BALDWIN AGAIN HEADS CONSERVATIVE PARTY

An Organized Attempt By Convicts To Escape Failed

Stanley Baldwin Was Re-Elected As Party Leader

Was Re-elected Today as Leader of the British Conservative Party—Believed that Party Will Shelve Protection Issue, as Lancashire Conservatives Emphatically Did by a Resolution Adopted at Party Meeting in Manchester on Sunday—Many Conservatives, Disgruntled Over Party's Defeat in Recent Election, Were at First Much Inclined to Dethrone Mr. Baldwin, But Latterly Party Discipline Has Prevailed.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, February 11.—Stanley Baldwin was unanimously re-elected leader of the Conservative party today.

The question of party leadership was taken up for settlement today at a big meeting of the party in the Hotel Cecil, to which all the Conservative members of Parliament and all the Conservative candidates defeated in the recent election were invited.

Ever since the British electorate rejected the proposal for a protective tariff, debates have been going on in the political clubs and newspapers as to whether Mr. Baldwin, who assumed the whole responsibility for calling the election on the protection issue, could continue to hold the party leadership.

Many Conservatives, disgruntled by the party's defeat, were at first much inclined to dethrone him, but latterly party discipline has prevailed.

It is believed that the party will at least definitely shelve the protection issue, as the Lancashire Conservatives emphatically did by a resolution adopted at a party meeting in Manchester on Saturday.

Today's meeting was private, but an official report was promised at its close.

Between five hundred and six hundred members of the party, including some two hundred peers, assembled for the meeting.

Mr. Baldwin, who arrived early, was followed by Lord Balfour, Lord Birkenhead and other prominent party members.

NEW GOVERNMENT FACES PARLIAMENT ON TUESDAY

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The new Government will face Parliament next Tuesday with the task of steering a safe course against an adverse majority and with its life depending on whatever assistance may be accorded it by the Liberal party.

REASON WHY CONSERVATIVE PEER WAS APPOINTED FIRST LORD OF THE ADMIRALTY

(Associated Press Despatch)

GLASGOW, Feb. 11.—The reason for the appointment of the Conservative peer, Viscount Chelmsford as First Lord of the Admiralty was given by James Maxton, M.P., at a Labor demonstration here last night as "simply because the sea lords refused to work under the Labor Government unless the head of the Admiralty was a man suitable to them."

Had he been premier, Maxton said, he would have told the sea lords: "This is mutiny; this is a strike. There is the street—go."

"Labor," he added, "would be suitable to carry on as big a navy as the country needed without them. The methods the Tories used in handling the strikes of the railway men and dockers are good enough for the Labor Government to use in handling striking admirals."

CLYDESIDERS MEMBERS ADDRESSED MEETINGS

(Associated Press Despatch)

GLASGOW, Feb. 11.—A great demonstration was addressed last night by members of Clydeside group of the Labor party, and remarkable enthusiasm was displayed, but the speeches, though strong in tone and expressing regret that the Labor party in assuming office had been obliged to compromise with their principles, did not seem to indicate an intention to take any step to endanger the government's life, but rather to confine activities to keeping the measures as far as possible up to the mark.

INNOVATION IN BRITISH POLITICAL ENTERTAINING

LONDON, Feb. 11.—A series of political party dinners and receptions such as is customary on the eve of the reassembly of parliament is taking place this evening.

The Marchioness of Londonderry is hostess to the Conservatives, but her invitations have been extended to include many non-political persons, including many literary, artistic and theatrical celebrities.

Viscountess Grey of Fallodon will entertain the Liberals, while Mrs.

PRINCE ERIK AND HIS BRIDE ON RETURN TO LIVE IN CALIFORNIA AND TAKE UP ORANGE GROWING

Ottawa Keenly Excited Over Wedding of Miss Lois Booth to Prince Erik of Denmark, Which Takes Place This Afternoon—Entire Official and Social Life of Capital Will Be Represented at the Ceremony—Mr. J. R. Booth, Sr., Grandfather of Bride, Improved—Prince and His Bride Will Spend Their Honeymoon Abroad.

(Associated Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—Miss Lois Frances Booth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Booth, and granddaughter of Mr. J. R. Booth, multi-millionaire lumber man, at four o'clock today, became the bride of Prince Erik, relation by marriage of the sovereigns of British and Denmark and the ruling houses of other countries. In contemplation of this event, Ottawa subordinated other interests over the week-end so widespread and intense was absorption in it that it became the natural conductor of the most rapidly circulated rumor that has alarmed Ottawa since the war—the rumor that on the eve of his granddaughter's wedding to Prince Erik, of Denmark, Mr. John R. Booth, Sr., had been called by death.

While excitement over his condition was moving the city, Mr. John R. Booth, Sr., enjoying an actual improvement in his condition, was reading the newspapers and receiving members of his family. Yesterday afternoon Miss Booth left her wedding guests and went to him.

All arrangements for the wedding are now complete. After the marriage ceremony and the reception following it, Prince Erik and his bride will start on their honeymoon abroad. By special train they will go to Quebec tonight, and from there to New York, to sail for England on February 18th. They will go on to Denmark, where they will be received by King Christian, and will visit other countries.

Prince Erik and Princess Erik on their return will live in California, where they will take up orange growing. Confirmation of this comes from the Booth home.

Their Excellencies, the Governor General and Lady Byng of Vimy will be present and will represent King George and Queen Mary of England. The Premier, Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Mr. C. Meyer, Danish consul, and other diplomatic representatives in Ottawa in fact the entire official and social life of the capital, will be represented, the guests coming from the church to the reception at the home. Prince Erik, according to Danish custom, will be supported at the altar by his father, Prince Valdemar.

Mr. John R. Booth, Sr., owing to his illness will be unable to be present.

CANADIANS SHOULD FEEL PROUD

(Associated Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—Canadians should feel proud indeed that when the Royal family of Denmark picked out a bride for one of its princes that it came to Canada and picked out a Canadian girl, was the statement made by Colonel Rev. R. H. Steacy, in his sermon here last night. He asked his parishioners to feel with him, a pride in the forthcoming union of Denmark's Royal family with a daughter of one of Canada's pioneer families.

While United States maids were also married to princes, he said, Canadians should be proud that her daughter, Miss Lois Booth, was marrying into a family that of all the Royal families of Europe stood out for its virtue, integrity and individual ability of its members.

MARTIAL LAW TO BE DECLARED AT HERRIN, ILL.

State Troops en Route to Scene of Disorders Will Bring Total in Williamson County to 1,700.

(Associated Press Despatch)

HERRIN, Ill., Feb. 11.—Turbulent Williamson County, scene two years ago of the massacre of more than a score of non-union coal miners and lately of an internecine warfare between "dry" Ku Klux Klan factions and "wet" anti-Ku Klux Klan factions, today faces the prospect of a declaration of martial law and a strike of approximately four thousand bituminous miners employed in twenty-seven mines.

It is believed generally that with the arrival of additional National guardsmen the county's law enforcement will pass into the hands of the military instead of having them act as now under the direction of coroner W. H. McCowan, held to be the only county officer functioning as such.

State troops en route here will bring the total in Williamson County to approximately 1,700.

No untoward incident occurred last night in Williamson County.

AVIATORS FELL 1,500 FEET BUT ESCAPED DEATH

HAVANA, Feb. 11.—Lieutenant Antonio Valdez and Sergeant San Emederic, of the Cuban aviation corps, fell about 1,500 feet when their airplane at Camp Columbia on Sunday afternoon and escaped death. Both men were injured, however, Valdez the more severely.

ROYALISTS IN FRANCE ADOPT NEW TACTICS

Hope to Force Conservatives to Accept a Coup d'Etat and Again Place a King on Throne.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Feb. 11.—The tactics of the Royalist party in parliament have been completely changed during the course of the past few weeks. The extreme right supported Premier Poincaré until the chamber reconvened after the holiday recess; now they are encouraging the Communists and Socialists in their attacks on the government. Leon Daudet, the most vociferous representative of the Royalist party, aided effectively by the Marquis de Baudry d'Asson, leads the Royalists in their chorus of the applause at every point the extreme left makes against the premier.

It is assumed in political quarters that the advocates of a monarchy have decided that the best way to disorganize the Republican regime now is to encourage the extremists in the hope that they will win in the forthcoming elections, plunge France into a deeper abyss than ever, and finally disgust the Conservative elements to such a point that they will be ready to accept a coup d'etat and again place a King on the throne.

COLLIDED WITH ANTENNA OF NAVAL WIRELESS STATION

Danish Aviator Killed While Carrying Out "Stunts" in Bombing Movement.

(Associated Press Despatch)

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 11.—The Danish aviator, J. P. Hansen, was killed Saturday when his airplane collided with the antenna of the naval wireless station on the river front here. The accident occurred while Hansen was carrying out "stunts" in a bombing movement. Thirty thousand spectators saw the accident, which occurred shortly after midnight. They were horrified when the airplane burst into flames after it had struck the lofty wires. It dropped to earth like a ball of fire. The body of the aviator was taken out of the burning wreckage, but was charred beyond recognition.

Hansen was forty years of age, and recently accomplished a flight over the Andes with a passenger.

PLANNING AN AIR SERVICE FROM LONDON TO INDIA

Plans Being Drawn up—Would Require Only One Hundred Hours for Trip.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Great Britain may soon start an airplane service direct to India, requiring only one hundred hours for the trip from London, said Major General Brackner, director of civil aviation of the British Air Ministry on Saturday.

POPULAR DANCES ARE BANNED IN LOCAL DIOCESE

Pastoral Letters Read in Local Churches Yesterday—Lascivious Dances Severely Condemned—Serious Sin of Disobedience—Illicit Liquor Traffic Subject to Bitter Denunciation.

Following closely upon condemnation of modern dances by Cardinal Begin, of Quebec, and Bishop Gauthier, of Montreal, His Lordship Bishop Paul Larocque had a pastoral letter read yesterday in all the churches of the diocese, approving of the measures adopted by the Quebec and Montreal prelates dealing with this particular issue. His Lordship also condemned the illicit manufacture of liquor, as well as the smuggling of same, and commented upon certain plays and pictures which dishonored the theatre, and finally denounced immodest fashions.

Pastoral Letter Read Yesterday.
The letter read in the different churches is as follows:
Our dear brethren:

"Our duty of watching over the souls of the faithful whom God has confided to our pastoral solicitude, finds us in sorrow and distress in observing the serious dangers, and evils of all sorts which actually threaten the supernatural life of these souls.

"As the weight of years falls on our shoulders, we feel the approach of the redoubtable day when we will have to render an account of our Mission with regard to each of the souls which we had to lead in the right road of salvation. It is with these supernatural thoughts, dear friends, that today we come, on behalf of the Eternal Master, to speak to you on very serious subjects.

"Alarmed at the audacity of numerous abuses which appear to be desirous of introducing themselves among you, we have already put you on guard against same, in appealing to your spirit of faith. We thank and congratulate the many families and important societies in our diocese who listened to our words and gave us proof of their Christian spirit in banishing completely, from their homes and halls, dances.

"But alas! the spirit of evil is not disarmed and today the evil is so great, so audacious, so pernicious for souls, so degrading for individuals, that, after mature reflection before God and our conscience, we found ourselves obliged to give you serious and solemn warnings and to make most energetic condemnations.

Theatres.
"Taking as our guide, the venerable Cardinal, Archbishop of Quebec, we repeat his words, which we make our own:

"We caution you against bad plays, which are invading more and more boldly the theatre and the screens. Alas! what might be such an effective means of healthy instruction, of honest and useful recreation, has become an instrument of moral and religious deformation in the hands of the enemies of our faith."

Oregon Forces Achieved An Overwhelming Victory Over Rebels After Eleven Hours Of Furious Fighting—Heavy Casualties

The Federal Army of Mexico Lost Three Hundred Killed or Wounded in Battle with Rebels on Banks of River Lorma, Near Ocotlan—Federals Succeeded in Crossing Lorma Near Its Mouth, Thus Gaining a Foothold for a Continuation of March Against Rebel Stronghold.

(Associated Press Despatch)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11.—Following closely upon their success on the Vera Cruz front, the government forces have achieved an overwhelming victory in the west, defeating the rebels on the banks of the River Lorma, near Ocotlan, after eleven hours of furious fighting, according to a message received here from President Obregon.

The Federals succeeded in crossing the Lorma near its mouth on the eastern side of Lake Chapala, thus gaining a foothold for a continuation of their march against Guadalajara, the rebel stronghold to the northwest.

Heavy casualties were suffered by both sides, the Federals losing three hundred in killed or wounded.

MANY WITHOUT MONEY AND FOOD

VERA CRUZ, Feb. 11.—Small groups of revolutionary forces are holding Vera Cruz, Cordoba and Orizaba. Federal troops are in control of Oriental, San Geronimo and Salina Cruz and are distributing arms and ammunition among the Agrarian revolutionists, who still combine with the Obregon troops to fight the De La Huerta revolutionists.

No fighting has been reported since February 6th. The unemployed of Vera Cruz have begun to feel the effects of the Mexican revolution. Many are without money and food. Some families are unable to buy milk and medicine for sick babies.

FEDERAL TROOPS TAKE OVER VERA CRUZ

(Associated Press Despatch)
VERA CRUZ, Feb. 11.—Mexican government troops arrived in Vera Cruz at 10.45 this morning, taking possession of the city following its recent evacuation by the rebels.

BROOKBURY

FORMER RESIDENT VICTIM OF PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Mrs. S. M. Saunders, a former resident of Brookbury, and who has many relatives and friends in this district, was the victim of a peculiar accident at her home in Brookbury, Mass. The following is an account of the accident as published in the Brookbury newspaper:

Mrs. Saunders was seated by the range in her kitchen reading the paper. Suddenly she felt a sharp pain in her right foot. Stopping down to unlace her shoe, Mrs. Saunders discovered that it was blazing brightly. She called to her daughter, Miss Cynthia Saunders, who was sitting near by.

Miss Saunders came to her assistance, but before she could remove the burning shoe Mrs. Saunders suffered painful burns. Investigation showed that the box toe in the shoe was wearing was made of very inflammable material. Analysis showed that the substance contained a large percentage of shellac, denatured alcohol and benzine. The heat from the stove caused the highly inflammable mixture in the cap to burst into flames.

Mrs. Saunders, who was recently made a great-grandmother by the birth of a ten-pound boy to her granddaughter, Mrs. Harry Cyr, of Lowell, is very active for her age. She was able to attend to her household duties today, although the burns gave her great pain.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

If Back Hurts or Bladder is Troubling You, Take a Little Salts

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which every one should take daily and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Feels Like Boy Again After Taking Tanlac

"Rugged health and a gain of sixteen pounds in weight is what Tanlac treatment brought me and, of course, I'm strong for it," recently declared C. H. Smith, 185 E. St., St. John, N. B.

"My stomach was so weak and upset that even the odor of food cooking would nauseate me. Indigestion caused terrible pains in my stomach and made my heart beat like a trip hammer, and I simply had to fight for breath. I was too nervous and miserable to sleep and so run-down

I could hardly do my work.

"In fact, before taking Tanlac I seemed to be getting old before my time, but now I am feeling as strong and well as I ever did in my life. I eat and sleep like a school boy, never have an ache or a pain and life and work are a pleasure. You can't beat Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

WINDSOR MILLS CHURCH HELD VESTRY MEETING

Reports of Various Organizations Were Read by Rector—Balance on Hand Is Reported by Wardens.

WINDSOR MILLS, QUE., Feb. 11.—On Monday evening, February 11th, the postponed meeting of the Vestry of St. George's Church was held with about the usual attendance. The incumbent was in the chair. The financial report presented by the People's Warden, Mr. N. A. Knapp, was of a very satisfactory character. Receipts for the year for parochial purposes were about the same as last year, but owing to a smaller expenditure on church buildings, a larger balance remains in hand. The budget apportionment had not been quite fully met by direct contributions, but by a resolution of the Vestry, the amount was made up from the general fund.

A resolution was passed to the effect that members of the congregation should be encouraged to use both sides of the duplicate envelopes, but that in the event of any deficiency occurring, it should be made up from the general fund.

Informal reports of the work of the various organizations were given by the Incumbent for the information of the Vestry, as well as some statistics and the concluding remarks of his annual report to the Diocesan Board.

The Ladies' Guild reported a substantial balance on hand. The senior branch of the W. A. reported a year of steady work, with expenditures amounting to $51.18. The work of the junior branch has been unfortunately interrupted by the illness of the superintendent, but there has been a growth of interest and hopes for the future are bright. The Sunday School reported a slight increase in numbers and vacancies in the teaching staff satisfactorily filled. The Sunday School finances show a decided improvement. The Young People's Guild has now a senior and also a junior branch and looks forward to increased usefulness.

The Incumbent thanked both the wardens personally for their efficient services and re-appointed Mr. Henry Gilbert as his warden for the coming year. Mr. N. A. Knapp was re-elected by the Vestry. Messrs. D. Stuart, N. Perkins, A. Monteith, Malcolm Gilbert and Charles Morley were elected sidemen. Mr. J. I. McCabe was re-elected auditor, and also elected substitute delegate to the Diocesan Synod.

The Incumbent reported the receipt of a cheque for $50 from Mr. H. G. Goodfellow, for the permanent improvement of the church of St. George's Church, conditional upon the raising of $450 for this purpose by the congregation during the next four years. The matter was held over for decision at the next annual meeting. The Wardens were authorized to carry out the repairing or renewal of the church steps at their own discretion, and also the painting of the exterior of the church.

Owing to the lateness of the hour the question of increased effort toward self-support and other matters of importance were not fully considered.

A cordial vote of thanks was extended to the wardens, organists, Sunday School teachers, choir, officers and members of the Guild, W. A. and all who have helped in the church work. The Incumbent also thanked the Vestry, as representing the congregation, for much kindness shown to himself and to his family.

—Case of Cruelty to Animals
Dealt With—Other General
Notes.

KNOWLTON, Que., Feb. 11.—The officers, President Chas. McClay, Vice-president S. C. Molson, Secretary-treasurer Geo. A. McClay, and the directors have every reason to feel highly gratified and justly proud of the success of the fourteenth annual poultry show this year, there being five hundred birds on exhibit and a record attendance of spectators. On Thursday evening short addresses were given by Mr. Crevier, secretary of the Province of Quebec Poultry Association. The judge, Mr. J. D. Lang, of the Experimental Farm, Lennoxville, and the Rev. A. E. Hagar, all of which were not only interesting, but inspiring to poultry raisers. Mr. Abel Raymond, district poultry promoter, put on moving pictures, which were made doubly attractive by being accompanied by Mizener's orchestra, which played throughout the evening. The silver cup given by Gunn, Langlois & Co. on best cock, hen, cockerel and pullet, was won by Forest Ingis on White Plymouth Rocks, who also won it last year.

Knowlton has every reason to be proud, as few towns of her size can boast of a show of this kind.

W.C.T.U. Met.
The W.C.T.U. met on February 5 at the home of Mrs. Paintin. After the usual devotional exercises minutes of last meeting were approved, and on the motion of Mrs. Luther England, seconded by Mrs. Millmore, it was agreed to accept Mrs. Roddy's offer to act as recording secretary pro tem. Thanks were received from Miss Lucia Knowlton and Mrs. Hillhouse for ing illness. Mr. Purdy was in his sixty-ninth year. He was a member of the Methodist Church, and like faithful in his duties as a citizen, whether in the council or otherwise. Mr. Purdy is survived by a son, Mr. Henry, of Sherbrooke, and two daughters, Miss Alice, of Guelph, Ont., and Mrs. Albert Collier. Much sympathy is extended. The funeral took place from Mr. Purdy's late residence on Friday morning to the Methodist Church, the sacred edifice being filled with friends and the funeral service being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Sisco, pastor of the Methodist Church.

St. John's Ladies' Guild met at the home of Mrs. R. S. Bell on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. M. L. Willard left last week for Sherbrooke, where she has entered the hospital to undergo an operation.

votes of sympathy sent by the union last month. Mrs. Foster suggested that the annual report be studied at meetings, as encouragement and inspiration may be had therefrom. Miss Martin reported having written to Mr. Caldwell concerning the child welfare contest at Brome, but had not yet received a reply.

The subject of temperance essays for schools was discussed and it was decided to ask Senator Foster, who gives the prizes, to allow boys, as well as girls, to compete. Mrs. Millmore, who has been visiting in the States, brought a report of a successful drive for new members undertaken by the W.C.T.U. in Lucas county, Ohio, which resulted in bringing the county membership to 1,500.

A romantic poem recitation by Mrs. Foster was much appreciated, after which refreshments were served by the hostess and concluded a pleasant and profitable time.

Cruelty to Animals.
S.P.C.A. Inspectors Wilkinson, of Montreal, and Beals, of Knowlton, were called to Warden on Tuesday, February 5th, to inspect a case of cruelty to animals, with the result that they found a horse and cow both in such a condition that they were trussed up. The officers disposed of both animals and dealt out a warning to the offender which should be productive of better results and an example to others.

General Notes.

TALK ON ROMIE
WAS GIVEN AT
COWANSVILLEEmmanuel Girls' Club Heard
Very Interesting Address—
Ladies' Aid Elect Officers—
General Notes.

COWANSVILLE, Que., Feb. 11.—Emmanuel Girls' Club were most hospitably entertained by Mrs. C. Gleason on Wednesday, February 6. After all arrangements had been made and committees appointed to look after the details in connection with the organ recital and tea which will take place in the Congregational Church on Wednesday afternoon, February 20, a most interesting talk on Rome was given by Mrs. Frank Winsor.

Mrs. Winsor and her mother, Mrs. C. L. Cotton, spent five months in Rome and thoroughly enjoyed visiting this interesting place, around which centres the history of the race for twenty centuries. Its modes of government, politics, art, jurisprudence, military science and church history have travelled until they have reached the confines of the globe. Rome was the one administrative centre of the world. The speaker gave most vivid descriptions of a few of the many interesting places she visited, among which the Colosseum, which has been described as the "King of Ruins," and stands at the union of the Sacred and Triumphant Ways. Before it stands the Meta Sudas, the fountain where it is supposed the gladiators used to bathe after the combat. The Colosseum has eighty flights leading to the interior, providing abundant means of entrance and exit for the thirty-seven thousand people who often gathered here. The outer corridors are made of massive blocks of stone bound together by iron clamps, as if to last while time endured. This building was for nearly four hundred years the scene of not only of gladiatorial combats, but frequently of Christian martyrdom. It was through the influence of Christianity that these combats came to an end. Much of the building material has been used to build palaces.

Another interesting place visited was the noble church erected to the memory of the great apostle and called "St. Paul's Without the Walls." The nave is four hundred feet in length, surrounded by a roof of gold and paved with blocks of variegated marble. The reverence felt by Christians for this church is to the fact that under the high altar is a sarcophagus which, according to tradition, contains the body of St. Paul. The arch above the altar is part of the original church erected in 400 A.D.

The baths of Caracalla, these magnificent establishments of ancient Rome, which her emperors founded to contribute to the cleanliness, pleasures and luxuries, of the people, were interestingly described. It has been calculated that 62,000 people could have bathed at any hour in the public baths at Rome. It was customary for wealthy Romans to bathe at least twice a day, the bath being followed by sprinkling with perfumed water, anointing with fine oil, and massage.

While in Rome, Mrs. Cotton and Mrs. Winsor had the honor of being presented to the Pope and being shown through the famous St. Peter's Cathedral. The grandeur of its corridors, each with four rows of columns, forty-eight feet high, the golden arch of sunken coffers dazzling with inlaid gold, the magnificent canopy of gilded bronze, the high altar, where none but the Pope ever officiates, and on which eighty-nine golden lamps are burning, the light of which is never suffered to expire, are a few of the precious things which these walls enclose.

This altar guards the entrance to the tomb of the Galilean fisherman whose name the temple bears, there glittered in mosaic letters, six feet long, the words "Thou Art Peter, and on this rock I will build My Church." The view from the balcony within the dome, a distance of four hundred and fifty feet, filled the spectators with admiration of the genius which could raise a dome like this toward heaven.

No city in the world was ever more abundantly supplied with water than the City of the Caesars, and one of the most copious springs is now known as the Fountain of Trevi. Marcus Agrippa brought its silvery current to the city 40 B.C., through one of the gigantic aqueducts that formed pathways for the mountain streams which flowed toward Rome. The amount of water supplied, per capita, exceeds that of any other city in the world.

The site of the Golden Milestone, erected by Augustus, from which distances were reckoned to every province of the empire was most graphically described. Magnificent roads in all directions were built, which were as useful as railroads are to us. Even today the principal road through England pursue the same courses that they did sixteen hundred years ago, and the very stones which form their beds and give them stability were laid by Roman hands.

One of the most interesting ruins which Mrs. Winsor visited was that of the Forum—the platform of that Roman eloquence which even now, when merely followed silently in printed characters, delights the world. The graph is description which the speaker gave of the magnificent pageants which passed along the Via Triumphalis by the victorious generals was most realistic, and one could easily visualize the procession, first the senators followed by the booty of the conquered nations, conveyed on the shoulders of the slaves and prisoners, then the weapons, horses, elephants, following came the most illustrious of the captives, kings, queens or warriors. Sometimes the booty was so large that

UNCLE JIM'S LETTER

Dear Corner Family:
There were a nice bundle of letters in the corner mail box this morning, and we are pleased to welcome the cousins who are writing again. Ruth asks if I like work. Of course I do, Ruth, and so do you, for you have a good record for school attendance and that is work especially when you have to walk two miles to school. Perhaps Ruth means housework, which little girls do not like very well sometimes, but every girl should learn to be a good housekeeper, because it is a womanly art. I hope Ruth will think of her work as part of the day's duties, do it quickly and well, then have time to play. Every school girl and boy should be given time for recreation to brighten her wits.

Melva says she is fond of birds and animals, and as I know many other cousins are also, I am going to have some bright animal and bird stories in the corner. They help us to get acquainted with our feathered friends, and the harmless animals, and thus make us kinder to them.

I hope you liked the way the story about Wandy and Tiki-tiki ended. They did not want anything to happen to their bush friends and were fortunate in winning out against the men, who must have been quite out of patience with them.

Well, I hope every one will have a busy, happy week, and enjoy the corner letters and stories. Until tomorrow, best wishes from

LETTERS FROM THE COR-NER FOLK.

Dear Uncle Jim:
I haven't written to you for a long time. I like to write to you and I like the corner stories. I got lots of presents at Christmas. I was nine years old on December 22, and now I have to work more. Do you like working? I don't. I go to school and have two miles to walk. I only missed one day all this term.

Your niece,
RUTH JOHNSTON.

Dear Uncle Jim:
This is my second letter to your corner. I am nine years old and am in the fourth grade. I went to Sunday school last year and did not miss one Sunday. I enjoy reading the stories and am fond of birds and animals. I missed only a half day of school so far this year. I will close, wishing the corner success.

Your loving niece,

Dear Uncle Jim:
This is my second letter to your corner. I have not written to you for a long time. I go to school and am in grade two. I like to slide two days was necessary for its exhibition. Next came the conqueror dressed in a purple tunic, embroidered with gold, holding a branch of laurel in one hand, and in the other an ivory sceptre, while a slave holding a golden wreath above his head, was bidden to whisper ever and anon the words, "Remember, thou, too, art a man." Behind them appeared the representatives of the Roman legions, whose valor and fidelity had won the victory.

Mrs. Winsor's kindness in giving this talk was much appreciated by the club, and the fact that she had visited all the places mentioned made it doubly interesting. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughters, Charlotte and Helen.

Ladies' Aid Met.
The Congregational Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Gleason on Thursday afternoon, February 7th. Devotional exercises were conducted by the pastor. Minutes of last meeting were read by Mrs. Brown in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Cotton. A couple of bills in connection with the oyster supper were ordered paid. It was reported that $50 had been handed the church treasurer for general fund. The work committee distributed aprons cut, ready to be made. The superintendent of foreign mission supplies also distributed dresses and jackets to be included in the spring shipment to Chisamba W.C.A.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. George Beach; first vice-president, Mrs. Hingston; second vice-president, Mrs. J. C. Dean; secretary, Miss M. J. Cotton, re-elected; Mrs. W. H. Fuller, treasurer, re-elected.

It was moved by Mrs. Brown, seconded by Mrs. C. L. Cotton that a hearty vote of thanks be tendered Mrs. Hingston for her faithful and untiring efforts on behalf of the society during the past year, making it one of the most successful in its history. This was carried unanimously.

The talent money which is for the organ fund amounted to $44.75, leaving a balance of only $15 to complete the quota of the society for this purpose. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

General Notes.

How the Children Saved the Bears.
Meanwhile Wandy and Tiki-tiki, followed by the doo-doo, marched right on for home, and when they reached the slip rails of the home paddock it was dusk.

Indoors Daddy and Alan were waiting for the scientists, anxious to see the day's bag, but mother was eager to have Wandy and Tiki-tiki safe home again. Of course everyone understood that the men had stayed behind to make the most of the last hours of daylight, which is the best time for hunting, for at dusk all the shy creatures venture forth.

Ten o'clock struck, and though there was a bright moon, no scientific friends appeared, and the doo-doo was whining dimly. So a search party had to go out—Daddy, Alan, the gardener and even an old tramp who was camping at the homestead for the night. Strange to say, the doo-doo was quite willing to leave Tiki-tiki now and bounded away with Alan. He was not long in following the trail and finding his masters, who were really quite angry, though as visitors in a strange house they had to pretend that it was a huge joke. They cheered up a bit when they sat down to the nice, hot supper mother had prepared and the doo-doo was being fed by the children who had been allowed to stay up late to see if the wanderers returned safely.

After supper, sitting around the big, cozy fire, people began to ask questions.

"Queer you had such poor sport today," said Daddy. "The children have never failed to run across some native bears. Very queer."

"Yes," said the scientist, "but more remarkable still my dog deserted me for your little boy. He has never done that before."

Then the other scientist began to wonder why the children had not waited for them. "Why didn't you keep up to us? It was not the time to sleep then, for if the bears had already seen or heard us they would have time to hide away. They only sleep when they have nothing else to do, or when it is cold," Wandy said, looking at them gravely.

Of course the scientists should have known this, so the men asked no more questions. They had had enough of the bush, no sport, too little scientific research, and too much of the Wandy and Tiki-tiki. They wrote in their note books that there were few animals in that part of Australia.

So this was how two little Australians saved the baby bears, and they mean to do the same every time people go out to harm their little brothers and sisters of the bush.

The end.

Mothers!

Give the children a piece of WRIGLEY'S after every meal. It satisfies the craving for sweets and the chewing of the gum will help digestion and act as a pleasant, antiseptic cleanser of mouth and throat. You would "give almost anything" if the children would keep their teeth clean. Why not reward them with

after every meal

and have the very reward itself do the work! Try it for a month and observe results. Three cents per day per child will pay the bill and make them happy!

Several applications have already been received by the officer commanding the 35th Battery, C.F.A., for entrance to the provisional school for qualification as officers and N.C.O.'s in the C.F.A. Several recruits have been sworn in and preparations for the spring training are well under way.

An officer of the battery will be at the Belvidere street armory this evening, as well as on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, to receive applications from those desiring to join the provisional school and to swear in recruits to the battery.

INCREASED OCEAN TRAFFIC

Mr. Laurent Turcotte, director of the passenger department of the new French service, inaugurated by the Red Star and White Star Dominion Lines, visited Sherbrooke for a couple of days prior to going to Richmond. Spoken to relative to business prospects, Mr. Turcotte observed that there was a considerable increase in ocean traffic, occasioned largely by the Olympic games and the British Industrial Exhibition. Touching upon amelioration of service, Mr. Turcotte stated that the Megantic was being made into a one class steamer while the Red Star was considering a direct line from Montreal, Quebec, Cherbourg to Antwerp.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING TOMORROW.

The annual meeting of the Sherbrooke Board of Trade will take place tomorrow at the City Hall at eight o'clock. President J. O. Darche will preside.

The acting secretary will present a general report of the activities of the Board for the past year, also the financial statement.

The nominating committee will present its report for the new officers for 1924 as follows:

Vice-Presidents—Mr. E. A. Bernard, merchant; Mr. A. M. Sangster, works manager Canadian Ingersoll Rand Co.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. J. K. Edwards, real estate agent.

Following the election of officers a general discussion will take place on the proposed programme for 1924.

CANADIAN SINGER HAS LARGE AUDIENCE

In a letter from a friend in Ottawa to a Sherbrooke resident, reference is made to the splendid reception accorded Eva Gauthier, the noted Canadian singer, on the occasion of her recent concert in that city. The writer states, "The Russell Theatre was literally crowded, even to the stage behind the piano, where late purchasers of tickets were accommodated. She was much applauded and showered with bouquets."

Mme. Gauthier was given a civic reception and also a reception by the Ottawa Women's Club during her stay in the city. Her concert tour is proving very successful, and it is understood that she leaves shortly for Europe.

Mme. Gauthier has sung in Sherbrooke, and her work here was closely connected with Mrs. L. E. Codere, whose musical settings to poems are included in Mme. Gauthier's repertoire.

GATHERINGS AT METHODIST CHURCH ADDRESSED BY MR. W. H. GOODWIN, MONTREAL

Delivered Stirring Address on Missionary Work—Has Had Wide Experience.

Mr. W. H. Goodwin, of Goodwin's, Ltd., Montreal, a missionary lay-enthusiast, brought stirring messages an drousing appeals to the Methodist congregation of this city on Saturday evening last and yesterday morning. It was the occasion of their missionary anniversary. Mr. Goodwin is a striking personality, which, with his fluency and forcefulness of speech, makes his message impressive. Having travelled widely in the foreign mission field and in Canada visiting the missionaries in their own homes he has first hand knowledge. Having recently attended two or three world mission conferences in the U.S.A. and Canada, he is able to speak authoritatively on the most up-to-date, last-minute methods and policies of the great world leaders.

Saturday night in Wesley Hall a group of about one hundred workers and interested people gathered to hear Mr. Goodwin discuss the "House Base." Mr. C. B. Howard acted as chairman. A musical programme, given by Miss V. Loomis, soloist, Mr. L. Steele, violinist, Mr. G. Parker, pianist, and Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Parker, Mr. G. J. Armistead, Mr. R. Havard as a quartette. Rev. B. B. Brown led the devotional exercises.

Mr. Goodwin dealt at length with the international situation and read from a pamphlet written in the name of the League of Nations, which claimed that the salvation of the present civilization depended on the exchange of international thought, and that the three great factors in the world today were Science, Finance and the Press. In this religion and Christ were ignored. Mr. Goodwin contended that spiritual regeneration was the pressing need of the world. He quoted several authorities among whom was the American Bankers' Association, which passed the following resolution at its convention at Atlantic City last September: "In the midst of the many puzzling economic problems which the world faces today, largely resulting from the political differences and ambitions of rival nations, the conclusion is inevitably forced upon the impartial observer that the primary need of the world is moral and spiritual regeneration as an essential basis for economic recovery. Until the nations of the world are willing to liquidate their debts, then can make slight progress towards liquidating their debts."

"To the ends of a better understanding, not only of the purposes of business, but of life, that a better order may be established among men, the bankers of America dedicate themselves in united effort to attain and maintain those ideals of civilization upon which human civilization can soundly rest."

This spiritual regeneration could only come when a new life in Christ came to the citizens of the world and when those who were believers in Christ should get together and be one in Christ as he prayed in John 17. The speaker made a strong point on behalf of Church Union. He scored the statement of Lord Birkenhead that "idealism is a sloppy folly and a dangerous nuisance as being the same sentiment that cried 'Crucify Him!'"

A vote of thanks to the speaker was proposed by Mr. H. G. Hatcher and Mr. J. W. McKee.

On Sunday morning a large congregation met to hear Mr. Goodwin on "The Mission Passion and Power of the Church." It was a masterly missionary presentation. The mission of the church was to tell the story of Jesus to the nations. Her passion was loyalty and devotion to His Person. Her power was the endowment of the Holy Spirit.

At the Sunday School Mr. Goodwin held the children and young people spell-bound as he told the story of the training of the second biggest man in the history of the world. It was the story of Moses. He dramatically portrayed the scenes that marked the birth and rise of the law-giver.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MRS. E. W. MORRILL.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Eugene W. Morrill, who passed away at the residence of her son, Mr. V. E. Morrill, 25 Prospect street, on Saturday, February 9, at the age of 83 years, was held this morning.

The service was conducted at the late residence by the Rev. Dr. G. Ellery Read, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church. The choir of Plymouth Church sang several hymns.

Following the service the cortege proceeded to the Union Station, thence going to Stanstead, where interment took place at the Crystal Lake cemetery upon arrival.

The pall bearers were Messrs. James MacKinnon, Col. E. B. Worthington, C.M.G., Col. J. J. Penhale, D.S.O., E. J. Page, Dr. W. S. Allen, E. G. Pierce and Colin McKenchie. The late Mrs. Morrill, who was Miss Harriet Pomroy Benton before her marriage, is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. E. Channell; two sons, Col. B. B. Morrill and Mr. V. E. Morrill, and one daughter, Mrs. Wheeler, of Edgerton, Alberta.

LENNOXVILLE

Masquerade in Minto Rink. Skating in the Minto Rink is a favorite pastime of the young people of Lennoxville and received a fresh impetus on Friday evening in a costume masquerade followed by a moccasin dance. Special music was provided by the town band and the ice being in fine shape the evening was much enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Watson were judges, several fine prizes being awarded. Following is the list of skaters in costume:

Edwin Beaulieu, clown; Ross Spry, city man; Girl from Flanders, S. Dutchburn; Mexican girl, Irene McCurdy; Margaret Morer, clapper; Rida Hawes, dupe; George Lake, woman; Sydney Lake, clown; Chester Squire, nigger; Maude Parker, Miss Britannia; Alice Dundin, Jack Frost; Marjorie Benton, Halloween; Carmen Hunting, Christmas; Carl Beaulieu, girl; Helen Hilliard, farmer; Carol Hillard, ghost; Thelma Crawford, Napoleon; Helen Harris, Red Riding Hood; Dorothy Bennett, soldier; Alex Ames, sailor; Frances Titcomb, clown of cards; Wayne Hall, woman; Herbert Edwards, woman; Leslie Dewhurst, rag-bag; C. Taylor, tramp; R. Green, Arab; D. Christie, soldier; H. Trenholm, pack cards; Jessie Dewhurst; Chinaman; Marion Burt, Old Dutch Cleanser.

The following were the prize winners: Best costume, ladies, 1. Miss M. Parker, "Britannia"; 2. Miss Pearson, "Gypsy"; 3. Miss Dayborn, "E.T.A.A." Girls eighteen and under: 1. Thelma Crawford, Napoleon; 2. Marion Burt, Old Dutch Cleanser; 3. Rod Green, Arab. Small girls, Dorothy Downing, witch. Small boys, Alex Ames, sailor. Special prize, best lady skater on ice, Miss Helen Barter.

Mr. W. H. Goodwin Speaks on Missions.

It is a matter of encouragement for this busy age to know that there are men of prominent standing in the business world who find time to study the great missionary problems and to bring their importance and appeal to audiences in the inspiring manner of Mr. W. H. Goodwin, of the Firm of Goodwin's, Ltd., Montreal. Mr. Goodwin spoke to a large congregation in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening, giving aspects of missionary work very seldom treated. Speaking of the modern layman as an essential basis for economic recovery, he said that the nations of the world are willing to liquidate their debts, then can make slight progress towards liquidating their debts.

That business men are realizing the situation was shown in the action of the South Dakota Government, which recently legislated to attempt through the homes, schools, Sunday Schools and every possible means to restore the balance between the spiritual and the material, and to give the teaching of the principles of righteousness first place in every institution in the state.

Going farther afield, the speaker stated that China does not want churches to teach science, social service or laws, but to teach about God. "Be careful of the type of man you send," the church was warned; only earnest men, devoted to their work should be sent to a nation hungry for spiritual help.

Mr. Goodwin had in his possession a pamphlet published by the League of Nations in which "science, finance and the press" were given as the cures for the ills of the world. No mention of religion, or of Jesus Christ as the salvation of the world is found in the pamphlet, in which "the exchange of international thought" is given as the sovereign remedy for race, and in which "sport" is held higher than the church.

Mr. Goodwin did not hold the church entirely blameless for the condition of thought on religion of today. Two hundred clubs, he stated, existed in Montreal in which religion and the name of Christ were tabooed. Yet nearly all the membership were men from the churches, proving that all of the religious enterprises of the day are not the name of Christ.

Mr. Goodwin advocated loyalty to church and what it stands for as the only means of averting disaster. Great movements as Child Welfare, Social Service of all kinds were the fruits of the past, receiving their impetus from its achievements. A generation hence would see these movements ended falling like dried leaves from a tree, unless loyalty to the church was maintained now. "Let us back up the missionaries," said Mr. Goodwin. Many stories of the heroism displayed during the earthquake of 1906 during the interest of the congregation throughout the address.

The choir rendered the anthem "At Even, Ere the Sun was Set," and led in the missionary hymns used during the service.

(Associated Press Despatch)

ROME, Feb. 11.—Pope Pius yesterday received Rinaldo Jacchini, dean of the pontifical court, who is 79 years old and has been sixty years in service at the Vatican.

Jacchini began his service at the age of 19 as an outrider for Pope Pius IX, and rose to the position of postilion, which position he still holds.

On September 10, 1870, on the eve of the fall of the temporal power, Jacchini drove Pope IX. for the last time through the streets of Rome. From that day no pope has left the Vatican, but Jacchini since has continued to drive the successive pontiffs through the Vatican gardens.

Inspected Cemeteries at Gallipoli—Placed Wreaths on Graves of Soldiers.

(Associated Press Despatch)

DARDANELLES, Feb. 11.—(via Reuters.)—Premier Stanley M. Bruce of Australia embarked on the warship Calypso for Port Said this morning, continuing his way home from attendance at the Imperial Conference in London. Before leaving he inspected the cemeteries at Gallipoli, where so many "Anzacs" are buried. He paid tribute to the heroic dead of Australia and New Zealand at Gallipoli by laying wreaths in the cemeteries.

The visit of Premier Bruce was calculated to have a good effect on the mind of the natives with regard to British memorials, but the natives had very hazy ideas as to whom the distinguished visitor was. One Turkish gendarme in fact asked the correspondent of Reuters when "the king of Australia" was going to embark.

Riot Took Place at Tangerang, Near Weltredon—One Dutch Police Officer Killed.

(Associated Press Despatch)

BATAVIA, Java, Feb. 11.—One Dutch police officer and twenty-seven native religious fanatics were killed, and many wounded, in the course of a riot Sunday at Tangerang, near Weltredon.

The trouble began when forty-one fanatics, armed with swords and knives, declared they wished to proclaim a new kingdom of Mount Gedeh. Native police under the direction of Dutch police officials attempted to disarm the fanatics, and severe fighting occurred before the police gained the upper hand.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

PATHETIC LAST VISIT OF T.P. TO "DIVINE SARAH"

Great Actress Never Forgot, Though She Forgave, Irish Journalist's Disloyalty to Her Sovereign Person

It was some years after T. P. O'Connor in his young days saw Sarah Bernhardt that he met her personally for the first time. "This meeting had an unfortunate sequel," he writes in T.P.'s and Cassell's Weekly.

"I had asked her to come and have tea on the terrace of the House of Commons, and fixed half-past four as the hour. But on the morning of the day another lady, who was an American, begged me to give herself and her little daughter an opportunity of seeing the Henley regatta.

Sarah Bernhardt

"The final upshot was that when I reached the House of Commons a few minutes after the appointed hour—I had calculated that she would be as usual late by about forty minutes—I found the diva had arrived exactly on time, and that not finding me there to receive her had gone off in high dudgeon, refusing every attempt of my good-natured colleagues to entertain her. For a long time she never met me without recalling to me this act of disloyalty to her sovereign person. But we became reconciled.

"The last time that I saw her had a very pathetic interest. It was during the great war and we were both in New York. It was after she had undergone the terrible operation which had deprived her of one of her legs. She had gone through a terrible play throughout which she sat on a sofa, and when she stood up now and then, she had to keep herself erect by holding on to the sofa. It was dreadful.

"M. Franklin Bouillon, the French deputy, was with me at the theatre. We went into her dressing-room to see her after the performance. I felt so moved that I kissed both her hands in sympathy, and with difficulty could I restrain my feelings at seeing all that glory ending in all this misery."

Any Rich Canadian Girl For An Austrian Prince?

Duchess of Bourbon and Parma Has Poor Nephew Who'd Let Himself Go for Cash

"HELLO, hello, is this the royal palace?" "Yes," replied a low, agreeable voice; "whom do you wish to speak to?" "I wish to get a message through to the King. If you can do so, I will pay you well for it." "That won't be necessary," says the voice; "this time a voice with a smile. 'This is the King speaking.'"

The story is told of King Alfonso of Spain by Frederick L. Collins in "This King Business: Intimate Accounts of Royalty as a Going Concern."

King Alfonso is still the appealing little boy in fawn velvet, says Mr. Collins, who once upset many a court ceremony by laughing at the Chinese minister and the dirty envoy from Santo Domingo.

Many a loyal Spaniard remembers that embarrassing moment in the church of the Antiochia, when a shrill, small voice from the royal balcony called out to the bishop, who was holding forth in the pulpit, that he, the bishop, should stop talking and be quiet because it was wrong to make a noise in church.

Mr. Collins, who has covered all Europe as a journalist since the end of the war, records a delightful tragedy-comedy:

An American journalist, residing temporarily in Vienna, was roused from his pillow at seven o'clock one cold winter morning by a ring on his telephone. . . . A woman's voice answered him.

"Is this Mr. —?"

"Yes."

"Well, this is the Duchess of Bourbon and Parma." The journalist's repudiation visibly increased, for they had a nasty little war in Austria-Hungary of apprehending undesirable citizens and dropping them unceremoniously in the Danube. "You don't know me, but you do know my nephew, Francis Joseph of Braganza. . . . Well, Francis is a sort of poor relation of mine, and I was wondering if you knew any rich American girl who might be willing to marry him. I got to thinking about it in the night, and I couldn't wait to ask you."

To Queen Marie of Rumania the author ascribes "personality and pep."

Marie is one of the best women chauffeurs in Europe. Seated at the wheel of her own sport car, she winds in and out through the narrow, crowded streets of her capital city. With her head held high, she is all that a modern Queen should be.

At the corners—and there are many of them—she signals according to the accepted rules of the road, extending her graceful arm as if she were under the eye of a Fifth Avenue traffic policeman. And though the populace steps a little more lively than usual to give her the right of way, she always drives—in the city at least—"like a lady."

MR. EDOUARD BELIM promises the world that he will shortly produce a telephone which will present an image of the person speaking. It is a terrifying prospect for exchange operators when dealing with short-tempered subscribers who have been stung by a swarm of wrong numbers.—Punch.

At his departure the girls of the chorus all came down to the ship and waited in line to kiss him. His life was insured for $12,000, and, while in New York, he stays at the Ritz Carlton hotel in state.

Atlanta Cannot Forget the Horror of Famous Prima Donna's Shoulder-Revealing Performance

MISS GERALDINE FARRAR has been banned in Georgia because she has a beautiful back and likes to show it. In fear that she will repeat her shoulder-revealing performance of three years ago, the Wesleyans of Atlanta, Georgia, have refused to let her appear to help their charities.

In New York the sensation of Geraldine's exhibition—she stripped to the waist in Leonora Cavallo's "Zaza"—is a thing of dim memory. But Atlanta cannot forget the horror, and fears a repetition.

Miss Farrar was to appear at the Wesley Memorial church in a charity concert. The advance sale of seats was enormous. Suddenly the elders of the church, remembering the bare back in New York, raised a forbidding hand. There should be no concert if Miss Farrar appeared.

Miss Farrar's manager departed for Atlanta immediately, breathing threats of litigation on the ground that the church could not break its contract. The church, however, forestalled him by transferring the pastor to a smaller parish, thereby voiding the contract.

Although the church won the round, the stage expects to have something more to say in the matter. Miss Farrar herself is saying nothing. She might have urged that although she did undress to her waist to give color to her portrayal of a Paris music hall actress in her dressing room, she kept her back turned to the audience. She might also have pointed out that the ordinary backless gown reveals its wearer just as frankly.

Two Leaders of Democracy

A TOP hat makes all the difference in the world. But Ramsay MacDonald, the new British premier, to whom the Prince of Wales is chatting, always was meticulously dressed.

Clemenceau, at 82, Rises at 2.30 a.m. Works Till Daybreak On New Book

Lungs, Heart, and Digestive Apparatus as Fit as at Fifty—Doctor Examines Him Once a Month—"Tiger" Walks Five or Six Miles After Breakfast

AT 82 Georges Clemenceau, Grand Old Man of European politics, rises at 2.30 a.m., after having gone to bed at 8.30 p.m.

In between times he works. His labors are at present concentrated on a work of philosophy and not on his memoirs, as reported.

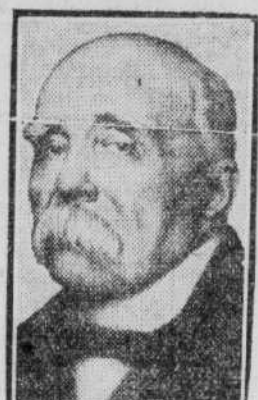

The former premier's day at Saint Vincent-sur-Jard, in Vendee, where he spends nine months out of every year, is given as follows:

2.30 a.m.—Rises. 2.45 a.m.—Starts work at his desk in bedroom, lighted by an oil lamp.

6.30 a.m.—Breakfast. Large plate of soup made from vegetables, two kinds of fish, two slices of meat and a large cup of cafe-au-lait.

7 to 11 a.m.—Walk in the country, generally five or six miles. Talks with peasantry, who call him "Le bon pere" (the good father).

11 a.m. to 12.30 p.m.—Reads over work done that morning.

Georges Clemenceau

12.30 p.m.—Luncheon. Soup, fish, meat and fruit.

1.30 to 3.30 p.m.—Siesta, guarded by Albert, his manservant, who has served him for twenty-eight years.

3.30 to 6.30 p.m.—Work.

6.30 p.m.—Dinner. Soup and fruit. No fish or meat.

7.15 to 8.30 p.m.—Reads Paris newspapers, talks with occasional friends.

8.30 p.m.—Bed.

Clemenceau drinks either water or milk with his meals. He sleeps with the window wide open. His bath is neither hot nor cold—just lukewarm.

According to his friends the "Tiger" is in better physical shape now than at any period since he was wounded by a fanatic during the peace conference.

His doctor examines him once a month, and on the last examination reported that "Monsieur Clemenceau's heart, lungs and digestive apparatus are as fit as if he were fifty years younger. In fact, he is in better health than he was ten years ago."

To a daring friend who demanded whether he was not thinking of an operation for gland transfer "rejuvenation," the "Tiger" replied, caustically:

"You need it more than I, my friend."

The friend was 40 years of age.

Weird Look Came Over Actor's Face When Zangwill Walked on Stage

Author With Only a Few Minutes to Catch Train Had to Conduct Business Before He Left—Presented Himself With a Telegram—Audience Roared to See Him Driven Off With Mock Kicks—Indignant Letters Demanded Why the Best Part of the Show Was Omitted Next Night.

ISRAEL ZANGWILL, the noted Jewish playwright who has recanted his former Zionism and now defines a Zionist as "a man who pays another man to live in Palestine," proved himself during his recent visit to Toronto an extraordinarily witty and prolific raconteur. At a literary gathering, for a solid hour, anecdote after anecdote poured from his lips as water flows from a tap.

One of his best stories was about Beerbohm Tree. This famous Shakespearean actor was accustomed to revise Shakespeare as freely as though he himself had written the plays. But when he attempted to apply the same cavalier treatment to Zangwill he caught a Tartar.

"It was at the first rehearsal of one of my plays," said Zangwill. "Tree stood on the stage with my manuscript clutched tightly in his hand as if it were a personal possession. After a minute or two his life-long mania for revision took hold of him, and he wanted to make a correction. I listened to what he had to say, and point-blank refused.

"Soon I had another suggestion for a change. Again I refused. This went on several times, and his company began to titter. This infuriated him, for he was accustomed to receive well nigh royal honors from them. They were almost servile to him and laughed at his every joke, and at times he was really witty.

"Finally he could no longer stand being forced to bow to the will of a living author, and burst out, 'Thank God! Shakespeare at any rate is dead.'"

Zangwill also spoke of Bernard Shaw. He was present at the first night of his first play when Shaw in his curtain speech uttered his famous jest in reply to a galleryite, who hissed. "I agree with you, my friend, but you and I are in a hopeless minority."

"I think," said Zangwill, "that Shaw will be remembered in history as the Doctor Johnson of this century. He has the same truculence and fondness for his own opinion. He is really frightfully conceited. He never will accept any suggestion of the least alteration in his plays."

"Once Henry Arthur Jones, a dramatist of great stage experience, whose opinion should have carried some weight even with Shaw, told him that he felt the third act in one of his plays a little draggy."

"That might very well be the case with an act in one of your plays," replied Shaw insolently, "but never with an act in one of mine."

In short, Shaw was just like a fellow Irishman, Oscar Wilde, who answered a requisition for a slight amendment in one of his plays by saying, "Who am I that I should meddle with a masterpiece?"

Only once had Zangwill ever heard of Shaw's blushing. That was when he read James Joyce's Ulysses, a work with passages of verbal rawness unknown in English literature since the 15th century translation of Rabelais. Dean Swift, who wrote Gulliver's Travels, also calls a spade a spade. "Isn't Joyce a little like Swift?" said

MRS. ASQUITH'S BED QUILTS

MRS. ASQUITH, whose son, Master Anthony Asquith, came of age this month, entertains every week end at The Wharf, Sutton Courtney, her country home, which her butler once informed her in confidence looked like an institution.

Mrs. Asquith, always original, has discovered an artistic way of covering the beds in her home. Richly embroidered Spanish shawls, with long fringes, are used instead of bed quilts. A smaller house in the grounds called The Mill is reserved for the children who come to stay, and it is here that Mr. Anthony Asquith studies music.

Mrs. Starr Sent Bowell Enormous Hornet's Nest

Housekeeper Thought It Was an Infernal Machine—Bowell Hung It Over His Desk

IT was in January, 1896, that the staggering blow of the resignation of seven members of his cabinet on the eve of the general election crushed Sir Mackenzie Bowell's government and led to the defeat of the Conservative party in Canada. The seven whom the premier referred to when he said that he had been living in a nest of traitors were: Hon. Messrs. Foster, Haggard, Ives, Montague, Dickey, Wood and Sir Charles Tupper. The whole incident has been revived by the reminiscences of J. L. Payne, who was not only secretary to the premier but to many other Canadian politicians.

An interesting confession is now made by Mrs. Starr, the widow of the late Rev. John R. Starr, founder of the juvenile court of Toronto, of how she sent a hornet's nest to the premier. "With reference to a very interesting article by J. L. Payne in connection with the late Sir Mackenzie Bowell, when the cabinet turned traitor, allow me to add a personal reminiscence," she writes to the Nelson Daily News.

"At that time we were living in Kingston, and some friend had sent me a huge wasp's or hornet's nest, which resembled an extinct volcano crater, and so large that it would fill a woman's hat box, and that meant size in those days.

"One night we had some friends dining with us. Among them was Principal Grant of Queen's College, who proposed we should send the nest on to Hon. Sir Mackenzie Bowell with the writer's card sticking out of the crater, with something like this: 'To the king of the hornets, or something of that kind.'"

"Sir Mackenzie wrote in return that he and Sir Wilfrid Laurier were having luncheon in the former's home (evidently burying political differences when in private), when the box was carried in. His housekeeper said, 'It looks like an infernal machine, sir; be careful.'"

"He dug out the card, and said: 'It is some joke. I know the sender.' He wrote that it was great to hear Sir Wilfrid's laugh over it. In confidence he wrote some things, and added: 'The hornets are only hibernating. They will come in the spring, and sting me to death.'"

"He gave the nest a place of honor by hanging it over his desk in the parliament buildings at Ottawa.

"A few years later some friends and myself were taking breakfast one Sunday at the old Driad hotel, Victoria, when I saw my old friend again, but he hadn't seen me. I said to one of the party, 'The first thing he will say will be, 'Come along to church.'"

"One of them bet a silver hat pin that he wouldn't. When he saw me he jumped up and spilled his coffee all over the table cloth and said, 'See what you made me do.' Then in the same breath said, 'Come along with me to church,' which we did, and next day I was the possessor of a very bold, big hat pin."—George Starr.

CORRECTED

THE following story is credited to the one and only George Bernard Shaw. It concerns an acquaintance who was a schoolmaster and who at the time was taking a class of very small boys in English grammar.

On the board he had written the sentence, "The toast was drank in silence," asking the class to correct any mistake they could find in it. For some moments there was no response, but finally a youngster held up his hand and at a nod from the master stalked gravely up to the blackboard to make his correction.

When he had finished the sentence read, "The toast was ate in silence."

ACCORDING to a personal paragraph Mr. H. G. Wells has enough material in his notebooks to last him a hundred-and-fifty years. Our only anxiety is as to what he will be doing after that.—Punch.

DEATHS REPORTED

MRS. PETER MOSHER, MASSA-WIPPI.

MASSAWIPPI, Que., Feb. 11.—On Friday, February 1, the death occurred of Mrs. Peter Mosher at the advanced age of ninety-three years and six months. She died after only two days' illness at the home of her son, Mr. John Mosher, where she had been staying for a short time.

The late Mrs. Mosher (Catherine McClure) was born in Ireland and came to Canada with her parents when seven years old. The crossing at that time took them seven weeks. Her family first settled at Melbourne, Que., afterwards coming to Ayer's Cliff, where the daughter married Peter Mosher in 1852. Eight children were born to her, of whom only three are now living, namely, William, of Montpelier, Vt.; Daniel, of Brattleboro, Vt.; and John, of Massawippi, Que.

Besides the three sons she leaves to mourn her loss twenty-three grandchildren, thirty-five great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by her husband forty-three years ago.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Eardley Wilnot, rector of the Episcopal church at Hatley, and was held in the Union church at Massawippi, where the body was laid in her son's lot.

The Ayer's Cliff choir, consisting of Mrs. Bert Hurd, Mrs. Colby, Mrs. Wm. Hurd, Mr. Wm. Hurd and Mr. B. Bangor, furnished the music. The family of Mrs. Mosher are very grateful to all who rendered assistance in any way, and particularly to the choir, which came from a distance.

SHERBROOKE HIGH WON FROM DANVILLE HIGH

Sherbrooke High jumped into second place in the School Hockey League as a result of their victory at the expense of Danville High on Saturday afternoon by a score of four to nothing. The game was played at the Minto rink, Lennoxville, and was conspicuous for the fast and clean exhibition given by both teams, not a single penalty being imposed. The local boys unquestionably deserved their victory, their superiority in combination being outstanding, while Wolfe's great display in the nets thwarted the Danville sharpshooters on all occasions.

The opening period was a trifle slow but, as the players warmed up to the issue, both goalkeepers were given sufficient to handle. E. Conley scored the lone tally of the period on a high shot and just before the whistle blew the same player sent in a stiff shot which caught Hill, the Danville goaltender, on the chin, inflicting a deep cut.

With goal lead, the Sherbrooke boys opened up in better style during the second period, and E. Conley scored a second tally on a pass from Saunders, while Rowell netted on a pass from Conley.

The Sherbrooke boys entered the final period with a clear lead of three goals and E. Conley added his third score when he beat Hill with a nice shot. The final score was four to nothing for Sherbrooke in spite of the determined efforts of the Danville boys to slip the puck past Wolfe.

The teams lined up as follows:
Sherbrooke High Danville High
Wolfe Goal Hill
Spafford Defence Smith
Johnston Defence Stevenson
E. Conley Centre Webb
Saunders R. Wing Burbank
Rowell L. Wing Lockwood
H. Conley Subs. Gibson

Exhibition Game.

In the game between Bishop's and Q. C. R., Bishop's showed considerable improvement on previous games and certainly would have given the Q. C. R. regular team a good run for anything they could have got. Their basket getting was somewhat improved but there is room for still greater improvement, but this will come as the fellows get more used to the floor, and improve their combination. In the first half the score stood 16 to 10 in favor of Q. C. R. and in the second half the play was very much the same, Q. C. R. getting twenty-two to twelve by Bishop's, making the final score 38 to 22.

Line up:—
BISHOP'S:—Ryder, McCrea, Bouillon, Walsh, Jenne and Holmes.
Q. C. R.:—Wolfe, Harmer, Allan, Hetherington, Tryman and Peak.

Trail Ranger Games.
Presbyterian A was somewhat unfortunate on Saturday losing out to Methodists in a very well contested game. In the first half the score stood five to two for Methodists, while in the second half the play was the only player to find the basket making the total score 7 to 2.

Line up:—
Presbyterian A:—Hammond, Bouchard, Turner, MacKay, Scrimgeour, Methodist:—Morgan, Conley, Dean, Thornton, Hatch, A. Heath and L. Heath.

In the second game Presbyterian B tied with St. Peter's with a score of four to four. In the first half, Welsh and Baldwin scored for St. Peter's with Presbyterians unable to get a basket, but in the second half Presbyterians turned the tables with MacKay and Thissen getting a basket each and so tied the score four to four.

Line up:—
Presbyterian B:—MacKay, Emery, Thissen, Herrick and Dyke.
St. Peter's:—Welsh, Baldwin, Loughheed, Jackson.

WM. G. M'ADOO GAVE EVIDENCE IN OIL CASE

Declares that Professional Relations with Doherty Were in "Good Faith."

(Associated Press Despatch)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, emphasized before the Senate oil committee today that his professional relations with E. L. Doherty, recently terminated, were "in good faith," and had nothing to do with the leasing of naval oil reserves.

Appearing at his own request because of testimony given by Mr. Doherty as to his employment in connection with Mexican oil matters, Mr. McAdoo declared:

"I think it may be fairly presumed that if my name was not prominently mentioned in connection with high office, my private practice as a lawyer would be of no interest to this committee or to the public."

Asserting that "the faith of the people in their own government is shaken," because of developments in the oil inquiry, he declared it would be a crime against the public "if the dragging of innocent people into this affair should divert attention from the guilty to prevent the discovery of those who have betrayed the public interest."

Mr. McAdoo declared that neither he nor the law firm of which he is a member, McAdoo, Cotton and Franklin, have had any relation whatever to the leases made of the Teapot Dome and California Naval Reserve.

Mr. McAdoo reviewed at length the situation in regard to United States oil holdings in Mexico from May 1, 1917, when the Mexican constitution was amended in an attempt to assert ownership by the Mexican government in the mineral deposits of the sub-surface of the lands in Mexico. The threat to make this act retroactive would result in confiscation of the property of United States citizens, he said, and presented a grave situation for the United States government.

A great many United States industries were dependent upon Mexican oil and the matter was of prime importance on this account and also because the United States required an adequate oil supply for war purposes.

TWO PRISON GUARDS KILLED DURING BATTLE

Several Convicts Wounded—No Prisoners Escaped—Attempted to Dynamite Way to Freedom.

(Associated Press Despatch)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 11.—Two prison officials were shot to death and a number of convicts were wounded, more or less seriously today in a riot at the Western Penitentiary. After an hour's fight, during which riot guns, tear gas bombs, clubs and bricks were used, the prison guards, assisted by the county detective and Pittsburgh police forces, succeeded in quelling the disturbance, which started when the convicts used explosives in an effort to dynamite their way to freedom.

No prisoners escaped.

SCHOOL SKIING TROPHY WON BY LLOYD BOWEN

Keeps Cup Offered by George D. MacKinnon — Welsh First in Jumps, Went Astray on Run.

The school boy competition for the Klein cup, offered by Mr. George D. MacKinnon, created considerable interest on Saturday afternoon and the trophy was eventually won by Lloyd Bowen, by a very small margin. Less than three points separated the first four jumpers, L. Bowen being closely followed by A. Wark, G. Duff and C. Hammond.

The competitions included both jumping and cross country events with Bowen finishing first in the cross country and third in the jumps, and averaging the highest points. N. Welsh finished first in the jumps but was unfortunate in going astray in the cross country run and came in last. The marking was done by C. A. Hawkins and T. Bonner, with Messrs. E. Colley and J. C. Somers as judges, while the run was laid out by Messrs. R. Marchand and J. Holbrook.

The complete standing was as follows:

L. Bowen	90.83
A. Wark	89.50
G. Duff	88.25
C. Hammond	88.08
J. Blue	85.08

CONFERENCES LIKELY TO BE RESUMED TODAY

Another Effort Will Be Made to Settle Situation at Cape Breton Mines.

(Associated Press Despatch) MONTREAL, Feb. 11.—Renewal of conferences between the officials of the British Empire Steel Corporation and miners' representatives in reference to the Cape Breton mines was expected to take place today.

Both sides were reticent as the point of exactly when the conversations would recommence today.

MORE TROUBLE REPORTED.

(Associated Press Despatch) GLACE BAY, N.S., Feb. 11.—

With the withdrawal of the construction men, about 250 in number, from No. 1 B colliery at O'Neill's point, ordered by District Secretary McCormack on Saturday, the maintenance men refused today to turn out at the new mine. This was more than the United Mine Workers' authorities bargained for, and a meeting will be held to get the matter straightened out.

The expectation here is that the conference at Montreal will not end till a settlement is reached. The majority of the miners are in favor of a fair compromise between the 1921 and the 1923 rates, and would not be averse to a long-term contract. International Organizer Houston, who has been here for some months representing the international executive of the United Mine Workers, stated a day or two ago that the union was in favor of a three-year contract for district 26, providing the men got a reasonable advance on last year's rates. It would be regarded as a satisfactory outcome by both the Cape Breton public and the mine workers if a contract of that duration were eventually signed.

M'ADOO GIVES EVIDENCE IN NAVAL OIL CASE

Voting on Resolution Calling for Resignation of U. S. Secretary of Navy Denby to Start Late Today.

(Associated Press Despatch) WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The oil leasing spotlight centred today on two dramatic incidents.

William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the treasury and candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, appeared before the investigating committee to explain his personal relations with E. L. Doheny, and the Senate came to a showdown on the Robinson resolution calling upon President Coolidge to demand the resignation of Secretary of the Navy Denby, who signed the California and Dome Naval Reserve leases negotiated by former Secretary Fall.

The committee, complying with Mr. McAdoo's request for an opportunity to be heard, gave over its entire hearing today to his testimony, planning to take up after its completion the nomination of Silas H. Straun, of Chicago, and former Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, to be special counsel for the Government in court proceedings growing out of the inquiry.

The Senate meanwhile resumed debate on the Robinson resolution under an agreement to begin voting at five o'clock.

PLAYED JOKE ON QUEBEC LIQUOR COMMISSION

Case and Containers Seized at Quebec Found to Contain Nothing but Water.

QUEBEC, Feb. 11.—As the result of a telegram received by the legal advisers of the Quebec Liquor Commission, one hundred gallons of liquor was seized at the Union Station on Friday afternoon, but when it was opened up, it was found that the contents of the case and containers was pure, unadulterated water.

The view is held here that the shipment, which was made from St. Hiltaire, in this province, but near the American border, was sent on to the Quebec Liquor Commission as retaliation for the seizure of one hundred gallons of whiskey that had been confiscated two days previous from the same place.

The express charges on the shipment amounted to nine dollars, but Mr. Nap Drouin, Quebec member of the Commission, stated last night, as the commission profited by some two thousand dollars through the seizure of the genuine alcohol a couple of days previous, they still had a handsome profit to show for the two transactions.

BELIEVED RING BELONGED TO ENGLISH KING

Tallies in Detail with Ring Which Disappeared from the British Court in 1610.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 11.—

A curious shaped gold ring, said to have been part of the jewels of the British king, and which tallies in detail with one which disappeared from the English court in 1610 and has since been listed on the records as of unknown whereabouts, was found by Charles Burns, hosiery man of the local fire department, in the Sandbar near Thimble Island, Thimble Island has long been known as a rendezvous of the famous Captain Kidd, and is believed the ring was a part of the treasure loot of the pirate who, according to well known legends, buried his spoils along in this vicinity. Burns was on a clamming trip when he unearthed the ring, which is composed of four bands, joined by clasped hands. It is stated that the nearest resemblance to the ring was worn by Lady Catherine Grey, and said to have signified her marriage to the Earl of Hertford. Queen Elizabeth, displeased with the union, sent Hertford to the Tower of London, in confinement, and subjected Lady Catherine to many hardships until the validity of the marriage was proven. The marriage was later dissolved by a commission, and so pronounced in the palace of the Bishop of London in 1562.

Burns has deposited the ring in a deposit vault and has refused an offer of $2,000 for its purchase. He said he intends to make a further search of the beach in the hope of uncovering other trinkets.

TELEGRAPH POLES, CABLES, WIRES AND TRANSFORMERS SUBJECT TO TAXATION

Judgment Handed Down in Favor of Westmount Against Montreal Light, Heat and Power Co.

(Associated Press Despatch) MONTREAL, Feb. 11.—Telegraph poles, cables or wires, transformers and other apparatus, used either to distribute gas or electricity, are immovable property by their nature, and as such are subject to municipal taxation, according to a judgment that has been handed down by Mr. Justice de Lorimier, condemning the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Consolidated to pay $13,457.91 to the City of Westmount.

faith and our mentality.

"So we warn you that you cannot attend all kind of shows without discrimination; and we entreat all good citizens to get together in order to purge our city of a kind of show that dishonor it and which will lead, if continued thus, to the condemnation of the houses in which they are given.

Immodest Styles.

"Another form of revived paganism has penetrated into our customs; it is that of immodest styles and it grieves us to see them admitted into the homes of too many seemingly Christian families. It is for us a subject of astonishment and of stupor; they spread venom and seem to ignore its injurious action; they burn the house and they do not seem to know the destructive power of fire.

"Also, dear beloved brethren, in presence of an abuse which is ever increasing, we have given orders to our clergy to arm themselves to fight it incessantly and by all means, because it is a grave and dangerous menace. And, to put an end to a perversion which is particularly deplorable, that of 'wearing such clothes even in the holy place,' we have given a special direction to your pastors on that point.

"We, also, make ours these other words of the great Pope: 'It would be superfluous to say that a good mother of a family should never allow her daughters to give in to the false requirements of style; but it will not be superfluous to add: the higher the rank held by a woman, the more strict is her duty not to tolerate that the ladies who visit her, offend modesty.' And to all our Christian women and girls, we leave, as a watchword, the word of Saint Paul to the Colossians: 'Induite vos... modestiam; clothe yourselves with modesty. It is the finest ornament of your sex.'

"Lastly, it is our duty to guard you against a danger which is peculiar to a mixed county like ours, that of neutral social clubs, where the good feeling, which is certainly desirable among the elements of a population of diverse origin, and belief, may easily, degenerate into religious, if not national, indifference.

"And now, our dear brethren, we wish to draw your special attention to the importance of the formal condemnations which we believe necessary to formulate for the saving of souls, the conservation among you of good and holy traditions of virtue and nobility. Again, inspiring ourselves with the wisdom of the venerated primate of the Canadian Church, we promulgate the Synodal decree of Quebec and give it the power of law in all our diocese.

Lascivious Dances.

"We strongly condemn those dances which are lascivious, either in themselves—such as the 'Tango,' the 'Fox-Trot,' the 'Turkey-Trot,' the 'Camel-Trot,' the 'Shimmy,' the 'Cheek-to-Cheek,' the 'One-Step,' the 'Two-Step,' and others of the same kind regardless of the name they bear—or in the manner in which they are danced—such as the 'Waltz' the 'Polka' and others, which commonly are lasciviously danced now—we strongly condemn these dances as directly proximate occasions of sin, and we expressly forbid them throughout the whole diocese, so that if anyone—which may God forbid—should dare to indulge in these dances or allow his children or servants to indulge in them, or permit them to be danced in his house, that person would commit a grave sin of disobedience.

"Confessors, both secular and regular, must take this highly important documents scrupulously into account and remember it carefully in the holy tribunal of Penance."

"We also positively forbid lascivious dances, whatever may be their names, in order to oppose an effective dike to the rising tide of neopaganism. You know, very beloved brethren, with what vigor the Fathers of the Church stigmatized the passionate dances that were in honor in the pagan world. Since the modern world wishes to resurrect that kind of dances, we must make use against them of the same arms which the fathers used to preserve your souls against the mortal contagion.

"It is absolutely necessary, dear beloved brethren, to give up those dances, which are dangerous because nothing is better adopted to destroy virtue. And let you not tell me that such dances can be performed in a certain proper manner, because, even if the thing were possible, by taking part in those dances, you would always be sanctioning a thing which is justly ill-famed on account of its very nature. And we have confidence that your spirit of faith and docility will banish them forever from your homes and from all your social reunions.

Illicit Liquor Traffic

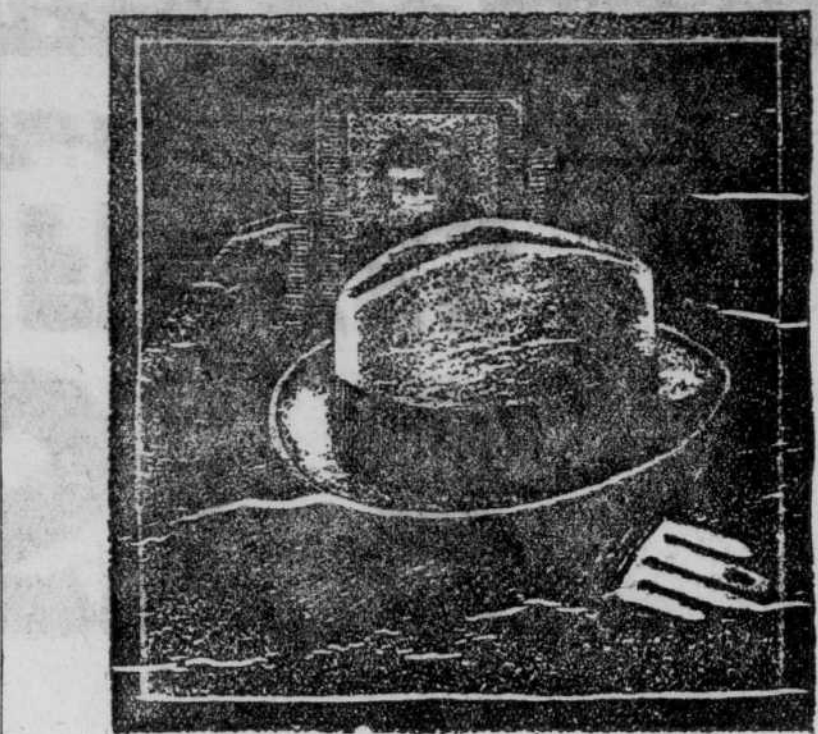

"There is, also, dear brethren, another serious abuse which has been introduced in certain centres within our beautiful Sherbrooke diocese, which abuse cannot be described in words sufficiently severe: we refer to the smuggling and surreptitious fabrication of alcoholic liquors, a mortal poison which attacks the living forces of the individual, of the family and of society.

"Too much Apostolic work, for the Holy cause of Temperance, has been done amongst you, that our good and devoted diocesan are not, like us, justly indignant at this deplorable state of affairs.

"Therefore, we have desire to react, and by virtue of our pastoral authority, we have prohibited and prohibit, under pain of a grave disobedience, the fabrication, the sale and the clandestine importation of intoxicating liquors, such as are already forbidden by the civil law.

"We pray God that the unfortunate ones, strayed in these distressing habits, will have the courage to profit from our warnings and break away from these damnable practices.

"Confident in the sincerity of their faith, we entertain the hope that all our good and dear diocesan who, during the course of our long Episcopate among them, gave us such constant proof of their splendid Christian spirit, of their generous faith and other subjects of joy and thankfulness, will accept, not only as every Catholic, with a full and complete submission, being sincere and under obligation to do so, but also with joy, pleasure and without any recrimination, the directions which we have given in our present pastoral letters for the greater glory of God and the salvation of their souls.

"With this hope, we give you all our blessing, dear diocesan, with the effusion of our greatest paternal affection in Our Lord Jesus and His Immaculate Mother.

"Our pastoral letter will be read and published at Mass in all churches and public chapels of this diocese, the first Sunday after its receipt.

You Need Bran Even More in Winter Use It Every Day!

SUMMER means a lot to your health. It means exercise, long hours out of doors, fresh vegetables—these help to keep you fit.

Not so in Winter!

In Winter you are inclined to take less exercise. You can't play your favorite games. You eat heavier, blood-heating foods.

You need Post's Bran Flakes with Other Parts of Wheat! You need it even more in Winter than you do in Summer. You need it regularly—every day. And that is why Post's Bran Flakes is tremendously popular. You like it—you like its flavor, its crispness, its deliciousness. It is bran in Nature's way—not harsh, not irritating, not dry as you've known it.

And it is effective! It clears your body of poisons that would otherwise rob you of health and vigor. It gives you that feeling of fitness known only to those whose bodies get enough roughage. It is an appetizing, natural laxative cereal food—just that!
