ROYAL GEORGE IS ICE COATED

Made Twelve-Day Trip From Southampton to Port of Halifax

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 20.—(By Can. Press)—Coated with ice, the steamer Royal George of the Cunard fleet, steamed into Halifax harbor today, completing a twelve day trip from Southampton. On board were about one hundred passengers to land here, and after taking on several hundred tons of coal, the steamer will leave tomorrow for New York. The passage from Southampton was a stormy one, and delayed the steamer several days. Heavy weather was encountered all the way across the Atlantic, but the steamer came through safely. The Royal George did not pick up any of the Powhattan's messages until she neared this port, and they were to the effect that the destroyers had arrived on the scene. The Powhattan was considerably south of the route taken by the Royal George.

On board the Royal George were about 500 passengers, all except 100 being bound to New York. There was a British Ministry of Shipping party on board, numbering 22, who are bound to the East and will land here tomorrow enroute to Seattle.

Among the returning Canadian officers were three officers who have been connected with the Camberly Staff College. They were Lieutenant Colonel G. R. Pearkes, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., of Calgary; Lieutenant Colonel K. M. Perry, D.S.O., Winnipeg; and Lieutenant Colonel R. O. Alexander, D.S.O., Montreal.

On Friday last the death occurred on board of Captain D. McDonald Ford, of the C.A.M.C., who was taken suddenly ill and passed away despite every attention. He belonged to Portneuf, Quebec, and was attached to the conducting staff. His body was buried at sea.

Among the passengers for New York is a party of girls, numbering sixteen, who have been touring the battlefields under the auspices of a New York paper.

FRUSTRATION OF BOMB OUTRAGE

Eighteen Members of Russian
Workers Arrested—Much
Bomb Material Found

New York, N.Y., Jan. 20.—A plot for wholesale assassinations by the distribution of bombs next May Day or 4th of July, believed by the police to have been frustrated by the arrest in two raids yesterday of 18 extremists, said to be members of the Union of Russian Workers.

Public officials, prominent citizens, agents of the Department of Justice and police were to be included in the "bomb list" of proposed victims, it is asserted. The police think the bombs were to have been sent by express or hurried by fanatics. Material for use in the manufacture of bombs, including those of the pipe variety, was found.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS IN SEATTLE CITY

Officials Corralled Over Seven Hundred Persons on Deportation Warrants

Seattle, Wn., Jan. 20.—Department of Justice agents and Seattle police last night arrested more than 700 persons on deportation warrants. Officials said the raids were intended to "break the backbone of radical activities in the northwest", and were part of a new national campaign against reds.

Many of the men taken were released after examination at the United States Immigration Detention Station but officers said they expected at least 200 suspects would face deportation hearings.

A number of I.W.W. were included among those arrested.

CENTRAL Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION

Dominion Delegates in Attendance Past and Future
Work and Reports

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 20.—The third convention of the Canadian Y. M. C. A. opened at the Central Y. M. C. A. this afternoon, when some 150 delegates from all parts of the Dominion were in attendance.

This afternoon's session addressed was delivered by Rev. C. C. Pidgeon, D.D. The retiring President, J. A. MacAdoo, of Ottawa, presided. The feature was the report of the National Council, delivered by G. G. Wood. The report showed that there had been a slight falling away of membership, due to the war, there being 41,594 members of all associations, compared with 46,798 in 1914. Military service expenditures (1918) totaled $3,628,096.14. There are now 54 city associations, compared with 59 before the war.

The student department, which had suffered during the war, regained its former condition as soon as the armistice had been signed, and now the registration exceeds previous records. During 1917-18, the students contributed $10,000 to the prisoners of war fund.

Industrial work, a comparatively new venture for the Y. M. C. A. in Canada, has met with much success, and there is every prospect of it developing into an important branch. Much attention has also been given to boys' work.

"Twelve red triangle clubs," states the report, "will be operated until the spring or summer of 1920, at which time some of them may be taken over locally by the associations for civilian work. The hospital work will be continued through 1920, and as far as necessary through 1921."

It was in 1918 that the maximum financial efforts were made. During this year the National Council handled approximately $10,000,000, of which 98 and one-half per cent. was in connection with military work.

Referring to the campaign of 1919, which was run in connection with the Y. W. C. A., it was stated that the objective was placed at $1,100,000. Only $525,000 was subscribed. The speaker said that the Canadian associations would turn their attention to military work in peace time.

The financial statement showed that regular work for 1919 amounted to: Receipts, $150,615.80; expenditures, $150,615.80; war work receipts, $3,817,018.76 and expenditures, $3,628,096.14.

COMPILING OF THE DEBRETTE NEW EDITION

Recording of Honors Conferred
Has Been Successfully Accomplished

London, Jan. 4.—(By mail, Canadian Press)—In the new edition of "Debrett", the existing task of recording all the honors conferred in the past year has been successfully accomplished, and the book now numbers 1,935 pages.

"The year's honors," it is stated in the preface, "have reached the huge total of over 4,000. It is a record of the past year has been successfully accomplished, and the book now numbers 1,935 pages."

It is added that this total "is exclusive of innumerable promotions as well as thousands of appointments to the lower classes of the British Empire Order."

It appears that 23 peerages have been created; 21 members have been sworn of the Privy Council; the unprecedented large number of 51 names have been added to the roll of baronets; 477 individuals have received the honor of knighthood or become dames grand cross or dames companion, down to and including M. V.O.'s (fourth class) in the scale of precedence, have been appointed to the various orders.

The surprising increase in honors is illustrated by a list of "creations" from 1895 to 1919. In 1895 the total was only 226. This year it is 4,009.

THE SUPREME COUNCIL HAS DISAPPEARED

Disbanded Without Reaching
Settlement of the Adriatic
Question

SITUATION IS TENSE

Italian Premier Stands By
His Ultimatum to the Jugo-
Slavs

Paris, Jan. 20.—(By The Associated Press)—With the disbanding tonight of the Supreme Council without a settlement of the Adriatic question, Signor Nitti, the Italian Premier, declared that he stood by his ultimatum, that if the Jugo-Slavs did not accept Italy's terms tonight, he would withdraw his compromise offer and that Italy will demand that France and Great Britain execute purely and simply the treaty of London of April, 1915.

Prior to the breaking up of the Council, the Jugo-Slav reply to Italy's demands had been presented. Signor Nitti declared that the terms were unacceptable. The note said that it constituted "the Supreme effort" of Jugo-Slavia to bring about an agreement with Italy. This fact, taken in connection with Premier Nitti's statement apparently leaves the situation a tense one.

The Jugo-Slavs tonight submitted to the Supreme Council their "supreme effort" in the way of concessions to effect an agreement with Italy. The Jugo-Slavs accept internationalization under the League of Nations for Fiume and Zara, concede to Italy the islands of Lussin, and Pelagos and agree to the demilitarization of the Adriatic islands with the condition that the island of Lissa remain Jugo-Slav.

The right of the Italians in Dalmatia to choose Italian nationality without leaving Jugo-Slavia is recognized by the Jugo-Slavs, who also agree that Italian national rights in Dalmatian industries shall be guaranteed by an international convention.

They refuse to make any alteration of the line drawn by President Wilson.

The note says the desire of the Albanians for independence will be respected, but if necessary the Jugo-Slavs will accept all the proposals. Signor Nitti, the Italian Premier, left this evening for Rome and David Lloyd George, the British Prime Minister, will depart for England tomorrow morning.

M. Clemenceau indicated this evening that he would turn over the affairs of the Council tomorrow.

Britain's Inability.
The Council this afternoon held a further discussion of Great Britain's announcement of her inability to send her quota of troops into the plebiscite areas. The discussion resulted in the British offering to send naval detachments to Memel and Danzig.

During the session Premier Lloyd George, Premier Nitti, Hugh C. Wallace, the United States Ambassador, and Baron Macdonald, the Japanese Ambassador, exchanged M. Clemenceau in brief formal farewell addresses.

No definite arrangements were made by the Council before disbanding for turning over the Turkish Adriatic and other problems to other hands, but it was indicated that the proposed conference of ambassadors would be empowered shortly to continue this work.

Before receipt today of the Jugo-Slav answer with regard to the proposed solution of the Adriatic question, it was announced at British headquarters that Premier Lloyd George and others of the British Mission in Paris would leave the French capital Wednesday morning. It was said today that the French peace delegates, including M. Clemenceau, would resign immediately.

Clemenceau Praised.
Before the Council was finally adjourned, David Lloyd George asked that the following statement be entered upon the minutes of the Council:

"Conscious of the inestimable services which Monsieur Georges Clemenceau has rendered during more than a year of the Peace Conference, has rendered the cause of peace, and grateful to him as we are, for the dignity, impartiality and wisdom with which he has conducted our deliberations, we, his colleagues, desire to express to him our unalloyed esteem, as well as our hope that in the calm of his retirement he may live long enough to see his incomparable work bear fruit for the glory of France and the renewal of the prosperity of the world."

M. Clemenceau in thanking the Council for its expressions of esteem said:

"If Great Britain, the United States, Italy and Japan remain united, there is a guarantee of peace which exceeds all those guarantees which can be put on paper. If one day these nations are separated, I dare not think of the misfortunes which may result."

"I have been sometimes reproached for making too many concessions. The same reproach has been made against other heads of governments, but I am calm in the knowledge, as I am sure you all are, of never having been guided in the expression of my opinions or in the conclusions we have reached except by the single idea that the nations who shed so much blood had the right first of all, to have their national claims

RESCUE STEAMER ABANDONED TOW

Bardic Fouled Propeller With Steel Hawser While Salv-
ing Powhattan

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 20.—(By Can. Press)—Radio picked up here tonight says that the White Star liner Bardic is heading for Halifax with propeller disabled. The steel hawser which she passed to the Army Transport Powhattan became fouled in the propeller.

The message reads: "Steamer Bardic, after coming upon the Powhattan for tow, fouled port propeller with steel hawser, therefore, had to abandon and proceed to Halifax on one engine, to have propeller cleared and examined."

The White Star Liner Bardic succeeded late this afternoon in getting a line aboard the American army transport Powhattan in distress off Sable Island and started to tow her to port.

The Dominion Government steamer Lady Laurier, sailed at 5:15 o'clock this afternoon to the assistance of the American transport Powhattan, equipped with two new hawsers for the purpose of helping her to reach port. Previously the Laurier had attempted to land supplies on the lighthouse off Halifax harbor but was prevented from doing so by the heavy sea running.

Western Comet Next.

New York, N.Y., Jan. 20.—A radio message received by the Army Transport Service here tonight, indicated the Powhattan was about 225 miles south of Halifax in tow of the steamship Western Comet, headed for Halifax. It stated that the 271 passengers would be transferred from the Powhattan to the Army Transport Northern Pacific tomorrow morning. The Northern Pacific is expected to arrive in New York, Thursday.

The Navy destroyers Sharkey and Leary, are standing by, the message said, and the Canadian Government steamship Lady Laurier, has put out from Halifax, to help tow in the disabled transport. It was reported that the weather was moderating.

Sharkey Alongside

Boston, Mass., Jan. 20.—Radio messages received here tonight reported the arrival of the destroyer Sharkey alongside the disabled transport Powhattan. The message said that the steamer Northern Pacific would take off the passengers and that the Western Comet would tow the Powhattan to Halifax.

satisfied, and then to have these claims reconciled each to the other and embodied in one great peace inspired by common interest."

In conclusion, M. Clemenceau said: "I shall not lose sight of the peace we are completing and shall continue to follow its progress until my last breath. I shall try by all good wishes, at least, to do all in my power for the solidity of that peace, for, indeed, if by misfortune, the elements of discord should arise among you, how terrible the thought that the best blood of the civilized world, the blood of our soldiers should be shed in vain for hopes that would not be realized."

"I won't believe that such an eventuality is possible. I know the sentiments of my friend, M. Millerand. I know that he, as I, is convinced that an alliance for a lasting understanding must be maintained between all the peoples represented here."

After shaking hands warmly with all those present, M. Clemenceau with tears in his eyes left forever the Foreign Minister's private office, where daily for more than a year he has toiled for the greatness of his country and the peace of the world.

LONDON FINDS SILVER LINING TO IRISH CLOUD

South is Not Solid Sinn Fein
Nor Is the North Solid
Unionist

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

Prospects Brighter For Unified Ireland Under Home
Rule Bill

London, Jan. 20.—(By The Associated Press)—While the Sinn Fein is celebrating what is called a victory in the Irish municipal elections, official circles in London profess to find in the election returns an element which makes the prospects brighter for a unified Ireland under the proposed Home Rule bill. This element is said to lie in the fact that the voting showed neither southern Ireland to be solid Sinn Fein nor Northern Ireland solid Unionist.

Neither the Sinn Feiners nor Unionists appear to have gained a majority of the total seats in their respective strongholds. Therefore, it is claimed that since the sections are mixed there is much more chance for them to come together quickly under one parliament as proposed by Premier Lloyd George in his recent speech in the House of Commons.

While there are a few districts still to be heard from, it would appear from available figures that the Sinn Fein has captured approximately thirty per cent of the seats and the Unionist Party twenty per cent, while Labor came strong to the front with seventeen per cent, and the Nationalists have again come to life and won fourteen per cent. The other seats are scattered among independents and reformers. This is the first time that the voice of all of the people of Ireland has been heard in elections, which was made possible by the new proportional representation measures.

In the last general elections the Sinn Fein captured 73 of the 105 parliamentary seats, thereby virtually sweeping the country.

The Daily News said editorially today:

"In these municipal elections not only has Labor secured many seats, but Nationalism has once more asserted itself as a formidable fighting body. In part that is no doubt due to real reaction against the Sinn Fein and insofar as that is the case, it is welcome evidence that the body of moderate opinion is growing up again, to which an appeal can hopefully be made to join in the work of assuring Irish self-government on a sound basis, without violence and without impracticable fanaticism."

There has been some newspaper talk about the Sinn Fein and Labor combining in Ireland against the Home Rule bill. Irrespective of what might happen—and there is a wide divergence of opinion on the subject—it is interesting to note that Labor and the Sinn Fein together control just a shade under half the municipal seats of the country, basing the figures on the available returns for the present elections. The Unionists and all the others total about the same percentage. However, the reformers and independents are an unknown quantity, and it is hard to say how they view Home Rule.

DEVELOPING HERDS IN NORTH COUNTRY

Explorer Stefanssen Urges
Utilizing of Musk-Ox and Reindeer for Meat

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 20.—(By Canadian Press)—The possibilities of utilizing musk-ox and reindeer herds to make the Canadian North a permanent meat and wool producing area will be taken up by a commission which meets in Ottawa for its first sitting on Sunday next. Vilhjalmur Stefanssen, the explorer, is convinced that the musk-ox can be readily domesticated and has urged upon the Government that steps be taken to develop herds in the north country.

DEFENSE MAKES TWO MOTIONS

Would Postpone Winnipeg
Trial Indefinitely and Challenge Entire Jury Panels

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 20.—Two motions were made when the second session of the Criminal Assizes opened today in order that the trial of the seven remaining strike leaders could be prepared. These were made by Ward Holland and E. J. McMurray, two of the counsel for the defence and were motions to (1) postpone the trial indefinitely because of the fact that the general public were prejudiced to the accused and it would be impossible to get a fair trial; and (2) to challenge the entire jury panel on grounds that the sheriff had wilfully misconducted himself in making known the jury list before the opening of the Assizes; that the sheriff did not take the name from the jurors' list in the way provided for in the Jury Act, and other minor reasons.

The first motion was dismissed by Mr. Justice Metcalfe, and the counsel for the defence were informed that before the second one would be taken up the court would have to have before it proper documents setting out the charges. It was announced before the adjournment that the accused, Ivens, Pritchard, Queen and Heaps were representing themselves; I. A. Bonnar, K.C., appeared for A. Bray; E. J. McMurray for George Armstrong and Ward Holland for J. John.

The court was adjourned without the selection of a jury being commenced.

Aberdeen on Trial for Rioting on Street

Yarmouth, N.S., Jan. 20.—Three members of the crew of the Government steamer Aberdeen were placed on trial here today, charged with creating a disturbance Saturday night, when assisted by members of the crew of the Dominion Government steamer Laurentide and armed with belaying pins they took possession of several streets in the centre of the town and proceeded to beat up any person who might pass along. Two of the Laurentide's crew pleaded guilty to the charge yesterday and were fined. The Aberdeen sailors pleaded not guilty and were remanded for trial today.

The Weather.

GOOD-ROADS ARE VERY IMPORTANT

Helped Win for France by Enabling Transport of Troops for Paris Relief

New York, Jan. 20.—"Roads—not kings or presidents—rule nations." Roads influence more than any other single factor the future, not only of nations, but states, countries and all political subdivisions. A nation makes progress only as it provides free intercourse among its people and develops its industries and arts. Roads can reach where railroads and canals do not go.

Even the military defense of a nation stands firm or crumbles as its highways equal the tests of the war or fail to meet them. France recognized this when she awarded the Croix de Guerre to a group of motor truck drivers. The drivers would not have brought the needed supplies and men to the battlefield if the roads had not been staunch beneath their trucks.

Someone said when the world war broke that it was the highways of France against the railways of Germany. History records that the highways won.

Highways helped win for France when they made possible the rushing of 35,000 troops in motor trucks and buses to defend Paris, when von Kluck's army made its greatest invasion in 1914, and the highways helped win again, in the battle of Verdun, when a single road only 35 miles long stood up under constant pounding of thousands of trucks hurrying along with munitions and men after the railroads had become useless. These are sensational instances only; throughout the four years of warfare on French soil the roads were vital to the cause of the Allies.

The wonderful mountain roads of Italy played a great part in the final triumph of that nation's defenders.

In America, although the fighting front was across an ocean and three thousand miles away, it was the lack of sturdy highways that the Allies felt most. When the railway systems became inadequate to handle the great stream of material and munitions going constantly to the Atlantic coast for shipping to the firing line, the United States called on its motor trucks. But great as was the service of the trucks, they could have been of even greater value if the nation had had the foresight to build numerous trunk lines of highways which would have been equal to the strain of modern traffic.

Now, in working out their program of world-wide activity in good roads building, the nations build for advantages of social and economic improvement to be derived, but greater military security is an additional even unintended advantage.

The chief points of strategic value in a nation are usually also the chief points of economic importance, and while constructing highways to transport food and merchandise and human travel, the builders need not lose sight of the fact that in the hour of need these same highways might repel an invader by transporting cannon and shells and troops.

The annals of the world give the places of honor to the roads of modern France and of ancient Rome. Both systems were founded for military reasons largely.

Starting with the Appian Way, which was begun about 315 B. C., Rome extended the scheme of military roads until she had radiating from the Imperial City when she reached her greatest glory under Augustus. These roads were to every part of the far flung empire and their total length is said to have been 50,000 miles. Their most important purpose, in the view of their builders, was for the coming and going of armies and the transportation of tribute from conquered lands.

As she rose to triumph with the construction and maintenance of great highways, Rome also fell as the conditions which permitted the neglect of her roads also caused the decay of her Imperial power.

Many of the roads of what is now France were laid down by Roman armies, and they were so well constructed that after many centuries of disuse and neglect they became the basis of new roads which, with the maintenance which is now assured, promises to last for all time.

It was the ambition of Napoleon that brought France's present highway system into being. He required good roads for the rapid maneuvering of his armies and, of course, also for the peaceful progress of his people. Napoleon perfected an administrative system to maintain the network of roads which he constructed along the line of the latest and most approved plans.

France gives the rest of the world a lesson with the method of supervision by which she keeps her highways in perfect condition. One of the leading technical schools of the world is her School of Roads and Bridges, whose graduates are chosen as highway engineers.

CABLING FIFTY YEARS AGO.

The enormous mass of matter which is being cabled from Paris may recall to some old newspaper men the difficulties with which the work was accomplished fifty years ago. For one thing the rate was then a sovereign—$5—a word, and the gentleman presiding over the London end of the Anglo-American Telegraph company was an autocrat who did not much believe in special facilities for the press, and among other things exacted that the word "London"—representing a sovereign—should be added to the signature in each case. "You approach his office," it was written, "as you would approach a shrine, a temple of some far-off deity," and when press messages were allowed to go at a reduced rate he imposed a code under which he dealt with them as he chose, which meant that there was no knowing how or when they would be despatched.

LEADING SHOE MANUFACTURER EXPOSES FALSEHOOD OF
FARMERS' TARIFF PROPAGANDA

Mr. J. D. Palmer Impresses Necessity of National Advertising Campaign to Educate Canadian Public During Big Convention Here Yesterday

The Boot and Shoe Manufacturers of the Dominion of Canada, now holding their annual convention at the Chateau Frontenac, this city, attended by some one hundred and fifty delegates from the various shoe manufacturing centres of Canada.

The convention was called to order for business yesterday morning in the Summer tea room of the Chateau by Mr. H. V. Gale, the President of the Manufacturers' Association of Quebec, who welcomed the delegates, and expressed the pleasure of seeing so many members of the Association present, especially those who journeyed from the farthest points East and West to attend. He hoped that the benefits they would achieve, as well as the pleasure that would be afforded them, would amply repay them for the short while they were absent from their homes and businesses. He said that the industry has never been in a more flourishing condition. Everybody is operating to full capacity and will continue for months to come.

Mayor Welcomes Delegates.

His Worship Mayor Lavigne was present at the opening of the convention and welcomed the delegates in the name of the citizens of Quebec, and in the course of his remarks said it was in Quebec that the great industry was born by the preparation of leathers which began in the pioneer days of the colony.

Mr. F. S. Scott, General President of the Association expressed the thanks of the Association to Mayor Lavigne and Mr. H. V. Gale for the warm welcome extended to the members of the Association, and expressed the pleasure it gave the delegates to meet in the Ancient Capital, and then declared the Convention opened for business.

Mr. J. Daoust gave an interesting account of the work done by the Committee looking after the teaching of the boot and shoe trade in the Technical Schools.

On motion of Mr. Joseph Tanguay a committee was appointed to discuss the advisability of creating a permanent sub-committee in all cities where there are Technical Schools, to look after the proper training of those desirous to learn the trade.

The following gentlemen were named as members of the committee in question: Messrs. A. Lambert, J. Daoust, Dufresne, Samson, Gale, Walker, Marshall and Brandon.

Afternoon Session.

The Convention reconvened at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when an address on the essentials of the trade was delivered by the President Mr. Scott, followed by detail business, the election of officers, and a very interesting address read by Mr. J. D. Palmer of the Hart Boot and Shoe Co., of Fredericton, on the subject of a National Advertising Campaign in Canada.

Election of Officers.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: Hon. President—Messrs. Geo. A. Slater, and A. Brandon, Brampton, Ont.; G. W. MacFarland, Brantford, Ont.; G. M. Ainsley, Perth, Ont.; G. S. Coxson and G. A. Blackford, Toronto, Ont.; Secy. Treasurer, Henri Viau, Montreal.

Hon. Chairman of Executive Committee, A. Brandon; Chairman, G. W. MacFarland; Vice-Chairman, G. W. Ainsley.

After the election of officers the chairman called on Mr. J. D. Palmer to deliver his address on the question of a National Advertising Campaign, who spoke as follows:

Mr. Palmer's Address.

Mr. President and Gentlemen:—

I think it is very fitting indeed that, what one might call the first Annual Meeting of this National Organization of Shoe Manufacturers of Canada, should be held in this grand old historic City of Quebec. One might say that this is really our first Annual Meeting, as the previous meeting that was held about

Ottawa about April last at which this matter was referred to and of certain criticism which had been made by some speakers in the Dominion House of Parliament during the last Session, with regard to tariff matters, in which shoes were mentioned particularly.

In order to enlighten the Public concerning the matter of profits that are being made by the Shoe Manufacturers of Canada, we passed a Resolution in which we invited the Canadian Council of Agriculture of Winnipeg to send representatives to look into the question of the profits made by the Shoe Manufacturers and we promised to give them every assistance and courtesy in looking into this matter.

Mr. Palmer, then read the correspondence that passed between the Executive of our Association and the Secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, Winnipeg.

Not in Politics.

I desire to impress upon you Mr. President and Gentlemen, that I am in politics, and have no desire to be, and therefore I wish you to treat my remarks concerning The Farmers' Platform's reference to the Shoe Industry in a purely business way.

You will not Mr. MacKenzie states that they based their contention on the Statistics Census Returns 1911. I find on looking up the Census Returns of 1911 that the Shoe Industry "included not only manufacturers of boots and shoes, but also of rubbers, and any other kind of footwear." The figures they gave were as follows:

Cost of Materials used, $18,507,535.00
Employees' Wages .. 6,542,347.00
Employees' Salaries .. 1,158,986.00
Total	$26,208,868.00

Whereas the selling value of the product was given as $33,987,248.00. You will note the above three items added together amount to $26,208,868.00. The difference between this total and the selling price of the product as above is $7,778,380.00.

I find, The Farmers' Platform states in their article on page 13, that the Shoe Manufacturers made a profit of $10,171,893.00.—The way they arrive at that amount of profit is by calculating 30 per cent on the total output.

Less the Exports	$3,987,248.00

Or 30 per cent on ... $33,987,248.00

You will note that they state that the Shoe Manufacturers made a profit of over $10,000,000.00 on the year's transaction but as I have outlined above you will notice the difference between the cost of the materials, wages and salaries, added together, and the selling value of the product was only $7,778,380.00, so therefore, even taking their own basis of argument for it, they have deliberately misrepresented the figures given in the Census of Industry. But when we go into the matter further, we find that the Census of Industry, figures for 1911, do not cover items of expense such as rental of offices or works, cost of power and heating, insurance, taxes, royalties, advertising, travelling and selling expenses, repairs, depreciation, interest and many other items of overhead that would not be covered in the three above mentioned classes, viz: Cost of materials, wages and salaries, so that this $7,778,380.00 would be very largely wiped out, when the above additional items of expense or cost of production are considered.

Let me give you an example of a shoe manufacturing business that I am very familiar with for the year 1918. The above mentioned items of expense which were not taken into consideration in the Census of Industry 1911 when added together, would amount to $6,847,787.95 leaving a difference of $933,593.00 for profit or slightly less than 3 per cent on the total turnover or output of the business. Surely not a very extravagant or exorbitant profit Mr. President.

Ridiculous Conclusion.

One can see at a glance how absolutely foolish and ridiculous is the conclusion arrived at in The Farmers' Platform regarding the Shoe Industry. But it is Mr. President, very largely owing to the spreading of false doctrines of this kind, that the Shoe Industry is being carried on this educational campaign of advertising. And it would almost look as if they were cognizant of the fact, that they were misrepresenting the industry when they did not accept our invitation to send a representative to look into the profits that are being made by the Shoe Manufacturers. One would think that the least they might have done, since that time, in view of our invitation to them to investigate, would have been to discontinue the spreading of this false information, but I might point out to you, that since that time Mr. Crerar, one of the prominent leaders of low tariff, or Farmers' Party has been stumping Canada and in practically every speech that he makes he refers to the Shoe Industry. For instance, when speaking in Woodstock, N.B., on December 19, he made the following statement:

"Taking shoes as an instance" he said: "there is a tariff of from 30 per cent to 40 per cent on this article, which meant a Canadian Manufacturer could add $1.05 to the cost of a pair of shoes which could be produced for $2.00 at the factory, and could still be able to compete with those coming into the Country."

He also made similar statements in an address that he made in Nova Scotia a day or so later and practically so on, all over the Country. The inference would be that the average man from that statement that the shoe manufacturer is adding 30 per cent to 40 per cent to his regular profit.

You will note he says, 30 per cent to 40 per cent duty, while the general tariff at that time and now, is either 25 per cent or 30 per cent divided as follows, viz:—25 per cent on boots and shoes pegged or wire

DRURY RUNS IN
HALTON COUNTYDoherty Chooses East Kent
—Raney Will Wait Awhile
Longer

Toronto, January 20.—Premier C. F. Drury is to run in Halton County, and Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, is to run in East Kent. Hon. W. E. Raney, Attorney-General, is to wait a while longer before a prospective seat is selected for him. This is the gist of an official announcement made here to-night by Hon. R. H. Grant, Minister of Education, in the Drury Government. The nominations in the two bye-elections are to be held on February 2nd, and the elections a week later. Writes for the bye-elections in Halton County and East Kent will be issued immediately. In Halton County, John F. Ford, the U. F. O. member-elect, has resigned in order to give the Premier an opportunity to obtain a seat in the Legislature. The East Kent seat is thrown open by the resignation of J. B. Clark, U. F. O. member. Mr. Ford, the retiring member, won the seat in the Provincial general election on October 20th, in a three-cornered contest, with a majority of about 250. Formerly Halton was considered a Conservative riding.

East Kent was won by J. R. Clark, on October 20th, by a majority of about 1,300. His opponent was J. N. Mowbray, a Liberal.

In an interview Hon. Mr. Grant is quoted as having said: "The reason we are not running the three elections at one time is that it is said Mr. Raney will be opposed, and we want to have the others over so as to be able to concentrate and get him elected. If the election of Mr. Drury and Mr. Doherty will strengthen Mr. Raney we want him to have this advantage, as there is so much objection to him reported."

fastened, tariff item 611, others N. O. P. is 30 per cent, tariff item 611A: Evidently, Mr. Crerar has not informed himself on the tariff although he is endeavoring to educate the Canadian public on tariff matters.

This statement of Mr. Crerar, is most unfair, untrue and very misleading; he fails to take into consideration that the competition which exists in the Shoe Industry in Canada would limit the profits of the industry. We all know that commodities such as shoes, boots, etc., manufactured by business keepers, profits at a very low level. However, the general public do not always stop to think of these things and that is one reason that I suggest this Advertising Campaign, so that the general public may be instructed as to the true facts of the Shoe Industry of Canada.

Tariff Not Considered.

As a matter of actual fact the tariff is not ever taken into consideration by a Canadian Shoe Manufacturer when naming his prices. I think most of the factories would be well satisfied with a profit on their turnover of from 5 per cent to 8 per cent and perhaps in some cases, less than that, instead of the enormous profits that Mr. Crerar would insinuate that we are making.

In discussing a question of this kind from the standpoint of tariff, I think it is a generally admitted principle, that one of the great functions of a tariff is to protect the employee in the industry, thereby causing the payroll to be circulated in Canada rather than in some foreign Country.

Would Swamp Industry.

But it should always be borne in mind that living side by side and neighbors of the greatest shoe manufacturing Nation of the World, and where there are such tremendous organizations in the United States in the Shoe Industry you can readily understand that the tariff, at all times, be large accumulation of lines which would be brought in at low prices and if there was not tariff protection, in that case the industry in this Country would be swamped.

The imports of shoes into Canada for the year ending March 31st, 1919 was about 100,000,000 worth of shoes. I understand from a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics for year 1918 which is practically the same period as above, that the total output of shoes from Canadian Shoe Factories was from forty to forty-five million dollars. You will, therefore, note that the imports were approximately 6 per cent as great as the total quantity manufactured in the Country, and these imports took place notwithstanding the tariff of 30 per cent and a war tax of 7-1-2 per cent at that time. How much greater could one reasonably expect imports to be if that tariff were reduced? The result would naturally be a large curtailment of the industry and a corresponding number of shoe workers thrown out of employment.

One Season of this kind of advertising may not be sufficient, it may be necessary for us to carry on this work for several years or several seasons, but where we have the true facts concerning this matter so overwhelmingly in our favor, it is out duty and also our great privilege at this time, to make these known to the Canadian Consumer, and I am quite satisfied Mr. President and Gentlemen, that the present misapprehension that exists in the minds of a great many Canadians with regard to Canadian shoes as compared with foreign shoes would disappear if the true facts were known to them.

FUR AUCTIONS

(Special to The Chronicle)

Arrangements have been concluded by the Canadian Fur Auction Sales Company, Limited, of Montreal, for their headquarters, and chief warehouse, which will be located on LaGauchetiere street West, corner St. George street. The company's agents and solicitors are about to start on their trips soliciting shipments for the first great sale in March, which will be of ten to fourteen days' duration. They will go to such remote regions as the Arctic, Mackenzie River, the Hudson's Bay District, Labrador, Temporary quarters have been secured in the Windsor Hotel, to be occupied until the building is completely in shape.

POLICY OF NEW
FRENCH CABINET

Submitted to Council of Ministers by Millerand and Approved

Paris, Jan. 20.—The new Cabinet's declaration of policy, to be read to Parliament Thursday, was submitted to the Council of Ministers tonight by Premier Millerand and received the approval of the Council.

The declaration outlines general views without dealing in detail with many of the problems growing out of the war which it says are, in general, of equal importance. It declares it the duty of French citizens to produce more and consume less and the duty of the country to assume new fiscal burdens to pay the national war debts.

The declaration opens with a tribute to former Premier Clemenceau. Regarding foreign affairs, it affirms it to be the Cabinet's intention to follow French political traditions, in full with France's Allies. The declaration calls for exact execution of the German peace treaty. It says the League of Nations can be of great aid in that direction and should be strengthened and developed.

Concerning internal affairs, besides urging new taxation, greater production and less consumption, the declaration promises fulfillment of the Government's pledges to soldiers.

The document concludes by recalling that the Republic intends to govern the country without religious interference, remarking that separation of Church and State is not a state of war, but of liberty.

LARGE SEIZURE
OF LIQUOR IS MADE

Two Hundred and Twenty-One Cases of Dawes Ale at Gatineau Point

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 20.—The Citizen today publishes:

The Inland Revenue Department at Hull has made one of the largest seizures of liquor which has taken place since the Hull District went on the dry list. Acting upon information received Inland Revenue Collector E. H. Laflamme yesterday paid a visit to Gattineau Point, where he placed under seizure two hundred and twenty-one cases of Dawes ale, which is considerably over the alcoholic content allowed by law. The seizure was made at the residence of E. Touffeville, who claimed he had ordered the beer for his personal use.

FAKE HEROES TO BE ROUNDED UP

Military Authorities Will Arrest All Persons Unlawfully Wearing War Ribbons

Halifax, N.S., January 20.—The military authorities are making endeavors to round up all men who are wearing ribbons and other decorations which they are not entitled to. In the police court today Lorne O'Hara, for wearing medal ribbons unlawfully, was sentenced to four months in the city prison. John Lapierre, who was wearing a khaki uniform, was also arrested. He is a member of the 63rd Rifles and is only permitted to wear the uniform at this time, to make these known to the Canadian Consumer, and I am quite satisfied Mr. President and Gentlemen, that the present misapprehension that exists in the minds of a great many Canadians with regard to Canadian shoes as compared with foreign shoes would disappear if the true facts were known to them.

He told the Court he had no other clothing to wear, and was remanded.

AID GAUVIN HAS ACCEPTED.

Ald. O. Gauvin has accepted the request of his electors in St. Jean Baptiste Ward and will again be a candidate for seat No. 2 at the next municipal elections.

CITADEL LEATHER COMPANY DINNER

Visiting Shoe Manufacturers Fittingly Entertained By the Local Firm

There was a splendid attendance at the banquet given last evening in the Chateau Frontenac by the Citadel Leather Company, Limited, of Quebec and Montreal, on the occasion of the Annual Convention of the Dominion Shoe Manufacturers, which is at present taking place in this city. The guests, who numbered about two hundred and fifty, included all the delegates attending the convention, and a number of prominent citizens of Quebec, representing practically every profession and trade.

Bonne Entente was the prevailing feature of the function, which was one of the most successful of its kind ever held in the Ancient Capital. The speeches, which in every instance were short, all breathed the spirit of good-fellowship, and the visitors, who came from all parts of the Dominion and from the Southern States could not but feel impressed with the good-will extended to them by Colonel J. A. Scott, President of the Citadel Leather Company, and also by the local guests, both French and English. The representatives of both races giving full vent to the feelings of respect and comradeship that existed between the French and English speaking races residing in Quebec.

The menu card, besides showing the various courses, was unique in the fact that it contained a song sheet, on which were printed the National Anthems of England, the United States and Canada, in addition to verses of a number of popular airs such as "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles," "Johnny's In Town," "Mickey," "Smiles," etc. The menu was a lavish one, and in keeping with the great reputation which Colonel Scott has achieved as a host, as well as reflecting the utmost honor upon his native city, of which he is a distinguished son. The manner in which the banquet was served by the Chateau Frontenac staff left nothing to be desired. The tables were beautifully decorated with plants, geraniums and ferns, thus adding a delicate touch of color to the furnishings.

When ample justice had been done to the good things provided, the toast of "The King" was proposed by Colonel Scott, and loyally honored by the company. The toast of "France and the United States" was also drunk.

Colonel Scott then, in the course of a short speech, submitted the toast of "The President of the Manufacturers' Association," which was received with enthusiasm. In his remarks the chairman said that he appreciated the kindness of the delegates in honoring him with their presence at the dinner. There was nothing that gave him more pleasure than to have his friends around him on such occasions, and it gave him the utmost pleasure to have the members of the shoe trade around him on this event. Colonel Scott then dwelt upon the bonne entente that existed between the English and French speaking races living in Quebec, and concluded by asking the company to toast the President of the Association.

Mr. F. S. Scott, in reply said that although being President of the United States was a very great honor indeed, he felt that the position with which the shoe manufacturers of the Dominion had honored him was in its own way an equally high honor. He felt that in the function they were then taking part they had a real Bonne Entente. They owed a great debt of gratitude to their host for bringing them together under such happy auspices. Their host was born in the Ancient Capital and was a splendid example of what a man could do in promoting friendship between the two dominating races of Canada—the French and the English, and he felt in saying that he was expressing the feelings of all present. They were proud indeed to be his guests during their stay in Quebec, engaged in selfish interests—interests of trade and commerce. They were proud of the position the shoe manufacturers occupied in the Dominion. Mr. Scott concluded by thanking the host on behalf of the Shoe Manufacturers of Ontario for the splendid welcome accorded them.

Mr. J. A. Cloutier, who was the next speaker, extended, on behalf of the Tanners of Quebec, a welcome to the visitors to the City of Champlain, and hoped that their stay in Quebec would be an agreeable and profitable one. The shoe manufacturers of Quebec had always followed the progress of the trade and always endeavored to further it in every way. He hoped that all present would be guided by the Bonne Entente which reigned in the Chateau Frontenac.

During the course of the evening, topical songs were sung by Mr. Paul Hebert, Mr. Verreault, and Col. Scott.

The function was brought to a close by Mr. F. S. Scott, proposing the toast of "Our Host," which was royally honored, followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

RUSSIAN TRADE COMMISSIONERS NAMED.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 20.—(By Canadian Press)—A move for trade in the new states of Eastern Europe is indicated in the appointment of L. D. Wilgrass, formerly Trade Commissioner at Vladivostok, as Trade Commissioner in Southern Russia, Rumania, Jugoslavia, and Czechoslovakia.

CANADIAN WHEAT PRICES GOOD

Statistics Prove That Prairie Farmers Will Receive More Than the Americans

Calgary, Alta., Jan. 20.—(By the Canadian Press)—While the price of wheat in the United States has been running as high as $3.00 a bushel, and Canadian farmers have been complaining that their products had been disposed of at too low a figure, statistics submitted to the annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta here today, indicate that when final distribution is made on participation certificates, the average price of Canadian wheat will be above that of the United States wheat.

Figures secured from United States officials and quoted by Mr. Wood also showed that the average prices in the Dakotas where the best priced wheat grade, was only $2.40 1-2 a bushel to the farmer at the point of shipment. The average ran down as low as $2.70. Mr. Wood ridiculed the report that millers had large stock of wheat on hand at the low price and were now selling at the recently raised figure. As to the participation certificates, he said: "Their value is as yet an unknown quantity, but if the present high prices hold, it will be considerable."

DISAGREEMENTS IN CONFERENCE

Senate Leaders Brought To Verge of Break Over the Compromise

Washington, D.C., Jan. 20.—Disagreements in the bi-partisan conference looking to compromise peace treaty reservations today brought the Senate leaders committed to the verge of a break and caused a movement among the Senate rank and file toward a different solution of the treaty deadlock.

Open rupture today of the leaders' conferences was averted, temporarily at least, by passing over the dispute on the Lodge reservation regarding equality of voting in the League of Nations. The bi-partisan conference will meet again tomorrow, but with leaders of both factions doubtful as to the possibility of ultimate agreement.

Several of the "mild reservation" Republicans were said to favor a combination with the Democrats to bring the treaty again to the floor of the Senate for open consideration of compromise reservations.

Another plan, championed by a Democratic advocate of compromise contemplates a "round robin" petition to bring Republicans and Democrats into a joint caucus.

Quebec, where English, French, Irish and Scotch were the best of friends, and that this spirit of comradeship would continue to the honor of their great country.

At this point of the proceedings Mrs. Scott, wife of the host, entered the room and was accorded an ovation by the company and, speaking in French and English graciously thanked the guests for the splendid reception accorded her.

Sir William Price, who followed, in the course of an interesting speech, first paid a graceful tribute to Mrs. Scott, and then proceeded to speak of the good relations that existed between the races in this city. We owe, he said, in this country a great debt to the two nationalities.

It was very fortunate that in this Province we had the French Canadians, who, whilst the labor element of other provinces and in other countries was unsettled, were carrying on in their respective trades without in any way causing uneasiness to employers, and for this the French Canadians were greatly responsible, and as a result we have peace and harmony in the Province of Quebec. Sir William concluded by thanking Colonel Scott for giving him the opportunity of meeting the members of the shoe trade of the Dominion.

Lieut. General Sir Richard Turner who was called upon, made an appeal to the Shoe Manufacturers on behalf of the returned soldiers, by giving them work, and said that if at first the men did give entire satisfaction, and a soldier, and for his efforts in promoting the spirit of comradeship between the dominating nationalities.

During the course of the evening, topical songs were sung by Mr. Paul Hebert, Mr. Verreault, and Col. Scott.

The function was brought to a close by Mr. F. S. Scott, proposing the toast of "Our Host," which was royally honored, followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

LAST YEAR'S 'FLU RECORDS BEATEN

Total of 2,514 New Cases Reported in Chicago City Yesterday

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 20.—The number of new influenza cases in Chicago today passed the high point for any one day of last year's epidemic. A total of 2,514 cases was reported to the Board of Health today, with 26 deaths. New pneumonia cases numbered 297, with 57 fatalities. The greatest number of influenza cases for a single day last year was 2,400. Health Commissioner Robertson said tonight that in his opinion the peak of the epidemic has passed.

Although the nursing "militia" was augmented by many volunteers today, several hundred more calls than the force of 1,000 could care for, were received.

Every hospital is crowded and 650 cases of influenza are being cared for at the County Hospital.

The State Health Department announced tonight that Rockford, Ill., is one of the most seriously affected cities in the State, having 1,800 cases of influenza and 35 of pneumonia. But one death has been reported here. The disease is subsiding at Camp Grant, and at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Sailors Stricken.

Great Lakes, Ills., Jan. 20.—One hundred and sixteen new cases of influenza with four deaths were reported at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station for the twenty-four hours ending at midday. This brought the total number of cases, under treatment at the station to 366, including 52 pneumonia cases. There has been seven deaths during the epidemic. Station officials reported that the cases are of a milder type than during the epidemic a year ago, and they expressed confidence that the situation was under control.

Camps Also.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 20.—Influenza has become epidemic among American soldiers at Camps Grant and Rockford, Ills., and the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Surgeon-General Ireland of the army, announced today. Smaller epidemics have been reported from other camps and the disease is prevalent among American troops in Europe.

BRITISH LIBERAL PARTY IS DEAD

Joe Martin, Former M.P., Can See No Chance of Resurrection

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 20.—"There is one thing certain," in the opinion of Joe Martin, former M.P., for St. Pancras in the British House of Commons and a former member of the Canadian Parliament, "that the Liberal Party in this country is dead. It is hopelessly dead. It has no chance of resurrection that I can see."

Mr. Martin reached Winnipeg from England today. On Thursday he will leave for Vancouver, where he will "settle down."

When asked what were his plans in the political field, Mr. Martin replied: "I have no present intentions of taking part in either Federal or Provincial politics."

MONTREAL BAKERS FOUND GUILTY

Had Banded Together to Put Up the Price of Bread on Consumers

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 20.—(By Canadian Press)—French-Canadian bakers of Montreal, who recently banded together to put up the price of bread have been found guilty by the Board of Commerce of an infraction of the Combines Act and ordered to dissolve.

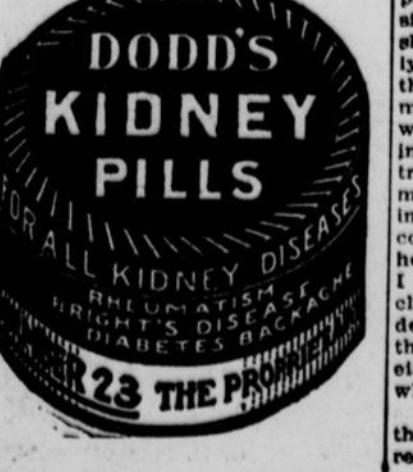

The increase in the price of bread is found to be justified, but the bakers undertook not to sell below a certain price and put up promissory notes to be collected if anyone violated the arrangement is decided to be a violation of the Criminal Code. The case is being reported to the Attorney-General of Quebec for such action as he may think fit, but the Board finds that the bakers were misled by an agent of one of the milling companies who primarily is to blame.

FIRE DAMAGED SIXTON RESIDENCE

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 20.—Sir Clifford Sifton, Lady Sifton and four members of their household were forced to leave the residence at 57 Douglas Drive, this city, after midnight last night by a fire which started in the roof, supposedly from defective wiring, and which caused damage to the extent of about $6,000. Sir Clifford and Lady Sifton spent the night at a friend's home.

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT REQUEST REFERENDUM

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 20.—The Ontario Government will be asked by the Ontario referendum committee to request the Dominion Government to allow the taking of a vote in this Province on the question of the importation of liquor into Ontario, the vote to be taken at the earliest possible date, under the terms of the recent Federal legislation thereon.

QUEBEC, JANUARY 21, 1920.

PROVINCIAL HOUSING PROGRESS.

The declared housing policy of the local Provincial Government to spend its apportionment of the Federal loan in the promotion of garden suburb and garden village development, indicated from the outset that Quebec is to lead the way in this, as in so many other important social movements. By this method, as readily appears, large blocks of suburban and country land can be bought at low figures and thus the greatest obstacle to cheap and better housing is removed.

Although the fruits of such a wise and far-seeing policy are maturing on the whole more slowly than could be expected or desired, at the same time enough has already been done to give earnest of almost incalculable future benefits to the less well-to-do urban populations of the Province. Thus the Sherbrooke Housing Company has acquired a beautiful site of 51 acres, with about 1,500 feet frontage on the Magog river for the sum of $51,000. The movement illustrates a fine spirit of co-operation among government authorities, manufacturers and citizens. The Connecticut Cotton Mills Co., situated at Sherbrooke, have already experimented at their home plant, at Danielson, Conn., in garden village housing and have been so satisfied with the results that they have offered to extend their plant at Sherbrooke at a cost of $2,000,000 on condition that the city of Sherbrooke will co-operate with them in the model housing of the workers. Sherbrooke has responded. The Quebec Government, on the advice of Dr. Naudeau, Housing Director, came forward with a loan of $500,000 and Mr. F. G. Todd, their town planning adviser, has laid out the site on modern lines. Ten houses have already been completed and the return of the building season will witness great activity at the garden suburb of Sherbrooke.

Other garden suburb projects in the province of Quebec include a scheme for the workers of the Riondon Pulp and Paper Co. at Kipawa, the town plan of which has been prepared by Mr. Thomas Adams and where 46 houses have already been completed, a small model development at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, for the employees of the Garden City Press Co., a garden suburb intended to house about 200 families in the vicinity of Hull and a project for a Confederation Garden Suburb for Quebec city that will involve the expenditure of $1,275,000 and will house 500 families.

Here in this city the City Council has been marking time on the proposals of a disinterested and representative Committee, which has the endorsement of the Provincial Housing Director and it is to be hoped that local interests will not suffer through what appears to be a needless procrastination. Meanwhile it is known that other organizations which are largely or altogether animated by the hope of profits and not simply by a desire for public service are seeking actively for civic sanction. It is further rumored that a recently organized citizens' body is intended to serve as camouflage for an ambitious financial transaction in this same connection.

However these things may be, it is well to remind those concerned that Quebec city cannot touch a cent of the Provincial apportionment of the Federal housing loan, unless its plans are approved by the Government's experts, and that any attempt at a profit-making "deal", such as has been made in other cities, will only exclude the Ancient Capital from all participation in the loan. The City Council has surely had ample time in which to study the question and arrive at some conclusion.

The Chronicle therefore urges that definite action be taken forthwith in order to permit of active building operations next Spring. We are in the most urgent need of additional accommodation and the present opportunity is too favorable to be lost.

THE FRENCH PRESIDENCY.

In view of the confident opinions expressed beforehand in France not less than elsewhere, the defeat of "Tiger" Georges Clemenceau, the "Organizer of Victory" and one of the outstanding figures of the great war, in the recent Presidential elections comes with a distinct shock of surprise. Even if one leaves his unusual personal qualities out of consideration, a debt of gratitude still remains for services rendered to the State and although the small margin by which he lost to Paul Deschanel shows that he had many loyal supporters, it is necessary to find some reasonable explanation of a result so unforeseen, notwithstanding the proverbial uncertainties of public life.

Such an explanation is very logically supplied by the Christian Science Monitor which points out that France has her own concept of a President and that this is exactly met by Deschanel, the orator, litterateur, one of the Immortals, the able upholder of well-tried traditions, the calm and impartial President of the Chamber of Deputies. The President of France, declares the Monitor, must be a great and worthy figure—land and those who were familiar with French history found it very difficult to associate the "Tiger" with the Elysee whose peace and unruffled calm is always protected from disturbance by the sturdy outworks of the Palais Bourbon and the Palais du Luxembourg. Frenchmen in fact—and not without reason—have shown themselves distrustful of "forceful" Presidents for many years past. If they "took a chance" when they elected Raymond Poincaré, it was because they trusted his letters, his urbanity and his rather stately form of statesmanship to offset any desire to be forcefully original which his natural genius might otherwise inspire.

"The province of the President", concludes the great Boston newspaper, "is to represent France and it cannot be doubted that Paul Deschanel will ably fulfill that province. Not only has he had a long political career—he entered political life first in 1874, as secretary to Mr. de Marcere, then Minister of the Interior—but he has, during the greater part of that career, been in a position curiously aloof from the rough and tumble of party politics. He was first elected president of the Chamber in 1896, and when, after holding that position for four years, he was defeated for reelection, he was appointed to the presidency of the parliamentary Commission of Foreign Affairs and Colonies. Later, he held the position of reporter of the Budget of Foreign Affairs, and then, in 1912, became president of the Chamber once again. He has held this last position ever since, earning golden opinions from all parties, not only for his sterling qualities of judgment and impartiality, but, perhaps most of all, for his jealous regard for the Chamber itself, for its honor and its traditions."

A SANE VIEWPOINT.

Commenting on the report of an interview with Admiral Jellicoe, relating to the importance of naval supremacy to Britain, the Philadelphia Public Ledger discusses ambitions of the United States to become the greatest sea-power. Admiral Jellicoe's words were said to be: "Whatever other countries in the exercise of their sovereign privileges and in defense of their national security may do, Britain's imperative and paramount duty is to be invulnerable at sea. We are an island kingdom and depend on sea-borne food supplies. The moment our food routes are cut off, our very existence is in jeopardy." The Public Ledger points out the conflict that is created, or at least stimulated, by rivalry for "invulnerability" at sea, and deplores any attempt to divide the Anglo-Saxons by such means. It says:

"It is unthinkable on this day of universal peril from social unrest, fed from among other sources by the crushing financial burdens which the late war has imposed on all of us, that America and Britain should engage in a suicidal contest in warship-building which must lead at least one of us to bankruptcy, even if we dismiss the horrifying thought that it might lead to war. Certainly, however much America might want a great navy, it would not want a bankrupt Britain; for a bankrupt Britain would be in much the same position as that bankrupt Germany which had to win a war to save its financial life. The thing for two such Christian, civilized, high-idealized peoples to keep in mind is that they cannot now engage in an orgy of battleship building without openly and unmistakably building against each other. There is no other navy in the world that threatens either of them. . . . But the obvious course before America and Britain is to pool their naval responsibilities and agree upon a division of naval power which will leave neither of us at the mercy of the other, and will enable a union of both to command peace over all the Seven Seas. . . . If the League be wrecked or bled into impotence, then if there is to be permanent and progressive peace in the world, the Anglo-Saxons must keep it."

This view, as the Toronto Mail and Empire observes, surely expresses the wholesome trend of United States thought. It was concurred in by Theodore Roosevelt who likewise spoke strongly, shortly before he died, against any Washington policy that would attempt to wrest from Britain supremacy at sea, merely for the sake of democracy.

PRESS COMMENT.

DIFFERENT NOW.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

The money in circulation averages $47.28 for each person. But of course those figures were issued before Christmas and nobody expects you to have your share now.

RAILWAY WAGES.

(Toronto Mail and Empire)

D. B. Hanna told the Men's Club of the Eaton Memorial Church that the average wage of employees of the National Railways in 1917 was $407, in 1918 it was $1,030, and in 1919 it was $1,200. That is an increase of 200 per cent., whereas the cost of living has, it is agreed, advanced on an average of 100 per cent. The railway employees want still larger wages—because the public pays.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

(Ottawa Journal)

Government House, Toronto, and the functions it performs are visible symbols of orderly, constitutional government. They help to maintain respect for the state and its system of government. If everybody instinctively felt due respect for the state and its institutions such symbols would be superfluous. But among all peoples there are some whose tendencies are anarchistic. These seek to convert those about them. Their efforts are made difficult by the popular respect for the state and its government. Communists and Bolsheviks and other advocates of political revolution very likely are much in sympathy with the demand for the abolition of the Ontario Government House.

THE SILVER COINS.

(An Exchange)

The reduction of the silver content of Canadian silver coins from 92.5 per cent to 80 per cent, will not interfere with specie exchange with the United States. Through what is merely prejudice, merchants in United States border cities have been refusing to accept Canadian silver coinage at less than regular exchange discount, and sometimes not at all. Though the silver value of the coins of old standard was above their rate of acceptance, they persistently regarded the coins as being below the value of their own. Recently $100,000 worth of these coins were collected in Detroit and other border cities, and shipped back to Windsor. Among Canadians the coins are current at face value as a token of exchange, and would be if they contained less silver. There is no fear that a reduction of 12½ per cent, in the silver content will cause our coins to be less acceptable here. It will, however, tend to stop the melting down of the coins, especially as there is every prospect that silver will go higher in price on the world's markets.

Premier Was Consulted Yesterday with Regard To the Montreal Waterworks

The question of the waterworks strike in Montreal was brought to the attention of Sir Lomer Gouin today when several conferences were held in his office.

It is understood that there are two suggestions made to the Premier. The first is to appoint a commission to inquire into the whole matter, while the second is for a prompt settlement of the difficulty.

Mr. J. H. Robert, President of the Montreal Tramways Company, was in the City yesterday and had an interview with Sir Lomer Gouin relative to the matter, while a number of the international labor delegates discussed the question with the Premier.

LABOR DELEGATES URGE REFORMS

Representatives of International Unions Waited on Prov. Cabinet Yesterday

A large delegation of labormen representing various International Unions waited on the Provincial Cabinet yesterday morning, submitting resolutions passed at the Labor Congress of Canada held in September last. The delegates came from all parts of the Province, but the majority were from the Trades and Labor Council of Montreal.

Among the reforms requested are the following: Prohibiting the use of the air or electric hammer in the manufacture of cut stone; nomination of practical metal polishers as blowers inspectors; protection of moving picture operators; protection in electrical devices; minimum wage for unskilled labor; abolishing the practice of making clothing in the homes of wage-earners; removal of old wallpaper before placing new paper; sanitary shop laws in barber shops; free and compulsory education; minimum living wage for school teachers; reformation rather than punishment; eight-hour day; age of admission of children to industrial establishments; State insurance against unemployment, sickness, invalidity and old age; pensions for needy mothers with dependent children; democratic management for government or municipal work; compensation law in labor accidents; proportional representation; profiteering on rent; extension of hours of voting; yearly lease and thirty days' notice; election of commissions.

After listening to the arguments advanced in favor of the reforms, the Prime Minister promised the laborers that the Government would give their requests most serious consideration.

DELEGATION OF TAXPAYERS
Mr. Delagrave Will Probably Accept Nomination For No. 2 Seat, St. John's Ward

A large and representative gathering of the taxpayers of St. John's Ward (Montreal and St. John's) called on Mr. Notary Delagrave last evening pledging him their entire support if he should offer himself as candidate for Seat No. 2 of this very populous and important Ward. Mr. Delagrave promised to give their arguments very serious consideration and will give his answer in the course of a few days. The delegates left confident in the hope of Mr. Delagrave's accepting, believing that such a prominent and popular young man would be a splendid acquisition to the new Council.

PARADE HELD LAST EVENING

Large Number of Snowshoers Turned Out—Left Drill Hall At 9:00 O'Clock

The big Masquerade Parade, signalling the opening of the Winter Sports, was held last evening, leaving the Drill Hall. It lacked only a few minutes to nine o'clock when the start was made, and the procession took the following route. From the Drill Hall down Grande Allee, along St. Louis St., Du Port, Buade, Fabrique, St. John, de Salaberry, Richelieu, Cote d'Abraham, St. Valier Bridge, St. Joseph, St. Valier, Aqueduc, Massue, and the St. Peter's Market, after which the parade disbanded at the Market.

The start was originally scheduled for eight o'clock, but the various members did not get into an appearance until after half past eight, with a few exceptions.

The parade was headed by Mounted Policemen, followed by a Russian Sleigh, belonging to Mr. Alf. Morgan, and drawn by three horses. Inside the sleigh were the Chief of Police, and two other gentlemen, after which came more Mounted Police, and then the members of the Cercle Frontenac Snowshoe Club with a drum and bugle band, followed by the Huron Snowshoe Club. Next in line were the Union Commerciale snowshoers, and then a party of skiers, numbering around twenty.

The Quebec Snowshoe Club followed next, the members of the Montcalm Snowshoe Club being the next in order, accompanied by their buglers and drummers, while the last of the snowshoers were the members of the Candiac Snowshoe Club, with a rig having a large banner draped along both sides, announcing the name of the club.

Some three or four mounted on horseback, and dressed up to represent jockeys, trailed the snowshoers, and a party of American sailors, attired in their battle costumes, brought up the rear.

The parade was disappointing, as there were only the snowshoers and a few skiers, who took part, in addition to the American sailors. Roman candles were illuminated all along the route, but the other sportsmen who were supposed to take part in the procession failed to put in an appearance.

Thousands of people were in the streets along the route of the parade, and braved the disagreeable weather to see the procession.

AMENDMENTS TO LICENSE ACT

Liquor Interests Will Seek a Larger Percentage of Alcohol in Wines and Beer

The question of temperance in the Province of Quebec will be discussed with the Government by two delegations during the present week. The first will be a delegation representing the brewers and liquor interests who will wait on the Cabinet and will, it is understood, ask that the percentage of alcohol allowed in wines and beer be increased.

The second delegation will be composed of representatives of temperance societies who will urge that the present law be made more severe and be more rigidly enforced.

As intimated by the Provincial Treasurer last Friday that the Government had the question of amending the license law under consideration, it now seems almost certain that there will be a bill this session to amend the License Act.

SUPPORT CIVIL SERVICE CLAIMS
Monet Motion Started Inter-esting Debate in Assembly Yesterday Afternoon

The claims of the civil servants of the Province of Quebec for higher salaries were championed in the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon when Mr. Amedee Monet, member for Napierville, moved for the production of all correspondence between the Government and the Union of Civil Employees respecting a request for a bonus or an increase of salary.

Speeches were delivered by six Government members, two Labor members and the Leader of the Opposition supporting the motion.

Mr. Monet said that there was no disguising the fact that owing to small salaries there was much misery among the families of civil employees and his object in bringing the matter to the attention of the House was in the hope that a remedy to present conditions would be found.

Speeches were delivered by six Government members, two Labor members and the Leader of the Opposition supporting the motion.

Mr. Monet said that there was no disguising the fact that owing to small salaries there was much misery among the families of civil employees and his object in bringing the matter to the attention of the House was in the hope that a remedy to present conditions would be found.

That every man had a right to expect a fair day's pay for an honest day's work and that he would rather have a deficit than a surplus and see all the employees of the Government paid a living wage was the contention of Mr. Peter Bercevitich, member for St. Louis-Montreal.

The appointment of a Civil Service Commission was urged by Mr. Arthur Cannon, member for Quebec-Centre, who also suggested a re-classification of the civil service with a view to more production, a smaller staff and consequently higher salaries.

Mr. Arthur Sauve, Leader of the Opposition, said it was plain that if the Government had done its duty by its employees the surplus which had been boasted of would not have existed at all. He expressed regret that the Labor members of the House had not been heard on the motion which brought Messrs. Aurele Lacombe, member for Dorion-Montreal and Adelard Laurendeau, member for Maisonneuve, to their feet.

Both members spoke briefly supporting the motion and intimating that they would be heard from later.

The debate was adjourned by Dr. Ernest Poulin, member for Laurier-Montreal, who will speak today.

Sir Lomer Gouin remarked that there was a great deal of interest in the debate and it was important that it should go on.

Legislative Council.
At the opening of the sitting of the Legislative Council yesterday, Hon. Mr. Perreault, Leader in the Upper House, extended the congratulations of the Chamber to Hon. Thomas Chapais on his nomination to the Canadian Senate. He said that the appointment to the Senate was an honor not only for Mr. Chapais but for the Legislative Council of which body Hon. Mr. Chapais was the oldest member. He was gratified to see that Hon. Mr. Chapais would continue to sit in the Legislative Council and he believed he was expressing the sentiments of his colleagues in saying that all were delighted to know that the appointment of Hon. Mr. Chapais to the Senate would not prevent him from continuing to sit in the Legislative Council.

Hon. Mr. Perreault also congratulated Hon. Geo. A. Simard on his appointment to the responsible position of Consul-General for Roumania in Canada. He was convinced that Canada and the Province of Quebec would benefit by the nomination as a result of better relations between Canada and Roumania.

Hon. Mr. Chapais thanked Hon. Mr. Perreault for his kind words. He said he would have regretted after sitting twenty-eight years in the Legislative Council to sever his relations with that Chamber and it was very gratifying to him to be permitted to retain his seat in the Council.

He hoped that the good relations between his colleagues and himself would continue as in the past.

Hon. Mr. Simard thanked Hon. Mr. Perreault for his thoughtfulness in congratulating him on his appointment to his position of Consul-General to the position of Consul-General for Roumania and Canada. Roumania, he said, was one of the most interesting countries of Central Europe and its market offered splendid openings for Canadian commerce. He hoped before long to see a line of steamers plying between the Danube, the largest river in Europe, and the St. Lawrence, the largest river in America.

The following bills which were introduced in the Council were given first and second reading and referred to standing committees for study:

Town of Coaticook: City of Westmount: Farmers' Railway of Normand: Dominion Corset Company: Pinsker Shul Kinyan Torah Congregation: Wales Home: St. Andrew's Protestant Cemetery: Power, Traction and Manufacturing Company of Vallee du Lievre: Union Nationale Francaise: Guarantee Title Bond and Trust Corporation of Canada: Stanley Bagg Estate: Industrial Life Insurance Company: Noel Hospital: Crown Trust Company: Hebrew Sick Benefit Association of Montreal: Independent Sick Benefit Association of Montreal.

The bill concerning the C. G. Brown estate was also presented, but was limited to first reading.

Second reading was given to the following bills which had already been presented in the Upper House: Chibougamou Railway: Roberval-Saguenay Railway: to admit Jean Chauvin to the practice of law; to admit J. E. Gregoire to the practice of law; Agudath Achim Congregation of Sherbrooke; Town of Roxboro: Town of Montreal-West.

The David bill concerning work by inmates of reformatory schools was presented in the Council and given first and second reading.

The Beaudry bill concerning surgeon dentists was also presented and received first reading.

Hon. P. Paradis presented a bill to amend the Revised Statutes concerning cities and towns.

The Council adjourned until this afternoon at three o'clock.

THAT'S DIFFERENT.
When Mrs. Whiffles recently meted out punishment to Master George Whiffles with a carpet beater, that young gentleman gave vent to such weeping and wailing that the lady next door was constrained to poke her head over the garden fence and inquire what was the matter.
"Got about a couple of hundred feet of gas inside him, that's what's the matter," Mrs. Whiffles replied. "Couple of hundred feet of gas?" echoed the lady somewhat incredulously. "What on earth has he been doing? Taking the gas-pipe for a feeding bottle?"

"No, he ain't!" snapped Mrs. Whiffles. "He's been and swallowed the money what I laid by for the gas meter."

SPORTING NEWS

SONS OF IRELAND AND SOLDIER TEAM MEET; NATIONALE CLASH WITH CRESCENTS AT THE ARENA

Two Good Matches Promised for City League—First Contest Starts at 8:00 O'Clock Sharp—Both Matches Promise To Be Closely Fought Out—Large Crowd Expected

The two City League games at the Arena this evening ought to attract a tremendous crowd to witness them, for the brand of hockey that has been put up by the City League teams since the beginning of the season has been very good.

On one of tonight's games stands, it might practically be said, the championship of the first half, for, although the Sons of Ireland lead the league, having sustained only one defeat, the 5th. C.G.R., who are their opponents in this evening's contest, are right on their heels, having only been beaten twice, so that if the Soldiers are able to win tonight's match, they will be tied with the Sons and will have more than an even chance to win the first half honors.

It is a sure thing that the 5th. C.G.R. will make a desperate effort to capture the game from the Irishmen, for they will make every endeavor known to take the game. They want the first half honors badly and will spare no effort in their desires. Hawkins, the Sherbrooke player, Conley and Atto will be out with the Soldiers who will place their strongest team on the ice, in an endeavor to win the game.

The other game, between Nationales and Crescents, should also be productive of some good hockey. The Nationales have a powerful team, as was evidenced last Saturday against the Sons of Ireland, while the Crescents, although they trail the league, have a good little team gathered together. They put up a good game against the Soldiers last week, but were unlucky. The wearers of the Red, Yellow and White have been playing in hard luck since the beginning of the season, but manager Tom Fuller says that they will capture tonight's game, or know the reason why.

With two games booked for tonight, and the certainty of seeing why the attendance should not number in the thousands, especially as the championship of the first half is hanging in the balance. If the 5th. C.G.R. can defeat the Sons tonight, they will be tied with the Irishmen for the lead. Tonight is the last of the first games, and if the Irishmen win, they will have won the honors for the first half.

The Sons will rely on the same team as pulled them through last Saturday to come again to the front tonight. The old reliable players will all be on hand, while the 5th. C.G.R. will trot out their very strongest team in desperate endeavor to trim the Irishmen.

The Soldiers will have Hawkins, the Sherbrooke wonder, Conley and Atto, their three latest stars, out in uniform tonight, besides their regular players, and expect that they will trim the wearers of the Green and White.

The Crescents will trot out the same players as did service for them last Saturday, while the Nationales will have the identical outfit in action again as that which were defeated by the Sons last week.

The games should be good, and with cold weather, predicted, a good fast sheet of ice should be the result.

The probable line up will be as follows:

S.O.I.	Goal.	5th C. G. R.
Lacombe	 Sullivan
McDonald	 Hawkins
Morency	 O'Brien
McNaughton	 F. Dinan
B. Laroche	 R. Wing

MIKE ERTLE AND JIMMY WILDE MATCHED
Minneapolis, Jan. 20—Mike Ertle, of St. Paul, last night was signed to meet Jimmy Wilde of England, at Milwaukee on Jan. 29 in a ten round no-decision bout. Ertle agreed to make 115 pounds at three p.m. the day of the match.

BENNY LEONARD TO MEET JOHNNY DUNDEE
New York, N.Y., Jan. 20—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight boxing champion, and Johnny Dundee of New York, will meet in an eight round bout in Jersey City February 9, it was announced tonight. The pair were to have met at New Haven in a 20-round bout to a decision on January 16, but the authorities interfered, classing the contest as a "prize fight." No decisions are permitted in New Jersey.

SCHEDULE FOR SECOND HALF

City League Teams Complete the First Half of Season Tonight

After tonight's matches are finished and the champions for the first half of the season rest upon their laurels until the start of the second half, which is next Wednesday, the following official schedule for the second half, will not come amiss to the many fans who wish to know just when their team play another outfit, and whether they are billed for the first or the second game, and various little things like that.

The second half opens on Wednesday, January 28th, and closes on Saturday, March 6th, or, possibly before, if one team gets such a lead in the second half that none of the other sextettes can catch them. The leaders of each half will then play off for the championship of the league, and also to find out who will have the honor of challenging for the Ross Cup, emblematic of the championship of the E.C.A.H.A. for the season.

Wednesday, January 28—S. O. I. vs. Crescents; 5th. C. G. R. vs. Laval. Saturday, February 7—Crescents vs. 5th. C. G. R.; S. O. I. vs. Laval. Wednesday, February 11—Crescents vs. Laval; S. O. I. vs. 5th. C. G. R. Wednesday, February 18—Laval vs. 5th. C. G. R.; Crescents vs. S. O. I. Saturday, Feb. 28—Laval vs. S. O. I.; 5th. C. G. R. vs. Crescents. Saturday, March 6th—5th. C. G. R. vs. S. O. I.; Laval vs. Crescents.

Sporting Notes

Tonight's games in the N.H.L., are: Quebec at Ottawa; Canadiens at Toronto.

If the Sons win tonight they cap the first half championship of the City League tonight. If they lose, the 5th. C. G. R. are tied with them.

Canadiens play here on Saturday night, when they tackle the Bulldogs.

The 5th. C. G. R. will make a determined effort to trim the Sons tonight, and will have their strongest team out in action.

Tonight will witness the final games in the final half of the schedule for the City League players. The second half will start Wednesday next.

The Quebec Curling Club ring skipped by F. S. Stocking, defeated the Victoria Curling Club representatives last evening on Quebec ice, by a score of 14 to 9.

The Nationales have a powerful team gathered together, and should be heard from during the second half of the City League race.

The Soldiers, or the 5th C.G.R. team will trot out three new players tonight in an endeavor to trim the Sons. The Irishmen have a great little team together, and the Soldiers will have to travel some to trim them.

The matches next Wednesday are Sons of Ireland vs. Crescents, and the 5th C.G.R. vs. Nationales.

It is probable that all the remaining matches in the Preliminary Round of the Jubilee Trophy will be played this evening, as the final have to be played by January 24th, which is Saturday.

ERTLE REPLACES MASON
Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 20—Jimmy Wilde, English flyweight champion boxer will meet Mike Ertle, of St. Paul, on January 29 before a local club.

Ertle is to weigh 115 pounds, according to agreement. Ertle takes the place of Frankie Mason of Indiana, who originally was booked to meet Wilde.

CANADIENS HELD WORK OUT YESTERDAY
Montreal, Que., Jan. 20—Canadiens had a work-out at the Arena today with Cameron and Corbeau and Lalonde back at his old position in centre, in preparation for the game with St. Patrick's tomorrow night. Canadiens will also have the services of Howard McNamara, who though in uniform last Saturday was then in condition to take the ice against Ottawa.

CHANEY AND TIPLITZ FIGHT TO A DRAW
Philadelphia, Jan. 20—Young Chaney, Baltimore and Joe Tiplitz, Philadelphia fought six fast rounds to a draw here last night. Chaney had the advantage of the first four rounds, but the local boxer came back strong and evened up the bout. Harry "Kid" Brown, Phila., had the better of a six round fight with Billy Affleck, of England.

Jack Russo, New Orleans, defeated Johnny Mahoney, Hazelton, Pa., in a hard-hitting bout.

STOCKING'S RINK BEAT SCOTT'S

Quebec Curling Club Team Defeated Rivals In Jubilee Trophy Match

In a keenly contested game last evening on Quebec ice, the Quebec Curling Club rink skipped by Mr. F. S. Stocking, took the measure of their Victoria opponents to the tune of 14 to 9, the Quebec rink winning by five shots. The game was marked by brilliant playing on the part of all the players, and no weak spot was evident in either rink. Both skips directed their men well, but the Victoria men could not overcome the Quebecers, and as a result, Stocking's rink was victorious.

It is extremely probable that the remaining games in the Preliminary Round for the Jubilee Trophy will be played this evening, as the Finals have to be played during a period extending from January 19th to 24th, and the latter date is on Saturday of this week so that only three days remain. The winning rink qualify for competition in Montreal, and will take part in the games there during the first week in February. The probable dates are February 6th and 7th.

The members of the two rinks who engaged in play was as follows:

Quebec	Victoria
C. J. Mack	Mr. Barnes

SEATTLE BEAT VANCOUVER TEAM

Final Score Was Six to Two in P. C. H. A. Match at Vancouver

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 20—Vancouver baited its own trap last night when it scored two goals in the first five minutes of play against Seattle. It was apple-pie for the Millionaires and while they were basking in the glory of the satisfying repast, the Metropolitan jumped in with an offensive under which the local team never recovered. Seattle won 6 to 2, three of which were scored by Frank Foyston, the star player.

It was another case of over-confidence. Vancouver in the first five minutes played the Seattle crew to a standstill.

WOLFE DREW WITH BURMAN
Peoria, Jan. 20—Jack Wolfe, of Cleveland, and Joe Burman, of Chicago, fought ten rounds to a draw, here last night. They weighed in at 120 pounds.

NOTES MILLION YEARS OLD.
Interesting Fossils Recently Found by the United States Geological Survey.

Among the fossils recently discovered by the United States geological survey are remarkably well-preserved impressions or cast of leaves of several extinct varieties of ash, oak, beech and hickory, which were found with three present-day species, in states bordering the Gulf of Mexico, according to the Youth's Companion. Although the leaves themselves have rotted and gone, here and there some were buried in soft clay by sediment in such a manner as to leave perfect-preserved impressions.

The nuts on the other hand, neither decayed nor petrified, but fell into pools of water, which is one of the best preservatives in nature, and sooner or later were also buried under silt and clay. Owing to their hard shells, those that fell into places favorable to their preservation are today in excellent condition, although slightly flattened by the long soaking and the gentle pressure of the clay. The deposits in which the leaves and nuts were found is not less than a million years old.

LEARNERS OF THE WAR

A woman was discovered in this city yesterday who has lived all through the great war and did not know that it was going on. She is an aged woman of German birth. Her age kept her son from telling her about the horrors of the invasion of Belgium and of the sinking of the Lusitania. He didn't wish her to worry and fret. But the day of the peace demonstration made it impossible to keep silent. The old lady heard the whistles blowing and the crowds cheering and she demanded to know what it was all about. When they told her she raised her hands in a gesture of imprecation and said: "Oh if only I could get these two hands on the Kaiser!" The interesting part of her story is that her husband was a German soldier. The gray uniform was so detested by him that he made his wife, before his death, promise that she would come to America so that none of their sons ever would be compelled to wear the livery of the Kaiser.—New York Sun.

HOME AGAIN.

The Prince of Wales is home again, and his holiday is over. His usual routine is composed as follows: Seven o'clock, rise. Eight to nine breakfast. Nine to ten, heavy correspondence. Ten to twelve, public engagements, interviews, etc. One to half-past two, luncheon. Three to five, public engagements and visits. Five, tea. Six to seven, work in library. Eight, dinner. Naturally, the programme varies, and the Prince is an enthusiastic sportsman when he is free of engagements. A good deal of his time is taken up with the business side of his estate, the Duchy of Cornwall, from which he draws about £250,000 a year. Last year he spent half that sum on benefiting the estate.

PERIOD FORECAST OF PROSPERITY

Speaker Tells Shoe Retailers
That Merchants and Bankers
Take Optimistic View

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19.—J. Franklin McElwain, president of the National Boot & Shoe Manufacturers Association, speaking yesterday before the National Shoe Retailers Association, which is in convention here, said that merchants and bankers on the whole expected a considerable period of prosperity. He had written to several groups of business men, and obtained opinions to the following effect from those engaged in production:

"The reports from all directions indicate that there is no let-up in production and will not be for the first six months of 1920 in practically all the basic commodities. Most producers predict full production for the entire year of 1920. The necessary demand for food products abroad, due to a shortage of fully 45 per cent of their normal supply, insures the prosperity of farmers, representing 35 per cent of our population. This also insures full employment at high wages for those engaged in manufacturing, representing 30 per cent, and those engaged in transportation and mining, representing 11 per cent of our population."

Of the opinion of bankers, he said: "This is very able men seem to believe that present prosperity will continue for a while, but eventually reaction will set in; that inflation and speculation must be controlled; that conservatism and short time future commitments are in order. If this brought about a may proceed to lower levels of commodity prices in an orderly fashion and deflation may be accomplished."

Brig.-Gen. John H. Sherburne, of the Massachusetts Commission on Necessaries of Life said that profiteering did not exist in Massachusetts, at least in the shoe trade.

DRESSOMANIA NEW

DISEASE SUFFERED

London Women Crave For Clothes
As Men do for Strong Drink.

London, Jan. 20.—"Some women suffer from dressomania as others do from drugs," said one of the most eminent of London solicitors. The reflection was prompted by his part in recent divorce suits.

"Women crave for new clothes as men for drink, and they experience the same effects," he added.

"New clothes intoxicate a woman, give her temporarily a bright outlook on life, a feverish enjoyment for the moment, and bring a sparkle to her eyes and a flush to her cheeks. In a word, they dull her sorrows and make her forget her worries; but their effects are short-lived, and the pleasure has died down almost before the new garments are sent home."

"Dressomania is an old vice among the rich smart women of London, but recently it has spread to all classes. I find that when in grief a woman finds that new clothes serve to lull and soothe the nerves just as drink would dull the grief of a man. Clothes act as a counter excitement to divert the mind from its troubles. After these years of sorrow and nerve-racking excitement it is but natural that the women are plunging into mad orgies of clothes buying along with their other excitement."

A journey through the West End shops proves that dressomania is a raging epidemic. In the shoe shops fashionable women are buying as many as five or six pairs of evening slippers at a time. Silk stockings at a guinea, or more a pair are being sold to customers by the dozen pairs. Lingerie, costing more than pre-war evening gowns, is being sold to women who were buying for sheer excitement.

JAPAN AND BASEBALL.

Japan is one of the few nations of the earth that has adopted the "national pastime" of the United States, the game of baseball, which grew up in its present form in the latter country. The game has been transplanted, has taken root, and is thoroughly flourishing in the Island Kingdom. But the Japanese, according to one of them, recently travelling in America, are making all their baseballs by hand, not yet having perfected any machinery for manufacturing them. This sojourner, who is a mechanical expert, was much interested, while on his trip, in learning the method by which the balls are made. The playing of the game in Japan, says the traveler, is widespread. A few years ago, two of the Japanese universities sent teams to the United States, where they engaged in competition with American university nines. Their ability was marked, and their sportsmanship excellent. The common interest of the people of the two nations in this sport has been recognized as a possible source of increased understanding between them.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to destroy it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

WORK OF THE FINNISH WOMEN

Helsingfors, Finland, as a stranger in that town reports his impressions, is a city of women doing the work that used to be done by men. He is astonished by the number of women in practically every kind of occupation. On the train the porters in the sleeping cars are women; in the fields and factories women are busy at every manual labor; in the banks there are apparently about ten times as many women employed as men, and in one of the biggest financial institutions in the city positions of great responsibility are held by women. Compared with other countries where the were exclusively masculine employments, became during the war, Finland in general and Helsingfors in particular, carry the proportion of women much further, for the man-power of Finland was so greatly depleted that a large proportion of the remaining male population is now needed for military service. In the Finnish Foreign Office, for example, women were holding positions which, says the correspondent, "would be entirely beyond the aspirations of their sisters in the State Department at Washington or the British Foreign Office." No other country, it seems safe to say, shows so wide and general an adaptation of women to the carrying on of every kind of work, and although the change is said to have come about rapidly, the women seem remarkably at ease in their new employments.

PARISBORO TO BOSTON.

The sailor's calling can never be standardized, it is subject to variety and chance unknown to the landman and this holds true even of the great liner and majestic battleship. There is nothing ready made about the sea; none will ever be able to tell its story with a stencil. Here is the schooner Mayflower in port at Boston with lumber; between casting off at Parisboro, Nova Scotia, and tying up at Boston, Massachusetts, there ran 43 days. Not all of these passed on the open seaway, much of it was consumed in an intermediate harbor to refit, but the crew must stay aboard none the less to reflect upon buffetings past and to come. One that lives snugly on shore, at safe distance from a green water and crackling oilskins, may profitably ponder what it means to follow the sea, what patience, resolution, self-control, and alertness are ever and everywhere needed in a profession that is not always well enough recognized.

UNQUESTIONABLY SO.

Struck by the notice, "Iron Sinks," in a shop window, a wag went inside and said that he was perfectly aware of the fact that "Iron sinks."

Alive to the occasion, the smart shopkeeper retorted: "Yes and time flies, but wine vaults sulphur springs, jam rolls, grass slopes, music stands, Niagara Falls, moonlight walks, sheep run, holiday trips, scandal spreads, standard weights, India rubber tires, the organ stops, the world goes around, trade returns, and—"

But the visitor had bolted. After collecting his thoughts he returned and showing his head at the doorway, shouted "Yes I agree with all of that perfectly—and marble busts."

SOURCE OF TURPENTINE

Turpentine oil and rosin are already being produced on a commercial scale in India by the distillation of pine resin. A new source of supply which, though comparatively small, may be valuable, especially for Indian use, has now been found in frankincense or olibanum. This material is obtained by the natives making incisions in the stems of Boswellia serrata, a tree widely distributed throughout the dry zone forests of Central India. The resinous substance which exudes from the cuts contains a kind of turpentine, a rosin and a gum.

Investigation of the methods of separating these constituents in a marketable form have been conducted since 1912 by the forest authorities in India in co-operation with the Imperial Institute, in that results have been published recently in a paper by R. S. Pearson, forest economist, and Puran Singh, chemical advisor, at the Forest Research Institute, Dehra Dun. The general conclusion reached, based on the results of numerous trials, is that turpentine oil is equal to good quality American turpentine oil.

SWITZERLAND'S ELECTRIC OVENS.

Housewives and bankers by occupation, may well be interested in the wide use that is being made of electricity for baking, in Switzerland. The rise in the price of fuel has steadily increased the number of electric ovens. Electricity generated by water power bakes as well, and from several points of view better, than heat derived from fuel, and where the hydroelectric power station used to have more work to do by day than by night, harnessing it to electric ovens finds a use for its night energy which can then be provided at such cheap rates that the cost of baking is less than with fuel. The oven adds but little heat to the room, the bakers work more comfortably, and inside the oven the heat can be adjusted more conveniently. The smaller size of the oven needed to do the same baking has naturally led to its use by hotels, and there are evidently many points in its favor which would appeal to anybody who has to do with a stove.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

Willow or other wood of a similar nature has heretofore been made use of in the manufacture of artificial limbs, but a cheaper and at the same time superior substitute has been found in a composition is made use of by spreading upon pieces of fabric which are then wound about a mold. The new material is said to be light, easily worked and of trivial cost.

FOUNDERING OF STR. MACONA

During a Furious Gale, Only One Man Saved Out Of the Crew Numbering Fifty

Stockholm, Jan. 20.—Details of the wrecking of the American steamer Macona, which struck a rock off Nidingen Light and foundered Saturday night with the loss of 49 members of the crew, were received here today. One man, said to be the second mate, who was rescued hours later from the rigging, told his rescuers he was the only survivor. One report attributes the disaster to a mine, several of which are said to have been seen floating in the Cattegat recently.

The Macona ran ashore at 1.30 a.m. on Saturday near Nidingen, and was driven on the treacherous rock during a furious gale which was raging off the Swedish coast.

At that hour the Gothenburg radio station received the vessel's S.O.S. and asking whether the crew was in danger, received the reply: "We fill with water quickly."

The station informed the pilots at Viborg forty-three miles southeast of Gothenburg, that lifeboats stationed at Batfjorden had been ordered to go out. A quarter of an hour later the Gothenburg station received this radiogram from the Macona: "Unnecessary to send lifeboats."

The lifeboats and pilots adhered to first orders, however, putting out to the distressed ship. Soon afterward the Macona's wireless, intended for Liverpool, was picked up by Gothenburg but suddenly was broken off. It was impossible thereafter to get it any word, and it was believed that the ship broke up at this hour.

The ship is now parted amidships, the bow deeply sunk and the stern deck level with the surface.

Several bodies of members of the crew are reported to have been washed up on shore north of Varberg. The captain of the ship was said to be a man by the name of Williamson.

G. B. S. and VICTORIAN SOCIALISTS

George Bernard Shaw has hurt the feeling of the Socialist Party of Victoria, which recently invited him to undertake a lecturing tour in Australia, practically on his own terms. He declined, however, on the ground that his engagements would not permit him to visit the Commonwealth. Unfortunately a press cable message to Australia said that Mr. Shaw had remarked that he knew of no Socialist party which was in a position to offer him, so magnanimously, his own terms. If the offer had come from a capitalist society he might have believed in it. The cable did not say whether Mr. Shaw implied that the value which he set on his own worth was so high that he could not expect overseas comrades to live up to it. Possibly John Maclean, of Glasgow, may now be chosen in place of Mr. Shaw.

CRICKET IN 1760. A picture of curious interest to cricket lovers all over the world was recently exhibited in London. It was in oils, unsigned, and showed a cricket match as it was played, about 1760, in front of Kenfield Hall, Petham, near Canterbury, a fine old house which stands today just as it appears in the picture. The wickets, players, costumes, and so forth, runs a recent description in The Times, resembles those in the picture by Huysman in possession of the M.C.C. The two umpires (with bats in hand) were cutting notches in sticks, dressing and refreshment tents, are clearly shown, as well as two horsemen casually riding right into the playing field during the progress of the game. Several flags are flying, a conspicuously large red sheet with the word "Welcome" is displayed on the fence, and a number of spectators in the picturesque dress of the period complete the typically English scene.

EX-RING MANUEL. WELL HOUSED. Fulwell park, where ex-King Manuel of Portugal has lived since he took his bride to England five years ago, is a historic mansion built mainly in the Georgian style. A part of it dates back to James II, but it has been considerably enlarged from time to time, and now contains a magnificent suite of six entertaining rooms. Besides the nine-hole golf course there are several tennis courts in the grounds, for this is a game at which the ex-King excels. There is good fishing in the River Crane, on which also boating is possible. Fulwell park has been the home of many famous people, and Twickenham itself abounds in historic memories. In 1809 Orleans House was the residence of Louis Philippe, then duke of Orleans.

HERE'S A BURLAR. LIKES SUNSHINE. Dorothy Lee, one of the statuesque beauties of Fox Sunshine Comedies, is puzzled over a mysterious burglar who has frequently entered her pretty little Hollywood, Cal., bungalow, and on every visit has taken photographs of the actress. The first time the picture thief cleared the place of every photograph of the pretty Sunshine maid, she made a hasty search of the premises and found that no other articles of value had been touched. Miss Lee told the story of the strange thefts to the other Sunshine beauties, but no solution of the mystery was reached, as Miss Lee has not been the recipient of any love-romance correspondence.

At The Theatres

What the Auditorium Offers Is Really Grand; Don't Miss It.

TOMORROW, "THE BROKEN BUTTERFLY" WILL BE THE FEATURE—THE WOMAN WHO GAVE UP HER HUSBAND TO SAVE HER SISTERS HONOR

The thrill of big dramatic moments that throb with human emotions, has been achieved in "The Broken Butterfly," the Maurice Tourneur production showing at the Auditorium tomorrow and all week-end.
The picture is a dramatization of the story Marcene, written by Penelope Knapp, which created a sensation.
Marcene is a character that appeals directly to the sympathies. The pathos of the virgin-hearted girl who gave all to the man she loved, was branded as a scarlet woman by a narrow-minded and bigoted woman who tried to brutalize her sensitive nature and break her spirit, and was driven to attempt self-destruction, is overwhelming.
One of the most intense and complicated situations conceivable is achieved when the father of the child, believing she is dead, returns with his wife, her own sister, and learns that Marcene is still alive. He does not tell Marcene that he is married. Torn with love and pity for the unfortunate girl, determined to right the wrong he has done and give his child a name, he asks his wife to make the sacrifice of his love that her sister may find happiness, and she consents. But happiness came too late for the poor little "broken butterfly," and death stalked in.
Today, last showing of the "Superman," a play of wonderful feats.

Change of Bill At the Allen Tomorrow; Big Show.

Tomorrow, The Allen Presents Stuart Holmes in "LOVE, HONOR, OR ???"—Also the Fifth Episode Of a Big Serial

The Allen closes today the showing of "The Tin Pan Alley." Tomorrow, the bill comprises a big feature with Stuart Holmes, the story being entitled "Love, Honor or ???"
It is a wonderful play of romance, adventure, emotions. Stuart Holmes is a master of such dramas. He wins new glory in it, according to the press critics.
The bill for tomorrow and all week and also includes the fifth episode of the big police mystery serial "The Invisible Hand," a comedy and other pictures.

Norma Talmadge at the Victoria For Last Time Today; Theda Bara Tomorrow.

"The Isle of Conquest" featuring Norma Talmadge will be shown at the Victoria Theatre for last time today. Don't miss it.
Tomorrow, Theda Bara will be featured in "The Lure of Ambition" and the last episode of "Bound and Gagged," is on the same bill.
Special Thursday and Saturday morning: for the children "All Baba and the 40 Thieves."

Great Crowds See Mary Pickford At The Empire Theatre

Enormous crowds are visiting the Empire every day and night to see Mary Pickford in the third picture from her own studies, "Heart O' The Hills." Have you seen the picture yet? If not it is advisable to do so without delay so that you won't miss Mary in her best production ever shown in Quebec. Screaming comedy and Kinograms are also shown.

Children's Shows at the Victoria; "Ali Baba" Tomorrow and Saturday

"Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves" will be the special show for children at the Victoria this week on Thursday and Saturday mornings at 10:30 a.m. This picture is bound to appeal to the young folks as most all youngsters have read the story and the parents will enjoy it as well.

Died.
On Tuesday last the Honorable William Scott, Comptroller of His Majesty's Customs, and one of the members of the Honorable Legislative Council of the Province.
Joseph Bonaparte's Mansion.
The Philadelphia Gazette states that the fire which destroyed Joseph Bonaparte's, elegant mansion on Tuesday last, originated in the fourth story, and that most of the valuable paintings and furniture were saved by the domestics. It is said that the collection of paintings cost $150,000 and comprises some of the finest productions in the world.
Cannibalism.
In one of our late London papers we find an extraordinary trial for murder of an African by the name of Quai Pel. It appears on the trial, that his object in committing the murder was that he might eat the body of his victim, which he had actually done; and on being questioned by the Court, as appeared by the interpreter, he observed, "like him very much"—"If he caught me he eat me."

Police Matters.
There was quite a large attendance last night of members of the Police Committee and of members of the Council that are not on the Committee, at a meeting called to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Sergeant Carolan. A number of different members of the force were proposed for the vacant charge of Sergeant, and Constable Chabot was very nearly obtaining it. However, it went to Constable, now Sergeant Ryan. But to fill Ryan's place as a constable, the Committee appointed a man named Charite from St. Sauveur.

Hon. Mr. Tullion.

To Keep Your Skin Free From Hairs
(Beauty Topics)
If you are willing to spend a few minutes time in your room using a delatone paste, you can easily banish any ugly, hairy growth without discomfort or injury. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is then spread over the hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed. You will not be disappointed with this treatment, providing you get real delatone.

BECALMED A PLIGHT OF THE PAST
A schooner bound from Sydney, Australia, to San Francisco, California, was becalmed in mid-ocean. While the ship was lying idly upon the bosom of the unruddered water, as it passed, the picture of the original "painted ship upon a painted ocean," the captain of the vessel became agitated by the thought that he would arrive at his destination too late to take advantage of certain prices on his cargo, as these rates had been named in a charter. The ship's crew wandered to the ship's launch hanging idly at its davits, whereas the quick scene became enlivened by the happy activity of an idea. The launch was put over the side and, at the end of a long tow line, after some effort, overcame the inertia of the ship, carrying it forward at a three-knot rate. Five times on its trans-Pacific journey the launch overcame the calm and won a quick voyage for its ship, with the result that the owners will install small powerful launches on their entire fleet of schooners for the purpose of meeting similar emergencies. In other words, it is believed that the happy idea that the skipper found operating in that mid-Pacific calm will make it unnecessary for modest sailing ships of the world to sit idly on their keels waiting for the wind.

WAS IN DREAD ALL THE TIME SHE SAYS

WEAK AND UNSTRUNG MADAME ARCHAMBAULT TOOK TANLAC AND NOW FEELS FINE.

"I was so weak I could not even sweep the floor but since I have taken Tanlac I can do all my household work without the least trouble," said Madame Camille Archambault who lives at 1398 Erables St. Montreal.
"For the past four years," Madame Archambault continued, "I have suffered so much from indigestion, nervousness, insomnia and constipation that I became almost a nervous wreck. After every meal I had such a heavy distressing feeling that I could hardly breathe and at times I thought I would simply choke. Even soup disagreed with me, and for months at a time I had to live on porridge. I suffered from heartburn so badly that I had to go to bed and have plasters and poultices put over me before I could get relief. This happened not once in a week but every day and I just lived in dread and misery all the time. My nerves were so bad that the ringing of the door bell would make me jump, and at night I was so restless that I could hardly sleep at all and I would spend the greater part of the night rocking in a chair. I was also badly constipated and often I had such dreadful headaches they nearly ran me wild."
"My husband advised me to try Tanlac as he had been reading where so many people were taking it with fine results. And it was certainly a happy day for me when I began taking it for I began to improve right away, and now since I have taken five bottles I don't feel like the same person at all. I have a wonderful appetite and can eat anything I please without suffering any bad after effects. I am never troubled with heartburn any more and my breathing is free and easy. My nerves are as steady as they can be and I sleep sound all night long. My constipated condition has been entirely relieved and I am no longer bothered with headaches. I feel stronger and better in every way and can do all my household work without tiring. I am in better general health than I have been in years and I owe it all to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Quebec by Jolicoeur's Pharmacies, 338 St. John and 21 Buade streets, and Martel & Dion, druggists, 105 and 109 St. Joseph St.; and in Lewis by Maurice Dion Druggist; under the personal direction of a Special Tanlac representative. —(Adv.)
