City posties work while others strike

Sherbrooke postmaster Conrad Cayer said this morning there is no question of a postal carriers' strike in Sherbrooke. Although hundreds of postal workers, mainly letter carriers, went on strike today Mr. Cayer said the Sherbrooke carriers are following their union's orders. He said maybe all the carriers in Sherbrooke were not satisfied with their new contract but they have not discussed any strike. Between 700 and 1,100 workers, mainly letter carriers, staged wildcat strikes at nine cities Friday to protest implementation of the five-day delivery week and resulting changes in work procedures. Mr. Kierans said Friday he will seek authority from the public service staff relations board to prosecute strikers and their unions. Penalties for illegal strikes under new collective bargaining legislation run to $500 a day for unions and $100 for individuals. Roger Decarie, president of the 10,000-member Letter Carriers Union of Canada, had ordered carriers to stay on the job. They ignored him Friday and he issued a second call during the weekend. Mr. Decarie and William Houle, co-chairmen of the Council of Postal Unions, met leaders of most of the locals that were on strike here during the weekend. The union leaders also met post office department officials. Asked the results, Mr. Decarie said a news conference Sunday: "It didn't settle anything. We put some suggestions to the department and didn't get any answers." Meanwhile, leaders of the Montreal carriers local unanimously approved a resolution threatening a strike by their 2,000 members if union leaders elsewhere are prosecuted for their walkouts. Vancouver letter carriers decided Sunday night to walk off their jobs if any post office employee is suspended for not complying with the new straight-through delivery system. Friday's wildcat action came at cities from Hamilton west to Saskatoon. Winnipeg was the city hardest hit. At some points, members of the Canadian Union of Postal Workers refused to cross picket lines. Trouble was brewing even before the department introduced its day-shorter delivery week Feb. 17. To gain full financial savings from this move, the number of carriers was allowed to decrease and those on the job were ordered to pick up their full day's mail load in the mornings instead of twice daily. The department suggests carriers eat and wash up on their routes and go directly home when their deliveries are completed.

Egypt prepares for funeral

After two days of heavy shelling, the Suez Canal was reported quiet again today. Egypt prepared a hero's funeral for its army chief of staff, Gen. Abdel Moneim Riad, who was killed by an Israeli shell Sunday. "They are burying their general at noon, so we don't expect trouble today," an Israeli military source said. United Nations observers blamed Egypt for the start of the artillery duel Saturday. They reported to UN headquarters that they observed the Egyptians firing from one to 32 minutes before the Israelis opened up along the blocked waterway. Israeli shells hit Egypt's oil refinery at Suez for the fourth time since the 1967 war, and the Israelis said a petrochemical plant and oil storage tanks were still burning today. Egypt said three tanks were set afire. Israel said one of its Piper Cub was shot down, three Israelis including the pilot were killed and 14 were wounded. Egypt claimed at least 100 Israelis were killed or wounded, three planes shot down and 31 tanks destroyed. REPORTS THREE KILLED. Egypt said three of its men were killed and 13 wounded and it lost a MiG jet. Israel said the MiG pilot was captured. Egypt also claimed its forces brought down an Israeli Mystere jet, but Israel denied this.

Heart transplant man is in critical shape

MONTREAL (CP) — Gerald Levesque, the only survivor out of nine patients who received heart transplants at the Montreal Heart Institute—was unconscious, partially paralysed and in critical condition, doctors said Sunday. Mr. Levesque, from Grande Anse, N.B., suffered a cerebral thrombosis Saturday and the left side of his body was paralysed. Doctors at the institute said last Tuesday that Mr. Levesque had responded well to treatment for a pulmonary infection. Mr. Levesque received his replacement heart Nov. 29. Of 14 heart transplants to date in Canada, three still are recovering well. They are: John Parkinson, 58, who received a heart at Montreal's Royal Victoria Hospital, Pietro Ongaro, 42, operated on Oct. 19 in Toronto; and Charles Johnston, 54, who received a heart Nov. 17 in Toronto. The last transplant patient to die at the institute was Rosaire Brien, 58, of infection and rejection in January. He had his operation Sept. 30 and had become the longest living heart transplant patient after the death Nov. 30 of Gaetan Paris. Mr. Paris, 49, died of asphyxiation five months after his operation June 28.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said Riad had flown by helicopter to Ismailia Sunday and was observing the artillery duel with a group of officers when the shell landed close to him. Others in the group were only slightly injured, but the 50-year-old general died shortly after he was taken to hospital. Riad was Egypt's second-ranking soldier after the defence minister, Gen. Mohammed Fawzi. President Nasser posthumously awarded him Egypt's highest military decoration, the Star of Honor.

China says Reds started clash

TOKYO (AP) — China charged today that the Soviet Union provoked the Manchurian border clash March 2 to divert the attention of Russians who are massing for a "revolution" against "Soviet fascist rule." Some Western analysts have suggested that Peking provoked the bloody fight for a similar reason—to make the Chinese forget internal dissensions and rally behind Mao Tse-tung by raising the spectre of a "Soviet threat." Bolstering this view was an announcement from Peking Sunday that Red Chinese militiamen and peasants are patrolling with frontier guards "in preparedness for war." Even Chinese peasants who carry manure to the fields consider it "a counter-attack against the Soviet revisionists," the broadcast said. Press reports in Hong Kong and London said Peking has put 5,000,000 men on an armed alert. The official Chinese announcement gave no exact figures. BLAME EACH OTHER. Each side has accused the other of starting the March 2 battle on a disputed island in the Ussuri River, which separates the Soviet Far East and Manchuria. Moscow said 31 of its soldiers were killed and 14 were wounded. China has not released casualty figures. The official New China news agency played up Soviet internal strife, saying the Kremlin was beset with trouble because it has "imposed Fascist rule and restored capitalism" in the Soviet Union.

It said Mao is asking his people to "remain firm in the conviction that the masses of the Soviet people and of party members and cadres are good, that they desire revolution and that revisionist rule will not last long."

Quebec constitutional assembly is urged

MONTREAL (CP) — The Estates General of French Canada called Sunday for creation of a constitutional assembly for Quebec and recommended that it formulate a republican constitution in a unilingual Quebec. Other principal provisions of the resolution outlining the kind of constitution the province should have were: —An affirmation of the province's right to self-determination; —A human-rights charter proclaiming French the sole official language of Quebec as well as protecting basic liberties; —An affirmation of the province's right to control foreign policy and defence and conclude treaties with foreign powers; —An affirmation of exclusive rights for the province in the field of radio communications by satellite or other means. SPLIT ON VOTING. Voting on resolutions Sunday, last day of the Estates General four-day convention attended by 1,378 delegates from across Canada, revealed a split between delegates from Ontario and the West and delegates from Quebec and the Maritimes provinces. Quebec and Maritime delegates joined in the appeal for a constitutional assembly, while those from Ontario and the West either abstained from the

Gold talk

Bankers decide no emergency

Western Europe's central bankers decided Sunday the French franc's troubles did not constitute an emergency requiring international action but the price of gold continued to rise today on Europe's free markets. Bullion was selling at $43.75 U.S. an ounce in London, 25 cents over Friday's price. Dealers said the demand was normal and the turnover small, indicating the upward movement was caused by the absence of sellers at the lower levels. On London's foreign exchange market the pound opened a little better—at $2.3908 compared to Friday's $2.3895. But the franc, which pulled sterling down last week, was still shaky. In Zurich, the price of gold jumped from $43.40-$43.60 to $43.75-$44, hitting a record high for the second time in four days. One bullion dealer said there was "demand from almost everywhere," but a banker said the buying "did not appear to be really hectic." CAN MEET FLOW. After their regular monthly meeting in Basel, Switzerland, several of the bankers said the French government has enough gold to cope with the current flow of money beyond its borders. They also said France has not asked for help under emergency arrangements the bankers made last month to help countries with money troubles. However, the present uncertainty about the franc will not be resolved until the French government and the country's labor unions settle their differences over wages. The unions have called a 24-hour general strike Tuesday. The unions are seeking a 12-per-cent wage increase. The government is resisting such a large boost would make French exports so expensive the value of the franc would have to be lowered so French business could compete in international markets. Devaluation of the franc might force Britain and the United States to cut the value of their currencies. But in a more serious money crisis last fall President de Gaulle refused to devalue. HINGES ON STRIKES. Unless the labor situation deteriorates to the point of an extended general strike, as it did last May, there is no reason to believe de Gaulle will consider devaluation. Anticipation of devaluation cost French national reserves $89,700,000 in February as Frenchmen bought other currencies abroad for safety. The losses of gold and foreign currency were reported accelerating this month, but the de Gaulle government still has billions to draw on, including a special fund set up by the central bankers last fall. It hasn't been touched. A record-breaking rise in the price of gold on the free market last week started devaluation speculation. The central bankers said Sunday the significance of the gold rush was exaggerated by the newspapers. The market price for gold went up to $48.31 an ounce in Paris Friday.

ADVISOR GOVERNMENT

The Estates General of French Canada is modeled on the Estates General established in France in 1302 to advise the government on various problems, especially those relating to the constitution. The Canadian version is made up of French-Canadian delegates elected by such groups as school boards, nationalist societies, trade unions and chambers of commerce. Ontario and Western delegates rejected all resolutions coming out of the political workshops, while Manitoba delegates abstained as a block from voting on questions relating to Quebec alone. About two-thirds of Ontario's delegates also consistently refrained from voting on these questions. Voting was compiled separately for Quebec, Ontario, the Maritime provinces and the Western provinces. A two-thirds majority was necessary for adoption of a resolution. With a call made for convocation of a constitutional assembly, the Estates General was dissolved, but delegates were told it would be reconvened in two years if the Quebec government had not called the constitutional assembly by then. Aside from resolutions on the constitution and the constitutional assembly, political resolutions were adopted calling for: —Exclusive Quebec jurisdiction over administration of justice and establishment of supreme courts on all matters of Quebec jurisdiction with no further appeal to federal courts; —Establishment of Quebec courts to deal with regional labor questions, commerce and SUMMERSIDE, P.E.I. (CP) — It appears that seal hunters in the Northumberland Strait — Gulf of St. Lawrence area will not reach the government-set quota of 50,000 young seal pelts this year. A fisheries department spokesman reported late Sunday that ships were starting to leave the western Northumberland Strait off this Prince Edward Island community for sealing grounds known as the Front, off Labrador.

Astronauts dream of home

HOUSTON (AP) — The Apollo 9 astronauts, drifting to conserve fuel and dreaming of home, sped today into the final three days of their 10-day space mission. James McDivitt, David Scott and Russell Schweickart had another light schedule of picture taking, navigation checks and resting. The major flight plan event was a firing of the main space-ship engine to jockey the craft into a more favorable path for scheduled splashdown Thursday. The astronauts have completed 97 per cent of their flight objectives. The crucial lunar module—LEM—checkout, Schweickart's space walk and the rendezvous of the LEM and mother ship occurred in the first five days. They are remaining aloft to prove the reliability of the Apollo mother ship for 10 days, the longest period planned at present for man-to-the-moon missions. As Apollo 9 circled overhead, there was a slight delay in preparations for the next step in the moon object. Movement of the Saturn V rocket and space-ship for Apollo 10 to a Cape Kennedy launch pad, scheduled today, was postponed 24 hours before of a poor fitting cover that protects the craft during launch—viewed as a minor problem. ORBIT MAY MOON. Apollo 10, commanded by Col. Thomas Stafford, is scheduled to orbit the moon with a lunar module in May—paving the way for a landing by two members of the Apollo 11 crew in July. McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart were told by mission control not to do any unnecessary manoeuvring with their control jets because they were slightly low on fuel. "We're budgeting them at 30 pounds a day," reported flight director Eugene Kranz. We're running a little behind because of two areas. We used about 50 pounds more than anticipated on the original transposition and docking with the LEM. In addition, we used significantly more on the command module during the rendezvous than we anticipated. "So we're starting to watch the red line (danger line) on the propellants." Kranz said he wanted to be sure Apollo 9 had enough jet power to perform a backup manoeuvre in case the main space-ship engine failed when it is time to come home.

BOB THOMAS

The movie column

NEW YORK (AP) — Darryl F. Zanuck, who runs a movie empire from a hotel suite, paused to discuss matters as restaging the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, and how to photograph Portnoy's Complaint.

The onetime boy wonder has been slowed somewhat by a broken ankle, but he still sets the fastest pace among film companies. He has led 20th Century-Fox through the shoals of bankruptcy and into a period of prosperity. At 66, he shows no inclination to slow down. Nor to share his company with a conglomerate.

"We have no plans whatever to change our corporate setup," he said, commenting on rumors of a takeover by a larger firm. "Our stock has been jumping all over the place, and a hundred people have a hundred ideas as to why. I honestly don't know."

"I've taken the position that I prefer to go it alone, as I've always done."

SON HELPS HIM

Meanwhile, he continues directing the worldwide operations of 20th Century-Fox, in concert with son Richard who is in charge of the Hollywood studio. Their biggest operation at the moment is the Pearl Harbor epic, Tora! Tora! Tora!

"There are two second units working magnificently, one in Hawaii and one in northern Japan," said Zanuck. "Both are behind schedule, but that was to be expected. The shooting in the Kuriles (islands north of Japan) has been especially difficult. They have been working with a battleship and a carrier which we had built, and we wanted bad weather to illustrate how the Japanese fleet refuelled in heavy seas. But they have been getting real gales of winter."

HUGE FILM COSTS

Zanuck said the film has been budgeted at $19,000,000 and would probably cost "$20,000,000 or over." He restaged the invasion of Normandy on D-Day for $8,500,000. The film, The Longest Day, is being re-released this spring.

Zanuck set aside a copy of Phillip Roth's Portnoy's Complaint which he had been reading. He had been chortling over it; part of his glee may have been the satisfaction of snapping up the film rights to a best seller.

CAN'T BE FILMED?

Possibly in a sour-grapes mood, Zanuck's competitors have pooh-poohed the purchase. They reason that Portnoy will be impossible to film with any real accuracy because of some of the sex episodes.

"That doesn't bother me at all," said Zanuck. "I could outline that script in an hour in a way that would not offend people."

"There is no need to show everything; you can accomplish a great deal by implication. Portnoy's Complaint is a riotous comedy; it has great humanity. It has a great American quality, and you don't have to be Jewish to appreciate it. Roth was so right in his thinking that anybody can see a part of himself in the book, whether he's Protestant, Catholic or Jew."

February snowfall one of heaviest

The 38 inches of snowfall for February as reported by the Lennoxville Experimental Farm, was well above last year's February mark and 12 inches above the February average in the last 55 years.

In February the average temperature was 19 degrees, 10 above last year's mark. The average high was 28 and the average low was 10. The extremes of the month were 44 degrees above on Feb. 23 and 10 below on Feb. 17.

There were 102 hours of sunshine during the month which is above average but well below last year's total of 133.

There was no rainfall during February but 32.8 inches of snow fell, 11.5 inches on Feb. 25 alone.

Total precipitation for the month was 2.49 inches. Last year precipitation total for February was 1.88 inches and the highest total of 5.67 inches was registered in 1935. In 1921 the lowest total in 55 years was 1.40 inches.

The 28 inches of snow left on the ground at the end of the month was the biggest base in at least five years. The low was reached in 1964 when all but four inches had melted by the end of February.

No rain fell in February while last year .55 inches of the wet stuff was recorded. It was the 12th time in 55 years that no rainfall has been recorded and the other extreme was in 1961 when 2.36 inches fell causing some of the worst ice storms in Quebec history.

Danville

DANVILLE — The first Danville Brownie Pack and its leaders, Mrs. Kenneth Frost, Brown Owl and Mrs. Gordon Statton, Tawny Owl were hostesses to the mothers and other interested friends at their meeting on Feb. 25, when a special program was prepared in observance of Thinking Day.

The Sixes assembled in their corners and attendance was marked and the small Brownies were inspected, emphasis being on neatness and proper wearing of their uniform. The Sixes each did their traditional dance and sang the song of their Six around the Toastodol, and then deposited their Fairy Gold in the Gold Chest which had been placed under the Toastodol.

The District Commissioner, Mrs. Edith Boyd of Asbestos was welcomed and entered through an arch formed by the Guides to be greeted by two small Brownies, Susan Cook and Louise Statton, who lead her to the centre of the Fairy Ring, where she was accorded the Grand Howl.

After the formal opening two Tweenies, Jolene Stalker and Debra Wilson, were officially enrolled as Brownies and welcomed into their respective Sixes.

The program for the afternoon was then presented, the Guide Flag with the golden trefoil representing the sun shining on the blue sky, depicted by the flag's background of blue, which shines over Brownies and Guides all over the world. The two stars in the Trefoil are there to remind us of the Promise and the Law while the centre vein is symbolic of the compass to keep us on the right course, while the base reminds us of the Flame of the Love of Mankind. This flag, proudly held by Brownies Sandra Bennett and Connie George formed a background for the other Brownies who listened to Tawny Owl read the story of How Lord Baden-Powell conceived the idea of Boy Scouts, and later added the Guides and Brownies to this wonderful organization.

With a large silver taper to represent Lord Baden-Powell, candles were lighted from this giant candle, symbolic of the various countries of the world where Brownie Packs are now active. The children delighted the guests with several selections of action songs, and then did some of their dances, after which the long table was drawn out to the centre of the room, and tea was served to the guests while the children enjoyed Kool-Aid.

A large birthday cake covered with brown icing and edged with yellow was decorated with the Toastodol, complete with the Brown Owl and small fairies at the edges. Lighted birthday candles completed the decor, and all admired the handwork of the Brown Owl, Mrs. Frost, who had made it for this occasion. This was cut and served by Mrs. Frost, and then the official closing was held, bringing to a close a very enjoyable afternoon.

The annual Parade of Scouts, Cubs and Brownies was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Feb. 23.

The Color Party, consisting of Wm. Currie and Mark Livingstone for the Scouts and Philip Livingstone for the Cubs, followed the Parade into the church and then proceeded to the front, where the flags were received by Mr. Robert Fournier, the minister, and placed there for the service.

The Lessons for the morning were read by Allan Stevens and Paul Hawkins. Taking as his text the Parable of Jesus healing the lame man, Mr. Fournier spoke of these friends who had lowered him through the roof-top of the house as being Scouts and doing a good turn. A skillful blending of the old with the new made a tremendous impression on those present, and would give them a new pride of achievement in performing their duties in their various groups. It was a very realistic reminder of their vow to do their duty to God.

Leaders present for the Scouts were Messrs. John Morrill and Fred Frost, with Mr. Arnold Johnston in charge of the Cubs and Mrs. Kenneth Frost and Mrs. Gordon Statton with the Brownie Pack.

About television

NEW YORK (AP) — By a coincidence, crank telephone calls have been important plot elements in two police-action stories this week.

Tuesday night, it was Lieutenant Haines' wife in N.Y.P.D. who was being harassed by strange calls. On Thursday night's Ironside, it was another of the chief's old friends, a beautiful widow with lots of money and a beastly brother. Lieut. Haines immediately put two of his best detectives to work in an effort to find the tormentor. Chief Ironside and his aides dropped everything else to uncover a plot.

It may be that it works that way if one has special contacts with police departments. But in real life, when that sort of thing happens, the victim finally decides the best way out is to change to an unlisted telephone number. That usually works since in real life the caller is usually someone who has picked a name and a number from a directory—rarely is it the deliberate kick-off point leading to some foul deed.

Richmond Hill W.I. meet

RICHMOND HILL — The February meeting of the Women's Institute, postponed from the regular date because of closed roads was held at the home of Mrs. J. Mason. One guest was welcomed. The roll call was answered by handing in a hand-made article, which was later sold yielding $8.25 for welfare and health fund.

The minutes and correspondence of thank-you notes were read. Several get well cards and a sunshine basket are to be sent out.

The monthly donations by Mrs. A. Wallace and Mrs. S. Smith yielded $4.15. A braided mat donated by Mrs. Wallace will be sold at a later date. March donations are by Mrs. L. Taylor and Mrs. R. Sloane. The March meeting will be an open one at the home of Mrs. E. Smith on March 4. Members bring refreshments.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. J. Mason assisted by Elaine Mason and Mrs. Farant.

FEAR COPYING

Any family receiving a flurry of strange telephone calls is likely to become at the least nervous. Since in both TV stories the women reacted with frantic fear to the calls, the idea might serve to stimulate cruel jokers or deranged persons to copy it.

From time to time television has been accused, among other things, of providing "blueprints of crime" in its police and private eye series. Sharp details nowadays are frequently blurred a bit but most of us know about the fingerprints and getaway cars.

It takes a Thief and Mission: Impossible are two shows in which all sorts of criminal techniques are used but all in a worthy cause and nobody could possibly copy them.

It doesn't take much skill, however, to pick up a phone and proceed to scare the daylight out of the person on the other end of the line.

LA holds meeting

EAST ANGUS — The February meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the St. Francis Branch 25 Royal Canadian Legion was held in the Legion Hall with 10 members present.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. L. Dolbec replacing the secretary, Mrs. E. Dumont, who was absent. Plans were discussed for the annual card party to be held in Legion Hall on Mar. 19. The sick and finance committee gave their report. A gift was to be sent to a member, Mrs. Lorraine Campagna who has moved to London, Ont.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ruby Buttermar and Mrs. Ruby Blanche.

Two men seek vacant city seat as others possible but undecided

Two men have announced they will contest the Sherbrooke Centre Ward aldermanic seat in the elections March 26.

Lucien Bedard, a forestry engineer in charge of the Sherbrooke office of the Eastern Townships Foresters Association, and Gontran Guillemette, a businessman with interests in many Sherbrooke organizations, have not yet officially entered their nominations at City Hall.

However, city clerk Henri Paul Emond said this morning Mr. Bedard has the papers necessary to enter his nomination. All nominations must be entered by March 19.

The election is to fill the seat left vacant by Amedee Roy who was killed in a car accident two weeks ago today.

Paul Nadeau, a Sherbrooke businessman and president of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, told the Record this morning a group of people are supporting Mr. Guillemette, past president of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce.

He said this group is sending letters to people asking for their support in Mr. Guillemette's campaign.

Mr. Guillemette said he has received many requests to run for the aldermanic seat and it is only after serious consideration that he has decided to contest the seat.

Raymond Bergeron, another businessman, has also been mentioned as a possible candidate by voters who say they will support him. However, Mr. Bergeron is presently vacationing outside Canada and is not yet officially in the running.

The Civic Action League is planning to enter a candidate in the election but has not yet named one.

The two juveniles were informed by Social Welfare Court Judge Bernard Legare of the charges which will be brought against them but they were not arraigned because of the absence of their parents. Court officials say the case will probably be referred to Court of Sessions.

The three youths charged were found criminally responsible Thursday by a coroner's jury for the death of Mr. Dubois.

Lupien had recently been released from a mental institution and was carrying a fake revolver which could only fire blanks, the detective said.

Saved life through first aid, Bell employee receives award

A Sherbrooke Bell Telephone Senior Women's first aid team and a Bell employee, who successfully administered first aid to an accident victim in 1968 were among the award recipients at Bell Canada's Eastern Zone First Aid Awards Dinner Friday night at Le Baron motel.

The women's team beat Bell teams from the district composed of Quebec Province, except for metropolitan Montreal. Each year, in cooperation with St. John Ambulance, Bell Canada offers first aid courses to its employees and competitions are held. Over 2,300 Quebec employees spent up to 300 hours this year taking the lessons.

J. A. Foley of Sherbrooke was one of four Bell employees who received citations for saving a life by first aid administration during 1968.

Louise Corbell, Rachel Bernier, Danyele Bolduc, Irene Ouellet, Mrs. Therese Bergeron and Mrs. Jeanine Dorion were the six Sherbrooke women on the Senior First Aid winning team.

In other categories, a Sorel team won the men's senior award and Chicoutimi won the women's beginners. Saint Agathe won the men's beginners trophy.

Bell Canada has, in cooperation with the St. John's Ambulance, trained over 130,000 employees in first aid methods since 1922.

Citizens' aid sought for police work

Sherbrooke Mayor Armand Nadeau has kicked off Obey the Law Week and thrown his weight behind the campaign sponsored by the Optimist Club and international police departments.

Mayor Nadeau said much of the blame for the current rise in crime could be laid against citizens who refuse to help their police department.

This week, from March 9 to 16, will be dedicated to three basic goals. The campaign wants to combat public apathy towards crime and rekindle to proper respect for the law. It wants to encourage the public to participate in keeping the law in ways such as serving on juries and appearing as witnesses in trials.

During the week the campaign will try to better acquaint the public with the duties and needs of the law-men and to recognize and honor unusual services of citizens and policemen.

The program was developed with help of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, The Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the United States.

Claude Beaurivage, campaign president, said, "the program will attempt to make citizens aware of their responsibilities and solicit their involvement in combating crime and in respecting the law and the officers who enforce it."

Armand Bernier, president of the Optimist Club, said he thought the campaign would be successful in arousing citizens to the need for helping the police. He said people who before never paid attention to crime are seeing it now as a danger economically to themselves.

OBEY LAWS — Mayor Armand Nadeau endorsed the aims of the "Obey the Law Week" which runs from March 9 to March 16. The program sponsored by the Optimist Club, the International Association of Chiefs of Police, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the United States, is to encourage citizens and police to work closer together in fighting crime. Left to right are, Claude Beaurivage, Sher-

Premier Bertrand opens way for party meeting

With Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand making it abundantly clear that he intends to fight for the permanent leadership of the Union Nationale party, the people of this province will hope that the party executives call the much-heralded leadership convention as soon as possible.

For over two years — ever since the Union Nationale staged its razor-thin victory in the 1966 elections — Quebec has been wallowing in a political morass resulting from the narrow government majority and internal divisions between the moderates and the radical nationalists within its ranks, conditions which have been aggravated by the death of Daniel Johnson and the uncertainty surrounding the position of Premier Bertrand himself.

The province has suffered from lack of determined leadership so necessary at the present time, with most of the Premier's time and effort being spent on ironing out the internal divisions rather than on presenting those policies needed to meet the fiscal, economic and educational problems.

By calling an early leadership convention, the Union Nationale will clear the way for a showdown which would permit the new chief to speak with a plain voice.

He could present programs offering definite solutions for the difficulties existing within the province and in his dealings with the federal authorities and the governments of the other provinces he would speak with determination as a permanent leader.

The difference between laziness and a relaxed attitude toward life is in who's doing the loafing.

Shameful road record

It took some doing, but the North American motorists have done it again — topped all records in automobile accidents in 1968, in both monetary and human terms.

The economic cost of automobile accidents in the United States and Canada last year soared to a little short of 16 billion dollars, reports the Insurance Information Institute. This was 14 per cent above the 1967 level when the previous record was established and represented an economic loss averaging $285 for every family in the two countries.

There were more than 61,000 traffic deaths in 1968, the most ever recorded for any year and 4.5 per cent above the total of 58,500 registered in 1967.

The number of persons injured is estimated at somewhat over five million, another all-time high, and almost 15 per cent above the 1967 figure of 4.65 million.

Considering the life our pooch leads, going to the dogs presents some definite allurements.

Sharp was quiet as university crisis loomed

OTTAWA OFFBEAT

OTTAWA — Twelve days before the $2,000,000 rampage of student "protest" destruction at Montreal Sir George Williams University, External Affairs Minister Sharp had clear warning in Parliament of the peril of exploding violence.

He chose to ignore it. Then 11 days before the university's computers were put to the axe and torch, he again was alerted to the growing danger.

And again — difficult though it was to do and unconvincing when he tried it — he brushed it off for the second successive day.

The proof is in Hansard — pages 4936 of the parliamentary record of January 30 and 4990 of January 31.

The riot ripped the university February 11.

This is the record from Hansard:

"Mr. Wallace B. Nesbitt, Cons. Oxford: I should like to ask the External Affairs Minister whether the government is giving consideration to the curtailment of grants to foreign students attending Canadian universities under government auspices who engage in activities involving breaches of the peace, bloodshed and other acts of disorder."

(Mr. Sharp simply sat there, not answering until Mr. Speaker Lamoureux came to his embarrassed rescue by ruling the question out of order.)

SURPRISE SURPRISE

"Mr. Nesbitt: I might add that I have reference to the unfortunate events which took place this morning at Sir George Williams University." (It was the student occupation of the computer department.)

(Again Mr. Sharp said nothing.)

Came January 31 — still 11 days before the lid blew off — and Mr. Nesbitt tried again.

"Yesterday I posed a question to the External Affairs Minister concerning foreign students who are here under our aid programs. I am wondering whether the Minister now is in a position to answer. Apparently I took him by surprise."

"External Affairs Minister Sharp: I am still caught by surprise. I did not intend to be here today."

(It was not one of his days in the Commons according to the "roster" Prime Minister Trudeau has set down for his cabinet requiring them to attend only three of any week's five sessions.)

Moments later, outside the Commons, Mr. Sharp was asked the question again and protested that he hadn't been able to find it in the previous day's Hansard.

It was pointed out to him on page 4936 of the January 30 edition.

He shrugged and said something about going to the men's room.

Came the rampage nearly two weeks later and the Montreal riot squad made 97 arrests, 42 of them Negroes, 24 of these students from the Caribbean. There were three other "non-Canadians."

When all the identities were sorted out and established, it was determined, Mr. Sharp's foreign aid office says, that only one of them was on Canadian government education grants.

It came as "a happy surprise," as the foreign aid office glowed in some relief — but it had little, if anything to do with the warning of violence Mr. Sharp had been given in Parliament and ignored.

GETTING TOUGH

And it had even less to do with the actual cost of foreign students in Canadian universities, Mr. Nesbitt has protested — and this because, apart from grants, Dr. Leslie Lord, a member of the faculty of McGill University and himself a Negro, publicly has announced that the bill of Canadian taxpayers for each foreign student runs an annual $3,500, a figure since confirmed by the government.

What further irritates Wallace Nesbitt and a great many other parliamentarians, is that these foreign students at Sir George Williams University were occupying space and getting an education denied sons and daughters of a matching number of Canadian taxpayers who are helping to pay the bill.

Reason: Lack of sufficient accommodation for all student needs. Mr. Nesbitt and scores of other MPs contend that charity begins at home — especially when at least some of those Canadian students who found no space available on the campus were willing to pay their own way.

Now, 30 days after Mr. Nesbitt's initial warning to Mitchell Sharp of threatening criminal acts "bloodshed and disorder" at Sir George Williams University, Prime Minister Trudeau has promised Parliament that the government will crack down if foreign student radicals continue entering Canada "for seditious purposes."

If Mitchell Sharp had listened to the Nesbitt warning, and in answering his concerned questions or in a strong statement had made it clear the government would not tolerate multi-million dollar student riots by foreign or any other students, things might have turned out differently at rampage-ravaged Sir George Williams.

Mitchell Sharp scarcely can excuse his unconcern by pretending he hadn't been aware that student anarchists had made their intentions clear on many a campus across the nation.

Still here

Question is, who will pay the bill?

The National economic accounts remain to be settled in France after last summer's violence. The question has been who'll pay the bill, and how much.

The current tension in Paris and the provinces appears to be the inevitable harsh confrontation among French pressure groups — government, employers, workers and those armies of embattled small shopkeepers — to find out who is to bear the brunt of the payment.

The confrontation has already been felt abroad. The price of gold in free — market trading pushes to record levels every day at London, Zurich and other market centres. Within the knitted texture of the Common Market, the domestic problems in France seem likely to touch her neighbors as well.

After the French government made wage concessions as the price for ending last summer's violence and disorder, the French knew there would have to be a day of reckoning, when the resulting inflationary pressures would have to be quelled. Similarly, the decision to save the franc from devaluation last November meant a need for further measures which would cut into French pocketbooks and spending power.

DAY OF RECKONING

It has taken time, but now the twin bites are beginning to be felt. And the battle is on as each of the main French economic groups tries to avoid the most painful bite.

French shopkeepers have closed their stores to protest the burden of taxes and paperwork. And in a gilded conference room on central Rue de Tilsitt, total deadlock has arisen over the agenda for a meeting among government, employer and worker representatives about national wage increases.

The soundness of the franc is at issue. In a move which some European commentators regard as unwise, the French government announced that devaluation could result if the workers are granted excessive wage increases. The world money markets are still too nervous for that kind of talk to pass unnoticed. Frenchmen have been buying gold on the Paris market at inflated prices as a hedge against devaluation, or smuggling their treasures abroad into safer harbors.

Bygone days

TEN YEARS AGO

The development of the everyday shoe, its style down through the ages and its value today, was the subject of an address last night at a combined Optimist and Kiwanis Club meeting, by Max Rothschild, president of the Prospect Shoe Ltd., recently moved from Richmond to Sherbrooke.

Mr. Rothschild pointed out that this province is the cradle of the shoe industry in Canada, and is a highly competitive field more so than the United States.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

The annual fashion show under the auspices of the Daughters of Isabella, Sherbrooke, will be held tomorrow evening in the Parish Hall of the Christ — Roi Church.

A cordial welcome is extended to all who wish to see the latest spring and summer fashions. Numerous door prizes will be drawn during the show.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Members of the Lennoxville Red Cross Branch held their regular monthly meeting in the work room, 98 Main Street, Mrs. H. L. Wallace, the president, presiding.

Work consisting of sewing and knitting for children has been received and is well under way and three sewing machines have been installed in the work room which is open Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

Anyone wishing to aid with this work will be welcome.

the population of Canada. At the same time it is an information source for the Canadian government.

Consul-general and the man in charge of these divergent operations is Guy Smith, a down-to-earth, well-informed man whose physical appearance can be distinguished from the average American businessman by the fact he wears maple leaf cuff links.

In an interview he described the work of the consulate as "creative and responsive."

It is creative because it attempts to tell as many persons as possible in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut about Canada.

It has the job of explaining to interested parties Canadian policy, be it on investment, external affairs or culture.

American businessmen and financial leaders are told that Canada must trade to survive, that her current balance-of-payments deficit with the U.S. is generally in the order of $1,500,000,000 annually.

Good eyes depend on good health

"The push-ups you do today could mean better sight tomorrow," said Susan J. Hennighausen, National Director of Prevention of Blindness, CNIB, in a salute to National Health Week, sponsored by the Health League of Canada.

She pointed out that good general health is essential for good eye health. Proper diet, exercise and sufficient rest all contribute to healthy eyes. Regular eye examinations are important too, if eye diseases are to be caught in their early stages. Failure to be certain about eye health can be tragic. About 100,000 Canadians over the age of 40 have glaucoma. Fully one-half of these are unaware of their condition and many will not find out until it is too late!

"Needless eye accidents also take their toll of sight each year," added Miss Hennighausen. "They happen in industry, in home workshops, in kitchens and in gardens. To guard against injury and to protect the eyes from needless damage, eye protection should be worn whenever there is a chance of accident. A single instant of carelessness can rob you of sight for life."

Miss Hennighausen concluded, "We must give nature a helping hand in keeping our whole being in perfect working condition, both by practicing good health habits and by developing good safety habits. Remember the theme of National Health Week all year long — "Prevent Sickness, Promote Health, Prolong Life" which can be paraphrased to read "Prevent Eye Disease, Promote Eye Care and Prolong Sight."

Exercise

Specialize in Exercise — for fun and fitness. Make it part of your family life. You will feel better, look better and sleep better. This is the advice of the Health League of Canada which is sponsoring National Health Week — March 9 to 15.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

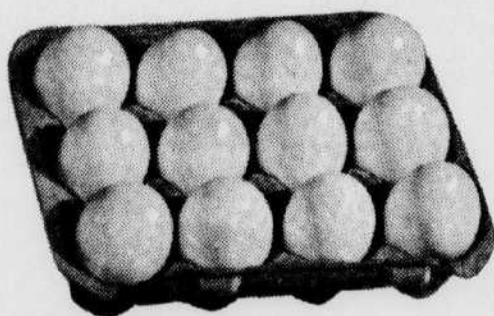

The Sherbrooke City Council, fully realizing the importance of health for the individual, for the community and for the nation, officially gives its support to National Health Week, March 9th to 15th. In an effort to draw the attention of the Canadian people to the important questions of health, it has recommended that the Mayor declare the week of March 9th to 15th, as National Health Week, in this city.

The necessity of instructing our fellow-citizens in preventative measures against disease to prolong life and improve health is also realized. We wish to draw the attention of citizens to the national campaign during which ministries of health and the Health League of Canada co-operate to bring the merits of preventative medicine before the public.

Timely research use can prevent disease

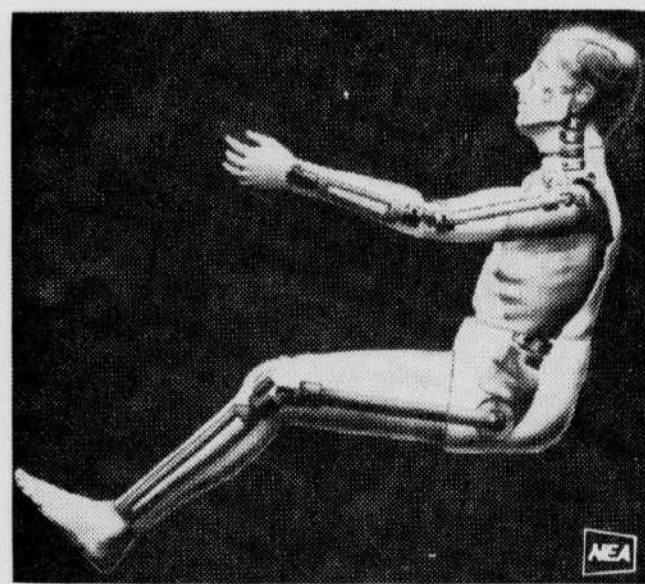

The intelligent and timely use of the results of medical research can cut cancer deaths, prevent some heart disease, reduce the incidence and severity of mental illness, lessen physical handicaps, save eyesight, wipe out tuberculosis, prevent polio and keep teeth from decaying. But too many people seem to have abdicated their responsibility for their personal health. One or two examples will suffice to point up the dangers of the present appalling apathy and indifference to their personal health.

Take cigarette smokers, for example. Although it has been reliably demonstrated that the death rate from cancer, emphysema, heart disease and chronic diabetes is higher among cigarette smokers than non-smokers, you still find the smokers complacently puffing and inhaling, obviously completely indifferent to the possible injury to their health.

The prompt medical treatment of streptococcal infections, which often start chain reactions leading to rheumatic fevers and rheumatic heart disease, could prevent recurring infections and ultimate damage to the heart.

Although techniques have been developed to detect possible cases of glaucoma painlessly in a matter of seconds and to detect diabetes from urine and blood specimens, these two diseases are responsible for 20 per cent of all blindness because of the large number of untreated cases. Over 70 per cent of this blindness could have been prevented by early detection and treatment.

And so it goes. The 25th Annual National Health Week, March 9 to 15, is sponsored by the Health League of Canada to proclaim to every Canadian — YOUR HEALTH IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY.

DOUBLE EXPOSURE shows how "Sophisticated Sam" approximates the skeletal and body structures of a human. The new automotive crash test dummy has a breakable skull, a brain sac, pliable chest and imitation abdominal areas to simulate the physical reactions of the human body in vehicular impacts. When bruised or cut, the General Motors dummy's skin discolors and lacerates as a human's.

Think health

The Health League of Canada, acting as the Canadian Citizens' Committee of the World Health Organization, is sponsoring the 25th annual National Health Week, March 9-15. It is designed to induce Canadians to think about the promotion of health and the prevention of disease, by assuming complete responsibility for personal health. Write to the Health

League of Canada for further information, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto.

Health is something man should cherish

What is health? The definition as set forth in the Constitution of the World Health Organization is "Health is a state of complete physical, mental and social well being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity."

Most of us take for granted our good health. We are only aware of its value when sickness or accident threatens. But health is something we must cherish always. Every individual ought to assume responsibility for maintaining his own health and that of his family at the highest level. To do so effectively one must be informed as to habits which are detrimental and those which are conducive to healthy living.

Health education must provide this information and therefore continuous and vigorous and instructive programs must be carried on for the benefit of all — in the homes, in schools, in churches, in factories, in service clubs, in men's and women's organizations and indeed in all society.

The Health League of Canada — a national voluntary health organization will celebrate its 50 years of service in health education this year.

Twenty-five years ago National Health Week was organized — a special period when emphasis is placed on the importance of health — its promotion and preservation, in co-operation with Departments of Health and Education and with the assistance, not only of the medical, dental and nursing professions but of the voluntary health and lay organizations throughout the country. After all health is everybody's business!

The publicity media — the press, radio and television facilities — has played a great part in carrying this information to Canadians.

A great deal has been accomplished through medical research — some diseases have been eliminated altogether because of scientific knowledge-immunization to prevent communicable diseases — pasteurization of milk to prevent bone tuberculosis, typhoid fever and other milk borne diseases. Fluoridation of communal water supplies to protect against dental decay and thus reduce the dangers of infection which can cause death.

There are many problems which must still be solved. Heart disease, cancer, arthritis, mental illness, cigarette smoking and lung cancer, drug addiction and alcoholism, gerontology and preparation for old age, adequate housing, pollution and many others. The average citizen can preserve his own health and that of his family by observing the simple rules of health — a nourishing diet, sufficient exercise, rest and recreation — medical and dental check-ups — and by knowing the value of good health and how to keep it!

The Health League of Canada is promoting National Health Week — the greatest health campaign in this and any other country — for the twenty-fifth year — March 9 - 15, 1969 inclusive. We invite all organizations and you as an individual to participate in this crusade for better health, in home, in business, in school and in society.

Health league attacks smoking

The following editorial was written by Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the Health League of Canada and was published in the League's bi-monthly magazine, HEALTH.

Sweet are the uses of adversity, said the melancholy Jacques in "As you like It", and perhaps the worst of all adversities is sickness with all the miseries which follow in its wake. Sickness is one adversity we could well do without. Perhaps instead of extolling the sweet uses of adversity we should dream of longer years of health and happiness for ourselves and our children and our children's children. This is not only possible but likely if we could decide to fight to abolish disease, famine and war.

Yes, sweet are the uses of adversity — but not too much adversity and when one considers the short and miserable lives of too many of us and the fact that humanity is still tormented by war, famine and disease, surely we should endeavor to each of us do our part to try one by one to attack and destroy the enemies still in our path. Only a fool can ignore the evils of war of which the present war in Vietnam is only one example.

One is continually astonished by evidences of man's inhumanity to man which permits war, but its evidence may be seen every day in the evidence of man's failure to fight against the evils of disease producing misery, inefficiency, unhappiness and death, when these tragedies could be so easily prevented.

Take such a simple problem as the already dreadful toll of cancer caused by cigarette smoking. For the individual to solve this problem is to stop smoking, that is all.

Yet we, and that means you and I, tolerate the silly and extravagant lies of the manufacturers of cigarettes. The result is that cigarette manufacturers become rich by encouraging the daily use of poison. He advertises the virtues of a better and longer cigarette not for the benefit of the smoker, but to the end that he be destroyed.

The increased smoking of cigarettes by juveniles is so marked that it has become a national tragedy — and a disgrace.

The Health League of Canada, will continue to attack the evils of cigarettes and indeed the lack of scruples on the part of the people who advertise and sell them.

Health and Beauty go Together

This young lady is proud of her fine teeth. Let us help her and millions of other children like her to look forward to a long healthy life by seeing to it that she avoids that prevalent and deadly enemy of health—dental decay.

Fluoridation of communal water supplies will prevent about three quarters of all dental decay.

Auditions for the Quebec Music Festival in the Sherbrooke area will begin Wednesday and end Friday.

The auditions will be at l'Ecole Normale Notre-Dame du Sacre-Coeur, 200 Terrill. This year many bursaries will be distributed to deserving candidates. These bursaries are due to the generosity of the people of Sherbrooke and surrounding areas.

The participants will be judged by three well-known musicians, Boris Berlin, one of Canada's foremost musicians known from coast to coast as an outstanding piano teacher, examiner, lecturer and festival adjudicator.

Mr. Berlin also developed methods of piano teaching that are progressive and practical.

pretations and compositions. He will be present for the second time as judge for the Quebec Music Festival. Third judge will be Ralph Elsaesser, a graduate from the Berne Conservatory in Switzerland who has won critical acclaim for his all Bach recitals. She helps families

TORONTO (CP) — To the bereaved relative on the other end of the line, the calm voice of Carrie Wyeth is instructive and reassuring.

Mrs. Wyeth is the telephone consultant for the Toronto Memorial Society, a non-profit organization established to advise on funeral arrangements.

She and her husband, Eric, have been members of the society since it was started 12 years ago. For the past three years she has been answering calls.

We still have the most complete line of HALLMARK English cards for all occasions.

PAPERETERIE PIGEON LTEE
55 Belvedere St. S.
Sherbrooke

At first she found the calls depressing. But now Mrs. Wyeth, who gets a small honorarium, says she is grateful for the chance to help. She drops whatever she's doing to answer callers of all denominations.

"It is good," she says, "to be able to let people know what is available at the low ebb of feeling the loss of a loved one."

The society's aim is a simple, dignified, inexpensive funeral. "From our research, the average funeral arranged outside the Memorial Society is $600 to $800," Mrs. Wyeth says. "We find 85 per cent of our members want a $150 service."

"This is not a time for shopping around, and sometimes the family is not able to compare and decide on a moderate and respectable service."

Answer to psychologist shortage

OTTAWA (CP) — June Pimm, who has a doctorate in psychology and teaches at Carleton University, thinks she and a group of her colleagues may have found an answer to the shortage of school psychologists.

They got together last fall with the idea of doing consulting work on a part-time basis and, although they didn't advertise, among those who got in touch with them was a nearby township school board seeking to hire psychologists.

What began as an experiment of sorts, with the consultants hired on a contract basis, seems to have worked out well, says Mrs. Pimm, who was a psychologist with the Ottawa public school board for five years.

The township board now is served by six psychologists who spend a half-day a week in the schools. And they've been asked to explain the system to parents at home-and-school meetings.

This is the first time such a thing has been tried in Ontario, Mrs. Pimm said in an interview. "We've been really surprised at the enthusiastic reception from both consumer and psychologist."

"We pay ourselves by the hour and each psychologist works completely independently. We have a pediatrician affiliated with us and we'd like to have a social worker."

Mrs. Pimm says one reason for the shortage of school psychologists, at least in Ontario, is that the number of registered psychologists is limited, while the demand for them, especially by schools—which are their biggest "consumer"—has increased.

"The education department in Ontario subsidizes psychological services so all the rural boards want them. And there just aren't going to be enough PhDs."

Mrs. Pimm sees several advantages to the system of schools hiring outside consultants. In the past, she explained, some difficulty had arisen because, to many psychologists unused to the structured school system, the notion of reporting to someone was foreign.

On the other hand, many school boards were frustrated with special services because they were under pressure from the community to have them, but they did not know how to administer them.

"Ours is essentially the same service but it functions from outside the school system."

Outside consultants not only might be better able to give impartial advice, but they did not take up space in overcrowded schools.

Party for bride-elect Miss Linda Beliveau

DANVILLE — About 20 relatives of Miss Linda Beliveau of Chomedey gathered at the home of Mrs. Ernest Frost to honor her on the occasion of her approaching marriage. Miss Beliveau arrived here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Beliveau, Miss Sharon Beliveau and her fiancé, Ray Rutkowski, to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beliveau. She was pleasantly surprised on going later to her aunt's home to find that all had assembled in the living room which had been decorated with white wedding bells and green streamers for the occasion.

Greeted at the door by her small cousin, Sandra Frost, the bride-elect was presented with a corsage and escorted to a seat between her mother, Mrs. Leonard Beliveau and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Beliveau.

A coffee table piled high with attractively wrapped gifts was placed in front of her and soon all were busy handing around the gifts to be admired by those present.

Miss Beliveau expressed her thanks for the gifts and also to the hostesses Mrs. Ernest Frost and Mrs. Kenneth Frost for having arranged this pleasant surprise for her.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by the Misses Karen and Irena Frost.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Julie Gagnon and Mrs. George Frost of Richmond and Miss Yolande Belisle of Asbestos.

New horizons for individuals, families

Women within the family, how to help them build their family life—that is the dedication of a 34-year-old executive of a large corporation.

Out of Yale, the Navy and Harvard Business School, Henry H. Porter Jr. is vice president and treasurer of General Mills, Inc. He entered the company immediately after Harvard.

"Right now I guess I'm a bit too much of a missionary. My major drive is to excite people to respond to what they are doing and enjoy it," he explains.

He admits it is not always easy. Particularly with older employees.

"First you must make them feel well-regarded by their associates and the company. Then they will regard themselves in a new light."

"People are the absolute key to business. To get them to increase their capabilities and broaden their outlook is vital. As a Navy officer I learned a lot about responsibility backed by authority," he says.

General Mills is the largest seller of domestic flour and has one-fourth of the cake mix business. They own also a toys and games manufactory, a manufactory of small, children's ovens that bake miniature cakes with two light bulbs, and a home painting-set-by-numbers outfit, among other properties.

Father of two daughters, Porter, whose hobbies are skiing, tennis and classical music, says he channels off his nervousness through expansion of the business.

"That is my way of having fun," he confesses.

"I think less of selling products and think more of housewives in their homes. New ways to help them raise their families, better ideas that will expand their lives, ideas that will put some color into the gray that settles on so many routine activities—these are my intense concern."

Company finances are his first responsibility. His second is new ways of doing things for the American housewife.

"When I am older, I may settle into the corporate pattern. But I hope not," he says.

Both as an instigator and an emblem of rapid change in General Mills, Porter sees his work as a combination of tangibles and intangibles. When an 8-year-old bakes a perfect cake in her miniature oven, she is simulating her mother. Families who play games together achieve psychic unity.

"Sales of painting-by-numbers sets are increasing. That means housewives are finding a new outlet for creative energies. Flour sales are down but cake mixes are up. Married life will change. But women will always strive to achieve," he observes.

The need to anticipate, to adjust to these changes, to break established company patterns in favor of more acceptable and profitable ones, explains why so many highly educated young men are being courted by business.

"The most needed skill of management is to be able to excite yourself and people around you to achieve a broader base."

Tasty Pancakes, The French Way

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutrition Editor

For your very, very special dinner party try something gala for dessert. With a little care, this recipe for French pancakes is a wise suggestion.

1½ cups sifted flour	½ cup clarified butter
½ teaspoon salt	1 cup apricot jam
1 tablespoon sugar	¼ cup Cognac or more
2 eggs	1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg yolk	extract
1½ cups milk	Sugar

Sift flour, salt and sugar into a bowl. Make a well in flour, put eggs into the well and with a wire whisk work the flour gradually into the eggs, adding enough milk to make batter smooth. Add enough milk to make a batter the consistency of cream. Add 3 tablespoons cool butter, 1 tablespoon Cognac and vanilla. Let stand 2 hours.

Heat a 5-inch iron pancake skillet. Heat 1 teaspoon butter. Pour in a generous tablespoon batter, turning pan quickly to cover entirely. Fill in bare spots. Combat Droopy Hair

If your hair is droopy and limp and loses its set almost immediately, it probably lacks body. Here are some ways to combat the "droopies."

Wind rollers smoothly and firmly and fasten them properly; try using a slightly smaller size roller; use a setting lotion made for hard-to-hold hair; use just enough hair spray to hold your hair without dampening it; use a hair dryer and make sure your hair is completely dry; switch to a cream rinse designed to add body. Most important of all, choose a simple style that's easy to maintain.

Helps hippies

TORONTO (CP) — Lorraine Wheeler, a freckled, blonde Australian, arrived in Toronto last December just when Digger House was going through one of its periodic identity crises.

Digger House is Toronto's original—and frequently denounced—"hippie haven." An old, 14-room house on Spadina Road leased from the municipality, it was set up last year by the Yorkville Diggers Inc. as a home for young people with no place to go, no money, no food.

Mrs. Wheeler, 27, is a registered nurse turned social worker who first became involved with dropouts and drug-users in 1964 when she was a welfare officer at the Methodist mission at home in Sydney.

In response to the needs of the young people with whom she was working there, Lorraine helped create a service which could reach addicts and those with other emotional problems and bring them into touch with hospitals and community facilities.

SET UP CENTRE

Largely through her efforts, a drug referral centre was established with a program including a consultant psychiatrist, two doctors, a psychiatric social worker and case workers. The centre is being copied in other parts of Australia and has aroused interest in England and Europe.

But, Lorraine says, "it's easy to become possessive about something like this." She and her accountant husband, Noel, decided to come to Canada for new experience.

In January she was appointed as the new director of Digger House. The directors of Yorkville Diggers had been reviewing the role of the house and were looking for someone to instigate a new approach and new goals.

"Instead of running it as a sort of stop-gap operation, they want to play a more preventive role," Lorraine says. "They want to concentrate more on a smaller group of kids."

Digger House now accommodates 10 permanent residents, boys and girls from 16 to 22, in a "group living situation" and has two "crash pads" for emergency accommodation.

AIMS TO AID

Lorraine has started keeping records to find out who is being helped and how many people the house could support. She also wants to improve methods of working with the community and to find what alternatives there are for the people Digger House cannot accept.

For her, the aim of the house is to provide accommodation for the dispossessed youths and to help them become independent.

"I feel a tremendous empathy with these kids and with their great feeling of loneliness. If I as a person can help bridge the gap and make them feel they have a right to self-respect and dignity, that fulfils my own needs," she says.

After visiting the United States before coming to Canada, Lorraine feels youth's problems are universal. "They all say the same things and they're all disillusioned with the way things are."

And the drug problem, she predicts, will be around for a long time. "That's why the whole community must become involved in a concerned practical approach to help solve it."

A Soft Touch

With fashion emphasis on rings this year, hand care is essential. A good once-a-week lightening and softening treatment is a 10-minute soaking in a mixture of lemon juice and baby oil. Because the baby oil benefits your nails and cuticles, too, this treatment is best done before your manicure.

QUEBEC SCENE

Liberal financial critic urges gov't to work for French in big companies

MONTREAL (CP) — Robert Bourassa, Opposition Liberal party financial critic in the Quebec national assembly, said Sunday that the provincial government should begin immediate negotiations with major companies to encourage use of French in industry.

Speaking at a Liberal party riding association, he said that, with the government's services and buying power, it "does not lack negotiating power to attain this common-sense objective."

He said French-Canadians want to feel fully qualified for their positions and they should not be handicapped in their chances for promotion because they are of French origin.

The mayor said results of the investigation into the bombings have been encouraging. The fact that neighbors of the arrested man had no hint of his activities was an indication of the difficulty of the task for police.

"It will be proven that our police force is just as good as that of any big city in the world."

"A city is judged by how it solves its difficult problems."

Delegates agree

MONTREAL (CP) — Delegates from across Canada to a two-day conference of the United Auto Workers union skilled trades council agreed Sunday to request collective agreement clauses protecting skilled tradesmen whose jobs would be affected by technological change. They called on management to co-operate in planning to reduce the impact of new technology on workers.

Bring an end

MONTREAL (CP) — A fund-raising drive aiming to subsidize Atlantic coast seal hunters and bring an end to the killing of baby seals has been disappointing. T. Ross Malcolm, its chairman, said Sunday.

Mr. Malcolm, a stockbroker, said that if the fund drive fails to collect enough subsidies, money will be turned over to the Canadian Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for the agency "doing the most" to end the seal hunt.

The Baby Seal Fund was started 18 months ago because groups within the SPCA attempting to end the hunt do not raise funds to stop the killing. The SPCA said it had nothing to do with two women who were selling save the seals buttons Friday in a downtown hotel lobby.

MONTREAL (CP) — Robert Pichette, assistant to Premier Louis Robichaud of New Brunswick, Sunday opened the Miller Brittain exposition of fine art works at the private Gallery Moos in the city's fashionable art district.

Mr. Brittain of Saint John, N.B., has been able to sell about half of the works on display, a gallery spokesman said.

A period between 1940 and 1967. About 250 persons were present at the reception marking the opening of the showing which runs until March 30.

Tigers outplay Beavers for 7-1 win

VICTORIAVILLE — Victoria drew a penalty just after the game started but the Tigers threw up a strong defense and kept their zone cleared. The Beavers just couldn't capitalize on their good scoring chances.

The game was a wide-open battle with both sides swinging along in high gear. The Beavers had three good chances at scoring but they failed to click and this hurt them. Andy Besette was tagged for too many men on the ice but still the Beavers couldn't capitalize on their second good chance.

Joe Hardy caught the Sherbrooke duo of Levesque and Robidas off guard when he fought for the puck in the corner and came out to bat it by Jacques Monette. Rene Pepin got in close but just missed and then he put young Roland Sawyer in but his effort was turned aside. The Beavers were trying to hit but the Tigers kept bouncing back.

The Tigers struck fast in the opening of the middle session. Joe Hardy was the first Tiger to test Andre Gagnon, who took over the goaling chores from Jacques Monette. The veteran netminder opened the game but claimed he twisted his knee and asked to be replaced.

Two fast goals put the game out of reach of the Beavers. Hardy and Drouin tallied within two minutes and 37 seconds. Hardy fired the first one and then Larry Drouin rifled a hard shot on the ice which beat Gagnon. This was all the scoring in the frame.

Ronnie Racette got away and rushed in on Morrisette but his shot was blocked and cleared to the side. The Sherbrooke forward slid into the Victoriaville netminder knocking him to the ice. Jim Beckman set up Andre Laguerre but again his effort was kicked out. Rene Pepin was the next to test Morrisette but the agile netminder came up with the save.

The final frame opened at a good clip with Rene Pepin in close but his drive hit the post. Bruce Cline was the next to get in but couldn't get the puck by Morrisette. Cline kept digging but things weren't working for the Beavers.

Joe Hardy was tagged for holding but even during this stage the Beavers couldn't get a scoring offensive going. Jacques Michel broke away but Hardy stepped back on the ice. Jim Beckman managed to tip the puck by Morrisette for Sherbrooke's first and lone tally. This gave the Beavers a new lease on life but it didn't last very long.

Morrisette came up with two

The Tigers struck back with three quick goals to settle the outcome in quick fashion. Mike Labrosse fired a hard shot at Gagnon which fell at his feet and Johnny Mentis batted it home.

A minute later Larry Drouin broke away and got behind the Sherbrooke defense with Gagnon at his mercy. He waited till the Beavers' netboy made his move and then flipped it into the net.

The Tigers kept driving and Jacques Michel dug the puck out of the corner to pass it out to Normand Pepin and he in turn batted it by Gagnon. At this stage the Tigers held complete command of the game.

Two over-lapping penalties to the Beavers hurt them when Dupre and Carpentier were tagged within a minute of each other. During their rest Johnny Mentis potted his second tally when he snared a rebound off the boards to whip it by Gagnon.

Coach Lou Poliquin was not satisfied with the showing of his squad. He had outlined plans for the game but his men failed to continue to put them in force after the first fifteen minutes of the game. From then on the Tigers just ran away and the Beavers couldn't get moving.

SAGS DUMP VICS 5-2

Chicoutimi Sags moved into a 1-0 lead in their series with Granby Vics last evening in the opening tilt in Chicoutimi. They will now meet tomorrow evening in Granby. The fourth game will be back in Chicoutimi Friday night with the fifth in Granby next Sunday evening.

Germain Munger paced the attack with two goals while Phil Desgarnes, Serge McLean and Carol Tremblay potted the others. For the Vics, Pierre LePage and Michel Ortuso, were the marksmen.

A crowd of 4,500 were on hand at the Georges Vezina Centre to take in the game and they witnessed plenty of action as both clubs were handing out stiff checks. Claude Cyr was in the nets for the Sags while Yvan Letarte was working for the Vics.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Andre Gagnon made a big save on him to rob him of a sure goal. Sherbrooke was caught up in the ice forcing the play.

The Tigers were nicked for too many men on the ice once again and this time just as quick saves before Racette managed to slide the puck between his legs for the tally. The Beavers kept trying after this but Morrisette blocked them at every move and allowed only one marker.

Ken Still wins Citrus Open

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Ken Still won his first major golf tournament Sunday after 16 years on the pro trail.

His victory came in the $115,000 Citrus Open with a final round 70 for a 72-hole total of 278, 10 under par. Miller Barber was one stroke behind.

The 34-year-old bachelor from Tacoma, Wash., said he felt he would win the $23,000 first prize after an eight-foot putt for a par-five on the first hole of the par-72 Rio Pinar Country Club course. He hit into a lake on the 165th hole, par-three 12th for a two-over par and scrambled for a par-four at the 14th when he found the water again. And at the 18th his second shot landed in the gallery.

"I started to cry in the middle of the 18th fairway because I knew if I'd par in, I'd win," he said.

Top Canadian was Alvie Thompson of Toronto, who won $143 with a final-round 75

Montreal's Diane Culver and Norway's L. Hamre emerge winners in Quebec Kandahar

MONT TREMBLANT, Que. (CP) — Lasse Hamre of Norway and Diane Culver of Montreal won the men's and women's combined titles in the 35th Quebec Kandahar ski competition during the weekend.

Hamre, 24, a member of Norway's national ski team and currently studying at the University of Denver, won Saturday's giant slalom and was runner-up Sunday in the slalom event.

Miss Culver, 16, swept both women's events.

Jean-Noel Augert, 19, of France, a leading international giant slalom skier, missed out on Saturday's competition but recovered from fatigue to win the slalom Sunday. He arrived in Canada Saturday night after winning a race in Andermatt, Switzerland, Fri.

Peter Duncan of Mont Trem-blant, a veteran of Canada's national ski team, was the top Canadian in men's events, finishing second in the giant slalom and eighth in the slalom for a combined fifth placing.

Twelve leading skiers from Europe competed in the kandahar in preparation for next weekend's World Cup races at Mont Ste. Anne, Que. Women competitors here, however, were all Canadian.

POLE WAS SECOND

Second in the combined was Andrzej Bachleda of Poland, who collected 17.16 points compared with 8.60 for Hamre. Third was Hans Bjoerge of Norway with 30.55 points.

Denise Chrichton, 16, of St. Sauveur, Que., was women's combined with runner up in the 21.38 points and Diana Gibson of Toronto was third with 28.58. Fourth was Pam Aiken, 16, of Rossland, B.C., who earned 71.68 points and Virginia Honeyman, 14, of Montreal came in fifth with 99.12.

Augert's blistering slalom technique was the highlight of Sunday competition. He was credited with a time of 93.66 seconds in two runs.

Hamre was second in 95.04 and Olle Rolén of Sweden third in 95.20.

Hamre took the giant slalom Saturday in a time of 167.34 seconds. Duncan followed in 167.96 and Bachleda placed third in 168.17. Bill McKay of Edmonton followed in fourth place in 168.51.

Miss Culver took the giant slalom event in 96.60 seconds, followed by Miss Gibson in 99.56 and Miss Chrichton in 99.77. In the slalom Sunday it was Miss Culver in a total of 108.49 seconds, Miss Chrichton 108.53 and Miss Gibson 110.32.

Pinch-hitting rule change proves advantageous to Yanks and Braves

Managers Luman Harris of Atlanta Braves and Ralph Houk of New York Yankees already have used the designated pinch hitter rule to their advantage.

The rule permits a designated player to pinch hit for the pitcher throughout the game. It is being tried as a spring training experiment for possible use during regular season play by 1970.

Hank Aaron, batting in the pitcher's spot, started the Braves to an 11-3 romp over Los Angeles Dodgers Sunday by smashing a first-inning home run.

Roy White, playing the same role for the Yankees, socked a tying, three-run homer in a four-run ninth that nipped Baltimore Orioles 7-6.

While Aaron and White were delivering the long ball in the pinch, conventional homers helped six other clubs nail exhibition victories.

Joe Lis hit a three-run blast in the 10th inning, keying Philadelphia Phillies' 8-4 triumph over Pittsburgh Pirates. Larry Hise and Johnny Callison also homered for the Phillies and Jose Martinez connected for the Pirates.

Rookie Ken Myette pitched three scoreless innings and clouted a two-run homer, leading Cincinnati Reds past Chicago White Sox 4-0. Detroit Tigers scored five runs in the first inning—three on Bill Freehan's homer—and whipped Minnesota Twins 6-3.

POWER THE SOX

Homers by Dalton Jones, Reggie Smith and Billy Conigliaro powered Boston Red Sox to a 12-4 romp over St. Louis Cardinals.

Joe Morgan hit a two-run shot as Houston Astros flattened New York Mets 5-3 with five runs in the third inning and Al Ferrara touched off a four-run second inning burst with a two-run wallop, pacing San Diego Padres to a 6-2 victory over a U.S. Army team.

San Francisco Giants cuffed Cleveland Indians with five first-inning runs and went on for a 9-3 victory. Willie Mays, the Giants' new leadoff hitter, started the first inning by drawing a walk and singled in the fifth to start a two-run rally.

Aurelio Rodriguez, Jarvis Tatum and Tom Egan cracked three hits each as California Angels thumped Chicago Cubs 10-5. Gerry McNertney's double launched a three-run, sixth-inning flurry that carried Seattle Pilots to a 6-3 verdict over Oakland Athletics.

Kansas City Royals' A team trimmed Washington Senators 5-2 and the B squad downed Montreal Expos 8-5.

Saturday, Kansas City's A team edged Washington 2-1, Detroit trounced Minnesota 10-0, St. Louis blanked New York Mets 2-0, Pittsburgh took Philadelphia 3-1, San Francisco outscored Cleveland 9-4, Oakland nipped Seattle 3-2, California defeated Chicago Cubs 4-2 and San Diego trounced the Mexican All-Stars 11-0.

Five games, including one between the Expos and Kansas City's B team, were rained out.

Four skips from Bagotville form one rink in mixed championship

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Most curlers say that four skips do not make a winning rink, but Earl Carson doesn't listen.

"We're all skips and we wouldn't be here if we weren't," Carson said Sunday, talking about the rink from Bagotville, Que., he will skip in the first round of the Canadian mixed curling championship today.

The former Tisdale, Sask., native went to Bagotville Air Force Base as a sergeant five years ago.

During that time he has skipped the Quebec champions four times in the Canadian men's curling championship, including last week's competition at Oshawa, Ont., and has won the Quebec mixed title in each of the last three years.

"I'm no better than most skips in the province," he said.

"But myself and each member of my rink is a skip in our club at the air base. Each of us takes two beginners at the start of the season and that puts a lot of pressure on the skip to make the shot.

"The difference between winning and losing the provincial championship is about five per cent and we have that necessary edge through our club competition."

FOUR ARE FAVORED

Carson is one of four favorites in the 11-rink, round-robin tournament which ends Friday. The others are from Saskatchewan, Ontario and Newfoundland.

The Quebec rink was scheduled to meet British Columbia in the first round of the championship at 2 p.m. EST today while Prince Edward Island met Newfoundland, New Brunswick went against Northern Ontario, Saskatchewan took on Alberta, and Manitoba played Nova Scotia.

Ontario, drew the first-round bye before playing Manitoba in the second round at 7:30 p.m. Quebec played Prince Edward Island, British Columbia took on Newfoundland, New Brunswick met Saskatchewan, Northern Ontario played Alberta, and Nova Scotia took the night off.

The other rinks in the tournament are skipped by Barry Narmark of Vancouver, Don Anderson of Edmonton, Jack Hume of Oak River, Man., Wayne Petch of Kirkland Lake, representing Northern Ontario, Austin Steeves of Halifax, Clarence (Bobo) Doucet of Bathurst, N.B., Alan McCurdy of Belvedere, P.E.I., Leonard Kalchak of Goose Bay, Nfld., Wes Brigham of Nipawin, Sask., and Terry Patton of Brantford, Ont.

Capacity crowd of 10,320 take in game at Buffalo

Buffalo's failure to gain a National Hockey League franchise apparently is not discouraging fans in that city.

A capacity crowd of 10,320, largest Buffalo crowd since the Calder Cup final in 1963, watched the American Hockey League Bisons edge Baltimore Clippers 2-1. About 1,500 persons were turned away from the rink.

Bison defenceman Al Hamilton scored with 10 seconds left in the second period to give Buffalo the victory.

Jean-Marie Cossette's first-period goal for Baltimore was offset by Bob Jones' goal midway through the second period.

The victory left the Bisons 23 points ahead of runner-up Cleveland Barons in the Western Division. Buffalo earlier this season were unsuccessful in a bid to have the Oakland NHL franchise moved to Buffalo for the 1969-70 campaign.

In other games, Cleveland and Quebec Aces played a 2-2 tie. Rochester Americans nipped Hershey Bears 3-2 and Providence Reds edged Springfield Kings 4-3.

SCORES BOTH GOALS

Bob Berry, who scored both Cleveland goals Sunday, gave the Barons a tie when he tallied at 19:06 of the final period. Darryl Estrand and Myron Staniewicz scored for the Aces.

Les Duff scored twice for Rochester Sunday while rookie Ron Ward scored one goal.

Scoring for Hershey were Chuck Hamilton and Gil Gilbert. Jean-Pierre Maillette scored two goals Sunday for Providence as the Reds took a three-point lead over Baltimore in the race for second place in the Eastern Division.

Don McKenney and Ray Clearwater had the other Providence goals.

Down Sherbrooke 5-3

Coaticook one win from finals

Coaticook Indians moved to within one victory of a berth in the Dow Independent Hockey League playoff finals yesterday afternoon at the Sports Palace as they downed Sherbrooke Indians 5-3 to move to a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven semi-final "A" series.

Coaticook scored twice while having a man advantage to jump to a 2-0 lead. Sherbrooke picked up eight of eleven penalties in the first two periods and as a result allowed the Dynamics to take a 3-1 lead, after two periods of play.

Coaticook's high-scoring Louis Michaud opened the scoring in the first period at 13:43 from Emond and M. Letourneau while Sherbrooke's Gilbert was serving a minor.

Coaticook jumped a 2-0 lead in the second period. Raymond Brulotte scoring from Dawson and Michaud, Sherbrooke's Caron was off at the time.

P. Letourneau gave Coaticook a 3-0 lead in the second period before Sherbrooke's Caron narrowed the margin to 3-1. Dawson and C. Letourneau assisted on the Coaticook goal while Pelchat and Palardy assisted on the Sherbrooke goal.

Coaticook moved to a 4-1 lead at the opening of the third period. Brulotte scoring his second goal of the game on passes from Michaud and Marcel Benoit.

Sherbrooke's Caron potted his second marker of the game at 14:17 to slim the Coaticook lead to two goals. Fifteen seconds later Coaticook scored to end what little hopes Sherbrooke had of catching the visitors. Carrier scored from Emond and Dawson.

Sherbrooke scored once more before the period ended. Desruisseaux from Gilbert and Guillemette at 15:30.

Sherbrooke outshot Coaticook 30-23 in the game and again the work of Dynamics' Real Provencher proved to be the difference, making several key saves throughout the game.

Dan Grant may break Boomer's record

A trade made last June seems to be keeping Minnesota North Stars in contention for a playoff spot in the National Hockey League's Western Division.

The North Stars obtained wingers Danny Grant and Claude Larose from Montreal Canadiens in that transaction, giving up their top choices in the 1969 and 1973 amateur drafts, some cash and two minor league players.

Grant, 23, a left winger from Fredericton, N.B., and Larose, 27, a right winger from Hearst, Ont., have been two of Minnesota's top forwards.

Sunday night Grant scored his 28th and 29th goals of the season to help Minnesota tie St. Louis Blues 2-2. Grant needs one goal in his 11 remaining games to tie the modern record for a rookie of 30 goals set by Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal in 1951-52.

In other games Sunday, Boston Bruins walloped Los Angeles Kings 7-2, Philadelphia Flyers downed Oakland Seals 5-3 and Montreal and New York Rangers played to a 2-2 tie.

Saturday, New York topped Pittsburgh Penguins 5-3, Detroit Red Wings outscored Boston 7-4, St. Louis defeated Oakland 5-2, Philadelphia and Toronto Maple Leafs finished in a 2-2 deadlock and Montreal and Los Angeles played to a 3-3 tie.

The tie left the North Stars four points behind fourth-place Philadelphia in the race for the final playoff berth in the Western Division. But the North Stars have two games in hand.

Phil Esposito, the NHL's leading scorer, collected a goal and three assists for Boston Sunday to add to his record-setting performance this season.

The Boston centre now has 107 points on 41 goals and 66 assists and set records for most points and most assists in a season each time he adds to his totals.

The record for most points was 97, held by both Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita of Chicago Black Hawks, and the record for most assists was Mikita's 62.

Ken Hodge added two goals for Boston and Bobby Orr, Johnny Bucyk, Eddie Shack and Wayne Cashman one each. Jim Peters and Lowell MacDonald scored for Los Angeles in front of a Boston turnout of 14,659.

The victory moved the Bruins to within one point of first-place Montreal in the Eastern Division, and Boston has two games in hand.

Also KNOTS SCORE

Jean Ratelle's goal with eight minutes to play gave New York its tie Sunday afternoon before 17,250 Ranger fans.

The other Ranger scorer was Walt Tkaczuk while Jacques Lemaire and Mickey Redmond tallied for the Canadiens.

The tie increased New York's unbeaten streak at home to 14 games and left the Rangers in third place in the Eastern Division, two points ahead of Detroit.

Three unanswered goals in the final period carried Philadelphia to its victory Sunday.

Andre Lacroix scored two goals for Philadelphia to break a 2-2 tie before 15,136 hometown fans.

Scoring for the Blues were Red Berenson and Tim Ecclestone, with two goals each, and Jim Roberts. Oakland goals went to Billy Hicke and Ferguson.

Gordie Howe's 39th goal of the season and Hank Monteith's first NHL goal sparked the Red Wings Saturday before 15,347 at Detroit.

Bruce MacGregor scored two goals for Detroit while other goals were shared by Pete Stenkowski, Garry Unger and Wayne Connelly. Boston goals went to Orr, Derek Sanderson, John McKenzie and Fred Stanfield.

A third-period goal by Sarrazin gave Philadelphia a tie Saturday before 16,485 at Maple Leaf Gardens. Dick Cherry had the other Flyer goal while Norm Ullman and Mike Walton replied for Toronto, now four points back of fourth-place Detroit in the Eastern Division, but with three games in hand.

Gilbert, Ratelle, Bob Nevin, Don Marshall and Dave Balon connected for New York Saturday. Tallying for Pittsburgh in front of 10,016 Penguin fans were Keith McCreary and Ken Schinkel.

Goals midway through the third period by John Ferguson and Serge Savard enabled the Canadiens to gain a tie Saturday in front of 16,987 at Montreal. The other Montreal goal went to Ferguson while Eddie Joyal, Bill Flett and MacDonald scored for Los Angeles.

Hamilton Red Wings, fifth in the final standings of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, meet the pennant-winning Montreal Canadiens Tuesday in the first round of the playoffs.

St. Catharines Black Hawks face Toronto Marlboros, Peterborough Petes meet London Knights and Niagara Falls Flyers play Ottawa in other playoffs starting this week.

St. Catharines defeated the Wings 5-3 Sunday night. The Flyers downed Kitchener Rangers 5-2, Montreal Junior Canadiens posted a 13-4 triumph over Ottawa 67s and Ivan Bolderev scored three goals to pace Oshawa Generals' 6-5 victory over Toronto Marlboros.
