ALL INDEPENDENTS BACK MEASURE TO MERGE TRANSLATION SERVICES

Liberal Amendment to Give Government Motion Six Months' Hoist Turned Down by Overwhelming Majority—Sweepstakes Bill Given Majority in Senate Despite Opposition of Party Leaders—House to Debate Labor Motion Opposing Granting of Titles Today.

Ottawa, March 7.—Titles have the right of way in the debates of today's short sitting of the House of Commons. The resolution proposed by Humphrey Mitchell, Labor member for Hamilton East, which, if passed, would forbid the Prime Minister from recommending the name of any Canadian to His Majesty as a fit person to receive a knighthood, a baronetcy or a peerage, is first on the order paper.

Legalized sweepstakes moved forward another step yesterday when the Senate passed the sweepstakes bill on second reading. It has yet to encounter the House of Commons, however, which defeated it last year by an overwhelming majority. The bill received a majority of seventeen when it passed the Senate. Both Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Government leader, and Rt. Hon. George P. Graham, acting Liberal leader, voted against it.

The Government's translation bill, the subject of a prolonged controversy in the House of Commons, also advanced a step yesterday. By a substantial majority the House voted down a move by E. R. E. Chevrier, Liberal member for Ottawa, to give the bill a six months' hoist.

It is designed to centralize all translators employed by the Government in a central bureau. They are now scattered through various departments and Hon. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State, who sponsors the bill, believes the change will result in greater efficiency and also a measure of economy.

Debate on the measure was confined to French-speaking members, most of them Liberals, who claimed the bill would not accomplish its announced purpose, but would detract from the standing of the French language.

Liberals cheered loudly when Farmer and Labor members all supported the Government in the vote, an indication they saw in this fact a talking point for raising crops in the next election. Mr. Cahan will close the debate on second reading of the bill on Thursday.

Today the Stevens committee on business practices, mass buying and price spreading resumes its sittings. Representatives of the retail merchants of Canada will give evidence.

MONOPOLY IN PURCHASE OF TOBACCO IS CHARGED

Ottawa, March 7.—Charges that a combine or monopoly in the buying of tobacco in Canada existed were made in the House of Commons by E. J. Gott, Conservative, Essex South.

"The price of tobacco to the producer is so discouraging that it will be difficult for him to raise crops in the years to come," declared Mr. Gott. "The price of tobacco must go up, and I suggest to this House and to the country that there is a combine in the buying of tobacco. . . If there is not a combine, there is a monopoly, which is much worse."

The incident passed and the House continued the consideration of estimates in committee of supply.

WOULD EXTEND PROBE OF CANADIAN BANK PRACTICE

Ottawa, March 7.—The salaries paid to bank officials, the prevalence of bank mergers and the practice of financial institutions other than banks calling themselves banks, are three questions to be given special attention during consideration of the act respecting banks and banking, whose non-contentious clauses were approved at the first meeting of the House Committee on Banking and Commerce yesterday.

Of the 170 sections of this comprehensive measure seventy-one, regarded as beyond the realm of controversy, were adopted and it was during brief discussion of some of the other sections, as they were called by the Chairman, R. B. Hanson York-Sudbury, that the views of different members of the committee were indicated regarding bank salaries, mergers, the use of the "bank" connotation and the question of the duration of bank charters. It was decided that the committee would meet every Tuesday and Thursday, and as its work develops there will be morning and afternoon sittings.

Early in the proceedings a bomb was thrown by C. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec South who moved, seconded by John Vallance, Liberal, South Battleford, a resolution to define the scope of the inquiry of the committee. It took the committee by surprise, and both the chairman and the Minister of Finance, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, opposed immediate consideration of the motion as, according to the Minister, it involved discussion of public policy. Mr. Hanson argued that it be allowed to stand as a notice of motion to be debated at a subsequent sitting and this was finally adopted. Mr. Power interjected, though, that this would not preclude decision on the question of employment of counsel by the committee.

This, however, was deemed an inseparable part of the Power resolution, and the whole subject was left over.

Mr. Power in his resolution asks the committee to especially inquire into interlocking directorates as between the banks and commercial bodies, the policies adopted by the private banks to combat the effects of the depression, and their Continued on Page Two.

EX-GOVERNOR GENERAL OF CANADA DEAD

Edinburgh, March 7.—The Marquess of Aberdeen and Temair, former Governor General of Canada, died today at his residence at Tarland, Aberdeenshire. He was eighty-seven years of age.

John Gordon Campbell, first Marquess of Aberdeen, created 1915, was Governor General of the Dominion from 1893 to 1898. He is succeeded by his son, the Earl of Haddo.

GERMANY AND POLAND END TARIFF WAR

Warsaw, March 7.—Germany and Poland ended their tariff war today with a mutual trade treaty.

It was signed by Joseph Beck, Foreign Minister of Poland, and Hans Adolf von Moltke, German Minister, and becomes effective on March 15.

The signature concludes eight and one half years of friction over irksome customs measures and retaliatory counter-moves.

CLAIMS MCGILL STARVES STUDY FOR ATHLETICS

Stephen Leacock Declares University Must Live on Something More Than Reputation of Football Team.

Toronto, March 7.—Professor Stephen Leacock, head of the department of political economy at McGill University, Montreal, last night told the McGill Society of Toronto that at the Montreal institution "we are starving scholarships" in order not to lessen athletic activities.

"The fool idea," he continued, "has gone abroad that a university lives on the reputation of its football team. If a university cannot live in these days without that, then it ought to die."

He declared the universities were turning out "keen young men for the day-to-day requirements of the business world, but we are turning out scholars nowhere."

Professor Leacock maintained the university had too many relations with the public. "In the life of the university student down to the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries it was largely a case of scholarship and the midnight oil, whereas today the student is overwhelmed by merely business ability and the midnight gasoline," he continued.

LONG SENTENCE IMPOSED UPON WOMAN DOCTOR

Dr. Alice Wynkoop Sentenced to Twenty-Five Years in Penitentiary for Murdering Her Daughter-in-Law.

Chicago, March 7.—Only a higher court, or death itself, can save Dr. Alice Wynkoop from the penitentiary now.

A jury convicted her last night of slaying her daughter-in-law, Rheta, in the "operating table" murder. It fixed her sentence at twenty-five years imprisonment in the penitentiary. Only two ballots were taken.

The murder drama that began when Rheta's body was found, a bullet in her back, on Dr. Wynkoop's operating table last November 21st, kept its interest in rising crescendo to the last.

With the jury in its place, ready to report its verdict, Judge Harry B. Miller summoned the jail physician to stand by the sixty-three year old woman, and be ready to administer strong heart stimulants, lest the shock of the verdict strike her dead.

She did not need his ministrations. She heard the verdict as she sat in her wheel chair without the sign of a quiver. She turned to two of her children, Walker and Dr. Catherine Wynkoop, and said:

"Go home, now children, and sleep. Your mother is not guilty. No, No, Not guilty."

In a moment it was over and this paradox of a woman, with a keen, strong mind in a frail body, was being wheeled from the court room back to the infirmary cot at the county jail. There she will await the result of her attorney's efforts to win a new trial.

Arguments for a new trial have been set for March 24th. If they are denied, an appeal to the State Supreme Court is planned.

Monday, but the public demonstrations for the man whose family has given priests, warriors and jurists to the Province of Quebec and Canada were reserved for yesterday. The celebrations were climaxed with a banquet given in his honor last night by Hon. Jacob Nicol, Speaker of the Quebec Legislative Council.

Memories of his early political life in 1900 when he was first elected to the Legislative Assembly as Liberal member for Montmorency—the constituency he still represents—were recalled by the Premier last night. In replying to Hon.

INSULIN CURE FOR PARALYSIS AND INSANITY

Mexico City Doctor Claims That by Injections He Succeeded in Reaching Nerve Centres of Affected Persons With Medicine.

Mexico City, March 7.—Several successful cures of insanity and paralysis through the use of insulin injections were claimed today by Dr. Donato Perez Garcia, of the Industrial Hospital.

Insulin, in world-wide use as a cure of diabetes, was discovered by Dr. Frederick G. Banting and C. H. Best, both of Toronto.

Dr. Garcia said that by injections he had succeeded in reaching nerve centres of affected persons with medicine, thus overcoming the chief difficulty in treatment. He said persons suffering from progressive paralysis were saved from death and two insane persons restored to reason.

Other doctors were not inclined to comment on the statements being saying more time was necessary before it would be possible to tell if the treatments really effected cures.

REFUSES TO COMMENT

Toronto, March 7.—Dr. Frederick G. Banting, co-discoverer with Dr. C. H. Best of insulin, declined today to comment on reports from Mexico City that the substance had been used successfully in curing progressive paralysis and insanity.

Insulin was discovered by the two Toronto doctors in 1922. Dr. Banting was awarded the Nobel prize

MUNICIPAL PROBLEMS TO FORE AT SESSION OF QUEBEC LEGISLATURE

Little Progress Reported on Bill to Amend Charter of City of Montreal—Speaker Left Chair to Defend St. Hyacinthe Legislation—Parties United in Congratulating Prime Minister on Sixty-Seventh Birthday.

Quebec, March 7.—Congratulatory messages having been extended to Premier L. A. Taschereau on his sixty-seventh birthday anniversary and minor bills discussed, the Quebec Legislative Assembly today turned to other business.

The Montreal bill was discussed during yesterday's session of private bills committee of the Legislature, but little progress was reported. The financial situation of Montreal was not reached, and it is expected the bill will be before the committee for many days.

Numerous public bodies in Montreal favor the appointment of a commission to control finances now under the executive committee of the city council. The salary of Recorder-in-Chief Amedeo Tholin was increased from $7,000 to $8,000.

Both sides of the House united in wishing Premier Taschereau good health in his sixty-eighth year, his birthday having been on Monday. A bouquet of sixty-seven roses was presented to the Premier.

Lucien Dugas, Liberal member for Joliette, continued the discussion on rural credits with Charles Paquet, Liberal member for Montmagny, adjourning the debate. J. P. Giguere, Liberal member for Dorchester, and Oscar Drouin, Liberal member for Quebec East, spoke on encouraging the use of Quebec's natural resources.

At the night session Hon. T. D. Bouchard left the Speaker's chair to defend a clause in the St. Hyacinthe charter amendments bill in the House. Mr. Bouchard, who is mayor of St. Hyacinthe, spoke on this clause, which provides that valuation and collections rolls for the past nineteen years be held valid and legal. The bill was passed.

The special taxes concerned are those relating to maintenance of sidewalks and pavements and public lighting.

One of the main objects of Mr. Bouchard's amendment was to force Mr. Justice Louis Teller, a retired member of the Superior Court, to pay taxes on certain lands he owns in the city in spite of a contract he signed with the city a number of years ago.

Legislators unite in tribute to Taschereau

Quebec, March 7.—Premier Louis Alexandre Taschereau, K.C., today was well started on his sixty-eighth year.

Private celebrations of Mr. Taschereau's birthday were held on Monday, but the public demonstrations for the man whose family has given priests, warriors and jurists to the Province of Quebec and Canada were reserved for yesterday. The celebrations were climaxed with a banquet given in his honor last night by Hon. Jacob Nicol, Speaker of the Quebec Legislative Council.

Memories of his early political life in 1900 when he was first elected to the Legislative Assembly as Liberal member for Montmorency—the constituency he still represents—were recalled by the Premier last night. In replying to Hon.

FOUR PERISHED IN DISASTROUS AIRSHIP CRASH

Blinding Blizzard Blamed for Tragedy That Overtook St. Louis-Chicago Airliner Last Night When Four Persons Lost Their Lives.

Petersburg, Ill., March 7.—A blinding blizzard that glazed its wings with ice was blamed today for the crash of a St. Louis-Chicago airliner which cost four lives last night.

The dead: Hugh Sexton, twenty-six, aviation editor of the Chicago Tribune; E. H. Waetjen, New York; Walter Hallgren, transport pilot, and W. N. Bell, of Chicago.

The plane, an American Airways craft bound for Chicago, plunged down through swirling snow and smashed into a deep drift on a farm near here. Apparently all four victims died instantly. Hallgren failed to the last, cut his switch when he saw a crash inevitable, thereby preventing fire.

American Airways officials said apparently the crash occurred before Hallgren had time to acknowledge a radio message ordering him to return to St. Louis because of the weather.

When the ship was about two miles from the scene of the crash, they said, the pilot messaged that visibility was about an eighth of a mile, ceiling about five hundred feet, and ice was coating the wings. A wireless order directed him to return to St. Louis but it was never acknowledged.

For medicine the following year, but announced he would divide it with Dr. Best.

THE GOLD STANDARD IS MENACED BY SILENT SAVANT.

London, March 7.—A modern miracle—no less than the conversion of gold into cement—was discovered at a London bank today.

Bank attendants opened a box which contained 930 fine ounces of gold, worth $32,300 when it left Cape Town, South Africa, on February 16th. The box still weighed 930 fine ounces but its value had dropped to $2,349—figuring the box itself worth $2,350. The box contained cement.

All the police know is that there was gold in that box when it started for London, that the box was locked in a strong room which was unopened throughout the voyage, and that the police themselves had watched it constantly since it arrived at Southampton Monday to be transported by train to London.

BIG PROPERTY AT GRANBY HAS CHANGED HANDS

Dr. Runnells' Dufferin Heights Hospital Sold to Order of Sisters of the Immaculate Conception.

Granby, March 7.—An important real estate transaction involving the sale of the Dufferin Heights Hospital has been filed in the local registry office. By the terms of the deed of sale, the Sisters of the Order of the Immaculate Conception have become the new proprietors of the Dufferin Heights Hospital operated by Dr. G. W. Runnells, and will take possession at the beginning of May.

Dr. Runnells, corner for the District of Bedford, has conducted the Dufferin Heights Hospital for the past ten years. Dr. Runnells will continue his private practice here, and will open another hospital, the location of which has not yet been decided.

The Sisters of the Immaculate Conception have been located on Ottawa street for the past three years, where they have conducted a kindergarten and a private school.

The sale price involved was not divulged by the parties concerned.

SEEK MISSING JEWELLERY OF DEAD SWINDLER

Investigators Receive Valuable Aid in Study of Bayonne Pawnshop Scandal from Paris Mannequin.

Paris, March 7.—A search for the late Serge Stavisky's missing jewels—with a pretty young mannequin aiding—claimed the spotlight today in the investigation of the Bayonne pawnshop scandal.

The jewels sought were supposed to have been used by Stavisky to get funds from the municipal pawnshop. Afterward, police say, they were withdrawn mysteriously and disappeared.

It was just one of the many ways, investigators have revealed, in which the so-called "master swindler" succeeded in mulcting the public of millions before the resounding collapse of the pawnshop of which he was the founder.

The mannequin, an acquaintance of a man whose name has been mentioned in the Stavisky investigation, already has supplied valuable information in the investigation, and they planned to question her further.

The trunks of a beautiful actress, Rita Georg, were ordered seized today, but the reasons for the order was not announced.

A vast collection of cheque stubs appropriated from the beautiful Mme. Arlette Stavisky, widow of Serge, occupied investigators today. They sought by minute examination of the stubs and by questioning Mme. Stavisky to lay bare his political relations and uncover those who protected him.

In fact, the survey disclosed the complicated hieroglyphics of Stavisky's annotations was proving more baffling than a cross word puzzle. Results so far have been disappointing.

Council yesterday. One of these was in regard to gasoline, another to amend the Mines Act, another the Public Health Act, one regarding sub-divisions, one regarding Black Lake and that of Notre Dame de Lourdes. Second reading was given to the measure in regard to a more strict control of places of amusements. Third reading was given the bill to prolong for a year the Quebec Insurance Act, temporary provisions, 1933.

Rome, March 7.—Night and holiday classes in the operation of machine guns for a selected group of Giovanni Fascists or youths between fourteen and eighteen years, in the Rome area, will begin Sunday.

GROWING FRICTION APPARENT IN RANKS OF DOLLFUSS SUPPORTERS

Despite Assurances of Leaders of Full Agreement With Chancellor Dollfuss, Heimwehr and Catholic Storm Troops Give Signs of High Feeling, Especially in the Tyrol—Fascists Demand Control of New Austrian State.

Vienna, March 7.—Indications of increasing friction between the Fascist Heimwehr—Home Guard—and the Catholic Storm Troops—both powerful and armed organizations supporting the Dollfuss-Fey-Starhemberg regime—aroused keen interest today.

The Heimwehr forces swear allegiance to Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, while the Catholic Troopers were organized and are commanded by Kurt Schuschnigg, Minister of Justice.

Prince Starhemberg recently emphasized that he and Chancellor Dollfuss are in full agreement. Such assurances of harmony have been repeated within the past few days.

Nevertheless, actions and utterances indicating a growing tension keep cropping up, particularly in the Tyrol.

One of the first moves of a new Catholic Storm Troop leader there was to issue a statement attacking the Heimwehr as unqualified for serious duty as a Government auxiliary force. He charged the Fascists with unsoldierly behaviour, poor discipline, and alleged that the populace was bitterly complaining about them.

Provincial headquarters of the Heimwehr sharply repudiated these allegations and plastered Innsbruck with posters proclaiming the Heimwehr and only the Heimwehr can save Austria. A few hours later many of these posters were covered with Catholic Storm Troop posters.

The upshot of the situation is that in Innsbruck the Heimwehrmen have quit saluting the Storm Troops.

In Vienna the friction is by no means so noticeable. Fascists, however, do not conceal their conviction that it will be the Heimwehr function, as the oldest and strongest armed patriotic organization, to rule new Fascist Austria.

ATTEMPT TO END GROWING TRADE WAR WITH FRANCE

Most Important Trade Negotiations Undertaken by British Government since Ottawa Conference Will Open in London Next Week.

London, March 7.—The most important trade negotiations undertaken by the British Government since the Ottawa Conference open here early next week when an attempt will be made to end the growing trade war with France.

Lucien Lamoureux, French Minister of Commerce, is coming to London with a staff of experts to open Anglo-French trade negotiations, and in view of the many complicated questions involved the talks are expected to last a considerable time.

British dissatisfaction with treatment accorded the United States under the French system of import quotas led to the breach between the two countries.

MONTREAL POLICE ABANDON FIGHT ON SLOT MACHINES

Authority Being Issued Whereby Slot Machines Will Be Operated Legally Under a Ten-Dollar Licence.

Montreal, March 7.—Abandoning its long fight against slot machines, the Montreal Police Department is now issuing authority to the city's Department of Licenses and Permits to grant the ten-dollar slot machine licence within the city limits.

The recent ruling by Judge Amedeo Monet, of the Criminal Courts, that the machines in question do not constitute gambling apparatus within the meaning of Canada's Criminal Code is responsible for this decision, with the result that slot machines are now making appearance in the city under legal sanction. From Quebec comes the intimation that the province will demand its share if the machines are legal.

Director Fernand Dufresne, Montreal police head, admitted as much, yesterday, but added: "Licenses are only granted when applicants prove that children will not be allowed to gather about them. In other words, establishments—stores, restaurants, etc.—which prove that they will not admit children are being granted slot machine licences."

The decision brings to an end open warfare waged by the Police Department during the past two years against slot machines in the city.

AWARDED DAMAGES FOR BEAUTY SHOP BURNS.

Los Angeles, March 7.—Mrs. Valerie von Stroheim, wife of Eric von Stroheim, actor and film director, was awarded $125,000 damages by a superior court jury last night for burns on her face, hands and shoulders received in a beauty shop explosion.

object to "clarifying reservations," but would oppose vigorously any amendments intended to defeat the purpose of the pact.

"Reservations, if only clarifying, are merely repetitions of what we mean anyway," Pittman said, adding he could not speak for all the pre-treaty forces.

The Nevada Senator indicated the reservations least objectionable were those guaranteeing United States sovereignty over Lake Michigan and limited Canadian diversion, from Georgian Bay.

WHEN YOU GET WHAT YOU EARN DO NOT FLAUNT IT IN THE FACE OF POVERTY.

Not for many years has there been such a baiting of the bankers as that which is now occurring at the decennial revision of the Canada Banking Act.

Plutocracy and the "plutes" are the object of every sling in the vocabulary of the radical and the anarchist.

The unrestrained power of plutocracy is the receiving end of each stone of the critics. It is helped by those who merely play, for the necessary desire of providing campaign funds, and abetted by those who seek political glory from the unthinking. Aristocracy was the epithetic aim of the French revolutionaries in the decade preceding Napoleon's grasp at power. Yet aristocracy always exists; for the aristocrat is the person who is obsessed with that superiority of mind and purpose, often sadly to the point of posture and strutting.

We study our history and the theme that nothing is new under the sun, and we find that in the destruction which may occur by and through revolution is always replaced in some different form, yet with all its purposes alike.

The comrade-citizen of the era does not outlast the lifetime of they who advocate that all men are alike. Hostility of one class arrayed against another will soon perish, for those who toy or play with the fire and enthusiasm of equality are soon overcome by the finer trained minds.

Wild appeals made in misanthropic language against the unrestricted power of money moguls only influence the shallow thought with limited power of understanding.

Yet there are among what are termed moneyed men the newly rich. They are as the spoke in the wheel which needs repair, the men who flaunt, and who create antipathy among their fellows. Glorified and self-exalted, these men with the get-rich-quick aptitude, are not of as much account as the clever mechanic who does a perfect job under difficult circumstances.

We can lead the simple life, enjoy all the luxuries of modern travel, but in our enjoyment we can restrain our posturing to the flimsy stage without flaunting it in a Rolls-Royce.

Nor will baiting the banker ever gain to any of our people any of that which they may envy to the point of unrestraint.

SURPRISE WHEN IT CAME TRUE.

The Provinces of Canada are complaining of lesser profits in 1932 from the sale of liquor. Yet all the statesmen who urged it did so on the ground that there would be lesser consumption under government control. Much to their surprise what they said has come true. The trend is towards drinks of a smaller percentage of alcoholic content. A good healthy thirst would not be welcomed at all were it not for the carbonated temperance drinks which are used as a mixture with the straight liquor. Government control and the taking away from the liquor traffic of private gain may ultimately bring about a temperate use of liquor. That is indicated by the falling off in provincial government gains across Canada.

Mayhap we can look forward to the time when temperance advocates in the place of denouncement, will suggest the something better.

In Quebec Province ginger ale and other soft drinks have a larger per capita consumption than in any other province in Canada.

It is the manufacturers of temperance drinks and of confectionery who have been heavily punished by the excessive tax on sugar, while the Government reduced the excise and customs tax on alcoholic importations.

That was temperate.

INSTRUCTIONS WHICH SHOULD BE LIVED UP TO.

Just as the new Minister of Revenue, Hon. Mr. Matthews, struck the note of service and courtesy in his first address to his department, has United States Commissioner MacCormack voiced it in his spring address to his staff along the border line.

In the Sherbrooke-Quebec District the instructions were presented to the whole staff by H. R. Landis, in the district which he directs from headquarters at Newport, Vt.

The staff are instructed that they must keep constantly in mind that they must go about their duties efficiently but humanely and in a spirit of helpfulness rather than in petty persecution. The officers are to give service, to serve and assist aliens coming or going, to listen with fair and impartial hearing.

Courtesy and consideration are the least expensive and perhaps the most useful of the tools to be employed.

Immigrant inspectors are advised to greet the border crosser with "a good morning and a smile," which goes far in the elimination of friction or resentment in the pourparler.

The staff should preface a negative with "I'm sorry." Each member should couch his questions in polite phraseology and avoid a gruff or impersonal tone; he should be friendly and encouraging. Should a matter of ingress have to be referred to an Inspector, there should be left a feeling of confidence in the fairness and impartiality of the procedure.

The examiner who is courteous avoids any appearance of harshness, arbitrariness or irritability, and does much to expel fear, and expedites examination.

They must bear constantly in mind that the port inspectors constitute the first contact of returning Americans and arriving aliens with the Government of the United States, and that the treatment they accord those coming before them "has reactions throughout our country and far beyond our shores."

Concluding: They can and should be not only "Guardians at the Gate," but "Ambassadors of Good-will."

That's the spirit.

We in Canada can read, learn and inwardly digest, and hope it will also be applied to our inward and outward officers in every department of government. Thus only can we hope to gain by evolution that which our forbears of an hundred years ago demanded by revolutionary or rebellious measures.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

It was a sensible suggestion and to the point as made by Albert E. Munn, M.P., for Vancouver, that the Dominion abandon the Trent Canal, or give it away. Hon. Dr. Manion pointed to the contractual obligations as a reason for holding on and enduring the terrible losses on operation. Yet each party in Opposition condemn the operation of both the Rideau and the Trent Canals, both obsolete. The electric power sites, which form the obligations, could very readily be sold to those who make use of them, and this would save the country millions of dollars in a few years. What is the other snag? Both canals, through little usage, are full of snags.

Ten cents a line for advertising in a government gazette with a paid circulation of less than 1,000 copies would be looked upon as a cheap swindle by any recognized publisher of any publication. Yet that is the average price charged by governments for advertising legal notices which the law says must be published in these various gazettes. The worth price would be one cent a line. So that it is a regular Ponzi swindle on the public. You can place ten whys on it and not get even a whispered reason why.

The fastest worker, the most diligent of all performers is the Devil, who rejoices in the classic name of Satan, as being more sedate. We would suggest that the Minister of Labour at Quebec place him on the minimum wage law and the shorter hour week. In this case, the Hon. Mr. Arcand would be kept so busy chasing the devil around the block that he would not get his "Chief" into hot water with those who have been the backbone of the support given to the present administration.

Those who remember only the cheerful yesterdays and lose sight of the confident to-morrows are casting shadows on the present. Much of the ismistic legislation aimed at recovery by laws belongs to that ilk. The Bank of Canada is a Thirteenth Bank. Who loves to sleep or to take stock in a political bank No. 13?

Foolish legislation against free speech on a charge of blasphemy is just blowing the sparks of mediocrity into the blaze of persecution and martyrdom. No movement gains ground in a self-interested world until some people, as foolish and fanatical, take too much notice of it.

When Hon. Peter Heenan returned for a few days to his job as engineer on the railway, he wanted to run the train as governments are run—with the brakes wide open and free.

What Editors Say

THE POOR RICH MAN WHO THE
BULGING-EYED AGITATOR
DAMNS

Fort William Times-Journal.

The millionaire, who is the envy of the proletariat and the bugbear of the socialist, does not cut much ice in the general scheme of things, according to a summary of the history of many fortunes, contributed to the Cosmopolitan by Samuel Butler. The amassing of wealth does very little good to the man who amasses it and still less to those to whom he is supposed to hand on his fortune. According to Mr. Crowther, only the Astor estate, among all the large American fortunes is more than a century old, and that fortune, consisting of a half of real estate, may prove to be rather a liability than an asset, when low rents and high taxes are taken into consideration. The same may be said of the fortune of the Duke of Westminster, who once described himself modestly as being the owner of a few houses in London, but who has large holdings of city property no longer make him one of the richest men in England. Land poverty is recognized as being one of the troubles of men who once were supposed to be wealthy.

It is a great pity that there are only three really enormous estates in the United States today, those of Rockefeller, Mellon and Ford, and all of these are actually in the first generation. What may happen to the Rockefeller millions that are invested in real estate, such as Radio City, is a problem, but is not unlikely that a few years from now values will have shrunk to a not inconsiderable extent. Big as the Mellon fortune may be, it is bound up in industrial investments and no one can predict the course of those securities may be during the next few years, and as for the Ford millions, their value all depends upon whether Ford cars can be sold at a profit. If the Ford Motor company is run at a loss, the investment is worth just nothing. Henry Ford has a lot of real estate, but most of it has been bought for his own personal gratification, not for the income it will bring in.

The way in which a fortune may suddenly disappear in spite of its size and apparent permanence is seen in the case of Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, a goodly fortune, a share of the Rockefeller money with the millions of the McCormick family. Rated at one time to be worth forty million dollars, she died with no assets except a magnificent house, mortgaged for half a million, the interest on which she carried a white elephant for any heirs to carry.

All these fortunes were acquired by methods that are esteemed honest, yet it has been impossible for the owners to preserve them, while the host of rich men who have become quickly rich by questionable means have as suddenly collapsed like a pricked bubble.

There is indeed no way that has yet been devised to save a fortune for any individual, and shirtelevens to shirtelevens is the rule. Fortunes founded on railroads have dwindled to nothing and the same may be said of almost every other fortune based on any kind of industry.

To find any fortune that goes back for two or three centuries, Mr. Crowther says that we must turn to the princes of the orient, whose fortunes are said to date back even a thousand years, but have no connection with industry and are merely accumulations of precious metals and jewelry. These remain valuable simply because the world says that gold and silver are worth so much and that rubies and diamonds have a certain value. If it were not for that diamonds were only pebbles and that gold was valueless, the Gakewar and Maroda would be penniless.

It seems, therefore, very little use for the revolutionary to waste breath in abuse of the millionaire. The poor rich man is doomed to lose all that he has sooner or later through the process of nature or through the action of Providence, or rather, he is the predestined victim of a revolution that is inescapably going on all round him.

REVEAL VAN SWERINGENS DEFAULTED ON HUGE SUM

Failed to Meet $40,000,000 Bank Loans Against Which They Pledged Working Control of 2,000,000,000 Railroad System.

New York, March 7.—The New York Times says a sworn statement to be filed with the Federal Trade Commission under the securities act discloses that the Van Sweringens, brothers of Cleveland, have defaulted upon $40,000,000 of bank loans against which they pledged working control of their $2,000,000,000 railroad system.

The statement was prepared, the paper says, by a protective committee for securities of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway, unit of the 28,631 mile system the Van Sweringens built up after acquiring the Nickel Plate Railroad in 1916 on a capital of $1,100,000.

The bank loans are understood by the Times to have been in default since November, 1931. In that event, during all of that period the bankers for the Cleveland Railroad men, most important of which is J. P. Morgan and Company, were in a position to take over control had they wished to do so. The fact that they refrained from exercising this option is ascribed as the reason why no knowledge was had of the default until today.

MEN SHOT BY COMRADES IN WAR VINDICTED
Paris, March 7.—Four French army corporals, shot to death during the war by their own comrades for failure to obey orders, were vindicated—sixteen years too late.

Their families yesterday were awarded damages of one franc, 6½ cents, each by a special court of military justice which declared they had been unjustly executed.

Efforts to vindicate them had been in progress for several years.

ADVANCED AGE IS REACHED BY DAVID COUSENS

Venerable Bolton Glen Resident
Is Today Receiving Congratulations on His Eighty-Eighth Birthday.

Bolton Glen, March 7. — From within the shadows of the charming hills of Bolton have gone forward many men who have distinguished themselves in the pulpit, in educational circles, in business and industry.

But there is one who did not heed the call of the far-off, but preferred to spend his lifetime in the pursuit of agriculture and to enjoy the peace and comforts of a life spent amidst the surroundings where he first saw the light of day.

This venerable gentleman is David Cousens, who is today observing the eighty-eighth anniversary of his birth. From far and wide will come messages of good wishes and congratulations to one of the fine old gentlemen of the Eastern Townships, one whose name is honored and beloved wherever it is known.

The name of David Cousens may well be linked with other outstanding former residents of his district. He and the men who ventured forth and made their names and work known in more distant sections. Among these are such men as Canon Elson I. Rexford, M.A., D.D., D.C.L., LL.D., the late John Pibus, formerly of Bolton; Rev. E. M. Taylor, M.A., of Knowlton; B.A., Mayor Felton Johnson, of West Bolton, and many others.

Born in the year 1846, David Cousens has witnessed a changing world. Buffalo trail, wagon road, iron railways are changing paths of progress. Men's homes have changed. He has lived to see many changes in government and education. The invention and progress of the telephone, the radio and progress in aviation have occurred during his lifetime.

But in spite of these many and varied changes, David Cousens has remained the same. He still loves "old things," the old ways of life, the British Empire, his native land, the Eastern Townships and his beloved Bolton. Old songs, old poems, old friends are still cherished by him. The new fascinate him, but the old charms and inspires this venerable old gentleman.

The Cousens family possesses all the marked characteristics of the Irish race. If any one doubts that the "art of conversation" is on the wane, let him visit David Cousens and be convinced otherwise. He converses on many topics interestingly. The old stone homestead, a brave little home that hugs the road along the Bolton Hills, is a power of hospitality. There one finds a serenity produced by this Christian man possessing the quiet mind which enables him to pass through the hurry and turmoil of a speedy age with tranquility and peace. He loves youth and many can relate how their imagination was inspired towards a lofter life by the influence of this kindly man. He was rightly named David, St. David, the patron saint of Wales, was born on March 1st for he too possesses the gift of song. In his home and community life there is much singing and with it good fellowship! Mr. Cousens has the genius for friendship and irrespective of any barrier, he shares their joys, endeavoring to cheer them in trouble and lighten their burden.

March may fluctuate climatically, but this eighty-eight-year-old son of March is true to his birth, "Firmness and truth." His gaze has been steadily upon the upper thought and vision of life and he has "companioned" with things beautiful and noble, so that his life has captured their exalted pattern and influence. March's flower, "the violet," suggests humility, and David Cousens is ever clad with humility, not caring to be praised, but content to live and give the world the love it needs. His life is a life of simplicity and he fully exemplifies Henry Van Dyke's definition of "simplicity," for he possesses "a certain openness of mind to learn the daily lesson in the school of life; a certain clearness of spirit to perceive the best in things and people, to love it without fear and cleave to it without mistrust; a peaceable sureness of affection and taste; a gentle straightforwardness of action; a kind sincerity of speech."

It is oft-times refreshing, to study the lives of the "pioneers" for they speak of a time of reality when moral values alone were authentic and unchanging. One can learn much from those of another generation, and increasingly admire and emulate their old standards of all that is good, beautiful and true. Wherever the many friends of this charming man are today they will join with his immediate family, Mrs. Florence Stanbridge, of Bolton Glen; Mrs. Henry Mizener and Mrs. Martin Mizener, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Cousens, of Bolton Glen; his aged sister, Mrs. Mary Jane Porter, of Newport, Vt., and their children, in wishing this hardy pioneer, kind father, ardent patriot, loyal Christian, helpful citizen and true friend many happy returns of the day.

REPORTS OF NEW GOLD DISCOVERY STR SOUTH AFRICA

Johannesburg, South Africa, March 7.—Transvaal mining circles were stirred today by reports of discovery of a new gold field in the Kroonstad district where a reef was said to run in a circle thirty miles in diameter.

Government experts were sent to the district to investigate statements that the yield of the ore was similar to that in the famous Witwatersrand deposits.

BRITISH INDUSTRIALIST HOPEFUL FOR RECOVERY

Diversification of Products,
Courage and Determination to Go Forward Will Play Large
Part in Steel Industry's Advance.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., March 7.—Sir James Dunn, noted British industrialist, told an audience here last night that diversification of products, supplanting too large a dependence on the rail industry, courage and determination to go forward would play the biggest part in advancing the steel industry here and again placing Sault Ste. Marie in a position as one of the Dominion's foremost steel centres.

Speaking at a banquet in his honor, Sir James, who holds the majority of first mortgage bonds of the Algoma Steel Corporation, declared the doors of the company would have been nailed up within a year had it not been for the co-operation of Mayor James Lyons, J. A. McPhail, director of the Algoma Power Company and T. E. Simpson, Conservative member of the House of Commons for Algoma West.

STEEL OUTPUT TREBLED IN PAST TWELVE MONTHS

Steel Review Declares Industry
Looks Forward to Continuance of Progress Made Since Roosevelt Took Office a Year Ago.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 7.—Pointing out that steel production in the United States has more than trebled since the Roosevelt administration took office exactly a year ago, the magazine Steel today asserted the industry expects a continuation of the progress.

A one point gain during the week just past, Steel said, lifted production to a forty-eight per cent. level, which compared with fifteen per cent. a year ago.

"In the month just past," the magazine said, "steel tonnage booked by leading interests was double that of January, and there is strong expectation on their part

PRESIDENT OF LUMBER GROUP IS OPTIMISTIC

Improved Conditions in United Kingdom and United States
Expected to Open Door for Increased Canadian Lumber
Exports.

Montreal, March 7.—A brighter situation for the Canadian lumber industry was predicted by J. S. Bock, of Montreal, president of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, in his address to the annual meeting which opened here yesterday.

Exports to the United Kingdom have been strikingly higher in recent months, Mr. Bock pointed out, and improving conditions in the United States should open a greater field for use of Canadian woods.

For the fiscal year ended March 31, 1933, he showed exports to the United Kingdom of 107,807,000 feet, or more than was exported in any year since 1928," he said, "and for the nine months, April to December, 1933, our total export was almost 400,000,000 feet. The export for those nine months was greater than the total export in any year since 1921.

"This increase in our exports to the Old Country was not brought about entirely by the temporary embargo against Russian Lumber. While this embargo, naturally, had something to do with it, nevertheless, the greater portion of the increase was due to better business in the Old Country, including, of course, a greater consumption of lumber and wood products."

Official information as to the exact wording of the portion of the new trade agreement between Russia and the United Kingdom respecting lumber was awaited. The understanding was that the quantity of lumber Russia would be permitted to export this year would not for doubling the February volume in March.

"Steel production and shipments this month will more closely reflect actual consumer demand, as an artificial stimulus has not been supplied through price advances."

Rail orders for the week were totalled at 39,000 tons and fastenings at 8,170 tons. Structural awards, 23,721 tons, were nearly double the preceding year.

"Scrap prices continue their steady ascent, mainly due to scarcity and prospective demand," the magazine said. "Steel's composite, again moving up 25 cents to $12.20, is the highest since October 8th, 1930.

"Steel's iron and steel price composite remains $32.40, and finished steel $51.10."

exceed 350,000 standards and that the fall clause had been abandoned. "Whether this 350,000 standards is to cover the total imports from Russia direct or indirect we are unable to say," Mr. Bock noted, "but believe that official information on this point will be available shortly."

Some changes in the lumber code under the N.R.A. in the United States were expected shortly, the president indicated.

"I believe that due to the very strong stand taken by the President of the United States and backed up by the Congress, there will be a steady improvement in business in that country, which would, naturally, include an increased consumption of lumber and forest products generally. We may, I think, hope to obtain a reasonable share of this increased business."

"I do want to say that the Canadian lumber industry has, I am convinced, made every effort to live up to the spirit and letter of the code and the rules of fair trade practice and the minimum prices."

Several technical papers are to be presented and several group meetings are to be held before the gathering ends tonight.

Step out into the SUNSHINE

How many days of your life are lost in feeling under par? How many hours which might be bright are dull and dispirited?

Half-hearted days are frequently due to common constipation. It clouds your waking hours, takes the sunshine out of living. Yet it can be overcome so easily by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's All-Bran provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid elimination. All-Bran is also a fine source of iron.

The "bulk" in All-Bran is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this "cereal" way pleasant than risking patent medicines?

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. With each meal, in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve All-Bran as a cereal or use in muffins, breads, omelets, etc. In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

PROGRAMME OF UNUSUAL CHARM MUCH ENJOYED

Miss Elsie McLuhan, Noted Canadian Entertainer, Assisted by Local Musicians, Presented Delightful Programme in Plymouth Church Hall.

An entertainment of unusual charm, featuring Miss Elsie McLuhan, director of Dramatic Art at the Von Kuniz Academy of Music and Art, Toronto, assisted by Mrs. J. Keith Edwards, soprano, Mrs. L. E. Codere and Miss J. Brunwell, pianists; Mr. C. Gregoire, violinist, and Mr. F. Smith, cellist, was presented last evening in Plymouth Church Hall before a large and most appreciative audience for the benefit of the V.O.N.

The visit of Miss McLuhan to Sherbrooke had been eagerly anticipated by many of her admirers and to witness her performance as an entertainer is well known.

This clever and versatile artist, whose impersonations delighted everyone and won the instant and spontaneous approval of the large and representative audience last evening, is giving in Plymouth Church Hall, a large and most appreciative audience for the benefit of the V.O.N.

The next item was a one act play entitled "The Florist Shop," Hawkrider, which was very cleverly portrayed, the several characters being very realistic, even to the errand boy chewing gum. "Humoresque," Hurst, was a revelation of the artist's latent power, the beautiful tale which makes "one laugh to keep from crying, and cry to keep from laughing," is full of pathos and beauty, and the impersonator made the characters so real that it was easy to visualize the scenes she so cleverly depicted.

An "Historical Resume," with apologies to "1066 and All That," was too absurd for words and hilarious laughter greeted each special event in the review, which was supposedly read by a maiden lady who had not spoken in public for many years. Miss McLuhan, by special request, inserted a humorous number entitled "Peter," portraying a small boy who vigorously objected to being bathed by "mother."

The two last selections were perhaps outstanding in the varied and well-balanced programme arranged for last evening, "The Two Friends," a touching tribute to a life-time friend who had "passed on," by his "pal," a simple, honest man, was most impressive, and "Silence" was the tribute paid Miss McLuhan at its conclusion. Her last appearance was in the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet," in which she wore a gorgeous Elizabethan costume of gold velvet and lace. The familiar scene of the world's most beloved lovers was a fitting finale to the excellent entertainment presented by this charming and gifted impersonator.

Mrs. J. Keith Edwards excelled in her delightful contributions to last evening's programme, singing beautifully three of the loveliest songs ever grouped together, namely, "Most Wonderful It Must Be," Franz Ries; "Overtones," Oscar Rasbach; and "April, My April," Harold Vincent Milligan. The brilliant and intricate accompaniments were played by Mrs. L. E. Codere in her own inimitable manner. The instrumental trio by Miss Brunwell, pianist; Mr. C. Gregoire, violinist, and Mr. F. Smith, cellist, lent a pleasing and most acceptable variation to the delightful evening's entertainment, which concluded with God Save the King.

DO YOU WISH AN EXTRA COPY? Some 1500 copies of the Anniversary Review of the Record, marking its 38th year of publication, were printed. There are now only 300 copies left over for the usual after-demand. These will be sent anywhere by mail for 5c, or by counter delivery for 10c. Each copy within a fortnight there is not likely to be a single copy left, for there was not last year, nor in previous years, even when 2,000 extra copies were printed.

This special issue has been declared "your best yet" by many of our readers.

"Was your garden a success this year?" "Very much so! My neighbor's chickens took first prize at the poultry show."

CITY BRIEFLETS

J. A. Pigeon, 68 Wellington N., said this morning: "There's no sense hanging on to shoes that don't move. Take these men's shoes that I've marked away down to $2.00. Good honest leather, every one. Some a little too square toed, some were boots which my cobblers cut down, all have months of wear in them and that's what counts with men. Some were supposed to sell at $6.00 and $10.00 but they're now marked $2.00 to clear. Sounds ridiculous but it's true. Nearly every size in one style or another and I think the whole set pair will be gone within three days."

Until the end of this week, Rosenbloom's great sale of made-to-measure suits at $22.50—64 fine cloths. Dependable tailoring. This is really unusual value. At Rosenbloom's.

WEEKLY MEETING OF OMEGA-ALPHA CLUB Further plans for an "Old Man's Night" were discussed by the members at the weekly supper-meeting of the Omega-Alpha Club at the Y.M.C.A. last evening. President W. D. Humphrey occupied the chair, and the absence of a guest speaker confined the activities of the club to business matters.

Following supper, the members were entertained by Albert Lothrop, who rendered several pleasing harp-toned selections, with Malcolm Turner as accompanist.

SMALL ROLL BEFORE DISTRICT MAGISTRATE Judge J. H. Lemay had only two cases in the Magistrate's Court today.

Ivan Smith, of Cookshire, charged with a statutory offence, appeared before the Magistrate behind closed doors. The preliminary hearing of Harry B. Mosley, North Hatley, who is charged with attempting to murder his two sons, and which was scheduled to be continued this morning, was adjourned at the request of defence counsel until next Wednesday.

INTERESTING ADDRESS WAS GIVEN ON "PRAYER" The opening devotional exercises at yesterday's meeting of the Women's Auxiliary held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Hodge, London street, were conducted by Rev. Dr. W. S. Lemay, pastor of Trinity United Church, who gave an interesting address on the subject of Prayer.

During the business session, over which the president, Mrs. J. Lowe, presided, plans were made for a rummage sale, and it was reported that the entertainment recently sponsored by the Auxiliary had been very successful.

At the tea hour additional visitors came in to enjoy a cup of tea with the members, when the hostess was assisted in her hospitable duties by Eleanor and James Hodge.

FORMER E.T. RESIDENT CELEBRATED 92nd BIRTHDAY For many years a resident of the Eastern Townships and married ancestor of several families in this part of the Province of Quebec, Mrs. Julia Letitia Weir recently celebrated her ninety-second birthday anniversary at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belleville, Upper Graniteville, Vt. Mrs. Weir's health, considering her advanced years, is good, and she takes a keen interest in the affairs of the modern world.

Born in West Farnham, Que., a daughter of John and Jane Boyd, she married James Weir, who predeceased her fourteen years ago. Thirty-five years ago she moved to Westerville, Vt., where she resided until making her home with her daughter last September.

She was the mother of twelve children, ten of whom survive, namely, Mrs. Frank Belleville, Upper Graniteville; Mrs. Frank Tucker, Upper Graniteville; Mrs. James Riley, Westerville; Mrs. Fred Nutbrown, Graniteville; Mrs. Ed. Belleville, California; Mrs. Rupert Gilbert, Bishopston; Mrs. Herbert Turner, Bury; Vernon Weir, East Barmouth; James H. Weir, East Montpelier, and Scott Weir, Hartford, Conn. In addition she has twenty-five grandchildren, fifteen great-grandchildren and one great great-grandchild.

The meeting gratefully accepted the generous offer made by the Hebrew Ladies' Guild to give a bridge and tea for the benefit of the V. O. N.

The financial report given by Mrs. W. B. McCaw, the treasurer, was rather discouraging. At yesterday's meeting the dire need for a new car for the nurses was fully discussed, and after hearing quotations it was finally left to the executive committee and the men's advisory board to decide.

The meeting gratefully accepted the generous offer made by the Hebrew Ladies' Guild to give a bridge and tea for the benefit of the V. O. N.

THREE FAMOUS ARTISTS

Members and Associates of Royal Canada Academy of Artists Will Co-operate With Ceylon Government.

A series of representative works by distinguished Canadian artists purchased by the Ceylon Tea Bureau, a department of the Government of Ceylon recently established in Montreal to supervise the flow of Empire-grown tea to Canada. Richard Jack, R.C.A., F. S. Coburn, R. C. A., and Robert Pilot, A.R.C.A., are among the artists who have already supplied canvases to the Bureau. Together with many other characteristic scenes painted by Canadians, these will be used for reproduction in magazines and in other ways. The use of the highest quality art work has for some years been a commercial custom in Europe; but until now the work of the R. C. A.'s has not been utilized for advertising purposes. The purchases of the canvases mark a new departure in Canadian advertising usage.

Another series of scenes from the brushes of Canadian painters will be used next year.

The total receipts for the month amounted to $420.87 and expenditures to $348.32, leaving a deficit for the month of $111.70.

The nurses' monthly report stated that 362 visits were paid, 218 of which were bedside or nursing visits. There were 16 new cases and the total receipts were $72.25. Included in this amount was $25 from the Lennoxville Women's Institute for a course in home nursing given by the V. O. N. under their auspices.

SCOTCH TEA ENJOYABLE EVENT.

The Scotch tea and food sale sponsored by the Lennoxville Women's League of St. Andrew's Church yesterday afternoon in the Women's Institute room in Lennoxville was a most successful and enjoyable social event. The many guests were cordially received by Mrs. J. G. Tremblay, the president, and Mrs. Robert Ray, the treasurer.

Daffodils in profusion decorated the room and a silver basket adorned the pretty tea table, over which Mrs. E. McLeod, presided.

The Scotch tea was conveyed by Mrs. J. Christison, assisted by Mrs. H. Ray, Miss E. Dundin and Mrs. Allen.

The table of home-cooked food was in charge of Mrs. H. Armstrong and Mrs. J. Sawyer, who found no difficulty in disposing of their tempting wares. Assisting in serving were Miss A. Dundin, Mrs. E. Cathcart, Mrs. H. Fowles and Mrs. Hunting.

Lennon, officiating. A quartette composed of Miss Eleanor Wheeler, Miss L. Ransehouse, Mr. C. E. Soles and Prof. R. Havard rendered the two beautiful hymns, "Peace, perfect Peace" and "Abide With Me."

The casket was borne to its last resting place in Elmwood Cemetery by Messrs. Alton E. Peck, G. Fred Peck, John MacDonald, James Crawford, Herbert Martin and Halton A. Clark.

Among those who sent floral tributes were Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Division 134, Farnham; Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Howard and Mrs. B. C. Howard, Miss Westaway, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woolloren and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Alton E. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Peck, Miss Clara Hyndman, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sarney, Mr. Herbert Martin and Mrs. Lee Audet, Mr. and Mrs. W. Stapleton, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Bray.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Lou Viola Hall, was born at Franklin Centre, Que., on January 23, 1892, and was united in marriage to Orrel E. Harrison on September 11, 1918. Mrs. Harrison was a talented musician and a graduate of the Dominion College of Music.

In addition to her bereaved husband, Mrs. Harrison leaves to mourn, two sisters, Mrs. L. A. George, of Mansonville, Que., and Mrs. R. A. McIntosh, of Dewittville, Que., and one brother, Mr. Howard H. Hall, of London, Ont., besides several nieces and nephews.

An unusually sad incident was the fact that the bereaved husband, due to his own illness, was unable to attend the funeral ceremonies.

Among the relatives and friends from out-of-town who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. L. A. George, of Mansonville; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McIntosh, of Dewittville; Mr. George Harrison, of Bury; Miss Flora George, R.N., of Montreal; Mrs. A. J. McIntosh, of Ayer's Cliff; Mrs. Harold Laval-liere, of Farnham, and Mr. William Miller, of Megantic.

POSTAL OFFICIALS CAN DO NOTHING

In the Meantime Record Subscribers Should Send Remittances by the Safer Channels.

It is always a risk to enclose currency by mail. Within the present year four different subscriptions have been sent to the Record, and because there was money in the envelope some petty thief between here and there abstracted the money. The unhappy thief has not yet been apprehended, so it is well for each and every one of our nine thousand subscribers to use express orders or postal notes.

Of the four missing subscriptions which never reached the Record Office, one came from Fitch Bay, one from Rock Island, one from Sweetsburg, one from Hardwick. So the dishonest man is preying on the mails in the southerly district. If you see any over-affluent fellows who are near to the mail service some help can be given in tracing them by just telling.

The inspector's office in Sherbrooke was closed some time ago for the sake of economy. This official was always quick to trace the rascals, but now we have to pay or rather lose by reason of a false idea of economy.

NEW PLANE IS A SIGHT TO DELIGHT AIRMAN'S EYE

Its graceful lines standing out in startling relief against its background of high-piled fleecy clouds, this sleek all-metal Lockheed Electra, first of three tested in Burbank, Calif., for service on the transcontinental route of Northwest Airways, is a sight to delight an airman's eye. Highly stream-lined, its controllable pitch propellers and two Wasp supercharged motors give it a cruising speed of more than 190 miles an hour.

AERIAL MILKMAN FLIES TO RESCUE OF SNOWBOUND

Airplanes came to the rescue when residents of isolated suburban Long Island towns faced a food shortage after New York's worst snowstorm in forty-six years. ## MAGOG PLANS ERECTION OF MODERN ARENA

Delegation of Prominent Textile Town Citizens Waited on Town Council and Formed Association to Discuss Plans for Construction of Covered Ice Surface.

During the past few years the Eastern Townships have become hockey conscious. The growth of this popular winter sport has been very marked of late years, and at the present time aggregations are being developed in this region which are quiet capable of holding their own with anything the province can produce. Despite the economic stress which decreased attendances at other sporting attractions, hockey has felt little or no depression, and the healthy condition of almost every organized club at the end of the present season shows that in a few years this district will enjoy the reputation it knew a decade ago.

Hockey has become a matter of civic pride. The conquest of the Moncton Hawks last year in their successful quest of the Allan Cup made the moguls of the hockey centres outside the big cities sit up and take notice. Moncton was a place compared to the upward of before its Hawks blazed across the continent and reminded all and sundry that the Maritimes were still in existence, that they were no longer the section of Canada which no longer provided the Dominion with sea food.

A mental examination might have been sought for anyone who predicted Moncton as the 1932-33 holders of the Allan Cup, which amounts to world supremacy in amateur hockey. Now, however, the opinion prevails that anything can happen before slates and hockey sticks are discarded in favor of baseball bats, tennis rackets and the like.

The same situation has developed in the Eastern Townships this year. Sherbrooke has always been regarded as the cream of Eastern Townships talent. But the end of this reign has arrived with startling suddenness and this city has to take its place on even footing with other intermediate centres affiliated with the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association until it has regained its lost prestige.

The Maroons' defeat by East Angus last Sunday may prove to be the turning point in the history of Eastern Townships hockeydom. As quickly as the news spread of the downfall of the local realm, outside centres argued that if East Angus could beat Sherbrooke, why couldn't we? The defeat, although a bad blow to the Maroons' hopes, is regarded in the broader sense not only a victory for East Angus, but a conquest for the remainder of the smaller centres.

Neither the Record nor the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association claim full credit for the remarkable progress made in Eastern Townships hockey during the past winter. But these two factors have done considerable to foster and nourish the idea of amateur hockey. The benefits to be derived from linking with the provincial body carried the Brome-Missisquoi Counties Hockey League into the Q.A.H.A. family and brought valuable publicity to that section of the Townships. At the present time there are no less than five intermediate, two industrial and several junior, juvenile, midget and bantam league in the Eastern Townships operating under the Q.A.H.A. standard, representing a total of nearly one thousand registered hockey players.

In past years, East Angus, Coaticook, Windsor Mills, Danville and Magog vied with Sherbrooke as the most popular hockey hub in the Eastern Townships. This year Cowansville made its bid and gave promise of reaching greater heights next year. Further, Sawyerville, Cookshire, Scottstown and Bury in the Compton County League; Richmond and Kingsley Falls in the Richmond County League; North Hatfield and Waterville in the St. Francis Valley League; Fairbairn, Knowlton, Bedford, Waterloo and Sutton in the Brome-Missisquoi League, all contributed their share towards turning the Eastern Townships hockey wheel.

Now Magog plans to go a step further. For years there has been agitation in the Textile Town to erect a covered rink and enhance Magog's chances of gaining its just share of hockey laurels. Realization of the difficulties which beset players who are obliged to play on outdoor surfaces during a schedule and then switch to the arena for the off-ice has prompted a group of public spirited citizens to start a movement in this direction.

A large gathering of Magog sportsmen and business men waited on the town council. The delegation received a sympathetic hearing from Mayor Ed. King and his councilors. In fact, the proposal to erect an arena has met with general approval, and plans of the proposed structure were laid on the table and preliminary steps discussed. These plans include accommodation for seating, a sport arena, and a large open ice surface.

Public interest in the matter is being gauged by a series of petitions which are in circulation. At the present time there are one senior team, five squads of intermediate ranking in the Textile Town, and two junior aggregations operating in the Textile centre, while the ever-increasing skating population is taxing the capacity of four large open air surfaces.

Officers for an association which will be incorporated in the near future were named as follows: honorary presidents, John T. Hackett, M.P., Alfred J. Bissonnet, M.L.A., and Blair Gordon; president, John Peters; vice-president, Joseph Ouellette; secretary-treasurer, A. Russell; committee, Mayor Kingsland, Donald E. Huot, A. Q. Langlois, A. R. Reade, W. W. Levesque, A. Robert, Albert Lepine, D. Audet and John

Letter to the Sporting Editor

SPORTING GESTURE IN MAROONS' REPLY TO EAST ANGUS
To the Sports Editor,
Sir:—I will be generous enough to allow me, on behalf of the Sherbrooke Maroon Hockey Club, a little space in your valuable sport page I will answer and explain to Mr. J. E. Palmer, of East Angus, why the Compton County Hockey League was omitted from the winter programme sponsored by the Maroon Hockey Club. Before answering Mr. Palmer, however, let me take this opportunity of congratulating the East Angus hockey team and of offering the Maroons' wishes that East Angus will capture the Provincial Intermediate championship.

In regard to the point raised by Mr. Palmer. The Maroon Club management wrote to the secretary of the Compton County Hockey League and requested a copy of the schedule. This was the practice followed in connection with the other leagues in the Eastern Townships. No answer was received from the Compton County League secretary after the Maroon Club had waited a week, and the programme had to be dropped.

I believe, Mr. Palmer, that this letter will clear up the matter and that the citizens of East Angus will continue buying in Sherbrooke in the future as they have in the past.

Again assuring you and the East Angus hockey team of the best wishes of the Maroon Hockey Club, I remain,
Respectfully yours,
LEONARD E. O'DONNELL,
Sherbrooke, March 7, 1934.

Concor.

Mr. Russell addressed the gathering, pointing out what influence such a project would have on the young people and on Magog's athletic activities. The speaker also mentioned that an arena would help to encourage the principle of Canadian sports and healthful recreation.

Mr. Huot outlined the important fact that Magog would be able to play its home fixtures in the Textile Town when Magog was suitably equipped.

There is also some discussion about erecting an arena in Windsor Mills, but as yet nothing definite has been decided.

LARGE CROWD COMING FROM EAST ANGUS

East Angus, crowned Eastern Townships intermediate hockey champions on Sunday, will make their fourth play-off appearance of the 1933-34 season here tonight when they tackle Dorion, Vaudreuil County champions, in the provincial intermediate semi-final round. The fixture is a "sudden death" affair and the winner will qualify to meet either the Quebec Aces or the Malheur, the last captured by the Quebec Granites last winter.

The slight drop in the temperature during the night and indications that the sun would not appear very often today resulted in the decision that the game would be played in Sherbrooke as scheduled and not in Montreal as tentatively planned if ice was not available here.

According to word received from East Angus this morning another capacity crowd will witness tonight's match. A special train will be run from the Paper Town, while Sherbrooke has got over the grief that one of its teams is not in the playdowns and will show its backing for East Angus by turning out en masse.

While East Angus and Dorion are exchanging pleasantries tonight, the Quebec Aces and the Malheur will be battling in the Ancient Capital. The Aces are favored to win their semi-final bracket, taking a two-goal lead into tonight's fixture as a result of the four to two victory they achieved in Kenogami last week.

ALBERTA-BRITISH COLUMBIA PLAY-OFF DATES ARRANGED
Vancouver, March 7.—The senior amateur far west inter-provincial Allan Cup playdowns, a two-game, best-of-three series between Alberta and British Columbia, will be played at Calgary on March 12 and 14. President Art Jeffrey, of the British Columbia Hockey Association, announced today.

The Edmonton playdowns between the Edmonton Athletic Club and the Trail Juniors will open at Edmonton on March 10, with the second game at Trail on March 27.

MONARCHS WON WINNIPEG SENIOR TITLE

Winnipeg, March 7.—Playing heads-up hockey throughout, the Winnipeg Monarchs skated to a four to nothing victory over the Selkirk Fishermen here last night to annex the Winnipeg senior hockey championship and win the right to represent the Brandon Wheat Kings for the "A" division title of the Manitoba Senior Hockey League.

PORT ARTHUR JUNIORS AHEAD IN THUNDER BAY LEAGUE
Port Arthur, March 7.—A new Thunder Bay Junior Hockey League scoring record was set by the Port Arthur West Ends today. One goal in arrears with less than ten minutes remaining in the third period, the Westies counted five goals to defeat the Fort William Maroons by five to one last night in the first of a two-out of three-game series for the league title. Manahan scored for the Maroons in the second period, while Kivisto, McCormack and Haggarty tallied for the West Ends, the latter bagging three points.

U.N.B. CAPTURED MARITIME INTERCOLLEGIATE CROWN
Saint John, N.B., March 7.—University of New Brunswick rules Maritime intercollegiate hockey for 1934. The fast skating U.N.B. six downed the favored Acadia University squad by three to one at the Forum last night in a "sudden death" encounter for the championship. A well-nigh invincible goalkeeper with well executed scoring thrusts by the winners and over-zealousness on the part of the losers brought victory to the Capital six in a third-period goal orgy.

CANADIENS ARE BERTHED ABOVE MAROONS TODAY

Aurel Joliat Scored Twice and Furnished One Assist as Habitants Dealt Heavy Blow to Americans' Play-Off Hopes—Boston Handed Toronto a Trimming.

Balked by Aurel Joliat, Canadiens' mighty mite, the New York Americans saw their National Hockey League play-off hopes fading today as the Habitants moved into second place in the Canadian division over the Maroons and left the battling with the New Yorkers to their Montreal rivals.

The slim figure of Joliat, veteran left winger, rose last night to bar the Americans' way to extra-series money. He scored two goals and aided in a third that gave Leo Dandurand's team a three to nothing victory, their fourth in five games over Joe Simpson's team, and made it tougher than ever for the Americans to beat either Montreal or the Canadiens trailing Eddie Gerard's team by five points.

The Canadiens' victory shot them a point ahead of the Maroons and left the Americans trailing. The Gerard's team hockey points. The teams go right back into battle with each other on Thursday night at New York with the Habitants favored to make their hold on second place stronger with another victory.

Joliat's work was the highlight of an evening of hockey that saw two strong teams beaten by cellar outfits. Toronto took a seven to two lacing at Boston before 12,500 persons and the Rangers bowed by five to four to the Ottawa Senators in overtime at New York. Neither score is accepted as an indication of the strength of the teams as Toronto has nothing more to win now and the Rangers are believed contents to qualify for the playoffs.

All Canadiens' goals against the Americans came in the first period, and they were satisfied to hold the visitors scoreless for the remainder of the game. Wildor Larochelle got the first marker on the initial face-off. Howie Morenz and Joliat working a clever double pass to give him the shot.

Morenz got in on the second goal also with Johnny Gagnon when Joliat worked through a tangle of Americans for his shot and his team-mates were given assists. The little left winger got his second goal in the last minute of the period, taking a pass from Jack Riley to beat Roy Worters.

The victory, worth a lot to the Canucks, may prove costly as they lost the services of George Mantha, who has been working well on a line with Pete Lepine and Johnny Gagnon. He crashed into the boards in the second period and is believed to have fractured a bone in his foot.

The huge crowd, the season's largest, cheered wildly when Ace Bailey, former Leaf star who was injured at Boston on December 12, shook hands with Eddie Shore at the start of the game last night. Bailey faced the puck and presented medals to doctors and a nurse who cared for him in Boston.

Marty Barry was the star of the tilt, playing one of the best games of his career and scoring two goals. Nels Stewart and Hee Kileira introduced the only rough note when they staged a fist fight.

Dit Clapper, Red Beattie and Barry all scored in the first period before Red Horner got Toronto into the scoring column. Barry repeated in the second and Joe Lamb got one. Buzz Bell scored Toronto's second in the third frame, and Nels Stewart and Don Smilie, former Toronto amateur, added to the Boston total.

Nick Wasnie was the whole show at New York, scoring three goals and assisting in another. He put Ottawa ahead twice with his markers, tied the score in overtime and then assisted in the winning goal.

Bill Touhey shared honors with the veteran Wasnie, scoring two goals and picking up a pair of assists. Butch Keeling, Murray Murdoch, Bun Cook and Vic Riewley scored for the New Yorkers whose defence was poor all evening.

C.N.R. BOWLING HOPES DULLED BY JEWELLERS

McAllistermen Won String from Railroaders Last Night to Convert Race for Second Half Championship into Merry Scramble—Fish Market Retained Slim Hope.

The Jewellers have earned one distinction through their association with the Sherbrooke Industrial Bowling League. By long odds, Gordie McAllister and his mates are the most colorful aggregation in this trundling group. They seldom win, they frequently lose, they sometimes default. But no one can ever tell what they are going to do next.

Last night the Jewellers faced the Canadian National Railway entry which needed a three-string victory to retain sole possession of the leadership. Their ambitions were soon shattered. The McAllistermen went on a wild rampage and finished up by winning the first string—by three pins. So elated were the Jewellers that they thought little of permitting the Railroaders to emerge victorious in the second and third games.

The single string C.N.R. last night brought their "lost column" total to six, the same number of games lost by Boswell's and the City Gas Department. The last two teams have played three strings less than the Nationals.

The Fish Market retained its slim hope of finishing on top by taking three strings from the Record Office. The Hatcheries have lost seven strings, but anything can happen as the Jewellers proved last night. Although the newspapersmen absorbed another shutout, Arnold Pearson, their lead-off man, totalled the highest single string, a mark of 190.

Kinkead's won the third game of the evening by default from Blue's. Jack Morn, of the Jewellers, annexed the three string honors with an aggregate of 548.

MAROONS WON FIRST HALF OF Y.M.C.A. LEAGUE

It just goes to prove, as "Snarker" Sims stated this morning, that you can't count your chickens before they're hatched. "Snarker" and his fellow Strikers had visions of drawing up on even terms with the Maroons in the Y.M.C.A. five-pin Bowling League. Their opposition last night as they completed the first half of the schedule was the Board of Directors, snugly nestled in sixth place in the standing. The Strikers were obliged to win three strings in order to necessitate a play-off with the Maroons. They won two strings, but the Directors captured the third by a slim margin of ten pins and the Maroons were automatically declared title holders.

In the second match last night the Page-Sanger entry cleaned up the last-place Y's Men to boost their third-place average by three strings. L. Whiting led the printers in the single string department with a total of 228, while a team mate, G. Smith, Continued on Page Two.

second place in the "Big Seven." Boucher last night obtained the assist for the point needed to jump into a second-place tie with Primeau, as his team went down before Ottawa by five to four.

Aurel Joliat, of the Canadiens, came back into the "Big Seven" again when the Montrealers defeated the Americans by three to nothing. He went into a seventh-place tie with Paul Thompson, of Chicago, by getting two goals and one assist. Marty Barry, of Boston, and Cecil Dillon, of the Rangers each collected two points, the former with two goals and Dillon with two assists. The standing to date follows:

THREE ENTRIES UNDEFEATED IN CURLING 'SPIEL

Manitoba, Ontario and New Brunswick in Favored Positions Today for Macdonald Brier Trophy Honors—Quebec and Saskatchewan Broke Even on First Day's Play.

Toronto, March 7.—Alberta's hopes of retaining the title already pretty well shattered, three rinks moved on today in the Macdonald Brier Trophy curling chase in favored positions. Manitoba, Ontario and New Brunswick entries were unbeaten.

Two rounds of matches yesterday among the eight provincial champions had more disastrous results than usual. Double defeats were inflicted on Nova Scotia, Northern Ontario and Alberta. Quebec and Saskatchewan broke even.

Leo Johnson's Winnipeg Strathconas and the Hamilton Thistle set 2 and by a gritty six-year-old Gordon Campbell were pre-bonspl favorites. There had been no champagne in sentiment today, but R. W. Crocker's entry from Newcastle, N. B., received serious attention.

Crocker and his mates were impressive yesterday in defeating Northern Ontario in the morning and Quebec in the afternoon. A. H. M. Jlay's Quebec rink had showed to great advantage in the first round, upsetting Saskatchewan by eleven to ten, but Crocker made short work of Hay in the afternoon winning by 16-5.

Meanwhile Johnson's Manitobans were downing the defending champions, skipped by Orwell Stuart, of Macleod, Alta., by 11-8 and beating Nova Scotia by 15-7. Campbell drubbed the Nova Scotians by 26-2 and won a gritty battle against Northern Ontario by 10-9.

The Campbell and Johnson rinks will not meet until the seventh and final round Thursday afternoon. In the first round today, the Ontario quartette play Alberta, while Manitoba faces Saskatchewan. New Brunswick is favored to beat Nova Scotia. In the fourth game, Quebec will play Northern Ontario.

The critics are not yet ready to count out Quebec and Saskatchewan, who divided their first two games.

TO PRESENT PAT LID TROPHY TONIGHT

Tonight promises to be one of the red letter nights of the year for the Sherbrooke Curling Club. The occasion is the formal presentation of the Pat Lid Trophy won by local enthusiasts at the Edinburgh Trophy Competition last January. A strong contingent of officers of the Granite Association and the Canadian Branch, headed by T. Howard Stewart, thane of Quebec, will arrive in Sherbrooke at 7:15 p.m.

Proceeding to the club house, they will be welcomed by President Claude Spaford and the members of the local club. Following the welcome and the presentation, several friendly games are scheduled, members of the Lennoxville club being special guests of the evening. Later refreshments will be served. The Montreal visitors will return home on an early morning train.

SHARP DECLINE IN BRITAIN'S UNEMPLOYMENT

Not Since 1927 Has Unemployment at This Period of the Year Shown So Great a Fall.

London, March 7.—Britain's industrial recovery still swings ahead. Figures issued by the Ministry of Labor show that unemployment is down in all divisions of the country. All classes of industry report improvement as against February of last year.

The number of employed on February 19th, being the latest figures available, was 67,000 higher than in January, and 625,000 higher than a year ago.

The total registered unemployed on February 19th, including temporarily out of work, was 2,317,909. This is a reduction of 71,159 from January, and a reduction of 538,729 from the year before.

Not since 1927 has unemployment at this period of the year shown so great a fall.

Industries showing the greatest improvement during the month include building, public works manufacturing, boot and shoe manufacturing, tailoring and pottery manufacture.

There is also some improvement in iron and steel, engineering, motor vehicles and shipping services.

As against last month, however, there was a small decline in coal mining and in dock and harbor services.

MOTHERHOOD CAUSES LADY PREACHER TO QUIT CHURCH

Glasgow, March 7.—Despite her congregation's plea to her to continue, Rev. Vera Kenmore, Scotland's first woman minister, has resigned from the Patrick Congregational Church here following disharmony among the congregation when she became a mother as well as a minister.

Mrs. Kenmore married a member of her congregation a year ago and Sunday last was her first appearance in the pulpit since the birth of her baby. Hundreds were unable to get into the crowded church.

"I am glad the decision of the Church has been to ask me to continue the ministry, thereby showing your faith in the ministry for women in this further stage, but I am still aware of opposition and hostility which makes honest co-operation impossible," she said. Many women wept on hearing her announcement.

MATTER OF PRECEDENCE TO BE GIVEN FURTHER STUDY

Government Awaits Views of Catholic Church on Question of Whether a Cardinal Takes Precedence Over Papal Delegate at State Functions.

Ottawa, March 7.—When the views of the Roman Catholic Church on the question of whether or not a cardinal takes precedence over the papal delegate at government functions are definitely ascertained, the matter will be given further consideration.

This was the statement of Hon. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State, in the House of Commons yesterday. Mr. Cahan was answering a question placed on the order paper by P. A. Seguin, Liberal member for L'Assomption-Montcalm. The Liberal member asked if the Government had cabled to London "in connection with the matter of precedence at the opening of the present session of Parliament." If so, he wished to have the text of the cablegram together with the reply received.

ANOTHER STRANGE MARINE MONSTER HAS BEEN FOUND

New Discovery Is of Same Type as That Which Aroused Consternation of Gaping Norman Coastal Folk Last Week.

Cherbourg, France, March 7.—A second mysterious marine animal, washed ashore at Grenville, nine miles northeast of Cherbourg, provided a plethora of "sea monsters" today.

The new discovery is of the same type as that which aroused the consternation of gaping Norman coastal folk on the Querequille rocks, thirteen miles away, last week. The first was described as having a body twenty-five feet long and four and a half feet in diameter, a thin neck three feet long and of all things—a head like a camel.

Neither has been identified definitely but Professor Corbier, eminent scholar of natural history, took a look at the curiosity on the Querequille rocks and dubbed it a rare form of hyperoodon. This, in plain language, simply means a bottle-nosed whale.

A tug captain's contribution to the controversy over the identity of the first stranger was that he had seen it six weeks ago, swimming along near the port.

It had "a head resembling a horse and was at least three feet out of the water," the old captain averred.

The body of the Querequille rocks find has been sent to Paris for examination.

Magog, March 7.—Four hundred citizens attended the inaugural business meeting of the Magog town council in the town hall. The newly elected First Magistrate, Mayor Ed. Kingsland, entered the Council Chamber followed by Councillors P. Thomas, H. Chamberlain, E. Potvin, J. Pelletier, L. Gingras and D. Audet, while the secretary-treasurer, A. Girard, was also in attendance. Following a short prayer in both languages, the business before the meeting was brought forward for discussion.

The minutes were adopted and a resolution was passed putting into effect the following scale of salaries: secretary-treasurer, $300 per annum; chief of police, $22 per week; assistant chief, $20; night police, $18; foreman of water department, $22; assistant foreman of water department, $16; electrician, $22; assistant electrician, $20; power house operator, $22; pumping station operator, $18; and team and truck drivers, $18.

The report of the health inspector, Dr. E. C. Cabana, recorded that a recent inspection of public buildings, hotels, abattoirs, butcher shops and other public places had revealed first class sanitary conditions.

A bill amounting to $645.49 was passed for direct and indirect relief during the month of January, and it was reported that seventy-five families were on direct relief for February. Mayor Kingsland cast the deciding vote on an amendment to a motion naming A. Pratte, George Rolland and D. Hamel valuators for 1934.

GREAT BRITAIN ORDERING MORE CANADIAN WOOD

Birch and Maple Principal Woods in Demand, Shipments of Two Grades Comprising 47,000,000 Board Feet.

Ottawa, March 7.—The United Kingdom market for Canadian hardwood lumber has steadily increased in importance during the past year. Shipments of birch lumber during 1933 totalled 41,372,000 feet all board measure, while those of maple lumber amounted to 5,643,000. In 1932 shipments of birch and maple to the United Kingdom totalled 39,500,000 and 2,901,000 feet respectively. In 1931 the shipments were 25,717,000 feet and 2,400,000 feet; in 1930, 33,882,000 feet and 3,481,000 feet; in 1929, 37,700,000 feet and 2,155,000 feet; and in 1928, 31,312,000 feet and 895,000 feet.

Birch and maple are the two chief hardwood lumber species of Canada, and the above figures indicate that more birch and maple lumber was exported to the United Kingdom in 1933 than during any of the last six years. In fact statistics show that 1933 was the peak year for the export of Canadian hardwood lumber to the United Kingdom.

This increased trade was partly due to the activities of the Canadian Hardwood Bureau, the official association of the hardwood lumber industry of Canada. During the winter of 1933 Mr. K. Fensom, managing director of the Bureau, acting in the interests of hardwood lumber manufacturers in New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario, initiated a Canadian hardwood publicity campaign in the United Kingdom. Considerable interest was created in Canadian hardwoods, and the use of Canadian wood for building purposes began to be specified for uses for which other woods had previously been used.

Canadian shippers feel that a great deal of trade extension work yet remains to be done. Mr. Fensom has therefore been delegated to continue the work which he initiated, and will sail for England on March 16, in the Canadian Pacific Montclair, and he will remain in the Old Country until the end of May.

In a recent interview Mr. Fensom briefly summarized his objectives of his trip as follows: "The United Kingdom is essentially a timber importing country. Vast supplies of lumber are consumed annually by the manufacturing and building industries, and lumber producers who are able to cater to an established demand for a wood or woods have in the United Kingdom a most lucrative market."

"On account of this established demand it is often a difficult proposition endeavoring to introduce new woods into the United Kingdom. Many woods have been used for years past, and the English buyer is not unsuitably disinclined to experiment with new woods when he is able to purchase woods of proven suitability."

"However, the English buyer is a conservative and cautious person, and he can be convinced of the merit of a commodity and that it is to his advantage to use it he will give it a trial. My fundamental objective while in the United Kingdom will therefore be to endeavour to educate the consumer concerning the properties, characteristics, and adaptability for service of Canadian hardwoods."

"It is not our intention to suggest the use of Canadian hardwood indiscriminately. There are uses for which our woods are and are not adaptable, and we intend to concentrate on the former. Unfortunately experiences with Canadian hardwood have been largely the result of improper selection. When a wood is used for purposes for which its properties do not adapt it there is bound to be trouble. Last winter I was fortunately able to supply service information which enabled many United Kingdom manufacturers to judge the comparative merits of Canadian and competing hardwoods. In this way I tried to encourage the utilization of Canadian hardwood for its best indicated uses, and during the coming spring I intend to continue these efforts."

"Canadian lumber manufacturers, as the sellers, must satisfy the consumer. They must give him what he wants as cheaply as they can, meaning at a fair market price—as quickly as they can, meaning expeditious delivery. They must compete with exporters from all parts of the world who have studied the requirements of the United Kingdom market intensively. It is up to our manufacturers to do likewise—to manufacture according to the specific requirements of the consumer; to give him the desired grade and size of lumber; and to merchandise as efficiently as others in the market. The Canadian Hardwood Bureau, being a non-commercial organization, is able to secure most reliable information of this nature. Such as was secured last winter has been used to advantage by Canadian shippers. There is a tremendous field to cover, and I hope by investigation and study of manufacturing processes to accumulate additional useful data for our hardwood lumber industry."

MAN FINDS FRIENDSHIP TO MONGREL DOG REPAID

Dog Brings Aid to Nova Scotian Lumberman Disabled by Broken Leg in Howling Blizzard.

Halifax, March 7.—A little mongrel dog that Edmund Singer often had befriended, more than repaid its obligations by saving the settler from probably a lingering death. Incapacitated by a broken leg he suffered in a fall from the ice near Kennetcook Corner, Singer was lying on the roadway clogged with snow at the height of a blizzard. As long as his strength remained he shouted for help, but his cries went unnoticed in the howling gale until the mongrel happened along. The injured man was almost overcome from cold and pain and the dog sensed something wrong.

Away he dashed to his master's home and yelped persistently. He was warned to be quiet and even threatened but he kept tugging at the coat of Joseph Barron, a lumberman. Finally Barron followed his dog and found his neighbor almost unconscious. He was too weak to relate what had happened and the lumberman bundled him in his own coat and carried him to the cabin. Through the use of hand and horse-leads the injured man finally was brought to Halifax where a sixty mile trail and taken to hospital.

It was just after surgeons amputated his leg Singer expressed his gratitude in hospital yesterday. They told him he would recover, but it would be hard going in the woods with one leg. But Singer was optimistic—and there's one little dog that will never visit for food as long as he visits Edmund Singer's cabin.

The Vicar: So you like country life. Are your hens good layers? Mabel: From town—yes. Rather! They haven't laid a bad egg yet.

COURT ORDERS NEW TRIAL IN RIVER DISPUTE

Quebec Court of Appeals Rule Historical Evidence on Floatability of St. Francis River Is Pertinent.

Quebec, March 7.—Historical evidence concerning the St. Francis River is admissible in Court, the Court of Appeals decided in the case of His Majesty the King and the Southern Canada Power Company, Limited, against the St. Francis Hydro-Electric Company, Limited.

The appeal was from a judgment rendered by Mr. Justice Pierre d'Auteuil in June, 1933, whereby he cancelled a lease of the bed of the St. Francis River near Spicer Rapids, which had been entered into between His Majesty the King and the Southern Canada Power in 1917. Mr. Justice d'Auteuil found that the river was not navigable or floatable, and in consequence declared the St. Francis Hydro-Electric Company owners of the bed of the river opposite their lots. The St. Francis Company was also declared owner of an undivided third of Jersey Island, of which the Southern Canadian Power Company claimed ownership.

The plaintiffs in the Superior Court contended that the river was non-navigable and non-floatable, and asked to be declared owners of the bed of the river opposite the property. Mr. Justice d'Auteuil upheld this contention and annulled the lease between the Government and the Southern Canada Power.

It was claimed by the appellants that the trial judge erred when he set aside this lease, and also when he rejected legal precedent and his own evidence tending to establish the floatability of the St. Francis River over a hundred years ago, at or about the dates on which patents were granted to the respondents.

Three judges of the Court of Appeals, Sir Mathias Teller and Justices Letourneau and Gaipeault, found that in their opinion this historical evidence should have been admitted, while Mr. Justice Bernier held that the judgment was correct on all points, and Mr. Justice Howard was of the opinion that the judgment should be quashed.

The historical evidence will be produced, and then the Court of Appeals will again be called upon to decide on the facts of the case.

CANADIAN NAVY TAUGHT A LESSON TO BRITISHERS

Port of Spain, Trinidad, March 7.—Canada's little squadron has taught "something" to British naval forces.

The four Canadian destroyers, on their annual winter cruise in the West Indies with a detachment of the British fleet, were commended by Admiral Boyle of the home fleet, after the first night's operations off St. Kitt's when the sleek Canadian vessels successfully evaded an attack by the Imperial cruisers, Achilles and Leander.

"We learned something from you," Admiral Boyle said in a signalled message. And he was just as anxious to know if the Canadians learned anything from manoeuvres of his flotilla.

The following night the Canadian vessels, staging the attack, failed to defeat the cruisers and the Admiral signalled again.

"Hope you learned something from us." Mobility and speed of the new cruisers upset plans of the massed destroyers, dashing to the attack in heavy seas against a strong head wind.

It was the first time in history Canadian craft had engaged with the navy in mimic warfare, staged by a squadron of four battleships, two cruisers, aircraft carrier and five destroyers, and the Canadian "hostile forces" of four destroyers.

River over a hundred years ago, at or about the dates on which patents were granted to the respondents.

Three judges of the Court of Appeals, Sir Mathias Teller and Justices Letourneau and Gaipeault, found that in their opinion this historical evidence should have been admitted, while Mr. Justice Bernier held that the judgment was correct on all points, and Mr. Justice Howard was of the opinion that the judgment should be quashed.

The historical evidence will be produced, and then the Court of Appeals will again be called upon to decide on the facts of the case.
