EUROPEAN RECONSTRUCTION NEEDS ASSISTANCE FROM UNITED STATES

Lausanne Agreement to Be Really Effective Must Have Response Elsewhere, Declares Premier MacDonald in Closing Vital Reparations Conference—Agreement Marks Closing of Chapter and Beginning of New Book.

Lausanne, July 9.—“Europe cannot live alone, the agreement signed here must have a response elsewhere,” declared Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald at the plenary session which closed the labors of the Lausanne Conference on reparations and debts today with agreement to drop German reparations annuities.

The British Prime Minister, driving spirit of the Conference, was the first to sign the treaty which substitutes a final payment, some time in the future, of around $714,000,000 for the reparations annuities which would have gone on for another fifty-five years under the Young schedule.

“We have put a new page in history, not the ending of a chapter, but the beginning of a new book,” Prime Minister MacDonald declared. Stressing that the huge burden of post-war inter-governmental payments was crushing down the industry of the world, he added that even such a self-contained nation as the United States “is as hard hit as ourselves.”

The crowd of European statesmen, were in smiling mood, well satisfied with the outcome of their labors, confidently looking to the United States for common action on the war debts problem now that Europe has slashed reparations down to little more than one per cent. of the original reparations figure.

Prime Minister MacDonald expressed the hope that Geneva would put an end to the great waste of money on armaments. “But disarmament is not enough,” he said. “We must have candor and confidence, moral disarmament among the nations. We must extend the hand of friendship and encouragement to all the struggling nations.”

Premier Edouard Herriot, of France, paid tribute to the work of the secretariat and the corps of newspapermen from all over the world. The treaty was signed on behalf of Canada, New Zealand, Australia and South Africa by Thomas A. Stone, of the Canadian Department of External Affairs.

MacDONALD PLACED FIRST SIGNATURE ON DOCUMENT

Lausanne, Switzerland, July 9.—The Lausanne Conference on war debts and reparations was officially declared closed at 11:25 a.m., today after representatives of the principal powers had formally initiated the agreement to scale Germany's reparations bill down from the original $84,000,000,000 to approximately $714,000,000.

The initialing ceremony was held in the Beau Rivage Hotel, where most of the sessions of the conference took place. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, of Great Britain, whose tenuous was credited with having brought about the agreement, presided.

Mr. MacDonald himself was the first to use the gold pen on the document that represents one of the largest financial settlements in history.

He was followed by Premier Renkin, Paul Hymans and Emile Francqui, for Belgium; Sir John Simon, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, representing the Dominion of Antioch; M. Germain-Martin, for France; August Zaleski, for Poland; Ambassador Shigeru Yoshida, for Japan; and Chancellor von Papen, Ambassador von Neurath and Count Schwerin von Krosigk, for Germany.

Two committees were created before the Conference adjourned. The first committee was to deal with non-German reparations. M. Theunis, of Belgium, was named its chairman. M. Bonnet, of France, was elected chairman of the second committee, which is to deal with Danubian problems.

Sir John Simon and M. Germain-Martin read statements suspending the intra-European war debts until the new agreement is ratified by national parliaments. This statement was made at the behest of the Italian delegation.

“Great transfers of post-war sums,” Prime Minister MacDonald said in his closing address, “have not been a punishment to one nation, but a burden upon all.”

“The most self-contained country in the world—the United States—has been hit as hard as we.”

“This begins a new chapter. We have closed one book and opened a new one. Agreement has not been easy. There are too many old memories which are not easy to uplift.”

“Lausanne must put into effect a universal framework. Europe cannot live alone. The arrangements signed here must have a response elsewhere.”

After the conference was officially closed the delegates drank a toast to world prosperity.

The convention does not go into effect until it is ratified by the parliaments of the signatory nations which, by an unwritten agreement, will not take place until after the United States reconsiders the question of scaling down the war debts due her from Europe.

FAMOUS INVENTOR CLAIMS PLANETS INHABITED

New York, July 9.—Nicola Tesla, famous inventor, who will celebrate his 76th birthday tomorrow expressed today a conviction that “it is mathematically certain that other planets are inhabited.”

“Every other planet has to pass through practically the same phase of existence the earth did and life is started on them during that favorable phase by rays of some sun,” he said.

EARLY IMPROVEMENT IN GERMAN SITUATION SEEN

Reduction of Debts Will Improve Internal Condition of Germany and Her Relative Position to Other Countries.

Toronto, July 9.—J. A. McLeod, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, foresees an early improvement in German security prices as a result of the Lausanne agreement on reparations.

“So far as Germany is concerned, the effect should be favorable,” said Mr. McLeod. “The reduction of debts will improve the internal condition of the country and will also affect its relative position to other countries.”

LONDON PRESS DECLARES UNITED STATES HOLDS KEY TO RECOVERY

While Hailing Reparations Settlement as a “Great Achievement,” and “a Happy Omen,” British Newspapers See in It Only the First Step Toward Settlement of World Economic Troubles—Further Remedies Cannot Be Supplied by Europe Alone, United States Must Assist.

London, July 9.—The London press today welcomed the reparations settlement at Lausanne as a “great achievement,” a “happy omen,” and “the world's best news since the war,” but added that it was only the first step toward a settlement of the world's economic troubles.

Eyes would now be turned across the Atlantic, the papers said, to see what the United States would do on the question of revising the war debts.

Comparing Europe to a patient from whose system poison had been extracted, the Times said the patient was still weak and restoratives and other remedies were needed. These, it added, could not be supplied by Europe alone.

The Morning Post, referring to Washington's expression of an American readiness to consider suggestions on the debts, remarked that the British attitude is that all inter-governmental payments are obstacles to the world's recovery.

“Our task,” the Post added, “is to persuade America, in her own and the common interest, to accept this thesis. If she does not accept it any moral or material benefit from Lausanne will be lost utterly.”

“Great Britain has suspended the payments due her,” the Telegraph said, “believing the United States will see the necessity of revising the entries in her own ledgers. . . . The powers at Lausanne have done wisely in placing their faith in the magnanimity, no less than the political and financial acumen, of American statesmanship to perform one of the remaining achievements allotted to it in the Lausanne declaration.”

“If the world's course is to be set fair for prosperity,” said the Daily Mail, “relief from the United States is required.”

“It depends upon America,” the Express said, “to lift the Lausanne settlement from a scrap of paper into reality.”

The Herald said: “Lausanne is the beginning, but there is much to do—the very difficult question of war debts remains.”

Several of the papers said they thought Germany escaped very cheaply, and also emphasized that ratification of the agreement was yet to come. This, they said, they believed, depends on the United States' attitude.

“The French chamber won't sanction the settlement,” said the Express, “until it is assured America will give them clearance on their own debts.”

COMMUNISTS BLAMED FOR DISORDERS

Lima, Peru, July 9.—Peru is under a state of siege and several of the important seaports are closed as a result of disturbances yesterday in which a number of civilians were killed and wounded.

The government attributed the disorders to Communists, but in other quarters it was said that the Aprista opposition was involved.

SALVAGE SHIPS PREPARING TO SAVE SAILORS

Italian Steamers Hope to Lift French Submarine Despite Numerous Difficulties in Way.

Cherbourg, France, July 9.—The Italian salvage ships Artiglio and Rosteo prepared today to attempt what many experts considered the almost impossible—the salvage of the sunken French submarine Promethee and the rescue of her crew, if any of them are alive.

The two salvage ships arrived at 10 a.m., and proceeded directly to the arsenal to take on equipment for the rescue attempt.

Vice-Admiral Le Do, chief of the Maritime Prefecture, said this morning it would be a most difficult task. “At that depth (the submarine is lying about 245 feet below the surface) the divers will be working in pitch darkness,” he said.

“But we will first try to pass chains around the hull to permit the use of lifting gear, and it might also be possible to drag the submarine to shallower water.”

A nine knot current in the channel also hampered the rescue work. It was believed, however, that if anything could be done the Artiglio and Rosteo could do it, and hope prevailed that it would be possible at least for the divers to attach air pipes to the sockets in the hull to keep the men alive until a large scale refloating operation was possible.

There was no craft in this harbor with apparatus to send down a diver.

The location of the submarine was clearly marked, however, and the nature and strength of the current in the vicinity were fully determined so that everything was ready for the diving to proceed.

JUSTICE AGAIN WORKS AGAINST LAW BREAKERS

Two Alleged Murderers of Royal Canadian Mounted Police Officer Rounded Up, While Third of Trio Shoots Himself.

Kelvington, Sask., July 9.—Police today began building up a case against Mike and William Kurulak, allegedly implicated in the shooting of Corporal Leonard Ralls, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, at Foam Lake on Tuesday. At the same time the two brothers said the blame for Rall's death on their companion, William Miller, who died by his own hand rather than submit to capture.

Death of Miller and capture of William Kurulak yesterday brought to a close the biggest man-hunt in the history of Saskatchewan, a chase which for days ranged through the hilly, semi-timbered farming country near here.

Sheer fatigue was responsible for the capture of William Kurulak. He entered a farm house and said he had waited for locking for work. He asked permission to sleep and was told to go upstairs. The police learned a strange lad called at the farm and entered the house. Kurulak's pistol was under his pillow but he slept so soundly police had him pinned before he awakened and he had no chance to use it.

Miller, most desperate of the three, was only a few jumps ahead of his pursuers all day yesterday. He plugged on and repeatedly exchanged shots with them. None of Miller's shots took effect but he sustained wounds in the ankle and the stomach. Police surrounded a bush he was said to enter and rushed. They found him dead from a bullet fired from his own revolver.

ONLY A VISIONARY COULD FANCY A UNITED IRELAND

Dublin, July 9.—An appeal by the “Army Council” of the illegal Irish Republican Army to Orange members of Ulster to join in a movement for “a free and united Irish Republic” was made today.

The appeal exhorted Ulstermen to “rescue themselves from capitalist and imperialist.” It declares full freedom of conscience and religious worship would be “guaranteed” both sides.

The Republican Government of the Irish Free State has often intimated its desire for Irish union with a republic, but Northern Ireland flatly declines to consider it.

RAW MATERIAL IMPORTS POINT TO BETTERMENT

Textile and Oil Concerns Give Indication of Increasing Operations Within Next Few Weeks.

Ottawa, July 9.—The resumption of the importation of raw materials in large volume for use in Canadian factories was one of the bright spots in the Dominion's business operations today. May accounts for the monthly review of business statistics issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The following figures show imports of the principal raw products in the months under review:

	April	May
Wool, raw, lbs.	6,230,000	12,463,000
Petroleum, crude, gallons	38,565,000	109,518,000

The review declares that “the purchase of raw materials is an excellent barometer of the intentions of manufacturers in regard to future operations, and the greater imports of raw cotton, wool and petroleum indicate that preparations are being made in the textile and oil industries for a higher level of activity.”

UNKNOWN SPECIE OF BUG DISCOVERED ON POTATOES

Quebec, July 9.—An insect, heretofore unknown in these parts, has made its appearance in potato patches in the province, particularly in lower Quebec. The insect, which has not yet reached the past stage, the bugs are fairly numerous.

Specimens of the insect have been sent to the Provincial and Federal Departments of Agriculture by Federal Inspector Baribeau, who recommended that growers spray their plants with sulphate of nicotine, mixed with tobacco juice, as a means of checking their progress.

SPECTACULAR RISE IN PRICE OF BANK STOCK

Movement Attracted a New Flow of Funds into So-Called “First Grade” Canadian Security Issues.

Toronto, July 9.—A spectacular rise in prices of Canadian bank securities abruptly changed the investment aspect of Canadian stock markets this week. It was a change for the better. Advances in bank stocks some provide a sensation, since they represented the addition of millions of dollars to the valuation of these securities. But, at the same time, the movement attracted a new flow of funds into the so-called “first-grade” issues and, coming at the same moment as the Ontario Government offering of $20,000,000, afforded a degree of encouragement that the market urgently needed.

Some disappointment was natural at the close of the week when Canadian stocks reacted in company with Wall Street, but there was no serious threat to the price structure at Toronto and Montreal, and a comparison of prices of leading issues indicated that the market was fully able to maintain its price position.

Industrial shares reflected the inspiring business background, including adverse dividend decisions, a new recession in United States Steel company's operations, and an absence of tangible improvement in either wholesale or retail trade beyond the seasonal activity occasioned by tourist traffic. To that extent the market was a dull affair.

But nothing in the action of Canadian stock exchanges more accurately reflects the ebb and flow of public opinion, in a financial sense, than the advances recorded by bank issues this week when it is remembered that these stocks bore the brunt of pessimistic selling only a few months ago.

The advance carried Canadian Bank of Commerce from 124 to 140, and Dominion Bank from 125 to 135, a net advance of $16 in one instance and $10 in the second. Imperial Bank soared $15 a share from $130 to $145 and Royal Bank rose from 128 to 142. Bank of Nova Scotia was quoted a week ago at 240 and it is the exception, since the price remains at approximately the same level.

An advance of $1.00 a share by International Nickel from 4% was the result of international buying of the shares. Smelters was in consistent demand, rising from 31 last week to 40, under buying reported from London as well as from American sources. C. P. R. advanced from 10 to 10½, while Brazilian at 10½ compared with 9½ last week.

Gold was prominent at higher prices on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange.

MOths AND ANTS OPEN CONVENTION IN NEW YORK

New York, July 9.—New York was invaded by countless thousands of white moths and winged ants in the early hours today, and for a time many people thought they were witnessing a snowstorm in July.

Crowds in Times Square gaped when the air suddenly became filled with the flitting white insects which swarmed toward street lamps, electric signs and illuminated store windows.

The moths also invaded homes, hotels and restaurants in large numbers.

It is believed they were blown over from Long Island by a strong east wind.

BRITISH TERRITORY FOR TRANS-ATLANTIC CALLS

Provinces of Ontario and Quebec to Have Direct Telephone Connections With Britain.

Montreal, July 9.—Commencing on July 11th all trans-Atlantic telephone calls from Ontario and Quebec to Great Britain will be handled entirely through British territory, according to plans worked out by the British Post Office, the Canadian Marconi Company and the Bell Telephone Company of Canada. Shortly afterwards all other provinces will also receive their telephone connections direct.

Previously Atlantic telephone communication had largely been through New York.

Rugby, England, to Yarmouche, Que., will be the voice-path in one direction, and Yarmouche to Baldock, England, the other.

EASTERN FARMERS PREPARE BRIEF FOR STUDY AT IMPERIAL PARLEY

Stability of Exchange and Markets for Livestock Sought by Quebec and Ontario Agriculturists—Motion Picture Exhibitors Oppose Any Move for Film Quota—Governor-General to Officially Open Conference—Premier Taschereau Offers Co-operation.

Toronto, July 9.—Farmers from Ontario and Quebec gathered here yesterday to discuss policies and recommendations to be presented at the coming Imperial Economic Conference.

Attention will be directed to the poverty-stricken condition of the average farmer in Ontario, who forms forty-seven per cent of the population. Also the effect that the depreciation of Canadian currency and the British pound, the farmer is placed at a direct disadvantage with the Australian and New Zealand farmers.

Efforts will be made by the Ontario farmers to secure some consideration for a scheme that will increase the sale of livestock against the frozen canned products of other parts of the Empire into Great Britain.

Protest at any plan to enact a British motion picture quota at the coming conference, in preference to those produced in other countries, provided the quality was such as to draw patronage. The motion, moved by Gordon Filman, of London, and seconded by William Brady, of Toronto, is being forwarded to the Dominion and provincial Governments.

It reads in part: “That the officials of this organization make representation that we, as Canadian exhibitors and in no way associated with United States of other foreign interests, unanimously oppose the enactment of any law which requires us to exhibit a fixed number of productions, which may be of inferior quality and wholly unsuitable to our patrons.

“That we are most anxious and willing to run British pictures in preference to any foreign product, provided the quality and exploitation of British pictures is such that they draw patronage, which condition can only be obtained by selection from competitive product and not by coercion of compulsion.”

Three Rivers police recognized the licence number as that of a car stolen in Three Rivers the night before, a small blue sedan. The car was reported later in the afternoon as speeding through St. Catharines, Portneuf county, on the road to Quebec. Provincial police and the municipal police along the highway joined in the search immediately.

future for trade on a greatly increased scale between New Zealand and Canada, in my opinion, looks very bright.” C. M. Croft, Canadian Trade Commissioner to New Zealand, told a large gathering at a Board of Trade banquet here last night. Mr. Croft came to Canada ten days ago to make advance arrangements for the New Zealand delegation to the Imperial Conference.

Canadian motor vehicles and accessories, lumber, newspaper, wrapping paper, salmon, sardines, hosiery, which bore an excellent reputation, were among the goods which New Zealanders were prepared to buy, said the speaker. New Zealand, he remarked, leads the world in external trade per capita.

DENY THAT QUEBEC GOVERNMENT WILL NEGOTIATE $9,000,000 LOAN

Report Stated Order-in-Council Approved by Government Authorized Short Term Loan Guaranteed by Issue of Treasury Notes to Be Repaid from Consolidated Revenue of Province and to Be Used for the “Back to Land” Movement and Interest Payments.

Quebec, July 9.—Officials in Premier L. A. Taschereau's office today denied a report that the province would shortly negotiate the Banque Canadienne Nationale. The Premier is out of town until Monday and could not be reached, and officials in his office declined to amplify their denial.

Last night's report was that an order-in-council had been approved by the Provincial Government authorizing the loan. It was indicated in the report to be a short term loan guaranteed by an issue of treasury notes to be repaid from the consolidated revenue of the province and to be used for the “back-to-the-land” movement and interest payments.

To finance the Provincial Government's share in direct unemployment relief and for carrying out of land settlement agreement signed recently between the Province and the Federal Government, whereby one thousand unemployed and suitable families are to be placed on colonization lots, where the interested municipalities agree to pay $200 for each family.

The report further declared that the Government's move was not unexpected as it had been stated some time ago that a loan would probably have to be negotiated owing to existing economic conditions having seriously affected the revenues of the province apart from the expenditure of from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 on unemployment relief this winter. In addition, it was stated, the interest due on Government bonds held in the United States, which mature in the near future, has been largely increased due to the heavy discount on the Canadian dollar.

The Government has sustained heavy losses in revenue from the Succession Duties Act due to the depressed value of securities. The Treasurer's annual report for the fiscal year just ended will not be available until about the end of this month or beginning of August, but it is expected to show that while there has been a decided downward trend in provincial revenues, the new taxes imposed at last session have provided revenue in excess of the estimates.

Previously Atlantic telephone communication had largely been through New York.

Rugby, England, to Yarmouche, Que., will be the voice-path in one direction, and Yarmouche to Baldock, England, the other.

LONG JOURNEY TO NORTHLAND NOW UNDER WAY

S.S. Ungava Sails from Montreal With Relief Forces and Supplies for Hudson Bay Stations.

Montreal, July 9.—A cruise of more than ten thousand miles—from Montreal to St. John's, Newfoundland—through the waters of the Canadian Arctic with stops at all important settlements, save those of Churchill and James Bay, begins today when the S. S. Ungava, formerly heads “for the North Pole.” The ship will pass within six hundred miles of that famed spot.

Captained by T. F. Smellie, and carrying a passenger list which includes Major D. L. McKend, of the Dominion Department of the Interior, and Dr. L. B. Pigay, of the Dominion Department of Pensions and National Health, the Ungava will set forth on a commercial, medical and scientific expedition.

Guests at a luncheon tendered by the Young Men's Canadian Club of Montreal, who accompanied the expedition yesterday told of their respective jobs while in the north. Major McKend is in charge during the trip and will direct operations. Inspector T. V. Sandry's-Wunsch will inspect the northern posts of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, George Watson, Hudson's Bay Co. official in charge of the Ungava district of northern Quebec, will visit the settlements of his company. Captain Smellie will command the ship and foresees no trouble or obstacles to the success of the expedition.

Flying the Royal Mail flag, the expedition which was arranged jointly by the government of Canada and the Hudson's Bay Company, will visit territories covering about one third the map of Canada. It will supply the outposts and natives with food and clothing, and will count Baffin Island, the most northerly post office in the world, among its stops. A friendly call will be paid the island of Greenland, Danish colony. The aim of the trip, said Major McKend, was to “retain the north for the Dominion, mark sovereignty and carry on administration.”

X-ray equipment will be installed at Pangnirtung. Royal Canadian Mounted Police at present in the Arctic will be replaced by fresh recruits. Dr. Pigay will investigate the health of natives and residents of the outposts. Dr. J. R. West, pathologist, will make a survey of the Eskimo dog situation. Mgr. Turquetil, famed “Bishop of the North” will board the ship at Southampton Island and make a tour of inspection of Roman Catholic missions on Baffin Island. Reports of these various activities will be relayed daily to Ottawa authorities by means of short-wave wireless.

The Ungava will not visit Churchill or the west side of Hudson Bay. Nor will she sail south to James Bay, as this territory is now covered by ships out of Smoky Factory and Churchill.

against what seemed at times insurmountable obstacles, echoed with sighs of relief and exclamations of satisfaction. The hope was for peace and the economic reconstruction of the world.

The seal affixed to the agreement as the final act of the ceremony was more than 400 years old. It was originally used on the Treaty of Friendship of 1525 between Freiburg and Bern on the one hand and Lausanne on the other.

TREATY MARKS FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE OF GERMANY

Lausanne, July 9.—German reparations annuities are ended and the question now is what new settlement can be made with the United States in regard to the war debts of the former Allies?

The Lausanne Conference today signed a treaty which ends the German reparations annuities—in the words of Chancellor Franz von Papen to the German people, "signaling Germany's financial independence of other nations."

For the annuities it substitutes a German bond issue of 3,000,000,000 gold marks, which at the rate of gold exchange would be $714,000,000 and these are not to be issued for at least three years.

Of an importance that can hardly be exaggerated in itself, the treaty is yet but a step towards what Lausanne delegates hope will be a new deal all around and a drastic reduction in the financial burdens left by the Great War, which fourteen years after the close of the conflict are weighing down the nations.

Announcement of the reparations agreement immediately brought news from Washington that the United States was ready to consider any proposals Europe cared to make for revision of the war debts settlement.

The Lausanne Conference thus winds up with a great success after three and a half days of arduous and wearying negotiation in which deadlock after deadlock was encountered and overcome, largely by the insistence of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, of Britain, on a definite accomplishment.

Germany is true, fails to secure wide political conditions which she at one phase flatly demanded. She was forced to drop her claim for outright elimination of the "war guilt" stigma and for a consultative pact among the European powers, in which the reparations commission was agreed to the $3,000,000,000 mark figure for the final liability.

The total of the German bond issue, which is not to be capitalized until German credit permits, is more than ninety per cent under the total of reparations annuities under the Versailles Treaty to history, these chapters being headed by the war guilt label. The suggested consultative pact is completely dropped. Instead the treaty stresses prominently the principle that the nations commence a new effort for peace on the basis of reciprocal confidence.

The Lausanne Treaty also provides for study by a committee of the reparations from non-German countries.

The financial and economic reconstruction of central and eastern Europe, where the financial conditions are even more acute than elsewhere, is the object of another clause of the treaty. It sets up a committee to study measures for submission to the European union, particularly a plan for ending the present system of control of foreign exchange.

So far as the proposed world economic conference is concerned, the treaty has this to say:

"The conference, apart from the questions already dealt with, has further undertaken to decide upon the measures necessary to solve the other economic and financial difficulties which are responsible for or may prolong the present world crisis."

The main questions of this order which demand examination are financial questions—monetary and credit policy, exchange difficulties, the level of prices, the movement of capital; the economic question—improved conditions of production and interchange with particular reference to tariff policy, prohibition and restriction of importation and exportation, quotas and other barriers of trade.

"The conference emphasizes in particular the necessity of restoring the currencies on a healthy basis and of thereby making it possible to abolish measures of exchange control and to remove transfer difficulties. Further, the Conference is impressed with the vital need of facilitating the revival of international trade."

"To achieve the above purposes the Conference decides to invite the League of Nations to convene at a convenient date and at a place to be fixed (not necessarily at Geneva) a conference on monetary and foreign questions."

The treaty then invites the governments of the United States, Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Japan and Belgium to appoint financial and economic experts to a preliminary committee along with three financial and three economic experts selected by the League, to work out the machinery of the world conference.

HEAVY DAMAGE WAS CAUSED IN CITY BY STORM

fires did not occur during the storm.

The brigade answered one alarm, when a bolt lightning struck the motor in the pump house on Prospect street. The chemical engine from station No. 1 responded to the call. The situation was not serious, although the damage was quite heavy.

Bolts of lightning were also reported to have struck several private homes in the city. In one instance on Galt street a flash of lightning tore into a house and destroyed the radio tubes.

As far as the farmers were concerned, the heavy rain did not damage their crops to any serious extent. Some hay and grain naturally suffered a little, but all considered the rain did more good than harm.

It was one of the heaviest rains ever experienced in July of any year, records at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm today disclosed. Up until seven o'clock this morning 2.13 inches of rain had fallen. At six o'clock last evening the rainfall was 1.88 inches. This, for one day, was the heaviest rainfall on record in the month of July since July 16, 1916. A record fall of 2.67 inches was recorded then. On July 9, 1928, 1.87 inches of rain fell.

FEW CHANGES RECORDED ON WALL STREET TODAY

New York, July 9.—An extremely quiet sideways movement characterized trading in today's short session of the stock market.

There were a few soft spots. American Telephone and Union Pacific sagged fractionally to new lows, and Coca Cola and Peoples Gas dropped two and four points respectively. On the other hand, the B.M.T. issues, Borden, and Norfolk and Western advanced a point or so. But most of the leaders were virtually unchanged, and the session was one of the duller of recent years.

A FEW PECULIAR FACTS TOLD ABOUT FISHWORMS

Bill Campbell, of Toronto, Has Had Sixteen Years' Experience in Raising, Collecting and Perfecting Fishworms for Trade.

Toronto, July 9.—A fishworm has most appeal when it's about six weeks old, is neither too fat nor too lean and has plenty of ambition to wriggle upon a hook. Bill Campbell, of Toronto, a connoisseur of worms, is authority for this.

Sixteen years' experience in raising, collecting and perfecting fishworms for the trade qualifies him to speak. Mr. Campbell treats each individual worm with care. He labels each specimen: "The work with a reputation."

Mysterious formula for feeding and catching worms were referred to but not disclosed by Mr. Campbell. Dried fishworms, designed to render them suitable for consumption by fish, is supplied from England.

Boasting a worm mortality of less than two per cent., Mr. Campbell says the principal is to catch the worm without bruising it. Farther than that in revealing his method he declines to go.

SEARCH FOR MISSING SHIP CONCLUDED WITH SUCCESS

Six Amateur Seamen Aboard the Ketch Curlew Sailing Safely Towards New York Today.

New York, July 9.—Six amateur seamen in the ketch Curlew sailed safely toward New York today, while the U. S. coast guard called off one of the biggest sea hunts in recent years.

The Curlew, missing since she sailed on June 25th in a race from Montauk, Long Island, toward Bermuda, was spotted last night by the coast guard patrol boat Marion, ninety-five miles southeast of Nantucket Island. She was under her own sail and her crew was safe.

Dirty weather apparently prevented the Curlew from reaching Bermuda. Twenty-five other yachts which started with her had reported bad sailing conditions. More than 100 vessels, the naval dirigible Akron and several aeroplanes had been searching for her.

The craft is owned by David Rosenstein, of New York, and her crew is composed of young New Yorkers.

So live that you won't give a darn whether other people are tolerant or not.

CONGRESS PROVIDES MONEY TO TAKE BONUS ARMY HOME

President Hoover Late Yesterday Signed Bill Appropriating One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Washington, July 9.—One hundred thousand dollars was available today to take members of the United States bonus "army" back home.

President Hoover late yesterday signed the bill appropriating the money. He had suggested that the step be taken to disperse the thousands of ex-servicemen at the Congress rushed it through Thursday.

The measure would provide the cost of transportation for each certified veteran of the World War, along with a subsistence fund of 75 cents a day.

The money would be advanced as a loan, however, to be paid back from future bonus payments.

It remained to be seen whether the men camped here would accept the offer, although extremely low food supplies indicated that many of them would.

VOTERS BECOME VOCIFEROUS.

It's the "forgotten man" who sways the elections and forces the changes which occur. A few years ago the unknown vote was called the "silent vote" which made the swing. But in the elections here, there, and everywhere, it will be the over-burdened taxpayer who will voice his anxiety in what will be called the "vociferous vote." For the free and independent electors are becoming universally public-minded, and are full of question marks.

More business in government and less government of business will be driven home. The intelligent electorate will take charge, and they will suppress the ballyhoo type, and the one-eyed partizan.

The political conscience, which is elastic, will be made to conform to the public conscience, which is idealistic.

Aroused to the danger of the pusillanimous politician who will suppress from the taxpayers the news of how a bridge which should have cost six millions will, under bad management, cost nineteen millions to construct, there will be interrogation as to how and why the gasoline company can get a coat of pure whitewash from a government committee.

The delay in ridding the country of the Canadian National Railway calamity will require to be such as to convince the aroused public who give intelligent thought to the business of government.

So dead was the thought of an aroused Public Opinion that members of Parliament and Senators have grown bolder as paid advocates of seekers after privileges, chasers of perquisites and the propagandists for contractors for railways and canals. The Lobbies of the government are filled with riotous birds of prey, the vultures who would pick the bones of the present generation with the excuse that future generations will pay the piper.

Each Vulture builds himself a gorgeous home within easy distance of the Houses of Parliament, from the portals of which he darts from time to time as he studies the money which comes from multiplying forms of taxation.

We must send men to parliament who will be strong-minded and quite able to stand firm outside the vortex of a system which has engulfed the many.

BREAKFAST AND DESSERT.

Butter and cheese and eggs—how much does the United Kingdom import?

Taking an average of four years Great Britain imported 569,448,500 pounds of butter in a year, of which only 44.6 per cent. comes from the British Dominion and 55.4 per cent. from other countries. The approximate value during these years was $240,000,000.

Canada supplied only 89,000 pounds of this butter, and yet we pride ourselves on our creamery butter.

New Zealand butter used in the United Kingdom was 1,486,000 pounds.

The United Kingdom imported during four years an average of 298,251,000 pounds of cheese, of which only 130,000,000 came from Canada, a fair percentage, but not as large as that of New Zealand. Canada used to be the chief provider of cheese to the English markets, but she has lost her premier position to New Zealand.

Britain's egg imports averaged 184,000,000 dozen, of which 24 per cent. only came from the British Dominions, and 76 per cent. from foreign countries. Canada shipped 7,800,000 dozen. Ireland and South Africa shipped more eggs to England than did Canada. Britain eats a per capita of 110 eggs a year, of which 51 per cent. are imported. The fowl census in England was estimated at 19,500,000 in 1928, and they lay half the eggs consumed in the Home Country.

Exports in all these products from Canada could be speeded up if a standard policy were adopted for a ten-year period at the Imperial Conference.

THE HOPE OF THE TIMBER TRADE.

The silent saw mills and the patiently-waiting army of mill workers in the forested areas of Quebec are idle, due to the restriction of export lumber into the United States and to the development and competition from Russia and Norway.

It was an imposition at its last session that the United States Congress increased the tariff on lumber from Canada. This was done at the behest of operators in Oregon and Washington States, where lumbering operations are heavy and expensive. Prohibitive duties were imposed.

Canada must be looked to for any large increase in the supplies of Empire softwoods to Great Britain, lumber such as spruce, white pine, red pine, jack pine, hemlock and fir. Although Canada produces mostly softwood, she possesses many varieties of hardwoods which require more skillful milling. These varieties, with illimitable areas, occur extensively in Ontario and Quebec, such as maple, birch, white elm and basswood. The first two are eminently suited to fine furniture, even though our furniture makers have deemed it right to import woods for their product. Only Canada hardwood will have value as antiques or heirlooms.

Australia possesses many varieties of hardwoods of commercial value, such as oak, jarrah and karri, and many species of the eucalyptus. They also produce Tasmanian myrtle, Queensland walnut, bean and silky oak—the latter making a fine parquet flooring.

India has undeveloped timber resources, from which country an export of a million dollars worth of timber goes each year to England.

British West Africa, the West Indies, Ceylon and Borneo supply their peculiar varieties to the United Kingdom.

The delegates from the Dominions can readily point out that in the matter of timber and woods for all purposes the Empire is self-supporting and sufficient unto itself. The Canadian delegates, securing a preferential for our softwoods and pulpwood, could do a big bit for the Eastern Townships, where we are presently lagging.

The annual average import of timber to the United Kingdom has been $225,000,000, and of this the Overseas Dominions have been sending $140,000,000, and Canada has supplied $110,000,000, or about one-half of the totals imported by Britain.

HOW TO REDUCE THE COST OF GOVERNMENT.

The suggestion of the Hon. H. H. Stevens that Canada should abolish much of the pomp and expense of parliamentary government as carried on in Canada deserves more than passing notice. Mr. Stevens said:

"I think our system of legislatures could be altered to advantage. We do not need ten parliaments in Canada. We have altogether too much parliamentary pomp and circumstance. Elected provincial councils, like municipal and county councils, but on a wider scale, would, it seems to me, do the work just as well. And a lot of political jockeying and cat-trap would be done away with. I am frank, because it is time we faced issues in this country."

We agree with the Minister of Trade and Commerce, who, because of his forthrightness, is often accused of socialism, but who is at all times practical.

We could readily retract our suggestion that the Quebec Legislative Council be allowed to pass away in the course of time, and suggest that a better proposal were that the elected assembly of sixty-five members be discontinued, and that the Council of twenty-four members govern the province. They could be elected and not appointed, and be given the same concurrent five-year period as in the Federal field.

Quebec, under the British North America Act, can extend or disband its provincial representation. For in the B. N. A. it is stated:

"In each province the Legislature may exclusively make laws in relation to the amendment from time to time, notwithstanding anything in this Act of the constitution of the province, except as regards the office of Lieutenant-Governor."

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Soft coal for use on the railway at Churchill, the terminal of the Hudson Bay Railway, costs $15 a ton. Needless to say the Government does not publish any monthly statement of receipts and expenditures. This is another Loadstone around the taxpayers' necks. This is going to be the Old Man of the Hudson Sea.

Governor Roosevelt is lame and a Republican speaker sought to warn the United States public not to select a man for President who was physically defective. In Canada we had in the Senate several members who were mentally defective in the sense of morale. Only one of them has gone. There are four others who had queer ideas about the honour and dignity of their position.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.

July 9th, 1902.

B. J. Dustin, of Stanstead, caught a maskilongue in Lake Memphremagog measuring over three feet in length and weighing 22½ pounds.

Charles M. Cotton, eldest son of Sheriff Cotton, of Sweetburg, was admitted to the Bar after passing his examination at Quebec.

Word was received by relatives of the marriage at Bedford, Mass., of Walter E. Taber, formerly of Sherbrooke, to Ada Ethel Carter, of Bedford.

At Saul Ste. Marie, Ont. Rev. Henry R. Codd, formerly of Sherbrooke and Fitch Bay, was ordained to the priesthood by Rev. Dr. Thorne, Bishop of Algoma.

Friends at Danville received word of the death at Denver, Colo., of James Mackie, aged 26 years, who had spent two years in the West for the benefit of his health.

Official announcement was made at London that owing to King Edward's steady improvement in health his coronation would take place between the 8th and 12th of August.

Lord Kitchener was accorded an ovation at Southampton on his return from South Africa, being personally welcomed by the Prince of Wales amid the cheers of an enthusiastic throng.

A shortage of potatoes was reported at the Sherbrooke Market, the price advancing to $1 a bushel. Creamery butter sold at 20 to 25 cents a pound, cheese at 14 to 15 cents, eggs at 10 to 20 cents a dozen, and hickory nuts at 6 to 9 cents a pound.

Sherbrooke's leaving town for a holiday included Rodolphe Langis to Boston; Mrs. F. L. Bean to St. Johnsbury, Vt.; Mrs. C. H. Clark to Portland, Me.; A. M. Wilcox and family and Misses Carrie and Charlotte Wilcox to Little Magog Lake.

LOONBEAMS

by Ted Bullock.

I am still hearing about that column I wrote Tuesday on the intriguing subject of Canadian cheese.

I got home Wednesday night to find one of Sherbrooke's leading grocers had sent me a pound of what he claimed to be "the real thing, old, mellow and toothsome."

He asked me to try it, and to let him know what I thought of it.

I did both.

So he wrote an advertisement for Thursday's paper, telling the world his cheese was all right, even if everybody else's wasn't.

As a matter of fact, I am obliged to confess that I made a pig of myself with the pound he sent me.

I still maintain that if our Canadian cheese makers all would turn out a product of that quality, and advertise it properly, our imports of Gorgonzola, Roquefort, Limburger, Camembert, Liederkranz, Gruyere and Stilton would drop off.

But there is no use in making a good thing unless people know about it. And how are people going to know about it if you don't advertise?

I think the Sherbrooke grocer who carries a stock of that cheese did very wisely to say so.

Now that I am on the subject of advertising, I may as well unload a few ideas which have been teasing me for years.

I have been working on the staffs of newspapers for just about as long as I like to remember, and while I have never had very much to do with advertising departments, I have absorbed a notion or two in that line in spite of myself.

It is an open secret in our business that all editorial men think they could turn out better advertising copy than the ad. men do.

I suppose all advertising men like to rewrite the things the editorial men turn out.

And I never met a human being, either inside the newspaper game or out, who is not fully convinced that all columnists are fools.

I have no use for advertisements which bully, threaten or order me around.

If a merchant commands me to go into his store for a new shirt, I cross the street and never go near him.

If a toothache manufacturer tries to scare me into using his particular brand of mush, threatening that my tooth brush will turn green or my gums will drop off unless I do, I steer clear of his product.

When a gleam-eyed blighter with curly hair leans at me out of a page and points an accusing finger in my direction, saying "YOU! Do so-and-so!" I am always tempted to thumb my nose at him and retort "Oh, yeah?"

When a radio announcer breaks into a good programme to tell me about somebody's corn plasters, I switch the dial and resolve to endure my corns until I die rather than patronize his nostrum.

I like an advertisement to be fair, accurate and honest. I want to know just exactly what the merchant has to offer. I want him to tell his message in a few words, the fewer the better. If there is a touch of humour in what he has to say, that is all to the good.

As a matter of fact, if the editor and the advertising manager will permit it, I am just about ready to make a public offer.

If any Sherbrooke merchant approves of these ideas I have spouted, let him ring me up in the Record office, and I'll write some ads for him, just to see if I can do it.

Letters to The Editor

THE SILENT SCIENTIFIC WORKERS

To the Editor.

Sir—I have just been reading over an article entitled "Canadian Black Watch V.C.'s Honored." Our late commander of the Canadian Corps in France, Sir Arthur Currie, paid a gracious tribute to their memory. He said: "We are proud of their deeds on the battlefield. We are certainly proud of all these men who won the greatest honour that our Gracious King could bestow for their bravery during the late war."

But my mind this afternoon ran to other deeds of bravery performed by men of Science. Have we ever honoured their names? They were men who unselfishly gave their lives for suffering humanity.

Had it not been for these great men we should still be under the dominant power of tuberculosis, pneumonia, diphtheria and other deadly diseases. Many memorial services could be held and plaques erected in their memory—the men who paid the Supreme Sacrifice.

St. Armand, Que., July 9.—On Saturday, July 2nd, the District of Bedford Ayrshire Breeders' Association held its annual field day at the home Mr. James Symington, near St. Armand. A good crowd was present and all enjoyed a basket lunch at noon. The afternoon's proceedings began with a judging contest for all under twenty-one years of age. A number of the contestants took great pains in trying to place in the right order the four Ayrshire cows which had been selected for the competition. The results of the contest are as follows: first, Wilfred Allen, of Foster; second, Douglas Derrick, of Abercorn, who also was successful in winning a prize in the contest at the annual field day two years ago; third, Clarence Allen, of Foster; fourth, Albert Coughtry, of West Brom.

ST. FRANCIS STREET PUMP FOOLED EVERYONE BY WORKING

"You know when that pump starts, it goes like a—" was the way one of the city officials explained the strange workings of the $3,000 automatic pump on St.
Francis street. The pump happened to be the subject of discussion because for some unknown reason yesterday it started to function.

What prompted the sudden outburst of enthusiasm on the part of the pump is hard to explain.
Strange as it may seem the street or canal, whichever one prefers to call it, was not flooded at the time, but some natural or supernatural power forced the pump into action.

In all probability the street's life saver will have plenty of legiti-mate opportunity in the future to start "working," and will have all it can do to keep the $285,000 street from disappearing into its watery bed.

HEAVY DAMAGE WAS CAUSED IN CITY BY STORM

Part of Retaining Wall at Coat-cook, Recently Built Along Waterfront of Charles Street,
Washed Away

Thousands of dollars worth of damages within the city, the partial destruction of a retaining wall in Coaticook and other losses in the Eastern Townships resulted yesterday afternoon from the severe electric storm which swept through this section of the country.

The storm was the worst to break over this district this summer. The rain fell in a torrential downpour and the lightning, flashing luridly across the dark skies, struck in several places and caused heavy damages.

The damage inflicted upon electric transformers and wires amounted to approximately a thousand dollars. But this was only a fraction of what was sustained throughout the city.

In Coaticook a hundred feet of the new cedar trestle built along the waterfront of Charles street, south of the cement bridge over the Coaticook River, was washed away. This was caused when the river, swollen by the heavy rains undermined the construction. The bridge itself, strongly built of cement, was not damaged. The heavy cedar posts of the retaining wall were swept away and men were immediately set to work to salvage what they could. At the same time that the trestle work was undermined, and the waters of the river rose, a portion of the sidewalk and road on Charles street gave way.

Men have been put to work placing guards so that there will be no additional damage.

The traffic on this route is extremely heavy at this time of the year, and it is hoped that the Government, which has taken over the maintenance of this highway, will repair the damage without delay.

In Sherbrooke, the Bell Telephone Company reported this morning that comparatively light damage had been caused by the storm. One fifty pair cable on Champlain street was struck by the lightning and damaged. Most of the trouble, however, was on the long distance cables. Several of these were grounded and short circuits occurred. A large number of telephones were out of order during the afternoon, but men were quick to get the lines and repairs completed in record time.

Lightning struck several electric transformers in the city, several of these being completely burned out.

For a few minutes at one fifteen o'clock the city was without electric lights. This resulted in a peculiar predicament for many motorists who did not know what to do when they arrived at an intersection where traffic is regulated by the signal lights. These were out of commission.

Mr. J. T. Martel, road superintendent, said today that many new paved streets were washed away by the torrential rains and that the situation was so serious on Brewster street that this particular thoroughfare had to be closed.

The cellars of many stores and homes in the downtown district, especially on Front and Depot streets, were flooded when water, in an uncontrolled stream, swept down from the upper sections of the city. Merchandise in the cellars of many establishments was destroyed and damaged—the loss amounting to hundreds of dollars.

The municipal store on Galt street, where Mr. Martel and his staff have their headquarters, was struck by lightning and one corner of the roof torn away. Had the rain not been so heavy a fire would probably have broken out and the building would have been destroyed, or if not destroyed at least seriously damaged.

Officials at the fire department regard it as fortunate that serious

THE COST OF CLEANLINESS

Cleanliness! What time and history that word covers! It begins with early and barbaric religion, and ends with present day medicine. It goes back to primitive man who combated dirt without much success, and at present stands beside sterilization and disinfection as practiced by modern medical science. As individuals we display cleanliness—or the lack of it—in our habits and our general appearance: as families it is the condition of our children and our homes; and as a race it can be distinguished in our national characteristics, and in the well being of our people.

Western civilization seems to have reached a point where most of us in order to be comfortable, must be clean. At least relatively so. When dirt abounds we are ill-at-ease and uncomfortable. Our war against dirt is really a following of the line of least resistance, for the winning of the battle brings ease, comfort and rest. But war costs money. Let's consider some of the costs of cleanliness.

Think of the thousands of dollars that are spent in this city on cleaning-up. Let's take a concrete example. The human head. To cleanse our hair we use high grade soaps of several kinds, shampoo mixtures too numerous to list, water softeners such as borax and oat meal, copious vegetable oils, curdcutting rinses, and sweet smelling perfumes. All of which lumped together require a considerable outlay in time and cash every year.

What about our eyes? To keep these sparkling we use specially prepared lotions, cleansers, and brighteners. But the fundamental use of these mixtures is not to make eyes sparkle so much as to clear the external parts from dust and all such foreign matter—in other words to keep them clean. More costly cleanliness.

No one part of the human anatomy receives the constant care and attention that we give our teeth. On a basis of area in square inches they get ten times the rubbing and scrubbing of any other part of the body.
Tooth pastes, powders, chalks, and charcoal are used by millions, while mouth washes are now considered indispensable. "Be true to your teeth," the slogan goes, "or they'll be false to you." So away we go to the druggist for another tube of tooth cleanser.

Consider the cost of complexions.
What expense we incur in keeping our skin texture intact! Methods for face cleansing abound everywhere.
We hear of one that calls for the use of soap, hot water, then ice.
Others that would as soon use carbolic acid as water. Some that suggest creams, oils, and astringents.
While others have still different medications.

We might go on, and on, and on.
Men to be clean, must shave. Think of the razors, blades, soaps, creams, lotions, powders, etc., used there.
Women must care for their hands, their finger nails. Baths require bath sals, sponges and sinker soaps, cloths, towels, and powder.

Stop for a minute. What is the most costly room in the average home? Isn't it the bath room?

One point is quite striking when we look into personal, home and city sanitation. Home sanitation really costs much less, personal cleanliness much more, and city cleanliness and sanitation just about what you would expect.

Cleanliness in the home—is down in cost. That is encouraging. It's the result of years of experiment by industrial engineers in the ways and means of making household science less costly, more efficient, and more pleasant. Modern science now offers the home new and easy ways to cleanliness. There are Electric Washers and Wringers that handle the washing and wringing in an hour, at a negligible cost, where formerly it took the better part of a day to do this work. Automatic electric ironers that complete the clothes cleaning process in a third of the time it would take to do it by hand, and with such ease that the operator has practically nothing to do. Electric Vacuum Cleaners with their attachments now clean rugs and carpets, drapes and portieres, chesterfields and mattresses, to a degree of perfection that was never reached heretofore. And finally Electric Floor Polishers and Waxers now speed over hard wood floors and linoleums, at a cost that is so low that you can hardly notice it on your meter.

Moreover all four of these Household Appliances can be purchased at a price so low that you hardly believe it possible. Their original cost and maintenance spread over a period of 10 years for a family of five figures out to about 50c a month.
Can you imagine it? Household cleanliness at the price of a tube of tooth paste.

It's a great old battle this war on dirt—and we're winning. For Cleanliness is Decency is Civilization, and Civilization is Progress. And Progress marches forward ever.

Appliances on display at the Beatty Washer Store, 72 King Street West.

HATLEY HELD DOMINION DAY CELEBRATION

Large Number Took Part in Varied Programme Presented by Hatley Organizations—News Items and Personals from Vicinity.

Hatley, Que., July 9.—Cloudy and cool, Dominion Day presented a striking contrast to the sultry heat of July 1st, 1931. With preparations complete at an early hour, promptly at 10:30 the stirring strains of the Cookshire Brass Band announced that the Dominion Day programme had begun. The parade with ex-Mayor G. C. Poole upon his fit-black mount as leader, was closely followed by the band of musicians, the Boy Scouts, together with the car, decorated in mauve and white, driven by Scoutmaster Rev. W. W. Smith; the J. S. Webster car, properly adorned with pink and white, driven by Miss Mildred Webster; that of Mr. Luke Colt, of Massville, with a long following ranging in all, from the sublime to the ridiculous.

After passing along Main street, a halt was made at the Public Square where dinner was served beneath the shelter, and shade of the new complete at an early hour, promptly at 10:30 the stirring strains of the Cookshire Brass Band announced that the Dominion Day programme had begun. The parade with ex-Mayor G. C. Poole upon his fit-black mount as leader, was closely followed by the band of musicians, the Boy Scouts, together with the car, decorated in mauve and white, driven by Scoutmaster Rev. W. W. Smith; the J. S. Webster car, properly adorned with pink and white, driven by Miss Mildred Webster; that of Mr. Luke Colt, of Massville, with a long following ranging in all, from the sublime to the ridiculous.

The afternoon was devoted to games and sports completed by a baseball game in which the Hatley nine again defeated their opponents, a picked team from Verdun, Clif and vicinity, by eight to seven. The few drops of rain, which, throughout the day, had been struggling for supremacy, kept in abeyance till the close when a heavy down-pour, with thunder, and lightning held sway for a time.

It did not affect in the least the dancing assembly which followed in the evening under the auspices of the Women's Institute, when nearly a hundred couples "tripped the light fantastic" to the music of Sloggett's Orchestra. The proceeds of the day will, as in former years, be equally divided between the Anglican and United Churches as were their labors, while the proceeds of the evening will swell the treasury of the Women's Institute.

Mr. Hugh MacClary, who was expected to act as marshal upon occasion of the parade, was unable to do so on Wednesday afternoon when his left ankle was so badly injured, that he was unable to proceed with this office, and is now upon crutches.

HEARING ELSIE'S SWEET VOICE OVER THE RADIO, UNCLE EVERETT QUICKLY SPED TO THE AIR-PORT AT PRAIRIE JUNCTION, BOARDED HIS PRIVATE PLANE AND IN RECORD TIME COVERED THE 1800 MILES TO THE STUDIOS OF THE DISTANT BROADCASTING STATION!

ELSIE WAS NOT AT THE STUDIO! HER ENGAGEMENT THERE HAD JUST ENDED, BUT THE RADIO OFFICIALS GAVE EVERETT HER ADDRESS --- AND WE SEE HIM FRANTICALLY RINGING HER DOOR-BELL ---

I'VE LOCATED ELSIE AT LAST! MY ELSIE! I'M THE HAPPIEST MAN IN THE WORLD! I CAN HARDLY WAIT TO SEE HER--- TO CLASP HER IN MY ARMS--- OH, WHY DON'T THEY HURRY AND ANSWER THE DOOR?

FORGIVE ME FOR NOT ANSWERING SOONER! I WAS TALKING ON THE PHONE!

I WANT TO SPEAK TO MRS. EVERETT J. CHUCKLE! ELSIE--- MY WIFE! QUICK! WHERE IS SHE? I MUST SEE HER!

THERE'S NO ONE HERE BY THAT NAME, SIR!

SHE MUST BE HERE! THE STUDIO OFFICIALS GAVE ME THIS ADDRESS! I HEARD HER VOICE OVER THE RADIO AND I'VE COME FOR HER!

MAYBE SHE WENT BY ANOTHER NAME! I'M HER HUSBAND, EVERETT J. CHUCKLE!

YOU'RE MR. CHUCKLE, THE FAMOUS FINANCIER? THIS IS A PLEASURE, SIR! WHY, THERE WAS A LADY ROOMING HERE WHO SANG OVER THE RADIO! SHE'S RATHER STOUT AND HAS GOLDEN-HAIR STREAKED WITH GRAY, AND BLUE EYES! I JUST LOVED HER!

I DON'T BLAME YOU FOR LOVING HER, MR. CHUCKLE! SHE'S SO SWEET, SO KIND, SO UNSELFISH!

DID ELSIE EVER TALK ABOUT ME?

SHE NEVER MENTIONED YOU BY NAME, SIR, BUT SHE OFTEN TOLD ME THAT SHE LEFT THE MAN SHE LOVES MORE THAN ANYTHING IN THIS WORLD TO SAVE HIS GOOD NAME FROM DISGRACE AT THE HANDS OF HER BROTHER! HER EYES WERE USUALLY RED FROM CRYING!

THERE HE GOES--- POOR MR. CHUCKLE! HE'S DONE SO MANY GOOD DEEDS IN THIS WORLD! HE'S LENT A HELPING HAND TO THOUSANDS OF UNFORTUNATES! HE'S USED HIS WEALTH TO BRING SUNSHINE AND HAPPINESS INTO SO MANY LIVES--- IT DOESN'T SEEM FAIR THAT HE SHOULD BE SO UNHAPPY HIMSELF!

FOR YOU W'D DO ANYTHING, MR. CHUCKLE, BUT IT'S ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO FIND OUT ON WHICH TRAIN YOUR WIFE LEFT THE CITY, BUT WE'LL DO OUR BEST! TRAINS LEAVE OUR STATION EVERY TWO MINUTES, SIR! AND BESIDES--- SHE MIGHT HAVE LEFT BY PLANE OR AUTOMOBILE!

THE RADIO STATION IS BUT A FEW BLOCKS FROM THE HOUSE WHERE ELSIE ROOMED AND EVERETT WALKS BACK AND FORTH BETWEEN THEM, HIS ONE CONSOLATION BEING THAT HE TREADS THE SAME SIDEWALKS ON WHICH HIS ELSIE WALKED SO FEW HOURS BEFORE!

WHAT WILL I DO NOW---? LET ME THINK---THINK--- I MUST FIND HER--- I WILL FIND HER---

THAT WAS UNCLE EVERETT PHONING LONG-DISTANCE, TOOTS! HIS VOICE CRACKED AS HE TOLD ME THAT HE DIDN'T FIND ELSIE!

General Notes

Friends in this community were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. (Major) R. J. Hewton. Since the death of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. E. Howe, Mrs. Hewton had been a less frequent visitor to Hatley, where she spent the years of girlhood.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. A. W. Seaton, the Sunday, July 3, hour at the United Church was filled by a story and song service, "Lost—A Coin and a Boy."

A recital was given, consisting of the numbers, "Wait Patiently for Him" and "He Shall Give Thee Thy Heart's Desire," in "In Heavenly Love Abiding," "Hail, King of Glory" and "Mary's Slumber Song." Proceeded by the doxology, hymn, Lord's Prayer and Scripture reading by Mrs. Pellerin, the story opened by the singing of "The Seeking God," (Meredith), by an augmented choir, Mr. F. O. Webster, who filled the office of reader, followed with a short foreword, interrupted by the duet and chorus, "Jesus, the Shepherd." The story was again followed by a quartette, "The Open Door," the recital was succeeded at intervals by the appropriate selections, "He Died Searching," "Too Late, Too Late," "A Message," "Sweet and Tender," "Healer Divine" and "With the Dreamer Comes True." With the closing hymn and benediction, an impressive service was concluded.

Rev. A. F. G. Nichol, of St. Barnabas' Church, Lake Megantic, has been a recent visitor at his attractive country residence, "Crosshill Farm."

Mrs. A. W. Pettie, Miss Margaret McFarlane and Miss Irene Corey, of Knowlton, were tea hour guests on Dominion Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Glidden at "Brooklawn."

Before marriage Mrs. Pettie was well known here as Miss Mary Curtis, second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. Baxter Curtis who, for a number of years were proprietors of the Hatley House, which was destroyed by fire in July, 1929. Miss MacFarlane was also a welcome visitor in Hatley, where she passed two busy years at the parsonage with her brother, Rev. D. H. McFarlane, now pastor of St. Paul's, Knowlton.

Miss Florence Warren, of Rock Island, who, with her mother, Mrs. Warren, is spending a short holiday upon the shores of Lake Massawippi, was calling on Monday evening, July 4, upon the Misses Bessie and Hazel Emery, at "Woodside." For several months, Mrs. Warren and her daughter resided at "The Willows," the country home of Mr. J. R. Wells.

A successful dance was held in the Municipal Hall on July 1, under the auspices of the Women's Institute. The hall was very attractively decorated for the occasion by Miss M. Cox.

The village council held their July session on Monday evening, July 1, in Municipal Hall, with the usual discussion of affairs of public interest, tending to the welfare of the community.

Councillors F. W. Pope and J. R. Wells were in their places as usual on Monday, July 4th, in the council chamber at Massawippi where, with other members, they considered the highest and best interests of their constituents throughout the division of "the much-divided town, known as West Hatley."

The Scouts from Waterville captured many prizes at the Dominion Day celebration here. The boys' races finished keen competition and amusement. The pole boxing was a new event. The tug-of-war between the troops of Waterville and Hatley, was, however, the event par excellence. The honors for this went to Waterville. The baseball game between Ayer's Cliff and Hatley was perhaps the best seen in this district this season. The final score found Hatley victorious by one run. Batteries were: Ayer's Cliff, Rexford and Whipple, and for Hatley, Gammell and Little. Mr. F. Sutton was umpire at the plate.

Brilliant with many lovely garden flowers, the Sherbrooke Country Club presented a festive appearance last evening when the second dance of the summer series attracted the eager lovers of this pleasant pastime. Guests from out-of-town mingled with the dancers, who in spite of the rather disappointing climatic conditions, merrily enjoyed the evening, secure in the spacious and comfortable club house.

Mr. E. D. Metcalfe was the raison d'être for a delightful social gathering yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. P. A. Hammond entertained in her honor the members of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church at her home on Portland avenue.

Mr. Metcalfe, an officer and highly esteemed member of the Aid, is leaving Sherbrooke next month to reside in Montreal, and her co-workers in St. Andrew's, wishing to express in a tangible manner their appreciation of her valuable services and regret at her departure, met yesterday in her home. Mrs. McDonald, the senior member, was asked to make the presentation of a lovely hand bag, on behalf of the members of the Aid.

Prefacing her remarks by referring to her long association with St. Andrew's Church, Mrs. McDonald, who has been a member for sixty-two years, voiced the sentiments of the guests to Mrs. Cathcart in a very feeling manner, concluding her remarks with the following most appropriate motto: "Yesterday's With Us."

With memories' magic art I make time tread its way, Down high ways of the heart To each fair yesterday, And that is why I pray Old times may be made new, For I would trade to-day For yesterdays with you.

Later afternoon tea and delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Hammond, who was assisted in her duties as hostess by Mrs. J. Fraser and Mrs. G. Platt. The president of the Aid, Mrs. O. H. Parker, and Mrs. A. W. Cleveland presided at the card table, which was artistically done with delphinium and pink roses. The pleasant social event was very much enjoyed by all the members, although tinged with regret at the coming departure of Mrs. Cathcart, to whom each and every one extended warmest wishes for happiness in her future home.

The Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met at the home of Miss Dorothy MacDonald on Wednesday, June 22, when they presented Miss Elma Willson with a beautiful white gold signet ring as a token of appreciation of her assistance with their work, during her stay in town, Miss Dorothy MacDonald, a past president of the Society, presenting her with the gift. TEAM CHANGES PROVE COSTLY TO CARDINALS

Absence of Hafey, Grimes and Rhem Demoralizing World Champion St. Louis Squad—Pittsburgh Triumphed Over Giants

New York, July 9.—Branch Rickey, straw boss of the Cardinals, undoubtedly assured the National League a swell race, both artistically and financially, when he began tossing parts from his championship machine here and there a few months ago, but it now looks as if he might have tossed not wisely but too well. The Cardinals, bereft of such stars as Hafey, Grimes and Rhem, never have figured in the current race, and it is extremely doubtful if they will. Seven times the Red Birds have managed to reach the .500 mark, but each time they have fallen back. Bill Hallahan alone of the pitching staff, has done consistently good work, and the club is lacking the punch that kept it at the top the last two years.

The champs almost suffered the crowning ignominy yesterday when Bob Brown, Boston's crack rookie, set them down by six to one on four hits. They averted a shutout only when Jimmy Wilson singled Collins across after two were out in the ninth inning. Dizzy Dean gave Brown a tussle for seven innings, yielding only four hits in that time and getting the team's only safety, but the Braves had a big time with his successor, Paul Derringer.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who resemble more closely every day the team that will have to be beaten in the National League, put over a run in the ninth frame to defeat the Giants by eight to seven and make it four out of five for the series.

Bob Smith, making his first start in five weeks, pitched Chicago to a six to four triumph over the Phillies. The Phils bunched their five errors in one inning, the third, to give the Cubs three runs.

Between their opponents' five errors and Hack Wilson's lusty hitting, the Brooklyn handed Cincinnati a fifteen to five trimming. Wilson's three hits drove across four runs.

Earl Combs' home run with two aboard gave the Yankees a three to two decision over Detroit and knocked the Bengals into third place in the American League. Ruffing led the Tigers down with six hits, three of them in the last inning, and struck out ten men.

Connie Mack, who still thinks his Athletics will be on top when September rolls around, had his confidence strengthened by a pair of victories over Chicago by six to four and eleven to two. The A's thus took over second place, six and a half games back of the Yanks. Jimmy Foxx clouted his thirtieth homer in the first tilt.

Although hit hard, Wes Ferrell struck it out to turn in his sixteenth victory as Cleveland beat Washington again by six to five. Joe Vosmik's single in the eighth beat with the bases loaded did the trick. Ed Gallagher, former Boston College star, made his major league debut with the Boston Red Sox and was given a rousing reception by St. Louis. Before he could be gotten out of there in the second inning and saved for another day, the Browns had scored five runs and were on their way to an eight to four victory.

MARATHON RACE AROUSING VERY KEEN INTEREST

Present Indications Point to a Large Entry for Five-Mile Marathon Exhibition Week—Application Forms Issued Today

Although the date of the feature sporting event for this year's Sherbrooke Exhibition is still nearly two months distant, interest in the forthcoming event has attained a high degree and from present indications will over fifty contestants will face the starter's gun. While the various committees are continuing their respective tasks towards making the 1932 edition of Canada's Great Eastern Exhibition one of the most successful in the colorful history of the Eastern Townships Association, the sports programme is not being neglected and, according to present plans, Friday, September 2nd, will be a red letter day in the annals of local amateur sport.

Friday's entire programme will be devoted to sport, and will be in the nature of a field and track meet. Races and field events of every description and category are being carried wherein the athletes of this section of the province will be afforded an opportunity of displaying their prowess. Worthwhile prizes will sweeten the efforts of the successful competitors in the various classes, while the event has been arranged in order to give the spectators continuous entertainment.

The feature event of Friday's programme will be the five-mile marathon sponsored by the president and directors of the Association to which the Sherbrooke Daily Record is according tangible support and co-operation. Three valuable prizes, donated by Alfred Wood, president and editor of the Record, have been offered as the principal attractions for the long jaunt. To the winner will be awarded a silver tea service worth $125, the runner-up will receive a similar service valued at fifty dollars, while a third tea service worth twenty-five dollars, will reward the runner who places third.

There are no strings or obligations attached to this race. Any amateur residing in the eleven counties of the Eastern Townships is eligible on the condition that he can provide proof of his simon-pure status. On the entry forms, one of which appears on this page today, are included blanks where two friends may affix their signature as a bond for the applicant's amateur standing. Beyond this consideration, there is no other restriction. No entrance fee will be assessed, although it is expected that each entrant will pay the entry charge at the Exhibition gate.

Prospective Paavo Nurmis and Johnny Miles have already started training for the long grind to be in perfect shape for the crack of the gun. Through the Townships similar races have been run on Dominion Day and other celebrations, and many winners have expressed their intention of pitting their skill and ability against the cream of the eleven counties. As previously announced, the race will be held over the Exhibition race track, ten times around the oval constituting the distance. The race will be started at seven o'clock in the evening to give everyone a chance of participating. This time has been selected for a second reason, to escape the afternoon heat, and give every runner the same chance.

After filling in the entry blanks, the competitors are requested to mail them to the Sporting Editor, Sherbrooke Record, 69 Wellington street north. Applications will close a short time before the race in order to make final provisions for the race.

From the hands of their donor, the prizes will be distributed immediately following the classic.

MASSACHUSETTS YACHTSMEN TOOK HONORS

Yarmouth, N.S., July 9.—Massachusetts yachtsmen again claimed the Junior international championship yesterday when Dwight Fullerton and Thomas Walker, of Beverly Yacht Club, Marion, drove their Acadia class sloop over the line first in three straight races to defeat the Corinthian Yacht Club of Marblehead, Mass., and win the Prince of Wales' Trophy. Representatives of the Plover Yacht Club, last year, were eliminated in the semi-finals, along with crews

WATROUS LEADS PACK IN GOLF TITLE CHASE

Is Closely Followed by Harry Cooper, Walter Hagen and a Score of the Continent's Greatest Tournament Players.

Ottawa Hunt Club, July 9.—A tightly bunched field of seventy-seven crack golfers entered the thirty-six hole grind in the Canadian open tournament here today. Al Watrous, tall, flashy stylist from Birmingham, Mich., led the pack at the halfway mark yesterday, but close at his heels came "Light-horse" Harry Cooper, Walter Hagen, of Detroit, defending titlist, and a score of the continent's greatest money players.

Forty-eight Canadians, twenty-seven Americans, one Japanese and one Argentine focused their eyes on the gold and glory awaiting the winner at the end of today's thirty-six hole round.

The Hunt Club course was bathed in brilliant sunshine when the first pair teed off early this morning. An all-night rain had made greens and fairways heavy, and a special rule was posted, enabling a ball to be cleaned on a green.

Battling a tricky wind but escaping heavy rain that dashed the hopes of many late starters, Watrous yesterday carded a seventy-three under par and the best score of the day. It gave him a thirty-six hole total of 142, to lead Harry Cooper by two strokes. Walter Hagen, as debutant as ever, grossed 145. Then came four United States pros with 146's—Leo Diegel, searching for a fifth Canadian title; Olm Dutra, Los Angeles; MacDonal Smith, Great Neck, L.I., and Tom Merrigan, Mount Vernon, N.Y.

Andy Kay, first-ranking Canadian, was perched with four others on the 147 rung—Mortie Dutra, second; Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del.; Wifly Cox, Brooklyn, N.Y., and Horton Smith, the "Joplin Ghost."

George Von Elm, Detroit "businessman golfer," fell to sixth place yesterday, tied with Wally Smithers, of Ottawa, when Old Man Trouble camped on his trail and he added seventy-eight to his first-round total of seventy.

Thirteen players were bunched within six strokes of Watrous, any one of them a threat to his leadership over the long, long trail of thirty-six holes today.

Ross "Sandy" Somerville, Canadian champion from London, Ont., clipped two strokes off par yesterday when he posted the second best score of the day—seventy-one. It was equalled only by Tomekichi Miyacoto, little Japanese poker face, whose previous eighty pulled him considerably down the list, and by Lex Robson, Toronto, Canadian P.G.A. titlist. Somerville, with 150, led the amateur division, followed by a clubmate, Jack Nash, and E. A. Innes, Montreal, tied with Hagen—still attracting the gallery—slipped back to his old-time difficulty, poor putting. Von Elm was off his game. Harry Cooper got few good breaks. Diegel, the Dutra brothers, Mac Smith, Kerrigan, Dudley, Cox and Horton Smith played steady golf, some of them slopping through the rain for over half the distance.

Lowering skies greeted the first pair to tee off in the morning and rain blew up early in the afternoon. Fairways became mucky and greens slow. Slickers and umbrellas dotted the gallery of 5,000 people. Late starters faced the handicap of a heavy course.

The field of 105 that played the first eighteen holes on Thursday was cut to seventy-seven last night—all those within twenty strokes of the leader.

from Halifax and Yarmouth. A Saint John crew lost out in the first division.

The Lakeside Yacht Club crew of Yarmouth placed Canada in the winning list by taking a consolation race from a field of four other yachts yesterday, for which they were given the trophy donated by Commodore H. H. Raymond, of Lakeside.

CAPT. HOULDEN AGAIN LED IN BISLEY SHOOT

Sherbrooke Regiment Officer Tied for First Place in The Times Silver Trophy Competition.

Bisley Camp, England, July 9.—Along with several other crack military marksmen, five members of the Canadian Bisley team today scored forty-nine out of a possible fifty in the Times Silver Trophy service rifle shoot as the great Empire meeting of the National Rifle Association reached the half-way mark and the important matches got under way.

Lieut. Desmond Burke, of Ottawa, winner of the classic King's Prize eight years ago, was one of the leading Canadians with a forty-nine at the 200 yard distance of the Times, the others being: E. Evans, of Esquimaux, B.C., Captain J. W. Houlden, of Sherbrooke, Que., Serg. F. V. Shepherd, of Ottawa, and Lieut. Lucas, of Toronto.

Captain R. Kerr, of Toronto, had 48; Lieut. J. T. Downey, of Saint John, 47; Corporal G. A. Herring, of Ottawa, 47; Lieut. G. Matchett, of Hamilton, 47; Company Sergt-Major H. Rusk, of Ottawa, 46; and the veteran C.S.M. Emslie, of Toronto, 45.

A clearing sky, with the sun shining later in the day, high temperature and a slight wind aided the thousands of marksmen in their quest of trophies today, which was Bisley's "Newspaper Shoot Day." After the Times came the shoots for the N.R.A. Journal, Daily Mail, Stock Exchange and Duke of Cambridge trophies, the Times and the Mail attracting entries of nearly 1,200.

Major Fred Richardson, of Toronto, former winner of Canada's own "King's prize"—the Governor-General's match at the Connaught Ranges, Ottawa—was the first of the Canadians to gain a first place, Major Richardson, who is one of the oldest competitors ever shooting at Bisley, showed that he still has a keen eye and unerring control as he scored highest possible, fifty, in the Donegal Challenge Cup match yesterday and in the shoot-off with other Empire marksmen who had the same perfect score annexed first place in the "qualifier." Only the fact that he did not possess one of the N.R.A.'s Donegal bronze badges prevented him from carrying off the challenge cup itself.

The Canadians kept up the good work in the later shoots. Lieut. G. A. McLeary, of Winnipeg, scoring highest possible of fifty in the Duke of Cambridge match, calling for ten shots with service rifles at the long range of 900 yards. Quartermaster-Sergt. H. W. Burton, of Calgary, had forty-eight in this match.

MAJOR RICHARDSON WON QUALIFIER

Bisley Camp, July 9.—Canadians again acquitted themselves well in the great Empire meeting of the National Rifle Association and flashed into the winning column of the Donegal Trophy shoot. Major F. Richardson, of Victoria, scored highest possible, 50, shooting in the Donegal service rifle match and in the shoot-off with several other crack marksmen who had perfect figures won the "qualifier." Not holding one of the N.R.A.'s Donegal bronze badges, he was not eligible to shoot for the Donegal Challenge Cup itself. The "qualifier" netted him a small money award.

Lieut. G. E. Matchett, of Hamilton, Ont., placed third in the qualifier with a good 49. The match was at 200 yards and was shot under fine weather conditions.

The Connaught Doyle challenge statuette service rifle match, second feature of the day, was fired at 200 and 500 yards, with the veteran Sergeant Alex Parnell, of Verdun, Que., led the Canadian Bisley team with a total of 67 out of a possible 70.

The 69th annual meeting of the National Rifle Association opened last Monday, but the Connaught Doyle and Donegal Challenge shoots yesterday were the first of the big competitions. Marksmen will be busy now until the final stage of the great King's Prize is fired on the final day, July 16.

The Canadian scoring in the Connaught Doyle match was as follows:

WELL DRESSED GOLFERS HAVE CHANGED STYLE

Plus Fours Are Going the Way of Eugenie Hats and Wood-Shafted Drivers, They Are Becoming Conspicuous by Their Absence.

Ottawa Hunt Club, July 9.—Plus fours have gone the way of Eugenie hats and wood-shafted drivers. In the field of 105 golfers competing for the Canadian open crown, not more than a dozen are wearing the knee-length pantaloons that reveal men's legs in their slim shapelessness.

Flannels, whites, grey and browns are the order of the day. White flannels with fine green or brown stripes are affected by many United States "pros." Johnny Farrell, bearded and grey slacks and Walter Hagen, whose sartorial elegance is exceeded only by his golfing ability, selected dove-grey slacks.

They may be unanimously on the subject of flannels but there is a wide choice in sweaters. Every hue in the rainbow is represented among the field. Blues, yellows, browns, greys—name the color and it's there somewhere.

Shepherd, of Ottawa, with 46; C. S.M. Rusk, of Ottawa, 45; Lieut. Lucas, of Toronto, 44, and Houlden, 43.

MISS KIRKHAM RETAINS GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Hard-Hitting Forest Hills Player Showed Spectacular Golf to Vanquish Youthful Challenger, Miss Doris Taylor, Kanawaki, by 5 and 3 in Provincial Final.

Montreal, July 9.—To meet the provincial ladies' golf monarch in sensational form was the fate of youthful Doris Taylor, of Kanawaki, yesterday afternoon, and the outcome is that the coveted crown again graces the brow of last year's title-holder, Miss Margery Kirkham, Forest Hills star and former Canadian closed golf champion. Culminating a spectacular week's play, Miss Kirkham staged an exhibition in the final over the Ilesmere Golf Club course which one of the coming stars in Canadian golf could not equal. It was a keenly-fought match which ended on the fifteenth green with the defending champion holding a five and three margin.

Using her wealth of experience to overcome the hazards of the course, Miss Kirkham hit truly from the tee and putted consistently to upset the young challenger, whose brilliant play in the early rounds had been of such high calibre as to concede her an opportunity of giving Miss Kirkham a determined fight. The champion was her opponent's master in almost every department of the game. Although there was little to choose between them from the tee and both laid their second shots splendidly, Miss Kirkham's short game was more near perfect and on the greens she putted with almost uniform accuracy.

The title-holder's superiority was manifest as early as the first hole when Miss Taylor took three putts. After halving the second hole, Miss Taylor dropped the third and fourth to give Miss Kirkham a three-hole margin. The next three were halved before Miss Taylor staged her sole comeback by taking the eighth and ninth to cut the champion's lead to one-up.

Trouble stalked the challenger after this and she failed to win another hole. The hard-hitting Forest Hills representative took the tenth and eleventh, while the next two were halved. Miss Kirkham captured the fourteenth to become dormie four and ended the match with a brilliant birdie four on the 33rd and fifteenth. The scores were:
