FRENCH ACTION IN SENDING TROOPS TO RUHR DISTRICT WAS SURPRISE TO GERMANY

It Had Been Hoped Manner Soldiers Were Doing Police Duty Would Convince Entente Government Was Not Contemplating Violation of Peace Treaty.

Berlin, April 6.—(By Associated Press)—The French action in sending troops to the Ruhr district, came as a complete surprise, according to German official circles, as it had been hoped that the manner in which the German troops were executing police duties in that region would convince the Entente that the Government was not contemplating violation of the peace treaty.

An official communication says that the attitude of the other Allied Governments toward French occupation is not known, as Germany only received a note from France on the matter.

The German Government will most energetically protest against this measure, which renders all possibility of establishing a modus vivendi between France and Germany hopeless, said the communication, "and can only strengthen those elements in Germany which are entirely opposed to the execution of the peace treaty."

"We hope, however, that the rapid and smooth progress of the measure taken in the Ruhr region will shorten the martyrdom of the occupied towns. But there can be no room for doubt that the French action, which is justified by no real interest, and which is contrary even to French interests, again endangers the republic and sets us months back in the establishment of orderly conditions."

The German note dealing with conditions in the Ruhr district, which was handed to the respective Chances D'Affaires in Berlin, begins by stating that the grave reports regarding the sanguinary fighting in the Rhineland-Westphalian region in the middle of March caused the German Government to request permission of the Allied to send a limited number of troops to the temporarily menaced zone. The German Government at the same time offered guarantees for the due withdrawal of these troops.

French Reply.

The French Government replied that it could comply only if Allied troops occupied Frankfurt, Hanau, Homberg, Dieburg and Darmstadt for the same period and in equal strength, as the German troops were in excess of the limit already permitted.

Setting aside the serious objections to further occupation of German territory, the German Government declared its readiness to consent to the Allied troops entering the places named in the event that such German troops as were employed had not left the fifty kilometre zone within a fixed period to be determined by the Allied Governments.

It appeared from the negotiations conducted with the Allies on the subject by the German representatives, according to the note, that the Allied Governments had declared they agreed in principle to this. The British Government and the French Premier made declarations to this effect, and the French Government then wanted proof that order could not be maintained in the fifty kilometre zone without the entry of troops.

The note argues that the highly disquieting news, which had unceasingly arrived since, left no doubt that the speedy restoration of peace and order was impossible without temporary military intervention and contends that the position was so critical that not only the welfare of the population in those regions, but the entire economic life of Germany, was seriously menaced.

Communists and mobs terrorized the entire public life, made indiscriminate requisitions and plundered and threatened life and security.

Agreements Useless.

The note further says that the agreement accepted by the newly formed executive and Central Councils with a view to restoring law and order were useless because the insurgents who concluded them no longer had power to carry them out. The German Government is of the opinion that it proved to the Allied Governments that the systematic restoration of law and order by the troops could not be delayed a single hour.

"The German Government," adds the note, "is responsible for the lives and liberties of its countrymen. It, therefore, believes that it should no longer await the formal consent of the Allied Governments to the en-

SUPREME COURT JUDGMENT ENDS PAPER CONTROL

Power Vested in the Board of Commerce Does Not Extend to Newspaper

NECESSARY OF LIFE

Under Contested Interpretation Might Include Wigs and Motor Cars

Ottawa, Ont., April 6.—The full effect of the Supreme Court's decision in the Price Brothers case on the newspaper control as exercised by the Board of Commerce cannot be learned at present, but it is generally felt that the decision of the Judges that the Board of Commerce lacks the power to regulate price and shipment of the products of Price Brothers' mills will tend to make the newspaper control ineffective. W. F. O'Connor, K.C., acting-Chairman of the Board, today declined to discuss the matter.

The power vested in the Board of Commerce by the Combines and Fair Price Act to declare a necessary of life such commodities as they may deem advisable, is not held by the Supreme Court to extend to such articles as newspaper. It is not necessary to the physical life of the individual the court ruled, and the decision of the Bench reflects its attitude during the hearing of the argument several weeks ago. Justices Duff and Brodeur then took the stand that under such an interpretation as he Board of Commerce had placed on the necessities of life clause in the Act, the Board might as well declare motor cars, silk gowns and wigs necessities of life.

The effect of the judgment will be that Price Brothers will be able to charge the current United States prices for their newspaper supplies to Canadian firms, not only on future shipments but also on those which it has made under the order.

The difference between the Canadian fixed price of $30 per ton and the United States price of $90 and up, has been deposited with a trust company in Montreal by the consumers pending the decision of the Supreme Court.

One Dissent.

The appeal of Price Brothers & Co., Quebec, against an order of the Board of Commerce controlling price and disposition of newspaper paper manufactured by that firm is allowed by the Supreme Court with costs. The judgment was read in the Supreme Court this morning by Chief Justice Sir Louis Davies, who stated that he could not identify himself with the decision of the Court because he was acting as administrator of the Government during the hearing of the appeal in the absence of the Governor General from Canada. Mr. Justice Mignault dissented from the judgment. Justices Duff and Brodeur are therefore understood to be identified with the decision. The judgment is based on the decision of the Judges that newspaper paper is not necessary of life within the meaning of the Combines and Fair Prices Act.

The Supreme Court decides that orders in council under the War Measures Act are reviewable by the court when their validity is called in question.

The judgment is considered here to mean the end of government control of newspaper.

The object of the order of the Board of Commerce of February 6th last was to compel Price Bros. to ship about fifteen percent of its newspaper output to Canadian consumers instead of to the United States where a higher price could be obtained. It was reported that the firm had been selling all its newspaper in the United States for some time. Price Brothers ignored the Board's order for some weeks but began shipping newspaper at the Canadian price of $30 per ton to Montreal firms, the difference between this price and the United States price $90 per ton and up being deposited in a trust fund pending the decision of the Supreme Court.

No Authority.

The order of the Board of Commerce was based on the ruling that newspaper was a necessary of life and as such was subject to the arbitrary control of the Board. The Court finds lacking any indication that the order-in-council under which the Board claimed its right to rule that newspaper is a necessary of life was preceded or accompanied by a decision of the Governor in Council that any present emergency justified the placing of newspaper in that category.

The order of the Board instructed that by virtue of the powers vested in it any price exacted by a Canadian firm higher than $80 per ton would be deemed to include an unfair profit on newspaper and also forbade the accumulation or withholding from sale of that commodity in Canada. It then went on to specify quantities and the date of the shipment of newspaper by Price Brothers to certain firms in Montreal. The Supreme Court finds that the Board's authority in so ordering "cannot be sustained as emanating from any authority by the War Measures Act of 1914."

Prices May Rise.

By the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada in finding this morning, in favor of Price Brothers that the Board of Commerce had no

ASSERTION LED TO CONTROVERSY

British Press Comment on Mr. Bonar Law's View Regarding Imperial Relations

London, April 6.—(By Canadian Associated Press)—The Manchester Guardian discussing Bonar Law's assertion in the Home Rule debate that "if the self-governing dominions chose tomorrow to say 'we will no longer make a part of the British Empire' we would not try to force them" criticizes him for seemingly having made an unconscious plunge into a bitter dispute in a great dominion, referring, of course, to the dispute swaying South Africa.

Bonar Law's statement, according to the Guardian, has been received with joy by the Hertzogites, and has been condemned by the South African and Unionist parties as un-sound, absurd and profoundly mischievous.

The Guardian's own viewpoint is that the dispersal of the Empire's territories over the globe must not mind us to the fact that in law the Empire is just as strictly a political unit as was the more compact kingdom of the old German Empire. "To say that every member of any such composite sovereign state has a right at any time to repudiate membership by implication to deny obligation altogether," it says.

The Daily Mail's Sydney correspondent says that the Commonwealth Government is not taking action regarding a larger navy until after the Imperial Conference. It adds that Canada's decision to not enlarge her navy has caused local anxiety regarding the care of the Pacific.

Lloyd George and Bonar Law's joint letter to the South Edinburgh coalition candidate says his Liberal opponent belongs to the party whose only panacea for the evils of the day seems to be a return to the antiquated squabbles of the past, far removed from the realities of today. Sir George Younger, Chief Coalition whip, speaking at Edinburgh concerning the Coalition's enemies says that the Prime Minister pulls Northcliffe's nose who has been sticking pins in him ever since.

A FIFTH VICE INVESTIGATION

New Probe Into Conditions Is Ordered by Mayor Hylan of New York

New York, April 6.—A fifth concurrent investigation of vice conditions in New York City was ordered today by Mayor Hylan. He directed Commissioner of Accounts David Hirschfeld to make thorough inquiry into charges of revelry along the "great white way," made by Rev. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, in his Easter sermon.

Commissioner Hirschfeld immediately on receipt of orders from the Mayor, wrote Dr. Straton asking him to call on him and bring the two assistants he took with him on his recent tour of cabarets.

The Commissioner also requested Police Commissioner Enright, Inspector Dominick Henry, ruler of the Tenderloin, and Inspector Thomas McDonald, of Headquarters Staff, who last night made a raid over Inspector Henry's head, to make special reports to him on dancing and eating establishments specified in the clergyman's charges.

Commissioner Hirschfeld in his letter to Dr. Straton stated that under the instructions of the Mayor he was engaged in an investigation of police conditions, "particularly as to vice and graft, with a view to holding the police officials responsible."

authority to fix prices or place embargoes on shipments of Canadian paper, the entire control of the newspaper industry which has existed since March 1916 has to all appearances been completely lifted, and the price of newspaper paper to Canadian newspapers is likely to advance.

"It is too early to tell what will happen, but the prices will certainly go up. As I understand it, the control has been lifted and there will be nothing to hinder us in making shipments," stated Mr. George H. Millen, President of the E. B. Eddy Company this afternoon.

Mr. Millen further stated that with new demands being asked for by labor and the increasing cost of materials, that with the price control removed that he thought the natural result would be to advance the price of paper.

The price of newspaper in rolls as set by the Board of Commerce early in the year was $30. To Canadian newspapers, the price of sheet news at $2. The general prevailing contract price in the United States is over one hundred dollars per ton. There is a great scarcity of newspaper in the United States and many publishers are scrambling to get what is known as "spot" deliveries of paper but the supply apparently cannot keep up with the demand.

"Why only this morning we received an offer of eleven and a half cents per pound for roll news on spot delivery, from American newspaper," said Mr. Millen.

IRISH PICKETS TOOK TO THE AIR

Women Rained Down Large Packages of Leaflets On British Embassy

Washington, D.C., April 6.—(By Associated Press)—Barred from the streets surrounding the British Embassy, the Irish pickets today took to the air.

From a flying machine, they rained down packages of leaflets, en-couraging the Irish cause and challenging the police to come up and stop them. There being no sky cops in the national capital no arrests were made. Four land pickets, however, who ventured out earlier in the day were arrested and held in the House of Detention.

The bombing expedition attracted plenty of attention but it registered no hits. A low visibility and squally winds scattered the "bombs" everywhere but on the Embassy.

The propaganda leaflets whirled in a tiny snowstorm about the windows of Dolly Madison's house, a mile off, circled Andrew Jackson's rocking horse in Lafayette Square, were almost wafted into the White House grounds by the gusty squalls of early April and showered down on groups of romping children in Dupont circle.

Evidently somebody in the Embassy thought the pickets deserving of some reward for the nerve effort, for late in the afternoon, as official Washington was streaming home-ward and the diplomatic corps was out for promenade on Connecticut Avenue, there appeared in a front window of the Embassy one of the banners previously captured from the militants.

"Down with British militarism," was the legend it blazoned out from the old mid-Victorian mansion all evening. It furnished the capital with a topic for discussion of their humor.

But quite behind the curtain of good-natured banter which has accompanied the exploits of the pickets so far, is something more serious—namely the Government is giving careful consideration. The international tinge of the affair, officials feel, make it of more moment than demonstrations of the militant suffragists, which were considered quite important a year ago.

The resumption of picketing was marked early in the day by the arrest of four women pickets on charges of violating a Federal statute, making it a felony to offer an insult to Diplomatic representatives of a foreign Government.

The women who were arrested gave their names as:

Mrs. Honora Walsh, Germantown, Penn.

Miss Elaine Barrie, Philadelphia.
Miss Helen O'Brien, St. Louis, Mo.
Miss Kathleen O'Brien, Philadelphia.

The arrests followed quickly the decision of United States Attorney Laskey that continued picketing would provoke application of the Federal statute.

The first detachment of women picketed the Embassy at noon, bearing banners; before a crowd had opportunity to collect, a police patrol dashed up.

Captain Robert Emmett Doyle and Inspector Daniel Sullivan asked them if they were aware that they were picketing the British Embassy. Both pickets smiled and nodded their assent. They were informed that they were violating a Federal statute and would be arrested unless they desisted. The women resumed the picketing and police women took their banners and arrested them.

As soon as word of the arrests reached the headquarters of the pickets, another raid with fresh banners was despatched to the Embassy. The police repeated the arrests, the land pickets desisted and the aerial force came into action.

United States Attorney Laskey placed the bond for each arrested woman at $1,000, it was not furnished and the women were locked up, for a hearing in police court tomorrow. Frank P. Walsh, of Kansas City, Mo., who represented Irish in-

AN UNUSUAL FUNCTION.

The Garrison Club was the scene of a pleasantly unusual function last evening when Messrs. Price Brothers & Co. tendered a banquet to Lt. Col. Walter J. Ray in celebration of his Golden Jubilee with the firm; he having entered its employ just fifty years ago. This would be a remarkable record of service at any time, but it is doubly so in these days when business allegiance sits but lightly upon the shoulders of the average man, to whom a "change in job" is as much a matter of course—and often almost as frequent an occurrence—as a change in his suit of clothes.

It is perhaps unavoidable but, nevertheless, a matter for regret, that modern business relations should have become so impersonal—we had nearly said, cold-blooded. In the staff organization of an industrial or commercial concern, the human machinery has become so complex and so large, that the individual cog is too often lost sight of or noticed only when it is worn out and must be replaced. There is no doubt that we have gained in efficiency, as compared with the methods of our grandfathers, but there is no doubt also that we have lost in personal loyalty and consequent enthusiasm. Then too, an employee of long service is an asset to his firm by reason of his intimate familiarity with its affairs, which cannot be altogether offset by the most brilliant expert who has no other interest than his own career and who probably succumbs to the lure of promotion and a higher salary as soon as he has familiarized himself with the position that he already holds. Taken altogether, in short, it has yet to be decided whether there has been any absolute net gain.

It is only in a House of the historic standing and high traditions of which Price Brothers can justly boast that the old-time importance still attaches to the personal equation, as illustrated in the banquet to Col. Ray. Where the business has descended from one generation to another, where the son has grown up in his father's office, the heads of firms are enabled to respect the "veterans" under them and to appreciate the intangible asset of their devotion. Consequently it is their policy to keep the services of those under them by making their conditions of work as congenial as possible; realizing that loyalty cannot be one-sided; that it must have its impulse from the top if there is to be any response from below.

Therefore Price Brothers do well to honor their associate of half a century in this way; not only as a deserved tribute to services rendered but as a notice to their humblest employee that long and diligent service will be generously recognized and rewarded in full.

But if the Jubilee is honorable to the firm it is no less so to Col. Ray, whose record of promotion from one position to another is proof of ability as well as mere fidelity. His address of retrospect, which will be found on another page, reveals a man of strong purpose, of firm judgment and ready sympathies, whose loyalty to Price Brothers is only more prominent than his esprit de corps with all engaged in the lumbering industry. It shows a man with the sound grasp of business principles and business conditions that makes for administrative success. Particularly would we direct attention to those observations upon the development and expansion of the concern, which constitute an eloquent response to shallow accusations of profiteering. Those who would restrict the revenue of a business enterprise in the day of its prosperity must also be prepared to guarantee it against deficit in more difficult times. Otherwise men of the stamp of Sir William Price and Col. Ray will divert their energies and their capital into more promising channels.

The fact that the Chronicle has differed conscientiously in another capacity with the man who has been thus signally honored does not affect our pleasure in recognizing the merits of his business career nor lessen the sincerity of our congratulations on this auspicious occasion. Time has touched Col. Ray with a gentle hand; his athletic frame and robust health combine to show that he is yet in the full vigor of maturity and afford reasonable hope that he has many years of congenial usefulness before him in the service of the firm to which he has given the allegiance of a life-time and among all the friends of his youth who rejoice with him in the honors that he has earned.

PRICE BROTHERS SUSTAINED.

Despatches from Ottawa reporting that the appeal of the firm of Price Brothers against the Board of Commerce had been sustained by the Supreme Court of Canada in every particular will come as no surprise to those who have made the least study of this simple but far-reaching case, indeed it would have been surprising if any other judgment had been rendered.

It will be remembered that the Board, whose jurisdiction was extended to include the newspaper industry, after the resignation of the Paper Controller, Mr. R. A. Pringle, K.C., ordered the producers of newspaper to supply a certain percentage of their output to Canadian publishers at a fixed price, which was less than that obtainable in the American market, and placed an embargo upon all export of newspaper until this order had been complied with.

These arbitrarily restrictive regulations were submitted to, although protesting, by all the producers except the Fort Frances Mills and the local firm which ignored both the Board and its rulings; finally appealing to the Supreme Court with the result just made public. As stated in despatches, the Order of the Board of Commerce was based upon the assumption that newspaper was a necessary of life and, as such, subject to its arbitrary control under the War Measures Act of 1914.

Price Brothers contested both the validity of the ruling and the jurisdiction of the Board. Learned judges declared that under such an interpretation as had been placed upon "necessaries of life", the Board might as well include "motor cars, silk gowns and wigs"; and found that the Board's authority "cannot be sustained as emanating from any authority by the War Measures Act of 1914". Although there was one dissenting voice in this judgment, it was so unanimously and so clearly concurred in that we do not believe that it can be reversed by any appeal to the Privy Council, in which event the jurisdiction of the Commerce Board and, probably the control of the Government over the newspaper industry is definitely at an end.

Price Brothers are accordingly to be congratulated and commended for securing this conclusive result that indirectly affects the whole industrial fabric of Canada. If one industry could be singled out and prohibited from exporting its product in order to benefit a special class of consumer, then no other industry could have any certain guarantee against similar discrimination.

It is unnecessary for us to dwell upon the absurdity of these regulations or their detriment to the interests of Canada which we have emphasized in previous articles. It was time for some one to call a halt to Government by Order-in-Council and it required a concern with the courage and resources of Price Brothers to do so successfully.

In the whole transaction there was only one mistake made by the appealing firm and that was in refusing to respect the Board of Commerce, while protesting its actions. We do not blame such conduct too seriously in view of the injustice and indignity that provoked it, but a dangerous precedent might have been created nevertheless, and the Supreme Court very properly insisted upon compliance with the order of the Board as a necessary preliminary to entertaining the appeal made to it.

Admittedly Price Brothers have been justified by success since, although the exact status of the Board of Commerce has yet to be defined by the same Court, excess of jurisdiction has been established. On the other hand, if individuals were to ignore rulings or orders of other courts that were believed to be ultra vires in the same way, the administration of justice would be impossible. Even although it may eventually be held that the Board of Commerce is not a Court in point of law, there can be no doubt of the intention of the Government to make it so in fact and it was entitled to the same respect as any other constituted tribunal in consequence.

Perhaps the most pleasing, though the least material, feature of the case is the manner in which the appealing firm, which has had to stand the most violent and most discourteous public abuse, has been vindicated. Under the circumstances, such malice could only be interpreted as inspired by interested motives and the judgment of the Supreme Court shows a number of too-often spoken newspapers in a by no means desirable light.

An American paper, under the heading "Our big northern neighbor," writes as follows about Canada: "Talk about bigness! It will surprise many folks to learn that Canada is larger than the United States by 250,000 square miles; contains one-third of the area of the British Empire; is as large as 30 United Kingdoms, 18 Germany's, 33 Italy's; is larger than Australasia and twice the size of British India; has a boundary line of 3,000 miles between it and the United States; its seacoast equals half the earth's circumference; is 3,500 miles wide and 1,400 miles from north to south. Do you wonder that the Canadians feel a bit 'chesty' about their country?"

We do not think that "chestiness" is a distinctively Canadian attribute but the facts are correct as stated otherwise.

Some Things the Public Would Like to Know:

When the local bread delivery dealers will use oiled paper, baskets, or clean gloves in delivering bread?

If the Marine Dept. officials are waiting for Montreal to get clear of ice, before placing the Buys in position in the channel below Quebec?

CANADA'S TWO GATEWAYS.

(Montreal Star)

That Canadians, Eastern and Western, are the same was demonstrated again by the complimentary banquet tendered Mayor Gale, of Vancouver, at Quebec, where he is visiting his old home. Mayor Gale brought from the great coast province a message of goodwill to the people of Quebec, sounding the note of a broad Canadianism.

It was a happy conception of Mayor Gale to describe British Columbia as the gateway to the Pacific and Quebec as the gateway to the Atlantic. The two provinces have much in common. The man who has been chosen three times as Chief Magistrate of Vancouver is well fitted to remind us of the fact.

THE OPPOSITION AND FREE TRADE.

(Ottawa Journal)

Speaking in the protectionist division of St. James, Montreal, Hon. Dr. Beland, an Opposition leader, said that the Liberal party was not in favor of free trade, but looked to a well-regulated protection of industries. It was an accurate statement of a fact that is fortified by an experience of fifteen years of Liberalism in office, and no one will take exception to it.

What the country has a right to object to, is that all Liberals do not talk about Free Trade as Dr. Beland talks about it. When, for example, Mr. McMaster goes west to help such as his friend, Mr. Motherwell, and prosperity at the polls makes protectionist talk unprofitable, then Liberalism fights under the flag of Free Trade.

If the Liberal party had the courage and the wisdom to come out openly for a moderate tariff, and divest itself of its fatal hypocrisy in futile effort to be all things to all men, the country would have more respect for its integrity.

CANADA'S ALTERNATIVES.

(London Times)

The Farmers' Sun, the newspaper representing the views of the Farmer-Labor Government of Ontario, maintains that it is time for Canada to decide between three possible courses—an imperial union, in which Canada will have a real voice in imperial policy, and a recognized share of responsibility for imperial wars; union with the United States; or Canadian independence, with all the privileges and responsibilities of national sovereignty. The probability is that the great majority of the people of the Dominion are in favor of none of these alternatives, but would greatly prefer a continuance of the present relations between Canada and the other nations of the Empire. But it is obvious that whether changes are to take place or not, there is urgent need in Canada at the present moment of a strong government under a strong leader, and that, perhaps, may involve the consultation of the people of the Dominion by means of a general election.

FRIENDSHIP BY FILM.

(London Daily Mail)

On the broadest ground of world harmony it is essential that the Americans and ourselves should reach a complete film understanding. Someone has called the cinema picture the Esperanto of vision. It is much clearer than that. It is the nearest approach to universal language. In that tremendous fact its possibilities for good or evil are bound up. Every pictured idea travels round the world beyond recall. Neither the United States nor this country can evade the responsibility that devolves on them as the main dispensers of this vast addition to human knowledge. We have to take up a joint and jealous guardianship of the film as the medium of scrupulous truth and universal good will. It must bring the right hand of friendship to all peoples.

J. ROCKETT POWER HAS PASSED AWAY

Well-known Athlete and Lumberman Succumbed Yesterday to Pneumonia Attack

Quebecers in general will be shocked to learn of the death of Mr. James Rockett Power, the well-known athlete and lumberman who succumbed yesterday afternoon to an attack of pneumonia with which he was stricken on Good Friday.

Endowed by nature with a splendid physique and a robust constitution, strong hopes were held out for his recovery up to Monday night, but the attack was of such a malignant type that he was unable to fight it off and death came yesterday afternoon. It was a severe and unexpected blow to the members of his family and to his friends, many of whom had seen him in perfect health only a few days ago and had not even learned of his illness. His wife and other members of the family were at his bedside when he expired but his father, Mr. William Power, is absent in England and the sad news when communicated to him by cable will prove a great shock.

Mr. Rockett Power, who was 36 years of age, counted friends by the legion, not only in this city, but in all parts of Canada. He was educated at Loyola College, Montreal, and at an early age he manifested a keen interest and ability in sports, which he developed and in later years became one of the most prominent athletes in Canada. He was conspicuous in all branches of sport at Loyola and after graduation he figured brilliantly on the old Crescent Hockey Team and later on the Senior Quebec Team in the days of amateur hockey. He was also a great rugby and soccer player and throughout his athletic career, was noted for his true sportsmanship and gentlemanly demeanor on all occasions, which won for him the respect of his opponents and the admiration of the public.

After completing his studies, Mr. Power entered business with his father and at the time of his death was Manager of the River Ouelle Pulp & Lumber Company at River Manie, P.Q. He contracted his last illness in this city, having come here to spend Easter.

He is survived by his wife (nee Miss Margaret Poston) and one child; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Power; four brothers, Mr. W. Gerard Power, of St. Paoime, former President of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, Capt. Joseph Power, Major Charles Power, M.P., and Capt. Frank Power, of this city; two sisters, Mrs. Noel M. Barclay, of Montreal, and Mrs. Frank A. Moseley, of Montreal.

The sympathy of the entire community will go out to the Power family in the great loss they have sustained.

Westward ho! Travelogue this evening in the Y. W. C. A. Hall, St. Ann street, at 8:00 o'clock. Tickets may be procured at the door. See the advertisement.

LATE MRS. J. B. E. GAUVREAU
Keen regret will be felt at the death of Mrs. J. B. Elzeur Gauvreau, who passed away at her residence, 87 Montcalm Street, at the venerable age of 76 years. She was the wife of the late Mr. Gauvreau, a former shoemaker of St. Sauveur. She is survived by two sons and three daughters: Mr. J. Elzeur Gauvreau, professor; Mr. D. A. Gauvreau, assistant manager and secretary of the Julien Company; the Misses Philomene, Delphine and Marie Gauvreau. The funeral will take place on Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock to St. Sauveur Church.

PLEADED GUILTY

Judge P. A. Choquette in the Court of Sessions yesterday morning and pleaded guilty. The accused was remanded back to jail until next week when he will again come before the Court for sentence.

JUDGE DUCLOU ALLOWS WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS
Montreal, Que., April 6.—In the practice court this morning, Mr. Justice Duclos allowed the writ to issue on a petition presented by C. C. Cabana, K.C., of Sherbrooke, for the issuing of a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Joseph Labrie, condemned in December last in Sherbrooke, for life, and his brother Emile Labrie, condemned for 25 years at the penitentiary on the charge of murdering one Joseph Daze, at Stokes, in the St. Francis district.

Jacob Nicol, K.C., opposed the motion, but Mr. Justice Duclos thought it should issue. The writ is returnable tomorrow morning.

Try This If You Have Dandruff
There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

SEAMAN'S DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

Inquest of Eddie Boronowski of Eagle Boat No. 58, Held Yesterday

A verdict of accidental death was brought in by the jury yesterday morning after the inquest on the death of Seaman Eddie Boronowski, of Eagle Boat No. 58, which occurred in the B. C. Cafe last Saturday evening as the result of a pistol shot. Several witnesses were heard during the inquest, and after the evidence had been read to the jury, they returned the above verdict.

The first witness was the proprietor of the B. C. Cafe, and he stated that he was followed by Blanche Rex, who was employed at the cafe in question as waitress. She stated that she saw the deceased several times, nearly every day. She also knew Green, having seen him practically every day. Neither of the two had ever caused any trouble in the place, and both appeared to be very good friends.

On Saturday evening deceased arrived at the cafe about 6:30, and ordered a meal. Green arrived about ten minutes later, and Boronowski asked him (Green) what he had in his pocket. Green said that he had a revolver, and the deceased asked him to show it. Green took the revolver and gave it to deceased, and the latter pulled something out of it, which he could not replace.

Deceased gave the revolver back to Green, and (witness) then went into the kitchen to get Boronowski's meal. She heard a shot, and immediately went out in the front again, where she saw deceased lying on the floor, and Green at the telephone, putting five cents in the box, to call a doctor.

Boronowski asked witness to lift him up, and said that he was going to die, and said to Green "I am finished", and on proceeding there, saw the deceased lying on the floor, dead. The negro was not there, but Miss Roy had told him that he had gone to get a doctor. No doctor came, but later Green arrived with an officer of the U. S. N. Witness asked Green for the revolver, but the negro replied that he had given it to a friend at the door, whose name he did not know, although he went out with him pretty often.

Witness said that he was called pretty often for quarrels at the B. C. cafe. He had spoken to Green several times, and that he appeared very quiet.

Lieut. Emmet F. Gunn, U.S.N., was the next to testify. He said that he knew deceased by sight, but that Green was on his ship. Witness was in his room at the Chateau on Saturday evening at about 7 o'clock, when Green came into his room. Green had first gone to Lieut. Heydley, at the Chateau, and had told the latter he had shot his best pal (Polack). This was the nick name deceased went by on his ship and amongst his mates.

Green asked Lieut. Heydley to go down and assist him, but Lieut. Heydley brought him to witness's room as he (witness) is in command of Green's vessel. He knew where Green had got the gun from which the bullet was fired that killed Boronowski. It appears that Green was sent on duty Saturday afternoon by witness to deliver a couple of packages in the city, and before leaving the vessel, saw a revolver in the safe of one of the officers who had left for a singing party. The safe was open, and Green took the revolver. After the accident Green ran back to Eagle Boat No. 8, and then to No. 7. He put the gun back in the safe where he had found it.

Lieut. Gunn read a statement written by Green in which the negro said that he had taken the gun out of the Engineering Officer's safe. He had unlocked the gun and showed deceased how to work the trigger, and the gun went off. In his statement Green said that he took the gun because he thought he was going in a rough crowd, and simply wanted to protect himself and his pal.

The revolver, an automatic 32 caliber, and a box of cartridges were produced in court. Lieut. Gunn stated that Green is a Mess Attendant, and is very popular on board, for a colored boy.

Dr. Marois then made his autopsy, which was read to the jury. Sylvio Dionne, of Limolou, then testified. He said that he is employed as cook on the barge Tremblay. He did not know either of the two, Green or Boronowski. He saw both of them for the first time on Saturday night. Deceased arrived first at the B. C. Cafe, while witness was having a meal. Green then appeared on the scene. Both seemed very friendly.

The next thing he knew deceased was on the floor, and he had heard a shot. Witness stated that he did not see deceased with the gun in his hands at all. He only saw Green with the gun. The two men were speaking to one another, but witness did not know what they were saying, as he does not understand English.

The surgeon of the St. Lawrence Division, of the Eagle Boats, took the stand, and testified that he had assisted Dr. Marois with the autopsy, and that the doctor's statement was corroborated by witness.

COUNCIL APPROVES SALE OF BONDS

Special Meeting Called for the Purpose Last Night—Contracts for Clothing Awarded

A special meeting of the City Council was held last night in connection with the recent city bond issue, and a resolution was passed accepting the offer of Wood Gundy & Co., and the Dominion Securities Corporation at $8.17 for $1,325,000 in City of Quebec ten-year gold bonds bearing six per cent. interest.

Originally the offer was accepted for $2,125,000, but as this amount included a sum of $800,000 which was the renewal of a former loan calling for five-year bonds, it was held to be irregular by the tenderers and refused. In order to regularize the matter the Council had to pass a resolution approving of the offer for the sum of $1,325,000 and steps will be taken later to dispose of the remaining $800,000 which will probably be sold on the local market.

Previous to the meeting of the City Council the Police and the Fire Committees met and awarded contracts for clothing.

At the meeting of the Police Committee, it was decided on motion of Ald. Bertrand that the firm of Paguy, Lepinay & Freres be awarded the contract for the summer uniforms for the police at $34.49 each and that they be delivered for the first of June.

The Fire Committee resolved on motion of Ald. Labreque to award the contract for the uniforms for the firemen to the firm of Myrand & Pouliot, Ltd., at $28.50 each.

A complaint that the firemen had failed to use flash-lights at a fire, brought out the explanation from Adjutant Chief Dennella that oil lamps were supplied the firemen and were found to be more practical. He said he did not know why these lamps had not been used if they were needed.

MR. JOHN DOYLE

DIED YESTERDAY
There passed away yesterday evening in this city at the venerable age of 85 years, John Doyle, a native of County Wexford, Ireland, who had resided in this city for upwards of fifty years. Coming from Ireland as a young man, Mr. Doyle was engaged with the killing of his daughter, aged 13 years, at St. Philomene de Lottbierne, requested the Court to put back the trial as long as possible as one of his chief witnesses was ill and besides he was not ready to go on with the case should it be brought on during the next few days. The Court took the request on Jellings.

Mr. M. A. Lemieux, K.C., informed the Court that Lieut.-Col. Abel Whitehead had decided to take a speedy trial in the Court of Sessions, and at the same time informed the Court that his client, who was prosecutor in the case of three citizens, whom he had accused of distributing exemption cards to draftees, withdrew his charge and asked that the charges against these three citizens be dismissed. His request was granted. The Court then took recess until 2:15 p.m.

Afternoon Session.
After recess Hon. Judge Pelletier took his seat at 2:15 o'clock, when the Grand Jury came into Court and returned a true bill for "murder" in the case of the King vs. Telephore Gagnon and Marion Houde. The accused Telephore Gagnon and his wife the former a tall, well-built and good-looking man of about 45 years of age, and the latter a small-sized, dark-complexioned puny woman of frail build, were placed in the prisoner's box and the indictment read by the Clerk of the Crown.

The particulars of the crime of which they were accused was read to them separately, when they both in turn pleaded not guilty.

The question of the trial of the prisoners was again discussed and the Court decided that the case would be proceeded with on Monday next. The witnesses for the prosecution, some fifteen in number, from St. Philomene de Lottbierne, were then called into Court and warned to be on hand at that time. These witnesses include men, women and children and one of the women witnesses informed the Court that it would be impossible to go back home and return to Court on Monday morning, as the railway train they would come by would not reach Levis until the afternoon, and they were told to be in Court on Monday afternoon.

The Court then adjourned until this morning.

KING'S BENCH COURT OPENED

Grand Jury Found True Bills
Against Telephore Gagnon
and Marion Houde

The criminal term of the Court of King's Bench opened in this city yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Hon. Judge L. P. Pelletier presiding. The attendance was not as large as usual at the opening day of this Court, there being few spectators outside the lawyers and officials interested. The principal officials present were Messrs. Alphonse Pouliot, Clerk of the Crown, and Charles Gendron, Clerk of the Peace, Sheriff Blouin, High Constable T. M. Houghton, Crown Prosecutors Messrs. A. Lachance, K.C., and A. Fitzpatrick, K.C., Official Court Interpreter Mr. R. J. Bradley, District Gaoler Mr. J. A. Caribonau, Chief of Police McCarthy, and the usual number of Court officials and Provincial Police in charge of Serg. Chas. Thorne.

The members of the Bar, interested for the defence of their clients, present in Court were Messrs. M. A. Lemieux, K.C., Hon. J. N. Francœur, L. A. Cannon, K.C., Laclaire Roy, K.C., Emile Parent, K.C., Maxime Morin and others. There were also in Court Messrs. L. G. Bellefleur, K.C., Peter French, K.C., and Aime Dion, K.C.

The following were sworn in as members of the Grand Jury: J. Carrier, St. Asapit; Carl Wolf, Valcarier; Thomas Burns, Quebec; Noel Bergeron, St. Asapit; Frederick Craig, Ste. Foye; Octave Lettamine, St. Asapit; Joseph Boutet, St. Ambrise de la Jeune Lorette; Emile Gagnon, Ste. Anne de Baupere; Frank O'Neil and William O'Neil, Ancienne Lorette. Mr. Carl Wolf was chosen foreman.

Hon. Judge Pelletier, in his address to the Grand Jury, instructed them in their duties, saying it was not the duty of the Grand Jury to find the accused guilty or not guilty, but simply to find from the evidence that would be placed before them whether the accused should stand trial or not. They could find a true bill after hearing only one witness, but they would have to hear all witnesses before they could render a "no bill", which would naturally result in the release of the accused. He fully explained the law in regard to their examination of the indictments submitted to them, and then expressed his regret that there should be such a heavy list of criminal offences. Whether it was due to the war or not he did not know, but no doubt conditions all over the world were abnormal and we had suffered a state of general upheaval in this district. Until this year we had enjoyed the reputation of having a most orderly population, and the lists submitted to the Grand Jury and Petit Juries in the past were generally and fortunately light, as they very seldom contained any serious or capital charges. Today, however, we had to bow our heads and humbly admit that we were no longer justified in complimenting ourselves, as we had before us five or six murder cases besides a case of train robbery that had caused a great deal of comment and discussion.

The Grand Jury were then dismissed to proceed to their room and begin the work of examining indictments submitted and hearing witnesses, and were told that the Court would reconvene to hear any report that might be ready.

The Hon. J. N. Francœur, who is defending Telephore Gagnon, and his wife, Mrs. Marion Houde, charged with the killing of their daughter, aged 13 years, at St. Philomene de Lottbierne, requested the Court to put back the trial as long as possible as one of his chief witnesses was ill and besides he was not ready to go on with the case should it be brought on during the next few days. The Court took the request on Jellings.

Mr. M. A. Lemieux, K.C., informed the Court that Lieut.-Col. Abel Whitehead had decided to take a speedy trial in the Court of Sessions, and at the same time informed the Court that his client, who was prosecutor in the case of three citizens, whom he had accused of distributing exemption cards to draftees, withdrew his charge and asked that the charges against these three citizens be dismissed. His request was granted. The Court then took recess until 2:15 p.m.

(Drawn up in the French language)

At a meeting of the Municipal Council of the City of Quebec, held at the City Hall, in the said City of Quebec, on the ninth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and twenty (1920), in conformity to law, and in virtue of a by-law passed by this Council, pursuant thereto, and after the due observance of all the formalities prescribed by the statute in such case made and provided, at such meeting were present the absolute majority of the members composing the Council of the City of Quebec, that is to say: His Worship the Mayor, Aldermen Bedard, Bertrand, Bouchard (St. R.), Bouchard (J. If the widow dies before the expiration of the ten years, the payment thereof shall be continued to the minor children for the balance of the term."

2.—The two following are added after article 20, to wit: "24.—In any case when an officer or employee should die before beginning to draw his pension, and without leaving a widow or children, a portion of the amount of his contributions or fees shall be refunded as follows:

$45,000,000 THEFTS

FROM CARS SHOWN.

Booty Double That in Any Pre-

War Year.

Wholesale looting of merchandise in transit on the railroads of the United States caused a loss of approximately $45,000,000 in 1919, according to United States Railroad Administration statistics made public recently.

This is estimated to be more than double the losses sustained in any pre-war year, but it is pointed out that the increased cost of the commodities stolen, roughly estimated to average 85 per cent, must be taken into consideration when comparing the losses in the days of low prices with losses now. Nevertheless there has been a steadily increasing number of packages stolen, and the organization consisting of the thieves have not an increased ingenuity in diverting goods from their owners.

A technique of robbery has been developed so highly that the methods of "master thieves" are similar in the United States, England, France, Italy and Argentina, according to a recent report of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Argentina. Detectives, however, are inclined to discredit that organization's belief that a "widespread international organization" is at work stealing merchandise.

Substitution is the usual method used by the thieves. Sometimes boxes supposed to contain velvets are found at their destination to be filled with calico or other cheaper grades of cloth, but as a rule, waste paper is found. These are referred to as "concealed losses" by railway men, and are especially difficult to trace, as the shipment leaves and arrives apparently in good condition, and it is almost impossible to discover at what point the theft occurred.

The silk industry has been one of the most severely hit in the last year, and so great has the risk become that the Railroad Administration has been considering excluding raw silks from the privilege of freight transportation by rail. The Merchants' Association of New York, through its traffic bureau, has protested against such an exclusion, advocating some less radical measure to minimize or prevent the theft of silk in transit.

ENTERTAINMENT
WAS VERY GOODGood Scraps Put On At the Knights of Columbus Hall
Last Evening

The Easter Tuesday Concert given under the auspices of the Catholic Army Huts at the Knights of Columbus Hall last evening proved successful in every way. About two hundred sailors from the Eagle boats now in harbor were in attendance, as well as a number of military men, and nearly the whole of the 'Knights' of Quebec.

Mr. Savard, Grand Knight, addressed a few remarks to the audience, and then the fun started. A burlesque on "Il Trovatore" was well received, and was screamingly funny.

A violin solo by Mr. Gagnon, followed by songs by Messrs. Roberge, Seaman Payton, of Eagle Boat No. 3, J. Timmons and A. C. Byrnes, were all greeted with prolonged applause while "Fifteen Minutes of Fun" by Messrs. Joe Savard and Al Worth, had the large gathering in roars of laughter from start to finish. A song by Mr. McNamara followed, and then came the boxing bouts.

Four very good bouts were put on, each scrap lasting four two minute rounds, and one minute rests. In a couple of the bouts it seemed as if the rests were longer than the rounds, and although hard blows were both given and taken, all combatants took everything in good part. A knockout nearly occurred in the third bout, but the bell prevented one of the sailors from being sent to sleep.

Sailor Fisher, the welterweight champion of the fleet, sparred for four rounds with one of his shipmates, and displayed cleverness.

All the bouts were well received by both sailors and other guests present, and at the conclusion of each assault at arms, cheers greeted both men. In the majority of the affairs, the referee declared the bout a draw.

After the fun was over, refreshments were served to all, while during the course of the evening, some three or four hundred packages of Players Cigarettes were distributed throughout the Hall to the guests.

NO DEFINITE
NEWS ON BALLCity League Still Waiting on Decision by Exhibition Commission—Offer is Made

The Quebec City and District Baseball League had a short meeting at the Victoria Hotel last evening, and a considerable amount of business was transacted. There is nothing definite with regards to the Exhibition Grounds for ball this summer, and the City League are waiting word from the Exhibition Commission before taking any steps.

As matters now stand, it appears as if the Exhibition Commission do not seem disposed to spend the money necessary for the construction of a new diamond and baseball park, but there is a chance that they will. There is also a possibility that the League will be permitted to use the old diamond in front of the Grand Stand, but if they are, no contract will be drawn up between the league and the Exhibition Commission.

The Commission are to meet this week, and it is expected that a definite answer will be given as to whether there will be ball in front of the Grand Stand, or whether a new diamond will be built, or neither.

A letter was received by the League, from certain parties, offering to rent a ground suitable for baseball out in St. Malo, just on the other side of the St. Sauveur cemetery. No price was given, but the league have the matter under consideration, and are only awaiting the decision of the Exhibition Commission before acting in the matter. In the interval the letter was tabled.

The remains of the rules of the league were read over, and several small amendments were made. The most important was that of a player who participates in two games the same afternoon, and it was decided that the guilty team would not only lose the game by protest, but the player would be suspended and would have to come before the Arbitration Board to be re-instated.

The next meeting will be held in about two weeks, although if definite news is received from the Exhibition Commission, an assembly may be called for next week.

All the clubs were represented at the meeting: St. Patricks by W. J. Walsh; Napoleons, by J. Joncas; Standards by J. Lomas and H. McCord; C. B. by Emile Dion and Tipperary by F. McLaughlin.

JOE STECHER

for World's Championship
in Metropolis on April 22nd

Montreal, Que., April 6.—Joe Stecher, heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, of "Scissors grip" fame, and Salvator Chevalier, champion of France, will wrestle for the world's championship in Montreal, on Thursday, April 22. Stecher was originally carded to appear in Montreal on April 17, but the date had to be changed when he was matched to meet "Strangler" Lewis in a title bout in New York on April 16. The Lewis-Stecher match is for a purse of $20,000.

This will be the most important match since that of Stanislaus Zbyszko and Constant Le Marin, before the outbreak of the great war.

Sporting Notes

Joe Stecher, world's heavyweight champion wrestler, will meet Salvator Chevalier, in a match for the championship at Montreal, on Thursday, April 22. A purse of $20,000 has been offered for the event.

Hockey lingers in the lap of baseball—Toronto Mail and Empire.

An offer has been made to rent a ground suitable for baseball to the City League in the event of the Exhibition Commission refusing to permit the local teams to use the Exhibition Ground. The offer is being considered, but no step will be taken in the matter before a definite decision is arrived at by the Exhibition Commission.

A New Orleans promoter has cabled an offer to Georges Deschamps, manager for Georges Carpentier, of $20,000 for a 15 round fight between Carpentier and Bill Brennan.

Two Kinds of Economy in the Post-War Maxwell

THE Post-War Maxwell inherited from its 300,000 predecessors two traits that captivate the person who likes continuous, uninterrupted, comfortable and low-cost mileage.

One is its freedom from repairs. It runs on and on. Give it gas, oil, grease and water and it will deliver an amazing amount of mileage.

The second is the low price you pay per mile. Its thrifty engine with Hot Spot and Ram's-Horn, makes gas go a long way. Its 2000 pounds of weight assures long tire wear.

Such kinds of economy came from years of study and the experience which 300,000 previous Maxwells have taught.

The notable improvements and refinements to be found in this car have caught the attention of many who figured that high efficiency meant high price.

The public has served notice that it does appreciate value.

That is why 40,000 persons will have to go without a Post-War Maxwell this year though 100,000 are being built.

New York, April 6.—The recently announced rules under which athletes can compete in the Olympic games will deprive the United States of a number of good men. Among these are Earl J. Thomson of Dartmouth; Alvin J. N.Y.A.C. the jumper; Hannes Kolehmainen, the runner and Carl Mertens, the walker.

The rules will probably strike heavily on the soccer players, the majority of whom are of British birth. They will also slightly affect the fencers, trap-shooters and swimmers in this country.

MODERATE MENUS

How to Combat H. C. L. by Economic Cooking—
Prepared by the School of Household
Science, Macdonald College.

FAMILY DIETAIRES AT MODERATE COST.

In the preparation of menus for a family certain factors which govern the choice of foods must be kept in mind. The most important of these are: (1) The cost; (2) proper balance that all needs of the body may be provided for in sufficient quantity; (3) the occupation of the members of the family, whether sedentary or active; (4) the ages—young children cannot be given the same food as an adult; (5) the season—certain foods are more suitable for cold weather than hot and vice versa.

In the menus submitted the following conditions have been assumed:
1. The family is that of a man in a sedentary occupation such as that in an office or shop.

2. The family consists of father, mother and three children, whose ages vary from six to fourteen years.

3. The house mother carries out the preparation of all meals and most of the other necessary household tasks with the assistance of the children.

4. The costs of meals has been estimated at $20.00 per week for raw materials. This is at prevailing prices for today, but implies great care in buying and dealing where the best values can be obtained. It is supposed that in the case of canned fruit, jelly and preserves that such will have been put down when such fruits are in season and only their approximate cost is allowed. No pickles or catsups, are provided for as these are too expensive to buy and, if not home made, cannot be served at the cost estimated. It is expected that all leftovers will be utilized in some form.

5. The calorific value per day has been calculated on a basis of not less than 2500 for the man of the house, the wife and children in proportion. If greater activity in occupation demands a larger amount of calories, this would be met by serving a larger quantity than has been estimated. The menus have been arranged to give sufficient balance to provide for body needs.

6. It is presumed that all members of the family take all their meals at home. Should it be impossible for the father or any of the children to come home at midday, provision would have to be made for lunch, elsewhere, the cost of which would be, at least, partially met by the smaller quantity used at home.

7. Luncheon has been arranged for midday and dinner at night, but the order may be reversed. In any case children under twelve should have the chief meal at noon if at all possible. The luncheon dishes would usually provide a suitable meal. Where this is not the case an egg may occasionally be served. A half dozen has been provided in addition to those required for family meals. For the evening meals of the younger ones, bread and milk, cream toast, or cereal is suitable. They may often share the family dessert.

8. Tea will probably be served at luncheon, and possibly at dinner, and although not mentioned on the menus, it has been provided for in cost. Cocoa may be given for one meal to the younger children. Their chief beverage should be milk.

9. The chief dinner of the week has usually been placed on Saturday, and the Sunday meals have been planned in order to make their preparation as easy as possible. Several dishes can be made on Saturday, sufficient vegetables cooked to reheat and the salad prepared from leftover fowl. If it is preferred to have the best dinner on Sunday, the meat and the vegetable courses for the two dinners can be interchanged.

BIG SLUMP IN MOUSE MARKET

Columbia University Reports
Shortage are Used for Experimental Purposes.

New York, April 6 — A big slump in the mouse market is reported from Columbia University where large stocks of the little rodents are used for experimental purposes. Quotations for mice have fallen far below pre-war levels and many breeders have been forced out of business, according to Dr. Francis Carter Wood.

Hosts of mice were required during the war for medical experiments and high prices offered for them by the government stimulated the breeding of these animals. When the armistice was signed the breeders were caught "long" on mice and they found themselves carrying a heavy overland of a useless commodity.

This situation in the mouse market is disclosed in Dr. Wood's annual report as director of the George Crocker Special Research Fund, made public today. This fund was created to conduct scientific cancer investigation and many mice not used for experiments at Columbia University are shipped to other laboratories.

RUSSIANS FOUND VODKA SUBSTITUTE

Made Satisfactory Jag-Producer From Vermin Powder Fooled the Authorities.

London, April 6—Some amusing stories are being brought back by the forces that have been in Russia. One tells how the natives foiled the local prohibition regulations.

An officer in charge of a tank detachment, stationed in a dry region, found that his stock of solidified mytilated spirit disappeared mysteriously. Investigation disclosed that the Russians considered it a passable substitute in body and bouquet for vodka. The method of sealed stores prevented further losses, but the Russians were not eaten. They gathered a stock of powder for vermin killing, and concocted a fermented drink.

FIRST SIGNAL SERVICE REPORT

St. Lawrence Now Open and Clear of Ice Below Quebec City

The Marine and Fisheries Department Signal Service in connection with the navigation of the St. Lawrence issued its first bulletin yesterday. Notwithstanding that it shows the river St. Lawrence from Quebec to be open and practically clear of ice and the way clear for ocean vessels to come to Quebec, no effort is being made to profit by the advantageous situation. It is evident that ship owners overseas who depend upon their Canadian agents for advice in regard to the ice conditions in the St. Lawrence. It is the made aware of the true conditions and the feasibility of ocean navigation to Quebec, and will not be advised until the river west of Quebec is clear which may not be until another three weeks hence. These conditions will probably continue to exist until the people of Quebec acquire ships of their own to give the lead.

The building mentions ice on the river at L'Islet no ice at Cape Salmon, no ice at Father Point, and no ice at Metis or Matane. It is the same story all along the river except in shore packed ice at Cap des Rosiers, South West Point and Health Point. But there is no ice at Cape Ray and Cape Race, while above Quebec the bulletin states the ice is still holding from Grandville, 41 miles west of this port, to Longue Point.

Something About Feather Pillows

What is more unsanitary than a Feather Pillow?

Did you every stop to think how careful you are to put nice clean pillow slips on to those same old pillows?

They are handed down from one generation to another with nothing more than an occasional airing.

We wash your FEATHER PILLOWS without removing the feathers, and dry them with warm air and constant agitation in our HOT AIR DRYING MACHINE, which thoroughly sterilizes and renders them soft and fluffy.

Eiderdown Quilts also nicely cleaned and returned soft and fluffy.

Don't Prod Your Liver to Action

NR Overcomes Bilelessness, Constipation, Sick Headache, Giddiness, No Griping—Pain Guaranteed.

The organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the stomach, liver and bowels—are closely allied and the proper action of any of these organs is largely dependent upon the correct functioning of all the others.

"Whipping" your liver into action with calomel or forcing your bowels with irritating laxatives or strong cathartics is a great mistake. A better, safer plan is strengthening and toning the whole digestive and eliminative system with Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), which not only brings immediate relief, but genuine and lasting benefit. It acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, improves digestion and assimilation, overcomes bilelessness, corrects constipation and quickly relieves sick headache.

Get a 25c box and try it with the understanding that it must give you relief or your money back. No bowels or liver medicine you ever used before. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

At The Theatres

Elaine Hammerstein and Harold Lloyd at Victoria Tomorrow

"Greater than Fame" starring beautiful Elaine Hammerstein will be the special attraction at the Victoria Theatre tomorrow. In this picture, Miss Hammerstein is supported by Walter McGrail and a splendid cast.

Harold Lloyd will supply the comedy in his funniest farce to date entitled "Haunted Spooks". Its a scream. Ruth Roland is on same bill in 11th episode "Adventures of Ruth."

Last Chance to See Charles Ray At the Empire Theatre Today

This is your last opportunity to see Charles Ray in his latest offering "Red Hot Dollars" at the Empire theatre today. Also on bill "Fatty" Arbuckle in a comedy that is a regular scream, "Back Stage." "Who's Your Servant?" is the powerful subject to be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is said to be infinitely stronger and more appealing than "The Cheat" or other like productions. Fourteenth episode of "The Lion Man" and comedy also to be shown.

Something to be Glad about will happen soon. Mary Pickford is coming in her "Glad" picture Pollyanna. Also first episode of a sensational serial "Elmo The Fearless", starring Elmo Lincoln.

"Should a Husband Forgive?" Showing at Victoria Theatre; Positively Last Time Today

"Should a Husband Forgive?" the splendid William Fox special which has been running at the Victoria Theatre, will conclude its stay with today's showings. This great photoplay written and directed by R. A. Walsh, whose name is associated with other celebrated screen successes—namely "The Honor System," "The Prussian Cur" and "Every Mother's Son," tells a profoundly human story in a series of thrills, all closely related to the question on which the story hangs: "Should a Husband Forgive?"

The scenes of sporting life include a sensational horse race, staged at Hot Springs, Arkansas, and a boxing match staged at the Broadway Athletic Club in Brooklyn, New York, between professionals, before an audience of thousands. The picture is bound to create a deep impression.

"Should a Husband Forgive?" is presented by an all-star cast, including Miriam Cooper, Mrs. James K. Hackett, Martha Mansfield, Percy Standing, Lyster Chambers, Vincent Coleman, Eric Mayne, Chas. Craig, John Rios, and James A. Marcus.

"The Adventurer" Ends Today; Special Double Bill Tomorrow

The successful engagement of William Farnum in "The Adventurer," the romantic drama from the pen of E. Lloyd Sheldon, ends at the Allen this evening. Mr. Farnum never has appeared to better advantage than as the hero of this dashing story. His support is exceptionally good, and a well-balanced and interesting performance of an excellent drama is really worth seeing.

A Christie comedy and weekly are also on the same bill.

SPECIAL DOUBLE BILL TOMORROW

Quebec theatregoers will be again given an unusual treat tomorrow Friday and Saturday. The biggest bill ever shown in a local house is booked, both Norma Talmadge and Will Rogers being on the same card. Norma Talmadge is in "Ghosts of the Past," and Will Rogers in "Water, Water, Everywhere." In addition a two reel Hank Mann comedy entitled "Broken Bubbles," and pictorial are on the same bill.

JOSEPH A. YORK, well-known business man of Portland Me., who says he feels twenty years younger and has gained sixteen pounds on four bottles of Tania. Declares he can now eat three square meals a day.

"I am now able to eat three square meals a day for the first time in two years," was the emphatic statement made recently by Joseph A. York, well-known business man and highly respected citizen of Portland, Maine.

"I am now sixty-nine years of age, and in all my life I have never run across a medicine that I consider in a class with Tania. I have just finished my fourth bottle and this medicine has benefited me even beyond my greatest hopes. Besides gaining sixteen pounds in weight I have been built up and strengthened until I feel all of twenty years younger.

"For the past two years I have been in a miserably run-down condition, and was compelled a short time ago to give up all idea of business as I was too weak to look after anything. I was nervous, worn-out, had no appetite, and suffered most all the time with indigestion. Some days I would eat scarcely anything; in fact I was afraid to eat because I knew I would suffer afterward. Sometimes I had such severe cramping pains after eating that I would almost die. My nerves were all unstrung and the least thing would worry me and I never could get a good night's sound sleep. In fact I just lost interest in everything and was greatly discouraged over my condition.

"The ordinary treatment failed to do me any good, and as I had read so many statements from people I know here in Portland who had been benefited by Tania, I decided to give it a trial. And now I know for myself what it will do, for I have simply taken a new lease on life. I am now able to look after my work as usual, and never feel better in my life. I am able to eat three hearty meals a day and everything agrees with me perfectly. I eat anything I want and never feel a touch of indigestion. I never thought there was a medicine that could do me so much good, and I am only too glad to have the facts about my case given to the public."

Tania is sold in Quebec by Jolicoeur's pharmacy, and by Martel & Dion; and in Lewis by Maurice Dion; under the personal direction of a special Tania representative.
