Bourassa sets down ground rules for repatriation of constitution

Moderates make gains in Portuguese conflict

LISBON — (UPI-AP) — President Francisco da Costa Gomes yesterday refused to oust Communist-backed Prime Minister Vasco Gonçalves despite mounting pressure from moderate military leaders in Portugal's explosive political crisis.

But Costa Gomes accepted a secondary demand by the moderates for the democratic election of a new 240-man military assembly of the ruling armed forces movement, known by its initials as MFA. Military sources said Costa Gomes also agreed to bring the moderates back into the influential Revolutionary council.

The president's move represented a compromise designed to buy time and head off the continuing threat of a military coup.

In Horta, the capital of Azores island of Faial, right-wing demonstrators attacked and ransacked the Communist party headquarters during the night. Party officials were thrown out of the building but there were no reports of injuries.

In Leiria, about 120 miles north of Lisbon, and estimated 2,000 Roman Catholics demonstrated for a return of the Church's Radio Renascença, which was taken over by the government.

About 200 of the demonstrators later gathered outside Communist party headquarters but were held back by troops, who fired shots into the air and threw tear gas grenades and fireworks to disperse the crowd.

MONT-GABRIEL — Premier Robert Bourassa yesterday laid down his conditions for repatriation of the Canadian constitution and challenged Prime Minister Trudeau to make the next move.

Insisting that any new constitutional conference will be a waste of time unless Quebec's demand for full control of communications and immigration are accepted for discussion, Bourassa said he is awaiting Trudeau's answer.

"I think it is desirable that Canadians and Quebecers have the responsibility for their own constitution," said Bourassa.

"But if Mr. Trudeau says there is no question of discussing anything but simple repatriation, it is not worth holding a conference," he said at the closing of a three-day party seminar here.

A 1971 attempt to repatriate the 1867 British North America Act from the parliament of Great Britain failed when Bourassa refused to agree to an amending formula without a prior guarantee Quebec would have a final say in all matters of social policy.

DEMANDS CHANGED

His demands have now changed and are grouped under the slogan "cultural sovereignty."

A transfer of constitutional authority over communications and immigration are his essential conditions to any constitutional agreement, he repeated yesterday.

Bourassa indicated Quebec could be satisfied without any special constitutional status if the federal government accords the other nine provinces the same jurisdictions.

"If the federal government wants to give the same thing to all the provinces, they can," he said.

Such a solution would mean each of the provinces would have control over its own immigration and communications.

Bourassa did say, however, the particular reality of Quebec made his responsibilities greater than those of other provincial leaders.

PREMIER ROBERT BOURASSA

Says Canadian resources won't be put on the line

LIBBY, Mont. (CP) — Agency (IEA) she is not prepared to put Canadian resources on the line.

Canada and the U.S. along with 14 other countries are members of the IEA, a loose collection of nations put together primarily by the United States to help counter moves of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC).

Macdonald and Ford officiated at the dedication of the $500 million Libby dam, built under the Canada-U.S. Columbia River Treaty.

Ford surprised reporters travelling with him by inserting lengthy references concerning the IEA into his speech. Macdonald on the other hand deleted the only reference to the IEA from his prepared text.

The part Macdonald left out stated:

"Both our nations, Mr. President, are dedicated, through participation in the IEA with 16 other oil consuming nations, to the development of new energy sources and to the better conservation of those we have."

WANT CO-OPERATION

Later in an interview, Macdonald said:

"The IEA has a special implication for Canada that we are concerned about. We are interested in co-operation in research projects."

Decision on Games gambling casino due

A decision on whether Quebec will have a gambling casino in time for the Olympic Games will be made "in the next few months," Premier Robert Bourassa said yesterday.

The main obstacles holding us up is deciding whether or not to amend the Criminal Code, and how much of the casino will be privately and governmentally-owned," he said.

"It will take two or three more months to clear up the legal implications, but the amount of private investment involved is our second major consideration."

Speaking on CFCF's In Conversation, the premier said Mayor Jean Drapeau's promise that next year's Games will be self-financing will gain credibility if the province goes ahead with plans to open a casino.

Locations being considered for Quebec's first legal gambling house include the Olympic Tower and St. Helen's Island in Montreal, and the Manoir Richelieu resort hotel in La Malbaie, 75 miles north-east of Quebec City.

The premier said no decision has been made on how many casinos might be opened, but "let's just say there will be one for the time being."

Bourassa said the casino would be a crown corporation, but how much private investment could be involved is also being studied.

He said a casino could help to "balance the books" of the Olympic Games by reducing its deficit.

"It is not fair to have a totally negative approach to the Olympics because there are money-making schemes that will pull it out of the deficit," said the premier.

"A lot of people don't see the great social, cultural and financial advantages of the Olympics. When the Games are finished there will be half a billion dollars of physical installations for the city's use."

Egypt, Israel agree on spies

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon said late yesterday that Israel and Egypt have agreed to establish matching surveillance stations in the Sinai Desert as part of a proposed nonaggression agreement.

The development increased hopes United States Secretary of State Henry Kissinger might wrap up a new Sinai settlement within the next few days. Both he and Allon said they are optimistic.

Kissinger told reporters after a five-hour session with the Israeli negotiating team that Israel and Egypt also are settling their differences on new lines to be taken by their forces when Israel withdraws from the strategic Gidi and Mitla passes.

Allon said an Israeli surveillance station would be set up on the western edge of Gidi pass as Israeli troops pull back to the east and Egypt would have a similar station on Gidi's eastern foothills.

In Egypt, presidential spokesman Tahseen Bashir said the Cairo government considers the current Sinai negotiations "fluid and promising." He made the comment after Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy and U.S. Ambassador Hermann Eilts met twice for a total of three hours to review reports Kissinger sent from Israel.

"On most major items, agreement is close," Kissinger said as he prepared to shuttle back to Alexandria today to explore remaining and unspecified differences with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

But he added: "You can run into difficulties and I don't want to make a final judgment."

An Israeli foreign ministry spokesman said at least two more Kissinger shuttles between Jerusalem and Alexandria would be needed to complete the settlement.

Reuters news agency quoted U.S. and Israeli officials as saying that under the proposed peace agreement, Egypt pledges it will not join the attack in any new Middle East war if it is started by other Arab countries. But Egypt would be free to join the fight if Israel was the aggressor.

TORONTO (CP) — Dan Genge, 27, of Toronto was in serious condition in a hospital intensive care unit Sunday after his kite collapsed 300 feet above Lake Ontario and crashed during the water show at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Officials said the kite's wings collapsed under pressure from a gust of wind.

MONTREAL (CP) The union for the city's 3,400 striking bus drivers and subway operators has called a membership meeting for today to vote on a return to work.

But officials of the Brotherhood of Bus Drivers, Metro Operators and Allied Services said it will be at least Tuesday before commuters, without public transportation since Wednesday, can expect a resumption of services.

Quebec Labor Minister Gerald Harvey arranged Friday for the union and the Montreal Urban Community Transit Commission MUCTC to resume negotiations Tuesday.

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Robert McClure, former moderator of the United Church of Canada, will become doctor-in-chief of the Amazonian Hospital in South America just in time for his 75th birthday.

Dr. McClure, who spent 50 years as a missionary doctor in China, India, the Middle East and Borneo, served as the first layman moderator of the United Church from 1968 to 1971.

The hospital, located outside the river town of Pucallpa, 500 miles from Lima, Peru, has 120 beds to serve natives in the surroundings area. It is non-denominational and is supported in part by Canadian charities such as Miles for Millions.

Splinter urges Peron to resign

BUENOS AIRES — (AP-Reuters) — The Authentic Peronist party, a splinter group of Argentina's ruling Peronist movement, yesterday called on President Isabel Peron to resign.

The group was formed a few months ago and there were reports former president Hector Campora might return from Mexico to lead the party in the 1977 elections.

Peron was ratified as chief of the mainline Peronist party Saturday, but more than 100 delegates walked out during the stormy meeting demanding greater freedom of choice.

Terrorist violence continued as police in La Plata, 25 miles south of Buenos Aires, reported that a number of gunmen tried to raid an army communications centre. They said soldiers repelled the raiders and killed or wounded three. No army casualties were reported.

More than 20 persons were killed in a week of bloody terrorist attacks around the country that also left about 30 wounded.

BODY FOUND

Terrorism erupted in six Argentine cities Saturday and police said they found the body of a kidnapped army major 24 hours after a marxist guerrilla communique announced he had killed himself.

has asked for aces. Six clubs shows zero or four kings, six diamonds one king, six hearts two kings and six spades three kings.

It is most important to bear in mind that when you ask for kings you are guaranteeing that your side holds all the aces.

This makes it possible for the partner of the Blackwooder to take charge when he has the right cards. It wasn't hard for North to count to 13 tricks after South's bids of four and five notrump. Then since the game was match points, North bid the grand slam in notrump. Ten points means nothing in rubber bridge - in duplicate it may mean the difference between a good score and a top.

Ask the Jacobys

"I responded one notrump to my partner's spade opening. He jumped to three spades. What should I bid with:
▲ 8 4 ♥ X X ♦ A 10 X X X
♠ K 9 X X ?"

We would bid four spades. Our seven high card points are in the form of an ace and a king and even our doubleton heart might be worth a trick. Our second choice is to pass and we definitely would not rebid three notrump.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Blackwood is not really a method of bidding slams. It is a method of checking for aces after you have counted enough trick-taking potential to make a small or even a grand slam.

Thus, you should plan to bid six any time your partner's response shows that your side holds three aces.

If his response shows that you hold all four aces you may settle for six, invite seven or even bid seven.

The normal way to invite seven is to follow up your four notrump with five notrump. This follow-up asks for kings in the same manner four notrump

Innovation, gov't. funds means new kind of milk

QUEBEC (CP) - Businessman Michel Gilbert believes two principles sustain the health of a small business—"innovation and government aid."

Mr. Gilbert, director-general of the Quebec City dairy Laiterie Cite Ltd. was possessed with a heaping of innovative spirit. Government assistance, however, did not flow as freely.

Mr. Gilbert revealed his innovative spirit by becoming what he believes is the first North American producer to market aseptic milk to the general public. This type of sterilized milk can sit at room temperature for six months, providing the liquid remains sealed in its special lined container.

The milk has been marketed on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River for five weeks and is expected to be introduced soon into the Quebec City region.

Aseptic milk has been sold in Europe for about 10 years under the name UHT, an abbreviation for "ultra haute temperature"—a reference to the heating process in treating the milk. AID SOUGHT million was necessary. Mr. Gilbert turned to federal government agencies for financial assistance.

In order to develop the process at the Laiterie Cite, an expenditure of $1.2

The federal departments of agriculture, industry and commerce and health were skeptical and indifferent, he said.

When he approached the department of regional economic expansion, agreement could not be reached on the amount of the dairy's assets and, therefore, the amount of a grant. However, a grant of $135,000 to $200,000 is still being negotiated, he said.

A $10,000-grant did arrive from the manpower department.

Response from the Quebec government was more hearty.

The Quebec agriculture marketing board approved the aseptic milk project, paving the way for a $202,000-grant from the Quebec Industrial Development Corp., a Crown agency.

All necessary loans for the project were financed by the Quebec Deposit and Investment Fund, the investment arm of the Quebec Pension Plan.

UNLIMITED HORIZONS

Mr. Gilbert believes his product has unlimited horizons. Because the milk does not sour, it could be exported without refrigerated transportation facilities.

Since the dairy began producing the milk, several interested U.S. businessmen have toured the plant.

To make the milk aseptic and thereby remove all bacteria, it must be heated to 70 degrees Celsius and then rapidly heated to 145 degrees for only two seconds. The milk is then quickly cooled to 20 degrees.

Because the milk is continually kept moving, it does not boil. Company officials say this type of process prevents the milk from acquiring a foreign taste or from losing nutrients.

The dairy markets the milk in litres, in anticipation of the upcoming conversion for the entire industry to the metric system.

The Quebec agriculture marketing board pegs the price of the aseptic milk to the price of what is commonly called two per cent milk.

At the retail level, a litre, or 33 fluid ounces, of aseptic milk sells for between 43 cents and 47 cents. Two per cent milk costs between 49 cents and 53 cents for a quart, or 40 fluid ounces.

To celebrate 90th birthday

DANVILLE - Congratulations are being extended to Mrs. R. Lindsay Barlow, who will celebrate her 90th birthday on August 29 at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Barlow, Pine Ave., Danville.

Mrs. Barlow, the former Florence Thurber, was born in Trout Brook, and lived on the farm, where she had been born, until 27 years ago, when they retired and she and Mr. Barlow moved to Danville, where he died shortly after having sold the farm.

Since that time Mrs. Barlow has resided with her son and is close to her daughter, Mrs. Stella Horan and always welcomes any of her grandchildren who may be in the vicinity.

One of her special joys is seeing her two great-grandchildren, Sonya and Derek Horan who live next door, and make frequent calls on her.

From her many friends come heartfelt wishes for continued good health and a very happy birthday.

The ones who attended the Summer Event sponsored by the United Church held in Ottawa, Ont., brought back a very enthusiastic report of the well-planned, interesting and worth-while event. Who were they? Mrs. Basil Prescott and Miss Gail Harron.

Callers at the Murray home included Mrs. W. Cohoon of Pointe Claire, Mrs. Catherine Neilsen and Mr. Irvine Seiden of Detroit, Mich. One day Mrs. Murray accompanied the two latter to Scotstown where they spent a few minutes with Mrs. A.W. Murray, and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Parsons and Miss Judy Parsons.

Cookshire Fair, 1975, has come and gone, being blessed with fine weather.

Several attended the Slides of Churchill area, Manitoba, and the running commentary, given by Ann McBurney, R.N. of East Clifton, and held in the hall, filled to capacity, in Sawyerville United Church, and sponsored by the local U.C.W. Ann certainly enjoyed her experiences in our far North, and very generously shared many of them with others. Good luck, Ann, in your new work and studies in Winnipeg, Man.

Tape piracy called "terrible problem"

TORONTO (CP) - The unauthorized reproduction and reduced-price sale of tape recordings is a "terrible problem" for Canadian record companies, says George Struth, president of Quality Records Ltd. of Toronto.

Mr. Struth, 44, president of the Canadian Recording Industry Association, said in an interview he was not able to estimate the dollar cost of the tape piracy, but some sources say it costs the industry up to $5 million a year.

He said tape sales have remained steady at between 25 and 30 per cent of total industry sales and that tape piracy may be skimming off the true growth of the tape industry.

"Maybe there's still growth and they're taking it away," he said.

He said the industry was concerned about the problem because it was unable to take action until the piracy occurred.

Sales in Canada this year were softer because of economic conditions, he said, adding that he believed things were picking up.

SAYS METHOD WRONG

He also said the Canadian record industry is interested in encouraging development of Canadian recording artists, but a proposal to apply a surtax to the price of tapes and records made from foreign-produced master tapes is attacking the problem the wrong way.

Mr. Struth said the surtax, recommended in a report by a civil servant to the Ontario government, might lead to retaliation in kind from other

WI meeting

BURY - The regular meeting of the Bury WI was held Thursday afternoon, Aug. 7 at the home of Mrs. Gordon Dougherty with Mrs. Russell Dougherty as co-hostess, and 14 members and eight visitors present.

Cowansville home levelled by fire

COWANSVILLE (JM) — A fire of yet unknown origin which broke out at 11:30 a.m. yesterday completely destroyed John Dunn's residence located behind Le Bouvillon Steak House.

Members of the Cowansville Fire Department declared the blaze under control at midnight although three men remained on duty until eight this morning. No value has yet been set on damages. Mr. Dunn, a local furniture dealer, used the basement of his home as the storage area and Cowansville police and fire chief Arthur Jacques told The Record the cellar was full of furniture.

Mr. Dunn said he lit his furnace which feeds a hot water system and went to Freighsburg and upon his return he saw police cars near the steak house and asked if it was on fire. He was told it was his domicile.

A girl who has yet to be named, who was working on a research project in the home, smelled the smoke and called the fire department. She escaped the building, managing to save only the clothing she had on.

The firemen used as many as 12 hoses on the wooden-frame stucco-covered structure. Only the walls remain standing this morning.

Sentence awaited for kidnap case

SHERBROOKE (RM) — The confessed kidnappers of 63-year-old Lena Blanchet will learn October 7 the price they will have to pay for their actions.

Sessions Court Judge Benoit Turmel set the date for the sentencing for Fernand Beland, 37, and his 25-year-old brother Friday following an hour and 40 minutes of arguments from both the prosecution and the defense.

Mrs. Blanchet was indiscreetly seated in the public gallery with her husband Conrad, founder of the Produits Blanchet margarine enterprise, during the proceedings, directly across the room from the two Drummondville brothers who, August 7, changed their initial pleas to guilty of kidnapping her.

Arguing first, Crown prosecutor Michel Pinard called upon Quebec Police Force Corporal Rock Gaudreau, then QPF Sgt. Marcel St-Marie to hand the court new information in the case.

Mr. Pinard also questioned Mr. St. Marie, a specialist in kidnappings and extortions who worked on the Blanchet case, on the number of kidnappings and extortions that occurred less than a year before the five-day Blanchet kidnapping saga began June 24.

Mr. St. Marie replied there have been about 70 kidnappings and extortions in Quebec since September 3, 1974, most of which were by individuals encouraged by the success of such previous crimes.

He was about to go into more detail but was sent down from the witness box after Judge Turmel upheld the defense attorney's protests that the information was totally irrelevant in the case being tried.

Prosecutor Pinard continued, meanwhile, calling for the maximum penalty for kidnapping — life imprisonment — to be given the Drummondville brothers.

Representing Fernand Beland, a businessman and former executive with the Skiroule snowmobile company, Sorel attorney Claude Martin explained his client never had a previous criminal record, did not in any way molest Mrs. Blanchet while she was in captivity, had not laid hands on the never-recovered ransom money and was cooperative with authorities after being taken into custody and questioned.

For Fernand, the kidnapping venture was "an accident of fate," said Mr. Martin, who concluded by asking Judge Turmel to use discretion in sentencing the brothers.

The second defense attorney, Michel Houle of Drummondville, reiterated for his client, Jean-Marc.

The Belands will remain in custody at the Winter Street Jail here until they return for sentencing.

Mrs. Blanchet was kidnapped from her Rock Forest home last June 24, and held for $1 million ransom. She was found June 29 during an early-morning police raid on a farmhouse near Drummondville, where Jean-Marc was also taken. His brother was arrested by officers shortly after.

Appeals for bail by the Belands were repeatedly turned down.

Granby water situation alleviated

GRANBY (JM) — "The three million gallons daily coming from Lake Waterloo will serve as a stop-gap," said Andre Laliberte, Granby Town Engineer. "The move by the Waterloo town council was approved by the Quebec Department of Natural Resources and the flow of water in the north branch of the Yamaska River began to reach us some time Friday."

"Nonetheless, we will have to evaluate the situation day by day if there is no rain. Frankly if it doesn't rain within the next week, I think we will have to severely curtail the use of water in the industrial sector, especially in textiles, plastics and the Granby Cooperative plant."

"Some industries may be asked to either cut back production or cease production until our water supply becomes stable again."

"We will attempt to hold sufficient water reserves for domestic consumption and fire prevention. If the worst happens, we will halt the supply of domestic water."

Lake Boivin, the town's main reservoir has a normal capacity of 500 million gallons, however there is no means of determining reserves within the lake as it covers a river course which provides for erratic measurement.

Construction of a 625-acre reservoir at Savage Mills has been stopped due to the high fire index. All unmarketable wood from the future site is burned and burning permits have been cancelled for five weeks so far this summer.

This city of 35,000 usually consumes 11.5 million gallons daily when the reservoirs are full. The usage has dropped by one million gallons daily since last August 15 and the minimum target is six million gallons daily.

Mr. Laliberte indicated there has been a spirit of cooperation to date, however, he suggested cooperation may prove not to be the solution to water conservation. "We may have to resort to even tougher

Expansion discussed by Historical Society

STANBRIDGE EAST — An executive meeting of the Historical Society was held on Monday at the museum, the main topic of discussion being expansion in the future.

This museum is rated in the top bracket for County Museums in the Province, but is not content to rest on its laurels. There are great possibilities ahead to further enhance its value to students, the public and especially to the county.

Due to so much dry weather and leakage around the gates, water in the millpond is very low, so Mayor Blinn and councillors were invited to come to the meeting and inspect the situation. They very kindly complied and reported that their plans are to close two of the three gates completely as only one is necessary for draining the pond.

A log boom connecting the mill and the two ice breakers is also under consideration, badly needed to prevent weeds and floating refuse from collecting around the museum.

The townspeople are very pleased to see that the weeds along the sidewalks are being cleaned up, even if it did take an outsider to forcefully bring to the attention of the mayor this unsightly condition, that has existed all summer. A fine job is being done by a very competent laborer.

This is a very pretty little Victorian style village, where 99 percent of the property owners take pride in keeping up the appearance of their grounds and buildings and feel that it is only right to seek cooperation from the local council.

Arson suspected in Sherbrooke fire

SHERBROOKE (BP) — Sherbrooke fire department investigators have concluded their work on two fires on King St. which occurred a week apart, but police detectives have now taken up the search for clues to lead to conclusive details as to how both started.

The blazes, at 207 and 217 King St. W. on the corner of Cathedrale and another at 1376 King West, corner of Vanier, both originated from "criminal causes," said detective Lieut. Leblanc of the municipal force. The criminal causes referred to would be either negligence or arson.

The Aug. 12 fire at King and Cathedrale was called in at 4:35 a.m. and the one last week on Aug. 19 was phoned in at 4:11, a difference of only 24 minutes to separate them exactly by one week. Despite the almost too clear connection, officials to date don't think the two were connected.

The first fire claimed two lives of the eight occupants in the two buildings which were gutted by flames. In the second, luckily, two motorists passing by threw rocks at second storey bedroom windows to wake the two occupants who lived in an apartment, thus avoiding another tragedy.

La Cellule Boutique, O'Malley grocery store, O. Mailhot Draperies and Roy the Apothecary were the four businesses which suffered ground floor damages from the King-Cathedrale fire, while only one enterprise, Centre d'Appareils Menagers, suffered material losses. It was in the basement where second-hand appliances were stored that the King-Vanier blaze was started, in some packing crates. The first fire started between the two buildings near the back, likely in one of several barrels lined along the wall.

About $25,000 in damages to the building and appliances was caused by the fire to the basement. The first and second floors, where the store and apartments are located, suffered primarily smoke damage.

Police are still checking out leads which might lead them to suspects in one fire or the other, or both.

Reports of a fire chemist from the Medico-Legal Lab in Montreal will be made available soon to local authorities and they are expected to give the fire and police investigators a better insight as to what caused both criminal blazes.

Alexandra Rebekah Lodge

BURY — On August 19, the second session of the month was held in the lodge room with 12 members present and Sister Annie Morrison, N.G. presiding.

In the absence of the Chaplain and Warden, the chairs were filled by Sister Lillian Olson and Sister Lyla MacLeod respectively.

The Sect. Sister Christeen Matheson read the reports of the last meeting and approved. One bill for fruits and juices was ordered paid.

Down the Drain

Having discovered that inflation remains "a very stark reality", a discovery made long ago by every household in Canada, Prime Minister Trudeau adds: "Obviously wage settlements are too high and prices have not been brought under control. It is something we must absolutely solve or we will go down the drain and price ourselves out of the market." How does the government propose to solve that problem? Mr. Trudeau has not said but at last he recognizes the most obvious economic fact of these times — that wages and prices are the two sides of the same coin and both must rise or fall together.

From the prime minister's latest statement it might be supposed that the government was only an innocent and helpless spectator of an economy on the way down the drain. The truth is that the government opened the drain in the first place by its fiscal-monetary policies, its huge budgetary deficits, debts and resulting high interest rates. Moreover government, not private business, has set the pace for wage increases that now frighten Mr. Trudeau, as well they may.

During the first quarter of this year, according to the federal labor department, average Canadian wages in the public and private sectors rose by 16.9 per cent during the second quarter by 18.8 per cent roughly double the figure in the United States where most of Canada's exports are sold. But Canadian governments — federal, provincial and municipal — increased the average wages of their employees by 17.4 per cent, in the first quarter, 23.9 per cent in the second. In future negotiations the unions of private industry will try to catch up with the pace set by government and financed by the taxpayers.

This is only part of the "very stark reality" discovered by Mr. Trudeau. When Canada, with its non-competitive wages and costs, is running an annual trade deficit of $5 billion or more, when its dollar has fallen on the international money market and its foreign exchange reserves are shrinking, the reality for the future is even more serious than the immediate effects on the Canadian household. At this rate the nation's standard of living must also fall.

Mr. Trudeau failed to foresee, or at any rate to admit, these prospects until now but he does not exaggerate them. His statement clearly implies, without openly admitting, another mistake by his government. It long argued that Canada could do little or nothing to curb soaring wages, costs and prices, because they were pushed upward by the uncontrollable forces of the world economy. Now he says "we must absolutely solve" that problem or suffer disastrous consequences. So there is a possible solution after all within Canada itself.

Escapes are all too brief at James Bay site

LA GRANDE, Que. (CP) — There are three ways to escape to the bottom of a glass at this construction site of the world's largest earth-filled dam.

At the 1,000-seat tavern, men in dusty work clothes chug-a-lug draught beer in a smoke-filled room so noisy that an hour of conversation leaves a person hoarse.

Those able to latch onto one of the 150 women at this camp of 2,600 persons can drink beer at Le Club Femina and dance to music popular in Montreal discotheques 600 miles to the southeast.

Employees with real status can sip cocktails with their wives at the Club des Cadres, which sits on a hill overlooking the main camp. There is a great temptation to compare the Club des Cadres to a feudal castle brooding over a valley of serfs, except the architecture of this watering hole for management types is more like a spanking-new machine shed.

At this camp, known as LG-2, escapes are brief, whether they be alcohol, sports, movies or just plain solitude in a quiet corner.

Everyone, management and workers, toils long hours. Some work 10 hours or more a day, seven days a week. Bedtime is early and breakfast is at 5 a.m.

During work or leisure, it is impossible to escape the harsh environment, the dust in summer, the cold in winter, the absence of Sunday dinners with the family.

After 60 days of work, an employee receives a free airplane ticket to Montreal. One young road worker from Ste. Agathe, Que., in the Laurentian mountains, said he marks the days with Xs on his dormitory wall.

For some, the isolation in the land of spindly black spruce is too much.

Marcel Vigneault, a hard-boiled veteran of the 135,000-square-mile James Bay territory and director of its municipal police force, says that only a small minority "go bush."

Going bush is when the mind snaps and a man's friends start to notice peculiar habits developing—like standing on the edge of a pier for three hours staring into space.

At LG-2, the largest of the four damsites along La Grande River, and at the nearby executive community of Radisson, most people admit life is hard. But most do not find it unbearable.

Gerald Hamel, a James Bay Energy Corp. administrator with 21 camps under his charge, appears to be comfortable with his life at Radisson. But then, he is one of 150 management personnel lucky enough to live with his wife and family in a trailer, which is furnished like a middle-class Montreal apartment.

The majority of people in the James Bay territory live in spartan dormitories and eat in huge antiseptic cafeterias.

At such cafeterias, dressing up for dinner means shaking the dust off your clothes at the doorstep.

"My wife? Oh, she just loves it here," Mr. Hamel said during an interview in his trailer, which he rents for $60 a month—fuel and electricity included.

"She's found a new talent since she's been up here—art," he proudly says showing her latest paintings.

His wife is an exception, though, he said. "Probably nine out of 10 wives a Radisson would jump at the chance to go home."

Mr. Hamel admits that sometimes he misses things from his former life in Longueuil, Que., near Montreal. "Sometimes I get the taste of pizza in my mouth and I say to the wife, 'Wouldn't it be nice to go out and have a pizza?'"

There are a lot of things like that, he said, such as being able to buy good clothes, nights on the town. "When you start to complain about those things, it is just the tip of the iceberg. Once you start, it's hard to stop."

He said some people are disappointed with their lives in the James Bay territory because conditions are not more primitive.

"We're men transplanted in the forest, but we're not fighting the wilderness. . . . Some people find they have just exchanged tall buildings for small trees."

CUSTOMS NECESSARY

He believes it is important to allow people to continue as many traditional social customs as possible.

"You'll see some men who go to the tavern every night with their work clothes on, but on Saturday night they will put on a white shirt. They're drinking in the same place with the same people, but before they always got dressed up Saturday night and now they can't change that habit."

Maude Delangis, an office worker for a construction company at LG-2, has had to cast aside a few habits from her previous life in Joliette, Que., a small town near Montreal.

Mrs. Delangis, a petite, spunky woman in her early 20s who speaks as fast as a jackhammer, is vice-president of Le Club Femina, which she likes to call "our women's only sanctuary."

Men can attend the club, which is basically a discotheque, only if invited by a woman.

"Some men will beg a girl just to be taken inside for a few minutes," she said during an interview in the dimly-lit club where couples repeatedly played the slowest waltzes on the juke box.

She does not think life is any harder for women than for men in the James Bay area.

"People have to reconcile themselves to the facts of life here and once that is accomplished, they survive."

Mrs. Delangis had to reconcile herself to the fact that her husband works at the same camp, yet they are not permitted to sleep together. Men and women are forbidden to enter dormitories housing the opposite sex.

Life at LG-2, however, is not without some compensations. The cafeteria may not be one's ideal spot for dining out, but the food is plentiful and good.

Marcel Menard, kitchen supervisor, said pastries are destroyed when their whipped cream topping starts to sag.

"If the pastries weren't perfect, the men would lose confidence in the kitchen."

Another crisis in Ireland

LONDON (CP) — The murderous politics of Northern Ireland have ignited another crisis this week as Roman Catholics and Protestants continue their slaughter with bombs and bullets.

Raising fears of a deadlock, leaders from both sides have broken off talks that were to have set the stage for resumption of a constitutional convention in the coming weeks.

The closed-door discussions are to start again next week, although the two sides issued a statement conceding deep divisions on "the basic structure" of a new Ulster government.

The convention itself, already postponed once, is due to resume next month. But there is growing fear that it will be unable to agree on a constitution that would bring peace between Ulster's Protestant majority and the Roman Catholic minority.

While the politicians plan their moves, the death toll for August has risen to 16.

Police say 11 Protestants and five Catholics have been murdered in terrorist action despite a so-called ceasefire declared by the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army (IRA).

KILLINGS CONTINUE

The endless round of killings and reprisals has claimed 1,282 lives since what the Irish call "the troubles" began in 1969.

Since the February start of the current ceasefire 122 people have been murdered.

Despite the bloodshed, hopes for peace glimmered throughout the summer as Protestant and Catholic leaders met privately and agreed on some elements of a new political system.

It appears, however, that the old divisions are as deep as ever. The Protestant majority, through the United Ulster Unionist Council, still insists that any new cabinet contain only majority representatives—no Catholics.

The Catholics, through the Social Democratic and Labor Party, insist on a share in cabinet operations.

Various compromises were considered, including a proposal for powerful legislative committees that would contain Catholic members. But none has been accepted so far.

Meanwhile, hardliners on both sides have assured supporters there will be no compromise on principles. It is the extremists who cannot be reconciled—Protestants demanding continued union with Britain, Catholics demanding union with the Irish Republic.

Record Yester Years 20 Years Ago

MONTREAL — A high-ranking 12-man delegation of Russian farmers arrive here today from the United States to begin a 16-day tour of Canada. And the Canadian official who has mapped out their 4,000 mile route says he hopes it may help improve Soviet-Canadian relations.

The Russians were due at Dorval airport at about 2 p.m. following five weeks of intensive touring through 12,000 miles of United States farmlands.

They remain here tonight when all of Quebec's farm leaders, from the provincial agricultural minister to the heads of provincial farm organizations, plan to greet them at a dinner party.

Their host Friday will be Senator J.A. Godbout, a pre-war premier of Quebec who will show them around his 1,000-acre farm in the Freighsburg area southeast of here. On the farm are a prize herd of Shorthorns and other cattle and some 10,000 apple trees.

The Russians are scheduled to visit the Eastern Townships and the Granby co-operative starting at 9 a.m. Friday. Following other visits, including their trip to Senator Godbout's farm, they return here and drive to Ottawa Saturday.

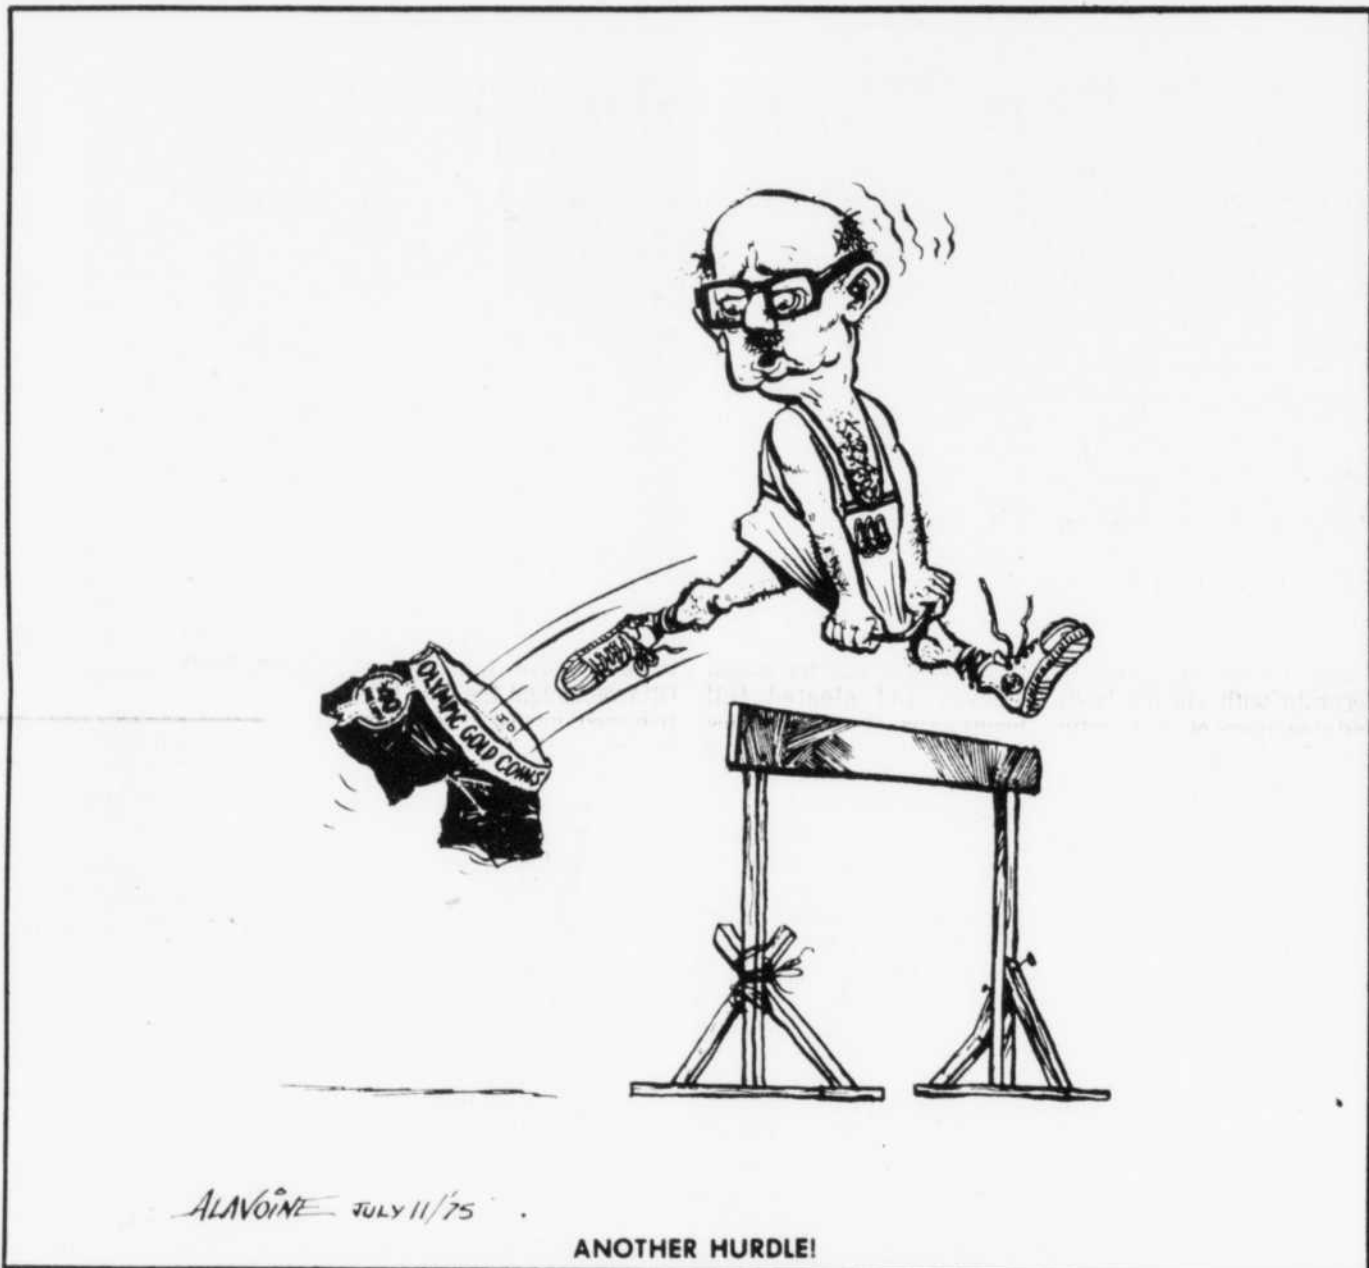

45 Years Ago

QUEBEC — "It was just a case of the Anglican Church handling a situation which required drastic treatment without any gloves on," said Rev. Dr. C.A. Seager, Bishop of Ontario, in discussing on his arrival here on the Cunard Liner Antonia, the recent Lambeth conference decision on birth control.

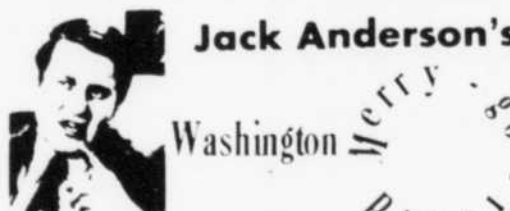

"I may say that we fully realized what we were up against when this matter was discussed and we mostly strongly understood the faith of the Church in all the sanctity of marriage and the glory of family life. Not only that but we believe and most strongly stressed the privilege of being allowed to share in the activity of God of the procreation of the human race.

"There is no attempt to gloss over this matter which has been so much before the public eye and I think that perhaps the strong feminine movement all over the world had a great deal to do with it. We just took upon ourselves to get right at the heart of the matter and settle it in the best way we knew how.

"We fully recognized that there are circumstances and conditions where birth control should be practiced for reasons of health, and with proper medical advice there is no reason why it shouldn't be, but we most certainly will not think of condoning it for any purely personal feeling or motive of selfishness."

Mob 'hit' Hoffa

WASHINGTON — The story behind the disappearance of James Hoffa, according to our own investigation, has implications far more important than the fate of one man.

If our underworld sources are correct, Hoffa has been eliminated by the mob to protect its hold on the Teamsters Union.

This richest of all unions has been a gold mine for the mob. Hundreds of millions of dollars have been funneled from the Teamster pension funds into projects that have benefited the mob.

The Central States Pension Fund alone has assets worth more than $1.3 billion. Its investments range from Las Vegas gambling casinos to Florida hotels and condominiums.

There is grim irony in the Hoffa story. For it was Hoffa himself who struck an alliance with the mob back in his brawling, labor-organizing days.

He clawed his way to the top of the Teamsters Union, with the strong-arm support of the mob. In the late 1950s, a Senate investigation documented his close ties with some of the nation's most notorious mobsters.

This stimulated a federal effort to put Hoffa behind bars. The intent was to rid the Teamsters of racketeer influence. But the jailing of Hoffa in 1967, according to our sources, strengthened rather than weakened the mob's influence.

As these sources explain it, Hoffa was a strong leader who made deals with mobsters but was never dominated by them. When he went to prison, he left the union in the hands of a compliant surrogate, Frank Fitzsimmons.

Hoffa fully expected to continue running the union through Fitzsimmons. But the mobsters took advantage of Hoffa's absence to bolster their power within the union.

Fitzsimmons developed a cozy relationship, meanwhile, with then-President Richard Nixon who sought the political support of the powerful Teamsters. To the embarrassment of FBI watchdogs, for example, Fitzsimmons met with California mobsters in February 1973 and then flew back to Washington with Nixon in the presidential jet.

Our sources describe Fitzsimmons, nevertheless, as a passive rather than active tool of the mob. He hasn't abetted the mobsters, they say; he merely has been too weak to obstruct them. Meanwhile, racketeers have quietly taken control of some key Teamster locals and have tightened their hold on pension fund purse strings.

The racket bosses, therefore, didn't welcome the return of their old friend and ally, Jimmy Hoffa. They urged him to give up his ambition of resuming control of the union and offered to make it worth his while if he would retire, say our sources. "Become an elder statesman," the mob chiefs advised Hoffa.

But he wouldn't listen. Fitzsimmons allegedly used his White House connections to arrange restrictions on Hoffa's parole. Hoffa was forbidden when he came out of prison from participating in union politics.

The two-fisted Hoffa still wouldn't retire. He put up a court battle to remove the restrictions and began making moves behind the scenes to regain control of the Teamsters.

Our sources, who have given us reliable information in the past, say that top mobsters held a dozen secret meetings with Hoffa in different parts of the country and tried to persuade him in a friendly way to give up his comeback attempt.

But the old bantam rooster "wouldn't listen to reason," say our sources sorrowfully. He was on his way to another meeting when he vanished. Our sources don't ever expect to see him again.

Footnote: Spokesmen for the Teamsters Union vigorously deny that mobsters have any influence over Teamsters affairs. The Justice Department is investigating pension fund transactions, however, for evidence of racket influence. There is a possibility that court-appointed monitors might be requested, as they were in 1958, to oversee the pension funds.

Watch On Waste: The State Department fired off a curious, classified cable the other day to Barcelona, Belgrade, Bucharest, Copenhagen, Leningrad and Moscow.

These are the cities, apparently, where Speaker Carl Albert is taking a delegation of 18 congressmen and their wives. The cable explained cryptically that the accompanying Air Force escort officers were carrying ten $1,000 U.S. Treasury checks "to cover certain costs of the trip."

The cable asked whether "cashing checks in these amounts ($1,000) will be a problem." Apparently, it was not.

What is a problem, however, is finding out the purpose of this mysterious $10,000 allowance. No one at the Pentagon or State Department could explain to us exactly why the escort officers brought along the 10 Treasury Department checks. No one seemed to know what "certain costs" would be paid out of the $10,000.

We found out how the money won't be spent. No part of the $10,000, for example, will be handed out to congressmen as spending money. This will be distributed to them from counterpart funds—that is, local currencies belonging to the United States—at the rate of $75 a day for each congressman.

Nor will the $10,000 be used to offset the cost of operating the special Air Force jet ($2,200 per hour). We are assured the money also won't be spent on the 19-man Air Force crew, the four Air Force escort officers or the two State Department aides who are accompanying the congressional delegation.

We are told the plane travel will cost the taxpayers $64,900 and the daily expenses will run another $33,000. When we find out how the $10,000 was spent, we'll let you know.

The family

Ann Landers says:

Streaking 10-year-old

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing to comment on the letter from "Upstate, N.Y." complaining about today's children being poorly behaved. Your reply suggested he was out of line, but my experiences and feelings concur with his completely.

I could tell stories you wouldn't believe — including one about a 10-year-old boy who ran stark naked through each and every dinner party his parents had.

The mother of this nutty kid would respond to the gasps and arched eyebrows with, "I hope no one here is offended by the sight of a child's beautiful body."

Then there was a neighbor who had the nerve to come over here and holler at me for telling his children not to scream and rough-house in our yard. He said it was a free country and they could play anywhere they liked, and besides, our yard was nicer to play in than theirs — more grass.

When I married nine years ago I assumed we'd have children but we've been completely turned off by what we've seen. — Old Witch. Age 30

Dear Witch: If you'd let a 10-year-old streaker and a loony father deprive you of the joy of having a family, then YOU'RE nutty.

Can't you see it's the parents who are to blame, not the children? Wake up and smell the coffee, honey.

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is for the person whose weirdo father kept getting married a lot. She was afraid she might end up with six sets of in-laws.

Here is what an Internal Revenue Service publication says: "Once the relationship of father-in-law, mother-in-law, son or daughter-in-law, sister or brother-in-law, has been established by marriage, they will not be terminated by death or divorce." So, please tell the worried lady that she may well end up with a longer wedding list than she had planned.

Since the original letter concerning this matter was signed, "Who's Who?" please sign mine — Who Cares?

Dear W.C.: A lot of people care but I'm glad you wrote because the I.R.S. is one thing and who you invite to a wedding is something else again.

I see no reason to invite several sets of relatives by a variety of marriages unless there is some emotional attachment. The way this gal's father is behaving she'd have to include the immediate world.

Dear Ann Landers: Why can't people keep their big mouths shut? Our adopted daughter (age 11) came home crying yesterday. It seems our next-door neighbor told our little girl that she was adopted. I had not planned on telling Jill for another four or five years. Now the child won't eat. She is moody — says we lied to her and now she wants to find her "real" mommy and daddy. We are heartsick — and all because this big-mouth neighbor opened her yap. Please print this letter for all who feel the need to involve themselves in other people's business. — S.L.P.

Dear S.L.P.: Put the blame where it belongs — on yourself and your husband. Adopted children should be told that they were "chosen" as soon as they are able to understand what the word means. Had you done so, no big-mouth neighbor could have created this mess.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES HARRISON

Harrison-Bishop united

ROCK ISLAND — A pretty summer wedding took place at 4 p.m. on Saturday afternoon, August 16, when Marlene Gail, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bishop of Rock Island, became the bride of James William Harrison, of Edmonton, Alta., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Harrison of Massawippi, Quebec.

Rev. G.W. Stokes officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Alice McHarg played the wedding music. Baskets of summer mixed flowers were used to decorate with cluster bows and streamers of white satin marking the guest pews. The bride was escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father and given in marriage by her parents. She was wearing a gown of white peau de soie fashioned with long lace sleeves, a high neckline and cummerbund effect highwaist having a jewelled ornament at the V front from which the skirt was gently flared to drape into a cathedral length train. A Juliet cap of lace in floral pattern held in place her bouffant elbow-length veil of nylon tulle that was edged with floral lace. She carried a nosegay of white and yellow mums and yellow shasta daisies with yellow satin ribbon streamers.

Miss Heather Bishop of Edmonton, Alta., as maid of honor for her sister was in a princess-styled gown of pompadour satin in heaven blue featuring a wide bertha collar that fastened at the back.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Matthews of Greenfield Park, and Miss Nancy Bishop, East Angus, cousins of the bride with Miss Tammy Bishop as junior bridesmaid for her sister were in gowns fashioned alike of pale blue polyester cotton flock having an allover pattern of flowers in harmonizing colors with bertha collars and side sashes to loop at the back with streamers on the slightly flared skirts. They each carried long-stemmed yellow mums and yellow shasta daisies adorned with yellow satin ribbons.

The groomsmen was David Gillam of Edmonton, Alta., who a tuxedo like the groom, wore white linen jacket with blue ruffled shirt and black trousers.

The ushers were Mr. Irving Harrison, brother of the groom; Mr. Robert Matthews, and Mr. Allen McLeod, both of Bromptonville. They and the fathers of the couple wore light blue linen jackets with blue linen shirts and black trousers. Their boutonnières were white carnations.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Bishop, chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of apricot color sheer over taffeta featuring accordion pleated three quarter length sleeves and pleated full length skirt. Her accessories were in silver, her corsage was yellow mums and shasta daisies.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Harrison chose a gown of blue linen and wore white accessories and a corsage of yellow mums and shasta.

The bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Clark Jones of Tomifobia, was in a gown of light blue georgette crepe accented with a corsage of white carnations. The groom's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Idella Bain of Sawyerville, was in a multicolor silk crepe gown and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. B.W. Stewart of the Grace Christian Home, Huntingville, was unable to attend but the bride and groom visited her later.

The reception was held at the Del Monty Moon Palace dining room where a turkey dinner was served to 165 guests. The tables were decorated with lighted white candles and vases of summer flowers. The bride's table was centred with the triple-fruit wedding cake, made by the bride's mother and decorated by Mrs. Horace Doyon in white with roses and green leaves and topped with a bride and groom in front of a heart of tulle on a pedestal of pearl. The tiers were sprinkled with daisies which fell upon the mirror base, at one side blue daisies cascaded from the top to base and was adorned with tiny lighted white candles.

The blessing was said by Mr. George Cox of Montreal. Mr. Douglas Willard of Greenfield Park, was M.C. and proposed a toast to his niece, the bride. Several other toasts were proposed by the attendants and the parents of the couple with the groom responding.

The couple circulated among the guests to present the wedding cake, wrapped and adorned with a thank-you message. The tables were cleared and the remainder of the evening was spent dancing and socially with music played by Lise Flanders on her electric organ.

The bride tossed her bouquet which was caught by Julie Emery, niece of the groom. Steve Harrison of Ottawa, caught the blue lace trimmed garter thrown by the groom.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison left for overnight, then spent the remainder of their holidays with their parents in Rock Island and Massawippi, and in other communities before leaving on August 25 for Edmonton, Alta. where they will reside.

Gregory and Julie Emery, nephew and niece of the groom were in charge of the white leather bound guest book, their gift to the couple. Guests attended from Edmonton, Alta., Ontario, New Hampshire, Vermont, Greenfield Park, Sherbrooke, East Angus, Ayer's Cliff, Tomifobia, Beebe, Lennoxville and the Boundary communities.

The bride travelled to her home in the western province wearing a pant ensemble of light blue with navy blue accessories.

REHEARSAL PARTY
Friday evening, August 15, following the rehearsal for the marriage of Marlene Gail Bishop and James William Harrison at St. Andrew South church, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Harrison of Massawippi entertained the wedding party, the immediate families and a few close friends for a party.

The bride and groom exchanged gifts. The bride presented her maid of honor with a silver charm bracelet and the bridesmaids with gold lockets and chain, which they wore at the wedding. The groom presented gifts of leather wallets to his groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Harrison served buffet refreshments from the dining table, arranged with a centerpiece of summer flowers.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Saunders of Moncton, New Brunswick are pleased to formally announce the engagement of their daughter Carolyn, to Robert Bateman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bateman of Montreal. Wedding to take place in October at St. George's Anglican Church, Montreal.

Stork Shower

MARBLETON — Misses Susan Guillette, Sandra Betts and Mrs. Lloyd Betts were joint hostesses to a stork shower for Mrs. Brian Guillette at the home of Susan Guillette, last Friday evening.

Taken completely by surprise Nancy arrived to be met by Mrs. Betts who pinned on a corsage of white mums and pansies and escorted her to a gaily decorated yellow and white chair amid her many friends.

Many prettily wrapped gifts were placed before her to be opened and admired. Nancy thanked her friends for the lovely gifts which she was very pleased to receive. A few games were played with prizes going to Mrs. J. Mackay, Mrs. Grayce Betts, Mrs. Brian Guillette and Miss Sandra Betts.

Lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Paquette and Miss Elaine Paquette. A lovely shower cake in the shape of a yellow cradle was made and decorated by Mrs. Betts and which Nancy cut and passed to her guests.

On leaving, everyone extended best wishes to Nancy for which she voiced her thanks and appreciation for their kindness.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. Guillette were Mrs. Stanley Parker and daughter Patricia of Markham, Ont., and Mrs. Hilda Currie of Cookshire.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson and children of Sorel were weekend visitors of the former's mother, Mrs. R. Davidson.

Riders catch Als with win

REGINA — (CP) Ottawa Rough Riders capitalized on costly fumbles by Ron Lancaster and George Reed to dump Saskatchewan Roughriders 23-16 yesterday and move into a tie with Montreal Alouettes for first place in the Eastern Football Conference.

The interlocking Canadian Football League game, played on a rain soaked field before 20,111 fans, left Saskatchewan in first place in the Western Conference, but Edmonton Eskimos are only one win behind with Saskatchewan having played two more games.

While exploiting the Saskatchewan fumbles for scoring, Ottawa also crippled the Saskatchewan offence at crucial moments with four interceptions of Lancaster passes.

A fumble recovery led to Ottawa's first touchdown, as guard Tom Schuette pounced on the ball in the Saskatchewan end zone after teammate

Art Green fumbled on a run from two yards out.

THREE FIELD GOALS

Green scored the other Ottawa touchdowns on a one-yard run, with Kicker Gerry Organ rounding out scoring with field goals of 48, 35 and 25 yards, plus two converts.

Saskatchewan's new place-kicker, Ivan MacMillan, booted field goals of 38, 17 and 22 yards and converted a touchdown by Leif Patterson, who scored on a 27-yard pass play from Lancaster.

The game, the only one of the weekend in the CFL, was Saskatchewan's second consecutive loss in Taylor Field.

The first Ottawa break came early in the first quarter as Reed, who accumulated 123 of Saskatchewan's rushing total of 127 yards, fumbled on a run from his own 24.

Dick Adams jumped on the ball and moments later Ottawa was on the scoreboard with a field goal.

ANOTHER BREAK

Saskatchewan came back with another field goal but Ottawa got another break late in the second quarter as Lancaster fumbled and Rudy Sims recovered for a first down at the Saskatchewan 10.

That set up Schuette's fumble recovery for a touchdown. Green, whose fumble cost him credit for the score, rushed for 113 of Ottawa's rushing total of 122 yards.

Derby Fish and Game Club holds meeting

DERBY (IH) — The Derby Fish and Game Club met Monday, August 18 in their club house, which is under construction at the range and is a very attractive cabin.

Harold Carter, president, presided and reports were heard. Mr. Carter introduced and welcomed Angelo Incerpi and Mrs. Incerpi, who is the State Fisheries biologist.

Other reports noted a busy weekend when the Dirty Dozen Club from Keene, N.H. were here and did some fancy trap shooting in singles and doubles in keen competition. Local marksmen also join in some of the shoots.

Perhaps because it is Women's Lib year but Billie Mae Manley, from Hinsdale, N.H. is the only woman to join the Dirty Dozen Club and shoot the entire men's program. She was in competition Sunday and in one round, shot a score of 17, only two below top scorer.

Bob Durgin announced that September 14 the Ben Heath shooting tournament will be held at the range for the Ben Heath Trophy.

A note of appreciation was given to Bob Moulton, whose property adjoins the Club Range and who keeps a sharp eye on the range grounds. The range is also used by the 38 Club and by State Troopers for shooting.

A generous supporter of the club donated $100 towards construction of a club house, another donated insulation for the ceiling, one gave paneling, and some of the shingles were donated. These gifts were appreciated by the directors for it cuts down costs. With work parties August 20 thru to the end of the week each evening, it is expected it will be completed soon.

The final payment has been made on a piece of property purchased a few years ago. After the club house is finished, and weather permits, a social evening will be held and the mortgage burned.

After each director's meeting two people serve coffee and goodies. A list of two per meeting was made up until April 1976 with Bob Rowe and Arland Bowen taking the September meeting.

An announcement was made that on September 10 there will be an information meeting on Fisher Cats at Montpelier.

The club voted to purchase trophies to be awarded at the 1976 annual dinner. These include for best bear. Season opens September 15, for the largest deer taken during the bow and arrow season, which opens in Vermont on October 11. These may be weighed and registered with either Bill Gosselin, Derby Line, Lionel Fortin, Holland or Harold Carter, Holland.

There will also be a trophy for each man, woman and a junior who takes the largest rack. Boone and Crockett measure during the regular deer season. More about the latter to be announced after another meeting.

Ira Bachelder said he wished to resign as chairman of the archery range and it was decided by the directors to discontinue this because no interest is shown in archery. Therefore the motion was made that this no longer exists as such and the equipment is to be removed from the range.

Mr. Incerpi and the members discussed many aspects of fishing, ponds, lakes, streams, stocking and so forth. The club members made a request to close one salmon brook to permit the fish to grow and to be able to mature in a lake. Mr. Incerpi agreed to study this matter.

The meeting was adjourned and chatting with the guests learning many things concerning the fisheries department. Coffee and goodies were served by Mrs. Harold Carter and Bill Gosselin.

Al Geiberger wins despite letdown in Players Golf Championship at Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (AP) — Al Geiberger had to fight off a letdown and a growing sense of panic to mount his winning rally and beat old buddy Dave Stockton in yesterday's final round of the Tournament Players Golf Championship.

"It's a funny sensation," the skinny Geiberger said. "Leading all the way like I did, there's so much pressure on you. When I finally lost the lead, it was like the monkey was off my back. I felt a tremendous letdown."

"Fortunately, I was able to kind of pull myself together. I kept my head and just kept my mind on what I was doing."

That was on the ninth hole. He'd just blown a four-stroke lead and, suddenly, dramatically, Stockton had the lead for the first time in the tournament.

But the placid Geiberger calmly, almost casually pulled his game together, hit great shot after great shot, overhauled his scrambling friend with a last-round 69 and won by three strokes with the finest score ever recorded here.

"It's the best I've ever played," said Geiberger, who had won seven previous tournaments — including the PGA National Championship — in a 16-year pro career.

"I had every break possible," Stockton said of the essentially two-man race. "Alan made no mistakes while I was making some. Very few people could have done as well under the pressure as Alan did."

"I just can't believe he played four rounds that good. I just can't believe it."

Geiberger's erratic final round — he had five birdies and four bogeys — went with earlier scores of 66, 68, and 67 for a 270 total, 10 under par, and a record on the tough Colonial Country Club course, a 7,190-yard layout.

finishing third in a field of 14.

TWO PLAYERS SELECTED

LONDON (Reuter) — England has named Andy Jarrett and Lida Mottram to play in the junior international tennis tournament, scheduled to be held Sept. 3-6 at Forest Hills, N.Y., in conjunction with the United States Open. Jarrett will first play in the Canadian open junior championships in Ottawa later this month.

PLACED IN HARNESS

NEW YORK (AP) — Ron Blomberg of New York Yankees had his injured right shoulder placed in a harness Wednesday by club physicians and was ordered to restrict all physical activity. Blomberg, an outfielder who has missed most of the American League baseball season because of the injury, said the doctors would decide in about three weeks on whether surgery is necessary.

LIONS MAKE DEAL

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions acquired tight end John McMakin from Pittsburgh Steelers in return for an undisclosed future draft choice Thursday. McMakin, 24, who is in his fourth year in the National Football League, was the Steelers' third-round draft pick in 1972.

MANAGER QUILTS

PRESTON, England (Reuter) — Bobby Charlton, former England and Manchester United soccer star, resigned Thursday as manager of Preston North End. He quit after the directors of the Third Division club proceeded without him on negotiations for the transfer to Newcastle United of centre back John Bird for $80,000 and two players.

SAYS 'FALLING APART'

NAHANT, Mass. (AP) — Tony Conigliaro, one-time power hitter for Boston Red Sox, admitted Thursday his 30-year-old body is "falling apart." He said he is abandoning his third comeback try and beginning next month will do daily broadcasting with WJRTV in Providence, R.I. Conigliaro said he had had too many minor injuries this year and could not stand the long bus trips required in the minor leagues.

TAKES SAILING TITLE

MONTREAL (CP) — D. Roy of Ottawa won the Canadian closed 420 sailing championship here during the weekend. Fred Kamininski of Montreal finished second with Jacques Faucher of Aylmer, Que., was third. S. Sprague of Coral Gables, Fla., won the Canadian open 420 title with Roy placing second.

WINS AT DRAGWAY

WEST SALEM, Ohio (AP) — Gary Beck of Edmonton handed Don Garlits his first International Hot Rod Association loss of the year Sunday, defeating the Florida top fuel racer by three-hundredths of a second at Dragway 42. Beck went the quarter mile in 6.00 seconds. Garlits, of Tampa, Fla., finished in 6.03. Both recorded speeds of 245.23 miles an hour. Garlits had won all five IHRA national events held so far this year.

NETTLES SENT DOWN

ANAHEIM (AP) — California Angels of baseball's American League said Sunday they sent outfielder Morris Nettles to Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League to make room on the roster for reactivated catcher Bob Allietta. Manager Dick Williams said they will bring back Nettles when he is more aggressive, learns "the pitchers and how to steal bases." In 102 games, Nettles batted .238 with 23 RBI and 22 stolen bases.

CANADIAN WINS

RED BANK, N.J. (AP) — Herbert Noel of Chateaugay, Que., won the 280-cubic inch class Sunday

Rediscovering baseball

Dodgers' Stadium the place to be

LOS ANGELES — (NEA) — On these balmy summer evenings, the people stream in like microbes along the arterial freeways which feed into Walter F. O'Malley's revenue palace. They come by the tens of thousands — at a nightly rate of more than $5.00.

They have a chance to exceed more than three million, an historic figure, by the end of September — if the Los Angeles Dodgers can make a run at the Cincinnati Reds for the Western division title in the National League.

Baseball's all-time attendance record of 2,755,184, set when Dodger Stadium first opened for business in 1962, is virtually sure to be broken. More people will see the Dodgers at home this season than any team in all the recorded history of sports.

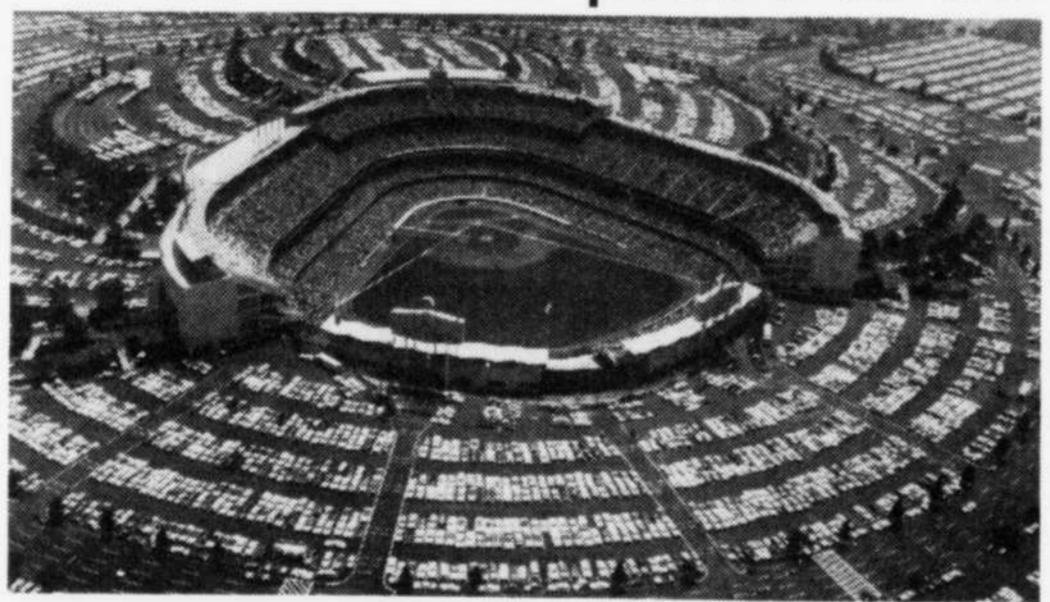

"The smartest thing they did was announced they would draw three million this year," says Hank Greenberg, who moved to Los Angeles this spring "Everyone comes out because they want to be part of it."

Greenberg is the Hall-of-Fame slugger who is familiar with luring people to baseball games. He was associated with Bill Veck in Cleveland and Chicago when those cities set their all-time attendance records a quarter of a century ago.

A general resurgence of baseball interest this year has people re-discovering the serenity of the ball park and the gentle nuances of the game. A steady five per cent increase will project baseball attendance past the 31 million mark in 1975.

The Dodgers, as the leaders of all, provide a significant counterpoint to the plight of the San Francisco Giants, who went west at the same time (1958) and now are struggling to draw more than half a million fans for the entire schedule. Los Angeles was already past the 1,000,000 milestone on June 9.

What is the magic of the Dodgers' attraction? "They've been selling tickets here for 18 years," says one astute observer. "They do it 300 days a year. No store opens or there's no gathering of 25 anywhere in southern California without the Dodgers represented."

Stu Zanville, who used to publicize the Los Angeles Lakers basketball team, says, "They've got the best total public relations approach I've ever seen in sports. Starting in 1959, they took every sports editor in a 100-mile radius to their Florida training camp. When the Lakers won 33 straight games (1972), I'd invite a sports editor and he'd say, 'Sorry, but March 8 I'm going to Vero Beach.'"

But the real story of the Dodgers as a draw is the product, and how it's wrapped. Dodger Stadium is a beautiful ball park. Walter F. O'Malley, when he moved west from Brooklyn, secured a choice parcel of 300 acres plunk in the center of greater Los Angeles and built his own stadium. He could sell his investment for at least $75 million today, and that would be a steal.

"I really and truly think it's the most beautiful of all ball parks," says Vince Scully, the Dodger broadcaster who more than anyone educated southern California to baseball. "All the other new parks without exception are football stadiums where baseball is played. This is a baseball park. We have a ball park within a park."

Where else can you sit and look out in the springtime at the Elysian hills and see ice plants rolling all over centerfield and rightfield? You see mountains in back of mountains. Add to all the natural beauty — he spent a million and a half dollars in landscaping.

"This isn't a ball park on the edge of downtown hanging over a river. This is a magnificent place. I'm sure people come here just to sit and enjoy it."

Dodger Stadium is accessible, at the confluence of the Los Angeles freeway system. Fans converge via the Hollywood freeway from the northwest, the Golden State freeway from the north, the Pasadena freeway from the northeast, the San Bernardino freeway from the east, the Santa Ana freeway from the southeast, the Harbor freeway from the south and the Santa Monica freeway from the west. And they come to a park area of the city where they won't be hassled.

A game at Dodger Stadium is, in Scully's words, "the best buy in town." Asks the announcer, "What the hell else can you buy for the same price you bought it in 1958?"

A family of four can attend a game for a total of $4.50, plus $1 for ample parking close to their seats. In the Forum, for Lakers' basketball, the cheapest single ticket, up in roster's heaven, is $4.75, and prices range to $8.75 for most seats. The scale in Dodger Stadium goes from $1.50 for bleachers (children half price) to $3.50 for choices box seats. These are prices unchanged since 1958.

"They run as fine a sports operation as there is in the country," says Carroll Rosenbloom, the owner of the Los Angeles Rams. "The (New York) Mets are close, but don't pay as much attention to the fans."

"O'Malley, you've got to respect him. He has kept the ticket prices down. He would even sell them for half price. He keeps the place spotless and makes it easy for them to get a drink or go to the bathroom."

"Intruding thought: The Dodgers show a nice profit margin of $2 million with today's inflated expenses — think what they must have made in 1962 when they drew 2.75 million people at the same prices, with only half the expenses."

Add to all the above accouterments a team worth watching. In their 17 years in Los Angeles, the Dodgers have won five National League pennants and finished second five times. They have had Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale and Maury Wills ... and now they have Mike Marshall and Andy Messersmith and Steve Garvey. (Next: Every Game a Happening)

Illegal bat gives Expos win in 14th

LOS ANGELES — Baseball in general, and pitching in particular, has changed a lot in the past decade or so. Relief pitchers have become more and more prominent.

The job of the starter is to keep his team in the game for seven innings and then give way to the expert mop-up man.

It was in this latter role that the Dodgers' relief ace Mike Marshall won the Cy Young Award as the National League's top pitcher last season. There are many, including Marshall, who feel that he deserved the most valuable player award as well.

That sort of thinking indicates the status to which bullpen pitchers have been elevated — the good ones, that is. The Expos feel that they have one of the very best, the type of man who will be MVP material under different circumstances.

GAINED SPLIT

That man is Dale Murray and it was because of his stellar work here Saturday night that the Expos gained a split of a doubleheader.

The Dodgers took advantage of pitifully weak defensive play on the part of the Expos to beat Steve Rogers 3-1 on just four hits in the first game. Then Murray slammed the door on the rallying Dodgers to give the Expos the nightcap, 5-2.

Homeruns by Larry Bittner and Mike Jorgensen were the big blows by the Expos but a four-single, three-run outburst against Marshall did the trick. That and the overpowering work by Murray.

It marked the second time in the three games that Murray and Marshall had hooked up. Murray won both times though this was the only game in which Marshall was tagged with the loss.

Centre fielder Jim Lyttle started the unlikely barrage against Marshall with a first pitch single.

Lyttle was asked if a batter would rather face a player like Marshall with his fluttersy, dippy-doodling deliveries or Murray who comes at the batters with nothing but heat. "Well, that's just going from one extreme to the other," Lyttle said. "They're both the best."

"You can't sit and wait for Marshall's screwball because he has two or three different kinds. They do different things."

Dwyer, who hit a game-winning single against Marshall last week at Jarry Park, followed Lyttle with a first pitch single and so with two pitches, Marshall had been hit twice.

Bittner then completed a three-hit game for himself and a five-hit evening with a single to score Lyttle with the winner. It was a soft liner to shallow left over a drawn-in infield.

"It was a good evening," Bittner acknowledged after his batting averaged moved to .335.

And about his third homer of the season: "I certainly don't think homerun — ever," Bittner said. "I try to hit the ball hard. That one was a good feeling because I knew I had hit it very hard but I didn't know if it was going over."

It is Marshall's theory that a good, strong, reliever should be a candidate for MVP honors because he is capable of helping his team every day, something that starting pitchers or platoon players cannot do.

In taking this defeat, Marshall was appearing in his third successive game. He gained his 13th save in the first game when he came in with two on and one-out in the seventh and preserved a sixth straight win for Burt Hooton.

"I've pitched well for six games in a row before," said Hooton, who was secured from the Cubs this season, "but I'd wind up 3-3 or 2-4. It's a great feeling to get the win."

The Expos were charged with three errors in the first game and it could easily have been four.

With the speedy Davey Lopes on second and Lee Lacy on first in the third inning, Rogers' pickoff try at second went into centre field. When Lyttle had trouble picking up the ball, Lopes raced all the way home. Only the error to Rogers was recorded.

"It was my fault," Lyttle said. "There was no bad bounce or anything. I just overran the ball and then couldn't come up with it cleanly."

Bobby Orr and Al Eagleson on sidelines waiting for Fighting Saints' decision

ST PAUL, Minn. — (AP) — Wayne Belisle, president of Minnesota Fighting Saints, says a report that defenceman Bobby Orr of Boston Bruins would sign today with the World Hockey Association team is "totally erroneous."

A Toronto newspaper said in Saturday's editions that Orr would jump the National Hockey League if $1.5 million in bonus money was placed in escrow in a St. Paul bank today.

Belisle acknowledged that he has been negotiating with Alan Eagleson, Orr's lawyer from Toronto, in an attempt to sign the player, who has one year remaining on his Boston contract.

The newspaper said Orr was prepared to sign a two-year contract with the Saints for the bonus, plus $300,000 in salary. "Alan Eagleson has never said precisely how much it would take to sign Orr," Belisle said Saturday night. "If Eagleson said we would have Orr if we had $1.5 million on Monday, I'll guarantee you I'd have the $1.5 million on Monday."

Eastern Townships places second in Quebec Games

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. (CP) — The Quebec City region took the points championship Sunday with a 237 total as the Quebec Summer Games ended. Quebec City has won the title in all five years of the Games.

The Eastern Townships region was second with 192 points followed by Abitibi with 188 in the 18-region competition. Quebec City also won 75 medals to lead the medal standings, compiling 26 golds, 30 silvers and 19 bronze.

The North Shore won the lacrosse gold medal with a 12-1 verdict over Richelieu-Yamaska, while the Eastern Townships beat South Shore 8-7 for the bronze.

Richelieu-Yamaska won the track and field title with 2,678½ points to 2,639½ for Eastern Quebec. Quebec City was third with 2,624.

Luc Poirier of Quebec City set a Games record for 11- and 12-year-olds with a toss of 52.78 metres in the discus event. Saguenay-Lac St. John collected 308 points to win the diving event, followed by Lake St. Louis with 296 and Montreal Concordia with 263.

Schoolteacher Diane Jones sets record in pentathlon

SUDBURY, Ont. — (CP) — Saskatoon schoolteacher Diane Jones broke her own Canadian record for the pentathlon at the Canadian national track and field championships which ended yesterday at Laurentian University.

Miss Jones tied a Canadian record with a leap of 1.87 metres in the high jump competition to finish with 4,673 points.

"I love pentathlon because I do two or three events each day and I don't get stale," she said.

"This is my sixth pentathlon this year. I'm very pleased with my score. It's a lot better than I've ever done before."

MONTREALER WINS

Meanwhile, Francine Gendron of Montreal set a Canadian record in the women's 400-metre hurdles with a time of 58.2 compared with the old mark of 1:00.9.

Eleanor Mahal of Toronto finished second in 59.7 while Pam Myring of Vancouver was third in 1:00.

Dave Watt of Toronto set a Canadian record in the men's triple jump with a distance of 16.05, smashing his own mark of 15.76.

Thelma Wright, who finished third in the event in the British Commonwealth games in 1970 and 1974 finished with a time of 4:15.1 to win the 1500 metres while Abby Hoffman was second in 4:15.4.

"I wasn't going in just against Abby," said Miss Wright. "I thought I was the favorite because I won last year."

Miss Wright said she had planned to run the race at her pace and both Miss Wright and Miss Hoffman said they were worried more about their placing than their times.

Superstars to sue promoters for salary after shutting down show at Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH — (AP) — Several athletes among 18 hired for a five-day "Super-sports" show at the Convention Center here said they plan legal action after promoters shut down the show early without paying them.

The athletes were given cheques Friday for their appearance at the show but were told Saturday the cheques would bounce if they tried to cash them.

The show was to have run through yesterday but closed Saturday after drawing only about 3,000 spectators in the first three days. It was being held in a facility capable of handling 10,000 spectators at one time.

Former baseball great Willie Mays estimated he was "out $20,000" because of his participation in the show.

"I'm not going to let them off the hook," he said. "When you let it go, then you'll have another group come along and do the same thing."

The promoters brought in 18 athletes and former athletes to demonstrate sports skills, sign autographs and talk to the fans.

It was billed as a chance for fans to "touch the stars."

Athletes included runners Jim Ryun and Ben Jipcho, baseball's Mickey Mantle, billiards player Willie Mosconi, boxer Ken Norton, former football player Gale Sayers, bowler Paula Sperber, pole vaulter Bob Segren and basketball player John Havlicek.

MILBY CLUB CHAMPIONS — The Lennoxville Ladies held their club championships on Sunday, with Denise Roch taking the over-all title. Shown above are Mrs. Myrtle Allan, ladies' club president, congratulating Miss Roch and presenting her with the J.P. Perrault Trophy, while Mrs. Marcie Logan holds the Elliott Basket Trophy for winning the ladies' senior section. Missing is Mrs. Gerry Blouin, who captured the business girls championship and the Cohen Rose Bowl.

Giants' Ed Halicki hurls no-hitter

While Ed Halicki was throwing zeroes at New York Mets for the Giants in San Francisco, the Dodgers were coming up empty in Los Angeles.

While Halicki was the reason the Mets lost a 6-0 no-hitter to the Giants in a National League baseball game Sunday, the Dodgers had themselves to blame for a 5-3, 14-inning loss to Montreal Expos.

Virtually everything that could have gone wrong went that way for Los Angeles, which wasted 11 innings of four-hit pitching by Don Sutton, had an apparent winning run nullified when an illegal Dodgers bat was discovered, and saw the winning Expos run score on a wild pitch by Mike Marshall.

The Mets, at least, were overpowered by a pitcher who permitted only four batted balls to reach the outfield; one who missed the strike zone only 35 times in 122 pitches.

Four batted balls to the Los Angeles infield turned into errors — two by Dave Lopes and two by Bill Russell.

The Mets had topped the Giants 9-5 in the first game of a doubleheader. In Sunday's other National League game, Houston Astros defeated Chicago Cubs 8-4. St. Louis Cardinals stopped Atlanta Braves 6-2, Pittsburgh Pirates dropped Cincinnati Reds 5-1 and San Diego Padres swept Philadelphia Phillies 7-2 and 7-6 in 12 innings.

BEAT MONTREAL. On Saturday, San Francisco edged New York 2-1. Los Angeles downed Montreal 3-1, then lost the second game of a doubleheader 5-2. Houston outlasted Chicago 14-12, St. Louis whipped Atlanta 7-2. Cincinnati outslugged Pittsburgh 12-7 and San Diego crushed Philadelphia 8-3.

Halicki, a six-foot, seven-inch pitcher said Sunday's game was like a dream for him.

"I was oblivious to everything," he said. "It was like a dream."

"Then all the guys poured out of the dugout and I realized what I had done."

The more than 24,000 fans at Candlestick Park cheered every pitch from the sixth inning on and they went wild when the no-hitter was completed.

He struck out 10, walked only two and one batter reached first on an error while the Giants struck for two runs in the first, fifth and seventh.

FIRST IN TWO YEARS

It was the first no-hitter in the National League since Atlanta's Phil Niekro turned the trick against San Diego on Aug. 5, 1973.

In the opener, Dave Kingman hit a grand slam home run to help beat his former teammates.

The Dodgers could have won their game in the sixth inning, but Bill Buckner's bat was ruled illegal after he had delivered an apparently tie-breaking hit. Buckner was called out and the run was cancelled.

Gary Carter walked with one out in the 14th inning of the tie game and moved to third on Pete Mackanin's single. Then Mike Marshall let fly a wild pitch that sent Carter home and led to two others.

Lopes, who had stolen three bases in the game and a major league record 38 in a row, wanted a fourth steal in the Dodgers' 12th. But he was cut down by catcher Carter.

HITS TWO HOMERS

Jose Cruz hit two home runs and Cliff Johnson hit his fifth in the last five games to lead the Astros past to an 8-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Al Oliver tripled and homered, driving in three runs and scoring two to lead the Pirates over the Reds.

Lou Brock stole the 800th and 801st bases of his career and Willie Davis got out of a first-inning rundown to help the Cardinals roll over Atlanta Braves.

Randy Jones picked up 17th victory with an eight-hitter in the opener before Bobby Tolan's 12th-inning single completed the sweep for the Padres.

Lachapelle takes boys singles title in junior tennis

OTTAWA — (CP) — Martin Lachapelle of Laval managed to crack the domination of Ontario and British Columbia on Saturday as he won the boy's singles trophy in the 16-and-under class at the Canadian national junior tennis championship tournament.

British Columbia's John Picken lost his bid for the singles championship in the 18-and-under class when he was defeated 6-3, 6-2, by fourth-seeded Bill Rennie of Cambridge Ont.

The tables turned however, when Picken teamed with Josef Brabenec of Vancouver to take the doubles championship. They scored 6-2, 6-4 over Rennie and Steve Rogul, of Toronto, 6-2, 6-4.

"He's a good runner and retriever but he's not a hitter, just a placer," Rennie said of his opponent shortly after the singles upset. "I got him with my serves, took command of the net but was patient enough to stand back and wait for his short-angle passing shots."

FIRST SEED

The girls' 18-and-under singles championship went to first-seed Marjorie Blackwood of Ottawa who beat Lisa Senn of Toronto 6-4, 7-5. Blackwood and Susan Pridham of Oakville, Ont. beat Senn and Sandy Sutherland of Vancouver, 6-4, 6-3 in doubles.

The four singles finalists qualify for the international junior tennis tournament here next week. The Canadian closed tournament ended Saturday after six days of competition.

In the 16-and-under class, Wendy Barlow, ranked number one in British Columbia, took the girls singles while Lachapelle, top-ranked in Quebec, took the boys' trophy.

Lachapelle put third-seed Mike Puc of London, Ont. into second place by winning a final match 6-1, 6-2.

In doubles play, Barlow shared the trophy with Nicole Marois of Quebec City. The pair scored 6-2, 6-2, over Nina Baird and Sally Oates of B.C.

The boys' doubles was taken by Nigel O'Rourke and Bill Cowan, both of Toronto.

The boys' 14-and-under winners were Robert Gordon of Toronto.

Gordon then paired with Harry Blackwood of Toronto to win the doubles. Two British Columbia girls took the 14-and-under doubles trophy after defeating two Quebec juniors.
