Friendship Club Members Celebrate Birthday At Yule Party

Groups' Support Sought

The Westmount rooming house operators' fight to stay in business came a step closer to reality Monday when Elphege Menard, president of the Westmount Property and Guest House Owners Association, conducted six members of the Westmount Municipal Association through his rooming house.

Reason for the tour, Mr. Menard told The Examiner today, was to show the members of the Municipal Association "how a rooming house should be run."

Although Mr. Menard had stated at the Municipal Association meeting that there would be opposition in January if the suggested slate is not in favor with his association, he said today that his group would not oppose the Municipal Association's slate of officers.

Fighting Zoning Law

The Westmount Property and Guest House Owners Association, is presently fighting the Westmount zoning restrictions in court which caused considerable controversy in the area last year.

"The gentlemen I conducted on the tour of my rooming house led me to believe that they would give the matter of reviewing the zoning law serious consideration" Mr. Menard said.

Members of the Municipal Association Mr. Menard conducted on the tour were James A. De Lalanne, H. G. Seybold, O.B.E.; Michael Tucker; G. B. Puddicombe, R. Werry and Maj. T. Kennedy.

Will Co-Operate

"By fighting we gain nothing and we are ready to accept the slate of officers chosen by the Municipal Association if they are in favor with our association," Mr. Menard said.

He pointed out that the city would gain $100,000 a year if it would grant licenses to rooming house operators. Another factor to take into consideration Mr. Menard said, is that three quarters of a million dollars would be lost annually by business firms in the district. To top this he said, 2,500 persons would probably have to find living accommodations in other parts of the City.

With Christmas falling on a Thursday this year, next week's Examiner will be published on Wednesday.

Correspondents are asked to send in their material so that it arrives at The Examiner offices not later than Monday.

Montreal's 18-Year-Old "Penny Princess"

Christmas Comes Early For Princess Juliette Legare

Christmas came early for pretty, vivacious, Juliette Legare, of 382 Grosvenor avenue.

On Saturday Juliette was showered with gifts after being picked as the Kent Theatre's "Penny Princess." Next month Juliette will compete in Toronto with 40 other princesses for the Canadian title. If she wins it will mean a free trip by air to England where she will meet British movie stars and be taken on a whirlwind tour of movie lots.

But as to those presents given Juliette by local firms. Here's what she received in her "early Christmas": A hat, a wrist-watch, a travelling iron, a $15 certificate for Decca records, a Mary Beetles Charm School course, nylons and lingerie from Mde Joel Ltd., a dress, a $100 certificate for a suit, special cosmetics, lounging pyjamas and a sweater.

Juliette was chosen from finalists of three nights. On stage at the Kent Theatre were judges Miss Pearl Howard, of The Examiner; Francis Goltman, music teacher; Gerry Simpson, newspaper columnist; Ken Withers, radio producer; and a volunteer judge from the theatre audience. Later she was interviewed by radio and TV personality Frank Heron.

Popular Choice

The judges had little trouble making their choice. Juliette was chosen, not for beauty alone — although no one can deny she doesn't look like what every young red-blooded Canadian man would wish Santa Claus to bring him — she was picked for personality, charm and intelligence.

Juliette is, for the records, 18, blonde, 5 feet seven inches (in the best of proportions), with a warm smile and a "charming personality". Besides all this, she is a fine rifle shot, an avid hunter, fisher, and a top basketball player, having played with the McGill University Juniors and with the YWCA Seniors.

She is a member of the Royal Canadian Naval medical corps (reserve), taking an active part in activities of the Wrens. She is also interested in music, having studied at the McGill Conservatory of Music.

An Artist, Too

And this isn't all. Juliette is an artist — at least she hopes to become one. Now in her first year at L'Ecole des Beaux Arts, she plans to concentrate on sculpture and design.

With this vast array of qualifications it is difficult to see how anyone else could have a chance when the finals are held in Toronto. If she wins there and gets the trip to the J. Arthur Rank studios, it could well mean a screen test and the start of new career.

But right now Juliette hasn't much time to think of the finals. At present her evenings are all booked. In fact it is very doubtful whether any light-hearted young man could get to meet her. You see, Juliette works from 5 p.m. until midnight at the Main Post Office on Windsor Street, where she's helping with the Christmas rush. But then, Christmas ends on the 25th, now doesn't it.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Recently a young man, a PhD who came to Canada a few years ago came to see me about a proposal to establish, if enough persons are interested, a school of political sciences. He left with me an outline of his plan which looks quite interesting.

He left with me his name and address and I was to get in touch with him but lost the memo he left behind. I remembered he said he is living with his family on Metcalfe avenue, Westmount. If you will publish this letter he will see it as he said he read The Examiner regularly. He then no doubt will get in touch with me.

"Canadianism" Urged In Address

Rotary Club Of Westmount Hear Romuald Bourque M.P.

"By playing down our Canadianism we play down ourselves as individual Canadians," Romuald Bourque, M.P., Mayor of the City of Outremont, told members of Westmount Rotary at their weekly luncheon.

Claiming that Canadians have underestimated their importance in the community of nations, Mr. Bourque said that "not nearly enough Canadians are well informed even about Canada's development today."

"For a newcomer to Canada, it is an enormous task to fit into his new surroundings, and too often we Canadians fail to give these people the helping hand they so badly need."

The speakers said that if a new Canadian finds nothing but ill-informed people who are uninterested in their country's past or its present, he, too, looks around for another country to join.

"They see a country just across the border and eventually, of course, they join the trek of native Canadians and continue along the trail to become immersed in the great American melting pot," Mr. Bourque said.

Stating that Canadians take themselves too much for granted, he claimed that they don't take for granted" their worthwhile qualities, the unlimited future of the country, or the great opportunity that awaits everyone here."

"They take for granted instead the ancient myth that Canada is always destined to be second-class power, that it can never avoid being overshadowed by its more successful neighbor, and that the future for anyone with ambition and ability lies in the United States". Mr. Bourque said.

He said that such an attitude must have an effect upon people who for years have dreamed of escaping from tyranny, poverty and fear.

"Imagine how much greater would be the contribution these new Canadians would make if they found here that which they had dreamed of at home."

Chief William Cobb Warns About Fires At Yule Time

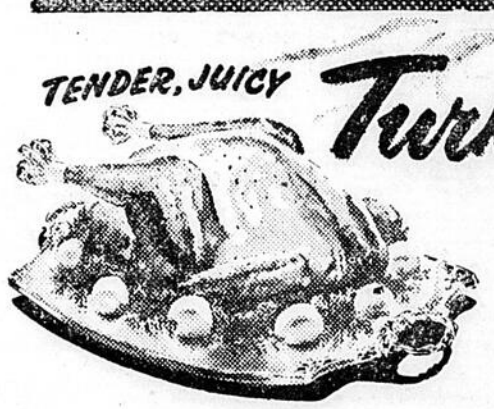

Chief William Cobb, of the Westmount Fire Department reminds that "Christmas is a red-letter day." He warns the citizens of Westmount, that simple fire safety rules should be adhered to during the Christmas holiday.

A clipped article, forwarded to The Examiner by Chief Cobb, reads:

Every year, from a few days before Christmas to the week following New Year's a plague of fires rages up and down the country. Many of these are the result of hazards which exist only during the holiday season; of carelessness that would not be tolerated at any other time. Christmas is truly a red-letter day for fire.

It's those little careless acts — that seem so unimportant at the time — that cause these holiday fire tragedies. A Missourian lights a match with his thumbnail; the burning head flies into a Christmas tree and a mother and three children die in a fire that destroys their home. . . . A neglected toy electric train ignites a Christmas tree in a New Jersey hotel and four people are burned to death. . . . In Hartford, Conn., the simple replacement of a frayed cord would have saved 47 patients in a convalescent home from injury and death. . . . They were victim of the faulty wire which short-circuited and touched off the combustible decorations which surrounded their Christmas tree.

These tragedies are all so needless if all Canadians will take the few minutes needed to follow simple fire safety rules. Let's all make this Christmas a fire-safe Christmas!

Unity Midgets Drop Hoop Game To Burlington

Last Sunday morning the Midget Basketball Team of the Unity Boys' Club returned from Burlington, where they had lost 42-18 to an older and more experienced Burlington Boys' Club team the previous evening.

At half time the score was 14-10 to the home team, who later warmed up and showed their superior class in some very fine passing. Top scoring honors went to Unity's Terry Gray followed by Spike Michaud and Bob Gingras of Burlington with 9 and 8 points respectively.

The Unity boys who represented the Club were Fred Donald, Terry Gray, Ronald Williams, Ken Lyon, Doug Gavin, Melvin Livingstone, Doug Smith, Peter Souquet, Jim Hensen and Doug Scruton, and the team was coached by Emmett Murphy. Donald B. Ross, Rotarian President of Unity Club, accompanied the boys, and Chris Gallop (Boys Work Supervisor) was in charge of the group.

Final Respect Paid R. A. Nixon

Friends and relatives gathered Monday to pay final respect to the memory of Robert Albert Nixon, who died Saturday at his home, 647 Belmont avenue, at the age of 83. He retired in 1946 as secretary manager of Henry Morgan Trust Co.

The funeral was held in Dominion Douglas Church at 3 p.m. with Rev. Dr. A. Lloyd Smith officiating. Interment was in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Born in Perth, Ont., the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nixon, he came to Montreal in 1886 to begin a 60-year career with the Morgan company. He was named a director in 1906.

In 1936, in recognition of his 50th anniversary with the firm, he was awarded a trip to Europe with his wife to attend the coronation of King George VI. They attended the coronation in 1937.

A 32nd degree Mason, he was past master of Waverley Lodge, AF and AM, an honorary life member of Islesmere Golf Club, past president of the Westmount Municipal Association and a member of the Heather Bowling Club. He was an elder in Dominion-Douglas Church.

Surviving are: his widow, the former Annie Scott of Montreal; three sons, Albert E., John S. and Robert J., all of Montreal; three daughters, Mrs. P. H. Knowlton, Winnipeg; Mrs. Beresford Reynolds, Montreal; and Mrs. W. H. Palm, Toronto; and 14 grandchildren.

An instrument now has been designed to record simultaneously the brightness and color of a star and at the same time show whether its light is polarized (vibrates more in one plane than another).

Teen-Agers

A gala fun dance will be held at the Westmoun Athletic Grounds Friday, Jan. 16, at 8:30 p.m.

An orchestra will be in attendance and sandwiches will be served.

It is requested that you buy your tickets in advance from the boys and girls on the Dance Committee consisting of Lillian Gallery, Sandra Bennett, Caroline Alexander, Lynda Brooks, Caroline Smart, Margaret Smart, Andy Bleau, Jim Beasant, David Gray, Grant Gill, Dave Donohue, and Peter Grant.

We would like to see every teenager in Westmount at this dance, so let's get shined up and call on our best gal and wiggle on down to the W.A.G.

Art Classes

The art classes which were sponsored this fall by the Recreation Department were very well attended. This pre-Christmas session of classes will terminate on January 14, 1953. A post-Christmas session will commence on Wednesday evening, January 21, at 8:00 p.m. at the Westmount Athletic Grounds.

Any resident who is thinking about taking classes in the post-Christmas session is invited to attend the last two classes of the current session to observe various aspects of the course. There is no obligation. Mrs. Peter Douet, our capable instructress, will be glad to inform anyone about all aspects of the art classes.

Remember, it is not necessary to have any art experience whatsoever for you to be eligible to join these very interesting art classes. For any further information you are requested to contact the Recreation Department, 4350 St. Catherine St. West — FI. 6975.

Adult Activities

Monday, Dec. 15, was to be the night of a Shuffleboard Tournament at the Westmount Athletic Grounds but due to the low number of people attending, it was called off.

Because of the holiday season, it was unanimously agreed that no tournaments would be held until Jan. 12, when a putting tournament will take place commencing at 8 p.m.

Interest has not been shown much in these activities, and we would like to see those regular users of the outdoor putting green come along and have a got at this new set-up.

All Westmount citizens are welcome to participate in these activities.

Deep within its golden goodness is a mellow smoothness that no other beer can equal.

Unity Boys' Club

By Maurice Mariasine

Christmas is expected to be a truly festive season at the Unity Boys' Club of Westmount with parties and other special activities taking place throughout the week with the inaugural to-night. The much publicized Coronation Ceremony starts this evening at 8 p.m. with Mayor J. S. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlin and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Ross officiating.

The honors for King, Queen, Prince and Princess have been hotly contested in a campaigning period of two weeks, during which time the walls of the Club were covered with original and gaily colored posters and many capable speeches have been presented.

At 8.30 p.m. Fred Pennell's Talent Parade will present a Variety Show and at 10 p.m. the Silver Tones Orchestra will provide modern dance music to which teen-age members and their parents and frineds and staff have been invited to attend.

Other parents include the Saturday afternoon special for the 6 to 10 year old members and their younger brothers and sisters and also the Monday night party for the 11 to 14 year old boys and girls. The program for both occasions will consist of: Movies, magician, entertainment and refreshments. A special feature of the Saturday afternoon party will be the play "A Christmas Story" presented by the Drama Group.

Last week the Imperial Singers of the Imperial Tobacco Company presented a concert of Christmas music which was thoroughly enjoyed by approximately 150 people. The following program was presented: O Holy Night, Swing Low Sweet Chariot, Marche Des Rois, Hark the Herald Angels Sing, Dans cette Etable, Kentucky Babe, The Kerry Dance, Good King Wencelas, Le Sommeil de l'Enfant, Jesus Joy to the World, All Through the Night, Bless This House with Gladys Kirkpatrick as soloist, John Peel, Les Trois Cloches, Away in the Manger, Les Anges dans nos campagnes, O Come All Ye Faithful, Alouette, Carol of Bells, The First Nowell and Silent Night with Sylvia Giles as soloist. The audience participated with the choir in singing many of the Christmas Carols. The program was under the direction of L. Griffiths.

An advanced painting class for members between the ages of 10 and 14 began this week uunder the instruction of Miss Olive Burt.

The Busy Workers Girls Club have completed arrangements for the Yuletide season activities. These will include: Carol singing, special club parties of games, community singing, dancing and refreshments.

Recognized as one of the leading musical figures in Canadian radio, Geoffrey Waddington, Director of Music for the CBC, has not only been an active musician, but has been instrumental in stimulating a greater interest in the work of Canadian composers and artists for many years. During his musical career Mr. Waddington has served in many capacities. He has been a member of the faculty of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto, an organizer and director of the former Toronto Chamber Music Society, a first violinist with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, conductor of the Winnipeg Summer Symphony Orchestra and many CBC concert and symphony orchestras.

Stamp Club Notes

Every Thursday evening, it is an interesting observation to see a group of boys looking with interest over the picturesque stamps from all over the world. Since the beginning of this class many of the members have become stamp lovers. Congratulations are in order for the Instructor Frank L. Paradise who has encouraged this interest. Mr. Paradise often talks on the histody of many of the stamps from different countries; frequently, he conducts a stamp quiz and this helps the members to uunderstand about different stamps. A part of each club session is devoted to the members selection of the stamps that they would like to add to their own collection. Some of the members have as many as 1,700 to 2,400 stamps in their collection.

Sport Highlights

The Midget Basketball Team returned from Burlington, Vt. with reports of the grand hospitality accorded them on their recent visit to the Burlington Boy's Club where they participated in an inter-club basketball game. Although outplayed by their American Hosts 42-18 the boys all enjoyed the outing and learned a great deal of basketball technique while watching the St. Michaels College-Brandeis College game which followed their exhibition tilt.

A return encounter with the Burlington Boys' Club is expected to take place at the Unity Boys' Club sometime in April.

Two more basketball victories were credited to Unity teams during the week. These included an exhibition games versus Rosemount Boys' Club when Unity's Midget team defeated Rosemount 25-19 and the Club Biddy representatives edging St. Columba House 14-11.

With the favorable winter weather conditions it is expected that hockey coaches will be calling early practices.

Samson and Delilah Over CBF on Monday

"Samson and Delilah" by Saint-Saëns is the Dec. 22 opera on "Le Théâtre Lyrique", sponsored by Molson's from 9.00 to 10.00 p.m. over CBF and the French network.

Blanche Thebom, Metropolitan Opera's glamourous mezzo-soprano star, known to millions through her recordings and operatic succeses, will sing the leading role. Other principal roles will be sung by Jacques Gérard and Nap. Bisson.

Jean Deslauriers will direct the orchestra; Albert Duquesne will be the narrator and Roger Baulu the announcer.

Our Natural Rights

Most Canadians Not Free, Hence Have Not Known Freedom

Most Canadians have not been free to exercise their natural rights and hence have not known freedom.

Democratic freedom does not exist in the rule of the majority unless the majority secures and protects the natural rights of each individual.

Canadians think they understand why Russians and Germans accepted totalitarian governments. It was, we think, because the Russian and German peoples had never known freedom.

Is it because Canadians have not known freedom that we are moving so rapidly toward totalitarianism by exchanging our remaining freedoms for a promised security that no government on earth has ever been able to deliver?

The natural rights that Canadians lost before the present majority had opportunity to exercise them, are the essential freedoms of democracy.

The natural right to do any work one may choose, anywhere, at any time, has not been a freedom that could be exercised during their working life time by the majority of living Canadians.

The right to produce any lawful goods or services has not been enjoyed fully by most living Canadians.

The right to buy or sell any or every lawful thing from any seller or to any buyer has not existed in the lifetime of many Canadians.

The right to earn and spend an honest dollar redeemable at a constant value is unknown to most Canadians.

The right to join or refrain from joining organizations of one's own choice does not exist for most Canadians.

The right to secure full payment without any deductions has been taken from employed Canadians and from self-employed producers of certain foods.

Without the right to work, to produce, to buy or sell, freely at will, there is no true freedom or true democracy.

The Incarnation

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
Trinity Memorial Church

We have thought of God's use of men and things in bringing about the work of salvation. He used prophets, priests, kings and common people; He used sacrifices of animals and incense and grain, in its simple and in its processed form, in various ways of reconciling man to Himself.

But the crown of the matter came with the Incarnation. God sent His own Son, made of a woman, made under the Law, that He might redeem those who were under the Law; and that He gather together not only the lost sheep of the House of Israel, but also the dispersed of the nations. God had used prophets, priests, kings and common people. Now Jesus of Nazareth came, who was Prophet, Priest and King and Common People as well. God had begun the undoing of man's disobedience through the obedience of His servants; now He completed the work through the complete obedience of His Son. The co-operation of man with God in the salvation of man reached one of its peaks in the Incarnation of Christ Jesus, who being in the form of God counted it not a prize to be on an equality with God, but emptied Himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of man. (Phil. 2 5-7 R.V.)

The culmination of God's use of things also came in the Incarnation. The whole machinery of the Roman Empire was concerned in it. The journey up from Nazareth to Bethlehem by the stony, dusty roads of the Holy Land, using the ass, the humble beast of burden of the poor; using also the humble shelter of the crowded-out traveller. The coming of our Lord sanctified man as such, and the common man in particular, and common things as well.

The matter did not even end here, for our Lord Himself continued to use common people and common things. His disciples were ordinary middle class working people; He used the most ordinary things, bread and fish to feed the multitude; water and bread and wine for His Sacraments. The whole range of material things is sanctified by His use of them. Neither man nor the things of the natural world have been the same since He laid His hands upon them.

That is part of the underlying lesson of Christmas and of the joy which accompanies it.

Christian Science

"Is the universe, including man, evolved by atomic force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 21st.

This Lesson-Sermon takes issue with mankind's determination to discover the truths of the universe in material phenomena, when Jesus so plainly taught and demonstrated that all real law is of God, hence spiritual, liberating God's children from bondage to physical limitations of every kind.

The Golden Text is from Proverbs: "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens."

Bible citations include the following from Matthew: "And straightway Jesus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away. And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea."

Correlative passages from the denominational text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "Jesus walked on the waves, fed the multitude, healed the sick, and raised the dead in direct opposition to material laws. His acts were the demonstration of Science, overcoming the false claims of material sense or law. Obedience to material law prevents full obedience to spiritual law, — the law which overcomes material conditions and puts matter under the feet of Mind."

Wesley United

Christmas Services In Calvary Church

The Christmas services in Calvary Church next Sunday will feature at the evening service, special carols by the Choir, under the direction of A. J. Binnie.

The Minister, Rev. Walter J. Spence, B.A., will give a dramatic presentation of the perennial story by Charles Dickens, "A Christmas Carol".

At 11 a.m. there will be a family service when every member of every family with the church is expected to attend.

At both services the Choir will sing Carols from the gallery for 15 minutes before the time for the commencement of the regular service.

Love, friendship and smiles are like currency. If they are hoarded, no one gets the benefit of them; if they are kept in constant circulation, everyone benefits, and, again, like money they always accumulate something in the transit.

Shaar Hashomayim Groups Active In Colorful Chanukah Festival

The Shaar Hashomayim Women's Auxiliary, and the Synagogue's affiliated societies held a colorful, gala Pre-Chanukah Festival at the synagogue. The general theme emphasized the value of religious freedom in the democratic way of life, and the distinctive home observances of the "Festival of Lights". Artistic displays of murals and decorations, exhibits of rare, ceremonial objects, books, festival foods and appropriate gifts were among the novel features. An exhibition of Israeli folk dances was presented by the Habonim Dance Group and social dancing followed.

Finestone was general convener; Mr. Eric Goldberg, Art Consultant; Miss Marion Aronson, in charge of the children's art work; and Miss Esther Goldenberg arranged the publicity. The annual Congregational Chanukah Evening was held Wednesday evening.

The Annual Congregational Chanukah Evening was held last night, when the program included a choral service in the synagogue at 6.15 p.m. This was followed by a festive dinner at 7, when a humorous playlet was presented by pupils of the Hebrew-Religious School uunder the direction of Mr. S. Lerner, the headmaster. The 106th Annual Congregational Meeting followed, when reports were submitted by the president, M. J. Heillig, and committee chairmen.

The Happy Time

This glistening cone, sparkling with sequins, and filled with boughs studded with Christmas balls, is a simple but effective way of proclaiming season's greetings to those who knock at this door. Chicken wire forms base for oilcloth or metallic-paper covering.

John Drill, talented young designer, suggests for those who wish a simple but effective arrangement a gleaming cone filled with greens from the country or with fuzzy colored Christmas boughs from the city shops.

You can make a cone yourself, using a chicken wire frame. Cut the wire in a half-circle, then bend it into a cone, twisting the cut wires together to hold the frame in shape. The radius of the circle should be equal to the length you desire for the finished cone.

Cover this wire frame with heavy-weight metallic paper, if yours is a well-protected door, or with oilcloth, if there's a chance rain may reach it. This, too, should be shaped from a half-circle, the radius of which should be slightly larger than that you allowed for the chicken wire.

To add a touch of glitter to the finished cone, fasten round sequins into place with household cement. Round Christmas balls, scattered among the greens you use to fill the cones, are a nice complement to the sequins.

Why Not Half Turkey For Small Family?

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture recommend a half turkey for the small family who find it hard to get a turkey that isn't too large. If your butcher doesn't sell them perhaps you could arrange to share a bird with a friend. Your butcher would no doubt cut it in half lengthwise for you if you asked him.

To Roast Half Turkeys

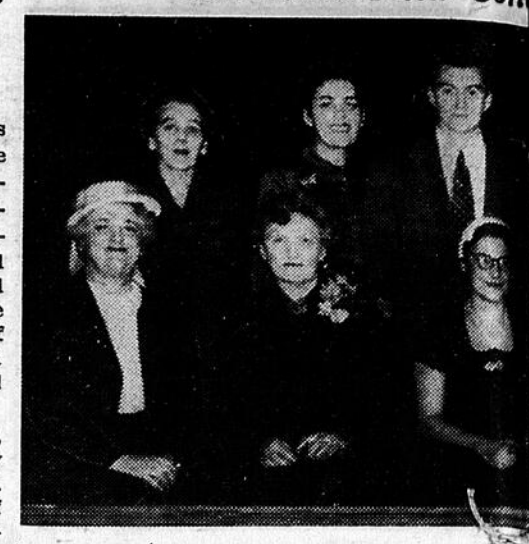

Wash half turkey and dry thoroughly. Sprinkle cavity with salt. Tie leg to tail.

Skewer wing flat against breast. Fasten skin to breast meat along keel bone. Trim double thickness of waxed paper to the approximate size and shape of cut surface of bird and place on a rack in roaster.

Mound the dressing on the waxed paper to fit cavity of bird. Place half turkey on top of dressing. Completely cover bird with cheesecloth dipped in melted fat and roast, according to time table, in an uncovered roaster. Add no water. If cheesecloth becomes dry, re-moisten with drippings from pan or with additional fat.

Do not forget the giblets, an important part of the turkey. In preparing them, one point to remember is that the gizzard and heart need long slow cooking to make them tender, but since the liver is tender to begin with, it should be added just a few minutes before the gizzard is done.

Canada Shows Herself As Land Of Promise To Dutch Jeweller

Dutch jeweller Charlos Germann, who had a going business in The Hague, Holland, counting many members of society and nobility among his customers, finds that his first year in Canada has been more rewarding than his last five years in Holland.

Born in Zurich, Switzerland, country rightly famous for craftsmanship and painstaking work, where he received a thorough training, sold his business and came to Holland after the war. Employed in a shop for the first year to obtain his Dutch master certificate, Mr. Germann founded his own business designing and making rings, broaches, bracelets, earrings, necklaces and family crests, in platinum, gold or silver, some with diamonds or other precious stones. Among his masterpieces were a diadem for the late Eva Peron of Argentina with 1500 pearls and a gold breast cross and ring for a Dutch missionary bishop leaving for Java, Indonesia.

Earning a good living but finding his business unrewarding on account of the general declining economy, mounting costs and the unsettled and threatening international situation, Mr. Germann decided to try his luck in Canada, which in Europe is synonymous with country of unlimited opportunities where work and craftsmanship are adequately remunerated. He arrived in Montreal in October of last year with his wife and two little daughters, the equipment and tools for his workshop, and less than $500. living in a tourist house speaking no English or French and having absolutely no connections in town, his first weeks were hard and disappointing. None of the big jewellery firms in Montreal wanted to employ him. Finally with the money running dangerously low he obtained a job but the salary offered made him decide to try his luck on his own.

Sets Up New Business

Fortunately he found an apartment on the outskirts of the town where he could set up his bench and tools. A Dutchman, met in the street, gave him the address of the Dutch Consul and via him and the Dutch-Canadian Chamber of Commerce addresses of Canadian and Dutch jewellers were obtained, the first orders secured and Mr. Germann had his "break" which every immigrant needs to get going.

Now, after barely one year, his business keeps him busy day and night. Next spring a friend from Holland will come to assist him. His telephone and doorbell ring at all times of the day and although midnight is a strange time to come and order an engagement ring, such orders are accepted graciously and with full understanding of the Canadian way of living. Now living in a roomy house at 156 Metcalfe avenue, furnished with the proceeds of a year and driving a late model car, Mr. Germann's greatest satisfaction is to know that his work is rated second to none by the experts in Montreal.

Although sometimes puzzled by different ways of doing business, he is more convinced than ever that Canada really is the land of opportunities unlimited although he sometimes finds it hard to understand why this great and rich country lacks the necessary social security and health schemes for immigrants not doing as well as himself and for Canadians themselves too. However, with a Canadian baby in the family and his daughters already speaking English without a trace of an accent, Mr. and Mrs. Germann are well established and well satisfied with Canada.

Queen Elizabeth Auxiliary Reports Heard At Yule Tea

The Christmas Tea meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital was held in the Memorial Hall December 10th, Mrs. C. N. Knowles presiding.

Reports were given by Mrs. J. C. Antliff, and Mrs. G. Leroux. Mrs. E. D. Johnson reported for the Service Group. Miss D. Miller for the Sunshine, Mrs. G. Morgan for the Birthday Club, and Mrs. M. Stoker, on purchases made. Several new members were introduced by Mrs. C. R. Bronsdon. Membership Secretary.

A motion to purchase $1,000 bond for the Endowment Fund of the auxiliary was carried.

A record player was presented to Miss E. Geiger, Director of Nursing, as a gift for the student nurses.

Mrs. G. N. Russell soprano, sang several songs in the Christmas mood, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. W. Webb. Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. F. A. Smith, and Mrs. J. Walsh, and Miss D. Miller poured tea.

The subject of age is often judged more by the atitude a woman takes toward it than by the number of birthdays she celebrates because of it. Nowadays the things that brand you an up-to-date beauty do not depend on which generation you represent. What counts up (in a wealth of good looks, good friends and good times) is a modern outlook, and a spirited effort to enhance yourself, as the years roll by, in heart, mind and body.

Closing Book Review To Be Given Tuesday

The biography of Eleazar ben Yehuda, as portrayed in "Tongue of the Prophets" will be the theme at the Book Review Tea of the Shaar Hashomayim Women's Institute on Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. The book will be reveiewed by Rabbi Wifred Shuchat, and all members of the Institute and their interested friends are invited to attend. Classes scheduled at 1:30 p.m. will be held as usual.

This event will mark the end of the fall term, and will be followed by a recess of two weeks during which no sessions will be held.

For Less Kitchen Labor, Buy Pre-Cooked Ham

One traditional basis for Christmas dinner is a full-flavored ham. For a short cut in preparation, select a fully cooked ham, one that has all the ham goodness but which takes little time and effort on your part to bring it to your dinner table.

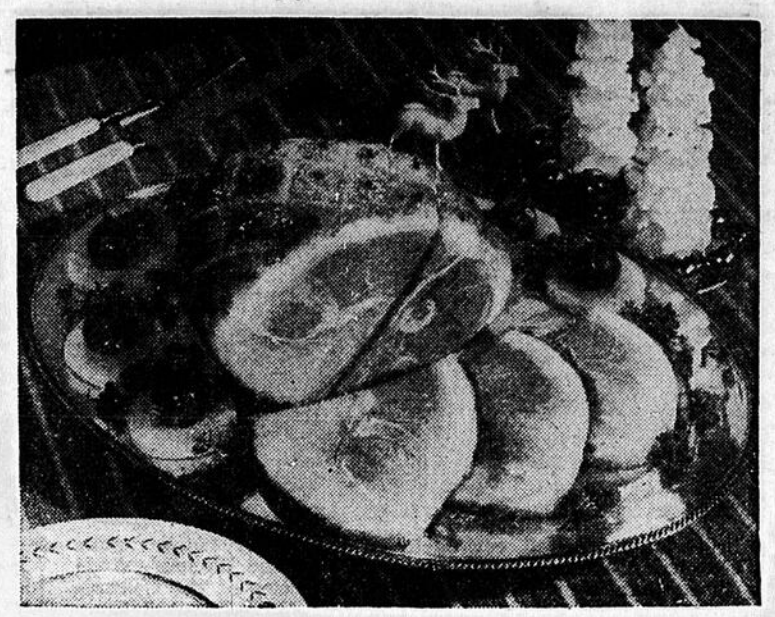

On Christmas Day, plan to set the table early, right after you've placed the ham in the oven for heating through. Follow the cooking directions on the ham wrapper, allowing about 10 minutes to the pound to heat. Plan on removing the ham 45 minutes before serving dinner. This will give you time to score the ham and return to a hot oven for 15 minutes of glazing. The ham will carve easier if it is permitted to stand for about 20 minutes before serving.

To heat the fully cooked ham, insert a meat thermometer in the thickest muscle, not touching fat or bone. Place the ham fat side up on a rack in an open pan and roast in a pre-heated slow oven (325 degrees F.) approximately 10 minutes per pound, or until the roast meat thermometer registers an internal temperature of 130 degrees F.

If you have selected an uncooked ham, follow the same baking directions, but bake the ham approximately 20 minutes per pound or until the roast meat thermometer registers an internal temperature of 150 degrees F.

When the ham is done, remove from the oven and pour off the drippings for use in pan frying and sauces. With knife and tongs, carefully remove the shank skin on the meat. The hot shank skin is easily cut off using the tongs to pull on the skin as the knife slips between the skin and fat.

To score the ham, cut the fat ¼ inch deep into diamond shapes.

Gala Christmas ham, pre-cooked to cut down on holiday cooking time, is garnished with pineapple rings and crabapples.

Insert whole cloves if desired. Cover with honey, marmalade or brown sugar and honey. Return the ham to a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 15 minutes, or until the desired brown coating is achieved. Remove the ham from the oven and let stand until ready to remove to a warm platter for serving.

While the ham is glazing, heat the sweet potato balls. After removing the ham from the oven, lower the temperature and continue heating the sweet potatoes while the rolls or bread heat in aluminum foil or a paper bag.

Frozen Frenched green beans will cook in a few minutes, according to directions on the packages. While cooking the beans, heat butter for a topping, adding a pinch of savory or thyme. Pour over the beans before serving.

When ready to serve the ham, remove to a warm platter and garnish with circles of pineapple slices with red crabapples centered on each. A few touches of parsley and the handsome platter is ready for the table.

Many Gifts To Hospitals Feature Conclave No. 4 Annual Reports

The annual meeting and election of officers of Westmount Conclave No. 4, Order True Kindred was held recently in Notre Dame de Grace Community Hall, when Mrs. Richard Melrose was elected Commander replacing Mrs. Kenneth W. Matheson, who had been presiding officer for the second consecutive year.

A very successful year of sustaining interest and endeavour was noted in all reports at the meeting. Mrs. W. R. C. Field, Benevolent Convener stated that nine complete layettes had been distributed to needy families during the past year; each containing approximately 50 articles of clothing, including hand knitted garments. One complete layette had been given to a family of triplets.

A contribution was also sent to the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children to the A.M.H.F. which helps defray expenses of the dental clinic, the orthopedic department, and the follow up service for the children in the Out Patients Department.

Ten gift cartons of cigarettes were placed at the Jas. A. Ogilvy's Veterans' Christmas tree, and a donation of cash was sent to the Multiple Sclerosis Society; the Cancer Research Dep't, and 200 articles of clothing were sent to the Tubercular Ward of the Alexandra Hospital; along with 50 bags of candy tied with red ribbon. Thirty dollars was granted to the Verdun Unit No. 1 Laurentian Club, for work in connection with the Royal Edward San. at St. Agathe.

The largest Christmas donation was made for the Moore Home's elderly patients when it was moved that 215 bags of fruit, candy, cookies, etc., be delivered in time for Christmas, one for each patient.

Mrs. K. W. Matheson, retiring Commander thanked the officers, and retiring officers for their untiring support and co-operation during the past year.

The newly elected officers are as follows: Line officers, Mrs. Grace Melrose, Mrs. Charlotte Irving, Mrs. Burt Green, Mrs. Daisy Eccles, Mrs. Alice Stitt, Mrs. F. C. Ford, Mrs. E. Munro, Mrs. Sarah Brady, Mrs. Elizabeth Secord, Mrs. Florrie Field, Mrs. Ruth Milne as pianist; and Mrs. Wm. Seeds, Secretary; Mrs. Frank Wood, Treasurer. Mrs. W. S. Andrews, will be advisor, and Mrs. M. W. Drayton, deputy advisor and American Flag Bearer. Mrs. W. R. C. Field will again assume the office of Benevolent Convener, and Mrs. K. W. Matheson is Worthy Past Commander.

At the close of the meeting, a Christmas party was held with the singing of Christmas carols, and a beautiful Christmas tree, decorated with coloured lights was an added attraction.

Original Decorations For Yule

For those who begin early enough to put a bit of time and thought into their efforts, indoor Christmas decorations can be among the most pleasant of holiday chores.

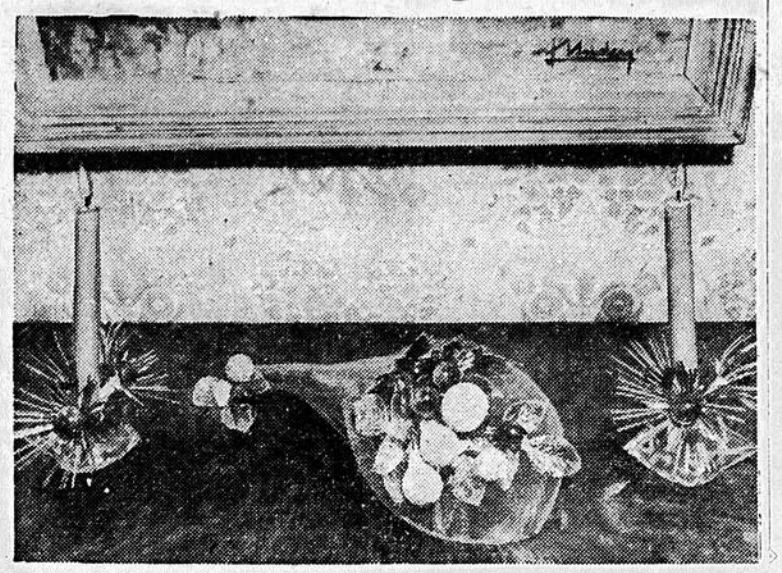

John Drill, who is noted for his versatile designs in unexpected materials, turns to copper screening as the basis of an attractive cornucopia for dining room sideboard or hall table. To make one for your home, begin with a rectangle of copper screening 10 by 11 inches, shaping it into a cone diagonally and securing it with staples or sewing it into place with wire.

Stretch the mouth of the cone until it yawns invitingly to receive an arrangement of silver leaves, stem ornaments and frosted snow ornaments. Roll the edges gently backward to give it a sweeping flair.

The tail of the cone should be twisted until it curls upward. This is finished with a smaller arrangement of ornaments.

Gay candle decorations to complement the cornucopia can be devised from wire, heavy enough to hold its shape, which has been wrapped around a broomstick to form a spira. You'll need eight inches of wire for this, and florists' tape—of the sort used for stems in corsages — to wrap about the corkscrew-shape.

To this spiral, attach three ornaments made of metallic-paper fringe or Christmas tree bulb reflectors through which stem ornaments have been thrust. Slip the entire arrangement down a candle to its base. Low candle-holders are particularly effective when these adornments are paired with the cornucopia.

Copper screening is the material used to form a gleaming cornucopia which displays its Christmas bounty of frosted fruits and silver leaves upon a dining room sideboard. Flanking candle decorations of metallic fringe and Christmas balls are attached to ordinary wire which has been wrapped with florists' tape and twisted into spiral-like jacket to slide over candles.

Gnomes At Home

Christmas gnomes with stars atwinkle, hint to holiday visitors of gaiety within.

For a sprightly door ornament, a decorator suggests three little metallic-paper gnomes marching steadfastly across a pine or cedar bough. Bodies of the gnomes are fashioned from 3-inch half-circles, shaped into tiny cones. The arms are cut separately, and stapled or tacked into place with thread. The wires on which they carry their glittering stars are handsome when shiny brass is the metal used.

Fasten the end of the wires between their hands, glue together, slipping on a paper clip to hold in place until the cement is thoroughly dry. Then hang a star on the end of each elf's swaying hook.

The pocket gopher was pictured by early zoologists with its cheek pouches inside out, since the dead specimen used as a model was so arranged.

Dessert Parties Are Charming, Informal Way Of Entertaining

What a wonderful joyous season Christmas is with all its gay customs and traditions. Take holly for instance. This beautiful Christmas green is said to keep away evil spirits, while the Christmas tree, used long before the Christmas era has become a symbol of hope, life and merriment. In the time of the Druids, hatred and misunderstanding was supposed to burn with the Yule logthis reflects the spirit of good fellowship that traditionally accompanies the burning of the Yule log in our day, and indeed, the good faith and gay spirits thaat invade the whole season.

Dessert parties are a charming, informal way to entertain at any time over the holiday season. This type of aprty allows the guests plenty of time to make other calls on a chrowded holiday schedule and it does not put too much strain on the hostess. Since the hostess will not have as many items to prepare and some time will have passed since the guets have had the first courses of their meal, heartier and fussier desserts may be in order.

A meringue pie is festive and Christmas-like. It is made by baking a meringue pie crust, then filling this crust with luscious well-drained frozen strawberries or raspberries and then topping with whipped cream or ice cream. A raspberry Bavarian cream may also be used for the filling.

Pies of all kinds with fancy toppings or edgings may also be served. Holes may be cut in the top crust in groups of three's, with a thimble or small cooky cutter, to resemble holly berries. The leaves can be fashioned with the point of a sharp paring knife—this is particularly effective on a berry pie. Another idea is to cut a triangle from the center of the top crust and out of it fashion a Christmas tree. Then place the tree in the center of the triangle.

At every Christmas party, gay, whimscial, fancy cookies of all types should be in evidence. They may be plain ice-box cookies dressed up with candied fruit, nuts, cocoanut, tinted sugar and wee silver or coloured candies or gay cookie figures cut out in the shapes of Santa Claus, Christmas trees or stars, to delight the children. Rich fancy cookies with thick marshmallow or chocolate toppings or glistening meringues are always favourites. When making Christmas cookies use only the best of ingredients. At Christmas time we do not mind using extra eggs and a little more butter.

Whether it is for a Christmas dessert party or for the final course of Christmas dinner, a special dessert is called for. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture suggest their recipe for Strawberry Fluff. It is wonderfully smooth and rich and just the thing for a perfect ending to a meal.

Strawberry Fluff

20 marsmallows (about 6 ounces)
1 cup hot milk
¾ cup crushed frozen strawberries.
Few grains salt
1 cup whipping cream

Add the marsmallows to the hot milk. Stir until dissolved. Cool. Add the crushed frozen strawberries. Chill this mixture and allow to partially set. While it is setting add a few grains of salt to one cup of whipping cream and whip until stiff. Fold the whipped crea minto the chilled strawberry mixture. Pour into a refrigerator tray and freeze. This recipe serves six people.

MEAT MAGIC

Make the most of that last bit of cooked chicken by serving it cream style. You can prepare a quick version this way: Add the diced meat (about 1 cup) to 1 can of condensed cream of chicken soup blended with ½ cup milk. A little chopped, cooked green pepper and some chopped pimiento livens the flavor. Pour this over hot buttered biscuits for luscious eating. Nice with this are buttered green beans and jellied cranberry sauce for a relish.

Modernized Angel Cake Has Old-Time Delicacy

Back in the 1880's, in the good old Victorian days, angel cake was an important part of "keeping Christmas well."

But now let's look forward, too. Modern science has produced an angel cake mix free of guess work. That's what we'll use this year.

Christmas Almond Angel Cake

Have ready a 9 to 10-inch ungreased tube pan. Start oven for moderate heat (375 degrees F.)

One package angel food mix, 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons water, 1½ teaspoons vanilla, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, ⅓ cup finely chopped toasted almonds, ⅓ cup chopped candied pineapple, drained.

Remove bag of egg white powder from package. Turn flour mixture into sifter; set aside. Into large bowl, measure water and flavoring. Add the egg white powder from bag; stir just enough to moisten.

Then beat vigorously with a sturdy rotary egg beater, flat wire whip, or at highest speed of electric mixer until the fluffy whites are shiny and will stand up in stiff peaks when beater is raised.

Sift about one-fourth of the flour mixture over the fluffy whites. Fold in lightly with 15 fold-over strokes, turning bowl frequently. (To fold, use a large spoon, a flat wire whip, or rubber scraper. Cut down through mixture, lift up, and fold over. Do not stir.)

Add remaining flour in three more additions, folding in three more additions, folding 15 strokes after each. Fold in almonds and pineapple. Pour batter into ungreased 9 to 10-inch tube pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until cake springs back when pressed gently with finger.

Cool in pan, upside down, until cold — 1 to 2 hours. Then loosen cake from sides and center tube with knife and gently pull out cake. Spread pistachio green whipped cream over top and sides of cake. Place paper Christmas angels on top of cake.

Victorian Yule Hospitality is yours when you serve nut and fruit-studded angel food cake with green pistachio topping

Pistachio Green Whipped Cream

One cup heavy cream, 1 tablespoon sugar, ½ teaspoon almond abstract, ½ teaspoon vanilla, green coloring.

Place cream, sugar, almond and vanilla in chilled bowl. Beat until cream holds its shape. (Do not overbeat.) Add a few drops of green coloring to tint cream a pale green.

Business Women's Christmas Shower Nets 139 Presents

The Professional and Business Women's Organization of the Parish of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount held its annual Social Service meeting under the convenership of Miss Edna Coyle.

This occasion took the form of Christmas shower and 139 gifts were collected for distribution to the aged poor. One hundred and thirty knitted articles were donated as well as 40 scrap books; also toys and candy were sent to needy children.

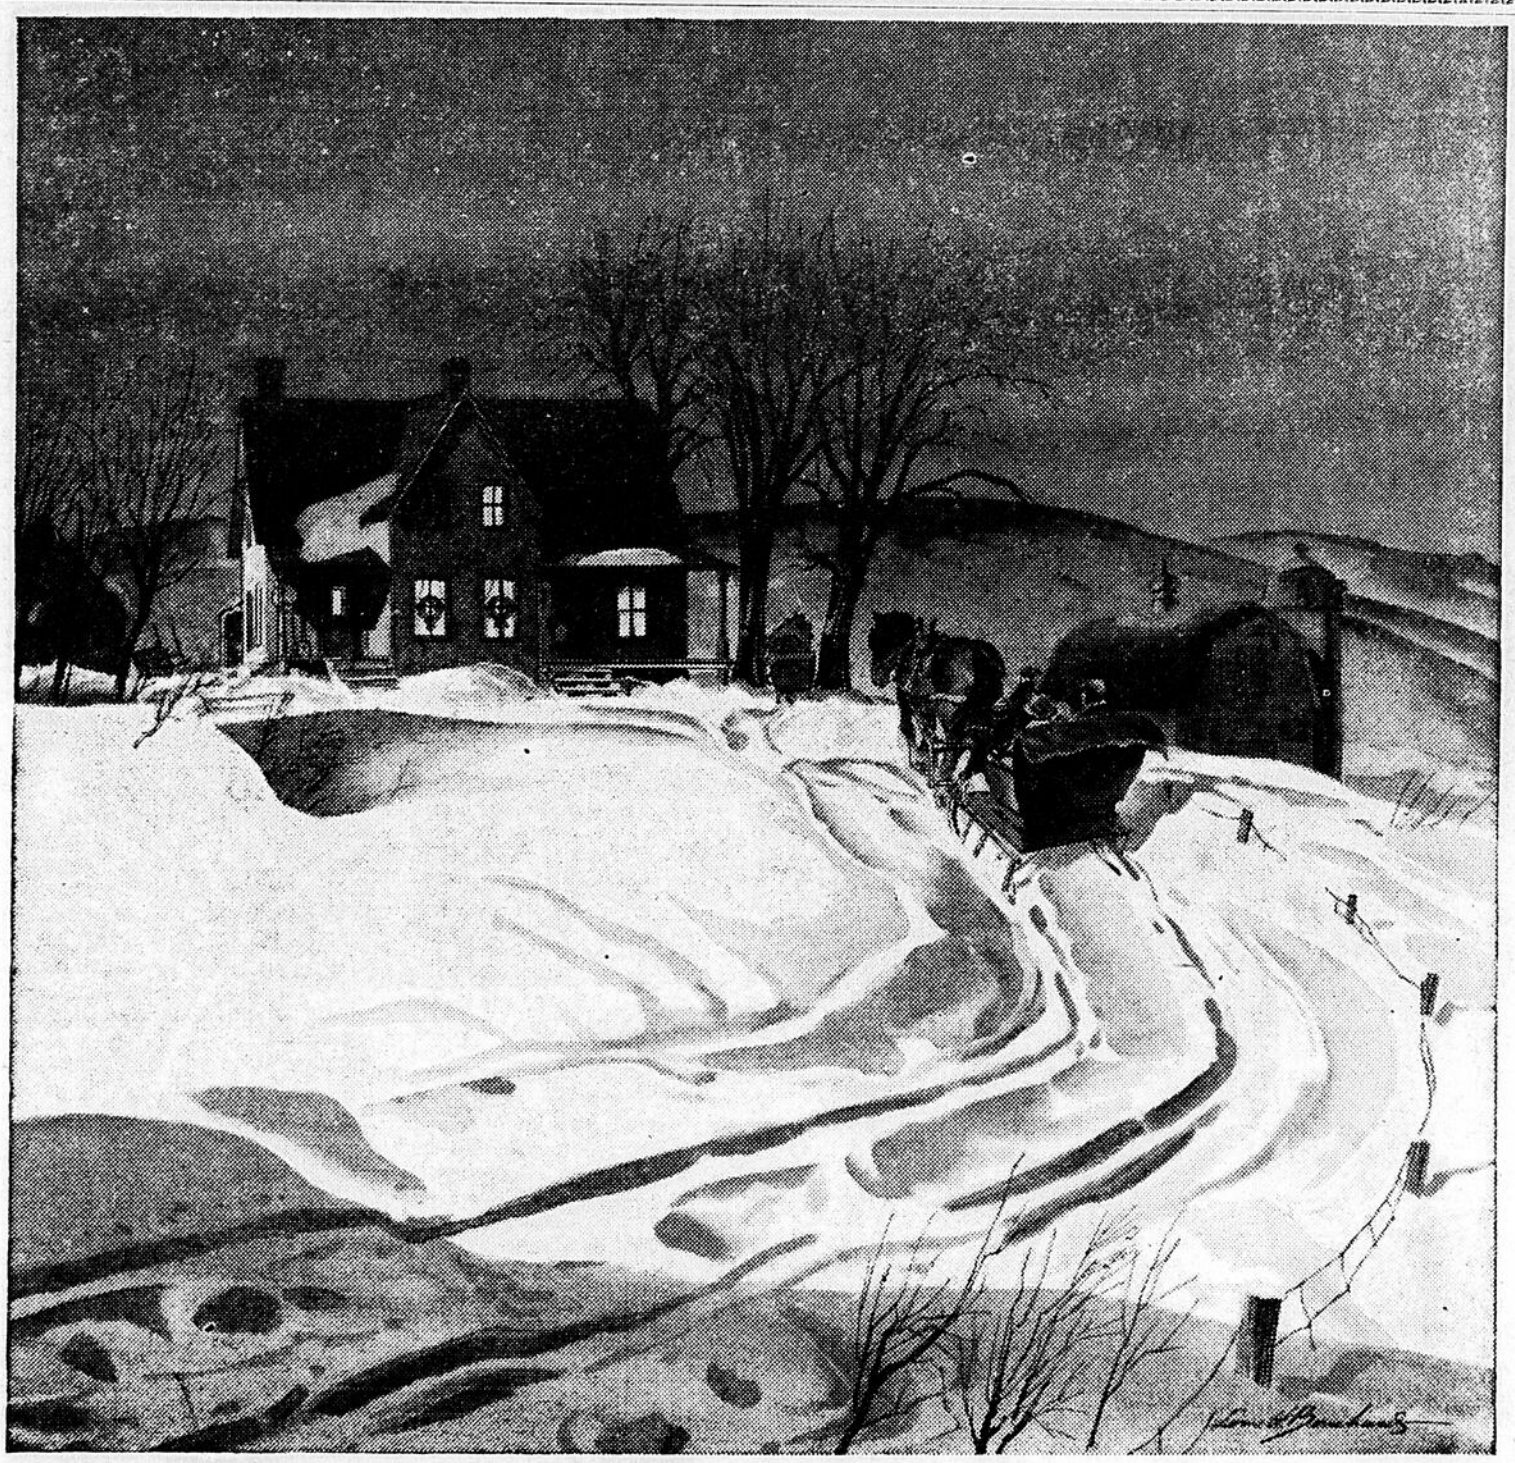

Rev. Fr. Patrick Ambrose, Director of the Catholic Family Welfare Bureau was the guest speaker and told an interested audience of the work carried on by this most important branch of social service.

The speaker was introduced by the spiritual director, Rev. Donald Peron, and Miss Rhodina McConnigal, President, occupied the chair.

ONIONS WITH OOMPH

Christmas dinner calls for onions in some form and here's a good way to serve them. Take about 2 pounds of small white onions which have been cooked. Put them in a casserole, then pour on a sauce made with 1 can of condensed cream of mushroom soup blended with ¼ cup of cream and ½ cup of chopped walnuts. Sprinkle on about ¼ cup of shredded cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for about 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

If father has trouble carving the Christmas turkey tell him to try leaving the carving fork aside. Use the sharp carving knife and a clean napkin. This gives a better grip on the leg when he begins to cut through the first joint. Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture.

TARTUFFE, THE HYPOCRITE

Since MRT has never before presented Tartuffe, Moliere's masterpiece, I feel like saying that MRT has never before presented a better comedy. Not a more difficult one. Therefore, I must at once extend congratulations to the Studio upon their choice of play and upon their daring to produce it. So, I am sure, did all those in the two good-sized and most appreciative audiences at Victoria Hall last week.

In view of the great pleasure we all derived from this production, it may seem ungrateful and niggardly of me now to proceed to find fault. Oscar Wilde, I believe it was, said that man always kills the thing he loves, and here is one of those appalling times when a man discovers himself doing just that.

I doubt that a company of Montreal's best radio professionals who seldom any more condescend to act without the pay that MRT cannot afford) could measure up to the demands of Tartuffe. Even our admirable French professional company, Le Theatre du Nouveau Monde, are not going tackle it next month. For this is a gargantuan play, the King Lear of comedy. Only a company of the stature of Le Theatre Marigny that recently left us all stunned at Her Majesty's, could make us forget the inadequacies of actors to interpret these great roles.

Further, Tartuffe is a diabolically difficult play to direct. Oh, there is only one simple interior, no tricky or elaborate effects, no crowds, no technical headaches,—it's just that the play is so extremely complex in style and mood. Exactly what, exactly what should be the "approach" of the producer . . .?

To start with Tartuffe contains several diverse elements in a quite unusual mixture, a most treacherous weave to follow and unify. There are first the threads of artificial classic comedy, most apparent in the women and the subplot of Marianne, demanding a swift, mannered, graceful interpretation. Next there are the threads of vastly amusing satire, marvellous and fierce satire, demanding a strong and vibrant sort of grotesquerie. And lastly there is the strange thread of Orgon, the central character even though he does not lend his name to the title. Here is no mere gull of a satire, no Pantalone of the classic farce comedy. Here is a quite extraordinary man who contains within him the germ of realistic tragedy.

Now I cannot say how these elements are to be blended. All I can say is that Moliere managed to do it superbly and that MRT Studio did not. My feeling is that a first class French company would have taken its cue from the satire and given us a rather harsh, bold, and exaggerated style, but one, withal, that was also modern and sophisticated.

The MRT show seemed to take its cue from a timidly conceived Orgon with an occasional bow to Marianne, so that what we had was simplified, sincere realism with a few pretty gestures thrown in. There was no real attack that tried to envelop the whole play.

Take the setting, for example. This was in period, nicely painted, and it worked, but it was too soft in color and far too regular in line and form. Likewise the costumes were pleasant and workmanlike but (even though one must rememer the Studio's budget) there was a lack of spirit. Attempts at spirit, like Madame Pernelle's headdress, didn't come off and make their point.

The pattern of movement was straightforward, though occasionally a bit clumsy, but again one had the feeling of some basic lack of focus and attack.

The whole show, you might say, was neat but not gaudy, and one wanted some gaudiness.

Of the players only Marion Dennis and, perhaps, Michele Tisseyre, were really successful. Miss Dennis, indeed, gave a "right" performance, sharp and perky as a wren, the very model of a modern-classic servant minx. Dorine was a perfect part for this jolly MRT soubrette. Miss Tisseyre, too, gave us a warm and spirited performance in the delightful role of Elmire, the best of all Moliere's heroines.

Of Douglas Peterson (Orgon) and Ronald Kinsman (Tartuffe) I regret to report that I spent considerable time trying to imagine what an interpreter like Pierre Bertin of Le Theatre Marigny would have done with their tremendous parts. That was quite unfair, I know, for both these likable MRT stalwarts were sustaining their roles sufficiently well for us to comprehend and admire the genius of Moliere, which is the main duty of the player.

Dawn Greenhalgh was a sweet Marianne, but she needed more airs and graces, more comedy sense. Dorothy Danford's grandmother was shrewish and admirably enunciated, but far too bitterly realistic. This, I feel, should have been a satirical sketch and funny. Dale MacDonald's Cleante was a useful, promising, straight performance. The other gentlemen of the company were way out of their depth.

I suppose that the best way to sum up the evening would be to quote the familiar "a man's reach should exceed his grasp or what's a heaven for?" That is why that for all its shortcomings this MRT Studio production should be regarded as a major effort of the organization, one upon which the Studio Committee should look back with great pride.

If anything I or other carpers have said should over restrain MRT from presenting masterpieces, then all self-appointed critics should be boiled in their own vitriol.

Special Christmas Party Dec. 24 At Normandie

In the Montreal tradition of hospitality and festivity, the annual "Day Before Christmas" luncheon will be held at the Sheraton-Mt. Royal Hotel on Dec. 24th.

This year the luncheon will be in the Champlain Room, formerly the Normandie Roof, as in the past the demand for this unique function has exceeded the seating capacity.

From noon to 3 p.m., the Champlain Room will be the scene of a real Christmas party. The Boys' Choir of St. Patrick's Church again will be on hand to sing carols after the luncheon gets underway with the Parade of the Chefs and the arrival of Santa Claus. Traditional Christmas music will be played by the Max Chamitox Orchestra and the Bill Moodie Trio.

The regular show at The Normandie will be on hand in the persons of Rolly Rolls, Parisian piano humorist, and Mimi Kelly, Broadway's newest singing star. In addition to singing with the Chamitov Orchestra and the Bill will act as mistress of ceremonies.

Chef Lucien Barraud has prepared a special menu for the "Day Before Christmas" luncheon which will ensure the dining pleasure of the hundreds of guests.

Cans Used To Package Fragile Overseas Gifts

If you wish to send glass jars of favorite snack spreads to friends overseas, here is an easy and efficient method for packing them.

Each time you open a can of soup make sure that the top is sliced off smoothly. When the contents have been turned out, wash the can, and dry thoroughly, drop the top inside and store away for future use.

When you have enough cans collected for the number of jars you wish to send, then wrap each glass jar in soft paper, using enough that when slipped into the can it will fit snugly. Then put on the top and seal shut with Scotch tape. Place the can containing the glass jars in a pasteboard carton, stuff soft paper between cans and have crumpled paper underneath and on top. Close the carton and tie up in the usual way.

Gypsum promises to become an important source of sulphur.

June Allyson Stars In Drama Opening At Westmount Sunday

June Allyson, Arthur Kennedy and Gary Merrill are the stellar figures of M-G-M's stirring new drama. "The Girl in White."

"The Girl in White" unfolds the absorbing story of Dr. Emily Dunning Barringer, whose appointment to Gouverneur Hospital, downtown branch of New York's sprawling Bellevue, opened thousands of new doors to competent and ambitious women. Her trial by the fire of outworn masculine prejudices in the late 'nineties was staged amid the hourly dangers of the teeming lower East Side. There, riding a horse-drawn ambulance she blazed a trail as hazardous as tnat followed by the women aboard the California-bound covered wagons in 1849.

Added Attraction

"Daisy Kenyon," the latest Twentieth Century- Fox romantic drama. Joan Crawford, the Academy Award winner of two years ago, enacts the title role with Dana Andrews and Henry Fonda co-starred with her. Together they make up the threesome in Elizabeth Janeway's best-seller who fate brings together in a love that only two can share.

Kathryn Grayson Stars In Film At Monkland Saturday

The latest prize-winner in the long list of outstanding M-G-M Technicolor musicals comes to the Monkland screen this Saturday with the showing of "Lovely to Look at."

Kathryn Grayson, Red Skelton, Howard Keel, Marge and Gower Champion (the dancing team of "Show Boat") and Ann Miller are the principals in the fast-moving and constantly diverting story of a trio of Broadway musical comedy writers whose quest for financial backing for their show ultimately lands them in Paris and in the unique position of being partners in a fashionable dress shop.

Also on the same program is the unusual and exciting new drama, "Holiday for Sinners,", three men face a crisis in their lives amid the color and gaiety of New Orleans' famous Mardi Gras.

A young doctor decides between fame, fortune and the girl he loves. A young priest chooses between the dictates of his church and those of his heart. A broken-down prizefighter struggles grimly for survival.

A sterling cast enacts the principal roles, with Gig Young cast as the doctor, Janice Rule the girl he loves, Richard Anderson the priest, and Keenan Wynn the fighter.

'The Happy Time' To Be Repeated By Popular Demand

According to Barry Morse, director of the Canadian Players, who just presented the play "The Happy Time", at Her Majesty's Theatre last week; the play will be put on again beginning Jan. 3 at the Gesu Theatre.

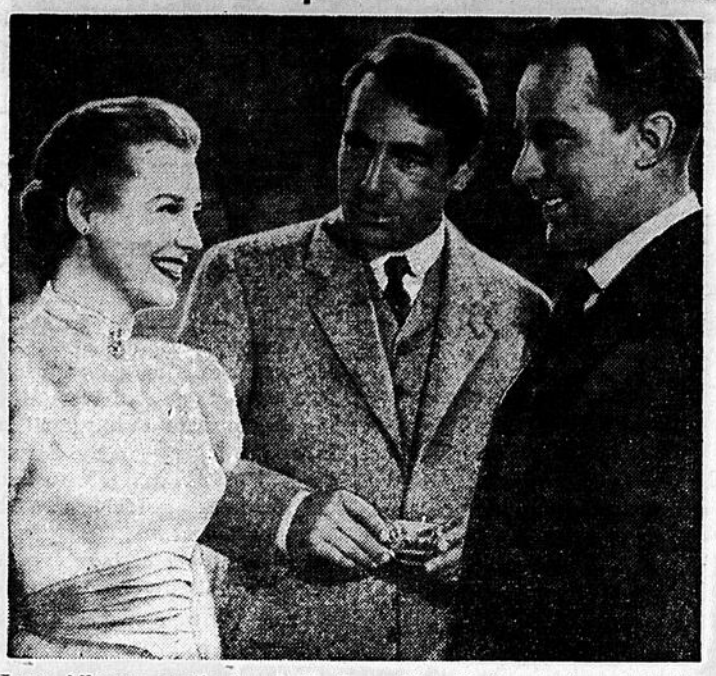

"We have been very happy about the response to our play", said Mr. Morse, "there have been so many letters and telephone calls requesting a repeat performance that we have called the star of our show Roger Dann, in New York. Mr. Dann has agreed to play the lead again. The rest of the cast will be the same, and it is our hope that all of those who missed the production will be able to see it in the new year."

'The Girl In White' Opens At Westmount Sunday

June Allyson captivates both Gary Merrill (center) and Arthur Kennedy in "The Girl in White", new M-G-M attraction coming the Westmount screen. The picture unfolds the stirring story of Dr. Emily Dunning, the first woman doctor to win the right to serve in the hospitals of New York.

HOLLYWOOD, December 18 — Christmas is just a week away and I imagine this will be the first television Yule for many a Canadian. Sets are expensive, maintenance can be costly, and to these basic expenditures the Canadian viewer is forced to add his license fee. For all these dollars you might suppose he would be entitled to feast his eyes on some worthwhile video entertainment.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has had ample opportunity to benefit from the initial trials and errors of American telecasting, botn creative or artistic and technical. But reports reaching this desk indicate the channels are operating on a highly restricted basis with programming for the most part as amateurish as a Sunday school play and about as entertaining as a lecture on the love life of the flea.

* * *

I'm quite aware the American kilocycles are also cursed with their share of trash, but there is a basic difference. Across the States the viewer can also dial a plentiful selection of stimulating fare, rangink from thought-provoking panel sessions like Meet The Press and downright highbrow shows like the weekly Omnibus to such worthwhile dramatic segments as Studio One and the spiritually moving talks of Bishop Fulton Shean.

Theirs for the tuning also are the costly weekly variety programs — All Star Revue, the Comedy Hour, Milton Berle and Ed Sullivan and others — and the genuinely funny situation comedies headed by I Love Lucy, the Burns and Allen show and Our Miss Brooks.

* * *

None of these programs would be possible without commercial sponsorship. All Star Revue costs the sponsor $60,000 a week for talent and production alone, plus the time charges on all the stations and network transmission fees. Milton Berle's funfest costs $50,000 every Tuesday. The Groucho Marx quiz program, You Bet Your Life, hits the cash register for $20,000. Whether these programs were aired by one station or 100, these basic production costs for writing, talent, scenery, music and so forth would remain constant. Only the tremendous advertising budgets of national sponsors can stand the strain such programming puts on the pocketbook.

Many of these American sponsored shows will be made available for Canadian release if the product involved is merchandised in the Dominion. Canadian regional programming, too, can be both entertaining and at times educational if the necessary funds for proper writing and presentation are forthcoming. Such stanzas as Edward Murrow's See It Now, sponsored by the Aluminum Company of America, manage gracefully to fuse information and showmanship — but the budget is always high. And only the bulging wallet of cigarette or automobile sponsorship permits the nationwide televising of spot news as it happens, or the edited version of the daily budget of news on a nightly schedule. Whereas the theatrical newsreel was usually anywhere from three days to several weeks behind fast-breaking world events, television brings you battle scenes from Korea, political parleys in London, a disastrous fire in Montreal and the funeral of a Latin American dictator's wife the same day these events transpire — or at most 24 hours later.

With profits realized from sponsored programs American networks and independent station are able to produce a number of shows aimed strictly at a higher intellectual level or educational segments aimed at restricted audiences.

It is utterly impossible for the taxpayer to foot the bill for such programming through license fees or other direct levies, yet every Canadian viewer is entitled to the best possible video fare. There is not even the need for experimentation to prove the merits of controlled sponsorship as compared to nationalized operation. In a free economy government regulation to some degree may be needed but government ownership, operation and complete political control simply does not produce the best possible results. A vast majority of Britishers listen on radio to Luxembourg or Normandie, where sponsorship provides interesting programming as compared to the frequently boring schedules of the BBC. And the occasional gem produced by a government network fails to justify the tremendous expenditures made for generally dull product.

SPORTS at St. Leo's

After losing their first two games, St. Leo's seniors have improved along the exhibition hockey trail, managing to gain a win and a draw in their last two efforts.

It is too early yet to figure out, how this hockey crew will fare in senior interscholastic hockey competition but on results to date not too much optimism can be placed on the Academy's 1953 hockey hopes. Lack of experience and lack of weight are the two big hurdles to overcome. The spirit has improved but not to the extent, that many of the boys will hustle themselves off to some artificial ice plant to improve their skating.

Claude LaBoissiere has been holding up well in goals behind a rather shaky defence. Peter Grant ,the only holdover from last year on defence has flashed some good hockey but is inclined to drift and leave the goaler to his own resources. Dave Orr moved back to defence from the front line, will have to improve his skating to keep the opposing forwards from going through him like a flag station. Bob Impey is steadily improving on defence, along with chunky Peter Hurtubise.

Tommy St. James, Ronny Ahern, Mike Dodman and Brian Sheridan have been the best of the forwards. With the approach of outdoor ice, the main weakness of the team, lack of skating power, should improve.

Bantams Win 1 to 0

St. Leo's Bantams posted their first win of the year last Saturday at Lachine Arena, when they nosed out Catholic High Bantams 1 to 0. Frank Rooney notched the only goal of the game on a shot from the blue line. Kevin Dunnigan played soundly in the nets to gain a well earned shut-out.

Sport Shorts

This Saturday morning at Lachine Arena, the Academy Bantam Intermural hockey league, will start their activities, with two exhibition games. In the curtain opener, the champion Maple Leafs will oppose Canadians, with the Rangers meeting up with the Black Hawks.

We wonder why schools three times the size of St. Leo's always have the crying towel out, feeling sorry for themselves for lack of material. Any school with three hundred high school students should be able to survive in senior A competition, although the past season saw high schools with close to 500 students find it difficult to field a capable team in Senior B football.

Ave. Stars Lead St. Laurent Int. Hockey League

Kev Kennedy's Avenue Stars maintained their two point lead in the St. Laurent Intermediate Hockey League last Saturday afternoon at the St. Laurent Arena, and this Saturday they will be out to continue their winning ways, this time against Morgan Kerr's St. Laurent Laurels.

The Stars play the second game of the doubleheader with the Regents and Royal Pharmacy in the opener.

Bud Selby started the ball rolling last week taking Mickey Bourassa's pass to open the scoring in the first period, but a smart play by Asselin knotted the count, within eight seconds after the middle session got underway.

However, Jimmy McCarthy's first of two goals brought the Stars to the front once more before the period ended. McCarthy's second tally gave the Stars a two goal edge but this was whittled down as Cunnius beat Brambell two minutes after McCarthy's winner.

Twelve penalties were called by the referees with the Stars taking seven of them.

Trounce West Hill 9-1 Hoopsters Drop Loyala

By ALLAN SANDZELIUS

Westmount's high flying senior "A" pucksters continued their undefeated win streak on Monday last with a convincing 9-1 triumph over a sadly depleted West Hill team at the Forum.

Scoring was evenly divided between local team members, a good indication of the general strength of the McRae-coached squad. Jim Beasant led his mates with two goals and an assist with Paul Zwinge and Richie Bell notching two apiece. Singletons were scored by George Joy, Hal Seifert and Gerry Apostolatos.

Goaler Pete Molson was unscored upon in the period he tended the twine while 'Woody' Woodman had scarcely a chance on the lone West Hill tally as the scorer eluded Doug Perry on defence and skated in unopposed.

Rinkside comments from St. Leo's mentor, Andy McGillis had it that the local larrigans looked impressive on the ice, but that the only real opposition in the senior league this season would come from McGee and Loyola, as yet unknown quantities due to a lack of exhibitions. Westmount, though, should have little trouble in subduing St. Leo's, West Hill, Montreal West and Catholic High if unforeseen events don't crop up. Verdun High may be still another entry into senior ranks this season, though nothing has been mentioned as yet.

As we caught reporter Jan Buzzell off guard this week we shall dispense with the distaff athletics for the nonce. We understand, however, that a pick-up exhibition was played on Monday at the Mount Royal High with a group of McGill girls. Exhibitions should be forthcoming very shortly.

WHS vs. CHS — Hoop-la!

Before we divulge the results of Tuesday's hoop game we might mention that in a recent senior "B" exhibit, the local quintet dropped an horrendous 90-40 shellacking at the hands of High School of Montreal. They'll try their best at redemption when they take on the Loyola juniors tomorrow morning. Junior High's Don Seller looks like a comer in his starring roles on the "B" squad.

In an "A" tussle with Loyola seniors last week Bud Rosenberg sparkled with 20 points as Ron Sharp's hard fighting charges, playing minus the services of Pat Baker downed the collegians 50-43. Rosenberg tallied 18 points in the previous Loyola battle the locals won 47-27.

In the game versus Catholic High on Tuesday, the locals were completely outclassed from beginning to end as they dropped a 73-28 decision at the little Black and White 'box' gym. Chummy Carter was outstanding for the Westmounters with 11 points, Dave Mather garnering 8.

'Big Chief Broken Elbow' Pat Baker was referee. The only absentee on the Purple and White team was star guard, Ian Roussac, although the Catholic High quintet played minus all but three "A" regulars. Potvin star was Phil Fleurquin with 11 more points alone than the entire Westmount team together (39).

There is a chance that when league play opens up in January, that the Westies will continue using the larger WJHS gym for Friday nite homers.

Wheel Chair Wonders To Show In Hoop Game Saturday

Seven west-end wheel chair men will be on the roaster of the Robitaille Motors Wheel chair Wonders basketball team when they hook up with Y MHA Blues in the opener of a twin bill Cancer benefit show at the Mont St. Louis Gym on Saturday night.

Playing an exhibition match for the local Cancer Research Society, an all-star Montreal Basketball League team will tangle with an all-star Toronto group in the feature event, starting at 9.30 p.m. Wheel chair basketball will get under way at 8 p.m.

This will be the second and toughest test the Robitaille team will go through as they defeated MBL's Windsor Aces recently by a score of 32-14. As is usually the case, when opposing teams are also confined to wheel chairs, the Wonders will have things virtually their own way in the first two periods, but by half time, the opponents will have mastered the simple devices and if the Motors squad is not well in the lead, the game will be very close.

In an exhibition match played on the same court last winter versus the MBL Rosemount Boulevards, the Paraplegic quintet were hard pressed at the end to win by a slim margin, 24-21.

Team publicist is a well known west ender, Jimmy Darou.

Co-organizer of parplegic basketball in Montreal and defence star on the squad is Harry Ward, of 4807 Westmore avenue, who doubles also on the executive of the Quebec branch of the Canadian Paraplegic Association, with headquarters in the Queen Mary Veteran's Hospital.

The idea of forming a team to represent wheel chair people of Montreal should also be credited a private citizen of this district, Bill Hepburn of 2446 Westhill avenue, he and his wife being very active in the rehabilitation of handicapped persons.

A measure of gratitude has been extended Herve Robitaille of Robitaille Motors Inc., whose sponsorship and assistance will help assure the success of this venture.

Other west end residents starring for the free-wheelers' are captain Johnny 'Rocky' Rochon, of 5048 Westmore, Vic MacGillivray, 4932 Connaught avenue, Tommy Somerville, Bill Handley of 4815 Westmore, Sid Palmer of 4916 Connaught and Allan Sandzelius of Metcalfe avenue, Westmount.

Others on the team are Johnny Allaire, Gaetan Bourgoin, Adrien Duguay, Jean Desjardins and George Stanton, all of Montreal.

Team coach is Harry 'Niggy' Rabin, formerly Windsor Aces leader in the MBL and star player with YMHA teams.

The Wheel Chair Wonders practice every Tuesday night at the new University Settlement gym on St. Urbain street and over a dozen exhibition matches have been slated for the current season.

A critical correction from friend Wasserman has it that Mr. Germaney's dance classes held in the gym each Monday and Wednesday noons are definitely not restricted to boys . . . seems all the guys and gals do at these classes is "fox-trot around" . . . all this in preparation of tonite's BIG Xmas dance at the gym . . . all arrangements, etc., by the Joan Dick committee . . . for a quarter of a dollar you gain admittance . . . but a tenth more and you may escort a lady (or vice versa, if you prefer) . . . chairman of Tuesday's debate on whether 'we should have co-education at the Junior High' was Ellie Heft . . .

Florida Bound: Liz and Nan Burwash take a holiday breather in the 'sun-baked land of Florida' this coming week and for the remainder of the school recess . . . Xmas Greetings, et al.: Christmas cards now on way to staff . . . and if anyone still wants school pins and rings, you're invited to take trip down Birk's way as they now hold exclusive sales nights . . . crests and cards, however, must still be purchased at the school . . . and, oh! yes, last week we mentioned 'Joan' the bass player . . . well, her full name is Joan Manley . . . and a right smart artist too, we are told . . . the speaker at next week's assembly will be a 'Rev. Ellis' . . . now whether it's the Rev. Canon J. D. or the Rev. R. A., we were not informed . . . Mr. Ellis' subject will be, "The Meaning of Christmas' . . .

Sports

Gordie tells us of a 'rough' girls' volleyball do at the gym on Monday aft . . . the final tally was — 8 G3 downing 7 G2 as 8 G2 made short work of 7 G3 . . . the girls' athletic association is planning an assembly in the near future, as far as we're able to figure out . . . Terry Gray, Doug Scruton and Ronnie Williams now hooping it for Unity . . . Mr. Coombes is mentor of the WJHS boys' basketball quintet . . .

A Fond Farewell: Mr. Gary Posner, a teacher of religion (Hebrew) takes leave of the Junior High this term and wishes to express his farewell and good wishes to the entire student body . . . how better than through this school organ, The Thunderbird . . . from the students, good luck in your future affairs, Gary . . . headed for Indianapolis, we hear . . . the Rev.
