POSSIBILITY OF UNITED STATES AND ITALY ENTERING CONFLICT NOW COMMANDS UNIVERSAL ATTENTION

Firm Tenor Of American Note To Germany Favourably Commented Upon And Answer Is Anxiously Awaited—Italian Situation Is Badly Confused But Participation In War Looked For—French Gain Important Position And Momentous Battle Being Fought—Russians Preparing Another Offensive

London, May 14.—The American note to Germany and the new turn which the Italian situation has taken by reason of the resignation of Premier Salandra and his cabinet are the features of today's war news.

The firm attitude which the American government has taken with regard to Germany's submarine action against her ships and citizens meets with general approval here and the question now is "not what the United States will do," but "what will Germany's answer be?" It is believed in high official circles here that Germany will not agree to reserve her submarine blockade policy and the conclusion is drawn that the United States will be compelled to sever diplomatic relations with her. The hope is everywhere expressed that the United States will not be drawn into war as it is considered by observers of the situation that she is of greater assistance to the Allies as a neutral than she would be as a belligerent.

The Italian situation is badly confused. The resignation of Premier Salandra's cabinet, it is believed, must delay Italy's action with regard to the war, and it is thought that nothing in this respect will be decided upon until the Chamber of Deputies meets next week, unless in the meantime King Victor Emmanuel induces the government to retain office, which step the Premier might take as assurance of the peoples confidence in his policy.

Meantime the belligerents on both the east and west battle fronts are engaged in most momentous battles. The French, who already have gained possession of the north of Paris are reported to be continuing their victorious advance, while the British are asserted to be holding a large force of Germans in their front and repulsing all German attempts to reach Ypres, which has proved the graveyard of so many thousands of men since the opposing lines were established there last autumn.

The Germans claim to have made a slight advance, but with the battle ebbing and flowing this is not considered serious in military circles here. Along toward the coast the Belgian army has repulsed an attempt of the Germans to regain the bridgehead which the forces of King Albert established on the right bank of the Yser canal, while down in the Woevre another French army is pushing its offensive and claims to have gained possession of the whole of the forest of Le Pretre, which would be a step nearer in the Allies' aim to force the Germans to evacuate St. Mihiel.

The Austro-Germans after their lightning-like rush through western Galicia have now reached a line running due north and south to the west of Prezemysl, while the other armies, emerging from the Carpathians, are pressing the Russian flank. Even up in Poland it is asserted that the victory of the Teutonic allies in the south has had the effect of forcing the Russians to fall back.

Petrograd, however, continues to take the situation calmly, and, although admitting that the Russian army has been forced back by overwhelming numbers and has lost heavily in the retirement, says the Russians are now concentrating on a new line and preparing for another big battle.

Until this battle is decided the British military critics are withholding their comment. It is pointed out by some of them, however, that more than once the Russians have been driven back but that they always recovered and made the victors regret their penetration into Russian territory.

Down in south-eastern Galicia and in Bukowina, according to Russian accounts, the Austrian army, which here has not the assistance of the Germans, is in full retreat and being harried by Russian cavalry. The Russians also claim to have obtained the advantage over the German raiders in the Baltic province of Courland and to have taken a thousand prisoners near Shavli.

There are no official reports from the Dardanelles, but unofficial news is to the effect that the Allies are slowly advancing, despite the obstinate resistance of the Turks against the heights commanding Krithia, on the one hand, and Killid Bahr and Maidos, on the other.

GREAT SHORTAGE OF COAL IN SPAIN

SPANISH GOVERNMENT PLANS OPENING LARGE CREDIT IN UNITED STATES.

Madrid, May 14.—The Spanish government is so much concerned over the scarcity of coal that the cabinet is willing to guarantee the payment of orders placed in the United States by opening a credit in New York to the amount of at least 1,000,000 pesetas ($200,000). This deposit will be maintained so long as necessary.

The object of the government is specially to enable smaller concerns, those lesser known in the financial world, to have their American orders filled promptly. The cash thus deposited is to be used only in the event of purchasers failing to pay.

Something like a coal famine exists throughout Spain and large orders are being placed in the United States by Spanish companies.

A royal decree promulgated today suspends the important duties on coal and the transport taxes which were discriminatory against America.

Joseph E. Willard, the American Ambassador to Spain, and C. William A. Vediz, the commercial attaché of the American Embassies at Madrid and Paris, had an audience today with King Alfonso concerning transport duties. They convinced His Majesty that it was unjust to tax English coals the equivalent of 10 cents a ton transport duties, and American coal 40 cents a ton. The King, with the approval of the cabinet, thereupon suspended all charges on coal imports.

The British government has prohibited beginning yesterday the export of coal and coke. Spain cannot get them from Germany, hence she must turn toward the United States for coal. Last year Spain imported about 3,000,000 tons of coal.

English coal which sold at 70 pesetas ($14) a ton at the outbreak of war now brings 100 pesetas ($20) a ton. Spanish coal which sold at $7 a ton wholesale now brings more than double that price.

Victoria, B.C., May 14.—Hon. W. H. Ross, Minister of Lands, announced that the British Admiralty is about to place an order with British Columbia timber mills for 10,000,000 feet of lumber, to the value of approximately $100,000.

Toronto, May 14.—Word has just come from Mr. A. C. Hardy of Brockville, of a donation of $40,000 towards the university base hospital. Mr. Hardy wishes that his gift shall be used for the maintenance of the university base hospital throughout the war.

ROSS RIFLE FACTORY

"Munitions, more munitions, always munitions." That is the cry which comes to us with recurrent and piercing insistence from the battlefields of Flanders, from the blood-soaked passes of the Garpathians and the plains of Galicia.

Without adequate munitions the great drive in the west cannot go on. Without them the victory of Neuve Chapelle cannot be repeated. If there has been a delay it is because the supplying of munitions has not kept pace with the enrolment of men. When the Allies start their real offensive, they want to be able to smash through without let or hindrance. Before the infantry advance to take the positions, the artillery must pave the way, and, when the infantry do advance, they want their bandoliers packed with cartridges.

Why are the Allies trying to crack that hard nut, the Dardanelles. For one thing, they want to release Russia's volume of grain. For another, it is notorious that the Russian advance has been handicapped because the Muscovite armies were short of rifles and ammunition and the allies hope, by forcing the Dardanelles, to replenish the equipment of the Czar's forces.

Those of us who have been following the Old Country despatches are well aware of Kitchener's demand for more munitions, of the outcry that has been raised because intemperance has proved a disturbing factor in their production. We, therefore, realize to the full what it means to the allied armies to have sufficient supplies of this nature.

Now, if we take the case of our own home city, we cannot fail to recognize the invaluable services which are being rendered to the French and British armies by the Ross Rifle factory.

Had it not been for the camp at Valcartier and the Ross Rifle Factory, the pinch of war would have been felt here far more seriously. Hundreds of men who would have been unemployed otherwise must today thank the Ross Rifle for employment.

If the factory is allowed to follow out its mapped programme it will continue to be a benefit for Quebec since, if all goes well, it will continue to support some 1,600 men and their families.

RESPONSIBILITY OF MAJOR MCCUAIG MEMBERS OF THE GERMAN GOVT., PRISONER OF WAR

REPORTED AS "WOUNDED AND MISSING, HE IS LOCATED IN GERMAN HOSPITAL. BRITISH PEOPLE DEMAND MEMBERS PERSONALLY BE PROCLAIMED GUILTY.

London, May 14.—The riots which occurred earlier in the week have given place to condemnation by public men of the German Emperor and his advisers who are charged with the responsibility for the actions which have aroused public anger. The demand is made that the British government publicly proclaim the personal responsibility of members of the German government for "the outrages perpetrated by German officers or their agents during the present war."

A resolution in this sense was moved at a public meeting in Chelsea tonight by Lord Charles Beresford and was seconded by Lord Robert Cecil. It was unanimously passed.

Lord Beresford urged that all German property in the British Empire be confiscated and that all rich Germans, whether naturalized or not, be interned until British prisoners in Germany are treated as honorable prisoners of war. Lord Cecil said he told that Emperor William did not approve of what had been done, but had been old that Emperor William did not approve of what had been done, but the speaker declared that if the German Emperor disapproved and allowed these things to go on he was ten times more guilty "and must be punished; this must be one condition of any peace.

Lewis Harcourt, British Secretary of State for the Colonies, speaking at a meeting on the water front tonight said that Germany "stood at the bar of the world a naked and unashamed monster, simulating humanity by in a fact a reversion to pre-historic barbarism."

CALLS AMERICANS FIGHTERS WITH WORDS

Amsterdam, Holland, May 14.—via London, 6.52 p. m.—The Cologne Volks Zeitung, commenting upon expressions of American opinion concerning the sinking of the Lusitania, says:

"Americans are very prone to evictize, without any expectation that such fighting with words will make any great impression on those whom they denounce. They feel relieved when they have given frank expression of their irritation. In America however, war is most unpopular because it requires so many sacrifices and destroys business.

"There is no need therefore to apprehend that America will join the war against us but it may be taken for granted that the wave of anti-German hatred will continue to mount still higher. We deplore but we cannot prevent it. Anti-German feeling is a product of agitation. It slowly mounted and will also slowly subside."

MAKES APPEAL IN BEHALF OF "CRECHE"

"TAXPAYER" WRITES TO THE MAYOR AND ALDERMEN ASKING FOR RELIEF.

The following letter is addressed by a correspondent to the City Council: "I am little, weak, wretched; will you let me perish for want of shelter?"

To the Members of the City Council, Quebec.

Mr. Mayor and Aldermen:

I feel rather anxious, because in spite of my wish to move and persuade you, I am afraid you will remain unmoved.

However, I must make known to you some thoughts suggested to me by what I have seen.

On Sunday, April 11th, I visited on the Ste. Foye Road "La Creche," founded in a spirit of mercy by a humble nun, bearing the predestined name of Vincencit de Paul, a salutary overflow with boundless compassion towards the wretched fruits of man's infamy, and who was second to none in seeking to snatch them from death, to care for them and even to surround them with comforts.

In this "Creche" charity reads an impressive and instructive lesson. These poor little ones, born under such rough conditions, are fairly well-dressed and tidy; many of them look nice, intelligent, strong and tenacious of life. But this crowded condition is positively unbearable. For can charity, however ingenious, be expected to work miracles; for instance, enlarge lamentably small premises?

Can charity make a couple of hundred children breathe in a building which contains hardly enough life-giving air for a hundred? Here is what happened from March 1st to April 11th: Thirty-four (34) died of suffocation, poisoned mostly by the deadly air, in which they must be kept and sacrificed.

In the face of these facts, gentlemen, am I unjust in saying: "Such a state of things, unless unavoidable, through utter lack of means, is a disgrace, a slur on Quebec?"

Most cities, as you know, take charge of such houses of refuge at their own expense. Now, why should we be justified in dropping them? Why, for want of a slight contribution, would you take upon yourselves and impose upon your tax-payers the odium of allowing these unfortunate little ones to die by the score? If you are undisturbed by such an event, pray, believe that many of your tax-payers are not prepared to make their home of a baby-killing city. They are annoyed and mortified by this standing ignominy for Quebec and long to put a stop to it. They believe there is a call for substantial assistance in the name of Christian charity, of humanity, of common decency first; out of economy; these young lives representing a capital valued in dollars and cents; out of foresight also, the devoted nuns, in spite of their admirable self-sacrifice being compelled to turn over this refuge entirely into the hands of the city, should the latter continue indifferent. There is also a question of atonement involved; it would be easy indeed to establish that a more active and wide-awake police would have considerably reduced the number of crimes whose wretched offerings have to be cared by the humble.

You will be fair enough to admit that you must make more strenuous efforts before lowering ourselves to the level of the Chinese who use their little ones as food for swine. Now, do you think that to keep these children in such unhealthy surroundings as to bring on certain death, is proof of the boasted superiority of our Christian civilization?

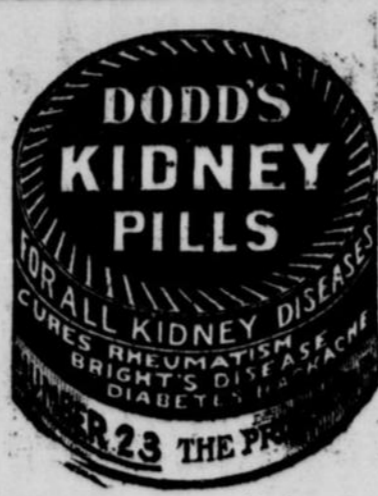

Do you doubt that I voice the feelings of the vast majority of your electors? Then call a meeting, as numerous as possible; and if you remain obdurate my proposal is worth accepting, let us discuss the situation; and should this letter fail to meet with approval, I shall submit beforehand to whatever penalty you see fit to impose to teach me the better to gauge public opinion another time.

Assuredly you do not presume to have solved the problem or done your duty before the bar of conscience and society, by saying: "We have no money; let these unfortunate little ones go on dying."

Were it so easy to shirk your responsibilities, one of the two precepts which sum up all the law "Love one another" would be childish and meaningless in practice.

More ingenious, indeed, is the duty imposed upon you by your honorable commission. It bids you, if need be, to tap the necessities of life; and all the more so trifling and superfluous things.

See how ready you are to dispose of public funds, when it suits you. To quote but one instance: What about fabulous sums you lavished on the exhibition, without even enquiring how they were spent.

Now, do you wish old Quebec to be cleared of its crime?

Do you sincerely wish to favor useful works without burdening taxpayers? Here is a simple way. Reserve for legitimate purposes the enormous sum figuring in your last loan and intended for that stand which I would call senseless and idiotic, were I not afraid of being too harsh. Yes, gentlemen, cut out that $100,000 appropriation. Half of it at most would pay for the enlarging of "La Creche" and the building of the Hospital for Consumptives, leaving a handsome balance in the municipal funds.

Would you not be better satisfied with yourselves in asking the Legislature to use this money in a more appropriate way, thus avoiding the huge mistake you are about to make? Could an impartial judge do anything but praise you for giving more intelligent care to public interest by a timely reconsideration of the case? Now, pray, let us know if you mean to go on with this extravagant and assuredly useless undertaking, when confronted with such serious reasons for dropping it.

Will sleep come more lightly and death more peacefully to you when you will have squandered this money which might save lives by the thousand, relieve gripping wretchedness and draw down infinite blessings on the whole city, on yourselves and on your families?

In the face of all those endangered lives, of works of mercy which should appeal to our hearts, it is sad, I admit, to have to mention this silly concrete stand. But since it is the key to the whole problem, the blind which shuts out the light from the eyes of your heart, gentlemen of the City Council, we must descend to discuss it.

Several of you, I understand, were of opinion that this ungraciously constructed stand was both injudicious and impractical. But through bashfulness, and mistrust of their powers of resistance, overinfluenced, no doubt, by the plausible reasons urged to boom the undertaking, they backed down before the so-called wind of progress which certain interested parties send blowing around city councils and government bodies in the hopes of raining down public moneys.

The motives put forward may still be reconsidered; the money is still in the bank. Why not avail yourselves of this circumstance to take a more human and practical stand? Would not a few moments' impartial reflection convince you that your project is not backed by any valid reason? That your fears expressed since 1913, with architects' consultations in support, as to the instability of present stands are groundless? Crowds gathered there at the last exhibition without any drawback without any spectator showing the slightest apprehension.

Besides, I know, a solvent party ready to make this stand last more than fifteen years more, by spending less than $1,500 to keep it in repair during all that time; ready also to furnish suitable guarantee against any damage, should it fall through wear and tear. The offer remains open for your acceptance.

Then, again, do you see anything more serious in that other reported "cause of anxiety," that a wooden stand exposes spectators to be burnt? This peril, you admit, is very uncertain. To reassure over-nervous persons, some additional sturveys should suffice, whereas children dying through lack of air, pestilential consumptives perishing for want of help, will continue to be victims of an assuredly certain peril.

Thus, for two childish reasons Quebec will spend $100,000, refusing a few thousand to wipe out the shame of allowing those unfortunate little ones to fade away and die in spite of the devotedness lavished upon them. You do not, all of you, I hope, gentlemen, hold this infamous resolution to be final.

I earnestly wish to enlist your sympathies in a great humanitarian cause and turn you away from a foolish step you are about to take. It is a duty to economize money in view of saving and alleviating the unfortunate, and you are spending it unjustly, criminally, I might say, in the face of your refusal of anything but the most paltry assistance towards essential works.

You will have an account to give, not to your electors, too indifferent to control the proper investment of their moneys, but to the formidable judge who will search into civic administrations as well as into all others.

Like all of us, alas, you will hear the awful words which will show the emptiness, the folly of so many of our actions and of our whole life perhaps.

"I was poor; I was hungry; I was naked; What did you do to relieve me?"

No Need Being Old or Wrinkled Before 75

Lillian Russell says any woman who has wrinkles before she is 75 is herself responsible for them. Sunshine and fresh air also considers more valuable as complexion preservers than nostrums and cosmetics. The chief objection to cosmetics is that as best they only temporarily cover up defects. There are certain true skin treatments, which may be applied with directly opposite effect. Ordinary mercerized wax, for instance, actually removes a bad or sallow complexion, by gradually, almost imperceptibly, peeling off the worn-out surface. Just one ounce, procurable at any drugstore, will soon give you an entirely new and natural complexion, with radiant smiles, like pimples, freckles, blotches, moth patches, liver spots, disappear with the discarded skin. To prevent or remove wrinkles, a face bath which also produces natural results, is made by dissolving in a half pint witch hazel. This is immediately effective and gives no untoward after-effect.

Never Questioned

Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure and wholesome. It is made from highly refined, pure, cream of tartar, an ingredient of grapes. Not an atom of unwholesomeness goes into it; not an unwholesome influence comes from it. It perfectly leavens the food, makes it finer in appearance, more delicious to the taste, more healthful.

Its superiority in all the qualities that make the perfect baking powder is never questioned.

Contains No Alum

And with reference to those imperatively urgent works I am endeavoring to make you take a tender interest in:

"I was little, weak, wretched and for want of a shelter easy to secure, why did you let me die?"

"I was ill an object of pity, of peril for my brethren; what care and assistance did you obtain for me?"

These questions will be put to you by Christ; living in all those little beings; abject as they are in the eyes of the world, these wretched consumptives are the representatives and stirring images of Christ.

It is yours to decide, gentlemen. Would it not be wise to prepare a reassuring answer by doing a work of mercy and an act of good citizenship? Believe me,

Mr. Mayor and Aldermen,

Your obedient servant,

A TAXPAYER

N.B.—If you would only promise reasonable assistance after due authorization at the next session, I think I could guarantee that soon a four-storey annex—100 feet by 60—will be under construction to enlarge "La Creche."

SOLDIERING IN THE WEST.

Maj.-Gen. Steele's Reminiscences Full of Quaint Incidents of Service.

The newly-published reminiscences of Major-General S. B. Steele, C.B., M.V.O., Inspector-General of the Western Division of the Canadian Militia, brings most vividly to our attention the mightier deeds linked up with the progress of the Northwest from the time of the first Riel rebellion up to the present. Gen. Steele's visit to Toronto recently and his unfortunate accident while there, brings him and his book to our attention.

From the days when the West was a prairie barren of all save Indians, buffalo, and traders up to the time when he left it to go to the Klondyke to handle the gold rush of '97, Gen. Steele takes us through a series of adventure more thrilling, more tremendous than the fiction written for the purpose of garnishing for us an unadventurous existence. He has seen vast herds of buffalo and wandering shy bands of Indians on the site of what are now great cities, and the wheat-laden sources of great wealth.

Gen. Steele was born at Purbrook, Simcoe County, in 1849. At the age of 16 he enlisted as a soldier to fight the Fenians, and he secured a commission in the Leicestershire Regiment. At the age of twenty, he joined the 1st Ontario Rifles to go to Red River at the first Riel uprising in '69.

Of his fight through that campaign, of his joining the Northwest Mounted Police on its formation in 1874, of his work in it from Winnipeg to the Rockies for many a long year in pioneering, of his part in the Riel Rebellion in 1885, of his work in the Klondyke, and finally as commander of Strathcona's Horse in South Africa—all these things tell in a vivid style the making of Canada. And now Gen. Steele is mentioned as commander of the second Canadian contingent!

As a boy of twenty, he describes the long journey over wilderness trails to Fort Garry under Col. Wolsley in 1869.

"On the portages," says one passage, "many heavy burdens were carried. One officer of the 60th, Ensign St. Maur, (now the Duke of Somerset), set, a tall, handsome young man nicknamed "Anak" because of his great strength. Frequently packed two barrels of pork on his back, 400 pounds, and Capt. Redvers Buller (later Sir Redvers) always took 300 and sometimes 300 pounds at a trip."

"The Winnipeg of that day was situated about half a mile north of Fort Garry, and consisted of about 40 houses of every shape and size, lining the Stone Fort trail for about half a mile. That old road is now the beautiful main street of Winnipeg. There was one fairly good hotel kept by a Mr. Davis, who was later Premier of the new Province of Manitoba. Nine stores, three chemists' shops, one saddlery, one hardware store, and, of course, several saloons, with such names as 'Hell's Gate,' 'The Red Saloon,' etc., were situated in the village."

Speaking of the social life of the West at that time, Gen. Steele writes:

"To be a good jig dancer required much speed and endurance. When the first surveyors arrived, a dispute arose as to the distance to Sturgeon Creek, about six miles west of Winnipeg. In order to settle it, they agreed to end one of their dogs to the Creek and back with a pedometer in his pocket. This was at night, and before he had come back the surveyor's dog driver produced the pedometer, and to their astonishment it registered sixty miles. On being questioned, he said he had gone no further than Sturgeon Creek, but when he had arrived there a dance was in progress at which he had danced all night, walking home in the morning!"

"In 1870-71 the buffalo were about 300 miles west of Fort Garry, and nearly half the people lived by hunting them."

"It is estimated that there are over a million Austrian and German prisoners of war, of whom 600,000 are in Russia, 60,000 in Serbia, and 350,000 in France and England."

TOUCHING MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR FALLEN QUEBECERS

DEAN SHREVE PREACHED IMPRESSIVE SERMON AT CATHEDRAL OF HOLY TRINITY, WHICH WAS CROWDED TO ITS UTMOST CAPACITY.

The city of Quebec has seldom before been the scene of such an impressive, touching but nevertheless, solacing service as that of last night at the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity in memory of Quebec's gallant young soldiers who so bravely gave their lives for our country.

The Sacred edifice was crowded to the doors with citizens of all ranks in life, mothers, sisters, fathers, brothers, friends or acquaintances, all were represented at the touching memorial to Quebec's dead. The 8th Royal Rifles, which unit has sent many of its men to the front, was represented by a detachment of 100 men in uniform in charge of Capt. Wilkinson and Lt. Dunne, while many of its officers took seats in the body of the Church. The High School Cadets, had a party of forty of its members under the command of Captain Harold G. Fellows present. It is worthy of note that both the officer in charge of the 8th Capt. Wilkinson and the Cadets' Captain Fellows have brothers at the front who are on the wounded list.

The Home Guard had its representative in the person of Colonel Wm. Wood.

The service itself was a modified form of the office of the Burial of the Dead with special prayers introduced while a most beautiful sermon was preached by the Very Reverend the Dean of Quebec, whose words made a deep impression on his hearers, at the same time conveying an undercurrent of comforting influence which prevented the tears which involuntarily welled to the eyes of many from declaring themselves into an undisturbed flow.

The service opened at eight o'clock when His Lordship, Bishop Williams entered the Church from the vestry followed by the Choir, which was augmented for the occasion by members of other congregations, and the Clergy, reciting the opening sentences of the 39th Psalm, "I said I will take heed to Thy ways." The Lesson was read by Bishop Williams after which, Hymn 566, "O God our help in Ages past" was feelingly sung. Special prayers were then offered up by the Rev. C. R. Eardley-Wilmot, following which Hymn 219, "For all the Saints who from their labors rest," was sung preceding the sermon, which as already stated was most eloquently preached by Very Revd. Dean Shreve, who took for his text the closing words of the 10th verse of the 23rd Chapter of the Book of Numbers: "Let my last end be like his." Many a time in past history said the reverend speaker there was, when bright souls were not ashamed to express that, through the visitation of God's Mercy there must be some one for brave souls to look to in agony and pain. The preacher then went on to tell of a great warrior King whose political troubles were greater than his years could bear and how he wished that he possessed the wings of a dove so that he could fly from the troubles which worried him. He wished to die the death of the righteous. The Dean urged all to think first of all of death but not of it as gloom. The sun which shone throughout the long hours of the day might be observed to be clouded from time to time while rain drops fell. Again and again as it sinks beneath the horizon of the west, the splendid golden beams spread over the heavens like the curtains on some royal couch, yet this is death. The winter as it approaches is presaged by the autumn. We lift our eyes and look about at the beauty of the Maple Leaf and the picturesqueness of the surrounding landscape plainly denoting the advance of winter yet it is the death of autumn as the autumn is the death of summer. The reverend speaker then glorified death by some striking examples. The death of several martyrs of the church was referred to, amongst them being St. Stephen whose face gleamed with the transfiguring light of an angel as he died by the persecutor's hand. Death is not gloom unless in circumstances of wickedness or wretchedness. People who have died in prison have met death without gloom while many people who have died in luxury have not met it in the proper spirit. It is the cause for which we die not the environment. The martyrs of the church had died by fire, by the sword, by being thrown into boiling pitch. But because they were faithful the Church has glorified their memories and they are now princes in Heaven. It is but a short step in this war from the martyrs of the Church to the martyr who gives his life for God, for King, for Flag, for Country who stands side by side with those who died actually for the Church and whose memory we recall and refer to tonight. The Red Cross itself is embodied in the flag and if never before is now raised for liberty, righteousness, honesty, truth, Christ and God. This is not a war of aggression but a war for the protection of civilization; it is not a war of selfishness but against barbarity. Honesty of purpose and religious motives underneath lies the foundation on which Britain stands and fights. And when the armies of the Allies go forth to fight it is a Holy War; and we shall ask that those searching eyes shall look, shall judge, Judge thou O God between ourselves and enemies and leave it to Thy will that victory be ours. The Reverend speaker referred feelingly to the gallantry of the Quebec men whose names would go down in her history with the names of those heroes of the past. He also paid a touching tribute to the brave mothers who had given their sons to the Empire and quoted the poem "A Mother's point of view" by Margaret Kermode, which he did at the special request of a mother of one of the Quebec boys who was killed in France. The poem which is a beautiful one is herewith appended:—

The Mothers' Point of View. We have reared our sons for the Empire. We have taught them their country's worth. They were her's when we knew our calling. They were her's when we gave them birth. We fed them, and watched and loved them. From the cradle to manhood's stage— Ours?—They belong to the Empire, And we've but fulfilled our fate. We told them of England's greatness As they cuddled upon our knee, And they listened with childish wonder To the stories of victory. We told them of all our glory, Our country's undying fame.

This School Girl Had Bad Fainting Spells

Was Weak and Run Down, But Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Made Complete Cure.

The most critical time in a girl's life comes during the school age, when she is impelled by rivalry to push forth her best efforts in studying for examinations. At the time she should have healthful outdoor exercise and abundance of fresh air, to keep the blood pure and rich, she is confined to her studies. Is it any wonder that she becomes run down in health and suffers from headaches, indigestion, loss of appetite and spells of weakness or fainting? The case described in this letter is a good illustration, and you can read here the splendid results of using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to help through this critical period. Mrs. H. Houston, Highland Grove, Ont., writes: "While attending school my daughter became weak and very much run down. She was frequently troubled with bad fainting spells, and nothing we tried seemed to do her any good. We were advised to try Dr. Chase's

Canada's Latest Roll of Honor

Ottawa, May 15—Casualty lists issued from the Militia Department at 9.00 o'clock and midnight last night, and at 1.45 o'clock this morning chronicle heavy additions to the names of missing among the various battalions of the Canadian division in France. The recent fierce action in which the Princess Patricia's regiment participated has left many gaps in the ranks of this crack corps, besides taking its toll of officers. Specially great losses in missing have been sustained by the 16th (Western) Battalion. The names follow:—

Second Battalion. Wounded and Missing: Frank Cathcart (formerly 9th), No. 1739 Riggs street, Edmonton, Alta. William John Fanning, No. 21 St. Patrick street, Quebec. William Fleet, No. 111 Raglan road, Kingston, Ont. Robert Graham, No. 161 Albert st., Oshawa, Ont. Third Battalion. Missing: Thomas Melville Davis, No. 3 Classic avenue, Toronto. Henry Holtoff, Stoney Creek, Ont. Lance-Corporal Michael Dubich (formerly 9th), Box 292 Montasin, Washington, U.S.A. Norman Craig, No. 726 Brock ave., Toronto. Herbert Gardner, No. 112 Riverdale avenue, Toronto. Seventh Battalion. Killed in Action: D. Millici, Italy. W. R. Mason, of England. H. V. Watson, of England. Wounded: G. Edgar, of Scotland. William Cooper, of Scotland. Lance-Corporal R. A. Griffiths, of England. Lance-Corporal Lahiff (shrapnel in thigh), Dublin, Ireland. Eighth Battalion. Wounded: W. Love, of Ireland. George Thomas Bennett (formerly 11th), Cardiff, Wales. William McLean, of Scotland. Charles Russell (formerly 11th), of Scotland. Charles William Sargeant, England. Arthur D. Tinsley, of England. James Wood, of London, England. Charles Henry Hill, Somerset, Eng. Corporal Joseph V. Ausman, no address given. Thomas Keeling, of England. Thomas Atkinson, of England. George Cameorn MacKenzie, of Scotland. George Alexander McQuitty, of Ireland. Henry C. Sheppard, of England. John Armstrong Scott, Scotland. Robert Webster, of England.

We taught them to love and reverence The sound of Old England's name. We prayed through the long night watches, In silent and yearning mood, To the God of our children's fathers, From the depth of our motherhood, We watched them through all their child days, With a trustful and hungry pride, And lived again in their manhood, And our hearts were satisfied Ours?—They belong to the Empire, And they joy to obey its call; We kiss them and give them our blessing; And they leave us to fight and fall. Oh! God above, who hast made us, Our agony, pitying, stay, And comfort the broken spirits Of England's women, today. Take them from us, Oh! England, They were born and bred for thee, And the glorious stuff they are made of Will guard you from sea to sea. Take them—we yield them proudly— But say not in idle jest That women do nought for the Empire. For have we not given our best?

The preacher concluded his eloquent sermon by wishing the blessing of God on the mothers of our city who had made the terrible sacrifice and while extending his heartfelt sympathy to those whose beloved sons had been killed, yet he congratulated them upon the honor reflected upon them by their sons' gallantry and their own heroism assuring them that God would be with the souls of those brave men. After the sermon, Hymn 592 was sung: "On Resurrection morning soul and body meet again." Bishop Williams afterwards recited prayers for the victory of the Allied Arms and pronounced benediction. The R. C. G. A. Band under Lt. Chas. O'Neill rendered the "Dead March" from Saul and as the strains of this well-known funeral march swelled through the sacred edifice many could not keep back the tears which had all evening been struggling for the mastery. "The Last Post" bugle call has seldom been heard under such circumstances as last night and the vast crowd of worshippers were thrilled as the clear notes echoed throughout the still cathedral. The services closed with the singing of the National Anthem by the congregation. Mr. G. H. Harvey organist of St. Matthew's presided at the organ in the absence of Mr. Bishop.

BRITAIN MUST FIND CAMPS FOR HUNDREDS OF ALIENS

POLICE BUSY ROUNDING UP SUBJECTS OF HOSTILE COUNTRIES WHO ARE SURRENDERING VOLUNTARILY — ROOM IS VERY SCARCE.

London, May 14.—The police throughout the country have been busy all day gathering subjects of hostile countries of a military age and despatching them to concentration camps. Many hundreds voluntarily surrendered and were sent off in batches, five hundred going to South End to be placed aboard steamers which have been fitted up for the purpose. The only difficulty the authorities are faced with is that of finding room, as the suddenness with which the government came to its decision following the riots gave no time to prepare new camps. As all subjects of enemy countries have been registered since the commencement of the war and have been compelled to report periodically to the police there is no difficulty in locating them. Some however, with large businesses must be given time to arrange their affairs. In most cases the business has been transferred to Britishers or neutrals, but some alien business men closed their premises immediately. One result of this was felt in the East End of London where the majority of the small bakers are Germans; the people this morning finding themselves deprived of their usual supplies. A greater task will be that of arranging for the repatriation of women and children and men over the military age. Many of the latter have resided in England a lifetime and have no other home, and are pleading as an alternative to be interned with the younger men. Although the country has been calmed by the government decision to deal with aliens, considerable sporadic anti-German rioting occurred. In some parts of London tonight, Peckham, Nunhead and Tottenham among them, a number of German shops were attacked. Serious disturbances also are reported from Rotherham and North Shields among other places. By night the streets were crowded with thousands of rioters who were carrying away provisions of all kinds from the looted shops. At North Shields many shops were attacked but there was no looting.

ATHLETIC WOMEN OF OTHER DAYS. A searcher after curious facts has learned that athletic women are by no means a modern product, as is generally believed. They flourished in the days of sal volatile, hoops, patches and snuff—in the days when George II. was king. Ladies of the court took part in races arranged for them at the regular meetings, so that there were lady jockeys as well as gentlemen jockeys, and once a series of foot races for ladies in Hyde Park was organized. The first one was run amid great enthusiasm of the populace, and the betting was high. Then stepped in some cross-grained old fellow, who persuaded the Government that such races were unseemly, and they came to a sudden end. On Good Authority. When Walter Scott was a boy his teacher asked him to give the part of speech of the word "with." "It's a noun," said young Scott. "You are very stupid," said the teacher. "How came you to say such a thing?" "I got it from the Bible, sir," said the future novelist, stoutly. "There's a verse that says 'they bound Samson with withs'."

TRANSYLVANIA DUE TO ARRIVE SUNDAY SHE WILL ENTER GERMAN WAR ZONE LATE SOME TIME TODAY. New York, Ma 14.—If the Anchor Line steamship Transylvania equals her record time on her present trip across the ocean, she should enter the German war zone sometime late tomorrow, and if she passes through it safely, should dock in Liverpool early Sunday morning. This was according to the calculations of the Anchor Line officials and was made public because of many inquiries regarding the whereabouts of the vessel. Inquirers at the American Line were told that the steamship Philadelphia, which sailed under the American flag on May 8, would probably arrive in Liverpool tomorrow afternoon. Reports that the White Star Liner Adriatic failed to sail from Liverpool on Wednesday last as scheduled were accepted by the lines officials here as correct in the absence of the usual cable notifying them of the ship's departure. The delay was reported to be due to a strike by the crew for increased wages. PLANT TO TREAT MOLYBDENITE. Serious disturbances also are reported from Rotherham and North Shields among other places. By night the streets were crowded with thousands of rioters who were carrying away provisions of all kinds from the looted shops. At North Shields many shops were attacked but there was no looting. FIGHTING WITH WATER. When the Belgians opened the sluice-gates and let the sea into the basin of the Yser river to stop the German troops in their desperate attempt to advance along the coast from Ostend to Calais, they placed an obstacle in the way of the invading army that was apparently decisive in turning the issue to the advantage of the allies. This means of defence is not new. It has been used repeatedly by the people of Holland for stopping or destroying an invader, and in one case—that of the siege of Leyden, in 1574—the cutting of the dykes resulted not only in the relief of that city, but in the drowning of thousands of the invading Spanish army. There seems little doubt that the flooding of the Yser basin in the early days of November, 1914, was the direct cause of an even greater loss of life than occurred at Leyden.

A DEATH TRAP.

We sincerely hope that the Provincial Government will not delay any longer before taking steps to remove all danger at the corner in Notre Dame des Laurentides where the recent distressing automobile fatality occurred.

THE REAL SUFFERERS.

If war was what General Sherman said it was half a century and more ago, how much greater is the forcefulness of that remark now in the face of modern death-dealing devices.

Granting that there is something a bit brutal in human nature, which at times likes to see a fair fight and wishes only that the best man will win, there is just as marked a feeling of sympathy for what is figuratively referred to as the under dog.

STRICKEN SERBIA.

Stricken Serbia, in which 100,000 deaths from typhus have occurred since the epidemic of that virulent disease added its horrors to war, will need the careful consideration of civilization after the conflict is over.

people of Southeastern Europe lower down in the scale.

Then came the fight between the victors over the division of the Turkish spoils, and this was hardly over when the great European war was precipitated on the country.

Small wonder then that Serbia, having gone through the strain and stress of three wars in less than five years, staggers under the burden it is compelled to bear.

But the famous fighting grounds of Southeastern Europe will not be freed from war's constant companion—disease—until long after the conflict is ended.

One can smile with tender humor at the contrast between the English regiments and the Scotch regiments as they swing down High street or Princess street.

The faces of the English show that they regard the proceeding casually and will continue to regard it casually until the time really comes to make a fuss.

The young men of the conscript continental nations marched past with the military gait and carriage which they had learned in their years with the colors—chests far out, hands on hips, and a proud, defiant air.

To Take Off Flesh and Reduce Weight

A Physician's Advice. Most fat, overweight people eat less food than the thin, skinny ones, but unless they practically starve themselves and take constant exercise they keep gaining in weight all the time.

Fat folks stay fat and what they lose from purging, starving and exercising themselves they quickly gain again, because their assimilative organs are overdeveloped.

DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS.

Here is a story which shows once again the extraordinary power of that famous British remedy, Dr. Cassell's Tablets, to restore the vital processes of the body.

RADIUM IN SCOTLAND.

On the banks of Loch Lomond, at Dalvair, a new radium industry is being established. An old sawmill has been adapted for use as a factory for the extraction of radium and other rare metals from their ores.

What is the explanation of these cures? How is it that Dr. Cassell's Tablets can restore health so surely? It is because they act as a health force, renewing vitality of nerve and body, and compelling healthy action of every life-process.

Wanted: I was like a living skeleton. Medicine and other things I tried did no good. Nothing did any good till I got Dr. Cassell's Tablets. Then—oh! what a blessed relief! I got steadily better from the first, and now I am just full of health and strength.

Here is another case of cure—and cure absolute—which puts to shame all ordinary forms of treatment. Ordinary medicine could never have effected such an amazing result; it can only be explained on the theory that Dr. Cassell's Tablets contain a healing force which literally compels the orderly working of the bodily functions, and so effect cures which are truly surprising.

Mr. Windle, of 5, Cambridge-street, Blackburn, England, says:—"For months little Jack was a little martyr to nerves, and he became so weak that he could hardly get about at all. Instead of playing himself he used to just sit about and watch the other children play.

But it was his worst trouble. He would jump at a sound, and any unusual noise used to set him screaming. His appetite was very poor, and his flesh lost all firmness and became quite soft and flabby.

However, with the help of a toy drum we got him to use his arm again. But his health was no better, so as the ordinary methods of treatment had failed I decided to try Dr. Cassell's Tablets.

What is the explanation of these cures? How is it that Dr. Cassell's Tablets can restore health so surely? It is because they act as a health force, renewing vitality of nerve and body, and compelling healthy action of every life-process.

KING'S HOTEL.
 It will be learned with pleasure by the public that Mr. Domina Janelle has just acquired the new King's Hotel, situated on Desjardins street, opposite the City Hall.

It is the conviction of those who know him that Mr. Janelle will give Quebec a first class hotel, which may readily be judged by the comfort which he is at present providing for his guests. The table and the liquor are first class and the new proprietor is always on the alert to satisfy his customers.

The friends of Mr. Domina Janelle have decided to have a little dinner at the new King's Hotel on Thursday next the 20th, instant at nine p. m. There will no doubt be a large attendance as the hotel is equipped with an excellent French kitchen.

After completing a minute inspection of the High School Boys, who were clad in their khaki uniforms, the Commanding Officer of the new French Canadian Regiment, complimented the boys on their splendid appearance and paid a glowing tribute to the members of the Corps, some of the graduates from which have already given up their lives fighting for the cause. Col. Paquet, in closing his remarks, expressed the hope that he would return from the battlefields of Europe and be invited again to inspect this young Cadet Corps.

The boys were put through company drill also and their movements greatly impressed Col. Paquet and the large number of spectators present.

INSURANCE TENDERS.

The question of Civic insurance accidents was brought up in a report from the Finance Committee recommending that the contract be awarded to the Globe Indemnity Company of Canada. A report from the City Attorneys pointed out, however, that the policy could not be accepted by the city as the company did not undertake liability for accidents which might be caused by vehicles owned or hired by the city or any of its employees. It was pointed out that the Ocean Accident Company Limited, was the next lowest tenderer and that the Agent here, Mr. W. J. Fraser expressed the belief that his company would agree to erase from the policy the clause to which the city objected. As any erasure is subject to approval by the head office, the Council decided on motion of Ald. Cote seconded by Ald. Roy to continue last year's policy for another month and in the meantime to issue a new call for tenders.

BIG WAR PICTURE FOR QUEBECERS.

Besides "The Woman" Grande Allee Gardens Have Another Treat.

Apart from the great sensational drama "The Woman," the Quebec Amusement Company have secured after great difficulty for Monday only the renowned war story "England Expects" based on Nelson's immortal message "England Expects that every man this day will do his duty."

The New York Star says: While "England's Menace," the first London Film offering, was written before war was declared, this picture is based upon actual incidents of today. It is a theme, too, which cannot arouse prejudice, for the idea is one which is universal and will appeal to all nationalities.

Two generations have been heroes in England's service. The grandfather has a medal from the Crimean war, while the father has distinguished himself in the Boer War. So, when war is declared and the King's proclamation is seen everywhere, the two older men look forward with delight to the younger generation who will carry out the family tradition. One son is in volunteer service, but the other is married and has three little children. Whether because of cowardice or love of family, the older son does not share the general enthusiasm. The story deals with his struggles and final realization that love of country comes before all else.

Excellent photography and direction, and many little human touches which add to the effectiveness of the story. Particularly is this shown in the nursery scenes when the three little children play with their soldiers and re-act their elders' tales of bravery on the battle field.

KEEP YOUR BABY WELL

Mothers can keep their little ones happy and healthy by the occasional use of Baby's Own Tablets. There is no minor ailment of little ones that the Tablets will not cure, and above all they are absolutely safe and positively no injury can result from their use. Concerning them Mrs. Henri Huard, Kingston, Ont., writes: "There is no medicine I know of so good for little ones as is Baby's Own Tablets. They have certainly been of great service to me." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AN ARTISTIC TRIUMPH.

An aggregation of fine hats, each seeming to vie with the other for beauty supremacy. In the Small Hats, the new popular sailors, the Dutch Bonnets and the soft hood effects, seem to have caught the popular fancy. In the Large Hats the mushroom Sailors, the Gainsboroughs are the best liked because of their general becomingness. These hats are being shown in every large variety. The prices are much in your favor. Come prepared to see the smartest exhibit of Millinery in Quebec, and you'll not be disappointed.

COUNCIL APPROVES STREET SELLING

VENDORS OF FISH, FRUIT OR VEGETABLES MUST PAY $25 LICENSE.

The City Council last night finally passed the by-law to permit the sale of fruits, fish and vegetables through the streets of the city, each vendor being obliged to pay a license fee of $25 a year.

Ald. Verret sought to restrict the street sale of vegetables and reduce the license fee to $5, but both his amendments were voted down after a long discussion and the by-law was read a second time and passed.

A letter was read on behalf of Sir William Price and others seeking incorporation under the name of the "Quebec Khaki Club". The communication was referred to the Finance Committee, as were a letter from the Lambillotte Band offering to give 12 open air concerts for the sum of $250, and a request from the Patronage Laval asking for the continuance of the annual grant.

The Canadian Northern Railway wrote the City asking for a more reasonable water rate than 25 cents per thousand gallons for their workshops at Limoilou. The question was referred to the Waterworks Committee.

A complaint was formulated, in a letter written by Mr. J. A. Lane, K. C., on behalf of the Cabmen's Association, against certain owners of motor cars who solicit passengers and charge fares. It was pointed out that the carters pay license fees to the city while the auto owners do not and therefore any competition which they offer to the carters should not be tolerated. The police and By-law Committee will study the question.

PROTESTS AGAINST GERMAN WAITERS.

As Result Some at Ottawa Discharged—Other Positions.

Ottawa, May 14.—In the two leading hotels in the city about twenty-six Germans are employed, some of whom, it is alleged have expressed to intimate friends their joy over the sinking of the Lusitania. Investigation made by the managements of these hotels has failed to find any truth to support these allegations. Col. Sherwood, commissioner of Dominion police, says he delegated some of his deputies to hold an investigation. They did so, but could find no evidence to support the charges.

However, feeling in Ottawa as elsewhere is very bitter just now against all Germans. Letters are pouring into the two hotels in question, protesting against giving employment to Germans. In the last few days four of the German heads of departments at one of the hotels have been discharged and it is likely that before long there will not be a German in any hotel in Ottawa as an employee. These Germans have all taken the oath, and Col. Sherwood believes that they are reasonably law-abiding. But the hotels are not the only places where Germans are employed in Ottawa. It is a fact that some of the most important and lucrative jobs in the government offices are held by Germans. In one department connected with national defense it is reported that a German holds a very responsible position. Moreover, in some local factories some of the most particular work that is being done for the government is entrusted to Germans.

On the pay roll of the city are a number of Germans who are, however, naturalized British subjects, and it is alleged that some of them are kept on the job when Canadians are laid off. One of the ward foremen is a German.

Louis Allard, appeared before the Court of Sessions yesterday, on a charge of assaulting Leslie Molloy, a boy. He was convicted and fined $2 and costs.

Francois Michel, accused of interfering with a member of the Provincial Police, in the discharge of his duty, was sent to jail to await investigation.

TWO BASEBALL GAMES TOMORROW

CITY LEAGUE WILL MAKE ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO GET GOING.

Twice before the public has looked forward to a baseball opening, but rain interfered each time, necessitating a postponement.

However, tomorrow, the league expects better luck in the weather line and two fine games are booked to take place.

St. Patrick's with practically all of last year's players and many more new ones, are in fine shape to meet Laval and as the latter club have better prospects before them than they ever had in previous seasons, the first game will be a titanic struggle.

Emmets and Patricia's, both new clubs, will be in line for the second game. This game should give the fans a line on the material the new clubs have as well as their outlook in the championship race.

For St. Pat's, it is likely that Carson and Lotel will be in the points while Pouliot and Beaudoin are expected to do the battery work for Laval. The batteries of the Emmets and Patricia's have not been definitely chosen yet. Frezel is likely to be Emmet's choice.

Geo. Cartier and Eddie Picard will umpire the first game and H. and J. Ledden, the second.

Sporting Notes

Baseball tomorrow. Anybody want to bet it won't rain?

Either Jim Coffey or Frank Moran will have the first chance at Champion Jess Willard, and the fight will take place at the Brighton Beach Sporting Club, on Coney Island. This was the announcement made yesterday by Harry Pollock and Dan McKittrick, the owners of the club.

The Montmorency Football club will practice this afternoon at the Falls. Any player who wishes a game will be welcomed.

The Laval club will pick its team from the following: Cusson, Pouliot, Brochu, Beaudoin, J. Martineau, Gailoux, Lachance, Bastien, Destien, Desjardins, A. Martineau, Duchesneau, Savard, Patenaude, the Racine brothers, and Victor Gendron have not as yet been secured, but the club expects them to join soon.

Emmets will practice on Walsh's Field this evening, and expect a full team out, in preparation for Sunday's game with Patricia's.

Montreal took a fall out of the leaders yesterday.

St. Patrick's should be very strong this season.

A world's pitching record was claimed for Urban Faber, of the Chicago Americans, as a result of his performance in defeating the Washington club, 4 to 1, on Thursday.

According to baseball experts, Faber pitched only sixty-seven balls during the nine innings—five less than the record established by Christy Mathewson, of the New York Giants, several years ago.

In the third and fifth innings Faber retired six men on six pitched balls, each batter hitting the first ball for an out.

Some pitchers in the City League must throw about a million sometimes.

The Tipperays had a hard time winning their game the other day. The umpire said he had not seen a play at the plate, therefore, he called the man out. Oh, yes, they favor the runner, alright.

Popular Pastime, No. 104.—Wondering if it's going to rain tomorrow.

SCHOOL FOR OFFICERS.
Established by the British General Staff is located close to the General Headquarters in France, and now has more than a hundred students, all picked from the ranks. The course occupies a month, and combines theory with practice, although special emphasis is naturally placed on the practical side.

The school occupies a comfortable old mansion. A group of barns and sheds have been fitted-up as dormitories. In the courtyard is a great sand bank, where the students construct model trenches and apply the theory of the textbook to practice.

There are several classrooms equipped with blackboards, on which the instructors fight over again some of the early battles of the war. There are courses in mathematics, in hygiene and in other branches necessary for the equipment of a young officer.

Not all the students prove to be of suitable material for commissioned rank. Part of the business of the school is to test the students as to their mental and moral capabilities for assuming rank as an officer in the field. Every week the student goes back to the trenches for twenty-four hours in company with an instructor, to observe and apply what he has been taught during the six days at the school.

O'LEARY, V.C.

Story of the Northwest Mounted Man Who Saved a Company.

Sergt. Michael O'Leary, the Canadian R.N.M.M.P. trooper with whose name all Britain is ringing since he won the V.C. by saving the lives of a whole company, has had a stirring life of adventure. "O'Leary's regimental record," said an officer of the Irish Guards, "has always been an excellent one. Sergt. O'Leary enlisted early in life, and on the conclusion of his term of service with the colors passed into the reserve." But pottering about at home a time-expired man was not exciting enough for the plucky O'Leary. The Irish blood in him called for a more strenuous life. So he sailed for Canada, and there enlisted as a private in the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, one of the best organized and most efficient bodies of men in the Empire. Their long and exciting history of fights with cattle raiders and border thieves, their endless wars with the marauding Indians, attracted the young Irishman.

It was in 1873, when the Northwest provinces and the Red River plains were overrun by murderous Indians and thieving half-breeds, that the Mounted Police were formed. The present strength of the force is about 600 men. Their business is the policing and patrolling of the great prairie lands of the Northwest. From the American boundary to the Arctic Circle they will be found, and from Yukon in the west to Manitoba in the east. In the Arctic region some of the police posts are hundreds of miles distant from each other. In these more peaceful days the policeman's work consists in the gathering of any information likely to be of use to the Government, the condition of crops and cattle, etc.; while he deals with any cases of illicit stills, advises and assists struggling settlers, helps them in the sowing of their grain, the building of log cabins, and the rounding-up of strayed cattle and horses.

Recruits for the force must undergo a strict examination both as to their physical condition and into their character. Good horsemanship is essential, and the minimum height is 5 feet 8 inches. They are a picturesque body of men, as hard as nails. Although the majority of them, like Sergt. O'Leary, are old soldiers, there are also in the force a number of well-educated men, gentlemen adventurers, and men to whom the hard life is attractive. With this fine body O'Leary lived and worked, roughing the prairie, camping in the open until, with the outbreak of war the Irish Guards Reserves were mobilized. He at once sailed for England, and was attached as lance-corporal to the 1st Battalion of his old regiment, one of the first to go to the front. Thus in less than 25 years Michael O'Leary has served his country at home, in the Canadian wilds, and again in France, earning the highest honor any soldier can attain. In a letter to his parents, O'Leary gave the following modest account of

WOMEN'S WEAKNESS AND HEALTH PERILS

Anemia Comes so Gradually That the Victim Scarcely Realizes the Hold the Trouble Has Upon Her Until Almost in a Decline.

Woman's work is more wearing than man's because it lasts almost every waking hour. There is no eight or nine hour day for the breadwinner's wife, and often she toils under the greatest difficulty because her strength is below what it should be. The woman who is indoors all day is very often careless about what she eats and does not keep her blood up to the mark. It becomes thin and poor, which makes her weak, headachy, tired, breathless and liable to pains in the back and sides, the scourge of her sex. New blood will do wonders for the woman who is tired out, who aches all over when she rises in the morning and feels uncomfortably depressed. She can gain new blood now, and drive away the pains and aches and tiredness if she will take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have worked marvels for other women and will do the same for you if you are weak, tired, depressed or suffering from back-aches or sideaches. Mrs. Elmer C. Taylor, Calgary, Alta., says: "I was so run down with anemia that I could scarcely walk without aid. I was not able to leave the house. I had no color, no appetite, and was constantly troubled with headaches, dizzy spells and a general disinclination to move about or do anything. My friends did not think I could get better, and even the doctor was apprehensive. I was constantly taking medicine, but it did not do me a particle of good. One day a friend asked me if I had tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to do so almost as a forlorn hope. After I had used a few boxes there was a decided change for the better, and people began to ask what I was taking, the change was so noticeable. As I continued the Pills my color came back, I could eat my meals regularly, the headaches and dizzy spells ceased. I gained in weight and took a new interest in life, my cure being complete. I have told many sickly women and girls what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me and urged them to take them and shall continue to do so, knowing what a splendid medicine they are."

Every weak and ailing woman who will follow Mrs. Taylor's example and give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial will find new health and strength through their use. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

trade, he found that his thrifty wife had warmed over the veal. His satisfaction over her saving propensities was slightly dulled by a feeling that steak would have tasted better. Nevertheless, he consumed the veal and hoped for the best.

Met Familiar Aroma.
At noon on Tuesday Mr. Krack went home to luncheon, taking with him a keen appetite. The odor of veal arose as he sat down and slew that arose appetite on the spot. The veal had been stewed, but the appetite recognized it.

Having lost all right to glory in that good digestion the clothing merchant on Tuesday night went home and sat down to dinner. Without either a blush or a smile, as far as the papers show, Mrs. Krack placed before him a savory dish of veal. This time it was ragout. The digestion of Mr. Krack followed the lead of his appetite, and went on strike.

Late that night Mrs. Krack found it necessary to administer a sedative to Mr. Krack, and she gave him gin! Why say more?

But as a re-vealer Mrs. Krack was not through even then. At home on Wednesday, Krack sat down to a dish of meat balls. Yes, veal is meat, though about that time Krack was beginning to doubt it and to make remarks. However, for peace's sake he devoured the meat balls.

But when that night, Mrs. Krack served up the left-over meat balls Mr. Krack's attitude changed. Flinging his call-like docility to the winds, he momentarily asserted his independence and also flung the meat balls into the coal scuttle. Mrs. Krack became enraged at this treatment of the sacred relics and the two proceeded to vilify (or "veally") each other.

Mrs. Krack called a policeman, who professed entire ignorance of stock

CLERGYMEN'S DAUGHTERS. Many Have Become Famous as Novelists and Hymn-Writers. Reviewing the ranks of famous women, particularly in the world of literature, one is surprised to find how many of them were daughters of clergymen of whom the world would probably have heard nothing had it not been for the brilliant achievements of their children.

Jane Austen first saw the light in the Vicarage of Steventon, in Hampshire, in 1775; Mrs. Gaskell, who is famous as the author of "Cranford," was the daughter of William Stevenson, who preached at Doblane, and her intimate friend, Charlotte Bronte, who, with her sisters, Emily and Anne, took the world by storm, were the daughters of Patrick Bronte, whose church and rectory at Haworth are yearly the Mecca of thousands of admirers of these immortal women.

Mrs. Lynn Linton, the Victorian novelist; John Strange Winter, the creator of "Bootie's Baby" and many another tale of the army; and Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, who with "Uncle Tom's Cabin," struck the death-blow of the slave trade, were all daughters of preachers.

Among the more modern brilliant women are Olive Schreiner, who was the daughter of a missionary and born in Basutoland, where her father worked, and Mrs. Florence Barclay, who, as it were, sprang into fame in a night with "The Rosary," and who is the daughter of the Rev. Samuel Charlesworth, rector of Limplish, Surrey, and later of Limehouse. Mrs. Barclay had written for "the joy of the job," says The Woman at Home, and it was her sister, Mrs. Ballington Booth, who induced her to send her "stuff" to a publisher.

Jane and Mary Findlater, whose individual and collaborated novels, "The Green Graves of Balgowrie," "The Rose of Joy," etc., have brought them wealth and fame, are the daughters of the late Rev. Eric Findlater, Lochearnhead, and their life-long friend, Mrs. Nigel Robertson, the author of "The Gallant Quaker," is the daughter of the late Rev. Thomas Hill, Dundee; while Mrs. Billington, the president of the Women Journalists' Society, is the daughter of a Devonshire clergyman, by whom she was educated.

It is scarcely surprising, perhaps, that many of our famous hymns were written by daughters of the vicarage. The best known wedding hymn, "O Perfect Love," owes its origin to Mrs. Gerald Gurney, daughter of Dr. Blonfield, Bishop of London, who penned it in a very short time at the laughing request of her sister, who asked her what was the good of having a poet for a sister if she could not write a special hymn for her wedding. The hymn was set to music by Sir Joseph Barnby, and sung for the first time

What Our Customers Say It would be impossible for us to publish all the testimonials we receive—but I think this, from one of our customers, is worth recording. He says:—"My dealings with your firm have convinced me that your tailoring service is the greatest clothes proposition that I have ever looked into. Any remarks I can make are inadequate to express its merits—and my satisfaction. It has startled me and my friends—in our judgment your values are wonderful." This is only one sample of the many flattering things that are said about us.

A civil engineer, who was building a railway in Mexico was trying to show a native how much the new railway would benefit the country.

"How long does it take you to carry your produce to market at present?" he asked.

"With a mule it takes three days," was the reply.

"There you are," exclaimed the engineer. "When the new railway is in operation you will be able to take your produce to market and return home the same day!"

"Very good, senior," was the placid reply, "but what shall I do with the other two days?"

Observing the success of the Billy Sunday methods in the matter of conversion, Puck rises to suggest that the attempt be made to apply the same methods to other church ceremonies and activities, proposing the following formulas:

Presiding Parson—"What miserable mutt giveth this skirt to be married to this gunk? The Bride's Father—"I'm the guy."

Enriching Life.

From the Milwaukee Journal.

The man who has cultivated his mind has resources unknown to those who let their minds lie idle like fallow fields. Though he finds his habitations remote from the centers of society, he knows no solitude. The rugged mountain, the broad prairie, the spreading expanse of the ocean cannot make him lonely. Nature speaks to him in the waving of a blade of grass, the color of a flower, the flight of a bird. These all open up whole histories to him. Besides them, he has in his books the best companionship of all the ages. All of us fall naturally into some philosophy of living. The man of culture deliberates, reasons and gradually forms his philosophy, changing it from time to time as experience teaches him the flaws in his judgment and always welcoming the change, because culture does not imply a finished perfection but rather a constant pruning and enriching. He learns to direct his life and not to allow circumstances and surroundings to smother his individuality. He is not discouraged by failures, for he knows that the effort is often more valuable than the end. He finds happiness in work and not attainment, and so reaches every day what too many of us think of as a goal that is always afar off.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME THIN.

By Elizabeth Thomas.

Perhaps you are suddenly becoming stout, or it may be that you have been putting on weight for years. In either case the cause is the same—lack of oxygen-carrying power of the blood. This trouble occurs in adults of both sexes and all ages, but it may be overcome very easily and without any of the privations that most people imagine necessary to reduce their weight.

Simply go to your druggist and get some oil of orilene capsules. Take one after each meal and one before going to bed. Weigh yourself so as to know just how fast you are losing weight. Wonderful results have been accomplished by this inexpensive recipe, but be sure to get the genuine oil of orilene in capsule form. It is sold only in original sealed packages. Any large druggist can supply you, or a large size box will be sent on receipt of $1.00. Address D. J. Little Drug Co., Box 1240, Montreal, Can.

THE BELGIAN TEA.

A Social Event That Didn't Work Out Just Right.

From the Manchester (England) Guardian.

It is possible to be a nice woman, though a social climber. Mrs. Ponting Green was both. She liked to associate with what she called "the best people," but that did not prevent her from fulfilling her personal duties creditably. She seldom slandered her neighbors, she contributed to local charities, and when the world passed under the cloud of universal calamity she did her part in knitting socks for soldiers, and otherwise.

But in time the other side of her made her aware that some people, doing no more than she did, got more credit than fell to her share. Mrs. Ponting Green was observant, and she noted that it is possible to obtain a good deal of local and other notoriety without much direct cost to yourself, if you know how to get on the top of the incoming wave. When Mrs. Ponting Green read things in the newspapers about people she knew and their doings she said, "Well, I declare!" with committing herself to any statement of what it was that required this kind of affirmation.

She pondered cause and effect for some time, and then she announced to Mr. Ponting Green that she had decided to give a Belgian tea.

Mr. Ponting Green asked to be enlightened concerning the beverage in question. He was a plain man, and boasted of it, but he was induced to look with a tolerant eye on his wife's elaborations. Before his marriage he had signed his name "William P. Green." When his wife took to calling him Ponting, signing her own name "Evelyn Ponting Green," he supposed it was all right. He acquiesced in similar little changes later, being sensible as well as plain.

Mrs. Ponting Green informed him that the tea was to be a tea party, and that at the party several things would happen. She had thought of asking a Belgian gentleman to speak on the troubles of his great and unhappy country, and of inviting an English poet to recite his own address to Belgium, and a musician of her acquaintance to play some fine Belgian music. Then a Belgian boy could be obtained who would dance in sabots, and finally Elsa, their very own child, who would be dressed in Belgian colors for the occasion, would take up a collection.

Mr. Ponting Green suggested that it would be less trouble to give what the entertainment would cost them to one of the funds, but his wife thought it was well to have a little initiative of one's own. She did not tell him that the occasion would involve less expenditure on her part than he imagined.

Mrs. Ponting Green understood that you can do your philanthropy quite cheaply if you call unpaid assistance, and permit your humbler friends to contribute. As a matter of fact Mrs. Ponting Green has already sounded the milkman, the confectioner, the grocer and the green grocer, and knew for a certainty that she could reckon on gifts of cream, fruit, cakes and sweets and flowers from these, and that the poet, the musician and others would gladly render what assistance they could in the great cause. There were other things also that she kept to herself.

In due time invitations, correct in shape and size, went forth from Albert Villa, which really had been called Albert Villa before a great European war had been thought of, and these invitations were in some cases addressed to ladies hitherto inaccessible to Mrs. Ponting Green. A national calamity makes one acquainted with strange and shy neighbors. Hon. Mrs. Crawshaw and the dear bishop came merely from philanthropy, when there was good to be done they did not mind where they went, an Mrs. Niblock Waster and others of her set came, too, though they had no intention of knowing, when the war was over, a great many people with whom it was all right to fraternize now.

A little sewing woman, with a tender heart, had contributed her quota to the afternoon. She made Elsa's red, yellow and black frock for nothing. Mrs. Ponting Green was to add the amount she might have charged to the collection.

Mr. Ponting Green did not intend to be present, he was not at his ease with "high-flyers," he said, and Mrs. Ponting Green amiably promised to excuse him if he found he could not get away from the office.

No one was in such higher feather as Elsa when the great occasion arrived. She knew that her dress was awfully becoming, and that she showed to great advantage beside the Belgian boy who was simply a little peasant, and looked it. Furthermore, the event was interesting and satisfactory to her mother, who looked sweet in silver gray, a color that is at once festive and subdued.

Almost everyone who had been invited came, and for a time all went merry as a marriage bell, it was a detail that the Belgian boy wept, and said he wanted his mother. The tea was excellent, and had no tannin in it to speak of; the ices were the real thing, not frozen water, and the Belgian gentleman moved his hearers to tears; the recitations and the music were beautiful and the bishop really spoke like an angel.

Then came the real omen, when Elsa, apparently treading on air, presented her money box for the gifts of the sympathetic. It was her own idea to use the money box. It was a nice one also she wanted to rattle it, as she had seen street collectors do; the sound made her progress more conspicuous. Every one greeted her with a smile, all purses opened at her approach, and some closed with an approving click afterwards.

She had made a triumphant passage amid the serried chairs, and had reached the top of the room, where the chief guests sat enthroned.

WHAT WOULD HAVE COST YOU $500

You Will get Next Week at the Auditorium for the Ridiculous Price of 50 Cents.

It would have cost you at least $500.00 to go and see the Willard-Johnson fight at Havana and the same spectacle is offered to you next week at the Auditorium for 50 cents. You will see the whole fight, in every one of its details, comfortably seated in a good chair; you won't have to spoil the pleasure, the fear of seeing the bout and abruptly by some rash decision of the referee as you know now that it lasted 26 rounds and you will be $499.50 to the good.

This is an opportunity that no good sportsman should miss. As we said before this fight is quite a lesson to young men who want to succeed in life. The tenacity of Willard, the patience with which he took the punishment having at sight all the time the aim he attained in the end shows what a man can do when he has a strong will and is ready to brave even hardship to accomplish what he has planned.

The pictures are the nearest thing to the fight itself. They show it in every detail and go further in showing the preparations made before this event, the first of its kind in the Cuban capital. Street scenes are also shown in the beginning of the first reel, just before the audience is ushered into the training quarters of the big boxers and for those who are not fans of that sport this a particularly interesting part of the film.

These pictures will be shown all week next week at the Auditorium. The prices will be 25 and 50 cents for the evening performances and $1.00 for the matinees.

YOUR SKIN NEEDS FOOD.

Is your skin harsh and dry? Are there signs of approaching wrinkles? Are you getting worried about the possible loss of your youthful beauty? Cleopatra didn't worry about these things. You needn't if Usit is applied.

Cleopatra and the noted beauties of the East knew perfectly well that the skin requires food, just as does the rest of the body. They fed their skin with a preparation of Oriental oils, the secret of which has been so jealously guarded by succeeding generations that it has only recently come to light.

Men, too, find Usit a valuable friend. An occasional application to the face not only feeds the skin and keeps it in the healthiest condition, but it leaves the face much easier to shave. Experience alone proves how much easier.

Usit is the trade mark name by which this preparation is known and sold by all druggists, wholesale and retail. Usit Mfg. Co., Ltd., 476 Roncesvalles Ave., Toronto, Ont.

CARPATIA OF THE CUNARD LINE HERE

BEARS AN ENVIABLE REPUTATION IN CONNECTION WITH THE LOSS OF THE TITANIC.

The Cunard Steamer Carpathia, Captain Diggle from New York, arrived here yesterday morning, and moored at the Breakwater. The Carpathia has a most enviable reputation, for it was she that was first to reach the ill-fated steamer Titanic when that vessel was on the point of sinking with so many lives.

CANADA S. S. LINES.

Steamer Cascadia, Captain Hearn left for the Maritime Provinces and North Shore points yesterday morning with passengers, mails and general cargo.

DONALDSON LINE.

Steamer Cassandra, Captain Brown, from Glasgow, May 3rd, arrived in port at 2.15 p. m. yesterday, and moored at the Breakwater. The Cassandra brought out 24 cabin and 35 third-class passengers, and a general cargo. After landing passengers and Quebec goods, she left for Montreal.

ICE REPORTS.

C. G. S. Minto, reports considerable ice from east end of Picou Island to eight miles southeast of Cape George. Bay itself clear of ice. Inside this line met ice off Port Nouveau Island, heavy but loose and extending north along the eastern coast.

COLLISION ON LAKE HURON.

Sarnia, Ont., May 14.—The steel steamers F. M. Osborne and Valcartier, both owned by Detroit parties, collided on the Corsica Shoal, in Lake Huron, near here, during a dense fog yesterday, and as a result both are resting on the lake bottom in 19 feet of water in a badly damaged condition. A misunderstanding of signals is said to have been the cause of the collision. None of the members of either crew, suffered mishap.

FREIGHTS AND CHARTERS.

New York, May 14.—The tonnage market was quiet in all trades, there being a limited general demand for tonnage. Rates were nominally steady and tonnage offerings light. Quotations to London, 1s. Liverpool, 10 1/2-11; cotton to Liverpool, per 100 lbs. $1 to $1.25.

NOTES.

Steamer Aries Captain Clark, left Marseilles, on the 3rd instant, for Montreal.

Steamer Ramore Head, Captain Findlay, left Port Talbot on the 11th instant, for Montreal.

Steamer Waccamaw, with a cargo of coal, arrived here from the Upper Lakes yesterday, and went into the Louise dock to discharge.

Japanese shipbuilding yards have recently received considerable orders for the construction of new cargo and passenger steamers.

Underwriters are beginning to discuss on what terms vessels will be insured against loss from floating mines undiscovered and unexploded when the war is over.

Steamer Chattonian, Captain Jones, from London, in ballast, arrived in port at noon yesterday, and proceeded to rMontreal.

Steamer Thor, Captain Kroger, from Knappton, Oregon, with a cargo of lumber for Messrs. M. P. and J. T. Davis, has arrived here, and moored at Indian Cove. She is the first vessel to arrive here that has come via the Panama Canal.

Germany's first submarine entered the services in February, 1907, her first twelve boats following the French type Algette, and the next eight larger boats resembling the Pluiviose class.

Steamer Turret Crown and Empress of Midland, from the lower St. Lawrence, for the Upper Lakes, passed here yesterday.

The whaling steamers Hauken and Grib are about to leave for the Gulf of St. Lawrence to commence their season's work.

Steamer Sinbad, from the Upper Lakes for the lower St. Lawrence, passed here yesterday afternoon.

Steamer Pollentia, Captain Gibbs, from Halifax, in ballast, passed here en route to Montreal at noon yesterday.

Lloyd's returns of vessels totally lost from October 1st to December 31st, 1914, show that thirty-seven of the 79 British steam vessels lost came to grief through the agency of warships or mines, over half of the steamships thus being destroyed by natural rather than German causes.

Secretary Daniels of the United States, at the launch of the Pennsylvania described this vessel as more powerful than the British Queen Elizabeth class, which has eight 15-inch guns, as against twelve 14-inch guns for the American vessel. The British ship, however, has a longer range and fires a substantially heavier shell.

SOLDIERS AND HENS.

Arrangements have been made for free training in the poultry business to be given to disabled English soldiers and at the end of three months' tuition it is intended to establish them on poultry farms.

The first two months of the course, which will be by correspondence, can be taken during convalescence in hospital or at their homes and the last month, which will be of a practical character will be taken at a farm.

It has been estimated that at the end of the war there will be some 240,000 soldiers who will not be able to take up their previous occupations and this scheme is designed to relieve in some measure the economic difficulties which will present themselves.

"It would take sufficient eggs to weigh down six armored cruisers, carrying 20,000 tons," said a poultry expert, "to make up the loss of eggs which are chiefly derived from the war area."

How to Prevent Acid Stomachs and Food Fermentation

By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is excessive acid in the stomach, aggravated by food fermentation. Hyperacidity irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisurated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bisurated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

COMMERCIAL NEWS
NEW YORK MARKET.
(Canadian Press)
New York, May 14.—Anxiety over the outcome of the international situation, more particularly the tense relations between this country and Germany, was the all-pervading feature of today's stock market.
Prices fell 3 to 5 points in the representative group and 5 to 10 points in those issues which have come to be designated as "war" stocks. Lowest quotations were made in the final hour, with only the most meagre recoveries.
Some comfort was extracted from the fact that selling was at all times moderate and unattended by any of the excitement which accompanied recent declines. To what extent actual liquidation figured in the day's operations is necessarily a debating question, but selling for the short account was frequently in evidence.
Actual news developments, so far as they affected domestic conditions, were mostly favorable, but these elements were overshadowed by the restraint which affected all circles. Bankers and other substantial interests commonly assumed to be in close touch with all phases of the foreign situation counselled extreme caution. To such an extent was this policy observed that some conservative brokerage houses not only advised their clients to close out speculative accounts, but in some instances refused to engage in new purchases of this character except for cash.
One plausible reason advanced in explanation of the day's moderate business, was that large amounts of stock could not have been disposed of without serious depression of prices. It was regarded as significant, also, that banks were scaling down values of special stocks in loans. In line with this attitude, a firmer tone was noted for all long-time maturities, even though call money was in free supply.
Total sales of stocks amounted to 720,000. Exchange market and Italian remittances were unchanged from their recent low figures. Domestic bank clearings made favorable comparison with a year ago, local banks gaining decidedly over this period of the past two years.
Bonds were weak, with total sales, par value, $2,950,000.
United States and Panama bonds declined from 1-4 to 1 per cent on call.

CLOSING MARKET LETTERS.
By private wire to Breen & Gourdeau, Stock Brokers, 63 St. Peter Street, and 6 Sault-au-Matelot 'Phone 183.
Chicago, May 14.—Wheat—There was a general feeling of uneasiness in speculative circles on account of political conditions and all commodities were depressed. Fresh export business is curtailed by uncertainty, as to the outcome of the present naval situation. While insect damage is daily confirmed and denied in turn a wider area than usual appears to be infested, although definite damage can probably not be confirmed until about June 1.
Corn—Local traders sold corn freely and the weight of their offers, together with the weakness in wheat, finally brought about a sharp break and left the market at the close 3/4 to 1 1/2% lower than yesterday. Shipping demand was light, sales of only 95,000 being reported. Argentine weather improved.
Oats—Further favorable crop reports and the break in wheat resulted in decided uneasiness in the oats market. Present heavy accumulations, generally favorable crop prospects and the possibility of interference with exports are influences which discourage investors.

THE LOWLY CORN COB PIPE.
From the Philadelphia News.
There is, virtue in the corn-cob pipe. Many women will deny this. Some, who have endured the herculean odor for the sake of the quieting effect it seemed to exert over a husband who is given to occasional manifestations of ill temper, will declare that while it may be virtuous at times, it is never more virtuous than when reposing in an airtight fruit jar on the cellar stairs. Nevertheless, the corn-cob pipe is a democratic institution. One evidence of the fact that this country is not so democratic as foreigners believe, is that according to the code of an American gentleman, the corn-cob pipe must not be smoked while wearing a silk hat. But some men find difficulty in adapting themselves to the "Missouri meerschaum." They contend that the first puff from a new cob pipe is like a breath from the nether regions. This aversion arises from the circumstances that, like a sponge, a new cob pipe should be dipped in water before it is used. After the first pipeful of tobacco has been smoked, it will be found that a liberal coat of ashes has attached itself to the walls of the pipe, rendering it thereafter much less likely to burn the tongue than it was when initiated without the formality of baptism. There is one place, however, where the cob pipe is distinctly dangerous, and that is in the mouth of a beginner in the mellow art of smoking. Mothers who dread the day when their sons shall feel obliged to assert their entrance into man's estate by acquiring a taste for tobacco, will do well to buy a corn-cob pipe and leave it carelessly about the house. In time it will be missed. So will the boy's appetite. But the appetite will come back.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY
The Cartridge Factory.
Such was the demand on our Quebec cartridge factory for ammunition 30 years ago that they were quite unable to supply the demand although the factory is running night and day. Our reporter on calling at the institution was informed that there were 115 hands employed, and that the daily average output of cartridges was 20,000, but that the Government want, if possible to double that amount.

Montmorency Falls.
A Chronicle representative who is an old resident and a most reliable and accurate investigator of all animate and inanimate phenomena around Quebec, describes the Falls of Montmorency at the present time as deserving to be numbered as one of the wonders of the world. From other sources we have also learned that it is doubtful if this fascinating cataract ever presented a more attractive appearance. The volume of water, no doubt, from the melting of the snows is immense, the thunder of its roar is deafening and the cloud of spray making rainbows in the sunshine is a sight for the gods. Now is the time for our American visitors to come and see and compare it with the great Niagara.

She Suffered for Nine Long Years

THEN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED MADAME BELANGER'S RHEUMATISM.
She also had Backache, Headache and Other Troubles, but they all Vanished When She used Dodd's Kidney Pills.
St. Amateur, Gloucester Co., N.B., May 14.—(Special).—Cured of Rheumatism from which she had suffered for nine years, Madame Pierre Belanger, a well known and highly respected resident of this place, is telling her friends that she owes her new lease of health to Dodd's Kidney Pills.
"I want everybody to know that I used Dodd's Kidney Pills for Rheumatism and that I am perfectly cured," Madame Belanger says. "I suffered from the Rheumatism for nine years. I also had backache and cramps in my muscles. I had a bitter taste in my mouth especially in the morning and I was troubled with headaches.
"When Dodd's Kidney Pills cured my Rheumatism all my other troubles vanished too."
Rheumatism is caused by diseased Kidneys failing to strain the uric acid out of the blood. Madame Belanger's other troubles are symptoms of Kidney Disease. Mrs. Belanger cured her Kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and naturally they all vanished.

CHARLES FROHMAN, GREAT SHOWMAN.
Charles Frohman, who perished on the Lusitania, was one of the most remarkable men of his generation, and exerted more influence in the past twenty years through the theatres and plays he owned and controlled upon millions of Americans, Canadians and English people than any man of his time. Those who were associated with him in New York and London in paying their tributes to his memory say that he can never be replaced, that there was only one Charles Frohman. Though a few years ago he was the object of persistent denunciation for his connection with the "theatrical trust," he must have been a man of unusual qualities of the heart to have made so many friends who deeply grieve for him. David Belasco, the playwright, says that old as he is he would like to shoulder a musket and do something to avenge the murder of his friend.
From Newspaper to Theatre.
Charles Frohman was born in Sandusky, Ohio, in 1860, and went to New York as a boy, following his brother Daniel, who was employed on the New York Tribune, where Charles also got a job. He was only 13 years old at the time, but already his theatrical genius was budding, for it is recalled that he organized an entertainment on the East Side for which he charged one cent admission, and made the performers pay three cents for the privilege of entertaining the audience. Later on he went to the office of the Graphic, and used to supplement his wages by acting as an usher in a Brooklyn theatre at nights. In 1880 he definitely entered the show business, going to Minneapolis to join the Chicago Dramatic Company. He remained for two seasons, picking up a knowledge of the business end of the theatre, and then was able to qualify as travelling manager with Callendar's Minstrels. Later on he became associated with Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels, and toured England with this show. The company landed at New York on its return from abroad at 7.30 in the evening, and less than an hour later he was giving a performance in Brooklyn, which was reckoned the most remarkable managerial feat of Frohman up to that time.

Made Fortune in "Shenandoah."
Frohman's next move was taken with his brother Daniel, who had already established himself as a manager, and under Daniel he arranged the booking of "Hazel Kirke" and other plays from the Madison Square Theatre. Then he organized four minstrel companies, and sent them over the country, and took the Wallack company on its first tour. He also traveled with the Lyceum company in the West and organized the Western circuit. But, though he had become prominent in the theatrical world by this time, he had not made any great amount of money. His first great chance was soon to come, for in Boston he saw Bronson Howard's "Shenandoah" and, though it made no great hit at the time, he saw the possibilities of it, and eventually became a part owner. This play made him a fortune.

Branching Out.
Now Charles Frohman could take his place among the managers of the day. He bought the American rights to "Pension Schoeller," which he called in the adaptation made by William Gillette "All the Comforts of Home," and that succeeded. He put a stock company—which, by the way, included Maude Adams—into the present Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre and there acted "Men and Women," by Belasco and De Mille, and "The Lost Paradise," by Ludwig Fulda. He organized a comedy company which first appeared in "Mr. Wilkinson's Widows," an adaptation by William Gillette of Bisson's "Feu Toupinel," and that was another success. "Shadows of a Great City," "Thermidor," by Sardou, and other plays were acted at the Twenty-third Street Theatre. Another success among his comedies was "Jane," with Johnstone Bennett in the leading role. Out of "Charley's Aunt" he made another fortune. He acquired the Empire Theatre, which was built for him by Alf Hayman, William Harris and Frank Sanger, and one by one added to the theatres which he controlled. Then he decided to attempt management in London, and while he controlled there at one time as many as four different theatres, he had given them all up to the Duke of York's. It was indeed in connection with a suit over this theatre that he sailed for Europe for the Lusitania. He was one of the six founders of the so-called theatrical trust.

Of late years his greatest monetary success came from "Peter Pan," with whose author, Sir James M. Barrie, Frohman was on terms of close personal friendship. Indeed, he was on better terms with British and French authors than native Americans, and the reason was, probably, that with the exception of "Shenandoah," Frohman made no great success with any American play, but many failures. Mr. Frohman's life was passed either in the theatre, in the reading of plays or in the society of playwrights and actors. He never took a holiday, rarely permitted a snapshot to be secured, and while by name he was one of the best known men in the United States, ninety-nine people out of a hundred who passed him, even on Broadway, would not know him. Mr. Frohman was as proud of his financial probity as if he had been a banker, and did more than any other man of his time, perhaps, to place the show business upon a solid commercial basis, where salaries would be paid, and all debts honorably settled. He was the Napoleon of the theatre, and there will be no other.—Mail and Empire.

GERMANS MAGNIFY SUCCESSES OVER RUSSIAN ARMY

PETROGRAD ADMITS RETREAT BUT DENIES THAT IT WAS A ROUT.

Washington, May 14.—The military attache of the Russian Embassy has received the following despatch from his government in Petrograd:
"The Russian General Staff, in a statement issued May 12, says that last week the German military authorities made erroneous statements about operations on the Russian front.
"Thus they said that the Germans took 12 guns during the battle at Libau, whereas the Russian artillery detachment operating there had but four guns. At Rossienie the Germans not only did not cause the Russians heavy losses, but had no success at all. The Russians were not in full retreat, as the German communique says, but their forces were obliged to withdraw along the front of the Russian offensive for a distance of from six to thirty miles.
"The Germans affirm that they have driven back the Russian attacks at Kalywarya, Augustowa and Przaszysyns and inflicted great losses on the Russians, but the Russians made no attacks there. The Germans attacked the Russian forces at Vaskiedna, Rajetz and at the farm Pomicany, but some of their attacks were only demonstrations and the others were for the purpose of reconquering the necessary points they had lost previously.
"In Galicia, after the abortive German attempt to surround the 48th division of the Russian army, the German action during the last nine days has had the character of frontal attacks against the Russian fortified positions, which have been successfully repulsed by the Russians. It is true that the Russian losses are very heavy, but it is true also that the losses of the German-Austrian army are enormous. Wishing to boom their success the Germans multiplied by many times the number of Russian prisoners, taken by them, a great part of whom were wounded, as the Russian troops, gradually retreating, had no means of taking them from the field of battle.
"The boom about the great victory in Galicia seems to be intended to raise the spirits in Germany and to restrain Italy from the decisive step she is now about to take."

A SORE WHICH WOULD NOT HEAL
Policeman's Testimony to Zam-Buk.
Constable R. B. Nunn, of Vernon, B.C., says: "I would like to bear testimony to the wonderful healing properties of Zam-Buk. For over two years I suffered acutely with a sore on my leg which, despite all treatment, turned into an open ulcer. I tried all kinds of medicines, ointments, liniments, etc., but notwithstanding, the wound seemed only to get worse. Finally it became so bad that I was on the point of going into a hospital when a friend persuaded me to try Zam-Buk. I did so, and the first few applications made the ulcer less painful. By degrees the inflammation went down and there were traces of healing. To cut a long story short, from the time of first commencing to use Zam-Buk the ulcer improved and twelve boxes of Zam-Buk effected a complete cure.
"Although the ulcer was healed, I was still afraid that the healing would be only temporary, and that in a very short time it would break out again. To my extreme delight such has not been the case. It is close on a year since Zam-Buk healed the ulcer, and as there is not the slightest trace of any further trouble, I can safely speak of my case as a complete cure."
The above is but one of many instances where Zam-Buk has proved effective in healing old and obstinate sores after other preparations have completely failed. For eczema, piles, cuts, burns, bruises, chapped hands, cold cracks, and all skin diseases or injuries, and as an embrocation for rheumatism, sciatica, stiffened muscles, etc., nothing can equal Zam-Buk. All druggists and stores, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 50c. per box. Refuse substitutes.
