A TENSE SITUATION IS RAPIDLY DEVELOPING Concentration Of Russians On Border Greatly Augmented

Claim That Russian Army Has Taken Offensive And Occupied Border Cities

European Correspondents in Affected Area Reported Concentrations of Troops, Both Chinese and Russian, at Frontier Points on Chinese Eastern Railway, Seized Last Week by Manchurian Authorities—National Government of China, According to Nanking Despatches, Views Situation as Grave But Not Hopeless.

(Associated Press Despatch)

OSAKA, Japan, July 19.—The Harbin correspondent of the Osaka Asahi telegraphed his paper today that the Russians had assumed the offensive and had captured the border cities of Pogranichnaya and Manchuli.

Pogranichnaya and Manchuli are border points, the former about 150 miles north of Vladivostok and the latter a thousand miles away across Manchuria. Both are key positions to the Chinese Eastern Railway, but the significance of their occupation is believed to be of political rather than of military importance.

Neither place is of industrial or commercial importance. Pogranichnaya is a mere cluster of houses around a station. A mile and a half to the west of the station on the actual border, between the Maritime Province of Siberia and Kirin Province of Manchuria, there is a settlement of Kreans, who live in very primitive fashion.

Manchuli is definitely in Manchuria, being about ten miles from the border.

Pogranichnaya, according to available atlas is on the Russian side of the border and the use of the word "capture" by the Osaka Asahi correspondent presumably would mean that the Russians had expelled the Chinese there and taken over entire possession of the place and control of the railway and administration.

SITUATION RAPIDLY DEVELOPING THAT EASILY COULD RESULT IN A BATTLE FOR SUPREMACY IN MANCHURIA

LONDON, July 19.—The menace of war hung over northeastern Asia today with a tense situation rapidly developing which easily could involve Russia and China in a battle for supremacy in Manchuria.

European correspondents in the affected area reported concentrations of troops, both Chinese and Russian, at frontier points on the Chinese Eastern Railway, seized last week by Manchurian authorities.

There was admitted danger of border clashes in the proximity of these armies. Such incidents conceivably could participate both governments into a deadly and disastrous conflict.

Little if anything indicated that the actual peace of the two countries had been broken, the current crop of rumors of border incursions and repulses lacking confirmation from any source. Except for frontier clashes, there was some disinclination to believe the serious situation which has developed inevitably meant war.

The National Government of China, Nanking despatches said, viewed the position as grave, but not hopeless. President Chiang Kai-Shek presided yesterday at a meeting of National leaders to discuss the situation. What took place was not revealed.

New York To Nome And Return In Little Over Seventy-Five Hours Elapsed Time Is Aim Of Aviator

Captain Ross G. Hoyt Took Off from Edmonton, Alta., for White Horse, Yukon, One Hour After He Landed There This Morning—Hopes to Reach Nome by Eleven O'Clock Tonight.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, July 19.—The Curtiss Flying Service was advised by telegraph today that Captain Ross G. Hoyt, flying from Mitchell Field, New York, to Nome, had taken off from Edmonton, Alta., for White Horse, Yukon, one hour after he landed there this morning. He is expected to reach White Horse about mid-afternoon.

Nome, Alaska, by eleven o'clock tonight is the goal of Captain Ross G. Hoyt, who hopes to make a flight from Mitchell Field, N.Y., to Nome and return in seventy-five hours and forty minutes elapsed time for the 8,460 miles.

Captain Hoyt left Mitchell Field yesterday at 2.38 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time, and his first hop was to Minneapolis, a distance of

After a six hour stop at Nome he will return to New York by the same route. Although his plane is capable of 180 miles an hour, he expects to average 140 miles an hour, with actual flying time set at 61 hours and forty minutes.

Harbin Under Martial Law Today—Business Now At A Standstill

Japanese News Agency Despatches from Manchuria Said General Chang Had Made Proclamation that Death Penalty Would Be Imposed on Persons Spreading Alarmist Reports—All Newspapers Purged of Military Matter by Censors.

(Associated Press Despatch)

TOYKO, July 19.—Martial law has been proclaimed in Harbin by General Chang Ching-Hui, military commander of the district, and will be enforced with the utmost rigor as a safety measure growing out of the Sino-Russian crisis.

Japanese news agency despatches from Manchuria said Chang had made proclamation that the death penalty would be imposed on persons spreading alarmist reports. All newspapers, including Japanese, were purged of military matter by censors.

Business was at a standstill, with the streets heavily patrolled by Chinese soldiers. Concentration of Russian troops on the Siberian frontier, beyond Manchuli, was said to have been greatly augmented.

The despatches said hundreds of Chinese civilians have fled from Manchuli, at the western terminus of the seized Chinese Eastern Railway, and from Pogranichnaya, at the eastern end.

The Japanese consulate general in Harbin was crowded all yesterday and last night by Russians seeking visas to permit them to go to Dairen at the southern end of the North Manchuria Railway, on the Liaotung Peninsula (Japanese territory).

Tests of bombing possibilities of the new plane have been carried out and found satisfactory and the Government is so convinced that this style of fighting the pest will prove effective that Hon. Hector Laferte, Minister of Fisheries, has engaged the flying crew to carry out the attack.

A STITCH IN TIME

What would you think of the business man who refused to have his business checked over occasionally, or the automobile owner who refused to have his automobile checked over, or oil, and if developed a pronounced creaking or knocking? You would undoubtedly regard either of these individuals as being extremely careless.

I have had thousands of individuals injure me, either in my practice or by mail, as to some method they can employ for curing themselves, or be cured, of the diseases from which they are suffering. But it is a most unusual thing for any person to ever inquire as to the best means of maintaining health and preventing disease. Human beings are so careful with most of their possessions, but are apt to be very careless when it comes to their own health, the most precious possession of all.

It is undoubtedly true that many of the most serious diseases may develop to an incurable degree without great pain or suffering. The dentist, by filling a small cavity, may prevent the decay of the entire tooth. May not the same rule hold good with the rest of the body?

If a particular organ shows indication of overwork, why wait until it has been partly destroyed before reforming your habits? If you knew that your liver, kidneys, or lungs showed indications of weakness or of congestion, you could then take the necessary means of restoring them to their normal functions. But if you are unaware that anything is wrong with them, you are apt to continue with the same destructive habits were responsible for their deterioration.

Would it not be a good plan for us to occasionally have our body mechanism checked over to determine deficiencies? There will undoubtedly come a time when every human being will have himself examined once or twice yearly, not only as a check upon his health, but as a stimulation toward better health.

I know that many people are afraid to consult doctors for fear they will advise operation, but this attitude of mind is certainly foolish. Ignorance is not a safeguard. I cannot give accurate advice to those writing in about symptoms alone, but if a doctor's report is included with the name of the disease or diseases from which the patient is suffering, it is then easy for me to send articles or advice based upon the inquirer's needs.

It is not unusual for invalids to live to a much riper age than a healthy individual. This is because they realize their own limitations and take the best of care of themselves.

Deaths from heart disease are not nearly as frequent as they were at one time, simply because doctors can recognize heart disease in its early stages and warn the patient against extreme exertion, and tubercular tendency can be recognized in patients before the disease has actually obtained its foothold, and the patient can be warned against becoming overtired.

The man who thinks he is too busy to have a health examination is the man who will probably die at an early age from some entirely preventable disease. A few hours now spent in leaving the condition of your health and the right methods of living may result in adding many years of happiness and health to your life.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Electricity in Body? Question—S. S. asks: "Could you tell me the cause of excess electricity in a person? Almost everything they touch, especially the hot water tap and electric light keeps them on the hop."

Answer—What you have left is probably static electricity which is often generated by your shoes as you walk across the carpet. Just try this experiment: shuffle across the room without your feet leaving the carpet, then touch the door knob and you will find you will be able to get a spark from your fingertips. This is static electricity. If you touch a water faucet or any other metal. It may be possible that your electric light socket is defective, and you may be getting a spark of real 110 volt alternating current. Better have an electrician examine the wire. If there is a "short" in the light socket, you may get a severe shock if you touch the metal of the socket and the water faucet at the same time. Many people have been killed from turning on a light while standing in the bathtub.

The MYSTERY of the BLUE TRAIN

by AGATHA CHRISTIE

"A choir boys' picnic indeed", came from "Miss Viner." Tommy Saunders and Albert Dykes ought to be left behind, and I shan't subscribe to it unless they are doing in church on Sunlays I don't know. Tommy sang, 'O God, make speed to us, and never opened his lips again, and if Albert Dykes wasn't sucking a mint humbug, my nose is not what it is and always has been."

"I know, they are awful", agreed Katherine.

She opened her second letter, and a sudden flush came to her cheeks. Miss Viner's voice in the room seemed to recede into the far distance.

When she came back to a sense of her surroundings Miss Viner was bringing a long speech to a triumphant termination.

"And I said to her, 'Not at all. As it happens, Miss Grey is Lady Tamplin's own cousin'. What do you think of that?"

"Were you fighting my battles for me? That was very sweet of you."

"You can put it that way if you like. There is nothing to me in a title. Vicer's wife or vicar's wife, that woman is a cat. Hinting you had bought your way into Society."

"Perhaps she was not so very far wrong."

"And look you", continued Miss Viner. "Have you come back a stuck-up fine lady, as well you might have done? No, there you are, as sensible as ever you were, with a pair of good Gallego stockings on and sensible shoes. I spoke to Ellen about it only yesterday. 'Ellen', I said, 'I love that Miss Grey. She has been hobnobbing with some of the greatest in the land, and does she go about as you do with skirts up to her knees and silk stockings that ladder when you look at them, and the most ridiculous shoes that ever I set eyes on?'"

Katherine smiled a little to herself; it had apparently been worth while to inform Miss Viner's prejudices. The old lady went on with increasing gusto.

"It has been a great relief to me that you have not had your head turned. Only the other day I was looking for my cuttings. I have several about Lady Tamplin and her War Hospital and what not, but I cannot lay my hand upon them. I wish you would look, my dear; your eyesight is better than mine. They are all in a box in the bureau drawer."

Katherine glanced down at the letter in her hand and was about to speak, but checked herself, and going over to the bureau found the box of cuttings and began to look over them. Since her return to St. Mary Mead her heart had gone out to Miss Viner in admiration of the old woman's sticium and pluck. She felt that there was little she could do for her old friend, but she knew from experience how much those seemingly small trifles meant to old people.

"Here is one", she said presently. "Viscountess Tamplin, who is running her villa at Nice as an Officers' Hospital, has just been the victim of a sensational robbery, her jewels having been stolen. Amongst them were some very famous emeralds, heirlooms of the Tamplin family."

"Possibly paste", said Miss Viner; "a lot of these Society women's jewels are."

"Here is another", said Katherine. "A picture of her. A charming camera study of Viscountess Tamplin with her little daughter Lenox."

"Let me look", said Miss Viner. "You can't see much of the child's face, can you? But I dare say that is just as well. Things go by contraries in this world and beautiful mothers have hideous children. I dare say the photographer realized that to take the back of the child's head was the best thing he could do for her."

Katherine laughed.

"One of the smartest hostesses on the Riviera this season is Viscountess Tamplin, who has a villa at Cap Martin. Her cousin, Miss Grey, who recently inherited a vast fortune in a most romantic manner, is staying with her there."

"That is the one I wanted", said Miss Viner. "I expect there has been a picture of you in one of the papers that I have missed; you know the kind of thing. Mrs. Somebody or other Jones-Williams, at the something or other Point-to-Point, usually carrying a shooting-stick and having one foot lifted up in the air. It must be a trial to some of them to see what they look like."

Katherine smiled and said. She was smoothing out the cutting with her finger, and her face had a puzzled, worried look. Then she drew the second letter out of its envelope and mastered its contents once more. She turned to her friend.

"Miss Viner? I wonder—there is a friend of mine who once I met on the Riviera, who wants very much to come down and see me here?"

"A man", said Miss Viner.

"Yes."

"Who is he?"

"He is secretary to Mr. Van Aldin, the American millionaire."

"What is his name?"

"Knighton Major Knighton."

"Hm—secretary to a millionaire. And wants to come down here. Now, Katherine, I am going to say something to you for your own good. You are a nice girl and a sensible girl, and though you have your head screwed on the right way about most things, every woman makes a fool of herself once in her life. Ten to one what this man is after is your money."

With a gesture she arrested Katherine's reply. "I have been waiting for something of this kind. What is a secretary to a millionaire? Nine times out of ten it is a young man who likes living soft. A young man with nice manners and a taste for luxury and no brains and no enterprize, and if there is anything that is a softer job than being a secretary to a millionaire it is marrying a rich woman for her money. I am not saying that you might not be some man's fancy. But you are not young, and though you are not a beauty of complexion you are not a beauty of face, and what I say to you is, don't make a fool of yourself; but if you are determined to do so, do see that your money is properly tied up on yourself. There, now I have finished. What have you got to say?"

"Nothing", said Katherine; "but would you mind if he did come down to see me?"

"I wash my hands of it", said Miss Viner. "I have done my duty, and whatever happens now is on your own head. Would you like him to lunch or to dinner? I dare say Ellen could manage dinner—that is, if she doesn't lose her head."

"Lunch would be very nice", said Katherine. "It is awfully kind of you, Miss Viner. He asked me to ring up, so I will do so and say that we shall be pleased if he will lunch with us. He will motor down from town."

"Ellen does a steak with grilled potatoes pretty fairly", said Miss Viner. "She doesn't do it well, but she does it better than anything else. It is no good having a tart because she is heavy handed with pastry; but her little castle puddings are not bad, and I dare say you could find a nice piece of Stilton at Abbot's. I have always heard that gentlemen like a nice piece of Stilton, and there is a good deal of father's wine left,

Oh, no, Miss Viner; that is really not necessary."

"Nonsense, my child. No gentleman is happy unless he drinks something with his meal. There is some good pre-war whiskey if you think he would prefer that. Now do as I say and don't argue. The key of the wine-cellar is in the third drawer down in the dressing-table, in the second pair of stockings on the left-hand side."

Katherine went obediently to the spot indicated.

"The second pair, now, mind", said Miss Viner. "The first pair has my diamond earrings and my filigree brooch in it."

"Oh, said Katherine, rather taken aback, "wouldn't you like them put in your jewel-case?"

Miss Viner gave vent to a terrific and prolonged snort.

"No, indeed! I have too much sense for that sort of thing, thank you. Dear, dear, I will remember how my poor father had a safe built in downstairs. Pleasas as Punch he was with it, and he said to my mother, 'Now, Mary, you bring me your jewels in their case every night and I will lock them away for you.' My mother was a very tactful woman, and she knew that gentlemen like having their own way, and she brought him the jewel-case locked up just as he said."

"And one night burglars broke in, and of course—naturally—the first thing they went for was the safe! It would be, with my father talking up and down the village and bragging about it until you might have thought he kept all King Solomon's diamonds there. They made a clean sweep, got the tankards, the silver cups, and the presentation gold plate that my father had had presented to him, and the jewel-case."

She sighed reminiscently. "My father was in a great state over my mother's jewels. There was the Venetian set and some very fine canoes, and some pale pink corals, and two diamond rings with quite large stones in them. And then, of course, she had to tell him that, being a sensible woman, she had kept her jewelry rolled up in a pair of corsets, and there it was still as safe as anything."

"And the jewel-case had been quite empty?"

Travel By Canoe Is Popular In Eastern Canada Owing To Numerous Inland Waterways

Many Opportunities for This Popular Pastime Are Offered—Canoe Insures Vacationist a Freedom Which Few Other Pastimes Can Offer—Cruising by Canoe Is Steadily Increasing in Popularity—Quebec Province Has Its Share to Offer in Way of Canoe Cruises.

Down through the years of discovery, exploration and fur-trading the canoe and paddle have been linked with Canadian history. As a means of exploration it was particularly suited to long journeys on the vast network of connected waterways which extend from the coast to the interior. Without the aid of the canoe, knowledge of the extent and possibilities of the country would have been long delayed. In more recent years the canoe has become more or less of a pleasure craft, although it still is the regular means of transportation in some wilderness sections of the Dominion and is assisting materially in the exploitation of newly discovered mineral areas.

FREEDOM OF CANOE TRIP

As a pleasure craft the canoe ensures the vacationist an independence and freedom possible in few other ways. The growing popularity of cruising by canoe is indicated by the increasing number of inquiries reaching the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, requesting information on Canada's inland waterways. These inquiries presage a season of pleasure, which may be spent on short trips from a main camp, or on the voyages of the adventurous through the byways of the wilderness.

In general a map of eastern Canada shows only a small portion of the waterways suitable for canoeing. The lakes and streams are so numerous that even the largest scale maps generally issued do not show them all. The routes open to canoeists are numberless, and each in its own fashion has charms to fascinate the traveller. The province of Nova Scotia has special attractions in the lake areas of Queens, Annapolis and Lunenburg counties. There, lake Rossignol, lake Kejimikujik, and the Medway river recall their devotees and add new ones every summer. Farther west towards Yarmouth are the Sissiboo, Tusket, Jordan, and Roseway rivers. From Halifax the Dartmouth and Panhook lakes are easily reached, and on the Shubenacadie river one may journey down to Maitland or Truro. In Cape Breton are the Bas d'Or waters, that golden arm of the sea surrounded by scenes of pastoral beauty and mountain grandeur. There also the beautiful Mira river offers a short but interesting cruise.

Rivers and Lakes Offer Variety of Trip

The rivers and lakes of New Brunswick offer a variety of trips. Rugged and picturesque country is traversed in the cruise from Plaster Rock to Bathurst by the Tobique and Nepisiguit rivers, or by turning north at Portage brook the Upsalquitch river may be followed down to Matapedia. The Miramichi river, which crosses the province from west to east, is another famous cruise. The Saint John river is a most interesting trip, the scenery is varied and one is seldom far from sources of supply to replenish depleted larders. The canoeist who abhors portaging will find only one short carry in the course of the two hundred miles between Grand Falls and Saint John.

Many Cruises in Quebec

In Quebec there are many cruises where all supplies must be taken in at the start of the trip. The route from lake St. John to lake Mistassini is one that falls in this category, and is a wilderness trip in every sense. Along the line of the Canadian National railway in northern Quebec almost every station is a potential starting point for a wilderness trip. Scores of trips are available in the more settled portions of the province and those that have taken the run from Maniwaki to Ottawa, through the Thirty One Mile lake region will long remember it.

The canoeing areas in Ontario are legion, and the famous Rideau Lakes, Kawartha Lakes, Muskoka, Georgian Bay, Algonquin Park, and French River trips, and others scarcely need mention. Northern Ontario is fast becoming a favorite cruising area, and the exploring canoe is opening up new routes. The country north of the Ontario-Minnesota border—the Quetico region, Lake of the Woods, Rainy lake and north to Sioux Lookout welcomes returning canoeists year after year. The Albany river, the Missinabi, Mattagam, and Abitibi rivers and others

TO SAFEGUARD GREAT SITES OF DOMINION

Department of Interior Is Doing Very Valuable Work in Perpetuating Memory of Salient Events in History of Canada.

The work of the Department of the Interior in perpetuating the memory of the salient episodes in the history of the Dominion is once recalled by the recent meeting of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada. Scattered throughout the Dominion are physical evidences of some of the most romantic and interesting incidents in the annals of the North American continent. In order that these historical features should not be lost to posterity, the Ministry of the Interior a few years ago appointed the Board to advise the Department on all matters relating to this subject. Having duly considered the Board's recommendations the Department of the Interior thereupon decides what is to be done, and through its National Parks Service marks the sites with artistically designed tablets set on cairns; or some monuments or nearby permanent structures and in the case where ancient objects, buildings, or ruins exist, carries out an effective scheme of preservation. In this way across her wide expanse, from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Great Lakes to the Arctic seas, Canada nurtures for posterity the glory of her past. Since the inception of this work in 1919 the Department of the Interior, on the recommendation of the Board has marked one hundred and twenty-nine sites by the erection of suitable memorials. Others are being acquired from time to time and it is hoped to mark eventually all those throughout Canada which are of a distinctive national character.

During last year a number of sites of national importance were marked and among the monuments unveiled amid appropriate ceremony was once commemorating the land-

Many an otherwise fine score has been wrecked by this hole on the Jasper Park Lodge Golf Course, Jasper National Park, Alberta, over which the Canadian and Western Canada Amateur Championships will be played, Aug. 19-24, this summer. The reason is obvious by a study of the green in the upper photo and of the lay-out as shown in detail by the lower panel.

Fine fields of golfers are assured for the two big events over this fine course this summer and the dove-tailing of the Western Canada Championship with the Dominion title event, insures plenty of competitive golf for experts and dubs alike.

Bird Sanctuaries Of Quebec Are Well Known To Tourists And Are Frequently Visited

Sea Birds in Their Protected Shelter on St. Lawrence Provide Thrilling Spectacle to Visitors—Are Steadily Increasing in Number Owing to Protection Given—Already Quebec Has Thirteen Sanctuaries—All Are Under Federal and Quebec Governments.

Thousands of sea-birds—gannets, eider ducks, puffins, cormorants, terns, and many others—wheeling and screaming or covering the nesting ledge like banks of snow, is the scene which presents itself to the visitor to the bird sanctuaries of the gulf of St. Lawrence. Since the earliest times the Bird Rocks of the Magdalen islands, Perce Rock, and Bonaventure island off the Gaspé coast and the islands along the north shore of the gulf have been the breeding grounds for countless numbers of sea-birds, and the protection their bird inhabitants have received because of the Migratory Birds Convention Act, has resulted in greatly increasing their numbers. Each year the sanctuaries are visited by a migratory bird officer from the Department of the Interior and careful note is made of the increase among the birds under protection.

The fame of the bird sanctuaries of the St. Lawrence, which number thirteen, has spread and growing throngs of tourists make the trip by rail or steamer each year. The Gaspé Coast rookeries were set aside in 1919 and those along the northern shore of the gulf were established in 1925. All are under the joint control of the Dominion Government and the Quebec Provincial authorities.

Great Bird Sanctuaries
The bird sanctuaries off the Gaspé coast, which are reached with ease by rail to the quaint little town of Perce, are better known than those of the north shore and consequently the thrilling picture of the great throngs of gannets which inhabit the Bird Rocks, Perce Rock and Bonaventure island are known to many. Nevertheless even those who have rowed about these islands daily for years can never behold the scene without a thrill of emotion. In addition to the attraction of the sanctuaries, the Gaspé coast offers beautiful shore and forest scenery, bathing, fishing and boating, and in the holiday season the accommodation of the modern summer hotels and boarding houses of the locality is taxed with the hundreds of visitors.

Sanctuaries Can Be Reached With Ease
Although the nearest of the north shore sanctuaries is situated about 400 miles east of the city of Quebec, they can be reached with comparative ease, as well appointed steamers with frequent sailings, serve that region during the summer months. The chief bird inhabitants of the north shore preserves are puffins, razor-billed auks, eider ducks, gulls and terns. The inspiring spectacle at the sanctuaries is not the only enjoyment to be gained from a trip to the gulf of St. Lawrence. The steamer voyage to the north shore sanctuaries is in itself a delight. Sailings are made from Quebec and the stops at the little settlements are highlights of the trip. Here, is a thriving new town with a modern pier and electric light system, the centre of extensive pulpwood operations of the most up-to-date kind. There is a sleepy little fishing hamlet, where passengers, mail, and freight are transferred between ship and shore by a small row-boat. Next a stop is made at a fur trading post with its picturesque Indians, and then at a thriving village of 1,100 souls, the largest community in the 400,000 square miles of the Labrador peninsula, and a bishop's seat.

The scenery along the route is enchanting. Delightful little islands in intricate arrangement; ancient hills of red granite, not wholly hidden by the soft greens and grays of the vegetation; spouting whales, whirling clouds of sea-birds; and sunsets of unusual glory; each adding in turn to the attractiveness and charm of the surroundings.

Wide Range of Fish Products in Fisheries

Sardine and Smelt Fisheries Are Important—All Kinds of Fish May Be Found.

From sea mammals eighty feet in length and comprising all species of whale; and from true fish varieties, such as the tuna of the mackerel family, fourteen feet in length and weighing fifteen hundred pounds; halibut, six hundred pounds; swordfish, eight hundred pounds; and sturgeon, five hundred pounds; to sardine herring and small-baited fellows of the water—this long range of fish life upon which the commercial fisheries of Canada thrive. Smelt and sardine herring are little fellows but a statement issued by the Dominion Fisheries Branch shows that they do not bulk small in the fisheries of the Atlantic coast. Indeed, the Miramichi River district in New Brunswick possesses the largest smelt fishery in the world.

The Atlantic sardines are the young of the herring which frequent the waters of the Grand Manan and Passamaquoddy Bay district of New Brunswick in immense numbers. The fish are especially abundant in the vicinity of Campbell Island, Deer Island, and smaller adjacent islands.

These sardines travel in great shoals and are captured in weirs of which there are more than five hundred built along the coast on the course usually followed by the fish. The entrance of the sardines into the weirs can be plainly seen, and the gates of the weirs are closed. The fish are drawn from the weirs by means of seine nets, whence they are loaded into boats by dip nets and conveyed immediately to the sardine cannery where they are quickly processed into the canned sardine product.

The catch for 1928 was 262,000 barrels. Of this catch ninety per cent. was taken in the districts already referred to and the remainder in St. John County waters. The herring sardines have the highest food value of any canned fish product. They are put up in cottonseed oil, olive oil, tomato sauce, mustard and other sauces to suit the requirements of the trade. Canned sardines are used for the best grades, and pure olive oil for the best grade. The cans contain about four ounces, the number of fish in each can ranging from six or eight to twenty-four according to grade.

Highly Prized Pan Fish
The smelt is one of the most delicate, tasty, and highly prized pan fish inhabiting the sea. It is of the salmonoid family, and has a wide distribution in the North Atlantic waters, which include those of the New England States, but Canada produces about 75 per cent. of the total catch. In the early winter smelts enter the rivers, where they are caught by means of gill-nets, bag-nets, box-nets, and hook and line. The box-net, a form of trap-net, is used in New Brunswick waters only, principally on the flats of the Miramichi river. Bag-nets are usually operated through holes cut in the ice. Gill-nets are chiefly used in open water before the ice forms.

The catch for the Miramichi River district is particularly noteworthy, as it constitutes more than fifty per cent. of the total. This district, which, as has been pointed out, has the largest and most important smelt fishery in the world, markets about 4,000,000 pounds annually.

The catch in New Brunswick is largely sold in a fresh frozen condition to dealers in the United States, or held in local cold storage establishments for favorable markets. In Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island a considerable portion of the catch, usually used in barrels, is shipped fresh, and commands the highest market prices.

A TEASER

No. 9, Cleopatra—215 yards, Par 3.

The ninth hole of the Jasper Park Lodge Golf Course, Jasper National Park, Alberta, over which the amateur championship of the Royal Canadian Golf Association will be played August 19-24 this summer, is one of the trickiest in Canada. The championship tee (No. 1) is considerably elevated and the green, which is very fast, is also built up high. The trick, therefore, is to play a tee shot which will hold the green. Yawning traps surround the green to eat up the strokes of the golfer who fails to play this hole properly. Like its famous namesake, "Cleopatra" is likely to wreck a lot of reputations at Jasper in August.

Co-incident with the Canadian Amateur the Western Canada Amateur will be played over the Jasper Park Lodge Course, and this will provide plenty of competition for those whose high handicaps automatically keeps them out of the Dominion event.

The upper photograph was made from No. 1 tee. Below it is a plan to scale showing the hole in detail with the three tees plainly indicated. The figures below represent the yardages.

FAMOUS LECTURER HERE IN FALL

The Y's Men lecture committee met yesterday afternoon in connection with the lecture of Lowell Thomas, which will be held in the 55rd Armory, under the auspices of the Y's Men's Club, on November 12th.

Preliminary plans in connection with the lecture were gone into and, among other matters discussed, was the type of address to be given by Mr. Thomas. The committee finally decided that, owing to interest in Afghanistan and the East, the lecture "Through Romantic India and Into Forbidden Afghanistan," which is illustrated by moving picture films of the country, would be the choice of the general public.

McGILL UNIVERSITY MATRICULATION RESULTS

Many pupils of Bishop's College School, Lennoxville, and King's Hall Ladies' College, Compton, are included in the list of those who have been admitted to first year in arts in McGill University through passing their junior matriculation examinations. No students of the high schools of the province are included in this list, as they will qualify through the High School Leaving examinations, which this year are being conducted for the first time by the Provincial Department of Education. Thus until that list is published, the successful students in the high schools will not be known.

Those who are now announced as being successfully admitted to McGill wrote the examinations set by the university itself. Those from

ADDING TO OLD SILK MILL FOR NEW COMPANY

Boiler House and Dye House Being Added to Old Kayser Mill for Arcadia Company—Considerable Building in Progress—Total for Six Months Low Owing to No Single Big Construction.

An addition is being made to the western end of the Julius Kayser factory on Frontenac street, above their present building, in preparation for the Arcadia Silk Mills, the company which is to occupy it shortly. The addition will constitute a boiler house and a dye house, and will form an important part of the factory as occupied by its new tenants. A total of about $16,000 is being put into the new construction.

The Arcadia Silk Mills will manufacture rayon silk and will be an important new industry for the city. About one hundred and fifty hands will be employed, it is stated, most of them being skilled workers. In the month of June new building amounting to $100,200 was in progress in the city, this amount excluding repairs to buildings and also new buildings which were commenced previously to June. The most important of the new buildings commenced during the month were Memorial Y. W. C. A., donated by Mr. G. D. MacKinnon, which is under way at the corner of Montreal and William street, amounting to $64,000; and a sixteen-tenement house being built on Galt Street at a cost of $25,000. Other smaller jobs brought the total for the month to over the $100,000 mark. Since June, work has commenced on the new arena on the exhibition grounds and on the addition to the Arcadia Silk Mills on Frontenac street, which, with other smaller works, means that a considerable amount of building is going on here now.

The total amount of new building commenced here in June, $100,200, was considerably below that in June of the two previous years, when it amounted to $177,600 in June 1928 and to $229,300 in June 1927. The large amount of work in June of these two years, however, was due to the convent and St. Charles Seminary building operations, commenced in June 1927, and to the construction of a number of large houses, garages and office buildings in June of last year. In June 1926, new construction commenced was only $77,100.

Summary of Past Six Months. New building commenced during the first six months of this year, January to June, inclusive, has amounted to $314,200. In June the amount was $100,200, as stated; in May, $80,700, the largest part of which was in the Royal Hotel Garage and new apartment houses on Gillespie, Short and Queen Streets; in April, $73,400, the largest single work being an addition to Mont Notre Dame Convent, Convent St., in March, $22,900; in February, $15,000; and in January, $22,000, the largest item being for the British American Oil Company garage and service station on Water street.

The total for new building in the first six months of this year, as outlined above, amounting to $314,200, is the lowest for the same period for five years. Last year the total was $507,050; in 1927 it was $342,475; and in 1926, $394,700. The decrease, however, has been due to the fact that there has, so far this year, been no single very large construction as there has been in the first part of other years recently. For instance, last year the Grand Theatre accounted for $285,000 alone, while in 1927 the additions to the Convent and Seminary accounted for $229,300 alone. Taking these facts into consideration, building has had an average year in Sherbrooke so far in 1929, and with the new arena building and a number of other fairly large new works which may be expected during the remainder of the year, the total for twelve months should be good.

The two well known boarding schools in the Eastern Townships, Bishop's and King's Hall, who have passed their matriculation, are as follows: in order of merit and with the marks obtained (out of a total possible of 1,000):
C. M. Drury, Bishop's, 782, who ranked seventh in the 450 pupils writing; Donald C. Markey, Bishop's, 735; P. W. Blaylock, Bishop's, 723; H. M. Howell, Bishop's, and Diana C. Petry, King's Hall, equal, 720; Jocelyn B. Crabtree, King's Hall, 698; Dorothy L. Kathernie E. Smith, King's Hall, equal, 689; Ian Ogilvie, Bishop's, 653; Alexandra Elizabeth Newton, King's Hall, 645; J. F. Maskin, Bishop's, 638; P. G. Sise, Bishop's, 622; Ian Breakley, Bishop's, 609.

LENOXVILLE LENNOXVILLE BAND GIVES CONCERT

The third in the series of concerts given by the Lennoxville band, in the open air took place on Wednesday evening from the band-stand in the town hall grounds. A crowd of appreciative listeners gathered, both on foot and in cars, the horns of the automobiles being used as an expression of the enjoyment of their owners. The music and the beauty of the summer night were factors which made the occasion a very pleasant one.

LEADERS' COUNCIL HELD

A special meeting of the District Leaders' Council was held at the home of S.M. Trussler, when several important items of business were discussed. The Scouts of Sherbrooke have again been requested to act as ushers at the Sherbrooke Exhibition, and this subject was given considerable thought by those present. It is expected that S.M. Clarence Price will be in charge of the ushering this year, assisted by all scout and cub leaders, and the same arrangement will be made as in previous years. Reports of annual camps were given by C.M. Waller, of the 7th Pack, S.M. Wright, of the 4th Troop, C.M. Blake, of the 2nd Pack, and S.M. Trussler, of the 6th Troop, while S.M. Muzey announced the intention of the 1st Troop to hold several week-end camps. The question of a week-end excursion to Owl's Head and fall display was left over till the next meeting, when committees will be appointed. After the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. W. Trussler.

"It's your turn to have Mother"

HONOUR thy father and thy mother." Most of us remember the commandment but in later life when we become fathers and mothers ourselves we are apt to consider the responsibility for our own parents' upkeep a bit of a burden. Cases are not rare when family quarrels have arisen because children don't want mother or father unloaded on them for so many months each year.

Well, do you, yourself, want to be in this position when you will have become old?

Certainly not! Then prevent it so far as lies in your power by setting aside part of your earnings now, so that when the time comes, you will not need to sacrifice your self-respect by becoming a burden to your children. The Daily Record

Published daily, except Sundays, by the Sherbrooke Record Company, Ltd., 69 Wellington Street North, Sherbrooke, Que. ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY 9, 1887.

CANADIANS AT BISLEY MEET Canada's representatives at Bisley are again making an excellent showing this year. Not only have they recaptured the Rajah of Kolapore's Imperial Challenge Cup, one of the two most prized trophies of the National Rifle Association's meeting, but they finished second to England yesterday in the Mackinnon Cup competition, three tied with an Englishman yesterday for first place in the Prince of Wales Prize, and eleven members of the team, including Lieut. J. W. Houlden, of Sherbrooke, as well as four attached Canadians, have earned the right to shoot today in the second round of the King's Prize.

The victories of the Canadians arouse no little pride among Canadians in general.

A PRACTICAL SUGGESTION

The suggestion relative to the parking problem in Sherbrooke presented by Alderman J. K. Edwards in a letter addressed to Alderman L. R. Langis, chairman of the finance committee, a copy of which was published in the Record this week, is very timely and practical, and should be given careful study when it is brought before the City Council.

Speaking as a real estate man, Alderman Edwards expresses himself as being strongly in favor of purchasing the Webster property at the foot of Meadow Street for a municipal parking site. He claims that this is the only suitable property available within reasonable distance of busy Wellington Street, and is of the opinion that with very few alterations it could be turned into an ideal six months' parking ground, while during the winter it could very well serve as an open-air skating rink, thus being put to good advantage throughout the year.

Speaking of the cost to the city, Alderman Edwards estimates that the site could be operated for $2,000 a year. He arrives at this estimate in the following manner:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes Purchase price of property ($24,500), Removing buildings and improvements ($500), Total ($25,000), Six per cent. interest on $25,000 ($1,500), Loss of taxes to city ($500), Supervision twenty-six weeks at $20 a week ($500), Total ($2,500), Less net revenue from terrace ($500), Annual cost to city ($2,000).

The parking problem in Sherbrooke has during the past few years become a serious matter, and at the present time is causing the municipal authorities considerable worry. This is not a problem which will right itself. It is one which needs wise and sane study in which the future must be taken into consideration.

It would seem that Alderman Edwards has brought forward a suggestion which would be in the interest of all concerned, and one which, if acted upon immediately, would settle the present parking problem and in no small degree take care of the added traffic that is certain to develop in Sherbrooke during the next few years.

CIVILIZATION AND DEATH (By Glenn Frank)

Raymond Pearl, in his fascinating and fact-filled volume on "The Biology of Death," suggests that death is the price we pay for being such complicated creatures.

If we were one-celled beings like the amoeba, we might live forever.

Woodruff and Erdman, two biologists, have managed to keep one-celled organisms alive for eight thousand of their generations.

If the biologists could, in like manner, keep a man alive for eight thousand human generations, he would reach the ripe age of 250,000 years.

Alexis Carrel kept a part of the heart of an embryo chicken alive for thirteen years, several years longer than the chicken would have lived.

But, it seems, when life moves out of the simple one-celled stage into the complicated many-celled stage, the story changes.

It seems that it is never a case of our dying all over; some part of us fails to keep step with the rest of our physical system; the whole machinery is brought to a standstill because some part breaks down; the larger part of us may be good for a long stretch of years, but when some single part gives way, we die.

As long as all parts of our complicated being co-operate, and as long as we can eliminate the poisons that accumulate in us, we live.

There is in this warning to our increasingly complicated civilization.

It holds up a warning finger to the merger maniacs who are today bringing small units of business into ever bigger and bigger organizations.

There is, in business and industry, a point of size beyond which efficiency diminishes.

The secret of all life is to keep it manageable.

Size may be septic; bigness may be bad for us.

All over the Western world today we are finding that democracy dies when the nation becomes too large and too complicated.

To make democracy work in the city of Athens or in a New England Town Meeting is one thing; to try to run an empire by democracy is quite another undertaking.—Cpt. 1929.

PRESS COMMENT

CHICAGO'S PATRIOTISM. (New Orleans Times-Picayune)

Internationalism has gone pretty far when it is shown that Chicago's St. Patrick's Day shamrocks were made in Germany, and her Fourth of July starry flags hail from Japan.

THE PRINCE AND THE MINERS. (Leeds Yorkshire Weekly Post)

It is characteristic of the Royal family that second-hand information on the plight of the people is not enough. The close personal interest of the King and his sons in the actuality of working life has often been manifested. In no case have eye-witnesses' reports been allowed to suffice. By personal inspection of working conditions and personal conversation with those actually "doing the job" the royal views have been formed.

FASHIONS IN FIGURES. (London Times)

C. B. Cochran, the London theatrical producer, has decided in favor of plumper women. Dressmakers, for once in a while, are not to lead, but to follow, and, having for so long concentrated upon endeavors to make women look more slim than nature has made them, they are already setting out to design frocks for the woman instead of expecting woman to shape herself to the frocks. Frenchwomen welcome Mr. Cochran's dictum, for some of their best judges of feminine beauty have recently declared that while the cult of slimmest suited English women and Americans, it placed women of the Latin races at a disadvantage. Everything points to the probability that this time nature is to enjoy a triumph over fashion.

WINGS THAT STAY UP. (Christian Science Monitor)

Roaring through the skies for ten and a quarter days—eclipsing by an astonishing margin the previous records for sustained flight—the Angeleno has presented a new challenge to the aeronautical engineer. Loren W. Mendell and Roland Reinhart, circling their airplane overhead for more than 10,000 miles, have brought aviation to the point where days instead of hours are the measure of men's ability to remain aloft. The next step is the development of a type of aircraft power which will make such accomplishments possible without the necessity of refueling.

Aviation authorities have long looked forward to the development of a new fuel or application of existing fuels which will greatly increase the range of aircraft. The recent endurance flights, so greatly advanced by the performance at Culver City, Calif., indicate that flying can make its best contributions in the conquest of tremendous distances. It is possible that the improvement in the technique of refueling, and the development of commercial systems for its application, may greatly advance the present limits of practical flight. But refueling, at its best, could not compare with the possibilities of an airplane which could obtain similar results upon the basis of its own power.

Only a few years ago it was believed that the Diesel engine was far too heavy for use in airplanes. This type of motor has numerous advantages. Among them the cheapness of fuel oil as compared to gasoline and the smaller amount of fuel which would have to be carried. Engineering refinements during the past few months have resulted in a practical Diesel for airplane use. Although there is no immediate possibility of replacing the gasoline engine, the development of this new source of airplane power is a likely outcome to be watched with interest.

Perhaps the first real airplane duration flight should be credited to Wilbur Wright, who flew above France for nearly two and one-half hours in 1908. The dynamic progress of aviation in the two subsequent decades affords the promise that the achievement of the Angeleno may be equalled by an airplane that will

DEATHS REPORTED

MR. HENRY McDONALD, WAY'S MILLS

WAY'S MILLS, Que., July 19.—On July 4th, Mr. Henry McDonald died at his home here after a lingering illness following a shock which he had on December 2nd, 1927. He was a son of the late John McDonald and his wife, Polly Harris.

He was born in Barnston on February 9th, 1867. In early life he married Jennie Wheeler, who passed away nine years ago. Of this union eight children were born, five of whom are living. Mrs. Minnie Carr, of Derby Line, Vt., Mrs. George Humphrey, of Eastis, and Gertrude, Kate and Arthur, of this place. He also leaves four brothers, John, of Morgan, Bert, of Lowell, and Charles and George, of Tomlinson, Mass., and two sisters, Mrs. Leonard Young, of Morgan, Vt., and Mrs. Burt Wheeler, of Greenfield, Mass. During his illness he had been cared for by his children. He had spent part of the winter with his daughter in Eastis. This spring he returned and was unable to leave his bed for several weeks before his death. The devotion of his daughter, Kate, on whom he relied so much, was untiring. She was assisted by Mrs. Young, of Morgan.

The funeral was held at the home on July 6th, with Rev. Mr. Conklin, of Derby Line, officiating. Rev. Mr. Smith, of Hatley, officiating. A favorite hymn, "Higher Ground," was sung by Mr. Lee Holmes and Mr. Graves, of Holland. Interment was in Burbank Cemetery.

There were many beautiful flowers. The funeral was under the management of Mr. J. Downing, of Rock Island, and the bearers were Messrs. L. Bean, F. C. Daniels, A. H. Dyson and T. H. Aldrich.

MR. HAMILTON COREY, BARNSTON

BARNSTON, Que., July 19.—The death of Mr. Hamilton Corey occurred at his late home here on July 3rd, following a long and trying illness, which was borne with quiet patience and fortitude.

The funeral was held in St. James' Church, Hatley, on July 5th, and was attended by a large congregation of sympathizing friends of all creeds. The Rev. A. E. E. Legge, rector of St. Stephen's Church, Coaticook, of which Mr. Corey was a consistent and faithful member, and Rev. W. W. Smith, rector of St. James' Church, Hatley, assisted by the Rev. C. E. Bishop, of Indianapolis, Ind., a lifelong friend, officiated. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

Mr. Chas. E. Akhurst, of Coaticook, had charge of the funeral arrangements, assisted by Mr. H. Cunningham, S. A. Mesde, G. W. Smith, W. A. McClary, W. N. Horn and F. C. Daniels. Four old friends of the deceased acted as pall bearers, Messrs. G. B. Hall, C. J. Cushing, Chas. E. Cleveland and W. H. Buckland. The hymns sung were "Peace Perfect Peace," "Now the Laborer's Task is O'er" and "There is No Night in Heaven." The casket was covered with beautiful flowers, mute evidence of the esteem in which the deceased was held.

The late Mr. Corey was born on August 18th, 1849, at Starbridge Ridge, the youngest son of Nelson Corey and Chloe Orcutt, his wife. He moved to Staunton County with his parents when a small boy. In December, 1861, he was married to Lillian Alberta Humphrey, daughter of the late C. W. Humphrey and Mrs. Humphrey. To this union seven children were born, five of whom together with his wife, survive him, namely, Rev. Hollis H. Corby, of Hilo, Hawaii, Sadie L., (Mrs. O. R. Bowen) of North Hatley, M. Benj. Corey, who resides on the old Corey homestead at Kingscroft, Irving F. Corey, of the Snagproof Company, Beeds, and Elsie B. (Mrs. Eugene G. Webb) of Verdun. The second son, Charles Nelson, died in Newburyport, Mass., in 1918, and Carol Ernest died in infancy. He also leaves twenty grandchildren to mourn his loss, one sister, Mrs. Louise Stith, of Claremont, N.H.; three nephews, Messrs. H. T. Corey, of Manchester, N.H., L. I. Corey, of Ennis, Okla., and H. L. Corey, of Vancouver, B.C., and one niece, Mrs. George Woodard, of Derby Line, Vt.

From youth until 1911 he was successfully engaged in farming at Kingscroft, then moving to Hatley for a few years. During residence at Kingscroft, he served as councillor for six years and as school commissioner for eighteen years, devoting much time to public service. All the members of both boards attended the funeral in a body.

In 1913 he moved to his late residence at Barnston to take up the duties of secretary-treasurer of the township, which office he efficiently filled until April, 1929, when he was obliged to resign owing to failing health.

During his long and useful life he was highly respected by all classes and creeds for his righteousness and integrity, and he is deeply mourned by his family for his unflinching kindness, his entire devotion and his utter unselfishness. He was always ready to give of his best in deed and example for the benefit of those around him. The sympathy of all is extended to the family, especially to the Rev. H. H. Corey, who, owing to the great distance, was unable to be with his father during his illness or to attend the funeral. Mr. Corey will long be remembered as a true friend, a good neighbor and a loyal citizen.

PIRATES' LEAD REDUCED TO A SINGLE GAME

Giants Turned Back National League Leaders Yesterday, While Cubs Registered a Victory at Expense of Robins.

(By Wm. J. Chipman, Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 19.—The first phase of John McGraw's own personal crucial battle against the high riding Pirates had just the result Joe McCarthy himself would have asked. The Giants turned back the Pirates by 4 to 1, as the McCarthy troops swept through the paper defenses of the Robins in Flatbush for an 11 to 7 decision which was not so close as it seemed.

Another Chicago victory today, matched by another Pirate defeat, would send the Cubs back to the top by a percentage margin, with the standing in games a virtual tie. The Pirates remained on the top of their league standing, but they enjoyed a margin of less than one full game.

The Cubs began their day with a seven run attack in the first which broke Dudley and bent Moss. From that point on it was merely a Chicago breeze, although the Robins did fire away at Carlson with such vigor in the sixth that Joe McCarthy deemed it wise to send out a right hander to finish the game.

Cards Staged a Late Rally. A five run rally in the eighth enabled old Alexander the Great to pick up credit for the Cards 6 to 4 victory over the Braves. Alexander gave way to batting relief in the big inning and Fred Kurnaz finished. The Phillies turned back Cincinnati by 6 to 4 in a game notable because no one hit a home run.

Maclean Increase Lead. The Yankees were rained out in Cleveland and the Athletics picked up a technical advantage of half a game by defeating Detroit by 8 to 4. The Maclean margin now is eight and a half contests. More important to Connie Mack than this paper advantage of having won game which the Yanks yet have to play was the showing of George Walberg, who in recent games had threatened to enter a slump.

Walberg gave the Bengals nine hits, but so scattered these that the afternoon was an athletic walk-over.

Washington opened its stay in St. Louis by winning a wild 10 to 3 decision. Seven Washington runs in the seventh decided the issue. The veteran Red Faber shaded Danny MacFayden in a fine pitching battle at Chicago and the White Sox defeated the Red Sox by 2 to 1 in ten innings.

DONATES GOLF CUP FOR JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Mr. George Murphy's Offer Gratefully Accepted by Directors of Sherbrooke Country Club.

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer)

A handsome trophy, emblematic of the junior golf championship, has been offered to the Sherbrooke Country Club by Mr. George Murphy, vice-president and general manager of J. S. Mitchell and Company, and has been gratefully accepted by the directors, who have felt that such encouragement to the younger players has been badly needed for some time.

This trophy will be known as the John Walsh Murphy Cup in memory of Mr. Murphy's son, who died on April 20th, 1927. It is particularly fitting that this trophy should be named after one who took an active interest in junior athletics. Owing to the fact that a large number of the junior members of the Country Club are out of town for the summer, it is planned to hold this championship late in the season, about the middle of September, in order that as many players as possible will be able to compete in the tournament.

LOUGHRAN WON QUITE EASILY OVER BRADDOCK

Light Heavyweight King Had No Trouble Eliminating Jersey City Boy in Fifteen Round Titular Battle at Yankee Stadium Last Night—Champion Piled Up Points With Stabbing Left Hand.

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 19.—Tommy Loughran was still the ruler of the light-heavyweight brigade today and James J. Braddock, Jersey City puncher, had only a boxing lesson to show for his meteoric climb to the ranks of contenders. Meeting Braddock in a fifteen round titular battle at the Yankee Stadium last night, Loughran piled up points with a stabbing left hand and won the decision beyond a question of a doubt.

Not once during the struggle could Braddock land squarely with his right hand. With that right hand Braddock had broken Peter Latzo's jaw; knocked out Tufty Griffith in two rounds and stopped the Buffalo speedster, Jimmy Slattery, in nine rounds.

Against Loughran, however, Braddock could find no use for his most potent weapon. Outspurred and outsmarted all the way, the Jersey City lad found the champion's left always ready to catch that wild overhand right that came his way. The Associated Press record told an eloquent story. Of the fifteen rounds, Braddock won only two, all the others going to the champion. There were no knockdowns.

A crowd of some 25,000 saw the scrap, with a "gate" in the neighborhood of $90,000. Loughran weighed 174 pounds. Braddock 170.

STRIBLING DEFEATED COOK
KANSAS CITY, July 19.—W. L. "Young" Stribling, Macon, Ga., heavyweight, won a newspaper decision here last night over George Cook, Australian champion, in a ten round bout. Stribling weighed in at 182 and Cook at 158.

LOCAL SHOOTER LED CANADIANS IN BISLEY TEAM

J. W. Houlden, of Sherbrooke, Was Leading When First Two Distances Had Been Fired, With 96 Out of Possible 100—Fifteen Canadians Took Part in Event.

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 19.—(By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—Under a hot sun, with hardly a breath of wind to stir the flags along the ranges, three hundred marksmen, including fifteen Canadians, shot in the second stage of the King's Prize today. The best hundred scorers enter tomorrow's final, and their scores of today are added to tomorrow's to decide the placing in this greatest of all events for an Empire marksman.

The second stage was fired at 300, 500 and 600 yards, ten shots at each distance. Lieutenant J. W. Houlden, of Sherbrooke, Que., led all the Canadians when the first two distances had been fired, with ninety-six out of a possible hundred. Lieutenant Colonel R. M. Blair, of Vancouver, and Lieutenant Desmond Burke, of Ottawa, were next with ninety-four. Company Sergeant Major G. M. Emalie, of Toronto, followed with ninety-three.

FOURTH AND LAST SHOOT TAKES PLACE TOMORROW.
The fourth and last shoot of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association will be held tomorrow afternoon.

LACROSSE

ADDITIONAL PLAYERS FOR BENEFIT GAME
A number of additional players for the benefit lacrosse game to be played Monday night have been recruited since his first announcement of the line-up was made. These players, who are all well known in sporting circles here, are Raul Blanchette, Oscar Lamere and Syd Echenberg. Blanchette was with the East Sherbrooke team last year, Lamere with the Nationals, and Echenberg one of the best of the St. Pats squad. These men will form a valuable addition to the line-up and will be welcomed by lacrosse lovers when they appear in uniform again.

Added interest will be given through the presence of two real old-timers as umpire and judge of play, these being Jim Watson and Alex Maguire. Both were players themselves in years past, and during the past few years have handled many of the senior games in this city.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

Has a player's grip anything to do with his pulling?

Answered By LAURIE AYTON
Always a consistent place winner in the big tournaments—Famed for his accuracy and steadiness under fire.

The grip does have an effect on pulling, but the stance has a greater effect. In order to correct pulling which results from a faulty grip, the right hand should be re-adjusted so that the finger tips are turned down (turn the hand in a counter-clockwise direction). However, as I have indicated, the stance is the greatest cause of pulling for almost any one at any time. The method of teeing the ball has little or nothing to do with this fault, nor does shortening or lengthening the grip help to correct the fault.

SHERBROOKE TO PLAY THETFORD HERE ON SUNDAY

Big Crowd Expected for Ball Game Sunday Afternoon—St. Roch Hopes to Retaliate for 6 to 2 Defeat Suffered in Thetford—Morin to Pitch.

Weather permitting, three o'clock Sunday afternoon will hear the famous cry, "Play Ball!" shouted by Grant Kelly, which will mean the calling to play of Thetford Mines and Sherbrooke St. Roch, two strong ball squads.

Thetford and Sherbrooke are on about equal strength and fans have been looking forward to the game for some time. Everything indicates that the attendance will be one of the largest this year. One of the directors of the St. Roch club states that he has met people during the week from Thetford, Black Lake, Weedon, Disraeli and other towns who are talking of the game and who intend to be present. A strong delegation from Thetford and all intermediate stations is apparently coming.

Two weeks ago Sherbrooke went to Thetford Mines and lost the decision by a 6 to 2 score, the game being called at the end of the sixth inning on account of rain. Daggett and Byrnes will form the battery for the visitors, while Morin and Landry will be the Sher-

TENNIS

TILDEN WON OPENING MATCH FOR U. S.

BERLIN, July 19.—Bill Tilden smashed his way to victory over Hans Moldenhauer, of Germany, in three straight sets today to give the United States the opening match in the inter-zone Davis Cup tennis finals against the Germans. The scores were 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

The German, eight years Tilden's junior, carried more speed of foot than Tilden, but the wizardry of the American's racket, dealing out a disconcerting mixture of cannonballs, stinging drives, volleys and drop shots had him guessing all the way.

brooke combination. Morin has won every game he has pitched on the local ball grounds this summer and is in very good shape. The St. Roch boys have a hard week-end ahead of them, for not only have they the game with Thetford on Sunday afternoon, but they also have a game Saturday. This is against Newport, and will be played in the Vermont town.

TWO E. T. LEAGUE GAMES
Two scheduled games of the Eastern Townships Baseball League will be played on Sunday afternoon next.

The batteries are: Farnham, Carr and Beatty; St. Pie, Hazen and Bourdon; and Bedford, Cummings and McCumber.

SITUATION OF CROPS IN WEST NOW SERIOUS

Continued Heat and Lack of Moisture Will Make Grain Crop in Nearly All Districts Below Average, Says Bank of Montreal—Crops in Quebec and Elsewhere Satisfactory.

"Crops that will be much below the average" is the description given the grain situation in the three western provinces in the crop report of the Bank of Montreal, issued July 18. The state of crops elsewhere in Canada, however, including British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces, is good, with ideal weather reported. The report follows:

General. General grain crops throughout the Prairie provinces, with the exception of southern Alberta and northern and southwestern areas in Saskatchewan, have been badly damaged through drought, and there seems little doubt that the west will harvest crops that will be much below the average. In Quebec, crops generally continue to make satisfactory progress, with ideal weather prevailing. In Ontario warm weather and intermittent showers have greatly benefited all crops during the past week, and in general, yields up to average are in prospect. In the Maritime Provinces scattered showers providing sufficient moisture and warm weather have helped all crops. In British Columbia the crop situation generally is favorable. Details follow:

Prairie Provinces.
Alberta, western area.—In the north, prospects are fairly good and in the south excellent, but in the central portion crops will have a small yield even on summerfallow and breaking. Alberta, northeastern area.—Recent rains were too late to benefit any grain other than well prepared summerfallow and breaking. Pastures are poor and there is danger of a feed shortage in some districts. Alberta, southeastern area: There has been no rain since the last report and hot winds are causing damage. Saskatchewan, northern area: Wheat is heading out, and conditions generally are contributing to fairly satisfactory progress. Prospects vary from good average to somewhat below average. Saskatchewan, southern area: Except in the southwest, crops are suffering from continued dry weather, and indications point to the yield being below average. Wheat is heading out under unfavorable conditions, and rain is needed urgently. Manitoba: Continued dry weather, accompanied by hot winds, has caused further damage to crops. Nearly all wheat is headed out, with very short straw. Crops on summerfallow are holding up well and promise a fair average yield, but rain is urgently needed.

Province of Quebec.
Hay cutting is becoming general, and the promise is for an above average yield of good quality. Grain and root crops have improved rapidly and look well. Pastures are in very good condition. Small fruits are plentiful.

Province of Ontario.
Fall wheat continues to ripen fast, and a good average crop is predicted. Oat and barley heads are filling well and the yield will probably be average. Corn should be a satisfactory yield. Early potatoes are very good. Mangels and turnips are growing well; sugar beets will be somewhat below an average crop. Apples promise to be better than average and small fruits are in excellent condition. Tobacco is growing very fast and on the whole should be an average crop.

Maritime Provinces.
Hay cutting will soon be general. Prospects are for an average yield in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, but below average in Nova Scotia. Grass pasturage is abundant. Potato plants continue to show strong growth. Strawberries are proving an average crop of good quality in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Conditions are still favorable for an above average apple crop.

Province of British Columbia.
Weather conditions generally are favorable, though rain is needed in some districts. Haying is practically completed; a heavy crop has been harvested in good condition. Early potatoes are being shipped and all root crops are doing well. Pasturage is abundant. Raspberries have improved, and the crop now being picked should yield 90% of average. Apples and pears give promise of 90% of average; peaches, plums, prunes and apricots 80%; cherries 85%.
