Club Wants a Date Change—
Quebec's Dark Horse.

(Special to the Herald.)

Ottawa, May 1.—The Capitals mean to be in good condition when they meet the champions here on the 24th. Every practice so far has been well attended, and the players have not shirked their work. Indeed they have gone into it with such alacrity that the critics are much pleased, and are already predicting that the ex-champions will make a hard fight before surrendering the trophy. The Caps are not yet minus Quinn. The great and only "Barney" went on strike recently because the executive was not able to secure him an increase in salary at the militia stores, and the sequel was that he was notified to send in his suit. When seen Quinn declined to say anything. However, as it is to his advantage to play with the Caps, it is thought he will return to the fold. In that event he will be accepted. Leary is the only other member of the Capitals who has not yet turned out to practice. He is in Canada, and is not likely to play with the team this year. The club has Curran, of last year's Ottawas, and Smith, who played on the team last year to fill his place. Should Quinn not go back, then Shea or Grimes, of last year's Stars, will be promoted to the vacancy. Then there are numerous other junior players to pick from, and the team, it is expected, will not be weaker than it is not stronger, than last season.

The new rule of the Intermediate League will weaken the Young Capitals (Stars) and Shea, having played in three senior series last year, are ineligible to play with the team until August last, although they may not be required by the seniors, and their places will be hard to fill. The team will also be minus J. Powers, who played with them, as well as with the senior Caps last year. The junior champions of the city are practising with the team, however, and they will have this club to draw from. Consequently their hopes of success are high. Shamrocks Will Practice on Saturday. There will be a general rally of the Shamrocks lacrosse teams at the new Shamrock grounds on Saturday afternoon for the first practice of the season. Special arrangements have been made with the Park and Island Railway to run a regular car between Wiseman's corner and the grounds, in addition to its regular service. Cote Street, in order to meet the requirements of the public, who may use the City Passenger Railway service to that point. It is expected that all the teams will meet in full force.

Young Shamrocks Will Meet. There will be a general meeting of the Young Shamrock Lacrosse Club this evening at the S.A.A. rooms to make arrangements for the first practice and to fill vacancies on the executive.

A Dark Horse for Quebec. (Special to the Herald.) Quebec, May 1.—The senior Quebec Lacrosse Club is announced to have secured the services of one of the best ex-handlers in the Dominion, who is expected to come down to take his place on the team, and another first-class player has also signified his intention of joining shortly.

Ottawa Player Coming to Montreal. Ottawa, May 1.—E. Murphy, of last year's Stars, and who played for the Young Shamrocks against the Quebecs, has gone to Montreal on business. He will be absent some time, and many think he will combine lacrosse playing for the Young Shamrocks or Nationals with his other work.

The Junior League Quits. The Junior Lacrosse League's representatives were to have met last night at the M.A.A.A. rooms, but the attendance was so small that there seems every reason to suppose that the league will die a painless death this year. The report of J. Stuart Scott, honorary secretary-treasurer, showed that the Beaver, Emmets, White Stars, Montreal and Mechanics formed the league last year, but the championship was not decided, and the money subscribed for the trophy was accordingly divided. The meeting adjourned after deciding to go out of business for a year.

Montreal and Toronto. A meeting of the Montreal Lacrosse Club was held at the M.A.A.A. last night. No business of any importance was transacted. An effort has been made by the Toronto team to have the date of their first schedule match with Montreal changed from June 8 to the 24th. May. Montreal has sent them a communication stating that their men would not be in a condition to play a league match on the 24th, but would like to play an exhibition game in Toronto on that day. If a favorable answer is not received it is likely that a game will be played with Quebec.

The Junior Independent League. There was a meeting of above mentioned league last night at W. J. Smythe's, 125-13 St. Antoine Street, but owing to the small attendance no schedule was drawn up. The league for the coming season is composed of the following clubs so far: Standards, All Canadians and Third Nationals. All clubs wishing to join this league are requested to send their applications to F. Quinn, secretary, 466 Rachel Street, on or before Wednesday next, May 8th.

Balmorals Meet To-Night. There will be a meeting of the Balmoral Lacrosse Club this evening at 8 at the Queen's Hotel. All members and those wishing to join are requested to attend.

RUGBY.

Ottawa's Collegians Still at It. (Special to the Herald.) Ottawa, Ont., May 1.—Another match in the Ottawa College Football Club's spring series was played on the college campus this afternoon. It was between the teams captained by Ed. Gleason and J. Dulin, and resulted in a draw. Two twenty-minute halves were played without either team scoring. The team captained by J. Holland now leads with two wins, and the other being second, with a win and a draw, and they play off on Saturday for the cup.

THE RING.

Griffith Says Lavigne "Can't" Hit Him. New York, May 1.—The contest between young Griffith and Kid Lavigne is less than two weeks away, yet the Australian has not begun to get into condition for the fray. He holds his antagonist very cheaply. Monday he was caressing around in his favorite haunts on Cony Island in company with several of his bosom friends, and was having what, in his estimation, was a "good time." When asked by a reporter whether he was not underrating Lavigne, he replied: "Why 'e can't" hit me, you know. On the other hand, the Saginaw Kid is in retirement at Oceanic, N.J., and working like a nigger every day. Coupled with this is the fact that he is always in good condition, and being of temperate habits will be trained to the minute. Sam Kirkpatrick, his mentor, states that Lavigne is as fine as a racehorse, and when he enters the ring he will be able to give and take a terrible amount of punishment. Griffith must know that Lavigne is no easy mark for him or any other lightweight. Any man of Lavigne's weight will have extreme difficulty in beating him, if there are any who can do that. Therefore, it would seem that Griffith, who is a sensible fellow in some matters, should throw folly to the winds, settle down to good hard training, and meet Lavigne in as fine a trim as the conditions he possibly can, though, of course, the Australian knows his own business best.

The Champion of Ohio.

Cincinnati, May 1.—In a ten-round fight for the championship of Ohio, Eddie Foy was, last night, knocked out by Dave Richards, who recently won this championship from Chick Becker.

Maher and Marshall to Fight. New York, May 1.—Dan Creedon and Joe Dunfee have been matched to meet in a twelve-round bout before the Athletic Club at Cony Island on Monday, May 20. The two were served up as a preliminary to the contest of 25 rounds between Peter Maher, the Irish champion, and Bob Marshall, of England. The latter comes here well recommended by Charlie Mitchell and other English pugilists.

O'Leary is Indignant. Richard K. O'Leary called at the Herald office yesterday to say that the letter published yesterday over his signature was not written by him.

THE WHEEL.

A Big Time Expected at the Capital.

Ottawa, May 1.—The Ottawa Bicycle Club expect a large number of Montreal wheelmen here for their races on the 24th. They have issued the programme. The open events are quarter mile, in heats, half mile, one mile, one mile (2.40 class), one mile (novice), two mile (5.20 class), five mile and team race open to three members of any bona fide club. The executive has approached the Capitals with a view to getting them to postpone their match with the Shamrocks arranged for the 24th, until the following day, Saturday. The wheelmen say they would postpone their races until Saturday, but that Kingston has a meet on that day.

Capitals Won't Postpone for Wheelmen. (Special to the Herald.) Ottawa, May 1.—It is pretty certain that the Capitals will not entertain the request of the bicycle club to postpone the match with the Shamrocks arranged for the 24th until the following day (Saturday). They say there are to be several excursions to the city on the 24th, as people in the surrounding towns and villages are very desirous of seeing the game and it is not to the interest of the club to disappoint them.

The O. A. C. directors met to-night and opened tenders for the erection of the proposed new stands at the Metropolitan Grounds. As the work could not be completed before the 24th, it was decided not to commence it until after June 1. The lowest tender was in the vicinity of $3,000.

The Ottawa Bicycle Club has sent in an application for a date in the Canadian circuit the Racing Board of the C. W. A. proposes organizing, for August 27 is an open day in Ottawa, and the Ottawa wheelmen would like a meet here. If the application is entertained, they will make a big effort to have the track at the Metropolitan Grounds put in first-class shape.

(Special to the Herald.) Ottawa, May 1.—Manager Chittick, of the Ottawa Baseball Club, stated to-night that the Ottawas would not join the league this year. There were lacrosse matches here nearly every Saturday during the summer, and it would not pay the club to have ball games on the same day.

TURF AND TRACK.

Vosburgh announces the following weights in the Suburban Handicap: G. deon & Daly's Ramapo, 5, 128; Oneck Stable's Sir Walter, 5, 125; J. MISCELLANEOUS.

The Montreal Camera Club. The committee of the Montreal Camera Club have decided to allow those interested in photography to see the collection of prize photographs of the Canadian Photographic Journal, now on exhibition at their club rooms, No. 4 Phillips Square. One of the members will be at the rooms from 4 to 6 in the afternoon and from 8 to 10 in the evening during the week to show visitors over the place.

An Encouragement for Tobogganing. At the Uttonger, England, Police Court, on the 2nd of April, Major-General Hercy was fined 10s and costs, £5 for being tobogganing on the public highway in company with a party of ladies and gentlemen, among whom was his son, Col. Hercy. As there is no law on the English statute book dealing with tobogganing on the public roads, the indictment was a very carefully worded so as to avoid a dismissal of the case. It is worthy of reproduction as a curiosity. The awful crime that Major-General Hercy was convicted of was that he "did unlawfully and maliciously drive a certain carriage, to wit, a sleigh, and tobogganing sled on the highway called Yearly Hill, so as to endanger the lives or limbs of passengers, contrary to the provisions of the Statute 5 and 6, William IV., cap. 50, sec. 72, and secondly, that on the same date he did unlawfully and wilfully play a certain game, to wit, tobogganing, on the said highway, to the annoyance of passengers, contrary to the provisions of the Statute 5 and 6, William IV., cap. 50, sec. 72." The bench decided after hearing the evidence that the case of "playing a game" had not been proved, but that furious driving, with the meaning of the Act, had been proved.

ROWING and SAILING.

Cornell's Crew for Henley. Ithaca, N.Y., May 1.—The trial races between the two Cornell "Varsity" crews for the Lake Ontario regatta were more exciting than the time trials, for selecting Cornell at the Henley regatta, popular interest increases over the competition. The two varsities and substitutes sail for the time trials this afternoon, and this evening they, together with President Schurman and other members of the faculty, were present at an entertainment at which handsome banners of red and blue decoration of the shell in the Henley regatta were formally placed in the hands of the commodore, W. N. Hastings.

The Belleville Regatta. Belleville, May 1.—The Regatta Committee have decided to hold a regatta here on July 15, 17, 18 and 19, in connection with the summer carnival.

CLARA FORD UNDER TRIAL.

The Taking of Evidence Commenced—Hyamns Asks for Delay. Toronto, May 1.—The trial of Clara Ford on the charge of having shot and killed young Frank Westwood at Parkdale on October 6, 1894, was begun at the Assize Court this morning. The Crown is represented by B. B. O'Leary, Q.C., and H. H. Dewar, and the prisoner is defended by Mr. F. B. Johnston, and Mr. W. G. Murdoch.

Mrs. Mary Crozier, her two daughters, and others, testified for the defence, and to the fact that Clara had been at their house, 15 Camden Street, about 8.00 o'clock on the evening the shooting occurred. Clara stated that she was going to the theatre with Flora McKay. The prisoner was carrying a revolver with her. Maggie Crozier testified that the whole case had been talked over so much in their family that her mind had become confused, and that she did not give evidence at all differing from that elicited at the Police Court investigation.

When the Criminal Assize Court resumed this afternoon, the taking of testimony in the case against Clara Ford was proceeded with, the counsel for Hyamns brothers applied for a postponement of the trial until the next court. In supporting the application they put in affidavits stating that several important witnesses could not be present in time. Mr. Osler opposed the application.

The judge said that if another affidavit were put in and Mr. Horn, the solicitor for the Hyamnses, was cross-examined he would take the matter into his consideration.

The case against Clara Ford was then gone on with. Mrs. Phylla, the woman with whom Florence McKay was employed after leaving Richmond Street, stated that the girl had been at her house on the evening of October 6th, last year.

Defective Slemin testified to the arrest by him of Clara Ford and the discovery of the man's clothes, the revolver and other articles of an incriminating nature in her trunk.

Libby Black was the last witness, but her testimony, which was expected to be damaging to the prisoner, was utterly unimportant.

Y. I. L. and B. Association. The annual meeting of the Young Irishmen's L. and B. Association was held in their hall, Dupre Street, last evening. After general routine business was transacted, the election of officers for the ensuing year as proceeded with, and resulted as follows: President, M. A. Phelan, by acclamation; first vice-president, G. C. Grace; second vice-president, J. S. McCaffrey; treasurer, J. J. Foley, re-elected; recording secretary, Hugh R. Callias, by acclamation; corresponding secretary, F. J. Gallagher, re-elected; G. C. Grace, re-elected; J. J. McLean, re-elected; assistant recording secretary, C. Bickelstedt, re-elected; librarian, W. P. Stanton, re-elected; assessor, J. J. O'Brien, re-elected; the regular standing committees were also appointed. The association's membership, which is very large, is steadily increasing, and the annual reports show the association to be in a flourishing condition. It was also decided to hold an excursion to the river on Monday, July 15, and a picnic to St. Rose on Saturday, August 10.

U. E. Loyalists. There was an enthusiastic meeting held at the Natural History Museum, last night, with a view to organizing a United Empire Loyalist Association. About fifty were present. Viscount Forsyth de France, president. The objects of the organization were explained. The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary president, Sir William Johnson Bart., Chamby; president, Judge Wurtel; first vice-president, Hon. H. G. Joly; second vice-president, Dr. P. A. Lockhart; council, Viscount Forsyth de France, A. de Lery Macdonald, Hon. A. C. Wurtel, J. A. Robert. It was decided that five ladies should be added to the council, and that the organization was to represent on the committee the old French families of Quebec, who have done so much for U.E. Loyalists.

Many letters were read from U.E. Loyalists unable to attend. Among them was a most encouraging one from Sir Leonard Tilley, Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick and president of the U.E. Loyalist Association. A copy of their constitution was also enclosed for the Montreal society's aid. The society at present will be provincial. The meeting concluded by a pleasant and old piece of entertainment, in the form of a reading by the author, H. H. Dewar. The poem was commemorative of Queen's Heights, and was written from a suggestion received at a picnic near Brock's monument, in the year 1876.

You cannot pass the time more agreeably than in smoking the Clock Cigar.

Model Parliament. There was a large and lively meeting of the Model Parliament last night at 1115 Notre Dame Street. Debate was renewed on the motion made by J. Pelland three weeks ago to repeal the Act incorporating the Orange Grand Lodge. The motion was supported by J. Decaire, the premier. It was opposed by Messrs. Victor Gaudet and Thomas Cote, on the ground that the order had acquired certain rights by legislation which would be unfair to revoke now, and also that at the present time it would be better not to rouse any feelings. The motion, which was treated as an open one, was rejected on a vote of 11 to 10.

The coalition government of Mr. Decaire was, however, defeated. Its proposal to admit members of professional students, and the proposal to enlarge the franchise established for the benefit of membership was defeated by 11 to 42.

AMUSEMENTS.

The old English comedy, "The Heir-at-Law," by George Coleman, the younger, sold none of its charm as presented last night at the Academy by Sol Smith Russell and his company. If the humor of the piece sometimes shot over the heads of many in the audience, that was not the fault of Mr. Russell. Perhaps in one of his American farces he would have aroused more enthusiasm, but in pure comedy it would be difficult to excel his interpretation of the part of Dr. Pangloss, L.L.D., and A.S.S. As the old "domine" and tutor he was charming. The little cough with which he concluded the scraps of classics, which interlarded his conversation, was inimitable. Mr. Charles Smiley and Miss Kate Ryan were excellent as the ship chandler and his wife, who, by the whirling of fortune, inherited the title of Lord and Lady Duberly. The remaining characters were equally well taken. The comedy was repeated to-night, and deserves a crowded house.

THEATRE ROYAL. Tony Farrell, one of the most magnetic of our younger comedians in the portrayal of the type of Irishman personified as defined as "a broth of a boy," appeared at the Theatre Royal on Monday next, May 6th, in "Garry Owen," a new comedy drama by Murphy O'Hea. Other cities have lauded the plot and star in warmest praise. The play is graced by fresh scenery and facts that are striking and picturesque.

Ben Davies, who sang at New Haven last Thursday, comes in for the following eulogistic criticism from the Journal Courier, April 27th: "It must be conceded that the singing of Mr. Ben Davies gave evidence again of a true born artist, whose heart and soul seemed to enter into all his work, and which was heartily echoed by the well deserved applause which he created." Ben Davies' selections for May 10th, include the "Salve Dimora" aria, from Gounod's "Faust," Blumenthal's song "My Queen," Purcell's "I Attempt From Love's Sickness to Fly," and the old English version of "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." Apart from these sterling numbers, Ben Davies will sing in a duet with Watkins Mills, and in a trio with bass and soprano. The sale of seats begins next Friday at 10 a.m. at Nordheimer's.

A handsome nickel clock is placed in the centre of every box of the Clock Cigar.

THE HUDSON BAY SCHEME.

Winnipeg is reported by newspaper correspondents to be in a very excited state over the gathering there of President Sutherland, of the Hudson Bay Road, and his contractors, and the probability of construction being begun. Winnipeg is notoriously addicted to making large drafts on the future on very slight foundations in the present; and repeated disappointments seem powerless to cool its sanguine temperament. What there is in the present situation to base expectations of immediate wealth upon, it passes the mind of a phlegmatic easterner to see. At the best, there will be built from Winnipeg to the Saskatchewan River a local railway that will add one more to the eight railways that at present end in Winnipeg. For the first ninety miles it will run through a country already connected with Winnipeg by one or more railways. The rest of the route runs through a country which, with the exception of the Lake Dauphin district—which is sparsely settled—is a wilderness. Nor is it a country which is likely to develop rapidly after being tapped by a railway. As an agricultural district it cannot compare with the fertile plains to the south-west, which are not now supporting one-tenth of the population that they should; and its chief resources are in wood of a somewhat stunted growth. Certainly there is no reason to believe that the building of the road to the Saskatchewan can bring enough new business to Winnipeg to lift that city out of the depressed condition in which it unfortunately is to-day.

But it is by no means certain that the road is going to be built at all. Mr. Sutherland appears to be engaged in developing one of his characteristic bluffs in his ostentatious rallying of contractors at Winnipeg. The Government has given no intimation of its intention to ask Parliament to ratify the Order-in-Council on which the company propose to act; and until that is done every dollar of expenditure will be made at the risk of the contractors. The newspapers that stand nearest the Government—the Gazette, of this city, and the Mail, of Toronto—are openly hostile to the scheme. They have not, it may be relied upon, denounced the project without first having taken care to ascertain that in doing so they are not running counter to the desires of the Government. There is much hostility to the project in the House, due to a variety of causes, but in large part consequent on a deep belief that the enterprise is not bona fide—an impression which is liable to be fostered by a study of the past achievements of President Sutherland as a builder of railways. For all these reasons, there is great doubt that Parliament will be asked to vote the $2,500,000 which the railway expects to get; and it looks as though Mr. Sutherland, in beginning work in Manitoba, is simply trying to force the Government to carry out the agreement that it made last fall, and from which it is now anxious to retreat.

If President Sutherland carries his point and the arrangement is ratified, Manitoba will profit by the expenditure of that portion of the $2,500,000 left after the slice for the "boys" and the contribution to the Government boodle fund is taken from it—perhaps a couple of million dollars all told. That is something, no doubt, but it is not enough, spread over a whole province, to make a change from the hard times of the present to the prosperity that seems to be looked for. It would be very different were a strongly capitalized company about to begin the construction of a trunk line from Winnipeg to Hudson Bay, since it would make possible the realization in the near future of the high expectations which the West has always held in connection with the northern route; but no one claims for the present scheme anything more than that it is a colonization road which may some time become a link in a road built to the bay. But that day cannot come yet awhile; and the people of the Northwest are simply making themselves the certain victims of bitter disappointment in expecting that through the building of this local road any substantial benefit can accrue to them. One year's operation of a just tariff bearing lightly on the producers on the prairie would be worth in dollars and cents a dozen times the building of a railway through the wilderness north of the Riding Mountains to the desolate and uninhabited regions through which the Lower Saskatchewan flows. Tariff Reform is the only ladder by which the Westerners will be able to climb from the depths; and if they again pass it by and trust to the rotten means that failed them in the past, they will richly deserve another five years of subjection to plundering by the combines.

There is a good deal of screeching on the part of the American Jingo press over the occupation of Corinto by the British forces. It is represented as hostile to the spirit of the Monroe doctrine and an infringement of the terms of the Bulwer-Clayton treaty between the United States and Great Britain; and some of the valorous officers want the American white squadron ordered to the Nicaraguan coast to keep the tyrannical British in check. As the British Foreign Office has expressly declared to the American Government that it has no intention of proceeding further against Nicaragua than may be necessary to teach her a much-needed lesson in international courtesy, there is no reason why the United States Government, under the extreme interpretation of the Monroe doctrine, should interfere, excepting in the capacity of mediator. Nor is she at all likely to. The public men of the United States have always been aware of the danger of a too free interpretation of the Monroe doctrine. John C. Calhoun in 1848 said of the theory of that day that "it puts it in the power of other countries on this continent to make us a party to all their wars." If the United States wishes to establish a virtual protectorate over all the saucy little Spanish-American republics she must accept the responsibility of keeping them in order, and of paying, or seeing that they pay, their bills. European nations would doubtless prefer dealing with the Secretary of State of the United States to negotiating with half-civilized rulers like President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, and President Crespo, of Venezuela.

AN ANGLO-SAXON UNION.

The events which have lately agitated the minds of the bald diplomatists of Europe have not gravely affected the even balance of the Anglo-Saxon imagination. Evidence as to the renewal of the Dreikaiserbund is given in the protest directed by Russia, Germany and France against the terms proposed by Japan in settlement of her claims against China. Russia's interest is apparent; Japan seems to be quite ready to fight rather than to accede to Russia's demands for recognition in the disposal of the territory which Japan has seized during the war. To the need of Russia for a winter seaport on the Pacific is added another need, in which the German and Austrian Kaisers are partners with the Czar. To effect a union of forces and powers which might tend to the allayment of socialistic agitation in their several kingdoms would be a purpose to achieve which the three Emperors might well strive. But the name of Austria is not qualified to strike terror to the stout hearts of the victorious Japanese, and France as the sworn friend and natural ally of Russia is admitted to the protest in Austria's place.

But England holds aloof. Capt. Lee, in his very excellent lecture a few weeks ago, told us in Montreal that China was "a great pecked bubble," and the phrase has not been bettered by any of the clever men who have been trying to picture the state of China in three words. England has found this out. English sympathy, touched even on more points than that of the pocket, ran all with China at the beginning of the war, but England has begun to see that in setting up a fabric of civilization on the ruins of Chinese barbarity, Japan may well serve England's purpose in the far East. That purpose does not lie far from the holding of Russia in check; and Japan seems better able to do this than any other nation in the world—England barred—and to be at least as willing.

In the United States the reactionary forces, which describe England as the hereditary enemy of the Republic, have not been able to persuade the present Administration to advance the cause of England's hereditary enemy. Men in that rank of statesmanship in which history will place Cleveland and Gresham have shown themselves apt to prefer the institutions of the Mother Land of American liberties to those of a hideous Orientalism which, as Mr. Kipling would say, has simply tucked in its shirt. "There are sufficient reasons to believe," says Harold Frederick in the New York Times, "that the United States has a complete and definite understanding with England upon a joint course of policy and action in the far East, and that they stand together at Japan's back. It is impossible to hint at the sources of this information, or, rather, suggestion, but they are such as to warrant entire faith, in my mind at least."

In the light of such an understanding, England and the United States can afford to observe the Eastern embroglio with equanimity. England's attitude towards the United States has not been in doubt in this generation, and by a blessed chance, or, let us say, by dint of the resolute courage of the respectable majority of the public men and public journals of the United States, the attitude of the great Republic towards the Empire which gave it birth has been made known during late years with more and more abundant clearness.

The independent press of the United States is a unit in commendation of the attitude of the Cleveland Administration in all those international episodes which in the world wide war fever of the last few months have seemed to involve the two nations. These expressions of commendation have produced a more than flattering echo in the press of Great Britain.

The possibility of an Anglo-Saxon alliance, if not union, is in no way remote, and when the Anglo-Saxon speaks with a single voice the rest of the world will obey.

MORE GAS.

The fake that is to succeed the Consumers' Gas Company fake is on route. There can be no objection to being supplied with gas at 60 cents per thousand feet instead of twice the money. But there is ground of very strong objection to dealing with people who propose to do what so far has not been done, and that expert opinion says cannot be done. The student of the great gas question knows that assurances of supplying gas from the hydrogen field at anywhere from 5 cents to 50 have been as positive and plentiful as they have been delusive. From Philadelphia to Frisco, broken promises of cheap gas are strewn all along the route. A great deal of money has been spent, just as in Montreal recently, and much experience has been gained; but the process of getting something out of nothing, even in the seductive gas field, has not yet proven anything of a bonanza.

It is hard to say to a certainty which of the parties to the current gas negotiations have the odds in their favor. The company with none other than the consumer to take his gas, and the consumer with none other than the company to supply him gas are both on a fairly equal and mutually dependent platform. If there is a monopoly, they have the benefit of it between them; and the independent public, who are not in gas either for supply or consumption, can look on and whistle. It is true that the gas consumers, like the water consumers, and those who hold the relation of consumers to the telephone and the street railway, go very largely to make up the public. But for all that, their interests, although more or less general, are special when compared with those of the public who have no dealings with the Gas Company or with the Water Department, who do not need the telephone, and who can either walk or ride in their own carriages. And the public mentor who goes into hysterics over the danger accruing to special interests, under the apprehension that he is guarding the interest of the public, is very likely to find himself involved in a charge of aiding and abetting the error of class legislation.

The Gas Company is itself entitled to as much consideration from the public as are the consumers of gas. Individually, there are not quite as many shareholders as consumers; but we have yet to learn that the rights of one class in relation to those of another acquire importance in the ratio of their number. There is bad taste and equally bad sense in treating the Gas Company as a concern without rights that a vandal journalism is bound to respect. It is probable that the Montreal Gas Company is not worse, if not any better, than the average of its kind. The part of good sense would be not to waste time and talk in projecting an impracticable other company, or an equally impracticable setting up of a municipal gas manufacture. Rather sit down and count the cost of gas, or get some one to do it who can; arrive at the worth of it, and pay the value. A five per cent. investment with ingenious fellows whose name is legion backed by millions of dollars trying to beat it, is no bonanza, although all the vaporizing newspapers in the country should shout that it is.

Scrofula in the Neck—Bunches All Gone Now.

Blanche Atwood, Sangerville, Maine.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Gentlemen:—I feel that I cannot say enough in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For five years I have been troubled with scrofula in my neck and throat. Several kinds of medicines which I tried did not do me any good, and when I commenced to take Hood's Sarsaparilla there were large bunches on my neck so sore that I could not bear the slightest touch. When I had taken one bottle of this medicine, the soreness had gone, and before I had finished the second the bunches had entirely disappeared.' BLANCHE ATWOOD, Sangerville, Maine."

Nicaragua Will Pay.
Britain will Withdraw Her Fleet upon a Guarantee Being Given.
London, May 1.—In spite of the statement saying that there has been no change in the attitude of Great Britain towards Nicaragua, it is learned to-day that Great Britain has agreed to the proposed settlement of her dispute with that country. In this case, the British fleet will immediately withdraw from Nicaragua.
It is not known what guarantee Great Britain demands for the payment of the indebtedness, but it is believed in official circles that the affair is practically settled.
The guarantee of the payment by Ni-

A Dutch Vessel Plundered off the Coast of Morocco by Rifians.

Gibraltar, May 1.—The Dutch brigantine Anna, which sailed off the Rif coast of Morocco, was boarded by boat loads of Rifians, who fired upon her crew as they pulled alongside, killing the captain and injuring the mate. The Rifians then ransacked the vessel of everything portable.
When a breeze sprang up the Rifians left the brigantine, which eventually arrived here and reported the occurrence.

THAT $20,000 NOTE.

The Charge Against James O'Brien, Jr., by the Quebec Bank.

The preliminary examination in the case of James O'Brien, Jr., charged by the Quebec Bank with obtaining money under false pretences, was commenced after many postponements, yesterday afternoon, before Judge Desnoyers.

Mr. Eugene Laflamme represents the prosecution, and Mr. J. N. Greenshields, Q.
C., is counsel for the defence. The case is one, it will be remembered, where a note for $20,000 held by the Quebec Bank, signed by Meredith & O'Brien, and endorsed by James O'Brien, Jr., was obtained by the firm at maturity on a cheque upon their account in the bank on the understanding that it was to be repaid to the bank on the day the note fell due both Mr. Meredith and Mr.
Perris McDougall came to him and said that Mr. O'Brien, Jr., intended renewing the note, but that he had gone home sick, and would renew it later.
On the 12th the witness went to Mr.
O'Brien's office, and he said that he did not intend to renew the note, and that he had torn it up.

The witness was cross-examined by Mr.
Greenshields.

"Was it not an every day occurrence for the account of the firm at the bank to be overdrawn?"

"They were not permitted to overdraw their account, and let it stand over night."

The books will be produced that the account of the firm may be inspected in regard to this. On the 12th the firm's cheque was presented the firm's account was overdrawn a few thousand dollars.
The case has been adjourned until this afternoon.

EXECUTED AS A COWARD.

Lieut. Valentin Gallego Shot for Betraying Spanish Soldiers.

Havana, Cuba, May 1.—Lieut. Valentin Gallego, who surrendered fifty Spanish soldiers to the rebels, and who was afterwards captured and turned over to the military authorities here, was after trial by court-martial yesterday sentenced to death. This sentence was carried out to-day in the fortress of Cabana. In approving the sentence of the court-martial which condemned Lieut. Valentin Gallego to death, Captain-General Martines de Campos issued a proclamation, during the course of which he said that it was the first time in the history of his military life that he had known a Spanish officer to be executed as a coward. Lieut. Valentin Gal-lego's execution was conducted with the usual military ceremonies, and he, personally, gave the order for the firing squad to shoot.

Great Improvement in the Health of a well Known Peterboro Lady.

Peterboro, May 1.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. E. Stephens, the well-known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much excited over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years she has been suffering from a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs.
She has been taking the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results. Both she and her friends are convinced that a complete use of the remedy will shortly effect a complete cure.

TRADE AND COMMERCE

FINANCIAL.

Wednesday, May 1.

The dull spell that struck the stock market yesterday afternoon was continued today, the whole of the morning's business comprising less than 1,000 shares. Prices, however, held fairly steady, the fluctuations in no case being extensive. The market was duller than ever in the afternoon, but prices were, as a rule, firmer. Cable advanced to 147-1/4, and Pacific to 47 for actual sales. Gas was at 205, and the rest of the list was unchanged.

The highest, lowest and closing prices for the day were as follows:

High.	Low.	Close.	Chg.

LAKE SHORE EARNINGS.

Cleveland, May 1.—At the annual meeting of the directors of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company, the report submitted showed the net earnings for the year to have been $5,711,802, a decrease of $21,217.

LONDON MARKET CLOSED.

Today was a holiday on the London Stock Exchange, and we are consequently without our usual table of quotations.

NEW YORK GOSSIP.

J. S. Bache & Co., New York, wire their Montreal manager, C. D. Monk, as follows:

Mayor Strong has signed the bill authorizing the expenditure of five millions by the Rapid Transit Commission.

Pittsburgh special: About 15,000 coal miners at Pocahontas, West Virginia, struck yesterday.

No decision at coal meeting yesterday. Another meeting will take place tomorrow. It is only a question as to when the companies will agree, as the meeting of the parties is altogether out of the question.

It is stated that Morgan has arranged to sell $5,000,000 Manhattan bonds on the other side.

A stock exchange holiday in London today.

Another report from the coal meeting is that they virtually agreed upon 3 1/2 million shares of stock.

The talent are selling North-west, and it looks like a good thing to follow. It is sold for 1 or 2 per cent. profit.

The demand for refined sugar has been very heavy all day, and prices of granulated and other higher grades have been advanced 1-1/2c.

There is some talk of a dividend of 14 per cent. accumulated dividends on Leather preferred being paid shortly. It should be done, preferred will be at 110 and common at 50.

The interest on Leather is that the 14 per cent. in past due dividends will be paid on preferred stock. This will leave the cash earnings over 8 per cent. to be distributed to the common shareholders.

We understand that the terms offered by the Distillers Company to independent producers have been rejected, and that the suggestion from them was of a character which the Distillers Company would not consider at all. The only thing to do is to force the matter along the line of the policy previously adopted. It is expected that several weeks will elapse before there will be any chance of agreement.

We are told that the expected Chicago statement will be issued within a few days, and that it will show earnings of 10 per cent. for the corresponding time last year. The statement is pronounced very satisfactory. Information from the same source is to the effect that progress is being made in the negotiation of an adjustment of the Chicago Gas legal difficulties, and that the company sees a way out of the tangle in which it has been involved.

BRAZILIAN EXCHANGE.

New York, May 1.—The quotation for Brazilian Exchange today was 91-20.

THE DAY IN WALL ST.

New York, May 1.—The Evening Post, in its special article to-day, says: "More important than any other development in today's market was the weakening of sterling exchange. Except for a temporary decline in the second half of the day, rates of exchange have steadily pressed to a maximum ever known in the history of the market. The point of actual gold shipment. Such a movement of the syndicate, in performance of its contract, arrived through its wires, merely to hold the market steady. The syndicate bankers naturally withheld their bills until rates were at a point where they could be sold at a profit. At present there are no signs of a resumption of the current demand for sterling may be met with bills drawn on the syndicate banks themselves. Two or three blocks of American securities, including those of the Southern Railway, the Manhattan Elevated, and others, at least one of these companies, but how far these sales will act to change is as yet doubtful.

FINANCIAL NOTES.

French Renten sold at 101 frs. 85c at the New York call loans were quoted at 2 to 2 1/2 per cent.

French Exchange in London opened at 25.25 and closed at 25.25.

Berlin, May 1.—Exchange on London eight days sight, 20 marks 45 pfennig.

London, May 1.—Gold is quoted today at Buenos Ayres, 274.50; Madrid, 12.00; Lisbon, 27; St. Petersburg, 50; Athens, 77; Rome, 105.30; Vienna, 103.

Money in the open market, London, was quoted to-day at 5 per cent.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

The closing prices on the local stock exchange to-day were reported as follows by Mr. John Low, Stock Brokers, Stock Exchange Building:
