

GIANT AIR LINER IS MAKING SLOW PROGRESS Bold Mail Robbery Carried Out By Daring Bandits At Buffalo

Dirigible Is Winning Hard Fight Against Heavy Winds— Will Dock This Afternoon

This Morning Big Airship Was Making Forty Miles an Hour, Which It Is Estimated Will Bring Her to Lakehurst, N.J., Naval Air Station Approximately at Three O'Clock This Afternoon—All Through Early Hours of Saturday Night and for a Great Part of Sunday Airship Hovered in Region of Bermudas Fighting Winds and Seeking to Find a More Favorable Course—Estimated that "Blue Gas" Has All Been Consumed and that Motors Are Now Being Operated With Gasoline.

THE giant air liner Graf Zeppelin was stubbornly winning a fight against adverse winds and the handicap of a damaged port horizontal this morning, and by eight o'clock Eastern Standard time was only sixty miles off Cape Hatteras.

After a day and night of painfully slow progress and long hours of meagre information concerning her whereabouts, the airship then was about 280 miles southeast of Lakehurst, making fair time against a ten to twelve knot wind.

At that time she appeared to be covering an average of forty miles an hour, which would bring her into the naval air station approximately at three o'clock this afternoon.

At two o'clock this morning (Eastern Standard time) the ship had been in the air ninety-six hours, with the likelihood that the entire trip would take her about one hundred and nine hours.

TRIED TO FIND A MORE FAVORABLE COURSE

All through the early hours of Saturday night and for a great part of Sunday the airship hovered in the region of the Bermudas fighting winds and seeking to find a more favorable course.

For a time she even flew in a southerly direction in order to gain better conditions. Only the meagre information was coming through, and it was not until noon yesterday that the ship was definitely located about eighty miles east by north of Bermuda.

At 3:55 p.m. she was sighted by the steamer Lafoco sixty-two miles east of St. David's Island, Bermuda, and at 6 p.m. she passed over Hamilton.

From then on her progress was more steady and at 4 a.m. this morning she was sighted about 430 miles southeast of Lakehurst. Four hours later she was reported about 280 miles southeast of the air station.

RENEWING PREPARATIONS TO RECEIVE BIG AIRSHIP

Meanwhile Lakehurst, after a sleepless night, was renewing preparation to receive the huge ship and her personnel of sixty, including twenty passengers.

It was estimated by naval officers that the ship might get in by 2 p.m., but this was problematical.

Experts at Friedrichshafen said that when Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the airship, left at 2 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time) Thursday, he carried fuel sufficient for 120 hours of flying.

WILL SET UP NEW WORLD'S ENDURANCE RECORD

This would be exhausted at 2 a.m. tomorrow. Hugo Allen, an official of the Goodyear Zeppelin Company, estimated that the supply of blue gas had been exhausted about midnight this morning. From then on, he said, it would be necessary to run the motors on gasoline. When midnight passed the airship had been in the air ninety-four hours on a trip which her commander estimated would take between eighty and eighty-five hours.

Edward Warner, Assistant Secretary of the Navy in charge of aeronautics, said that the Graf Zeppelin would exceed the world's endurance record for rigid airships if she stayed aloft until this afternoon. The ill-fated French airship Dixmude once cruised for 104 hours.

WORST TRAFFIC TIE-UP IN MEMORY OF STATE POLICE, WHO LABORED THROUGHOUT NIGHT IN EFFORT TO UNRAVEL IT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Plotting the position of the Graf Zeppelin from radio compass bearings, naval communications estimated that at six a.m. the dirigible was 145 miles east of Cape Hatteras.

Today's dawn brought light to roads for miles about the hangar, still congested with tangled traffic composed of the thousands of automobiles in which Sunday multitudes had come to see the overseas ship and tried to go home all at once when it was learned that the new Zeppelin would not arrive until today. It was the worst traffic snarl in the memory of the state police, who labored through the night to unravel it, and thousands slept in cars blocked from all progress.

And they slept hungry, hundreds of them, for the food supplies of the air station and surrounding communities were completely inadequate to take care of the rush of visitors. Before dark last night every restaurant and store in Lakehurst was sold out, and similar conditions prevailed in other nearby villages.

But for all the hardship of being jammed along the roads without hope of food or comfortable sleep, the crowds were apparently good spirited and there was little blowing of horns or vocal complaint.

APPARENTLY CHANGED COURSE TO NORTHWEST

(Associated Press Despatch) LEWES, Dela., Oct. 15.—The Graf Zeppelin passed over Hog Island, Virginia, eighty-five miles south of Cape Henlopen, Dela., at 10:15 and apparently changed her course to northwest. This may take her over Washington, observers believed.

LOG OF ZEPPELIN

The log of the Graf Zeppelin (Eastern Standard Time) is as follows:

Thursday, October 11.—2 a.m., Graf Zeppelin left Friedrichshafen, Germany; 4 a.m. passed over the Franco-German frontier; 1:50 p.m. passed over Barcelona, Spain; midnight, passed Gibraltar.

Friday, October 12.—2 a.m., sighted fifty miles off coast of Spanish Morocco; 8:30 a.m., passed over Funchal, Madeira; 2:40 p.m., twenty-seven miles west by south of Horta, the Azores.

Saturday, October 13.—2:30 a.m., 1,000 miles west of Madeira, heading for Bermuda; 6:25 a.m., 1,800 miles east of Charleston, S.C., proceeding slowly while repairing damaged horizontal fin; 9:30 a.m., 1,000 miles from Bermuda, still going slowly; 12:31 p.m., radio messages report damage repaired; 11 p.m., 100 miles northeast of Bermuda.

Sunday, October 14.—3:55 p.m., sighted by steamer Lafoco, sixty-two miles east of St. David's Island, Bermuda; 6 p.m., passed over Bermuda flying low and making moderate speed against a twenty-five mile northwest wind.

Monday, October 15.—4 a.m., sighted 430 miles southeast of Lakehurst, N.J., 300 miles off South Carolina coast.

FAMOUS PAINTING WAS FOUND IN COLLECTION

Jarves Collection Contains Famous Titian Painting of "The Presentation in the Temple."

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 15.—A Titian has been found in the Jarves collection of paintings in the art gallery of Yale University which heretofore had not been recognized. The painting, "The Presentation in the Temple," had been attributed to Giorgione (1477-1511) to Giovanni Cariani, born about 1480. An entry in an old catalogue gave the former Siren, wrote a new collection catalogue in 1916 when Oswald J. Deane, E. V. Meeks said last night that experts now give Titian the credit.

Three Bandits Who Carried Off Registered Mail At Buffalo Are Still At Large Today

Shot and Wounded Three Guards and a Policeman and Fled in Motor Car With Several Sacks of Mail—Value of Their Loot Was Undetermined, But Police Do Not Believe It Was Very Large.

(Associated Press Despatch) BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 15.—Three bandits who held up a taxicab in which registered mail was being transferred between railroad stations last night were at large today. They shot and wounded three guards and a policeman, and fled in an automobile with several sacks of the mail. The value of their loot was undetermined, but police do not believe it was very large.

An intensive search was started throughout western New York and a special watch set on the border to keep the bandits from escaping.

One of the guards, Ward McCourtney, 32, of Elkhart, Ind., a clerk, received three bullets in his body. Vincent Connors, a motorcycle policeman, was shot five times when he attempted to halt the bandits' car. The other two guards, Francis E. Lieber, a Pullman porter, was shot in one side, and Charles J. Kavanaugh, a railroad detective, in one knee.

Drew Up as Car Halted at Traffic Intersection

The taxicab, loaded with mail, which is transferred under a contract system, had just left the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad station bound for the Twentieth Century Limited.

As it halted at a traffic intersection the bandit car drew along-

'SUB' MYSTERY HAS NOT BEEN SOLVED AS YET

French Undersea Craft Seems to Have Carried Mystery of Her Fate With Her 6,000 Feet Down in Atlantic Ocean.

(Associated Press Despatch) PARIS, Oct. 15.—The submarine Ondine which was turned into a steel coffin for forty-three young officers and sailors of the French navy when she was rammed off Vigo by a Greek freighter seems to have carried the mystery of her fate with her, 6,000 feet down in the Atlantic Ocean.

Neither the public nor officialdom last night knew much more about the disaster than they did when they first received the meagre news from the French consul at Rotterdam on Friday night.

Newspapers announced the loss under big headlines, reading: "Navy in mourning," but their efforts to unravel the mystery was fruitless. There was some conflict between the press accounts and the official announcement. The latter said that the captain of the Greek steamer abandoned the search for survivors two hours after the collision.

Some of the press accounts from Rotterdam indicate that he remained in the vicinity for thirteen hours.

(Canadian Press Despatch) TORONTO, Oct. 15.—Sir George Beharrell, managing director of the Dunlop Rubber Company of Great Britain, reached Toronto last night in the course of a business trip during which properties in Canada and Japan bearing the company name, but which have been operated independently will once more come under control of the parent company.

Sir George stated that his company, which sold its Canadian properties to Canadian financiers twenty-nine years ago, had secured control of the common stock of the Canadian organization and that the linking of this company with others throughout the west would give the British company direct control of a $200,000,000 organization. Control of the Canadian company had been secured, he said, when the British company acquired control of the Tyre Investment Trust of Great Britain. The authorized capital stock of the Canadian company is given at common $9,400,000 and preferred $400,000. Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Toronto, is president of the Canadian company and was one of a trio of Canadians who acquired control from the British company twenty-nine years ago.

EX-CHIEF OF U.S. SECRET SERVICE PASSES AWAY

(Associated Press Despatch) LARCHMONT, N.Y., Oct. 15.—William J. Flynn, former chief of the United States secret service and also former head of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, died at his home here yesterday after an illness of two weeks. He was sixty years old.

In thirty years with the secret service he attained a world wide reputation and became an almost legendary figure through activities against criminals of every degree.

In 1917 he retired from the secret service and was for a time head of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice. In the past four years he lived a comparatively quiet life, doing a little private detective work, but spending most of his time at his Larchmont home.

Chinese Tongs Are Again Staging War In Several United States Centres

Death Toll Soon After Outbreak on Sunday Was Three in Chicago, One in New York, One in Philadelphia and Two in Washington.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Chinese Tongs were at war again today. The death toll soon after the outbreak Sunday was three in Chicago, one in New York, one in Philadelphia and two in Washington.

Police guarded Chinese sections of these and other cities. As Wong Chu, a New York waiter, played cards with eleven other Hip Sing tongmen and a neutral in Wong's apartment, a gunman described as an On Leong, pushed open the door, shot Wong Chu four times and then turned the gun on Wong Wai, the neutral, wounding him in the arm. Eng Pak, a restaurant cook and member of the Hip Sing Tong, was shot by two men as he sat in a taxi in the heart of Chicago's On Leong Tong neighborhood.

Less than two hours later two laundrymen believed to be Hip Sings, were killed in the On Leong district by Chinese who escaped.

Duel at Philadelphia

Lin Sing, of Boston, On Leong, was killed in a pistol duel with two Chinese in Philadelphia. Police were informed by several taxi drivers that previous to the shooting they had taken to the railroad station a number of Chinese who appeared from their conversation to be bound for Chicago.

Two Chinese were killed and two others wounded in the outbreak of Tong warfare in Washington.

Twenty-One Arrested

Police said the killer was an On Leong, but they believed he had made a mistake in his victims, as the victims were not known to be affiliated with any tong. Twenty-one suspected tongmen were arrested. The two tongs, ancient rivals, had been at peace since the signing of a formal pact March 27, 1927, after a series of outbreaks in which there were killings in Brooklyn, Newark, N.J., Chicago, Manchester, Connecticut, Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

Two Chinese were hanged in Connecticut for murder there.

PAID TRIBUTE TO AMUNDSEN

(Associated Press Despatch) OSLO, Oct. 15.—A torchlight procession in memory of Roald Amundsen who gave his life in an attempt to bring aid to the missing Nobile expedition was held last night by the Choral Unions and witnessed by many thousands. Major Trygve Gran eulogized the veteran explorer after which the crowd stood with bared heads for a minute of silence.

CONVINCED KALAHARI DESERT REAL CRADLE OF HUMAN RACE

(Associated Press Despatch) JOHANNESBURG, S.A., Oct. 15.—The American expedition headed by Dr. C. E. Caddie said he considered their researches had confirmed his hypothesis that the desert was the real cradle of the human race. He indicated that he would return again for further study, which he believed would establish this theory beyond all dispute.

PLANES DRIVE DUCKS AWAY TO ALARM OF HUNTERS

Hamilton Police State that a Man Fired from the Rush Beds When a Seaplane Circled Over His Decoys.

(Associated Press Despatch) HAMILTON, ONT., October 15.—Much consternation has been caused among the local duck hunters, who claim that aeroplanes from the flying field have caused the wild ducks to desert the night, that one hunter had showered duck shot at a plane flying within firing distance and riddled the propeller blades with bullets.

Police investigating, state that a man fired from the rush beds when a seaplane circled over his decoys.

FAMOUS BOOK TO BE SHOWN IN UNITED STATES

Original Manuscript of "Alice in Wonderland," Which Has Already Been Viewed at New York by 451,836 Persons, Is to Be Taken All Over Country and Then Returned for a While to Its Native Land.

(Associated Press Despatch) PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 14.—The original manuscript of "Alice in Wonderland," purchased in England last April for $77,000, by Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, of this city, is to make a grand tour of the United States and then return for a while to its native England.

The name of the present owner of the Lewis Carroll Manuscript, Elbridge R. Johnson was not made known until yesterday when the coming tour was announced although he purchased the highly prized script in June for $150,000. He is a philanthropist and collector of Moorestown, N.J., founder of the Victor Talking Machine Company, president of the company until last year.

Mr. Johnson's idea in purchasing the manuscript was to "give all who love Alice," grown ups as well as children the opportunity of seeing and enjoying the original.

Since June 27 the manuscript has been in a glass case in a library here and during that time the librarian said 451,836 persons have viewed it.

The manuscript will be taken to New York Tuesday and exhibited in the public library, Fifth Avenue and 42nd Street. It contains ninety-two handwritten pages with illuminated title and dedication. The original Alice is Mrs. Reginald Hargreaves, of London, who was known to the author as Alice Pleasance Liddell.

CANADIAN LADY INJURED SERIOUSLY IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. T.B. Clougher, Former Resident of Toronto, Ont., Struck by Falling Boarding Placed Around Store—Husband Business Representative of Several Canadian Daily Newspapers.

(Associated Press Despatch) BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 15.—Formation of a Border Commuters' Association, to safeguard the rights of commuters living in Canada and working in the United States, will be completed shortly at a conference to be held in Windsor, Ont. Mayors of the various border towns and others interested will attend.

The purpose of the organization will be to watch legislation it is feared shortly will be introduced in Washington by United States Labor Department officials to kill the beneficial effect of a recent United States Supreme Court decision. United States counsel will be engaged by the Canadians to watch the rights of the commuters.

In the discussion which arose, W. A. Walsh and C. A. Adams expressed the opinion that the survey might probably be best made by the Protestant Community, and that permission should be sought for the matter to be approached in this way. Dean Sinclair Laird was not hopeful that the survey would be granted in any way, and drew attention to the fact that, with the exception of certain branches, such as agriculture, the education of the province was to a large extent a local matter. He remarked, however, that the association would at least square itself with a newspaper in asking for the survey, though he wondered if too much attention had not been paid to (Continued on page 7)

Claim That Late Peking Government Bribed Moslems To Raise Rebellions Which Have Taken So Many Lives—Situation Improved

General Feng Now Seeking to Bring About Co-Operation Between Mohammedans and Chinese, Which He Expects to Achieve Slowly—Civil War Has Quietened Down as Result of Capture of Liangchowfu, Last Moslem Stronghold in Kansu.

(Associated Press Despatch) SHANGHAI, Oct. 15.—The headquarters of General Feng Yu Hsiang at Sianfu yesterday charged that the late Peking Government had bribed the Moslems of Shensi to raise the rebellions which since last April have cost the lives of at least 200,000 Chinese. It was charged that the Northern government gave the Moslems $750,000, in addition to promising them overlordship of the provinces of Honan, Shensi and Kansu if they succeeded in embarrassing the force of Feng Yu Hsiang of Peking.

Sianfu officials said that the civil war had quietened down as the result of the capture of Liangchowfu, the last Moslem stronghold in Kansu, late last month, and that General Feng was now seeking to bring about co-operation between the Mohammedans and the Chinese, which he expects to achieve slowly.

THE WEATHER

MOSTLY CLOUDY WITH LOCAL SHOWERS

Pressure is high on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, while a trough of low extends from Hudson's Bay to the Southwest States. Showers have occurred in Northern Ontario and in some sections of Western Quebec, while in other parts of the Dominion the weather has been fair.

Forecast: Moderate southwest winds, mostly cloudy today and Tuesday, with local showers.

Northern New England: Cloudy, probably followed by showers in the interior late tonight or Tuesday; warmer in the interior tonight; moderate southwest winds.

PRACTICABILITY OF AIRSHIP FOR TRANS-OCEANIC COMMUNICATION HAS NOW BEEN DEMONSTRATED

Noted Aviation and Zeppelin Expert States that from an Expert's Viewpoint It Was an Excellent Thing to Have Worst Weather Imaginable, for It Proved that an Airship Can Do What No Aeroplane Can Possibly Accomplish, Namely, Go a Long Distance Out of the Way of a Storm or, if Caught in It, Merely Drift Until It Blows Over.

(Associated Press Despatch) ERLIN, Oct. 15.—Captain Walter Bruns, noted aviation and zeppelin expert, is of the opinion that the voyage of the Graf Zeppelin from Germany to the United States has conclusively demonstrated the practicability of the airship for trans-oceanic communication.

"Such a collection of bad weather as the Graf Zeppelin encountered, he said today, 'of course is not an every day occurrence. In normal weather the zeppelin should span the ocean easily.

An Excellent Test.

"From an expert's viewpoint it was an excellent thing to have the worst weather imaginable, for it proved that the airship can do what no aeroplane can possibly accomplish—go a long distance out of the way of a storm, or, if caught in it, merely drift until it blows over. The Graf Zeppelin was delayed in its arrival longer than expected. But what of it? Why apply different standards to an airship than to an ocean vessel? The big greyhounds recently have been twenty-four to thirty-six hours late, yet nobody found fault with them.

Superiority Over Aeroplane.

"No aeroplane can afford to fly great distances to evade storms, because its fuel supply is too limited; also it cannot have conveniences with weather observations which the gondola of an airship affords.

"In the gondola weather charts can be spread out. The radio can work constantly and an officer can enter observations so exactly that it may be known every moment just what the weather and navigation situation is. This is impossible in an aeroplane because of limited space."

CONVENTION OF TEACHERS IS CONCLUDED

R. P. Bissell Succeeds C. N. Crutchfield as President of Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers—Election of Officers.

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—R. P. Bissell was elected president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers of Quebec, at the final meeting of the annual convention held Saturday morning in the Montreal High School. Reports and resolutions involved in this business session, and rousing considerable difference of opinion, included the resolution asking the Provincial Government to appoint a commission to make a full survey of the Protestant school system in Quebec. This motion was finally passed unanimously.

In presenting the motion with regard to the survey, E. C. Woodley stressed the fact that there was no imputation that the present system was utterly unsatisfactory, but that the aim was constructive rather than destructive. In addition to text books, other phases of school administration which might benefit by the survey were, it was suggested, rural high schools, consolidated schools, adequate inspection, definition of educational objectives, education of mentally defective and retarded children, tenure of teachers, salary scales, vocational guidance and social education. It was provided in the motion that the membership of the commission include teachers, who would have practical knowledge of conditions.

In the discussion which arose, W. A. Walsh and C. A. Adams expressed the opinion that the survey might probably be best made by the Protestant Community, and that permission should be sought for the matter to be approached in this way. ECZEMA

"I have for some years been troubled with eczema, which salves, ointments, medicated baths and various systems of dieting did no more than temporarily relieve. A doctor remarked that my complaint was chronic. One day this year I bought a bottle of Kruschen, without having much faith in it.

"However, after a fortnight, the burning and irritation, which was the worst feature of the disease, had left me. Naturally I got another bottle and in short of two months all traces of eczema had vanished, and my skin became as white and clean as that of a new-born child. Nor has there since been any return of the trouble.

"I have continued taking the small daily dose of Kruschen and life has taken on a new aspect. I realize that the 'Kruschen feeling' is something more than a mere figure of speech." R. A.

50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stevens, of Stanstead, Guests of Honor at Reception on Occasion of Golden Wedding—Personals and Other Notes from Stanstead, Rock Island and Derby Line.

STANSTEAD, Que., Oct. 15.—The fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stevens was marked by a brilliant social event at "Ingleside," the home in Stanstead, Wednesday afternoon, October 10th.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with golden chrysanthemums, roses and maple leaves of golden hue.

During the afternoon hundreds of people came from far and near to offer congratulations and wish the voyagers well as they passed the fiftieth milestone of a happily blended life.

Several presentations were made and more than fifty telegrams as well as many letters, felicitously phrased, by absent relatives and friends, came to cheer the recipients and add to the success of the occasion.

Citizens of the community made up a handsome purse.

Another remembrance which deeply impressed the recipients was the following tribute from the municipal council of the village of Stanstead Plain, inscribed in a resolution unanimously adopted at a meeting on Monday evening, Oct. 8th:

"That this municipal council, upon the occasion of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stevens, residents of this village for over fifty years, desire to place on record and give expression to their appreciation of the valuable services rendered this municipality by Mr. Stevens as a former councillor and mayor, of his active interest in the welfare of this community, and of the high order of citizenship which has characterized the lives of both Mr. and Mrs. Stevens during this long period of time.

"This expression of appreciation extends to Mrs. Stevens for the helping hand she has so cheerfully rendered in the work of uplift and charity, and this council extend to both, cordial congratulations, and express the hope that many happy years await them."

Relative and friends from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Stevens, Boston; Mrs. John Baile, Waterloo; Mrs. William M. Flanders, Miss Maida Flanders, Boston; Mr. Murray Brooks, Toronto; Miss Helen Williams, Knowlton, Mr. and Mrs. Don Knowles, Mrs. W. A. Flanders, Miss Helen Flanders, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McIntosh, Mrs. Harry Norton, Ayer's Cliff.

Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. John Flanders poured during the first hour; Mrs. John G. Foster and Mrs. D. W. Davis during the second hour; Mrs. Sidney Flanders, Mrs. Gordon McIntosh, Mrs.

W. H. Spencer (of Montreal) and Miss Harriet Colby assisting.

Mr. Sidney Stevens and Miss Harriet Jane Flanders were married in Newton Center, Massachusetts, October 10th, 1877, and directly afterwards came to Stanstead to reside. Mr. Stevens was then local manager of the Eastern Townships Bank, a position which he continued to hold until the amalgamation of that institution with the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and for some time thereafter held the same position with its successor. He was superannuated about ten years ago, but even after that continued to look after the Stanstead agency for some time, the bank, in the meantime having been moved to Rock Island. Mr. Stevens is now secretary of the school commissioners and does a general insurance business at Stanstead. For thirty-five years Mr. and Mrs. Stevens have lived at "Ingleside," their present home.

General Notes.

Mr. George Burwash, of Montreal, has been spending a week in town with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Swift.

Mr. Richard Farrow, of Montreal, has been visiting relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stratton are moving into their home on Pierce Avenue. Mrs. Stratton has been the proprietress for several years of the "Maples." It is reported that the Maples will be kept open during the winter under a new management.

Mrs. H. A. Searth and daughter, Betty, of Sweetsburg, were in town on a short visit with Mrs. Searth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh.

The municipality are applying stone and gravel on the road in Stanstead, which will level the sides equal to the amasite, and thus make the road had more uniform. This will be a decided improvement. It was just a trifle narrow before.

Mr. Rustin Lamb, of Montreal, has been at his home for a few days.

Miss Jean McIntosh is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. A. Searth, in Sweetsburg.

October 11th. There were seven members present, and five visitors, besides the children. In the absence of the president, the vice-president presided and conducted the devotional exercises. Mrs. D. J. Saunders acted as secretary for the afternoon. A motion was carried that the corresponding secretary send a letter to Mrs. McConnell, mother and sister, expressing regret at their removal and appreciation of their help in the union while residents here. Delegates were appointed to the provincial convention to be held at Ayer's Cliff on October 16th, 17th and 18th, viz: Mrs. L. H. Hooker, Mrs. W. E. Hooker, Mrs. F. J. Bennett, the president, Mrs. F. W. Gilbert and Mrs. W. L. Gilbert going by right of their office. Mrs. L. H. Hooker invited the union to meet with her on November 14th. The meeting was closed with the Miphah Benediction. A very pleasant hour was socially enjoyed by all after which Mrs. Saunders served tea, assisted by Miss Janice Bennett.

Who is Your Skinny Friend, Ethel

Tell him to take McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets for a couple of months and get enough good healthy flesh on his bones to look like a real man.

Tell him, it's the only way to take those grave-like hollows from his cheeks and neck.

Tell him that thousands of thin, puny, peaked, scrawny men all over America have improved their physical health and appearance and bless the day they first heard of these wonderful sugar coated tablets so full of weight producing and health building essentials.

Ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets. Chagnum's Drug Store and every druggist sells them—60 tablets—60 cents—economy size $1.00. Almost any thin man or woman can put on five pounds of healthy flesh in 30 days or your money will be refunded.

One woman put on 15 pounds in six weeks. Children grow robust and strong—feeble old people feel younger in a few weeks.

SCIENTISTS WAR AMONG SELVES OVER DARWIN'S THEORY OF EVOLUTION.

Leaders in New Evolution War.

OSBORN PRESENTS NEW VIEW OF "DAWN MAN"

By Israel Klein

Science Editor, NEA Service.

NEW YORK.—Evolution again has arisen from the dust of its recent affray only to get into the path of another, and perhaps more serious controversy.

The new struggle is not between science and religion. On the contrary, it threatens to disrupt the ranks of science itself.

It started when so great a scientist as Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History, dared to question the "officially" accepted theory of the origin of man. According to Osborn, man did not spring from the same branch as the modern ape, but came from an ancestor totally independent of the original ape, more than a million years ago.

"Man sprang from partly tree-living (arboreal), partly ground-living (terrestrial) higher primates, of the kind known as 'anthropoid' because of their nearer resemblance to man than to the monkeys, baboons and lemurs," says Osborn.

"The fingers of the ancestral hand were broad and separated, the thumb well developed, with grasping power; the toes of the ancestral foot, on the contrary, were brought together and the big toe was slightly separated. Thus in both the hand and foot these pro-human anthropoids were adapted both to tree and to ground progression. Neither hand nor foot was so far specialized for extreme arboreal life as to be disabled for an early tool-making power of the hand and for a nearly bipedal and cursorial power of the limbs and feet."

"Similarly, the pro-human brain conserved the alertness of all small primates."

This is a revolutionary and daring challenge to the established theory, held since the days of Darwin, that both man and ape came from the same trunk of "primates" and merely branched off into two directions—one class remaining on trees, while the other took to the ground.

Prof. William K. Gregory, also of the American Museum of Natural History and a close friend of Dr. Osborn, is one of the leading exponents of the earlier theory.

"Professor Osborn's discoveries," he says, "relate only to the closing chapters in the history of man."

"Since 1916 I have defended the view that man is an offshoot of some early member of the anthropoid stock and that his nearest existing relatives are the chimpanzees and the gorilla. I prefer not to quibble about whether the long-snouted, long-tailed, tree-living primate with grasping hands and feet, assumed as man's very remote ancestor, should be called by some less pleasant name than monkey."

The stage preceding the terrestrial, cursorial biped has, to my mind, always been a brachiating (branch-swinging) pro-anthropoid, nearer on the whole to the chimpanzee than to homo sapiens, but without the extreme arboreal specializations of the orang."

Gregory is upheld by most of the great evolutionists of the world, while Osborn is almost alone in his rebellion against the established idea. But Osborn insists the Darwinists have neglected to consider one important difference between man and ape in their evolutionary processes, despite their most detailed comparisons.

The difference lies not so much in the bodily forms—which the ape-man theorists seek to compare rather than contrast—as in the "motor organs," says Osborn. He sees these differences in the embryonic and adult structure, especially of the human hand and foot.

Is Your Liver Lazy?

A lazy liver is like a lie—it can start an endless chain of trouble. For the work of the liver is so important that if this organ is tired and sluggish, the whole system is affected. Headaches, Indigestion, Constipation, Upset Stomach and Pain after Eating—even Rheumatism—often come directly from a lazy liver. If it is your liver, ABBEY'S will set the matter right. The first thing in the morning, have your glass of ABBEY'S, to cleanse the stomach, neutralize any excess of uric acid, tone up and invigorate the liver and move the bowels. It's surprising how quickly your liver will respond to the cleansing, tonic effect of this famous saline.

LIQUOR AND AUTOS SEIZED AT U.S. BORDER

Cars Taken Numbered Twenty-Eight—385 Smuggler Suspects Were Fined in Vermont in September.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Oct. 13.—Twenty-eight automobiles and ten thousand, nine hundred and fifty-one bottles of intoxicating liquor were seized in September by United States Customs patrol officers, operating under the direction of Collector Harry C. Whitehill.

The seized cars were valued at $15,079, and the liquors at $3,500. In addition to these major seizures, fines were assessed against 385 persons who attempted to smuggle in liquor a bottle or two at a time. In such cases a penalty is assessed against the offender equal to the value of the intoxicants found in his possession, and the liquor is confiscated and destroyed. A total of 524 bottles was reluctantly surrendered to inspecting officers, and the fines collected in these cases of petty smuggling amounted to $3,547. A large proportion of these penalties was collected from automobile drivers who had carefully secreted a bottle or two in an accessible part of the car; but a considerable sum was also assessed by customs inspectors of passenger trains where liquors were discovered in the baggage or on the person of travellers arriving from Canada. The amounts collected at the various Customs posts and stations of Collector Whitehill's district were:

Island Pond, $893; Beecher Falls, $870; Derby Line, $581; North Troy, $269; Richford $230; Newport, $148; and Albany, $81. At the headquarters port of St. Albans, which includes towns on the north, the collections were: Swanton, $583; Highgate, $15; Franklin, $20; and on passenger trains arriving at St. Albans, $65.

In all 426 cases of violations of Customs laws were handled in September, including assessments of $100 each, against the drivers of four automobiles who failed to report their arrival at the nearest Customs Office after crossing the border from Canada.

THE SKIN.

The second layer of the skin, which we learned was the dermis, is composed of connective tissues richly supplied with blood vessels, capillaries, lymphatic vessels and nerves. The surface of the true skin just underneath the epidermis presents a curious appearance like little mountain peaks, caused by the papillae, which contain blood vessels for nourishing the derma and the live cells of the outer skin.

Some of these little peaks or papillae contain the touch corpuscles. In some parts of our skin these touch papillae are thicker than in the other parts. They are most thickly grouped on the end of our tongue and next at the finger tips. We can distinguish two objects as being separate, even though they are very close together, by touching them with these areas of our body. In some spots of our skin these touch corpuscles are so far apart that two objects even from one to two inches apart cannot be distinguished from a single object. If you wish to prove this, take two of your fingers about an inch and a half apart and touch your back. In all probability you will be unable to distinguish more than one point of pressure.

In the lower part of the dermis and in the layers immediately under the true skin, large quantities of fat are stored. This gives the skin a plump and smooth appearance.

If you examine your skin with a magnifying glass, you will see large numbers of small pores or openings in the skin. These are the mouths of the sweat glands which are little tubes composed of the same kind of cells as the epidermis but adapted for their special function.

A sweat gland tube goes through the dermis and ends in a little coil in the dermis or in the sub-dermal layer. The functions of these glands are to cool off the body by producing perspiration and to discharge waste products. In some parts of the skin these sweat glands are very close together. There are as many as 2,500 to the square inch. While some perspiration is being continually discharged through these sweat glands, the amount is usually so small that it passes off in vapor without being noticed, but on a hot day the amount discharged may be so abundant as to produce heavy beads of sweat. It may be interesting to you to know that all of the skin structures are produced by evolving skin cells which have been grown and developed into special functions. This includes the hair, sweat glands, oil glands, and finger-nails.

Brittle finger-nails and rough scaly skin caused by a lack of certain mineral elements in our food materials, and it is interesting to observe the improvement of the complexion of the individuals who eat the right kind of foods. In fact, it would be a good plan for all beauty specialists to become dietitians.

One of the best ways for keeping the skin healthy is to use cold shower or sponge baths. This stimulates the little muscles in the skin to contract, and really provides these muscles with exercise. In almost every case, when a hot bath is taken, it should be followed by a cold one to temporarily close the pores of the skin and counteract the relaxation caused by the heat. Rubbing vigorously with a dry towel will also increase the circulation to the skin and help to advance following the cold bath.

If you will keep your skin healthy at all times, you will encourage elimination, and your body will function better in every way.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action. It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

DR. A. BAILLIE IN FAVOR OF REFRESHMENT ROOM

Dean of Windsor Stated that It Would Help to Get a Better Conception of Temperance.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(By the Canadian Press.)—The Dean of Windsor, Dr. A. Baillie, who visited Canada when the choir of St. George's, Windsor, made a tour there, opened recently a refreshment room and bar for the sale of intoxicating drinks at the Royal Albert Institute Windsor.

After he had made his opening speech, the Dean called for a glass of sherry.

The Dean said that some people had stated that he was encouraging drinking. He ventured to say that this was nonsense. If people wanted to drink they went "round the corner" and they had always "gone around the corner." Drink was not encouraged, because it was possible for the young members of the institute to get anything else they wanted there.

He believed that instead of increasing the amount of drinking it would decrease it among a great many people, and would certainly be a natural way of people having refreshment together. It would help to get a better conception of temperance among the young and would certainly tend to a greater amount of friendliness and sociability.

UNITED CHURCH HELD HAR- VEST THANKSGIVING SERVICES

The annual harvest-home services were observed in the United Church yesterday at both morning and evening services. The pastor, Rev.
F. R. Matthews, preached at the morning service, drawing comparisons between Canada, which had escaped visitations of flood, hurricane, and famine, and other countries, which had greatly suffered, and were still suffering from the effects of these calamities. Additional reasons for thankfulness were shown in the great natural resources of Canada, which were sufficient for all her needs, in her possibilities of production, and her financial prosperity at the present time.

The church was tastefully arranged with bright autumn leaves and flowers, and with the ripened products of field and garden.
The music was in keeping with the day, the anthem, "O Worship the Lord," being sung by the choir.
While Mr. H. H. McFadden, of Ayer's Cliff, was heard in a solo,
"Hark, Hark, My Soul," in the morning service, and the anthems,
"A Bounteous Harvest," and "The Woods and Every Sweet Smelling Tree," were rendered in the evening. Mrs. F. S. Browne presiding at the organ.

Rev. Dr. G. E. Reid, of Sherbrooke, was in charge of the evening service, and preached an earnest and inspiring sermon, the theme of which was thankfulness, based upon the words of the psalm,
"O Give Thanks unto the Lord, for He is good, for His loving kindness endureth for ever."
The writer of the psalm, Dr. Reid said, was a man with a thankful heart, and unlike many historians, read his personal convictions into the history of his country. Too many writers carefully eliminated all that was providential from their histories of national life, while others permeated their stories with their consciousness of God's care for the nation, as well as for the individual. Such was the writer of the psalm.

The assertion made in the psalm was often challenged. "How can God be a God of loving kindness and allow disasters in flood, famine, and hurricane, as well as the awful crimes of society?" was a question often arising in the minds of many people. Too much stress was laid upon these terrible happenings, in the opinion of Dr. Reid, and too little on the many glorious and splendid things going on in the world every day, far outnumbering those that were evil. Dr. Reid pointed out a reason for allowing evils to happen in the fact that only a very good God could bring order out of chaos, and overrule wrong with right. Humanity, he said, was apt to let their troubles loom up largely, shutting out the thought of the many blessings of their lives, and the thought that God is good on dark days, as well as on bright ones.

From the bounty of the immaterial harvest, Dr. Reid pointed from material blessings to the beauty of the world, the glory of the heavens, of sunsets and dawn, and of the ordering of the universe in relation to human life. Man, he said, was not an inhabitant of one world only, but of the universe itself. "You cannot live in one world only, but depend on a myriad of worlds for your daily life," said Dr. Reid. In the ordering of the planets and star systems, as well as in seed-time and harvest, God's care for this children and all their needs was abundantly proved, meriting the gratitude of every human being.

The church was well filled at both services, and the occasion one of inspiration and uplifting to all who were present.
Bridge in Aid of the Library.
A benefit bridge for the town library was held on Thursday evening in the Women's Institute room, which proved very successful.
Bridge was played at eleven tables, and the prizes for ladies were won by Mrs. G. Lumsden, first; Mrs. R.
W. A. Wright, second; and Mrs. E.
G. Henry, consolation prize. The gentlemen's first was won by Mr.
Shupe; second by Mr. Lebb, and the consolation prize went to Mr. G.
Dunmore. The arrangements were in charge of the Misses Davis, Mrs.
A. T. Sped, Mrs. W. Christie, and Mrs. John Baker, who served refreshments at the close of the evening.
Competition in Potato Growing.
During the past season, competition in the growing of potatoes was organized by the Sherbrooke County Agricultural Society, with a view to the production of a superior type of potatoes. With the harvesting of the crop during the past weeks, the results became apparent, and the judge, Mr. A. Rousseau, assistant to Mr. W. G. Macdougall, county agriculturalist, was able to make his decisions as to the winners of the prizes offered in this competition.

The list of the winners of these prizes follows:

Former Lennoxville Lady Receives Last Tribute

On Sunday, October 7th, the mortal remains of Katherine Mary Clarke, wife of Rev. Charles E.
Clarke, rector of Christ Church,
Belleville, Ont., passed through Lennoxville on the way to interment in Beebe. Mrs. Clarke was born in Lingwick, Que., forty-four years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, the former of whom now resides in Tolsta, Quebec. She spent several years of her life in Lennoxville, where she attended the High School, graduating with her A. A. degree, afterwards teaching school for some time prior to her leaving to train as a nurse in Montreal General Hospital. Leaving the hospital as a graduate nurse, she became the wife of Rev.
Charles E. Clarke, in 1913, a graduate of Bishop's University and also of Cambridge University in England. Three young sons aged eleven, seven and four respectively, are left to mourn the loss of their mother, as well as the husband, Rev.
C. E. Clarke, the father, Mr. John Smith, and an uncle, Mr. Malcolm Smith, both of Tolsta.

The funeral service, held in Christ Church, Belleville, on Saturday afternoon, was an impressive one. From two o'clock until after midnight, the friends of the deceased lady visited the church, where the body lay on the chancel steps, several hundreds passing by to view the remains for the last time.

At three o'clock the service was held, with His Lordship, Bishop Seager, of the Diocese of Ontario, in charge, while thirty-seven members of the Anglican clergy were present, several assisting the bishop.
All the organizations of the church were largely represented, and the tributes in floral designs were very numerous. At midnight the cortege left the church for the station, where the funeral party entrained for Lennoxville. Here the cortege was again formed and proceeded to Beebe, where interment took place.
Rev. C. E. Clarke and Mr. George
B. Smith, warden of Christ Church,
Belleville, accompanied the remains.

General Notes.
Rev. C. E. Clarke, of Belleville, Ont., was a guest at the home of Mrs. C. E. White recently.

MR. A. E. JENCKES PLAYS PART IN BIG GOLD FIND

Former Resident of Sherbrooke and Brother of Mr. John Jenckes, of This City, Is Actively Engaged in Mining in Kirkland Lake District.

Friends in Sherbrooke and throughout the Eastern Townships of Mr. A. E. Jenckes, formerly of this city, now of Swastika, Ontario, will be interested to hear of his activities in Ontario, where he is engaged in the mining business.
Recently Mr. John Jenckes, Quebec
Street, brother of Mr. A. E.
Jenckes, received some very interesting pictures of the mining district where his brother is at present located, as well as press clippings giving accounts of the activities of that particular section. Mrs.
Jenckes is also very much interested in her husband's work.

The company of which Mr.
Jenckes is a director is known as "The Trout Creek Gold Mining Company, Limited", and operates in the Kirkland Lake district, with the mines office at Swastika, Ontario.

A clipping from the Toronto Financial Post of August 31st, 1928, tells of the recent discovery of gold in which find Mr. Jenckes played a prominent part. The clipping in part reads as follows:

"Kirkland Lake: What has been described as the most spectacular find over made in the Kirkland Lake Camp has just been uncovered on the Trout Creek Gold Mining Company's property, about a mile from Swastika Junction, and a short distance from the highway leading from Swastika to Kirkland Lake.

"The find was made by a crew of men doing surface trenching under the direction of Mr. A. E.
Jenckes, a director of the company, who has been in charge of the exploration campaign inaugurated this summer, the claims having lain idle since 1914.

"The find was made four feet from surface while tracing a porphyry showing of no particular importance. At this point it was found to reveal a spectacular showing of free gold. This has been exposed for a distance of eighty feet and an average width of twelve feet, the high grade showing over a five feet width.

"Channel assays have been taken at five foot intervals, by Edward H.
Orser, the company's consulting engineer, but the Financial Post was informed by Mr. Jenckes that these have run so high that no values will be given at the present time, and until further work has been done.

"Free gold, he said, had been separated from samples, and the microscope used to separate finer particles, the residue had then been assayed, and the results obtained had been so high that even these were not for publication.
"The find has created a big stir in Kirkland and Swastika. The original gold finds were made in the western end of the camp at the Kirkland Gateway, and it is believed that this end of the camp will again receive much attention, after lying idle for a number of years.
"The present company was formed in November of last year, with an authorized capital of $5,000,000 shares of $1 par value, 1,000,000 shares were issued for the property, but only from $5,000 to $10,000 treasury shares have been sold.
"The principal owners are P. L.
Price, George Vine and A. E.
Jenckes, of St. Catharines, Ont., and Mr. Duncan of Kirkland Lake.
George E. Jones and John Price, of St. Catharines, are on the board of directors.
"The ground in which it was discovered has lain idle for over twelve years, while prospectors and mining engineers have passed it up in favor

DR. READ GAVE ADDRESS FOR BOY SCOUTS

Good Turnout of Scouts and Their Leaders at Morning Service at Plymouth Church Yesterday.

The Boy Scouts of the city attended the morning service at Plymouth United Church yesterday. There was a good turnout of the Scouts and their leaders. In the name of the congregation, Dr. G. Ellery Read extended a cordial welcome to the visitors, and assured them of the interest of the church in all good work being done for the boys of the city.

Dr. Read preached an appropriate sermon, taking for his text, "And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man," St. Luke 2:52. The speaker stressed the fact that Jesus lived the life of a true boy, and the danger we were in of forgetting this. It was easy to think of him as something so different to that of the ordinary boy that all that he had in common with other boys was lost sight of. In this connection, it was necessary to notice that the revised version of the New Testament had made a change in the translation of one word. The authorized version read, "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature." The true translation is "advanced." Jesus had a definite goal towards which he was moving, which every boy ought to have. Not that a boy could be always sure when he was twelve years old what he was going to do in life, but he could make up his mind what he would be. He could determine to be honest, true, clean in his habits of thought and living, sacrificial and loving. In fact, he could make a fine resolve to live so that the world would be the better for his having seen in it. He could follow King Alfred's example as expressed in his resolve: "I desire to live worthily all my days so that I may leave to others a record of work well done."

That Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man implied that he had to meet obstacles and difficulties, for that meaning was in the original word. But that was God's way of preparing him for his life's work. It is the way the great men have always been prepared for great tasks. The boy who is born with a silver spoon in his mouth too often uses it only to feed himself. The boy who has to make his own way knows the advantage of hardship and difficulty, and is ready to help other people in their needs. Jesus was trained in a hard school for the great work for which God had sent him into the world.

Dr. Read appealed to the boys to follow the Boy Jesus. He used his life so that he grew mentally. He went to school and studied the Sacred Scriptures and prepared himself for his great ministry of teaching. He grew physically, living much in the open and using his body as a sacred trust. This was something every boy ought to do. The speaker quoted from the "Canadian Boy Scout" by Sir Robert Baden Powell, in which the great Scout Master warned scouts against the bad effects of smoking, and referred to that eminent Canadian surgeon and physician, Sir William Osler, who said that it would be a good thing if all the beer and spirits could be thrown into the sea one day, and that on the second day, you dumped all the tobacco too it would be very good for every one, although unhealthy for the fish. Whatever may be said for smoking, said Dr. Read, no boy ought to smoke before he is twenty-one. Every sensible person agreed to that.

Always Was Doing a Good Turn. Jesus grew in his spiritual and social life too. His Heavenly Father smiled on him, and so did men. They loved to see a strong, healthy, fine upstanding boy who lived according to the Scout Law. He always was doing a good turn. He was cheerful under all circumstances, when these affected himself. As a boy he lived for others. That is what every scout pledges himself to do.

In concluding his address, Dr. Read quoted the following prayer written by a boy and urged his young hearers to make it their own: "O God, help me to be this day in every way a man; to govern my thoughts and actions according to the highest standards of unselfish manhood; to do nothing of which I should be ashamed to have my name known; and ever to keep before my eyes the goal of a life of service and of fitness to serve."

The Boy Scout who prayed this prayer honestly would be serving his God, his King and Country, said Dr. Read.

The choral service included the anthem, "No Shadows Yonder," from Saul's "Holy City," with tenor solo by Mr. Conrad Jameson. The evening service was conducted by the Rev. R. Matthews, of the United Church, Lennoxville.

MARRIAGES

McVETRY-ACKERMAN
LENNOXVILLE, Que., Oct. 12.—Miss Mildred Elizabeth Ackerman, of Lennoxville, N.H., became the bride of Mr. George Ernest McVetry, of the same place, in St. George's Church, Lennoxville, on September 28th, Rev. R. W. E. Wright, D. D., officiating.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McVetry, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. The bride was given in marriage to her husband by Mr. Conrad Jameson. The ceremony was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Crawford, sister of the groom. A bountiful supper was served to guests numbering twenty-eight, all members of the family. Two people present in the home of being eighty-seven years of age.

The evening was spent with music and dancing.

The bride and groom are spending a few weeks visiting relatives in Lennoxville and Milby before returning to their home in Lennoxville, N.H.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES AT ST. ANDREW'S

Sixty-Seventh Anniversary of Presbyterian Church Held on Sunday—Rev. William Dunn Reid, M.A., D.D., of Montreal, Was Special Preacher—Special Music Furnished.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of this city celebrated its sixty-seventh anniversary yesterday under most favorable circumstances. There was ideal weather and the large church was crowded at both services.

The music, always of a high order in St. Andrew's, was of very special character and charm on this occasion, the choir, under the capable leadership of Mr. Gault L. Parker, having given special time and preparation to their work. Mrs. Seymour Robinson, of Eastern Church, Montreal, rendered with marked effect, the piece "Come ye Blessed" (John Pringle Scott), and "Hear ye Israel"—from the "Elijah"—at the evening service. Mr. D. Y. Diplock (St. Andrew's) was at his best in the solo part of the anthem, "Seek ye the Lord." Mrs. J. G. Tremblay (St. Andrew's), sang with great sweetness the solo in the anthem "O Taste and See," while Miss Della Wilkie and Mrs. Malcolm McKay (St. Andrew's), were equally elevating and inspiring in the rendering of their solos.

The special preacher was the Rev. William Dunn Reid, M.A., D.D., of Stanley Presbyterian Church, Westmont.

Characterized by evangelical zeal and inspiring a high degree of faith in the influence of Dr. Reid's sermons will never entirely wear off. Out of his own rich and varied experience he gave of his very best both at the services in the church and in the special Sunday School gathering in the afternoon. The minister of St. Andrew's, Rev. J. Cordon, expressed the great pleasure it gave him to have Dr. W. S. Reid, a friend of former days both to himself and his family, as the preacher on this anniversary occasion. Mr. Cordon, on behalf of the session and Managing Board, and also in his own behalf, also welcomed all visitors to the services, and these included Rev. Dr. Lennon and his (evening) congregation. He also thanked the organist, the choir and special soloists for their music, and all others who had contributed to the success of the services of the day.

Sermon by Dr. Reid.

In opening his sermon Dr. Reid spoke of preaching anniversary sermons thirty-two years ago when a student just out of college, and about to go abroad to pursue further studies in Scotland, England and Germany.

He took as his text, "Ye Shall Receive Power," and first dealt with conditions upon which Power may be secured. The first condition mentioned was "We must know that there is Power, as long as a church imagines that the church is only a sort of glorified Kiwanis Club or Rotary or Masonic Fraternity it will never know the meaning of spiritual power. It is only when it realizes that it is the body of Christ, and that His life is waiting to thrill it through and through—it is only when the church gets this conception of itself that it will realize the spiritual power that is at its disposal.

The next condition mentioned was, there must be "an intense desire for that Power." It is only when it gets a great Divine dissatisfaction with itself and reaches out after new power that will come.

"A complete surrender to the demands of that Power" was the next condition mentioned, only as men and women are willing to live the church life, and make Him the standard of their Christian life can they be Christians of Power, and the church be a church of Power. Keeping in continued to and with the service of Power was the last condition mentioned. The results of Power was the last thought of the sermon.

The results of Power will be Peaceful Satisfaction. Kept from sin and a new and great success in the work of Jesus Christ. The sermon was listened to throughout with much attention by the congregation present.

Sermon at Evening Service. In the evening service there was a large congregation. Rev. Dr. W. S. Lennon and the congregation of Trinity United Church worshipping along with the St. Andrew's people. Dr. Reid took as his text Matt. 23 and 24.

He proceeded to show how often we misjudge people because we judge them merely from outward appearances. How the church has so often blundered because of emphasizing outward form rather than inward vitality.

The next point was "Place the emphasis of life on what we believe rather than on what we do not believe. What a man does not believe will never help any person. Get a hold on some definite clean cut connections on religion and then live by them."

"Place the emphasis of life," said the preacher, "on the bright side of life rather than on the dark side." This could be done by all. It makes all the difference in the world when we get into this habit.

The preacher then urged his hearers to emphasize the "bright side of life rather than the getting side."

"How much can I get out of life," but "How much can I put into it."

In our churches the emphasis should always be placed on Christ. Only as the church places the em-

COUNCIL WILL HOLD MEETING THIS EVENING

City Fathers Expect to Find Many Matters Awaiting Their Attention When They Gather This Evening—Civic Hospital By-Law Mentioned Among Other Matters, as Well as Important Police Committee Report.

If present indications develop into a reality, tonight's meeting of the City Council will be an active one and the aldermen will find many interesting topics on the agenda for discussion.

First of all it is understood that the civic hospital by-law is to come up for discussion, and this matter is almost certain to bring forth a heated discussion. Alderman Houlihan is fostering a by-law for the erection of an incinerator as well as the civic hospital, and, according to rumors, it is his intention of bringing up this matter, while Alderman Loranger, who is set on having a new bridge between East Sherbrooke and the city proper, will likely have something to say on this matter.

The report of the police committee is mentioned as "one of the most important reports ever submitted by this committee." Just what this contains is not known, apart from the appointment of Mr. E. C. Gagnon as secretary to the Chief of Police. All these matters along with the reading of correspondence and the adoption of committee reports, should make tonight's meeting a very interesting one.

phases on Christ will it go forward and succeed.

The sermon was closed with the injunction to "Place the Emphasis on the other life rather than upon this one." It will not make much difference to most of us fifty years hence, whether or not we succeed in business or become millionaires in life but it will make a mighty difference to us what kind of character we built up during our stay here.

Sunday School Session in Afternoon

The anniversary occasion was also duly recognized and observed at the afternoon session of the Sunday School. The school orchestra led in the service of praise and Rev. W. D. Reid, of Montreal, the anniversary preacher, closed the school taking as his keynote, "Some points picked up on an ocean voyage."

The speaker stressed the necessity of boarding the right vessel, travelling towards the right shore, and reaching a point where we hoped to reach, a point which was to be reached by dealing with and followed, total surrender to the captain in charge, the assurance of a very happy exception on reaching our destination, and all these important and essential conditions for a pleasant and profitable voyage. Dr. Reid said these were just as prevalent in our trip from birth to death as they are in our journey through life. His teachings and commands as the vital factor constitutes a reasonable voyage.

Rev. J. Cordon thanked the speakers on behalf of the school, and the gathering then dismissed with the Mizpah benediction.

MEETING HELD BY CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Second Annual Convention of Catholic Women's League of Canada, Sherbrooke Diocese, Held Here on Saturday Under Patronage of His Lordship the Bishop of Sherbrooke, and Proved to Be Very Successful in Every Respect—Afternoon and Evening Sessions, With Several Social Gatherings.

The second annual convention of the Catholic Women's League, diocese of Sherbrooke, was held under the patronage of His Lordship, Bishop A. O. Gagnon, in the Knights of Columbus Hall, London Street, on Saturday last, and was in every respect an unqualified success. In point of attendance, enthusiasm and co-operation it far exceeded the first convention held last year, which is a source of great encouragement for the organizers.

Delegates from Richmond, Lennoxville, and Richmond junior subdivisions were present in goodly numbers.

The afternoon session opened at two o'clock, the diocesan president, Miss M. Mooney, being in the chair. After registration of delegates and visitors the opening prayer was said, followed by the presidential address, which bid welcome to all present, and set forth clearly the object of the convention, stating that by coming into closer contact one with the other, interchanging ideas and opinions, the aims and objects of the organization could be better accomplished and a greater amount of good done.

Correspondence exchanged during the year was read by Miss G. Mullins, secretary, also the treasurer's and secretary's reports, show-

Social And Personal

Mr. George Love, of Quebec, was in town over the week-end, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Papineau, Portland Avenue.

Captain J. A. Gauthier left Friday for Newburyport, Mass., where he was called by the sudden death of his uncle, Mr. Gene Gauthier.

Mr. and Mrs. Hadden Lyster, of Lyndonville, Vt., and New York City, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Foss, Bellevue Ave. They returned home today.

Miss Sarah Tansey, of Montreal, convener of organizations for the Catholic Women's League, was the guest of Mrs. D. J. Steele, Frontenac street, during her stay in the city.

Mrs. Frederick J. Schneider, of Atlantic City, and Mrs. H. W. Costello, of Philadelphia, visitors of Mrs. Joe Lightstone, are visiting here for a few days. Mr. Schneider is also a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lightstone.

Mrs. J. Coffey, National Treasurer of the Catholic Women's League, and Sister Egan, of the Sisters of Service, were in town attending the convention of the Catholic Women's League, and were guests at Mont Notre Dame during their stay.

Mrs. C. E. Bentley, Cambridge School, received two long distance telephone messages from her sons, yesterday, on the occasion of her birthday. One of the messages was from Dr. J. E. Bentley, American University, Washington, D.C., and the other from Rev. W. H. Bentley, of Denver, Colo. In each case every word was heard distinctly.

ing much progress since the last convention. Reports from the district subdivisions revealed an increasing membership in every case; greater activity and results in all lines of work sponsored by the league. These reports were all accepted as read.

The event of the afternoon was an inspiring talk by Miss Sara Tansey, of Montreal, National convener of Organizations for the East, who spoke on "Organization." Miss Tansey stated that the Catholic Church had always looked to women for certain phases of work within the church. Religious communities attested this, but there was much to outside the field of the religious world, in every walk of life, for the Catholic woman to do. She had always lent her assistance and co-operation individually, but with all good will and good heart it was not possible to thus obtain the same results as could be achieved by organization. Miss Tansey asserted that the Catholic Women's League was not a band of fussy reformers, and was far from advocating interference, but maintained that every Catholic woman could find therein scope for her talents and energies, embracing as it does, every phase of Catholic action. From the smallest local parish to the vast Canadian mission field in the West its interest in religion extends; education is one of its principal interests, and to further this, children are kept in school; prizes and scholarships awarded; social service and Child Welfare, which under different names have always been considered the particular province of women's work, is still dear to their hearts. There is no phase of this work of greatest solicitude on the part of the League, whether it be looking after the newly arrived immigrant at the hostels which now extend nearly from coast to coast. "Big Sister" work in the large cities. Convalescent homes, providing for the orphan or destitute, working always under the guidance and in co-operation with their bishops and pastors.

After adjournment of the afternoon session a pleasant interlude from business was an automobile drive around the city and to Lennoxville. At five o'clock there was Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at Mont Notre Dame, Rev. Father Gagnon, S.J., of Montreal, officiating. Rev. Canon E. C. Fiset, of St. Patrick's Church, was also present. This was followed by a tour of inspection of the convent and a reception by the Reverend Sisters, expressed appreciation of the visitors of the Reverend Sisters of the Convent, for their gracious invitation and kindness.

Dinner was served at the Chateau Frontenac, the Sherbrooke District subdivision being hostesses with Mrs. J. S. Mooney, convener. The menu and appointments were all that could be desired.

Evening Session Held.

The evening session convened at eight o'clock opening with the singing (continues on page 7)

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Harris, Long Island, are spending their vacation at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Farley, Champlain street.

Mrs. E. W. L. Page and children, Magog Street, left yesterday for Lakeport, N.H., where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Webster.

Mrs. Bertha Price has returned to the Daily Record office, and will assist in looking after the social news and news connected with women's organizations in the city. At the present time Mrs. Price will be at the office mornings and her desk phone number is 64.

A successful food sale and tea was held on Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of Trinity United Church. The tea room in the church hall looked most inviting with the tables nicely arranged and presided over by members of the Auxiliary. Mrs. J. H. Shorten and Mrs. L. Morehouse were in charge of the table of homemade delicacies, which found a ready sale. The visitors were received by the president, Mrs. L. Boudreau, and the tea was in charge of Mrs. F. A. Cutter and Mrs. Wm. Dobb, with Mrs. J. E. Cutts, Mrs. George Aubrey and other members assisting. Mrs. W. S. Lennon presided at the tea table, which had a center decoration of yellow baby clothes in a silver basket. The mums in a silver basket. The smaller tables had yellow candles. The attendance was good and the social afternoon was enjoyed by all.

Father Gagnon, S.J., from Loyola College, Montreal, was the guest of Rev. Canon Fiset while attending the convention of the Catholic Women's League held here on Saturday. The Junior Girls Club of St. Paul's Mission held its regular meeting Saturday afternoon in the Church Hall, with Miss Johnson and Thelma Butts as hostesses. In the absence of the president and vice-president, the meeting was opened with prayer by the leader, Mrs. S. Robinson. During business routine it was decided to have a Halloween party on Friday evening, November 2nd, for members and their friends, final arrangements to be made at the next meeting. It was also decided to hold the Xmas sale and tea on Saturday, November 17th, in the church hall. During the afternoon sewing for the sale was carried on by the members, and at the tea hour the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Johnson and Miss Payne. The next meeting will be held in the church hall on October 27th, with Pearl Loveland and Rhoda Oak as hostesses.

MASONS HELD MEETING HERE ON SATURDAY

Two Hundred Masons from Surrounding District Attended St. Francis District of Grand Lodge of Quebec—Interesting Programme Carried Out.

Two hundred Masons from the surrounding district were in the city on Saturday to attend the St. Francis District of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, A. F., and A. M., which was held in the Masonic Temple, Montreal Street, with Worshipful Brother J. McCallum, D. D. G. M., presiding.

After the preliminary business had been dispensed with, the District Deputy Grand Master called on Worshipful Brother Rev. Albert Jones, who gave an excellent address on the history, past and present, of Free-masonry, after which the District Grand Chaplain, the Right Worshipful Brother the Rev. A. W. Buckland gave a very practical address on one of the fundamental principles and symbols of Freemasonry. The Mason's grip, which meant so much to the individual Mason, namely, faith, fellowship, unity and service, was mentioned upon, Rev. Mr. Buckland speaking of the needs of these elements in the craft and stating that every true Mason should put these symbols into use every day.

The meeting, which was of a very successful nature, was attended by a number of representatives from the Grand Lodge of Quebec. Among these were: Rt. Wor. W. W. Couper, Rt. Wor. Bro. W. W. Williamson, Rt. Wor. Bro. J. Buckland, Rt. Wor. John Lomax, Rt. Wor. Bro. W. Eckart, Rt. Wor. Bro. Gus Harris, Rt. Wor. Bro. John Canavan, all of Montreal; and the Rt. Wor. Bro. A. W. Buckland, of Cookshire, District Grand Chaplain.

In the evening a very delightful supper was provided by the Queen Mary Chapter of the Eastern Star of Sherbrooke, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Following the supper the Harris family of Lennoxville gave a very much enjoyed entertainment, and later in the evening dancing was in order.

Two Hundred Masons from Surrounding District Attended St. Francis District of Grand Lodge of Quebec—Interesting Programme Carried Out.

Two hundred Masons from the surrounding district were in the city on Saturday to attend the St. Francis District of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, A. F., and A. M., which was held in the Masonic Temple, Montreal Street, with Worshipful Brother J. McCallum, D. D. G. M., presiding.

After the preliminary business had been dispensed with, the District Deputy Grand Master called on Worshipful Brother Rev. Albert Jones, who gave an excellent address on the history, past and present, of Free-masonry, after which the District Grand Chaplain, the Right Worshipful Brother the Rev. A. W. Buckland gave a very practical address on one of the fundamental principles and symbols of Freemasonry. The Mason's grip, which meant so much to the individual Mason, namely, faith, fellowship, unity and service, was mentioned upon, Rev. Mr. Buckland speaking of the needs of these elements in the craft and stating that every true Mason should put these symbols into use every day.

The meeting, which was of a very successful nature, was attended by a number of representatives from the Grand Lodge of Quebec. Among these were: Rt. Wor. W. W. Couper, Rt. Wor. Bro. W. W. Williamson, Rt. Wor. Bro. J. Buckland, Rt. Wor. John Lomax, Rt. Wor. Bro. W. Eckart, Rt. Wor. Bro. Gus Harris, Rt. Wor. Bro. John Canavan, all of Montreal; and the Rt. Wor. Bro. A. W. Buckland, of Cookshire, District Grand Chaplain.

DEATHS REPORTED

WILLIAM JOSEPH PIBUS, SOUTH BOLTON, QUE., Oct. 15.—Death has again visited this small village and taken William Joseph PIBUS to his eternal rest.

He was born near Bolton Glen, on a family of ten children of the late William PIBUS and his wife, Mary Ann Green, and only two brothers, John and George, survive him.

In 1880 he was married to Julia Randall, of South Bolton, of South Bolton, and after spending the first part of their married life in Bolton Pass, they came to this village, where his widow still resides. He has left four children, Mrs. Walter Knowlton, of Foster; Mrs. Geo. Burnham, South Bolton, and his daughter, Bertha, and son, George, who lived at home, helping their mother to give their father every possible care and attention, since he had his first shock nearly six years ago. Since then he has been confined to his room most of the time, where he was always glad to see the Women's Institute met Tuesday evening, October 9th, with Miss M. LeFebvre. A very excellent paper was given by Miss LeFebvre on silk and wool textiles, showing that Canadian made goods were second to none as the full fashioned silk hosiery made in Canada are the best on the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sharman and Helen, of Galsion, Mr. Reuben Sharman, Mrs. Beaton, and Miss Eva, of Birchton, spent Sunday, October 7th with Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Goodin.

Mrs. Everard Goodin attended the Bachelors Crossing on Wednesday.

any of his old friends or his faithful pastor Rev. N. P. Yates, B.A., who gave him Holy Communion for the last time, a few days before he started on his journey to Japan. The deceased never complained at being shut in but was ever looking forward to some change for the better in his condition.

This summer he gradually grew worse until the end, which came very peacefully on September 26.

Prayers were said at the house on September 28th, by Rev. Hagar, of Knowlton, assisted by Rev. Rollit, of Mansville, after which the remains were taken to the United Church in Knowlton, where Rev. Hagar spoke words of comfort to a large number of relatives and friends and were then laid to rest in the Wheeler burying ground beside his daughter, Rosa, (Mrs. W. Needham) who predeceased him two years ago.

The bearers were Messrs. John Burbank, Oliver Bracey, Fred Perkins and John Cameron.

The casket was covered with beautiful flowers showing the love of relatives and friends.

Mr. PIBUS was an honest, hard working Christian man, respected by all who knew him, a kind husband and father and a loyal friend. The sympathy of the community is extended to his bereaved family.

Among the relatives from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Blunt, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Farrell, Mrs. Geo. PIBUS and son, Reginald, and Mr. John PIBUS, of Knowlton; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Inglis and Mrs. Emma Hunter, of Foster; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hunter, of Mr. Alvin Hillhouse, of Bondville, and Mr. William Hillhouse, of Sherbrooke.

ASCOT SCHOOL HELD OPENING; PRIZES GIVEN

Large Number Present at Opening of Consolidated School—Addresses Given and Prizes Distributed.

On Tuesday evening, October 11th, the assembly room of the Ascot consolidated school was filled to its utmost capacity when parents and friends gathered to enjoy the excellent entertainment provided. O Canada was sung as an opening chorus, which was followed by the chairman's remarks.

In the absence of the chairman of the School Board, this position was ably filled by Mr. J. Marlin. Speaking optimistically of the chances of success for the school in spite of diminishing numbers, Mr. Marlin urged a close co-operation between teachers, pupils and parents.

An address given by Prof. Boothroyd, of Bishop's College, was much enjoyed by both old and young. History, whether Canadian, British, or ancient, as dealt with by Prof. Boothroyd, is no longer a dry recital of facts and dates but becomes alive and of the greatest interest to all.

Rev. F. R. Matthews was called on for a few remarks which he interspersed with witty stories. While deploring the fact that we are apparently educating our children cityward, Mr. Matthews spoke with confidence of the time when the pendulum would swing back again.

To excellent numbers were given by Dillon's Orchestra and responses were kindly given to the insistent demand for encores. A piano duet by Millicent and Stuart Marlin was well rendered as well as the recitations by Bernice McMullen and Cyril Winget.

The drill by the primary room showed Miss Foster's usual careful training. In the dialogue "Wanted a Wife," by the elementary room, Robert Robinson as the cross old bachelor met with many amusing experiences. In a dialogue by the older pupils, "Do You Believe in Luck?" many thrilling adventures were centered about the loss of an opal necklace.

The Frog Holler Orchestra, composed of "colored gentlemen" from the higher grades delighted the audience with their vocal and instrumental accomplishments as well as an exhibition of step dancing by one of their number.

Other choruses by the school were "The Land of Hope and Glory," and "The Cherry Song."

The report of the school was given by the principal, Miss Lane. The prizes were presented to the pupils by Prof. Boothroyd. Mrs. Wm. Pearson acted as pianist thus assisting the teachers in making the evening a success. A vote of thanks was tendered Prof. Boothroyd for his presence and help.

The prize list was:

Highest percent Grade X, donated by Miss Matthews, won by Ursula Boyer.

Highest percent Grade IX, donated by Miss Matthews, won by Richard Winget.

Highest percent French, Grades IX, X, XI, donated by Miss Matthews, won by Gladys Byrne.

Highest percent history, Grades X, XI, donated by Mrs. Ashe, won by Ursula Boyer.

Mathematics Grades IX, X, XI, donated by A.Y.P.C., won by Hugh Woodward.

Science, Grades X, XI, donated by A.W.I., won by Frances Lipsey.

Greatest improvement percentage from Easter, Grades IX, X, XI, donated by Miss Matthews, won by Frances Lipsey.

Latin, Grade IX, donated by Mrs. Byrne, won by Gladys Byrne.

Prizes.

CONVENTION OF TEACHERS

a newspaper editorial. Recommendations sent on from the sectional conferences were presented by T. M. Dick. The motion rising out of the report of the committee on the status of teachers, that Roman Catholics be excluded from the School for Teachers at Macdonald College, was defeated. It was pointed out in the discussion that the motive of the resolution had merely been the avoiding of complications in later appointment of teachers, and in proof of the fact that bigotry was not the basis a member stated that a plan of exchange of Protestant and Roman Catholic teachers had been mooted by individual members of the committee. The motion was finally voted down on presentation of the view that it was unnecessary, and might convey a wrong impression. Another motion of the same committee that pupils without the school leaving certificate should not be admitted to the intermediate class at the School for Teachers, was also voted down, following individual expression of confidence in the present powers of the Protestant Central Board of Examiners.

Miss Mabel Fraser reported for the committee on resolutions. Following the report of the scrutineers, C. N. Crutchfield, retiring president, gave the chair to the new president, R. P. Bissell. The officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, R. P. Bissell; vice-presidents, Miss J. F. Baillie, Miss J. M. Norris; recording secretary, Miss D. I. Dickson; corresponding secretary, G. E. Dryburgh; treasurer, O. R. Rexford; pension commissioners, M. C. Hopkins, Dean Sinclair Laird; representative of Protestant committee, C. A. Adams; executive committee, L. J. Gamble, T. M. Dick, Dr. I. Gamble, Miss M. Hadfield, A. W. Lang, Miss Hazel Murchison; rest of province, Miss Alice Dwyer, Miss F. I. Drummond, Miss Mabel Fraser, E. S. Oles, C. McBurney, Inspector McQuinn, C. H. Savage.

SPORTING NOTES

CAPABLANCA DEFEATED MARSHALL

(Associated Press Despatch) BERLIN, Oct. 15.—Jose Capablanca, of Cuba, and Rubinstein, of Poland, were the winners in yesterday's fourth round play of the International Chess Masters' Tournament. Dr. Tarrasche, of Germany, was obliged to retire from the competition because of illness. His three games were ordered cancelled. Summaries: First board, Rubinstein, Poland, defeated Nimzowitch, Denmark. Second board—Tarasch France, drew with Spielmann, Austria in an evenly contested match. Third board—Marshall, United States, lost to Capablanca, Cuba, who won a pawn and thereby the game. Reti, Czechoslovakia, had a bye.

(Canadian Press Despatch) LONDON, Oct. 15.—Rugby Union games played over the week-end and reported today resulted as follows: Catfordbridge 17; Nuneaton 6. St.

FRENCH STEAMER WAS ATTACKED BY PIRATES.

(Associated Press Despatch) SHANGHAI, Oct. 15.—The French steamer Tungshen, which broke down on the Yangtze River in the vicinity of Fow Chow, was attacked today by pirates. The pilot was wounded, the captain was made a prisoner, taken ashore and later released.

The British steamship Wang Tung, with Sir Frederick Whyte, author and editor, and Lady Whyte, aboard, was fired on in the Yangtze gorges by pirates.

DIRIGIBLE LOS ANGELES IS READY TO ASSIST

(Associated Press Despatch) NAVAL AIR STATION, Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 15.—The transatlantic dirigible Graf Zeppelin was officially expected, barring untoward eventualities, to arrive here from Germany today, four years to the day since its small sister the Los Angeles floated in from the same starting point.

On October 15, 1924, the Los Angeles dropped down into this country after an uneventful flight across the seas. And today, gas-filled and ready for the air, it was in condition, should conditions warrant, to offer assistance to the new-comer, flying its tortuous way to land.

Naval officials on the basis of the report that the was only sixty miles off Hatteras figured that the big dirigible was 280 miles from Lakehurst on an air line.

MEETING HELD BY CATHOLICS

(Continued from page 5) Greetings and a cordial welcome were extended to all by the president who at the same time expressed sorrow at a last minute message received from His Lordship the Bishop regretting his inability to be present owing to a sudden indisposition and conveying best wishes for the success of the convention.

Sister Egan, connected with the hostel conducted by the Sisters of Service, Montreal, outlined the work of their order in Canada, in the west, at the ports, and in the hospitals, showing that it was not only essential to give the immigrant girl a warm welcome one her arrival in this country but also the necessity of providing a good home. This is where the hostel comes in for not only is shelter and food given here but amusements, entertainments and companionship is provided, so that the sting of separation and loneliness be somewhat lessened.

Father Gasson, S.J., of Montreal, always gives Sherbrooke audiences an intellectual treat and this was no exception. On this occasion the speaker chose as his topic "Education" and laid particular stress on higher education, urging with the members of the C.W.L. to give their special attention to this matter. Father Gasson cited appalling statistics which showed the very small chance of succeeding in life which the uneducated or under-educated child has as against the one who is afforded the opportunity of a high school or college education. He pleaded with parents that every child of normal talents be allowed at least the opportunity of a high school education, and not to withdraw them from school for the sake of adding a few dollars to the family coffers, adding that in years to come these children would have the right to reproach them when owing to their lack of education they would be forced to let pass opportunities open to the educated.

Mrs. Coffey, of Montreal, National Treasurer, briefly addressed the gathering, congratulating the Sherbrooke subdivision upon the success of its convention and on the progress made in the different district subdivisions.

Mrs. D. J. Steele, convener of resolutions, reported that her committee, after due consideration, endorsed the resolutions adopted at the National Convention in Calgary, embracing protests against divorce, immorality in dress and indecent literature, it added resolutions of loyalty to the bishop and clergy, also to national president and officers.

What might perhaps have been the monotony of a certain sameness was relieved during the course of the evening by delightful musical selections from Misses Irene Olivier and Eileen McWilliams and a vocal solo by Miss Betty Steele in her usual good voice and charming manner. Mrs. E. E. Codere added to the success of the evening by taking charge of the musical programme and acting as accompanist.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. H. Veilleux to Rev. Father Gasson, S.J.; Miss Tansey, Mrs. Coffey, and Sister Egan, also to the Knights of Columbus, and to all who in any way had contributed to the success of the evening.

Before adjournment the retiring president and secretary were presented with beautiful flowers as an expression of appreciation from the officers and members. The present officers not being eligible for re-election on account of having completed a second term an entire new slate was elected: president, Mrs. A. J. Hudson, Richmond; past-president, Miss M. Mooney, Sherbrooke; first vice-president, Mrs. D. J. Steele, Sherbrooke; second vice-president, Miss E. Duquet, Richmond; third vice-president, Mrs. B. A. Brooks, Lennoxville; secretary, Miss G. Bedard, Richmond; treasurer, Mrs. H. Veilleux, Sherbrooke.
