ALLIES IN CLOSE HARMONY ON ITALIAN ISSUE

Members Of Cabinet And Leaders Of Militia Ordered To Stand By

Moscow Speedily Backs Up President Roosevelt's Warning to Neutral Nations Not to Give Refuge to Mussolini—Feeling in London Big News About to Break, Either Italy's Capitulation or Possible New Invasion Blow.

London, July 31.—(P)—Great Britain, the United States and Soviet Russia are acting in close harmony in dealing with the Italian situation it was learned today, and it can be presumed that any armistice terms laid down for Italy would carry the approval of all three powers.

This manifestation of Allied unity became known as Prime

GERMANS DISARM ITALIAN TROOPS

London, July 31.—(P)—A Reuters (news agency) dispatch today said "it has just been learned that German troops have begun to disarm Italian troops in the neighborhood of Maritza in Greece."

Minister Winston Churchill ordered all British Cabinet members and heads of the fighting services to stand by over the week-end for any possible developments in connection with the Italian crisis.

Other Allied governments were also being kept informed of developments. Foreign Minister Anthony Eden summoned their representatives into conference shortly after the two early morning sessions yesterday of the British War Cabinet.

How closely the Allies were working together was indicated by the speed which Moscow backed President Roosevelt's warning to neutral nations not to give refuge to Mussolini or any other war criminal. From the Russian capital, too, came the disclosure that Great Britain had sent a similar warning to neutral countries, even before it was officially announced in London.

CIANO RESIGNS POST

London, July 31.—(P)—The Rome radio said today Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, had resigned as Italian Ambassador to the Vatican.

The early Cabinet meeting created a wave of excitement in London and there was a feeling that big news was about to break—either a sudden capitulation by Italy or a possible new invasion blow.

This feeling was bolstered by a Vatican City report broadcast by Radio Algiers that Luigi Cardinal Maglione, Papal Secretary of State, had spent yesterday in almost continuous conversation with diplomats of countries accredited to the Holy See.

As British public anger mounted over Premier Badoglio's delay in replying to the Allied peace demands, the possibility was raised that he might be induced to step down in favor of someone willing to negotiate peace on the basis of terms outlined by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in

Expect Appointment Of Canada As Member Of Combined Food Board

By J. F. SANDERSON, Canadian Press Staff Writer
Washington, July 31.—(P)—In recognition of her position as the second ranking food provider among the United Nations Canada shortly may be appointed to full membership on the Combined Food Board, it was reported here.

The Board at present is limited to representatives of the United States and Britain and was set up originally by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill shortly after the United States entered the war. Its function is to co-ordinate food production and distribute surpluses, having regard to the strategic and industrial needs of the United Nations as a whole. Its headquarters is in Washington.

It was suggested here that official announcement of Canada's nomination to full membership may be delayed two or three weeks although only details remain to be completed. If Canada gets on the Board, it will be the second top-level Allied

DUPLICATE FREIGHT CAR MAKES TROUBLE

Montreal, July 31.—(P)—Freight car number 502819 caused a bit of confusion at the freight terminals of Canadian National Railways yesterday—because there were two of it.

Handlers who had consignments to place in car 502819 were being hustled by the checkers who complained that the freight was not arriving on schedule. The handlers claimed the shipment was already aboard the car.

The resulting argument ended when it was discovered that for the first time on record there were actually two freight cars of the same number in the terminal at the same time. One was Canadian National Railway 502819, the other Pennsylvania Railway 502819.

Nazi Reinforcements Collapse Before Furious Soviet Advance

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Moscow, July 31.—(P)—German reinforcements flown to Russia from Germany less than a day before they were thrown into battle broke before the furious onslaught that brought Red Army forces closer to Orel yesterday, the front line dispatches said today.

At least 4,000 German troops fell before the Russian advance which battered its way for gains up to six miles and possession of 20 more villages in the path of the three-pronged drive slowly strangling the key German base, a Soviet communiqué said.

The Russian reports said that German prisoners taken in the drive declared they had been flown to the front from Stettin day before yesterday.

The Russians said their advance continued in the face of stubborn German resistance which in some cases entailed hand-to-hand fighting.

North of Orel the Russians continued to use cavalry units which succeeded in driving German troops out of several villages, the communiqué reported. In another sector North of Orel it said 800 Germans were killed, nine tanks were disabled and four destroyed.

South of Orel, Russian troops were reported to have killed 2,000 Germans, destroyed 16 tanks and captured six others in addition to disabling or capturing a large number of artillery pieces.

London, July 31.—(P)—The German radio, in a report on fighting on the Russian front, told its listeners at home last night that the war has turned into heavy work and that no more special communiqués could be expected.

YOUNG QUEBEC GUNNER GIVES VIEWS ON WAR

Sgt.-Gnr. Alphe Boisvert, Prior to Making Sacrifice, Expresses Hope that Death Will Not Be in Vain.

Montreal, July 31.—(P)—Officials of No. 5 Training Command headquarters of the R.C.A.F. here yesterday received a letter which Sgt.-Gnr. Alphe Boisvert wrote them shortly before he was killed to tell how he felt about the war.

"If it should be our lot to make the supreme sacrifice by laying down our lives in the service of our country," Boisvert wrote, "we young French-Canadians hope that however small our contributions to the common cause, our sacrifice will not have been in vain. It is our desire that our loved ones, back home in Canada, may once again enjoy peace."

Boisvert, whose home town was not available here, was killed in action over Essen in July, 1942. His letter passed from hand-to-hand and only reached here twenty-one months after it was written.

FULL BONUS IS PROVIDED FOR ALL SHIPYARDS

National War Labor Board Announces that All Yards Under Its Jurisdiction Will Pay Full Bonus of $4.25.

Ottawa, July 31.—(P)—The National War Labor Board announced last night that effective this date all shipyards under its jurisdiction paying less than the full cost-of-living bonus of $4.25 weekly now will pay the full amount.

The announcement did not identify the yards affected.

The Board also said the general wage structure in all of Eastern Shipyards now is under survey and "careful consideration," and "it is expected that in a reasonable time the question of wage adjustments will be worked out."

DELAY IN GUARANTEED WAGE

Ottawa, July 31.—(P)—The Dominion Government's guaranteed wage for longshoremen at Halifax will be paid after September 7 instead of August 1 as originally planned, the Labor Department announced yesterday.

The delay, said an official statement, is "purely mechanical." It had been found that organization of the longshoremen and making provision for the handling of payments would take considerably longer than expected.

The purpose of the guaranteed wage is to provide an incentive to longshoremen at Halifax not to switch to other jobs in periods of slack employment—a move aimed at maintaining a constant supply of skilled dock workers in the vital wartime port.

MAN REMANDED OVER MANSLAUGHTER CASE

Montreal, July 31.—(P)—Walter Farrow of Montreal was ordered by Judge C. E. Guerin yesterday to appear for preliminary hearing August 5 on charges of manslaughter and of failing to stop after an accident. The charges arose out of the death of Rosette Trillio, 18, who was struck by a motor car Wednesday.

Farrow was arraigned on the charges a short while after a coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death in the case.

APPEARS ON COUPON CHARGE

Montreal, July 31.—(P)—William Baer of Montreal was ordered yesterday to stand trial August 4 on a charge of possessing 100 detached gasoline ration coupons. He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Allies' Rolling Air Offensive Is Shifted To New Targets

London, July 31.—(P)—The Allies' rolling air offensive shifted to a new target last night when R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. bombers blasted at Remscheid, German steel centre on the edge of the Ruhr.

It was the first raid of the war on Remscheid, which was singled out for last night's heavy assault after Hamburg had been subjected to its seventh attack in a week on Thursday night. Bombers of the Canadian Moose Squadron flew with the R.A.F. on the raid.

Allied Headquarters, North Africa, July 31.—(P)—American heavy bombers, going back into action over Sicily, have dealt a sledge-hammer blow at the Grottaglie airport near Taranto on the heel of the Italian boot, it was announced today. Torpedo boats sank a large enemy merchantman being towed by a tug and machine-gunned the tug in the Gulf of Patti on the North coast of Sicily on the night of July 25 in a burst of renewed Allied naval activity.

Drew's Expose Of Management Of Hong Kong Expedition Is Praised

Toronto, July 31.—(P)—Lt.-Col. George Drew's criticism of the Hong Kong expedition's management "was one of the finest, most courageous acts of public service that any man has rendered this country in the face of terrible odds," George McCullagh said last night.

The publisher of the Globe and Mail, in his second election broadcast, asserted that "any improvement in the Canadian army's training methods is due mainly to one man and that is the much-discussed critic, the leader of the Progressive Conservative party in Ontario."

Mr. McCullagh defended Col. Drew for his position on both the Bren gun contracts and the Hong

Definite Price Ceiling Planned For Chief Canadian Fruit Crops

Ottawa, July 31.—(P)—The Prices Board announced last night that it would announce a definite price ceiling for the peach crop, for instance, is estimated to be only one-quarter to one-third of what it was last year.

Putting a ceiling on these fruits does not mean they will be available everywhere. Because of the short crop and heavy consumer demand, plus the difficulty of transporting perishable fruit, rather than run the risk of letting fruit go bad which being shipped long distances, the Board is prepared to allow the crop to be absorbed in regions not remote from the growing point.

"While controlling the prices of peaches, plums and pears is considered a major administrative problem, it is more manageable than putting effective maximum prices on the berry crop, which is extremely perishable."

"The Board has embarked on this programme after long and thorough study but does not consider the problem entirely solved."

"Ceilings on certain fresh fruits and on storable vegetables will meet part of the problem, but it must be noted that there is nothing the Board can do about the shortage of crops this year. The difficulties arising out of this and the administrative problems involved continue to make this a headache to all concerned."

WAR BULLETINS

Stockholm — German soldiers manning anti-aircraft guns and other aerial defence installations within Germany are being relieved by workers and will be sent to the fronts, Berlin dispatches to Sweden said. The move reflects again the Nazi effort to get the most out of available manpower.

London — Pope Pius has placed £10,000 ($44,500) at the disposal of the Roman Catholic churches in Britain to be used for the restoration of war-damaged Catholic churches, the Office of the Apostolic Delegate announced.

Moscow — A Tass dispatch from Geneva said the Germans had announced the death from wounds of Maj.-Gen. Hunnersdorf, described as chief of headquarters of the German armored tank army. It said he was wounded in battle in the Belgorod area.

JAIL SENTENCE AS OUTCOME OF POKER SESSION

London, Eng., Man Sentenced to Six Months in Montreal Court for Theft of $16,380 in New York Hotel Room Game.

Montreal, July 31.—(P)—Martin Hoffer of London, Eng., was sentenced by Judge Omer LeGrand yesterday to six months in jail for theft of $16,380 following a poker game with Edward Rose of New Orleans, La., in a New York hotel room in 1940. The sentence was made retroactive to February 6.

Hoffer pleaded guilty last week to stealing the money from Rose who testified that the game started for matches and then grew into large stakes. He said he gave Hoffer two cheques for $16,380, one of them when the game ended and another when the accused reported he could not cash the first cheque because it was not made out properly. Hoffer, he said, did not destroy the original cheque as promised.

In passing sentence the court took into consideration the fact that Hoffer was in custody in the United States fighting extradition before appearing here where he had allegedly deposited the cheques.

SHARP DROP IN FRUIT HARVEST IS INDICATED

Plum and Prune Crop Provides Brightest Hue to Otherwise Drab Forecast of 1943 Fruit Production.

Ottawa, July 31.—(P)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today in a fruit crop report that the first estimates of the 1943 tree fruit and grape crops indicate a "big drop" in total production from last season.

"Although the apple crop in Nova Scotia is 23 per cent larger than that of a year ago, reductions ranging from two per cent in New Brunswick to 29 per cent in British Columbia bring the Canadian total to 3,951,000 barrels, compared with 4,330,000 barrels in 1942," said the Bureau.

"The pear crop also is substantially smaller," estimated at 475,200 bushels compared with 752,900 bushels. The decline occurred in the three producing provinces, Nova Scotia, Ontario and British Columbia.

Outlook for the plum and prune crop is the "brightest of any of the fruits" and is only slightly off last year at 355,800 bushels. The 1942 crop was estimated at 355,500 bushels.

Peach production this season shows a drop of 67 per cent and is estimated at 647,900 bushels, compared with 1,939,200 bushels in 1942. The reduction occurred in both Ontario and British Columbia where declines of 68 per cent and 59 per cent respectively are indicated.

Apricots, produced commercially only in British Columbia, are off substantially at 15,700 bushels, compared with 81,800 bushels last season.

The cherry output is also much below that of a year ago. Estimated at 189,600 bushels, the crop is 46 per cent smaller than the 1942 harvest of 349,500 bushels.

Although the outlook for the grape crop is 22 per cent below the record harvest of 1942, the current estimate of 58,357,000 pounds is 32 per cent larger than the five-year average 1936-40 of 44,319,500 pounds.

TO INVESTIGATE DISPUTE

Montreal, July 31.—(P)—Bernard Rose, K.C., has been appointed disputes inquiry commissioner to investigate labor problems at the plants of Ayers Limited, Lachute, and Knitters Limited, Marieville, Que. Main problems in both plants is the demand for recognition of the United Textile Workers of Canada, an affiliate of the Trades and Labor Congress.

Canadians Continue To Move Forward In Bitter Hand-To-Hand Fighting

Heavy Casualties Inflicted by British and American Troops, and 1,000 New Prisoners Reported Captured in Northern Sector—Islands of Favignana, Levanzo and Marettimo Reported to Have Surrendered Unconditionally.

Forty-two names on latest casualty list of R. C. A. F.

Ottawa, July 31.—(P)—The R. C. A. F. in its 641st casualty list of the war containing forty-two names yesterday reported five men killed on active service Overseas, thirty-three missing on active service after Overseas air operations, and one drowned accidentally in Canada.

The Overseas section of the list also contained the names of two men previously reported missing on active service and now reported prisoner of war of Germany, and one previously missing on active service and now reported prisoner of war of Germany.

Allied Headquarters, North Africa, July 31.—(P)—Both the British 8th Army and the American 7th Army have made good progress on the North and East sectors of the Sicilian front, Allied headquarters announced today as Allied naval forces swept Italian coastal waters and Allied aircraft laid down a heavy offensive against Italy's mainland airdromes.

Very heavy casualties were inflicted by the British and American troops, the communiqué said.

The two armies captured more than 4,000 new prisoners in the Northern sector.

The unconditional surrender of the Islands of Favignana, Levanzo and Marettimo was reported.

The three little islands form a triangle off the West Coast of Sicily, the most westerly being Marettimo, which is twenty-five miles from Allied-occupied Trapani.

The announcement also said the Canadians continued their advance over the rugged highlands of Sicily in bitter hand-to-hand fighting.

Latest reports captured by the Dominion troops was Agira, which Ross Munro, Canadian Press War Correspondent, said fell at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday, July 28th, as German troops retreated after a mauling by Canadian artillery.

Taking part in the battle for the town, he said, were the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, the Seaforth Highlanders and the Loyal Edmonton. More than 300 Germans were captured, he added, and some 500 killed in combat.

Fighting fiercely, the Canadians, he said, have gained the respect of the tough German soldiers, who now refer to them as the "Red Patch Devils." This is because the Canucks wear a bright red battle patch near the right shoulder of their tunics.

Having taken Agira, the Canadians were only ten miles South of the highway town of Triona. From their position they could execute a flanking movement against that town.

Bombers returned to the suburbs of Rome to pulverize the Pratich di Mare airport, eleven miles South of the capital, and other aircraft, returning to the mainland for another of their sledgehammer blows, attacked Grottaglie airport near Taranto on the Italian heel, Allied headquarters announced.

Fighters in a savage fight over Sardinia shot to pieces a formation of German and Italian fighters, destroying twenty-one out of thirty-five. The Axis air force reeled under the lopsided score of twenty-six Axis planes lost to one Allied plane missing for the day.

THREE KILLED IN MONTREAL ACCIDENTS

Montreal, July 31.—(P)—Antoine Ratia, sixty-three, George Reed, three, and Andre St. Laurent, three, were killed by motor trucks in separate accidents yesterday.

Extension Of Call-Up Groups For Compulsory Army Service Likely

By JACK WILLIAMS, Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Ottawa, July 31.—(P)—With the available pool of men in age groups now eligible for compulsory service almost exhausted, early extension of the call-up to new groups is expected.

Officially there has been no formal indication that the mobilization regulations are to be extended but it is known that the men now subject to call can not be expected much longer to fill army requisitions from the Defence Department.

Proclamations so far issued under the mobilization regulations apply to single men and childless widowers born in the years 1902 to 1923 and to married men, or widowers with children, born in the years 1917 to 1923.

Expectations are that there will be an extension at both ends—a lowering of the eligible age from 19 to 18½ or possibly 18, and inclusion of married men in the 25-to-30 age group. It is not considered likely that the present limit of 40 years for single men will be changed.

During the last three-month period, it is understood, the army asked for something over 40,000 men. Selective service came within 900 of meeting the requisition but since the pool is steadily being exhausted, it will become increasingly difficult to attain such objectives unless new groups of men are made available.

The group of married men from twenty-five to thirty is likely to include a considerable number of key men in war and other essential industries. However, medical ratings generally drop as the age group is extended upward.

Total requirements of the armed forces for the present fiscal year have been placed by Defence Minister Ralston at 177,000 but allowing for the return of some men from the forces to civilian life the net drain is estimated at about 150,000.

Enlistment of women is also likely to reach a point where it will make noticeable inroads on civilian employment. The enlistment quota for women in the three forces stands at 65,000.

Cowansville Student Leads Province In High School Tests

Douglas Smith Obtained 895 Out Of A Possible 1,000 In High School Leaving Exams

Of the 1,649 pupils writing the High School Leaving examinations in the Province of Quebec last June, Douglas Smith, of the Cowansville High, led the field with a total of 895 marks out of a possible 1,000, it was announced today by Dr. W. P. Percival, Director of Protestant Education, in releasing the names of the successful candidates.

It was also reported that Walter Riese, of the Sherbrooke High, had ranked among the top seventeen in the Province, being listed as tenth with a total of 861 marks.

Dr. Percival said that 1,152 students or 68.8 per cent were successful in their examinations, with the standard of other years being maintained. In order to obtain the high school leaving certificate, candidates must pass in English literature and composition, oral and written French, and at least four other subjects from a lengthy list of options. When students write on more than six optional subjects, the six highest marks are taken with the compulsory units to make up a maximum total of 1,000 marks.

Successful candidates may present their high school leaving certificates to the universities, where they will be accepted at face value "pro tanto" for admission. Supplementary examinations in all subjects will be held early in September in Montreal. Those who wish to write these supplementary examinations must send their applications before September 1 to E. S. Giles, inspector - general of Protestant Schools, at the Department of Education, Quebec.

The following are the names of the candidates who were successful in passing the Quebec high school leaving examinations in the Eastern Townships schools.

In these lists the schools as well as the names of the candidates are given in alphabetical order and after the name of each candidate appears the class standing which is based on the following score: Class I—800 marks and over; Class II—650-700 marks; Class III—below 650 marks. Those whose names are followed by an S will receive their certificates after writing supplementary examinations.

BY-LAW VETOED

AT WATERVILLE

Waterville, July 31.—A by-law providing for the sale of wine and beer was defeated by municipal electors at a referendum on Thursday by thirty-seven votes.

One hundred and twenty-seven electors voted against the by-law and nine others in favor of it. The 317 votes represented eighty-five per cent of the electors in the municipality.

The proposed by-law, presented to the Council of Waterville on July 2 by a group of ratepayers, was turned down. However, thirty electors later signed a petition and presented it to the municipal officials, who ordered the referendum.

FOSTER

Foster, July 31.—A sugar social was held on the Creek United Church grounds one evening, under the auspices of the South Stukely circuit.

Sugar on snow was served at long tables outside as well as in the basement. Doughnuts and pickles were served.

The hot dogs, coffee and soft drinks proved to be popular. A large assortment of "Mystery packages" were soon sold and a variety of articles on the sale table, especially the home cooking found ready buyers.

The snow, which had been stored by Orval Quilliams, was in perfect condition, and the wax served in this way proved to be a great treat to a large number, who had never had the opportunity of enjoying it previously.

The arrangements were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. C. Whitcher and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hastings. The following are those who acted on the various committees: Sugar, Byron Mizener and Forest Inglis; Tickets, George Mizener and Maurice Williams; Gates, Alfred Harvey and Lester Mizener; Parking cars, Ray Leavitt; Pickles and doughnuts, Mrs. F. C. Inglis and Mrs. Lester Mizener; Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Quilliams and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunsmore; Serving tables, Mrs. Lionel Allen; Mrs. George Mizener, Miss Alice Thompson, Mrs. Fred Marsh, Misses Mollie and Joyce George, Edythe Whitcher, Elizabeth Hastings, Margaret Taylor, Margaret Marsh, Gladys Stone, Hazel and Edna Bessette and Mrs. Heman Salisbury; Dishes, Mrs. Lindsay Martin.

A very gratifying sum was realized from the event, which will be divided between the Brill, Stukely, Eastman and Creek appointments.

General Notes
Mrs. Roland Flinn, Miss Patricia Flinn and Master Paul Flinn, of New York, have returned after spending several days here the guests of Mrs. Flinn's sister, Mrs. Lionel Allen, and Mr. Allen.

RAND CONCERT

BAND TO HOLD FIRST RECITAL

Preparations are being completed for the initial public concert of the Sherbrooke's first band, the Smart 25-piece Canadian Ingersoll-Band Concert Band, directed by James Boness, which will give an open-air programme in Portland Square on Monday evening at 8.30 p.m.

One of the few industrial bands in Canada, and the only one of its kind in the Townships, the musical aggregation under the sponsorship of the Rand boasts a number of talented bandmen. Hours of careful rehearsal have prepared them for their first public appearance, and the only regret of company officials is that wartime exigencies prevent the band from being outfitted in resplendent uniforms.

Director Boness, one of Canada's outstanding band leaders, has played with some of the outstanding bands of the present day. Former member of the immortal John Philip Sousa's noted band, he has also played with Arthur Pryor's favorite military band, the Royal Marine Band, and in the organization directed by Herbert L. Clark, world famous cornetist. Boness, himself, is a saxophone player, and also used to double on the clarinet.

Announcing the programme prepared for Monday night's appearance at Portland Square, Director Boness has submitted the following numbers:

O Canada; March S.I.B.A., by R. B. Hall; overture (Characteristic) by C. F. Thiele; march (The Thunderer), by Sousa; This Is Worth Fighting For, by Delange and Stepi; selection, Land of the Shamrock, arranged by C. F. Thiele; The Band Played On, by Ward and Palmer; Wings Over the Navy, by Harry Warren; Somebody Else is Taking My Place, by Howard and Ellsworth; novelty overture (Nuggett Nell); march (Carry On), by Thompson and Dainty; God Save the King.

LORNE
Deepest sympathy is extended to the relatives of Rfmn. Clarence George Stevens, Royal Rifles of Canada, who died while a prisoner of war in Hong Kong. A memorial service will be held in St. Paul's Church, Trout Brook, on Sunday, August 1, at 2.30 p.m.

Mayor and Mrs. Donat Plourde spent a week-end in Sherbrooke and Magog, visiting relatives.

B. is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Durrell and Miss Thora Durrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Williams were guests of Mrs. J. J. Irwin and her niece, Miss Mildred Booth, of Ryley, Alta., in Waterville.

SCOTSTOWN
Salad Tea, Presbyterian Hall, Tuesday, Aug. 3rd, 5 p.m., 40c, 25c.

F. E. Bergeron, popular employee of the Esmond Mills, Limited, was given a presentation before leaving to take up his duties as Manager of the Rationing Administration Office of this branch in Granby.

The Esmond employee, presented Mr. Bergeron with War Savings Certificates and the office staff remembered him with a pen and pencil set.

Mr. Bergeron was among the first to be employed by the Granby branch of the Esmond Mills, when it was established in Granby some eleven years ago. At the time of leaving he held the office of Assistant Plant Superintendent. Congratulations are extended to Mr. Bergeron.

The organization of the Blood Donors' Clinic in Granby is progressing rapidly. Chairman J. H. Flack is proceeding in a very business-like manner to prepare for the first clinic to be held in Granby on August 30th, at 9 a.m. He has named his working committee as follows: Publicity, W. R. Legge and O. R. Jackman, Furnishings and Supplies, H. A. Whitcher and George Nixon; Medical, Samuel MacLaughlin and Pte. Edith Bennett, C.W.A.C., and J. W. Halpin and Nelson Thompson; Secretary, Mrs. H. C. Wade. Other assistants will be named later.

William (Billy) Bowker, youngest and third son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bowker, has joined as a wireless technician in the R.C.A.F. Both his brothers already are in the same arm of the service.

The sale of tickets for the Red Cross benefit at the Granby Golf club on Saturday has been most successful and a large attendance is assured. Tickets are still available and efforts are being made for an outstanding event.

Mrs. N. A. Meyer, of Sutton, visited her son, Lt. Col. C. V. Meyer on Denison Avenue.

Rev. and Mrs. A. Ritchie Low, of Johnson, Vt., were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Green.

F. O. Harry Shanno, of the R.C.A.F., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Legge and daughter, Miss Helen Legge, Alexandra Street, for a week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dow and Miss Julia Safford, of Sutton, were in Granby attending the Miller-Meyer wedding.

Miss Ermine Brodeur is spending a few days at St. Johns visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. Brodeur.

Lt. Cpl. Elsie Ceaser, C. W. A. C., Montreal, spent a week-end in Granby as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Webster, Denison Avenue.

Mrs. J. B. MacDonald spent a few days in Montreal as guest of Mrs. Agnes Kenworthy and the Misses Marion and Ethel Kenworthy.

The Misses Maureen Quinn and Joan Harvey are spending a week's vacation in North Hatley.

Miss Frances Flisk, of Montreal,

EASTERN STAR

GIVES $250 TO QUEEN'S FUND

In these days when there are so many projects related to the war effort, the contribution made today by the Sherbrooke Chapter No. 22 of the Order of the Eastern Star to the Queen's Canadian Fund is more than gratifying.

Officials of this society turned in, through the medium of the Record, the sum of $250 as the result of tag days held on July 23 and 24. It will be recalled that the same organization held a day last year which netted the sum of $261.14, which was also devoted to the same cause.

Special communiques were a feature of the German high command during the period of lightning war. The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said:

"You at home, you must expect no more special communiques. You at home must realize that the war has turned into heavy work and you must read your news from the Eastern front with new insight. Stalin has turned the fighting into a battle of armor, a battle of attrition."

"You have no idea of the immense extent of the minefields here. The work of our soldiers, ... exploding minefields built into the roadways by yard with utmost precautions would have been victory fanfares at home. You must hear these fanfares even if they are not being played."

New York, July 31.—(P)—The Rome radio in a French-language broadcast beamed to France, said today that "the Italian people is considering with great understanding those conditions which the enemy proposes and is aware of the seriousness of the dilemma."

The broadcast was reported by the United Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service which said its monitors had not heard any Italian broadcast to Italy along that line.

The broadcast to France said: "Churchill and Roosevelt in their latest speeches have repeated the formula of Casablanca, demanding unconditional surrender of Italy."

"The Italian people is considering with great understanding those conditions which the enemy proposes and is aware of the seriousness of the dilemma."

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, August 1st.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 63: 1.3. "O God, I seek thee early will I seek thee: Because thy loving kindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us." (1 John 4:12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is Love. Can we ask Him to be more? The precise form of God must be of small importance in comparison with the sublime question, What is infinite Mind or divine Love? No form nor physical combination is adequate to represent infinite Love. A finite and material sense of God leads to formalism and narrowness; it chills the spirit of Christianity." (pp. 2 and 256).

RAND UNION DISPUTE IS NEAR SETTLEMENT

Government-Supervised Vote
Will Determine What Faction
Will Have Official Standing

As a result of the hearing conducted yesterday at the local Court House by the Board of Conciliation appointed by the Minister of Labor the jurisdictional dispute of three-months' standing between Circo Employees' Association and United Steelworkers of America, Local 2888, at the Canadian Ingersoll Rand plant, appears close to termination.

At the adjournment of the hearing yesterday afternoon the chairman of the Board, Mr. Justice Boulanger, intimated that a recommendation would be made that a vote be taken under Government supervision to determine whether the Association or the Union should represent the employees throughout the Canadian Ingersoll Rand Company, Ltd. plant, or alternately whether the employees desire to remain independent of both the Association and the Union.

The application of the Union demanded a vote among the employees of the foundry only, to which the company replied that it would only negotiate with a bargaining agent shown as the result of a government-supervised vote to represent a substantial majority of all its hourly-rated employees at the plant, including the foundry.

Representatives of the Association appeared at the hearing at the request of the Board and stated that it was the desire of the Association to have a vote taken among all the employees to determine who should represent them in their negotiations with the company. They pointed out that the Association had itself made an application for a Board requesting that such a vote be taken but that that application was still pending before the Department of Labor.

In addition to the Chairman, the Board comprised D. A. Paterson, of Montreal, representing the Company, and Guy M. Desaulniers, also of Montreal, representing the United Steelworkers of America. F. G. Ferrebee, General Manager, G. M. Young, Works Manager, and H. G. Lafleur, of Montreal, conducted the case before the Board for the company, while G. H. Boisvert and R. J. Lamoureux, of Montreal, represented the Steelworkers' Union.

In a statement to the Record following the sessions yesterday afternoon, Mr. Young said that the decision of the Board was exactly what the company has desired since the start of the dispute three months ago, and he hoped that the matter would now be permanently cleared up.

STAMP-O-GRAM
CAMPAIGN HAS BEEN EXTENDED

A. L. Kidd, permanent field representative of the National War Finance Committee in the two Eastern Townships Divisions 5 and 6, announced today that the Stamp-Out-the-U-boat campaign has been extended for another week in the twelve counties comprising the two zones.

Although the stamp-o-gram will not be pushed as it had been during the month of July, Mr. Kidd said that the banks throughout the Eastern Townships will continue to display the stamps in support of this campaign during next week. However, another new War Savings Stamps drive will be launched by the variety stores in the Eastern Townships starting Monday and continuing all next month.

Secretary Wilton Pope, of the Richmond County National War Finance Committee, reported to divisional headquarters that the towns of Richmond and Melbourne completed twenty-two tally sheets, enough to purchase the same number of depth charges costing ninety dollars each. Mr. Kidd lauded the citizens of Richmond and Melbourne for this enviable record because the total population of the two towns is 3,400.

Mr. Kidd also pointed out that the original quota for Sherbrooke County as set by headquarters was sixty depth charges or $5,400, but local officials of the N.W.F.C. raised the objective to seventy depth bombs or $6,300. Sherbrooke district bettered their own goal and have sold seventy-five depth bombs.

BAND CONCERT ON SUNDAY AT PORTLAND PARK

A concert will be given by the Sherbrooke Harmony Band under the direction of Prof. Charles Delvenne at Portland Square at 8:15 on Sunday evening.

The evening session will be opened by the patriotic song, O Canada, and will be followed by the march, "In Lian Time," by H. Engelmann; Ten Souviens-Tu, waltz, (V. Turine); On the Isle of May, (A. Kostelanetz); Raymond, overture, (Ambr. Thomas); Remember Pearl Harbor, (Don Reid-Sammy Kaye); The Spring Maid, selection, (H. Reinhardt); The Middy, march, (K. J. Alford); Begin the Beguine, (Cole Porter); Sleepy Lagoon, (Eric Coates); Bitter Sweet, selection, (Noel Coward); Punjaub, march, (Payne); God Save the King.

CLARIFY ORDER
RE SPRING LAMB

War-time Prices and Trade Board officials today clarified an order which places spring lambs under definite ceiling prices during the period of July 17 to August 31. Spring lamb prices this year have not followed last year's pattern under which the seasonal decline in carcass prices began about the middle of July. Officials said that it was considered advisable to place spring lamb under specific ceilings for each of the fifteen zones in Canada.

The new order requires that spring lamb be sold at wholesale only in the form of carcasses or sides. Affected by the order are all lambs born in the current year or in December, 1942.

Curtailed Supplies Make Baker's
Dozen Forgotten Symbol Of Yesteryear

In days of rationing, of price control and general curtailment of most of the superfluities of the pre-war era, one begins to wonder what has happened to the baker's dozen. Only a few veteran bakers here proved to be familiar with the term, not even as much as to the folks who talked of it when they meant thirteen instead of twelve.

The saying, a baker's dozen, apparently originated in the Old Land many years ago, in the days when the bakers did not weigh the loaf and allow for shrinkage before it was put in the oven, as they do now. The actual weight of the loaf was guessed and, so that no one would be cheated, bakers when the contract called for twelve loaves, handed out thirteen and no feelings were hurt.

The weight of a loaf of raisin and other fruit breads and the very popular nut loaf, however, was left to the discretion of the baker himself. There was no interference from

Place Of Social Sciences In School Curriculum Discussed
At Summer School Conference

Some fifty teachers from all parts of the Province and from several of the outlying districts are present at the last of the special lectures being held this week-end at the Summer School which has been conducted at Bishop's University for the past month.

The topic which came up for discussion at the conference held yesterday afternoon dealt with "The Place of Social Sciences in the School Curriculum," and the principal speakers at the session were Walter Duffett and Miss Aileen Ross, both graduates of the London School of Economics. The subjects for the afternoon were introduced by Dr. A. H. McGreer, Principal of Bishop's University.

In his opening remarks Dr. McGreer told the teachers and educators present that the University can welcome no group more warmly than a group of teachers. The part which teachers play in the life of a community is possibly the most important in the community since they lay the foundation of what the future super structure of adult life depends on. He said that these teachers were supremely responsible for directing the self and that the proper direction of this self when dealing with youngsters was in all probability one of the most difficult tasks that there was. In closing Dr. McGreer said that the only consolation which a teacher has is the fact that the effort made is not in vain.

Mr. Duffett, the first speaker of the afternoon, then gave the members in attendance an outline of the principles of economics. He chose as his text "Economics as a Social Science" and in the few comments which he made he pointed out the necessity of having a course in economics on the school curriculum. He told the body that the field of study in this science was so great that it took years to really accomplish anything, but that in most cases a general knowledge of why certain conditions existed helped in many cases to eradicate these conditions. The questions that always arise with regard to inflation, higher wages, price control and all these common everyday things that puzzle the average person could very well be ironed out in school and the young man who starting out in life would know what to avoid and what to follow. The chief trouble today is that there aren't enough real economists in the country to give the people an idea of what the important work which they are doing is about, and in this way the people seem to think that it takes next to no practice or experience to become one. Bad economists are much worse than none at all and now that everything is reckoned on mass production economists are very necessary. In the old days when people

Thieves Cart Out Safe, Loot It Of Contents, Then Dump It Into River

Provincial Police officials are today investigating the theft of a safe containing $238.03 as well as ledgers, reports and other valuable papers, stolen from the Quebec Federal Co-operative feed store in Lennoxville.

The safe, found later by a farm hand, had been tossed into the St. Francis river, near the Experimental Farm on the Cookshire Highway, after being opened with a sledge hammer and iron bar and rifled of its contents.

A few of the stolen papers were saved from the water when the partly submerged safe was recovered. Officer A. Rodell stated that around 9:30 a.m. on his morning beat he flashed a light in the office window as was customary, and upon noticing a filing cabinet moved and the safe missing he immediately called A. Mackenzie, Manager of the establishment. The local police force was at once notified and an investigation showed entry had been made at the rear of the building, the front door opened, the safe loaded on a vehicle and carted away.

POLICE CHIEF IS BACK FROM QUEBEC PARLEY

Percy Donahue, Director of the Municipal Police and Fire Department, was back in Sherbrooke today, after attending the four-day convention of the Province of Quebec Association of Police and Fire Chiefs held at the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec City.

Reporting on the convention, Director Donahue said that the main feature of the opening day's programme was the demonstration of a new fire-fighting process, after which delegates were entertained at a banquet by the City of Quebec. There were two hundred delegates present, with many from Eastern Townships centres.

Norman Hall, of Montreal, told the police and fire executives according to Director Donahue, that members of all branches of the police force in Canada perform thankless tasks with a maximum of courtesy, notwithstanding the fact that the individual maintains a perverse attitude towards their important work.

Director Donahue said that A. Leslie Ham, Manager of the Canadian Underwriters' Association, told the meeting that Canada's war effort has not been impeded or curtailed by fire wastage largely because of the sound results of educational work on fire prevention done by a number of organizations in Canada within the last fifty years.

Mr. Ham then outlined the history of fire prevention work in the North American continent since the formation of the National Board of Fire Underwriters' Association, whose membership comprises joint stock insurance companies and whose purpose is directly related to the curtailment of fire wastage.

Director Donahue stated that an appeal to all police organizations to work in closest unity of purpose in order to combat dangers from within and without brought about by the war, was launched by Col. Lambert, Deputy Director of the Quebec Provincial Police.

Dominion Fire Commissioner W. L. Clairmont declared to the delegates that fires of incendiary origin had been almost totally lacking in Canada's industrial plants since the war, attributing the record to splendid anti-sabotage methods. He reviewed causes and gave statistics on industrial fires in the country, with motion pictures supplementing his address.

NAVAL SCHOOL
CONTRACT GOES TO LOCAL FIRM

It was announced today that the Stewart Construction Company has been awarded a $650,000 contract in connection with the construction of a Naval Signal School at St. Hyacinthe, this bringing their work on this project to a million and a quarter dollars.

At the same time it was learned that the Stewart Construction Co. has been awarded contracts during past six weeks for erection of eleven buildings for the C.W.A.C. at Halifax, at a cost of $225,000; a recruiting building at Yarmouth at $25,000; an additional building and Y depot at Halifax for $30,000 and two small buildings for the Celanese Company at Drummondville for $17,000.

Able-Bodied Men And Women Urged
To Send In Their Names As Donors

The Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic on Dufferin Avenue will be inaugurated at nine o'clock on Monday morning, August 9th, it was announced today, and from that date on blood transfusions will take place every Monday and Thursday beginning at nine in the morning.

Preparations for the opening of the clinic have been under way in Sherbrooke for several months and while over 200 applications have been received to date from citizens who are ready to donate their blood that lives may be saved on the fighting fronts and in the blitz areas, it was stressed again today that many more donors will be needed and able-bodied men and women are urged to send in their names.

In connection with the inauguration of the clinic's activities, it is possible that an official opening may be held on Saturday, August 7th, when visitors would be able to view the premises, but nothing definite in this regard has yet been decided upon.

The officials' appeal earlier this week for furniture to fit out the waiting and reception rooms met with a generous response, but more easy chairs and other articles of furniture are still needed.

Dealers here explained that shippers in California attempted to ship their crop in naked pack, that is without wrappers on each individual fruit. This is becoming necessary due to the lack of help.

However, it is hoped that there will be a decrease in the cost of imported pears, which are coming in good quality.

WILLIE DUSSAULT SAYS:

Tonight the Boys of the 35th Battery leave for two weeks of muscle-hardening, outdoor training on Canada's greatest artillery range at Petawawa. They are building themselves up to defend Canada... and a finer body of men cannot be found than Canada's Army of Today — whether Active or Reserve, they are all working for the same objective: The protection of our homes and a future of security, guaranteeing our Freedom From Fear, Freedom From Want, Freedom of Religion and Freedom of Speech.

As they build for the future — so do we, and I, personally, believe that I have the finest body of builders that you could ever employ. My greatest pleasure is the discussion of your own building problems. Try me!

ROOSEVELT WARNS THE NEUTRALS

The first definite and clear sign that the United Nations do not intend the Axis leaders and their satellites to escape the responsibility and punishment for their crimes through flight to neutral countries as did their counterparts in the First Great War is contained in the virtual ultimatum which President Roosevelt has served on the few remaining neutrals that the Allies will not tolerate such an occurrence.

Admittedly the President did not tell exactly what the Allies plan to do in the event that Hitler, Mussolini, Tojo and their gangs do jump across the borders of neutral powers, but the warning itself should do much to make the few neutrals in the world today give a second thought to any request to provide a haven for the arch-criminals.

Constitutional experts have expressed various views on the best means available to the United Nations to regain possession of the persons of these Axis leaders should they be able to make their way into a neutral country. The general consensus of opinion seems to be that the launching of criminal actions against the refugees, charging them with murder or some other major crime originating from their acts, through the courts of the homeland would bring extradition treaties into force. And as virtually every neutral power has signed extradition treaties with the nations now constituting both the Allied and Axis fronts, thus they would be bound to hand over the men sought or face the consequences of such sanctions as an embittered world might find it desirable to impose upon them.

And when one takes into consideration the economic might which will be wielded by the United Nations upon the termination of their campaign to destroy the Axis, it is doubtful if any single power would dare stand up against them—if they wished to in the first place, for it is problematical if any of the smaller nations would care to accept the responsibility of caring for the bad men of Europe and Asia.

THE POSITION OF VICTOR EMMANUEL

The hold of King Victor Emmanuel on his war-torn throne seems to be strengthened by the very shocks that might be expected to unsettle him, and this is because the Allied world just now asks "Who is Italy?" Not long ago Mussolini was Italy, but today General Eisenhower tacitly recognizes the King as the one to accept "honorable conditions" of peace.

At first thought it would seem that rumored riots and insistent popular cries for "peace" might shake the Throne and start a revolution, while it still seems to some that the King and Badoglio are touched with the tar of Fascism because they tolerated it, recognized it and worked with it. On the other hand are these facts:

The King accepted Mussolini and Fascism because he could not help himself. He tried the wily Premier Giolitti and others on short-lived governments in vain efforts to stave off a revolution. He finally gave into Mussolini and summoned him as Premier, as the King said, to avert civil war. However, once Mussolini was in, the King had to decide either to abdicate and leave everything to the Fascists or to hang on as best he could, biding his time. He bided. Now Mussolini is out and the King is in.

Rioting and all the demands for peace may seem to shake the Throne, but instead they increase the importance to the Allies of having in Italy a real head, respected by the people, supported by the Italian army, thoroughly in touch with conditions, and knowing the political complexion of all those speedy converts to democracy who will be trying to raise themselves to power by their bootstraps. With the King is his old and trusted friend, Badoglio, long reputed an excellent soldier by military men of other countries. Badoglio is no miracle man but he knows his people, he always has had their respect, and his reputation is but greater for his break with Mussolini over the invasion of Greece.

One of the strongest factors in all this mess is the spiritual one. Pope Pius XII may or may not be active in trying for peace but he most certainly prays for the end of war, especially in his own country. Upon him, as devout Roman Catholics, the King and Badoglio can rely for aid and comfort in any proper search for peace. To Italians, it is comforting that the King and Badoglio are at peace with the Church and that the Pope is their friend. Such a state of affairs also has its importance with the Allies. It might be desirable to find a Lincoln or a Mazzini or even a Garibaldi ready-made in Italy, with whom the Allies could treat. But if he is there he has not shown himself. Even if he should appear it would take time to unify the people behind him. At present, the King and Badoglio seem the leaders of Italy, able to keep reasonable promises.

Also the great machinery of the country needs to run. Throw out overnight a million little tax collectors, clerks of courts, policemen, mayors and so forth and there would be virtual anarchy for a time. Amgot, the Allied military Government installed in Sicily, and intended for other liberated territory, acts as the top, giving orders and supervising execution but the rank and file of little public officials perform their duties as usual. Some of them merely take off their black shirts and put on dirty white ones, but all of them probably are relieved to have the next upper crust of Fascists off their necks. It would be nice if all these little fellows had perfectly white souls, but it will take time for Italians to hold elections and even then not all the elected will have wings big enough to carry them to Heaven.

Even in democracies, the personality of some of the so-called public servants cannot bear too close a scrutiny.

EVEN A STATIC NAVY VALUABLE

Ample evidence that a great navy can accomplish something for its country even if it does not fight but rather skulks in the sanctuary of its harbors is offered in the story of the three Nazi fleets in the present struggle. Although suffering some major losses in the early stages of the war, the German surface fleet is largely confined to an area East of the Kiel Canal. The Italian fleet has been noticeably absent in the fight to defend Sicily and the mainland of Italy from attack, although the war has been off its coast for the past three years. The Japanese Grand Fleet has not made a very impressive showing, the bulk of the South Pacific action and Aleutian developments being carried out by lighter task forces.

But the mere fact that these powerful war vessels are under the control of their respective Governments immobilizes a substantial portion of the combined Allied fleet, especially in respect to capital ships, as important units must be assigned to the task of watching these crouching monsters to prevent them from sneaking out of harbor in the dark of the moon and proceeding to sea, where, as commerce raiders they might accomplish much destruction among Allied merchant shipping before being finally run down by Allied warships. Another grave menace, happily removed by the military victories of Egypt and Tunisia, was that the Japanese and Italian fleets might unite into a flotilla that would seriously menace the combined seapower of the Allies.

The outlook for these fleets in the days between now and the termination of hostilities, provides many interesting conjectures. The first, and of most immediate interest, is the fate of the Italian fleet. If the Badoglio Government decides to continue the war, it is probable that the fleet will be forced out to fight the combined Allied air-sea invasion drive, in which case they are liable to meet a disastrous defeat which might compel the new Government to abandon the war. On the other hand, if Italy decides to quit, the surrender of the fleet intact will, without doubt, be one of the terms of "unconditional surrender." This would permit the transfer of the bulk of the Mediterranean fleet to South Pacific waters, perhaps strengthening the United Nations flotilla in these waters to the point where it would be justified in hunting out the main Japanese fleet for a showdown battle that might mean the beginning of the end for Japan. The Atlantic fleet would be left to handle the remnants of the German navy, which undoubtedly will make a last-ditch stand with little chance of success, being the weakest of the three naval establishments under Axis command.

In the post-war era, it is considered probable that the United Nations would find it of more advantage to dismantle these sea-monsters and use them as the nucleus of entirely new vessels rather than attempt the costly process of converting any seized craft to make them co-ordinate with the Allied fleets.

Contrasting Ideas Of Righteousness

Prof. the Rev. H. C. Burt, M.A., D.C.L., Lennoxville.

St. Matthew V, 20: "Except your righteousness exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees ye shall in no wise enter the Kingdom of Heaven."

To all those in positions of authority—and indeed, to many quite ordinary men and women of that day—the opening words of the "Sermon on the Mount," which strike the key-note for all the rest, must have appeared almost revolutionary in character. The Ancient Law had been given amid the lightnings and thunderings of Mount Sinai; the New Law promulgated from Mount Kurn Hattin breathes of love and peace and blessedness. And how strange are the persons declared by our Lord to be "blessed"! How unheard of the character of the blessings! Such must have been the thoughts of many as they listened to the Master's words. And to these unspoken thoughts the speaker makes reply. He made it quite evident that His mission was not destructive but constructive; that it was to "fulfill"; not to condemn and abrogate, not to diminish but to enlarge, not to obliterate but to restore; His mission was to be "a Restorer of paths to dwell in."

The word "fulfill" does not necessarily imply the presence of defects or imperfections in the Old Law, but rather to proclaim Messiah's function to embody in living form the "principles" of the Law; to unfold and interpret, and to enshrine in the affection and character of men. In itself, the Moral Law is perfect, it represents the Divine Ideal for Humanity, it legislates for all our relations to God and to our neighbor. But the Pharisees had misconstrued the Law of God with the traditions of men, until cold compliance to set rules and cut-and-dried formulas had come to be the criterion of "righteousness." It was for their want of spiritual sympathy and sincerity that the Scribes and Pharisees, for the most part, excluded from the Kingdom.

From the moment they saw that the Master did not appreciate their brand of "righteousness," they exerted all the powers of the Jewish State, of which they deemed themselves custodians (as the obvious favorites of Heaven) to put an end to this menace to their "old institutions," and crush this upstart Nazarene, by evil slanders, lying propaganda, and finally by force!

Thus we may say that the Pharisees were the "Fascists" of their age and country—for Fascism or Nazism is by no means the new great method of governing a State that its modern "revivalists" consider it. Just as the Pharisees regarded the people of all other races as "Gentiles," beyond the pale of the "covenanted mercies," so the leading spirits of Modern Germany exalt the Aryan as the new super-man, elect among the nations, evolution's finest flower—Uebermensch! Just as a small "elect," but self-appointed, group over-lorded it in Judea in the days of our Lord so the Dictators in our own day, they did not "create" Fascism, but simply gave it a new name, and, by modernizing it, rendered trebly pernicious—

"The good old rule, the ancient plan, That he may take who has the power, And he may keep who can."

For, Fascism is merely one of the many historic forms of bureaucratic despotism, whereby a small minority, by virtue of control over a select group of "strong-arm" men, enslave the masses and wield at their sweet will all authority within the State.

Mr. Hitler's success in gaining complete mastery over his race of super-men not only scandalized but astounded the democracies; it seemed so remote from the trend of our times, so foreign to the spirit of our age!

Emil Ludwig explains it by saying that the German is "a social coward." He writes: "The world is astonished that the same German people that has brought forth great musicians, philosophers, and inventors fall back into barbarism nearly once in every generation. The combination of a highly-developed intelligence and an incredibly militant spirit of conquest in the same nation amazes the world!"

His answer is—the ingrained militarism of a dominant Prussia, particularly the so-called "Junker" class. Ludwig remarks: "Only having convinced the Prussian Generals could the Bohemian Hitler begin to rear a new and at first clandestine army. The Junkers were glad, for the sake of revenge, to make use of the proletariat they despised." Moreover, Ludwig shows how all the great names in science, music, poetry, art, and invention—"all the real glory of Germany"—belong to men born outside Prussia, the only two impressive Prussian names being Frederick the Great and Bismarck!

To carry the comparison further would be to insult the Pharisees. These ancient Fascists might well deserve the outspoken denunciation of the Master, they might "devour widows' houses," and do many other unjust and unpleasant things, but, compared with our modern exponents, they might almost deserve their favorite title of "pure"! The Scribes and Pharisees were eminently orthodox, respectable, and religious, but Christ saw, that as a class, while they were free from scandalous sins, their hearts were full of corruption—like "whited sepulchres." Their religion was technical, an elaborate system of artificiality and stereotyped routine.

Saul of Tarsus was "a Pharisee of the Pharisees," concerning the Law blameless," and the sincerity of his Conversion to Christianity is shown in his great pronouncement in later years, after he had thoroughly imbibed the spirit of the Master: "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor, therefore Love is the fulfilling of the Law!"

It was this fundamental change in his type of religion that made him see the difference between Saul, the Pharisee, and Paul, the Apostle to the Gentiles.

In our modern world, the difference between the "spirit" of Christian Democracy and Pagan Nazism is adequately illustrated in the "great gulf" between the Ideals of the "Atlantic Charter," and those of Hitler's "New Order in Europe."

PRESS COMMENTS

THE SESSION IN RETROSPECT

The Ottawa Journal. After a session six months long and seeming much longer, Parliament has gone (or is about to go) home. It was not a distinguished session. The House of Commons talked too much about some things and too little about other things, had too many of the sort of speeches which Morley once described as "forty coaches and one passenger."

Parliament's trouble, as we see it, is that it will not apply common sense to its procedure. It is not entirely a matter of changing rules which are archaic; it is more a matter of deciding sensibly that so much time should be set aside for certain questions, with the time depending on their importance. No sense exists in everybody wanting to say the same thing about the same question, with consequent endless repetition, plus destruction of real debate. A more practical and certainly less costly arrangement would be one by which each party would have its position on any question or measure stated by one or two leaders, with members of the rank and file given the opportunity of presenting brief points arising from the main discussion. That is the system broadly followed in the British House, and all of us know that it works well.

Then again, there is no reason why more use could not be made of special committees to deal with estimates of certain departments before they are brought to the whole House. This principle is applied to the Canadian National Railways and to the Broadcasting Corporation, saving much debate in the House, and undoubtedly it could be applied with equal efficiency to the estimates of a number of departments.

In pre-war days, spacious and easy going, parliamentary propensity for verbosity did not much matter; there were new major things to talk about. But in these years, when the State is reaching out into everything, when Parliament votes more money in one session than was voted by all the parliaments from Confederation down to the close of the World War I, waste of time over non-essentials may mean too little time for things desperately essential. There is one other thing. One of the lessons this war has taught us, or at least should teach us, is the importance of maintaining respect for parliamentary institutions. We shall never maintain that respect if

HE WHO LAUGHS LAST

Parliament itself does not take the lead in deserving it; if it insists on ways which have become obsolete and which invite the indictment of inefficiency. This is something which might well challenge the thoughts of all friends of democracy.

TURKEY ALERTLY WATCHFUL

Fort Williams Times-Journal.

With war engulfing the island of Sicily, and rumors persistently in circulation that the Allies are planning further action in the Eastern Mediterranean, Turkey is alertly watchful for any signs of moves by Allied leaders in that area.

The Aegean islands, including the Dodecanese, are a long archipelago strung out from near Salonika to Crete, and form a barrier which must be broken before an invasion of Greece could be undertaken.

The Dodecanese are a group of twelve islands near the Southwest coast of Asia Minor which came into the possession of Italy more than thirty years ago.

One of these islands, Leros, a fortified naval base which forms one of the strategic key positions of the Near East, is likely to be mentioned prominently in the war news some day.

The Southern islands are under Italian command and largely garrisoned with Italian troops. Lately troops have left Salonika with between 9,000 and 10,000 German coast guards, artillerymen and signal corps, intended to stiffen the Italian defense.

For many years the Italians have fortified Rhodes, as well as Leros, and these are the two main bases among the twelve major Dodecanese Islands. For the last two years since the overrunning of Greece, the Germans have been busy turning a number of Greek islands into forts guarding Salonika Bay.

Next only to Crete as an outer defense bastion for Greece and the Balkans, is Rhodes, fifty miles long, twenty-five miles wide, about 200 miles from Cyprus and within rowboat range of the Turkish shore. The egg-shaped island has sandy beaches with deep water approaches almost all the way around. A high spine of mountains, some of them 4,000 feet in height, cuts through its center. A fine gravel road circles it and beaches South of Lindos would make an ideal spot for Allied invasion boats, and Lindos itself would provide an excellent base for assault on the rest of the island. With her geographic position in relation to these islands, Turkey waits expectantly for further developments in the Eastern Mediterranean.

"Well," said the other thinking hard, "if I was you, I wouldn't wait no longer. I'd slip out for another loaf."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority.

DOUBLE OFTEN AND BID GRAND SLAMS

The late Ralph E. Richards, of Detroit, used to say, "If you make every grand slam you bid, you are not bidding enough, and if you defeat every contract you double, you are not doubling enough."

Today's hand was played in a 17-table duplicate game. Thirteen of the North-South pairs bid the grand slam, some in spades, some in hearts, and a couple in no trump. If the spade suit broke, seven no trump would make. Seven hearts look like the safest contract.

North's jump to two spades is a slam invitation, which South accepts with his bid of three diamonds. North's three hearts shows heart support. Four clubs is a control bid by South. North's jump to five spades is to show a good, solid spade suit, but South denies the possibility of playing the hand at spades with his bid of five no trump. North's bid of seven hearts gives South a choice of passing seven hearts or bidding seven spades or seven no trump.

Wash Brush and Comb
As Often As Your Hair

LURA DE GEZ: Stylist

BY ALICIA HART

Take a look at your brush. Has it a collection of dust, a hair matted into the bristles? And your comb—does it have an accumulation of dirt lining either side of its teeth? Well, then, it's a certainty some of this going rig! back into your hair when you use them again.

"Make a habit of shampooing your brush and comb as often as you do your hair, and you'll find that your hair will stay cleaner and keep its sheen longer," says Lura de Gez, clever New York hair stylist.

And to be certain that these articles are completely sterilized, ask your beauty shop to show you how they care for their brushes and combs. "Now that hair-3 has been classed as non-essential, you must take the best possible care of them to make them last," Miss de Gez cautions.

Soak your articles in a bowl of lukewarm suds, then use a stiff brush to scrub the stubborn dirt out of your comb. Rinse in hot water several times until it is ghly clean. Do this twice a week, if possible, and notice how much better your coiffure keeps.

Dried Beans and Peas
Can Pinch-Hit for Meat

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Dried beans and peas make delicious pinch-hitters for meat and other limited sources of protein. Dr. Henry C. Sherman, chief, Bureau of Human Nutrition, and Home Economics, says, "When ordinary beans are the sole source of protein, they do not quite measure up to meat, eggs, cheese, or milk. This is because the beans are not so rich in one particular protein building-stone called cystine."

"But a little meat or egg, or even bread furnishes what the bean needs in this respect. So baked beans with their orthodox accompaniment of Boston brown bread make an all-right protein dish. Peas are a good protein food, even without any supplementation."

They keep well, too. All they need is a cool, dry place and a tight bag or can to shut out dust, bugs and mice.

BREAKFAST: Sliced peaches, ready-to-eat wheat cereal, enriched toast, butter, coffee, milk.
LUNCH: Baked bean and vegetable salad, chili sauce dressing, enriched hard rolls, apple sauce, peanut cookies, tea, milk.
DINNER: Black bean soup with sliced lemon, spaghetti and cheese, crisp bacon, broiled tomatoes, mixed vegetable salad, enriched bread, butter, fresh lime gelatin, tea, milk.

Cooking Rules
The three basic rules for cooking are: soak, simmer and season. In general, 1 cup (1 pound) dried beans or peas make 5 to 6 cups when cooked.

First, pick over the beans or peas and throw out the bad ones. Wash in cold water, twice if necessary, to get out all grit. Give dried beans and peas plenty of time to soak—overnight or 5 or 6 hours. Soak them in soft water if you can. Hard water toughens the skin. Old-time cooks caught rain water when they couldn't get soft water any other way.

Cook the beans in the water in which they are soaked, to save vitamins and minerals. If the bean flavor seems too strong, you may have to drain them and add fresh water. Keep the heat low as you cook beans and peas, and simmer rather than boil. Watch the pot, too. Add water from time to time. Dried beans and peas take up a lot of water. To add flavor, cook beans with salt, pork, sausage, bacon, or a ham bone.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers given below:

1. If you are seated in a restaurant and a woman in uniform comes in is it all right to turn and look her over if you have never happened to see that particular uniform before?
2. Should strangers feel that they have a right to start talking to a girl simply because she happens to be in uniform?
3. If you give a party for a small child is it best to include all of the children in his age group who happen to live in the neighborhood?
4. Should the refreshments at a party for small children be so simple there is no danger of giving any of them a food they wouldn't be allowed to eat at home?
5. Should there be games planned for a children's party or should they be turned loose to amuse themselves and to play whatever they like?

What would you do if—
You wish to be cordial and friendly to a newcomer to town—
(a) Say, "Come and see me one of these days?"
(b) Say, "Can you come by for a cup of tea Wednesday afternoon?"

Answers

1. No.
2. No.
3. Yes. For a child left out of a party is likely to be hurt.
4. Yes.
5. There should be games planned. Better "What Would You Do?" solution—(b). A newcomer isn't likely to take you up on your invitation to drop in some time. It is too vague.

Among the many guests were Mr. Wayne Hall, Provincial Supervisor, Inspector Wells, Miss Aileen Ross and Mr. Walter Duffell.

MARRIAGES

WARD-BARTLETT

St. Peter's Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding at eight o'clock in the evening, July 20, when Madeline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bartlett, of Westbrook, Me., was united in marriage to Lieut. Douglas William Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ward, of Sherbrooke. Rev. Russell Brown officiated. Miss Mona Biggs was at the organ playing the wedding March and "I Love You Truly."

Mr. W. A. Ward gave the bride away, her only attendant being Mrs. John T. Call. Mr. Jack A. Ward was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Lieut. George Richl, brother-in-law of the groom, and Mr. Edward McIntosh.

The bride wore a flowing white gown of net and lace and her shoulder-length veil fell from a crown of lilies-of-the-valley. She carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath, tied with a white satin ribbon.

The matron-of-honor was gowned in a long, full-skirted dress of orchid chiffon with which she wore a short matching veil held with a band of flowers and she carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow roses and baby's breath tied with a yellow ribbon.

Mrs. Willis Bartlett, the bride's mother, wore a black and white print silk dress with a large black hat and a corsage of red roses, while Mrs. W. A. Ward, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in a two-piece dress of blue crepe with which she wore a navy-blue and white straw hat and a corsage bouquet of red roses.

The reception was held at the home of Mrs. C. Goodhue, Quebec Street, decorated for the occasion with flowers in profusion. The living-room, where the couple received, was decked with dahlias, hydrangeas and palms, while the dining-room table was trimmed with Sweetheart roses and baby's breath in low, white pottery bowls and was centered with the wedding cake.

Lieut. and Mrs. Ward left later for their wedding trip to Montreal, the bride wearing for travelling a two-piece silk dress of green and white and white accessories. They will reside at Brockville, Ont.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Willis Bartlett, Mrs. Leeman Place, Miss Myrl Graham and Seaman 1st Class John I. Call, all of Westbrook, Maine, and Mrs. T. G. Stuebli and daughter, Miss Betty Stuebli, of Worcester, Mass.

BOYNTON

Mrs. Everett Dustin and daughter, Joyce, spent a few days in Rock Island visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles Sisco, and family. Miss Gladys Dustin returned home with her mother and spent a week-end here.

Mr. T. L. Quimby was a visitor at Mr. Byron Brown's and accompanied them to Fitch Bay, where they attended the anniversary service in the United Church there.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlington Ayer and Mrs. Harry Ayer spent an evening with Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Stillman Keet, of Georgeville, spent a Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. A. L. Mosher, and Mr. Mosher.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mosher and family were guests of her sister, Mrs. Harold Lebaron, and family, in Rock Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McCullagh and Forrest and Thelma called on friends here one afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Brown have returned to Newport, Vt., after a week's holiday at their home here.

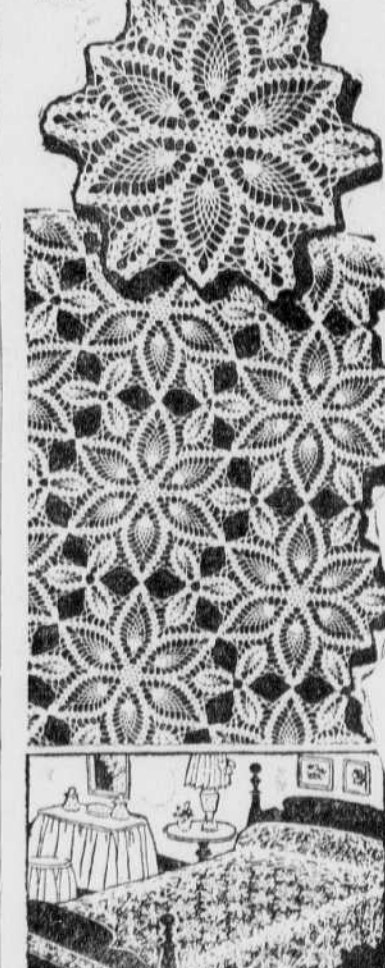

Married Here

LIEUT. DOUGLAS WILLIAM WARD AND MRS. WARD photographed with their attendants following their wedding which took place recently in St. Peter's Church, the Rev. Russell Brown officiating. The bride was formerly Miss Madeline Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bartlett, of Westbrook, Maine. Lieut. Ward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ward, of Sherbrooke, Quebec. Pictured from left to right are Mrs. John I. Call, matron-of-honor; the groom, the bride, and Mr. Jack A. Ward, best man.

Price Of Eggs Increased Two Cents A Dozen On Local Mart

For the fourth consecutive week the prices of the various grades of eggs advanced two cents a dozen on the Lansdowne Market yesterday. Newest prices were Grade A-large, fifty-two cents; Grade A-medium, fifty cents, and pullets, forty-five a dozen.

Many shoppers on the market take an optimistic view of the food situation and are convinced that with the enlistment of farm volunteers from cities and towns a bumper crop will be realized, but a Record reporter who chatted with farmers themselves found a totally different opinion. Especially if any of these people heard one farmer say that on many farms in the Eastern Townships only fifty per cent of the vegetables will be harvested, and that there are actual cases of gardens being ploughed under. The prolonged wet weather permitted the weeds to make greater headway than the vegetables, and with no one to weed the garden it was the only thing they could do.

Another man said that instead of putting in the usual amount of peas this spring he called it a month to a third, for not only was the season late on account of the cold and wet weather but he knew he would not get help. Raspberries were five cents cheaper than last week, being sold for twenty and forty cents for a pint and quart basket, respectively. Carrots from local farms were commanding five cents a small bunch. Cabbage and local lettuce were plentiful. Other local vegetables were green peas and butter beans. Fruit was not plentiful.

One dealer was asking thirty-five cents for two large peaches. The sign read two for thirty-five cents and shoppers were under the impression that it meant two boxes for this price. However, many received a jolt when they learned differently.

The gardeners' section was particularly brilliant with many white and yellow daisies and brown-eyed susans on display.

Butchers were featuring lamb for the first time in months.

FROM THE PEN OF E. T. WRITERS

FAREWELL, AT THE END OF THE ROAD

(A token of respect to the late Dr. G. A. Bowen, of Magog, who entered into Eternal rest on February 1st, 1943.)

A great, and noble soul has passed
To higher spheres of love; —
He served mankind unto the last
Then winged his course above.

Oh, humble and unselfish heart
So full of thought for others,
You've played on earth a noble part
To your way-faring brothers.

And kindly thoughts shall e'er remain
Though vanished mortal breath,
Of one who lessened earthly pain
Or bridged the gulf of death.

How often it dispelled the gloom
In many a sick and fevered room,
To hear some loved one nigh just say:
"Our Doctor now is on his way."

--- The tide of time may onward flow
To its appointed end,
But greater service none shall know
From staunch and loyal friend.

To lonely ones, who mourn the loss
Of a loved one true and tender,
Let earthly grief be purged of dross
By God, our sure Defender.

And rest assured one day you'll meet,
Through His redeeming grace
In Paradise, where Life is sweet,
And joy shall tears replace.

Fitch Bay.

YOU are needed on the FARM FRONT

This year it IS the Farm Front.
We must have more food... more bushels of grain, more pounds of beef, more sides of bacon, more dozens of eggs, more tins of jam. We must have more food for the months immediately after victory for the starving peoples of Europe... but more urgently than that, we must have thousands of tons of food for our own fighting men within the next few months. Without food for our troops, all our best-laid plans for victory would fail. YOU can help by enlisting for duty on Canada's Farm Front! Join up today!

This is what YOU should do! ACT NOW!

Consult the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce, Quebec Central Building, Phone 4060, who will bring together the farmer really in need of help and the volunteer worker wanting to work on the farm for a day or week:

Semi-Finals Start Tomorrow In Local Baseball League

All Four Teams Will Have Chance In Play-Offs Under New Decision

Two good contests can be expected in the intermediate "A" Baseball League tomorrow afternoon since all four teams will be out for their first game in the semi-finals for the league championship. A sudden change in the rules from Montreal has made it necessary for the local league to cut their season short and at a special meeting held during the week the executive decided to give all four teams a chance in the play-offs instead of the first three as had been planned.

In the first game the Notre Dame team will meet the Mount Pleasant Club in what is expected to be a close match. The Notre Dame team, who were last year's Provincial champions, have been lagging a little all season but they have never been quite confident that they will be able to come very near the top after the play-offs begin. Their smashing win over the Boisseau team two weeks ago was sufficient proof that the club had the old fighting spirit and ability that carried them through to the league championship last year. The Mount Pleasant Club has so far this year been unable to register many wins but they have put up a good show in many of their games and have also held several practices this week so that they should be in top form for the game tomorrow.

The Boisseau - East Ward game will in all probability be the best of the afternoon since these are the two teams that have shown the most fight all season. The East Ward team was the latest addition to the circuit and it was several weeks before the players caught up with the run of things. Ever since their win over the Mount Pleasant Club three weeks ago they have been showing a great fighting spirit and their games have improved considerably. The Boisseau team are still the league leaders and in the eight games played they were only forced to bow once. This was when Notre Dame took them for a 21-1 run two weeks ago. After that defeat the team has tightened up and last Sunday's game with the East Ward they came out on top with a 15-10 score. Whether or not they can repeat this feat with everything that is at stake will be decided tomorrow afternoon. It takes a two out of three to decide the semi-finalists and none of the teams can really afford to lose a game.

ORLANDO GIVEN LENGTHY TERM

Detroit, July 31.—(P)—James V. Orlando, Detroit Red Wings hockey player, was convicted by a Federal Court jury late yesterday of violating the Selective Service Act, and was sentenced to four years in prison and fined $2,000.

Judge Edward J. Moineau pronounced sentence immediately after the jury of nine women and three men reported it had found the star defenceman, whose home is at Montreal, guilty on two counts of the indictment against him. Orlando was sentenced to four years on each count, but the sentences will run concurrently.

The jury deliberated less than three hours.

John R. Watkins, Orlando's attorney, indicated he would appeal the conviction, and Orlando's bond of $2,000 was continued pending a hearing Monday.

DRAPER'S CORNER

Mrs. Perry and son, Cyril, of Sherbrooke, are spending a two weeks' holiday with Mrs. Plunkett, Misses Joan Perry and Marian Plunkett, of Sherbrooke, also spent a week-end with Mrs. Plunkett.

Miss Betty Hill, of Montreal, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall.

Mrs. Elsie Cowens, of Rock Island, and Mrs. Bert Meigs, of Beebe, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith.

Speed-Swede Breaks Mile Mark

Gunder Hagz, the swift-footed Swede who runs only fast enough to win, was finally forced by tough competition to extend himself which he did to the point of turning in the fastest mile in U. S. outdoor track history—4:05.3. He's pictured above, about to hit the tape at the American-Scandinavian AA games at Harvard Stadium, trailed by Gil Dodds, of Boston, who finished second, and Bill Hulse, of New York, third.

Players Getting In Trim For Opening Of Tennis Tournament

Since the last announcement regarding the plans for the city Tennis Tournament appeared the Presidents of the Jacques Cartier and the Mount Pleasant Tennis Clubs have reported that a considerable number of entries and enquiries have been received. Play on the local courts has lived up considerably and it is generally thought that many of the players are beginning to get in shape for the big tournament which will get under way on August 5th.

At a special meeting held at the Jacques Cartier Club rooms last week it was decided to hold the tournament on the courts of the Mount Pleasant Club and the same number of tournaments will be played as last year. There will be singles and doubles for both men and women as well as competition in mixed doubles. The officials of the Mount Pleasant Club have announced that plans have been made to have the courts repaired just before the tournament begins and to see that the lighting is properly arranged. It was also announced that balls will be supplied for the championship matches only.

Another fact about the tournament which has not been made clear is that anyone in the city may compete in the games. It was previously thought that only members of the various clubs throughout the city would be given a chance but certain amendments have been made permitting any tennis player to take part. This will encourage a larger registration for the tournament and the competition will be much keener.

Gaston Gagnon and Guy Bureau, the two leaders of the Mount Pleasant and the Jacques Cartier Clubs, who are receiving the applications for the tournament, said that all those intending to register must do so by noon on August 4th or else they will not have a chance to play. Everyone who expects to enter is asked to do so at the earliest possible moment so that the schedule can be drawn up in advance and everything straightened out for the opening.

The following is a group of the players who have already placed their entry with the officials: Paul David, Yvan Boivert, Paul Biron, Gaston Gagnon, Gerard Proulx, Marcel Dache, Paul Lemieux, Normand Bilodeau, Leonard Proulx, Roger Gagnon, Bertrand Gagnon, Marthe Tanguay, Jeanne Matte, Gertrude Olivier, Helen Wolfe, Marthe Robert and Lise Robert.

Chicago Cubs Move Into Thick Of Contention For 1st Place Honors

By TED MEIER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Virtually unnoticed, Chicago Cubs have moved into the thick of contention for first division honors in the National League and today have an excellent chance of beating out Pittsburgh, Brooklyn and Cincinnati for second place.

The Bruins, who couldn't seem to do anything right for the first couple of months of the season, have won 21 of their last 30 games and jumped from last to fifth place.

This is speeding along at 700 paces and recalls the late season surge of the Cubs in 1935 and 1938 when they beat out Cardinals and Pirates, respectively, for the pennant in the closing days of the season.

The Cubs have been getting good pitching and hitting at the same time. They beat Brooklyn for the third straight time yesterday, 12-3, as Hi Dithorn chalked up his 13th victory of the season and outfielder Bill Nicholson took over the Major League leadership in runs batted in and homers. Nicholson swatted his 15th round tripper.

The first place Cardinals, who open a three-game series with the slipping Dodgers today, dropped an 11-inning game to the Phillies, 3-2, when pinchhitter Jimmy Wascell singled home Buster Adams. Big Mort Cooper suffered his sixth defeat.

In the American League New York Yankees made it 21 victories in their last 31 games by again beating Cleveland, 5-4. Ernie Bonham was the winner.

Earl Wynn stopped a three-game Washington losing streak by hurling a five-hitter against Chicago White Sox to win, 4-1, and the Philadelphia Athletics capped a 3-2 victory over St. Louis Browns. Bobo Newsom started for the Browns, but was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

Elmer Riddle hung up his 14th win in pitching Cincinnati to a three-hit 2-0 shutout over Boston Braves in the first game of a twin bill, but Red Barrett beat the Reds in the nightcap for a 3-0 Boston triumph.

New York Giants blasted over seven runs in the second inning against the Pirates and added five more in the third, but still had to call on relief pitcher Ace Adams in beating Pittsburgh, 12-7.

Detroit lost the first game of a doubleheader to Boston Red Sox, 4-2, but won the second 5-2.

DONAT MARTIN

Presents Himself as
CANDIDATE
in the County of
STANSTEAD

RESUME OF AN ADDRESS
GIVEN BY MR. DONAT MARTIN
OPENING HIS CAMPAIGN:

"Answering a question asked over the radio by a Federal Minister, whether the Independent candidate is independent of the Government or the people, I wish to state, quite clearly, that I am independent of the Government—all parties and all groups—BUT, I am not and will not be independent of the electors of Stanstead County who do me honor in according me their confidence by voting for me.

"At the insistence of representatives of all classes of society and political parties, I have finally decided to present myself, and my candidature has been equally well-received by both English and French electors. I am determined to render justice to all my electors, without any distinction whatsoever. The people of Magog, who elected me as Alderman, know how I acquit my public works, and they honor me with their confidence. In business, I have nothing but pleasant relations with all my customers.

"In Parliament, I admire the serious work done by men like J. Francis Pouliot, J. S. Roy and Fred Dorion, who are faithful public servants and who do not lose an opportunity to defend the sacred rights of their fellowmen."

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES ON DONAT MARTIN:

Born in Danville, Que., on February 17th, 1898. Until he was 21 years of age, he worked on his father's farm, following which he took up the mechanic's trade at Danville and later in Sherbrooke. Going to Lowell, Mass., for further training, on his return to Canada he spent some time in Victoriaville.

Since 1936, he has been proprietor of a garage in Magog, where he has also acted as agent for the McColl-Frontenac Oil Co. in Stanstead County. In 1937 he took the agency for Chrysler automobiles and parts, and in 1939 he bought another garage in Sherbrooke, at the same time acquiring the agency for Chrysler products for the counties of Stanstead, Sherbrooke, Compton and Richmond. He has been Alderman of the Town of Magog since 1942.

In 1922, he married Miss Yvonne Roux, and is the father of six children. His residence is in the Town of Magog, in Stanstead County.
