

O.H.S. Student Wins Honda Motor Scooter

Fay Arthur, Grade Nine student at Ormstown High School is now the proud owner of a 1966 Honda Motor Scooter.

In October, she participated in the annual Curtis Magazine Campaign sponsored by the Students Council. Among the many prizes awarded for Magazine Sales was a Honda Scooter to be won by the student whose subscription was chosen from the total number sold by the 40 participating schools. To our great surprise, Fay's subscription sold to Mrs. Gaston Cartier was the winning subscription.

To her go our congratulations and we hope we will see her next year selling magazine subscriptions on her "Honda."

March of Dimes Campaign Is Now On In Huntingdon Area and Throughout Quebec

As a result of the Campaign of the Royal Canadian Legion of which Huntingdon (Que. No. 81) Branch is an integral unit, the March of Dimes Campaign is now being conducted in the Huntingdon area and throughout Quebec. The campaign is being conducted by the Huntingdon (Que. No. 81) Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion and the Ladies Auxiliary thereof.

The General Chairman of the joint Branch and Ladies Auxiliary March of Dimes Committee, Mrs. Anne Cameron, 1st Vice-President of the Branch, chaired the meeting with Mrs. Grace Cappiello, a member of the Ladies Auxiliary as Secretary. The Vice-Chairman, Mr. Keith L. Renwick, 2nd Vice-President of the Branch, and Mrs. Winifred Napier, President of the Ladies Auxiliary, were unavoidably absent.

It was decided that, in conformance with the plans of other Quebec Branches in that connection, the 1966 Campaign would officially commence January 15 and end January 31, with the "Porchlight Blitz" in the Town of Huntingdon during the evening of January 31.

The following appointments were made and immediately accepted:

Organizers for the Country districts — Mrs. Agnes Cynogot, Miss Ada Warden and Mrs. Ruth Daniel, all members of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Organizers for the Town of Huntingdon — Mrs. Velma Benoit and Mrs. Gloria Brown, members of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Mr. R. W. ("Reg") Daniel volunteered to look after that part of the Campaign which is concerned with Schools, Stores and other Business concerns.

Mrs. Anne Cameron, as General Chairman will be in general supervision, with the assistance of Mr. Keith Renwick, Vice-Chairman, and Mrs. Grace Cappiello as General Secretary. Mrs. Winifred Napier will be in charge of the refreshments to be served to Canvassers by the Branch and the Ladies Auxiliary on the night of the "Porchlight Blitz".

Because of the weather conditions which usually prevail at this time of the year, the Country Canvassers may make their solicitations during the week preceding the Town of Huntingdon "Blitz" of Monday evening, January 31. In the latter instance the Door-to-Door Canvassers will commence their solicitations at a round 7 p.m. It is therefore hoped that all householders will have their Porch or Door Light alight in evidence of their desire to give their material aid to this great, humanitarian project.

While the advertisement sponsored and donated by the Branch gives, in a general way, details of the Quebec March of Dimes for the District, that organization is sponsored by Quebec Provin-

FRANCOIS CLEYN ADDRESSES LOCAL ROTARIANS AND GUESTS MONDAY

At the Huntingdon Rotary Club meeting on Monday, each member invited at least one farmer as a guest, it being designated Farmer's Day.

There was a full meeting and all enjoyed having their former friends join with them on this special occasion. Mr. Francois Cleyne, a member of the Club, was the speaker for the meeting. He chose to give a resume of the recent second report of the findings of the Economic Council, of which he is a member also. The attendance gave rare attention to Mr. Cleyne, indicating the interest they had in his subject, for it affects everyone in one way or another.

Rotarian Alister Somerville thanked Mr. Cleyne for his interesting address and the manner of its presentation. We feel that full justice must be given to this address and are therefore holding it over until our next issue, when we hope to present it in full for the information of all our readers.

"This year's objective of $160,000 will not only be used in favor of people who have been victims of Polio, but also for handicapped persons who do not qualify for assistance from other sources. I sincerely hope that the contribution of every citizen will be generous" (end of quote).

Campaign funds are spent to help not only those crippled by Polio but victims of accidents, and all crippling diseases.

The help is practical, with supplies offered from a pool of wheel chairs, hospital beds and prosthetic appliances; a team of physiotherapists who travel daily to clinics and private homes throughout the Quebec countryside; a school driving service for handicapped children; and many other measures of real assistance.

Technical Students In Valleyfield Involved In Current Strike

The strike of students at attending technical schools, includes the one at Valleyfield. The students are striking in protest of the lengthening of the school year by a matter of two and half weeks. They complain that this interferes with their earning ability during the summer months upon which they depend to obtain enough money to carry them through. While the extra two and a half weeks deprives this period of earning, it also means additional cost for board and other expenses. If the Government will cover this extra expense and make a Allan's Corners Bridge — To Be Or Not To Be ?

A few weeks back the Gleaner published a photograph of a sketch of the proposed new bridge at Allan's Corners to replace the one that was damaged by fire at Halloween 1964. Mr. George Kennedy, M.P. for Chateauguay had supplied the Gleaner with the photograph and the information that this bridge would be built in the Spring.

Last week further news appeared that a delegation headed by Mr. Kennedy was going to Quebec to seek further particulars on the new bridge.

After the Gleaner appeared with the item in it, representation from Allan's Corners people visited the Gleaner office and stated the bridge has not yet been authorized. The delegation was going to Quebec today Wednesday, January 19th, but not headed by Mr. Kennedy, although he was going on the invitation of the group. It appears that an answer from Quebec quite recently stated that no money has been voted sure.

So the delegation goes to Quebec in the hope that some sort of concrete decision will be reached and the people of Allan's Corners will at least know what is going on for the bridge and as of yet not published a photograph of a sketch of the proposed new bridge at Allan's Corners.

The people of Allan's Corners feel they have had enough of this uncertainty and they therefore made their own appointment with the Quebec Minister of Public Works and will meet with him at 2 p.m. today. They want to know just what the score is in connection with this bridge and if a new one is not going to be built this year, then perhaps something of a temporary nature can be arranged. This has in mind the building of Bailey bridge by army engineers. It is understood that something might be arranged through the army providing everything else is satisfactory.

The M.P. also dealt in some detail with election expenses of Indian constituents, the composition of his riding, redistribution, and the social life back to the central government.

In the second half of the discussion, Mr. Watson mentioned what he thought were the most important issues facing Canada today. The top priority must be bilingualism and biculturalism. Mr. Watson urged that French be established as a legal language in all provinces and that French minorities in other provinces be strongly protected.

In the field of federal-provincial relations, the speaker stated that Canada must have a strong central government if she is to survive as a nation. He urged also that certain legitimate aspirations of the provinces be respected.

Mr. Watson also stressed that we must be on guard against U.S. control of our economy even if this means personal sacrifice.

In a lengthy question period Mr. Watson dealt with just about every major issue in Canadian and international politics. When being questioned about Mr. Pearson as a Prime Minister, the member stated that he felt Mr. Pearson was the best man in Canada for the job at the present time and that his diplomatic skills have played a major role in holding Canada together.

The meeting was livened up by a strong group of Conservatives on the campus. They asked many difficult questions which were handled frankly and well. Because the Bishop's political clubs are campaigning for their upcoming Model Parliament, the Conservatives carried a large banner into the room saying "Elementary my dear Watson vote Conservative."

Mr. Watson was accompanied by his wife, who was also most popular with students.

Following the meeting, Mr. Martin Taylor, President of the Liberals at Bishop's said that, "This fellow is terrific. He's exactly the type of M.P. who should be visiting university campuses across the country. He makes politics much more relevant because he is looking at issues from our point of view."

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED TOO!

The March of Dimes campaign is presently going on in this area under the direction of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Huntingdon Branch Royal Canadian Legion. On Thursday morning, The Gleaner photographer went to the Huntingdon County Hospital and took the above photo of Mrs. M. Moring receiving therapy treatments from Mrs. Pysmaney, Physiotherapist with the March of Dimes. Mrs. Pysmaney attends at the above hospital each Thursday to treat patients requiring therapy and referred by a doctor. Such treatments are entirely free under the March of Dimes. She also attends at Riverview Terrace Convalescent Centre the same day. Providing they are referred by a doctor, all patients needing therapy are now treated under this plan. Some patients can be treated in their own home if the circumstances require it. There are three physiotherapists working out of Montreal and covering various areas throughout the Province of Quebec. Your help is needed to make this campaign a success and to keep up the good work. Give as generously as possible when you are called upon for a donation.

Ian Watson, M.P. Scores Hit At Bishop's University Liberal Club

"The pendulum is swinging back to the central government," said Ian Watson, M.P. for Chateauguay-Huntingdon-Laprairie, when he addressed the Bishop's University Liberal Club on Wednesday, January 12, on the topic "The Life of a Young M.P. in Ottawa."

About sixty students at Bishop's turned out to one of that University's best political meetings in years. Mr. Watson gained an immediate rapport with his audience as he presented his case from a "young" point of view. The students were also interested in hearing the views of one of their graduates, as Mr. Watson received a B.A. degree from Bishop's in 1954.

On the topic of what an M.P. actually does in Ottawa, Mr. Watson brought out three main points. He stated that much of his time is spent in dealing with local constituency difficulties. Work in committees and debate in caucus rounded out this discussion.

The M.P. also dealt in some detail with election expenses of Indian constituents, the composition of his riding, redistribution, and the social life back to the central government.

In the second half of the discussion, Mr. Watson mentioned what he thought were the most important issues facing Canada today. The top priority must be bilingualism and biculturalism. The United Rubber Workers of America (U.R.W.) have been certified by the Quebec Labor Relations Board as bargaining agent for employees of the Goodyear Tire Co. plant in Valleyfield. It was announced last Friday.

The Quebec Federation of Labor described the certification as the first in Quebec's new tire manufacturing industry.

The Valleyfield plant now employs about 100 workers, but the company has announced a $25,000,000 expansion program that will increase its labor force to 500 within two years.

Obituary
The Late
Mr. Odessa Pierre
The funeral of the late Mr. Odessa Pierre was held in St. Roman's Church, Hemmingford, on Dec. 9, 1965.

Mr. Pierre, a former well known resident of Hemmingford, was born in Sherrington in 1883, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Moise Pierre. When still in his early teens he moved to Cohoes, N.Y. and there he learned his trade as a barber. He returned to Hemmingford in 1907 and opened his own business, at first in the old Post Office building, later in the house next to the Fire Station and finally he with his wife, the former Miss Leah Moule of Cohoes whom he married in 1910, settled in the grey stone building opposite the Bank and remained for 40 years, operating the barber's shop and a restaurant.

An excellent barber, Mr. Pierre was widely known in this community. He retired in 1947 and, with Mrs. Pierre, went to live in Lacolle and was here in 1953 that Mrs. Pierre passed away. Two years ago being in poor health, Mr. Pierre moved to Montreal where he resided with his daughter until his death on December 6th.

He leaves to mourn his loss his son Lionel, who is supervisor of Customs at Ville LaSalle, and wife, Mrs. Lionel Pierre and their five children: his daughter Mercedes and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Silvio Langlois and their two daughters and his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Pierre of Hemmingford and their son Robert. There are also three great grandchildren.

The Reverend Canon L. Corriveau, with an assistant celebrated the Requiem Mass which was sung by the men's choir under their director Mr. Yvon Frederick.

Mr. Stewart MacDonald has been giving a helping hand at Carson's Garage during Mr. Carson's illness. In fact "Mac" has been giving his old friend Ex. Fire Chief Carson a helping hand ever since he came to Howick.

He was the Chief's able assistant during all those years and those of us who were cozy at home, don't know anything about fire equipment and freezing weather, drying fire hoses and wet clothes.

Telephone calls in the night meant trouble, and we believe the wives deserve some recognition, too, for sharing in the worry, and the misery they went through with the wet smoky clothing.

WAR MEMORIAL ARENA

By Safety Sam

While the cold weather over the past week has had everyone shivering and wondering when it will ease up, the crew over at the Arena are going around with smiles on their faces for the first time this winter. The ice has been hard and fast and seen a lot of use in the past seven days. The support that the Arena has been getting this year from the Skaters, the Broomballers and the Hockey Players is taxing the facilities to capacity.

Broomball
Harrigan's Hurricanes continued their winning ways with a three-to-nothing win over the Police in a game played last Tuesday. The Hurricanes have now gone through two seasons without a defeat, and surely there must be a Broomball team somewhere that can handle our local champs. If you think you have one, get in touch with Ken Harrigan at Fred Moore's, he'll be glad to arrange a game.

Town League Hockey
Wednesday evening saw the Town League season get underway with Notre Dame School and Flyers winning their opening games. Notre Dame winning five-to-two over the Hot Chickens, the Flyers taking the Red Hawks four-to-two.

Friday night's action saw the Flyers win their second in a row when Mike Harrigan scored with two minutes to play to give his team a four-to-three win over Notre Dame.

Red Hawks were too much for the Hot Chickens in the second game. The Hawks put up a stout defence to win three-to-one in this hard skating contest. Roma Emond was a stand out in nets for the losers.

Junior League
The opening of the Junior League on Monday evening, saw Murray Rennie and Scott Duhamel turn in shutouts for their teams in the net.

Duhamel, the Sea Cadet Goal-shut out the Washouts in the three-to-nothing opening game. Howard Welburn turned in a stand out job in the nets for the Washouts in losing.

The second game saw Murray Rennie and the Roughriders run away from Notre Dame Juniors by a seven-to-nothing count.

Skating Notes:
In future, evening skating at the Arena will be on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 7.30 to 9.30. Some people have thought that with the Broomball on Tuesday and Thursday there was no skating. Actually the Broomballers played from seven to eight and skating was from eight to ten. So remember, in future skating from 7.30 to 9.30, Broomball from 9.30.

If you have any complaints or have any ideas to improve the operation at the Arena please feel free to call us.

Activities of Dunde Young People

Three carloads of Hi-C members enjoyed a movie in Malone on Friday evening in place of their usual meeting in the church hall.

Plans are being discussed in the Hi-C circle concerning the renovating of the Manse attic into suitable club-rooms for youth activities. The young people and their leader, Mr. Carpenter, would do all the necessary work and canvas about for the necessary materials. A very ambitious project, but one which should prove quite worthwhile.

The Hi-C group have had a successful year, both socially and financially. During 1965 they sponsored a Crokinole Party, a dance in Fraser's Hall, record hops and a barbecue. They donated towards prizes for the Sunday School picnic, to the Bible Society, and they purchased the new Maple Leaf flag and stand which they presented to the congregation.

They also purchased books and presented them to members of the Hi-C who were leaving the group to further their education in various fields. In addition to this they presented the Rev. Mr. Martin with a token of their appreciation prior to his departure for his new charge in Midale, Sask.

At Christmas time the group were active in decorating the Sanctuary, and in sponsoring the Christmas Eve Service in Zion. They also distributed gifts to shut-in members and candy to the children when they went about the community carol singing, bringing joy and gladness to the hearts of many.

During the summer months this same group faithfully attended the Lakeside Services at Fraser's Point, and led in the singing of the chosen hymns. The congregation at the Point were most generous in showing their appreciation of the young people's effort in this direction.

We mustn't forget the production of "Romeo and Juliet" in the fall. This was a decided success in all aspects, and in addition to proving that our young people have considerable talent, it also helped to boost the financial standing of the group, so that at the end of the year '65 they have a substantial balance of $44.09, considerably more than they have had any other year.

Congratulations to the Hi-C, and to the ambitious leaders they have been fortunate enough to have since their formation.

Ann Kavanagh of Ethier St. was the guest of honor at a party on Sunday, to celebrate her 12th birthday which is on Jan. 19th. The girls had oodles of fun dancing all the latest steps and playing games. They played Charades, the winners and losers too were each presented with a little bottle of perfume.

After the fun and games, Mrs. Kavanagh served a delicious lunch assisted by Frances and Marie and Mary O'Brien. Ann's guests included Carole Spenard, Anne Laurence, Rosemary Farreau, Dede and Linda Sutherland, Marian Peacock, Lynn Fabio, Dianne and Carole Gauthier and last but not least, sister Margaret and little brother Tommy.

Would like to wish my daughter Lynn a very happy birthday too. She'll be 11 on Wednesday the 19th.

And that's about all for this week folks. My number is 692-5272 if you have any news you'd like to see in print — do give me a call.

BELL LINES

by Laurent Bouchard, your telephone manager

ARMS, INSTANTS, and TONGUES

If you're good at riddles, it shouldn't be very hard to find the answer to these questions:
What can reach across a continent, yet has no hands?
What takes you places in an instant, yet never moves itself?
What speaks in a thousand tongues, yet has none of its own?

The answer is of course your telephone. That easy-to-use convenience that takes you places every day, helps the family in so many ways. It helps you get news and information, make dates, invite guests, arrange meetings and social activities. It's a very comfortable way to go shopping in bustling January days without getting your feet cold... and the only way to check with the baby-sitter without leaving the party. There's certainly no question that the telephone has many uses. Whenever you need it — whatever you need it for — it's always there to call on.

TELEPHONE CHAINS

Lifelines for the Elderly

For the benefit of Huntingdon's residents who may not have seen a recent item in "Telephone News", the leaflet which accompanies telephone bills, I'd like to sum it up again here. It's one of those things that automatically make you wonder why it wasn't thought of long ago. It concerns elderly people — particularly those who live alone — and the fear that the sudden illness or accident may one day prevent them from even reaching the phone to call for help. The answer to this problem, as suggested by the Leaside (Ontario) branch of the Red Cross, is a "telephone chain" of five or six elderly people who check up on one another every day in a pre-arranged order. That is, each chain member makes one phone call and receives one call every day. If a chain member cannot reach the member he is to call, he notifies the member who acts as Chain Captain. If the Chain Captain cannot reach the member within a few hours, he in turn notifies the chain's sponsoring group (which can be a church, social or women's club, or any group of interested citizens) and one of the sponsors immediately makes a visit to find out the reason for the unanswered phone.

Apart from the obvious security of mind such a system brings, it has other advantages as well. It is the elderly people themselves who check up on one another, giving them a definite role and responsibility to enjoy, and of course very close friendships can easily develop from the daily conversations.

Information on suggested procedures for organizing a Telephone Chain is available in brochure form from the Senior Citizens Committee, Ontario Division, Canadian Red Cross Society, 460 Jarvis St., Toronto 5, Ont.

Huntingdon Girl Proves Herself As A Dress Designer

MISS ANNE CAMPEAU

The directors of Ecole Thérèse Gauthier Engr., are happy to announce the ability of one of its students, Miss Anne Campeau, who has distinguished herself during her course at our institution.

Her creation, seen above, received Honorable Mention at a Fashion Show recently presented by our school. It is made of iceberg blue poul de soie. The corsage and the skirt pleated at the back, end in a train entirely hand beaded. Though this dress was presented in splendid manner by a professional, Miss Campeau deserves the credit for it; she designed the style, made the pattern and made the dress herself.

This success is due to the minute and careful work of this student and we, of the direction of the school, are pleased to mention her value as a designer and seamstress. Ecole Thérèse Gauthier Engr. By Thérèse Gauthier, director

Magazine Saleslady Wins Honda

Miss Faye Arthur is one of the happiest girls in the province just now. She won a Honda. Faye sold one subscription during the school magazine campaign. All the names of those who sold magazines were put into a container and one name was picked by one of the teachers of Ormsiown High School. Faye Arthur was the lucky girl and her name was sent to headquarters where about twenty-five other schools had sent the drawn name of their winners. Faye was a surprised lady when she was informed that she had won the coveted Honda.

When asked what she plans to do she informed us that she will start it once, (she received the machine on Monday) then she will leave it in her garage until the nice weather comes. She has promised to be VERY CAREFUL while enjoying a prize.

Ormsiown High School Public Speaking

The final intra-mural Senior Girls' Public Speaking Contest was held last Thursday. Participants were Brenda Greig "Life's Like That"; Susan Nussey, "The Close Connection Between Mood and Music"; Heather Wallace, "A Parent's Frustrations"; Diane McCauley, "My Adventure in Horse Back Riding"; Nancylyn Cullen, "Education or Discrimination"; Betty Hughes, "Blessings From Heaven". The judges decision revealed, Joy Green, Betty Hughes and Nancylyn Cullen as winners in that order.

Scouts and Cubs

The recent bottle drive conducted by the Ormsiown Scouts and Cubs was a successful campaign, realizing a profit of approximately $50. The annual canvass will begin this year on February 20 with a church parade, a week long campaign and a Father and Son Banquet on February 24th. Campaign Chairman is Mrs. J. Ten Queen who wishes to mind all those interested in scouting that donations will be gratefully received by herself.

J.C.W. Meeting Unit 1, U.C.W. of St. Paul's United Church held their regular meeting in MacDougall Hall on Tuesday, January 11th, work starting at 1:30 o'clock. The Unit Leader, Mrs. G. Elliott, chaired the meeting with 27 members present. Devotions were led by Mrs. A. Anderson. Reports were given by the various committees. Members were reminded about the bazaar booth at the Ormsiown Fair in June.

Mrs. M. Graham described the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale church in New York, where he had the privilege of attending a service. Mrs. Graham gave the history and work of this wonderful church.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. F. Martin, Mrs. T. Duncan and Mrs. Frank Anderson. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Baskin, who celebrated their anniversary on Jan. 15th. We wish you many more.

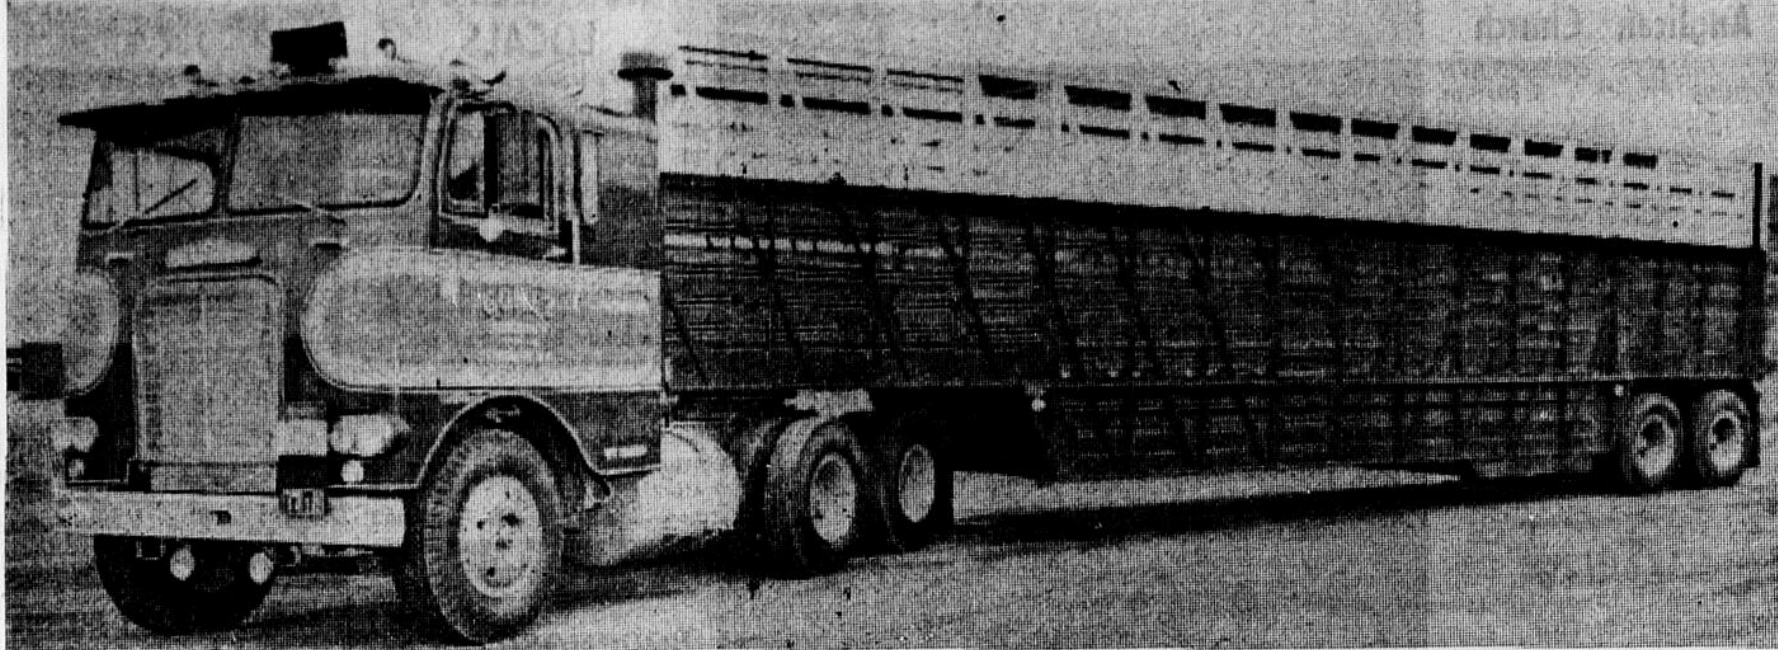

"Belated Birthday Wishes" to Denis Primeau, who celebrated a birthday on Jan 10th. Barrie Memorial Hospital Notes

ORMSTOWN HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

It seems the New Year has its share of ups and downs.

The Girl's Basketball season experienced an encouraging start when on January 7th, both junior and senior teams were triumphant over Huntingdon High. Then the following Friday marked a day of defeat as Gault High held the Something different in transportation of livestock has come our way and we believe it should prove of interest to all farmers and livestock shippers. Pictured above is a trailer type transport truck which caters especially to carrying cattle. In fact the owner specializes in just that.

In the top picture is a full view of the trailer and the tractor which hauls it. The trailer itself is 42 feet long and is unique in its arrangements. It is divided off into compartments with even upper and lower decks. The first compartment is in the front and some cattle can be seen in another photo on the right, already loaded in. The center section has an upper and lower loading space, which is accomplished by lowering the floor (seen in top photo of trailer as between the wheels). However, the top space is loaded first. This is done by raising a ramp at the rear to level required and loading the animals in. A view of this in photo on right. Then gates are closed and the ramp is lowered, when the lower floor is loaded. Lastly, the rear compartment is loaded, which is much the same as that in the front. The double deck portion of the trailer is 22 feet in length, which of course gives a loading space of 44 feet.

The average loads carried by the trailer is from 40 to 50 head according to the size of the animals.

Mr. Maurice Leggett of Herdman, has been using this means of transportation to the U.S. for the past 6 years. On Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, he shipped out two more loads. On Tuesday he had 50 head from yearlings to cows on the trailer and on Wednesday he had 40 head, mostly cows. In each case the shipments were going to Brookville, Florida, consigned to the Pila & Chernin Livestock Co. at that point.

A few details of the journey may also be interesting. After being loaded the transport proceeds to Champlain, about 45 miles from Huntingdon. This is the only near point with facilities for handling such shipments. Here the animals are unloaded for customs and other inspections and then reloaded. Following this, the transport proceeds to Bentley, South Carolina, U.S.A., where the animals are once more unloaded. They are driven into a barn and here they are fed and watered and rested for six hours. At the end of this period they are reloaded and proceed to the final destination.

The trailer trucks are registered under the name of the Gomez Transportation Company of Lebanon, New Hampshire, U.S. and owned by Phil Gomez, who is president of the company. Several such trailer trucks are owned by the company and are used in hauling to all parts of the U.S.

From the time the transport is loaded at Herdman, it is 72 hours later that the destination is reached. Two men are with the transport and they take turns at driving and resting during the entire trip. Mr. Leggett believes this is an ideal method of transportation for livestock and says he uses it all the time for such shipments.

higher score in both cases.

The boy's hockey season is well under way. As yet, the senior team has played only two games. The scores are as follows. Ormsiown - 5 Huntingdon - 3, Ormsiown - 3 Gault - 8. The juniors have yet to demonstrate their talents.

We hope the New Year will lend us its share of ups. We're depending on them.

Father Gareau is back

Thank you and a Happy New Year. If I use this column to express my gratitude to all those who have sent me good wishes for a speedy recovery, it is that it has been graciously put at my disposal.

A sick person is encouraged each time he or she receives good wishes from his relatives, his friends, his parishioners (as is my case) whom he guides towards Truth.

Thanks to all those who have done so and also for the many gifts. They were very heartwarming and comforting.

I take this opportunity to wish a Happy New Year to all citizens of St. Joseph parish and specially to those who have sent me theirs.

I wish that 1966 will bring you peace, joy, love and mutual comprehension.

May God be with you. My health is improving every day and I want to remain a priest to serve all in this parish.

The Mothers' March of Dimes is the fund raising arm of Quebec March of Dimes for the Disabled, which organization is sponsored by Quebec Provincial Command of The Royal Canadian Legion; thereby also, in part, by Huntingdon (Que. No. 81) and other Quebec Branches of the Legion.

Briefly, some of the Highlights of the activities of Quebec March of Dimes for the past year, included: "Examination, Treatment and fitting of Prosthetic Appliances (braces, limbs, boots, etc.) have been supplied through the Rehabilitation Clinics at Montreal, Three Rivers, and Chicoutimi, to 548 men, women and

The March of Dimes is a charity which blesses those who give as well as those who receive! Crackdown on...

nessmen who travel regularly to Montreal, David Crane says in The Financial Post, hotel and plane reservations are often quite a problem. But if this is a problem now, it's going to become a massive headache in 1967 — the year of Expo — particularly in getting hotel rooms. Here's the hotel situation, according to The Financial Post: Montreal and the immediate area has 27,000 hotel, motel and tourist — home rooms. Another 1,000 rooms may be added before Expo opens April 28th 1967. But Expo officials estimate they will need about 55,000 rooms a night for most of July and August — accommodating an average of 2.5 persons per room. This 55,000 includes business needs. Conventions will add to the accommodation scramble. So... your sales force may face "sorry-no-room" shrugs in 1967 — from both airlines and hotels — unless some fast planning starts soon.

FARMS WANTED

This year, more than ever, we are receiving from city dwellers insistent requests for farms; all of them wanting to be as close to Montreal as possible. Good practical farms are, of course, always wanted, but many are looking for hobby farms up to 75 or 100 acres.

SMALL ACREAGE

Then, too, we have many requests for homes with from 2 to 50 acres, as well as for homes with smaller lots. And, of course, all would like to have them on or near water.

If you are even just thinking of selling your home or farm, please give us a call, or drop in at the office so that we can talk it over confidentially.

John Thompson de Thompson's Tobacco Shop and Snack Bar informé The Gleaner this week that the Amateur Night concert planned by Br. 81 of The Royal Canadian Legion has been temporarily postponed.

Will YOU be at the Dewittville Ice Carnival, January 20th?

DID YOU KNOW that the Mayors of the Municipalities of Huntingdon County and Mayor Leo Cappiello of the Town Council will be meeting at the County Building tomorrow (Thursday) to discuss Expo '67 ... that the proposed redistribution of constituencies is now being studied by the Federal Government ... that Gerry Hebert of Ormstown will be doing the lettering on the new Huntingdon garbage disposal truck any day now ... that despite the sub-zero weather experienced of late the Chateaugay River is still open at places ... that ground frost hereabouts is only about 18 inches ... that if hopes materialize, a new overhead bridge will be built on Route 3 to replace the lift bridge at Valleyfield ... that the new east exit at Mercier Bridge is saving local commuters up to a half-hour every day ... that long-distance telephone tolls will be priced downward before too long ... that The Gleaner was stuck with a counterfeit $20. bill last week.

Chateaugay News Notes

By Fergus Horsburgh

- Chateaugay Heights' water and sewage system is now in operation. See story elsewhere in this issue.
- The 3rd Girl Guide Company, with the 3rd and 7th Brownie Pack is holding a Flag Dedication Ceremony at St. Paul School, on Monday, January 31st, at 7:15 p.m.
- Mayor Joseph Laberge presided at the opening ceremonies at the Seignior Park ice rink last Sunday. See details elsewhere in this issue.
- Gardens/Terrace Hockey House League play got underway last week. Six Atom teams took part and all games played were closely contested, with no lop-sided results.
- A Council meeting was held Tuesday evening, January 11th, in the Town of Chateaugay. A few items from this session.
- Two small skating rinks are to be constructed — these to be used for skating only — in the Colonia area. One rink will be in C.P.O.A. pool area, the other beside the hockey rink at the rear of St. Willibrod's School.
- Council is still studying the Taxi by-law.
- The Town is continuing correspondence with the Federal Board of Transport Commissioners concerning the railroad crossing at Notre Dame Street in the Chateaugay Station area. The road at the crossing has been widened by the Town.
- Street light out in your area? If you spot one of these unlit items around your home, telephone 692-2831. It would help a great deal if you could give the pole number. If this is not known to you, give the civic number in front or nearest to the light.
- By-law 266 amending by-law 225 setting the rate for remuneration for the Mayor and Aldermen of the Town has been passed and adopted. Said by-law is deposited in the office of the Secretary-Treasurer at Town Hall, where all interested parties may view during daily office hours.
- The valuation roll of the Town for 1966, as prepared by duly appointed evaluators has been deposited in the office of the Secretary-Treasurer since Jan. 11th 1966. The valuation roll will be at the disposal of all interested parties for 30 days, to wit until Feb. 10th.
- Another step will be taken next Sunday evening in the Ecumenical movement in the Chateaugay area. The combined Roman Catholic churches, the United, Presbyterian and Anglican churches will join together in the service in St. Joachim Church next Sunday evening, January 23rd.
- The McLennan Travelling Library will be in Chateaugay this week.
- Mary Gardner Home and School Association will be having an Open-Night and Book Fair on January 25th.
- A resident of St. Francis Blvd. Ross Elliott, teacher at Monklands High School had a team of four of his students on "Challenge" last Sunday evening at 5 p.m. Their score 205 points, against 100 for the other team (from St. John's Quebec). Watch for them next week on Channel 12 at 5 p.m.
- Town of Chateaugay Alderman Marcel Seers is vacationing in California, as anyone with any sense would, at this time of year.
- I hear that a movement is afoot to appoint a Sports Director to the Town of Chateaugay.
- Town of Chateaugay Police recovered a stolen car on Monday morning Jan. 17th, on McLeod Avenue near the corner of St. Charles. The car was stolen outside the Chateaugay area, but belonged to a resident of this community. A quiet week for Town of Chateaugay Police, with very few minor accidents and routine matters.
- Welcome back to these cold climes to J. Sarto Blais of Chateaugay Center. Mr. Blais enjoyed a nice vacation in sunny Florida — watching the "scenery" on the beaches and getting a good tan.
- Some items from the Jan. 11th meeting of Center Town Council:
- The town will donate $200.00 to the local 4-H Club for a Centennial project. This will take the form of planting of trees in the Center. The 4-H Club will have 2500 trees to plant, and with the $200.00 grant from the town, the area should become quite a green belt in a few years.
- Council named streets bearing numbers 151-12 — "Crois-sant Gerard", 151-5 rue "Leclerc" and 146-68 to 174 inclusive rue "Pilon."
- Alderman Roland Colpron gave notice to Council that he will propose a by-law in order to prohibit transportation of old houses and/or construction shacks to other areas of the town.
- Council authorized spending of $375.00 for poles and plates for street names to be placed in the Salaberry Development.

- By-law 538 — four bidders; from $56,136.20 to $72,559.60.
- By-law 533 — two bids; first $16,365.00 and $17,995.00.

Next meeting of Chateaugay Center Council will be on Feb. 2nd. All taxpayers are welcome to attend in the Municipal Hall on Croissant Richard.

The Gleaner has learned that the new Post Office will be ready for occupation some time during the latter part of February.

More and more accidents are occurring on "suicide strip" — that part of Highways 3 and 4 — from the transmitter to the quarry. Monday morning shortly after 7 o'clock a three-car pile-up in front of the CFCF transmitter. One car ended up in the ditch.

Another bad accident last Thursday evening during the rush hour, near by the railway tracks. This one was a head-on collision in the centre lane. The Gleaner was unable to get information on these accidents up to time of going to press. See photo elsewhere.

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK

For the third — or is it the fourth? — successive year commercial artist Keith Strike is giving his time and talent to Children's Art Classes on Saturday mornings. Classes got underway last Saturday at the Club. Enrollment will be strictly limited to 24, and priority will be given to children of Home Owners Association members. A participating child's mother or father will be obliged to help supervise the class. A minimum of three assistants are required at each class.

A Chess Club for boys and girls has been organized by the Activities Committee of the Home Owners' Association. Pat Bedard announced last week that Bob Bedard and Geoff Hofstatter will give instruction for those aged eight and up, at the Club, on Sunday afternoons between 2 and 3 p.m.

Seignior Park made a promising start to the hockey season when the Bantams beat the Gardens 3-2 at the Gardens rink. Our boys all came out with great performances, with Terry Murphy scoring two goals and Grant Wilson one. Neil Ganev was referee. This was a highly encouraging result for Bantam coach Mac McConnell.

I hear that Heights residents are complaining that a flock of pigeons have become pests to the community. It is not known if the pigeons are domesticated or wild. The complaints are on the grounds that the pigeons are a threat to human health.

The town has done a first class job of providing an ice rink for Seignior Park under the Transmission Line. The ice is good, blue and other lines are clearly marked, and the shelter hut is heated.

Will the first family in Seignior Park to produce in-door blooms on bulbs, please advise this column?

I wonder if anything has been done about organizing a sleigh-ride for the children this winter?

I hear that a members' meeting of the Home Owners Association is scheduled for this week. Details are lacking at the moment of writing.

Ann Landers...

Answers your problems

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to comment on the letter from the person who wrote about pornographic snapshots and closed with the line, "If these sick people knew how many pairs of eyes saw the pictures before they left the drugstore they'd be a whole lot sicker." He signed himself "Your friendly Finisher."

That person was not a finisher. He was a clerk behind the counter in a drug store. I know because I am a finisher and all professionals in the field are aware of the law on indecent photos, as well as our code of ethics.

We finishers do not return pornographic pictures. We send a notice to the customer explaining the reason we can't return his pictures. We ask him to allow us to destroy them in his presence.

Our company records show that the percentage of pornographic pictures is infinitesimal — about 10 pictures per two and a half million snapshots.

Clerks in drug stores who spend their time opening up a nice soft thick rug which you can dye to match any colour scheme.

When ironing you need a sleeve board just roll a terry cloth towel around your rolling pin. A sleeve will go over that rolling pin like a glove and the rolling pin turns as you iron each side, thus preventing a crease.

The envelopes to look at the customer's pictures, should be smarter than to write to Ann Landers about it. — A.P.R.

Dear A.P.R.: Thanks for an enlightening letter. Experts such as you keep me on the beam. I am grateful that you took the time to give us the straight scoop.

Dear Ann Landers: "God bless you" for praising the teacher who was kind to the six-year-old boy who wet his pants in school.

The letter was written by a 46-year-old man. He said, "I will love that teacher till my dying day." She understood what had happened and ushered the boy quietly to the teacher's rest room. She gave him some dry underwear she kept there for that purpose and asked him to have his mother launder it and return it for some other little boy who might need it.

Our own little girl was barely six when she wet her pants at the blackboard. Her teacher was not so kind. She shamed the child until she fled from the room in tears and arrived home sobbing. It took a lot of talking before I could persuade her to return to school.

I wish every teacher knew what an impact she has on the lives of the children who are entrusted to her care. Please tell them. — ONLY YESTERDAY

Dear Yesterday: You told them — and I hope they believe it. I remember every teacher I ever had had and some of them were completely

DON'T SEND — TAKE YOUR BOY TO THE GAME

• Although practically every community in Canada has a Minor Hockey organization of some sort, we in Chateauguy have been blessed with a program that needs take a back seat to no other. We have a fine group of volunteer workers who make sure that every youngster in town has an opportunity to take part in Canada's National Sport under properly supervised conditions.

• Not only do they provide our youngsters with an opportunity to play, they provide organization, instruction and leadership so that the young lads may learn to play hockey well.

• But these fine people do not seek only to teach the boys how to play hockey. They realize that it is also their task to teach the fundamentals of good citizenship and to assure that our boys have fun while playing in this wholesome sport. Combining these fundamentals with the basics of hockey, and with the body-building exercise that is a part of a good game like hockey results in a well-rounded program that deserves the full support of every citizen in the community.

Chateauguay Catholics Back Protestant School Link

The possibility of joint schooling of Protestant and English-speaking Roman Catholic high school students in Chateauguay increased over the week-end as English Catholic parents voted overwhelmingly to investigate a co-operative educational venture with Protestant school authorities.

The 563-38 vote in favor of having the Youville (Catholic Regional School Board negotiate with the Chateauguay Valley (Protestant) Regional School Board climaxed a prolonged and often bitter controversy in the community.

The possibility of secondary schooling along common language rather than religious lines had been referred to a special study commission several weeks ago.

The commission issued its report by mail last week to all English-speaking Catholics over the age of 18.

In its report, the commission took no formal stand on the question. It attempted to present pros and cons of the issue.

Three Plans

One suggestion called for a separate English Catholic high school in the area, based on a projected 1971 enrolment of 1,100 pupils.

A second recommendation was for shared English-French high school facilities under the Youville Regional Board.

The third suggestion, and the one approved in the referendum, would group English Catholic and Protestant students in the same school.

The vote carries no legal obligation. Permission for any joint venture must be obtained from the provincial Department of Education.

But a similar co-operative program is going ahead in one region of the Eastern Townships. And earlier this month the Papineau (Catholic) and Ottawa Valley (Protestant) regional boards voted to seek Department approval to establish an English-speaking wing in the proposed Papineau regional high school.

The Chateauguay study commission was headed by Milton G. Sweeney, president of the Parent-Teacher Association unit at St. Willibrord School.

The commission agreed that achieving a workable comprehensive high school to "prepare all students for their rightful place in a rapidly changing society," would require "a considerable expansion in the facilities currently available and the number of qualified teachers available."

It also pointed out, the Department's requirement of at least 1,200 students before a comprehensive system could be considered for a given area.

The commission indicated that the province "is unwilling or unable to say at this time what means it intends to use to provide for the education of the English-speaking Catholic."

Brief Attached

Attached to the study group's report was a "Brief on cooperation between Catholics and Protestants for the Education of Children in the English Language."

The brief had been prepared last year by the Provincial Association of Catholic Teachers.

The study group admitted in its report it had "differences of opinion on the merits of the various alternatives." But, it added, there was no disagreement on the goal sought: "Our concern is for our children."

By 1967 there will be an estimated 600 English Catholic children of high school age in the region. The Protestant high school population will be approximately 935. There will be about 1,400 French-speaking Catholic secondary school students.

At present the English Catholic high school population is about 425. Slightly more than half are attending a local English Catholic high school. But a number are enrolled at the local Protestant high school, and others are attending Roman Catholic schools on the Island of Montreal. The parents of those students pay special fees.

In its December newsletter the PACT pointed out that according to some regional plans, English-speaking Catholic students "are to form part of a French school."

"This will certainly provide accommodation, but it cannot possibly provide for options, subject promotion, guidance, etc., and those things necessary to give our children equal educational opportunity," the newsletter said.

Mr. Sweeney, chairman of the Chateauguay commission, said he was pleased with the report. Richard O'Reilly, president of the regional PTA, agreed, but said he was disappointed that only 35 per cent of eligible adults had voted.

Town of Chateauguay Heights

Water - Water - Water

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

When the Heights, 'way back in 1947, seceded from the Town of Chateauguay, the reason for secession, written into the Heights' charter, was the desire to install a water and sewer system. Time passed and the rest of Chateauguay modernized itself and the Heights was left as the only local area without modern essential services. Nineteen years after the incorporation of the Heights, additional capacity will be added in the Spring. Water for the three municipal Chateauguays put into operation its modern water and sewer system. Alderman Frederick Lunn, pro-Mayor, announced at last week's Council meeting that water and sewer systems have already been made, and another 150 homes are waiting for private contractors to make the final link-up. Some 300 homes in all will tie into the Heights' modern water and sewer system in the months immediately ahead. Many homes have cuts in the ground awaiting the laying of pipe between the main lines and individual water lines. Sewer lines also became effective last week.

Water supplied by the Town of Chateauguay comes without any additional carrying capacity from existing lines across the Chateauguay River. Additional capacity will be added in the Spring. Water for the three municipal Chateauguays put into operation its modern water and sewer system. Alderman Frederick Lunn, pro-Mayor, announced at last week's Council meeting that water and sewer systems have already been made, and another 150 homes are waiting for private contractors to make the final link-up. Some 300 homes in all will tie into the Heights' modern water and sewer system in the months immediately ahead. Many homes have cuts in the ground awaiting the laying of pipe between the main lines and individual water lines. Sewer lines also became effective last week.

Although public water lines now reached individual houses in the Heights, the main lines have had water coursing through for six weeks during testing operations.

MAYOR JOSEPH LABERGE OPENS SEIGNIORY PARK RINK

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

Seignior Park's new ice rink under the Transmission Line was officially opened last Saturday afternoon, by Mayor Joseph Laberge. Accompanying Mr. Laberge at the opening ceremonies were the Parks and Recreation Committee members Philip Bonneau and Aldor Hebert.

Take Your Boy To The Rink During Minor Hockey Week

Minor Hockey Week opens on Saturday, January 22nd and will be celebrated in this area. It is supported by a large number of the business men in Chateauguay as well as citizens generally. Even more support is asked from the parents of all boys whether in minor hockey, or just interested in it. With some younger boys they may just be anxious to start into the game and it is a good healthy exercise for them.

Parents can do much to help their boys who are playing in the Minor Hockey games, by taking their sons to the rink where they are playing and giving them their best support, win or lose. Those who are not in the game as yet should be taken too, for it could prove quite interesting to them also. Being Canada's national winter sport, hockey will need more and more players all the time. Getting into Minor Hockey trains the youngsters in how to play the game right and well. In due time they will gain full knowledge and become first class players. Who knows but what they might become future NHL stars.

So take your boy to the Rink, don't send him — give him your moral support and he'll love you for it.

ST. ANDREW'S NOTES

(By Fergus Horsburgh)

Rev. Howard Fraser chose for last Sunday's Sermon the topic "Children of Light". Hymns sung included "All Beautiful the March of Days" and "Forward! Be our Watchword". A World Mission Folk-Singing evening was held on Sunday evening, when Rev. John Guy, B.A., B.D., was guest performer and song leader. Mr. Guy, who works with students at McGill and Sir George Williams University, has been featured on local TV and radio. His programme was sponsored by the recently-formed "Kairos" group.

Sorry to be a little late with this news in fact it's never too late to acknowledge a good deed, especially when it concerns our teenagers. During the holiday season 8 young ladies from our area went out Carol singing and with the bit of money they earned they brought some happiness to the folks at the Helen Curtis Co. where she is employed and when the manager heard of the news he presented as a gift from the Helen Curtis Co. toiletries equal in value to those purchased. The girls also purchased some hose for the male patients at the Wheeler Home.

The young ladies are Linda Harwood (of Colonia) Mary O'Brien (Crown Homes) Jeanne Gauthier (Chateau Estates) Frances and Marie Kavanagh (Crown Homes) Lenny Eekhout, Dina Zarboni, Barbara Taylor.

Chateauguay Valley Expo Committee Meets

By Fergus Horsburgh

Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Chateauguay Valley Expo Committee, Mr. Ian Watson, presided at a meeting last Friday in Montreal. The meeting took place in the office of Mr. J. Belanger, Head of LODGEXPO (official housing bureau of Expo 67).

Mr. Belanger stressed that time was critical — indeed it was running out. It was stated that studies had indicated that 55% of those attending the exhibition would be camping. The Committee's efforts would be directed towards the provision of suitable camp sites.

Mr. Watson proposed reserving a telephone line for a number of municipalities in the Valley region as a reporting centre for private home accommodations. Room rates are to be reviewed by the Committee. Mr. Tom McDade, one of the representatives to the Committee, made the following suggestions:

Suggestion 1

A Halfway Monument

As a point of interest to residents and visitors alike, a marker should be placed approximately .05 of a mile north of the International Boundary line, to indicate the forty-fifth parallel (latitude 45 degrees north) which crosses highway number 4 at a right angle. It would denote the halfway point between the Equator and the North Pole.

Suggestion 11

Rest Areas

Two rest areas should be constructed beside the Chateauguay River on highway number 4, between Ste-Mar time and the International Boundary line. Each area need not be large, but they should have at least three fireplaces, rubbish containers, benches and tables.

A sign erected in each area would give the mileage to Montreal and surrounding towns and identify the location.

This would attract visitors to the region, and serve as an inducement to Montrealers to visit the Chateauguay Valley. Maybe this could be a service club or 4-H project.

Suggestion 111

Re. Travel in the Chateauguay Valley

We must seek to encourage Valley residents to explore their own region. At the same time, spread the welcome mat for visitors from other areas. This could develop business for those who provide services, which in turn would mean an opportunity for them to continue to improve their facilities.

Image-building plays a big part in an area. We must aim a publicity program at today's highly mobile people. Travel literature and maps could be handed out at a reception centre maintained at Huntingdon, an effort should be made to hold the visitor in the region through a booklet describing attractions close at hand. The reception centre could be built on unused land just north of the bridge (Highway No. 52) on the west side of the river in Huntingdon. The maintenance would be on a shared cost basis i.e. a nominal charge for the season to an establishment that would want to have their pamphlets on display.

According to the Canadian Government's Travel Bureau, it is estimated that each incoming visitor's car crossing the border brings in an average of 3.4 persons, with an expected 10 per cent growth this year.

The Annual March of Dimes

AS announced in the last issue of this newspaper, the annual March of Dimes campaign which is sponsored by the local branches of the Royal Canadian Legion in the area, opened on Saturday, January 15th. It will continue until January 31st, when a blitz drive will be held by the mothers as a finale.

The March of Dimes was first introduced to raise funds for research with which to fight polio, which was annually taking more and more victims. Today, we are happy to say that there are not so many cases of polio and it is hoped that the disease is about licked. However, as no cure has been found for it and there are still a large number of sufferers, the fight must go on. It must go on until a sure cure, or perfect immunization is found.

So it is that an appeal will be made in this area and throughout the Chateauguay Valley for funds to help this great project continue its services in behalf of the fight against the great crippling disease. Not only does the money raised help in the research, but also to provide various types of service to the many sufferers in all parts of this province and elsewhere. You may start contributing right now if you wish, but be sure to make a contribution sometime before the campaign ends. The blitz campaign usually gets most people in the towns. Others like to send a cheque do it, make sure that you do. Watch ad for a certain amount. No matter how you contribute, for places to send your contributions. Watch for the boxes in stores and banks, etc., join the March of Dimes, you'll be glad you did.

Those Counterfeit $20 Bills

THERE is no doubt that most of our readers have read the warnings with regard to counterfeit $20 dollar bills being in circulation and a few have turned up in our area. It might be said that anyone having such bills in their possession and passing them for payment, are suspect. However, it is often that an entirely innocent person comes into possession of such a bill and without knowing passes it on in payment for something purchased.

If the phony bill is discovered, the party offering it may be questioned, or it may be traced to him and he will be questioned. Just what happens from there is a guess, but it can be quite embarrassing to say the least. For the victim is just as if he had been robbed, he is short that $20 and probably through no fault of his own. The police will confiscate the bill and it does not appear that it can be made good, unless some one along the line it has passed through, will do so.

We understand that these bills are so close to the original, that it takes an expert to spot that they are phony. That being the case, almost anyone could be fooled if one falls into their possession per chance. According to information obtained, if the banks spot one of these bills, they are duty bound to report the matter to the police and to retain the bill. A receipt is given for the bill in case there should be a way of making recovery. If a bank receives a counterfeit bill and it is not noticed, it could be passed on to a customer without knowing, but the banks do not knowingly pass such bills on. However, if the person receiving such bill notices it and calls the bank's attention to it at the time, the bank will keep the bill and give the customer the right amount. This then is a loss to the bank. The bank is not bound to make any counterfeit bill good without full proof is offered that the bank was responsible. Also in the case of a bill being in doubt, the bank will have it checked, but if it is found to be a phony it will be retained and handed over to the police, the party would then be the loser.

There is no positive way of identifying a phony bill, in most cases, as the counterfeits are almost perfect. Thus anyone might get caught and not even know it. We can only urge people to use every precaution possible to guard against the danger. Only in the event of having several counterfeit bills in one's possession is the serial number of any use — then the serial number in all probability bear the same number. They may be easy to come by, but they are hard to detect.

Trend To Scrambled Merchandising

PERHAPS the heading above will tend to make our readers think of the old country store and that therefore this is nothing new. It is not like that, but it could be, on a more modern style.

You have seen the chain store, the discount store, the super-market and the shopping centre. You know what they have done to shopping practices of the past and the present. The shopping centre brought together a large number of stores of various types of merchandise where the shopper could park a car and go from one store to the other for practically anything needed. The discount store brought cash and carry goods at lower prices and in almost all varieties.

The trend now is toward what will be known as Scrambled Merchandising and by 1970, it is said it will be in full swing.

It means that you can stop at your favorite service station and while your car is being gassed up, greased, or whatever it is, you can go into the station and buy a dress, or almost any other article. On the other hand, it also means that you can go to your favorite dept. store and while trying on a pair of shoes you can have your car fitted with new brake shoes and given a tune-up. At some of the larger stores you can renew your life insurance policy, or any other policies. In other words all stores will be dabbling in practically everything.

We don't need to look too long, to find that this trend has already set in. There are certain Service Station which carry other merchandise than just for cars, or arrangements can be made to order for you. There are certain large dept. stores which handle insurance. It will mean that this type of business will be increased to carry more and varied lines of goods to entice the public to shop more conveniently. Many an hour is wasted while a car is being fixed in one way and another as of the present. Without the car not much shopping is done. If there was a store attached to the Service Station, there is no doubt it would be patronized.

Just what this would do to ordinary business is for the imagination. However, it is something to think about meantime in the hope of coming up with something to meet the trend. All business today is out for the consumer dollar whether it is still worth a dollar or not. More startling offers are being made, more types of merchandise are being offered, all to attract the buyer into the stores. Scrambled merchandising could be another gimmick that might just catch on.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

A Winter Weekend

Winter is a delight to the young, a bit of a horror for the old, and a blasted nuisance for the rest of us.

Yet even for me, one of the most violent winter-haters in the last category, there are moments when it has a mysterious charm that cannot be duplicated at any other season.

Today is one of them. Nope, it's not one of those sparkling, crunchy, sky-blue winter days which no one but a complete misanthrope could fail to enjoy. It's just the opposite.

It's one of those brooding winter days when the shadow of the great monster of the north hangs low over the shrinking earth, and his icy paw feels about the walls of the house, seeking a weak spot where he may enter and strangle.

His cold, blue breath raises snow ghosts that sift silently among the naked, shivering trees. His very presence makes the blue-green spruce huddle closely, like frightened cattle in a storm. The water of the bay reflects fearfully the slate-gray of his sightless eyes.

Don't be frightened, children. The old spook won't get us. As long as that is, as the snow doesn't block the roads, and we don't run out of fuel, and there isn't a power breakdown.

It's a day for sitting by the fire with a hot noggin, dreaming, shivering deliciously once in a while, as the monster outside gives a snort of frustration that rattles the windows. And that's exactly what I'm doing.

We've been spending the weekend with the grandparents, in the country. It has followed its inevitable pattern. The night we arrived, it blew and it snowed. In the morning it was still snowing, with a wind gusting to 40 miles an hour, piling up the drifts, filling the driveway.

Late in the day, the snow stopped, the wind dropped, and so did the temperature, to a nice round figure — zero. Typical visiting winter weekend.

But we care now. Flames dance in the fireplace, fairies on the television. Tomorrow is time enough to dig out the car, pray that it will start, and hope the snowplow will get through the side-road.

While the monster prowls outside, all is serene within. Granddad reminisces about winters 30 years ago when he drove a rural mail route, with team and sleigh. Bundled to the ears, Buffalo robes. Snow piled to the top of snake fences. Stopping for lunch in the still shelter of deep spruce woods. Lonely as the Ancient Mariner, on a white, white sea. And home, darkness deepening, to cosy lamplight, snug farm kitchen, hot food, and anxious wife.

While he talks quietly, Granny produces endless pots of tea, cake, sandwiches, chocolates. The kids sprawl on the floor, strumming guitars or dreaming. The Old Lady, axe dozes, silent for once.

And even yours truly, lulled by the fire and stunned by a huge dinner, admits that there are times when winter can be wonderful.

"COUNTRY NOTEBOOK"

BY WALKER RILEY

"Country Notebook" by Mr. Walker Riley, Agricultural Extension Specialist with Macdonald College is a weekly feature which we trust will be of interest to all in the Chateauguay Valley.

Making a mistake, it is said, is the best way to attract attention to a coming event. That is my only consolation for giving you the wrong date for the College Royal coming up next month. It is on Friday, February 25. So to all those whose calendars I have messed up, to high school principals who are bringing in busloads for the day, to parents and uncles and aunts and friends who are coming to see the demonstrations and the displays and the livestock show, my apologies. Honest. I didn't do it on purpose. And it is February 25.

Ever since I can remember, I have heard arguments how to beat the law of supply and demand. The years your crop is poor, prices are high. When it is good, the bottom has fallen out of the market; you are no better off, maybe worse. Take pigs, for example. Right now prices are really good. Producers won't be able to resist the temptation to keep another sow or two over, or to get back into pigs if they have been out for the last year or two. And as sure as day follows night, supply will build up and prices drop. Producers get discouraged, sell their breeding stock, and the cycle starts over again. Every four years.

Some argue that this is the way it must be. They say it's the only way an industry can stay healthy, efficient, and competitive with other countries who would like to undersell us on our own market. No matter what the market price, a few will be making money, and the rest losing money. The bottom ones drop out and the process continues. If it didn't we would be still cutting grain with sickles. It is the survival of the fittest.

Others say that in our advanced society we should legally fix prices at a level which guarantees a profit to most producers, and then control the supply. At the Kempville Conference, which I attended earlier this month, Dr. M. A. MacGregor explained the choice of ways to control production.

"Basically there are three ways of controlling supply," he said. "First, quotas on the output of individual producers; 2) restriction on inputs of the individual producers; and 3) restriction on the number of producers. At some time or another all three methods have been attempted in Canadian agriculture with varying degrees of 'success'.

"Let us briefly consider each of these methods of controlling supply: 1) Quotas: There are restrictions on the output of the individual producers. They tend to raise the cost of production and prevent the expansion of the individual producer to take advantage of any new technological improvements in production and thus tend to encourage a high-cost inefficient production structure. Any income gains are extremely short-run and transitory — they do not lead to any significant gain in income levels and may even reduce those income levels in the long run. 2) Restriction on inputs: These also tend to reduce production but tend to increase the cost of production. In some cases a restriction on one input increases the use of other non-restricted inputs and thus defeats the initial purpose of the restriction to control supply. Again income gains through restricted inputs tend to be short-run and transitory and have no appreciable effect on the long-run income position of agricultural producers. 3) Restriction on number of producers: To my mind this type of restriction or control offers possibilities of achieving a significant improvement in the relative levels of farm incomes. However, unless it is properly administered it could lead to trouble.

end are a burden to those that are capable.

"There are not many occupations left today that do not require some satisfactory minimum level of performance before one is allowed into that occupation whether it be university teaching or operating a barbershop. Agriculture is one of the few occupations that the only restriction on entry is economic and I will argue that the day is fast approaching when we are going to have to think seriously about this problem if we want a prosperous agricultural economy. Agricultural production today is something like the old army system of buying commissions — this did not lead to a very desirable type of army."

There seems to be no way we can have our agricultural cake and eat it too. Which ever argument we back, we will have to give up something we consider valuable. And the dilemma is not likely to disappear in the years ahead.

How The Quebec Pension Plan Will Work

Editor's Note:

This is the last of a series of eight articles specially prepared to inform our readers about the Quebec Pension Plan and the benefits it provides for them and their families.

"How much does it cost?" In preceding articles, we have specially dealt with the benefits of the Quebec Pension Plan and the conditions one must satisfy to qualify for them.

Certain conditions may vary for each pension, but there is one invariable condition: TO BE ENTITLED TO A PENSION, CONTRIBUTIONS MUST HAVE BEEN MADE TO THE PLAN.

For complete information on this subject, it was necessary to consult an expert in the Department of Revenue. If you ask why we had to go to the Department of Revenue, the answer is that this Department is responsible, under the law, for collecting the contributions to the Quebec Pension Plan.

This point should be well understood. The Pension Board administers the Pension Plan and pays benefits, but the Department of Revenue collects the contributions and remits them to the Pension Board.

Let us suppose that your husband earns $4,500 a year (about $90 a week). Deduct the basic exemption of $600; this leaves you with a contributory amount of $3,900. If your husband is an employee, he will pay 1.8% of $3,900, or $70.20, and his employer will also pay $70.20 a year.

If your husband is self-employed and has the same earnings of $4,500 a year, his contribution to the Pension Plan will be 3.6% of $3,900, or $140.40 for the year.

More complete details may be found in the folder entitled "Employees' Contributions to the Pension Plan", published jointly by the Quebec Pension Board and the Department of Revenue.

This folder is mailed to every home in the Province. We suggest that you read it carefully and keep it for later use.

Please write to the Department of Revenue for any additional information concerning contributions. For details about social insurance numbers and Pension Plan benefits, however, you should write directly to the Quebec Pension Board, P.O. Box 5200, Quebec 2, Que.

Reduction In Long Distance Bell Telephone Rates

Long distance telephone rates will be reduced again on March 6.

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada announced today that it will further reduce the rates of its nighttime and Sunday station-to-station calls of more than 250 miles; extend the period when its "two-for-one" 10-minute economy rate applies.

The announcement by Bell Canada was made at the same time as the Trans-Canada Telephone System announced reductions of night-time and Sunday rates on calls of more than 600 miles. The Trans-Canada Telephone System is made up of Canada's eight major telephone organizations, including Bell Canada.

The new Bell Canada rates for Ontario and Quebec will cut five to 40 cents from basic three-minute station-to-station night and Sunday calls. They also extend the time for making ten-minute economy calls at half the normal long distance rate. The 10-minute economy rate is one of the lowest in the continent. Economy

ROUND BYRE and RING

By Frank Napier

A Costly Regulation

In the early 1960's several Scottish Shorthorn cattle breeders purchased Polled Shorthorn bulls in the United States for service in their naturally Horned herds, in an experimental way. All of them leading long established breeders; in fact at least two of them owners of herds that had been founded by their grandfathers. However, the Beef Shorthorn Society (of Great Britain) ruled that registration of such importations and their offspring were not acceptable. We are not aware of the reason annexed to that ruling, but it might be reasonably assumed that it was actuated to some extent by fears that it might be the beginning of an import trade from the United States instead of the long profitable export trade to that country; also that the pedigrees of such bulls included bloodlines of strains which were debarré from the Argentine Shorthorn Society's herd book. The latter a very vital factor over there because the Argentine has been one of the largest purchasers of Scottish Shorthorns during the past 50 or 60 years. In that respect we might add that, as it is in Canada, all U.S. registrations must trace, on both sides and in an unbroken line to ancestors registered in the Coates Shorthorn Herd Book of Great Britain.

On the other hand, however, the Argentine Shorthorn Herd Book Society refuses to accept registration of animals of at least two or three Scottish Shorthorn strains or families, as we recall it, because their ancestors were not registered in the Coates Shorthorn Herd Book before a certain year; again, as we recall it, dating back to around the 1880's.

The American Shorthorn Society naturally filed their protests against the Scottish Shorthorn Society's edict, prohibiting acceptance of registration of U.S. Polled Shorthorns, and when same were ignored they hit back with a vengeance, so to speak. In 1962 it was ruled that forthwith no further registration of imported Scottish Shorthorns would be accepted by the American Shorthorn Herd Book Association, and the Canadian Shorthorn Association passed a similar regulation.

In 1964 the Scottish Beef Cattle Society offered to open its herd book for American-bred cattle, but that gesture was ignored until recently, of which more anon.

In connection with the foregoing, the Scottish Farmer says: "The American ban undoubtedly had a depressing effect on the trade for both Beef Shorthorn bulls and females. In the case of females there was a considerable volume of private sales to U.S.A. and Canada) which came to an end. The ban's effect was immediately made apparent at the February 1963 Perth sale (one of the great classic annual events over there). A number of American buyers had intimated their intention to be present in the hope that the ban would be lifted but this did not materialize.

"The nervous year the top price of 6,000 guineas was paid by an American buyer at the February sale. In the 10 years prior to the ban, exports of Beef Shorthorns to America amounted to 900 head and to Canada 1200 head" (In the latter instance a considerable number were subsequently resold to U.S. breeders — F.N.)

At a Price?

However, the American Shorthorn Association has now announced that, effective March 1st, 1966, it will lift the ban on registration of cattle bred outside North America imposed as from 1st January 1963. However, the registration fee for all such will be at the rate of $2,000 for a bull and $500 for a female. In that respect the Scottish Farmer says: "The registration fee of approximately $700 for bulls and $180 for females (both at the present rate of exchange) is undoubtedly high but this will ensure that potential buyers for America will go for quality rather than quantity."

"The lifting of the American ban will give breeders (in U.K.) encouragement at a time when the export business has become more and more difficult with the tightening of Veterinary regulations by New Zealand, the increasing number of Veterinary tests in general and Australia's complete import shut-down inspired by fears of blue tongue disease."

It is understood that the Canadian Shorthorn Association will undoubtedly similarly lift the ban, but the registration fee will not be decided until the February next annual meeting of the Association.

As the late James Howie, noted Veteran Scottish Ayrshire breeder said: "Dinna jump over (over) the dyke if ye dinna ken what's on the other side"; or in common or parlance in a more direct phrase: "The Scotsmen should have looked before they leaped".

March of Dimes

By KENNETH POLLARD
General Chairman, March of Dimes 1966 Campaign

I sometimes play a game. I pretend that my arms will not move; that my knee will not bend to pick up the foot, to put it down into walking position; I imagine that my body is twisted and will receive none of the impulses sent to it by the coordinating part of my brain. I pretend to be a cripple.

To be a cripple means to live in another world; a claustrophobic world in which one sits watching the walking, running, free movements of other people. It causes first bewilderment, then panic and those who survive this fearful crucible become most valuable.

We have many crippled in Quebec. Until not too recently they lived lonely lives fighting their distorted bodies without help, without the comfort of real understanding. In 1946 the Royal Can. Legion established the March of Dimes first to combat polio, the great paralytic disease, and to care for its victims. Then came the discovery of Salk vaccine. Over two million five hundred thousand shots were given to residents of Quebec who went to the March of Dimes free clinics to be inoculated; this year only two cases of polio have happened in our province. But the victims of the epidemics prior to the discovery of Salk are still with us, forever dependent upon others for everything in life, but courage, which they have found in abundance.

March of Dimes has undertaken, too, the rehabilitation and care of every other kind of cripple in this province. For example, it has been discovered that one out of every five thousand males in Quebec is a haemophilic. Haemophiliacs used to be called "bleeders". The coagulation unit in their blood does not exist. When an internal hemorrhage occurs, or a hemorrhage in joints, the pain is terrible, and the patient is for a time immobilized. March of Dimes has assumed responsibility for the establishment of the Quebec Chapter of the Canadian Haemophilia Society. It provides plasma for patients who cannot live without transfusions (some have as many as 40 per year). March of Dimes gives crutches, wheel chairs, and hospital beds to the immobilized.

Victims of arthritis, multiple sclerosis, rheumatism, accident, congenital paralysis and other handicapping ailments come to the March of Dimes for the equipment that keeps them mobile, and for the therapy that, in some cases can cure, or at least relieve the pain and eventual collapse.

No one can claim immunity from the sudden onslaught of a crippling disease. When I took over the Chairmanship of March of Dimes, my predecessor, Gordon Glenross, had himself become a victim. Stricken suddenly he was unable to support his family, unable to afford the iron lung, the prosthetic equipment, the therapy that was needed. His own organization, March of Dimes came to his help. Today Gordon Glenross is back at his job as an engineer, moving to work on braces and two canes still taking daily therapy at our rehabilitation centres, but again an earning happy family man. He is now a member of our Board of Directors.

March of Dimes employs five physiotherapists who go out into the Quebec countryside, working at clinics and in homes. Each week new patients are discovered. Parents who despaired for their crippled children, have learned of the March of Dimes. One of our field workers found, in the Valley of Matapedia, an entire family, four children and the mother crippled with a congenital paralysis. By clinging to walls and chairs the mother, with a distorted spine, continued to operate as a housewife. Two of her children crawled on hands and knees; they had never managed to be upright. March of Dimes flew them to the hospital, provided the appliances without which they could not move. This is only one case in thousands, where the March of Dimes takes despair from a home.

The cost of rehabilitating a cripple is too much for one family to assume. March of Dimes keeps a pool of wheel chairs, crutches, canes, hospital beds available when necessary. When a prosthetic appliance is needed, March of Dimes pays the transportation and upkeep of the cripple and escort to the hospital. The Government pays half the cost of the appliances, the March of Dimes pays the other half. The therapy is subsidised by the March of Dimes.

In the City of Montreal, March of Dimes station wagon starts at seven o'clock each morning to transport handicapped children to and from school. Some go to the Oral School for the Deaf which is equipped with a speaking machine bought by the March of Dimes. Its teacher's salary is also subsidized by our organization.

The cost of equipment for cripples is very high. There are electric chairs, rocking beds, iron lungs, appliances most of us know vaguely about, but, happily, never or seldom see. Their maintenance, as well as a large part of their purchase price is borne by the March of Dimes. In the files of the March of Dimes office are bills paid for such extraordinary things as blown valves fuses, broken ratchets, for appliances you hope you will never need, but that your neighbour needs; repairs he cannot afford to pay. Any person owning a wheel chair whether it is his personal property or one given to him from the March of Dimes pool, can ask for and receive

A pleasant afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. W. R. Wilson on Wednesday, January 12th, when Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. J. S. Gaw, entertained Unit 1 of the U.C.W. There was a good attendance of members and visitors. Due to the illness of the leader, Mrs. A. McNaughton, Mrs. Chas. Reid presided. Mrs. C. Stewart took charge of the devotional period.

Due to ill health, Mrs. W. T. Coulter felt she was unable to take the position of Recording Secretary. Mrs. D. A. Fraser kindly consented to take the office. Mrs. Leslie Sherry was appointed to act on the committee for Social Functions. Mrs. Geo. Boyce sent word to the meeting asking that she be informed if anyone is added to the list of shut-ins.

A thank you note was read from Mrs. Coulter and a get well card was signed by those present to be sent to Mrs. McNaughton. Mrs. K. McIntosh read a card of thanks for used postage stamps she had sent to The Mission to Lepers, in Toronto. A plea for used Christmas cards was also read. Mrs. J. McCoy conducted the study period starting with a short humorous reading entitled, "What Kind of a Member Are You?" with a quiz following. Mrs. McCoy then gave a splendid talk on the first part of the Study Book, Jesus Christ and the Christian Life.

Those present expressed their appreciation to Mrs. Wilson for the hospitality of her home and to the hostesses for the refreshments served at the close of the meeting.

repairs to his vehicle free of charge.

Money also goes into research. In the past two months nearly $4,000 was handed over to the research departments of two Rehabilitation Centres.

This year March of Dimes needs $160,000.00 to carry on the work. We hope you will help us. Our campaign begins Jan. 15 until the 31st. On the evening of the 31st, between seven and nine o'clock women in each community will proceed with the Mother's March, calling at every home looking for contributions. Give all you can afford. — The Gazette Montreal.

SPORTS

CURLING

(Bill Tobin)

Three Schoolboy teams entered the District playdowns on Saturday, Jan. 15th, in Howick, Que. In the first game a well balanced Howick team came from behind a 9-5 score in the eighth end to defeat Huntingdon in the tenth with an 11-9 final score. In their second game Howick's Andy Ness, throwing second stone, played with authority, scoring over seventy-five percent of his shots to spate his team's second win over Ormstown. The Howick team have now gained a berth in the Provincial play-offs at Shawinigan, Que. A win there, will give them the plum of junior curling, a chance to play for Dominion honors. So boys, practice, practice, and good luck. Howick's team had, Gary Allen, Skip, Wendell Holmes (not related to Oliver) Andy Ness, and Ian Bustard, for Huntingdon, Bill Tobin, Skip, Bob Elliott, Bob Tobin and Don Fraser. Ormstown's entry had, Bill Hope, Skip, Dale Begbie, Malcolm Young and Bob Chart, and Special mention to the Organizers, and to the ladies for their marvellous hospitality, it was first class, Merci beaucoup.

Last week a Huntingdon ladies team with Ruth Ann McGerrigle, skip, Jean Ferns, third, Lucy Thompson, second and Ruby Martin, lead won four games straight against strong teams, to enter the semi-finals in the Coronation Trophy play in Montreal. In their fifth game they were defeated by Mrs. Pipers, Lachine foursome. Our ladies teams have been playing well and are coming close. One of these days, watch out, they are going all the way.

I like watching curling as much as I like playing at it and in watching, I've noticed one mistake that numerous players make continually, this is in their grip. Too many grab the stone handle tightly and in their delivery tend to push the stone, in so doing, they are lucky if they hit the broom. You must grasp the handle of the stone with fingers only, the thumb is placed lightly on top of the handle without pressure, when swinging the stone back and off the ice let it hang from your fingers. The palm of your hand should not touch the handle at anytime during the delivery, practice this fingertip curling. I know it will improve your delivery and assist you in hitting the broom.

For the benefit of Skips who have moved up to that position much too quickly, I suggest they read this carefully.

The Skip. He is the gentleman who gets up the rink, often sacrificing valuable time to the interest and entertainment of the three others who wish to play for the season. He merely holds the broom and his temper while the rest of the team miss one and strain the other. He is supposed to be experienced and to make all the decisions. He must keep a stiff upper lip and not blush when he overhears the rest of the rink giving his character reading to various onlookers. If, in case of pure accident, the rest have fallen down badly, he must assume a cheerfulness and endeavour to rake the game out from under a sad defeat. He is never known to do the right thing or pick the right shot. His chief delight and happiest expectation is to have the privilege of putting guards on with both his rocks.

He has to knock out shots when he can only see an eyebrow. He must draw to the button making it by eights of inches. He must play a runner one shot and draw the next. He must take out four rocks with one shot and lay on the button and generally make himself useful, knowing if he wins the rink will get the credit and if he loses he alone bears the blame. He must never complain, or he will be classed as a bad sport. Life with him is just one crisis after another. He generally finds himself without a friend in the world after the season is over. We ask your sympathy for the poor old skip. Closing note, Anatomy is something everybody has — but it sure looks better on a girl.

New Bridge Is Sought By Valleyfield In Place Of Lift Bridge Presently In Operation

Fearing that the traffic on the St. Lawrence Seaway will be increasing in the near future, Mayor Cauchon of Valleyfield and his Council are seeking a new bridge. Presently a lift bridge is operating and connects Larocque Road with Highway No. 3 into Valleyfield. This bridge also carries a railroad. When ships want to pass on the Seaway, the roadway is shut off and the bridge lifts to a sufficient height to allow the ships to pass through. According to present use about 30 ships a day pass through.

But according to future estimates this may easily be doubled. As this takes place, more and more hours of waiting time will have to be spent by the traffic that is held up while the bridge is raised. As estimate is given of from 14 to 16 hours will be lost for this purpose. The bridge pictured above would be placed at a point near the lift bridge and be built high enough for any ship to pass under at any time. Thus the traffic to and from Valleyfield would not be interrupted from time to time. This outlet and entrance to Valleyfield is an important one and many protests have been received as to the delays at the present bridge during the Seaway season. Protests were made at the time the Lift Bridge went into operation several years ago, but these were ignored by the officials at that time. A large working committee of Mayors, Councils, Businessmen, citizens and others has been organized to work for a new bridge along the lines of above photograph, with work starting in the very near future.

Liturgie — L'unité des chrétiens se fera dans la prière et dans une recherche éclairée. Nous vivons un temps de grâce! Le Concile a tracé la voie à l'effort personnel de chacun. Prière pour l'Unité, Seigneur Jésus qui, à la veille de mourir pour nous, as prié pour que tous les disciples soient parfaitement un, comme toi en ton père et ton Père en toi, fais-nous ressentir dououreusement l'infidélité de notre désunion. Donne-nous la loyauté de reconnaître et le courage de rejeter ce qui se cache en nous d'indifférence de méfiance, et même d'hostilités mutuelles. Accorde-nous de nous rencontrer tous en toi, afin que, de nos âmes et de nos lèvres, monte incessamment ta prière pour l'Unité des chrétiens, telle que tu la veux, par les moyens que tu veux. En toi, qui es la charité parfaite, fais-nous trouver la voie qui conduit à l'Unité dans l'obéissance à ton amour et à la vérité. Amen.

"Week of Unity", a week of special prayer for the union of churches, Christian and non-Christian. As the number of prayers offered for unity increase, there will also be an increase in the number of occasions on which the laity of various denominations meet with one another and, subsequently, the number of dialogues will increase sharply.

Each of us must have a well-rounded knowledge of his own faith. We must fully realize that all our efforts to establish dialogue will only bear fruit when these efforts are placed before our Father for His Blessing.

On remarquera aussi dans une des clauses, que la Commission Catholique s'engage à consentir des arrangements réciproques advenant le cas où des parents d'élèves protestants français demandent que leurs enfants puissent fréquenter les écoles catholiques.

1. La Commission Protestante accepte de recevoir dans son école secondaire régionale tous les élèves catholiques demeurant dans les limites de son territoire et pour lesquels la Commission Catholique a la responsabilité de dispenser l'éducation secondaire, sujet aux termes et conditions suivants:

2. Le contrôle de l'école secondaire régionale sera et demeurera sous l'autorité et l'administration de la Commission Protestante. Le principal de l'école sera un protestant et le vice-principal pourra être un catholique.

3. Les élèves catholiques fréquentant cette école auront tous les droits, privilèges et responsabilités de tous les autres élèves fréquentant la même école.

4. La Commission Protestante fournira dans l'école un bureau pour l'aumônier et des locaux et facilités convenables pour l'enseignement et personnes qui en ont été atteintes ont besoin qu'on s'occupe d'elles. C'est pourquoi cette campagne annuelle est lancée.

Les fonds recueillis permettent de donner les services requis, de fournir les appareils correctifs qui permettent aux infirmes de récupérer sinon complètement, du moins en partie l'usage des membres atteints; grâce à vos offrandes les enfants infirmes peuvent quand même fréquenter les écoles et espérer se faire une place au soleil.

Faut-il en dire plus pour vous inciter à faire votre part? Je ne le crois pas. Qu'à la fin de la campagne, la ville de Huntingdon ait atteint et même dépassé l'objectif fixé. Voilà comment prouver une fois de plus qu'on sait chez nous ce qu'est le civisme.

Au Gesù

Plusieurs élèves du cours secondaire se sont rendus au Gesù lundi soir pour assister à une représentation de "Jeanne d'Arc et les Juges". Ils ont apprécié cette pièce bien jouée par des artistes de Montréal.

Pas un jeu de salon

C'est ce qu'on apprit à leurs dépens au sujet de leur sport national, trois membres de l'équipe de l'école St-Joseph mercredi dernier. En effet, au cours d'une joute de la Town League disputée ce soir-là, Denis Raymond, Guy Fournier et Daniel Decloitre ont été blessés par des bâtons dans l'ardeur du jeu. Bien que le tout soit accidentel, les blessures n'en sont pas moins graves. Pour Denis, cinq points de suture; Guy s'en est tiré avec trois et Daniel doit aujourd'hui avoir l'oeil bleu après qu'il est passé du noir au violet. En bons sportifs, ils ne se laissent pas décourager par cela et l'équipe de l'école pourra quand même compter sur eux, malgré les frayeurs des parents concernés.

M. Jean-Louis LeFebvre pour sa part a reçu la rondelle en plein front au cours d'une partie disputée dimanche au même endroit. Il nous a dit en avoir vu des chandeliers.

Autres sports

On nous dit que les allées du Val de la Rivière bordées d'activités tous les soirs semaine. De nombreuses ligues ont été formées et l'enthousiasme règne. Ce sport qui compte de plus en plus d'adeptes même s'il est moins violent est très bon pour ceux qui s'y adonnent. Il peut être pratiqué par des gens de tout âge et procure une détente salutaire en plus d'être un très bon exercice.

Pour d'autres, le curling a beaucoup d'intérêt. C'est ainsi que le club local voit augmenter chaque année le nombre de ses membres. On nous dit que les dames y sont très habiles (de balai, elles connaissent ça).

Les anglo-catholiques à l'école protestante

La Commission Scolaire Régionale a adopté un projet d'entente à être conclue avec The Protestant Regional Board of Chateaugay Valley en vue de l'utilisation en commun des écoles secondaires régionales sous la juridiction de la Commission Protestante par les élèves catholiques de langue anglaise résidant dans les limites du territoire desservi par la Commission Protestante.

Cette décision est survenue au cours d'une assemblée spéciale de la Régionale Salaberry tenue jeudi soir, le 13 janvier, à l'école Sainte-Cécile de Valleyfield. Elle permettra ainsi à tous les anglo-catholiques de son territoire de fréquenter la future école régionale protestante qui sera bien sûr érigée à Ormstown ou dans les environs.

On se souvient que les parents des élèves catholiques de langue anglaise se prononcèrent en novembre dernier par un vote majoritaire écartant, en faveur de l'utilisation par leurs enfants des futurs locaux de l'école protestante qui sera bâtie dans un avenir rapproché à Ormstown. Par ce vote, les parents favorisaient l'éducation de leurs enfants selon la langue et non plus selon la religion.

Cependant, dans l'entente acceptée, un grand nombre de clauses ont trait à l'enseignement de la religion, comme on pourra le constater à la lecture du document à être signé par les deux parties.

On remarquera aussi dans une des clauses, que la Commission Catholique s'engage à consentir des arrangements réciproques advenant le cas où des parents d'élèves protestants français demandent que leurs enfants puissent fréquenter les écoles catholiques.

Sous le titre, "Marjolaine", vous pourrez lire un compte-rendu du couronnement de la Reine de la Jeunesse à l'auditorium de l'Ecole Notre-Dame.

Cours du S.P.M.

C'est dimanche soir qu'avait lieu à l'école St-Joseph le premier cours de préparation au mariage. Les couples intéressés à suivre cette série de soirées d'étude qui leur seraient sans doute très profitables peuvent s'inscrire en se rendant au prochain cours ou en s'adressant à M. l'abbé Lavigne en charge de cette organisation dans notre ville.

Puisque nous touchons le domaine des sports, autant le mentionner tous. Avez-vous déjà fait la pêche sur la glace? Plusieurs sportifs y trouvent bien du plaisir, de ce temps-ci. Il paraît qu'au lac St-François, ça mord. Qui de plus délicieux que des bons poissons de perche? Si vous voulez en attraper en quantité, on vous facilitera les choses à St-Anicet. En effet St-Anicet Outfitters vous louera à peu de frais une cabane sur le lac. Ils perceuront même le trou où vous n'aurez qu'à jeter votre ligne. Et tout en étant à l'abri du vent et du froid, vous aurez en peu de temps une bonne provision de poissons frais que toute la famille dégustera avec plaisir. Il paraît même qu'on a pris l'autre jour un bel esturgeon. Je vous vois déjà sortant les hameçons, messieurs...

Décès subit

C'est avec consternation que les amis et voisins ont appris lundi matin le décès subit de M. Rod H. Grant. Il était le frère de la famille Grant bien connue dans notre ville. M. Grant et son épouse habitaient depuis peu une résidence à 59 Prince ou M. Grant escomptait jour d'un bon repos, de venir prendre sa retraite cette année. Les funérailles ont eu lieu aujourd'hui en l'église St-John, Huntingdon. Nos sympathies à la famille éprouvée.

En grève

Plusieurs jeunes de notre localité qui fréquentent l'Ecole des Arts et Métiers à Salaberry de Valleyfield font la grève depuis lundi matin. Ceci en rapport avec celle déclenchée par les étudiants dans cette branche de l'éducation qui protestent contre la prolongation de l'année scolaire.

La raison invoquée est que les trois semaines additionnelles d'étude leur font perdre trois semaines de salaire dont ils ont besoin pour poursuivre leurs études l'année suivante. Il leur paraît aussi qu'ils ont moins de chances d'être embauchés à la fin de juin, les places étant prises. C'est pourquoi ils déclenchent l'année-ci haut mentionnée faisant du piquetage devant l'institution.

La météo

Pour faire suite au froid qui a sévi pendant presque toute la semaine dernière nous sommes heureux du répit de lundi et mardi alors que la température s'est élevée de plusieurs degrés.

Marjolaine 1ère couronnée samedi soir

Plus de trois cents personnes ont assisté samedi soir au couronnement de la Reine de la Jeunesse à l'auditorium de l'Ecole Notre-Dame.

Vers neuf heures, Mgr J.A. David ouvrait le défilé d'honneur. Il était suivi du chef d'orchestre, Roma Emond et sa compagne Rose Brisebois. Venaient ensuite M. et Mme Aldéric Tremblay, parents de Diane qui les suivait portant une robe longue et le tiare au bras de Daniel Decloitre. Diane fut applaudie chaleureusement. M. et Mme Georges Laonde suivis d'Odette égale ment en grande toilette accompagnée de Jean-Pierre Grégoire. Odette reçut également sa part d'applaudissements. M. et Mme Doris Montpetit, le héraut d'armes Michel Bourgon, le drapeau Michel Fournier et la bouquetière Sharnelle Lemay précédaient la reine qui s'avance au bras de Guy Fournier. Marjolaine portait une longue robe blanche et une mante de velours rouge ornée de lapin blanc. Elle reçut l'hommage de toutes les personnes présentes.

Pendant que s'avancait le cortège, Yves Carrière, maître de cérémonie fit la description des toilettes et se la partit bien d'affaire. L'orchestre des Valenciens interprétait une musique appropriée.

Incidentement, les deux duchesses et la Reine avaient été coiffées gracieusement au Salon Claude.

Mgr David couronna la Reine; le héraut d'armes fit la lecture de la proclamation puis Mlle Diane McIntyre présenta une gerbe de roses à sa Majesté.

Après la lecture des prières, M. J.M. Daigle remercia en quelques mots le maître de cérémonie puis Marjolaine et Guy ouvrirent le bal au son de la musique des Valenciens. Les duchesses entrèrent ensuite dans la danse puis les autres personnes présentes.

Ce fut, nous le croyons, une soirée très réussie. Les Ecuylers Colombiens désirent remercier tous ceux qui de près ou de loin y ont contribué. D'abord les trois candidates sans les concours desquels l'organisation n'aurait pu avoir lieu; toutes les personnes qui les ont encouragées en achetant des billets; les marchands qui ont donné généreusement des cadeaux; en un mot tous leurs amis. Les profits de cette organisation serviront à leurs oeuvres.

La lecture des prières fut attribuée aux trois candidates, dans de nombreux chapeaux de notre ville. Un cadeau souvenir fut offert à la bouquetière et au page.

M. le maire Léo Cappiello adressa la parole, adressant des félicitations aux organisateurs et aux jeunes filles qui se sont mérité des honneurs.

Mgr David a son tour ajouta les mots appropriés pour souligner le travail et les succès de chacune, sans oublier les organisateurs de ce concours.

Marjolaine 1ère prononça ensuite un discours pour remercier tous les responsables de l'honneur qui lui échoit.

On procéda ensuite au tirage d'une télévision portable gagnée par Mme D. Keith 2354 rue Marietti, Apt. 26 de Montréal et d'un radiotransistor dont l'heureuse gagnante est Mlle Claudette Brouillette de Port Lévis.

M. J.M. Daigle remercia en quelques mots le maître de cérémonie puis Marjolaine et Guy ouvrirent le bal au son de la musique des Valenciens. Les duchesses entrèrent ensuite dans la danse puis les autres personnes présentes.

Les profits de cette organisation serviront à leurs oeuvres.

Après la lecture des prières, M. J.M. Daigle remercia en quelques mots le maître de cérémonie puis Marjolaine et Guy ouvrirent le bal au son de la musique des Valenciens. Les duchesses entrèrent ensuite dans la danse puis les autres personnes présentes.

vent à Whitehorse où les Soeurs de la Providence s'occupent de l'éducation des enfants catholiques des environs. Cette institution vient combler une grave lacune. Jusqu'à maintenant les enfants catholiques devaient fréquenter les écoles publiques au grand détriment de leur foi religieuse. Plus au nord, à Dawson, les Soeurs de Sainte-Anne se dévouent auprès des malades et des invalides à l'hôpital Saint Mary. Les mêmes religieuses sont aussi en charge de l'école paroissiale. Consécutif de l'importance de ces foyers de charité et de formation chrétienne, Mgr Coudert leur prodigue une attentionnelle sollicitude doublée d'une prudente vigilance.

Pour s'occuper plus adéquatement de son troupeau, Mgr Coudert travaille sans relâche à l'établissement d'écoles missionnaires
