as winners of several prizes, and the St. Lawrence Ladies' Club on the good fight put up by them. We do this most heartily, as they both are members of this branch. You all know of the departure from Canada of His Excellency Lord Minto, some day during this month. Your executive at a meeting held in October, were of the opinion that it would be proper to present His Excellency with an address from this branch of the R. C. C. Club, if same would be acceptable to him. Through our president, a favourable reply was received, and you will hear the address read at a later date. We all, no doubt, hope that our next Governor-General Earl Grey, will take as much interest in curling as Lord Minto and our previous governor-generals have done since Lord Dufferin was with us. During this season one special meeting of the branch was held, five meetings of the executive, besides several meetings for the drawings for the different competitions.

After going into exhaustive details he presented the treasurer's report which read.

Gentlemen—Our membership is now 26 clubs with 1,503 members (this includes 2 Ladies' clubs with 67 members), last season we had the same number of clubs with 1,412 members. The receipts for dues and annuals amount to $253.20, as compared with $230.57 the previous year. The Ladies' Club pay into the branch the same amount for dues as the parent club charges us. And the Thistle Club of St. John, N. B., for this year paid the same way. One club is in arrears for two years. The expenses were $202.49 as compared with $182.98 the previous year. The net assets are $204.29 as compared with $228.58 the previous year, and outstanding due of the club not paid of $15.30.

built under the new rules, for the coming season and we may expect to witness some keen racing in all the classes, especially in those which include the one-design boats.

These things have nothing to do with the Seawanhaka races, for which the contesting clubs virtually make their own rules.

FOOTBALL

McGill and Montreal.

McGill and Montreal will play Saturday afternoon, at the M. A. A. A. field. This game is a meeting between two of the city's representative teams, and a smart exhibition of Rugby can be looked forward to. Montreal has no other engagements, but as matters look now it is probable that McGill and Queen's will tie in the Intercollegiate Union, so that Saturday's match should be an excellent opportunity of testing the relative merits of Quebec and College Rugby. To all intents and purposes the rules are similar, the main difference being a slight difference in scoring of points and, the scrimmage rule. In the Quebec Union the ball must be advanced five yards on the last three downs in order to retain possession. In the Intercollegiate Union the ball is to be advanced ten yards in three scrimmages to ensure continued possession.

The Grand Trunk game lost in Quebec was protested in advance.

MISCELLANEOUS

Tom Burrows, the champion club swinger of the world, and champion Graeco-Roman wrestler of Australia, is training hard for his wrestling match with Eug. Tremblay, the local lightweight champion, which takes place Thursday night at Sohmer Park. Tremblay will have his work cut out for him, for Burrows is six or seven pounds heavier, and the articles of agreement make the match at catch weights. Burrows has made his home in Montreal since he broke the world's record at the Arena for club swinging, some four weeks ago, and intends to stay here this winter.

H. H. Ebeborg, the champion wrestler of Denmark, will soon pay a visit to Montreal for the purpose of meeting the best local heavyweight wrestlers. Ebeborg will be backed against Maupas, or any of the other crack wrestlers who are willing to take a crack at the new comer.

ODDS AND ENDS

The Montreal Bicycle Club will give a big stag euchre at the Gymnasium Some of the prizes are: Carved meerschaum pipe value $25; dress suit case, satchel, two boxes cigars, M.A.A.A. plus, fancy vest, pair military hair brushes, dressing case.

The committee are sparing no pains to make a success of the affair, and a good turn out is hoped for.

Alexander Swanson, the champion Swedish lightweight wrestler, would like to get on a match with Tremblay, the Canadian champion. Swanson has been beating all comers around New York, and within the past month has won over six matches without losing a fall to his opponents.

Homage to New Champion.

Major Delmar, 2.01¼, the world's champion trotter, owned by E. E. Smathers, was crowned king of all trotters the other day on the Speedway in the presence of thousands of enthusiastic lovers of the equine stars. Although the day was chilly and altogether unfavourable for outdoor sports, a big crowd visited the lower stretch to see the great speed marvel, who has just closed one of the greatest record-breaking seasons.

Preparations for the crowning of the champion were made by the Road Drivers' Association, and the event was held in connection with the final series of championship brushes.

Seldom has a trotter received such an enthusiastic reception as that which greeted Major Delmar when he jogged down the stretch with his owner, Mr. Smathers, at the reins, and hitched to a light speed waggon.

At 3 o'clock the start was made at the entrance of the Speedway, and with more than fifty of the fastest horses on the Speedway accompanying, the champion led a mighty procession down the road, escorted on either side by mounted police.

When he arrived in front of the grand stand, President Podge, of the Road Drivers' Association, and other officials of the association, presented Mr. Smathers with a handsome floral offering three feet high, composed of American Beauty roses and chrysanthemums. President Podge spoke of the wonderful performance of Major Delmar during the past season, while the great speed marvel stood as quietly as though he realized all that was going on.

Mr. Smathers thanked the association for their handsome gift, and as he accepted the favour a great cheer went up from the crowd. Mr. Smathers then announced that he would give the crowd a chance to see the champion, and he was sent down the road at speed several times accompanied by the runner that has paced him to all his world's records.

It is doubtful if the champion ever showed any greater burst of speed than he did in his wonderful spurts over that half-mile stretch. Alta McIlvenald, to whom the credit belongs for developing the great gelding, and who has driven him to his world's records, drove the runner that acted as pacemaker.

Mr. Smathers took his champion just above High Bridge, and, on turning, gave him his head. He was in his stride in an instant, and he fairly flew over the ground. Mr. Smathers took another trial at him, and then turned him over to his professional driver, McDonald. The latter, who knows how to get every ounce of speed out of the champion, went to the head of the stretch and stepped him to his limit, urging him at every stride, so that Major Delmar's legs seemed hardly to touch the ground as he stepped over the road.

Yesterday's Results at Aqueduct.

New York, November 8.—Gay Boy, the heavily-played second choice, easily won the Woodmere selling stakes at Aqueduct yesterday. Crown Prince, the favourite, made the running to well in the stretch, where Gay Boy passed him and won by two lengths. Damon was third. Two favourites won. Summary:

First race, 6 furlongs—Fleur de Marie, 102, Hildebrand, 6 to 1, won; Calmgorm, 112, Shaw, 9 to 10, second; Merry Lark, 110, Martin, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1.14 2-5.

Second race, selling, mile and five-sixteenths—The Southerner, 98, Travers, 11 to 10, won; Glisten, 98, Hildebrand, 6 to 1, second; Cloverland, 111, Redfern, 3 to 1, third. Time, 2.15.

Third race, the Woodmere stakes, selling, 7 furlongs—Gay Boy, 118, Burns, 11 to 5, won, Crown Prince, 102, Travers, 9 to 5, second; Damon, 110, Martin, 9 to 1, third. Time, 1.27.

Fourth race, 6½ furlongs—Ocean Tide, 112, Shaw, 15 to 1, won; Thistle Heather, 102, Travers, 7 to 1, second; Santa Catalina, 109, Hildebrand, 7 to 2, third. Time, 1.20 1-5.

Fifth race, selling, one mile—Thespian, 93, Schilling, 5 to 1, won; Prince Chic, 106, Collins, 12 to 1, second; Reliance, 97, W. Hennessey, 30 to 1, third. Time, 1.41 3-5.

Sixth race, five furlongs—Florial, 101, Hildebrand, 6 to 5, won; Pirate Doll, 109, Shaw, 13 to 5, second; Lucy Young, 102, F. Hewitt, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1.00.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., November 8.—John Cole, aged 15 years, was accidentally shot and killed by Charles Spaulding, a companion, at Lake St. Catherine. The boys were out hunting squirrels, and after firing several shots without success became tired of the sport and engaged in a friendly scuffle. Spaulding was holding the gun, and Cole attempted to jerk it away. Spaulding then pointed the gun at Cole's head, supposing it was empty, and pulled the trigger. The charge blew the top of Cole's head completely off.

CANADIAN HOCKEY LEAGUE CLUBS BEGINNING TO ORGANIZE NOW

At Victoria Club's Annual Meeting F. M. McRobie Is Elected Hon. President and a Life Member.

The annual meeting of the Victoria Hockey Club was held at the Windsor. It was the most enthusiastic meeting of recent years, and was largely attended. The election of officers resulted as hereunder:

MR. T. M. M'ROBIE.

Hon. patron—Mr. H. Wilson.
Hon. president — Mr. F. M. McRobie.
Hon. vice-president — Mr. George Cheese.
President—Mr. J. M. G. Lockerby.
Vice-president—Dr. E. J. Stuart.
Captain—Mr. R. Bowie.
Hon. secretary-treasurer — A. Chevalier.

Committee—Messrs. R. Russell, R. Bowie, P. C. Howard, M. Grant.

In consideration of his many services to the club, Mr. Fred. McRobie was elected a life member, an honour well deserved. Below will be found the annual report:

Gentlemen,—On behalf of your executive, I have much pleasure in presenting to you the 28th annual report of the Victoria Hockey Club. We again stand second in the C.A.H.L., when by right we should have been first, but owing to the resignation of the Ottawa Hockey Club from the C. A. H. L., our players were caught napping by the Quebec Hockey Club in our final match, and we were defeated after a hard struggle by a team which was in better condition than we were.

Our seniors played eleven matches during the season, with the following results:

At Toronto—St. Georges lost, 11-9.
Shamrocks, won, 18-2.
Quebec, won, 12-5.
Ottawa, lost, 10-6.
Montreal,—won, 7-6.
Ottawa, 4-4, not finished.
Shamrock, won, 16-2.
Quebec, lost, 9-7.
At New York—Wanderers, drew, 8-8, no game.
Crescents, lost, 6-4.

The following players played on the senior team: Messrs. J. Nichol, G. Davison, R. Magor, P. Molson, W. Bellingham, R. Bowie, Captain B. Russell, C. Howard, W. Ewing, F. Patrick, and T. Benson.

Our intermediate team was not very successful, owing to the seniors drawing so many players that the team was composed principally of juniors, who will make a much better showing during the coming season.

Our juniors were very successful in winning both sections of the Junior League in Montreal, and only lost in Ottawa, being defeated by the Victorias, of Ottawa, a team which had already won the Ottawa Valley championship and were better than most intermediate teams.

The following new members were elected during the season: Messrs. T. W. Benson, G. Davison, Geo. W. Bancroft, D. Campbell, C. A. Lockerby, F. J. Eveleigh, H. Lucas, H. O. Kingston, B. Simpson, A. B. Callaghan and R. Meldrum.

The finances of the club are in a very satisfactory condition, as will be seen by the treasurer's report.

Your executive held sixteen meetings during the year, which were attended as follows: F. M. McRobie, George Cheese, P. Molson, R. Russell, Dr. Stuart, W. Ewing, R. Bowie, H. D. Browne (resigned), L. Johnston, M. Grant, D. Campbell, J. M. G. Lockerby.

The executive are submitting to you to-night a ticket bearing the names of members, whom we consider most suitable for election, but, of course, any member can alter this ticket to suit his own views, the names mentioned being merely a guide as to the opinion of your present executive.

At the end of the season we gave a dinner and presented souvenirs to the players.

The whole respectfully submitted.

For the executive,
J. M. G. LOCKERBY,
Hon. Sec.-Treas.

THE ROUGHRIDER-MONTREAL MATCH.—A throw-in on the touch line.

OTTAWA OPINION OF LAST SATURDAY'S MATCH

Two Different Points of View of the Montreal Team and Its Playing Powers.

(Ottawa Journal)

The Montreal team by no means did justice to itself. On paper and on the field they are capable of better things. Their line is not in it with Rough Riders, but their back division look like being very much superior. The names of Christmas, Craig and Percy Molson spell well and look well, because they are undoubtedly each and every one capable of brilliant things, but on Saturday they certainly could not convert, and with or against the wind they were seldom dangerous. W. Christmas, who replaced Percy Molson, as centre half, was the poorest and costliest player on the team, and it was evidently his day off. He has a great reputation, which he could not live up to. Some of his punts were good, decidedly so, but he fumbled time and again, and is no man to put at centre half against a strong and fast wing line like the Rough Riders. Craig had few opportunities given him and only looked really dangerous once, when he was nicely brought down on a fine run. If Montreal cannot feed a man like Craig they should know enough to play him at centre, as he has speed and stamina, handles a ball well and is certainly to-day the best kicking proposition the Montreal team have.

Dr. Jack perhaps never played a poorer game. He bucked the line a few times with success, and he has the weight for this kind of work, but his delivery of the goods to his halves was poor in the extreme for some of the poor plays which Montreal made.

In the scrimmage the Rough Riders easily had the best of the game, and Phillips, Kennedy and Sandy Cameron, despite the black eye the latter got early in the game, put up the best game they have this season.

On the wings, Montreal were very weak, and this made it fairly easy for Ottawa, but in loose scrimmage work Montreal did well, and it was their fast following up dribbles that led to Joe Rankin being laid out when attempting to pluckily fall on a ball and to Jack Roberts having his leg twisted when stopping a rush. These two men were at the time playing good ball. Rayside, on the wing, was as usual aggressive but towards the end he certainly lost his head when he had a touch-down as easily made as getting money from home, but failed to either pick up or fall on the ball.

Ottawa City has two of the best football teams in Canada, while Montreal has the satisfaction of having seen them play. That's about all the satisfaction that that city will have this year. Two weeks ago Montreal was going to win the Q.R.F.U., the I.R.F.U. with the Junior and Intermediate championship of everything in the country.

They were going to eat 'em alive.

Montreal has lost the Q.R.F.U. and before the snow flies all the championships that will winter in the metropolis may be safely hidden under a large brass thimble.

Montreal rushed on to the field Saturday afternoon with fire flashing from their eyes, and smoke wreathing from their mouths and nostrils.

They wanted to tear up the Rough Riders so badly that they positively frightened the large and enthusiastic audience of about four hundred and twenty-three people—half dead heads at that. When the blankets were thrown off the Montrealers, and they began to toss the earth into the air and bellow, forty-five policemen fainted, while three hundred and twenty-three ladies had to be removed from the stand. Sixty-seven small boys went into violent convulsions with fear, while several prominent citizens sent word to the Rough Riders, asking them if they wished militia protection from such a fearful host of dreadful maneaters.

Many openly wished that the game might not be played, as they didn't wish to see such nice chaps as the Rough Riders walk into certain death. President Seybold and R. T. Shillington were quite cool, however, and said that the game must be pulled off. Both were pale, but determined.

It was sure a case of "Into the jaws of death." (Spokeshave)

But, thirteen to five
That explains a lot.

It explains it all. It was a championship game of football, such as is seldom seen anywhere except right here in the little village of Ottawa, where Sir Wilfrid Laurier, McLeod Stewart and other famous men reside, and where, by a peculiar, and as yet undiscovered law of gravitation, all the championships in sport, somehow gravitate.

It was easily the best, fastest, most open, and most desperately contested game of the season. Easily so.

Montreal was pushed around the field much as a young Varsity student is hustled in the initiation process. The quarter, a young man named Jack, who looked as though he couldn't help it, failed to secure the ball in the face of such wicked attacks of Morley Walters put up, aided and abetted by such football giants as Kennedy and Phillips.

Craig and W. Christmas did as well as possible, thank you, but it was no great shucks. McDonald at full looked as though he were going to make good, but he also did only fair work. Nothing wonderful. Rayside and O'Brien were the Montreal stars, and had the Ottawa rooters into nervous "jumps" in no time.—Ottawa Free Press.

COMMENT

There are excellent reasons for believing that when the yachting season of 1905 opens the owners of racing sloops and schooners will find that they may sail in almost any club race under rules of measurement and rating that will be eminently more satisfactory than those of former years. Representatives of the leading clubs in New York and Eastern waters at a recent meeting took up the measurement question in a businesslike way, and, to use a nautical phrase, gave it a thorough overhauling. The result was that changes of a radical nature will take place, looking toward the betterment of the present conditions, and the adoption of uniform rules that will encourage the building of a healthy type of yacht, doing away with the freak, and at the same time permitting boats of the old type to be so classified that their owners may enjoy the sport of racing, with some chance of winning a prize now and then. The present method of obtaining the sail area is to be abandoned and will in future be determined by the measurement of the yacht's spars as set forth in the rules of the Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound. It was agreed at the meeting referred to that the rating formula of the New York Yacht Club, and of the Eastern and some other

AMERICAN PROFESSIONALS ORGANIZE WITH FIVE CLUBS

Pittsburg, Houghton, Calumet and Two Soos Form Pretentious Professional Circuit—Looking for Players.

Pittsburg, November 8.—The American Hockey League has been completely organized and is composed of five clubs, Houghton, Sault Ste. Marie and Calumet, Mich., Sault Ste. Marie, Canada, and Pittsburg. The officers of the league are A. S. McSwigan, Pittsburg, president; A. L. Ferguson, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., vice-president, and James R. Dee, of Houghton, Mich., secretary and treasurer.

The regular season will open December 1 and close the first week in March. In the northern country where the teams play on natural ice the ice softens and cannot be depended upon after March 5. It is not known whether Pittsburg will open the season at home or abroad.

Manager McSwigan, of Duquesne Garden, is not yet ready to announce his team. He has secured all but two of his seven. On account of the formation of the league and the expected boom to hockey all the players are demanding fabulous salaries on the assumption that the rinks must have their services. This has led to lesser hockey lights applying for places in the league. The garden management has a stack of applications.

Charles D. (Baldy) Spittal of Ottawa will captain and manage the Pittsburg team. He played with the Victorias last season and part of the season before and is one of the best defence men in the game anywhere. Several others of last season's local championship team will wear a Pittsburg uniform this winter.

The Garden skating season will open a week from next Wednesday night. It has been the custom to open the skating season the day before Thanksgiving Day, but on account of the great interest being taken in the matter this season it was decided to open ten days earlier than usual. The plans for this season include the holding of fancy dress skating carnivals about once a month.

Emissaries have started for Canada to buy up players.

Argentina Immigration Increases.

New York, November 8.—A Buenos Ayres despatch to the Herald says immigration has increased. During October there arrived 18,432 immigrants. Among them there were 8,748 Italians and 8,114 Spaniards. Many immigrants do not come directly from Europe but from Brazil. The Brazilian papers accuse the Argentine authorities of spreading a propaganda among the foreign colonists to induce them to go to Argentina.

Some of the leading French statesmen, including Bouvier, Combes and Trouillot, have given their sanction to the socialistic scheme of granting every person aged over sixty a pension of $72 a year. This scheme if carried out, would cost the country $400,000,000 a year.

A London despatch says: The estate of the late Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt has been proved at upwards of $950,000.

Toronto's Finest Residence.

Undoubtedly the finest residence in Ontario is that of Mr. Cawthra Mulock, son of Sir William Mulock, who some time ago inherited the vast sum of three million dollars from the late Mrs. Cawthra. The house is a veritable castle of stone on Jarvis street, and is sumptuously furnished with works of art. The latest addition is an art piano by Heintzman & Co., somewhat similar to that recently sold to Mayor Laporte by C. W. Lindsay. Limited, the sole agents here. 264 3

Ladies visiting the Big Store frequently express astonishment at our immensely varied stock of winter coats and their high standard of elegance and beauty.

The collection certainly is unique—probably the care involved in bringing our stock to this level of perfection is unique also. We have an expert buyer—an artist in his way—who spends all his time at the Great European Fashion centres, visiting Masters of the art Sartorial, men whose names are mighty in the annals of Fashion. Of their work, he selects the very choicest and has them immediately shipped to us. These we again supervise and place before you for your inspection and approval.

CABLE CONFERENCE DELAYED

The Yorkshire Herald Thinks Canadian Election Results Will Please United States.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, November 8.—Commenting on the Canadian election results the Morning Post says: "The overwhelming Laurier majority is not a trustworthy indication of the numerical strength Liberals and Conservatives since on account of patronage there is always a number of electors whose chief desire is to be on the winning side and thus vote in accordance with political probabilities. Toronto, the wealthiest Dominion city, and the least dependent, is not influenced by such motives and has turned five Opposition members.

The Yorkshire Herald says: "It is not surprising, yet it is a matter of congratulation. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's decisive victory is welcome to the United States, partly because of the improved trade relations are more likely to be extended under him, and largely because it is known that reciprocity is more important than those of trade relations of friendship will be bettered. Therefore, it is hoped that Laurier will resume the interrupted negotiations for the settlement of questions still at issue with the United States."

CANADIAN LATIN SCHOLARS.

Prof. Glover, formerly Regius Professor of Latin in Queen's University, Kingston, in his "Studies in Virgil," says in regard to Canadian students: "Not at all introspective a student, in spite of woful preparation and persistent inability to translate with accuracy or compose without elementary blunders in syntax, would, nevertheless, realize something of the literary value of the poet or historian being read in class, and would persevere with almost patetic enthusiasm in a study in which he could hope for no distinction, but which he could and did enjoy. He realized, in fact, that the old Scotch term 'humanity' meant something."

IMPORTS FOR OCTOBER.

The imports for the month of October, according to the Board of Trade returns, are: Cattle, 16,298 head, valued at £222,434; sheep and lambs, 13,165 head, £20,565; wheat, 72,209 cwts., £26,833; wheat meal and flour, 103,800, £52,826; peas, 18,570 cwts., £9,307; bacon, 82,467 cwts., £190,094; hams, 14,558 cwts., £36,751; butter, 53,284 cwts., £243,815; cheese, 214,554 cwts., £689,717; eggs, 96,196 great hundreds, £37,777; and horses, 21 head, £816.

LLOYD-GEORGE SPEAKS.

Mr. David Lloyd-George speaking at Bacup, said that if Great Britain wanted to be at the head of the English-speaking communities of the world "let us put ourselves in line with our great self-governing colonies, then we could say: 'We have freed as you have religion. We have freed land, now you have free trade as well.'"

WANT EMBARGO PRESERVED.

At a meeting of a branch of the Lancashire Farmers' Association, on Saturday, it was decided to petition the Board of Agriculture against opening British ports to Canadian store stock, as desired by the Scotch and Norfolk graziers, because of the danger of importing disease and the disastrous effect that would have upon the rearing of young stock.

FAVOURS COLONIAL PEERS.

Prof. Lodge of the chair of history, Edinburgh University, speaking at Glasgow, said more life peerages ought to be created to include as many as possible eminent colonial politicians, who could be induced by such a position to return to the Mother Country.

PACIFIC CABLE CONFERENCE.

The Canadian Associated Press understands that owing to Sir William Mulock being unable to attend at the time arranged the Pacific Cable conference has been indefinitely postponed.

An Accident at Cornwall.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Cornwall, Ont., November 8.—An accident took place here yesterday afternoon which may result in the death of Mr. John Angus Grant, of the South Branch. Mr. Grant was driving into town with his daughter, Mrs. Angus R. McDonald, when a shaft broke and caused the animal to run away. Both Mr. Grant and his daughter were thrown out with great violence, and the former, who is nearly 80 years of age, was picked up unconscious and is still in that condition. It is believed that he has sustained severe internal injuries which, coupled with his advanced age, makes his recovery very doubtful. Mrs. McDonald, who is the wife of the proprietor of the Carleton House, escaped with a shaking up.

MANY IRISH PEOPLE ENTERING UNITED STATES.

Washington, November 8.—United States Consul Stephens, at Plymouth, England, says in a recent report:

"The British press has called special attention during the last month to the continued, and what they term alarming flight of the Irish and Cornish to America. Over 22,000 have gone from Ireland alone during the present year, and the exodus, which has received an impetus from the cheap fares, goes on without interruption.

"There is, it is asserted, to greater menace to Ireland's future than this appalling drain by emigration. It is drawing out of the country the best of its peasant class for America, and leaving the undesirables behind.

"Never before have the Irish people manifested such a determination to leave their country. At present they are leaving at the rate of 2000 per week, and no argument advanced to keep them in their island has the slightest effect.

"The same conditions, though in a modified form, apply to Cornwall. The mining industry at home is dead. In the British colonies, conditions are not at all favourable, hence the weekly exodus to America. Those already in the United States send home money as rapidly as possible to assist their relatives and companions in Cornwall to follow."

Was Arrested and Released.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Calgary, N.W.T., November 8.—H. O. Roberts, a Montana cattleman, charged with attempting to secure a 8,000 acre ranch from David McDougall, by means of a cheque against which there were no funds, has been discharged in the police court. Three weeks ago the young man, accompanied by his wife, and representing himself as H. O. Roberts, Montana, with unlimited capital and 8,500 cattle en route to Alberta, registered at a hotel, spent money freely, was invited out to different residences and conducted himself well. He contracted for a ranch near Morley, owned by David McDougall, price $42,000, payable half in cash, and the balance in four years. He had previously received a draft from Chicago through a local bank and cashed it, the transaction being all right. On Saturday he gave the $22,000 draft for the purchase money, saying the money for the same should arrive in a few days. In the meantime he went to Banff and was enjoying himself. The cash, failing to arrive, he was arrested and brought here for trial. There was no evidence that he had attempted to borrow a dollar or had contracted a single debt that had not been paid except the real estate transaction, and after McDougall had admitted that when he got the cheque he knew of no funds in the bank to meet it, the court released the mysterious stranger.

IRISH AMERICANS WILL BUILD INSTITUTE.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, November 8.—A largely attended meeting of the members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held last night in Carnegie Hall, where an address was made by Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, of the Catholic University of Washington. Many prominent Irish Americans were in the boxes on the stage. Justice Morgan J. O'Brien of the Supreme Court acted as chairman. It was said that Boston had a hall in its public library for the benefit of the people of the city for holding debates and mass meetings, and as New York city was without such a thing a movement was on foot to have such a hall and public library built in New York, and that he, as a member of the board of trustees, had received a copy of a letter written by a number of prominent Irish Americans to Mr. Carnegie asking his aid toward the building of such a hall which would be known as the Irish Institute. The proceeds of the meeting were devoted toward the institute project.

Small Fire at Buckingham.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Buckingham, Que., November 8.—About two o'clock Monday morning a fire broke out in the blacksmith shop of Mr. James McCormick, occupied by J. A. Proulx. The flames spread rapidly to the sheds adjoining, owned by Fred. Ross, and although the fire brigade worked diligently both buildings were destroyed. The loss on both buildings is estimated at about $2,000, no insurance. The Deering Manufacturing Co., which had machinery stored on the premises, loses over $700.

ANDRE MONUMENT HAS BEEN SOLD.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, November 8.—For the purpose of taxes, a monument erected by the late Cyrus W. Field at Tappen, N.Y., to the memory of Major Andre, has been sold. The monument stands upon Andre Hill, just over the spot where the British officer was buried after his death. Since the death of Mr. Field his family has neglected to pay the taxes on the plot of ground one hundred feet square, within which the memorial shaft stands.

Death of Respected Resident of Quyon.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quyon, Que., November 8.—Mrs. Mary Smith, the widow of the late Wm. Smith, has died here at the age of 92. She was born in Portsmouth, England, on November 9, 1810, and was the daughter of the late Charles Chubb, of London, England. Mrs. Smith leaves a family of three sons and four daughters. Rev. J. W. Smith, of Erie, Rev. F. R. Smith, rector of Hull, A. G. Smith, Mrs. W. H. Meredith, Mrs. Robert Scott, and the Misses M. H. and Elizabeth E. Smith, of Quyon. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. A. W. Buckland, rector, assisted by Rev. Rural Dean Taylor, of Aylmer.

A Crimean Veteran Dead.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Woodstock, Ont., November 7.—George Gordon Fraser, a veteran of many wars, is dead here. He served successively in the Black Watch and the Royal Artillery. He passed through the Indian Mutiny and part of the Crimean war, and served nine years in China, being present at the capture of Canton, in 1857, of Pekin, in 1860, and of the Taku forts in the same year. In the three wars in which he served he was in seventeen battles and received three wounds. He came to Woodstock in 1851.

THE AMERICAN ELECTIONS.

To-day the Americans select their President for the next four years, and their House of Representatives for the next two. With unusual truth, it may be said this time that it does not very much matter which party they decide to entrust with the task of government. No great issue divides the two camps; and the campaign just concluded has been about the tamest on record.

The "trust" problem has been nibbled at by both parties, and from both sides. When the campaign opened, the Democrats were under the impression that the "trusts" distrusted Roosevelt; and so they cold-shouldered the radical wing of their party and put Judge Parker in nomination as a man who would not harm the most infantile of industries. But as the fight developed, it was found that the "trusts" were apparently not supporting Parker after all, having decided, doubtless, to bet on the more likely horse, and so an effort has been made toward the last to represent Parker as a doughty champion who will "bust" the biggest "trust" that ever trusted.

Both Grover Cleveland and William J. Bryan have spoken for Parker, something they would not do for each other; but it is yet to be seen how far Mr. Bryan can carry the radical vote in his pocket for a candidate against whom he crusaded prior to his nomination. President Roosevelt's campaign has been strictly an official Republican campaign, without extraneous features and without much excitement. No such figure as that of the late Senator Hanna has loomed up to attract the shafts of the enemy. Mr. Cortelyou has been accused of "bleeding the trusts"; but that is an offence for which, even if proven, he will never be hanged by the American people.

Imperialism has not been an effective issue either, chiefly because the American people believe, as a whole in the mild sort of Imperialism which implies the holding of the Philippines and the sharing of the new and promising Chinese market. They are not so fearful of President Roosevelt's impulsiveness as they were, and they like his frank acceptance of his responsibility as the executive of a people with moderately Imperial aims. The "Panama business," for instance, was distinctly popular.

The Democrats have more hope of carrying Congress than the Presidency, and, if they do, we shall see two years of that divided responsibility which so paralyses American legislative progress. One day our practical neighbours will learn that they cannot have "responsible government" without providing themselves with a definite and all-controlling government to be responsible. There should be a necessary unity between the men who control the House of Representatives and those who act as the executive of the nation.

THE UNITED STATES AS A WORLD-POWER.

Phillips Brooks once said that when the American people acquired a due sense of proportion and perspective, great things might be expected of them. The will of seventy million people is a mighty force, but until it senses itself, it is apt to play havoc with the workings of government, for one man nor a thousand men can turn its energy to proper channels or adjust its expenditure in proper proportion to national and local needs until the individual units are willing to understand and to co-operate. The authority to control can exist only in the power to accomplish.

Every defect in government, every uncouth development in the economic life of the United States can be traced more or less directly to the lack of this national characteristic. The ignorance which sweeps away all barriers to industrial success and overwhelms competition by its intensity asserts itself but vaguely and without definite purpose in the halls of Congress; the keen, concentrated intelligence which allows no business advantage to slip past unheeded has no time to spare for the business of cities or states or republics. Whatever sense of personal responsibility the average citizen may feel for the Government under which he lives must thrive on the odds and ends of time he is able to spare for it amid the engrossing activities of a purely individual existence. As long as his civic or state or national government keeps up appearances which satisfy his pride as an individual, as long as his private interests are not interfered with unduly, he is able to look on with amused indifference while the men he permits to rule fill their pockets at the expense of the body politic and brazenly prostitute public trusts for their personal advantage.

If the United States were a nation set off by themselves, it would be possible to view their continued existence as a badly governed people, with a sincere, but impersonal regret. Unfortunately their industrial eminence is apt to blind people of other countries to the fundamental weaknesses which threaten far-reaching disaster to the national structure. Until her citizens awaken to a common realization of their responsibility as individuals, the American Republic cannot be regarded as a reliable force in preserving the world's peace or promoting the world's welfare.

A TRUE WORD FROM CHICAGO.

One of the Women's Clubs in Chicago contains an extremely sensible member in the lady who at a recent meeting laid down the following rule for mothers: "Don't give your children too many presents before they are ten years old; they are liable, if you do, to an attack of ennui before they are twenty." If mothers would just think this that in loading presents and excitements of one kind and another on their children, they are simply indulging themselves. The mother who sincerely and rationally loves her child will consider carefully what will minister to the child's good, and that she will do. She will not ask: How can I get the greatest amount of gratification for myself out of the child? What self-indulgent parents of large means have at heart in multiplying gifts to their children, and giving them ever new experiences, is to procure for themselves the excitement of witnessing their children's excitement, and, of course, the further they carry the vicious practice the more difficult it is to produce excitement. Gifts must become more and more costly and elaborate, and amusements more and more stimulating. And the poor, deluded, unimaginative people cannot penetrate to the truth which to any intelligent eye lies very near the surface that it is themselves they are thinking of far more than their children. Ennui before twenty! Yes, lots of it. Thousands of unhappy children of rich parents know all its misery before they are ten.

The curse of money lies mainly in the confidence people get to place in it. It can buy all kinds of truck, and its possessors get to think that there is nothing in life but truck. Feelings, sympathies, hopes, imaginations can all be satisfied with truck, or, if not satisfied, then buried in it. And many a soul is actually buried and lost in money and its material products. Never was a gospel more needed than that which Pastor Wagner is now raising his voice to preach on this continent—the Gospel of the Simple Life.

TOO MUCH MELODRAMA.

Fantastic stories come to hand, one of which tells of the commander of the Baltic fleet signalling to a British squadron that if he did not keep off he would fire, to which the British commander is said to have replied in true Drury Lane style—"Fire away." Nothing could be more satisfactory—as romance. That is exactly what the shilling novelist would expect his typical British commander to say.

But if the Baltic fleet is going about hurling insults of this sort at vessels that chance to come near it, something more serious than romance would almost certainly have occurred before this. Such stories are about as credible as those which reported the Russians as saying openly to strange newspaper men at Cherbourg that they were glad to hear that their fleet had fired on some British fishermen and killed them.

We may surely assume that Russian naval officers are neither lunatics nor brutes. The Dogger Bank affair is not yet satisfactorily explained; but it is far more likely to have been the result of panic and vodka than of wanton folly and brutality. Nothing is to be gained by painting the trusted officials of other nations in the worst colours that can be imagined. Russia has shown that she does not know how to fight a fleet; but she is still a civilized power, and her admirals may safely be classed as gentlemen.

THE WAR SITUATION.

Fort after fort in the inner ring of connected defences seems to be falling into the hands of the Japanese, and the Gibraltar of the East, after valiantly defending its right to the title, is apparently tottering on the verge of surrender. A wedge has pierced the centre of the enceinte and the Japanese parallels have crept closer and closer to the ramparts on the left until we read to-day of the Japanese trenches collapsing into Russian galleries and of hand-to-hand combats between the besiegers and the besieged. Stoessel is said to have only some four thousand effective troops under his command, and with these it is no longer possible to man the full circle of forts, consequently it is believed that his retirement to the Tiger's Tail citadel is near at hand, in which fort he will make his last desperate stand. The town of Port Arthur, the docks and naval workshops are doubtless by this time a heap of ruins.

The day Stoessel is forced to abandon his ring of forts will be the last day the Port Arthur fleet dares lurk inside the ruined and guarded harbour. Better to meet destruction before the guns of Togo's fleet than to be shot to pieces by the plunging fire from forts that once protected them.

Farther north, Kuropatkin is waiting for Oyama to make his first hostile move, which is rather an unusual way of taking the offensive. St. Petersburg believes that he has by this time so strengthened his defenses that Sakhe will mark the farthest point the Japanese will reach in Manchuria. What plans and dispositions Oyama is making are utterly unknown and not yet guessed at.

Lecture on Music Development.

At a meeting of the Art and Literature department of the Montreal Women's Club yesterday afternoon, Prof. Percy Illsley, of St. George's Church, traced in detail the development of music as a feature of the services in the established Church of England. He recalled the works of the great composers of church music in every age, noting the influence upon them of the historical events of each period. On the blackboard Prof. Illsley reproduced a specimen of the old method of musical notation—a stave of four lines only with an odd clef and massive notes.

The way in which church music suffered during the sway of Puritanism in England was strikingly presented by the speaker. Parliamentary edicts banished church music then, musical instruments were destroyed and musicians were compelled to earn their livelihood by some other means. The fine old organ at Oxford, was preserved by especial order of Cromwell, who had it removed to Hampton Court.

Prof. Illsley deplored the fact that at the present time there was so much vocal display in church music, that the musical effect was considered rather than its sacred character. The people who paid for the music and who might demand more appropriate service unfortunately too often approved of it. With a word of commendation for the recent action of Pope Pius IX. in this regard the Professor concluded with the hope that though as yet a young nation without any notable compositions of church musk, Canada would yet produce composers who should keep church music up to the lofty standard desired.

At Les Nouveautes.

Sardou's "La Famille Benoiton" is the attraction this week at the Theatre des Nouveautes. The plot is laid among the wealthy French Bourgeois, whose mad rush for wealth blunts their sense of refinement, even unto the conversion of marriage into a financial transaction, and this characteristic of their class was well brought out by Messrs. Lombard and Brunetton, who as Benoiton and Formichel, planned to get hold of each other's wealth.

Miss Menzies and Mr. Lafrance's gave realisations between. The staging was adequate and the play was admirably put on.

The Premier Congratulated.

Ottawa, November 8. The City Council last night unanimously adopted a resolution felicitating Sir Wilfrid Laurier upon his return to power. The resolution which was moved by Ald. Stroud, seconded by Ald. Champagne, both Conservatives, read as follows:

"That the council of the city of Ottawa begs to tender to the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier its sincere congratulations upon the decisive, and what must appear to him the gratifying manner in which he has been again returned to power by the electorate of the Dominion. Irrespective of party issues the council is proud to think that as Premier of Canada he will still continue his residence here, as an esteemed fellow citizen, and it cordially recognizes the many benefits which since his advent, he has been enabled to confer upon the city and its people. It sincerely trusts that in whatever sphere his future may be cast whether as Premier or in the cold shades of opposition, he may be long spared in health and strength to devote his talents and energies in furthering the progress and welfare of the Dominion."

An engrossed copy of the resolution under the seal of the corporation will be forwarded to Sir Wilfrid.

Sir Wilfrid has expressed his confidence that in the event of Mr. R. L. Borden offering for election in any riding now held by a Conservative he will be permitted to secure his seat without a contest.

Mr. W. Belcourt, when asked respecting his election to the speakership in the new Parliament, denied that he had any knowledge of any such intended action beyond what he had read in the press despatches. He distinctly denied that he had been communicated with on the subject by any responsible parties. A rumor that gains some credence is to the effect that the ex-Speaker will ultimately be taken into the cabinet.

A Suit for Fifty Millions.

Boston, November 8. — The suit for $50,000,000 brought by Elizabeth T. Greenough, of New York, against Hy. H. Rogers, of the Standard Oil Company, which was dismissed by agreement of the parties on September 24, last, was re-entered yesterday in the Supreme Court. Mrs. Greenough is administratrix of the estate of her husband, Benjamin F. Greenough, an inventor, and seeks to recover royalties on the use of a secret process for treating petroleum to make it non-explosive.

SABREVOIS MISSION.—The Sabrevois Mission is preparing to celebrate its fiftieth anniversary, and Rev. H. E. Benoit, rector of l'Eglise du Redempteur, Montreal, has written an interesting historical sketch of this mission of the English Church among the French-Canadians. A church had been built at Sabrevois, and in 1847 Rev. Daniel Gavin, M.D., was ordained and sent there as missionary to the French people. In order to place the mission on a more efficient basis, the Montreal Association in aid of the Colonial Church and School Society, was founded, the first annual meeting being held in St. George's Church, in January, 1851. Dr. Gavin organized a day school in Sabrevois, and later a girls' school was opened. From this the mission grew to its present flourishing condition.

Nope. I didn't say 'em last night, an' nothin' didn't happen to me. I ain't goin' to say 'em to-night, neither, an' if nothin' don't happen to me to-night, I ain't never goin' to say 'em."

THIS DATE 30 YEARS AGO.

A ministerial caucus was held yesterday in an office on St. James street, when the vote with reference to Mr. Fred. Mackenzie, as candidate for the western division, resulted in nine for and nine against. Hon. Mr. Holton, the chairman, refused to give the casting vote. Another meeting was held in the evening, but the result is not so far known. The probable candidates are: Mr. F. Mackenzie, the unseated member, and Ald. G. W. Stephens.

THE gentlemen mentioned have since passed away. The friends of Mr. Mackenzie were too many in the division, and he received the nomination, though Ald. Stephens' friends made a strong stand for his name for the seat. Mr. Mackenzie was elected by only a few votes over the late Hon. Thomas Wiltte.

The Victoria Rifles, under the command of Lieut.-Col. Bethune, were inspected by Lieut.-Col. J. Fletcher, D.A.G. in the Victoria Skating Rink, last evening, before a large number of citizens. He complimented them very highly for their efficiency in drill and appearance. There were five full companies on parade.

BOTH the lieutenant-colonels have paid the debt of nature. Col. Angus Bethune passed through all the grades before becoming commander of the Vics. For some years before his sudden death, February 19, 1903, at St. Armand's Station, he was employed in the Militia Department at Ottawa. Colonel John Fletcher, after a long career in the militia, died a few years ago.

The employes in the peace office, Court House, this morning presented their chief, Mr. Charles Schiller, clerk of the Crown, with a handsome bouquet as a souvenir of to-day, the fete day of his patron saint, St. Charles.

After the resignation of the latter, the late Mr. Brehant was appointed in his place.

His Excellency the Governor-General, Countess of Dufferin and suite, arrived in town last evening from New York, and are guests at the St. Lawrence Hall.

THEY made during their short tour of the United States a private visit to President and Mrs. Grant at the White House, Washington. Their Excellencies were everywhere received with the warmest hospitality and courtesy by State officials and leading citizens.

MR. R. L. BORDEN WILL TAKE A REST.

Halifax, N. S., November 8.—Mr. R. L. Borden went to Kings county yesterday to visit his mother. Later this weeks he and Mrs. Borden will go to the Southern States for a rest. He is still hoarse, but there is no doubt that a few weeks will restore him to perfect health and entirely remove his throat trouble. It was impossible to see Mr. Borden after the news came of the offer of Col. Sam Hughes to resign his seat in Victoria, Haliburton, in his favour, but Mr. Blount, his private secretary, said that he could give a positive assurance that if Mr. Borden were asked the question his reply would certainly be that he would give no answer to any question of that kind at present. Friends of Mr. Borden have been congratulating him on the fact that out of the twenty-five places in which he spoke in Ontario, eighteen returned Conservatives in the recent elections.

PREMIER WILL SIT FOR QUEBEC EAST.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, November 8. — A Globe's Ottawa despatch says: "Sir Wilfrid Laurier will undoubtedly elect to sit for Quebec East, which would give Mr. Aylesworth the opportunity of a seat in Wright county, if he does not accept the offer of Gaspe. The new Minister probably will be sworn in as a member of the Cabinet on Wednesday. There is no evidence that Mr. Fitzpatrick intends to retire, is reported, to take a seat on the Bench or to become chairman of the Railway Commission, but if Mr. Fitzpatrick were to leave the Government the portfolio of Minister of Justice probably would be confided to Mr. Aylesworth. The first re-union of the Ministers will take place on Wednesday."

Two Changes in the West.

Winnipeg, Man., November 8.—Glen Campbell, the Conservative candidate, has retired in Dauphin, thus electing T. A. Burrows, the Liberal candidate, by acclamation. Hon. Thos. Greenway's majority in Lisgar is 235. Brandon gives Hon. Clifford Sifton 883 majority, with all polls heard from. Portage la Prairie returns John Crawford, Liberal, by 334 majority, with five polls unreported. The majority of Bole, Liberal, in Winnipeg, is 284. Frank Oliver, Liberal, will have the banner majority in Western Canada. Final reports from Edmonton may give him $2,500. Secord, Conservative, loses his deposit. Peter Talbot, Liberal, has carried Strathcona by over 700 majority. Lamont, Liberal, has a majority of over 700 in Saskatchewan. In West Assiniboia, Walter Scott, Liberal, leads by 600 majority, with many favourable polls to report. Returns from Humboldt are very scattered, but nearly all favour the Liberal. Heron, Conservative, has 86 majority in Alberta, with about half the polls heard from. McCarthy, Conservative, is elected in Calgary by a large majority. Thompson, Liberal, is elected for Qu'Appelle by 12 majority.

WAS KILLED WHILE DUCK SHOOTING.

Strange Circumstances Surrounding the Death of John Pigeon Near Chatham, Ont.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Chatham, Ont., November 8. — The Crown Attorney, H. D. Smith, is investigating the circumstances surrounding the death of John Pigeon, who was killed while duck shooting at Bear Creek, on October 25. Simon Thibodeau and John Pigeon were in a boat together. Thibodeau says that he was rowing, when Pigeon called out, "There's a duck." Thibodeau turned around and shot, and while his head was turned he heard the report of a gun, and, turning around, saw that Pigeon had been shot in the breast with his own gun. The gun, however, was missing, and the wound in Pigeon's breast appeared larger than it should have been had the gun been held close to the breast. Thibodeau said that the gun had fallen overboard after the accident. The Crown immediately ordered that the weapon be searched for. This was an 1897 model Winchester, and was found on Saturday. Being brought to the surface, it went off, bursting the barrel. An inquest was ordered and was held in Wallaceburg yesterday. The above facts were adduced and the inquest was adjourned to get additional information.

ZION CADETS.—A special emergency meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, November 9th, at 8 o'clock sharp. The officers are respectfully requested to be present without fail. Drill will be held after the meeting.

RETURNED MISSIONARY. — Mr. James Millar, of the Chinese Inland Mission, who has just recently returned from China, will address a meeting at the Pointe St. Charles Congregational Church, to-morrow evening, at eight o'clock. ANGLO-FRENCH TREATY DISCUSSED

EARL GREY BANQUETTED

His Lordship Pays Tribute to Resources of Dominion—Mr. Asquith at Southampton.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, November 8. Mr. Asquith, speaking at Southampton, said Mr. Balfour at Edinburgh, had shown that retaliation was no longer possible in the programme of the protectionist party. When he accepted the irrefutable minimum of Chamberlain's demand and assented to a fiscal conference of the Empire he was leading the Colonies to believe we were prepared to impose a preferential tariff, applying to countries competing with the Colonies. It was a betrayal of the confidence of the Colonies if we did not warn them that under no terms were the people of this country prepared to assist such a policy. The authoritative statements of Australia and Canada, most pronounced to Chamberlain's plan, are agreed in entering into no arrangements allowing British goods into their markets at level terms with their own. The conference idea was a sham and imposture.

The Times, commenting on Asquith's speech, says the question is not whether the Colonies will admit our goods free, but upon terms which shall neutralize artificial disabilities imposed by foreign tariffs. It says there is good reason to be content with what the Liberals of Canada have done and are willing to do in the tariff matter.

ANGLO-FRENCH TREATY.

The Anglo-French convention was again discussed yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies. M. Suchetet protested against the relinquishment of French rights in Newfoundland. He expressed the fear that the rights of French subjects would not be respected. He referred to regulations which might possibly be framed by the Newfoundland Legislature. M. Delcasse interposed thatif such regulations perilled the exercise of French rights, the French Government would address itself directly to the Imperial Government. M. Suchetet went on to relate the grievances suffered by the French from Newfoundlanders, and described what was conceded to France as a deceitful mirage. The inhabitants of St. Pierre and Miquelon were dissatisfied and prepared to accept union with the United States. The discussion was adjourned.

EARL GREY BANQUETED.

Speaking at a banquet at Newcastle in honour of his appointment as Governor-General of Canada, Earl Grey paid a tribute to the national resources of the Dominion, giving every advantage to those desiring a freer life. He was glad to know that the Lady of the Snows idea was fast disappearing. It was not wonderful that Laurier had said the nineteenth century belonged to the United States, the twentieth belongs to Canada.

THE ELECTIONS.

The Dundee Advertiser says: "Though imperial affairs in the Canadian election were a secondary question, so far as the results do express the opinion of Canada, they are highly unfavourable to Mr. Chamberlain's plaus. Mr. Borden is a whole hearted Chamberlainite, who would have interpreted victory as victory for the ex-Colonial Secretary."

Sir Howard Vincent has written to the Times, protesting against Campbell Bannerman making political capital by interpreting Laurier's victory as a Chamberlain set back.

PRESENTATION.—The office staff and heads of departments of the Montreal Steel Works, Ltd., presented Mr. W. F. Only a Little Cold often Develops Into Catarrh.

Colds are dangerous things to trifle with. They hang on and on, and people keep putting off curing them, until that stuffy feeling in the nose proclaims that catarrh has developed. Stop the cold while it is only a cold. Japanese Catarrh Cure instantly relieves "cold in the head." The balmy, aromatic pomade soothes and heals the inflammed surfaces, clears the air passages, and arrests the development of the trouble. The treatment is so pleasant and so simple, that Japanese Catarrh Cure holds first place in thousands of homes throughout the Dominion.

Mr. Alex. McRea of New Westminster, B.C., writes:—"I was for some weeks suffering from a cold in the head, which was apparently developing into Catarrh. I purchased a box of Japanese Catarrh Cure and in less than two days the trouble entirely disappeared. I can highly recommend it: the first application relieves."

All druggists sell it at 50c. a box or six for $1.50.

CONSCIENCE MONEY AT CITY HALL.

"Dear Sir,—Please find enclosed the sum of $5.25, conscience money. I feel that I should pay this amount. It has been owing to the city for a long time. (Signed) "A CITIZEN."

Such was the communication which was received by City Treasurer Robb yesterday.

"It is peculiar," said Mr. Robb, "how many people in the course of a year send in conscience money to the city. It shows there is a lot of good in human nature after all."

The Irish Flax Crop.

The observers of Irish economic conditions when studying the recent agricultural report will examine with peculiar interest the statistics relating to the only industrial fibre crop which the Emerald Isle possesses — flax. The interest is natural for much of the success of the linen industry—one of the industrial activities on a large scale—depends upon the linen makers' ability to obtain the raw material good, and at a low cost. An examination of the figures for 1902 will bring no satisfaction, for the crop shows a decline of over 5,000 acres, or a falling off of ten per cent.—the figures for 1903 being 44,955 acres.

Chadwick, accompanist. A pleasing programme of songs, instrumental solos and readings was rendered.

The Fire at Cardston.

Lethbridge, N.W.T., November 8.—The most destructive fire in the history of the town of Cardston Centre, in the Mormon district, was that which occurred on Saturday night. The fire started in Horner's harness shop, which was soon destroyed. Then followed the destruction of the Alberta Hotel and livery stables, Mr. Perry's residence, blacksmith shop and Allen's barn. Fortunately the weather was calm, otherwise, owing to inadequate fire protection, the greater portion of the town would have been destroyed. The loss is estimated at $200,000; insurance not known.

Correcting Bad Habits Not Enough.

NATURE NEEDS ASSISTANCE.

To cure a torpid and inactive liver, more is required than the mere correction of bad habits. You change your diet, reform your manners of living, but unless you assist Nature your efforts won't be a success.

When the liver and bowels are acting improperly, something must be done to put them in condition again. There is lack of tone in the liver action as well as in the bowels. You feel depressed and unfitted for work, endurance or responsibility. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills impart tone to a tired liver, give the push-from-behind strength to torpid muscles. They stimulate the circulation, and make the liver active and the bowels regular.

Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills cure constipation, biliousness, headache in one night. 25 cents, all dealers.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION STILL A MYSTERY

No Light Thrown on Fatal Accident at Gas Works.

CORONER'S INQUEST TO-DAY

Was a Large Crowd Present at the Morgue to Hear the Evidence Detailed.

The terrible explosion at the Montreal Gas Works, which occurred on October 28, when William Douglas, a foreman in the employ of the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Company, was killed, was the item of interest this morning during the inquest, when none of the witnesses were able to throw any light on the cause of the explosion.

There was no standing room in the morgue for the large crowd of spectators who gathered there to listen to the evidence, and prominent amongst them were several lawyers, who were directly or indirectly interested in the enquiry.

Mr. Charles Archer, of the firm of Prefontaine, Archer & Perron, entered an appearance for the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Company, and Mr. Oughtred, K.C., of the firm of Hatchinson, Oughtred & Place, appeared for the family of the deceased.

Samuel Skinner, general superintendent of the Montreal Gas Works, was the first witness called, and was kept on the stand an hour and a half, during which he was submitted to a very strict and searching examination. He stated that the destroyed building was erected in 1870. He was in the meter room with the deceased on the day of the accident. The meters were made of cast iron plates, and were much larger and more powerful than those used in private dwellings. They were about 13 feet square and 12 feet high. He was not aware of any escape of gas in the metre room where the explosion occurred. Upon his arrival on the scene of the accident the roof had fallen in and the walls were knocked outwards. Judging from the position in which the deceased was found, he must have been standing in front of one of the metres when he met his death. He found him in a mangled heap upon the concrete floor with a lot of debris on top of him. After the body was taken to the morgue and a clearance made, he went over the pipe connections and dials, in order to ascertain the cause of the explosion, but after careful examination, discovered nothing and could not imagine how the explosion occurred. The metres were intact and were in perfect working order. The deceased had been in the employ of the company for a number of years, and was considered thoroughly efficient.

CAUSE NOT KNOWN.

Louis Guyon and James Mitchell, both of whom were factory inspectors, gave expert evidence that they had been unable, after careful examination, to trace the cause of the explosion.

Richard Elkin, electrician, of 33 Paris street, Point St. Charles, swore that three lights were burning in the metre room, and four in the pressure room, about ten or fifteen minutes before the accident occurred, and that he found no unusual smell of gas when he entered the room. His statement was corroborated by William Skinner, son of the superintendent, who had also been in the room just before the accident.

William Fenn..., of 172 Iberville street, gave a description of his narrow escape from death. He said he was in the building when the crash came and the roof fell on him. He could give no explanation as to what caused the explosion.

The jury, after going over all the facts of the case, rendered a verdict of accidental death, being unable to say what was the cause of the explosion.

FATHER OF THIRTEEN ATTEMPTS TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

A man named Edward Gastongay, who told the Recorder to-day that he had thirteen children to provide for, was charged before Mr. Recorder Weir with being drunk and attempting to commit suicide by laying his head upon the railway track at the Point St. Charles subway just as a train was approaching. He had no excuse to offer, except that he had been drinking a good deal. His Honour sent him to Dr. MacKay for treatment.

RECORD YEAR FOR TONNAGE TO MONTREAL; FREIGHT BUSINESS SHOWS A DECREASE

The port of Montreal this year is in the peculiar position of having more ocean going tonnage than has ever entered it in one season; at the same time the incoming and outgoing freight has been smaller than for years past.

Throughout the season of navigation the local steamship men have complained of bad business and from the returns of outgoing cargo, as compiled by the Montreal Board of Trade, there was no small ground for these complaints.

By the end of November and the close of navigation, the ocean going tonnage will, in all probability, show an increase of something like 200,000 tons over last year, and will reach the two million mark or very near it.

In the same period of time the shipments from the port have, in many instances, decreased nearly if not quite fifty per cent. For instance the wheat shipments from the port of Montreal from the opening of navigation to the first of November this year amounted to 6,694,000, as compared with 14,630,030 bushels for the same period last year.

The decrease in corn shipments was also very large though the showing was better than that of wheat. From the opening of navigation to the first of November the Board of Trade returns indicate the total to have been 3,509,000, as compared with 6,184,000 bushels for the same period last year.

The shipments of cheese also show a decrease, though fortunately not so great as in the above mentioned items, the comparison being 1,138,000 boxes between the opening of navigation and November 1 for the present year, as compared with 2,147,000 boxes for the same period in 1903.

Of all the bulky products which count largely in a ship's cargo, the only one showing an increase, as compared with a year ago, is that of oats, the figures being 1,138,000 bushels as compared with 941,000 bushels for the same period last year.

If there is any particular satisfaction to be gained from the fact, it might be stated that the decrease in ocean-going shipments from the port of Montreal have been in no wise contrary to the general experience throughout the Atlantic and Gulf trade. From all United States ports, such as New York, Boston, Galveston, Philadelphia, etc., comes the news that there have been large decreases throughout the summer.

Throughout the year there has been practically no wheat to ship abroad either in Canada or the United States, the prices being maintained at such a figure as practically prohibited the export. Even now in the face of large crops both in the United States and Canada, the prices are such as to withhold the probability of large exports in grain throughout the remainder of the autumn.

REVERSES JUDGMENT RE TRADING STAMPS

Mr. Justice Doherty gave judgment to-day dissolving the injunction against the city, restraining them from enforcing the by-law passed last May, prohibiting the use of trading stamps.

The court finds for the defendant (the city of Montreal) on every point, and declares the Provincial law and the city by-law enacted under the authority of the Provincial Act, to be constitutional and legal.

When the news reached the City Hall, the Mayor was at once notified. The by-law will be signed by the Mayor this afternoon, and efforts will be made to put the enactment into force at once.

It is said that if this is done an injunction will be served upon the city in order to allow the trading stamp people time to appeal from the judgment. Messrs. Wilder and Co. gave notice of appeal at 1 o'clock to-day.

The case is called of J. E. Wilder vs. city of Montreal, H. Laporte et al mis-en-cause. The plaintiff asked for an injunction restraining the city from promulgating and applying a by-law adopted by the Council on May 25th last, under the act of the Provincial Legislature prohibiting, under a penalty of $20, the use of trading stamps or similar devices. An interlocutory injunction was granted and the plaintiffs asked that this be made permanent and the act of the Legislature be declared ultra vires and null, and the by-law declared ultra vires and illegal. The claim was set up that the by-law was introduced without previous notice, in accordance with article 301 of the City Charter, that the by-law threatens the destruction of the plaintiff's whole business, and that it unjustly discriminates against the plaintiff in permitting a merchant to give his customers trading stamps, coupons, etc., provided he redeem them himself, but prohibiting his having the same redeemed by a third party. The power of the Legislature to make such an enactment is denied by the plaintiff, who says that it was passed on solicitation of rival merchants.

The defendants claim that section 300 of the charter does not apply, as the by-law was passed under a special act, and a month's notice was not necessary. Judge Doherty held that the plaintiff had failed to establish the essential objections of his declaration, that the act in question was constitutional, and within the powers of the Legislature. The court holds that the Legislature has a right to say what things may not be lawful objects of contracts of sale, gift or exchange and generally concerning all matters of a purely local or private nature in the province, and to prohibit and impose penalties. Having such power, the Legislature had a right to delegate the same to the City Council, that this enactment in no way infringes upon the powers conferred by subsection 2 of section 91 of the B. N. A. Act, conferring upon the Parliament of Canada the right exclusively to make laws for regulation of trade and commerce or upon sub-section 27 of said act. The court further holds that the city, deriving its power from a special act, no notice of motion to adopt the by-law was necessary, the notice under article 301 of the charter only applying to by-laws enacted under section XII.

It was shown that the rule of Council requiring notice was suspended by unanimous vote of the members present, which suspension could in any case be legally carried by a two-thirds vote. The claim of plaintiff that the by-law was irregularly passed at an adjourned meeting proved unfounded, the business being merely a continued dealing with business which had come before, and been dealt with at the previous meeting of May 16.

The amendment had become necessary by reason of the rendering of a judgment of the court annulling the by-law which had been adopted on the 16th. The amendment sought to remedy the defect which the court held existed in the by-law as originally passed in view of the fact that the law is constitutional, it is immaterial to its validity whether it discriminates against the plaintiff or whether it were or were not passed on solicitation of rival merchants, or whether prior to passing of the act and by-law the plaintiff's business were "licit, orthodox and popular," as alleged.

Adjudicating upon the inscription in law of defendant, the court rejects the same without costs, and maintains the defendant's plea, dismissing plaintiff's action and demand and dissolving the interlocutory judgment with costs.

Hon. Mr. Dandurand appeared before Mr. Justice Doherty on behalf of the plaintiffs and gave notice of appeal to the Court of Review.

Will Not Be a Candidate.

Mr. Matthew Hutchinson, member for St. Antoine seat in the last Provincial House, announces that he will not seek re-election. "My only reason," said Mr. Hutchinson to a Star reporter to-day, "is that I am tired of politics.

"The decision of the Conservative party not to contest the elections had nothing whatever to do with my retirement. I made my decision some time ago."

Mr. Hutchinson was elected by acclamation at the last election.

Died as Result of Burns.

Robert Latimer, the young man who was so terribly burned while at work on a new building which is being erected on St. James street, on October 31, died last night in the Royal Victoria Hospital, as a result of his injuries. Dr. D. D. MacTaggart, medical expert, will make a poste mortem examination this afternoon, and an inquest will be held to-morrow afternoon, by Coroner McMahon.

MR. COCHRANE IS CONFIDENT OF RESULT IN ST. LAWRENCE.

Ex-Mayor James Cochrane, when seen to-day by a representative of the Star, expressed himself as being well pleased with the result of the convention which was held last evening in the Empire Hall, for the purpose of selecting a Liberal candidate for the coming elections for the Local Legislature. "I understand," said Mr. Cochrane, "that another convention is to be held to-morrow evening by a certain faction. In fact I have seen some of the postal cards which have been sent out. This will not matter. I am in the field to the end and am confident of being elected."

RENDERED VERDICT OF SUICIDE.

A verdict of suicide while in a moment of mental aberration was returned last evening by the coroner's jury, at the inquest held into the cause of the death of Henri Normandin, the young man whose body was found hanging in his father's barn yesterday morning, at St. Constant.

THINK GEORGE KERR JUMPED OVERBOARD.

The officers of the Allan Liner Laurentian, which reached New York yesterday, are of the opinion that George Kerr, an assistant steward, who mysteriously disappeared during the voyage, had committed suicide by jumping overboard. No additional information was obtainable on the point at the head office of the company, in this city to-day.

A Plucky Fight.

Now that the returns have been officially counted for St. Lawrence division, it appears that Mr. Campbell-Lane carried St. Lawrence Ward by 145 majority, the omission to include poll 35 on Park avenue, in which he secured the largest majority given to either candidate in any one poll, viz., a majority of 45, running up his majority in St. Lawrence to the figures mentioned above. In St. Louis Ward he loses by 193, leaving his net minority in the two wards composing the division 650. Mr. Bickerdike's majority in his former election four years ago against Ald. Ekers was 988. Mr. Lane has cut this down by 338 votes, which, seeing the shortness of his campaign, and the heavy odds against which he fought, and the various influences arrayed against him reflects no small credit on his plucky campaign. It is significant that in eight polls in St. Louis Ward, in the upper residential portion, he secured majorities. Now that the contest is over, he gets credit from his opponents for having put up a game fight, and he leaves the field with many newly made friends even among his strongest opponents.

Mr. R. Forget's Support.

It is being stated in Ottawa that Mr. R. Forget, who was elected to represent Charlevoix in the Dominion House, will give his independent support to Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

When asked to-day regarding his attitude, Mr. Forget stated that the report was perfectly correct. Previous to his election he had made this statement to the electors, and had also repeated it afterward.

Mr. Forget stated that he did not consider himself bound or tied to any party, and proposed to act accordingly. Mr. Forget's majority in Charlevoix was, he states, 117, and not seventy or eighty, as had previously been reported.

Laurier Club Expells Members.

The Laurier Club had a meeting last evening. A resolution was unanimously passed for the expulsion of those members who had given their support to Mr. Vallieres, who was defeated at the polls last Thursday. Two letters were read, from Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Lemieux, who consented to become honourary members of the club.

Noe Boyer Was Acquitted.

In the Court of King's Bench to-day, Noe Boyer was acquitted of the charge of attempting to murder Louis Leclerc by stabbing him. The affair grew out of a drunken row, and the jury after hearing all the addresses to-day, came to the conclusion that the accused was innocent of crime.

POOR FREIGHT BUSINESS NECESSITATES CUTTING OF STEAMSHIP SERVICES

Owing to abnormally poor business the C. P. R. and Dominion lines have resolved to cut their service between Canada and Bristol very materially.

During the summer months the two lines, working in conjunction, have each been operating three steamships between Montreal and Bristol, thus bringing a steamer of each of the lines into port about once in ten days.

The freight business, however, has proved such a failure, that the companies have deemed it best to operate a steamship apiece until matters pick up. The present service will be continued until the close of St. Lawrence navigation, after which the new schedule will come into effect.

The two lines will operate their vessels alternately, making St. John and Portland once in three weeks, in place of weekly.

Speaking of the situation to-day, Mr. John Torrance, sr., manager of the Dominion Line, stated that the general public had no idea of the amount of money which the steamship men in the freight carrying business were losing and had been losing for months past.

Asked what they would do with the boats taken off this service, Mr. Torrance stated that they would lay them up until the outlook improved.

"We are in hopes," he continued, "that this new schedule will be only temporary, for we can augment the service at any time there is need for it. But in the meantime the lines are certainly not doing the business, and it costs a great amount of money to keep these big steamships in commission when there is no cargo offering."

HAMEL HAS BEEN TURNED OVER TO CHIEF CARPENTER

Special cable from a Montreal Star Correspondent.

Havana, November 8.—Cuba officially delivered Hamel, the ex-paymaster of the city of Montreal, to the English minister this morning. The latter delivered the prisoner to Chief Carpenter, of Montreal, who leaves for Matanza this afternoon in the hope of securing a Canada-bound steamer. Is unsuccessful he will go this evening to Santiago, where he will embark.

Hamel is resigned, and says that while he regrets being forced to return to Montreal, he is glad the suspense is over.

Chief Carpenter, while greatly worried over the unavoidable delay, eulogizes the Cuban authorities, and says he received every possible courtesy.

THE ELECTION IN THE STATES

The Star will bulletin the results of the Presidential Election in the United States at its Uptown Branch this evening.

The officers of the Prince of Wales Fusiliers, of which the King is honourary colonel, will celebrate the occasion by holding a dinner in the evening.

C. P. R. MAY BUILD TWO NEW STEAMERS.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has not yet determined whether it will build to order or purchase already constructed, the two steamers that were authorized by the annual meeting this fall. Mr. Arthur Piers, the manager of the company's steamship lines, has been in Great Britain for the past few weeks canvassing the situation in this respect. From Glasgow comes the report that he is already arranging to have two new steamers built for the Liverpool and St. Lawrence service, but that is said at the head office here to be an error.

TWO ELECTION JUDGES SHOT IN COLORADO.

Cripple Creek, Colo., November 8.—Two Democratic election judges were killed in this district to-day, a Peabody deputy sheriff was mortally wounded, and a number of Democratic judges were beaten and thrown into gaol. Ike Idelbolt and Chris Miller, judges at Goldfield, were shot down by one of Sheriff Bell's deputies. They had ordered the deputy out of the polling place. He refused to go and turning upon the judges shot and killed them.

At Midway, Ed. Doyle, a deputy sheriff, assaulted Mrs. Kennedy, a Democratic judge, and in a struggle that ensued tore her dress and slapped her. Ed. O'Leary, a Democratic watcher, interfered and shot Doyle, fatally wounding him. O'Leary was arrested.

THE JAPANESE HAVE OFFERED TERMS TO RUSSIAN GARRISON

Che Foo, November 8, 5.30 p.m.—The Japanese besieging Port Arthur, ignoring Lieutenant-General Stoessel, the commander of the Russian military forces there, have offered terms of surrender to the Russian soldiers, according to advices leaving Port Dalny yesterday. In the meanwhile the ceaseless activity of picks and spades, gradually advancing trenches, spells inexorable fate to the watching Russians.

A Russian prisoner captured on October 26th said the soldiers composing the garrison of Port Arthur, in want and dispirited, saw the hopelessness of the struggle. Despairing of relief, with food scarce and medicine and hospital supplies insufficient, it was admitted by the Russians that a Japanese victory was inevitable. The soldiers according to the prisoner, see no reason to prolong the resistance, which brings glory to their officers but chiefly hardship and death to them. Upon hearing the prisoner's story General Nogi drafted a letter to be circulated among the soldiers themselves, the prisoner having promised to deliver it in mercy to his comrades. The letter related General Kuropatkin's retreats and his inability to make an impression on the army of Field Marshal Oyama, to say nothing of breaking through his forces and relieving Port Arthur. The letter also pointed out that the second Russian Pacific squadron has just started on its voyage. Continuing, it called attention to the resistless advance of the Japanese trenches, making it a matter of weeks when the Japanese would walk into the main Russian strongholds.

In conclusion, the letter offered humane treatment to all who surrendered, saying it was in the interests of humanity to prevent further useless slaughter.

Several copies of the letter, written in Russian, were given to the prisoner, who regained the Russian lines unobserved by his officers. That night the Russian returned, saying that his comrades would answer within a few days. He said the temper of the men seemed to show that, while they were mutinous towards fate, they also did not like the idea of an unofficial surrender. The letter did much, however, to dispel among the Russian troops the impression fostered by their officers that a massacre would follow a Japanese victory. The company to which the prisoner belonged originally numbered 800, and now totals thirty men.

Operations at Port Arthur.

Tokio, November 8.—Unofficial news received from Port Arthur since Saturday's report of the progress made by the besiegers indicates that the Japanese operations are proceeding satisfactorily though slowly. Limestone formations and rocky grounds interfere with the sapping. It is now considered that the capture of Rihlung mountain and East Keekwan mountain without An'se and Etse mountains is not sufficient to force the Russians to abandon the city proper.

Rochester, N. Y.—James H. Barrett, general superintendent of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg Railway, is dead. Mr. Barrett was at different times general superintendent of the following railways: Fort Wayne, Erie, C. & C., and Ohio Southern, the Southern Railway and the Chicago & Alton.

System Was of Great Assistance in Events Following the Recent Russian Outrage.

Mr. John D. Oppe, manager of the Marconi Company, Montreal, states that the Canadian Associated Press despatch to the effect that the Dominion Government has agreed to take the national control of the wireless telegraph providing the British Government does so, is not correct.

"I know of no arrangement," he said, "between this company and the Canadian Government towards that end.

"The British Government, I believe, have some agreement with the Marconi Company, permitting them to take over the wireless system in case of war, but I do not know that the Dominion Government has followed their example.

"At present almost every ship of His Majesty's navy is fitted with the wireless telegraph. It was this that enabled the British Government to communicate with the warships in the Mediterranean a few days ago.

"The Russian fleet have also a wireless system in connection with each ship, but their system, which is of German origin, will carry only 80 or 100 miles. The Marconi wireless can be transmitted a much greater distance.

"The Canadian Government may take over the wireless system here later on. What it would cost to do so I do not know."

STRONG TONE IN STOCK PRICES

Steel Issues Were Once More Prominent in the Dealings.

FAIR VOLUME OF BUSINESS

Market Took Little or No Notice of the Absence of Influences from Wall Street.

The charge certainly could not be laid against the Montreal stock market that in to-day's dealings it was in any way dependent upon the New York or other markets in the United States for guidance in the creation of prices or in the maintenance of activity in trading. All the markets across the border were shut up to-day on account of the elections, and the local market went on doing business on a fairly moderate scale, with a strong tone to prices, and in both respects was more interesting than yesterday, when the other markets were open.

NOT ALWAYS INDEPENDENT.

The local market does not, however, always assume such air of independence, and there have been times when if the other markets were closed the Montreal exchange might just as well have been closed also. Circumstances alter cases, and in view of the broader interest on the part of Canadians in their own stock issues, together with the air of confidence which pervades the "Street" in the ultimate accomplishment of the creation of a higher range of values, there is every reason why the local market should pass over the closing of the neighbouring big market as a matter which should not interrupt the flow of its business or price movement tendencies.

STEEL ISSUES ACTIVE.

The steel issues were again well to the front in point of activity, but in view of the existence of profit taking, prices barely held their own. Nova Scotia Steel was an exception in that connection, the buying sentiment being in the majority. From 65¼, at the opening, the price rose to 66¼. Dominion Iron common figured at 16½ to 16¾, while the preferred held steady on a small volume of operations at 46. The bonds were more active, however, at 77½ to 77¾, compared with the highest yesterday of 78.

TRACTIONS WERE STRONG.

The traction issues attracted more attention than in yesterday's market, with Toronto Railway an exceptionally strong feature. Compared with 106¼ at the close yesterday, the opening transactions to-day were at 106¼ to 106⅞. Twin City at 106, and Toledo Electric at 26, were steady. Montreal Street was a small fraction off at 214¾.

There were not many transactions in Canadian Pacific, but the price was strong at 129 to 129¾, with the rights active and steady at 5¼. In the miscellaneous list, Richelieu sold at 58¾, and Dominion Coal at 59⅞ to 59¾. Montreal Power was quiet, but fractionally stronger at 73¾. Mackay preferred was steady at 73⅝ to 73½.

A member of the Toronto Stock Exchange has received the following anonymous communication, which was subsequently tacked up on the exchange blackboard: "It is rumoured that oil has been discovered in the Dominion Coal Company's properties at Sydney, but it is being kept secret, the stock being in the meantime quietly bought by interested parties at a low figure. Mum's the word."

West End Branch Open Saturday Evenings, 7-9.

The outcome of the operations of the Grand Trunk Railway System for October is a decrease in gross earnings of $48,313. There were a couple of fair-sized weekly increases during the month, but the decreases for the other two weeks more than offset the gains. The earnings of the last ten days of the month showed the largest proportionate decrease of the month amounting to $68,013, compared with an increase of $30,331 for the week preceding. The total earnings for the four months of the fiscal year are consequently $413,319 behind those of the same period last year. The poor season in the export business, which was a feature a year ago, which helped to swell the G.T.R.'s earnings in 1903, accounts for the losses. The figures are:

	1904.	1903.	Change.
Oct. 1 to 7	$ 698,788	$ 687,406	Inc. $ 11,382

*Decrease.

Shareholders in the Payne Mine have learned with regret that operations at the mine have been suspended, with no prospects of their resumption for a long time. The cause of the closing down is the neglect of development work, so that the present ore reserve is exhausted. Before mining operations can be resumed a tunnel 3,500 or 4,000 feet long must be made, and this will take many months, as every foot will have to be drilled. The mill adjacent to the mine has been a success, but this also has been closed.

Bank Amalgamation in Canada.

A local financial weekly, about the end of October, drew attention to a report going the rounds that the People's Bank of Halifax, the People's Bank of New Brunswick, a Prince Edward Island bank, and the Metropolitan Bank of Toronto, were to be amalgamated under the title of the Alliance Bank of Canada, with a capital of $5,000,000. This report may not, of course, be true, or it may be true only in part. Whether it is founded on fact or not, it will be interesting to take the reports of the several banks mentioned and to combine the principal items of their different balance sheets into one, so that an idea can be gained as to the kind of bank that would result from an amalgamation of the four. Taking the figures from the Government return of September 30th we get the following:

Capital stock	$2,523,976
Reserve fund	1,876,136
Note circulation	2,278,628
Total deposits	6,477,549
Specie and legals	805,718
Total call loans	879,016
Total current loans	9,563,545
Total assets	13,705,376

This makes quite a respectable showing, and it is reasonable to expect that if the thirteen millions of assets were concentrated under one management, both the influence and the earning capacity of the banks in question would be increased.

PROFIT EQUAL TO 7 PER CENT.

So far as profits are concerned, last year's statements do not furnish satisfactory information. The total profits declared by the four banks for 1903 amounted to $188,144, which would be a little over 7 per cent. on the combined capitals of $2,523,976. But it is to be noted in this connection that the profits of the Metropolitan were only $26,535. It was the first year of the bank's existence, the business was in process of being built up, organization expenses were to be paid, and there was the matter of the connection of the bank with A. E. Ames & Co., the Toronto bankers and brokers, who failed so disastrously at the beginning of June, 1902, to be dealt with. It is not generally known whether the bank made losses through this failure, but at any rate its development was hindered for a while by the event, and by the publicity that followed the suspension of the two St. Thomas loan companies, which were involved with Ames. And in the case of the People's Bank of Halifax, the capital was increased during 1903 from $700,000 to $1,000,000, the bank did not have in employment until towards the end of the year the full amount of the enlarged capital. These two, the Metropolitan and the People's Bank of Halifax, contribute nearly 80 per cent. of the assets of the combination, and almost exactly 80 per cent. of the capital.

> Owing to the elections throughout the United States to-day, the stock markets there are closed to-day.

The Chronicle, in mentioning the rumoured consolidation, says the proposed capital is $5,000,000. Presumably, the stocks of the different banks go in at a substantial premium, representing goodwill, etc. Bank stocks in Canada are held so widely that it would be necessary, in any case, to offer strong attractions to induce the stockholders of any prosperous institution to surrender their holdings. Also, probably, it would be thought advisable to extend the scope of operations by calling in some new capital.

AMALGAMATION ADVANTAGES.

The advantages that would result from an amalgamation such as this, and indeed from any similar amalgamation among two or more of the smaller institutions, are obvious. In this case it would be possible to abolish three executive staffs and offices. One general manager and one head office could govern the business now governed by four general managers or cashiers and four head offices. From this change alone a considerable saving would be effected in expenses. Possibly in some towns business that is now transacted by two branch offices could be brought under one roof and under one local manager. The business of the combination bank would be spread over a wider field, its risks would become more scattered, and if the trade of a certain section were to be bad, the circumstances would not exert so powerful an influence over the general business of the bank. There would be a greater probability that depression and poor profits in the business of one section would be offset by prosperity and good profits in that of another. Amalgamated, the banks in question would have a higher standing with the public, and an added power to attract deposits, and, therefore, greater earning capacity. They would be in better position to meet the competition of the branches of the big Montreal and Toronto banks, because they could offer better facilities to their customers in the way of collections, transfers, etc.

When due consideration is given to the advantages that would be gained by the stockholders of small banks from a policy of amalgamation, either amongst themselves or with the large banks, it seems a wonder that it has not been more generally adopted. The reference here is not made so particularly to the medium sized institutions, but rather to the very small banks with some half dozen branches, more or less. Their branches and their head offices have to compete for business with branches of the strongest banks in Canada, to whom it does not matter a great deal if those particular offices are profitable or the reverse. The branch of the strong bank, if it chose to make a dead set at its weaker rival, might go on year after year working at a loss, and the parent institution be apparently none the worse, while the smaller institution would find its profits seriously impaired.

AN EXPENSIVE OPERATION.

Even in the case of banks with capitals of a million and upwards, it would seem that amalgamation offered valuable advantages, but most of them are too prosperous; their stockholders have fared too well in the matter of dividends and stock bonuses, to have much inclination for change. During prosperous times such as we are now enjoying, it would be a very expensive operation to acquire possession of one of our sound-going banks of this class. If any of the larger banks cherish the notion of gaining control of their smaller rivals with a view to consolidation, it is likely to wait until the times are not quite so good. When depressions occur, it usually happens that some institutions, through imprudence or recklessness, get into straits and have to be helped out. While that is going on it would be an easier matter to bring about the absorption of small banks. The initiative [illegible] come from the shareholders, of course. The management could hardly be expected to urge the directors towards a course of action that might result ultimately in the loss of good positions with high salaries attached. Especially if the bank is making good headway, it would appear to be no part of the general manager's duty to recommend that it be sold to another institution.

Perhaps it will be just as well for Canada on the whole if our big banks do not go in too extensively for swallowing up the little fellows. In recent years the big banks have been growing very rapidly. If they get too bulky they may be tempted to go in more heavily for financial banking, such as that which is practised by the great New York banks. What we want is to have the resources of our banks employed in facilitating the production and movement to market our great staples.

Money and Exchange Rates.

London, November 8.—Bar silver was steady at 26 13-16d per ounce; money, 2¼ to 2¾ per cent. Discount rates, short bills, 3 to 3 1-16 per cent.; three months, 3 per cent.

Call money continues quiet and unchanged at 5 per cent.

Banking exchanges to-day reported by the Montreal Clearing House were $5,130,667.

DAILY COMMERCIAL MARKETS AND QUOTATIONS.

BUTTER AND CHEESE CONTINUE VERY FIRM.

General View Is That Importers Will Have to Meet Holders' Views on Cheese.

CHEESE.—Exports of cheese from the port of Montreal last week amounted to 72,146 boxes, or 6,368 more than those of the same week last year. The total exports since the first of the season were 1,910,817 boxes, or 329,795 less than for the same period last year.

Shipments via Portland last week amounted to 3,234 boxes, those since the first of the season being 38,752, or 15,604 more than those of the same period last year.

The public cable quoted Liverpool 6d up at 45s to 46s.

The local market is more or less nominal. Holders are asking prices which importers on the other side are not prepared to give, so that the situation has developed into a fight between exporters and importers. Meantime it is difficult to say what may occur. If Englishmen hold off long enough there may be a slight decline, but as exporters on this side who have the stock are mostly pretty well able to carry it, much confidence is shown in a higher rather than a lower market. Holders are asking 9⅞ to 10c for Quebecs, 10 to 10⅛c for Townships, and 10⅛ to 10¼ for Ontarios. Sales of Quebecs, coloured, have actually taken place at rather better than 10c, so it is claimed.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 7433 boxes.

BUTTER.—Exports from the port of Montreal last week amounted to 7,168 packages, or 6,244 less than those of the same week last year. Total exports since the first of the season were 466,125 packages, or 138,679 more than those for the same period of last year.

It is very hard to say what will be the outcome of the past few days' business. The feeling seems to prevail, however, that those who have the goods will be well able to hold out for the full prices, and that the great scarcity of really fresh choice creamery will be greatly in their favour. No large sales of creamery at 20c have been reported, but that is the figure which would have to be realized in order to turn the goods over without a loss; in fact, it is hard to see how some of it can be traded in at that figure even. Good to fine creamery is quoted at about 19½c, and mediums at 19 to down to 18c.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 714 packages.

EGGS.—Dealers report a steady market and a good active demand from all quarters. There is more trouble in obtaining supplies than in disposing of them. Production is light and stocks none too large. Dealers are paying 19½ to 20c for straight gathered stock at country points, and selling it here at 21 to 22c. Pickled stock and No. 1 cold storage sell at 20c, and No. 2 cold storage at 18 to 19c. Small eggs bring 15 to 16c, and select boiling eggs are being put out all the way from 23 to 25c, according to quantity and quality.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 62 cases.

POTATOES.—The market shows very little change. A few lots received here recently showed signs of having been touched with frost during the cold weather of some time since. As a general thing, however, the stock arriving from the vicinity of Quebec and below is very fair, and it is being purchased at 60c per 90-lb. bag in car lots on track, broken lots selling from store at 70c. Stock not so fine ranges 5 to 10c lower, and some extra choice might bring a few cents more.

BEANS.—The local demand is good and the market is a shade easier at $1.30 to $1.40 per bushel for primes, according to quantity.

MAPLE PRODUCTS. — There is very little demand. Syrup in 15-gallon casks 5¼ to 5½c per lb.; in tins, 55 to 60c per wine measure, and 70 to 75c for imperial.

HOPS.—The market holds firm at 30 to 35c for good to choice Canadians.

HONEY.—Business is dull. We quote: Extracted white clover, 7¾ to 8c per 16 pound tin, and 7 to 7½c in 60 pound tins. Buckwheat honey, 6 to 7c, and white clover comb, 10c per pound.

POTASH.—Rather better market for potash at $5.97½ for firsts, and $5.60 for seconds. Pearl ash is wanted at $7.50 to $7.75, and in demand.

EXPORT CATTLE MARKET SHIPMENTS INCREASED.

The market for cattle in England continues easy, and further declines are being reported from the various market centres there. London cabled best States cattle ½c down, at 11¾c. It is somewhat significant that Canadian cattle were quoted a fraction stronger, at 11½c, sheep being also firm, at 12½c, while lambs sold at 16½c per lb. Liverpool quoted best States cattle at 10¾c to 11¼c per lb., and Canadians at 10½c. Sheep were quoted at 11½c per lb.

Live stock exporters report a dull market, and the outlook for trade in England does not encourage them greatly. However, it will not be long now till the holiday trade begins, when there is almost sure to be an improvement. Freights are all taken from Montreal for the balance of the season, and there is some enquiry for space from Eastern ports for winter shipment, but very little business doing in them.

Exports from the port of Montreal last week were as follows:

	Cattle.	Sheep.
To Liverpool	2,022	838
To London	1,628	1,818
To Glasgow	799	104
Total	4,449	2,760

WOOLLEN MILLS CASE NOT YET SETTLED.

Toronto, November 8.—Justice Street yesterday morning, at Osgoode Hall, gave W. D. Long, of Hamilton, leave to appeal to the Court of Appeals against the judgment of Justice McMahon, which reversed the order of the official referee allowing the sale of the Canada Woollen Mills properties to Mr. Long. In the meantime, the purchase money, $253,000, is to be paid to the liquidator. The case will be expedited in order that the value of the securities may not be lowered.

ACTIVE FEATURES IN TORONTO MARKET.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, November 8.—Nova Scotia Steel, General Electric and Dominion Bank monopolized interest in the Toronto market this morning, all three showing sharp gains under larger than the usual dealings. The remainder of the list held firm, with no special feature. Coal was a shade easier at the opening, and Dominion Steel issues steady. Nova Scotia opened ⅝ up, at 65¾, at which figure there were large dealings in small lots, soon followed by an advance to 66½. General Electric opened ⅝ up, at 171½, and soon sold at 173. Dominion Bank, although leader in strength, sold at 245¾, soon after opening at 244, or 1 above yesterday's last price. No news developed to account for the movement, other than buying credited to interests which of late have been making efforts to revive a speculative movement in certain local issues. Consumers Gas was firm, and Banks in good demand, with transactions in Nova Scotia, Traders and Commerce. A feature was dealings in some small lots of National Salt, which has been inactive for many months. Forenoon transactions were:

Bank of Commerce—10 at 160.
Dominion Bank—140 at 245 to 247.
Bank of Nova Scotia—25 at 270.
Traders Bank—10 at 133.
Consumers' Gas—50 at 219¾.
Toronto Electric Light—32 at 148.
Bank of Toronto—7 at 232½.

Sao Paulo—11 at 105½ to 106.
Can. General Electric—279 at 171 to 173.
Ontario Bank—30 at 130.
C. P. R.—63 at 128¾ to 129.

WHEAT MARKET WAS STRONGER TO-DAY.

Notwithstanding That American Markets Were Closed—Local Oat Market Strong.

American markets closed to-day, election day.

Fine weather in England and France; forecast, fine.

The Liverpool wheat market was stronger to-day, Dec. closing ⅜d up at 7s 2⅝d, March closing ¼d up at 7s 4½d; May, ¼d up at 7s 3¾d. No stock of No. 2 northern Manitoba. Antwerp closed unchanged at 18½ for No. 2 Walla Walla. Paris closed 15 down on Nov. at 23.45, March and June closing steady at 25.05.

Winnipeg was ½c up on Nov. wheat at noon at 96c, unchanged on December at 91¼, and ⅛c up on May at 99¼c.

LOCAL MARKET.—The market for oats was very strong to-day. It is stated on good authority that sales have been made during the past few days of No. 2 oats at 39½ to 40c, store, and of No. 3 at 38½ to 39c. Sales were made again to-day at these figures in car lots, and it would appear that the market is firm at the quotations mentioned. Demand is fairly active and dealers claim that there is none too much in stock. There is nothing being done for export. Peas are in fair demand for export and prices are firm.

Peas are firm at 75 to 76c afloat, Montreal; No. 2 barley, 54½ to 55c; No. 3 extra, 53½ to 54c; No. 3, 52½ to 53c.

FLOUR.—The market is steady, and the demand is reported fairly active. Manitoba strong bakers, $5.50, and patents, $5.80 per bbl. in bags; Ontario straight rollers, in bags, $2.55 to $2.60; in barrels, $5.40 to $5.50, and winter wheat patents, in barrels, $5.70 to $5.80.

FEED.—Demand for bran is not very active, but shorts are still in good request and almost impossible to secure. Manitoba bran in bags, $18 to $19; shorts, $21 per ton; Ontario bran, in bulk, $17 to $17.50; shorts, $18 to $20; moullie, $26 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

HAY.—The market is dull and easy. No. 1 is quoted at $8.50 to $9 per ton on track; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; export hay, clover and clover mixed, $6.50 to $7.

ROLLED OATS.—Canadian stock may be had at $2.20 per bag of 90 lbs., and barrels at $4.65, to arrive. Spot goods bring a premium.

FRUIT MARKET WILL BE DULL TILL XMAS.

Cable advices from the principal apple markets in Great Britain are to the effect that the advance noted last week has been sustained, and that all arrivals were selling promptly, the demand being good and especially the red variety. A Boston letter says that sales have been made that will give nets of $2.25 to $3.25 per barrel for Kings, $2 to $2.50 per bbl. for Mackintosh red, $1.75 to $2.25 per bbl. for Baldwins, which are in excellent demand. Other red varieties sold to give nets all the way from $1.50 to $2.50 per bbl. Greenings have improved somewhat, and sales were made that will give nets from $1.50 to $2 per bbl. These prices, it must be remembered, are for good, sound landed, conditioned. Slack, wasty and inferior fruit have sold to give nets from 75c to $1.25 per barrel, but in most cases it was rubbish and never should have been shipped."

The local fruit market is steady and on the dull side. The close of navigation is fast approaching, and much trade will be lost with the last boat. A revival will not likely take place in this market till the holiday trade awakens again. This will only be four or five weeks hence, and after that very little will be done till Easter.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR CANADIAN TRADE ABROAD.

Ottawa, November 8.—Mr. Larke, agent at Sydney, says New South Wales has been suffering from drought, and that as a consequence trade is inclined to be dull. He emphasizes the importance of Canadian houses advertising liberally in Australia if they want to work up a market for their products. He calls attention to the fact that improper invoices of Canadian goods have caused much trouble with the Australian Customs officials.

Mr. Jardine, agent at Cape Town, writing on September 30, says: Wearing apparel made in Canada should find a ready market in South Africa, and he enclosed a list of reliable importing houses. Canadian-made roller desks, church furniture, and cabinet organs find a good market. Germany, however, monopolizes the piano trade on account of the cheapness of the German instruments.

A report from Mr. D. H. Ross, Canadian agent at Melbourne, dated October 5th, says: Since the beginning of December last, Australia has exported in flour and wheat equivalent to 36,000,000 bushels; 9,000,000 bushels are still available for export. A Melbourne firm, with branches throughout Australia, wants to do business with a Canadian paper mill. Complaint is made that Canada is shipping an inferior quality of rubbers and shoes. Canadian cheese in jars and Canadian-made chairs are finding a ready market.

FRENCH CAPITALISTS MAY ESTABLISH STEEL WORKS.

Ottawa, November 8.—For the purpose of looking into the Mineral deposits of this district, with a view of establishing steel works, two French capitalists are in the city. They are Messrs. Jules Weill and Paul Hock, and are connected with the Compagnie Generale Des Produits Metallurgiques, which operates extensive industries in France. They are making investigations with regard to the prospects for a steel industry which would be established at or near Ottawa or Montreal. It is believed that the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will open up a big demand for steel rails and other outputs of a steel industry, and if the investigations now being made prove encouraging, it is proposed to establish smelting works at some point in central Canada. Messrs. Hock and Weill were on the Hill this morning getting information along the line indicated. They represent a very extensive industry in France, and one which is stated to have a lot of capital behind it.

WESTMOUNT WILL VOTE ON BY-LAW

The Question of Municipal Lighting to Be Settled by Property-Holders.

THE COUNCIL IS UNANIMOUS

Vote Will Be Taken on the Third Day of the Coming Month.

At the meeting of the Westmount Council last night, December 3rd was the date fixed upon for submitting the proposed electric light plan to the citizens. The water supply and electric lighting were the principal subjects discussed.

Westmount, if the electors consent, will have its own lighting plant, one sufficient to supply a city of 20,000 people. Part of the power will be obtained from a garbage consumer.

Councillor Plow gave a history of the inception of the idea. It had been brought about by the high rate paid by the citizens for their lighting, and the unsatisfactory negotiations for a reduction with the company at present furnishing the electricity. He said he had gathered information in many Canadian cities, six of which reported making a profit from their municipal plants. Westmount had an unusually large number of consumers of electricity, and from opinions he had gathered from experts he had every reason to believe that the venture would be a success.

The other councillors were in favour of the idea, and Mayor Cross, though he said he would like to see a healthy private competition, could not but be impressed by the petition signed by prominent business men asking for the instalment of a municipal plant. Then something had to be done with the garbage. They could not hope to be permitted to cart it into the adjoining municipalities any longer, as the continuance of this practice would lead to further trouble. The municipal plant would consume the garbage and thus a double saving would result.

Councillor McLagan had visited municipal electric plants in England last year and the electricity was generated from the waste material, and neither smoke nor odour emanated from the factory. It was not a nuisance, as some people thought.

BY-LAW PASSED.

The by-law was then read a first, second and third time, and passed unanimously.

It was decided to hold a meeting on November 26, to submit the proposal to the citizens. If it meets with their approval, a poll will be declared on December 3. Owners of taxable property will vote on it, the result to be decided by the majority in number of votes and value of property represented by them.

Councillor Lee moved that a by-law be drafted authorizing the borrowing of $100,000 at interest of 4 per cent. per annum, repayable in fourteen years, the money to be employed in laying permanent sidewalks, and in replacing sums of money already obtained, $20,000 in all. The $100,000 would meet the needs of the municipality for the next five years. The sum would be expended at the rate of $20,000 a year, work being began where most required. Forty per cent. of the sidewalks needed attending to, he declared.

The motion was carried unanimously.

Councillor Galbraith moved, seconded by Councillor Knox, that a resolution of sympathy on the death of Mr. D. J. Decarie, M.L.A., be passed, and that copies be sent to the bereaved family and to the secretary of Notre Dame de Grace, of which town Mr. Decarie had been mayor.

A good deal of discussion took place over the water supply, Councillor Galbraith wanting drastic measures taken to obtain the report of the engineers who investigated conditions at the intake.

It was decided in the end to await the report of Westmount's engineer before taking any steps. This report will be ready in a few weeks' time.

JAMES LAFELL STRUCK BY ENGINE.

Last night James Lafell, 35 years of age, a moulder, residing at 69 Ottawa street, was struck by an engine on the Grand Trunk Railway crossing at Aqueduct street. When taken to the General Hospital he was found to be suffering from the effects of internal injuries, and he had received several dangerous looking wounds on the head. The officials of the institution state that the patient passed a fairly good night, and that his condition is slightly improved to-day.

Fell Dead on Street.

Last evening Xavier Bellhumeur, labourer, 75 years of age, who resided at 772 St. Andre street, fell dead at the corner of Amherst and Chevrier streets, just as he stepped off an Amherst car. Heart failure is said to be the cause of death. The body was taken to the morgue.

The Dog Was a Thief.

A grocer's dog has been caught in the act of stealing newspapers.

Mr. Louis Payfer, manager of C. A. Dumaine and Company, in Notre Dame street, has been losing his newspapers at frequent intervals from his door, where they were left every morning, but had no idea how they disappeared. He decided to keep watch, but for two mornings he watched in vain, but on the third morning, up came a dog, which picked up the newspaper and made off to a grocer's store in Notre Dame street. Mr. Payfer subsequently learnt that the paper was frequently taken to the grocer's by the dog, but no one, in the absence of any explanation, could tell where it came from.

HON. LOMER GOUIN NOMINATED FOR ST. JAMES DIVISION.

At a meeting last night, in Poitier Hall, corner of Montcalm and St. Catherine streets, Hon. Lomer Gouin, Minister of Colonization and Public Works, was nominated for re-election to the Legislature as the representative of St. James division. No other candidates were brought forward, and Mr. Gouin had everything his own way. Several times during the meeting speakers referred to Mr. Gouin as the future Premier of the province, these predictions being loudly cheered by the audience.

Ald. Rommard took the chair. Mr. H. Gervais, M.P. for St. James division, spoke first, extolling Mr. Gouin as a public man.

The Minister then followed. He accused the Conservative party of lacking in courage to allow the province to go uncontested. But this did not mean that no discussion would take place. The speaker defended the actions of the Provincial Government, claiming that they had administered the affairs of the province wisely. They had brought back to Canada 75,000 people whom Conservative government had driven to the United States. An evidence of the prosperity of the country was the fact that 3,000 farms or parts of farms had been sold by the sheriffs in 1892, against only 183 in 1903.

Hon. W. A. Weir followed in a speech in which he predicted the promotion of Hon. Mr. Gouin to the Premiership.

Mr. Jean Provost, ex-M.L.A. for Terrebonne, Dr. Lacombe, Senator Cloran and Hon. Dr. Guerin also spoke.

MR. JAMES COCHRANE NOMINATED FOR ST. LAWRENCE WARD.

A convention of the electors of St. Lawrence Ward to nominate a candidate for the Quebec Legislature was held in the Empire Hall last night, Hon. Dr. Guerin presiding over a large attendance.

Mr. James Cochrane said it was his privilege as the retiring member to call a convention in order to ascertain whether his services had been appreciated. He had sent out some five hundred notices, and was glad to see such a large response. He thought his career at Quebec was such that his constituents could not complain much about, and with the exception of one day he had not missed one sitting in three years. He had always carefully watched the interests of Montreal, which was hard work, considering that nearly all the legislation emanated from this city. He had not missed a single meeting of the private bills committee. If he was the choice of the convention he was prepared to do his duty as hitherto.

The chairman, as one of the ministers, said that in the chamber at Quebec there was no one more popular than Mr. Cochrane, who had very carefully watched over everything appertaining to the welfare of the city and province.

On the motion of Dr. Bachrich, seconded by Mr. W. H. Rayfield, Mr. Cochrane was unanimously nominated.

Mr. Cochrane, in acknowledgement, was gratified to find that his work of the last four years was appreciated by the electors, and said that if again elected he would give the Parent government honest support of all good measures, whilst anything detrimental to the interests of Montreal would always have his opposition. He claimed that there was not a member of the House who voted more independently than he did, and he should continue on the same lines if returned again.

The meeting closed with the customary cheers and votes of thanks.

RAM DASS TALKS OF LIFE IN INDIA

He Thinks That Canada is Well Worth a Visit.

INFLUENCE OF GREAT BRITAIN

Mother Country Has Given the Inestimable Blessing of a Strong and Stable Government.

Mr. Ram Dass, a lawyer of Calcutta, India, spent Sunday in the city and left yesterday for Boston.

Mr. Ram Dass is a Hindu of independent means. Educated in the Indian government schools and then at one of the great British universities, he possesses all the advantage of knowing thoroughly western viewpoints, while still retaining the standpoints of the Orient.

"What brings me to America?" he remarked to the Star, in irreproachable English, with the low soft tone of the Hindu. "Well, don't you think the country is worth a trip without any ulterior motive. The rush and the bustle of the country would have been a great surprise to me had I not grown accustomed to it some years ago when at school in England.

"Yes, you get your notions of the east from the works of Mr. Kipling, or from your Omar, and perhaps there is a grain of truth in the former's viewpoint. The kaleidoscopic life of India is surprising even to its natives, and it must be picturesque to foreigners touring there. The various nationalities, the different faiths dwelling side by side, all the mystery of the east, which is the same as saying all the mystery of the ages, is hinted at, at every turn. But you must by no means think that the India of to-day is the India of fifty or even twenty-five years ago. While some of us may chafe and sections of our native press may agitate for a greater degree of native representation in the government, we are still grateful to Great Britain for the stable government she has given us, for permitting us to cause two blades of grass to grow where one was formerly."

LARGE EXPORT TRADE.

"India to-day is a country with a large export trade. She exports not only gole ideas for museums, but her export of grain alone is a considerable factor in the world's food supplies. India is forging ahead, and we appear to a great extent to be shaking off what you westerners call our apathy, something which you can't understand.

"If we had time we might talk about that. That apathy comes after generations of philosophic consideration. India has had her heroes, her great law givers, her soldiers and men of action, and they after consideration, discarded as a nation the life of action, and became the men of thought.

"This illustration will reveal perhaps one of the primal reasons of my trip to America. Your country, or rather a large section of your country, and the United States, is going to India for its latest phases of philosophic standpoints. Take your theosophists, your Christian science people. They are simply voicing the tenets of a creed which was old before the Christian religion began. In addition to renewing some old friendships, I have come to America largely to examine the progress which this faith is gaining. It is bound to gain, for there is truth at the back of it, and truth must prevail. When you bustling Britishers and active Americans can conceive of a Nirvana of absolute peace, where the soul, forgetting the body can enter, then bustling Britishers and active Americans may perhaps be willing to relinquish something of their commercial activity, and industrial progress, and will pay more attention to the spiritual in life.

"There is nothing truer than the fact so admirably voiced in your own sacred writings, that the letter killeth. If you commence to make these ancient eastern faiths founded on facts as scientific as any, mere money making adjuncts, they will fall to the ground, and be worthy of all the scorn which the pulpits of your land occasionally hurl at them. They will simply be to your own noble and pure religion what the worship of Astarte and the Egyptian gods were in Rome in the days of the emperors, merely fashionable with a cult."

NO ARGUMENT NEEDED.

Every Sufferer from Catarrh Knows that Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches Do Not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucus membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Red Gum, Blood Root and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate, or any injurious drug whatever, and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers and powders for months at a time, with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until now I consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask, and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment, and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure. 266 3 com

CITY COUNCIL AFTER HEATED DEBATE ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF CHIEF OF POLICE LEGAULT

The Matter Will Be Fully Probed After the Attorneys Have Decided on the Best Method of Making Investigation — Alderman Marchand Declares That Only the Edge of the Veil Has Yet Been Lifted.

The entire City Council yesterday afternoon decided, in the most unanimous manner, to accept the resignation of Chief Legault from the police force. At the same time, however, Council decided to hold a thorough investigation into the entire question of the Chief's alleged blackmailing of disorderly houses.

Another striking feature of Council's action on the Chief's letter was the decision to accept that portion only which mentioned the resignation, and not accept the statements in the letter claiming that the Chief was resigning because he had been persecuted; that he was resigning, in brief, not because he was guilty, but because he was tired of fighting enemies.

It was contended by Ald. Sadler, Clearihue and others that if the Chief was innocent of the charges made against him in the Recorder's Court his resignation should not be accepted. If, however, the charges were proved to be true, a mere acceptance of resignation should not be tolerated. In the event of guilt, the Chief should be dismissed and legal steps taken against him.

More than once during the meeting proposals were made to dismiss the Chief, and not accept his letter of resignation. It was decided it would not be wise to adopt this course at the present juncture.

ALD. MARCHAND'S STORY.

Discussion on the resignation of the Chief opened by the Mayor announcing that Ald. St. Denis, chairman of the Police Committee, had handed to him the letter of resignation of Chief Legault. The position of affairs was such that he (the Mayor) would have taken action against the Chief, had some step by the Chief not been taken. His Worship said the whole affair was painful in the extreme, and he hoped Council would take action to thoroughly remodel the police administration.

Ald. Couture—"Before Council takes action it must have more light on what this scandal means. It promises to be more far reaching than most people think."

At this juncture the City Clerk read the letter of resignation from the Chief.

Scarcely had it been read than Ald. St. Denis said "I move the resignation of the Chief be accepted."

"Carried!" came a chorus of voices.

Ald. Couture—"We had better have some discussion on the matter first. I want to know the story of this resignation."

Ald. Marchand—"I think I can give Council the story of the resignation."

Ald. Marchand then unfolded an astonishing story of how he had unravelled the blackmailing case which came before the notice of Recorder Peltier and which led to the resignation of the Chief. Ald. Marchand said that Chief Legault talked in his letter of resignation as if a conspiracy had been formed against him. If there was a conspiracy there must be conspirators, and the speaker was one of them. When he became a member of the committee last spring, his friends were surprised and told him it was common talk that the police practised blackmail, and divided up the proceeds among themselves. Seeing this kind of reputation was attached to the department, he went and consulted Chief Detective Carpenter about it. Who said he had heard of such stories, but had no proof. It was then resolved to put Detective Guerin on the case, and in July he secured evidence that money was distributed among certain officers. At that time, Ald. Marchand said, he had to leave for Europe on private business. When he came back he waited for an opportunity and then handed the evidence to Recorder Peltier, and the Council knew the rest. As had been remarked in court by Mr. Wilson, the attorney for the prosecution, only the edge of the veil had been lifted, and his purpose now was to tear it off, and see what was behind, but to do that a thorough investigation was necessary, with the Recorders at the head of it. Ald. Marchand closed by saying the reason he had acted quietly about the evidence was because he had learned by experience in police business to keep his mind to himself, when dealing with anything important. Ald. Marchand added that he favoured the acceptance of the resignation with an investigation after.

"What we must do," concluded Ald. Marchand, "is to have such a searching investigation into the entire police department that public confidence will be restored in it."

MUST HAVE INVESTIGATION.

Ald. Payette—"As a member of this Council I shall not be content with the mere acceptance of the resignation. I do not favour, in consequence, the motion of Ald. St. Denis."

Ald. Marchand—"What we should do is to accept the resignation and hold an investigation afterwards."

Ald. St. Denis—"I cannot see that any good will come out of an investigation. We are sure of the Chief's resignation now. In the past investigations have done no good."

Ald. Marchand—"I am surprised to hear anyone say an investigation is not needed. An investigation should be held before the Recorders."

Ald. St. Denis—"Investigations in the past have cost the city a lot of money and done no good. It is wasting cash."

Ald. Couture—"I must say I am surprised that the chairman of the Police Committee thinks that it is not worth while to hold an investigation. Public opinion has been aroused and an investigation must be held."

Ald. Bumbray—"I fear the holding of an investigation would only be losing time, so many civic investigations have been such failures in the past. Accept the resignation at once. If an investigation must be held let the courts do it; civic investigations are failures."

Ald. Vallieres: "I have not much faith in civic investigations. What I desire is the prompt acceptance of the resignation. Later on we can see what is the condition of affairs in the police department and the guilty can be punished."

Ald. St. Denis: "The last court investigation we had cost the city $2000. It was in regard to Chief Legault; after the investigation Council retained the chief. Now we have his resignation, and should take it."

STRONG LANGUAGE USED.

Ald. Gallery: "There was never a more disgraceful matter ever brought before the attention of any City Council than this. Here we have a chief of police who is getting $3,500 a year, yet in the courts he is charged with levying blackmail on houses of ill repute. The chief should have been dismissed long ago. Council should not accept the resignation, but pass a motion dismissing the man."

Ald. Chausse: "If the Police Committee does not start an investigation one should be ordered by Council. A mere acceptance of the resignation will not satisfy the public. The affair is too disgraceful."

Ald. Couture: "Only the resignation should be accepted, and not that portion of the letter which says the chief is resigning because he has been persecuted. We should ask a Royal Commission. This thing must not drop now. There are others charged with being guilty besides the chief. In the Recorder's Court facts were brought out that if persons owning disorderly houses paid blackmail they should not be prosecuted. We want to know all the facts. In the chief's letter there is nothing but excuses. I claim every member of this Council is bound in honour to ask a thorough investigation."

Ald. Chausse: "If this Council does not want an investigation I do. I want to know just what is going on in the force."

Ald. Sadler: "I only feel like accepting the resignation proper. We should not accept that part of the chief's letter which says he is innocent. An investigation can only prove this. We all need more light on this affair. If all that occurred in the Recorder's Court is true there should be no acceptance of resignation, but prompt dismissal. Even dismissal would be too lenient in such an affair as this."

Ald. Lavallee: "We certainly cannot accept the chief's letter as written. I move that only the resignation part be accepted. We must have an investigation. If we accept the entire letter which is a remarkable one, we are doing a remarkable thing."

The famous letter of resignation was then read, and as stated, the chief claimed he was resigning but was not guilty. The letter was as follows:—

Montreal November 5, 1904.

"Ald. A. J. St. Denis, Chairman of the Police Committee, Montreal.

"Dear Sir—I have the honour to transmit to you my resignation as Superintendent of the Police Department of Montreal. The reasons which prompted me to do this may be detailed. You must have noticed since I took charge of this department that there were annoyances to which I was subjected in addition to the untenable position which was created for me all of which rendered it difficult, not to say impossible, for the efficient direction of the police force.

"In the course of a trial before the Recorder's Court yesterday and to-day certain revelations were made which attracted public attention and I protested under oath, against the charges made against me. I repeat here, most earnestly, my denial of these accusations. I may not in the course of my duty have had the faculty of pleasing everyone, but I relinquish my position with the inmost conviction of having fulfilled my duty, faithfully, loyally and honorably.

"I have the honour to be,

"Your obedient servant,

"D. LEGAULT."

ALD CLEARIHUE SPEAKS PLAINLY.

Ald. Clearihue—"Now what are we accepting. Here we have the chief claiming in his letter that he has acted 'honourably,' 'faithfully' and 'loyally.' If this is true, what right have we to accept a resignation from such a man. It would be a hardship if we did so. If he has been as honourable as he claims, he should be asked to stay; if, however, he is proven to be dishonourable he should be punished as he deserves. An investigation is absolutely necessary. Accept the resignation proper if you will, and then hold an investigation. To accept the letter of resignation as it is written, would be outrageous."

Ald. Gallery—"Let some one make a motion to dismiss the chief. It will be carried."

Ald. Lavallee—"It is sure there is much to investigate. When the chief was asked in the Recorder's Court if he had taken champagne, he did not give a decided answer. He should have known what he had done. Now, if a mere resignation is accepted, we shall know nothing of the champagne story and numerous other charges which have been made out against the chief and other members of the Police Department."

Ald. Gallery—"I again say we should dismiss the man."

Ald. Sadler—"It might be a wise thing to dismiss the chief, gentlemen, but let me ask you upon what charge can we base dismissal? Think of the facts for a few moments. Here we have the chief sending us a letter saying he is honourable, faithful and that he is innocent. He pleads guilty to nothing. It is quite plain that an investigation, and a thorough one is needed."

Ald. Ames—"Let us investigate, and then dismiss afterwards."

Ald. L. A. Lapointe—"It seems to me the best way to do is to get a report from the Police Committee before we dismiss any one; it would be the regular way to proceed."

Mayor Laporte—"Council is acting legally. Before submitting the letter of resignation I saw the City Attorneys, put all the facts before them, and was informed that council could act on the latter without any report from the Police Committee."

A SURPRISING DECLARATION.

At this juncture Ald. Payette rose and made the following startling declaration:

"It has been told me that some people in high places, have accepted in the name of some aldermen, money from houses of ill-repute. I must know what this astonishing charge means. Does it allege that aldermen are mixed up in the taking of blackmail? Things have now come to a pass that citizens must know the entire story of the case which has come out in the Recorder's Court. If hush money has been taken by any one, no matter who it may be, the truth must be known. Now we all see that an investigation must be held. This investigation, too, must not be conducted by council. Let us give the matter to the courts. We then will show all there is nothing, so far as the aldermen are concerned, to fear. From the magnitude of the affair we should, perhaps, ask for a Royal Commission. No one should now think of merely accepting the resignation of the chief. There must be an investigation, and that at once. If we accept the resignation, it must be upon the understanding that there will be an enquiry."

The Mayor said he was in favour of a full enquiry. At the same time it would be well to remember how futile all civic investigations had been in the past. All could remember how injunctions were taken out to stop other investigations by the Police Committee, and so far as the Superior Court was concerned, specific charges must be produced before anything could be done there. It was, therefore, difficult to say what should be done at the present time with the information on hand. But in his opinion the resignation should be accepted and a new chief appointed as soon as possible. Then, as several more houses were said to be ready to come forward and supply evidence, the investigation would naturally be continued in the Recorder's Court, with the aid of the Police Committee. Of all the investigations that had been held during the last ten years, said Mayor Laporte, Mr. Recorder Poirier had got in four hours more real information than any of them on the methods of the police.

In conclusion, the Mayor begged Council to appoint a new chief of police at the next meeting; unless this was done there would be utter confusion in the Police Department. He again said that whatever investigation was held, it should be done by the Recorders. They had shown they had a manner of operating that aldermen, in their investigations, could never equal.

Ald. Dagenais made the following motion, asking that the resignation be accepted, but that an investigation be held all the same.

That the resignation of Chief Legault be accepted, and that the Police Committee receive instructions to consult the City Attorneys as to the best means to make an investigation into the accusations brought before the Recorder's Court against Chief Legault and other officers, or on anything else connected with the general administration of the department, and that the committee report to the council for the meeting next Monday."

The motion was agreed to and adopted.

It was also decided that candidates for the position of chief should be examined at once, so there might be no delay about appointing a new chief.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY HELD SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

The concert given last night under the auspices of St. Mary's Conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, was particularly successful. The attendance was so large that extra seating accommodation had to be provided. An excellent programme of vocal and instrumental music was well rendered by Prof. Wilson, Misses Kennedy, Kelly, O'Brien, Foley and Harrington, and Messrs. Fox, Thibault, Kelly, Sullivan, Best and Connors.

Musical drills by the pupils of St. Mary's Convent and St. Gabriel's were an attractive feature of the evening. A pantomimic hymn, by the young ladies of St. Mary's was particularly graceful and expressive. Among the clergymen present were Rev. Fathers Brady, P. Heffernan, Shea, McGinnis, Cullinan and Rev. Father McDonald, of St. Mary's, under whose direction the concert was so successfully brought out.

One More Cure of Bright's Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mr. Theodore Young, of Smith's Falls, Was Beyond the Doctor's Aid—Now He's Well and Strong.

Smith's Falls, Ont., November 7.—(Special.)—Mr. Theodore Young, a well-known citizen of this place, is one of the many Canadians who have been rescued from the clutches of the much dreaded Bright's disease, by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"For two years," says Mr. Young, in relating his experience, "I was afflicted with Bright's disease. The doctors told me I could get no relief. My urine was very dark, and I lost considerable blood, making me so weak I could scarcely stand. I also used many medicines without getting relief.

"Hearing of wonderful cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to try them, and after using the first box I found great relief. After using four boxes I was able to go to work, which I had been unable to do for some time. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who are afflicted as I was."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure Bright's disease, the most advanced stage of kidney disease. How much more easily will they cure the earlier stages of kidney disease.

C. P. R. MAY NOW INCREASE YARD ROOM AT PLACE VIGER STATION

It was decided by the City Council yesterday afternoon, on a vote of 21 to 12, that the C. P. R. should at last be given permission to close up portions of Beaudry, Barclay and Montcalm streets, so that the company might increase its yard room in the vicinity of Place Viger station.

The streets in question run from Notre Dame street to Commissioners street. The matter has been discussed by Council for over two years. The trouble was that the company would not agree to give certain parties the figures wanted for their property.

Council's action favouring the company yesterday led to a lot of warm discussion. Finally Ald. Ekers moved the previous question, and this motion was carried on the following division:

Ayes—Ald. Lariviere, St. Denis, Robertson, Levy, Dagenais, Sadler, Ekers, Gallery, Ames, Bumbray, Walsh, Nelson, Sauvageau, N. Lapointe, Stearns, Payette and Duquette—17

Nays—Vallieres, Clearihue, Lavallee, Robillard, Turner, Wilson, Chausse, L. A. Lapointe, Richard, Lemay, Couture, Pastien, Marchand, Leclair, Proulx and Paquin—16.

It was then decided, on a vote of 21 to 12, to grant the request of the company.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe strongly protested against this, claiming that the city was not taking proper care of proprietors. He finally declared that a two-thirds' vote was necessary before the company's request could be granted.

The Mayor said he would submit this point to the city attorneys.

MANY NOTICES OF MOTION.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe, seconded by Ald. Bastien, then moved the following notices of motion:

"That the city attorneys and consulting attorneys be requested to reply to the following question:

"Has the city the right to amend by-law No. 266, concerning the water works, so as to establish a sliding scale for the water rates, according to the assessed rental; for instance when the rent does not exceed $50 the rate to be 3 per cent.; when the rent does not exceed $100, the rate to be 4 per cent.'"

That Messrs. Art. Parent, superintendent of the Light Department; J. R. Barlow, city surveyor; Stuart Howard and E. Belanger, assistant city surveyors; O. Champagne, inspector of boilers; E. Chausse, inspector of buildings and Geo. Janin, superintendent of the Department of Water Works, confer together and prepare within two months from this date, an estimate showing:

1. The cost of establishing up-to-date works for the manufacture of gas of a sufficient capacity to supply gas to the citizens of Montreal.

2. The cost of laying gas mains in the streets of the city as well as the cost of restoring the pavements.

3. The cost of establishing a gas plant.

4. What will be the cost price of gas?

5. Also to prepare and submit a plan showing the streets wherein gas mains will have to be laid.

That the city attorneys and consulting attorneys be requested to reply to the following question:

"Notwithstanding the clauses and terms of the contract with the Montreal Gas Company for the supply of gas to the city and the public, has the city the right, during the continuance of said contract, to erect works, to lay gas mains in the streets or lanes, and to do any other works required in order to be in a position, when the said contract expires, to supply itself gas to the citizens?"

Among the letters read at the meeting was one from Rev. J. Edgar Hill president of the Lord's Day Alliance, asking what action had been taken for the more systematic closing of shops on Sundays.

SEVERAL JUDGMENTS DELIVERED IN THE EXCHEQUER COURT.

Ottawa, November 8.—The Judge of the Exchequer Court sat yesterday morning to deliver judgments. In the case of Theodore Bouchard vs. the King, judgment was given dismissing the petition. The suppliant had brought his petition to recover $1,166.03, which he claimed he was entitled to as seizing officer and informer, out of the sale of the schooner Florida and her cargo, seized for an infraction of the customs laws. The suppliant claimed to have been acting under the instruction of the Chief Inspector of Customs in attempting to seize the schooner Florida. His seizure was made under the following circumstances. Having learned that the schooner was loading a cargo of liquors at St. Pierre, Miq., for the purpose of smuggling the same into Canada, he went to St. Pierre and took passage on board the schooner on her return voyage. When the Florida was opposite Cape North, and in Canadian waters he attempted to seize her and her cargo, and headed the vessel for the port of Quebec. Subsequently, when off Seven Islands, the schooner met the Revenue Cutter Constance, whose officers boarded her and seized the vessel and cargo. The seizure was treated by the Customs Department as having been made by the Constance, and declined to admit the suppliant's claim. He thereupon brought his petition, with the above result.

Paul vs. The King. Judgment dismissing the petition. This was on a petition brought to recover damages sustained by the steamship Prefontaine in the collision with the loaded scow which was fastened to the starboard side of the steam tug "Champlain" and which the latter was towing from the dredge Lady Minto, then working in the Contrecoeur channel of the River St. Lawrence. The dredge, steam tug and scow were the property of His Majesty.

Held, that if the collision occurred through the negligence of the Crown's officers on board of a ship belonging to the King, no action would lie against the King for damages for such collision. Held, further that the action did not fail within clause of the 16th sec. of the Exchequer Court Act, because the collision did not occur on a public work, neither was it occasioned by anything done on a public work.

Judgment was given in the following expropriation cases arising out of the extension of the Prince Edward Island Railway: Murray Harbour Branch.

The King vs. Horton. Judgment for defendants for $575.00 and costs on the issue as to compensation.

The King vs. F. S. McDonald. Judgment for defendants for $750.00 with light costs.

King vs. Catherine Olsen. Judgment for defendants for $517.50 and costs of issue of compensation. Defendant Catherine Olsen appointed guardian of infants.

The King vs. A. McDonald. Judgment for defendant for $31.27. Similar costs.

Berlin, Ont., November 8.—The resignation of Chief of Police Winterhalt has been accepted. The chief was suspended last week by the Police Commissioner for having been drunk on duty. He, however, will be retained on the force, being reduced to the rank of a constable. Some weeks ago Chief Winterhalt was on the carpet for a similar offence, but received another chance upon promising not to drink again. P. C. O'Neil has been appointed acting chief.

New York, November 8.—A Rio Janerio special to the Herald says: A bill for an increase in the army and navy, which has been approved by the Chamber of Deputies, and is pending in the Senate, provides for several war vessels during 1905. The government will order three cruisers of 12,000 tons each, and 10 torpedo boats of 36 knots.

Halifax, November 8. The Board of Trade yesterday passed a resolution that Lloyds be invited to send a committee to Canada to examine our ports and that the city council be asked to defray the expenses of the committee's visit to Nova Scotia. This is in consequence of discrimination in the matter of marine risks against Nova Scotia ports, which the board holds Lloyds persists in doing and in regard to which many protests have been made in the past.

NOT VALID IN QUEBEC.

Ontario Marriage Licenses Valid Only in That Province.

Toronto, Ont., November 8.—The Provincial Registrar has given a ruling that marriage licenses issued in Ontario are not valid in other provinces. Three months ago a young man took out a license in Toronto and went down to Montreal to be married. The Ontario license authorizes "all or every minister or clergyman resident in the Dominion of Canada and duly ordained or appointed" to perform the ceremony. This was accepted by the minister who officiated at the marriage in question. Later, proof of the marriage was required in England, in connection with business relating to an estate, and it was then found that the registrar had refused to record it, on the ground that the Lieut.-Governor of Ontario could authorize the issue of no license other than for his own province. The principals brought the matter to the attention of the Provincial Secretary's Department yesterday, and they were advised as to the best course to pursue. The department also promptly decided that the wording of licenses hereafter issued will make it quite clear that the parties taking them out must be married in Ontario.

Arctic Expedition Has Returned.

Copenhagen, November 8.—Mylius Ericksen's expedition, after two years and a half of exploration of Greenland, has returned with valuable ethnographical and scientific records. The explorers lived with natives, studying language and customs.

The Ericksen expedition was last heard from May 21, at the Danish colony of West Greenland, where it arrived after much hardship and suffering. Whalers arrived at Dundee, in November, 1903, reported that they found the expedition on Saunders Island in a pitiable state of destitution. Count Moltke, the artist of the expedition, was very ill at that time. The explorers in the company of Eskimo were living in a tattered tent, and their food was almost exhausted, their reliance being upon eggs, which were to be found in good supply on the island. They had only one gun, and had abandoned their boat and one sledge at the northern part of Melville Bay. The whalers left with them supplies and materials with which to build a new boat.

The members of the choir of St. James Methodist Church, under the direction of Mr. E. F. Waterhouse, will entertain the sailors at the weekly concert at the Sailors' Institute to-night. The sailors from the ships in port will also take part.

Dominion line steamer Dominion, from Montreal for Liverpool, passed Kinsale at 4 p.m. yesterday.

TELLS OF VISIT TO PORT ARTHUR

Remarkably Interesting Despatch From a Star Correspondent.

RUSSIAN SHIPS ARE FILTHY

Officers in Despair When They Heard of Poor Progress of Baltic Fleet.

Special Cable from a Montreal Star Correspondent.

Nagasaki, November 8.—After having arrived, along with a companion at the lighthouse on the Liao Thieshan promontory, close to Port Arthur, as narrated in a previous cable, the boat in which we had sailed from the Miaotao Islands was picked up by a small Russian torpedo boat attached to the battleship Peresviet and towed to that vessel which lies two miles outside of the harbour. The Peresviet is as badly battered by Japanese shells as the Czarevitch. Both ship and crew were in a filthy condition. From the Peresviet we were taken to Admiral Viren who was on board the Bayan outside of the Tiger's Tail. The Bayan was also badly damaged and dirty. Admiral Viren asked news of the Baltic fleet and learning that it was still at Reval expressed his despair. From the Bayan we were taken to visit Rear-Admiral Leczinsky on board the flagship the Ostrashny, one of the smaller vessels in the east harbour. None of the smaller vessels appeared to be seriously damaged and there were no vessels being repaired in the dry dock.

Admiral Leczinsky invited me to breakfast on board the Ostrashny. The interior of this vessel was in a disgustingly filthy condition. The officers were charmingly hospitable.

On learning the news of the Baltic fleet, they openly declared themselves lost. Later on I was allowed to visit the other ships. All the vessels are moved to new anchorages every other night in order to avoid the occasional shells the Japanese are dropping in the harbour.

Among other vessels in the harbour is the big white red cross ship Amur, which has on board more than 100 sailors wounded in Admiral Withoft's sortie.

SIXTEEN FIGHTING SHIPS.

Altogether there are sixteen fighting ships in the harbour. None of these has been dismantled. The sailors are kept on board and only the small machine guns have been sent ashore. There is plenty of coal, but ammunition is scarce. The harbour entrance is swept by four searchlights, two of which are on the shore. An immense Russian ship has been sunk across the narrowest part of the entrance to the harbour. It is flanked at each end by two Japanese wrecks. Outside the obstructions is a boom which can be raised and lowered at pleasure. Many mines also succeeded in making the channel to the harbour narrow and tortuous.

Outside the boom are to be seen the remains of the other Japanese vessels which were sunk during the vain attempt to block the harbour. The Russians pointed to them with ridicule as evidence of wasted effort. Two wrecked Russian torpedo boats also lie not far from the Japanese wrecks. They were sunk by accidental contact with mines. Six torpedo boats and eleven vessels of lighter draft are constantly sweeping the outside channels for mines, in the distance ten miles off can be seen the smoke of Admiral Togo's blockaders.

FEW BOMBARDMENTS.

The Japanese have been doing little bombardment of late. The Russian naval men hope that Togo will attack, otherwise when General Nogi's bombardment grows unbearable or the fortress is compelled to surrender, the ships will sortie some dark night and steam for Vladivostok.

However, they still hope for the arrival of the Baltic fleet. No blockade runners have been able to make the harbour for a long time. There has been no news from Vladivostok. Admiral Viren was under the impression that Commander Watusevitch, whom I interviewed at Tshitau, was dead. He also believed that Bruik, with the aid of the Novik had escaped. He expressed his distress and surprise at the loss of the two naval attaches who left Port Arthur. Admiral Ukhtomsky has not been court martialed, but is under a cloud.

In the naval prison, behind Golden Hill, there are thirty-three Japanese, among them two subalterns and Mr. Micemura, the Tokio Ashi's correspondent, who was detached from a despatch boat and is acting as prison interpreter.

IN BOMB-PROOF CELLAR.

From the flagship I was escorted to the harbour master, who was engaged in a bomb-proof cellar under the Admiralty building, equipped with telephone, telegraph and electric mine connections. He telegraphed to General Stoessel, who sent Adjutant Keisinko with a private carriage to drive us from the Chinese city to the new city. A steep hill in front of General Stoessel's house was ascended. The General's residence is next door to Smirnoff's and to that of Prince Ukhtomsky. All along the road to the General's house were seen the ravages of the incessant bombardment. The Japanese guns fire at ten minute intervals, the Russians reply every half hour. One battery of ten guns is placed a few rods from the General's house. Another battery crowns the hill across the public square. The Japanese shells frequently explode just before this battery. Ninety per cent. of the Japanese shells do no damage.

Most of the killed are coolies, the weekly average being thirty. The city is remarkably tranquil.

Two restaurants are running, meals cost two rubles ($1). There is no fresh food except horse flesh. Ten horses are slaughtered daily. One hundred horses are all that remained when I left. There is plenty of canned stuff and large supplies of rice, wheat and bean cake. There is no lack of vodka. A single egg cost thirty kopies (15 cents.)

Since the Japanese captured the reservoir there is nothing to be had but cistern water. Typhoid is prevalent. Nobody apparently minds the bombardment. Children play in the streets. Coolies work under guard. Carriages and carts are driven about. I observed an officer teaching a lady to ride a bicycle, while the bombs coursed overhead.

MET GENERAL STOESSEL.

I was presented to Gen. Stoessel and to his staff in the parlour. Col. Reitz, Chief of Staff, speaks French, but Stoessel speaks only Russian. Presenting a letter of introduction from Count Cassini, I was accorded a very courteous reception.

General Stoessel is a man of winning personality, big, simple, modest, frank, democratic, with no bluster, no ostentation, no medals, no epaulettes.

General Stoessel said that he is constantly asking for official news from the Consul at Che Foo, but that none is forthcoming. He complained bitterly of the inactivity of the Che Foo Consul, and said that the Marconi communication promised between that port and the fortress had proved a miserable failure. He also said that he believed that the consul was purposely withholding discouraging Russian despatches as there had been no outside news for more than five weeks. The general learned from me for the first time of Kuropatkin's defeats. He was not inclined to credit the story until convinced by some Che Foo papers I showed him.

STOESSEL ASTOUNDED.

It perfectly astounded him to know that Kuropatkin is at Mukden. He believed him to be advancing southward. Turning to Zeltz, the General said in Russian, "There is no help then but to die or to go to the Matsuhama prison. He asked that Kuropatkin's reverses be concealed from the Garrison which still believes that Kuropatkin is attacking General Nogi's rear. Stoessel praises the bravery and kindness of the Japanese, who take great care of the Russian wounded. He feels proud of fighting such a foe.

A SUPERB SPECTACLE.

Dalny, November 6, via Kobe, November 7.—"After three days of continuous bombardment of Port Arthur, which caused extensive destruction of the Shojusan and Niryuson forts, in the west centre of the Russian line of defense, and also to Kekwan fort, the right wings of the Japanese early assaulted Shojusan yesterday afternoon. Having carried the approaches to that height, the assailants intrenched themselves under the glacis of the forts. In the evening the left wing delivered an assault on Kekwan, fighting its way to the lower parapet. There the Japanese held their ground subbornly in the face of Russian counter-attacks.

Having been reinforced during the night, the Russians charged down upon the Japanese and desperate hand-to-hand conflicts ensued. The Japanese beat back the enemy and destroyed two covered positions in the front moat. A Japanese sub-lieutenant, with thirty volunteers, then succeeded in making his way to the rear of the fort. There he engaged in a personal conflict with a Russian officer and killed him. Having discovered two more defences in the rear moat, the sub-lieutenant withdrew his force, losing two men.

Later in the night the advanced position of the Japanese was taken and re-taken twice. The besiegers succeeded in holding the approaches and constructing trenches connecting them with the army's front parallel. At dawn numbers of dead were visible on the slope. Fort "P," north of the new batteries, in the left centres of the line, was captured.

These operations have successfully driven an effective wedge into the Russian centre. Severe explosions and extensive fires have occurred in the fortress within the last few days. The total casualties of the Japanese in the late attacks were 1,100. Over six hundred were killed up to October 29. The spirit of the men is magnificent. The firing of all the guns is wonderfully effective.

The climax to the late bombardment came between 4 and 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon. It was a superb spectacle. Every fort of the enemy was engaged and the fighting in the trenches was constant and severe. The outposts of the contending forces were only forty feet apart. At 1 o'clock this morning one of the Japanese trenches collapsed into a Russian gallery. The enemy being surprised underground, fled in confusion.

Colonial Secretary's Statement.

London, November 8. — Colonial Secretary Lyttelton in a speech at Leamington last night, said there was an excellent reason for the hope of the almost immediate agreement by Russia to all of Great Britain's demands in connection with the North Sea affair. After yesterday's Cabinet meeting the Foreign Office said that the Anglo-Russian agreement on the subject of the enquiry into the North Sea incident was practically complete. The one or two important details remaining to be settled, it was added, would occasion no difficulty.

Fatal Riots in Russia.

Berlin, November 8.—A circular widely distributed in the Russian army, despite the strictest control, has reached here. It contains the following "No one going to the war returns. It is better to defend our rights than to shed blood unnecessarily. We workmen cannot look on with indifference while our comrades perish."

As a result of these circulars further riots are reported at Kaner where several persons were killed or wounded. At Rodomsk in a clash between Reservists and police several men were killed.

MR. STEWART ADDRESSES TORONTO CANADIAN CLUB.

He Expresses the Opinion That Canada Will Become a Great Monetary Centre.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, November 8. — Mr. D. M. Stewart, of Montreal, general manager of the Sovereign Bank, addressed the Canadian Club at the club's luncheon yesterday upon "Banking in Canada." Mr. Stewart gave an interesting outline of some of the important features of the Canadian banking business. He predicted confidently that Canada would become one of the greatest monetary centres in the world. The principle of Canadian banking legislation had been safety, and the elasticity of the system was evidenced by the ease with which the crop movement was met each autumn.

The circulation was limited to the amount of the unimpaired paid-up capital. This was at present $79,741,000 and the circulation being only $63,795,000, left a balance of $15,846,000 for use on the crop movements, and other commercial purposes.

PAUL DE CASSAGNAC HAS PASSED AWAY.

Paris, November 8. Paul de Cassagnac is dead at his residence at St. Viatour, in the department of Loir et Cher. Cassagnac was known as one of the strongest opponents of the Republic, and the campaign which he carried on in his journal at times furnished France with startling sensations. He was born at Paris on December 2, 1843, and was just approaching the close of his sixty first year at the time of his death.

MR. FLYNN'S MANIFESTO.

Member for Stanstead Will Submit it to His Constituents.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Sherbrooke, November 8.—Mr. George H. St. Pierre, for the past four years Conservative M. L. A., for Stanstead County, will call a convention of Stanstead Conservatives at an early date, and lay Hon. E. J. Flynn's manifest before them.

Mr. St. Pierre does not accept that manifesto as absolutely deciding his future course.

He contends there are only two ways for him in his present position to give the political arena, namely, through defeat at the polls or through the consent of his party in the county he represents.

He will, therefore, call a convention and if it insists upon a contest and desires him again as candidate, he will accept and bow to the wishes of the convention.

Mr. St. Pierre's majority at the last election was 248.

Dancing Has Been Forbidden.

THE GRAFTERS

By Francis Lynde

"I know it; but if it will give me twenty-four hours—"

"It won't. They can't get home on our line because we'll be tied up. But they can get the Naught-seven put on the Overland's Limited at A. & T. Junction, and that will put them back here before you've had time to turn around twice. Have they come down yet?"

"No," said Kent, and just then he saw Loring coming in from the street entrance and went to meet him.

"I have the final word from Boston," said the ex-manager, when he had walked Kent out of earshot of the train-takers. "Your terms are accepted—with all sorts of safeguards thrown about the 'no cure, no pay' proviso, also with a distinct repudiation of you and our scheme if there is anything unlawful afoot. Do you still think it best to keep me in the dark as to what you are doing?"

"Yes; there are enough of us involved, as it stands. You couldn't help; and you might hinder. Besides, if the mine should happen to explode in our direction it'll be a comfort to have a foot-loose friend or two on the outside to pick up the pieces of us."

Loring was polishing his eye-glasses with uncommon vigor.

"I wish you'd drop it, David, if it isn't too late. I can't help feeling as if I had prodded you into it, whatever it is."

Kent linked arms with him and led him back to the street entrance.

"Go away, Grantham, and don't come back again," he commanded. "Then you can swear truthfully that you didn't know anything about it. It is too late to interfere, and you are not responsible for me. Go up to see Portia, she'll keep you interested while you wait."

When Loring was gone, Kent went back to the wicket in the grille, but M'Tosh, who was always a busy man at train-time, had disappeared again.

It was a standing mystery to the train-master and to the rank and file, why Receiver Guilford had elected to ignore the fact that he was within three hours of a strike which promised to include at least four-fifths of his operatives, had taken no steps for defence, and had not confided, as it appeared, in the members of his own official staff.

But Kent was at no loss to account for the official silence. If the secret could be kept for a few hours longer, the junto would unload the Trans-Western strike, tie-up and general demoralization, upon an unsuspecting Overland management.

None the less, there were other things unexplainable even to Kent; for one, this night flitting to Gaston to put the finishing touch on an edifice of fraud which had been builded shamelessly in the light of day.

Kent had not the key to unlock this door of mystery, but here the master spirit of the junto was doing, not what he would, but what he could. The negotiations for the lease had consumed much time at a crisis when time was precious. Judge MacFarlane had to be recalled and once more bullied into subjection, and Falkland, acting for the Plantagould interest, had insisted upon some formal compliance with the letter of the law.

Bucks had striven masterfully to drive and not be driven; but the delays were inexorable, and the impending strike threatened to turn the orderly charge into a rout. The governor had postponed the coup from day to day waiting upon the leisurely movements of Falkland, and at the end of the ends there remained but three hours of the final day of grace when the telegram came from Falkland with the welcome news that the Overland officials were on their way from Midland City to keep the appointment in Gaston.

Of all this Kent knew nothing, and was anxious in just proportion as the minutes elapsed and the time for the departure of the east-bound express drew near. For the success of the desperate venture turned upon this: that the receiver's special must leave ahead of the passenger train. With the express blocking the way the difficulties became insurmountable.

Kent was still standing at the trainmen's wicket when Callahan sent the private car gently up to the trackhead of track eight. M'Tosh had been telephoning again, and the receiver and his party were on the way to the station.

"I was afraid you'd have to let the express go first," said Kent, when the train-master came his way again. "How much time have we?"

"Five minutes more; and they are on the way down—there they come."

Kent looked and saw a group of six men making for the nearest exit in the grille. Then he smote his fist into his palm.

"D——n!" he muttered, "they've got the vice-president of the Overland with them! That's bad."

"It's bad for Mr. Callafield," growled McTosh. "We're in too deep now to back down on his account."

Kent moved nearer and stood in the shadow of the gate-keeper's box, leaving McTosh, who was on the track platform, free to show himself. From his new point of espial Kent checked off the members of the party. When Major Guilford left it to come back for a word with McTosh, there were five others: the governor, his private secretary, Hawk, Halkett, the general superintendent, and the Overland's vice-president.

"All ready, M'Tosh?" said the receiver.

"Ready and waiting, Major," was the bland reply.

"Who is our engineer?"

"Patrick Callahan."

"That wild Irishman? The governor says he'd as soon ride behind the devil."

"Callahan will get you there," said the train-master, with deliberate emphasis. Then he asked a question of his own. "Is Mr. Callafield going with you?"

"No. He came down to see us off. How is the fast mail to-night?"

"She's just in—an hour and thirty-five minutes late."

The major swore pathetically. He was of the generation of railway officials, happily fast passing, which cursed and swore itself into authority.

"That's another five hundred dollars' forfeit to the Post-office Department! Who's taking it west?"

"Tischer."

"Give him orders to cut out all the stops. If he is more than fifty-five minutes late at Bighorn, he can come in and get his time."

Tischer had just got the word to go, and was pulling out on the yard main line.

"I'll catch him with the wire at yard limits," said M'Tosh. Then: "Would you mind hurrying your people a little, Major? The express is due to leave."

Guilford was a heavy man for his weight, and he waddled back to the others, waving his arms as a signal for them to board the car.

Kent saw the vice-president of the Overland Short Line shake hands with Bucks and take his leave, and was so intent upon watching the tableau of departure that he failed to notice the small boy in Western Union blue who was trying to thrust a telegram, damp from the copying rolls, into his hand.

"It's a rush, sir," said the boy, panting from his quick dash across the track platforms.

It was Ormsby's message from Bruceland; and while Kent was trying to grasp the tremendous import of it, M'Tosh was giving Callahan the signal to go. Kent sprang past the gate-keeper and gave the square of damp paper to the train-master.

"My God! read that!" he gasped, with a dry sob of excitement. "It was our chance—one chance in a million—and we've lost it!"

PRETTY SHIRRED GOWN OF CREPE DE CHINE.

For the softly draping modes that rule the present fashions crepes de Chine are ideal fabrics. The model illustrated is in a pale willow green crepe, the double width being used. The corsage has a little lace yoke and chemisette, the sleeve and blouse bouffant, and the ceinture cleverly defining the figure. The skirt is shirred in many rows over the hips, and falls in full, straight lines to the feet, where a velveteen facing is used in lieu of a hem, so that the very sheer material may have some weight and body around the foot. Close knife pleatings of the crepe are applied with a stitched band in the centre, and two rows of this make the sole trimming on the skirt.

outshines them all in cleansing power, yet will not injure the daintiest fabrics. It contains no unsaponified fats to discolor your clothes nor free alkali to destroy them. It is a perfectly balanced soap, equally good with hard or soft water. No scrubbing, no boiling.

GROWING UP

There's something the matter with the child that fails to grow up. A child that grows up too much, however, without proper filling out of flesh, is almost as badly off. Nothing will help these pale, thin "weedy" children like Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the rounding out of flesh and the rich inward nourishment of blood and vital organs which insures rapid growth a healthy and uniform development.

Encke's Comet Was Visible.

Washington, D. C., November 8. — Encke's comet was seen at the United States naval observatory on Sunday night and again last night with the 12-inch equatorial telescope. Its radiance, however, is so feeble that as yet the comet is barely visible in the telescope as a patch of light, and several days, perhaps will elapse before accurate observations can be made of its position, which, however, follows quite clearly the path predicted for the return of the comet. Its distance from the earth and the sun is rapidly diminishing, while the apparent motion among the stars is so rapid as to be perceptible in the field of the telescope during an hour's time.

PRINCE OF PILSEN AT HIS MAJESTY'S

Musical Comedy Seen Here Last Season Scores Once More.

THE CRISIS AT THE ACADEMY

The "Prince of Pilsen" company gave the first performance of the return engagement at His Majesty's Theatre last night before a fair sized and appreciative audience.

This musical comedy, which was seen and enjoyed here last season, stands well the test of time, and those who saw it before, and again last evening, were free to admit that it had not fallen away perceptibly from its former standard. A good deal of new "stuff," which term about fits the character of the fillings of the modern musical comedy, has been introduced, and among them might be mentioned "Imagination," which Hans Wagner, the Cincinnati brewer, sings in place of "It Was the Dutch." The song contains many clever lines, and he was obliged to respond to many encores. The character of Hans Wagner, the imitation Prince of Pilsen, is played this year by Jess Dandy, and it is only fair to him to state that very few in the audience were even aware that the part had changed hands.

"Heidelberg" and the "Stein Song," rendered by the octette, brought forth rounds of applause, and the shading in the former was particularly effective. The character of the French maid is in the familiar hands of Jeannette Lagerard, and she acts, sings and dances it in her customary thorough fashion. Trixie Friganza, as the gay widow, Mrs. Crocker, wears the most gorgeous of gowns, and sings her songs acceptably.

The "Song of the Cities" went with better effect than it did a year ago, chiefly for the reason that Montreal, dressed a la Gibson, had learned her walk, and regulated her expression.

The management deserves both encouragement and credit for not falling into the usual expedient of allowing the play, as a whole, to fall away from its standard originally set. This was particularly noticeable in the chorus, which is perhaps better trained and is certainly better looking than that of a year ago. Here and there the stage business is particularly effective.

At the Academy.

As was the case last night, the audiences at the Academy of Music this week will be largely recruited from the ranks of those who have read with interest the Civil War story, "The Crisis," by Winston Churchill. A dramatization of a popular novel has usually that result, but it is probable that as an evening's theatrical entertainment, the majority of satisfaction is for those who go unattended by recollections of the course of the plot of the piece and unfamiliarity with the characters on the stage, with whom they are to spend the evening. No doubt there is a keen enjoyment, however, for those who go to the play for the purpose of seeing how the characters of the book look upon the stage, and take much satisfaction from comparing notes of how the players come up to the ideals formed from reading the book.

"Will Virginia be as nice as she was in the story?" was one of the queries overheard last night at the Academy. It was not answered by word of mouth, but there is very little doubt that Miss Comstock's audience was entirely satisfied with her interpretation of the role of Virginia Carvel. The same may not be said of all her support, but in those roles in which the demands were greatest there was wise provision. Mr. John Dugan's Eliphalet Hopper provided that mixing of the comedy with the villainous which the author exacts, and it was done in a finished manner. The Judge Whipple of Mr. John B. Cooke was another clever character portrayal, and the balance of the roles were in efficient hands. The stage settings are for the most part of a simple character, but the costuming of the piece was an interesting feature in view of the presentation of the quaint styles prevailing at the period in St. Louis prior to the outbreak of the civil war, around which the story hinges. The dramatization of the story succeeds amply in bringing into living reality the disruptions of old friendships, which resulted from the divergent views on the question of abolition of slavery. "The Crisis" was well received by a large and attentive audience.

At the Francais.

The Thoroughbreds held the boards at the Francais last night. One or two distinctly novel features lent attraction to a performance, which, while otherwise very similar to recent productions which have been seen at the same theatre, was bright and lively. The capers of Phoenix Hogan and Herman Schultz were decidedly amusing. "The Wine Stube," a German drinking song, given by Blanch Washburn and the entire company in costume, was quite novel. The olio is fair. Perhaps the galleries showed Tim Healy and Clausen Sisters a little more favour than any other of the artists with the exception, probably, of La Toska, the contortionist, who wriggled into all manner of shapes, and did it without any of those nerve-racking faces which make many similar performances a decided strain. Washburn and Flynn, the dancing Mitchells, Coyne, Ardell, Lawrence and Edwards, with Willie Weston and Franklin and Hopkins complete the olio. A very fair evening's amusement concluded with the farce, "The Thoroughbreds on a Lark."

REFORMS UNDER PRINCE MIRSKY.

New Russian Minister of Interior Meets Student Disturbances With Mildness.

St. Petersburg, November 8.—There was a small student disturbance at the university yesterday, but it was handled in the same rational manner as the one at Kazan Cathedral, about ten days ago, and as a result the whole affair passed off without serious consequences. About 1,000 university students divided into two groups, one singing the Russian national anthem and the other "Marseillaise." The police appealed to the latter group to stop and they agreed to do so if their opponents stopped. This was done and the affair ended with a hearty laugh all round.

The previous affair referred to above was organized on the occasion of the requiem in the Kazan Cathedral, on the anniversary of the death of Alexander III., the students making a demonstration in memory of the death in the Peter and Paul fortress, one of their number called Borski. On this occasion Fullon, the prefect of police, ordered the police home and signally spoke to the students asking them to desist and disperse which they did.

These two incidents, small in themselves, have created considerable talk in St. Petersburg, owing to the method of dealing with student disturbances, which is attributed to the initiative of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, Minister of the Interior. The demonstrations were neither more or less than in many recent years were put down by charging Cossacks with lowered lances. Considerable pleasure is also expressed with the announcement of the resumption of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's public reception.

ENGLISH HOME IS GLADDENED.

Stork Pays a Visit to Mrs. Burnt, of Newton—Event More Than Usually Interesting.

Newton, Eng., November 7.—(Special.)—The home of Mrs. W. A. Burnt has been gladdened by the advent of a baby daughter. The event was more than usually interesting from the fact that the mother had already lost two babies. However, this time both are doing well. Mrs. Burnt says: "Two months ago I started to take St. James Wafers, as I had terrible backache, and my food hurt me so I could not eat. I am very pleased that my baby is so healthy. St. James Wafers have done wonders for me, and I would strongly advise expectant women to take them." St. James Wafers the stomach and nerve remedy are a blessing to women.

ROYAL HUMANE MEDALS PRESENTED AT THE CAPITAL.

Ottawa, November 8. — Master Clifford Sifton, son of the Minister of the Interior, was presented last night with the Royal Humane Society's bronze medal, and Mr. J. G. Gillespie with an engrossed certificate by Mayor Ellis at the City Hall. Young Sifton had rescued young Arthur Burrows from drowning in the St. Lawrence river, and Mr. Gillespie had saved the lives of Mr. A. M. Douglas and John MacPherson from drowning in the Rideau canal.

BOY SENTENCED FOR LESE MAJESTE.

New York, November 8. — A Berlin despatch to the Times says: At Lissa, province of Posen, a 13-year-old Polish boy, Adelbert Grzabk, has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment for lese majeste. While at school, in conversation with other boys, he condemned the neutrality of Germany in the present war and also made derogatory remarks about the Kaiser.

BIG CROWD ATTENDED PERFORMANCE BY GUARDS' BAND.

The band of the Grenadier Guards gave a magnificent concert before a magnificent audience last evening, at the Arena. The populace had evidently wakened up to a realization of the fact that a great band was in its midst.

When a band plays as perfectly as did the performers of last evening, comparisons become odious. It is then merely a matter of impression. The band includes in its performers some very fine soloists, the cornettist, Corporal R. Gray, and the piccoloist, W. Bullock, rendering numbers in a manner to evoke the greatest enthusiasm. The programme was not very well selected last evening, but, including the encore numbers, the concert must be pronounced a great musical treat.

WOMEN FOUGHT DUEL: ONE IS DEAD.

Evanston, Wyo., November 8. — Mrs. Elion Demars, who fought a duel with her neighbour, Mrs. Nancy Richards, is dead. Several times the women had come to blows, and each had warned the other that the next encounter would be with guns. Mrs. Demars went to Mrs. Richards' ranch near Fort Bridger, and upon being ordered away displayed a big revolver. Mrs. Richards had been carrying a weapon in expectation of meeting Mrs. Demars. Mrs. Richards says Mrs. Demars fired first, but there were no other witnesses. At the second shot Mrs. Demars fell with a bullet in her breast, but kept on firing, emptying the revolver. Mrs. Richards also fired six shots. Both are wives of ranchers. They are 30 years old. Mrs. Richards was arrested.

COLOMBIA RENEWS RELATIONS WITH STATES

New York, November 8. The World says a cablegram was received yesterday from Bogota, by a Wall Street banking institution, announcing that Enrique Cortes had been appointed Colombian Minister to the United States. Cortes was Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Cabinet of General Rafael Reyes, the new president of Colombia. His appointment will re-open diplomatic intercourse between that country and the United States, which were broken off by President Marroquin, when the State of Panama set up an independent government.

THE GOVERNMENT ABANDONS CASE.

Paris, November 8.—The sensational trial of Colonel Dautrich and Rollin and Captain Francois and Marechal, officers attached to the military information bureau, charged with appropriating funds which were used to secure evidence against Dreyfus, came to an abrupt end at noon yesterday, when the Government announced that it had abandoned its case. The result is attributed to the evidence of Marquis de Gallifet, former War Minister, exonerating the accused officers.

Toronto, November 8.—Two of the vacancies caused in the Ontario Cabinet by the coming resignations of Messrs. Latchford, Gibson, Davis and Stratton are already as good as filled by Hon. W. A. Charlton and George P. Graham, M.L.A., but in securing a Commissioner of Public Works to succeed Mr. Latchford and an attorney-general to succeed Mr. Gibson the Premier is experiencing a great deal of difficulty. No one is anxious to take the offices, and it is for this reason that Premier Ross is forced to delay the dissolution of the Legislature and the general elections. The delay, though, is only a matter of a day or so now. Another Cabinet Council will be held very likely this afternoon at the Parliament Building. Hon. J. B. Stratton gives a dinner to the officials of his department to-night, at which it is expected that he will make some allusion to his coming retirement from provincial politics.

TERRIBLE PAINS AND A FREQUENT DESIRE TO URINATE. Such were the troubles of Mr. Joseph Leland, Alma N.W.T. He happily found relief in

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Here is what he says:—"I was troubled with dull headaches, had frightful dreams, terrible pains in my legs, and a frequent desire to urinate. I take a great deal of pleasure in recommending them to all kidney trouble sufferers."

Doan's Kidney Pills help the Kidneys to drain off the poisonous impurities which have collected, thus cleansing out the kidneys, bladder, and all the urinary passages. ARTILLERY FIRING ALL ALONG THE LINE

Each Side Is Waiting for the Other to Attack.

IT WILL BE A LONG BATTLE

May Take Days or Weeks to Decide the Mastery of the Situation.

Mukden, via Pekin, November 8.—Artillery firing was continuous all along the lines on Monday and intermittent this morning. A battle might commence at any hour. It will be a question of many days if not weeks to decide the position, which is the most interesting since the commencement of the war. Each side is waiting for the other to attack.

REPORTED SINKING OF A JAPANESE WAR VESSEL.

Shanghai, November 8.—It is reported in British naval circles that a Japanese man-of-war has been sunk by a mine off Port Arthur.

RUSSIA'S STRUGGLE TO REINFORCE HER ARMY IN MANCHURIA.

Special Cable From a Montreal Star Correspondent.

St. Petersburg, November 8.—Russia's struggle to mass a sufficient number of troops under Kuropatkin's chief command to roll back Oyama's armies is unprecedented in the history of the empire. Reservists are moving toward the various centres of mobilization from every populated district west of the Urals. Ordinary truck cars have been converted into double deck carriages, in which the young soldiers are packed like sardines in a can with rations condensed and scanty, although adequate, for the absolute needs of the men. Quantities of food are brought to the railway stations, but none of it can be taken along. Women and children who accompany their husbands and fathers to the train are frequently unable to find shelter while waiting their departure. They haunt the stations, streets and public squares, and would starve were it not for the efforts of private charity. The General Staff is aware that the preliminaries for an epoch making battle are well advanced at Mukden. It knows that thanks to the great ability of Prince Khilkoff, the Russian forces have been strongly reinforced. It also knows that every day is adding to the strength of the enemy and that Oyama is fortifying a semi-circle of strategic positions, blocking the best roads to the south and building up behind these positions bases of supplies secondary only to the main continental bases of the Japanese at Dalny, New Chwang and Liao Yang. This action is thought to prove that Oyama is planning to launch his columns far north and to bring as much of Manchuria within the Japanese lines as possible at the next blow, in order to facilitate the Mikado's efforts to obtain foreign loans which the Russians assert have now become a crying necessity at Tokio.

This massing of opposing forces foreshadows not only the greatest battle of the campaign, but also the most gigantic test of strategy, tactics, troops and guns of modern times.

There was a good deal of perturbation in a certain family this morning.

The parents were on their way to Quebec, and dropped off at Montreal Junction with a view to making connections at Mile End.

In the process of transferring their numerous progeny from the cars to the station platform, they inadvertently omitted a lusty-lunged youngster of two years of age.

The train proceeded on its way to its destination at the Windsor street station.

But it had not gone far before the conductor discovered an unattached boy, howling at the top of his voice in the second class car.

Enquiries showed that the child had been left in the car when the family mentioned had debarked at Montreal Junction.

In the meantime the anxious parents having gathered their belongings together on the platform at the suburban point had commenced to count heads, only to find out that one of their young hopefuls had disappeared.

Here, indeed, was a tragedy.

The wires between Montreal Junction and Montreal city commenced to grow warm.

Soon the anxious parents were in possession of the fact that their offspring was in good hands and would be delivered to their tender mercies without any additional charge as soon as they cared to make application.

And the sooner the better, although that suggestion was not made so bluntly.

The mother then took the next train into the city, gathered the youngster into her arms, and, ensconced in a cab, was driven to the Place Viger station, where she made connections with the rest of the family at Mile End at 8.45 a.m.

The child was only out of its parents' keeping for an hour, but he evidently considered that much too long.

He had been crying at the top of his voice for sixty whole minutes of the time that flies, when his mother put in an appearance.

Immediately he set his eyes on her he stopped weeping, and assumed an indignant look.

An official of the C.P.R., who was an eye witness of the scene, said that the child's look spoke volumes.

He evidently intended to convey to her in an inarticulate fashion that the treatment that had been accorded him was not the kind of treatment that any self-respecting youngster might expect from a fond parent.

"Don't you think I am of some consequence?" he enquired as plainly as possible.

But it would have taken a Madame Weihe to do justice to the scene.

STORMY SCENES AT MEETING OF ST. LOUIS CLUB LAST NIGHT.

Mr. Placide Daoust presided over a stormy meeting of the St. Louis Club, yesterday evening, when the Hon. Mr. Rainville was nominated by the chairman, Mr. Daoust, as a Liberal candidate in the name of the club.

Mr. Rainville accepted the nomination, and declared his intention to stand in spite of any decision the convention might arrive at to-day. A telegram was read from the Premier of the province, stating that Mr. Rainville was the Government's candidate and the latter said he would leave no stone unturned to secure a victory, and reminded his hearers of his previous efforts and sacrifices in the interests of the party.

Mr. G. Langlois thought that the club should have been consulted on the nomination, and a vote taken on the question. He recognized the past services rendered by Mr. Rainville, but he was not satisfied with what he had latterly done at Quebec. He was loyal to his party and his chief who had selected the candidate, but he could not take his seat without protesting against the chairman's manner of proceeding.

Several propositions were put to the chair and Mr. Daoust refused to entertain them because he had no desire that the nomination should be voted on.

Alderman Payette believed in the usefulness of a regular convention, but he hoped that Liberals would stick together.

Alderman Lapointe entered his protest against the arbitrary action of the chairman, who refused to concede anything.

Several others present addressed the meeting amidst much confusion, the chairman persistently refusing to put the question to the meeting, which broke up about 11 o'clock.

There will be a convention this afternoon at the St. Joseph's Hall.

was made an excellent background for the gorgeous uniforms of the Cabinet Ministers, Diplomatic officers, and the beautiful and handsomely gowns of the ladies present.

After removing their wraps in the dressing rooms the guests made the way to the ante-room, where Chief Bell, A.D.C., received their cards. Entrance into the Ball-room was made through an entrance on the south side of the corridor, and guarded by sentries, who took the cards from the guests.

At half-past nine o'clock Their Excellencies entered the ball-room preceded by four commissionaires and the Chief Usher, Lieut.-Col. Newton. Col. H. Smith and Col. Irwin, Deputy Adjutant-General, followed by Their Excellencies, Edwin, Percy Ridout Elliott, Major Mervin and Miss Gaisse.

Passing up the room Lord and Lady Minto took up the position in the dais at the far end of the room, Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier standing on the left of the dais.

Capt. Beil, A.D.C., then advanced, bearing a crimson velvet cushion upon which lay the order of Knighthood to be formally conferred on Sir George A. Drummond.

Immediately behind him came Sir George A. Drummond, the central figure of the investiture, supported on either side by Mr. Osmond Scheibe and Sir Eric Grant, both wearing their orders of the Bath.

They advanced up the room, making three bows as they passed until they came to the dais.

Major Mervin, Deputy Secretary, then read the King's Warrant, Sir Wilfrid Laurier read the addresses, His Excellency placed a ribbon round Sir George Drummond's neck and conferred the order to it. Sir George kissed his Excellency's hand, and His Excellency dubbed him a Knight, tapping him first on the right shoulder and then on the left with a sword bearing the words "Arise Sir George."

The party then walked down backwards to the door having as they retired.

Mr. David Pottinger, general manager of the I. C. R., and Mr. Boucher, assistant clerk of the House of Commons, advanced in the same way, and were invested with the Imperial Service Order by Lord Minto.

QUADRILLE OF HONOUR.

The Ladies Eileen Elliott were dressed alike in charming frocks of white lace over white silk, the skirts ruffled and the bodices draped with lace bertha and finished with a sash of pink ribbon. They wore pearl and diamond necklaces and corsage knots of pink roses and carried shower bouquets of pink carnations.

The house party consisted of Major and Mrs. Maude, the latter in a lace gown, girdle with pink, with a diamond tiara and ornaments. Sir George and Lady Drummond, Montreal, Miss De Lotbinière, Mr. Gaisse, and Capt. Bell, A.D.C. Sir George Drummond wore full court dress of black velvet and gold knee buttons. Lady Drummond wore a lovely confection of white satin, veiled over with white point lace, and trimmed with orange coloured flowers and diamond and pearl ornaments.

The service took place in St. Patrick church, where a solemn requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father McInerney, of Pembroke diocese, son of the deceased, assisted by the Rev. Father Peter Heffernan as deacon and the Rev. Father Polan as sub-deacon.

The chief mourners were the husband of the deceased lady and her two sons, Thomas and Lawrence.

At the grave a Libera was sung by the Rev. Fathers P. Heffernan, Kiernan, Holland and Cullenan.

THE WEATHER

Old Probs proved that he did not know all about it yesterday when he prognosticated showers of sleet for last night.

As a matter of fact, the night was ideal, and the sun was shining with unusual radiance this morning.

The same happy conditions have continued throughout the day, and though it is likely to continue colder than formerly, the cold will not be such as to make the general public unduly apprehensive regarding the immediate approach of winter.

The maximum temperature in this city is slightly higher than was the case yesterday, but that is no doubt due to the warmth of the sun's rays.

Weather Statistics in Montreal.

Readings by the Optical and Engineer's Supply Company's Standard Barometer:

At noon yesterday, 29.66; at 8 a.m. to-day, 29.80; 11 a.m. to-day, 29.86.

Temperature—To-day, maximum 35, minimum 22; yesterday, maximum 36, minimum 28.

Sun rose this morning at 7.02; will set this evening at 5.01.

M'GILL AND QUEEN'S ARE COMPARED

By Prof. MacNaughton in Address at Grant Hall.

M'GILL'S DISADVANTAGES

Says College Has Unsympathetic Surroundings—The Inferior School System of This Province.

Kingston, Ont., November 8.—In his inaugural address at the opening of Grant Association Hall last night, Rev. Prof. MacNaughton expressed the pleasure he felt at finding himself back at Queen's once more after a year's absence at McGill, not that he found McGill uncongenial. Though McGill, he said, was free from the want of money, the lack of which had always been a destructive feature of Queen's, Prof. MacNaughton mentioned several difficulties which McGill had to contend with. "She is," he said, "in the midst of a depressing unsympathetic plutocratic atmosphere, and she has but a small English population from which to draw her students."

Another difficulty was the inferiority of the Quebec school system. While at McGill the speaker had impressed his colleagues with the growth and importance of Queen's. Principal Peterson, he said, was a warm friend of Queen's, and had charged him to convey to the Presbyterian University the assurance of his strong desire for the continuation and growth of the alliance and friendship between these institutions, which alliance would be a decided gain for the higher life of Canada. Prof MacNaughton's words were loudly applauded.

Last evening, Grant Memorial Hall, which cost $10,000, was handed over to Queen's University authorities. The ceremony took place before a brilliant gathering in the hall. W. H. Lovell, president of the Alma Mater Society, through whose efforts the hall was erected in memory of the late Principal Grant, presented the edifice to the trustees, Chancellor Fleming, C.M.G., and Principal Gordon, replying. There were addresses by Rev. James Walker, B. D. Lindsay, C. F. Hamilton, M.A., Ottawa, and Hon. Wm. Harty.

CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD SHORTLY.

The committee of the McGill corporation having in hand the revision of courses in certain departments of the Faculty of Arts, in accordance with the arrangements re-cently made with the Department of Education for Ontario, will shortly confer with the officials of the department in Toronto.

Complete recognition of McGill has already been obtained, and several courses have been arranged to suit the requirements of the Ontario department, but consultation on certain points will be necessary before the entire curricula have been arranged.

Some half dozen classes have already been arranged by the Faculty of Arts at McGill University, to suit the convenience of the partial students of the McGill Norman School, who are taking classes at that institution in accordance with the arrangement recently ratified by the corporation of the University by which the students are permitted to take the above courses at a greatly reduced rate.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WINDSOR HOTEL CO.

The Windsor Hotel Company will hold their annual meeting this afternoon. Little important business is to be transacted, but it is expected that a dividend of 8 per cent. will be declared.

It is anticipated that the previous year's executive will be re-elected, viz.: Mr. C. Garth, president; directors, Messrs. J. P. Dawes, H. Joseph, N. Dawes, D. McIntyre and Mr. F. L. Wanklyn.

WHAT THE MINISTER SAYS

Is Most Convincing.

"I thought I would write you what Pyramid Pile Cure has done for me. I had a most aggravated case of bleeding piles; indeed I dreaded when I had to go to stool. One fifty cent box cured me. I feel like a new man. I have recommended it to others as being the most wonderful remedy known. It is indeed a great blessing to suffering humanity. You are at liberty to use this for all it is worth, and I hope it may do good." Rev. W. E. Carr, 355 No. Holbrook street, Danville, Va.

Clergymen, like all professional men who lead sedentary lives, are especially addicted to piles, in various forms, and are continually on the lookout for a remedy which will give relief, with little or no idea of obtaining a cure.

Recognizing this fact, Rev. Mr. Carr consents to the use of his name in order that other sufferers may know there is a cure called Pyramid Pile Cure, which is sold by druggists everywhere for the low price of fifty cents a package, and which will bring about for every one afflicted with piles, the same beneficial results as in his own case. Be careful to accept no substitutes, and remember that there is no remedy "just as good."

A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and will be sent free for the asking. All sufferers are advised to write for it, as it contains valuable information on the subject of piles. 266 2 eod

Severe Chest Colds And Painful Coughs

Demand Prompt and Active Treatment.

The great danger in troubles of this class is "delay." Don't neglect a Cough or Cold, it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected—Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Asthma, Catarrh and Consumption will surely follow the neglect to cure.

The first dose of

will ease the cough, soothe the inflamed throat and loosen the phlegm.

Mrs. Joseph Paradis, Blackwell, Ont., writes:—I had such a bad cold I could hardly breathe. I noticed Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so had my husband get me two bottles—I had only used one before I was cured. I recommended it to a friend, and two bottles cured her after other remedies had failed—we both keep it in the house now and would not be without it. It is the best cough medicine I have ever taken."

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MRS. MACKAY THIS MORNING.

The late Madame Mackay, whose funeral took place this morning at the Church of St. Jean Baptiste, was 55 years old, and lived in St. Denis street with her daughter. She always seemed to have been in good health, and her sudden death on Saturday last was a shock to her relatives and friends. Her daughter had left her at the breakfast table for a short time, when she returned and found her mother prostrate on the floor, apparently lifeless. She called to the neighbours for assistance, but Mrs. Mackay was beyond that, and the priest was summoned just in time to administer the last rites of the church, when she passed away. Madame Mackay was the widow of the late Stephen Mackay, a notary of St. Eustache, and the mother of Dr. J. M. Mackay, Quebec; Dr. W. A. Mackay, Grenville; Stephen Mackay, notary; Ernest Mackay; mother-in-law of Mr. C. A. Dansereau, and sister of Dr. Pinet, of St. Laurent.

A large number of relatives and friends attended the funeral, at which Father Auclair pronounced the absolution, while Father Pare sang the Requiem Mass, assisted by Fathers Plante and Lamirande. After the church ceremonies the body was removed to St. Eustache for burial.

I FEEL LIKE A YOUNG MAN AGAIN,

Writes Capt. James Moore, of the Steamer Eva Stewart, Parrsboro, N. S.:

Dear Sir,—I am perfectly satisfied with the Belt, and feel like a young man again. I would not take a thousand dollars for it if I was sure I could not get another. I have quite a number of friends who would like to have the Belt, but they think it is like the $2 variety. If they would try your Belt they would soon find out the difference. I think I can make some sales for you this winter. I hope to call on you personally. Yours respectfully, CAPT. JAS. MOORE, of the schooner Eva Stewart, Parrsboro', N.S.

I claim I can cure weak people, that I can pump new life into worn-out bodies, that I can cure your pains and aches, limber up your joints and make you feel as frisky and vigorous as you ever were in your life.
