ST. CATHERINE STREET EXTENSION: Between 25 and 30 workmen began work on the sewage system for the new extension of St. Catherine street through to Claremont this week. The extension which will straighten out a traffic knot caused by westbound cars trying to reach Western avenue, will be controlled by traffic lights at Victoria avenue and St. Catherine and at Claremont and Western. —Tedd Church Photo

Commitment made of $346,560 as city revamps roads and power

Commitments totalling $346,560 covering paving and electrical improvements throughout the city, and including the cost of the St. Catherine street extension to Western avenue, were approved by city councillors at a meeting Monday evening.

Westmount Lookout will receive a facelifting, with $6,370 voted to cover the cost of repairs to the concrete structure. Reason for the facelifting is the considerable deterioration of concrete which has taken place since the lookout's construction in 1932.

A commitment of $73,300 was made for grading, concreting and sheet asphalt surfacing and associated works for the roadway of the St. Catherine street extension. It was noted that tenders for the sheet asphalt surfacing will be called for at a later date when progress on the city's portion of the work is in hand. The tenders will be submitted to council when received. The estimate, stated a spokesman, includes an amount which is approximately the going rate for new three-inch asphalt surfacing.

TO COST $19,000

The cost of sidewalks for the St. Catherine street extension was covered in a commitment of $19,000, and a further sum of $18,700 was voted for street lighting on the project.

Tenders submitted by Charles

Duranceau Ltd. for paving and asphalt work on various streets and sidewalks throughout the city were accepted, and commitment was made of $55,500 to cover the tendered price plus the cost of general work carried out by city forces in preparation and auxiliary work.

LIST OF STREETS

The following streets will be resurfaced: Arlington avenue, throughout; Clandeboye avenue, Prospect to Dorchester street; Greene avenue, St. Antoine street to Selby street; Greene avenue, Dorchester street to St. Catherine street; Kensington avenue, Sherbrooke street to Cote St. Antoine road; Kitchener avenue, throughout; Mt. Pleasant avenue, Holton avenue to St. Sulpice road; Mt. Stephen avenue, throughout; Olivier avenue, St. Catherine street to Western avenue; Prospect street throughout; Redfern avenue, throughout; Roslyn avenue, Sherbrooke street to 400 feet north. Summit road, throughout; Victoria avenue, north city limits to Westmount avenue; Lexington avenue from Edgehill road to

Six-year-old hit by auto

Ian Lipkowski, 6, of 462 Grosvenor avenue, was hit by a car at the corner of Grosvenor and Sherbrooke recently.

Mrs. Romeo Jean, 28, 210 Third avenue, driver of the car, told police that when she stopped on Sherbrooke for a red light a truck was parked to her left. Proceeding on the green light, she suddenly saw the boy appear from behind the truck and applied her breaks but not in time to avoid him.

Park gets play pipes, new shuffleboards due

Two gaily painted hollow "play pipes", four feet in length and four feet six inches in diameter, will shortly be added to playground facilities in Westmount Park.

At a city council meeting Monday evening, commitment was made of $120 to pay for the items, which according to city manager T. J. Hughes, will be painted in bright colors, and possibly decorated with contrasting polka-dots.

The move follows a suggestion put forward at the annual meeting of the Westmount Municipal Association some weeks ago. In a letter to the association, the Rev. William Morris, 8 Winchester avenue, made a plea for "more up-to-date" play equipment in the parks.

"Play pipes" are based on the theory that children like nothing better than crawling in and out of things, and are a playground version of the concrete pipe lengths found at road construction sites. Any danger of even the tubbiest youngsters getting stuck is averted by a wide four-foot diameter.

A general plan for renovation and improvement of Westmount Park is now under consideration, reports the city manager, of which the building of an artificial ice rink adjacent to the park, and the new wing of the Westmount Public Library now nearing completion, are a part.

One of the first items on the agenda is the replacing of two wooden shuffleboards in the centre of the park. A few years ago, two additional shuffleboards of concrete were laid down. The original wooden ones have become delapidated, says Mr. Hughes, and their renovation will tie in with the up-dating of general facilities throughout the park.

Some of the playground areas will be modernized, he stated, along with regrading and re-sodding of the grass sections. An improvement in general layout, and a change in some fences is also part of the general plan now under study.

R. L. Dunsmore to chair CBC permanently?

According to recent reports from Ottawa, Robert L. Dunsmore, 65, of 4305 Montrose avenue, may become permanent chairman of the CBC Board of Directors.

Mr. Dunsmore is now acting chairman of the board in the absence of CBC president Alphonse Ouimet. Reports state that in order to relieve the load of duties previously assumed by Mr. Ouimet, a permanent redistribution of duties among top CBC officials may come into effect once he returns to work following a long absence due to ill health.

Mr. Dunsmore permanent retention would not mean the dis-

Approval given lot redivision on curling club

Redivision of lots on Hillside and Severn avenues for building purposes was approved at a meeting of city council Monday.

Approval was given for the redivision of part of lot 1421 on Hillside avenue, the site of the new Montreal Caledonia Curling Club, into a new lot 1421-2, under provisions of city by-law 555 as amended, article 26, in accordance with a plan prepared by the architects' firm of M. D. Barclay Inc.

Ground was broken last week for construction on the new club, cost of which is estimated at a quarter million dollars. A spokesman for the club stated that matches are scheduled in the new rink for as early as November 1959, and that the modern enlarged facilities of the club will enable the membership to be increased from its present 150 total to 300.

A second motion for redivision of Severn avenue lots 338-10 and parts of lots 336-9 and 336-11 into one lot, 336-39 was also approved. The owner of the property, Mr. F. Hoffer, proposes to erect a dwelling on the new lot.

Boulevard detour of paving project goes into effect

Traffic on The Boulevard was rerouted beginning Wednesday for an estimated two weeks, between Cote des Neiges road and the Westmount-Montreal boundary, to permit construction of paving and sidewalks.

Arrangements have been made by the Montreal traffic department in co-operation with Westmount authorities to open Cedar avenue to detoured traffic in both municipalities.

Ramezay road will become one-way westbound between city limits and Mount Pleasant avenue, allowing westbound traffic on Cedar to turn south onto Ramezay, through to Montrose avenue, and up Mount Pleasant to the Boulevard, thus detouring the section under construction.

The number 66 bus will follow the same detour.

Rotary International president distinguished visitor at Unity

By MAURICE MARIASINE

Rotary International President Harold Tahana Thomas who hails from New Zealand was a special visitor at the Unity Boys' Club yesterday morning. Mr. Thomas was the guest speaker at a special Rotary meeting at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Thomas was one of 900 Rotarians who were entertained by our Unity Talent Parade at Lake Placid in June. In this connection, I would like to announce that a request for a show next April has been received from the Rotary Clubs of Binghamton, N.Y.

HANDICRAFTS A SUCCESS
The start of the handicrafts on the Unity Boys' Club 1959 Summer Program has been very encouraging to-date. Puppetry, figurine modelling and paper sculpture were selected for the summer-time craft work, principally because of quick completion. In the first three sessions, 18, 40 and 28 children participated respectively. New members are welcome to register for this activity. The classes are conducted every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

LAST WEEK
Approximately 75 youngsters and their leaders visited St. Helen's Island on Monday and Friday for a picnic and swimming. A group of 23 members "hiked" to Beaver Lake on Mount Royal on Tuesday and on Wednesday a group of 26 toured the Gazette Printing Company. 17 boys and 23 girls participated in the "Learn to Swim" Project at the YWCA on Thursday. It is expected that more will attend the next sessions. The Project is sponsored by the Montreal Parks and Playgrounds, a Red Feather Service.

NEXT WEEK
In addition to the regularly scheduled activities, the Club will pay a visit to the Wax Museum on Wednesday.

CHANGE OF SWIM HOURS
Every Thursday until further notice, the girls are asked to meet at the Club at 9 a.m. and the boys at 9.30 a.m. instead of the reverse as printed in the program. This change is made only for the learn to swim schedule.

We would also like to mention that the times printed on the summer program for the various tours etc., is not the time of departure from the Club. All members are asked to report to the Club every day at 9.30 a.m. and 1.30 p.m. except for the Thursday swim day as mentioned above.

D. F. KING

A funeral service was held Tuesday from the chapel of D. A. Collins for Duncan Fitzroy King, 271 Melville avenue, who died Sunday at the Montreal General Hospital.

The executive committee of which he is also a member, meets on alternate months.

Judith Rawlings of 382 Olivier avenue took part in a concert presented recently by the University of Vermont's summer music session. She is one of 116 musically inclined youngsters from Quebec and the U. S. who participated in a three-week program on the university's scenic Redstone Campus.

The music session, in its second year at the university, offers a wide range of musical instruction and activities in the shadow of Vermont's Green Mountains.

Directed by Prof Ippocrates Pappoutsakis of the university's department of music, the three-week program left plenty of time for recreational events, many of them located at the state's many beaches and parks.

Mr. Wood became a member of the city's architectural committee in 1919, and resigned after many years as chairman on February 11, 1959.

Widely sought as a consultant and authority on architectural problems, he was responsible for designing many churches, public and industrial buildings during his career, including Wesley Church, Montreal West United Church, Knox Crescent-Kensington and St. Matthew's Church, Hampstead; Victoria Hall, Trafalgar Apartments and the Jos. C. Wray Chapel, the Canada Steamship Lines on Victoria Square, Dominion Oilcloth Building and the Guaranteed Pure Milk Company.

Mr. Wood received his education at Westmount Academy and McGill University, continuing post-graduate studies in his field in New York. New ICAO head will be resident of Westmount

A prominent Canadian will take up residence in Westmount shortly. R. M. MacDonnell, who was sworn in Tuesday as Secretary General of the International Civil Aviation Organization at San Diego, California, will take up office in Montreal August 1.

The former Canadian Deputy Undersecretary of State for External Affairs, Mr. MacDonnell was elected to one of ICAO's two top posts in December. He succeeds Carl Ljungberg of Sweden, an army colonel.

He is the former Canadian ambassador to Cairo, a post which he held until September 1953, when he returned to the External Affairs Department staff in Ottawa, where his home is now located.

He will hold the ICAO post for a term of five years, and a further term is considered likely by observers. At the 21-nation council of ICAO in San Diego, which closed Tuesday, he occupied the office of secretary general elect, and upon being sworn in promised, as is customary, to work solely for the interests of the organization which guides international aviation, and not to seek instructions from any government.

Dr. G. E. Craig heads anniversary fund in McGill alumni drive for $600,000

By JANE BARTLETT

A Westmount doctor who is graduate of the McGill School of Commerce as well as the School of Medicine will spearhead a 25-year anniversary gift program among members of the Class of '34, as part of the McGill Alma Mater Fund 1959 drive for $600,000.

Dr. Gibson E. Craig, 605 Clarke avenue, who graduated in medicine in 1934, will chair the 25th anniversary gift program, a department of the Alma Mater Fund which in past years has been an important booster of the fund's final goal.

General secretary of the Graduate Society, Lorne Gales of 486 Mountain avenue, remembers Dr. Craig as one of the hardest workers of an anniversary campaign which two years ago gained the largest objective of any 25th anniversary class to date: $25,000. Dr. Craig graduated at the bottom of the depression from Commerce '32, and was a member of the 1957 25th Anniversary Gift Committee, headed by western oil tycoon G. M. Bell.

Engineering graduates of the Class of '34, headed by former Westmounter J. Stephen Wallace, have set themselves an objective of $30,000 this year, and according to Mr. Gales, have gained a third of this sum to date.

Graduates of Royal Victoria College of 1934 are under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. S. Nixon, a former Westmounter, with a set objective of $8,000.

Henry Joseph, 20 Springfield avenue, chairs the anniversary gift program for Arts and Science graduates of '34. Westmounter William Eakin heads the program for Law '34; Dr. John Dinan, Medicine '34; Laird Watt, Commerce '34; and Alan Bernstein, Architecture '34.

The Alma Mater fund, originated in 1943, has to date received a total of $1,807,361 from McGill alumni. Permanent fund director is Miss Elizabeth McNabb, a former Westmounter.

This year's Alma Mater drive, under general fund chairman J. G. Notman, aims for $104,888 more than last year's record total subscription of $275,112. A mammoth mailing list of 31,000 letters

WE SAY

Cyclists causing traffic troubles

CYCLISTS, sometimes riding two-to-a-cycle, are running rampant.

They drive the wrong way on one-way streets, whip up on sidewalks without warning, swerve in and out of speeding lines of autos like an Iroquois victim running the gauntlet, and they live as dangerously.

Auto accidents are one thing — where people are killed and maimed, though protected somewhat by the body of the cars in which they drive, but cyclists, without any protection, can only come off second-best in any mishap.

Yet cyclists, many of them young in years, continue to take chances. The proof is to be found on the police blotters, and the hospital and morgue lists.

Protect property while vacationing

IF you are going away on your vacation — make sure all the doors are locked, and the windows too. If you know the neighbours well, perhaps they will keep a close watch on your home.

Many robberies reported to police at this time occur while families are on holidays.

There are thieves who make a specialty of finding out when certain householders leave on their vacation — and then they know they have a better opportunity of working undisturbed to effect an entrance to the home.

Police can and do patrol the district, to the best of their ability, but you can help them materially by taking special precautions — and perhaps save your property as well.

Shepherd of his flock

By CYNTHIA JONES

Recently the young son of Ralph Bunche, under-secretary of the United Nations and Nobel Peace prizewinner, was refused membership in the West Side Tennis Club, because he is a Negro.

This news precipitated a call on Rev. Charles Humphrey Este, BD Litt D, who, as the minister at the Union United Church, 3007 Delisle street, on the border of Westmount, has been spiritual leader of the colored community in Montreal for 34 of his 63 years.

We wanted to know, not only the history of Dr. Este and of his church, but if there is evidence of racial discrimination

I have to keep it for the family. I am willing but the neighbors will complain. We rented to colored people once but they allowed the property to fall into disrepair, were clamorous and disagreeable to the neighbors. We don't care to rent to negroes. Some people have no logical reasons, just flimsy excuses."

Dr. Este said there is not so much discrimination in Canada as in the United States. "But you wonder if Canada would be as cordial as they are now if there was a larger negro population," he said. "I have no conclusions, just a question mark."

The Canadian people on the whole, he said, are more sympathetic and more democratic in their relations and attitudes to other races. "They have a cosmopolitan approach in regard to humanity and the minority races," Dr. Este said. "I have heard from many colored people during his lifetime. The son of a poor carpenter and his dressmaker wife in Antigua, West Indies, he came to Montreal in 1913 at the age of 17 to better himself. "I had 11 brothers and sisters," he said. "Only three survive. My youngest brother Clarence, is a CPR porter here in Montreal. Another brother, Eugene, is a CNR porter in Toronto. My sister, Mrs. Josephine Chambers, is teaching in All Saints School in rural Antigua."

Shined Shoes

"When I first came to Montreal I did all sorts of jobs, some very uncomplimentary," he said. "For four years I did shoeshining in a hotel, broke away, went on the railroad as a porter. In Halifax I got sick, was hospitalized and went broke. I had to return to the shoe shine parlor but this time it was with the desperation of a lunatic. I saved $250 to go to theological college."

In 1925 Dr. Este graduated from Congregational College, McGill University. He was ordained a minister on May 10 of that same year, taking over the Union United Church. In the '40's he won his doctor of literature and bachelor of divinity degrees from Pioneer Seminary, Rockford, Illinois. He majored in religious journalism and for a while considered resigning from the church to pursue this profession. "The needs for my work here were too great and there was always this dream of expansion," he said.

His dream of expansion came true. It is the expansion, renovation and modernization of the old church. "This old building dates back to 1899 and was an apology for a church, inconvenient and totally inadequate for our needs," Dr. Este said. "The sum of $150,000 is being spent. Forty thousand is a gift from the United Church, another $40,000 a loan from the same source, and the remainder pledged from the congregation. Our relationship with the United Church is very cordial, indeed."

The church, finished in oak, is beautifully simple in design, cool and peaceful. The facilities now include recreation rooms, offices, large reception hall, auditorium with stage. The congregation numbers 400 members but Dr. Este has 1,000 under his pastoral care. About five per cent of the membership is white. "This church must be viewed in the light of a community church," Dr. Este said.

The minister has joined many mixed couples. "Many negroes have married white girls. But there is a new trend of white men marrying colored girls," he said. "I never discuss the racial angle with them unless they mention it to me. I figure the couples are fully conscious of what they are doing. I see to it that the legal requirements are filled and if a girl is of tender age I do not perform the ceremony without the consent of both parents."

Help Mate

His wife, the former Gladys Hawes, of Detroit, whom he married in 1928, is a great helpmate in his work.

here, and if so, how strong it is. "There is some which is subtle, almost indistinguishable, but it is there nevertheless," said Dr. Este, shaking his head sadly over the affront to Mr. Bunche which he called most regrettable in the face of United Nations efforts to impress the world with the idea of its working for a better world.

"In some areas of Montreal there is slight evidence of what I call diplomatic discrimination," he continued. "Conditions are one thousand per cent better than 25 years ago. One reason is that colored people are now widely diffused and some are acquiring fine homes in districts once styled as exclusive. As rosy as that seems, there may still be instances where colored people are not allowed to rent and here is the evidence of diplomatic discrimination I mentioned."

Dr. Este is a tall, graceful man whose provocative eloquence in and out of the pulpit is a joy to hear. He spoke about the various receptions a prospective colored tenant might expect on enquiring about a home, apartment or room. "It could be any one of these," said Dr. Este. "The house is taken.

I am not saying that for the purpose of winning plaudits, but out of my own feelings and experience. That is no partial assessment coming from a tourist but from a man who has had to meet all kinds of rebuffs.

"Do you know that I see a renaissance of racial understanding? The negro should not be too dogmatic in his conclusions that he will be acceptable to every area of human society. He should face life with certain reservations and an awareness that, as a result of his pigmentation, anything may arise. Not that he should so adjust his life in a defence mechanism stage that when difficulties arise he should not be swept off his feet." Dr. Este has faced many dif-

Daughter thrilled with press picture

Sir:

Enclosed is my cheque for the year's subscription to the Westmount Examiner. This is also a good opportunity to thank you for running a picture of our daughter, Louise, when she won a prize in the British Commonwealth Society's essay contest. We would particularly like to thank your Mrs. Valentina Rahr who so kindly made all the arrangements.

You have no idea how exciting to an 11-year-old is the sight of her picture in the press. I am sure it will always be a highlight in her life.

SHORT STORY

"Your pearls," said the courtly but absent-minded don to his beautiful, smiling hostess, "are like teeth." Not noticing his mistake, she simpered and said, "I'm afraid they're false." "Then I congratulate your dentist," said the don. Thinking this very witty, she said, "I don't get them from my dentist, of course." "Of course not," said the don, "nor does one get them from my dentist, course not," said the hostess, beginning to feel uncomfortable. Attempting a joke, she said, "Not false teeth, anyhow." Recovering his senses, the don frowned. "We seem to be confusing the issue," he said. "Who's we?" she cried angrily, and turned away to talk to someone else.

ERROR OF JUDGMENT

A news item about a man who stole his own car by mistake reminded me of a merry old story. A man rang up the police to report that, while he was absent from his car for drinking purposes, someone had stolen the brake pedal, the starter, the steering wheel, the accelerator pedal, the gears, the dashboard, the windscreen, the clutch, the clock, and the speedometer. A few minutes later he rang up and said it was all right. He had got into the back seat by mistake. Captain Foulenough, after a reunion of old racing friends, not only stole his own car, but sold it hurriedly in the next town.

'National Day' to be celebrated by Spanish consulate tomorrow

The dry plains of Andalusia and the dull roar of the bullring are a far cry from this predominantly Anglo-Saxon community of Westmount; but they will come a little nearer tomorrow as members of the Spanish consulate on Sherbrooke street near Greene avenue celebrate Spain's National Day, July 18.

National Day commemorates not the end, but the start of the Spanish Civil War nearly a quarter-century ago. According to Carlos M. Fernandez-Shaw, Consul of Spain in Canada, this day was chosen because it symbolized the start of a new life in Spain, and the overthrow of communism there.

Loud in his praises of the advances in Spain since that date, Mr. Fernandez-Shaw states that the Spanish government has done everything in its power to become self-sufficing. New heavy industry developments dot the landscape, and Spain has become a maker of steel, trucks and cars. Automobile firms from other European countries, including the French Renault manufacturers, have also established plants in Spain.

The development of internal resources is an important feature in rebuilding Spain's economy. Home economy was disastrously undermined with the easy wealth that shiploads of gold from Spain's former American colonies brought. Internal disturbances and disagreements prevented the country from keeping pace with the industrial developments of the world until the civil war ending 1939 brought an end to political dissension under Generalissimo Franco.

On October 12, Spain and the Spanish-American countries celebrate "Dia de la Hispanidad," a day when the many nations, separated politically, recall their common bond of language and culture. October 12, 1492 was the date of Columbus' discovery of America.

On the more exotic side, says the consul general, Spain produces fine leather goods — gloves and shoes particularly — textiles, and a great many wines and sherris.

But one of the mainstays of Spanish economy, and what could be called a natural resource, is its wonderful climate.

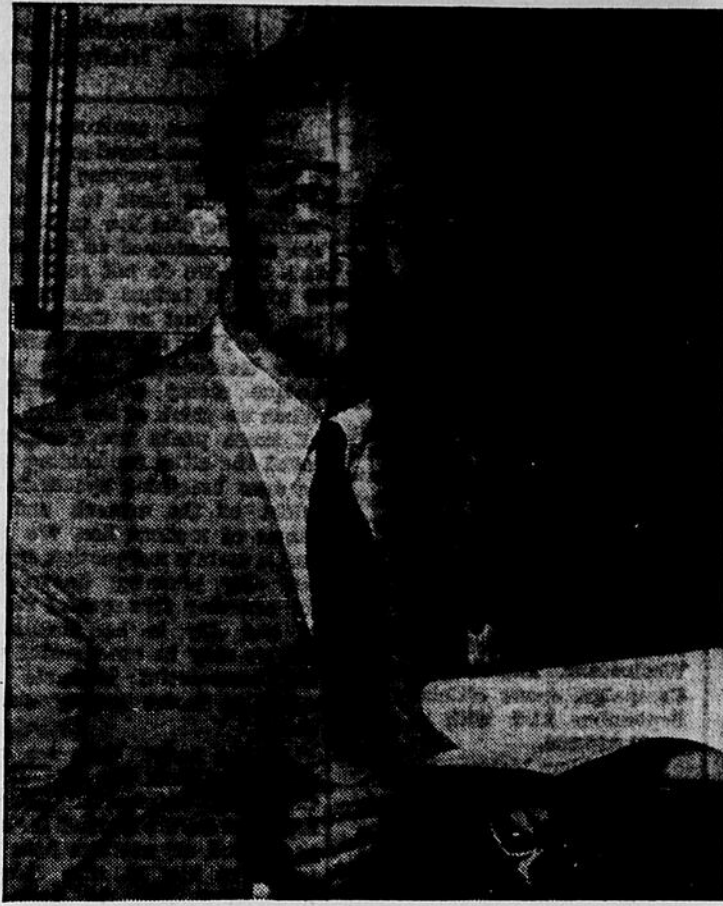

The hot sun and clear skies produce some of the world's most delicious fruits — Seville oranges and pomegranites among them. And the tangy olives which grow in the valleys form a large export crop. One well known Canadian company, reports the consul, imports as much as two million dollars worth of Spanish olives a year.

The climate also attracts tourists, and the tourist trade is a flourishing business in Spain.

The weather is not the only attraction for tourists, feels Mr. Fernandez-Shaw. The heady excitement of the bullfight, the beautiful architecture embodied in such structures as the Moorish Alhambra and the many cathedrals, and the low cost of holiday living are an equally effective lure.

"What is the reaction of the allegedly calm, unexcitable Anglo-Saxon to the bullring?" the consul was asked. "They are either crazy about it, and want to see every fight scheduled, or they hate it," was his reply. Bullfighting is a very emotional sport, he stated, pointing out that curiously enough, that one of the best books written on the subject is by an American: Ernest Hemingway.

Contrary to the general assumption, bullfighting is only one of the Spaniard's enthusiasms. Mr. Fernandez-Shaw reports that his countrymen are avid soccer fans, and that the soccer stadium in Madrid has a capacity of 120,000, compared to that of 20,000 of the Madrid bullring.

MR. CARLOS M. FERNANDEZ-SHAW, Consul of Spain.

"But," he pointed out, "the bullring is very ancient."

Where does the Spaniard go for his holiday? "Not to North America, unless he can combine business with pleasure, or has dollar resources outside Spain," said the consul. The Spanish government, anxious to build up its dollar reserves, has imposed currency restrictions on citizens travelling to dollar areas.

San Sabastian and resorts on the north and northeast shores of Spain of popular and traditional native resorts, he states, although the southern part of the country, in spite of the warmer weather, has also come into vogue.

If Spaniards do emigrate, says Mr. Fernandez-Shaw, they make good citizens, becoming quickly absorbed in the country and their work.

For one who evidently loves his country and probably knows the economic, geographic and historic features of it better than the average Spaniard, Mr. Fernandez-Shaw, as a diplomat, lives in a self-imposed exile. "But that's a decision one must make if one chooses such a profession," he philosophically

CNR captures safety award

Canadian National Railways, for the second consecutive year, has been named a winner of the annual Public Safety Activities award, presented by the National Safety Council of the United States.

CNR is one of only 16 railroads in North America to be awarded this honor.

The National Safety Council is a national and international clearing house for the gathering and distribution of information on causes of accidents and ways to prevent them.

Awards are given annually to encourage industry to support the safety effort. This is the fifth year in which Public Safety Activities awards have been presented.

With the co-operation of the editor of the monthly employee magazine 'Keeping Track,' the CNR endeavors to promote safety through articles which appear periodically during the year. The magazine is sent to all employees of the company.

Westmounter is active in Mt. Royal question

By VALENTINA RAHR

In an effort to save the mountain, Montrealers of all walks of life are combining their efforts to prevail upon the City of Montreal to take action to stop the building of apartment blocks on the land always considered to be part of Mount Royal. Counsellor Hugh Savage, Park Place, went from door to door to get signatures for his petition to be sent to Mayor Sarto Fournier.

Leading objections feature the Association of Architects most strongly urged that proposals be carried out to enlarge the amount of land homologated for the preservation of Mount Royal Park. It called upon the City Council to approve the expropriation of the Cedar Avenue site. "To provide luxury living and an elegant panorama for tenants, without spoiling the Mountain silhouettes for the majority of Montrealers, should be the criterion." It is obvious that the enlightened professional viewpoint supports the general desire of the people that the Mountain should be cherished as "the crown of the city." This is not just a romantic idea. The public is afraid that if these two projects are allowed to be carried out, future buildings will eventually rise on the land which has been so carefully preserved as a natural park by all the City Fathers and citizens alike, ever

The Montreal Real Estate Board and the Province of Quebec Association of Architects have voiced their opposition also. "It would not be in the best interests of the City and citizens of Greater Montreal, that buildings be permitted to encroach upon or impair park facilities, or areas so situated that they might properly be developed as part of municipal parks." The Quebec

The Mountain

By

The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

The present controversy concerning Mount Royal many serve a very useful purpose if it sets a permanent limit to encroachments. We who live in Montreal are so accustomed to the mountain that we do not realize that it gives a unique character to the city; just as Central Park in New York or Hyde Park and Kew Gardens in London set a unique stamp on those cities.
When we think of the land value of those parks we must commend the cities for holding them as open breathing spaces in the midst of the cement and gas fumes of modern life. We must feel a certain indignation against our city planning departments for allowing this special feature of our city to be threatened, and we may be exasperated with the commercial interests who want to make money out of them.

At the same time we must remember that the site of the Children's Memorial Hospital has been on the market for three years and no one has been prepared to buy it. The Hospital authorities had to have the money. Church and charitable institutions would have liked to get the property for various purposes but could not spend that

Eddy, including the following:
"Because Life is God, Life must be eternal, self-existent. Life is the everlasting I AM, the Being who was and is and shall be, whom nothing can erase." Correlative Scripture will include this from I John: "And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life."

MUSICAL
Stampede skilful sensation

Sharps, Flats
and Naturals

By Frances Goltman

VANCOUVER: After the finale of the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' Associations Convention, held in the marvellous Jubilee Auditorium, I stayed on for the CALGARY STAMPEDE and if anyone thinks that Canada cannot put on a parade as big as any other country let than come to see the fabulous Calgary event.

THE MANAGER of the Palliser Hotel, Mr. Pat Pitt, who was born in St. Lambert but left Montreal for Calgary in 1934, told me that I would see the parade best from the steps of the hotel. I had a perfect view but stood 'or about an hour before it passed and it was two hours long. I felt as if my knees would not be able to function when it was over but it was worth every minute of it. Did I mention the weather? It was perfect.

THERE WAS SQUARE
DANCING in the street facing the Palliser by members of the Kiwanis Club with real cowboy accompaniment and colorful costumes. An estimated 130,000 people lined the streets for the opening of the 74th Annual Exhibition and Stampede and some people arrived four hours before it started.

ACROSS FROM THE PAL-LISER folks were on the rooftops, sitting dangerously on window ledges and packed close to one another on the street. Most viewers were in colorful dress, many were in cowboy attire and practically everyone was wearing a big hat.

PEOPLE GAVE GENER-OUSLY to the "March of Dimes" put on by the Calgary

Kinsmen assisted by Boy Scouts who picked up the money as it was thrown in the street. They had a two float attractive group with huge signs about the "Mile of Dimes" campaign to help handicapped children.

NEXT CAME POPULAR
BING CROSBY, in blue blazer, grey flannels and a western hat, who was cheered thunderously by all as he opened the three mile parade in a flower bedecked Cadillac. He is much thinner and so amiable he really deserves his renewal.

CAN YOU IMAGINE 32 wonderful bands and 40 gorgeous floats? It would be impossible to describe this parade in a short space but the bands are a "must"
for this column.

THE THIRTY-TWO well-trained and colorful groups came from all parts of Canada and the United States. Hundreds of bandmen preceded by perfectly drilled majoret-tes, gave forth with all kinds of melody. In front of each remarkable float a band received cheers and it was timed so that each musical unit played a number in front of the Palliser Hotel. Lucky me! Following Bing came dignities and officials, Lieut.
Governor J. J. Bowlen and Premier E. C. Manning then
"Bat Masterson" (Gene Barry) showing off on a horse. Then the Stampede Queen, a real cute trick.

THE BANDS INCLUDED

amount of money. The City Hall did not feel justified in expropriating because it must balance its budget. There was no public opinion strong enough to force the issue and commercial interests naturally took over. They were prepared to risk money and expected a generous return. The mountain had to be encroached upon before a lethargic public could be awakened.

The Mount Royal Cemetery sale is a different case. The Company has held the land for very many years free of taxation. Most of us looked on it as part of the park land. The negotiations for sale were very quietly conducted by the company which had a genuine concern for the cemetery needs of the Protestant population. They apparently felt that they could serve that population best by selling off an unusable portion of their land in order to open up a new cemetery at another spot; and the City of Outremont naturally was not averse to acquiring millions of dollars worth of taxable property.

Throughout the controversy
the Parks and Playgrounds Association has been active and the Parks Department of the city has had its say as well, but neither the Association nor the Department is strong enough to protect the mountain without public support. Now that the support is forthcoming the pressure must be maintained. The simplest way is for each of us to write to our local councillor and demand protective action.
Then we shall have council action in September.

Even if we get that action
the mountain still is not safe.
The action taken in September can be undone ten years later or less. The best way, apart from the City Council, is to strengthen the Parks and Playgrounds Association, and make membership in it something to be valued. Their activities have been of the greatest help to the city, but they are less vocal than they might be.

Jehovah's Witnesses to attend conference

E. Vaillancourt, presiding minister of Jehovah's witnesses, announced today that the West Unit of the Montreal congregation of Jehovah's witnesses has been invited to attend a four-day convention to be held July 23 to 26 at Lansdowne
Park, Ottawa. E. Vaillancourt will head the local delegation of about 100 persons.

The convention is arranged by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, located in Toronto, Ontario, for Jehovah's witnesses.
An attendance in excess of 12,- 000 is anticipated.

"The purpose of the meeting," said E. Vaillancourt, "is to provide additional Bible instruction for the Witnesses and to enable them to apply Bible principles more fully to their every day lives and activities. For this reason the program carries the theme of 'Awake Ministers'." There will be morning, afternoon and evening sessions devoted to Bible talks, discussions and practical demonstrations, he explained.

E. Vaillancourt further reported that several representatives of the branch office, including Percy Chapman, Superintendent of Ministers in Canada, will speak in Ottawa. Highlight of the convention will be the public address by Chapman at 3 p.m. Sunday, July 26, on
"When God Speaks Peace to All Nations."

Big job coming for Dr. Alan Ross president of ninth Paediatrics Congress

Dr. Alan Ross of Belmont avenue will have a big job on his hands this weekend: he is president of the ninth International Congress of Paediatrics, which opens in Montreal at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel on Sunday.

Not only is it the first congress of this kind to be held in Montreal, it is the first in Canada, and according to Dr. Ross, has taken three years of preparation.

Most of the expected 2,500 delegates are already on their way to this city from all parts of the world, and they bring with them wives and children.

"An invitation was issued to the International Paediatrics Association, permanent section, at Copenhagen in 1956 by the Canadian government, and the invitation was accepted," said Dr. Ross. The International Paediatrics Association, acts as a nucleus for these congresses. President of the IPA is Prof. G. Fanconi of Zurich, Switzerland.

The Canadian Paediatrics Society is host, and as such invites delegates from other paediatric societies who are members of the IPA. "We are very proud of the number of eminent paediatricians who are going to attend," Dr. Ross stated. "Queen Elizabeth is Patron of the Congress, and will send greetings for the opening ceremony. Sir Wilfred Sheldon who was knighted recently, is also coming to the Congress. He is a distinguished paediatrician who is caring for her children. The opening address will be delivered by Prime Minister Diefenbaker."

Congress session will be held on one floor of the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, to enable the delegates to go quickly from one room to another with a minimum loss of time.

"The study of children has developed over the years so that it now has a great many special fields of interest. To enable the delegates to follow the different events, we are planning to have a system of translation into three languages, Spanish, French and English," continued Dr. Ross. "This program puts great emphasis on smaller round table conferences to be run concurrently, and will cover all aspects of paediatrics. Paediatrics has come to include the study of everything pertaining to the mental, emotional and physical growth of infants and children from conception to maturity."

"Dr. R. L. Denton, is secretary general of the congress. On his shoulders and those of his committees, most of the work of organizing the congress has fallen," concluded Dr. Ross.

VISITED RUSSIA

Dr. Alan Ross, graduate of McGill University, and chairman of the Department of Paediatrics of McGill University, is physician-in-chief of the Montreal Children's Hospital. Two years ago, he was the only representative from North America to attend a Paediatrics Congress held at Leningrad, Russia. Two of the sixteen Russian delegates expected to come to the present Congress, are paediatricians who were at the Russian Congress in 1956. The papers they will give are on "Child rearing practices, organization and development of behavior patterns in connection with the upbringing of children" to be delivered by Prof. O. D. Sokolova-

Ponomareva of Moscow; and "The incidence and management of abnormal behavior and delinquency in children" by Prof. M. S. Maslov also of Moscow.

Westmounter attends million dollar confab

Albert Rakovsky, CLU, 201 Metcalfe avenue, representative for Crown Life Insurance Co., is among the approximately 700 top life insurance salesmen who attended the annual meeting of the Million Dollar Round Table at the Americana Hotel, Bal Harbour, Fla., this week.

Membership in the Round Table, which this year totals 2,688, is confined to those who sold at least a million dollars of life insurance during 1958 or who are life members through having sold a million or more for three years in a row.

The program is designed to help the members in their sales and service work. It ranges from skilled demonstrations of basic selling technique to the most advanced developments in business life insurance, estate planning, employee benefit plans, and executive compensation arrangements funded by life insurance.

The number of farms in Canada is shrinking. In the period 1951-56 the total fell almost 8 per cent to 575,015 farms.

A. H. Marden, L. B. Unwin head $1,890,000 drive

A. H. Marden, 22 Renfrew avenue, former vice-president of Dominion Tar and Chemical Company Ltd., and L. B. Unwin, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will head a $1,890,000 capital campaign for the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in September, it was announced recently.

The figure sought is the amount required to complete an expansion and modernization program begun last year.

While the scientists attend the sessions, their wives and children will have a varied and interesting program to follow. For an hour each morning the Coffee Lounge on the Congress Floor will be used as a meeting place for the wives. On Monday sherry parties will be held at private homes during noon hour, and the same plan will be followed on Tuesday and Wednesday. A luncheon at St. Helen's Island on the St. Lawrence River, a luncheon at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, a Canadiana Fashion Show, and tea in the afternoon.

Wednesday is "Family Day". For those with children an excursion to the resorts in the Laurentians, with a buffet dinner in the evening is planned. Members attending the sessions on Wednesday afternoon will be taken to various golf clubs with their wives, on the outskirts of the City, where buffet dinners will be served. On Thursday a special symphony concert at the St. Denis has been planned. A closing reception "Vin d'honneur" will be held on Friday evening. Pre- and post-Congress tours may be arranged.

For the children, who will be divided into age groups, entertainment will be provided by fully qualified supervisors. On Friday a trip to "Le Jardin des Splendeurs" for all the children is scheduled. Films will be shown every day at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel for children from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. while their parents are attending official functions. Baby sitters will be available upon request during the evening.

The program has been carried to its present stage through a building campaign in 1956. "This has enabled us to make excellent progress," Mr. Unwin said. "Exterior work on the six-storey hospital extension and on the new nurses' home has been practically completed and boilers have been installed."

"We are now at the second stage of our program which includes the completion and furnishing of the new buildings and the renovation of the existing hospital to provide for an efficient, integrated general hospital," he said.

Work on the structure was begun in June of last year and by this fall or winter, it is hoped to move patients into the new wing. Target date for completion of the entire project has been set for February, 1961.

When completed, the hospital, in addition to doubling its bed capacity, will have increased operating room facilities, added x-ray rooms, greater space for physiotherapy, increased service facilities, a larger nursing school, and an expanded outpatient department.

Budget basis popular in U.S. charity giving

More and more people in the United States are giving to welfare campaign on a budget basis, according to Westmount J. M. McAvity, 1959 Red Feather Campaign Chairman, who on his return recently from a three-day conference at Dayton, Ohio, attended by over 4,000 volunteer campaign leaders from all sections of the United States and Canada.

He said feeling among U.S. cities is that needs of welfare agencies are practically uniform the year round and citizens are being asked to spread their gifts, particularly to united drives, over a yearly period.

In this way, he said, the average gift in some cities has climbed to $10 or $15 per person. Mr. McAvity said there was general agreement among the businessmen attending the conference that the trend to the welfare state has gone far enough and it is up to private business and private citizens to take their share in helping voluntary community health and welfare services.

The conference at Dayton, which is sponsored by the United Community Funds and Councils of America, is an annual affair. Mr. McAvity is the first Montrealer to attend and he was invited by the U.C.F.C. in the United States.

Valentina Rahr reports:

Don't compromise when it comes to work says pediatrician Dr. Alton Goldbloom

"If you think your work is good, and have confidence in it, don't change it!" was the advice given by Dr. Alton Goldbloom to members of the Canadian Authors Association. "There are different levels of opinion" he said, "and what may appear interesting and amusing to one person, may not have the same effect at all on another person."

During the writing of his book "Small Patients," Dr. Goldbloom consulted his long-time friend S. N. Behrman, novelist and playwright, and asked for his opinion. He was advised by Mr. Behrman and by other interested parties to change several chapters in his book "as being too extreme." But after reading the whole manuscript over critically, and the chapters referred to specifically, Dr. Goldbloom decided to leave them as they were. Eventually, when it was published, these same people praised the quality of his book, and particularly the parts which had been left in their original form.

The book was not accepted by the first publisher it was sent to. One of the reasons given was "it may be interesting to your colleagues locally, but it does not have a general appeal." On the other hand, when the book was finally accepted by Lippincott's through an agent, the letter written to him contained this phrase: "This book reads like a breeze . . . totally absorbing."

"Small Patients" was written in ink and by hand. The manuscript was examined by members of the Authors Association during the meeting, and was found to be neatly written, page after page, with no changes or corrections. "The book is exactly as my first copy. Only cutting and editing was done by the publishers," was a further comment by the author.

This book is a story of the family life, career and philosophy of Dr. Alton Goldbloom. The recognition of pediatrics in Montreal was a long struggle.

The public was ready for pediatric specialists long before the medical profession was ready to recognize them. Dr. Goldbloom had to overcome two formidable obstacles — medical contempt of a new branch of medicine; and racial bars that kept him from a leading hospital appointment, and from teaching his specialty in a recognized medical school.

OVERCAME SHYNESS
This book is also a very human story about Jewish family life. Although his mother was rooted in tradition, she was a modern among moderns, and made a habit of getting her own way.

There is no doubt that to his unusual parents and the constantly changing environment of his youth, that Dr. Goldbloom owes his cosmopolitan and open-minded friendliness, although he was very shy before he learned how to meet people. This despite the fact that he was so successful on stage in his youth, that he almost became an actor. Later he used the showmanship he had learned on stage to dramatize the lecture-demonstrations for which he became so well known among students and medical societies.

It is a tribute to his dogged persistence and even temperament that these obstacles gradually disappeared — and that is the story of both Dr. Goldbloom's life and of his career. Although he has been showered with medical and scholastic honors here as well as abroad, pediatrics was in its infancy forty or fifty years ago, and the story of Dr. Goldbloom's triumphant struggle for complete recognition of this branch of medicine in Montreal is fascinating and very often amusing.

Dr. Goldbloom was introduced by Leslie Roberts, Anwoth road, at the meeting which took place at the Ritz Carlton Hotel. Mrs. Doris Hedges thanked the speaker. Later, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex S. Keller, Cote St. Antoine road, for Dr. and Mrs. Alton Goldbloom, and members of the Canadian Authors Association.

Gary Esson, 6 injured by car

Gary Esson, 6, 351 Clarke avenue, suffered a fractured skull on Monday, when he was hit by a car at the corner of Western and Greene avenues.

According to police reports, Paul Lajoie, 45, 123 Duke street, Montreal, was driving east on Western avenue when he suddenly saw the boy run out from the curb at the northeast corner of the intersection. Unable to stop the car in time, he collided with the child.

Gary was treated by Dr. L. J. Jackman and taken to Montreal Children's Hospital.

Highway Safety committee is insisting on caution

Have you ever thought that it would have been of greater pleasure to leave your car in the garage on the weekend instead of battling the heavy traffic. The Provincial Highway Safety Committee, asks those drivers who must use their vehicles on the weekend to leave earlier and thus have a more agreeable trip. And to those who really do not need to drive, why take the chance of accident, the committee says.

to think of the consequences of the human factor, accident fatalities would diminish greatly.

The law requires that each automobile, truck or motorcycle be equipped with a rear view mirror. There's a simple reason for the law because one should not trust the motorist who drives too closely behind one's vehicle. Motorists, truckers and motorbike operators are advised to allow these "bumper hangers" to pass so that they will not be in danger of being struck from the rear.

One glass of beer is generally not sufficient to set one drunk or make one lose reason. But remember that no matter what quantity is imbibed, it affects and impairs faculties to some degree. Motorists are reminded that just a fraction of a second's hesitation or distraction can result in an accident. The driver should always be in a state of alertness.

The hit-run driver is a criminal under federal law, and one can only qualify him as such, says the Provincial Highway Safety Committee. The criminal qualification is certainly an apt description for the person who becomes implicated in a highway accident and then leaves the scene without stopping. What of the persons who may be lying on the roadside, the victims of such a criminal act? Be certain to stop and give any help needed in any accident, be it only the slightest collision.

The human factor enters into 95 percents of accidents everywhere. It is horrible to think that the traffic fatality, the third highest killer behind cancer and heart disease, is caused by error in judgment more than nine times out of ten. It can be a case of not reflecting before acting, or it can be a case of not using safe driving methods on the roads, but whatever it is, the price is out of all proportion. If drivers and pedestrians were only

Two Loyola pupils will visit Stratford Festival

Two Loyola students will be among the 14 from Quebec making a trip to the Stratford Festival this month under the auspices of the Canada Council and Les Visites Interprovinciales. Stephen Coking of Loyola College and Eric Brooks of the High School will join a CNR train in Montreal on July 22 and spend three days at Stratford, attending the various performances and speaking with the players.

Almost 200 delegates from all over Canada will be present for the affair, most of them High School students. Steve Coking will act as one of the 20 chaparones.

Both Mr. Brooks and Mr. Coking have had considerable experience in Loyola dramatics. Coking last year played the title role in the major production "Henry V" and has been featured during the past several years in "Teahouse of the August Moon," "Sabrina Fair," and "High Tor." Brooks has been active in High School productions, and, with his advent into college this year is expected to contribute greatly to Loyola's dramatic tradition.

During the visit to Stratford the students will be present at performances of "As You Like It," "Othello," and Offenbach's opera "Orpheus in the Underworld." They will also visit backstage and talk with the actors and singers. They return by train on the evening of July 24.

All expenses of the trip will be borne by the Canada Council. On their return, the students are expected to speak of their experiences and thus "encourage the development of arts, drama and the like."

Famed singers to perform "Hallelujah Chorus" here

The Robert Mitchell Boy Singers — renowned for their performance of all modes of choral music — classical and devotional music, folk songs, and jazz — will sing in Victoria Hall, Westmount, on Monday, July 27, at 8:15 p.m.

This is the first time that the Boy Singers, who have performed throughout the Western World, come to the Montreal area and they will be here for just the one night. Recently they completed a Western European tour in which they were applauded by Pope John XXIII and 20,000 people in St. Peter's Basilica, Rome. While the boys were in Monaco, Prince Rainier and Princess Grace requested a special performance.

The Robert Mitchell Boy Singers have also done extensive movie work and will long be remembered for their contributions to Bing Crosby's "Going My Way," "The Jolson Story," "Giant," "The Babe Ruth Story," and "Peter Pan."

The Choir was formed in 1934 to sing in a Christmas service at St. Brendan's Church, Los Angeles. Their popular reception was so great that a weekly broadcast was inaugurated immediately and continued until 1943, when Musical Director Mitchell entered the Navy.

Although there are only eight members in the group, each boy is an accomplished musician and soloist in his own right. The refreshing charm and boyish vitality of the choir is perhaps its keystone.

Charles Phee starring in "The Sleeping Prince" at the Stowe Playhouse, July 22-26.

"The Sleeping Prince" July 22-26 at Stowe

The Stowe Playhouse will present "The Sleeping Prince," a light comedy by Terence Rattigan from July 22 to 26. The play is set in the England of 1911 during the coronation of George V. The official legation from Carpathia has arrived, and with it the Prince Regent, his wife the Grand Duchess, and their young son King Nicolas. The Prince Regent, in search of amusement, has invited a young American actress to dinner for two. The young actress, Mary Morgan, is wary and refuses his advances. As the play continues, Mary changes her mind, and the ensuing antics provide fun and laughs for everyone. The dialogue is light, quick and witty; the characters, interesting and entertaining.

Charles MacPhee will be seen as the Prince Regent. Charles, a member of the resident company, will be remembered for his excellent performance as Gil in "Janus" and his hilarious role as Henry in "Will Any Gentleman". Kathryn Sable plays Mary Morgan, the American actress. Kathryn, also a member of the resident company, played Angel in "Will Any Gentleman" and Lisette in "Monique". Marian Sargent, a resident of Burlington, was seen last week as Florence and this week will play the Grand Duchess. Robin Heath, of Stowe, who has done many excellent jobs for the Stowe Playhouse in past seasons, will play the part of the young King Nicolas.

Important reports, resolutions featured annual meeting of CAC

A resolution commending the Quebec Dairy Industry Commission for its action in authorizing the use of half-gallon containers for milk and hygienic cover-all caps was passed at the annual meeting of the Quebec English Branch of the Canadian Association of Consumers held in the YWCA.

A further resolution was also passed urging that the Commission give immediate consideration to establishing the principle of "store differential" in the pricing of fluid milk at the retail level.

TRADING STAMPS

It was also resolved that the delegates to the meeting do everything possible to acquaint consumers with the facts in regard to the use of trading stamps and to advise them on appropriate action to be taken to discourage their use. The delegates also resolved to request the national executive of the CAC to study the question of sales promotion methods using premiums, trading stamps and thinly-disguised lotteries with a view to approaching the appropriate Government authorities with the request that tax exemptions be limited for expenses involved in all forms of giveaway sales promotion.

Judge Georges H. Heon, chairman of the Quebec Marketing Board, was the principal speaker and he pointed out that Quebec is the only province and almost certainly the only place in North America where consumers have been given statutory recognition and participation in negotiations where their interests are affected.

Permanent Removal of Unwanted Hair Should Be Done By Specialist

Feel no misgivings about having superfluous hair removed permanently from any part of your body. It's the sensible, practical thing to do . . . now that modern science has made permanent removal so safe, comfortable, and inexpensive.

Just be sure you entrust this work on your precious skin to the best-qualified specialists.

Permanent removal of hair is no project for part-time or sideline operators, amateurs, or do-it-yourself techniques! The work calls for high aptitude, long and careful training and constant practice.

Every Gregory System technician rates "Superior" in those qualifications.

For Gregory System is Canada's largest organization of hair removal specialists, probably the largest in the world. Our clinics are fully equipped with the latest combination epilators and other devices. Every clinic is staffed with Gregory-trained technicians who are regularly rechecked by Gregory supervisors.

Because of this specialization, you'll find that the cost of hair removal by Gregory is the lowest in the city.

Visit the clean, professional Gregory clinics today. Let the director examine your "problem area" and tell you what's involved in clearing it. Then, before deciding anything, have one of the deft Gregory technicians remove a few of the offending hairs just to see what it's like. No charge or obligation whatever.

Call right now for an appointment today or tomorrow. The two Gregory System clinics in Montreal are conveniently located at:

SNOWDON: Tel. HU. 1-3522, Suite 303 — Royal Bank of Canada Bldg., 5292 Queen Mary Road at Decarie Boulevard, and

DOWNTOWN: Tel. UN. 1-6023, Suite 807 — Dominion Square Bldg., 1010 St. Catherine St. West, corner Peel, where parking is free for our clients.

Provincial WCTU holds 74th meet

The 74th annual convention of the Quebec Provincial Women's Christian Temperance Union was held recently in the YMCA, Drummond street.

The convention opened with the consecration service taken by Mrs. W. Y. King of Cushing and the expression of loyalty to the Queen given by Mrs. S. Shirley of LaSalle.

Mrs. T. H. Perrigo of Toronto, national president of WCTU, said in her address "We, as women, must have a stock-taking task for the present day presents many disturbing problems due to serious inroads of social drinking and alcoholism into the homes of the nation."

Mrs. Perrigo criticized advertisements which picture the use of alcoholic beverages as unharmed and contributing to the enjoyment of life. She pointed out that many such advertisements held a direct appeal to young people in both pictures and printed content.

Projects for 1960 include scientific temperance instruction, national study course and essay work among high school students.

YOUTH NIGHT

YMCA SUMMER CAMP COUNCELLORS IN TRAINING: Ron Parker, 17, and Grant Purvis, 17, both of Westmount, use a National Film Board training film to study various methods for handling shyness and other problems with individual campers. Acting as trainer and discussion leader is Bill Vandertogt, water-front director for Kamp Kanawana, and of the physical education department of the Montreal Protestant School Board. Mr. Vandertogt, 42, was a member of the Dutch Olympic Swimming Team in 1936 and has maintained an active interest in swimming events in Canada.

Overnight camp scheduled today for summer club

Summer Fun Clubbers of the Westmount YMCA have a special treat in store for them today as they leave on their first overnight camping trip of the season. Lake Beccsie near St. Sauveur des Monts is their destination, and this program will conclude a week which included a trip to St. Hubert Air Force base, a day at Saratoga Beach, plus the normal run of crafts, swimming and games.

To date, the Summer Fun Club has been over-registered in its first four weeks and club director, Jim Hawkes reports that even for the last four weeks registration is very high and it looks like more Westmount youngsters will have to be disappointed and their registrations refused because of lack of space.

"Also of interest in the future, is the Annual Penny Carnival slated for July 30 and the annual counsellor softball game with the Southwestern YMCA counsellors.

For the first time in 15 years the value of construction in Canada will show a decrease in 1959; the forecast for 1959 is $7,202 million compared to the 1958 all-time high of $7,231 million.

New techniques employed in Redfern office building

The interior of the ultra-modern building to be erected for Reader's Digest Magazine at the corner of Redfern avenue and St. Catherine street will be planned according to new techniques developed in New York's post-war building boom, a spokesman announced Monday.

Preliminary space plans to accommodate the publication's personnel, equipment and operations are being prepared by Designs for Business of Canada Limited located at 324 Victoria avenue. The newly established firm is a Canadian-owned affiliate of Designs for Business Inc., a New York Company which has planned millions of square feet of office space for major U.S. corporations.

The Reader's Digest Building, designed by Montreal architects Ian Martin and Victor Prus, will consist of a six storey tower housing administrative services and an adjoining two storey "pancake" structure for fulfillment services.

"In order to prepare the preliminary space plans," Mr. Stanley R. Shefler, president of Designs for Business explains, "we conducted a survey and tabulation of Reader's Digest's present Montreal organization, its personnel, space requirements, special areas, basic equipment and relationships of the various departments."

"Once the plans are completed," he says, "our experts will be in a position to work out, for the entire 50,000 square-foot floor area of the proposed Reader's Digest building, itemized budgets and specifications for the various elements of the project such as partitions, doors, glazing hardware, ceilings, lighting, switching and receptacle diagrams, telephone and inter-communication layouts, furniture, furnishings and decorative accessories. Finally we can carry out a complete purchasing program."

Mr. Shefler, whose firm has also been retained by builders Webb and Knapp (Canada) Ltd. for the planning of the office space throughout the Place Ville Marie buildings, explains that precision engineering of business interiors has become an economic necessity in view of the rising cost of new building space.

"Large corporations seeking a long lease in expensive quarters," he says, "can effect substantial savings by employing space planners to determine accurately their minimum space requirements and to help them select, among the various available buildings, the space that will best accommodate their present and future business needs."

"Builders and real estate brokers offering space to potential tenants or buyers," he adds, "often call upon space planning consultants to help in selling the right space to the right client by creating interior layouts in accordance with the particular operations of each prospective occupant."

On March 9, 1896, at a council meeting of the Town of Westmount, by-law No. 60 respecting the planting of trees in the town approved, which reads in part as follows: "That shade trees shall be planted along the municipal or other roads, or along sidewalks or public places in the town at the expense of the Corporation in accordance with the Rules and Regulations." A further section states: "No person shall plant any tree or any sidewalk or street of said town, or in any public place in the town without leave first obtained from the Inspector, who shall have power to remove the same in the interest of the public."

Dr. Este's church was dedicated in ceremonies last month. In his pastor's message contained in the programme, Dr. Este wrote: "Ethnically, we stand in dire need of re-indoctrination of race pride. Racial pride does not imply the contemptuous isolation of ourselves from contemporary society. To the contrary, it connotes and denotes intensive cooperation with all the elements of social progress with a view to the making of a distinctive cultural contribution that will enable us to combat opposing forces whenever they may tend to confront us. Pride of race means doing something constructive for ourselves instead of always depending on others to help us."

LAST WEEK'S REMARKS on the new point system which the paddlers are using received unfavorable comment from many corners. George Bossy, coach of the Cartierville club replied in no uncertain terms that we were wrong. He defend the new system, "Cartierville are going to win whether it is the old or the new system". Judging by the way that the carts are setting the Eastern division on fire, Bossy is so right.

Bossy feels that international competition uses a system where as the first six places, points are given, so why not paddling. Another point that he brought out was that the Carts are in shape. They train hard, hence that is why they are on top today. Two straight Dominions is their record and they will work for that third come first of August at Ottawa.

"The new system," Bossy went on to say, "helps the small guy to take some points home. I have had many who have said that they felt good taking home a few points, where in the past they did not have any." Bossy feels that this new point system is helping the game and not hurting it. The way that this writer sees the new system is that instead of a pat on the back for trying to make one of the first three places and finishing fourth or better, the same paddler gets a few points.

Bossy took the press apart in that they are trying to tear down what this new point system is doing, that is helping the game. He felt that the press should point out that at Cartierville, condition is the all important thing. "My boys watch their diet. They are not allowed to have too many soft drinks during the regatta. They drink, eat and sleep condition, and Cartierville has been getting results."

Even Cartierville's greatest enemies will admit that the paddlers are in good shape. But, again there were the days not so long ago that Lachine and Grand Trunk were just as good, and we have to say this, conditioning was tried, but it did not work very successful. In the years that we have followed paddling, I have seen paddlers carry on but did not get into good shape for the season. Bossy must understand that everybody is not made like him, strong with will power to do a job and do it well. Stay in condition, not for the game or the club, but for himself. All this Bossy must and so must his executive at Cartierville be given great credit.

It was also pointed out to this corner by another Cartierville man, who broke down the Otterburn aggregate, and Carts scored 92½ against Lachine's 42½. It seems that Bossy is right, new or old point system, Carts are going to be tops. The more people that talk about the new and old point system is not hurting the game, but helping, for where can you get better publicity than by word of mouth. We all have our own opinions, Bossy his, you have yours and I have mine, but I'm sure that this question of the point system will not hurt anyone. It is one of the many topics that come along in day to day sports.

When a lion charges, it comes along at an approximate speed of 40 miles an hour.

Moore-Durelle championship bout milestone in Ed Quinn's career

WHEN Archie Moore and Yvon Durelle step into the squared circle of the Forum on July 29, the event will mark a milestone in the promotional career of one Edmund Vesuvius Quinn of Mount Royal.

The erudite Mr. Quinn, who has lost more weight recently than yours truly or his P.R. man Norm Olson has been able to do over a couple of years, stands to make a bundle if all goes well in the Forum extravaganza.

Eddie has been promoting boxing and wrestling for over 20 years in Montreal, Ottawa and other provincial cities, towns and villages.

* * *

He built boxing's popularity up to its peak largely on the shoulders of the late Johnny Greco, of N.D.G. Laurent Dauthuille, Armand Savole, Harry Hurst, Maxie Berger, Gaby Ferland and other idols of the fistcuff claim as the "Fight of The Year," and Moore was named the "Fighter of The Years".

Well it was inevitable that the rematch would be made, but this time no stones will be left unturned to make it a perfect promotion by Edmund Quinn.

He has blacked out every possible TV channel that conceivably could send a picture into Montreal.

The prices have been scaled on a much more imaginative line than for example, they were scaled for the Johansson-Patterson tussle in New York recently.

The fight will be televised across America—except on channels 3, 5, 8, — and the promotion will be handsomely reimbursed for the TV rights.

Win, lose or draw — the Moore-Durelle fight has all the earmarks of becoming a successful Eddie Quinn promotion.

NOTES FROM HERE, THERE, EVERYWHERE: — We visited Gorham Raceway, Gorham, Maine, last week for a look at the trotters and

However the smaller fields made picking easier and we managed to come up with a lucrative quinella . . . Also took a look at the stock car racers at Beech Ridge Speedway in West Scarborough, Maine. Thrills aplenty and crashes too, but I'm convinced it takes more than common sense to get behind the wheel of a stock car . . . next Sunday's paddling regatta from Three Rivers will be televised on Channel 2 at 4:30 p.m. The blade-wielders are in action on Saturday at Cartierville before moving to Three Rivers Sunday . . . # High batting, pitching figures in Kiwanis LL

Yankees of the Kiwanis American A Little League lead the loop with 10 wins against four losses, closely followed by Tigers, only two points behind with nine wins to their credit. Athletics have a seven and five record for 14, while Senators trail with a single win in 14 starts.

The leaders have only placed two batters in the first 10. M. Ortuso with .395 and E. Pierson with .351.

In the pitching, Johnny Andreoli, Ortuso and G. Leduc are all undefeated with a 4-0, 3-0 and 2-0 count respectively.

R. Leroux leads the Athletic hurlers with a 3-0 count, while A. Baldo is tops for Tigers with 3-1.

Other league hitters in the charmed circle include R. Laverque, Tigers, on top with .400; N. Lefebvre, Tigers, .357; D. Lafleur and R. Mailhot, Athletics with .321 and .314 in that order; G. Kershaw, Senators, .314; R. Brown and J. Barnoff, Tigers, .300 and .278, and G. Gauthier, Yanks, .269.

Park Extension Pirates are out on top of the National B League with eight wins for 16 points, but Phillies are close on their heels having won seven for 14. Reds are hitting at a .500 clip with five and five, with Cardinals trailing with a four and eight record.

Games in this loop are close with all squads evenly balanced, so a couple of wins for any team will make a big difference.

Bob Moore, pitching for Phillies, leads the parade with four wins against one loss. Johnny ViteHo from the same team has a 3 and 1 record while Richie Lapointe, star hurler for Reds, also boasts a 3-1 count.

Five youngsters in this loop are all hitting .500. They are Vic Sabetta, Carmen Apa and Bruce Milburn, Phillies; Richie Lapointe and Jean Jaques Brunet, Reds.

No runaway wins have been registered in this loop so far and the eventual winner should supply plenty of fireworks for the opposition in the playoff race.

As boxing's popularity fell off the World over, so did it in Montreal. # Birmingham boys bother Indians

Jim Birmingham is the toast of the Little League Orioles' after pitching his club to a 10-1, two-hit victory over the Indians.

Birmingham struck out 10 batters while at the plate. He was a going concern hitting a home run and a triple for a total of four RBI's.

His brother, Brian, also got in on the act belting a homer. George Neil contributed a homer and Frank Angelini clouted a roundtripper, a double and a single to round out the Orioles' hitting spree. Andre Driver homered for the losers.

In other games Giants swamped Braves 13-2 with Guy Lacoste the winning pitcher, Tigers defeated Senators 15-8.

Art Baldo was the winning Tiger hurler while teammate Ricky Brown gave Baldo full support at the bat with a double and two singles.

'CLUB 800' AND FRIENDS: Mike Stephens, popular MC of CJAD's 'Club 800', a program specially designed for teenagers, met with his fans at the Westmount Park bandstand Wednesday afternoon for a mobile broadcast. With him is Judy Smythe, a Grade XI student of Macdonald High School who is hostess for the show this summer. Music and dancing, an uncommon phenomenon for staid Westmount Park, enlivened the afternoon. The occasional oldster viewed the proceedings with mixed curiosity and surprise, but spectators and participants, both young and old, had themselves an afternoon's good entertainment.

'Club 800' sparks dancing for teens in Westmount Park

Nearly 200 teenagers gathered near the bandstand in Westmount Park Wednesday afternoon to dance to top pop tunes and participate in Mike Stephens' "Club 800", which was broadcast at 4 p.m. from a CJAD mobile unit.

Stephens, a resident of Montreal West, is a pleasant-looking announcer whose bland manner belies a capacity for getting large groups of high-school youngsters to take part in the hour-long program in an orderly way — no mean job.

He is married to a ballet dancer who formerly taught in Westmount, and who gave up a career in dancing for one as a housewife. "Mike", as his following informally but fondly refers to him, hopes shortly to be a father.

Emceeding the program with him was a pretty blond teenager from Macdonald High School, Judy Smythe. She was chosen as hostess for the summer portion of the program by a panel of judges who interviewed contestants from 33 schools. Judy, who will enter Grade XI in the fall, will handle the program by herself when Mike goes on holiday the last week of July.

Varied program in forthcoming concert in park

The Royal Montreal Regiment Band will give the second in a series of concerts presented by the city in King George Park Monday at 8:15 p.m., under the baton of A. Flemink WO 1.

The program, separated by a short intermission in the middle of the concert is as follows:

"Richelieu" a march by Boivent; "Poet and Peasant" overture by Von Suppe; "Waves of the Danube," and Ivanovici waltz; "Cranberry Corners U.S.A." a Klein novelty; "Souvenir de Quebec" by O'Neil; a march fantasia, "Col. Bogey on Parade" by Alfred; "Them Bases" a Huffine march; "Fascination", waltz by Marchetti; highlights from Rogers and Hammersteins "South Pacific"; Schubert's "Ave Maria"; "Seventy-six Trombones" by Wilson; "Mon Ami", and O'Neil march; the regimental march "Ca Ira"; "God Save the Queen."

"Club 800", which has an extremely flexible format made up of interviews, top tunes, dancing, and giveaways of prizes, pictures of recording stars and records, runs with a three-man crew: Mike, Judy and operator Bud Oliver. Handling the mobile unit for the Westmount Park show was Barry Consella.

Bud, originally of Cowansville in the Eastern Townships, and now a resident of Verdun, was a great fan of "Club 800" in the days when Bob Harvey acted as MC.

"What future is there for an operator," Oliver was asked. "I hope someday to be a program director, and perhaps manager of a station," smiled the young man, who has been with CJAD for three years.

Some older people, out for an afternoon's sunshine in Westmount Park, were among the interested and slightly puzzled spectators of the program. One elderly lady, marvelling at the maze of wires, tubes, and switches in the mobile radio truck, was moved to comment, "It's wonderful what they're doing nowadays!"

Festival scheduled August 4-28

Beethoven's Concerto No. 3 in C minor, Concerto in A minor by Schumann and Roger Matton's Horoscope. The Symphony of the Air, formerly Toscanini's NBC Symphony Orchestra, will be conducted on this occasion by Dr. Wilfrid Pelletier.

Friday, August 7, Mr. Kempff will give a recital of the last four sonatas by Beethoven. Both this programme and the orchestral concert will take place in Plateau Hall.
