PRICE ONE CENT.

A MODERN PILGRIMAGE.

Cost of the C. E. Trip to Frisco.
Chicago, July 10.—Here is an estimate of the amounts that the Christian Endeavor delegates will disburse before they return home. The fare of 25,000 persons at $50 for a round trip from Mississippi points, $1,250,000; 25,000 persons, sleepers, meals, hotel and sight-seeing expenses at $50 each, $1,250,000; estimated expenses of 15,000 persons in reaching the Mississippi River points, $200,000; number of cars required to carry the delegates, 1,200; number of trains required, 100; estimated number of miles travelled by each delegate, 5,500.
The record of the Christian Endeavor movement to the Pacific coast presents some astonishing facts in the matter of travel.
Fully 25,000 men and women, chiefly from the Mississippi Valley took the 1,000 mile journey. To be exact, the distance as the trains go is nearer 5,500 miles on the round trip.
The railroads made a one-half rate for the round trip from all Mississippi River points. The general managers estimate that $7,000 of the 25,000 are Christian Endeavor delegates.

The Gags.
"So you were found and gagged by bandits while in Italy, were you?" asked the garrulous person. "Regular comic opera bandits, eh?"
"No, sir," said the traveler. "There was nothing of the comic opera style about them. The gags they used were all new."

Vienna, July 9.—The Sultan having wired the Emperor Francis Joseph asking his friendly assistance in arriving at a settlement of the frontier question, the Emperor replied by telegram, assuring the Sultan of his "sincere friendship," and urging him to "conclude peace with Greece on the basis of the conditions the ambassadors have formulated, which are the maximum concessions recognized as equitable by the concert. The telegram concluded as follows: "The concert of the powers is firm and united in its decisions. Therefore, I request Your Majesty to take my advice into earnest consideration."

SEAL PROTECTION.

Conference Held in London.
London, July 10.—The conferences between the United States Ambassador, Col. John Hay, and Mr. John W. Foster, the United States Commissioner, the Marquis of Salisbury, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier, on the question of seal protection, have resulted in the British Prime Minister showing more disposition to reopen the question than when the United States first requested that this be done. Experts belonging to the Foreign Office are compiling evidence to sustain the British contention that the Paris agreement sufficiently protected the seals.

GENIUS AND MADNESS

THE SUBJECT REVIVED BY RECOLLECTIONS OF TENNYSON.

The Directly Opposite Views of the Question Taken by Charles Lamb and Dr. Forbes Winslow - A Few of the Most Noted Instances of Eccentricity.

Professor Max Muller's reminiscences of the poet Tennyson, which are printed in The Cosmopolite, tend to confirm the old and widely accepted theory that great genius is apt to be allied with great eccentricity. There seems to have been in the late poet laureate a taint of the bad temper and intense egotism which characterized his famous contemporary, Thomas Carlyle, and made him say and do so many ungracious things. Dr. Muller quotes Tennyson, for example, as finding fault with the meals served for him by his host - a breach of good manners for which a schoolboy would be properly punished. At dinner he manifested annoyance because the sauce served with salmon was not the kind he liked. At breakfast he whistled off the cover of the hot dish set before him and exclaimed testily: "Mutton chops. The staple of every bad inn in England." Like Carlyle, the laureate was at his lowest and best while under the influence of his indispensable pipe. Dr. Muller relates that on one occasion, being taunted by some friends with his inability to break the smoking habit, Tennyson announced his intention to give it up at once and forever. The same evening he threw his pipes and tobacco out of his bedroom window. After two days' abstinence he was very moody and capricious, and the third day he was intolerably so. After passing a restless night he got up, went quietly to the garden, picked up one of his broken pipes, filled it with tobacco and after a short pull came to tobacco with normal serenity. He never again referred to the question of breaking the tobacco habit.

It is astonishing how few great authors have been free from marked idiosyncrasies, lending color to the popular theory that between the most exalted intellects and insanity there is only a very narrow dividing line. Dryden has put the belief into a famous couplet. Long before that was written Aristotle wrote, "No excellent souls exempt from a mixture of madness." Seneca said the same thing in other words and Pope echoes Dryden in his "Essay on Man."

Remembrance and reflection how allied; What thin partitions sense from thought divide!

Dr. Forbes Winslow, the famous English authority on alienism, not long since gave it as his deliberate opinion that there is a scientific foundation for the theory that genius and madness are first cousins. He says that persons of genius are usually persons of great sensibility and that nervous irritability and emotional disturbance go along with the ultra sensitive temperament. He points to Scott and Byron as examples of men of great genius who were both endowed with that excessive sensibility which tends to become morbid, melancholy and deranged. It is curious that Dr. Winslow should take two poets as his illustrations, for while all true poets must be men of genius, all men of genius are certainly not poets. There has been a general concurrence of opinion to the effect that poetry is the product of mental conditions that are extraordinary, & not abnormal. Shelley, himself not free from the suspicion of mental disorder, declares that "poets are the hierophants of an unapprehended inspiration, the mirrors of the gigantic shadows which futurity casts upon the present," and this definition itself suggests some measure of disturbance of thought. Junius, in one of his famous letters to Sir William Draper, speaks of "the melancholy madness of poetry," and if we are to confine our inspection of genius to poets and authors alone there certainly is much evidence pointing to the alleged affinity of genius and insanity. Coleridge could not have been entirely sane or he would not have taken such delight in satirizing himself. The poet Alhieru wore his half-so long that, as he sat in his box at the theater in Turin, it streamed over the other side of the partition, where a lady broke out in voluble admiration of it. The next day Alhieru cut his tresses close to his head and sent them in a parcel to the lady. It was a poet's way of repaying a kindness. No mad man would have so acted. Byron did many strange things. His conversion of a skull found in the graveyard of his ancestors into a drink cup was one of the least crazy. These instances of poetic freakiness could be easily extended. Young's "Night Thoughts," though Young was as cheerful as a cricket when he wrote it, is as full of the microbes of melancholia, and Beattie was justified in saying that whenever one finds himself reading it in a corner with pleasure "it is time to shut the book and return to the company."

Yet Charles Lamb observes in one of his brilliant essays that "it is impossible for the mind to conceive of a mad Shakespeare," and he takes issue squarely with Dr. Forbes Winslow's theory by declaring that the near relationship of genius to insanity is a popular fallacy, and that "the greatest wits will ever be found to be the sanest writers." "The ground of the fallacy," says Lamb, "that men, finding the raptures of the higher poetry a condition of exaltation to which they have no parallel in their own experience besides the spurious resemblance of it in dreams and fevers, impute a state of dreaminess and fever to the poet. He is not possessed by his subject, but has domination over it. In the groves of Eden he walks familiar as in his native paths. He ascends the empyrean heaven and is not intoxicated. He treats the burning marl without dismay. He wings his flight without self loss through realms of chaos and old night."

Remembrance and reflection how allied; What thin partitions sense from thought divide!

Sherbrooke vs. Cookshire.

The Cookshire and Sherbrooke Cricket clubs played a two-inning game on the Parade Ground Saturday afternoon. Owing to some misunderstanding as to time there was considerable dispute as to which team was the victor. The Sherbrookes were under the impression that the wickets were to be drawn at 6.30, while the Cookshire club thought that if the game was not finished at 6.30 it was to be continued until 7. The umpires, not being apprised of the latter method of timing, called the game at 6.30, the Sherbrookes having three men to go to bat.

- The teams were as follows: Cookshire: J. Cork, G. Plaisance, E. Cork, S. Botterill, F. S. Wetherall, J. Hepburn, Cyrus Macrae, R. Darker, H. B. Speer, E. S. Baker, Wm. Learned. Sherbrooke: C. H. Dewhurst, H. M. Tomlinson, A. Manning, S. Bland, A. Moorcroft, M. Smith, C. C. Knight, J. J. Penhall, J. Brownhill, F. Hudson, F. Tiffany.

At the end of the first inning the score was Cookshire 10, Sherbrooke 24. In the second inning Cookshire having made 58 runs gave up the innings and Sherbrooke went to bat. When time was called Sherbrooke had scored 30 runs with three men to bat, consequently the second innings not being finished the first decided the game in Sherbrooke's favor.

Cookshire objected to the result, because of the time misunderstanding and so the game stands disputed.

A COOL WAVE IS ON.

Last Week Was a Record Breaker.

The hot wave has passed and a cool one is on. Even though the change brings ruin it will be welcomed for almost any kind of weather is preferable to the intense heat of last week. When all the reports are in the list of fatalities caused by the heat will exceed in length that of any previous similar occasion.

Despatches received by the Associated Press at N. Y. report 2000 prostrations and more than 350 fatalities. The Central States suffered more than other sections. Eighty-seven people died in Chicago with 350 prostrations. Fourteen died in St. Louis with 50 prostrations. Cincinnati reports 400 cases of sunstroke.

The probs, now say we will have cool and fair weather. It is to be sincerely hoped that the cool wave will prove as broad as the hot one for nothing less than a week will fully restore the flagging energies of the people, who have been sweltering under the tropical sun of the past week.

HON. W. B. IVES HURT.

Hon. W. B. Ives met with a slight accident in the mill of Cleveland & Son, Johnville, on Saturday. Mr. Ives, while in conversation, stepped aside for an employee handling lumber, and in so doing did not notice the larger wheel used in drawing in logs. One of the handles struck Mr. Ives on the head, inflicting a scalp wound and slightly stunning him for a moment.

DIED ON BOARD THE TRAIN.

Saturday afternoon Coroner Woodward proceeded to Windsor Mills to enquire into the death of a little girl named Hamelyn, 3 years of age, who died in a Grand Trunk train while on the way home with her mother. No inquest was, however, necessary, the child having died from natural causes. This is the eighth sudden death the coroner has had to deal with in the last nine days.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Before Judge Mulvena This Morning.

O. Begin, of D'Isernli, was before Magistrate Mulvena this morning for selling liquor without a license. He was condemned to pay $150, or 3 months in jail. Mr. John Leonard appeared for the prosecution, this being his first case since his appointment as Prosecuting Attorney by the Provincial Government.

Daniel W. Page, of Coaticook, was up for examination for poisoning two cows belonging to Messrs. H. and M. B. Lovell, of Coaticook. Messrs. Henry and Charles Lovell were examined, also Mr. Samuel Bush, of Vermont, who is the father-in-law of Pope. The latter witness gave evidence that the prisoner told him yesterday (Sunday) that he poisoned the cows.

Mr. Pope, on being asked by the Magistrate if he had anything to say, admitted that he poisoned the cows, but was out of his mind at the time, and did not realize what he was doing. He said he had no reason for committing such an act.

He was committed to take his trial in October at the Court of Queen's Bench, or before Magistrate Mulvena. He accepted the latter, and Wednesday was set down as the date for same.

This Pope is a relative of Mr. Charles Lovell, and has been in the employ of that firm for the past fifteen years. There had never been trouble between the prisoner and his employers, and no reason could be given by anyone for the committing of such an act.

BIKE ACCIDENT.

Last evening, as Mr. Robert Dean, employed by Messrs. Johnston & Co., wheeled down the road hill near Mr. James Thompson's, at full speed, the bar handle of his bike went out of its proper way and he was thrown in a violent manner, receiving a cut on his left arm, as well as a severe shaking which caused him to faint. He had his injured arm dressed by a doctor. The handle was also torn off.

BASEBALL.

In the local League the Water-villes won their first game on Saturday last, winning from the Nationals by a score of 19 to 18. The score by innings was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Team, Score. Nationals 12 23 22 32 1-18, Waterville 2 4 20 5 0 20 4-19.

These clubs being so evenly matched the games have been of exceptional interest to the "cranks," the Nationals having won the former game by a score 14 to 13.

BIT IN THE LIP BY A DOG.

Little eight year old Harry Edney while playing with a dog last evening was severely bitten in the lip. The dog had but lately been clipped and it is supposed that the little boy touched some sore part of his head with the above result. Dr. Worthington was called and burned out the wound. It is not thought that any serious results will follow.

POST OFFICE DESTROYED BY FIRE.

The Maple Grove Post Office, house and store combined, situated in Megantic County, was destroyed by fire last night. The fire not being noticed until well started, the whole was a total loss, including all the mail.

UNDERGROUND WIRES.

Conduits are being laid in the foundation of the new Bell Telephone building with a view to underground wires later on.

MASSAWIPPI BOAT & CANOE CLUB.

The Massawippi Boat & Canoe Club held an "at home" on Saturday evening, the occasion being the opening of the Boat Club house for the season. The boat house was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting and more than 150 people were present and enjoyed the hospitality of the boat club. Quite a number went up from Sherbrooke by special train, and many were present from Hatley and vicinity. The large company acknowledged that the evening was one of the most enjoyable ever given by the club.

CORRESPONDENCE.

LACROSSE.

Mr. Editor, Sir:

In answer to the Captain of the Dragoon Lacrosse club, in regard to playing three matches for thirteen medals or a trophy, on the conditions named by him, I, as secretary of the Sherbrooke Club, may say that the proposition is a fair one and that we are prepared to accept the offer for a trophy, which I think will be more suitable to us, as we have a vacant space on our shelf for such a prize. The Sherbrooke club will be ready to play the first match on the 17th, and the following dates we will leave to the Dragoons to name as we wish to encourage every effort put forth by the Dragoon Lacrosse team. Such dates not to conflict with our league matches.

BRIEFLETS.

The union picnic of the Methodist and Presbyterian Sabbath schools, which was to be held at Little Magog Lake to-morrow, has been postponed for one week because suitable railroad connections could not be arranged.

The Jenckes Machine Co. have just shipped a carload of machinery to the Montague Co., Lake Megantic, for their new mill. This carload is but part of the outfit which they have been building for that firm. On Saturday they shipped them an iron boiler house, complete.

A lady who has been visiting at Mrs. Macdonald's, East Sherbrooke, lost her purse this morning on the way over to Union Depot. It contained $25 and her ticket. Search was made, but the lost purse has not yet been found.

A collision occurred between the teams of Mrs. Wm. Addie and Mrs. Wm. Farwell on Wellington Square, Saturday afternoon. In both cases the horses were only walking, but the wheels became entangled, and Mrs. Addie's buggy was completely overturned, throwing her and a young lady out. The horse then attempted to run away, but before he was fairly started a dozen men had hold of him. It was a surprise to all that very little damage was done.

Today is the 12th of July, the Orangeman's Day. In many cities and towns of the land the Battle of the Boyne, marking the defeat of King James and the triumph of King William, is being commemorated by processions and festivities.

BIKES GO DOWN.

London, July 9.-The Rudge-Whitworth Cycle Company yesterday took the cycle industry by surprise by suddenly, and without the slightest warning, either to the London managers or agents, reducing the price of their bicycles from £30 to 16 guineas for the highest grade and from 20 to 12 guineas for the second grade. Something like consternation has been caused in the cycle trade by this action, and took every rival concern by surprise, as only a couple of days previously the London manager stated that his company had no intention of making a reduction in response to the Columbia Company's action.

POWERS UNITED. Turkey Must Yield to Their Demand.

Constantinople, July 12.—The collective note of the powers demanding a cessation of the obstruction of the peace negotiations, which was presented by the ambassadors to the Turkish Government Friday, is couched in the most severe terms. It insists that the frontier between Greece and Turkey be traced by the military attaches of the embassy of the powers to secure a prompt conclusion of peace.

A NEW ANGLICAN CHURCH. Sweetburg, Que., July 10.—His Lordship Bishop Bond was here yesterday for the double purpose of holding a confirmation service and of consecrating the church.

The services were held in the morning. The Bishop and clergy were met at the church door by Surgeon-Major Fuller and Lt.-Col. Bulman, who acted in the places of Sheriff Cotton and the Hon. H. QUEBEC'S DEFEATED QUEBEC, July 12.—After a very slow and poor exhibition of lacrosse the Nationals to day administered to the Quebec lacrosse team the worst defeat they have ever suffered, piling on the agony to the tune of eight games to nothing. CANADA'S LOYALTY. ELOQUENT SPEECH BY SIR W. LAURIER.

At the Canadian Dominion Day dinner held at the Hotel Cecil, the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier made an eloquent and enthusiastic speech.

It was in response to the toast of "The Dominion of Canada," proposed by the High Commissioner, Sir Wilfrid stood up to meet a reverberating tornado of cheers. Before he sat down he had well earned his reputation, for it may be doubted whether at any of the many Colonial gatherings to be held in the next few weeks the earnest, loyal, expressive eloquence and magnetic enthusiasm of Canada's Prime Minister will be excelled.

"With Daniel O'Connell," he observed, "I can say, I love England, Scotland, and Ireland, but my heart is with Canada, my native land."

"Somebody objected to Rudyard Kipling calling Canada 'Our Lady of the Snows.' I do not. The snows are the charms of Canada. We are proud of her, proud of her history, and it is no exaggeration to say the history of Canada is an exciting changes and probabilities exceeds even those of England and France up to that last great battlefield in which Wolfe died exulting and Montcalm was hurried away from to find his grave shadowed by his first defeat."

"We now give to the world," he continued, "the grandest spectacle of freedom the sun has ever shone on. Five millions of souls with millions of fertile lands and practically an independent nation."

"Were we severed from England we could not have more freedom. 'If a confederation of Australasia and South Africa takes place the earth will be circled by a sovereignty of nations that will make one solid, impregnable Empire.' 'Little enmities and rancors have been to a great extent removed by the Queen of England, for the heart of the Queen of England has always been on the side of liberty.'"

"If on my deathbed I feel that through any effort of mine a prejudice or racial bitterness between the peoples of the two great Atlantic continents has been eliminated, I will feel I have not lived in vain, and sink to my last sleep in peace."

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS MINING CO., OPERATING IN ONTARIO

The following items are taken from the Wabigoon, Ont., Star. "Hon. Henry Aylmer of Richmond, P. Q., came up from the Manitou on Friday last and stayed over in Wabigoon awaiting the arrival of Capt. Francis Bennett, mining engineer, a Cornishman by birth, who has followed mining for the last thirty years in this country, South Africa, Australia, and almost everywhere where mines are to be found."

They are investigating the possibilities of this mining country, in the interests of a new Company organized in the Eastern Townships, and known as the Eastern Townships Mining and Development Co. Their main object is to secure interests in claims, in such a manner as to allow them to devote most of their capital to development work, and to this end they would rather take a prospect and work it for a reasonable interest in it, than buy expensive claims outright.

They are, Mr. Aylmer assured us, prepared to spend any sum of money within reason, on development, on any claims approved by their engineer, in whom they repose the greatest confidence, and are anxious to see all the properties which are for sale on the Manitou or in this district. He thinks, however, that the average prospector is hardly ready for a deal.

Capt. Bennetts came in on Monday, and went out immediately to visit a property of Mr. McLellan. On Tuesday he went down with Mr. Henry Aylmer to the McCrae mine, and to-day they leave for Manitou.

A committee meeting of the Sherbrooke Lacrosse Club will be held this evening after practice. Every member is requested to be present, as important business will be transacted at this meeting.

Those answering advertisements in this paper will advertise the interests of all concerned by mentioning that they saw the same in the SHERBROOKE DAILY RECORD

Charged With Attempted Abduction. Interesting Case Before the District Magistrate.

The case of Wilfred Desormeaux of Beebe Plain, who is charged with an attempt at abduction, came up for preliminary hearing this morning before District Magistrate Mulvena.

Desormeaux is a commercial traveller. In March last he went to St. Camille and boarded at the house of Huppe, who is the complainant in the case. Huppe is a well-to-do farmer with a large family. Desormeaux fell in love with the old gentleman's daughter, Obeline Huppe. The father gave his consent to the marriage of the couple providing the ceremony was performed in the catholic church.

Desormeaux who is a protestant, consented to this, but afterwards wanted to be married by a protestant minister.

Last week Huppe came to this city with his daughter and sent to Beebe Plain for Desormeaux, to meet them here and have the marriage consummated. Desormeaux came and together they went to Grand Vicar Chalfoux at the Bishop's palace. The marriage was postponed for a time in order to procure a dispensation. The party returned to the East Sherbrooke House where it is reported, quite a scene took place and Huppe subsequently brought the charge of attempted abduction against Desormeaux.

Two of the principal witnesses were examined this morning. The evidence does not seem to be very strong against Desormeaux and it is thought the whole thing will end by marriage as all parties seem to favor this settlement.

"Yes or No?"

A pretty story of how Henry M. Stanley wooed and won Miss Dorothy Tennant, though coming to us from private sources, has been made sufficiently public to avert the charge of undue personality. Miss Tennant, it is well known, was the original of Sir John Millais' famous picture, "Yes or No?"

The explorer went to Africa again, and after several years returned to London, to find himself the most talked of man of the day.

The thought of Miss Tennant was still uppermost in his mind, and he resolved that his first visit should be to her home. In his impatience for the morrow he hurried over the cards and notes with which the table was strewn, and selecting one haphazardly decided to write while away the time by attending a certain reception.

The first person he met there was Miss Tennant. They greeted each other formally, but later in the evening Stanley retired to a small anteroom, to find that Miss Tennant had likewise sought solitude. A somewhat embarrassing silence ensued, broken at last by the woman saying, with the manner of one "making conversation":

"Do you find London much changed, Mr. Stanley?" "No, I haven't found London changed, and I've not changed either," returned the explorer, with his usual intrepidity. "Have you?" "Yes, I've changed," answered Miss Tennant softly.

A few days later Millais received a note from his former subject, beginning: MY DEAR SIR JOHN—The momentous question has been at last decided. It is a joyful and triumphant "Yes!" —Youth's Companion.

When She Listened. "Listen!" he hissed. "No," she answered, and turning upon her heel brusquely she left him there alone.

For she was a telephone girl by profession, and it was not her wont to listen to anything unless she was sure it was none of her business. —Detroit Journal.

KOREAN FESTIVALS. The New Moon Holiday is Also Observed as All Fools' Day.

The last day of the old year and the first week of the new year are given up to festivities. The fifteenth day of the first month is called the new moon holiday. A particular kind of food is made at this time, consisting of dates, chestnuts, honey and cake-ice (a peculiar kind of rice) boiled together. This food is called medicinal food and is supposed to be prophylactic and also to strengthen the brain.

In the country torches are lighted to welcome the moon and people assemble in great numbers to catch the first glimpse of the moon, as it insures happiness. This day is also observed as All Fools' day. A favorite trick is to attach a flower secretly to some one's clothing.

In the second month, usually on the 10th, butterfly holiday occurs. The third day of the third month is observed as the flower holiday. On this day young men make a cake of flowers mixed with wheat and rice, and this is fried. They also cook fish and other articles of food.

The eighth day of the fourth month is called by the Buddhists the washing day of Buddha. Households have a lantern for each person, and these are supplied with oil lamps instead of candles, as candles are made of ox fat or honeycomb, and Buddha forbids the killing of animals. Oil or lamps is always a vegetable oil. The lower classes attend church on this day and sacrifice to Buddha. A cake is made of black beans, and this was formerly decorated with flowers. Now this is rarely done, though artificial flowers are sometimes used for this purpose.

At this time forms of animals are made of meal or flour and sold to the children. The fifth day of the fifth month is called swinging day, and is derived from China. Swings are suspended from trees and frames, and everybody indulges in the sport. Boys put on their new clothes at this time. The root of the flax is cut with a sloping edge which is colored red, and this is worn in the hair to ward off calamities. The Japanese have a holiday at this time, but have no idea of its derivation.

MILLIONS IN BUTTONS

CATCHES MADE OF COSTLY DIAMONDS IN THE DAYS OF LOUIS XIV.

An Inventory That Reads Like a Fairy Tale—The Ridiculous Mania For Gigantic Buttons In the Eighteenth Century. Collectors Pay High Prices.

Recently at the Hotel Drouot there was a sale of a curious and interesting collection of ancient buttons, the property of Baron Perignon of Paris. This collection, which was exhibited in 1889 at the exposition of decorative arts, might rival any one of those belonging to the most enthusiastic buttonists in the world.

The buttons of the eighteenth century bring high prices in the market at the present time. There are some of them that Fragonard, we are told, decorated with his marvelous pencil. In his time it was fashionable to make presents of buttons as big as a crown piece, on which allegories and various subjects were carved.

Bachauumont writes in his "Secret Memoirs," Nov. 18, 1786: "The mania for buttons is today extremely ridiculous. They are not only of enormous size, some of them as big as six pound crowns, but miniatures and pictures are made upon them, and this ornamentation is extremely costly. Some of them represent the medals of the 12 Cæsars, others antique statues and still others the Metamorphoses of Ovid."

Isaey, in his biographical notes, says that when he came to Paris he worked for a living by making copies of Vanloos and Bouchers on the lids of snuffboxes, and that for these medals he was paid from 6 to 8 francs each. "As it was still the fashion," he said, "to wear buttons as big as a 5 franc piece, upon which Cupids, flowers and landscapes were cut in cameo, I went into that business. I got 12 sous for each."

Two years after this period in the life of Bachauumont buttons abandoned erudition to take up idleness. All the fine monuments of Paris were carved on them. Then came the patriotic buttons, representing the taking of the Bastille, the emblem of the three orders, the Phrygian cap, the portraits of Louis XVI, of Mirabeau.

Shortly afterward these ornaments were laid aside. The reign of the artistic button was over, and the mother of pearl button became general. The oldest buttons at present in the museums and among the collections are the gold buttons discovered at Mycenæ, at the time of the excavations undertaken by Dr. Schliemann, and also those found in the tomb of Childeric I. The latter were exhibited at the Louvre in the Musée des Souverains. They are made of gold and of colored glass, imitating garnet. Buttons detached from copes and religious garments of the middle ages and of the renaissance have also been discovered.

But the richest things of the kind, beyond a doubt, are those that were worn by Louis XIV. M. Maze-Seuicr, in the "Register of Diamonds and Presents to the King," at present preserved in the ministry of foreign affairs, gives an official account of the buttons of that pompous sovereign. It is as follows: "Feb. 3, 1685.—Monetary presented to the king 80 diamond buttons, valued at 180,030 livres. "May 7, 1685.—Made and delivered by Sieur Bosc, 6 diamond buttons, 30,000 livres. "July 26, 1685.—Handed over by Montarey to the Marquis de Seignelay for the king 75 diamond buttons, 586,703 livres. "Aug. 1, 1685.—Two diamond buttons, 67,868 livres. "Aug. 16, 1685.—Three diamond buttons, 69,660 livres. "Dec. 20, 1685.—Four diamond buttons, 83,775 livres. Another item in the same year: "July 26, 1685.—Furnished by Montarey for the king's vest: Forty-eight gold buttons, each set with a diamond, and 96 clasps, 48 of which were composed of five diamonds each and 48 of one diamond each, 185,123 livres. "Also 384 clasps for the doublet of the king, 162 of which were formed of five diamonds each and 162 of one diamond each, 1,006,345 livres. "In addition there were seven ornamental clasps of three diamonds each, 201,270 livres. "Sundry presents, 33 ornamental clasps, 574,366 livres."

Time to Change. It was at a table d'hôte dîner at a hill station in India that a very young officer just up from the plains found himself seated next to a lady whom he took for one of the grass widows common in those parts. He made himself agreeable, but his neighbor seemed a good deal out of spirits, so he said sympathetically: "I suppose you can't help thinking of your poor husband grilling down below?" "But the lady was a real widow, and when he learned that he changed his seat.—London Vanity Fair.

The Greatest Wonder of the Age. RHEUMATISM CURED.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid formed in the blood. This acid is poisonous matter and is nothing more than the waste, worn out matter—the ashes, so to speak, of the fire that burns when you think, speak, act or work. This dead matter is borne in the dark current of the veins back from all parts of the body to the heart, to be forced through the kidneys for purification, and this poison constantly forming must be filtered out of the blood. If not, this poison acid will gather in all the muscles and joints of the human body, and to remove it has so far defied the skill of all physicians up to the present day. The great is the only thing that has ever been known to effect a perfect cure. It is a new thing to the white man, but an ancient thing to the North American Indian. This medicine contains no drugs, and is made of purely roots, herbs, barks, seeds and flowers gathered by the dusky sons of the forest. Two bottles of this medicine are guaranteed to cure any case of Rheumatism, no matter how long standing, or the money will be refunded. Sold by all druggists. The remedy is the best blood purifier yet known, as it excites the kidneys to a healthy action at once, causing them to throw the poisonous matter off and therefore it must be recognised also as a kidney cure.
