Warns dairy producers to tighten production

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian dairy farmers must keep production for 1976-77 under tight control because there is a world surplus and competition for sales is strong, a member of the Canadian Dairy Commission said Wednesday.

H. M. (Scottie) Johnson told about 600 delegates to the Ontario Milk Marketing Board's 10th annual meeting of milk producers that the commission and the federal government are doing their best to sell dairy products, but production must be limited.

Mr. Johnson said stocks of skim milk powder are particularly high, the market weak and competition fierce.

He said the federal government's announcement in November that the milk-subsidy allowance is being cut to $262 million from $275 million means real production cuts are required. "If... over-production continues then producers will be the losers," Mr. Johnson said.

USE DECLINING

Sir Richard Trehan, chairman of the Milk Marketing Board of England and Wales, told delegates that a trend away from use of dairy products is the greatest concern to the industry.

The delegates endorsed proposals to be taken to the annual meeting of Dairy Farmers of Canada in Calgary later this month.

It was recommended that: —The Canadian milk supply management committee be provided with regular, detailed reports on international dairy product markets by the federal government.

—A joint industry and government decision be reached on the amount of milk to be covered by subsidy and the rate of the subsidy.

—The Dairy Farmers of Canada be asked to continue to pursue the possibility of increasing Canada's contribution of skim milk powder to the world food program on a continuity-of-supply basis.

—Imports of variety cheeses into Canada be reduced and butter imports be permitted only when necessary.

Ouellet due in court today

MONTREAL (CP) — Consumer Affairs Minister Andre Ouellet was due to appear in court here today to show cause why he should not be found in contempt of court for criticizing the acquittal last month of three sugar refiners on pricefixing charges.

Mr. Ouellet, 36, was ordered to explain his remarks on the Dec. 19 verdict, remarks described as "false, abusive, intemperate and reprehensible" in Mr. Justice Kenneth Mackay's citation ordering today's hearing.

There is no specified maximum penalty for conviction on a contempt charge. The sentence is left to the discretion of the judge.

The companies acquitted of conspiring to fix prices and lessen competition in six provinces from 1960 to 1973 were Redpath Industries Ltd., Atlantic Sugar Refineries Co. Ltd. and St. Lawrence Sugar Ltd.

The trial lasted nine months and heard testimony from more than 60 witnesses in Europe, India, South Africa and the United States, as well as in Ottawa and Montreal.

APPEAL PLANNED

Justice Minister Ron

Basford said Monday his department has launched an appeal of Mr. Justice Mackay's verdict.

The Crown is appealing several points, including the judge's decision that the sugar companies did not break the law when they made an agreement to share the sugar market in Eastern Canada.

Mr. Justice Mackay said that while an agreement existed, the Crown did not show that the object was to prevent or lessen competition unduly. He said the refiners were only trying to avoid a price war.

The Crown introduced evidence that the three companies operated separately in Eastern Canada until a fourth company, Cartier Sugar Ltd., was rumored to be entering the market. The refiners then allegedly tried to keep Cartier out by refusing to buy sugar from countries which sold to the newcomer—mainly South Africa.

Mr. Justice Mackay's 152-page judgment said the government failed to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the companies were guilty of the offences with which they were charged.

LONDON (Reuter) — In a controversial move to counter increased fighting in Northern Ireland, Prime Minister Harold Wilson has ordered the British army's elite counter-insurgency commandos into County Armagh, where 15 persons have died in sectarian fighting since last weekend.

The deployment of the Special Air Services (SAS) commandos, a significant intensification of the attempt to contain the violence, follows Tuesday's decision to send another 600 troops into the border region. Both moves are believed prompted by the machine-gunning of 10 Protestants on Monday following the killings during the weekend of five Roman Catholics.

The SAS, highly skilled in all aspects of anti-guerrilla activity, will be used for patrolling and intelligence-gathering. Previously serving in trouble spots from Oman to Borneo and now committed to NATO, they are trained to live behind enemy lines and go for weeks on limited rations.

This is believed to be the first time they have ever officially served in Britain proper although the Irish Republican Army has often alleged they were used in Northern Ireland despite government denials.

The move was announced after urgent consultations between Wilson and leaders of the Conservative opposition.

Airey Neave, the Conservatives' Northern Ireland spokesman, later praised the decision to deploy the SAS.

"We have for months been urging resolute and dramatic security measures in South Armagh and we therefore welcome such action," he said.

But one prominent Catholic politician in Northern Ireland, Gerry Fitt, said the SAS will be as popular as the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency and said he does not think they will be helpful in the situation.

In Dublin, a source close to the Irish government feared the decision may enflame the Northern Ireland situation and provoke the Provisional IRA into abandoning a ceasefire declared last February.

Details of deployment of the SAS are secret but there were unofficial estimates that 150 men or more may go in.

Teachers reject offer

TORONTO (CP) — Striking high school teachers in Metropolitan Toronto voted 3 to 1 Wednesday in favor of rejecting the Metro school board's latest contract offer, it was announced.

About half of the 8,600 teachers, on strike since Nov. 12, attended a meeting Tuesday and voted to stay on strike without strike pay if the contract offer was rejected in the vote Wednesday.

An Ontario cabinet source said earlier Wednesday an announcement on whether the teachers will be legislated back to work is not expected before Monday.

The source said that if the teachers rejected the latest offer, Premier Davis might call a special cabinet meeting during the weekend to discuss the matter.

2 die in plane crash

GOOSE BAY, Nfld. (CP) — Two persons are believed dead in the crash of a single-engine bush plane with nine persons aboard Wednesday afternoon.

The turbo-prop Beaver crashed while taking off from Northwest River, 20 miles northeast of this coastal Labrador community.

The plane, owned by Labrador Airways Ltd. and under contract to the International Grenfell Association, was en route here when it crashed.

All nine aboard were taken to the International Grenfell hospital at Northwest River where one was reported to have been pronounced dead on arrival. A second is believed to have died later.

Mid East policy

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Allan MacEachen will make a concrete step toward creation of a new Canadian Middle East policy this week when he begins a 10-day, five-country tour of the area.

Officials in the external affairs department said this week that the trip to Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Iraq and Israel is highly important in the process of policy change that started a year ago, shortly after Mr. MacEachen became minister.

They said knowledge gained on the trip will contribute to formation of a replacement for a long-held Canadian policy of standing clear of the embattled area except for giving some humanitarian aid and peacekeeping.

Oil spill damage

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Society of Environmental Biologists was given a chilling picture Wednesday of the irreparable damage which would result from even an average oil spill during current drilling operations in the Beaufort Sea.

Dr. David Lane, an aquatic biologist with the federal environment department in Edmonton, told the society's annual meeting that the effectiveness of existing methods for cleaning up spilled oil and even for stopping an oil well blowout, would be limited by conditions in the area.

To demonstrate his point, he referred to a scenario set out in a paper prepared by department biologists which predicted the effects of a hypothetical oil well blowout—a loss of control of a well during drilling when underground pressures force oil to the surface.

South African troops may pull out of Angola

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States officials say a pullout of South African troops from Angola would pose no problem, but that they are unaware of any imminent withdrawal from the strife-torn former Portuguese colony.

These officials expect the Organization of African Unity (OAU) to consider a resolution condemning South African intervention in the Angolan civil war. If it is accepted, the Pretorian government is not expected to resist.

Friends of the United States, which is backing anti-Marxist forces in the African country, cling to the hope that the African summit will go on to call for a withdrawal by all outside powers.

In U.S. terms, this would include Cuba, which is estimated to have up to 7,500 troops fighting alongside the Soviet-backed Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola (MPLA). The Soviet Union has several hundred advisers on the scene.

Earlier, NBC News reported that South Africa was preparing to withdraw from Angola within 48 hours.

But a state department spokesman would neither confirm nor deny the report, saying the South African government "hasn't informed us of its intentions and it is not clear to us what its intentions are."

However, U.S. officials said getting the South Africans to withdraw from Angola would not be a difficult matter and that their compliance with an OAU resolution calling for withdrawal was taken for granted by the administration.

These officials said that getting Cuba to pull out would be a much more difficult matter.

A Long Island newspaper, meanwhile, says that South Africa is using transport aircraft brought to Angola. The story by Newsday quotes intelligence sources and said such use of the planes would violate the agreement under which they were sold to South Africa.

Canada focusing on Latin America

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Trudeau's planned trip to Mexico, Cuba and Venezuela later this month emphasizes the growing importance of Latin America in Canadian foreign relations.

Mr. Trudeau will be the first Canadian prime minister to visit Cuba and Venezuela on official duties. His brief call last spring in Guyana, a Commonwealth country, already has made him the first Canadian head of government to pay an official visit to any part of South America.

The only other prime minister to venture south of the Rio Grande was John Diefenbaker, who visited Mexico in 1960 but went no further.

Travelling in an armed forces Boeing 707, the Trudeau party is scheduled to fly to Mexico City Jan. 23, arrive in Havana Jan. 26, in Caracas Jan. 29 and return to Ottawa Feb. 2.

Coming after his recent visits to Europe, his southern swing is another step in a campaign to develop a more independent role in international affairs.

WANTS SALES

Part of his objective is to sell more Canadian goods in overseas markets. Here Mr. Trudeau will follow paths trod recently by other government members.

Energy Minister Alastair Gillespie, then trade minister, led a delegation to Mexico in 1974 and to Cuba and Venezuela last year. Finance Minister Donald Macdonald visited Venezuela as energy minister in 1973.

Mexican president Luis Echeverria made a trip to Ottawa in 1973 and Cuban vice-premier Carlos Rafael Rodriguez was here 3½ months ago.

Trade with all three countries has been growing, although part of the jump in dollar value is due to inflation. Sales to the Cubans increased 62 per cent in the first nine months of 1975 compared with the same period in 1974. Exports to Venezuela rose 46 per cent and to Mexico 18 per cent.

Canada enjoys substantial trade surpluses with Cuba and Mexico. However, it has a heavy deficit in its Venezuela business, the cost of oil purchases far outweighing the value of the motor vehicles, aircraft and newsprint sold there.

MAJOR FACTOR

Thanks to skyrocketing oil prices, Venezuela now is Canada's second biggest source of foreign products, exceeded only by the United States. Canada imports about 800,000 barrels of oil a day, about 350,000 of them from Venezuela.

Oil price increases in 1974 drove up Canadian imports from Venezuela 147 per cent to an all-time high of $1.29 billion. More than 99 per cent of that was crude petroleum and petroleum products, most of it for East Coast refineries. The result was a trade deficit of $1.09 billion.

The flow of oil to Canada continued high in 1975, although Venezuelan conservation measures restricted it slightly. By the end of last September imports already totalled $826.2 million, leaving a nine-month deficit of $663.1 million.

At a time when Canada's known oil reserves are shrinking the security of its Venezuelan supplies is a vital concern. So is the balance-of-payments problem involved in paying for them.

Exports to Venezuela totalled $203.6 million in 1974 and $163.2 million to the end of September, 1975. Motor vehicles and parts constitute about 40 per cent of that. Besides planes, aircraft engines and paper, other important items are asbestos, steel, copper, grain, plastic, synthetic rubber, milk powder and seed potatoes.

TOUGH TERRITORY

Encouraged by a massive oil-financed industrialization program directed by President Carlos Andres Perez, Venezuela now has a well-established motor-vehicle industry of its own. This and other effects of the development plan, plus Venezuela's membership in the Latin America Free Trade Association, means tougher competition for Canadian exporters.

Meanwhile, exports to Cuba from Canada have grown to surpass Mexico's Canadian purchases in value. In the first nine months of 1975 sales to Cuba reached $156.1 million, slightly higher than the $153.5 million in sales to Mexico. Cuba thus became Canada's second largest Latin American market after Venezuela.

For all of 1974 exports to Cuba totalled $144.7 million and to Mexico $187.1 million.

Half of Cuba's foreign trade is with the Soviet Union. Business with Canada, Cuba's third largest supplier, has been mostly in agricultural products with wheat, flour and milk powder being the major Canadian exports.

Sales to Canada have been mainly sugar, shellfish and tobacco, although spending by Canadian tourists provides an important and growing invisible export.

Wake up Canada campaign resumes

The Federation's Wake-up Canada campaign, featuring the Little Red Rooster advertisements in mass audience daily newspapers, resumed January 5th after an interruption caused by the postal strike.

In announcing the resumption of the campaign, John F. Bulloch, president of the 30,000 member organization warned, that fighting the underlying causes of inflation, the something for nothing philosophy, government deficits and the excessive growth in the money supply has taken on a new urgency since the Prime Minister's national television interview on December 28th.

"The Prime Minister has inferred that the free market system cannot be made to work and that our present economic difficulties have been created by the failure of our market economy.

Nothing could be further from the truth! Our economic difficulties are the product of government's interference in the operation of the free market.

"Our unemployment rate has been artificially inflated by the Unemployment Insurance Act. The high unemployment of young people is a product of our minimum wage laws. High food prices can be related in many areas to agricultural marketing boards. Public sector wage settlements of 22 per cent in the first six months of 1975 are related to the growth of the bureaucracy and its members' right to strike. Our high cost economy makes us unable to compete with our trading partners. This again causes unemployment.

"Concentration of power in big corporations and big unions is also a product of government action. The heavy tax burden created by social welfare programmes forces the sale of small firms, which leads to bigness in business. Trade unions are social monopolies created by the state. In Japan, for example, 73 per cent of the population works for small and medium enterprises. In Canada, because of the high cost of government, this figure is in the order of 55 per cent.

In each of these examples, government interference in the free market has created economic problems and the resulting public unrest. "Our Wake-up Canada campaign has a simple theme: the size of government must be reduced if we are to revitalize our economy. As before, the public will be invited to send in $1.00 to receive a Wake-up Canada lapel button and bumper sticker.

Sweetsburg Court

SWEETSBURG WARD (JM) — Sessions court 1976 opened with a benign Judge Guy Genest wishing lawyers, court staff, the press and the audience a happy new year. His greetings indicated the temper of the court as no prison sentences were handed out.

Lynn Grenier, Cowansville, who was to have undergone preliminary hearing on a charge of criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle, in Cowansville, May 9, 1975, was cited directly to the next term of the assizes by virtue of article 476 of the criminal code with the consent of all parties.

His lawyer, Donald Bissonnette, allowed deposition of the transcript of the coroner's inquest in the death of Barry Gage produced with the exception of the testimony of his client.

The 1976 term of the District of Bedford assizes will open October 4.

Danny Douglas Brown and Robert Francois Bourdeau, Clarencville, were placed on one year's probation. Crown prosecutor Claude Noiseux told Judge Genest the duo had broken into a commercial building in November 1973, and had no further brushes with the law since their arraignment in December 1973.

Edouard Morency, Granby, who was found guilty of assault causing bodily harm, reduced from having attempted to mutilate Arsene Coriveau, in Granby, January 13, 1974, was placed on two years probation and bound over to keep the peace for the same period. Judge Genest imposed the condition the accused must cease frequenting establishments in the Granby area where alcohol is sold for consumption on premises.

Jean Pierre L'Hereux, Granby, who earlier pleaded guilty to three counts of breaking and entering commercial establishments and to one charge of willful property damage, was bound over to keep the peace and placed on two years probation. Crown attorney Noiseux suggested the accused be given a prison term.

Louise Grignon, who acted for the accused, said his client had committed the crimes in a brief interval during the spring of 1974. "He has since obtained gainful employment and has had no further dealings with the law. I suggest he be given a chance," Mr. Grignon said. Judge Genest remarked: "The sword of Damocles sometimes serves a useful purpose," prior to handing down sentence.

A bench warrant was issued for Georges Lussier who failed to appear for sentencing on a charge of theft.

Jean Guy Falcon, Granby, who earlier pleaded guilty to a count of theft of $600 was bound over to keep the peace and placed on one year's probation.

Jean Boucher and Charles Potvin, both of Granby, were placed on one year's probation and bound over to keep the peace. The young men pleaded guilty to a charge of theft of articles valued at $2,600 in Granby during November 1974.

Gilles Poussard, Legal Aid Office, who represented the men, said they had behaved since they entered their pleas on March 24, 1975, and suggested they be given a chance.

Yet another bench warrant was issued for Simon Cabana who failed to appear for sentencing on two counts of fraud.

Alain Fortin and Serge Langlois, both of Montreal, who were to have undergone preliminary hearing on a charge of qualified robbery at a Roxton Falls jewelry store last autumn asked to be cited to the next term of the local assizes by virtue of article 476 of the criminal code. They were remanded in custody pending trial.

Raymond Provost, Bedford, changed his option and pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving. He was fined $100 and costs, in default one month, and was allowed 30 days to acquit the fine costs.

Sentences in the cases of Roch and Jean Jalbert were adjourned to January 26 pending receipt of probation reports. The Granby men who earlier pleaded guilty to 10 counts of car theft were remanded in custody pending sentencing.

Sentence in the case of Daniel Lemay of Granby was adjourned to January 26, pending receipt of a pre-sentence report. Lemay earlier pleaded guilty to one count of attempted theft and to five charges of breaking and entering commercial establishments.

Claude Clouthier, Farnham, the first person to appear before Judge Guy Genest in 1976, was given an unconditional release under terms of article 662-1 of the criminal code. Clouthier, who was represented by Robert Brisebois, changed his option and pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving stolen goods valued at under $200.

Mr. Brisebois said: "It was an act of negligence on the part of my client. He was offered the carpet by another person and he bought it. He is the father of seven children and was discharged by his former employer, the carpet manufacturer, September 1. He has had no revenue since then and I suggest he be given an unconditional release."

Crown prosecutor Noiseux made no objection to the suggestion of the defence.

Claude Leroux, Bromont, and Marcel Matton, Granby, both pleaded guilty to charges of impaired driving. They were each fined $100 and costs, in default 30 days.

Judge Genest allowed the crown to withdraw a charge of breaking and entering levied against Denis Gibouleau. Mr. Noiseux told the court the accused is currently serving 23 months in Bordeaux on similar counts. "It was a minor charge," Mr. Noiseux said.

Diane Turcotte, a cocktail waitress, was found guilty, in-absentia, of having frequented customers tables. She was fined $100 and costs, in default 90 days, and was allowed one month to acquit the fine and costs.

Poster contest sponsored

BOUNDARY (IH) — French and English schools here at the Border, including the Ursuline Convent and Stanstead College, are invited by the Provincial Chapter IODE to participate in a poster contest.

The subject is "The Olympic event I would most like to see". The age groups are from grade 3 to 11 inclusive, with grade and age to be noted on the poster entry. The contest starts now and the deadline is February 27. Participants from this area may send entries to Mrs. Merton Davis, citizenship secretary, Rock Island. These will be forwarded by Mrs. Davis to IODE in Montreal.

The provincial prizes are in three categories: Grade 3-5; Grades 6-8; Grades 9-11. In each category the top prize is $20, second, $10; and third, $5.

NEWPORT (IH) — On December 7 the Northeast Kingdom Hobo band played at the Health Care Center in Newport with a sing-along by the patients. This was enjoyed by the band and by the people they were entertaining.

The annual Christmas party was held Dec. 11 at the Orleans Municipal Building. There was music, a gift exchange and refreshments were served after dancing. The party music was played by Roland Roberts, Ronald McKinney, Garth McKinney, Evelyn Dority at the organ and the Northeast Hobo band. Everyone had a wonderful time.

National Gallery prints solid Canadian collection

OTTAWA (CP) — In the last 2½ years, the National Gallery has added more than 350 prints to its modest collection of important European etchings, woodcuts, lithographs and the like, making it the most important collection in the country.

But the gallery still lags far behind the great art galleries of the world in its collection of prints, an important part of any well-rounded gallery's holdings of art, including paintings and sculptures.

Douglas Druick, the gallery's curator of prints, said in a recent interview the gallery may never have a print collection of great depth, as do the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the Hermitage State Museum in Leningrad. They have more than 500,000 European prints each, 100 times Ottawa's holdings.

"But we want to have a solid collection of the most important pieces," Druick said. He has been on the staff of the gallery for two years, and prior to that spent a year in Paris studying and working for the gallery on contract. During that time he made some purchases.

He has been concentrating on buying the best quality prints available to flesh out the gallery's existing holdings and filling some of its gaps.

BUDGET IS MODEST — Because of art market competitive factors, the gallery does not disclose its purchase prices, but the sums spent on prints must be modest. The government spends less than $5 million a year on all it buys for all of the national museums.

About 100 of the 350-odd recent acquisitions by the National Gallery go on display here Friday and will remain on view until Feb. 22. They range from woodcut prints dating from the early 1500s to prints of this century, and include works by Durer, Goya, Gericault, Delacroix, Pissarro, Manet, Beckmann and Miro.

The show has no central theme, but hung in chronological order the prints represent a good cross-section of the history of art in prints, from classical beauty on biblical themes to cubism.

"We have been trying to build up our 19th and 20th century collections because they are still available," the curator said. "Fine impressions can still be had on the market without being prohibitively expensive, while the market for old masters is pretty tight."

The news in brief

EGYPT IN DEBT (Reuters) — Egypt's foreign debts up to September totalled 2.7 billion Egyptian pounds (about $4.3 billion), Economics Minister Mohamed Zaki Shafie said Monday. The minister said the figure does not include military debts Egypt owes to the Soviet Union.

DEVELOP CHEMICAL MOSCOW (Reuters) — Soviet physicists have produced metallic hydrogen, a high-density material that might help advance space research, the Tass news agency said Monday. Tass quoted Alexander Prokhorov, a Nobel Prize winner, as describing the development as a major scientific discovery.

RAISES PRICE MONTREAL (CP) — The price of the morning daily Le Devoir rose to 25 cents a copy today from 20 cents because of what the newspaper's management described as increases in salaries and production costs. Le Devoir suspended publication for 28 days recently as a result of a strike by the newspaper's 29 editorial employees. A spokesman for the newspaper said circulation now stands at about 31,000.

CAUGHT BY DETECTOR BOSTON (AP) — Herbert Kovalsky, 33, of Montreal was arrested at Logan International Airport on Tuesday after a metal detector set off an alarm. Kovalsky was charged with illegal possession of a firearm to the charge in East Boston municipal court. Judge Joseph Ferrino set bail at $10,000 and continued the case until Jan. 12.

STRIKE ENDS BANGKOK (AP) — The Thai government and Federation of Labor Unions reached a compromise on food prices Tuesday, ending a strike that began five days ago. The government yielded to white-collar workers' demands to fix retail prices of rice and sugar on the condition prices can be increased if the arrangement results in economic loss. The union agreed to government plans to increase prices paid to rice and sugar farmers.

DIPLOMAT APPOINTED WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. state department announced Tuesday the appointment of career diplomat Robert Funseth as head of the state department press office. Funseth, 49, replaces Robert Anderson, nominated by President Ford to be ambassador to Morocco. Funseth joined the foreign service in 1954 and has served in Iran, Lebanon, France and Canada.

NATIONAL TAKES OFF MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Loaded with champagne and plenty of passengers, National Airlines jet airliners were aloft Tuesday for the first time since Sept. 1, as the carrier resumed operations following a 126-day strike by flight attendants. Champagne servings were unlimited on all long-distance flights, even in the morning.

QUEEN NEARLY READY NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — Repairs to the damaged luxury liner Queen Elizabeth will be completed today, a spokesman for the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. said Tuesday. The ship will be removed from dry dock at high tide and will proceed directly to New York, the shipyard said. The liner struck a coral reef last Wednesday, ripping a hole in her bow.

A Tangled World

President Ford's December visit to China and the prospect of the president "hearing some energetic language about detente" — as the deputy Chinese premier, Teng Hsiao-ping has warned — underlined the present complexity of foreign affairs. At present, the Chinese are America's active allies — or is it co-belligerents? — in Angola, and they want the Americans to stay in Southeast Asia. Yet China has not suspended her aid to Communist rebels in Burma, Philippines, Indonesia and possibly even Thailand. This is only one facet of the tangled world situation, and it is no wonder that the United States super-power role is causing growing confusion in her people's minds.

One recent poll states that 54 per cent of Americans believe their country's troubles stem from its excessive involvement abroad. Another poll speaks of "belligerent isolationism," while George Gallup has found that America's young adults believe war is outmoded as a method of settling differences between nations. This is an attitude comparable to that of a person proclaiming loudly, when about to be bitten by a rabid dog, that he is in no danger since rabies has long been eliminated. Between 1961 and 1975 there has been a sharp decline among the United States population in its attachment to an internationalist viewpoint. Measured statistically, internationalist sympathies have dropped from 65 per cent to 45 per cent, while outright isolationism has risen from eight per cent to 29 per cent.

There is no doubt that people are puzzled, and not only in the United States. The snappy television news that serves as the main source of information, indeed misinformation, for millions upon millions, is hardly of a nature to enlighten the proverbial Kansas City milkman, or the silent majority, about the complexities in which the good guys and the bad guys trade their white and black hats with a prestidigitator's ease. For many years Western liberals believed that the millennium would be ushered in with the emancipation of workers — the concept of "worker" being in their minds a cross between the smith a mighty man is he and an angel of infinite patience and infinite wisdom. When labor unions were truly emancipated, this view was found to be somewhat short of the utopian vision and the liberals' dream then shifted either towards the Third World, where the visionaries sought a new version of the Noble Savage, or else towards the United Nations as the repository of world wisdom and world peace.

American Catholics, usually staunchly anti-Communist, who have been pouring money into IRA's coffers, must have been taken aback by the Marxist goals of their proteges. Jews, whose radical-chic ethos has always embraced the underdog — the Third World, the Cubans, the Vietnamese (North, of course) — must feel equally disenchanted as they watch the Third World turn against Israel while the "liberated" North Vietnam is pouring sophisticated weapons into the Arab lands, weapons destined to wipe out Israel's Jews.

Is there a detente? The word has become a ritual incantation of politicians and diplomats, but if there is a detente, why is the Soviet Union determined to capture Angola? The Chinese will tell President Ford that Western Europe is the potential victim of Soviet aggression, and that Western European defences have been undermined by State Secretary Kissinger's detente policies. Indeed, Britain is about to cut her defences, probably by reducing her forces on the vital Central Front in Germany and mothballing her fleet that protects Britain's link with North America. The excuse — other than Britain's economic straits — is that in these days of detente such forces are no longer necessary. But what about the enormous increase in the Soviet submarine fleet? Or the vast preponderance of Soviet tanks on the Central Front? The happy view that "war is outmoded", appeals not only to young adults but also to aging politicians.

The Western public is confused and the Chinese alone appear realistic. But this is merely a superficial impression. The Chinese may indeed behold the mote in Western Europe's eye, but they consider not the beam in their own Asian eye. For ideological reasons, the Chinese have helped North Vietnam to oust the Americans from Southeast Asia and, as a result, they now face the prospect of having to contend with Soviet bases in Vietnam, bases that will complete China's encirclement by the Soviet Union. It is a strange world, and it is no wonder that so many wish to withdraw into their shells and shut out the raucous outside noise that continues to disturb their dreams.

Watergate convictions argued

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Mardian was there. H. R. Haldeman, John Ehrlichman and John Mitchell weren't, although all the legal talk was about their joint trial in the Watergate cover-up case.

It was more a reunion of their lawyers, arguing Tuesday before the U.S. Court of Appeals why the convictions of the Watergate figures should not be allowed to stand.

It is likely to be three months or more before the court rules. Meanwhile, the four men will remain free as they have been since the jury returned its verdict on New Year's Day 1975.

Mardian and his wife, Dorothy, slipped almost unnoticed into the courtroom to hear his lawyer say: "Mardian's case should never have gone to the jury."

Lawyer David Ginsburg

said Mardian, a lawyer for the Richard Nixon re-election committee at the time of the June 1972 Watergate break-in, never was part of a conspiracy.

But Peter Kreindler, representing the special Watergate prosecutor, said the evidence presented at the trial showed "Mardian was a central figure in the planning of this conspiracy."

SENTENCE LIGHTER

Mardian was convicted only of conspiring with the others in the cover-up and was sentenced to serve 10 months to three years. Haldeman, Ehrlichman and Mitchell, convicted also of obstructing justice and separate counts of lying under oath, were sentenced to 2½ to eight years in prison.

Their lawyers each argued different points in the appeal, although they said they were speaking for all defendants where it applied.

The lawyer for Ehrlichman, the No. 2 aide in the Nixon White House, argued that Ehrlichman was denied a fair trial because Nixon was not required to testify.

"He was the producer, the director and the main actor in what this trial was all about," said defence lawyer William Frates.

Nixon was critically ill during the early part of the trial in the fall of 1974 and Judge John Sirica refused to force him to testify or to delay the trial until he could.

CRITICIZES JUDGE

The lawyer for Mitchell, Nixon's former attorney-general and campaign manager, described Sirica's handling of jury selection as "totally inadequate."

William Hundley said that Sirica asked prospective jurors what they had heard about the case but never asked about the depth of their knowledge, to determine whether there was any prejudice.

And the lawyer for Haldeman, Nixon's chief of staff, tackled the issue of prejudicial pre-trial publicity.

"The American people were whipped up to a white heat against the appellants in this case," said John Wilson. "We did not get a fair trial."

Kreindler, the former prosecution staff lawyer who argued the appeal for the government, denied there had been anything but a fair trial.

"None of the defendants has challenged the evidence," he said at one point. "They were convicted on evidence that left no doubt whatsoever about their guilt."

Ford adviser sees GOP Disaster

WASHINGTON — One of President Ford's top advisers privately forecasts a Republican debacle at the polls this year. His reasons are strictly economic.

On condition that we not identify him, he told us frankly why he expects 1976 to be a bad year for the Republicans. Here are his main points:

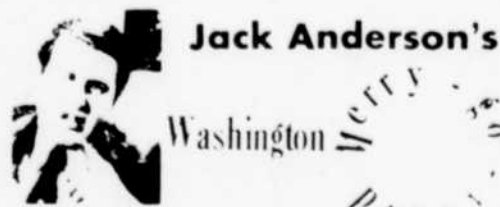

— More than eight million Americans are out of work. Millions more, seeing their neighbors unemployed, are uneasy about their own jobs. They can be expected to vote overwhelmingly for the Democratic ticket.

— The inflation rate is now running slightly above eight per cent. This is slowly impoverishing millions of Americans who live on fixed pensions. They are almost sure to turn to the Democrats in November, too.

— Although wages are expected to keep up with inflation in the year ahead, most Americans are complaining about soaring prices. Not only are prices higher than ever but the quality of both products and services have deteriorated. Americans, therefore, are paying more for less. More than likely, the majority will register their displeasure by voting against the party in power.

— Americans are now importing 40 per cent of the petroleum they use. For this, they pay the oil potentates a staggering sum which must come out of the U.S. economy. Most Americans tend to blame the Administration both for the higher gas prices and the sluggish economy.

— Contrary to Republican gospel, higher prices haven't stimulated increased production. An alarming 30 per cent of our industrial capacity still stands idle. Despite skyrocketing oil and gas prices, for example, the oil companies are opening fewer wells than they did at the lower prices. This has undermined public faith in GOP solutions.

— The world demand for food has stimulated farm production, but the great grain companies and food processors have been banking most of the profits. Meanwhile, back on the farm, the farmers are caught in a cost squeeze. Many of them, who normally are conservative Republicans, may be restless enough by November to vote for Democrats.

— The President's economic advisers agree privately that his proposed budget provides less, not more stimulus to the economy. This may be the responsible way to curb inflation, but our source believes it will cost votes in November.

He points out that Americans, when their pocketbooks are pinched, tend to vote Democratic. That's why he is worried about the coming election.

Agents In Danger: The truth about the tragic death of Richard Welch is that the Central Intelligence Agency didn't properly protect its top man in Athens. Like other CIA station chiefs around the world, Welch posed as a "diplomat." But it was a transparent cover that foreign diplomats easily saw through. The CIA has never made more than a flimsy effort to disguise some of its regular agents.

Worse, CIA station chiefs are usually housed in residences, which are passed on to their successors. More often than not, the locations of these CIA residences become the whispered talk of the diplomatic community.

The CIA put Welch, for example, in the same house that CIA station chiefs had occupied for the past 25 years. At least seven CIA station chiefs, according to our sources, had resided there.

In a letter to a former colleague shortly before his murder, Welch himself described the home as "very pleasant if somewhat notorious."

A few years ago in Vietnam, to cite another example, the CIA received reports that the station chief's home had been targeted by the Viet Cong. The cloak-and-dagger man moved out temporarily but soon came back "because he liked the house," report our sources.

Footnote: CIA operatives around the world, meanwhile, have been endangered by publicity. The CIA defector, Philip Agee, published the names of dozens of CIA agents and contacts in Latin America. The agents were quickly withdrawn but their local contacts were left behind. A number have received threats. In Uruguay, one miraculously escaped injury after an assailant emptied a pistol into his automobile at an intersection. In Ecuador, an engineer on Agee's list appeared at the U.S. embassy to plead for protection. Others have hired armed guards to protect their homes and children.

Watch On Waste: Postal officials plan to spend some of the money from the new rate increase on their own health. They have awarded a $100,800 enabling contract to National Health Services, Inc., to give some 540 postal executives regular physicals.

A postal spokesman argued that the exams would reduce the turnover of managers and thus produce a more efficient service. Yet he acknowledged that, because of the Postal Service's financial difficulties, the contract may not be implemented.

US bicentennial invades Canada

The American Bicentennial spirit has invaded Canada!

In Ottawa, the Canadian War Museum is staging an exhibition entitled Revolution Rejected 1775-1776, in commemoration of the attempted invasion of this country during the American Revolution 200 years ago. The exhibition which opened Dec. 11, will run to Sept. 6, 1976.

On Aug. 30, 1775, an American army led by Richard Montgomery began the journey down the Richelieu River with the aim of taking Montreal. And take Montreal it did, with the Articles of Capitulation Between Richard Montgomery and the Citizens of Montreal being signed Nov. 12, 1775.

The second American column, led by Benedict Arnold, took the route along the Kennebec and Chaudiere Rivers, and reached Quebec City on Nov. 9, 1775. Arnold did not meet with the same success as Montgomery, and was defeated after a siege of six months.

Visitors to Canada's capital can recall the invasion through a display of artifacts and paintings selected and arranged by historians at the museum.

Setting the background for the exhibit is a map showing the boundaries of Canada and the Thirteen Colonies according to the Proclamation of 1763 and the Quebec Act of 1774. Visitors can pinpoint the routes taken by the American forces as well as sites of major battles.

A number of paintings and cartoons of the time introduce the major characters in this drama — Guy Carleton, governor of Quebec, Msgr. Jean-Olivier Briand, bishop of Quebec, George III, Richard Montgomery — and lead the visitor to displays of the weapons used in the invasion.

The display of American weapons includes a musket and an American rifle, both of which were manufactured over 200 years ago. The American rifle in particular was well suited to the irregular tactics of frontier warfare as it had an effective aimed range much superior to that of the British Brown Bess which is displayed alongside it.

Three American powder horns show that the invaders possessed a certain artistic talent, as well as some spare time. The carving on the horns, ranging from an intricate depiction of the invasion route taken by one of the armies to rather primitive chiseling, gives the viewer a sense of sharing in the hardships of the long march.

A low relief in marble by William Tyler entitled View of Montreal shows that unlike Quebec City, Montreal was not surrounded by strong stone walls. Added to this was the fact that its citizens were not willing to fight the American invasion, and for these reasons the city fell to Montgomery's forces.

Visitors to the museum can see the original Articles of Capitulation between Richard Montgomery and the Citizens of Montreal. The paper is yellowed, but the document has been very well preserved, and can be read easily.

The collection includes a number of pewter utensils from the middle of the 18th century, which are not military in origin. These were used in most North American homes of the time, since inexpensive pottery had not yet been developed. When this occurred, around 1850, it brought about a decline in the domestic use of pewter.

What people are saying...

"Indeed, I believe a Reagan nomination and the crushing defeat likely to follow could signal the beginning of the end for our party as an effective force in American political life."

— Sen. Charles Percy (R-ILL.) following Ronald Reagan's announcement he will seek the 1976 Republican Presidential nomination.

"I have never been able to figure out why big Republican contributors are fat cats and big Democratic contributors are spirited philanthropists."

— Former California governor Ronald Reagan.

"In Latin America, the population will soar from 300 million to 600 million by the end of the century and nine out of ten Latin Americans will live in urban centers, most of them in 30 principal cities. Mexico City will be larger than New York."

— United Nations' "Habitat" conference chairman Enrique Cernigoi of Colombia.

"No nation can deliver what is intended as a massive pre-emptive strike without automatic, catastrophic natural consequences to itself. Nor may any nation, anywhere, assume that it could, somehow, be beneficiary of a large-scale nuclear exchange between two other powers and itself escape unscathed."

— Philip Handler, president of the National Academy of Sciences.

"Writers, artists, actors, teachers and scholars are under such monstrous ideological pressure that one wonders why art and the humanities have not altogether vanished from our country."

— Nobel prize winner and Soviet physicist Andrei Sakharov commenting on oppression against Russia's creative elements.

"I do not want the great political party which nearly lost its soul in Vietnam to sell its soul on the issue of busing."

— Sen. George McGovern (D-S.D.) urging Democratic party leaders to take a strong stand supporting school busing.

BEDFORD — An interesting and exciting game of hockey was staged on the rink on Thursday evening between a team from the Corey Needle Co. and a team picked in the town. The puck was faced off by Mr. F.D. Walsh. Right from the start the rubber did some travelling. The Needle aggregation drew first blood, soon scoring their first point, and shortly after notched a second. The town team then tightened up and took some tries in scoring and succeeded just before half time in securing one. Score at half time was 2-1 in favor of Corey Needle. In the second half the town boys were more successful and succeeded in adding three more goals, making score at full time 4-2. The game was fairly clean and fast throughout and was appreciated by a large number of spectators.

During the singing of the Carols and the readings of the Nativity, Mary and Joseph entered to ask the innkeeper for a place to rest. Then the angel appeared unto the shepherds in fields.

Festive Carol Service held

MARBLETON — St. Paul's Church was prettily decorated on Christmas Eve with the traditional boughs and Christmas tree to commemorate the annual Christmas Eve Carol Service.

Being at 7 p.m., the young children of the parish enacted the Christmas Pageant while the Psalms were read by Peter and David Stevens.

Following "Silent Night", call to Worship by Mr. Doug Mooney, and "O Come all Ye Faithful" was sung by the congregation led by Peter and David Stevens and Miss Carolyn Smith of Milby, a guest soloist, in the choir.

Nine psalms, beginning from the Book of Genesis when God first made man, to the Book of John, when the baby Jesus was born in a manger, were read by Peter and David Stevens.

After each reading, a carol was sung with the congregation joining in. "Bring a Torch" Jeanette Isabella and "The Cherry Tree Carol" were beautifully sung by Miss Smith. Peter Stevens also sang a solo Puer Nobis and the choir sang Adeste Fidelis in Latin.

During the singing of the Carols and the readings of the Nativity, Mary and Joseph entered to ask the innkeeper for a place to rest. Then the angel appeared unto the shepherds in fields.

The manger scene showed the arrival of the shepherds and wisemen to visit the baby Jesus.

The service closed with the choir and congregation singing "What Child is This?" and the Benediction by Mr. Mooney.

The children taking part in the Pageant were Julie, Lisa, Marc and Steven Audit, Wesley Stevens, Charlotte, Christopher and Jennifer Thorne. Susan Guillette aided the young children with their costumes and entrances.

After the service, the children were given treats by Miss Hunt and Mrs. J. Mackay, Mr. Mooney and Peter Stevens.

Much appreciation and thanks is extended to those who helped in presenting the pageant and also to Miss Carolyn Smith for coming to help with the singing, especially since the lack of an organist or music makes it a bit more difficult.

The flowers on the Altar during Christmastide were given in loving memory, by the families of:

Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Humphries and Cecil

Rev. and Mrs. George Robins and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Munkittrick.

Rest Eternal, Grant unto them O Lord, and Let Light Perpetual Shine Upon Them.

For Friday, Jan. 9, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't take on unnecessary challenges today just to prove your point. Nothing will be accomplished by pitting yourself against another.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Bring things that irritate you out into the open today. Keeping them locked inside may cause you to harbor long-standing resentment.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Avoid becoming overly involved in a friend's problems. He may see your interest as a good excuse to dump the whole mess into your lap.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be sure to give credit where credit is due today. Fail to, and you could lose a valuable ally.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You won't get the results you hope for by forcing those under you to obey. Being democratic and tactful works wonders.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be especially wary today of proposals that offer you "pie in the sky". You could wind up with a piece of burnt crust.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't make major domestic decisions today without consulting your mate. Behaving too independently will cause friction.

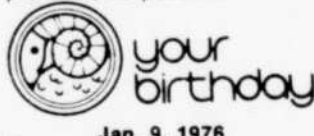

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you expect to inspire perfection in others today, first set a good example. People emulate those they can look up to.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're apt to be a bit too generous with your resources today. Don't bet on long shots — horses, stocks or people.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Keep in mind: You're prone to be more tolerant of casual acquaintances than you are of the family today. You're courting domestic disaster.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't permit your negative thought to gain the upper hand today. You'll never know if something will work unless you put it to the test.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Keep a reasonable rein on nonessential spending today. Manage money matters as prudently as possible.

Jan. 9, 1976

Don't turn a deaf ear this coming year to opportunities offered by friends. Be wise enough, however, to screen each one carefully before acting.

PULLOVER — These pullovers can be knitted for any member of the family from sizes 6 to 42 in either Beehive Tweed or Canadiana Sayelle. Only 2 rows of simple K1, P1 ribbing forms the pattern. The Shawl collar fits neatly around the neck. For complete instructions send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Sherbrooke Record, Pattern, Box 1200, Sherbrooke, Que.

Hatley Brownies round out year

HATLEY — September through December has been very active for the 1st Hatley Brownie Pack with seven Brownies and two Tweenies, Brown Owl - K. Hartwell and Tawny Owl - W. Wright, registering in September. However, two Brownies were lost at the "Flying Up" ceremony early in October when Mrs. M. Church, Dufferin District Commissioner, presented Sue Lane Drew and Lois Miller with their wings. The ceremony was held in conjunction with a Guide meeting with the Guide Camp Fire providing much entertainment for the Brownies.

On October 29th the 1st North Hatley Brownies were invited to the Halloween Party at "Goblins' Hollow" when apple ducking, eating doughnuts off strings, riding broomsticks, making witch's brew, relay races and singing provided much merriment. Some of the costumes were real "originals".

In November the Brownie Song Festival was attended in Stanstead as well as in Armistice service and Church Parade to St. James Anglican Church. The highlight of November was receiving the "Lorne Harding Memorial Trophy", presented by Mrs. Harding for participation in the 1974-75 YM-YWCA Swim Project. Again this fall five Hatley girls participated in the Red Cross project at the Y and it is hoped to have most Brownies in the spring 1976 session starting in March.

December 7th the Hatley Town Hall was transformed into "Christmas Land" when the 1st and 2nd Ayer's Cliff Brownie Packs, Leaders and Commissioners were invited to join to celebrate the festive season early. Action songs, rounds, Christmas songs and folk dancing provided much of the entertainment with Mrs. Irene Humphrey signing Dancer and Singer Badge Slips for all the Brownies who had not previously earned these Badges. "Santa Claus" was made from apples and marshmallows by each girl. Everyone seemed to enjoy the picnic supper topped off with a huge birthday cake and the traditional singing of "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Richardson, Cindy Decoteau and Donna Walker. Following the supper and during the singing of Christmas songs a well-known visitor, the "Man-in-Red" arrived and gave the girls their Christmas gifts and wished all a "Merry Christmas." Brownies Own, the singing of Brownie Taps and Ayer's Cliff's "Thank You" brought a very enjoyable day to a close.

December also took the group to the Guide meeting for the enrollment of the two Guides who had flown up from Brownies this fall and the enrollment of Brownies, Cindy Decoteau and Sandy Powell, was also held. Mrs. M. Church presented the girls with their Brownie pins and also presented Second Stripes to Lana Humphrey and Shelley Martin and Sixes to Krista Hartwell.

During September through December much work has been done on the Golden Band and Golden Hand with Susie Cunningham, Sherry Drew, Krista Hartwell, Heidi Johnson and Donna Walker earning their "Golden Ladders". Bird feeders have been made with the birds to be fed during the holidays and after, with "Friend to Birds" badge to be passed early in the new year. Semaphore, crafts, folk dancing and singing have played a great part in the fall program and when Brownies get back into swing January 14th final plans will be made for the "Winter Pack Holiday" to be held at the end of January. The "Native Lore" badge will be the camp theme and there will be the opportunity to try for Snow Shooer, Skater and Skier Badges.

The Hatley Brownies would appreciate receiving your 1975 Church Calendars. Anyone having any, send or give them to Mrs. Kay Hartwell or Mrs. Winnie Wright or any of the Brownies. They would be most appreciated.

Christening

BEEBE — The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Corriveau was christened at our Lady of Mercy Church in Rock Island, receiving the name of Sylvie. Father Lecours officiated.

Godparents were uncle and aunt of the infant, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Guillot of St. Hubert.

Attending the service were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dezan, maternal grandparents, Misses Judy, Kathy and Elizabeth Dezan, aunts of the infant, Mr. and Mrs. Arsene Corriveau, paternal grandparents, all of Beebe; Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Blanchet, Drummondville, uncle and aunt of the baby and Mr. and Mrs. Bryon Perreault, Rock Island, close family friends.

Following the service, all assembled at the Corriveau home where lunch was served and a pleasant afternoon spent.

69th anniversary

WINDSOR — In the article which appeared on Page 3, Jan. 2nd edition of The Record it was reported that Mrs. Wheeler's former name was Carney. This should have read Lula Clifford Varney.

Mr. Wheeler and his father-in-law, the late Edgar Varney, owned and operated a dairy farm in Brompton for some 30 years. This farm was named the Lilac Lawn Dairy Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and daughter, Miss Kathleen Wheeler, reside in a home owned by their son, Henry, who lives next door. This fall, their eldest daughter, Lillian (Mrs. Francis Robinson), took an early retirement from her duties at the Sherbrooke Hospital to come to assist in the care of her aged parents and has since made her home with them.

Engagement

DANVILLE — The engagement is announced of Doreen Elsie, daughter of Mrs. Lucille Horan and the late Gordon Horan, to Michael Lariviere, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andre Lariviere, all of Danville, Que. The wedding has been arranged to take place in Trinity United Church, Danville on April 17th.

Baptism

DANVILLE — On the Sunday after Christmas the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gartshore of Asbestos was baptized by Rev. L.G. Westman of Randboro, assisted by the rector, Rev. R.L. McCulloch, and received the names, William Robert Brent. Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. Harness of Whitby, Ont., and Miss Karen Frost of Danville.

Following the service Mr. and Mrs. Gartshore entertained the christening party and a few close friends and relatives at a buffet luncheon at their home in Asbestos. White and blue flowers added a festive touch to the dining-room table, which was centered with the traditional christening cake.

CHILDREN'S PARTY
On Dec. 13, a pre-Christmas party was held in the Canterbury hall for the young children.

The hall looked very festive with lovely decorations, streamers, balloons and a gaily trimmed tree.

The children sang carols recited poems, several drills and a story time was enjoyed by all.

The Christmas Story, taken from the Bible, was read, and more Christmas Carols sung.

In due time Santa arrived with bags of candy and his sack and took time to visit with each little child for awhile.

After Santa left, the ladies served tea, coffee, cookies and pop corn to all. Many thanks are extended to the young ladies who put so much time and effort into this party, as it was a very happy time for all of us.

Ann Landers says:

Doctor should evaluate child

Dear Ann Landers: The problem I would like help with is a neighbor's child. This boy is a 12-year-old bully. He constantly picks fights with other children who are younger and smaller. He calls them names, slaps and pushes them from their bikes, throws stones at cars, pokes brooms in their faces and blocks the sidewalk so they can't walk by. I could go on forever.

Finally a few neighbors (myself included) went to talk to the boy's parents. We were insulted by a hysterical, screaming mother and an irate father. They were furious because we had the nerve to suggest that their son be taken to a doctor. Now the boy has begun to walk directly in front of our cars, daring us to hit him.

What can we do to protect ourselves and help the child? Living in this atmosphere is dreadful and it's impossible for five families to sell their homes all at once. Will you please comment? — Upset Group

Dear Group: Call the juvenile authorities and ask that they send someone to observe this boy's bizarre behavior. If he is as obstreperous as you say, they will insist that the child be evaluated by a doctor.

I wonder why his teachers haven't insisted. Something about your letter does not ring true, but I'm printing it on the outside chance it's on the level.

Dear Ann: I was burned up by the person who said "a Boston accent is revolting" — worse than the way people talk in Brooklyn.

Well, I'm from Brooklyn and I talk a heck of a lot better than the creeps in our office who come from the South. They sound as if they have a mouth full of mush.

And speaking of accents, I heard you on the Phil Donahue Show and your Midwestern twang sounds like a piece of chalk going the wrong way on a blackboard. Why don't you take some speech lessons? Or is it your teeth that don't fit? Sign me — I Love Brooklyn

Dear Love: Lessons won't help. I'm from Iowa. My twang is as much a part of me as my teeth — which are my own.

Frankly, I like the Southern accent. What are you trying to do, start another Civil War?

Dear Ann Landers: Twelve years ago my husband and I quit smoking. We wanted to set a good example for our children.

My husband stuck to it, but I was back smoking within the year — not in front of him but in front of friends, and yes, the kids. This went on for three years. One day my husband caught me. I promised to quit if he'd forgive me. He agreed and I stayed off cigarettes for six weeks. He caught me again. This time he nearly sued for divorce. I swore I'd never smoke again and for two years I've kept my word.

The problem: Now my husband doesn't trust me — about anything. He constantly searches my purse, makes me account for every penny and goes into a depressed state for two and three days at a time.

What can I do to restore his faith in me? — Boxed In Dear Boxed: I'm not sure you are to blame for your husband's strange behavior. Having been caught lying twice certainly damaged your credibility but this shouldn't produce prolonged depression.

I suggest a complete physical for him and joint counselling to learn where the problem lies.

UCW meeting

DUNHAM — The Christmas meeting of the Dunham U.C.W. met in the church hall, Tues. evening, Dec. 9 with fourteen members in attendance.

Mrs. MacDonald was in the chair, and expressed a welcome to everyone, especially our new pastor, Rev. Jean Barkley.

Mrs. Staton was called upon to take the Devotional, for which she chose a most inspirational story in keeping with this holiday, entitled "Christmas Lights".

Following the reading of the previous meeting's minutes, Mrs. Myrtle Selby expressed her thanks to all the members present, and any others who helped to make the Harvest Supper such a tremendous success.

A couple of the members were called upon to report on their evening as guests of the Sutton group, the month previous. It was felt by their report that a most enjoyable and entertaining evening was spent, with the feeling of sincere fellowship, and it is hoped to return the invitation in the future.

The secretary read the list of names of shut-ins to be remembered with gifts or cards, this Holiday Season.

Plans were discussed for refreshments and decorating for the Christmas Service which was held Sunday evening, Dec. 21st.

A motion was made and passed to donate $25.00 towards the gifts and goodies for the Sunday School pupils, for which Mrs. B. Harvey thanked the members on behalf of the Sunday School children.

Mrs. MacDonald thanked the members for their support during the years she had served as their president, and wished good luck to the new president, and all the new officers in the New Year.

Rev. Jean Barkley adjourned the meeting with prayer.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 13, weather permitting.

A beautiful winter bouquet was presented to Mrs. Corey who expressed her thanks for the kindness of all the ladies who took time at such a busy season to come to visit and to say Happy Birthday.

Crystal Rebekah Lodge news

ROCK ISLAND (IH) — A very enjoyable evening was spent in the IOOF hall, Rock Island on December 19, when the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, their families and friends gathered for the annual Christmas party.

A group of young people from Fitch Bay put on a play which was written and narrated by one of their local boys. This was very well presented and an enjoyment to all.

Cindy Dustin and Mary Curtis played a duet, Silent Night! With Mrs. Alfred Middleton at the piano, everyone joined in the singing of favorite Christmas carols. Concluding the entertainment, Mrs. Leslie Webster played several Christmas songs on the piano with all joining to sing the more familiar ones.

Of course no Christmas party would be complete without the appearance of Santa Claus, and this was no exception. In his usual jolly manner he distributed gifts from the decorated Christmas tree for everyone present as well as candy bags for all the younger folk, then with a Ho-Ho-Ho he left the hall and will not be in circulation again until Christmas 1976.

The ladies served delicious refreshments of sandwiches and squares, tea or coffee and chocolate milk for the children, bringing to a close a very pleasant evening.

CARD PARTY

The second in the series of card parties was held in the IOOF hall on December 12, with ten tables to play 500.

The prizes were donated and won as follows: Ladies high, Mrs. Edward Hyatt; Men's high, Archie Moulton;

Ladies consolation, Mrs. Iris Brock, Men's, Roy Parrish. The floating prize was won by Mrs. Edward Hyatt.

To claim door prizes were Roy Parrish, Mrs. Edward Hyatt, Wayne Sheldon, Lawrence Dewey.

A cake was donated and sold by tickets, the winner being Archie Moulton.

The next card party will be January 9 in the IOOF hall to which the general public are invited to attend.

LODGE MEETS

The regular meeting of Crystal Rebekah Lodge was held in the IOOF hall, Rock Island on December 9 with eleven members attending. The Noble Grand, Mrs. Emma Rollins opened the meeting in form and routine reports were heard.

The degree was to have been put on by the members of Wide Awake Lodge, Derby, but this was cancelled until a later date.

South knew that his four-spade call was a slight overbid. When he saw dummy, the overbid became really apparent. There were two sure diamond losers, one probable club loser and an adverse ace of trumps as the clincher against him.

Still, while there's life there's hope. South gave no indication that he had any problems at all. He won the heart in his own hand and led a small spade.

West thought a while, hopped up with his ace and led the suit back. South won in dummy, cashed dummy's king of hearts and led the deuce of diamonds. South's 10 lost to West's queen. West decided that South held the king of diamonds and that a club shift was imperative. He led the 10 of that suit.

Now it was South's time to think but he solved his problem by playing dummy's jack of clubs to make his impossible game.

Ask the Jacobys

A New York reader wants to know if we ever have occasion to open a two-card diamond suit, when playing five-card majors.

We suppose that the hand he is thinking of is something like:
▲ K J32 ♥ K965 ♦ A K432. With 14 high-card point we are going to open the bidding. We do so with a rather unhappy club, but would not quarrel with an unhappy spade or heart but we would NOT open one diamond.

Obituaries

HARRY J. GOODALL

of Holland, Vt.

The sudden death of Harry J. Goodall, Holland, Vt., on Sunday, December 21, 1975, came as a shock bringing sadness to his family and friends in the Border area. He had attended service at Stanstead South church, Rock Island, with his wife in the morning, visited with friends after the service, returned home, enjoyed a good dinner and rested in the afternoon, as was his usual custom. Chore time came at the farm and he prepared to go to the barn when a fatal attack occurred without warning, in the kitchen of his home.

He was a life-long resident of Holland, Vt., where he was born on November 12, 1898, the youngest son of Fred E. and Mattie (Berbeck) Goodall. He attended grade school known as the Johnson school, in Holland, Vt., and in 1915 graduated from Bugbee Business College at Stanstead.

June 21, 1921, he was united in marriage to Mildred Brewer. From that time on they made their home on the Brewer homestead. In 1967 they received a Century Farm plaque presented by the Vermont State Grange and Vermont Farm Bureau. In June, 1971, they celebrated their Golden wedding anniversary at their home, surrounded by the family and many friends.

The union of Harry and Mildred Goodall was blessed with one son, Rudy B., who with his family, aided by hired help, still operate the progressive dairy farm.

Mr. Goodall was an agent for the Cooperative Fire Insurance Association of Middlebury, Vt. He retired in June 1975 and received a plaque in recognition of his 45 years of faithful service; he still remained on the board of Directors.

He lived a full christian life, and was an active member of Stanstead South church, seldom missing a Sunday at church service. He had served on most of the Boards of church at one time or another, and several years back was one of the Founders of the Men's Own Club. This was a vital part of the church for the men but was disbanded a few years ago.

He was an active member of I.O.O.F. Lodge No. 73 and had served as the Noble Grand and a District Deputy; he was a member of Wide Awake Rebekah Lodge No. 68, Derby, and of Golden Rule Masonic Lodge No. 3 A.F. & A.M. Stanstead.

Civic minded, he had held many prominent town offices. At the time of his death he was an auditor and town agent, and had acted as Moderator for many years for the annual town meetings.

He was a fine gentleman, a good citizen, a wonderful husband, father and grandfather, a friend to all and always ready with a helping hand, a cheerful word, smile and handshake, he will be much missed by all.

The funeral was held at the Rushford - Converse Funeral Home, Sias Ave., in Newport, Vt., on Wednesday afternoon, December 24 at two o'clock. Rev. Robert Castle officiated.

The bearers were Raymond Carpenter, Roy Davis, Terrence Walsh, Wesley Farrow, Douglas Gray, and Lonnie Waterman.

Interment will be in the spring in the Derby Cemetery.

The eve preceding the funeral, members of the IOOF Fraternity conducted their committal service at the Funeral Home. The respect and love for Mr. Goodall and for his family was shown by the many who called to offer their sympathy and bid farewell to their friend. The many floral tributes and donations to the Heart fund silently spoke of the esteem in which he was held.

Left to mourn are his wife, Mildred Brewer Goodall, son, Rudy B., four grandchildren, Debra, Cindy, Lisa and James Goodall, a sister, Mrs. Ruth Bartlett, Newport Center, Vt., four nephews, Ralph and Dale Bartlett, Newport Center, Ted Bartlett, Oakridge, Tenn., Russell Goodall, Needham, Mass., and their families. A brother, Robert P. Goodall, Dedham, Mass., predeceased him in 1961.

In addition to the immediate family, other relatives attending the funeral were Mrs. Ruth G. Bartlett and Ralph Bartlett, Newport Center, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Demick, East Haven, Vt., Mrs. Margaret Mosher, Beebe, Que., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor, Derby and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mosher, Ayer's Cliff.

MILES ENRIGHT

of West Shefford

Miles Enright of West Shefford, Bromont, Que., passed away Wednesday, December 24, 1975, at the Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital, Cowansville, following a month's illness. Born in West Shefford, November 5, 1897, son of Edward and Mary Enright, he worked on a farm, then as municipal secretary and local banker until his retirement.

His wife, the late Suzanne Booth, predeceased him in May, 1959.

On July 1, 1967, he was the recipient of one of the Centennial Medals, "in Recognition of valuable service to the nation".

Left to mourn his loss are a son Wayne, daughter-in-law Huguette, four granddaughters, Carol, Sonya, Suzan and Lynne of Freighsburg and one brother William, of Granby.

The funeral service was held on Saturday, December 27 at 11 a.m. in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, with the Rev. Father Benoit, officiating.

He was laid to rest beside his wife in the St. Francis Xavier Cemetery, Bromont.

W. A. MONTGOMERY

of Sawyerville

Relatives and friends of William Auverne (Vernie) Montgomery were saddened to learn of his death which occurred at the Sherbrooke Hospital on December 8, 1975.

Born in Parker Hill, (near Sawyerville) Que., on June 18, 1891, he was the last surviving of five sons of the late William and Ellen (Hamilton) Montgomery. He has one sister, Ourie, who survives him, living in Henniker, New Hampshire.

He was united in marriage on September 26, 1917, to Gladys Bates of Learned Plain, who predeceased him on August 8, 1960.

Of this union were born four children, Dalton and Graydon, both of Sawyerville, June (Mrs. Garth Harrison) of Bury, and Paul, Otterburn, Que. He is also survived by ten grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and two step sons, Sgt. Robert Noble of Germany, and Sgt. Bruce Noble, Armprion, Ont.

He spent the greater part of his life farming on the same farm he was born on, taking an active part in community life. In 1950 the farm was sold and he moved to the village of Sawyerville.

After his wife's death in 1960, Vernie carried on the household duties with the help of his older son Dalton. At Christmas time he took great interest in preparing Christmas dinner for his family and decorating the house.

In May 31, 1969 Vernie married Thelma Noble.

Although his health had been failing for the past year, he always retained his sense of humor. Old and young alike visited him and he was liked by many.

Funeral service was held in St. Philip's Anglican Church, Sawyerville, the Rev. Alan Fairbairn officiating, assisted by Rev. Robert Jervis-Read. The hymn, "Peace, Perfect Peace" was rendered by the Anglican and United Church choirs.

Mourners from near and far attended the funeral. Interment in Maple Leaf Cemetery.

Bearers were Douglas Twyman, Earl Savage, Raymond Grenier, Victor Blair, Garth Montgomery and Lionel Hurd.

LEN'S CORNER

BY LEN O'DONNELL

"HOW GREAT IT IS TO BE HOME". That seemed to be the general feeling of the Sherbrooke Beavers and the party which made the trip overseas. Everyone was happy to be back despite the long trip home.

"I AM PROUD OF THE MANNER in which the team conducted themselves and although we didn't win the gold medal, at least we brought back the silver," said Coach Ghislain Delage. President Guy Bureau and General-manager Georges Guilbault were of the same opinion.

"IT WAS A TOUGH TRIP but the experience gained will certainly be of great assistance to all. We had some tough moments but over all the boys were very happy to have the opportunity of making such a trip," stated Coach Delage.

THE TEAM PLAYED GOOD hockey, with the exception of one game, which was against the Swedes but I am sure if we played them again we would emerge the winners," added Coach Delage. "It was a game in which everything went against us. We just couldn't seem to get untracked and we missed too many good scoring chances at the start of the game. It was just one of those nights," stated Coach Delage.

SEVERAL HUNDRED FANS were on hand at the Sports Palace to welcome them back but the majority of the players had been given permission to stay over with their parents upon arrival but those who did show up were given a real homecoming.

CAPTAIN FERN LEBLANC thanked everybody on behalf of the players for waiting so long for them to arrive but it was one of those things over which one has no control. The weather detained them all along the trip and the customs at Mirabel didn't help either.

NOW THEY ARE BACK and it is down to hard work because the Beavers face a tough schedule for the coming few weeks in order to make up the lost time. Coach Delage put his charges through a light skating and shooting practice yesterday morning at the Sports Palace and with the exception of Brendan Lowe and Richard Sevigny everyone else was on hand for the special workout.

BRENDAN "THE RUSHER" LOWE will be hobbling around on crutches for a few weeks. He will have his leg in a cast but despite this he still played in the games and gave a good display of all around team spirit. As for Richard Sevigny, who has some torn ligaments in his knee, his case will be decided once he has an X-ray to determine the damage.

THE BEAVERS WILL BE at home to Cornwall Royals here tomorrow evening and they know they will have a real battle on their hands as the Royals will be after a win to gain some ground on the Delage crew. It should be a tough fight but I think the Beavers will come through.

IT WILL BE THEIR FIRST game here since they left for overseas and the fans will be on hand to give them support and show their appreciation for their fine showing overseas. I expect the Palace will be jammed and the roar which will come out when the Beavers take the ice will be something to hear.

THE TRIP MUST HAVE cost the club plenty of money, knowing how these things operate and I think it is about time the Federal Government woke up and gave the team who represent Canada overseas, some financial support. Why should these teams be obliged to pay everything, outside of the plane fare, hotel and meals? These items are looked after but it still costs the club money.

NOW IT IS THE TURN of the Canadian Ski team they are obliged to beg money from all citizens in order to compete in the winter Olympics. So you gentlemen, who sit in Ottawa, how about giving a helping hand to these clubs in order to make things easier all around. Anyway, in the near future, I will have more to say on this matter.

Bishop's cagers at home to St. Lawrence tomorrow night, Laval here Saturday at 3:30

Bishop's University basketball Gaiters commence their 1976 schedule this weekend with optimism after gradually strengthening in the first half of the season, ending 1975 with their only victory of six games in league play.

The Gaiters currently hold down fourth spot in the five-team Quebec University Athletic Association circuit, which is being led by Concordia University with a 4-0 record. McGill University and University of Quebec at Trois-Rivières are in second and third place respectively, while Laval University is last, being winless in five starts.

Friday evening, St. Lawrence Community College from Kingston will oppose BU in an exhibition tilt, while Saturday afternoon has Laval travelling to Lennoxville to revenge their 73-69 loss to the Gaiters in December.

Morgan Quinn, the 10th highest scorer in the QUAA at the moment, and Mike Dudgeon are expected to continue their leadership of the team in the second semester and Coach Garth Smith looks forward to improved performances by other Gaiters and two Christmas graduates from Champlain College.

Jim Reid, second highest scorer after Quinn and the team's best rebounder, is expected to be a big boost to the squad and two first-year Gaiters, Marty Edwards and John McIntosh, who were fourth and fifth in team scoring in the first half, are expected to have better second portions of the season.

The Champlain graduates, Charlie Doyle and Heinz Valenta, will help increase the team's bench strength and should prove very helpful when on the court.

Steve Etcheverry, third in team points, will return in his starting position, while Colin Channell, Steve Taylor, Jim Etcheverry, Mike Jamieson, Richard Sharpe, Grant Younger, Carl Gregg and Pat Kelly are returning after playing in the first half of the season. Some of the latter players mentioned will likely be cut from the roster, stated Coach Smith, in order to make room for the new players from Champlain.

With an improved slate of players, and no injuries to any of the regular starting five, a problem which hampered the Gaiters in 1975, Coach Smith looks at the weekend games as a good way to start off the new year with wins to help them to a playoff berth.

On Friday at 8 p.m., Dave "Houdini" Dundon, an ex-Bishop's player, will lead the St. Lawrence team with his tricky moves against the Gaiters. Saturday's 3:30 p.m. encounter with Laval is a must victory for the local squad, but the Red and Gold contingent are expected to give Bishop's another good run in league competition.

Beavers stop Dynamos 5-2, Royals and Juniors tie

Sherbrooke Beavers, winners of the silver medal in a recent world junior hockey tournament in Finland, made their return to Quebec Major Junior Hockey League competition a triumphant one Wednesday by defeating Shawinigan Dynamos 5-2.

In other action, Hull Festivals and Sorel Black Hawks played to a 3-3 draw and Montreal Juniors battled from behind to tie Cornwall Royals 3-3.

In Shawinigan, second-period goals by Denis Halle, Bernard Harbec and Fernand Leblanc carried Sherbrooke past Shawinigan.

Mark Green and Alain Belanger scored the other goals for the Beavers with Normand Lahaie and Robert Constantin replying for Shawinigan before 1,094 fans.

Referee Yvon Levac called 63 minutes in penalties, including a match penalty to Sherbrooke's Peter Marsh for spearing.

MENARD TIED IT

Serge Menard's goal at 15:34 of the third period gave the Black Hawks their tie with Hull in Sorel.

Patrice Legault and Gilles Parent scored for the Black Hawks in the second period after Hull's Claude Beausejour had the only goal of the opening session.

Glen Sharpley tied the score for the Festivals at 6:38 of the final session and Claude Larochelle shot the visitors into a 3-2 edge 29 seconds later.

In Cornwall, Richard Suwek's goal at 9:34 of the third period gave Montreal the draw with the Royals.

Normand Dupont and Marc Hardy scored the other goals for the Juniors who trailed 3-2 entering the final session.

Ed Clearey and Bill Wells scored for the Royals in the first period while Gord Bolting put the Royals ahead 3-2 at 2:32 of the second period, the lone goal of the middle session.

Referee Marcel Vaillancourt called 68 minutes in penalties, including three fighting majors and one game misconduct to each club.

All 10 teams will see action when play resumes Friday.

Fergy named manager of New York Rangers

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Rangers, continuing their season-long shakeup, announced Wednesday night the firing of coach Ron Stewart and replaced him with John Ferguson, who also will take over the recently-vacated general manager's position with the National Hockey League team.

Ferguson, 37, former left winger with Montreal Canadiens, signed a multi-year contract. He was to meet the team at its Long Beach, N.Y., practice facilities this morning and was to be introduced to reporters at a news conference later in the day.

Less than 24 hours earlier, team president William Jennings had made the decision to relieve Emile Francis of the general manager's duties he had held since Oct. 30, 1964.

"Obviously, it is a tremendous opportunity for me to join the Rangers," said a prepared statement by Ferguson, who had turned down the job before Stewart was signed to a three-year contract May 19, 1975. "I welcome the opportunity and look forward to meeting the challenge that goes with it."

The challenge that lies ahead is imposing, considering the Rangers' current position in last place of the Patrick Division, 14 points behind thirdplace Atlanta Flames, who hold the final playoff spot in the section.

HAS 15 WINS

The team, which has won only 15 of its 39 games, currently owns the 14th-best defensive record in the 18-team league.

Ferguson's eight-season NHL career produced 145 goals and 158 assists for 303 points. He accumulated 1,214 penalty minutes during his career for an average of 152 minutes a season, second highest in NHL history.

During the eight-game Team Canada-Soviet series in 1972, he served as an assistant coach of the all-star team which barely won the series.

The announcement followed a whirlwind day of activity for Jennings, who within hours of firing Francis had interviewed 18 prospective candidates for the job. It also ended speculation which had grown during recent weeks that Stewart would be fired from the Rangers' helm.

Shoe on other foot as Leafs rough up Flyers Habs edge North Stars

The shoe was on the other foot for the big, bad Philadelphia Flyers on Wednesday night and it pinched coach Fred Shero.

Shero, who has been accused of lowering the National Hockey League's tone with rough-house tactics, was complaining about the conduct of Toronto Maple Leafs in a 7-3 Philadelphia victory.

Shero said the Leafs tactics verged on "mugging" and both Lanny McDonald and Dave Williams should go to jail for attacking our guys from behind."

McDonald jumped on Bill Barber's back in his second period and hit him often enough to earn a double minor for roughing.

In the third period Williams wrestled Philadelphia's Dave Schultz to the ice, at which point Leafs defenceman Ian Turnbull began to pound the Flyers' badman. Schultz and Turnbull drew fighting majors.

In Wednesday's other NHL games, Montreal Canadiens edged Minnesota North Stars 2-1, Los Angeles Kings defeated Kansas City Scouts 5-2 and California Golden Seals dropped Pittsburgh Penguins 4-1.

LITTLE RESISTANCE

Although Philadelphia only had a 33-32 edge in shots on goal, the Flyers didn't meet much resistance from the Leafs in the Toronto end. "The Leafs could have created much more pressure but they didn't," he said. "It was too easy for us to come out of our own zone."

Philadelphia goalie Wayne Stephenson came up with a solid performance, making tough saves on Darryl Sittler and George Fergusson early in the second period and McDonald in the third.

Toronto coach Red Kelly switched goalies after Philadelphia's seventh goal, replacing starter Wayne Thomas with Gord McRae.

Reggie Leach took over the league goal-scoring lead with his 28th and 29th of goals at the Flyers built a 7-1 lead by midway in the last period.

LOPRESTI SHARP

Guy Lafleur and Yvon Lambert scored goals 22 seconds apart in the first period to give the Canadiens their win. Montreal had a 26-8 edge in shots in the first two periods, but was kept from scoring again by the acrobatics of Minnesota goalie Pete Lopresti.

The win kept the Canadiens two points in front of the Flyers in the over-all standings. Both teams have played 40 games.

Butch Goring scored one goal himself and assisted on goals by Bob Nevin and Gary Sargent for the Kings at Kansas City. Vic Vanasky and Frank St. Marselle were the other Los Angeles scorers.

WHO WILL BE QUEEN? — Shown above are six girls who will be staging a battle for the Queen's crown of the Sherbrooke Junior "B" Hockey League. Sitting, left to right, Kathy Lewis, Linda Lapointe and Colette Beauchesne. Standing, same order, Francine Gagne, Monique Duclos and Louise Gosselin.

Six girls gunning for Queen's crown

The six ladies shown above will be battling for the privilege of being named Queen of the Sherbrooke Junior "C" Hockey League during the coming months.

The winner will receive a ticket to Florida for being named Queen following the campaign. The six young girls will be selling tickets from now till April 10 when the lucky one will be named Queen and receive numerous prizes.

The crowning will take place at the Hotel Wellington on Saturday April 10. It will be the fifth year this event has been carried out by the league. The proceeds from this campaign are used to help finance the league in order to allow four clubs to give local youngsters an opportunity of playing hockey.

This year the duchesses are not attached to any one club, they are all working independently under the supervision of President Yvon Thibodeau and his executive.

The winner will be awarded a season ticket.

good for next year, as well as several beautiful prizes. The Sherbrooke Beavers who sponsor a club in the Thibodeau circuit, and the campaign has the full support of General Manager Georges Guilbault and Coach Ghislain Delage.

The girls will sell tickets throughout the city in order to help the cause of the league as well as their own in trying to win the Queen's crown. A special drawing from among all six will determine the Queen for 1976.

Sabres' thumping didn't help with Russian referee—Reay

CHICAGO (CP) — The outcome of Wednesday night's hockey game between Chicago Black Hawks and Wings of the Soviet was obvious. Boris Kulagin was smiling.

The usually stoic-faced mentor of the Soviet team managed to beam a smile—if only momentarily—after his team beat the Hawks 4-2 in the hardest-hitting game yet in the eight-game series of the two touring Soviet clubs against National Hockey League teams.

On the other side of Chicago Stadium, things weren't so jovial. Chicago coach Billy Reay sat in his office adjoining the Hawks dressing room, maintaining all along that the outcome of the game was decided after Sunday's 12-6 thumping by Buffalo Sabres.

"Take a look at the penalties," said Reay. "It looks as though they had a meeting after the game Sunday and decided to make this one all Russian."

Reay had some harsh words for Soviet referee Yuri Karandin, who also refereed the game in which Red Army—the other touring Soviet team—beat New York Rangers 7-3 in the opening game of the series.

In all, the Black Hawks were assessed 12 minor penalties, compared with six against the Wings.

Dick Redmond, who along with Dennis Hull scored the Chicago goals, was called for elbowing and cross checking. Dale Tallon went off for slashing. Grant Mulvey had elbowing and cross checking penalties and even Stan Mikita, the usually mild-mannered captain of the Hawks, was given a near-fistcuffs on a number of occasions.

MISSED GAME

The Hawks, in first place in the Smythe Division standings, played without the services of defenceman Keith Magnusson, out due to surgery to correct an intestinal disorder, and forward Ivan Boldirev, sidelined with a separated shoulder.

Redmond, who has only 19 minutes in penalties in 39 games this season, had four or five near fights with Soviet players. In the third period he was given a fighting minor for throwing punches at Vladimir Shadrin.

"I expected a rough game from them, but nothing like this," he said. "It was a matter of protecting yourself out there."

Kulagin begged to differ with Redmond and Reay's assessment of the officiating.

"I think the referee did a good job," Kulagin said. "He helped keep the fights down. If they (the Black Hawks) play rough with us, we will always be able to beat them."

Six Habs make All-Star squad

MONTREAL (CP) — Six members of Montreal Canadiens were among 12 players named to the Prince of Wales Conference team for the National Hockey League's all-star game announced today.

The Prince of Wales Conference will meet the Clarence Campbell Conference in the 29th annual game in Philadelphia Jan. 20.

Five other clubs from the nine-team Prince of Wales Conference, which comprises the Norris and Adams divisions, were also represented among the 12 players selected in a poll conducted by members of the Professional Hockey Writers' Association.

Goalender Ken Dryden, defencemen Serge Savard and Guy Lapointe, centre Peter Mahovlich, right winger Guy Lafleur and left winger Steve Shutt were the Montreal players chosen.

Goalender Wayne Thomas and defenceman Borje Salming were picked from Toronto Maple Leafs, defenceman Brad Park was chosen from Boston Bruins while left winger Richard Martin was the only member of Buffalo Sabres named.

Rounding out the list were centre Marcel Dionne of Los Angeles Kings and right winger Jean Pronovost of Pittsburgh Penguins.

SMITH WILL COACH

Coach Floyd Smith of the Sabres will coach the squad and select the remaining eight players for the 20-man team. His additions are expected to be announced next week.

Dryden, who leads the NHL goaltenders with a goals-against average of 1.80, was the player closest to a unanimous selection, getting 133 of a possible 135 points. Thomas, who was traded to Toronto last summer after not playing a game for the Canadiens during the 1974-75 season, tied for second place with Gilles Meloche of California Golden Seals. Each goaltender had 29 points but Thomas received a first-place vote thereby getting the second-place position.

Dryden will be making his third all-star game appearance while Thomas will be making his first.

Park's appearance will be his seventh while Martin, who leads the NHL with 28 goals, is set for his fifth game.

Lapointe and Savard will each be making their third start while Mahovlich, Dionne, Lafleur and Pronovost each have one previous appearance.

FIRST FOR SHUTT

It will be the first game for Shutt, who scored his 20th goal Monday night and Salming, Toronto's brilliant Swedish defenceman.

The Clarence Campbell Conference all-stars, who lost 7-1 last year in Montreal, will be coached by Fred Shero of Philadelphia Flyers. The first 12 players for that team will be named later this week.
