Fire leaves 15 homeless

By DENNIS FINLAY
(Record Staff Reporter)

A two-alarm fire on Galt Street West yesterday afternoon ravaged the interior of a two-story building and left 15 people homeless.

The fire, which started with an explosion in the basement according to people in the house at the time, did not reach the outside of the house as firemen from stations No. 1 and No. 5 contained the flames.

The house, situated at 1785 Galt West, was owned by Mrs. Eugene Brochu, 68 years old, who ran from the house after the explosion. There were five apartments in the building, two of them in the basement were occupied by students.

No one was injured in the explosion or ensuing fire.

Left homeless by the fire were Mrs. Brochu, her two sons and a daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Lancaster and their two young boys, aged seven months and three years; Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Dubreuil and their child; Yves Martin and Francois Passermord; and Jean-Guy Cloutier and Normand Halland.

The Sherbrooke firemen had a difficult time fighting the blaze because smoke billowing through the windows choked firemen who had to step back from windows periodically.

One fireman left one window and started coughing loudly and seemed to have been smothered by the smoke. Two minutes later, he returned to a window. The problem was slightly alleviated by two firemen who were equipped with a mask and an oxygen tank.

They were able to withstand the smothering smoke and this helped to speed up the dousing of flames.

No flames could be seen from the outside of the building. Officials at the Sherbrooke Fire Department gave no details of the cause of the fire.

They did say, however, the fire started in the house basement.

Eric Lancaster, whose family was left homeless by the blaze, was working at the time the fire broke out. His wife and two young boys escaped from the burning building unharmed.

He told the Record his wife said there was an explosion. "She said it (the explosion) picked the floor up a little bit", Mr. Lancaster said.

Mrs. Brochu's son, Marcel, said he heard an explosion also. "The temperature was only 55 degrees as firemen fought the blaze to arrest the total destruction of the house built in 1947."

Mrs. Brochu's daughter said it was her mother's life burning as the flames licked the house's interior.

About 150 people gathered to watch firefighting operations and in many instances, they hampered the firemen's work.

PRAGUE (CP) — Despite youthful protests and widespread resentment, most Czechoslovaks appeared today to be heeding their leaders' pleas not to provoke the occupation troops as the Prague regime began cutting back its liberalization program, including press freedom, to meet Moscow's demands.

A Czechoslovak government announcement said foreign newspaper men will not be admitted into the country until further notice. There was no mention in the statement, however, of the government's attitude toward the foreign press already in the country before the crisis and those who hurried to Prague when it arose a week ago.

Machine-gun fire was heard early today in Wenceslas Square, centre of the Czechoslovak resistance to the occupation — mainly by Russian troops — but otherwise the situation was quiet.

Citizens were streaming to work and there were no indications of an early response to an appeal by Prague students Tuesday night for a general strike in protest against the Moscow agreement made public only hours earlier.

STORES REOPEN

Stores were reopening and, with luck, getting fresh supplies in, as Prague slowly regained some semblance of the normal appearance of a capital city.

Young Czechoslovaks had planned fresh demonstrations here this morning against the Moscow agreement, regarded by many here as a settlement imposed by force to reduce the country to a Soviet puppet state.

Demonstrators have called on the people to gather in Wenceslas Square and march on Parliament as they did Tuesday night in a moving expression of patriotic feeling and revulsion against the prospect of continued subjection to Kremlin control.

Thousands marched 25 abreast while Soviet troops posted nearby made no move to intervene. The crowd gathered under the windows of Parliament to hear a deputy tell them, "Parliament does not agree to the communique from Moscow."

The Moscow deal allows re-Alexander Dubcek and his reformist Communist party leader to stay in office at the price of Soviet troops stationed on Czechoslovak soil and an end to freedom of the press.

WANT THE TRUTH

"We do not want a compromise! We want to know the truth!" the demonstrators shouted.

The Communist party central committee was scheduled to meet in a Prague factory today to consider the Moscow agreement, while Radio Free Danube reported that the Slovak Communist party presidium went into all-night session with "tears in their eyes" because of the Moscow deal.

Some underground radio stations, broadcasting from secret locations, demanded that the accord be rejected.

"We refuse to recognize the agreement," the broadcast said. "Let us not be humiliated or knuckle under."

The crowd in Wenceslas Square tore down pictures of the reformist leaders who since January had led the country away from 20 years of Stalinist-type rule but now have to reimpose restrictions under the pressure of 350,000 Soviet-bloc occupation troops.

Assurances given by the reformist leaders that they would not abandon their program of liberalization failed to carry much weight among the thousands gathered round transistor radios in the square.

Russian patrols walked down the streets of the square tearing down thousands of posters, proclamations, poems and cartoons telling the Russians "to get out of our country."

But along with these outbursts, the reaction of many others was one of angry resignation.

Back from four days of negotiations in Moscow, Czechoslovak Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek called in a broadcast for trust "even if we shall have to carry out some special temporary measures restricting the degree of democratization, the freedom of speech we have already achieved. . . . But I am asking you to realize the times we live in."

Dubcek said the occupation troops will be pulled back from towns and villages to special areas. He appealed to the population not to start any sort of campaign against them "because the final aim of our activities is to achieve the full departure of the armies as soon as possible."

Vietnam, Ted Kennedy, youth, stall Democrats

CHICAGO (CP)—Angry delegates rebelled early today over a second overtime sitting, postponing the Democratic party's long-awaited showdown on the divisive issue of Vietnam until noon CDT.

The plot thickened—and the possibilities perhaps hardened—for a major effort to draft youthful Senator Edward Kennedy as the presidential nominee. It seemed certain his name will be put into the race tonight despite his non-participation personally.

Police and several thousand radical young opponents of the Vietnam war—chanting and singing—confronted each other for the third night several miles from the heavily-guarded convention hall. There was some renewed violence. Finally some 800 of 5,200 standby National Guard troops moved in.

These were the major developments that emerged amid conflict, confusion and uncertainty, unusual even for a party with a rich tradition of internal dissent.

The unwieldy assembly of 3,099 delegates, having ended its first session early Tuesday in uproar over the issue of anti-Negro bias in the Georgia state delegation, broke up in the same mood early today, hours behind schedule.

Delegates on the convention floor, thick with security men, revolted at debating the touchy issue of Vietnam at such a late —about 1 a.m. CDT—hour. In effect, the revolt led by Wisconsin forced Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago as a convention architect to move adjournment.

It was a clear triumph for elements opposed to the proposed policy statement on Vietnam which backs up President Johnson's determination to force acceptable concessions from North Vietnam as a condition of peace negotiations more fruitful than the sterile exchanges so far at Paris.

It also was a triumph for getting the Vietnam debate before the national television audiences during the day rather than at a time when most Americans would have been asleep.

But there was no firm evidence that supporters of a softer line on Vietnam can force a change in the proposed policy statement. That fight was lost in the drafting committee.

Anti-war delegates generally were restrained in predicting how they would fare today. Meanwhile, in the absence of any official move to make the last surviving Kennedy brother an official leadership candidate, Vice-President Humphrey retained his role as heir apparent to the Lyndon Johnson regime.

Humphrey seemed within reach of the party's nomination on the first ballot tonight.

The Associated Press poll showed him within 146 votes of the 1,312 needed for nomination. The latest AP count of publicly committed and pledged delegates:

Humphrey 1,166 1/2
McCarthy 490 1/4
McGovern 52
Favorite sons 196 1/2
Uncommitted 716 1/2
Minnesota Senator Eugene McCarthy, after a published report he had conceded defeat, issued a statement saying he has by no means bowed to Humphrey.

Armed troops circle hotel from protesters

CHICAGO (AP)—About 800 National Guard troops armed with rifles surrounded the Conrad Hilton Hotel early today as 2,500 hippies and anti-war protesters, chased from a park by tear gas, gathered to demonstrate.

The Michigan Avenue hotel, just south of the heart of downtown Chicago, is the headquarters hotel for the Democratic national convention.

Both Vice-President Hubert Humphrey and Senator Eugene McCarthy, the two main contenders for the presidential nomination, have suites there.

James Rochford, deputy Chicago police superintendent, said the guardsmen took over a large share of the hotel duty because many of his police have been on duty 15 to 17 hours and were tired.

He said the 2,500 demonstrators in Grant Park, across the street from the hotel, were breaking the law and disturbing the peace, but he had no plans to move them out.

The demonstrators, who came to Chicago to "confront the war-makers" according to their literature, had gathered earlier in Lincoln Park or what has become a nightly confrontation with police.

Both Lincoln and Grant parks close at 11 p.m., although neither is fenced and both sprawl over large areas of Chicago.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE — Science is trying to find out what makes man tall or short, when we already know what makes us short!

Firm buys hospital factory site

J. W. Roy, representing his contracting firm, J. W. Roy Lee, yesterday bought for $70,000 the land which was to be used as the site of a hospital equipment factory.

Mr. Roy was bidding yesterday in Sheriff Donat Jacques' office at the Sherbrooke Court House against only one other interested party, the Belmont Limited, a real estate firm established in Montreal.

This firm was represented by Montreal lawyer Sandor Klein who stopped bidding at $67,000.

When Mr. Roy topped this bid by $3,000 and offered $70,000 for the site, Mr. Klein telephoned his employer in Montreal and said at the end of the phone call, "I won't, I won't," and smiled.

The deal was over. The $70,000 bid was not to be contested by the Montreal firm.

So, Mr. Roy bought for $70,000 the land which the City of Sherbrooke had sold to the Martos and Morin industrial firm for $9,466.25.

Mr. Martos and Mr. Morin had obtained the land, which Mayor Armard Nadeau said was worth $100,000 to the city, to construct a hospital equipment factory.

The two industrialists alleged they were being financially backed by French interests. However, the financial support never materialized and the cheque which Martos and Morin paid the city for $9,000 was returned from the bank marked not sufficient funds.

To complicate the situation, Mr. Roy's firm began excavating the land and Mr. Roy said he had put $78,109.83 work into the land.

If the city had repossessed the site from Martos and Morin, it would have been obliged to pay Mr. Roy's fees.

Mr. Roy brought a court action against the Martos and Morin firm to be paid for the work his firm had already completed on the land.

Law states that once a court action is taken against the owner of a property, if that property is sold, the action may continue against the purchaser.

The city, Mayor Nadeau said in May, could have bought back the land from the industrial firm for the price it was sold if the construction of the factory had not been started six months after the sale.

However, because of the above law, the city, if it had re-purchased the land, would have had to pay Mr. Roy.

Mayor Nadeau said in May the city could buy the land and use it to rent industrial space.

However, this deal never materialized and nothing more was mentioned of this idea after the mayor suggested the plan to council.

Mayor Nadeau said yesterday, when asked why the city hadn't bid for the land at yesterday's sale, that the city couldn't afford to pay $70,000 for the land.

Besides, he added, the land is frozen. It is in an industrial zone and can be used only for industrial purposes.

At yesterday's sale, Mr. Roy was determined to purchase the land.

When asked what he would do with the land, he said he would try to sell to recoup his losses on the site.

He said he has invested about $100,000 in it and said he would probably take a loss on the project anyway.

He said he has received no offers or proposals for the site.

Fraud on Wall Street?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has levelled fraud charges against Wall Street's biggest securities firm on grounds that it leaked a big-money secret only to certain major investors.

The regulatory agency set no date Tuesday when it announced hearings would be held on charges by its staff against the country's biggest and best known broker-dealer, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith.

Nine officers and five salesmen of the firm, as well as 15 institutional investors—the alleged receivers of the hot tip from Merrill Lynch—also were called on the carpet. The investors included the Madison Fund and Dreyfus Corp., top mutual funds.

"We are convinced that none of our people acted wrongfully and you can be sure we will defend our position vigorously," Merrill Lynch said in a statement issued in New York.

John Haire, chairman of ANCHOR Corp., into which Investors Management Co., one of the cited firms, was consolidated recently, said:

"To the best of our knowledge, we did not receive any non-public information regarding Douglas Aircraft from Merrill Lynch which was not available to us from other sources."

SIGN AGREEMENT — Sherbrooke Mayor Armand Nadeau signed the papers yesterday which officially closed the deal for the loan of over five million dollars from London and Paris banks through the ambassadorship of the Toronto-based Dominion Securities International Limited. This deal makes Sherbrooke the first city in the province to obtain a loan from the European market. On hand at the mayor's office were, left to right:

Herb Plow, Sherbrooke DSIL agent; Alderman Marcel Savard; the mayor; Olivier Routhier, city treasurer; and Bruce Maxwell, managing director of the company.

Drop debate

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Czechoslovakia asked the United Nations Security Council Tuesday to drop further debate on the invasion of that country by Soviet bloc troops.

The Czechoslovak request followed an announcement in Ottawa that Canada would not pass a resolution to have a United Nations representative go to Prague to see to the safety of Czechoslovak leaders.

Layman elected

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — The United Church of Canada has taken an unprecedented step and elected a layman as a chief executive officer.

Dr. Robert Baird McClure of Toronto was named moderator Tuesday night as the church's general council concluded the first day of a nine-day meeting.

News in brief

Expand party?

OTTAWA (CP) — Creditiste Leader Real Caouette is looking plans to expand his Quebec-based party to a national scale, starting with addition of provincial representatives at a fall convention.

The 50-year-old leader, all alone as chief federal spokesman of Social Credit philosophy after the Social Credit party's shutout in the June election, discussed his plans in an interview Tuesday night.

He expects followers of Social Credit philosophy from all parts of the country to attend the Oct. 12-13 party convention in Sherbrooke, Que.

A success

MONTREAL (CP) — Frank Schnabel, chairman of the World Federation of Hemophilia, says a successful human spleen transplant was carried out on a hemophilic patient at the University of Colorado Medical School in Denver last May.

"The operation was performed by Dr. Thomas E. Starzl," said Mr. Schnabel in an interview Tuesday.

Leader warns

MONTREAL (CP) — A French-Canadian nationalist leader threatened Tuesday to occupy a high school in suburban St. Leonard to support demands that bilingual classes for immigrant children be abolished in the community's Roman Catholic schools.

Raymond Lemieux, president of the Movement pour l'Integration Scolaire, which has led the fight to have the bilingual classes eliminated, made the threat following a meeting with St. Leonard school board officials.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Compulsive Gambling Is Really a Disease

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

(First of Two Related Columns.)

All life is a gamble but compulsive gambling, like compulsive drinking, is a disease. Gambling has ruled the lives of some great men. It was only when through gambling he found himself heavily in debt that Dostoevski was able to settle down to his writing. Gambling has taken many forms. Even insurance, when first conceived by Lloyds of London, was condemned as wagering. But, fortunately, it has survived as a useful and highly respectable form of gambling. For practical purposes gambling can be defined as wagering on the outcome of a game or event in which ostensibly chance plays a large part.

Lotteries, raffles and bingo are forms of gambling that have achieved some measure of dignity through their use to support various charities and, indeed, most participants indulge in them as a form of social rather than compulsive gambling. The compulsive gambler is a severely neurotic person. Gambling becomes his main interest in life and, when he is not actually participating, it fills his day dreams.

He does not learn anything from his repeated losses but rather, according to some authorities, he courts these losses as a form of self-punishment and a relief from a deep-seated sense of guilt. He revels in the misery he has caused himself and greatly enjoys a sense of self-pity. No matter how great his winnings, he is unable to stop until he has lost it all. When he is losing, he finds it even harder to stop. It doesn't really matter to him whether he is winning or losing—all he wants is to continue to gamble. He will always risk more than he can afford to lose.

The only gamblers who ever win consistently, day after day, are the professionals, and they do so by resorting to one form of trickery or another. Casinos and one-armed bandits also win because they are rigged to give the owner a certain edge. Statutes making gamoung illegal have been notoriously hard to enforce because it is so hard to draw a clear line between social gambling and racketeering.

Tomorrow's column will further describe the compulsive gambler and what can be done for him.

Cold, biting winds cut down the fair's attendance

Swirling gusts of wind sent bits of paper spiralling into the gun-metal sky, blank-eyed people, hands thrust deep, down in commercial-enterprise pants shivered and sped along the midway, heads lowered, unseeing.

It was a sad scene at the Sherbrooke fairgrounds yesterday as black, rain-filled clouds scudded slowly across the sky.

Even the usually loquacious carné barkers were hunched mournfully in their booths, occasionally staring skyward as if in search of some hippy-dippy, celestial weatherman.

A pall of apathy seemed to pervade the open-air part of the fairgrounds as hollow-cheeked game of chance operators peered glumly out at non-existent players, and little clusters of people sporadically wandered in and out of the fair entrance gates. Thursday, the midway will have another children's day.

But inside the agricultural building the usual sights, sounds and smell of the fair were ever present. By early afternoon the Holstein cattle judging which had begun in the morning had settled down in earnest.

The Great Imposter bungles this theft

STANSTEAD — (Special) — That truth is stranger than fiction seems to apply in the case of Allan Sheldon and his wife, Carol, of Stanstead. It all began the night of August 9 when their late model car was stolen in Stanstead.

Thursday morning, August 15, the Rock Island — Stanstead Police department were notified that the stolen car had been recovered in Montreal. The car was found abandoned on the city streets and impounded.

As soon as possible that Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon, highly elated, travelled to Montreal for their car. They went to the police station as directed carrying with them several papers of identification. The couple were stunned when the city police told them they were imposters.

The car had been released the previous evening to a man who identified himself as Allan Sheldon presenting for his identity Sheldon's car registration and license which had been in the stolen car.

Then, the imposter under the name of Allan Sheldon was arrested Monday night, August 12 in the city and charged with theft of groceries. He was released on a $25 bail and was to appear in court on August 26.

So far the stolen car has not been returned to its rightful owners, Allan and Carol Sheldon in Stanstead.

The same night that Sheldon's car was stolen the local police recovered a car from Connecticut which had been stolen in Montreal. The Connecticut man has his car and the local police believe it was used by someone who swapped it for Sheldon's to return to the city.

Brother, sister team wins award

A brother and sister from the St. Elie d'Orford Calf Club, Rejean and Colette Trepanier, were awarded the showmanship trophies for boys and girls last night at a banquet culminating three days of inter-calf club competition.

Rejean was presented the Carlo Fabi Trophy by Carlo Fabi, chairman of the Calf Club Committee and president of the ETAA in the arena's renovated banquet hall where last night's event was held.

Colette Trepanier was awarded the Magog Kiwanis Club Trophy, presented by Kiwanian Lawrence Taylor.

The competition was open to all young farmers between the ages of 12 and 25 who are members of Eastern Townships calf clubs.

There were 185 competitors this year.

At the banquet, the young farmers were wished success, congratulated and urged to continue their hard work by Sherbrooke MLA Raymond Fréchette.

They were also addressed by agronomes from the Quebec Department of Agriculture. The city was represented by fair directors Tony Pinard and Robert Gauthier.

The Grand Champion of the competition this year was a young girl from the Compton calf club, Francine Genest. She was awarded the Carnation Trophy, presented by Carnation Co. Ltd. representative, Raymond Kerwin. Miss Genest also won the Ayrshire Association Trophy for having the best Ayrshire calf at the show. This trophy was handed out by Warren Ross, president of the Quebec Ayrshire Club.

The Reserve Grand Champion was Rock Letourneau of the Ayer's Cliff calf club.

He was presented the Carnation Trophy by Mr. Kerwin.

Kelly Ross of the Lennoxville Club was voted the best young farmer at the show and won the Purina Trophy awarded by Robert Gauthier, Sherbrooke alderman.

The boy voted to have the best attitude and comportment during the show, Yvon Audet of the Compton club, was awarded the L. F. Codere Trophy by Len O'Donnell, past president of the Sherbrooke fair.

The best judging score award, the Shorthorn Trophy winner, was the Richmond team comprised of Braden Goodfellow and Jocelyn Courchesne. This trophy was presented by Joseph Audet, agronomer, director of programming in the Quebec Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Goodfellow also earned the highest judges' individual score and won the Stephen Boily Trophy presented by Mr. Audet.

Laurie Nault of the St. Claude Calf Club compiled the highest judges' score for a girl and won the Master Feed Trophy awarded by Gaston Marcoux representing his company.

The best Holstein award, presented by the Holstein Association, was won by Micheline Beaulieu of the Lennoxville Club.

Teams were judged on the basis of best-kept stables.

Will the real Foamtreads stand up? For years.

We know that active children treat footwear roughly, so Kaufman Foamtreads are made extra tough to last and last.

Foamtreads may cost a little more than ordinary slippers, because only the finest quality materials are used. Foamtread slippers for children are softer, lighter and a lot more comfortable. They're washable, too. And the leather outsoles won't scuff or mark your floors.

Choose from a wide range of styles for boys and girls. While you're at it, pick out a pair for yourself.

Population of Caribbean city leaps in three years

The growth and industrial progress of Freeport, Grand Bahamas is moving ahead at a rapid speed, Henry Downs, former president of Union Screen Plate, Lennoxville, told members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, yesterday.

Mr. Downs lives in Freeport and Florida during the colder months and returns to the Sherbrooke area during the summer. He will be leaving in two weeks for Freeport.

In a period of about three years, Freeport's population increased from 6,500 to 20,000, said the guest speaker.

Twelve years ago, the town of 210 square miles was built on a touristic and industrial basis.

"People started piling in when they established a gambling-casino," Mr. Downs said.

Among its industries, said the speaker, the town boasts of a $50,000,000 cement plant, a subsidiary of US Steel Company and a $7,000,000 Syntex plant.

He said Revelon has established a warehouse system in Freeport and if sales increase, the company will be able to venture into manufacturing.

Freeport's harbor has one of the largest bunkering systems in North America, said Mr. Downs.

"Everywhere you go, all you can see is earth moving machinery," said the speaker.

The Freeport Rotary Club, of which Mr. Downs is a member, obtained its charter in 1961 and this year was taken into the Florida East district, he said.

Among the club's activities was the organization of an athletic field for youth which has been put under the operation of the YMCA, said Mr. Downs.

Among the town's other assets, Mr. Downs mentioned a 24-story apartment-hotel and a Holiday Inn complex which contains several hundred units.

Ottawa memorial plan should be accepted

The long drawn-out dispute over the proposed memorial to Sir Alexander Tilloch Galt, first Canadian Minister of Finance and Member of Parliament for Sherbrooke immediately after Confederation, is illustrative of the troubles which arise when one party which is prepared to spend the money leaves much of the responsibility for the decisions up to a second group.

In this particular case the federal government is prepared to erect a monument to Sir Alexander, a decision taken when proposals to move his old residence came to naught because of the collapse of the house during moving operations.

But the memorial chosen by Ottawa has proved unacceptable to certain local organizations who favor a traditional bust of the Father of Confederation to the rather modernistic sculpture selected by the federal administration.

With all parts of the country demanding federal expenditures for this or that historical project, it is understandable that Ottawa is anxious for a final decision by the Sherbrooke people.

On the precept that half-a-loaf is better than no bread, it would be logical for the local groups to accept the Ottawa proposals even if it does not meet their desires.

And, as descendants of Sir Alexander point out, he was something of a modernist and probably would have selected something like the Ottawa sculpture if he had been given a choice.

Nowadays, you need a plain wrapper to carry a good paperback novel in public, the way they're orging-up the covers.

Fair midway problems

Midway entertainment may not be the prime purpose of an agricultural and industrial exhibition such as the Sherbrooke Fair.

But the fact remains that the midway plays an important part in attracting the public to the exhibition and if a fair loses popular support through main gate admissions its future is grim indeed.

Thus the concern displayed by President Carlo Fabi and the directors of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association at the poor standards established by the midway operators during the past few years is understandable.

The concessionaire has made repeated promises that the quality of attractions provided would be improved but to all appearances little or nothing has been done to better the situation, with the rides and other presentations proving of little interest to prospective patrons.

Best hope for future improvement rests in the fact that the fair directors themselves realize the unsatisfactory situation and are planning serious action to remedy conditions.

Perhaps the greatest need is a complete change of thinking toward the midway, not only at the local fair but at all other events of this nature.

Perhaps there has been too much affection for the traditional, too much dependence upon the old favorites.

Whether one fair or even a small group of fairs could do anything toward meeting the change in entertainment concepts may be debatable but it might be advantageous to review the whole problem.

People aren't getting better; it's just that it's getting more difficult all the time to find something to do that's considered naughty.

William Lyon Mackenzie, Toronto's first mayor and leader in Upper Canada of the rebellion of 1837, died 107 years ago today—in 1861—aged 66. He was a sworn foe of the Family Compact though not an advocate of democracy. After three years in the Upper Canada legislature, he was expelled for breach of privilege and not allowed to resume his seat even though his constituents re-elected him five times. He went to the United States, returned to Canada and politics in 1849 but soon retired.

In CEGEP dispute

English disunity blocks plan

There has been a great deal of progress in developing a junior college of CEGEP network in the Province in the French-speaking community. The same cannot be said for the junior college development program in the English-speaking community.

On the French-speaking side, the CEGEP program began last year. Twelve of the colleges were open in the first year, and they served some 12,000 students all across the province. This fall 10 more will open, and the total of students enrolled will lead to about 35,000. Within a few years, it is expected that 30 to 35 of these colleges will be operating. Yet there are no official plans to open even one English-speaking CEGEP this year, and it is doubtful, if action is not taken soon, that one could open a year from September.

Late last week, two developments occurred affecting the English CEGEP program. The first was the release of a report by a committee of the Superior Council of Education which urged the government to grant a charter for the first English college, to be called Dawson College, in Montreal. The report also outlined a broad plan which would create a series of four or five English colleges around the province in the next few years, and sketched a "phasing out" formula to allow English universities and schools to adapt themselves to the new system.

The second development was the resignation of the 22 members of the organizing committee for Dawson College. They were made to protest the fact that the Minister of Education, Mr. Jean-Guy Cardinal, had not granted a charter to Dawson College.

At the press conference to announce the resignations, both the universities and the Government were blamed for the delay.

The Government is said to be reluctant to grant the charter because there is no consensus in the English community on the CEGEP program, and the universities contended they are not responsible for the delay. In fact, they would welcome the establishment of the CEGEP program.

The exercise of assessing blame is not likely to speed the process or get the program off the ground. It is little wonder the government is reluctant to grant a charter while the air is filled with charges and counter-charges and while there appears to be so many conflicting opinions about how the English CEGEP program should develop among the very people who will be responsible for it.

The problems in developing a junior college program on the English side are considerable, and they differ from the problems faced by the French-speaking CEGEP program.

For one, on the French side, the CEGEP's could and were developed by using facilities of classical colleges, combined with intermediate institutions. In other words, in many cases, the physical and some of the administrative structures were already there.

ready there for the new CEGEP's to build on. On the English side, there are no such advantages. The program will have to start from nothing, both physically and administratively. This makes the job of planning infinitely more difficult for the English CEGEP program.

The universities also must consider the financial aspects of the CEGEP program. Will it mean that they will have to take cuts in their Government grants in the next few years so that the English colleges can be financed? These are just a few of the problems.

But all these problems can be overcome. As one university administrator put it: "It is not a university problem." The fact is that while CEGEPs will accommodate students who eventually will go on to university, the greater number of students in these colleges will be those taking post-secondary courses in technical and vocational studies. This is a side of education in the English-speaking community which has not been developed to the full, and this is where the real need lies in developing an English CEGEP network.

At the moment, the universities are virtually the only place where a student can get education beyond high school, yet the majority of students leaving school cannot qualify for university, and so become "drop-outs," or drop into the labor force with inadequate training. The need to offer further education for these students is urgent, and their need should be the first priority.

Whatever way the CEGEP may develop in years ahead; whatever reservations the universities may have (even if they are justified); there is no doubt that this large group of under-educated young people in the English community must be provided the same opportunities that their French-speaking counterparts now have. And they must be provided them quickly.

Many members of the English community have worked for months drawing up plans and putting forward proposals. But the fact remains that they have not put up a common front, either because of misunderstanding or lack of communication.

It would take very little to get all parties together at the same table to agree on a few fundamental points. It could be achieved in a matter of weeks, and there is every reason to believe that faced with a common front, the Government would act on a charter, the necessary first step to making Dawson College a reality.

The PRAYER FOR TODAY FROM The Upper Room

How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business? (Luke 2:49)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for entrusting us with Thy great ministry. Give us strength and courage to carry on Thy business for Thy glory and honor. Amen.

Economic council of Canada

Canada's labor force increases but its productivity is low

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's labor force has grown faster, but its output per man-hour worked has grown less in the last five years than the Economic Council of Canada said would be needed if the country is to reach the fullness of its potential by 1970.

Unemployment has consistently run far ahead of the council's economic goal of not more than three per cent of the labor force looking for work.

While productivity rose above the council's projection at the middle of the decade, it now is not expanding as much as the council wished, and this slack is causing real concern for the future.

When the council was set up in 1963 it was asked for advice on how Canada could achieve full employment and a high rate of economic growth, along with reasonable stability of prices, a viable balance of international payments, and an equitable distribution of rising incomes.

Its first report, released in January, 1965, used 1963 figures to set goals and targets for Canadian achievement in 1970. These were not forecasts of what would happen, but indications of "productive capabilities under reasonable expectations of performance."

The council said that measuring Canada's full potential by the end of the decade depended on the size and structure of the labor force, the extent to which it is employed, and the productiveness of the workers employed.

PROJECTION EASY
Projecting the size of the labor force was not difficult. As a council member said at the time: "The people in the labor force in the late 1960s and 1970s are already here, now. They are in school and they'll be graduating or leaving school to go to work as the years pass."

The population statistics and the post-war baby boom meant, even with limited immigration, the addition of over 1,000,000 persons to the labor force between 1965 and 1970. This is unprecedented, and means that Canada is moving towards one of the highest rates of labor-force expansion in its entire history.

There were 6,745,000 Canadians in the labor force in 1963, and this was expected to grow to more than 7,883,000 by 1970. According to the council's projections, the labor force this year would be in the neighborhood of 7,600,000—and in May it was 7,870,000.

It has thus already reached nearly the goal set for a date 18 months hence.

The council predicted that the largest growth in the labor force would be in the younger age group, aged 20 to 24. It was expected to increase by one-third between 1965 and 1970, and by 57 per cent for the 1960s as a whole.

STUDENTS FEEL PINCH

This has proved to be the case, with large numbers of students leaving school this spring to become active participants in the labor force. It has also been the case that unemployment this summer was greatest among this group.

Potatoes grow again

VICTORIA (CP) — Great Zot! The golden nematode is dead.

Seriously, it could be the biggest news of the decade for farmers in the Saanich area north of this British Columbia capital.

For the first time in two years potatoes are growing again, although the crop can only be moved within the still-extant quarantine area.

The quarantine was slapped on when the nematode was found in the area. The golden nematode is often—but inaccurately—called a worm. It's closer to a tiny "mite" which attacks root fibres of certain crop plants although it leaves the actual potato tuber, for example, untouched.

T. C. Karr, in charge of nematode control and research, said that last year the ban was partially lifted and the whole area freed for planting in January. Farmers of the area are cultivating the crop despite the transportation embargo.

Saanich Fruit Growers' Association president T. G. Michell said last year 80 acres were fallow, but this year were used for the potato crop.

BLAME IMPORTS
Mr. Karr said there is still a chance that areas previously infested could be re-infested. This is why the quarantine area has not been lifted by the federal government.

He said some farms were so infested that they had to be prohibited from growing potato crops until this year. The whole area, largely in central Saanich, was placed under quarantine to limit possible spread of the nematode.

"The infested farms no longer are considered in such a dangerous light as before they were treated," Mr. Karr said. But the area still has not got a clean bill of health.

"All we know is on the last check we haven't found any nematodes—live ones."

He said officials still are certain the infestation started with some kind of imports, possibly some kind of contaminated soil or plant from Europe.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (Reuters)—Insuring jewelry is becoming increasingly expensive in Florida and some wealthy and socially prominent people are adding a new brand of insurance—a pistol.

Pistol-packing widows are flocking to firing ranges in the area to learn how to handle guns.

Phoebe Morse, a well-known social figure who has been robbed in her own home four times in 15 years, said: "I practise marksmanship at least once a week. I have become such a good shot that I can draw from the hip and be about 80 to 85 per cent accurate in my shooting."

Mrs. Morse said her insurance company cancelled her policies after her third robbery. "I had a fourth robbery and no insurance—and I did not get my jewelry back.

"This"—and she patted a heavy handgun—"is a different kind of insurance."

Says experience helps when buying antiques

EDMONTON (CP) — Nothing beats experience in buying antiques, says Mrs. Robert Laing of Edmonton.

Definite advice on what and what not to buy is almost impossible to give, she said in an interview.

"You only get to know by experience what real rose-wood, for instance, looks like."

But she has some pointers: —Keep your eyes open. —The first place to look is underneath each item. She looks for any trademark, the standard of workmanship or signs of manufacture that indicate age.

—Take time and watch other people buying.

Threatened pilot strike dissolves

MONTREAL (CP) — Air Canada maintained uninterrupted service Tuesday and early today when a threatened strike by its pilots dissolved with ratification of a new 27-month contract.

The company's 1,122 pilots—who under the terms of their former contract earn between $6,600 and $28,000 annually—voted by a "substantial majority" to accept the agreement worked out last week.

Terms of the new contract, retroactive to July 1 with a rider that the new pay scales only will be retroactive to April 1 when the former contract expired, will give the pilots a 10-per-cent increase immediately and a further seven per cent after 15 months.

The pilots originally had asked for a 21-per-cent boost.

Air Canada officials, expressing pleasure at settling the dispute without a strike, said the new contract would add $6,700,000 in wages to its existing $15,000,000 annual pay bill.

DIDN'T GIVE FIGURES

Cleve Kidd, executive vice-president of the Canadian Air Line Pilots Association, did not disclose the figures in the vote beyond announcing a "substantial majority" had expressed themselves in favor of the latest offer.

Mr. Kidd sent telegrams Tuesday night to regional union councils in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver announcing ratification and that the "agreement will be signed as soon as amendments to the contract have been completed."

Ivan W. Saunders, president, Progressive Publications Inc., announces the appointment of Robert H. Butler as Sales Development Manager. Mr. Butler has an impressive background in sales, public relations and advertising, having occupied executive positions with English and French newspapers as well as radio and television stations.

Kennedy will no doubt be named

CHICAGO (CP) — It seems certain that the name of Senator Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts will be entered tonight for the Democratic party presidential nomination.

This is despite his reiterated non-interest and his request Monday to backers to halt nomination plans.

It is hard to believe that at this stage supporters of the senator can fan a Kennedy boomlet into a stampede sweeping aside vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey, who has maintained a solid leadership-race lead despite growing skepticism that he can beat Republican nominee Richard Nixon Nov. 5.

The magic of the Kennedy name will move the convention deeply. Edward is the last of the Kennedy brothers, two of whom were assassinated while in public office. They were president John F. and New York

Senator Robert, who had been a declared candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination this year.

It seems too late for the Kennedy boom to propel him into presidential nomination this year. However, hardened party professionals such as Chicago Mayor Richard Daley yearn for a sure winner and see the most potential in Kennedy.

But Kennedy at 36 is young and his Senate career, in which he has stepped on few toes, has been restrained. The year 1972 would seem more auspicious for him.

There also is the fact that the Kennedy clan firmly allocates family responsibilities. Edward now is head of a Kennedy generation which has 12 fatherless children.

He has turned aside inquiries from Vice-President Hubert

Humphrey, the likely presidential nominee, as to whether he would be his vice-presidential running mate.

A major barrier to any Kennedy candidacy now is the hard line on Vietnam which has emerged from the Democratic platform committee.

Kennedy, in a speech in Worcester, Mass., last Wednesday, made clear how much he is in disagreement with this hard line.

OFFERED A PROGRAM — He called for an unconditional end to the bombing of North Vietnam and offered a program to end the war by negotiations with Hanoi, withdrawal of all foreign forces from South Vietnam and a rebuilding of the political, economic and legal structure of South Vietnam.

Yet the appetite for Kennedy remains strong in the Democratic camp.

There is nostalgia here for the John F. Kennedy era as time steadily blurs the reality of the late president's achievements.

There is frustration over the lack-lustre enthusiasm generated by the current crop of Democratic candidates.

And the latest Louis Harris public opinion poll has spurred party concern by showing Nixon leading all the active Democratic candidates in public popularity.

Senator Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, floor manager for another candidate, Senator George McGovern, said Kennedy would "sweep this convention" if he tried openly for the prize.

SCOUT NEWS

Quebec Scouts well prepared in disaster

With the Fleur de Lis still flying from the only camp gate standing following the gale force winds and rain, the 27 representatives of the Quebec Scout Council had erected their flattened tents and were preparing hot coffee and pea soup for any of the washed out 2500 campers who happened by.

It all had started during the supper hour on the fifth day of the First Ontario Jamboree when heavy rains began to saturate the clay dominated camping grounds of the Kelso Conservation area. The sky just starting to brighten when the heavens opened up with a deluge of rain and strong gusting winds to flatten and wash out the campsite. No one was injured but two Quebec Scouts received the fright of their young lives when lightning struck almost inside their tent.

The entire camp evacuated later the same night and nearly 2000 Scouts were accommodated in private homes in Milton, a community of 6400 residents. The remaining campers were housed in local church halls and the Milton Ontario School for the Deaf.

NATIONAL SCOUT SAILING — Brian Bydwell of the Lake St. Louis Venturers and Eric Vandriel of the Baie d'Urfe Sea Scout Troop, crewed to a second place finish at the Boy Scouts of Canada 8th National Regatta recently held at the Royal Kennebecasis Yacht Club in Saint John, New Brunswick.

Only two points separated them from the second Quebec entry, a crew from the Lake St. Louis Venturers. Ron Lockyer and Philip de Belle earned third place in the National event.

The Vandriel crew was less than five points off the winning crew from Alberta. The National Scout sailing Competitions are held yearly in various locations across Canada and use the Flying Junior sailcraft for all events.

LABOR DAY CLOSING — The Scout Centre in Dorval will close for the Labor Day Holiday from 5 p.m. on Friday.

closed are the office, Scout shop and Scout book and badge store. All facilities will open again at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday.

PIONNIER CONFERENCE — Quebec Commissioners for Venturer Scouts, Milton Haynes of Verdun, will represent the Boy Scouts of Canada at a conference in Trois Rivieres sponsored by French speaking Canadian Scouts, Les Scouts du Canada. The three day meetings will take place over the Labor Day weekend and will be attended by leaders of Les Scouts in the Pionnier section for boys age 14-17 years.

KENTUCKY SCOUTS — A large party of Scouts from Boy Scouts of America out of Louisville, Kentucky are this week visiting Man and His World. Using Camp Anderson for sleeping and meal preparation, the 54 Scouts and 6 leaders are also taking in historical Montreal and exchanges with Canadian Scouts at the Scout Pavilion.

Travelling by bus and two cars, the party made stops at Niagara Falls and Quebec City on their way to Montreal and plan to spend one day seeing our capital city, Ottawa. Leader Tom Riggs said the entire trip will cover 2900 miles and will be completed in 15 days.

FILM BOARD — Finally able to repay the many good turns, Boy Scouts of Canada are this week providing the technical know-how for a series on youth being filmed by the National Film Board near Calogobie, Ontario.

Scouter Ortelio Fernandez is providing the outdoor skill knowledge while Scout office secretary, Mrs. Barbara Wheelon takes over as chef for the two week experience. The Montreal Scout office is loaning camping equipment.

The film will be based on the theme — youth can survive with knowledge — and the actors are eight to 12-year-old boys and girls not necessarily members of Guides or Scouts. Mr. Fernandez will teach the group how to survive taking maximum advantage of nature's environment.

Benito Garrozzo and Giorgio Belladonna of Italy's World Champion Blue Team are also members of Omar Sharif's Bridge Circus currently touring the United States and Canada.

They bid and play the dummy well but their real forte is brilliant defense. A large part of this defense consists in giving declarer a chance to go wrong in accordance with Parkinson's first law of bridge: "Any time a player has a chance to make a mistake, he may make it." There was nothing remarkable about Benito's opening lead. Even the Italians open their partner's suit.

Dog sniffs out arsonists

SHUBENACADIE, N.S. (CP) — Major, a German shepherd tracking dog, has been sniffing out suspected arsonists in Nova Scotia forests this summer.

Lellie Corkum, supervisor of forest protection for the Nova Scotia lands and forests department, says: "We now know names and faces that we didn't know before."

He estimates about one-sixth of the scrub and forest fires in the province this season have been set by arsonists. Most fires are caused accidentally by man, with only about five per cent set by natural causes such as lightning.

Mr. Corkum said he believes Major is the only tracking dog working in the forest protection field.

Armada's Objective
The objective of the Spanish armada was to invade England and restore Catholicism there. Destruction of this fleet meant the preservation of Protestant faith in England.

Braves trounce A's 12-4, tie lacrosse finals 1-1

VALLEYFIELD — (Staff) — Valleyfield Braves proved last night that Drummondville can be beat and in an impressive manner romped to a decisive 12-4 win over the League-champion A's. The win by Valleyfield tied the Quebec Lacrosse League playoff finals at 1-1.

The A's opened the finals Sunday night by trouncing the Braves 15-5 in Drummondville. The Braves took the lead in the first period 5-3 and from there on never looked back. Valleyfield scored these three goals in 16 seconds near the end of the period.

Valleyfield stretched their lead to 7-4 in the second and tallied five more in the third to earn a very important victory. The playoffs continue tomorrow night in Drummondville.

Dave Sundae with the hat-trick and Jean Cusson with a pair of goals lead the Braves offensively. Other scorers for Valleyfield were Abe Thomas, Mike Landry, Richard Fawthrop, Yves Paquette, Paul Donahue, Laurence Martin and Mike Collins.

For Drummondville offensively, goal-getters were Ray Fortin, Marcel Gaudreau, Ron Ward and Allen Herrington. Of the 15 penalties called, Drummondville took eight. The Braves outshot the A's 48-26.

Giants whip Cubs 8-4, Mets blank Cards 2-0

Bobby Bonds and Willie Mays have a lot in common, Chicago Cubs will tell you the resemblance is frightening.

Bonds, San Francisco's promising rookie outfielder, cracked a pair of homers and knocked in six runs Tuesday night as the surging Giants whipped the Cubs 8-4.

The 22-year-old speedster, recently singled out by teammate Mays as "the guy who could take my place," accounted for five runs with his fourth and fifth homers after delivering one with a bases-loaded ground out.

Bonds' slugging helped the second place Giants, who have won 14 of their last 17 starts, pick up a game on St. Louis Cardinals, the National League leaders who were beaten 2-0 by New York Mets. Cincinnati Reds blasted Philadelphia Phillies 10-0, Pittsburgh Pirates nipped Atlanta Braves 4-3 in 11 innings and Houston Astros beat Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 in other NL games.

Bonds, who set a modern major league record by hitting a grand slam homer in his first game three months ago, gave right-hander Bob Bolin a 1-0 lead in the second inning with his bases-loaded grounder. He greeted Chicago reliever Jack Lamabe with a 400-foot homer, good for three RBI, in the fourth and connected off Bill Stoneman with one on in the sixth.

He is batting .257, with 21 RBI, in 49 games with the Giants.

HART CAPS ATTACK

Jim Hart's two-run single in the sixth capped the Giants' attack, enabling Bolin to breeze to his seventh victory in 11 decisions. Willie Smith, who made his first pitching appearance for

Mets take Als 1-0, Miners win, Cards nip Indians 3-1

Sherbrooke Alouettes and the Drummondville Royals hung up their cleats last night for the season following their elimination from the Provincial League Baseball semi-finals by the Lachine Mets and the Thetford Miners.

Last night the Lachine Mets' Ronnie Benoit scampered across home plate in the bottom of the eighth to bring Sherbrooke's season to an abrupt end 1-0. The run was scored as a result of a costly error by Als starter, Pedro Sierra, who had allowed the Mets only six hits in the game.

In other Provincial League playoff action last night the Miners edged the Royals 7-5 in Thetford to take the semi-final "B" Series 3-1. Homers by Bouier, McKee and Giroux of the Miners made the difference. The three homers drove six runs across the plate.

A pair of errors by the Quebec Indians in the eleventh inning last night in the Capital City gave the Granby Cardinals a 3-1 win and stretched their Series "A" lead to 3-1. The Cards and the Indians will play a best-of-nine series to determine who will meet the winner of the Mets-Miners series in the finals.

Sherbrooke, as a result of last night's game, ended the season dropping the semi-final Series "C" playoffs 3-1. The crucial play which resulted in the Mets' win last night developed due to an error to Sierra. Ronnie Benoit singled. Ino Alarcorn dribbled a slow bouncer to the mound. Sierra grabbed the ball and in the ensuing play over-shot first on the throw.

As a result of the error Benoit rounded second and went on to take third safely. Mateo Balbona's sacrifice fly drove Benoit home to give the Mets a 1-0 lead. Balbona lead the Mets offensively with a double and a single and for the Als, Testa also doubled and singled. Sherbrooke 000 000 000-0 5 2 Lachine 000 000 1x-1 6 0 Sierra and Testa; Ino Alarcorn and Ramirez.

Ticats and Als tangle tonight in Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats will try to solve their line-backing problems with a player switch and Montreal Alouettes will go with two new players when the teams meet here tonight in an Eastern Football Conference game.

The game will be televised nationally on the CTV network starting at 8 p.m. EDT with the Montreal area blacked out.

The Ticats plan to test both John Michaluk and former Alouette Wilbert Scott at corner and middle linebacker, freeing John Barrow to return to tackle. Michaluk, in his third year with Hamilton, started the season at linebacker but was replaced by Barrow for the last two games.

Injury and a draft notice are worrying two Hamilton tackles. Terry Ireland will be returned to the injury reserve list for another 15 days as his knee remains troublesome.

MAY BE EXEMPT
Charlie Turner has received his marching papers but coach Joe Restic said he may be exempt because of family-support obligations.

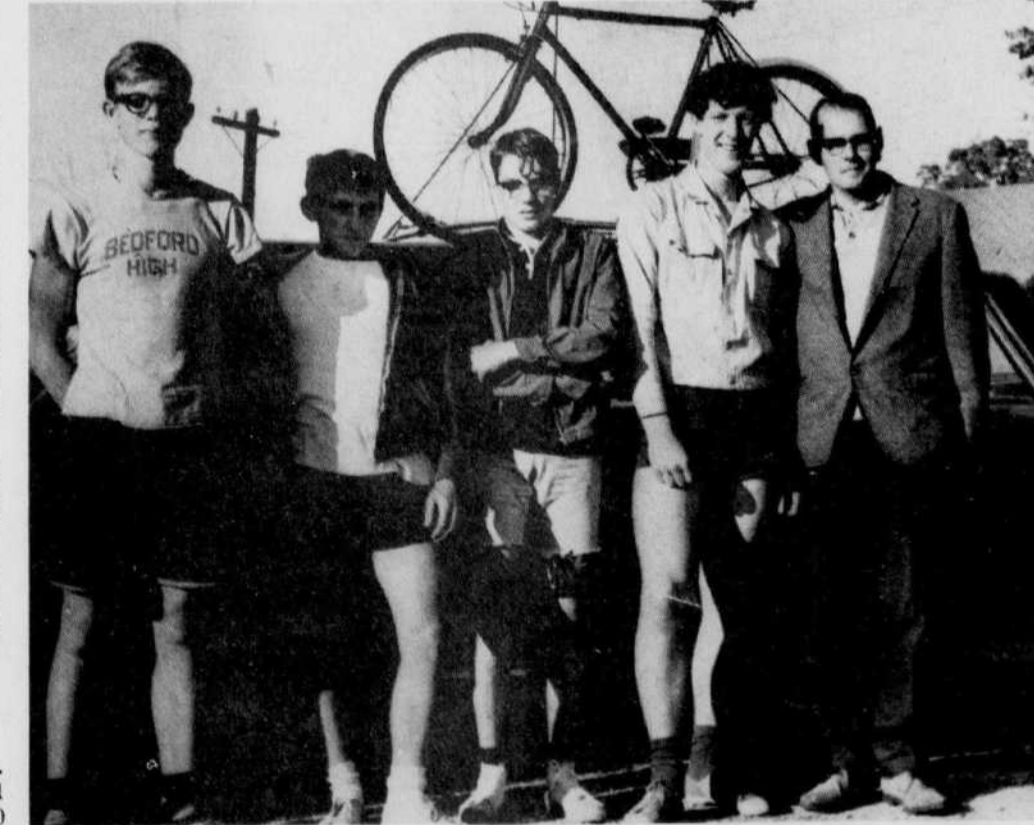

Montreal's newcomers are Metro Gerela, a field goal kicker, and speedy back Dennis Duncan.

Gerela, brother of Ted Gerela of British Columbia Lions of the Western Football Conference, has booted several field goals from the 40-yard line since coming to Montreal last week.

He was cut last month after trying out with Green Bay Packers of the National Football League and was later released by Calgary Stampeders of the WFC.

Duncan was cut recently by Houston Oilers of the American Football League.

Gerela will get a crack at place kicking now handled by defensive end John Baker while Duncan may get a chance to play in Andy Walton's offensive backfield spot. Rick Egloff, another new face who played against Ottawa last Thursday, will replace injured Billy Woods at cornerback.

St. Armand cycling team wins La Jeunesse de Bedford race

BEDFORD — (Special) — La Jeunesse de Bedford's marathon bicycle rally high aggregate was won by Calvin MacArthur with the winning team being a group of cyclists from St. Armand. The event was held recently in the Bedford area with the course covering a distance of 85 miles.

Eleven teams participated in the race with Bedford's team placing a close second. A total of 44 contestants were entered. The racers left from Bedford Friday afternoon and cycled to Philipsburg and then onto St. Armand where they stopped for the night.

Saturday the contestants peddled from St. Armand to Frelighsburg and later in the afternoon continued to Dunham, Stanbridge East, at which town a closed circuit five-mile race was held, and concluded the day at St. Ignace de Stanbridge.

Sunday the 44 contestants cycled to Pike River, Stanbridge Station and concluded the course back in Bedford. A closed circuit 10-mile race was held here.

Following the closed circuit run the racers were received by Mayor Craighead and councillors T. G. Shepard, G. Groulx, Marc Morin, J. B. Beaudard and K. Best at a civic reception. All the participants signed the Town's Golden Book after which a presentation of prizes took place in the Town Hall. One hundred dollars in prize money was given to the winning team from St. Armand.

Of the 44 contestants entered, 21 finished the race. Mr. Shepard and William MacArthur acted as mechanics for the cyclists.

Canadian champs arrive at Dorval

"It was the end of a great adventure." This was the combined statement of Coach Amedee Roy and Manager Yves Dubreuil upon their arrival at Dorval Airport last evening.

The team fresh from a two-day visit to Washington, D.C., was welcomed by their parents and Sher-Lenn Little League officials. The plane was an hour late on arrival but this didn't dampen the enthusiasm of those waiting in the rotunda for over an hour and a half.

Coach Roy, on his arrival in Sherbrooke, stated he was very pleased with the success attained. "The boys played as a unit with every player carrying his share and this was a big factor in their march to the Little World Series," further added Coach Roy.

"I am pleased with every one on the squad. They are a great bunch and played well considering the competition they were up against. We played the best in the world and every one who helps support Little League should be very proud of them," stated Coach Roy.

The Sher-Lenn squad in their march to the Canadian title thrilled hundreds of supporters in every game they played. The pitching of Normand Houle, and Yves Longpre was tops and combined with the great team work in the infield and outfield made them a dangerous unit.

No matter where they played they were well received and earned the applause of all who saw them play. Their popularity grew with each game and supporters from Dorval, Cowansville, Montreal and Windsor, Ont., followed them right to Williamsport for the World Series. This was a great tribute to a great team, stated Coach Roy.

At the start of the playoffs Coach Roy had one ambition and that was to win the Canadian championship and how he accomplished it is now history. Coach Roy built his team into a fighting unit.

He instilled his ambition into his players and they responded with their great playing. The team played as a unit and each game saw a different player coming through with the key play.

Much credit must be given to Amedee Roy and Yves Dubreuil for their outstanding work in building the team into such an outstanding squad. The citizens of Sherbrooke should be proud of the boys who brought such great fame to our City.

President Harry Kouri has called for a special meeting this evening to arrange the semi-finals and finals of the Sher-Lenn Little League. Play has been at a stand still for the past ten days owing to the team taking part in Dominion and World Series.

Orioles win while Tigers drop 2-1 decision to Sox on error

Merv Rettenmund distinguished himself Tuesday night with a game-winning home run while pinch hitting for a pinch hitter.

The rookie outfielder, recently recalled from the minor leagues, slammed his first major league homer with one on and one out and lifted Baltimore Orioles to a 5-3 victory over Oakland Athletics in the opener of a two-tight doubleheader.

When the Orioles won the nightcap 7-2 and Detroit Tigers lost to Chicago White Sox 2-1, Baltimore found itself only four games behind the American League leading Tigers.

The Orioles haven't been that close to the lead since June 10 when Detroit led Cleveland Indians by only three games.

The Tigers gave the White Sox the winning run in the ninth inning on second baseman Tom Matchick's throwing error.

Off in the distance Boston Red Sox stomped Cleveland Indians 7-1 and New York Yankees stopped California Angels 2-0 before losing 2-0 in afternoon contests. At night, Minnesota Twins blasted Washington Senators 7-1 after losing 2-0 in a twilighter.

LOST THEIR LEAD
Curt Blefary had given the Orioles a 3-0 lead with his 11th homer in the fourth inning, but the Orioles found themselves deadlocked 3-3 after Reggie Jackson, Rick Monday and Sal Bando unloaded solo homers in the seventh for the Athletics.

Blefary singled with one out in the ninth off losing right-hander Jack Aker, 3-3, and when left-handed Elrod Hendricks was sent up to pinch hit for Larry Haney Oakland switched to left-hander Warren Bogle.

Continuing the game of platooning, Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver called on Hendricks.

The 25-year-old right-handed hitter, making his ninth appearance at the plate this season, responded by belting the first pitch over the left field fence. He now has a single, two doubles and a homer for a .444 batting average.

Wally Bunker, another recall from the minors this year, took care of the nightcap with a six-hitter in his first start since Aug. 7. He is 2-0.

Blefary and Don Buford, No. 13, supplied the home run power in the nightcap, both connecting off Aker in the fifth inning, and Dave Johnson stole home during a three-run fourth inning rally.

EDMONTON (CP) — How important is punting in professional football?

Neill Armstrong, head coach of the Western Conference Edmonton Eskimos, said Tuesday: "It can mean the difference of winning or losing a game in the Canadian Football League. . . . If a coach expects to have a championship team he needs a good punter."

Armstrong's Eskimos may need an improved brand of punting tonight when they play host to Calgary Stampeders in a key WFC contest for both clubs.

A Calgary win would move the Stampeders into sole possession of first place, while an Edmonton victory would give the Eskimos a share of the lead in the five-team conference.

Saskatchewan leads the conference with seven points, one more than Calgary and two ahead of Edmonton. British Columbia has four points and Winnipeg two.

For tonight's game, to be televised over the CTV western network at 8 p.m. MST with an Edmonton blackout, Armstrong expects to have injured Mike Law and Ron Forwick in uniform for a contingent of 32 players.

Law has missed several games with a separated shoulder and Forwick sat out last week's 12-4 setback on home grounds to British Columbia.

HAVE SEVERAL IFS
The Stampeders, also surprised 19-7 by Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Conference in a CFL clash last Wednesday in Calgary, have several "ifs" for tonight's game.

The Stampeders, 28-3 victors over the Eskimos in a July 7 exhibition game, have Ted Woods, Gerry Shaw and punter Jim Furlong as doubtful starters. Furlong and Shaw are recovering from knee injuries and Furlong suffered bruises against the Argonauts.

Meanwhile, Armstrong said the punting situation in Canada is better than most fans would like to believe.

"There are a few inexperienced punters such as our own Garry Lefebvre and Ted Gerela of British Columbia, but other than that the CFL has excellent kickers."

Armstrong listed Dave Mann of Toronto and Joe Zuger of Hamilton as the best in the EFC at the present time, but failed to pick the top western punter, although Alan Ford of Saskatchewan and Ed Ulmer of Winnipeg were mentioned as "two consistent ones."

In five games for both Calgary and Edmonton, the Stampeders' combination of Furlong and Larry Robinson won an unofficial 40.7 average on 41 kicks.

SHAVING STROKES

32---Hazards Of the Rain

Bad weather has sunk more golfers because of their attitude than because of the actual inclement conditions. Some golfers feel they must battle rain and cold rather than adjust to the conditions.

You just can't play "sunshine-type" golf when rain is splattering your face and drenching the ball and grass or when your body is goose-pimpling with cold. But many try.

The first rule for playing in the rain seems almost too obvious to mention: keep yourself and your equipment dry. If your clubs and grip are wet, you're finished.

Next, play the ball a little further forward, so it will have a tendency to "fly," as when playing out of the rough. Try to upswing or "pick" the ball off the grass. Don't hit down any more than you have to. This pick shot helps reduce slippage of the club face when meeting the wet ball.

When it rains, the air becomes denser than in better weather. This sometimes holds up the ball and cuts down on flying. Once you feel the ball is not flying, then go to more club.

The most important element in cold-weather playing is to keep warm. This may sound silly, but golfers often "under dress" because they feel that too many clothes will restrict their swing.

This may be true. But if you are cold, your swing won't be effective anyway. You won't have a free swing in any case, so make the best of the situation. Dress warm and swing within yourself.

From a mechanical standpoint, a good general rule is to use more club—because of the restricted swing—with a smoother and easier stroke.

Hippies get high in the Himalayas

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — For the hippie set, there is no high like getting high in the high Himalayas.

At a time when Laos has grown disenchanting with them and Thailand won't let them in without a bath and a haircut and Japan requires a bond of $250 as proof of financial stability, the tiny kingdom of Nepal looms as the last stronghold of hospitality for the hippie.

Katmandu, the capital of this swinging kingdom at the roof of the world, is an unbelievably medieval city of narrow winding streets and quaint, tiny, tottering brick houses with exquisitely carved wooden balconies, interspersed everywhere with Hindu and Buddhist pagodas. The crowded sidewalks bazaars are a constant clatter of braying goats, changing holy men, bawling merchants, mooing sacred cows, wandering string musicians.

"It's an out-of-sight place to groove," avowed Richard the Tippi from Iowa, reverently traipsing through a temple courtyard in his saffron Buddhist robes tastefully topped off with Tibetan prayer beads, a lai of poimstains, a John the Baptist haircut and a way-out Nepalese umbrella ornamented with nearly naked Nubian slave girls.

GROOVING THE WORD

To groove, in the hippie argot, means simply to wander out the door of one's pad with no avowed purpose or direction and let the world happen to you. And Katmandu is where it's really happening. On an ordinary, everyday groove, one can encounter a real live vestal virgin with Twiggy-like eyeballs, a guru pushing an impressive array of aphrodisiacs, fortune tellers who use trained parrots to peck out lucky cards from a deck, Gurkha tribesmen down from the high passes with ferocious and bejewelled khukuri knives, blue-haired little-old-lady tourists giggling in shock at the erotic carvings on the Hindu temples.

Beggars and blind men, lepers and holy men, a bell whose knell is said to be the sound of death and sets all the local dogs to howling, a pagoda presided over by a priesthood of monkeys, sikhs in turbans and long flowing beards, sari-clad lovelies with precious stones in their nostrils and caste marks on their foreheads.

Rickshaw boys who make their way through the endless stream of humanity by pumping on bulbous claxon horns, Tibetan refugees flogging off magnificently textured carpets in tiny sidewalk stalls, lamas whirling their prayer wheels and parsis sucking on their water-pipes.

DRIVE TO NEPAL

Since air fares are beyond the means of most hippies, the accepted method of making a pilgrimage to this mecca of marijuana is to form a limited holding company for the purchase of a second-hand car in India, drive the woeful 22-hour ordeal of scorching plain and malaria-ridden jungle from Calcutta, and then sell the car, which should enable everyone to live for at least a year.

A room at the Camp Hotel or the G. C. Lodge, the two favorite crash pads, costs three rupees (about 30 cents) a night. At an occupancy rate of seven in a room, this works out to about $1.25 a month a person.

To keep body and soul together between trips, a hippie for a similar three-rupee investment can obtain a "buff steak" (water buffalo meat), dal (a pea soup made with curry), weak tea and India bread smeared with Tibetan jam that smells and tastes like beer.

The pharmacies of Nepal carry an unbelievable pharmacopia of dream drugs, everything from airplane glue to benzedrine, codeine, morphine and methadone, all at over-the-counter prices that would put socialized medicine out of business.

"They have everything except LSD," observed Richard, "and I can import enough of that in one airmail envelope from India to blow out every mind from here to Peking."

DOGS ARE RABID

"Dogs are the worse thing about Katmandu," said Richard, warily sidestepping an ulcer-blotched mongrel sleeping in the middle of the walkway.

"Most of them are rabid and the hospital ran out of serum weeks ago." Richard's pad, entered by stooping under a low doorway and climbing a winding flight of wooden stairs, was a one-room apartment with slanty floors and magnificently carved window sills in a dangerously listing brick house that must have been at least 700 years old.

"You get marvellous vibrations here," said Richard. The vibrations were best when the pad was at or near full occupancy; "I never knew how many people will crash here for a night; seven, eight, 10, all nationalities. It makes no difference."

Like others in Nepal's international hippie set, which now includes Germans, Danes, Swedes, Japanese, Filipinos, Britons, French, Greeks, Italians and even a few from Poland and Czechoslovakia, Richard has been bumming around the world for five years in search of the right "karma," attitude of mind.

"The Middle East," he said, "has a bad karma. Too much hate. You could feel it, even in Turkey which otherwise is out of sight."

STAY ON ENDLESSLY

Nepal allows all visitors in on a seven-day visa, but the hippies can obtain endless 30-day extensions by getting "trekking permits" from the foreign office, although the trips they have in mind have nothing to do with the Himalayas.

The hippies' Shangri-La has some drawbacks, particularly where the health of the hippies is concerned.

Harry Wisnowski and Erwin Orzech, two West Berliners heading back to New Delhi, complained that most of the colony was suffering from dysentery, tuberculosis, hepatitis and malnutrition. The medical halls, superbly stacked with freak-out items, are notoriously deficient in common antibiotics.

Recently a German hippie died from a combination of tuberculosis and mind-bending drugs.

"He was on a weird thing," said Olaf, a Swedish hippie. "Speed and LSD, mixed with raksi (the local wine brewed from rice and millet).

"You can't mix alcohol with pep pellets. It confuses your chromosomes and everything."

His death shook the colony. But winter at last is coming in Nepal, and winter for the local colony is a renewal.

UCW to donate to Memorial Fund, exchange student talks on trip

SAWYERVILLE — The meeting of the United Church Women was held in the Church Hall on Aug. 18. The meeting opened with a worship service in charge of Mrs. Claris Phillips and Mrs. Percy Gray.

It was decided to revise the old directive of sending flowers in cases of bereavement. In the future, an annual donation of $25 will be placed in the Memorial Funds at Easter in memory of all who have died during the year. Cards to be sent at time of bereavement.

Committees reporting included work with wool on hand; church, flowers in church every Sunday; cheer, forty-six visits made to sick and shut-ins; three cards were signed to go to friends in hospital; new towels and cleaning material purchased. It was decided to get new bowls and more pitchers.

The fall rally will be held in Bury on Sept. 20 with a pot-luck lunch.

Approximately 60 attended Vacation School and the barbecue at the closing was well attended.

Twenty-five hymn books have been recovered. Mrs. H. Lassenba offered to varnish kindergarten chairs, with the U.C.W. to furnish varnish.

The roast turkey supper is to be held Sept. 12. There will be sales table, mystery and candy tables.

Miss Linda French, who has been on a student exchange trip to Gimli, Man., gave an interesting report of her trip and stay with an Icelandic family. She was introduced by Ann McBurney and thanked by Mrs. Kenneth McBurney.

Supper was served to the members and several visitors by the hostesses, Mrs. Lloyd French, Mrs. Volney Hurley and Mrs. Irwin McBurney.

SAFETY "99" HIGH TRACTION

Torture-tested at speeds — you'll never need!

Ruggedly built with heavy, 4-ply Dupont Nylon Cord... pound for pound stronger than steel... OR... for smoothest rolling, more miles and even more miles per gallon, it's Safety "99" with Polyester. Can't "cold-morning-thump." So tough, we'll replace it with a new one if it punctures. (see guarantee).

Keep company with SAFETY "99"... a great travelling companion and at 2 FOR THE PRICE OF 1.
