REBEL JUNTA MAPPING PLANS FOR RESTORING OF SPANISH MONARCHY

Absolute Military Dictatorship with Close Collaboration with Italy and Germany Will Precede Restoration of Royal Family if Rebels Take Capital—Rebels Flay France and Britain for Interruption of Cable Service—Fascist Planes Continue Bombardment of Loyalist Air-dromes in Vicinity of Madrid.

Burgos, Spain, August 28.—The rebel high command mapped plans for restoration of the monarchy with military dictatorship today, announced a new bombardment of Madrid and strengthened defences against a surprise advance on this Fascist headquarters by loyalists.

A military dictatorship will be constituted "indefinitely" to "exterminate" all loyalist elements and rule the country "without any parliament whatsoever," high officials of the Fascist junta asserted.

Then, they said, will come a plebiscite to determine upon a restoration of the House of Asturias.

Close collaboration with Germany and Italy, "friendly nations" which Fascist leaders said have stood by the army in the present civil war, would be maintained, they declared.

Two thousand militiamen of the Madrid Government comprised the surprise attackers moving on Burgos. They were reported near Briviesca, less than twenty-five miles away, and General Emilio Mola, northern insurgent commander, moved his forces into a defensive position.

Jubilantly, the Burgos Government, announced restoration of communication with the rest of the world. Officials here charged they had been cut off by France and Britain.

But had established cable service by agreement with German communications agencies to accept messages from Vigo.

The Fascist junta sent a formal protest to the French Foreign Office against "the inconceivable immorality of seeking the Bank of Spain." The protest demanded that France refuse to receive gold shipments from the Madrid Government.

The first step in setting up an army dictatorship if they are successful in capturing Madrid, the Fascists said, will be "cleansing" all public offices and institutions of all loyalist Government leaders.

LOYALISTS CONFIDENT OF RETAINING SAN SEBASTIAN

Hendaye (on the Franco-Spanish frontier), August 28.—More than three hundred rebel troops—among them 160 of the famous "Bandera" Foreign Legion regiment—were killed in the attempt to take the key city of Irun yesterday, a loyalist source who swam the Bidassoa river to the loyalist lines revealed today.

A final insurgent attempt to take the city—whose capture would open the way for a land offensive on San Sebastian—was expected today.

Early this morning, the loyalists held the positions, they took up after sweeping back the rebels all along this northern front. Irun seemed safe unless strong rebel reinforcements arrived immediately.

Artillery and aviation bombardments were resumed early today. Rebel and Government planes flew over the Bidassoa district at one hour intervals—the loyalists dropping bombs on Alundia, the insurgents on La Puna and San Marti.

A number of bombs fell near the Hendaye cemetery.

The legionnaires who succeeded in reaching the loyalist lines, reported that six of his comrades had also attempted to swim the Bidassoa but were observed by the rebel troops and shot down from the shore.

Three legionnaires who deserted the insurgent ranks and fled to the loyalist lines, reported that the reason for the failure of the rebel attack: Dissension among the Fascists, Carlists and legionnaires.

CLAIMED LITTLE DAMAGE DONE BY BOMBARDMENTS

Madrid, Aug. 28.—Rebel planes bombed the Cuatro Vientos and Getafe airdromes of Madrid today but the War Ministry reported little damage, according to the Associated Press.

The bombardment was the third this week. The shelling yesterday likewise did little harm, the War Ministry said, as the bombs were dropped hastily.

Nevertheless, the Socialist Government ordered rigid precautions to guard against air attacks on the city.

Militia and citizens were warned to keep sharp watch for Fascist rebel planes that might swoop over the capital and drop bombs into the streets.

The Government asserted little damage resulted from one such raid this week. (The Burgos rebel head-Please Turn to Page 2.)

COULD ONLY AFFORD TO SUPPORT ONE OF HIS TWO WIVES

Alamosa, Colo., August 28.—Martin Arellano, a rancher, thought he had a good reason for not supporting his wife.

Asked by Leonard M. Haynie, district attorney prosecuting a non-support charge against Arellano, why he could not provide for his wife, the defendant replied:

"How can I? I'm supporting another woman."

"Who is the other woman?" the attorney asked.

"My other wife," he replied.

"Only two? What's wrong with that?" Arellano asked.

Arellano's question may be answered at the next term of court when, the prosecutor said, he must stand trial on a bigamy charge.

The state dropped the non-support charge.

WORRY TAXING STRENGTH OF HIS HOLINESS

Prelates Disclosed Pontiff Has Become So Weakened From Worry Over Spanish Situation that He Is Scarcely Able to Rise at Close of Audiences.

Vatican City, Aug. 28.—Prelates disclosed that Pope Pius XI has become so weakened from worry over the Spanish situation that he scarcely is able to rise from his throne at the close of audiences.

Increasing heaviness of his limbs, the prelates said, might soon make it necessary for the seventy-nine year old Holy Father to be carried from one part of the apostolic palace to another.

His brother, Fermo, suffered from the same malady and a year before his death, several years ago, was unable to walk.

The disclosure of the Holy Father's condition came after prelates had announced the Pope, assisted by all the Cardinals now resident in Rome, would soon preside at an episcopal ceremony in St. Peter's of the killing of priests and the destruction of churches in Spain.

He also will soon receive Spanish bishops and priests who have found refuge in Italy and, in addressing them, protest to the entire world against the sacrifices of the civil war.

His Holiness now is at Castel Gandolfo, his summer home, an hour's ride from Vatican City. Each day, Eugenio, Cardinal Pacelli, the Papal Secretary of State, has gone to Castel Gandolfo to acquaint the Pope with the latest news of the general Spanish situation.

PRISONS AND BANDS SEEMS TO BE A MILY FAILURE

Oklahoma City, Aug. 28.—Wesley Shaw, up for sentencing for burglary and auto theft, said "I'd like to be sentenced to McAlester. You see, Judge, my brother is there and he plays a saxophone in the prison band. I'd like to play in the band with him."

Questioned, Shaw said he had another brother at the Granville reformatory, also a bandman. Too, he had a younger brother at the Pauls Valley training school for boys and—yes, sir—he plays in the band.

London, Aug. 28.—The stream-lined St. Jubilee Express of the London and North Eastern Railway, running from Newcastle-on-Tyne to London, today established a new speed record for British trains by reaching a maximum speed of 113 miles an hour.

BRITISH COLUMBIA BUSY ORGANIZING HEALTH PLAN

Victoria, Aug. 28.—A health insurance scheme was piloted through the British Columbia Legislature last year by its sponsor, Dr. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary.

Two members of a health commission, shaping the scheme in final details, have already been named. Dr. Alton Peebles, health legislation student, is chairman, coupling his efforts with those of Dr. W. T. Barrett, Ontario-born physician and one-time superintendent of St. Boniface Hospital, St. Boniface, Man.

The scheme was originally slated to become operative late this year, but Dr. Weir has intimated it may not go into effect until early next year.

The plan provides for medical care by a physician or surgeon chosen by the insured, service diagnostic laboratories and not less than fifty per cent. of medicine costs.

London, Ont., Aug. 28.—The excess amount of sun during this past summer has practically eliminated all danger of tooth cavities for some time, claims Dr. Hugh Stevenson, member of the Public Utilities Commission and retired dentist. This sunlight, he says, has an electrolytic action on the waste materials of the skin, precipitating calcium which is absorbed by the bones and teeth, strengthening them.

EXPECT EARLY DECISION OVER APPOINTMENTS

Federal Cabinet Expected to Make Announcement on Filling of Many Vacancies Before End of Next Week—Return of Trade Minister Awaited.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—Considerable progress has been made on the work of preparing several important statutes for proclamation and the Government will probably make announcements at the end of next week on the numerous appointments involved.

Statutes concerned include re-organization of Canadian National Railways management with creation of a board of seven directors, Bank of Canada Act amendments requiring the acquisition of sufficient new shares to give the Government majority ownership, and the appointment of additional directors, re-organization of the Canadian Board-casting Commission and creation by merger of two big departments.

Numerous bench appointments ranging downward from the office of Chief Justice of Ontario and a Judge of the Supreme Court of Canada to county court vacancies, await attention, and several Lieutenant-Governors are to be named.

The next Cabinet Council will be on Tuesday and there will be at least three sessions during the week. It is expected, with the return to Canada today of Trade Minister Euler, that the Cabinet will be at full strength for next week's meetings.

SIR SAMUEL HOARE ARRIVES IN MALTA

Valetta, Malta, Aug. 28.—Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty in the British Government, arrived here today aboard the Admiralty yacht Enchantress and was greeted by a salvo of seventeen guns.

RESTRICTIONS PLACED AROUND PRICE FIXING

Guaranteed Price for Canadian Wheat Crop Only to Become Effective if Price at Fort William Falls Below Ninety Cents a Bushel.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—While the Dominion Government has not unconditionally approved the Canadian Wheat Board's recommendation of a minimum fixed price of 87 1/2 cents a bushel, an Order-in-Council has been passed providing that if the closing market price of No. 1 northern at Fort William drops below ninety cents, the 87 1/2-cent minimum will become effective automatically.

Announcement to this effect was made last night by Prime Minister Mackenzie King at the close of a Cabinet Council. This minimum is the same as that fixed by the last Government shortly after the Canadian Wheat Board was organized a year ago. It was the feeling of the Government, the announcement indicated, that to arbitrarily fix the minimum at this time, when the price of No. 1 northern is around ninety-eight cents, might have a tendency to depress that level.

Mr. Mackenzie King said the Government did not desire to be placed in the position of prejudging the report of Justice W. F. A. Turgeon, now conducting an inquiry into the present and past methods of marketing wheat, as a commissioner under the Inquiries Act.

Under this arrangement farmers will sell on the open market so long as the price for No. 1 northern in store at Fort William remains above ninety cents. If the market closing falls below that level, the 87 1/2-cent minimum will automatically come into operation and the Wheat Board will stand ready to buy from the farmers with a guarantee of that minimum and a share in any profits that may arise from the board selling at a higher figure.

REPUBLICANS REPUDIATE ANY HEARST LEADERSHIP

Washington, Aug. 28.—The campaign speech of Harold Ickes, United States Secretary of the Interior in which he linked the names of Governor Alf M. Landon and William Randolph Hearst, publisher, brought quick reaction today from Republican quarters.

The cabinet member, in an address last night, described Hearst as the "new Republican boss," who had cautioned Landon "against talking too much."

Harding was quick to respond when informed of the Ickes statements. "Don't make me laugh, my lip is cracked," said Harding. "I just came from hearing Governor Landon make ten speeches."

He dignified the charges with an answer. "It seems to me the only way they can attack Governor Landon."

CLAIMS REICH PREPARING WAY FOR GREAT WAR

Official Organs of Soviet Government and Communist Party Warn Against 'New Surprise' by Hitler which Will Bring Europe 'Closer to Slaughter.'

Moscow, Aug. 28.—Official organs of the Soviet Government and the Communist party sounded a simultaneous "warning" today that Chancellor Hitler is preparing a new surprise which will bring Europe closer to "slaughter."

Izvestia, the Government organ, and Pravda, the official newspaper of the party, professed to see in violent anti-Soviet attacks by the German press a "provocative campaign of preparation for new foreign political adventures."

"It is just a smoke screen for Hitler to spring a new surprise which is demanded by his venture-some programme," said Pravda. "German Fascism, armed to the teeth, is preparing new slaughter for Europe."

The newspaper declared increased preparations for war were sapping Germany and bringing its workers to the verge of food shortage and eventual starvation.

(Germany a few days ago doubled its compulsory military conscription term, and the Nazi press said "Russian militarism" was to blame.)

Izvestia, referring to recent German reports of unrest in the Russian Ukraine because of alleged "fascist" denials, the stories flattered and declared the Nazi attacks had an "aggressive design."

Official Russia this week denied reports, published by the London Evening News, that Dictator Joseph Stalin and other Soviet leaders had broadcast speeches to the Russian armed forces, warning them that war was imminent.

URGES EASTERN FARMER AID IN CATTLE SCHEME

Minister of Agriculture Stresses Many Advantages Accruing to Eastern Farmers by Taking Cattle from Western Drought Areas.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, asks co-operation of farmers of Eastern Canada in the Government's effort to aid cattle breeders in the drought areas of the Prairie provinces. He was addressing the livestock exhibitors at the Central Canada Exhibition here.

"I am told that here in the eastern area, between this district and the Maritimes there is an abundance of roughage food," Mr. Gardiner said last night. "That is why we are hopeful of the success of our plan. But this plan will not be for the benefit of western farmers alone. We are offering to pay the fares of those who go west to buy feeder cattle."

"And if these cattle after being brought east are fed for three months, the Government will refund half the freight paid to bring them east. There is a direct benefit to come for those who do take the cattle for feeding."

"In Great Britain now the Government is paying £3 a head for every steer placed out in pasture there for three months for fattening purposes. This has resulted in a demand for such cattle as we can send overseas. The action of the British Government coupled with the plan we have agreed upon will help the Canadian farmers in many ways, but particularly in having a steady market in the Old Country and at a price that will bring a good return."

Mr. Gardiner said it was his desire to see the feeding of western cattle in the eastern part of Canada. The advantage of this area for feeding was the proximity of the ports of shipment to Europe, he said.

NEW SET OF DEMANDS FROM CORNWALL WORKERS' UNION

Seventeen-Day-Old Strike Has Paralyzed Giant Rayon Mill and Thrown Seventeen Employees Out of Work.

Cornwall, Ont., Aug. 28.—Executives of Courtaulds (Canada) Limited today are scheduled to meet heads of the Cornwall rayon workers' union regarding settlement of the seventeen day old strike which has paralyzed the giant rayon mill, throwing 1,700 employees out of work.

A more specific set of demands are expected to be presented by the union to the mill executive headed by its president, Henry Johnson, who arrived from England last Tuesday for this purpose. The new set of demands, it is said, will deal separately with each department of the mill. Principal demands until now were recognition of the union, higher pay and better working conditions for the rayon workers.

NEW EGYPTIAN TREATY GIVEN WARM WELCOME

Clauses Governing Repeal of Capitulatory Rights Finds Especial Favor Among Egyptians, Who Foresee Removal of Irritant to National Pride.

London, August 28.—The text of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty signed on Wednesday will be published today.

Sources close to Anglo-Egyptian affairs looked upon the treaty as heralding the dawn of a new era of co-operation between Great Britain and her near-eastern ally.

Egyptians were especially satisfied with those clauses of the treaty which affect capitulatory rights. The system by which foreigners who committed crimes or misdemeanors in their country were not subject to the jurisdiction of their courts, but must be turned over to consular courts of their own nation, had long been an irritant to Egyptian pride.

Under the treaty, Great Britain will support Egypt in negotiations with the powers concerned for abolition of capitulatory rights.

Restrictions on Egyptian sovereignty, such as the limited application of certain legislation to foreigners having capitulatory rights, will also be removed, if Britain and Egypt can bring the powers to an agreement.

British troops will no longer garrison Cairo, but will be withdrawn to the banks of the Suez Canal, under the treaty, where the Egyptian Government is to build barracks and where Britain undertakes to maintain a force not exceeding 100,000 land forces and four hundred pilots. The British Air Force will be allowed to fly over the whole country, however.

The status of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan is not changed by the treaty. Its sovereignty will continue to vest in Britain and Egypt jointly, but Egyptian troops will henceforth assist in its defence.

The term of the treaty is twenty years but it may be revised after ten years.

HAD A WILD TIME WHILE IT LASTED

Orrell, Lancashire, Aug. 28.—Sidney Lawrence, twelve years old Orrell boy, and a keen swimmer and diver, had a nightmare.

He mounted the window sill of his bedroom and took a header into the garden fifteen feet below. Rose bushes broke his fall. He vaulted over a gate and ran screaming down a lane until he was stopped by a passer-by.

When he awoke in hospital, Sidney knew nothing of what had happened.

TWO TO THREE HUNDRED PERSONS ARE EXECUTED DAILY IN MADRID

Burgos, Spain, Aug. 28.—Allegations 50,000 "jailed" and terrorists are running amok in Madrid while "Marxist" firing squads are executing from two hundred persons daily were made to Jean d'Hospital, The Havas News Agency correspondent, today by two men—one a well known Spanish financier and the other a major in the civil guards—who escaped to this rebel stronghold.

"Both my informants begged me to conceal their identities," the correspondents writes, "declaring their relatives, still living in Madrid, were certain to suffer horrible reprisals if my sources of information became known."

The financier affirmed this statement with a nod of the head.

"Madrid is in the hands of 40,000 or 50,000 freed convicts and other malefactors, supported by elements of the populace who hope to realize a senseless dream," he said. "All are constantly armed with rifles or revolvers."

"They have taken over the chief hotels on all the main streets. The baker and the restaurateur are required to serve them with meals and lodging from morning to night."

The financier's account centred chiefly on the "economic atrocities" allegedly committed by the "Red ruffians," whom he described as

UNEMPLOYMENT AND AGRICULTURE ENGAGING ATTENTION OF CABINET

New Quebec Cabinet Ministers Have Been in Almost Continuous Session Since Being Sworn into Office with Premier Maurice Duplessis on Wednesday—Albert Rioux Expected to Receive Appointment of Deputy Minister of Agriculture—New Prime Minister Refused Again to Yield to Demands of Mob on Cabinet Appointments.

Quebec, August 28.—Quebec's new Cabinet ministers have been in almost continuous session since they were sworn in with Premier Maurice Duplessis on Wednesday, and they gathered again today around the council table at the Legislature buildings.

The new Union Nationale Premier and his Cabinet have remained silent on their discussions, but admitted they were busy familiarizing themselves with problems of state and drawing plans for administration of the province.

Today's meeting was expected to produce announcement of several appointments, including one or two new deputy ministers. Reports were Albert Rioux, Union Nationale candidate defeated by Hon. T. D. Bouchard, retiring Liberal Minister of Municipal Affairs, Lands and Forests, in St. Hyacinthe, might be named Deputy Minister of Agriculture to aid Hon. Bona Dussault, Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Rioux was formerly president of the Union of Catholic Farmers of Quebec.

Yesterday the Cabinet met twice, and it was reported they studied terms of the agreement reached by the Liberal Government with Dominion authorities to combat unemployment through a $4,500,000 public works programme. The Cabinet interviewed several private members of the House and two members of the clergy interested in colonization and unemployment work.

Among those called to the Council Chamber were Rev. Father Joseph Pare, S.J., in charge of La Palestine Nationale at Montreal, an organization in the interests of youth, and Mgr. Auguste Boulet, president of the Diocesan Colonization Society of Quebec. The latter entered the Council Chamber in company with Agriculture Minister Dussault.

Government ranks in the newly-elected Legislative Assembly bid farewell to one member yesterday. Dr. Zenon Lesage, declared elected in Montreal-Laurier, lost a judicial recount, and his opponent, Hon. C. A. Bertrand, Attorney-General in the Liberal Government, took the seat by a majority of twelve votes.

Liberal representation rose to fourteen members against seventy-six Union Nationale Government members. Union Nationale legal counsel, however, said the Bertrand election would be contested on technical grounds.

Ballots were re-counted before Mr. Justice Alfred Duranceau in St. Hyacinthe yesterday to confirm election of Cyrille Dumaine in Bagot County. Mr. Dumaine, the Liberal candidate, gained a vote. His majority over Dr. Philippe Adams, Union Nationale, rose from thirty-one to thirty-two.

A crowd of five hundred, mostly youths, swarmed into the Legislative Assembly chamber yesterday and clamored to interview Premier Duplessis to lodge a protest because the representative for Quebec Centre, Dr. Philippe Hamel, was not appointed to the Cabinet. The Premier declined to see them, and they left in half an hour. Commenting, the Premier merely said the Parliament Buildings were the property of the people and they had a right to make use of them. This right would have free access to the buildings as long as they did not create a disturbance or a nuisance.

HON. J. BOURQUE WILL BE GIVEN BIG RECEPTION

Train Carrying Minister of Public Works Will Be Met at Newington at 9:10 O'Clock This Evening—Parade to Belvidere Street Armoury.

Tonight the people of Sherbrooke will welcome home Col. the Hon. Johnny Bourque, Minister of Public Works in Premier Maurice Duplessis' Cabinet. When Mr. Bourque left for Quebec early this week he was a member-elect of the incoming Legislature. Since then he has been named to the Cabinet. When he arrives in Sherbrooke this evening his fellow-citizens will give him the ovation he merits as a Minister of the Crown and in their demonstration manifest the confidence which they have in him.

Hon. Mr. Bourque is arriving in Sherbrooke via the Q.C.R. at 9:10 o'clock. The train will stop and he will be met at Newington. There Mr. Bourque will detain and will be welcomed by his friends and supporters. A monster parade from Newington to the Belvidere street armoury has been planned. The parade will proceed along Bowen avenue, King street, Wellington street south, Aberdeen street, Alexander street, Galt and Belvidere streets to the armoury.

Mayor Emile Rioux will be at the armoury to extend a civic welcome to the new Minister and the rally will be featured by a number of speeches. All Eastern Townships members of the Quebec Legislature have been invited to attend the reception.

Col. Bourque was first elected to the Quebec House in November last. He immediately showed himself to be a capable and valuable man. Last week he swept the county again, when he registered a decisive victory over Cesare Gervais, who was Minister of Public Works and Mines in ex-Premier Godbout's Cabinet. Due recognition of the Sherbrooke member's ability was given by Premier Duplessis when he entrusted him with the responsible portfolio of Public Works.

EVERYDAY FRIENDSHIPS OF KING EDWARD OVERLOOKED

American Woman, Who with Her Husband Is Accompanying His Majesty on Mediterranean Tour, Has Been Sovereign's Dancing Partner on Numerous Occasions.

London, Aug. 28.—King Edward VIII's democratic bearing as a prince at many a dancing party, and recurring rumors of his "impending engagement" to most of Europe's princesses, have kept the gossip writers alive to romance, but almost blind to everyday friendships.

Yet for two years an American woman, Mrs. Ernest Simpson—has been one of his most frequent dancing partners. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson occasionally attend dinners given by the King, and they are now aboard the yacht Nahlin as the Sovereign takes his holiday in Adriatic waters.

When an official Court Circular announced Mr. and Mrs. Simpson as among the guests at a Royal dinner, the British news magazine Cavalcade published a column about Mrs. Simpson and her acquaintance with King Edward.

The story has it that she was often a chaperone at parties at which the King—then Prince of Wales—was present, and found herself dancing more and more frequently with the Prince, while someone else took over the formal duties of chaperone.

Mrs. Simpson, slender and dark, but with blue eyes, was formerly Miss Wallis-Warfield, of Baltimore, Maryland. She is described as one of the best-dressed women in England, an excellent dancer, and brilliant in either light repartee or thoughtful conversation.

ANCIENT RUSE AGAIN USED BY CHINA PIRATES

Three Passengers Slain as Panic Follows Robbing of Occupants of Tangku Ferry Boat by Pirates Disguised as Passengers.

Tientsin, August 28.—Authorities were balked by a watery trail today investigating the latest daring coup of the sea-brigands who have plundered the China seas for centuries.

The Pirates, employing a time-worn but effective ruse, impersonated passengers when they boarded the ferry steamer Lihong before it sailed yesterday from Tangku.

While the ship was on its way here across the Bay of Chihli they held up and robbed one hundred Chinese passengers, seized thirty-two of them as hostages and escaped to sea in a waiting junk.

Three passengers were slain and the brigands made off with all possessions of those aboard the steamer including their clothes.

Panic broke out among the victims, the ship's officers said, and the pirates threw two overboard and shot a third. The terrified passengers, officers said, were searched with great precision.

Intimation of the ever-present menace to Chinese coastal shipping would strike again came on August 14, with word from Hong Kong to Shanghai that a band of eighteen notorious pirates had been seen.

Those outlaws, it was believed, were members of the band who attacked the luxurious British steamer Tungchow on February 1, 1935, with seventy-five school children aboard.

300 BUILDINGS CONDEMNED AS FIRE TRAPS TORN DOWN

Three-Day Convention of Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs Comes to a Close in Windsor, Ont.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 28.—Three hundred buildings, condemned as fire hazards, have been torn down in Windsor during the last two years, Ontario Fire Marshal W. J. Scott stated today in an address on "Co-operation between Fire Departments and the Fire Marshal's Office."

Mr. Scott's address was one of the closing items on the programme of the three-day convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs, attended by two hundred delegates, with their wives and children, from all parts of Canada.

ROOSEVELT IS CHEERFUL IN DROUGHT AREA

Declares Himself Convinced that Programme Undertaken by United States Government Will Result in Win Over Forces of Nature.

Bismarck, N.D., Aug. 28.—President Roosevelt set out today on another train and motor inspection of sun-scorched plains in North and South Dakota after studying a voluminous report of his special drought committee recommending a fifteen-point programme to transform the whole economic scheme in the United States arid area.

Roosevelt had his first close-up view of the drought here late yesterday on a fifty-mile motor trip around Bismarck and Mandan—a tour which prompted him to say later in a rear platform talk at the North Dakota capital:

"What I have seen confirmed me in the belief that I have had for a long time, the belief that we are going to win on this problem."

"Back east," he said, "there have been all kinds of reports that out in the drought area there was a despondency, a lack of hope for the future and a general atmosphere of gloom."

"But I had a hunch, and it was the right one, that when I got out here I would find that you people had your chin up; that you are not looking forward to the day when this country would be depopulated, but that you and your children expect to remain here."

Shortly before entering a train conference last night with acting Governor Walter Welford, of North Dakota, and Elmer E. Holt, of Montana—at which the drought committee report, proposing land and water conservation, received minute examination—presidential aides announced Mr. Roosevelt's itinerary for next week would be interrupted to permit him to attend the funeral of Secretary of War Dern at Salt Lake City on Tuesday.

But I had a hunch, and it was the right one, that when I got out here I would find that you people had your chin up; that you are not looking forward to the day when this country would be depopulated, but that you and your children expect to remain here."

NAZI-FASCIST FRONT FORMED AGAINST REDS

German and Italian Ministers Believed to Be Seeking Common Front Against Spread of Communism at Approaching Meeting at Venice.

Venice, Italy, Aug. 28.—A united Nazi-Fascist front against Communism, propaganda apparently was imminent today with the approaching meeting of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Germany's dynamic little Minister for Public Enlightenment.

Dino Alfieri, Italian Minister of Press and Propaganda, left Avellino, where he was attending army manoeuvres, to meet Dr. Goebbels, who is expected here tomorrow.

Political circles said that the two will take advantage of the visit at least to exchange ideas on how to prevent the spread of Communism, and if possible, to reach a common method of attack on it. Italian, German, and Polish police already have an understanding to combat Communism, well informed circles revealed. They said it was reached when Commendatore Arturo Bocchini, director general of the Italian police, went to Berlin some week ago.

"But I had a hunch, and it was the right one, that when I got out here I would find that you people had your chin up; that you are not looking forward to the day when this country would be depopulated, but that you and your children expect to remain here."

SHELL experience in Canada increases the driving enjoyment of Shell users throughout the world. Shell experience in foreign countries increases the driving enjoyment of Shell users in Canada.

This is so because the entire world-wide Shell organization is constantly exchanging gasoline experience. The Canadian experience goes to every other Shell refinery. Experience gained in 55 other countries comes to the Canadian Shell refineries.

SHERBROOKE, FRIDAY, AUGUST 28, 1936.

Returning.

J. R. Andrews.

I surely near a shore
Where limpid wavelets make familiar sound
That I have heard before.
The tapers of this life were lit around
Earth's untold, yielding door,
Where re-shaped forces prospect found
In this new phase called human life,
Where love was born of hate and strife.

The breeding place of might,
The tranquil workshop of the curtained great
Where souls return at night
To be re-moulded and go forth with fate
On fresh adventure bright;
In eager questing through the new-found gate
They press strange ways of life again
Among the puzzled hopes of men.

To night I thus return
For silent, dreamless rest a little space,
Until the Master stern
Restores my shattered strength, my faded grace,
To hopes that gleam and burn
With dauntless fervour to attain the place
Of foremost use in life's vast plain
And God's intended best for man.

Political Trials in Russia Appear Uncanny.

There is something uncanny and even obscene in Russian treason trials. This fact was clearly portrayed when sixteen Russian conspirators met death at the hands of a firing squad for plotting to assassinate Dictator Joseph Stalin and overthrow the present Soviet regime.

The peculiar part of these trials is the obliging nature displayed by the accused. From the reports of the trial it appears that fourteen of the defendants not only confessed to being guilty of the charge against them, but even went so far as to approve the passing of the death sentence upon them. They actually admitted they deserved to die because of their actions.

The administration of justice along these lines is so foreign to democratic countries, such as Canada, as to be almost incredible, yet that is the way the Soviets like to play their cards.

The men who confessed at the hearing revealed that there was even competition among them for the honor of killing Stalin. This only goes to show that the Russian people are hopelessly dissatisfied with existing conditions in their country and are prepared to resort to any means to rid the country of the dictator and to establish a new regime. The fact remains that a conspiracy of such a sort is one of the natural consequences of dictatorship.

There is no doubt that the outside world has not been given all the facts of these trials. Probably the whole truth will never be known. But such procedures cannot but prove that there is something unclean and cadaverous about the whole idea of Soviet justice.

Light Destroys Evil.

A meeting of Michigan police officials, formulating plans to reduce crime, noted that the decline in organized racketeering is due largely to newspaper publicity.

Often a man who had been paying tribute to racketeers for years awoke for the first time to exactly what was going on when he read an account of the racket in his newspaper. For the first time he realized what a sucker he was. Then it was only a matter of the victims of rackets getting together to stop them.

Newspapers, if read carefully, can give the public a vast amount of information on what is going on in its midst. The criticism that newspapers do not contain enough valuable information comes from those who have never troubled to read more than the headlines.

All evils fall when the light is turned strongly enough on them.

Editor's Note-Book.

Claims of $20,000,000 in business revenues from the Golden Jubilee in Vancouver brings forth the report from the Sydney Post-Record that they will need it under Gerry McGeer's regime.

It is surprising how so many motorists forget that the locomotive always gets the right of way at crossings.

People who delight in tooting their own horns forget that after all it isn't the whistle that pulls the train.

What Editors Say

ANIMALS KILLED ON HIGHWAYS.

St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Every motorist is injured to the sight of dead animals on the highways, cats and dogs lying at the sides of the roads, picked up and laid there by passers-by, but quite often there is an unpleasant mess of mangled flesh and bone on the highway itself until it is ultimately worn away to nothing by myriads of wheels. These include chickens, rabbits, birds and many other creatures, often unrecognizable, although sometimes identified as a certain animal because of the odor. It is obvious that there is a great deal of callousness among motorists, although, happily, the callous drivers are probably not more than one per cent. of the whole.

New York State has a law, passed last spring, which requires motorists to stop when they run over any animal, fines being imposed for violation. It is too early for official figures to be compiled, but unofficially it is stated there has been a diminution in the number of dead animals left on the highways.

It ought not to be necessary to have a law requiring a motorist to stop when he strikes an animal, but there is a minority for which such a regulation is necessary. Some are always in too great a hurry to stop, or they cannot be bothered. The humane individual, however, will stop, and either put the animal out of its suffering, if necessary, or take steps to obtain skilled or unskilled veterinary service.

PORTUGAL IS PROTECTED.

Detroit News.

Portugal, feeling unsafe because of the tumult in Spain, recently asked England regarding the status of her treaties with that country, and was informed that they were all in good standing beginning with that of 1373. England is still obligated, then, to fight for the integrity of Portugal.

The treaty of 1373 was made because Henry of Trastamara, king of Castile, invaded Portugal to avenge a broken agreement. It was negotiated through that doughty old warrior, John of Gaunt. The alliance, occasionally broken but always quickly renewed, persisted. It was considered essential by both countries after the Hapsburgs came into power in Spain, and reached out for world dominion. And it was very useful in the Napoleonic wars, as it gave Wellington a place to land his troops when he undertook to drive the French out of Spain.

But the most important treaty was the Methuen agreement of 1703, which lowered the English duties on Portuguese wine, and started the English drinking of port, because it was cheaper than French wines. For more than two centuries, port has been the sympathetic link between Portugal and England. Portugal took British manufactures in exchange, and gave ruddy Englishmen the gout.

PERILS OF GOLF.

Guelph Mercury.

Golf may be considered the ultimate test of temper. The man who can do all the things he shouldn't do throughout the game and continue with a smile in face of the banter of his friends, is the sort of chap anybody can get on with.

An Illinois enthusiast evidently made the mistake of teaching his wife how to play, and in a short time she played a better game than her liege lord and master, with results that finally landed the pair in the divorce courts.

When the wife made a better approach to the green than hubby, he kicked the ball into the rough, and let loose such a strange and extensive and lurid vocabulary as she never knew he possessed.

Life at home became a veritable nightmare, and the judge finally dissolved the bonds they had supposed would guarantee connubial felicity regardless of any provocation.

SAVING HEADS.

Industrial Britain.

A year ago only a small percentage of miners would wear hard hats. They disliked "new-fangled ideas"; they said the hats were too heavy, made them perspire, and caused their workfolk to laugh at them.

Now men employed at all the big pits have taken to protective equipment. The safety committee conducts its propaganda on personal and realistic lines. Its posters and literature tell how David Jones of such-and-such colliery escaped unhurt when there was a three-ton fall of roof. His hat was dentured.

Wives of the colliers are being won over to the safety movement. Soon there will be no "soft heads" in the Welsh mines.

EVEN BEES STARVING.

Galt Reporter.

The peculiar type of weather that has been characteristic in Ontario this summer, has produced quite a few abnormalities, including water shortage, bad crops, forest fires and ruined pasturage. From Lindsay, Ontario, comes a report of a strike among honey bees, famed for devotion to industry and habits of thrift exemplary for human beings.

It appears that bees in that district have not done any honey-gathering for more than a month. They quit their activities during that spell of terrific heat a month ago, and the owners will have to provide sugar to keep them from starving.

Thirty Years Ago Today

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.

August 25th, 1905.

A reign of terror ruled in Russia following an attempt on the life of the Premier. Hundreds were killed in a series of clashes between demonstrators and police.

Mr. Charles Carter, of Stanstead, was seriously injured when a heavy box fell on him as he was working in the freight shed.

A St. Francis Golf Club squad, composed of Messrs. D. L. Herbert, R. MacDonald, W. H. Ward, R. A. Wright, T. P. MacDonald, E. C. Fraser and J. F. Morrell, were defeated by an aggregation from St. Johnsbury, comprising Messrs. F. H. Brooks, C. H. Turner, F. Snider, G. Bailey, E. M. Tait, W. Snyder and Sprague by 19 to 7.

Miss Hatty Johnson, of Boston, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. C. Fraser, Sherbrooke. The staff of the Sutton Academy for the 1906-1907 season was announced as follows: Miss Ada Ellison, B.A., Miss Hunter, Miss Daisy Theakston and Miss Josie Cutler.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lafleur returned to their home in Sutton after a visit to Springfield, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Beaumier, of Haverhill, Mass., were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clement in Lennoxville.

Officers named by the Tremholme Prayer Meeting Society were Mr. O. W. Armitage, Mrs. Edson Brock, Miss Winnie F. Boast and Miss Grace Wintle.

Andre, not knowing Suzy and Terry have ever heard of each other, introduces them in his room in the hospital, where Suzy has come to see him because he has crashed in his plane.

"First I thought you had jumped in the river—that's certainly funny. But then, a worse belief came. I thought the spies had got you too." "So—"

"Just so. Mrs. Schmidt and the chauffeur and the woman you saw at the factory were all in the plot. You're a pretty poor specimen of humanity, if you want my opinion, but you are not dumb. You were

"What is it dear?" cried Andre. "You look as if you'd seen a ghost."

CHAPTER IX.

Suzy's face was ashen, her hands were trembling, her eyes were staring. "What is it, dear?" cried Andre. "You look as if you'd seen a ghost."

By a great effort she forced herself to speak.

"I did see something of that kind—a man I thought was dead, but—" she couldn't go on.

"I should have warned you," said Andre gently. "Corridors of hospitals can be gruesome places. But you should be glad the poor devil wasn't dead. Here—put that vase somewhere and sit down. And Terry—you haven't seen a host or anything like that—pour her a stiff drink of cognac. You'll have to look after her. Unfortunately at the moment, I can't."

While he was talking, Terry had been able to steady herself. But he was glad Andre was not watching him as he poured the drink. He knew his hand was shaky.

"I'm sorry you were frightened, Madame Charville," he said as he handed her the glass. "But it will pass—such things do."

"Please take it," Terry said. "Your husband is right. You need it. After you have drunk it, you will feel better. Soon, I am sure you will forget the whole unpleasant incident."

He turned and picked up his cap. It was time he should be going, he said. He was all in—there had been a storm as he crossed the channel and it had been hard flying.

"Of course," said Andre. "I'm selfish to want to keep you. That goes for Suzy, too, so will you be good enough to take her to the hotel? She is rather unstrung from the scare she had. I'll rest easy if I know she is under your protection."

Suzy protested she was all right, she did not wish to be a burden to his friend, but Andre said they were staying at the same hotel he knew, there was only the one.

"It will be a pleasure, Madame Charville," said Terry. "It is a rare occasion when I can escort so charming a woman, even for so short a time."

"Terry, old chap," said Andre in a teasing voice, "I didn't know you Britishers were adept at gallant speeches."

In silence Suzy and Terry walked to the hotel and up the stairs to their rooms, which adjoined. They came to his door first. Suzy hesitated.

"It has to be said some time," Terry said, as he unlocked the door. "So why not now in my room? If anyone knows you have been here, nothing will be thought of it. Why should anyone be shocked? Since when has it been a matter of gossip that a woman is in her husband's room?"

Suzy without saying a word followed him in the room and stood facing him.

"I held my tongue," Terry said, "because you—shall we say current husband?—is the greatest flyer in France. I respect him. I like him. Anyway, I have no quarrel with him. He, too, has been taken in. As much as I, he is a victim."

"Terry—please. I want you to understand—can't you help me just a little?"

"Of course, Madame. Only command me. Ah! I have it. You'd like me to shoot myself, where is my pistol?—and take better aim than they did on that other night you saw me shot down."

"That's a rotten thing to say—almost as rotten as what I did. I'm glad you're alive. No matter what happens to me because you are, I'm glad. There isn't anything to say which will clear me of the charge of cowardice. But that is all—and it is a plenty—which can be said about what I have done. I thought you were dead—I couldn't feel your heart beat or your pulse and then that woman shouting I had killed you! I lost my head and I ran away."

"You might have returned for the—er—funeral. It might have saved the corpse, a live corpse in this case, a lot of trouble. Trouble! That's a funny word to use. Months of anguish! I've not known one hour of happiness, of ease since that night. I was sure you were dead. At worried, I remember, about what had happened in the factory before our—would you call it our marriage? And I laughed at your fears. I was a fool then. In fact, I was a fool from the moment I first saw you."

"It's been like a nightmare to me, Terry," said Suzy in a pleading voice. "I've tried to blot it out and never been able to, really. I've never told anybody but Maizie—I've never told Andre."

"Of course not. Why should you bother to tell anybody the truth?" "That is not fair, Terry," said Suzy with spirit. "Everything else you say I deserve. But I have always been honest with you. I didn't pretend I loved you, you remember. You married me with your eyes open. I am a coward, but I am not a liar—at least to you."

"You're right," said Terry. "When all is said and done, I'm better off than Andre, I suppose."

"Terry," said Suzy earnestly. "I love Andre. I should have told him. It wouldn't have made any difference—after all, there is nothing wrong in marrying a widow and I thought I was that."

"Because, as I told you a minute ago, I wanted to forget the whole ghastly affair. I almost persuaded myself that it hadn't happened, that it was only a horrible nightmare. If times had been normal, I might have thought straighter, but the excitement of the war—all the rest of it made me lose my head altogether."

"It was more than your head you lost. You seemed to mislay any sense of fair play, any decency—" "I don't deny that. How can I? But I loved Andre and when one is in love—"

"You don't need to tell me anything about that," interrupted Terry. "I was in love once, you know. I loved a girl so much no one but herself could have ever made me believe she wasn't the finest, straightest person who ever lived."

"You have a right to be bitter, Terry. And I don't ask anything for myself—any kindness, any leniency. But this I do want to ask you—what are you going to do?"

"Nothing. What is there to do? You can rest easy on that score. Who knew of our brief marriage? The clergyman, Knolly, an inspector or two from Scotland Yard—I wanted them to search for me just at first. They think you are dead, all of them. Probably forgotten all about it, by now. If you like, I can have the ceremony wiped off the record. As for me, it makes no difference. Many things may happen to me before I die, but one thing I will never do—I will never marry again. I'm not like some people—once is enough for me."

"You're not going to tell Andre?" "I didn't tell him a little while ago. I like him, I admire him—and I feel sorry for him, deeply sorry."

Suzy did not answer for a minute. She stood, brows knit, lips compressed, deep in thought.

"Will you be here long?" "I must stay until Andre is able to be up. There are certain things about the plane I must explain to him. Those are orders. But if we use our wits, we need not meet again—ever."

"Then, I'll go back to Paris. Andre is all right and his father is not well and I know he misses me. Strange, isn't it—but he's grown to depend on me. You see he doesn't know I am a coward, living under false pretences."

"Is there anything else we have to say to each other?" Suzy shook her head and walked out the door.

"No, except I want to thank you for everything. And most of all because you have made it clear to me what I must do. Good-bye—and good luck and happiness."

There was no answer.

She ran down the stairs and walked swiftly up the street. She knew, if she was ever to tell Andre the truth, she must do it now. Any delay would kill her new-found courage. She could not wait a minute longer than necessary. How she would do it she did not know. What would become of her afterward, did not matter. All that was of any importance was that there should be no deceit standing between her and Andre.

She walked into the hospital and down the corridor to his room. She

WARNS AGAINST GREAT DANGERS OF SPANISH WAR

Former French Premier Declares that as Result of Tinder Box Condition of Europe, Spanish Civil War May Spread to Entire World.

Yosemite, Calif., Aug. 28.—Albert Sarraut, former Premier of France, set up a warning that another European war, unless prevented, might eventually spread over the whole world.

"We live in a period of human history in which peace is nowhere secure, in which peace cannot be limited in which we are unable to say that war may break out in one place and not another," the French statesman told the Institute of Pacific Relations.

"Peace will only be positively expressed when all will rely on the effects of reciprocal agreements insuring respect for international contracts," Sarraut declared at a meeting for all delegates last night.

"Even as I speak," he said, "that fire has broken forth on the Iberian peninsula and if a great European conflagration results, who shall say it will not spread to Asia?"

Declaring the United States seemed to push aside "deliberately" a conception of international organization for security and peace, the Frenchman said collective security is vital for all because the fates of all nations are intermingled.

"The cause of the failure of the League of Nations is not due to a lack of real strength, but to a lack of unity, which results in the fact that the pact has been only too late and too incompletely applied," Sarraut said.

DRENCHING RAINS ANSWER HOPI SNAKE PRAYER RITES

Older Generation of Arizona Red Men Point to Rain-Soaked Fields as Effective Answer to Skeptics in Younger Bloods of Tribe.

Shimopovi, Ariz., Aug. 28.—Wrinkle-faced red men, who learned from their fathers to believe in the Hopi snake dance for rain, pointed solemnly to drenched fields as their rebuke for the skepticism of young bloods in the tribe.

The skepticism, manifest in the small number of dancers at the recent rites in Hotevilla, had given rise to reports that the age-old dance might soon be abandoned. The young bloods, educated in Government schools, were quick to point out that no rain fell after the Hotevilla ceremonies.

But after dancers, clenching writhing snakes between their teeth, had concluded the weird ceremonies here, rain beat down upon withering fields. Outdoing the Hotevilla dance, thirteen antelope priests and twenty-two snake priests participated.

IMPROVEMENT IS NOTED IN QUEBEC CROP CONDITIONS

Seed Clover and Potatoes Appear to Be in Best Condition, States Department of Agriculture Report—Lack of Moisture Causes Depreciation.

Quebec, Aug. 28.—Condition of cereals improved slightly in the two weeks ended August 22, according to the season's final telegraphic field crop report of the Quebec Department of Agriculture.

In some districts, the report says, lack of moisture affected grain quality. Clover for seed appears to be in favorable crop and potatoes in good condition. The report states pastures are poor and milk production decreased.

Plant lice are the most injurious of insects, the report says, but no estimate of the damage they have done is available yet. Carrots, celery and potatoes are the chief victims. In Montreal district, a high percentage of sweet corn has been injured by the corn borer. Some injury has been done potatoes by white grub.

PROMINENT SOVIET LEADER DIES

Moscow, August 28.—Soviet Russia mourns the loss of Sergei Sergeyevich Kamenoff, fifty-five years old, member of the Central Executive Committee, chief of anti-aircraft defence and member of the War Council, who died here after a brief illness.

Chief of staff in the Czarist army, Kamenoff joined the Red forces when the revolution broke out.

tapped lightly on his door. There was no response. Perhaps he was asleep. She would go in quietly and when he awoke, he would find her waiting there. She turned the knob gently. The door swung open quietly. Then she closed it as quietly and walked back down the corridor.

A woman, whose face she did not see, was bending over Andre as he lay in bed, kissing him.

(Tomorrow: Terry and Suzy agree on what they must do. Suzy has another great shock.)

TEN-YEAR ARMY DICTATOR AND BRITISH TREATY MAKE PORTUGAL
SPANISH CRISIS KEYBy Ancient Pact England
Pledges Defense Aid

London, Aug. 28.—The little nation of Portugal has taken on, in the minds of European diplomats, the shape of a key—a key to the world crisis precipitated by the current Spanish revolt.

For, with the sanguinary struggle between Rightism and Leftism in Spain threatening to draw the militant attention of other Fascist and Red powers in Europe, it is of high significance that:

(1) The neighboring country of Portugal at the moment is celebrating the tenth year of its own existence under a dictatorship;

(2) Great Britain is under ancient treaty obligations to defend Portugal against foreign invaders—a lit-

For ten years Lisbon (above), once revolution torn, has basked in peace under the army and navy-supported dictatorship of President Antonio Carmona (top) and Premier Salazar.

tle publicized fact which would make Britain's neutrality difficult or impossible if Portugal should become embroiled in Spain's Fascist-Red strife;

(3) The Portuguese government, strongly dictatorial and strongly Catholic, naturally is sympathetic toward the Spanish rebels; and

(4) The Spanish Fascist rebel forces now are occupying strategic areas along the Portuguese-Spanish border where the running of arms and munitions would be comparatively easy.

PORTUGAL HAS TWO BOSSES.

In Italy Fascism means very largely Mussolini and the will of Mussolini. In Germany Nazism means very largely Hitler and the power and prestige of Hitler. But in Portugal there are two demi-gods—the President, General Antonio Carmona, who has been a soldier all his adult life, and the Prime Minister, Oliveira Salazar, who for most of his working years was a professor of economics at the University of Coimbra. The President, who is sixty-seven and older than his years, leans heavily upon his Prime Minister, who is fifty-seven. And back of both of them is the army which trusts them, supports them and probably is ready to fight for them, if necessary.

Prior to the army finding in Carmona a chief after its own heart, Portugal had been a land in which revolutions bloomed as regularly as flowers. A republican revolution turned the late King Manuel off his throne in 1910. The republic had nearly two dozen revolutions until the final one which was led by Carmona. He found in Salazar his ideal finance minister and since 1932 his ideal premier as well. The pair have made of Portugal a sort of corporate state, but differing in many essentials from the Fascist and Nazi regimes in Italy and Germany respectively. It resembles them in permitting the people to vote for only one list of parliamentary candidates—that drawn up by the dictatorship. But a marked difference from Italian and German methods is the fact that the Portuguese Assembly may actually override a presidential veto—something that would shock a good Nazi or Fascist. In the main the endeavor of Carmona and Salazar has been to make of Portugal a nationalistic rather than really totalitarian state.

Two former powerful politicians. In fact, they had both been premiers of Portugal. In the anniversary speech which Salazar made at Braga in the presence of President Carmona and many detachments of the army, he said the greatest achievements of the regime were peace inside the country, a cessation of bitter political rivalries, an honest administration of the public services and an equally honest expenditure of the public money.

"These ten years in the history of our country have been only an era of restoration. The ten other years, which are now commencing, will constitute an era of aggrandizement, the highest heroism and the surest devotion."

He did not say so in so many words, but one of the things in the back of his mind was the uncertainty of the future, due to the hunger of nations like Germany and Italy for colonies. Portugal is still a great colonial power. Angola in West Africa has an area of 484,800 square miles and Mozambique in East Africa has 426,712 square miles. Government Sides With Neighboring Revolutionaries

SEE ERA OF IMPROVEMENT.

Salazar has set a record for his country in giving it new roads, schools and hospitals and as Finance Minister has shown himself something of a wizard.

The public debt has been reduced from $80 per head as it was in 1913 to $50. This has been brought about by paying off many of the debts due to the World War and the succession of revolutions from which the country suffered. Even more striking is the fact that the national budget has been balanced for the past seven years and with a small surplus on hand. The colonial budget has also been balanced.

Salazar has shown his confidence in the stability of the regime by granting celebration amnesties to many political offenders, including the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson, of Milby. The sponsors were the parents and Mr. and Mrs. W. Sawyer, of Sherbrooke, and the child received the name of William Wendle Parker.

Miss Pearl Shaughnessy is spending some time in Lennoxville.

ASSAILANTS OF FORREST LORD UNDER ARREST

Cleveland Police Expect to Locate Fifth Member of Hold-Up Party within Short Time—Automobile Recovered and Part of Personal Effects.

Four of five men who attacked Forrest W. Lord near Cleveland, Ohio, early yesterday morning and robbed him of $1,800 in jewelry and money have been placed in custody and Mr. Lord's car, in which the bandits escaped, has been recovered, the Record learned today. Mr. Lord has been in communication with J. W. Blake and has furnished additional details of the hold-up, which occurred on the public highway three miles from Cleveland while Mr. Lord was enroute home from Winnipeg.

Cleveland police are confident that they will quickly apprehend the last member of the hold-up gang. One of the four now held was knocked unconscious by Mr. Lord and was lying by the roadside when police arrived upon the scene.

The hold-up occurred at about two o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Lord was alone in his car and was proceeding along the main highway when five men, lined up on each side of the road, forced him to stop. As soon as Mr. Lord had jammed on his brakes and halted his car, the bandits opened the front door of the vehicle and dragged the Lennoxville man out.

Mr. Lord found himself in a decidedly serious predicament. He was facing five men, unarmed and with no weapon of defence. However, he overtook the overwhelming odds and started to fight. During the ensuing scuffle, he tore off one shoe which he used as a sort of club. He connected squarely on two different occasions, and two of the thugs "bit the dust." One of them remained on the road unconscious. The third returned to the fray, and needless to say Mr. Lord was unable to fight off the four hardies. Battered and bruised, he was overcome and left lying in the ditch.

The four bandits, who were still on their feet, abandoned their unconscious companion, jumped into Mr. Lord's car and made their escape. Police arrived upon the scene a few minutes later. They found Mr. Lord lying in the ditch, and another man in an unconscious condition nearby. This was the third Mr. Lord had knocked out. Mr. Lord and the bandit taken to a hotel in Cleveland. When Mr. Lord regained his senses, he gave a few incoherent details of the hold-up and identified himself.

FINE EXHIBITS ON DISPLAY AT RICHMOND FAIR

Large Number of District Farmers Exhibiting Their Stock at Annual Fair of Richmond County Agricultural Society Gratifying.

Richmond, August 28. — Bigger and better exhibits than last year are a feature of the Richmond County Agricultural Society fair which is now on its second day.

The attendance yesterday was considered satisfactory by the directors and officials and the large number of district farmers who decided to exhibit their stock was gratifying indeed. The livestock entries, the Record was informed today, are much heavier than in previous years. Furthermore, all spaces in the main building are occupied, while the horticultural display is considered excellent.

The weatherman was in a pleasant mood today, and the excellent weather conditions augured well for the success of the second day. Large numbers are expected to attend this popular exhibition this afternoon and this evening.

Trotting races, an outstanding feature of all county fairs, are scheduled for this afternoon, as well as high class entertainment. The midway is there to provide clean, wholesome fun while many other attractions on the grounds assure the visitors of a good time and plenty of enjoyment. A dance floor is at the disposal of the visitors every evening and was well patronized last night.

DIONNE QUINTS TEND TO VICTORIAN NIGHT DRESS

Yvonne Leads Demand that Every Button on Pyjamas Be Properly Fastened Before the Children Drop Off to Sleep.

Callander, Ont., Aug. 28. — The Dionne quintuplets have gone modern. Twenty-seven months old today, the famous little babies, who used to smile when they posed in their diapers are growing up and any inclination toward nudity is taboo.

When they are placed in their cots at night each button of their pyjamas must be fastened or their nurses are called back until they are fastened before the quints drop off to sleep.

Yvonne started the trend toward Victorian night clothes habits the other evening. When the nurses left her with a button of her pyjamas loose she protested in the way Yvonne always protests. And when Yvonne is in full voice the Dafoe nursery quivers until matters are adjusted to her satisfaction.

Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe reported all the children are in their usual excellent health. They are working before the cameras an hour each day while their second starring motion picture "Reunion" is being filmed.

All but Marie gained weight in the past month and all but Annette added a bit to their heights.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL PAID VISIT TO SHERBROOKE

A group of prominent Sherbrooke businessmen and representatives of the local press gathered at the Canadian Pacific Railway station last evening to greet H. LENNOXVILLE

PAST NOBLE GRANDS' CLUB ENTERTAINED

Miss Beatrice Everett was hostess to the members of the Past Noble Grands' Bridge Club at her home last evening, when eleven members and three visitors were present.

The business meeting, which was conducted by the president, Mrs. Rufus Dunn, was opened by the repetition of the Club motto.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Arnold Bown for the very pleasant party which was held at her cottage at Stoke Lake recently, when members of the Past Noble Grands' Bridge Club, Myrtle Rebeck Lodge No. 28 and Havelock Lodge No. 5 of the Order of Odd Fellows, were entertained.

Mrs. Bown stated that she hoped the Club would plan to make the trip an annual one.

Mrs. David Parkhill, of Detroit, Mich., was present, and gave a short talk on the Past Noble Grands' Bridge Club in Detroit, of which she is a member. This proved most interesting, and many new ideas were exchanged which might prove helpful to both clubs.

Following the business period, Contract bridge was played at three tables, the prize being won by Miss Ruby Pegg.

Later, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. L. Barter, of Sherbrooke.

INSTITUTE AT COWANSVILLE HELD DISPLAY

Demonstration of Different Departments of Institute Work Presented by Members of Cowansville Branch Proved Very Instructive—Other Items of Interest from Cowansville.

Cowansville, Aug. 28.—A "Publicity Tea," which featured a display of the work of the nine departments of work carried on by the members of the Women's Institute was held in Trinity Church hall, Wednesday afternoon, under the supervision of the president, Mrs. Mabel Rodger.

The hall was profusely decorated with gladioli and other beautiful flowers, many of which were kindly given by Mr. William Shufelt, of Sweetsburg. On one side of the room, tables were arranged to hold the articles of display.

In the home economics department, under Mrs. E. Martin, were displayed five examples of handicraft, hooked and knitted rugs, knitted afghans and cushions, pieced quilts, hand-painted china, knitted suit, crocheted tea cloths and serviettes, and a very interesting quilt, for which the wool was spun, woven, and the intricate design was done by Mrs. Mabel Rodgers' great grandmother before her marriage in 1774.

Mrs. Beach, convener of agriculture, gave a brief outline of the work of her department, and showed samples of "pimento pickles" and distributed literature from the department at Ottawa.

The convener of Child Welfare had a number of interesting posters, showing the work attempted. She also read a brief outline from the annual report and distributed literature.

Mrs. Palmer, in her report on education, called attention to the book, "Why Educate," by Dr. Percival, a copy of which he had sent her with his compliments. Socially this department is very active and gives a scholarship in grade eight, a number of prizes, provides gramophone records, travelling libraries, has an adult study group, and Mrs. Rodger personally gives a scholarship in grade ten.

Canadian industries, under the convener of Mrs. Daglish, featured a maple coffee table, made by the W. F. Vilas Company, and a card on which were mounted samples of silk from the raw material to the finished products as it comes from the Bruck Silk Mills.

A Union Jack covered the wall at the back of the Canadianization and National events display, and framed photos of King Edward VIII, Lord Tweedsmuir, the Premier and Leader of the Opposition, formed part of the decoration as arranged by Mrs. W. D. Smith, convener. Particularly interesting were photographs of legal documents taken from the archives at Ottawa relating to the history of Canada. One of great local interest is a copy of the deed of the grant of land given to the first settlers here, and containing many familiar names such as the Ruiter's. There were also reproductions of famous paintings by Canadian artists which hang in the National Gallery.

Mrs. Clare Buzzell, convener of immigration, had gathered together a number of interesting articles which had come from Poland, China, Ireland, Scotland and England, among them a cross-stitch sample made by a seven-year-old girl in 1785.

Mrs. L. H. Stowe, convener of legislation, read a short item on the objects of this department, which so closely affects our lives.

A number of copies of the official organ, "Home and Country," were distributed by the convener of publicity, Mrs. Brown.

The president, Mrs. Rodger, cordially welcomed the guests and said that although the Women's Institute had been given much publicity through the generosity of the press, she felt there were still many who did not quite understand all their aims and that was the reason d'être for this gathering and display. Mrs. Rodger continued with a brief history of the W.I., which originated in Stoney Creek, Ont., and was introduced into this province by Mrs. G. M. Beach, of this place, in 1911. There are now eighty-eight branches in the province, and their influence is far-reaching.

Afternoon tea was served at daintily appointed tables, under the direction of Mrs. E. A. Turner, Mrs. Moore and Miss A. Lowe.

CHICAGO MOVES INTO DEADLOCK WITH ST. LOUIS

Cubs Scored Fifth Straight Victory Yesterday to Create Tie for Second Position with Cardinals Who Suffered Fourth Consecutive Setback Against Boston.

The big league baseball campaign heads into its last month today and it is still a case of "pay-your-money-and-take-your-choice" on the chances of a Subway World Series in New York or a New York Yankees-Chicago Cubs classic for the big prize. While the Yankees have just about nailed the American League pennant to their flagpole, the galloping New York Giants and the Chicago champions are digging in for a finish fight for the National League bunting.

That the hurling of the Cub el-bowlers is tops again has been demonstrated since their return home. They have won five straight, winding up with a one to nothing decision over the Phillies yesterday as we saw Roy Henshaw pitched a six-hitter. Henshaw, called in from bullpen to record his first mound triumph since July 2, kept Philadelphia's blows well scattered, while the Cubs, who collected ten safeties, got to Syl Johnson for the game's only run in the fifth inning. Billy Herman led off with his forty-ninth double of the year, was sacrificed to third by Frank Demaree and came home on Stan Hack's long fly.

The win boosted the Chicago crew into a tie for second place with the St. Louis Cardinals who bowed to the Boston Bees for the fourth straight time, dropping a one to nothing heartbreaker. Roy Parmelee pitched no-hit ball for seven innings and allowed but three hits thereafter, only to lose out when Joe Coscarart's triple broke up the duel between himself and Danny MacFayden in the tenth chapter. The Boston hurler was touched for four blows, no two of which, however, came in one inning.

Even the weather man seemed to have signed up on the Giants' side, raining out the last game of the Cincinnati series to give the New Yorkers a day off when the whole outfit showed definite signs of weakening under the boiling western heat.

The Yankees maintained their twelve and a half game edge in the American League by knocking off the St. Louis Browns by seven to one behind Johnny Broasca's three-hit pitching, while the second-place Cleveland Indians had to go ten innings to overcome the Washington Senators by ten to nine.

The Yankees landed on Elton Hockett in the early innings to put the game on ice, scoring five runs in the first three frames. Joe DiMaggio and Jake Powell joined slugging honors for "Murderers' Row," each getting a triple and a pair of singles. The only St. Louis run was Rollie Hemley's homer in the eighth canto.

Washington had a seven to four lead going into the seventh round, but pinch-hitter Bruce Campbell's single brought home a pair of runs to knot the count. The Senators got two tallies in their half of the eighth on three singles, but Hal Trosky's thirty-sixth homer of the year with a mate on base blocked matters again. Earl Averill's single in the first extra frame broke up the game.

Connie Mack, an expert on pulling them out of the hat, uncovered a "boy wonder" possibility in eighteen year old Randall Gumpert, recent high school graduate from up-state Pennsylvania, who moved down the Chicago White Sox with two hits to give the Philadelphia Athletics a five to two win in his first big league start. Gumpert allowed only one hit up to the ninth frame when a single by Radcliff, a pass to Rosenthal and a wild throw by New-some gave the Chisox two unearned runs.

Tommy Bridges chalked up his eighteenth mound victory, pitching a four-hit four to two win for the Detroit Tigers over the Boston Red Sox. One of the four safeties off Bridges was Jimmy Fox's thirty-fifth circuit clout of the campaign which accounted for both Boston's markers.

Van Lingle Mungo ran into his customary hard luck as the Brooklyn Dodgers left apart afield, committing four errors, and lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates by six to three. The Bucs came from behind with a three-run rally in the eighth inning. Big Jim Weaver was the victor although he and Cy Blanton, who pitched the ninth frame, were touched for thirteen hits compared to the ten safeties Van Mungo allowed.

HOCKEY MAY BE DROPPED FROM OLYMPIC SLATE

Chairman of Canadian Olympic Committee Claims Professionalism, Veiled Behind Sham Amateurism, May Remove Hockey from Olympic Games.

Montreal, Aug. 28.—Canada today faced the possibility of never being able to recapture the Olympic hockey title—a title the Dominion had held with unbroken grip in all past Olympiads until England carried off honors this year.

P. J. Mulqueen, of Toronto, chairman of the Canadian Olympic Committee, revealed here last night that professionalism, veiled behind sham amateurism, might have as its aftermath the dropping of hockey from the winter Olympic Games slate.

Mr. Mulqueen attributed the rumor to European circles and declared "these people in the International Federation of Sport, controlling body of hockey in Europe, are not blind." Over in Europe, he said, hockey players are quite open about what they are getting to play on teams.

England, coached by Percy Nicklin, who led the Moncton Hawks to two Allan Cup victories on this side of the water and fortified by several Canadians of English descent, defeated Canada by two to one in a preliminary round at the Olympics.

The Britons afterward won the title by playing to a scoreless draw with the United States, Canada's earlier defeat making it virtually impossible for the Maple Leafs to retain the title in view of a complicated round-robin system of play.

Boxing, wrestling and other sports that require personal contacts may also join hockey on the list of events to be removed from the Olympic programme, Mr. Mulqueen stated as he arrived in Quebec yesterday aboard the Empress of Britain and motored here preparatory to leaving for his home in Toronto.

"The trouble with these sports is that they cause too much bad feeling. Team managers are always complaining of judges' decisions and invariably complaints are registered."

Possibility of Canada getting the winter Olympics in 1940 was mentioned by Mr. Mulqueen, who made the original bid to bring the winter sports to the Dominion.

"Canada has the backing of England in its fight for the winter Games, and if we don't get them in 1940 then there is a strong possibility we will get them in the near future. We have more or less got away from the idea that the country awarded the summer Games should have the winter Games also."

He explained how Canada had come to put in a sudden and unexpected bid for the winter sports. The bid was made under the assumption that England would make an attempt to obtain the 1940 summer games. When England saw that it had no chance to get the games and withdrew the bid, Canada decided to continue its efforts to obtain the winter programme.

The chairman of the committee was loud in his praise of the manner in which the games were staged. "Wonderful," he said. "I never saw anything like it. And there wasn't the slightest bit of favoritism shown to any nation."

He mentioned the fact that the athletes from Canada would have liked to have stayed in Europe a while longer after the games, "but we simply couldn't do it. We would have been glad to give them some more entertainment but we had enough financial worries as it was."

As regards the performance of the Canadian team it was "more than creditable." "Worth while to stand and over? Of course it was. Maybe they didn't capture a lot of championship medals but they gave a wonderful exhibition. It sure was fine to see those Canadian boys and girls getting out of their heats—which in itself bespeaks ability—into semi-finals and even into finals."

The western track and field men will be heard from, he said. All of them are up and coming stars.

"Howie McPhee was a bit of a disappointment, but he still is a great sprinter and he'll be heard from again."

LOCAL PITCHER ALLOWED SORELY ONLY TWO HITS

"Lefty" Kadis Mowed Down Champions Yesterday Only to Lose Heart-Breaking Decision in Ninth Inning—Sorel Captured Nightcap by Coming from Behind.

Sorel, August 28.—"Lefty" Kadis, making his final appearance before a Sorel crowd in a Sherbrooke uniform, treated local baseball fans to one of the most brilliant mound performances witnessed here this summer. Kadis, who, in all probability will join the Montreal Royals of the International League before the 1937 campaign rolls around, let the champions down with only two hits but lost the opener of a Provincial Baseball League double-header by one to nothing. In the curfew encounter the homesters found "Nippy" Joyce easier and came from behind to register a seven to three triumph.

The ace elbow of the Sherbrooke-Notre Dame aggregation mowed the local sluggers down with unerring precision. Irving's double being the only safety he allowed until the ninth inning. In this frame he walked the second man to face him and Irving again came into the picture. The local first baseman hoisted a fly to the outfield and the ball was lost in the sun, permitting the runner to scamper around the bases and chalk up the games lone point.

It was a heart-breaking setback for Kadis whose mate collected nine blows off "Lefty" Hill. The Sorel moundsman, however, was at his best in the pinches, keeping Sherbrooke runners away from the plate even in the frame when the visitors crowded the sacks with none out.

Sherbrooke established a three-run lead in the early innings of the second fixture and kept the Sorelites off the score sheet until the fourth inning when a barrage of safeties resulted in four markers. The local aggregation continued its heavy slugging to sew up the decision in the fifth frame with a three-run rally.

Hill, who also went the route in the second encounter, gave up eight safeties, while doubles by Hill, Andrews and Galen were included in the dozen blows garnered off Joyce's deliveries.

The score by innings was:
First game
Sorel 000 000 000—0
Sorel 000 000 001—1
Batteries: Kadis and Stuka; Hill and Galen.

Second game
Sherbrooke-N.D. 021 000 003—3
Sorel 000 430 00X—7
Batteries: Joyce and Stuka; Hill and Galen.

The league standing to date follows:

P. W. L. P. C.
Sorel 27 21 6 .777
Granby 28 20 5 .714
Drummondville 28 14 14 .500
Black Panthers 29 13 16 .448
Sherbrooke 28 9 19 .321
Lachine 28 7 21 .250

Two Provincial Baseball League games are scheduled for Sunday. Sherbrooke travelling to Drummondville and Sorel receiving a visit from the second-place Granby aggregation. The results of these two encounters will have no effect on the standing. Drummondville and the Black Panthers being already assured of playoff berths.

NEW YORKERS GRIPPED WITH WORLD SERIES FEVER.

New York, August 28.—World Series fever grips New York with the Yanks as good as in and the Giants on their way.

Park superintendents at Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds are checking seating arrangements and glaring at each other from their vantage points across the Harlem River. Subway lines are getting fancy advertisements to tell customers about the horrors of automobile parking and the value of a nickel. Hot dog, pop-corn and pea vendors are laying in big orders. Office boys are begging for new vacation dates.

In every Manhattan hotel lobby you can hear arguments as to the merits of the "Gernits" and the Yanks, who actually are not so pleased about the prospect of facing Carl Hubbell's slants.

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, and Charles McManus, Yankee Stadium superintendent, have made a whisker wager on the subway series—if it comes true. If the Giants win, McManus must shave off his famous moustache; if the Yanks win, smooth shaven Stoneham must grow a moustache and wear it for one year.

Bleacher fans will get their greatest treat in World Series history at enlarged Yankee Stadium which will have 20,000 31 seats. There are some 4,000 of them at the Polo Grounds. Thus, a New York bleacherite will be able to see seven World Series games for the grand sum of a $10 bill, which would include transportation, and twenty-three hot dog sandwiches.

The 1936 World Series will be the fifth in eleven seasons for Tony Lazzeri and the fifth in fourteen years for Lou Gehrig. Mel Ott has been in but one fall classic in ten years, Carl Hubbell and Bill Dickey one in eight and Bill Terry in but two in thirteen, exclusive of the impending one.

World Series just follow Mark Koenig around. If he gets into the coming one, it will be his fifth in twelve years. Babe Ruth holds the record with ten in twenty-two years. Frank Frisch has been in eight in seventeen years, while Dick Bartell and Sam Leslie have both been around for eight seasons without getting into one.

CLOSE VICTORY WAS RECORDED BY ST. FRANCIS

Last Evening's Sherbrooke Softball League Fixture Went Ten Innings Before St. Francis Nosed Out St. Pat's by Six to Five.

The two "Saints" in the Sherbrooke Softball League—St. Francis and St. Patrick's—clashed on the Parade Grounds last evening in a fixture which completed their respective sixteen-game schedules. The contest went three extra innings before Roger Dufour became the hero of the St. Francis cause when he hit safely and allowed Johnny Biron to score the winning run in a six to five decision.

The Irishmen got away to a four-run lead in the first inning and then were obliged to come from behind and cause the encounter to go beyond the regular seven-inning limit. A barrage of hits off Armand Filion allowed Brendan Veilleux, Charles Clark, Frankie Mitten and Emile Boisse to count, but thereafter the Green Shirts were powerless until Johnny Hibbard clouted for the circuit in the first half of the seventh stanza to knot the count at five-all.

St. Francis jumped into the scoring column when three hits produced a point in the second chapter. Another runner toured the sacks in the third and two innings later the Blue squad went ahead with a three-run rally, made possible by a combination of hits and a few errors.

The ultimate winners threatened in the first two supplementary innings before they succeeded in breaking up the game, in the eighth inning they had men on second and third with only one out, but two flies ended the menace. In the ninth episode, with two out and a runner on third, "Annie" Choquette's throw to the plate prevented the winning run by inches.

There were two out in the tenth frame when an error and a safety throw prevented a visit from the paths. Then Dufour came through with his timely single.

The score by innings was:
St. Pat's 400 000 100 0—5
St. Francis 010 103 000 1—6
The line-ups follow:
St. Francis: Letarte, Guay, Douglas, Dubois, Boissvert, Filion, Draut, Biron, Dufour and Theberge.
St. Pat's: Choquette, Veilleux, Clark, M. Dunsmore, Mitten, Boisse, Hibbard, Ginguet, Wolfe and L. Boissvert.

MRS. DARLING AND MRS. DOLAN IN PROVINCIAL FINAL

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—Montreal Whitlock's great shotmaker, Mrs. A. B. Darling, and Ottawa's Mrs. D. Leo Doland today matched strokes on the Ottawa Hunt and Golf Club course here for the Province of Quebec Women's Golf Association championship.

The Montrealese, defending champion, won a berth in the final play with a hard-fought victory yesterday over a home town rival, Mrs. Jos. Dagenais. Both women played sparkling golf and the issue was in doubt until the eighteen regulation holes were completed.

At the end of the seventeenth hole the defending champion was only one up. Mrs. Dagenais appeared to have had the whip-hand when her third stroke of the eighteen hole landed within six feet of the cup. She missed the putt, however, and both players took a five-stroke par, halving the hole and allowing Mrs. Darling to retain her one-hole margin.

In the other half of the semi-final, Mrs. Dolan, Ottawa and District champion, took a commanding lead from the outset to defeat Miss Evelyn Mills, Royal Ottawa, by five and four. Mrs. Dolan had a five-hole margin at the end of the outgoing nine. She boosted her lead to six in the tenth with a birdie four and halved the next four to end the match on the fourteenth.

S. ROY GAINED BERTH IN SEMI-FINALS TODAY

Richmond Youth Gained Round of Four for Second Straight Year by Scoring Three-Set Victory Over Ashley Hibbard This Afternoon.

Sarto Roy gained the semi-final round in the men's singles competition of the Eastern Townships amateur tennis championship tournament early this afternoon when he downed Ashley Hibbard in a long-drawn and hard-fought encounter. The triumph placed Roy in the round of four for the second straight year and qualified him to oppose Fabre Surveyley for the right to advance to the final round. Johnny Hibbard, the defending title-holder, is already in the title round awaiting the survivor of the Surveyley-Roy encounter.

Roy captured the first set, which went to twelve games, while the other member of the Hibbard faction squared matters by winning the second set at 6-3. The ultimate winner annexed the deciding set at 6-4 and eliminated one of the last pair of Irish contenders for the Sherbrooke Record Trophy.

Roy reached the quarter-final round yesterday afternoon when he scored a decisive victory over John Basset, finalist in the North Hatley tournament. Showing a remarkable reversal of form as compared with the exhibition he gave when he bowed to Connie Gregoire in the Sherbrooke County Club-St. Francis series, Roy was master of the situation throughout.

The Richmond youth lost only two games in the first set as Basset, playing below his usual form, could not handle his opponent's assortment of drives. Roy continued his stellar playing in the second set and refused to allow his rival even one game.

In the other match on yesterday's programme Basset and Miss Fredricka Bradley gained the mixed doubles' final by scoring a straight-set victory over the Thereses Boissvert and H. Prefontaine. The East Sherbrooke pair lacked the court generalship of the Basset-Bradley combination which clashes with Miss Marcelline Moisan and Pete Guilmette, of Drummondville, in one of today's finals.

In the other title fixture today Miss Bradley and Miss Moisan will meet with the ladies' singles crown at stake.

The detailed results of yesterday's matches follow:
Men's singles: S. Roy defeated J. Basset, 6-2, 6-0.
Mixed doubles: Miss F. Bradley and J. Basset defeated Miss T. Boissvert and H. Prefontaine, 6-2, 6-3.

FINALS IN NORTH HATLEY TOURNAMENT OVER WEEK-END

North Hatley, Aug. 28.—The finals in ladies' doubles and men's singles of the North Hatley tennis tournament will be staged here over the week-end. Mrs. William Edgar and Miss Claire Thompson will oppose the Misses Twinkle de Rosset and Fredericka Bradley tomorrow afternoon while on Sunday John Basset and Jack Dick will battle for the men's singles crown.

Mrs. Edgar and Miss Thompson reached the ladies' doubles final yesterday by scoring a 6-3, 6-4 triumph over the Misses Moira Bradley and Valentine Edgar.

FOOTBALL

ASBESTOS SQUAD VISITS SHERBROOKE TOMORROW

Sherbrooke Ramblers meet the Asbestos squad tomorrow afternoon at the Parade Grounds in a regular Eastern Townships Independent Football League fixture. Following their improved showing against Drummondville last week, the local aggregation hopes to break into the winning column tomorrow.

MRS. JARRETT'S GOT THE ANSWER
Detroit, Mich., Aug. 28.—Eleanor Holm Jarrett, the pretty world's women's backstroke champion dismissed from the 1936 United States Olympic team by Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic Committee, because she liked late hours and champagne, came to town today with a new "Knock, Knock!"

When she says "Knock, knock," and you ask who's there, Mrs. Jarrett, here to fill a vaudeville engagement, replies "Avery." "Avery who?" "Avery knocks a boost." China has an area of 4,000,000 square miles.
