Bill 60

and English Quebec

Protestant and Catholic in one school?

One of the most intriguing if not revolutionary possible outcomes of Bill 60 is the interpenetration of Protestant and Roman Catholic education.

Although educational leaders in the Eastern Townships again disagree as to the extent of such interpenetrations, a majority of those interviewed believe that a certain amount of sharing of specialized facilities, is in keeping with the ministry's stated object of introducing long term planning into Quebec education.

Planning also strives for the efficient use of resources and the elimination of duplication.

It was pointed out during talks with both Protestant and Catholic educational leaders that more efficient use will have to be made of the educational dollar due to the rising cost of education and the greater emphasis on specialized training in public schools which Bill 60 heralds.

A hypothetical new high school might look like this: On a large plot of land there are a number of buildings, the whole of which is called the "campus".

There is a building for Protestant students and one for Catholics.

Between the two lie a series of smaller buildings.

One would house a gymnasium, another a well-equipped laboratory, the third technical facilities.

These specialized classrooms, laboratories and shops would be shared by both "halves" of the campus school. The gymnasium might be staffed by a Roman Catholic teacher who would lead a "mixed" class. A bilingual teacher would instruct a class drawn from both "halves" in mechanics.

On May 29 such a school complex was officially opened by Education Minister Gerin Lajoie in Vaudreuil, near Montreal. The $9 million Cite des Jeunes is a complete integrated education and vocational training center, perhaps unique in North America.

The 125-acre complex includes a regional secondary school for English and French-speaking Roman Catholic students, a technical school, and an apprenticeship center for the building trades.

All extra-curricular facilities such as the library, arts and crafts studios, cafeteria, auditorium and sport recreation areas will be shared by students.

But what is perhaps more fundamental is that provisions have been made for a Protestant high school to be included in the Cite des Jeunes.

Increased mobility for Roman Catholic teachers in Protestant schools and vice-versa is also seen as a consequence of a new ecumenical spirit which Bill 60 is expected to bring to education in Quebec.

In fact the influence of the "good Pope" John 23rd in, first, paving the way for a single "bicultural"

Superior Council of Education and, second, in creating the bonne entente which educators say exists among Roman Catholic and Protestant professionals has been frequently mentioned during discussions with the latter.

The results of this new spirit could be more far reaching than previously expected. It will allow, educators say, for the teaching of French in English schools by native French Canadians, who for the most part are Roman Catholic.

NEW QUEBECER

Perhaps it is here that the new Quebecer equally fluent in both English and French will be bred. The potential from the spread of such institutions is enormous.

The chances of these developments spreading to the Eastern Townships are held to be strong. With population thinly spread over large numbers of small communities, the campus school would seem likely, although no official plans are known to have been made.

Frank Trecartin is Superintendent of Schools for the Lake of Two Mountains Protestant School Board. When he was in Sherbrooke this spring for a school administrators' conference he expressed concern over a too hasty spread of institutions where facilities would be shared between both separate school panels.

"Some basic educational philosophy will have to be agreed upon before these campus type arrangements become more general," he warned.

The trend to the sharing of facilities is also seen by Professor J. D. Jefferis of Bishop's University faculty of education. He sees that Roman Catholic and Protestant leaders are becoming "less and less" afraid of each other, and will be more willing to co-operate in the future.

INSTRUMENT OF ECUMENICISM

One of Sherbrooke's Roman Catholic school Commissioners, in effect believes that Bill 60 will be a "great instrument of ecumenicism" in Quebec life.

He says that already signs of this spirit, which has at the same time made Bill 60 possible and which will be further proliferated by it, have risen to the surface in Sherbrooke.

This year, a precedent was set when a number of students "who could not orient themselves" in a Protestant school were transferred to a Roman Catholic school and are, according to this commissioner, "working out

Contractor says he paid minister

Take issue on bribe charge

QUEBEC (CP)—Several witnesses took issue Tuesday with a charge by former contractor Amedee Bellemare that he paid Attorney-General Rene Hamel a $1,500 bribe to obtain a roads department sub-contract in 1960.

The testimony was heard at the legislative assembly's committee on privileges and elections which will resume hearings Thursday of the charge of influence-peddling against Mr.

Hamel.

A bank manager in Shawinigan, Que., denied Mr. Bellemare's testimony that he authorized a bank loan to pay the bribe. The principal contractors testified Mr. Bellemare obtained the sub-contract two days before the 1960 provincial elections when the Liberals came to power.

Mr. Bellemare testified his firm went bankrupt because of the bribes paid Quebec government officials to obtain contracts.

He said he paid the bribe to Mr. Hamel in August, 1960, to get a $4,200 sub-contract to supply gravel for a road in Mr. Hamel's St. Maurice riding.

Premier Lesage produced documents showing Mr. Bellemare received $7,000 for the sub-contract.

The issue was brought before the committee after Yves Gauthier (UN—Trois-Rivieres) tabled sworn statements from Mr. Bellemare in the House June 30.

Emile Morin, manager of a branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale in Shawinigan, denied testimony by Mr. Bellemare that he had authorized a $1,500 loan with the knowledge the money would be used for the bribe.

Mr. Morin said the only loans obtained by Mr. Bellemare were kept in his account to pay bills.

Roland Marchand and Armand Samson, the principal contractors for the road project, testified the sub-contract had been awarded Mr. Bellemare's firm two days before the provincial election when the Union Nationale government was still in power.

Police watch Hal Banks' home after arrest attempt is foiled

HAL C. BANKS

MONTREAL (CP) — Police are keeping a close watch on Hal C. Banks' home in suburban Pointe Claire after two futile attempts Tuesday to apprehend the deposed president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.) and take him to prison.

A writ of arrest had been taken out against the burly former Montreal waterfront power, still vice-president of the SIU of North America, to begin serving a 30-day sentence in Bordeaux jail for contempt of court.

Banks was reported seen earlier Tuesday in a Pointe Claire shopping centre driving a light convertible, not his usual white Cadillac.

However, the first attempt by Bailiff Andre Landriau to serve the writ of arrest was rebuffed by a woman, apparently a housekeeper, who said Banks was not at home.

Mr. Landriau then returned the 16 miles to downtown Montreal to obtain a Superior Court search warrant but when he returned Tuesday night, Banks was not in his home.

Police ordered three cruisers to remain near the SIU official's home on the shores of Lake St. Louis and a police launch was posted on the lake in the west-end of Montreal Island. Banks' yacht remained tied up at his wharf.

The writ of arrest, obtained by lawyers for the Upper Lakes Shipping Company, ordered the bailiff to "seize Banks and deliver him" to jail. Mr. Landriau was accompanied by several policemen in both attempts to serve the warrant.

The shipping company had prosecuted Banks in a civil action for contempt of court

At OAS meet in Washington

Sanctions sought to isolate Cuba as exiles rampage

WASHINGTON — (CP-AP) — The foreign ministers of the Organization of American States considered today strong economic and diplomatic actions against Cuba after a march of 5,000 Cuban exiles stunned the opening session Tuesday when rioting blamed on pro-Castro supporters broke out.

State Secretary Dean Rusk, pressing the United States request for strong action against Cuba, was among the day's scheduled speakers.

Venezuela is pressing the OAS, a grouping of all the Western Hemisphere nations with the exception of Canada, for complete sanctions against Cuba under the 1947 inter-American treaty.

An OAS investigating committee has supported Venezuela's charge that Castro agents planted a three-ton cache of arms in Venezuela to supply pro-Castro guerrillas.

Colombia, Panama and Costa Rica introduced a proposal calling upon all members of the OAS to:

1. Break diplomatic ties with Cuba, Mexico, Chile, Uruguay and Bolivia are the only Latin American countries still maintaining relations with Cuba.

WANT TRADE SUSPENDED

2. Suspend all economic trade with Cuba with the exception of foodstuffs, medicines and medical equipment.

3. Suspend all sea and air links with Cuba. Transport necessary for emergency reasons of a humanitarian character would be excluded.

Venezuela supports the proposal and U.S. officials said the United States "wants to go along with Venezuela."

A proposal by Argentina coupling a censure of Cuban activities against Venezuela with a warning that further subversion activities would be checked with the use of armed force is reported getting little support.

Outside the Pan American Union Building where the OAS ministers opened their meeting Tuesday, a clash of several hundred Cubans with police marred what had started out as a peaceful demonstration by 5,000 Cuban exiles who came here from several cities to urge OAS action against the Castro regime.

Aided by leaders of the march who charged that supporters of Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba had infiltrated the parade to cause trouble, police quickly restored order and the crowds melted away.

The trouble started when some of the marchers insisted on leaving the parade route—from the Washington Monument to the Lincoln Memorial—to head for the Pan American Union Building.

More than 400 policemen, some on horseback and motorcycles, helped quell the riot.

THE CALM AFTER STORM IN HARLEM — Two men walk past stores today at Lenox Avenue between West 125th and 126th streets whose fronts show effects of rioting in New York's Harlem. The boarded up pawn shop at right had its steel-mesh screen ripped into uselessness by rioters over the weekend.

Violence breaks out in Brooklyn area; Harlem stays quiet

NEW YORK (AP) — Racial violence and widespread looting broke out in Brooklyn's Negro section throughout the night. Police critically wounded two Negroes.

Harlem, meanwhile, had its first relatively quiet night in four days.

In Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section police fired at looters. Dozens of store windows were broken.

About two dozen persons were arrested.

On orders from President Johnson, FBI agents began an investigation of the disturbances. Mayor Robert F. Wagner was back from a European vacation trip he cut short because of the violence.

Acting Mayor Paul R. Sorensen said the Harlem disorders had been incited in part by "fringe groups, including the Communist party."

He suggested that the FBI agents might investigate the source of money for some street rallies and for some of the "very inflammatory . . . anti-American . . . and seditious statements."

Wagner said he would look into the report of Communist influence. He also said he did not believe federal troops or the national guard would be needed to preserve order.

LOOTING IN HARLEM

Police reported a number of burglaries in Harlem, the big Negro neighborhood in Manhattan. A few shots were fired by police to disperse unruly gatherings. But there were no large crowds, demonstrations or anything like the weekend rioting in which one man was killed and more than 100 injured.

In Brooklyn, the trouble started after a black nationalist street rally that drew about 500 Negroes. Firecrackers exploded in the crowd and many people scattered in panic.

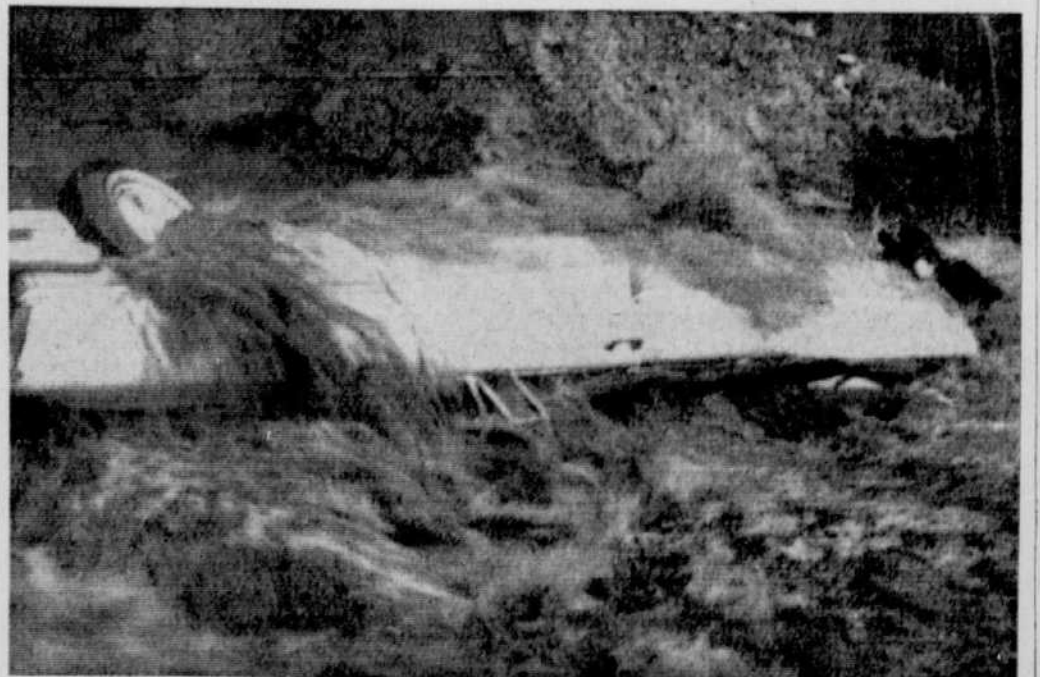

More than 200 police moved in to quell the disturbance. They fired more than 150 shots in the air. Bottles were thrown. Store windows were broken. Subways were ordered to skip street stops in the area for a time.

The crowd broke up after an hour or two and police began getting reports of looting throughout the section.

About 24 Negroes were taken into custody.

He showed his badge to one of the boys—Powell—but the boy came at him with a knife, Gilligan stated. He warned him to stop but the boy kept coming, the officer added.

Gilligan also said: He fired a warning shot which hit the boy in the hand.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

FALSE-CARD
SCARES SOUTH

By OSWALD JACOBY

The prettiest false-card I have seen this year was made by Charley Dunaif in a rubber bridge game at New York's Whist Club.

Playing at six spades, South has an automatic trump safety play. He leads low from dummy. When East follows with the deuce, South plays low also to guard against the possibility that all three trumps will be in the East hand.

Now see what happened to Charley's unfortunate opponent. West opened the four of clubs. The king was played from dummy and Charley dropped the queen.

Charley had heard the bidding and had noted that South had tried to get to a grand slam. Hence, it was apparent to him that South would have no losers outside the trump suit.

It also happened that South was a good enough player to use the normal safety play with ten trumps and to take two finessees with nine. Hence, it was up to Charley to do something about that normal play and he proceeded to drop the queen of clubs on dummy's king.

South led the ten of spades from dummy. Charley played the deuce. South thought for a while and finally decided that he could not afford the trump Whist Club.

Show Business

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This is the boulevard—Wild Bill Tucker has gone unshorn for 15 years. His mane hangs white and stringy below his shoulders, his moustache is wide and luxuriant and his goatee is longer than a billy goat's.

As he strides down Hollywood Boulevard daily in costume—western - style tan gabardine suit, yellow silk shirt, black cowboy boots and stetson hat—he resembles everyone's conception of Buffalo Bill. Yet for Col. Cody he has scant regard.

Talked to him once in San Francisco at the world's fair. Another he admitted was nothing more or less than the shimmy—"Some may consider it vulgar, but it's great for getting the blood to the brain and other vital organs."

His big frame shook like an aspic, but foot traffic along the boulevard took little notice. Wild Bill was born John William Tucker in Beatrice, Neb., where, he noted, Wild Bill Hickok shot it out with the McCandies.

Bill got into show business in 1912 as an imitator and whistler, billed as Tommy Tucker. It was a pretty lousy act, as he called it. After war service as an air instructor, he followed a number of occupations in and around the entertainment world. Among them: imitating sounds for movie cartoons.

"I can make any sound you want; here's a hurricane," he said. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Frizzle

HE'S EXPECTING GOOD LUCK IN A VERY BIG WAY SOON

Twelve-year-old Cameron Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wood, of Howard Avenue, Lennoxville, believes that luck should run his way in the near future.

During the past few days he has come across several four-leaf clovers on the lawn surrounding his parents' home.

But yesterday he hit the jackpot with a clover comprised of five leaves.

The oversized clovers resulted from seed planted barely a week ago.

Second severe storm hits ET

A second violent electrical storm in three days lashed the Eastern Townships yesterday causing a power failure over a large area of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville and a $30,000 fire on the outskirts of Waterloo.

The rains, lightning and thunder struck the E. T. around midnight after a sweltering day in which temperatures ranging as high as 84 were recorded.

Won't reduce students' bus fares

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto Transit Commission Tuesday turned down a request for a reduced rate in transporting 103 French-Canadian students to Niagara Falls, Ont., from Toronto.

In a letter to TTC Chairman Ralph Day, the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews said four buses would be needed for the students, who visit Toronto next week. It asked the TTC, which operates Gray Coach Lines Limited, to reduce the rate to $250 from $456. The council said $250 was all it had to spend.

Mr. Day said if the request was granted the commission would have to grant similar pleas that come in every week. Many of the French-speaking students come from Eastern Townships centres.

Impaired driving

Maurice Houle 23, of Beebe, pleaded guilty in Sherbrooke Sessions of the Peace court yesterday morning to a charge of driving while his faculties were impaired by alcohol. He was sentenced to a fine of $50 and his driving permit was suspended for a period of six months.

Pipeline raises fears as Memphremagog level low

By DAVID WEBSTER
(Record staff reporter)

MAGOG — A low water level is worrying some residents along Lake Memphremagog — a lake making them apprehensive about the City of Sherbrooke's plan to draw water from the lake.

The lake level is about one foot below its level this time last year. The Dominion Textiles Magog plant, which keeps records of the lake level, reported a level of 680.63 feet above mean sea level Tuesday.

This is .87 feet below the level for this time last year — 681.50 feet.

The water is the lowest it has been for 17 years for this season, says Leonard Robert who has a commercial boat-house and dock in Magog.

It is usually at this level by the end of August but this year it lowered much faster. There is starting to be some trouble docking the boats, he says.

The proposed water pipeline to Sherbrooke is not dangerous, he says. It won't cause any trouble.

Taking the opposite view was another Magog boat owner, Henri Morin. He says that the pipeline will ruin the tourist industry in Magog. It will lower the water level and hamper boating activities.

Sherbrooke will probably have to eventually pay for water purification anyway, he says, for the water in the lake is getting worse. It used to be very good, he says.

The water is now at the level it usually reaches at the end of August, he says. A dealer from the Newport end of the lake said that conditions are "terrible" there, says Mr. Morin. There were a lot of propellers to straighten out and shafts to replace because boats were starting to hit bottom.

Jacques Lemieux, Sherbrooke consulting engineer and booster of the pipeline project says that the pipeline's effect on the lake level will be negligible.

Lake Memphremagog is a very large lake, he says. It has an area of 39 square miles. Even if no water went into the lake through rainfall the amount taken out would lower the lake less than one inch in a month.

If the project is begun early in August, he says, it should be completed by the end of the year.

At the outset Sherbrooke will pipe in 10 million gallons per day. By 1984 about 15 million gallons will be used daily, he estimates.

The only difference the pipeline will make, says Mr. Lemieux, is that it will reduce the amount of water going out of the lake through the Magog River.

Thus less water will flow

Ontario Hydro has placed a multi-million dollar boiler contract with the Sherbrooke plant of Combustion Engineering Superheater Limited, company sources said today.

The boilers are to be used in Ontario Hydro's new $20 million steam generating plant at Sarnia, Ontario.

The plant will have a production capacity of 3.6 million lbs. of vapour per hour at a temperature of 1000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Value approaches $300 million

18,000 farms in E.T. the latest census shows

There are close to 18,000 farms in the Eastern Townships, and their capital value approaches 300 million dollars, according to a report issued by the Quebec Bureau of Statistics for the provincial ministry of Industry and Commerce.

This represents almost 20 per cent of all farms in the province.

The Bureau issued detailed figures of the number of farms, market value of land and buildings, market value of machinery and equipment, and market value of poultry and livestock, for each major district of each county of the Eastern Townships in 1961.

SHERBROOKE
Sherbrooke county had only 520 farms in 1961, the year of the last census. Of these, land and buildings were evaluated at $7,826,600; machinery and equipment at $1,835,000; and livestock and poultry at $1,899,300.

In Sherbrooke county, Ascot listed the largest number of farms, 136, with a total capital value of over four million dollars. St-Etienne-Orford had 128 farms, valued at slightly over $2,000,000.

Other districts in Sherbrooke county, with number of farms and total capital value of land, buildings, equipment, livestock, and poultry, are: Rock Forest (97 farms, worth about one and a half million dollars), Ascot North (85 farms, valued at almost two and a half million dollars), Orford (33 farms, estimated at almost $700,000), St-Denis-de-Brompton (22 farms, with a total capital value of about $200,000), Ascot Corner (17 farms, worth $350,000).

STANSTEAD
Stanstead County contains about 1,100 farms, the report reveals, of which land and buildings are reportedly worth over twelve million dollars, equipment over four million, and livestock about five and a half million.

Following is a list of districts of Stanstead county, each followed in parentheses by number of farms and total capital (market) value of these farms: Barford (32 farms, $1,405,000), Barnston (17 farms, $3,297,000), West Barnston (90 farms, $1,960,000), Hatley (43 farms, $934,000), West Hatley (66 farms, $1,385,000), Magog (128 farms, $2,866,000), Ogden (95 farms, $1,459,000), Ste-Catherine-de-Hatley (102 farms, $2,061,000), St-Hermenegilde (37 farms, $688,000), St-Mathieu-de-Dixville (84 farms, $1,671,000), Stanstead (72 farms, $1,157,000), Stanstead East (142 farms, $2,657,000).

WOLFE
Wolfe county harbors 1,314 farms, of which land and buildings alone are valued at over ten million dollars. Equipment has a market value of a further three-and-a-half million, and livestock and poultry of another five million dollars.

Major districts of Wolfe county, the number of farms in each, and the total market value of these farms is estimated by their proprietors, are: Disraeli (77 farms, $982,000), Dudswell (165 farms, $2,262,000), Fontainebleau (27 farms, $354,000), Garthby (66 farms, $834,000), Weedon (141 farms, $1,980,000), and Wotton (175 farms, $2,815,000).

Richmond county contains a large farming community of over 1,300 farms, whose value has been estimated at over $23,000,000. Land and buildings account for over 12 of these millions, says the Quebec Bureau of Statistics, equipment for another four and a half million, and livestock and poultry for almost $6,000,000.

District of Richmond county, with number of farms and total capital values of the entire set-up in each, are listed by the Bureau. They are: Brompton (118 farms, $2,762,000), Brompton Gore (49 farms, $732,000), Cleveland (130 farms, $2,166,000), Melbourne 149 farms, $2,

Public gem-conscious

Jeweller's business is becoming complex

A good jeweller must keep abreast of the latest information and know his subject well if his customers are to buy with confidence and know their money is well spent, a jewelry firm spokesman said Tuesday.

John C. Smiley, 43 years, with Henry Birks and Sons Ltd., Montreal, told members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club that gemology is fast becoming a science.

"Jewellers," he said, "are expected to know something of mineralogy, geology, physics, and chemistry in order to understand jewels," he said.

More and more customers, he said, are quizzing the jeweller about color, clarity, cutting and costs before making a gem purchase, he said.

Mr. Smiley said there are several gem substitutes, and poorer varieties of stone can be worked on so that they look better than they really are.

"No one wants to pay a top-notch price for a stone to find out that it is second rate," said Mr. Smiley.

He said jewellers must give accurate information if they expect their customers to buy with confidence and know that their money is well spent.

The annual square dance at the Ayer's Cliff Crippled Children's Camp sponsored by members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club will be held July 24 at 8 p.m., it was announced Tuesday.

Seated at head table were Hubert Johnston, Eugene Fleishacker, Paul Nadeau, president Bill Richardson, Wyatt Johnson, Ken Jenckes, Steve Newton and Tom Leonard.

Tribute paid to Governor-General

Announcement by Prime Minister Pearson that the term of Governor General Georges Vanier will be extended for another year until late in 1965 will be welcomed by Canadians generally as a tribute to the splendid example set by General Vanier and Madame Vanier during the period they have represented the Queen in Canada.

The first French-speaking Canadian and the second native Canadian to occupy Rideau Hall, General Vanier has been unrelenting in his efforts to improve the lot of the Canadian people in every facet of their existence.

The Vice-regal couple have been content with giving their formal, official blessing to the many public organizations working for the interests of the people. They have given personal leadership to welfare movements, one such effort being the recent conference on family problems organized and directed by His Excellency.

Canada has been fortunate in the calibre of the men chosen to represent the Monarch since the practice was instituted of naming native Canadians to Rideau Hall.

Both General Vanier and his predecessor, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey have proved that the position of personal representative of the Queen in Canada need not be filled by wornout political hacks as feared by many when the practice of naming United Kingdom residents for the honor was ended. Each of the Canadian nominees has proved a worthy representative of Her Majesty and has displayed the finest qualities of Canadian citizenship.

By their example they have established a tradition which should prove a challenge to their successors.

Make up your mind, girls, to mind your make-up if you want the boys to make up to you.

City's stand is just, to a point

Sherbrooke's Catholic School commission, a month ago, asked that it be exempted from paying electricity rates to the city of Sherbrooke. The request was turned down.

This week, the commission again approached council with the request that the rates it pays be lowered.

It was turned down again, and with good reason.

The city fathers, undoubtedly, saw in the request an appeal for another subsidy on the part of the Sherbrooke taxpayers for the commission.

Municipalities collect the amount of the school tax assessment and turn it over to the commissions. In effect, the municipality is required to subsidize the commission for the amount that is uncollectable.

Furthermore, the commission itself pays no taxes on the property it holds, the loss in revenue to the city being absorbed by other property owners in higher taxes — another subsidy, in effect.

Other papers say:

Commonwealth still a vital force

Although there has been some suggestion in the press that the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference which ended recently has been somewhat lacking in dynamic action, what was displayed, we feel, was more important—tolerance, and a thoughtful understanding of the problems of others.

When representatives of 18 countries of mixed racial background can sit down at a conference table in these days of political and social unrest, and reach agreement on any question in a spirit of trust and understanding, it is indeed an accomplishment.

Dynamic? Well, perhaps not. But why does it have to be? Have our lives become so high-powered, that we condemn as a failure any meeting that does not erupt into some form of drastic or violent action? How much more civilized the Commonwealth meeting than the disheartening spectacle of a single political party in the United

St. Thomas Times-Journal States tearing itself to shreds in full view of millions of people.

The Commonwealth is, the conference assures us, still a vital force, based on mutual respect and admiration. It is comforting to know that Canada is a part of such a force. The external face the gathering of Commonwealth leaders presents to the world is one that can only be the envy of the world. And much more was accomplished in the background than ever appeared publicly.

The thorny question of Southern Rhodesia and its racial problems was, naturally enough, thrust into the discussion by African Prime Ministers. These leaders want equal rights and voting privileges for the colored majority in Rhodesia, but they displayed an amazing ability to understand the difficulties facing Britain, which alone must deal with the problem.

The conference called for the building of an internal policy of non-discrimination in each Commonwealth country, a move that was aimed specifically at Southern Rhodesian policies of white supremacy. The Commonwealth nations have thus publicly expressed their distaste for discrimination and denial of equal rights. For her part, Britain has agreed to consider carefully the call by Commonwealth leaders for a constitutional conference on Southern Rhodesia and the release of detained African leaders in the colony.

The firm Commonwealth resolution in this regard can only give heart to the Negro majority in Southern Rhodesia, which wants its freedom as quickly as possible.

'If I were president...'

Occasionally contradictory views come from Goldwater statements

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following are the views of U.S. Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Republican presidential candidate, on a variety of issues, as expressed in his writings, interviews, campaign speeches, statements and other public comments:

CIVIL RIGHTS

Goldwater, commenting July 12 on the Republican platform plank on civil rights, declared that as president he would enforce the new law and added:

"I don't think either party should try at this time to go beyond the present bill, which is the law."

Announcing he would vote against the civil rights bill, Goldwater said on the Senate floor June 18 "I am unalterably opposed to discrimination or segregation on the basis of race, color or creed; not only my words, but more importantly by actions have repeatedly demonstrated the sincerity of my feelings in this regard."

FINDS IN NEW YORK

Goldwater said in Stockton, Calif., March 18: "I don't want to see my country destroyed, the constitution destroyed, in a vain attempt to solve a problem that can only be solved in the hearts of men. I can show you more segregation practiced on the Canadian border than you can find anywhere in the South. I can show you discrimination in New York that would turn your hair."

"I think it's wrong to take to the streets in violation of the law..." he said in San Francisco March 15. "I think there is a great resentment building up across the nation."

Goldwater said in Globe, Ariz., Feb. 14 that the public accommodations section of the bill "would force you to admit a drunk or a murderer or an insane person into your place of business."

CUBA

"We must impose, again, an effective economic-military blockade on Cuba. We must enforce our restrictions and levy penalties against shipping which attempts to trade with both the United States and Cuba. We must have an equally effective blockade against the export of agitators and arms from Cuba," Goldwater said July 5.

"Immediate U.S. recognition of a Cuban government-in-exile would be the indispensable first step toward Cuban self-liberation. Such a government could ask for every form of U.S. and Organization of American States support—and ought to receive it."

In Lakeport, Calif., March 18, Goldwater said action must be taken against Castro in concert with other hemisphere countries.

When Premier Fidel Castro halted the water supply to the Guantanamo Bay naval base, Goldwater, campaigning in Kingston, N.H., said:

"I hope the president, has the courage to tell Castro 'Turn that water back on or we're going to turn it on ourselves... Turn it on or the marines will turn it on for you and keep it on.'"

DEFENCE

"Basic strategic concepts for the security of this nation demanded drastic re-assessments with the advent of the age of space and missiles. This nation cannot survive, in this new era, without mastery of the uses of space and heavy reliance on missile systems as against a mixed force—missiles, manned aircraft, and naval vessels of all types," Goldwater said July 5.

ECONOMY

"We Republicans, seek a government that attends to its inherent responsibilities of maintaining a stable monetary and fiscal climate—encouraging a free and competitive economy, and enforcing law and order."

From acceptance speech July 16.

Goldwater said in Wilton, N.H., March 5, the United States is doing its best to encourage free trade but "the trouble is the rest of the world isn't helping us. It might get to the point where we have to lower quotas."

EXTREMISM

"I would remind you that extremism in the defence of liberty is no vice and let me remind you also that moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue." From acceptance speech July 16.

"All I can say is that I will take the support of any American who is not a Communist, who has not advocated the violent overthrow of our government—and the Birch Society, like the Americans for Democratic Action, extremists on the left, are operating, in my opinion, under their constitutional rights," he said in San Francisco on March 15.

"I seek the support of no extremist groups of the left or right," he said in Fresno, Calif., March 14.

FOREIGN AID

"I am for a sound foreign aid program," he said in a June reissue of his campaign position declaration. He endorsed military aid and technical assistance.

"Foreign military aid and technical assistance are valuable adjuncts to our over-all program of mutual security—the former to protect our friends against Communist aggression, and the latter to help free nations free themselves," Goldwater said in an April 14 position paper.

Goldwater also said: "U.S. assistance to Communist-ruled nations has not helped foster any significant independence from Soviet domination."

"Our aid has furnished new strength to the Communist bloc rather than introducing new tensions or weaknesses."

FOREIGN POLICY

Goldwater said in Dallas on June 15 lack of foreign policy and a "weak-kneed" foreign policy "are leading us into World War III as surely as we were led into World War II by the same kind of stupid ineptitude."

In Minneapolis, Feb. 3, Goldwater said, "If you get a Republican president you can get foreign-policy changes awfully fast. In my case it would be changed to a policy not of belligerence but the same policy as under (former president) Eisenhower and (the late state secretary) Dulles of brinkmanship and the proper use of our strength."

NATO

Goldwater, in his campaign position statement, said: "The greater force for freedom in the world today is the powerful Atlantic alliance, the NATO community..."

He opposed the multilateral force concept as a gimmick to give the appearance of NATO unity, and said it would not be workable.

He proposed these steps:

1. Consultation with NATO allies before major policy decisions affecting their security.

2. A pledge not to engage in bilateral negotiations with the Soviet Union on matters involving security or interests of NATO nations.

3. "The sharing of nuclear secrets within the framework of existing law..."

4. "The training of all NATO forces stationed in Europe, regardless of nationality, in the use of nuclear weapons. I suggest that the supreme command of NATO, who is an American officer and probably always will be, have direct command over a NATO nuclear force, trained, ready and equipped, on European soil."

MORE LEeway

In San Francisco July 13, Goldwater told Florida delegates to the Republican convention:

"I've suggested that we never remove this (nuclear) responsibility from the president but that the commander of NATO have a little more leeway in the selection of weapons and the timeliness of weapons."

"We're talking about tactical nuclear weapons of a very small nature," he told Der Spiegel, a West German newsmagazine. "There is a real need for the supreme commander to be able to use these weapons more expeditiously than he could by telephoning the White House and I would say that in these cases the supreme commander should be given great leeway in the decision to use them or not to use them."

NUCLEAR TEST BAN

"I voted against the treaty because it, in effect, freezes the Soviet Union in a superior position to the United States as regards the uses and effects of high-yield weapons while leaving open the possibility of their catching up to us in the field of tactical nuclear weapons, since these weapons can be perfected by underground tests which are not prohibited by the treaty," Goldwater said in his campaign position paper.

Goldwater said Jan. 6 he would not rule out disarmament negotiations with the Soviet Union. "Anybody, I think, would be a fool to close the door on negotiations for anything; but until the Soviet Union shows some indication that they want to disarm... then I don't think negotiations are possible."

SOUTH VIET NAM

"The policies we have been following there for the last several years have been proven to be inadequate... I predict that if these policies do not change we'll be fighting in Viet Nam for a decade. And, at best, we'll end up with a draw or a slow defeat," Goldwater said July 5.

"The supplies of the Communist invaders have got to be shut off."

SOVIET UNION

In the Der Spiegel interview, Goldwater said: "My disagreements with diplomatic recognition of Russia goes back to the day when we did it in the 1930s. I opposed it then and I never thought that it has rebounded to the benefit of the Western world. Today I look upon this (recogni-

Hall commission indicates

Nursing education needs drastic change

By SYLVIA SYLVIE

Somewhere, Canada has to find 42,000 nurses by 1971. That is if the government decides to adopt the Hall Royal Commission Report on Health Services, something no one is making any predictions about at the moment.

The commission feels drastic changes have to be made in nursing education if the right number and the right kind of nurses are to be found.

It is critical of the qualifications of the instructors at both hospital and university schools of nursing.

"Our studies show that 75 per cent of instructors in the hospital schools and 56 per cent in the university schools do not even have minimum (a BSc in hospital schools and a Master's degree in university schools) qualifications.

"The graduates of a school can be no better than the quality of their educational experience," reads the report.

The Hall commission feels the apprentice-type system by which the majority of nurses are now solely trained clearly requires re-examination.

OTHER DUTIES

It also feels that many nurses are performing duties for which they are overqualified or not qualified at all—duties which should be assigned to other occupations.

"A three-year program, in which two thirds of all formal instruction is given in the first year, is obviously oriented to some purpose other than education," the report suggests.

This shortening of the training program is something the Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario has been pushing for at least one Toronto hospital, Women's College, will implement shortly.

After studying the situation thoroughly, the commission sees the need for two categories of nurses: The graduate of a four- or five-year integrated basic university program or of a shorter program for university graduates, and the graduate of a new-type of two-year diploma program who would function as a clinical or bedside nurse.

It has also given approval to the development of a three-year diploma program in nursing currently underway at the Ryerson Polytechnical Institute.

DIPLOMAS

When the RAO gave the go ahead to this course, it established the first diploma school of nursing conducted within the general education system of the province.

The graduates will qualify to write registered nurses' examinations.

It is estimated that about 25 per cent of positions for nurses will require university trained personnel.

The commission makes no bones about the fact that it thinks trainee nurses were "being used" by the hospitals.

More time than is necessary is being spent by students caring for patients.

This, it feels, should be limited only to the experience on he wards necessary for adequate training.

"It will be necessary to separate as completely as possible the functions of nursing education from the hospital service program and place the control of the education program completely under the Director of the School of Nursing," said the report.

Groups everywhere vote same

Poll predicting computer seen

EDMONTON (CP) — A University of Alberta professor is experimenting with a computer programmed to predict election results.

The computer being used by Prof. Donald N. Thompson of the faculty of commerce will employ information on the voting behavior of various groups in the electorate.

The university says studies of voting behavior in Canada and the United States show that a wide range of factors, including age, sex, religion, ethnic background, income level, are related to how people mark their ballots.

For example, a voter described as "white - Caucasian - Protestant - upper income - rural" as a tool.

In his campaign position paper, Goldwater said:

"Our recognition of the Soviet Union has been greatly to its advantage. The possibility of withdrawing that recognition should be maintained as a bargaining device, as a lever that might be used at a moment most advantageous to the interests of the United States."

UNITED NATIONS

Goldwater made this statement on the United Nations in responding July 5 to an Associated Press questionnaire:

"I would, at the very least, issue a warning—in the following terms: For 19 years now, the Communists have held the UN in contempt. They have repeatedly undermined its operations and its principles. Should the Red Chinese now, in effect, shoot their way in, the charter would be all but a dead letter. In that event, the United States—in our own best interests, and for the good of the original UN idea—would be forced to undertake a serious reassessment of its basic commitments."

SUPPORTS UN

In his position paper, made public April 14, Goldwater said:

"I support, unconditionally, the purposes the United Nations was originally intended to serve — peace among nations, based on mutual tolerance, respect for the sovereign independence of all nations, and a common sense of justice."

"I believe the United States should make the fullest possible use of its membership in the UN as one means of achieving these goals... it is a useful forum."

In Belmont, Mass., June 13, 1962, Goldwater said he could see "no reason to continue our participation" in the United Nations. "The idea was wonderful but the world is not ready for it," he said.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE CANADIAN PRESS July 22, 1964...

Napoleon's forces won the Battle of the Pyramids against the Mamelukes in Egypt 166 years ago today—in 1798. His victory was soon soured, however, by the news that his fleet was defeated in the Battle of the Nile. While marching into Egypt, Napoleon had left his fleet in Aboukir Bay where Nelson destroyed it. Napoleon was eventually forced to leave his army in Egypt when he returned to France.

Diabetes increase with help of lush living habits

MAINTENANCE RESPONSIBILITY — Corporal Laurent Lessard, of Cowansville, who is responsible for the maintenance of the 22 vehicles of "A" company of 2nd bat-lion, Royal 22 Regiment, during the summer manoeuvres in Camp Gagetown, N.B.

TORONTO (CP) — Diabetes and its serious side disorders are on the increase with the help of lush living habits, the International Diabetes Federation was told repeatedly Tuesday.

The recurring message in reports to 3,000 delegates at the IDF's fifth triennial congress is that early detection of the disease—described by one doctor as an epidemic—is the key to curbing its ravaging effects on the heart, the kidneys and the eyes.

"Clinical and laboratory research indicates that the incidence of diabetes will rise as the world becomes more affluent," said Dr. W. J. Butterfield, professor of medicine at Guy's Hospital, London, England.

Questioning the emphasis on heredity as a cause of the pancreas gland disorder, Dr. Butterfield said everybody nowadays is a potential diabetic and over-eating coupled with lack of exercise may soon make one in 10 persons in affluent societies actual diabetics.

OTHER FACTORS

He was supported in part by Dr. A. G. Steinberg of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, whose studies in genetics indicate only the susceptibility to diabetes is inherited and environmental factors—including a rich diet—must be present for the disease to take hold among adults.

Dr. Kelly M. West, associate professor of medicine at the University of Oklahoma, reported on a five-country nutrition study which showed a high incidence of diabetes in communities where overweight was common. The incidence ranged from under one per cent of the adult population in underdeveloped areas of East Pakistan to over three per cent in South America and 13 per cent among Cherokee Indians of the United States.

With medicine now able to control once-fatal diabetes through insulin injections, anti-diabetic drugs or diet, clinical attention is shifting, to treatment of the complications of the disease, which can cause degeneration of blood circulation, kidney functions and eyesight.

While research concentrates on why and how these side-effects develop, specialists emphasize the importance of early detection of diabetes, even prediabetes, to stem the progress of complications before damage is permanent.

Work-out given by police dogs

GRANBY — A work-out by two trained police dogs was put on for members of the Granby police force recently at the Fire Station.

The demonstration was well worth watching, according to Police Chief Raymond Forand, who stated two trained dogs will be available to the Granby police at any time they are needed.

Another year as governor general

Vaniers to greet Queen

OTTAWA (CP) — The Queen will get a personal welcome from Canada's first French-Canadian governor-general, Georges P. Vanier, when she arrives in the fall.

Gen. Vanier, 76, whose five-year appointment was to have expired in September, has been granted a one-year extension, Prime Minister Pearson announced in the Commons Tuesday.

Immediately after the announcement, a Government House spokesman said that Gen. and Mme. Vanier are to greet the Queen and Prince Philip when the royal aircraft lands at Summerside, P.E.I. on Oct. 5.

The Queen is to officially open the new Fathers of Confederation Memorial Centre in Charlottetown the following day. The governor-general and his wife now are spending their summer vacation at Tadoussac, Que. and will return to Ottawa in early September. Both were reported to be very happy about the extension. Gen. Vanier, who was appointed in August, 1959, is not the first governor-general to have his term lengthened. Five others, including his predecessor, the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, were granted extensions.

Prime Minister Pearson told the Commons that the extension had been granted in recognition of Gen. Vanier's dedicated and distinguished service as the Queen's representative in Canada.

Leaders of the Opposition parties gave their unanimous warm-hearted approval of the extension, and paid glowing tributes to both Gen. Vanier and his wife.

MME. VANIER PRAISED

Mme. Vanier, who took over many of her husband's official duties when he suffered a mild heart attack in 1963, was warmly praised by Prime Minister Pearson who said: "One of the happiest aspects of the extension of the term of Gen. Vanier is that it will mean the continued presence in Rideau Hall of Mme. Vanier whose grace and charm and warmth have so endeared her to Canadians."

Gen. Vanier has fully recovered from the heart attack and is in excellent health, Government House sources said Tuesday.

A tall dignified man who had a distinguished career as a soldier and a diplomat before his appointment, Gen. Vanier lost his right leg above the knee during the First World War. Since then, he has used a black walnut cane to help him get around.

Promoted to full general by the Canadian Army last January, he is one of six Canadian soldiers who have held that rank.

He has also served as a delegate to the preparatory disarmament commission of the United Nations, secretary to the Canadian high commission in London, and as Canadian ambassador to France.

In June, the governor-general convened the Canadian Conference on the Family, the most detailed study of the problems of family life ever held in Canada.

The conference, initiated by Gen. Vanier with the active assistance of his wife, resulted in the establishment of a new Canadian research organization, the Vanier Institute of the Family.

Political journalist Tom Green dies at 74

Political journalist Tom Green dies at 74

OTTAWA (CP) — For nearly 40 years, whenever newspapermen in Ottawa have gathered, they have swapped stories with or about Tom Green.

They'll probably keep on telling them—but "Old Tom" won't be with them.

He died Tuesday of a heart attack at the age of 74 in the city where he was born and where, as a political journalist, he helped make the Parliamentary Press Gallery an institution.

At the time of his death he was correspondent for the Victoria (B.C.) Colonist and the Saint John (N.B.) Evening Times-Globe. Funeral services will be held Friday at Perpetual Help Roman Catholic Church here.

When he first appeared on the scene in 1925 as a staff writer in the press gallery for the Canadian Press, he was a graduate of law with a liking for politics and the people engaged in it.

Tom made friends then on both sides of the political fence, news contacts he developed and used daily during four Liberal and three Conservative regimes.

They exchanged stories about the rivalry between Mackenzie King and Arthur Meighen—the Liberal leader's defeat in 1926 and how he brought the Meighen government down not quite three months later.

For the next four years Tom Green reported the personalities and activities of the King government and the rise of Conservative R. B. Bennett.

TOOK CANDY FOR PM

Though personally he was by no means a follower of Bennett's total abstinence, he adapted himself to the traits of the 1930-35 prime minister and took boxes of rich chocolate to Bennett's office whenever he wanted an interview or a chat. Already he was dressing the part of the sober-minded parliamentary journalist—severe black suits and hats. He had climbed almost to the presidency of the press gallery but professional rivalries robbed him of that honor until 1950.

Tom scored a scoop when picking up the word of some of his newspaper cronies, he reported that King and president Franklin D. Roosevelt would hold a face-to-face meeting at Roosevelt's Campobello Island summer home, off the New Brunswick coast, in 1936.

The story had been cooked up by those cronies but—wonder of wonders—turned out to be true. King wondered how "the leak" had occurred, and the other reporters—editors wondered why their men had not filed it.

Later, as a sideline, he undertook to help the Senate get more newspaper attention for its debates. He had a special desk on the floor of the Senate just outside the brass rail dividing it from the public and wrote long and detailed reports of senators' speeches for circulation to other reporters. Some said he wrote many of the speeches, too.

When election time would roll around Tom was off to the campaign trails again. Last year, at the age of 73, he toured the Ottawa Valley with Liberal Leader Pearson, climbing on and off buses and trains stiffly, but with the spirit of the chase.

The Doctor Says

WATER, LIKE HIGHWAYS, CALLS FOR SAFETY STEPS
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
M. D.

As boating becomes more and more popular, boating accidents are becoming more common.

As with many other pursuits, the highest toll is among the newcomers who have not yet learned what the hazards are and how to avoid them. Even before you get your boat to the water, you must put it on a trailer and tow it behind your car. This calls for reduced speed, especially on curves and in a high wind. Otherwise, your trailer can literally pull you off the road.

Once on the water, consideration for others and common sense will go far toward increasing your safety and enjoyment. If you want all your friends to share your pleasure, take them aboard in relays. Overloading greatly increases chances of capsizing.

In any small craft avoid standing up or changing seats while the boat is in motion. If speed is your passion, don't buzz a dock or other boats, either anchored or moving. And keep a close lookout for swimmers and water skiers, who are the pedestrians of the water.

It is unsafe to jump or dive from a moving boat because you may hit a floating or submerged object or even hit the surface at an angle that will knock your breath out. For maximum safety insist that everyone aboard has a life jacket. Children should wear a life jacket at all times.

It is wise not to get too far from shore, especially in a small boat, because squalls often arise on very short notice. If your boat does capsize, stay with it. This will improve your chance of being seen and picked up. Besides, the shore may look closer than it is and even the best swimmers have trouble swimming any great distance in cold water, especially if it is rough.

Learn all the rules and obey them. Then, if you are not the seafaring type, have yourself a ball.

Q—My doctor prescribed Mellaril for me. What is it for? Is it habit forming?

A—Mellaril is a phenothiazine derivative that may be used as a tranquilizer. It is not considered habit-forming, but should be taken only under careful supervision by a physician.

Q—Our doctor has my husband taking Metamine. What does this do?

A—Metamine is a brand of trinitrophenol. It is given to prevent attacks of angina pectoris. It gives more prolonged action than nitroglycerin.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

At one time or another, almost every toddler comes down with a minor misery that requires stay-at-bed treatment. Big problem is how to keep a run-around happy in bed (when active amusements are denied him). Aside from favourite stay-put toys, TV or mother-stories, have you given thought to these cheer-uppers?

• An old purse, filled with little treasures, for the important business of putting in and taking out things.
• Crayons and a brown paper bag to pursue "artistic tendencies."
• A jolly game of "mum and patient" at sponge-bath time, followed by a surprise snack of a Gerber Fruit Juice.

Convalescent mealtime takes on special magic when you offer eye-opening trays. (Gerber Junior Foods are famous for appetizing colours). Appetites are encouraged mightily, too, when you serve the food your baby is fond of.

Have you treated your baby to Gerber Junior Vegetables and Chicken or Junior Vegetables and Beef, lately? These two delightful combination dishes are especially popular with the high-chair set.

Important memo from Gerber: "Improvement of processing methods to protect food values has always been a basic part of Gerber's continuing research program. Take Gerber Egg Yolks. Our technicians developed an exclusive method for processing egg yolks which reduces the cooking time. The happy result? Better preservation of food values than is possible with other methods—plus uniform consistency, improved colour and flavour." Gerber Baby Foods, Nutmeg Hill, Canada.

spoon Worcestershire sauce, 3 tablespoons ketchup, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon melted margarine. Spread the cheese mixture on 6 toast slices using about ¼ cup of the mixture for each. Lennoxville couple honored on 25th wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alex J. Fowler of Maple Avenue, Lennoxville were completely surprised on July 1, when many of their friends and relatives gathered at their home to honor them on their 25th wedding anniversary.

When the guests arrived, their son, Bruce, greeted them and presented his mother with a corsage of red roses, and his father with a boutonniere.

The evening was pleasantly spent, some guests playing cards, and others visiting with relatives and friends.

At the close of the evening lunch was served, which included a wedding cake made and decorated by Mrs. Clarence Pease, aunt of the bride of 25 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler were presented with many gifts from their relatives and friends to honor this occasion. Gifts included silver, cheques, other money and dishes, as well as many anniversary cards from friends far and near.

Mr. Fowler thanked everyone for the gifts and pleasant surprise, and Mrs. Fowler voiced her appreciation.

Relatives and friends present were from Richmond, Cleveland, Danville, Montreal and Lennoxville.

Jacques-Goyette wedding

SUTTON — The marriage of Elizabeth Ann Goyette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philias Goyette, of Sutton, to Mr. Jean Guy Jacques, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delphis Jacques, of Cowansville, took place on June 27, 1964, at 10 o'clock, in the St. Andre's Catholic Church, Sutton. Rev. Father Real Larue officiated. Mrs. Alfred Larouche, played the wedding music. Summer flowers were used to decorate the church. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of Chantilly lace over white satin, the skirt being fashioned with a small net tier bustle at the back, the fitted bodice having a scalloped neckline and long sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a tiara of sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Miss Lise Larive, as bridesmaid, wore a light blue satin dress, in street length. Her headdress was of summer flowers and she carried a bouquet of mixed summer flowers.

The groom's father acted as best man and the ushers were Messrs. Larry Goyette, brother of the bride and Arthur Jacques, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother, wore a dress of powder blue lace over satin, with matching three quarter length coat, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother was attired in a turquoise linen dress, with jacket, white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Hotel de L'Horizon, in Sutton, where the bride's table was centred with the three tier wedding cake. Candles and vases of summer flowers completed the decor. The wedding cake was made by the bride's mother and grandmother, Mrs. William Bergeron and decorated by Mrs. Roland Gibson.

Later the couple left for a trip to the Green Mountains, and other points of interest, the bride wearing for travelling, a pink lace over satin dress, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Guests attended from Hull, Ottawa, Richmond, Barton, Vt., Montreal, Cowansville, Foster, West Brome and Sutton. The couple will reside in Sutton.

New interest add zest

From the age of 30 on, too many women look for youth in a beauty shop instead of reaching out for new interests that will truly give them a permanent youth.

By 30, the great majority of women — especially housewives — settle for what they already know and for the interests they have at the moment. Life settles down to a routine of work and a little or a lot of social life, including club work, PTA, bridge, and so forth.

But it's all organized and most of it is sedentary. They play bridge, they listen to lectures, they join discussion groups. They go en masse to hear some woman who has read a book re-hash it for them.

But as for really pitching in and learning a new skill or pursuing some new hobby of their own, that is put off until there is more time. They never consider this as a possible way of getting a little zip into their lives.

What is it you have always regretted that you didn't know how to do? To ride a horse? To play the piano? To paint? To write? To really know something about gardening or interior decoration?

Why not start learning this year, even this week, rather than waiting until you get more time for yourself?

The average woman may look as young for her age as her husband. But chances are her mind isn't as young or her personality as many-sided, simply because as soon as she settled down as a homemaker she quit trying to add new, active interests to her life.

Break away from dull routine and explore new ideas and interests. Your personality will be enriched and you'll find new zest in living that will be reflected in your appearance.

Social and Personal

Richardson of Lennoxville, spent the weekend in the Berkshire Mountains, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearson of Hartford, Conn., at their summer residence in Brier, Mass., and while away they were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Pearson in Epsom, New Hampshire.

Mrs. James Sutherland of Montreal were weekend guests at the same home.

The ladies of the Lennoxville Golf Club will be holding a tea and bridge in the club room on Saturday, July 25, and the convener will be Miss Jacqueline Berard. Hostesses for the afternoon are: the Misses Lise Beauregard, Yvette Beauvilliers, Normand Bilodeau, Isabel Beggin, Mrs. Allen Giard and Mrs. Nil Bureau.

Polly's pointers

by Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY — Do you and the other girls have trouble hiding packages and surprise gifts from your children? If so, just put them in a pillow slip, pinned to a coat hanger and then cover the pillow slip with a coat or robe and hang in the clothes closet. The children will always look over or under the clothes. My secret is now out, so it may not work for me next time. My children read Polly, too.—MRS. L. S.

Thanks for sharing your good secret and perhaps the children will not see the paper today. Anyone so clever about hiding things can surely keep the paper out of their way this one day. But don't let them get the habit of passing it by. We love having a column that interests all the family.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I have a couple of hints for those who will be renting summer cottages. If the stove oven does not have a light on the inside, keep a flashlight handy for checking on your baking.

Those little metal telephone stands (they can be obtained with very few trading stamps) make excellent night stands. The two shelves will hold slippers, clock and so on and when leaving for home again can be very easily packed.—MRS. S. T. S.

DEAR POLLY — Make a number of holes in the bottom of galvanized garbage cans so the moisture drains out.—FRAN

GIRLS—This would be fine if the can stands on the ground. If it is on the garage or basement floor, put several thicknesses of newspaper under it or you may have cleaning up to do.—POLLY

MRS. H. A. DICKSON, OF COOKSHIRE

Indians win, Regional play-offs here Saturday

Henri Corbeil hurls two-hitter to edge Als 3-1 at Acton Vale, Granby dumps Coaticook 10-4, play Thursday

Sherbrooke Alouettes faced a tough man last night in their 3-1 loss to Acton Vale. Henri Corbeil, Acton's ace hurler, pitched a two-hitter to send the Beavers ahead in the standings, trailing one game behind Coaticook Canadians.

Coaticook also was surprised in their Provincial League tilt as Granby thrashed them 10-4 in their own park. The Canadians retain a hold on first place but the margin has been shortened somewhat.

Sherbrooke's next game will be at the local stadium Thursday evening when the Als will try to even things in their second game with Acton Vale. Game time is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

GAME UNDER PROTEST

Coach Jean-Pierre Roy was on his toes last night at Acton Vale when, in the fifth inning, the Beavers scored their second run during retarded play. It was at this point when Coach Roy protested the decision of the umpire.

Gilles Bernier, a newcomer to the local club, gave an excellent performance on the mound for the Als when he relieved Marcel Caron in the fifth inning. Both hurlers allowed not more than nine hits between them.

Henri Corbeil didn't give his teammates any offensive action as he allowed only two hits for the Als.

Jacques Monette and Claude St. Vincent were the two hitters for the Als, Monette connected for a double while St.

Vincent got a single. Ron Dickson and Steve Oleschuk shone for the home team in their 3-1 victory. Both players got two singles apiece and played exceptionally well in the field.

COATICOOK LOSES

Meanwhile in Coaticook, the Canadians suffered a severe beating at the hands of the Granby Knights. Granby took advantage of four errors to score as many runs in the tilt. Their three first runs in the beginning of the game were not merited as they were scored on Coaticook's miscues.

Claude Paquette got the thumb in the eighth inning, but this didn't stop him from picking up his victory. Jim Proulx relieved him in order to preserve the win. Ralph Lapointe used three hurlers in his attempts to overcome the great margin that the Knights made earlier in the game. Gaudreau and St. Onge were the great threats to Coaticook as the former blasted a homer as well as getting a single and St. Onge connected for a double and single.

Bruce Parker, Hill, George Huntingdon and John Knox did well for the losers, with their bats as well as being on their toes for the defensive part.

Yanks move into top spot while Orioles and White Sox drop two each, Red Sox dump Tigers 7-5

New York Yankees have a couple of new helpers — a catcher who lost his job and a guy who hasn't had one for 10 days.

The Yankees trimmed Washington Senators 7-1 Tuesday night and wound up on top of the American League when John Romano powered Cleveland Indians to a 4-2, 8-5 doubleheader sweep over Baltimore Orioles and Vic Power came through with the big hit in Los Angeles Angels' 2-0, 3-2 sweep over Chicago White Sox.

When Romano and Power, the returning vacationer, had completed their night's work, New York was in first place and the Orioles and White Sox were temporarily at least in the field.

That's where Romano was until his third homer of the evening triggered an eight-run Indian uprising in the eighth inning of the Cleveland-Baltimore nightcap.

The big inning sent the Orioles reeling into second place, five percentage points behind New York.

RETURNS TO ACTION

Power was back at first base in the White Sox-Angels second game after an enforced 10-day layoff—the result of a run-in with umpire Jim Honochick in Los Angeles.

He came up in the seventh inning with two outs and cracked a bases-loaded single off Gary Peters that brought the Angels from behind and pushed the Sox into third place, one-half game off the pace.

Boston Red Sox defeated Detroit Tigers 7-5 on Dick Stuart's three-run homer and Kansas City Athletics nipped Minnesota Twins 5-4 on Rocky Colavito's two-run double in other games.

Tom Tresh homered twice and doubled for the Yankees and Jim Bouton won his ninth game in 17 decisions with a four-hitter.

Tresh hit a solo homer in the second inning and connected again in the fourth with a man on. John Blanchard singled in two runs in the sixth and two more scored when Bouton's eighth-inning fly ball fell for a double.

Chuck Hinton's sixth-inning homer spoiled Bouton's shutout bid.

Romano caught the first game and drove in three runs with a pair of homers and a double. He went to the outfield in the nightcap and Joe Azcue took over behind the plate as the Indians stacked their batting order with righthand hitters against Baltimore southpaw Steve Barber.

Barber had a three-hit shutout until the eighth, when Romano led off with his 14th homer. Before the inning was over, Woodie Held had hit a three-run homer and Romano had driven in another run with a single.

John Powell had three hits in each game for the Orioles, including a first-game homer. The Angels' Bo Belinsky and reliever Bob Lee combined for a seven-hit shutout in the opener against Chicago. Felix Torres homered in the fourth inning and singled in the sixth, driving in both Los Angeles runs.

Jim Fregosi's first-inning homer in the nightcap gave the Angels a 1-0 lead but the White Sox came up with two runs on five hits in the bottom of the first.

Relievers Aubrey Gatewood and Bob Dilliba blanked the Sox the rest of the way and Power's hit, following a pair of walks and a single by Bob Rodgers, provided the victory margin.

Stuart's 24th homer snapped a 4-4 tie at Boston and upped his league-leading RBI total to 84.

Willemse wins Atlantic City marathon swim

WINS OCEAN SWIM FIFTH TIME — Herman Willemse, Utrecht, Holland, won the Atlantic City 26-mile ocean swim

for the fifth straight time yesterday. The 30-year-old Dutch school teacher was clocked in 10 hours, 8 minutes and 15 seconds, breaking his own 1960 record of 10:30:5.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (CP) — Herman Willemse more than triples his annual salary teaching school in Holland by winning the annual Atlantic City swim marathons.

The 30-year-old teacher from Utrecht, The Netherlands, where he earns the equivalent of $1,400 yearly wages, made his annual trip here Tuesday and left with $5,000—the fifth year in a row that he has picked up that sum for winning the gruelling swim.

Willemse broke his own record for the 26-mile race.

He plunged through the choppy but warm waters on the Atlantic Ocean side of Absecon Island—on which Atlantic City is built—and the inland bays to win by more than two miles from his nearest competitors, an Egyptian and a Canadian who waged a tremendous fight for the runnerup spot.

Abdel Latif Abou — Heif of Egypt won second place by just the flick of a wrist over Montreal's John LaCourse. Abou-Heif got $2,000 for second place and LaCourse received $1,000 third-place money.

Willemse's time of 10 hours, eight minutes and 15 seconds in this marathon topped by 22½ minutes the record he himself set in winning his first swim here in 1960.

GETS LOUD RECEPTION

To the cheers of hundreds of spectators and the hooting of pleasure-boat horns, the Dutchman crossed the finish at the Atlantic City Marina 25 minutes and eight seconds ahead of Abou-Heif, a major in the Egyptian Army.

Abou-Heif, who also finished second last year, was timed at 10:31:23 and LaCourse at 10:31:23.1.

Cliff Lumson, a 33-year-old New Toronto hydro-repairman who won this race in 1956 and 1959, was fourth and won $800. Since turning professional in 1946, Lumson has never finished out of the money.

Winner in the women's division was Mary (Marty) Sinn, a 21-year-old blonde from Ann Arbor, Mich. Her record-breaking time of 10:37:15 was worth $800 and she won an extra $200 for finishing seventh in the overall standings.

She broke the 11:07:25 mark for women set in 1959 by Grete Andersen of Los Alamitos, Calif., who was forced to withdraw early in Tuesday's race because of a kidney infection. Nineteen swimmers—15 men and four women—started the race. Ten men and two women finished.

The other money winners were George Mezzard, 26, Buenos Aires, $500 for fifth, Duccio Bojadj, Yugoslavia, $300 for sixth, and Hedy Schmidt, 21, of Toronto, who finished 12th but got $400 as the No. 2 woman.

Willemse said he now is looking forward to a quartet of marathon swims in Canada starting Aug. 1.

But he said "I am not looking forward to Lake Ontario." Last year at the 15-mile Canadian National Exhibition swim Willemse lost to Abou-Heif and Miss Sinn in chilly 49-degree water.

Lumson, asked if he planned to enter the Canadian marathons, including the Chicoutimi-Bagotville and Trois-Rivières swims said: "You're bloody right I am."

The other Canadians competing here Tuesday also indicated they would compete in most of the four swims.

Cubs nip Giants, Phillies win, Dodgers lose

Gaylord Perry hasn't broken a bat in nine days. But Billy Williams certainly took a calculated risk when he left his lying around.

Williams shoved temptation just 60 feet from Perry Tuesday night when he dropped his bat at home plate and trotted around the bases after banging a two-run homer that brought Chicago Cubs with the runs they needed to whip San Francisco Giants 2-1 Tuesday night.

Perry, however, remained calm. The 25-year-old San Francisco right-hander has kept his hands off enemy bats for two successive games now, but has been unable to do the same with the ball.

Since he smashed Nellie Fox's bat in a rage after losing to Houston Colts and was billed for the damage, Perry has been in two games and allowed five runs—all on homers.

Williams' homer, his 23rd, made the Cubs the latest entry in the National League pennant sweepstakes as they climbed over the .500 level with their fourth straight victory and eighth in 10 games, moving into contending position 7½ games off the pace.

The Giants have lost seven of their last nine games and are a game behind leading Philadelphia Phillies. The Phillies defeated Milwaukee Braves 6-3 for their fifth victory in the last 14 games.

Elsewhere, New York Mets dropped third-place Cincinnati by beating the Reds 4-2, Pittsburgh Pirates rode Jerry Lynch's grand slam homer to an 8-4 victory over St. Louis Cardinals and Houston edged Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 on Al Spangler's homer.

The Cubs struck in the fourth against Perry, now 7-7, when former Giant Joe Amalfitano doubled and Williams followed with his homer. That gave Bob Buhl his 12th victory against five losses although he needed relief help from Bobby Shantz and Don Elston.

Bobby Winer drove in two runs with a homer and single, Tony Taylor homered and rookie Richie Allen struck three hits as the Phillies slowed the Braves, who had won eight of 10 and 16 of their last 22.

Art Mahaffey, 9-4, started for Philadelphia but needed Jack Baldschun's relief help when the Braves loaded the bases with one out in eighth and the Phillies leading only 4-2. Baldschun got Hank Aaron to hit into a force play, then retired Joe Torre on a tap in front of the plate.

PROLONG STREAK

The Mets made it four straight victories over the Reds as Larry Elliot hit a bases-empty homer off Joey Jay, 4-8, in the second and walked before Jesse Gonder homered in the fourth.

The victory went to Bill Wakefield, who pitched 5 1/3 innings of two-hit relief after the Reds chased Tracy Stallard with two fourth-inning runs on a pair of walks and singles by Deron Johnson and Gordy Coleman.

QUEBEC (CP)—A coroner's jury Tuesday ruled accidental the death of three United States tourists who perished when their light plane crashed in the Quebec bush July 4.

The victims were Dr. Charles Taylor, 47, a Butler, N.J., school principal; Floyd Struble, 55, a West Milford, N.J., civil servant, and Hollis Card, 55, a painting contractor also from Butler. They were fishing companions.

A federal transport department inspector testified had visibility was almost certainly the cause of the crash of the plane.

Four Sherbrooke residents were injured yesterday afternoon about four miles from the Frontenac County village when the car in which they were passengers tipped over and rolled into a ditch.

The accident occurred at about 2:30 p.m. Two of the injured persons were taken to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital and hospitalized. They are Mrs. Emilien Rodrigue 42, of 931 King Street, West and her daughter Emilienne 20, of the same address.

Mrs. Rodrigue is suffering from a possible fracture of the left arm while her daughter received injuries to the front part of her body and bruises to her left side.

Both were reported to be in satisfactory condition this morning.

Two other persons injured but not hospitalized were Miss Nicole Rodrigue 21, another daughter, and the driver of the car, Pierre Desruisseaux of 411 Alexandre Street, Sherbrooke, police said.

According to an officer of the Magantic QPP the accident occurred when the driver of the car swerved to avoid an oncoming truck, hit a soft shoulder of gravel on the side of the road, tipped over and rolled into the ditch.

GENERAL NOTES

Mrs. Walter Dore, of Sherbrooke, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Farnsworth. Mrs. A. E. Tulk, of Montreal, visited Mr. and Mrs. K. Fraser.

MONTREAL (CP)—The Crown filed evidence Tuesday recalling Lucien J. Prevost, suspended income tax department employee, demanded $3,000 for a satisfactory assessment and was paid that amount by a chartered accountant acting for a taxpayer.

Other payments by accountants totalling $7,200 on behalf of six clients were mentioned in depositions which became part of the record at the preliminary hearing of 50-year-old Prevost, charged with accepting bribes totalling $109,000 from 1945 to 1964.

The depositions were taken earlier this month at an inquiry held under the Income Tax Act to investigate the career of the head of a section of 40 federal tax assessors.

Divinity student explains course

BEDFORD—At the eleven o'clock service at St. James Church on July 12, the rector, Rev. Kenneth Trickey was assisted by Mr. J. Rhinehart of the parish of St. Philip's, Montreal West.

Mr. Rhinehart is one of 50 men who are preparing for the ministry, while carrying on in the commercial world. By so doing, the student spends five years on a course, which, if able to attend the Diocesan College on a full course basis, would take three years.

In his address Mr. Rhinehart described the various aspects of the theological course. This division, formed in 1959, has proved most successful.

Bill 60 and English Quebec

In a speech recently, Wright W. Gibson, principal of Sherbrooke High School (Prot.) suggested that an agreement could be made with Marymount High School (R.C.) so that students of the former could take grade 12 at Marymount and Marymount students take advantage of the commercial course at Sherbrooke High.

From the Roman Catholic point of view, such projects, if not simply talk, would have been unthinkable a short time ago. But Bill 60 is increasing the lay content of the Roman Catholic educational hierarchy and, apparently, paving the road for greater communication between the two groups.

On a number of occasions, Mr. Gerin Lajoie has pointed out that school commissions will be given a greater autonomy than they had before.

Both Roman Catholic and Protestant educators look upon this as an attempt to allow, among other things, individual districts to decide whether they want such co-operation and if they do, to go ahead.

Weekend rally

Provincial zouaves "invade" Coaticook

COATICOOK—This town was "invaded" by a peaceful army on the weekend as close to 1,000 rifle-bearing, uniformed men, from all parts of the Province, descended on this community.

The visiting Zouaves, here for a two-day rally, set up their tent city on the spacious grounds of the Durand and Heures schools, and in spite of the severe lightning storm of early Sunday morning, July 19, and the torrential rain accompanying it, the visitors survived the ordeal and held open house on Sunday afternoon when a great many people visited the campsite.

Saturday morning Colonel A. Trudel, commanding the Quebec Provincial Regiment of Zouaves, officially opened the camp, presiding at the flag-raising ceremony. He then inspected the camp and the ranks of the men.

On Saturday afternoon a parade was held from the campground, along St. Paul, Child, Main, St. Jacques to St. Paul, pausing at the Town Hall to be welcomed by town officials and religious representatives.

A Mass for the visitors was held at St. Edmund Church at 5 p.m. the group then returning to their tents for supper.

On Saturday evening another parade was held, and a musical program was presented at the municipal stadium by the Coaticook Majorettes and a visiting bugle and drum corps, the New Sokoke Chiefs, from Gorham, N.H., in their colorful Indian costumes, and some of the visiting Zouave groups.

The parade in the evening passed along St. Paul, St. Jean Baptiste, Wellington and Main streets to the park. Arrangements had been made to hold the musical program in the Heures School auditorium in case of rain, but a warm, clear evening favored the outdoor presentation, the storm only beginning after the conclusion of the evening's event.

At 9 a.m., on Sunday the Zouaves paraded along St. Paul, St. Jacques, St. Edmund, St. J. Baptiste to the Heures School for a religious service for them alone.

From 1:30 p.m. onward, on Sunday afternoon, visitors were allowed to inspect the canvas city, and witness the precision drills of some of the groups, as well as to see the ceremony of presentation of long service decorations to several Zouave members and the awarding of promotions.

Flags were lowered and the camp dissolved at about five p.m. on Sunday afternoon. Company 5, of Coaticook, acted as the guard of honor during the encampment, keeping the curious away from the tents and equipment of the visitors, except during the open house period.

Drowning accidental

A verdict of accidental death by immersion was returned at a coroner's inquest held yesterday morning into the death of nine-year-old Denis Brunet of Sherbrooke who drowned last Thursday afternoon in Little Lake Brompton.

Denis was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean-Paul Brunet of 1212 Cherbourg Street, in Sherbrooke's West ward.

It was learned at the inquest that Young Denis did not dive into the lake but he had walked out into the water and apparently stepped off a drop-off and gone under.

The boy was asked before he was allowed in the lake if he could swim and he replied that he could. His father said at the inquest that his son was not an expert swimmer and that he had swum a number of times in the pool near his home and that was all.

over the power dams of Dominion Textile and the City of Magog situated on the river. For the resultant loss of power Sherbrooke will pay compensation to Dominion Textile and the City of Magog.

For Dominion Textile this cost will be six to seven hundred dollars per year. For Magog it will be a smaller amount.

Mr. Lemieux also said that the International Joint Commission, which sets limits on the lake level, had said in a letter that it had no objections, to the project.

One lakeside resident expressed fear that the water taken out would lower the lake level six to eight inches during the summer. There is very little overflow from the lake during the summer months, he said.

A one-foot drop in the water level may mean an extra three to six feet of beach, he said.

The low level of the lake has been blamed on the smaller amount of precipitation this year than last year.

The Lennoxville Experimental Farm reports four inches of precipitation less for the first half of this year than for last year.

Some 14.46 inches fell from January to July this year while 18.29 inches fell during the corresponding period last year.

camp dissolved at about five p.m. on Sunday afternoon. Company 5, of Coaticook, acted as the guard of honor during the encampment, keeping the curious away from the tents and equipment of the visitors, except during the open house period.

GRANBY — (Special) — The Granby Kiwanis Club met July 20 at the Granby Social Club on Elgin St. with president, J. McAulay.

This was an inter-club meeting with the Waterloo Club as the guests. The speaker for the meeting was Gian Khubchandani of B.O.P. and his title of his talk was Introduction to India. Being a native of that country his address proved to be most interesting to the many who attended. Kiwanian, Wm. Turnbull introduced him and Kiwanian T. B. Tait thanked the speaker.

It was announced by the president of the Kiwanis Club that the eye glasses campaign was doing well and that a shipment of 250 pairs had been sent to India and a second shipment was ready to be sent and that was to be 435 pairs. This campaign is in Co-operation with the Lions Club of Granby.

The clubs are still appealing to all who may have eye glasses or frames, to get in touch with any member of the Kiwanis Club or Lions Club and they will see that they are collected.
