World News In Brief

London — (Reuters) — Duncan Sandys, minister of supply and son-in-law of Prime Minister Churchill, entered a London hospital Thursday night for a minor hand operation.

Sandys, 45, is the fourth casualty in the ranks of Churchill's cabinet.

Hong Kong. — (AP) — The pro-Nationalist Kung Shengung Daily News said today in a dispatch from Canton that more than 20 persons were killed or injured June 17 when a train derailed 60 miles south of Kungong after floods had weakened the road base.

Cleveland, O. — (AP) — The 25-carat Moon of Baroda diamond, which is supposed to bring bad luck if carried over water, has been sold to Detroit jeweller Meyer Rosenbaum for about $100,000.

The seller was the Rudolph Deutsch Company here, whose president, Samuel H. Deutsch, bought the big stone in 1944 from Prince Rama Ghandra, the Gaikwar of Baroda, India.

New York. — (AP) — A "sick strike" of trainmen today cut service about 50 per cent on the Long Island Railroad, busiest commuter line in the world.

The strike stranded thousands of persons en route to work in Manhattan and other thousands en route to Long Island resorts for the July 4 holidays.

Birmingham, Eng. — (Reuters) — The Conservative party retained its hold on the Edgbaston seat in this industrial city in a bye-election Thursday to elect a member of Parliament to succeed Sir Peter Bennett, elevated to the peerage in the Queen's Coronation honours list.

Edith M. Pitt, Conservative, won 20,142 votes against 9,635 for Frederick B. Watson, the Labor candidate in a straight two-party fight.

Wimbledon. — (AP) — Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, top-seeded American, won the All-England men's singles title at Wimbledon today defeating Kurt Nielsen of Denmark in straight sets 9-7, 6-3, 6-4.

This was the sixth Wimbledon victory for an American player in the last seven years. The 29-year-old Seixas, captain of the U.S. Davis Cup team, had never before won a major tennis title. He came close in 1951, but lost in the American finals at Forest Hills, N.Y., to Frank Sedgman of Australia.

Tokyo. — (Reuters) — More than 1,000 Japanese are feared to have been stricken with dysentery in an epidemic which has already taken 53 lives in Southern Japan after recent heavy floods, the Japanese Red Cross said today. Flooded reservoirs and burst dikes have infected most drinking water supplies in the area.

Reallocation Of Tax Powers Is Urged By George Drew

By Canadian Press Staff Writer
The question of reallocating tax powers between federal and provincial governments returned to the election campaign scene Thursday night.

Hon. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, replied in Calgary to Prime Minister St. Laurent's statement on the question, made earlier this week in the Maritimes.

Mr. Drew said Mr. St. Laurent "made it clear that he intended to maintain the centralized control over the tax dollar which was established as a war emergency." He quoted Mr. St. Laurent as saying that any reallocation of taxing powers would have to be made by some other government than his.

Meanwhile, Mr. St. Laurent, campaigning in Newfoundland, said the federal government is launching a drive to enlarge world markets for Canadian fish. It was not an insuperable task to put fisheries in position to compete on world markets.

Mr. St. Laurent said the government has in mind the Atlantic and Pacific provinces' fisheries. In the four Eastern provinces, fisheries had not kept pace with modern progress.

Federal and provincial governments must be ready to take vigorous action to put the fisheries on a competitive basis in world markets. That would be a Liberal government's main activity on Newfoundland's behalf in the next few years.

Mr. St. Laurent made several speeches in St. John's and the surrounding district, accompanied by Premier Smallwood and John W. Pickersill, former clerk of the provincial council who became secretary of state and is running in Newfoundland's Bonaville-Twillingate riding.

In Edmonton, Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said in a speech at a nominating convention that a Social Credit government would liquidate the public debt of Can-

Equerry Linked With Princess Gets Posting

RICHARD TOWNSEND

London — (Reuters) — Buckingham Palace officials today were tight-lipped about Group Capt. Townsend, royal equerry whose surprise posting out of the country has recalled earlier talk linking him romantically with Princess Margaret.

"We cannot say anything about the whys and wherefores of this case," said Cmdr. Richard Colville, palace press secretary.

The air ministry Thursday announced that the good-looking 38-year-old air ace, long a friend of the princess, had been appointed air attaché at the British embassy in Brussels.

He leaves for the new job July 15, the day before Princess Margaret returns with her mother from a royal visit to Southern Rhodesia.

Asked whether the palace hoped the posting would still the gossip, Colville said tersely: "I'm not a prophet."

Colville said he could not reveal whether Townsend had asked for the Brussels post or been advised to take it.

Air ministry officials, asked the same question, said: "We don't know." But they added that, as a regular air force officer, the group captain "may have decided" the path to promotion would be too slow if he stayed at the palace.

The Brussels post is an important one, they added, because Belgium is a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

If officials won't talk, other tongues are wagging — and the general belief is that the move is Buckingham Palace's way of U.S. envoy plans further talks with South Korean president.

By SAM SUMMERLIN

Seoul — (AP) — Korean truce talks were stalemated today as President Syngman Rhee clung stubbornly to his demand for a unified Korea and said he "will never abandon the struggle half-way."

In a plea recorded by CBS, Rhee called on the United States to back him, and promised that his people "will keep fighting and dying" in the battle against communism.

"The Korean people will never swerve from the original objective of our common cause," he said. "We cannot afford to rest or halt until we consummate the one democratic world."

Rhee's plea came after a 65-minute morning meeting with American envoy Walter S. Robertson, their seventh secret session.

A high source said Robertson rejected Rhee's demand for more war if a post-armistice political conference doesn't agree within 90 days to unify Korea.

After the conference Robertson told newspapermen: "Our discussions are continuing. I expect to see President Rhee again."

No time has been set for the next session.

Even if Rhee and Robertson reach agreement the UN must get the Communists to sign the truce.

The Reds apparently were ready until Rhee freed 27,000 anti-Red Korean war prisoners about three weeks ago.

Since then, they have balked stubbornly, demanding the almost-impossible recapture of all the prisoners and positive assurance of UN control over South Korea.

The UN answered the Red demands Monday and called for a quick signing of the present armistice, but there has been no official Red reply, nor any indication when they would. However, unofficially, North Korea has expressed displeasure with the UN answer.

In more than a week of U.S.-South Korean talks, Rhee has refused to temper his demand for a guaranteed unification of North and South Korea. The U.S. has offered to work for unification by peaceful means, but won't promise to go back to war if the political conference doesn't agree within 90 days, a high source said.

Well-informed observers predicted Robertson will start his homeward flight to Washington within a few days, successful or not. The UN has indicated it will go ahead with an armistice despite any holdout by Rhee.

New Delhi, close political associates said Prime Minister Nehru may urge the U.S. to act "more decisively" unless Rhee comes in to line by Monday.

An authoritative source stressed that Rhee is holding out for an American pledge that U.S. forces will bear arms again in Korea if the political conference fails to solve his country's problems within 90 days.

President Eisenhower cannot furnish this pledge to Rhee in writing, the source noted. The U.S. Senate would have to ratify any such agreement.

During the negotiations in Seoul, the communists also have attacked the U.S. stand on the truce. They unofficially have expressed displeasure at Gen. Mark Clark's call to the Red high command for a quick armistice signing.

Pyeongyang radio keeps insisting all 27,000 escaped prisoners be recaptured and has shown irritation over what it calls Clark's failure to give assurances Rhee will go along with the cease-fire.

However, there has been no official Red response to Clark's June 29 letter.

Some Washington quarters have voiced the belief that Rhee will accept the armistice in a showdown down once he feels he has gained all the pledges possible in American military and economic aid and the firmest assurances for a mutual defence pact between the United States and his country.

Qualified sources have made it clear that Robertson's mission is the first and last from Washington to Korea.

But Rhee knows that even if Robertson leaves he still will have time to make up his mind as the UN and Communists seek to iron out differences still holding up a truce signing.

Seoul. — (AP) — Bayonet-wielding South Korean infantry drove to the crest of Lookout mountain in central Korea today against fanatical Chinese troops, including some who were lashed together with wire.

Officers of the 3rd Republic of Korea division told Associated Press correspondent John R. Randolph that infantrymen who swept Reds off the battered ridge after dawn found a number of Chinese bodies wired together. They could not say how many of the bodies were tied.

The officers said the Chinese apparently had either made a suicide pact to die fighting, or they were wired together to keep them from retreating.

Shortly before noon South Koreans dug in on the crest of Lookout reported breaking up a counter-attack by three Chinese companies which charged up the slope

Freed POW's Find Life Is Difficult

By ROBERT GIBSON

Seoul. — (AP) — Many of the 27,000 anti-Communist North Korean prisoners who escaped from Allied stockades would gladly return now if assured there would be no reprisals, an official source said today.

Others would return to prison only on direct orders from President Syngman Rhee.

A spokesman who cannot be named said the prisoners who were promised food, clothing and help by the South Korean government are finding it hard to live and work in the wrecked South Korean economy.

Some have been enlisted in the Republic of Korea Army and thousands appear to be headed for army duty, even against their will. Trucks carried several hundred anti-Communist former war prisoners to the South Korea army replacement depot for the third straight day today.

The defence ministry refused to make any statement concerning the former prisoners and the total number that have gone into the army was not disclosed.

Few if any of the escaped prisoners are expected to return to UN prison camps.

South Korean officials have said freely that the UN command never will get back the prisoners whose release has stymied an armistice in the Korean war.

Most officials agree that even prisoners who want to return would not do so unless assured by the South Korean government that no reprisals will be taken after their eventual legal release.

As far as is known, little or no North Koreans taking refuge in the cities. They seem to be awaiting transfer to an outlying district for work on farms or a call from the service.

The only attempts by the UN command to retrieve the North Koreans have been in radio broadcasts appealing for voluntary surrender to prison camp authorities.

Results have been poor. Fewer than 1,000 North Koreans have been re-taken, and most of these came back within the first 12 hours of their exchange.

All of the escaped prisoners have new identification cards, making it possible for them to show they are bonafide citizens of South Korea.

American intelligence agents are believed to have located many of the escaped North Koreans. But official sources say it is unlikely an attempt will be made to recapture them since this would challenge the Korean government's threat to protect the prisoners with force if necessary.

South Korean officials said after the mass break-outs June 18, 19, and 20 that volunteer North Koreans would be welcomed into the growing South Korean Army.

Anti-Communist clubs organized pledges from members to join the ROK army and fight the Communists after their release.

Apparently the South Korean Army will accept enlistments as soon as training facilities can accommodate new recruits. And since the prisoners now are citizens of South Korea, those who do not enlist will be subject to the draft.

governor general, Lord Byng, refused to grant Mackenzie King dissolution of Parliament and called on Meighen to form a government when the Liberals were in trouble over revelations of scandals in the customs department.

Mackenzie King should have been granted dissolution, Senator Crerar writes, but nevertheless Byng was constitutionally right in not granting it.

The circumstance was fortunate for Mackenzie King, in Senator Crerar's opinion. If he had been granted dissolution he would have lost the election because the issue would have been the customs scandals.

He was refused and Mr. Meighen formed a short-lived government and the subsequent election was fought on the constitutional issue raised by Byng's refusal to accept the advice of the prime minister. The customs scandals were forgotten.

Sensor Crerar said the Hutchison book was interesting with the interest "sustained on every page." It was "not a biography in any real meaning of that term," Mr. Hutchison had no access to any official papers.

But, he said, the author had attempted to fit Mackenzie King "into a frame where he did not belong and this appears to be the basis for Mr. Hutchison's claim that King was a greater statesman than either Macdonald or Laurier."

"This gives piquancy to the book but makes little contribution to history. . . . Very few will agree with his tribute to Mr. King's statesmanship."

Sensor Crerar defines statesmanship: "The real test of statesmanship in those entrusted with high authority lies in the good or bad consequences that flow on down through the years from their actions and decisions when they

W. Germany Agrees To Pay France

Bonn. — (AP) — The West German Parliament reversed itself today and agreed to repay France for post-war economic aid. The decision partly made up for a double blow at French-German relations Thursday when deputies rejected the debt settlement and demand.

With Chancellor Konrad Adenauer whipping his supporters into a lather, the Bundestag lower house voted 190 to 147 to approve the section of the London debt agreement providing for repayment of $11,840,000 in economic aid given by the French to their occupation zone of Germany between 1945 and 1948.

While Adenauer was out of town electioneering, the Bundestag Thursday had voted 148 to 135 against repaying the French after deputies accused them of "exploiting" and "plundering" their zone.

The lawmakers approved the rest of the London agreement, however. By it West Germany promised to pay back a total of $3,270,000,000 in debts piled up since the First World War to 18 other countries.

Canada's share is about $1,725,000 with about 300 Canadians involved.

Bonn. — (AP) — The upper house of the West German Parliament (the Bundesrat) today approved a new election law that will eliminate many splinter parties. The measure previously had been passed by the Bundestag (lower house).

The law lays down conditions for the second general election in the four-year history of the federal republic, expected to take place Sept. 6.

The system will be a mixture of direct and proportional representation. The voters will poll twice, once for a candidate by name and once for a party. The latter votes are to be pooled to give parties additional members

Mackenzie King Was No Statesman But "Skilful Political Manager"

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa. — (AP) — Hon. T. A. Crerar, 77-year-old senator and top 10-year cabinet colleague of the late Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, claims his former leader was not the "statesman" he appears to be in Bruce Hutchison's book, "The Incredible Canadian."

The Manitoba senator, whom Mackenzie King appointed to the upper chamber in 1945, has written a review of parts of the Hutchison book for the International Journal, quarterly publication of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs.

Sensor Crerar suggests that Mackenzie King, who died three years ago, was not a statesman in the sense that Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Robert Borden and Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen were statesmen.

The record-breaking Liberal leader was "an extraordinarily skilful political manager" but "even here the goddess of luck smiles upon him," Senator Crerar writes.

From his long political association with Mackenzie King Senator Crerar writes that he believes his former leader had "a sense of mission" that developed his inner confidence and drove him to the success he achieved.

"For what purpose?" Senator Crerar asks. "Was the basic governing principle the public good? That is indeed doubtful. Rather it seems to me to have been the determination to restore and bring to a pinnacle the prestige of the family name."

Sensor Crerar describes Mackenzie King as "utterly ruthless, and this ruthlessness by no means had always to do with public policy." In this he is in agreement with the Hutchison book.

But he describes as "inadequate" the Hutchison handling of the episode in 1926 when the then FLOOD RESCUE—In Northern Kyushu, Japan, a U.S. helicopter (upper center) rescues a victim from the roof of a house. The man was stranded there by what has been called the worst floods to hit Japan in modern history. The flood left 492 people dead and another million people homeless. The flood damage will take five years to repair, officials estimated.

Rhee Rules Korea With Iron Hand

By FORREST EDWARDS

Seoul. — (AP) — When President Syngman Rhee was told Sir Wingdon Churchill, a man of his own age, had denounced him in the British Parliament, the South Korean snorted.

"That old man doesn't know the Opium War is over," Rhee said. "That's Syngman Rhee, outspoken, 78-year-old fighter and kook boo—national father—of the Republic of Korea."

One hundred and 77 years ago Saturday a handful of weakling American colonies proclaimed their unified independence, went to war, and won it.

Today that nation, the world's most powerful force for democracy and freedom, is on the verge of splitting with the slight, wrinkled, old man who has fought all his adult life for the unity and independence of his own small country.

What kind of a man is this Syngman Rhee, who has led his fledgling Republic of Korea to the brink of parting with the United States after three years of fighting together against a Communist aggressor?

He is one of the world's most stubborn men. No one disputes that.

He has been imprisoned, tortured, exiled, but he has never wavered in his fight for an independent, unified Korea.

His brand of democracy is not the brand the West knows. He believes in freedom of speech and freedom of the press only when it is not directed against him or his regime.

Held "in protective custody" today in Seoul's Westgate jail is Chough Pyong Rhee, Opposition party leader who dared two weeks ago to brand as "unwise" Rhee's release of 27,000 anti-Communist prisoners of war in defiance of United Nations attempts to secure an armistice.

Despite his age, Rhee is not senile. His mind still is quick, active, keen. He has a good grasp of world problems. American diplomats who have pleaded, cajoled and fought with him on true problems can testify that he is not subject to blanching, not swayed by persuasion.

His greatest disappointment has been what he considers his abandonment by the United Nations at a time when he considers military victory still possible in renewal of all-out war against the Communists.

He has no faith in a post-armistice political conference, little faith in the success of a "peaceful unification" of Korea.

He has fought against an armistice on the present battle line since the talks began nearly two years ago. He believes that there is only one justifiable cease-fire line—the Yalu river boundary between North Korea and Manchuria.

At press conferences with foreign correspondents he is good humored, earnest, eloquent, and frequently repetitious. If he has a point he wishes to emphasize, he is adept at finding ways to inject it throughout the entire conference.

Although he rules Korea with an iron hand, Rhee is widely and genuinely popular with the masses and respected and admired by his close associates.

Their feelings for Rhee apparently extend without reservation to his Austrian-born wife, 20

Ottawa. — (AP) — Living costs rose during May — after a steady half-year of declines — with the consumer price index increasing by one-half an index point to 114.9 from 114.4, the bureau of statistics reported today.

The sudden change in the index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, was caused mostly by higher prices of foodstuffs. Price boosts for fresh and cured pork, fresh fruits and vegetables and smaller increases for bread and eggs out-weighed declines for butter, canned fruits and vegetables. Rents also climbed.

The old cost-of-living index based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, also increased, rising by 1.2 points to 184.8 from 183.6 in April. This was the first increase in the yardstick after a continuous three-month decline.

It was the biggest increase in the consumer price index since a jump of four-fifths of a point in October, 1951. The yardstick's peak was 118.2 in December, 1951. High for the old cost-of-living index was 191.5, also in December, 1951.

With food costs up in May, the food sub-group in the new index rose by 1.3 points to 111.4.

The shelter group, which includes rent and home-ownership costs, rose to a new high of 123.6 from 122.9, following increases in rent.

On the wholesale side, industrial prices showed some weakness during June. The index for industrial materials prices, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, eased to 222.7 from 223.2 on May 29. The Canadian farm products index dropped to 217.9 from 220.9.

Other sub-groups were unchanged.

Sir Edmund Hillary Tells About Conquest Of Everest

Sir Edmund Hillary, 34, for the first time tells in his own words how Everest was finally conquered. His story, delayed by the Indian monsoon, was told to Peter Jackson, Reuters correspondent who climbed the lower reaches of Everest in the wake of the British team.

By SIR EDMUND HILLARY
Katmandu, Nepal. — (Reuters) — The story of our final ascent really begins on the morning of May 23 after a rough night on the south col.

Tenzing and I made our way up the walls of the great basin to the southeast ridge. As we toiled forward we came to the tattered remains of the camp set up by the Swiss expedition last year when Raymond Lambert and Tenzing reached 28,215 feet.

We slowly made our way up, looking for a camp site. Your mental processes at this height are not very good even with oxygen and we were getting worried.

Then Tenzing suggested turning leftwards, recalling a possible site he had seen while with Lambert. We finally reached the place, a slope of 30 degrees. It was good compared with the steep path we traversed on the way up. The site was 27,900 feet above sea level.

For two hours we hacked away at snow and ice and frozen rock to make a platform for our tent. Here we spent the night, half-sitting to brace the tent against the tearing winds.

Considering where we were, it was not a bad night. We dozed a bit, using oxygen. But we could only have it for a few hours as we had to save it for the final assault. When we were no longer able to sleep, we ate heating soup and making hot lemonade with sugar.

Sun came with the morning, giving us fine weather for our assault. At 6:30, we strapped on our oxygen equipment and goggles and started along the steep narrow ridge winding upwards.

The last 400 feet of the south summit were very steep. Attached by rope, we took turns to rest while the other went ahead cutting steps.

At last, we stood on top of the south peak. On one side it dropped away at a slope of 40 degrees. On the right, great cornices of snow overhung a drop of thousands of feet.

In spite of the steep angle, the ridge was in good shape and we kept going by steady until we came to a 40-foot rock face and rock about 200 feet off the summit.

Canada's Spy Probe Has U.S. Echo

Washington. — (AP) — Senator Joseph McCarthy said today Attorney-General Herbert Brownell has ordered a search of justice department files to determine whether former president Truman ever handed it a list of about 150 Americans suspected of spying for Russia.

The results of that search, McCarthy said, will decide whether he will ask the Senate investigations sub-commit

CIRCUS CLOWN—Love me, love my dog, and a man's best friend is his dog, as spoken by some sage philosopher, does not hold true in the case of Harry Ruster, the English clown, who is making his first tour of this country with the King Bros. and Cristiani Combined Circus, coming to Sherbrooke, Monday, July 6th, for performances at 2 and 8 p.m. at 10th Avenue and Chalifoux street under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club, for Ruster's best friend happens to be just an ordinary duck which he brought from London.

Nearly all of the mirthful madcaps, and there are an even 30 of them with the big show this season, carry animal pets, partly for companionship but mostly for professional utility. Most of the animals are canines which they have taught to perform in their skills.

But Ruster's clown duck is highly trained, an animal performer, a feature over the air-waves. A radio star so-to-speak and his name is "Buster." Seems to understand spoken language and obeys every word of instruction with uncanny intelligence. The duck's "quack-quack-quack" in answer to Ruster's chatter, evokes roars of laughter.

The English duck is but one among many remarkably trained animals that will be seen in the big show's performances. In fact, each clown is a master of his art and a provider of mirth and merriment.

Most all of the clowns will be seen in the old-time circus street parade at 11:30 show day morning, and in the gorgeously produced opening spectacle, "Persia" in which masses of people and herds of animals take part.

The performances are scheduled to begin at 2 and 8 p.m. and for the convenience of circus patrons, a downtown ticket office will be in operation show day at the Hart Jewelry Store where tickets for both performances will be on sale at the same prices charged at the circus grounds.

Final Meeting Of Y. W. A. Held At Lennoxville

The Young Women's Association of Lennoxville United Church recently held its final meeting before the summer recess at the Gertrude Scott Hall. The president, Mrs. P. S. Snow, opened the meeting by leading the members in reciting the Lord's Prayer.

The minutes and correspondence having been read, the treasurer, Mrs. A. Moore, gave an encouraging financial report. This was followed by a statement from the ways and means committee on the nearly new sale and on the lunch recently given for the delegates to the meeting of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery Women's Association in Lennoxville.

The president then congratulated Mrs. F. W. Hunting, a member of the Y.W.A., on being elected president of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery Women's Association, and two other members, Mrs. N. Smith and Mrs. A. Rowat, on their election to the executive of this organization. Mrs. Hunting thanked the president and gave a short but interesting report on the recent meeting of the Association.

After a brief business meeting, the president expressed the best wishes of the members of the Y. W. A. to Mrs. M. K. McLean, who will shortly be leaving Lennoxville and presented her with an oil painting.

Mrs. F. W. Hunting and Mrs. D. Sterling poured coffee at a table covered with a lace cloth, and centered with a bowl of roses and lilies. The hostesses responsible for the delicious refreshments were Miss M. DesRuisseaux, Mrs. E. E. Denison, Mrs. H. Bassett, Mrs. H. Montgomery, Mrs. W. R. Brick and Mrs. A. A. Dougan.

Londoners Unable To Get Fill Of Splendors Of The Coronation

Written for the Sherbrooke Record
By ROBERT PAULETTE

London—(By Mail)—London is still crowded with visitors despite the fact the coronation ended three weeks ago. The thousands who throng the streets at night to see the lights go on and transform the colorful decorations of the day into a sea of scintillating outlines are not just visitors from across the sea, but Londoners and those from the environs who cannot get their fill of the splendor of it all.

I took a double-decker bus on one of the main arteries leading to Trafalgar Square, and it took 45 minutes to travel about a mile. The masses jam the thoroughfare and the statue of Nelson peering down toward the Admiralty Arch and the Mall beyond must wonder what it's all about. The London bobbies do their best to make the way clear, but the crowd is still too big to handle. I heard one slightly annoyed Londoner say, "What's the use of celebrating something that's already got stale?" but what he failed to realize was that there's a deeper feeling and understanding behind the coronation itself, that transcends other large spectacles; indeed, one senses that Londoners in general hail this as something that marks the beginning of a revival. The talk around Westminster Abbey is to make this England's spiritual revival.

The workmen are just starting to dismantle the temporary stands around the Victoria Memorial and along the Mall, but most of the decorations throughout the city will remain for another week. Eros, the god of love, in the centre of Piccadilly Circus is still protected by an illuminated iron cage; Regent street has the front of its buildings masked in bunting of roses and blossoms that are radiant at night; Fleet street and the Strand have double arches of pompom bunting every hundred feet, in the centre of which is the motto, "Long Live the Queen," and the Royal insignia.

I saw the inside of Westminster

Abbey although I had to queue for a half hour in a line that extended halfway around Dean's Yard where the royal coach was kept during the ceremony in the Abbey. The floor of the annex is richly carpeted in maroon. One side has a wall of glass panels ornately etched with the Royal emblem.

The nave of the church is crowded with seats on either side of the wide aisle that is covered by a rich carpet woven in one piece. The transept is filled on both sides by blue velvet-covered chairs with the Royal insignia on them. These were occupied by the peers and peeresses. The throne is elevated in the middle of the transept, and in front of it nearer the altar is St. Edward's Chair with the Stone of Scone and the Seat of State. The spectators moved by steadily back into Dean's Yard through the cloisters.

The Tower of London which guards the crown jewels and St. James' Palace near Marlborough House where the Royal coronation robes are kept on display are also attracting large crowds of visitors. Yes, there is still coronation fever in London, because I was thrilled myself as I saw the evidence of that great celebration.

Warmer, More Sunshine, Less Rainfall In June

Despite the heat during the month of June the average temperature was considerably lower than that of last year. But higher than the average temperature recorded over a 39-year period, it was shown in the meteorological report for June from the Dominion Experimental Station, at Lennoxville.

The average temperature for June was 63.72 degrees, the average temperature for the month last year was 64.58 degrees, while the average temperature for the past 39 years was 61.72 degrees. Highest temperature for the month was on the 21st when a high of 89 degrees was recorded.

In accordance with the increase in the temperature the total hours of sunshine for the month, 261.4 hours, was also an increase compared to the average hours for the month last year, 214.6 hours. The total sunshine for the month last year was 250.8 hours. There was a slight drop in the inches of rainfall for the month. The rainfall was 3.54 inches compared with 5.94 inches last year and the average rainfall of 4.01 for the past 39 years. The highest rainfall for one day was on the 25th when .99 inches were recorded.

Eastern Townships Jerseys Win Laurels For June Milking

Reports from the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club announce two winners from the Eastern Townships for the month of June calculated by class for milk production and butter-fat.

From Sweetsburg is Pierre Veillon's Wendybrooke Marjorie, a Jersey which has the high junior four-year-old record in the 365-day division, producing 8,376 pounds of milk and 477 pounds of fat.

Wendy Hill Anthony's Mabel owned by J. L. Dion, of East Farnham, is the high junior three-year-old with 7,913 pounds of milk, 505 pounds of fat with a silver medal award.

The high record reported for a Jersey cow in Canada, for the month of June was that completed by the senior four-year-old, Wish-tonish Viola, owned by David Arnett, Streetsville, Ont. Viola won the gold and silver medal certificates for her record made on two times milking of 11,840 pounds of milk, 720 pounds of fat.

She also qualified in the 305-day division, winning gold and silver medal certificates and producing in 305 days 11,060 pounds of milk, 666 pounds of fat, the high cow in that division as well.

Fines Imposed For Smuggling

Sweetsburg, Que.—(P)—Judge Patrick Delaney has imposed fines totalling $400 in cases involving nearly 1,000,000 smuggled American cigarettes.

In magistrate's court Tuesday, Gerard Proulx of Rock Forest was convicted of having 616,000 illegally imported cigarettes in his possession at Frelighsburg June 27 and was fined $200.

A $200 fine was also imposed on Gaston J. Larose, no fixed address, convicted of having 340,000 smuggled American cigarettes when arrested by the RCMP at Mansonville, June 30.

Rock Island, July 3.—C. B. Kelley, of Crystal Brook, has purchased a year-old bull and yearling cow of Burma cattle and plans to cross them with Herefords. The animals were bought in the state of Florida and both are prize winners at the St. Petersburg Fair.

Records have it that the first cow and bull of the Burma breed came to the United States at a cost of $10,000. Mr. Kelley will not divulge how much his cost him except that "they cost plenty."

Burma cattle are all white with black on the tip of the tail. They are supposed to be the best for beef and it is claimed that at the age of three years a beef critter will weigh more than 300 pounds over local animals. They are also considered to be hardy beasts and those which tick disease and flies will not bother.

When Mr. Kelley was asked about milk production, he replied that he doubted if a cow would flood the market for they are strictly beef animals. The Book of Knowledge tells us that the humped cattle, which originated in India, descend from a species of wild cattle, possibly the Banting, with dewlaps and drooping necks.

New Apparatus Demonstration, Not A Fire

There was not a fire at the St. Charles Seminary, the Parthenon or on Wellington street yesterday.

The Mack-Magirus Company was just giving a demonstration. The company was demonstrating a 100-foot aerial ladder to the members of the fire department, the civic officials and anyone who wanted to have a "look-see."

The demonstrations were held on Marquette street and Wellington street.

When fully extended the ladder can reach a height of 114 feet.

Andre Plaisance, chief mechanic for the Montreal Fire Department, went up the ladder on Marquette street for the first demonstration while fireman Moose Ranger and others went up on Wellington street.

The new equipment is modern in every sense of the word. Everything is practically automatic. Gaston Tremblay is representing the company and is trying to sell the city one of the fire engines which differ from the ones used presently.

The cost of the new ladder and truck which was on display yesterday is reported to be around $45,000.

School Board Nominations

Nominations to fill two posts on the Sherbrooke Protestant School Board will be held at the City Hall on Monday morning at ten o'clock. In the event of any opposition being forthcoming, an election will be held the following Monday under the presidency of George E. Ewing, secretary-treasurer of the School Board, as returning officer.

The other members of the commission are W. H. Bradley, Q. C., chairman, Dr. T. J. Quintin and Everett Nicol.

American College of Surgeons, as revised through last December 31. The Commission thus far this year has surveyed approximately 500 hospitals. Additional hospitals will be added as they are granted accreditation or dropped if they are not accredited and the Joint Commission hereafter will publish the list under its name.

The hospital accreditation program, as founded by the American College of Surgeons and now carried out by the Joint Commission, is voluntary and confidential in its findings. Hospitals of 25 beds or more are invited to seek accreditation by requesting a survey. This is made by a field representative of the Commission who is trained in judging the quality of the care which the hospital provides the patient under the responsibilities imposed on it by law and its own charter. Of all the eligible hospitals, more than 4,000 have sought accreditation and approximately three-quarters of these have been approved.

All requirements for accreditation are based on what time and experience have shown to be the best means of assuring proper professional care of the patient. These requirements include: 1) A physical plant and administration providing X-ray laboratory and other facilities for the adequate nursing care, feeding and housing of patients with proper protection from fire, explosion and other hazards. 2) Restriction of the hospital's medical staff to physicians and surgeons who are graduates of approved medical schools, legally licensed competent in their fields and ethical in conduct. 3) Maintenance of complete medical records on each patient, so that not only the doctor but also the patient in the present or future may know what was found and what was done. 4) A well-organized staff of doctors permitted to practice in the hospital according to self-governed, written rules and regulations subject to the ultimate authority of the hospital governing board.

Medical supervision of the staff to assure that each member is restricted to practice what he is competent to do as in surgery, and to enable each member individually and all collectively to increase diagnostic accuracy and good results of treatment.

Locally, both the St. Vincent de Paul and the Sherbrooke Hospital have been on the list for a number of years.

Pole Stealer Is Sentenced To Eight Days

In Magistrate's Court this morning, Rosaire Bolduc, of Lingwick, pleaded guilty to the theft of twelve poles from the St. Lawrence Paper Company recently.

He was sentenced by Judge Edouard Boivert to eight days in jail.

Provincial Police Detective Homer Ruiter, under the direction of Provincial Police Detective Sergeant Stenio Brasseur, made the investigations in the case.

Donald Barnett Passed Away At Home Yesterday

Donald Barnett, a well known resident of Waterville, passed away yesterday following a heart attack at his home. He was in his 39th year.

Mr. Barnett was employed by the Southern Canada Paper Company at Waterville. He was a member of the newly-formed Waterville Optimist Club and a member of the Connaught Inn darts team at North Hatley and also took an active part in other sports.

Just the day previous to his death, Mr. Barnett was active in a softball game between Waterville and North Hatley at the Dominion Day celebrations at Hatley. Rounding the bases after hitting a home run he was unable to reach home plate. Fatigued, shortly after the game he returned home.

SEE-SAW OR SETTLEMENT?

French enthusiasm for the Indo-Chinese war has long since waned and now Robert Schuman joins Pierre Mendez-France in advocating a negotiated settlement of the war, says The Christian Science Monitor, which comments:

Simple abandonment of Indo-China to the Communist-led Viet Minh is unthinkable; such a drastic move would open the door wide to a Communist sweep through southeast Asia. But hopes for a clear-cut victory over the Viet Minh by force of arms seem quite chimerical. The most strenuous efforts of French military power supported by American aid have not been able to prevent a huge increase in Viet Minh influence since the early postwar years.

M. Schuman rejects both these alternatives, and further rejects the idea of giving the war an "international character" by placing it under the United Nations. It is understandable that the French, having made such great sacrifices on behalf of their interest in Indo-China, should be unwilling to see effective control of that area pass out of their hands. Yet only by bringing in the UN may they be able to cope with native disaffection — even among anti-Communist Indo-Chinese.

There is no reason to expect that UN participation would markedly improve the military situation vis-à-vis the Reds, though it could aid in shifting the burden of responsibility from the French to the native Indo-Chinese. Thus a negotiated settlement may still remain the only practicable alternative to an endless, costly, see-saw struggle or unstable stalemate, even if the UN enters the picture.

The difficulties of a Korean truce do not encourage expectations that such a settlement would be easy, especially in the more amorphous and ambiguous power situation in Indo-China. But there is one advantage: no such settled, stubborn hostility to a settlement with the Communists is likely to exist in the Indo-Chinese states as in Syngman Rhee's Korea.

RESOURCES AND CONSERVATION

Canada's resources have played a role of prime importance in our economic development ever since the abundance of fish in coastal waters first attracted settlement, says the current issue of the Commercial Letter of The Canadian Bank of Commerce. Over a million workers are now engaged in the primary industries, which contribute some 18 per cent of our national income and which form the basis for 8 of our 12 leading industries.

Exports of these primary products and the products of related secondary industries comprised some 85 per cent of our total exports. Also by attracting foreign investment capital and by increasing self-sufficiency (in petroleum for example) our natural resources have helped to maintain a favourable balance of payments.

Many of our resources of raw materials, the Letter pointed out, were vital for defence while the most economic use of our arable land could provide sufficient food to raise the standard of living of large numbers of the world's population now existing at subsistence levels. Conservation, therefore, is an international as well as a national responsibility.

Conservation — the development of resources to achieve the best public interest — embodies the principles of economy, full use, efficiency, preservation and restoration of this natural wealth. The problems involved in conservation and the chief measures which have been undertaken in Canada by the various levels of government and by other organizations to meet the challenge are dealt with in detail in the Letter.

The relative stability in the economy is indicated in the Bank's index of industrial activity as well as in other statistical indicators. The index stood unchanged from April at 205 (1937=100) but 19 points above the level in May last year.

Retail sales in April continued steady, exceeding April 1952 by 8.6 per cent. Sales abroad, however, have not shown the same buoyancy as domestic sales. Canada's deficit in foreign merchandise trade has been growing each month this year at an increasing rate. The April deficit of over $88 million brought the total for the four months to more than $172 million. This was due to an increase in volume of imports while exports have been some 10 per cent below those of the same period last year. Sales to all areas but the United States have declined in value and it would appear that Canadian exports are reflecting the severe limitations on imports imposed by these countries to balance their international transactions. As yet the Canadian economy has not been widely affected but cutbacks in production and some slackening in employment have been reported in certain lines of goods.

MR. CHURCHILL'S HEALTH

Ottawa Journal

Mr. Churchill (our pen still falters at "Sir Winston") has been ordered by his doctors to take a rest; the Bermuda conference has been postponed. Throughout the British Commonwealth, wherever men are free, this news will bring anxiety. For this man who stood like a great rock when the waves of Nazism beat upon his island and threatened the whole world, has continued to be a stay in peace, his wisdom and genius an inspiration, his voice a trumpet.

Canadians who met and heard Churchill during the Coronation were amazed by his vigor. Upon his shoulders rested all the cares of an international situation dark and menacing, he had added to his duties the Foreign Office, and he was a central figure in the Queen's crowning. Yet he seemed to have thrown off his 79 years, his buoyancy defying everything, his mind ranging at will over the whole universe, his spirit uplifted and undaunted. Those who heard him at Westminster Hall were awed by his wit, his vigor, the matchless beauty of his prose.

Yet years and cares must take their toll, and to Churchill, in his Coronation triumph, there perhaps could be written the lines which T. P. O'Connor once penned after Gladstone's last and greatest speech in the Commons:

"Flames of glory and splendor fill the western horizon, but it is the sinking of the sun just the same."

But not, we must pray, too soon. Too much do we still need this mighty figure once called "the greatest man of our race in a thousand years."

EXPRESS HIGHWAYS

Cornwall Standard-Freeholder

Motorists will approve the announced intention of the Ontario Highways Department to keep express highways free from roadside stands, drive-in theatres and other establishments which easily could prove a source of distraction for those using these roads.

The Highways Department is well aware of mistakes in past years which permitted several of our main provincial highways to become cluttered with business places, drive-in theatres and other establishments. Sideroads leading to the main thoroughfares serve only to further confuse conditions.

In the future, however, these express highways will be free of the sort of thing that detracts from the efficiency of the roads as vehicle for high-speed traffic.

Anything that may serve to interfere with this traffic will be ruled out. It is planned to keep the superhighway clear of the clutter which is so common on most of the province's busy thoroughfare.

THE COFFEE "BREAK"

Vancouver Province

There is no reason why the "coffee break" should become the excuse of a few lazybones to avoid the work they are supposed to do. A coffee "break" that is stretched out to half an hour twice a day abuses the privilege so badly that it invites a ban against all coffee breaks.

An employee who has fallen behind his work on an unusually heavy day should be ready to forego his coffee privileges, or at least make his cup of Java a hasty one. He can make up for it on a slow day. His boss and his conscience will feel better if he doesn't take undue advantage of the privilege.

It is, after all, still a privilege, one that we should safeguard. When it is no longer a privilege the "coffee break" will have lost its value. It will have merged with the usual humdrum of the work day. Then we will have to start eating hashish, or chewing betel-nut.

MURDER IN NEW ZEALAND

Ottawa Journal

Those who argue that capital punishment for murder should be abolished because the fear of execution doesn't affect the murder rate should be sure of their facts.

It has been said, for example, that when New Zealand abolished capital punishment there was no increase in murder in that Dominion. Mr. T. C. A. Hislop, High Commissioner for New Zealand in Canada, says this is not true.

New Zealand's Labor Government in 1941 abolished capital punishment for murder and substituted life imprisonment. That was the law until 1950 when, Labor having been defeated and a Conservative government having taken office, the death penalty was restored.

Mr. Hislop tells what happened: "New Zealand figures from 1941 to 1950 showed an appreciable annual increase in sentences for murder and attempted murder. Since the restoration of the death penalty in 1950 the number of sentences for the crime of murder has fallen appreciably."

It's going to be hard to argue that away!

AGE IN THE CS

Halifax Chronicle-Herald

Couldn't Ottawa just say: "We are going to pick people on the basis of their qualifications, irrespective of age." It is tragic to see experienced people thrown out of employment when they have reached an arbitrary age-limit, and grossly wasteful as well.

When employment is governed by narrow age-limits, both public and private affairs are kept in a constant state of disorganization, training new personnel, while experienced personnel, capable of more years of useful service, is thrown into the discard. It is one of the most senseless of all modern trends.

DRIVING TESTS

Calgary Herald

The province of Alberta has the distinct honor next month of being the last province in the Dominion of Canada to introduce driving tests for its motorists.

As of July 8th, the long-awaited driving-test program is scheduled to begin and we suppose it is, therefore, in order to congratulate our government on its excellent hindsight.

THE HILLS OF HATLEY

"Unto the hills do I lift up my longing eyes"

Oh, who will o'er the hills with me
This bright midsummer morn,
And drink with me the purity
Of sun-kissed air just born.

The hills are green, the sky is blue
The breeze wafts perfumes sweet,
While maples touched with red and gold
On every side we greet.

Brooks romp their way down the hills
To meet the water blue
Of Massawippi Lake wherein
Lie shadows deep and true.

Fair homes are seen on every hand
Where settlers blazed the trail
And gave to us a heritage,
A wealth that cannot fail.

Oh, Hills of Hatley while you stand
In silent grandeur there
Our eyes will ever turn to thee —
Fair land without compare.

CLEVER ANALYSIS MAKES A CONTRACT

How should you play the South hand at a contract of four hearts? With a look of reproach at your partner, to begin with, for his jump to four hearts. A raise to three hearts would be ample on the North cards. And perhaps South should play the hand with a certain amount of self-criticism, since his opening bid is far from robust.

When Leonard B. Harmon, of New York, played the hand in a recent Asbury Park tournament, he found a way to make his ambitious game contract. It was a very neat performance.

West opened the eight of diamonds. East put up the king, and Harmon won with the ace. The spades looked like the best shot, and declarer made his best play to establish the spades by leading his king and overtaking with dummy's ace. He then returned the jack of spades, discarding a club from his hand when East followed with a low spade.

West naturally won with the queen of spades, and just as naturally tried to cash club tricks by leading the ace and then a low club.

Harmon won with the king of clubs, relieved that his club discard had persuaded West to tackle that suit. He could now get to dummy with the ace of trumps in order to discard his last club on the ten of spades.

When the king of hearts dropped, declarer followed his plan by discarding his last club on the ten of spades. He then ruffed a club, noting that East could not follow suit. By this time the distribution of all the suits was fairly clear.

Declarer continued by ruffing a diamond in dummy, and returned to his hand by ruffing a spade with the queen of hearts. West helplessly discarded a club, reducing his hand to a jack, eight, six of hearts.

Harmon now led another diamond, and West could make only the jack of hearts if he played it at once. South was bound to make the ten of hearts in his own hand and the nine of hearts in dummy.

If West played a low trump first, dummy could ruff with the seven and return a spade for South to ruff with the ten of hearts. Either way, the contract was safe.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been: South West North East 1 Spade 2 Clubs 2 Dmds. Pass

You, South, hold: Spades A-K-Q-J-8-3, Hearts K-Q-6-3, Diamonds 7-2, Club 5. What do you do?

A—Bid four spades. Game is, of course, no problem at all, but you cannot afford to make the first move towards a slam. Perhaps your partner can make the first move after you have shown considerable extra strength, and a spade suit that needs no support at all.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-K-Q-J-8-3, Hearts K-Q-6-3, Diamonds K-2, Club 5. What do you do?

Princess Margaret Breaks All Rules For 'Small Women'

My MURIEL NARAWAY

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London.—(CP)—The four-day Ascot race meeting, fashion-plate windup to London's debutante season, turned the royal fashion spotlight back on Princess Margaret.

This petite bachelor girl, more or less a background figure during the last two years, is making a notable comeback. She's disclosed the old flair for "something different" that induced her to wear post-war ankle-length outfits before British women had fully accepted them.

Throughout the Coronation season of royal engagements, her skirts have been wider and longer than is generally fashionable at the moment. Her hat styles have been different to those worn by other royal women. Experts say she has broken many accepted fashion rules on what should be worn by petite women.

It seems Princess Margaret left behind many of the dress restrictions she could not escape as a daughter of a King on her recent move from Buckingham Palace to Clarence House with the Queen Mother. She is choosing deeper colors and more outstanding styles than she wore when second in line to the throne.

Her most notable Ascot fashion was a full-skirted navy organza dress with choir-boy collar and cuffs in stiff white pique, worn with a white pancake hat and white accessories. Skirt fullness started from the hips.

On the first day of racing her big-brimmed hat was the brightest color in the royal box—a shade of flush-rose reminiscent of her outfit worn at the Commonwealth May garden party.

At a Blenheim Palace garden party in June, attended by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada after he received an honorary degree at Oxford University, Princess Margaret wore an outfit that experts say broke all rules for "small women."

The skirt of the stiff silk dress was wide and long, the grey mink

Montreal Grandma Top Woman For CCF Party

Montreal.—(CP)—Mrs. Therese Casgrain, 55-year-old Montreal grandmother, is one of the CCF party's top woman members although she joined the party only five years ago.

In those five years she has become leader of the Quebec section of the CCF and now is a party candidate for the second time.

Mrs. Casgrain, handsome and grey-haired, joined the CCF because, she said, the party had a "positive approach" to social questions which matched her opinions formed in 20 years of championing women's rights.

Her first political contest was in 1942 as an independent Liberal candidate for the Charlevoix-Saguenay seat in the Commons which her husband, the late Mr. Justice Pierre Casgrain, had vacated on his appointment to the Quebec Superior Court. Her father, Sir Rodolphe Forget, had earlier held the same seat for 13 years as a Conservative.

Mrs. Casgrain's first campaign as a CCF candidate was in the 1952 Quebec provincial election, when she lost in Montreal-Verdun constituency. In the present campaign she is a candidate in LaSalle-Jacques Cartier constituency in Montreal.

Her election in 1951 as the CCF leader in Quebec made her the first woman to head a political party in the province.

She has had other "firsts." As president of the League for Women's Rights she led the fight to get the franchise for Quebec women in 1940 and helped bring about legislation the following year which allows women to practise law in Quebec.

It was Mrs. Casgrain, too, who helped make sure that federal family allowance cheques were made payable to mothers—not fathers—in Quebec. When the first cheques were to be paid, it was rumored that fathers would get the cheques in the province. Mrs. Casgrain led a three-week campaign and organized a flood of protests to Ottawa. When the cheques came out—later than those for the rest of Canada—they went to the mothers.

A fluent speaker in English, French and Italian, she has served on the Quebec minimum wage board and the wartime prices and trade board. She is an executive of the Canadian Welfare Council.

clutch-cape waist length and flared at the back. Her hat had a wide shuttle brim in front and her shoes were tooless sandals composed of three wide straps.

For the antique dealers' fair in London she wore a navy and white, wide-skirted grosgrain dress with cap sleeves and deep neckline. The neckline was lined in white and the eyelet-embroidered marguerites that formed the dress pattern were backed in white. Most outstanding feature of this outfit was her Flemish bonnet of navy silk with close-fitting helmet brim, the soft Flemish crown suggested by a circle of pleated organza placed like a bun on the crown.

Pushing open the door, Fred sniffed appreciatively and kissed his wife. "Apple pie! Hmm. The Palace officials may take the view that, though the transfer was sensation the rumor-mongering bound to provide a momentary will quickly end.

Rumor about the affair cites the fact that Townsend divorced his wife and divorce is taboo in royal circles.

He divorced his wife, formerly Rosemary Pawle, last year after a marriage lasting 11 years. They had two children, one of them a godson of the late King George VI. The wife has since married the correspondent, John de Laszlo, son of a famous portrait painter.

Despite the divorce Townsend has always been a good friend of the Royal Family. For some time he has been acting comptroller (manager) of the Queen Mother's household and had been tipped to get the job permanently.

As acting comptroller he should have gone to Southern Rhodesia with the Queen Mother and 22-year-old Margaret. But instead he was posted to accompany the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh on their state visit to Northern Ireland. Lord Plunkett, equerry in waiting to the Queen, went on the Rhodesian trip.

He says the book gave "too heavy emphasis" to the part Mackenzie King played in obtaining the declaration of 1926 and the Statute of Westminster in 1931 which made it statutory — proclaiming Canada an equal and independent member of the Commonwealth of nations.

"True, he is entitled to a share of the credit. But the right fork in the road had been taken many years earlier." It began in the days of Macdonald and the goal would have been reached ultimately whether or not Mackenzie King was prime minister.

Senator Crerar writes that Mackenzie King, fearing complication in a war, "virtually took Canada out of the League of Nations and at a time when Canada's voice should have been strong for the whole concept of collective security."

Yet, "Europe slithered into war which led to consequences for the world of which no man today can see the end. This was not statesmanship."

Opportunism, he writes, is a common characteristic of political parties, and, "in this field Mr. King was a skilful performer." He could pull rabbits out of hats to win an election.

"But when, in the public mind, political programs become associated with the ability of leaders to pull rabbits out of hats, we are getting to be in rather a bad way."

He refers to the incident in 1944 when the late Hon. J. L. Ralston, then defence minister, left the King cabinet over differences with his leader on the conscription issue.

"His treatment of Ralston, and also of others who he thought stood in his way, one finds difficult to forgive..."

"He liked praise... yet he did not always distinguish between honest praise and fulsome flattery."

"And, toward the end of his career there was much silly talk over the length of his years as prime minister, and the months and weeks and days required to surpass any other occupant of that high office in the history of the Commonwealth."

How much she influences Rhee in affairs of state has long been the subject of conjecture. Only this week, after a competent source said Rhee had reneged on original acceptance of President Eisenhower's offer of aid in return for Rhee's acceptance of an armistice, she called the source and gave him a severe dressing down.

An occasion for celebrating!

Anniversary Ale was brewed especially for just such an occasion. The lightest and smoothest of all ales, it leaves no regrets. Yet Anniversary contains all the traditional Labatt's body and character to brighten an already glad occasion. Luckily, there's no need to wait until you receive a legacy to celebrate with Anniversary Ale. The combination of a thirst and a bottle, or better still a case, of lighter, smoother Anniversary Ale is an occasion in itself. John Labatt Limited.

Bartlett, was united in marriage to LAC William Shannon Hetherington, R.C.A.F., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hetherington, of Marbleton. The wedding music was played by Mrs. H. O. N. Belford. Deep pink roses were used to decorate the altar and vari-colored lupins adorned the chancel.

The bride, given in marriage to her father, wore a long-sleeved gown fashioned of ivory satin, having a yoke of nylon marquisette with pearl buttons at the neckline and finished with guipure lace and pearl trimming, which formed a cape at the shoulders. The same lace trimmed the bodice, and the very full skirt fell in folds to the floor. Her silk embroidered veil was held in place by a coronet of lily-of-the-valley and she carried a star-shaped bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses tied with pink streamers.

Mrs. Robert Boisvert, of Quebec, as matron of honor for her sister, wore an ankle length gown of pink applied organza over taffeta, styled with a short sleeved fitted bodice having a narrow turnover collar and bouffant skirt, and she carried a nosegay of pink carnations, fern and green tulle.

Miss Germaine Thivierge, of Levis, Que., as bridesmaid, wore an ankle length gown of pale green tulle over taffeta, the fitted bodice having short sleeves and worn with a bolero, and a bouffant skirt. Her bouquet was a nosegay of pink carnations similar to that of the matron of honor.

Mr. Donald Hetherington, of Sherbrooke, was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Donald Bartlett, of Quebec, only brother of the bride, and Mr. Maurice Weyland, uncle of the groom.

Mrs. Bartlett, mother of the bride, wore a street length dress of Elizabeth blue silk faille, the bodice having a sweetheart neckline finished with pale pink lace, three quarter length sleeves, and a full skirt, sprinkled with silver beads. She wore a navy hat and navy accessories and a pink rose corsage.

Mrs. Hetherington, the groom's mother, was in a street length dress of grey printed silk and she wore white and navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The wedding took place in the church which was built over one hundred years ago by the bride's great-grandfather, the Rev. Thomas Shaw Chapman, the founder of Marbleton and vicinity, and beloved minister for many years.

The reception for upwards of fifty relatives and friends was held in St. Paul's Church Hall, decorated with pink and white streamers and white bells. The bride's table, covered with a white damask cloth, was centered with the three-tier wedding cake flanked by white candles in silver candelabra.

Following Grace, said by the Rev. Canon Belford, refreshments were served, the bride and groom cutting the cake, when the toast to the bride was proposed by Canon Belford and responded to by the groom.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Hetherington left by motor for their wedding trip to the New England States, the bride wearing a navy blue two-piece suit, a pink blouse, a pink flowered hat, and navy accessories.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Hetherington will take up residence at 412 Princess Street, Summerside, P.E.I.

After the departure of the newlyweds, the guests were invited to "Groveside" the summer home of

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Yes they do — manners make friends. It isn't enough to like people. You've got to show that you like them. And there is no more obvious way than in treating them with respect and consideration. And, after all, that is what we mean by good manners. Treat other people as you like to be treated—and you'll not only have good manners, you'll have good friends. Sounds like the Golden Rule, doesn't it?

The 1st Sutton Girl Guides Company Installed By Dist. Comm. Mitchell

Sutton, July 3.—At ceremonies which took place in Grace Church Parish Hall, one Thursday evening, eight Girl Guides and their leader, Mrs. Winston Dyer, were officially enrolled into the 1st Sutton Company, by District Commissioner Mitchell, of Granby.

There was a good representation of local association members, parents and friends, to witness the impressive ceremony after which Mrs. Mitchell spoke to the girls, encouraging them to take their Guide work seriously, and using the Guide, who represented Canadian Guides at the Coronation as an example, pointed out what can be accomplished if a girl really uses the opportunities offered in this great organization. She closed by wishing them good luck in what will be for many of them, their first camping experience, when they go under canvas at Lake Bonnell, near Eastman, for a week.

The Company then put on a short demonstration of some of their games, and sang a group of songs around a camp fire.

At the close of the evening's program, refreshments were served by the local association.

Nine Guides with their leader left on Sunday, for the camp, where they will join other companies from Granby, Cowansville and Mansonville.

They were taken to the site through the kindness of Mr. S. Giffin, who carried the luggage by truck, and Miss N. Smythe and Mr. Rupert Phelps. The spot, though isolated, is very beautiful and the tents are pitched in a level field. There is a good beach for swimming, therefore with good weather conditions the girl should have a fun-packed week in the open under expert supervision.

A SHOWER
Miss Cleona Miltimore, a July bride-to-be, was feted with a miscellaneous shower given in her honor at the Lahue home.

The rooms, where the twenty-two guests were assembled were beautifully decorated with peonies, lilies and roses.

When the guest of honor arrived she was greeted with the music of the Bridal Chorus played by Mrs. Dennis Cowan, and after being presented with a corsage of red roses was led to a prettily decorated chair. The gifts, which she then received were many and beautiful and the pleasure Miss Miltimore felt was expressed in her very gracious thanks.

Games were then enjoyed followed by refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. Sheldon Davis and Miss Norma Lahue.

THE W.C.T.U.
The Women's Christian Temperance Union was entertained at the home of the president, Mrs. Fred Knights, who opened the meeting with a hymn and prayer.
The devotional service was given by Mrs. H. Scott, after which Mrs. Naamon O'Brien read the minutes which were accepted. There was an attendance of sixteen and the roll call was answered by reading clippings on flowers.

The treasurer, Mrs. G. Cooke, gave the financial report.
The topic was taken by Mrs. Percy Rumsby, whose subject was "Tidings and Flower Missions." Plans were made for a food sale to be held on July 17.
Little Miss Janice Knights then sang three songs, which were much enjoyed.

The meeting was closed by all repeating the pledge and benediction.
Delicious refreshments were served.

Employees Of Dodd-Simpson Press Co., Montreal, Spent Day At Nyamakad Farm

Kirkdale, July 3. — A wonderful day was spent at Nyamakad Farm, on Saturday, June 27, by the employees of the Dodd-Simpson Press Co., of Montreal, and their families, numbering upwards of 125. The weather was perfect, the grounds and farm animals were looking their best.

The guests began to arrive around 11 a.m., by chartered bus and private cars and after a short tour of the grounds and farm buildings, the large crowd were seated and served a delicious luncheon.

In the afternoon the children had races, every child received a prize and there was a sack race for the ladies and also for the men.

The highlight of the day was the pig-catching contest. Two small pigs were placed in a small yard and six ladies, blindfolded, were to try and catch one. A very busy six minutes was spent before one was captured. Then a much larger pig was put in with the other two and six blindfolded men had to catch the larger pig. This feat is easier said than done, and it required over six minutes before the first man got the right pig.

A second group of six men entered the contest and one lucky fellow succeeded in catching the right pig in two minutes, the prize for this was $5.

A game of baseball was then enjoyed by the younger men in an adjoining field and almost every one repaired to the barns to watch the milking of the large herd of beautiful Jerseys.

Supper was served at 5:30 p.m., to a tired but very happy company and all embarked on the long trip home to the city, after enjoying the kind hospitality of the Simpson family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson and their staff of farm employees are to be congratulated on the splendid and efficient way in which the whole day was organized. It required many days of hard work to have the grounds and farm buildings placed in such perfect condition.

Yanks Finally Win; Edge Red Sox 5-3 In 10 Innings

Big Johnny Mize Drives In Winning Run As Pinch-Hitter; Indians Drop Another To Tigers; Dodgers Win

Now that New York Yankees finally have quit losing maybe Cleveland Indians will go back to playing better ball.

Instead of concentrating on their own business, the Indians this week have been going through their paces with one eye on the scoreboard to see how much ground they were gaining on the fading New Yorkers. As a result they have lost two in a row to the tail-end Detroit Tigers. They have a chance to make immediate amends since they go home tonight to face the usually docile Bengals in three more games.

The Yanks broke their nine-game victory drought by edging the Red Sox 5-3 in 10 innings at Boston. Cleveland bowed 4-2 to Detroit and slipped six full games behind the world champions.

Chicago White Sox, who had Thursday and today off, also are six games back and just two percentage points behind the Indians. Washington at Philadelphia was rained out.

In the National League Brooklyn Dodgers made sure that they will be in first place on the July 4 traditional turnout point of the pennant races. The Dodgers defeated Philadelphia 8-0 and second place Milwaukee skidded a game and a half behind by losing to Cincinnati 3-1. The rest of the National League clubs weren't scheduled.

Johnny Mize hammered the hit that broke the Yankees slump. Pinch-hitting in the 10th with two out and Yogi Berra on third base, Mize drove a 3-2 pitch from Sid Hudson into left center field for a double.

Gil McDougald then drew an intentional pass and Bill Martin brought in the insurance run with a single that scored Bill Renna,

"Moose" Flemming Is Doing Fine, Says "Muddy" Ruel, Tigers' Farm Manager; Reports Are Favorable

Detroit—(P)—It may not come as a surprise to the folks in Saint John, N.B., but Moose Flemming is doing okay in the Class A South Atlantic league.

The word from Detroit Tigers officials is that they are "very encouraged" at the showing Moose has made with the Montgomery, Ala. Grays, a Tiger farm club.

"We aren't too interested in his actual record for the first three or four weeks until he gets the feel of things, but reports we have received say he has been hitting creditably," Minor League Manager Muddy Ruel of the Tigers said Thursday. "Papers in the south have commented favorably on his attitude, manner and good running ability."

Moose, 21-year-old son of the Premier of New Brunswick, hit the sports pages of Canada a few weeks ago when he worked out with the American League team and accepted a $3,000 contract. He was one of the few Canadian players in years to catch the eyes of big league clubs.

It wasn't expected that Moose would catch on immediately with the cellar-dwelling Tigers. But the six-foot-one centre fielder showed enough in training to make club officials enthusiastic. They farmed him out to Montgomery and now it is up to Moose to catch on with the major league club.

"He has all the equipment to come up," Manager Fred Hutchinson said after watching the 180-pound player work out.

The youngster attracted attention when he played with Maine's Bowdoin College. Big league scouts went after him but Moose signed with Tigers because he figured he had a better chance of making a bottom-placed club than a first-division team.

He went to Montgomery about two weeks ago and so far has hit two home runs. That isn't bad for a player whose previous experience was confined to college baseball.

If the native of Juniper, N.B., shows he can make his mark in Class A company, Tiger officials are ready to advance him into a higher category and then, if he continues to improve, will move him up with the club here.

Flemming has given himself three years to advance in the game he loves. If he doesn't make it in that time he intends to drop the game for something else.

Tony Fox Downs Meyer In Sculls

Henley-on-Thames, Eng.—(P)—

Tony Fox of the London Rowing Club, Britain's ace sculler, knocked Dr. Paul Meyer of Switzerland out of the diamond sculls competition at the Henley regatta Thursday.

The win, a length and a half ahead of Meyer in eight minutes and four seconds, moves Fox into the semi-finals.

Princeton's 150-pound eight-oar crew, with a record-breaking performance, and the oarsmen from the Kent school of Connecticut, rowed into the quarter-finals of the Thames challenge cup competition.

The third U.S. entry, the Yale pair of W. S. Carrick and Barkley Tittman, was beaten by a German team in the silver goblet and Nickalls challenge cup. The Ruder club of Saarbrücken, easily defeated Yale in eight minutes, seven seconds for the mile and 55-yard course.

Princeton's eight knocked six seconds off the course record in beating the only German crew, Ruder Gemeinschaft of Florsheim-Russelsheim, by one length in 8:45.

Downpour Washes Out Tennis Tilts

Montreal—(P)—A brief but violent downpour washed out the semi-finals of the men's singles Thursday in the Quebec provincial tennis championships at Notre Dame de Grace courts here.

Henri Rochon of Montreal was leading 1-0 over Pat Spencer also of Montreal, in the first set of their match when the rain began. That match and the one between Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke and Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver were cancelled.

Drobny Whips Patty But Both Leave With Royal Tokens

Wimbledon, England—(P)—Budge Patty, Los Angeles, and Jaroslav Drobny, self-exiled Czech, left Wimbledon Thursday night with a Royal memento of their marathon four hours and 15 minutes match in the men's singles.

The Duchess of Kent, aunt of the Queen, presented both players with a silver cigarette case to commemorate the match which Drobny won last Thursday, 8-6, 16-18, 3-6, 8-6, 12-10. The duchess, a keen tennis fan, is president of the Wimbledon club.

Newark, N.J.: Big Dynamite 150, Washington, stopped Billy Clark, 153, Brooklyn, 2.

Maureen Connolly And Doris Hart Reach Finals For Ladies' Crown; Rose-Hartwig Beat Seixas-Mulloy

Wimbledon, Eng.—(P)—Defending champion Maureen Connolly and Doris Hart, the 1951 winner, won easily and swiftly in the semi-finals of the all-England tennis championships here Thursday.

A crowd of 16,000 packed the stands around the famed cent court to watch Little Mo of San Diego, Calif., smash past Shirley Fry of Akron O., 6-1, 6-1. Miss Hart, of Coral Gables, Fla., disposed of Mrs. Dorothy Head Knodel of Alameda, Calif., 6-2, 6-2.

The results were as predicted and Saturday's final will bring together the world's two top-ranking feminine players for the fourth time in less than a year in a national championship.

Maureen defeated her willowy rival in the U.S. and French finals, Doris beat Little Mo in the three-set final of the Italian championships.

In a semi-final doubles match that followed the women's show, Australia's second-ranking pair of Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig, beat the top American combination of Vic Seixas, Philadelphia, and Gardner Mulloy, Coral Gables, Fla., 14-16, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad made it an all-Australian final in the men's doubles when they beat Jacques Brichant and Philippe Washer of Belgium, 4-6, 6-0, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

Seixas will have his big moment today when he meets Kurt Nielsen, the merry Dane, for the men's championship.

Nielsen is the first unseeded player to reach the finals in 23 years.

The Connolly-Hart match will mark the eighth straight year in which American women will monopolize the final. And it will be the tenth straight time an American will reign as queen of Wimbledon, equivalent to the world championship.

Rain washed out all scheduled games of the Provincial League last night but the teams will try it again this evening with three tilts on tap.

Manager Pinky May will lead his Indians to Theftford tonight to tangle with Bill Krueger's Miners in what should prove a very close match. In the other games Granby moves over to Drummondville to pay a visit to the hapless Royals at El Gionfrido.

The tilt between the Indians and the Miners will be an important one for both clubs as the teams are staging a fight for higher heights. The locals hold a three game margin over the Miners, and no doubt they will be out to reduce the margin between themselves and the May aggregation.

Sherbrooke, on the other hand, will be out to maintain their advantage and at the same time try to reduce the difference between themselves and the Quebec Braves.

INDIANS GET NEW HURLER

Lewis Matlin, business manager of the locals, announced last night

Earl Walls, Canadian Heavyweight Boxing Champion, Meets Rex Layne Tonight In 10-Round Exhibition

Edmonton—(P)—Earl Walls, Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, and Rex Layne, one of the world's top contenders for the world title, meet tonight in a 10-round fight, expected to ring up a gate of between $40,000 and $60,000.

Promoter Jack Berry said he expects between 10,000 and 15,000 fans. They would pay a general entry fee of $3 and a top of $15, a record for an Edmonton fight.

Walls was expected to go into the ring at 191 pounds, nine pounds lighter than his opponent. Layne will carry the weight advantage but will have to move in to get at Walls. The Canadian brawler has a reach of 77 inches, two inches longer than Layne.

Layne, who holds victories over Ezzard Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott, will pick up a $10,000 guarantee or 30 per cent of the gate, which ever is greater, for his efforts. Walls will receive 20 per cent.

Walls, who stands six feet, 2 1/2 inches, has an impressive fight record in the West. In 10 fights here and in Vancouver he won six with knockouts in two rounds or less.

The 25-year-old Negro opened his career in New York in 1948. He lost three fights that year, one in 1949 and one in 1950.

He went to England and scored victories over the Scottish and Australian champions.

He returned to Canada and moved to Edmonton in May 1952. He defeated Vone Escoe in June, 1952, to take the Canadian crown and defeated Escoe again in July in a re-match.

If Walls defeats Layne and does it again in a re-match, Berry has hopes of a battle with John Cockell of England for the British Empire heavyweight crown now held by Cockell.

for himself and others during nearly two golden decades are gone except for small remnants here and there, and Joe is a man who requires lots of "walking around" money, as it is known in the boxing profession.

This time Joe is preparing for a two-month tour of the country as the star of a troupe of entertainers. The former champion, who now scales about 230 at a rough guess, possibly will be the heaviest song and dance man in the history of the theatre.

The tour is scheduled to open in Boston July 16 and from there the show will play one-night stands through the midwest and south west until it is time for Joe to attend the picture's world premiere at Detroit, where his boxing career began. By then, if the heat holds up, Joe should have slimmed down considerably.

Persons who are not entirely disinterested say that the movie version of the dark destroyer's life is one of the best things of its kind they have seen. They predict it will make a great deal of money for Joe, and that is to be hoped for as he is an athlete who never cheated anyone.

Oldfield's Catch May Be Canadian Mark For Trout

Toronto—(P)—Jack Oldfield of nearby Bolton recently caught a speckled trout in Thor lake, north of Sudbury, which may set a Canadian record for 1953.

The fish, caught with a small red-eyed wiggler, weighed 7 1/4 pounds when weighed by officials of the Ontario department of lands and forests at Capreol, and that was after it had been gutted and gilled. Oldfield estimates it weighed 8 1/2 pounds when caught.

The world record for speckled trout was set in 1915 when Dr. D. Cooke of Fort William pulled one weighing 14 1/2 pounds from the Nipigon river. Last year's largest in Ontario weighed eight pounds, nine ounces. It was caught by Wilfred Laine of Port Arthur in the Nipigon.

Carnoustie, Scotland—(P)—The way Hogan has dominated pre-tournament speculation was further reflected in the odds of 5 to 1 generally available against Bobby Locke.

The big South African has merely won this title three times and is the defending titleholder.

Roberto de Vicenzo, the Argentine star, was on offer at 8 to 1. Lloyd Mangrum, former U.S. Open champion, was priced at 9 to 1 and Frank Stranahan, a top notch U.S. amateur, was quoted at 20 to 1.

Quebec—(P)—First arrivals for the Canadian Professional Golfers Association championship got in a practice workout Thursday over the 6,525-yard par 72 Royal Quebec course where the 54-hole tournament opens Saturday.

Good Time's Record For $25,000 National Pacing Derby Stands Big Assault; Direct Rhythm Wins

Westbury, N.Y.—(P)—Good Time, the world's record money winning pacer, was breathing easier, at least temporarily, today following the latest assault on his speed record.

Ten of the fastest pacers in action tried to shave Good Time's 2:31 3-5 world mark in the $25,000 National Pacing Derby Thursday night at Roosevelt Raceway. They didn't even come close.

In fact, Hi-Lo's Forbes, the horse who was supposed to have the best chance, could finish no better than fourth after starting from the No. 10 post position in the second tier.

Direct Rhythm, a $1300 for $2 hazard owned by W. G. Reynolds of Louisville, took the test in 2:33 4-5 for the 1 1/4-mile event. Thomas B. Scott was second and Dudley Hanover third.

Direct Rhythm, driven by Del Miller of Meadow Lands, Pa., broke slowly and laid back in seventh and eighth in the early part of the race.

Prince Jay, owned by the S. A. Camp Farms, Inc., of Shafter, Cal., led in the first mile, but then K. D. Owen's Irish Hal, Houston, Tex., moved into a slight lead.

Dudley Hanover moved in from the back and Henry Cluckey drove Hi-Lo's Forbes up to challenge around the last turn, but couldn't make the grade as Direct Rhythm ranged up in the straits.

Fifth to finish was Grant Hodgins' Prince Adios, from Clandeboye, Ont., followed by Wilming-ton's Star, R. L. Craig, Urbana, Guineo Gold, Pearle S. Hungerford, Shelbyville, Ind.; Solicitor, Hanover, Pa.; Shoe Farms, Irish Hal, and Prince Jay. Prince Jay won this race in 1951 and was third last year.

Wings Edge Royals As Jordan Wins To Keep Bisons Up

Former major league right-hander Milt Jordan is the hottest pitcher in the International League today and don't let any Buffalo fan hear you say differently.

Jordan, who came to the Bisons earlier this season from Detroit Tigers of the American League, is the loop's top hurler. He pitched his 10th victory Thursday night in a relief role, downing Syracuse Chiefs 5-4.

This put the Bisons within 1 1/2 games of the pace-setting Montreal Royals, who fell 3-1 to Rochester Red Wings. Buffalo's win was the club's eighth in the last nine games.

Jordan has won his last seven games and has only one defeat. However, Buffalo's victory was not easy. The Bisons hammered three Syracuse hurlers for 14 safeties, but the Chiefs rallied for all their runs in the eighth inning. The Chiefs were allowed only six hits, but two errors played against the Herd.

Outfielder Ed Mierkowiec' two-run homer in the seventh gave the Red Wings the game at Rochester. Right-hander Jack Faszholz got the win, his third, but needed help from lefty Dennis Reeder in the ninth. Southpaw Bob Ludwig was charged with the loss.

It's better business to buy Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks

Here are a few things we think are worthy of your consideration before you buy your truck. In 1953, Chevrolet trucks are more rugged, have huskier and more rigid construction than ever in the past. This means longer truck life and lower over-all costs to you. You'll find the increased horsepower and higher compression ratios of the four great valve-in-head engines bring you greater power, greater stamina, greater performance, greater ability to do the job. You'll find that means faster acceleration, greater ability to climb the steepest grades. And you'll find a wonderful gain in gasoline mileage, too!

As any owner of a 1953 Chevrolet truck knows, these are the sturdiest, most powerful trucks Chevrolet has ever built. In every load range, they have proved themselves to be the world's leading money-makers on any hauling job.

Before you buy, drop in at our showroom and talk things over. Let us show you why it's better business to buy Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks.
