Canadian Flag Proposal

Pictured above is the suggested national flag for Canada designed by T. G. A. Henstridge, who told members of the Westmount Rotary Club about the history and importance of flags at their regular luncheon meeting, Wednesday. The proposed design was adopted by the Quebec Command of the Canadian Legion in May, and is up for consideration by the House of Commons.

Distinct Canadian Flag Would Help Build Unity

"I feel that a national flag, to be truly representative, should contain the emblems under which Wolfe and Montcalm fought and died on the Plains of Abraham in 1759," T. G. A. Henstridge told members of the Westmount Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting, Wednesday.

Speaking on "A National Flag for Canada," Mr. Henstridge, who had his flag suggestion accepted by the Quebec Command of the Canadian Legion in May, said that natural pride should prompt us to have a flag that would tell the rest of the world we have this heritage we are proud of.

War on Rats In Westmount

Rats, the greatest carriers of the bubonic plague and other diseases, are according to report with us in great numbers.

A resident of the Greene Ave. St. Catherine area states that when parking his car at night that his headlights bring into relief hordes of these pests foraging in garbage containers or other refuse lying in lanes and back yards.

Similar complaints have been heard from Montrealeers living on the eastern side of Atwater.

The Montreal City Health Department recently issued a warning about the disease carrying characteristics of rodents and advised citizens to keep foodstuffs stored in basements or sheds in metal containers if at all possible.

Bait Problem

If it were not for the possibility of destroying household pets such as dogs and cats, the matter of getting rid of the rats would be comparatively easy as poison food might be used as bait. However, the impossibility of

Tropical Fish Flower Display At Greenhouse

The greenhouse in Westmount Park was overcrowded last Sunday afternoon by visitors to the magnificent chrysanthemum exhibition arranged by Director of Parks and Playgrounds Ed. Anderson.

As an added attraction, Mr. Anderson thought the co-operation of the Montreal Aquarium Society has been able to exhibit several hundred tropical fish which are contained in twenty-five special tanks. Fish of all shapes and sizes, brilliant hues, excited the interest and many oohs and ahs from young and old alike.

During the time this observer was in the greenhouse, it was almost impossible to get near the tanks for a close-up view of the fascinating little fish.

Riot of Colour

The chrysanthemums are gorgeous, with the colors running from white to pink, red, yellow and bronze. One hundred varieties are included in the show in some three thousand pots with the main section featuring the small pom poms to the giant variety eight inches in diameter.

The show will run for another week and should be a must for those who delight in things beautiful. The youngsters will enjoy the antics of the guppies, and get a kick out of the man-eating shark which really looks ferocious.

Missionary to Speak

Missionary Peter Varonof, author of "Twelve Years Under Dictatorship", will speak at Westminster Central United Church, 926 Atwater Ave., on Sunday at 11 a.m. Mr. Varonof will tell of his experiences in Soviet Russia.

Montreal May Object Paying Entire Costs

Westmount may be asked to assume some part of the costs of opening up Burnside Street from Stanley to Guy streets. It is expected that this often spoken of project will be proceeded with in the not too distant future.

It is gleaned from a Montreal City Hall source that there are those amongst Concordia's civic leaders who are of the opinion that in as much as Westmount will benefit greatly by the opening of this new east-west through traffic artery that the citizens of Canada's wealthiest city should bear part of the cost.

It is pointed out that to date Montreal has had to shoulder the bill for all traffic improvements including the widening of Dorchester Street which provides Westmounters with a direct route home. The bridges over the back river were paid for by Montreal although it is emphasized the re-

Scouts & Cubs

By REG. GROOME

A visit was paid to St. Matthias Pack last Friday by E. Cowley, Commissioner of Westmount Area, who spoke to the Cubs and then invested Miss A. Graham (Kim) with her hat badge as Assistant Cubmaster. Cub Paul Taylor of the Brown Six completed his First Star and was presented with his badge by Akela. Roger Bellingham of the White Six completed his skipping test for First Star. He has been practicing for some time, and has just a few more things to finish for his star.

Second Star work is going well and Akela hopes to see a few Cubs through before Christmas. Tonight, being the last Friday in the month, special examinations will be held in First Star subjects and it is hoped that a number of Cubs will pass tests which they have been studying.

St. Andrew's Group is planning lots of activities to take place between now and Christmas. Both the Troop and Pack are looking for new recruits. Commissioner E. G. Cowley and Mr. Gilhooly attended a recent Pack meeting. Mr. Cowley told the Pack an interesting story and Mr. Gilhooly passed several Cubs in tests and badge work. Recent badges presented: John Lochead, Handicraft; Andre Lawton, Second Star; Ewan Evans, First Star. Service Stars presented to Peter Haley for two years and Ewan Evans one year.

Besides Baloo and Bagheera, we now have a Scout Instructor who is doing his good turn by helping with the training. There are points for passing Tests, so get busy, Cubs. New Chum Harry Martin is coming along nicely after his bout with pneumonia at Children's Memorial Hospital. Hurry up and get better Harry, so you can be invested.

Lots of luck to Cub Gordon Webster who has gone to live in Hudson, Quebec. Gordon plans to join the Pack there.

The Flag was broken by the duty P.L., Donald Frayn, was followed by a very minute and careful inspection. Uniforms were all complete with the exception that three Scouts were missing garter tabs. After several games, patrol instruction period came during which each patrol fabricated from

Westmount Division Of Y.M.C.A. Campaign Progressing Steadily

Westmount Division workers in the current Montreal Y.M.C.A. campaign for $164,000 are striving to complete their calls this week in order that the Division, which is responsible for Westmount and St. Henri, might report 100 per cent of its objective. Mr. John Lewis, chairman of the Division, urged all team captains and workers to make complete reports by Saturday.

Team members and captains have been doing a better than average job in Westmount this year, and an all-out effort is being made to bring the Division into a top-scoring position among the fifteen Divisions in the greater Montreal area.

Chasing Rainbows

By HERB LINDER

Thunder and Nan were two of the best friends he ever had. This was at a time when friends mean so much; at an age when a person becomes bewildered in the world of grown ups and small fry.

He was living in a northern town during this period and the winters seemed long and lonely. Oh, yes, there were plenty of kids around to play with but he had too much to do; too many little irons to keep hot. School then was a necessary evil, something that had to be tolerated.

Thunder and Nan were German shepherds, two of the finest specimens of the canine breed that he ever owned. Bringing them up from young puppies they obeyed his slightest command. They were trained in every aspect of being leaders. Leaders who were to forge their way through blizzards, dragging a reluctant dog team, whose paws were bleeding and swollen with the cruel icy splinters that had to be driven over, to reach warmth and safety.

At that time the boy was studying to be a concert violinist. What has a violin to do with this story? Both the dogs and the violin were to shape this boy's future. The many gruelling hours of practice year in and year out were beginning to pay off. The strings no longer scratched uncertainly. The fingers flew through the difficult concertos — the violin was beginning to sing. The boy became tempered to a fine promising artist. Nerves, however, began to tighten up as the strings of the violin itself.

Weekends were spent out in the woods in summer with the dogs, on the frozen wastes of the lakes in winter.

It was only to be a short trip of about twenty or so miles this winter day which started out so bright and clear. The dogs were eager to be off. For the first hour, the brisk morning air brought a joy to both the boy and dogs, but soon the sky became overcast, and snow flurries started. Soon the wind came up and the snow came down heavier. The winter roadway on the lake became completely obliterated by the heavy driving snow. Everything was a white cold world. The dogs kept padding along, driven on by a sense of direction which only the uncanny intuition of an animal understands.

After travelling blind for a short while, Thunder, the leader, stopped the team and would proceed no farther. No coaxing or cajoling could force the dog to continue. When commands failed, the boy who always carried a large loaded stock whip for protection, became impatient with rage, and half crying with anger, began to do something he had never done before; he started to whip Thunder. The dog, who worshipped the boy, bared his fangs and growled, but would not drive the team. Through the blinding snowstorm, an Indian Squaw appeared, and, poking a long stick into the snow a few yards ahead of the dog team, showed the boy that through the thin layer of snow and ice, the stick disappeared. The dogs had known that ahead was danger. Apparently they had been driving straight towards an ice field where men had been cutting ice for the summer ice houses of a lumber camp, and this had only frozen over lightly.

Through the help of the squaw, the boy and team finally reached a sheltering island, where shelter and comfort awaited them in the form of an Indian encampment.

Careening down an icy incline, the following day, the lad had further trouble. His wrist was broken — the hand that he needed so badly to become a concert violinist. Again, the dogs took charge, and loped all the way home with the miserable boy.

The violin, was now, of course, put away until the wrist would heal. The dogs, including both Thunder and Nan had to be destroyed, because, shortly after, the family moved to a large city and could not be taken; they could never be given to another master.

The heartbroken boy never played again, nor have I ever owned another dog.

YOUNG ADULT SECTION

Square Dancing is moving right along, everyone is having a real good time. Friday evening—tonight—at 7.45 p.m., the Games Room floor will be cleared and the first caller will be ready to call "Square your sets." This group has been growing, and it is anticipated that there will be four or five sets "all the men lefting", "dooey-doing", and "spinning that gal with the buttons and bows". Jake Conn, Slim McGruther, and Howie Fairbairn will lead the dancers with their calls. Come and hear them!

The Friday Social Dance will take place as usual at 9.30 p.m., with Larry Gendreau as the evening's disc jockey and Mary Jean Saunders greeting the members and guests at the door. The square dancers, the badminton players, and those taking ballroom dancing instruction all help to make this an active dance right from the start—why not be there then, too?

The Bridge Club is booming now the weather has turned seasonable for this pastime. With the new members joining and the regulars coming out, it won't be long before the room is filled with tables. Last Monday there were nine tables in play. The first of the tables are formed at 8 p.m.

The Sunday Evening Fireside will feature the C.P.R. film "Across Canada" on November 27 at 9 p.m. With the number of young people who form the membership of Westmount coming from St. Johns, Nfld., right across the country to Victoria, B.C., this picture will add zest to their discussions on the relative merits of their home-towns.

WESTMOUNT LOAN IS GIVEN APPROVAL

Approval was given on Wednesday by the Montreal Metropolitan Commission to a loan of $573,500 by the City of Westmount. Mayor J. S. Cameron of Westmount, member of the commission, explained that his city intends to widen Sherbrooke street, between Atwater and Clarke avenues and repave the widened highway. He said the widening on both sides of the street, would not touch any buildings because there was sufficient space between the sidewalks and the city line to allow for the 15 feet required for the widening.

The Montreal Tramways Company will re-lay its tracks. New sidewalks will be required. Westmount also intends to build a civic garage.

The intention is to issue debentures from time to time as required for the progress of the work.

Putters Club Enjoyed Variety of Games

Games were the highlight Monday evening in the Oak Room of the Victoria Hall with the Putters' Social Club members enjoying their weekly meeting.

In the shuffleboard tournament, Mrs. R. Kent and Mr. G. Cairns played steadily to win the silver away from some very fine disc pushers.

Cards were played and the smashing serves of Mr. J. Edwards and Mr. Wheatley kept people ducking the elusive white pill in the table tennis games.

Due to special arrangements there will be no Putters' Club meeting next Monday, 28th November. The following week will feature movies and refreshments.

DANCE TO BE HELD

Christian Science Lecture By Arthur Perrow, Chicago

A Lecture on Christian Science, "The Way of Freedom", by Arthur Perrow, C.S., of Chicago, Illinois, was given at the Montreal High School on Monday and the lecturer spoke substantially as follows: The subject of this lecture is based on many Scriptural passages such as, "Acquaint now thyself with him (God), and be at peace: thereby good shall come unto thee" (Job 22:21). In the consciousness of the nature and presence of God, who is closer to each one of us than all else in the world, is our freedom as sons and daughters of God.

In the light of Christian Science, everyone may read and understand the messages of the Bible and comply with its loving invitations for men to accept their established sonship with God here and now and become aware of their God-ordained freedom in the truth — freedom from all the fallacies and limitations of physical sense testimony.

Today Christian Scientists are grateful, and later the world will be grateful, for the glorious light of the spiritual interpretation of the Scriptures from Genesis to Revelation as now furnished in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, both of which volumes are much beloved by Christian Scientists.

The most important and yet the least understood subject, the one most taken for granted without much inquiry, is that of God, His nature and purpose. If men really understood God instead of having mere belief in a vague far-off being — that is, if they knew that God is the only power and the only intelligence, which the real man reflects, this consciousness would dispel the human and meretric tendencies toward strife, hatred, wars, fear, and other disorders.

The human senses doubt such nearness, but yet in the midst of confusion and fear, the presence and power of God remain unchanged, for He is All and everywhere, regardless of temporary, false, physical sense testimony to the contrary.

The Psalmist put it, "If I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there" (Ps 139:8), meaning that the confusion generated by mortal mind, its bewilderment, fears and anxieties, can be put off when we accept the divine as the only presence, as our only consciousness.

Eternity, immortality, is always where man is. Man can never depart from immortality. There is no competition in divine Mind or Truth. God made all that is real, harmonious, and everlasting. He never made a suppositional power in opposition to His own infinity of good. There are not two organizations; one headed by God and the other by devil, each competing with the other. Such supposed and divided partnership is, of course, fallacious. God is infinite, all-power; there is none else.

St. John, one of the twelve disciples of Christ Jesus, made great fundamental statements in his words: "No man hath seen God at any time . . . God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." (1 John 4:12, 16). To dwell in Love, who is God, not human emotionalism but Love divine — and Christian Science shows us the way — means a conscious calm and peace.

Nothing unlike good can exist where God is the sole author, creator, director, governor, Father-Mother, and He maintains all in perfect harmony regardless of temporary physical sense testimony to the contrary. The writings of both the Old and New Testaments, when understood in the light of Christian Science, dismiss any doubt as to the nature and purpose of God. All may prove that the divine presence is here and now, every day; every hour, always in our midst ready to adjust any situation in accordance with God's ever-operative law of harmony, of which man is the direct beneficiary.

The world is far from being unified in its concepts of Christ Jesus, his mission, his teachings and their usefulness. Jesus was a human whose name was similar to that of other men of his day, but the Christ was and is the truth which Jesus taught and practiced and to which he referred when he said, "Before Abraham was, I am" (John 8:58).

A study of Jesus' words and works in the light of Christian Science makes logical and demonstrable the great teachings he left for his followers, not only of his immediate day but for all time. His instructions are clear, unmistakable, and direct.

Man, made in the image and likeness of God, is forever spiritual, ageless, deathless, sinless. It is this recognition of man which enabled John to say, "Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God" (1 John 3:9).

One of the most precious gifts to humanity, one that remains forever individual, is the ever-available opportunity to pray. The prayer of true and individual communion with the divine Mind, or God, is the greatest and most productive of all meditations. It brings us the clear realization, and consequently the clear evidence, of the divine presence and God's ever-operative law of harmony. It shows us the open fount of refreshment.

Prayer is always unindividual; it need never be unanswered. There

To Success The Hard Way

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Leggett, of Notre Dame de Grace, residents and in business here for several decades. The story of Mr. Leggett's experiences in the plumbing trade, the many remote places his work has taken members of his family and business, including a spot near the North Pole, make the interesting article on "Plumbing No Humdrum Job" carried on this page.

Plumbing No Humdrum Job NDG's R. J. Leggett Proves

It is not often that one is privileged to stay in business — in the same business, in the same community, and for thirty unbroken years. To do so requires that intangible quality which the majority gradually recognize as personality. It demands the ability to take prosperity and adversity in stride, and on equal terms, and still retain the goodwill of one's fellow citizens.

All these happy factors have woven themselves into the business career of Reginald John Leggett, licensed Master Plumber and long-time resident of Notre Dame de Grace.

Mr. Leggett, who has been in the plumbing and heating trade for more than forty years, thirty of which are now recorded under his own name, was born in England and emigrated to Canada in October, 1909. He immediately began his career with the old Westmount Plumbing and Heating Company, then owned by E. C. Mount. His wage in this initiation period totalled up to — and skip the adjective — 2½ cents per hour. However, when he wound up as a Journeyman Plumber in 1913 he reached the first step on the ladder at 30 cents; and, perhaps fortunately, the hours were longer then than they are today.

When the Great War broke out, Mr. Leggett was already a member of the 13th Battalion of the Royal Highlanders of Canada. He at once joined for active service. To minimize his military services, he was wounded three times; twice in Flanders and finally in September, 1916, during the closing stages of the Battle of the Somme. In the same month he was evacuated to England.

It was his final trip across the channel as a soldier, and the beginning of a new citizenship. It resulted in a lifetime romance, a lovely wife and five children; two boys and three girls. The Mrs. Leggett then-to-be was born in Brighton, was met in Hastings and married as promptly as British laws permit. She has proved to be what any man needs as a helpmate.

Resumes Trade

Mr. Leggett arrived back in Canada Christmas of 1918, and Psychological Discussions to Continue at 'Y'

Dr. Barnard Graham of the Allan Memorial Institute Research Laboratory will continue the series of psychological discussions at the So-Ed meeting to be held in the Westmount Y.M.C.A. on November 29. Following the showing of the film "Feeling of Rejection", Dr. Graham will open the discussion and answer questions arising from the problems set forth in the film.

Last Tuesday evening, Dr. Graham led a lively discussion following the showing of the film "Feeling of Hostility", when members of the So-Ed readily expressed their opinions concerning the might-have-beens in the picture presentation.

The final lecture in the So-Ed (social - education) series will be on the United Nations, when the film "Searchlight on the Nations" will be shown and a discussion will follow on the evening of December 6.

The film will be shown at 9 p.m. Prior to the screening, members of the So-Ed will take part in courses in dancing, leathercraft, bridge, badminton and woodworking. These courses start at 7.30 p.m.

Following the discussion, at 10.15, there will be refreshments served and a social evening will continue until 11.30 p.m. It is through such a program as So-Ed that the busy young men or women can increase their interests and knowledge and still have time for social activities. "Three Evenings in One" is quite true of the So-Ed program.

"Karnak Karnival" Proceeds To Buy Hospital Equipment

Mrs. G. Retallack

Karnak Karnival was officially opened on Wednesday night at Victoria Hall, Westmount, by McL. Marshall, Potentate Karnak Temple, before a large audience. Mr. Marshall explained the purpose of the Karnival and pointed out that the entire proceeds would be used to purchase additional equipment for the Montreal Unit of the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children.

The Karnival was promoted by the Karnak Ladies' Club under the chairmanship of Mrs. G. S. L. Retallack, 4056 Beaconsfield Ave. The committee in charge have been untiring in their efforts to make this event a success and the response from the public on Wednesday night augurs well for the final result.

Karnak Ladies' Club was formed twenty-five years ago when the Hospital was opened and since then have given freely of their time to sew and mend and keep the hospital knitted wear stock replenished.

The ladies have also donated gifts of equipment—one of them being the physio-therapy pool where limbs are strengthened by exercise in the water, contributing much to speedy recovery of the unfortunate children under treatment.

The Karnival will continue until Friday night and the committee are confident that public support will enable them to purchase some much needed equipment to aid the work of the hospital.

was discharged from the forces the following month. He promptly resumed his chosen trade, and within ten months was operating under his own name. His first big job was the old Allen Theatre—now the Palace—on St. Catherine St.

That job turned out to be a first-class piece of craftsmanship, and marked a stage in business. Thereafter, the new firm began to specialize in the most modern methods of plumbing and heating, and it has kept up-to-date in both commercial and residential needs.

However, if the years were unbroken, this did not mean an unbroken record of success. As always there were interludes. When the depression hit in 1929, it was as bothersome to plumbers as to brokers and bankers.

Failures on the part of general contractors, particularly those responsible for a major housing development in Montreal West, distressed a good many in the trade, and Mr. Leggett was not one of the least.

It took time and fortitude, and a considerable amount of business goodwill, which suddenly came to the fore, to work out of that. But finally this combination won out. During World War II, Mr. Leggett established for the Federal Government plumbing and heating systems in some of the largest military camps in Eastern Canada.

Near North Pole

Since then the firm has specialized in prefabricated plumbing and heating installations, and its activities have ranged in recent years from Sable Island to Banff, B.C., and north to Churchill, Ungava Bay, Yellowknife, and to one point not far south of the North Pole.

Just recently Mr. Leggett's youngest son "Bob" returned from the Arctic, where he supervised plumbing and heating installations for government contractors. Incidentally, both sons were in the navy during World War II, and one, Reginald, jr., went down with H.M.C.S. Athabasca, and spent 15 long months in German prisoners-of-war camps.

Last spring Mrs. and Mr. Leggett made a trip back to old haunts in Britain, touring Devon, Cornwall, Scotland and many other of the beauty spots of the Old Country. Before their trip ended it was expanded to the continent.

Mr. Leggett is a member of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, the National Association of Master Plumbers and Heating Contractors of Canada, Inc., and The Corporation of Plumbing and Heating Contractors of the Province of Quebec.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Leggett see eye-to-eye on more than the average number of social activities, and on none more than their joint endeavours in caring for others. These benevolences are carefully

MECHANICALLY SPEAKING

A good mechanic watches over his machine constantly, repairing or replacing parts at the first sign of wear and tear. The human machine also needs an occasional check-up to see that all the parts are working well. You'll get better service from your body if you make repairs while they are small, before they disrupt the whole function of the machine.

organized, and for the most part are channelled through the established social welfare groups. They have always been unostentatious, and are probably the least subject either Mrs. or Mr. Leggett would wish to have dwelt upon.

A New Travel Ration Period

Began

NOVEMBER 16th

AS ANNOUNCED BY THE MINISTER OF FINANCE, THE REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE USE OF U.S. DOLLARS FOR TRAVEL CONTINUE IN FORCE. As in the past, it will be necessary for Canadians to obtain a permit from their bank if they wish to take out of Canada more than $10 U.S., or more than $25 in U.S. and Canadian currency combined.

Pleasure Travel

The maximum amount of U.S. dollars which any Canadian resident may obtain for pleasure travel purposes during the twelve months beginning November 16th, 1949, is $150. In the case of children of eleven years and under, the amount is $100. There is no restriction in the number of trips as long as the annual allotment is not exceeded.

Travel for Business, Health or Education

Reasonable amounts of U.S. dollars may be obtained for these purposes by making application through any of the chartered banks.

Travel to Europe

Special arrangements exist whereby Canadian dollars can be used to buy the appropriate currencies for travel in the United Kingdom and other sterling area countries, as well as in most countries of Western Europe. Travel expenditure in these countries does not come out of the $150 U.S. currency ration.

It was filmed in England, with George Cukor at the directorial helm.

Manresa Guild Holds Election Of Officers

The annual meeting of Manresa Ladies' Guild was held in Congress Hall on Thursday, November 17. The election of officers followed the monthly Holy Hour conducted by the director, Father Vincent Shaughnessy, S.J.

Mrs. Anthony Blanchard was re-elected president for a third term and will be assisted by the following officers:

First vice-president, Mrs. John M. Doyle; second vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Goodman; third vice-president, Mrs. C. A. Doyle; treasurer, Mrs. F. B. Kelly; recording secretary, Mrs. J. A. Lacombe; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. M. Polan.

Counsellors: Mrs. David Sutherland, Mrs. W. G. Cowan, Mrs. J. C. MacDonald, Mrs. W. J. Barber and Mrs. J. K. Cullen.

The reports of the various committees all indicated continuing interest and growth of the Guild's activities. Following their adoption enthusiastic plans were made for increased activity in enrolling additional members, stimulation of interest in the Lay Retreat Movement and gathering of funds for the early completion of the Retreat House and grounds at Beaconsfield.

It was announced that home card party prize winners were Mrs. J. W. Doyle, Mrs. Panneton, and Mrs. M. Johnson.

That's what I used to say, and it was true. Sometimes I'd dream of the day when I'd have time and leisure to do all the things I wanted to do, but I had to admit I wasn't doing anything about it except dream. I never seemed to be able to put anything aside.

Now, I know those dreams will come true. They're guaranteed.

Through a simple saving plan which, strangely enough, I've found involves no hardship, I am now saving money for the first time in my life.

Fragrances of Fashion Fascinate in Jewel-Like Touch Control Vial

The perfect present should be "something very special". It should be heart-stirring poetry, rather than prose. In the case of a woman, it's perfume. It has such ego-gladdening lift!

And when we speak of perfumes, a line of precious worldly fragrances comes to mind. The perfumer's name is Fabergé, their fame is for the fashion fragrances.

Aphrodisia, Woodhue and Tigris. Their game is to imbue with the utmost glamour!

Here are a few Fabergé Christmas suggestions that we recently saw and sniffed at Berke's Pharmacy, Cape's Reliable Stores, Dupuis Freres Ltd., Macy's Drug Store Reg'd, Henry Morgan and Jas. A. Ogilvy's.

The purse-perfect "Fabergette", the jewel-like applicator which strokes on perfume according to "touch control" principle, won't leak, spill or waste a precious drop. It has a gold-plated cap, leather case, smart gift box. You can buy it singly, or love-matched with a flacon of cologne in what is called the "Fabergette Ensemble".

And, speaking of cologne, Fabergé's "Cologne Duette" is a golden gift-boxed duo of Woodhue (for tailored clothes) with either Aphrodisia (for glamour dresses) or Tigris (for furs). It's really something to sing about!

WINTER COMES TO EUROPE

You Can Help Her Hungry Children

As the cold blasts of winter begin moving over Europe, undernourished children suffering now from an improper diet will suffer the additional hardship of lack of protection from the weather. You can help them.

Warehouses in Europe are now being stockpiled with special CARE holiday packages . . . packages containing a whole turkey and all the trimmings for a REALLY festive holiday dinner. The turkey is roasted, and canned under pressure. Such foods as butter, bacon and coffee — things many Europeans have not seen for years — are in the package. These are foods that, even if available, the average European could not begin to buy for himself. Help him . . . Send a cheque or money order for fifteen dollars to CARE, 73 Albert Street, Ottawa, and the holiday package will be marked for delivery in time for a joyous holiday dinner.

Christian Science

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced", is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from II Chronicles 16:9. "The eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth to shew himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:

"Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them. And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did. For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them; and many takes with palsies, and that were lame, were healed." (Acts 8: 5 to 7.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science & Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—

"The Science of being unveils the errors of sense, and spiritual perception, aided by Science, reaches Truth. Then error disappears. Sin and sickness will abate and seem less real as we approach the scientific period, in which mortal sense is subdued and all that is unlike the true likeness disappears." (Pages 406)

Truth Centre

"What Would You Give for the Golden Touch? — this gift sought after by man since Time began!

In our modern life, the Golden Touch is but the mythological symbol of success, friendship or prosperity. To know the Truth of Being, of Man's purpose in life, and place in the Great Scheme of Things, will bring to him all he could possibly desire and more.

The Science and Art of Right Living can do much toward furthering your happiness and bringing you nearer to whatever goal you seek. This interesting and inspiring series of lectures is given by Dr. Margaret Davies Edwards, leader of the MONTREAL TRUTH CENTRE, at 1628 Sherbrooke St. W. (near Guy), Thursdays at 8 p.m.

New Grenfell Hospital

This modern building, to be constructed at Harrington Harbour on the bleak Labrador coast, will replace the 40-year-old worn-out structure built by the self-sacrifice of the great Sir Wilfred Grenfell.
Grenfell Hospital serves a constituency hundreds of miles in extent — the only hospital available to the residents of that region. Rebuilding the hospital will cost $200,000. The Quebec Government has already contributed $100,000. The balance is being raised by a public appeal, now in progress. Headquarters is at Room 146, Sun Life Building.

Westmount Baptist

Something different in Bible Exposition will be presented in Westmount Baptist Church from this Sunday to Friday, December 2nd.

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Slemming, Travelling Bible Conference Speakers of the Bible Testimony Fellowship (London, Eng.) will present a Series of illustrated Lecture Sermons. The technique is quite unusual. Mr. Slemming has lived for many years in the Orient, and particularly in Palestine, and is an authority on the manners and customs of the people of both the Old and the New Testament. Mr. and Mrs. Slemming use Palestinian costumes, such as those of the High Priest and the Shepherd, as well as carefully constructed models, interesting curios and pictograph charts, to illustrate their message.

At the morning service the theme will be "The High Priest's Breastplate." In the evening the theme of the address will be "Shepherd Life."

The Christian Youth Fellowship, which will follow the evening service, will be addressed by Mr. and Mrs. Slemming again, using illustrative material.

From Monday until Friday, at 8 p.m., the Slemmings will present "City Life," "Home Life," "Farm Life," "Tent Life" and "Religious Life."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Makepeace Lott

Pictured above, following their wedding on Saturday afternoon in St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount, are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Makepeace Lott. Mrs. Lott, formerly Miss Mary Armistice Maxwell, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James R. Maxwell, and Mr. Lott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Makepeace Lott, of Hale, Cheshire, England.

LOTT — MAXWELL

On Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, in St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount, the marriage took place of Mary Armistice, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James R. Maxwell, to Mr. Thomas Makepeace Lott, of Montreal, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Makepeace Lott, of Hale, Cheshire, England. The Rev. G. Ward, assistant minister of St. Andrew's United Church, performed the ceremony. Mr. Phillips Motley played the wedding music and Mrs. W. H. Lewis sang during the signing of the register. Chrysanthemums were used to decorate.

The bride, who was given away by Col. W. J. Norris, was in a gown of white chiffon velvet with a bodice having a fitted jacket and a full skirt falling into a slight train. She wore a fingertip length veil of tulle illusion and carried an arm bouquet of pale pink Sweetheart roses and bouvardia.

Miss Olive Maxwell, as maid-of-honor for her sister, was in a frock of rose pink velvet. She wore a hat of matching velvet, trimmed with pale pink ostrich feathers, and carried an arm bouquet of rose pink chrysanthemums.

Mr. James C. Kennedy acted as best man for Mr. Lott and the ushers were Mr. Kenneth A. Menzies, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mr. John Clarke-Riede.

The reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, 469 Argyle Avenue, Westmount, where white and rose baby chrysanthemums were used as decorations. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Lott left for Boston, the bride travelling in a brown suit and wearing matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations.

Among the out-of-town guests were Col. and Mrs. W. J. Norris, of Hamilton, Ont.; Mr. K. A. Menzies, of Deep River, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Isherwood, of Falmouth, Mass.

Clinic Visit

The "Know Your Montreal" group of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club will visit the Red Cross Clinic on Isabella avenue, and the Blood Donors Clinic, on St. Catherine street, on Tuesday.

All members who signified their intention to attend will meet at 2 p.m. at the N.D.G. Post Office.

Minute Mix

By H.B.S. and D.McG.

MINUTE MENTION — Inspired by their 12-year-old son Lenny, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Knott, Victoria Avenue, are bringing Canadian heroes to life, for Canadian children.

Recently, Lenny returned from a three-year residence in Boston, filled with the tales of hardships undergone by Lincoln and Washington, the inventions of Benjamin Franklin, and the exploits of "Buffalo Bill" Cody. But surely, he reasoned, Canada had heroes, too!

Realizing that Canadians who made history had been sadly neglected, the Knotts resolved that Canadian children should learn something of the history of their own country from other books besides textbooks. And with this end in view, they have thus far published four books, with authentic Canadian background, and real Canadian historical characters.

Of the books now in preparation, one is a comprehensive story of the Calgary stampede, which draws tens of thousands to that city each year.

MINUTE MALICE . . . Friday afternoon, this office received a call from an indignant woman who demanded an explanation as to why the paper had quoted a resolution proposed by Miss Beryl Truax, at a recent meeting of the N.D.G. Community Council. In effect, our caller pointed out that Miss Truax, a recent Labor-Progressive election candidate, was an alleged Communist, and that no self-respecting paper should publish anything proposed by so radical a speaker!

For her benefit, therefore, and for the benefit of others who may think along the same lines, we should like to note, in passing, that many of us have become so intent upon protecting "democracy" from the "red menace," that we have lost sight entirely of that which we are striving to protect. And we might add, that should Josef Stalin speak at a meeting of the N.D.G. Community Council, we might be strongly tempted to carry an account of the speech!

MINUTE MARTYR . . . Have you ever speculated upon which incident in your life may be preserved in community history 20 years hence?

Bet it won't be the one you are thinking of! H. B. S. had not given the matter any thought until this week, when she received a poem from a friend in B.C., where she once lived. Did the poem enshrine her powers of survival as a hill billy housewife? Did it give her a little reflected glory in being the wife of the man, the late Captain A. H. Sandwell, who was the first pilot to take a flying boat (a Norman Thomson 2B) up from Lake Minnawanka, near Banff? No, the poem recalls the day her riding horse, impatient at being kept standing too long while she shopped at Wing Lee's store, somehow or other worked loose from the hitching post and then, startled, crashed its hind-end through the Chinese store keeper's window.

And in those old days in the Rocky Mountain village of Invermere, there just wasn't another piece of glass that size in many a long mile. Wing was a philosopher and took the disaster calmly. So did the horse. But H. B. S. took a lot of ribbing — and twenty years after is still taking it!

MINUTE MEMORY . . . Dorothy Sproule's experiences as an eighteen-year-old bride in a remote country village miles from a railroad are told in a sketch of her life in the current number of Canadians, published quarterly by the Macnab Historical Association.

Mrs. F. H. Sproule, over a quarter of a century ago, was the first president of the N.D.G. Women's Club and is also past president of several poetry groups in Montreal. Dorothy nearly met her Waterloo in that remote village when for the first time in her life as a homemaker she encountered a wood stove, a wooden laundry tub and outdoor plumbing!

Sophy Elliott, of Westmount, author and lecturer, wrote the sketch, which makes poignant reading in part, and describes how, in sorrowful days, Dorothy Sproule's interest in poetry was born, an interest which still absorbs her.

Canadians also makes mention of a gathering this autumn of forty writers at Abbey Dawn, the estate in Kingston, Ont., of Wallace Havelock Robb, son of the late Mr. Robb, of Westmount.

MINUTE MADNESS . . . A friend of ours has discovered what we think is the ideal way to dispose of unwanted guests. (Next to poisoning, that is!)

When company's expected, he places his cat in a strategic position — on the mantle, or the third shelf of the sideboard. The cat does the rest.

The guest shifts uncomfortably for a time, until our friend inquires politely "Is anything wrong?"

Whereupon the guest replies, "Nothing, really. Only, I wish you'd move that ornament. Maybe I've been working too hard lately, but I get the impression that it's staring at me!"

The host laughs merrily, and says "Oh, that's no ornament."

What's our cat, Nebuchadnezzar, always stares."

"Well," says the guest, with some spirit, "Does he have to look on me? I've had a hard day, and he makes me nervous." "Try smiling at him," says the friend, in a burst of confidence. "He'll smile right back, if he likes you."

By this time, if all has gone according to plan, the guest will stagger to the door, without attempting even so much as a smirk. Which is just as well. Because whoever heard of a cat that smiled?

MINUTE MISCHIEF . . . We don't want to be alarmists, but we think that the Younger Generation is up to something. There may even be a plot on foot to undermine the mentality of the Older Generation. In fact we know of one youngster who created a near-riot in Montreal West last week.

Invading the shopping district, armed with a "cap gun," a four-year-old boy marched boldly into the library, stationed himself behind a lady who was investigating the mechanism of a toy steamshovel, and fired three shots in rapid succession. Needless to say, he achieved the desired effect. The "victim," suddenly losing interest in all things mechanical, headed for the door, followed by two or three other women trying desperately to get out of the line of fire. These, in turn, were followed by one small boy, brandishing a "revolver."

His trusty forty-four still intact, the youngster, following in the wake of several sheepish women, made his way to the grocery store. Working his way up to the cash register, and camouflaged by the women shoppers, he fired several shots in the general direction of the cashier. Things hit a new high. The cashier became hysterical, women screamed, for want of something better to do, and when the smoke cleared, one small boy was seen swaggering from the store.

All in all, it had been quite a day!

Baby Sockett Baptized At Dominion-Douglas

The christening of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Sockett took place Sunday afternoon at quarter-past four o'clock in Dominion - Douglas Church, Westmount, Rev. A. Lloyd Smith, D.D., officiating.

The baby was given the names Sally-Jane Victoria, and the godparents are Mrs. Jan Eisenhardt, Mrs. Gordon Shaw, and Mr. Arthur P. Earle, Jr.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Doehler, the baby's maternal grandparents.

Calling Thomas Moore!

Westmount, it seems likely, takes honors for having the first violet to bloom in November and for having the very last rose of summer. Looking out at the winter scene on Tuesday, Mr. A. S. Byrd saw something red peeping out of the light snow in the garden. Upon investigation he found no less than three small roses, which he at once plucked and took indoors. Mr. Byrd, who is a retired tramway employee, is an ardent gardener and though his garden at 8 Gladstone Avenue, Westmount, is relatively small, he makes the most of it and finds much pleasure in his hobby.

Xavier Apostolate Guild Hears History St. Joseph's Oratory

The Rev. Thomas Kearney, C.S.C., guest speaker at the Xavier Apostolate Guild's November meeting, in his subject, "St. Joseph's Oratory — The History of a Dream", accredited to Brother Andre, the happy, inspiring achievement of a dream of forty-five years ago. It was in 1904 that the land on which the Oratory stands was secured by the Congregation of Holy Cross. Br. Andre's offering of two hundred dollars, earned by him for cutting the student's hair at five cents per head, was most helpful in the purchase.

At Br. Andre's request, a statue of St. Joseph was placed on the hill and later covered to protect it from the elements. From that grew the first small shrine known to so many, then the crypt was added and further plans made as funds permitted, until it reached its present dimensions.

The Oratory is known far and wide as the "Mountain of prayer" to which all may go to pray for the grace of Almighty God and salvation for themselves and the whole world.

Fr. Kearney said that there are two kinds of dreamers, the one who never wakes up and the one who is never so wide awake as when he is dreaming. Br. Andre, who died in 1937, was a dreamer who worked for the good of mankind and by means of the Oratory his work is going on, even though he is gone.

Mrs. J. W. McAnally, president, introduced Fr. Kearney and Mrs. T. J. Byrne expressed the appreciation of the guild. Mr. Donald Volpe sang "Bless This House" and "The Rose of Tralee," accompanied by Miss Ethel McDermott. Very Rev. J. F. McCaffrey, moderator, thanked the artists. Mrs. Peter Reid and committee served refreshments.

Lilac Is The Shade

LILAC IS THE TOP FASHION COLOUR RAGE IN PARIS at present, so I am told, by a French fashion authority. Think what you could do with this colour as an evening dress — say for St. Andrew's Ball. Wouldn't it be a dream in net or regal in velvet, even in plaid taffeta, or the popular shot-colours. I know where you could buy an exclusive pattern and make your own gown in short order that would have that 'exclusively, individual look'. DRESSMAKERS SERVICE, 2186 St. Catherine West, near the Forum, with a duplicating Branch at 5628 Sherbrooke Street West, near Oxford Avenue, carry Originator Patterns that are all their name indicates. DRESSMAKERS SERVICE will also insert the zippers for your gown. They have the very fine enamelled ones, same colour as the tapes to match your material from 4" to 36", and of course, all other assortments 4"-120". With feather boning black and white, bought here, your creation could be quite professional with a strapless top. If you choose a wide, wide flaring skirt, DRESSMAKERS SERVICE can supply the mohair — all shades — to help the desired effect. One thing you can be sure of, is matching your color in silk thread, sheen or nylon, for here is a completely comprehensive range. The Service is quick — overnight — with special attention on Out-of-Town orders. Anything you can imagine for the Dressmaker and Home sewer — covered buttons, button-holes, buckles, belts of your material — all kinds of equipment and time savers, picot edging, hemstitching, pleating, etc. I can tell you, with this wonderful Service at hand we can all afford to be well-dressed. Sewing hazards are reduced — you clothes have a professionally finished appearance, in fact, they count most of Montreal's top couturiers amongst their clientele.

A New Note Has Been Struck

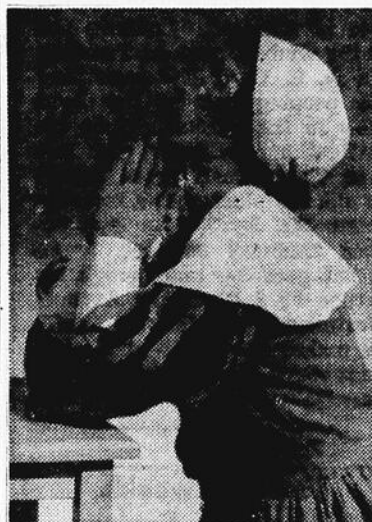

By LA TOUR EIFFEL Café, offering Montreal business men the same opportunity as his Parisian confrères who head for their favourite Bistro at lunchtime. LA TOUR EIFFEL is proud to feature a Plate Luncheon — including soup, dessert, tea or coffee — such dishes as "Filet of Sole Meunière," or "Beef with cabbage and Horse-radish," "Ham glazed with Pineapple," "Kidney Rizotto" (is your mouth watering?) or "Boeuf Miroton" (Braised Beef with a wine sauce) for $1.40, specially prepared for each meal — attractions varying from day to day. Such tempting dishes can be considered "une pièce de résistance" when the Chef is the famous Raymond. Small wonder that this is the mecca for gourmets where actresses, actors, writers, financiers gather daily. Prince Bernardt of Holland, Erna Sack, Georges Guétary or Maurice Chevalier, as well as Montrealers, choose this Café — our lunch was flawless, absolutely delicious and we enjoyed the cosy Bistro atmosphere, plus wonderful service. Ralph, formerly of Drury's, is Maitre d'Hôtel. Bar, longest in Town, serves wines and liqueurs at reasonable prices. There is a very interesting panel showing bottles from different vineyards of France. Over all is the spirit of Paris, lent by murals of beautiful Notre Dame and gay can-can girls of the Bal Tabarin — our table being beside the Seine — just a few steps from the crowds of St. Catherine Street, on Stanley. Forget your waistline, girls. Try this business men's lunch, served between 12 noon and 3 p.m. This is really marvelous food prepared by artists. Dinner is served as usual — open till 10 p.m. with room for parties of twenty-five upstairs. For a veritable treat — LA TOUR EIFFEL, Stanley Street.

Brazilian Coffee

Brazilians prefer a roast of COFFEE bean which we would consider slightly burnt — nevertheless we might try their popular method for making COFFEE. You will be sure to enjoy it, however, providing you use BOKAR, A & P's winey, vigorous blend — so here goes. "The desired amount of COFFEE is placed into the filter or sack. A proportionately proper amount of water is boiled separately, and a small quantity of it is poured over the COFFEE as soon as it starts to boil." This is quoted from the ABC of COFFEE put out by the National COFFEE Department of Brazil, a fascinating book. "At the same time the brew is stirred rapidly with a spoon, preferably of wood, to form a smooth, semi-fluid paste. This is done to retain the aroma of the COFFEE, as otherwise the COFFEE grounds would rise to the top when the remainder of the water is poured, with consequent loss of flavour and aroma. The balance of the water is then poured over this same COFFEE mixture at slow intervals. This allows a slow infusion of the COFFEE (two to four minutes) which is one of the secrets in good COFFEE making" — the other one being that with A & P you simply cannot go wrong. The methods used in different countries are very interesting and lend variety to our meals. We find A & P blends suit our taste best no matter what recipes we use — BOKAR, winey, strong, and vigorous, RED CIRCLE, rich and full-bodied or 8 O'CLOCK, the mild and mellow blend — Just go into an A & P Store and sniff the wonderful COFFEE with all the good elements of best growing and preparation behind it, ready for your stove and cup and YOU. P.S. Have some ready for after the Santa Claus parade on Saturday.

Sale of Christmas Gifts Made by Handicapped Being Held Today

The Homecraft Outlet Shop of the Jewish Junior Welfare League is holding a sale of articles, hand-made by the handicapped, today on the main floor at Eaton's.

Included in this sale will be a wide selection of merchandise such as infants and children's knitwear, knitted socks, toys, aprons, pot holders, wood cuts, leather wallets, book-ends, picture frames, gloves, handbags, etc., all made by veterans, sanatorium patients, and other handicapped people and shut-ins who have been referred to the League by social agencies.

This project was started just over a year ago to give these people an outlet for their work, and for many of them it is their only means of support. That it is a much-needed service has been substantiated by the local therapists and social service directors, and it is the only one of its kind in Montreal.

Here is an opportunity for all to make this a real Christmas by doing our Christmas shopping early and helping the handicapped to help themselves.

Blue Goose Bridge

MacSween, president of the auxiliary, in telling of their plans for the nurseries, said recently that doctors claim air-conditioning will be of great benefit to the babies, in some cases meaning the difference between life and death.

MOTHER WON'T ANSWER HER QUESTIONS

High school-age girls are young ladies in this modern day and age, and mothers who refuse to answer their intelligent questions and try to look upon high school students as mere children, make a serious mistake according to the new Hollywood production, "Mom and Dad." In the scene above, June Carlson is shown questioning her mother (Lois Austin) on hygiene problems but she receives only "hush-hush" as an answer. The girl experiences a series of heart-breaking troubles because of the lack of proper knowledge. "Mom and Dad," with Elliot Forbes, radio's famous hygiene commentator in person, will open an engagement at the System theatre, beginning Saturday.

AT THE SEVILLE

Mona Freeman has her first adult film romance with William Holden in the action-filled Technicolor adventure, "Streets of Laredo," which starts Saturday at the Seville Theatre.

"Flamingo Road" Starts Saturday At the Seville

With the same talented quartet that gave Joan Crawford her first Academy Award three years ago, Warner Bros. produced "Flamingo Road," a dynamic romantic drama about small-state politics, which comes to the Seville Theatre for a week's engagement starting Friday.

Stars Joan Crawford and Zachary Scott, Producer Jerry Wald and Director Michael Curtiz are the four who made the now memorable "Mildred Pierce," one of the most popular pictures that year. Now, according to advance word, the same success is repeated with "Flamingo Road."

Taken from the play by Robert and Sally Wilder, "Flamingo Road" tells about a beautiful carnival dancer who stays behind in a small southern town, falls in love, and makes her rise to prestige and riches through a story beset with murder, romance and political intrigue.

Second Feature

Also on the same program and at the same theatre is one of the most exciting eras in American history — the days when the colorful state of Texas stood at the crossroads between law and disaster — has been recreated in its Technicolor outdoor thriller, "Streets of Laredo."

The drama co-stars William Holden, William Bendix, Macdonald Carey and lovely Mona Freeman.

"Mom and Dad" Starts Saturday At the System

Acclaimed by universities, colleges, national clubs and organizations, as well as clergymen of all churches, the new educational hygiene attraction, "Mom and Dad" with an all-star Hollywood cast comes here for a limited engagement on its first coast-to-coast tour. It will have an extended run, showing at the System Theatre, next door to Morgan's, beginning this Saturday.

This powerful modern-day drama is clean, moral and educational. Its story is so human it overflows with good fun—yet, it is fun so humanly true the film has its moments when your tears flow freely. It is touching and heart-tugging story of youth, and the social problems of today. Certainly, with its thousands of endorsements, its praise from millions who have witnessed it, "Mom and Dad" could not rightfully be misconstrued by anyone as anything immoral.

"... The story of 'Mom and Dad' is so human it overflows with good fun—yet, it is so humanly true, it has its moments when the tears flow freely. It is a touching and heart-tugging story of youth, and the social problems of today..."

TORONTO DAILY STAR

Victoria, B.C.—"I hope 'Mom and Dad' will be shown every year across the continent..."

AT THE SNOWDON - OUTREMONT

Ann Todd, fascinating star of "Seventh Veil" and Claude Rains in the finest role of his distinguished career, in a scene from "The Passionate Friends" based on the novel of the same name by H. G. Wells, at Outremont and Snowdon Theatres, starting Friday.

Outremont-Snowdon Theatres To Screen H. G. Wells Novel

"The Passionate Friends", based on the novel of the same name by H. G. Wells and co-starring Ann Todd, Claude Rains and Trevor Howard, will be the feature photograph attraction starting Friday at both the Outremont and Snowdon Theatres.

"The Passionate Friends" tells the story of a woman's conflict between love and security and centres around a beautiful and ambitious woman named Mary (played by Miss Todd) with whom Steven Stratton (Howard) is madly in love. He asks her to marry him and although she loves him dearly she insists on marrying Howard Justin (Claude Rains), a wealthy banker who can give her the security she needs.

Five years go by. Steven and John Huston's "We Were Strangers," starring Jennifer Jones, John Garfield and Pedro Armendariz, will reach the screen of the Westmount Theatre Sunday. Gilbert Roland, Ramon Novarro, Wally Cassell and David Bond are featured.

Based in one of the most sensational happenings of modern times, this film, inspired by Robert Sylvester's novel, "Rough Sketch," is said to be an explosive story of violent lives, lived dangerously. Director John Huston, recipient of two 1948 Academy Awards, has so crowded the film with a wealth of dramatic incident, vivid romance, raw violence, and terrifying suspense that the picture is said to be unique in creating the rare excitement of living a great personal experience!

Miss Jones, Academy Award winner for her inspired performance in "Song of Bernadette," has a role in "We Were Strangers" that challenges her talent as one of the screen's top actresses. Garfield, as the organizer of the conspiracy hatched in the turbulent Cuban capital, gives a forceful performance that is said to be one of his very best.

Second Feature

Also on the same program is a novel that created a sensation at the time it was written by F. Scott Fitzgerald — "The Great Gatsby" — has been made into a picture that promises fans plenty of excitement and high-powered entertainment. One of the most important productions of this or any other season, the picture arrives Sunday at the Westmount Theatre with co-stars Alan Ladd, Betty Field, MacDonald Carey, Ruth Hussey, Barry Sullivan and Howard Da Silva — a star line-

Mary meet again at the Chelsea Arts Ball. They feel their old love flaring up and they dance together until each remembers the realities of the present. Mary returns to her husband; Steven to Pat (played by Isabel Dean), his fiancée. A few days later they lunch together and their constant companionship arouses the jealousy of the husband.

Again the years pass by and Mary and Steven do not meet again until by accident at a Swiss Alpine Hotel and they find themselves once again enjoying each other's company. Matters then become somewhat complicated for all parties concerned. How a happy and final reconciliation between Mary and her husband is reached is told in very dramatic manner.

"The Passionate Friends" was directed by David Lean and produced by Ronald Neame, the 'team' that helped to make "Great Expectations". The supporting cast includes Betty Ann Davies, Guido Lorraine, Arthur Howard and Helen Burls.

The special added attraction will be "The Olympic Winter Sports" in technicolor featuring Barbara Ann Scott, Canada's Queen of the Ice.

Concert at St. Andrew's Scheduled for Monday

On Monday at 8.30 p.m. there will be a concert in the Hall of St. Andrew's Church, Westmount. The Steinway grand piano recently acquired by the church will be used.

William Stevens will be the pianist and songs will be sung by Ellen Reynolds, soprano, Olive B. Lewis, contralto, Henry Gosham, tenor, and John Grant, baritone, with Phillips Motley as accompanist. The proceeds of the event will be devoted to the Memorial and Rehabilitation Funds of the Church.

BLIND ACTOR

Paul Lees, who has a top role with Bing Crosby in Paramount's "Mr. Music", is 90 percent blind as a result of three years in a Jap prison camp. His wife reads him his lines and he memorizes them perfectly after just one hearing.

AT THE WESTMOUNT

Fitzgerald was himself a product of the turbulent '20s in which the dramatic story is set and he knew the temper of those unbridled times perhaps better than any other writer.

Navy Meet Dundas, Ontario Champions In All-Out Tilt

H.M.C.S. Donnacona (Navy) Quebec Rugby Football Union Intermediate champions will meet Dundas, the Ontario winners, in a sudden death game for the official Intermediate Eastern Canada title at Westmount Athletic Grounds on Saturday.

The game will get underway at 1.45 p.m., in view of early darkness.

Dundas are said to be the strongest intermediate squad which has represented Ontario for some years. They are, in fact, the second string of "Wildcats" of the Big Four.

Coaches Roy Chesley and Mac Parsons of Navy are quietly confident that Navy will come through. They point to Navy's 13-12 win over the strong Lake Shore team last Saturday as evidence of Navy's strength.

This will be the last football game until next fall. A running account of the Grey Cup final in Toronto will be given during the game so as to keep spectators posted on the happenings in the classic between Allouettes and Calgary Stampeders.

Lack Of Gym No Obstacle To Academy Cage Spirit

A new chapter was added to the Academy's sport menu with the introduction during the past week of a Senior B. Basketball Squad. It is a daring move as the school has no gym or experienced basketball players but coach Andy McGillis is confident that all obstacles will be overcome with the help of some sporting organizations in Westmount.

The opening drill was held at the local R.M.R. last Monday and was followed by another session at Westmount Junior High on Tuesday evening. This team will be hard pressed for time as they are scheduled to make their Basketball debut in the Annual Golden Ball Tournament slated to swing into action around December 1st, and later the team will perform in the Senior B section of the G.M.I.A.A.

Although the Club is still in the experimental stage, prospects are bright that the team will round into a fair aggregation of school basketballers. The first practice saw a turnout of over 20 green but highly enthusiastic candidates.

Richman on Hand

Assisting with his well stored knowledge of basketball was the well known Joe Richman, senior coach at Y.M.H.A., who gave the boys some valuable pointers that helped him to be rated one of the best senior basketball players in Montreal. On Thursday the team prospects attended a basketball clinic at West Hill High, conducted by Gordon Wood. A practice is in store for this afternoon at the R.M.R. and later on in the evening moving pictures on basketball fundamentals will be shown in the Academy. It has been a busy week on Basketball for the school and a successful launching of another sport venture in this little school and in a short time another success story should be added to the school's proud sport tradition and take its place alongside such well established sports as Hockey, Football, Boxing and Skiing.

So it is move over, you puck-chasers, pigskin lovers, leather pushers and ski bugs and make way for a new gang known as the dribblers.

The Westmount Ski Club is undertaking another ambitious project this year when the "Ski Cavalcade" opens at Victoria Hall on Wednesday, November 30th. The Club is putting on a show for skiers, which it is expected with equal the high standards of past years. To start the show, those lucky enough to get tickets will be present at the first radio broadcast of the season of the popular "Skicast" program, with Gorman Kennedy interviewing prominent skiing personalities. The broadcast will commence at 8 p.m. at Victoria Hall on Wednesday, November 30th.

A ski clinic will be conducted in a streamlined, glamorized version by the ever-popular Louis de Pasille, who is an executive of the Canadian Ski Instructors' Alliance.

Movies To Be Shown

Some thrilling movies showing the finest skiing in many countries will be presented, including some exclusive movies of the Dominion Slalom Championships at Mont Tremblant, featuring the French ski team and other colour movies shown to the public in Montreal for the first time.

A special feature of the program will be a showing by the male members of the club of the outstanding styles in skiing apparel from the early days of skiing history up to the present. This unique fashion show is guaranteed to bring forth considerable laughter.

A generous assortment of door prizes will be given away, including a pair of first quality skis at each performance.

The "Ski Cavalcade" will run for three evenings: November 30, December 1 and December 2, with a special matinee on Saturday afternoon, December 3, for the benefit of the small fry at half the usual price in order to encourage their interest in skiing.

Last week Sid Abel topped the scorers. This week it's another Detroit player, Ted Lindsay, who heads the point parade with seven goals and eight assists for 15 points. Gordie Howe, Lindsay's line-mate is next with five goals and nine assists for 14 points, while Canadiens' Maurice Richard is tied with Sid Abel, Paul Ronty and Doug Bently for third place with 13 points.

Detroit Red Wings, who haven't lost a game in their last five starts, are still showing the way in the N.H.L. championship race. The Auto City club are in first place with 18 points, two more than the second slot Montreal Canadiens. Toronto Maple Leafs are third with 15 points and Chicago Black Hawks fourth with 11. Boston Bruins and New York Rangers are still deadlocked for the cellar position with nine points each.

Canadiens are the most penalized club in the League with a total of 158 penalty minutes. Butch Bouchard, Canadiens' Captain, is the most penalized player in the N.H.L. with 29 minutes, one more than Bill Gadsby of Chicago.

THAT LUCKY OLD SON

That lucky old sunnouvagun, Johnny Metras, the Syracuse U. alumnus, has done it again with the University of Western Ontario Mustangs, leading the Purple and White to their fifth Canadian Intercollegiate title. The title went back to London, Ontario as a result of Western's upset 12-9 victory over McGill at Varsity Stadium in the post-season playoff for the championship. McGill had finished a point ahead of the Mustangs over the six-game schedule, but because of Western's 14-12 win over the Redmen in the season's opener, a playoff was in order. Western, beaten by McGill in Montreal a week before, made no mistakes in the crucial battle, rushing the Redmen off their feet with a driving first-half offensive from which the first-place team never recovered.

Among the post-game comments which attracted our attention was one of Bob MacFarlane, the Mustangs' star back who also is a pretty fair track man. Said Big Bob: "It sure is a thrill to play on a second-place team that wins the championship."

Bob could just have easily said: "It's a thrill to play on a second-place team" for never before, in four years of football with the London, Ontario school had he played on a Western team that didn't finish in at least a tie for top honours.

For Johnny Metras, the win was a great personal triumph, for it came at the top of a season during which his team had experienced rough times and during which one Montreal sportswriter had even gone so far as to advise Metras to retire to the more secure job of Athletic Director at Western, in an attempt to save face. Just what Metras would have to save face for, after an overall record at Western of 27 wins and only 2 losses prior to this year is unknown, but anyway, that was the comment of the Montreal scribe.

Before the game, with McGill favoured at 7-5 odds, it seemed that even Dame Fortune had turned her back on the prosperous Metras, as his star, Jack Parry, was definitely out of action, and his ace kicker, Jack Matthews became a last minute casualty. But the Mustangs, led by Doug Gray, who had his sore arm frozen before the game and grimaced every time he threw a pass, pulled it out with a long fourth-quarter pass and some tight defensive football in the waning moments.

For the Redmen, only Rocky Robillard, their diminutive captain, playing his last game of college football, was up to par, the Rock counting all of the McGill points on a convert, a 40-yard placement and a brisk 57-yard touchdown jaunt that put McGill back into the ball game in the third quarter. But the big Red machine didn't have anyone to go with the Rock, and Gray and a couple of fellows named George Arnott and Blake Taylor, who were deadly on defense were enough to give Western its slim victory.

TENNIS IN NOVEMBER

The Jack Kramer-Pancho Gonzales-Pancho Segura-Frank Parker-Bobby Riggs (Mr. Riggs is the promoter, a great come-uppance from the days in lower Los Angeles when his friends used to refer to him by such sobriquets as "Stinky") pro tennis troupe comes into the Forum in Montreal this week for a one-nighter and the match should be a decided improvement over the Riggs-Kramer affair in the city two years ago.

The series is closer this time, for the simple reason that it hasn't been going as long, with Kramer once again asserting his net superiority. Although the press agents employed by Mr. Riggs to fill the pockets of the Messrs. Kramer and Gonzales with that glittery gold, to say nothing of presenting a sizeable bulge in the pockets of the afore-mentioned Mr. Riggs himself, have been grinding out copy at a furious rate explaining Pancho's singular lack of success as a result of his inability to speedily adapt himself to changing lights and court surfaces, it still must be true that Big Jake is too much tennis player for the king of the amateurs. Yet, Pancho is putting up a better display than Riggs did, and the two tennis stars should provide a very interesting evening indeed.

Hockey Rinks, Ski Runs Ready For Busy Season

The Parks and Playground Department has been busy during the last ten days erecting the thirteen rinks in preparation for the fast approaching winter.

Four of these are located on Westmount Park; two hockey rinks, a skating rink and figure skating enclosure.

Queen's School and Queen Elizabeth Park will both have a combined hockey and skating rink, as will also Roslyn and Prince Albert Schools. King George Park will have two rinks, one for hockey and the other for free skating. Devon Park will have a small skating surface.

In conjunction with the Westmount Ski Club, President John Lewis and his 180 members, the Parks Department has been cutting three ski runs on the north side of Summit Circle. One of these will be a downhill run, the other a slalom run, which will zig-zag plenty down the steep slope and should prove tough enough for the most experienced skiers. One of the runs will be devoted to beginners with members of the Ski Club acting as instructors.

Who knows but that with this beginning we may yet produce an Olympic winner. All that is needed now is an early fall of snow.

Bowling Strikes And Spares

Leo Bradley lived up to his team name, "Pin Busters," Sunday night at the Forum Alleys when he spread the woods for 196 in the first line and piled up 425 for the high three of the evening. Miss J. Pim won the ladies' high single, rolling 124. The ladies' high triple was taken by Miss A. Filer with a score of 300.

Present team standing in the Westmount Community league is, Pin Busters and Alley Kings tied for first place with 14 points. Shmoos 13; Royals 12; Oxfords 10; Never Sweats 9. All 6 teams are showing more power with the team pinfalls on a steady up.

Keglers in the City Bowling League met their match at the Wilson Alleys Tuesday evening. Mr. Winter dropped in for a game and dealt out cold scores to league leaders Bill Hingley and Ross Sheppard.

Other league shooters also felt the cold spell, and numb fingers dropped many a score before completing the three lines. Cliff Thompson picked up some easy points with 149 for the men's high single and a low high 373 for 3 strings.

Pat Hurst rolled 152 and 419 in the ladies' department. The teams now stand with Roosters leading the field by 5 points and a total of 21; Hams 20; Chickens 16 and Turkeys 15.

The league will hold a turkey match starting December 13. Players will bowl 6 strings and count total pinfall.

Stayner Stars, Royals Winners at Basketball

Two games took place in the Westmount Municipal Intermediate basketball league last week.

The high-powered Stayner Stars proved too strong for the starless Alouettes, defeating them 43-8. Jack McKissock led the Stars' attack, garnering 13 points. He was followed by Bert Kelly with 10 points, Willy Manolson and Graydon Easton each scored 6 points, Earl McDonald dented the mesh for 5 points, while Buddy Selby sank a basket for 2 points and Pat Lomasney came away with 1 point. The Alouettes scorers were Bob Grant and John Kay.

In a tight game, the Royals outscored the Wolves 10-8. This was the Royals second straight win of the season. Noel Romney accounted for 4 of the Royals' points, while Logue McDonald and Harold Young came away with 3 points each. Cliff Gill was the high man for the Wolves, sinking two field goals for 4 points. Bruce Thomson and Eddie Lafontaine were the other point getters with 2 points each.

Science turned their backs on the target

Science is playing an increasingly important role in Canada's new Army. In heavy anti-aircraft, for example, complex radar equipment predicts to within a few feet exactly where the target is and will be. The gunners, their backs to the target, fire with amazing accuracy by instrument.

Training men in the use of modern scientific equipment is a major requirement in Canada's new Army. Thousands of young men are attending some of the finest schools in the country, specializing in electronics, radar, radio and telephone. In addition, there are openings for clerks, drivers, mechanics and many other trades.

New higher pay, good food and quarters, trades training and the opportunity for advancement make the Canadian Army Active Force one of the most attractive careers open to young men today. You are eligible if you are 17 or over and can meet Army requirements. Visit your nearest recruiting office soon for full details. Bring certificates of birth and education with you.

Do Animals Possess Power Of Premonition?

A recent paragraph in an English journal reports that a horse doing its bit three hundred feet down a coal mine, suddenly appeared to go on strike; for it broke out of its harness and backed out of the shaft. Six miners following the wagon followed suit, possibly in sympathy with the striker; but a few seconds later the mine shaft caved in.

Christian ...

is no such thing as unanswered prayer, when one prays aright with faith and understanding, because the answer is already established, awaiting our acceptance, our acknowledgement, of the divine presence and its power to supply all good, to meet our every need. Prayer does not change the purpose of divine Love. Prayer means knowing the truth as it exists eternally, the knowing which Jesus said is requisite to our freedom. Freedom from what? Freedom from fear, sin, sickness and other mortal mind beliefs.

Healing the sick through Christian Science is the application of the law of God which adjusts human conditions according to the divine Principle of true, harmonious, and everlasting being. Man's true and only being is everlastingly harmonious. God made it so! The human mind questions healing through spiritual means, but in regard to this as well as other manifestations of God's ever-operative law of harmony and perfection, it may be stated in Biblical language, "The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned" (I Cor. 2: 14).

Revelation and Gratitude

Christian Scientists have a deep feeling of love and gratitude for the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, whose zeal and love for all mankind and, above all, whose love for God and His Christ, led to her discovery of Christian Science — the full revelation of the glorious truth which Jesus said would make us free.

Knowing God and man is the way of freedom — freedom from fear, from sin and sickness; freedom from lack and limitation. In the loving words of Mary Baker Eddy (Science and Health, P. 227) "Citizens of the world, accept the 'glorious liberty of the children of God', and be free!"

Three Hurt in Mishap When Vehicles Collide

When a truck and an auto collided at 9 a.m. on Monday on Upper Lachine Road, three passengers in the auto driven by William Lacourse of Lachine, Que., sustained bruised legs. They were Miss A. Routledge, 4822 Cazalais Street; Eric Lauson, 4229 Grosvenor Avenue, Westmount and Miss Edna Hitchins, of Isle Bigras, Que. All refused treatment.

The mishap occurred opposite 6625 Upper Lachine Road and the truck involved was driven by Eugene St. Jacques, of Ville St. Pierre. Constables Lair and Ranger of radio car patrol investigated the accident.

Has a horse a sixth sense?

James Gilroy in a book beautifully illustrated by Gifford Ambler, tells of a cow whose favorite grazing ground was on the famous beach head at Anzio. The farmer had fled to a place of greater safety, but Elsie was left behind.

It may have been her experience of shrapnel on an earlier occasion, but certain it is that whenever the enemy were about to open fire, the cow would lie down. This mysterious sensitivity to shelling was soon detected by the troops, who came to respect Elsie as the barometer cow.

Other stories of animals which distinguished themselves in the service of their country in the Second World War — and all are authentic — help to convince the reader that these animals do possess some power of premonition — call it a sixth sense if you will, and may we say that is one more than has the average human.

Stanley Wilson's Sketches Draw Admiring Comment

Stanley Wilson is showing some of his work at 231 Elm avenue. Included in the collection are a few oil sketches but the majority are water colors. All depict Laurentian scenes in the neighborhood of St. Adolphe de Howard.

Mr. Wilson's views cover all seasons of the year, summer greens and winter snows with spring greys and autumn browns completing an attractive showing.

The speaker maintained that the choosing of a flag was not a political issue but a national one, and said that the sooner one flag is picked as Canada's official emblem, the sooner a feeling of National Unity will result.

In closing, the speaker cited the words in Latin carved on the monument to commemorate Wolfe and Montcalm's historic battle on September 13, 1759, which states: "Valour gave them a common death; History a common fame; Posterity a common monument."

"What greater tribute could Canadians pay to the memory of Wolfe and Montcalm than to have the symbols under which both of them fought and died now together on our National flag," the speaker asked emphatically near the close of his address.
