

CURRAN GOES OUT

Cabinet Changes Have Been Decided Upon.

MONTAGUE COMING IN

He Will Succeed Wood and Wood Curran.

J. J. HAS BEEN A FAILURE

But He is Good Enough to be a Superior Court Judge.

(Special to The Herald.)

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—The Government has decided upon important changes in the Ministry, which, it is expected, will strengthen their position in Western Ontario.

While this change has been agreed upon it may not be made public for some time, as other changes which the ones referred to may affect will follow. In the first place it is understood that Hon. J. J. Curran will retire from the position of Solicitor-General, and take a place on the Superior Court Bench in the Province of Quebec. It is well known that Mr. Curran has been a source of weakness to the administration ever since he entered the Ministry. Not only has he failed to show any excuse for the expenditure on his office, but the injudicious speeches which he has been making in Ontario at church picnics in respect to the religious views of the Premier are reported to have caused much offence to the ultra-Protestant wing of the Government, and their supporters in the western part of the Province.

Comptroller John F. Wood, of the Inland Revenue Department, it is stated, will be made Solicitor-General in place of Mr. Curran.

In place of Mr. Wood, Dr. Montague, M.P., will be appointed Comptroller of Inland Revenue. His presence in the Ministry, even if not in the Cabinet, it is thought, will help the party in Western Ontario.

There are some who see the hand of Hon. John Haggart in these changes. The presence of Mr. Curran in the Ministry since the Curran bridge scandal has not been appreciated by the Minister of Railways. The doctor has charge of the work of organization for the Province of Ontario.

The next move will be how to replace Hon. A. R. Angers in the Cabinet, as it is said Lieut.-Gov. Chapeau will not consent to return to the Thompson Government. These are likely to be all the changes before the Government meet the electors.

Got a Shock. A Street Railway employee named William Brisbois received such a shock when working on a Craig Street pole yesterday that he fell to the ground and fractured his left foot.

The Court of Review.

The Court of Review began its sittings yesterday. Judges Taschereau, Doherty, and Archibald presiding. There are a large number of cases to come before the court, arising out of the expropriation of St. James Street West, the Grand Trunk Railway being interested in several of them. Yesterday the cases of Joseph Belair and J. A. Gougeon were argued, in which it is asked to increase the amount of the award.

A Broken Arm.

Frequent complaints of the speed at which the Main Street cars round the corner of Sherbrooke and St. Dominique on their run north have been made, and yesterday there was an accident which should lead to the exercise of greater caution on the part of the motormen.

A Young son of Charles Bolt.

A young son of Charles Bolt, of the Dominion Rolled Plate Company and 341 Green Avenue, was on a car with his mother. The car turned the corner with such speed as to strike the boy out of his seat. He was thrown to the ground and his arm was badly broken. The boy's father alleges that if the car had turned the corner at a reasonable rate of speed, the accident could not have happened.

A Chinaman's Woes.

Won Light keeps a laundry on Lagache Street near the Windsor Station. Yesterday he halted one of the C. P. R. constables, who was passing, and unfolded a tale of woe which ran thus: He was busily at work last night when a man entered and opened a conversation with him. Won Light is not much of a conversationalist, and his visitors idiomatic Anglo-Saxon was beyond his depth. The caller seemed somewhat annoyed at his failure to make himself understood, proceeded to pound Won Light upon the head. He then went through the hill securing $1-40, found 30 cents more in a coat, and left. Won Light stated that this afternoon had changed his mind about prosecuting. When the object of the visit was explained to him, like Bret Harte's Chinaman he assumed an expression that was child-like and bland, and after a few irrelevant remarks about washing shirts, relapsed into silence.

TOOK MORPHINE AND DIED.

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 12.—James Hamilton, son of the late Alexander Hamilton, druggist, died this morning, as a result of an overdose of morphine, taken probably with suicidal intent. Deceased went into a room occupied by his brother and saying: "I'm going to take these pills," poured from a bottle a number of morphine pills and swallowed them. He laid down in bed and told his brother he had taken morphine pills. Doctor Leslie and Wallace were summoned at once, but when they arrived deceased was unconscious and beyond medical aid. He was 34 years of age and unmarried.

ANOTHER HORNER CASE.

THIS TIME LANCASTER PRESBYTERIANS HAVE AN OFFENDER.

Rev. Walter Russell, B.A., Wants to be an Evangelist in Spirit of Presbyterian Orders.

[Special to the Herald.]

Lancaster, Sept. 12.—At the meeting of the Gleanery Presbytery yesterday the resignation of Rev. Mr. McLeod of South Fench was opposed and afterwards withdrawn.

The subject that engaged a large portion of the time of the late Alexander Hamilton, of contumacy preferred against the Rev. Walter Russell, B.A. The case is, in many respects, like the now famous Horner case, which has engaged so much of the time of the Methodist Conference. The injunction of the Presbytery presiding Mr. Russell of accepting invitations to conduct meetings on ground occupied by a Presbyterian minister within the bounds of this Presbytery without first receiving the permission of the Presbyterian minister or the session. Mr. Russell in his defence puts in the plea of a "special call" to the work of an evangelist, and could not accept any call to a permanent pastorate on that account. He claimed the injunction was illegal.

This brought out the defenders of the constitution and the action of the Presbytery. The Revs. R. McLeod, D. J. McLennan and Dr. McNish strove to prove that they knew the law of the Church and had acted in harmony with it. Mr. Russell's friend, the Rev. Mr. Reid, B.D., of St. Lambert, was present and gave testimony.

After a long discussion the Rev. Walter Russell, B.A., was found guilty of wilfully violating the injunction of the Presbytery. From a decision Mr. Russell will appeal. The Rev. Mr. McCordick, Moderator, Rev. Mr. MacLennan, of Kirk Hill, and D. B. MacLennan, Esq., of Cornwall, were appointed to prepare the case for the Presbytery and to have charge of it before the Synod.

While eating supper on the grounds she was suddenly seized with a coughing fit, which brought on a severe hemorrhage. A couple of doctors were immediately in attendance, but could do nothing, death ensuing in a few minutes.

Married at St. James.

A bright wedding took place at St. James Methodist Church yesterday afternoon. The contracting parties were Rev. N. McLeod, B.A., of St. Andrews, Ontario, and Miss Dawson, daughter of the late W. J. Dawson, of 123 Stuart Street, this city. A large number of friends gathered at the church at six o'clock, and the pulpit was beautifully decorated with flowers. Rev. Robert Johnson, M.A., B.D., of Lindsay, Ont., brother-in-law of the bride, performed the ceremony. The bride was gowned in a pearlsilk dress and wore pearl ornaments. The bridesmaids were Miss C. Dawson and her niece, Miss Ethel Dawson, as maid of honor, both of whom were dressed in pale blue silk. Rev. J. R. Dobson, B.A., B.D., assisted the groom. Rev. Norman MacVicar and Rev. Mr. Reid, B.A., B.D., acted as ushers in the church. An informal reception with lunch was held at the residence of the bride's parents afterwards. The early wedding was explained to him, like Bret Harte's Chinaman he assumed an expression that was child-like and bland, and after a few irrelevant remarks about washing shirts, relapsed into silence.

SMOKE AND WATER

As Destructive as the Blaze at Mechanics' Institute Last Night.

A comparatively small blaze in the top flat of the Mechanics' Institute building last night about 10 o'clock was the ultimate cause of serious damage by smoke and water to many people's property. It was that hour of night when the janitor, Robertson, had gone his rounds, found things all serene and was about going to bed. He had no sooner entered his apartments when smoke was seen coming out of M. Mercer's office window, located next door to his own house. The fire seemed to be smoldering in the floor, and Box 343 was quickly rung. The whole of the central brigade were on the spot quickly, and prompt use was made of No. 4 and No. 2 chemical. The fire flicked along the flooring of the top flat, and smoke poured down through the stairways and long elevator shaft, bothering the fireman not a little. However, only one alarm was sounded, as No. 1, No. 5 and No. 2 had streams playing from the Bangors both on St. James and St. Peter Streets in good style. Meanwhile the salvage workers were showing their invaluable service by covering as much property as possible below the place where the fire started.

The one thought of the readers of the city was "Is the library safe?" Crowds gathered in a remarkably short time, even when the fire was acknowledged to be out, wondering if that library was properly protected. The salvage covers were spread over the books, and while some of them may be wet it is hardly possible that any are destroyed. Water ran from the top flat in streams and all offices below were more or less injured and the losers will comprise quite a colony. Mr. Robertson, the janitor, said his total loss would not exceed $300, but the office area is in a very dilapidated condition. The total loss cannot exceed a couple of thousand dollars. Among the losers are G. A. Cowan, of the Don Valley Pressed Brick and Terra Cotta Works, Toronto, office damaged by water and smoke; M. Mercer, insurance agent, serious loss; J. B. Hutchison, accountant, and secretary of the Investment Agency, offices badly gutted; the board room of the Protestant Hospital for the Insane was flooded by water; Stanley Baggs's office, damaged by water. C. R. Chisholm and Co., in the top flat, Gower and Co., engineers, damaged by water.

Among the other business men below who were more or less damaged by water are Richards and Sons, tailors, F. Leclerc and Co., barbers; F. D. Torrance, Auditor; National Mutual Loan and Building Society; Merchants Protective Association; A. C. Gray, Manager; George W. Cameron, coal merchant; Jno. A. Robertson, Agent; W. H. Olive, Ins. Agent; Wright and Son, Architects.

ELECTRIC COMBINATION.

F. Nicholls, Manager of the General Electric, Looking at the Royal Company.

A rumor that will materially affect business interest in Montreal was abated last evening. It was to the effect that negotiations were going on for the purchase of Herbert S. Holt's interest which is considerable in the Royal Electric Company. Meanwhile it is commonly known among electricians that F. Nicholls, Manager of the General Electric Co. of Peterboro and Toronto, has been inspecting the plant of the Royal Electric within the past week. Current movements of electrical business houses indicate that a change is brewing in the Royal Company. Several large American companies have had representatives here quite recently looking into its position. The story last night was that the negotiations might lead to the consolidation of the Royal and the General Electric with Mr. Nicholls as manager of the new company.

MR. LAURIER'S ENGAGEMENTS.

On the return trip from the Pacific Coast, Mr. Laurier and his party are expected to visit the following places: Edmonton, Thursday, Sept. 20. Calgary, Saturday, Sept. 22. Letbridge, Monday, Sept. 24. Medicine Hat, Tuesday, Sept. 25. Moose Jaw, Friday, Sept. 28. Indian Head, Saturday, Sept. 29. Mooseomin, Monday, Oct. 1. Prince Albert, Wednesday, Oct. 3. Grenfell, Friday, Oct. 5. There will also be ten or twelve meetings in Manitoba, the dates of which have not yet been fixed.

From the Seat of War.

Mr. Sato, a business man from Yokohama, Japan, registered at the Windsor last evening about a quarter past ten o'clock. He left the land of war August 25 and does not speak as if he was unharmed. He represents a big silk firm from New York, and says that at Yokohama things are moving just as in times of peace, and that business is good. He thinks, of course, that Japan has the best end of the war, and corroborates these statements by telegraph that the Chinese are disorganized.

SEVENTEEN YEARS.

JOE. LAFLUEUR SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY FOR THAT PERIOD.

Jury Brought in a Verdict of Man-slaughter for the Killing of Francis Bernard.

L'Orignal, Ont., Sept. 12.—The Lafleur murder trial was continued until eleven o'clock last night. The Crown's evidence tended to show that Diette and Bernard went out of the hotel to see what Lafleur was doing and also to go home. Lafleur had previously gone home, left his money and got his knife, and was on the road when they went, but Bernard took off his coat and started towards Lafleur who turned and ran towards home, Bernard following. When opposite his own door Lafleur turned and came back about 25 feet, stabbing Diette in the hand who then ran away, and then Bernard. The prisoner claims that he had decided himself, his knife covered with blood was found by the brother on the step where Lafleur had entered. When arrested the prisoner was in bed. The case for the Crown closed last night and upon opening this morning no evidence being offered by the defence, Mr. Dowdell, the Crown Counsel, addressed the jury, making an able and eloquent address, pointing out clearly the strong chain of evidence against the prisoner. He was followed by Mr. Gosselin, the prisoner's counsel, who is now addressing the jury.

L'Orignal, Ont., Sept. 12.—The jury this evening brought in a verdict of manslaughter, after an hour deliberation, against Joe. Lafleur for the murder of one Francis Bernard, at Clarence Creek, on Saturday evening, the tenth of March last.

The two men and one Diette were drinking in Bissonette Hotel between 10 and 11 o'clock, when Lafleur, being quarrelsome, tried to pick a quarrel with Bernard. Bissonette, at Clarence Creek, on Saturday evening, the tenth of March last, and Lafleur left the hotel going to his own house a short distance away. Shortly after the other two men left and met Lafleur not far from the hotel, when Diette, who was between the prisoner and Bernard, received a stab in the hand and Bernard was stabbed in heart.

The prisoner made a short address, after which His Lordship gave the sentence of seventeen years in Kingston Penitentiary.

ST. JOHN'S FAIR.

THE UNITED COUNTIES HOLD THEIR EXHIBITION.

Exhibits Coming in and Many Are Excellent.

(Special to The Herald.)

St. Johns, Que., Sept. 12.—The General Union Exhibition of the Counties of St. Johns, Herville and the eight other counties represented, was commenced yesterday, though the official opening was postponed on account of the lateness of the arrival of exhibits and the threatening state of the weather. However, during the early afternoon the exhibits began to arrive quite plentifully, and towards evening the departments were very well filled, though not quite up to former years.

The lady's department of fancy work excels in the display of some very pretentious specimens of all kinds of needlework. The display, however, is not considered to be up to that of former years as to quantity though the ladies are well pleased with quality.

The exhibits of sheep are not as yet very numerous, but Mr. Bachelier, of Bedford, has a good collection of 12, and Mr. Alfred Gingras, of St. Cesaire, has seven Shropshires.

During the afternoon the pens of sheep were somewhat better filled up, though not as much so as would be desired. The exhibit of the manure, which is a good show, and unless more arrive before the judging is commenced, this class can hardly be said to be equal to anticipations.

The exhibits of cattle are well filled, there being some good Holsteins shown by Messrs. C. E. Baker and Son, of Dunham, and Mr. J. M. Montreuil, of St. bridge Station, and a head of eight of the same class which were well up in size. Mr. J. Pickering of Freilshburg, has eight head of the same class, which were shown at Sherbrooke and out of the eight shown they took one first, five seconds, and two thirds prizes, which the gentleman considers a good showing.

In Shorthorns Mr. C. Bachelier of Bedford exhibited seven, which were shown at Messiquoi County Fair and took mostly firsts.

Durhams are well represented by Chas. Robinson, of Lacolle, who shows six and Peter Robinson, with three head of the same class; also by Mr. J. B. Masten, and A. and C. A. Bachelier, of Bedford.

Horses are well represented. Mr. Chs. Masse, of Chambly, has five heavy draught Clydes, a team of large bays being particularly noticeable for their size. Mr. Aoustache, Lande, also has a large team of brown Clydes. A good number of mares with colts were to be seen, and many of them would tempt the horse fancier to buy were he any way so disposed. The judging, which was to have been commenced yesterday, is postponed until today, when operations will be more fully commenced.

There are a good number of fine appearing draught stallions and it every class was as well filled as is this one, the fair would be considered a great success.

Hogs are a very good exhibit. St. Johns, Que., Sept. 12.—On account of the cloudy weather of yesterday and exhibitors being rather backward in arriving all exhibits arriving by 6 in the evening were allowed to be entered, and this morning many of the classes which seemed to be backward yesterday were well filled.

At 10 o'clock visitors began to come, and during the afternoon the large grounds were well filled with spectators taking in the sights.

About 5,000 people are supposed to have been on the grounds this afternoon, according to the gatekeeper's estimation. Miss White, of Sherbrooke, took the prize for the most graceful driving, handling of horse, etc.

In Clydesdales the general purpose stallions were two in number, Pierre Beaudin, Chambly, taking first, and Robt. Benoit, Chateaugay, second prize. Three year old and two year olds of the same class are a fair showing.

Asyriehs were well represented by about fourteen head altogether. A milch cow owned by Mr. Robert Robertson took first prize. A two year old bull also owned by Robert Robertson took first prize, there being very little in these classes to make any comparison. Mr. Robertson and Son exhibited eleven out of the fourteen in this class.

Mr. A. Holden and Son of St. Armand exhibits seven head of Jerseys, and Mr. Nelson Thompson and Mr. E. Morgan, both of Stanbridge, have six head each of Jerseys, making twenty in all in the Jersey class, which is a good showing.

In swine the classes were not so well filled, with the exception of Yorkshires, of which class there was a good exhibit, and in grade hogs a fairly good exhibit, while in Berkshires they might be considered fair.

Durhams were well represented by about 25 of different ages, Mr. A. Bachelier, of Bedford, taking first prize on aged bulls. In two-year-olds Mr. J. B. Martin took first, and a syndicate of farmers from Chambly second prize.

Of sheep there were many good grade sheep and Shropshires are well represented. Leicester are not so many in number, but those exhibited are of good class. South-downs were also good.

Grain, butter, cheese, fruit, vegetables, and such farm products are a light exhibit, with a few good specimens.

Much praise is due the committee, composed of Messrs. W. J. Wight, President; J. E. Hebert, Vice-President; Chs. Brown, Secretary; R. G. Gault, Treasurer; and F. Lande, Cashier, and Mr. J. P. Meunier. Too much cannot be said in praise of the Board of Directors, and particularly Secretary J. N. Deland, who have brought the Exhibition to a successful issue this year despite the great drawbacks.

The Union Exhibition of St. Johns, etc., has had a trying experience financially for several years past. It is expected this year's profits will go far towards putting the Society on a firm footing once more.

The children of the Holy Rosary School, of Herville, and Christian Brothers of St. Johns, were in attendance this afternoon to the number of about 125, accompanied by their teachers.

A game of baseball was played between the juniors of the Holy Rosary School of Herville and the St. Johns Club.

CONSERVATIVE PICNIC.

Hon. J. A. Oulmet and Other Speakers at St. Vincent de Paul.

A meeting of Conservatives was held at St. Vincent de Paul yesterday. A special train left Dalhousie Station at 11 a.m. There was not a large crowd on board the cars, though all the speakers came on the special. At two o'clock the Conservatives, headed by a brass band, composed of nine musicians and a drum major, started for the meeting place, Hon. Messrs. Oulmet, Costigan, Curran, Leblanc, Tasse, Messrs. Bergeron, M.P., Dupont, M.P., Col. Amyot, M.P., McDonald, M.P., E. A. D. Morgan, W. Mount, Valda Marson, J. A. Oulmet, Jr., Dr. Lachapelle, M.P., Mr. Bisson, Mayor of St. Vincent de Paul, and Dr. Brien were the principal persons present. They walked immediately to the band and the rest of the party followed in the procession. There were not more than three hundred persons present; a quarter of the crowd was composed of ladies. Several persons who had been at Mr. Laurier's meeting at St. Lin said that yesterday was not so well attended.

After the picnic was played appropriate resolutions, Hon. P. E. Leblanc, speaker of the Legislative Assembly, was called upon to preside. He made a few remarks and Mayor Brisson and Dr. Brien presented addresses to the Hon. J. A. Oulmet.

The honorable gentleman, in reply, spoke of the good done the country by himself and by the Conservatives. He then spoke of his conduct in connection with the Belt Line Railway. These two subjects formed the greater portion of his speech. Finally, after a very long introduction he touched upon the Manitoba School question. In an appeal to the party he said that the Government had been made to the Federal Government to pass a law, which would give the right to Catholics to establish their schools. The Government has given the matter to the judges, so that they may interpret the law. The Government could not do otherwise as a resolution of Parliament ordered the matter to be submitted to the tribunals. Mr. Oulmet's speech at the time, and he had nothing to do with the passing of the resolution. In any case, Mr. Blake and Mr. Laurier had voted for the resolution; the Speaker thought it was a good resolution. Parliament, however, could not move in opposition to the resolution of the House. So, the Government can do nothing. Mr. Oulmet asserted that the Liberals were in favor of mixed schools, for they favored neutral schools, and these are the same as mixed schools. The Conservative party seeks to protect the rights of all; both English, French, and German. The English, Orange, and Scotch are in the ranks, still the party seeks to give equal rights to all, and to give privileges even to the minority. The Minister concluded his address by stating that, if the party fell in the fight, they would be happy to go into opposition and to continue to make the same fight for equal rights and liberty.

Before ending he merely said a word about the tariff, and that was to state that it made the country prosperous. He was satisfied that the Government had done its duty. He said nothing concerning the National Policy.

An amusing incident took place during the address of Mr. Oulmet. He was interrupted once, and his hearers seemed to give attention to some parties, who tried to elect the individual from the meeting. This annoyed the Minister, who told his followers to leave the individual alone or to give him a thrashing and put him out.

At these words, a gentleman, who was standing near the platform, told the Minister that it was a shame to incite the mob to violence in that manner. Mr. Oulmet did not answer.

Hon. John Costigan followed in English, but it was evident that the crowd did not enjoy the intellectual treat as every thing of the kind was paid him. His address was largely on Irish politics, Col. Amyot, Hon. J. J. Curran, J. G. H. Bergeron, M.P., and others also spoke.

GERMAN BLUSTER OVER SAMOA.

Berlin, Sept. 12.—The Cologne Gazette says Great Britain must learn that all attempts to stow away Samoa in her immense colonial bag will be completely hopeless.

Kreuz Zeitung demands that Germany, without delay, make good her predominant claims to Samoa and again show Great Britain she does not intend to be treated as a "quantite negligible."

It says: "We will thereby gain the respect of other colonial powers, and everywhere it will be felt that Germany could be relied upon in future negotiations, while England has been greatly shaken by events of the last few months. Dual control would be in no way more satisfactory than the tripartite system."

BIG CRUSH AT QUEBEC.

AN IMMENSE THROG TAKES IN THE EXHIBITION.

The Splendid Exhibit by the C. P. R.—Fine Display of Subsidy Minerals.

[Special to the Herald.]

Quebec, Sept. 12.—This is Quebec's day and Quebecers are taking advantage of the half holiday to visit the Provincial Fair. Crowds have been pouring in since an early hour this morning and the attendance is far in excess of yesterday.

The officials have their hands full in making out the prize lists and arranging matters with exhibitors, who have not ceased complaining of the poor accommodation furnished since the opening of the Fair.

The poultry exhibit is an exceedingly good one. There are over twelve hundred entries. The best classes are games, bantams, Hamburgs, white leghorns, and brown leghorns. The pigeon exhibit is large and very good. Messrs G. Wood and Sons, of Ottawa, have about fifty entries. They are a choice lot, and will be seen at Ottawa and other large fairs. A pair of frizzled fowls are attracting much attention. Guinea pigs and guinea fowls are also in the exhibition, although the latter is a small one, poorly lighted and the pens badly arranged. The exhibit is visited by large crowds.

The display of ornamental plants is a very fine one. The visitor who enters at the main entrance is met on all sides by immense displays of ornamental plants of all kinds that draw the sides of the big tent.

Many of the public institutions in Quebec have contributed the finest specimens from their green houses.

A game of tennis was played between the juniors of the Holy Rosary School of Herville and the St. Johns Club.

The exhibit of flowering plants is not large, but there are some very choice specimens. Begonias of all varieties are especially healthy and fine. Several large andhra plants with great bell shaped flowers of a clear creamy yellow are special features, and the rare plumbago with its exquisite pale blue bunches is to be seen. There is also a good exhibit of geraniums. A pineapple plant is a very interesting sight to the many lovers of this fruit.

A large banana tree is one of the leading features of the show. The cut flower exhibit is also very fine. Some fine specimens of sweet peas and pansies are to be seen. Altogether the collection is a varied and good one.

Mr. B. J. Coghlin was awarded two first prizes and a gold medal for the heavy weight hunter and ladies' hunter exhibited by him this morning. These animals were greatly admired by Lord and Lady Aberdeen yesterday.

Quebec, Sept. 12.—The Provincial Exhibition is a success financially. The attendance this afternoon and evening was very large. It is estimated that 45,000 people were on the grounds. The different buildings and tents were crowded to their utmost capacity. The dust in the drill shed and in the rink was sufficing on account of the sawdust on the floors. The crush at the doors of the drill shed was tremendous. At the rink the officials had closed all the doors but one, and this was used both for entry and exit. Dresses were torn and hats smashed. As the officials in charge of the buildings were not listened to, or their orders obeyed by the crowd, many were hurt. It was only late in the afternoon that a second door was made in the rink and used for an exit. This excellent improvement was accomplished through the efforts of Mr. C. A. Genereux, superintendent of the Industrial and Agricultural Buildings, who, with Harry Morgan, his assistant, have done more than any of the other officials to provide for the comfort of both exhibitors and visitors. In this connection Sgt. Genest, guardian of the drill shed, although not occupying an official position, has endeavored himself to all.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the fire brigade paraded in the horse ring in front of the drill shed and exhibited their apparatus. One of the most attractive exhibits is that of the Canadian Pacific Railway showing the produce of the Northwest Territories. It is located in the agricultural hall and tastefully arranged. The sides are very prettily decorated with grasses from the Northwest Territories, intermingled with bunches of the different cereals. Specimens of the finest grains in the world are to be seen here. That world famous wheat, the Canadian red fife, is exhibited in a reserved space. Oats, barley and rye are also displayed. Besides their magnificent exhibit of cereals the Canadian Pacific Railway also has a display of vegetables from the Algoma and Nipissing Districts, including a monster cabbage before which visitors stop in wonder. Potatoes, carrots, turnips of extraordinary size are also to be seen.

THROSTLE BEATS LADAS

LORD ARLINGTON'S BAY FILLY DEFEATS THE DERBY WINNER. A Great Race Yesterday for the St. Leger Stakes—Ladas Never Looked Like a Winner—Gossip From the Gravesend Field—General Sporting News.

London, Sept. 12.—At Doncaster to-day the race for the St. Leger Stakes was won by Throstle, bay filly, by Petrarch, out of Thistle, owned by Lord Arlington. Ladas, by Hampton, out of Illuminator, owned by Lord Rosebery, was second, and Matchbox, colt, by St. Simon, out of Match Girl, owned by Baron Hirsch, was third.

Previous to the start it was believed that eight horses only out of the long list of entries would be sent away and three of these were supposed to be nothing more than pace-makers. Lord Cadogan's Stormcock and Lord Durham's Son O'Mine were scratched and the bulk of the battle was said to lie between Ladas and Matchbox. The opinion of the sporting fraternity seemed to be slightly in favor of Matchbox, Throstle and Legal Tender, also the property of Lord Arlington, were looked upon as being the pace-makers for Matchbox.

Ladas was announced to ride Ladas, the Derby winner, and it was said that he was to receive a bonus of £1,000 if he won.

The day was beautiful and the course was crowded with notabilities, including Lord Rosebery, the Duke of Cambridge, the Earl and Countess of Coventry. It was worthy of note that every horse in the race was owned by a man or woman of title.

The betting was 5 to 1 against Throstle; 11 to 10 on Ladas; 2 to 1 against Matchbox; 2 to 1 against Amiable; 5 to 1 against None-the-Wiser; 10 to 1 against Hornbeam, and 10 to 1 against Legal Tender and Laton.

Throstle made the running from the fall of the flag, followed by None the Wiser and Matchbox, with Ladas galloping upon the leader. Matchbox entered the straight just clear of Ladas, who was followed by None the Wiser, Throstle and Hornbeam. On the line for home, Matchbox was beaten, Ladas drew clear of him and was followed by Throstle, who challenged the Derby winner for first place and won by three-quarters of a length. Ladas finished two lengths ahead of Matchbox. Time, 3:12 1/2.

The conditions were as follows: The St. Leger stakes of twenty-five sovereigns each, for three-year-old colts, 126 lbs., 123 lbs., the owner of the second horse to receive two hundred sovereigns and the third one hundred sovereigns out of the stakes. Old St. Leger course, about a mile, six furlongs and 132 yards.

No War Between Associations.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 12.—When President Horton of the Terre Haute Association, who is also president of the American Trotting Association, was asked last night about the talk of a threatened war between the American and National Trotting Associations because of the Terre Haute Association's refusal to accept the American Trotting Association's rule, he said: "I wish you would quote me as the President of the American Trotting Association as saying there is no trouble and none likely. Our relations are friendly and will continue to be so. Mr. Salisbury's horses will continue to start here this week just as they did to-day. I do not see how there can be any war, we have received no notice of the action at Fleetwood expelling Mr. Salisbury, and I do not expect to hear anything from it."

It is believed here that Salisbury will be temporarily reinstated and that the case will go to the Board of Appeals this winter.

Racing At Gravesend.

New York, Sept. 12.—In spite of the unpropitious wind and the cold weather, there was a good attendance at the Gravesend track, and the races were well contested. The best race of the day was the third, and for some unknown reason Patrician was at the remunerative odds of 6 to 1 at the post. He let Candelabra do all the running, and then came away and won as he chose at the end, while Candelabra was a good distance ahead of Faraday. Summary:

First race, five furlongs; selling—Antipode, 99 (Griffin), even, won by head; Ungannon, 107 (Ballard), 3 to 1; B. J. Foster, 100 (Lamley), 6 to 1, 3 Time, 1:03.

Second race, one mile—Pace-maker, 116 (Tara), 8 to 5, won by a length; Live Oak, 107 (Simms), 5 to 1; 2; Redskin, 103 (Griffin), 3 to 1, 3 Time, 1:43.

THE RING.

Corbett Talked Freely, as Usual.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Champion Corbett talked freely with an Associated Press representative last night concerning Jackson's refusal to sign the articles to fight under the auspices of the Sioux City Athletic Club next year. He expressed his hearty disapproval of the action and reiterated his oft-repeated view of the colored man's fear to fight him. Corbett insisted that Jackson's objections to the condition of the articles that failed to point out the place of fighting and the duration of the contest were trivial, and ought not to have any consideration in the minds of the people. All Jackson was now after, he said, was to secure his $10,000 deposited in Chicago and then get out of the country.

"Will you accommodate Jackson by agreeing to fight him within three months as he desires," he was asked.

"I certainly will fight him in three months, or in two weeks, or to-morrow, if it were possible," replied Corbett. "But what is the use of saying that. Jackson knows that the Sioux City Club cannot make arrangements for the fight in that time. First, Jackson said he would not fight in the South. Now, when there is an opportunity to fight in the North, he shows his unwillingness to meet me by refusing to sign the articles providing for a contest."

Jackson Evidently Scared.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The $10,000 forfeit, which Peter Jackson posted with Will J. Davies for a fight with Corbett, was taken down to-day. Jackson and his manager, Parson Davies, called on Manager Davis at the Columbia Theatre shortly before noon. "The fight is off," said Jackson, "and I want my $10,000." Mr. Davis promptly produced the cheque, turned it over, and the last round in the windy battle had been finished. "Jackson will never get a fight with Corbett," said Parson Davies later. "The fight will never come off. Jackson will fight for the West Indies at once and will get no more fights here. He will get a fight to-morrow, but he has given up all hope of meeting Corbett in any ring."

Hill To Meet Choyinski.

Louisville, Sept. 12.—Jim Hill and Joe Choyinski will fight an eight-round bout for the gate receipts at Tattersall's, in Chicago, on October 1. Hill met Parson Davies at West Baden, Ind., yesterday, and completed arrangements for the bout. Hill will go into training here at Riverside to-morrow.

Jim Corbett Has $23,000 Invested In His New York Mansion.

All great men at times consciously or unconsciously condense wisdom into a few words and thus form a sententious sentence that is forever remembered. When James J. Corbett began to assume prominence in the public eye as the result of having placed in mourning the eyes of John J. Fitzsimmons, he remarked facetiously, "I know one pugilist who won't go broke." He had predicted the success of his opponent, Dempsey, McAuliffe and others, and he has not been wrong. He has not only enjoyed prosperity, but he has also become a millionaire. His fortune does not smile forever, and he then there incorporated a new financial plan into the matter. The result is that Corbett has secured a large part of the $100,000, he is believed to have made since his career in the ring began. One evidence of his wealth is the $23,000 mansion he bought not long ago in New York and gave to his wife as a birthday present. He has also spent about $10,000 in furnishing and decorating, making his total outlay for a home about $33,000. The residence is a three-story brownstone front, and its number is 146 West Eighty-eighth street. The house has a polished oak floor covered with white Persian rugs, and the imposing staircase is also of carved oak. At the rear of the hall is the dining room, with its polished oak table and sideboard. Its leather upholstered oak chairs and its gleaming china and gold glass.

On the second floor is Mrs. Corbett's boudoir, which is finished in blue. Back of this apartment is the Turkish room, which is the feature of the house. As its name implies, it is a model of oriental luxury. The bedroom is another feature. It has a floor of glazed white tile and a big porcelain tub with silver plated trimmings. Corbett, who is a great believer in the health giving virtues of cold water, takes a dip in the tub every morning. The bathroom is the finest he has ever seen. It is finished in marble, and has a gymnasium in the cellar. Corbett also owns real estate valued at $23,000, has paid off a $5,000 mortgage on his father's house in San Francisco, and is a member of the prospective theatrical firm of Spaulding & Co. His new residence is the finest ever owned by a pugilist. The champion is not so great a singer as he is a pugilist and money saver. His wife says that when she plays the piano in the Turkish room Jim Corbett will sing songs all right, but betrays a weakness for singing everything to the same tune.

The Wheel.

Records Lowered at Springfield.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 12.—The first day of the Springfield Bicycle Club's great diamond tournament has passed with nothing to mar its enjoyment. The thousands of bicycle enthusiasts who were in attendance at to-day's races came away satisfied, and the bicycle club will be proud of the great success which has attended its efforts. The weather was perfect, the track above par, the racing fast, the crowd large and there were several records broken.

It was 2:10 when the one-mile novice was started, and from that time until 5 o'clock the races were run off with great precision. All of the cranks were present and went into the race to win, as is shown by the fact which was made in every race. Ray McDonald, of Class A., distinguished himself by winning the half-mile and two-mile handicap events, while Sanger was the hero of the day for not only did he win the mile international unpaid invitation race, but he also lowered the world's record of 2:07 1/2, held by Tyler, to 2:07 1/5. This race was something new in bicycling, for the riders instead of starting together were started about one-half minute apart.

In the one mile handicap, class A., W. F. Sims, Washington, the scratch man, lowered the world's record of 2:10 2/5. One of the most exciting finishes of the day was the race run off with great precision.

Sanger, after a tremendous spurt, beat out Johnson and Cabane.

Another equally exciting finish was in the last race on the programme, a one mile handicap. In this race A. I. Brown, of Cleveland, Ohio, a sixty year man, surprised every one by making a great start and winning. Bliss and Sanger had a hard fight for second, in which the former was victorious. W. S. Matly's burlesque riding was of a high order and much enjoyed. The summaries:

One mile novice—1, E. W. Smith, West- field; 2, E. H. Baines, Springfield; 3, J. E. Wig, Springfield. Time, 2:41 4/5.

Half mile handicap, class B.—1, Ray McDonald, New York (5 yards); 2, A. W. Warren, Springfield (35 yards); 3, T. W. Cooper (25 yards). Sanger finished fourth

Gossip About Players.

Nolty coaching during the season has been a source of complaint to the players.

It is probable that some interesting contests will take place in the place kick competition at the M.A.A.A. games on Saturday. Neither of the home clubs are adepts at this and all the practice they can get will be none too much for them.

The French Claims Are Opposed by Americans.

Paris, Sept. 12.—M. Paul de Cassagnac, manent occupation of Madagascar by France. The Aurore urges that the march of the French upon the capital of Madagascar be no longer delayed.

London, September 12.—A despatch to the Daily News from Paris says: It is not the English but the Americans who are opposing the acquisition of Madagascar by France. The American trade in striped cloths in Madagascar is very extensive and the Americans hold that the Batenote treaty does not admit of a French protectorate over that country.

John Murphy and John Brady Arrested

Ogdenburg, N.Y., Sept. 12.—Yesterday afternoon officers R. B. Deane, of Brook-

Ont., on the charge of assaulting John

Swords, a man of 85 years, in an endeavor to compel him to disclose the place where his newly invented "bullet" was being man-man's feet until they were burned so badly that amputation is necessary. The old man did not tell his secret, but they managed to secure $130. Swords identified the men as his assailants and they were locked up.

OFFERS TO RESIGN.

If Anyone Can Get More Money for the Streets Than He.

Ald. Prefontaine yesterday afternoon offered to resign the chairmanship of the roads committee, if any one thought that there is another man who can get more money for the streets than he.

Aldermen Grothe, Renaud and Kennedy had been acting as usual because their wards did not get more. The first of these gentlemen was specially zealous and declared that the streets of St. Jean Baptiste Ward were in a disgraceful condition, as well as the squares.

Mr. St. George admitted that the complaints were well founded. The Roads Committee had been obliged to discharge gardeners and other employees in order to comply with the orders of the Finance Committee.

"The Roads Committee cannot raise money," added Ald. Prefontaine, and he made his offer to step out of the chair. Of course the members did not want that and they arranged to wait altogether on the Finance Committee to see what can be got.

In the meanwhile reports were adopted recommending the paving of the Brocks and Berri Street tunnels at a cost of $18,000.

Ald. Kennedy brought up the question of paving the approaches to the Curran Bridge. Ald. Prefontaine thought the works should be paid for by the Federal Government, but it was decided to get the opinion of the City Attorney on the matter.

Mr. St. George and the Health Committee will confer on the work of draining the little river St. Pierre. There was a letter from Mr. Davis, the superintendent of the Water Works on the subject, which Mr. St. George declared to be "impertinent and uncalled for."

Complaints against the Mance Street cab stand were again referred to Mr. St. George and the police.

COSGROVE IS DEAD.

CORNWALL HAS ANOTHER MURDER CASE ON HAND.

Suspected People Leave Town—Coroner Hamilton Holding an Inquest.

[Special to the Herald.]

Cornwall, Ont., Sept. 12.—Patrick Cosgrove, the man found in a dying condition in Flack's Coal Yard on Tuesday morning, died at five o'clock this morning. Cosgrove was insensible when found, and remained so till about two hours before his death but when his last moments were approaching his sufferings were terrible.

Coroner Hamilton immediately empaneled the following jury, and an inquest was held in the Music Hall this afternoon: P. E. Campbell (foreman), Chas. Larose, M. Jeanner, Jos. Kee, E. Bissett, J. B. Atchison, A. McDonald, A. T. Porteous, J. E. Suetinger, Wm. S. Wood, H. F. Cummings, W. J. Deruehie, E. O'Callaghan, and R. Suetinger.

The jury, after viewing the body, began to hear the evidence. The first witness called being Jas. Smith, a coal driver, who found the body in the yard on the morning in question. The man, he said, was lying on a coal screen face downwards. The man was drunk. About thirty feet from the injured man lay a hat and some blood-stains. He notified the authorities and the injured man was taken away.

Peter Barry, who lives close by know Cosgrove for about twenty years. He heard no noise on Monday night. Barry admitted that he was drunk when he went home.

A young man named Speck heard the cry of murder about midnight, but was afraid to go to the place from where the sound came.

Patrick Cosgrove, a namesake of deceased, testified that he was with deceased till 8 o'clock that evening when he left him. Deceased, he said, was sober at that time. Dr. Wagner testified that the injury could be inflicted by a fall, but the fact was highly improbable. He could not say as to the cause of his death for a certainty until a post mortem was held.

The jury then adjourned to view the surroundings where the man was found. They will meet at 7 o'clock Friday evening. In the meantime a post mortem examination will be held.

Considerable excitement reigns in Cornwall now over the affair. Three well known characters have skipped out, and it is pretty certain that they had a hand in the affair. The authorities are putting detectives on the track of the supposed murderer.

HOWLEY-CUSHING CASE AGAIN.

An Effort to Set Aside the Appointment of a Sequestrator.

The much argued case of Cushing against Howley again came to the front yesterday afternoon in the Court of Review. Mr. Cushing had succeeded in having a sequestrator of Mrs. Howley's estate appointed by the Superior Court, for the protection of the property upon which he had mortgages amounting to $2,500.

The defendant Howley sought to have this judgment set aside. Mr. J. F. Quinn, Q.C., and F. E. Topp, who appeared for him, argued that the sequestration having been made under Article 1823 of the Civil Code, was illegal. That article applied where the property in question was in litigation, but as there was no litigation in the present instance, article 1823 did not apply. They relied strongly on the decision of Mr. Justice Taschereau in the case of the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada vs. Mandeville et al. J. L. Morris, Q.C., contended that a judge had power to order a sequestration apart from the article of the Civil Code. The court had the right to appoint a sequestrator where it considered that the ends of justice required it. He went over the history of the case to show that this was a case where such discretion should be exercised. The case will be heard upon its merits this morning.

"Shell-Biggers" in Court.

Judge Dugas had another of the St. Lawrence Main Street alleged vagrants up before him yesterday in the person of one Yves Dunham.

Special Constable Sutherland, in his evidence, deposed that he had been specially detailed with Constable Richard, to watch a gang of loafers who earned their living by playing the shell sharpening trick. In plain words they were fakirs, and always ready to do up the innocents. He also proved by his diary that on many days they were loitering for hours on St. Lawrence Street, obstructing respectable people.

The Judge in taking the case on deliberation, censured the police for their efforts to rid the city of loafers. He, himself, had seen gangs of sharpers as he walked up the Main Street, whose sole business seemed to be to insult respectable people.

A Safe House.

In all New York City there is no better system of protection from fire than at the Hotel Brunswick, now managed by Mr. George W. Sweet, late of the Windsor, Montreal. Every room is within a few feet of a fire escape, a large force of night watchmen patrol the house constantly and the very latest fire extinguishing appliances are provided in profusion.

RIGHTED AT LAST.

"They are the truth," repeated the dying woman.

The magistrate asked for pen and ink and the clergyman and himself signed the document.

"You have nothing you wish to add?" I asked, bending over Mrs. Merton.

"Nothing for them to hear. Come closer."

Her voice was growing fainter and fainter. I placed my ear nearly touching her lips.

"You may add why I did it," she whispered. "A giddy, vain girl, I loved Sir Laurence. I entered him my love. He would not condescend to understand me. I was too far beneath him for him to tell his wife to get rid of me. Then I hated him—and he paid for it."

The clergyman, having signed the paper, fell on his knees at the bedside and his friend handed me the attested confession and crept silently from the room.

"Send for my children—my children," moaned the dying woman.

I saw there was not a moment to spare and at once summoned them, at the same time telling the servant to run for the doctor. Then I returned to the death-room.

Her children's young faces were pressed against her wasted cheeks, her feeble hands were trying to caress them, her lips were moving convulsively. The pious ministrations of the good vicar fell upon heedless ears. As I re-entered the room, Mrs. Merton looked at me, and there was something in her eyes which made me draw close to her.

"You promise," I heard her say, or rather saw her lips form the words.

"I will keep it; die in peace," I replied.

Her eyes closed to open no more, and the only sounds in the room were the sobs of the boy and girl, and the voice of the clergyman.

"There is more joy in heaven," I fear if the good man had known the frame of mind in which she died, he would scarcely have found that text appropriate. But patient and unrepentant, Mrs. Merton had drawn her last breath, and her last act had, as far as could be, undone the evil she had wrought.

CHAPTER XXIV.

When I stepped out of Acadia Villa and reached my own domain, it seemed to me that, in spite of the recollection of the death scene I had just witnessed, a ten's weight was removed from my mind. For the first time since I sought Captain Chesham in simulated friendship I felt my own man once more. Farewell to all trickery and double dealing, even if it be that good may result from it. For the future, if I want any detective work done, I will employ legitimate aids. Yet in this particular case I felt that no detective could have succeeded, although this success was not due to my craft and shrewdness. Accident had befriended me all through—even to that last terrible accident which caused the death of the woman opposite.

I was shocked at what had taken place, but to say I was sorry would be untrue. Mrs. Merton was no more to me than a stranger, and her death had crowned my mission with success and set me free from a duty which, any way I looked at it, was not without degradation. And now what was to be done.

The confession was addressed to Lord Rothwell. Although, as I read it through hurriedly in that race against death, I received the impression that it completely exculpated Lady Estmere, I did not look at it again, as I placed it in a sealed envelope to be broken only by Lord Rothwell. Knowing he was in Derbyshire shooting, I at once telegraphed to him, "All is cleared up. Where shall I meet you?" Then I began to make preparations for leaving Sudbury.

First of all, it was needful that I should do something to help the young Mertons in their distress, although under the circumstances I could not stay and attend their mother's funeral, so I inquired about for a respectable solicitor and gave him instructions to see to all that was needful. In a short time I would write him as to the final disposal of the boy and girl. I went across the road and told them what I had done. They were deeply grateful, but looked troubled when they heard that business obliged me to quit Sudbury next morning.

"I was that only being approaching a girl they had in the place. My heart smote me as I thought how far from their friend I really was, and I resolved that my promise to the mother should be more than kept. Whatever her sins, they should not be visited upon this boy and girl."

I did not get Rothwell's reply to my telegram until the next morning. As it told me to meet him in London that night, it was evident that my news had seemed of sufficient importance to him to make him start at once for town. At 7 o'clock I was at his hotel waiting for him. As soon as he arrived he wrung my hands vigorously. I believed had not the hotel servants been present he would have embraced me.

"Come up-stairs," he said, "come to my room."

I followed him. The room was always reserved for him and he kept the key himself. No one on any pretence was to enter during his absence, so it was in a nice state of dust and general untidiness. He shut the door and placed his hands on my shoulders and looked at me with that strange tender expression in his eyes. The earnestness of his manner almost startled me.

"Philip, is it true? You—you have done this?"

"I have done it. I have intrigued, I have lied, I have worn a mask for months, but I have succeeded."

"Tush! what matter how you found the truth! Is it the truth? There must be no flaw—no discrepancy!"

"There is none—everything is perfect and clear as the day."

He turned from me and paced the room in agitation. For the time he almost forgot my presence.

"Lawrence! Lawrence!" I heard him say. "The day has come at last—the day I told you would come—when everyone of those cruel, biting, scornful words will fly back to you and pierce your heart like an arrow. Lawrence, how will you bear it?"

I felt indignant at such misplaced sympathy.

"It is Lady Estmere you should think of, not a man like that! The wrongfully condemned usually merit pity, not the mistaken judge!"

He turned on me impatiently, almost fiercely.

"And who are you to judge, young sir? I tell you I have sympathized with and pitied Lady Estmere for years. More than that, I have believed in her innocence. But at this moment, when you tell me you can prove her guilty, I say my pity is not for her; it is for him, one of the noblest natures in the world—the man who, had he unwittingly wronged a slave, it need be, make atonement on his knees—my boyhood's friend, the friend of my early manhood—my rival, yet my dearest friend, Lawrence Estmere!"

I was stung by this burst of emotion.

your work well, yet I could almost wish it were undone! Think of that man and tremble for what your news may mean to him! Yet you cannot help it; the work was given you. You could not help doing it; it was your destiny. Who can tell what the consequences may be? But let the truth prevail!"

It seemed almost pure fanaticism to believe that I had been predestined to restore Lady Estmere to innocence in her husband's eyes. She was a dear, a very dear friend of mine. I loved Valentine as a brother, and I was to marry her niece; but these facts did not seem enough to account for my being selected as the instrument.

THE MORNING EDITION.

Has a Larger Circulation than all the other Morning Papers of the Province of Quebec combined.

THE EVENING EDITION which was first issued on the 11th of June has been a success from the start and is increasing in popularity and circulation daily.

SAVE YOUR FRANCHISE.

In order to the carrying out of the provisions of the Franchise Act Mr. W. S. Walker, advocate, will be at the Herald office on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays from 8 until 10 p. m., to take the declarations and attend to the enrolment of Liberal voters.

POLITICAL PAINT HEARTS.

The political situation offers food for reflection to the man who hates to lose his vote. This man has been a potent factor in Canadian politics. His influence is not a wonderfully high tribute to Canadian intelligence, but it is none the less a fact. As surely as governments have been built up on the venality of a small section of the community, so surely has another small section, composed of men who desire to be on the winning side, contributed to Conservative successes during the last dozen years.

MR. HUDDART'S ADMIRERS.

The Ottawa Citizen and the Ottawa Journal are much disturbed over the Herald's reference to Mr. Huddart as an "Anti-pedean adventurer." They are greatly shocked at the implied reflection on the bona fides and the capacity of this man of whom they know nothing or next to nothing, and they rush to his defence.

A SAD STORY.

The Archambault case is of such a nature that no decent journal could afford to publish the evidence in full. But it happens to be a case in which every decent man, every good citizen, every father of a family, every believer in the sanctity of womanhood and childhood must be constrained by a sense of duty to interest himself.

It is not remarkable that its successive triumphs over the intelligence of the people should have imbued it in the past with a contempt for public opinion and inspired its members and many who are not its members with the belief that it enjoys some divine right to rule for all time and that resistance to it is useless.

The Toronto Mail seems inclined to forgive Mr. Laurier the brilliancy of his speeches. It says: "Those who complain of the sameness of Mr. Laurier's speeches do so with good reason. The Liberal leader's utterances are uniformly bright and eloquent. Other men, by way of variety no doubt, are dull sometimes."

The Toronto Empire is to be credited with the joke of the season. It does not like the contrast which has been drawn recently between the late Christopher Finlay Fraser and certain Conservative politicians, and says that "when the obituary of Sir Hector Langevin and Mr. John Haggart come to be written, the chroniclers of the time will find as much good in them as has been found in Mr. Fraser."

Facts have an uncomfortable habit of demolishing theories. Opponents of reciprocity with the United States, notably the Star of this city, have always contended that even in agricultural products there would be no advantage in wider trade relations because the United States produces a surplus of the things we want to export to her.

with every lowering of the duty until it would reach a mighty volume under free trade conditions. The Protectionist newspapers in the United States are bitterly protesting against the increase of Canadian exports to their country. But if Canada sells more to the Americans she will buy more from them to the profit of both parties to the bargain.

The issue of the Canadian Manufacturer for Sept. 7, contains entire and exact reproductions of both the new Canadian tariff, which was ratified July 23rd, 1894, and the new United States tariff, which became law and went into force on August 28th, 1894.

Here is a little table of figures prepared by the Toronto Globe and published without comment: Deficit at Ottawa on the year's transactions - $1,156,570; Stolen and wasted on the Montreal bridges - $376,000; Waste on Dominion Franchise Act - 225,000; Excess amount over cost - 236,000; Lost in country of - 125,000; Island debt - 125,000; Waste on Senate Building and unnecessary Ministers - 200,000 - $1,076,000.

The Herald's suggestion was not accepted. Neither Mr. Oimet nor our own J. J. had anything to say about the Curran bridge.

THE NIGHT OWLS' COMING. Bob Manchester's ever popular "Night Owls" are booked for the Royal next week. They need but little advance puffing, for they are always good and the fact that Mr. Manchester is coming with the company makes it certain that it will be up to the standard.

LACHINE CANAL CONTRACT. Mr. F. B. McNamee was seen yesterday by the Herald representative and asked as to the truth of the report from Ottawa, stating that he had been awarded the contract for the deepening of the Lachine Canal at a cost of $500,000.

Dry Season. A. Laing, of Wyoming, Ont., writes to the Globe: "I noticed in your paper yesterday the weather record at Toronto, stating this year so far was the driest for fifty-five years. I would beg to ask what about 1894? when there was no rain at all from spring till late in the fall, if my memory serves me right, and the fences, etc., were burning early in the summer. Then there was the very dry fall of 1865, and the drier year 1871, when, with the exception of some light showers for a few days in June, there was no rain even when water came, but what little snow we had fell right on the dusty roads. In addition, the whole country was burning for a long time. There have been other long terms of drouth, but none accompanied by so much fire as 1871-1894 and this year resemble each other a little in that respect, but this year is nothing yet to either of these two. Hoping we may get some rain soon."

Repatization. Messrs. Ed. Bigonnesse, Mont Wilson and Timothy Stebens, of Central Falls, R.I., passed through the city yesterday en route for the Northern Townships. They represent some forty Canadian families of Central Falls who are anxious to settle on the Government lands.

SMOKE NUISANCE.

TALL CHIMNEYS WHICH BELCH FOURTH STREET.

MANY NOTORIOUS OFFENDERS IN THE CITY.

There Are By-laws Against Them But They Are Not Enforced.

This fair city of Montreal is fast acquiring the reputation of being the Pittsburgh of Canada, and for no other reason than because of the supineness of the authorities in enforcing the by-laws and the willingness of proprietors to take advantage of this looseness of civic government at the expense of the public.

Probably in no other city in Canada are there more stringent regulations for the abatement of the smoke nuisance, and certainly in no other Canadian city are those regulations more persistently ignored.

On every side of the city and particularly in the very heart of its business centre tall chimneys vomit fourth volumes of stifling, ill-smelling smoke, carrying suspended into the air particles of soot, coal dust and other impurities which are ultimately deposited about the streets. It is an injury to the good name of the city, an insult and a menace to the health of visitors and residents and yet it has been suffering to continue year after year until Montrealers have become almost inured to the disgusting imposition and seem to have made up their minds to grin and bear it, or curse and bear it, but bear it anyway.

That there is no necessity for submitting to this nuisance may be seen from this extract of the city's by-laws.

By-law 130, sec. 3.—Any chimney (not being the chimney of a private dwelling house) sending forth smoke in such quantity as to be a nuisance, is and shall be deemed to be a nuisance hereafter to continue year after year, and no person who shall cause such nuisance or permit the same to be committed, or shall neglect or refuse to remove or abate the same, shall, for each offense be liable to the penalty provided in section 6 of this by-law.

That every citizen who should have, his remedy for this state of affairs may be shown by another extract from the city's by-laws.

By-law 130, sec. 6.—Every proprietor, owner or tenant of any engine, steam boiler, factory, chemical works contribution the gentle rain of which falls alike upon the just and unjust.

The smoke from these two chimneys is sifted down James Street from Place d'Armes to Victoria Square, filling that important thoroughfare with flying soot particles and intermittent showers of oily steam. Accidents of offices, and there are many in this neighborhood, who are obliged to keep their windows closed to prevent the soot and fine coal dust from covering their papers. Coalkeepers are annoyed by it for the smoke is most insidious entering at the smallest openings and leaving fitting traces behind. Pedestrians find it a curse. The spotless linen and the pink shirt of the dude meet the same fate, and wretched indeed is he who ventures about this street in flannels. The delicate costumes of ladies are ruined daily. Woe and grief fill the heart of the up-to-date maiden as she comments the smear on her veil, on her front, with a corresponding smudge on her brother's shirt bosom. More clothes are ruined, more tempers lost and more strong language used about the Post Office corner than in any one place in Montreal. The buildings hereabouts are dirty, the pavements are yellow and greasy with the soot. At the close of each day the streets are the Ferrault building. All that has been applied to it. Holding a commanding position at Place d'Armes Square it overshadows Craig Street and is able to fire being stoked. The softer the coal the more often they have to be stoked, and the smoke given out at these times fills the air with poisonous particles.

The same state of affairs exists in the West End as in other parts of the city. All over Montreal the proprietors of factories are being stoked.

On every side of the city and particularly in the very heart of its business centre tall chimneys vomit fourth volumes of stifling, ill-smelling smoke, carrying suspended into the air particles of soot, coal dust and other impurities which are ultimately deposited about the streets. It is an injury to the good name of the city, an insult and a menace to the health of visitors and residents and yet it has been suffering to continue year after year until Montrealers have become almost inured to the disgusting imposition and seem to have made up their minds to grin and bear it, or curse and bear it, but bear it anyway.

That there is no necessity for submitting to this nuisance may be seen from this extract of the city's by-laws.

By-law 130, sec. 3.—Any chimney (not being the chimney of a private dwelling house) sending forth smoke in such quantity as to be a nuisance, is and shall be deemed to be a nuisance hereafter to continue year after year, and no person who shall cause such nuisance or permit the same to be committed, or shall neglect or refuse to remove or abate the same, shall, for each offense be liable to the penalty provided in section 6 of this by-law.

That every citizen who should have, his remedy for this state of affairs may be shown by another extract from the city's by-laws.

By-law 130, sec. 6.—Every proprietor, owner or tenant of any engine, steam boiler, factory, chemical works literally to spread itself over a large territory. Here is another large office district, occupied principally by professional men, who with their clients have reason to dread the miniature Vesuvius on the roof of this building.

West of Victoria Square on and about St. Genevieve Street is another district prolific in this nuisance. A number of factories and laundries in this neighborhood are a source of the greatest annoyance to business people and residents. Palace Street, upon which are many desirable residences is seriously affected as a residential quarter by the smoke which when the wind is favorable is driven up over Beaver Hall as far as Phillips Square. Along Craig also there are many instances. These are all within a few blocks of each other, in the centre of the city. No attempt has been made to take a census of the offenders, a few being named to show how general the nuisance is.

A trip to the East End of the city shows a similar state of affairs. Between Ontario and Notre Dame Streets in the neighborhood of the Car Company's shops are numerous examples of the nuisance. Here it flourishes although in a less degree than in the West End. The residents of this locality are mostly working people living in small houses the majority of them being employed in the different factories thereabouts. The district is a land of darkness from the refuse deposited upon it from the different buildings. On Ontario Street is a large brick building, occupying a square, with an immense chimney from which belches forth thick black smoke that can be strongly smelled and almost tasted. This is Macdonald's Tobacco Factory.

The good wives of this locality do not hang out their washings to dry when the factory is working. On Pointe-a-la-Croix Street near Bellevue Park is Gauthier's time-burning establishment. The chimney of this rises but a short distance from the ground and is said by the neighbors to be particularly offensive.

The effect of these offenses and others cannot but be prejudicial to the health of the unfortunate working people who are obliged to live in such an atmosphere.

That the children of these poor people feel the injurious influence of this atmosphere has been recognized by the philanthropists who organized the Fresh Air Fund. It is natural that the owners of these factories should be unwilling to use hard coal while their neighbors in the centre of the city use the cheaper fuel. It is also unlikely that they will introduce smoke consumers, unless under compulsion, because of the added expense. A number of the people in this locality depend upon the glass factory for a living. This chimney is one of the worst offenders in the East End. Like the others, it is being stoked. The softer the coal the more often they have to be stoked, and the smoke given out at these times fills the air with poisonous particles.

The same state of affairs exists in the West End as in other parts of the city. All over Montreal the proprietors of factories are being stoked.

On every side of the city and particularly in the very heart of its business centre tall chimneys vomit fourth volumes of stifling, ill-smelling smoke, carrying suspended into the air particles of soot, coal dust and other impurities which are ultimately deposited about the streets. It is an injury to the good name of the city, an insult and a menace to the health of visitors and residents and yet it has been suffering to continue year after year until Montrealers have become almost inured to the disgusting imposition and seem to have made up their minds to grin and bear it, or curse and bear it, but bear it anyway.

CONFESSION JUDGMENT.

LARKIN, CONNOLLY CASE IS SETTLED.

An Award of $100,000 Entered Against Them.

[Special to the Herald.]

Quebec, Sept. 12.—The case of the Queen vs. Larkin, Connolly and Co., which has been in progress for some time, was suddenly terminated yesterday, when a settlement was arrived at between the Crown and the defendants. The terms of the settlement are as follows: The defendants consent that judgment shall be entered against them for the sum of $100,000 and costs, covering all the claims put forward by the Crown. On the other hand the Crown consents that judgment shall be entered in favor of the defendants for $40,000 and costs in respect of their counter claim for rent, plant handed over, and so on.

Mr. Blake, Q.C., and Mr. Aylesworth, Q.C., on behalf of the defendants wished it to be distinctly understood that the defendants did not, by this settlement, admit any personal wrongdoing. They had in their preliminary examination denied any knowledge of bribery or other improper acts.

Mr. Justice Burdige stated that, no doubt, the Crown and the public would feel that their interests had been properly protected in the hands of the gentlemen as Mr. Robinson, Q.C., Mr. Oleson, Q.C., and Mr. Hogg, Q.C. The defendants might also feel that they were relying upon the advice of Mr. Blake, Q.C., and Mr. Aylesworth, Q.C., and Mr. Cox, their counsel, and that no doubt, considering the complicated nature of the case, and the fact that the defendants would not be considered by the court as having admitted any wrongdoing personally, though legally liable for the acts of partners or agents.

We look for a lower market.

The Western Union statement for the quarter shows a deficit of the dividend of $185,500, compared with a surplus of $381,614 of the same quarter last year.

The Day in Wall Street. New York, September 12.—The Evening Post says: Improvement in the Treasury's condition is slow. The Government's total money surplus is now not quite $6,000,000 greater than it was a day before.

The tariff bill became law. It has risen $11,300,000 over the low ebb of July. The gold reserve has increased less than a million since the new tariff went into operation and stands to-day but $4,000,000 above the year's minimum.

The improvement has been continuous, but its slowness is in some respects disappointing. Except so far as an improving general trade increases imports, sources of Federal revenue are still pretty much what they were two months ago. The slow increase in gold shows clearly enough that the banks are not at all hard pressed for small currency available in the harvest country. Nor is this surprising when the legal tender holding reported by the banks are studied.

London, September 6.—Gold to-day is quoted at Buenos Ayres, 234; Madrid, 250.50; Lisbon, 20.50; St. Petersburg, 50; Athens, 77; Rome, 109.75; Vienna, 103.

Canadian Pacific London was lower at 63 1/2 at the close.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Messrs. Meredith and O'Brien, stock brokers, 16 St. Sacrament street, report the closing prices on the local stock exchange as follows:

Table with columns: Description, Sept. 12, Sept. 11, and various stock symbols.

There is quite a large volume of wheat moving via Montreal from Duluth and Chicago. To-day's canal shippers showed that there were 60,000 bushels consigned to A. G. Thomson, 6,625 bushels to James Caruthers, and 48,000 bushels consigned to order.

Wheat in Chicago, according to Meredith and O'Brien's special advice, opened this morning quiet. Grain markets were lacking in showy features to-day, but generally calm, considering that this is the third day in succession that local professional bears have flooded the pits with offerings calculated to shake the outside public out of their holdings.

The main feature was the still indifference with which holders of the best quality wheat have met the avidity with which new buyers took the offerings on the down turn.

Wheat was the first choice, with oats a lively second, and corn a slow third. Provisions were higher on the buying of the best quality of new wheat.

Western packers opposed the advances steadily with the same lack of success that attended the efforts of bears in grain. The export demand is said to be very slack, but the local shipping trade is good for pork and meats of moderate demand.

The speculative undertone is getting firmer. Corn calls next week were quoted at 50c and puts at 53c.

Duluth received 124 cars and Minnesota 424.

The receipts of grain in cars in Chicago to-day were as follows: Wheat, 222 cars, contract, 166 cars; corn, 222 cars, contract 198 cars; oats, 137 cars, contract 95 cars; hogs, 24,000.

A Chicago speculator says: "I don't believe that the use of wheat for feed has ever before been general enough to take beyond the experimental stage so that the best economy may be practiced, but a cost of 10 to 15 per cent. above corn, I think, is a tendency to make the use of wheat as general and people will feed it who are not actually compelled to do so. I am long a little while because I think enough feeding and waste will occur to change the price considerably in the future."

It was rumored that a cargo of wheat has been shipped from Argentine Republic to New York.

The average condition of corn in Iowa, according to the State report is 35, which would indicate a total of new wheat about 80,000,000 bushels. The amount of corn that will be put in cribs this year will be very light, probably less than 40,000,000 bushels. A large part of the fodder will be utilized, and this, added to the grain, will give a feeding value of perhaps 60 per cent. provided the fodder is cut and cured in good condition.

Grain was rather firmer in England to-day. Berberholm said: "Cargoes of wheat, wheat stevedores, and cargoes of wheat on passage and for shipment, quiet; do, maize, very firm. Mark Lane English, slow; do, foreign, quiet but steady; do, American maize, firm; do, Danubian maize, firm; export, 2 1/2; do, prompt, 2 1/2; do, English flour, quiet; do, American flour, steady. Australian wheat of coast, 22s 6d; do, present and following month, 23s 9d. Chilean wheat of coast, 22s; do, present and following month, 23s 3d; do, promptly to be shipped, 22s 6d; do, near 20s. 2 1/2. Weather in England, fine. Liverpool spot wheat, firm but not active; do, spot maize, slow and probably cheaper."

Grain—Dealers still report a very satisfactory demand for the leading grains, with prices well maintained. Business was done in peas at 73 1/2c, and exporters are holding 54c wheat. Canadian peas in England are unaltered. Oats are offering a little more freely, and are quoted at from 33c to 34c in store. West, white oats are selling at 27c. Despite the fact that Canadian barley is being offered at very low prices to New York state millsters, no business of any importance has resulted. Rye is dull and nominally quoted at 45c f.o.b. west. Flour—Manitoba millers report a fairly satisfactory volume of business in the leading brands, for both export and local account. There is not much doing in Ontario descriptions, in fact business with Newfoundland has temporarily ceased. There is a little doing in straight rollers in the west, with quotations remaining the same. It is a difficult matter to say what prices are being accepted at present, and while some dealers report prices others as being fairly satisfied with their offers are not. We hear that dealers on the other side are bidding quite reasonable figures.

Meal—There appears to be a fair business passing, notwithstanding the fact that dealers have limited their purchases to their immediate requirements. Prices remain pretty much the same.

Granulated and rolled, per bush..... 4.40 to 4.50
Granulated and rolled, per bush..... 4.20 to 4.30
Standard, per bush..... 4.00 to 4.10
Standard, per bush..... 1.50 to 2.25

Feed—The demand is far in excess of the available supply. The majority of farmers are selling their stock, and the consumption is now all general. Both hogs and sheep are bringing outside figures, and dealers can sell all they can procure at the farm.

There was little of interest in the Chicago grain markets to-day. Wheat opened strong at 57 1/2 for December and 62 1/2 for May, with a fair demand by commission houses. After very narrow fluctuations December sold down to 57 1/2 and May to 62 1/2, rallying again about noon to the opening prices.

Corn opened very strong at 57 1/2 October and 56 1/2-3/4. The local crowd took May which declined to 55 1/2. On buying by commission houses the price advanced to 56 1/2, declined again on selling for short account, and at the close was appearing at 56 1/2-3/4. The market was then reported to be very strong, with little corn for sale.

The closing prices were: Wheat, Dec., 57 1/2-3/4; May, 62 1/2-3/4; corn, Oct., 57 1/2; Dec., 56 1/2.

Messrs. Meredith and O'Brien received the following Chicago quotations over their tri wire:

SCORED THE POLICE

THEIR APATHY AND INDIFFERENCE DENOUNCED.

OPINIONS OF JUDGE WURTELE AND MR. ARCHAMBAULT.

The Latter Will Report Their Ineffectiveness to the Attorney-General.

Judge Wurtele was, for the third day in succession, confronted with the J. Ete. Archambault rape case. The evidence throughout has been of the most contradictory nature and the court has more than once hinted at perjury.

"Not to my knowledge. In fact they have not." The judge—"It is shameful to see places like this allowed to exist, through the apathy of the authority, whose place it is not only to put a stop to crime, but also to protect the morals of the young. It is time that something was done to remedy this state of affairs."

After recess the accused was put into the box where he confessed having committed the offence on the girl. He, however, claiming that the case was not one with which he was charged. She had been a willing party.

The case was Mr. Poitras' first before any court, he only having been admitted to the bar about a month. His first effort resulted in a brilliant speech and his conduct in the case was clever.

The jury when asked their verdict upon returning to the Court room, replied that the prisoner, in their opinion, was guilty of indecent assault. They recommended, through their spokesman, Mr. Laroche, that both the young girl and her brother be taken from the care of their mother and placed in a suitable institution until of age, as the mother was considered not fit guardian.
